Keaton Kolor For Fast Service

Keaton Kolor of Big Spring from your pictures even if you will soon be in their new, larger facilities on Gregg Street. In their new building Keaton Kolor will be offering a larger stock of cameras for your selection and all of their special services you have come to expect. Big Springers have to come to depend upon Keaton Kolor for the fastest film development.

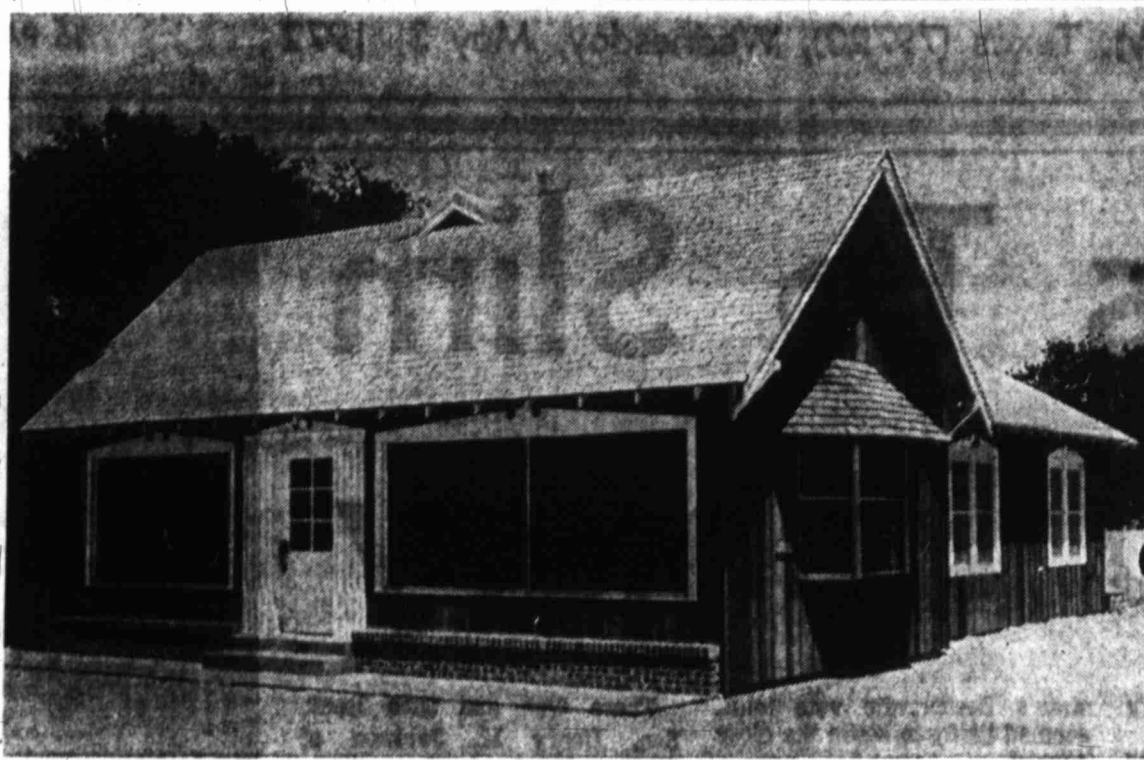

For you camera buffs who develop your own film Keaton Kolor will still handle a complete stock of developing and printing supplies.

Among the many services Keaton offers in a complete custom black and white enlargement and copy service. Enlargements intended for publication can be done while you wait. Copies and enlargements of treasured family pictures can be made from your pictures even if you don't have a negative. If you have an old family picture of which you would like copies or an enlargement, take it by Keaton Kolor and let them help you. If an old family picture is damaged or fading, it is especially important to have copies made before the damage is too extensive.

Many faults and blemishes can be corrected when your pictures are copied. Another service offered is copy prints of your color snapshots when negatives have been misplaced. The cost is only 75 cents.

Among Keaton Kolor's regular services are one day service on color film processing and old fashioned black and white film processing. Quality is the keynote. Only the most modern equipment is used in the processing of your film. Kodak chemicals and resin-coated paper are used exclusively. Keaton Kolor has a complete line of film, projector bulbs and batteries for cameras. They enjoy splendid mail service. Mailables are sent to anyone requesting them, with plant service one day after receipt of the film.

Inland Port 213 Suggests A Treasure For Mother

A garland of fine gift treasures awaits your mother at Inland Port 213, 213 Main.

The Ming Trees by Swoboda would make an endearing gift of love. A new shipment has just arrived — the purest colors and most exciting styles.

The Ming Trees are gemstones for her, discovered in nature's fabulous crucibles, then brightly polished to reveal the color and beauty nature gave the stone.

A gift from the Ming Trees will be treasured by her — one whose jewelry must speak of her feelings, who sees magic in the harmony between nature and ourselves and who knows that the ancients attributed powers of love, wisdom, passion and serenity to the wearer of nature's gems.

Inland Port 213 has jewelry made from those very same stones. They have just received pendulums for the first time, pins and rings — everything to make her happy.

If your choice is china, see the finest Italian hand-painted styles imported from Ernestine of Salerno, Italy. The newest is Amarilli, featuring luscious pinks in floral designs. Another pattern by Ernestine is Field Flowers, fresh and vibrant. See Italian stemmed wear in all colors and patterns, beautiful to accent your china selection.

Other china at Inland Port 213 includes imports from Germany, England, Spain and Japan. Styles from Mikassa of Japan are oven-proof and dishwasher-proof.

