

Fischer Two Games Down After Forfeit

Breezes Fan Texas Lightly

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — An appeals committee rejected today Bobby Fischer's protest against his loss of Thursday's world championship chess game by forfeit.

The four-man committee supported the decision of chief referee Lothar Schmid to award the game to Boris Spassky because Fischer failed to appear.

The decision left Fischer two games down in a 24-game match where Fischer needs the equivalent of 12 victories and a draw to take Spassky's title.

Fischer stayed in his hotel room Thursday and refused to play unless three cameras filming the match for movie and television sales were removed from the hall. Since the American challenger lost the first game on Wednesday, referee Lothar Schmid's forfeit ruling gave Spassky a 2-0 lead.

IN DOUBT

Schmid said the third game of the 24-game match would be held on schedule Sunday, but the future of the match was very much in doubt.

Schmid said it depends on whether Fischer continues his boycott. He added that the World Chess Federation—FIDE—could step in at any time and disqualify him. But Dr. Max Euwe, president of the organization, said Schmid was still in charge of the match and must decide how to handle the American.

A spokesman for promoter Chester Fox, who bought the movie and TV rights for the match from the Icelandic Chess Federation, said the cameras had to stay because "the whole financial structure of the match depends on it." It was the prospect of movie and TV sales that allowed the Icelanders to offer a record $125,000 purse to the two players, and Fischer and Spassky are also to divide a share of the movie-TV money estimated at a minimum of $55,000.

South breezes fanned Texas lightly today, and residents of the Lone Star State awoke to an unusually calm and pleasant morning.

The only moisture came from a lonely patch of thundershowers between Mount Pleasant and Texarkana in Northeast Texas. Skies were clear to partly cloudy nearly everywhere else.

Showers which had hung over parts of the state for several days finally played out during the night. Moisture amounts generally were spotty. The measurements went as high as 1.75 inches at Dallas and 1.25 at Waco.

Forecasts called for partly cloudy and warm weather throughout the state, with a few showers here and there. Official observers looked for a little cooler air to move into the Texas Panhandle behind a new front Saturday morning.

Thursday's top temperatures reached into the 90s in most areas, going as high as 100 degrees at Wichita Falls. Readings near dawn today ranged from 66 at Dalhart up to 81 at Galveston.

Evangelist Lester Roloff To Offer Program Here

Saturday, July 22, at 8 p.m. in Municipal Auditorium, Evangelist Lester Roloff, Corpus Christi, and a choir of 50 girls from the Rebekah Home for Girls will present a special evangelistic and musical program.

The Rev. Roloff is the founder and director of "Family Altar Broadcast," a religious program which is heard over more than 90 radio stations across the country, including KHEM, Big Spring.

His program is broadcast locally at 5:45 p.m. each week-day.

The Rebekah Home for Girls is located on 79 acres of farmland just outside Corpus Christi and is financed by Roloff Evangelistic Enterprises. Many of the girls residing at the home are former drug addicts who have been helped to recovery at the home.

Saturday, in addition to their music, the girls will present their individual stories of their drug addictions and redemptions.

Young people, parents, teachers, civic leaders, law enforcement personnel and clergy are invited to attend the REV. LESTER ROLOFF service to hear the girls' testimony concerning their personal solutions to drug addiction which affects many lives in Big Spring.

Themes for the Rev. Roloff's evangelistic speaking are "Christ Is the Answer" and "Now the Just Shall Live By Faith," Hebrews 10:38.

GRAVE INSULT

Fox said Fischer admitted he couldn't hear or see the three cameras, but "he said they bothered him because he knew they were there."

Fischer had objected first to the cameras Wednesday night and left the chess board in the sports palace for half an hour before conceding defeat in the first match. Intense negotiations through the rest of the night and all day Thursday failed to coax him from his hotel room.

Spassky had arrived meanwhile and was seated behind the black figures before a crowd of about 1,000, or less than half the capacity of the sports palace.

The white pieces, and with them the first move, were Fischer's as the loser of the first game. At 5 p.m., the scheduled starting, Schmid started the playing clock. When the hour time limit for the first move by Fischer passed, the referee declared a forfeit.

Payroll Boosts Increase Budget

LAMESA — Increased payroll costs account for most of the increase in the Lamesa school district budget of $2,509,184 for the 1972-73 school year.

The tax rate has been left at $2 per $100 valuation on a 50 per cent rendition. Increased state and local revenue will allow the $49,887 increase in expenditures without additional taxation.

Anticipated revenue from taxes is set at $1,081,143 from local sources, up from $1,075,126 last year. State revenue is expected to be $1,390,159, up from $1,334,525 last year.

A public hearing has been set for Aug. 14 on the budget.

CONNECTED BY FINGERTIPS — After almost 40 years of blindness — and a lifetime of silence — Louise Selby, 60, and her brother Bill, 53, no longer seem to care very much about the world they know only by touch. Staff members at the Country House for retarded but trainable adults admit they know very little about the pair. They have been there six years.

Louise And Bill No Longer Seem To Care About World

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. — After almost 40 years of blindness — and a lifetime of silence — Louise Selby, 60, and her brother Bill, 53, no longer seem to care very much about the world known only by touch. They usually sit together in the sunny living room, touching each other for companionship and communication: sometimes quietly holding hands, other times with fingers flying in conversation. But if one moves away without telling the other, there's a visible panic in the searching hands that reach out — in ever widening circles — to regain contact with the other half of their world.

NO INTEREST — Staff members at the Country House here, a home for retarded but trainable adults, say they know very little about the pair. Records indicate only names, ages, brief diagnoses of their condition and health records since they were placed there by their father six years ago. Both were born deaf mutes, and went blind about 40 years ago, officials said. In the six years they've been wards of the state, Louise and Bill have been oblivious to happenings outside their immediate surroundings. Wars, presidents, assassinations, even men on the moon are unknown to them — part of a world in which the seemingly have no interest.

Except for a brief schooling, the pair stayed at home and learned to take care of themselves. Bill became adept at craft work and Louise learned the needle skills of sewing, embroidery and hemstitching.

LOVE TOUCH — But today they seldom use those skills.

Injuries Fatal

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — Manuel Yzaguirre, 18, died at a hospital today of injuries suffered June 30, when his motorcycle and a fire department vehicle collided. He was thrown into a ditch. The firemen were not on an emergency run.

Although Louise is normally even tempered and dispositioned, she does occasionally show a big sister's pique — folding her hands in her lap and refusing to talk to Bill no matter how hard he tugs at her fingers.

But, as suddenly and inexplicably as it starts, it stops. And, she reaches out and traces her finger across his arm, as if to apologize.

Bill can communicate only through finger talk, and most of the staff and 20 other residents can get simple messages across to him. But, if it's complicated, Louise becomes the interpreter.

Since coming to Country House she's learned to read Braille — and communicate through a Braille typewriter — a slow and tedious method — but a skill that opens a little bigger door to the world.

But, the only Braille books she ever asks for are Bible stories, which she reads over and over.

BACKED BY FEDERAL COURT ORDER Probe Involving 'Duke Of Duval'

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Backed by a court order, federal attorneys were free today to continue a probe involving George B. "Duke of Duval" Parr, longtime South Texas political boss.

A federal judge ruled in the government's favor Thursday after Asst. U.S. Atty. John Clark revealed that the records of three political entities, sought in a grand jury investigation, apparently have disappeared.

BANK EXAM — Clark successfully argued that the government has no choice but to obtain similar records from the First State Bank of San Diego, Tex., in Duval County. The bank had fought the move.

Details of the grand jury investigation, which apparently began last spring, have not been disclosed.

However, court papers indicate it involves Parr, once the political kingpin of Duval County and three neighboring counties, and two other persons — Lou Powell of San Diego and Bryan Taylor of Freer.

John Heard, lawyer for the San Diego bank, argued Thursday that subpoenas for its records were too broad and constituted a "classic case of fishing."

