200 FLEE 15 Persons Hurt By Tank Car Blast

DALLAS (AP) — Explosion of a railroad tank car injured 15 persons, set off flames that destroyed five houses and forced more than 200 persons to flee their homes early today.

Homes and apartment houses in a 12-block square were evacuated for a time. Many of their occupants took shelter at a church, and the Red Cross reported it was feeding 200 plus this morning.

Ford Gets Green Light

WASHINGTON (AP) — Environmental Protection Administrator William D. Ruckelshaus said today he will allow the Ford Motor Co. to produce and ship its 1973 cars provided initial tests indicate they will meet federal antipollution requirements in full-scale testing.

Wholesale Prices Up, Many Looking For Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new surge in food prices pushed up wholesale prices faster last month than in March and April, while the nation's unemployment rate remained unchanged at 5.9 per cent.

declining the two previous months. Largely as a result of that, wholesale prices of all commodities rose 0.6 per cent after slight increases the two months before.

5.9 per cent of the work force was still looking for jobs, the same percentage as in April and March.

Proxmire said in a statement, "to set a specific interim goal of 4 per cent unemployment, set the date when it will be achieved, and push the policies to get the job done."

rose 0.6 per cent, or 0.5 per cent on a seasonally adjusted basis.

GOPs To Vote At Goliad JH On Saturday

Goliad Junior High School will be the Republican polling place for Saturday's run-off primaries, and the only changes in the Democratic polling places are in boxes 15 and 17.

Voters in box 15 will cast their ballots in the Runnels Junior High Academic building rather than in the entrance to the gymnasium as was done in the first primary.

At box 17, voting will be in the white cottage next door to the Pioneer Oil & Gas Discount Station, Lamesa Hwy.

Other Democratic polling places are box 1, Northside Fire Station; box 2, Washington Place School; box 3, Main and Eighteenth Fire Station; box 4, Fourth and Nolan Fire Station; box 5, Vincent Baptist Church Education Building; box 6, Gay Hill School; and box 7, Salem Baptist Church Education Building.

Additional polling places are box 8, West Ward School Building; box 9, Coahoma City Hall; box 10, Forsan School Building; box 11, Centerpoint School Building; box 12, Prairie View Baptist Church Education Building; box 13, Knott School Building; box 14, R. A. Merrick residence; box 16, Parkhill School Building; box 18, John Gary residence; box 19, Elbow School Building; box 20, Jonesboro Road Fire Station; box 21, Sand Springs-Midway Fire Station; and box 22, Eleventh and Birdwell Fire Station.

Dignon, Rule Quit Posts With City

By BRIAN PEAY Two city employees resigned their positions this morning, touching off rumors that there has been an erosion in morale among some of the personnel employed by the municipality. Tom E. Dignon, street superintendent, and Michael A. Rule, street foreman, each tendered their letters of resignation Thursday to City Manager Harry Nagel.

Dignon's termination date will be in 30 days and Rule's last day with the city will be June 15.

In Dignon's resignation letter he said, "Due to the working conditions now existing in the Street Department, I feel that the City of Big Spring no longer has the security of job needed. I have no alternative but to find other employment."

"Due to the present wage, and working conditions, I feel my services are no longer needed within the governmental bodies of the organization," said Rule in his statement.

Rule also revealed he had found a more stable and secure position with another concern, and that he was making the decision on his own free will and accord, "under no pressure from anyone."

Dignon told The Herald the morale and working relations among the city departments and employees are not what city administrators and commissioners have currently led the public to believe.

"There are a lot of good men employed by the city who are underpaid and getting stepped on and pushed around every day. There is no way I can continue under these conditions," said Dignon. He also credited a break down in communications and working relations between the city administration and his department as a reason for his resignation.

Dignon has been with the city since March 31, 1961, the majority of which he has been superintendent of the street department.

According to the superintendent, he, like all the other city employees, should be able to find a better position than what he had with the city. He added the only reason he has stayed this long with the department is because he loves Big Spring.

No comment was forthcoming from any of the city administrators.

Benito Diaz Sentenced

Benito Diaz, 19, of 619 N. W. 8th, has been sentenced to 40 years in prison on a robbery by assault charge and 10 years in prison on a sodomy charge. The terms are to run concurrently.

Diaz pleaded guilty to the two charges Thursday afternoon in 118th District Court, and District Judge R. W. Caton returned the sentences against Diaz.

Diaz was arrested April 9, 1972 in City Park in connection with robbery and sexual attack of a 14-year-old boy. Howard County grand jurors indicted Diaz on both charges April 20, 1972.

Carmen Gonzales Jr., 24, of 632 N. W. 3rd, was also arrested and charged with robbery by assault and sodomy in connection with the attack. He was indicted only on the robbery charge April 20, 1972, and District Judge R. W. Caton ordered his bond reduced from $10,000 ($5,000 on each charge) to $3,000 on the robbery charge. He was released from county jail April 28, 1972.

Diaz was returned Thursday to county jail after sentencing.

House Speaker Price Reports Threat On Life

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Department of Public Safety said today it has assigned security personnel to Texas House Speaker Rayford Price after Price's campaign headquarters reported a threat on his life.

Price is in a heated campaign for re-election to the Texas House in his East Texas district. The speakership is not at stake directly in Saturday's primary since House members elect a speaker.

Rep. Joe Wyatt of Victoria, who is working in the Price campaign, said he telephoned the Department of Public Safety Thursday night after a threatening call was made to the home of Price's parents in Palestine.

"The speaker himself asked for it," Wyatt said in a telephone interview from Palestine.

Screening Program To End At Webb

The Air Force has announced a consolidated flight screening program which will eliminate the primary training phase at Webb AFB.

The present flight screening program uses contractor-operated Cessna T-41 propeller-driven trainers to determine the flying attributes of candidate pilots prior to entry into the more expensive advanced jet trainers.

The consolidation will save the Air Force an estimated $2.3 million annually.

As a result of a test conducted in 1971, it has now been determined that flight screening is not necessary for those UPT students who have completed a USAF-sponsored light plane program such as the Air Force Academy Pilot Indotration Program and the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps flight instruction courses. This will allow the Air Force to consolidate the T-41 training at Lackland AFB, Tex., for pilot candidate attending the Officer Training School (OTS).

The implementation of the centralized flight screening will cause the reduction of contractor personnel at Howard County airport where the T-41 training takes place. Sixteen people are affected.

Since July 1965 this program has been conducted at airfields within close proximity of each of the UPT bases of Air Training Command. It was required of all candidates.

The centralized program will enable the AF to determine the flying attributes of the OTS pilot candidates prior to their being commissioned. Existing facilities at a civilian air field near Lackland AFB will be used.

The first T-41 to arrive at Webb was piloted by Col. August F. Taute, then wing commander. It arrived in March, 1965. Phase I training in the Mescaleros several months later with class 67-A on Aug. 5, 1965. Capt. Donald J. Anderson was the chief of the flying program at Howard County Airport. The first-year contract was awarded to Central American Airways of Louisville, Ky., at a cost of $154,725.

The T-41 is a two-place, single-engine plane, powered by a 145 h.p. Continental engine. It has a top speed of 138 m.p.h. and a range of 720 miles at 10,000 feet. It is the military version of the Cessna 172.

STRAW VOTE REFLECTS VOTERS' MOODS Dolph Briscoe Far Ahead; Is Sanders Due For Upset?

How fare the candidates in Saturday's Second Democratic Primary election?

If a straw vote taken by members of The Herald staff is any indication, Dolph Briscoe will repeat the success he experienced in the First Primary and coast to victory over Frances Farenthold.

Slightly over 100 people, representing all sections of the community, were polled. Of that number, 72 said they reasoned Briscoe would win while 31 were convinced the next governor of the state would be Mrs. Farenthold.

Former U. S. Senator Ralph Yarborough, who boasted on a trip here earlier this year he could always count on Howard County to support him, didn't do well in the poll taken by Herald staffers. Barefoot Sanders outdistanced him in the balloting, 62-38.

ONE-SIDED Statewide, the Bill Hobby-Wayne Connally duel for the office of lieutenant governor appears to be a horse race. However, in Big Spring, Hobby, who is a Houston publisher, had all the better of it.

He garnered 68 votes to 32 for Connally. Oddly enough, Hobby has yet to campaign in person here.

Of the election, one disgruntled voter said: "I'm not sure who to vote for for lieutenant governor. I'm not in favor of either man, and there's not much choice for governor, either."

Another remarked: "I'm not certain about Wayne Connally. I'd like to know what his brother plans to do since he resigned as U. S. Treasurer before I vote. I guess what his brother does should not have that much effect, but I would still like to know."

One citizen remarked: "I'm not voting for Robert Calvert (for the office of State Comptroller) because he's 82 years old. I think it's time he stepped down and let a younger man do the job. Calvert has done a good job but he's getting to the age where he needs to retire."

TWO IN TIE Calvert and his opponent, Jim Wilson, each rallied 41 votes in the straw vote conducted by The Herald. Some who participated saw fit to ignore that race.

"Sissy Farenthold is doing better than I thought," one person who was petitioned observed, "but I'm not sure I want a woman for governor. I'd like to know what she intends to do on some issues like taxes."

Of the lady from Corpus Christi, another said: "I'm afraid if we vote

Sissy, she'll bring in a state income tax, and I can't pay the federal tax now."

A woman voter said she would definitely back Mrs. Farenthold, however, explaining:

"It's time we had a woman governor. We certainly couldn't make any worse mess of things than the men have."

A man who apparently intends to negate the woman's vote offered these remarks in the way of a rebuttal, however:

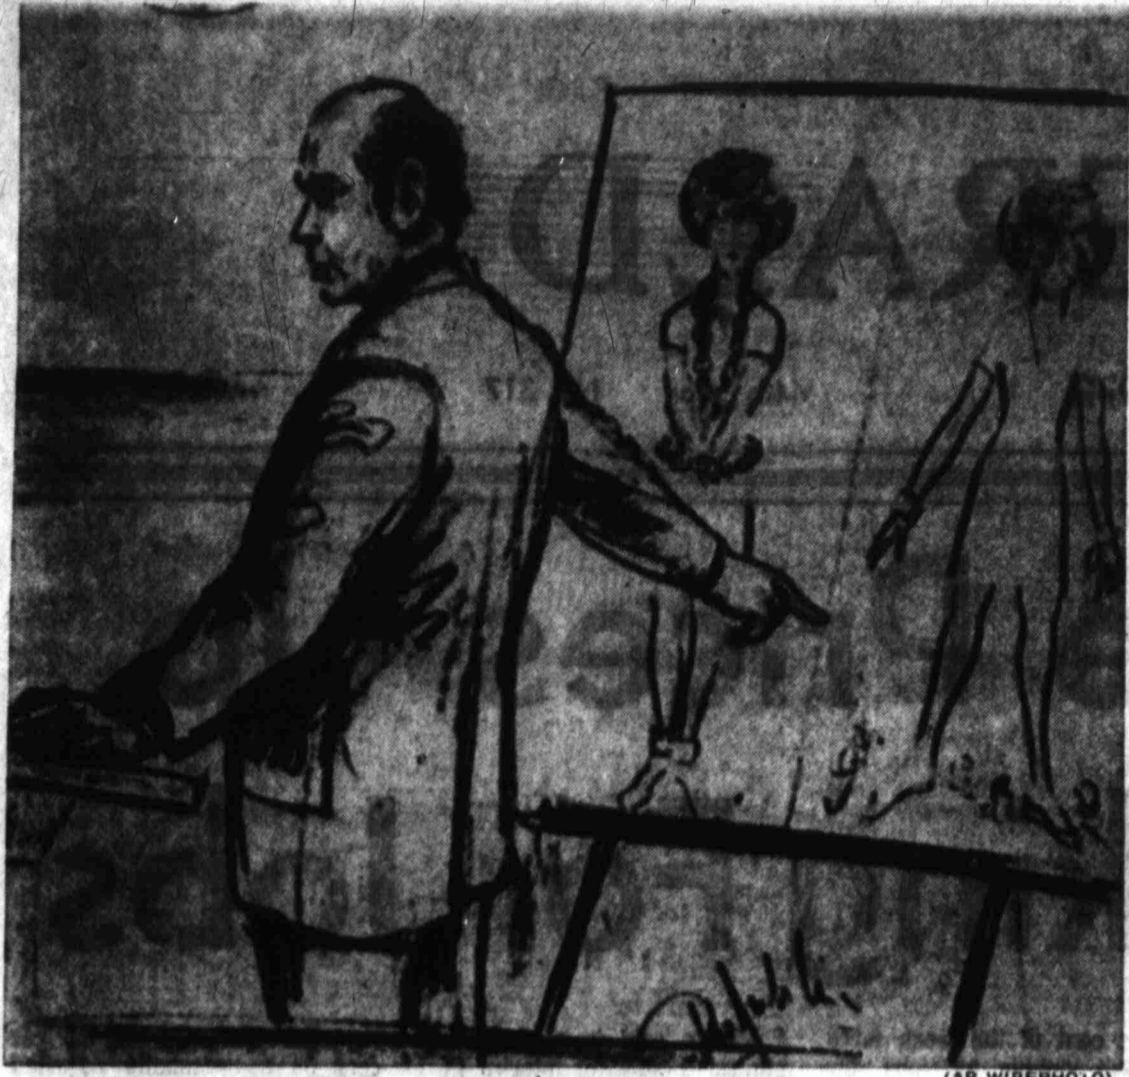

"I think Dolph Briscoe will carry the state 3-1. Sissy Farenthold will get the what-you-call-it, 'women's lib' vote, and a lot of long-hairs are for her, too."

"I've always voted for Ralph Yarborough, and I guess I will again," stated one man while discussing the race for U.S. Senator.

"I had no idea that Yarborough was nearly 70 years of age," chimed in another.

FOR THE DEFENSE — In his final arguments Thursday Leo A. Branton, one of Angela Davis' defense attorneys, showed the jurors a huge drawing of the alleged chain of circumstantial evidence which he said the prosecution seeks to link his client with the Marin County courthouse disturbance in which four persons were killed, one a judge. Miss Davis has been charged with murder-conspiracy-kidnaping in connection with the case.

Attorney Urges White Jury To 'Be Black, Think Black'

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — showing Miss Davis with chains, lying broken at her feet and de-labeled by the defense as "a gigantic hoax" and "a sorry stain in the history of justice in this country," goes to the jury today.

Her attorney urged the all-white jury to "be black, think black."

Superior Court Judge Richard E. Arnason will deliver final instructions before the jury of seven women and five men begins deliberations.

'IDIOTIC FOOL'

In an emotion-packed final argument Thursday, defense attorney Leo A. Branton said only an "idiotic fool" could believe that a brilliant college teacher such as Angela Davis helped plan a disorganized courthouse escape attempt that ended in the deaths of four persons.

Miss Davis is charged with murder, kidnap and conspiracy and faces a life sentence if convicted.

At one point, Branton stood by a large easel, ripped off a large paper and revealed an almost life-sized drawing of Miss Davis — Afro hairdo, large glasses and miniskirt — with heavy chains on her hands and legs. "If the prosecution had its way, that's how Miss Davis would end up," he said.

Minutes later, Branton switched the drawing to one

Law Allowing Wiretapping Declared Unconstitutional

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A court spokesman said there would be no comment on the ruling until the Criminal Division obtained a copy and studied it.

Judge Lord said the law was "unconstitutional on its face" because it violated the 4th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, which guarantees citizens privacy against unwarranted searches and intrusions.

"The privacy of every citizen is in jeopardy if we become a nation which sanctions the indiscriminate use of secret electronic searches by the government," the judge said.

A wiretap had been placed on the phone of Matthew F. Whitaker, 58, of Pottsville, who police described as the gambling czar of Schuylkill County in eastern Pennsylvania.

He and the others were arrested in a series of FBI raids in June 1970, and charged with operating a $10 million professional sports and horse racing betting ring.

