RAISE GOVERNOR'S PAY TO $63,000

Solons Try To Adjust Differences

AUSTIN (AP) — Economy-minded negotiators working on the $4.1 billion appropriations bill decided today the state could not afford a fire ant eradication program but could afford to raise the governor's pay.

The five senators and five representatives trying to wipe out a $13 million difference in the Senate and House versions of the state budget next year met for the second time. There was guarded optimism they might finish their compromise talks late tonight and have a settlement ready when both houses resume sessions Wednesday.

WAIT ONE YEAR

"I think it would wait for one year," Red Neil Caldwell of Alvin said of a $300,000 proposed appropriation to apply insecticide to kill fire ants in East Texas. "And what's more I don't think the House would ever approve another $300,000."

A few minutes later the 10-man conference committee approved the $63,000 salary set for Texas' governor in the Senate bill instead of the $58,500, the present salary level, in the House bill.

The committee also approved a compromise in the building of border import-export stations for quarantine of cattle and other livestock. They voted to build two quarantine facilities, at El Paso and Brownsville, instead of the three recommended in the Senate bill or the one in the House bill.

Rep. Hilary Doran, Del Rio, pointed out that Laredo, the third proposed site for a quarantine station, was close to Eagle Pass, which already had the retaining pens.

Mexico recently threatened to cut off livestock exports from Texas until adequate facilities for quarantine were built to prevent the spread of livestock diseases.

PHONE SYSTEM

The conferees also agreed to the House plan to spend $3.6 million the next year in building a statewide telephone system for state agencies and legislators similar to the Wide Area Telecommunications Service (WATS) lines used by a number of state agencies now. Staff members of the Legislative Budget Board estimated the move might save the state $8 million over the next 10 years in communications savings.

"I want to be recorded as voting 'no' on this," said Sen. A. M. Aikin, head of the Senate

BRIEF RECESS

Work Facing Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress will have lots of work left when it reassembles July 17 following a two-week recess.

When they adjourned Friday, the legislators had completed six months of the 1972 session. Many of President Nixon's key legislative recommendations remained pending.

Work still facing Congress included:

- Nixon's $5 billion revenue-sharing bill, which has passed the House and has had a friendly reception in the Senate Finance Committee.
- Welfare reform, which Nixon has termed his most important domestic proposal. Its fate is uncertain.
- Nixon's government reorganization plans, to reshuffle several Cabinet departments. Support is lacking in Congress.
- Antibusing bills which appear to have been stalled. Republicans say they will offer them as amendments to other legislation.
- The foreign military aid bill which has been encumbered with an end-the-war amendment. Administration supporters will try to kill the amendment.
- A proposed minimum wage hike from $1.60 to $2.20 hourly. Nixon favors $2.
- Gun control legislation already approved by the Senate Judiciary Committee. Cheap handguns would be primarily affected.
- Major antipollution and water pollution bills, approved by the Senate and House but with differences that need to be resolved.
- Defense and foreign aid appropriations.

'Chicken Little'

Reminiscent of the tale of "Chicken Little" and his obsession with a falling sky is an instance reported by one member of the local Texas Highway Patrol detachment.

A "witness" ran up to the officer's car at 6:30 p.m. Sunday where it was stopped on the roadside. "A plane crash, there's been a plane crash," the man told the officer, and he told him where he had seen the plane "crash" into the ground.

Upon investigation at the scene, the officer found a glider that had apparently run out of wind, and the pilot had left the plane, apparently to find help in moving his downed craft.

The officer reported that he found no sign of damage to the craft.

Old Settlers Gather For Reunion July 29

Friends of the Howard-Glasscock Old Settlers Reunion were alerted today that the annual meeting date is July 29.

This is a Saturday, in contrast to the customary date of Friday, and the location also is being moved from the Comanche Trail Park pavilion to the county fair barn.

Another change is in the making, said Vandoyl Murphree, president. This year arrangements are being made for the Odessa Chuck Wagon Gang to serve the meal, and those interested are asked to come and watch the nationally famous volunteer caterers set up their rigs and barbecue the night before.

The Country Cousins will furnish music, and that evening there will be a dance at the fair barn.

In addition to Murphree, officers are Adrian Porter, vice president, and Mrs. Murphree, secretary.

Murphree stressed that donations for the reunion are needed. These may be mailed or left at the State National Bank, or mailed or left with Murphree at 2515 Broadway.

Booze Wreck

WOLCOTT, Ind. (AP) — The people who make their homes along the Penn Central tracks west of here might have felt a little woozy this morning.

Police said a tank car loaded with 190 proof grain alcohol spilled its load onto the right-of-way Sunday night, spreading fumes over a wide area.

White County sheriff's officers were called to keep the curious away. They said the slightest spark could have set off a tremendous blaze.

The alcohol, which was to be used in making whiskey, soaked into the ground near a cornfield and evaporated without incident.

Railroad workers moved in, sniffing the air, to clean up the 20 derailed cars.

REFLECTED THOUGHT — Deep in meditation here is 2½-year-old Wes Shook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Shook of Lamesa, whose outsized face shield picks up some of the action in the Webb AFB Softball Tournament Sunday afternoon. Wes, no doubt, was thinking how a cold bottle of pop would help neutralize the West Texas heat.

'Let Freedom Ring' Fete Begins At 8:00 Tuesday

The seventh annual "Let Freedom Ring" celebration will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday, July 4, on the east side of the courthouse lawn, barring rain.

"If it rains, we will move to the city auditorium," said Mrs. Mamie Lee Dodds, chairman of the program.

The program begins with the arrival of Sheriff A. N. Standard, accompanied by Sheriff's Posse members, with the Declaration of Independence. Town Crier Al Scott will read the document to the public.

Colonial soldiers, played by five city officials, will act as an honor guard. Mrs. A. W. Moody will play the role of Betsy Ross. Gold Star Mothers, and their husbands, will be honor guests. Prayers will be by Chaplain Ken Summy.

Trumpeters for the program will be Ricky Mitchell and Richard Kitchens. Colonial music will be played by Sheritta Owenby and Mackey Reed, flutists, and Buster Green, drummer. The Webb Air Force Base color guard will present the colors.

The handbell choir of the First United Methodist Church will play "America the Beautiful" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic," and a choral group from Big Spring High School will sing "Let Freedom Ring" and other songs. Jack Bowers will direct.

The climax of the program will be the national anthem.

with Mrs. Jim Baum acting as accompanist. Bells will be rung, led by the Steer victory bell, representing the citizens approval of the Declaration of Independence.

The public is invited and urged to come in colonial costume. Each person is asked to bring a bell.

9:30 START Want To March In Parade?

The third annual Red, White and Blue Fourth of July Parade, sponsored by Highland South residents, will get under way at 10 a.m.

Participants will assemble at the east end of Highland Drive at 9:30 a.m. Anyone who wants to participate is welcome.

The annual procession of tricycles, bicycles, wagons, antique cars, fire engines, floats and people, all decorated in red, white and blue, will proceed to the intersection of Highland Drive and Goliad.

They will be met by Mayor Wade Choate, who will give a short speech preceded by a flag ceremony led by Boy Scout Troop 5. Refreshments including cold drinks, cookies and bubble gum, will be provided.

All residents of Highland South have been asked to raise flags for the parade. All Big Spring citizens, especially children, are urged to participate.

Abandoned Girl Dies

HOUSTON (AP) — A four-day-old baby girl, abandoned in a downtown restroom Friday, is to be buried today after dying Sunday of pneumonia, still unclaimed.

Juvenile officers and hospital employees had appealed in vain for the mother to come forward so the baby's medical history could be learned.

An undertaker here, Jimmie H. Pruitt, said he would bury the child today at his expense if her body were not claimed.

ARMS SMUGGLING RING SMASHED Plot To Overthrow Castro

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — A plot U.S. officials say was aimed at overthrowing a foreign country—apparently Communist Cuba—has been revealed in the arrest of nine persons in a $465,000 munitions smuggling scheme.

Allegedly stretching from New York to Louisiana, Texas and Mexico, the plot came to light with the arrests Saturday. In addition, nearly seven tons of plastic explosives were seized in a DC4 transport plane at Shreveport, La., federal agents said.

U.S. Atty. Gerald Gallinghouse said Sunday federal officials "have no reason to believe that the munitions were destined for any country other than Cuba."

NINE CHARGED

The complaint charging two of the men, Murray Kessler of Brooklyn, N.Y., and Adler B. Seal of Baton Rouge, La., alleged they "knew and believed that this material would be used in an attempted overthrow of a foreign nation." The two men were arrested near the New Orleans International Airport.

Gallinghouse refused to say precisely that the overthrow plot involved Cuba.

The nine were charged with conspiring to smuggle the explosives from the United States to Mexico for future shipment to a third country.

Among those arrested were Richmond Harper, a prominent South Texas rancher-banker, and Marion Hegler, a former inspector with the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service. They were taken into custody at Eagle Pass, Tex., where they reside, then released on $25,000 bond each.

The federal complaint alleges dealings by a man known as "Carlos Diaz" to purchase as much as $1.2 million in munitions and weapons, ranging from submachine guns to M16s. No guns, however, were aboard the plane raided by federal agents at Shreveport on Saturday.

