Ratliff Surrenders, Posts $10,000 Bond

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Seven current or former legislators have now been charged with felonies since the stock fraud scandal shook state government 16 months ago.

The Travis County grand jury indicted four more of them Thursday.

—Former Sen. David Ratliff of Stamford, accused of theft of a state warrant, two counts, and conspiracy to commit theft. The first charge is punishable by a prison term of two to 10 years, the second by a term of two to five years.

UP TO 10 YEARS
—Rep. John Allen of Longview, charged with conspiracy to commit theft.

—Rep. Tom Holmes of Granbury, accused of theft by false pretext, which carries a penalty of two to 10 years.

—Former Rep. Hudson Moyer of Amarillo, charged with theft by false pretext.

Bond was set at $10,000 for Ratliff—$5,000 on each charge—and $5,000 for each of the other three.

Ratliff surrendered today to Jones County Sheriff Woodrow Simmons and made bond of $10,000 in a three-minute proceeding. Simmons accepted the surrender in an Andrews law office. Ratliff made no statements.

Holmes and Allen issued statements from their home towns denying any wrongdoing.

“When the make up of the state legislature can be dictated by an ambitious district attorney in the capital, working through the judiciary under pressure of the all-powerful lobbyists, then you have the beginning of a police state and the end of representative government,” Holmes said.

‘ASSASSINATED’

His indictment could “very well mark the end of the democratic process in Texas,” he said, adding that although it “assassinated” him politically he would not “roll over and die” but continue his campaign against Sen. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells.

“There can be no basis for this indictment other than from time to time I have employed Sen. Ratliff’s children and he has at times employed some of my children,” Allen said.

“I cannot believe that anyone can think I have committed theft. So far as my having entered into any kind of conspiracy . . . I have never done that in my lifetime,” he said.

The state says Ratliff and Allen hired each other’s children with the intention of not requiring them to do any work.

The warrants Ratliff is accused of stealing were made out to Mrs. Virginia Mosser of Abilene, who was carried on Ratliff’s payroll but allegedly did no work. The state says Ratliff cashed two of these warrants.

The Associated Press has learned that Mrs. Mosser, whose husband is a car dealer in Abilene, has paid back all the money she received while on the state payroll. She recently turned over $888.88 to the Travis County district attorney’s office, which in turn gave it to the state comptroller.

Holmes allegedly used postage stamps from his House contingent expense fund to pay most of the $3,195 purchase price of a new pickup truck.

The state says he used $1,995 worth of stamps, paid in installments.

Moyer is accused of paying back in four installments a $6,000 bank loan from the First National Bank of Amarillo with House postage stamps.

Former Rep. Walter Knapp of Amarillo was sentenced to four years in prison Wednesday on his conviction for stealing $1,200 worth of House stamps to buy a used pickup truck.

Would-Be Skyjacker Behind Bars

DALLAS (AP) — Virgil Fuqua II and his working mates were sipping coffee and listening to radio reports of the abduction Thursday of a young Waco woman and the demand by the abductor for an airplane.

“I said to them, ‘Those people ain’t never going to give that crazy man an airplane,’” the elder Fuqua said later in an interview.

Hours later, Fuqua discovered “that crazy man” was his son, Virgil Fuqua III, 25.

“I never dreamed it was him,” said the elder Fuqua.

The abductor, after failing to obtain a plane during four hours of waiting at Love Field here, went downtown accompanied by an officer and surrendered his pistol and freed his hostage, Mrs. Jimmy Roberts, 20.

“You know,” said the father, “my boy always wanted to talk about things I don’t know about. He was too intelligent for me.”

The 25-year-old son was in Waco today awaiting action on charges of robbery and illegal imprisonment of Mrs. Roberts.

Described by officials at El Centro College in Dallas as “an average student,” the young Fuqua boasted that he has an IQ of 140.

“But there was nothing outstanding about him,” explained one college spokesman. “He was just another student.”

Fuqua entered El Centro last summer to study computer science, held several electronic certificates and was an honor student in high school, his father said.

“Why he did what he did I don’t know,” the elder Fuqua said.

But he said head injuries suffered in a 1970 car wreck “certainly” had something to do with it.

“He had his head split open from side to side . . . and he’s never been the same since,” he said.

Added the father, “Ever since that boy’s been five years old, he’s been carrying a book to read. He can tell you anything you want to know. Even how to make an atomic bomb.”

TULSA JUDGE CLEANS UP

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Tulsa County jail inmates will have to bathe before they can testify in court.

District Court Judge Raymond Graham, acting on a colleague’s complaint, ordered the sheriff and jail personnel to make certain inmates were clean before appearing in court.

TASS DISPATCH Leaders Mull Trade Agreement

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union announced today President Nixon and Kremlin leaders have agreed to set up a joint commission to “promote the development of mutually advantageous relations in trade.”

The communique was distributed by the official news agency Tass as Nixon met with the top three Soviet leaders. It signaled the first break-through on difficult trade issues which have seen intense negotiations since the American president arrived here Monday.

There was no immediate confirmation from the American delegation. The Tass dispatch said the leaders “have agreed to institute a Soviet-American commission on questions of trade.”

The Russians also are seeking multimillion-dollar grain purchases from the United States, as well as U.S. credits to expand industrial production to meet rising consumer demands.

But U.S. negotiators have insisted on some settlement of the Soviet World War II lend-lease debt prior to any favorable economic deals.

U. S. trade officials had said before coming to Moscow that creation of a joint commission to press forward with trade talks was likely.

MUSTANG ISLAND DEAL IS VALID

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin ruled today that the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission contract to buy part of Mustang Island is valid.

He said he presumes the commission will honor the contract.

Martin said, “The contract involving the acquisition of Mustang Island by the State of Texas constitutes a valid, binding obligation of the State of Texas and the contractual obligations of the present commission are to carry out the terms and conditions thereof.”

His legal opinion-binding unless overturned by the courts went to Executive Director James D. Cross of the Parks and Wildlife Department.

Deadline For Early Balloting Tuesday

Deadline for voting absentee in the June 3rd party primary run-offs is 5 p.m. Tuesday, and the Howard County Clerk’s office will be closed all day Monday in observance of Memorial Day.

Republican ballots are now available for anyone wishing to vote absentee in the Republican primary. Ballots have been mailed to 13 absentee Republican voters.

Democratic votes cast in the election in the clerk’s office now total 43. Absentee ballots have been mailed to 34 Democrats.

Eighteen persons have voted absentee in the June 6 special election. Deadline for absentee voting in the special election is next Friday. The election is being held to select a replacement to fill the unexpired term of State Sen. David Ratliff, Stamford. Ratliff resigned his position after allegations of nepotism were brought against him.

According to information from the clerk’s office, most of the absentee ballots that are mailed are to county residents serving in the military. Most persons who are voting in person in the clerk’s office are planning early vacations that will take them outside Howard County on election day.

DIPLOMAT CLAIMS ‘It All Could Have Been Done By Mail’

MOSCOW (AP) — “It all could have been done by mail,” said a Western diplomat stationed in Moscow as he surveyed the first five Soviet-American agreements signed during President Nixon’s Kremlin summit.

“None of them required a presidential visit,” the diplomat added.

The American chief executive paused in his negotiations on major issues to sign two of the agreements. Lesser officials signed the others.

But the signing ceremonies—all held in the glittering grandeur of the Kremlin’s Vladimir Hall with full press and television coverage—could have been staged any afternoon in the far less pretentious State Department auditorium in Washington.

NAILED DOWN

All the agreements were nailed down before Nixon left the White House. They were formalized here to fulfill the President’s expressed desire—a desire shared by the Soviets—that the summit produce concrete results.

The night before leaving Washington, Nixon talked of past summit meetings with the Russians—at Vienna, Geneva, Glassboro and Camp David.

“What they all added up to was cosmetics,” he said. His Moscow trip, the President added, “is one directed primarily toward substance rather than toward cosmetics.”

The two accords signed on Tuesday were agreed upon at least a month earlier.

One, on cooperation in medical science and public health, was announced on Feb. 11 when the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, Elliot Rich-

MOSCOW (AP) — President Nixon and Soviet leaders reached agreement today on the critical summit issue of limiting strategic nuclear arms.

A two-part settlement of the thorny arms curb question, the subject of 2½ years of negotiation, is to be signed tonight.

Resolution of last-minute differences on highly technical aspects of the accord prompted Nixon to postpone for an hour an evening dinner at the U.S. ambassador’s residence where the visiting American will entertain the Soviet hierarchy.

Word of a SALT agreement came after a day of on-again, off-again reports of the prospects for a Friday settlement.

One part of the agreement, limiting defensive antiballistic missile sites in each country, takes the form of a treaty subject to ratification by the U.S. Senate and was agreed upon first.

Under the terms of a companion executive agreement, which will take effect without legislative action, deployment of offensive nuclear missiles will be frozen at the present level so far as the United States is concerned. The Russians will be allowed to catch up with the U.S. lead in launching platforms.

ON LAND, SEA

The accord permits both countries to replace existing offensive missiles, whether on land or aboard ships at sea, with more sophisticated weapons as technological advances permit.

At about the same time, Tass reported the President and Soviet leaders had agreed to establish a joint commission to “promote the development of mutually advantageous relations in trade.” It was the first break-through in difficult trade negotiations since the President arrived here Monday.

The creation of such a commission had been suggested before the summit talks by some

U.S. trade officials because difficult negotiations on settlement of Soviet World War II lend-lease debts stood in the way of any broader trade agreements, such as multimillion-dollar grain purchases from the United States by Russia, plus U.S. credits.

U.S. summit negotiators had made no secret of their hopes for the signing this evening of a treaty and companion executive agreement to limit the deployment of offensive and defensive nuclear missiles on land and at sea.

Ziegler declined to say what was holding up the pact, nor would he confirm reports that technical snags persisted. He even refused to repeat that there was “agreement in principle,” as he had said shortly before the summit talks began this week.

Attorney Slain, Judge Wounded In Courthouse

OROVILLE, Calif. (AP) — An attorney was killed and a judge and a witness wounded in a burst of gunfire during a trial in the courthouse of this farming community.

Perry Farmer, 44, attorney for the plaintiffs, died of a bullet wound in the head shortly after the shooting Thursday afternoon.

Karolyn Garrick, one of the plaintiffs, was wounded in the arm and side, and a judge who happened along was wounded in the right arm.

The defendant in the civil suit, Minard O. Rutherford, 57, of Oroville, was booked for murder and two counts of attempted murder.

The shooting broke out in Butte County Superior Court during a civil lawsuit trial over attachment of a tractor and other equipment owned by Mrs. Garrick.

Witnesses said Farmer was seated at the counsel table when Rutherford walked forward from his seat in the audience with a pistol in his hand and fired into the back of Farmer’s head from a distance of about six inches.

Then Rutherford ran for the door, firing his pistol, the witnesses said. The witness on the stand at the time, Ernest Reynolds, swung a stool at Rutherford but missed, then grabbed his pistol wrist. He and a deputy sheriff wrestled Rutherford out into the hallway with the pistol still firing, the witnesses said.

Four Soviet Missile-Firing Subs Reported In China Sea

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four Russian missile-firing submarines have been reported in the South China Sea.

The E-class nuclear-powered subs were located some 700 miles east of the Vietnamese coast, Defense Department sources said. That would put them well out of range of most of the American warships patrolling off North Vietnam's coast.

But these Soviet submarines could sail close enough in about a day's time to bring their 200-mile-range Shaddock missiles to bear.

One of the 5,000-ton-long-range Soviet submarines in the South China Sea carries six surface-to-surface missiles. The other three subs are somewhat more advanced models of the same class, armed with eight missiles each. All four subs also can fire torpedoes.

Minor Surgery To Drain Pus From Wallace

SILVER SPRING, Md. (AP) — Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace was recuperating today after minor surgery to drain pus from an infected area near one of his wounds.

Doctors said the operation Thursday will speed his recovery. They said the infection was predictable.

The infection near a bullet wound in the left side of the abdomen required an incision to drain pus, doctors said.

"After these areas were drained, the governor showed immediate improvement and a marked reduction in abdominal pain," the doctors said in a medical bulletin.

Otherwise, the doctors reported, Wallace's condition remained stable.

For the first time since his injuries May 15, Wallace fed himself Thursday, a breakfast of cream of wheat, toast, applesauce and milk. A trapeze bar was installed above his bed to help him exercise and raise himself while bed linens are changed.

U.S. officials appear unworried about the presence of the Russian submarines, a light cruiser, a guided-missile frigate and several destroyers in those waters.

So far, the Russians have made no military effort to challenge the U.S. mining of seven North Vietnamese ports and have diverted freighters and tankers bound for those ports when the mines were sown more than two weeks ago. American officials have not dismissed the possibility that the Soviets might make some sort of naval demonstration off Vietnam after President Nixon ends his current visit to Russia.

As a precaution, the Navy has sent the antisubmarine warfare carrier Ticonderoga from the U.S. West Coast to the waters off Southeast Asia. At last report, the Ticonderoga and a group of escorting destroyers were still en route across the Pacific.

The U.S. 7th Fleet has mustered more than 60 ships off Vietnam, including four big attack carriers, and another 30 or so ships are in neighboring waters on call, if needed.

Lamesa Selects Cheerleaders

LAMESA (SPL) — Melissa Hardberger is the new head cheerleader for Lamesa High School for 1972-73.

After being delayed from the normal date in April, due to minority demands by Mexican-American and Negro pupils for 2-2-2 representation, the election was held under the usual format.

