SOCIALITE Wife Of Millionaire Kidnaped

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The socialite wife of H. C. Piper Jr., millionaire head of a brokerage and investment firm, has been kidnaped from her home, the FBI says. Piper has declined to say how much ransom is being demanded.

GET IN TOUCH

"When they get in touch with me, I certainly plan to cooperate in any way they want," the 54-year-old Piper said a few hours after his wife, Virginia, was kidnaped Thursday.

Piper, board chairman of Piper, Jaffray & Hopwood, Inc., said the two kidnapers left a ransom note but he declined to reveal how much money they wanted. "I just can't tell you that because it would very possibly jeopardize Mrs. Piper's chances. It could be very unwise. They said they would get in touch again."

The FBI, which was called into the case, refused to comment on a news broadcast by a Minneapolis television station which said the ransom demanded was rumored to be $1 million.

The Minneapolis Star reported today it had been told by the FBI that the ransom note demanded about $1 million.

The investment executive talked briefly with newsmen at the foot of the road leading to his country estate about 15 miles west of downtown Minneapolis. He then went into seclusion to await word of his wife.

Authorities said two men wearing masks and gloves entered the Piper home in suburban Orono shortly after noon Thursday, handcuffed Mrs. Piper and tied up two housekeepers.

It took the servants about an hour to get free and notify authorities.

DROP OUT OF SIGHT

Officers quickly set up roadblocks and a helicopter scoured the area, but the one-hour interval apparently allowed the fleeing men to drop out of sight.

Authorities issued a six-state alarm for the kidnapers throughout Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wisconsin, Iowa and Illinois.

Authorities said they were looking for a green sedan followed by a "dirty, yellow" smaller car. The only description given of the kidnapper was that they were "heavy set and tough looking."

Piper said he was notified of the kidnaping at his office.

Mrs. Piper was described by friends as a trim, attractive socialite.

Nixon To Attend Ellender Funeral

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon will fly to Louisiana Monday to attend the funeral of Sen. Allen J. Ellender at Houma, La.

The White House announced today that Nixon also will take along key leaders of the Senate and that transportation arrangements are being worked out for members of the Louisiana delegation in the House to go to the 11 a.m. services for the 81-year-old dean of the Senate who died of a heart attack Thursday.

The White House said the President will return directly to Washington after the funeral.

Bank Robber Gunned Down

FORT WORTH (AP) — A lone gunman robbed the Fort Worth National Bank today, fled with undetermined cash and hostages and was slain by police gunfire minutes later, police reported.

Investigators said the bandit commandeered a car outside the downtown bank and apparently was joined by an accomplice sometime before the shooting occurred.

A police unit at the scene of the shooting, on the city's near south side, said "All subjects are in custody at this time" and added that no hostage was harmed.

The daring holdup occurred shortly before 10:30 a.m.

First reports from the bank indicated the robber forced his way behind the tellers' booths and scooped up money from several cash drawers before seizing the hostages.

Witnesses said the man failed in two gunpoint attempts outside the bank to commandeer a car before forcing his way into an auto.

Officers said the robber took two hostages — Charles Rankin and his 3-year-old son, Chad.

The police said Rankin stuck his thumb between the hammer and the body of the gunman's pistol to keep it from firing.

Police said later the man believed to be an accomplice apparently was a hostage.

Police cars and a police helicopter trailed the getaway car, which they said crashed before the shooting. But they give no details of the shooting.

Investigators said there was no panic at the bank although it was fairly crowded when the gunman, wearing a white coat and a floppy cowboy hat, staged the holdup.

Police blocked off all streets around the area but radio communications indicated some problems with crowd control shortly after the robbery.

Eastland Designated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. James O. Eastland, conservative Mississippi Democrat, was elected presiding pro tempore of the Senate today, succeeding Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana.

The election of Eastland, 67, was by voice vote at the start of the day's Senate session following Ellender's death of a heart attack last night.

CALLS COLUMNIST CHARGES A 'LOW BLOW'

Eagleton In Race To Stay

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy called Democratic vice-presidential nominee Thomas F. Eagleton today to wish him well, an Eagleton aide said.

The aide, press secretary Michael Kelly, said Kennedy called the Missouri senator from Washington and "all he did was to call him and give him his support."

Kennedy reached Eagleton as he was about to address a gathering of local Democrats at a breakfast meeting here.

WILL HURT

The support from Kennedy came one day after columnist Jack Anderson said Eagleton had a record of drunken and reckless driving, a charge Eagleton immediately labeled "a damnable lie."

Eagleton said the Anderson charge probably will hurt his personal reputation.

Eagleton told the breakfast meeting he remains determined to stay on the Democratic ticket and to become vice president.

"I'm 100 per cent satisfied that I can hack it," he said. Eagleton also said he is "doubly determined" to remain on the Democratic ticket as the vice presidential candidate and called Anderson's charges a "low blow."

Eagleton flatly denied a report by Anderson that Missouri senator was arrested a half-dozen times for drunken or reckless driving.

NO TRACE

Anderson made the allegation in a radio broadcast Thursday. The columnist told The Associated Press that he did not have the records himself but learned about them from a "high Missouri official." A check by The AP turned up some past speeding citations in Eagleton's name, but no trace of any arrest for drunken or reckless driving.

Eagleton angrily told a news conference Thursday in Honolulu that he had never been arrested for drunken or reckless driving, and that Anderson's report appeared to him to be a politically motivated attempt to drive him off the Democratic ticket.

In an interview while flying here from Hawaii, Eagleton underscored his newly strengthened resolve to stay on as running mate of Sen. George McGovern.

"I want to pursue this vice presidency with the greatest degree of determination that I possibly can," Eagleton said.

LOW BLOW

Some newspapers and Democratic politicians have said Eagleton should step aside because of his admission Tuesday that he had voluntarily undergone psychiatric treatment and shock therapy for "nervous exhaustion and fatigue" and that he hadn't told McGovern about this until after the Democratic National Convention.

In an interview, Eagleton called Anderson's charge a "low blow." He said he thought it would hurt him because denials and refutations don't always catch up with accusations even when the charges are false.

He said he thought the worst part of the Anderson story would be its possible effect on his relations with his wife and children and on his reputation as a man.

Eagleton said he had talked to McGovern by telephone twice Thursday after the Anderson charge surfaced in the columnist's radio broadcast.

Eagleton said McGovern expressed full confidence in him and told him not to worry.

McGovern, meanwhile, declined to comment on his conversation with Eagleton, saying he had "nothing further to add" to his previously expressed public support for his running mate.

McGovern also told aides that he wanted no further comment on the matter by anyone connected with the campaign, other than Eagleton or himself.

Eagleton was in Honolulu to appeal for support from the Retail Clerks International Association, whose 1,100 convention delegates overwhelmingly voted endorsement of the McGovern-Eagleton ticket.

GO T THE JUMP — This was the way it started for both rider and bulls at the 4-H Junior Rodeo here last evening. But it didn't end in a tie — for in most instances riders got a taste of the arena floor. Only three managed to stay on the required eight seconds.

Bulls Seemed First Round Rodeo Winner

By STEVE HULSMAN

Tough bucking stock took its toll of "busted" rides and broken bones in Thursday night's performance of the Howard County 4-H Junior Rodeo.

All but three young bull riders limped away from their bulls without completing the mandatory eight-second ride. One rider, Russ Davis, Big Spring, was taken by ambulance to a hospital after his bull, White Angel, stomped him, breaking Russ' collarbone. He was treated and released and is in good condition at home.

Two of the three successful riders tied for first place with 70 points each for a pair of spectacular rides in the Thursday night slack. Greg Welch, Roscoe, and Clint Creech, Stanton, overwhelmed third-place rider Charles Merrick, Midland, who earned 52 points for his ride during the show.

Two young steer riders made successful rides in the age 12 and under group. Kevin Snyder took first place with a 59 point ride and Lee Fawcett, Monahan, tied up second with a 50 point effort.

Other successful rides included the 61 point bareback bronc ride of Rickey Doty, Cleburne, on a ride. Second place was won by Mike Tredaway of Big Spring with a 45 point ride. No other bareback bronc riders completed their rides.

One of the largest Thursday night rodeo crowds in many years turned out for the show, which included the grand entry and the crowning of Carla Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Perry of Lomax, as the 4-H Rodeo Queen.

The wild calf race earned top billing as comedy relief for the show, with six big calves, dragging teams of three youngsters apiece around the arena. The first team to saddle their calf and ride him across the finish line included Bill Stockton, Hank Adams and Randy Tucker.

The goat jacking brought even more young spectators into the action, with teams of two trying to catch a young goat, stuff him in a burlap bag and carry him to the finish line. Numerous goats were unceremoniously dumped at the finish line long after a winner had been declared.

Nixon Claims Critics Duped By Propaganda

WASHINGTON (AP) — Counterattacking in the war of words over U.S. bombing, President Nixon says his critics have been duped by Hanoi's propaganda and should recognize that he has held in check "the great power that could finish off North Vietnam in an afternoon."

He also told a news conference Thursday that congressmen who vote for end-the-war resolutions are signaling the communists to stall in peace talks at a time when "the chance for a negotiated settlement is better ... than it has ever been."

The President stopped short of denying that any U.S. bombs had damaged North Vietnam's dikes and dams, but singled out United Nations Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim for seizing "upon this enemy-inspired propaganda which has taken in many well-intentioned and naive people."

Waldheim said this week he had received information that the dikes had been damaged by U.S. warplanes and appealed for a halt in the bombing.

The State Department said Wednesday there had been slight and unintentional damage to the installations, and Nixon said Thursday "if damage did occur ... we are making every possible effort to see that it will not occur again."

