ROGER STAUBACH

YOUTH SPOTLIGHTED Staubach Here For Banquet

Thirty-two young men and women from seven high schools in this vicinity will be saluted today by Roger Staubach, the all-pro quarterback of the Dallas Cowboys.

The affair — the annual Zale's-Herald Youth Achievement banquet — will be held at 7 p.m. in the Big Spring Country Club. Here also for the tribute to the finalists out of a field of four-score nominees will be Sidney Lipshy, Dallas, vice president of the Zale Corp.

Guests will include the dates and the parents of the finalists. Zale's has a gift for each of the finalists, and a trophy for the top pick in each of the schools.

The nominees were screened by a field of eight judges, who came up with the finalists, and finally with the trophy winners who will be announced this evening.

While Staubach's fame is best remembered as the quarterback of the Cowboys last season when he led his team to a 24-3 victory over Miami in the Super Bowl, he has a long, distinguished record as an athlete and naval officer.

He was all-American for both AP and UPI and won the Heisman Trophy as a junior while at the U.S. Naval Academy. He put in four years with the U.S. Navy, one year in Vietnam. In off season he is a Dallas businessman, also takes an active part in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

WILL WITHDRAW AS CANDIDATE FOR HOUSE

Ratliff Resigns From Senate

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — State Sen. David Ratliff of Stamford, under fire for apparent violation of Texas nepotism laws, resigned today and said he also would withdraw as a candidate for the Texas House.

BAD JUDGMENT
"My past mistakes or bad judgment should in no way reflect any discredit whatsoever on the other members of the Texas Senate who are sincere and conscientious public servants," Ratliff said in a statement distributed by the secretary of the Senate.

Ratliff said his resignation would be effective at once so a special election could be called to name his successor.

He said he did not want his district to be denied "effective representation" in the special legislative session which Gov. Preston Smith is expected to call in June.

17 YEARS
"After I am able to consult with our local party officials as to the proper timing I shall also withdraw as a candidate for the House," Ratliff said.

Ratliff, 60, has been a senator for 17 years.

The senator has at various times employed five of his own relatives on his legislative staff—an act prohibited by the state's nepotism laws. Other relatives of Ratliff have been employed by other legislators.

The alleged nepotism was revealed by newsmen who had consulted Senate payroll records.

Gov. Ben Barnes, who presides over the Senate, said in Abilene April 17 Ratliff should resign.

The next day, Ratliff said he was considering such a move but also said that he did not feel "under the circumstances that I have, with any criminal intent, committed any wrongful act."

Ratliff is a tall, handsome, silent man who looks like a picture book image of a statesman. He rarely takes part in Senate debate, however, other than to cast his votes on bills. He is chairman of the Senate Banking Committee and vice-chairman of the influential Committee on County, District and Urban Affairs.

His senate district was merged last year with that of

Surprise Bonus For McGovern

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer

Sen. George S. McGovern vaulted to the lead in Democratic delegate strength today with a towering victory in the Massachusetts presidential primary and a surprise bonus in Pennsylvania.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey said he had "won a decisive battle" for the Democratic center by winning in Pennsylvania.

And in double defeat, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine said he would campaign on, declaring that his rivals would "have to fight like hell" to keep him from the White House nomination.

McGovern and Humphrey fought him separately Tuesday in the Massachusetts and Pennsylvania primaries, and beat him for delegates and popular votes. Next Tuesday they join head-on in a battle in Ohio, facing each other, Muskie and Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington.

FAR BACK
Muskie finished a far-back second in Massachusetts, and was running third in Pennsylvania, behind the surprisingly strong Gov. George C. Wallace. The Alabama governor picked up eight per cent of the Massachusetts vote, and was running fourth there, behind Humphrey of Minnesota.

In Indianapolis, Wallace said his Pennsylvania showing "indicates George Wallace has a better choice to be the nominee than ever before."

Humphrey won Pennsylvania with 35 per cent of the vote. Wallace and Humphrey each had 21 per cent, although the governor was 12,000 votes ahead in nearly complete returns. McGovern was narrowly behind them.

In a major Pennsylvania surprise, McGovern was picking up more delegates than Muskie with 94 per cent of the vote counted. Humphrey led the delegate competition there with 57, McGovern had 37 and Muskie 29.

In Massachusetts, McGovern was managing what no 1972 candidate had done before, capturing an absolute majority of the ballots in a crowded presidential preference race.

With 78 per cent of the precincts counted, the South Dakota senator had 52 per cent of the vote, in a 12-candidate contest. Muskie was far back at 22 per cent.

IN CHARGE
McGovern's landslide put him in charge of all 102 Massachusetts delegates—and furthermore, his slate of relatively unknown pledged delegate candidates beat the big name party leaders who were on the ballot for Muskie.

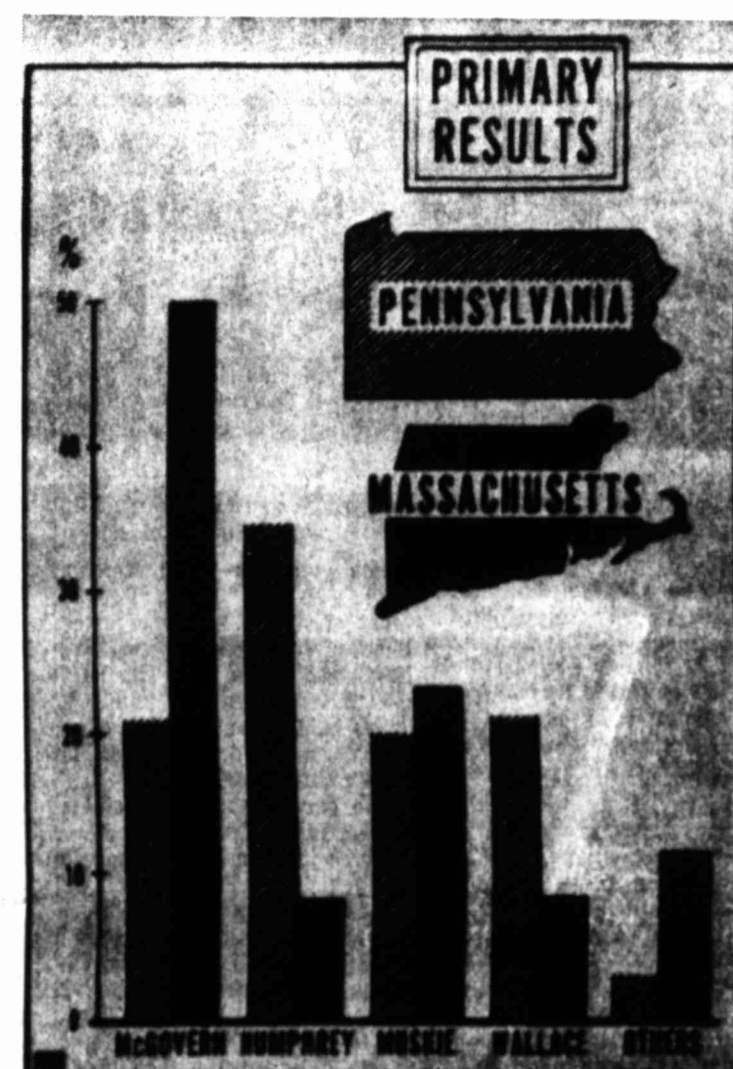

Massachusetts and Pennsylvania boosted McGovern's national count of first-ballot convention votes to 234½, with Muskie at 128½ and in second place.

Humphrey, who came out of Pennsylvania third in national delegate strength with a probable total of 81, said he had "established the momentum and the strength of my campaign for the presidential nomination" by winning statewide.

McGovern and Humphrey headed to Cleveland today to campaign for Ohio votes, Muskie was due in Toledo tonight. Jackson, who bypassed Tuesday's primaries, already was at work in Ohio.

Humphrey's presidential preference victory in Pennsylvania was not binding on national convention delegates, who were elected separately.

Rep. Shirley Chisholm of New York, who didn't campaign, was gaining 5 per cent of the Massachusetts vote. Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas, who did, was capturing 3 per cent.

Belgian Governor On Tour Locally

Red carpet treatment greeted Belgian Governor Emilian Maurice Adrien Jean Marie Vaes on his arrival here this morning.

Gov. Vaes was greeted by Mayor Wade Choate, Cosden Oil and Chemical Company president Paul Meek and the Chamber of Commerce Ambassadors Club.

Vaes, governor of the Belgian province of Hainaut, is the guest of Meek and Cosden Oil & Chemical Company on his two-day visit to Big Spring.

The visit is a sight-seeing and good-will tour by the governor of the areas where Petro-Fina has industrial operations.

"I am here to know your wonderful, marvelous country better, especially the headquarters of the companies located in Belgium," said Gov. Vaes.

"This is my first time here in Texas, so I don't know what I will see, but tours have been set up for me."

"Belgium is not involved deeply in the production of petroleum, but we have many refineries. We have begun to try to use plastics because we were involved in the heavy industries, in steel and coal. Over 40 per cent of the steel made in Belgium is produced in Hainaut," said Vaes.

Petro-Fina has a plastics plant in the Hainaut province which is scheduled to begin production in May.

Gov. Vaes was to meet with local government officials before returning to Belgium.

Brandt, Conservative Foes Both Predicting Victory

BONN (AP) — Embattled Chancellor Willy Brandt held his parliamentary supporters in line today to win two test votes in committees as he sought to beat back an opposition attempt to unseat him.

Seventeen of Brandt's Social Democrats and their Free Democrat allies voted in the lower house's Foreign Affairs Committee to recommend ratification of his nonaggression treaties with Moscow and Warsaw.

The 17-16 vote recommending ratification exactly matched the lineup in the committee of the coalition members and their Christian Democratic opponents.

Brandt's coalition also beat back an opposition attempt in the Legal Committee to reopen its hearing on the treaties.

The conservative opposition, attacking rising prices and the Socialist chancellor's domestic program rather than his "East policy" of entente with the Soviet bloc, drew up a "constructive motion of no-confidence" in Brandt's coalition government. The vote was expected Thursday in the Bundestag, the lower house.

It was the first time such a motion has been proposed since West Germany was formed after World War II. But unlike the usual confidence motion proposed by the government on which the government must resign if defeated, the opposition can win this one only if it mustered a majority of the Bundestag's full membership, or 249 votes.

Brandt's coalition of Social Democrats and Free Democrats still counts 249 members in the Bundestag despite the defection of a Free Democrat on Sunday. The Christian Democrats have 246 members and have to bring every one of those plus three defectors to the voting session to supplant Brandt.

"We have reason to believe we will get a majority," one opposition leader, Richard Stuecklen, said on television Monday night. But later he hedged: "The chances are perhaps 50-50."

Brandt told the viewers: "I await the decision with tranquility."

Brandt needs to survive the no-confidence vote to get his treaties with the Soviet Union and Poland through parliament next week. The treaties, recognizing Germany's territorial losses in World War II, affect the whole course of East-West relations, including implementation of the four-power Berlin agreement, the European security conference proposed by the Russians and expanded East-West trade.

Firm Approved To Draw Plans

The Big Spring School Board Monday approved Gary and Hohertz as architects for a shop building to be erected at Goliad Junior High School.

The concrete masonry building will be used as a shop building in a new elective course system to be initiated in the junior high schools next semester. Adequate space is now available at Runnels.

After the architects present their plans to the board bids will be asked for. The present estimate of the building cost is about $27,000, complete. The school is considering doing some of the work with school personnel, but no decision has yet been reached.

The building is to be a concrete masonry unit with eight inch concrete masonry walls and pilasters 12 feet high. The building is to be 40 by 100 feet and will contain a classroom as well as shop space.

The board had originally planned for a metal building, but when estimates placed the cost of the masonry building within $800 of the metal building, they dropped plans for what they had thought would be the most inexpensive type of building.

"We have reason to believe we will get a majority," one opposition leader, Richard Stuecklen, said on television Monday night. But later he hedged: "The chances are perhaps 50-50."

Brandt told the viewers: "I await the decision with tranquility."

Brandt needs to survive the no-confidence vote to get his treaties with the Soviet Union and Poland through parliament next week. The treaties, recognizing Germany's territorial losses in World War II, affect the whole course of East-West relations, including implementation of the four-power Berlin agreement, the European security conference proposed by the Russians and expanded East-West trade.

Horoscope Forecast

TOMORROW
—CARROL RIGHIER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: An unusually beautiful day for excellent relations with other people. Get together with them and make the new cooperative arrangements that can create greater harmony. Make your surroundings more attractive as well and be happy.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A good day to discuss ideas with others since there can be much mutual understanding now. Listen to their suggestions carefully. Get together at fun places later in the day.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Go out of the way to gain the support from others that you need. Then do your work especially well for best results. Buy needed spring clothing. Choose with special care. Stay within your budget.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Once your important work is done, be off to see people who can help you with creative ideas you have. Make it in a fine mood, so don't spoil things by bringing up some old question, quarrel. Concentrate on happiness.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Concentrate your efforts on home and family today so you make all more harmonious there and get the support you need for projects. Do some enjoyable entertaining at home in a.m.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Sit down with newcomers and plan new routines that can be mutually helpful and remunerative. Handle all that correspondence quickly and well. Some transportation problem can be worked out satisfactorily now.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You can get your money matters in line order if you really apply yourself. Start early. That annoying property matter can now be taken care of with the right solution if you think objectively and clearly.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You can easily take care of these personal matters that are vital to your welfare and get excellent results. Analyze your present position and talk over with an expert how you can improve it. Take suggestions wisely, not with resentment if you disagree.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) In the quiet of your study you can figure out exactly what you want to have or to accomplish in the future, and make plans for it. One in trouble comes to you for advice. Give it willingly.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You want to have a good time and can now control those people you would like to have accompany you, but don't include one who is a spoilsport. Go after that personal aim that means so much to you. Use tact.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Go after more prestige and success in the outside world today and be sure to get it via right channels. A credit matter requires your immediate attention. Give it. Take it easy tonight of whatever you like best to do.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Follow through with those new ideas you have. Get out early to be with the people who can help you commercialize on them. Get help from another for some trip you have in mind. This can be very successful.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You have to show true devotion for the one you love if you are to get the results you want. You have responsibilities that are onerous, but need handling without quibbling any further. Avoid one who bickers a great deal.

Firm Approved To Draw Plans

The Big Spring School Board Monday approved Gary and Hohertz as architects for a shop building to be erected at Goliad Junior High School.

The concrete masonry building will be used as a shop building in a new elective course system to be initiated in the junior high schools next semester. Adequate space is now available at Runnels.

After the architects present their plans to the board bids will be asked for. The present estimate of the building cost is about $27,000, complete. The school is considering doing some of the work with school personnel, but no decision has yet been reached.

The building is to be a concrete masonry unit with eight inch concrete masonry walls and pilasters 12 feet high. The building is to be 40 by 100 feet and will contain a classroom as well as shop space.

Sentimental Day

NEW YORK (AP) — Humorous cards are the rage these days but there is no kidding around on Mother's Day. "Mother's Day has a special meaning for most people and there's a lot of sentiment involved," says Irving Cohen, head of a chain of greeting card stores.

YOUTH SPOTLIGHTED

Staubach Here For Banquet

Thirty-two young men and women from seven high schools in this vicinity will be saluted today by Roger Staubach, the all-pro quarterback of the Dallas Cowboys.

The affair — the annual Zale's-Herald Youth Achievement banquet — will be held at 7 p.m. in the Big Spring Country Club. Here also for the tribute to the finalists of a field of four-score nominees will be Sidney Lipshy, Dallas, vice president of the Zale Corp.

