CHOOSE ME OR POLITICS, SAYS MARTHA — Martha Mitchell, wife of former Atty. General John Mitchell, has taken up residence in the Westchester Country Club at Rye, N.Y., and has vowed to leave her husband until he leaves politics. President Nixon's former attorney general heads the Committee to Re-elect the President.

Food Prices Freeze Nixed By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon lifted all quota restrictions on meat imports today "in an effort to remedy a short-term shortage" and curb rising meat prices.

But Nixon ruled out a freeze on meat and other food prices, Secretary of the Treasury George Shultz said at a White House news conference where Nixon's decision was announced.

HOT DOGS

Removal of the quotas for the rest of 1972 "may not fully solve the problem," Nixon said in a statement. "Further measures will be taken as necessary and appropriate."

Most of the imported meat is lower-cost cuts which go into processed products such as hamburger, hot dogs, salami and sausages.

Officials questioned whether the decision would have an immediate impact on surging meat prices, saying it could take weeks or months for any increase in imports to be felt in the United States.

Shultz, who heads Nixon's Cost of Living Council, offered little optimism that the action would result in reduced prices. The main objective, he said, is to stabilize meat prices by eliminating repeated surges at the wholesale level.

MARTHA Tired Of Playing Cops And Robbers

NEW YORK (AP) — Martha Mitchell says the election campaign "is nothing but a cops and robbers game, and I'm trying to get my husband out of it."

The wife of former Atty. Gen. John Mitchell flew in from California Sunday and told the New York Daily News in an interview, "All I want is my husband back."

"There is no reason for us to be involved in politics," she told reporter Marcia Kramer in an interview at her two-room suite at the Westchester Country Club in Rye, N.Y.

Mrs. Mitchell's husband left the Cabinet to head the Committee to Re-elect the President.

She declined to talk about the "dirty thing" she knew about politics, but was voluble about her dispute with a security guard that she said led her to leave her Newport Beach, Calif., villa.

She said the guard yanked the telephone out of her bedroom: "It was a horrible experience. Can you believe that a man can walk into your bedroom, take over, and pull the phone out of the wall?"

Mrs. Mitchell said she left for the East after an incident in which several guards "threw me down on a bed — five men did it — and stuck a needle in my behind. I've never been treated like this, ever."

SKYDIVER DIES — Pretty Teresa Torres, 26, a Cuban refugee, died Sunday near Miami as she attempted her second jump as a novice skydiver. Her main parachute failed and she fell to her death from 3,000 feet.

SWEETWATER RANGE FIRE

SWEETWATER, Tex. (AP) — A brush fire, which witnesses said was touched off by lightning from a single small cloud, was finally stamped out today after burning through the night on a range of hills forming Nine Mile Mountain, 15 miles south of here.

The fire burned off between 500 and 800 acres of grass, cedar and brush on the Ray Boone Ranch.

Flood Waters Recede, Cleanup Efforts Begin

By The Associated Press

Massive cleanup, relief and rebuilding efforts have begun as the flood waters recede in the devastated East. The death toll from the week-long storm stood at 117 today and tens of thousands remained homeless.

As the rivers returned to their banks, thousands returned to their homes and businesses to clear away silt with shovels and brooms, and there was a break in the crisis that began when the storm named Agnes slammed across the Florida coast on her disastrous course a week ago.

With property damage over the $1 billion mark in Pennsylvania alone, the storm-torn states looked to the federal government for assistance, and a presidential aide promised it would be forthcoming.

The pledge came after the governors of five states and a representative from a sixth met in Harrisburg, Pa., Sunday with George A. Lincoln, director of the President's Office of Emergency Preparedness.

Red Cross officials said 112,000 homeless people were being cared for at 330 emergency shelters in Pennsylvania, New York, Virginia and Maryland, and they launched a disaster fund campaign for $10 million.

While most of the flood threat was past, watches were still kept in several areas including Petersburg, Va., where the Appomattox River was not expected to crest until tonight, and Almond, N.Y., threatened by a 14-mile-long artificial lake of rainwater behind a highway embankment.

LOOTERS

There were some local problems in New York and Pennsylvania with spectators and looters.

A lack of potable drinking water was reported in at least 80 communities in Pennsylvania. In New York a shortage of containers for bringing in water was reported in Elmira.

At the meeting in Harrisburg Sunday, OEP director Lincoln told the governors that federal assistance ranging from rent-free, temporary housing to unemployment compensation would be available.

Pennsylvania Gov. Milton J. Shapp expressed concern that the aid would not filter through the red tape quickly enough. Maryland Gov. Marvin Mandel said he feared that not enough funds would be available.

Lincoln said the aid would be swift, sufficient and widespread.

Other governors attending the meeting were Linwood Holton of Virginia, Russell W. Peterson of Delaware and William T. Cahill of New Jersey. New York's vacationing Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller sent a representative.

TOO SLOW

Red Cross President George M. Elsey announced his organization's $10 million disaster fund campaign after a seven-hour aerial survey of the affected area. He estimated that more than 30,000 families in five states would need Red Cross assistance.

Federal and state authorities said that of the substantially more than $1 billion damage, a "minuscule fraction" was covered by flood insurance.

COLLECTS COMMITMENTS FROM BLACKS

McGovern Sews Up Nomination?

WASHINGTON (AP) — An undetermined number of uncommitted black delegates to the Democratic National Convention were pledged today to Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D. The head of the congressional black caucus said the number appears to insure McGovern a first-ballot nomination.

"We are confident that our bloc of votes will assure Sen. McGovern the nomination on the first ballot," said Rep. Louis Stokes, D-Ohio, chairman of the caucus.

The action followed several days of negotiations between McGovern's staff and black groups, including the caucus of the National Black Political Convention.

READY TO MARCH

"Sen. McGovern has pledged to support and work for the goals outlined in the Bill of Rights of the Congressional Black Caucus," Stokes said at a news conference. "He has pledged to fight with us for full citizenship and equality of opportunity for all citizens in every sector of our national life."

"We shall ... work in our own communities and a 11 across the land to bring together the political support needed to assure the election of Sen. McGovern."

Stokes said one of the group's immediate goals is to have nine million blacks registered "and ready to march" in November.

Before Sunday, the McGovern office was claiming first-ballot support from 1,413 delegates.

However, The Associated Press poll gave McGovern 1,335.15 as of Sunday night.

In a separate move also related to black delegates, McGovern's chief rival, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, met Sunday with black Rep. Shirley Chisholm of New York. Aides of Mrs. Chisholm and the Minnesota senator planned their own news conference for later today.

OKLAHOMA CITY

The McGovern Southern trip, which has been in the planning stages at least since the first week of June, includes appearances in Oklahoma City and San Antonio, Tex., today. Tuesday he will be in Little Rock, Ark., and Atlanta and Wednesday in Columbia, S.C., and, tentatively, Richmond, Va.

August Start Foreseen On Project At Airport

Work is expected to begin in August on the repairs and improvement of the main runway at Howard County Airport, according to discussion today in Howard County Commissioners Court.

C. R. Crim, consulting engineer for the airport project, met with commissioners today to initiate the next step necessary for the county to obtain a $2,500 grant for airport improvements from the Federal Aviation Administration.

FAA approval has been given to the county's request and formal application for the grant, and the forms Crim presented to the commission for County Judge A. G. Mitchell's signature will be a grant agreement between the county and FAA.

TO SIGN FORMS

Judge Mitchell and Crim were to meet at 11 a.m. today to sign the forms. Commissioners voted to accept the resolution on the grant required by the FAA detailing the county's agreement with the terms of the grant.

The grant is a matching fund. The county must pay 50 per cent of the total cost of the project, and the FAA will pay the remaining half not to exceed $52,500.

Crim said that if the FAA approves the plans and specifications set for the project by the county, and the project runs over $105,000, the FAA can allot the county addition funds of 10 per cent of the cost without going through procedures for another grant.

Crim said that the next step is to present the plans and specifications for the project to the FAA. If these are approved, the county may then advertise for competitive bids from contractors for the runway paving and repair work.

DEADLINE

"The FAA does not enter into any of the contracts for the work. The county must choose the contractors. After this is done, representatives of the FAA will meet with the commissioners, contractors and myself to confer on the work to be done, and work orders will be issued," said Crim.

According to Crim, the grant agreement must be signed by June 30 so that the next steps can begin. He told the commission that actual work on the project should be started in August if all steps for obtaining the grant are completed in time.

In other action, commissioners instructed Mrs. Virginia Black, county auditor, to set Chief Deputy Sheriff Bill Whitton's salary effective as of May 1. Whitton's promotion to chief deputy resulted in a raise in pay.

Salary increases for Deputies Bill Chadwell, Robert Puente and Alvah Lee are effective as of June 1, according to commissioners.

FEDERAL WINDFALL APPROVED

Governor Slams The Door

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith slammed the door today on any hope that legislators will be given any work to do before they pass a general appropriation bill.

He also announced that he has been notified by both U.S. senators from Texas that the state's request for $126 million in federal funds has been approved.

'FIRM POSITION'

The governor told a news conference of his "firm position" against opening his special session call to include topics other than appropriations—virtually eliminating consideration of such topics as crime control, anti-drug bills and ethics legislation.

And if no more than a week of the 30-day session remains when lawmakers complete action on the state budget—as appears likely—Smith said he doubted he would submit any further topics.

Smith indicated he might not even submit repeal of a controversial 1971 law requiring trailers to have independent braking systems, which has caused major concern in farm areas.

"You may recall that the Sharpstown State Bank bills also were non-controversial," Smith said. Those two bills were rushed through a 1969 special session after the governor included them in his call.

The governor said Sens. John Tower, R-Tex., and Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., notified him "within the last three or four days" that the federal windfall on which he based his no-new-taxes 1973 budget was on its way. Smith told the legislature June 14 that Texas would get $125 million in federal reimbursement for social services performed by state agencies for needy or disabled Texans.

FINAL VERSION

The Senate Finance Committee included the money—now up to $126 million—in its version of the $3.8 billion state budget, and House budget writers also plan to include the money in their budget.

The House Appropriations Committee is expected to approve its final version of the bill Tuesday or Wednesday, with floor action possible on Friday or Saturday.

Smith's five nominees to the Air Control Board were scheduled to make a repeat appearance today before the Senate Nominations Committee.

The nominees are Dr. Willie Ulich of Lubbock, Charles Jaynes of Waco, E. W. Robinson of Amarillo, James Abrams of El Paso and John Blair of Kountze.

Robinson and Blair were questioned closest.

