

Burned Bodies Of Girl, Alleged Abductor Found

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — Decomposed and burned bodies of a small girl and a man found beside a lake have been identified as those of a child missing for more than a week and her alleged abductor.

Police said they had been searching for Tina Renee Clark, 6, and Bobby Gene Butler, 26, since July 15.

The bodies were discovered in a burned area near Lake Arrowhead south of the city by a Wichita Falls man Monday afternoon.

Police said Butler appeared to have been shot in the head. A car and .38 caliber weapon registered to Butler were found near the bodies, about 50 yards from the water.

An arrest had been issued for Butler after the two disappeared. The girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Warren Clark, said they had known Butler about three years.

Butler's uncle, Raymond Butler of Arlington, said his nephew, the girl and the dead man's grandmother arrived at his house Saturday and Butler and the girl then left, supposedly to visit Six Flags over Texas, an Arlington amusement park.

Police said the girl's grandmother reported seeing the pair at Six Flags.

About an acre of the campground where the bodies were found had been burned. Police could not say whether any fuel had been used to start the fire.

Leon Wines, the owner of the property, reportedly told police he had seen what appeared to be a fire in that area July 15 but did not investigate because of a bad ankle.

Military-Foreign-Aid Bill Nixed In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — After voting for the first time to force U.S. withdrawal from Indochina, the Senate has killed the military-foreign-aid bill to which the pullout provision was attached.

In the last of 10 votes that stretched into late Monday night, the $1.785-billion aid authorization was defeated 48 to 42.

NOT DEAD

By a 50-45 margin, senators voted to cut off funds for U.S. combat operations in Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia in four months, provided American war prisoners were released.

The aid bill was the first step in continuing for this fiscal year the U.S. military-aid program for friendly nations. But the Senate vote does not necessarily mean the program is dead.

The House has yet to act on a military-aid authorization; it could send the Senate another version to consider. Or the Senate Foreign Relations Committee could report another aid bill for Senate consideration.

Late last year the Senate defeated the economic-foreign-aid measure for fiscal 1972, only to see it revived in an eleventh-hour compromise with the House.

TO RENEW FIGHT

Backers of the end-of-war amendment have vowed to renew the fight. Their next effort will be to attach the amendment to the Defense Department procurement bill now being debated.

In past months the Senate has gone on record several times against continuation of the war, but never has either house voted to cut off money for the fighting.

The aid bill was defeated by an unusual coalition of conservatives and liberals. Twenty-eight Democrats and 14 Republicans voted for the measure; 19 Democrats and 29 Republicans opposed it.

Left with nothing for the moment, Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., saw the voting as a gesture.

NIXON VET?

"The impact was that the Senate voted for it," Fulbright told newsmen. "Do you think anybody thought it (the cutoff) would get by the House, or the White House? For whatever it is worth, the Senate has expressed its view."

Fulbright, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and several others voted for the cutoff, but against the bill. One of these, Sen. Marlow Cook, R-Ky., said, "I've traditionally been an opponent of foreign aid. I don't believe in spending that kind of money."

Republican Leader Hugh Scott had predicted a presidential veto for the bill if it contained the pullout amendment.

COMBAT MONEY

After a series of votes on the end-of-war amendments the result was to cut off money for all U.S. combat operations in Vietnam, Laos, and Cambodia—but not Thailand—within four months, if Hanoi returned its American prisoners.

Originally, the bill contained a section by Mansfield which would have withdrawn all troops from Vietnam by Aug. 31, and all forces from Indochina once a cease-fire and a prisoner exchange were agreed to by Hanoi.

The Senate replaced the Mansfield provision with one proposed by Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky.; in turn, Cooper's was amended by Sen. Edward Brooke, R-Mass.

Cooper's amendment would simply have cut off all combat money in the three countries within four months.

Brooke's amendment, containing the prisoner proviso was approved 62 to 33. With this in the package Cooper's amendment carried 50 to 45.

Nine Miners Now Sealed; Lethal Gas

BLACKSVILLE, W. Va. (AP) — A microphone picked up no sound and air samples showed lethal methane gas today in the fire-ravaged, explosion-torn Blacksville No. 1 mine where nine men are now sealed.

A spokesman for Consolidation Coal Co. said a microphone was lowered through a 650-foot bore hole punched into the mine Monday.

"There was no response," he said.

"The atmosphere was found to be lethal," he said of the poisonous methane gas in the mine on the West Virginia-Pennsylvania border where the nine men were trapped by a fire Saturday night.

The spokesman said the sealing of the mine with massive slabs of steel-reinforced concrete was completed about dawn.

Rescue operations came to an abrupt halt Monday when three small explosions sent about 50 workers rushing for the one entrance shaft.

The sealing of the mine was ordered to reduce the likelihood of further explosions. "It is important to get the thing under control, and the only way to get it under control is to seal it," one mine official said.

He said the sealing step was taken after officials were convinced the explosions had ended all opportunity to rescue the nine men.

Consolidation spokesmen said three slabs of steel and concrete were used to seal the main shaft, an air shaft and a production shaft of the mine.

SYPHILIS AND ITS SIDE EFFECTS

Black Men, Denied Proper Treatment, Allowed To Die

WASHINGTON (AP) — For 40 years the U.S. Public Health Service has conducted a study in which human guinea pigs, denied proper medical treatment, have died of syphilis and its side effects.

The study was conducted to determine from autopsies what the disease does to the human body.

PHS officials responsible for initiating the experiment have long since retired. Current PHS officials, who say they have serious doubts about the morality of the study, also say it's too late to treat syphilis in any of the study's surviving participants.

DRUG DENIED

As incentives to enter the program, the men were promised free transportation to and from hospitals, free hot lunches, free medicine for any disease other than syphilis and free burial after autopsies were performed.

The Tuskegee Study began 10 years before penicillin was discovered to be a cure for syphilis and 15 years before the drug became widely available. Yet even after penicillin became common, and while its use probably could have helped or saved a number of the experiment subjects, the drug was denied them, according to Dr. J.D. Millar.

He is chief of the general disease branch of the PHS' Center for Disease Control in Atlanta and is now in charge of what remains of the Tuskegee Study. Dr. Millar said in an interview he has serious doubts about the program.

MORAL PROBLEM

"I think a definite moral problem existed when the study was undertaken, a more serious moral problem was overlooked in the post-war years when penicillin became available but was not given to these men, and a moral problem still exists," Dr. Millar said.

"But the study began when attitudes were much different on treatment and experimentation. At this point in time, with our current knowledge of treatment and the disease and the revolutionary change in approach to human experimentation, I don't believe the program would be undertaken," he said.

Syphilis, a highly contagious infection spread by sexual contact, can cause, if untreated, bone and dental deformations, deafness blindness, heart disease and central nervous system deterioration.

GROUP SAYS State Needs $200 Million More Taxes

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — At least $200 million in new taxes will be needed if the next Legislature writes a two-year state budget, the House Tax Committee was told Monday.

Most of that would go to education, and would include an automatic pay raise for teachers in the second year of the budget, said Jim McGrew, director of the business and industry funded Texas Research League.

McGrew, speaking at an all day seminar held by the committee, said that Texas has used the same taxes since the Depression, with the only addition being the general sales tax enacted in 1961. Tax revenue has increased from $207 million in 1932 to $3.1 billion in 1969.

McGrew said the sales tax is the only tax on the books which can raise large sums of money. Other potential major revenue producers are corporate and personal income taxes, he said, claiming that a "personal income tax is much more productive than the corporate income tax."

LBJ, One Of His Daughters In Hospital

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Former President Lyndon B. Johnson and one of his daughters were under hospital care in separate cities today—Johnson for chest pains and the daughter for tests.

The former chief executive, who suffered a major heart attack in April, was flown to the Army's Brooke General Hospital in San Antonio Monday night.

Later that night the hospital reported Johnson was "comfortable, in excellent spirits, and his general condition is quite satisfactory."

His daughter, Luci Johnson Nugent, entered St. David's Hospital in Austin Monday evening for tests of an undisclosed nature.

ACCUSE WOMAN OF SHOOTING TWO

EASTLAND (AP) — A 20-year-old woman has been charged with assault with intent to murder in connection with the shooting of two men at the Eastland County Courthouse during a trial recess.

Mrs. Trudy Kay Nail, of Ranger, is charged in the shooting of her stepfather, Donald Ray Sledge, 39, of Irving, who was on trial. He is charged with assault with intent to murder in the May 1971 shooting of Mrs. Nail's husband, Gilbert Nail, 24, of Ranger. Nail is paralyzed from the shooting.

Hunter was hit in the upper right chest near the neck. Sledge was apparently hit by fragments from a bottle he was putting in a softdrink case. He was treated and released.

The shooting occurred in the first floor lobby during a recess.

Hunter was shot as he stood in front of Sledge, who had run into the sheriff's office when fired upon, witnesses said.

PRIVATE PLANE

Johnson, accompanied by his wife, was flown to his presidential suite at Brooke in a private plane based at his LBJ Ranch, about 60 miles north of San Antonio, the hospital said.

A spokesman said the former president had been scheduled for a routine check today as a followup to his April heart attack, his first since a massive attack in 1955.

On Monday evening, however, the spokesman said, "He developed some chest pains and nausea" and was admitted to Brooke at 9:15 p.m. CDT for observation.

RELAXED

"It may be several days before any definite conclusions may be drawn about the nature of his present illness," the hospital said.

RUMOR HAS IT THAT — Twenty-one-year-old Princess Ubolratana, oldest daughter of Thai King Bhumibol has re-inquired her title amid rumors that she has secretly married a fellow student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. It was learned today. It is customary for members of the Thai royal family to resign their rank if they marry commoners. Her 20-year-old brother, Prince Vajiralongkorn, is heir to the throne.

Son Of Heiress Crash Victim

ASPEN, Colo. (AP) — Lance Reventlow, 37-year-old race driver and son of Woolworth heiress Barbara Hutton, was killed in a plane crash Monday evening, the sheriff's office reported today.

Three others, all Aspen residents, were killed when the single-engine Cessna went down in a box canyon during a thunderstorm about 10 miles east of this mountain resort town, the sheriff's office said.

It was not immediately known what Reventlow, once married to actress Jill St. John, was doing in Aspen.

A spokesman for the Federal Aviation Administration said the wreckage was found shortly before dark after an Aspen-bound pilot heard a locator beacon, a device which emits radio signals from downed aircraft. The bodies were recovered.

INSISTS DEATH PENALTY NEEDED

FORT WORTH (AP) — A young gunman said he was prepared to commit mass murder at a federal prison Monday to gain support for the death penalty, a prison official reported.

"He said he wanted to shoot three or four people, and this would have enough impact across the country that the Supreme Court would put capital punishment back on the books," the official said.