Guests will include the dates and the parents of the finalists. Zale's has a gift for each of the finalists, and a trophy for the top pick in each of the schools.

The nominees were screened by a field of eight judges, who came up with the finalists, and finally with the trophy winners who will be announced this evening.

While Staubach's fame is best remembered as the quarterback of the Cowboys last season when he led his team to a 24-3 victory over Miami in the Super Bowl, he has a long, distinguished record as an athlete and naval officer.

He was all-American for both AP and UPI and won the Heisman Trophy as a junior while at the U.S. Naval Academy. He put in four years with the U.S. Navy, one year in Vietnam. In off season he is a Dallas businessman, also takes an active part in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

WILL WITHDRAW AS CANDIDATE FOR HOUSE

Ratliff Resigns From Senate

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — State Sen. David Ratliff of Stamford, under fire for apparent violation of Texas nepotism laws, resigned today and said he also would withdraw as a candidate for the Texas House.

BAD JUDGMENT
"My past mistakes or bad judgment should in no way reflect any discredit whatsoever on the other members of the Texas Senate who are sincere and conscientious public servants," Ratliff said in a statement distributed by the secretary of the Senate.

Ratliff said his resignation would be effective at once so a special election could be called to name his successor.

He said he did not want his district to be denied "effective representation" in the special legislative session which Gov. Preston Smith is expected to call in June.

17 YEARS
"After I am able to consult with our local party officials as to the proper timing I shall also withdraw as a candidate for the House," Ratliff said.

Ratliff, 60, has been a senator for 17 years.

The senator has at various times employed five of his own relatives on his legislative staff—an act prohibited by the state's nepotism laws. Other relatives of Ratliff have been employed by other legislators.

The alleged nepotism was revealed by newsmen who had consulted Senate payroll records.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, who presides over the Senate, said in Abilene April 17 Ratliff should resign.

The next day, Ratliff said he was considering such a move but also said that he did not feel "under the circumstances that I have, with any criminal intent, committed any wrongful act."

Ratliff is a tall, handsome, silent man who looks like a picture book image of a statesman. He rarely takes part in Senate debate, however, other than to cast his votes on bills. He is chairman of the Senate Banking Committee and vice-chairman of the influential Committee on County, District and Urban Affairs.

His senate district was merged last year with that of (See RATLIFF, Pg. 4-A, Col. 1)

Surprise Bonus For McGovern

By WALTER R. MEARS

AP Political Writer

Sen. George S. McGovern vaulted to the lead in Democratic delegate strength today with a towering victory in the Massachusetts presidential primary and a surprise bonus in Pennsylvania.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey said he had "won a decisive battle" for the Democratic center by winning in Pennsylvania.

And in double defeat, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine said he would campaign on, declaring that his rivals would "have to fight like hell" to keep him from the White House nomination.

McGovern and Humphrey fought him separately Tuesday in the Massachusetts and Pennsylvania primaries, and beat him for delegates and popular votes. Next Tuesday they join head-on in a battle in Ohio, facing each other, Muskie and Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington.

FAR BACK
Muskie finished a far-back second in Massachusetts, and was running third in Pennsylvania, behind the surprisingly strong Gov. George C. Wallace.

The Alabama governor picked up eight per cent of the Massachusetts vote, and was running fourth there, behind Humphrey of Minnesota.

In Indianapolis, Wallace said his Pennsylvania showing "indicates George Wallace has a better choice to be the nominee than ever before."

Humphrey won Pennsylvania with 35 per cent of the vote. Wallace and Humphrey each had 21 per cent, although the governor was 12,000 votes ahead in nearly complete returns.

McGovern was narrowly behind them.

In a major Pennsylvania surprise, McGovern was picking up more delegates than Muskie with 94 per cent of the vote counted. Humphrey led the delegate competition there with 57, McGovern had 37 and Muskie 29.

In Massachusetts, McGovern was managing what no 1972 candidate had done before, capturing an absolute majority of the ballots in a crowded presidential preference race.

With 78 per cent of the precincts counted, the South Dakota senator had 52 per cent of the vote, in a 12-candidate contest. Muskie was far back at 22 per cent.

IN CHARGE

McGovern's landslide put him in charge of all 102 Massachusetts delegates—and furthermore, his slate of relatively unknown pledged delegate candidates beat the big name party leaders who were on the ballot for Muskie.

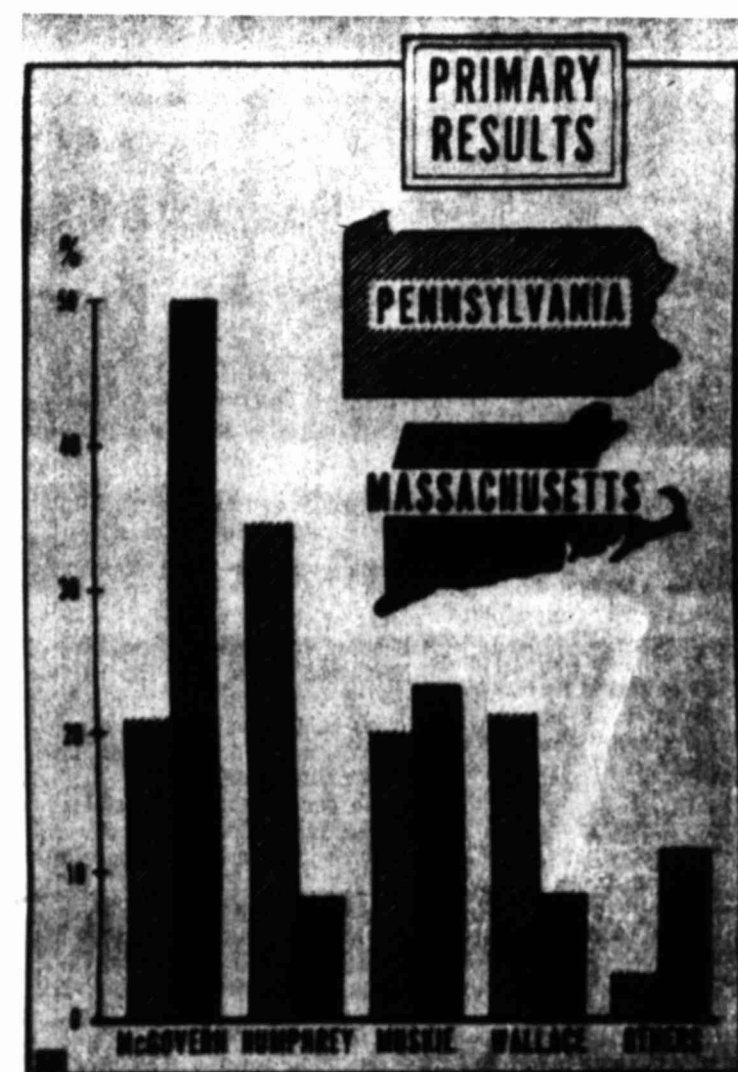

Massachusetts and Pennsylvania boosted McGovern's national count of first-ballot convention votes to 234½, with Muskie at 128½ and in second place.

Humphrey, who came out of Pennsylvania third in national delegate strength with a probable total of 81, said he had "established the momentum and the strength of my campaign for the presidential nomination" by winning statewide.

McGovern and Humphrey headed to Cleveland today to campaign for Ohio votes. Muskie was due in Toledo tonight. Jackson, who bypassed Tuesday's primaries, already was at work in Ohio.

Humphrey's presidential preference victory in Pennsylvania was not binding on national convention delegates, who were elected separately.

Rep. Shirley Chisholm of New York, who didn't campaign, was gaining 5 per cent of the Massachusetts vote. Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas, who did, was capturing 3 per cent.

Belgian Governor On Tour Locally

Red carpet treatment greeted Belgian Governor Emilian Maurice Adrien Jean Marie Vaes on his arrival here this morning.

Gov. Vaes was greeted by Mayor Wade Choate, Cosden Oil and Chemical Company president Paul Meek and the Chamber of Commerce Ambassadors Club.

Vaes, governor of the Belgian province of Hainaut, is the guest of Meek and Cosden Oil & Chemical Company on his two-day visit to Big Spring.

The visit is a sight-seeing and good-will tour by the governor of the areas where Petro-Fina has industrial operations.

"I am here to know your wonderful, marvelous country better, especially the headquarters of the companies located in Belgium," said Gov. Vaes.

"This is my first time here in Texas, so I don't know what I will see, but tours have been set up for me."

"Belgium is not involved deeply in the production of petroleum, but we have many refineries. We have begun to try to use plastics because we were involved in the heavy industries, in steel and coal. Over 40 per cent of the steel made in Belgium is produced in Hainaut," said Vaes.

Petro-Fina has a plastics plant in the Hainaut province which is scheduled to begin production in May.

Gov. Vaes was to meet with local government officials before returning to Belgium.

President Discloses U. S. Returning To Paris Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Henry A. Kissinger freshly returned from a secret Moscow trip and the Paris peace talks resuming Thursday, President Nixon gives the nation a Vietnam report tonight including his decision on U.S. troop levels there after May 1.

U.S. forces in South Vietnam currently are slated to drop to 69,000 by the end of this month. This nears the residual force strength of 25,000 to 35,000 men Nixon has indicated will stay on until Hanoi frees American prisoners.

Besides scheduling the widely awaited presidential radio-TV address for 10 p.m. EST, the White House also:

—Announced U.S. and Saigon negotiators will return to the Paris parley Thursday, with their first item to be discussion of measures which will put an end to the flagrant North Vietnamese invasion of South Vietnam.

—Disclosed presidential adviser Kissinger flew secretly to Moscow last week for four days of talks with Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev and other Soviet leaders. During this April 20-24 period the White House was saying Kissinger was with Nixon at the President's Camp David, Md., mountain retreat.

Kissinger told newsmen Tuesday that he had ranged over major U.S.-Soviet issues in preparing for Nixon's May 22-29 visit to the Soviet Union. These included Vietnam.

The administration has served notice Nixon intends to take up the question of restraint on Vietnam with Brezhnev, and it has chastized the Kremlin publicly for Soviet shipments of heavy arms used by North Vietnam in its offensive.

Administration sources discouraged speculation, however, that Kissinger made any deal with Brezhnev for resumption of the Paris talks or that he had hurried to Moscow for fear that rising U.S.-Soviet friction over Vietnam would collapse the summit conference.

Tonight's announcement will be Nixon's eighth on future troop levels since he started pulling U.S. forces out of Vietnam in June 1969. About 543,000 GIs were in South Vietnam then.

TAKE GUN TESTS

Possible Clues To Six Deaths In Four States

MOUNT PLEASANT, Tex. (AP) — Several law enforcement agencies are awaiting a ballistics test on a .32 caliber weapon confiscated this week to see if it can provide clues to six murders in four states.

The gun was taken from a man who the Texas Department of Public Safety arrested Sunday for speeding in this Northeast Texas city. The DPS said the 23-year-old man is being held for possession of a stolen car and for rape in Washington State.

The car was allegedly stolen in Garland, Tex., near Mesquite, where a young couple and a girl were kidnapped, later found shot in two separate incidences. Garland and Mesquite are suburbs of Dallas.

The crimes were very similar to murders in Lubbock, Tex., Lakewood, Colo., Salt Lake City, Utah and Portland, Ore., according to law enforcement officers who attended a seminar in Texas recently to compare notes on the cases.

A Mesquite police official said they would not enter the case unless the ballistics test, which could take three days, proved positive.

The FBI, and other local police officials would not comment.

Double Murder And Suicide

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A southeast Oklahoma City couple and their ex-on-in-law were shot to death Monday night in what police said was a double murder and a suicide.

Dead are Elmer W. Beitz, his wife Eva Mae, both about 52, and Jesse Lee Crain, 37. Crain, a Tinker Air Force Base employee, was the former husband of the couple's daughter.

Investigators said Crain went to the Beitz residence and apparently became involved in an argument. Officers said Crain apparently blamed his wife's parents for their separation.

Police said he shot both of them three times with a .38-caliber revolver, then turned the gun on himself. He fired once, grazing his right temple, then fired a second shot behind his right eye.

Ex-Head Of Sharp's Bank Sued For $1 Million Plus

HOUSTON (AP) — Joseph Novotny, indicted in connection with the collapse of the financial empire of Frank H. Sharp, was sued for over a million dollars Tuesday for alleged unpaid notes at the bank he used to run.

Novotny was named in a suit filed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. which asked $1,030,447 over two notes at the Sharpstown State Bank. The FDIC took over the bank when it closed its doors in 1971.

Novotny at different times had been president of both the bank and the insurance company. He was indicted in December of 1971 by a federal grand jury which charged him with violating bank lending laws.

Contract Renewal Effort Is Stifled By Watkins

By BRIAN PEAY

Commissioner Jack Watkins pulled another surprise at the Tuesday night meeting of the city commission when he succeeded in stifling the majority of the councilmen's efforts to renew an existing contract with the Big Spring Country Club.

Study of the contract and its ramifications was scheduled for the regular session of the council Tuesday night, after Watkins brought up the issue in voucher checking time last regular session.

Watkins questioned the ethics of the contract, in that it enabled the country club to obtain electricity rates on a city discount to operate water pumps on its wells. Watkins claimed the city was lending its credit, something it is not lawfully allowed to do.

Tuesday night James Gregg, city attorney, told the commission it must decide whether the contract was signed for the sole purpose of making the reduced electricity rates available for the club, or whether the city has a vested interest in the capability of obtaining water from wells on section 33, owned by the club, in a time of an emergency water shortage.

CLAIM BACKED

Commissioners Harold Hall and M. B. Koger claimed the city does indeed have a vested interest through the contract. "Really, I am sincere in thinking the city has a valuable piece of land there and has a vested interest through the contract," said Hall.

Watkins countered the argument by explaining the contract agreement between the city and the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

Watkins stressed the inequity of the CRMWD contract, saying the city will never be able to obtain water from Section 33, or any other source without having to pay the CRMWD for any water it gets. "When the city entered the CRMWD contract, you gave them your shirts, pants and shoes," Watkins continued.

By his actions, Mayor Wade Choate indicated he was of the same opinion as Koger and Hall, and the three city fathers still contended that in a time of water emergency the CRMWD contract would probably be overlooked. Then the contract with the country club would provide the city with a valuable escape clause to obtain needed water, they said.

"This is the only reason the contract was ever signed with the club. That is why it should be renewed," argued Koger.

WORTHLESS?

"I don't think the city has anything worth a dime out there, because in an emergency the CRMWD will go to any means in producing water for the city," Watkins argued back. "This is not ethical or right, and if you let the country club have lower electricity rates, you should let everybody in town have the same privilege, even Jack Watkins," the commissioner retorted. "All the country club and Chamber of Commerce are doing is 'PRing' you to death."

Feeling the weight of the majority of the commission was swinging against him in that a motion and second was already on the floor for approval of the contract renewal, Watkins pulled another surprise.

"Neither you nor Harold can vote in this because you both are members of the club and own stock out there," Watkins told Koger.

Pioneer's Rate Increase Overture Is Set Back

A request for a rate increase of six-tenths of a cent per thousand cubic feet (cfm) of gas was tabled by the city commission in regular session Tuesday night. The rate increase was requested to meet the increasing field price of gas, according to gas company officials.

Representatives from Pioneer Natural Gas Company made the request, which included drawing up an ordinance to allow a cost of gas adjustment clause to be enacted.

"This is not an application for a rate increase, but is a request for a cost of gas adjustment clause by ordinance to enable the gas company to adjust rates on gas either up or down, depending on the price at any specific time," a representative told the commission.

