LEAVING THE SCENE — While police hold a beach-side raid at Dodge State Park No. 4 near Pontiac, Mich., Thursday, young visitors go unnoticed as they glide under a foot bridge and away from the scene. Oakland County police and state park rangers arrested nineteen persons in an attempt to cut rampant drug traffic. Tear gas was used after bottles and rocks were thrown from a crowd estimated between 4,000 to 5,000 young people. No injuries were reported.

Pan Am Rape Victim Talks

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — A defense lawyer's attempt to entangle the testimony of the main witness in the rape trial of two Pan American University basketball players brought only repetitions of her earlier story today.

On the witness stand for the second day was Stella Kramer, 19, a coed who related Thursday in court that she was raped at least six times in the dormitory room of a male student. Defense lawyer Craig Washington questioned Miss Kramer in great detail.

BLACK PEOPLE
Defendants are Reese Stovall, 21, of San Antonio, Tex., and Leo Tolin, 22, Detroit, Mich.

Washington went into such matters as whether Miss Kramer uses birth control pills — she said she doesn't — and the names of her doctor in her home city of Laredo and a woman doctor she saw in Denton where she has been attending Texas Woman's University.

Miss Kramer testified that although she was raped by at least six persons, she could not identify all because mascara from her eyelashes melted onto her contact lenses, obscuring her vision. She identified all of her attackers as "black people."

She also said she did not report the incident immediately because she was "scared and ashamed."

The alleged victim testified that she was lured into Stovall's dormitory room on the pretext that he would teach her to play pool on a miniature pool table.

I'M LEAVING
Immediately after entering his room, Miss Kramer said, she saw no pool table and was told there was none.

She said she told Stovall and Tolin, who was hiding behind a door when she entered the room, "I'm leaving."

Tolin, she said, moved in front of the door and one of them told her if she did not cooperate he was going to press a buzzer and "everybody in the dormitory will come up here and you'll be kicked out of school."

Miss Kramer told the jury of seven women and five men that Stovall and Tolin then disrobed her and Tolin threw her on the bed.

Tolin then had sexual intercourse with her, she said, as Stovall held her to the bed.

Asked by Hidalgo County Dist. Atty. Oscar McInnis what she was doing at the time, Miss Kramer replied "I tried to get up, but he held me down."

About 5 to 6 minutes later, Miss Kramer said, Stovall then had intercourse with her while Tolin watched.

"I was pleading with them to let me go and they kept telling me I was enjoying it," she said. She said Tolin also threatened to hit her on the head with a head board of the bed.

After Stovall had intercourse with her, Miss Kramer said, other people came in the room and had intercourse with her.

Asked by McInnis how many persons raped her, Miss Kramer replied "I don't remember how many. Six at least."

Miss Kramer said she was later allowed to dress and leave the dormitory after being warned by Tolin "if you say anything about this, you'll be sorry."

The girl said she did not attend classes the next day because "I was sore and I felt sick."

Asked by McInnis why she did not report the incident, Miss Kramer replied, "for one thing, they threatened me — I was scared and ashamed."

"I didn't want to tell my parents. I just knew my mother would have pulled me out of school," Miss Kramer said as she sobbed quietly.

"My parents had just written a $512 check on Friday so I could go to school," she said, sobbing again.

I TRUSTED THEM
Miss Kramer said the first time she ever told anyone of the incident was on Feb. 23 when she was called to the office of Mrs. Bonnie Powers, dean of women at the university. She did not explain why she was called to the office in the first place.

AIRLINE EXTORTION — A man identified as Robert George Dillenbeck, 36, hangs his head as he is led away by FBI agents in Philadelphia following his capture near his home after an alleged attempt to extort $300,000 from American Airlines by claiming an altitude bomb was on one of its planes. An American jetliner landed safely at Los Angeles and no bomb was found aboard. Dillenbeck faces a hearing on a variety of charges.

Coed Killer Sentenced

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — A jury has assessed Stephen Max Combs a 25-year prison term for the murder of a North Texas State University coed.

Combs, 27, was found guilty of the 1970 slaying of Vickie Berneathy, 20, in Midland, and the same jury assessed the prison term Thursday.

The defendant, a Midland resident, was sent to Rusk State Hospital for a time after the slaying and later a jury declared him sane, clearing the way for the murder trial.

Crime Factory?

DALLAS (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge Sarah Hughes sharply criticized county officials Thursday and labeled the Dallas County jail "a factory for crime."

She said people are turned loose on the streets of Dallas "who are more criminal than when they were put in jail."

The jurist directed her attack at County Judge Lew Sterrett and the county commissioners during a hearing in which she refused to cite Sheriff Clarence Jones for contempt of court.

She said she gave Jones "the benefit of the doubt" in assuming he did not fully understand her previous order calling for immediate jail reforms.

Sterrett and the commissioners, who previously criticized her jail reform order as too costly and impractical, did not fare so well.

During the trial of the case, she said, neither Sterrett nor any members of the commissioners court showed up.

"The government of the county left the sole defense of the case to their attorney," she said. "At that time they seemed to show no interest in what was going on."

She said Sterrett and the commissioners seemed chiefly interested in the expense of jail reform rather than the contents of her order.

"The county judge has never come to me and told me, but it would appear they think they do not have to abide by the order — but that they can delay this matter," Judge Hughes said.

"They can't delay the order of this court. That order was effective June 5 and they should have immediately done something about renovating the old jail so that they could put prisoners over in it."

Drug Raid In Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Authorities swept through Dallas Thursday in an overnight crackdown on drug pushers that netted more than 30 arrests with more expected today.

Police called the series of raids the largest crackdown of its kind in Dallas history.

"This is a quality roundup," said Police Capt. B. E. Shaffer, head of the Dallas Police Department's drug abuse division.

"We are getting the pushers exclusively — almost all for heroin."

Teams of officers triggered the series of raids late Thursday in a sweep through sections of east, south and west Dallas.

They were armed with shotguns and warrants but encountered no resistance.

Bond for most of those accused of selling heroin to undercover agents was set at $7,500 for each count. By midnight Justice of the Peace Tom Naylor had set bonds totaling $370,000 for 28 defendants.

Innocent Plea Andrews Doc Faces 'Pep Pills' Charge

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A West Texas physician pleaded innocent here Thursday to charges of illegally prescribing amphetamines and similar substances.

Dr. Henry Thomas Leigh, 55, of Andrews, is charged in a five-count indictment returned March 9 by a federal grand jury in Midland.

U.S. District Court Judge John Wood Jr. overruled a defense motion for dismissal but reserved the right to reconsider his ruling later if necessary.

Wood said the case probably will go to trial within the next two months in Midland before him or U.S. District Court Judge Ernest Guinn of El Paso.

According to an affidavit, Dr. Leigh has been a physician in Andrews since December 1959. He is free on bond.

In an affidavit supporting his motion for dismissal, Leigh said he is a duly licensed doctor and registered to dispense the amphetamines, biphetamines and other substances in question.

At Thursday's hearing, Asst. U.S. Atty. James Kerr of San Antonio contended that five persons who received the capsules and tablets were undercover agents for state police or the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs who had no medical need for the prescriptions.

Leigh is charged with distributing a total of 150 capsules or tablets in June and September 1971.

Dying Man Makes Plans Anyway

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — "There are so many things wrong with me," says Paul Isleman. "I don't know if it is worth it to stay alive this much longer."

He doesn't always feel that way but he won't live much longer anyway, doctors say. Isleman lives one day at a time, having been told by physicians not to plan more than a day ahead because there is no guarantee he'll still be alive.

A diabetic for 20 years, Isleman now suffers severe arthritis and a skin disorder, has a poor heart and kidney and has problems with his blood pressure and nerves.

In the past two years he has been divorced, buried his mother, lost his job because of failing health and given his two children up to foster parents. Yet despite these tragedies he says: "Life is worth it."

Paul Isleman is 27.

"I've given life to someone else, raising two kids," he said. "I've traveled a lot, done a lot of things. Life is really how long you live just as long as you do something with it."

He lives with his sister, sleeping most of the day. Weekends he takes his camper van and drives to the desert, where he collects rocks and relaxes and thinks.

Son of Solon Cycle Victim

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP) — The son of U.S. Rep. Ed Edmondson was killed today in a motorcycle accident in Muskogee.

John Edmondson, 22, was dead on arrival at Muskogee General Hospital about 6:15 a.m. A young woman companion, 21-year-old Verna Wilburn of Muskogee, was reported seriously injured.

Muskogee is the home town of the Democratic congressman, who is a candidate for the U.S. Senate nomination.

Strike Threat After Skyjack By 10 Czechs

LONDAON (AP) — The International Federation of Airline Pilots Associations threatened Thursday night to ground most of the world's airlines for 24 hours June 19 unless the United Nations takes effective action against aerial hijacking.

The strike threat came a few hours after 10 Czechs hijacked a Czechoslovak airliner to West Germany, killing the pilot in the struggle to take over the plane. A West German prosecutor said he will try to put the Czechs on trial.

The U.S. Air Line Pilots Association has asked all union workers to join in a boycott of the airlines of all nations that give refuge to skyjackers.

The international federation said it supported proposals to set up a special commission to recommend measures against nations that harbor or fail to prosecute hijackers, and warned: "If the United Nations fail to take effective action, then IFALPA has initiated plans to institute a worldwide stoppage of air services on June 19, 1972."