Lonnie Wayne Craig, 18, of Forest Hill goes before a U.S. magistrate Thursday to explain why he conducted the gunpoint death penalty discussion Monday with prison personnel.

$35,000 BAIL

The unusual two-hour drama ended with Craig relinquishing his .25 caliber pistol and surrendering to FBI agents. He was jailed in lieu of $35,000 bond.

Associate Warden Allic Mobley, one of the captives, said Craig told him of his intentions and added, "He indicated that he has this problem with the

YOUTH HOLDS FIVE FEDERAL PRISON OFFICIALS HOSTAGE

Supreme Court ruling the way they did."

He said the youth told him he supported the death penalty and that he came to the prison to enforce its reinstatement.

An assistant U.S. attorney said Craig previously received psychiatric treatment but he did not know the circumstances that led him to it.

KID WITH GUN

The federal complaint accused Craig of a firearms violation and alleged that he interfered with federal employees in the performance of their duty.

A spokesman at the federal correctional institution in suburban Forest Hill said Craig appeared in the administration building shortly after 8 a.m. and asked to see warden Charles Campbell.

He said he wanted to talk to the warden about abolition of the death penalty.

The spokesman said Campbell was busy and Craig was directed to associate warden Mobley. He said the youth pulled the pistol upon entering Mobley's office.

As others entered the office, they too were held at gunpoint. They included three secretaries and another prison official.

"One of the women telegraphed a hand sign to me not to send anymore people in the room," said R. D. Brewer, executive assistant to the warden. "She flashed the sign that the kid had a gun."

He notified the police and the FBI.

At one point, Craig telephoned his mother and told her he would kill her if she came to the prison, officials said.

However, she appeared about the same time as the FBI agents and was instrumental in convincing the youth to relinquish the pistol if he wanted to see the warden.

"Once he laid down the gun, his mother picked it up and put it in her purse," Brewer said. "Mobley walked to the door and said 'everything's okay.'" At that point the FBI came in and escorted the youth into Campbell's office and they discussed the death penalty," he said.

Rogers Warns Against Spreading Reports Of Bombing Of Dikes

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States has sharply warned U. N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim against spreading reports of U. S. bombings of dikes in North Vietnam.

Waldheim, while saying he could not verify the reports, replied that he thought "it was his duty to speak out on the devastating consequences which might result" from either intentional or unintentional bombing of the flood control system along the Red River in North Vietnam.

A storm between the United States and Waldheim blew up Monday after the secretary-general told a news conference he had "private unofficial" reports of the bombing of the dikes. He appealed to the United States to stop.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers protested in Washington and sent Ambassador George Bush to put the U.S. position personally to Waldheim.

DIKES BOMBED?

After his one-hour meeting with Waldheim, Bush told reporters he was convinced the secretary-general did not want to give credibility to what Bush called a massive North Vietnamese propaganda campaign.

Waldheim told the news conference:

"Through private unofficial channels... we were informed that the dikes are being bombed, and we were informed also that even in cases where the dikes are not directly bombed, the nearby bombing causes cracking of the dams and that in this way the result is the same as if the dikes were bombed directly."

The secretary-general said he did not know whether the bombing was intentional, and he admitted, "This is Hanoi information." But he added:

"If these allegations are correct, it would lead to disaster in the area because it would mean that the whole plain would be flooded and thousands and thousands of people would die."

A BIG FIB

Rogers said in a statement that Waldheim's information "concerning alleged deliberate bombing to damage the dikes in North Vietnam is false — as the President stated in his June 29 press conference."

He said he had asked Bush to inform the secretary-general that "these allegations are part of a carefully planned campaign by the North Vietnamese and their supporters to give worldwide circulation to this falsehood."

After his conference with Waldheim, Bush told newsmen the secretary-general meant to say that if the dikes were being bombed, "it ought to stop."

Local Tests Use New Satellite

The $176 million ERTS — Earth Resources Technology Satellite — that went into orbit Sunday is part of a comprehensive experiment in wind erosion being conducted by Donald W. Fryrear, superintendent of the Big Spring experiment station.

The experiment Fryrear is conducting here is one of only four approved for the U.S. Department of Agriculture. More than 300 proposals were presented within the department.

"We plan to study returns of the satellite to see if we can evaluate the extent of wind erosion in the South Plains from a satellite, and, if successful, see if we can learn to recognize potential erosion areas early enough to allow us to recommend proper control practices," said Fryrear.

Fryrear started preparing for the experiment three years ago. "The returns from the satellite come in as magnetic computer tape, but they will be reduced to photographs for us before we receive them," he said.

"We plan to go to an area that is to be monitored by the satellite and check out everything in the area. We will see what crops are growing, how tall they are, the types of soils, the types of wind erosion and anything else we can learn about the area."

"Then," he said, "we will compare what we know with the photographs and try to find useful patterns in the photographs."

The ERTS satellite is equipped with three television cameras and a special radiation-sensing device and will photograph the entire globe, as it rotates, every 18 days.

The photographs will be used in experiments attempting to monitor natural resources such as crops, forests, schools of fish, water supplies and grasslands.

The satellite is expected to be helpful in mapping, spotting earthquake fault systems and locating mineral and oil deposits.

Many of the historic buildings of Nauvoo are in the display through Wednesday.

Did their mothers have any misgivings about the junkie? "They say everybody has to do his own thing," Mrs. Kellher says. "I sure hope this is it."

Court Upholds Validity Of County Hospital Authority

Creation of the Howard County Hospital Authority was ruled valid Monday by 118th District Judge R. W. Caton.

Judge Caton presided over the hearing at 5:30 p.m. in which the plaintiff hospital authority sought to have its creation ruled valid.

The hospital authority was first contested by a group of citizens who contended that the authority was invalid because it had been created without proper notice to the public and without full public hearing.

Howard County Commissioners, who ordered the creation of the authority, in May 1970, were also defendants in the original suit.

A public hearing was held earlier this year on the hospital authority, and county commissioners approved the creation of the Howard County Hospital Authority, which affords ad valorem tax exemption to Medical Center Memorial Hospital, and new directors for the authority were sworn in.

Opinion May Put Curb On Non-Criminal Jury Action

Investigation of possible criminal offenses and delivering any resulting indictments are the principal duties of grand juries, Attorney General Crawford Martin said in an opinion delivered Monday.

Martin's opinion apparently curbs the practice followed by some Texas grand juries of making recommendations unrelated to any criminal offense.

"I'm not surprised at the decision," said 118th District Attorney Wayne Burns. "It conforms with my opinion of what the law is. Grand juries can investigate criminal matters, but should not get off into non-criminal matters."

"Occasionally, we have had grand juries in the past that got into non-criminal matters, but their action has always been in the form of a suggestion. I think local grand juries realize that they have no binding powers in such matters," said Burns.

Recommendation for higher salaries for law enforcement personnel has been one of the non-criminal matters with which local jurors have concerned themselves in the past, according to Burns.

Private Road Puzzle Grows

Deed records in the Howard County Clerk's office show that property on which a road newly paved by Howard County road and bridge department crews belongs to John W. Davidson, not Jerry Worthing, as county commissioners first believed.

Worthy said the strip of land behind the Crestwood Mobile Home Park on U. S. 87 south of Big Spring to Davidson Jan. 26, 1972.

County Judge A. G. Mitchell said today that the commission is still trying to determine if the road in question is a private road or if it belongs to the city of Big Spring.

According to Judge Mitchell, the city limits boundaries have been moved and might have taken in the area in which the road is located.

"We can't find any record of any kind that indicate that the road was ever dedicated for public use. We will have to wait until we can talk to Commissioner Bill Crocker to see if he has any information before we can take any action about the road," said Judge Mitchell.

The road is in Commissioner Crocker's Precinct 3, and extends approximately 200 feet back from the highway before dead ending.

Price To Get Aid In Service Role

R. L. Price, who has been named state service officer by Edwin F. Westbrook, department commander of Texas for the Veterans of World War I, will have the help of several area deputies.

Westbrook informed Price, who lives at Lamesa but who is a member of the WWI Barracks in Big Spring, that the first deputy service officer named was Rufus Arp, Odessa, a post department commander.

Price said that he and deputies over the state will be anxious to help WWI veterans, their wives or widows with any problems they may have relative to services they are entitled to. He can be reached at his home in Lamesa or through the barracks here.

Light Voting At Stanton

Stanton voters seem to be reacting slowly today to the Stanton Independent School District's $700,000 bond election for construction of a new junior high school and elementary school building. At noon hardly more than 60 voters had gone to the polls, according to Supt. Russell McMeans.

McMeans reported that voting was slower than he had expected. He hoped to see at least 500 turn out for the election and anticipated more polling activity this afternoon.

The bond proposal includes a building program with a new junior high school and elementary building on the present high school campus. It also includes the addition of two classrooms to the high school, the addition of four dressing rooms to the junior high school gym, and a shop building-vehicle maintenance building.

"The new school board cut out $500,000 of the old bond issue," he continued, "and I have heard of no organized opposition." Two other issues were defeated.

Council Nixes Feedlot Ban

COLORADO CITY — The Colorado City Council failed to pass a proposed feedlot ordinance Monday when a motion for it died for lack of a second.

The special meeting, called to consider the ordinance which would have prevented the operation of commercial feedlots within 5,000 feet of the city limits, came as a response to complaints of residents at the north edge of Colorado City. A feedlot has been proposed for that area.

The ordinance would have controlled the area outside the city limits. A city ordinance already bans feedlots within the city limits.

Following the meeting, councilman Frank Brownfield said he didn't think the ordinance was needed. He said he felt the Texas Water Quality and Pollution Boards would prevent the operation of feedlots in the vicinity of Colorado City.

Dr. Joe Mize At Sooner Post

Joe H. Mize, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Mize, has been appointed professor and head of the school of industrial engineering and management at Oklahoma State University. He now is at work on his new assignment in Stillwater.

A native of Colorado City and graduate of Big Spring High School, Dr. Mize received his BS in industrial engineering at Texas Tech and his masters and PHA in industrial engineering from Purdue University. He was an industrial engineer at the White Sands Missile Range in New Mexico from 1958-61, was director of the computer center and associate professor of engineering at Auburn University, and professor of engineering at Arizona State.

He had served extensively as a consultant for the Army and Air Force and for Western Electric Honeywell and other major industries. Dr. Mize also has authored four tests and student manuals as well as numerous technical papers.

In 1969 he was awarded the Agurn Alumni Professorship and has been cited for outstanding service by the U. S. Civil Service Commission.

Opportunities Still Abound, Lions Told

COLORADO CITY — Marking the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Noon Lions Club here Monday evening, E. B. (Tex) Mayer, LaGrange, reminded the club that "you still have a gold mine of opportunity."