Clark told the court that the government originally had tried to obtain records from the San Diego and Benavides, Tex., school districts and the Duval County Conservation and Reclamation District for 1966-69.

But the two school districts reported the records for the years in question couldn't be found, Clark said, while the reclamation district said its office had been burglarized and its records were missing.

KILLED CAT

Responding to bank lawyer Heard's arguments to quash the subpoenas for the bank's records, U.S. District Court Judge John Wood Jr. asked:

"Doesn't it occur to you that this strange that all of this time has been spent trying to restrain the grand jury?" The judge said he had "never seen this much effort made to restrain a grand jury or U.S. attorney in conducting an investigation."

The judge also said the disappearance of the records was "too coincidental not to arouse the curiosity of any investigative body."

Wood denied the bank's motion to quash the subpoenas for its records. He also ordered that microfilms and documents brought to San Antonio for examination be held here in safekeeping until they can be copied. Statements in earlier court hearings indicated the investigation, at least in part, concerns school construction in Duval County.

Parr, Powell and Taylor reportedly are, or have been, officials connected with the public schools of Duval County.

In 1964, Parr was elected to the San Diego School District board. The veteran political figure earlier had served as county judge and sheriff of Duval County. He also has won many legal battles over the years, including a period in which more than 300 indictments were returned in cases involving him and his supporters.

PAYROLL FUND

Court files in the current case show the government is seeking such documents as cancelled checks, liability ledger sheets, loan payment records and rental contracts for safe deposit boxes. Also sought are the reclamation district's documents on such items as the interest and sinking fund, payroll fund, special account, cashiers checks and bank money orders.

EX-AIDE CONVICTED Rep. Collins Denies Kickback Knowledge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas Congressman James M. Collins has denied any knowledge of an $18,000 kickback scheme for which his former chief aide was convicted Thursday.

The aide, George A. Haag, contended throughout a four-day trial that he carried out the kickback scheme at the direction of Collins, a millionaire Republican from Dallas.

GUILTY OF 20 — Haag, 33, stood tight-lipped and erect as the jury foreman repeated "guilty, your honor," to 20 counts of mail fraud, two counts of using falsified House payroll forms and one count of obstructing justice. His wife cried softly.

He faces a maximum 15-year prison sentence under terms set by U.S. District Judge Oliver Gasch, but lawyers said they believe he would get less than five. An appeal is planned. No date was set for sentencing.

Haag testified that Collins concocted the kickback and payroll manipulation scheme to pay $13,000 in bonuses to workers in his 1968 campaign and also to build an office slush fund.

But Collins, who was not called to testify, told newsmen after the verdict that he never promised campaign bonuses to anyone and did not know of the kickbacks until they were exposed by columnist Jack Anderson.

HIGH OFF HOG — He said one of Haag's first acts when he came to Washington was to raise his own salary from $18,000 to $25,000 by falsifying his House payroll card. "I think George just liked to live high off the hog," Collins said. "I feel sorry for his wife and baby."

The former administrative aide admitted he knew that two House pay forms were false kickback money, but said he was told only that it was partial repayment for $1,600 the congressman lent Haag for travel expenses to Washington.

Collins also denied a passing statement by Haag during the trial that Collins had put more than $700 left over from a 1968 campaign-fund account into his personal account, saying that he had to take money out of his personal account to pay for the campaign.

"It was an absolute loser," Collins said of the campaign fund-raising effort, "and he knows it."

Judge Gasch ordered Haag to stay in the Washington area, but said he would be reasonable in permitting travel for Haag's political consultant

DON'T KNOW — "I can't understand why she said that," Collins said. "I don't know what that's about."

The congressman said he did get some money from Raymond Fortner Jr. that had been described during the trial as

BIG SPRING'S OWN VERSION OF RUN OF THE BULLS
Action at its most furious in the annual Junior Rodeo

Army Surplus Cans No-No For Trash

Numerous back and arm injuries to collectors of garbage employed by the city sanitation department have resulted from army surplus cans presently being used by various residents of the city for disposal of garbage sanitation, superintendent Dick Nichols said.

The cans are made of heavy gauge steel or iron and weigh about 50 pounds empty. A requirement of the city ordinance pertaining to receptacles limits the weight of a can and its contents when full to no more than 50 pounds.

This ordinance will be enforced beginning July 17. Cans of excessive weight will not be picked up, said Nichols.

He explained that four employees of the sanitation department are presently off the job with arm and back injuries resulting from lifting cans of excessive weight.

Too Much Alone

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: They say vitamins A and D are harmful if you take too much, but how much is too much and what are the symptoms of overdose? — Mrs. D. R.

It is possible to get too much of either of these vitamins — not likely in ordinary circumstances, but quite possible when someone decides that if a little of something is good, then a lot must be better.

A maximum dosage of vitamin A would be 50,000 units a day. Even larger doses are sometimes given for skin disorders such as acne, but when that is done, the heavy dosage is only for a limited time. Children are more susceptible to a toxic dose of this than adults. Symptoms are loss of appetite, irritability, bone tenderness, loss of hair.

Toxicity from vitamin D varies so much that I can't give any arbitrary level, but symptoms are loss of appetite, nausea, headache, loss of weight, constipation in children, increase in blood calcium.

Large doses of these vitamins are not necessary for the average person, adult or child, and are used in large amounts only for special circumstances.

There's no danger of getting too much of either from the ordinary one-a-day type mixed vitamins. The trouble occurs when folks take it on themselves to take continued heavy doses on their own, without finding out from the doctor how much will help.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Could you tell me what to expect after a hysterectomy? I understand it is necessary to go through the change of life twice, once now, and again when I'm in my 50s. I am 36 now. — Mrs. R.

No, you don't go through the change of life (menopause) twice. Hysterectomy means removal of the uterus, and this does not

Screwworm Woes Grow

ALICE, Tex. (AP) — South Texas cattlemen were given little encouragement in the current screwworm epidemic at a meeting Wednesday night.

The only hope cattlemen can expect, they were told, is that next year may be a little better if a proposed cooperative program between the United States and Mexico goes into effect by the early summer of 1973.

Dr. M. E. Meadows, director of the Screwworm Eradication Laboratory at Mission, told 130 South Texas cattle raisers and agro-businessmen that the current screwworm epidemic, which is already up to more than 25,000 cases, will not get better before the winter.

He said the heavy buildup last winter of screwworm flies in Northern Mexico was out of proportion to sterile fly production.

Ben McDonald, a Corpus Christi area lawyer and rancher, noted that the screwworm situation not only concerns cattlemen but should concern all area citizens. Its effects, he said, could not only be seen in cattle but it was this year drastically reducing the state's deer population.

McDonald urged cattlemen to seek the support of sportsmen and environmentalists, local governments and rural and urban organizations to help fight the screwworm.

He said the heavy buildup last winter of screwworm flies in Northern Mexico was out of proportion to sterile fly production.

The gall bladder serves as a concentration point for bile. When it is removed, the bile goes directly into the small intestine and digestion continues satisfactorily.

It's just another of the body's back-up systems, ready to go into operation when called upon. As with the appendix, tonsils, uterus, spleen and other organs of this kind, when they become diseased they're better off than in.

The operation won't have an effect either way on your weight problem. You should reduce on general health principles.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I just had my gall bladder removed and I wonder what the body does when it's gone, since it does perform a function.

I am quite a bit overweight. What effect does this operation have on a heavy person? — Mrs. B.J.A.

The gall bladder serves as a concentration point for bile. When it is removed, the bile goes directly into the small intestine and digestion continues satisfactorily.

It's just another of the body's back-up systems, ready to go into operation when called upon. As with the appendix, tonsils, uterus, spleen and other organs of this kind, when they become diseased they're better off than in.

Affects Others

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: In response to "FORMER READER" and all others who insist that what they do with their bodies is "their own business" —

Yes, it's your business, provided no one else ever has to pay financially, emotionally or otherwise for your rashness. So long as your parents are footing your bills, your body is "their business," foul it up, and they must pay to straighten it — and YOU — out.