Currently there are 62 cities in West Texas that are in the Pioneer system, and 59 of the cities have approved the request, the commission was told. Only Big Spring, Forsan and Coahoma have not approved drawing up the ordinance.

Harry Nagel, city manager, told the representatives he must make a recommendation to the commission on the request, but first must receive a report on the company's earnings against actual investment in Big Spring to justify the approval of the increase.

The company must file the information with the Railroad Commission, and the representatives agreed to meet with Nagel and provide him with the information.

The city council tabled action on the request until the next regular session.

In other business the commission:

—Approved a certificate of occupancy for Pat's Grocery, requested by Pat L. Blewett.

—Approved on a split vote of 3-1 payment of $128.53 for damage to R. T. Hale's vehicle, which was involved in an accident with a city vehicle. In the accident a cardboard box fell off a city vehicle and hit the front of Hale's car, damaging the grill and radiator.

Commissioner Jack Watkins opposed the request because the city did not receive the damaged radiator, which according to Watkins could have been repaired without having to buy a new radiator.

—Approved payment of $187.46 for damage to Pearl Jansen's vehicle, which was involved in an accident with a city garbage truck.

—Approved the second reading of an ordinance for annexation of a 10 acre tract adjoining Crestwood Mobile Home Park and a zone change for the purpose of extending the park on the tract.

—Okayed the selection of Jimmy Ray Smith, Hudson Landers and Bill Estes to the Board of Equalization.

—Approved vouchers paid by the city through April 25.

Miller Heads AP Officers; Few Changes

NEW YORK (AP) — Paul Miller has been elected chairman of the board of The Associated Press, a new post created to make AP titles more consistent with those of other organizations.

Miller, chairman and chief executive officer of the Gannett newspaper group, had been AP president since 1963.

Other officers elected at a board meeting here Tuesday were Richard L. Jones of the Tulsa (Okla.) Tribune, first vice chairman of the board, and D. Tennant Bryan of the Richmond (Va.) News Leader and Times Dispatch, second vice chairman.

Wes Gallagher remains AP's general manager and assumes the additional title of president. The board also designated these titles for officers of the corporation, under a change in the bylaws approved by the AP membership at the annual meeting Monday.

Harry T. Montgomery, vice president, deputy general manager and secretary; Keith Fuller, vice president and assistant secretary; Stanley M. Swinton, vice president and assistant treasurer; Robert Euston, vice president and assistant secretary; Conrad Fink, vice president; David L. Bowen, vice president; and James F. Tomlinson, vice president and treasurer.

There will be no changes in the lines of authority or functions of these executives.

At the news cooperative's annual meeting, the membership filled four vacancies on the nominating committee with the election of the following:

Thomas P. Dolan, White Plains (N.Y.) Reporter-Dispatch, Eastern Division; Harold W. Andersen, Omaha (Neb.) World-Herald, Central Division; Dorrance D. Roderick, El Paso (Tex.) Times, re-elected from the Southern Division, and Alex de Bakcsy, San Diego (Calif.) Tribune, re-elected from the Western Division.

Incumbents on the nominating committee, each with another year to serve, are K. Prescott Low, Quincy (Mass.) Patriot Ledger, Eastern Division; Frank Batten, Norfolk (Va.) Ledger-Star, Southern Division; Daniel J. Mahoney Jr., Dayton (Ohio) Daily News, Central Division, and William H. Cowles 3rd, Spokane (Wash.) Spokesman-Review, Western Division.

Cowles was elected chairman and Batten secretary.

the corner and "we are on our way up again."

His latest defeats in two primaries cast considerable doubt. As in the earlier Florida and Wisconsin contests, Muskie ran poorly Tuesday in the Pennsylvania and Massachusetts presidential preference elections.

In Massachusetts, where polls once indicated Muskie would win with ease, Sen. George McGovern beat him more than 2-to-1.

In Pennsylvania, where Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey won and Gov. George C. Wallace placed second, Muskie and McGovern were in a tight race for third place.

Muskie finds himself on the ropes as the presidential primary parade marches on to Ohio—and a new crisis for the Maine senator.

Two months ago, when he was his party's front-runner, Muskie appeared to be in a strong position in Ohio.

Now, most observers in Ohio make Humphrey the favorite. Both the Humphrey and McGovern camps think that McGovern has moved into second place.

Muskie's hopes rest with Gov. John J. Gilligan, who has built the first strong Ohio Democratic organization in years.

But the lesson so far has been the inability of political leaders to deliver for Muskie.

In Massachusetts, practically every top Democratic leader in the state was on the Maine senator's at-large delegate slate. It was losing to the relatively un-

RATLIFF

Sen. Jack Hightower of Vernon. Rather than run against Hightower, a potent vote-getter, Ratliff filed as a candidate for the House. He was unopposed in his House race.

Senate records show that Ratliff at various times hired his daughter, son-in-law, father-in-law, sister-in-law and grandnephew to positions on his Senate staff.

A son and daughter of the senator have worked intermittently since 1965 for Rep. John Allen of Longview while Ratliff employed two of Allen's children during the same period.

The Houston Chronicle reported that a handwriting analyst said 14 of 17 payroll checks issued to Ratliff's children by the state during the past 18 months were endorsed by the senator, not his children.

HEAVY HEART

"After more than 21 years of working for the people of our West Texas area in the Texas House and Senate, it is with a heavy heart and sincere and genuine regret that I feel it is now necessary for me to resign from the State Senate. I have so advised the governor, lieutenant governor and secretary of state," Ratliff said.

Abilene Man To Seek Post

ABILENE — Bill Tippen, an Abilene attorney and a former member of the Texas legislature announced today that he would seek the State Senate seat vacated by David Ratliff of Stamford.

Tippen was a state representative from Taylor County from 1947 to 1950 and later served as county attorney and as district attorney before entering private law practice in Abilene.

The 49-year-old attorney is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University of Texas Law School. He said he would conduct an aggressive campaign but is not politically ambitious for a lengthy career in Austin.

The special election to fill Ratliff's term until the end of this year has not been set.

Odessa Rape Term Upheld

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals affirmed today the 20-year prison sentence assessed Doc Rhynes in the Odessa rape of a 57-year-old woman selling "the world's most beautiful family blue ribbon Bible" door-to-door.

The woman testified Rhynes asked her to come in and try to sell him a Bible and motioned for her to sit on the bed in his bachelor apartment.

She said Rhynes told her he would buy a Bible for his mother, but if she would go to bed with him he would buy three Bibles. She said she started out the door, but he blocked the way and threw her on the bed.

While he was struggling with her, she testified, she told him: "Here you have ordered a Bible for your mother. I am old enough to be your mother, would you want someone to treat your mother like this?"

A doctor testified at the trial that his examination revealed no evidence of rape or intercourse, but it still could have taken place.

House Burglary Is Investigated

Police are investigating a burglary, which took place sometime Monday night at the residence of Mrs. Lynn Biel, 2605 Alameda.

Mrs. Biel reported to police Tuesday that someone had broken into her home and stolen $1,200 worth of television and stereo equipment.

Police officials said this week that burglars are beginning to hit private residences in the city, which is hard for regular patrols to guard against.

Chancellor Brandt Fighting Back With Slashing Attack

BONN, GERMANY, (AP) — Defending his government, Chancellor Willy Brandt fought back today in parliament with a slashing attack on his opposition challengers—accusing them of making local election gains only with the help of extreme right-wing militants.

Nearing the climax of a dramatic test-of-strength vote before Thursday's opposition attempt to oust him, Brandt stirred angry shouts from his Christian Democratic Union opponents as he tried to link them politically with the National Democratic Party, often accused of being Neo-Nazi.

The Kremlin entered the picture today. The official news agency Tass said in a Moscow dispatch that so-called excerpts of talks between Brandt's government and the Soviet Union that had been distributed in West Germany are "an obvious fabrication."

The documents which purported to show that Brandt gave concessions to the Russians in drawing up the treaties were published in newspapers and said by the Christian Democrats to be accounts of the negotiations.

The Social Democrat chancellor, who took over in October 1969, faces a no-confidence motion Thursday in parliament.

Brandt kept his supporters in line Tuesday in two committee votes on his nonaggression treaties with the Soviet Union and Poland. Dividing on party lines, the Foreign Affairs Committee voted 17 to 16 to recommend ratification of the pacts, and the Legal Committee voted 13 to 12 to defeat an opposition attempt to reopen hearings on them.

Today, the lower house, or Bundestag, was beginning a three-day budget debate, and the conservative opposition planned to attack Brandt for his failure to halt price rises and make good on promises of social reforms and on other domestic issues. Four votes were expected on separate appropriations. Brandt himself planned to spearhead his coalition government's reply in the debate.

The Bundestag originally planned to vote Friday on the total $34 billion budget, but this is likely to be put off until later.

The Christian Democrats were working to muster all their 246 Bundestag members for the no-confidence vote Thursday. One of them is to be pushed into the chamber in a wheelchair; his legs and vocal chords paralyzed, but he "will definitely vote," a party spokesman said.

Brandt's Social Democrats also will be present in full force, the party said. They will include Hans Lomb, still convalescing from an auto accident in which he suffered concussions a week ago.

To unseat Brandt and replace him by Christian Democratic leader Rainer Barzel, the conservatives need 249 votes, a majority of the Bundestag's total membership and three more than their delegation. Brandt's Social Democrats have 223 seats and their allies in the coalition government, the Free Democrats, have 26.

No Way For City To Hold Local Option Boozing Vote

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — There is no legal way for Grand Prairie to hold a local option liquor election because the city is located in two counties, the Texas Supreme Court ruled today.

The high court affirmed a decision by the Dallas Court of Civil Appeals which referred to the matter as a "novel and unique question."

Wayne Hanks and 11 other Grand Prairie residents filed suit to force Dallas County clerk Tom Ellis to issue the petitions for the local option election on all alcoholic drinks, including mixed beverages.

Both parties stipulated that 80 percent of Grand Prairie's voters live in Dallas County, where its city hall is located, and 20 percent live in Tarrant County.

A district judge said the legislature intended for voters in any incorporated city or town to be able to vote on the sale of liquor within its city limits. The judge ordered Ellis to issue the petitions for the election.

Chief Justice Claude Williams of the appeals court disagreed. "A careful reading and analysis of the entire Texas Liquor Control Act clearly demonstrates that the legislature, while obeying the constitutional mandate concerning the enactment of the laws relating to elections in counties, precincts and incorporated cities, has failed to provide the method and machinery for the holding of an election in an incorporated city or town which is geographically located in two separate counties," Williams wrote.

He said Grand Prairie, and any other city in such a situation, would have to ask the legislature to change the law.

The supreme court did not write an opinion on the case. It merely said it could find no error in the appeals court decision.

Sharp Grand Jury Slated To Die Today

HOUSTON (AP) — After 11 indictments and months of investigations a federal grand jury which probed the collapse of the banking and insurance empire of Frank W. Sharp dies today.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Theo W. Pinson, who worked the group from the start of the probe, said the grand jury, already held six months over its usual year's term, will not be recalled.

Ironically, the grand jury which spent so much time investigating Sharp and the men around him never indicted the central figure.

Instead, Sharp made a deal with the U.S. attorney's office here and on June 14, 1971, pleaded guilty on a criminal information to minor banking and stock selling charges and received a $5,000 fine and a three-year probation sentence.

As part of the deal, Sharp received further state and federal immunity from prosecution and in turn agreed to testify for the government.

U.S. Atty. Anthony J.P. Faris defended the deal with Sharp, saying he needed the financier's testimony to get the "big fish."

Sharp did testify before the state grand jury and later at the bribery conspiracy trial of House Speaker Gus Mutscher and two others where a jury convicted the trio of accepting large profits on stock dealings with Sharp in return for two bills passed in the Texas Legislature favorable to Sharp's interests.

But the 11 indictments by the federal grand jury here were concentrated on less publicized persons and charges.

The jury first indicted a Sharp associate, Michael A.S. Makris in January of 1971 for allegedly lying to Securities and Exchange Commission probes investigating Sharp's dealings in National Bankers Life Insurance Co. stock.

Need To Establish New Kind Of Partnership With Docs

HOUSTON (AP) — Pharmacists need to establish a new kind of partnership with physicians to utilize their skills in managing long-term patient medications, Dr. Roger E. Egeberg, President Nixon's special consultant on health affairs said here Tuesday.

Egeberg, who is also a special assistant for health policy to the Secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, spoke at the American Pharmaceutical Association annual meeting.

With more and more doctors prescribing drugs as part of patient treatment, Egeberg said it makes good sense to use the pharmacists more in their area of expertise.

Bringing pharmacists into the active treatment program earlier would "save hundreds of millions of dollars a year on hospital admissions alone," he said, because at least five per cent of all hospital admissions in the United States are from adverse drug reactions.

If pharmacists could save "only one hour per week for each 100,000 actively engaged physicians, they would be adding the equivalent of another 2,000 physicians available 50 hours per week for diagnosis, treatment planning and the other activities that demand a physician's skills," Egeberg said.

Reminding pharmacists that in years gone by they often served as the point of entry into the health care system, Egeberg said there is still much they can do in primary medical care.

Delegates At A Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota raced ahead of the field in delegates pledged to him at the Democratic National Convention after Tuesday's primary voting.

McGovern won all 102 of Massachusetts' national convention delegates distributed in the state's presidential primary. It gave him a total in committed or pledged delegates of 197 1/2, almost double the delegate strength of Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine.

Muskie continues in second place with 99 1/2 delegates. Gov. George Wallace of Alabama has 75.

President Nixon won all 34 Massachusetts delegates to the Republican convention, bringing his total to 174. Twenty-two Republican delegates are uncommitted. No other candidate has won any GOP delegates.

The current tabulation: McGovern 197 1/2 Muskie 99 1/2 Wallace 75 Humphrey 24 Rep. Shirley Chisholm of New York 9

Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington 1 Rep. Wilbur Mills of Arkansas 1 Uncommitted 202

DEATHS

Price's Rites Set Thursday

Services for George Levi Price, 78, have been set for 3 p.m. Thursday in the East Fourth Baptist Church. Officiating will be the Rev. L. D. Green of the Grace Temple Baptist Church in Kermit and Rev. Dale Cain, pastor of the East Fourth Baptist Church.

Burial will be in Mount Olive Cemetery under the direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Mr. Price died at 7:30 a.m. Monday in a local hospital, following a lengthy illness. He was born June 13, 1893, in Brady. He married Miss Goldie Doty Sept. 8, 1923, in Eastland. He came to Big Spring in 1964 from Eunice, N.M. He was a pumper for Continental Oil Company for 33 years, retiring in 1957.

Mr. Price was a veteran of World War I, a member of the East Fourth Baptist Church and a deacon in the First Baptist Church in New Mexico. He had been in critical health since February.

Survivors include his wife, of the home; three daughters, Mrs. Ethel Garrett, Santa Monica, Calif., Mrs. Flora West, Lubbock, and Mrs. Clea Basinger, Arlington, Tex.; five grandchildren; a brother, John Price, Modesto, Calif.; and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in the First United Methodist Church of Killean for Mrs. R. R. (Josie) Young. The Rev. Jack Shelton officiated.

Mrs. Young died in a Bronte nursing home at 11:40 a.m. Monday. She had been in ill health for seven weeks. Born June 27, 1883, in Bell County, she was 88 at the time of her death.

Mrs. Young married Rufus R. Young Oct. 29, 1916, in Killean. They moved to Howard County in 1933 where Mr. Young worked as foreman on the Dora Roberts ranch for 22 years. They moved to Big Spring in 1953 and made their home at 1512 Scurry. Mr. Young preceded her in death Dec. 7, 1965.