OVERPOWERED BY PILOT

Skyjacker Shot To Death

SAIGON (AP) — A young Vietnamese man who tried to hijack a Pan American jumbo jet with 153 persons aboard to Hanoi in revenge for U.S. bombing of North Vietnam was overpowered by the pilot and shot to death by an armed passenger Sunday.

ANTIWAR SPEAKER

The hijacker was tentatively identified today as a speaker at antiwar rallies at the University of Washington in Seattle, where he had studied fishery science on a U.S. government scholarship and graduated with honors last month.

The young man, carrying a

South Vietnamese passport in the name Nguyen Thai Binh, met violent death after the pilot tricked him and landed at Saigon, the flight's scheduled destination, in defiance of his demand to fly to North Vietnam.

The 135 other passengers were safely evacuated by sliding down emergency chutes, used to empty the plane quickly in case of explosion.

To back up his threats, the hijacker carried a long knife and a package which he said contained a bomb. Vietnamese police sources said two homemade grenades were in the package and there was no indication whether they could have exploded. But the airline described them as harmless "egg-shaped objects" wrapped in aluminum foil.

The hijacking attempt began after the jumbo jet, flight 841, left Manila on the last leg of its San Francisco-to-Saigon flight. Binh, who had boarded in Honolulu, grabbed a stewardess as a hostage and sent two notes to the control cabin demanding that the plane be diverted to Hanoi.

REVENGE

The hijacker, in the rear passenger compartment, also talked with the pilot, Capt. Gene Vaughn, 53, of Scottsdale, Ariz, over the intercom.

"I am doing this for revenge," Vaughn said he told him. "Your bombers are maiming and killing our people of the Democratic Republic of North Vietnam. You are going to fly me to Hanoi and this airplane will be destroyed when we get there."

Authorities withheld the name of the passenger who shot Binh.

The pilot said the man had checked his .357 Magnum pistol with him when he boarded the plane and that before confronting the hijacker he returned it and asked the man to help.

HIS LEASE IS UP FOR GRABS Nixon Shuns White House

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — Halfway through this election year, President Nixon has spent about two-thirds of his time away from the White House, where his lease is up for grabs.

121 DAYS AWAY

During the first six months of 1972, Nixon spent all or part of 121 days away from Washington. There were 182 days during the half year.

The chief executive, who flew here Saturday for a stay of about two weeks, has adopted Aspen Lodge at the Camp David, Md., Navy-Marine base as his favorite retreat. Nixon spent all or part of 53 days there during the six months.

Runner-up in presidential favor was the Nixon home at Key Biscayne, Fla. He spent all or part of 32 days there or at the Bahamian island of Grand Cay, commuting distance away by helicopter.

Grand Cay is owned by New York industrialist Robert Abplanalp and Nixon's closest neighbor at Key Biscayne is banker-investor Charles G. "Bebe" Rebozo.

Both men are with Nixon, as is his wife Pat, who arrived Sunday night from Chicago.

TRAVEL RECORD

Ironically, Nixon has spent the least time at his oceanside mansion here, his voting residence in a state important to his bid for a second term. The President's current stay is his first since he was in California for six days in January.

Nixon's travel record was further extended, of course, by history-making trips to Peking and Moscow—the first ever made to those capitals by an American president. A third foreign journey took him across the border to Ottawa.

Strangely, Nixon has done little election-year touring of the home front, criss-crossed all year by potential Democratic rivals. He went to New York for an antidrug conference; to Philadelphia for a cultural event; and to the Floresville, Tex., home of former Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally.

Nixon has insisted he will do no politicking until after the Republican convention late next month.

TEXAS VIOLENT DEATHS Five Die In Accident

By The Associated Press
The second worst traffic accident reported in the nation thus far during the July 4 holiday period occurred early today near Damon in Southeast Texas when five persons were killed.

All those killed were occupants of a pickup truck. Officers said most were thrown clear by the impact of its collision with a car just before the pickup burst into flames.

IN STATE
The Department of Public Safety identified the victims as J. Dother Krump, the driver; Frankie Bunocah, 23; Jessie Bunocah, 32; Liza Bunocah, 8, and a 1-year-old child, Tracy Bunocah. The Bunocah family was from Freeport.

Two persons in the car also involved were taken to a Galveston hospital. There were Apolinar Ramirez of Progresso, and his son, Apolinar Ramirez Jr.

The accident brought the traffic death toll in Texas during the Fourth of July holiday to 33.

The total number of violent deaths, including shootings and drownings, stood at 50 in the state.

Tabulation of the deaths began at 6 p.m. Friday and will continue until midnight Tuesday.

One of the worst auto accidents involved three cars just north of Littlefield and it claimed four lives Saturday. The dead were Robert K. Walker, 18, and Melissa Ellen Bailey, 16, both of Irving, and Curtis Black Sr., 32, and his son Curtis Jr., 5, of Lubbock. Officers said two vehicles collided while one was passing a third auto, which then was struck also.

DOUBLE MURDER
George William Ogan Jr., told peace officers he found the bodies of his parents and a sister lying side by side Saturday in the back yard at their farm home east of Stephenville. They were George W. Ogan Sr., 67, his wife Opal, about 60, and daughter Betty Jo, 27. Texas Ranger George Roach said it apparently was a case of double murder and suicide.

Among the other dead were: Three-year-old Anna Harris of Irving died Sunday night of injuries suffered earlier in the day as two cars collided in Irving.

Jim Lee Henderson, 24, was shot and killed at a Brownwood pool hall Sunday night. Officers said the shooting followed an argument in which another man, held without immediate charge, suffered a broken nose.

Max Westerman, 68, of Hollandale, Fla., died Sunday as two cars crashed on Interstate 20 in Van Zandt County.

A two-car collision in Del Rio killed three persons Sunday. They were Alfredo Lopez, Amaro Vasquez, and Emily Hernandez Lopez, 30, all of Del Rio.

CAR ROLLS
Charles W. Kellis, 2, wandered into a duck pond and drowned Sunday at a Gladewater park.

David Jimenez, 11, was killed Sunday in a hit-and-run accident on Farm Road 154, four miles south of Mouloudon in Fayette County.

Martin J. Benavides, 50, of Odessa died Sunday when his car rolled over three miles east of Odessa on the Bankhead Highway.

Lynn Dale Baker, 35, of Houston was killed south of Longview on U.S. 259 when her car struck a bridge abutment.

Willie Favors, 70, was killed when he was struck by a car at a Houston street intersection.

Mitchell D. Enright, 24, was killed when the car in which he was a passenger struck a fixed object off Interstate 10 in Houston.

Morris Miller Jr., 38, of Houston was killed late Saturday night when struck by a hit-and-run driver on a city street.

An unidentified foreign student at the University of Texas in Austin drowned Saturday evening in the Pedernales River while swimming in Hamilton Pool.

Accidents Mar Holiday Here

To date in the July 4th holiday weekend, Howard County has recorded two serious accidents, one resulting in injury.

Roger Mitch, 29, of 1509 Robin, was listed in satisfactory condition today in Medical Center Memorial Hospital where he is being treated for injuries he received as a result of a one-vehicle accident at 1:32 a.m. Sunday.

Mitch was the driver of a car which overturned into a ditch of the South Salem Road after it struck a graveled curve.

Mitch and a passenger in the car, James Earl Grifford, 20, of 2406 Carlton, were first reported pinned in the vehicle but later were found to have been held in the vehicle by their seat belts. They were able to free themselves.

Grifford was not reported injured as a result of the accident.

A Howard County sheriff's unit assisted the Highway Patrol unit at the scene.

No injuries resulted from a one-vehicle turnover at 10 a.m. today 23 miles northeast of Big Spring on the Snyder Highway.

Ivory Lee Grear, 17, Snyder, was returning to Snyder from Big Spring during a heavy shower when a tire on his pickup truck blew out. Grear told the investigating officer that he was unable to control the vehicle on the slick road.

Texas Highway Patrolman John Ferguson investigated the accident.

Narcotics Charges Slapped On Three

Three men were arrested in two separate instances Sunday by Texas Highway Patrolmen for narcotics violations.

Larkin Lloyd Derks was arrested at 8 p.m. Sunday four miles west of Big Spring on IS 20. He is charged with being absent without leave from his naval station and with possession of narcotics paraphernalia.

According to Highway Patrolman John Ferguson, Derks and some other subjects had been hitchhiking and had been let out at the side of the road and were talking to subject in another car when the patrol unit pulled up at the scene.

Some of the group attempted to flee, but were apprehended. Through questioning, officers learned that Derks was allegedly AWOL and officers found what he believed to be a narcotics syringe and a substance believed to be narcotic while searching Derks for identification.

The substance found on Derks is to be sent to Department of Public Safety laboratories for analysis.

Derks remains in custody in Howard County jail in lieu of $5,000 bond set by Peace Justice Jess Slaughter.

Texas Highway Patrolman Kenneth Maxwell was the arresting officer.

Two men were apprehended by Patrolmen Maxwell and Ferguson at 10:30 p.m. Sunday for possession of marijuana after they attracted the officers' attention through a traffic violation.

Patrolmen stopped the pair's vehicle six miles west of Big Spring on IS 20 because the driver was allegedly failing to keep his vehicle in one lane of traffic.

On investigation, officers found a quantity of what is alleged to be marijuana in the car, and the passenger of the car is alleged to have thrown some of the material out onto the highway.

