

AGREE TO AVOID MILITARY CONFRONTATIONS

Envision World Disarmament

MOSCOW (AP) — President Nixon and Communist party chief Leonid Brezhnev signed a joint statement of long-range principles today agreeing to avoid military confrontations and envisioning eventual total world disarmament.

For the nearer future, Nixon and the Soviet leader agreed in a companion communique to hold a European security conference—long a goal of the Soviet regime—quite soon. The conference will aim first at providing for an East-West cutback in military forces in Central Europe, notably those in East and West Germany.

Nixon concluded his seven days of summit talks at the Kremlin by inviting the three top Soviet leaders—Brezhnev, President Nikolai V. Podgorny and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin—to visit the United States "at a mutually convenient time."

As for the prospects, "only the future can say, and I wouldn't want to speculate," Kissinger said.

MORE SWEEPING

The communique also dealt with Middle East tensions and said the United States and the Soviet Union "declare their readiness to play their part in bringing about a peaceful settlement."

Of the two summit documents, the statement of principles signed by Nixon and Brezhnev at a televised Kremlin ceremony was the more sweeping.

Kissinger cautioned, however, that it represented "an aspiration and attitude" and that either side can ignore it at will.

The presidential adviser added that Nixon assumes the Soviet leaders take the document seriously or they wouldn't have signed it.

In noting that each government has an out, Kissinger volunteered for the benefit of those back home who may take a dim view of the accord that Nixon has "not suddenly gone soft-minded."

The first basic principle affirmed by Nixon and Brezhnev is that the Soviet and U.S. governments "will proceed from the common determination that in the nuclear age there is no alternative to conducting their relations on the basis of peaceful coexistence."

GOOD DEAL

Differences in ideology and social systems, the document said, "are not obstacles to the bilateral development of normal relations based on the principles of sovereignty, equality noninterference in internal af-airs and mutual advantage."

The second principle declared that the two countries "attach major importance to preventing the development of situations capable of causing a dangerous exacerbation of their relations."

Nixon and Brezhnev agreed "they will do their utmost to avoid military confrontations and to prevent the outbreak of nuclear war."

Doubtless the most visionary basic principle set forth was the sixth, which said:

"The U.S.A. and the U.S.S.R.

regard as the ultimate objective of their efforts the achievement of general and complete disarmament and the establishment of an effective system for international security in accordance with the purposes and principles of the United Nations."

With China obviously in mind, the statement said the development of closer relations between their countries "is not directed against third countries and their interests."

The two leaders declared:

"The U.S.A. and the U.S.S.R. make no claim for themselves and would not recognize the claims of anyone else to any special rights or advantages in world affairs. They recognize the sovereign equality of all states." Kissinger said he found it "highly significant" that two governments holding "seemingly irreconcilable differences are making an effort" to insure the future peace of the world.

Former Press Secretary Of LBJ Supports Sissy

By The Associated Press

"Disappointed" that Dolph Briscoe won't debate, Frances Farenthold goes into the final week of campaigning today before Saturday's runoff election with she and Briscoe locked in a taut struggle for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Meanwhile, Barfoot Sanders and Ralph Yarborough have just a week left to do political battle as they vie in a runoff for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate seat now held by Sen. John Tower, a Republican.

The short time left to campaign is evident in the ever sharper personal attacks and heated rhetoric.

I'M SURE

Mrs. Farenthold, a state representative from Corpus Christi, confronted Briscoe in a Fort Worth hotel corridor Saturday where the two were speaking and she pressed her request for a televised debate.

Briscoe, a Uvalde rancher-banker, said he didn't have time and Mrs. Farenthold said she was disappointed.

"I'm sure you are," Briscoe said dryly, and left.

Albert Fay, the Republican veteran, accused his opponent, Henry Grover, of joining forces with professional Democrats.

Making campaign appearances in Abilene and San Angelo Saturday, Fay said Secretary of State Bob Bullock made false statements to the press Saturday, said Fay.

"In Dallas on Thursday, Grover was distributing copies of a vicious telegram from Bullock to Thad Hutcheson, my state campaign co-chairman. This was some 18 hours prior to its actually being sent from Austin.

"The only conclusion that can be drawn is that Grover and Bullock are working hand in hand to see to it that Grover is able to Dodge the question of his own financial integrity and gain the Republican nomination."

"Instead of answering the questions concerning his personal and political financial dealings, my opponent has apparently been dealing with the Secretary of State to cloud the issue."

DON'T BUY

However, when asked if Nixon would have gone ahead with the mining of North Vietnamese ports had the principles been agreed upon two months ago, the presidential aide confessed he had a professional interest in ducking the query but declared: "No set of principles can be used like a cookbook."

Responding to questions from American newsmen, Kissinger denied that Nixon and the Russians failed to reach a long-term trade accord because of U.S. insistence that the issue be linked to a Vietnam settlement.

HIJACKER CAPTURED — Aristidee Sambakis, above, was captured by Athens police Sunday after he threatened to blow up the Olympic Airways 707 jet unless the airline flew him to London for medical treatment. He brandished a pistol and what he said were sticks of dynamite in the cockpit of the plane. The weapons turned out to be phony. Sambakis was reported to be suffering from a psychopathic disorder.

Memorial Day

By The Associated Press

Today is Memorial Day, winding up a three-day bumper-to-bumper weekend with the nation's public tribute to the men who have fallen in battle from Bull Run to Khe Sanh.

Among the traditional ceremonies scheduled, was the laying of a wreath at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery. Rep. William Scott, R-Va., will represent President Nixon, who is winding up his Moscow summit meeting.

In San Francisco, the Coast Guard cutter Resolute will cast a wreath on the sea outside the Golden Gate.

A new memorial to the war dead will be dedicated in Coweta, Okla., the American city which claims to have lost the most men per capita in the Vietnam war.

The northeastern Oklahoma town of about 2,200 has recorded eight young men killed in the conflict.

In Frankfort, Ky., the Marine Corp League plans services at the gravesite of Lt. Presley N. O'Bannon, said to be the first Marine to raise the American flag on foreign soil.

A feature of the observance in Dallas is the lining of drives in two local cemeteries with hundreds of flags, each flown in memory of a serviceman or woman and given by their families.

AUTO INSURANCE HEARING DATE

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Board of Insurance said today that the annual public hearing on automobile casualty insurance rates and rules will be held July 24 in Austin.

The general public as well as all insurance companies and other allied interests are invited to file written statements with the board by June 23 and present additional briefs and arguments at the hearing the next day.

Rate revisions made by the board as a result of the hearing will be effective Sept. 1, unless regulations make a later date necessary, the board's announcement said.

Navy Plane Missing

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (AP) — Good weather and improved visibility aided searchers today as they renewed a hunt in Pacific waters and coastal mountains for a Navy plane with eight men aboard.

Four Coast Guard cutters and five airplanes took up the search at daylight after a single plane had worked through the night.

Bribery Raps Hit Officers

SEOUL (AP) — Two brigadier generals and four other officers of the Defense Ministry's procurement agency have been arrested on bribery charges involving more than $470,000 military sources said today.

The officers are alleged to have received the bribes since 1970 from 13 local firms that were awarded military contracts to supply clothes, tires, leather goods and other items, the sources said.

The opposition New Democratic Party claimed that four generals have been relieved of their posts in connection with the case.

VITAL QUESTION

Henry A. Kissinger, the President's assistant for national security affairs, said the return summit would not take place until after the U.S. elections in November.

The communique recited the opposing views of American and Soviet negotiators on Vietnam.

However, Kissinger said the war was the subject of "long, sometimes difficult and detailed discussions" which left in doubt the vital question of whether the two governments understand each other on the issue and will cooperate to seek peace.

MODEL'S FEET ALWAYS DIRTY It's Easy To Spot Poor Quality Pornography

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — It's easy to spot a poor-quality pornographic movie, according to Asst. Atty. Gen. Ray Marky. "The model's feet are dirty."

SMUT NUT

Marky calls himself Florida's "Mr. Porn" and "Chief Smut Nut." Florida Atty. Gen. Robert Shevin says Marky knows "more about pornography than anybody in the Southeast."

As the state's legal expert on illegal sexiness, Marky is the man the state's police forces call for advice when they want to raid a smut shop or a movie house.

And he says the job has its drawbacks.

A newspaper reported that he sat through two showings of a film called "Titillating Tex" before deciding police could close the theater. Not so, said Marky.

"Once was enough" to make the judgment, he said. But people still believe he sat through an encore. "I can't go anywhere without people saying, 'You like those dirty movies, don't you? You see them twice.'"

Marky said he reads lewd books or views allegedly pornographic movies about once a month to advise police and prosecutors if the material is legally obscene.

He said his biggest problem

BURIAL AT WINDSOR CASTLE Long Exile Of Duke Ends

LONDON (AP) — The long exile of the Duke of Windsor ends Wednesday when his body is flown home for burial on the grounds of Windsor Castle.

The former King Edward VIII, who gave up the British throne on Dec. 11, 1936, to marry an American divorcee, died an hour before dawn Sunday at his home in Paris. He was 77, and his wife was at his side, holding his hand, after an all-night vigil.

The Windsors had no children.

The duke had been in failing health for months, and there were reports he had cancer of the throat. When his niece Queen Elizabeth II visited him at his home 10 days before he died, he was unable to rise from his chair.

NATIONAL MOURNING

The duke long ago arranged with his brother and successor, the late King George VI, that he would be buried at Frogmore, the effigy-encrusted mausoleum half a mile from Windsor Castle. Queen Victoria and her consort, Prince Albert, are buried there, and so is one of the duke's brothers, the Duke of Kent, who was killed in World War II.

Queen Elizabeth ordered a week of national mourning until June 5, the day of the funeral. She arranged for the body to be flown back to Britain in a Royal Air Force transport.

The duke will lie in state in St. George's Chapel, at Windsor Castle, on Friday and Saturday. Thousands are expected to file past to pay their last respects.

PRIVATE FUNERAL

The duke, sensitive to royal protocol and the scandal his marriage caused in his homeland, asked for a private funeral.

The duchess, now 75, will accompany the duke's body on its last journey home. The Queen, in a final gesture of reconciliation, invited the duchess to stay at Buckingham Palace for the first time.

These arrangements were not enough for some Britons who felt the former king should be honored by lying in state in Westminster Hall, where England's monarchs are traditionally laid out for public mourning.

Windsor had become a favorite of the American public as the affable, hard-hitting, pleasure-loving Prince of Wales and globe-trotting salesman of the British Empire. His abdication for the love of a divorced American woman enhanced his hold on the American public, and to the end they remained the most sought after guests by American hostesses.