Mayer, a past director of Lions International addressed the ladies night crowd of some 200 persons at the Civic House.

L. B. Elliott, the only surviving charter member of the club, received the rarely conferred Charter Monarch award at the hands of Eb Grindstaff, Ballinger, and now international director from Texas. He cited Mr. Elliott as a "man of spirit," and Elliott responded that "this has been a great club, and it's still a great club."

Mayer, in his brief address, cited the spirit of Lionism as he found it in his global tour during the past few years. In Fort Youkon, Alaska where all 12 adults eligible for membership are members of the Lions Club, a registered nurse serves as the only person with any medical skills — thanks to the Lions. In Bangkok, Thailand, the spirit of Lionism has induced great growth; in Kirkland Lake, Ontario members fought back against 85 per cent unemployment when a mine closed, secured a new industry and had the town humming again. And so it went — Lions everywhere upholding the motto, "We Serve."

To this, said Mayer, a new dimension has been added — that of promoting world understanding on a people-to-people basis. The Lions student exchange is a case in point, he said. There were at the meeting, two Japanese lads and a Belgian girl who were now guests in homes within the district.

On the roll call by Joe Pond, Big Spring, past district governor who was elected to that post from the Colorado City club, there were six men who had 40 or more years tenure. They were Joe Earnest, E. D. Bridgford, J. S. Braddock, Philip Berman, J. Ralph Lee and L. B. Elliott.

Three other past district governors, A. E. Prugel,

Judge Believes Appeal For Aid Is COG Snare

"It's just another way to get into the COG (regional planning commission), and I don't want to have anything to do with it," said County Judge A. G. Mitchell.

A request for the Criminal Justice Advisory Council of the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission drew the comment from Judge Mitchell Monday.

In a letter to the Howard County Commission, the advisory council urged all county and incorporated city governments to pledge their law enforcement agencies to the support of other cities and counties in the Permian Basin area in case of need.

"We're not going to commit our law officers paid for by our taxpayers in Howard County to serve residents in other counties. We will help other counties out if they need help in a natural disaster, like a tornado, but that's all," added Judge Mitchell.

Judge Mitchell said later that no formal reply will be made to the planning commission's letter.

Immunization Cards A Must

Prospective Howard County Junior College students were reminded today that they can pre-register. In fact, Registrar L. L. (Red) Lewis urged them to do so.

He also reminded them of a requirement now being rigidly enforced by the state — the certificate of immunization.

Before any student can be enrolled in college (as well as public school), he or she must present a certificate of immunization signed by a physician. This certificate requires date of first, second and third immunization shot for tetanus and diphtheria (the last cannot have been more than 10 years ago). In the case of any student under 19 years of age, the record must include oral polio doses.

Lewis emphasized that this requirement can prove a hangup on registration for many students if they do not attend to this now.

Commission Delays Meet

City commissioners meet Wednesday in special session to discuss business which would normally be handled in a regular session today.

The Tuesday meeting has been cancelled because City Manager Harry Nagel is at a meeting of the Water Quality Board today in Austin, informing the board of progress and future plans toward improving efficiency of the sewage treatment plant. He will report on this Wednesday.

Included on the short agenda for the 5:15 p.m. meeting is the appointment of the city's new finance director, J. Robert Massengale.

Commissioners will consider an application for certificate of occupancy of Rudolph Quinn Denton at Bar D Corral.

Travel cruises have provided an opportunity for bridge buffs to combine their favorite past time with tours all over the world for some years now. A rapid acceleration in interest has led Travel With Goren of New York City to expand its schedule in coming months which will include jaunts to Canada (August), the Orient (November), the South Seas (November), West Indies, Panama Canal and South America (January) and Around the World (January).

The guiding hand behind these activities is my long time associate and teammate, Harold Ogust, president of the corporation. Today's hand provides a demonstration of Mr. Ogust's flawless declarer technique which assured him of nine tricks in his three no trump contract.

Holding 12 high card points and a nearly solid five card suit, North had the values to proceed directly to three no trump over his partner's rebid, but with a singleton, he chose to make a game forcing jump to three diamonds. If South gave a delayed preference for hearts, it was North's intention to carry on to game in that suit. When the former merely returned to three no trump, North abided by partner's decision.

West opened the jack of spades and dummy's king won the first trick. Mr. Ogust studied the combined holdings carefully and then made the key play of the deal. At trick two, he led the three of hearts from the North hand. East put up the nine to win a very cheap trick and returned a spade which South won with the ace.

A second heart was led and this time the jack was played from dummy. East was in again with the ace and the spade back was taken by the queen. The North hand was entered with the king of diamonds and the king and queen of hearts picked up the outstanding cards in that suit to establish dummy's five for the fulfilling trick. In all declarer took three spades, three hearts, two diamonds, and one club.

If Ogust had led the king of hearts at trick two, East can prevent successful establishment of the suit by ducking and then winning the continuation with the ace. Declarer's only remaining entry to dummy is the king of diamonds and when the hearts do not divide evenly, there is no way to get back to the North hand once the suit is cleared. The five of hearts becomes inaccessible and South falls one trick short.

Altho declarer's apparent extravagance would have cost a trick if hearts divided evenly, the odds do not favor such a contingency and in any case 30 points was a cheap investment to assure success against adverse distribution.

LAMESA (SC) — The Dawson County 4-H Dress Revue was held Friday in the Women's Club Building with Connie Bartlett winner in the Senior Division and Gayle Griffin taking top spot in the Junior Division. Senior alternate was Lisa Montgomery, and junior alternate was Jane Drennan.

The two first place winners will represent the county at the district review at Lubbock.

The show theme was "Through a Looking Glass," and narration was by Linda Moody and Miss Bartlett. The judges were Mrs. Linda Huffaker, Lynn County HD agent, and Carla Wilke, a junior leader from that county.

Mrs. Mildred Crump, local HD agent, presented the awards. Mrs. Juttie Dennis, president of Mesa Cotton Promotion Council, presented awards for workmanship on all cotton ensembles. Cindy Bartlett was senior winner in this area with Leah Dennis second.

The junior winners were Karen Gartman, first; and Lori Williams, second.

Other 4-Hers participating were Mona Jamison, Katrina Reid and June Snell, seniors; and Phyllis Baty, Dandra Cobb, Cari Griffin, Julie Campbell, Dee Ann Wood, Monica Maya, Lynda Roney, Diane Roberts, Becky Schooler, Daleyn Schwartz, Kaye Taylor and Robin Whiting.

Lee Porters Host Beauceant Picnic

The Social Order of the Beauceant held its annual family picnic Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Porter, 1919 Parkwood. Quartet tables were arranged around a fountain on the patio. Approximately 40 attended. The next business meeting will be held Sept. 11 at the Masonic Temple.

Group Meets For Ice Cream Social

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Badger of Coahoma hosted a home-made ice cream supper for members of Howard County Young Homemakers Club and their families, Monday evening in their backyard. The next regular meeting is scheduled at 7:30 p.m., Aug. 28 in the home of Mrs. James Watson, 1205 Douglas. A program on cosmetology, figure analysis and fashions will be presented.

Parties Honor Miss Lewis

A series of pre-nuptial courtesies is continuing in honor of Miss Martha Zann Lewis, future bride of Brent Womack. The couple will be married Thursday evening in College Baptist Church with the Rev. Kenneth Patrick officiating.

The parties began last week with a swim party and barbecue honoring Miss Lewis and Womack at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Gage, Allendale Road. Cohosts were Mr. and Mrs. Morris Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Paterson and Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Schwarzenbach. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. Odell Womack, parents of the honorees.

The dinner was served informally at poolside tables centered with white wrought iron filigree lamps.

A personal shower was held for Miss Lewis Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. Tom L. South, 1703 Kentucky Way, with cohostesses being Mrs. James L. Johnson, Mrs. Walter Slate and Mrs. Harold Hall.

The polished refreshment table featured a copper coffee service and matching serving pieces, with a copper bucket filled with bronze double daisy mums. Daisy mums corsages were presented to the honoree and both mothers.

Guests from Midland were Mrs. Ronnie D. Lewis and daughters, Tracey, Christy and Kim.

That evening, the home of Mrs. C. H. Wasson, 1702 Yale, was the scene of a miscellaneous gift shower for Miss Lewis. Cohostesses were Mrs. Eldon Appleton, Mrs. Leon Davis, Mrs. J. W. Shaw, Mrs. Neil Willoughby, Mrs. Willis Burchett, Mrs. Mark Lightfoot, Mrs. Aubrey Armistead, Mrs. D. B. Merrill, Mrs. L. M. Cunningham, Mrs. J. R. Parchman, Mrs. Robert Caffey and Mrs. Reuben Engler.

Guests were served refreshments from a table laid with a white net cloth with gathered skirt. Appointments were of milk glass. The centerpiece was tiered candles in maple holders arranged with blue and white flowers.

A Wednesday morning coffee was held in the home of Mrs. R. H. Weaver, 434 Westover, where cohostesses were Mrs. Jack Cook, Mrs. Jack Irons, Mrs. Harold Talbot and Mrs. Charles Tompkins.

Miss Lewis received guests with her mother and her

Student Council Has Workshop In San Antonio

Miss Patti Womack was chosen "Miss Workshop" at a student council workshop held July 16-21 at Trinity University in San Antonio. The "Mr. Workshop" title went to Tom Kowalsky of Laredo.

Miss Womack will head the slate of student council officers at Big Spring High School for the 1972-1973 school year. Other officers attending from here were Tom Sorley, first vice president; Paula Meek, second vice president; Leigh Jones, secretary; and Nancy Smith, corresponding secretary. The group was accompanied by Mrs. Leon Taylor, guidance clerk at the high school.

Dr. Lee Hamlin, pastor of the Baptist Church in Lancaster, was over-all consultant and speaker for the workshop. He discussed attributes of good leadership and told how student council officers can relate to the student body. About 200 students attended the workshop.

Miss Estes Honored At Luncheon

Miss Denise Estes, who will marry Karl Kutch Aug. 5 at Wesley United Methodist Church, was honored at a luncheon Sunday in the home of Mrs. Ralph Gossett, 545 Hillside. Cohostess was her daughter Miss Ellen Gossett.

About 10 guests were seated at an antique green table set with cutwork place mats. Yellow marigolds interspersed with fern surrounded a crystal lady figurine in a crystal bowl. A large bridal doll accented another table.

The honoree wore a white print dress with long sleeves ruffled at the wrist. Guests included her grandmother, Mrs. E. W. Winters of Midland.

A LOVELIER YOU Scents In All Rooms Give Air Of Serenity

By MARY SUE MILLER

Fragrance has the power to create a cool, serene atmosphere in your home on sultry days. Once a house is well-ordered, light scents act as a balm to all who enter.

