Nixon Returning For Arms Speech

WARSAW (AP) — President Nixon flew out of Warsaw for home today to report to Congress and the American people on his summit talks in four nations and the breakthrough arms limitation accords with the Soviet Union.

The President is to address a joint session of Congress at 8:30 p.m. (Big Spring time), half an hour after his jet is scheduled to land at Andrews Air Force base near Washington. The touchdown will end a 13-day summit tour that took Nixon to Austria, the Soviet Union, Iran and Poland.

The presidential press secretary, Ronald L. Ziegler, said the main theme of Nixon's nationally broadcast address will be "what has been accomplished and what now must be done."

Ziegler told newsmen before the departure from Warsaw that the President feels his talks with Soviet leaders in Moscow and the arms limitation accords are of such importance that he should report on them "at the earliest possible date."

DETAILS

Though Ziegler did not divulge details of the speech, all indications pointed to a presidential effort to sell Congress and the public on the arms accords he signed with Leonid I. Brezhnev, the Soviet Communist party chief.

Before leaving Warsaw, his final stop, Nixon hosted a luncheon for the Polish leadership. He told the Poles in a farewell toast that members of Congress will appreciate the "solid ties" between Poland and the United States that were reinforced by his two-day visit.

His talks with the Polish Communist party leader, Edward Gierk, and Polish government leaders covered expansion of U.S.-Polish trade, technological cooperation and other matters. A communique issued after the talks noted disagreement on Nixon's Vietnam policy but stressed mutual desire for increased ties in commerce and tourism.

CREDIT MATTERS

"With this in mind, the two sides discussed issues related to commercial exchange and financial and credit matters," the communique said. "The Polish side indicated an interest in increased purchases of capital goods, licenses and technology in the United States."

The statement was issued following a 45-minute conversation this morning between Nixon and Gierk in the Palace of the Council of Ministers. Also sitting in were presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger and the Polish premier, Piotr Jaroszewicz.

While they talked, Mrs. Nixon attended a Chopin recital in Lazienki Park across the street. She got a spontaneous farewell of shouted bravos and kisses on the hand when she rose to leave.

TRIUMPH

The President returns home with a major election-year triumph to lay before Congress and the American public in the arms limitation accords.

Though the agreements took effect on signing, they were couched in part in the form of a treaty requiring ratification by two-thirds of the Senate.

Nixon's speech at 9:30 p.m. EDT will be broadcast nationwide.

Although the two leaders agreed to implement the pact immediately, it cannot take effect permanently unless ratified by two-thirds of the Senate.

Senate liberals and moderates greeted the treaty-signing with generally favorable comment, but conservatives were skeptical and some denounced it as a giveaway to the Russians.

The treaty, hammered out over two years of U.S.-Soviet negotiations, freezes the number of offensive nuclear missiles at the existing levels including those under construction, and limits each nation to two defensive antiballistic-missile sites, one to protect the national capital and the other to guard a field of offensive missiles.

SPECULATION

In Washington, congressional leaders speculated that Nixon would use the rare joint-session address to muster support for the second phase of the SALT talks as well as to urge speedy action on the initial treaty.

SALT's Phase 2, authorized by the treaty which also spells out its procedures, aims for a future U.S.-Soviet agreement limiting other weapons, such as bombers.

Tonight's presidential message, the first such summit report to Congress since 1945, also puts Nixon the candidate before the voting public under a condition he is known to favor: on prime-time television cast in the role of statesman rather than politician.

Happy To Be Free, Says Bobby Baker

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Bobby Baker, former secretary to the U.S. Senate Democratic majority, was released on parole today and declared himself happy to be free after nearly 17 months behind bars.

Baker, 43, was picked up shortly before 8 a.m. by a private car which had driven into the federal minimum security prison farm near here. When the car reached the gate, Baker got out and spoke briefly to newsmen.

"I feel fine and I'm happy to be free," Baker said. He reminded newsmen that he has always maintained he was innocent of the income tax evasion, fraud and grand larceny charges of which he was convicted in 1967.

Baker refused to talk about his stay in prison, saying he would grant no interviews until after the publication of a book he is writing. He gave no details about the book.

Baker had been sentenced to three years in prison. Before his parole, he was held at the Allenwood prison farm, which is known as the honor farm of the Lewisburg Federal Penitentiary.

A former Senate page boy who rose to the secretary position, Baker was convicted in 1967 on charges related to the misuse of his authority. After several appeals, he entered prison on Jan. 14, 1971.

California Winner Could Get Nod, Kennedy Believes

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy said today he believes that the Democratic candidate who carries the California presidential primary "can very easily develop the kind of momentum which will pave the way to the nomination."

The Massachusetts senator, in Miami Beach to address a convention of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, told a news conference he had "felt continuously that the nominee would be selected as a result of the primaries."

"I think that's the best way," Kennedy said, and then anticipating another question, he added, "and, I will not be a candidate nor will I accept a draft."

Kennedy said he watched both debates between Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey and George McGovern and thought Humphrey won the first one and McGovern the second.

"The debates have been very much directed toward the issues the country is facing," he said. "I think they have been extremely informative to the people who have been watching them and have been useful and helpful in trying to delineate the positions of the candidates."

"I think if one candidate were to win in California with any significant margin, he will win the nomination. If it's close, it becomes more of an open question. But a decisive winner would be selected as the nominee."

IN NEW ORLEANS

Resentencing Of Rap On Gun Count Delayed

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge Lansing Mitchell said today he has postponed the resentencing of H. Rap Brown—probably until Friday—because Brown's defense attorney is unable to appear today in court.

Mitchell said attorney William Kunstler has a case pending in New York which prevented him from being in New Orleans for today's scheduled hearing.

Brown, a black militant leader, was moved to New Orleans Wednesday from a New York jail amid heavy secrecy and over strong objections from his attorney.

Brown was scheduled to appear in U.S. District Court for the new imposition of a sentence on a 1968 conviction of illegally transporting a firearm across state lines.

The previous maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $2,000 fine had been canceled by a federal appeals court on the grounds it had been pronounced while he was "in absentia."

The 28-year-old Brown had disappeared, becoming a member of the FBI's "most wanted" list, but was wounded and arrested when police halted an armed robbery of a New York bar last October.

Brown's journey to his native Louisiana came as defense attorney William Kunstler unsuccessfully sought to serve an order from New York State Supreme Court Justice Harold Birns to delay the transfer.

Kunstler attempted to serve the order at the state correction facility on Rikers Island, but Brown was not there. Kunstler alleged he was misled by authorities in trying to locate Brown, terming it a "dirty piece of business."

'Wetbacks' Rap Slapped By Briscoe

DALLAS (AP) — Dolph Briscoe said today that the report he works wetbacks on his South Texas ranch is "a shameful publicity stunt" originated by his opponent, Mrs. Frances Farenthold.

"It is my belief that the whole scheme was concocted and executed with her full knowledge and participation," the Democratic runoff candidate for governor told an early morning news conference.

Briscoe commented on news stories from Washington saying the office of Sen. Adlai Stevenson III, D-Ill., had asked the Justice Department "to investigate anonymous charges that I exploit Mexican nationals."

"The Justice Department stated only last month it investigated similar charges made by a member of La Raza Unida party and found that, as I have clearly stated before, I do not employ illegal aliens. This statement puts to rest completely allegations made by those trying to discredit me."

Briscoe told newsmen that it is "obvious that this was a shameful publicity stunt, designed to get headlines and to get untrue and malicious charges against me out into the respectability of newsprint."

"It also seems clear to me that my opponent in this race is involved in this travesty. After all, she employs a Washington-based public relations firm and this was a Washington publicity stunt," Briscoe said.

$1,500 Will Pay Military Bonus

WASHINGTON (AP) — To spur lagging enlistments, Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird today authorized the Army and Marine Corps to begin paying $1,500 bonuses to men enlisting for combat training.

The first cash enlistment bonus since the Civil War, the money is being offered as part of a 90-day trial running through Aug. 31 to see if this added incentive attracts needed volunteers for the combat arms-infantry, artillery and armor. Officials will then determine whether to make it permanent.

"In moving toward President Nixon's goal of an all-volunteer armed force by July 1, 1973, we must improve manpower stability and long-term retention, particularly in the combat arms specialties," Laird said in a statement.

"I believe one step in stabilizing the force may be achieved by offering the $1,500 ground combat arms bonus to individuals accepting four-year enlistments, and I have authorized a test program to assess this."

Congress last fall authorized payment of an enlistment bonus of up to $3,000, but Laird postponed putting it into effect to first assess the effects of new pay raises which have since doubled a recruit's pay to $288 a month.

But even with the pay hike and the offer of choice assignments in Europe and Hawaii, the Army was unable to meet its enlistment quota for the combat branches, the most critical need in an all-volunteer force.

The Pentagon estimated that the bonus will cost about $16 million during the 90-day test period. This is based on the Army accepting up to 7,500 enlistees and the Marine Corps 3,300 in the combat arms.

To be eligible, volunteers must sign up for four years instead of the usual three-year enlistment.

Gang's Red Army Leader Baader Jailed

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Police with an armored car blasted the hideout of a terrorist gang today and captured leading gang members wanted in a recent series of political bombings across West Germany.

The gang's Red Army Faction is blamed for the recent wave of bomb attacks on U.S. Army bases, police stations and other buildings.

Federal police identified two of those arrested as Andreas Baader, 29, accused of being co-leader of the Baader gang, and Holger Klaus Meins, 30, who is believed one of Baader's top lieutenants.

Police sources said Baader was wounded during an early morning gunfight in a residential district in northern Frankfurt.

Berlin police issued the original warrant for Baader's arrest and have been actively participating in the nationwide manhunt for him.

Plane Death

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — One man was killed today when his crop dusting plane crashed and burned in a cotton field eight miles north of Brownsville.

A spokesman for the Cameron County Sheriff's Department said the crash occurred in a field just off the old Port Isabel Road.

The pilot was not identified immediately.

Dream Of Quick Prosperity By 29 Illegal Aliens Ends

DENVER (AP) — The U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service returned 29 Mexican men to El Paso, Tex., Wednesday, ending their dream of quick prosperity for their families across the Rio Grande.

The men, illegal aliens, were arrested here Friday.

"EL COYOTE" They told of paying a man called "El Coyote" $100 each to herd them into the back of a rented truck and ride for 26 hours without food or water into the interior of a country where they do not speak the language.

The 29 were taken into custody when police searched a truck parked behind a drive-in diner.

The Rev. Joseph Lara, a Roman Catholic priest, talked to the men while they were being held in the Denver County Jail.

Father Lara said the men told him they would be returning to a bleak future in Mexico, trying to support their large families on meager wages if, in fact, they could find work.

He said the trip started in Juarez, across from El Paso, with a promise to the 29 men, from different states in Mexico, of jobs and transportation into the United States. The group met in Juarez at a designated location one night last week, he said.

HIGH INTEREST

After a wait of several hours they were led into a "tunnel," possibly a sewer, and walked for a long while until they emerged on the U.S. Side of the border. They then were locked inside of a truck.

The men told Father Lara that most had to "borrow the money at 10, 15 and even 20 percent interest rates." One man, Carlos Garcia, from the State of Durango, said he had to sell his home to raise the $100 fee. All, except one, said they were married and had large families.

Lara said they told him that if they found work in Mexico, they could earn 20 pesos or $1.70 a day, compared to the $8 they hoped to make daily in the United States, probably working in the fields.

The men told the priest they had planned to work for about two months, and make as much as they would working a year in Mexico.

One-Man Race Voting Ends

Voting ends Friday at 5 p.m. in the absentee balloting for Tuesday's special election. Governor Preston Smith called the election for the selection of a replacement for former State Senator David Ratliff.

Ratliff, Democrat from Stamford, resigned his senatorial post of 17 years after charges of nepotism in hiring for his senatorial staff members of his own and fellow legislators' family members were brought against him.

Bill Tippen, an Abilene attorney, is the only man to have filed to serve out the remainder of Ratliff's unexpired term.

A total of 79 persons have cast absentee ballots in the special election. Absentee voting may be done either in person in the Howard County Clerk's office, first floor, county courthouse, or by obtaining and returning mail-in ballots.

In-person voting must be completed by 5 p.m. Friday. To be valid ballots, mailed absentee ballots must be mailed to an out-of-county address and the ballot must be mailed to the clerk from an out-of-county address. Mailed ballots can be counted if they arrive in the county clerk's office by 1 p.m. Tuesday.

No applications for mail-in ballots may be accepted after 5 p.m. Friday. On the application, the voter must swear that although temporarily residing at an out-of-county address, Howard County is that voter's permanent home.

Police With Submachine Guns Patrol International Airport

TEL AVIV (AP) — Border guards armed with submachine guns patrolled Israel's international airport today following the terrorist massacre Tuesday, and the Israeli government called on foreign airlines to make more effective checks of passengers and baggage.

Lebanon alerted the U.N. Security Council to the possibility of Israeli retaliation for the attack in which three Japanese hired by the Palestinian guerrillas killed 23 persons in the Tel Aviv airport and wounded 70. The Lebanese feared a reprisal raid on the Beirut airport because a guerrilla organization based in the Lebanese capital, the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, said it was responsible for the massacre.

International carriers serving Israel... These included a search of all passengers and their hand baggage, the statement said, and each checked bag was set aside and identified by its owner before boarding.

The French government implied that any laxity was the Rome airport's fault since the three Japanese boarded there. But Rome airport officials said they only performed checks requested by the airlines, and Air France had asked only that the hand luggage be checked.

Starting immediately, baggage checked by passengers to Tel Aviv will be searched, Air France and Paris airport authorities said.

Condemnations of the attack came from many foreign nations, from U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim and from the Vatican.

MRS. WALLACE COMES TO HOLLYWOOD — Mrs. George Wallace, wife of the Alabama governor, talks with television host Merv Griffin during taping of his show in Hollywood Wednesday night. Mrs. Wallace has been with her husband in a Silver Springs, Md., hospital since he was shot May 15.

Wants Her Husband To Pursue Political Goals

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A bullet lodged below the spinal cord of Alabama Gov. George Wallace will be left there indefinitely unless it causes infection, his wife says.

"They are trying to give him all the time they can on this area before they go into the back," Cornelia Wallace said Wednesday night at the taping of the syndicated Merv Griffin Show.

In her first national television appearance since the governor was shot in Maryland May 15, Mrs. Wallace also revealed that the governor moved his foot for the first time Tuesday night when he dozed off while his children visited.

"But I don't know exactly what it means, because a neurosurgeon was not there," she said.

Earlier, Wallace's toes had wiggled when his feet were rubbed or tickled. He is hospitalized at Holy Cross Hospital in Silver Springs, Md.

Mrs. Wallace's appearance on the show will be broadcast by Metromedia Monday, the day before the crucial California Democratic primary in which Wallace is a write-in candidate.

In other comments, the comely wife of the governor said: "Wallace, who has mustered more popular votes than any other candidate in the 1972 primaries, still has his eye on the Democratic nomination.

Four bull riders made successful rides, Monty Taylor of Allison and Curt Johnson of Odessa in the 13-15-year-old group and Dale Cobb and Ricky Hughes of Knott in the 16-19 age group managed to stay aboard.

Long-Life Laser

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (AP) — A sunlight-powered laser that provides the long life communications systems has been developed by GTE Sylvania Incorporated, it has been announced.

By means of lenses and mirrors, the new device collects and focuses rays of the sun. The rays stimulate material in the laser to produce beams which can carry voice, data, television and other communications.

Dr. Donald E. Caddes, manager of the company's Electro-Optics Organization, said that the limiting factor of space communications' lasers has been relatively short life.

"Present lasers are powered by electric discharges or lamps and are not yet capable of operating the required 5 to 7 years in a communications satellite," he explained. "The sun-powered laser promises to provide not only the necessary longevity, but economies of weight and size as well."

Tent Cities Signal Few Jobs In Utah

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — More and more migrant workers are pouring into northern Utah despite barren fruit trees and warnings that there are no jobs, officials report.

Rudy Hernandez, regional director for the Utah Migrant Council, said Wednesday the first of two "protest cities" made up of tents will start going up next week in Kanesville. Another is to be built in Box Elder County, he said.

The cities are to house migrant families and to protest inadequate housing in surrounding communities, Hernandez said.

"To start with we will put up 10 to 20 tents and plan one family in each tent," he said.

Military tents will be used for the village on three acres of land that has been donated, he said.

The decision to build the migrant cities was announced after a protest of the housing situation Sunday in Ogden.

Hernandez said the flow of migrants into Weber County has not slowed. Gov. Calvin L. Rampton sent letters to governors of Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona warning that jobs would not be available for out-of-staters because of a late frost that destroyed nearly all of the state's fruit crop.

"From where I stand there are more people arriving so far than there were by this time last year," Hernandez said.

He said most of them will just have to move on.

But he added that some could stay and enroll in manpower training programs at the skills center in West Ogden.

Union Rejects '30 Hours Of Work For 40 Hours Pay'

HOUSTON (AP) — A splinter group of union delegates is trying to drum up support for a Labor Party aimed at turning both Republicans and Democrats out to political pasture, installing a "workers' government" in the nation's capital and making employes the bosses of all industry.

With a platform that includes "30 hours work for 40 hours pay," the small faction of the AFL-CIO American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees denounced President Nixon, all the Democratic presidential contenders and their own union leaders on charges of betraying workers.

The group, which had trouble mustering much more than a phone booth full of supporters, got a generally respectful hearing Wednesday but an overwhelming "no" vote from the majority of the 1,500 union delegates representing 550,000 members across the nation.

THAT 'BUM'
"Get that bum out of here," yelled one delegate when one of the splinter faction, Jerry Warren of San Mateo, Calif., urged the union convention to adopt the resolution for creation of a Labor Party.

Warren criticized president Jerry Wurf and other union officials for endorsing Sen. Edmund Muskie for the Democratic presidential nomination. Warren said Muskie appeared before the convention only because "This is the last remnant he has." Muskie spoke before the group Wednesday and urged organized labor and the Democratic party to unite in an effort to defeat Nixon in November.

BIG BUSINESS

"The union leadership seeks to strike a bargain with the liberal big business candidates not only to steer discontented workers back into the party, but also to consolidate its own positions of power over the rank and file by selling us out if necessary," the Labor Party supporters said in a broadside handed out to delegates.

"Long considered 'friends of labor,' the liberal Democrats have shown that they are controlled by the big corporations just as are the Republicans. Every Democrat supported the wage freeze," it said.