In custody in county jail in lieu of $5,000 each set by Peace Justice Slaughter are Scot Carter, 21, Ft. Bliss, El Paso, and Michael G. Moore, 20, Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo. Carter was the driver of the vehicle at the charge of his arrest.

In addition to the marijuana charge against each man, Carter is charged with failure to drive in a single lane, and Moore is accused of throwing trash on the highway.

'HONOR AMERICA DAY' IS PROCLAIMED BY CHOATE

Tuesday has been proclaimed as "Honor America Day" by Major Wade Choate.

"The fourth of July will mark the 196th anniversary of the founding of our nation. As we celebrate this historic date, our nation is faced with its greatest challenge; a burgeoning population, restless youth impatient for fulfillment of our nation's ideals, demands for greater civil rights and the sapping of our country's moral strength through increased crime, drug abuse and poverty," he said.

"Communities throughout the nation are declaring this Independence Day, July 4, as a day to 'Honor America' in an effort to encourage an expression of appreciation for the blessings and greatness of our country. This activity should be recognized as an effort to unite Americans at a time when our patriotism and respect for the nation's purposes should be encouraged by all responsible citizens."

At one point it obtained a $300,000 loan, secured by the church's treasurer, millionaire A. G. Gaston of Birmingham, Ala., to meet extra expenses that ran above the convention's planned budget of $400,000.

After a stormy session that ran nearly all Friday night, the convention acted to suspend Bishop W. F. Ball of South Carolina for four years on charges of malfeasance and misadministration. Three other bishops were cleared of similar charges.

However, one bishop was forced to retire because of age and two others stepped down voluntarily.

More than 60 candidates campaigned for the eight vacancies with posters, rallies, slogans, lapel buttons, and brochures in wide-open politicking in hallways and hotel rooms.

Gonzalez and his cousin Alfred Perales Gonzalez were convicted of the murder of Curtis, 61, who was killed on the night of Feb. 24, 1956, during an attempted robbery of the Gorday McGuire Service Station in Lamesa.

A new trial must be held within 90 days of the Supreme Court order April 17 reversing Gonzalez conviction, according to District Attorney Vernon Adcock, or Gonzalez will have to be released.

Multiple Charges Hit Austin Man

Following a high-speed chase Sunday, Howard County deputy sheriffs arrested Rickey Lee Cason, 19, Austin. Cason remains in county jail today in lieu of $1,067.50 in bond and fines for traffic violations and other charges.

Cason was apprehended on Midway Road near the Midway School at 12:30 a.m. Sunday. He was charged with driving while intoxicated, second offense; disorderly conduct, failure to stop for an emergency vehicle and speeding in excess of 95 miles-per-hour in a 45-mile-per-hour zone.

Peace Justice Walter Grice set bond at $1,000 for Cason on the DWI charge, and fines totaling $67.50 were assessed on the other three charges.

The negotiators took the House appropriation of $160,000 for emergency medical services in the State Health Department instead of $335,960 provided by the Senate. They took the Senate allocation of $2.7 million for a new school for mentally retarded at El Paso but trimmed the House grant of $2.5 million for the Fort Worth State School to $2 million.

The negotiators began Sunday night after tired and confused House members finally passed, on voice vote, their version of the big spending bill at 3:15 a.m. Sunday after more than 16 hours of debate.

SKINNY-DIPPING Rainbow Family Disenchantment

GRANBY, Colo. (AP) — "As a trologically, it's a very spiritual time," said a member of the Rainbow Family of Living Light.

Spirituality may have been the keynote Saturday when some 10,000 young people jammed into a marshy Rocky Mountain meadow near here for a religious festival staged by the Family.

But disenchantment was the word for many by Sunday afternoon as hundreds began the steep, rocky trip down from Strawberry Lake.

"It was supposed to be a festival of light," said one youth who had packed up and was heading out, "but they aren't teaching anyone anything."

Dr. Val Wohlauer of the Colorado Department of Health said the medical situation was under control, but "we're getting into a real bind" for supplies. He said five doctors and four nurses were working at the festival.

A few people continued skinny-dipping in small Strawberry Lake, but a strong breeze Sunday made the lake's cold waters even more biting.

Members of the Rainbow Family had told officials they plan to leave their camps about midnight Monday and move eight miles to the top of Table Mountain for a sunrise gathering July 4.

MacGREGOR NAMED Martha Wins; John Quits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and his wife, Martha, are together again in their apartment after a stormy week of marital problems climaxed by Mitchell's resignation as director of President Nixon's re-election campaign.

The Committee for the Re-election of the President Saturday announced that Mitchell "has resigned as campaign director in order to devote more time to his wife and family."

The resignation occurred after Mrs. Mitchell told reporters she was leaving him until he got out of politics.

In a letter of resignation to President Nixon, Mitchell said he regretted leaving the same post in which he shaped a victory for Nixon in 1968.

The President, in accepting the resignation, noted that a politician's wife "must not only share the disappointments and brickbats but must accept the frequent absence of a husband and father. I am well aware that this has been particularly true of the Mitchell family."

Mrs. Mitchell was quoted as saying that politics was "nothing but a cops and robbers game."

Clark MacGregor, currently chief of congressional liaison for the President and former Minnesota congressman, has replaced Mitchell.

Screwworms Spotted In Six County Locations

Screwworm cases are increasing in Howard County, according to County Agent Bruce Griffith, with six reports confirmed during the week. Cases were confirmed in six widely separated locations.

"The showers and warm weather will encourage at least a temporary increase in screwworm cases," he said.

To reduce the incidence of screwworm, he said, "treat the naval worms of newborn calves and lambs, delay branding, castrating and docking until the fall if practical, and be careful about bringing in cattle from infested areas."

Cattle being shipped in — or out — should be closely checked for screwworm before shipping. Also, it is very important to send in screwworm samples to the agents office for checking so that sterile flies can be dropped in the area.

Other control steps that can be taken include spraying livestock to keep the flies down. Spraying should be done with a material recommended for screwworm control.

Dog and cat owners should also be alert for screwworm. Check scratches and cuts carefully, and consult a veterinarian if any problems

TRIAL BEGINS — The trial of State's Attorney Edward V. Hanrahan, left, of Cook County, Ill., is scheduled to begin Wednesday in Chicago. Hanrahan, and 13 others, are charged with conspiracy to obstruct justice by attempting to block prosecution of policemen who participated in a December 4, 1969, raid on a Black Panther Party apartment in Chicago. Two Panther leaders, Fred Hampton, center, and Mark Clark, right, were killed during the raid.

McGOVERN TO SEEK MEET WITH MEANY

Testing Winner-Take-All In Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — California supporters of Sen. George McGovern are seeking to win back in the courts the 151 California delegates they lost in the Democratic Credentials Committee. A suit was filed with the U.S. District Court in Washington asking a restraining order to prevent the revised California delegation from being seated at the Democratic convention, which opens July 10 at Miami Beach. A hearing was scheduled this morning before District Judge George L. Hart Jr. The suit alleges that the credentials committee acted unconstitutionally when it overruled California's winner-take-all primary, won by McGovern. The committee apportioned 151 of the state's 271 votes among presidential candidates Hubert H. Humphrey, George C. Wallace and others.

The main charge was that the regular party failed to adopt the party's reform rules in picking delegates. Other challenges settled over the weekend included: Michigan—The committee ruled that supporters of Gov. Wallace could substitute three of their supporters for three delegates elected on a Wallace ticket but believed leaning toward Sen. McGovern. It also III

Virginia—Challengers in the 4th District, involving three of four delegate seats, agreed on a compromise to share the seats on a one-half-vote-per-delegate basis. A black woman will be added. Meanwhile, President Nixon Sunday telephoned former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell to "express his understanding" over Mitchell's decision to resign as the President's campaign manager. Mitchell, whose wife threatened to leave him unless he resigned from politics, told Nixon that he had to meet "the one obligation which must come first: The happiness and welfare of my wife and daughter." Clark MacGregor, counsel to the President for congressional relations, was named to succeed Mitchell.

Back-Country Protection Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — A trial program to protect some fragile back-country areas, by limiting each area's use to the number of persons it can accommodate without environmental damage, has been started in three national parks. The three are Kings Canyon National Park in California, Rocky Mountain National Park in Colorado, and Great Smoky Mountains National Park in Tennessee and North Carolina. The program applies only to the back country of the three parks, not to normal visitor usage of developed areas within the parks.

Modern Monks

PRINCETON, England (AP) — Benedictine monks at an abbey in Gloucestershire are enjoying the comforts of modern living after their ancient home underwent a face-lift. The monks' cells have been centrally heated, refurbished with hot and cold water, and stalled. It was part of a 500,000-pound renovation for the abbey initiated after a painting in one of the chapels was sold for 280,000 pounds at a London auction. The monks continue to produce pottery and export a unique brand of incense.

Gout—And Stones

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: The problem, and the treatment doctor put my husband on medication for gout. However, since he began taking this white and orange capsule he passes kidney stones about every six weeks. He was in the hospital only once for the stones. Is there anything that will keep these stones from forming? — T.Y.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband has porphyria but is also an alcoholic. The doctor said he isn't supposed to drink at all, but he does, heaviest on the weekends — beer, wine, vodka, whisky. He also has epilepsy. What can be the outcome if he continues to drink as he does? — Mrs. J.C.H.