Israeli, Arab Gunners Snap Shells Across Golan Heights

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli and Arab gunners exchanged fire across the occupied Golan Heights again today after a week of attacks, counterattacks and steadily rising tension. The Israeli commandos said the Arabs fired several shells at Israeli Army positions, and the fire was returned. No casualties were reported.

Vending Commission Chief Williams Quits

AUSTIN (AP) — Raymond Williams, controversial chairman of the Texas Vending Commission, whose appointment is pending before the Senate submitted his resignation today.

There was no immediate comment from Gov. Preston Smith, whose office released copies of Williams' letter. "It is my desire that you accept my resignation as a member of the Texas Vending Commission, effective immediately," Williams said. "It is obvious that the unjustified criticism which you, the Vending Commission, the vending industry and I have received will continue so long as I continue to serve."

"In fairness to you and to all others concerned, I have decided to resign. I make no apologies for my actions or those of the commission. "It is a sad day, indeed, when a man becomes the object of slander because he has been successful in his chosen business. And it is a sadder day still when others are required to suffer because of it," Williams said.

Council To Meet Again Tuesday

City manager Harry Nagel today announced the meeting of Big Spring's City Commission Tuesday at 5:15 p.m.

Among items to be discussed are the present petition on motorcycles on private property, the request for a gas cost adjustment clause, and a water rates ordinance for sales outside the city limits.

Top Russians Hug Castro

MOSCOW (AP) Fidel Castro arrived today for a two-week visit and talks with the government that has propped up the economy of his island republic for more than 12 years.

The Cuban prime minister emerged from his special Cuban Airlines flyshin 18 jet and was embraced by all three top Kremlin leaders—Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev, President Nikolai V. Podgorny and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

It is Castro's first visit here since they took power in 1964. Castro's trip here climaxes a six-week goodwill tour of part of Africa and Eastern Europe. While his previous steps have been essentially ceremonial, Castro's Soviet schedule is expected to include lengthy discussions on Cuba's unbalanced economic relations with the Soviet Union.

Tot Strangled

DALLAS (AP)—Ten-month-old Marvin Boyd Jr. died early today before reaching Parkland Hospital, and police said he apparently was choked by a dish towel wrapped around his neck.

Officers said the strangling apparently occurred during an argument. They held a man, 26, for investigation.

There was no comment from Lebanese government or guerrilla sources on the reported agreement, but an Nahar said the guerrilla chief Yasir Arafat had gone to Damascus to discuss it with Syria's president, Hafez Assad.

Man Is Treated For Stab Wounds

An early morning fight Sunday resulted in numerous stab wounds to Presiliano Salazar, 710 N.W. 5th, who was taken to Hall-Bennett Hospital. He was released later.

Judge Walter Greer issued a warrant on formal complaint against Vidal Garza, Route 2, charging him with assault with intent to murder. He was arrested north of town. No bond was issued and he is presently in custody of city police, pending action by the district attorney.

Credentials Panel Considers Record Number Of Challenges

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic Convention's Credentials Committee is wading into a massive round of delegate challenges that loom as the most critical hurdle left in George McGovern's path to the nomination.

In what may be the severest test yet of the party's sweeping reform rules—many of which were promulgated by McGovern—the panel must weigh a record 80 challenges affecting delegations from 30 states.

"McGovern's interest now," said his committee coordinator, Eli Segal, "is in a peaceful and harmonious convention. Credentials has the most potential for trouble."

Although McGovern strategists were working feverishly to minimize conflicts in the seating of delegates, several cases pose an inescapable dilemma to his followers who control the Credentials Committee.

ECOLOGY-MINDED — Doing their part to further the slogan, "Keep America Beautiful," are these Girl Scouts who are members of Cadette Troop 43. The Scouts, under the leadership of Miss Connie Thompson, decorated steel drums which they presented to the city for use as trash receptacles. From left, the artists are Cynthia Fierro, Yvonne DeLeon, Miss Thompson, Patricia Puga and Deborah Morales. James Campbell of the public works department accepted the decorative containers on behalf of the city.

Patriotic Theme For Program

A program on table setting for special occasions was heard by members of the Luther Home Demonstration Club during a Thursday meeting in the home of Mrs. Louis Underwood.

A festive table prepared by Annette Couch, a 4-H club member, featured a red, white and blue theme, and the centerpiece was a basket filled with fruit and fire crackers.

Mrs. Frances Zant presided during a brief business meeting, announcing that the club will not convene in July and August. However, a white elephant sale is tentatively scheduled during one of those months. The next regular meeting will be Sept. 4 in the home of Mrs. Edward Simpson.

Installation Of Leaders

The Ladies Auxiliary to World War I Barracks 1474 held a called meeting Thursday evening to install new officers. The installation was conducted by Mrs. John Swindell. Mrs. W. E. Moren, outgoing president, was hostess for the meeting in her home, 1301 Eleventh Place.

The new president is Mrs. Viola Younger. Seven delegates were chosen to attend the state convention in Dallas July 5-6.

Refreshments were served to 17, and the next meeting will be held July 13 in the IOOF Hall.

Knott Reunion Held Saturday

With only 54 persons in attendance, the 20th annual Knott High School homecoming was held Saturday in the Student Union Building at Howard County Junior College.

"More interest will have to be shown next year if we are to continue the event," said Mrs. Bobby Roman, president. Assisting her this year in preparing for the homecoming were Mrs. Leonard Burks, vice president; Mrs. L. C. Cole, recording secretary; Mrs. J. D. Kendrick, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. A. Jones, treasurer; and Mrs. Carl H. Bankston, publicity.

"It Was a Good Year" was the theme of a brief program which featured Roger Brown, Big Spring attorney, as speaker. Brown reminisced about his years as a student at the school, recalling classmates and teachers.

The invocation was by Herman Jeffcoat, and there was a roll call of all classes. The group joined in the Pledge of Allegiance and the national anthem.

Gifts were presented to Brown, to Mrs. Hildred Rutledge of San Antonio, who traveled the longest distance to attend the reunion; Mrs. Garland Nichols, the oldest student; and to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roman, former students with the most family members present. The attendance prize went to John McGregor.

New officers elected were Mrs. Burks, president; Mrs. Lloyd Robinson, vice president; Mrs. Calvin Hughes, recording secretary; Mrs. J. D. Kendrick, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Robert Nell, treasurer; and Mrs. Bobby Bayes, publicity. Dinner was served, and the benediction was by Bobby Roman.

Summer Clothes Feature Cotton

Children really don't need many clothes for summer if what they do have is cool and machine-washable, can be tumble-dried, and needs no ironing.

The fabric that answers all these requirements has been around for a long time, but this summer it has acquired new status in the fashion world. It's cotton terry cloth, a natural choice for children's play clothes. The fabric is used extensively for children's shorts, polo shirts, and one-piece jumpsuits this summer.

Terry now comes in stylish ribbed or cabled versions, but it's still a favorite in regular push pile with thirsty loops. Colors are bright on new cotton terris and run to vivid sunny shades like orange, yellow and hot pink, with printed patterns much in evidence.

Wedding Performed In Mineola Church

The wedding of Miss Linda Diane Click and Reggie Dell Rumfield was solemnized June 17 in the First Assembly of God Church at Mineola with the Rev. Richard L. Findley, pastor, officiating. Nuptial music was provided by Miss Debbie Dunlap of Big Spring, organist, and Miss Carole Foster of Van, vocalist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Marlow, 2200 Merryly, and Mervil Lee Click of Hobbs, N. M. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Rumfield of Mineola.

For her wedding attire, the bride chose a floor-length gown of white bridal satin with natural waistline, long puffed sleeves and a high collar. The French effect cuffs and high collar were trimmed with lace, and the lace was repeated on the border of a long train. Her finger-tip-length veil of illusion was secured to a headpiece of pearls and flowers. She carried a cascade of white carnations centered with a white orchid and tied with white satin streamers.

Miss Patty Coffey of Big Spring, maid of honor, was attired in an orchid-colored dress and carried a nosegay of mixed spring flowers.

Frank Rumfield of Van, cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man. The ushers were Allen Lee Click, brother of the bride, and Randy Joe Weaver, both of Big Spring. Ring bearer was Kenneth Gordon Marlow of Big Spring.

brother of the bride, and altar tapers were lighted by Tom Marlow Jr., brother of the bride, and Kelly Allen, both of Big Spring.

The newlyweds were the honorees at a reception held in the First Federal Building. Refreshments were served by Mrs. William J. Slusher, Dallas; Miss Debbie Cockrell and Miss Dana Dunlap, both of Big Spring; and Miss Becky Elliott. The table was covered with a pink silk cloth overlaid with white organza. White milk glass and silver appointments were used, and the wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Centering the table was a cupid epergne arranged with orchid and pink flowers and flanked by pink candles.

After a trip to Ruidoso, N.M., Mr. and Mrs. Rumfield will reside at the Merriott Trailer Park in Mineola. The bride, who attended Big Spring High School, will continue her education at Mineola High School where the bridegroom is a senior student. He is employed by Elliott Construction Company of Tyler.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were William J. Slusher, Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Findley, Marshall; Mark Tereletsky, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Allen Jr. and Mrs. Oleta Weaver, all of Big Spring; and Miss Cynthia Foster of Van.

Milton L. Kirbys Leave For Dallas

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Lynn Kirby and son, Marty, left for Dallas, Ga., during the weekend after visiting here with relatives and friends.

He will be teaching vocational agriculture in the Paulding County High School at Dallas. In December, 1971, he earned his BS degree in agriculture from Tarleton State College. He had graduated from Big Spring High School in 1967. Kirby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Kirby, 1607 E. 5th Street.

Less Expensive Meat Is Good

Look to less tender, less familiar cuts of meat to put variety in your meals and spring in your budget. Choices such as oxtails, breast of lamb or veal, pork hocks, lamb shanks, cottage roll, and stewing meats boast the same good food value as steaks and chops but at much lower cost.

Hints From Heloise

I had a number of those wire beverage holders (the type that you stick in the ground beside your lawn chairs, etc. to hold a glass), but they couldn't be used on the patio for obvious reasons.

I got the idea of filling several cottage cheese cartons with cement.

I let this set for a while and then stuck one of the holders in the center of the cement in each carton.

I allowed this to harden for about three days and then tore the cartons off the cement.

They didn't look too great in the natural state but, after I painted the cement, they were just as cute as could be and oh, so very practical.

In this way they can be used not only in the yard but on the patio as well.

Friends who see them are amazed. . . . Polly

LETTER OF THOUGHT

Dear Heloise: "Please accept graciously!" How often I've suggested this to my friend and neighbor for 25 years!