Warren also spoke against a convention resolution praising recent Democratic party reforms.

LABOR PARTY

"I'm against commending the Democrats for these reforms because they are phony reforms," he said. The resolution was overwhelmingly passed. "It is precisely now, when millions of workers—many turning to the racist (George) Wallace as a 'protest'—of all races and ages have no real enthusiasm or any of the leading Democrats, that the labor leaders are in an absolute frenzy to whip up support for them," said the Labor Party group.

Open Conclave Slated On Offending Odors

A special meeting, in which representatives will find that the city has already begun to study ways to correct the nuisance.

Sludge from the sewage facility, which according to Nagel and Bill Brown, utilities director, is the substance causing the odors, will be tested beginning Friday by a small and new laboratory machine.

The machine will analyze the sludge and compute what it will take to deodorize it and the size of machine needed for the task.

"After preliminary study is made on the sludge, the city will attempt to secure the suggested machine for use and future purchase if it works," said Nagel.

Air pollution boards are not the only state organizations concerned with the particular problem in Big Spring, which is not a unique problem.

"Operation Clean Sweep," the Texas Water Quality Board's clean-up program initiated in November of 1969, has almost completed the first phase of its assigned task. The TWQB heard a staff report on "Clean Sweep" at its monthly meeting May 24.

TESTS CONDUCTED

"Clean Sweep" was started in the northeast corner of the state, with TWQB field personnel examining all wastewater discharges, river basin by river basin. Since the program

The Rev. Ed Beasley will conduct his first service in Big Spring Sunday morning at the First Church of God.

Beasley comes to Big Spring from Cushing, Okla., a town midway between Tulsa and Oklahoma City. He will fill the position vacated by Forrest Robinson at his new church. Wesley Hutchings has been serving as the interim pastor.

Beasley and his family will reside at 2001 Main. He and his wife, Norma, have three children: David, 14, Steve, 12, and Cyndy, 10.

"I'm looking forward to my experiences in Big Spring. It looks like a tremendous place to live," Beasley said.

He attended Louisiana Tech and Centenary College in Louisiana before getting a bachelor of arts degree from Anderson College and Theological Seminary in Anderson, Ind.

In his spare time, he likes to play golf.

Might Get Jail Wish

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — William Seals, who tried to get back into jail by throwing a brick through a glass door at Miami police headquarters, has been freed after a $150 fine.

Seals, 67, was convicted Wednesday on a charge of destruction of public property and sent back into the streets where he said "life is tougher than behind bars."

The former furniture repairman, who was released from the Dade County stockade May 15 after serving almost a year for arson, walked into the Miami police station Sunday and begged policeman L. W. May to lock him up. The officer told Seals he had committed no crime so he committed one by tossing the brick.

was started, 1,500 wastewater dischargers, both municipal and industrial, have been inspected, and of those, representatives from 243 wastewater treatment systems have been called before the board to give account of their operations.

Big Spring officials have been before the board twice in the past year. The operation has covered almost half of the counties in the state, including Scurry, Borden and Dawson to the north of Howard County.

Thus far, as a result of the program 64 waste dischargers have either completed or have in progress construction projects to improve their treatment facilities, 19 dischargers have been terminated, and 11 have been referred to the Attorney General for failure to comply with regulations.

"Clean Sweep has done what it was meant to do, and that is to show us where the problems are in the state," said Gordon Fulcher, TWQB chairman.

"The program now moves generally into West Texas and the Upper Rio Grande Valley areas where problems of water pollution are relatively few," he added. "A few south central counties also are yet to feel the weight of the 'broom' that is sweeping the state."

Fulcher pointed out that municipalities both large and small are responsible for an appreciable portion of damage to the waters of the state. "Many of them have outgrown sewage treatment facilities that were constructed years ago. These facilities must be updated," Fulcher said.

Wichita County Wins First Welfare Round

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Wichita County came out victor Wednesday in the first round of a court battle with the Texas State Department of Public Welfare over allocation of federal funds.

The state was ordered by a federal district court judge to restore Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) to those children made wards of the court here and placed in substitute homes.

Additionally, future payment to dependent children who might become eligible was ordered.

The ruling by Judge Jack Roberts of Austin came on the third anniversary of the last day the state agency operated a child welfare unit here for the county.

AFDC funds have been withheld since June 1969 when the county terminated its contract with the state Welfare Department. The County Probation Department assumed operation of the child welfare branch, noted Howard Large, chief probation officer.

Crux of the county-state dispute is control, officials explained.

The state has maintained, Large said, that it cannot allocate AFDC funds unless the courts place care, custody and control of dependent children with the state agency.

Judge Roberts' ruling came following a hearing on the county's application for temporary injunction seeking to reverse the state's policy.

It was the first skirmish in the court dispute since the county, on authorization of the county Child Welfare Board filed its suit several months ago.

The county brought suit in behalf of some 30 children seeking federal funds in excess of $7,000.

The injunction will continue in effect, said Large, until the case is tried on its merits before a three-judge federal court in Austin probably in October.

Large was in Austin Wednesday for the court hearing.

Since the state Welfare Board ruling three years ago, the county has borne the costs of the welfare.

Miami Officials Demanding Antismog Acts From States

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Environmental officials here demanded antismog action by three states after charging that an "industrial air pollution bank" which drifted down from the North blanketed the Sunshine State with smoky haze for five days.

Weather satellites traced the flow of "this unusual pollutive load" from industrial regions of Ohio, Pennsylvania and Tennessee, said the Dade County pollution control chief, Peter Baljet.

"we will investigate the situation thoroughly and will be in contact with the Environmental Protection Agency to discuss it with them. After determining the real problems, we will take appropriate action."

However, the director of Tennessee's air pollution control board expressed doubt the industrial emissions from factories could travel as far south as Miami.

Sub-Committee Is Named To Shape Up Fair Plans

A Chamber of Commerce subcommittee has been formed to initiate a County Fair Association.

The Agriculture Committee decided Wednesday to form the committee with Alton Marwitz, Bruce Griffith, Gerald Miller, Johnny Walker and Edwin Bednaras members.

The sub-committee will talk to interested persons in the Howard County area and report on the interest in a fair association at the end of the month.

The committee reported that interest in the fair is high, with 80 out of 90 persons asked about the fair in favor of it.

The fair, lasting about three days, would be held sometime this fall. The committee members are contacting other counties that have county fairs, as well as local residents who have had experience running the old Howard County Fair.

The committee also discussed Agriculture Appreciation Day, June 15. The committee plans a free barbecue lunch for all Howard County farmers and their families.

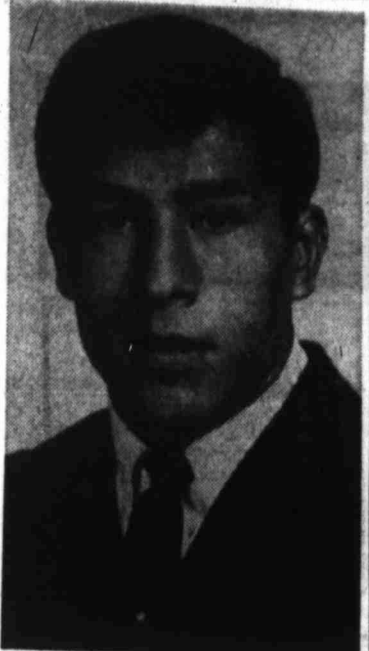

The farmers will be asked to come by the Chamber office for free tickets, or they can ask for them by mail. Most farmers should be contacted by mail, but any that are missed should come by the Chamber for tickets.

The tentative location for the luncheon is the county fair barn, from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

WEATHER FORECAST — There will be rain today in the Northeast and showers in other parts of the nation. It will be cool in the East and Northwest and warm elsewhere.

Three IRA Leaders Put Behind Bars

DUBLIN (AP) — Authorities of the Irish Republic arrested three leaders of the Irish Republican army's provisional wing Wednesday and today but were unable to find a fourth.

The two arrested Wednesday were Joe Cahill, once the spearhead of Provisional operations in Northern Ireland, and Rory O'Brady, president of the Provisional's political arm, Sinn Fein. They were held under the offenses against the state laws, allowing police to keep them for 48 hours without formal charges.

Prison authorities said they went on a hunger strike.

O'Brady's brother, Sean, publicity director of Sinn Fein, was picked up today.

Sean Macstophain, chief of staff of the Provisionals, evaded a police dragnet.

The Official wing of the Irish Republican Army announced a cease-fire Monday night, but the Provisionals have ignored it and kept up their campaign of violence in Northern Ireland. Their headquarters is in Dublin, capital of the Irish Republic.

In the Northern Ireland capital of Belfast, two men burst into a downtown taxi office early today and shot two Roman Catholic attendants, wounding them critically. Security sources said the raid may have been a revenge attack by Protestant guerrillas. There was also an explosion and shooting around the dock area of Belfast.

Troopers Trying To Trap Red Vietnam Regiment

SAIGON (AP)— More than 1,000 South Vietnamese paratroopers launched a sweep with tanks 25 miles northwest of Hue today, trying to trap a North Vietnamese regiment.

Enemy artillery caused light casualties, and by late afternoon two government task forces were battling North Vietnamese units of 100 or more men each.

In the air war, U.S. Air Force Phantoms shot down two North Vietnamese MIG21s within 30 miles of the Chinese border Wednesday. No U.S. planes were reported lost in the dogfight, the closest to the border since the 1965-68 bombing campaign. But the U.S. Command said a Phantom returning from a strike in North Vietnam today crashed just before reaching its Thai base, and the two crewmen were rescued unhurt.

The U.S. Command said the two MIG21 interceptors were shot down within 15 minutes of each other at points 50 to 70 miles northeast of Hanoi by missiles from two F4 Phantoms based in Thailand. The MIGs apparently had been sent up from the Kep air base, 35 miles northeast of Hanoi, to challenge the bombers which the Phantoms were escorting.

North Vietnam also was hit from the sea. The heavy cruiser Newport News and the destroyer Waddell ranged for 100 miles along the coast, firing at more than 30 targets. The Navy said one fuel depot was left in flames and more than 20 secondary explosions were observed at an ammunition dump.

HCJC Signup Deadline Near

Registration for the first six weeks of the summer session at Howard County Junior College reached 323 Thursday morning. Deadline for registering is Friday afternoon.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, said that there were some 10 others who had registered but who had not cleared the business office. In addition, a number of others had indicated they plan to signup before the deadline.

Victim Fell Three Times?

HOUSTON (AP) — A man allegedly beaten to death by police officers fell three times—the last time on a pile of rubble—as he tried to escape officers on the night of his death, a policeman testified here Wednesday.

The testimony of Galena Park officer Walter E. Sanders came in the federal trial of former Houston officers Arthur N. Hill and Jack A. McMahon.

Sanders was testifying about the night of April 4, 1970, when he arrested Bobby Joe Conner and Larry C. Taylor for auto theft.

After being questioned by Hill and McMahon at the suburban Galena Park station, Conner died and Taylor had to undergo surgery for internal injuries.

South Vietnamese forces in Kontum reoccupied the area around the hospital. Dr. Pat Smith of Seattle, Wash., had operated for Montagnard tribesmen, and the remaining patients and staff members were reported unharmed despite heavy fighting in the neighborhood. Government troops in Kontum also were reported to have reoccupied a Roman Catholic compound in the southeast part of the city.

South Vietnamese forces were reportedly slowly clearing out the enemy pockets remaining in Kontum. They claimed 227 North Vietnamese killed Wednesday and said they found the bodies of another 128 in mass graves on the northern outskirts of the city.

Largest Paving Pact In World

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — The first pouring of concrete for the field of the Dallas-Fort Worth Airport began in late May—the largest paving contract in the world—costing $57 million and involving 620 acres of concrete.

Ready at the start, said airport officials, was the world's largest stockpile of aggregate of 400,000 tons.

Bandit Collects $22,000, Banker's Wife Unharmed

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A mustachioed gunman was at large early today after he kidnaped a bank president Wednesday and gave him just three minutes to collect about $22,000 from his bank.

The banker's wife, held as a hostage, was found unharmed afterward in the trunk of her car, police said.

Even as authorities probed the city's third bank robbery in two weeks, another local bank reported an apparent extortion plot that fizzled early Wednesday afternoon.

FLASHY CLOTHES
Sought in the first extortion scheme was a young man with a mustache, flashy clothes and long dark hair who abducted E. R. Bentley, president of the Valley-Hill National Bank.

Bentley, who was released at the bank after he filled an attaché case with money, said he was confronted by the gunman when he answered the doorbell at his home early Wednesday morning.

"When I opened the door, I was looking into the end of a pistol," Bentley said.

The bank executive, 59, said he was forced to drive the bandit to his bank, where he was given "three minutes" to enter the firm and return with the attaché case filled with $20 bills.

The bandit remained in Bentley's car while he went inside, and he fled in the auto after receiving the money, Bentley said.

CAR FOUND
The car was later found abandoned at a nearby apartment complex early Wednesday afternoon.

At about the same time, far across the city at the American State Bank, officials said a man called with a demand that the bank place some money at a nearby motel in return for the safety of a bank executive.

But police said the executive was at a meeting and apparently in no danger, and officials disregarded the call.

In the Bentley case, the FBI and local law officers sought not only the gunman but an accomplice.

Bentley said he never saw the accomplice but his wife, Oral, told police someone drove her around in her car for several minutes after her husband left with the gunman.

She said the driver returned to the Bentley's garage, parked the car and tapped on the trunk, asking if she was all right. After Mrs. Bentley replied affirmatively, she heard foot steps and a door close, she said.

300,000 Harris County Vote?

HOUSTON (AP) — County Clerk R. E. Turrentine has predicted as many as 300,000 Harris County residents will vote Saturday in the runoff election. The estimate is 21,000 shy of the number that voted in the May 6 primary.

Turrentine said 9,998 persons cast absentee ballots before Tuesday's deadline, and an additional 2,527 requested absentee ballots by mail. He said the figure is a new high for county absentee voting in a runoff election.

Bentley said the bandit first made his wife bind him with surgical tape, then bound her, then forced him into a bedroom. He said he didn't see his wife again until after the robbery.

VERY NICE
The bandit disappeared, and when he returned 30 minutes later, he said an accomplice was holding his wife, "but that no one would be hurt if I cooperated," Bentley said.

They next went to the bank to carry out the gunman's orders, Bentley said.

Shortly after the gunman fled, the executive said, the bank received a call advising officials that Mrs. Bentley was locked in the car trunk.

Bentley said the bandit was "very nice, courteous, but firm, and he backed up his requests with the pistol."

SATURDAY NIGHT: (Q.) I have a car. Every time I start the motor, my younger brothers and sisters want to go wherever I am going.

Almost always I take them. But last Saturday night my aunt and uncle asked me to baby-sit for them. They told me I could bring my girl friend to keep me company.

My youngest brother, who is 13, wanted to go with me, but I said no. He cried and cried, but I still said no. Do you think I was right to say no? — Big Brother, Age 18, in Indiana.

(A.) Yes. You seem to be generous with the car and fair to the younger members of the family about it. This, however, was in the nature of a Saturday-night date, and your little brother was out of line demanding that he share it with you.

But your aunt and uncle and you and your girl friend made a mistake. Neighbors or friends often misinterpret the situation when a boy and a girl spend an evening or night in a house without adults. You may get your girl friend or yourself talked about for doing this. Give it some thought before you do it again.

Let's casual examination of the bidding diagram presented above leads the reader to the conclusion that he is the victim of a typographical error, let me hasten to reassure him concerning its accuracy. A few years ago, C. C. Wei, born in China but a long time citizen of the United States, developed a new bidding system which he appropriately christened "Precision." It was designed to simplify bidding by dividing opening bids into two groups—strong hands and holdings of intermediate and lesser strength.

In the Precision system, an opening bid of one club is artificial and employed to designate a hand containing at least 16 high card points. Other opening bids are thereby limited to lesser values. If responder has less than 8 high card points, he bids one diamond if his partner has opened with one club. Any other response is positive and designates a minimum of eight points. There is of course much more to the system than this and anyone who is interested is invited to pick up a copy of my book on Precision (Charles H. Goren presents the Precision System) which in one year has become one of the all time best sellers in the bridge field.

The system has enjoyed a spectacular success in the field of tournament bridge since its inception. A team of relatively unknown and internationally inexperienced Chinese players using Precision finished second for two straight years in the International Team Championship in 1969 and 1970. More recently a group of young men from New York and Connecticut have won three of the last four major United States National Team Titles.

The hand presented today netted a huge swing to the Precision team in the final round of the Vanderbilt Team-of-Four recently held in Cincinnati.

Tom Stuart, seated South, opened the bidding with one club, describing a hand with 16 or more high card points [he held 18]. West made a sub-par overall of one heart and Eugene Neiger's jump response of three clubs, indicates at least eight high card points and a broken six card suit. Reinforced with this knowledge, Stuart realized that a small slam in clubs could hinge—at worst—on a heart finesse. Without further ado, then, he leaped to six clubs.

The play was routine. The jack of spades was opened and won by North's ace as South discarded a heart. The queen of clubs was led for a finesse and when West's ten appeared, declarer repeated the finesse—picking up East's king on the third round. Diamonds were led next and when the suit divided evenly, Stuart claimed 13 tricks, six clubs, five diamonds, one heart, and one spade. The profit for the vulnerable small slam was 1,390 points.

At the other table, the players seated North and South were using standard methods so South opened the bidding with one heart, North lacked the high card strength to respond at the two level, holding only nine high card points, so he bid one spade. Altho South's rebid of two diamonds left much in reserve, he felt obliged to proceed cautiously until a fit was uncovered.

North gave his partner another chance by bidding two no trump and now South chose to rebid three diamonds. North felt that any further action on his part would be throwing caution to the winds and he passed. The ten of clubs was opened and North's jack held the first trick. Altho 11 tricks were there for the taking with all hands exposed, South tried to ruff some hearts in dummy instead of drawing trump. The second round of trumps was ruffed with the ten of diamonds and overruffed by East's jack and a club return was trumped by West. By the time the play was completed, South ended up with eight tricks and a 100 point deficit on the deal. The total profit to the Precision Team was 1,490 points which represented two-thirds of their victory margin in the match.

Angela May Deliver Part Of Defense's Arguments

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — The prosecution has asked a jury to convict Angela Davis of first-degree murder, kidnap and conspiracy, alleging she helped engineer a bloody courthouse escape attempt to free the man she loved.