According to high school principal Neal Chastain Josephine Luebano, Susan Moody, Ginger Pomrey, Lee Puckett and Terrie Stevens were also elected to complete the cheerleading squad. Mary Gutierrez was selected as alternate.

96 Nonprescription Drugs Claims Blasted By Experts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Academy of Sciences says it approves of fewer than half the claims made on the labels of 96 nonprescription drugs, according to reports kept secret more than three years.

The academy's National Research Council told the Food and Drug Administration that of 158 claims made for the drugs studied, 36 were judged effective and another 31 effective with reservations.

Twenty-eight claims were described as probably effective, meaning more documentation is needed, and 52 were possibly effective, meaning that evidence is lacking. Six claims were rejected as ineffective and no claims were made at all for five products, including four vitamin-mineral compounds.

The scientists studied whether the products actually would do what their labels declared.

The NAS review covers sun-screening lotions and creams, vitamin-mineral preparations, eyedrops, antidandruff ointment, antibiotic preparations, laxatives, antihistamines, menstrual products and a host of drugs (OTC) sold without prescriptions.

The FDA which received the NAS reports on 420 OTCs as early as 1968, said it withheld releasing them until it had evaluated the scientists' evaluations.

Few of the products studied are leaders in the market which accounts for an estimated $2.5 billion in annual sales.

The FDA said it does not plan to act against unsupported claims reported in the NAS study pending completion of an ambitious program to set minimum safety and effectiveness standards for the 100,000 to 500,000 nonprescription drugs sold in the United States.

Earlier the NAS studied 2,752 prescription drugs and found 40 per cent of labeled claims were ineffective or, at best, possibly effective. The FDA said many of these drugs have been ordered off the market.

Murder Raps Sock Swift

EL RENO, Okla. (AP) — John Edward Smith, 30, who has refused extradition from Oklahoma to Texas to face charges in the slayings of a Hearne banker and two members of his family, was charged Thursday with the murder of a fourth person in Oklahoma.

Swift was accused of murder in the death of Robert Nogales Duran, 39, whose body was found Saturday in a ditch in eastern Canadian County.

Swift, from New Mexico, pleaded innocent in the slaying of Duran. A preliminary hearing was set for June 7.

Two persons, Lee Murry Jurode, 29, and Jo Ann Adams, 24, were arrested with Swift Monday night. Miss Adams and Jurode, who have waived extradition to Texas in connection with the Hearne slayings, both have been selected as material witnesses in Duran's death, according to Dist. Atty. John Howard of Reno.

The two were also sought as material witnesses in the death of H.D. Kelly, a Hearne banker, his wife and daughter.

Howard said proceedings to extradite Swift to Texas after his trial for Duran's death have been started by Texas authorities.

Dawson Oldsters Gather Saturday For Reunion

LAMESA (SPL) — Tales from the days when cowboys rode the open range for the C. C. Slaughter vast ranching operation and from the time when Chicago and Lamesa were rivals for the county seat will be relived here Saturday. The occasion is the annual Dawson County Pioneer Reunion. Most of the founding pioneers are gone, but many are left who remember the great boom days when sea of grass was put to plow and converted Dawson into one of the key agricultural counties of the state.

Registration begins at 10 a.m. at Forrest Park with Mrs. Joy Boyd in charge. Lunch, catered by Mrs. Evelyn Koger of Lamesa, will be served at noon. The plate fee is $2.

There will be a short program and recognition will be given to the oldest pioneer present, the family having the largest number present, and the pioneer traveling the greatest distance to attend the reunion. Dale Merrick, president of the Dawson County Pioneer Reunion, will preside.

Decorations are being handled by Mrs. Charnell Jobe and the Dawson County garden clubs. J. D. Banta is vice president; J. D. Dyer will emcee the program; Jim Norris will deliver the welcome address.

Wedding Ceremony Performed In Knott

Miss Katherine Jane Ashley and Joe Derwin Barnes were united in marriage at 8 p.m., Thursday in the First Baptist Church, Knott.

Phillip Burcham, minister of the Knott Church of Christ, officiated at an altar flanked by branched candelabra entwined with carnations and greenery. Another candelabra centered the altar.

The bride is the daughter of Bill Bybee and Mrs. Clay Alexander, both of Houston, and Barnes is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Barnes, Ackerly.

Nuptial music was provided by Mrs. Bill Hambrick and Miss Mary Anne Wallace, pianists. Miss Wallace sang.

The bride wore a formal-length gown of white satin overlaid with layers of white lace. The gown featured a high ruffled lace collar and long lace sleeves which were ruffled at the wrist. The long train was of satin and lace, and the waist-length veil was held with a cluster of petals edged with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of pink and white orchids.

Mrs. Wayne Parris of Oklahoma City, Okla., served her sister as matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Debbie Bybee of Lubbock and Miss Anita Jones. The attendants wore floor-length dresses fashioned in light pink satin with Empire waists and long, puffed sleeves. A band of white lace highlighted the waistline. They carried bouquets of miniature carnations in various shades of pink.

Douglas Blagrove of Ackerly was best man, and David Barnes, the bridegroom's brother, served as groomsman with Gary Riddle. Ushers were Michael Ashley of Prairie Grove, Ark., the bride's brother; and Rickie Graham.

Gayla Paige of Coahoma was flower girl and was attired identically to the bride's attendants. Altar taper lighters were Steve Chapman and Allan Roman, both of Coahoma.

A reception was held in the church. A pink and white lace cloth adorned the refreshment table which was accented with

MRS. JOE DERWIN BARNES

Members were reminded that the next Officers Wives Club luncheon will be June 1. Class 73-01 will host the event, which will feature a guitarist and a skit.

The couple will reside in Ackerly. Barnes is a junior at Texas Tech, majoring in special education, and Mrs. Barnes attends Howard County Junior College. She graduated from Sands High School.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. H. E. Barnes, Brownfield; Mrs. G. W. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Roman, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Minix and Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Paige, all of Coahoma; Bill Bybee and Karren Dever, both of Houston; Wayne Parris, Oklahoma City, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin, San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Barnes, Plains; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Willborn, St. Lawrence; Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Tunnell, all of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. John Krouce and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Miller, all of Stanton; Mr. and Mrs. Cullen Tunnel, Lamesa; and Mrs. Earl Snodgrass, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Johnson; Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. V. F. Sanderson, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Chapman, all of Big Spring.

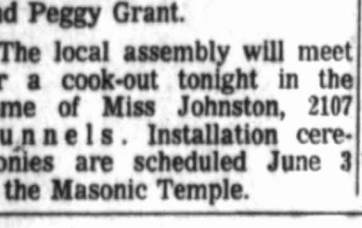

Tables were decorated with paper globes which had "peace" written on them in several languages, in conjunction with Miss Blount's theme, "Let There Be Peace on Earth." A collection of dolls from many countries completed the decorations.

Guests included Debbie Ripple Beckham and June Dunkin, both of San Angelo; Brenda Evans, Carla Hill Stringer, Mary Hill, Ann Medley and Jean Sauze, all of Midland; Tanya Jefferson, Andrews; Barbara Hamrick and Kathy Armstrong, both of Odessa; and Mrs. Don Williams, Ayn McGlothlin, Mrs. O. L. Nabors and Sharon Andrews, all of Big Spring.

About 160 attended. Refreshments were served by Mrs. M. S. Knowles, Mrs. W. B. Grant, Leliani Thomas, Rhonda Fields and Peggy Grant.

The local assembly will meet for a cook-out tonight in the home of Miss Johnston, 2107 Runnels. Installation ceremonies are scheduled June 3 at the Masonic Temple.

NANCY BLOUNT

Roy Peet Describes Art Of Bonzai Tree

Roy Peet of Inland Port 213 was guest speaker Tuesday at a luncheon of Rosebud Garden Club at Big Spring Country Club. Peet discussed Bonzai, the art of dwarfing small trees.

The speaker noted that many types of trees can be used for this purpose, including pines and willows. The method is to choose a small, undernourished tree, trim the roots and plant shallow in good soil in a clay or ceramic container, using rocks to weight down the roots. Florist wire and tape can be used to train the branches in the desired direction. The tree requires a humid atmosphere and should be sprayed with water every day.

Peet said the tree should be trimmed often to give the miniature effect and gnarled effect of Bonzai, a Japanese art. A bit of driftwood can be used to accent the gnarled look. The Bonzai is an outdoor plant and should be placed in semi-shade. Every few months it should be carefully removed from the container, the roots trimmed and then replanted in fresh soil. According to Peet, many Bonzai trees sell from $200 to $2,000, depending on the type and age of the tree. Some of the trees are from 20 to 200 years old and are kept in Japanese homes through hundreds of years. The tree becomes a family tradition, being passed from one generation to the next.

Mrs. Jesse Crane presided prior to the installation of officers by Mrs. Dale Smith. The new officers are Mrs. G. P. Morrison, president; Mrs. Paul Malone, vice president; Mrs. Eddie Read, secretary-reporter; Mrs. S. J. Kamm, treasurer; and Mrs. J. F. Sanders, parliamentarian. Mrs. Morrison appointed committees and announced club events.

Mrs. Smith will serve as the local garden club council president this fall.

The Rosebud Garden Club will give a book on Texas wild flowers to the high school library and will also provide the school with a book on environmental ecology. On Sept. 18, the club will help host a flower show judges meeting in the home of Mrs. Charles Sweeney. At that time Mrs. Smith will lecture on abstract and free form flower arrangements.

Mrs. Sweeney and Mrs. Odell Womack were hostesses for Tuesday's luncheon, using pale pink table cloths with magenta runners. The floral centerpiece contained poppies, yarrow, crepe myrtle and barberry in shades of pink and red. Down the center of the table were pink geraniums which were awarded as gifts.

Members were invited to view a film, "Silent Spring," which will be shown at 7 p.m. June 19 at First Federal Community Room. Dr. Paul Koshi will be the narrator. The showing is free and open to the public.

OWC Shows 'Thrifty' Fashions

Models stressed the theme, "Thrifty but Nifty," when they showed clothes from the Webb AFB Thrift Shop at Thursday morning's 'hi and bye' coffee in the Officers Open Mess. During the coffee, members of the Officers Wives Club welcomed members of Class 73-07, newcomers to the base.

The coffee was hosted by Class 73-06, and commentators for the show were Mrs. Robert Sims and Mrs. Andy Campbell. Other chairmen were Mrs. Frank Hardy, publicity; Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. John Schwartz, invitations; Mrs. Harold Hastings, name tags; Mrs. Bill Hutton, menu; Mrs. John Zwanziger, Mrs. John Moro, Mrs. James Welch and Mrs. Richard Smith, decorations; and Mrs. Moro and Mrs. Campbell, door prizes.

A large Maypole was used as the centerpiece on the coffee table, and dining tables were accented with smaller Maypoles with crepe paper streamers. Decorations were awarded as prizes, along with candles, candle holders and a gift certificate from the Thrift Shop.

Members were reminded that the next Officers Wives Club luncheon will be June 1. Class 73-01 will host the event, which will feature a guitarist and a skit.

Gavel Club Elects Slate

New officers were elected for Past Matron's Gavel Club, Laura B. Hart Chapter 1019, Order of Eastern Star, at a dinner meeting Thursday evening at Coker's Restaurant. Installation will be conducted at a June meeting; date and place to be announced.

Mrs. J. A. Wright presided, and members made plans to serve refreshments at the open installation of Laura B. Hart Chapter June 3 at the Masonic Temple.

Hostesses were Mrs. Ollie McDaniel and Mrs. Lois Marchbanks. Members were reminded that secret pals will be revealed at the next meeting. A patriotic theme was used for table decorations.

Miss Grissam Feted At Shower Thursday Evening

Miss Carol Grissam, bride-elect of Gene Lee, was honored at a shower Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Orr, 2906 Macaulan.

Cohostesses were Mrs. George Walker, Mrs. Moden Wyatt, Mrs. Don McGonagill, Mrs. A. D. Blount, Mrs. Joe L. Awtry, Mrs. Gene Gresham, Mrs. B. Hardee, Mrs. Ross Hill, Mrs. George Legg, Mrs. Lester Arnold and Mrs. Bob Newsom.

The honoree wore an orchid dress and was presented a corsage of white carnations, as was her mother, Mrs. Thurlio Grissam, and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Audie Lee of Austin.

A white satin cloth covered the refreshment table which was centered with an arrangement of blue and orchid flowers in a white crystal bowl flanked with white candles. An orchid arrangement also accented the registry table. Crystal appointments were used.

Miss Grissam and Lee will be married June 30 at the Baptist Temple, with the Rev. James Puckett officiating.

Candycy Academy Schedules Revue

Students from Candycy Academy of Dance will present their annual dance review at 8 p.m., Saturday in the city auditorium. The public is invited to attend at no charge.

About 45 students will perform ballet, tap, modern jazz or acrobatics, to such tunes as "The Horse With No Name," "Grand Ole Flag," and "Give My Regards To Broadway."

Costumes for the performance are from New York.

Graduation Party For Miss Harris

Miss Gay Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Harris, 2304 Allendale, was honored at a graduation party recently in the home of Mrs. Paul Malone, 2303 Roberts. Mrs. Willis Burchett was cohostess. Miss Harris, a senior at Big Spring High School, will attend Howard County Junior College. The serving table was covered with an avocado green cloth and centered with an arrangement of daisies. About 20 guests attended.

Bridal Events Honor Miss Vicki Gamblin

The latest in a series of events honoring Miss Vicki Gamblin of Brady and her fiancé, Gary McNew, was a buffet dinner held Wednesday evening in the Harry Middleton home, 1110 Johnson. Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Middleton in hosting the party were their daughter, Miss Candy Middleton, and their son, Johnny Middleton.

