Mrs. Lichtman, who left the corporation in July, 1971, now is a student at the University of Toronto.

60 DAYS
 Nixon Blocks
 Threat Of Rail Strikes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon today blocked, for 60 days, the threat of strikes in two railroad labor disputes.

Nixon's action — appointing emergency boards under the National Railway Labor Act — removed the possibility of the railroad strikes which could have come at midnight tonight.

One case involves a wage and work rules dispute involving some 6,000 AFL-CIO Sheet Metal Workers who work in the repair shops of all the nation's rail lines. The union had announced no specific strike action, but it was believed prepared to stage walkouts on at least several major rail lines.

Congress has intervened with special legislation to prevent or avert major strikes over the last two Sheet Metal negotiations.

Fruit May Be Hurt By Frost

Thursday's weird, wintry weather may have damaged fruit trees in the Howard County area which were just beginning to show fruit.

"The temperature got down to freezing at midnight and stayed down for about eight hours, which would be enough to kill fruit already set on the trees unless it was protected in some way," said Donald W. Fryrear, superintendent of Big Spring's agricultural experiment station.

Thursday's low temperature was 26 degrees, and it was 27 degrees at 8 a.m. today with frost covering unprotected vegetation. Precipitation Thursday, which was a mixture of rain, snow and sleet, measured .99 of an inch.

Balmier weather is predicted for Saturday with an expected high temperature of 68. Today's high was to reach the 60-degree mark.

A light freeze is expected tonight with a temperature of 29. Residents with fruit trees and other tender vegetation are advised to protect their plants from the early spring cold snap.

TWO EMERGENCY MEASURES APPROVED
Solons Wind Up Session

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A reform-minded special legislative session that never became as stormy as some feared—or hoped—ended around midnight today after three work-filled days.

Lawmakers, called into emergency duty by Gov. Preston Smith Tuesday, started home after approving:

EQUAL RIGHTS
 —A billboard and junkyard control act required by federal highway beautification laws. Failure to pass the measure would have lost Texas $24 million a year in federal highway funds.

—A bill appropriating $2.15 million to pay for the May 6 and June 3 Democratic and Republican primary elections.

—A resolution that makes Texas the eighth state, out of the required 38, to ratify the 27th amendment to the U.S. Constitution, giving women equal legal rights with men.

—Joint House-Senate rules curbing the power of 10-man conference committees to ignore the wishes of the two chambers in writing compromise legislation.

In addition, the House passed 138-5 a set of "reform" rules urged by newly elected Speaker Rayford Price.

Price, 35, was chosen Tuesday, hours after Gus Mutscher formally resigned as speaker because of his conviction in Abilene March 15 on charges he and two aides conspired to accept a bribe from Houston promoter Frank Sharp.

'REFORMS'
 Curiously, Mutscher, often accused of blocking "reforms" and of abusing his power, voted for the new rules, which weaken the speaker's authority over rank-and-file members.

"I think the people of Texas are going to be proud of us," said Rep. Don Adams of Jasper, sponsor of the House rules change.

All but 30 or 40 members rejected similar reforms last year when Mutscher was speaker and the so-called "Dirty 30" were pushing for limits on his and the conference committee's power.

Smith called the session only to act on the billboard control and primary financing problems.

STATE JOBS
 An agreement between him and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes—opposing candidates for governor—that Smith's appointees to various state jobs would not be considered by the Senate this time contributed to the harmony and the shortness of the session.

The billboard control and primary financing bills will take effect immediately with Smith's signature.

Effects of the session on the average Texan will be most noticeable when he sees billboards coming down.

With a few exceptions, the road beautification bill prohibits billboards within 60 feet of the right-of-way of interstate, U.S. and certain Texas-numbered highways.

Junkyards would be cleared from within 1,000 feet of the highways unless screened by fences, natural objects or plantings.

Over a five-year period, owners of the signs, junkyards and the land they occupy will be reimbursed an estimated $82.2 million. The federal government will pay about $55 million of this.

U.S. Transportation Secretary John Volpe gave Texas an ultimatum last Friday: Pass a billboard control act by May 6 or lose a tenth of the state's $240 million in annual federal highway aid.

Primary election financing became an issue after a three-judge federal court in Dallas ruled the 1971 law setting candidate filing fees was unconstitutional.

Plane Dives Into Houses

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — A giant B52 bomber crashed and exploded in a residential area today, and Mayor Carl Langford said seven crewmen aboard were killed. He also said there were numerous civilian casualties.

People who saw the eight-engine jet crash said at least eight homes were damaged when it slammed into the ground in a near vertical dive. Three of the homes were gutted by flames, witnesses said, and the roof was ripped off a fourth.

NOT KNOWN
 It was not known if there were any civilian deaths.

Bart Forster, a spokesman for McCoy Air Force Base where the plane was based, said it carried a crew of seven when it exploded and burned about a quarter-mile northwest of the base.

The base is just south of Orlando.

Witnesses said the bomber still was burning about an hour after the crash and that residents of homes around the crash site were being evacuated because one wing of the aircraft still was filled with fuel.

NO N-BOMB
 The Pentagon said the B52 carried no nuclear weapons.

Forster said the crew had declared an in-flight emergency and reported they had a fire on board just before the crash.

An Air Force spokesman said the plane was attached to the 304th Bomb Wing at McCoy and was returning to the base from a routine training flight.

Lt. Charles Goulder of the Orlando Fire Department said casualties were taken to the McCoy AFB hospital and other hospitals in the area.

"Pieces were falling off the plane before it crashed," said an employee of a car rental agency at McCoy, which also serves as a commercial airport.

"It banked and angled toward the ground, crashed and started burning."

IN UNUSUAL MISHAP
 Officer, Dallas
 Man Are Killed

LORLAINE — One local and one Dallas man were killed Thursday night in an unusual set of circumstances surrounding an automobile accident on an icy IS 20 overpass inside the city limits.

Lawrence Graham, a local constable, and James Howard Rose, of Dallas, were pronounced dead on arrival at Root Memorial Hospital in Colorado City by Dr. Joe Terry minutes after the three-car collision.

According to Highway Patrolman Kent Cearley, investigating officer, prior to the major portion of the wreck, a car driven by Timothy Juan Cover, of Waxahachie, went out of control on the icy overpass and ended up with its front wheels hung across the guard rail of the overpass.

Graham and Jack Brewer, another constable, arrived at the scene at approximately 10:20 p.m., and Graham was directing traffic around the wreckage. Their pickup was parked to one side of the overpass. Cover was not injured in the first portion of the mishap.

Then at approximately 10:35 p.m. a vehicle driven by Rose topped the overpass. "Apparently Rose saw the traffic pileup and panicked. His car went into a broadside skid on the icy pavement, striking Graham and the legally parked police pickup, and then continued on into the first vehicle hung on the guard rail," said Officer Cearley this morning.

Rose's wife, Caroline, 28, was also in the car at the time of the accident, but was not injured. Cearley also said there was another unidentified man injured in the mishap, but he was reported to have been treated and released from the local clinic.

All vehicles involved in the major mishap were traveling west on IS 20. Mitchell County Sheriff's officers, highway patrolmen and other county constables worked the entire night to clear the wreckage from the west bound lane of the overpass.

Services are pending at Kiker-Rains-Seale Funeral Home in Colorado City for Graham. Rose's body is in the Franklin-Britton Funeral Home, Colorado City, and will be transferred to the Gray Funeral Home in San Mateo, Calif., Saturday morning.

THREE BIG FOOD CHAINS MOVE TO STOP SPIRAL
How High Now, Ground Cow?

WASHINGTON (AP) — A day after Treasury Secretary John B. Connally talked with leading chain-store executives about the high cost of food, three supermarket chains moved to stop the spiral.

Grand Union and Winn-Dixie put freezes on current prices Thursday. Safeway Stores, Inc., cut beef prices in its 246 stores in Maryland, Virginia, Pennsylvania, Delaware and the District of Columbia.

FRESH MEAT
 Grand Union froze fresh meat and poultry prices for 3 days in its 500-plus stores in the East, and Winn-Dixie, with 871 stores in the Southeast, froze all food prices through April.

The Agriculture Department, meanwhile, announced that the prices paid to farmers for beef on the hoof dropped 20 cents per hundredweight in the month ending March 15. A record high of $32.60 per hundred pounds of beef was set last month. It fell to $32.40 in the latest price period.

The decline, though slight, was the first since last summer.

Safeway said it lowered its meat prices as a result of the drop in prices paid for cattle. Basil Winstead, vice president of Safeway, said the reductions had been planned for some time to take effect during the Easter weekend, but "Safeway decided to make these reductions effective two days earlier than planned as part of its pledge to the administration to do everything in its power to help keep food prices low."

HIGH PRICES
 On several cuts of beef, Safeway reduced prices 10 cents a pound.

Wednesday, Connally summoned representatives of the 12 largest food chains to discuss the high food prices.

Those taking part in the meeting said no pressure was exerted by the government, but Connally and Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz said after the session that a drop in prices of meat could be expected soon.

Both said it would be a result of declining wholesale prices of beef, not because of government pressure.

Trades Shots With Dentist

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A 28-year-old man who was about to have a tooth pulled is accused of drawing a gun and firing four shots at his dentist.

The man says the dentist hit a nerve.

A court-appointed lawyer says Tommie Watts Jr., acted under the influence of pain — and novocaine.

The dentist, Dr. Reb Scott, told a Van Nuys Superior Court Thursday the incident occurred Dec. 1 when Watts went to Scott's office to have a painfully inflamed tooth extracted.

Scott said he injected novocaine and waited for it to take effect. After 15 minutes, the tooth was still sensitive, so he administered another dose of novocaine, the dentist said.

When he probed the tooth again, the dentist said, Watts began to curse him and Scott told him to leave the office and go find another dentist.

Instead, the dentist testified at a preliminary hearing Thursday, Watts drew a .22-caliber pistol and fired four times at the fleeing dentist. Police arrested Watts a few minutes later.

Watts pleaded innocent.

Thursday night, Grover asked the Senate to suspend the "tag," which is done rather infrequently. The motion failed, 13-15.

Grover's resolution would have petitioned Congress to call a constitutional convention to pass an amendment prohibiting busing to achieve a racial balance in public schools.

Voting with Grover to suspend the "tag" and vote on his anti-busing resolution were Sens. Aikin, Brooks, Christie, Connally, Creight, Hall, Harris, Kothmann, Patman, Snelson, Wallace and Wilson.

Opposing consideration of the proposal, without a hearing, were Sens. Bates, Beckworth, Bernal, Bridges, Harrington, Herring, Hightower, Jordan, Kennard, Maury, McKool, Moore, Schwartz, Sherman and Word.