As he faced reporters in his Oval Office, Nixon plunged into a spirited defense of his Vietnam policies, setting the stage for continuing debate in an election campaign he predicted would be "close ... hard-fought ... right down to the wire."

He declined to discuss the disclosure of Democratic vice-presidential nominee Thomas Eagleton's past psychiatric treatment, saying he would not "interject myself into that problem" and that he would not campaign on personalities.

"The issues that divide the opposite side and this administration are so wide—in fact, the clearest choice in this century—that we must campaign on the issues," he said.

One major campaign issue is Vietnam, and Nixon indirectly took Democratic nominee George McGovern to task for saying he would halt the bombing immediately and bring all U.S. troops and prisoners of war home within 90 days—proposals which Republicans say hurt U.S. peace efforts.

"The fastest way to end the war and the best way to end it is through negotiation," the President said. "We would hope that public figures in their comments will not do anything to undercut the negotiations."

Suspected Killer Of Student's Wife

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Travis County Grand Jury has indicted Michael David Sanders, a slightly built youth with shoulder-length hair and a string of aliases, in the shooting and burning death of a college student's wife.

Sanders, 19, of Ruston, La., was accused of killing Kathleen Matzilevich, also 19, of Worcester, Mass.

Official sources said Sanders could justifiably have been charged also with the slaying of her husband, Thomas Matzilevich, 21, of Natick, Mass., but only one charge could be brought to trial.

The bodies, which had been drenched with gasoline and set afire, were found next to their blazing car in a hilly, wooded park area 13 miles from here July 16. Both had been shot.

The indictment alleges that

Sanders, alias David Matthews and David Griggs, killed "Katherine Matzilevich by shooting her with a gun and burning her with fire."

Sources indicated that Sanders gave a statement in connection with the slayings.

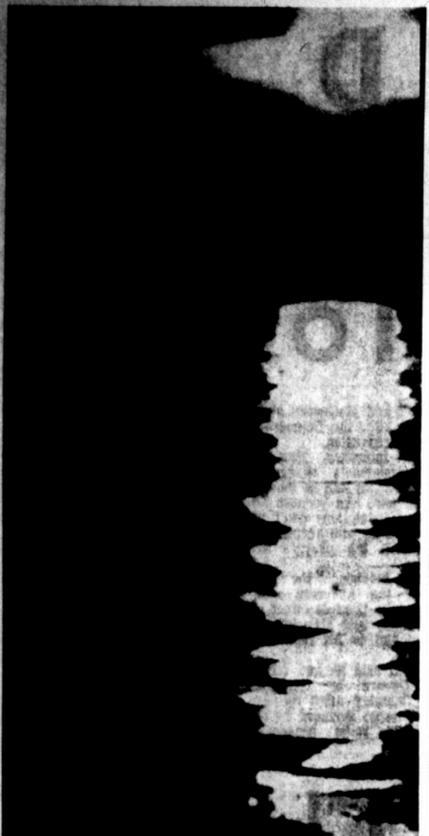

Dist. Atty. Bob Smith said the case will come up for arraignment and the setting of a trial date next Thursday, but a two-week postponement probably would be granted because of a rule governing cases — such as Sanders' — in which the defendant has a court-appointed attorney.

Smith said the case probably would come to trial 30 to 60 days after Sanders is arraigned.

Relatives of the slain woman in Massachusetts say her name was Kathleen, not Katherine as stated in the indictment.

OIL Howard Well Still Flows

A Strawn discovery in northwest Howard County continued to look good on tests today. Latest report said that Desana Corp. No. 1 Armstrong, 20 miles northwest of Big Spring and just east of US 87, flowed 159 barrels of oil through a quarter-inch choke. There was no water.

Previously it made 121 barrels in 14 hours from 9,044-9,068. Location is 860 from the north and 1,980 from the west lines of section 30-33-3n, T&P. Testing on a T&P section in a Martin County venture produced no results. Martin and Mitchell County recorded completions.

Dockers Shut Down Ports In England

LONDON (AP) — Dockers shut down British ports today with a national strike and the government promised "immediate consideration" of emergency moves to head off an economic crisis.

Any extended dock strike would imperil the foreign trade earnings by which this island nation lives, and drive down further the already weak pound sterling.

There was also concern about possible price rises for imported food. Stores were already reporting increasing prices for reported fruits and other staples like Danish bacon.

More than 150 ships were idled at ports in England, Scotland and Wales by the walkout by 42,000 dockers who claim that plans for port modernization and various pay arrangements are inadequate.

The government is known to have drawn up plans for declaring a state of emergency. Employment Secretary Maurice Macmillan refused to give assurances that the government's controversial strike control law would be suspended. Opposition Labor lawmakers had demanded a suspension in the wake of the jailing of five dockers last week that touched off the threat of the nation's first general strike since 1926. The men were later released. Macmillan thus left open the possibility that the law could be invoked to get a cooling off period in the dock dispute and a temporary return to work while Jones and Lord Aldington consider revised plans. But the militancy in the docks seemed to rule this out.

A cooling off period could be enforced only by the threat of arrest against striking dockers or fines against their union, steps the government is believed unlikely to risk in the current atmosphere.

Open house for the new facilities at the Dora Rehabilitation Center will be held Sept. 24, it was announced at the board meeting Thursday. The center has increased its space and added much needed new equipment for the area at a cost of approximately $100,000.

The Center, however, is in need of more financial support because during the first nine months of its fiscal year, receipts have amounted to $64,000. At that rate, the Center will be around $14,000 in the hole when the time comes to dedicate the new wing.

Jack Powell, president, noted that reports showed $12,617 services were performed in the third quarter in physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech and hearing therapy, learning disability assistance, speech and hearing evaluation, and in vocational and psychological evaluation services. For the first three quarters the figure was $49,623.

The difficulty, however, is that payments are on the basis of what the recipient can afford — and sometimes that is nothing.

That means that contributions and other assistance is necessary to keep the program going for the community.

Two men, aged 18 and 20, are in custody today in Howard County and are to be charged with theft over $50.

The men were arrested at 2:20 a.m. today as they were allegedly attempting to steal a roll of chain-link fencing from the Glenn Leppard residence on Midway Road.

Lepard told officers that the value of the wire would be approximately $90.

Deputy Sheriffs Bill Chadwell and Al Lee and Sheriff's department Sgt. Robert Puente made the early morning arrest.

DALLAS (AP) — A secretary suffered the loss of her left eye, was shot and forced to commit indignities by a man she said she admitted to her apartment Thursday when he posed as a police officer.

It was the second time this month that a woman has been assaulted by a man posing as a police officer. The first instance was July 10. The woman was raped, threatened and robbed of 80 cents.

Detectives B. B. Norris said the young woman was found wandering in a daze outside her apartment house. She said she did not recall being shot and only that the assailant hit her in the face with his fist in forcing her to submit to sodomy.

Doctors said the bullet struck the woman in the left eye, apparently at an angle. The eye was removed at a hospital.

Police said she told them the man—about 24 to 26 years old—came to her apartment, claiming to be a vice squad officer who needed to use the apartment for a stakeout.

She cooperated and let him in. Once inside, the man asked to use the bathroom, and came out moments later, naked, brandishing the gun.

Police said the man left the apartment, apparently believing he had killed the woman.

No Thanks, Says Sadat

CAIRO (AP) — President Anwar Sadat has rejected Israeli Premier Golda Meir's appeal to join her in peace talks, saying to accept would be tantamount to surrender and Egypt would never do that.

"We say from behind our trenches that we will not surrender," Sadat said in a broadcast Thursday night. "We will not accept the fait accompli which we are being requested to accept."

It was the Egypt's first official reaction to Mrs. Meir's speech Wednesday in which she called on Sadat to sit down with her and negotiate a peace agreement.

Sadat said direct talks would not be held while Israel occupies Egyptian territories.

Police Imposter Assaults Woman

DALLAS (AP) — A secretary suffered the loss of her left eye, was shot and forced to commit indignities by a man she said she admitted to her apartment Thursday when he posed as a police officer.

It was the second time this month that a woman has been assaulted by a man posing as a police officer. The first instance was July 10. The woman was raped, threatened and robbed of 80 cents.

Detectives B. B. Norris said the young woman was found wandering in a daze outside her apartment house. She said she did not recall being shot and only that the assailant hit her in the face with his fist in forcing her to submit to sodomy.

Doctors said the bullet struck the woman in the left eye, apparently at an angle. The eye was removed at a hospital.

Police said she told them the man—about 24 to 26 years old—came to her apartment, claiming to be a vice squad officer who needed to use the apartment for a stakeout.

She cooperated and let him in. Once inside, the man asked to use the bathroom, and came out moments later, naked, brandishing the gun.

Class 73-01 Graduation

Graduation ceremonies for undergraduate pilot training (UPT) class 73-01 will be Saturday, including a review on the flightline and a dinner-dance that night.

Group one of Class 73-01 entered preflight training on Sept. 2, 1971, with over 60 students. Students began flying the T-41 Mescalero on Sept. 9.

In October, the officers began primary training in the T-37 Tweeter, and progressed to the T-38 Talon in March, 1972.

2nd Lt. Donald J. Shead was the first to solo in the T-41. 2nd Lt. John R. Dobbs did his first in the T-37, and first T-38 solo in the T-38, and 2nd Lt. Frank J. Berlakovich.

New Frisco Rail Line Being Built

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A new state rail line is being built and Frisco railway officials say it will be shorter and faster than a route through Lawton and Oklahoma City to Tulsa.