HCHA Seeks Judgment To Validate Creation

The Howard County Hospital Authority filed Thursday evening for a declaratory judgment to validate its creation and authority to issue revenue bonds.

It is an ex parte proceeding filed in 118th District Court in which the authority seeks to have the court declare the creation of the authority valid, also its right to issue bonds, to make and collect charges sufficient for operation and for retirement of bonds.

The petition is a class action, and the pleadings ask for a consolidation of all litigation pertaining to the authority, according to John Ferguson of Weaver and Ferguson, attorneys for the authority. A suit challenging the constitutionality of the state statute on creation of hospital authorities has been filed in the court by Ray Thomas against the authority and Howard County Commissioners Court.

Elbert M. Morrow, member of the firm of Dumas, Huguenin, Boothman and Morrow of Dallas, the bond attorneys for the authority, also will act as counsel for the authority.

Earlier in the week, the authority trustees voted to issue a total of $1,700,000 in revenue bonds (in two increments) as part of the financing for a proposed $2.6 million expansion program for Medical Center Memorial Hospital, which is to be given to the authority.

The declaratory is being sought, according to authority officials, in an effort to clear up legal questions which need to be settled before actual selling of the bonds or starting of any new construction connected with the expansion.

District Judge R. W. Caton said this morning he has yet to set a date to rule on the matter.

for a family of four and supplementary federal payment for the working poor.

The committee rejected both of these features, precipitating an almost-certain bitter floor fight.

HELPING WIDOWS
The bill contains broad new Social Security benefits for widows, persons who work beyond 65, and retirees whose incomes are impaired by inflation; brings 1.5 million disabled persons under Medicare health protection; increases assistance substantially to aged, blind and disabled persons on welfare; and seeks to control spiralling Medicare and Medicaid costs.

In a major decision Thursday, the committee decided to extend, for the first time, Medicare coverage to many prescription drugs taken by aged persons at home.

SUDDEN CHANGE: (Q.) I've been going with this boy for about three months. Everything was going fine until about a week ago. He used to be one of the sweetest guys in the world, but lately he's been a real ogre! He beats on me and cuts me down, and it's driving me insane. I don't know what's the matter with him. I want to help him get back his sweet disposition. I've tried to talk to him but he tells me to mind my own business. Do you have any suggestions? — Mixed Up in Maryland.

Casualties In Viet War

SAIGON (AP) — Eleven Americans were killed in action last week, 20 were wounded, and 2 died of nonhostile causes, the U.S. Command announced Thursday.

The U.S. figures reflected little change from preceding weeks. This was in contrast to soaring South Vietnamese casualties in the ground war, where they have taken over the bulk of the fighting.

An unofficial tabulation indicated that 95 Americans have been killed in air and ground action and 206 have been wounded since the North Vietnamese offensive began March 30.

South Vietnamese headquarters announced the highest government death toll in six weeks—912 troops killed in action—plus 3,281 wounded and 274 missing.

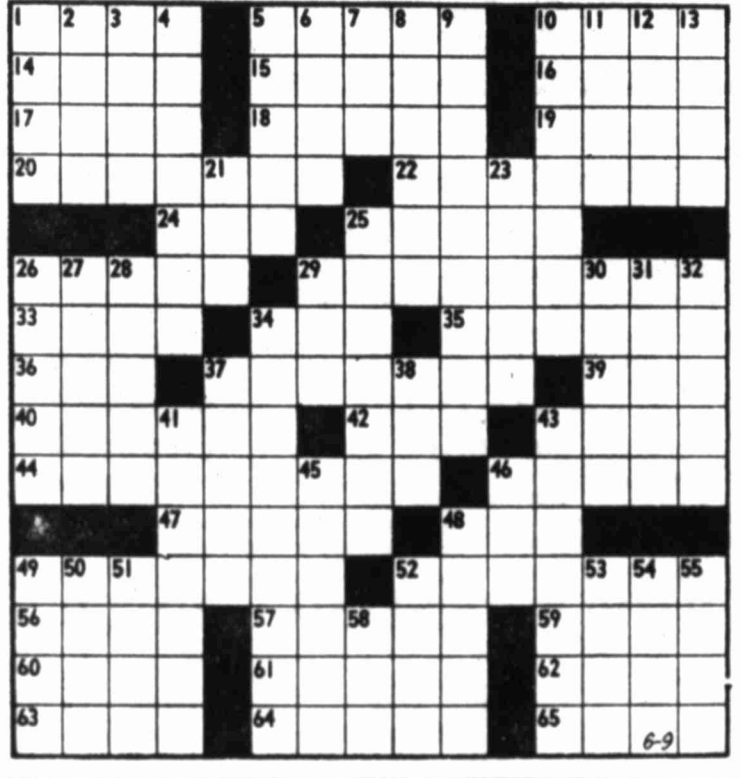

This raised South Vietnamese casualties since the offensive began to 7,345 killed and 23,752 wounded.

The Saigon command claimed 4,314 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed last week, raising to 39,547 the total number of enemy soldiers killed since March 30.

New Pastor Here At First Methodist

Sunday, the Rev. J. B. Sharp, College and the Perkins School new pastor of First United Methodist Church, will present his first sermon to his new congregation.

The Rev. Sharp and his wife, Bobbie, arrived in Big Spring Wednesday with their five children, Jim, Bob, Ann, Paul and Susan. The Sharps came to Big Spring from Amarillo where the Rev. Sharp was pastor of St. Paul Methodist Church.

A graduate of McMurry

REV. J. B. SHARP

The Rev. Sharp is assuming the pastorate held here for seven years by the Rev. Leo K. Gee, who has moved to the Rev. Sharp's former pastorate at St. Paul, Amarillo.

The Rev. Gee and his wife Barbara, and four daughters, Amy, 16, Rita, 14, Kelly, 11 and Ginger, 6, left for their Amarillo home Wednesday.

"We've thoroughly enjoyed Big Spring and our association with non-Methodists as well as our Church members and other Methodists in the community. I don't think there are many preachers who have enjoyed the cooperation of people outside their church that I have had," said the Rev. Gee.

"We've spent most of our time remodeling the parsonage and the church, and we have acquired property for parking space and future growth of the church," said the Rev. Gee of some of the projects during his pastorate.

Fans Need Training, Too

By DON COOPER
Herald Sports Editor

The high school and college spring drills are over. The pro rookie camps have closed and the prospective professionals have gone home for a month. However, the work has just begun for the football fan.

June is the month that the television football fan must get in shape for the long season coming up. There will be exhibition games, college games, college highlights, pro highlights, films of high school games on the 6 o'clock News and the 10 O'Clock News, and finally in late-September will be the professional football season.

The almost endless chain of football events will continue unabated until the Pro Bowl game in late January. For six months, football will dominate the airways of all three networks. The average non-fan recognizes the need for the athletes to get in shape to compete in all levels of football. However, these non-fans do not recognize the necessity for the football fan to train vigorously to get into the proper physical condition to participate in the strenuous contest of television football viewing.

Exactly what is involved in getting ready for television football?

I have outlined a typical training program which can get the television football fan into peak condition for viewing high school highlights on Friday night, NCAA College Game of the Week and subsequent highlights on Saturday, NFL (CBS) and AFC (NBC) Games of the Week — frequently doubleheaders — the Howard, Dandy Don and Frank Comedy Show and Monday Night Football, and all the highlights that will be shown between Tuesday and Thursday.

Every day is filled with football. From July until February, not a single day will pass without football being on the television. The die-hard television football fan will not miss a single minute of his favorite sport on the tube.

JUNE 16-24

These drills during this period will consist of wind sprints and wrist-strengthening exercises. These drills are non-contact drills and can be carried out in the living room, or wherever the television is located.

WIND SPRINTS: Start slowly, doing only 15-20 sprints from the television to the refrigerator and back to the television. These drills are to enable you to get from your chair to the refrigerator and back to your chair with refreshments during the commercial or station-break. (Note: The average commercial is 61.3 seconds in length; the average station break lasts 27 seconds.)

WRIST DRILLS: These drills are designed to strengthen your wrists, making channel selection quicker and easier. Changing the channel from NBC to CBS (to avoid the halftime shows and catch the final minutes of the first half of the games on the other channels) and back to NBC is tiring. Many good fans have missed part of a season because of "Watcher's Wrist." "Watcher's Wrist" strikes the television football fan as often as knee injuries strike the football players. These wrist exercises cut down on the possibility of injury which could mean loss of football viewing for part of the season. It also means that since you couldn't select the channel, you could be stuck watching the reruns of the old "Lassie" series with the kids.

JUNE 25-JULY 27

This is crucial part of the fan's training period. This is the time of the contact work.

WIND SPRINTS: The wind sprints are to be conducted under game conditions. Put obstacles between your chair and the television and the refrigerator. These obstacles may be furniture, children and pets, toys, guests or your wife. Practice sprinting from your chair to the television to change the channel and back to your chair. Do this drill 25-30 times per day.

Sprint from your chair to the refrigerator for refreshments. (Beverages, sandwiches, potato chips, etc.) Do these drills until you can go from your chair to the refrigerator and back to your chair with something to drink, three sandwiches, a bag of potato chips and a piece of cake in 61 seconds or less. (See Note above)

Do these sprints under game conditions, avoiding the obstacles, during a baseball game. This will give you good — and needed — practice. If it is not possible to avoid these obstacles, run over them.