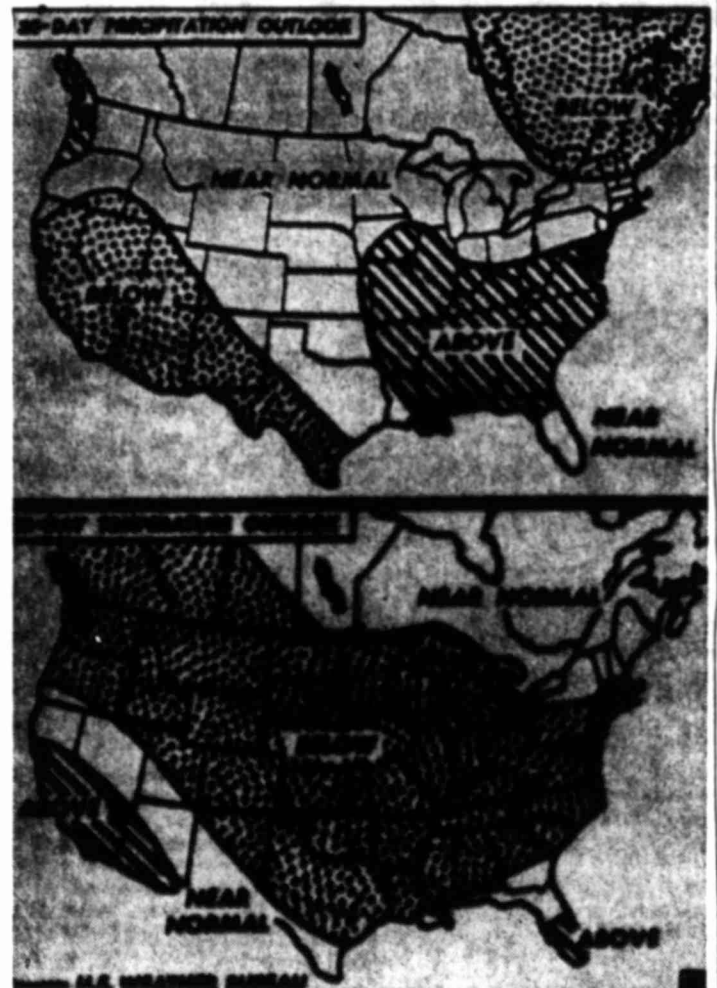

However, he was released within a few days and returned home, and within the past week a complete cardiac evaluation showed there had been no heart problem at all.

However, he was released within a few days and returned home, and within the past week a complete cardiac evaluation showed there had been no heart problem at all.

Antibusing Resolution 'Tagged' Out

AUSTIN (AP) - The Texas Senate rejected an attempt by Houston Sen. Henry Grover late in the special session Thursday night to resurrect an anti-busing resolution.

Grover, a Republican candidate for governor who once taught high school, tried Wednesday to bring his resolution before a Senate committee, but Sen. W. T. Moore of Bryan "tagged" it.

This means Moore demanded a full public hearing on the proposal with 48 hours notice for anyone who might want to testify.

Thursday night, Grover asked the Senate to suspend the "tag," which is done rather infrequently. The motion failed, 13-15.

Grover's resolution would have petitioned Congress to call a constitutional convention to pass an amendment prohibiting busing to achieve a racial balance in public schools.

Voting with Grover to suspend the "tag" and vote on his anti-busing resolution were Sens. Aikin, Brooks, Christie, Connally, Creight, Hall, Harris, Kothmann, Patman, Snelson, Wallace and Wilson.

Opposing consideration of the proposal, without a hearing, were Sens. Bates, Beckworth, Bernal, Bridges, Harrington, Herring, Hightower, Jordan, Kennard, Maury, McKool, Moore, Schwartz, Sherman and Word.

However, he was released within a few days and returned home, and within the past week a complete cardiac evaluation showed there had been no heart problem at all.

Light snow ceased in the Texas Panhandle and scattered light rain stopped in the central part of the state today, and skies cleared in all sections.

A spring freeze nipped a wide area, reaching as far south as Junction as it chilled the Panhandle sector and most other areas in West Texas. Temperatures went as low as 15 degrees above zero at Marfa in the West Texas mountains.

While the overcast disappeared over most of the state, clouds lingered over extreme South Texas and there was patchy fog in parts of West and Southwest Texas. Midland and San Angelo were among points in the fog belt.

Moisture amounts, from occasional snow or rain, included Abilene .23 inch, Amarillo .06, Corpus Christi .05, Beaumont .04, Port Arthur .04, Palacios .05, Galveston and Mineral Wells .02 and Brownsville .01.

stitutional. Until this year, filing fees paid for the primaries. Smith sought every means possible to avoid a special session during the primary campaigns. But Volpe's ultimatum and an attorney general's ruling that the primaries could not be conducted on credit dashed his hopes.

LONG GONE
During Thursday night's debate, only the billboard control measure aroused much controversy. "There is nothing the federal government can do to a billboard that they can't do to your home," said Rep. Billy Williamson of Tyler.

He said Texas should sacrifice the highway aid money rather than abandon "principle."
But Rep. Jack Ogg of Houston said lawmakers had a duty to keep the federal money flowing and declared, "The days when we could operate in the marketplace without controls are long past."

The billboard control bill passed the House 114-31, and Senators voted 28-2 to accept a House amendment deleting a provision that prohibited payment for billboards that might have to be removed if the billboard-free zone is enlarged. A compromise primary election financing bill passed the House 122-26 and the Senate 21-7. Resolutions asking for a U.S. constitutional convention to outlaw busing failed in both houses through parliamentary maneuvering.

Before they quit, senators re-elected Sen. Barbara Jordan of Houston as their assisting presiding officer for the period while the legislature is out of session. Miss Jordan, 36, had been elected Tuesday to serve in the post during the special session—the first black woman accorded the honor in any American legislature.

ECONOMY MOVE
A few hours before the House voted 137-9 to ratify the women's rights amendment, which senators already had approved. "Let's show the rest of the states we are a progressive state. We want to give the women of the United States their equal legal rights," said the measure's chief advocate, Rep. Rex Braun of Houston.

The lawmakers went home to campaigning and Easter with their families knowing they will be back in Austin in about two months. A special session soon is mandatory because a new state budget, and probably additional taxes to pay for it, must be passed for the fiscal year starting Sept. 1.

Smith vetoed the second half of a two-year general appropriations bill passed last year in what he called an "economy move."

Most Absentee Votes Are In
Absentee votes in the city elections stood at 117 by noon today, but the amount is not expected to increase much before the 5 p.m. deadline. Rogers Nanny, city secretary, is keeping his office open today until five, even though it was designated a holiday for the city employees.

Eleven of the 17 new votes were filed in his office before 5 p.m. Thursday. At noon Thursday the count stood at only 100. Last year's election absentee vote total only amounted to 60. Nanny anticipates that by deadline time this year, that number will be doubled.

Voters will go to the polls Tuesday to choose three men for the city commission from a slate of seven candidates.

Drivers Queuing Up For Plates
License plate sales were light this morning in the Howard County tax office on the first floor of the Howard County courthouse. Mrs. Zirah L. Bednar, tax assessor-collector, had kept her office open today despite the Good Friday holiday in anticipation of a last minute rush.

Lines in the office were expected to be a little longer this afternoon as more persons queue up to buy the 1972 tags before returning home from work. Sales for 1972 now total $339,769.40 in comparison with the 1971 figure of $498,611.81. Total sales for 1972 will not be available until the substations for tag sales turn in their figures. The county tax office will be closed Saturday. Midnight Saturday is the deadline for displaying the tags on all vehicles. Substations for license plate sales were Webb AFB Federal Credit Union, closed Saturday, and Newsum's Grocery on Gregg, authorized to sell passenger vehicle tags only.

called Briscoe a stand-in for still another contender for the Democratic nomination for governor, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes. Gov. Smith said it was "indeed fortunate for the people of Texas that the legislature has been so responsive to these emergency situations and has for the most part avoided letting the primary campaigns enter the legislative chambers."

Reagan, on the other hand, took the legislature to task because he said its members failed to discuss an ethics code and missed an opportunity to be of service.

CLOUD OVER TEXAS
"There is a cloud over Texas," Reagan said. "Temporary and artificial truces, made for political reasons, may keep the boat from rocking now, but not for long."

Mrs. Farenthold stepped out of her role as legislator and charged that Briscoe was really "a stand-in for Barnes."

The Corpus Christi representative said that "if the lieutenant governor falters because people are fed up with the scandal in their state government, they've got Briscoe on the sidelines. There is no difference between these two men—the only difference is in image."

Briscoe said the state should help finance a rapid transit system linking Fort Worth, Dallas and their regional airport. He noted that the U.S. Department of Transportation has offered to pay two-thirds of the cost of building the experimental air-cushion system, estimated to cost more than $100 million.

RAPID TRANSIT
"I think the state has a responsibility in helping develop a system of rapid transit," he said. In the race for the U.S. Senate nomination, Democratic candidate Barefoot Sanders said he can do better than his Democratic primary opponent—former Sen. Ralph Yarborough—and the man he expects to face in November—Republican Sen. John Tower.

"We can do better by nominating a Democrat who looks forward toward progress not backward to past glories and grudges," Sanders said. In San Antonio, a Democratic candidate for attorney general, John Hill, said that if elected he would appoint an organized crime strike force "to help the Department of Public Safety, local law enforcement agencies and the federal agencies move to stop the drug traffic."

Local Man Picked Up On Warrant
A Big Spring man was arrested Thursday on a Rannels County warrant charging him with circulating a worthless check in an amount over $50. Arrested Thursday afternoon was Glenn Harper, 22, of 1602 Scurry, Harper was released on $1,000 bond set by Peace Justice Walter Grice. Howard County deputy sheriffs arrested Harper after receiving the warrant from the Rannels County sheriff's office at Ballinger.

Machines Rifled At Gamco Firm
Thieves entered Gamco Industries, Snyder Hwy., Thursday night and forced open five coin-operated machines and scooped out the change inside. The entry and theft was reported to the Howard County Sheriff's office at 7:05 a.m. today. Total amount taken in the theft had not yet been determined.

Chaplain's Trial Arguments Slated
JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Final arguments are scheduled today in the court-martial of Cmdr. Andrew F. Jensen, a Navy chaplain accused of misconduct by adultery. Jensen's denomination, the American Baptist Convention, has said it will not supply any more military chaplains because of the charges lodged against him.

Lt. Joseph L. Curran Jr., the husband of one of the accusers, testified Thursday he made the decision that he and his wife quit attending Cecil Field Chapel functions in late April 1971. Jensen, senior chaplain at Cecil, had testified Mrs. Curran grew hostile and angry with him when he advised her to stop an affair with another man. She had been chairman of the Women of the Chapel but quit attending functions at the time of her hostility, the chaplain testified.

Two Navy wives at a nearby Cecil Field Naval Air Station testified that Jensen had sexual intercourse with them a total of 21 times. Jensen maintained his innocence of wrongdoing with either Lora Gudbranson, 38, or Mary Ann Curran, 24. Through two days on the witness stand, he testified he was not with Mrs. Curran on any of the 17 occasions of sexual relations she detailed nor with Mrs. Gudbranson on the four she cited.

Biggest Red Attacks In Four Years

SAIGON (AP) — A swelling North Vietnamese onslaught in the far north drove South Vietnamese from two more bases today in the heaviest fighting there in four years. Field reports said a third base also may have been abandoned. One base was given up Thursday in the first day of enemy attacks on bases along the demilitarized zone.

The air war also heated up as a North Vietnamese MIG21 was shot down and the United States lost its second computerized four-engine gunship in two days and one of the Air Force's biggest rescue helicopters.