Included in the 12 attending was an out-of-town guest, Miss Maria Jordan of Odessa. A western theme was used in decorations throughout the home. The buffet table, covered with a white linen cloth, featured a red bandana print runner, and the centerpiece was a red crystal bowl arranged with red and white carnations flanked by ceramic cowboys. The guests' tables had bandana print cloths and small arrangements of the same flowers in red ceramic containers.

Miss Gamblin was attired in a red and white pantdress. The Middletons presented the couple with an assortment of kitchen linens.

A bridal shower honoring Miss Gamblin was held Tuesday evening in the First Federal Community Room where corsages were presented to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Sim Gamblin of Brady; and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Rube McNew.

Out-of-town guests included Miss Gamblin's grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Jordan, Brady; her aunt, Mrs. Garland Jordan, Miss Maria Jordan, Miss Cheryl Jordan and Miss Jana Jordan, all of Odessa; and Miss Dean Mansfield, El Paso.

Hostesses were Mrs. Middleton, Mrs. Bill Neal, Mrs. Toots Mansfield, Mrs. Ray Richey, Mrs. R. W. Halbrook, Mrs. Barbara Giles, Mrs. George Amos and Mrs. Clyde Thomas.

The serving table was covered with an orchid cloth finished with a flounce and decorated with wedding bells hung at intervals with yellow satin ribbon. Punch was served from a bronze bowl, while the coffee was poured from a bronze coffee service. Petit fours were decorated with yellow flowers, complimenting the centerpiece basket of bronze, orange and yellow mixed flowers.

The registry table was covered with a lace cloth and featured a wedding bell centerpiece with a lace cloth and featured a wedding bell centerpiece. A plumed pen and the bridal book completed the table, and an arrangement of gladioli was placed on a side table.

Miss Gamblin and McNew will be married June 24 in the First Christian Church of Brady with the Rev. Bill Boswell officiating.

Lack Of Interest In UN Explained

MONTREAL (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim says a lack of interest in the United Nations by the superpowers is a passing phenomenon.

"The United Nations was conceived as a forum for their cooperation and has helped them effectively in a number of very critical situations over the years," he told a United Nations Association of Canada meeting Wednesday night. "I'm sure it will do so again in times of crisis."

He said a "new breed of non-political problems on a global scale demand that the U.N. be used more effectively than ever by its member states."

Odessa Firm To Build Shop Building Here

A bid of $22,200 was accepted for the Odessa Junior High School shop building by the Board of Trustees in special session Thursday.

The Basin Construction Company, Odessa, agreed to complete the building in 75 calendar days.

"We thought this was the best bid," said Roy Watkins, board chairman. The vote for the Basin bid was 4-3.

Other bids were E. D. Snody Construction Co., Midland, $26,900, 90 days; D. D. Johnston Construction Co., Big Spring, $24,455, 70 days; J. D. Jones, Big Spring, $19,658, 60 days; and Luther Coleman, Big Spring, $23,777.57, 50 days.

The board approved a budget amendment to the 1971-72 budget transferring $30,763 from the general fund to the building fund. The building fund had $13,925 in it and with the additional funds now stands at $44,688.

The additional funds are for interior finish work, including some plumbing, wiring, partitions and painting, and for equipment for both the Odessa and the Runnels shop buildings.

The board voted to grant a one-time exception to the rule of no student trips outside of the United States and approved a tentative Steer Band trip to Monterey, Mexico next spring.

The trip would take about 10 days, according to Charles Wash, Band Boosters Club. The Band Boosters would provide the transportation for the trip, and do more if they could. The trip would cost about $25,000, with the cost per student set at about $140.

"This is a maximum," said Wash, "and would be less if we do not go to Mexico City. With the Band Boosters paying for transportation, the per student cost would also be less."

The program will cost the school nothing, but the students will miss up to three days of class.

"A number of area schools have done this before," he said, "but we are not yet sure we will be able to afford it."

The trip is in response to an invitation by the Institute of Mexican-North American Cultural Relations Group in Monterey for the band to perform.

The board agreed to provide $400 for the city-wide summer recreation program, approved an application for Foundation funds, and recognized the high school for winning the District 5-AAAA UIL Sportsmanship award.

Supt. Anderson discussed a call from the Office of Civil Rights, Department of Health, Education and Welfare informing the school district that they plan an on-site visit June 5.

"I asked them to come while school was still in session," said Anderson, "but they said they were too busy looking at schools in the southern states to get here earlier."

Numerous forms and reports are being prepared by the school administration for the HEW visit.

The board agreed to meet from 4-7 p.m. June 19 and 21 for budget workshops on the 1972-73 budget.

Gibbs served as high school principal at Garden City for eight years. He is a graduate of Andrews High School.

Gomez Brothers Are Indicted

COLORADO CITY — Murder indictments have been returned here against two brothers. The case grew out of the fatal shooting of Macario Lara, 29, and the wounding of his brother, Joe, 28.

The indictments named Jessie Gomez, 35, Lorraine farmer; and Domingo Gomez, 40, a Sweetwater laborer.

The Lara brothers were shot in the Lorraine cemetery May 14.

Seniors Wind Up Classes Today

Big Spring High School seniors finish their last day of class today.

Other students will have to face final exams next week, but the seniors have been excused from that onerous task, at least until they get to college.

More Than 7.6 Million Cars Recalled Since December

DETROIT (AP) — More automobiles have been recalled in the last six months than ever before in a similar period. And if it seems like millions to you—that's right.

More than 7.6 million cars have been recalled since last December. The vast majority of the recalls, however, were for defects newly surfacing in cars built anywhere from three to 10 years ago.

Not all of those recalled had defects. For instance, General Motors recalled 32,649 Buicks, Oldsmobiles and Pontiacs to find 1,250 which had received faulty wheels.

called, according to Automotive News.

But many of those recalled were built prior to 1966—including more than a million 1965 Chevrolets involved in a current campaign.

Ford and General Motors have recall campaigns underway in which their fix-it bills are expected to run to $30 million plus each.

Why do multiple mistakes continue? One industry expert put it this way:

"Humans design and engineer the cars from scratch, then other humans build, maintain and operate the machines that turn out a car's 15,000 parts and put them together. Others test the product and still other humans buy and drive it."

"Most assembly lines, for maximum economy and efficiency, are geared to turn out a car every minute. GM has 22 in the States and two in Canada. Cadillac's is set for 51 cars an hour and Vega is trying for 100.

"So, with 15,000 parts per car, every hour's operation on a single average line represents the assembly of 900,000 parts—and it takes action by the better part of almost 1,400 moving parts to get a car rolling."

William D. Innes, a Ford executive vice president was asked recently why there seemed to be more recalls than 10 years ago.

"We have more sophisticated consumers and more sophisticated consumer advocates," he said.

The automakers insist that inspectors somewhere along the line catch the vast majority of units getting "sloppy workmanship" and see that they get immediate repair.

Irving Bluestone, a UAW vice president and chief of its GM department, said that "in each case, to our knowledge, the recalls (so far) are directly attributable to engineering or product design defects."

GOOF-UPS

Why so many goof-ups, after all these years of experience and the millions upon millions of dollars continually pouring into research, engineering and quality control in the nation's major manufacturing industry?

Mostly it boils down to defects in design or engineering that stay hidden on the drawing boards, in the laboratories or on the test tracks.

But a perfectly designed and engineered car could be forced into recall by a single component installed upside down along the assembly line by a workman new on the job.

All automakers strive to "engineer out" the possibility of worker mistakes, but they haven't always been successful.

In the Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac recall it turned out that one welding machine in a supplier's plant malfunctioned for two days without any outward appearance of trouble. Wheels and rims were insecurely joined.

ALL LOCATED

Testing disclosed the goof-up and a checkback pinpointed the cause and time, but 32,649 cars had been equipped with wheels from this supplier in those two days.

All were recalled and located before there had been an accident or injury charged to them.

Almost half as many automobiles have been recalled for inspection and correction of suspected defects as have been sold in the United States since the National Highway Safety Act became law in 1966.

The figures roughly are 55.2 million sold and 25 million re-

POLAROID GUARANTEES EVERY PICTURE YOU TAKE WITH THIS CAMERA.

If you don't like it, you can take another one free.

If you buy one of Polaroid's Focused Flash cameras, every picture you take this year will be guaranteed. It's true. Polaroid guarantees you'll be delighted with all the pictures you take — or you'll get free film to take them over again.

Here's how it works: You'll receive a booklet of coupons when you purchase your camera. Each one entitles you to replace your Colorpack Land film if you judge the pictures you take to be unsatisfactory.

Polaroid can offer this unusual guarantee — because the Focused Flash cameras are the finest and most automatic cameras they make. Focused Flash keeps your flash shots from coming out too light or too dark. An electric eye and electronic shutter automatically control your other shots. Indoors or out, there's never an exposure calculation to be concerned with.

There are four models to choose from, packed with features, and they all take guaranteed pictures.

Drug Advocate

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have to take issue with your advice to parent who wanted to know if they had the right to snoop into their children's belongings to discover if they were using drugs. You said this was a case in which invasion of privacy was justified, and parents had the right to use "whatever means possible" to find out what their children were doing. Abby, now I'm convinced that you are not qualified to give advice on drugs. In fact, your column is beginning to show the characteristics of Gestapo police.

I am a college student who uses drugs, and as a citizen of this country, I have as much right to privacy as the next person. It is my life and my body, and I will do what I like with them.

Wise up, Abby. Talk to some users. Find out where it's really at, and stop encouraging kids to fink on each other. Someday the soft drugs will be legal and then a lot of us will breathe easier, just as people did after prohibition.

SICK OF HASSLES

DEAR SICK: So it's "soft drugs" you want to legalize? Who's to decide which drugs are "soft" and which are "hard"? You? If you then disagree on which drugs should be legal, will you still assert your "right of privacy" to use illegal drugs?

The legalization of some drugs may be on the way, and should be. But until it arrives, I'll continue to counsel obedience of the law as it stands, along with reasonable surveillance of the young in their use.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I (married for 12 years) have two children, and we finally managed to take a vacation alone (no kids) for the first time since our marriage.

We arranged to have a nice young married couple move into our home in our absence to look after our children.

When my parents saw us off at the airport, my mother asked, "Did you make it in case something happens to you?" I really was shook up, Abby. Of course we didn't make a will.

I realize it is a possibility, but the point I am trying to get across is that nothing happened to us, but that remark

Mrs. Buckner Is New Coordinator

AUSTIN — Mrs. Charles Buckner, a teacher at College Heights Elementary School, will serve during the coming year as coordinator of faculty representatives in her local unit of the Texas State Teachers Association.

Mrs. Buckner recently attended a training session for coordinators of faculty representatives, held in San Antonio under joint sponsorship of TSTA and the National Education Association.

Faculty representatives — one in each public school building — are the contact persons between the individual TSTA and NEA members and their local, district, state and national associations. There are more than 6,000 of them throughout the state.

Mrs. Buckner is president for 1972-73 of the Big Spring Teachers Association.

Nixon Develops Taste For Caviar

MOSCOW (AP) — President Nixon has developed a taste for caviar.

Since he arrived in Moscow Monday, aides say the chief executive has taken to spreading the expensive delicacy on black bread and butter.

Mrs. Nixon likes caviar, too, but told reporters she is touring a ballet school. "I think it is delicious but I couldn't even take that this early in the morning."

Sub For Cream

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I enjoy using a cream substitute in my coffee (about five cups a day). After reading the long list of ingredients on the carton, I wonder how safe this product is for daily use? — Mrs. D.M.

Dear Doctor: Along with others I am a victim of high cholesterol, so have been using a cream substitute, but I have heard it is just as harmful as cream. Would you clear up this matter? — Mrs. A.M.

The answer's not the same for these two letters?

Cream substitutes usually contain a vegetable oil which in most instances is coconut oil. This, unlike most vegetable oils, is a saturated type of fat.

Thus, for those with a cholesterol problem, such a substitute would not be advisable, any more than real cream would be. That's the answer for Mrs. A.M.

Otherwise, however, cream substitutes contain nothing harmful. They are convenient, tasty, less expensive than cream — but they contain about the same number of calories as cream. Only reason for Mrs. D.M. or others without a cholesterol problem to avoid the substitutes would be on account of the calories if they have a weight problem.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I want to take off 10 pounds and would like to know where I can get a calorie chart. Do you have one? — C.M.

Such charts are included in my booklet, "Lost Secrets of Reducing," and I suspect that some of the other information apart from just the calorie charts will be of use to you. If you'd like the booklet, send 35 cents and a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope to me in care of the Big Spring Herald.

The post office people have asked me to remind readers to include their zip numbers in the self-addressed envelopes. It helps them, and speeds up delivery of the booklets.

Take It Easier

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

PURSUIT: (Q) When I met this boy at Christmas I liked him. I wanted to go with him but he didn't ask me for a date or anything. So I called him up several times and did everything but invite him to ask me to go out with him. But he didn't. He got less and less friendly every time I called, so I quit.

Now I just say "hi" when I see him. He doesn't even answer me back. I still like him and still want to go with him. Is there anything I can do to make him change his mind about me? — No Luck in New York State.

A girl can't just make a boy like her. When she tries too hard to encourage him to like her she is likely to get the opposite result.

You tried too hard. And you took one of the surest roads to make this boy dislike you. Next time take it easier.

BRA TIME: (Q) I am about 32 in the bust, but I do not wear a bra — I wear an undershirt. I feel so weird. All my friends wear bras and some of them are just plain flat-chested, which I'm not. I would feel dumb asking my mother for a bra. What should I say? — Nearly 12 in New Mexico.