Even after you sever parental apron strings, if you foul up your body with alcohol or drugs, or some other damned foolishness, and someone else (the public, your spouse or your children) has to pay in money, hardship, or mental anguish, your body is not entirely your own business.

I am fed up with paying taxes to support wives and children of alcoholics and drug addicts, and I'm tired of paying for public-sponsored medical and psychiatric treatment for people who have chosen to wreck their lives. I am fed up with paying high insurance rates because of drivers who are addicted alcohol or dope, and with supporting enormous police forces to combat crimes resulting from such addiction.

The only person whose body is absolutely his (or her) own to treat foolishly is one who is self-supporting, has no relatives, no friends, no dependents and is completely exiled from civilization.

AN OLD SQUARE IN CINCINNATI
DEAR "SQUARE": I'm in all four of your corners.

DEAR ABBY: I suppose to some my problem may seem funny, but to me it's no joke. I've been dating this terrific guy for a few weeks now and we get along just great. He takes me to the best places, and he's a perfect gentleman.

Tips On Jobs

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

TRIP MONEY: (Q) All the magazines have articles on summer jobs and how to get them. I am only 13 and have usually spent the summer spending money.

Now I want to make some. Next summer my family and I are planning a trip to Europe, and I need any money I can get together for it. Do you think I am too young to work? If not, do you have any suggestions? — Looking Ahead in Indiana.

(A) Thirteen is too young for most jobs, but there are some possibilities.

Baby-sitting is usually the best paying job a girl your age can find. But be sure you are ready first. It requires maturity. Girls of 14 or 15 are ordinarily better suited for it.

Car washing is another possibility. If you try this, set your prices right and offer satisfaction or no pay.

You and a friend your age might organize a cleaning service for your neighborhood, doing work either outside or inside.

Whatever you decide on, you will need announcement cards to be given to each of your neighbors. You can print these yourself. Do it neatly. Good luck, and remember to do quality work.

Arah Phillips Named Trustee; Layman's Sunday Observed

Miss Arah Phillips, principal of Jack & Jill Day School here, is a new member of the board of trustees of the Gulf Coast Bible College, Houston, sponsored by the Church of God. Miss Phillips' election to a five-year term as trustee came during the 83rd International Convention of representatives of the Churches of God. The convention was held in Anderson, Ind., Church of God headquarters. Highlights of the convention included adoption of plans for a centennial celebration of the Church's organization to be observed from June, 1980 through October, 1981. Delegates elected the first Black president of a Church of God governing board in naming U.S. Army Col. (Chaplain) C. T. Boyd Jr., retired, Indianapolis, Ind., to head the Missionary Board.

Dr. Preston Harrison, administrator of the Big Spring State Hospital, will address the congregation of First Presbyterian Church during the Sunday worship service in honor of Layman's Sunday. His topic will be "Today's Cost of Christian Witnessing." Sharon Andrews and Bruce Broughton will perform a duet in special music for the service. Dr. Harrison has served First Presbyterian Church as an elder for several terms, and has participated in many of the church's activities. In addition to Sunday's special preaching service, other activities are scheduled. Women of the Church will hold a council meeting Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the church parlor. Current officers, incoming officers and circle chairmen are urged to attend. Sunday, July 23, the congregation will meet during the morning worship service to hear and act upon the report and recommendations of the Nominating Committee for Elders and Deacons in the Class of 1975. East Fourth Baptist Church will hold a special youth service at 7 p.m. Sunday on the church's parking lot. Ronald McKee, who will be a junior at Big Spring High School in the fall, will be the special youth-minister. His brother, Donald McKee, who will be a high school senior this fall, will be in charge of the music. Other young people of the church will be involved in the program. The public is invited to attend the special outdoor service, and seating will be provided. This Sunday at the Church of the Nazarene, 1400 Lancaster, special summer revival services will begin. Services will be held at 7:30 p.m. daily through Sunday, July 23. The Rev. Joe Norton, evangelist from Hamlin, Tex., will bring the message each evening. He is a graduate of Bethany Nazarene College, Bethany, Okla., and served Texas and Oklahoma churches as pastor for 16 years. In his services, the Rev. Norton emphasizes the Word of God, prayer, fasting and personal evangelism. Special music including choruses and spiritual songs will be featured at each service. The Rev. E. Wales Lankford, pastor, and members of the church invite the public to attend.

Associate director of the Texas Conference of Churches and will direct the Conference's Valley Service Project in the Rio Grande Valley. Appointed is the Rev. Robert Navarro, 34, who will be leaving the pastorate of Gethsemane Lutheran Church, Omaha, Neb., for his Texas duties. The Rev. Navarro is co-founder of the Nebraska Commission on Mexican-Americans and has been active in numerous Mexican American community organizations. He has served as consultant on Chicano affairs with the University of Nebraska's teaching training project. He is a member of the National Church Council of the American Lutheran Church. The Rev. Navarro received his degree in elementary education in Mexico and his divinity degree from Wartburg Theological Seminary, Dubuque, Iowa. The Rev. Navarro, his wife, the former Billie M. Nehrenz, and the couple's three children will reside in the Rio Grande Valley. Mrs. Barney Edens and Mrs. Louise Sneed were hostesses for a recent meeting of the Ruth Class of the North Birdwell Lane Methodist Church. In charge of the meeting was Mrs. Viola Burchett, president of the group. Mrs. Vernon Kent gave the devotion. Ten members and two guests attended the meeting held in the church Fellowship Hall.

Lutherans Equalize Traditional Vows

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Parts of the traditional marriage ritual terming the husband "head of the wife" and directing her to be submissive to him are no longer required in a new Lutheran marriage service. Nor does the bride's father "give" her away, implying she lacks the independence of the groom. The custom derived from ancient times when daughters were regarded possessions and were turned over to the groom for a price. EQUAL PARTNERS "We feel that they should be regarded as equal partners in the marriage," says the Rev. Dr. Eugene L. Brand, head of an Inter-Lutheran Commission on Worship which drew up the new service. It omits the usual bridal promises to "honor" and "obey" the husband. Nor does the minister pronounce them man and wife as is customary. Instead, they themselves declare that compact. In principle, this always has been the case, with the minister being only the officiating witness to it, even though he formally pronounced them wed. Basically, however, it is their own "pledge of faithfulness" to each other that unites them, Dr. Brand noted.

SEEKS EQUALITY IN MARRIAGE — The Rev. Dr. Eugene L. Brand is head of an Inter-Lutheran Commission on Worship which has drawn up a new marriage service omitting the usual bridal promises to "honor" and "obey" the husband. The couple, in turn: "I take you, (name), to be my wife or husband from this day forward, to join with you and share all that is to come and, with the help of God, I promise to be faithful to you as he gives us life together." The minister: "(name and name), by their promises before God, and in the presence of this congregation, have made themselves husband and wife. Blessed be the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit, now and forever."

Textbooks Ignore Jewish History
NEW YORK (AP) — Social studies textbooks currently used in U.S. high schools and colleges large ignore that contribution of Jews and Judaism to modern civilization, says a Stanford University historian. Dr. Gavin I. Langmuir told an American Jewish Committee meeting here that the omission was directly responsible for the ignorance of most Americans about Judaism and Jewish history.

Minister Attends California Confab

The Rev. Tommy Williams, Christ Assembly Church, returned recently from the 1972 world convention of the Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship in San Francisco. He gave his testimony to the convention Friday just before Tex Humbarnd spoke. "It was a wonderful sight, all those people who came together for Christ," he said. He has given his testimony to the convention Friday just before Tex Humbarnd spoke. "It was a wonderful sight, all those people who came together for Christ," he said.

The Rev. Williams attended the week long convention that drew more than 5,000 people from all over the United States and the world to hear the numerous speakers. Human Value Not Emphasized Here
WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP) — America takes special care to maintain its productive index, but not its "human value index," a psychiatrist heretold a church gathering. Dr. Robert Butler said: "Most of our national policy decisions are economic and technological rather than moral, the office of Management and Budget decides. There is a Gross National Product, however important, that is watched, but there is no human value index."