New U.S. air raids were launched inside North Vietnam after a nearly two-week lull and American jets attacked enemy gun positions in the southern half of the DMZ. Hundreds of South Vietnamese troops and some American forces, at the option of local field commanders, were ordered on heightened alert.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese field commanders in the 3rd Military Region that includes Saigon and 11 surrounding provinces increased the state of readiness for all of their troops. The U.S. headquarters for Saigon ordered all Americans off the streets of the capital. But an hour later the headquarters of Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, the top commander, rescinded that directive.

In the central highlands six government bases were shelled, from dawn to dusk Friday, and one of them was hit with 100 mortar rounds. One ground attack was reported. First reports said the only government casualties were three troops wounded. North Vietnamese troops battled government forces and armored columns near Dong Ha, nine miles south of the DMZ, and farther west near Camp Carroll.

The Saigon command said 115 North Vietnamese troops were killed in three battles, 17 South Vietnamese were reported killed and 31 wounded. The U.S. Command said that one of two Air Force F4 Phantom fighters escorting bombers on raids against the Ho Chi Minh trail supply network in Laos intercepted and shot down a Soviet-built MIG21 on the North Vietnamese side of the border Thursday night.

The F4 crewmen, Capt. Frederick Olmsted, 29, Chula Vista, Calif., on his 212th combat mission, and Capt. Gerald R. Volloy, 28, of Cincinnati, Ohio, on his 110th mission, fired missiles at the MIG which exploded into a fireball.

Mr. Haynie was division dispatcher for Phillips Petroleum Co. and resided at 2400 E. 8th in Odessa. He died Thursday in Odessa's Medical Center Hospital following a lengthy illness.

Mr. Haynie was born in Stamford July 27, 1907, and had lived in and around Odessa for many years. He was a member of the Baptist Church and was a World War II Veteran. Survivors include three sons, T. L. Sparks Jr., Odessa; Sam and Truman Sparks, both of Aurora, Colo.; three sisters, Mrs. Lorene Nugent of Amarillo, Mrs. Annie B. ## Candidate Says Briscoe 'A Stand-In For Barnes'

By The Associated Press
Gubernatorial candidates have voiced widely divergent opinions on Texas' brief special legislative session.

While Gov. Preston Smith, who is running for re-election, was saying he was proud of the reasonable and businesslike fashion in which the lawmakers functioned, Republican candidate Dave Reagan was charging that the legislators missed their chance.

In Fort Worth, another Democratic candidate for governor, Dolph Briscoe, was urging the creation of a rapid transit system for the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

FORTUNATE
Yet another candidate, Rep. Frances Farenthold meanwhile called Briscoe a stand-in for still another contender for the Democratic nomination for governor, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes.

Gov. Smith said it was "indeed fortunate for the people of Texas that the legislature has been so responsive to these emergency situations and has for the most part avoided letting the primary campaigns enter the legislative chambers."

Second Well Is Moved To Field

The Phoenix-Grayburg field of northern Martin County became a two-well field today, but by the device of a previous prospective discovery being included instead in the field.

Beach and Snoddy at first had filed their No. 1 Joe Hale as a Queen strike, but on a new file with the railroad commission it was included as part of the new Grayburg field.

In the meanwhile, Beico No. 4 Woodrow was taken as a 1,000-ft. venture in the field.

Graham Is New TASC Prexy

By SHEREE BUNTYN
AUSTIN (SC) — Graham High School has been named to succeed Big Spring High School as president of the Texas Association of Student Councils.

"Beyond Consciousness III" was the theme for the 36th annual meeting here this week. Activities began early Tuesday morning with registration of delegates from high schools all over the state as well as committee meetings. Candidate schools running for office filed the entrance of the Austin City Auditorium with signs to sway the delegates toward their platform for state student council president for 1972-73.

The annual convention was officially opened Tuesday night in a general assembly. Presiding over the program was Sam Chappell, president of TASC as well as student council president of Big Spring High School. The close-to-2,000 delegates were entertained by the High Lighters chorus and the Polyphonic stage band from Temple High School. Songs such as "25 to 4" and "Color My World" led to the address from Gov. Preston Smith. Gov. Smith challenged the delegates to become involved in the problems facing their generation as well as their own schools.

Smith stated, "The path you follow today can lead directly to the goal you plan tomorrow."

Highlight of the assembly was the address to the delegates by Chappell. The Big Spring youth challenged the delegates to accept the responsibilities facing their generation. Consciousness Three was related to the time periods of past generations and the book, "The Greening of America" by Charles Reich.

"Youth in all generations have demanded to be heard," stated Sam as he explained the successes and failures of the generations that formed America. As one of his challenges Chappell predicted, "Consciousness III is still with us and I predict if we do not move away from it you will not be listening to me in the future but will be listening to someone reading from the doomsday book." He concluded his address with what the world would be like if the future generation would go "Beyond Consciousness III."

WEATHER FORECAST — Continuing cold weather is forecast today for most of the nation. Warmer weather is expected in the far West. Rain is forecast for the Pacific Northwest and Northeast coastal states. Snowflurries are forecast for the Midwest, lower Great Lakes and inland regions of the Northeast.

Yep, Too Young

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

BOY IN VIEW: (Q.) I am 12. All the girls in my group have boy friends. They don't date, but if we have a school dance, they go together. I have a friend, too, even if he doesn't know it. He is 12.

I see him between classes at school. I think he likes me a little. I'd like to tell him I like him but I get cold feet.

My aunt and teacher think I'm too young to have a friend and to go to boy-girl parties. They say I have to be 16. I can't talk to anyone in school because they laugh. I feel lonely and unhappy, like I'm going to die. How can I tell him I like him? — Unhappy in New Jersey.

(A.) It's natural for you to like boys. It's also healthy for young teens (you're going on 13) to attend chaperoned social functions.

This way you know and understand boys better when you're old enough to date. This type of thing shouldn't be overdone at your age, however.

And you should not just walk up to this boy and tell him you like him. Smile at him a few times and if he likes you maybe he will talk to you or walk with you. Then you and he can talk to each other about yourselves.

LISA: (Q.) I met Lisa last year and we have been very good friends ever since. In the last month I have asked her to go out with me twice. Both times she said, "You're the nicest boy I know, but I don't want you for a boy friend."

Every day I walk her home from school and sometimes some kid asks if Lisa is my girl friend. When this happens she gets upset and says we are just friends.

Can you tell me why, if Lisa tells me she likes me, she will not go with me, or doesn't want anyone to think we go together? — Lisa's Friend in Oregon.

(A.) At least for now, Lisa wants to keep your friendship on something short of a romantic basis. In a friendship like this, things sometimes progress to romance, but not always. Lisa, for instance, may have some other boy in mind who thus far has not been so nice to her as you have. Later he may be. Or he may not. If he isn't, Lisa may grow to feel closer to you.

If you enjoy her company, keep things as they are, pleasant and friendly. Insisting on something more personal might cost you all you have gained up to now.

Officer Cleared Of Bribe Charge

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A veteran policeman took the witness stand Thursday to deny charges that he gave $150 to an assistant county district attorney to dismiss a shoplifting case.

Detective Investigator John Paul Jones, 45, is accused of bribing Asst. Dist. Atty. James Folsom.

Jones testified at length Thursday after State District Court Judge James Barlow granted a defense motion for acquittal of a fellow policeman charged in the case, Larry Parnell, 37.

Barlow ruled that according to the testimony offered, there was "no evidence to show that Parnell aided or encouraged by act, words or gestures, the offering of the bribe."

The judge denied an acquittal motion for Jones.

The defense led off Thursday by putting Parnell on the stand. He said Jones never gave any money to Folsom in his presence.

The Big Spring State Hospital again is in need of used luggage for patients being discharged or furloughed to their homes.

Many of them who come to the hospital arrive with little more than what they wear, with perhaps a sack for a little extra clothing. People in the Big Spring area who have luggage for which they no longer have a need are asked to contact the volunteer office.

Padre Island Crowds Grow

PORT ISABEL, Tex. (AP) — Despite problems with traffic, lack of restrooms and adverse weather, thousands of college students gathered on South Padre Island today to do their own thing for Easter weekend.

Cameron County parks director Larry Allen was unable to predict how many will assemble between now and Sunday, but most observers expect this year's crowd to surpass last year's estimate of 65,000.

Traffic jams are frequent on the few roads on the slender resort island at the southern tip of Texas. Cars moved bumper-to-bumper around Isla Blanca Park's tent city and near the jetties in the area where a surfing contest was a main attraction today.

Texas Wrecks Kill 3,594

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A total of 3,594 persons died in Texas traffic accidents last year, an increase of 34 from 1970 which is not too bad considering how many more people were on the highways last year.

Col. Wilson Speir said Thursday. Speir, director of the Department of Public Safety, said there were 324,000 more licensed drivers in 1972 than 1970 and the vehicle miles driven increased from 68 billion to more than 70.7 billion in 1971.

The death rate per 100 million miles of travel—the nationally accepted indicator of traffic safety—decreased from 5.2 in 1970 to 5.1 last year. As recently as 1966, Speir said, the Texas highway death rate was 6.2, "so progress is being made."

Speir said an additional 121,082 persons were injured in traffic accidents last year and the total economic loss has been estimated at $1.045 billion.

Driving too fast and driving while intoxicated were the primary law violations contributing to fatal mishaps, he said.

Head-On Kills Five Persons

DE QUEEN, Ark. (AP) — Five persons were killed Thursday night when a car occupied by three youths crossed the center line at the crest of a hill on U.S. 71 near here and slammed head-on into a pickup truck, state police said.

Officers identified the victims as Robert R. Powell, 18; Stephen C. McClendon, 20; and William E. Barrow, 18, all of Wilton in Little River County, and Edwin Don Houck, 40, and his wife, Janice H. Houck, 39, of Texarkana, Tex.

Police said a car driven by Powell tried to pass a truck on the hill and his car crashed into a pickup truck driven by Houck.

Houck was a division manager for General Telephone Co. at Texarkana.

Officers said Houck was killed in the crash. His widow died a short time later in Texarkana. The three youths were dead on arrival at a De Queen hospital.

Civil To Tramp

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Here's the picture: My husband employs a salesman I'll call "Ben." After 25 years of marriage, Ben walked out on his wife and family for a little tramp half his age. There was a lot of gossip about it so my husband transferred Ben to another city. My husband sometimes calls the out-of-town salesman in for meetings, and naturally Ben comes and brings this tramp with him. I admit I identify with the wronged wife and I can't stand the sight of Ben's girl friend. My husband entertains his business associates for cocktails in our home, so Ben and his girl friend are included. Abby, it eats my innards out to even speak to her, and I don't have much use for Ben either. My husband says their private lives have nothing to do with him — that Ben is a great salesman and he is not going to insult him. My question: Should I be expected to associate with people like Ben and that cheap little home-wrecker? I RATE WIFE: DEAR WIFE: It's your husband's home, too, and if he wants to entertain his business associates, you should cooperate. You don't have to "socialize" with Ben and his friend. Just be civil. DEAR ABBY: Is the generation gap between my husband and me and my parents showing or not? Now that our daughter is 10 and our son is 7, my parents have ceased overnight visits to our home. They used to sleep in our daughter's room, while we would put our daughter in the upper bunk in her brother's room. Now that the children are older, my parents say they are afraid of what "could happen" between them. "Children are little animals and wouldn't know what they were doing." What are your thoughts about the right age to separate (if at all) brothers from sisters? WONDERS: DEAR WONDERS: I would hope that children who are old enough to be curious about the opposite sex, (and yours are) would have asked their parents questions and received satisfying answers. All children do a certain amount of exploring and experimenting when they get the chance. I would not bed them down together past the age of five. DEAR ABBY: I am a 25-year-old married, college-educated woman with a terrific problem. I am literally terrified of going to a doctor. I don't mean just frightened. I mean petrified. I know this is childish, but I can't seem to help myself. All my family does is yell and scream at me, which only makes matters worse. I have thought of seeking professional help but we can't afford it right now as my husband is still in school. How can I rid myself of this terrible fear? TERRIFIED IN BUFFALO: DEAR TERRIFIED: Surely in Buffalo, New York, there is a Mental Health Clinic where one is billed according to what he can afford to pay. Inquire. CONFIDENTIAL TO HELPLESS IN COVINA: Don't tell the father anything. You could be mistaken about the conclusions you drew concerning his daughter and son's relationship. In any case, they are living in another country, far from home, and you "of age" so the father couldn't do anything about it anyway. What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope. For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069.