Merely to spur your inventiveness, here are a few of many ways to a fragrant life style:

—Spray kitchen with a mint-scented deodorizer; try to keep a few sprigs of fresh mint in water on a counter. Bathrooms adapt to piney deodorizers and growing greens. In bedrooms, use mistifiers perfumed with a very delicate floral. Let a small ceramic flower in a bud vase carry the fragrance theme for a fanciful touch.

—Tuck garden-scented sachet packets under living room cushions. Or place a bowl of dried eucalyptus leaves on a side table. Surely in the entrance hall.

—Keep clothes closets sweet by spraying with liquid sachet. Bureau drawers respond to a drop of bath oil rubbed well in corners. For men's storage spaces, cedar spray is appropriate and a moth chaser.

—Fragrant bar soap diffuses bed linens and towels with a fresh aroma, when placed in the corners of linen closets or between terry towels.

—For sweet talk, cleanse your telephone with a cologne-dampened cloth.

—Perfume candles, the smallest size, make a lovely light on a screened terrace dining table. Glass holders come to fit the candles. Arrangements are limitless. Dream up your own!

BEAUTY OF HOUSEWORK
Attention, Homemakers! If housework saps your energies, looks and nerves, send for my booklet, "Beauty of Housework." It explains how to keep home and self sparkling with time to spare. Also included are an effort-saving work plan, shortcuts in housekeeping, and advice on how to give yourself a beauty treatment while engaged in your duties. For your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 25 cents in coin and a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Miss Carlile Is Shower Honoree

A bridal shower honoring Miss Darlia Carlile, bride-elect of Paul Day, was held Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Johnnie Stevens, 1806 Benton, where cohostesses were Mrs. Albert Carlile, Miss Wanda Sandridge, Miss Sue Fortenberry and Miss Mary Fitzgibbon.

The honoree was presented a corsage of yellow carnations, as was her mother, Mrs. Elton Carlile. Miss Carlile was attired in a rust colored knit dress fashioned on an A-line with short sleeves.

Crystal appointments were used on a table laid with a white lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow daisies and candles.

The couple plans to be married Aug. 5 at Baptist Temple.

Miss Plowman Weds Gregory L. Sherrod

Miss Susan Plowman and Gregory Lee Sherrod exchanged wedding vows at 4:30 p.m., Sunday in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Plowman, 2613 Central. Sherrod is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer D. Sherrod, Garden City Route.

Dr. Jimmy D. Law, pastor of College Baptist Church, performed the rites at an archway entwined with greenery.

The bride wore a formal-length gown fashioned in white crepe with a scooped neckline, empire bodice and short sleeves. The bodice was trimmed with Alencon lace petals. Her elbow-length illusion veil was held with a profile tiara of Alencon lace petals accented with miniature pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and lily of the valley.

Miss Cindy Halfmann served as maid of honor. She wore a floor-length yellow gown featuring a Sweetheart neckline and short tucked sleeves. A matching garden hat with yellow streamers completed the ensemble, and she carried a nosegay of yellow carnations and babies'-breath.

Mark Pearce of Garden City was best man.

A reception honored the couple in the Plowman home immediately following the ceremony. A white cutwork linen cloth covered the refreshment table which was centered with an arrangement of yellow and white carnations. Crystal appointments were used, and the tiered cake was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Eagles Auxiliary To Host Meeting

Eagles Auxiliary No. 3188 agreed to host a zone conference for all state auxiliaries in February or March, 1973, at a meeting Monday in the Settles Hotel. The group was requested to host the two-day seminar by Clara Whitfield, state president.

Mrs. James Dalton presided, and new officers appointed were Mrs. E. W. Graham, conductress; Mrs. Tommy White, outside guard; and Mrs. Netta Williamson, trustee.

Mrs. Eva White was accepted for membership, and will be initiated later.

It was announced that the local auxiliary won second place travel trophy at the District 4 convention July 22-23 in Crane. The next district meeting is slated Sept. 23-24 in Fort Stockton.

A salad supper is scheduled at 8 p.m., Aug. 12 at the Settles Hotel, and the next regular meeting is at 8 p.m., Aug. 14 at the hotel.

MRS. GREGORY LEE SHERROD
Serving were Mrs. Fred McDowell Jr. of Colorado City, the bride's sister; Mrs. Bobby Plowman of Odessa; Miss Marsha Boles, Abilene; and Mrs. Dan Plowman.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School, and Sherrod attended Garden City High School. The couple will reside in California.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Plowman of View, grandparents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Jones, Miss Diane Boles, and Mr. and Mrs. Eddy Plowman, all of Abilene; and Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Massey daughter, Houston.

Mark Pearce of Garden City was best man.

Junior Rodeo Opens Chute Here Thursday

One of the best junior rodeos in the state will begin at 8 p.m. Thursday when the Howard County 4-H Junior Rodeo kicks off three days of bronc riding, bull riding, barrel racing and calf roping in the Rodeo Bowl West of town. Other performances are Friday and Saturday.

The traditional rodeo horse parade will precede the rodeo at 4 p.m. on the usual downtown parade route. All contestants and area riders are invited to participate in the parade and grand entry at Thursday night's performance. Free tickets will be given to those who ride in the grand entry.

The events include breakaway roping for girls, pole bending, barrel racing, bull riding, bareback bronc riding, calf roping and ribbon roping.

Two special events to be held are the wild calf race and the goat sacking.

Twenty prize buckles and two saddles will be awarded the top cowboys and cowgirl and the buckles will go to the winners of each age event.

Announcer for the event will be Rich Anderson, Gail Field judge will be Handley Driver, and the bucking judges will be Jack Buchanan and Gerald Wooten. The arena director will be Raymond Phillips.

Tickets are $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children and are available from any 4-H Club member or at the Country Extension Office.

Bucking stock for the show is being furnished by Red Whately, Crosbyton, and the 4-H Club is furnishing the 75 calves used for roping.

Minimum Wage Bill Due To Hike Costs Of Cotton

As a result of actions by the House and Senate in Washington over recent weeks farmers can expect labor costs to increase by at least 15 per cent later this year and by over 30 per cent beginning in the fall of 1973, according to Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Lamesa's Rodeo Queen Contest Attracts Eight

LAMESA (SC) — Eight young women have entered the Rodeo Queen contest here this year.

Sheryl Capwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Motley, is the present queen and will give up her crown at the rodeo this year.

Now About Those Song Books . . .

Response to appeals for items needed on wards at the Big Spring State Hospital have been excellent, said Mrs. Margaret Lloyd, volunteer coordinator.

Another ward reports its needs an ironing board and an iron.

Monday Mrs. Lloyd said she received two toasters (a hot plate is still needed) and half a dozen song books.

"We never thought about it 8 but all these books are different. Anyone have any books with the same numbers?" she asked.

Car-Truck Crash

HENDERSON, Tex. (AP) — Two men were killed and a third injured critically about 12:30 a.m. Monday when their car hit the back of a big tractor-trailer parked outside an eating place in Henderson.

Police listed the dead as Cy Blanton, 20, of Henderson and John Daniel Holt, 23, of Overton.

Their injured companion, William Floyd of Henderson, was taken to a Tyler hospital.

Kayser To Be Show Honoree

ODESSA — Paul Kayser, founder of El Paso Natural Gas Company, will be honored at the 1972 Permian Basin Oil Show in Odessa Oct. 20. It was announced today by Vernon Blain, president of the 1972 Show. Each year the Oil Show selects an outstanding man in the industry for special recognition.

A native of Tyler, he is a graduate of Baylor University and studied law by correspondence from the University of Texas. He was principal of the Gatesville High School from 1909 — 1911, was admitted to the Texas Bar in 1913, and he practiced in Houston until 1929.

In The Mind

WINCHESTER, England (AP) — A Hampshire schoolteacher reports that when she asked her class to describe "imagination" in brief style, one 11-year-old boy wrote: "A bee's sting is only a fraction of an inch long. The rest of the 12 inches is imagination."

Land-Use Standards

Almost imperceptibly over many years the role of the federal government has expanded at the expense of state and local control. More and more state and local governments are discovering that they cannot do, or cannot do as well, what the federal government can do.

Land-use standards, once the exclusive jurisdiction of local governments, provide an exception to the almost inevitable flow of authority to the federal government. A Wall Street Journal survey reveals "the quiet revolution in land-use control" by the assertion of overriding authority by the state over local jurisdictions. The authority is being taken by the state because of the problems in protecting the environment, minimizing the chaos of urban sprawl, and providing adequate space for housing and industry, the Journal reported.

Should zoning restrictions be eased to permit low-cost housing to be built? Should land development be controlled by regions or by states in order to ensure orderly, rational land-use? Should areas subject to periodic flooding by the seas or rivers be withdrawn completely from residential development? Can dredging and filling of marshes and wetlands for industrial or residential development be controlled rationally at the local level? These are but samples of the many perplexing questions in an ever-increasing interdependence, in our society that make proper decisions almost impossible at the local level.

Those who have studied the need for uniform regulation by the state, rather than leaving a patch-work quilt pattern established by local governments, advocate selective control. The state certainly need not concern itself with the location of a service station. But it may need to rule on the location of an industry in an area where zoning prevents low-cost housing and thereby creates pressure for new highways to bring the workers in from a distance. Any development that affects an area's water supply or its ability to provide adequate sewage treatment would also require state approval.

Not all of the power would be taken to ensure rational, orderly development.

As in other areas, planners looking to the future see the eventual involvement of the federal government in local land-use decisions. The decision to do it now may spare the states from federal control in still another area.

Obligation To People

State Rep. W. S. Healy has long been known for his arrogant use of power while he ruled over the House Appropriations Committee. He also hasn't hesitated to use that power for his own benefit.

In addition to the appropriations post, which he resigned earlier this year as a result of Gus Mutscher's loss of the speakership, Healy is a member of the House Insurance Committee.

Healy has a title insurance agency in his hometown of Paducah. His is the only title agency which has not met state requirements of an annual audit. The law was passed in 1967 to protect the public against malfeasance.

Healy claims the audit is not mandatory—a stand disputed by insurance department officials.

Healy has been licensed by the State Insurance Department each year, even though he has failed to obey the law. Failure to submit the audit report is grounds for license revocation.

The reason Healy has continued to operate beyond the law is simple: The State Insurance Department is afraid of him. The head of the department's title section, Ira Goodrich, said he was afraid Healy would "destroy" the title law if forced to comply with it. Insurance Com. Clay Cotten said he didn't feel Healy got special treatment.

The insurance department's first obligation is to the people of the state, not a legislator.