She was an active member of the Wesley United Methodist Church.

She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Harriet Medard of Killean, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Forester Rites Set Thursday

LAMESA — James Melvin Forester, 75, died Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Veterans Administration Hospital in Big Spring.

Services will be Thursday at 4 p.m. in Northside Baptist Church here with Rev. Dennis Heard, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Lamesa Memorial Park under the direction of Branon Funeral Home.

Mr. Forester was born Nov. 6, 1896 in Hunt County, Tex., and had lived in Lamesa at 806 N. 3rd. for 45 years. He was a member of the Northside Baptist Church, and he was owner, with his wife, of Jim's Chili Parlor.

Survivors include his wife,

Even though prepackaged drugs and chain stores detract from the one-time close relationship of druggist to customer, he said, the pharmacists of today and tomorrow can and should recapture the importance of the old corner druggists.

The pharmacy profession needs "a bit of a swift kick" Egeberg told a news conference after his speech. "In this country you have to shout about what you're doing and the pharmacists haven't shouted enough."

Egeberg spoke to members of the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy and the APA's Academy of General Practice and Pharmacy which are meeting in conjunction with the APA's 119th annual convention.

Deficit spending at Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center was the primary topic discussed at the quarterly meeting of the board of directors Tuesday evening. Disbursements have exceeded receipts by $12,713, and contributions are needed to make up the deficit.

Jim Thompson, director of the center, said people often don't realize that 40 to 50 per cent of treatments at the center are given at no charge. The center now has a full staff, which it didn't previously have, and Thompson said this accounts for some of the deficit.

Jack Powell presided, and new policies concerning admission, readmission and discharge were approved to concur with those necessary for future accreditation.

Max Green was named chairman of the budget committee. Serving with him will be Jimmy Morehead and Capt. Jim Dikes. It was announced that $13,309.85 has been received in the drive for funds to purchase equipment. The goal is $20,000, and the board hopes to wind up the drive in May.

Awards were given to volunteer workers at the center. Mrs. G. F. Painter and Mrs. Albert Davis received a charm bracelet and charm for giving more than 500 hours of service. Mrs. Davis is the only active charter member of the volunteer auxiliary.

Certificates of appreciation were given to Mike Pope, 25 to 50 hours; Mrs. W. W. Posey and Mrs. Harold Smith, 50 to 100 hours; Miss Jennifer Jones, Mrs. Akin Simpson, Mrs. Carl Rogers, Mrs. Dan Wilkins, Nettie Mitchell, David Lambers, Miss Sarah Guthrie, Mrs. Bill Cashion and Miss Kay Boren, 100 to 250 hours; and to Mrs. Merrill Creighton, Miss Bessie Love and Mrs. John Hogan, 250 to 500 hours.

Absentee Votes Are Cast By 20

To date, 20 persons have voted absentee in the party primary elections. Absentee voting closes May 2, and the regularly primary elections will be held May 6.

Absentee voting may be done in person in the Howard County Clerk's office on the first floor of the county courthouse, or county residents temporarily residing outside the county may request absentee ballots to be mailed to their temporary address.

Deputy County Clerk Margaret Ray reports that 38 Democratic primary ballots and 18 Republican primary ballots have been mailed. Four completed ballots have been returned to the clerk's office.

E. W. Love; Rites Pend

E. W. Love, 84, died at 1:05 a.m. today in a local hospital. Services are pending at Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Mr. Love was born Aug. 19, 1887, in Burleson County, Tex. He moved to Gall in 1907 and worked in the Dorwood Drug Store. In 1913, he became a chuck wagon cook for the Slaughter Long S Ranch.

He entered the U. S. Army at Silver City, N.M., in 1917 and served in France in World War I with a hospital unit. Mr. Love came to Howard County from Borden County in 1924 and farmed in the Luther community until his retirement in 1952.

He married Ruby Heith Dec. 17, 1932, at Lovington, N.M. He was a member of the United Methodist Church in Gall and of the Stakes Plains Lodge No. 598 A.F.-AM.

Survivors include his wife, Ruby, Big Spring; two daughters, Mrs. Marie Cochran, Oceola, Ark.; Mrs. Sue McBridge, Farmington, N.M.; two sons, R. L. Heith, Big Spring, and Cecil Heith, Yorktown, Va. three brothers, Dr. Robert A. Love, New York City, the Rev. Joe Brown Love, Austin, Mass., and W. M. Love, Houston; three sisters, Miss Marie Love, Mrs. Frona McLeod and Mrs. Lanelle Donaldson, all of Houston; and 11 grandchildren.

Center Drive Shy Of Goal

Deficit spending at Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center was the primary topic discussed at the quarterly meeting of the board of directors Tuesday evening. Disbursements have exceeded receipts by $12,713, and contributions are needed to make up the deficit.

Jim Thompson, director of the center, said people often don't realize that 40 to 50 per cent of treatments at the center are given at no charge. The center now has a full staff, which it didn't previously have, and Thompson said this accounts for some of the deficit.

Jack Powell presided, and new policies concerning admission, readmission and discharge were approved to concur with those necessary for future accreditation.

Max Green was named chairman of the budget committee. Serving with him will be Jimmy Morehead and Capt. Jim Dikes. It was announced that $13,309.85 has been received in the drive for funds to purchase equipment. The goal is $20,000, and the board hopes to wind up the drive in May.

Some Vets Still Being Bilked

A reminder issued last May for a service connected disability by the VA to beware of burial advertising implying a connection with the Veterans Administration apparently has not stopped the practice.

A number of newspaper stories were printed at the time describing the operations, and recently attention has been given at Senate hearings regarding unscrupulous practices by some cemetery operators.

However, notices are still being circulated in the Washington metropolitan area that may be misunderstood by the veteran and may possibly result in the "free benefits" ploy costing quite a bit of money.

A number of bonafide free burial benefits are available to veterans. They include:

• A $250 allowance toward the burial expenses of honorably discharged war veterans and veterans of peacetime service who are receiving compensation for a service connected disability.

• Burial in a national cemetery, where space is available. Burial in national cemeteries is available also to the eligible veteran's wife and dependent children. This program is administered by the Department of the Army.

• Headstone or grave marker is available, through the Department of the Army to any deceased, honorably discharged veteran.

• An American flag to drape the casket is available through the VA, and it is given the next of kin or close friend or associate of the deceased veteran.

Complete information on government burial benefits to veterans and their families is available at any VA office or veterans service organization. Most post offices and funeral directors are familiar with the benefits also, and these funeral directors will assist beneficiaries in applying to the appropriate government agency.

'I AM BORED'

George Sanders, 65, Lived Long Enough

BARCELONA (AP) — "I am bored and I have already lived long enough," George Sanders wrote in a suicide note.

Then the actor, 65, who had played the suave cynical cad in scores of films took an overdose of sleeping pills. His body was found Tuesday on the bed in a hotel room at a seaside resort near Barcelona.

Five empty barbiturate tubes were beside the body, police said, and he left a second note in Spanish.

Sanders came to Barcelona Monday from England, presumably on his way to his home on the island of Mallorca. Actress Zsa Zsa Gabor, his second wife, said in Hollywood that his sister in London reported he had been "very depressed in recent weeks" but that he had been "happy and gay" when she put him on the plane Monday.

Sanders made his Hollywood debut in 1936 in "Lloyd's of London" and in the next 34 years played in nearly 100 movies. In all but a few he was the villain, but one that was charming, impeccably groomed, elegantly cruel, delivering acidly clever dialogue in an upper-class British accent.

He was married four times, to Elsie Larson, who divorced him in 1948; to Miss Gabor from 1949 to 1954; to Ronald Colman's widow, Benita Hume, who died, and in 1970 to Miss

GEORGE SANDERS

Gabor's sister Magda. They separated after a month.

Acupuncture Film Slated

Area physicians and nursing personnel are invited to view a special television program on "acupuncture anaesthesia" as performed in the People's Republic of China at the Veterans Administration Hospital here.

The program was produced by the Network for Continuing Medical Education and features Dr. Samuel Rosen, clinical professor of otology ophthalmology and otology ophthalmology, Mount Sinai School of Medicine, and consulting otologist, New York Eye and Ear Infirmary. The program may be viewed in the library of the hospital between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday until May 5. Those interested in viewing the film are requested to contact Miss Curtis (263-7361 ext. 50).

Seen on the telecast are films of major surgery under acupuncture anaesthesia taken on Mainland China. Dr. Rosen's observations about acupuncture and how it works are made from his personal experience of witnessing 15 such operations in China late in 1971.

The VA Hospital has been a regular participant in the network for continuing medical education for three years and receives this free service to keep physicians abreast of medical developments due to the support of Roche Laboratories.

According to Dr. H. C. Ernst, chief of staff, "members of the VA Hospital medical staff are conscious of their continuing education responsibilities and, NCME closed circuit telecasts provide one important source of information in the hospital's over-all continuing education program."

Lions' Social Attracts 138

STANTON — Every club was represented by its president and others in the Lions Zone II, District 2A-1 social at Caprock Electric auditorium Monday evening. There were 138 in attendance, including the queen contestants of each of the seven clubs.

Ewart Phillips, Brownwood, candidate for district governor, was the principal speaker, being introduced by Howard Hodge, Winters, district governor.

Others on the program were Mr. and Mrs. John J. Wood, John Rousche, J. R. Dillard, zone chairman; Cecil Bridges, past district governor; Jimmy Conner and Charlie Pinkerton. The Midland Downtown Club band furnished entertainment.

Club presidents attending were Roy Hughes, Big Spring; Downtown; Russell DeVore, Big Spring; Evening; Bob Ethridge, Coahoma; Johnny Zitterkopf, Sand Springs; Myrl Mitchell, Grady; Jimmy Conner, Stanton; and Albert McGinnes, Sterling City.

Summer Reading Program For Youngsters Planned

Tentative library programs are being set up at the Howard County Library to help youngsters entertain themselves through books during the summer vacation.

Mrs. Edna Nichols, county librarian, is terming the programs tentative because her resignation becomes effective June 1, and no replacement has been named.

A summer reading program for youngsters aged 6 through 12 is one that will most likely be continued by any successor, according to Mrs. Nichols.

Interested youngsters may enroll in the reading program June 1, and the project is to complete 12 books during vacation. Youngsters completing the program receive a certificate from the state library association.

Currently, a story hour is held at 10 a.m. each Friday for children aged 4, 5 and 6. Last year, the story hour was held through July and was re-started when school resumed in the fall. Mrs. Nichols said that she plans for the story hour to follow last year's schedule, but changes may be made by her successor.

More Safety For Texas

As demonstrated last month when the Texas Legislature quickly passed billboard restrictions, the threat of cuts in federal funds is a powerful inducement for state action.

In that case, Texas stood to lose 10 per cent of its highway construction aid — $24 million — unless it brought itself into compliance with the Highway Beautification Act.

An earlier use of the federal dollar sword is paying dividends now to the state in the area of traffic safety. Back in 1970, the same threat — a 10 per cent reduction in federal highway aid — stirred the state to comply with Department of Transportation highway safety standards. Specifically, the state was required to comply with DOT rules to institute a state traffic safety program. It did so: the Office of Traffic Safety Administration was formed.

In 1970, a DOT valuation of state traffic safety programs placed Texas a deplorable 48th in the nation. Since that time, since complying with DOT requirements and embarking on a state safety program, Texas has raised its national standard to "average," according to a DOT evaluation in March.

Average still isn't good enough. But it does reflect considerable progress. And progress in traffic safety is beneficial to everyone.

Gov. Preston Smith has made a commendable effort in the direction of traffic safety during his administration. His "drive friendly" program is well known; the state has been much more active (under federal producing, of course) in the safety area.

But obviously more needs to be done. That March DOT report spotlighted areas in which Texas remains laggard. These should receive full attention from the next regular session of the legislature. Deficiencies cited by DOT include:

—Driver education is not available to all youths of licensing age. Reform in this area can only be effectively accomplished by adding driver education to the Foundation School Program, financing courses as other academic courses are.

—Texas still does not require re-examination of licensed drivers; DOT recommends retesting at least every four years.

—Texas traffic courts fall short of national standards. To meet them, persons charged with hazardous driving conduct should be required to appear in court.

—Texas is rated deficient in the area of pedestrian safety standards; programs to rectify this currently are under study.

But probably the biggest improvement Texas can make in its traffic safety enforcement — the one most likely to decrease carnage on the roads — is stricter dealing with drunk drivers. Gov. Smith has labeled this the top problem, noting that nearly 20,000 Texans are killed annually in wrecks involving drunk drivers. There is something greatly amiss with our laws when a young first-time user of marijuana faces possible life imprisonment while a repeat-offense drunk driver gets off with a $250 fine and a 10-day jail sentence.

Eat The Whole Thing

Litter fighters may find some cause for cheer in a prediction by a food scientist at Pennsylvania State.

Manfred Korger predicted that during the next decade, beverages will be sold in edible cans, candy will come in edible wrappers and even plates may be edible.

Korger said some edible containers are already available in the form of a nutritious coating for poultry and meats. The transparent film is left on during cooking.

If the forecast comes true, litter from picnics will be devoured instead of strewn about parks and those roadside eyesores — cans and bottles — will be chomped up and swallowed instead of being tossed out car windows.

'Talent' Scouts

Around The Rim

Joe Pickle

This is fair warning to you to be on your best behavior for the next few months and not to engage in giddy responses. Otherwise, you may end up on the tube as participant in a commercial.

YOU SEE, it is not generally known that the agencies, which produce the one-minute specials that somehow whittle a quarter hour program down to nine minutes of action, have a corps of scouts scouring the country for silly sisters and batty brethren to employ as subjects in the next season's offerings.

I CAN JUST hear the scout in charge of detergents calling in an enthusiastic report on a prospect. "Chief," he babbles, "I've got great news. It's something I just lucked into. I found this dame who won the Tri-County Fair Silly contest — won it hands down. Golly, you ought to hear her giggle."

"That's great, Swathmore, but our game plan for next year sort of down-grades the giggle. What else can she do?"

"WHAT ELSE can she do? She can do everything! I never heard anyone who can talk through her nose and make it sound as though it is being projected from the top front teeth. She has just a ghost of a whistle and a faint hint of a lisp. The best part of it all is that she does it with such innocence — it's the most refreshing stupidity I've spotted on this round. Give her a good straight man and she'll sell a million cases of No Trouble Bubble for us."

"That sounds good, but you know we are needing a rookie to fill in on our Bread Spread line. Have you spotted anything?"

"I'M GLAD you asked me that, Chief. I just happened to have one hid out. He's a real sleeper — low IQ, so guileless he turns his pay check over to the little lady every week. He thinks Snow White is Walt Disney's daughter-in-law. He believes underarm perspiration is subversive. He's convinced that clothes smell better when they're done in our detergent. I'm telling you, chief, you can put a crown or a bucket on his head and he'll never flinch. Run him in a series and you can put goose grease in quarter sticks and sell it for sweet cream butter."

"WELL, THAT sounds great, if he's half as goofy as you say. But what about our dog food series?"

"Hey, hey — no you won't believe what I'm going to tell you. I found the worst looking mongrel I ever laid eyes on. And dumb too — Why he's about to grow webs between his pads because he doesn't have sense enough to come out of the rain. Why he ripped the leg out of his master's pants the other day, then escorted a burglar through the house. He's floundered through three glass doors and infested the house with ticks. You can't move him from the doorway where he sleeps, and, best of all, he'll eat anything. I mean anything. Listen, Chief, I tried a can of our dog food on him — and you know what. He ate it, that's what. How about that, huh?"