The tap was authorized under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 by the late U.S. District Court Judge John W. Lord Jr.

Judge John Lord and Judge Joseph Lord were not related.

The wiretap law has not been tested by the U.S. Supreme Court. But the high court has ruled in several earlier cases that wiretaps are constitutional if authorized by a warrant.

The law requires that the U.S. attorney general first determine that a wiretap is needed in a case and personally authorize agents to request a warrant from a judge. Judge Lord's found three aspects of the 1968 law faulty. He said:

- It allows continuous searches for too long.
- It gives too much discretion to investigators.
- It does not require that the subjects of secret surveillance be notified promptly when the surveillance is completed.

Two WCEC Courses Are Dropped, One Added

Two courses proposed for the Webb Community Education Center did not materialize for the first term, but one has been added.

Verl Green, director of education services at Webb, said that the proposed graduate course on curriculum in the secondary school and the principles of management had been dropped from the first term due to lack of enrollment.

One on vocational guidance, however, has been added on an under-graduate level. There is still time to sign for this course (Ed. 5313), as well as for Ed. 5307 (graduate orientation) and BA 4303 (investments, graduate level).

The courses are open to anyone with academic qualifications for college or for graduate work, said Green, who again emphasized that the civilian community is urged to take part.

These count as resident courses with Sul Ross University, although the class sessions are held here. Additional information may be had by telephoning the AFB Education Center at Webb (7-2511, ext. 2464 or 2404). Classes start Monday and Tuesday.

Gardner Departs Post With School

COLRADO CITY — Gary Gardner, assistant superintendent of the Colorado Independent School District for two years, is resigning to become superintendent of schools in Wilson.

Gardner will leave June 30 for Wilson, taking over there July 1. He was principal of Wallace Elementary for a year before taking the post of assistant superintendent.

Live It Up On Credit

DALLAS (AP) — Richard William Payne and Rita Carpenter Green, named in federal grand jury indictments charging fraud, were freed on bonds of $22,500 Thursday after they had surrendered their passports to U.S. Magistrate Bailey Rankin.

The couple, who say they are really Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kenner of Dallas, are charged with using credit cards to spend $95,000 for travel and merchandise they did not intend to pay for.

During the couple's alleged spending spree, lasting 20 months, Asst. U.S. Atty. Andrew Barr said they travelled extensively in Europe, Mexico and throughout the United States, living in at least five different addresses and using many false names.

They are accused of defrauding Texas Bank & Trust Co. of Dallas, BankAmericard Center, Diners Club, American Express Co., Mobil Oil Corp., Gulf Oil Corp., Texaco Inc., Humble Oil & Refining Co., and Shell Oil Co.

Ex-Chicago Official New City Manager

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Loyd Hunt, a former Chicago official and later a management consultant in Los Angeles, officially succeeded Gerald Henckel as city manager today, one day after Henckel resigned.

Henckel presented his resignation to the city council Thursday in a surprise move to take a vice president's post with a local construction and development firm.

He offered to remain on the job until Sept. 1 but the council made Hunt's appointment effective at once.

Hunt, 49, joined the city last August as an associate city manager, hand-picked by Henckel.

He came here from Los Angeles, where he had served as a regional manager for the national consulting firm of Jacobs Co.

He handled job evaluation and pay studies for the City of Los Angeles and other areas, then became Jacobs' consultant to 10 cities on the Model Cities program.

He served as personnel director for the Chicago Civil Service Commission in the 1950s, later worked abroad for the Agency for International Development, and returned to Chicago in 1965.

He then served as deputy executive director of the Chicago Committee on Urban Opportunity for the Office of Economic Opportunity.

IRS Promotes Roydell Rosfeld

DALLAS (AP) — Roydell S. Rosfeld has been named assistant regional commissioner for appeals for the Internal Revenue Service Southwest Region. Rosfeld was named to fill the post left vacant by Clifton Witt.

The assistant regional commissioner for appeals is responsible for managing the appellate function of the Southwest region, including five appellate branch offices that service the eight districts in the region.

Purpose of the appellate function is to assist taxpayers in resolving tax controversies where the taxpayer disagrees with the findings of the district director or is requesting the Texas Court to review his tax situation.

Rosfeld started with Internal Revenue in 1950 as a deputy collector and revenue agent in Erie, Pa. He has been chief of the Dallas appellate branch since April 5, 1970.

Ex-West Texan Is Promoted

Leigh H. Cox, Jr., Houston, assistant operations manager of Humble Pipe Line Company, has been named operations manager for the company effective June 1. He succeeds D. C. Lamm, who retired June 1.

Cox received both BS and MS degrees in mechanical engineering from Rice University. In 1964 he completed the executive program in Business Administration at Columbia University.

Cox first worked for the company in 1942 while still a student at Rice, and upon graduation he joined Humble as a mechanical engineer.

During the '50's, he served in numerous engineering assignments at company facilities in West Texas, and in 1958 was named chief engineer at Midland. He has filled various operating and managerial positions in Houston, Baton Rouge, La., and Corpus Christi.

In early 1970, Cox was transferred to Humble Oil & Refining Company as manager of operating program coordination in Humble's supply department. He returned to Humble Pipe Line Company as assistant operations manager in April, 1971.

Had North intended to settle for game, he would have merely proceeded to four hearts. The four diamond call is a cue bid, showing first round control of diamonds, implying a heart fit and therefore, designating an interest in getting to a slam.

The remaining calls were natural, South showed the ace of clubs, North the king of diamonds, and South the queen. North had now shot his bolt and when he merely returned to six hearts, the auction subsided. The defense had to content themselves with the ace of trumps as their only trick on the deal.

Blast Kills Two British Soldiers

BELFAST (AP) — A road mine at the border of the Irish Republic killed two British soldiers today and wounded two others as Roman Catholic women seeking peace in Northern Ireland claimed growing thousands of followers.

A British army spokesman said it appeared that the mine had been detonated from inside the republic. He said a second mine was found in the same vicinity, with wires stretching 2,000 yards into the republic, but it was defused.

The soldiers were on a foot patrol inspecting the border area near Rosslea, in County Fermanagh.

The death of the soldiers brought the toll to 354 in three years of communal violence in Northern Ireland.

An eight-woman group in the Andersontown district of Belfast, one of the toughest Roman Catholic areas in the city, claimed they had 40,000 signatures on a petition demanding that the Irish Republican Army's militant Provisional wing put down its guns.

They said they will have 40,000 more signatures in a few weeks.

Another peace group operating in the IRA stronghold of "Free Derry," in Londonderry, claimed its week-old petition calling for a cease-fire had 4,000 signatures with hundreds more coming.

The claims reflected growing Catholic disenchantment with the IRA Provisionals, who have pledged to continue their bloody campaign to drive the British out of the province despite a four-day-old cease-fire by their Marxist rivals, the Official wing of the underground army.

One of the leaders of the two-week-old Belfast peace campaign, Mrs. Mary Spackman, a 38-year-old mother of six, said: "If the Provisionals are the army of the people, they are going to have to listen to the people. If they have a political case to put to the people, let them do it and put their guns away."

The British army reported one of the quietest nights in weeks with only minor shooting incidents and clashes between troops and bands of youngsters. No casualties were reported.

Across the border in the Irish Republic, a fire bomb set off a blaze in the American Express office in downtown Dublin, and police speculated that it was planted by Protestant extremists from Northern Ireland.

The fire did little damage. The IRA suffered another blow. British police said they had uncovered an aerial arms smuggling pipeline from San Francisco to Ireland when a case of guns broke open Tuesday at London Airport while being unloaded from an El Al jet.

Two trunks full of arms and ammunition were then discovered at Shannon Airport, police said.

Police repacked the cargoes, hoping to trap the intended recipient but no one called for them at Shannon.

Thousands of angry militants of the Protestant Ulster Vanguard Movement plan to march on "Free Derry" Saturday to protest the British army's refusal to attack the Catholic stronghold. British authorities have banned the march, hoping to prevent a clash between Protestants and Catholics.

Tamcot 788 Is Top Yields

LUBBOCK — Although 1971 was a poor cotton year, variety tests by Texas A&M University throughout the South Plains showed that Tamcot 788 was the top yields.

The variety was developed by Dr. Levon Ray at the A&M Research and Extension Center at Lubbock. It outdid 24 other commercial varieties this past year in Hale and D'Wson counties, although it fell behind in micronaire. Tests near Lubbock also included several experimental varieties to evaluate their adaptability to the High Plains.

The Dawson County testing was in cooperation with County Agricultural Agent Lee Roy Colgan and was conducted on the Dewey Drennen farm west of Welch. Ray says that wind and sand damaged the crop, particularly in certain areas of the field. The researchers selected plots with fairly good stands for harvesting. Tamcot 788 again produced the highest yield with 972 pounds of lint per acre.

NOT HAPPY ABOUT MEETING THE SENATOR — Sen. George McGovern tries to comfort a crying baby as he campaigns at a park in Long Beach, Calif., Thursday. After watching President Nixon's speech Thursday night, McGovern called Nixon's "omission of any except a passing reference to Vietnam the most painful weakness" of his address.

"Five other varieties in this sprinkler-irrigated test yielded more than 800 pounds of lint per acre," the plant breeder says. They included Lockett BXL, Stripper 31, Coker 5110, Paymaster 11A and Coker 201.

Lankart 3840, Paymaster 909, Stripper 31, Coker 5110 and Lankart LX 571 all had a micronaire of at least 3.5.

"Of the four highest-yielding varieties, only Stripper 31 had a staple length less than one inch," Ray adds.

Church Worker Is Changing Posts

Mrs. Ethel Aldredge will be leaving Big Spring Wednesday to assume the position of director of program ministries of Polytechnic United Methodist Church on the campus of Texas Wesleyan College, Fort Worth.

For the past five-and-one-half years, Mrs. Aldredge has served First United Methodist Church here as director of Christian Education. She has been in church work for 13 years.

Mrs. Aldredge served First United Methodist Church, Midland; St. Luke's Methodist Church, Midland; and Forrest Heights United Methodist Church, Lubbock, before coming to Big Spring.

McGovern Rated Leader, HHH Calls It 'Baloney'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — George McGovern is rated the runaway leader in a poll of California Democrats ready to vote in the state's pivotal presidential primary Tuesday. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey called the survey baloney.

The California poll by opinion analyst Mervin D. Field, gave McGovern a 20 per cent lead in advance of the primary, an election which the South Dakota senator says is likely to determine who wins the Democratic nomination for the White House.

Humphrey called the poll figures "nonsense, baloney..."

"A 20-point lead at this time for a candidate is not possible," he said in Bakersfield.

McGovern himself said he had not "felt the margin was that much."

Even before the figures were published today, the McGovern organization had made an effort to play down his rating to avoid the risk involved in casting him as a landslide favorite.

The poll rated McGovern at 46 per cent of the vote, Humphrey at 26 and Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, who is not on the ballot, third with 8 per cent. A write-in campaign is under way for Wallace, wounded and partially paralyzed in an assassination attempt May 15.

WINNER-TAKE-ALL. Thirteen per cent of the vote was listed as undecided with six other entries. The 271-vote California nominating delegation will go to the statewide primary leader on a winner-take-all basis.

A new poll conducted by McGovern's own organization also rated him far ahead, 44 per cent to Humphrey's 28.

McGovern and Humphrey both were campaigning in the San Francisco area today. They meet head-on again Sunday in a third joint appearance on national television.

Humphrey said he would have "a few things to unload" during that session. He wouldn't say what.

The Minnesota senator said he still expects to win on Tuesday.

NO DEALS? But McGovern said in a television interview he expects to capture the Democratic presidential nomination on the first vote at the national convention in July.

Wallace's wife, Cornelia, plugged in Los Angeles for write-in votes for her wounded husband.

"I don't think you ought to minimize Gov. Wallace because he'll have strength at the convention," Humphrey said.

"He'll have something to say about who gets the nomination."

McGovern, meanwhile, said that he does not intend to make any deals with such politicians as Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago or Wallace.

IF POPULAR VOTES WERE DELEGATES Wallace Leading Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — If popular votes were delegates, George C. Wallace would be leading the race for the Democratic presidential nomination.

In 16 primaries with some kind of presidential preference voting Wallace has accumulated 3,407,453 votes, compared with 2,372,755 for George McGovern.

But McGovern has 497½ convention delegates lined up and predicts he will have 1,300 by the time the Democratic National Convention opens in Miami Beach July 10. Wallace has 323 delegates—about the number he is expected to take to the convention.

POPULAR TURNOUT McGovern, more than one million votes behind Wallace, isn't even in second place in popular votes. He trails Hubert H. Humphrey's 2,654,906, although Humphrey is in third place with 295½ delegates.

Wallace has entered 13 primaries and won five of them. Humphrey has won four of 13, coming in second four times. McGovern has won five of 12 and finished second three times.

Wallace's campaign has been aimed at the popular turnout without any thought to the attendant delegate selection. Where primary success translated automatically into delegates, he won them.

For example, Wallace finished a strong second in Wisconsin but didn't get a single delegate. In Pennsylvania he was second in the popular vote but elected only two delegates.

In West Virginia Wallace lost a two-man race to Humphrey but got 33 per cent of the vote. Still he didn't get one delegate.

McGovern, meanwhile, was taking delegates in states he lost.

IGNORED IT McGovern got seven and Edmund Muskie three delegates in West Virginia although they weren't on the preferential ballot. They worked in the separate delegate election while Wallace ignored it.

Another reason for Wallace's wealth of votes and relative dearth of delegates is that where he won, he usually won big and sometimes without substantial opposition.

Neither McGovern nor Humphrey was on the North Carolina ballot when Wallace got more than 400,000 votes.

The picture will be changed after next Tuesday when four primaries including California's will be held on the same day. No matter who wins, McGovern and Humphrey probably will pass Wallace in total popular votes.

Of the remaining five primaries, Wallace's name is on the ballot only in New Mexico. This means Wallace is probably through winning convention delegates, but there are 693 delegates in the remaining primaries which the other candidates will divide.

Finally, a lot of delegates have been won by the others in nonprimary states through caucuses and conventions. Wallace won three in Louisiana.

Goal Exceeded In Bond Sale

Sale of United States Savings Bonds through April has slightly exceeded the goal for the first four months of the year, Larson Lloyd, District 4 chairman, said Friday.

The district sales for April stood at $126,147, making $520,359 for the year, or 35 per cent of the annual target.

Area I sales amounted to $1,111,969, making $4,845,844 for the year, or 36 per cent of the goal for the year.

By counties, the district April figures with cumulative totals in parenthesis and percentage were:

Andrews $3,750 (22,324) 37%; Borden $575 (2,198) 11%; Dawson $13,574 (46,758) 47%; Fisher $2,406 (28,376) 57%; Gaines $8,373 ($24,160) 49%; Howard $55,997 ($21,613) 37%; Martin $1,137 ($17,928) 60%; Mitchell $5,906 ($26,411) 18%; Nolan $25,274 ($69,906) 26%; and Scurry $9,155 ($50,675) 34.

Pack 179 Ends Activity With Picnic At Park

An annual picnic climaxed the year's activities for Cub Scout Pack 179 last week at Comanche Trail Park. The pack, sponsored by Kentwood United Methodist Church, will resume operation next fall.

Cub Scouts were presented Frisbees, and competed in throwing contests and field games.

Highlight of the awards ceremony was the graduation of seven Webelos boys into the ranks of Boy Scouting. The Webelos "Arrow of Light" award, highest in Cub Scouting and which satisfies requirements for the Scout Tenderfoot, was presented to: Jim Wilmes, Philip Speck, Gary Shanks, Billy Jim Davey, Barry Rosson, Jesse Curry, and Scott McGuire.

Cubmaster C. G. Evans was assisted in graduation ceremonies by Troop 1 Scoutmaster Lee Mulkey and Troop 179 Scoutmaster Larry Speck.