Outcome? Misery. Porphyria is a disorder in which the body does not properly handle pigments (coloring matter). This can affect various organs of the body, skin, liver and others. Nervous system complications are not unusual — which includes epilepsy. Attacks of severe pain can be precipitated by various things, but the principal ones to guard against are barbiturates and alcohol. Porphyria can be of varying severity, but your husband apparently is doing his best to make his case as severe as he can.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have been told there are undesirable side effects of aspirin. What would you suggest as a substitute? — Mrs. A.B.

Troubled with gout? To learn then, restriction of calcium and painful disease, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of his report to keep the urine dilute booklet, "Gout — The Modern Way To Stop It." Please enclose a self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

FBI After Hijackers

Ever since "D. B. Cooper" bailed out of a hijacked jetliner with $200,000 in ransom last November, extortionists with big ideas have been trying to imitate his success.

Thanks mostly to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the imitators have failed. Seven men have tried "Cooper's" gambit and they have either been killed, arrested or failed to keep their ransoms.

Latest of the FBI's successes was in tracking Martin McNally, accused of parachuting out of a pirated plane over Indiana. McNally was arrested at his Detroit area home. Also arrested was an aide.

In January, the FBI tracked Richard LaPointe and arrested him three hours after he bailed out over Colorado with $50,000.

In April, Richard McCoy Jr. was caught after jumping from an airliner with $500,000 between San Francisco and Salt Lake City.

Earlier this month, the FBI captured Robb Heady who is accused of bailing out over Nevada with $200,000.

One other would-be extortionist was killed by an FBI agent, another surrendered and the other was given asylum in Algeria but had to return his ransom.

At best hijackers should be kept off planes, but the FBI's swift capture of suspects should help deter others.

Back in the 1930's when kidnapping broke out in a rash upon society, the FBI made this its No. 1 target and virtually stamped out the crime. The record so far on plane hijackings is reassuring.

The Court's Decision

It may take a Philadelphia lawyer to decipher exactly what the Supreme Court has said in its decision seemingly outlawing the death penalty. Practically all members of the court had something to say on the subject of the 5-4 decision.

Much of the legalese in the opinions (practically all members of the court had something to say on the subject of the 5-4 decision) seems to hinge upon the death penalty being cruel and unusual punishment, contrary to the constitution and upon those sentenced to death being assessed an unequal penalty.

Perhaps so, but what about the harsh punishment inflicted upon the victims of murders, and the civil rights summarily abrogated by murders upon their victims? Apparently the state is restrained from what arrogant individuals take upon themselves to do.

Unauthorized Loan

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

Although experiencing the unique is ever embracing more people, not many have looked across through a bank teller's window past a gun and into the eyes of an individual who wanted to 'borrow' money without putting up any collateral.

ONE WHO DID is Jack Ireton, now in the automobile business in Stanton.

Something like 11 years ago, Jack was minding the store in the Stanton bank when a man born of desperation stepped up to his cubicle. His courage reinforced by what Jack describes as a "big, shiny gun," the caller shoved forward a bag and ordered Ireton to fill it with money.

WHEN JACK cleaned out the front part of his till, the intruder coolly suggested he wanted it all, meaning the bills in the back of the drawer.

"You can keep the ones," the bandit said, or words to that effect.

Ireton executed the order with a dispatch he didn't know he could muster and was offered some opportunity to study his visitor.

THE ROBBER HURRIED out of the building and hopped in his car. Although bank personnel notified authorities immediately of the robbery, the thief sped out of town unchallenged and headed north.

Police were quick to react and put out an "all-points bulletin" for the man, relying on information supplied on his appearance by Ireton and other bank employees.

No one immediately knew the exact amount of money the bandit had taken. The robber probably didn't know and was never to find out.

AS LUCK WOULD have it, Texas Highway Patrolman Bobby Papasan waved a northbound motorist to a stop several miles north of Stanton before he actually knew a bank robbery had taken place in Stanton. Papasan descended from his vehicle and was walking toward the other car when a shot rang out.

Bobby ran back to his own car, maybe to radio a message or perhaps to get his own gun. The shot the man had fired wasn't meant for Papasan, however, but rather to end his own life. He had put a bullet through his brain.

AN AMBULANCE dispatched to the scene carried a corpse back into Stanton. The money bag, containing exactly $5,005, was discovered under the front seat of the getaway car.

It was shortly learned that the bandit was a used car salesman from Denver City and that he was in dire financial straits. Had he reached and turned off on the Andrews cutoff, he might have escaped.

Looking back, Ireton says he realized bank officials made several mistakes after the robbery, the most obvious of which was in not locking the bank doors so that the general area could be examined for finger prints. Once the curious heard about the incident, and that was almost immediately, the bank lobby was filled with people.

THE FBI entered into the case and lauded Ireton for the description he made of the robber. Jack was wrong on one point only. He misjudged the man's height by about three inches. The G-Man said it would be easier to estimate a person's frame by measuring the height of the teller's cage itself. To a lot of people working under the same circumstances, a man with a gun demanding ready cash would look ten feet tall.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

Most of my friends are rich as they are successful in everything they do. But success has passed me by, as everything I try fails. All my life I've struggled to become prosperous, but I never made it. Is this God's will? B.L.

Your question indicates that you have a pretty limited definition of success — it seems to have a dollar sign written over it. But Jesus said, "The abundance of a man's life consisteth not in the things which he possesseth." Some of the greatest success stories I know are about men who are poor in this world's goods, but rich in spiritual assets. Perhaps the Lord is trying to get you to see the value of another kind of wealth, and it may be at your finger tips. I know many people who got their every wish for material things, and they are bored with success. But I know of no persons who gave their time and attention to the things of the spirit, who ever got bored. How about changing your goals?

Pulling Out

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — President Nixon, by his announcement that American troops in Vietnam will have been reduced to 30,000 by Sept. 1, makes good his promise of July 1969 that he would steadily pull out our forces from Indo-China. When he came into office in January 1969, there were approximately 540,000 American servicemen in Southeast Asia — the largest number that had been there since the war began.

THE WITHDRAWAL program is a demonstration to the entire world that the United States means to reduce the nature of its participation in the war as it renders help to the South Vietnamese government in building up self-defense.

The United States has declared that its intention is "to withdraw all forces once a negotiated settlement is reached." But there will not be a total withdrawal until all prisoners of war are released and those missing in action have been accounted for.

THE AMERICAN GOVERNMENT is disappointed that it has not had more cooperation from other governments in persuading the North Vietnamese to enter seriously into peace negotiations. But the belief is prevalent that both Moscow and Peking will be more active in pressing for a settlement as American troops are pulled out. The response to a refusal by Hanoi to make peace will be a continuation of the bombings and interference with the flow of supplies to North Vietnam. A considerable number of our naval vessels are in the vicinity, and plenty of American airpower is being provided to keep pounding away at key spots in North Vietnam until there are signs that a cease-fire will be accepted by Hanoi and the war really terminated.

THE UNITED STATES is anxious that there be meaningful negotiations and that there be a cease-fire. It is taken for granted here that South Vietnam, North Vietnam and the Viet Cong will have to find some basis for agreement on the forum of government which will emerge after a treaty is signed. But the United States is expected to stand firmly behind South Vietnam in the demand that its right of self-determination shall be preserved.

The President also proclaimed that draftees no longer will be sent to Vietnam unless they volunteer, through the 4,000 currently there will stay until their duty is completed. Thus, for all practical purposes, young men being drafted now and in the future are assured that military service will not involve assignment to Indo-China except on a voluntary basis.

UNDOUBTEDLY the North Vietnamese have been assuming that, because 1972 is an election year in the United States, they could prolong the war and get a better deal. They had no idea Mr. Nixon would respond as he has to their massive offensive against South Vietnam. But the President will continue to order bombardment of ports and key supply centers with air power if the North Vietnamese keep on trying to take advantage of the fact that American combat troops have been pulled out and the South Vietnamese are left to carry on the ground fighting.

With practically all American forces withdrawn from Vietnam and draft calls substantially reduced, Vietnam will cease to be the political issue that it has been in the past.

SO IT DOES look as if the Vietnam war may have to come to an end for practical reasons sometime in the next six months.

Boston Season

BOSTON (AP) — The Opera Company of Boston will open its next season in January, with five productions, all of them new.

The season will open with Smetana's "The Bartered Bride." It will close in May with the double bill of Stravinsky's "The Flood" and Kurt Weill's "The Rise and Fall of the City of Mahagonny."

Also, Beverly Sills will sing Rosina in "The Barber of Seville." It is a role she has not previously sung on a stage. The company also will do "Don Carlo."

The only one of these previously performed by this company is "The Barber of Seville," which was done in January, 1959, and February, 1963.

Seek Builders

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Carpenters and other workers are being recruited by the Assemblies of God here to help build new churches in Mexico, Chile, Ecuador and Panama.

Besides carpenters, the church wants block layers, cement finishers, plumbers, painters and electricians to volunteer for a minimum of two weeks' labor on missions building projects.

'Thinking Tower'

John Cunniff

By JOHN HENRY (Substituting for John Cunniff)

NEW YORK (AP) — If you could take a break from your office work to swim, tend a garden, or just reflect, you'd probably also do more work, a motivational research expert says.

Ernest Dichter, president of the Motivational Research Institute of Croton-on-Hokos, N.Y., says, "Once people realize they can have fun at their job, they'll be better producers."