KING'S CHOICE

As Edward VIII, he succeeded his father on Jan. 21, 1936, reigned for 327 days and was never crowned. His abdication was unprecedented in the 1,000-year-old history of the British monarchy.

The king's choice was Mrs. Wallis Warfield Spencer Simpson, wife of a London shipbroker. She was considered unsuitable to share the throne because she was a commoner and a divorcee.

The king abdicated on Dec. 11, 1936, after a farewell broadcast in which he said he could not go on without "the woman I love." Romantics around the world were in tears. Others thought he had failed to live up to his royal obligations.

He became the Duke of Windsor, while his brother the Duke of York became King George VI. Five months later, on June 3, 1937, Windsor and Mrs. Simpson were married in France. From that day, they were rarely separated.

DUAL MISSION — Mrs. Ned O. (Nellie) Barber, 71, walked eight miles this morning with her two dogs to lay flowers on the Trinity Memorial Park grave of her husband, who died in 1967. When offered a ride back to town, she asked to be let out in Comanche Trail Park so that she could exercise her pets.

Three other persons in the Soto car were injured. Injured in the second vehicle were Dick Nelson, 42, Cudahay, Calif., and seven members of his family.

DEATHS

William Taroni, Arkansas Rites

Funeral mass for Balillo (William) Taroni, 67, uncle of Tony Taroni, will be held at 11 a.m. Tuesday in the Nalley-Pickie Rosewood Chapel.

Burial will be in Gurdon, Ark., but time has not been set. Mr. Taroni died in a hospital here Monday morning. He had been in ill health, but he died of a heart attack.

He was born December 1904 in Gagnacavallo, Italy and came in January 1920 to join his brother and family at Texarkana. Subsequently, he went into photography and operated a studio in Chicago, Ill., from 1927-57. Five years ago he came to Big Spring to make his home with his nephew and family.

Also surviving are a nephew, Thomas A. Taroni, and a niece, Mrs. W. C. Edwards, both of Lubbock.

Acri Returns To Hospital

Eddie Acri, city commissioner, was readmitted to the Veterans Administration Hospital Friday afternoon. According to hospital sources, Acri was again undergoing severe chest pains when admitted.

This morning the commissioner was reported to be resting well. However, doctors have requested that visitors be limited to immediate family.

Another series of tests will begin on the commissioner Tuesday, the source said today.

Acri was taken to the hospital several months ago complaining of severe chest pains. It was later learned the commissioner had undergone a heart attack.

After approximately six weeks, Acri was released from the hospital, but was kept under observation.

According to Acri during his time out of the hospital, there is still a blockage in a main artery to his heart, and doctors felt the condition might improve over a period of time.

VANDALISM

Vandalism to a wrought iron fence at the Westward Ho Motel was reported to police Saturday. Damage to the fence was set at $50.

Nell Frazier Is Victim Of Fire

Mrs. Nell Elizabeth Frazier, who contributed much to the cultural growth of Big Spring, died at 9:35 a.m. Monday from the effects of inhalation of smoke when fire damaged her home at 1681 Owens Saturday afternoon.

Services are pending at Nalley-Pickie Funeral Home but rites likely will be held Wednesday morning.

She was co-founder of Bennett House, now Big Spring Nursing Inn.

Mrs. Frazier, whose maiden name also was the same, was born in Brandon, Tex., and although her parents had a ranch west and south of where Webb AFB is now located, she did not move here until 1928 when she came from Electra.

There was a dearth of musical activity during the oil-boom days, and especially in the Depression years which followed. She volunteered to teach music in the high school, the first time that voice had been offered on a regular basis.

She also established the first choir as a school program, although there had been informal girl groups earlier. The first year she won three titles with this choir, and the awards are still in the high school trophy case.

She was director of music for the First Baptist Church for a time, and later for the other churches. When the late Alma Blount wrote the lyrics for a school song three decades ago, Mrs. Frazier put it to music.

She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and of the Business and Professional Women's Club. With her son, James Bruce Frazier and his wife, she established the Bennett House as a major convalescent home.

Surviving her are her son, James B. Frazier, Eagle Pass, and a daughter, Mrs. Cornelia Barlow, Long Island, N.Y.; 12 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Gary Davis Wins Highest Honor Bestowed By JCs

A new year for the Big Spring Jaycees was officially kicked off Saturday night at the installation banquet held at the Webb AFB Officer's Club.

A successful 1971-72 was highlighted with recognition of various award winners and then the gavel was handed to Don Worthan, who will preside as president of the organization in what will be one of its most important years.

Gary Davis, Webb AFB, was given the highest honor of the year, as he received the Jaycee of the Year Award and also the Outstanding Officer award. Davis was secretary of the organization and published the Jaycee newsletter, The Rattler, along with other work during the year.

Ed die Cole, first vice president of the chapter, received the Presidential award for his close work with the past president, R. K. Taylor. And Worthan received the Outstanding Project award for his efforts in making the 10th Annual Rattlesnake Roundup the most successful project during the year, and the most profitable for the organization.

Other dignitaries attending the dinner banquet were Father Moeller, Immaculate Heart of Mary Church; City Commissioner and Mrs. Harold Hall and Col. Malcolm Ryan, Webb AFB wing commander. Col. Ryan gave the banquet address, challenging the Jaycees to a year as successful as the last. He told the incoming officers they needed two things during the year: Communications with the membership and support from the membership in their efforts toward community betterment and leadership development.

Ryan was then presented with the Boss of the Year Award for his cooperation this year in making time available for Webb AFB personnel, who are members of the Jaycees, to participate in the organization's functions.

Officers were then installed by George Lee, past National Director for Texas Jaycees from Abilene. Officers included: Worthan, president; Bill Orenbaum, 1st vice president; Jim Willett, 2nd vice president; Gary Davis, treasurer; and Pete Gregg, secretary.

Directors installed were: Alton Fields, Roy Deel, Freddie Simpson and Brian Peay.

This year marked the fourth year the Big Spring Jaycees have "blue chipped." To "blue chip" the club has to have an increase in membership of 10 per cent over the previous year, be among the top 10 per cent of the organizations in Big Spring's population bracket and numerous other requirements.

After the organization has "blue chipped" for four consecutive years, and if requirements are met the fifth year, the organization receives the "gold chip," held by only a few Jaycee chapters in the nation. Worthan promised this coming year will see the unit receive the "gold chip" award.

Fighting Rages In Kontum, Troops Recapture School

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese forces lying in ambush south of An Loc today dealt a South Vietnamese relief column its second major setback in four days, killing or wounding 100 or more government soldiers with a heavy barrage.

Field reports said North Vietnamese gunners poured more than 1,000 rounds of rockets and artillery and mortar shells at South Vietnamese forces trying to move up Highway 13 north of Saigon.

The column was hit about 3 1/2 miles south of An Loc. Preliminary reports from the field said about 15 South Vietnamese were killed today and 90 or 90 wounded.

UNDER ATTACK

An Loc, 60 miles north of Saigon, has been under siege since April 7, a week after the North Vietnamese launched their offensive across South Vietnam. The relief column has been stalled for the past 10 days by North Vietnamese troops who are reported heavily entrenched on the western side of Highway 13.

In the central highlands, 50 U.S. B52 bombers dropped 1,250 tons of bombs around Kontum in an attempt to keep the North Vietnamese from reinforcing their troops holding sections of the provincial capital for the fifth day.

Some of the strikes were within two miles of the city.

North Vietnamese gunners slammed 100 artillery shells into Kontum during the night after fighting all day Sunday in which the South Vietnamese command claimed 188 enemy troops were killed. Saigon said government forces recaptured an orphanage and a school in the southern part of town.

Field reports said 25 government troops were killed and 114 wounded in the fighting.

GAIN FOOTHOLD

North Vietnamese troops were reported still entrenched in both the northern and southern sections of the city.

On the southern front, the South Vietnamese command rushed several battalions of rangers to reinforce the district town of Dat Do, 45 miles southeast of Saigon, where Viet Cong forces have gained a foothold and control some of the district.

IRA Bomb That Exploded Accidentally Killed Six

BELFAST (AP) — An IRA bomb exploded accidentally in a Roman Catholic district of Belfast Sunday, killing six persons and wounding 18.

The casualty toll was expected to increase Catholic pressure on the Irish Republican Army to halt its campaign of violence in Northern Ireland.

The bomb blast killed three IRA men, all on the army's wanted list. They included Edward McDonald, a 27-year-old bomb expert, and Martin England, a company commander of the IRA's Provisional wing.

The army said the 100-pound bomb exploded as the IRA squad was carrying it to a car. It splattered pieces of bodies across the street and demolished several houses, burying sleeping families under the rubble.

Four other big bombs exploded in other sectors of Belfast Sunday. Three of them, estimated by the army to total more than 150 pounds of gel-

Nixon Visit Not Asked, Says Fidel

VIENNA (AP) — Cuban Premier Fidel Castro says he's not interested in meeting with President Nixon, according to the Bulgarian news agency BTA.

Newsman in Sophia asked Castro, who is on a tour of socialist countries, if such a meeting would be possible. Castro said conferring with the American president would "make no sense."

BTA said Castro claimed Nixon wanted Cuba to abandon its revolution and become political neutral.

Five Probers At Angela Trial Communist Members

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — The five defense investigators at the Angela Davis trial all are members of the Communist party and function as a collective.

Unlike investigators at most criminal trials, they are responsible for organizing and running a worldwide campaign to "Free Angela."

Among them, they have traveled tens of thousands of miles speaking and raising money for Miss Davis' defense.

They have organized rallies written statements and helped prepare a weekly account of Miss Davis' murder-kidnap-conspiracy trial proceedings. And they have decided what Miss Davis should do — and whom she should meet in her limited free time.

DEFENSE STRATEGY
Like other investigators, they have also questioned prospective witnesses and discussed defense strategy with Miss Davis' attorneys.

They are all close to Miss Davis—and were friends long before the 28-year-old former UCLA philosophy instructor was accused of furnishing four guns and helping plot an abortive courthouse escape at the Marin County Civic Center on Aug. 7, 1970, which ended in four deaths.

Two of the five—Miss Davis' sister, Franja Davis Jordan, 24, and Franklin Alexander, 31, are cochairmen of the National United Committee to Free Angela Davis and All Political Prisoners and act as chief spokesmen for her defense, doing the bulk of the traveling and public speaking.

Franklin's wife, Kendra Alexander, 25, is the National United Committee's permanent representative at the trial, acting as liaison between the defense committee and the legal staff. She usually sits with Miss Davis and is often mistaken for her.

CLOSEST FRIENDS
The Alexanders are perhaps Miss Davis' closest friends. Charlene Mitchell, 41, the Communist party's presidential candidate in 1968, is executive secretary of the National United Committee and runs its San Francisco office, which oversees activities of 200 "Free Angela" committees around the world.