Pirate's Home

Around The Rim

Jo Bright

If you were a child in West Texas did you ever hope that the skeletons in your ancestral closet included a gun-slinger or, at least, a genuine horse thief?

WHILE GROWING up on the Gulf Coast, I was enchanted with legends of the sea and secretly hoped that one of my ancestors was a pillaging pirate with heart as black as his beard.

Now comes news that intrigues me. The first excavation of a pirate's home in the United States is scheduled to get underway in the next few months at the site of "Maison Rouge" (the Red House), legendary home of Jean LaFitte on Galveston Island.

AS THE RESULT of an agreement signed between the board of directors of the Centre on the Strand, a Galveston museum and cultural center, and Houston attorney, Douglas R. Zwiener, the Centre will seek a private or federal grant to undertake historical archaeological investigations and excavations on the grounds of "Maison Rouge" within the next six months.

LaFitte, the most famous pirate on the Gulf Coast, was a hero of the Battle of New Orleans in 1814, when his men, including the famous French gunner, Dominique Yue, served alongside Gen. Andrew Jackson's men in repulsing the British troops at the Battle of Chalmette.

A FEW years later, as a result of a pardon given him by the president of the United States, Jean LaFitte and his colleagues moved to Galveston Island and established the colony of Campeche, from which LaFitte's ships ranged the Spanish Main (Gulf of Mexico) in seeking Spanish treasure hauled from Mexico and South America to enrich the coffers of Spain.

However, some of LaFitte's men, with over enthusiasm, raided a few American ships as well, and a squadron of U.S. warships was sent to Galveston to inform LaFitte that he would have to leave.

WITHIN A short time, LaFitte left Galveston Island and burned his home and community, and is believed to have died a few years later in Yucatan.

The site of "Maison Rouge", owned by Zwiener for the past several years, has not been the subject of any scientific investigations heretofore.

THE CENTER plans to engage Robert Taylor Bray, associate professor of archaeology at the University of Missouri, to head the project. Bray has planned to conduct the excavations, planning to arrive in Galveston soon to work out estimates of costs and needed manpower. Formerly with the National Park Service, Bray conducted historical excavations at the site of the Battle of the Little Big Horn, as well as that of the Battle of Wilson's Creek, and is currently working on restoration of Old Narvoes, the Mormon village established by Joseph Smith.

MARVIN E. Tong, executive director of the Center, said "If we can shed any light on the Galveston residence of Jean LaFitte, we will be contributing much to the island's history."

Reaching Voters

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — Everyone knows about marriage counselors, but very few people know that there are also election counselors who are responsible for bringing people together during a presidential election year.

ONE OF THE best known is Stanfield Stanislaus, who has been in the election counseling business for 30 years.

He told me how he works. "Every presidential election year, hundreds of thousands of marriages and friendships are broken up because people get so mad at each other that they lose all reason. It is my job to work with couples and friends to see if I can persuade them to resolve their differences and become compatible again. Most of my work is done after the elections in November, but even now I have appointments."

A MIDDLE-AGE couple came into Stanislaus' office. The husband had a Nixon button in his hat and the wife was wearing a skirt which said "Vote For McGovern."

"They sat far apart from each other. 'Who would like to begin?' Stanislaus asked.

The husband said, "Let the radical speak first."

"I'm not a radical!" the wife shouted. "I want change. I want welfare reform and rights for women and I want to get out of Vietnam!"

"I TOLD you she was a Commie!" the husband said.

"Let's avoid name calling if we possibly can," Stanislaus said. "Tell me, is there anything about your year's political campaign that you can agree on?"

The husband said, "We both agree Nixon isn't much, but I say he's better than nobody."

The wife replied, "And I say I'd rather have nobody."

"You're getting nobody with McGovern," the husband said.

"PLEASE," Stanislaus said, "It's obvious that the election year is causing difficulty in your marriage. How do you get along in a non-presidential election year?"

"All right," the wife said. "He spends most of his time watching football."

"Which happens to be Nixon's favorite sport," the husband said.

Stanislaus asked, "Do you do things together?"

"We play tennis and go camping, and we're good at bridge," the wife said.

"ONE MORE question," Stanislaus said. "Are you sexually compatible?"

"Yeh," the husband said, "you could say we are."

The wife blushed, "I have no complaints."

"Then there is only one thing for you both to do. Stay in bed until Election Day!"

"ELECTION DAY?" the husband gasped.

"And no bumper stickers on the headboard," Stanislaus said. "That will be $25, please."

Balance, Quality

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — An example of what the forced busing of school children really means is given in the case of the Detroit board of education, which now is being permitted by the courts to delay the purchase of 295 buses until its appeal of a proposed desegregation program involving cross-busing between Detroit and 52 suburban districts can be heard.

THE SIXTH U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati has granted the State of Michigan's request for the delay on the purchase until Aug. 24, when the arguments will be heard. But it will take a good deal longer if they have to be ordered. The appellate court says that an 11-member desegregation panel will continue its work on plans to integrate the school systems of Detroit and adjacent districts.

The buying of 295 school buses will require a lot of money, and it will take some time to get them. Meanwhile, there will be appeals made to higher courts and the end of the controversy is not in sight.

MICHIGAN'S experience is duplicated in other states, and parents object to busing particularly in those instances where no distinctions are made in the age limits applied. Some believe that the younger children should not be bused long distances, and there is much dispute over the lengths of the journeys that should be made.

The theory that President Nixon has in his opposition to busing is that the quality of education can be improved in the local districts and no busing will be necessary. He feels that children should be able to get the kind of education that is desirable in their own neighborhood and that it ought not to be necessary to transport them several miles a day to and from schools. His argument is not related to segregation or desegregation. It is based solely on the question of having all schools offer a high standard of education so that each child will receive a quality education without having to go to distant schools.

THE BUSING controversy has arisen because the schools in some cities, though not segregated, are often not of good quality and whites have tended to move to the suburbs, leaving the city schools predominantly black. Efforts to "desegregate" have turned to sending children to and from suburban areas in order to attain a "racial balance." Congress in the Civil Rights Act of 1964 made it clear that desegregation does not require busing to correct "racial imbalance." It also has several times said that federal funds were not to be used for this purpose.

MONEY FOR quality education is being sought now, irrespective of desegregation of integration. President Nixon insists that the busing problem can be solved by improving the quality of education in all public schools throughout the country.

MEANWHILE, several states are confronted with busing disputes and parents are in arms against the obvious efforts to correct "racial imbalance" by cross-busing between suburban schools and those in the cities. There is deep-seated opposition to this. Gov. George Wallace at the Democratic National convention spoke out bluntly against forced busing, but other party leaders did not do the same and the platform does not endorse his stand.

IT IS going to cost more and more money to maintain the public schools of the nation. The local property taxes will have to pay some of that expense, but the revenue-sharing plans which the federal government has will be an opportune aid for the whole educational program.

Peak Of Prosperity?

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The second quarter economic statistics constitute good news, the kind of news the Nixon people had long promised, the kind of news that doesn't need to be disguised by claims of "we are greatly encouraged."

Output was up, inflation was tempered, there were indications that the jobless problem was easing, consumers were spending with more enthusiasm and less fear.

The nation's output of goods and services rose 8.9 per cent for the April-May-June period, and that's the real thing. It isn't watered with inflation.

The consumer price index rose only two-tenths of one per cent in June, which is a figure acceptable at any time but surprising at this time. And the jobless rate in June fell to 5.5 per cent, not good but trending in the right direction.

Automobile sales are strong, and the big Detroit manufacturers, aided by government, seem to be recapturing some of the market lost to imports. Homebuilding is strong, too, and that means the furniture and appliance makers are happy.

Happy, too, are the Republicans, whose leaders were losing credibility as, month after month, they felt compelled to claim that all was well when the public knew otherwise.

Now consumers have demonstrated their willingness to take a chance: they are convinced something is happening in the economy that invites their presence, and they are willing to spend rather than conserve.

And so the savings rate dropped in the second quarter to 6.6 per cent after remaining above 8 per cent for a year. It doesn't mean that caution has been abandoned, but it does indicate fear has subsided.

But now where do we go? Is this the peak of Nixon prosperity? A good many independent and business economists feel it might be close to it, but they can't say for sure. They have to wait for the figures.

And that is the intriguing situation that seems to be developing: The next quarterly figures will be filling the newspapers and airwaves just a couple of weeks before the November elections.

Based on comparison with the previous year, there is no doubt that the figures will show a sounder economy, but that comparison will be with a period in which the economy reached a three-year low.

Of greater significance will be the trend in the third quarter from that of the second, and perceptive consumers and voters will be quick to note any change.

Whether the October reports will detract from the President's strength is debatable now, but the prospects for 1973 are adding up already to a somewhat less vigorous economy.

Et Tu, Israel?

William F. Buckley Jr.

In 1967, when Israel was threatened and the Seven Day War resulted, prominent American liberals paused in their clamor to get us out of the Southeast Asian imbroglio, to clamor, in a highly publicized declaration, for getting us into the Mid-East imbroglio, causing Prof. John Roche of Brandeis to remark wryly that their manifesto should have been labeled "Doves for War."

WHAT IT came down to was pure and simple that where Israel is concerned, the encroaching demands for a reticent American international profile do not apply. John Kenneth Galbraith, a leading philosopher of neoisolationism, confronting the paradox on television in Miami Beach during the McGovern convention, said simply and honestly, "I confess I have a special affection for Israel."

Indeed, a lot of us do. Not only for reasons of compassion that reach into history, ancient and horribly contemporary. But because there is so much in the behavior of the leaders of the modern state of Israel that we need to learn from. Israel long ago took the measure of her security requirements and — acted accordingly. The United Nations counts it a day lost that it does not pass a resolution of censure against Israel; and Israel simply does not care.

INTERESTINGLY, but not surprisingly, she is not on that account either ostracized or disdained by other nations of the world (the Arab states obviously excepted). Neither would the United States be — it is my conjecture — if we had behaved, for instance in Indochina, as decisively as Israel would have done. If Gen. Dayan had managed our war against Hanoi, that too would have been a seven day war.

WHILE YOU ARE at it, be even more straightforward than Galbraith. Recognize that on top of that special affection, a U.S. pledge to Israeli independence is for the time being necessary for anyone who aspires to be president, for the simple reason that the strategically situated Jewish community is for the most part very generous in backing political causes, and very insistent on the matter of Israeli independence.

EVEN SO, and notwithstanding Sen. McGovern's protestations of fidelity to the cause of Israel, many Jewish leaders have confessed their concern. They do so for quite obvious reasons.

AS IT HAS gone for South Vietnam among the leadership of the Democratic party, so might it go for Israel. Why not?

Helpful Sex Hints

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Can you still tell the sexes apart? At first glance?

If you can, you're a marvel. More people are finding it more difficult in more cases.