Miss Davis listened intently as prosecutor Albert Harris Jr. delivered part of his final argument Wednesday and asked the jury to find her guilty of the crimes, for which she faces a possible life sentence.

Miss Davis listened intently as prosecutor Albert Harris Jr. delivered part of his final argument Wednesday and asked the jury to find her guilty of the crimes, for which she faces a possible life sentence.

WORDS OF LOVE

Miss Davis, a 28-year-old black Communist who did not testify in her own defense, has the opportunity to deliver part of the defense's final argument today — proclaiming her innocence as she did in her opening statement. She is a co-counsel in the case.

In his argument, Harris said Miss Davis' own words of love in a series of letters to convict George Jackson were "relevant and indeed persuasive of her involvement in these crimes."

Harris said the evidence clearly shows that Miss Davis conspired with Jackson's 17-year-old brother Jonathan during the weeks before the Aug. 7, 1970 escape try at the Marin County courthouse in San Rafael. During a shootout which erupted, Jonathan, a judge and two convicts were killed. George Jackson was shot to death a little over a year later in what authorities said was an attempt to escape from San Quentin Prison.

The prosecution has charged that the hostages were taken from the courthouse in an attempt to escape from San Quentin Prison.

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicagoans now can have the fun of eating on a plush railroad diner without going anywhere. The Rock Island Lines has installed a diner and club car from the old Golden State Limited on Track 1 of La Salle Street Station and opened them as a restaurant serving lunch and dinner.

In conjunction with the Southern Pacific, the Rock Island operated the Golden State Limited between Chicago and Los Angeles until declining patronage forced its discontinuance.

During Harris' presentation of the defense's final argument today, the prosecution will make its final closing statement.

The judge then gives his final instructions and the jury begins its deliberations. Attorneys said the jury may get the case Friday—at the latest on Monday.

CAB-Consumers Panel Dissolved

WASHINGTON (AP) — A committee set up by the Civil Aeronautics Board to represent the interests of airline passengers has been quietly dissolved after meeting five times in two years.

No member of the board ever attended meetings of the Consumer Advisory Committee, according to chairman Reuven B. Robertson III, a Ralph Nader adviser.

Robertson said when he complained to CAB Chairman Secor D. Browne about the committee's inactivity, Browne replied in a letter. "The time has now come to dissolve the committee."

Robertson asserted the airline industry pressured the CAB to limit and eventually eliminate the presence of an independent consumer organization attached to the CAB.

Browne denied that, and said consumer interests were represented in a variety of other ways before the board, including the Aviation Consumer Action Project, a Nader spin-off which frequently testifies at board hearings.

Five Fems Face Felony Charges

HOUSTON (AP) — A Harris County grand jury has indicted five women on felony theft charges in connection with receiving state welfare aid.

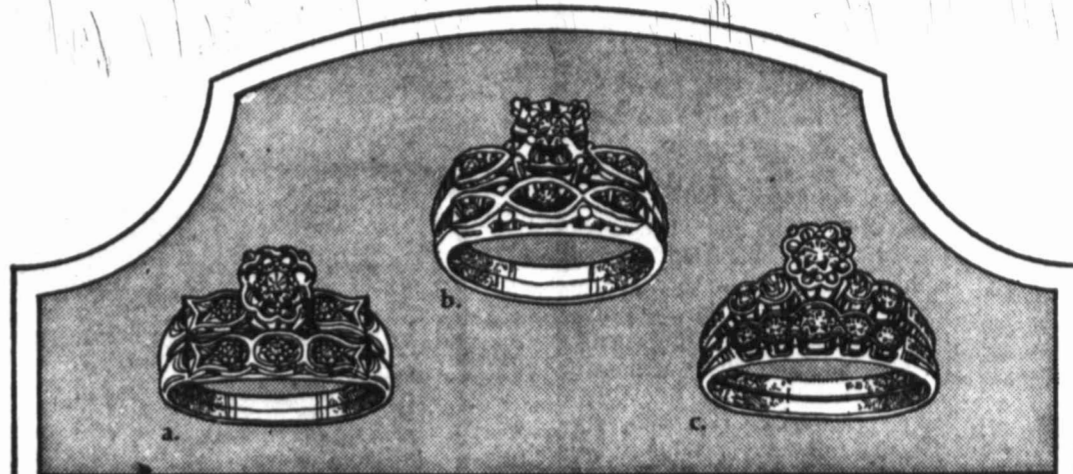

Mark Vela, assistant district attorney, said the women allegedly defrauded the state $60,000 in less than two years by claiming aid for children who did not live in their homes.

District Court Judge Sam W. Davis set $1,000 bond for each of the women.

Youth Once Thought Dead Is On Road To Recovery

By JUDY HALVORSEN
Daniel Morgan's story is one of a dauntless struggle to recover two things most people take for granted — speech and mobility.

He had them with all the vibrance of a teen-ager before July 18, 1971. On that Sunday he was late getting dressed for services at Baptist Temple so he left after his family on his motorcycle. After church, he found no one home yet and decided to circle around again.

At 21st and Runnels, his cycle and a car were in collision.

It all happened so quickly that he has no memory of it.

"They thought he was dead," his mother, Mrs. Walter R. Morgan, 406 E. 2nd, said, recalling what a witness told her recently. "They pulled a cover over him."

STILL ALIVE
But when a policeman, who was only half a block away at the time of the collision, summoned an ambulance, he saw Daniel's leg move and realized the youth was alive.

Daniel was rushed to a hospital here, then on to Medical Arts Hospital in Odessa where brain surgery resulted in removal of two blood clots and draining of excess fluid.

He hovered between life and death for a week before his family was given any hope for his life. Once the crises passed, they faced the agonizing uncertainty of the extent of Daniel's injuries.

Now semi-conscious, he was completely paralyzed on the right side and was unable to speak.

"I just never did give up. We couldn't," Mrs. Morgan said. It was Daniel's third week in the hospital before he moved his eyes. Mrs. Morgan, who stayed in Odessa during Daniel's hospitalization, thought she noted finger movement and heavier breathing when she was talking to Daniel. Doctors warned her not to grasp at straws because apparent movement could be merely nerve spasms.

"GOOD MORNING"
Then one morning Daniel shocked his doctor by mouthing the words: "Good morning."
Later, Daniel used his weakened left hand to pull from his nose the tubes that provided nourishment. Rather than replacing them, the doctor suggested that Mrs. Morgan use an eyedropper to feed her son.

TRAVELLING THE LONG, SLOW ROAD BACK TO RECOVERY
Daniel Morgan, right, with aid of Jim Thompson, whips disability

Drop by drop, she fed Daniel a bowl of soup. It took all day. Finally his menu increased to include mashed potatoes, fish and frozen milkshakes, which Mrs. Morgan scraped with a spoon to feed her son.

When the Morgans took their still semi-conscious son home after six weeks in the hospital, doctors warned them that Daniel's progress could stop at any time.

The time between the little triumphs seemed like eternities to Daniel. Progress was so imperceptible that he felt frustrated at not improving. Mrs. Morgan hit on the idea of a day-by-day record of each improvement so Daniel could look back on a week or a month at a time.

EVEN FUNNY
"Jim Thompson told me it would have to be from month to month," said Daniel, whose affection for the therapist had increased to boundless faith. Sometimes, the struggle was wonderfully funny. In the early days back home, he was watching television. Impulsively — forgetting he couldn't walk — he moved from his chair to right flat on the floor.

After waiting three months to hear Daniel's voice again, his mother and brother, David Frank, 15, misunderstood the first two words he spoke. To prompt him to talk, his family would ask him questions which needed more than a "yes" or "no" reply. One day Mrs. Morgan asked him if he would like iced tea or a Coke. Daniel's "either one" sounded more like "ather wan" and Frank thought he wanted apple wine. Daniel was visibly frustrated at the misunderstanding, but Mrs. Morgan and Frank gleefully realized what he really had said.

EXCEEDED HOPES
Within that lifetime of a year Daniel has recovered from partial paralysis and complete speech loss to achieve a degree of recovery his doctors never thought possible.

Mrs. Morgan expressed her family's appreciation: "Even though Daniel's life was spared, I firmly believe his usefulness would have been much more greatly impaired if we had not been so fortunate as to live near the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center. I am thankful that many people were so concerned about others that they worked and gave to establish an efficient therapy center in Big Spring before we needed it."

Daniel gave his family a very special gift for Christmas. He wrote his name, although he had to use two lines because the letters were so large. He was walking, too, with aid of a leg brace and a cane.

ON HIS OWN
Today Daniel walks at least an hour a day, sometimes without the aid of the brace. He drives himself to the rehabilitation center, climbs stairs, and talks. He has finished two homebound courses and plans to return to high school in the fall to pick up the two credits he lacks for graduation.

"I wish they had taken a picture of me right after the accident," said Daniel, looking at a picture of his frail, semi-conscious body taken in his third week of intensive care. "I don't see how anybody could be worse than that and still be alive."

Daniel does not remember the

Daniel Claims At Least 85 'Firm Votes'

AUSTIN (AP) — Rep. Price Daniel Jr. of Liberty says he expects to have all the votes he needs to be elected 1973 House speaker by the middle of next week.

He told a news conference Wednesday he is confident he will have at least 85 "firm votes" lined up a few days after Saturday's runoff primary.

The 150 House members elect their speaker, or presiding officer, and a majority of 76 is required to win.

Daniel said his vote count is not contingent on the runoff between Speaker Rayford Price of Palestine and Rep. Fred Head of Troup for re-election to the House.

"My margin would be substantially increased if Rayford Price is defeated in his bid for re-election to the House," Daniel said.

He said he based his count on an analysis of May 6 primary results and the expected results of 33 runoff elections Saturday. Daniel said he counted only Democrats.

"In many of the runoffs, I will receive a vote for speaker regardless of how it turns out. In others, there is only one friendly face, but I feel confident they will win," he said.

Asked if he thought he would have his election as speaker "sewed up" by the middle of next week, Daniel said: "I hope so."

He said the first primary will receive a vote for speaker regardless of how it turns out.

Although several other House members say they are speaker candidates, Daniel said that by January the race will "be between Rayford Price, or someone selected by the 'Big 4' lobbyists, and me."

He identified the "Big 4" as Bill Abington of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, Walter Caven of the Texas Railroad Association, Jim Yancy of the Texas Manufacturers Association and Harry Whitworth of the Texas Chemical Council.

If Head beats Price, Daniel said, "I think the 'Big 4' Austin lobbyists will center on Mr. (Don) Cavness" of Austin, speaker pro tem of the House. Cavness has denied talking to any lobbyists or representatives about running for speaker.

Candidate Wed Six Times Calls Opponent 'Senile'

AUSTIN (AP) — State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, 80, faces the most serious threat to his long career in state office Saturday in a Democratic runoff race with James L. "Jim" Wilson, former chief of the research division in the comptroller's department.

The winner will be Texas' next comptroller because there is no Republican candidate. Calvert and Wilson, 42, appeared as runoff candidates from a field of seven candidates in the May 6 primary with Calvert finishing almost 600,000 votes ahead of second-place Wilson. Before the voting former State Rep. R. G. "Randy" Pendleton of Andrews, who has been Gov. Preston Smith's liaison man in Washington, was favored to go into a runoff with Calvert. Pendleton finished third.

WED SIX TIMES
Calvert has held the job of comptroller since he was appointed in 1949 by the late Gov. Beauford Jester. In the 11 years he sought re-election previously there has been no serious contest to his administration.

Wilson, who for about nine years worked closely with the legislature in making estimates of future state revenue, says Calvert is "senile, inefficient, and a racist who has made the comptroller's office 'an old folks home.'"

Calvert says if Wilson should get elected, "God help this department and the state of Texas."

Many Texas newspapers got a special news release from Calvert recently in which he claimed that Wilson had no administrative ability, had been married six times with four divorce settlements and one annulment, and has had at least two contacts with the law. Calvert says Wilson was arrested for driving while intoxicated in 1965. The charge was later reduced to imprudent speed and Wilson paid a $150 fine. Calvert said Wilson was arrested for aggravated assault in 1970 on a charge filed by his fifth wife and eventually paid a $400 fine.

"While these things in my past are basically true, I don't think I have done more than other people have done," Wilson told a Houston Post reporter. "I have made mistakes like all of us do. Since that time, I have become a Christian and my past had been forgiven, by God, at least."

The comptroller's office at present doesn't have a retirement age. Wilson said. "There are people in their 80s still on the payroll. This is unfair to younger, dedicated employees who can't advance because of this policy. For years the comptroller has refused to remove one question from the employment application. That is: 'What political party do you belong?' Needless to say, the applicant should write Democrat. The comptroller does not and will not maintain a racial balance among the 1,100 employees statewide. There are six Negroes and a few more Mexican-Americans on the payroll. He is a past master of every technique for not hiring the minority."

Only Wounded Soldiers, Americans Allowed Aboard

KONTUM, Vietnam (AP) — Two American soldiers and two Vietnamese stand at the yawning rear ramp of the helicopter, their rifles at the ready. They make threatening gestures at the crowd outside, an anxious mob of women with children slung under their arms, soldiers waving official papers, old men with the lines of worry and age in their faces.

The guards shout but cannot be heard over the roar of the big jet engines. Despite the searing exhaust and gale-force winds of the rotor downdraft, the mob presses closer. The ramp is raised to prevent them from leaping aboard.

He will be the leader in one of the annual conference's 30 discussion groups. More than 500 conference participants will devote most of the three days to the groups. Several of the discussion units are on the conference theme, "Renewal of Americanism through Community Involvement." The majority will deal with key educational programs such as individualized instruction, teacher certification, multi-ethnic problems, court decisions affecting schools, school finance, drug education and environmental education, among others.

HC Dean Leader In A&M Study
COLLEGE STATION — Charles D. Hayes, administration dean, Howard Junior College, will have a key role June 12-14 in the School Administrators and Supervisors Conference at Texas A&M University.

The guards' job is not pleasant but necessary. Only wounded soldiers and Americans are allowed aboard.

The chopper taxis a few yards to get away from the crowd. Before the people can catch up, an army ambulance swings behind it and backs up to the ramp, which descends again.

The wounded come aboard, first two men on stretchers that are shoved to the front of the cabin. One grimaces in pain, the other appears to be unconscious. Then the others—a young man in the arms of a boy, a plasma bottle dangling near his weary brown face; four soldiers with bandages on their heads, throats and chests; a girl with red-stained gauze holding her hand and arm together.

Ramp up. Two American soldiers swing up and climb aboard. They lived in Kontum once but now go there only in the daylight to guide in the helicopters. They grab a ride out each night on the last bird to Pleiku. The engines accelerate. A cloud of dust and debris envelops the machine, driving the crowd back as the big Chinook lurches into the air and turns south for Pleiku. Each day is the same now. Several hundred townspeople wait in the half finished soccer stadium downtown, hoping one of the diminishing number of helicopters will somehow open to them. "No," the American sergeant explains to all who come begging. "Only Americans and wounded Vietnamese. Those are my orders." He speaks to them in English. They don't know the language, but they get the message.

Toward A Balanced Budget

Gov. Smith has scheduled that necessary special session for June 14, the day after the Democratic state convention. He has promised a balanced budget and has taken sharp exception to some views that the Legislature can add to it — and impose new taxes if it chooses.

When he unveils his budget will be time enough to quibble about its adequacy. Certainly there'll be no pre-session clamor for more taxes! There is an apparent deficit of about $150 million if current levels of state services prevail. If the governor can draft an acceptable budget within the anticipated income, he will have performed a notable public service.

It is assumed that the Senate will take up recess appointments for confirmation hearings. A few of the nominees are entitled to a vigorous examination in the public interest. The Senate will have an opportunity to break new ground in accountability, also. Past custom held that if a nominee is satisfactory to his home district senator, he is good enough for the state. That is obviously a subversion of the advise-and-consent concept. Such a backscratching arrangement badly needs reform. We can think of no time better than June to start.

The governor also reminds the legislators of their new joint conference rules, requiring a joint hearing on appropriations. That is a time-saver. For a special session, it's a very good idea. In regular sessions, two versions of an appropriations bill — even if they come out of a single, joint hearing — might be useful if the old conference committee concept is abandoned. That custom allowed the conference to rewrite the budget to include entirely new material. The new material was usually pet projects for patronage purposes, a gross abuse of legislative power.

Basic goal of the special session should be to write an effective budget for the second half of the biennium. It should be a good-performance budget; not a get-by budget at the expense of essential services.

If the comptroller's June 1 estimate of income is substantially higher than it was about three months ago, the governor may, indeed, be able to present a balanced budget. It would be a great going-away present to the taxpayers of Texas, where the tax trend everywhere else is up.

Be A GOOD Citizen

Make your plans to vote Saturday in the runoff primaries.

Remember you must vote in the primary in which you participated May 6. You can't switch parties at this stage, but if you did not vote in either in the first go-around, then you have the option of doing so now.

We hear a lot these days about having a voice in nominations as well as elections. Most of this has to do with presidential nominations, but the argument is equally valid in all other offices.

This is especially true Saturday, for we will be selecting nominees in both parties for governor.

On the Democratic ticket, there will be a selection of nominees for United States Senator, lieutenant governor and state comptroller.

And besides, for all concerned, there will be a special election to select a state senator for this district.

So Saturday stacks up as an important day. Be a GOOD citizen. Vote.

Happy Hamburger

Around The Rim

Linda Cross

I have found the ideal cookbook. It wastes no time on fancy measurements such as soupoons and flagons and the like, but gets straight to the point — "Take a pound of hamburger and..."

It's "Edith Bunker's All In The Family Cookbook" complete with recipes explained in "ding-bat" style and with comments from Archie.

EDITH GIVES a recipe for hamburger:

Hamburger Bacon Wraps — "You can get real pressed for time. Or money. Or probably both. Them times you can get away with hamburger for dinner. But it's better if you kinda dance a little jig with them. Like I always wrap slices of bacon around them."

"Well, Edith, I bring home the bacon and I see you don't waste no time throwin' it in the fire," is Archie's comment.

CORNED BEEF HASH and beets in Edith's book become "Red Flannel Hash."

"Edith, red flannels is something you wear but you'd never eat unless you was starving to death and maybe a little delirious in the head," said Archie.

SWISS CHEESE, in Archie's opinion, is "holier-than-thou cheese." Edith doesn't include too many tips on clever things to do with leftovers as Betty Crocker or some other economically minded cookbook writer might.