Unbearable Itch

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 17 and have this insane itching around the vaginal area. It is so unbearable that I scratch until I start to bleed. I used a vaginal spray six months ago, but stopped. I take baths every night in the hope that somehow the itching will stop, but to no avail. — Miss L.H.

Dear Doctor: What is vaginitis? My doctor said it was a fungus that grows in the vagina. He also said the germ is carried by the man. What are the symptoms and the kind of treatment? Can it ever be completely cured? If it is serious? — M.R.

Itching is a prime symptom of vaginitis, and in virtually all cases there will be some kind of discharge. Vaginitis, in word, is irritation of the vagina — an infection of sorts. For 17-year-old Miss L.H., the essential answer is that baths won't do a darned thing to help. Nor will scratching. The sooner she goes to her doctor, or preferably to a gynecologist, the sooner the misery will be stopped. Continued scratching won't do any good and might do some real harm as it could lead to a more serious infection. For both her and M.R., vaginitis can be caused by a variety of organisms. A fungus or yeast, or a tiny microorganism known as a protozoan. Those are the commonest ones. But pinworm, bacterial infections, diabetes, and a variety of other things are possibilities. So are the "feminine hygiene" of discharge. Vaginitis, in Medications, suppositories, medicated douches all are used as treatment — but choosing the right treatment depends on knowing what is causing the trouble, and that is why I suggest seeing a gynecologist if possible. It is true that some of these infections are carried by the man — often without the man noticing any itching or other symptoms. Still, many a woman has been cured of vaginitis, only to have it return promptly — a reinfection from the husband (or, we have to add these days, from the sex partner). Since the husband doesn't notice anything, he is likely to balk at taking medication, but a good many times that is the only way the wife is going to get rid of her itch permanently. In this connection, it's worth pointing out that although the husband can carry (and transmit) such infections, that isn't by any means the only way women acquire them. Virginal elderly spinsters can. So can little girls. And females of any age in between. Having a fungus infection does not imply sexual intercourse, but I have no doubt that some women postpone or avoid medical treatment because they think the doctor will think so.

One other item: the birth control pill causes changes in the tissues that encourage the fungus infection known as Candida albicans. That doesn't mean it will bother all women, but in some cases, physicians recommend giving up the pill if necessary to control the vaginitis. Dear Dr. Thosteson? If a person has a chin that is about an inch longer than normal, can it be made a bit smaller? If yes, okay. If no, why not? — Yes, it can, by plastic surgery. So okay. But such cases usually require the cooperation of a dental surgeon. Depends on the circumstances of the individual case. Dear Dr. Thosteson: How often should a woman of 50 or over have a Pap test? — Mrs. B.H. Ideally, every six to 12 months. You can lose weight if you really want to! Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Lost Secrets of Reducing," tells you how — naturally and without gimmicks — to the level that best suits your individual needs. For a copy, write to him, care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope.

Traffic, Delinquency Are Main Local Problems

"Traffic and juvenile delinquency are the two main problems encountered by my staff," said Vance Chisum, Big Spring police chief, when he was guest speaker for Spring City Chapter, American Business Women's Association, Tuesday at Pioneer Gas Flame Room.

Chisum said the city is attempting to get a federal grant which would allocate funds for a female assistant to the juvenile officer. Requirements for the position will include a college degree in either psychology or sociology which would enable the woman to counsel juveniles.

Chisum also said he is against legalizing marijuana because of its close association with crime.

For the second part of his program, Chisum discussed his hobby of collecting arrowheads and displayed several frames of mounted arrowheads. Most were from Southwest Texas, but a few were from Old Mexico.

The vocational talk was by Mrs. Bobby Nobles who is in charge of the post office and gift wrapping departments at Hemphill-Wells Co. Invocation was by Mrs. Vernon Schroder, and Mrs. Ray Marques gave the benediction.

New members installed were Mrs. Harold Bentley, Mrs. Ruby Fowler and Mrs. James Cox.

A LOVELIER YOU End Of Winter Calls For Extra Skin Care

By MARY SUE MILLER

At winter's end most skins could do with some extra special care. It is for certain if your skin has lost color, clarity or tone. Remedies depend on individual needs. Possibilities follow:

If your skin looks pale or sallow, try cleansing with mentholated shaving soap. Work up a thick lather with your fingertips or a soft complexion brush. Rinse well with cool water. Then apply cold (not icy) compresses with firm pressure for several minutes. When the skin is dry as well as color-drained, finish with an application of light skin cream or fluid.

Has chap or windburn caused blemish? A simple healing lotion is what's needed to smooth the tiny little network of abrasions that chap and windburn cause. Applications should be made at bedtime and may be worn during the day under makeup.

Does your skin feel slack? The tightening measures for loss of tone are mildly astringent masks used once or twice weekly.

Are blackheads the trouble? Wash twice a week with grainy cleanser. Between times use a medicated soap or liquid wash. A night treatment and foundation, formulated to assist clarity, aid the cause. Springtime loveliness just naturally follows this kind of good care.

OILY SKIN
An oily skin can be improved. Just send for my leaflet, "Relief For Oily Skin." Advice covers corrective treatments and makeup; such special problems as pimples, blackheads and enlarged pores. For your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 15 cents in coin.

Showy Sheets For Draperies

Sheets are ideal to use as draperies. They are easily washed, and in some cases there is no need to iron them. Considering the amount of square yardage there is in a double sheet, you are getting in a real bargain. The borders in some sheet pattern can be used to cover a valance or give a finished look to a home.

Faculty Ma'ams Honor Members

The last meeting of the school year was held by the Faculty Ma'ams Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Charles Hayes, hostess. Mrs. Ralph Smith was cohostess.

Mrs. W. A. Hunt and Mrs. Lee Thackrey, whose husbands are both retiring from the college staff this year, were made honorary members. New officers elected were Mrs. Ralph Doyden, president; Mrs. Harold Wilder, vice president; Mrs. Hayes, secretary; and Mrs. Robert Bradberry, treasurer. Mrs. Dal Herring will serve as reporter.

The hostess served refreshments from a table covered with a white linen cutwork cloth and decorated in an Easter motif depicting April showers. The group will not meet again until August 8 in the home of Mrs. Don Box, 2802 Ann.

Price Carpet

Why do carpet salesmen quote prices in terms of square yards? All carpet is priced by the square yard. If you don't know the square yard price you'll be comparing apples and oranges when you set out to price carpet.

The center arrangement of yellow and white daisies and irises was interspersed with leather fern and babies' breath; flanked by nosegays of the same flowers. Each place was marked with a daisy corsage, and similar corsages were worn by the hostesses. Miss Garrett and Turner will be married May 20 at First United Methodist Church.

Dental Health Study Launched

The New York State Department of Health has launched a large-scale public health program to test the caries prevention qualities of a new clear plastic adhesive sealant which coats the pits and fissures of teeth, particularly molars.

The study, supported by a contract from the National Institutes of Dental Research and conducted in Rochester, will continue for four years.

The aim? To show that this treatment, combined with fluoridation, will prevent a very high percentage of caries.

BASEBALL PLAYERS MAY STRIKE TODAY

New Strike Introduced

DALLAS (AP) — Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association, and player representatives from the 24 major league clubs flew to Dallas today to discuss what action to take to coax owners into more generous pension payments.

Major league baseball players may go on strike today for the first time in the history of the national pastime.

Miller, who said he has a "solid mandate" from the players to strike, said there were three strike alternatives if owners refuse to budge from their stand of a $400,000 raise: —An immediate strike. —A strike at the start of the season April 5. —A strike the first game of the week on national television, Detroit at Boston, Saturday, April 8.

Miller said the players are asking a 17-per cent increase to meet the cost of living standards in contributions to the players' pension fund.

"We prefer a four-year agreement, but have said we will accept one-year with an increase of $850,000," he said.

The meeting was scheduled from 2 p.m. CST until 5 p.m. at the Ramada Inn near Dallas Love Field where the player representatives were flying in from training camps in Florida and Arizona.

Miller told The Associated Press Thursday the owners broke off talks Wednesday "without budging a cent from their stand. They packed up and went home with no agreement for future talks. Obviously, they are intent in dividing and destroying the association."

He added "that leaves us no alternative except to act."

The players were tricking into Dallas for the afternoon meeting with a warning from Detroit Tiger general manager Jim Campbell ringing in their ears.

He said striking Detroit players would get paid for their transportation home, but salaries and expenses would be cut off.

"We are humane enough to do that," Campbell said.

"After all, we brought them here. However, if they go home they will have to pay their own way to wherever we do open."

At the same time, Boston Red Sox players instructed their representative to vote against an immediate strike and to aim for one, if necessary, in mid-May.

Miller said the vote among the players is 663 for a strike, 10 against and two abstentions.

Miller, who claims the owners were "trying to grind the players into dust," said the players would settle for outside mediation.

He said, "we said we were willing to put our case in the hands of President Nixon, former president Lyndon Johnson, former Supreme Court Justice Earl Warren or any other figure of that stature."

Calling the outlook grim Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association, met in Dallas today with the player representatives from the 24 big league clubs.

The dispute is over an increase in contributions to the players pension fund. All the clubs have voted for a strike if no agreement can be reached with the owners.

"It is up to the players to do what they think is best for themselves," Miller said on the eve of the historic Dallas meeting with the opening of the season less than a week away on April 5.

Meantime, back on the field there was lots of action in Thursday's Exhibitions.

Larry Hise's bases-loaded double in the seventh helped Los Angeles to a 6-5 victory over the Chicago Cubs and Milwaukee outlasted San Diego in a 11-10 slugfest as the Brewers won their eighth in nine games.

Southpaw Fritz Peterson became the first New York Yankee pitcher to go the distance as he turned in a two-hit shut-out against Montreal 4-0. Another left-hander, John Cumberland, yielded only an unearned run in seven innings and drove in two runs himself as San Francisco defeated California 6-2.

A couple of more southpaws, Jon Matlack and Tug McGraw, along with Buzz Capra, combined for a four-hitter and 10 strikeouts to help the New York Mets beat Cincinnati 4-1.