Lay Teachers Now Outnumber Clergy

(AP WIREPHOTO by cable from Belfast)

READY ON THE FIRING LINE — Two British troopers take cover under an armored vehicle in a Roman Catholic area of Belfast, Northern Ireland, Thursday. Three battalions of the troopers moved into the area after a raging gun battle with guerrillas of the Irish Republican Army.

British Troops Invade 'No Go' IRA Stronghold

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Gun battles raged through the night in Roman Catholic districts of Belfast and continued today after the British army abandoned its "low profile" and took the offensive against guerrillas of the Irish Republican Army.

432 DIE — Three soldiers and three civilians were reported killed, raising the confirmed death toll to 16 since Wednesday and to 432 in the three years of communal violence in Northern Ireland.

The army claimed to have hit more than 30 gunmen, but recovered no bodies because the guerrillas carry away their casualties for burial or treatment. Shooting erupted in all of Belfast's major Catholic strongholds after three battalions of troops invaded the IRA "no go" district of Andersonstown to quell gunmen who had poured intensive fire at an army command post for four days.

It was the first time the army had entered one of the districts taken over by the IRA. In the past such areas have been off limits to prevent a confrontation with the guerrillas holding sway there.

CLEAN OUT — Protestant militants have been demanding for months that the army go into the no go areas and clean out the IRA. The invasion of Andersonstown will probably intensify the Protestants' demands that the army now go into the barricaded areas of Londonderry that are the most famous symbols of Catholic defiance, the Bogside and Greggan districts, or "Free Derry," as the IRA calls them.

Army headquarters said about 700 men remained in control of Andersonstown early today but said it did not know how long they would stay there.

RETALIATION — The invasion of Andersonstown was ordered by Britain's administrator for Northern Ireland, William Whitelaw, Army headquarters said. It marked a reversal, at least temporarily, of Whitelaw's policy of reducing military activity in an effort to wean away the grassroots Catholic support of the IRA.

The retaliation began shortly before midnight.

Freedom Bids By Three In Jail Fizzle

DALLAS (AP) — James Edward Clayton, 27, one of the three Dallas County jail prisoners captured after a jailbreak attempt Thursday morning, recently filed a suit alleging he was placed in solitary confinement without a hearing.

Clayton and two other men identified as Jack Dyche Jr., 26, and Eddie Barnes, 24, sawed their way out of the jail with hacksaws apparently smuggled to them by friends.

All three men were captured after Clayton plunged 40 feet to the ground when he slipped from a makeshift rope made of mattress ticking.

While Clayton fought for his life at Parkland Hospital with a broken leg, chest injuries and a cut chin, the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans accepted his suit.

The appeals court reversed a lower court ruling that another suit already is pending that deals with complaints of substandard jail conditions. The 5th Circuit said Clayton's suit raises a constitutional question involving hearings.

Sheriff's Capt. P.M. Buckalew said the three men sawed a 2-foot square hole in the quarter-inch steel ceiling of their cell on the eighth floor of the jail, which occupies the top of the county courthouse building in downtown Dallas.

Clayton was serving a 60-year term for robbery, Dyche a 55-year term for sale of narcotics and Barnes a 40-year term for murder.

'Be Yourself' Says Speaker

"Be yourself," said Mrs. George Helmstetter of Lubbock state president of Epsilon Sigma Alpha, at a District 8 meeting this week in Monahans.

Stockton was named recording secretary.

Suggestions for district projects included monetary and volunteer aid to Big Spring State Hospital and the Texas Rehabilitation Center in Odessa, and social service work hours to Muscular Dystrophy Association of America. Projects will be agreed on at the next district meeting, Oct. 15 in Big Spring.

A state executive board meeting and leadership seminar is scheduled Aug. 12-13 in Burnet, and the district leadership seminar will be Sept. 10 in Odessa.

Guests at Sunday's meeting included Mrs. Ivan White, Fort Stockton, state recording secretary; Mrs. Betty Tinney, Odessa, state workshop coordinator; and Mrs. Helmstetter. Invocation and benediction were by Mrs. Hale.

Discusses Research In Genealogy

Mrs. John Damron discussed genealogical research she did in Virginia and Maryland when she spoke to the Genealogical Society of the Big Spring Thursday evening in the Howard County Library conference room.

Mrs. Damron displayed charts and documented certificates of her family lines, and she stressed the importance of census, marriage and death records in doing family research. She said wills, deeds and inventories are also good sources of information for researchers.

Mrs. Damron, vice president presided. Several fund-raising ideas were discussed, and Mrs. C. G. Barnett reviewed activities of the past club year.

The next meeting is at 7:15 p.m., Aug. 10 at the library. Visitors and new members are welcome.

Do 'Five Little Girls' Need Liberation Now?

NEW YORK (AP) — Five little girls need liberation from 21 bullying boys, according to a group of women from Suffolk County, Long Island.

The girls represent the vowels of the alphabet. The boys are the consonants. And all 26 are caricatured in a program called Alpha One used in schools throughout the country to teach first graders their ABCs.

To the Suffolk women, the program is blatantly sexist, because the girl-vowels are shown as weak, weeping creatures who must ask the chauvinist consonants for protection and support.

"It presents a very poor image for little girls," said Mrs. Lois Rodriguez, a kindergarten teacher — she does not use the program — and a spokeswoman for Suffolk Women's Liberation.

The multimedia package, including books, filmstrips and posters, gives each letter a sex and a personality. The letter-people's interactions with one another in Alpha Land — how Miss A gets along with Mr. T, for instance — are meant to help children learn word formation from real-life situations.

What the feminist mothers are protesting are such real situations as the one where Mr. C and Mr. K determine which vowels belong to them. Says Mrs. Rodriguez, "The whole idea of girls belonging to boys is what's awful. The girls are never consulted."

Last week, she and four other women discussed their complaints with Dr. Bernard Kauderer, chief executive officer of New Dimensions in Education, Inc., which produces the program.

In an atmosphere he described as "somewhat hostile," Kauderer said he defended his Alpha One program on the basis that it aims at showing cooperation and sharing among all the letters. But he also promised that he would look into the charges, which he says involve just one-half of one per cent

FESTIVAL TIME — There will be numerous prizes awarded at game booths during the mid-summer festival which begins today at St. Thomas Catholic Church. Displayed here are some of the stuffed animals and dolls which will go to lucky winners. From left, standing, are the Rev. Leo St. John, Miss Ramona Molina, Pedro Rodriguez, co-chairman; and Hyinio Moreno Jr. Children seated on the table are Neida Saldivar, Presilia Herrera and Adriel Saldivar.

St. Thomas Festival Events Begin Today

Preparations have been underway for the past week for the big, mid-summer festival which begins today at St. Thomas Catholic Church. Although the entertainment program will not get underway until 7 p.m. on the church grounds, a hot tamale sale was held at noon today in the church basement.

This evening, and Saturday evening the festival will feature all types of game booths with prizes as well as displays of gift items which can be purchased at reasonable prices. There will be a cake walk and stands where food and drinks will be sold.

Beginning at 4:30 p.m. Saturday a Mexican dinner will be served in the church basement, and, as in years past, promises to be well-attended by Big Springers. The charge for the dinner will be $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children. The public is invited to attend. The festival will climax with the naming of a festival queen Saturday evening.

Proceeds from the festival are used to provide needed items and upkeep for the church. Several years ago, the festival was used to provide money for major restoration of the church. General chairman for the festival is Pedro Rodriguez, with Mrs. Manuel Cervantes serving as co-chairman.

Hints From Heloise

LETTER OF THOUGHT

Dear Heloise: I am a 13-year-old boy. I think we should have trash containers on street corners with a speaker system attached. Every time anyone puts trash in, a voice would say, "Thank you for helping to keep our city clean."