About half the people over 30 today can't tell easily the sex of about a third of the people they meet who are under 30. In many cases they are still mystified after they follow a doubtful glance with two long stares.

Well, here are a few helpful hints:

If it works as an attendant in a men's room, it is a him. If it works as an attendant in a powder room, it is a her.

Does it sing aloud in the bathroom? Probably it's a guy. Does it hum while sitting at a dressing table and studying its face? It's a gal.

If, when asked at a cocktail party whether it wants another drink, it replies, "Yeah, another belt won't hurt me," put it down as a fellow. If it smiles dimly and says as it holds out its glass, "Well, just a teentys-weentys bit this time," put it down as another thirsty dame with hollow legs.

You say it warms its hands by putting them in its pockets? It has to be a boy. You say it warms its hands by thrusting them under its arms and hunching its shoulders? It has to be a girl.

Does it hate to write a check for under $25. That's a man. Does it like to write checks for three 8-cent stamps and a 79-cent bottle of hand lotion? That's a woman.

Does it assume a hedgehog defense and make menacing hisses if you say something slighting about the women's liberation movement? Beyond doubt it's another embattled femme. If it immediately loses interest or wants to change the subject when you mention the women's liberation movement, beyond doubt it's another cowed male.

A direct actionist can settle his uncertainty most quickly by simply walking up to a strange person and asking simply, "Hey, what sex are you—if any?" If he gets punched in the jaw, it's a man; if he gets slapped in the face, it's a woman.

A Devotion For Today . .

We do not present our supplications before thee on the ground of our righteousness, but on the ground of thy great mercy. (Daniel 9:18, RSV)

PRAYER: Our Father, for lessons so old yet so new, we thank You. Grant us grace to live the truth today. In the spirit of Christ. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Bob Gibson, Jim Palmer Get Starting Nods In Star Tilt

ATLANTA (AP) — Bob Gibson reluctantly throws the first pitch tonight in the 43rd All-Star baseball game, claiming all the while: "I didn't want to start."

The St. Louis Cardinal right-hander, less than overjoyed about his assignment for the National League, faces Jim Palmer of the American League at Atlanta Stadium.

"If I had my druthers, I wouldn't start this All-Star Game," said Gibson, the hottest pitcher in baseball with 11 straight victories. "I'd much rather just pitch one inning—and leave. An All-Star assignment might be an honor, but it's hard work, too."

Gibson matches serves with Palmer, the right-handed Baltimore Oriole ace, before a full house of 52,744 while about 50 million more are expected to watch on national television.

The game starts at 8:30 p.m., EDT.

Gibson, historically a fierce competitor, created controversy with his position on the All-Star Game.

"Yes, I said that I didn't want to start but I didn't say that I didn't want to pitch—the writers said that," Gibson remarked Monday at a press conference, referring to a recent newspaper story.

The hard-throwing hurler said that he preferred to work just one inning in relief so that it wouldn't interfere with his normal rotation during the regular season. It's usually the practice for an All-Star starter to complete three innings.

While the talkative Gibson spoke his mind, Palmer remained a silent starter on the eve of the midsummer classic. Palmer was absent from the press conference, but Earl Weaver, his manager at Baltimore and the boss of the American League team, had enough to say for both.

"This game is important to me and to every player in it," said Weaver, responding to Gibson's posture. "I don't think anybody should say he doesn't want to play. Ninety-five per cent of the gate from this game goes into the pension fund. This pays for my retirement and his (Gibson's) and he'd better not forget it."

Weaver, producing newspaper clippings quoting Gibson's outspoken comments, added: "It's something that shouldn't have been said. I'm sure he's happy to be here and he'll go out and do a job, especially after me popping off."

National League Manager Danny Murtaugh seemed unrattled by the Gibson storm. "I haven't seen any article," said the former Pittsburgh manager. "What did he say?"

When Weaver produced the clippings, Murtaugh glanced at them and said: "Well, Bob and I have different ideas. I named him as my starter... and I'm going to start him."

Murtaugh refused to commit himself past the first three innings, although he has a quantity of powerful pitching arms to choose from, including New York's Tom Seaver, Steve Blass of the Pittsburgh Pirates, the Philadelphia Phillies' Steve Carlton and Don Sutton of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

But with all that reserve pitching help, the National League is a 7-5 favorite based heavily on slugging stars—including Cincinnati catcher Johnny Bench, the major league's home run and RBI leader with 24 and 72.

against the American League and boost the Nationals' series edge of 23 victories, 18 losses and one tie, is a power-stacked lineup that can easily reach the fences at Atlanta Stadium, a hitter's paradise called "The Launching Pad."

Included among them is the ever-present Hank Aaron, playing in his 21st All-Star Game. The Atlanta Braves' slugger, who has hit many of his career 659 home runs here, expects there will be more than one ball leaving the cozy park Tuesday night.

Aaron, despite a history of poor All-Star performances, will be hitting No. 3 in the National League lineup. Joe Morgan, Cincinnati's second baseman, is the Nationals' leadoff man, followed by Pittsburgh center fielder Roberto Clemente.

Willie Stargell, Pittsburgh's left fielder, will hit in the cleanup spot, followed by Bench. Houston first baseman Lee May will bat sixth, third baseman Joe Torre of St. Louis, seventh, and Chicago shortstop Don Kessinger is Murtaugh's No. 8 hitter while Gibson, one of the best-hitting pitchers in the game, will bat ninth.

Weaver, hoping to duplicate last year's 6-4 American League triumph at Detroit, insists he's going all-out to win this one.

"I'll use my players as I think they'll help me to win the game... and I hope that I use them at the right time," said Weaver.

Weaver said that he plans to use 17-game-winner Mickey Lolich of Detroit and Cleveland's Gaylord Perry right behind Palmer "depending on Murtaugh's strategy." Rod Carew, Minnesota's fine second baseman, is Weaver's leadoff batter. New York Yankee center fielder Bobby Murcer is the No. 2 hitter in the Americans' lineup, followed by 3-4 batters right fielder Reggie Jackson of Oakland; Chicago first baseman Dick Allen and left fielder Carl Yastrzemski of Boston. Shortstop Bobby Grich of Baltimore; Orioles' third baseman Brooks Robinson; catcher Bill Freehan of Detroit and Palmer round out the Americans' lineup.

JOE WON'T PLAY New England Ships FB Nance To Philly

By The Associated Press

"It was time for me to move on," said fullback Jim Nance, who will now have to see if the theories of the Philadelphia Eagles jibe with his own.

Nance, who had theoretical and money problems with the New England Patriots of the National Football League, was dealt by the Pats to the Eagles Monday.

It was also a day that saw Joe Namath state flatly he wouldn't play in exhibition games until he has signed a contract with the New York Jets. And the way the negotiations are going, it might be some time before Joe sees action.

Nance, told by the Patriots Sunday night he no longer was needed, was traded to the Eagles in exchange for an undisclosed 1973 draft choice.

Aside from the fact that he didn't want to take a cut on his estimated $80,000 salary, Nance had said earlier that there were differences between himself and the team's playing system that led him to believe it was "time to go."

Nance, 29, gained 1,458 yards for the Patriots in 1966, setting an American Football League record. He had slumped to 468 yards last season.

"I can go 1,000 yards again in a season," Nance stated, "but I have to get the ball to do it. I haven't been getting the ball here, so I think it's time to go."

With or without Namath, the Jets open their preseason schedule against the San Francisco 49ers in Jacksonville, Fla., Aug. 5. Namath is demanding a record contract—estimated at $250,000 a year—and the team's front office is balky in giving it.

Namath, meanwhile, worked out Monday with the team and moved well on the legs that have bothered him throughout his eight-year pro career.

Elsewhere, Roman Gabriel did some light jogging and throwing in the Los Angeles Rams' camp on Monday—exactly one week after the quarterback underwent emergency surgery following the collapse of a lung.

In the Cleveland Browns' training camp at Hiram, Ohio, wide receiver Milt Morin was fined $150 for leaving the team without permission for about seven hours Sunday. Morin, also unsigned, reportedly is upset with the progress of negotiations with the Browns.

San Diego linemen Pete Barnes and Walt Sweeney checked into the San Diego Chargers' base after fines of $1,050 each—$150 a day for seven days—were levied against them for missing the first week of preseason drills. Both are unsigned.

Veteran defensive linemen Ben Davidson and Tom Keating appeared at the Oakland Raiders' camp after finishing up some personal affairs, quarterback Terry Hanratty joined the Pittsburgh Steelers after finishing National Guard duty and rookie Terry Beasley returned to the San Francisco 49ers after missing eight days of workouts with a pulled hamstring muscle.

The Detroit Lions received permission from sponsors of the College All-Star game to keep their No. 1 draft choice, defensive end Herb Orvis of Colorado out of the game in order to rest an ankle injury. Defensive lineman Walt Patulski of Notre Dame and the Buffalo Bills was also lifted from the All-Star roster after hurting his knee in a workout.

The Washington Redskins lost offensive tackle Jim Snowden for at least half of the coming season because of a torn knee ligament.

DOUBLE PLAY — Midland North Central second baseman Tim Stuckey fires the ball to first base to complete a double play in the second inning of Monday night's Little League Tournament game. Midland Western batter hit a ground ball to Stuckey, who tagged out baserunner Kelley Shumpert going from first to second and then whipped the ball to first to retire Copeland.

HOME RUN — Mike Howard of Midland North Central is congratulated by his teammates as he crosses homeplate after belting a two-run home run in the third inning of Monday night's District 3 Little League Tournament game. Midland North Central defeated Midland Western, 9-1.

Durocher Resigns As Cubs' Skipper

ATLANTA (AP) — Leo Durocher, who took over the downtrodden Chicago Cubs in 1966 and made them pennant contenders a year later, has "stepped aside" as manager.

Vice President John Holland used that phrase in making the announcement early today, leaving it unclear whether The Lip had quit or been fired.

In any case, Whitey Lockman, director of player development, is the man picked by owner Phil Wrigley to revive the Cubs. They are currently languishing in fourth place in the National League East, 10 games out of first.

The Chicago Sun-Times reported today that Wrigley had summoned Durocher to his apartment Monday night for a top-secret meeting, the second such summit conference in nine months.

Lockman, former New York Giants first baseman under Durocher, denied that the Cubs are suffering from morale problems.

"Of course, I haven't been too close to the team in my position this year," he added in an interview today, his 46th birthday.

He said he was hard put to diagnose the team's ineffectiveness.

"You have to remember that Pittsburgh and St. Louis have been playing exceptionally well," he said.

Lockman, Holland and other Cubs staff were in Atlanta for tonight's All-Star game, in which Cub shortstop Don Kessinger is starting for the National League.