(A) Just say, "Mother, I've outgrown this undershirt. I think it is time for us to go shopping and get me a bra."

RUNAWAY: (Q) When I was 15 I ran away. I found a friend. His name is Eric. He lived in a commune then. Since then he has taken me with him around the country. We loved each other and still do, and we have a baby.

Eric is great to me but he wants me to go back home so the baby and I can be taken care of and I can go to school and we can be married later.

I don't want to go back to my parents. They nagged me. I know I hurt them but they hurt me too. What should I do? — 17 in Oregon.

(A) Do as Eric says. Go home and go back to school. Ask your parents to help you take care of the baby, or find a home for it until you have finished school. It won't be easy, but you can do it.

No parents are perfect and no daughters are perfect. They often irritate each other, but they find ways to get along. All girls thinking about running away should cut out your letter, paste it up, and read it every morning for a week.

Starr Convictions Hassle Heating Up

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Asst. U.S. Atty. Raul Gonzalez asked U.S. Dist. Court Judge Reynaldo Garza Thursday to disregard a motion asking for a reduction of sentences for three persons convicted of vote fraud in Starr County (Rio Grande City).

The request came in an answer to defense motions filed earlier this week by state Sen. Jim Bates of Edinburg, a defense lawyer for Starr County Sheriff Dr. Rene Solis, Santiago Clarke and Max Gaytan.

NOT KNOWN

Gonzalez said he did not know when Garza would act on the two motions.

Saying all three are "completely rehabilitated," Bates also gave personal reasons why each man should not be forced to spend 30 days in prison.

The three and five other Starr County residents were convicted in federal court here in 1970 on charges of diluting the vote in the 1970 election by obtaining absentee ballots in an illegal manner.

Bates' motion claimed Solis, a medical doctor, treats daily about 30 patients who are over 65 and these would suffer if Solis had to spend 30 days away from the county in jail.

Gonzalez said three other medical doctors are in Starr County in addition to a federal funded mobile health unit staffed by the three doctors and three nurses.

ELECTION TIME

The motion in behalf of Clarke, an investigator for the Starr County district attorney's office, claimed his mother, 84, is in a McAllen hospital waiting surgery. The motion claimed she would suffer and perhaps die if Clarke were put in prison.

Gonzalez noted in the answer that Clarke has been active in working for the re-election of Solis, including taking voters to the polls.

"The need to be with his mother certainly did not curtail his activities during election time," Gonzalez said.

Bates had asked that Gaytan's sentence be reduced because Gaytan's wife is undergoing psychiatric care and he has to take care of their five children under 16 from time to time.

Pointing out that Gaytan has been active in the re-election campaign of Starr County Commissioner J. M. Longoria, Gonzalez said, "His alleged need to take care of his five children because of his wife's alleged disability did not curtail his activities during election time."

ASKS COMMISSIONERS FOR 'PERMIT TO SLEEP'

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The Hillsborough County Environmental Protection Commission has ordered Potashnick Dredging Co. to stop immediately its clanging, banging nighttime dredging operations.

At Danford, a dog breeder who lives near the Palm River Bridge, complained last week that dredging operations by the Cape Girardeau, Mo., firm have "just about given my wife a nervous breakdown" and cost him two litters of valuable dogs. He asked commissioners for a "permit to sleep."

The Board of County Commissioners, convening as the environmental protection commission, told the dredging company to cease nighttime operations and take "immediate steps to reduce noise emissions" during daylight hours.

The order came on the recommendation of Dr. William A. Smith, a University of South Florida consulting engineer who ran a series of noise level tests from Danford's property during the weekend.

Smith wrote the commission that noise levels from the dredge were of such magnitude they caused "vibrations of loose articles of furniture or houseware and a sensation of vibrations of the internal organs of the body."

Danford put it more simply when he told the commissioners last week "the noise . . . would just about drive you nuts."

Alternate To Sanctions

Black Africa's 10th year of independence helps to focus Third Worlders' attention on White Africa — including Rhodesia, which considers itself independent enough to resist British admonitions to the contrary.

Rhodesia is theoretically under economic sanctions from Britain and, for a time, from other nations, including the United States. Last fall, a British commission polled Rhodesian blacks on acceptability of a plan for gradual integration of white rule and eventual black majority in government, if voters elected to do that. Black Rhodesians rejected the plan.

This week's debate in London is whether to resume sanctions against Rhodesia for unilaterally declaring her independence. The British Foreign Office urges sanctions but Prime Minister Douglas-

Hume isn't so sure. It was his plan to regularize relations. Since the black Rhodesians rejected the plan, Douglas-Hume could support a take-the-consequences view.

The consequences, for all the ideological fantasy

All Volunteer Army

An all-volunteer army of about 850,000 men by July of next year is the government's goal and Army Secretary Robert F. Froehke said last week that he is optimistic.

While he works for a zero-draft army, he said the machinery of the military draft ought to be kept. He's right.

Draft machinery is the most sensible and efficient way to meet real national emergency. The military draft is not in the American tradition, though it has about become so, but times have made it impractical to start from the point of legislating to raise an army if one were needed.

It is reasonable to assume that an all-voluntary army can meet all responsibilities short of a real war.

Sooner Outcasts

Around The Rim

Steve Hultman

OLD NEWSPAPERS make fascinating reading. You never know what kind of strange story will pop up in the middle of the other, more mundane efforts of past writers.

One story I came across is about a suspended court crier in Philadelphia indicted on 314 charges.

He was accused of bribery, extortion, blackmail, hindering state witnesses, subornation of perjury, bribery of employes, solicitation to commit arson, robbery, compounding a crime, conspiracy, larceny, impersonating an officer, forgery, cheating by false pretense, burglary, unlawful entry and receiving stolen goods.

According to the district attorney in Philadelphia, the man, if convicted, could be sentenced to jail for a total of between 3,000 and 4,000 years.

I wonder how many license plates he would be expected to turn out while serving his time?

ANOTHER PAPER which recently printed a story about 35 residents of Blackwell, Okla., who have become social outcasts because of an anti-pollution suit they filed against a local smelter plant.

The plant, which employs 800 members of the Blackwell work force and provides a $5.5 million annual payroll, announced it would shut down permanently.

I wonder whether the pollution produced by the plant was worth 800 jobs and $5.5 million a year.

Here's an old story that might interest our city and county commissioners today.

In India, two cities plagued by a plethora of monkeys, hired monkey catchers to trap and destroy the marauding wild monkeys at so much per monkey.

The cities came to an agreement with the monkey catchers, and the two groups of monkey catchers came to an agreement with each other.

THE MEN at one city would take the monkeys they captured to the outskirts of the other city and release them, and vice versa, thus insuring a constant supply of monkeys for both groups.

Ethnic sensitivity to the way they are portrayed in books, magazines, on television and in plays is nothing new, only the players have changed.

In 1953 the Dublin Players, Irishmen all, came on tour to the United States. In an interview, the Irish director of the troupe said "You people over here are very sensitive people, indeed."

The play the Dublin Players was presenting included scenes of "a bunch of drunken, sloppy sons of Erin," regarded as hilarious in Ireland.

But, according to the director, "the plays ended in riots in Boston and Philadelphia," where the Irish-Americans were incensed at the "ethnic stereotypes" presented in the play.

Is anything ever really new?

My Answer

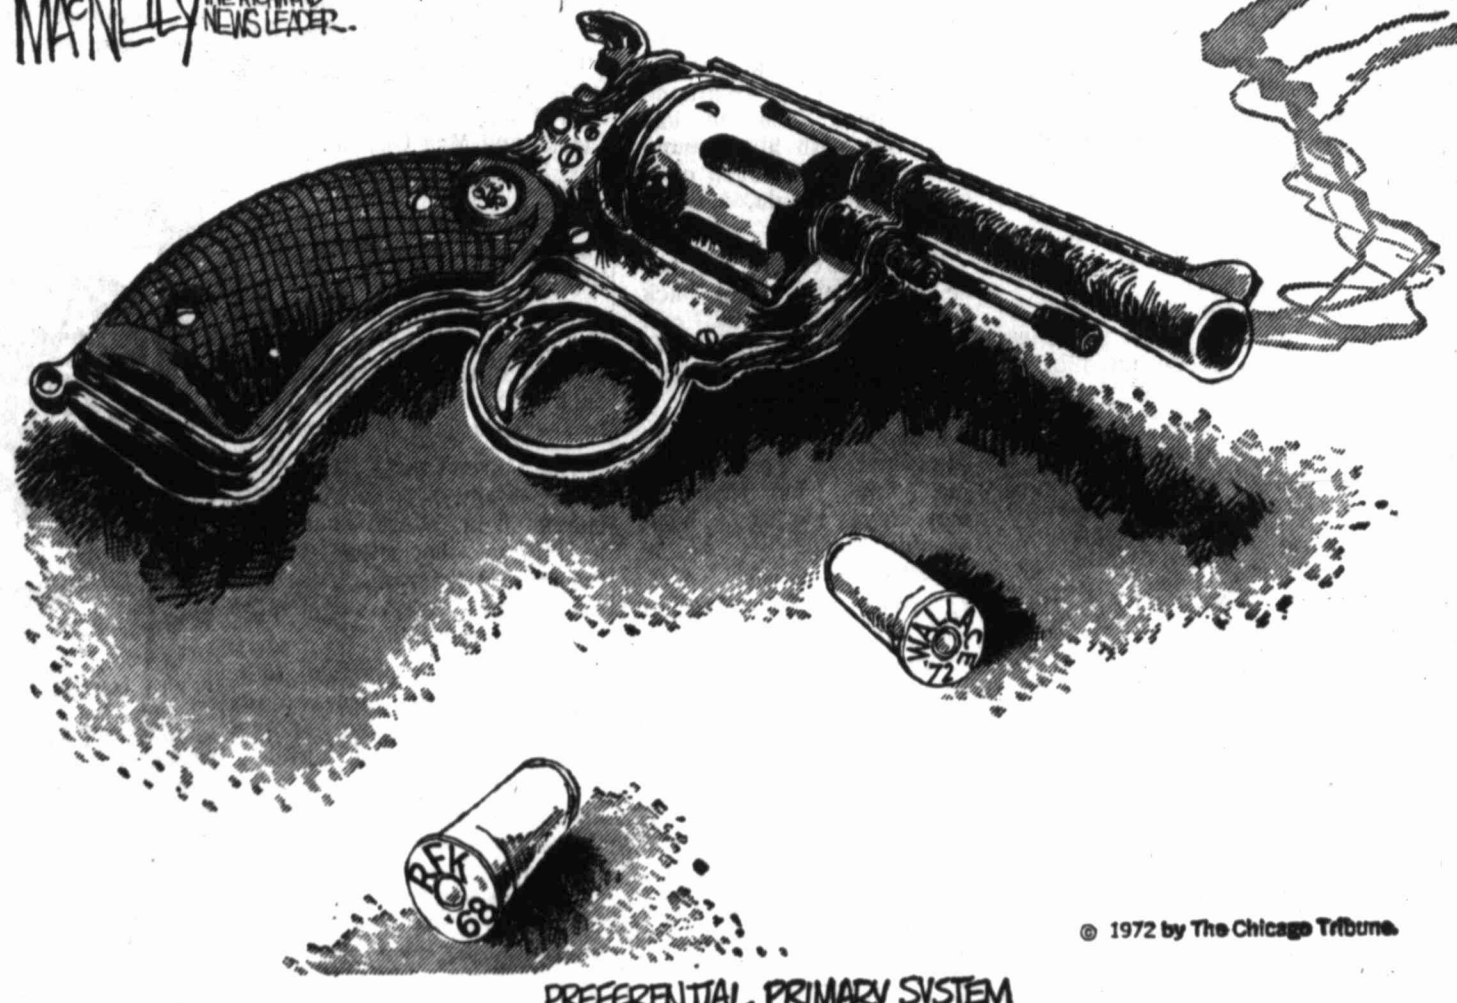

By BILLY GRAHAM

The Bible says we should love everyone, but some of my classmates (I am a teenager) are pretty wild. Will you please tell me how I should behave toward them?

It is good that you recognize your classmates as 'wild.' The tendency today for a person your age is to conform to the "gang." The fact that you don't care for wild behavior reveals some character and conviction.

However, the thing you must guard against is smugness. It takes a genuine person to be better than ones' associates and not show it, and not be conscious of it. If you can achieve this admirable posture, you will be in a position to raise the level of the group. One thing is sure: they are watching you, and are probably admiring you. The inner desire of every young person is to be an individual of character and conviction. If they see you succeeding at it, they will seek the secret of your strength, and then you can tell them they can "do all things through Christ."

Court Reforms

Garth Jones

Texas lawyers, judges and lawmakers are making another attempt to modernize the state's antiquated court system.

SIMILAR ATTEMPTS in the past have failed, largely because of lack of agreement between the lawyers and judges themselves.

However, the new attempt represents the broadest-based effort made to date and a lot of lawyers think it has a good chance of being approved by the legislature and the voters.

First, a 114-man task force has drawn up a proposed draft of a complete revision of the judiciary article in the state constitution. This will be studied by a 30-man advisory committee, then during the summer and fall the task force will seek the views and support of additional groups and individuals. The result of all this work will be presented the 1973 Legislature, and, if approved, will go to Texas voters as a proposed change in the state constitution in the fall of 1973 or maybe 1974.

LEADER OF THE task force and a long-time advocate of streamlining the state courts system is Robert W. Calvert, chief justice of the Texas Supreme Court. Calvert retires Dec. 31 and will be succeeded by Associate Justice Joe Greenhill, also an active member of the task force.