Mesa Lions Club Gives To Hospital

A check for $25 was presented by the Mesa Lions Club to Big Spring State Hospital last week during a Ladies Night meeting at Lamesa.

The donation was accepted by Mrs. Larson Lloyd, volunteer coordinator for the hospital, who was guest speaker at the dinner meeting. Mrs. Lloyd explained various services which volunteers perform for residents of the hospital. She expressed appreciation for the gift, noting that the funds will be used to help provide for "preceptual motor playground" for retarded children who are patients at the hospital.

A plate of cookies, a slice of cake or a bowl of soup just makes her apologetic!

I like to cook and love to share. She doesn't have that much time at home but takes the joy out of giving for me by immediately "returning the favor" — which isn't the point of the gift in the first place.

After all, learning to receive is as important as sharing. . . . Virginia

Dear Heloise: In one of your recent columns a contributor suggested covering the kitchen sink to make extra counter space.

My suggestion goes one step further. I use the piece of counter top, left over from cutting out for the sink, to cover my electric range when not in use!

This not only keeps the stove top clean and the kitchen neater, but can turn the whole kitchen into a buffet server for large groups.

It is also handy to have the extra clearing space following "company" meals. . . . Mrs. P. DeMontelle

Dear Heloise: I keep my clothes hamper in the bathroom and I line it with a shopping bag (a large one with a handle). This makes it easy to just lift out the shopping bag and carry it to the laundry room.

When the clothes are dry, I put them back in the bag and carry them upstairs again. This saves so much stopping and bending and makes wash day a lot easier. . . . Edythe H. Stanestair

Dear Heloise: My husband set his radio on one of our new end tables.

I noticed that the four metal feet were making marks on the polished surface so I covered each foot with one of those little Band-aid patches. They provide the needed

A LOVELIER YOU Take-Off Tactics To Stamp Out Obesity

By MARY SUE MILLER

If you wish to lose weight you have to cut calories. You know it, and there's no getting around it. You don't even have to take this column's word for it. More and more physicians are specializing in obesity.

But a factor other than calories, and equally vital to a successful outcome, escapes many reducers. It is simply how to cut down without self-torture. Knowing the answer makes dieting less painful, and that, of course, is what keeps you with it. You really could lose without a pang, if you used these tactics while dieting.

—Pin down the reason you want to lose. Is it for the sake of health, appearance, or morale? Keep the reason in mind all the time, for it is the best means of stiffening your resolve.

—Promise yourself a prize for losses — anything from a new dress in a smaller size to new shoes in a narrower width. (Your feet get smaller when you do. It's a fact.)

—Investigate the new diet foods. Don't stick up your nose at them. That is like cutting off your nose to spite your hips.

—Exercise. Go on do it! It's summer — join the outdoor buffs. They're kinda cute and so healthy.

It's too late for this summer, you say? It's never too late. Start now and you would cut a figger by August.

WAY TO MEET EDUCATION NEEDS 'Raw Political Power'

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The new president of the National Education Association says the only way to meet the educational needs of all children is with "raw political power."

Mrs. Catharine Barrett, a Syracuse, N.Y., inner city elementary teacher for more than 40 years, takes over leadership of the 1.2 million-teacher organization Friday at the conclusion of the NEA's 110th annual meeting.

In an interview, Mrs. Barrett said her two top priorities will be to "make teachers recognize political force" and to "achieve legislation which by 1976 will see the federal government contributing one-third the cost of education."

VOTE IMPACT

With teachers already organized politically in 42 states, Mrs. Barrett said she is hopeful that they will have an impact on presidential balloting and congressional elections in November.

For the past year, as president-elect of the NEA, Mrs. Barrett has spent much of her time touring the United States advising teacher groups on how to organize politically.

Here are her answers to specific questions: Q. Can teacher groups or yourself support President Nixon in the November election?

A. "Mr. Nixon is very negative as far as education is concerned — whether it be a budget proposition, whether in vetoing a proposal, whether in failure to support funds for education and whether to support it. He would take society back to an era we got rid of years ago. There is nothing in the Nixon administration to indicate his support of education or that he's prepared to take action to give every youngster an equitable opportunity."

ORGANIZING

Q. Have teachers become more politically active? Do you think they can be united at the polls on the local and national levels?

A. "Teachers in 42 states have organized teacher political action committees. In New York State, teachers are organized in all key legislative districts and are now endorsing candidates after intensive study. They also are organizing in congressional districts and will issue report cards on candidates' educational voting records so that teachers are able to make a complete judgment. Whether the NEA will endorse a presidential candidate will depend on the membership. It is more than possible that will."

Trees In Park No Fair Game

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Two men were arrested recently on charges of "causing injury to trees."

Police said the two men were seen throwing knives at trees in Yale Park near the University of New Mexico campus. The men violated a city ordinance.

Snakey Act Shot Down By Theft

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Billy Detrick has a contract with a Dayton nightclub, but he can't go on without the rest of his act.

Detrick (Miss Billie Detrick on the marquee) is a female impersonator. His act includes "fire and snake dance" with Samson and Sabrina — his two 10-foot boa constrictors.

While Detrick was signing his contract Friday, somebody drove off in his car. Samson and Sabrina were in the trunk along with all his costumes.

Legal Services For Poor Drawing GOP Opposition

WASHINGTON (AP) — Conservative Republicans are mounting a drive to abolish the new independent corporation proposed to run the program of legal services for the poor.

Some Democrats say they see evidence of administration support for killing the corporation, despite President Nixon's stated backing for such an agency to run the embattled legal-services program.

Sen. William Brock, R-Tenn., is sponsoring an amendment to the $9.6-billion antipoverity bill which would keep legal aid under the Office of Economic Opportunity, as it now operates.

If the Brock amendment fails, other GOP senators will attempt numerous proposals to restrict the legal-service program.

Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., manager of the pending bill, and other backers say the separate corporation is needed to give the program permanent status and insulate it from political pressures.

They emphasize that the lawyers in the program will represent 1.2 million poor clients this year.

Maybe He's Hep

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Do you know how this new idea of working a four-day week is going over? Several men where my husband is employed recently went on that four-day workweek and now my husband is considering going on it.

I suppose there are some advantages, but I'm not so sure how I would like that setup. It would mean having my husband around the house an extra day, and in the past some of those long holiday weekends have seemed awfully long to me.

I would like to discourage it in a subtle way, of course, but I don't want him to get the wrong idea. Anything you can tell me about it will be appreciated.

N. Y. POST READER

DEAR READER: If your husband gets the wrong idea, you're in the clear. It's the right idea you don't want him to get. Malcolm S. Forbes (Editor-in-Chief of Forbes magazine) says the men love the four-day workweek, but their wives aren't so crazy about having their husbands home that much. Malcolm must be reading your mind, Lady.

DEAR ABBY: Parents are warned repeatedly to keep cleaning fluids, drugs and poisons locked away where children cannot reach them. But nowhere have I seen a similar warning concerning iron tablets, which can be fatal if taken in large quantities.

Recently a beautiful 19-month-old child crawled up on to a chair and took a bottle of iron tablets out of the cupboard. Thinking they were candies, he screwed off the cap and before he could be stopped, swallowed some 50 tablets. He was rushed to the hospital but died 45 minutes later.

From iron tablets, Abby? But that child is just as dead as if he had swallowed rat poison. Please, please, warn others.

STILL GRIEVING IN HILLSBOROUGH

DEAR STILL GRIEVING: If your letter saves one child, it's well worth printing. Thank you for warning others.

DEAR ABBY: I just boiled when I read the letter from the mother who said, "A man should realize that he doesn't have to stop being a good son in order to be a good husband."

I wonder how many married sons are good to their mothers only because their wives insist upon it?

I've been married for 18 years, and my mother-in-law lives only a few blocks up the street, and I have to beg my husband to drop in and visit her. And he would never call her up and ask her how she is or if she needs anything if I didn't dial the number for him.

When it snows, I'm the one who makes him go to his mother's and shovel her sidewalk. And I'm the one who sends him to take off her storm windows and put on the screens even before he does our own. And I'm the one who always suggests we invite his mother to go out to dinner with us, or for a movie, or a ride. If it were up to my husband, he'd see her Christmas and Mother's Day.

I suppose all mothers want to think their sons are perfect. Well, I have news for them. In many cases, the daughters-in-law deserves the credit.

If you print this, no name or town, please. My mother-in-law thinks her son is perfect, and I wouldn't want to disillusion her.

ONLY A DAUGHTER-IN-LAW

DEAR ABBY: A woman wrote in saying she didn't want to have anything to do with her husband at night because he came to bed smelling like a brewery. You sure didn't give her much help. You should have told that woman to put a glass of mouthwash by the side of his bed, and also a spittoon. The reason this world is so messed up is because we can't meet each other half way.

Hottest Weather Of Season Sending Mercury Soaring

By The Associated Press
Record-breaking heat enveloped Texas during the weekend, and no lull was in sight today. Decades-old records toppled in places as thermometers climbed relentlessly, going as high as a withering 111 degrees at Wichita Falls.

Maximums elsewhere included Mineral Wells 109, Abilene, Childress, Fort Worth and Wink 105, Dallas 104, Cotulla 103, Midland, San Angelo and Waco 102, Del Rio 101 and Lubbock 100.

In addition to being an all-time high for June 25, the Wichita Falls mark equaled a record for this month set June 18, 1924. The Fort Worth and Dallas readings were among other records for the date.

And at College Station, where auto races were run under a blistering sun, a 140-degree reading was reported at the track level.

A few showers developed—all too light to dent the heat wave—in an area from north-east of Fort Worth to Mount Pleasant, and there were sometimes severe thunderstorms with hail over Crockett and Irion counties in West Texas and between Abilene and Mineral Wells.

By this morning, however, all the moisture had dried up and skies were generally clear to only partly cloudy. Temperatures near dawn ranged from 83 degrees at Dallas and Pallas to 66 at Dalhart and 64 at Amarillo in the Panhandle.

Temperatures again reaching 100 degrees or higher were expected across most of North and West Texas and readings only a little lower in other sections. Isolated showers were in prospect for evening in the west and northwest part of the state.

Pheasants In NY Mowed Down

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Probably the biggest hazard that pheasants in New York face is the mowing machine.

During the peak of the state's pheasant populations in the late 1930s, mowing was not started until about the Fourth of July. By this time about 80 per cent of the pheasant nests had hatched.

It has since been found that June hay is better for cattle. Mowing now usually starts during the first week in June, when fewer than 20 per cent of the nests have hatched.