WRIST DRILLS: The wrist drills are crucial. Practice channel selection 100 times per day. Ignore the cries of protest from the children when "Bonanza" or one of their favorite shows is switched to "First Tuesday." It is vital that you be able to properly change channels.

As stated before, the period June 25-July 27 is the most crucial period in your training cycle. The training period is designed to take you right up to the opening of the pro football exhibition period.

That's right. You must be in shape by July 28 because that's when the Dallas Cowboys play their first exhibition game.

MORE THAN 240 ENTRIES Match Competition Fills Tennis Courts

The tennis courts at Big Spring High School and Howard County Jr. College were filled yesterday and will be filled today and Saturday as competition in the second annual Big Spring Open Tennis Tournament continues.

More than 240 entries are competing in the tournament this year and tournament director Novice Kniffen, tennis coach at Big Spring High School, and Leroy Walker are well pleased.

"We lost some possible entries because of the Texas Open going on at Corpus Christi. That's where the players get their state ratings, so it may have taken away some players that would have come here. But, I'm real pleased with our tournament. We've got players from Austin, Odessa, a lot from Monahans and several other places."

Players in the junior division competed in boys' and girls' singles yesterday. The adult divisions do not begin play until 5 p.m. today.

The defending champion in men's singles competition is like Groce of Abilene. Groce is entered in the tournament again this year.

One class saw competition completed yesterday. In the 12-year old girls' singles, Margaret Womack of Snyder defeated Denise Lee of Monahans in the finals, 6-2 and 6-1, to take the championship.

Miss Womack defeated Sherry Williams of Big Spring, 6-4 and 6-1, in the preliminaries. Miss Lee drew a bye in the first round.

In the 18-year-old bracket, Tommy Davenport of Stanton defeated Joel Dyer of Big Spring, 6-4 and 6-4, in the preliminaries.

preliminaries of boys' singles. In the same class, Rick Grimes of Abilene tripped up Randy Mattingly of Big Spring, 6-1 and 6-4.

In the 18-year-old girls singles competition Judy Jordan of Big Spring defeated Kenis McGough of Austin, 6-0 and 6-2. Sara Mills of Midland defeated Pam Underwood of Snyder, 6-1 and 6-0. Sandy Williams of Big Spring, 6-0 and 6-0. Marsha Talbot of Austin, 6-0 and 6-0. The semi-final round today will pit Miss Jordan against Loretta Young of Andrews and Miss Mills will face Miss Williams. Miss Young drew a bye in the first round yesterday.

'I WAS EXCITED' Englert Signs With Giants

"I was really excited," outfielder R. J. Englert said about learning that he had been selected by the San Francisco Giants in the baseball free agent draft which concluded Wednesday. Englert signed a contract with the National League club Wednesday afternoon.

"I was umpiring a game Wednesday afternoon when the Giants called me and told me that they had chosen me," Englert added. The Giants' San Antonio-based scout Andy Andrews signed the Big Spring product to the contract.

"Playing major league baseball has been one of my dreams for a long time," Englert continued, "and I'm happy that I'm getting a chance to do it. I also hoped that I would make the All-American team while I was a college player."

Englert will leave Big Spring tomorrow for Casa Grande, Ariz., for a two-week session in the Giants' rookie training camp. "I'm looking forward to the training camp," commented Englert. "The instructors there are Carl Hubbell and Hank Sauer." Hubbell is the former New York Giant pitcher who was inducted into the Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, N.Y., in 1947. Sauer was a long-ball hitting outfielder with several National League teams in the 1950's.

COX, STEWART DEFENDING CHAMPS Partnership Tournament Set Saturday

The Big Spring Country Club Partnership Golf Tournament opens Saturday with 106 teams trying to win part of the $1,500 in prizes.

Eight prizes will be awarded in both the handicap and scratch divisions. First prize in each division will be a $300 gift certificate for the team.

Returning to defend their championship in the scratch division will be Big Spring High School golf coach Royce Cox and Howard Stewart. Stewart plays for the Odessa College golf team.

They will tee off with the first group on the first tee at 2 p.m. Handicap players will tee off at 8:30 a.m. The tournament will have a shotgun start.

Some of the teams that are expected to give Cox and Stewart tough competition are Pat Weaver and Willie Breland, Wally and Mark Slate, Mark McCraney and Danny Walters, Bob Waters and Bob Smith, Ted Gross and M. R. Koger, Mike Weaver and Mike Hall and Jerry Barron and Richard Pachal.

Ronnie Broadrick, who set a course record on Memorial Day with a 62, will not play in the tournament because he is currently at the NAIA tournament in Roswell, N.M., with the Angelo State golf team.

C. G. Griffin, pro at the country club, said the course is in very good shape. The grass on the fairways, particularly on the front nine, is in excellent condition. The greens, despite having a great amount of traffic the last few days, are in good shape.

Griffin said the people playing in the championship flight will have to tee off from the yellow tee markers located at the back of the tee boxes. Handicap players will play from the red markers. They will be moved back, but not all the way to the back.

A water trap has been installed on the ninth hole to discourage people from taking a short cut from tee to green. It is placed between a bunker on the left side of the fairway and the green.

Also, the water trap between the twelfth and sixteenth greens is filled.

CHIPPERS IN TOURNAMENT
LAMESA — The Morton Chippers will play in the fifth annual Lamesa Optimist Invitational Fastpitch Softball Tournament here June 16-18.

A team from Webb AFB, is also entered.

The tournament will feature 16 teams. Fifteen teams have already entered.

Trophies for first, second and third place, most valuable pitcher, most valuable player other than a pitcher and the all-tournament team will be presented.

Billings collected three hits, including a tower two-run homer, Thursday night as the Rangers climbed out of the American League Western Division cellar with a 6-2 victory over the New York Yankees.

"Billings has started to realize that you can make 'christians' out of those pitchers," Williams said. "You play a game with 'em, that's how you hit."

Williams likes for a hitter to guess with the pitcher and anticipate what the pitcher will throw the next time at bat, based on what type pitch he batter got the previous time up. "I look for pitches more than ever before," said Billings, who raised his batting average to .291. "I guessed (Yankees starting pitcher Mel) Stottlemyer was going to throw me a slider in the first inning and there it was. I figured he would come back with a fast ball my next time at bat, and sure enough I hit it for a single."

Billings' two-run homer in the first inning gave Texas a lead it never relinquished as young Pete Broberg, who gets his B. A. degree in economics today at Dartmouth, was credited with his fourth victory against as many losses.

Broberg was relieved by Paul Lindblad in the sixth inning after surrendering three straight walks.

"I feel if I can get a chance to play every day I can hit around .280," Billings said. "Williams has started to show confidence in me. He has his ideas about platooning and I have mine. I want to play every day if I'm doing the job."

Billings' surge with the bat has put starting catcher Hal King on the bench.

Williams said, "Billings knows the pitchers better and it's starting to dawn on him he can guess with the pitcher."

Billings added, "Anybody who says they don't guess is either a super hitter or he has more talent than I do."

Broberg wasn't overly elated at being yanked with a 5-0 lead in the sixth but admitted, "I was throwing hard but I didn't feel good. I was sorta tight."

Motocross Set At San Angelo

SAN ANGELO — West Texas motocross racers responded to a completely dry track last Saturday with high speeds at the San Angelo Raceway Park.

This weekend racers will try again at 7 p.m. Saturday. The track is located one mile past Mathis Field.

Craig Hodnett of Big Spring and Kirk Bomer of San Angelo have developed a tough rivalry in the mini-bike class. Hodnett won last week, but competition from Bomer and Jerry Nickell of Midland are in store for him.

Terry Peterson of Big Spring won the 250cc expert class last week, but Tom Sparks or Steven Floyd of San Angelo is favored this week.

Pirates Blast Optimists

The Pirates opened the floodgates on the Optimists late in the game Thursday night to hand them an 11-2 defeat in the Hi-Juniour League. Ten runs crossed the plate for the Pirates in the last three innings as they erased a 2-1 Optimist lead. Barry Canning, Wayne Dickens and Tony Haro all led the Pirate offensive with two doubles each. Andra Harrington chipped in with a triple. Jeff Kuykendall was the winning pitcher. It was his third victory without a defeat. Kit Grice was the loser.

The Jets scored two runs in the top of the sixth inning to claim a 3-1 victory over the Cabots in the American Little League Thursday night. Winning pitcher, Scott Robertson pitched a good game for the Jets, going the distance and allowing only five hits and a first inning run to the Cabots. The Jets had eight hits in the game. Robertson, Jimmy Combs and Thomas Kohl all had two hits each.

The Devils rose up from the league cellar Thursday night to shake the first-place Devils in the National Little League, 9-3. Lloyd Jolly was the hitting star of the game as he clubbed a first inning homer. He also had a double and two singles to go four for four. Brian Nikolai played an outstanding defensive game for the Devils by catching two deep fly balls to center field. He had to lean across the fence to get one of them. Whitney West got the win. He went the first five innings before getting relief help from Mike Madry in the last inning. Thompson was charged with the loss.

The heavy-hitting Pirates crashed three home runs among their 15 hits and buried San Diego 11-2 while the speed-conscious Dodgers scored the winning run without a hit—Billy Grabarkewitz racing all the way home from second base on a wild pitch—to nip the Chicago Cubs 2-1.