All graduating Webelos also received 3-year service stars. Cub Scouts receiving awards were: John Kenemer, Niel Read, Bobcat; Dick Ellis, Dave Ellis, Scott Lachmiller, Russell Hodnett, Wolf; and Garry Tibbs, Bear.

Arrow points went to Scott Lachmiller, Russell Hodnett (3) and Garry Tibbs, (2).

Denners named were Tracy Reaves, David Towery, Lewlie Willard, Alan Wheeler, Scott Lachmiller, and Ken Schaedel. Assistant denners: Robbie Bodin; Tracy Reaves, Alan Wheeler, Russell Hodnett, Niel Read, and Ted Bartley.

Adult leaders received special recognition for their services. These included C. G. Evans, Cubmaster for two years and den leader two years; Larson Lloyd, treasurer for two years; Larry Speck, awards chairman for five years and two years Webelos leader; Travis Floyd, committee chairman; den leaders Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reaves, Mrs. Andrea Willard, Mrs. Rhonda Thompkins, Mrs. Arrenia Ellis, Mrs. Raymond Lachmiller, and Mrs. Rueleen Freeze.

Should a man who signed the Sharpstown Bank bills be number two man in Texas?

Do you believe a man like Wayne Connally should be rewarded with a bigger job?

- He signed, approved and urged the passage of the Sharpstown Bank bills.
- He voted for a tax on medicine and food.
- He voted against an ethics bill.
- He has said he sees nothing wrong with an 11% sales tax.
- He is backed and controlled by Austin lobbyists.

He is part of the problem, involved with the same power peddlers who are now in their last ditch fight. After 8 years in state government, if Wayne Connally had any answers wouldn't we have heard them by now?

Only Bill Hobby is free to end the era of disgrace and dishonesty in Austin. As a businessman and problem solver he can give us the best management of our tax dollars that Texas has ever had. His is a voice of reason, of good judgment and logic. We don't need more taxes. More corruption in Austin. We need Bill Hobby.

Only Bill Hobby will make a good Lt. Governor. Honestly.

Let's finish the job June 3 and get good people in government for a change.

Paid for by committee to elect Bill Hobby, Steven Osk, Chairman.

BALLET TO BELLYDANCING — Shapely Anne Lippe balances sword while swirling hips during bellydance demonstration in Tampa, Fla. The 28-year-old former debutante bought a cheap pair of cymbals on a juant to the Mediterranean then traded ballet for bumps and grinds to learn how to use them.

'I Have Found My Niche,' She Says

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Anne Lippe, a leggy blonde from Tampa's social register, once danced as a debutante. Now she's a bellydancer who says, "I have found my niche."

Wrapped in billowing chiffon, the 28-year-old Anne gyrates under the bright lights of a nightclub at Tarpon Springs, a Greek sponge fishing village near here on Gulf Coast.

She weaves and undulates to the tinkling of her finger cymbals, coin-spangled bra, and the wail of a Greek pipe instrument.

"It was the challenge," said the curvaceous blue-eyed former high school teacher when asked what led her into bellydancing.

A debutante at the annual Tampa Bay area festival in 1966, Anne later was graduated from Lake Erie College, a private girls school, and took a teaching certificate from UCLA. She taught high school for a year in San Francisco, and also worked as a management consultant for a telephone company.

All that fell by the wayside after a trip to the Mediterranean where she became exposed to the ancient art of bellydancing.

"I suppose it satisfies some subconscious or unconscious image I have of myself," she explained, adding that she had studied acting but never quite made it.

Probers Dig Deep With Aim Of Weeding Out Corruption

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Investigators and grand juries are probing deep into the state legislature to weed out corruption on the part of elected officials with the resulting scandal upsetting the balance of Texas political power.

Seven legislators or former legislators have either been convicted or indicted in connection with misuse of public funds, conspiracy to accept bribes, or violation of state nepotism laws. More indictments are promised.

—Former State Rep. Hudson Moyer of Amarillo was indicted on charges of using $5,040 worth of postage stamps as partial repayment of a $6,000 bank loan.

—Former State Sen. David Ratliff of Stamford and State Rep. John Allen of Longview were indicted last week on charges they conspired to hire each other's children. The children allegedly held other full-time jobs or were fulltime students while on the state payroll.

—Ratliff also is charged with cashing two state paychecks made out to the wife of an Abilene car dealer. The wife was on Ratliff's payroll but allegedly did no work.

—The district attorney in Austin says more past and present legislators are under investigation.

—House Speaker Gus Mutscher, his aide Rush McGinty and State Rep. Tommy Shannon all were convicted of conspiracy to accept bribes from a Houston businessman.

—Former State Rep. Walter Knapp was sentenced last week to four years in prison on conviction of using $1,200 worth of the state's postage stamps to buy a pickup truck.

—State Rep. Tom Holmes of Granbury was indicted last week on charges of diverting $1,995 worth of postage stamps to buy another pickup truck.

Hundreds Due To Visit Complex At Falls City

FALLS CITY — Hundreds of visitors, company officers, government officials, newsmen and technical writers, suppliers, employees' families and area residents are expected to tour the Conquista Project near Falls City this weekend.

The Conquista Project is a uranium mining and milling complex owned jointly by Pioneer Nuclear, Inc., a subsidiary of Pioneer Natural Gas Company, and Continental Oil Company.

Uranium ore processing began early in February at Conquista, and this weekend has been designated as the official grand opening for the project. An open house for employees, their families and the general public has been scheduled for Saturday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the mill, located some seven miles west of Falls City on Highway 701.

Pioneer and Conoco began exploration for uranium in south Texas in 1967 and by 1970 had discovered several deposits in the Falls City area, which is located about 50 miles southeast of San Antonio. Construction of the processing facilities on a 300-acre site began in early 1971 and mining was started later that year. Actual processing of the ore to produce concentrated uranium oxide, called yellowcake, started in February of this year. Both Pioneer and Conoco will market their shares of uranium concentrate independently. At this time more than two-thirds of the total plant output has been sold by the companies. The yellowcake must be enriched and treated before it can be manufactured into fuel elements for nuclear power plants to generate electricity.

Bond Denied State Man In Wheelchairs Murder

HOUSTON (AP) — A district court judge has denied bond for George Parker Geistwhite, charged with murder and assault to murder for allegedly pushing two young boys in wheelchairs off a boat dock.

Geistwhite, 36, is accused of pushing Tracy Squier, 11, and brother, James Squier, 9, into Clear Lake at nearby Seabrook May 19.

Tracy, still strapped to the wheelchair, drowned. James was rescued by his father. Both boys were muscular dystrophy victims.

At the Thursday hearing before Judge Miron A. Love, Geistwhite testified he had been drinking and did not remember the incident.

He told his lawyers, Bob Tarant and Phil Greene, that since his arrest had found "it hard to separate what I have heard from what happened."

"You can't say you didn't do it, can you?" asked state prosecutor Rick Stover.

"I don't have any knowledge of what happened," Geistwhite replied.

James L. Squier, the boys' father, testified he had locked the wheels of the wheelchairs while his sons fished.

He said he heard a scream, looked around and saw Geistwhite raising up from a bent over position.

He said when he tried to rescue his sons Geistwhite tried to hold him. He said he removed the man's hold and jumped into the water.

Geistwhite's lawyers argued that no evidence was offered at the hearing to prove Geistwhite actually pushed the boys into the water.

American Party Suing Bullöck

MIDLAND — The American Party has filed suit against Bob Bullöck, secretary of state in Texas, based on the American Party's not being allowed to have a primary election.

The suit was filed at 4:55 p.m. Wednesday with the clerk of the federal court in Midland.

The party is claiming that the First, Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments to the U.S. Constitution are being violated by denial of the party to hold a primary election.

CASPER SECOND Cesar Sanudo Leads Kempfer

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Cesar Sanudo was recounting a fairway conversation that occurred while he was forging a seven-under-par 65 for the first-round lead in the $175,000 Kemper Open Golf Tournament.

"And I was playing just in front of Lee. He saw me making all those putts and all those birdies and he yelled at me, 'don't forget—I get 30 per cent.' 'So I yelled back at him, 'Okay, if I can have 30 per cent of yours for the year.'"

Eagles Face Monterey

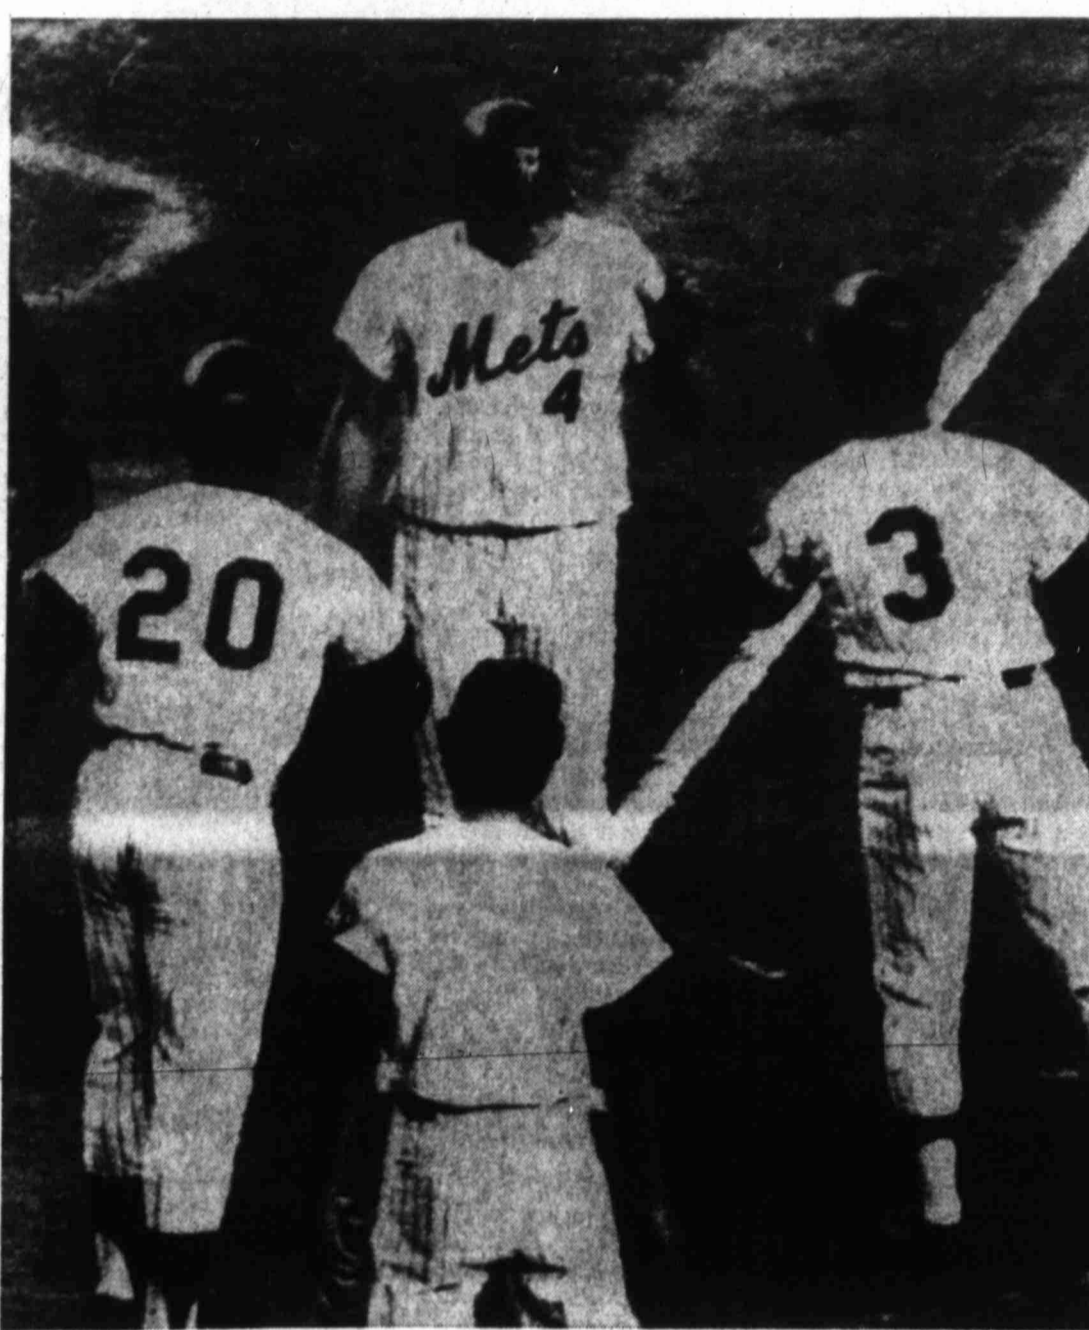

LUBBOCK — The Abilene Eagles will play Lubbock Monterey at 6 p.m. today at Lowrey Field to determine which team will go to the State Tournament next Thursday and Friday in Austin.

It wouldn't be a bad deal for the 28-year-old Sanudo, a Mexican-born American citizen now in his fourth year on the pro tour. He's won but $5,755 this season opposed to Trevino's $98,447 and last year pocketed only $18,031 while Trevino took home $231,202. He's never challenged seriously in a major event.

Both teams started fast, scoring five runs in the first three innings. Monterey, however, tallied one run in the bottom of the fifth and struck for three in the bottom of the sixth before having to withstand a furious Eagle desperation rally.

The veteran Casper, who tied for first only to lose in a playoff in his last American start a month ago, had a pair of eagle threes en route to a 66, just one stroke back.

Arnold Palmer, Sam Snead and George Archer were in a group of more than a dozen at 70—a distant five strokes off the pace—and South African Gary Player and defending titleholder Tom Weiskopf had 72.

CONGRATULATIONS — Rusty Staub (4) of the New York Mets gets congratulations after hitting a three-run homer in the first inning against the Philadelphia Phillies at Shea Stadium in New York Thursday night. Mets' Bud Harrelson (3), who scored on the home run with Jim Fregosi, and Tommy Agee (20) give handshakes. Bat boy is in the foreground. Mets won, 6-1.

REDS SWEEP SERIES Cincinnati Moves To Tie With Astros

By The Associated Press Break up the Cincinnati Reds ... and wake up the Houston Astros.

The revitalized "Big Red Machine" continued to roll Thursday night, mashing faltering Houston 10-3 and moving into a second place tie with the Astros in the National League West.

ter and rookie Gary Maddox delivered a two-run single in a three-run fourth inning to pace San Francisco's victory. Singles by Tito Fuentes and Ed Goodson started the rally off Bill Singer.

Hal McRae's grand slam home run featured an 11-hit attack that also included homers by Johnny Bench and Tony Perez in the spacious park not especially known as a hitter's paradise. The production gave the Reds a total of 39 runs in the four games.

American League results: Kansas City 5, Minnesota 3; Milwaukee 9 New York 8 in 12 innings; Cleveland 1, Detroit 0 and Boston 7, Baltimore 1.

The loss was the 15th in the last 16 games for Philadelphia and plunged the Phillies deeper in the Elmer Bessmerer.

AT 13 SITES Qualifying Rounds Set

By The Associated Press Sectional qualifying Monday and Tuesday at 13 sites will complete the 150-man field for the U.S. Open Golf Championship at Pebble Beach, Calif., June 15-18.

lotte will be former PGA champions Sam Snead, Lionel Hebert and Dave Marr plus such leading tour competitors as Bruce Devlin, Dave Hill, Jim Jamieson, Doug Sanders, Bob Murphy, Charley Sifford, Gibby Gilbert, Phil Rodgers, Steve Melnyk, Ken Still, Bob Lunn, Hubert Green, Lou Graham, Mason Rudolph and Fred Marti.

ASTROS DROP 6th STRAIGHT Hal's Grandslam Stuns Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Hal McRae's first career grand slam home run gave him a numb feeling, so you can imagine how it made the Houston Astros feel.

Johnny Bench hit his fourth homer in three games and Tony Perez clubbed a two-run shot in the ninth to cap five homers in the game.