Inland Port 213 has the finest perfumes, colognes, dusting powders and soaps the world has to offer. She'll relish in Maja Myrurgia from Spain, 4711 from Cologne, Germany (the place cologne got its name), and others — separates or matched sets.

Other gift ideas include brass from Holland, England, Italy, India and Korea; all decorative pieces in hand-crafted copper; new Italian pottery urns; original Hummel figurines from Germany and cut crystal and solid lead crystal, made in Italy.

See Early American accessories and the popular Philippine Monkeypod wood pieces. Everything and anything for mother — yours at Inland Port 213, 213 Main.

WES-TEX TELEPHONE COOP Stock Purchase Increases Power

Wes-Tex Telephone Cooperative announces their recent purchase of one share of Class C Stock in the Rural Telephone Bank.

The Rural Telephone Bank is an organization set up by Congress to loan funds to supplement the Rural Electrification Administration loans. This administration was first set up to loan money to build electric lines. It is now possible, through this new bank, to obtain funds for telephone lines.

The Rural Telephone Bank is patterned after the Federal Land Bank. Whenever the government is repaid money borrowed, the Rural Telephone Bank will be owned by the users. This makes new money available to finance new construction of telephone lines.

The purpose of this share was to enable Wes-Tex Telephone Cooperative to have borrowing power in this new bank. As they borrow money and pay loan charges, they will be drawing dividends on the stock, in a sense "breaking even."

Wes-Tex Telephone Cooperative serves parts of Martin, Glasscock, Dawson and Reagan counties and has more than 1,400 members taking advantage of their complete, modern facilities.

The system is valued at more than $2 1/2 million, with the latest upgrading and improvements by the cooperative during 1970 boosting the system's value up $408,551 over the previous year.

Private lines are available to everyone served by Wes-Tex, but party lines are still preferred in some areas because of the economy resulting from putting more than one telephone on a circuit. Direct long distance dialing is now under planning by the cooperative.

The cooperative offers many services and types of special equipment. Extension telephones are available and come in a wide range of attractive colors and styles. Some have long cords, outside bells, special ringing equipment and devices to amplify sound to aid the hard of hearing.

Special telemetering circuits are available for use by oil or pipeline companies and others requiring this type of equipment.

The Wes-Tex Telephone Cooperative is owned and operated by the people in its service area. It was organized 20 years ago and has shown a healthy growth. It now reports more than 1,300 miles of cable in its seven-county area.

The purchase of stock in the Rural Telephone Bank is another proof that Wes-Tex is your progressive telephone cooperative.

Band Concert Is Slated May 9

One week from today, the two stage bands of Big Spring High School — the Golden Horns and the Silver Horns — will be presented in concert.

The program, said Kyle Ellison, director, will be billed as an "Evening of Jazz," and will include a varied program. Time is 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium, and the tickets $1.

The bands have outstanding records and have figured prominently in student band productions during the year.

Women Of Webb AFB Contribute Time, Effort, Money To Community

By JO BRIGHT

Of the thousands of women who have been associated with Webb Air Force Base during the past 20 years, few have been natives of Texas. Yet, for a little while, each has become a "Big Springer."

The lady from Lansing may have longed for a cooler climate and the pretty girl from Portland might have wished for "city" sights. Still, taking transfers in stride, they entered into the spirit of West Texas and became a part of the community, enriching it with their time and talents.

The Officers Wives Club has a remarkable record of achievement in almost every area of community service. The city has always depended on Webb wives as teachers and nurses, but "volunteers" have been an extra bonus that spelled the difference between success and failure for many worthwhile programs.

The OWC will hold its annual election luncheon Thursday. As a new slate of officers assumes duties, there will be a review of the past year's activities. It is most impressive. Time, money, effort and "caring" have gone into an amazing number of projects, both on and off the base.

At the Veterans Administration Hospital, OWC members, under the leadership of Mrs. Charles Walker, serve cake and punch every month to patients on Ward 6 East, with women from different classes donating the cakes. They have conducted bingo games, providing monetary prizes, as well as providing extra gifts of socks and ties. Just recently, the women began serving coffee and donuts once a month; the OWC buying the coffee and hostesses from various squadrons providing the donuts.

Members of OWC keep their kitchens busy during the annual cookie drive for Big Spring State Hospital. With each squadron participating, an average of 1,000 to 2,000 cookies are provided every week for a month. A "pet" project at the hospital has been the adolescent patients, with the OWC sponsoring parties with refreshments, escorting the young people to movies, bowling and miniature golf as well as giving $60 to help buy camping equipment. A monthly $5 donation from the OWC helps buy supplies for the cooking and sewing classes.

The most recent sizable monetary donations voted by the OWC were $100 for equipment at Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center and $100 for a summer fund at the base Youth Center. Money is given regularly to the Boys' Club, helping provide supplies for the arts and crafts and cooking classes, and financial support, as well as leaders, benefit the boy and girl Scout programs. This spring, a Little League baseball team for 7 to 12-year-olds will be urged to victory by its sponsor, the OWC.

The base nursery was recently made $100 richer by the OWC; the funds being used to purchase games and other equipment for the children to use and play with under the supervision of OWC volunteers. Currently, about 20 OWC members help in the nursery, reading stories, playing games and assisting on the playground.

The spirit of Christmas found the OWC increasing the local Cheer Fund by $25 and taking up a collection to make the holiday happier for children in Vietnam.

Due to an article in The Herald, the OWC executive board led the drive to help a local destitute family, and the response provided food, furniture and several loads of clothes and toys for the children of the family.