I have a coffee can full of instant baby cereal, instant milk, and sugar. That way all I do is add warm water to the mixture for my little boy's breakfast. Sometimes for a little change I add some fruit flavored gelatin to the mixture instead of sugar. Saves me time in the morning and my little boy just loves it. Greta J. Livesay

Dear Heloise:

I use plastic pill bottles for putting the names and dates of plants that I set out. I take a plastic wire from a bread wrapper and fasten the bottle to the base of the rose bush and as soon as it leafs out the little bottle is hidden from view. Mrs. C. R. Y.

Winners Named In Bridge Play

Mrs. Marion Irland was high scorer at Newcomers' bridge play Wednesday at Webb Air Force Base Officers Open Mess. Other winners were Mrs. A. W. Rees, second; Mrs. Ramzi Botros, low; and Mr. Richard T. Missman, "brido."

Mrs. Bob Nourse won the attendance prize. Guests were Mrs. Missman and Mrs. Vinson Stouk. The group will meet again at 9 a.m., Wednesday at the Pioneer Gas Flame Room.

A LOVELIER YOU One Routine Solves Two Pesty Problems

By MARY SUE MILLER The Ms. contingent has two universal problems: Figure and Hair. Well, here's a routine that helps solve both problems with one effort. The only equipment you need is a woman, soft-to-medium bristle hairbrush. (Soft bristles if your locks are fine or endy.)

1. Brush in left hand, stand erect; stretch head left, trying to touch shoulder, and brush right side of hair from scalp to ends for 10 strokes. By reversing tactics, brush left side.
2. From erect position, slowly bend double, leading with head. Brush front section of hair 5 times while bending; still brushing, rise gradually. Repeat 10 times.
3. Stretch across your bed, face down and head dangling over edge. Now brush back of head. With each stroke, alternately kick legs backward and try to touch toes to buttocks. Continue for 20 strokes.

Just what have you accomplished? You've given your hair better than the 100 strokes reputed to keep the scalp stimulated, the strands aired and polished. As for your figure, it's had a workout that trims the thighs, hips, midriff, arms and throat.

Of course you halved performance time. If your face looks glowier, consider it a dividend from increased circulation. To ask for more from a work-out,

TEEN TRESSES

If your hair a problem, Miss Teen? Then send for my leaflet, "Teen Tresses, Model Type." It tells how to correct such ailments as oily hair and flaky scalp; fly-away, unmanageable, lackluster locks. Included, too, are styling tips and model grooming quickies. For your copy write to Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents in coin.

Cap Rock Office Manager Retires After 25 Years

STANTON — Ray Simpson, office manager for Cap Rock Electric Cooperative, Inc., is enjoying his retirement, after just over 25 years' service to the organization.

He came to Cap Rock in February 1947 to assume the duties of office manager and held that position until retirement. Previous to joining Cap Rock Electric, he was employed by Texas Electric Service Company in Midland.

He has had the opportunity to see the cooperative grow from its infancy 25 years ago

Cowboys Flock To Calgary

DENVER, Colo. — Nearly every top cowboy in professional rodeo is competing this week at the famed Calgary Exhibition and Stampede rodeo in Calgary, Alberta, Canada, the Rodeo Cowboys Association said.

The Stampede continues through Saturday with more than $50,000 at stake.

Many contestants were able to compete also in the Emerald Empire Roundup rodeo in Eugene, Ore., which ended Sunday, and paid winners $21,715.

At Eugene, Larry Mahan and John Quintana continued to battle for the lead in bull riding. Mahan, Salem, Ore., who leads for the bull riding championship this week with $14,936, is barely ahead of Quintana, who has winnings of $14,385.

Leaders in the various events are: All around cowboy — Phil Lyne, George West, Tex., $27,451, and Larry Mahan, Salem, Ore., $24,317; saddle bronc riding — J. C. Bonine, Hysam, Mont., $13,496, and Mel Hyland, Surrey, B. C., $13,181; bareback bronc riding — Joe Alexander, Cor, Wyo., $13,423, and Gary Tucker, Carlsbad, N. to an organization serving nearly 8,000 meters today. Simpson was personally acquainted with most of the members on the Cap Rock system.

Ray has been a member of the Masonic Lodge for many years. Both he and his wife, Ora Mae, have been active in church and community affairs.

On July 6, both Mr. and Mrs. Simpson were honored by Cap Rock directors and employees at a dinner held in the Willie Wirehand room in Stanton.

The Simpsons plan to remain in Stanton and continue to live active lives, enjoying their retirement.

Contributing to that enjoyment is a new set of golf clubs given by Cap Rock — all but the putter. Manager O. B. Bryan said he didn't want Simpson getting mad at Cap Rock when he missed a putt.

Texan Plans Sex Change Operation

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston man, who says he plans a sex change operation, has asked the city council to give him an identification card to prevent police from arresting him for wearing women's clothes.

Richard Anthony Mayes, 25, who has been arrested four times in recent months, said a new city ordinance against impersonating a member of the opposite sex should not apply in his case since he has no intent to disguise his true self.

Mayes said his true self was transsexual, a person who is physically one sex and psychologically another.

The city ordinance, which became effective June 2, makes it illegal for a person to appear in public dressed with the intent to disguise his or her true sex.

It replaced an old ordinance which prohibited wearing clothes of a member of the opposite sex. The law was changed when it became apparent no one agreed on just what clothes the law meant.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Reubin Askew says he will call the legislature into special session Nov. 21 to consider whether the death penalty should be reimposed in Florida for certain crimes.

Askew said he would appoint a blue-ribbon commission next week to recommend legislation.

235-lb. butter cookie loses 116 lbs.

When Diana Sorenson was in the third grade, her mother's cooking turned her into the class "spritz": a plump, pretzel-like butter cookie. After that, she was always on a diet. But as soon as she'd lose a few pounds, she figured she could eat whatever she wanted from then on. And she did.

Then, when she reached 235 pounds, her life changed. She met a man who wanted her to lose weight. And so she did, desperately. So she tried Ayds® Reducing Plan Candy. It contains no drugs, no artificial sweeteners. Taken as directed, Ayds helps curb your appetite, so you eat less and lose weight. Now in four delicious flavors. Try one. Diana Sorenson lost 116 pounds on the Ayds Plan.

Health Director Misinterpreted

DALLAS (AP) — County health director J.M. Pickard said his idea to send drug addicts and alcoholics to the county jail instead of the Mental Evaluation Center had been "misinterpreted."

Pickard said he was responsible for the order from County Judge W.L. Sterrett to transfer ten patients from the center to the jail, and the order "was misinterpreted by some." Pickard said he asked for the transfer after he found, on a visit to the center, that 50 patients were crowded in the 40-bed facility.

Judge Sterrett said that a possible solution to the overcrowding at the center might be an expansion of the old jail to house Dallas alcoholics and drug addicts in the Terrell mental institution.

Two Area Youths Receive Awards

Lee Wayne Igo, 16, Sterling City and D. M. Parks, 16, Gail were the recipients Thursday night of awards at the 44th Annual State Future Farmers of America Convention held through today at the Dallas Memorial Auditorium.

Igo received the Santa Fe Educational Award for outstanding agricultural production, leadership and scholastic achievements. The award will entitle Igo to attend the National FFA Convention this fall in Kansas City where he will be honored along with other Santa Fe winners at a special luncheon.

He was one of the 10 recipients of the Area Lone Star Farmer Award. Igo represented Area II.

Igo is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Igo, Sterling City. Before progressing to the state-level awards, Igo received Top Greenhand, Chapter Farmer and Lone Star Farmer awards at the chapter and district levels.

His activities have included serving as secretary of the FFA chapter and as reporter for the district organization, participation on the livestock judging team and project work with 99 head of sheep and two head of beef cattle.

Last year, Igo was named high scholastic agriculture student at his high school.

Parks, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Parks, won the Fish and Wildlife Management Proficiency Award.