Dichter, who serves as a consultant to corporations, blames part of what he says is the alienation of office workers toward their jobs on the design of the offices themselves. "We used to build offices and then try to fit people into them," he says.

The research executive predicts the office building of the future will be much like a home or apartment. "I don't see anything wrong with a boss dictating to his secretary on a balcony or having a place on the roof or on the grounds where an employe can plant radishes in his free time," he says.

Dichter proposes that office building designs include a "thinking tower," a sort of "womb" into which frazzled executives can retreat. The tower, which would be separate from the main office space, might have a couch, bar, television set, or dictation equipment, but no telephone or clock, he says.

"In most offices today there's no place where an executive can withdraw," Dichter says.

The permanently sealed windows of modern buildings need be no deterrent to installing flower boxes outside offices, says Dichter, who proposed that employes water the boxes from inside by a tube that would go through the window.

He feels the ideal location for an office building is a campus setting in the country or suburbs, where both trees and parking space is in abundance. "There's no reason for people to work in city offices," Dichter says.

For those who must remain in urban skyscrapers, life could be made more pleasant if swimming pools and gardens were put on office building roofs, he says.

Even a big building can be designed in a way that preserves its human scale, says Dichter. "You can divide the building into three sections and paint them in different colors."

At least some of Dichter's visions will be transformed into reality in an office park development in Levittown, L.I., N.Y., in which he was involved as a consultant. The 28-acre complex, now under construction, will include a swimming pool, a roof garden, and offices with terraces.

Dichter's own headquarters for the past 20 years have been a 26-room fieldstone mansion perched on the top of a hill overlooking the Hudson River. When he wants to take a break from his work, he can visit a "thinking tower" adjacent to his office, stroll through an orchard located on the building grounds, or take a swim in the institute's pool.

Ayala Charged With Murder

HOUSTON (AP) — Abel Ayala, 18, a mechanic, was charged Saturday with murder in the June 8 shooting death of Raymond R. Vargas, 48.

Vargas was shot to death at his home when a man awoke him in the early morning hours, talked briefly, then pulled a pistol and opened fire.

Police said Ayala was charged after Vargas' widow identified him in a police lineup.

Cavett's Fans Fight

Hal Boyle

By DON FREEMAN (Substituting for Hal Boyle)

HOLLYWOOD — Dick Cavett's legion of fans — and I am among their number — are not conceding without something of a struggle. The collective villain is ABC, the ratings, and the system and Cavett has a July 28 deadline to register an increase in the Nielsen survey.

About six months ago, when the announcement of his impending cancellation was released, a network spokesman said, with proper cynicism: "Cavett is not the first one to receive praise and then be dropped. From the beginning the show has not received high ratings, but we kept him. How long can we continue?"

Meanwhile, in Cleveland, a general columnist — not a TV columnist — stepped forward with his plan to save the Cavett show from extinction. He asked for support from the readership, the loyal Cavett constituency. Consequently, a package containing about 1,523 letters and postcards carrying the names of 4,722 Cavett boosters was dispatched to Jim Duffy, president of the ABC Television Network. The package weighs eight pounds and, as the writer notes, it represents just one response to one newspaper column in one city in one major market.

As columnist Don Robertson reasoned, the Cleveland area represents about 1 per cent of the national population and 4,722 signatures were acquired. "Therefore," he writes, "it is not unreasonable to say that a similar plea conducted coast-to-coast would have resulted in 472,000 signatures."

It is a curious way to run a railroad, this whole system of the Nielsen ratings which are dependent upon 1,200 homes across the land. Statistically, this may be valid — that is to say, people who know about the dark art of polling insist that such measurements irrefutably are accurate.

But logically it seems less reasonable. Employing the 1 per cent frame of reference for the Cleveland area, this means that exactly 12 families dictate what everyone else in Cleveland shall see.

I am fascinated by Don Robertson's list of Cavett supporters because it represents exactly the kind of an audience a network wants its night talk show to reach. A world-famous physician, attorneys, clergymen, the conductor of the symphony, students and so on.

Not that anyone would claim a majority audience for Cavett, which would be a romantic distortion. However, the Cavett audience is uncommonly loyal, it can be motivated and it has clout.

As Robertson wrote in his initial plea to the readers, "It's not even necessary that you like the Cavett show, as long as you believe it's valuable." A subtle distinction, to be sure, but it seems to me that it is a significant one. Certainly, a Cavett show — with its humor, its urbanity, its occasional grappling with issues, its overall contemporary flavor — is infinitely more valuable than another old movie.

Be Careful

Omar Bursleson

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Ordinarily the comments in this release are directed to those subjects not currently being reported in the news media. The so-called SALT agreements in Moscow have, of course, been reported in detail but with hearings beginning in the U.S. Senate on ratification, serious fundamentals are deserving of the most careful and critical consideration.

A LITTLE BACKGROUND is in order.

First, basic decisions limiting the present number of U.S. strategic missiles were made back in the mid 60's. Former Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara thought that if the Russians were allowed to achieve missile parity with the U.S. they would stop construction of intercontinental ballistic missiles. The magic number was set at 1,000. The United States has remained at this approximate number plus 54 older type Titan missiles.

IT WAS OBVIOUS within four to five years that the Soviets did not stop at 1,000 and added at the rate of 250 per year to the 850 they had in the middle 60's.

In the last three years we have attempted to upgrade the nuclear weapons which we have, including the development of the multiple warhead. The planning and development of a new bomber, the B-1, has been stepped up and the newer type of submarine missile system called the Trident is under development.

ALTHOUGH COLD NUMBERS do not tell the full story, in discussing nuclear weapons capability numbers do have a significance. At the present time, we have good information that the Soviets have 1,618 ICBMs deployed or under construction. The agreements are supposed to put a halt to any increases. This leaves a basic 3 to 2 numerical superiority over us but our advising experts think that quality over quantity leaves us with the edge.

Under the agreements the U.S. is allowed 44 missile launching submarines with 710 missiles. The Soviet Union is permitted 6 submarines with 952 missiles. Here again our bet is on superior performance rather than comparative numbers.

SOON TO COME is a test for the Congress to provide defense systems not covered by the agreements. A highly dangerous situation could exist if slashes are made in certain areas of our defenses. This includes the development and production of the B-1 bomber, the Trident long-range submarine missile system and the upgrading of nuclear weapons capabilities. Unless these steps are taken with determination, approval of the agreements consummated with the Russians could be a serious gamble with the future of our country.

Careful With That Cabbage

Grouchy Mrs. Baxter, an apartment dweller, had two reasons for cooking cabbage so often. First, she liked cabbage. Second, she liked to wait the cooking odors out of her open kitchen door, into the apartment of the new neighbors across the hall.

WHEN THE NEIGHBORS finally haled her into court, Mrs. Baxter insisted she had a right to cook whatever and however she pleased.

But the court ruled that she was guilty of committing a nuisance, by maliciously inflicting discomfort on others.

PSYCHOLOGISTS tell us that hostility grows as living space shrinks. One of the law's touchier tasks is to mediate between neighbors at odds. And, as the above case indicates, evil intent may make the big difference in court.

This is shown even more clearly by the law's changing attitudes toward spite fences. Such fences, erected deliberately to block off the daylight from a neighbor's house, used to be tolerated as a lawful exercise of property rights.

BUT NOW they are forbidden almost everywhere. As one court commented, in condemning a spite fence 11 feet high:

"The right to enjoy the sunshine is a natural one, and no man can shut out the light of heaven for no better reason than to gratify his malice toward his neighbor."

Nonetheless, when we choose to live in an urban environment, we are also choosing the reasonable degree of vexation that goes with it.

IN ANOTHER CASE, a family had a ventilating fan that blew cooking smells out of their kitchen, in the general direction of the house next door.

But this time, when the neighbors went to court to complain, the judge took due note of the fact that the houses were 27 feet apart. At this distance, he said, the degree of annoyance was too slight to awaken the law's disapproval.

THE JUDGE SAID he would not interfere "without some evidence that (the cooking odors) were revolting to a point beyond the effect of ordinary neighborhood exhalations."

A LOVELIER YOU

Summertime Beauty Chores Don't Wait

By MARY SUE MILLER Summer is the time to relax, to put off chores that can wait till tomorrow. But not your beauty duties!

Only a few weeks of neglect drag down your appearance. And once the damage is done it takes real hard work to make repairs. Just in the event you are tempted to shirk a beauty routine, here's a memory prod: —Be faithful to your skin-care program. Cleansing is more than ever vital as the pores are subject to increased clog in hot weather. Foaming gels and creams do a deep-down job. If your skin is dry, apply a moisturizer day and night. Oily skins respond to antiseptic lotions. —Protect skin exposed to the sun with a suitable sunscreen product — all summer long. You may acquire a good tan, but you can still get burnt. To ward off wrinkling use an eye-oil stick and a sunstick for the lips. Both can be used under make up when desired. Whatever your age, you will wish to protect the lips; your mirror will tell you when an eye stick is in order. —Safeguard your hair from sun with hats and scarves, your eyes with sunglasses. —Keep the head-to-toe complexion silky with bath treatment oils and bubbles; with body lotions. —To avoid figure spread, get a daily workout, emphasize fruits and vegetables on your menus, and don't let your posture slump. That way, you might just come through the summer looking lovelier in September than in June.

The 12 guests were seated at a table centered with an arrangement of daisy mums, miniature carnations and babies' breath in a wicker basket. Out-of-town guests included Miss Jamie Sibley of Snyder and Mrs. Douglas Compton of Dallas.