The OWC can be credited with the idea of trying to get people more aware of ecology through a paper drive, wherein scrap paper is collected and trucked to Midland for recycling. The Herald provided a pick-up point for the drive, as did several downtown businesses.

Now, more than ever before, the nation is focusing on its youth, knowing it is the hope for the future. For several years, the OWC has provided a local youth with membership in the YMCA, and a new project which has caught the interest of the women is the sponsorship of an Indian child on a Navajo reservation. The boy, who is seven years old (and interested in art) comes from a "desperately poor" American Indian family. An OWC spokesman said the women were supplied a list of quite a few countries from which to select a child, but felt they should recognize the needy in this country. Thus, young "Andrew" lost a little loneliness — and gained several hundred "mothers."

Not forgetting that most of the young men serving at Webb Air Force Base are away from their homes and families, and may also be lonely, the OWC assisted with a party for airmen at the John H. Loes Service Club. There were homemade cookies and cakes for everyone — with enough left over to provide prizes for the men to take back to their barracks. Adding to the evening's success were carnival booths which included a cake walk, dart throws, etc.

At any base, as in every community, emergencies may arise, and when those times come, the OWC can dip into its General Welfare Fund to help ease the problem.

The only problem involved in hosting parties on special occasions, operating concessions at special events, selling portraits, cookbooks, calendars and simply asking for donations for worthy causes.

Ending their year as OWC officers tomorrow will be Mrs. David Little, president; Mrs. Porter Medley, first vice president; Mrs. Henry Rimmer, second vice president; Mrs. Arthur Splawn, recording secretary; Mrs. Richard Norris, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Mark Stahl, treasurer; and Mrs. Mike Karaffa, assistant treasurer. Honorary president is Mrs. Malcolm Ryan, wife of the wing commander.

Everything takes money, and the OWC does not magically pull it out of a hat. To turn the trick and meet the needs of their welfare projects, OWC members have raised money by

Bride-Elect Honored At Shower

Miss Connie Parrish, bride-elect of Wendell Walker, was honored recently with a bridal shower in the home of Mrs. James Coates, Salem Community.

Miss Parrish was attired in a yellow Dacron A-line dress and was given a corsage of white carnations tied with yellow ribbons. Also present were the honoree's mother, Mrs. Charles Parrish; grandmother, Mrs. Charlie Parrish, both of Coahoma; and Walker's mother, Mrs. Carroll Walker.

The refreshment table was laid with a white cut-work cloth and centered with a miniature bride. An arrangement of yellow and white roses centered the registry table. Crystal and bronze appointments were used.

Cohostesses were Mrs. J. L. Baugh, Mrs. Rodney Brooks, Mrs. Bob Cathey, Mrs. Robert Honeycutt, Mrs. E. E. Lowe, Mrs. Ray Walker and Mrs. Charlie Wolf.

Miss Parrish and Walker will be married June 10 in the Coahoma Baptist Church.

Piano Students Perform Monday

A recital by piano students of Mrs. L. B. Thomas was held Monday evening at the Howard County Junior College Auditorium. Miss Valerie Richardson, student teacher, also performed.

Participating in the program were Dovie Law, Robby Rupard, Dawn Berry, Gary Hull, Alisa Zellars, Kay Frazier, Cheryl Ellison, Vicki Hartley, Robin Ethridge, Paula Kay Allen, Scott Ringener, Jan Holley, James Wanner, Diatra Fowler, Marsha Atkins, Anita Cowzar, Rita Ellison, Jim Early, Toni Hansen, Diane Russell, Janet Allison, Cindy Reed, Tim Yeats and Cheryl Welander.

ONE FOR THE PHOTOGRAPHERS — J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the FBI who died in Washington Monday at age 77, obliged photographers by posing with a boxer named Holly Spring of Ballerina in 1954. It was at a publicity session for a Washington dog show.

Who Will Replace J. Edgar Hoover?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The body of J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI for nearly 48 years, goes on public view today in the Capitol Rotunda amid expectations that the passing of the man will mean the passing of an era.

There seems little doubt that no matter whom President Nixon names to replace the 77-year-old bachelor, found dead in his home early Tuesday, there will be changes in the nation's top investigative body which Hoover ruled with an iron hand and molded in his own image.

A memorial service was scheduled at the Rotunda at 11 a.m. today, with a eulogy by Chief Justice Warren Burger. The body will lie in state until 9:30 a.m. Thursday.

HEART ATTACK?
President Nixon will deliver the eulogy at the funeral service at the National Presbyterian Church, the one Hoover attended, at 11 a.m. Thursday.

Burial will be in Congressional Cemetery in the nation's capital, Hoover's lifelong home. His only survivors are nieces and nephews.

Hoover, whose body was found beside his bed, died of natural causes. His death was attributed to "hypertensive cardiovascular disease"—an ailment linked to high blood pressure—although the immediate cause might have been a heart attack.

Clyde A. Tolson, 72, Hoover's longtime friend and No. 2 man in the bureau, was named immediately to take charge. Nixon was to name an acting director today, most likely a Justice Department attorney but not Hoover's permanent successor.

Nixon, speaking at the White House Tuesday, said every American owes Hoover "a great debt for building the FBI into the finest law-enforcement organization in the entire world."

LOVE OF COUNTRY
The President ordered flags at all public buildings and installations lowered to half-staff.

Tribute to Hoover, who served eight presidents and 16 attorneys general, poured in from friend and foe after his death. Most praised him as a man of honor, courage, integrity and love of country. "No individual in the history of this nation contributed more to the great causes of liberty under law and Americanism," said Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., chairman of the Judiciary Committee.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said bootleggers, bank robbers, saboteurs and draft-card burners disliked Hoover "for the qualities that endeared him to all other Americans, his total dedication to principle and his complete incorruptibility."