Workers have begun laying heavy rail on the Tulsa to Avarad, Okla., branch in preparation of rerouting two trans-continental freight trains which the Frisco operates with the Santa Fe Railway Co. over this track rather than through Oklahoma City to Floydada, Tex.

The one eastbound train on the line carries mostly fruit and perishable vegetables.

The two westbound trains, which originate at Birmingham, Ala., and are bound for Los Angeles and San Francisco, carry clothing, merchandise and machine parts.

The new route will be Clovis, N.M.—Amarillo, Tex.—Avarad, Okla.—Enid, Okla. and Tulsa.

The current route is Clovis, where the main line to Los Angeles starts, Lubbock, Tex.—Plainview, Tex.—Floydada, Tex.—Lawton, Okla.—Oklahoma City and Tulsa.

The Tulsa-Avarad-Clovis route will be 52.4 miles shorter than the current route and much straighter, a Frisco spokesman said.

The saving is expected to be at least two hours.

"The name of the game now is speed," said a Frisco executive.

Although no date of completion has been set, the spokesman said a likely time would be in 1973.

Service will be continued to Floydada under present plans.

'Sky Poolroom'

GREENWOOD, Miss. (AP) — I. A. Bromfield has his "poolroom in the sky," something he always said he wanted.

Bromfield, 30, was buried near here this week, his coffin covered with a pool table, complete with balls and cue sticks, a pair of dice and six "gambler's dreams"—royal flush poker hands—placed in the table's pockets.

The pool table was part of Bromfield's wishes. He wanted to be buried with the tools of his trade.

LBJ Returns To His Ranch, Didn't Have Heart Attack

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Former President Lyndon B. Johnson is back at his LBJ Ranch after less than three days of hospital care for a flareup which doctors say was not a heart attack.

Johnson, 63, who suffered a major heart attack in 1955 and only last April, left the Army's Brooke General Hospital Thursday morning.

Doctors earlier had left open the possibility that he had suffered a heart attack when chest pains and nausea struck him Monday night at his ranch.

But in a statement Thursday, the hospital reported: "His physician described his illness as angina pectoris, which he explained as an episode of chest pains without an actual heart attack."

While the former chief executive was allowed to go home, his younger daughter, Mrs. Patrick Nugent, was still undergoing tests Thursday at a hospital in Austin about 80 miles from here. Spokesmen said only that she had complained of upper respiratory difficulties and was hospitalized Monday, the same day Johnson came here.

Johnson left Brooke in typical fashion—unannounced beforehand. Spokesmen said later that he was accompanied on the 60-mile helicopter trip to the ranch by his wife, Lady Bird, who stayed at his side almost constantly throughout his stay here.

He was released from Brooke one day before his attending physician, Col. Robert L. North, was to retire from the military.

North, a heart specialist, has treated Johnson periodically since he was flown to Brooke in 1970 for chest pains that were attributed to hardening of the heart arteries.

Trial Of Ex-Bigwig Mason, Boss Continues

DALLAS (AP) — The trial of John McKee, alias James Kell Zullinger, one-time Dallas Crime Commissioner, went into its fifth day today with signs that the state was nearing the ends of its case.

McKee is indicted for fraud involving Masonic funds.

Lee Lockwood of Waco, top-ranking officer of the Scottish Rite Masonic order in Texas and second highest in the nation, testified Thursday. He was advised to keep himself available to take the stand again later if needed.

'MY EYES AND EARS'

Lockwood, a distinguished-appearing man in his 60s and wearing a dark suit and black tie, told the court he had been a Mason more than 50 years. He has been Sovereign Grand Inspector-General in Texas for about 21 years and three years ago was elected by the Supreme Council to be Deputy Grand Commander. Only the Supreme Grand Commander, Henry Clauson, ranks higher in the Scottish Rite.

SON-IN-LAW

Lockwood said McKee, who was his personal representative besides being chairman of the executive committee of the Dallas bodies, was "my eyes and ears" and was supposed to report any irregularities that came to his notice.

Lockwood said he did not authorize McKee's purchase of a car for Charlotte Weirauch with lodge funds, but he raised no objection about McKee getting a Lincoln Mark 3 automobile for his son-in-law, Bill Fosher, at "an attractive price." He did not know until later that Masonic funds were used.

Other testimony Thursday touched on the sale of bank stock by McKee to the Scottish Rite and his subsequent taking of it back after auditors objected to its alleged over-valuation. McKee was a director of the bank at the time.

Patty Scott, a bookkeeper at the Scottish Rite, told of writing out a check at McKee's order for $1,547.02 payable to the City Club last September. She said she was not aware that it was used to pay a debt at the club for Charlotte Weirauch's son.

When McKee's defender, Bill Alexander, objected and demanded that this reference be stricken from the court record, Judge John Mead overruled the request after Asst. Dist. Atty. Doug Mulder said: "It shows the defendant's intent to embezzle funds from the Scottish Rite."

The bidding:
South West North East

Opening lead: King of ♠

Altho the taking of nine tricks at three no trump would have been routine, South cannot be faulted for bidding four spades over his partner's response of one no trump. A mere jump to three spades is not forcing and, holding eight winners, South is warranted in insisting on game after North keeps the bidding open. Once there, declarer gave a very skillful account of himself.

West opened the king of hearts on which East followed with the deuce and declarer with the nine. A switch appeared to be in order and West promptly shifted to the eight of diamonds. The three was played from dummy and East put up the jack, which won the trick. The king of diamonds was returned and North was in with the ace.

It appears that South must lose four tricks—one heart, two diamonds, and one club, unless the king of clubs falls under the ace. A singleton club honor appeared so remote to declarer that he sought for a more likely prospect. Presently he uncovered a plan which depended on East's holding the guarded king of clubs, as well as the queen of diamonds which the previous plays had marked in the latter's possession.

South proceeded to cash out seven rounds of spades on which he discarded three clubs, and three hearts from the dummy. East followed to the first three rounds and then parted with the five and jack of hearts and the six of clubs. The last spade placed him in desperate straits. He realized that if he surrendered the four of diamonds, a diamond play by declarer would throw him in with the queen and force him to lead away from the king of clubs.

In order to avoid the end-play, East discarded the seven of clubs, producing the following position with three cards left:

NORTH

SOUTH

The only question left in South's mind was whether East had two diamonds and one club left, or one diamond and two clubs. If it was the latter, then the winning play is to exit with a diamond and force East to lead away from his doubleton club. If, on the other hand, East is down to two diamonds and one club, declarer's only hope is to play the ace of clubs.

After some thought, South decided to try for the drop and he cashed his ace of clubs. This decision was rewarded by the appearance of the king from East. North's queen of clubs took the fulfilling trick and the defense was limited to two diamonds and one heart on the deal.

Council OKs Paving List

James Campbell, director of public works, presented to the city commission Wednesday a list of streets which he recommends for summer seal-coating.

The streets under recommendation for the program were chosen on a citywide basis. Campbell noted that previously, a rotating section system was used to determine the streets to receive treatment. He said that streets most needing the treatment were often postponed their seal-coat because of the sectioning program.

The list designated 128 blocks for seal-coating, representing a cost of approximately $16,000 in pre-cast rock asphalt. Ultimate programming of the seal-coat project will include approximately 150 blocks, costing an estimated $20,000.

Campbell said he trimmed the program recommendation on the present list in order to allow city commissioners to recommend streets for seal-coating. Also some streets may have been overlooked.

The commission approved Campbell's recommendation and authorized him to advertise for bids on the aggregate.

'New' Dolman Sleeves Revived From 1920s'

By SUSAN SWARTZ
Casper News Service

The dolman is the really big sleeve of the fall season.

Like most of '72 fashion, it is a rerun, but it looks newer than most, because it hasn't been around since way back in the '20s.

In contrast to the skinny sleeve and the uptight armhole of the current season, the dolman has all the room you want in a sleeve. And more.

In its purest form, the dolman is a sleeve fitted smoothly into an armhole that is large enough to extend almost to the waistline. Think batwing.

Designers love the dolman, putting it in everything from the safest little shirtdress to lured evening numbers.

There is the turtleneck a la dolman. And the dolman sweater dress, recharged for the new season with a much wider sleeve than last year's sweater dress.

There are varieties of dolman. There's the sleeve that truly begins at the waistline to give a woman quite a wingspread. And the dolman that starts midway up the torso — a conservative dolman that is the most wearable of all varieties.

There is the dolman that goes in a jacket or sweater, stopping short at the waist. This top-heavy look can be carried off by only the leanest and tallest of figures. The short jacket with dolman sleeves looks most complete with wide Fred Astaire pants.

The fullest dolman sleeve goes best in coats and some evening dresses.

The wrapped coat, the big one of the season, when done dolman, looks as roomy as Henry Kissinger's bathrobe.

The dolman is different enough that designers can tag it on to the old looks and call them new. Like the shirtdress and all layers of sweaters. The dolman sweater does have its value. Because it's roomy, it's easier to put over another sweater or a long-sleeved shirt.

The big sleeve — which includes the kimono, raglan and drop shoulder styles — is part of the move to easy clothes. I lamented the flat-chested requirements of the sweater look so much a part of dressing, the dolman should be a comfort. My dears, a 42D could get women who have been heard absolutely lost in it.

Miss Atkins Is Alternate 4-H Winner

Mollie Atkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Atkins, was named first alternate at the District 2 dress revue for 4-H Young Designers at the Red Raider Inn in Lubbock Thursday.

Eighteen South Plains counties were represented by 36 girls in the junior and senior division. If any of the four principals cannot take part in the state finals at Dallas during the State Fair, Mollie will compete at that time.

Mollie modeled her creation which was a full-length vest overlying a plum-colored skirt and multi-colored blouse with long sleeves. This had won her the right to participate in the district finals.