Untrue Husband Not No-Account

Police in Paris, France wondered if they had come upon a major criminal when they discovered 11 bank accounts opened with false papers and false signatures in the name of Louis Labe, assistant mayor of Romainville.

When they captured the culprit, they learned that the man was only a faithless husband trying to hide his savings from his wife so he could spend them on his mistress. Judge Duval fined the 50-year-old Frenchman $420 and put him on good behavior for one year.

Coming To The Fore: 'Sophisticated Lady'

By MILDRED WHITEAKER Associated Press Fashion Writer

NEW YORK — There are so many parts in that segment of fashion which is mis-named "sportswear" that putting on an ensemble together this fall may be more difficult than ever. Or it may be more fun.

Press representatives at the showings in the Plaza Hotel saw the creme-de-la-creme of the sophisticated casual mode of dress which has become an American lifestyle from morning until night. These are "looks" which will be copied in every price range and adapted to most every size and age.

Layered separates continue to be the backbone of sportswear, but they've come a long way from shirts, slacks, blazers and razz-ma-tazz pullovers. New — and resurrected — shapes from the past which began trickling onto the scene last fall and spring have been refined until a well thought out "thoroughbred" look has replaced those scrambled bits and pieces called "do-your-own-thing." This fall you'll be getting a lot of help at the designer level.

The twin sweater set is everybody's darling and this time around is often a cardigan thrown over a matching turtleneck. The twosome does triple wardrobe duty — pairing comfortably with fall's pleated trousers, shortened daytime skirts or floor-length evening skirts of plush velvet or sensuous matte jersey. Angora and cashmere sweaters mate elegantly with long drifts of chiffon.

Inside sweaters may be tucked into the waistband or worn outside and belted. Oscar de La Renta likes them "in." Cardigans, smock tops and the shirt-jacket are replacing the classic blazer as Fashion '72 (but don't count the blazer out). The newcomer is the abbreviated little "battle jacket" wrapped and tied at the waistline. Teamed with high-rise, front-pleated pants which fell full and straight to deep cuffs, these blousy jackets become part of a silhouette which looks quite different from pantsuits of recent years. Sometimes the jackets — sweaters and coats, too — have the newly popular dolman sleeve which is running through the dress picture.

The loose-fitting dolman arching from wrist to underarm has its limitations, designers warn, and can make a full figure look top heavy or mature. "If you aren't careful you might wind up looking like your Aunt Tillie," quipped Stan Herman. Any fashion change requires study in front of a full-length mirror.

"Toppers" are another near-unanimous choice, the tent shaping swirling over pants, dresses, suits and sporty evening separates. The short coats have varied lengths and degrees of fullness and the "toggle" is a popular fastening. Bill Blass does topper raincoats for his "Blasport" collection in a machine-washable, fake, "ultra suede" which looks amazingly like the real thing. Sleeves on suits and sport jackets are beginning to get shorter — with enough wrists sticking out to peg this as a trend to watch. More than one designer has suggested that push-up sleeves will be next.

While pants parade in new guises, the sporty skirt is making its mark in shorter, younger lengths (just above the knee). Skirts are kept in motion with pleats, flares, gores, bias cuts and gentle A-lines but always fall close to the body. Some designers see the straight skirt on the horizon.

The jumper is part of the sportive picture and is layered over dolman sweaters and shirts or is styled with cap sleeves and underscoped with a stem-sleeved turtleneck sweater. Geoffrey Beene's "harness" jumpers are winners. An accessory note is the absence of boots in the showing.

We're seeing dark or neutral stockings for day, pale legs for night.

Sportswear is cozy-ing up to lush fabrics with "feeling" — real angoras and cashmeres as well as synthetic cousins. Also mohairs, tweeds, fuzzy woolsens, textured knits and fake furs.

Plaid is the pattern of the season, the bigger the better. Everybody is showing combinations of Christmas red and green. Neutrals and pale monochromes are at the other end of the color spectrum, headed by gray flannel and classic camel and followed by a range of pastels — even peach.

Anne Klein, who is such a vital force in American sportswear that she now has a shop in Paris, is combining such colors and fabrics as silver gray flannel with "pink tea" suede. Anne's collection is stamped with a "to-the-manor-horn" quality right down to her famous glossy soft shirts, which this year feature roll-back French cuffs that can be worn short or long.

"Sure, she felt as others did that softness is essential," said commentator Chip Rubenstein. Anne's husband and business partner. "But to Annie that did not mean exaggerated dolmans and an excess of wrapiness. She felt she could do it with softness of texture and airiness of colors.

"She is an artist who understands infinity. She never cuts one season off completely to work on another. She relates shape to shape, color to color, wardrobe to wardrobe. The clothes a woman already owns must work with her new ones. To Annie, this is reality, like adding something new to a room."

And that's what quality fashion is all about.

Quotable Women

By The Associated Press

Some quotable quotes from women during the week:

"Probably the main reason I went back to finish was because I didn't see how my children could be inspired to do well in their educations if mom was a dropout." —Mrs. J. N. Franks Jr., who earned diplomas in high school, college and YMCA Law School after dropping out of high school 22 years ago.

"Our oppressive, paternalistic society wants to keep the elderly out of the way, playing bingo and shuffleboard." —Miss Margaret Kuhn, 67, of Philadelphia, leader of the "Gray Panthers," a militant old folks group.

"I am sure he will discuss it." —Mrs. Joseph P. Dunn, a POW wife when asked after visiting him if President Nixon would discuss the prisoner issue on his Moscow trip.

"You start by comparing yourself to the other Kennedy women and somehow your confidence in yourself begins to evaporate." —Mrs. Edward M. Kennedy in a magazine article telling why she had been going to a psychiatrist.

McCovey Ties Record With 14th Slammer

By The Associated Press
There's a new line in the National League record book today and a new team in the East Division pennant race. San Francisco's Willie McCovey blasted a record-tying 14th career grand slam home Sunday in the Giants' 9-3 rout of Los Angeles while the streaking St. Louis Cardinals, 15½ games out of first place exactly one month ago, made six victories in a row and 21 of 26 with a 7-3 trouncing of Philadelphia and trail front-running Pittsburgh by a mere 6½ games.

EX-MATE HURTS Rangers, Royals Split 2 Games

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Texas Rangers found out something Sunday about Richie Scheinblum they apparently didn't realize while he was with them in Washington—the guy's quite a swinger. Scheinblum, right fielder for the Kansas City Royals, was loaned to the Rangers in Washington when they were the Senators. After starting only four games and pinch hitting a month at Washington, I've now been shipped to Denver in anything I don't know if it's the American Association. Scheinblum, 29, had the greatest day of his career Sunday when he pounced out six hits, including a home run and home run, coming on a little two doubles in nine appearances. He produced the first home run in a doubleheader with the second in the second inning opener 7-5, and the Roy came staked Jim Rooker, 4-3, as he bounced back to win the 1-0 lead.

Bruce Devlin Eyes Sweep

CLEVELAND (AP) — Can history repeat itself? It often does, and Bruce Devlin, the one-time master plumber from Australia, hopes it will in the $150,000 Cleveland Open Golf Tournament.

In 1970 Devlin shot a 66 in the third round of the Cleveland Open. In the fourth round, he burned up the course with a 64 and won the championship.

Devlin shot a 66, five under par on the 6,905-yard Tanglewood Country Club course, in Sunday's third round of the rain-delayed Cleveland Open.

If history repeats itself, insofar as Devlin is concerned, he'll have to shoot a 64 in today's final 18 holes. A 64 in itself won't guarantee first place and the big winner's check. But it would take a 65 by the third round co-leaders, Larry Wadkins and Larry Hinson, to deny Devlin the championship.

Hinson, who had the lead or a share of it for the first two rounds, shot a 69 Sunday and was tied at 206 with Wadkins, who carded a 67, Cesar Sanudo was next at 67-207. Then came Devlin, who had a one-stroke lead on fellow Aussie David Graham; Wilf Homenuik, a Dutch-born Canadian national; and Brian Allan.

The Monday finish was set up after rain washed out Sunday's first round. Devlin's 65 was helped by a putter given away to good customers of a Cleveland plumbing firm. "It looks bloody awful," grinned Devlin, "but I'm hitting the center of the cups with it."

Devlin represents the plumbing concern. "I just endorsed your products," he said. "I was putting bad and I had changed putters twice already, and this assistant general manager said, 'We give away putters to good customers and I'll bring you one.'"

Homenuik slammed a five-iron for a hole-in-one on the 165-yard No. 3 hole. "Don't I get a car?" he asked. "Here I am hitting a hole-in-one and no one is giving away Cadillacs."

MUSKIE CONTINUES CAMPAIGN

'Nomination Isn't Nailed Down Until Votes Are Cast'

By LAWRENCE KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Acknowledging the Democratic presidential nomination will likely elude him, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie says it is vital "to avoid the appearance of the will of the convention being frustrated by some backroom cabal" against Sen. George McGovern.

SEN. EDMUND MUSKIE To 'End Of Road'

NO EVIDENCE
Muskie said he still is convinced he would have a better chance of defeating President Nixon than either McGovern or Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey—although he conceded "I have no recent evidence to support that."