About the only solution is to leave unmowed land along fences, farm lanes and in odd corners around the farm, to decoy the pheasant hens away from hayfields.

Talk It Over

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

PERSISTENT: (Q.) Ever since I started dating this boy he has tried stuff on me. I won't let him touch me.

He says he loves me, and I guess he does. But sometimes I think it's going to be a mistake marrying him because things pop into my mind, like maybe he's just waiting to go to bed with me.

We have been going together two months. I am 15 and he is 20 and we are supposed to get married some time next year. I love him. —Virginia in Indiana.

(A.) Two months is a pretty short time to try. Many boys try longer.

Two months is a very short time in which to decide on marriage, which you seem to have done.

There are too many long years between 15 and 20 to make a good dating arrangement. Sixteen, which you will be a year from now, is too young to get married.

Think about these figures. You may love your boy friend now and he may love you now, but a lifetime is usually much longer than two months.

CLOTHES CRY: (Q.) My clothes look so bad on me. Not that I'm fat or have broad shoulders. I'm just a regular kid with a stupid-looking wardrobe. Part of the reason is my mother. She buys me clothes at cheap stores. She doesn't think they look bad, but they do. — 13 in Mayland.

(A.) I do not think it is so much low-priced clothes as wrong ones: plus a lack of communication between you and your mother.

Talk to her. Make a list of things you need. Ask her to decide the store and the price but to let you find the kind of clothes that your friends wear and that you like.

Millions of American teenagers look good in low-priced clothes that are well chosen with teen-age tastes in mind.

PERON NOMINATED FOR ARGENTINE ELECTION — Ex-Argentine dictator, Juan Peron, now living in exile in Spain, has been nominated by the Justicialista Party as its candidate in the March presidential elections in Argentina. Peron's wife Isabel spent three months in Argentina recently talking with government and political officials. This photo shows her with Peron in Madrid after her return from Argentina in March, 1972.

IRA Truce Nears, Gun Battles Flare

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — British troops claimed they shot 14 guerrillas in gun battles Sunday as the cease-fire promised by the Provisional wing of the Irish Republican Army neared. Six other persons were killed during the weekend, raising Northern Ireland's death toll to at least 383 in three years of communal violence.

Three of the dead were British soldiers, killed when their truck hit a mine near Londonderry. Troops killed one gunman. The other two dead were a Protestant and a Roman Catholic, and there was speculation they were killed by assassination squads from the rival religious factions.

The worst outbreak came Sunday when at least 20 gunmen attacked the troops in Belfast. More than 700 rounds were fired.

"They have never been more reckless," one British officer reported. "It was almost suicidal the way they came at us."

But the guerrillas as usual carried away their casualties, and it was not known how many were killed and how many wounded.

Meanwhile, a 200-pound bomb demolished a hotel in Lisburn, a 120-pound charge wrecked a bar in Strabane, bomb blasts destroyed two border customs posts and gunmen fired on a police station at Beleck for an hour. No casualties were reported in any of these attacks.

British officials feared the guerrillas planned to press the assault right up to midnight tonight, when the cease-fire was scheduled to begin.

Says Union No Bar To Physicians

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — There's nothing wrong with a doctor joining a union "as long as he takes care of his patients," says the retiring president of the American Medical Association.

Dr. Wesley W. Hall of Reno, Nev., commented during a question and answer session after his address to the Commonwealth Club. He stepped down this week as president of the AMA, which held its annual convention here.

Asked if a doctors' union could strike without violating the Hippocratic Oath, Hall replied:

"I cannot see any violation of the Hippocratic Oath as long as a doctor who belongs to such a group takes care of his patient. This is a free country and every doctor is free to do what he wants to as long as he takes care of his patients."

Eight Killed By Gunfire, Six Drown Over Weekend

Fewer persons died violently in Texas during the weekend than in similar periods lately, but there still were at least 21 fatalities.

The toll, tabulated by The Associated Press between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday, included eight killed by gunfire, six drownings, five traffic deaths, one in a fire and one stabbing.

Old trouble among three Mason County residents was blamed by peace officers for the fatal shootings in a Brady city park of brothers Dick Soto, 26, and Vinto Soto, 27. Sheriff Luke Vogel held a man without immediate charge.

Police said Scott Hanson, 2, was left unattended in a car with the engine running, fell out and was run over and killed Sunday when the auto started rolling backward in the Dallas suburb of Garland. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne C. Hanson. Another child apparently knocked the vehicle into reverse, officers said.

Police said Lewis D. Rhodes, 39, died early Sunday when he accidentally shot himself in the chest while cleaning a pistol at his West Dallas home.

Jesse K. Gracy Jr., 20, a supermarket manager in the Dallas suburb of Garland, was killed Sunday when his car jumped a curb and hit a tree.

Stephen Wagner Trevino, 3, of Andrews drowned Sunday in the Andrews city lake while on an outing with his parents. The body was found floating in the lake.

Mrs. Walter Lawhon, 47, of San Angelo drowned in the South Concho River Sunday while she and her husband were on an outing with other couples. Witnesses said Mrs. Lawhon was teaching a friend to float when she suddenly went under.

Claude Harrison, 53, of Houston was struck and killed by a car as he tried to cross a street in a wheelchair at Houston. Police held the driver.

Police in Wichita Falls said they still were investigating the slaying of Lucille Stillwell Monroe, 26. Her children, aged 2 and 4, found their mother shot to death at the door of her apartment. Officers said she was last seen alive Saturday night.

SEMINOLE SMASH

Dolores Garcia, 9, of Seminole was killed Saturday when the car in which she was a passenger collided with another vehicle between Seminole and Denver City. Two of the child's sisters suffered minor injuries.

E. L. Washington, an elementary school principal at Corsicana, drowned Saturday in Cedar Creek Lake. Witnesses said Washington was trying to help his 11-year-old son to their fishing boat when he went under.

Elaine Holder, 17, of Houston was killed Saturday when the car she was driving collided with an ambulance at a highway intersection in northern Harris County. Four persons in the ambulance suffered minor injuries.

Cumbercindo Vela Sierra, 16, of Houston was shot to death Saturday. Police said the shooting in a Houston service station followed an argument in which the youth fought for a pistol drawn by the station manager.

FATAL MISTAKES

Dennis J. Arnett, 12, of Liberal, Kan., died Saturday in San Antonio of burns suffered when cleaning fluid exploded. Officers said the boy was cleaning paint brushes when the accident occurred.

Clarence Eugene Worthy, 39, of New Braunfels drowned Saturday while fishing on Matagorda Bay. His empty boat was discovered about 9:30 a.m. after he went fishing alone.

Olga Sanchez, 17, of Houston drowned late Friday at a Brazoria County Beach. Sheriff's deputies said she was swimming with her family when she disappeared.

BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS

Q. 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠AJ953 ♥76 ♦K63 ♣AKQ

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 3 ♣ Pass

3 ♦ Pass 4 ♣ Pass

5 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—It is evident from the bidding that partner's real concern is with the heart situation. Obviously, he does not have first round control or he would have mentioned it. And if he has second round control, he would have bid a slam himself. You are obliged to pass because the loss of two heart tricks stares you in the face.

Q. 2—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠10943 ♥52 ♦A932 ♣KJ9

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

Pass Pass 1 ♠ Pass

2 ♣ Pass 3 ♣ Pass

3 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—The suggested call is three diamonds, a tempting bid. It may prove that partner is probing for big things and, if his next bid happens to be three hearts, we would suggest a four club bid to show the fit in that suit. After that he should be on his own.

Q. 3—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠J3 ♥K43 ♦Q974 ♣K852

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South

1 NT Dble. ?

What do you bid?

A.—Redouble. You have nine points, assuring your partnership of a minimum of 25, giving the adversaries a maximum of 15 points. You are therefore prepared to punish them when they escape at the two level, and if permitted to play one no trump redoubled you will of course score an easy game.

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠A94 ♥KJ86 ♦82 ♣9732

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♥ 1 ♠ 2 ♥ 2 ♠

3 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. The full strength of your hand was shown on the first round with your free bid of two hearts. If this is all partner needed to produce a game he would have bid four hearts himself.

Q. 5—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠63 ♥J109753 ♦2 ♣AK104

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

Pass Pass 1 ♥ Dble. ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Four hearts. If partner has opened somewhat light in the third seat, the hand may easily belong to the opponents. In that case your jump bid will make it more difficult for them to get together. Furthermore, if West should now bid four spades, you will be in an excellent position to decide on subsequent action. If partner doubles four spades, you have adequate defensive values and, if he passes, you can bid five hearts with the assurance that the save will be inexpensive and you may even be able to fulfill an 11 trick contract.

Q. 6—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠6 ♥10987 ♦KQ63 ♣A865

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 1 NT Pass

2 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—We recommend an ace showing bid of four clubs at this point. While it is true that partner may, for the time being, interpret this as showing a club suit, we intend to raise hearts at our next turn to bid. This will make it clear that we are looking for a slam.

Q. 7—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠5 ♥Q8542 ♦10863 ♣J94

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

1 ♠ Pass 1 NT Pass

2 ♣ Dble. Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. To bid three hearts would be quite out of order. Partner has undertaken to defeat the contract of two spades by himself. It is not your position to act as nursemaid to him.

Q. 8—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠A ♣AJ1075 ♥Q862 ♣973

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

Pass Pass 1 ♥ 2 ♦

2 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. You have opened third hand in the hope of obtaining a part score and should make no further move. Partner should have a self-sustaining spade suit to bid at this increased level.

Debate Cutback In U.S. Weapons

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's bid for increased weapons development under the U.S.-Soviet arms accord heads into House debate with opponents proposing a $1.6-billion cutback.

But although their amendments promised Congress' first debate on U.S. arms policy under the Moscow arms-limitation agreements, Nixon's House opponents did not expect to win any cuts in the arguments today or in voting Tuesday and Wednesday.

RACE QUIZ

The amendments would cut all or most of the President's requests for the new guided-missile submarine, advanced B1 bomber and antimissile systems from the $21.3-billion weapons-authorization bill before the House.

"Do we build up to the limit of the agreements?" asked Rep. Robert L. Leggett, D-Calif., in a report on some of the proposed cuts, "or do we take the President and Soviet party leader Leonid Brezhnev at their words that they agree the arms race should stop?"

But Nixon and Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird told Congress last week its rejection of the new weapons would jeopardize U.S. security and destroy Soviet incentive for negotiating a fuller arms curb.