John Mayberry's RBI single in the ninth gave Kansas City a 5-4 squeaker over Pittsburgh and Texas got four unearned runs off Mike Cuellar to shade Baltimore 4-3.

HILL'S ANGEL — Terry Peterson of Amarillo climbs a hill in a recent motocross race. He will represent Jack Hopper's House of Suzuki on a 400cc Suzuki in tomorrow's West Texas Motocross Championship Races. The motocross parade begins tomorrow at 1:00 p.m. The races start tomorrow at 3:00 p.m. The parade will assemble at 1:30 P.M. East Second St.

Jabbar Leads Bucks Back; Lakers Throw The Bull Again

By The Associated Press

"What it comes down to is pride," said Larry Costello, coach of the Milwaukee Bucks.

The Bucks had it Thursday night—but they also had Kareem Abdul-Jabbar.

The 7-foot-2 center was the difference as Milwaukee trimmed the Golden State Warriors 118-93 and squared that National Basketball Association Western Conference playoffs at 1-1.

Jabbar scored 25 points and swept 22 rebounds as the Bucks came back to beat the Warriors after an upset loss to the same team two nights earlier.

"We did a lot of things differently than we did on Tuesday night," said Costello, whose team was beaten 117-106 at Milwaukee in the opener of the seven-game series. "We played better defense. Our rebounding was better. And Jabbar was great."

The Los Angeles Lakers took a 2-0 lead in their semifinal series by beating the Chicago Bulls 131-124 in Thursday's only playoff action.

The NBA playoffs continue tonight with the New York Knicks opening best-of-seven semifinal test with the Baltimore Bullets and the Atlanta Hawks hosting the Boston Celtics. Boston holds a 1-0 edge in that Eastern series.

The American Basketball Association starts its post-season playoffs this afternoon with the Floridians visiting the Virginia Squires in Eastern Division semifinals. New York takes on Kentucky in a night game in the East. Dallas plays at Utah and Denver visits Indiana in the West semifinals.

Along with Jabbar's fine game, the Bucks got a good one out of Curtis Perry, who had 22 points and 9 rebounds. Perry only scored a point in Tuesday night's loss to the Warriors.

"I guess I was a little nervous the other night," said Perry. "But we've beaten the Warriors during the regular season, so there's no reason to get tight right now. I just took a few more shots and they fell in for a change."

Nate Thurmond led Golden State with 32 points, but a big dropoff in production came from Jeff Mullins and Jim Barnett. Mullins and Barnett, who combined for 59 points Tuesday, only had 24 Thursday night.

"Barnett had 30 the other night and only 10 tonight," said Costello. "The reason was that he didn't get the easy baskets the second time. We were getting back and rebounding better. He's a guy you can't let drive, but he's not a great outside shooter."

Barnett said that nervousness caused him to have a bad game.

"I don't like all the publicity of being a hero one night and worrying about not letting my team down the next," said Barnett. "After Tuesday night's game, I couldn't sleep until 6 a.m. the next morning."

The Bucks took advantage of Barnett's cold shooting to take a 27-17 lead with 3½ minutes left in the first quarter. They outscored the Warriors 12-1 at one stretch.

Milwaukee opened a 43-27 lead early in the second quarter before Golden State made its only real threat, closing to within 51-46. But Lucius Allen and Abdul-Jabbar connected to give the Bucks a 55-47 halftime lead and they opened it to 90-47 after three periods.

Los Angeles rallied in the final four minutes and scored 10 straight points to beat Chicago.

Wilt Chamberlain led the rally, scoring 12 of his 24 points in the final period. The towering Laker center seized 21 rebounds in the game.

Jerry West had 37 points and Gail Goodrich scored 32 to lead Los Angeles' point production. Bob Love led the Chicago offense with 26 points before he left the game with 5:31 left after injuring his ankle.

The Bulls also played the last period without forward Chet Walker, who scored 18 points in the first three periods and then apparently aggravated a leg injury.

Bob Love of the Bulls sprained his left ankle and precautionary X-rays will be taken in Chicago today.

Chicago also operated without its regular center, Tom Boerwinkle, who was sent home for treatment of a knee injury.

IN GREENSBORO OPEN Sammy Snead Slams In Slithery Slime

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Driving, said J.C. Snead, is the key in the $200,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament.

"If you get it in the rough and you can't pick it up, you've got mud all over the ball," the drawing, raw-boned nephew of the legendary Sam Snead said Thursday after moving into a share of the first round lead with a 66.

"You hit it with that mud on it, and it's gonna come out of there like a crazy woodpecker. You don't know what it's going to do."

Snead, hero of the successful U.S. Ryder Cup team last year, was tied, for the top spot after 18 holes with a pair of veterans, 52-year-old Julius Boros and balding Miller Barber, who matched his five-under-par effort on the cold, wet Sedgewick Country Club course.

The 7,034-yard layout was drenched by a heavy rain Wednesday, which came on the heels of a weekend snow. More rain and possible sleet is forecast Friday.

Because of the wet conditions and the skippy grass in the fairways officials decided to play so-called winter rules. Players are allowed to lift, clean and place their ball on the lined fairways and around the greens. They are not allowed to do so in the rough.

By being allowed to get their hands on the ball, the touring pros were able to make a mockery of par. Despite the unpleasant conditions, 66 of the field of 147 matched or broke par.

Australian Bruce Crampton, who has been in contention several times this year, headed a group of six at 67, just one stroke off the pace. Others at that figure are Deane Beman, Ken Still, Bob Lunn, Rod Cull and rookie Allen Miller.

Lee Trevino, one of the pretourney favorites for the $40,000 first prize, topped a bulky field at 68. Others included Doug Sanders, Don January, Tom Weiskopf and Paul Harney.

Ali Predicts Foster's Fall

TOKYO (AP) — Muhammad Ali predicted at today's weigh-in he would stop Mac Foster in the fifth round of their 15-round heavyweight fight Saturday.

The former world heavyweight champ was in his best boastful form as he shouted to Foster "round five" while standing on the scales. He weighed 226 pounds, the second heaviest in his career. He weighed 227 pounds last November when he outpointed Buster Mathis.

Foster, a former Marine from Fresno, Calif., who tipped the scales at 211½, took no sass from Ali.

"I'm going to show you how the West was won, I'm going to come out blasting," he told the former champ. Ali shot back "I'll give you until noon to get out of town."

That was a reference to the noon starting time, arranged so that the bout can be seen live in closed-circuit television in the United States and Canada at 10 p.m. EST Friday night.

It is Japan's first heavyweight fight and will be held at the 15,000-seat Martial Arts Hall. Tickets are scaled from $10 to $100. Ali is guaranteed $200,000 and Foster $80,000.

Ali, whose goal is a return to the title with heavyweight champ Joe Frazier, arrived seven minutes late for weigh-in clad in a red, short-sleeved sports shirt and blue slacks. Foster, wearing a dark suit and a black hat with the brim pulled low over his eyes, had been waiting 10 minutes.

The 29-year-old Foster has a record of 28 victories, all by knockout, and one loss. The 30-year-old Ali, from Cherry Hill, N.J., has a 34-1 record with 27 knockouts.

WHOOOP IT UP IN AFRICA Pickled Pachyderms

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — The tempting marula fruit is ripe once more in Kruger National Park and thousands of happy elephants are on their annual spree in the vast wildlife sanctuary.

The 8,700 elephants abstain most of the year, but many fall off the wagon when marulas ripen.

The berry is green and about the size of a plum. Its taste has been described as between that of a lime and a mango. Elephants love it.

They need less than an hour to chop the fruit off a large tree. If disinclined to seek another with ripe berries, they often knock down the tree they are eating from to obtain fruit from the topmost branches.

After dining alfresco on a marula tree, jumbo likes to stroll to a stream for a water chaser. Thirsty elephants can easily gulp more than 50 gallons of water.

BEAST'S BELLY

The fruit ferments in the big beast's belly as it is digested with water and the elephant acts as a ponderous four-legged still. More fruit is eaten and more water follows.

The result: pickled pachyderm.

Rangers in the 7,340-square-mile game park say some elephants can't get enough marulas. Others swear off quickly, apparently after one or two elephantine hangovers.

Marula addicts exhibit some of the characteristics of human tipplers, the rangers report. Some appear totally relaxed and stand in a carefree daze, paying no notice to the approach of camera-toting visitors. Others become vile-tempered and should be avoided. Tourists tell of being chased in their cars by trumpeting elephants, apparently under the influence.

One rampaging rogue killed an African in Kruger Park five years ago. Rangers tracked the animal and killed it. A blood sample was analyzed by medical researchers who said it contained a "highly volatile substance closely corresponding to alcohol."

WHOOPIING IT UP

Scientific name for the marula is "Sclerocarya bieria," from the Greek for hard nut. The kernel is 60 per cent oil. Nutrition specialists wondered for years why some otherwise under-nourished African tribes never lacked Vitamin C. They finally discovered the marula is loaded with it.

Elephants are not the only marulacoholics in Kruger Park this time of year. Monkeys, baboons and warthogs relish the fruit and Venda tribesmen in the area indulge in the potent pleasure of the plain green berry.

Africans brew a highly intoxicating drink from marulas. So strong is the drink that some Venda villages enforce tribal disarmament during marula season and lock away their spears and clubs called "Knobkerries" to avoid drunken mishaps.

"The marula season for animals alike is the season for letting go, for whooping it up," said one wildlife expert.

NUDE DANCERS TESTING LAW

HOUSTON (AP) — The Martinique Adult Club, which features nude dancers, filed a federal suit here seeking to halt police raids under the city's lewd dance statute.

Owner Roy Hearn asked U. S. District Court Judge Allen B. Hannay to stop such raids until a state court challenge of the city ordinance could be heard.

Hearn said the club was raided by the vice squad twice last week and employees arrested.

The ordinance, Hearn said, is too vague to be enforced because it does not describe what is "lewd, vulgar, obscene, indecent or immodest."

Texans Who Pay Taxes Will Be Paying Primary Election Costs

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas voters who pay taxes will be paying their own primary election expenses when they vote on May 6 and June 3.

"So far as I know this is the first time ever," said Secretary of State Bob Bullock, the state's chief elections officer.

State tax money has always been used to defray the cost of general elections, but until Thursday night—the political parties holding primary elections have paid for them with ever-increasing filing fees for candidates.

FILING FEES

Now, for at least this year, state tax money will be used to pay election costs, augmented by greatly reduced filing fees of candidates.

This was ordered by federal courts and was enacted into law by the special session. It lacks only the governor's signature.

The 1973 Legislature will have the job of deciding how to finance primary elections in the future. Filing fees cannot be the main source.

The primary financing bill became a subject for the special session after federal courts ruled unconstitutional a bill passed by the 1971 legislature that continued the old system of letting filing fees pay almost the entire cost of primary elections.

Then, after a series of court tests, state courts held that the Secretary of State could not use state tax money for this year's primary elections unless the legislature gave him the specific power.

TOTAL EXPENSES

Here are some high spots in the stopgap measure passed solely to finance this year's primary elections May 6 and June 3.

Candidates still must pay a filing fee, unless they choose to get their name on the ballot by a petition with a required number of signatures. The fees range from $400 for statewide candidate—compared to $1,000 under the old schedule—to as low as $25 for some local candidates.