"Since Michael (Meathead) came to live with us I can't hardly remember what a leftover looks like," writes Edith.

Archie greets Edith's flights of fancy with "French omelets" with: "I see you're slinging some more frog eggs, Edith."

According to Edith, Archie "goes wild" over her recipe for red cabbage and applesauce. Michael finds that hard to believe.

"For Arch, you'd think it had two strikes against it right off. First for being a Kraut dish. But worse yet, for being Red," is Michael's comment.

All the quips are accompanied by complete recipes. Whether one likes the recipes or not, they're good for a laugh while the hamburger burns.

Only With Power

Omar Burleson

WASHINGTON, D.C. — At the end of last week's comments, a distinction was drawn between public and private wrongs as a matter of responsibility between the courts and the legislative branch of the federal government.

THE CONSERVATIVE view is that public wrongs do not lend themselves to judicial solutions. Rather it is a matter of legislative initiative to determine questions of public policy and spending priorities. Only a broadly based representative body, democratically selected, can bring the judgment to bear on these factors in order to place them in perspective.

Properly, the courts have played a role in limiting excesses in the exercise of legislative and executive power. But, they have done so within the context of private litigation and have carefully avoided challenging governmental policy as distinguished from constitutional power to act.

IN MORE RECENT YEARS this traditional role of the courts has changed. More and more the judges have entertained jurisdiction and ruled on matters aimed at asserted public wrongs. If the legislative branch of government should frustrate the desires of a group of people by rejecting their claims, the courts are asked to furnish relief. This judicial activism is not consistent with the original role of the courts was fashioned for and represents a dangerous shift of power from the people, acting through their elected representatives, to judges who are answerable only to themselves. It is a trend bad for the courts and worse for the country.

Justice Felix Frankfurter observed "The court's authority — possessed of neither the purse nor the sword — ultimately rests on sustained public confidence in its moral sanctity. Such feeling must be nourished by the Court's complete detachment — in fact, and in appearance — from political entanglement and by abstention from injecting itself into the clash of political forces in political settlements."

MR. JUSTICE FRANKFURTER was one of the most consistent advocates of judicial restraint. It has been the failure of federal courts at all levels to heed his advice, that constitutes the core of some of the problems we have in this country today.

All too frequently, decisions are rendered on the basis that judges disagree with the Congress on matters of policy. Oftentimes opinions may be couched in language challenging the constitutionality of a law but heavily influenced by their belief that congressional enactment is simply unwise.

NEXT WEEK'S ARTICLE will give specific examples of more recent actions of the federal courts in issuing what is known in legal circles as "affirmative orders."

FOR ONE REASON OR ANOTHER!

Just Delete It

William F. Buckley Jr

There has been a lot of fussing about how to reword the critical phrase in the Constitution which began by denying to Congress the right to establish a state religion, and ended by telling school administrators in Anchorage, Alaska, that they may not permit common prayer in the schoolroom.

DURING THE last season, Congress came close to passing a constitutional amendment, over which scholars and priests worried, trying to come up with wording which would satisfy the most apprehensive. There is of course very good reason to worry about exactly what to say in a constitutional amendment because the Supreme Court has taken to stretching words to mean roughly what the court wants them to mean.

IT IS QUITE widely conceded that there is a considerable problem, involving the private schools. It is true that the collapse of Catholic education is traceable to other factors than mere impoverishment. But it is also true that economic factors weigh heavily, and weigh crucially in the case of many schools. It is also true that Jewish and Protestant schools are experiencing a considerable revival, in part because private day schools are increasingly popular havens against educational and sociological bureaucracies; in part because the public feels an urge to rediscover stable values. But most significantly, there is a revival in sight of the democratic dogma, loosely defined for these purposes as the right of the people to decide for themselves what to do. And the right to decide to attend the school of one's choice would appear to be pretty basic.

MY OWN HUMBLE suggestion is that the easiest approach of them all is quite simply to rescind that famous phrase in the First Amendment. It tells us that Congress shall make no law "respecting an establishment of religion were the rule rather than the exception. Founding Fathers had the sanction of a brooding historical omnipresence, the theocratic state.

But in point of fact things have changed. I suppose there is, somewhere in America, someone who desires to wed church and state. But it would require all the resources of the Federal Bureau of Investigation to find him, and if said person were to launch a movement, he would get fewer votes than Lar Dailey.

TO LIST within our Bill of Rights the proscription against church and state united is about as pointless as it would be to proscribe constitutionally the election of a president who is over 100 years old. Nobody wants to elect somebody to the White House who is over 100 years old, and nobody is going to: so why do you need to put it in the Constitution.

MAKES NO difference, that is to say, to the question whether anybody is trying to establish a state religion. If the people pass laws forbidding murder, they do so irrespective of the religion of the prospective murderer of his victim. By the same token, protections are universally applied notwithstanding that many of them came into being as the result of a metaphysical, of a religious view of life. These battles will continue, but it is simply uninformed to conclude from it all that they tend in the direction of establishmentarianism. There are too many laws as it is, and much of a progressive nature can be effected by getting rid of legislation that causes more mischief than any conceivable good under the historical circumstances.

McGovern Feared

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The possibility that Sen. George McGovern will be the Democratic presidential candidate is being considered much more seriously in Republican business circles.

Concern or perhaps even fear seems to be showing.

"This is one time when the victor will make a difference," says Dr. Pierre Rinfret, a Republican, sometime adviser to President Nixon and full-time economic analyst and consultant for a list of blue-chip corporations.

McGovern's election, says Rinfret in a confidential report to his clients, could create a recession.

"The senator is talking about redoing and restructuring society. Such far-reaching changes as the senator is suggesting could create enough uncertainty and cutbacks in capital spending to lead to either economic stagnation or a recession."

The South Dakotan's election, says Rinfret, "would create hesitancy, fear and uncertainty." The parallel, he stated, "would be the economic inaction among businessmen which followed the election of Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Rinfret prefaces his analysis with the comment that "we want to make it quite clear that we neither espouse nor denounce" the McGovern candidacy. But he states "we are convinced that the election... could materially change the short-term outlook for business in 1973."

The main reasons for Rinfret's view are summarized in what he concedes is a greatly abbreviated analysis of the McGovern platform, which he says calls for:

—An increase in corporate taxes that would, in effect, return the tax rate to the 1960 level and draw $18 billion from corporate treasuries.

—An increase in personal taxes for the "rich," which Rinfret interprets to mean anyone earning more than $12,000 a year.

—An increase in government spending. By closing "loopholes" and by raising taxes on the "rich" and on corporations, federal receipts would be increased by $80 billion, to be used for social programs and public investment.

"People like to kid themselves," says Rinfret. "Many people are aware of the fundamentals of the McGovern platform, but they say he could never enact it."

Rinfret isn't so certain. He suggests that McGovern "as a newly elected president would be flush with victory, the new leader of the Democratic party with a Democratic Congress behind him. He would have to, and would, deliver all or a major part of his economic program."

His baking began with his wife's appetite for Italian foods. His first effort was Italian sausage. Next came Italian meat pie. Then he moved on to Italian bread and rolls.

My Answer

Billy Graham

All my life I've been a rotten sinner. I have broken every commandment except murder. Oh yes, I'm a church member, but I only go for outward appearances. The minute I step out of the church I return to my old ways. I have been a shoplifter for one thing, but recently I nearly got caught. Would God hear my prayers at this late date and help me straighten out my messed up life? I am 62 years old.

L.V. Your sad letter points up a fact I have been emphasizing for many years, and that is that many church attenders really don't know Christ in His saving power, and that the greatest place for evangelism is among church people. I know church members who swear, get drunk, lie, and do everything non-church people do and more. If our Lord found a Judas among those He had called, we should not be surprised if people get into His church who have never received Christ and experienced spiritual rebirth.

Yes, God can forgive you. It is for people like you for whom Christ died. But, you have formed patterns of behavior which cannot be broken without His power. It would be good for you to confess to the whole congregation that you have been a hypocrite. The Bible says, "Confess your faults one to another." James 5:16. Your honesty before God may inspire others to repent.

You see, there always have been two kinds of people in the church: the genuine and the artificial. Jesus called them the "wheat and tares," and He said that at the judgment God would put each in his own place. But the wonderful thing is that by putting our trust in Christ, we can be genuine members of His Church.

Big Spender Is Briscoe

AUSTIN (AP) — Millionaire rancher Dolph Briscoe is outspending Rep. Frances Farenthold almost 3-to-1 in their race for the Democratic nomination for governor, according to their campaign expense reports.

The initial reports in the Secretary of State's office show Briscoe has spent $88,275 in the runoff for a total campaign expense of $1,214,978, including $278,818 of his own money. The remainder was donated by supporters, he said.

Mrs. Farenthold said she has spent $418,280 during the entire campaign, including $92,614 in the runoff. Her donations total $423,398.

Bill Hobby said he has spent $919,475 in his race against Sen. Wayne Connally for lieutenant governor, including $794,688 of his own money.

Connally's report showed he has received $481,311 in donations, or $79,513 more than he has spent on his campaign.

In the Republican race for governor, Albert Fay said he has spent $251,120 and has received $50,790 from his supporters. Sen. Henry Grover, Fay's runoff opponent, reported expenses of $273,839 and contributions of $200,947.

In the Democratic race for the U.S. Senate, Ralph Yarborough reported payments of $166,559 and gifts of $178,669. His latest report also showed a $48,165 debt.

Barefoot Sanders' report did not include total expenses or contributions.

Bomb Shelter Becomes Death Tomb For Five

VALDESE, N.C. (AP) — An explosion ripped through a bomb shelter dug into the hillside at the home of a textile executive, killing five children.

Fire Chief A. O. Anderson said the children apparently were playing on the hillside right above the bomb shelter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Garrou at the time of the explosion Tuesday.

Anderson said one child's body was found in a street at the bottom of the hill. The other bodies fell into the pit left when the blast blew off the roof of the shelter.

Garrou's 12-year-old daughter, Jean, was one of the victims. The others were identified as Donald Robinson Jr., 14, and his sister Regina, 12; Gloria Hammond, 12, and 10-year-old Michael Powell.

Cynthia Picou, 10, escaped with only minor injury, according to a spokesman at Valdese General Hospital.

Dick Robinson, father of Donald and Regina, said he and his wife and Garrou were the first on the scene.

"I couldn't even tell you what it was like," Robinson said as sobbing relatives attempted to comfort him and his wife.

"Gina (Regina) was thrown plumb down into a street in front of the shelter about 50 to 100 feet away from it," Mrs. Robinson said. "I found her lying there and it was so awful, so awful."

Cause of the blast, being investigated by federal and state agents, was not immediately determined.

Anderson quoted Garrou, an executive with Alba Waldesian, Inc., as saying the shelter was kept locked. Its entrance was at the foot of the hill.

City's Distinctive Odor Could Soon Disappear

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Can a northwestern American city find happiness without the distinctive odor which has hung over it for 40 years?

A native of Tacoma once said that when he was away for long, he missed the smell he had grown up with. A couple of enterprising country-western singers recorded a song a few years ago called "The Aroma of Tacoma."

The St. Regis Paper Co. has announced that the key ingredient of the unmistakable aroma will be virtually a thing of the past by late summer 1973. The company's kraft mill has provided an olfactory experience for the 150,000 residents and for great numbers of people who have driven through the city.

Robert F. Lynch, St. Regis resident manager, said in March that the company was halfway through a $22-million project to eliminate 95 per cent of the mill's odor. The job should be finished well ahead of scheduled state air pollution control standards set for 1975, he said.

The pulp mill is not the only industrial smell producer here, but its acrid aroma has added the conspicuous touch to that special blend which, to the distress of local citizens, is what many persons think of when they think of Tacoma.

M. C. "Mel" Gaumer, administrative assistant to Mayor Gordon N. Johnston, says the mayor is "exceedingly excited at the prospect" of cutting down the industrial smell.

The city plans to transform several blocks of a downtown street into a pedestrian mall, he says, and although it still is "iffy," a developer has announced plans for a world trade center complex in Tacoma.

George Hoivik of the city planning department says the expansive tidelands industrial region where the pulp mill sits will be "more appealing to some types of industry" when the strong odor is gone.

Hoivik says the copper smelter located within the city limits is a worse culprit than the pulp mill.

The smelter's owner, American Smelting and Refining Co., has been given a timetable by the Puget Sound Air Pollution Control Agency to cut its sulfur dioxide emissions by 90 per cent—a timetable delayed by a number of variances.

Travelers on Interstate 5 generally don't notice the distant copper smelter. It's the pulp mill right under their noses, so to speak, which has their attention and which lingers in their memories. Wind currents flow from the mill and funnel the stench along the freeway corridor, Hoivik explains.

"It's been kind of a stigma," he says. "When you say where you're from, people mention the smell."

Various people have learned to live with the pulp odor in various ways. A Seattle resident recalls that when her family used to drive through a pulp mill town, her father would sing out as the car windows rolled up: "Just pretend it's roses."

Single Parents May Organize

Efforts are being made here to organize a chapter of Parents Without Partners, Inc. which is an international, non-profit, non-sectarian educational organization devoted to the welfare and interests of single parents and their children.

To be eligible for membership, a person must be a parent and single by reason of death, divorce, separation or unmarried status. Custody of children is irrelevant.

During a meeting last week almost 20 prospective members showed interest in organizing a local chapter. There will be another meeting at 8 p.m. Saturday in the home of Mike Craddock, 1804 Dixie, to make further plans about obtaining a charter. After the business session, which will be brief, there will be a social period for cards and other table games.

Craddock stressed that the organization is for both men and women, and single men are encouraged to attend Saturday's meeting and assist with the organization of the chapter.

TOO MUCH EXERCISE MAY MAKE A PERSON FATTER

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Too much exercise may make a person fatter, not thinner, says Dr. Richard Ahrens, an assistant professor of food and nutrition at the University of Maryland who recently completed a five-year study of the interception of diet and physical activity.

Ahrens said his research with rats indicated that a too vigorous exercise program, like too much relaxation, could cause a person to gain weight.

"Once exercise became so vigorous that it was actually stressful, that the animals did not enjoy it anymore because it was a real chore, then they began to put on more fat," Ahrens said.

Ahrens said the rodent study suggested that the average American on an average diet is likely to stay slimmer weeding his garden or walking his dog than running five miles a day.

His findings were published in Agricultural Research magazine.

FOSTER BELTS GRANDSLAM

Cincinnati Humiliates Houston, 12-4

ROSE IN A SQUEEZE — Cincinnati Reds' left fielder Pete Rose is caught in a rundown in the eighth inning between third and home as teammate Bobby Tolan grounded to third. Houston Astros' pitcher Joe Gibbon makes the tag after taking the throw from Astros' third baseman Doug Rader, left, who had chased Rose toward home. Cincinnati took the game, 12-4.

By The Associated Press HOUSTON (AP) — George Foster is willing to make those little sacrifices that come to a fellow who hits a grand slam...

home run—like the over-exuberance of his teammates. "Usually they just shake your hand and sit back down, but this time they just kept pounding my head like we'd won the pennant," Foster said of his third-inning slam that started Cincinnati toward a 12-4 humiliation of the Houston Astros Wednesday night.

"I guess you gotta make those sacrifices," he added with a laugh. Foster's blow brought the Reds back from a 3-2 deficit as they blew the slumping Astros out for the third straight night.

Astros third baseman Doug Rader hit a three-run homer in the second inning—his fourth consecutive three-run shot—and the slumping Astros seemed to be breaking out of the doldrums.

But Cincy came back with a run-scoring singles by Joe Morgan and Bobby Tolan in the third and then loaded the bases for Foster.

"I'm happy with the way things are progressing," said Bench, who hit two home runs in Cincinnati's 8-5 victory Tuesday. "But I started off pretty good last year. It was June and July that killed me. We still have a long season to go."

Sparky Lyle, who picked up his out pitch during a sleepless night six years ago, is doing his best to see that Ralph Houk spends as few sleepless nights as possible.

The 27-year-old Lyle has one triumph, giving him a hand in 11 of New York's 17 victories. He sports an impressive 1.16 earned run average.

Elsewhere in the American League, Detroit edged Cleveland 5-4 in 10 innings, Oakland, trimmed Texas 5-1, Minnesota nipped Kansas City 3-2 and California shaded the Chicago White Sox 4-3. Baltimore and Boston were rained out.

Hurler Decks A's Jackson; Oakland Deck Rangers 5-1

By The Associated Press ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Oakland's slugger Reggie Jackson will be fighting the psychological block of being struck in the jaw with a fast ball when the Athletics travel to Baltimore Friday for a joust between American League western and eastern strong-boys.

Jackson clubbed his 10th homer of the season Wednesday night in a 5-1 rout of the Texas Rangers but was decked and taken to a hospital in a seventh inning incident.

Ranger pitcher Mike Paul whistled across a pitch that hit Jackson's helmet, tipped his bat and caught the A's right-fielder flush on the jaw. Jackson dropped like he was shot.

Jackson walked from the field on his own power, showered, combed his hair and was taken to a hospital for precautionary X-rays, which proved negative. He had a big puff under his right eye.

Asked if he thought the pitch was intentional, Oakland manager Dick Williams snapped, "You'll have to ask Paul."

Paul said, "I was just trying to jam him. That's the way we always pitch Jackson." Jackson was hospitalized once in the minor leagues with a bean ball. In 1968, Paul decked Jackson, who was leading the league in homers at the time. Jackson never recovered his timing the rest of the year and finished down the homer list. Paul hit Jackson in the waist that time.

Marty West To Meet Britain's Rodney Foster

SANDWICH, England (AP) — Marty West, 23-year-old amateur golfer from Chevy Chase, Md., faced one of the toughest matches of his career today.

The chunky American had to play Rodney Foster, an experienced British Walker Cup campaigner and a seeded player in the fourth round of the British Amateur Championship.

West, who finished sixth in the U.S. amateur last year, is playing in Britain for the first time. He is getting to know the 6,833-yard, par 34-36-70 Royal St. George's links where the weather constantly changes and the wind plays havoc with drives.

Biggest One Still Ahead For Aaron

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Hammerin' Hank Aaron of the Atlanta Braves has tied the flamboyant Willie Mays for second place on the all-time home run list at 648, but says, "The biggest one is still ahead."

The soft-spoken slugger caught Mays Wednesday night in the first inning of Atlanta's 5-4 victory over San Diego when he belted a 3-2 pitch from left-hander Fred Norman into the left field seats along the foul line.