In an interview with The Associated Press, the Maine senator who once led the Democratic field said he is continuing his campaign to "the end of the road," because while the odds are against him, "the nomination isn't nailed down until the votes are cast."

The interview was conducted before the Democratic Credentials Committee voted to strip McGovern of 151 California nominating votes, a move that set back McGovern's effort to assemble a first-ballot convention majority.

IT IS TRUE
Here is a partial transcript of the interview:

Q. Sen. Muskie, based on your own experience as a former frontrunner for the Democratic presidential nomination, what happened this year to conventional political wisdom?

A. It is true the candidates and their advisers, and observers, did not anticipate what has happened. Nevertheless, if what is meant by conventional wisdom is the capacity to identify the forces that are moving and what people are saying... there is a mood for change. The electorate is willing to rock the boat—they made that clear—and there is likely to be when this election is finished a new road map for the government of this country.

Q. If you were the nominee, could you defeat President Nixon in November?

A. I think so.
Q. Could your opponents for the nomination defeat him?
A. Well, I would hope so. The reasons why the President is vulnerable are the same whoever the Democratic nominee may be. He's vulnerable on his domestic policies and he may still be vulnerable on the war.

Now with respect to Sen. McGovern, his problem is that at the moment his constituency is viewed as a very narrow one. And there are indications he himself realizes this and the need to broaden his constituency.

LOSER IMAGE
In respect to Sen. Humphrey, his problem is that he has the image of being a loser at this point, fairly or unfairly.

Q. Do you still feel that you have a better chance than either of the others to defeat Nixon if you get the nomination?

A. Yes I do. I realize of course that I have no recent evidence to support that... And of course the polls reflect the fact I've dropped out of activity.

Q. Is it possible to stop Sen. McGovern from receiving the nomination and how could that be done?

A. Well, I'd rather have the question put this way: Is it possible for Ed Muskie to receive the nomination? I don't conceive the active pursuit of my own candidacy to be an essentially stop-movement of any kind. I have the responsibility to continue to the end of the road. Obviously the odds are against my getting down until the votes are cast.

Q. If you did get the nomination, how would you prevent a walkout by the more-serious supporters of Sen. McGovern?

Q. Could the many challenges to the credentials of McGovern delegates prevent him from getting the nomination on the first ballot?

CHALLENGES
A. Since more than 40 percent of all delegates are under challenge, I would assume it's conceivable that the results of those challenges could have a serious effect.

Q. As president, exactly how and when would you end the war and how would you get the prisoners back?

A. I think our negotiating stance ought to be a willingness to completely withdraw, to end all military activity in Vietnam conditioned upon a return of our prisoners.

Q. Sen. McGovern has indicated he would be willing to withdraw without any conditions.

A. Well, that's not my position.

Q. Under President Nixon the economy is expanding, inflation appears to be easing somewhat and new jobs have been created. What would you do to improve the things he's done economically?

A. Well, he's reversed himself so often that it's very difficult for a person on the outside, standing on the sidelines, to suggest patchwork measures for policies that were wrong in the first instance.

I think he has mismanaged controls... in a way that has failed to come to grips with pressures upon food prices—on prices generally—while exercising restraints on wages.

That's wrong. I think it's undermined the credibility of his whole policy.

Secondly, he hasn't done a thing about unemployment. His program of tax incentives for business has not produced jobs. I've argued for incentives aimed at the consumer for more public service jobs, more adequate training programs and other approaches of this sort.

Again, President Nixon has resisted these. He just doesn't believe in those approaches.

So, at the end of the year the picture is going to be continued high unemployment and no real inflationary pressures.

Q. Are you still getting contributions?

A. Yes. Q. Are you in debt?

A. Oh yes. I don't know of a candidate who isn't.

Q. Has Sen. McGovern promised the voters more than he can deliver?

A. Well it's clear that he's advanced proposals that weren't thought through. And notably among those is his welfare proposal which, if you understand anything about it, is the most controversial and most expensive... I would say that as it is now perceived, it couldn't be delivered.

'Doer Role' In Reducing Air Pollution

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Agriculture has a "doer role" in reducing air pollution, says Dr. L.S. Pope, associate dean for administrative affairs in Texas A&M University's College of Agriculture.

People in agriculture are often the recipient of pollution problems — and sometimes the source of other types of pollution, Pope said.

"For example, 1,700 trucks a day hit the highways in the High Plains to serve the feedlot industry of Texas. The feedlots, in turn, provide top sirloin steaks for today's consumers. Yet exhaust fumes from the truck fleet add to air pollution problems already present in the area," Pope said.

Science responds to public concern, Pope, who addressed a recent workshop on air pollution effects on vegetation, said. He emphasized that while the feedlot industry responds to consumer requests for more beef, the problem of waste disposal increases.

Causes Friction

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

BORROWING: (Q.) Is it all right for girls to borrow each other's clothes so long as they get them clean and return them clean? My parents say no. Even if my friends say O.K. and they live nearby, my parents say no.

They say they won't want to be responsible. They aren't. I am. If anything goes wrong, we can leave the parents out of it. But who says anything will go wrong?

No one will make a federal case out of it, anyway. Are they right? — Same Old Clothes in Florida.

(A.) Your parents know, no doubt from experience, that borrowing from or lending to neighbors can cause misunderstanding or friction.

This is true of borrowing or lending a cup of milk, or a lawnmower, or a teen-age girl's clothes or anything.

As long as you are living with and depending on your parents, they are ultimately responsible for you. They have set a policy concerning family responsibility. Other parents may not have policies exactly like theirs, and may not look upon borrowing in exactly the same way.

But your parents, responsible for you, have made a rule that affects you. Please try to see it their way.

SPORTS CAREER: (Q.) Next year I want to start on a special physical training program. My parents object because I am an exceptionally intelligent student.

They feel that I should go into a field where I can use my brains. I really would like to be a professional roller skater, but I do not want to let my parents down.

Action-Minded In Arizona.
(A.) Many good students are capable at skiing, swimming or other sports. An athlete can use his brains just as freely as a nonathlete can. One of the associate justices of the United States Supreme Court, Byron R. White, was once a famous football player. I do not believe he disappointed his parents. Talk to yours about your ambitions. You have the brain power it takes to convince them that muscles and brains can be used simultaneously.

CHICAGO (AP) — S.O.S. is the call signal for an action-oriented national crusade to bring back safety on the streets, developed by the Women's Conference of the National Safety Council. The crusade seeks to zero in on local priorities to eliminate accident and assault on the streets of various communities, says Miss Lois Winterberg, manager of the women's department of the National Safety Council.

Keep Up Guard

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a married woman, age 49, but physically I am like a girl of 20. My doctor tells me that I have absolutely nothing to worry about insofar as getting pregnant is concerned. He says the oldest woman he has known to get pregnant was 47, and that was very unusual.

Abby, I'm afraid to let my guard down because my family is grown and the last thing I want at this time of my life is another baby.

What do you or your readers know about this? The medical books tell me nothing. My doctor thinks I am foolish for worrying. WORRIES SPITLESS!

DEAR WORRIED: Although the chances of becoming pregnant at age 47 are greatly reduced, it is by no means impossible. My doctor tells me that he has heard of a woman bearing a child at age 52, so keep your guard up, lady.

DEAR ABBY: Something in your column caused me to recall something I hadn't thought of in years. Perhaps it's worth sharing:

Many years ago, when potato chips were first on the market they weren't available in our small town, so my mother would order them from the big city near us for special occasions. She had ordered some for her bridge luncheon, but they did not arrive on time, so as a joke mother sliced raw potatoes, and put a few on each plate.

When the plates came back to the kitchen, there wasn't a potato slice to be seen! But for weeks afterwards we kept finding them in flowerpots, vases and under the sofa cushions.

DEAR JEAN: There's nothing new under the sun. People are still doing it.

DEAR ABBY: I am going with a wonderful guy, and we are talking about getting married, but a problem has come up.

He says that before we get married he would like to go out with some other girls just to see what it's like. He says it's not that he doesn't love me, but he would just like to have a little variety before he settles down.

I suppose I should be glad that my guy is so honest with me about this, but I am by nature a jealous person, and I don't want to even think about my guy being with another girl. What do you think?

UNCERTAIN: A man sufficiently mature for marriage would neither announce his intentions to go out with other girls, nor ask for his fiancée's permission. His idea could be good, but discussing it with you is adolescent.

CONFIDENTIAL to Square-Shooter in Kenosha, Wis.: I agree, it's noble to go by "the old rule." Never hit a man when he's down. (He may get up again.)

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box 69700, L. A., Calif. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

Horoscope Forecast

CAROL RIGHTER

TUESDAY JULY 4

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The early morning brings you a chance to benefit through something that is very practical in its nature.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) There are time limits to making payments on debts, so arrange for meeting such obligations now and keep your credit unimpaired.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Both you and an associate are in a rather bad humor, so make sure you handle him or her with kid gloves.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 12) Instead of rushing out to do with a possible chormer, make sure you get important work done instead.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Going for amusement is fine provided you do not spend so much it really hurts. Show more affection for male friends and there is harmony restored quickly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) If a family life starts an argument, do not turn into a battle royal, otherwise this could lead to something really serious.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You have to drive with utmost care now. In the event of trouble, even wailing or other forms of meltdowns should be avoided.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Make sure you obey every regulation that applies to you or you could get into real trouble today or tonight.