FFA activities for Parks have included participation on the grass judging, meat judging, and junior and senior chapter conducting teams, serving as chapter secretary and working with 17 head of beef cattle as his project.

Bell Authorities Pick Up Sanders

Bell County, Tex. deputy sheriffs took custody of Clarence Eugene Sanders, 25, Wednesday afternoon from the Howard County Sheriff's office for disposition of Bell County charges against Sanders.

Sanders pleaded guilty in 118th District Court Tuesday to a charge of burglary and received a 10-year probated prison sentence.

Howard County Grand Jurors indicted Sanders April 20, 1972.

Agricultural Situation Spotlighted Thursday

LAMESA — The cost-price squeeze makes management of farms all the more important in today's operations, in the view of most agricultural experts.

Hence, several Dawson County institutions are sponsoring a farm management institute. It will be held Thursday, July 20, in the Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church in Lamesa starting at 9:30 a.m. At noon, the group will have lunch with the Lamesa Noon Lions Club in the Forest Park Community Center.

During the morning session County Agent Lee Roy Colgan, Dawson County agent, will review the county's agricultural situation. Margin Sartin, area manager, will also be present.

The commission rescinded the May 9 quarantine imposed in Jim Wells County. However, four counties in this area continue under quarantine. They are Dawson, Mitchell, Nolan and Terry. Other counties involved are Nueces, Harris, Bexar and Webb.

Kenneth Wolf, economist in agribusines for the extension service, will be the luncheon speaker with an overview of the agricultural outlook.

Managing labor will be the 1:15 p.m. topic of Wolf, followed by a discussion of agricultural commodity futures by Sartin. Wolf also will have some ideas on "where does custom farm service enter into my farm business?" A question and answer period at 3:45 p.m. will conclude the institute.

NOLAN WINS 13th

Cincy Sweeps Series From Buc

By The Associated Press
Pittsburgh manager Bill Virdon spent a week in Cincinnati Thursday night.
It no doubt seemed that way after the Reds beat his Pirates 2-0 and swept a three-game series of National League division leaders.
"The sweep was just one of those things," said Virdon. "You don't expect them... but they happen sometimes in baseball."
It happened to the Pirates because they just weren't themselves. The normally heavy-hitting East leaders manufactured a paltry total of three runs in the series.
But the West-leading Reds had their usual proficiency at the plate, and also killed Pittsburgh with seven double plays in the series, including one Thursday night that helped Gary Nolan pick up his 13th victory of the year.

in a run to pace St. Louis' victory. Cleveland won his 11th game in 15 decisions and enhanced his winning string to seven games.
Cleveland was reached for a single by Rico Carto starting Atlanta's second inning and touched for another base hit by opposing pitcher Ron Reed in the third.
Home runs by Tommy Helms and Norm Miller in the ninth inning produced five runs that broke a 2-2 tie and powered Houston past Chicago.
Helms first crashed a three-run shot off Cub ace Ferguson Jenkins, then Miller delivered a two-run job off reliever Dan McGinn.
Ray Corbin stopped the hot Boston Red Sox with a six-hit and Rich Reese ripped a three-run homer and Eric Soderholm a two-run shot in Minnesota's romp.
It was only the fourth complete game pitched against Boston since May 29, a period covering 40 contests. The Red Sox had won 10 of 12 games before rapping into Corbin.

Hal King's two-run double capped a four-run first inning and Rich Hand pitched a six-hit, leading Texas over Cleveland.
Detroit scored five runs in the first inning to give Mackey Lolch a big cushion and the star Tiger southpaw held on to beat Kansas City for his 15th victory, tops in the majors.

ABA Aiming For Expansion

DENVER (AP) — Expansion, with quality, was the keynote at a special American Basketball Association trustees meeting here Thursday.
The ABA is aiming for an expanded 14-team league by the 1974-75 season, but Commissioner Jack Dolph emphasized that there will be no 'B' team markets or owners taken into the league.
"They're going to have to make the varsity," Dolph said, echoing comments he made last month when the league dropped the Florida and Pittsburgh franchises.

ROSENBLUM GETS RAMS Colts Have New Ownership

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Colts, a team with pressing problems despite having the best record in the National Football League during the past 14 years, has new ownership.
Carroll Rosenbloom, hand-picked to revive the Colts in 1953 after a previous franchise collapse, is gone and has been replaced by Robert J. Irsay.
Completing an unusual swap of franchises Thursday, Rosenbloom became 100 per cent owner of the Los Angeles Rams and Irsay the majority owner of the Colts.

n bloom and the fans have been at odds for several years.
The man selected by the late commissioner Bert Bell to head the Colts' revival, was upset about the failure of the fans to support preseason games and chided the city government for not improving Memorial Stadium.
When Rosenbloom hinted he would like to move the team, and then scheduled training camp and three preseason games in Tampa, Fla., city and state officials moved to study the feasibility of a new stadium.
Irsay was confronted with all the problems at his news conference, and he met them head-on.
He said flatly that the team would stay in Baltimore, that he acquired the Colts without any prior agreement on a new playing site, and that he would like to try gain with preseason games at home.
Joe Thomas, a defensive line coach with the Colts in 1954, is the club's new general manager. Thomas was credited with building two expansion teams into contenders as personnel director at Minnesota and Miami.

the man who swapped the Baltimore Colts for the Rams in a razzle-dazzle deal won't be satisfied with less than a champion.
Rosenbloom didn't say he was unhappy in Baltimore, although the pre-season attendance there had bothered him, but he did say the challenge was greater in Los Angeles.
The $19 million deal was more than a little complicated. Robert Irsay of Skokie, Ill., and Willard Keland of Racine, Wis., bought the team. Then they traded them to Rosenbloom for the Colts since the Midwesterners wanted an Eastern team.
The multimillionaire Rosenbloom had business interests in Southern California such as Warner Brothers movie studio and after all, the Colts already had won a Super Bowl title.
Rosenbloom said Tommy Prothro would remain as the Rams' coach, saying, "One of the reasons I wanted the Rams is because he's tied up for five years."
Prothro, former Oregon State and UCLA coach, was head man of the Rams last year, the first of his five-year pact. He led the club to an 8-5-1 record.
The Los Angeles franchise has been for sale since the death last year of Dan Reeves, the man who brought the club West from Cleveland in 1946.
Rosenbloom admitted the trade saved him capital gains tax and intimidated he thought the challenges were greater in Los Angeles.

'Good Chance'
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Carroll Rosenbloom had owned the Los Angeles Rams less than 24 hours when he declared, "We have as good or better chance as anyone to take it all."
Thus came the indication that

McGOVERN DELEGATE Bouton Pitching Politics

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — The radicalization of Jim Bouton from a winning right-hander to a left-leaning Democrat began, naturally enough, on the baseball field.
"It was a combination of things like New York Yankee Manager Ralph Houk arguing on my contract that radicalized me on how people do business," Bouton said Thursday as he contemplated the victory of Sen. George McGovern for the Democratic Presidential nomination.
The 33-year-old Bouton, author of the controversial book, "Ball Four," and its successor, "I'm Glad You Didn't Take It Personally," became a McGovern delegate last spring at the Bergen County, N.J., Democratic caucus.
But he says his interest in politics began when he was a fireballing right-hander with the Yankees.
Many of the New York sports writers, he said, proved to be politically aware and "I was like a sponge waiting to soak up what was going on around me."

Bouton believes he got a place on the McGovern ticket because backers of the South Dakota senator believed even one well-known name would boost their chances for victory. But he admits his first reaction to becoming a delegate was "Who am I, Jim the Jock, to come in and be a delegate?"
Bouton said he likes being in politics now that he's got his feet wet.
"There's a feeling of really having influence. You feel like you have some measure of control. In baseball, there was no influence."
"In baseball, they throw you out without a caucus."