It was his ninth homer this year and left him only 66 away from one of baseball's most revered records—Babe Ruth's 714 lifetime homers.

When Aaron cracked his 600th against San Francisco last year to cut Mays' lead to 33, the Atlanta star quipped, "It's kind of tough to catch a moving target."

"I've got to catch my own targets now," Aaron said Wednesday night. "I just haven't been hitting the ball well at all this year."

Aaron attempted to play down the significance of catching Mays, one of the game's all-time greats who at age 41 is in the twilight of a career that saw him traded from the San Francisco Giants to the New York Mets early this season.

Hank Aaron Hits 648th HR

By The Associated Press welcome home, Hank Aaron, you've just caught Willie Mays. Next stop: Babe Ruth.

The biggest one is still ahead," said the Atlanta Braves' slugger after tying Stadium, in front of 54,000 fans, for second place on the all-time home run list with No. Diego Padres.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers nipped the San Francisco Giants 5-4 in 10 innings; the St. Louis Cardinals topped the Chicago Cubs 1-0; the Montreal Expos beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-2 and the Cincinnati Reds bombed the Houston Astros 12-4. Rain washed out the game between Philadelphia and New York.

American League results: Detroit 5, Cleveland 4 in 10; Oakland 5, Texas 1; Minnesota 3, Kansas City 2; New York 5, Milwaukee 4 and California 4, Chicago 3. Boston at Baltimore was postponed by rain.

After Aaron's blast gave Atlanta a 1-0 lead, the Braves added another run in the first inning. They tallied a pair of unearned runs in the third on hit, an error and three walks and another in the eighth on pitcher Ron Reed's sacrifice fly that proved to be the winning margin.

AARON TAKES HOLD OF TIE — Atlanta Braves' Hank Aaron, right, is congratulated by teammate Rico Carty at home plate after hitting the 648th home run of his career Wednesday night in first inning at Atlanta Stadium against the San Diego Padres. The left field blast tied Aaron with New York Mets' slugger Willie Mays for second place in home run records behind Babe Ruth. The Braves won the game, 5-4.

Reed gave up a run in the second and another in the eighth before relinquishing Larry Stahl's two-run homer in the ninth and taking a shower. Cecil Upshaw then came in to get the final three outs.

Manny Mota's tie-breaking triple in the 19th pulled Los Angeles past San Francisco and gave the Dodgers a 1½-game lead over Houston as the West race. Mota's hit led off with a walk.

Lou Brock singled across Dallas Maxvill from second in the fifth inning and Bob Gibson pitched a three-hitter, giving St. Louis its triumph over Chicago.

"I never really get going 'till June," said Gibson, who won his second straight game after five losses.

Tim Lincecum's run-scoring single in the sixth inning drove home the decisive margin in Montreal's triumph over Pittsburgh that dropped the Pirates 4½ games behind the Mets in the East.

Ernie McAnally won his first game of the year for Montreal after five losses. George Foster, hitting .167 at game time, crashed a grand slam home run to highlight a six-run third inning and help Cincinnati tame Houston.

Extensive TV Cover Set

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Television coverage of the United States Open Golf Championship this year will be the most extensive in history, offering live coverage of the leaders on 12 holes. "I'm not saying we're covering a lot of it," quipped Bud Palmer, among the many announcers who will work the three-day show, "but my assignment is the practice putting green and the ladies' locker room."

That, of course, is a slight exaggeration. Still, coverage is scheduled for a total of 5 1/2 hours, most of it prime time, on holes 6-8 and 10-18 on the picturesque, ocean-side Pebble Beach Golf Links.

"It's a new concept in coverage," said Chuck Howard, vice president of ABC-TV in charge of sports programming, who will serve as producer of the ambitious undertaking.

One-half hour of taped coverage, much of it involving Open history, is scheduled Friday June 16, 10:30-11 p.m. EDT. Live coverage is set for 5:30-7:30 p.m. EDT Saturday, June 17 and 5-8 p.m. EDT Sunday, June 18.

"It is not the normal kind of coverage," Howard emphasized.

"Since we're going five hours on live coverage, three hours on Sunday, we wanted to get away from dead air time and provide meaningful golf coverage all the way.

"So we decided to expand the number of holes we're covering. The way we're set up can show the leaders, the players in contention, the entire time we're on the air.

"It gives us much more flexibility. We can pick up the leaders on the sixth hole and take them through No. 8, then have them all the way on the back nine.

Morton's Places Four On Team

The Morton Chippers placed four players on the all-tournament team at the Memorial Day Weekend Softball Tournament at Amarillo last weekend.

They were utility man Charlie Patillo, second baseman Herb Sorley, left fielder Roy New and pitcher N. E. Stephens.

The Chippers finished second in the double elimination tournament to Masterbilt Motors of Oklahoma City, Okla., losing the final game, 7-1. It was the second time in the tournament the Chippers had lost to Masterbilt.

Morton's opened the tournament with a 2-0 victory over Fantasia Beauty Salon of Albuquerque, N. M. They then blanked the Odessa Hot Dogs, 3-0 before being shut out by Masterbilt, 2-0.

They got back on the winning trail with a 4-1 victory over McCombs of El Reno and followed that by nipping Booth Phar, 1-0. Next came another 1-0 win over Enid, Okla. After that, the Chippers defeated Winrock Center from Albuquerque, 3-0, before downing Plains Co-op, 4-1 to lead up to the championship game.

The Lamesa Tornadoes jumped off to a 1-0 lead in their best-of-three series with Monahans Wednesday by defeating the Loboes, 3-1.

Monahans and Lamesa both had four hits in the game, but the Loboes made four errors while the Tornadoes made none. Lamesa tallied all of its runs in the fourth inning, and Monahans countered with its run in the fifth inning.

Phil Palmer was the leading hitter for Lamesa as well as the winning pitcher. He had two singles in three at bats and stretched his pitching record to 10-2.

Don Lawson was charged with the loss. He is now 13-2. The second game of the series will be played at 5:30 p.m. Friday in Lamesa.

Reynolds Kayoes 16; Tigers Drop Pirates

Earl Reynolds struck out 16 batters and allowed just one hit, a single by John Rodriguez, as he pitched the Big Spring Hardware Tigers to a 6-0 win over the Pirates in High Junior League action Wednesday night.

The Tigers picked up one run in the first inning and added three runs in the third and two more runs in the fourth to support the flawless hurling of Reynolds.

Second baseman Keith Stone and Reynolds had two hits apiece in the game for the Tigers. Leftfielder Bob Schafer and rightfielder Junior Matthews had doubles.

The losing pitcher for the Pirates was Wayne Dickens.

The Indians opened their 1972 High Junior season in fine style as they downed Kiwanis, 3-2, behind the pitching of Rubio and Chris Duron.

Duron and Rubio did not give up a hit in the game and both Kiwanis runs were unearned. Chris Bogart had two hits in three tries to pace the Indians. Kiwanis is now 0-2.

Ricky Gutierrez had two home runs to lead the Dodgers to a 10-1 romp past the Tigers in Texas Little League action Wednesday night. Gutierrez' first homer — a solo shot — came in the first inning and sparked a four-run outburst by the Dodgers. His second circuit blast — a two-run homer — came in the fifth inning.

Pitcher James Pinkard added his own cause with a home run. Adam, Pinkard, Oscar Hernandez, Lott and Magers had two hits apiece for the Dodgers.

Gutierrez and Harvey Hernandez had three hits each for the Dodgers. F. Martinez had two hits for the Tigers.

The win ran the Dodgers' mark to 7-4 for the season. The Tigers are now 3-8.

The Colts banged out 14 hits as they slammed the Jets, 15-7, in American Major League action Wednesday night. Trailing 1-0 after the first inning, the Colts erupted for six runs in the second and seven runs in the third to turn the contest into a runaway.

Mike Gomez, Terry Howell and Gary Howell had two hits each in the game and Mike Egan had three hits for the Colts.

The Comets exploded for six runs in the fifth inning to defeat the T-Birds, 11-8, and move into first place in the International League Wednesday night. The Comets' record stands at 19-1. The T-Birds are 4-7. Vernon Reid and Steve Allred had hits for the Comets. Coffey had two hits for the T-Birds.

Steve Kohanek had three hits in five tries at the plate to spark the Yanks to a 16-10 slugfest win over the Angels in a So p h o r e League game Wednesday night.

Kent Newsom also contributed three hits to the Yank attack with Mike Valenzuela and Craig Medley adding two hits apiece.

For the Angels, Max Hill had two hits.

The Angels exploded for nine runs in the fifth inning to chase Yank starter Lynn Dixon. Albert Alvarez came on and put out the rally, but the score was knotted at 10-10.

Then in the bottom of the sixth, the Yanks erupted for six runs to put the game away.

The Yanks are now 2-1 for the season and the Angels are 0-3.

The Devils zipped past the Braves, 19-6, in National Little League action Wednesday night. Before the game, the Devils had decided to dedicate the contest to Mark Young who had broken his leg in a game with the Cardinals Friday night. Bobby Knight had two hits for the Devils including a grand-slam home run. Billy Johnson had four hits and David Barber had two. For the Braves, Hedges had two hits. Lloyd Jolly picked up the win, and Nichols was given the loss.

Labor Pact Heralds New Era Of Peace

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — An agreement hammered out by the Fort Worth Building and Construction Trades Council, the Dallas Building and Trades Council and the North Texas Contractors Association was viewed Wednesday as heralding a new era of labor peace for the construction industry in North Texas.

The agreement was first sought by the Fort Worth council in February. The Dallas sister organization and NTCA entered into negotiations that were concluded and made public at a news conference here.

Grover Dewitt, president of the Fort Worth council, said the agreement is "designed to promote harmonious labor relations and increase productivity."

It is "the first such endeavor in the nation by an association of construction contractors who employ union labor and representatives of organized labor," he said.

"The program is designed to halt future work stoppages in the construction industry which have historically occurred so often during the life of labor contracts," Dewitt said. "These work stoppages have been caused by disputes between various local unions. Other work stoppages have been caused by the misassignment of workers.

Young Volunteers Are Being Sought

The opportunities for volunteers include work in escort, recreation, laboratory, administration, nursing, social work, related medical fields, typist and other health career fields.

Hundreds of volunteers have already served at the hospital in previous summers, many serving two or more summers.

Homo Minister Wants To Address Methodists

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Southwest Texas Methodist virtually dismissed a task force report on homosexuality and the church Wednesday. But a suspended minister whose case prompted the report said he would seek an audience with them today.

Delegates to the annual Southwest Texas United Methodist Conference voted overwhelmingly to table the controversial report, which dealt with theological, ethical and sociological perspectives of homosexuality.

F. Gene Leggett of Dallas, who was suspended as a minister after he disclosed his homosexuality to conference delegates here last year, denounced the group's action.

GAY PEOPLE

By tabling the report, he said, the conference was symbolically tabling "thousands of gay brothers and sisters" and failing to recognize them as people.

Leggett said he hoped to address the conference today, although he did not disclose the contents of his speech beforehand.

A tall, bearded man of 37 who wears flashy rings and hippie style clothes, Leggett lost his most recent bid for permission to return to the active ministry last Saturday.

His public disclosure of his homosexuality spurred his fellow Methodists last year to order the special task force report.

Prepared by a 10-man committee, the document offered 14 recommendations including one calling for a study of the feasibility of appointing known homosexuals as pastors.

RECEPTIVE

It also urged Methodists to be "open and receptive" to homosexuals and called on homosexuals in the church to "assist others to understand better the nature of homosexuality."

In a surprise move, the committee's chairman announced an amendment when he presented the report to the conference, deleting all the recommendations. The move still left a bulky report on the homosexual issue intact. The committee chairman, Rev. Sanford Coon of Austin, said later that the deletions were made because the task force felt it would help the delegates see the report itself for what it was intended—a tool for use in studying the matter of homosexuality and the church.

After brief discussion, however, the delegates approved a motion from the floor to table the entire report without debate, meaning it will not become a part of the permanent record. Leggett's Gay Liberation Front supporters disrupted the conference last year when he lost his credentials. Some of them were present Wednesday, but there were no incidents.

Leggett, who has served at churches here, in Dilley and Austin, Tex., said he was fired from the staff of the Dallas Theater Center last year, after he was suspended by the church. Theater officials felt he was "too interested in gay liberation," he said. He said he now is working with a "gay house church," the House of the Covenant, in Dallas.

LIBERATION

Leggett, who was ordained in 1959, said the homosexuality issue will come up at the annual conference here "every year until no longer needs to be an issue." He declined to predict how long that will take.

Reform Or Abolition Of 54 'Tax Loopholes' Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gradual reform or abolition of 54 tax loopholes or special deductions, including the oil-depletion allowance, has been proposed by Rep. Wilbur Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Despite its concurrent introduction in the Senate by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and the way Mills holds in the House on tax matters, most observers give the proposal little chance for passage during an election year. It even appears doubtful the measure will be aired in the current session of Congress. In any case, the reforms would be spread out over three years, not beginning until Jan. 1, 1974.

They would require Congress to re-enact some loopholes, modify them or let them die at the rate of 18 for each of the three years.

Introduction of the legislation was in apparent response to growing demands from members of Congress and others for broad tax reforms, including abolition of special breaks to business and wealthy persons.

There was no official estimate of the amount of revenue the government might save, but one source said about $47 billion of tax deductions would be wiped out in 1974 in the reforms were enacted.

Included over the three years such categories as the oil-and mineral-depletion allowances, accelerated business-depreciation rules, capital gains, sick-pay exclusion, the $25,000 corporate surtax exemption, and extra exemptions for the aged and blind, children with income in excess of $750, child-care costs and charitable contributions.

Also affected would be political campaign contributions and deductions for nonbusiness interest and taxes.

Mills said he wants to guarantee an orderly and systematic review of tax laws.

He said some tax breaks would be repealed unless Congress re-enacted them. Many "appear to me to be desirable under present circumstances," Mills said.

San Antonio Will Host President Of Mexico

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — City officials say Mexico's President Luis Echeverria is expected to arrive here June 18 for an overnight stay to dedicate a branch campus of the National University of Mexico.

The campus, the university's first outside Mexico, will occupy the grounds of the San Antonio's 1968 world fair. Registration for summer courses is already in progress and the first classes will open Monday.

A city spokesman announced Wednesday that hotel reservations have been made for Echeverria and his party for the night of June 18.

The spokesman said it was understood that Echeverria will arrive here that night after stopping briefly in New York City and Chicago following a state visit to Washington.

His itinerary has not been formally announced by officials in Mexico or Washington.

San Antonio Mayor John Gatti has assumed the chairmanship of a 21-member steering committee that will coordinate arrangements for Echeverria's visit and the formal dedication ceremonies for the university branch, which is a joint Mexico-San Antonio project.

Officials say this will be the first visit to San Antonio of an incumbent president of Mexico.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SEC. B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JUNE 1, 1972 SEC. B

Can Get Care

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband was recently treated for arthritis with dimethyl sulfoxide or DMSO by a doctor in Mexico. Although the same treatment helped his brother tremendously, my husband is very ill. Will any doctor this side of the border treat him after having had DMSO? — E.F.

Your letter is really two questions in one. First, the fact that your husband had DMSO would have nothing to do with whether a physician in this country would treat him. That isn't the question. The question is whether he needs medical care. If he needs it, then of course he can get medical care.

The doctor should be informed that he has had the DMSO treatments. It may or may not have a bearing on the case, but the doctor should know about it. Patients who keep secrets from their doctors can make treatment much more difficult. Your second question is implied but not stated: What about DMSO? There have been other inquiries about it.

It is an experimental drug which seems to have many possible uses, but it has not yet undergone enough study to be licensed for general use. For one, it has been used for scleroderma, apparently with somewhat favorable results.

Until there has been further study, however, you will not find it in the hands of most physicians, which is the usual pattern with new drugs. They are made available first to physicians having facilities for the special studies that are necessary.

To return to your husband's case, DMSO usually disappears from the system in about 10 days or so. I am not familiar with the drug having any severe side effects, but as I say, studies aren't complete yet.

It may be that your husband's present condition is one which hasn't been accurately diagnosed. So I suggest that he get a thorough examination. It may be that the DMSO had nothing to do with his current illness — but that by going to Mexico for this experimental drug for his arthritis, he overlooked something else which is ailing him.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have read much about the danger of profuse bleeding after taking aspirin. No article or doctor has said how much aspirin can be critical. Is there any reading material or medical center you can refer me to for such information?

I am particularly interested in the relationship of aspirin to stress ulcers. — M.G.

that aspirin, by irritating the stomach lining, can cause bleeding.

The amount varies according to the way an individual happens to react, and that's why nobody can say how much will be critical.

With ulcers (I presume you mean either stomach or duodenal ulcers) I'd prefer to go very easy on aspirin, and if taking it, I would be careful not to take it on an empty stomach. If between meals, drink some milk first, to provide a thin coating for the stomach lining while the aspirin dissolves.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband, 50, consumes about two quarts of scotch a week. He doesn't drink during the day, only at night, before and after dinner. He says it helps him relax. I say that much liquor will be harmful. Can you comment? — Mrs. D.V.S.

I agree with you. And I don't see that it makes any difference whether he does his drinking by day or by night. What else is there to say?

Arthritis sufferers can be helped. Dr. Thosteson's booklet discusses many types of arthritis and related joint diseases as well as effective treatments and medications. For a copy of "How You Can Control Arthritis" write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald enclosing 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope.

Father Of 200 Children Not Feeling Real Pert

LUSIKISIKI, South Africa (AP) — A witch doctor's business suffers when he has to be treated by a white doctor.

So says Khotsa Sethuntsa, a legendary practitioner of herbal medicine who is ailing at 92. "Only a few people are buying herbs from me now," he says.

"They have heard that I am sick and that a doctor is treating me. They want to know why I am not treating myself."

Sethuntsa is one of the wealthiest blacks in southern Africa. He has more than 20 wives and is reputed to have fathered 200 children, the eldest more than 70 and the youngest a year or so old.

He is not bedridden in his bright blue self-designed mansion, but walks with difficulty, shadowed alcove, surrounded by faded newspaper clippings.

Pig War Triggers Softball Game

FRIDAY HARBOR, Wash. (AP) — Who would have guessed that the shooting of a porker in 1859 would have resulted in an international softball game in 1972?