Coretta Scott King, widow of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. who reportedly was a subject of intense FBI surveillance in the 1960s, said the bureau under Hoover had compiled files of "lies and sordid material." She urged Congress to make sure "that never again shall one individual be in a position to wrongfully intimidate a nation and its leadership."

BOMB THROWERS
Hoover was, to a nation of growing boys and girls, the smart and incorruptible cop who chased down bank robbers and mad-dog kidnapers. But he also was much more: the American watchdog who ferreted out the un-Americans, from Nazi spies and Communist sympathizers to Black Power extremists and New Left bomb throwers.

As a public administrator, Hoover built the FBI from a small bureau in the Justice Department, withered by scandal in the 1920s, to an awesome machine of 8,600 special agents across the land with 81 million sets of fingerprints on file in Washington.

Hoover stirred patriotism and even devotion from many Americans. Toward the end, however, he was the target of criticism, in and out of the government.

In his last public appearances before the House and Senate appropriations committees, which rarely if ever cut his budget proposals, he said: "I have a philosophy. You are honored by your friends and you are distinguished by your enemies. I have been distinguished."

School Construction Is Well Along At Coahoma

COAHOMA — Construction of the new school buildings to replace the damaged junior high is well under way.

Construction began about three weeks ago and should be completed by Christmas. The Basin Construction Company, Odessa, was the low bidder for the job at $393,000.

The bid does not include the cost of architectural fees, sidewalks, parking area, furniture, additional vocational building space and the demolition of the old junior high. The additional work will fall within the $500,000 bond issue voted for school construction.

The major end of the work will be to replace the bulk of the junior high plant, which had a portion of its roof cave in during heavy August 1971 rains.

In all, 26,300 square feet of floor space is included. This embraces a four-classroom addition to the junior high section together with offices, toilets, book rooms and other auxiliary rooms, corridors, etc.

Also part of this is the remodeling of the junior high library. The remaining parts of the contract call for construction of a girls' varsity gymnasium, and a separate administration building.

Summer Session Is Set At Moss

Elementary summer school will be held at Moss Elementary School June 2 through July 14.

Remedial reading and remedial math will be offered during the six weeks summer session, with each course costing $30.

The program is designed to help children who have had difficulty and need extra help with reading and math.

Children can not be promoted on the strength of attending summer school.

The reading class will be offered from 8-10 a.m. and the math class from 10 a.m. to noon.

Children may pre-register with their principal where they attend school or at Moss June 2 from 9-11 a.m. Classes begin on June 5, with July 3 and 4 as holidays.

Smith To Appear On Television

Gov. Preston Smith will appear on television on behalf of his candidacy at 7 p.m. Thursday. Area viewers can hear him by tuning in Channel 2 KMID-TV Midland.

The program will extend for 30 minutes. During that time, Smith will discuss the issues rather than engage in a questions-and-answers session.

At 76, Slagel Reflects On Eventful Oil Career

By BRIAN PEAY
COLORADO CITY — "I helped a lot of other people make money, but mine was a case of misguided motion," H. P. (Cap) Slagel said. And although Cap helped others make it big in the oil business without getting completely to the top himself, the life he lived as an oilman has left him with something more than just material possessions.

Slagel, 76, now resides here with all of his memories of West Texas and the booming oil business he helped start.

Remembered well by those who are the most knowledgeable about oil business, Slagel has become an oilman legend in his own time, and was recently memorialized in the Permian Basin Petroleum Hall of Fame.

The oldtime oilman and his wife will be recognized in a Hall of Fame dinner in Midland today, sponsored by the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum and Library, along with six other living honorees who have been added to the Hall of Fame.

CEREMONY SET

The dinner, which will start at 7 p.m. at the Midland Country Club, will follow a 20-minute groundbreaking ceremony scheduled for 3:30 p.m. today at the museum's building site on IS 20 in South Midland.

Current recognition is only fitting for the man who started in West Texas oil business in the early 20's.

Slagel came to Texas in 1914 and lived for a time in San Antonio. When the border trouble broke out in 1916 he joined the National Guard and served for a year in the border disputes.

He was discharged from the Army in 1919 and became a dispatcher and runner for Wells Fargo. By that time had already married his wife, the former Lottie Landers of Colorado City.

"I wasn't a cowboy and I didn't learn a hell of a lot in the army," said Slagel, as he reminisced on his indecisiveness during those years about what career he would pursue.

"Finally my wife encouraged me to move to Colorado City where I first began in the oil business," he said.

Slagel came from a salt mining community and family, and according to the oilman in those times salt mining and oil drilling were similar.

SMALL UNITS

Slagel began work with small two and three men cable tool units contracted out around C. City. There were very few large oil fields discovered at that time in West Texas, and Slagel came to know the ins and outs of wildcatting at an early age.

"The old cable tool rigs had a maximum depth of only 3,000 to 4,000 feet and there were very few geologists in those times. We were punching dry holes all over this part of the country," he said.

But even with crude equipment and lack of readily available knowledge about land formations and general technical knowledge taken for granted today, the oilman and his fellow roughnecks did well during those formative years of the West Texas oil business.

Slagel was working for Fred Carry and Sam Slogan when he hit his first pay. He also worked on the Underwriters No. 2 Morrison, which was the second producer in the Westbrook Field.