Also at the meeting from here were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Atkins, her grandmother, Mrs. A. J. Stallings, and aunt, Miss Twila Lomax; also Mrs. B. W. Jackson, Gay Hill, and daughter, Teresa, who won the county junior title. The juniors were honored but were not contestants on the district level.

The four top winners at the district affair sponsored by Plains Co-op Oil Mill, were Connie Bartlett, Dawson County; Renee Nelson, Terry County; Cindy Caswell, Hockley County; and Pam Owens, Gaines County. Second alternate was Debbie Lulin, Hale County; and Elaine Winn, Mitchell County, won a red award. Connie Bartlett's entry was judged the best all-cotton entry.

Among other juniors honored from this area were Teresa Smith, Mitchell County, and Gayle Griffin, Dawson County.

VFW Scholarship Contest Detailed

Members of Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary to Post 2013 discussed the "Voice of Democracy" scholarship program which they will support in this community, at a meeting Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Homer Petty, 708 N. Gregg.

"My Responsibility to Freedom" is the theme of the VFW nationally-sponsored program. More details concerning how to enter the contest will be announced.

Mrs. G. R. Broughton Sr. presided, and members agreed to send $5 to a relief fund for flood victims in Rapid City, S.D. The next meeting is at 7 p.m., Aug. 24 in the home of Mrs. Petty.

Mrs. R. Rameriz Feted At Shower

Mrs. Raymond Rameriz was honored at a baby shower Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. George Tiffany Foster, Oasis Acres. Host group for the affair was the Foster Flyers Unit, Stanley Home Products.

A white lace cloth covered the refreshment table which was centered with an arrangement of pink and blue candies. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

Mrs. Rameriz, who is expecting her first child in early August, was presented a corsage of pink and blue carnations accented with white ribbon streamers.

RODEO QUEEN — Carla Perry, 18, was named queen of the Howard County 4-H Junior Rodeo in ceremonies held Thursday evening at the Rodeo Bowl. Miss Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Perry, is a member of the Lomax 4-H Club which sold the most tickets for the event. She was presented a plaque and a bouquet of roses.

'Gutsy' Black Actress Wins Acclaim From New York Critics

By PEACE MOFFAT
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Vinie Burrows is a gutsy actress who has the nerve to think she can stand on a stage for an hour and a half and entertain an audience all by herself.

But the amazing thing is—she can—and won great acclaim from New York critics for her one-woman show, "Walk Together Children," which she calls a "journey into the black experience."

In her apartment here that looks almost like a country home—with plants hanging from the ceiling, tomatoes ripening on the terrace, warm, wood-grained furniture and stacks and stacks of books, Miss Burrows settled her tiny frame into a rocking chair and discussed her work.

With her hair wrapped in a turban, and wearing a shirt and slacks, she looked more like a housewife—which she is, with a husband of 19 years and two children—than an actress, director, producer and businesswoman, which she also is and has to be to keep her show going.

"I was born and grew up in New York City," she begins. "I remember when I was about 6—it must have been something I said, but a lady said to my mother, 'Oh, she's going to be an actress.' After that I was inspired I went to Central Park and practiced speaking with pebbles in my mouth."

She graduated from high school with a beautician's license, however, because her mother felt an actress's career wasn't entirely respectable.

A LOVELIER YOU Ecological Skin Care Begins In Kitchen

By MARY SUE MILLER

Light years ago, most skin care creams and lotions were homemade in the kitchen from hand-me-down recipes. History repeats itself!

Owing to the back-to-nature movement, the female contingent seeks cosmetics formulated with natural ingredients, and there is a wealth of such products on the market. The adventurous try to assemble the makings and combine them at home. As a rule, attempts are not very successful.

But where there's a will, there's a way. It's a surprise package. The surprise is an empty jar. Plus a bottle of liquid that fills half the jar. You fill the other half with any natural ingredient that strikes your ecological fancy, meaning of course that only fresh fruits, vegetables, juices and milk may be used. Combinations are permissible, according to accompanying instructions.

All concoctions must be refrigerated to retard oxidation. The addition of a mashed up vitamin-C tablet curbs oxidation when such perishables as bananas or avocados are used. Citrus responds to baking soda.

If you are allergy-prone, you should patch test your creations in the brook of your elbow. Let us say a dish of strawberries gives you a rash. Strawberries in your jar may or may not act likewise.

For an attractive finish, a bit of perfume and food coloring may be added. Wellsprings of creams and lotions are yours for the making. Put on your apron!

MARGARET DANA'S Consumer's Question-Box

Q. I have always been under the impression that it was illegal to mention your competitor's name in a commercial to compare quality. This is being done now, with headache powders, for instance. The last part of the commercial says, "Better than Bufferin, better than Anacin, and better than Bayer." How can they do that? If it is not legal how does this company get away with it?

A. Until recently it was considered both unethical and illegal generally to use a competitor's name and produce in advertising for purposes of downgrading it. But the Federal Trade Commission has announced they're going to have a trial year during which advertisers can name competing products when they make comparative claims. Two networks, ABC and CBS, are experimenting with this FTC edict.

Q. For a person trying to maintain good nutrition on a Social Security income, would you please answer this question: Is there any significant difference in the food values of sharp and mild natural cheese and also between natural and processed cheese?

A. Checking over the charts of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's "Nutritive Value of Foods," I see that no difference is suggested in the nutritive values of sharp and mild cheddar (or "American") cheese. Aging is the chief difference, which alters the degree of flavor and removes some of the moisture. The basic nutrition obtained from the milk source would remain the same. Cheddar process cheese is slightly below natural cheddar in nutrition, especially in calcium.

Q. I have received through my mail a little gold fancy pin and a request for $2 as a donation to a charity. I do not want the pin. I did not ask for it, and I wonder if I am obligated to keep it and send it in the "donation," or price.

A. No. There is no legal obligation on your part to either return the pin or pay for it. Unordered merchandise has been ruled by the FTC as not committing the receiver to any action.

Q. In your column a few weeks ago you asked for our suggestions for improving the consumer's ability to buy what he wanted and to get what he thought he was getting. Here is a suggestion: In displaying electrical appliances it seems to me the prospective buyer should be allowed to read the little booklet supplied by the manufacturer with the appliance, giving information and directions. But it is always sealed in the appliance box. Before deciding on the appliance, and taking it home, it would help to have the maker's information first. Twice I wouldn't have bought the item I did buy, if I had had access to this little book first.

A. Your suggestion is both practical and important. I will relay it to the Association of Home Appliance Manufacturers and to the Federal Trade Commission, which is studying reports on what consumers would like in the way of information. I hope other consumers will write me their suggestions.

CHARGE OF STEALING FROM STATE Ratliff Wins Delay Of Trial

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Former State Sen. David Ratliff, suffering from hypertension and depression—has won a two-month postponement of his theft trial.

The trial, originally set for Aug. 28, was re-scheduled for Oct. 30 at the request of Ratliff's lawyers.

Frank Maloney of Austin, one of the attorneys, told State District Court Judge Mace B. Thurman that Ratliff was not healthy enough, physically or mentally, to help prepare his defense.

"We are not maintaining that Mr. Ratliff is mentally ill. We are stating that he is a person who has been suffering from hypertension. Obviously he is depressed over this (his indictment and pending trial)," Maloney said.

Thurman also set a hearing on pre-trial matters, which might include a request to move the trial to another city, for Oct. 20.

Ratliff, 60, is charged with stealing two state treasury warrants—paychecks—for $520.18 each, made out to one of his former secretaries, Mrs. Virginia Moser of Abilene.

Allegedly, the checks were cashed by someone and the money was turned over to Ratliff.

ALSO INDICTED

Ratliff, of Stamford, resigned from the Senate April 26 while the Travis County grand jury was investigating him.

He also has been indicted, with Rep. John Allen of Longview, on charges they conspired to steal state funds by employing one another's children without intending for them to do any work.

Wearing a light gray suit, Ratliff walked stiffly, held his wife's right arm above the elbow and looked straight ahead as he entered the courtroom.

Mrs. Ratliff, her eyes shielded by dark glasses, was clad in a dark blue dress and wore white gloves.

DID NOT SPEAK

The former senator did not speak during the hearing before Thurman.

Maloney said he could "not say definitely that in 60 days he will be well." Dist. Atty. Bob Smith said he would ask Thurman to have Ratliff examined by someone other than his family doctor if another postponement is sought in October.

A change of venue hearing scheduled for Friday morning was cancelled. There were indications Maloney might not seek to move the trial site if what he called "publicity" subsides.

Maloney and Smith were adversaries in another trial this year involving alleged breach of public trust by a state official—the conspiracy to accept a bribe trial of ex-speaker Gus Mutscher. Mutscher was convicted.

Thurman rejected Maloney's motion to quash the indictment against Ratliff. Maloney contended the indictment was not specific enough in its description of the checks that Ratliff allegedly stole. But Smith said the indictment spells out the amounts, dates, payee and even the serial number of the checks.

'DISCOVERY'

The judge granted a motion to require Smith to produce any "exculpatory or mitigating" evidence that might put Ratliff in a favorable light. Smith said he had none.

Also granted as a "discovery" motion requiring Smith to produce his evidence in advance.

When Smith tried to hand Maloney, in open court, "the state warrants that are applicable to this case," Maloney flared up, saying: "I don't want to prejudice the jury. His standing up and saying, 'I have 13 additional warrants' (besides those identified in the indictment) will be all over the papers."

Contract Awarded For Flooring

A contract has been awarded to Sherwin Williams Company for installation of acoustical flooring in the non-seat areas of the Howard County Junior College.