Kilgore Clips Lamesa, 4-0

AUSTIN — Kilgore took advantage of three Lamesa errors to tally four unearned runs and defeat the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes Thursday night, 4-0. The Bulldogs scored one run in the first inning when Mark Awalt reached base on an error. He was sacrificed to second by Bill Ott, advanced to third on a passed ball and scored on another error. Kilgore broke the game open in the fourth when he tallied three runs. Lamesa pitcher Phil Palmer opened the inning with a walk to Cary Dukes. Ott was then safe at first on a fielder's choice. Both players stole a base, and then Dukes came home on a throwing error by Lamesa's David Sisson. Ott scored on a single by Dale Hedrick who had all three hits for the Bulldogs.

$21.3 Billion Education Bill Sent To Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has sent a $21.3-billion education bill to President Nixon and a message to the courts that it wants a halt in busing for school desegregation.

The big education bill with its anti-busing rider was passed by the House Thursday, 218 to 180. It had passed the Senate on a 63-15 vote.

The bill combines funding authorization for a wide variety of educational programs with a provision that would prevent federal court desegregation orders from taking effect for 18 months unless all appeals have been exhausted.

FIXED LIMITS
By the end of the 18 months, supporters of the provision hope, the Supreme Court will have fixed limits for busing for the purpose of school desegregation.

The White House has said Nixon is dissatisfied with the busing provision—he is said to want a stronger moratorium—but sponsors of the bill expect him to sign it.

Civil-rights liberals contended the busing provision signals a retreat from the nation's commitment to racial equality.

FEDERAL AID
The educational provisions were all but overlooked in the strident debate over busing.

The main bill would:
—Launch a new program of direct federal aid to colleges and universities that could provide them with as much as $1 billion a year.

—Entitle every college student to a grant of $1,400 a year, minus what his parents could afford to contribute toward his education.

—Authorize $1 billion a year to help elementary and secondary schools desegregate.

—Establish a national institute of education to foster research into all aspects of the learning process.

The money figures in the bill only set the ceilings for the program. The actual funds would have to be appropriated in separate legislation and could be considerably lower.

PACKAGE
The busing-education package, which had to be accepted or rejected in its entirety, proved to be a prickly one for most members, and the vote split both parties almost down the middle. A total of 130 Democrats and 88 Republicans voted for the bill, and 108 Democrats and 76 Republicans voted against it.

Joining in the opposition were civil-rights liberals and leading Southern foes of desegregation who found the busing provision distasteful for opposite reasons.

The liberals blasted it as an unprecedented interference by Congress in the courts' authority to protect constitutional rights. The Southerners called it a retreat from stronger anti-busing provisions passed earlier by the House but weakened in a compromise with the Senate.

Airline Fines Total $2,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Aviation Administration has imposed the maximum penalties—fines of $1,000 each—on two airlines whose planes were hijacked in April. The fines are for failing to carry out prescribed passenger screening.

United Air Lines was fined in connection with the April 7 hijacking of a Denver-to-Los Angeles flight. A man later identified as Richard McCoy Jr. bailed out over Provo, Utah, with ransom money. McCoy was later captured and the money was recovered.

Pacific Southwest Airlines was fined for the hijacking of an Oakland-to-San Diego flight April 9, the FAA said Thursday. A man later identified as Stanley Spock was overpowered and apprehended at San Diego.

The FAA has prescribed certain passenger-screening procedures at major airports.

Shotgun Blast Perks Up Farenthold Death Probe

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — A shotgun blast into the office of two men charged with defrauding slain millionaire Randy Farenthold caused police today to step up their investigation into the case.

A terse note left at the Smith Construction Co. offices Wednesday night was punctuated by a shotgun blast which shattered a plate glass window and pockmarked the paneled office and reception area.

The note read: "You have 30 days. Enjoy it."

The sinister note and shooting followed by a mere two days the discovery of Farenthold's body on the shore north of Corpus Christi Bay.

Farenthold, the stepson of state Rep. Frances Farenthold, was apparently killed gangland style, his hands tied behind him and his body anchored by a 25-pound block chained around his neck.

The note was apparently addressed to Bruce L. Base III and Tharel Smith, both named in government indictments charging them with a scheme to defraud Farenthold, 32, of $100,000. Two Kentucky men are also named in the federal indictments.

A medical examiner said it appeared Farenthold had been knocked on the head, his unconscious body weighted down by the block, and dumped into the bay.

Smith and Bass, owners of the construction company, appeared to be shaken up by the note and shotgun blast into the unoccupied office Wednesday night.

Both said they feel they would have been cleared of the "ridiculous" charges against them even if Farenthold had lived to testify.

Shift Of Convention Site Is Costly To Merchants

By LUCRETIA STIGER
Copy News Service
SAN DIEGO, Calif. — What do you do with 600 dozen ashtrays printed "Republican, San Diego, '72"?

And what do you say about the engraved pen sets, the rhinestone-studded GOP pins, the liquor labels, the plush pillows, the balloons, buttons and badges?

You can laugh a lot — and threaten to descend on Miami with your souvenirs.

Or you could do what Mrs. Michael Mooney of a downtown gift and card shop is doing: select people with the initials G.O.P. from the San Diego telephone directory and write to them offering to sell them the rhinestone pins — at cost.

"That's about all I could think of," said Mrs. Mooney. She added, "Then, of course, there is the 'Nixon is the Pie' engraved pen set," a one-of-a-kind item made by Wendell Stewart over at Stewart's Pen Shop.

TRIAL ITEMS
Stewart acknowledged that the set was a sort of "trial" item and that nobody is quite sure what is to happen to the marbled toothpick-dispensing pen set.

The shifting of the Republican convention from San Diego to Miami left some of San Diego's merchants with everything from unprocessed orders to collectors' items.

Ken Crain, George Snell and Jack Adelman at Palomar Foods are having a lot of fun with the 600 dozen specially printed ashtrays, which match the 600 dozen specially printed glasses.

"Yeah, we got a lot of those," sales manager Snell says. "How many do you want? Lots, I hope!"

Not only did the San Diego firm come up with its own designs for the '72 convention here, but had the glasses and ashtrays made up, along with "20 or 30,000 cocktail stirrers" which they are now wondering what to do with.

"Strange thing, though," Snell reports, "the things are selling pretty well as joke or novelty items. Our employees are buying them as novel gifts for friends."

Registration for the summer fun activities of the Citywide Recreational program continues to gain.

More than 60 boys and girls have been registered for the daily event beginning Monday at the Comanche Trail Park. Those who cannot register in advance at the YMCA, which is administering the arrangements, are asked to be at the Old Settlers pavilion at 9 a.m. Monday.

The 9-12 noon schedule will continue until July 28. There is trained adult leadership, and the activities include games, hikes, arts, crafts, etc. and recreational swimming.

Every child of elementary school age is invited to take part without charge. Parents who are able may pay a $1 fee for arts and crafts materials replacements. Program officials emphasized, however, that any and all children are welcome, regardless of the fee.

for instance, and we're selling a few cases to restaurants." Snell notes that some Democrats are buying the items as gag gifts to Republican "friends." If the stock doesn't sell by this summer, Snell and Crain may try to sell them in Miami, which should thoroughly confuse everyone there. The glasses sell for $28.25 a case of six dozen, and the ashtrays by the six-dozen case for $18.95.

WANTS TO GO
George Ghanem, the San Diego representative of Jim

Beam liquors wishes he could go to Miami, too. "It was my idea that we come out with a 'Regal China' special convention bottle saying 'San Diego, '72' in blue and gold, the California colors . . . we would have sold 400 to 600 cases (12 bottles each) of the label here," Ghanem says. Believing things to be "a little shaky" on the San Diego scene a week later — or by May 15 — would have begun ordering convention items.

'Danny The Red' Going To Prison

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — "Danny the Red" is going to prison.

Daniel Cohn-Bendit, the student protest leader, was sentenced Thursday to nine months for urging attacks on police at a Black Panther sympathy march.

Cohn-Bendit, known as "Danny the Red," also was placed on a three-year probation and ordered to pay $92 to the German Red Cross.

He was convicted of breach of the public peace and advocating acts of violence at the parade in November 1970.

Two More Administrators Resign At UT Med Branch

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — University of Texas officials, who fired the dean of San Antonio's Medical School three days ago, now have to fill two other top posts at the institution.

The school's associate dean and the head of the department of medicine disclosed their resignations Thursday in the wake of Dean F. Carter Pannill's ouster.

Pannill's dismissal has unleashed a controversy that called to mind the firing two years ago of John Silber, dean of the college of arts and Sciences at UT-Austin.

'FULL REPORT'

UT Chancellor Charles LeMaistre said earlier this week that he would make a "full report" on Pannill at the UT Regents' meeting today in Galveston.

LeMaistre, who fired Pannill on Tuesday, named an interim dean on Wednesday—Dr. Truman Blocker Jr., president of the UT Medical Branch at Galveston. He is to assume the temporary job Monday.

Disclosing their resignations Thursday were Associate Dean Fred M. Taylor, second in command to Pannill, and Dr. Leon Cander, chairman of the school's department of medicine.

Taylor resigned as associate dean effective at once and as a pediatrics professor effective Aug. 31. Cander, often called a key figure in the controversy over Pannill's dismissal, said his resignation is effective Jan. 1.

In another development Thursday, UT Regents Chairman John Peace said more than 20 faculty members and residents have left the San Antonio school in recent months over internal strife.

"This was what we have been talking about when we mentioned internal matters and what we were trying to settle," Peace said.

System Still Works

John Connally said his goodbyes at the Treasury Department the other day and took a parting crack at carping critics of the country. He said the American democracy "has done an unbelievable and incredible job."