The fifth investigator, Bettina Aptheker Kurzweil, 27, daughter of chief Marxist theoretician Herbert Aptheker, said she writes "almost all" of Miss Davis' statements. She is also responsible for contacts with congressmen, labor unions and the national peace movement and organized the May 20 anti-war and "Free Angela" rally here.

"We function as a collective," said Mrs. Kurzweil. "We try never to make individual decisions. We try to work together—and it's a very effective method of work."

"As you know, the leadership is black, which is the position of our staff is interracial, predominantly black and the only white in which it should be—and the investigator."

Shark Attacks Abalone Diver

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A 30-year-old abalone diver emerged from three hours of surgery in satisfactory condition after an attack by a 12-foot shark while diving in Tomales Bay.

The victim, Helmuth Himmrich, of Lodi, Calif., was reported Sunday by Letterman Hospital officials to be resting comfortably after his ordeal.

Himmrich was grabbed by the shark Sunday while diving just south of Tomales Point, about 40 miles north of San Francisco.

Himmrich surfaced beside a small boat anchored offshore. Horrified occupants noticed the shark ripping at Himmrich's right thigh. They pulled him into the boat.

An unidentified Coast Guard paramedic who happened to be at the scene gave first aid until a Coast Guard helicopter arrived and evacuated the victim.

Utah Migrant Council To Build 'Tent Cities'

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — The Utah Migrant Council has announced it will build two "tent cities" in northern Utah to house workers and to protest inadequate housing elsewhere.

Rudy Hernandez, council regional director, told some 500 migrant farm workers gathered in Ogden during the weekend the tents would be set up in Weber and Box Elder counties on donated land.

Clenched fists and shouts of "Chicano power" and "viva la raza" capped the meeting Sunday.

"We have tents. We have the places for them," Hernandez said, adding appeals for water and generators.

He said 40-60 tents would be set up in Weber County and another 20-30 in Box Elder. "Someone's got to do something about it," Hernandez said. The tents would be constructed about the first week in June when the sugar beet harvest ends, he added.

Hernandez said living conditions of migrants are worse this year than ever before because there are fewer jobs and continued government neglect.

How much do the big-city magni-mart stores do to help support our community needs

How much do they put out in time, thought, effort and money for our schools, churches and youth activities...to create more jobs and protect our personal and business property values?

Nothing at all, of course. Why should they? Smart business people work for and contribute to the support of their own local communities, large or small. And the big-city people use a lot of our money to build their areas when we donate to them the one-third of our trade money which always goes to pay for supporting the community in which it is spent.

It Pays to Trade Where You Live

- These forward-looking neighbors in business submit for your thoughtful consideration this discussion of a matter of importance to your personal well-being as determined by your community's growth and future.

MRS. OTIS E. EAVES

Couple United In Marriage

Miss Janette Turney and Otis E. Eaves, both of Arlington, were married here at 2 p.m. Sunday in Trinity Baptist Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Turney of Coahoma, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Meril Eaves of Arlington.

Organ music was played by Miss Lila Williams as the Rev. Claude Craven performed the ceremony before an altar flanked by arrangements of white gladioli, yellow daisies, chrysanthemums and jade ferns. Miss Arlene Hartin was vocalist.

For her wedding attire, the bride chose a floor-length gown of white lace over peau de soie styled with fitted bodice and sleeves ending in petal points of the wrists. The floor-length train was attached at the back waistline. Her headpiece held a shoulder-length veil, and she carried a bouquet of white and yellow daisies and pompon chrysanthemums.

MATRON OF HONOR The bride's sister, Mrs. Weldon Myrick of Nashville, Tenn., served as matron of honor. She was attired in a floor-length gown of yellow chiffon over taffeta fashioned with Empire waistline and bodice of puckered chiffon. The gown was trimmed with white lace and fabric rosebuds. Her bouquet was of yellow daisies.

Gary Don Dowell of Houston, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, served as best man, and Daniel Turney of Newport, R.I., Miss Karen Forrest and the brother of the bride, assisted

Volunteers Told Areas Of Service

Mrs. Larson Lloyd, volunteer coordinator at Big Spring State Hospital, outlined services that can be accomplished at the hospital by volunteer workers, for the Health and Welfare Committee Friday at Veterans Administration Hospital.

Mrs. Lloyd said there are presently about 300 volunteers at the hospital who "do everything from trimming toenails, to talking with the deaf and dumb, to planning dances, and to adopting patients in a "one-to-one" program."

An orientation for prospective volunteers at the hospital is slated from 9 a.m. to 2 o'clock noon June 7 and June 9, followed by hospital tours in the afternoon. Mrs. Lloyd emphasized that anyone, whether they have one hour a week or 40 hours a week to offer, can be of service. A discussion period followed.

Desmond Powell presided and introduced Erven Fisher who distributed a list of agencies and organizations in the city that can be called on for assistance in specific areas of need. About 30 people attended. The next meeting is at noon, June 23 at the VA Hospital.

Importance Of Exercise Stressed

"In the days of our grandmothers women didn't need a regular exercise program," said Mrs. B. F. Mabe to members of City Home Demonstration Club at a picnic meeting Friday at Birdwell Park.

Mrs. Mabe said pioneer women got enough exercise churning butter, sweeping floors, beating cakes and using a washboard. She demonstrated which muscles were used during all of these chores.

"Today we should have a definite exercise plan and stay with it," continued Mrs. Mabe. "It helps keep our joints loose." She said a woman can lose five pounds by walking 30 minutes a day for 27 days, or burn off 400 calories by climbing steps for 30 minutes. She also showed correct standing and sitting posture and led the group in exercises.

New officers elected were Mrs. M. F. Hodnett, president; Mrs. M. E. Anderson, vice president; Mrs. W. N. Norred, secretary; Mrs. Clyde Cantrell, treasurer; and Mrs. Alton Underwood, council delegate.

Introduced as new members were Mrs. W. E. Wozencraft and Mrs. Joe Cox. Devotion was by Mrs. Hodnett. The group will meet for breakfast at 8:30 a.m., June 9 at the home of Mrs. Underwood, 610 E. 18th.

Sensible Styles Need Decoration

The understated simplicity of spring's sensibilities demands decoration. Those classic clothes have the willingness to lead a vigorous fashion life with the right catalysts. Watch costume jewelry take on all comers, saucily dressing up the fashion and the girl!

Themes that have spring in their hearts favor the fantastic newness of all that's Oriental, the brisk, clean fun of the nautical, the colorful bright-works of the Americana genre. And there's lots more in-between: stained glass looks and colors, pastel tinted stones, rhinestones, coral imitations.

Miss Robinson Weds Douglas Jay Compton

The wedding of Miss Anne Ethleen Robinson and Douglas Jay Compton was solemnized Sunday afternoon in the sanctuary of the First Presbyterian Church with the Rev. Earl Price officiating. A double arch of votive candles illuminated the altar, which was flanked with ferns and candles, and to either side were large arrangements of yellow roses, daisies and irises. The prelude of organ music was by Frank Wharton.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Glenn Robert Robinson, 2619 Crestline Rd., and the late Mr. Robinson, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Curtis W. Compton, 1701 Ann. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Dr. Jack W. Robinson of Miami, Okla.

The bride wore a gown of imported white silk organza. The moulded Empire bodice, veiled with Swiss guipure lace, was fashioned with a Victorian collar accented by the lace. The long, full bishop sleeves were appliqued with the lace and caught to the wrist by a wide cuff. Motifs of the lace enhanced the A-line skirt which swept to a chapel-length train edged with lace. Her veil of silk illusion fell from a Juliet coil of organza appliqued with lace. She carried a posy of yellow roses, daisies, and stephanotis.

A LOVELIER YOU Versatile Swimwear For Sunny Beaches

By MARY SUE MILLER

Swim fashions promise a beautiful season in the sun. The sirens among us will wear the briefest halter, bikini or plunging maillot bodysuits of slink jersey. And why not? Brevity makes the most of a form divine. But what if the peek-a-boo idea runs contrary to your talents or taste? Then by all means take the opposite approach and wear a romantic swimdress. The look has appeal, if only by contrast to the bare minimum — as witness a bright print of nylon crepe cut straight like a chemise or nipped at the wrist. For beach dolls — teen and terrific — ruffled cotton suits are all spice.

Colors to swim by appear sunlit, no murky tones. Red, white and blue still wave. Black and white, used singly or together, and prints from tiny floridettes to lordly lions reflect strong fashion currents.

Now for a surprise. After swimming, suits go under-cover. Beach dresses, skirts, coats and side-laced pants do the covering job. Dresses, in solid and print cottons, sometimes sit up and bare-backed, fall to the ground. Of sheer materials, others are mini length and otherwise mini. Cute, though, for cuties.

Coats range from classic, double-breasted terrys to background prints left unconstructed and open. Airy short coats abound. More coats than not have hair-saving hoods. As for pants, puffed crepes and wide legs top the list, but grommeted denims remain popular.

What else? Repeat: It's going to be a beautiful summer.

RECEPTION The reception was held at 2619 Crestline Rd., where the home and garden were decorated by large arrangements of yellow roses, daisies and irises. The refreshment table was covered with a white Madeira cutwork cloth and appointed with crystal and silver. The table held a white, tiered wedding cake, punch service and an arrangement of yellow roses, daisies and irises.

Serving at the table were Miss Gayle Coleman, Miss Betty Price, Miss Cathy Crawford of San Angelo, Miss Sheila Mosesman of Dallas and Miss Jane Thompson.

Members of the house party were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Miller, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Thompson, Mrs. R. Earl Price, Mrs. Horace Garrett, Mr. and Mrs. A. ### Bridge Test

BY CHARLES H. GOREN
to 1972. By The Chicago Tribune
BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS

Q. 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠A ♣AK542 ♦973 ♠10654
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1♦ 1♠ 2♥ Pass
3♣ Pass 4♣ Pass
4♦ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Five diamonds. Partner obviously has a fine diamond suit for which our three small will be adequate support. On the other hand his clubs are only four in number and a bad break there might make five clubs an unplayable contract. An alternative call is four spades, but that might be a little drastic with such a weak holding in the minors.

Q. 2—Neither vulnerable, you hold:
♠10643 ♥K10 ♦AKQ63 ♣75
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1♠ Pass 2♦ Pass
3♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Five spades. Partner has shown a big hand with a solid spade suit. There should be slim if the opponents are unable to grab a couple of quick tricks. Your leap over game will indicate to partner that he needs controls in the unbid suits.

Q. 3—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠Q10983 ♥QJ63 ♦QJ953
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1♠ 1♣ Pass ?