County party chairmen, both Democrat and Republican, will use the filing fees they receive from candidates, and any contributions, then estimate to the Secretary of State what their total expenses will be.

After checking the itemized expense estimate the Secretary of State will okay checks on the state treasury for three-fourths of a county's estimate. Then after the runoff primary the county chairman will submit an itemized report of actual expenses and, if necessary, the Secretary of State will issue another check.

County commissioners will be required to loan their voting machines in counties where they are available for a charge of not more than $16 per machine. Similar charges will be approved for use of machines for absentee voting.

A total of $2,150,000 will be appropriated from the state's General Revenue fund to cover the primary election costs.

Railway officials said there were indications of sabotage.

Juvenile authorities took the boys around town Thursday. The boys pointed out 39 homes they admitted burglarizing.

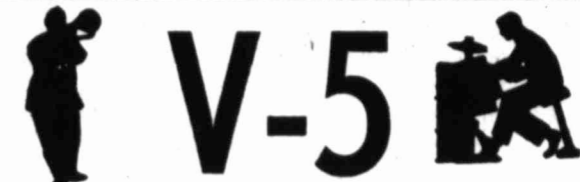

The children range in age from 10 to 13.

Informal Sunrise Service Highlights Easter Worship

By MYRNA McFADIN

As the Easter dawn breaks over Big Spring, many will be gathered together on a hill with joy rekindled in their hearts. The youth of the First United Methodist Church have been working toward this moment for a seemingly endless time.

The throng will be gazing upon an old, rugged cross, built with love and care by these young people. The entire sunrise service is under their direction, and they invite youth from all over the city to share this fulfillment of their labors.

Services will begin at 6:30 a.m. Steve Alldredge will be bringing the message, "The Dawn of a New Day." Roni Haxton will be in charge of the prayers. John Riberd, responsive reading, and Kathy Fowler will be in charge of the mixed chorus, a group including mid-high and senior high youth. Rejoice music will be featured.

There will be guitar background with the chorus provided by Joan Crawford and Steve Haxton. Ike Robb and Roy Lee Osborn will be in charge of welcoming, programs and collection.

The Senior High United Methodist Youth, in charge of planning, urge you to wear informal clothing and come prepared for a new experience. Turn south on Goliad from FM 700 and turn right at the first dirt road. There will be a sign to guide you.

The Rev. Leo Gee, pastor of First United Methodist, will be a guest at this service. Ron and Rhea Haxton are counselors for the senior high group.

Sunday evening at 7:15 the Sanctuary Choir of East Fourth Street Baptist Church will present "Easter Song", a cantata written for the Easter season by John W. Peterson.

The cantata depicts Christ's processional through the crowd.

lined streets into the city of Jerusalem, the feast of the passover and the betrayal by Judas Iscariot.

As Christ was praying in the Garden of Gethsemane, the multitude came, led by Judas and took Christ away. Pilate offered the people their choice of Christ or Barabbas. The multitude chose Barabbas and crucified Jesus on Calvary. However, Christ, as we know, rose victorious over the grave that we might have life eternal. What better reason to sing the glorious "Easter Song!"

Solos will be sung by Raford Dunagan, Don and Laura Dyess and Dan Shirley. The choir is under the direction of Dan Shirley. They invite the public to attend this service to be held in the sanctuary of the church.

"The Resurrection" will be presented Sunday at 7 p.m. at Evangel Temple Assembly of God. This is a stirring play depicting the death, burial and resurrection of Christ.

Christ's Ambassadors will do the acting, and Mrs. Bonnie Nelson is director of the play. They invite everyone in the community to attend this performance. They will be observing Communion in the Easter morning services at Evangel Temple.

The Coahoma Presbyterian Church announces that the Dr. R. Gage Lloyd will be preaching in their 11 a.m. Easter services. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed.

Good Friday services will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday, with Holy Communion, at the St. Paul Lutheran Church. The Rev. D. V. Hafemann will be delivering a special message entitled "Joseph of Aramathea - Tell His Side of It."

Missionary Ralph Hagemer

will be at the Bethel Assembly of God Church in the Flower Grove area for their Easter 11 a.m. worship.

Mr. Hagemer, with his wife Shirley and daughters Stephanie and Melody, have just returned from Tanzania, East Africa, where they served four years. They will be returning this year for another four-year term on the mission field.

Mr. Hagemer has served as assistant superintendent of the national church organization and chairman of the Missionary Fellowship. He will be showing slides of their work in Tanzania along with slides of the country, animals and scenery.

Having worked with American and Tanzanian youth, he gives a descriptive explanation of the contrasts. He says Tanzanian young people are working diligently to develop the church in their country.

Pastor Carl Poldrack urges everyone to attend this outstanding service. Dinner will be served by ladies of the church.

Helpers with varied talents are needed now for the Webb AFB Protestant Vacation Bible School, June 5-16.

Training sessions for adult teachers and helpers will meet at 7 p.m. April 24, May 8 and May 22. In addition to regular classroom personnel, the program needs a pianist, craft helpers, mothers to assist with refreshments and young people to help with recreation.

The Vacation Bible School, an annual feature of the Webb chapel program, provides instruction and activities for children ages three (as of Sept. 1, 1971) through sixth grade. Student enrollment is scheduled for May 28.

Anyone interested in helping with this year's school should contact the superintendent, Mrs. Ardis Dennison, at 263-1805.

Seashore Religion

More than 1,000 college students from Baptist Students Unions on 80 Texas campuses will converge on both north and south Padre Island during the Easter weekend to tell other kids on the crowded beaches about Christ.

Students from individual campuses will operate as separate units, bunking in campers, tents and shelters and preparing their own meals under adult supervision.

Two features of the three-day project, March 31-April 2, will be Easter sunrise services on both ends of the island, April 2, and a Baptist-operated mobile medical clinic on the south end.

A staff of medical personnel will operate the mobile medical clinic, which will be open all three days in Andy Bowie Park on South Padre Island, to combat drug and other medical problems which may arise. It is sponsored by the Lower Rio Grande Baptist Association, Weslaco, under the direction of Robert Smith.

The four sunrise services are scheduled for students operating in pre-designated zones at Port Aransas Park, Nueces County Park, Malaquite Beach and South Padre Island.

Each campus unit has undergone several months of intensive training in a three-phase statewide strategy for personal evangelism. The first two phases involved Bible study and training in personal evangelism in Student Evangelism Training (SET) and Witness Involvement New (WIN) clinics. Part of the third phase is the Easter beach project.

"It is significant that these young people are so filled with the vitality of their faith that they want to tell others how it changed their lives," says Chet Reames, an associate in the sponsoring Division of Student Work of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

"The students won't preach to the beach goes — just talk about Jesus in a natural way as they join in on the Easter weekend activities," adds W. F. Howard, student division director.

The Empty Tomb

Early on Sunday morning, as the new day was dawning, Mary Magdalene and the other Mary went out to the tomb. Suddenly there was a great earthquake; for an angel of the Lord came down from heaven and rolled aside the stone and sat on it. His face shone like lightning and his clothing was a brilliant white. The guards shook with fear when they saw him, and fell into a dead faint.

Then the angel spoke to the women. "Don't be frightened!" he said. "I know you are looking for Jesus, who was crucified, but he isn't here! For he has come back to life again, just as he said he would. Come in and see where his body was lying. . . . And now, go quickly and tell his disciples that he has risen from the dead, and that he is going to Galilee to meet them there. That is my message to them."

MATTHEW 28:1-7
The Living Bible

Preferred Action

A growing number of Catholic young people consider social involvement more important than traditional religious practice, according to a new study by St. John's University.

It found in a poll of 2,182 Catholic high school seniors that 70 per cent of them considered "helping the poor" and "working for interracial harmony" more important than traditional practices such as attending mass on Sunday.

The Crucifixion

As the crowd led Jesus away to his death, Simon of Cyrene, who was just coming into Jerusalem from the country, was forced to follow, carrying Jesus' cross. Great crowds trailed along behind, and many grief-stricken women.

Two others, criminals, were led out to be executed with him at a place called "The Skull." There all three were crucified. Jesus on the center cross, and the two criminals on either side. "Father, forgive these people," Jesus said, "for they don't know what they are doing." And the soldiers gambled for his clothing, throwing dice for each piece.

The crowd watched. And they laughed and scoffed. "He was so good at helping others," they said, "let's see him save himself if he is really God's Chosen One, the Messiah." The soldiers mocked him, too, by offering him a drink . . . of sour wine. And they called to him, "If you are the King of the Jews, save yourself!" A signboard was nailed to the cross above him with these words: "This is the King of the Jews."

One of the criminals hanging beside him scoffed, "So you're the Messiah, are you? Prove it by saving yourself . . . and us, too, while you're at it!" But the other criminal protested, "Don't you even fear God when you are dying? We deserve to die for our evil deeds, but this man hasn't done one thing wrong." Then he said, "Jesus, remember me when you come into your Kingdom." And Jesus replied, "Today you will be with me in Paradise. This is a solemn promise."

By now it was noon, and darkness fell across the whole land for three hours, until three o'clock. The light from the sun was gone . . . and suddenly the thick veil hanging in the Temple split apart.

Then Jesus shouted, "Father, I commit my spirit to you," and with those words he died. When the captain of the Roman military unit handling the executions saw what happened, he was stricken with awe before God and said, "Surely this man was innocent!"

Methodist Commitment

The First United Methodist Church has launched into an Every-Member Commitment Program. Co-chairmen of the total program are Cliff Chapman and Lanny Hamby. Other chairmen include Charles Bell, visitation, Lorin McDowell, survey, and Robert Hill and Stormy Thompson, development.

The purpose of the EMC is to enlarge Christ's work at home and abroad by consideration of the present needs, opportunities and priorities of the church, together with the potential for realizing them.

Dates of the Every-Member Commitment Program are March 26 through May 21.

Mt. Bethel Meet

The Prayer Band Mission Circle of the Mt. Bethel Baptist Church held its regular meeting at 6:45 p.m. Wednesday with chairman, Beatrice Person, presiding.

Members were reminded to bake cakes to be served with coffee at the VA Hospital, Tuesday, April 4.

The lesson was brought by Mrs. Mary Ivory and was centered around the commemoration of the resurrection of Jesus Christ. She quoted an author, saying, "We use a term which honors pagan deities to designate a day which we set aside to honor the one true God who has revealed himself in Jesus Christ, and who has given proof of this, by raising Christ from the grave."

Mrs. Sterling, a member who had been absent during an extended illness, expressed thankfulness for her recovery.

The meeting was adjourned by the group joining hands and repeating the watchword, "Not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord."

Oral Roberts Proud Indian

Oral Roberts, evangelist, author and television personality, is one of the world's best-known ministers and is founder of a university which bears his name in Tulsa, Okla.

He has also written numerous books, is the speaker on a world-wide radio network each week and is editor of a monthly magazine with a circulation of over one million.

The 54-year-old Roberts began his ministry in 1947. Now, 25 years later, the Oral Roberts Association, Oral Roberts University and University Village employ over 800 people.

Two nationally televised programs are produced at NBC studios: a weekly half-hour program and a one-hour prime-time quarterly special. This year Oral Roberts presented a dynamic Easter special, a television premiere, entitled "The Centurion." This special was specially adapted for the series by Ralph Carmichael and was broadcast on KMID, Channel 2, Thursday.