"The time is good. Reform in government is being widely accepted," Calvert told newsmen. "We hope this time to be able to bring to bear enough interest from widely divergent groups to let the legislature know whether they want reforms in this area."

The most drastic change would be to provide for statewide system that handles both criminal and civil matters in the same courts.

PRESENTLY TEXAS has a dual system. Criminal and civil matters generally are considered together in county and district courts but after that the criminal matters go to the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals and the civil matters to the 14 regional Courts of Civil Appeals. The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals is the court of last resort for criminal cases except for matters that involve the state constitution which go to the Texas Supreme Court, which also handles final appeals for civil cases.

Under the new proposal the Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals would be merged to handle final appeals for both criminal and civil cases. The regional Courts of Civil Appeals for both criminal and civil cases and would screen out all but the most important cases, which would go to the Supreme Court.

ANOTHER MAJOR change would be the requirement that all judges from the county level up must be licensed lawyers. A number of county judges now are not licensed lawyers.

Municipal judges and justices of the peace would become magistrates under the county-level courts and unconsted cases.

At the district court level, overlapping districts would be merged and judges of special district courts, such as domestic relations and criminal district courts, would become regular district judges. Metropolitan counties would have a single district court with as many judges as needed, rather than a separate district for each judge as it is now.

THE CHIEF JUSTICE of Texas would be the administrative head of the entire court system with authority to transfer cases and judges as necessary to equalize workloads and prevent backlogs of cases as many large cities have now. There would be a statewide court administrator and deputies to carry out the plan under supervision of the chief justice.

Big Spring has been most fortunate in having two first-rate art exhibits in recent weeks. The Baker Gallery of Fine Art of Lubbock exhibited a marvelous collection of paintings at the Heritage Museum. This exhibit was sponsored by members of the American Association of University Women.

And now the First National Bank has brought here a most unusual group of pictures depicting West Texas scenes by Jack White of Austin and sculpture of Jim Thomas of Amarillo.

Our town is progressing culturally, and I am sure I speak for many others in congratulating the AAUW, the Heritage Museum, and the First National Bank for their contributions to this progress.

Shooting For Money

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Money isn't everything, but don't try selling that routine to the various financial institutions who are now shooting it out in every corner of America.

They're not getting along; in fact, they're popping off at each other, and it's all about money.

The scenario for "The Shoot-out at Money Gulch" has a cast of thousands and involves many billions of dollars. Every state in the Union is involved and so is the federal government.

Included in the cast are 14,000 commercial banks, 6,000 savings and loan associations, 490 mutual savings banks and, to some extent, more than 20,000 credit unions. One item of

Triple-A Rap For McGovern

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania described Sen. George McGovern Thursday as "the acid, abortion and amnesty—the triple-A—candidate" for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Scott said most people who say they are going to vote for the South Dakotan don't know what he stands for.

"What we need is more voter education," he said, adding that is what Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., is trying to provide in California.

contention is $473 billion in savings.

And the plot: The thrift institutions, that is, the savings and loan associations and the mutual savings banks, are strictly restrained in the types of services they offer. The commercial, or full service banks, have wide privileges. The others want to share in them.

Specifically, the S&Ls and mutual banks—and even, it is sometimes suggested, the credit unions—want the right to offer checking accounts and even to develop into full service family finance centers.

The full service banks don't want that kind of competition. They prefer to see the S&Ls and mutuals restrict themselves to accepting savings and then investing those savings mainly in home mortgage loans.

The full service banks argue that there is little need for any dilution of their rights so long as the public is served and, they claim, it is served.

While the showdown is occurring throughout the country on the state level, the most significant aspect of the competition right now is the Hunt Commission Report, headed by Reed Hunt, a retired corporate executive.

In the spring of 1970 President Nixon appointed a special Commission on Financial Structure and Regulation and charged it with "reviewing and studying the structure, operation and regulation of the private financial institutions ..."

The 121-page report presented just before last Christmas included 89 recommendations; among them: new powers for the thrift institutions, a phase-out of interest-rate ceilings; a uniform tax formula for all institutions that offer checking accounts.

Moreover, it recommended that S&Ls and mutuals be allowed to make secured and unsecured consumer loans in amounts not to aggregate in excess of 10 per cent of total assets.

The next major move on the national level is expected to come sometime later this year when the President is expected to send to Congress his own recommendations, based partly on the Hunt report.

Whether the President follows the commission recommendations is still in doubt, however. The battle is far from settled; the shooting continues.

Factional Feuds

ROME (AP) — Italy's new parliament met for the first time Thursday and division within the major parties began to show. Factional feuds broke out Tuesday night when the dominant Christian Democrats elected their leaders in the Senate and the Chamber of Deputies.

Historic Event

Marquis Childs

MOSCOW — That Richard Nixon is a guest in the private quarters of the Kremlin is enough in itself to turn the world upside down. It is a great adventure, a remarkable beginning, and no matter what the end nothing can ever be quite the same again.

THE FORTHRIGHT decision of the President to seek agreements with the Soviet Union and the skill and negotiating sagacity of Henry Kissinger, his security adviser, have brought this about. The man from Whittier, Calif., and the brilliant Jewish scholar, who at the age of 15 escaped with his family from Nazi Germany, make an extraordinary combination.

This is a kind of summitry that, as the President has said, is different from any that has gone before.

ALTHOUGH CAUTION is still the order of the day as the SALT negotiators in Helsinki work down to the last minute, I am optimistic enough to believe that a strategic arms limitation agreement will be signed here. The logic of the weapons of annihilation is inevitable. Since they cannot be used without bringing an end to humanity, the time has come to put a period to the swelling volume of overlook that today means roughly the equivalent of 200 tons of TNT for every human being on earth.

Among the fabulous sights in the great walled enclosure of the Kremlin is the largest cannon ever built. Cast in the 16th century, it weighs more than 100 tons. The cannonballs weigh one ton each. The cannon was never fired because it was feared that the necessary explosive charge would shatter the weapon itself.

THERE IS symbolic meaning in this great bronze object that stands in front of the Cathedral of the Assumption in the Kremlin enclosure. It is a dinosaur of a weapon that like the nuclear missile could not be used without destroying its creator.

The strategic arms agreement, far and away the most important potential in this meeting, does not come out of the blue. The Limited Test-Ban Treaty put an end to nuclear testing in the atmosphere that in the early years sowed the upper air with deadly fallout. The Nonproliferation Treaty undertook to prevent the spread of nuclear weaponry beyond the five nations — the two giants, France, Britain and China — that now have it. These were small but encouraging steps on the route that has brought the President to Moscow.

ALTHOUGH COOPERATION in space — an agreement on joint terms for space docking — is nothing like as important as strategic arms, it is in a sense allied to it. With a language of their own scientists can transcend the barriers inhibiting the diplomats. Given a green light in a formal agreement, American and Soviet scientists can cooperate in ways to bring the two sides closer together. And it can mean savings for both in the enormous cost of space exploration.

One of the wisest observers over many years of this curious closed society puts it this way:

United Feature Syndicate, Inc.

Big Question

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Although here and there some people have been critical, public opinion generally has approved of President Nixon's trip to Peking and now seems to be favorable to the visit he is making to Moscow.

BASICALLY, people feel that the President, by these journeys, can help to bring peace in Asia and perhaps institute an era of good relations between the major powers. Such an outcome is something that the business world, for instance, looks upon as one that would improve international trade and benefit the domestic finances of both the United States and Russia. National budgets would be reduced if less and less money had to be spent for armament.

IT IS NO secret that President Nixon will try to get the leaders in the Kremlin to help him end the Vietnam War. If he succeeds, this would be perhaps the best piece of news in 1972. Mr. Nixon may not work out a complete settlement of all issues on this trip, but he can lay the foundation by his talks with the top men in the Soviet government. Up to now, negotiations on the war have been carried on by ambassadors and ministers or special envoys. They have done their utmost to achieve satisfactory results when controversies have arisen. It has, however, become apparent that only the heads of these two governments — of Russia and the United States — can really hammer out in intimate conversations a formula for a peace agreement that could appeal to the representatives of all countries involved.

THE SOVIETS have consistently aided the North Vietnamese, but they have done so because of their desire to retain a strong position in Southeast Asia. One of their problems at the moment is whether a better relationship with the United States will be of more value to them, especially in what it might produce in new trade and friendlier contacts throughout the world.

What They Want To Hear

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — So you want to be a good conversationalist?

But you don't have time to memorize a thousand sparkling quotations or read a lot of heavy books so you'll be really well informed?

So what? What does being witty or knowledgeable have to do with being a good conversationalist?

The man who impresses you most with his speaking ability isn't the one who tells you something new. No, it's the one who tells you what you want to hear who sticks in your memory.

The backbone of any real conversational skill lies in probably a dozen or so key remarks you can make which give reassurance to people in most situations and which bolster their own secret high opinion of themselves. Just memorize the following statements, and use them as often as you can to as many people as possible.

"You've been a kind of hero to me in a way for a long time, but I never thought you were so young."

"From the way you're built, I'd judge you must have played a little football in your time — and not so many years ago at that."

"When you know you've got the right on your side, like you do, the battle is half won."

"Well, some people are just born photogenic, and some aren't. You're one of the lucky ones."

It looks like you're taking off weight lately. What's your secret?"

"The trouble with you is that you're too generous for your own good. Here, let me get this round."

"I can't think of anyone else who could hold up under the strain like you do. You must be made of iron."

"Of course, they're all pretty, but I'd say this one is the best looking of the lot—the one that has your eyes and that same delightful little crinkle around the mouth."

"Well, I'll say one thing about you—you never go off half-cocked. When you open your mouth, you make real sense."

"I should think that a wife lucky enough to have you for a husband really couldn't find much in her life to complain about."

"Why should they expect you to do the thinking for everybody?"

Yes, it is only by telling people what they want to hear that you can gain a name as a good conversationalist. One people are always glad to talk to. If you try to tell them anything else, they not only won't listen—they'll spread the word that you're one of the biggest-mouthed bores of all time.

Bought Dope From Teacher, Girls Claim

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Three teen-age girls say they purchased drugs from a high school teacher who told them more was available if they wanted it.

The girls, all 14, told school authorities the teacher, at their request, delivered what they thought were LSD tablets to one of their homes May 12.

Police said school authorities have handled the thrust of the investigation but added that the Fort Worth crime lab reported that the pills were mescaline, not LSD.

VIOLENCE EXPLODES Irish Town Bombed

BELFAST (AP) — More violence exploded in Northern Ireland Thursday night, and the budding Roman Catholic peace movement ran into opposition from grass-roots supporters of the Irish Republican Army.

The teacher denied the accusation. No charges have been filed.

Police said school authorities have handled the thrust of the investigation but added that the Fort Worth crime lab reported that the pills were mescaline, not LSD.

Van Schedule Is Altered

Schedule for a speech-and-hearing diagnostic van due in Big Spring has been changed.

The van which will provide comprehensive speech and hearing screening for pre-school and first grade children, will arrive May 30 instead of May 29.

The van is sponsored by the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center in conjunction with the West Texas Education Center Special Education Component.

The van will be open for testing from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. May 30-31 and from 8:30 a.m. to noon June 1.

The free program, open to any child whose parents think might have a speech or hearing disability, is primarily a screening program to determine if further evaluation or treatment is indicated.

Two Local Girls Receive Degrees
Three Howard County residents were among 1,287 students receiving degrees at the 82nd annual spring commencement May 16 at North Texas State University.

Receiving bachelor of science degrees in physical education were Leandra Sue Bearden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elvin L. Bearden, 1727 Purdue, and Christi Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Price both of Big Spring. Mrs. Darlene Gay Chapman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Wright, Star RT, Knott, was granted the BS degree in elementary education.

Ken Blackington, a patrolman for the Big Spring Police Department, has recently been graduated with an AA degree, relating to police science, from Howard County Junior College.

Blackington, 25, started at the junior college in June of 1969 and received his degree in graduation ceremonies May 18.

The officer plans to continue his education at Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, next fall semester. His major will be in law enforcement and he will commute from Big Spring to Abilene on his days off from work.

Several local patrolmen have been graduated from Hardin-Simmons with their BA degrees in law enforcement. Patrolman Larry Lee completed his education there this semester.

Blackington has lived in Big Spring since December of 1964 and went to work for the police department in January of 1968. He is a Vietnam veteran.

A breakdown of the total sum would give the university's work-study program $96,000; the Educational Opportunity Grant program $40,000; and a tentative commitment of $165,000 for the National Defense Student Loan program.

Matching amounts from institutional funds will make some $108,000 available in the work-study program and will bring the approved level of lending for National Defense loans to $215,000.

His wife, Nancy, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hatley of Forney, Tex.

Willis J. Lucero, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Lucero, 709 N. Avenue O, Lamesa, recently was promoted to Army Specialist Four while serving with the 14th Armored Cavalry regiment in Germany.

Spec. Lucero is a helicopter crew chief in headquarters troop of the regiment's 2nd Squadron near Bad Kissingen. He entered the army in June 1971, completed basic training at Ft. Polk, La., and was stationed at Ft. Rucker, Ala.

He is a 1971 graduate of Lamesa High School.

His wife, Yolanda, is with him in Germany.

Army Pfc. William Gonzales Jr., 18, whose parents live in Big Spring, recently was assigned for duty with the Tripler Army Medical Center in Hawaii.

Pfc. Gonzalez, a laboratory technician, entered the Army in September, 1971, received basic training at Ft. Polk, La., and was last stationed at Ft. Sam Houston, Tex.