What do you bid?
A.—Four spades. This bid serves a twofold purpose. The partner could muster a mere overcall, your hands could fit well enough to make the contract. Furthermore, should the hand belong to the opposition, your bid makes it extremely difficult for them to get together.

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠AKJ ♥AJ1083 ♦2 ♣K984
The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
Pass 1♥ Pass 1♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Two clubs. The temptation is to raise spades immediately. However, a single raise would be inadequate, and a double raise should be avoided when holding only three trumps, even such good ones as these. The compromise choice is a temporary bid of two clubs intending to raise spades subsequently.

Q. 5—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♥QJ107654 ♦J82 ♣Q63
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South
1♠ 2♦ ?

What do you bid?
A.—Four hearts. Your hand has great playing strength but virtually no defense, so every effort should be exerted to prevent the opponents from getting together. This is the same response you would have made if East had not entered the auction.

Q. 6—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠AKJ10753 ♥A862 ♦7 ♣5
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1♠ 2♦ Pass Pass
2♣ 3♦ 3♥ 4♦
4♥ 5♦ Dble. Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Five hearts. This hand will be a disappointment defensively, but, if your partner has merely five hearts to the king-queen, you will be an outstanding favorite to make five hearts.

Q. 7—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠AQ863 ♥4 ♦J2 ♣109865
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1♦ Pass 1♠ Pass
2NT Pass 3♣ Pass
3NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Pass. You have bid your story. If partner had a fit with either of your suits or if he did not have hearts adequately controlled, he would not have persisted with no trump.

Q. 8—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠J6 ♥93 ♦AQ108642 ♣85
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
Pass 1NT Dble. ?

What do you bid?
A.—Three no trumps. This may seem a bit unusual, but your hand is a reasonable prospect to produce seven tricks which your partner will certainly be able to fill out to nine. Furthermore, it is possible the opponents will have a good save in one of the major suits against which this bid may serve as an effective barricade.

Vows He Will Play James Bond No More

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — "I have no desire to have $30 million, that's the honest truth. I've never seen many happy men in that position."

That's just one of the reasons Sean Connery swears he will play James Bond no more. Immense wealth doesn't invite him—"Lose two points on the Dow Jones and it's a disaster."

Another reason Connery has subtracted 007 from his career: aesthetics. He wants to play other, more challenging roles. As for Bond, "I've had my whack at it: let someone else try."

days at a cost of $1 million. "That makes sense now—days, when you can shoot a picture at a reasonable cost without sacrificing quality," Connery remarked.

(AP WIREPHOTO) WEALTH NO LURE — Actor Sean Connery, above, lives like a man of means in London but he says he has no desire for great wealth, and that's one reason he'll play no more James Bond roles. He's just finished portraying a harassed London detective in "Something Like the Truth," the first film made by his own company.

GOOD LIFE
Connery has no $30 million, but he lives like a man of means. He occupies a magnificently furnished double apartment overlooking the Thames in mid-London.

The Scottish actor, 41, was about to leave on a Spanish vacation after finishing "Something Like the Truth" for United Artists. It is a crime story, but with a difference.

Unlike the sleek Bond, Connery plays a harassed London detective with a slatternly wife and a weariness for the routine of investigating tawdry crime. He wears tweeds, his own thinning hairline and a fainty Fu Manchu mustache.

Whereas he made "Diamonds Are Forever" in 18 weeks for $6.5 million, "Something Like the Truth" was filmed in 28

Calls On AFL-CIO To End Jurisdictional Fighting

HOUSTON (AP) — Labor leader Jerry Wurf, representing more than half a million public employees, called on the AFL-CIO today to put an end to union jurisdictional fighting and get busy organizing the nation's millions of non-union workers.

"My ambition is to end the jurisdictional wars," said Wurf, president of the 550,000-member American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, one of 119 AFL-CIO unions totaling 13.6 million members.

Wurf, whose labor organization beat out four other unions in a bitter fight for Pennsylvania highway employees last year, said such jurisdictional battles over the same groups of workers weakens organized labor's clout in Congress, in political elections, at the bargaining table and in the eyes of the public.

"The kind of bitterness and mud-slinging that went on in last year's organizational campaign in the state of Pennsylvania was obscene," Wurf said in a keynote speech prepared for the opening of his union's convention.

Wurf's union defeated three AFL-CIO unions—the Service Employees, the Laborers and the Operating Engineers—and the Independent Teamsters in the Pennsylvania fight.

Wurf said the AFL-CIO's present system for settling jurisdictional fights through hearings and sanctions against offenders was inadequate.

Scholarship Barbecue Set

The 19th annual A & M Scholarship barbecue has been scheduled for June 15 at the Amphitheater in Comanche Trail Park.

Serving will begin from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. and admission will be $1.75 for adults and children over eight years. All children under eight years will be served free.

All proceeds from the barbecue will be used to provide A & M scholarships for deserving Howard County boys needing funds to attend college. Boys receiving the scholarships are given $400 per year.

Joe Rodriguez is attending A & M now on a scholarship provided by the Aggie exes.

Local Aggies in charge of the barbecue are anticipating another good crowd this year. Last year and several previous years there have been 1,500 to 2,000 attend the special fund-raising event.

James Tidwell is the barbecue committee chairman. The meat, as in the past, will be provided by Newsom's Country Kitchen.

Disturbance In Concord

CONCORD, N.C. (AP) — National Guardsmen were mobilized in Concord late Sunday after a second night of violence in the city's black community.

Mayor Alfred Brown said he asked for the mobilization of the local Guard unit because Concord's 38-member police force was outnumbered by blacks, who barricaded streets in their neighborhoods.

Brown ordered a dusk-to-dawn curfew after violence began Saturday night. It was touched off by the shooting of a 23-year-old black, Paul D. Johnson, in a white-owned grocery

The grocery store owner, Jimmy Miles, 35, was arrested and charged with assault with intent to kill. Johnson was listed in fair condition at a local hospital.

As word of the shooting spread, about 500 blacks burned and looted several businesses, including the one owned by Miles.

The violence died down late Saturday night, but it erupted again Sunday.

Concord, with a population of about 18,000 persons, is a textile mill and farm market town.

DYING HOPES Astros: The Party's Over

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The chill wind of dying hopes and vanished dreams whistles through the ranks of the astronaut corps. One by one, America's spacemen are seeking other jobs.

Of the 73 pilots and scientists selected as astronauts, 43 are left ready to fly. Twelve of this number are assigned to fly in either Apollo 17, the last moon mission, or Skylab, the series of three long-duration missions scheduled for next year.

NOT ASSIGNED
Twenty astronauts have never flown and are not now selected for a planned mission. Their chances of flying after spending years in training, says one astronaut, are between "poor and nonexistent."

Eleven others have flown at least once, but are not now assigned to a mission.

Donald K. Slayton, chief of flight crew operations and one of the active astronauts who has never flown, knows his office is overstaffed and he is encouraging astronauts to seek other work.

Last week, two moon walkers, Edgar D. Mitchell of Apollo 14 and James B. Irwin of Apollo 15, announced their retirements effective later this summer.

Mitchell said in an interview that both he and Irwin were leaving earlier than planned to help Slayton with the overstrength problem.

Many of the spacemen, particularly those who never flew, are quietly making plans to leave.

UNDECIDED
The announcement last week of a joint rendezvous and docking mission with the Soviets pumped a particle of hope into the minds of some of the grounded spacemen. The mission, tentatively scheduled for 1975, will need two or three—it's undecided as yet—American astronauts.

Slayton said the crew for that mission probably will be selected early in 1974 and likely will come from the veterans of the Apollo and Skylab programs.

Eleven astronauts, hoping to get an important edge in the tough competition for the crew positions on the Soviet flight, are studying Russian or have firm plans to do so.

The crewmen for the Russian flight, however, says one spaceman, "are not going to be the more junior people in the office. The selection will be pretty much political."

Discards Dentures As His Protest

FARMINGTON, Mo. (AP) — A man walked into Dr. Douglas Ross' dental office here and demonstrated an unusual form of civil protest. He tossed his false teeth into a wastebasket. "You can just have them back as my protest of what's going on in the community," said the man, who had been fitted with uppers and lowers by Ross, who is also the mayor. "I think I'll have them framed and hung on my office wall," Ross said. "This needs to be saved for posterity."

WEATHER FORECAST — Scattered showers are forecast for much of the nation today. Warm weather is predicted for much of the nation, while cool temperatures are expected in the northern Great Lakes area.

No Reduction In Strength

SAIGON (AP) — For the first time in 16 months, there was no reduction in U.S. troop strength in Vietnam last week.

The U.S. Command said today that U.S. forces in the country last Thursday totaled 64,800 men the same as the Thursday before.

While Army strength dropped 500 men and Air Force personnel by 100, an influx of U.S. Marine fighter-bombers to counter the North Vietnamese offensive increased Marine troops strength 500, balancing the cuts in the Army and Air Force.

The weekly strength summary gave this breakdown: Army 43,000; Air Force 16,500; Navy 2,800; Marines 2,400; Coast Guard 200.

U.S. military sources said there was no freeze on reductions because of the offensive. They said the U.S. Command would meet or beat President Nixon's target of a 49,000-man force by July 1.

In addition to 64,800 U.S. troops in the country, 41,000 Navy men are aboard ships operating off the coast an estimated 35,000 U.S. Air Force personnel are at bases in Thailand supporting the war effort.

Doesn't Mean It

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

MESSAGE: (Q.) I thought this boy liked me. We are in a class together. He has smiled at me for months but said nothing, and I smiled back at him. We are both 14 and I have never really gone with a boy. I don't know about him. I have never seen him with a girl.

Then one day last week an awful thing happened. He spent the whole period writing on his desk, except once in a while he would look up and smile at me. When class was over I walked by the desk and looked at it.

It was awful. There were a lot of dirty words and in the middle was written in ink, "I hate Linda." I'm Linda. It hurt so much I just stood there and cried. He saw me and smiled. He said when he wanted a girl he would chase her himself. I didn't chase him. I just smiled back at him. If he hates me why does he smile? I just can't understand him. — Linda in Indiana.

(A.) Your friend (I believe he really is your friend) is not sure of himself. He knows you are interested in him and he knows he is interested in you but he either does not know what to do about it or he is not ready to do anything.

Continue to be friendly — but not forward — with him. He may outgrow his indecision and become a very good friend.

NO KISSES: (Q.) I have a boy friend. He is very nice. We are both 11 and have been going together for five years. But we do not kiss or do anything like that. My friends make fun of me because we don't kiss. What should I do? — Embarrassed in Vermont.

(A.) You and your friend are sensible not to overdo things at your age. Do not let others needle you into a wrong step.