Certainly not the American soldier who picked off a pig belonging to a Hudson's Bay Co. agent, and thus precipitated the Pig War, a 13-year confrontation between Great Britain and the United States over possession of the San Juan Islands in the Strait of Juan de Fuca.

The dispute, in which no human casualties were recorded, ended Oct. 21, 1872 when Emperor Wilhelm of Germany arbitrated a settlement by awarding the contested islands to the United States.

Over the weekend, the Canadian vessel HMCS Porte de Law Reine, visited this San Juan Island community to celebrate the centennial of the end of the Pig War. Its crew engaged residents in a softball game, and the islanders enjoyed a barbecue on the ship.

Big Ben Leans

LONDON (AP) — Labor M.P. Marcus Liptons fears that the Leaning Tower of Pisa will soon have a rival in London's Big Ben clock tower.

Lipton fears the 113-year-old, 326-foot-high clock tower at the Houses of Parliament slowly is leaning to the northwest and one day may come crashing down.

Experts at the Department of the Environment, which looks after such things, say the world-famed clock with the world-famed chimes is settling and leaning but should be standing many years from now.

Anthem Protest Sparks Attack

HOUSTON (AP) — James E. Lyons, 21, who said he was beaten by about six spectators when he remained seated during the national anthem, has filed simple assault charges against a school official.

Lyons said he received facial bruises Monday night when he remained seated as a war program at a football stadium.

About 8,000 persons attending the Spring Wood High School program at a football stadium, Dale Stafford, Westchester High School principal, was among two persons filed on by Lyons.

Stafford told newsmen. "He refused, and he refused to leave when I asked him to do that." Stafford said he was not involved in any way in the disturbance. "I was leaving to get the police when he was attacked," Stafford said.

Today's 'Slick Chicks' Offer Great Versatility

The broiler of today is a mighty 'slick chick.' Today's chicken is younger, more tender and meatier for this weight than the same bird of a few years ago — and a good bet for the family keeping a close watch on the budget.

Cooks everywhere appreciate the versatility of chicken. This high-protein food adapts with ease to any cooking method. It provides a challenge for the experienced culinary artist, yet offers the beginner a basic ingredient easily fashioned into delicious dishes.

Just about every country in the world includes chicken in its cuisine. One reason for its international popularity is the tempting way chicken responds to all manner of seasonings. With a little imagination and a deft hand with herbs and spices, you'll find chicken offers an almost limitless variety of tempting entrees.

Curried Chicken includes a touch of curry powder — the spice which enhances many of India's national dishes.

Oriental Whale, Octopi Not Highlights Of Trip

By BARBARA LOED

Crushed whale brains and a soup that features unborn baby chicken are but a few of the "delicacies" eaten by Mrs. David (Lynda) Grifford and her husband. Today, however, they are both satisfied with plain meat, potato and vegetable dishes.

The unusual recipes were some served to them during their one year in Naha City, Okinawa, while Grifford was in the Navy. Most were served without the couple knowing what they were eating until after they were eaten. Mrs. Grifford said the soup wasn't bad, but the whale was terrible. An occasional problem arose with the language barrier. In Okinawa, for instance, "taco" means raw octopus, so the Griffords ordered very few tacos during the year. Despite the differences that Mrs. Grifford encountered, she considers the trip one of the highlights of her life.

"We decided to live in a Japanese house while we were there, because we had the rest of our lives to live in American housing," said Mrs. Grifford. Consequently, the couple followed the Japanese tradition of removing their shoes before entering their home, because Japanese floors are made of very soft wood. Mrs. Grifford had no oven; only a hookup for a small stove outside, and during that year is when she got used to skillet cooking which she still uses frequently.

Mrs. Grifford, who had only been out of Texas once before she left for Okinawa, enjoyed living with the Japanese people. The Griffords learned a lot about Japanese customs and made many Japanese friends. Very little of the small country went unventured by the couple. They bought a small car and spent most of their leisure time "touring" the island which measures 65 miles at its longest point, and a mere nine miles wide.

Following their year in Okinawa, the Griffords lived in San Diego, Calif. for six months, and then returned to Big Spring where both have lived most of their lives. Grifford is employed at Cosden. The couple has one daughter, Melynda Page, 15 months.

Mrs. Grifford, in addition to her position of homemaker, wife and mother, is a talented artist who started painting in the fourth grade and won her first honors during high school. Several of her pictures decorate the family home at 1211 E. 18th.

"It's just a hobby," said Mrs. Grifford about her painting. "I enjoy doing it on my own time. I like to use a lot of paint and get real messy." She prefers painting abstracts, and said that when she gets in the mood to paint, it doesn't take long for her to come up with a picture. She has also done some sculpting.

Meal times are irregular for the Griffords. Breakfast is the only meal they can count on at the same time each day. Grifford works various shifts at Cosden, so evening meals are prepared at all times of day or night.

"I have certain dishes that I like to cook more than others," said Mrs. Grifford. "We like Mexican, Japanese and other foreign foods, but usually it just comes down to meat and vegetables. As long as that's what my husband likes best, I what as well stick with it."

The Griffords enjoy occasional casual entertaining, although much of their time at home is now spent working on remodeling projects. Mrs. Grifford is also a seamstress and makes many of Melynda's clothes as well as some of her own. In addition, she is vice president of Phi Zeta Omega Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, where she also puts her artistic talents to work by compiling the chapter scrapbook.

Mrs. Grifford was born in Paris, Tex., but moved here when she was in the first grade. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Rains, 1905 Runnels. Grifford, a Big Spring native, is the son of Dorothy Grifford, now of Dallas, and the late Mr. Grifford.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

Broiled Onions Good With Meat
 Broiled onions are a savory accompaniment for meat, especially lamb.
 To serve six, select three giant sweet Spanish onions. They're the mild flavored onions with crackly golden-brown, paper-like skins.
 Remove the skins, halve and par-boil the onions in salted, boiling water for 20 minutes.
 Drain and arrange on a baking sheet. Brush with oil. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and oregano. Top with diced raw bacon and broil until well-browned.
 Remove from broiler and sprinkle with a few drops of sherry.

For an easy and economical dinner, serve beefy kabobs. Simply shape seasoned ground beef into balls approximately 1 1/2 inches in diameter. Thread skewers alternately with beef balls, tomato wedges and green pepper squares. Brush with bottled barbecue sauce. Broil 3 inches from heat 12 to 15 minutes, depending upon degree of doneness desired, turning and brushing occasionally.
 "Fully-cooked" hams may be served unheated. Full flavor is developed, however, by heating the ham in a slow oven to 140 degrees F.

Surveys indicate that it is not always the most lean beef that makes the best burgers. Both ground beef and ground chuck are especially good for "hamburgers" or beef patties.

Let the roast "set" for approximately 20 minutes before carving. Since the internal temperature may rise 5 degrees or more, allow for this when determining when to remove the roast from oven.

Remove the skins from baked apples and cut each in half. Top the halves with cream cheese mixed with minced chutney and garnish with parsley sprigs. Serve the apples as an accompaniment to pork or poultry.

Sissy's West Texas Water Plan Assailed By Briscoe

By The Associated Press
 Dolph Briscoe headed for Dallas today after labelling his opponent, Rep. Frances Farenthold, an "expert in divisiveness" during their Democratic gubernatorial runoff campaign.

Stumping in West Texas Wednesday, Briscoe told a Lubbock dinner group that Mrs. Farenthold's plan to junk the statewide water plan is appalling. He said she favors scrapping the statewide plan in favor of one for West Texas only.

HE'S APPALLED
 "I am appalled at the audacity of my opponents coming out here to West Texas and making such a blatantly phony appeal for your votes," he said. "It is irresponsible to suggest endangering the future of this area by putting forth such an obviously hopeless suggestion as to recommend that there will be a water plan for this area and this area only."

Briscoe said the only way to meet West Texas' water needs is to create a statewide plan of water management "and that is the kind of plan I will support."

Turning to allegations that he has employed wetback labor on his South Texas ranch, Briscoe said, "There is no basis for it. It is just desperation politics."

Speaking in Dallas, Mrs. Farenthold said her race against Briscoe is a "battle between those of us who want state government to serve the people and the Austin lobbyists who are trying desperately to elect Mr. Briscoe and maintain their stranglehold on our government."

DIDN'T SWITCH
 She claimed, if elected governor, she would cut off giveaways in the appropriations bill "to narrow special interest groups."

In the GOP runoff for the governor's nomination, Albert Fay of Houston blasted his opponent, state Sen. Henry Grover, as an opportunist who has switched political parties to get votes where he could.

"I didn't switch parties in 1966 like Grover did just because he found himself in a district that would elect only a Republican," Fay said.

"Henry Grover brags about his election record but the fact is that he has never run against strong opposition before and he has never run in anything but a safe district as either a Democrat or a Republican," Fay claimed.

In the Democratic lieutenant governor's runoff race, Houston newspaper executive Bill Hobby got the editorial endorsement of the San Antonio Express.

His opponent, state Sen. Wayne Connally, said in Dallas that it is questionable whether Hobby "can hold high public office without a blatant conflict of interest resulting."

PRESSURE
 Connally said Hobby's newspaper, the Houston Post, has pressured other Texas newspapers into supporting Hobby for lieutenant governor. He said

Good Turnout At Arts Fair

KERRVILLE, Tex. (AP) — The first annual Texas Arts and Crafts Fair continued here today with a good turnout recorded opening day Wednesday. The exhibit of arts and craftwork by Texas artists is open through Sunday.

Some 2,100 persons from 21 states and 58 Texas counties were on hand for opening day. "Everything has worked out beautifully," said Charles Horan, chairman of the board of the Texas Tourist Development Agency.

Showers that fell in this Hill Country area Wednesday failed to dampen the spirits of those attending the arts and crafts displays.

"Providence has seen fit to wash the dust off the fair site, the weather promises fair for the next five days and the fair is on," said Horan.

Horan said the idea for such a fair has been around for about five years.

Student Senate Endorses Sissy

HOUSTON (AP) — Mark Collins, newly elected University of Houston student body president, said Wednesday the student association senate has passed a resolution endorsing Frances Farenthold.

The resolution stated, "She has been consistent throughout all the issues and in calling for a debate by the candidates on her campaign in her stands on those issues."

other papers have "shamelessly" promoted Hobby's private career.

Ralph Yarborough accused Barefoot Sanders, his runoff opponent for U.S. senator, of lying about Yarborough's Senate record. At an Austin news conference, Yarborough also fired a couple of long-range shots at Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., who seeks re-election.

NOT PASSING
 Yarborough said Sanders is "falsifying" Yarborough's record and is "losing the campaign."

Sanders said in San Antonio that in 1970 Yarborough missed 41 per cent of the Senate's roll call votes, and "that's not a passing grade." Sanders said Yarborough "doesn't have a good excuse for being a part-time senator on a full-time salary."

Yarborough said his attendance on roll call votes for his 13 years and eight months in the Senate was 80 per cent. He also said Sanders accused him of having "copped out" on the busing issues, but that he had been voting against forced busing since 1964.

Yarborough said Tower had voted against a 1969 Senate bill requiring congressmen to disclose their sources of income. He also said Tower had spent more money campaigning than Yarborough and Sanders combined although Tower had no opponent in the Republican primary.

Four Deer Hunt Food In Town

APPLETON, Wis. (AP) — Four deer raced through Appleton Wednesday in what officials said was an apparent search for food brought on by a long winter.

One of the animals bled to death after jumping through the plate glass window of an office building. The hoof of another struck 9-year-old Michael Strick in the head as it ran through a crowd of children before scampering through St. Mary's school and crashing through a plate glass door to escape.

A third deer was seen swimming in the Fox River near the downtown area and a fourth was rescued by state game wardens after it became tangled in the fence surrounding an industrial plant.

Judge To Hear Bid Today For Reduced Prison Terms

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A hearing was to begin today in U.S. district court here today on a defense motion asking for reduced sentences for three Starr County residents convicted of vote fraud charges.

The hearing was on a motion filed by state Sen. Jim Bates of Edinburg in behalf of Starr County Sheriff Rene A. Solis, Santiago Clark, an investigator for the district attorney's office at Rio Grande City and Max Gaytan.

Bates asked U.S. Dist. Court Judge Reynaldo Garza to reduce the sentences because he said the three men are "completely rehabilitated." He also cited personal reasons for each man.

The motion was opposed by Asst. U.S. Atty. Raul A. Gonzalez, who said that rehabilitation is not the only purpose of a prison sentence. He said it should also be punishment to deter others.

The men, among eight Starr County residents convicted on felony charges of diluting the vote in the 1970 election by obtaining absentee votes in an illegal manner, were assessed 30-day prison terms. The other five received probated terms with no prison time to serve and have not asked for reduced sentences.

Judge Garza also assessed Solis, a medical doctor, a two-year prison term probated for three years and a $2,000 fine, Clarke a two-year prison term probated for five years and a $500 fine and Gaytan a two-year prison term probated for five years.

Equal Chances For Jobs Action

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston School Board is expected to consider adding a local enforcement officer to its policy of requiring school suppliers and contractors to comply with federal equal employment/opportunity guidelines beginning July 1, a board member said Wednesday.

George Oser said an additional provision would require general contractors who work for the district to do business, in turn, only with subcontractors who offer equal opportunities in employment.

The Rolling Stones Are Bouncing Back

NEW YORK (AP) — Early in this year of momentous journeys, word of a different trip began circulating. It was mostly whispered: The Stones are coming back.

It in no way attracted the attention of President Nixon's jaunts to Peking or Moscow, but it excited thousands of people who awaited the planned American excursion by those five beguiling Englishmen.

"Hey, man, did you hear about the Stones?"

"That was the word. It blossomed daily."

YOU KNOW

The Rolling Stones, you surely know, is a rock 'n' roll band—many say THE rock 'n' roll band.

June 3. In 54 days they rock 30 cities of all sizes—Chicago and Los Angeles, Tuscaloosa, Ala., and Knoxville, Tenn.

The last American visit of the Rolling Stones was 2½ years ago.

It turned into what has become known as a classic bumper, a December disaster on dusty, glass-spattered drag strip called Altamont, Calif.

It was creep heaven there and the Stones played "Jumpin' Jack Flash" and "Sympathy for the Devil" and "Street Fighting Man" for free and for their cameras. An estimated 300,000 turned out.

And now, there's hope that scene is done and logged and the vibrations will be good again in 1972.

FREE CONCERT

What happened at Altamont depends on whom you talked to and when.

Most, however, accept the story that the Stones decided to perform a free concert which somehow ended up on the race track. The band or its agents—the wisdom goes unaccounted for—decided it would be kicky to hire the Hell's Angels as security men. The cost of these St. Christophers in leather and nice old Nazi medallions was $500 worth of beer.

The Hell's Angels were very big then.

Crazies were very big then, too. It was the thing to do and a lot of them decided to do it at Altamont.

CRAZY, MAN

Among them was Meredith Hunter, an 18-year-old black. He brought a gun to Altamont—a very crazy thing to do. He did an even crazier thing when he pulled it out and started waving it around after stumbling over one of the Hell's Angels motorcycles.

Meredith Hunter probably never saw the knife going into him. He died knowing it did.

And the Rolling Stones sang on. They got an album out of it and a movie called "Gimme Shelter." They also got a lot of bad mouth, but they survived.

From the beginning, the Stones always have survived—dope busts and the death of a puffy-haired guitarist and founder named Brian Jones who ended up in February 1969 at the bottom of the swimming pool in his fashionable home. His head was burned out. His body wrecked.

Most of all the Rolling Stones survived the Beatles, although the two rock groups never were trying to beat each other out.

The Beatles came on freaky, heroes, and quickly became the darlings of both the Pepsi and the Geritol sets.

BULLY BOYS

Not so, the Rolling Stones. Scum, incredibly depraved, bully boys, rapists and worse, and "look at that Mick Jagger, prancing on the stage, that ... that ... whatever he is ... that neuter, up there flaunting it all over the place, my God."

And the Stones ate it up. And spit it back. Jagger as late as the late tour in 1969 after ripping through a pounding number would coo: "I think I've busted a button on me trousers and me trousers are going to fall down. You don't want me trousers to fall down, do you?"

And the crowd exploded.

But the 60's are over now, the Beatles are four years gone, and the Rolling Stones have become the enduring rock 'n' roll band. Others have come and gone, but the Stones play on sticking together, rolling with rock's changes. They are the new institution.

Oh Yes, There's Good News For 'Guiding Light' Viewers

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The suspense has been terrific, but it appears now that Michael Bauer, who has been hovering at death's door since the evil Flip Malone shot him a couple of weeks ago, is going to survive. On Wednesday the lady doctor told his wife, Charlotte, that Michael's temperature and pulse were normal and gave a qualified "yes" when asked if he were out of danger.

The improvement ought to relax the seven million or so viewers of CBS' "Guiding Light," a daytime serial that will have its 20th anniversary on television next month.

To many viewers, Michael is almost a member of the family. Actor Don Stewart has been playing the part of the lawyer on the soap opera for 3½ years.

After Michael was gunned down, some sophisticated members of the program's audience worried that it might be fatal. Death occurs in the soaps, usually when an actor playing "a core character" in a series succumbs to illness, death or the lure of Hollywood and is so identified with the role that it is believed impossible to replace him.

Stewart usually appears three days out of five, but recently he had been working Mondays through Fridays for months when Michael was defending a woman on a murder charge. His illness was a little off-camera holiday.

Stewart, a handsome bachelor in his 30s, likes his work and has high regard for the acting skills of his colleagues — "the real stars of the industry," he calls them.

At the same time he is aware that serials are rough on the performers' egos since they are more likely to be identified by the public with the name of their characters than by their own names.

"I am pleased," he says a little defensively, "that 98 percent of the mail I get is addressed to Don Stewart, not Michael Bauer."

Agnew Will Not Join Delegation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has declined an invitation to join Maryland's delegation to the Republican National Convention.

Victor Gold, Agnew's press secretary, said Wednesday that the former Maryland governor will not be a member of the state's 26-member delegation.

Four years ago he went to Miami Beach at the head of the Maryland contingent and left as President Nixon's running mate.

'Transfusion On The Way But Patient Is Dying'

HOUSTON (AP) — The Texas Conference of the United Methodist Church tried to help financially crippled Wiley College in Marshall, Tex., only to be told by the college president, "The transfusion is on the way, but the patient is dying."

Dr. Robert E. Hayes, president of the predominantly black school, said he has only $17,000 toward the $57,000 needed to meet the May payroll, which is due next week. A church represented at the conference meeting donated $5,000 toward the payroll Wednesday and the laymen and clergy voted to advance the college $25,000 from this year's conference budget.