He also personally worked on eight or nine discovery wells, including the discovery well which started the oil boom in Loving County, N.M.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS

"You can't imagine the magnitude of improvement the oil business has made since then. The old cable tool rigs, compared to the rotary rigs of today were like the old Model T Fords compared to the new Fords of today," said Slagel.

"Cable tool drilling then was very slow. Where it took 90 days to drill a well then, it takes only three to four days now."

However, the thing that impressed the veteran oilman most about days past was the wide openness of West Texas. "You could go any where you wanted and punch a well. Wildcatting gets into your blood, just like gambling and you can't imagine what a thrill it was to be free to work anywhere you wanted," Slagel remembered.

Most oil field men during those days were the rugged outdoors types that did not care how long or hard they worked, because of the love they possessed for their profession and way of life.

Slagel was no exception, but his zest for living and love for the oil fields drove him even farther than most men then would, or even could, go.

The depression was not too far away and parts of the country were beginning to feel the growing lack of money and jobs. Possessed with the enchantment of a West Texas sunset silhouetting oil derricks on the horizon, Slagel leaned against the old steam engine singletree and wrote a poem about his work, which was later published in a oil workers' journal.

"I got $5 for that poem, and I don't have to tell you how much $5 helped me in those times," he said.

CLOSE FRIEND

For a time Slagel was a close friend of Sam Sloan. Sloan was a World War I aviator, and helped start the airport in Midland. According to Slagel, Sloan contracted some of the big wells in Howard County and worked some of the first Dora Robert wells.

"If Sloan had lived, he would have been the biggest oil man in Texas. He was something I wasn't, a promoter," said Slagel. Sloan, who also has been

CAN'T COPE WITH LOSS OF OLD FRIEND Smoking Grief Explained

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — It was like a funeral that day in New Canaan, Conn., when the housewife therapy groups had to stop smoking.

After helping them kick the habit, their psychiatrist concluded the inability to cope with the grief of losing a dear friend—the cigarette—is one reason why so many smokers can't quit.

"The depression was so pervasive in each group that the day the subjects were to stop smoking, they all looked as if they were attending a funeral," Dr. John S. Tamerin of the Silver Hill Foundation in New Canaan said in a paper prepared for delivery today before the American Psychiatric Association.

LIKE MOURNERS
 Tamerin, director of research at the foundation's private psychiatric hospital, told the psychiatrists about working with 16 women divided into three therapy groups. They met each day for two weeks, reducing smoking gradually the first three days and stopping the fourth day.

As the cigarette-starved days wore on, the women acted much like mourners at a funeral, comforting one another through their tears.

"A transient period of grief with considerable tearfulness appeared as an almost routine clinical accompaniment of the cessation process," Tamerin said.

CRYING
 "In fact, the experience of crying in the group became normal and natural in a setting with others going through the same process. The unique intimacy of these groups with a common goal and facing loss together provided genuine concern and support which decreased the intensity of each subject's individual suffering," he said.

Tamerin said one woman likened giving up cigarettes to the loss of a dear friend. Another said, "I think my cigarettes are more like a lover than a friend. I see this as a terrible, personal loss."

As the 14-day therapy neared an end, success came to the former smokers when they learned to recognize, accept and then "work through" to an understanding of their loss and grief.

PAINFUL
 "The dynamics of grief and loss appeared to be central to the entire cessation process," Tamerin said. "Subjects generally agreed that they had never before in their lives given up anything as meaningful or painful."

Generalizing about the estimated 22 million smokers who tried to stop but failed between 1966 and 1970 can be questioned, Tamerin said. But he noted his 16 patients scored similarly to a much larger and more diverse Philadelphia group that took a smoker's profile test compiled by the National Clearinghouse for Smoking and Health.

Tamerin also reported that fear of failing to quit and worry about how quitting might change their personality and temperament with families also effected his patients' success.

These two factors as well as the grief must be treated in a therapy situation, he said.

At the end of two weeks, smoking had dropped for the women from an average of 33 cigarettes a day to 1.5 a day, and 11 women had stopped entirely. But three months later, the inevitable backsliding had set in. Five patients were back to their prior smoking levels.

"Just as in the area of alcoholism long-term support is indicated and a voluntary, non-profit organization modeled in some ways on Alcoholics Anonymous, might be useful," Tamerin said.

Commander Young Calls Moon Trip 'Cliff-Hanger'

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Commander John W. Young today termed the Apollo 16 mission a "cliff-hanger" because of the engine problem that almost canceled the landing on the moon.

He said he and his crewmates, Charles M. Duke Jr. and Thomas K. Mattingly II, were worried about a shortage of fuel because of extra maneuvering they had to do because of the trouble.

The astronauts spoke at their first news conference since the end of their 11-day space adventure last Thursday.

In an opening statement, Young said the astronauts had some worrisome hours after Mattingly discovered a problem with a backup control system in the command ship engine just 40 minutes before Young and Duke were to land in the Descartes mountains.

Mission Control told them to postpone the landing while experts examined the problem. It was determined not to be serious and the lunar touchdown was achieved six hours late.

The astronauts narrated a film and slides of the mission highlights, including the separation of the two ships, the descent to the surface as seen through the lunar module engine, and a tour of the Descartes area as Young and Duke drove their moon buggy from feature to feature.

The astronauts ended their lunar flight last Thursday, splashing down in the Pacific Ocean after a trip of 1.2 million miles.

Young and Duke spent 71 hours on the moon. They were outside their landing craft for 20 hours, driving their moon buggy to various geological sites to collect a record 213 pounds of rocks and soil samples.