Although your friendship seems to be a good one, you may have been giving too much attention to one boy for too long a time. Think about it.

Motorcycle Accidents Make Dramatic Entry

By The Associated Press

Traffic has led the causes of violent deaths in Texas through most of the Memorial Day holiday weekend with motorcycles making a dramatic entry in the death columns.

The Associated Press began its tabulation of violent deaths over the three-day weekend at 6 p.m. Friday and is to continue counting death from violent causes until midnight tonight.

At a late hour Sunday, the toll of carnage stood at 33 dead with 19 of those victims of traffic accidents. Ten other persons drowned while gunfire claimed at least four other lives.

Here are the ways some died:

Sherry Mayberry 17, and her two-year-old passenger on a three-wheeler motorcycle were killed Sunday near Pottsboro when their vehicle was involved in a collision on a country road.

BODY FOUND

Ozzie Robert Harris, 25, of Huntsville, Ala., apparently drowned Saturday night or Sunday in a motel swimming pool in San Antonio. Authorities scheduled an autopsy. Harris' body was found Sunday.

Donald Thomas Harper, 29, and Lana K. Baggett, 22, both of McAlester, Okla., were killed Saturday night as they walked along an Interstate 45 service road and were struck from behind by an automobile. The accident occurred five miles south of Conroe.

Leslie Bradshaw 62, of Fort Worth was killed Sunday in Dallas when his motorcycle was struck by a car at a highway intersection, Bradshaw was dead on arrival at Parkland Hospital.

Mrs. Winona Varner Powell, 39, and her two daughters—Liz, 15, and Allie, 12—all of Denton died late Saturday when their car was struck by a freight train south of Rhome. The accident occurred on a dirt road crossing with no signal light. It was near U.S. 81-287. Highway Patrolman Jerry Hopkins said the car was dragged about 1,600 feet after it was struck broadside.

CAR OVERTURNS

Larry Cockrill, 21, an SMU student from Dallas was killed Sunday when the car in which he was a passenger overturned on Interstate 45 about a mile north of Buffalo. Sara Ellen Grady, also of Dallas and the driver of the vehicle, suffered undetermined injuries.

DOUBLE PLAY — Detroit Tigers' shortstop Ed Brinkman, left, and second baseman Tony Taylor double up on a fly hit by New York's Thurman Munson Sunday in the seventh inning of the game against the Yankees at New York's Yankee Stadium. Brinkman didn't need any help in making the catch however, and Munson was out. Tigers went on to win, 6-4.

Blue Exits In Fifth, Pleased With Effort

By The Associated Press
Vida Blue had a pretty good start Sunday, but George Hendrick provided an even better finish.
Blue, Oakland's celebrated holdout, made his first 1972 start and fired five scoreless innings against the Chicago White Sox, allowing only one hit and fanning five before he left for a pinch hitter.
"I think five innings was just about right," said the 22-year-old southpaw who had an 80-pitch limit and used 77 of them.
The game was scoreless when Blue departed. The A's took a 3-0 lead in the sixth in-

Kaat, Killebrew Dazzle Rangers

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Retirement Row won another one for the Minnesota Twins.
Pitcher Jim Kaat and slugger Harmon Killebrew, last members of the first Twins' team in 1961 when it moved from Washington, have their lockers at Metropolitan Stadium side-by-side the most convenient to the showers and training room in the clubhouse.
There was lots of traffic in that area Sunday after Kaat, winningest active pitcher in the American League, hurled a five-hitter and Killebrew, No. 7 on the all-time homer list, drove in five runs with a grand slam and double as the Twins dropped the Texas Rangers 7-2.
"You can call this Retirement Row," said the 32-year-old Kaat, who is off the best start of his 14-year career with a 6-1 record. "But the man you should be talking to is right there."
Killebrew, who will be 36 June 29, clouted his 11th career grand slam in the third inning after Rick Renick led off with a 442-foot homer off Bill Gogolewski.

Five District Titlists Await NCAA Playoffs

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association said today five of its district championships have been decided and the winners will play in the College World Series at Omaha, Neb., June 9-15.
Temple won district 2, Iowa district 4, Oklahoma district 5, Texas district 6 and defending champion Southern California district 8.
Temple beat Penn State over the weekend 2-3, Iowa bumped Bowling Green, Ohio, twice 2-2 and 7-5, Oklahoma surprised Tulsa 3-3 and 5-4 and Southern California outscored California-Santa Barbara 9-5 and 13-6. Texas won its district title a week ago.
Action in district 1 was scheduled to be resumed today after darkness Sunday caused a game between Harvard and Northeastern to be called. Harvard was leading 18-6.
In an earlier game in District 1, Connecticut defeated Harvard 8-5 in 16 innings. Connecticut is unbeaten and Harvard and Northeastern had each lost once in the double elimination event.
Districts 3 and 7 open their tournaments Thursday. Six teams will face double elimination at Gastonia, N.C., in district 3.
At Mesa, Ariz., Arizona State, the nation's top-ranked college team, will meet Weber State in a best-of-3 game series for the district 7 crown.

Mickey Wright Set To Make Run At Title

SOUTHERN PINES, N.C. (AP) — It seemed like old times as the Titleholders Golf Tournament went into its final round today.
There was Mickey Wright, winner of 81 tournaments and the dominant figure of women's golf a decade ago, perched in second place, ready to make a closing run at the championship.
Sandra Palmer, a leader from the opening day of the 72-hole, $20,000 tournament was in front at 211, two under par for 54 holes, on rounds of 71-68-72.
Mickey and Marilyn Smith, a two-time Titleholders' champion, were tied for second place at 216, Mickey after a 70 and Marilyn after a 74 in Sunday's third round.
Another shot back at 217 was Judy Rankin. They seemed to have the tournament to themselves as it was a drop all the way to 221 where Mariene Haggie was in fifth place.
Mickey, the female counterpart of Arnold Palmer during the 60s, lost her zest for the game with the coming of the 70s, and played only 13 tournaments in the last two years. This year, at age 37, she has played in seven and she admits that the prestige of the Titleholders' has caused her to "feel an excitement about this tournament."

Blue, the AL's most valuable player and Cy Young Award winner last season, tuned up for his first 1972 start by hurling one inning in relief last week and losing to California, allowing two runs.
It appeared as though he might be in for more of the same Sunday, walking three batters and throwing 43 pitches in the first two innings.
"I was nervous because there were about 45,000 people here to see me pitch," he said. "Dick Williams (the Oakland manager) came out to talk to me in the second inning just to give me a breather."
Blue settled down after that, yielding only a third-inning single to Richie Allen.
"I was as good as I had to be," he said. "I need at least four starts to get back where I was last year."
Last year produced a 24-8 record, 1.82 earned run average and 301 strikeouts. Then came the salary battle with owner Charles O. Finley, with Blue asking first for $115,000 and finally accepting $63,000.
Oakland's triumph kept the A's one game ahead of Minnesota in the AL West and dropped Chicago to third, 1 1/2 games back.
Harmon Killebrew drove in five runs with his 11th career grand slam and a double and Rick Renick belted a 442-foot home run as the Twins drubbed the Rangers behind Jim Kaat's four-hitter. It was Killebrew's 520th career homer, one behind Ted Williams for sixth place on the all-time list.
Rookie Paul Jata, replacing the injured Al Kaline, singled and scored in the fifth inning and doubled and scored again in the seventh as the Tigers beat the Yankees behind Chuck Seelbach's strong relief pitching.
GOOD FINISH
Seelbach allowed only four hits over the final 6 2-3 innings and left the potential tying run at second base in the ninth.
Jim Palmer stopped slumping Cleveland on four hits and drilled a two-run double as the Orioles handed the Indians their fifth consecutive setback.
Palmer doubled in the second inning to put Baltimore in front and singled in the third as the Orioles scored three unearned runs and again in the eighth. The Indians slipped to third place in the AL East, a half-game behind Baltimore and 1 1/2 in back of front-running Detroit.
The Brewers, whose 10-21 record is the poorest in the majors, canned Bristol in the early morning hours Sunday and replaced him with Del Crandall, who had been managing their Evansville farm club in the American Association.
Crandall won't take over until the team returns home Tuesday night, so he wasn't around Sunday to see the Brewers, handled by coach Roy McMillan, suffer their third straight defeat when Boston's Carlton Fisk slugged a tie-breaking homer in the seventh inning and added a two-run double in the eighth.
That nudged the Red Sox into fourth place in the East Division, a half-game in front of New York and five behind Detroit.
Sore-armed Clyde Wright made his first appearance since May 18 and allowed only four hits in seven innings and walked a home run as the Angels turned back the Royals.

Fielding Deficiencies Hurt Astros, Bruins

By The Associated Press
When Abner Doubleday thought up that game with the bats and balls and bases, he remembered to give all the players a glove.
The glove, in case the Houston Astros and Chicago Cubs are wondering, is used to catch the ball. It was a job neither team did very well on Sunday.
Houston snatched a 6-5 defeat from the jaws of victory, giving Los Angeles a run without benefit of a base hit on two 11th inning errors. Chicago outdid that, giving Montreal two runs without a hit on a pair of early errors and then allowing the winner to score on another fielding flub to lose 7-5.
Elsewhere in the National League Sunday, St. Louis beat New York 8-3, Pittsburgh nipped Philadelphia 6-5, San Diego beat Cincinnati 5-2 and San Francisco split a doubleheader with Atlanta, winning 3-2 and then losing 7-6 in 11 innings.
Don Kessinger's eighth inning throwing error allowed Montreal to score its winning run against Chicago but the Cubs had set the tone way back in the second when a pair of errors by Carmen Fanzone led to two runs for the Expos.
Ken Singleton opened with a walk and with one out, Fanzone kicked Tim Foli's grounder. A sacrifice advanced the runners and then Fanzone fumbled Ron Hunt's bouncer, allowing Singleton to score and Foli to reach third. Then the Expos worked the double steal with Foli swiping home on the front end.
With the score tied at 5-5 in the eighth, Foli beat out an infield hit and then circled the bases on a fielder's choice and Kessinger's wild throw.
Pittsburgh saw a 4-3 lead evaporate when Philadelphia pushed across two runs in the top of the ninth inning, then bounced from behind with two in their half of the inning to beat the Phillies.
Nate Colbert ripped his 10th homer of the season and added a pair of singles, leading San Diego past Cincinnati.
The victory snapped a six-game losing streak for the Padres, who got four-hit pitching from Steve Arlin. Leron Lee also homered for San Diego.
St. Louis erupted for 16 hits, three of them by pitcher Reggie Cleveland, and belted New York.