"We've got to make it to September," Hayes said.

He said that next fall 300 new students are expected to join the 550 who were enrolled this semester, but since there is no summer school there will not be any income.

Hayes said the college may be able to borrow from Marshall banks to meet the summer payroll.

The conference approved a record $3.5 million in its 1973 budget for the conference's colleges, and Wiley will pick up $106,000 of that amount.

WELFARE ROLLS DOWN —

New York State Commissioner of Social Services Abe Lavine says welfare recipients are "disappearing" by the thousands. Lavine says they are going into the job market under a new program of "work — or else." In the first nine months of the program 22,748 welfare recipients were placed in jobs, and an additional 39,124 were removed from the welfare program for not reporting for job screening or other reasons.

Cases Handled By Fort Worth DA Under Fire

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The Tarrant County grand jury, in its investigation of several cases handled by the district attorney's office, has called or will subpoena at least five persons to testify, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram reported today.

It quoted an unnamed source as saying the subpoenas call for those persons to testify before the grand jury at 9 a.m. Friday.

None of the subpoenas had been filed with the district clerk's office Wednesday.

In a court order issued Tuesday by Criminal District Judge Byron Matthews, the grand jury named lawyer Edwin T. Phillips Jr. "special assistant counsel" to assist in the investigation of several cases in which "the conduct of the prosecution might be questionable."

Phillips said he could not reveal any details of what the grand jury will be looking into.

Courthouse sources said the investigation in part concerns allegations made by Dist. Atty.-elect Tim Curry in his recent campaign.

During the campaign Curry asked the grand jury for a full investigation of three cases which he accused Dist. Atty. Doug Crouch of handling improperly. In each case Frank Coffey is or was the defendant's lawyer.

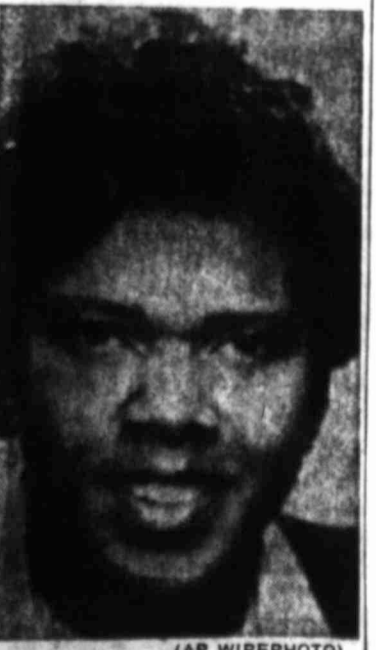

Coffey is a former district attorney and has been Crouch's law partner.

Crouch declined comment on the investigation except to say his office has done nothing to be ashamed of.

Coffey said he knew nothing of the investigation and would not comment further.

Curry said he had not been contacted by anyone about the investigation and he knew nothing about it.

Phillips said he had been approached informally about conducting the investigation, and said at that time he would accept the assignment if a formal request was made.

TO SERVE AS GOVERNOR —

State Sen. Barbara Jordan of Houston will serve as Governor of Texas on Saturday, June 10, while Gov. Preston Smith and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes are out of the state for the day. Sen. Jordan is president pro tem of the senate.

Houston, Dallas, Huntsville Delegations Net Challenge

HOUSTON (AP) — A challenge to delegations to the state Democratic convention from Houston, Dallas and Huntsville has been filed on the grounds that they discriminate against women, Mrs. Helen Cassidy of Houston said Wednesday.

Mrs. Cassidy, chairman of the Texas Women's Political Caucus, said the challenges were filed against delegations from four Houston senatorial districts, three Dallas district and the county delegation from Huntsville.

The challenges, mailed to party chairman Roy Orr Tuesday, seek to increase the percentage of women delegates to the state convention June 13 in San Antonio.

That convention will name Texas' 130 delegates to the national party convention in Miami Beach in July.

The new rules under which the party is working call for every effort to select delegates "so that the entire delegation as a whole shall reasonably reflect the political preferences...and the proportion of women, young people and minority group members present in the district or state."

Mrs. Cassey said that although the rules were authored by a committee chaired by Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., and although she supports McGovern for the presidency, two of the Houston districts she filed against are pro-McGovern strongholds.

But she said her loyalty to the women's movement outweighed the immediate political considerations. "I think I would be untrue to McGovern's principles if I failed to challenge these districts," she said.

John S. Brunson, a Houston lawyer who is a political conservative will head the conventions credentials committee. Contacted Wednesday, he said the challenges may not have been filed in time.

But Jack Gaubert, executive director of the party, said challenges postmarked Tuesday met the deadline.

Brunson, who helped draft

GI Home Loan Plan Popular

DALLAS (AP) — Of the 100,000 veterans in the Dallas area, 72,000—or 45 per cent—have made applications to purchase homes under the GI home loan plan, says Jack Coker, Veterans Administration regional director.

This year alone, there have been 3,897 GI's using the loan for a total of $84.7 million in home purchases.

Coker says that statewide, 91,200 loans were guaranteed during January, February and March of this year compared to 40,900 during the same period last year.

James Dawson, 45, a veteran of World War II and the Korean War is one of those who recently purchased a home under the GI loan.

"I think the GI home loan is beneficial to the veteran. My loan was approved in what I consider a very reasonable period of time and I had no problems whatsoever," says Dawson.

Dawson, who operates a service station, bought a home in the $20,000 price range.

Eugene Hawkins recently purchased what he describes as a $25,000 to $30,000 priced home.

He too, says there was little trouble securing the loan.

"If your finances are in order and you are buying within your means, the problems will be few, if any, in getting a loan approved," says Hawkins.

The average cost of a home since 1946 has been $11,078. Comparatively, the average cost for a home purchased under the GI home loan in 1971 was $22,915.

Prison Inmate Shot By Guard

HOUSTON (AP) — A city prison farm inmate was shot Tuesday by a guard, authorities said, after the inmate had beaten another guard.

James L. Johnson, 32, of Houston was listed in satisfactory condition with bullet wounds in the chest and abdomen.

Homicide detectives said Johnson became violent when guards attempted to take him to a holdover cell at the farm.

Police records showed Johnson was sent to the prison farm May 17 to work off $222.50 in fines on traffic charges, disorderly conduct, trespassing and loitering.

Opening Missed By Pablo Casals

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — Pablo Casals missed the opening of the 1972 Casals Festival of Music. He is suffering a cold.

A spokesman for the annual musical gathering told a capacity audience of 2,050 at the University of Puerto Rico auditorium on Wednesday that the 95-year-old cellist was expected to be on hand Friday night.

Fires Starting Gun For Anti-Pollution Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Environmental Protection Agency head William D. Ruckelshaus has fired the starting gun for a race that already may be lost, the effort by the states to meet federal air-pollution standards by 1975.

Ruckelshaus Wednesday gave complete or partial approval of antipollution plans in the 50 states and five other areas of jurisdiction.

But the EPA administrator granted two-year extensions of the deadline to 18 states whose large metropolitan areas may need comprehensive controls and major changes in transportation systems to fight auto-generated smog. The extensions made it appear those states could not meet the original deadline on three of the six pollutants governed by federal standards: carbon monoxide, hydrocarbons and photochemical oxidants. And, although he granted no other extensions, Ruckelshaus also said it might be impossible for many states to meet sulfur oxide standards by 1975 as well, because of a limited supply of low-sulfur fuels. He did not estimate the chances of reducing "particulates"—smoke and dust—within the three-year deadline, but that problem is also linked strongly to fuel availability as well as mechanical controls. Ruckelshaus said 12 states sought two-year extensions for the remaining pollutant, nitrogen oxides, but he said the EPA believed this standard could be met within the deadline. With the nation divided into 247 official air-quality regions, most state plans received piecemeal approval.

'Shotgun' Treatments Raise Prospects Of Leukemia Cure

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor
NEW YORK (AP) — New "shotgun" medical treatments are raising prospects of permanent cure for some children stricken with leukemia, the blood cancer, researchers reported today.

One shotgun approach is a double-barrelled. One barrel is a combination of drugs that combat leukemia. The other barrel is X-rays of the head and spinal column to prevent leukemic invasion of the central nervous system. This invasion is often a fatal complication in leukemia. Through it, some children have been disease-free long enough to suggest the possibility they are permanently cured of acute lymphocytic leukemia, a major form of the disease, said Dr. Joseph Simone of St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital in Memphis, Tenn.

Another approach using combinations of drugs has brought remissions or freedom from the same kind of leukemia in 70 per cent of children, with 90 per cent of them alive 3 1/2 years after beginning of treatment, said Dr. James F. Holland of Roswell Park Memorial Institute, Buffalo, N.Y.

Both spoke at opening sessions of the National Conference on Cancer Chemotherapy sponsored by the American Cancer Society and National Cancer Institute.

Sex, Race Suit Filed

HOUSTON (AP) — The federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, which is supposed to stop discrimination in hiring, was hit by a suit here Wednesday charging it discriminates against white women.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., June 1, 1972 11-B suit she was scheduled to be fired today because she filed a discrimination charges against the agency over a promotion. She said she is being denied equal chance for promotion solely on grounds of her sex and race. Mrs. Settle was hired as an investigator last Sept. 20 and said she had performed "obediently, efficiently and competently."

LARRY MORENO
Moreno Team At Olympics

ABILENE — Larry Moreno, a junior at Hardin Simmons University, has just returned from the State Special Olympics in San Antonio where he had taken a group of mentally handicapped students from the Abilene Public Schools.

Moreno was employed at the local YMCA before being transferred to Abilene. He attended Howard County Junior College for two years.

Moreno's team did well at the tournament, winning several ribbons plus a few bronze and silver medals. He said it was "the most exciting and rewarding meet" in which he had ever participated.

The State Special Olympics are produced each year for the benefit of children with learning handicaps.

Moreno resides at 406 S. Benton, Big Spring.

Spurr Avoids Controversies

HOUSTON (AP) — The University of Texas at Austin president says no regent has interfered with his running the school.

"Salaries, academic programs and who teaches what are decided on the faculty level, by the deans or by myself," Dr. Stephen H. Spurr said in an interview.

"The faculty at the University of Texas is stronger than it's ever been," said Spurr, who was in Houston to address the Institute of International Education.

He said faculty resignations this spring have been well below the normal attrition rate.

"They left because they were disenchanted or they found better jobs," he said. "Although we miss them, we will replace them."

Spurr said he was "careful not to get into personalities and controversies which preceded my coming."

CARROL RIGHTER

THURSDAY JUNE 1
GENERAL TENDENCIES: If you don't make any changes in the planned arrangements with other persons, this can be an unusually good day. Avoid the temptation to get involved with others in matters that do not concern you personally. Take care of your own affairs.
ARIES (March 21 to April 19) An odd day in which much can be accomplished if you avoid arguments of home or with associates in business. One who opposes you could make things difficult if you are not careful.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Try to please those higher-ups you like and don't argue with co-workers. Make this a productive day. Enforce discipline. Be that will add to present prestige. Be poised.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Finding new methods of realizing your idealistic dreams, which are important to your nature, makes this a fine day. Don't take off on any tangents. You need to save more money.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Do whatever you wish to do. Remain steadfast to present setup.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Do whatever you wish to do. Remain steadfast to present setup.
LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Come to a better understanding with those you like. Be careful not to irritate a person who opposes too much. A businesslike attitude is best now.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Don't confide your worries with others but make an attempt to eliminate them once and for all. Those new activities you have in mind are not for you. Remain steadfast to present setup.

10 Americans Die In Action

SAIGON (AP) — Ten Americans were killed in action last week, 11 were missing and 23 were wounded, the U.S. Command announced today. This raised to 416 the number of American combat casualties reported in the two months before the start of the North Vietnamese offensive March 30 and last Saturday.

The command's weekly casualty summary also reported that one American died from nonhostile causes last week. The American combat casualties were higher in all categories last week than the week before. That week the figures were 8 killed in action, 7 missing, 22 wounded and 9 dead of nonhostile causes.

The South Vietnamese command reported 754 of its troops killed last week, a drop of three. But the wounded increased by 430 to 2,781, and 312 troops were missing in action, 93 more than the week before.

The South Vietnamese also claimed a big jump in enemy dead, from 3,994 the week before to 5,218 last week.

Total casualties for the war, according to the allied commands, are:

American—45,765 killed in action, 303,046 wounded, 1,601 missing or captured, 10,180 dead from nonhostile causes.

South Vietnamese — 144,238 killed, 368,499 wounded.

North Vietnamese and Viet Cong—840,909 killed.

The U.S. Command also announced the biggest single troop withdrawal since the North Vietnamese offensive began, but the entire reduction of 2,460 men involved support units. The command said it was phasing out 37 Army units.

'Already Too Easy To Get Guys To Take Clothes Off'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Noted pinup photographer Peter Gowland is featured in his bare entirety, shielded only by a philodendron leaf, in a two-page centerfold of Santa Monica College's yearbook.

Gowland was responsive and humored by the idea, according to Suzanne Yanok, editor of the yearbook, "Reflections," being issued today.

The photograph was taken by Gowland's wife, Alice.

The yearbook adviser, Prof. Richard Dodge, said it would be chauvinistic not to feature a nude male after the centerfold that was used the previous year.

It showed a half nude student burning her bra.

Although actor Burt Reynolds appeared as a nude centerfold in a recent issue of Cosmopolitan magazine, Miss Yanok said she didn't think this would become a trend — unless "the centerfold featured someone very interesting like Hugh Hefner or Ralph Nader."

Observed Miss Yanok, "It's already too easy to get guys to take their clothes off."

Wets Seek Local Option Election

SNYDER — An application for a local option election petition was submitted to the Scurry County Clerk's office this morning in Snyder.

The proposal urges that the sale of all alcoholic beverages be allowed only in the city of Snyder. Mrs. Beverly Almsworth, county clerk, said the petition was issued today.

Sponsors of the petition have until June 30 to secure about 500 signatures.

If successful, county commissioners will be required to call an election. The number of names required on the petition is 25 per cent of the number of votes cast in the governor's election two years ago.

Scurry County has been dry since 1902, although several local option elections have been held, all of them county wide in recent years. The latest was in 1960 when a proposal to permit off-premises sale of alcoholic beverages was defeated by a vote of 1,965 to 1,281.

'Smart Bombs' Destroy 'Dragon's Jaw' Bridge

SAIGON (AP) — Guided by laser light beams or television cameras, the electronic "smart bombs" U.S. pilots are dropping on North Vietnam have accomplished more in two months against certain targets than the entire 1965-68 bombing did, American officials say.

"We've been able to cut most of the major bridges and roads from the defense lines north of Hue up to the Chinese border," one official claimed. "Both the northeast and northwest rail lines from Hanoi to China have been cut."

Officials report no signs of major movement of war materials from China, either by rail or truck.

The smart bombs had been in the development stage for two years. They were used only on a limited basis in Indochina until President Nixon resumed the full-scale bombing of North Vietnam on April 6 in retaliation for the enemy offensive in South Vietnam.

Generally, two jets operate together in using the laser bombs. One is armed with a laser gun that spotlights the target with the light ray. The beam is narrow, like a rope, and does not widen as a spotlight would.

The second jet drops the bomb, which is fitted with a mechanism in its nose that homes in on the light ray. U.S. officials say the margin of error for a laser bomb is five feet or less, while a "dumb" conventional bomb dropped with normal trajectory has a margin of error of 150 feet due to the plane's speed and altitude and wind conditions.

PLANES LOST

The laser-guided bombs are generally 2,000- and 3,000-pound blockbusters used on bridges that range in width from seven feet to more than 50.

Among the major targets reported destroyed by these laser bombs was the Thanh Hoa "Dragon's Jaw" bridge, 80 miles south of Hanoi, on May 12. The bridge, 56 feet wide and 540 feet long, stood throughout the 1965-68 bombing despite repeated attacks by more than 1,000 U.S. fighter-bombers.

Thirty U.S. planes were lost in the earlier raids on the bridge. None was lost in the attack May 12.

The other smart bomb is the EO, for electrical optical. It carries a television camera in its nose, and electronic corrections from the flier watching a TV screen in the plane put the bomb on the target.

Conventional bombs are still used in saturation raids against warehouses, truck parks and sprawling storage areas where the objective is "to blow the hell out of the place," one official said.

NEWSPAPERS UNPREDICTABLE

Girlie Books Sell Best On Racks

By BRIAN PEAY

Even though some people disagree about the basic intent of mass communications, and have varying opinions on the direction in which the communications field is heading, everyone must still admit that the news media, in all its forms, is one of the most important and powerful forces in our democracy.

Considering this sometimes controversial statement, it seemed pertinent to expound on a question involving the written media and its patrons' reading habits.

What is the current, consistently best selling magazine? At the risk of underestimating the readers' intelligence and marring The Herald's "G" rating, the answer is Playboy.

TOP SELLERS

Playboy and other girly type magazines are in top demand at the newsstand. In fact, Leon Hoag, Poncho's Newsstand owner and operator, said the magazine's readers, all of varying ages over 21, even know when the newsstand puts the new editions on for sale each month. You might say they all stand waiting with baited breath and money in hand.

"If I am a day late getting the new editions of Playboy on the racks, I have several calls asking why," Hoag added.

Although girly magazines are popular, to say the least, they still do not take away from the retail of other publications such as weekly news magazines, sports, travel and tour guides and western paperbacks.

Currently the best selling paperback novel at the newsstand is "The Godfather." Hoag said every time a top rated motion picture appears for a local run, he stocks up on the paper back novel, from which the film is usually taken.

"The Last Picture Show" was the last movie that increased Hoag's sales for the month.

'Somebody Must Know Who She Is'

CHICAGO (AP) — She is known to authorities only as Case No. 170.

Her body has been in the Cook County Morgue since May 18, but there have been no inquiries about her to either the morgue or the police, authorities said Wednesday.

The woman was found unconscious in a Greyhound bus that arrived from Minneapolis at 2 a.m. May 18. She never regained consciousness, and died later in the day of still-undetermined cause, police said.

Her only possessions were her clothes: a white blouse, blue slacks, brown loafers and a yellow coat.

She was 5 foot 2, weighed 118 pounds and had brown hair and hazel eyes. Authorities estimate she was between 18 and 22 years old.

"Somebody, somewhere must know who she is," said Chief Deputy Coroner Kyran Phelan.