Since their return here Saturday, the spacemen have spent long hours debriefing on their mission and will continue to do so for another two weeks.

Scientists in the Lunar Receiving Laboratory have unpacked a few moon rocks the astronauts brought back and have found some puzzling things.

The general scientific feeling before the mission was that the Descartes Mountain landing site would produce the first definite evidence that volcanoes once erupted on the moon and played a role in its formation.

But most of the rocks examined so far are breccias, or composites of different materials.

Whether they were formed by volcanoes will have to be determined by microscopic examination of thin sections of the rocks, explained Dr. Paul Gast, a space agency geophysicist.

"Everybody is sitting on a fence," Gast said Tuesday. "The answer may not be available for some time."

Policeman Slain, Suspects Jailed

DALLAS (AP) — A young, freckle-faced policeman slain in a flurry of bullets was buried today, the second Dallas patrolman to be killed within six weeks.

Carl J. Cooke, 20, was the second policeman to be shot to death and the fourth to be wounded here in the past 38 days. He suffered fatal bullet wounds Monday night while investigating a grocery store burglary.

Two men were charged with murder Tuesday. They were Louis E. Banks, 25, and George C. Slider, 23.

Chief of Police Frank Dyson, ashen-faced and angry, took charge of the investigation Tuesday and said he would have a statement today announcing "drastic action" to curb the wave of attacks on policemen.

Banks and Slider were both nursing wounds when found by police. Banks was arrested while he huddled under the bed of a half-brother in South Dallas. A trail of blood streamed from a wound in his elbow.

Police said Slider was found with a wound in his foot.

Cooke and patrolman R. O. Walker had been sent to the grocery store late Monday to investigate a burglary.

Walker said he separated momentarily from Cooke and then heard four or five gun shots.

Walker said he saw Cooke staggering, falling to his knees but firing his gun at his assailant. The wounded attacker left a trail of blood seven blocks long.

Police put out a massive dragnet and Banks was charged before noon Tuesday and Slider several hours later.

Cooke's sobbing widow, Sharon, and their two infant daughters sat with Cooke's parents Tuesday.

"He had wanted to be a policeman ever since he could walk," said Roger Mason, Cooke's stepfather.

War On Poverty Chief Being Tried In Valley

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — The prosecution was expected to rest its case today in the trial of Cameron County's chief of the War on Poverty agency, who is charged with falsifying travel vouchers.

Dan Reyna, executive director of Cameron-Willacy County Community Projects, Inc., is being tried in U.S. District Court here on seven misdemeanor charges of falsifying travel vouchers amounting to a total of $143.21.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Raul A. Gonzalez of Brownsville told U.S. Dist. Court Judge Ben Connally of Houston he had only a little more evidence to present. Defense lawyer Homero Lopez of Brownsville said he will present testimony from several witnesses.

SIX WOMEN

Two former bookkeepers for the War on Poverty agency told a jury of six men and six women Tuesday that Reyna filed vouchers for trips to different areas on the same day. Other witnesses testified that Reyna was not where he said he was in the travel vouchers.

Former bookkeepers Alfredo Wimer and Ruben S. Garcia Jr. outlined various travel vouchers over objections by Lopez. That there were discrepancies between some of the dates on the travel vouchers and the dates alleged in the indictments.

Garcia testified that Reyna turned in a travel voucher for a trip to Los Fresnos between 2 and 4:30 p.m. Oct. 9, 1970, and was paid $6. Wimer said earlier that Reyna stated in a travel voucher that he went to Corpus Christi between 6 a.m. and 11 p.m. the same day.

MOVING ON

Reyna claimed in another travel voucher filed with Garcia that he went to San Antonio Dec. 15, 1970, and was paid $70. on the same day. According to a travel voucher filed with Wimer, Reyna said he went to McAllen and was paid $13.50. Both Wimer and Garcia testified that they handled separate accounts for various projects and there was no liaison between them to determine that such duplication existed until an investigation was launched.

Reyna also filed a travel voucher for $66.61, stating he went to New Braunfels June 29-30, 1970, Wimer said. Reyna said the purpose of the trip was a visit to the office of Winton C. Brown of Manpower Training.

Brown, testifying Tuesday as a prosecution witness, said

Reyna was not in his office on those days. He also said he had never met Reyna until earlier in the day at the courthouse in Brownsville.

Gonzalez called Cameron County Judge Ray Ramon, himself a former executive director of the War on Poverty agency, about one travel claim.

Wimer said Reyna filed for $6.60 for a trip he claimed he made Feb. 3, 1971, from his Brownsville office to Port Isabel.

Small Bust

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have this terrible complex about being small bodied. Where did I get this complex in the first place? From my husband, that's where.

He's all the time looking at the pictures of those big bosomy girls in the magazines. And whenever a stacked girl walks by, he practically twists his neck off looking. I feel like crawling into a hole some where, or hitting him for making me feel so inferior.

Would a small girl like me feel better if she had her bosoms surgically enlarged? It's crossed my mind a few times. How long would it take? I might want to surprise my husband.

recommend "surprising" your husband. If you're considering that type of surgery, talk it over with him first. Some men like to look, but they prefer their wives as Nature made 'em.

DEAR ABBY: Someone asked why so many people walk into a restaurant and sit at a table with dirty dishes when clean tables are available. You suggested that it might be the coziness of clutter.

You were too polite, Abby. You could have said because they feel more at home in messy surroundings. Or perhaps, they hope to snitch a tip left for the waitress by the previous diner.

By so doing, you possibly would have shamed a few people out of their habit.