Nixon said Soviet incentive to negotiate a permanent limit on all nuclear weapons would be totally destroyed by U.S. failure to keep up with Soviet arms improvements permitted under the five-year interim agreement signed in Moscow.

Laird told senators he hopes the Trident submarine, B1 bomber and other new systems—after giving the Soviets incentive to renegotiate a permanent offensive — weapons curb—could be among the weapons bargained away or limited.

ALREADY CUT

The $21.3-billion weapons bill already has been cut a net $582.4 million as a result of the Moscow accords, with a $692.4-million cut from the Safeguard antimissile system offset with a $110-million increase for offensive-weapons systems other than the Trident and B1 bomber.

Leggett's amendments would cut Nixon's $977-million request for Trident to $277 million to return it to last year's development schedule; cut Safeguard another $350 million, leaving $188 million research-and-development money for it; and cut all $140 million for a tighter radar defense around U.S. missile fields.

'Country', 'Hat' In Oldtimers' Game July 4

HOUSTON—Enos (Country) Slaughter and Harry (The Hat) Walker, who teamed with captain Terry Moore to be one of the best outfielders in baseball, will be at the Oldtimers game with the 1946 St. Louis Cardinals against the 1947 Houston Buffs this Fourth of July in the Astrodome.

Joe (Ducky) Medwick, who had played with many of these '46 Cards on other great St. Louis teams, also has been invited for the reunion. Medwick wasn't a member of either the '46 Cards or the '47 Buffs but was a favorite of earlier times.

The "Champions All" theme is carried out with the '46 World Champion Cards playing the '47 Dixie Series champion Buffs at 6 p.m. with the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates facing the Astros at 7:30 p.m.

Slaughter, known affectionately as "Country" was "Mr. Hustle." He was one of the '46 Series heroes, climaxing a great season and series by scoring the series-winning run in the eighth inning of the seventh game against the Boston Red Sox by sprinting all the way from first on a blow to left center by Harry Walker. A surprised Red Sox shortstop Johnny Pesky hesitated on relaying the ball to the home plate as Slaughter never slowed down in his race to score.

Fragrant Feet

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: This is urgent. My daughter, 21, has a very bad odor on her feet and shoes. She takes baths every day after work but her feet still smell so bad I don't know what to do.

What causes the rotten smell? Is there a special kind of soap or powder? She's tried several. — Mrs. A.J.M.

When sweating feet smell "rotten," just a "special soap" or a powder isn't going to be the entire answer, although either or both may help.

First of all, keep this in mind: odorless sweating is due to bacteria on the skin. The warm moisture of sweat provides just what the bacteria needs to proliferate — and make feet smell bad.

The answer is a combination of keeping the skin dry and keeping it clean. Neither of these can be achieved totally, but the idea is to keep the bacteria count low and the skin fairly dry.

Keeping the bacteria count low can best be accomplished by using a daily foot bath with a germicidal soap. (I do not, however, recommend daily use of a germicidal soap for all-over bathing. It can be irritating.)

Reduce perspiration by the use of drying agents. Safest of these is a 25 per cent solution of aluminum chloride as a foot-soak. Various anti-perspirant cosmetics also contain aluminum salts, and these could be tried — powders, sticks, liquids, etc.

Another possibility is a weak solution (about 1 to 3 per cent) of formaldehyde, which your pharmacist can prepare. It may be irritating though for some people.

In any event, the drying agents should be used to treat the inner soles of shoes. Never wear the same shoes two days in a row. If possible, let shoes dry more than a day between wearings.

Nylon hosiery can be a factor, too, since it doesn't absorb moisture. I understand that nylons with cotton soles are available, so try them, too.

Just why some people perspire more (feet and elsewhere) is not always clear, but it is more prevalent among those of a nervous, tense disposition. I haven't much doubt that the person with sweaty feet probably sweats even more just because of worrying about it.

If you can't solve the situation with the above suggestions (although I trust that you will be able to) the best course then would be to see a skin specialist (dermatologist).

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am a young adult female and have a hard time stirring up much energy. I wonder if it is because my hemoglobin never runs much over 11.5. Is this considered low? I tried iron tablets, once, but they caused awful stomach cramps. — D.M.

Yes, 11.5 hemoglobin is a bit low. Common causes are excessive menstrual flow, or dietary deficiency — low intake of protein, fruits and vegetables.

I recollect a study of a nursing group, all with low hemoglobin levels — and all were found to have a poor dietary history.

If you do, in fact, need an iron supplement, your physician can suggest other forms of iron to avoid the stomach upset.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I suffer from low blood sugar and eat several times a day, but can't gain a pound — I'm 5 feet 8½ and weigh 120. Should I increase my carbohydrates? — P.H.

Increasing carbohydrates can aggravate your low blood sugar problem, so instead try increasing your fat intake — thicker spread of butter or margarine, cream, salad oils, whole milk. Ounce for ounce, fat has about twice the caloric value of carbohydrates.

Low blood sugar — a puzzler until correctly identified — is often the cause of faintness, headaches, visual and emotional disturbances. To learn how it can be identified and brought under control, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Big Spring Herald for a copy of his booklet, "Help for Hypoglycemia," enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Buckets Of Rain Fall On Area

HONG KONG (AP) — Nearly five feet of rain poured on Hong Kong in the last eight weeks, the Royal Observatory said today.

Fifty-seven inches, more than twice the normal precipitation for this time of year, was officially measured at the observatory on the mainland.

Child's Troubles Split Families

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Parents of children with cancer often separate, turn to alcohol or suffer emotional illnesses, doctors were told Friday at the National Conference on Human Values and Cancer in Atlanta.

"Few people are prepared to handle the slow death of a child," said Peter G. Koltnow, a member of Candlelighters, a Bethesda, Md., organization geared to assist families which have children suffering from malignancies.

Koltnow said that when a child is stricken with cancer, "the family should be treated as well."

Double Standard

A young Air Force officer has shown considerable courage in bringing charges of criminal misconduct against retired Gen. John D. Lavelle, who approved unauthorized air strikes against North Vietnam.

Gen. Lavelle, who faces demotion to lieutenant general in retirement, acknowledged to a House committee that he ordered the strikes at a time when American policy forbade them.

Instead of being brought up on charges of violating orders, Lavelle was rather quietly relieved of his 7th Air Force command and abruptly retired for "personal and health reasons." The Air Force later amended this to "irregularities in the conduct of his command responsibilities." The full truth didn't come out for three months.

When nothing else was done about Lavelle's decision to run the war his way, First Lt. Delbert R. Terrill, 24, and an Air Force Academy graduate, stepped forward. He brought charges under the Uniform Code of Military Justice, which requires an informal inquiry which could lead to a pre-trial hearing and a court-martial.

Lt. Terrill has shown more courage than his superiors. The handling of the Lavelle case plainly shows some are more equal than others, not in the eyes of military law but in the eyes of those charges with carrying out the law.

This is not the first such incident. The Army chose to drop charges against two general officers accused of covering up the My Lai massacre. The generals were punished by administrative reprimand and one was reduced in rank by one star.

Handling of both the Lavelle and the Army cases has been damaging to the services. The concept of military justice has been wounded. Credibility has been brought into question. Lower ranking officers and enlisted men must wonder about special handling of men whose rank and jobs demand exacting standards.

With Gold Coats, Yet

It's a noble thought a pair of legislators had to identify and regulate lobbyists in Austin.

Reps. Joe Salem of Corpus Christi and Lane Denton of Waco have proposed that the Legislature mark the lobbyists. Lobbyists are supposed to register under present law. The Salem-Denton plan would require them also to wear badges and to file expense reports connected with their contacts with state officials for purposes of influencing legislation.

This is a back-door approach to something legislators won't do through the front door. Indeed it is an open secret that some legislators depend upon lobbyists for their daily bread in Austin — with a little something left over for the wife and kids at home.

It would be colorful, at least, to outfit the lobbyists in gold coats, perhaps, and have all waiters announce over a public address system who picks up the tabs during legislative sessions. What the Legislature really needs is a new Stamp Act to control the postage racket. The postage-for-pickup episodes have given many legislators a bad name.

The Umbrellas

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

The Croesus' argument that welfare should be eliminated would make more sense if the laws of the land weren't designed by political architects who provide him with convenient and numberless tax loopholes. Such escape clauses present him with a succession of opportunities to use and-or stash a significant portion of his loot that otherwise would make him fair game for the tax collector.

THIS WOULD BE a true Utopia, perhaps, if every fatherless child, every female who has a baby born out of wedlock could be eliminated from the public dole. It would be even more ideal, though, if the stevedore, the oil man, the captain in transportation, the farmer, the munitions maker, the veteran who goes to the government for assistance to build his house or to further his education would all be told that they could no longer expect federal subsidies to support their manner of life.

AND, WHETHER one refers to such help as subsidy or a tax shelter, it is, unquestionably, still welfare.

Congress has a special place in its heart for the conglomerates which nobly carry on while operating on the shorts, then noise it about that they need a few hundred million quid to keep the faith. The whimperers and the listeners operate on the same wave length and the grouseurs invariably get the balm that keeps them a part of the corporate structure.

BIG BROTHER, on the other hand, can get especially wispish with an individual who doesn't show the proper spirit of cooperation — that by electing not to declare a portion of his income. The fact is, some of the unworthies who decide they need a greater portion of their earnings to feed their own get rather than the fat cats in government have been known to spend a little time in Stoney Lonesome, after they have been properly and publicly excoriated by some princelings within the judicial system.

ODDLY ENOUGH, the people on charity are verbally flayed more by the blue collar worker, the individual who himself is one step removed from the unemployment lines. The average working stiff feels his hard-earned dollar would go further if he didn't have to share it with the bum who wouldn't bend his back if offered the chance.

It rarely occurs to that segment of the citizenry, however, that a much bigger portion of their title money is being ultimately channeled to the individuals who avail themselves of the tax umbrellas than to the welfare recipients.

WE CAN'T last too long as a republic because of our penchant for spending money we do not have but some of our more blessed individuals, those receiving for federal handouts under a more benign name, will at least be going out in style.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

As a Christian, what are my obligations as a concerned citizen?

We, as Christians, have two responsibilities: first, to proclaim the Gospel of Jesus Christ as the only answer to man's deepest needs; and second, to apply as best we can the principles of Christianity to the social conditions around us.

Jesus taught that the Christian is the salt of the earth. Jesus used salt as an example because salt adds zest to food and is a preservative. Some food would spoil without it. Our national society would become corrupt — greed, lust and hate would lead our nation into a veritable hell — if it were not for the Christian salt.