He is a 1971 graduate of Big Spring High School.

Marine Pfc. George F. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Anderson of 2002 Johnson St., and husband of the former Miss Betty L. Burleson of 1702 Rannels St., all of Big Spring, has begun basic electronics training at Marine Corps Base, Twentynine Palms.

When he completes this school he will be assigned to specialized training in communications-electronics. He is a 1971 graduate of Big Spring High School and a former student of Howard County Junior College, Big Spring.

Army Pvt. Patrick L. Benton, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Benton, 1404 N. 15th, Lamesa, recently completed eight weeks of basic training at the U.S. Army Training Center, Infantry, Ft. Polk, La.

Pvt. Benton received the training with Company A, 4th Battalion of the 1st Brigade.

He is a 1969 graduate of Lamesa High School, and attended Angelo State University and North Texas State University.

James D. White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland H. White, 701 E. 15th St., Big Spring, recently was promoted to Army Specialist Four while serving with the 8th Infantry Division in Germany.

A clerk with Battery A, 1st Battalion of the division's 2nd Field Artillery, he entered the Army in August 1971 and was last stationed at Ft. Still, Okla.

James Rapalee Badly Hurt

A Webb AFB airman is reported to be in serious condition, the result of a car-motorcycle accident at Loop 700 and Goliad intersection Thursday at 6:19 p.m.

James M. Rapalee, of the 3560th Field Maintenance Squadron, was medically evacuated between 2 and 3 a.m. today to Wilford Hall Hospital, Lackland AFB, San Antonio.

Rapalee was taken to Webb AFB Hospital following the accident, and was apparently in stable condition, according to the base information office.

However, later last night, his condition became worse and the man was transferred to Lackland after reportedly lapsing into a coma. His condition at noon today was still reported to be critical.

Percy Bascom Baldrige, 83, 1202 E. 3rd, was the driver of the automobile and apparently was not injured in the accident.

According to police reports, the Baldrige vehicle was traveling west on Loop 700 and attempted to make a left turn onto the south bound lane of Goliad, when Rapalee, driving his motorcycle east on Loop 700, collided with the car.

More Heists Reported

Victims of burglaries are growing in number in Big Spring, as burglars continue their tricks in trade. Two more break-ins were investigated by police Thursday and early today.

Edward G. Ramirez reported to police last night that his residence, 611 N. San Antonio, had been broken into and several items were missing. Taken was a portable television, valued at $500; a coat, valued at $25; and a clock radio, valued at $35.

Ramirez told police the burglary occurred sometime after 10 p.m. Thursday, after he had left for work. Entry was gained to the house through the bathroom window.

Deputy Sheriff Sam Robertson reported by radio to the police department at 12:59 a.m. today he saw a Mexican-American male running from the Grantham Jewelry Store, 305 S. Main. The suspect ran into an alley between Main and Runnels street and was last seen headed south. Neither police or the deputy were able to apprehend the man.

Police found that nine watches had been taken from the jewelry store, and others were left on the floor of the store and outside on the ground. The watches taken by the burglar were valued at $482.28.

Several local patrolmen have been graduated from Hardin-Simmons with their BA degrees in law enforcement. Patrolman Larry Lee completed his education there this semester.

Blackington has lived in Big Spring since December of 1964 and went to work for the police department in January of 1968. He is a Vietnam veteran.

School Aid Fund Being Enriched

SAN ANGELO — Some $310,000 in federal funds have been earmarked for Angelo State University's financial aid program according to information received recently by ASU president, Dr. Lloyd D. Vincent.

A breakdown of the total sum would give the university's work-study program $96,000; the Educational Opportunity Grant program $40,000; and a tentative commitment of $165,000 for the National Defense Student Loan program.

Matching amounts from institutional funds will make some $108,000 available in the work-study program and will bring the approved level of lending for National Defense loans to $215,000.

Hobby-Connally Battle Remains At Fever Pitch

By The Associated Press
 State Sen. Wayne Connally has attacked his Democratic opponent in the lieutenant governor's race, Bill Hobby, for allegedly spanking a child some four years ago.

Connally was accused Thursday by Hobby of accepting $3,072 in checks in 1969 from the National Bankers Life Insurance Co., which was involved in the Texas stock scandal.

SPANKED HER SON
 A Sept. 10, 1967, article in the Houston Post, of which Hobby is president and executive editor, said Mrs. Marcia Tips had filed a charge of aggravated assault against Hobby after Hobby had spanked her 11-year-old son because the boy twisted the arm of Hobby's son.

Asst. Harris County Dist. Atty. Roland Dahlin said Thursday that the charge was dismissed the following day because it was not a "meritorious one."

Connally said Hobby had made "character an issue in the race and I will be happy to have the voters measure mine against his."

Connally told a Capitol news conference Thursday that the checks to NBL President John Osorio, a key figure in the stock scandal, were for a "pure and simple hunting arrangement" and that Osorio did not attend the hunt at Connally's ranch.

DESPERATE ATTEMPT
 Hobby issued a statement saying Connally's use of the spanking incident was "a desperate attempt by my opponent to divert public attention from his unexplained involvement with John Osorio, National Bankers Life and the Sharpstown scandal."

"It simply was a matter of an older neighborhood child physically harming one of my children. Charges were filed and then dismissed," Hobby said.

Connally retaliated against Hobby's allegations by distributing a letter from Travis County Dist. Atty. Bob Smith which said Connally "was in no way implicated in any wrongdoing" in the Sharpstown scandal.

In the Democratic governor's race, Mrs. Frances Farenthold told a Victoria audience that most Texas voters are not represented in their own state government.

MOST TEXANS
 "It's not just the blacks or the minorities," she told a rally, but it's most Texans who are not represented."

She said as governor she would establish a new interest group in Austin in which "all the victims of our private government would be represented."

She promised enthusiastic crowds in Galveston and Beaumont that she would take state level action against local officials who do not stop pollution.

Earlier she gave a nickname to her opponent Dolph Briscoe, calling him Rip Van Winkle II.

An aide to Mrs. Farenthold also sought from a reporter a copy of Briscoe's schedule, which could mean Mrs. Farenthold is still trying to confront Briscoe in an impromptu debate.

Briscoe's headquarters in Austin announced that the 30,000-member Houston-Gulf Coast Building and Construction Trades Council has endorsed him.

RADICAL CHANGE
 In Fort Worth, Briscoe said Mrs. Farenthold "favors radical upheaval in nearly every aspect of the governmental and political spectrum. On the other hand, I am offering the people of Texas diligent and effective leadership which will bring progress and balanced change where change is needed."

Secretary of State Bob Bullock, the state's chief election officer, also was involved in the Republican run for the government. Bullock responded to a telegram from Thad Hutcheson of Houston which asked Bullock to "correct your unbelievable statement that Henry Grover's campaign expense report is legal on its face."

CANT HELP
 Albert Fay, in a runoff with Grover for the Republican nomination, claims Grover has spent campaign funds to pay other debts.

"I am sorry that I cannot help your candidate Albert Fay in his effort to be the Republican nominee for governor," Bullock wrote Hutcheson. "Your attempt to use this office and my staff as campaign fodder offends me."

Bullock said he had offered to give Fay a legal opinion on campaign contributions and expenditures, but Fay has not asked for one.

Barefoot Sanders, opposing Ralph Yarborough in the runoff for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate, told an Abilene audience Yarborough is a "political medicine man."

As a senator, Sanders said, Yarborough was always on the side of the "ultra-liberals who wanted more and more government spending as the one and only solution to every problem."

SOCIALIZED MEDICINE
 He said Yarborough's proposed national health insurance program is "socialized medicine" which would cost at least $77 billion a year.

Yarborough announced in Garland he supports a proposal pending in Congress which would halt busing of school children for 18 months and "effectively limit federal funds for new busing."

"Busing has worked a hardship on families of all ethnic groups and has often so torn families and the community as to impede rather than further quality education," Yarborough said.

Storms Roam Near Lamesa

By The Associated Press

Light showers and occasional thunderstorms died down again today after dampening areas from the Texas Panhandle southward to old Langtry on the Mexican border.

A few heavy storms struck the Panhandle-Plains sector during the night, flogging Amarillo and Lubbock with winds up to 40 miles per hour and dropping hail the size of marbles southwest of Amarillo.

Still other menacing storms whipped through the areas around Andrews, Tulia, Lockney, Hale Center, Lamesa and Pampa.

By early morning most of the shower activity was confined to a Panhandle-Plains sector including Guthrie, Paducah, Turkey, Shamrock, Canadian and Perryton, with a few scattered showers also near Vernon and Junction.

Skies were generally clear to partly cloudy but there was considerable haze, smoke or fog over the coastal plains and Lower Rio Grande Valley which lowered visibility to two miles in places.

Temperatures near dawn ranged from 55 degrees at Dalhart in the Panhandle up to 75 at Dallas and Galveston.

Aside from a few showers here and there in West Texas, forecasts called for no moisture. Temperatures in the middle 90s to near 100 were forecast.

Workshop Set In June

PLAINVIEW Special — The Eighth Annual Church Secretaries' Workshop at Wayland Baptist College is scheduled for June 22-24 with Miss Lucy Hoskins, editor of Church Administration Magazine, Nashville, Tenn., as guest clinician.

The workshop is open to church secretaries and workers of all faiths.

The program had been planned by Joe Provence, director of public relations and workshop director, Mrs. Jean Conaway, Crescent Park Baptist Church, Odessa, and Miss Nellive Clark, First Baptist Church, Midland. Mrs. Conaway is president of Association of Church Secretaries and Miss Clark is vice president.

Registration for the workshop, which is expected to draw secretaries from across Texas, New Mexico, Colorado and Oklahoma, is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. in Gate's Hall.

Dr. L. L. Morriss, pastor of First Baptist Church, Midland, will keynote the gathering. Dr. T. A. Patterson, Dallas, executive secretary of the Baptist General Convention of Texas will speak.

War Reminder

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet press gave extensive upbeat coverage to President Nixon's summit talks Thursday but it quietly reminded its readers there's still a war on in Vietnam.

How Personnel Responded After Assassination Try

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — An official of the hospital where Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace is being treated says virtually everyone there is "concentrating their efforts on Wallace."

During the first crucial hours after an attempted assassination sent Wallace to Holy Cross Hospital in Silver Spring, Md., "every department head came in and worked around the clock," said Peg McCuiston, the assistant administrator.

COMPLAINTS
 Ironically, Mrs. McCuiston was on vacation at the time of the shooting. She heard the news on the radio while driving around Padre Island, a popular tourist spot on the Texas Gulf Coast.

But she has kept in "extensive touch" with the hospital, she said in an interview during a visit here Thursday.

"He may have some complaints, because every patient does," she said, but noted that even such matters as his diet are given meticulous attention. "The dietitian department is tasting each meal before it arrives in his room to see if it's tasty and hot enough. . . I like to say we keep all our patients as VIPs—but some are more VIP than others. He's being given the VIP treatment," she said.

Wallace's stay has put a definite strain on the hospital staff as well as outsiders, Mrs. McCuiston said. One problem has been the restriction of visitors to other patients for security reasons.

GOOD DECISION
 "I'm told that there are placards saying, 'Holy Cross Prison—We Want to See Our Families,'" she said, "but under the circumstances the restrictions were a good decision."

She apparently referred to friends of an injured motorcyclist under treatment at the hospital who have objected to the restrictions against visitors, other than patients' next of kin.

Mrs. McCuiston said Wallace was brought to Holy Cross because it was near the shooting scene, and time was of the essence. "We were the closest best hospital," she said.

She also said Wallace is "in as good as, or better than, any hospital they could have taken him to, including Bethesda and Walter Reed."

A Houston native, Mrs. McCuiston was here Thursday as a panelist on a program about rising medical costs sponsored by the Yellow Rose Toastmistress Club of San Antonio. Her twin sister, Anne Stapp, is president of the club and set up the panel months before Wallace was shot.

Countdown For Miss Wool Contest Is Under Way

SAN ANGELO — Hundreds of people in the West Texas area are putting together the details of an intricate week, while across the nation, 70 young college women await their chance to win a $2,000 college scholarship, a new car, a $10,000 wardrobe, and a national title.

The national title is Miss Wool of America, and the week begins June 10 and ends with the Miss Wool of America pageant the night of June 16.

Twenty Texas A&M Aggie Cadets are being selected to escort the Miss Wool contestants, and a group of businessmen are building "floats that really float" for the illuminated River Parade. An entire West Texas county (Sterling County) is making plans to host the girls at a barbecue and Western dance, while workmen are checking out the lighting, sound, and air-conditioning of the spacious San Angelo Coliseum, where the pageant is to be held.

A plane has been chartered to bring the 20 contestants from Dallas Love Field to San Angelo, deep in the center of historic West Texas rangelands.

Barbara Eden, the star of television's "I Dream of Jeannie" will provide entertainment at the pageant, and Lyle Waggoner, often described as "that good looking fellow on the Carol Burnett show" will be master-of-ceremonies.

The beautiful Margi Sharp, 1971 Miss Wool of America, will hand over her crown at the conclusion of the pageant and end her glittering year of travel and merchandising the use of wool in women's apparel.

Police Trial Rule Nears

HOUSTON (AP) — The government has rested its case in the trial of former policemen Arthur N. Hill and Jack A. McMahon, charged with violating the civil rights of two suspects.

The former officers are charged in connection with the death of Bobby Joe Conner and the beating of Larry C. Taylor. The final government witness Thursday was Capt. R. G. McKehan, Hill and McMahon's supervisory officer on the day shift. Conner and Taylor allegedly were beaten in the Galena Park police station.