Odessa Hotel Is Sold By Roden

ODESSA — The Inn of the Golden West is to be sold to the Sharon Hotel Corporation for an undisclosed price. The sale is to be completed when the corporation president, William (Bill) Landers, Van Nuys, Calif., arrives later this week.

John Martin, general manager of the 150-room hotel, announced Tuesday that Odessa businessman Tom (Pinkie) Roden would sell the hotel.

Martin said he will continue to serve as general manager and that the hotel will continue under the name of the Inn of the Golden West. The hotel has 150 employees.

The hotel, known for years as the Lincoln Hotel, was built in 1949. Roden purchased the hotel in 1967 from the Civic Hotel Corporation and afterward spent more than $1 million to remodel it.

When the weather is good, people tend to get out of their homes and leave for the weekends. Therefore, my newspaper sales suffer," Hoag observed.

That left me with the impression newspapers are for rainy day reading, that is if the paper boy remembers to wrap them in cellophane.

Another interesting fact about the sale of newspapers mentioned by the newsstand proprietor was that when a national news event breaks, people want to buy a publication from the city closest to the scene.

LOCAL ANGLE

Hoag said that when the explosion occurred at Cosden, of course, The Herald's edition that day skyrocketed. Even though it was a nationally known disaster, printed in every newspaper in the country, local citizens still wanted copies of the Avalanche Journal to read about the Lubbock tornado several years ago, according to Hoag.

Consequently, the newsstand operator said there is no best selling newspaper at the stand. Their sale through the week cannot be predicted. On Sunday, however, the Herald tops the list.

And one reassuring comment made by Hoag, which I am sure will make all broadcast journalists eat their hearts out, "judging by my experience in sales, the newspaper is still the most important news media to the people."

Poncho's is the only business in town dealing exclusively in the sale of news periodicals and magazines. It has been in business for more than two decades.

Hoag credited hard work and faithful customers with the success his establishment has experienced.

New Degree At Baylor

WACO, Tex. (AP) — A new program leading to the bachelor of science degree in criminal justice has been started at Baylor University for the fall semester.

W. Dewey Presley, board chairman, said the program will aid in creating professionalism in law enforcement.

N. Lee Dunham, director of summer and continuing education, will be coordinator. Dunham spent many months researching and visiting programs in criminal justice. He visited campuses of universities in several states to talk to administrative officials about their degree programs.

Dunham said the program should prepare individuals for leadership roles in police administration, police personnel management, advanced criminal investigation, juvenile procedures and corrective penology.

Baylor's program will be a two-year, upper-level sequence for students who have completed the 64-hour associate arts degree in law enforcement or those who have completed 64 hours of approved law enforcement study.

Courses will be interdisciplinary in their scope, involving faculty from four schools of the university — business, education, law and arts and sciences.

Few Showers Pelt State

By The Associated Press

A few showers pelted the Middle Texas Coast just east of Corpus Christi today and it was at least partly cloudy over all the southern third of the state.

Skies were clear in other sections as a light south wind breezed inland areas and the fanned blew from the east across the coastal plains.

With moist, unstable air flowing inland from the Gulf of Mexico, forecasters looked for more scattered thundershowers over extreme South Texas and in mountain areas west of the Pecos River in far West Texas.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 52 degrees at San Angelo and 53 at Amarillo up to 76 at Galveston.

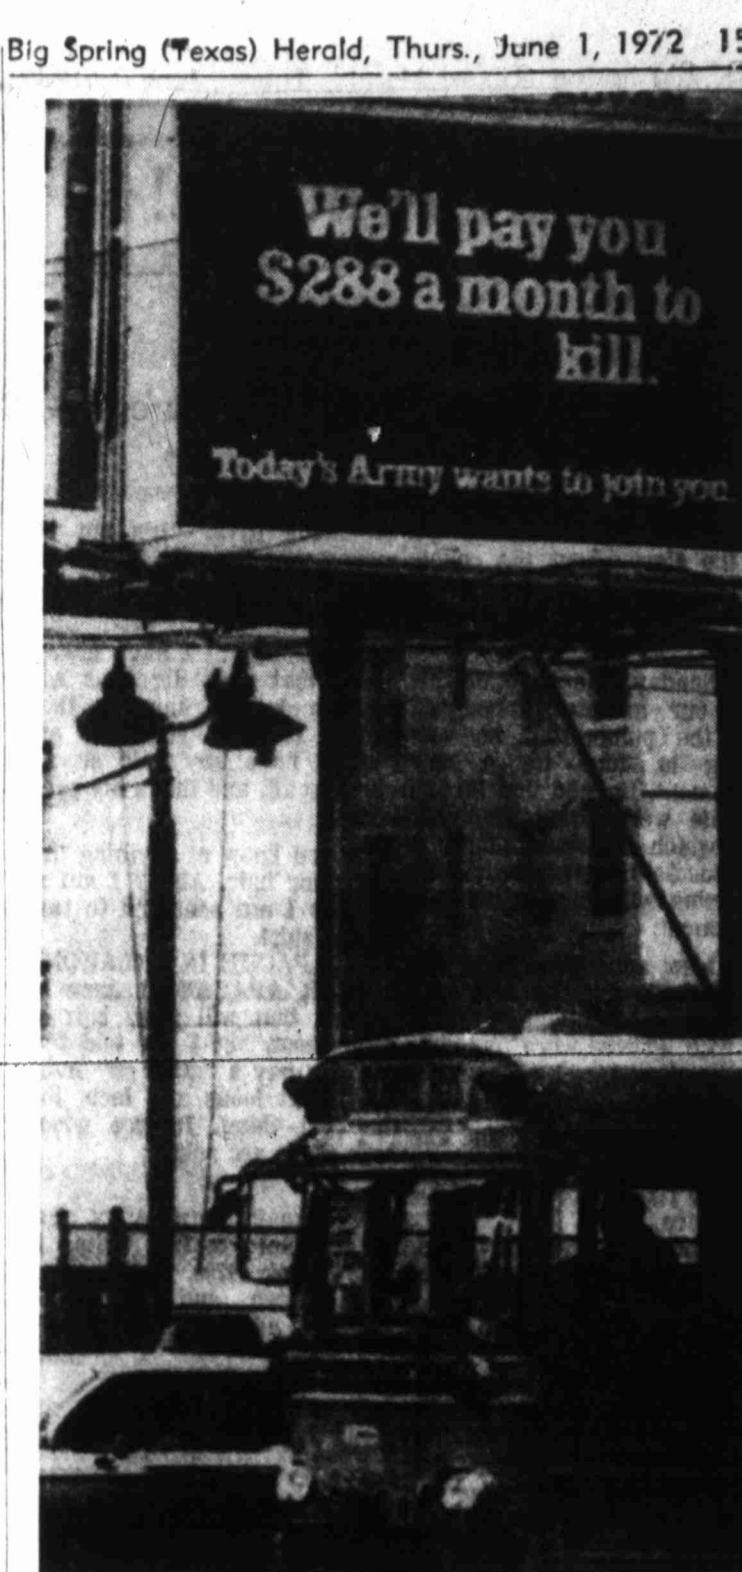

Top marks Wednesday afternoon covered a spread from 87 at Brownsville down to 60 at Marfa in the West Texas mountains.

Annual Picnic Is Scheduled At 7

The 4-H county-wide annual picnic will be held at 7 p.m. today at the Howard County Fair Barns.

Each family is to bring a salad and a dessert, with the rest of the meal provided.

Plans will be made for the 1972 4-H sponsored Junior Rodeo, and officers for the Howard County Adult Leaders Association will be elected.

WHAT'S THIS? — This Army recruiting sign in San Francisco originally read: "We'll pay you $288 a month to learn a skill." An unknown paint-brush wielder took out enough words to make it: "We'll pay you $288 a month to kill."

Farm Livestock Prices Are On Increase Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — After slumping for two months, farm livestock prices are on the move again and soon may force consumers to gird their loins at meat counters.

The Agriculture Department cattle prices rose in May to an all-time high of $33.10 per 100 pounds. Hogs averaged an 11-per-cent increase, to $24.90, mainly as a result of fewer baby pigs last winter.

According to the trend, beef and pork soon may be headed for another round of retail-price increases if the higher farm prices are passed on fully by middlemen.

Meat, which makes up around 30 per cent of the family food budget, is a key cost-of-living indicator.

Although down in April, wholesale and retail meat prices for May could be pushed up again by the latest farm surge.

Government reports on the situation, however, will not be announced until later in June. Meantime, the rising livestock prices are being eyed closely by consumer-conscious Nixon administration economists.

Here is what happened: In late February, after enjoying a five-month price climb, farmers began getting less for live cattle and hogs. Pressure from the administration, including jawboning and some rollbacks ordered by the Price Commission, subsequently led to some shrink in middleman markups. By April, retail food prices dropped generally, led by dips for beef and pork.

Now, according to the latest USDA reports, the upswing in farm prices is on again.

For example, all beef cattle in mid-May were up 4 per cent from April; hogs were 11 per cent higher. Compared with a year ago the total livestock-price index was up 20 per cent.

Although frequently erratic, farm prices can have an important impact on both wholesale and retail prices when increases on the farm occur over a sustained period.

If the higher-farm-price trend for cattle and hogs continues, as some economists predict, meat packers and retailers will be forced into passing some of their larger costs to consumers.

Fantastic!

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I think I can tell you the story about the couple who announced at their 25th wedding anniversary party that they were getting a divorce.

On Sunday, March 5 of this year, our minister announced from the pulpit that he was leaving in June for a new assignment. He said that he and his wife were being divorced, after which he would marry a local medical doctor's wife, who was going with him to his new assignment.

He also announced that the minister and his wife had a son, who was standing beside his wife. (There were five children involved.)

The minister and his wife had sung a duet that day, and the doctor, who was a church official, had read the scriptures for the service.

The above is absolutely true. I witnessed it, and am enclosing the names of all the parties involved if you wish to check it out. Being unable to stay in such a church, I left it immediately and joined another one.

"TOPPER" IN TAFT, CALIF. DEAR TOPPER: I am frequently accused of making up letters, but I have neither the talent nor the imagination to come up with anything as fantastic as some of the real life situations that readers send me. Thanks for writing.

DEAR ABBY: My son has just become engaged. His mother and I are divorced and I am remarried. My son has invited my wife and me to his wedding.

However, the bride's mother has decided that she wants only four others in the reception line with the bride and groom, namely the parents of the bride and the parents of the groom.

That means I am asked to stand in line with my former wife while my present wife has no part in it.

My son is urging me strongly to go along with this although I have told him that I do not feel right about it.

I don't wish to oppose my son on this day of all days, but I cannot help but feel that such a decision clearly disregards my feelings and the feelings of my present wife.

What can you advise me?

UPSET DEAR UPSET: Go along with your son's wishes. Often, when mother and dad are divorced and remarried, Number Two is not even invited to the wedding.

DEAR ABBY: Pertaining to the woman whose hair was all chopped off in a beauty parlor — she wanted to know what recourse she had — I would like to relate my experience: I went to a beauty parlor and told the operator that I wanted her to just cut off the dead ends, but she gave me a haircut so short I looked like a man. I had to buy a wig in order to go to work.

I took that beauty parlor to Small Claims Court for the price of the wig and court costs. I'll admit there was quite a bit of time and trouble involved, but it was well worth it. I won my case.

It wasn't the money, it was the principle of the thing!

AVENGED DEAR AVENGED: You could be the exception, but when somebody says, "It's not the money, it's the principle of the thing," it's usually the money.

DEAR ABBY: I have always heard that girls dig guys who have a lot of hair on their chests. I am 26 years old and I don't have any hair on my chest at all, and that's my problem.

Do you know of anything that will grow hair, Abby? I am so hairless I am ashamed to take off my shirt.

APACHE IN OKLAHOMA DEAR APACHE: I know of nothing that will grow hair on your chest, but I am told that you can buy a "stick on" hairy chest that looks and feels like the real thing. Inquire where hair goods are sold.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

Says Texas Must Build Superport

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas must build a superport to handle the giant ships of the future if it hopes to escape an energy crisis, a Texas A&M researcher said Wednesday.

James R. Bradley, director of A&M Industrial Economics Research Division, told a luncheon club meeting, "as much as we dislike being tied to sources of supply not directly under American control, it appears that two-thirds of the crude oil and nearly one-half of the natural gas we will consume in 1985 will come from sources outside the United States."

Bradley, who directed a study on the economic impact of supertankers, said that Texas, with its huge petroleum base to its economy, will be greatly affected by the energy shortage.

"But no ship larger than 80,000 to 90,000 deadweight tons can enter Texas ports," he said. "Many tankers on the high seas are larger than 300,000 deadweight tons, and contracts have already been signed to build vessels approaching one-half million tons. A shipbuilder in Japan has recently announced plans to build a drydock in which ships of a million-ton-size can be constructed."

"It is no longer a question of 'should we build an offshore port terminal?' Bradley said, "but rather the question before us now is 'when are we going to build a superport for Texas?'"

Bradley said no Texas port has a depth greater than 40 feet, but several of them are in the process of deepening to 45 feet. A million-ton tanker would have a draft of 100 feet.

"In relation to need, Texas ports are in a worse position than the ports on the East and West Coasts due to our much heavier dependence upon petroleum," he said.

Just One Taste Can Kill Child

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Doris Myers, home management specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says 95 per cent of accidental poisonings of children occur while they are supposed to be under adult supervision.

More than half a million kinds of medicines, cleaning aids and other household substances tempt children's curiosities.

"The key to halting these poisonings is a continuing plan of prevention," the Texas A&M University employe said.

"First, don't store bleach, detergent, drain cleaner or other hazardous substances under the kitchen sink or any other place accessible to small children.

"And don't keep bug killers, medicines or other dangerous items next to food."

Paint, insecticide, turpentine, alcohol or other such substances may be mistaken for something to drink when poured into bottles or similar-type containers.

"Just because something looks, smells or tastes horrible to you doesn't mean that a child won't eat or drink enough of it to poison him," Mrs. Myers said.

The specialist said a child's sense of smell and taste aren't as developed as an adult's. He can't read or recognize the signs of poison, and just one taste can kill him.

Musical Treat Is Offered Club

Ralph Dowden and his wife, Betty, sang a duet from "Carmen" for the Downtown Lions Club at its Wednesday luncheon at the Settles. They were accompanied by Linda Mason.

Dowden, who is head of the Howard County Junior College Music department, took occasion also to announce that the drama and music departments are combining to present "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" as a summer event July 3-4-6-7-8 at HCJC student center. The $3 ticket also covers cost of the dinner before the musical.

Public Workers Urged To Switch Lobbying Emphasis

HOUSTON (AP) — The president of the nation's biggest union of public workers urged leaders of his 550,000-member organization to switch their lobbying emphasis from the states to Congress to win a national labor law covering state, county and city employes.

"The big crap game is now in the nation's capital," said Jerry Wurf, head of the AFL-CIO American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes.

Wurf told some 1,500 delegates to the union's convention that membership in various public employe unions was growing by leaps and bounds despite state laws that frequently discourage unions and sometimes send their leaders to jail for striking.

"All the laws being passed in all the states are lousy," Wurf said.

Some states have eased their laws against unions as a result of union pressure, "but the best law in these United States is an unfair law, titled in favor of employers," he said.

"The only way we will get justice is when we get a national law," he said. "State laws still give the upper hand to the employer."

The union has been lobbying for a bill in Congress that would require states and their political subdivisions to recognize and bargain with unions.

Wurf said his union also insists on the right to strike, but with voluntary arbitration to settle labor disputes.

NEWS FOR YOU He said the question of how to resolve disputes when there is a deadlock has been the biggest problem in seeking new laws.

"An interesting thing has happened. Labor has traditionally opposed compulsory arbitration," Wurf said.

"I have news for you, The bosses we work for are scared to death of it," he added. "The employers who deny us the right to strike fear compulsory arbitration even more. They have seen third-party neutrals grant some extremely fair and reasonable settlements," he said.

"Because of this fear of arbitration, the bosses may be content around to the right to strike. Some of them are, but most want to deny us any form of final step in impasse procedures that takes any measure of control out of their hands," he added.

UNDER THUMB "They want to leave us under their thumb. They want control, not reasonableness. They can't have it their way on this one. It is time to reason together," he said.

"We are prepared to do that. We are willing to experiment, to consider new means of impasse procedures. However, our expressions of willingness to try voluntary binding arbitration—jointly agreed to by labor and management—thus far have fallen on uninterested ears," Wurf said.

He said American unions representing public employes have fewer legal rights than labor groups in all other free world nations. Federal labor laws on bargaining rights, minimum wage and other provisions do not cover state, county and city workers.

JAIL UNION Despite the absence of legal protections enjoyed by unions dealing with private industry, his union has more than doubled in membership in the past 10 years and the only growth in AFL-CIO unions as a whole has been in the public sector, he said.

Wurf told of one of his union's officials, Howard Benedict, who was jailed in an Illinois labor dispute several months ago.

"When he was in jail, he organized all the officers in the jail," said Wurf.

NEW YORK (AP) — Lily Pons, reigning coloratura soprano of the Metropolitan Opera from 1931 to 1939, exhibited a remarkable voice during her first performance in New York in 12 years.

Miss Pons, now 68, sang with the New York Philharmonic Wednesday night. She had been invited by conductor Andre Kostelaretz to appear at one of the early summer promenade concerts "just for fun."

Most women's voices, with age, lose their soft, sweet coatings and become reedy and sinewy, like a stripped-away flower stem. But Miss Pons' voice, although slender and lacking the robust full clarity of youth, is still soft and sweet.

CELEBRATES 94TH DUBLIN (AP) — Sinead De Valera, wife of President Eamon De Valera, celebrates her 94th birthday today.

Mrs. Valera planned a quiet day with her 89-year-old husband at the presidential palace. The couple have been married 62 years. Mrs. Valera, who always shunned the limelight her husband loved, has written 30 books for children in the native Irish tongue.

20-Day Fast Weakens Chavez

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) Cesar Chavez, the United Farm Workers leader, has been taken to a hospital, weakened by a 20-day fast.

Chavez, his face hollowed and drawn, was taken to the hospital by ambulance Wednesday. Dr. Augusto Ortiz, the physician who has attended Chavez during the fast, described his condition as serious and said he urgently needed medication.

The UFW leader began his fast after the Arizona Legislature earlier this month adopted a farm labor bill which forbids secondary strikes by farm workers at harvest time.