Take all the Christians out of America and see what chaos would be created overnight! It is partially because the church has lost its saltiness that we have such appalling moral and social needs now.

Present problems in our national life are serious, and every Christian has a definite responsibility. The Christian is a citizen of two worlds. In view of this dual citizenship, he is told in the Scriptures not only to pray for those in political authority, but to participate in and serve his government.

The Christian is the only real bearer of light in the world. Just as there is danger that salt shall lose its saltiness, so there is danger that light may be lost in darkness if it is not tended and given a chance to shine. The lives of the early Christians were marked by their invincible witness.

Pound Bad News

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The new and unexpected devaluation of the pound may not have an immediate impact on ordinary Americans but it is very bad news just the same.

Britain's failure to maintain the value of its currency at about $2.60 represents a defeat for the entire trading world. And since major nations are traders, most eventually will be affected, mainly adversely.

British goods now will cost less in other countries, and so her exports can be expected to rise. Foreign goods will cost from Britain's action.

Adding to the difficulty in maintaining agreements are disparities in the condition of national economies. Some countries, such as West Germany, have trade surpluses and strong currency. Others, like Britain, have deficits and weaknesses.

In short, if an economy isn't strong the value of the currency almost inevitably will adjust itself downward, either by a set figure or "floated" — really "sunk" — to a more realistic level.

Britain now has admitted that its economy isn't sufficiently strong to maintain its currency at $2.60. Instead, it plans to let the market place itself — demand and supply — fix the price.

About the only thing certain is that the new price will be lower. The rest is conjecture.

Lottery Winner Has Right Name

Jesus People Are Gone From City

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — The Jesus People are gone from the streets of Spokane and may not return, the founder of the Jesus movement here says.

Carl A. Parks, who began his movement two years ago, said Friday he ordered the youthful street preachers off the streets following a complaint registered by City Councilman J. M. O'Brien Jr.

The councilman quoted several downtown merchants as saying the Bible-packing long-haired youths were driving away would-be customers with their "harassment."

The challenge now is to contain the damage and repair the crack. But the danger exists also that it might spread and throw into disarray a good many other agreements that were laboriously worked out.

In one respect the world's trading nations are being drawn together. But at the same time many of them are either imposing subtle restraints on trade or are declining to lift existing impediments.

For trade among nations to prosper, there must be freedom in the movement of goods and believability in the value of currency used to pay for goods. Both have probably suffered

Choked On Paper

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Fifteen years ago, when then Chairman of the House Administration Committee of the Congress, I inaugurated a study of how paper work in government could be reduced. The report is lost somewhere in the Washington storage bins.

THEN, AND NOW, paper work, much of it absolutely nonessential, threatens to bury us, choke business and slow the processes of getting a job done.

Every governmental agency issues forms to carry out regulations it has established. It was found during the investigation that more than 30,000 forms throughout the federal government were issued each day. Heads of departments and agencies were brought before the subcommittee on House Administration and queried about the necessity of issuing so many forms to be filled out by individuals and businesses. In most instances, an attempt was made to justify all their paper work, but much of it was unconvincing.

Regulations, which demand so much paper work and so many copies, are reducing the freedom of the individual citizen. The tremendous cost of filling out forms and reports by business is costly and in the end must be paid for by the taxpayer.

PRESENTLY A subcommittee of the U.S. Senate is studying the same thing and has come up with an estimate that all the paper work of federal, state and local governments is costing the taxpayers, individuals and businessmen, $36 billion a year.

With the rise of the many new programs inaugurated by the Congress in recent years, such as the various consumer programs, environmental protection, health and welfare, occupational safety, not to mention income tax forms, paper work has increased many times over. Each agency issues its regulations with all sorts of forms and reports for compliance. Some businesses have to employ people to do nothing else but fill out papers. For example, just a few years ago, plans for airport construction were presented to the government with four or five copies. Today a minimum of 45 copies of plans are required. Overlapping agencies must all be provided with a certain number of copies to determine if their regulations are met. Washington is bulging at the seams with stored papers.

THE STUDY OF government paper work reveals that this flood of required reports and applications figures out of 10 forms for every man, woman and child in the nation. In some instances, people have simply gone out of business by not being able to comply. One report shows that a small businessman intended to hire a college student to help him with his paper work. In fact, he hired three part-time students but when he found out it took a bundle of paper work to just hire the students, he decided to do the work himself.

OWNERS OF A small hospital, who serve their community well, found they had to report to 23 separate agencies of government. Administrators said they simply were unable to meet such a task and are threatening to close down.

Certainly proper and necessary information must be had to protect the government's interest, which means the taxpayer's interest, but a vast amount of it is nonproductive, contributes to the cost, and slows performance. Indications are, however, that this flood of paper work will continue to increase. It all adds up to the conclusion that there is simply too much government. Unfortunately, much of it is demanded by all of us and we are getting it. It visibly demonstrates the increased regimentation of our people and proliferation of government bureaus and agencies.

Hal Boyle

By KATHRYN JOHNSON
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Once a month, when the moon is full, thousands of women in Mexico and Chile take an oral contraceptive developed by a Georgia doctor who says it is 90 to 95 per cent effective.

"It does away with the tyranny of taking a pill 365 days a year and reduces it to 12 times a year," said Dr. Robert Greenblatt of Augusta, developer of the once-a-month pill.

"Other countries are getting the advantage of it first," said Greenblatt, chairman of the endocrinology department of the Medical College of Georgia. "It's being used extensively in Mexico and Chile.

"It probably will be about 10 years before the Food and Drug Administration allows it in this country," the researcher said in a telephone interview. "It's not an ideal birth control pill, it's about 90 to 95 per cent effective" and has some side effects.

"But it's a satisfactory one, particularly for underdeveloped nations," Greenblatt said. "For example, say in Thailand or Taiwan, or in any country where you have great masses of illiterate people, how do you get them to take a pill every single day?"

"The monthly pill, then, is a great boon for them. But how do you explain to them that they should take the pill on the 26th day of their menstrual cycle?"

"So, you tell them to take it when the moon is full, so they'll take one once a month. The first month is hazardous for still getting pregnant. But when the body regulates itself to the pill, then it becomes effective," Greenblatt said.

"The pill contains both estrogen, which has a protracted effect so that it acts to prevent ovulation for the next month, and progesterone, which insures a period in the current month."

During latter stages of development several years ago, the monthly pill prevented pregnancy in all 138 trials in 40 Georgia women.

Most of his patients, Greenblatt said, were "enthralled" with not having to remember to take a pill a day.

"A few had side effects, such as bleeding and nausea. But there's no medicine in the world that's perfect," he added.

National Primary

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Now that the last of the presidential primaries have taken place in the states which hold them, a startling assertion has been made by Sen. George Alken of Vermont, who is the senior Republican in the senate. He declared:

"AFTER 23 PRIMARIES, numerous state conventions — each with their own set of rules and customs — millions of voters are now convinced that none of the candidates are qualified for the job."

Sen. Alken was testifying before a Senate subcommittee which is considering reform of the method by which candidates are nominated for the presidency. He said that the voters have gone through a "season of political confusion, bewilderment, unsubstantiated charges, and downgrading of candidates." He added:

"With the conclusion of the voting in the State of New York, the presidential primary season is behind us for another election year. For this we should be most thankful."

THE VERMONT senator is co-sponsor, along with Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, of a constitutional amendment which would provide for a single national primary to pick the presidential candidates. A convention would be held later by each party to select its vice-presidential candidate and to formulate the party platform.

This is not the first time that an effort has been made to get a constitutional amendment adopted which would change the present system of selecting presidents. Woodrow Wilson, as president-elect, made public on Feb. 5, 1913, a letter to A. Mitchell Palmer, Democratic leader of the House, who had asked his views on the subject because the senate early in 1913 had passed a resolution proposing an amendment that would limit presidential tenure to a single six-year term. Woodrow Wilson said in part:

"THERE OUGHT never to be a another presidential nominating convention; and there need never be another. Several of the states have successfully solved that difficulty with regard to the choice of their governors, and federal law can solve it in the same way with regard to the choice of presidents. The nomination should be made directly by the people at the polls."

"Conventions should determine nothing but party platforms and should be made up of the men who would be expected, if elected, to carry those platforms into effect. It is not necessary to attend to the people's business by constitutional amendment if you will only actually put the business into the people's own hands."

MR. WILSON suggested that the time would come when the President might be made answerable to public opinion through both houses of Congress. He described, in effect, the parliamentary system in vogue in Great Britain and other countries. He said that "the character of the presidency is passing through a transitional stage," but cautioned that "we do not know what it is going to work out into, and until we do know, we shall not know what constitutional change, if any is needed, it would be best to make."

IT WAS CLEAR that, while he was not ready to recommend the parliamentary form, he believed the American system was in need of some change. A nationwide primary would enable the voters to concentrate on the merits of the prospective nominees, who would be campaigning throughout the country on national issues. The problems of the Federal government would be dealt with without any relation to local contests except the candidacies for the U. S. House of Representatives and Senate.

There's Right Way

Two policemen, cruising in a "narcotics neighborhood," saw a man emerge from an apartment house and head for a waiting taxicab. After a quick glance up and down the street, he entered the cab.

THEIR SUSPICIONS aroused, the officers approached the cab and — although they had no warrant — placed the man under arrest. Sure enough, he was carrying a quantity of heroin.

But when the case came to court, the judge held the arrest unlawful and the evidence inadmissible. He said the police had no right to act on what was little more than a hunch.

UNDER MOST NARCOTICS laws, officers may arrest without a warrant only if they have "reasonable grounds" for suspecting a violation. This means something more than a vague feeling that something is amiss.

EVEN A TIP from an informer may not be enough. Thus: A narcotics user told people he had gotten his supply from a certain "Joe" at a certain address. Police found and arrested Joe, but again the arrest was held improper.

Reason: the police had no prior experience with this particular informer, hence no special reason to consider him trustworthy, hence no "reasonable grounds" for making the arrest.

BY CONTRAST, a court upheld an arrest when the informer had repeatedly turned out to be right in the past.

Of course, direct observation by officers may also provide adequate grounds for an arrest. For example:

A narcotics agent listening at the door of an apartment heard incriminating statements by the two men inside. Meanwhile, another agent peering through a window saw them pouring white powder into typical heroin contain

THESE CIRCUMSTANCES were enough, a court ruled later, to support the agents in making an arrest.

"A prudent man would be justified," said the court, "in believing that a violation of the narcotics law was being committed."

A Devotion For Today..