The productive genius of the American people, with the competitive system they have developed, is an incredible performance to many, even within our own borders. In 1950, this country's Gross National Product was a puny $285 billion — respectable for its era but only a third as great as it was to be a scant 15 years later, in 1965. By 1970, it was about $760 billion and this year it is flirting with a trillion dollars.

In terms of world leadership in producing the top spots in most fields. A survey by the Paris newspaper, Le Monde, of the 20 largest companies goods for the people, American enterprise occupies 13 business fields found 117 of those top 260 were American. American industry has the lead — sometimes a long lead — in such things as cars, aircraft, steel, oil, banking and chemicals. It is a robust competitor in foods (the British-Dutch Unilever food giant is number one), electronics and insurance.

All of this means Americans are affluent and, Arnold Toynbee, the noted historian has pointed out, envied, in most of the rest of the world. The envy, he has written, is the result of the fact that the American system works better than whatever its nearest rival system is.

The system works to produce goods and services and it provides more personal liberty for American citizens than is the case in other lands. That the system has breakdowns is because people operate it — and subvert it, upon occasion.

Probably the basis of most complaint of Americans is that they either don't know how well off they are or that they do and they feel guilty about it. The valid criticism of the system is that it hasn't moved rapidly enough against the nagging social ills of the country. There are several reasons for that and one is that the system attempts to let local control work if it will. It hasn't in notable instances and federal control has moved, causing irritations or worse. Again, that is a part of the system and it is working — very well, if inordinantly slow in some few instances.

Thanks For A Good Job

Now nearing completion is the resurfacing project on Gregg Street, which carries the US 87 traffic through Big Spring.

While this project has caused some minor inconveniences, in movement of traffic, the benefits will continue for many seasons to come. The heavily travelled street now has the bumps smoothed out and a not-top mix with fine aggregate designed to make it more skid resistant.

It is all too easy to accept improvements such as this like the rains and the sunshine. Instead, we feel that the Texas Highway Department and the Texas Highway commission are due a vote of appreciation from the public. This is a classic example of the sort of thing they do because it benefits the public and without anyone having to call upon them to do it.

Would Reform Help?

Around The Rim

Steve Hultman

TAXES AND tax reform are popular topics for reform-minded political candidates for local, state and national office.

Many solutions to our tax problems have been suggested by the various candidates, including making the rich pay their fair share of the tax load.

Extra tax dollars can be collected if the tax laws affecting the rich are revalued. But to believe the rich can pay enough to appreciably lighten the tax burden of the middle class taxpayer is naive.

According to the First National City Bank, 11 per cent of the adjusted gross income in 1970 was earned by families making $5,000 or less. Another 50 per cent was earned by from $15,000 to $50,000 per year, and $15,000, the largest group of taxpayers in the system.

The next 30 per cent of gross income was earned by families making from $15,000 to $50,000 per year, and only 5.9 per cent of the taxpayers earned more than $50,000 per year.

Tax rates for those families making more than $50,000 per year even now can reach more than 90 per cent of income. The amount of extra taxes that could be extracted from a group earning only 5.9 per cent of the nation's personal income has severe limits.

IT IS TRUE that some income received by wealthy persons doesn't show up on their tax returns because of provisions in the law.

But a major part of that is capital gains, and if that were added to reported income, "the percentage held by families with incomes above $50,000 would rise by no more than two percentage points," said Citibank.

Another reform proposal is to close all the legal "loopholes" the rich take advantage of.

One such loophole is capital gains. The theory of capital gains is that equity investment involves risk, but that such investment is essential for the nation's growth.

If capital gains were to be taxed as regular income, one of two things might happen. There might be a one-time switch, before the law went into effect, out of equities into bonds and other fixed income investments.

Why take a risk if one's profits are to be taxed as ordinary income, and those profits are not a sure thing. An individual might just as well get his assets in the form of safe income and skip the risk.

OR THERE could be a tendency to postpone the taking of capital gains, thus cutting down the revenue the government gets under the present law.

The National Association of Manufacturers in a recent report noted that most of the so-called loopholes are a major benefit to the middle class. It says that more than half the medical care deductions are claimed by persons earning less than $10,000 a year.

More than half — 52.6 per cent of the home mortgage interest deductions were on returns of people in the $10,000-$20,000 income category.

This is no argument against tax reform. But the tax law is complex and is going to remain complex. Reform is not going to help the middle class very much, because that is where the money is.

Up From Nowhere

Garth Jones

By WALTER R. MEARS (Substituting for Garth Jones)

As political theater, nobody would have believed the Democratic presidential nomination campaign of 1972 — nobody except Sen. George McGovern who wrote his own script.

The last act hasn't been played yet. McGovern will be hard to stop for the nomination to seek the White House, but there almost surely will be those who try.

Nonetheless, if anything was more obvious six months ago than that Sen. Edmund S. Muskie would be the nominee, it was that McGovern didn't have a chance.

He was the outsider. He was nowhere in the public opinion polls. The party leaders were signing up with his rivals.

Today, it is Muskie who is nowhere.

SEN. HUBERT H. Humphrey isn't much better off, although he is not disheartened, is going to stay with it and "get this nomination."

The odds against that went up Wednesday when McGovern won the California presidential primary, the big one with its 271 delegate votes at the Democratic convention in Miami Beach.

He won in New Mexico, too, although narrowly, over Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama. He captured a solid majority of the 109-vote New Jersey convention delegation, and he won unopposed in his own South Dakota.

"I can't believe we've won the whole thing," McGovern told his cheering supporters at a victory rally in Hollywood.

TUESDAY'S PRIMARIES pushed his count of delegate commitments to 904½. No one else is even close, and there are more to come. His managers hope to gain at least 200 delegates in the New York primary two weeks away, more still in convention states.

No candidate but McGovern now has a chance of winning on the first convention ballot. Even some of his critics, led by Southern governors who fear a ticket led by the South Dakota liberal would drag down the party in the fall, acknowledge it may be too late to stop him.

ONE REASON is that the Democratic establishment didn't make any real effort to stop McGovern until late in the primary season, assuming it wouldn't be necessary.

So, virtually unnoticed, McGovern and his men, many of them seasoned in the campaign of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, put together state by state a political organization that far surpassed any other.

McGovern's California margin was not the massive landslide forecast in public opinion polls. With 59 per cent of the precincts counted, he led Humphrey by 10 per cent. But it was a convincing win, it was more than enough in a winner-take-all state, and but for the opinion survey that forecast a 20 per cent edge, it would have been rated an unqualified triumph.

AS IT WAS, the margin left Humphrey room to keep going in his quest for a second nomination. It remained to be seen whether the California verdict would impress delegates now uncommitted, or aligned with Muskie, to switch to McGovern.

There was irony in the question of how big a win McGovern needed, for the same problem beset Muskie at the beginning of the primary season, when he said a phantom opponent of landslide expectations had been raised against him in New Hampshire.

In turn, Muskie and Humphrey made what turned out to be the same mistake. They relied on national reputations, old line Democratic organizations, party leaders, office holders and organized labor to deliver for them in the presidential primaries.

EVERYBODY'S INTERESTED IN THE FINE PRINT!

They Prefer Sure Thing

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. George McGovern is now being honored or blamed in having a market named after him, as in the phrase, "The stock market is suffering from McGovern malaise."

Only very influential and powerful men or events have had markets named for them.

There have been Kennedy and Johnson and Nixon markets, both up and down, depending upon certain actions taken.

And now the market is stalled and the South Dakota senator is being singled out as the reason. He is accused of seeking to redistribute the wealth, and sharp speculators always have thought that was their role.

"His economic proposals are scaring the daylight out of the business and financial community," says Newton Zinder, analyst for E.F. Hutton.

And Robert Stovall, research director at Reynolds Securities, says that if McGovern wins the Democratic nomination it could keep the Dow Jones Industrial Average from reaching 1,000 points. At midweek it was under 950.

But really, is the senator having that kind of an impact or is the investment community once again seeking causes for actions it does not fully understand or for which no one answer suffices?

For more than six years the market has been trying to break 1,000 and it has failed, and never has Wall Street failed to find a reason why.

Based on remarks by Robert Johnson, head of research for Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis, the lack of market vigor might as easily be attributed to President Nixon. These are his comments to his company's salesmen:

"I believe President Nixon will be re-elected. And I believe one of his primary second-term objectives will be to resume the battle against inflation. Not having to worry any further about re-election political considerations, the President will then be free of many political restrictions imposed on him.

"Thus I would expect, shortly after Mr. Nixon's re-election, investors would see a change in economic policy. From stimulation to restraint. Both fiscal and monetary restraint. And, historically, periods of economic restraint have not proven particularly bullish for the market."

Johnson concludes that if investors come to believe that the President will remain in office, and that if economic restraint becomes the policy, "I would expect investors to begin taking profits..."

Perhaps there is no one reason to explain the market's dull performance. Maybe there are hundreds of causes, but among them there is one that can be used with certainty.

Trade Upturn?

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Although the statistics may not show it yet, the United States will soon make an impressive turnaround in world trade — both in imports and in exports. Many foreign companies which used to send their goods to this country at low prices are finding that American producers are competing with them very effectively, and this has caused some drop off in imports. As for exports, on the other hand, the United States has, through the revalued dollar, been able to compete very successfully on a number of products abroad. There are signs that the export trade will record substantial increases this year.