The HCJC trustees let a contract for $986 for materials and 237 for labor, which was a couple of dollars under the second bid. Plans are to carpet the area from the stage to the seats, the aisles, and the area from the back seats to the rear wall.

Integration Delay Granted

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Fort Worth schools will have until January to implement an expanded integration program, an appellate court has ruled.

The Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals granted the delay Thursday, giving the schools until the second semester of the 1972-1973 school year to begin the program.

The court originally ordered changes in the system to be accomplished by this fall.

Schools lawyers also sought a rehearing on the court order calling for integration of 16 all-black schools in the district. They said Thursday the court had not acted on the rehearing motion.

BEULAH GETS HER KICKS?

DALLAS (AP) — Anybody here seen Beulah?

Described as a mild-mannered brunette, she's missing from the National Shrine Convention.

Vernon Dingwell is offering a $50 reward for anyone who can turn up Beulah. It's not that he's specially attached to her, but her kind is hard to come by and even harder to train.

Beulah is one of 13 trained parade mules, brought to Dallas July 17 by the Atty Kaly Shrine of Colorado Springs, Colo., for the big Shriner parade.

She took to the wild ways of city life and never made the march.

Kick It, Man

BOSTON (AP) — The hazards of smoking include possible foot trouble, says the past president of the American Podiatry Association, Dr. Ernest M. Weiner.

He told the group's annual convention Thursday that cigarette smoking will aggravate the problems of poor or borderline circulation.

Move To Lower $55,000 Farm Subsidy Defeated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate defeated, 45 to 22, Thursday a move to lower from $55,000 to $20,000 the maximum annual subsidy that may be paid to each farmer for limiting his crops.

Opponents of the amendment, offered by Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., said it would breach faith with farmers.

The Senate also rejected by voice vote an amendment to a $13.5 billion Agriculture Department appropriations bill by Sen. Frank Moss, D-Utah, to halt price supports and other government subsidies for tobacco.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., won voice vote approval of an amendment increasing funds for the food stamp program to $2.5 billion, an increase of nearly $170 million over the Nixon administration's request.

The bill's total is about $614 million over President Nixon's budget but $409 million under last year's appropriation. It is about $670 million over the amount voted by the House, for the bill which also covers environmental and consumer agencies.

A House-Senate conference committee will have to work out a compromise.

Bayh said his amendment was designed "to limit subsidies to large corporate farmers—not to deny them to family farmers." He said one half of one per cent of producers now receive 14 per cent of subsidy payments and estimated his amendment would save the government about $150 million a year.

What Happened To Good Old Days?

PITTSBURGH (AP) — "What happened to the good old days?" Charles Fragapane asked when he appeared in City Court for the worst unpaid parking ticket bill in the city's history.

City Magistrate Robert Dauer asked Fragapane why he had accrued $1,640 in fines in the past year.

"Hell, up to a few years ago, I never worried about it," the defendant replied.

"What happened to the good old days when I could get this whole thing worked out for $40?" the 46-year-old Fragapane asked.

Dauer gave him a year to pay up, and Fragapane promised to pay $200 today — "Maybe more, depending on who wins the baseball game."

Two Japanese Students Visit In West Texas

By LINDA CROSS
 "One big difference we've found between this country and our home of Tokyo, Japan, is that over here, there is more open space in the cities and between the houses," said Shinya Kobayashi, 17, who made his first visit this week to the wide open spaces of West Texas.

Shinya and his sister, Yurimi Kobayashi, 19, both of Tokyo, Japan, have been touring the United States throughout the month of July.

While in Big Spring, they were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. John Hogan, 509 Westover. Dr. Hogan has a mutual friend, Dr. Elton Trueblood, a retired professor at Earlham College, Richmond, Ind., said Mrs. Hogan.

HOSPITALITY RETURNED
 "Two years ago, we visited Tokyo while on tour, and we met the Kobayashi family and visited their church and school, and we were delighted to be able to have Shinya and Yurimi as our guests. Big Spring was the only stop in Texas on their tour," added Mrs. Hogan.

Mrs. Kobayashi attended Earlham College in Indiana, where she majored in elementary education and became a friend of Dr. Trueblood's. Mrs. Kobayashi assists her husband in the operation of the kindergarten.

Although this was the first visit to Shinya and Yurimi to West Texas, it was not their first visit to the United States.

SECOND VISIT
 "Six years ago, we came with our parents to a Yoke Fellowship Conference in Richmond, Ind.," said Yurimi. Mrs. Hogan, also a member of Yoke, explained that Yoke is an inter-denominational organization for Christians.

Shinya and Yurimi explained that their parents' work with a Christian church is unusual.

"Only one per cent are Christian, and 99 per cent have no religion at all," said Yurimi, adding, "Religion is changing in Japan."

Despite the fact that there are many shrines of other sects maintained in Japan, Shinya said that they had little effect on the lives of the people.

"They go their because it is the custom. There are no religious services held any more in most of the shrines," said Shinya.

"A few years ago, I wanted to become a pastor, but my father did not want me to become a pastor. I think now that I would like to be an economist," said Shinya, who is a senior and vice-president of the 2,700-member student body at Keio High School in Tokyo.

"Some of my friends have thought that I should become a doctor, but I don't really want to become a doctor," added Shinya.

DIFFICULT STUDIES
 "To become a doctor is one of the hardest things in Japan," said Yurimi, a sophomore majoring in English literature at the Women's University of Japan in Tokyo.

"In the United States, a student picks the college or university he wishes to attend, takes entrance examinations and can pick a major study after entering college," said Yurimi. "In Japan, this is not so. A student must pick a major, study in that area for exams to a certain college or university and then is admitted."

"If the student fails the exam to that college, another college or university must be applied to until the examinations are passed. The colleges cannot admit the student to study another major," added Yurimi.

RELIGION IN THE NEWS Area Churches Set Varied Activities

By LINDA CROSS
 First Presbyterian Church will hold its annual ice cream supper Sunday at 6:30 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall.

Each church member-family that owns an ice-cream freezer is asked to bring it full of ice cream to the church Sunday. Member families without ice cream freezers are asked to bring cakes to round out the treat.

After the supper, Dr. and Mrs. Mel Porter will show pictures of their trip to the Holy Land.

All members of the church are invited to attend.

Revival services with Evangelist Ronald Lee, Houston, will begin Sunday at Birdwell Lane Baptist Church. The revival will continue through Sunday, Aug. 6.

Services will be at 10 a.m. and 8 p.m. Monday through Saturday, and at 10:50 a.m. and 6:30 a.m. on each Sunday.

Evangelist Lee, who is pastor of Northway Baptist Church in Houston, will bring the message at each service. Charles Grizzard will be in charge of music for the revival.

The public is invited to attend.

R. G. Parkinson, Burleson, Tex., will be in charge of the Gospel Meeting Monday through Sunday at Coahoma Church of Christ.

Services will be at 10 a.m. Tuesday through Friday and at 7 p.m. each weekday. Sunday services will be at 10:50 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Parkinson, who has conducted services at other Big Spring area churches, is known for his work with young people as director of the Thorp Springs Christian Camp, Granbury, Tex. He has done evangelistic work in Canada, Louisiana and Texas, and he is currently minister of a church in Burleson, Tex.

Ralph G. Beistle, minister of Coahoma Church of Christ invites the public to attend the revival services.

The Rev. Kenneth Plumley Abilene, will be guest speaker at Gospel Tabernacle Sunday and Sunday, Aug. 6. He will speak at the 1 a.m. and 7 p.m. services each Sunday, according to the Rev. Dorothy Brooks, pastor of Gospel Tabernacle.

Election of elders and deacons of First Presbyterian Church will be held Sunday during worship service. Vacations cause postponement of the elections originally scheduled for last Sunday.

Members of the congregation are urged to be present Sunday for the elections.

A round of meetings beginning with a meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 1, of the Sunday School Council are planned for organizations of First Presbyterian Church.

All meetings will be held in the church parlor. Women of the Church will meet Monday, Aug. 7, at 2 p.m. for their monthly general meeting; members of the Margaret Currie Circle will meet at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, Aug. 8; members of the Christian Education Committee will also meet Aug. 8 at 7 p.m.; and the Board of Deacons will meet Thursday, Aug. 10, at 7:30 p.m.

Missionary work in this area is planned by the Rev. Pearl Mann, former minister of Gospel of Faith Church Stephenville, Tex.

The Rev. Mann moved to Big Spring after resigning her pastorate. She now resides at lot 32, Hillside Trailer Park.

Hearse In 'No Stopping' Zone
 BALTIMORE (AP) — A funeral was delayed Thursday when a police tow truck impounded a hearse — and its casket cargo — parked in a "no stopping" zone.
 "This is outrageous," stormed the undertaker, William E. Johnson, after the hearse was towed away while he was in the Health Department obtaining a death certificate.
 Johnson went to the nearby office of Mayor William Donald Schafer, where he arranged to have the vehicle released.
 "These policemen sometimes get overanxious," Fred Hoffman, the impound lot supervisor, said after being informed that a city ordinance permits hearses to violate many parking rules.

Mother Of Four Perishes In Fire
 HOUSTON (AP) — A bedroom fire has taken the life of a 31-year-old divorcee and left her four children homeless.
 Linda Carol Stanley was found dead after firemen tapped out the fire at her home here. Firemen said the fire was contained to Mrs. Stanley's bedroom.