Non-Public Aid

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Although President Nixon has received a comprehensive report on nonpublic education from a panel of his school finance commission, which recommends a program of federal aid, he is not likely to present a detailed plan to Congress until some perplexing constitutional questions have been resolved.

WITHIN THE last few days decisions by federal courts have re-emphasized the difficulties. Thus, on April 17, in Ohio a three-judge federal district court invalidated the state's system of aiding parochial education through payments to parents of $90 a year for each child attending nonpublic schools. Also, on April 6, a three-judge federal court in Philadelphia declared that Pennsylvania's method of reimbursing parents for part of the tuition paid to nonpublic schools was unconstitutional. The court said "the state has no more power to subsidize parents in providing religious education for their child than it has to subsidize church-related schools to do so."

BUT IT IS evident that, when the subject is finally dealt with by Congress under the President's program, the assistance will not be confined to schools which are church-related but merely to nonpublic schools. Certainly the federal government can take steps to prevent the closing down of nonpublic schools, because this would increase the cost of the public-school system by huge amounts. If government funds were furnished to parents to enable students to attend parochial schools only, a good case could undoubtedly be made as to its unconstitutionality.

THE PROBABILITY, therefore, is that the legislation proposed would be concerned solely with the right of the government to give a tax credit to all parents who pay taxes for the support of public schools but whose children attend nonpublic schools. No direct aid would be granted for tuition, but parents would get a benefit on their tax returns. Deductions would be allowed up to a certain amount for payment of expenses for the education of their children in nonpublic schools. The federal government has every reason to give parents of students who go to nonpublic schools a fair deal by allowing them tax credits for helping to pay the costs of public schools.

THE STATE and local governments have been supplying nonpublic schools with some assistance of a nonsectarian nature, such as textbooks, school lunches, transportation. But enrollment in nonpublic schools is dropping as they close down because of financial troubles. The administration is convinced that, if all the nonpublic schools are wiped out, a huge appropriation will become necessary to construct buildings, hire more teachers and expand facilities in public schools to take care of the students who have been forced out of nonpublic schools.

THE MORE extension of a tax credit to all citizens, irrespective of their faith, who happen to have children who attend nonpublic schools certainly is broad enough to cover the usual objections that financial aid to such parents would foster a relationship between church and state. Actually, it would in this instance be a means of giving each citizen an equality because those who pay taxes and get no benefit since their children do not attend public schools would at least get a credit on their taxes that would diminish somewhat the burden of tuition fees to nonpublic schools of all kinds.

Paradise?

Robert E. Ford

By JOHN HOTARD

Guest Columnist

It seems the dream of every red-blooded American boy is to get his own pad and lead the life of an unfettered young bachelor.

SOMETIMES THE facts of life are not always black and white, but more grey — a little pain along with the fun.

Like the latest happenings at 2450 Lakeshore, the bachelor pad boasting a view of a lake, a boat and man's best friend, Joshua.

Ah, a paradise. True, but not without work and a bit of man's ingenuity, blood and tears.

First, a fence for Joshua is now up. Note the key word — "up." A trivial thing, you say. Obviously you have never built a fence.

Sink the corner and gate posts in concrete, build two gates and hang them. Beautiful.

ED SMITH, an original partner in the Saturday Afternoon Engineering Society, (SAES), an organization started in Bryan in 1965 which does very little engineering, came over to help.

The fence is of five-foot high welded wire with 2x4-inch mesh and referred to as "no climb" because it is high impossible for a dog to get over it. Certainly not a small Border Collie like Joshua.

Unfortunately, the manufacturer failed to point out that it is also high impossible to erect his fence under certain conditions.

It was made to be stretched along ground which slopes no more than a quarter inch for each 794 miles. The contours of the land around 2450 Lakeshore are slopes of 794 miles for each quarter inch of linear distance.

THE SAES was undaunted, however, and stretched it, stapled it and now has a fence as straight as one will find in these parts.

Except. Regardless of how deep the gate or corner post is sunk in concrete, it will lean if it is not braced.

The fence looks great. It's just that the gates hang at about 65 degrees. Attention then turned to the boat, a 14-foot knockabout which had not been taken out since being bought second hand.

Down to the corner gas station for a few gallons of gas and a quart of oil.

The motor is one of those cheapies which starts by pulling a cord.

It was rather difficult to get a good firm pull at first because the pulley's feet kept slipping in the oil which coated the deck.

OIL? WHAT OIL, you ask. The oil from the can which overturned on the deck.

The oil was not as slippery as it could have been, though, because the intruding water quickly diluted it.

Water? What water, you ask. Well, you see, if a boat's drain plug isn't screwed in, water tends to flow into the boat — in great quantities.

In fact, the engineering society discovered an important scientific law:

Water flows through a half-inch hole faster than a person can bail with a half-gallon jug.

We were joined by Joshua, who came down to take a small dip in the lake and watch master and friend joyfully go boating.

Josh? I thought he was fenced in.

Back to the yard for a Mental Aptitude Test for one dog.

It's a simple procedure.

1. Place dog in enclosure.
2. Stand a few feet outside enclosure and vigorously call dog, slapping both pants legs several times.

Dog quickly runs and crawls under the high end of the gate.

Meanwhile, back at the boat, an executive decision was reached.

Forget it.

THE SOVIET decision is related to the time last November when Henry Kissinger, the President's security adviser, believed that his secret talks with the North Vietnamese in Paris were about to reach a successful conclusion. Doveish critics have always been skeptical that those talks could bring a negotiated settlement.

Bouncy DJIA Stuck

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — In the past six years man has assaulted height records of various sorts. He has topped 18 feet in the pole vault, erected 110-story buildings, sent instruments toward the stars and stepped on the moon.

But in that same time the old Dow Jones Industrial Average is stuck right where it was in 1966. It has bounced about during this time, shaking loose a few fortunes, but its rebound is like that of a worn tennis ball.

It reached 995 in 1966 and then tumbled to 744. It crawled up to 985 in 1968 and then fell to 631. It rebounded to 950 in 1971 but plunged again to 798 in the same year.

Once more it is back close to 970 but there again the "assault" seems to have stalled. Early in the week it read 957 and some of the stock market letter writers were showing the strain.

As explained by one, James Dines, the market has once again reached that point where analysts are just getting too bullish. So watch out.

... and with the DJIA now in the area just under the magic level of 1,000 which has spawned so many bear markets, a market correction cannot be ruled out.

When the DJIA nears 1,000 there is a distinct, observable shift from confidence to caution and this time for a number of reasons.

Those hefty corporate profits on which many investors base their hopes are now somewhat suspect. C. Jackson Grayson, Price Commission chairman, observes that some are illegally high and will result in rebates.

That war in Vietnam that so many analysts wanted to write off as a significant factor has now reached a pitch that cannot be ignored by Wall Street because of the threat of significant policy changes.

And those mutual fund redemptions. For quite a while most analysts ignored the repeated news that fund shareholders were cashing in their chips. Temporary, they said.

Now they are not so certain. The redemptions continue, suggesting that the great growth days of the mutual fund industry may have ended. That means a loss to the market of a steady flow of investment dollars to support prices.

All these factors can take on a different meaning over coming days and weeks. Not only will the events change but, in a mystifying way, the interpretation of events might change also.

Bomb Decision

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — The President and the half-dozen men who took the decision to bomb Haiphong and Hanoi weighed two sets of risks one against the other before the final word went out. Not the least of the risks on one side of the balance sheet was that this country would be torn apart once more by violent dissension.

ON THE other side of the ledger was the risk that if the Communist offensive was not checked the South Vietnamese army might be overrun. Then the plight of the 70,000 American troops still in the south would be desperate. In this light wasn't the commander-in-chief compelled to risk escalation of the bombing beyond anything up to this point in the war? This is an inside view of the decision-making process.

The risk takers adding up the score to date believe they have accomplished their limited objective. Gasoline and oil dumps in the environs of Hanoi and Haiphong were almost totally destroyed. The flames were so great that they could be seen from the aircraft carrier Kitty Hawk 110 miles offshore. Hundreds of trucks were also destroyed.

A YEAR to a year and a half would be required for the Soviet Union to replace these stores. This does not mean that the offensive from the north will be brought to a full stop. In the pipe line or at battlefield centers are sufficient stores to fuel the Communist drive for at least another two months. These stores are so dispersed as to be beyond the bombers' reach.

The decision makers seem to have been almost as much in the dark as the rest of us on why Moscow chose to give Hanoi long-range and advanced weapons for a full-scale offensive. Medium-size we could have taken; that would have worn off. This is the melancholy reflection of those trying to cope with the big push.

Regional Drought

Hal Boyle

By BILL JOHNSON
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

The wheat and range grasses don't crackle underfoot yet, and there's water in the farm ponds. Many fields are ready for the row crops to go in and cattle are putting on their market weight.

But the gusty winds through the nation's midsection kick up clouds of dust. The professional rainmakers are at work in southwestern Oklahoma and here and there communities have banded together to pray for rain.

"The reason drought conditions aren't as bad this year as they were at the same time last year was that we had much above normal rainfall in the fall of 1971," said Bill Curry, Oklahoma state climatologist. "That put a lot of subsoil moisture in the ground."

That, basically, was the report from other states in the south-central part of the country, ranging from Nebraska to Texas and taking in Colorado and New Mexico.

Through the first three and a half months of this year, though, most of this section has reported below-normal rainfall.

"It's getting real dry on the surface and it's beginning to sap the subsoil moisture," said John L. Wilson of the Kansas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

John C. White, Texas agriculture commissioner, said the spring drought has cost Texas farmers and ranchers hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Droughts are bad any time, but they are especially damaging in the spring when we need rains to get crops and pastures growing," White said.

The one really bright spot throughout the region was Missouri, where Don Barrowman of the crop and livestock reporting service said there had been no drought problem of any significance. He listed pasture conditions as mostly fair to good over the state.

Most of the officials agreed it was too early to tell just how damaging the dry weather would be. April and May are traditionally the rainy seasons, and substantial rains still could go a long way toward saving a large part of the wheat crop as well as guarantee yields on other crops.

But in some areas wheat already has been ruined. Farmers in some sections of southwest Oklahoma already have plowed their wheat under or turned the cattle in to graze. Now they're waiting for sufficient moisture to plant cotton, and are hoping it won't be like last year when they got the cotton in the ground in moisture and then watched the fields dry around the seeds.

My Answer

Billy Graham

I think all religion is of the "pie-in-the-sky" variety. What do you offer your converts that might prove me wrong?

U.R. The writer of the third Gospel was a physician by the name of Luke. His occupation obliged him to major in the contemporary, and that's why his statement in the 18th chapter is so significant.

He recalls the word of Jesus to Peter, which essentially becomes a promise for every convert to Christ: "Everyone who has left home, wife, brothers, parents, for the sake of the kingdom of God, will be repaid many times over now, as well as receiving eternal life in the world to come." Ponder that phrase "repaid many times over now."

It must surely refer to immediate benefit. Wouldn't God be less than loving if He reserved all the benefits of the new life of faith to some future time? I assure you he doesn't.

As any follower of Jesus would know, there is immediate forgiveness, there is instant peace and joy, and a prompt presence of Christ as a friend and older brother.

No, I suspect that the "pie-in-the-sky" charge is an attempt to discredit by diverting attention only to the future benefits — at the exclusion of the down-payment on His gifts we get today.

I really think the only way to test your thesis is to try faith in Christ. Then send me a special delivery if I'm wrong.

A Devotion For Today . . .

Thou, Lord, only makest me dwell in safety. — Psalm 4:8
PRAYER: Almighty God, we cannot save ourselves. We turn to Thee for help. Give us guidance and help as we feed on Thy Word. Save us before we destroy ourselves. Help us! Save us for Jesus' sake. Amen.

Texas League Pitching Power

After catching dust in the all-time record book for almost 62 years, the Texas League strikeout mark may undergo a change this season, if the first week of the current campaign continues at its present course.

Several pitchers already have taken dead aim on the whiff figure of 20 set by Willie Mitchell for San Antonio against Galveston, Aug. 21, 1909, while racking a four-hit, 8-0 shutout against rival Galveston.

Chief among the most promising aspirants for a new strikeout mark is a 19-year-old future Dodger, Richard Rhodes, who is making the big jump from Daytona Beach (Class A) to the strong AA Texas League. The 6-3, 190-pound youngster followed up the El Paso opener, during which he fanned only seven in as many frames, by sending 15 San Antonio Brewers back to the water cooler after vainly failing to hit the third strike. The Los Angeles parent brass is high on him and who can blame them?

Another Dodger protege who has been tagged with the "can't miss" label since signed by Guy Wellman after graduation from the University of Michigan back in 1968, may measure up to those high expectations this summer. Geoffrey (Jeff) Zahn, now 25, dazzled 13 Amarillo Giants in only seven rounds, April 16 and could be on his way up.

Bill Laxton, who at 24 already has been with Philadelphia and San Diego, made his first start of the new year against Memphis, April 19 and was most impressive while easily pitching Alexandria to victory. Fired up by Dave Hilton's leadoff home run, the lefty completely handcuffed the Blues and set down 11 on strikes during the 7-13 innings he toiled. Evidently, Manager Duke Snider saw something early in the eighth frame and rushed out to the mound, indicating a change. Laxton had eight strikeouts in the first four innings. His successor, fireballer Steve Simpson added four more strikeouts before mopping up. Don Camy, his opponent for the Blues, pitched well enough but his luck continues all bad. He fanned eight before going out for a pinch-hitter in the eighth.

The jinx sign Arkansas' Jackie Stripling held over the Blues in 1971 continues in vogue. Jackie posted 10 strikeouts while winning the opener for the St. Louis Cardinal fledglings, though tiring after six innings and had to be removed. He added seven more in his next try against Shreveport, April 19.

Steve Kokor is averaging better than a strikeout per inning, 20 for 16, in two starts for Amarillo. He was complete master of El Paso, April 18, going all the way with 11 whiffs. His chart was outstanding in '71, 82 strikeouts in 95 innings with the A-Giants and Phoenix, of the AAA Pacific Coast League.

Mark Thomas, 23-year-old Midland right-hander, found San Antonio easy pickings, April 17, as he went the route and nipped 11 on strikes, completing the first week of moundmen in double figures.

Cowboys Set 1972 Schedule

The World Champion Dallas Cowboys announced Saturday, a 14-game 1972 schedule featuring a Monday night date with the Detroit Lions and a Thanksgiving Day game with the San Francisco 49ers, both at Texas Stadium.

The Pittsburgh Steelers of the American Football Conference join the NFC Lions and 49ers as out-of-division foes to be hosted by the Cowboys, who are working on a 10-game winning streak. On the road, in non-Eastern Division play, the Cowboys meet the NFC Green Bay Packers at Milwaukee and visit the AFC Baltimore Colts and San Diego Chargers.

As usual, Dallas battles the four other NFC Eastern clubs — Washington, St. Louis, Philadelphia and the New York Giants — on a home-and-home basis.

Six of the 14 games will be televised nationally, with the remainder on CBS or NBC regional networks.

The Cowboys last met Detroit in the 1970 divisional playoff, coming away with a 5-0 victory. This time, Steve Owens, Greg Landry and Co. invade Dallas on Oct. 30, in a nationally televised (ABC) Monday night game.

San Francisco and Dallas played for the NFC title the past two seasons, most recently a 14-3 Cowboys triumph at Texas Stadium last Jan. 2. This year's Thanksgiving Day game will be televised nationally by CBS.

The Cowboys will be facing Pittsburgh for the first time since 1969. Mean Joe Greene, the former North Texas State star, and the rest of the Steelers visit Texas Stadium on Oct. 8.