Cedeno charged the mound after a close ball-four pitch by Borbon, claiming the pitcher tried to hit him. Teammates got between the two players before they reached each other.

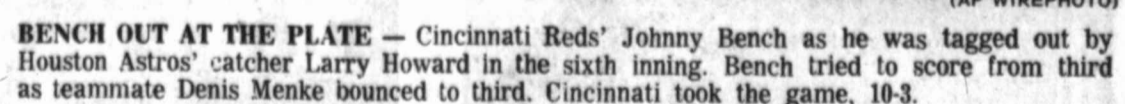

mates got between them before any action could take place. "Why would I try to hit him with a 10-3 lead," Borbon fumed. "He is just a big dog. He is stupid too. He told me a bad word in Spanish (both are from the Dominican Republic)."

It was the second grand slam home run in as many nights for the Cincinnati Reds and sent the mwinging to a 10-3 victory over the slumping Astros Thursday night.

While McRae provided the dramatics, Cedeno and Cincinnati reliever Pedro Borbon provided the theatrics in the ninth inning.

It also wrapped up a four-game sweep for the streaking Reds. During the series they scored 39 runs and got 44 hits to 11 and 29 for the Astros, who were in first place when the whole thing started.

McRae's clout was even more dramatic because he was coming up as a pinch hitter who had gone hitless in nine previous pinch-hit attempts.

BENCH OUT AT THE PLATE — Cincinnati Reds' Johnny Bench as he was tagged out by Houston Astros' catcher Larry Howard in the sixth inning. Bench tried to score from third as teammate Denis Menke bounced to third. Cincinnati took the game, 10-3.

LPGA Slaps Suspension On Blalock

ATLANTA (AP) —Jane Blalock, one of the most promising young players on the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour, countered a one-year suspension Thursday by filing a $5 million lawsuit against the organization.

Birdwatcher Siebert Takes Red Sox Past Baltimore

By The Associated Press Sonny Siebert isn't much on bird-watching, but nothing lifts his spirits like the sight of the Baltimore Orioles.

The 35-year-old right-hander of the Boston Red Sox winged the Orioles 7-1 Thursday for his 16th victory in 20 career decisions against the team that has won the last three American League pennants.

homer in the eighth inning off Dave LaRoche lifted the Royals over the Twins and enabled them to snap a five-game losing streak.

Siebert took a so-so 3-2 record and bloated 4.47 earned run average into the game but throttled the Birds on seven hits and one unearned run and reduced his ERA to 3.82.

The other qualifying sites, with total players and number of qualifying spots: Monday—Denver 34-3; Chicago 79-7; Cincinnati 45-4; Portland 31-3 and Dallas 81-8. Tuesday—Atlanta 56-6; Birmingham 35-3; St. Louis 51-5; Greenwich, Conn., 102-10; Pittsburgh 47-4.

Eric Soderholm homered as Minnesota took an early 3-0 lead but the Royals caught up in the sixth when Steve Hovley singled and Lou Piniella and Ed Kirkpatrick hit successive home runs.

Vernon Takes Win

Charles Vernon hurried a three-hitter Thursday night to lead the Hawks to a 7-2 win over the Cabots in American Major League action.

Vernon surrendered runs in the first and fifth innings en route to his win. The Hawks scored four runs in the third and added three more in the fourth to defeat the Cabots.

The losing pitcher was Tony Pickett. The Hawks' winning pitcher was Vernon. Losing pitcher: Pickett.

Sammy Ortega slammed a three-run home run in the bottom of the sixth inning to carry the Red Sox to an 11-10 win over the Cubs in a Texas Little League game Thursday night.

Ortega's blast enabled the Red Sox to hand the Cubs their first loss of the season against 11 wins. The Red Sox are now 8-4.

Johnson had four hits for the Red Sox. Teammates Duron and Ortega had three hits apiece.

Scott and Valencia had three hits for the Cubs.

Scott Barnes had a home run and a triple to lead the FBDS to a 9-3 win over Peach Texaco Thursday night. Barnes had two hits in four attempts in the contest.

Tommy Rodriguez also had two hits for FBDS.

RUIDOSO DOWNS FEATURE

Kinnibux Race Favorite

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N. M. — Kinnibux, a six-year-old mare owned by Thomas Riley of Burnett, Tex., made her last appearance a week ago when she got away as the second-favorite behind Stubby's Kid in a six-furlong headliner.

The mare charged into her customary early lead, but was unable to fight off Stubby's Kid after the turn for home and had to settle for second place. She hauled 112 pounds in that one.

The outing was her first of the year. In 71, Kinnibux compiled a good mark of 3-2-2 out of nine starts, earning just over five grand.

Her chief competition in Saturday's well-balanced topper figures to come from Olympia Bret, the property of Robert Rule of Friona, Tex. Willie Lovell, currently engaged in a dogfight with Villescias over the top slot in seasonal standings, will be at the controls.

In his last start, Olympia Bret carried a $4,500 claiming tag in a six-furlong spring and stunned the competition with a five-length victory. The gelding has been busy so far this year, building a record of 3-1-1 in 10 starts. He'll be in with 122-pound impost in Saturday's feature.

Two other key contenders in the nine-head field are Pegged Rate, owned by Michael Drinkhouse of New York, and Whirling Memories, who runs out of the powerful stable of Grady Hopper of Dallas.

Pegged Rate will be making his debut in the high country. Earlier last year, he campaigned at major tracks on the East Coast, then shipped out to Sunland Park, where he turned in a strong second to Rio Reminiscence in a mile route.

Whirling Memories, also slated to haul a 122-pound impost, ended up fourth behind Stubby's Kid and Kinnibux last time out. The gelding is no stranger to the winner's circle. He's won half of his 72 outings.

Larry Byers, the defending Ruidoso jockey king has the ride.

The excellent field will be rounded out by Sharp Market, slated to pack Jim Bannowsky in 117-pound load; King's Kid (Jerry Burgess), 117; Holy Stone (Leroy Coombs), 122; Indian (Frank Henning), 117; and Small Money (no boy), 119.

Sharp Market, who finished third to Stubby's Kid last time, appears to have the makings of a strong dark horse.

Ruidoso Downs is off to a flying start — and track officials put the credit squarely on the new facilities which have been luring fans to the mountain turf resort.

After the first six days of the meeting, the handle shows a solid gain of 17.5 per cent over the first six days of the '71 campaign.

"There's no question that the new and modernized facilities have played a significant part in the increase in business," said Art Johnson, president of Ruidoso Downs.

Prior to the current meeting, management invested some $670,000 in a large-scale expansion project.

The first six racing days produced a wagering total of $1,381,239 which boils down to a daily average of $230,207. Last year, the first six days yielded a total of $1,174,850 and a daily average of $206,389.

Three jockeys at Ruidoso Downs were handed three-day riding suspensions by the Board of Stewards this week.

Each of the suspensions extends through Sunday (June 4).

TL Alexandria Aces Have Number Of Parent Padres

The Alexandria Aces may be in third place in the Texas League East but they've got the number of their National League parent San Diego Padres.

The Padres, limping along next to last in the NL West, dropped by their farm club for an exhibition breather Thursday but the Aces were serious.

Miss Softball Sets Slate

The Big Spring Miss Softball League kicks off its season Monday night with games at four parks. The League is comprised of four major divisions and 15 minor divisions.

Monday at Airport Park, minor division teams, which are yet unnamed, will play two games. The minor division teams will play two games at City Park, Lakeview and Rannels Jr. High.

CASPER SECOND Cesar Sanudo Leads

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Cesar Sanudo was recounting a fairway conversation that occurred while he was forging a seven-under-par 65 for the first-round lead in the $175,000 Kemper Open Golf Tournament.

“And I was playing just in front of Lee. He saw me making all those putts and all those birdies and he yelled at me, don't forget—I get 30 per cent.”

Eagles Face Monterey

LUBBOCK — The Abilene Eagles will play Lubbock Monterey at 6 p.m. today at Lowrey Field to determine which team will go to the State Tournament next Thursday and Friday in Austin.

“So I yelled back at him, ‘Okay, if I can have 30 per cent of yours for the year.’”

Both teams started fast, scoring five runs in the first three innings. Monterey, however, tallied one run in the bottom of the fifth and struck for three in the bottom of the sixth before having to withstand a furious Eagle desperation rally.

It wouldn't be a bad deal for the 28-year-old Sanudo, a Mexican-born American citizen now in his fourth year on the pro tour. He's won but $5,755 this season opposed to Trevino's $98,447 and last year pocketed only $18,031 while Trevino took home $231,202.

David Tindall led off the seventh for Abilene with a single. The Plainsman shortstop then booted a double-play ground ball to put two men on with none out. After a forceout at third, Clint Thomas, the Abilene pitching sensation came on as a pinch hitter. He doubled to deep right center field, scoring one run.

More than 50 of the touring pros were able to match or better par 72 on the 7,278-yard Quail Hollow Country Club course, but only Billy Casper could stay close to blithe spirit Sanudo, a quick man with a quip and ever ready with a smile.

Both teams started fast, scoring five runs in the first three innings. Monterey, however, tallied one run in the bottom of the fifth and struck for three in the bottom of the sixth before having to withstand a furious Eagle desperation rally.

The veteran Casper, who tied for first only to lose in a play-off in his last American start a month ago, had a pair of eagle threes en route to a 66, just one stroke back.

REDS SWEEP SERIES Cincinnati Moves To Tie With Astros

Break up the Cincinnati Reds... and wake up the Houston Astros. The revitalized "Big Red Machine" continued to roll Thursday night, mashing faltering Houston 10-3 and moving into a second place tie with the Astros in the National League West.

The loss was the sixth straight for the Astros, and the sixth victory for the Reds in seven games. The outcome of Thursday night's contest left both clubs 1 1/2 games behind front-running Los Angeles after the Dodgers dropped a 5-2 decision to the San Francisco Giants.

injury that knocked him out of 12 games. The loss was the sixth straight for the Astros, and the sixth victory for the Reds in seven games.

Hal McRae's grand slam home run featured an 11-hit attack that also included homers by Johnny Bench and Tony Perez in the spacious park not especially known as a hitter's paradise.

Home runs by Cesar Cedeño and Doug Rader helped Jerry Reuss off to a 3-0 lead as the left-hander struck out seven over the first four innings.

Steve Stone pitched a five-hit game, while rookie Gary Maddox delivered a two-run single in a three-run fourth inning to pace San Francisco's victory.

AT 13 SITES Qualifying Rounds Set

Sectional qualifying Monday and Tuesday at 13 sites will complete the 150-man field for the U.S. Open Golf Championship at Pebble Beach, Calif., June 15-18.

With 35 players exempt from qualifying, 845 players will compete for the 115 remaining places. There were 4,252 original entries, already whittled down by local qualifying.

Birdwatcher Siebert Takes Red Sox Past Baltimore

Sonny Siebert isn't much on bird-watching, but nothing lifts his spirits like the sight of the Baltimore Orioles.

The Tigers nicked Perry for seven hits, two each in the first and fifth, but the tall right-hander worked out of each threat and ended the Indians' seven-game losing streak.

Eric Soderholm homered as Minnesota took an early 3-0 lead but the Royals caught up in the sixth when Steve Hovley singled and Lou Piniella and Ed Kirkpatrick hit successive home runs.

Former Open champion Jack Fleck and former PGA winner Al Geiberger are in the list of 115 seeking 11 places Monday at San Francisco.

Siebert took a so-so 3-2 record and bloated 4.47 earned run average into the game but throttled the Birds on seven hits and one unearned run and reduced his ERA to 3.82.

Richie Scheinblum tremendous 471-foot pinch two-run homer in the eighth inning off Dave LaRoche lifted the Royals over the Twins and enabled them to snap a five-game losing streak.

ASTROS DROP 6th STRAIGHT Hal's Grand Slam Stuns Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Hal McRae's first career grand slam home run gave him a numb feeling, so you can imagine how it made the Houston Astros feel.

Johnny Bench hit his fourth homer in three games and Tony Perez clubbed a two-run shot in the ninth to cap five homers in the game.

Cedeno charged the mound after a close ball-four pitch by Borbon, claiming the pitcher tried to hit him. Teammates got between the two players before they reached each other.

“Why would I try to hit him with a 10-3 lead,” Borbon fumed. “He is just a big hot dog. He is stupid too. He told me a bad word in Spanish (both are from the Dominican Republic).”

It was the second grand slam home run in as many nights for the Cincinnati Reds and sent the mwinging to a 10-3 victory over the slumping Astros Thursday night.

While McRae provided the dramatics, Cedeno and Cincinnati reliever Pedro Borbon provided the theatrics in the ninth inning.

“I wanted to get some hits but you've got to face reality,” McRae said. “I'm like all the rest, I need four at-bats like everybody else.”

McRae's clout was even more dramatic because he was coming up as a pinch hitter who had gone hitless in nine previous pinch-hit attempts.

McRae's hit brought the Astros back to reality once again. They had taken a 3-0 lead on solo homers by Cesar Cedeño and Doug Rader and Rader's run-scoring single.

Vernon Takes Win

Charles Vernon hurled a three-hitter Thursday night to lead the Hawks to a 7-2 win over the Cabots in American Major League action.

Vernon surrendered runs in the first and fifth innings en route to his win. The Hawks scored four runs in the third and added three more in the fourth to defeat the Cabots.

The losing pitcher was Tony Partee. Hawks: 0-4 2-0-7. Cabots: 0-10 0-10-2. Winning pitcher: Vernon. Losing pitcher: Partee.

Kiwanis scored in every inning to overwhelm Optimist, 10-6, in a High Junior League contest Thursday night.

Roger Battle banged out two doubles to pace the Kiwanis attack. Also contributing to the Kiwanis offensive punch were Doug Robison and Wes Seay with two hits apiece.

Albo Smith had a double and a home run for Optimist. His teammate Mark Taylor had two hits.

The Cubs banged out nine hits to defeat the Lions, 13-10, in Thursday night Sophomore League competition.

Rusty Hayworth was the winning pitcher. Ronnie Almon took the loss.

COAHOMA — The Bankers, behind the four-hit pitching of Randy Fields, defeated VFD, 6-3, in a Wednesday night Texas Teen-Age League contest.

For the Bankers, Terry Roberts and Randy Wallace had two hits apiece to spark the attack.

Tim Barbee had two hits in three tries for VFD. Bankers: 0-10 0-10-3. VFD: 0-10 0-10-3. Winning pitcher: Fields. Losing pitcher: Barbee.

The Rangers used the hitting of Larry Smith and the clutch fielding of Craig Dunnam at shortstop Tuesday night to ride past the Yankees, 8-6, in National Little League action.

Smith had three hits in three at bats, and Dunnam made several sparkling plays with Yankees in scoring position.

Jim Robinson had three hits for the Yankees. Ricky Moore was given credit for the win.

Rusty Henderson and Kevin Rhoten had three hits apiece to pace the Tigers to a 12-9 National Minor League win over the Eagles in Tuesday night Little League action.

Dubie had a triple for the Eagles. The Tigers scored their 12 runs on nine basehits. The Eagles had six hits en route to their nine runs.

Jimmy Skeen was the winning hurler. Rusty Henderson and Kevin Rhoten had three hits apiece to pace the Tigers to a 12-9 National Minor League win over the Eagles in Tuesday night Little League action.

Ruidoso Downs is off to a flying start — and track officials put the credit squarely on the new facilities which have been luring fans to the mountain turf resort.

After the first six days of the meeting, the handle shows a solid gain of 17.5 per cent over the first six days of the '71 campaign.

"There's no question that the new and modernized facilities have played a significant part in the increase in business," said Art Johnson, president of Ruidoso Downs.

Prior to the current meeting, management invested some $670,000 in a large-scale expansion project.

The first six racing days produced a wagering total of $1,381,239 which boils down to a daily average of $230,207. Last year, the first six days yielded a total of $1,174,850 and a daily average of $206,389.

Three jockeys at Ruidoso Downs were handed three-day suspensions by the Board of Stewards this week.