Bouton's major league career struck a high point in 1963 when he posted a 21-7 record with the Yankees and, he proudly recalled, had an earned run average of 2.54.
In 1964, he won 18 regular season games and then pitched two World Series victories.
After that, it was downhill until he finally was shipped out of the major leagues in 1969.
He now works as a TV sportscaster in New York.
Bouton voted for most of the more liberal positions in the party platform debate. He favored the defeated minority reports calling for stronger language on abortion and gay liberation and for the successful majority busing plank.

Nixon To Confer With Connally

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — Former Treasury Secretary John B. Connally has arrived in Southern California for a conference today with President Nixon.

Connally, until recently the only Democrat in Nixon's Cabinet, just completed a 35-day, 15-nation trip around the world for the President, who has promised the mission would be followed by an important new assignment for the silver-haired Texan.

Asked if the new assignment would be announced today, press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said, "It has not been decided."

There has been speculation for more than a year that should Nixon decide to replace Vice President Spiro T. Agnew as his 1972 running mate, he might turn to Connally. The former Treasury chief has expressed disinterest in the job but has never said flatly he would not accept.

Another globe-circling traveler, Secretary of State William P. Rogers, will be at the Western White House on Saturday to report to Nixon on a 19-day journey to 10 countries.

Ziegler reported that the President and Mrs. Nixon watched final Democratic convention proceedings on television Thursday night. However, the press secretary kept mum about Nixon's reaction to the nomination of Sen. George McGovern as his November opponent.

"We won't have a specific comment on the upcoming election and proceedings until after the Republican convention," Ziegler said.

The GOP meeting begins Aug. 21 in the same Miami Beach convention center where Democrats have just met.

Nixon did order Henry A. Kissinger, his national security affairs adviser, to arrange a meeting soon with McGovern to set up a series of intelligence briefings for the Democratic nominee.

Ziegler said McGovern would be kept "fully abreast" of Vietnam peace talks and, in response to a question, hinted the briefings also would deal with any secret negotiations that may be arranged in the weeks ahead.

The President and Kissinger received a steady flow of written reports on resumed peace talks in Paris Thursday.

Legion Chief Gigs Nominee

HOUSTON (AP) — The state American Legion commander says the defense spending and Vietnam policy of Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern is unfavorable to most state legion members.

Gil Moody of Lubbock added however, neither he nor the Legion was taking a stand necessarily for or against McGovern or the Democratic Party's platform.

"The legion has certain beliefs and I believe members would generally tend to react unfavorably toward any candidate or party going off in another direction," Moody said.

Moody said American could not afford to become a second rate power.

"This country cannot allow the curtailment of budgets for our armed forces or their budgets a time when our men are still engaged in combat," he said.

Moody said there is a move by some candidates to grant amnesty to draft dodgers.

"It would be a slap in the face of every American who ever served his or her country in uniform to even consider a question such as this at a time when our prisoners of war are still being held in concentration camps," he said.

The state convention continues through Sunday.

Pithy Pooch Gains Degree

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The University of California at Berkeley has conferred an honorary degree on Snoopy, the intellectual beagle of Charles Schultz' comic strip, "Peanuts."

The honor came from Sanford Elberg, dean of the university's graduate division, after the pithy pooch complained in a strip that another June had gone by leaving him again bereft of a degree.

Snoopy was pronounced "Assistant Dean in Charge of Academic and Related Programs," and a certificate of appointment was sent to his creator, cartoonist Charles Schulz.

SuperPhonics Share Love For Music And Singing

By LINDA CROSS

"It's for anyone who likes to sing and likes to sing in a group."

That's one members description of "The SuperPhonics," a singing group composed of officers' wives from Webb AFB.

"Most of us had arrived at Webb three or four months before our husbands were scheduled to begin flight training, and we didn't know anyone, and there wasn't much for us to do," said Karen Goldey, an alto with the group, formerly of New Jersey.

GOOD FEELING

"Activities for us through the Officers' Club and the Officers' Wives Club didn't really begin until our husbands began training, and a couple of us wives got together and decided it would be a good idea to start a choral to get these 'casual' wives together. We thought it would be good to get together before the OWC activities got started," added Mrs. Goldey.

Approximately two-and-one-half months ago, "The SuperPhonics" was formed, and membership in the group is now between 15 and 20 women.

The group rehearses each Wednesday morning in the Webb Chapel Annex. Performances for the group have included singing for the youngsters attending the summer camp recently held at Mesquite Lake on base, for a Lions Club luncheon meeting and for the patients at the Veterans Administration Hospital.

PERFORMANCES SET

Next week, the group is scheduled to sing for the First Baptist Church's membership picnic and for a Rotary Club luncheon meeting.

"We get to meet people from Big Spring that we wouldn't ordinarily meet," said Cheryl Moncure, alto with the group, of the advantages of participating in the group as it entertains civic, social and church groups in Big Spring and on base.

Mrs. Moncure is from Lincoln, Neb., and like Mrs. Goldey, has been with "The SuperPhonics" since its organization.

"I got to know a lot of girls outside of our own class," added Mrs. Moncure as her reasons for joining. Mrs. Moncure, the mother of a two-year-old daughter, said that she had sung in choruses before and had had piano training. She provides piano accompaniment for the group as well as singing.

"I took voice training in college, and I've always enjoyed singing. I heard about this group, and I went to the first meeting," said June Haid, Newport Beach, Calif., soprano.

ENJOYS ENTERTAINING

"What I like best about being with the group is the enjoyment of entertaining people. I really get a big thrill entertaining people. I'm really happy that the group happened," said Mrs. Haid.

"I like to sing, and I've always liked singing better than anything else as a pastime," said Bonnie Carminati, Kosciusko, Miss., soprano. "It's great being with people you wouldn't otherwise meet. It's great that we could get together with people we've never been with before and harmonize and produce something that sounds good."

"We come from all over the country," said Mrs. Goldey, of the assorted membership.

VARIETY OF INTERESTS

In addition to the wide divergences of home states, the women have a variety of interests in addition to their singing.

Mrs. Goldey majored in psychology at the University of Toledo, Ohio; Mrs. Carminati majored in English at Mississippi State University; Mrs. Haid majored in anthropology at Orange Coast College, Costa Mesa, Calif.; and Mrs. Moncure majored in German and music at the University of Nebraska.

Music performed by the group covers a wide range, gospel, Broadway show tunes, folk, rock and traditional ballads. The aim of the group is to offer music that can be enjoyed by anyone.

NO CHARGE

The group performs for clubs, civic organizations and church groups at no charge, although contributions which enable the group to purchase sheet music are accepted.

All music is rehearsed so that it can be performed with piano and guitar accompaniment or a cappella when no instruments are available where "The SuperPhonics" perform.

Groups interested in having "The SuperPhonics" perform for them are asked to contact the Webb Information Office by telephoning 267-2511, extension 2317 to engage the group.

"It's a lot of fun just to get together and sing," said Mrs. Goldey, and it's a chance for Big Spring and Webb residents to meet and enjoy one another.

QUIET STREETS No One Wanted Another Chicago

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — No one wanted another Chicago. It's almost as simple as that. So everyone gave a little—the protesters, the police, the city, the party and its candidate — and the streets were quiet during the Democratic National Convention.

Convinced that violence would damage their individual causes, these diverse forces worked together this week to produce peaceful protests far different from the turbulence that swept the streets of Chicago when the Democrats convened there four years ago.

BOX SCORE

The box score tells the story: Chicago: 680 arrested, 1,381 injured.

Miami Beach: 1 arrested, 4 injured.

The memories of Chicago in 1968, of riot sticks and blood and tear gas, were replaced this week by a motorcycle cop leading a protest march to Convention Hall with an antiwar button pinned to his chest. By the "Jesus Freaks" and ice cream vendors wandering through the crowd just after a small section of the fence around the hall was torn down, the destructive highpoint of the week. By the jam in front of Convention Hall when the Yippies and Zippies came from one direction, the Cuban anticommunists from another and the Gay activists from yet another. Demonstration marshals linked arms to keep everyone apart.