Manny Mota Benefitted From Walker's Lessons

HOUSTON (AP) — Los Angeles Dodger outfielder Manny Mota says he's boosted his batting average by watching movies and listening to the Walker family.
Mota, who has hit .500 during the past week (11 for 22) clubbed a key two-run single in the first inning Sunday that helped the Dodgers to an 11-inning 6-5 victory over the National League West leading Houston Astros.
Saturday night it was Mota's run-scoring single that ignited a four-run eighth inning rally to give LA a victory over Houston.
"I hadn't been hitting the ball too well," said Mota, who has been splitting time in the outfield with Willie Crawford. "I checked a lot of films of me swinging. I wasn't waiting for the ball and I was slow with my hands."
"I've just tried to wait long enough for the ball and be quick with my hands. It has worked."
The Walker family isn't a country music group from Nashville but Astros manager Harry "The Hat" Walker and his brother, Dixie Walker, the Dodgers' hitting coach. Mota credits both with his hitting success.
Mota said Harry Walker taught him how to hit when he was at Pittsburgh and Dixie Walker had helped him break out of his latest slump.
"He (Harry) gave me the idea of how to wait for the ball and to keep my weight back and go for the ball," Mota said. "He's the guy who really helped me. And I've been working with Dixie for four years."
Mota's first inning hit helped the Dodgers to a 3-0 first inning lead but it took a pair of errors by Houston's Lee May and Bobby Fenwick in the 11th for the Dodgers to pull it out.
Houston rallied to take a 5-3 lead in the eighth before LA pulled back even with two in the top of the ninth on an error by Jesus Alou and a grounder by Bill Buckner.
In the 11th, Bill Russell reached base on Fenwick's error and scored the winning run on May's miscue.
"That's the kind of game that wins pennants," Mota said of Sunday's victory. "It increases the confidence of the whole team. You learn never to give up."

Amarillo Takes League Lead

By The Associated Press
Amarillo elbowed its way into the lead in the Texas League Sunday by thrashing Alexandria with a 3-1 loss on the pinch-hitting of Glenn Stitzel.
Stitzel's two-run single brought in his seventh and eighth RBIs although the game young player has batted only 22 times this season.
Alexandria's Duane Larson had tied the score at 1-1 in the eighth before Stitzel's blast.
Rudy Arroyo came out winning pitcher for Arkansas Sunday with a solid 9-5 victory over El Paso. Arroyo did yeoman service, hitting three of four times at the plate and knocking in four runs. Arkansas' Bill Bright also had a field day, belting two home runs, one of them for 400 feet, and accounted for three runs for Arkansas.
In other Texas League action, Shreveport squeezed out a 3-2 win over San Antonio and Midland earned an 8-7 victory over Memphis in 13 innings.
Shreveport's catcher Randy Niles drove in one run, scored another and then capped off the evening with a 10th inning homer to lead the Captains to victory. Shreveport's Rich Hanson pitched a six-hitter in the 10-inning contest to bring his season tally to 3 and 4.
In action tonight, Little Rock goes to El Paso, Memphis plays again at Midland, Alexandria meets at Amarillo and Shreveport goes to San Antonio.

Pair Accepts Post At Cisco

CISCO — Ken Pair, former head football coach at Ranger Junior College, has accepted the position of assistant football coach and supervisor of the athletic dormitory at Cisco Junior College, according to an announcement by Cisco head football coach Harold Prescott.
Pair will replace Lewis Whitson, who recently resigned the coach-supervisor position to go into business.

Roberts Batters Rebel Pitching

The Cubs unleashed the extra-base hitting of Gary Roberts on the Rebels Saturday and took an 8-4 victory in the Teenage Baseball League.
Roberts had a double and a triple. He was given help by Mark Moore who hit a double and Robert Vela and Elroy Green who had two singles each.
Mackie Vaughn and Jimmy Law hit doubles for the Rebels and Noel Hull had two singles.
Billy Osborne was the winning pitcher for the Cubs and Hull was charged with the loss.
The Cubs are now 2-0 and the Rebels are 0-2.

An evening out at home

where the charm of a GAS light lets the evening last a little longer

... and the food has an exciting outdoor aroma and flavor, found nowhere else in the World!

A GAS outdoor grill gives food a tangy outdoor flavor without the time and bother of charcoal fire. Char-broiled flavor comes from the smoke of meat juices dripping on hot briquets. Charcoal itself provides no flavor. Permanent ceramic briquets in the gas grill reach cooking heat in a few minutes, and there is no long wait to start cooking. The heat is regulated manually so there is no need to move a grill up or down.

Space Spectaculars

The space spectaculars, now that moon flights are reliable, have not yet really started. If Krafft A. Ehrlicke can be trusted — and his reputation in space research is among the top experts in the world.

Dr. Ehrlicke's view is that what we have learned is a prelude to astounding things: power plants in space to ease our energy shortage without pollution, reflective mirrors to give tropical lands night-time farming to beat the heat, industrial plants in deep space served by space shuttles.

If we hadn't learned that a tattered adage has been abandoned ("you can no more do that than you can fly to the moon"), we'd be inclined to suspect the man is moonstruck.

Dr. Ehrlicke compares earth with a ship in the sea. Earth is a space-vessel, at ease in its environment that we are just beginning to understand. He also says that earth is a precisely balanced ecological system, subject to damage unless plans are valid. Industrialization to serve more population will interfere with ecological balances. Serious students of the problems differ on likely solutions.

Space, says Dr. Ehrlicke, offers a place for large-scale industrialization — computer-run plants that can last forever in an environment without an atmosphere — without pollution.

"Space is not isolating us. Space is opening gates. The message should be that we see earth not as our world but as a part of a greater system of worlds that has now become accessible to us.

Power plants can be built in space, he says, and electric power can be transmitted to earth on microwaves.

Starting place for all this, he says, is a proper space transportation system. The space shuttle is the first development. It will be reusable, will carry paying cargoes, and the technology is available.

"Space is socially relevant — but only if we recognize it and use it. Development of the space shuttle is man's first essential step toward such recognition," he has said.

That kind of dreaming is as incredible as flying to the moon!

Simply Criminals

Just what the radical bombers hope to really accomplish with their terror tactics is not clear. They cite goals such as "retaliation" for the bombing of Vietnam or demand freeing of "political prisoners."

The bombing attacks on the Pentagon, the U.S. Capitol, banks, military research centers and prison offices accomplish nothing but wanton, malicious destruction and occasional murder.

This mindless violence is the product of sick minds. It is counterproductive, bringing more opposition to the perpetrators. The bombers may think they are romantic revolutionaries, but in fact they are simply criminals — and the most cowardly and despicable ones at that.

In Three Parts

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

One thing and another: The UN Food and Agriculture Organization warned recently that the world is running short of water.

One Constantine A. Dexiadis, a Greek city planner, says the only out is to relocate the world's entire population.

DEVIADIS WOULD divide the earth's surface into three regions — Natural, Agricultural and Urban. His Natural region, a "water shed," would cover about 50 per cent of the world and include forests, deserts, mountains and plains. It would produce water for the other two regions.

The Agricultural region would embrace 45 per cent of the earth and would be a mechanized and automated area to supply food for the third region.

DEXIADIS' URBAN area would center on 'Ecumenopolis' — universal city. It would get its food from the Agricultural area and its water from the Natural area.

Dexiadis' universal city would be concentrated on the sea shores, river banks and around the lakes.

That would be alright except there are those who prefer to vacation in the mountains. There are also those who don't like to move, even across the street.

AND SOME would agree to move only if they were promised a set of binoculars to spy on their neighbors.

It's a tragedy in this life that the best things in life are free, whereas the worst things come so dear.

HAVE YOU heard about that singing star who, while participating in one of the celebrity golf tournament, sliced a ball into the crowd and hit a woman?

"I'm going to sue you for $100,000," the woman fumed.

"But I yelled 'fore,'" the star said, apologetically.

"I'll take it! I'll take it!" the dame replied.

SOME ONE said recently that postal rates have become so high, it's cheaper to sue than to send statements.

When you take your superintendent home for dinner, isn't it a case of one boss being confronted by another?

I knew a fellow one time who spent so much time drinking to other people's health, he ruined his own. If it hadn't been for the olives in his martinis, he'd have starved to death.

Separate Powers

Omar Burleson

WASHINGTON, D. C. — It has been gratifying to learn that occasionally these comments have been used by civics teachers in our public schools and in some political science classes in colleges.

THIS BEING THE case, this is the first of a series of three articles which, it is hoped, will be helpful in discussions of the Constitutional separation of powers of the three branches of the federal government. There has been a continuous debate, depending on the times and personalities formulating policies in the Executive, Legislative and Judicial branches of our government.

At the moment is the issue of the commitment of overseas armed forces by the President of the United States without the consent of Congress. The issue is emphasized further by the contention of certain senators that the President exceeds his authority by resorting to "Executive Agreements" with foreign governments instead of formal treaties requiring confirmation by the U. S. Senate.

GENERALLY, HOWEVER, the discussion in the several following articles will deal primarily with relations between the legislative arm of government and the judiciary. The Congress passes laws and the Supreme Court interprets those laws as to their application and constitutionality in a particular case. It has often been claimed in some quarters in more recent years, the courts have not been ruling on what the law is but rather on what they think it ought to be. When and if this becomes the case, the courts are then legislating instead of interpreting.

THE ROLE OF each branch of government, that is the Executive, the Legislative and the Judicial, was established by our founding fathers as coequal and coordinate branches of government. The genesis of the American political experiment fashioned in 1789 was the fragmented nature to create checks and balances, one against the other. The framers of the Constitution divided political power between the federal and state governments and made a further division within the federal structure to balance the authority given to each of the three branches.

Without question this division of governmental authority was a deliberate act intended by the framers of our Constitution to preserve to the maximum extent an individual's freedom from the only creature capable of taking it away — an irresponsible government.

THESE POLITICAL innovations are fundamental to our form of government and not subject to change except by the will of the people themselves. Unfortunately, from time to time in our history, and at the present, these great principles which were envisioned to give us a sense of security and comfort have not been viewed as immutable. The states are rapidly becoming merely administrative appendages of the federal government. Because so much legislation has been enacted by the Congress, the administration of which is given the executive, in too many instances the executive has dominated the legislative. In more recent times, the judiciary has assumed an activist role in shaping national policy. For this reason the "checks and balances" have become more of a slogan than meaningful. To the extent that this carefully structured system is being eroded, individual freedom itself may be in jeopardy.

TRADITIONALLY, COURTS have been confined themselves to the resolution of private wrongs and have left to the legislative bodies the duty and obligation of defining public wrongs and providing solutions.