Each of the suspensions extends through Sunday (June 4).

Registration Deadline For PM&T

NEW YORK, N.Y. — The opportunity for boys aged 9 through 12 to register to participate in the 1972 official Major League Baseball Pitch, Hit & Throw Competition (PH&T) is just about over.

The registration period ends June 4. Boys eligible to compete in any of the four age groups must be registered, using entry blanks available free at participating Phillips 66 stations and many other authorized locations.

The nationwide program, sponsored by Major League Baseball with Phillips Petroleum Company, involves a series of elimination contests in three events: pitching, throwing for accuracy and hitting for distance.

Competition will get underway at the local level during June 10-15. There will be four winners and four runners-up (one in each age group) at every level of competition.

Winners can advance through local, district and division competitions until eight boys, selected on the basis of scores at the division level, win the right to compete for four national championships at baseball's All-Star Game in Atlanta, Ga., July 25.

Now in its third year, PH&T is expected to have more than half-million participants in 1972, according to Tucker Harrison, Bartlesville, Okla., the PH&T national coordinator.

Monahans Set For Lamesa

LAMESA — Monahans will be trying to pull itself from the brink of elimination today when it plays the Lamesa Tornados in the second game of the best-two-out-of-three regional playoff series.

Game time is 5:30 p.m. The probable pitcher for the Lobos is Chuck Claburn.

Lamesa won the first game of the series, 3-1, in Monahans.

TL Alexandria Aces Have Number Of Parent Padres

The Alexandria Aces may be in third place in the Texas League East but they've got the number of their National League parent San Diego Padres.

The Padres, limping along next to last in the NL West, dropped by their farm club for an exhibition breather Thursday but the Aces were serious.

Alexandria ripped the Padres 5-3, with six Ace pitchers allowing San Diego only four hits.

In regular league action, Arkansas retained its TL East lead with a 4-2 victory over Midland, El Paso shaved Memphis 3-2 and Amarillo downed Shreveport by the same score in 11 innings.

Randy Elliott clubbed two triples and a single to pace the Alexandria nine-hit assault on four Padre hurlers.

Joe Goddard slammed a solo homer in the sixth for the winners. Steve Simpson picked up the victory.

Arkansas's victory was its 11th in the last 13 games and the third straight against Midland. Rudy Arroyo picked up his third victory against no losses. Tom Lundstedt hit a solo homer for Midland in the ninth.

Joe Daniels singled across the winning run for El Paso in the bottom of the ninth inning. El Paso remains two games behind Amarillo in the battle for the lead in the TL West.

In games tonight, San Antonio is at Alexandria, Memphis is at El Paso, Arkansas is at Midland, and Shreveport is at Amarillo.

KERMIT — Two District 2 AAA schools were ruled in violation of University Interscholastic League rules Wednesday by the 2-AAA Executive Committee.

Monahans High School's volleyball team played 26 games during the 1971-72 season. This exceeded the limit of 24 set by the UIL. Next year, the team will be ineligible for the district title, but games against Monahans will be considered in the district standings.

Fort Stockton High School used a freshman player on its golf team this spring who had not been turned in on the eligibility supplement by the Fort Stockton coach. The executive voted to remove all honors won by the Panther team this year.

Each penalty was the minimum allowed under UIL rules.

Sunfish, Yellow Cat Leading Catches

Sportsmen have discovered the sunfish at Lake E. V. Spence and re-discovered the yellow cat at Lake J. B. Thomas.

Weekend reports from the Colorado River Municipal Water District reflected an upsurge in both kinds of fish, along with the usual strings of channel cat, black bass and a sprinkling of white bass.

R. T. Moore of Wilson reported catching a pair of 10-pound yellow cat, an 11-pounder and four channel cat weighing up to one and one-half pounds at Lake Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Nickles of Midland reported three black bass and a three and one-half pound channel cat.

L. F. Dusek of Littlefield caught three channel cat. Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hudson of Robert Lee reported four channel cat. W. L. Griffin of Odessa had four black bass and five channel cat.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Wilcox of Big Spring caught 30 channel cat weighing up to one and one-half pounds. P. E. Elliott of Texaco, N.M., reported 40 white bass weighing up to one and one-half pounds.

$125 Million In Federal Funds Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith of Texas said Thursday he is hopeful his state can get an estimated $125 million in federal social service funds, including some funds for fiscal year 1972, which ends June 30.

Smith said he has received encouraging words from federal officials about Texas' attempts to qualify for the funds, which were provided beginning in 1967 to supplement such varied services as those to orphans, mentally retarded persons, youth, the elderly and welfare clients.

The state did not show interest in the program until last year, when Smith said it was discouraged by the federal government because of failure to meet the guidelines of having all the services coordinated by a single state agency.

Smith said Texas may also lack sufficient matching state funds, but added he hasn't combed the various state agencies for program monies which may count.

The governor said the $125 million figure is imprecise "because we don't know how many of these programs we're going to use."

Smith also met with Sens. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., and John Tower, R-Tex., who promised help as they could give it.

Ex-Solon Paid For Ads With $960 In Stamps?

CUERO, Tex. (AP) — The Cuero Record says former state Rep. J. T. Newman paid for three newspaper ads in the Record in 1970-71 with $960 in six-cent postage stamps.

Newman denied using stamps to make the payments, the newspaper said Thursday.

Former Rep. Walter Knapp of Amarillo was convicted and sentenced to four years in prison last week on a charge he used 6-cent stamps from his contingent expense fund to buy a $1,200 used pickup truck.

Ken Long, general manager of the Record, said three employees still with the newspaper witnessed Newman's stamp payments.

Newman allegedly paid $300 worth of stamps for a political ad in his losing re-election campaign on June 26, 1970. Long said Newman's real estate firm made two other payments in 6-cent stamps for real estate ads on Dec. 31, 1970 and on April 7, 1971, totaling $660.

The missing gorilla is described as 7½ feet high, covered by black nylon, with yellow eyes, outstretched arms and a red tongue.

Candidates Bearing Down Hard On Last Day Before Texans Vote

By The Associated Press

With just one day of campaigning left until polls open for statewide runoff elections Saturday, gubernatorial candidate Dolph Briscoe has sought to shake off charges he uses wetback labor on his South Texas ranches.

Briscoe said Thursday in Dallas the wetback report was a "shameful publicity stunt" originated by his opponent for the Democratic nomination, Rep. Frances Farenthold.

A Del Rio lawyer who sent affidavits to Sen. Adlai Stevenson III alleging that Briscoe had hired migrants in this county illegally, insisted the move was non-political. Lawyer Mike Gonzalez said the affidavits were filed to bring attention to the plight of farm and ranch workers in Southwest Texas, and were not aimed specifically at Briscoe.

POLITICAL PURPOSES
Briscoe said that "it is my belief that the whole scheme was concocted and executed" with Mrs. Farenthold's "full knowledge and participation for political purposes."

He told Dallas newsmen he still will win the Democratic nomination for governor by "a very good margin of victory."

Mrs. Farenthold, in San Antonio for an Alamo rally Thursday night, called Briscoe "unmanly" for running away from her during the runoff campaign. She has repeatedly challenged Briscoe to a debate. Her remark brought a crowd of 2,000 to its feet with applause.

Her race against Briscoe gives voters a choice between public and private government. Mrs. Farenthold said, adding that she is for public government "100 per cent."

"SISSY IS WINNING"
Gimmicks spiced campaigning Thursday.

Telephone callers to Mrs. Farenthold's state campaign headquarters were greeted with "Sissy is winning." In Austin, women supporters of U.S. Senate candidate Barefoot Sanders pushed out "barefoot" insignias.

At Houston, Sanders called his Democratic runoff opponent, Ralph Yarborough, an "ultra-liberal who thinks that every problem can be cured by bigger federal spending."

Yarborough issued a three-page statement disputing charges by Sanders. He declared, "While my opponent has been spreading his false statements about me far and wide, he has never offered us a single achievement of his own while he held many public positions."

In newspaper endorsements Thursday, Briscoe won the support of the Brazosport Press and the Taylor Daily Press. Bill Hobby, in a runoff for lieutenant governor with Sen. Wayne Connally, was endorsed by the Brazosport newspaper and again by the Abilene Reporter-News, which also came out for Hobby in the May 6 primary.

FORCED BUSING

Connally said he had written a letter to the State Bar of Texas favoring more district courts as the population increases, small claims procedure for minor traffic accident claims, mandatory bumper controls and stricter penalties and enforcement for drunken or drug-influenced drivers.

A leader of Fort Worth anti-busing forces cast his personal support to Hobby and stated that he "is absolutely opposed to forced busing."

Jay Mertz, president of the Fort Worth Citizens for Neighborhood Schools, produced a letter dated April 5 stating that Hobby is "opposed to forced busing to achieve racial balance and opposed to forced consolidation of school districts to achieve racial balance."

In the Republican gubernatorial race, a former Harris County chairman for Dave Regan endorsed Albert Fay for the nomination. Fay and state Sen. Henry Grover went into a runoff after Reagan was eliminated in the May 6 primary.

"Mr. Fay represents to voters of Texas the conservative approach to government and is a man whose past gives no hint of improprieties," said Nelson Morris in endorsing Fay.

Grover said in Dallas he advocates state school spending to provide equal state funds for each public school student, but also wants local districts allowed to supplement however much they choose from local ad-

'The People Just Wanted A Change,' Governor Says

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith, only the fourth governor defeated for re-election in nearly a century of Texas politics, says "the people just wanted a change."

But his assessment of his defeat, with less than 10 per cent of the May 6 Democratic primary vote, is more complex than that.

Although he would prefer not to discuss it, the National Bankers Life stock scandal was a significant factor, he said. He also cites general dissatisfaction with incumbent politicians and what he regards as an unfavorable press.

"I think we conducted the best campaign we ever conducted—and with the least results," Smith said during a 15-minute interview in his private office.

KNOCKED TO KNEES

Secretary of State Bob Bullock, Smith's chief political advisor, said the decisive blow was Austin Dist. Atty. Bob Smith's assertion at the Gus Mutscher trial in Abilene that the governor was a "co-conspirator" in the stock scandal.

"From February on, he (the governor) was coming on good. Finances were no problem.

That statement at the Abilene trial knocked him to his knees," Bullock said.

Smith agreed, saying the district attorney's statement—which was blurted out in a heated moment—"was the thing that torpedoed us."

But he said the underlying problem was "the fact that there had been so much adverse publicity about state government that the people just wanted a change."

POWER OF PRESS

"I do believe we have been the most accessible and most constructive governor in a long time, but we have never been able to get across what we've done... I believe the press can change anything it wants to. I believe the power of the press is tremendous... Publicitywise, we didn't get one break in the campaign," Smith said.

Smith said he could not even begin to understand why Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes ran so poorly, finishing third, but he added:

"Being an incumbent with the people in the frame of mind they were in made it real difficult to get a real tremendous campaign underway." There were reports after the election that Smith became more interested in seeing Barnes defeated than in winning.

"That's not true," he said. "We campaigned to win throughout the entire campaign. I have no animosity toward the lieutenant governor."

Smith's big move during the campaign was his statewide television address in which he promised to block any attempt by the legislature to impose new taxes. But it appeared to make little difference to the voters.

BIT SURPRISED

"I was a little bit surprised that it was not given more response. But here the people had made up their minds they wanted a change in state government," he said.

Smith said he wanted it made clear that he was not "upset" or "irritated" at the voters.

"We were disappointed. But we are just real grateful to the people. We are not upset with the people at all. We gladly accepted their endorsement of us that made it possible for us to serve. It is entirely possible it is time for a change. When the people think it is time for a change, their judgment is not to be questioned," he said.

Cheryl Roane Triumphs In Junior Rodeo Event

COLORADO CITY — Cheryl Roane, Big Spring, turned in a 19.95 second time in the 16-19 age group in barrel racing to win first place in that event Thursday at the rodeo.

The Junior Rodeo is sponsored by the western Riding Club and the Jaycees.

Andy Taylor of Allison earned a 69 on his first place Brahma bull ride. Homer Guest of Andrews was second with 59 and Bud Bell of Clovis, N. M., scored 47.

In the steer riding event, Wes Smith was the only successful rider. Bud Bell also won the barrel-racing event with a score of 51.

There are two more performances of the four-night rodeo.

Other first place winners were: Lindsey Hicks, Sonora, 13-15, boys calf roping; Tony Churchill, San Angelo, 16-19 boys calf roping; Wes Smith, Carlsbad, N.M., 12 and under boys ribbon roping and barrel racing; Mandy Tubb, Snyder, 12 and under girls barrel racing; and Vicki Snodgrass, Texico, N.M., 13-15 girls barrel racing.

Guy Miller, Lamesa, 13-15 boys barrel racing; Carl Wright, Clovis, N.M., 12 and under girls pole bending; Colyn White, Clovis, N.M., 16-19 girls pole bending; Carol Wright, Clovis, N.M., 12 and under girls flag race; Vicki Snodgrass, Texico, N.M., 13-15 girls flag race; Christi Davidson, Ozona, 16-19 girls flag race; and Bud Bell, Clovis, N.M., 16-19 boys bulldogging.

A Stand for Law Enforcement.

Ralph Yarborough spent 13 years and 8 months in the United States Senate. During that period of time he co-authored or supported every major crime bill to pass Congress since 1957. Unlike most politicians, Ralph Yarborough did his work without a lot of publicity but with tremendous effectiveness.

As a State District Judge for 5 years in Travis County (Austin), Ralph Yarborough worked closely with law enforcement officers, always supporting law enforcement with unwavering dedication to justice. Ralph Yarborough wants to continue his diligent work in the area of law enforcement. His record shows that he's not all talk, and his vision proves it.

RALPH YARBOROUGH'S CONGRESSIONAL WORK IN LAW ENFORCEMENT AREAS:

Co-Sponsored the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 which has given Texas law enforcement agencies over $36,500,000 as of 1969-72, for training, recruiting, pay raises, and crime control. (See C.R. Vol. 113, Page 3944).

Authored the Police Benefits Bill Amendment which greatly expanded the much-deserved benefits to police officers, their widows and families, when such officers are injured or killed while preventing or attempting to prevent the commission of a Federal crime. (See CQ Almanac 1967, Page 871)

Actively Supported the Comprehensive Drug Abuse Prevention and Control Act of 1970 which provided for an increase of 300 agents in the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs, stiffer penalties for drug trafficking, better rehabilitation for users, and tighter control over traffic in dangerous drugs (See CQ Almanac 1970, pages 531-32).

Created and Staffed the Special Subcommittee on Alcoholism and Narcotics when Yarborough was the chairman of the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee. It was the first such subcommittee in the history of the U.S. Congress.

Ralph Yarborough was a Member of the Senate Appropriation Committee, seeing that Texas got its fair share of the money for its law enforcement officers.

Voted for every increase in size of force, pay, retirement, and disability compensation of Washington, D.C. and Capitol Police Force during every year he was in the Senate.

Whatever you do, find time to vote for a real friend on June 3.

Immaturity

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I've heard of students having crushes on their teachers, but what about the teacher who has a crush on a student?

There's this 14-year-old girl in one of my classes who is just beautiful. I can't keep my eyes off her even though she is half my age.

Do other teachers have problems like this? What's to be done? My class is her favorite class. I don't believe in anonymous letters so I will sign my name, but please respect my need for anonymity.

DEAR TEACHER: Teachers have crushes on students for the same reason students have crushes on teachers. Immaturity. (I refer to a 14-year-old panting after a 28-year-old, and vice versa.) What's to be done? Admire her from afar and keep your eyes, your thoughts (and everything else) off her. Small wonder your class is her "favorite." You've telegraphed your feelings to her, and she got the message.

DEAR ABBY: I live near a lovely elderly couple who buried their only daughter two years ago.

Before this daughter's death she started an afghan for her mother. She was about three-quarters finished when she passed away, poor soul. Well, I love to do needlework and had plenty of time, so I offered to finish the afghan. My neighbor said she would be grateful if only I would.