DIURNAL (July 22 to Aug. 21) Involvement in some civic matter can be very important to you and others now, but don't come to any definite decisions until tomorrow.

Odessan Dies In Car Crash

ODESSA — A 50-year-old Odessa man was killed Saturday and another injured in a one-vehicle mishap three miles east of Odessa.

Pronounced dead at the scene late Saturday was Martin J. Benevides. Treated and released was Anthony M. Ramsey, 21, also of Odessa.

The Benevides vehicle apparently struck a guard rail or a culvert and flipped two or three times before coming to rest in the roadway, according to investigating officers.

Services for Benevides are set for 10 a.m. Tuesday in Odessa.

WEATHER FORECAST — A broad band of showers is forecast today from the Plains across the South to the mid-and north-Atlantic states. Rain is forecast for the central and lower Great Lakes. Cool weather is expected for most of the nation except the Southeast.

New Round Of Tornadoes Buffet Panhandle-Plains

By The Associated Press

One tornado after another flicked out of thunderstorms boiling southward through the Panhandle-Plains sector in West Texas today, but there was amazingly little damage.

GLANCING BLOW

One of the twisters struck a glancing blow at the Edmondson community northwest of Plainview, breaking windows and bashing roofs of some homes, snapping power lines and felling trees. Forewarned residents took shelter and none was injured.

There was similar damage in the Seth Ward community near the north edge of Plainview and farther south at Hale Center, and lightning set fire to a house at Olton in the same general area.

Funnel clouds snaked down from dozens of thunderstorms which broke out as a cold front coursed through the north part of the Texas Panhandle and headed downstate.

Showers and thunderstorms started breaking out Sunday evening at the end of a dry and generally hot day, and they were still spreading this morning toward the south past San Angelo and toward the east beyond Gainesville. Some brought briefly torrential rains. Still others cranked up early today in East Texas from around Galveston and Houston inland past Lufkin.

Official forecasts held out a prospect for widespread shower activity and at least a few thunderstorms across northern portions of the state near and behind the slow-moving cold front.

Reports of tornado sightings caused the National Weather Service to put out a long series of warnings as funnel clouds approached a number of towns.

One of the latest twister alerts was in force until 5:30 a.m. for Hockley, Terry and Lynn counties. It was posted after one of the tornadoes was spotted moving toward the town of Wolfforth from a point just to the northwest, and toward the neighboring towns of Meadow and Ropesville.

WARNINGS

Warnings of possible tornadoes, prompted by other sightings, were issued earlier for Lubbock, Crosby, Floyd, Lamb and Hale counties.

Outside the shower belts, skies were clear to partly cloudy over the rest of the state as a band of low clouds worked inland from coastal sections into the Hill Country between San Antonio and Brownwood.

Temperatures Sunday afternoon reached into the 90s at many points and went as high as 100 degrees at Wichita Falls, 101 at Childress and Wink, and 102 at El Paso.

Readings near dawn today stayed as high as 81 at San Angelo and 83 at El Paso. It was coolest in the Panhandle, where the mercury dipped to 63 at Amarillo and 61 at Dalhart.

'Forum' Due To Open Today

"A Funny Thing Happened On the Way to the Forum," Howard County Junior College's musical comedy supper theater fare opens today at 8:15 p.m. in the dining hall of the HCJC Dora Roberts Student Union Building on the college campus.

A buffet salad supper will be at 7:30 p.m. Play patrons will serve themselves in the buffet area set up just outside the dining hall.

Tables and seating for the audience surround the octagonal stage on which "Forum" will be performed with minimal scenery to allow a clear view of the play's action from all sides.

"Forum" is a rollicking musical comedy set in ancient Rome and tells the story of a slave, Pseudolus, who tries to help his master, Hero, win his love, Phyllis. All become involved in a web of chicanery and hilarity as the play unfolds.

Admission to the play is $3 per person, including the buffet. Tickets will be sold at the door, but by reservation only. Reservations for today's performance or any of the performances scheduled for Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday may be obtained by telephoning 267-6311.

Tax Talks Set For Wednesday

City, school district and county taxpayers who have questions concerning 1973 property tax assessments by any of the three agencies are asked to meet with the boards to discuss the valuations.

Violence In Belfast Fans Fears Of 'Eye For An Eye'

BELFAST (AP) — Seven men were killed in Belfast during a violence-ridden weekend that threatened the firm cease-fire in Northern Ireland and fanned fears of "eye for an eye" warfare between Protestants and Roman Catholic gunmen.

All seven men were shot in the head, and some were bound and hooded, the trademarks of the Irish Republican Army's execution squads.

But at least two of the victims were Catholics. Although there was some speculation that they had been killed by IRA punishment squads, authorities believed they were the victims of Protestant extremists.

Three of the victims were Protestants, and the fourth was a 19-year-old Jehovah's Witness from England who had been working in a camp for poor children since coming to Northern Ireland a week ago. His daughter's wedding body was found on a garbage dump, and authorities believed he may have been killed by mistake.

Leaders of the militant Protestant Ulster Defense Association threatened reprisals against the IRA after Augustus "Gusty" Spence, a Protestant hero, was apparently kidnapped. Four men stopped the car and took Spence back to jail after the two-day parole to attend his wedding.

MRS. GILLY UNDER GUARD

Witness Costs Taxpayers Almost $200,000 A Year

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Annette Gilly's decision to confess her role in the murders of United Mine Workers insurgent Joseph A. "Jock" Yablonski and his wife and daughter is costing Pennsylvania's taxpayers almost $200,000 a year.

Mrs. Gilly, 31, is awaiting her next appearance as a government witness in the trials that have grown out of the Yablonski case on a rolling farm in largely rural Fayette County, in southwestern Pennsylvania.

She is under constant guard by FBI agents and state police—sometimes nearly a dozen of them—and she receives $10 a week in spending money and has regular visits from a hairdresser.

Mrs. Gilly was moved to the farm two weeks ago after a stay at one of Pennsylvania's most attractive resorts, Sever Springs in Somerset County.

She spent 2½ months in Seven Springs at a cost of about $50,000, staying in a heavily guarded wing of the main lodge while the state sought the farm where she now lives.

Rent for the farm where Mrs. Gilly is being held now is said to be about $1,000 a month. That, plus the salaries of the guards, food, surveillance equipment and other expenses pushes the total cost for Mrs. Gilly's keep to over $15,000 a month—or nearly $200,000 a year.

Sprague has said the conspiracy which led to Yablonski's death goes higher still and more indictments are expected.

BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS
Q 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠10 6 3 ♣A 6 ♣K J 9 3 ♠A Q 10 2
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♣ Pass
1 NT Pass 2 ♣ Pass

What do you bid now?
A—Three clubs. Although partner's two club call is not forcing you should take further action inasmuch as your values should fit North's hand admirably. A five club contract may hinge on his having a few key cards.

Q 2—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠Q 10 6 4 3 ♣8 5 2 ♣K 2 ♠7 4 3
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
2 ♠ Pass 2 NT Pass
3 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A—Six spades. We cannot conceive of any sort of demand opening that partner might hold which would not be a laydown for slam. Your spades and diamonds should solidify his suits so that, if he holds the other controls, he may be in position to go all the way.

Q 3—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠A 10 8 ♣5 4 ♣9 5 4 ♠A K J 8 2
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♣ Pass
3 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A—Inasmuch as you have a solid opening bid facing a partner who has opened and jumped, you must think in terms of slam and, as a temporary measure, you should bid three spades, which partner in the subsequent bidding will recognize as the ace. It is presumed, of course, that hearts are the agreed trumps.

Q 4—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠K 3 ♣9 8 7 ♠A 10 9 6 5 ♠Q 9 2
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
Pass 1 NT Pass Pass
Dble. Pass ?

What action do you take?
A—You have splendid defense against a no trump contract and should pass. We have not lost sight of partner's previous pass but, in view of the fact that he was willing to double a no trump bid, he must be just under an opening bid himself. It is plain to be seen that dummy will be trickless, and this places quite a job on East's shoulders.

Q 5—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠K J 2 ♣K 9 ♣A 9 7 6 5 3 ♠10 2
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♣ Pass
2 ♠ Pass 3 ♣ Pass

What do you bid now?
A—We recommend taking a chance on a three no trump bid. Partner has shown better than an average hand by his two forward responses, and there is a good chance that you will be able to run the diamond suit. A lead up to one of your kings should prove helpful, and there appears a reasonable prospect of collecting nine tricks.

Q 6—East-West vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠Q 10 6 5 2 ♣8 5 3 ♣6 ♠J 9 6 2
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
Pass 1 ♠ Dble. Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A—Give no consideration to a pass, for you have no reason to believe that you can defeat the one spade contract. Make an old fashioned response of two clubs, showing your best suit [outside of the one that has been bid].

Q 7—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠A 7 5 ♣K 8 6 ♣Q 9 5 2 ♠K 4
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass ?

What is your rebid?
A—One on trump. With this minimum it is better not to give an immediate raise even though you have adequate trump support.

Q 8—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠K J 9 6 2 ♣9 ♣J ♠Q 10 9 5 2
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass
2 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass
3 ♠ Pass 4 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A—In our vernacular you have run out of bids. Do not permit the singleton heart to convert you into a nursemaid. You should proceed under the assumption that partner was tuned in when you bid spades three times. If he has chosen to override you, it must be with a suit that is at least as good as yours — and probably better.