The lone first-time opponent on the schedule is San Diego, a charter member of the American Football League and the former home of Cowboys Special Assistant Sid Gillman and wide receiver Lance Alworth. Dallas visits the Chargers and ex-Cowboys Pettis Norman and Ron East on Nov. 5.

The Packers host the Cowboys in Milwaukee's County Stadium on Oct. 1, and Baltimore — 16-13 victory over Dallas in Super Bowl V a year ago — entertains the Cowboys on Oct. 15 in another nationally televised (CBS) game.

Eastern Division dates are the Redskins, at Washington Oct. 22 and at Dallas Dec. 9; the Cardinals, at Dallas Nov. 12 and at St. Louis Dec. 3; the Eagles, at Dallas to open the season on Sept. 17 and at Philadelphia Nov. 19; and the Giants, at New York Sept. 24 and at Dallas to close the season on Dec. 17.

Both Redskins games and the Cardinals game at St. Louis will be televised nationally by CBS.

The Cowboys' seven-game pre-season schedule, opening with the College All-Stars in Chicago on July 28, was announced earlier.

Big 'Quarterback'

At TCU's football picture day, massive defensive tackle Charlie Davis showed his moves as a quarterback.

Davis, a 322-pounder from Wortham, told photographer Al Panzera, "Take a picture of me passing to send to my girlfriend. She doesn't know that I'm not a quarterback." If he was, there would be no doubt that the Horned Frogs would have the largest signal caller in the nation.

Elbow Elementary School Names Best

The Elbow Elementary School completed its track meet last weekend with 220 boys and girls competing in the events.

Ribbons were awarded to the first four places in each event. The Elbow Elementary PTA sponsored the event and donated the ribbons.

Eunice Thixton was director of the meet. She was assisted by teachers from Elbow who served as judges and parents of students at the school.

The first-place winners of the events are listed below.

Kindergarten — Randy Carter, and Connie Strickland; 1st grade boys —

Ramon Miranda; girls — Terisa Maynard; 2nd grade boys — Lloyd Carver; girls — Kara Crear; 3rd grade boys — Ernie Strickland; girls — Doris Thomas.

Discus — 5th grade boys — Roland Kina 60-1; 5th grade boys — Roland Kina 24-1. Sack race — 1st grade boys — Ramon Miranda; girls — Terisa Maynard; 2nd grade boys — Lewis Boeker; girls — Paula McCartney; 3rd grade boys — Kenev Lee; girls — Isabel Miranda.

High jump — Kindergarten boys — Bryan Raney, 2-3; girls — Carrie Myrick, 2-5; 1st grade boys — Terry Hawkins, 2-8; girls — Vicki Rogge, 2-9; 2nd grade boys — Lewis Boeker, 2-9; girls — Paula McCartney, 2-9; 3rd grade boys — Jim Shoultz, 2-3; girls — Lisa Thixton, 2-9; 4th grade boys — David Hixson, 2-9; girls — Julie Paynor, 2-8; 5th grade boys — Javlene Saunders, 11-4.

200 yard relay — 2nd grade boys — Lloyd Carver, 8-10; girls — Linda Abrego, 8-3; 3rd grade boys — Jim Shoultz, 10-7; girls — Isabel Miranda, 8-10; 4th grade boys — Vance Stevens, 10-9; girls — Sonia Freeland, 10-10; 5th grade boys — Randy Cregar, 12-1; girls — Javlene Saunders, 11-4.

4th grade boys — (Kinsey, Collins, McKee, Decker); 4th grade girls — (Blawitt, Freeland, Sewell, Carter) 5th grade boys — (Neel, Watson, McCartney, Harris); 5th grade girls — (Biswell, Shoultz, Chron, Thixton).

Colts Decision Cabots, 3 To 1

The Colts outlasted the Cabots, 3-1, in American Little League play here Saturday night.

Randy Crockett, the winning hurler, set the Cabots down with two hits. Those came off the bats of Timmy Trawick and Donny Knight.

Crockett, who had 13 strikeouts, lost his shutout in the fifth when Trawick crossed the plate.

Mike Egan, Hank Adams and Roy Don Beauchamp scored the runs for the winners. Crockett, Adams, Gary Howell and Scotty Vick delivered the hits for the winners.

IN 5-4A'S SECOND HALF

Steers Are First

By TOMMY HART

Sparkling defensive plays by David Carter and Greg Crawford helped Big Spring ambush Midland Lee, 4-2, in a pivotal District 5-AAA game played on a windswept field here Tuesday afternoon.

Because of the win, the Steers are breathing the rarefied air of first place in the second-half standings, a spot they share with the Odessa Bronchos. Each team steams into the home stretch with a 3-1 record.

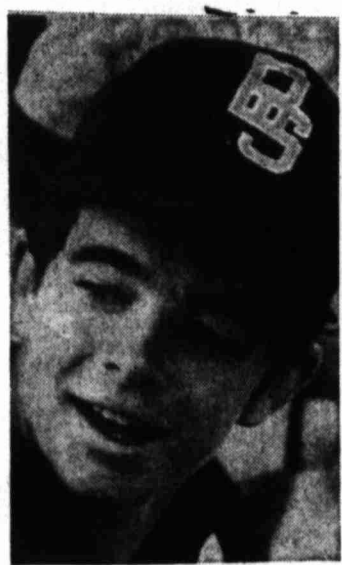

Carter used a leap he had developed in basketball to spear a line drive hit by Mike Abernathy in the sixth and turned it into a double play, just when it appeared the Rebels were going to get to Big Spring hurler David Newman.

In the seventh, Crawford went far to his right to spear a wicked ground ball hit by Bill Girdley and whipped the ball to Tommy Brewer at first base in time to arrest the runner.

Coach Oakley Hagood of Big Spring went to the hill once too often in the seventh to consult with Newman and had no choice but to derrick his hurler.

That brought on Earl Reynolds, who didn't even get a chance to warm up. All turned out well, however, because the crafty righthander forced George Landreth to bounce into a double play. Gary Stevenson finally subdued a ground ball that came his way and threw to Brewer at first.

George Ricks tried to leg it home from second on the maneuver but Brewer relayed the ball to Pete Shaffer at home.

in time to erase the runner.

Big Spring trailed, 2-1, going into the fifth but Crawford spanked a double to left and Stevenson moved him to third with a sacrifice.

Lee's coach, Ernie Johnson, resorted to a shift to try and choke off the run, moving his right fielder, Charley Arnold, into the infield but Carter crossed up the Rebels by leaning into a 3-2 pitch for a single which scored Crawford.

That tied the count at 2-2 but the Steers were far from through. Carter stole second. Ricks followed by reaching first on a free pass. Both runners advanced on steals. Reynolds was called out on an interference play. Shaffer walked to load the sacks and Brewer followed by working Lambeth for an Annie Oakley that forced in Carter with what proved to be the winning run. Newman's single produced the insurance tally.

Each team collected five hits and no player had more than one blow.

Over-all, the Steers are now 11-12.

Newman, who fanned six and walked seven, yielded only one earned run in notching his second win against three losses.

Reds Threaten To Cut South Vietnam In Half

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese forces threatened today to cut South Vietnam in half, after more than 12 hours of posed a new tank challenge in enemy attack. Cambodia 55 miles northwest of Other North Vietnamese troops isolated Bong Son, an- big U.S. transport plane at An Loc, cut Highway 1 and began rounding up civilians to carry supplies.

Six American crewmen were missing. In the highlands to the west, the U.S. Command said 24 the North Vietnamese drive American helicopters and 18 down Highway 14 toward Kon- planes have been lost since the tum City appeared stalled by North Vietnamese offensive be- the destruction of a bridge by gan 27 days ago, with 25 Ameri- U.S. bombers.

Spokesmen said these figures Kon- tum and Pleiku, 25 miles to do not include Americans killed the south. The U.S. Command or wounded in aircraft that reported that an Army observa- tion helicopter was shot down near enemy-held Dak To but said there were no casualties.

With the western highlands province of Kontum already se- riously threatened, Communist troops continued their push into coastal Binh Dinh Province 75 miles to the east and cut High- way 1, the country's main north-south road. Highway 14 north of Kontum and east-west Highway 19 leading from the coast to Pleiku were severed earlier.

Tyler Groundbreaking For 7-Eleven Warehouse

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — Ground was broken Tuesday for the start of construction of an automated 308,000 square-foot warehouse which on completion will deliver merchan- dise to most of the Southland Corp.'s 7-Eleven convenience food stores in Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Located on a 36-acre tract at Owentown, 10 miles northeast of Tyler on Interstate 20, the facility is scheduled for completion in mid-1973. It will be called the Southland Dis- tribution Center of Texas.

Turning the first spades of soil were John P. Thompson, chairman, and H. E. Hart- felder, president, of Southland; Lynwood Massey, president of the Tyler Chamber of Com- merce; and R. M. Nall, presi- dent of the St. Louis and South- western Railway line, from which the property was pur- chased.

Thompson, Hartfelder and other Southland executives were guests at a Tyler Chamber of Commerce luncheon preceding the groundbreaking.

"Our company got its start in Texas 45 years ago when we were in the ice business," Thompson told the luncheon group. "Today our operations in the convenience food store business, dairying, ice and other fields extend to 40 states, the District of Columbia, Canada, Mexico and the United King- dom. We opened our first dis- tribution center last year in Or- lando, Fla., and it has been quite successful in serving the needs of our more than 550 stores throughout Florida."

You're Right

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

BIRD GIRL: (Q.) I have had all kinds of problems with all kinds of people in my school, including boys, girls, blacks, whites.

What am I supposed to do when people say I look like a bird or a witch or I look dead?

I am told that I am pretty, but this is by my family.

I have friends that are boys who talk to me like I am human and then say nasty things about me to other people.

I get good grades in school, and I don't like giving answers out all the time, but when people ask me for answers and I say no, they get mad. What do I do? — No Answers in New York.

(A.) The picture you sent indicates you are a Cher-Streisand type, which today is tops. You should feel very good — but not arrogant — about the way you look.

Those who tease you or talk behind your back may have problems — including jealousy — which are much more serious than yours.

You are right not to give out answers to school work. It is dishonest to do so and it does not really help the boy or girl who is given answers.

DRESS RULE: (Q.) Most of the girls in my class wear pants, but I have to wear dresses because of my mother's religion. I can't even wear shorts in the summer. When I ask why she just says, "You don't need any." But I do. — Only dresses in Alabama.

(A.) Ask your mother, seriously but not angrily, to talk to you about the basis of this belief of hers. Ask her exactly what chapter and verse she is talking about.

It may be that she is following outdated rules of modesty rather than genuine religious teachings. If this is the case, bringing it to her attention possibly may help her to change her thinking.

American women and girls have radically changed their ideas in recent years about what is modest and decent dress. A large percentage of these women and girls go to church regularly.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST?

Plane Freebies Bite Six Senators, Cabinet Member

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Peter G. Peterson recently accepted a free ride to Chicago aboard a jet owned by Standard Oil of Indiana.

But an aide said it was the only time since taking office in February that the secretary has ridden on a corporate plane.

Undersecretary of Interior William T. Pecora is another high administration official who recently took a free ride on a company jet, traveling to South Dakota and back courtesy of Northern Natural Gas of Omaha, Neb.

But Pecora, too, insisted it was the only time he has ever accepted such a favor.

The question of corporations making their private airplanes available for government officials was raised last month by lobbyist Dita Beard of International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. Mrs. Beard, a key figure in the Senate's investigation of ITT's relations with the Republican administration, said some members of Congress made liberal use of the company's jet fleet.

PERSONAL CAB
Singed out by name was Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind. The senator, said Mrs. Beard, considered ITT "a sort of personal taxicab company."

To find out how much use is made of company jets by officials, the Associated Press staked out the general aviation terminal at Washington's National Airport for five days.

In addition to Peterson and Pecora, six senators and two members of the House were seen departing or returning to Washington aboard corporation-owned jets.

They were Sens. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga.; Milton Young, R-N.D.; Lawton Chiles, D-Fla.; William Spong, D-Va.; Harry F. Byrd, a Virginia independent, and Peter Dominick R-Colo., and Reps. Dan Daniels, D-Va., and Rep. John S. Monagan, D-Conn.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST
An investigation of the individuals and companies involved, did not turn up any evidence of outright conflict of interest, although in almost every case there were strong common ties.

Most of those spotted at the airport indicated they saw nothing wrong with accepting the favors, but some did, including Pecora and the lobbyist who ferried the undersecretary and Sen. Young halfway across the continent and back.

MISUNDERSTOOD
Asked if his company made a practice of offering transportation to members of Congress and government officials, Lynn Mote, head of government relations for Northern Gas, replied:

"No, no. Because of the implication put on it. We don't do it as a general rule because it is easily misunderstood."

This wariness apparently is shared by the pilot of Southern Railway's twin-prop Grumman Gulfstream. "When are you going to leave my passengers alone?" asked the pilot, a short, stocky and very angry man who declined to give his name.

No official was aboard Southern's plane when that comment was made last Friday, but one week before, the plane took Sen. and Mrs. Talmadge home to Georgia.

Riding along with Talmadge, who is chairman of the Agriculture Committee, was John Duncan, head of Southern's agribusiness services.

"If I could be bought with a free plane ride," said Talmadge, "I don't belong in the Senate."

Secretary of Commerce Peterson flew to Chicago on Standard Oil's four-engine Lockheed jet last Friday, taking with him his 16-year-old son and two aides. He was going to Chicago to present a minority business award, to launch a new council to encourage industry to use minority suppliers, and to speak at a Republican dinner.

SAME PLACE

Philip Drotning, director of urban affairs for Standard Oil, said in an interview he had been in the Commerce Department's Office of Minority Business Enterprises that afternoon and had mentioned the company plane was going back to Chicago. "It seemed silly for them to fly commercial when we were both going to the same place," he said.

As secretary of commerce, Peterson is the administration's leading envoy to the business world.

Interior Undersecretary Pecora said his flight on the Northern Natural Gas plane April 13 was arranged by the office of Sen. Young.

The undersecretary was the principal speaker at a dinner that night in Sioux Falls, S.D., marking the start of construction on a $10-million federal installation to store weather and other information from satellites.

Lobbyist Mote said Northern is interested in the project because it will generate 1,000 jobs and the company hopes new residents will buy natural gas.

DIDN'T KNOW
Pecora said he didn't know the plane belonged to Northern until just before he boarded it. He added that lobbyist Mote never raised any questions dealing with the policy of Interior, which has responsibility for natural gas.

On Friday, April 7, Sen. Chiles, a Democrat who won election in 1970 with a campaign based on hiking the length of Florida, boarded a British-made Falcon jet registered to GAC Rental Corp., of Miami, a subsidiary of GAC Corp., one of Florida's largest land developers.

Chiles was heading home to make a walk-through of Big Cypress Swamp which the Nixon administration wants to designate as a federal water preserve. The Senator introduced the administration bill to take over the swamp.

OLD WHAT'S-HIS-NAME
A spokesman for GAC said the company supports the takeover but has no direct interest because it owns little or no land inside the swamp although it has some nearby.

Sens. Spong and Harry Byrd and Rep. Daniels rode a twin-prop plane to Charlottesville, Va., for the funeral of former Gov. John S. Battle.

Painting Brings Near Record Price

NEW YORK (AP) — The world's finest still-life paintings, the Zurbaran depicts a plate of lemons, a basket of oranges and a pewter cup and saucer against which rests a rose. It is dated 1638.

The price is the third highest on record for a painting. It surpassed only by the $5.5 million the Metropolitan Museum or so.

of Art paid for a Velasquez portrait and the $5-million to $6-million the National Gallery is said to have paid for a work by Leonardo.