I finished it gladly, and when I presented it to my neighbor we both cried.

Abby, I was so happy to do that small favor for my neighbor, but she spoiled it all when she gave me a beautiful appreciation card with a $20 bill in it. I was so hurt I just didn't know what to do. I didn't want any pay. I felt it was an honor to finish something her daughter had started for her.

I still want to return the $20, but my husband says I will hurt her feelings something terrible. Please help me decide. HURT

DEAR HURT: Consider the woman's feelings. She expressed her appreciation in a manner that she thought fitting. Don't fault her. I think your husband is right.

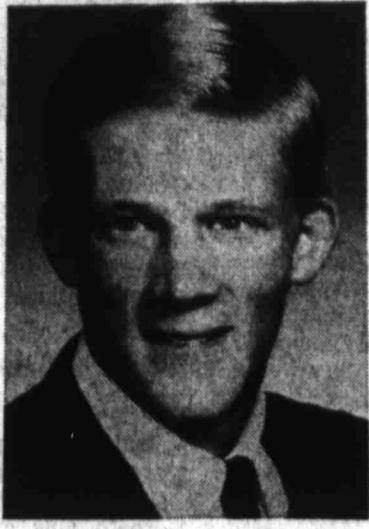

DEAR ABBY: "HARD OF HEARING" asks, "So what do I do when I cup my ear and strain to hear until I am nearly exhausted, and people look at me as though to say, 'I'll give this cheap dumb cluck who's deaf and won't wear a hearing aid a hard time and refuse to speak up?'"

Let me tell you about a friend of mine. He wears a dummy hearing aid, which looks exactly like a real one, but isn't. His explanation:

"I have a partial hearing loss, but I can hear all right if people will speak up. But for some strange reason they resent being told to speak up. I used to wear a real hearing aid, which as soon as it was discovered, caused everyone to talk so loudly to me they practically shattered my eardrum. So now I wear a dummy hearing aid, which causes people to speak up as soon as they see it."

MRS. H.: ROSWELL, N.M. DEAR MRS. H.: Hear, hear!

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to Abby, Box 69706, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

GARY E. FISH

Medical Degree Earned By Fish

Gary Edd Fish, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fish, 907 Mountain Park Drive, will have conferred on him Monday the degree of doctor of medicine by Southwestern Medical School, University of Texas, at Dallas.

He was awarded the State of Texas Merit Scholarship in his first year in medical school, where he has been a member of the Phi Rho Sigma medical fraternity.

Gary Fish was graduated from Big Spring High School in 1965 and from Texas Tech University in 1968. He was a member of the Alpha Epsilon Delta pre-medical honor society while a student at Tech.

Dr. Fish will do his internship in New York City during the next year.

Local Woman Back From Fort Worth

Mrs. Patsy Rowden and her children have returned from Fort Worth, where they attended last rites for Thomas Nugent Duty, who died May 27 in Marysville, Calif.

Mr. Duty, who was 78, worked on the old Slaughter S Ranch near Big Spring while a young man. He left Big Spring prior to World War II.

Mrs. Rowden was Mr. Duty's granddaughter. A surviving grandson is Henry McKinney Jr., Mesquite.

Blackouts

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Two months ago my husband, 62, passed out while answering the telephone. He lost all color, and when he came around, he began to twitch, got sick to his stomach, and passed out three times in succession.

He had all kinds of tests at the hospital, was home about a month, and had another spell. Last week he passed out again, just as he did before, when answering the phone.

Tests at the hospital were negative again, and he came home with a new pill, for tension I believe.

As long as he is at home I do not worry too much, but I do when we go out because he insists on driving. Have you any suggestions as to the cause? — Mrs. J.W.

I can't, of course, guess what causes these spells, and doubtless the hospital tests have included much the same ones I would want — angiogram, to determine condition of critical arteries; EEG, or "brain wave test," for any sign of convulsive disorders, which are a possibility; spinal tap, and so on.

I presume he had an angiogram that included examination of neck arteries, which carry circulation to the brain. Likewise an irritable carotid sinus is a possibility in a delicate nerve structure along the carotid artery in the neck. Sometimes pressure from a tight collar, or twisting the neck in a certain way, can cause collapse.

I distinctly agree with you that your husband should not drive a car. A two-second blackout could cause disaster, not only for him but for others.

No doubt everybody else would agree with us — and if your husband looks at the situation clearly, I think he would, too.

Dr. Thosteson: My husband has developed terrible ringing in his ears. Nothing seems to help. He stopped smoking and drinking and still they ring.

Some doctors say you either have it and it stays, or it just may go away. What is your opinion? — Mrs. B.U.

My opinion is contained in a little booklet that has proved to be very popular among people with ringing or other pestiferous sounds in the ears.

You don't mention your husband having seen his doctor, but only what "some doctors say."

So for starters, here are some questions that should be answered: How is his blood pressure? Does he take any medications (including aspirin) regularly? What other drugs? How much? Have his ears been examined for any obvious defects?

I suggest reading my booklet, "Ear Noises: Their Causes and Cures." Send 15 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped (use zip code) envelope to me in care of The Big Spring Herald.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am in my late 50s and have deep furrows between my eyes which I would like to have removed by injections. What specialist would do this? — Mrs. P.D.

Injections? No. But plastic surgery is commonly used for this, so ask your regular physician to refer you to a surgeon doing this work. Nose specialists and general surgeons occasionally do this sort of work, although not too many of them do.

Note to Mrs. A.K.: Some people are sensitive to coffee. It acts as a diuretic (makes the kidneys work faster). Why not avoid coffee for a few days and see whether that's your trouble?

"Tips On How To Stop Smoking," by Dr. Thosteson, will help you give up the habit. To receive a copy of his booklet, write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope.

vote FOR

Robert S. CALVERT

VOTE FOR PERFORMANCE

There is no margin for error in an office that must guarantee the biennial fiscal solvency of the state—balancing billions in receipts to payments each year. Bob Calvert has built a tax accounting system that is considered a model for study by other states. During 23 years as Comptroller, he has an unblemished record of remarkable public service.

VOTE FOR EFFICIENCY

Bob Calvert has continually modernized operations to provide greater service at lowest cost. The electronic data-processing equipment he installed is recognized as one of the most sophisticated and efficient computer systems in the nation.

VOTE FOR CONFIDENCE

Under Bob Calvert, the Comptroller's Office has returned $450,776,028.09 to 692 Texas cities since their sales tax was enacted. Every penny has been accounted for. His records are verified by the State Auditor's Department to insure absolute accuracy. The Texas Research League has proclaimed Calvert's office one of the most outstanding in the country in accounting and administration.

VOTE FOR HONESTY AND INTEGRITY

The only things "old fashioned" about Bob Calvert are the virtues of honesty and integrity which he considers vital for a person in a position of such public trust. On the other hand, his runoff opponent, who has had six marriages, four divorces and one annulment, was fired from the Comptroller's Department last November after being convicted of aggravated assault on a female.

Won't Curb Protection

The attempted assassination of Alabama Gov. George Wallace in the final weeks of his campaign for the Democratic nomination has brought the issue of handgun control to the fore once more. Congress will be asked to pass a law requiring registration of all handguns, or even deny them to all citizens save military and law enforcement personnel.

Will this new impetus toward control prove more effective than in the past? There is no sure answer to the question. The irony of the attempt on Wallace's life derives from the candidate's strong stand in opposition to handgun controls.

The National Rifle Association and other powerful opponents of restrictive legislation base their stand in part on the Second Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. A thoughtful reading of the amendment in its entirety provides little warrant for the unrestricted possession of handguns. It says "A well-regulated militia, being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms, shall not be infringed."

When the Constitution and its amendments were adopted, not many men had pistols. Most of those who did found them somewhat unwieldy and almost impossible to hide on the person. They had rifles and blunderbusses, designed for protection of the home, for use when called into the militia, and for providing game for the family table.

No one should pretend that the framers of the Constitution were thinking about the "Saturday night special" or the snub-nosed .38 caliber revolver used in the shooting of Wallace as the type of weapon authorized in the Second Amendment. These handguns have only one purpose: To kill at close quarters.

One of the emotional arguments used against gun control is one directed against registration of the weapons. It is said that this is one step away from confiscation of their guns and that then citizens would be helpless against armed criminals or enemies of the state. These arguments are not without some logic, but they do not come close to making registration unconstitutional. Registration of handguns under the Sullivan Act in New York state has never been attacked successfully. A similar federal act would almost certainly be found constitutional.

The opponents of regulation have fuzzed the issue by concentrating on the threat to "guns." The impression is given that all types of firearms would have to be registered, and might be confiscated. The fact is that the main thrust of the argument for regulations against handguns which, with few exceptions, are not suitable for hunting, but only for killing human beings.

At the very least we should have an efficient registration system, one that would not permit handguns to be transferred without proper registration. This will not stop determined men from killing with guns. But it might afford some protection for the peaceful, law-abiding majority in the United States.

'Unlicensed Squawker'

One final reminder and plea for you to vote in Saturday's run-off primaries.

Not only should everyone who cast a first-primary ballot vote (in the same primary in which they voted in May), but there are multiplied thousands who did not vote then who should show some degree of citizenship by voting in the second go-round.

Why Not Here?

Around The Rim

Brian Peay

THE CITY and its inhabitants have come through another trying time, in which the fate of the Howard County Hospital Authority has dominated the headlines of all local media news presentations.

I have been reluctant to give my opinion on the controversy, but my family has gone through an experience that more or less demonstrates the epitome of the problem everyone has been talking about, since the inception of the idea to create new and better medical services in Big Spring.

Approximately one and a half years ago my father reached the point that his legs would not permit him to continue his work. He is yet a young man in his middle 50's, but because of an oil field accident years ago his hips finally began to deteriorate to the point he could not even walk without severe pain.

MEDICAL TECHNOLOGY (in some areas), that his ailment could be corrected with a relatively simple operation. Somewhat over a year ago he underwent surgery in a local hospital on his right hip. Complications set in, and not to throw a stir of incompetence against anyone locally, it is sufficient to say he had to be taken to a Lubbock medical facility to be recuperated.

Needless to say, however, the whole episode resulted in the loss of his capability to continue work.

Then his other hip began to give way, thwarting the recovery of the hip that had been operated on. And not to risk the same dilemma twice, he was taken to the medical center in Houston for the same surgery. Within two weeks he was back at home, well on his way to recovery, where it had taken almost six months for him to start on the road to rehabilitation from what was done locally.

NOTWITHSTANDING, that subject is not my purpose for writing this, although it is an important factor. The point is our family was out considerable expenses during the five weeks my father had to be away for surgery on what by medical standards should have been a relatively simple cure. Big Spring could not provide the suitable medical facilities and in some cases the suitable medical knowledge to meet the need.

But this problem has been carefully observed by concerned citizens, and they have opened a possible way, in which Big Spring will be able to provide its citizenry with above standard medical facilities and the door has been opened by which more modern medical technology may be incorporated into the skills of both the physicians already here and the new ones to come because of the potential the medical center will provoke.

MY FAMILY'S problem by all means was not unique either. Many in Big Spring are experiencing the same dilemma.

As far as I am concerned the establishment of a medical center here will provide the answer to similar problems, not to mention the potential economic growth it will bring to the city.

I am a responsible citizen in this community, but I cannot see why some must continue to stifle the sprouts of growth in this city for whatever reason.

Technically if the hospital authority is not the best and quickest way to reach a solution to benefit the whole community, then someone should come up with one that will. But until then I cannot see any good in tearing down a potential answer for petty and seemingly personal reasons.

'Token Candidates'

Garth Jones

Texas' next governor likely will be a person that the state capitol's social political observers once called a "token" candidate.

IT TOOK THE DECISION of Texas voters to change the status of Dolph Briscoe and Mrs. Frances Farenthold, Democratic runoff candidates for the nomination for governor.

"When I first started my campaign they called me a 'token' candidate," Mrs. Farenthold tells her political campaign rallies. "And that was right because by some of the political polls — these made by other candidates because I could not afford one myself — only about 3 per cent of those polled had ever heard of me."

"Then after my campaign gained some strength, they began to call me the 'spoil'." I was not favored to win anything but I just might get enough votes to "spoil" someone else's political plans. Which is just what happened and now I am in the runoff with a chance to win."

BRISCOE'S ENTRY into the Texas governor's race in 1968 was just about as inauspicious. Everybody thought he was a nice guy but why in the world did a rich South Texas rancher want to be governor and how did he think he could ever get anywhere against such proven vote getters and campaign organizers as Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, Speaker Ben Barnes, former Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and the chosen one of Texas liberal Democrats, Don Yarborough?

Briscoe appeared almost bashful when he talked in public. His wife, Jamey, told reporters about his itinerary from her kitchen telephone. Uvalde neighbors pitched in to clean out an old wool warehouse, owned by the Briscoes, to make it presentable as the state political headquarters; then many of them volunteered to staff the campaign headquarters.

BUT WHEN the voting was over in the first primary of 1968, he came fourth in a field of 10 candidates. Smith, Yarborough and Carr got more votes, but those trailing Briscoe included the Houston millionaire attorney John Hill and the late Eugene Locke, who was pushed by supporters of Gov. John B. Connally after Connally decided not to seek a fourth term.

Briscoe did not challenge Smith for a second term in 1970 but he quickly announced he would be a candidate in 1972 whether Smith ran again and whether Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, supposedly one of the strongest political potentials in the state, sought the governorship or not. Barnes and Smith did decide to run, but finished third and fourth respectively on May 6 after Briscoe and Farenthold, the former "token" candidates.

BOTH-THE RUNOFF candidates built their successful campaign organizations around volunteers — guided by experienced, expert campaign professionals.

"In county after county I find that my manager is a person who has never been in politics before," said Mrs. Farenthold. Many of her headquarters workers are college and high school youths, willing to work long hard hours just for the thrill of being a part of a political campaign.

But directing the Farenthold campaign of volunteers are a handful of fully experienced campaign strategists, many who served in the many campaigns of former Sen. Ralph Yarborough for governor and for U.S. Senator.

Successful Chaps

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The board of directors, as constituted in many companies "is an anomaly bordering on an absurdity . . . it is an appendage rather than governing head . . . it reigns rather than rules."

The statements are derived from an analysis by Dr. Eugene Jennings of Michigan State University that accompanies a survey of what is described as the 46 top companies in the Fortune magazine list of 500 largest industrials.

Jennings doesn't claim that these successful companies have permitted their boards to become mere appendages, but he claims that many corporations, including famous ones, are guilty of that lapse. They are, he says, immature.

Successful directors today are anxious to determine their proper function and purpose, especially after the sudden troubles that have endangered giants such as Penn-Central. But that anxiety, Jennings suggests, is recent.

Not long ago, he says, "the directors were selected to grace the corporate image." Their names and sometimes their presence lent prestige to a company. Their services otherwise were almost irrelevant."

There was — and still is in many companies — the attitude that the board should be an exclusive club of successful chaps who maintained a discreet and easy conviviality that originated years earlier in an Ivy League school.

The survey, by Earle Brown & Associates for the executive search firm of Lamalle Associates, also shows: They are directors of five other organizations, 59 years old, in their 11th year as a director, are paid between $2,000 and $10,000 a year.

Despite their somewhat passive role in the past, Jennings believed that the role of directors is growing in importance as American business matures.

The first stage of maturity was manufacturing, the second managerial. The third and final stage of maturity, he states, is corporate government, in which the focus of responsibility broadens enormously.

Jennings, a management professor and consultant to blue-chip companies, claims that the whole corporation — employees, managers, directors — must be made more responsive to the reality of the world today — reality that includes not only profits but consumerism, women's rights, environmental pollution and so on.

Watching Outcome

Marquis Childs

MOSCOW — Out of the astonishing week just ended have come two solid benefits unlikely to be diminished regardless of how well or how badly the series of agreements signed with such pomp and splendor work out. One is a quite incidental increment that should be an eye-opener.