NO VIOLENCE

There was no violence, hardly a hint of destruction. Disruptions, but not disturbances. Tense moments, but not confrontations. And in the one moment when things might have taken a different turn, George McGovern took a chance.

Against the advice of the Secret Service, McGovern faced and pacified 300 chanting, shouting demonstrators in a hotel lobby just hours before he received the Democratic presidential nomination.

"I think the symbolism is more important than anything that happened," he said afterward. "We didn't want a repetition of Chicago in 1968."

When it was all over and done, police were congratulating protesters, protesters were thanking police, and Mayor Chuck Hall and Police Chief Rocky Pomerance had emerged almost as heroes of the counterculture generation.

City officials had prepared themselves for an influx of tens of thousands of so-called non-delegates, but at most only 3,000 gathered at any one time.

Several months ago, Hall began meeting with leaders of the groups that planned demonstrations during the convention. He also led the fight that opened a city park for camping during the convention.

POLICE BEAUTIFUL

Pomerance organized the 800-man security force that surrounded Convention Hall, but at the same time instructed his men not to hassle people in the park about smoking marijuana or skinny dipping in the pool.

"The police were just beautiful," said Fred Wanerstrand, a member of the Peoples Coalition for Peace and Justice. "There would have been a blood bath, our blood, if they wanted to do anything."

For the demonstrators, the Democratic convention was just a warm up, a dress rehearsal for the Republican National Convention six weeks from now in Miami Beach. They had a good thing going with the police and the city, and trouble would only spoil it.

'Fat Albert' Joins Air War

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Navy announced today the introduction of a new, one-ton video bomb called "Fat Albert" into the air war against North Vietnam and termed it highly effective.

The weapon is an improved version of the "Walleys" television bomb and has been in use for the past month, the Navy said.

Capt. Marland W. Townsend, commanding officer of the carrier Kitty Hawk, said the first six Fat Alberts released scored direct hits against their targets and reduced the risk that American pilots would be hit by ground fire.

Townsend said four bridges were downed and two military supply buildings were destroyed by the bombs.

"You can't beat 100 per cent," he said.

The Fat Albert named by fliers aboard the Kitty Hawk, is twice as powerful as the Walleys and has a television camera in the nose to direct the bomb to the target.

The U.S. Command announced, meanwhile, that U.S. pilots carried out 270 tactical air strikes against targets inside North Vietnam Thursday.

Radio Hanoi claimed that 14 U.S. warplanes bombed a section of dikes in North Vietnam's Hai Hung Province on Tuesday and that a large number of Western newsmen saw it.

"The broadcast said the newsmen had been taken to the area near Hiep Ca and Nan Hung villages to see damage allegedly done to dikes there by U.S. bombs two days earlier.

In the ground war, more heavy fighting was reported today on South Vietnam's northern front, where 20,000 Saigon troops are on a drive to retake Quang Tri Province, which fell to the North Vietnamese May 1.

BROTHER-IN-LAW CASTS VOTE FOR McGOVERN — Iowa delegate Robert Burke of De Witt, left, and Sen. McGovern's brother-in-law, alternate delegate Harold Brady of Le Mars, get together in Miami Beach Thursday morning after the lengthy nominating session of the Democratic National Convention the previous night. Burk yielded his seat on the convention floor to Brady to enable him to cast a vote for his brother-in-law. Brady is married to McGovern's sister, Mildred, and is an official of Westmar College in LeMars.

Campaign Generating New Ferment In Hanoi

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Call it educated guessing, hunch or plain gut feeling, but some veteran Communist watchdogs detect new ferment in the Indochina situation generated by the yeasty possibilities of the U.S. presidential campaign.

American politics presents mystifying problems to Hanoi. If U.S. campaign politics can create confusion among Americans themselves, how incredibly mixed up it must all seem to a clutch of Communist leaders who cannot hope to begin understanding the rudiments of American democracy.

IMAGINE. Imagine yourself a member of the Hanoi Politburo. You know the Democratic candidate for the U.S. presidency has pledged that all U.S. forces and prisoners will be out of Indochina 90 days after his inauguration. Should you sit tight until November to see if he wins?

Trying to figure out the Americans, you look to the record. Perhaps you see little difference on Indochina between Democratic and Republican presidents.

On the other hand, suppose the incumbent is re-elected. Would he be much more difficult to deal with after Novem-

You get advice from the Soviet Union and China, but your giant allies make you jumpy.

Peking received President Nixon. Then Moscow received him, even while he was increasing the bombing of your country and mining its ports.

Both the Chinese and Russians assure you their hearts are with you, but you can't help wonder: What's going on? Clearly your allies have big power interests. Clearly those interests clash in Southeast Asia. Neither wants a situation to develop that will overly enhance the other's influence. Each has an interest in an opening to the United States. Is the Southeast Asia war becoming an embarrassment to both?

The experience of history has been that every war must end when there no longer is any purpose in continuing the fighting, when costs outrun the value of objectives. Is that time near?

Reaction To McGovern Is Negative, Says Grover

"The nomination of Senator McGovern is going to make this a Republican state," said State Senator Henry C. Grover, Republican candidate for governor.

Grover said Texas would elect a Republican governor and reelect Senator John Tower. He spoke to area Republicans and newsmen in Big Spring Thursday afternoon.

"The nomination of Senator McGovern is the logical conclusion of the direction the Democratic Party has been going for the past 20 years," said Grover, "and that is basically why I switched parties."

HENRY GROVER

Grover is a 45-year-old fourth generation Texan who taught history and government in Houston public schools for 13 years. He was elected to the Texas House of Representatives in 1960, 1962 and 1964 as a Conservative Democrat. He joined the Republican Party in 1966 and was elected to the Texas Senate the same year.

Grover, the first Texas State Senator to represent his party in 40 years, was re-elected in 1968 with 73 per cent of the vote.

The Republican party has not been split by fighting at the party convention in Galveston, he said. "We are not yet fully united, but I am working on it, and the party leadership supports me," he said.

Conservative Democrats won't sit out the election, he said, but would vote for the man "Texas voters vote independently, they vote for the man, and that's what I want to see them do."

Grover, a delegate to the national Republican Convention, said he didn't expect much political fighting. "There is not anything to fight over. It is obvious that President Nixon is going to be re-nominated and I think Spiro Agnew will be re-nominated."

"The vice-president is very popular, and has done an excellent job for the President, and I think he will be the vice president again," said Grover.

Asked if the Republican Party would accept John Connally, Grover said, "There is no question about it. He is a very capable man."

Frasier The Great Lover Dies In Sleep

LAGUNA HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Frasier the lion made love not roar.

Cast off when a Mexican circus went bankrupt, the scruffy, scrawny cat was rescued by Lion Country Safari, a wildlife preserve, and nursed back to health.

He was clearly past his prime. Bleary-eyed and nearly toothless, he suffered from rheumatism and arthritis and had trouble walking. His 20 lion years were the equivalent of more than 80 human years.

But he became a national sex symbol by his success as a lover. He sired 35 cubs in 18 months.

Frasier was introduced to a "pride"—a pack—of 12 young females after the fussy lionesses spurned at least five young, virile candidates. One would-be lover was badly mauled.

Putting Frasier in with the pride was supposed to be a joke. But the next morning the lionesses were found purring placidly in the sun near an exhausted but happy Frasier. He lay on his back, paws in the air.

He was adored by the lionesses. When he was hungry the females would fetch his food and place it at his feet and even chew it for him. When he look walks, a lioness took her place on each side of his elderly and infirm body to hold him up.

As his exploits gained national renown, Frasier watches, tee-shirts and caps were marketed and attendance at Lion Country jumped by 20 per cent. He was named "father of the year" in a congressional resolution. Election officials said they found dozens of "Frasier for President" write-in votes in the June 6 California primary.

Frasier's mates were in mourning today. The old lion died in his sleep of apparent kidney failure Thursday. He will be buried Saturday at the preserve.