DEAR ABBY: Recently during a symphony concert there was a child in the audience who laughed, spoke loudly and behaved boisterously not once, but several times during the performance.

The parents did not have the sense, or consideration for others to lead the child from the auditorium after the first offense, though many in the audience were visibly irritated.

Finally, the conductor himself turned on the podium and looked into the audience with disbelief!

I have had the same experience during church sermons with crying babies, despite the fact that the church provides nursery facilities.

Conductors, ministers, and speakers spend hours in preparation, and such interruptions spoil the mood of the audiences completely.

When will selfish parents realize that they should not bring children to affairs of a serious nature until they are old enough to be an acceptable part of the audience?

IRRITATED IN CAMP HILL, PA.

DEAR IRRITATED: Never, unfortunately.

Your Good Health

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have been told I have skin cancer. It is a black spot on my breast, almost under my arm, about the size of a half dollar. It has been there about 10 years and given no trouble.

The past few months there have come a few black spots in the neighborhood of the original spot. Is there any danger from this? Is anything needed to treat it? I am 94 years old. —H.A.J.

Who diagnosed it as cancer? If it is cancer, it needs attention, and you should have a doctor look at it right away.

Your age is a factor to be reckoned with. If you were younger, I would say the spot should be removed forthwith—because skin cancer, promptly removed, is a very curable disease.

The trouble is that cancer, even though painless, has the savage habit of spreading, no matter where it is. Give it time enough, and it will spread also to other parts of the body, sooner or later attacking and destroying some vital organ.

In the elderly, cancer often spreads slowly, which may answer a lot of questions in your case. The appearance of more spots, however, could be an indication of spreading, so I urge you to see your doctor without delay.

What his judgment may be, I can't guess—whether to test the new spots to see what they are, whether to remove them and the original spot, or to use X-ray or other treatment to keep the spreading at a slow rate. But see him.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have this girl friend who is an excessive drinker. Can a woman with her problem get pregnant and have a normal and healthy child? Does alcohol have any serious problems physically for a woman who wants a child? —J.T.

Booze-happy women do get pregnant, and they do have healthy children, but it's a dirty trick to saddle a child with a drunk for a mother.

Much heart trouble is preventable. Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of his booklet, "How To Take Care of Your Heart," enclosing a long, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin over cost of printing and handling.

MY DAD LIKES IT THAT WAY.

HE'S BEEN A WAITER ALL HIS LIFE.

L'I' ABNER

A GOVERNMENT BOMB EXPLODED IN YOUR AREA, PHOGGDOWN--DOWNTOWN DOGPATCH IS GONE!!

HOW MUCH DO YOU FIGURE IT'D TAKE TO REPLACE IT?

'BOUT 14 DOLLARS.

ONE MORE ITEM, MAMMY YOKUM IS GONE, TOO. HOW MUCH'LL IT TAKE TO REPLACE HER?

SHE WAS WORTH A THOUSAN' DOLLARS TO ME--AN' NOT A PENNY LESS TO ANY DOGPATCHER!!

THERE ARE 100 IN ALL, THAT'D COME TO 100 THOUSAND AND 14 DOLLARS--

BLONDIE

WE'RE INVITING YOU TO TRY OUR EXCITING NEW DRINK, "FRUITY PUNCH."

I HAVE TO RECORD YOUR HONEST OPINION OF IT.

YICHHH

HOW DO YOU SPELL THAT?

RICK O'SHAY

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH YOU, SLIPSHOD? AH KNOW YOU'RE THIRSTY BECAUSE AH AM... AN' YOU'VE BEEN CARRYIN' ME!

THIS IS NO TIME T' GET PARTICULAR, HOSS--'SIBBS! THIS STUFF AIN'T COLD AN' CLEAR, BUT IT'S WET.

OR...DO YOU KNOW SOMETHIN' AH DON'T?

SNUFFY SMITH

I GOT A BODACIOUS SECRET FER VE, ELVINEY--BUT VE GOT TO SWEAR VE WON'T BREATHE IT TO ARY A LIVIN' SOUL.

Amarillo Takes Lead In League

By The Associated Press
Amarillo's Giants have captured the Texas League's Western Division lead after erupting for five runs in the bottom of the ninth for a spectacular upset triumph over El Paso. The 5-4 victory Tuesday night came after the Giants, trailing 4-0, received five walks to narrow their deficit to 4-2 with the bases loaded and one out. Larry McDowell then yielded a two-run single to Dick White to tie the game. Leon Brown singled down the left field line to end the contest.

Johnson Talks Sports Tonight

Tickets will be available at the door at $2.50 per person. The banquet includes all the sports activities, not just football.

Anti-Merger Leaders Talk To Subcommittee Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Heads of the nation's sports associations, who already have spoken out against the proposed merger of the two professional basketball leagues, were scheduled among the first to testify today on a bill to allow the leagues to merge. The on-again, off-again Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee hearings are chaired by Sen. Sam Ervin, D-N.C., also a foe of the merger.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Contact those persons who can be most helpful in backing your pet project and get desired results quickly. Enact in civic work that brings you the greatest joy.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You have a plan to work out which can be best accomplished with the aid of persons with practical ideas. Make good use of them. Avoid the limelight tonight. Rest is more important.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You must put big plans aside temporarily while you clear up accumulated obligations that are vital. Following this have fun with the one you love tonight. Show that you have taste.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Listening to the views of an associate clears up the misunderstanding between you. Something comes up to give the way for greater success for you. Take advantage of it.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) With all that work ahead of you, enthusiasm is necessary to put it resolutely behind you and clear the slate for big things ahead. Rest and restore your energies in the evening.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Accept an invitation to pleasure, extended to you, since you can put off unimportant chores to another time. Others see you in a favorable light now, so make the most of it.

LIRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Give your attention to home affairs now that it's most important. You have to create better before you become involved in a public matter that interests you. Show that you have ability.

Dozens of signs have been chopped down during the night. County officials erect new ones and these too are eliminated.

"Eliminated is a kind word," fretted road superintendent Henry W. Miller. "What they do is take a chain saw and hack them off." He complained at least 20 signs costing $25-$50 each have disappeared in the last half-year.

"I guess they don't want anybody to know where it is," Miller said.

"The people in this town want to feel it's a town, not a tourist trap," declared Dan Deevy Jr., manager of the only grocery store. "Taking down the signs is one solution. And it works."

'Happy' Residents Hiding Village

BOLINAS, Calif. (AP) — This windswept village on the Bolinas Lagoon would like the rest of the world to think it has disappeared. Road signs telling motorists where Bolinas is hiding and how to get there have been removed.

Dozens of signs have been chopped down during the night. County officials erect new ones and these too are eliminated.

"Eliminated is a kind word," fretted road superintendent Henry W. Miller. "What they do is take a chain saw and hack them off." He complained at least 20 signs costing $25-$50 each have disappeared in the last half-year.

"I guess they don't want anybody to know where it is," Miller said.

"The people in this town want to feel it's a town, not a tourist trap," declared Dan Deevy Jr., manager of the only grocery store. "Taking down the signs is one solution. And it works."

On weekends and summer days, the main street of Bolinas is cramped with camera-clicking tourists riding bumper-bumper amid weatherbeaten pastel cottages. Homemade signs point out "Smiley's," the saloon; "Scowley's," a restaurant; and "Snarley's," a delicatessen open Sundays only.

Bolinas is nestled in heavily wooded coastal foothills about 20 miles north of San Francisco's Golden Gate and just south of the bay, where Sir Francis Drake crashed his ship Golden Hind in 1579 after he missed the Golden Gate in heavy fog.

Residents include retired folks and young families who like the quiet and the nearby sea.

In short, Bolinas is isolated, but isolated in picturesque territory just perfect for a Sunday drive.

"We close on Sundays because of the tourists," says Deevy. "They dirty the place up and they only buy potato chips and little things."

At Smiley's Saloon, manager Mary Jenkins says patrons and most residents believe fellow residents are tearing down the signs. She and Deevy say this method of fighting crowds works pretty well.

"People come in and say they've been looking for the town for hours," says Miss Jenkins. She said some motorists go all the way to Point Reyes, about 20 miles north, before they realize they missed the turnoff.

Martha Perry Assumes Post

The following people were installed at a banquet Monday as Hi-Y Council officers for 1972-73: Martha Perry, president; Paula Meek, vice president; Kathy Meek, secretary; Leigh Jones, treasurer; Patty Womack, chaplain; and Terry Pate, sergeant-at-arms.

Harold Bentley, principal of Runnels Junior High School and president of the YMCA board of directors, was the speaker for the evening.

Recognition was also given to volunteer leaders Mike Scarborough, Milton Jones, Beckie Jenkins, Karen Chaney and Pris Weldreyer.

The outstanding Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y awards, selected by Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y members, were presented to Martha Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Perry, and to Ike Robb III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ike Robb.

The Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr. award, presented to the outstanding Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y member selected by the club advisors, went to Ike Robb and Lana Parks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendal Parks. These awards were presented in recognition of their leadership abilities and their acceptance by their fellow club members and demonstration of their ability to work with others in the YMCA programs.

There were about 45 people in attendance. Miss Hannah Harrison is the supervisor of the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y programs. Mark Peters, vice president of the Hi-Y council, was emcee of the affair.

Enrollment Shows Slight Advance

Contrary to normal trends in the season approaching end of the school year, enrollment in Big Spring schools gained slightly last week. The total was 6,862, up five from the previous week. Elementary enrollment of 3,549 gained eight, thanks to an increase of nine at College Heights. Secondary totals were off three at 1,904, the loss occurring in the senior high level. Special education was the same with 261.

OWC Gives $500 To Foundation

The Officers' Wives Club at Webb Air Force Base recently donated $500 to the Air Force Village foundation.

Mrs. Timothy E. Danforth of the Webb OWC presented the check to Mrs. John D. Ryan, wife of Gen. Ryan, Air Force chief of staff.

Eighty-seven OWC members, representing 27 states and three foreign countries, attended the ninth annual meeting of the Air Force Village Foundation, Inc., at Lackland AFB, Tex.

The OWC representatives brought with them checks totaling $87,784, donated by the various clubs to help defray Air Force Village's annual operating expenses. A number of gifts were also presented.

Air Force Village is a living complex located near Lackland AFB, designed to house Air Force widows and retired officers. Completed Nov. 3, 1970, at a cost of more than $5 million, the 16-story tower and surrounding apartments can accommodate a maximum of 350 residents.

Local Youth Sees Apollo 16 Return

Clarence Grubaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Grubaugh of 1505 W. Cherokee St., was afforded a first-hand look of the Apollo 16 crew's return to earth in the Southwest Pacific last week.

Clarence a Navy fireman, is assigned to duties on the USS Ticonderoga, main recovery ship in the pickup of the astronauts.

A veteran of nearly four years in military service, Clarence is due to be discharged shortly and plans to enroll in classes at Howard County Junior College.

His ship is scheduled to return to the United States within the next few days.