THE NUCLEAR arms limitation agreement is in itself a step forward with a potential for the future good of mankind that is inestimable. But apart from the agreement itself is the revelation of how deeply involved the two superpowers are in amassing the instruments of annihilation. The cards are on the table and anyone can now see how far down the slippery slope we have come in assembling the stuff of doomsday.

THE COMPROMISE necessary to achieve this first small step gives a dramatic picture of the competition in the whole range of nuclear weapons on land, sea and air. Stopping construction of new missile-armor submarines — the Russians had a program of building eight or nine a year — is a big advance. Yet, under the complex formula contained in the treaty, old G-class subs can be replaced with modern types at the sacrifice of a certain ratio of land-based missiles.

THE URGENT need in the next state-of-arms negotiation is to put a brake on the development of ever newer and more destructive weapons. The framework of the SALT talks has worked well. The intention is to move as rapidly as possible to supersede interim agreements on offensive missiles with a permanent arrangement providing a limit like that now put on defensive missiles.

Headed by Gerard C. Smith, the American delegation has been a first-rate team and the hope is that it can be kept intact. The backdrop in the White House has been Henry Kissinger, working in close collaboration with the Soviet Ambassador in Washington, Anatoly Dobrynin. And at critical moments when a deadlock developed President Nixon in a frank exchange with Leonid Brezhnev pointed a way out of the stalemate.

THE SECOND important gain was the proof that the Russians really wanted these agreements and a knitting together of major elements in the future of the two great nations. Given the rigidities of the bureaucratic structure, they handled the invasion of several hundred American and foreign newspaper men and women with ease and efficiency. The White House staff performed with first-rate skill at every juncture. In his masterful briefing on the night the arms limitation was signed Kissinger, with a pride of authorship, called it a landmark decision.

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. business office used to be a place of work only. Today it has become pretty much the social center of American life.

As many a boss is aware, getting a job done is only a dim problem in the back of many a worker's head when he gets up in the morning and comes to his home away from home — the office.

In some ways he finds his office more relaxing than his home, because he has fewer responsibilities there and isn't annoyed by such intruding inconveniences as a frowsy wife and noisy dillard children.

Millions of American working husbands and wives symbolically run away from home every day now. They go to the office.

Why? Because that's where the real fun is. That's where life can be lived to the hilt.

A business office is still reckoned as a market place. But that is only one of the functions it serves. It is also a rest home, a restaurant, a hospital, a recreation area, an entertainment complex, a beauty parlor, a barbershop, a church, a gymnasium, a forum, and a passion pit where there is more hanky panky going on than at the average drive-in theater.

You go into the conference room, and what is going on there? The group may be considering raising or lowering the price of a product. It is more likely, on the other hand, to be arguing over whether management should be asked to change the color and design of the drapes.

You go up to any desk at random, and what is happening? The man may be writing a business memo. He could also be calling his girl friend, taking a nap, or even selling Christmas cards or real estate on the side.

You go into the men's washroom, and what do you see? You see two office boys giving each other a haircut, three guys hiding out with hangers, and a senior vice president washing the drip-dry shirt he plans to wear that evening.

There is a small morning prayer meeting going on in the cafeteria, but what is going on in the ladies' room a mere male can only guess.

And what is going on in the stockroom? Here modesty must draw a curtain where there is none. An orgy is an orgy is an orgy.

"Doesn't anybody ever do anything around here?" groans the boss, after an inspection tour. He retreats to his own sanctum and reaches for a golf club. Where else can he get in the practice to keep his putting game in shape?

The question again arises: How does a modern U.S. business office get any business done?

Knows God only.

Grounds For Hope

WASHINGTON — The lengthy communique and declaration of principles issued by the Soviet Union and the United States after President Nixon's visit to Russia could hardly have been surpassed in their enthusiasm for the era of peace and friendship that is anticipated between the two nations. The documents set forth an adherence to basic principles which manifests clearly a desire not only to limit the buildup of nuclear weapons but also to improve relations between the two major countries of the world.

TO AVOID misunderstandings by their respective allies — particularly about problems that are far from settled — the papers do not proclaim any change in attitude with respect to existing international disputes at this time. But it is evident that the two governments expect more from the United Nations in the field of peacemaking than has been accomplished heretofore. One section of the communique issued when the conferences were concluded had this significant paragraph:

"Both sides will strive to strengthen the effectiveness of the United Nations on the basis of strict observance of the U.N. charter. They regard the United Nations as an instrument for maintaining world peace and security, discouraging conflicts, and developing international cooperation. Accordingly, they will do their best to support United Nations efforts in the interests of international peace."

THE FACTS OF current history, unfortunately, show that the Vietnam war, which has been going on for several years, has involved the Soviet Union and the United States. The United Nations has been unwilling or unable to bring it to an end.

Today, as there is applause over the fact that limits are to be placed on nuclear armaments, offensive and defensive, and that steps have been taken to curtail the number of nuclear submarines, there is nevertheless a feeling that the very existence of nuclear weapons presents a danger to mankind. While only the major powers possess these lethal systems, it is realized that they can come into conflict with each other as a consequence of activities by their allies.

THE VIETNAM WAR could not have been fought to such an extent by Hanoi without the large amount of military assistance given to it by the Soviet Union. Nor could the South Vietnamese have defended themselves, as well as they have without the help they got from the United States. In a sense, the Vietnam war has only two adversaries — the Soviets and the Americans.

SO, WHILE THE conference at Moscow was conducted in an atmosphere of friendship and good will and agreements have been made to limit the manufacture of nuclear weapons, the real problem now is how to bring the Vietnam War to an end. (Copyright, 1972, Publishers-Hall Syndicate)

My Answer

Billy Graham

In the state where I live couples can get a divorce by simply stating to the court that they don't love each other anymore. They don't need to prove incompatibility, or infidelity, just say that love has gone out of their marriage. Some of my best friends are getting divorces, and I am frightened about the future with such a law on the statute books. What do you think of it?

B.J. I believe divorce is a spiritual as well as a social problem. When Christianity swept over Europe it influenced the divorce statistics and laws, and for several centuries divorce in the Christian community was virtually unknown. As late as 1867, there were less than 400 divorce decrees in the United States, but in 1965, less than a century, it had grown to thousands. The breakdown of marriage, in my opinion, was in consonance with a spiritual decline which fosters irresponsibility to marriage vows, and to the innocent.

Today, although there are signs of a spiritual revival in some segments of our society, by and large, society is experiencing moral laxity. In one of our states, there is a divorce for every marriage, for example.

In a recent study it was found that couples who are active Christians, have fewer than one divorce in 500 marriages. This, in itself, should prove that the practice of the Christian faith is a great deterrent to the breakdown of the home. Let us hope that this trend of easy divorce, without valid reason may be halted before we go the way of ancient Rome.

A Devotion For Today . . .

Saul's anger was kindled against Jonathan . . . And Jonathan rose from the table in fierce anger and ate no food. (1 Samuel 20:30, 34, RSV)

PRAYER: Father, we are grateful for family and friends who share the great concerns of life with us. Teach us to accept differences without hostility and to find unity without uniformity. Amen. (From the "Upper Room")

Miss Sandra Kolb Weds Alan G. Lowe

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Sandra G. Kolb and Sgt. Alan G. Lowe at 6:30 p.m., Thursday in the Webb Air Force Base Chapel, with John Healy officiating.

The couple stood at an altar adorned with arrangements of white gladioli. A prelude of traditional nuptial music was provided by Mrs. J. E. Settles, organist.

MRS. ALAN G. LOWE

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Milton W. Lowe of Houston and Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Kolb, 4113 Dixon.

The bride's formal-length gown was fashioned in white satin with an Empire waistline and long lace sleeves which were scalloped at the wrist. The bodice was overlaid with white lace which extended up the high collar. Two bands of matching lace encircled the skirt, from which flowed a satin train. A satin band highlighted with seed pearls held her finger-tip-length illusion veil which was edged with matching lace, and she carried a lavender orchid surrounded by daisies.

Miss Debbie Kolb served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a floor-length lavender gown fashioned Empire style with puffed sleeves inset with daisies. Another sister, Miss Karen Kolb, was bridesmaid and was attired identically to the maid of honor. Both attendants wore orchid garden hats and carried nosegays of pink carnations.

Airman L.C. Randy Sergeant of Kalamazoo, Mich., was best man, and Airman L.C. Gary Freeman of Winston-Salem, N.C., was groomsmen. Gary Ward was the usher.

Serving as flower girl was Marsha Supernant of San Antonio. She wore a pink floor-length gown and a daisy headband, and carried a basket of pink rose petals. Mikie Supernant of San Antonio was ring bearer.

Sgt. Lowe is stationed at Webb Air Force Base. He is a graduate of John H. Reagan High School in Houston. Mrs. Lowe graduated from Big Spring High School and attended Howard County Junior College. She is presently employed by Sears Roebuck and Company. The couple will reside at 1504-A Sycamore.

A reception for the couple was held in the Webb AFB Non-Commissioned Officers Club. The refreshment table was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of white and lavender spring flowers.

Out-of-town guests, other than the bridegroom's parents, were Oscar Kolb Jr., Tonawanda, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Michael Supernant, San Antonio; and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Taylor, Houston.

Girl Scouts Set Summer Activities

The West Texas Girl Scout Council has announced events for area Girl Scouts during June, beginning Tuesday when Senior Scouts will meet at Camp Boothe Oaks, Sweetwater, for a general clean up.

On June 10, there will be a family picnic and clean up day at the local day camp site in Silver Heels. The group will gather there at 10 a.m. to help prepare the site for the day camp slated June 12-16. The camp will be held daily from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The established summer camp at Camp Boothe Oaks will hold its first session June 18-24. The other camp dates are: Session IA, June 18-July 1; Session IB, June 25-July 8; Session II, June 25-July 8; Session III, July 2-July 8; and Session IV, July 9-15.

The "Galloping Gallery," a creative arts workshop, is scheduled as a two-day event in Comanche Trail Park from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., July 24-25. Summer badge workshops for all Junior and Cadette Scouts will be held in Big Spring July 17-28.

Delicate Decor

Filigree hardboard panels are a lot like the modern woman. They're decorative — but hardy and hard-working. Lacy, open-work designs give filigree hardboard a delicate appearance. The panels make effective wall accents, room dividers or connecting doors.

MRS. GEORGE MUNOZ MARTINEZ

Couple United In Marriage

The Rev. James Delaney, pastor of Sacred Heart Catholic Church, performed nuptial rites for Miss Juanita Garcia and George Munoz Martinez Thursday evening at the church.

The couple stood at an altar decorated with arrangements of white gladioli. Traditional wedding music was provided by Miss Connie Torres, pianist.

The bride is the daughter of Juan Garcia, 410 NW 7th, and the late Mrs. Eloisa Garcia, and Martinez is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Martinez, 2208 S. Modifcello.

The bride wore a formal-length gown fashioned in white chiffon with embroidered lace overlaying the bodice. The long full sleeves were of sheer lace, and matching lace edged the scooped neckline which was also accented with blue daisies. A band of lace edged the skirt. Her shoulder-length veil was held with a white bow and she carried a cascade of chrysanthemums and pompons interspersed with blue babies'-breath.

Bridesmaids were Miss Lesvia Mendoza and Miss Velma Mendez. They both wore floor-length blue gowns featuring short puffed sleeves and ruffles at the neckline and bottom of the dress. Flowers highlighted the attendant's hair.

David Correa and Esequiel Valles were groomsmen.

A reception for the couple was held in the home of the bride's parents. A white cloth covered the refreshment table which was centered with blue carnations and white chrysanthemums. Refreshments were served buffet style.

Mr. and Mrs. Martinez are both graduates of Big Spring High School. He also attended Howard County Junior College, and is now employed at Eagle Mobile Homes. The couple will reside at 410 NW 7th.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Aleman and Miss Eloisa Aleman, all of Paso Robles, Calif.; Mrs. Pete Velasquez, Miss Virginia Mancha, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth James Jones, Mrs. Sulema Estrada and Mr. and Mrs. Marcos H. Garcia, all of El Paso.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Folks:
Mr. Leo Singer, president of a detergent manufacturing company, let me go through his plants and laboratories and I learned things about laundry I didn't know before.

While he was being so gracious, I asked if he would write it all down in a letter so I could share it with you. So here 'tis:

"Dear Heloise:
The key to laundry whiteness and brightness is to under-indulge it. That's right. Instead of giving your wash an extra pinch of detergent, underpinch it. Most of us use too much laundry detergent, leaving a dull, gray, rough residue on clothes.

"But before I explain how to determine the correct amount of detergent, let's first get your wash back to where it should be. Instead of using a detergent (either phosphate or non-phosphate — I find they clean equally well), use a super cleaner (sometimes called a "booster"). This will remove all traces of detergent residue and other assorted stains and restore that original whiteness and brightness.

"Now the best way I know to determine the correct amount of detergent is by trial and error. First follow the directions on the package.

"Because of varying degrees of water hardness, detergent residue may still appear on your clothes. If so, cut back on the amount of detergent used until the dull laundry grays disappear.

"Another helpful hint is to put your detergent, soap, and (or) bleach into the washer first, before the clothes. When the wash water is one-half full, agitate for a few minutes to dissolve all the chemicals into the water. The dissolving procedure is also the best way to add first-in-convenience-type fabric softeners. By pouring them in the wash cycle, there is no waiting for the final rinse.

"Hot-water washing is best for sanitizing clothes while mildly warm-water wash is good for permanent press or wash-and-wear clothes. However, warm-water washing will not get clothes as clean as hot water. Also, you'll have better luck getting out heavy dirt and stains in hot water.

"Don't overload your machine. Overloading prevents the wash water from properly washing your clothes. And when you have less than a full load, be sure to cut down on the amount of detergents, etc.

"Sort your clothing by fabric and color. Never put colored synthetic articles in with a white load. And a chlorine bleach should not be used on synthetic stretch materials. A chlorine bleach will cause discoloration and eventually break down the fibers. Manufacturers of synthetics recommend the use of a nonchlorine bleach.

"When you have a stain on anything that is permanent press, launder it immediately."

I think that was pretty nice of Mr. Singer, don't you?

LETTER OF THOUGHT

This column is written for you the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint or a problem write to Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald. Special Education Changes Detailed

New officers for the Texas Association for Children With Learning Disabilities were elected at a recent meeting in the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center.

Officers are Mrs. Ted Hicks, president; Mrs. Cecil Stephens, vice president; Mrs. Tommy Franklin, recording secretary; Mrs. R. M. Oliver, corresponding secretary; and Don DeLeeuw, treasurer.

Mrs. Margie Schmidt presided, and the program, "Look With Me Into My Crystal Ball," was by Mrs. Stephens. She discussed changes that will take place in instruction of special education next year.

MRS. GARY DEAN ATEN

Wedding Ceremony Performed Thursday

Miss Marilyn Yvonne Holland and Gary Dean Aten recited their nuptial vows at a ceremony Thursday evening in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin H. Holland, 4209 Parkway. Aten is the son of Mrs. James R. Aten, 1100 E. 3rd, and the late Mr. Aten.

The Rev. Steve L. Whitehurst of San Antonio performed the rites at an improvised altar featuring a white archway entwined with green vines and blue and white carnations.

The bride's formal-length Empire style gown was overlaid with white embroidered lace and featured a rounded collar and long lace and net bell sleeves. A crown of pearls held her waist-length illusion veil, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations, lilies of the valley and pearls, with blue accents.

Miss Elaine Daubney served as maid of honor. She wore a street-length dress fashioned in light blue with short sleeves. She carried a bouquet of blue carnations highlighted with blue streamers.

Vernon White served as best man.

A reception was held in the Holland home following the ceremony. The refreshment table was covered with a blue cloth and overlaid with a white crocheted cloth. An arrangement of blue and white daisies centered the table, and the three-tiered cake was topped with miniature doves holding a silver ring. Crystal appointments were used.