'Old-Time Tent' Evangelist Is Former All-American Athlete

FORMER ALL-AMERICAN ... Evangelist Joe Boyd

By MYRNA McFADIN
 Sunday is the beginning of the Old Fashioned Tent Revival being held at the Grace Baptist Church, 2000 FM 700 West. The Rev. Roy Honea, pastor of the church, has announced services will be 7:30 p.m. each day during the meeting.
 Evangelist Joe Boyd will be preaching. A former All-American football player from Texas, the evangelist is known throughout the country for his dynamic preaching of the gospel.

School Broken Into 14 Times
 HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Wheatley High School has been broken into 14 times in 15 nights this month, a school district official reports.
 An audit shows loss of footballs, basketballs, tennis balls, tennis rackets and other athletic equipment in addition to wrenches, typewriters and adding machines.
 Principal A. C. Herald said by the time the audit is completed, the list probably would include irons, sewing machines, audiovisual equipment and other items.

years he had a daily radio broadcast from Corpus Christi known as "Strength For Today."
 During his football days, Evangelist Boyd was All-American tackle on the Texas A & M National Championship Team of 1939-40. He is a member of Sports Illustrated Silver Anniversary All-American Team, 1965, and the Texas A & M Hall of Fame, 1966.

He is on the Board of Evangelists of the First Baptist Church, Hammond, Ind., conducting over 30 revivals a year. Among the topics he will be speaking on here in Big Spring are "Is Hell A Myth?," "The Most Unusual Funeral," "The Church I Would Choose If I Had My Way," "A Trip To Demon Land," "Oh, Glory!" "Don't Throw In The Towel," "The Murder Of Jesus" and "When Time Shall Be No More."
 The revival was originally planned to end August 5, however, the Rev. Mr. Honea has now announced it will be extended through August 13.
 Special music is planned for each night of the revival, with E. A. "Norris" Nance, Mission, Tex., handling all music for the meeting. Included in the long list of special vocalists are The Good News Quartet, Amarillo, Johnny Flannagan, Dub "Deacon" Brown, The Singing Day Girls, Vernon Gamble — former minister of music at Grace Baptist Church, Leonard Moody and special trios and quartets from the Grace Baptist Church in Odessa.
 Plan now to attend this big meeting under the tent, at 2000 FM 700 West. Said the Rev. Mr. Honea, "Expect a miracle! Jesus did!"

Socialists Test Texas Vote Code

HOUSTON (AP) — The Texas Socialist Workers party and the Texas New Party have filed a federal court suit challenging the constitutionality of provisions of the Texas Election Code.
 The suit, filed Wednesday, alleges the code makes it difficult for minority parties to get on the November general election ballot.

Mormons Enact Visit Of Christ

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
 Associated Press Religion Writer
 PALMYRA, N.Y. (AP) — High above in the darkness, a single figure in shimmering white appears and slowly descends toward the valley, a gentle breeze rippling his glowing mantle.
 "Behold, I am Jesus Christ who now descends unto you." His voice fills the night. "I am the light and life of the world."
 His visit in person to America, as taught by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormons), comes at the climax of what is doubtlessly the world's most breathtaking religious spectacle.

"Broadway is antiquated compared to the equipment we have here," said Charles Henson of Provo, Utah, an assistant director, pointing to the towers housing "gladiator" spotlights, the largest made.
 A tall man can stand erect in some of the huge loudspeakers which rim the outdoor amphitheater here on the edge of Hill Cumorah and flood it intermittently with the din of violence and tender notes of assurance.
 "AMERICA'S WITNESS" Called "America's Witness to Christ," the pageant runs through this Saturday, marking its 35th annual production, and the cast of 625 is bigger than ever, the technical effects more elaborate.
 "We have a chance here to innovate and develop new methods that become useful in the regular theater," said Dr. Harold I. Hansen of Brigham Young University's drama department, who has directed the presentation since its start.
 An "epic drama," he calls it. It unfolds on five major stages and a score of lesser ones in a swirl of glittering sets, costumes and action—sword battling, storms, earthquake, exhortations, visions, the burning of a prophet at the stake.
 The narrative tells of ancient American events missing from the history books but which are related in the Book of Mormon, considered by Mormons as sacred scripture along with the Bible.

Mormons also find evidence in the ruins of Mayan and Aztec cultures of the story portrayed—the arrival on this continent in 600 B.C. of a shipload of Israelites, who built imposing kingdoms, some of them cruel and idolatrous, offering human sacrifices. But devout men foresee the coming of Jesus.
 "He shall come and every knee will bow and every tongue confess before him," declares the son of a king after a vision that shatters his earlier mockery of religion.
WILD SCENE
 After a wild, ear-splitting scene of conflict and natural disaster, Jesus appears in shining white in darkness on the hilltop, giving an illusion of his being in midair. He slowly descends toward a hushed people.
 As recounted in the Book of Mormon, his ministry in America took place after his crucifixion and resurrection in Jerusalem. Subsequently, the ancient culture on this continent was destroyed about 400 A.D. in a fratricidal war.
 A survivor, Mormon, is said to have left a record of that civilization inscribed on gold plates, buried on Hill Cumorah where it remained for 1,400 years until assertedly revealed in 1823 to Joseph Smith, who translated it into the Book of Mormon and started the new church.

Black Leads Youth Confab

FORD WORTH — A black evangelist who was a Harlem gang leader at 12 will be the keynote for the 28th annual Texas Youth Convention of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) here Tuesday-Friday.
 Tom Skinner of New York City, who was converted to Christianity at 14 and ordained to the ministry at 17, will speak on Wednesday and Thursday mornings.
 Approximately 1,000 high school-age youth are expected to attend sessions at Texas Christian University and nearby University Christian Church.
 In the opening general session Tuesday night, the executive officers of Texas Christian Youth Fellowship (TCYF) will engage in a five-way "dialogue" on the convention theme, "Free at Last."
 The executives, who will share presiding officer duties, are Miss Sarah Bissex of Houston, Miss Susan Braden of Lufkin, Miss Nancy Green of Richardson, Roy Horan of Fort Worth and Carl Williams of Corpus Christi.
 An evening of entertainment Wednesday will be capped by a Dixieland worship service led by the New Reformation Band of Saginaw, Mich. Returning for its second engagement with the youth convention, the band will play at several other sessions.
 A business session is scheduled for Thursday night.
 Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, the youth will choose among more than a dozen "Encounter" groups on topics ranging from "Rock Music, Drama and the Church" to "Chicago Disciples."
 The convention will close Friday morning with a worship service that will include Communion and commissioning of new TCYF executives.

BLOOD BANK ROBBERY

HOUSTON (AP) — One man is being questioned and police are seeking two other men after a $750 robbery of a blood bank and eight blood donors.
 The donors, three employees and the office cash register were robbed Wednesday by three men who entered Community Blood Services.
 One man was arrested later for questioning after he attempted to use a credit card stolen during the robbery.

Unsound Arguments

Lobbying has started for the Burke-Harke bill by the Industrial Union Department of the AFL-CIO. Rarely has a labor organization so dimly seen where it is going.

The Burke-Harke bill is a proposal to put the country into economic isolation at a time when the American lead in technology can serve both Americans and others well. The proposed legislation would tighten rules on American investments abroad, establish a new commission to regulate imports, would establish quotas on imports based generally on import levels of 1965-69, would tighten existing "anti-dumping" laws as a new form of restricting imports, it would establish a new program to assist workers "adjust" if they lose their job because of imports, and it would give the President authority to regulate the flow of American investment abroad.

If the arguments used to support the bill were sound, the bill could be defended. But they are not.

There may be some isolated examples where American multinational business has displaced some workers.

The Department of Commerce figures show that direct foreign investments by American firms generates jobs — in America. Commerce estimates that 25 per cent of U.S. exports are to foreign affiliates of American firms and that 2.7 jobs in the U.S. depend on exports.

Further, while approximately $1 billion in goods flowed into the U.S. as a result of foreign investment by Americans, $5.8 billion in goods were exported to U.S. affiliates — because of those exports.

The balance for American workers is clear. A survey of 40 American multinational firms shows their domestic employment rose from 1.9 million to 2.5 million in five years — 27 per cent. Industry job averages for the same time for the U.S. as a whole was only 17 per cent increase. Expansion of business means more jobs. It's that simple.

The Drama In Space

An extraordinary drama is being played out on a vast stage somewhere between the planets Mars and Jupiter. There that tiny but sophisticated human artifact known as Pioneer 10 is hurtling through the asteroid belt at imminent danger of being crippled or destroyed by collision with some of the solar system's orbiting debris.

This debris consists of bits and fragments ranging in size from dust specks to chunks hundreds of miles across. This extends for 175-million miles, and even at its speed of 64,000 miles an hour the tiny spacecraft will require seven months to traverse the cosmic danger zone.

Space scientists monitoring Pioneer 10's mission, expected to carry it to a December, 1973, fly-by of Jupiter nearly 400-million miles from earth, have been able to reduce the peril by a small factor. Pioneer is on a course that avoids the visible asteroids — more than 1,700 of them.

Still, that is cold comfort. A rock the size of a nut could ruin the spacecraft and end its mission; a mere grain of sand might severely damage it. Thus, even though there probably are wide spaces between bits of debris in the asteroid belt, Pioneer 10 is carrying on an incredibly complex game of Russian roulette. It is such a game of chance as has never before been played, a cosmic drama in which disaster may strike at any moment or which may end triumphantly seven months hence as the spacecraft wins through to its rendezvous with Jupiter.

Perfect Timing

Around The Rim

David Pickle

Everyone has problems with his car. What I want to know is why the thing falls apart after the five-year-50,000-mile warranty expires.

MY CAR, built by General Motors in 1968, has exceeded the 50,000-mile mark within the last year. It has had nothing but trouble for the last month. At first I thought that I had just driven it a lot, and it was in need of a tuneup. I took it to the family mechanic, and he set the timing, put in new spark plugs and did everything else to make the car run right.