Durocher had dropped from sight and was unavailable for comment.

No big player changes are anticipated, said Lockman, and managing policies are not expected to be drastically revamped. Lockman spent 15 years as a player in the majors, coming up in 1945 and retiring after the 1959 season with Baltimore and Cincinnati. He played under Durocher when he managed New York for 7½ years in the late 40s and early 50s.

Lockman's first assignment after joining the Cubs' organization in 1964 was to manage Dallas-Fort Worth in the Texas League. He guided the team to a first-place tie and was named Manager of the Year in the league.

Lockman claimed to have no knowledge of players' discontent with Durocher's managing, although such strife was apparent last year.

Lisa Nagel was the winning pitcher as the Goldiggers edged the Texas Belles, 4-2, Tammy Webb hurled the First Federal Belles to a 12-11 win over the Nuggets.

The Perco Panthers blasted the Rockets, 17-3, behind the pitching of Irene Escoveda. Darcy Haxton picked up the win as the White stallions nipped the Dairy Queens, 5-4.

The Sandstuffers edged the Kittens, 11-10. Patricia Cherry was the winning pitcher. The Academies took a forfeit win from the Kneeknockers.

MOVE INTO SEMIFINALS North Central Clips Western

Midland North Central fought its way into the District Three semifinals Monday night with an easy 9-1 victory over Midland Western.

Western had drawn a first round bye in the tourney, but North Central had had to score a run in the bottom of the last inning to defeat Midland Eastern to stay in the tournament. North Central will play Midland Tower Wednesday night to determine which team will go to the finals on Thursday.

The winner of the North Central-Tower game will play the winner of the Big Spring National-Big Spring Texas game that will be played tonight at 8 p.m. at the American League park.

There was never too much doubt as to who had the best team Monday night, but the game was not decided until North Central put together a five-run explosion in the top of the sixth inning.

David Windsor started out the inning with a walk, and Richard Josephy went in to pinch run for him. Josephy advanced to second and third on wild pitches before being singled home by Lee Johnson. Johnson moved to second on a walk to pitcher Gary Roney but was forced out at third base on a ground ball hit by Tracey Rogers.

With two out, Tim Stuckey hit a ground ball to shortstop, but the ball got through for an error. That loaded the bases. Doug Schmidt then lofted a fly ball to left field that was dropped to chase home two more runs. Jeff Hull doubled to clear the bases and end the scoring.

Western pitcher Todd Rhodes had started out the game as if he were going to be one of those pitchers who was perpetually in trouble but didn't give up any runs. He worked out of an extremely difficult situation in the first inning and almost escaped without giving up a run in the second.

In the first inning, Rogers led off the game with a fly ball to left that was dropped by the left fielder Stuckey walked to put men on first and second before Schmidt struck out. Hull then singled to fill the bases with one out, but Mike Hull forced Rogers at the plate, and Windsor struck out to end the inning.

In the second, Florrey Mills was hit in the head by a Rhodes pitch to lead off the inning. Craig Dixon struck out, and Gary Roney grounded out pitcher to first, advancing Mills to second. Rogers then hit a ball over the center fielder's head for a double to score the first run of the game.

Mike Howard blasted a long two-run home run in third inning for two more of North Central's runs. The other one scored in the fourth on a walk to Roney and singles by Rogers and Stuckey.

Western tallied its run in the fourth inning. Joe Mowles singled to begin the inning, but he was forced out at second from left field when he had to hold up to see if a ball hit by Kelly Schumpert was going to be caught or not. Rodger Copeland followed with a walk, and Philip Hayes singled to score the run.

Roney, a small left-handed pitcher, threw the ball surprisingly hard for his size. He struck out eight batters in the game.

Oilers' Pritchard Is A Semi-Player

KERRVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Monday was a strange day for the Houston Oilers in their training camp here as they got a semi-playing linebacker on the field and saw a full back switch to defensive tackle.

"Cheavers came to me and said he wanted to switch," said Coach Bill Peterson. "I don't really think he's worked that hard on his weight. But he looked pretty quick out there at tackle today."

And Narvel Chavers, a rookie from Jackson State who came to the Oilers as a fullback, decided that at 248 pounds he'd do better as a defensive tackle.

"Cheavers came to me and said he wanted to switch," said Coach Bill Peterson. "I don't really think he's worked that hard on his weight. But he looked pretty quick out there at tackle today."

CARVER PHARMACY'S NEW PROFESSIONAL: JOHN LAWRENCE, REGISTERED PHARMACIST

New Pharmacist And Great New Products

The first concern of Carver's Pharmacy, 310 E. 9th, is to make sure its customers receive high-quality pharmaceuticals prepared exactly as the physician has ordered.

To aid him in this task, Milton Carver has taken into association the services of John Lawrence, registered pharmacist. Lawrence, 26, has been a resident of Big Spring three weeks. He resides with his wife, Lynda, and their 8-week-old daughter, Adrienne, at 1606 E. 6th.

Lawrence is a native of El Dorado, but has worked in Midland and San Angelo as a pharmacist. His first exposure to this area was in 1964 when he worked around Odessa in the oil fields during summer school sessions at Odessa College.

Lawrence said, "I like Big Spring and everything about the town. The people are real fine—they're typical west Texans." He plans to make a permanent home here.

Lawrence plans to be involved in church work and service clubs when he has settled.

He is a graduate of the University of Texas School of Pharmacy, 1967. He was then employed in Midland and San Angelo pharmacies until enlisting with the U.S. Navy in 1970. He served at the Naval Hospital in Charleston, S.C., until his recent discharge.

NEW PRODUCTS

Carver's announces the addition of two great new products from the famous LOREAL line of cosmetics and hair care creations.

The LOREAL Instant Hair Conditioner for extra body now has protein and thickeners. It is particularly designed for dry, limp or brittle hair.

LOREAL's superb conditioner instantly gives the silky touch and bouncy, shining look of healthy hair. Now enriched with protein and thickening agents for never-before luxuriance. Ultra Rich TM Extra Body adds shine, fullness and spring to dull, fine, dry or limp hair; even brittle, over-bleached or over-processed hair comes "alive." Ideal, too, to tame, smooth, control and untangle the most coarse or unruly hair.

UNSCENTED SPRAY

LOREAL of Paris also has a new unscented hair spray with extra-hold and conditioning actions. Suffrage TM is perfect for natural, tinted or bleached hair. It fortifies hair and seals out moisture. Suffrage holds sets better in any type of weather.

The new spray contains a combination of ingredients which make it the most advanced, most remarkably effective hair spray ever introduced. The exclusive Suffrage formula fortifies hair and adds firm body while hold sets so much better. Suffrage helps seal out moisture and resists fading of your hair color. For conditioning action, body-building, and downright holding power, there's no holding power, no spray quite like Suffrage.

See the great new products at Carver's Pharmacy, 310 E. 9th St., or phone 263-7417.

Carpet soil is deceptive. Sometimes it accumulates so gradually you don't realize what a beautiful floor covering you have. Vacuuming carpets misleads some to believe that their carpets are clean. Of course it's important to vacuum — it gets out the loose dirt — but what about the soil it doesn't remove?

It's hidden soil that clings to the fibers and accumulates that makes carpets look old and dull. You need a really good foam cleaner to loosen up that kind of soil and Blue Lustre is the answer.

Blue Lustre foam penetrates the carpet fibers and separates the dirt particles, holding them in suspension for easy removal by vacuum after carpet is dry. This doesn't take very long because only foam is used so there is no over-wetting of carpet fibers.

You will notice the colors brighten and regain their beauty instantly when Blue Lustre is applied, which shows clearly the cleaning efficiency of the product.

One half gallon of Blue Lustre cleans the equivalent of three 9x12 rugs, depending on soil. Traffic paths can be removed, without cleaning wall-to-wall if rest of carpet shows no soil. Blue Lustre also raises nap at doorways, leaving pile open and lofty.

To do the job easily and quickly, you can rent a Blue Lustre electric shampooer for only $1.00 per day when you purchase Blue Lustre from your dealer.

Carpets will always have that new look if you keep Blue Lustre handy to remove spots and traffic paths as they appear. It's safe to keep around flammable, odorless, and quart, half-gallons, and Spring Hardware.

Staff Changes At Webb AFB

Following the recent announcement of the impending transfer of Col. Malcolm E. Ryan, wing commander at Webb, several more changes near the top have been announced.

Col. Whitcomb O. Jones arrived on base this month to assume the position of deputy commander for logistics, replacing Col. W. J. Kilpatrick, who is retiring this year. In the wing executive's office, Maj. Leslie Hobgood has replaced Maj. Donald Rouze, who has been sent to the Pentagon.

Lt. Col. Russell Nobel Jr. has arrived at Webb to take over the job as commander of the 3561st Student Squadron. That job has been held by Maj. E. H. Crandall, who will stay here as chief of training.

Two other new staff officers have also begun their duties here. Capt. William Lyon is the new chief of special services. Capt. Vinson P. Stouck will be the wing staff judge advocate.

Col. Jones comes to Webb after being deputy chief of staff for technical training at Air Training Command. Before that he was director of the USAF Air Traffic Field Unit.

Col. Jones, who came from Brownsfield, was commissioned as an air cadet at James Connally AFB, in Waco in 1944. He has a BS degree in management from the University of Oklahoma, and a masters degree in the same field from the University of Colorado.

Maj. Hobgood arrived on base in August 1971 as a section commander for the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron. He assumed his new job June 28.

He came here from the Royal Air Force exchange program, Little Rissington, England where he spent two years there as a low-altitude aerobatic pilot for the RAF, and for which he won an RAF trophy. His last flight before leaving was a solo "command performance" for Queen Elizabeth.

Col. Nobel's last assignment was to the USAF War College at Maxwell AFB, Ala. From an Air Force family, the colonel went through aviation cadets at Goodfellow AFB at San Angelo and Williams AFB, Ariz.

Noisy Stomach

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What makes a noisy stomach? It seems it does it after a meal. It makes so much noise it is embarrassing.—Mrs. M.G.

The racket of a "noisy stomach" isn't in the stomach at all, but in the intestine where food goes from the stomach.

When food leaves the stomach, it is in liquid form, but there may be air and gas in varying amounts.

The air may be swallowed. Air-swallowing is a very common but little recognized habit. Gas can result from the digestive processes, and possibly from fermentation.

Anyway, eating stimulates activity — movement — of the intestinal tract, and the noise you notice comes from the liquid and gases moving through the intestine.

There may be excessive movement, causing gurgling. There may be some narrowing or partial obstruction, but in this case there will be other symptoms, bloating among them.