The show starred Harve Presnell as the Centurion and featured guest stars Jane Powell as Claudia, Pilate's wife, and Peter Graves (Mission Impossible) as Luke the physician. Regular Richard Roberts, Oral's son, played the part of Pilate. Oral Roberts concluded the show with a short message. The World Action Singers participated.

Dr. Roberts is a man with many dimensions. He is active in his hometown community of Tulsa, Okla. He is a Rotarian and a director of the Metropolitan Tulsa Chamber of Commerce. In 1966 he was presented the "Civitan Leadership Award" for outstanding leadership and service to the community.

He takes pride in his Cherokee heritage and in 1963 was named "Indian of the Year" by the American Indian Exposition of Anadarko, Okla.

Lutheran Easter Seals

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — "Death Is No More, He Is Risen," the words of hope for Christians for almost 2,000 years, will be carried on hundreds of thousands of cards and letters mailed this year by persons participating in the 26th annual Easter seal campaign of the Lutheran Hour, a mass media ministry of the Lutheran Laymen's League.

The seals, mailed free and without obligation, provide their users with a convenient opportunity to both testify to their faith and to make known their support for the interest in The Lutheran Hour.

The Easter seals are mailed annually to the more than 800,000 active supporters of The Lutheran Hour throughout the United States and Canada. Members of congregations of The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod also are encouraged to take part in the campaign.

The Lutheran Hour, now in its 39th season of broadcasting, is sent out weekly in 11 languages to 125 countries and has an estimated listening audience of more than 40 million persons.

Dr. Oswald Hoffmann, one of the America's most prominent Protestant clergymen, is speaker on the English language version of The Lutheran Hour.

The 153,000 member L.L.L. is an auxiliary of the LCMS and also co-sponsors the television program, This Is The Life.

Saturday Car Wash

The St. Thomas Youth Club is having a car wash Saturday in front of the church, 605 N. Main. The price is $1 per car.

Plans for the car wash were made at the regular meeting of the club Thursday. Sixty members were present, and Juan Gozales, president, presided. Proceeds from the car wash will be used for their summer trip to Six Flags. They urge all members to take part.

A farewell party was held for Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Jasso and son, Jimmy.

Moundville Easter Boon

MOUNDVILLE, Ala. (AP) — A total of 996 people live in Moundville.

But at sunrise on Easter morning as many as 8,000 gather here. They come from several states to see 100 local residents present a pageant, The Road to Calvary.

Since 1947 the farmers, merchants, salesmen, children and housewives of Moundville have presented their drama. At one time or another most all Moundville residents have acted in the pageant or supported it in backup roles of lighting, sound and scenery.

The Road to Calvary is played on three mounts in Mound State Park. Centuries ago these were Indian ceremonial grounds. They were the center of a settlement where worshippers came on festive occasions.

The Moundville population now presents Easter worship where the ancient temples stood.

The last days of Christ on earth — the crucifixion and resurrection — are told in 18 scenes on the mounts. The narration is by the Moundville Methodist pastor with musical background by the combined choirs of all churches.

"When they were come to the place, which is called Calvary, there they crucified him."

Welcomes the public to share our joyful worship on Easter Sunday, 10 a.m.

What does the Easter season mean to The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Let us think beyond bunnies, colored eggs, baskets 'n bonnets to Easter's real significance, to the single most vital historical event of all time: the resurrection of Jesus Christ. On this most important occasion centuries ago, the literal Son of God did what he had foretold he would do to culminate his earthly mission: Christ overcame the bonds of death by reuniting his immortal spirit with his body of flesh and bones on the third day. In thus literally fulfilling the promise he had made to the world, Christ gave mankind reason and justification for believing all of the promises Christianity makes — not the least of these being the opportunity for every individual to partake of a personal resurrection after death and the blessings of eternal life as did our Savior.

Basis Of Consideration

Education is not only one of the most vital but also one of the biggest businesses in Big Spring and Howard County. It touches more lives directly than any other, and its potential for the future is indisputably the greatest because of the time exposure of adults and children alike.

The combined budgets of the Big Spring, the Coahoma, the Forsan Independent School districts and of Howard County Junior College exceeds $8,000,000 per annum. These institutions have between 650 and 700 employees. The physical facilities represent an asset of possibly $15,000,000 or more. Thus, you can see readily that we are talking about something of major import.

While these figures cannot be taken lightly when it comes to the direction of schools, the most important element of all is not included in them — it is the 9,500 young lives who are involved as pupils and as students.

Each one of them, no matter how humble or how richly endowed, no matter the background or the origins, is entitled to a program of education which will give them the chance to become all they are capable of achieving. Each one of the higher level of training is entitled to the best programs for academic and professional development and for the understanding and mastering of vocational and technical skills which will enable them to become productive members of our society.

Thus, a great trust — as the very name implies — is reposed on those who are chosen to serve their districts as trustees.

People in the varying districts ought to be competent, based upon their acquaintanceship and their knowledge of those offering for these positions, to make wise choices. All that we suggest is that they keep uppermost in their minds, when they go to the polls, what they believe is the best course for all of our children.

Curser And Cursee

The Supreme Court, which will eventually get around to all of life's little annoyances, no doubt, has held that cursing — unless it is likely to lead to a fight — is not illegal and may not be curbed by law because it would be an abridgement of the First Amendment right to free speech.

The "if," as in so many laws, is important.

Drawing the line between free speech and threat of a breach of peace, quite clearly, will produce many a legal wrangle.

We can hardly wait for the court to get a case in which the cursee flattens the curser and the judges have to decide where the fault lies. At what point did the purple language exceed free speech. At which word did the cursee become an attacked individual and respond in self-defense?

The court's opinion is that cursing becomes a crime only when it is likely to start a fight. If no fight develops, but the point is reached where one is likely, how should a peaceable person proceed in law to redress his grievance?

It's just too tantalizing to consider.

A Varied Spring

Around The Rim

Brian Peay

WHAT TYPE OF sportsman are you? Well, it really doesn't matter, as long as you live in Big Spring, the center of some of the most odd and varied sports events in the world.

Now that it is turning Spring, Big Springers are in the middle of an eventful sports period.

Just last weekend, one of the oddest and possibly the least in participation sports events was conducted in the city, with great success.

Of course, that was the Jaycee Rattlesnake Roundup, and if you are wondering why this sport has taken time to catch on with the large majority of the public, just ask Delbert Hutchings.

Then there are other sports activities to be staged here shortly. This weekend the Hi-Noon Optimists have scheduled one of the largest motorcross motorcycle racing events ever to be staged in West Texas.

MOTORCYCLE RACING buffs should be proud of this, because there is a purse of $1,000 and a parade of over 200 entrants, which should make an exciting event.

Then the Jaycees get back into the action again the following weekend, with the Permian Belle Relays, which will see 30 to 45 girl track teams come into the city for competition at Memorial Stadium. Track buffs, especially males, should be ecstatic.

There are a few of the other major events, and I have not even mentioned the golf tournament, fishing tournaments, tennis matches, softball league play, rodeos, high school sports activities, etc., that will be held in and around Big Spring in the next few weeks and months.

HOWEVER, THERE are two events coming up within the next four days that in my opinion completely overshadow all other things already conducted or to be conducted in the city this season.

Granted a lot of people might not consider these to be sporting events, but where else could the competition be so heated, the emotions so tense, the campaigning so fierce, and the outcome so important.

That's right, I'm talking about the political games, waiting for the gun to begin the race Saturday.

BEGINNING WITH the Independent School District elections tomorrow and the city elections Tuesday, the ducks are lined up for the kill, and it takes no special talent to step to the firing line to take aim at the ones you want and those you don't. And if you miss out on these, you have the primaries and state and national elections from now until November.

Just think of the prize each participant in the event has the possibility, (and responsibility), of bringing home — good government.

Gosh . . . I just remembered this event only comes once every two and four years although it is so exciting and important. Suppose I could get it scheduled yearly?

President's Problem

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — This presidential campaign year thus far seems unlike any other. The Democrats have too many aspirants for the nomination. The Republicans are struggling with the confusing tactics of an opposition party in control of both houses of Congress but aren't saying much about it. The President himself is focusing on international policy as he seeks not merely to settle the Vietnam war but to assure peace in Asia and Europe as a consequence of his trips to Peking and Moscow.

IF THIS WERE a campaign involving domestic issues only, the fight would be over delays by Democrats in Congress in enacting legislation requested by a Republican president. While there have been compromises worked out at times, the record on the whole has not been satisfactory. Lots of proposals have been passed by one house but have been stalled in the committees of the other house without action. Mr. Nixon has been trying to get Congress to pass the welfare program, for example, which he proposed many months ago but has not been successful. This week he again urged Congress to move the measure forward.

What is happening today is an example of the lack of progress that occurs when one party has a majority in both houses of Congress and another party holds the presidency. There is a smoother process when a president has his own party in control of both houses.

CONGRESS IN the past three years has assumed the right to interfere with many executive powers and has spent much of its time becoming involved in efforts to circumvent or even curtail presidential authority. Some members of Congress are advocating resolutions that would prevent the President from taking military steps, even in emergencies, that would last beyond 30 days unless Congress consents. It is difficult to see how the United States could carry out its commitments under the Southeast Asia treaty, for instance, if it could not take prompt action and deploy an effective defense without waiting for a discussion in Congress.

THE TENDENCY of Congress in recent years has been to express the belief that the chief executive, though he also is commander-in-chief, has limited power with respect to the armed services. It is insisted that, because Congress alone can "declare war," the President has no right to station units of the American defense system in different parts of the world to protect American interests when emergencies arise.

On domestic issues there has been an obvious neglect of vital questions by both houses of Congress. The President's proposal for sharing revenue with the states has been discussed intermittently, but nothing has been done about it. His program for improvement of the educational system so as to make forced busing unnecessary has recently been submitted, but this, too, may fail to be acted upon.

MR. NIXON is handicapped about taking these issues to the people. He doesn't want to blame all members of Congress because some of them are blocking needed legislation. Yet the Democrats are the ones who control the committees and who have the votes to enact the delayed legislation. Many bills that should have been passed have not gotten out of committees.

SOONER OR later, the President will have to decide whether he will ask the American people for the election of enough Republicans to Congress to give his party control of both houses. (Copyright, 1972, Publishers-Hall Syndicate)

Connally Is Powerhouse

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Treasury Secretary John Connally called the heads of 12 supermarket chains to Washington for a chat about the high price of meat this week and now we are told those prices will be coming back down.

When Connally says something he means it, and those to whom the words are spoken understand that this is so. He said he issued no threats about using controls on the supermarkets. The marketmen took it as a threat.

After the talk they seemed to agree that prices would be dropping. And to show their good faith, they agreed to provide the Cost of Living Council with a weekly report. Can you imagine reporting higher prices?

It was against this backdrop that Connally was able to assure Americans that the price of beef would be lower in coming months.

The swiftness with which the secretary acted was typically Connally. So was his persuasiveness, which has empowered or left spluttering with rage some of the world's powerful men.

For sheer elemental power the secretary has no equal. The syrup that runs in his veins supplies an energy that makes other humans feel like boys. He is a powerhouse.