EDWARD L. ALLEN, deputy assistant Secretary of Commerce for International Economic Research and Analysis, in a recent speech before the world trade committee of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, gave this appraisal of the outlook for US trade:

"For this year as a whole, as we now see it, we have a good chance to set at least two international trade records:

- (1) The largest volume of exports in our history, about $48 billion, and
- (2) The largest trade deficit we have ever recorded, exceeding last year's $2 billion."

MR. ALLEN SAID that, on the basis of the experience of other countries, "our merchandise trade account should start reflecting the stimulus of price cuts by the fall of this year." He added:

"This does not mean, however, that our trade account will be in the black for 1972. Our hopes are pinned on 1973 as the year of reversal."

THERE IS, OF COURSE, a factor of competition which has much to do with the trend. Foreign-made cars are facing stronger competition from autos produced by American firms. Thus, sales of imported cars have declined. On the whole, the value of the dollar is reaching a stable point, and many American products can be sold abroad at a relatively low cost, which can be expected to result in substantial increases in US exports.

MONETARY UNCERTAINTY affects the trade of every country, but the United States, because it is one of the principal manufacturers of goods, feels the greatest effect. One of the necessary steps on the American side is the maintenance of low costs, and this means the retention of controls on both wages and prices in this country.

Reforms in the monetary system and the devaluation of the dollar have come at an opportune time, enabling American manufacturers to market their goods across the seas at lower prices. American industry, however, is truly making progress in getting out new types of products to meet all kinds of competition.

Thrilling Your Wife

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Things that make life wonderful: The look of longing what to do next on the face of a small child after he takes the first two steps of his life without falling down.

The feeling of bedtime drowsiness after a day filled with outdoor activity. Having someone to console you in a time of grief, and realizing that this someone makes it worthwhile to stay alive. Walking at night from a stranded car to get a can of gas—and finding a station still open with its lights blazing just 100 feet over the next hill.

You hate to go to the 25th reunion of your high school class because you're fat, and you feel that when you meet your former sweetheart there you'll look ridiculous. So you diet off 30 pounds and when you finally do meet your old flame you discover she has three chins and outweighs you by 15 pounds.

Admiring the soaring flight patterns a hawk makes against the blue sky on a windy day.

Running for shelter from a pretty girl just as the raindrops begin to patter on the picnic. Being told by your friends that you actually look a lot handsomer and younger than the picture the local paper printed of you after your election as neighborhood chairman of a charity drive.

Coming upon a really tasty new soft drink that pleases you after you've been on the wagon for three whole months and see nothing but a palate-palling future ahead.

Deciding that pride alone won't permit you to die now because you haven't achieved enough yet to make a respectable brag on your tombstone.

Getting in a lump sum a pay raise retroactive to two years before.

The surprise and respect in your 16-year-old son's face when you show him that his decrepit old man can still kick a football five yards farther than he can.

Thrilling your wife so much with an unexpected gift that she sobs on your shoulder with happiness.

The relief on opening what you fear is going to be a new can of worms—and finding it empty.

For these and other benefits of breath, dear Lord, our thanks, Amen.

My Answer

Billy Graham

I am a married woman with a family. I am expecting another child in four months. Of late my husband and I have not been getting along, and I gave myself to another man. Now, I am not sure if this child belongs to my husband, or to the other man, and its about to drive me out of my mind. If I tell my husband it will break up my marriage. What can I do?

L.A.R. I have preached for twenty five years that free sex makes slaves out of people, and the hundreds of letters like yours bears witness to this fact.

As to a solution to your problem, it is about as difficult as unscrambling eggs. You have broken the commandment of God, and the Bible says, "The wages of sin is death." And the agony of spirit you are experiencing is a kind of living death, I'm sure.

Whatever your husband's attitude, I know one thing: God will forgive you. Jesus forgave the adulteress, and said, "Go thy way and sin no more," and He is no respecter of persons. He will do the same for you.

You are one of the many victims of the modern sex revolution, and there are hundreds more. There is currently an epidemic of lust and sex raging in our country. Homes are being broken by the score, and of course, the children are the innocent victims of this dread disease.

My advice to you is to make a full commitment of your life to Christ, accept His forgiveness, and vow to sin no more. As to the matter of telling it like it is to your husband, it would probably only complicate matters.

A Devotion For Today...

An athlete who runs in a race cannot win the prize unless he obeys the rules. (I Timothy 2:5, TEV)

PRAYER: Lord, we would abide by Your rules in life's games and play earnestly and hard. Help us to cooperate for teamwork, to sacrifice for harmony, yet have concern for fairness and the well-being of those on other teams. In Jesus' name. Amen.

50-50 ARRANGEMENTS WORKING Traditional Married Roles Change For Many Couples

NORTH CHICAGO, Ill. (AP) — Like many American couples, Andy and Millie Stoll married young, had a family and fulfilled their dream of owning their own business.

But after 12 years of marriage, Millie, first, and then Andy, decided that their traditional married roles were driving them apart.

Now, every other week Millie, 30, kisses Andy, goodbye at the door and goes off to work. Andy returns to the kitchen to do the ironing, cleaning and caring for the couple's five children, age 2 through 10.

Going to work for Millie—and Andy—means managing the small glass company they own. The firm, started by Andy's father, is only three blocks from the Stolls' home in North Chicago. Andy and Millie bought the controlling interest in the firm.

The Stolls' experiment with a radically different division of labor started when Millie became restive in her role as a housewife.

She grew increasingly irritable with Andy's well-meaning offers to help with "your wash or your cooking."

"It's not my wash, it's our wash and our meals," Millie would snap back.

Then, last September, Millie walked out.

"I had to figure out who I am, not in relation to other people, even Andy and the kids. Just myself," she explains.

When she returned several days later, Andy agreed to split the housework down the middle.

Now it was Andy's turn to be unhappy, for he was still working six days a week at the Stoll Glass Co., plus shouldering 50 per cent of the housekeeping.

After more soul-searching they arrived at the present arrangement—one week for each running the house, one week for each running the family business.

Millie's belief that women are restricted by tradition and patterns led her to join in organizing a NOW—National Organization for Women—chapter. She recently became its president.

She says, however, she was dissatisfied before any formal affiliations with the women's liberation movement.

"I had been thinking about a 50-50 arrangement for several years before we actually worked it out. One day last summer something just clicked in my head, and I wanted to know how I could have equal charge in running the household," she says.

Both the Stolls agree housework is boring, but also agree the new system benefits the whole family.

"It's one way of getting things we want for our family in a mutually satisfying manner," Millie says. Giving their children two full-time parents is one of those things.

The children have not been so enthusiastic. The older girls—Lisa, 10, and Theresa, 9—grumble that mother isn't around much anymore, and that Andy and Millie are putting more emphasis on their individuality than on togetherness.

Even that attitude doesn't worry the Stolls, for they feel the children should learn early how to deal with individuals.

Most of the couple's friends are reserving judgment on the unusual arrangement, displaying little approval or disapproval, asking only if it works.

"Of course it works," Millie says. "It's all a matter of assuming that the kids and the house are not his, not mine, but ours."

Has the change in work habits made an impact on the glass company?

"It's really too soon to tell," Andy says. "Maybe in a year or so we'll notice a difference, but I doubt it will have anything to do with Millie and me trading places."

He says the most noticeable change is in himself. "I come back to the business from a week off feeling refreshed. I don't tire as easily on the job."

Gamco Representative Views Job Attitudes

Job attitudes are related to our inward thinking and expression of good or bad habits," said R. L. Rock of Gamco Industries, Inc., guest speaker for the June 8 Chapter, American Business Women's Association, Tuesday evening at La Posada Restaurant.

"A person's good or bad outlook guides his attitudes toward his company and community," continued Rock, "and his job viewpoint will be reflected in the community's attitude toward his company."

Rock emphasized it is important for a man to know himself, his company, his community and to think positively in order to create sound and healthy attitudes.

Rock is a graduate of Oklahoma University where he studied still photography and motion picture production. He taught perceptual development laboratory reading programs in St. Louis, Mo., and at Southern Illinois University prior to coming to Big Spring three years ago.

Mrs. Kyle Cauble presided and installed officers for the new club year. They are Mrs. Troy L. White, president; Mrs. Barbara Phares, vice president; Mrs. Gene Haston, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Herman Taylor, recording secretary; and Mrs. Willis LeVier, treasurer. A dark cloth, accented with five tapered silver candle holders, covered the installation table.

Vocational talk was by Mrs. Herman Taylor who works in the office of Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter. Mrs. White gave the invocation, and benediction was by Mrs. Tony Barron. Mrs. Cauble announced she is moving to Phoenix, Ariz. Guests were Mrs. W. L. Rock and Louise Kennedy. The next meeting is at 7:30 p.m., July 4 at La Posada.

Mrs. Pitts Honored

KNOTT (SC) — A bridal shower was held Thursday evening for Mrs. Richards Pitts in the home of Mrs. Bill Hambrick, Ackerly. Mr. and Mrs. Pitts were married May 9.

Cohostesses with Mrs. Hambrick were Mrs. Don Grigg, Mrs. John Beal, Mrs. Travis Russell, Mrs. Earl Newcomer, Mrs. Joe Gillespie, Mrs. Bill Wallace, Mrs. H. C. McClain, Mrs. Lloyd Robinson, Mrs. Jack Grigg, Mrs. B. C. Snell, Mrs. Darrell Bearden, Mrs. M. B. Maxwell, Mrs. Curtis White, Mrs. Jack Hopper, Mrs. Verl Shaw, Mrs. Bobby Bayes, Mrs. Larry Shaw, Mrs. Barney Nichols, Mrs. Alvis Jeffcoat, Mrs. Calvin Hughes, Mrs. J. E. Peuch and Mrs. Clarence Ditto Jr.