'Health Of People First Law'

At a state university, all incoming students were required to have chest X-rays. But at least one young woman found this intolerable. In a court challenge, she argued:

"HAVING A CHEST X-ray is contrary to the principles of my religion. To require it is to violate my religious freedom, which is guaranteed by the First Amendment."

However, the court overruled her objection. Noting that X-rays can reveal tuberculosis and that tuberculosis is infectious, the court said:

"THE REGULATION is purely for the purpose of discovery. It does not say you must be treated if you are ill; it only says if you are ill and (don't) know it, you cannot spread your infection to others."

Religious freedom, of course, ranks high in our constitutional system. But it does not outrank the necessities of public health.

SAID ONE judge: "The health of the people is the first law."

Other freedoms, too, may be limited by considerations of health. In another case, a restaurant owner invoked freedom of enterprise to oppose the rules of sanitation laid down by city hall. But a court ruled that freedom of enterprise likewise must yield to the public weal.

"The danger to health," said the court, "renders the (restaurant) business a proper one for regulation."

STILL, EVEN health regulations must meet the test of reasonableness. One squeamish city council, worried about germs, passed a law flouting the sale of any second-hand clothes within the boundaries of the community.

But when this law was tested in court, it was held to be unconstitutional. The court said a total ban simply could not be justified, since lesser controls could protect the public perfectly well.

PUTTING THE "health" label on an unreasonable law, said the court, did not make it reasonable.

A Devotion For Today

The Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul. (Genesis 2:7)

PRAYER: Our Father, how marvelous are all Thy works! Truly we have nothing in ourselves of which to boast; only through Thee do we have physical and spiritual life. Help us to worship Thee in these temples of ours and by the way we live each day. Amen.

My Answer

By BILLY GRAHAM

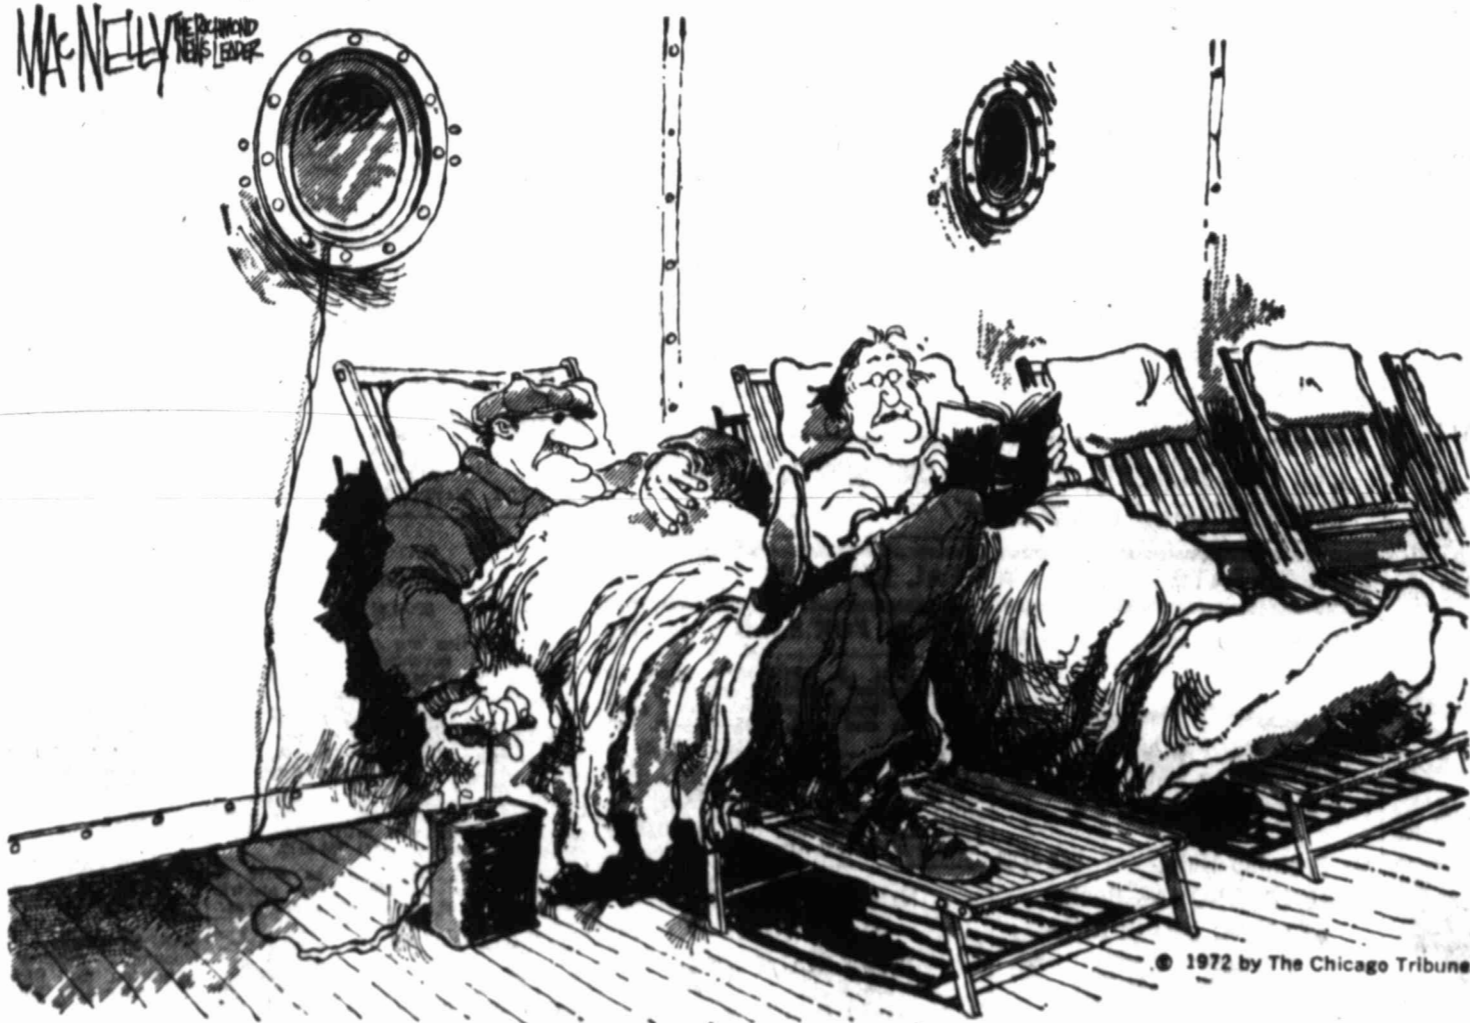

I am an active member of our church, and I work in the youth department. Recently we acquired a new Youth Director, and he has taken it upon himself to dictate the kind of dress the young women should wear. He has prohibited pants suits, and says that dresses should not be more than two inches above the knee. I was reared in a Christian family, and I love the Lord as much in a dress as I do in a pair of pants. Is this director correct?

V.L. The Bible does not lay down specific rules about the type of dress Christians are to wear, although it does make some generalizations. And besides this, God has given every person a degree of common sense and good taste. The Bible says that "women should adorn themselves in modest apparel . . ." I Timothy 2:9.

The Bible puts no emphasis upon outward dress, but stresses the importance of spiritual adornment. "Whose adorning let it not be that outward adorning of plating the hair, and of wearing gold, or of putting on apparel; but let it be the hidden man of the heart, in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price." I Peter 3:3.

The Bible is as a rule non-negative about dress. Although Peter in the above verse mentioned a style of hair, and the wearing of gold, he used this only as a backdrop to urge people to strive for the adorning of the heart. That is the important thing. It is possible to be dressed very modest, and harbor very immodest thoughts. Spiritually, clothes do not make the man. However, having said that, Christians should exercise modesty in dress and meekness in spirit, just as the Scriptures enjoin.

Can Join Last Of 20th Century?

John Cunniff

BY MARQUIS CHILDS (Substituting today for John Cunniff)

MOSCOW — The lilacs just over the Kremlin wall are in full bloom and in the numerous parks throughout the city the flowering trees are out in their bravest and best. The long harsh winter — snow was on the ground until three weeks ago — is ended and the Russian spring has stirred a quickening hope.

On eight-lane Gorki Street the traffic piles up at the entrance to Revolutionary Square. The President of the United States is placing a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier and security is so tight that the citizenry, kept at a safe distance from the scene, can only guess at what is happening. On the front page of Pravda they have seen a picture of the conference table in the Kremlin with Richard Nixon on one side and Leonid Brezhnev on the other.

People are told so little that, if veteran observers can be relied on, the mass of the people are apathetic. They are bent on getting some of the good things, the scarce things, for themselves: an apartment of one or two rooms they will not have to share with another family as 40 per cent of Muscovites still do.

They know so little. With a short-wave radio they can listen to Voice of America broadcasts in English (VOA in Russian is jammed) or to BBC. This would be a small minority.

With the progress being made during Nixon's week here and new avenues to the West opening up in a wide range, one might reasonably expect this society to be transformed in a relatively short time, evolving from closed to open. But that is not the view of those who over the years have kept this separate, isolated part of the planet under close scrutiny. There will be movement, but it will come with the crunching, grinding slowness of a great glacier.

Whether the Soviet Union can move into the last third of the 20th century and still maintain its separateness from the rest of mankind, is a large question. Take just one factor — computers. In the West computerization has gone a long way in contributing to speed, efficiency and a reduction of the work force throughout the economy. Ranging from airline reservations to a multiplicity of calculations in the weapons field, the computer is omnipresent. In the Soviet Union the computer is still in its infancy.

The sweep of change is in the powerful assault on the physical aspects of this capital city. Kalinin Prospekt was knifed through Moscow's old Arbat sector, with new apartments, shopping malls and office buildings lining the broad highway extending to the Lenin Hills and Moscow University. A satellite city of 45,000 units is springing up on the outskirts of Moscow.

For all the revolutionary dogma dinned in for 55 years, the weight of the past is overwhelming. It is in the habits, the temperament, the outlook of a people who have endured so much misgovernment over the centuries. They are resistant to change, resistant to the constant invocation to work, to produce, to exceed every quota, every five-year plan.

WASHINGTON — For several months, the United States and the Soviet Union have had special representatives meeting to develop a cooperative effort to deal with environmental problems. A comprehensive agreement has just been signed in Moscow. It calls for joint programs on specific projects and for the two countries to work together on a variety of subjects which are regarded in today's world as of particular concern. Among them are the following:

AIR POLLUTION, water pollution, environmental pollution associated with agricultural production, enhancement of the urban environment, preservation of nature and the organization of preserves, marine pollution, biological and genetic consequences of environmental pollution, influence of environmental changes on climate, earthquake prediction, arctic and subarctic ecological systems, and legal and administrative measures for protecting environmental quality.