Without faith it is impossible to please God. (Hebrews 11:6)
PRAYER: Heavenly Father, forgive us that so many times we have disappointed You. Help us in faith to place full trust in You to help us in all our endeavors, as did Christ, Your Son, who taught us to pray, "Our Father, who art in heaven... Amen."

It was his first golf tournament triumph in four years on the PGA tour and it came in the friendly confines of his home state with 2,000 followers from his native Moline area forming the most enthusiastic army since Arnie's. His parents, an uncle, the best man at his wedding, his old pro pal, Bob Fry of the Crow Valley Country Club in Davenport, Iowa, his wife, his my Aaron who was second, eight strokes behind. The largest winning margin previously this season on the tour was Lee Trevino's four-stroke victory in the Memphis Open. Jamieson, who came up from the caddy ranks at Oakwood Country Club in Moline and won the 1964 Chicago District Amateur and 1967 Illinois State Amateur, pocketed $30,000 in becoming the first Illinois player to join the Western Open since Chick Evans in 1910. It boosted his 1972 earnings to $77,603 and his total as a pro to $149,458.

Seagren Eyes New Ceiling

GRESHAM, Ore. (AP) — Premier pole vaulter Bob Seagren looked a little puzzled, through a moment and then recalled what happened at the inaugural Rose Festival track and field meet. "Oh yeah," he said, "I was very tired in that one. I had just flown in from the East Coast." Seagren, representing the Southern California Striders, moments earlier was upset at not clearing the bar beyond 17 feet 6 1/2 inches. He probably didn't feel so badly when he remembered his performance at the festive inaugural meet two years ago. His best vault that day: 15-6. Seagren, who won Saturday's event, has vaulted 18-4 1/2 this year, a pending world record. He now heads for Eugene and the Olympic Trials beginning Thursday. "I'm hoping for at least an 18-6 at the trials, but quite frankly I'd like to go higher," he said. Sweden's Kjell Isaksson shares the pending world mark of 18-4 1/2. Steve Prefontaine, two-time winner of Oregon's outstanding amateur athlete award, set an American record in the 3,000-meter run. South African John Halberstadt, the NCAA winner at 10,000 meters, whipped a strong field in the 5,000. Prefontaine won the seldom-run 3,000 meters in 7:45.8, topping the record of 7:54.2 set by Jim Beatty in 1962. Halberstadt, who attends Oklahoma State, reached back for something extra at the finish, nipping Jeff Galloway of the Florida Track Club with a 13:43.9 clocking to Galloway's 13:44.1. Four others finished within the 13:57 U.S. Olympic qualifying standard, with Mike Keogh of the New York Athletic Club qualifying for Ireland's trails with a 13:46.7 fourth place time.

DESPITE OBSTACLES Petty Triumphs In Lone Star

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Richard Petty overcame all the obstacles thrown in his path to win the Lone Star 500—three yellow flags, one wreck and a jackrabbit on the backstretch. Petty took command in the final 60 laps Sunday to blitz the field in his 1971 Dodge with an average speed of 144.185 miles per hour as scorching Texas temperatures claimed his challengers at Texas World Speedway. Petty, who added his fifth victory on the current NASCAR Winston Cup circuit, lost ground after one yellow flag, narrowly missed being caught during a crackup but finally pulled away from Bobby Isaac because he avoided trouble in the pits. "That was the difference between me and Isaac today," Petty said after collecting $12,120 in the $95,000 race. "I think I'm the only one who ran all day and didn't have any trouble, and that was the difference."

Raymond Williams spun out on the third turn and a metal object was discovered on the first turn. Another yellow flag occurred on the 60th lap when Marty Robbins blew his engine. Petty said he was able to run faster than he had expected. "The heat really didn't bother the cars that much. It wasn't as much of a factor as I thought it would be." LeeRoy Yarbrough left the race early to have a jackrabbit removed from his grill. "Me and Isaac saw him back there, too," Petty said. "But he was going the wrong way."

Jerry Quarry Given No Chance With Muhammad

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Eddie "Boss Man" Jones, who once fought unsuccessfully for the light-heavyweight title, gives Jerry Quarry no chance in his bout against Muhammad Ali on Tuesday night. Once he worked with Quarry in sparring sessions, but now he trains with Ali, so Jones has had the opportunity to study both the heavyweights. "All's so fast you can't block his punches," Eddie says. "I'm known to be a pretty fast man myself, but I can't do anything with Ali. I work with him and I'm a 10-round fighter and I'm tired after three. Jones' comments don't make Quarry happy.

"I did work with him, but you can bet I won't work with him again unless it's to break his head," said the California heavyweight. "I always went easy with him and he's spouting off like this. And for the main thing, he isn't fighting me." Jones, long recognized as the No. 1 light-heavyweight challenger, lost to Vicente Rondon at Caracas in a World Boxing Association title match last year. Quarry and Ali are slated for 12 rounds at the Las Vegas Convention Center on the same card in which Jerry's brother Mike challenges Bob Foster for the light-heavyweight title.

Fem Ump's Career Goes Up In Smoke After Rhubarb

GENEVA, N.Y. (AP) — It took Bernice Gera six years to battle her way to her goal of umpiring in professional baseball. Then after seven dispute-filled innings it was all over, and the petite New York housewife dropped out of public view, unavailable for comment or explanation. Mrs. Gera resigned in tears Saturday night after serving as base umpire in a New York-Pennsylvania League game between the Auburn Phillies and the Geneva Rangers—her six years of effort and legal wrangling to break baseball officiating's sex barrier apparently at an ironic end. "We don't know where she is now," Barney Deary, chief of umpire development for professional baseball, said Sunday while watching the teams play in Auburn. During Saturday's night game the heat was turned on in when Auburn's Terry Ford slid lead. Mrs. Gera first called him safe, then thumbed him out seconds later. According to Campbell Mrs. Gera admitted she had been mixed up on the play.

CARROL RUGHTER

MONDAY, JUNE 26

GENERAL TENDENCIES: After a morning when things seem to be occurring in a haphazard fashion, you are able to find the answers you want. The day can be your best interests on a more secure footing in the world of the moon. (March 21 to April 19) A higher-up can assist you in gaining more prestige if you ask for assistance. Taking care of a credit matter now that has been worrying you for some time is wise. Relax tonight.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) Obtain the data you need that will be necessary to put a new project in operation very soon. Planning a trip now for the future is wise. Study all the facts and figures. Men must be made on items you have made so that they can be made successful in the future. Strive to have more harmonious relations with the one you love. Sign a contract.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You need to be more objective and less emotional now if you are to handle your affairs more intelligently. Plan time for civic duties. Show that you have wisdom.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) You have much work to do now and if you do it efficiently, you gain the respect of higher-ups as well as your friends. Find the right apparel for yourself, but be conservative.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Plan early to have the amusement that you really like. Your creativity is high now and you can accomplish a great deal. Make sure you are not extravagant. Spend your money wisely.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Put artistic touch you have to work at home and make everything more charming. There show that you are most loyal to him. Make a fine impression on a business partner.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) If you study the data that is available, you can gain the answers to problems that are bothering you. Confer with experts concerning a business matter that is important to you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Put into motion a new plan that will add much to your present abundance. Instead of deliberating any further, listen while working to what an expert has to say.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have fine ideas and can reach a cherished goal and help good friends as well. While on a social occasion, you have others can help you reach your goals.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Reaching with others is your best bet now since you can reap fine benefits, both spiritual and monetary. Add to your present circle of acquaintances.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) A good friend who is serious about you can give fine advice on how to advance in business. Contact this person early. Forget a moment. Show that you are sensible.

LAUGHING MATTER

HAVE A NICE SUMMER.

Secret Dictionary Is Roaring Success

MADRID (AP) — An entire dictionary devoted to dirty words? In Catholic Spain, where censorship has become a way of life?

No, not one volume, but two, both best sellers, a third in the making and two more scheduled.

Sold clandestinely, then, by furtive pornographers? Wrong again. Available in bookstores and compiled by the country's leading novelist, Camilo Jose Cela, author of the best-selling "Family of Pascual Duarte," which has been translated into 19 languages, plus Braile.

In paperback alone, Cela's first volume has sold more than 100,000 copies, a roaring success by Spanish standards. Hardback sales are estimated at about 30,000.

SEX VOLUME

His second volume, nearly twice the size of the first, is devoted to street language for words that mean urine. Currently he is at work on a volume about the female sex organ. He is undecided where to focus volumes four and five.

The books have a limited circulation outside Spain, since they cannot be translated. They have yet to be widely published in South America. But if you want to know the equivalent of a dirty word in Cuban, Puerto Rican, Ecuadorean or Chilean Spanish, it is in the dictionary. Cela, 55, does not agree that the words are dirty. He holds they have certain times and places where they can be used.

"The fact that a word exists does not harness it with the supposition that its use should be or must be extolled, but, simply, indicates the evidence that it exists as such a word. That is: It is there, performing a function—naming an object, an action, a sensation or blending its qualities..." Cela writes of his first volume.

He acknowledges he has never presented his dictionaries to the Ministry of Information and Tourism for approval before publication. His "Family of Pascual Duarte" was presented in 1943 and held up two years.

Viet, Busing Planks Facing Floor Fights

WASHINGTON (AP) — First-draft planks of the Democratic 1972 platform called today for "an immediate and complete withdrawal of all U.S. forces in Indochina" and took a mid-diagonal stand on the hot domestic issue of racial school busing.

Both planks, and perhaps as many as a dozen others, headed into floor fights as the full 150-member drafting committee convened for a two-day session open to press and public.

Challenges were expected from both right and left on the eight-plank platform drafted by a 15-member drafting subcommittee which itself could not agree on a defense spending plank.

TWO VERSIONS

It sent two versions to the floor, one demanding a strong military stance to deter aggressors and keep the confidence of allies, the other suggesting that cutbacks should be undertaken.

The Vietnam plank denounced President Nixon's failure to make good on his 4-year-old promise of peace and declared that his Vietnamization program has been proved a delusion.

"The majority of the Democratic senators have called for full U.S. withdrawal by October 1, 1972. We support that position," the draft plank said.

"If the war is not ended before the next Democratic administration takes office, we pledge, as the first order of business, an immediate and complete withdrawal of all U.S. forces in Indochina."

"All U.S. military action in Southeast Asia will cease. After the end of U.S. direct combat participation, military aid to the Saigon government and elsewhere in Indochina will be terminated."

FIRST DRAFT

"The U.S. will no longer seek to determine the political future of the nations of Indochina."