The honoree, attired in a yellow dress, received a yellow carnation corsage as did the mothers, Mrs. John Jones of Knott and Mrs. A. F. Pitts Jr. The bride's sister, Mrs. Bob Nichols, Big Spring, registered guests.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with white lace over yellow satin. Centering the table was an arrangement of yellow carnations.

A LOVELIER YOU Sun, Shade Lenses Adjust Automatically

Sunglasses newly feature a lens that self-adjusts to darken when the sun gets brighter and lighten when the sun gets weaker. Wow!

React-a-Matic describes the action, one that makes it possible for your eyes to experience a smoothing gradual transition from dark to light when you go from indoors to sunlight. The lenses lighten when you step inside again.

It is interesting to note that these lenses have a lifetime characteristic... a photochromatic property that is inherent in the glass. It will not fatigue even after continuous use.

Of course, the optalmic material is of high quality and offers an optimum balance of comfort and visibility. What's more, the lenses meet all the latest government requirements and are both heat-treated and impact-tested.

Still, there is nothing clinical about the appearance of the frames. Fashion and flattery have not been overlooked. The colors are grand; olive, tortoise, mink, smoke in plastics; gummetal, gold, silver and gloss black tint aluminum frames.

As for shapes, they come to suit your taste and your face. Square, six-sided, aviator styles, avant-garde butterfly contouring allow for a wide, individualized choice.

Good eye care and eye appeal plenty in the same package!

THE EYES OF YOUTH

You are not lost to youthful beauty because of dark circles, puffiness, or wrinkles around the eyes. These problems can be brought under control by proper skin care, cosmetic applications, health habits and facial expressions. Methods are detailed in my leaflet, "The Eyes of Youth." To obtain your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 15 cents in coin and

'Splash Day' Scheduled At Club

Children's Splash Day will be held Sunday at Big Spring Country Club with free soft drinks served from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m., according to Mrs. Wayne Henry, chairman. The pool will be open from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Teen Splash Day will be June 16 from 8 to 10 p.m., and a hamburger buffet will be served poolside at a charge of $1 per person. This event is for teens only, with each member being allowed to bring one guest. Mrs. Harold Davis, chairman, said reservations should be made by Wednesday by calling her, 267-5745, or the club, 267-7701.

A "shrimp boil" will be the special event when Adult Splash Day is held June 24.

Wilburn E. Osburns Make Home In Hobbs

Miss Dolores Ann Juneck and Wilburn Eugene Osburn were married June 2 at the Trinity Lutheran Church with the Rev. Neale O. Jensen of Midland officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Juneck of Luther, and Osburn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Osborn of Olney.

The couple stood at an altar decorated with arrangements of blue carnations in white vases and highlighted with white ribbons.

A prelude of nuptial music was provided by Mrs. Tekla Hamish, organist.

The bride wore a street-length, sleeveless gown fashioned Empire-style with a V-neckline. Narrow bands of blue flowers and white lace encircled the waistline and edged the neckline. A cluster of white roses held her shoulder-length veil, and she carried an oval arrangement of white carnations with white streamers.

Miss Lola Juneck served her sister as maid of honor, wearing a light blue dress with a lace collar and a blue ribbon accenting the front.

Terry Baker of Hobbs, N.M., was best man, and Calvin Juneck served as candle lighter.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The refreshment table was covered with a blue cloth overlaid with white lace. White carnations and pink shasta daisies centered the table. The table was topped with a miniature bell in a heart, with a miniature bride and bridegroom standing in the bell.

Serving were Mrs. Elmer Eckert, Mrs. Henry Sladek, Mrs. Jerry Skrhak and Mrs. S. C. Rhoten. Presiding at the guest register was Miss Brenda Sladek.

Following the reception, a barbecue dinner was held at the Juneck home. Preparing the meal was Monroe Kenning of Garden City and Milton Juneck.

Mr. and Mrs. Osborn are now residing in Hobbs, N.M., where he is employed by Rice Engineering Company. Osborn attended school in Olney, and Mrs. Osborn graduated from Big Spring High School and attended Hobbs New Mexico Junior College.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs.

Walter T. Stork of Rockdale, the bridegroom's grandparents; Mrs. Ida Juneck of Luther, the bride's grandmother; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sladek Jr., San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Skrhak, Austin; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Eckert, Loraine; Mr. and Mrs. Al Hirt and Mrs. Ed Hirt, all of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Tenor Lahose, Fluvanna; Chester Eckert, Rockdale; W. T. Osborn, Olney; Pete Reed, and Mrs. Lois Rhoten and son, all of Luther; Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Koenig, Snyder; and Monroe Koenig, Garden City.

Horoscope Forecast

CAROL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The daytime finds you tied down to all kinds of responsibilities and you would be wise to get any errands and shopping done early. Purchase appliances or whatever you need to perform your duties better. Evening brings some surprises that are excellent for you, even though they may not seem to be of first importance.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19): Handling correspondence, attending to transportation matters, etc., is good during day. Visiting with others should be put off until p.m. Know where you stand with allies. Analyze your mutual progress accurately.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20): You feel that responsibilities are too much for you today, but if you have patience the evening brings right answers. Make some improvement to property you own. Show that you know exactly what you are doing.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Finding the right answers to problems connected with long-time plans is favored in a.m. Evening is best for social activities. Rest or take some health treatment for that feeling of tiredness you may have.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Although those tasks ahead of you seem tedious, you need to be patient with speed; then they are soon behind you. Give assistance to one who asks for it. Make the evening a romantic one.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): A favorable day to contact good friends and work on mutual hobbies or problems wisely, happily. Choose only those who are most congenial. The evening is best time for having real fun.

Tye Woman Delivers Her Own Baby

ABILENE — A housewife at nearby Tye successfully performed an emergency birth delivery early Thursday with the help of her 3-year-old daughter.

The baby was her own. Charles Benefield, 30, a service station employee, said he returned home from his job about 7 a.m. Thursday and found his wife, Gwen, 27, lying on the bed with a new-born boy.

"I thought my wife was dead — the baby looked all right, but she was white as a sheet," Benefield said.

Having no telephone, he rushed back to the station in his pickup "just as quick as that old truck would tear up the highway."

The Taylor County Sheriff's Department was notified and an ambulance sent to the Benefield home.

Both mother and child were being well Thursday in an Abilene hospital.

Benefield said his wife performed the entire operation herself beginning about 4:15 a.m. The couple's oldest daughter, Deann, 3, helped her mother by bringing towels and following her directions.

"She was there with her momma and crying when I came in," he said.

A second child, Tina Lee, 1, slept through the delivery. In all the excitement, Benefield said, the new baby was not named at once.

ON A BICYCLE BUILT FOR TWO — Two pretty 14-year-olds, Lee Ann Mashburn (left) and Angela Hodnett were snapped by the Herald cameraman recently as they pedaled a tandem bike about the city streets. The exercise was therapeutic for Lee Ann, for she is recovering from a leg injury.

Statser Takes Office Soon

New president of the Rotary Club will be A. J. Statser, and he and other new officers will be installed at a ladies night June 27.

Speaker for that occasion will be Delbert Downing, Kermit, former schoolman, newspaperman and chamber of commerce manager widely known in this area as a speaker.

This also will be the occasion for the Rotary Club's annual citizen recognition.

Other officers to be installed are Ralph Gossett, vice president; Wm. T. McRoe, secretary; Tommy Ross, treasurer; Jimmy Taylor, Norman Picquet, Dan Wilkins and Oliver Cofer, directors.

For the first time in many years, the club had a 100 per cent attendance last week, Malcolm Patterson, president, announced. Pete Jenkins and Gale Kilgore, introduced by Manly Cook, presented musical numbers at the meeting.

Patterson announced that Farris C. Oden, Amarillo, will make his official visit as district governor July 31-Aug. 1. The district assembly will be in Hereford June 23-24.

Downing, familiar to local audiences, has been regarded "not just as a humorist, but as an intellectual with a sense of humor."

Shultz Gets Senate Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nomination of George P. Shultz to succeed outgoing Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally has been confirmed unanimously by the Senate.

The 83-0 vote Thursday propels Shultz toward his second post in President Nixon's Cabinet. Presumably, he will be sworn in shortly.

Shultz, 51, served as secretary of labor for 17 months after Nixon was inaugurated. Then he moved to the White House to become director of the President's Office of Management and Budget.

Shultz, an economist, served as dean of the Graduate School of Business at the University of Chicago before joining the Nixon Cabinet in 1969. He has become one of Nixon's closest advisers.

The Senate Finance Committee unanimously approved the nomination May 25. But Senate Republican leaders asked that the Senate vote be put off until after the controversial nomination of Richard G. Kleindienst to be attorney general had been voted on. Kleindienst was approved earlier Thursday.

Bombs, Bullets Kill Three More Persons In Ireland

BELFAST (AP) — A bomb killed a police inspector from the Irish Republic Thursday night and a woman was machine-gunned to death, raising the death toll in three years of religious warfare in Northern Ireland to at least 360.

Earlier in the day a 19-year-old construction worker was killed by a sniper as he worked on an apartment house site where the British flag was flying. Police said the shot came from a Roman Catholic apartment block, and at first they thought the victim was a Protestant, but he was a Catholic.