As such, he is probably just the man to face those in charge of pricing in our free enterprise system. He can handle people suggest to them a course, and leave them convinced that even if they don't like that course they had better act like they do.

But now consider: The Secretary of the Treasury assuring the public about the price of a roast beef or a pork dinner? Wouldn't it have been more logical for the Agriculture Secretary or the Price Commission to make such statements?

And how in the world can mere words, even though they imply the threat of action, drop up the price flood that now flows through the American economy? To think that anyone can do so without first turning off the rain is to hope for a miracle.

The situation suggests how perilous the fight against inflation has become. Resort to persuasion, through plea or threat, suggests that earlier, "practical" remedies have failed.

The fight against inflation becomes all the more tense as the political rhetoric heats up and as the polls show many Americans are prepared to reduce all considerations to the one issue of the pocketbook.

One pollster who supplies information to the candidates puts it this way: "Millions of Americans are prepared to forget their particular political philosophies. To them, the big issues aren't controversial. The thing that matters is holding onto the money in their purse."

Heatly Steps Down

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The resignation of gruff-voiced Bill Heatly as chairman of the House Appropriations Committee marked the end of an era.

Many House members said good riddance, but the 59-year-old one-time football player has fans, too.

Heatly stepped down Monday night because, he said, he had become a campaign issue in the speaker's race between Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine, who won, and Rep. DeWitt Hale or Corpus Christi. Heatly backed Hale against Price, whose first campaign promise was that he would strip Heatly of his chairmanship.

During the Waggoner Carr speakership in the late 1950s and ever since 1963, Heatly had been appropriations chairman. He never bothered to conceal the joy with which he wielded his immense power.

He was often accused of using the appropriations bill, with its dearth of wealth of funds for state schools and other local institutions, to blackmail representatives into voting his — and ex-speaker Gus Mutscher's — way.

Friends say he often obtained state jobs for deserving youngsters, but he also was known for using his influence to put relatives on the payroll.

"Heatly was too controversial for the lobby, so they dumped him," said Rep. Bob Gammage of Houston in trying to explain the resignation.

Rep. Fred Orr of Dallas, who usually voted with Heatly and Mutscher, said he felt the resignation would "go a long way toward easing the feelings of the members."

"His tactics and his mannerisms caused antagonism among some members. By that, I mean he gave no complete explanations of the appropriations bill in debate but instead gave terse, quick answers," Orr said.

More complimentary was Rep. B. McAlister of Lubbock.

He called the resignation "the end of an era in which great progress has been made in many areas, including education and mental health, because of the courage and ingenuity of this man."

"There was nobody who could say, 'Hell, no,' with more meaning than Bill Heatly," McAlister said.

As to the accusations of intimidation by Heatly, McAlister said, "I think many members have felt a needless inhibition because they misinterpreted the Heatly growl."

Rep. Dave Alfred of Wichita Falls called the resignation "a major step toward reform — Mr. Heatly used his power as he saw fit, and no one man should have the kind of power he had accumulated."

Alfred said Heatly never threatened him personally with an appropriations cut but Mutscher had. The threat was not carried out, Alfred said.

Rep. Don Adams of Jasper, a supporter of Price, also spoke of intimidation by Heatly.

The resignation, he said, means "we are going to have a more meaningful budgeting process."

"It is going to mean the members that have requests for appropriations in their districts are not going to have any more threats against those appropriations as in the past," Adams said.

Adams sponsored rules changes, approved Thursday night, giving the speaker power to appoint a new appropriations committee and limiting the power of House-Senate conference committees on spending.

One member who served on the appropriations committee in 1969 said Heatly had Mutscher "purge" the panel of members who "asked questions" during hearings and committee deliberations.

Play Optimist's Game

Hal Boyle

By LOUISE COOK
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — It takes more than money to survive in the megapolis these days.

Urban living requires an unbreakable pair of rose-colored glasses and the ability to see a silver lining in every cloud.

Suppose, for example, there's a transit strike. The average man would grumble, something about the traffic and complain about not being able to get to work.

Not the urbanite. A little simple reasoning—some might call it twisted logic—and the city dweller looks on the bright side: the extra exercise of walking is good for him, no buses means less pollution, the strike provides a built-in excuse for not visiting his mother-in-law in Brooklyn.

With a little practice, anyone anywhere can play the optimist's game.

Power blackout? Candles are much more romantic than electric light.

Television set on the blink? Now's the time for all that reading you say, you never can get to.

Just been mugged? Relax for a while; chances are you're safe for at least a week.

Can't afford a European vacation? You won't wind up on a hijacked plane.

Cigarette taxes up again? You've been meaning to quit smoking anyway.

Telephone not working? The bill collector can't call.

Car stolen? You won't be contributing to pollution.

No trees and grass? No leaves to rake or lawn to mow.

Medical bills piling up? Think of next year's income tax deduction.

Too many crowds? A perfect opportunity for making new friends.

No place for the kids to play? They can do their homework.

Can't find a bigger apartment? You don't have to buy more furniture.

Boss turn you down for a raise? You're helping fight inflation.

Can't afford that fancy French restaurant? The food's too rich for your figure anyway.

Apartment robbed? Now you can collect on that insurance policy you've been paying for all these years. Maybe.

Too noisy to sleep late? Look at all you can get accomplished early in the morning.

Tired of being an optimist? Complain a little. It'll do you good.

Billy Graham

I read your Answer column in the Cincinnati Enquirer every day. Please answer a question for me: All I have in life is trouble. It is just one thing after another. I can't understand this because I am not a Christian.

You are right, if you were a Christian you would understand that trouble is an inescapable part of life. Christians have trouble, non-Christians have trouble. This is a world of discord, conflict, and misunderstanding. It wasn't intended to be that way, but man by sin brought it about. Even in the first family they had trouble. When Cain killed Abel, God came down and said to Cain: "Why is thy countenance fallen?" "Then the Lord gave the answer: 'If thou doest well, shalt thou be accepted? And if thou doest not well, sin lieth at the door.'" Genesis 4:6-7.

The difference between a Christian in trouble and a non-Christian is: Christians have help in their adversity. Jesus said: "In the world ye shall have tribulation; but be of good cheer, I have overcome the world." John 16:33.

Peter, who had been through tremendous affliction and persecution wrote to the Christian community who were alike persecuted for Christ's sake: "Casting all your care upon Him; for he careth for you." II Peter 5:7.

Jesus said: "Let not your heart be troubled, ye believe in God, believe ye also in me." John 14:1. When we walk with Christ we have troubles, but we are not troubled. There's the secret.

So, why not cast all your care on Christ. He bore your sins on the cross, and He wants to share your troubles too.

A Devotion For Today . . .

God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.

PRAYER: We are so thankful, O God, for Thy marvelous love for us. Help us to admit Thee into our hearts that we may know Thee personally for ourselves. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

BARBARA JORDAN

President Pro Tempore

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Sen. Barbara Jordan of Houston was re-elected just before midnight as assistant presiding officer of the Texas Senate.

Her election Tuesday as president pro tempore of the 31-member Senate made her the first black woman to ever preside over any state senate or house in the nation, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes said.

By re-electing her for the period between now and the next special legislative session, which is expected in June, the Senate gave Miss Jordan, 36, a chance to serve as governor for a day.

A new Senate pro tem probably will be elected for the next special session.

Miss Jordan has been in the Senate since 1967 but will not return next year since she is a candidate for Congress.

 Opening lead: Jack of ♠

Despite West's best efforts not to give anything away to his opponent in today's hand, all roads eventually led to Rome and there was no way to prevent South from bringing home his three no trump contract.

West feared that the lead of the queen of diamonds might present declarer with a ninth trick—since the latter's three no trump bid clearly marked him with possession of the king. West chose a neutral course therefore and opened the jack of hearts thru dummy's suit.

The ace of hearts was played from the North hand and South observed that he had seven top tricks—four clubs, two hearts, and one spade. He could safely establish an eighth trick by leading the queen of spades, for even if the finesse lost, West would be in and the king of diamonds is still safe from attack.

There appeared to be no prospect for developing a ninth trick by this line of play however, and inasmuch as it appeared likely that the overcaller held the king of spades as part of his values, South decided on a different course. The closed hand was entered by overtaking the eight of clubs with the queen to lead the five of spades.

West feared that he might establish three tricks in the suit for his opponent if he went up with the king (which play would in fact have presented South with the contract). West followed with the three of spades and North put up the queen which held the trick. The king and jack of clubs were cashed, West following both times, but when a fourth round was led to the ace, he was obliged to make a discard—giving up the seven of diamonds.

A heart was led by South and when West played the ten, North put up the king and declarer had a complete count of his opponent's distribution. West had shown up with three clubs, two hearts, and presumably five diamonds for his vulnerable overcall. This left him with three spades. It now became routine for South to lead a spade to the ace on which West, in desperation, dropped the king. If he does not make this play, a spade continuation will put him in—forcing a lead away from the ace of diamonds. South now cashed the jack of spades for the fulfilling trick.

Had West opened the queen of diamonds originally, South can still win nine tricks. He cashes dummy's high hearts, followed by four rounds of clubs, ending up in his hand. A diamond is led next and after West cashes four tricks in that suit, he must lead away from the king of spades into South's tenace.

Charge Ex-Lawmaker With Buying Truck With Stamps

AUSTIN (AP) — Former Rep. Walter Knapp of Amarillo has been indicted on charges he used $1,200 in postage stamps from his legislative expense fund to buy a pickup truck.

The Travis County (Austin) grand jury indicted Knapp on two counts Thursday: theft by false pretext and diversion of a special fund.

Each count carries a penalty of two to 10 years in the penitentiary. The state will have to choose on which charge to prosecute Knapp.

District Judge Tom Blackwell set bond at $5,000.

Sheriff T. O. Lang telephoned the sheriff of Potter County (Amarillo) and asked that Knapp be arrested.

Knapp withdrew $1,200 worth of postage stamps on May 25, 1970—the same day he bought a 1965 Chevrolet pickup truck from Plains Chevrolet Co. of Amarillo.

Allen reportedly hired Knapp's daughter, Lynnora, for five months in 1969. Ratliff reported-ly and Barbara, over a period of five years.

The district attorney who successfully prosecuted former Speaker Gus Mutscher and two others this month on a bribery conspiracy charge, told newspapermen: "I'm not on a crusade, contrary to what some people say. I'm in the business of prosecuting felonies."

Wife Of Newspaper Exec Dragged To Her Death

HOUSTON (AP) — The wife of a Monterey, Mexico, newspaper director, here on a four-day Easter vacation, was dragged to her death while trying to get on a ride at Astroworld Thursday night.

Mrs. Elba Gonzales Junco de la Vega, 49, was pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital following the mishap.

Police said Mrs. Junco de la Vega and her husband, Rodolfo Junco de la Vega Jr., director of the El Norte newspaper, were about to get on the ride when it suddenly started.

Junco de la Vega said he and his wife had trouble finding a seat and the ride started, knocking them both to the ground. He was knocked clear but his wife was caught by a supporting girder and dragged around the enclosed area of the ride before it could be stopped.

Astroworld manager George Lanier said the incident was "very unfortunate" but added initial investigation by Astroworld officials showed neither machinery nor the operator were at fault.

Survivors include five children, two of whom accompanied the Junco de la Vega's on the trip.