THE AGREEMENT recognizes the importance of finding means to provide environmental protection and the desire to facilitate the establishment of closer and long-term cooperation in this field between interested organizations of the two nations. The agreement is dated May 23 at Moscow, and was signed by President Nixon and by President Podgorny. It is the first of its kind ever entered into between the two countries or between major nations.

ANOTHER AGREEMENT — on medical science and public health cooperation — was signed in Moscow on the same day, by Secretary of State William P. Rogers for the United States and Minister of Health Boris V. Petrovsky for the Soviet Union. It is the result of careful planning and was first proposed in October 1970 by the United States. The idea received approval by the Soviet Union in February 1971, and a joint committee has been working since early this year on the provisions included in the agreement.

THE INITIAL focus will be on heart disease, cancer and health problems associated with the environment. The cooperation will be of a wide-ranging and long-term nature. There will not only be exchange of information, specialists and delegations but joint studies and scientific conferences and lectures, as well as direct contacts between individual scientists, scientific medical societies, and editorial boards of medical journals.

THE AGREEMENTS are far-reaching in their importance and will be viewed in many countries as a long step toward finding solutions to problems in the fields of health and the environment. The mere fact that the Soviet Union and the United States are working together to deal with these humanitarian questions will no doubt make a favorable impression around the globe. For these agreements do not relate to war or peace but simply are designed to improve the health and living conditions of the peoples of all nations.

ALL THIS is far different from the news that has been coming in recent years from Moscow. An emphasis now is being placed on the willingness to the Soviet Union to participate in helping the rest of the world rather than devoting itself to developing and manufacturing lethal weapons which could kill hundreds of thousands of people in dreadful wars. The world prefers to be reading about Russia's interest in the welfare of human beings.

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — Above the ashes of a Negro Baptist church that was burned during racial tension here 14 months ago, blacks and whites Sunday dedicated what has become known as "the house that love built."

People of two races overflowed the new sanctuary of St. Paul Baptist Church in what one speaker called "a demonstration of what's right in America."

"What's wrong with this country?" has been asked again and again. T. A. Patterson of Dallas, executive secretary of the 2-million-member Baptist General Convention of Texas.

"But we're saying to all the world here today that there is a oneness in Jesus Christ." Construction of the new church began last January in "an old-fashioned log raising" using finished spruce logs trucked in from Colorado. Pastor Lory Hildroth of Texarkana's First Baptist

Love House

Church said then, "Both races are working together, shoulder-to-shoulder, eyeball-to-eyeball, rebuilding in love what was destroyed in hate."

A rash of fire bombings that accompanied racial tensions in Texarkana schools more than a year ago also culminated in the burning of the Mt. Orange Baptist Church. People of both races have also helped to rebuild the Mt. Orange Church, and its pastor, S. A. Stuckey, said, "We have set July 9 as our tentative opening date."

The arsonists failed in their efforts to destroy two other churches when their incendiary bomb fizzled beneath the pulpit of the Polly Baptist Chapel and two quick-acting Texarkana patrolmen extinguished the blaze in the New Town Baptist Church.

The arsonists never were apprehended, and the $5,000 reward by the chamber of commerce for information leading to their arrest was added to the rebuilding fund for both churches. Contributions totaled about $25,000, with the largest single gift of $5,000 coming from the First Baptist Church, Texarkana. A check for $1,000 from the Texas Baptist Convention was presented to the St. Paul Church at the dedication service.

St. Paul Pastor B. C. Green said the use of the finished logs, plus volunteer labor and a mission church builder provided by Texas Baptists resulted in a building erected at less than half its $110,000 appraisal.

The Rev. Mr. Green told the members, "I shall advise each of you today as we go into this holy house, let us not carry our prejudices, our bitterness or our strife into this house . . . Yes, our hands are blistered, our feet are tired . . . but we're not tired, because the God that we serve supplies us anew every night."

The Rev. Mr. Green said the response to the tragedy "has brought us closer together and made the entire community more conscious of race relations."

Terminal Road To Be Improved

ODESSA — Contracts are to be awarded Thursday by the State Highway Commission to two construction companies to eliminate a major U.S. 80 traffic hazard at the entrance to the Midland-Odessa Regional Air Terminal.

South Texas Construction Co., Midland, and Austin Bridge Co., Dallas, submitted the low bid of $3,018,928 for the project. Bids were opened Friday by the Texas Highway Department.

The project will include two grade separations on U.S. 80, one at the terminal entrance and the other at the intersection with FM 1788, commonly known as Pegasus Road. The grade separations are an attempt to eliminate the last major uncontrolled intersection on the heavily traveled segment of U.S. 80 between Midland and Odessa.

Are They Sick?

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Recently you printed a letter from someone who claimed to be a "well-adjusted homosexual."

There is no such thing as a well-adjusted homosexual; the two terms are antonymous. Homosexuality, male or female, is a form of sexual deviation which is symptomatic of personality disorder. By any reasonable standard of human development, homosexuality is an abnormal human condition which needs competent professional treatment. It is, in effect, a form of emotional illness.

I think that you would be as interested as I in what your readers think about the subject.

HAPPY HETEROSEXUAL DEAR HAPPY: By whose definition is homosexuality an illness? There are homosexuals who live socially well-adjusted, discreet, personally happy lives, whose homosexuality would come as a surprise to many of their close heterosexual friends.

The fact that homosexuality is morally condemned by most people in our culture makes it seem abnormal. In other times and in other cultures it has not always been so judged.

Much of the maladjustment seen in homosexual is due to the rejection, persecution and guilt imposed upon them by intolerant and ignorant contemporaries.

DEAR ABBY: This letter is in reference to a question you asked in your column recently. "Exactly how does one go about thawing out a Swede?" If you ever receive a practical answer, I beg you to publish it at once. You see, my wife, although American born, is of Swedish extraction. Moreover she has an intensely religious background — the kind which stressed "no-no's" concerning anything to do with sex. Because of this she is so inhibited that she is totally unresponsive to my lovemaking. (Unresponsive? Worse yet. She finds it disgusting.)

I've tried everything: tenderness, ingenuity, sex manuals, marriage counselors, but to no avail.

Now, after 10 years of trying to thaw out my little iceberg, this "flame" is pretty well burned out.

Your question, "How does one thaw out a Swede?" has somehow sparked a narrow beam of hope again. If you ever get an answer, do publish it.

ASHES DEAR ASHES: If the Reproductive - Biological

Spend Too Much Time Talking Sex

TOWSON, Md. (AP)—The women's liberation movement is spending too much time talking sex and marital contracts, the widow of Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. says.

Coretta King told graduates of Goucher College Sunday that the movement has become marred by "elitism" and lacks appeal for black working class women.

"They spend too much time talking about sex and marital contracts and not enough about tokenism of both black and white women and equal pay for equal work," she declared at commencement ceremonies for the women's liberal arts school.

Against Law For Cows To Wear Bells

CLEVELAND, Tenn. (AP) — It's against the law here for cows to wear bells.

That is one of the antiquated laws still on the books which the business law class at Cleveland State Community College uncovered in a recent study of the city code.

Bill Roberts, class instructor, said the study also revealed that:

—It is illegal for persons over 16 to skate on sidewalks or streets.

—It is unlawful to operate an automobile near a cemetery between 6 p.m. and 8 a.m.

—It is unlawful to operate a "flying jenny" or "merry-go-round" after 6 p.m.

—No person shall board or leave a vehicle while it is in motion.

—No more than two hogs per person may be kept in the city.

—No person may keep, stable or maintain a jackass within the city limits between 6 p.m. and 6 a.m. or any hour on Sunday.

—It is unlawful to hitch animals to shade trees or feed them on streets.

Research Center in St. Louis, Mo., can't solve your problem, nobody can!

DEAR ABBY: Congratulations to your reader, Leonard M. Lake, in regard to that young woman's decision to marry a conscientious objector. It does not follow that a person with pacifist convictions could not act to protect his family. Take it from no less a spokesman than Mahatma Gandhi:

"He who cannot protect himself or his nearest and dearest of their honor by nonviolently facing death, may and ought to do so by violently dealing with the oppressor. He who can do neither of the two is a burden. He has no business to be the head of a family. He must either hide himself, or must rest content to live forever in helplessness and be prepared to crawl like a worm at the bidding of a bully." Submitted by:

Bed Sores

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My brother, 64, became ill with Parkinson's disease 12 years ago. For the last several years he has been almost immobile and spends his days in a wheelchair. He has developed severe bed sores where he sits.

My sister-in-law has taken him to skin specialists, but creams and medications have not helped. She keeps him in bed now most of the time, but off the sore so it can be exposed to the air, but even this has not helped.

By staying in bed so much his leg muscles are becoming stiffer, but the pain is excruciating when he tries to sit.

We are looking for help in curing the bed sores, not the Parkinson's disease.

—Mrs. G. L. Nurses (and doctors) know that prevention, rather than cure, of bed sores is the best answer. I hope this hint will be taken to heart by anyone who is starting to care for an invalid. Bed sores, once they have started, are not easy to combat. Not that they can't be treated successfully, but it is neither easy nor quick.

Such sores result from pressure. The skin becomes macerated. Perspiration, traces of urine, and rectal seepage add to the trouble.

Invalids often do not eat well, and inadequate protein and vitamins, especially A and C, compound the distress.

Measures that can be used at home (besides suitable diet) includes use of a sheepskin pad at the pressure area. Synthetic pads also are available for this purpose.

When sores are on the buttocks, an inflated rubber ring may help the patient to sit comfortably — and in a case like this one, it is essential that the patient be kept out of bed as much as possible to prevent further stiffening of the legs.

Heat lamps may help keep the area dry. (They should be infra-red lamps. Ultra-violet ones may burn.)

However, when bed sores reach the condition described in this case, the problem may be difficult to handle at home. At this stage salves and medications won't suffice.

Plastic surgery may well be necessary — skin grafts, or a gold leaf technique to help stimulate protective scar tissue.

The patient mentioned above happens to live in a city that has a rehabilitation institute, and those institutions are well equipped for such cases. I would strongly suggest considering moving him to the institute for a time.

Treatment can be given for the sores, and effective nursing procedures taught to prevent recurrence. And, of course, if further treatment can help the Parkinson's disease, that would be investigated, too.

The patient's physician can arrange for admission to the rehabilitation institute.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Re: your column about young children suffocating inside plastic bags. If a knot is tied in a small plastic bag, or a series of knots in a large one, it is impossible to put the head inside. I have three children, and I make it a habit to store plastic bags that way. — Mrs. S. L.

Sounds good. But still keep the bags out of reach. Kids can untie knots, too.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is there