The 61-year-old police inspector apparently stepped over the border between the republic and Northern Ireland to investigate two packages on the road. One of the packages exploded, killing the inspector and seriously wounding a 21-year-old officer in the Irish army who was with him.

A 24-year-old woman was killed by a hail of machine-gun fire that tore through the car she was sitting in at a Catholic district of Belfast. A cab driver brought the body to a police station, saying a group of armed men stopped him and gave him the corpse.

Three other bombs and 17 shots hit police and army posts in Belfast just before midnight but no casualties were reported. In Armagh, guerrillas ambushed an army patrol and seriously wounded a soldier in the lead vehicle.

There was violence, too, in Lurgan, where more than 200 Catholic and Protestant youths battled with rocks and bottles. British troops using rubber bullets dispersed them, and police said eight persons were arrested.

In the Irish Republic, the government released Sean O'Brady, publicity director of the political arm of the Irish Republican Army's Provisional faction, after holding him in custody for a week. But the government held on to his brother Rory and to Joe Cahill, chief of the Provisionals in the republic.

DOSES OF POWERFUL DRUGS Tell Of Controlling Usually Fatal Form Of Arthritis

DALLAS (AP) — A usually fatal form of arthritis which develops in 50,000 new patients a year is being successfully controlled by doctors using doses of drugs designed to suppress the body's ability to fight infection, according to reports issued Thursday.

Two groups of physicians reported at a convention here that they have kept patients with systemic lupus erythematosus alive through the use of powerful drugs and a careful program of examination and frequent laboratory tests.

Systemic lupus erythematosus (SLE) is a rheumatic disease which usually kills 80 per cent of its victims within five years. An estimated 500,000 Americans have the disease.

"AGGRESSIVE" DRUG Dr. W. V. Epstein of San Francisco and Dr. E.M. Caperton Jr. of the University of Minnesota reported to the Arthritis Foundation that in independent programs of treatment they had increased the survival rate among groups of SLE patients to 80 per cent to higher.

Both doctors said they use "aggressive" drug treatment to suppress the disease and then follow up with periodic laboratory tests that can detect the very early signs of the disease's resurgence. When signs are found, the physicians said they counter with more tests and increased drug doses.

Caperton said he is using prednisone and, when indicated, the more powerful azathioprine. Both drugs are commonly used to suppress the immune mechanism of the body in transplant patients.

"We used the same therapy used in transplantation cases and found that it worked," said Caperton. "Other doctors routinely use the drugs against SLE, but they stop following the progress of their patients afterward."

Epstein said he and a team of colleagues use the drugs prednisone and chlorambucil, but he believes the close monitoring of patients during periods when they appear to be healthy is the most important part of the treatment program.

Epstein said after the disease appears to be under control the patients are put on a continuing routine of tests which can detect early stage of a return of the disease.

"The tests allow us to learn that the disease is going to flare while the patient is still feeling good," said Epstein. "We then administer the drugs to control the disease's return."

HIGH FEVER Tests used are simple urine and blood laboratory examinations, he said.

He's Returning To Show Business

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Vaughn Meader, whose "First Family" record album was a hit a decade ago, has quit his Jefferson County government job and says he's returning to show business.

"People used me to throw stones at the county government," he said, "and I am hereby removing myself as their ammunition."

Meader says he plans to get some music together and prepare a routine for local night spots.

County Judge Todd Hollenbach hired the former impersonator of John F. Kennedy in March as an assistant to federal programs director Leslie Barr at a annual salary of $7,500.

About The Pill

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Letters expressing worry about birth control pills keep landing on my desk. Like the gentle, or not so gentle, rains from heaven, they come in showers, sometimes in deluges.

There are, of course, some women who shouldn't take the pill. Sorting out this minority is part of the doctor's task. They include those with phlebitis, other vein troubles, fibroid tumors, and a few other conditions.

But it's also important to do something about the women who are worried when there isn't any good reason to worry. One of the recurring worries is whether something terrible will happen to the baby if a woman takes the pill after she has already become pregnant.

To all such women, and letters indicate that there are many of them, I can only say: when you realize you are pregnant, there's usually no point in taking the pill — so just stop. But don't live in fear that the baby has been harmed. To reinforce that, I'd like to reprint a letter that first appeared here several years ago. It's about an unusual case, but it still serves to make the point. The letter:

Dear Doctor: If it will reassure your reader at all (the one who took birth control pills after she was pregnant) I took them under my obstetrician's orders, all through my last two pregnancies.

I had had four miscarriages before that. Not only did the use of them work, but I now have two bright, robust sons to show for it.

It looked a little ridiculous, buying birth control pills when I was six months along — but worth it! — Mrs. P. L.

That should reassure the worriers. But maybe I'd best add also that birth control pills (the hormones in them) aren't necessarily a specific preventive for all miscarriages. There are too many different causes of miscarriage. Still and all, I think it's worth taking another look at that letter. Don't you?

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is your opinion of cryosurgery for an advanced prostate condition? I am 80. — S.T.S.

It is being used more and more in prostate cases — but it is for the surgeon to decide whether that is the proper technique in a particular case. It is not for me or for the patient to tell him the best way.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Last summer I used your reducing plan to lose weight, and since then have been using powdered skim milk to help keep my weight down.

The other night on TV a dietician said it isn't good to use skim milk exclusively. She said in an experiment, rats, fed on skim milk alone, developed cataracts. Would it be all right to mix skim and whole milk half and half? — Mrs. W. M.

I wonder if the "dietician" was truly a dietician or just a self-styled one.

Anyway, she apparently was referring to an experiment in which rats, fed only yogurt, developed cataracts. This caused all sorts of worry on the part of folks who like yogurt — but didn't understand the experiment.

They jumped to the conclusion that yogurt caused the cataracts, and they paid no attention to the most significant fact that the rats were fed ONLY that. On such a restricted diet, I'd expect health to suffer.

West opened the king of hearts and South won the trick with the ace. It did not appear that there was adequate transportation between the closed hand and dummy to establish declarer's spades by ruffing out his losers, so he decided to work on North's clubs.

A small club was led at trick two and when West followed with the five, the jack was finessed—losing to the king. [While it is clear that going up with the ace would have simplified matters, the chances for dropping a lone king are too remote to warrant consideration.] East returned a heart which declarer ruffed.

The ace and queen of diamonds were cashed in preparation for drawing trump, as both opponents followed suit. Before leading over to North's king, South made a play which slightly increased his chances. A club was played, West put up the nine which was covered by dummy's queen. East showed out, but having no more trumps was obliged to take a harmless discard.

The ace of clubs was cashed on which declarer shuffled a spade and a fourth round of clubs was led and trumped in the closed hand as West's ten appeared. South's remaining diamond was led to the king to draw the last trump and on the eight and six of clubs, he disposed of two more spades.

A spade was led from dummy at trick 12. East followed with the nine and declarer finessed the queen. When this held the last hurdle had been surmounted and the ace of spades took the fulfilling trick.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is your opinion of cryosurgery for an advanced prostate condition? I am 80. — S.T.S.

It is being used more and more in prostate cases — but it is for the surgeon to decide whether that is the proper technique in a particular case. It is not for me or for the patient to tell him the best way.

Right To Life Gains Ground

BOSTON (AP) — A "right to life" amendment putting in the state constitution a permanent prohibition on all abortions has won initial approval in the legislature after stiff debate.

The amendment, which grants to "every child from the moment of conception . . . the rights of all citizens," cleared its first hurdle Wednesday amid predictions from opponents that it would have drastic unforeseen consequences. Some speakers suggested it would outlaw several birth control methods as well as therapeutic abortions.

Before it could become part of the state constitution, however, the amendment would need approval again by the legislature this session, a favorable vote by the next legislature in 1973 or 1974, and ratification by the voters in a referendum.

Had the club suit responded favorably, South's somewhat aggressive six diamond contract would have come home with relative ease. As the cards were distributed, the contest became a cliff-hanger that was not decided until the last moment and required a thoughtful play by declarer along the way to assure his success.

Altho South's initial rebid of two diamonds after North's two over one response, left considerable reserve, the former might have contented himself with making one try without committing the partnership to slam. South's three diamond call shows a second five card suit and when North raises to four, it is suggested that South cue bid the ace of hearts. If partner merely returns to five diamonds, which he will do with no extra values, that should be the end of the auction.

Change Models

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Why do those television exercise and diet programs always have well-built muscular men, and beautifully shapely women doing the exercises?

We fat women would probably get up and do the exercises right along with them if they were fat and out-of-shape like we are.

We are sure those beautiful people were never fat, so what is the point? It's a lot easier to stay thin when you've been that way for 25 years.

I would like to see a woman who is 30 pounds overweight like I am doing those exercises! It would give me hope. And if she talked about dieting, I'd diet with her. And if after a month, I could see some improvement in her, I would be inspired to follow her example.

Phooey on these skin and bone beauties! I don't even turn on the TV to watch them anymore!

FAT AND DISGUSTED
DEAR FAT: I get your message. Now if some sharp-eyed advertising agency would pick up the cue! (P. S. It would be a short-lived TV career. They'd be looking for a new "Fats" every year.)

so I am letting him go. If ever a woman picked a lemon, I did. And before I waste any more precious time on my lemon I am going to take your advice and make a great big lemonade. And I shall drink a toast to you and your wise advice.