Reputed to be among the world's finest still-life paintings, the Zurbaran depicts a plate of lemons, a basket of oranges and a pewter cup and saucer against which rests a rose. It is dated 1638.

The Metropolitan has been loaned the work and will place it on exhibition within a week.

NOTED EVANGELIST CONDUCTING LOCAL CRUSADE at COLLEGE BAPTIST CHURCH

The "Jesus Revolution" preacher, Charles Massegee of Dallas, Texas, is in Big Spring conducting a "Jesus Revolution Crusade" at the College Baptist Church through April 30. Massegee and team will be delivering "a new message for a new day" in word and song each evening at 7:30. Dr. Jimmy Law is pastor of the church at Birdwell Lane at 11th Place, and invites the public to attend.

Massegee has designed his messages for the space age, with sections on the generation gap, technological advance, "the real caliber of man," youth of today and the modern day church.

Massegee has served three terms as president of the National Conference of Southern Baptist Evangelists and is in great demand nationally for his "Jesus Revolution" crusades.

Massegee's wife, Beverly, travels with him as part of the team and sings each evening. Mrs. Massegee is a former supper club entertainer having traveled world-wide on the Playboy Circuit.

Opening lead: King of ♣
On a day when declarer consistently loses his finesses, it is difficult to show a profit—however, South's failure to land his four spade contract may be charged more accurately to "not keeping his powder dry."

West opened the king of hearts and South won the first trick with the ace. He led a small club from his hand and finessed North's ten, losing to the king. East promptly shifted to a diamond. Declarer played the seven from his hand and West put up the king to complete the defensive book. When the spade finesse was taken subsequently and lost, South conceded himself to be down by one—muttering something about his bad fortune in finding three kings all unfavorably located.

While North agreed that the cards were indeed misplaced, he contended that declarer could have improved his prospects by allowing West to hold the first trick. If West continues with another heart, South takes the second round with the ace and then ruffs a heart to enter dummy for the spade finesse. West is not in position to shift profitably to diamonds himself, so he must exit with either a spade or a club.

When South finesses in clubs, East will presumably play a diamond, but now declarer is in full charge. He puts up the ace, draws any trumps which may be outstanding and then runs the clubs and discards his remaining diamonds.

While it is true that declarer can be defeated on the deal if East has both the king and jack of diamonds and West shifts to that suit either time he is on lead—South can do nothing to avert his fate with both black kings unfavorably located. The advantage gained in ducking the first round of hearts is that East can be kept out of the lead for an early diamond shift which may prove fatal if West has the king of that suit.

Assuming that South permits West to hold the first trick and the latter shifts to a club, declarer should refuse the finesse and play the ace from dummy. The queen of spades is put thru—losing to the king, however if West continues a club to East's king, South is once more in position to assume control since he retains the ace of diamonds and both of the black kings have been disclosed.

Major Changes In Texas Tree Farm System

LUFKIN, Tex. (AP) — Major changes in the Texas Tree Farm System are under way.

The system, operated under the sponsorship of the Texas Forestry Association and supervised by a committee composed of representatives of industry, the Southern Forest Institute and the state forestry agency, the Texas Forest Service, is being reorganized into seven districts to coincide with the seven Texas Forest Service districts. Formerly the system was under a three-district division.

In announcing the transition, the chairman of the committee, Charles Robertson of International Paper Co., Nacogdoches, emphasized the need to concentrate efforts on the Tree Farm System.

"At the same time timberland losses to expanding cities, wilderness withdrawals, etc. are increasing also. Therefore, foresters must attempt to intensify production on the remaining acres to meet the demand for wood products in the future," stated Robertson in making the announcement.

Coed Liquor Case Still In Spotlight

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (AP) — The president of Southwest Texas State University, Billy Mack Jones, said a case similar to that last week of a coed being suspended will never "cross my desk again."

Cathy Chadwell, 20, a junior from San Antonio, was suspended for one semester for having nine "decorative" two-ounce bottles of liquor on her bookshelf. She said the unopened bottles were given to her by an airline stewardess. Liquor is sold in the small bottles aboard commercial flights.

District Court Judge Terry Jacks upheld the university's ruling, saying, "I have no choice but to deny the plaintiff's plea for readmittance, but I urge the university to consider the harshness of the measure taken."

University rules prohibit alcoholic beverages in the dormitories, although empty liquor bottles may be used for decoration. The faculty-student review board ruled Miss Chadwell should be dismissed and higher university officials upheld that ruling.

Jones said "The whole case and the emotional pain we all went through is enough to make us re-examine our procedures. A similar case will never cross my desk again."

Jones said he believed in giving people a second chance but said he would not overrule the faculty-student review board.

Miss Chadwell, an orphan, reportedly moved to Houston to live with an uncle. At college she was employed as a dorm proctor.

He said he gave Miss Chadwell the option of completing this semester and beginning the one-term suspension next year but she declined.

He said her intentions—of having the bottles for decoration and not consumption—did not matter.

"What if the students decided to decorate their room with marijuana plants?" he asked.

Grace Has Gain In Earnings

NEW YORK — W. R. Grace & Co., an international industrial concern, today reported a 6 per cent increase in sales and revenues and a 14 per cent increase in earnings per share for the first quarter of 1972 as compared with the first quarter of 1971.

Net sales and revenues were $523,766,000 compared with $452,871,000 the previous year, and the increase was broadly distributed among all its operating groups. Net income amounted to $8,943,000 compared with $7,971,000, and income per common and common equivalent share was 32 cents versus 28 cents in 1971.

Lawyers' Lobby Firing At No-Fault Insurance

B JUDY VAN SLYKE
Associated Press Writer

No-fault insurance plans, already law in seven states and being considered in 27 state legislatures from California to Rhode Island, are facing stiff opposition from a well-organized and well-financed lawyers' lobby.

In some states, the lawyers are being aided by insurance companies and civil rights groups.

Fourteen states defeated no-fault insurance proposals in 1972 legislative sessions, and lawyers specializing in personal injury litigation, especially the American Trial Lawyers Association, are trying to block passage of no-fault legislation in 16 of the 27 states considering such bills, an Associated Press survey showed.

PAIN VALUE

The lawyers' tactics differ from state to state, but Leonard Ring, a spokesman for the American Trial Lawyers Association, said the objection is usually on the same grounds: "either eliminate or strictly limit the right of people to recover for disability or pain and suffering that don't have a fixed monetary value."

Ring said the limitations affect both those victims who try to settle claims out of court and those who file suit to recover for damages.

Although no-fault plans vary, the concept is similar "reimbursement for auto accident victims from their own insurance companies for bodily injury and lost wages regardless of who was at fault in the accident."

KICKED OUT

In Illinois, the trial lawyers group spent $100,000 in an unsuccessful lobbying effort to have the bill killed.

But after the no-fault proposal was signed into law Sept. 2, 1971, the Illinois Trial Lawyers Association filed suit.

The State Supreme Court recently declared the law unconstitutional on the grounds it discriminates against certain groups of accident victims.

The Hawaii Trial Lawyers Association, an affiliate of the national group, waged a campaign of television and newspaper advertising that some lawmakers say influenced the legislature to table no-fault measures in committee.

BILL KILLED

The Colorado Farm Bureau and a group of independent insurers lobbied heavily against no-fault in the current session of the state's General Assembly, where a bill was killed and further study ordered by lawmakers.

In Wisconsin, several insurance groups, including the Independent Insurance Agents of Wisconsin and the National Association of Independent Insurers, opposed six no-fault plans introduced in the legislature. Stanley Du Rose, state insurance commissioner, said many of the opponents "see no-fault insurance as an inevitable development in the future. What they object to is not so much the concept as the specifics."

Extortion Plot Aimed At Hotels

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Major Las Vegas hotels have received extortion letters demanding money under threat of bombings, sources revealed.

The FBI acknowledged it was investigating the reports but refused any direct comment. However, sources at several hotels confirmed receiving extortion letters and said most of the major strip hotels received them in the mail Monday.

"They sent the letters to several of our hotels, I understand 21 hotels in all," said an official of the Howard Hughes hotels.

Hughes owns five hotels here including the Sands, Desert Inn, Landmark, Frontier and Castaways.

One source said the letters demanded up to 2 million and threatened that the hotels would be bombed individually if the money was not paid.

Details of the extortion plot were not revealed.

Charge Teacher Required Pupils To Chew Up Work

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston School Board will resume a public hearing Monday on the case of a junior high school teacher suspended over the disciplining of two of his pupils.

Robert D. Brooks was suspended without pay on Feb. 18 from his job of teaching pupils diagnosed as mentally retarded at Stonewall Jackson Junior High.

He was charged with requiring the pupils to chew up their unsatisfactory work papers, hold chalk between their teeth to write on the blackboard, clean blackboards with their hands and receive discipline from other pupils while he was out of the room.

Brooks said the two pupils he used unusual methods of discipline on had improved in their behavior and attitudes and the charges represented isolated incidents which occurred between 1968 and 1970.

Monday night about 20 of his fellow teachers testified at the board hearing that Brooks was an exceptional teacher who was kind and sensitive about the problems of his pupils.

Cracking Nationwide Counterfeiting Ring

HOUSTON (AP) — The agent in charge of the U.S. Secret Service said Tuesday that arrests here and in Cicero, Ill., had broken up a nationwide counterfeiting ring.

One person was arrested in Cicero and two here and $69,000 in counterfeit money was seized, the agent, Kenneth Wiesman said.

He said Carl Hathcock, 41, and his wife, Judy, 25, were arrested in a Houston apartment and a large quantity of bogus $20 and $100 bills were seized.

In Cicero, he said, Alphonse Sumakeris, 34, a printer, was arrested Monday and charged with the manufacture of the bills after printing equipment was found at his home.

Hathcock was charged with passing a $20 bill in Tomball, Tex., last December and Mrs. Hathcock was charged with possession of bogus bills.

An arrest here last Saturday of Taylor La Joy Mosley, 49, of Houston, who was charged with passing a counterfeit bill, also was tied in with the case, Wiesman said.

Wiesman said bills from the Cicero plant have been circulated in the southern, western and central parts of the United States since last fall.

The fake money is of better than usual quality, he said, and contained a much higher percentage of large bills than the usual counterfeiting operation. Of the $69,000 seized, he said, $33,000 was in bogus $100 bills.

More arrests are expected in the case, Wiesman said.

William DuBay, 37, had been suspended from the priesthood for other activities when he married the former Mary Ellen Wall.

Her petition cited irreconcilable differences and said they had separated Sept. 5.

The couple had one child, Alfred, 2. Mrs. DuBay had four children from a previous marriage.

While a priest in Los Angeles, DuBay asked Pope Paul VI to suspend James Francis Cardinal McIntyre for alleged lack of concern for racial causes. He also tried to form a priests' union.

In an article last December, DuBay said he was a homosexual. "It took me a long time to accept my homosexuality," he said in "The Advocate."

Year-Around School Viewed By Speaker

"Year-Around Schools" were discussed by Mrs. Roger Tucker, a counselor at Big Spring High School, for Spring City Chapter, American Business Women's Association, Tuesday evening at the Pioneer Gas Flame Room.

Mrs. Tucker said a bill signed by Governor Preston Smith authorized school districts to operate all or some of their schools during all four quarters of the year. For the 1972-1973 school year, districts will have the option of going on a quarter basis, and beginning with the 1973-1974 school year, all schools must adopt the quarter plan. However, schools will not be required to operate all four quarters.

The first school to initiate a pilot program on a year-around basis was in Atlanta, Ga., in 1968. Mrs. Tucker said they found the system could be more expensive and that there was a lack of communications between the public and school officials. After four years there was no actual monetary savings, but the failure rate was reduced by 40 per cent which indirectly saved the school district about $40,000 in one year.

A pilot program is now being conducted in Fort Worth, and Mrs. Tucker said some problems arise when students transfer from a semester system to a quarter system. Most graduation requirements now call for 20 credits, but on a quarter system, students will need a minimum of 55 quarter units.

Mrs. Tucker said 80 per cent of people surveyed in Germantown, Wis., concerning all-year schools were opposed to the idea for four major reasons. It interfered with family vacations, teachers could not attend summer school, it interfered with summer camps and it limited repair and upkeep on buildings.

Miss Faye Wells presided, and a vocational talk was given by Mrs. Peggy McDonald, an elementary teacher at St. Mary's Episcopal School.

It was announced that Miss Freddie Graham, a student at Howard County Junior College, is recipient of a $100 scholarship from the chapter. Miss Mary Curtis led the invocation and pledge, and benediction was by Mrs. William Jackson.

Community Reunion At College

The 10th annual reunion of the Moore Community was held Sunday in the Dora Roberts Student Union Building of Howard County Junior College.

Music was directed by Truett Thomas with Mrs. Alpha Turney at the piano. Fred Whitaker read poems which he had written, and Mrs. Thelma (Mann) Fahrenkamp of Fort Worth gave a short talk on her experiences as teacher in the Moore School.

A memorial service was conducted by the Rev. Elra Phillips of Big Spring, after which the Rev. Wayne Cook of Lubbock spoke on his boyhood memories of the Moore Community.

Mrs. Robbie Townsend was elected president, and Mrs. Ruth Morton as secretary for the coming year. Guests were registered from 14 towns. Approximately 75 enjoyed punch, cookies and visiting.

Member Initiated By Beauceants

Mrs. George C. Glenn was initiated by Mrs. Lee Porter when the Social Order of the Beauceant met Monday evening in the Masonic Temple.

Mrs. Porter announced that a workshop will be held at 2 p.m., Friday in her home, 1919 Parkway, to make ditty bag articles for use at the Supreme Assembly at Dallas in October. The local women will also plan hostess dresses for the event.

Locally, the women will serve dinner for all Master Masons Saturday at the Masonic Temple. Those who are to bring food are asked to have it there by 6:30 p.m.

Monday evening, refreshments were served to Beauceant and Knights Templar members by the hostesses, Mrs. Ervin Daniel, Mrs. Wayne Parrish and Mrs. Albert Davis. The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m., May 8.

Films Show Japanese Festival

"The Japanese Festival of Chrysanthemums" was seen by members of Rosebud Garden Club in a film shown to the group by Mrs. Odell Womack, Tuesday at the YMCA.

The film was taken by Mr. and Mrs. Womack during their trip to Japan, Taiwan and other Far Eastern countries. Also shown were pictures of Japanese arrangements from a flower show.

Mrs. Jesse Crane presided, and Mrs. Tommy Hart was hostess. Several members volunteered to work at the flower show to be presented by Council of Big Spring Garden Clubs April 29-30.

Mrs. Womack and Mrs. Dale Smith will represent the club at the annual spring convention of Texas Garden Clubs, Inc., April 25-27 at Hilton Inn in Waco.

The next club meeting is scheduled May 23 at Big Spring Country Club, with Mrs. Womack and Mrs. Charles Sweeney as hostesses.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Williams, 2305 Alendale, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Wanda Arlene, to Gary Nelson Prater, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray N. Prater, 3215 Eleventh Place. The couple will marry May 26 in the home of the bride-elect's parents.

Kitchen Shower — Invited to a kitchen cupboard shower? Suitable gifts include unusual gourmet canned goods, imported seasonings, packaged goods, staples, delicacies and a set of canisters.

Big Spring Deanery Convenes At Snyder

The Big Spring Deanery meeting of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women was held Friday in Snyder with the host parish being Our Lady of Guadalupe, pastored by Rev. Francisco Lopez. The theme was "Walk in My Light."