The school-busing plank was quickly and sharply challenged by delegates supporting Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama, who promised to offer a dissenting plank and carry the fight if necessary to the national convention opening July 10 in Miami Beach, Fla.

This was the first-draft statement:

"We support the goal of desegregation as a means to achieve equal access to quality education for all our children. Quality education is the issue—busing is not."

"Transportation of students is one of many tools available to achieve quality education. Where it serves that goal, we endorse it; where it does not serve that goal, we do not."

Alabama State Sen. Pierre Pelham, a Wallace spokesman, told reporters, "We wanted them to say there would be no busing solely to achieve racial balance. They (the drafting subcommittee) would not go for it. We will have a dissenting plank."

PENTAGON SPENDING

One of the two alternative planks on Pentagon spending did reflect the views of Wallace and Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash. It said:

"We propose a program of national defense which is both prudent and responsible, which will retain the confidence of our allies, and which will be a deterrent to political aggression."

The small drafting subcommittee labored almost all Saturday night to produce three domestic planks. The policies started with a "guaranteed job" proposal and federal income supports not unlike McGovern's share-the-wealth plan—but far less specific.

The three planks won general approval from spokesmen for Democratic presidential candidates. Back at his labors all day Sunday, the subcommittee planned to present a complete eight-plank draft to its parent committee by this morning.

JOBS WANTED

That body in turn had 48 hours to rewrite and approve a final draft which must be in the mail to every delegate 10 days before the Democratic National convention opens in Miami Beach on July 10.

Sunday's draft planks called for a guaranteed job for everyone, plus replacement of the present welfare system by "an income-security program" providing federal payments to insure every family an income at or above the poverty level.

McGovern has urged a $1,000-per-person income grant for the poor and elimination of the $750 personal income-tax deduction—plus tax reform aimed at corporations and affluent individuals.

There are big hurdles ahead. Ten per cent of the drafting committee—any 15 members—could enter a dissent and each could be debated on the convention floor.

The draft planks released Sunday have these titles and these further basic provisions:

Jobs, Prices and Taxes:

—Endorsement of the Mills-Mansfield tax-reform plan, under which all preferences and loopholes would be repealed in groups from 1974 to 1976, unless retained after full consideration in Congress. This would thwart a McGovern plan: he has urged some immediate loophole-closings to help pay for his income-grant proposal.

SOCIAL SECURITY

—Converting Social Security into a progressive tax, bearing more heavily on the well-to-do, by increasing the basic amount of annual pay on which the payroll tax is levied. Cost-of-living increases in old-age pensions would be automatic.

—Property taxes would be reduced and school spending equalized by "substantial increases in the federal share of education costs and general revenue sharing."

Rights, Power and Social Justice:

—Endorses both national health insurance and no-fault automobile insurance.

—Legalization of class-action suits by which consumer groups can go into court on behalf of all consumers.

Cities, Communities and Environment:

—Devotes six pages to environmental recommendations which, according to platform drafters, will safeguard air, land and water from pollution without sacrificing economic growth or jobs.

—The highway fund would be broadened to include funds for other transportation forms, including city mass-transit systems.

Area Students On Honor Roll

Students from Big Spring, Stanton, Ackerly, Colorado City and Lamesa are among the 913 in the College of Business Administration at Texas Tech University named to the dean's honor list for the spring semester, 1972.

To be named to the dean's list, students must have at least a 3.0 grade-point average and be enrolled in 12 hours of courses. Texas Tech is on the 4.0-point grading system.

Big Spring students named to the list are James P. Dickens, Paula P. Green, Susan G. Armstrong, David E. Myres, Thomas A. Welch, Kenneth D. Ray and Marvie A. Wheeler.

Others included: Steven J. Herm, Ackerly, William G. Morris, Rickie G. Sorenson, John K. Grubbs and George R.

Witten, all of Colorado City; Danna J. Ledbetter, Daniel Hollmann, John Porter and Danny K. Newbrough, all of Lamesa; and James Nichols, David Workman and Stephen L. Stallings, all of Stanton.

Rodeo Regarded Most Successful

Wind, dust and slight trace of precipitation had no effect on an undaunted rodeo audience of nearly 7,000 Saturday night.

Charlie Creighton, president of the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo, was pleased with the response to the show. Although receipts have not been tallied pending reports on advance sales, indications are that it was the best attended rodeo in the 39-year history of the event. Officials said that Ken Curtis (Festus of Gunsmoke fame) was pleased with the reaction to his second appearance here. So was Tommy Steiner, Austin, producer of the rodeo. Walt Garrison, the Dallas football running back who steer wrestles on the side, added considerable lustre to the show.

The final night of roping and riding demonstrated the grit of modern man in the face of a ton of beef. Booger Nixon, Eastland, was so thrilled at his first bareback ride Saturday that a ride was scheduled for him after the rodeo to boost his standing to second place for an average score of 67. Gary Tucker pulled the loose ends together for an average winning score of 68. Following were Jim Moore, third place at 65, and Bobby Nixon, fourth at 64.

A display of trick riding by Dollie Beutler, Kathy Great-house and Janette Plunkett thrilled watchers. The antics of clowns Quail Dobbs and Kajun Kidd entertained between events, and tossed bull riders were happy to see them deploying their diversionary talents on the bulls.

Saturday's Results:

Steer wrestling: 1. Dicky Mangold, San Antonio, 9.6; 2. Doug Young, Brownwood, 10.6; 3. Tim Prather, Snyder, 19.4; 4. Joe Hudson, Colorado City, 20.5.

Bull Riding: 1. Wacey Cathy, Big Spring, 70; 2. Mike Findley, Lubbock, 68; 3. Roy Carter, Crockett, 66; 4. Rex Norman, Dallas, 60.

Winners for the week:

Bareback riding: 1. Gary Tucker, Carlsbad, N.M., 68; 2. Booger Nixon, Eastland, 67; 3. Jim Moore, Balmorhea, 65; 4. Bobby Nixon, Eastland, 64.

Steer wrestling: 1. Thurman Russell, Clarksville, 13.5; 2. Jerry Peveto, Hugo, Okla., 13.8; 3. Donnie Leslie, Hereford, 14.6; 4. Sidney Boston, Pine Bluff, Ark., 14.9.

Bull riding: 1. Myrtil Dightman, Crockett, 75; 2. Ronnie Bowman, Calera, Okla., 68; 3. (tie) Roy Carter, Crockett, and Marvin Schulte, Nazareth, 66.

VANDALISM

Mary McKinney, 1311 Mobile, reported a dirt clod thrown through a window. Damage estimated at $5.

Safety Seminar Is Scheduled

Earl J. Newell, director of the Big Spring District of the Texas Oil Marketers Association, announced today that the Association will sponsor a Safety Seminar stressing compliance with the Occupational Safety and Health Act 3-5 p.m. Thursday in the Howard County Junior College Science Building, Room 101.

Lewis C. Barbe, will be the principle instructor. Barbe is vice president of the Loss Control Division of the Houston General Insurance Company and is a graduate of the Illinois Institute of Technology in Fire Protection and Safety Engineering.

The seminar will emphasize better understanding of the federal law, necessary record keeping and reporting, and technical instruction related to the handling of petroleum products. The first hour will be of particular interest to all employers.

American Pilots Knock Out North Viet's Steel Plant

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. pilots knocked out North Vietnam's only steel plant, put a power plant out of operation and dropped two bridges in weekend raids, the U.S. Command reported today.

Radio Hanoi claimed that six U.S. F4 Phantoms were shot down, but the U.S. Command said it had no plane losses to report.

However, it is the command's policy to withhold such information as long as rescue operations are in progress.

270 STRIKES

U.S. pilots flew more than 270 strikes on Saturday and a like number on Sunday.

One flight of four Phantoms hit the Viet Tri thermal power plant 25 miles northwest of Hanoi on Sunday with 2,000-pound, laser-guided bombs. They "effectively destroyed the plant's capability to produce electrical power for the nearby industrial complex," a communique said.

Reconnaissance photos confirmed the destruction of the boiler facility, the electrical switching building, and the flue and coal conveyor, the communique said.

It was learned that the Viet Tri plant was attacked on June 17 with laser bombs, but that raid was not announced because it failed to put the plant out of commission.

The 7th Air Force announced that four of its Phantoms dropped laser-guided, 2,000-pound bombs into the open hearth furnaces of the Thai Nguyen steel plant 30 miles north of Hanoi on Saturday. Sixteen other Phantoms bombed warehouse areas.

THEFTS

Johnny Ramirez, 3313 Cornell, reported the theft of two tires and two mag wheels. Value established at $300.

Rick Johnson, Astro Mobile Homes, reported one of the mobile homes had been burglarized. The door was pried open and a coffee table valued at $60 taken.

Sharon Miller, 407 Bell, reported a burglary at her apartment. Taken were four rings, 10 necklaces and $13 in cash.

Commander's policy to withhold such information as long as rescue operations are in progress.

270 STRIKES

U.S. pilots flew more than 270 strikes on Saturday and a like number on Sunday.

One flight of four Phantoms hit the Viet Tri thermal power plant 25 miles northwest of Hanoi on Sunday with 2,000-pound, laser-guided bombs. They "effectively destroyed the plant's capability to produce electrical power for the nearby industrial complex," a communique said.

Reconnaissance photos confirmed the destruction of the boiler facility, the electrical switching building, and the flue and coal conveyor, the communique said.

It was learned that the Viet Tri plant was attacked on June 17 with laser bombs, but that raid was not announced because it failed to put the plant out of commission.

The 7th Air Force announced that four of its Phantoms dropped laser-guided, 2,000-pound bombs into the open hearth furnaces of the Thai Nguyen steel plant 30 miles north of Hanoi on Saturday. Sixteen other Phantoms bombed warehouse areas.

Water Usage Is On Upswing

People, animals and lawns were thirstier last week as the average daily temperature reached 100 degrees.

According to Bill Brown, director of city utilities, Big Springers used 52,587,360 gallons of water last week as compared to 31,169,000 gallons in the previous week.

Monday and Saturday showed the week's highs of 102 while Friday was next with 101. Tuesday and Thursday the thermometer reached 100 with the week's "low" on Wednesday at 94.

Gunfire Kills Two Brothers

BRADY, Tex. (AP)—Sheriff Luke Vogel blamed previous trouble among the principals for a shooting which left two brothers dead and a third man in jail Sunday evening.

The gunfire in a Brady city park killed Dick Soto, 26, and a brother, Vinto Soto, 27, both from neighboring Mason County.

Vogel said the man accused of shooting them, also from Mason County, would be charged with murder.