That same afternoon, I took it out on the highway. As I went up a hill, the engine slowly died. At first I thought I had run out of gasoline, but my gauge said the tank was more than half full. I returned to the mechanic.

HE NEVER likes to see me in his shop. Once I had a 1963 Corvair. People who work on cars enjoy fixing those as much as doctors enjoy working with malpractice. The car I have now is an improvement, though, and he doesn't mind seeing me quite as much. But I'm still not entirely welcome.

I described the symptoms to him. "Could be any number of things," he said. "I'm still kind of bothered about your wiring."

Convinced that it was my wiring, or rather the car's wiring, I returned to the comforts of the family chariot, one with the luxuries of power steering and power brakes. I was only half glad to get the call saying that my car, which by comparison drives like a tractor, was ready.

ALL WAS beautiful for at least two days. Then I began to notice a thump every time I turned a corner. It got to be very distracting. Turn Thump. Another distracting thing happened.

The car began to quit on me again when I pointed it up hills. Finally, it died and stayed dead.

Pushing the car home was not easy. The only thing that was harmed, luckily, was the license plate, and since the license plate holder had the name of the company that sold the car on it, I was happy to see it bashed in.

I CALLED the mechanic, but he had gone on vacation. I kept thinking he would return the next day. Two weeks later, I got in touch with him.

I told him about the problems and then left him alone with the car. I was scared to death it was contaminated with some serious disease, probably terminal — and certainly expensive. Later that afternoon, I returned to visit the patient.

"You had water in your gas tank," he said.

"You're kidding," I replied. "No. That's why your fuel filter kept getting clogged. It was completely stopped up this time. Yeah, you had about a cup of water in your tank."

HE Poured a methyl alcohol solution into the gas and said that it would make the engine run rough for a few days. He said if it continued to run rough to bring it back to him. He said water in the tank devastates the carburetor about half the time.

Suddenly, everything began to fall back into place on the car. I found the thump (a loose hose behind the glove compartment); I bought two new tires (because one of the old ones had a lump on it and looked like a sure thing for a blowout); and I bought a new radio antenna (because I had broken the previous one the last time it snowed here — but that's a different story).

ALAS, I think the cycle is beginning again. Last night while I was driving home, the antenna blew off.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

Please give me some help. I am an alcoholic but quit drinking some time ago. I have even stolen to buy drink. What I want to know is: won't God forgive me unless I make restitution, and confess that I have stolen? If I did this my family would be disgraced. I love them dearly and would not want to embarrass them. Tell me what to do. L.J.D.

The Lord said: "If thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee: leave thy gift before the altar . . . be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift." Matthew 5:23.

In your case, you desire to give your life to the Lord. That is your gift you bring to His altar. But, even you are thinking of the wrong you have done to others, and it is incumbent upon you to right the wrong you have done in order to find peace with God. So, being "reconciled" will entail an honest confession to those you have wronged. I suggest that you go quietly to those from whom you stole, tell them that you intend to be a Christian and you want to pay the debt you owe them. The chances are that if you pay them and make amends, that they will not prefer charges against you, and that there will be no publicity about it. Your act of honesty and humility will be a testimony to your sincerity, and should in no way hamper your relationship with your children. I am sure that even if you share your confession with them that they will have more, not less, respect for you.

Right is right and wrong is wrong, and no person ever did wrong by doing that which Christ commands. May God bless you.

Rash Of Hot Issues

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Investment bankers who underwrite the public appearance of privately held companies—new issues, as they are called—are expected to exercise "due diligence" in examining the credentials of clients.

Whether or not they have been doing so is another thing. Certainly even the closest examination can't give complete assurance that what looks good today will be a star performer tomorrow.

But Securities and Exchange Commission figures suggest that in the past not all underwriters were diligent either in examining their young clients or in telling the public about them.

In a study of 49 new issues brought public between January, 1968, and July, 1969, the SEC said earlier this year, five were bankrupt, three out of business, six with liabilities exceeding assets, two merged because of money problems and 21 with retained earnings deficits.

Now the SEC is calling for stricter guidelines that some securities men say are unduly diligent in efforts to discourage a rash of hot issues, whose most identifiable characteristic is their peculiar rate of cooling.

The proposed requirements pertain mainly to the emerging company's registration statement, the document supposedly scrutinized by smart investors but which often is ignored. Among the details proposed:

- An estimate of how long proceeds will sustain the company.
- Report on operating plans for a year.
- Detailed information on competition.
- Background of key employees.

While adverse comments already have been heard, other investment bankers appear hardly disturbed at all. "We're not concerned," said one, "because these guidelines already are covered in our due diligence reports."

What the SEC seemingly wants is for the details of the due diligence report itself to appear in the registration statement rather than for it merely to be the documentation for the broad statements now customarily used.

"Due diligence" in the phrase keeps reappearing in any discussion of new issues. But what is it?

The question was put to Frank Brown, who appropriately enough heads Frank C. Brown & Co., a management consulting firm that during the past two years has prepared about 30 due diligence reports for underwriters.

Physically, he explained, his reports range from 35 to 110 pages and require the field work of four or five men for five to eight weeks. They cost the company—not the investment banker—from $7,500 to $25,000.

The investigation always includes an on-site check of facilities, an analysis of how the money is to be used, a study of financing, marketing, production and personnel, a discussion with key people "during which we also size them up" and opinions of the company by competitors and customers.

Much, much more is involved, and in great detail, such detail that one wonders if such a mass of information has any meaning at all to a non-expert, a doubt shared by Brown.

The due diligence report then becomes the basis of the registration statement that is filed with the SEC and which investors supposedly use to assess the value of the company.

The investment bankers must stand behind that registration statement which would, under present proposals, become far more detailed—including in fact, much of the due diligence report itself.

It could discourage a lot of hot issues.

That strange, strangling noise you hear everywhere over the state is the sound of Texas Democrats trying to swallow George McGovern.

Some can, some can't.

IT REMINDS a lot of people of similar noises made by Texas Republicans back in 1968 when Richard Nixon picked "Spiro Who?" as his running mate instead of Texan John Tower or some other Southwesterner.

The Texas GOP lived over it but Nixon lost Texas by 39,000 votes.

Just a few days ago Texas Democrats were reveling in the thought that they had a newly reorganized party where there was room for everyone of every political temperament. The conservatives had George Wallace, the middle-of-the-roads had Hubert Humphrey and the liberals had McGovern.

Now it's McGovern or else.

THE FORMER leader of Texas conservatives and moderates, John B. Connally, has returned from his foreign travels to devote full time, he says, to getting Nixon re-elected. Another former governor still prominent in politics, Allan Shivers, says he will choose Nixon again.

Gov. Preston Smith, who is a great believer in staying out of everyone's campaign except his own, says he has always voted Democratic and expects to this year, but he does not plan any active campaigning for the Democratic ticket.

AND DOLPH Briscoe, the Democratic nominee for governor who was a leader in the unsuccessful stop-McGovern drive at Miami Beach, indicates he will vote Democratic but give only token support to the party ticket. When asked how he stood on McGovern, Briscoe reminded newsmen to San Antonio that he made it clear before and during the Miami convention that he did not support McGovern or the platform that was adopted. He said he plans to spend most of his time this summer and fall "building a strong Democratic party in Texas. . . . It's obvious we had very little influence in Miami . . . we've got to change that in the year ahead."

FORMER ambassador Ed Clark, close friend and political associate for years of former President Lyndon Johnson and also of former Sen. Ralph Yarborough, says he will break a 44-year voting habit to work for the re-election of Nixon and Tower. However, Clark told a news conference he would be "gently" surprised if Johnson supported Nixon.

"I will vote the ticket because it is essential to protect my constituents but I will not make one speech," said U. S. Rep. Ray Roberts, who was assistant state campaign manager for Adlai Stevenson in 1952 and 1956.

On the other hand, McGovern has some dedicated workers in Texas. "I intend to be active in support of the party and its nominee," said Rep. Bob Eckhardt, Houston, the only Texas congressman so far who has said he will campaign for McGovern. "I think it will be helpful for me to do so," Eckhardt said.

TOP LEADERS of the Texas AFL-CIO, including president Roy Evans, switched allegiance from Humphrey to McGovern after the convention votes were counted. Later the Committee on Political Education COPE, the Texas labor federation's political arm, expressed "strong disagreement" with the national AFL-CIO's failure to endorse McGovern.

THERE IS A renewed drive among Texas blacks and Mexican-Americans to get their votes for McGovern.

YOUTH groups may be McGovern's strongest backers in Texas. The University of Texas McGovern Campaign announced the other day it had 3,200 UT volunteers for McGovern that would "be at the service of any and all Democratic candidates who seek their support and actively support the national ticket."

Making Joyful Sounds

NEW YORK (AP) — "Everything has a guideline," said Lionel Hampton, the bandleader.

"Once we find that guideline, we have to adhere to it."

Religion and music have been the two guidelines of "The Hamp." Together they inspired him to rise from the bleak future of a black slum kid to recognition as "King of the Vibraharp" and one of the dominant figures in modern jazz.

They came to the musician's rescue last year when the crippling death of his wife of 35 years almost drove him into retirement.

"I idolized Gladys since the days we were childhood sweethearts," he said, at a luncheon here during his engagement at the Rainbow Grill.

"She was everything a woman could be to a man. She was my wife, my friend, my inspiration and my business manager. I could come to her with any problem, big or little.

"She set up things for me so well that I'll never have to go to a breadline, whatever happens."

"When she died—her heart just blew out—it was like the end of the world. I didn't want to play another note. I just wanted to quit everything."