HEAVY FIGHTING IN KONTUM Yanks Break Up Tank Assault

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. forces firing electronically guided missiles newly introduced in Vietnam broke up a tank assault on Kontum City in the central highlands today. A dozen tanks were reported destroyed.

On the northern front, South Vietnamese marines beat back the fourth assault this week on the northernmost defense line at My Chanh north of Hue. The Saigon command claimed 192 North Vietnamese troops were killed and said South Vietnamese losses were seven killed and 34 wounded.

PILOT MISSING
In the air war against North Vietnam, American planes pounded the Haiphong area Thursday for the third day in a campaign to isolate the major port from the rest of the country. Pilots reported destroying one span each in two bridges and attacked a power plant near Vinh, 145 miles north of the demilitarized zone.

A Navy A4 jet was lost near Vinh, and the pilot was missing.

Heavy fighting continued in Kontum for the second day, and field reports said the North Vietnamese were trying to capture their second provincial capital. The country's northernmost provincial capital, Quang Tri, fell to the enemy May 1.

A number of North Vietnamese troops were reported still in the northeastern and southeastern sections of the city, but South Vietnamese forces were reported to have them contained and under attack.

The U.S. Command said American helicopters firing TOW missiles destroyed 10 of the 12 enemy tanks that were knocked out.

TANKS CAPTURED
U.S. sources in Pleiku said three of the tanks were American M41s captured from the South Vietnamese army a month ago.

TOW is an acronym for tube-launched, optically tracked, wire-guided. The missiles are guided by American operators who keep the target centered in a telescopic sight.

Overcast skies and poor weather kept U.S. and South Vietnamese fighter-bombers away from the area until noon, and U.S. officers said the TOW helicopters were the primary weapon in turning back the tanks. Meanwhile, more than a score of U.S. B52s dropped 600 tons of bombs on all four sides of the city, hitting at enemy troop concentrations.

The South Vietnamese command claimed that 244 North Vietnamese were killed in the Kontum area Thursday. Field reports said 20 South Vietnamese were killed and 80 wounded.

No U.S. helicopter losses were reported in the tank engagements, but two were shot down on Thursday in the Kontum area, the U.S. Command said. One crewman was killed and two are missing, the command said.

Nixon Doesn't Rule Out Tax Hike As Sub For Local Property Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon opposes seeking a tax increase next year if he is re-elected, but doesn't rule out one as a substitute for the local property tax, the White House says.

Instead, presidential assistant John Ehrlichman told reporters Thursday, Nixon will concentrate on trying to save money through cutting out unproductive federal programs and spending.

He said the administration "is opposed to any increase in federal taxation in the foreseeable future."

By that, Ehrlichman said, he means next year. "I can't enter a warranty over periods over which I have no control or interest."

He added that it is fair to say the fiscal 1974 budget sent to Congress early next year will not contain a tax-increase request—if Nixon is re-elected.

As for a tax-increase substitute for the property tax, Ehrlichman said a value-added tax is a possibility, but added there are alternatives, such as raising the income tax or excise taxes. The value-added tax, essentially a national sales tax, has been mentioned frequently as a way of lightening the home-owners' burden of financing public education.

Ehrlichman's news conference

VA Needs Cards Of Attendance

"Mail in your certification of attendance card for your final month of training, or you can't be paid."

That is the reminder the Waco Veterans Administration regional office is sending to 44,306 Texas veterans who have been attending colleges and universities under the GI Bill.

The veteran should fill out the "cert" card, sign it, and return it immediately to his VA regional office so he won't be wondering what happened to his education allowance for his final month of training, said Jack Coker, regional director.

ence turned out to be one of three administration declarations during the day against tax proposals and against a report by the Brookings Institution, a private organization which studies federal programs.

INCREASE INEVITABLE

The Brookings study said that either a tax increase or a cut-back in federal programs, or both, will be inevitable if the government undertakes any new big programs.

Ehrlichman said he read that to mean a tax increase is inevitable no matter who is elected president.

He said the Brookings report failed to focus enough on cutting federal spending to achieve economy and "we don't think that alternative can so easily be laid aside."

Treasury Secretary John B. Connally criticized the Brookings study in a meeting with Texas reporters and disagreed with any suggestion that a tax increase is inevitable.

On Capitol Hill, the man who will replace Connally as Treasury secretary. Budget Director George P. Shultz, said that before anything is done about higher taxes, "we must do everything we can to bring outlays under control."

RELIGION IN THE NEWS

Rev. Claude Craven To Head WMF; Varied Activities Are Scheduled

By LINDA CROSS
World Baptist Fellowship members have elected the Rev. Claude Craven, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church, president of the fellowship. Member churches across the country in the fellowship now total 850, including Trinity and Grace Baptist churches of Big Spring.

"I was surprised, and I felt very honored," said the Rev. Craven of his election. "It makes me very humble that preachers and delegates from across the country think enough of me to bestow this on me."

REV. CLAUDE CRAVEN

The Rev. Craven was elected by acclamation by 1,300 delegates attending the national World Fellowship Convention May 18 in Arlington, the headquarters of the fellowship.

Main duties the Rev. Craven will fulfill as president will be to coordinate the fellowship projects.

"The post of president will mean a great deal of work and some travel. I will be traveling to special meetings during the year in reference to school and world missions projects," said the Rev. Craven.

Top project for the fellowship currently is the construction of a $350,000 to $400,000 "gymnasium" on the campus of Arlington Baptist Schools. Ground-breaking ceremonies were held for the building May 17.

"The building is a multi-purpose building in which we will be able to hold all our fellowship conventions. It will seat 3,500 people. I will get to preside over the first meeting to be held in the building," said the Rev. Craven.

The Rev. Craven has been in the ministry for 23 years, and he has obtained a bachelor's of divinity, a master of theology and a doctorate of divinity degrees from Arlington Baptist Schools. The Rev. Craven and his wife, Elizabeth have lived in Big Spring for the last seven years.

Monday, 14 delegates representing three Big Spring Methodist churches will attend the Northwest Texas Conference in Amarillo.

First United Methodist Church delegates are K. H. McGibbon, H. G. Keaton, the Rev. Leo K. Gee, pastor; Mrs. Ethel Alldredge and Stephen Alldredge youth delegate.

Delegates from Wesley United Methodist Church are the Rev. Caleb Hildebrand, pastor; Bill Estes, Mike Bearden and Jack Worsham.

Denver Pettit, the Rev. Melvin Mathis, pastor; Alden Ryan, alternate; and Tina Teague, youth delegate, are to represent North Birdwell Lane Methodist Church.

An appeal for help is to be extended to Big Spring and area churches to assist the Veterans Administration Hospital in continuing its program in which community volunteers visit bed-fast, elderly patients each evening and assist with serving the evening meal.

The program is being conducted for patients in the long-term care ward in the hospital. Volunteers were first called for when it was learned that because the ward was short staffed in the evening, it was difficult to feed all the patients who must be hand-fed quickly and still give them individual attention.

According to Mrs. Dene Sheppard, director of volunteer services, the response by local churches to the first appeal was heart-warming. Each church participating in the program, serves for one week, sending six volunteers each night who are assigned patients to care for.

To date, volunteers have participated from Trinity Lutheran, Grace Baptist, Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic, Highway 80 Church of Christ, St. Paul's Presbyterian, First Christian and East Fourth Street Baptist churches.

"We invite churches from the surrounding communities to participate. Even though each church has not been contacted personally, we would appreciate any help any area church might be able to give us," said Mrs. Sheppard.

A special program featuring a wiener and marshmallow roast with all the trimmings is to be held today at 7:30 p.m. at Airport Baptist Church, 1208 Frazier.

The program is for all young people aged nine through 18 living in the Airport-Webb AFB area, and the parents of the youth in-the-area are also invited to attend.

Dan Shirley, minister of music at East Fourth Street Baptist Church, will conduct a religious musical concert Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at Airport Baptist Church, 1208 Frazier.

Vocal, instrumental, choral and ensemble music will be featured in the concert.

"You'll never be a stranger in our church," said the Rev. and Mrs. A. M. Madden, who have assumed the pastorate here for the Foursquare Gospel Church, 1210 E. 19th.

The Rev. and Mrs. Maden have extended a cordial welcome to all who would like to attend services at their church. They are now residing in the parsonage next door to the church.

With 40 years of experience in the ministry, the Rev. Madden said that he had "lost count of all the churches."

"My wife is a graduate of D-I-F-E Bible College. They (Foursquare Gospel membership) have been needing a resident pastor here, and the supervisor of the church in this area asked me to take the work," said the Rev. Madden. "I like the looks of the town and feel the possibilities are encouraging in building up a work here," added the Rev. Madden.

Mrs. Madden, who assists her husband in his ministry, has preached all over the United States, Canada and Mexico, and has worked for many years in the evangelistic field.

Members of the Big Spring Christian Science Church have for several months been praying as a church unit and individually for a solution to our woes in Vietnam.

Recently, the Christian Board of Directors for the First Church of Christ, Scientist in Boston, Mass., called for citizens to "bring to bear the immense power for good native to prayer" on the troubled conditions of Southeast Asia.

The statement was read in Christian Science churches around the world, and a front page editorial urging prayer for solution to the Vietnam and related conflicts appeared in the Christian Science Monitor.

Vacation Bible School will begin Thursday at 1 p.m. at First Presbyterian Church with a picnic for the teaching staff and students.

Tuesday, regular classes will begin, 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. and they will end Friday, June 9. On Sunday, June 11, a family night supper and "commencement" will be held.

Doris Howard, Stanton, is among the 15 Howard Payne College students who have received appointments to serve as missionaries this summer. Miss Howard's station will be announced later.

Lubbock Sets Youth Confab

A former member of "Hell's Angels" who was converted and became one of America's most exciting Christian speakers will head a cast of program personalities at the Youth Evangelism Conference in Lubbock's Fair Park Coliseum July 6-7.

The two-day meeting is one of five such conferences being sponsored across Texas this summer by the Evangelism Division of the Baptist General Convention of Texas. Theme of the meeting is "Meet Jesus."

Sessions will begin at 7 p.m. July 6 and 9 a.m. and 1:45 p.m. the following day.

The young people will hear the former motorcycle gang leader, Rick Carreno, Miss Cynthia Clawson, TV-recording star; Richard Hogue, youth evangelist, Houston; Gene Garrison, pastor of First Church El Paso; Mike Gott, youth evangelist for Trinity Church, Tyler; Logan Cummings, pastor of First Church, Brownwood; and Robert Richardson, pastor of Grace Temple Church, Denton.

A statewide Youth Evangelism Conference held in Fort Worth for several summers has drawn up to 14,000 youth, "but we are trying to reach even more young people for Christ by taking the conference program out where they live," said George Worrell, BGCT academic evangelism associate.

Evangelism Director C. Wade Freeman said the meetings will build on the growing interest and excitement in religion that is especially manifest among youth.

"Texas Baptists ought to reach more young people for Christ this summer than at any time in history," Dr. Freeman said.

Richie Karl Takes Lead At Atlanta

ATLANTA (AP) — Richie Karl, an unknown touring pro with less than $10,000 in career earnings, avoided his major hangup Thursday and stormed to the first round lead in the $130,000 Atlanta Golf Classic with a sizzling six-under-par 66.

Karl, a 27-year-old who has never finished higher than 14th in a major PGA event, held a one-shot lead over an elite field in which a trio of favorites fell four or more strokes off the pace—Jack Nicklaus at 70, South African Gary Player 71 and Lee Trevino 74.

Karl said he had been playing well in the past few weeks "but every time one or two holes jumps-up and grabs me." He took a 10 and eight at the Danny Thomas-Memphis Open last week and earlier had an eight at Houston.

He flirted with disaster Thursday at the par five 18th when his three wood skipped off a pond "just like a rock" and stopped 60 feet from the pin. He two-putted for a birdie.

Former Atlanta champions Bob Lunn and Bert Yancey were deadlocked at 67 with Ken Still and Dave Hill, who described his day as "sort of a humpty dumpty round that could have been an 87."

Kermit Zarley, Lou Graham and 1970 champion Tommy Aaron were grouped at 68 while Doug Sanders and Homero Blancas had 69s going into today's second round over the hilly, 6,833-yard Atlanta Country Club course.

Meanwhile, Nicklaus, the game's all-time leading money winner, said he was "sloppy with my short game. I missed a couple of short putts that I never should miss."

He withdrew from last week's tournament in Memphis because of a virus, but said he felt fine after Thursday's round.

Owl Quarterback Ballard Unhappy; Leaves Rice U.

HOUSTON (AP) — Saying he is unhappy and his family is unhappy, Friendswood blue chip quarterback Kent Ballard has announced he is leaving Rice University and hopes to enroll at another Southwest Conference school.

"All of the Southwest Conference schools are back in the picture," said Ballard, who missed his entire freshman year at Rice with a knee injury.

Ballard said he was not leaving with hard feelings but he has been unhappy since Coach Bill Peterson left Rice to become head coach of the Houston Oilers.

"I feel confident that I'll get a release from the other conference schools, although I have been told that it hasn't happened in 20 years," Ballard said.

Ballard said after receiving his release from Rice, he must enroll at another SWC school, then have his release letter approved by all other SWC schools before he could participate in football.

"If I can't get a release that will let me go to any other SWC school, I read in the paper where LSU went to the type of offense Coach (Bill) Peterson ran," Ballard said. "This could be a possibility."

Sam Houston Can Capture NAIA Berth

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sam Houston State College of Texas can win a berth in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics World Series with a victory tonight in the title game of the NAIA Area II playoffs.