Mrs. George T. Foster, Big Spring, deanery president, was the presiding officer, and the luncheon speaker was Bishop Stephen A. Leven of San Angelo. The bishop's topic was "Abortion: The Murder of Unborn Babies."

The Rev. James Delaney of Sacred Heart Church, Big Spring, was deanery moderator. The welcome was extended by the Rev. Lopez of the host parish, with response by the Rev. Leo St. John of St. Thomas Church, Big Spring.

During the business session, Mrs. Leo Gonzales, Big Spring, gave the treasurer's report, and the roll was called by Mrs. John Voelkel of Snyder. Mrs. Mildred Ward of Big Spring, Organization Services chairman, introduced reports. The nominating committee report Tom, Stanton, treasurer; Mrs. Jack Powell, Fred Hyer, Big Spring, Big Spring, New officers of the parliamentarian; and Mrs. L. Big Spring, Deanery are Mrs. D. Jenkins, Big Spring, history; Voelkel, president; Mrs. Ward, an vice president; Mrs. Robert Farquhar, secretary; Mrs. L. G.

Sets Observance — Plans for a Founders' Day observance were made by Xi Mu Exemplar Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Ernie Rapalee. The women will meet for dinner at 7:30 p.m., Thursday at the K. C. Steak and Seafood House. The program will include installation of officers and presentation of the chapter's "girl of the year."

Mrs. Rapalee played a tape recording of "Jesus Christ Superstar," and distributed copies of the text for members to follow. A discussion followed. The next meeting is at 8 p.m., May 9 in the home of Mrs. Jerry Spence, 1709 Yale, and will include a ritual ceremony for new members.

Following the Diocesan president's report by Sister Mary Eva of San Angelo, mass was said by Bishop Leven who consecrated a new chalice donated in memory of a parishioner at St. Elizabeth's. A workshop, "Youth for Understanding," was conducted by Colleen Huss of Houston, area representative, followed by remarks from the Rev. Kelly, diocesan moderator. Prayers during the meeting were said by the Rev. Coleman, the Rev. Lucca, the Rev. Lewis Moellar of Big Spring, the Rev. Francis and the Rev. Schmidt. Luncheon was served by Our Lady of Guadalupe Guadalupeans. Decorations and gifts were provided by the Immaculate Heart of Mary Altar Society of Big Spring. The diocesan convention will be held at St. Mary's Church, San Angelo, in October.

A LOVELIER YOU Today's Perky Styles Save Time, Worry

By MARY SUE MILLER
Tick, tick, tick... Time is often a woman's most desired commodity. To dovetail all of her activities into a day, she cuts many a corner.

The first one usually restricts her personal routes. She ceases to primp or fuss over clothes.
She seeks and finds flexible fashions with easy-wear, easy-care features.

Her wants have been anticipated with a collection of instant clothes that are wearable from the inside out.
For instance, there's the all-in-one Torsolino body-shirt. It's knit of super soft nylon that stretches to fit like a leotard.
While the leotard bottom keeps you together, the nifty shirt tops skirts, shorts and pants. It will even go swimming sans pantover.

Another version, a cotton knit tank top sportswear item, is worn inside or outside. It may be worn under a tailored shirt.

Or all by itself with pants. Red undershirt and white ducks — smashing! Ditto with a plaid seersucker suit.

A plus, mobile clothes inspire individual accessories, so quickly and pleasurably picked up on the run: the special belt, the Chinese clogs, the Ecuadorian panama, the beaded ropes. All such are fast personal trademarks that make go-together dressing an achievement in more ways than one.

'Friendship' For Foreign Students' Wives Helps

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Life often is bewildering for a foreign student who must adjust to American ways while pursuing a tough course of University Studies.

But it can be even harder on his wife.

A group of Austin Baptist women help ease the transition for about 200 wives and 150 children of foreign students at the University of Texas each year.

Some servicemen's wives and a handful from St. Edward's University here also attend the weekly meetings of "Friendship" in a Baptist Church near the University campus.

"Friendship" is a gift of Christian love from Americans to internationals whose worlds while in Austin might include no more than their own apartment complex and nearby grocery," says Mrs. Marshall Edwards, a Baptist minister's wife who directs the program.

About 150 local women help with the program.

Each week's meeting includes 45 minutes of instruction in English, much of it on a one-to-one basis.

Wives who already are fluent in English have group discussions about such things as current events and the sometimes peculiar American way of saying things.

There also are classes in such things as art, cooking, knitting, darning and typing. A Japanese woman teaches oriental flower arranging.

Children attend kindergarten-type classes that include art, music and vocabulary building—"all geared to equip the international child for schools here in the United States," Mrs. Edwards says.

She calls "Friendship" the "largest program of its kind in the United States."

Radiation Detection

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Lawrence Berkeley Laboratory scientists, including Nobel Prize winner Luis Alvarez, say they have developed a revolutionary new technique for radiation detection.

They say the new method is more accurate than that of conventional detectors and may foster a variety of important scientific tools for use in nuclear medicine, high energy physics and cosmic ray physics.

A report on the technique and some of its applications was to be given today at a meeting of the American Physical Society in Washington by Stephen E. Derenzo, one of the developers.

The new method is different from others in its use of an amplified electrical signal that can be induced in purified liquid xenon, through which radiation passes.

The scientists report that one variation of the liquid xenon detector tested at the laboratory has proven about 10 times more accurate than conventional detectors in pinpointing the position of charged particles.

The detector grew out of a concept originated by Alvarez in 1968, the year he won the Nobel Prize in physics.

The Lawrence Berkeley Laboratory is operated by the University of California with the support of the Atomic Energy Commission.

First TIA Pilot Hangs Up Wings

DALLAS (AP) — Capt. Leon J. Hassler, first pilot employed by Texas International Airlines and pilot of the DC3 which inaugurated the company's first scheduled flight in 1947, has retired after almost 25 years of flying for the airlines.

Hassler, whose flying career spans more than 40 years, logged a total of more than 30,000 flying hours, 23,000 of them piloting TIA aircraft. During that time he covered an estimated five million miles.

Because the majority of his flights were between Dallas, Houston and intermediate points, Hassler is widely known in Dallas aviation circles and calls the city his "second home." He now resides in Houston.

Impending Texas Trip Of Nixon Stirs Ripples In Vote Campaign

By The Associated Press

Attention turned toward Washington today following a report that a key Republican would be visiting a key Texas Democrat this weekend in Texas and major Democrats were quick to point out they still would back the Democratic party all the way.

The key Republican, of course, is President Nixon, who announced Tuesday he would be the overnight guest of Treasury Secretary John Connally on his Floresville ranch.

There is to be a supper at the ranch Sunday with about 200 invited. Everyone—Democrats and Republicans alike—is waiting to see who's on the list and whether or not it's politically wise to accept.

MONEY GRAB

The Texas AFL-CIO was quick to point out to Democratic leaders in Corpus Christi Tuesday that anyone who accepts help from Connally will be aiding the Republicans in November.

"It is clear that Connally wants to grab all the major Texas contributors for Nixon even before the Democrats have a nominee for president," said Roy Evans, Texas AFL-CIO president.

The major gubernatorial candidates—Gov. Preston Smith, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, Dolph Briscoe and Frances Farenthold, told the labor group they will support the National Democratic Party nominees in 1972.

HIS ASSETS

Smith filed a financial statement Tuesday, showing his net worth at more than $1 million.

He listed assets of $1,128,201, including $223,187 in stocks and bonds, $50,000 in half interest of a ranch, $225,000 in a real estate subdivision and holdings in eight theater businesses.

Connally said Tuesday in Washington he probably would not return to Texas to campaign on behalf of his brother, state Sen. Wayne Connally, seeking the lieutenant governorship.

He had also hinted he might help Barnes, his protégé. Barnes received the endorsement of the San Antonio Light Tuesday, which said he is the "best equipped to be governor in the critical two years ahead."

NOT NECESSARY
Barnes, in replying to criticism from Mrs. Farenthold about revealing his financial worth, Barnes said it was not necessary for him to make his 1971 income tax return public because such things as contribution to churches and charities are personal and not required by state law. He added that he has received an extension on filing his return.

Mrs. Farenthold told a Tyler rally that lines are clearly drawn on three final issues—financial disclosures, a corporate profits tax, and a public utilities commission.

She is in favor of all three. The Harris County Conservative Democratic Committee, described by one of its own as a loosely knit organization of about 200 businessmen who pick a slate of candidates, backed Briscoe for governor Tuesday.

They endorsed the other major statewide incumbents. In Beaumont, Bill Hobby, a candidate for lieutenant governor, said a private poll shows him in the lead. Hobby said 4,000 persons in Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston and San Antonio were polled and he led with 22.8 per cent. He said 55 per cent of the voters were still undecided.

Smith said Tuesday in Greenville he would oppose use of tolls from the Dallas-Fort Worth Turnpike to help finance the Trinity Tollway between the two cities.

Smith said the turnpike should become a free road when the final payment is made on its construction bonds in 1976 or 1977.

Later, in Texarkana, the governor implied that the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) "went easy" on Barnes during its Sharpstown state bank investigation.

Smith said he "cannot understand" why the SEC failed to take depositions from Barnes and three senators who helped two Sharpstown bills sail through the state Senate.

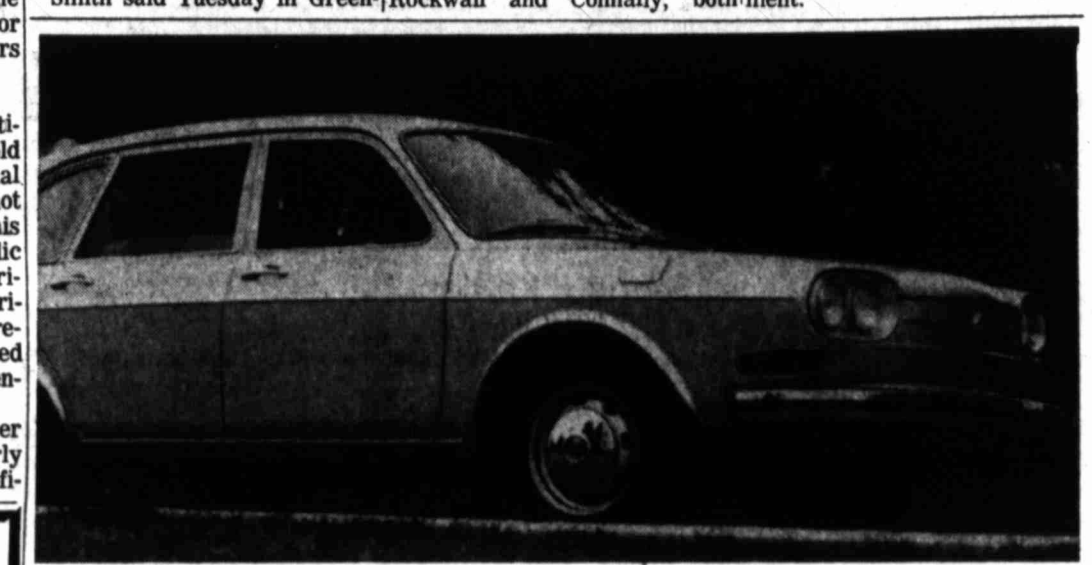

The governor said the senators included Ralph Hall of Rockwall and Connally, both candidates for lieutenant governor, and J. P. Word of Meridian.

"It is real interesting that the SEC did not see fit for some reason to take their depositions," the governor said.

In Houston, Sen. Henry Grover said one of his GOP opponents for governor, David Reagan of Sherman showed his true political colors when he told a political rally that he had "worked for Bush, Tower and Yarborough."

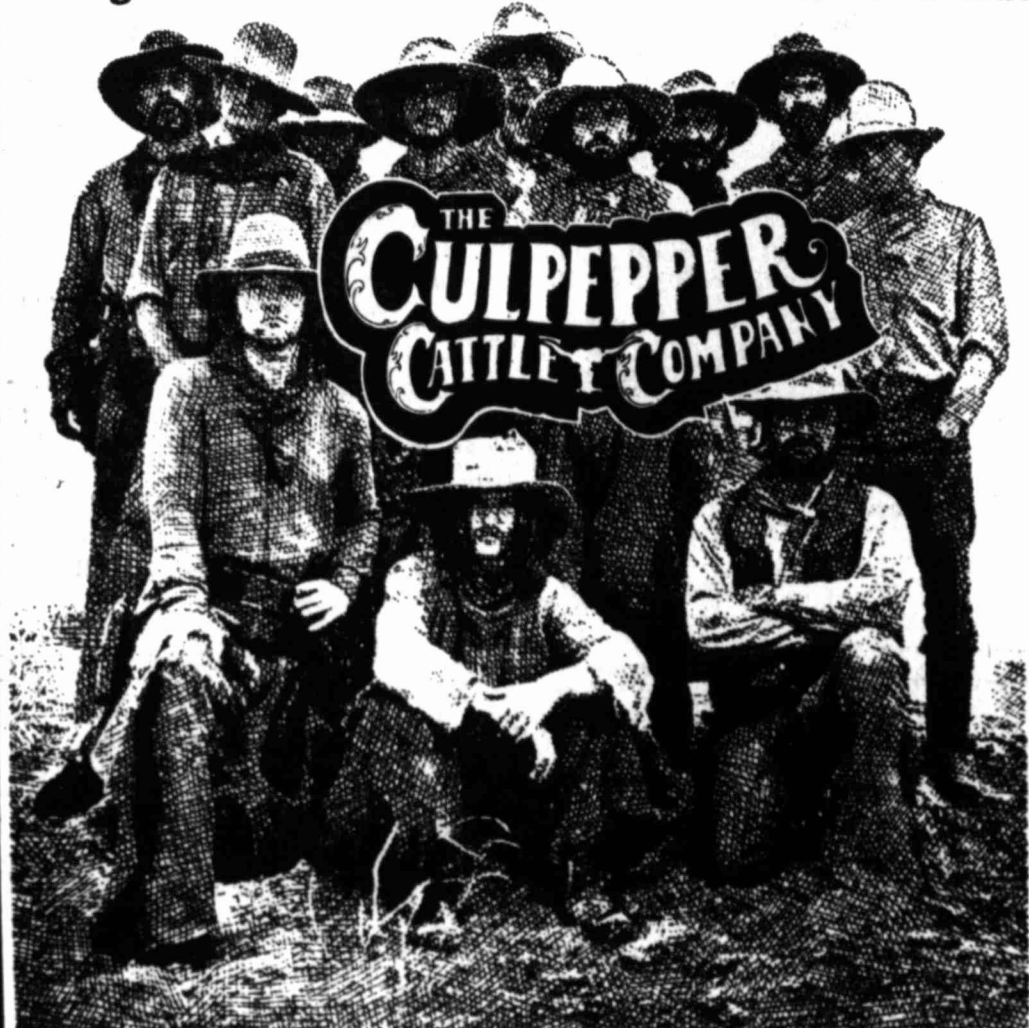

Reagan told a Dallas news conference that the current approach to welfare problems in Texas indicates the state has "given up... since the governor proposes further abdication of our state welfare responsibilities to the federal government."

Carried Duty A Tad Too Far

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Dedication to duty is fine, say Flint city officials, but the man who turned several miles of city streets into an ice rink carried that concept a tad too far.

The unnamed employee had been told to take his city water truck and wash the streets Tuesday morning. He did... dutifully ignoring the three - degrees - below - freezing temperature. His trail was clearly marked by irate drivers.

Father's Day Designation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The third Sunday in June of each year officially will be Father's Day. President Nixon on Tuesday signed a congressional resolution which made the designation. The action eliminates the requirement that a resolution making the designation be passed each year.