Mr. and Mrs. Aten both graduated from Big Spring High School. They will make their home in Houston.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included Mrs. Steve L. Whitehurst, San Antonio; and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Buchanan, Midland.

New Ideas Give Homes Variety

Increasingly, home builders are offering alternatives to the familiar detached, single-family structures.

Many communities now include cooperative units and condominiums — both ancient forms of nonrental housing in the Old World that are enjoying a revival in the United States.

"Quad-miniums" are springing up in some places. These are clusters of four units combining individual ownership of the units with collectively owned grounds.

Patio Counter Refreshes Meals

When the weather turns warm and the air indoors seems stuffy and confining, most families head outdoors to work, play, and relax while the sun shines.

An open air life-style develops with the season, especially when entertaining moves outdoors and yardwork seconds housework as a prime concern.

Pick-up lunches and barbecue supper multiply, for convenience and to take advantage of the coolest spot, the garden aromas. An innovation, the outdoor refreshment center has practical appeal when snacks and cold drinks are in demand.

Come to our VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL. With all kinds of planned projects and activities we look at how much fun it is to be a child of God in 1972. So come join us!

Church Hires Youth Worker; Brush Arbor Revival Set

By LINDA CROSS
 "The main thing I will be trying to accomplish is the involvement of youth this summer in activities for their enjoyment and in activities that would benefit others. I would like to help the youth grow closer to Christ through doing things for other people," said Wayne Poling.

WAYNE POLING

Poling, 21, a recent graduate of Hardin-Simmons University, is a minister of youth at College Baptist Church for the summer. A native of Amarillo, Poling attended Palo Duro High School and went on to Hardin-Simmons to major in Bible and minor in music.

"I have dedicated my life to church service since I was a sophomore in high school. I went to college to prepare for a life of church work, and I did church work all through college," said Poling.

His college honors include being named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, 1971-72, receiving the Bill R. Austin scholastic award in Bible studies and election as class president his junior and senior years in college.

Poling plays the trumpet and was a member of the "Cowboy Band" and the Abilene Philharmonic Orchestra.

His work with churches before accepting the local position include work as minister of youth and music at East Seminole Baptist Church, Eastland's Bethel Baptist Church and Cops Baptist Church near Abilene. He was a member of First Baptist Church, Abilene, but has transferred his membership to College Baptist.

His duties with College Baptist will include work with junior high and youth choirs, the recreation program at the church gymnasium which will offer participation in individual and team sports activities, and a Mission Vacation Bible School plays in helping her to endure her illness.

"We're looking for a prayed-down, God-Sent, Holy Ghost revival. We'd like to see it have an impact on the whole city of Big Spring. If people cannot attend the revival we would like for them to pray for this effect," said the Rev. Wilkerson.

Sunday, the Baker's Chapel A.M.E. usher board will celebrate its 23rd anniversary with a special service at 3 p.m., and dinner will be served in the church cafeteria following the service.

Special speaker for the service will be the Rev. Helen Hearn, associate pastor of Greater St. Luke, Midland. Mrs. Bobbie Williams, president of the Federated Ushers of Big Spring and member of Mt. Bethel Baptist Church, will preside, and T. S. Hasting, president of the Mt. Bethel Baptist Usher Board will serve as head usher for the service.

Guests at the service include the senior usher board of Greater St. Luke and the senior usher board of Johnson Chapel, Odessa. Member of the Mt. Bethel usher board will also participate.

Music for the occasion will be provided by the Mt. Bethel Baptist Pentachords and the Baker Chapel Choir.

The public is invited to attend the anniversary celebration.

The Rev. Johnie Mitchell, pastor of the Mt. Bethel Missionary Prayer Band Circle, spoke to circle members during their May meeting of "God-Centered Homes."

Mrs. Beatrice Person presided at the meeting, and among those attending was Mrs. Oliver Reed.

A Growing Church With A Grown Welcome.

"I'm just a country preacher, and I have but one reason to be preaching: God Called me," wrote The Rev. John Caraway, pastor of a Baptist Church in Normanna, Tex., near Beeville, to the membership of Crestview Baptist Church here.

The Rev. Caraway will be conducting an "Ole Brush Arbor" revival for a full week beginning Sunday at Crestview. Services will be at 7:30 p.m. each day and at 10:30 a.m. each weekday.

Purpose of the revival, according to the Rev. Jim Wilkerson Jr., pastor of Crestview Baptist, is to recapture the flavor of the revivals held under the protection of brush arbors 75 to 100 years ago, and the Rev. Caraway has been invited to speak because of his reputation as a preacher whose preaching style is reminiscent of earlier revival ministers.

The Rev. Caraway is the pastor of a 40-member church in Normanna. He is a graduate of the University of Corpus Christi.

He will be aided in his ministry here by his wife, Pat, if she feels well enough to present her testimony of faith, according to the Rev. Wilkerson, but she is to accompany the Rev. Caraway to Big Spring.

Mrs. Caraway is the victim of a paralytic disease which confines her to a wheelchair and has affected her vision and hearing. Her testimony largely concerns the part her faith

Mayor Says Nixon Ignoring Problems Of Major Cities

HOUSTON (AP) — Two Democratic presidential candidates and the head of the U.S. Conference of Mayors have accused President Nixon of ignoring the plight of the nation's cities.

"We called for the release of funds impounded by the Administration—locked up in the White House basement, so to speak—for public housing, water and sewer facilities, rehabilitation loans and mass transit," said Milwaukee Mayor Henry Maier, president of the national mayors' group.

Sen. George McGovern said the problems of the cities cannot be solved until this nation gets out of the Vietnam war, and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey charged that President Nixon's economic policies had cost the cities and states $16 billion in lost revenue.

Maier spoke in person Thursday to some 1,500 convention delegates of the AFL-CIO American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, while McGovern and Humphrey spoke via telephone from California where they are vying for next Tuesday's presidential primary.

McGovern said the Vietnam war was diverting funds that should be spent to solve problems at home.

Humphrey said Nixon had fallen down on meeting the cities' needs of housing, child care, education and health.

Maier said the future of the cities was bleak if Congress does not provide billions of dollars.

McGovern said the Vietnam war was diverting funds that should be spent to solve problems at home.

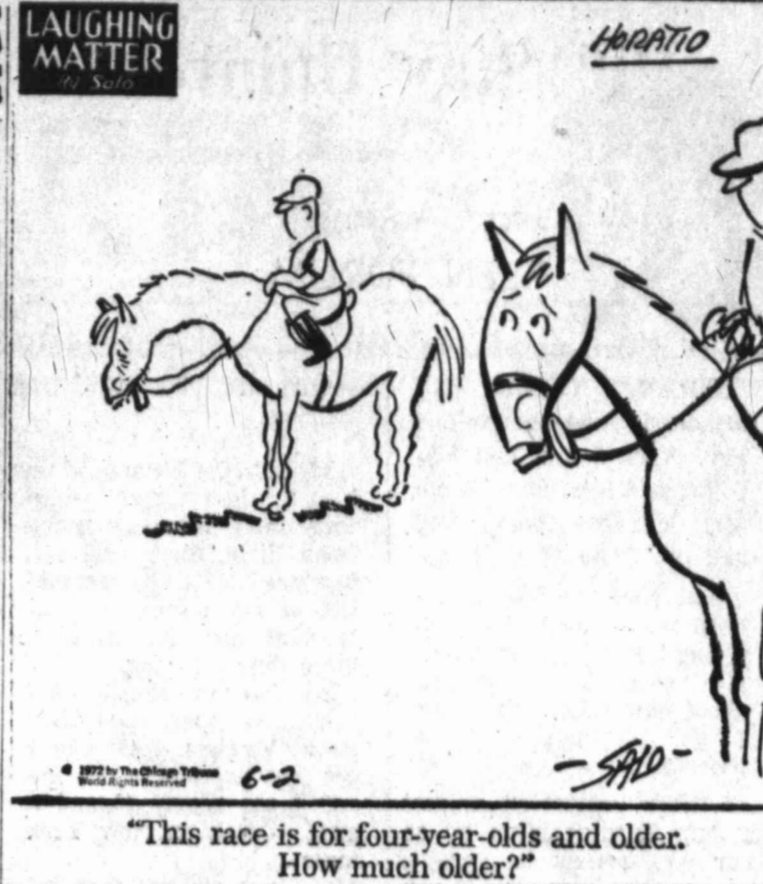

"All of us agree that this country cannot afford another four years of Richard Nixon," McGovern said.

RAKES MONIED

"Let's have a government of the people, by the people and for the people, instead of a government of the monied, by the monied and for the monied," Humphrey said.

Maier said the cities are becoming overwhelmed by problems of slums, traffic jams, pollution, unemployment, crime and drug abuse and don't have enough money to deal with them.

"As you go down the list of these priority items, you can read the dimensions of the urban crisis in very human terms: the man without a job and the family who needs his support; the family crowded into a rundown rat-trap because there is no place else they can afford to live; the child who grows up with only half a chance in life because he lacks medical care; young lives thrown away on drugs; older citizens afraid to go out on the streets; city skies darkened by man-made clouds of dust; waters darkened by wastes," said Maier.

WEST TEXAS WATER PLAN IS BLESSED BY HOBBY

MIDLAND — Some plan to import water to West Texas will be one of his top priorities if he's elected lieutenant governor, said Bill Hobby, an outspoken opponent of the existing Texas Water Plan.

Hobby announced here Thursday that he would appoint a special "blue ribbon" water committee which would include several West Texas senators, mayors and agricultural and business leaders.

This committee, working with Texas officials, officials of other states, and the federal water authorities, will present a "definite and feasible" plan to acquire the water resources that West Texas will need, a news release sent out by Hobby's campaign office asserted.

The release quoted Hobby as saying that "agriculture in West Texas is one of the major businesses in the state. For it to continue at such a high level, we must provide adequate water. The agricultural business of West Texas is essential to the entire state."

Hobby's newspaper, The Houston Post, was given a large share of the responsibility for the defeat in 1969 of a statewide bond issued that would have financed a plan to import Mississippi River water to West Texas.

Hobby has called that plan impractical.

"The present plan leaves serious question as to the probable use of surplus water from the Mississippi River and the approval of those states which must agree to such a procedure, the financial issue and the environmental problems caused by the plan," he said in answer to a Texas League of Women Voters questionnaire.

West Texas water leaders say a statewide plan is the only practical way to provide the area the water it needs to keep its economy at current levels.

Several water authorities said earlier this week that to abandon the existing plan and start all over on one concentrating only on West Texas would be "very dangerous."

FINA HITS ON ARKANSAS WELL

American Petrofina, Incorporated, has announced a discovery well in Arkansas by American Petrofina Company of Texas, its wholly owned subsidiary. The Smackover formation oil well located in the NE SE of Section 33-16, Range 28 West, Miller County, Arkansas. The subsidiary owns approximately a 75 per cent working interest in such well and owns additional leased acres in the area.

The exploratory well is known as the No. 1 Gifco and was drilled to a total depth of 8,416 feet. Casing was run to total depth and perforated from 8,235-50 feet. On a five-hour test, the well flowed at rates varying from 6.7 barrels per hour through a one-eighth-inch choke to 14.7 barrels per hour through a quarter-inch choke. The 45 gravity-oil is low sulfur content, and has a gas-oil ratio of 750-1.

Previously, American Petrofina Company of Texas had drilled one unsuccessful Smackover test and, in conjunction with American Petrofina Exploration Company, had drilled two unsuccessful tests, 1.2 miles, one mile and half mile north and west of the present drill site.

DEADLINE ARRIVES FOR EARLY VOTES

Today at 5 p.m. is the deadline for voting absentee in the Howard County Clerk's office in Tuesday's special state senatorial election.

Mail-in ballots arriving in the clerk's office by 1 p.m. Tuesday may be counted in the vote total, but no more applications for mailed ballots can now be accepted.

A total of 80 persons have voted absentee in the election.

Bill Tippen, an Abilene attorney, is the only candidate on the ballot. Tippen is seeking to serve out the remainder of former State Senator David Ratliff's unexpired term.

Ratliff, D-Stamford, resigned his senatorial post after he was charged with nepotism for allegedly placing members of his own and other legislators' families on his senatorial staff. Ratliff was serving his 17th year as a state senator.

Says '72 Critical Year For Cotton

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — With demands for cotton increasing and yields on the decline, 1972 will be a critical year for cotton, Fred Elliott, cotton specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, predicts.

"The trend toward clothing that is colorful, casual, comfortable and carefree has brought about a resurgence in the demand for the cotton fiber," said the Texas A&M University official. "Farm production must not be geared to meet this demand."

Texas production was down for the 1971 season with an average of 263 pounds of lint per acre. In 1970 the per acre yield was 315 pounds. In 1968, Texas cotton producers boasted an average yield of 410 pounds per acre.

"Unfavorable weather was the big culprit in the reduced cotton crop in Texas in 1971," explains the specialist. "The spring and summer seasons were extremely dry and then the wet fall hampered harvesting activities in many areas."

Elliott noted that the cotton supply is becoming short on all fronts. The national carryover for the 1971-72 season to July 31 is projected at 3.25 million bales. This is less than a four month supply and the lowest in 20 years.

A representative of the Railroad Retirement board will be at Room 242, Federal Building, Fifth and Main, at 8 a.m., Thursday, Postmaster Frank Hardesty said today.

Screwworm Flies Fund Not Enough

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., saying a $9 million request for funds to fight screwworm flies in Texas won't be enough, asked for an additional $2 million for the program Thursday.

In a letter to Sen. Allen Eelender, D-La., chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, Bentsen said a warm winter in Mexico this year apparently allowed enormous numbers of flies to breed and then enter Texas where they infect cattle, sometimes fatally.

At Agriculture Department plant in Mission, Tex., has stepped up production of sterile male screwworm flies from 100 to 200 million a week, Bentsen said, but even this maximum capacity may not be enough.

Stay Uninvolved

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

COUSIN'S CATCH: (Q.) My cousin is engaged to this guy. When I first met him I thought I liked him. I have seen him one more time, and now I know I like him.

Both times he told me he liked me. I know if I keep seeing him I'll get involved. My cousin knows nothing about how I feel. What can I do? — Entangled in Florida.

(A.) Stay uninvolved, no matter how hard it is to do so. Your cousin may be engaged to a guy who likes girls in general, but that is her problem. Your problem is to protect yourself. You can do that only by keeping your distance, mentally and physically, from her fiance.

VISIT? (Q.) We moved up here last year from Virginia. I have this friend down there. She's real old, but nice. She's like a member of my family. I want to visit her this summer more than anything.

My sister is going to Ohio to visit my aunt, but I can't go to Virginia. How can I get my parents to let me go? I am nearly 12 and a girl. — New in New York State.

(A.) Your parents may have told you no for one of several reasons. It may be your age. (You do not say, but your sister may be older than you are.) It may be the distance. (Ohio is nearer your home town than Virginia is.) Or it may be that your friend in Virginia has not invited you.

We do not, you know, just make a visit of a day or a night or of several days and nights without an invitation.

I am reasonably sure that if your friend has invited you she has also written to or talked to your parents about it. If she HAS invited you but HASN'T contacted your parents, write her and ask her to do so.

Fort Worth Dope Haul

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Seventeen city and federal narcotics agents arrested three men making a drug sale to an officer on a North Fort Worth supermarket parking lot Thursday night.

They confiscated 18 ounces of a substance believed to be heroin.

The suspected heroin, when cut and re-cut, would be worth an estimated $100,000 on the illegal drug market, a federal agent said. It was believed the largest haul ever in Fort Worth, police said.

Police said they learned about the heroin sales operation about three weeks ago and cooperated with federal agents in a careful probe.

Capt. C. E. Hogue of the Fort Worth Police Department's plainclothes division said the drug apparently was smuggled from Mexico and apparently came to Fort Worth via San Antonio.

A fourth man was arrested in South Fort Worth later Thursday on a warrant charging him with an earlier sale of heroin to a federal agent. Police said the arrests were connected.