Sam Houston dumped Texas Wesleyan 12-2 and host Grand Canyon College 6-0 in the opening round Thursday to reach the championship game unbeaten.

NBA Stars Defeat ABA Despite Czar's Threat

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — The National Basketball Association Players' Association has decided that if anyone is suspended or fined, all the players will quit, said burly Bob Lanier of the Detroit Pistons.

"That's probably true," said Dave DeBusschere of the New York Knicks, "but I don't know that for a complete fact. But that would be the logical thing to say. If they suspend one of us, they might as well suspend all of us."

They made their comments Thursday night, after the NBA All-Stars, playing under the threat of fines or suspensions from Commissioner Walter J. Kennedy, had overcome a 10-point deficit and edged the American Basketball Association's best players 106-104 at the Nassau Coliseum.

Kennedy had strongly warned the NBA players that they would be subject to fines, the minimum of which would be the amount they received for playing in the game. For beating the ABA for the second year in a row, the NBA players earned a total of $33,000, or $3,000 per player.

The ABA All-Stars, whose owners and Commissioner Jack Dolph had endorsed the game, split a total of $17,000.

"I wasn't really bothered by the threat, but apparently some players were," said Lanier, voted the game's Most Valuable Player after sparking the NBA's comeback with 15 points and seven rebounds.

Of the original group picked to represent the NBA, there were three defections—Milwaukee center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, the league's Most Valuable Player and leading scorer

Splitterff, Nelson Handcuff Angels On Six Hits, 5-2

ANAHEIM (AP) — Paul Splitterff and Roger Nelson handcuffed the California Angels on six hits in pitching the Kansas City Royals to a 5-2 victory Thursday night.

The loser was luckless Rudy May, 0-4, who has yet to be the beneficiary of a run in five starts this season.

May started his own downfall by fumbling leadoff batter Freddie Patek's grounder and then throwing the ball past first for a double error. Patek scored on Richie Scheinblum's double and Cookie Rojas singled Scheinblum across.

Paul Schaal hit his first home run of the season in the third. Splitterff sent a run home with a seventh-inning grounder and the Royals added a run off Eddie Fisher in the ninth on Schaal's single, two walks and Patek's sacrifice fly.

KID BASEBALL Comets Capture Lead With Win

The Comets shot past the Rockets, 8-3, in the International Little League Thursday night to capture the league lead.

The Comets, winners of nine of 10 starts, lead the second-place Starfighters by one-half game. The third-place T-Birds are 4½ games back.

Bobby Lacy pitched an excellent game for the Comets, giving up two hits and striking out 12 in six innings.

Mark Vieira and Mike Gomez had hits for the Comets.

Fishermen Report Variety Of Catch At Lake Spence

Fishermen reported a good variety of catches at Lake E. V. Spence near Robert Lee during the past week.

There was some increase in the number of white bass and black bass reported, and good strings of channel cat also were tallied.

Last weekend, the Permian Basin Bass Club tournament at Lake E. V. Spence produced Dewayne Parker as the first-day winner with a 7 pound, 4 ounce specimen, followed by Buddy Hawkins with a 7 lb-2 oz., and Laddon Sherrill 5 lb-4 oz.

Swafford and Pat Parnaby of Odessa reported catching 12 black bass weighing up to three pounds in another round of fishing. Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Beavers of Snyder caught 32 white bass and seven black bass. L. W. Rose of Odessa reported seven black bass. Mr. and Mrs. Don Brooks of Odessa caught a pair of 3-pound black bass. Laddon Sherrill of Odessa duplicated this catch.

Stuart Mahon of Robert Lee reported stringing five channel cat averaging two pounds. T. B. Adams, C. C. Carlisle, and Jim Jordan of Monahans reported catching 45 channel cat weighing up to four pounds. They also caught three black bass of which the largest weighed three pounds.

Robert Kitchens, E. J. Kitchens and Terry Myers of Odessa reported 20 channel cat averaging three pounds. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Reed of Monahans caught 16 channel cat. The largest weighed five pounds. Mr. and Mrs. James (Big'un) McCullough of Odessa boated 10 white bass weighing up to 1½ pounds.

Quinn Must Make Wrong Right

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — If anything—anything at all—goes wrong at the 500 mile race, Jo Quinn has to try to make it come out right.

But Jo combines a bawdy sense of humor—quips jump like popcorn from his pink checked face—with an innate ability to handle crowds and crises.

As safety director of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, he is lord of the 555½-acre manor which once a year turns madhouse when an estimated 300,000 auto racing buffs swarm in for the 500.

The 68-year-old, balding, brawny official is in charge of rescuing drivers from wrecked machines, drying out drunks, running out girls peddling sex, corralling 4,537 high school bandmen and creating order out of chaos as enough people to populate Tucson, Ariz., converge for the U.S. Auto Club classic and the pre-race festivities.

Quinn has been at the job for 27 years. He works from a cluttered office in a little white clapboard building just inside the main gate, issuing parking stickers, signing letters, talking on the telephone to people like the lieutenant governor, a county school teacher and the accompanist for Jim Nabors, who will sing "Back Home Again in Indiana" before the race.

Two days before the race, Jo was at work in his sweltering office—no air conditioning, windows closed—without sweating while wearing a pocketed, red quilted, down-filled vest he affectionately calls his traveling secretary.

"I had four coronaries so I take blood thinners and my blood was already thin," he explained.

Quinn is assisted by a group of top aides, he calls "the dirty dozen," 2,600 yellow-shirted officers known as the safety patrol, and a fire emergency unit.

That's inside the track.

Surrounding it tonight and Saturday will be 250 city policemen, 300 state troopers, 75 speedway policemen and 100 deputy sheriffs.

"I have a peculiar philosophy," he said, sitting back in his chair, crossing his legs to reveal black and white checkered socks to match his bow tie. "I always say, 'It sure is a helluva lot more wonderful to be nice.'"

Yet his chief concern when the race starts at 11 a.m. EST Saturday will be the drivers' safety.

Abilene To Meet Hurst Bell Raiders

ABILENE — The Abilene Eagles will meet the Hurst Bell Raiders in the decisive third game of their best-of-three regional series at Abilene's Blackburn Field at 4 p.m. today.

Abilene was defeated by Hurst Bell, 4-3, Wednesday night. The winner of today's game will advance to the state quarterfinals. Abilene boasts a 20-10 record going into today's contest. Hurst Bell is 23-10.

Righthander Clint Thomas, who blanked Hurst Bell, 1-0, on two hits in the opener, will be on the mound for Abilene. Starting for Hurst Bell will be southpaw Larry McWilliams. Thomas has a 15-4 record while McWilliams is 14-4.

Horoscope Forecast

CAROL RIGHTER

FRIDAY, MAY 26

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Today's Full Moon brings considerable activity in getting out of any rut into which you have sunk. Fine for outlining new ideas and also good for artistic and cultural expansion. Good for ending the goodwill of those of different backgrounds. State views directly to others.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Study that new idea well that can be of great help to you in the future and bring in much added income. A new contact has fine suggestions to make. Listen carefully and follow them quickly.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Your intuition is working accurately now and you should follow it for best results in whatever you are doing. Know what your most important responsibilities are and handle them diligently. Think, Grow.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Be sure to cooperate with associates who have a fine new plan to put in motion and don't put a damper on it. Use a different approach in order to handle that difficult problem. Get right results.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Accomplish all that work as fast as you can to free much time for whatever is more attractive. Take the time to shop for fine new items for your wardrobe. Get ready for busy days ahead.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You can get into new and interesting activities.

SESSION TO ADOPT STATE BUDGET

No New Taxes Pledge

AUSTIN, TEX. (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith has called the Legislature into special session, June 14 to adopt a state budget but no new taxes.

He said he is thinking about eight alternatives to cut or delay one potential source of new taxes—welfare.

"I said to the people of Texas (during his losing campaign for re-election) we would have no new taxes in that special session, and I think they believe what I say," Smith told a news conference.

COLLEGE AID

The governor also said: —He has called out 150 National Guard members from Austin and San Antonio on a volunteer basis to help the Highway Patrol during the Memorial Day weekend, which starts tonight.

—He has written letters to all Texas congressmen, asking them to vote for a senate-approved compromise bill increasing federal college aid and delaying the effective date of federal court busing orders until Jan. 1, 1974.

Smith's call for the session included only one subject: passage of state appropriations for the year starting Sept. 1, to replace the budget vetoed by Smith last June.

He said he also would allow the lawmakers to consider a code of ethics for state officials and repeal of a law requiring independent braking systems on trailers.

WOULD VETO IT

In the past, legislators have approved bills that were not included in special session calls. But Smith said this was because no one objected. He said he doubted an attempt to pass a tax bill would go without objection.

What if the unexpected happened, and the legislature—close to a majority of lame ducks—did pass a tax bill?

"That would call for a great deal of thought about what the money was going to be spent for. But if it was outside the things we ask for, of course we would veto it," Smith said.

"I have consulted with Lt. Gov. (Ben) Barnes and Speaker (Rayford) Price on this matter, and we share the conviction that this session can be conducted in an expeditious and business-like manner and in the best interest of state government and the citizens of Texas," the governor said in his prepared statement.

One of the alternatives for welfare which Smith reportedly is considering would be to appropriate funds for only six months—putting off on the 1973 regular legislative session the problem of taxes to pay for the other six months.

The governor said he thought all his appointees would "do real fine" when they come up for Senate confirmation. These include Texas Vending Commission Chairman Raymond B. Williams, dominant figure in the Texas jukebox industry, and controversial Secretary of State Bob Bullock.

LAST CHANCE

In Smith's letter to Texas congressmen, he said the "so-called 'anti-busing' amendments . . . are sufficient for the time being . . . Your vote on the conference committee report (the compromise bill) will probably be your last opportunity before September to vote whether or not the Congress establishes a policy on the transportation of students to achieve racial balance."

Smith said the guardsmen called out for Memorial day duty will "assist enforcement agencies in the detection of possible violators and irresponsible drivers," help motorists and render aid at accident scenes.

Maj. Gen. Ross Ayers, state adjutant general, said the guardsmen cannot make arrests and will be unarmed.

Does Not Foresee 'War' Until 1973

REHOVOT, Israel (AP) — Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan says that in the absence of a Middle East peace settlement his nation may have to retain occupied Arab territory until 1980 or 1985.

But Dayan told members of the Weizman Institute of Science Wednesday he does not foresee renewed fighting in the Middle East until early 1973. He explained that Egypt would need the Soviet Union's approval to open war again "and the Soviets won't do anything before the U.S. presidential election."

'For What They Can Do, Not What They Can't Do'

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Eunice Kennedy Shriver, sister of the late President John F. Kennedy, says people must accept what they can do, not what they can't do.

Mrs. Shriver issued the appeal for public understanding during a brief speech here Thursday at ceremonies for the Texas State Special Olympics, which opens here today.

About 1,400 retarded and handicapped youngsters from throughout Texas will compete in track and field events and other activities during the two-day olympics.

Head coaches of the state meet are Ken Houston and Garland Boyet of the Houston Oilers.

Some of the first place winners will go to the National Special Olympics this summer in California.

Mrs. Shriver is vice president of the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation, which helped make the Texas olympics possible, and is executive director of the Special Olympics program.

Pair Convicted, Draw Sentences

MIDLAND — Kenneth Musgrave, former chairman of the board of Odessa Home Savings, and Marshall Womack of Bedford have been found guilty of embezzlement and drew prison terms in U.S. District Court here Thursday.

Musgrave and Womack had been accused of embezzling about $1.4 million from Home Savings.

Musgrave, found guilty on all five counts lodged against him, was given five years on each count, all to run concurrently.

Womack drew terms of three years on three of four counts. His terms will also run concurrently.

South was an eight to one favorite in today's four spade contract. Failure to fully capitalize on those odds proved costly to the declarer when he ran into a highly unfavorable division in trumps.

West's takeout double of South's opening one spade bid elicited a somewhat reluctant two diamond response by East. South required very little from partner to produce a play for 10 tricks and since he did not have outstanding defensive potential, South decided to capitalize on the favorable vulnerability conditions and put it right up to the opposition by leaping directly to four spades.

West opened the king of hearts on which dummy played the three, East the deuce and South the four. In order to prevent the establishment of the queen and jack of hearts for potential sluffs, West shifted to a diamond at trick two and North played the ace.

South was not particularly concerned regarding the premature dislodging of North's entry card, for it appeared that he would have no trouble in winning seven spade tricks, one diamond, and two clubs. A small spade was led at trick two and the king was played from the closed hand.

When West showed out, discarding a diamond, it came as a distinct blow to South. He led a heart, but West played the ace and excited with the king of diamonds forcing declarer to ruff. He attempted to sneak into dummy by leading the ten of clubs, but West played the king and returned another diamond. East covered the ten with the queen and South ruffed. There was no way for the latter to avoid the loss of two hearts, one club, and one spade.

Altho a three-nothing trump break is admittedly a long shot, South was in position to cinch his contract against any holding except three spades in the West hand. At trick two when the spade is led from dummy, it is suggested that he play the jack from his hand. Even if this trick loses to the queen, West has no way of attacking the club suit and dummy's third spade becomes an assured entry card.

South can ruff a diamond return, draw the remaining trump and then lead a heart. If West plays the ace, it establishes the queen and jack in dummy for club discards and the six of spades puts North in to accomplish that purpose. If West ducks the first round trump finesse is to protect against East's holding all three missing spades. When this proves to be the case, South is still assured of winning seven spades, one diamond, and two clubs.