Another possibility: you may get so nervous and tense, waiting for the noises, that, muscularly, you get sort of "tied up in a knot." As the intestinal activity has to work against this tenseness you get gurgles when the intestine finally manages to push your dinner through those several feet of digestive tubing. Some suggestions: notice if the noise follows any particular type of food, particularly starchy, sugary, or fatty items. You may need medication to aid digestion of certain foods.

There are also tablets containing simethicone which breaks up gas bubbles. Your family physician may have other suggestions.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband has just had abdominal X-rays. No malignancy but a diverticulosis condition exists. Should he be put on a diet of no roughage? Where can I get information on this condition? —Mrs. H.A.

He should avoid foods with seeds or indigestible husks, but should not avoid roughage entirely. He needs some bulk in his diet.

For information on the condition, why not send for my booklet, "Don't Let Diverticulosis Throw You?" It's available in return for 25 cents and a long self-addressed, stamped envelope. Send request to me in care of the Big Spring Herald.

Although cholesterol has been implicated in heart attacks and other circulatory troubles, it is also vital to human life.

More Give To Reunion

Interest in the Howard-Glascoc Old Settlers Reunion, set for Saturday at the Howard County Fair Barns, is mounting, according to Vandoyl M u r p h r e e s, president.

Several other individuals and businesses have made contributions to help underwrite the affair, which will be catered by the Odessa Chuck Wagon Gang. Advance tickets ($1.65 per plate) can be obtained from KBST or KHEM. The reunion begins at 9 a.m. with the traditional barbecue dinner at 12 noon. Music will be the Country Cousins, and there will be a 8 p.m. dance.

Latest donors for expenses include: Stanley Hardware, Hester's C. R. Anthony, Foster Drug, Carter Furniture, Record Shop, Hamilton Optometric Clinic, Mead's Auto Supply, Ted Phillips Tire, Pollard Chevrolet, Planters Gin, Frank and Ina Ward, Professional Pharmacy, Knight's Pharmacy, Cunningham & Phillips, Neal's Transfer and Storage, Smallwood Western Wear, Mort Denton, Faye's Flowers, J & J Auto Supply, John Quigley Flowers, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Middleton and Prager's.

His lawyer, William Alexander, also says that McKee faces in Dallas "a dangerous combination" made up of Dist. Atty. Henry Wade, Police Chief Frank Dyson, and wealthy Dallas lawyer Seary Lee Johnson. Alexander claims that Wade and Dyson have shown animosity toward McKee from the start by investigating him

Seeks Change Of Venue In Embezzlement Trial

DALLAS (AP) — State District Court Judge John Mead was expected to rule today on whether former Dallas Crime Commissioner John McKee should be granted the change of venue he seeks for his upcoming trial involving masonic funds.

McKee, 66, indicted on two counts of embezzlement and one of swindling money from the Dallas Lodge of Perfection, Scottish Rite, claims that he cannot get a fair trial here because of "saturation publicity" his case has received in the news media.

But only two of the witnesses Monday, including a lawyer, police officers, a district attorney's investigators, and several newsmen, in an attempt to show McKee could not get a fair trial in Dallas.

But only two of the witnesses—Capt. and former Asst. Police Chief Paul McCaghen and television reporter James Kerr—testified that they thought McKee could not get a fair trial.

Alexander called an array of witnesses Monday, including a lawyer, police officers, a district attorney's investigators, and several newsmen, in an attempt to show McKee could not get a fair trial in Dallas.

8 ways to save money on air conditioning.

1 Set thermostat between 76 and 78 degrees—the lower the setting the more electricity the unit uses.

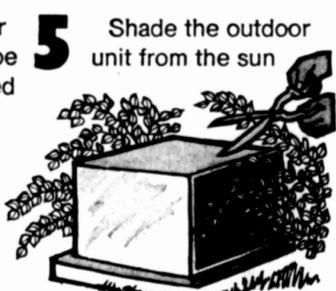

2 Replace disposable or clean permanent type filters as required—clogged filters make the unit work harder and use more electricity.

3 Provide adequate attic ventilation—helps reduce heat buildup.

4 Install proper duct, ceiling and wall insulation and weatherstrip windows and doors—keep hot air out, cool air in. (Helps reduce winter heating costs too!)

5 Shade the outdoor unit from the sun but keep the unit free of grass or other obstruction that might prevent proper air circulation.

6 Keep windows and fireplace dampers closed—prevents excessive loss of cool air and infiltration of hot air.

7 Shade windows from direct sunlight with awnings, blinds or draperies—reduces the load on the unit.

8 Have the unit checked by a qualified air conditioning serviceman. Do this in the spring, prior to your need for cooling.

Sales locally of recreational and camping vehicles haven't maintained a reported national pace, but dealers here report the pace is stepping up rapidly.

There are vehicles of every description — those from simple slip-in units to luxurious all-in-one living quarters.

In 1961, sale of recreational vehicles was negligible in the automotive industry with only 62,000 such vehicles turned out. This year the figure will be 550,000. These vehicles will log billions of miles of highway travel (thanks to more and more interstate roads) by an estimated 4.5 million recreational vehicles on the road.

Most local dealers did not get into the business seriously until the last two years, but since then business has been made.

So far in 1972, we have sold just about as many such vehicles as we sold all last year," said C. Y. Clinkscales, fleet manager, Pollard Chevrolet Co.

Price range on the vehicles are $5,700 to $27,000, depending on the amount of luxury desired. According to one salesman, most of the units sold at Dewey Ray are to sportsmen. Tent-campers which are towed behind the family vehicle are the most popular type of recreational vehicle sold at Joe Hicks Pontiac dealership, according to Jerry Duddley, salesman.

"Most customers are people with larger families who want to take a vacation as inexpensively as possible. Some of the units will sleep six persons, and others will sleep eight people. The average age of the customer is between 30 and 40 years of age," said Duddley.

"The house-type of vehicle is a luxury recreational vehicle, and just anyone can't afford them," added Duddley.

ADVANTAGES
Advantages of the camping vehicles, according to Duddley, are that they can be set up at any vacation spot for a nominal space rental fee, and that most cities now provide parks with water and electricity, such as the camp park at Comanche Trail Park.

"Camper specials," which are camper units placed on a pickup truck are the most popular recreational unit sold at Bob Brock Ford, according to Charlie Wasson, salesman.

"The camper units are safer than pulling a trailer, and the owner can live and drive in the same unit," said Wasson.

OFFICES TOO
"The units are sold to persons of all ages, but more retired persons are buying them than ever before for casual touring of the United States. Some traveling salesmen use them in covering their territories. For them, the camper is a home, office and mode of transportation," said Wasson.

Familial buy units to get out of town for weekend jaunts, according to Wasson.

"The expense of a two-week vacation is too much. People are using the camper almost weekly to save on bills in order to go somewhere they haven't been before," added Wasson.

HOUSTON (AP) — Harris County Dist. Atty. Carol Vance urges major changes in the state's criminal justice system.

He said present "horse and buggy" procedures should be overhauled to meet today's society.

He called the Texas Penal Code "an illogical hodgepodge of 100 years of piecemeal legislation."

He noted that at present, possession of a marijuana cigarette carries a two-year to life sentence while murder without malice carries a two to five-year sentence.

Talk It Over

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

EMERGENCY: (Q) Last year my boyfriend and I wanted to get married but my mother said no. This year we wanted to, but my mother still said no. Now I am pregnant and my boyfriend says we must be married and keep the baby. Do you know where we could go to get married without our parents' permission? I am 19. He is nearly 18. — In Trouble in Texas.

(A.) Your state and most of the others permit girls of 19 to marry without parental consent. But I know of none in which it is legal for a boy of 17 to marry without such approval.

Even if I did, I would urge you two to talk with both sets of your parents and to seek both their advice and their consent.

Ordinarily, I think a boy of 18 is too young for marriage, but your case may be an exception, considering that both of you seem to be serious about marriage and the baby.

In view of your pregnancy your mother will probably say yes now. Talk to her and your father immediately. Ask for their love and their help and their blessing.

UNASKED: (Q) I like Mark but he keeps treating me like just a friend. When I see him I always smile and say "hi." Sometimes he doesn't.

One day he was really friendly, but one of his friends interrupted us.

How can I get him away from his friends long enough for him to ask me for a date? — Marcia in Maryland.

(A.) Mark sounds to me as if he is not ready for more than a "good friend" relationship with you. If he were ready to ask you for a date he would manage to find a time and place.

I suggest you continue your warm and friendly, but not forward, approach to him. He may warm up to you, but don't count on it.

SBA District Breaks Record

A record year ending June 30, 1972, was recorded by the Lubbock district office of the Small Business Administration. The district comprises an 8-county area of West Texas. The financial assistance granted by this office amounted to 564 loans totaling $34.2 million. This is an increase of 273 per cent over the previous year.

Philip J. O'Jiway, district director, said the increased business activity was due, principally, to the general economic growth of West Texas and the increased participation of the banks and savings and loan institutions. Approximately 85 per cent of the financial institutions serving this area are now participating in the SBA loan guaranty program. Some 90 per cent of the loans currently being processed are in this category.

Soak Your Head

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A young man signed "Going Bald in Lakewood" wrote that he was losing his hair. You told him that early baldness was hereditary, and there was nothing he could do about it.

Well, I, too, came from a family of bald-headed men, but when I married in 1907, my wife noticed that I was starting to lose my hair, so she told me to soak my head in a strong salt water solution every time I washed my hair and it would stop my hair from falling out. Well, I did as she said, and I never lost any hair after that.

I was born Jan. 22, 1883, which makes me past 89 years old. I kept that wife for over 50 years and I use a salt water rinse faithfully to this day, and still have a full head of hair.

THE REV. D. E. FINLEY, Jonesburg, Mo.

DEAR REV. FINLEY: Congratulations on both counts. Whether you kept your hair because of your wife, or kept that wife because of your hair is anybody's guess, but the salt water rinse is news to me. Have heard of wives telling their husbands to go soak their heads. But in SALT water?

one from holding public office or voting.

However, an individual convicted of corrupt practices (or bribery) with regard to elections is barred from voting and holding public office for three years.

DEAR ABBY: I'm glad you published that letter from a bride of four months who had never had sex. Usually people are too ashamed to talk about it, so they keep it to themselves.

I had the same experience, only I was a virgin for nearly five years! I was young and naive at the time and kept thinking it was my fault for not being able to turn my husband on.

By the time I realized that he could be to blame, I had such an inferiority complex I didn't care if I lived or died.

I went to my parish priest and he said, "Pray to God and everything will be all right."

Then I went to my Bishop. He said, "Threaten to leave him and maybe he will shape up. If he doesn't, you have grounds for an annulment in the Catholic church."

I went to a doctor. He said, "Insist that your husband seek professional help — medical and psychological. If he refuses, leave him."

That's what I did. (He refused to get help so I left him.)