It was his daily reading of the Bible, Hampton said, that convinced him he should resume his life work of "making a joyful sound for the Lord."

"I'm a great believer in the Bible. I get substance out of it. It is meaningful in my life.

Not too long ago when an elderly hotel chambermaid returned to Hampton an envelope containing $500 which he had carelessly left in his room, he was so impressed by her honesty that he hired her for life as his cook.

Hampton said he developed his marvelous sense of rhythm by beating with spoons on pots and pans as a child on a tene-

WASHINGTON — The chances that President Nixon might "dump" Vice-President Spiro Agnew being all along close to zero, the President's announcement that he would keep the "team" together for another four years was hardly a surprise. The only surprise was in the timing which removed a month in advance of the Republican convention the one element of lingering suspense.

REPUBLICANS on Capitol Hill believe they have the answer to the timing. Two Republican senators, Jacob Javits of New York and William B. Saxbe of Ohio, had expressed their opposition to keeping Agnew on the ticket. At least five of six others were ready to say the same thing. Against such a showing the President might have felt some embarrassment in standing up before the convention to announce his decision to keep Agnew.

REPUBLICANS from the big-city industrial states are concerned about the negative effect of Agnew once again in the No. 2 spot. The darling of right-wing Republicans, he is the embodiment of the hard-shell party of the past. In the 1970 Congressional campaign he drew big crowds of the converted who cheered him to the skies. But in state after state the voters turned down the candidates to whom Agnew had given his fondest blessing. But now, so great is the

THE ONE conspicuous mark he has made, and it has helped to endear him to the right, is his war on the media. He has conducted a highly selective attack against those newspapers that have from time to time criticized the Administration.

The disclosure by Sen. Thomas Eagleton of his illness and psychiatric care has caused new dismay among Democratic senators. Besides putting another obstacle in the way of the national ticket it seems to reflect on the Senate itself.

BUT THERE HAVE been disasters. Eight out of 37 — that is a sobering statistic. The vice-presidency should be more than a front for the President.

A Devotion For Today

"In those days, I will pour out my spirit" (Joel 2:29, RSV)
 PRAYER: O God, sometimes our hearts are so heavy. We are filled with loneliness, fear, hatred, self-pity. We feel so far away from You, God. But thank You for reminding us through Your witness Joel that in such days, in hard times as well as in good times, You still pour out Your spirit upon us. Help us to commit ourselves anew to You. In the name of Christ, our Savior. Amen

Dallas-Fort Worth Area Population Boom Forecast

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas-Fort Worth area will have a big increase of population, a lower birthrate and more cars per person in 1990, according to a new forecast incorporated into a regional public transportation study.

These conclusions, reached by the consulting firm of Barton-Aschwan Associates of Chicago, suggest that:

—The population of Dallas and Tarrant counties combined will jump 75.7 per cent in 20 years and, of 15 million people projected to be living in Texas by 1990, more than 3.5 million will be in the two counties.

—The number of young people will be reduced while the number of adults will increase because of shifts in age group due to the increased population combined with a lower birthrate.

—Sixty-five per cent of the people in Dallas will be between 16 and 64 years of age, with youths—15 and under—making up 26 per cent of the population and the elderly—65 and over—making up nine per cent.

—More people will mean more will be driving cars in 1970 Dallas County residents owned 680,000 automobiles, which works out at about 196 persons per car. By 1990, there will be 1,442,000 cars in the county for a rate of 1.62 persons per car.

—Employment in Dallas County, set at 642,109 in 1970, will balloon to 1,153,000 by 1990, with much of the growth in city suburbs such as Farmer's Branch, Garland, Grand Prairie, Irving, Mesquite and Richardson.

—The median family income will almost triple again between 1970 and 1990. For Dallas, median family income was $3,000 in 1950, $5,400 in 1960, and $10,700 in 1970. It is expected to be $29,600 in 1990.

—In Tarrant County, jobs will increase by 132,000 by 1990, with Fort Worth getting 40 per cent of the jump.

RESTROOM LIBERATED

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The sexually segregated Board of Supervisors restroom at City Hall has been liberated by Supervisor Diane Feinstein.

Mrs. Feinstein announced she had used an unmarked bathroom previously reserved for male board members.

Speaking for herself and Supervisor Dorothy von Beroldingen, the triumphant Mrs. Feinstein said, "It's a liberated restroom now. We have equal rights there."

Mrs. Feinstein's Tuesday night breakthrough followed past complaints that she and Mrs. Heroldingen were forced to use a ladies' restroom about 100 feet from the supervisors' chambers.

The previously male-only washroom is located a few feet from the chambers.

All-Star Game

By DON COOPER
Herald Sports Editor

Tonight is either the FIRST game of the 1972 National Football League schedule; or it is the LAST game of the 1971 NFL season. At times, it is extremely difficult to determine just when one season ends and the next one begins.

Anyway, the annual College All-Star game will be televised from Chicago's Soldiers Field tonight.

The 39th annual game will pit the best of the 1971 college seniors against the best of the 1971 professionals. The College All-Americans will take on the NFL champions for charity.

The game was started in 1934 to raise money for various Chicago charities. The contest has operated under the auspices of the Chicago Tribune for its entire life. In that 1934 game, the collegians battled the Chicago Bears to a 0-0 tie.

Since then, things haven't gone so well for the collegiate squads. Their last win was in 1963 when Wisconsin's Ron VanderKelen sparked the All-Stars to an upset 20-17 win over the Green Bay Packers.

The All-Stars nearly upset the New York Jets in 1969; however, the college players were stomped by the pros in the last two games, losing first to the Kansas City Chiefs and then to the Baltimore Colts.

This year, the All-Stars will be facing the Dallas Cowboys, the same team that gunned down "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid" (Larry Csonka and Jim Kwik) and the Miami Dolphins, 24-3, in the 1972 Super Bowl. Prospects are grim for the collegians this year.

For several years, Otto Graham headed the coaching staff for the All-Stars. In fact, Graham was the head coach when the All-Stars won in 1963. When Graham was coaching the Washington Redskins, the job was taken over by Blanton Collier, former coach of the Cleveland Browns.

This year, the All-Stars invaded into the collegiate ranks and grabbed the coaching staff of the University of Nebraska — number one team in the nation in 1970-71.

Cornhusker Head Coach Bob Devaney brought his entire staff to Chicago with him — including his two quarterbacks, Jerry Tagge and Van Brownson. Also on hand will be Heisman Trophy winner Pat Sullivan of Auburn.

Devaney has installed the Nebraska offense and defense. Tagge and Brownson will be operating at an advantage in the game tonight. They are very, very familiar with the offense. This is not often the situation in all-star games, where the quarterback must learn a new offense. At any rate, this should be of significant help for the All-Star offense, which in previous games was either ineffective or non-existent.

Devaney and Tagge are both putting their winning reputations on the line tonight. Neither has lost a game in over two years. Neither wants to start tonight.

However, the college players will not be able to contain the Dallas offense or consistently pierce the Dallas defense. The professionals should win again. Their experience should be just a little too much for the All-Stars to contain.

Personally, I'd like to see the All-Stars win tonight. But actually, I look for Dallas to take a 34-17 win.

Nuggets Claim Title In Miss Softball

The Nuggets were crowned champions of the Minor Division of the Miss Softball America League at City Park Thursday night. The Nuggets took first place in the league standings with a 13-1 record for the season.

There was a tie for second in the league as the Perco Panthers and the Misfits had identical 11-3 marks.

Fourth-place went to the First Federal Belles with a 10-4 slate. Mrs. Billy Covert is the manager of the Nuggets. Her coaches are Don Doubleday and Mrs. Laura Boubek.

The Nuggets' players are Sandra Boubek, Janice Burgess, Denise Byrd, Martha Esquibel, Delma Hinojos, Paul Hogan and Rose Magers.

Alana Morris, Deidre Roberts, Danetta Roberts, Jacqueline Ross, Cynthia Washington, Elizabeth Abreo and Joanne Morellon.

In league play Thursday night, the Nuggets defeated the Texas Belles, 12-0, behind the pitching of Rose Magers. The Rockettes defeated the Dairy Queens, 16-15.

Cassandra Green was the winning pitcher as the Kittens blasted the Goldiggers, 16-1. The White Stallions overwhelmed the Kneeknockers 20-4. Laurie Allen hurled the Misfits to a 36-3 romp over the Sanddusters. The Academies defeated the Swingers, 14-7.

The Perco Panthers downed the Texas Chiefs, 21-16, behind the hurling of Mary Guzman.

The Miss Softball America State Tournament-Minor Division will be held in Big Spring Aug. 11-12. Representatives from the National organization will be at the tournament, according to Big Spring director Mrs. Jane Upton.

Big Spring will place two all-star teams in the tournament. Mrs. Upton announced the members and coaching staff of one of the two Big Spring teams Thursday night.

The coaches will be Mrs. Wynona Kennedy and Mrs. Betty Cox. The manager will be Mrs. Pat Moore.

Team members will be Gay Cade, Jenise Thomasson, Tammy Webb, Denise Byrd, Jackie Ross and Paul Hogan.

Beverly Thomason, Darcy Haxton, Sheila Williamson, Jo Ann Perez, Gloria Aguilan and Andra Hohertz.

Cassandra Green, Jerry Davery, Leilani Thomas, Eva Rich and Debra Cox.

Osteen Hurls Dodgers Past Houston Astros, 6-3

A BETTER IDEA FROM CLAUDE

HOUSTON (AP) — Los Angeles pitcher Claude Osteen had a better idea Thursday night and then capitalized on it for an important 6-3 victory over the Houston Astros.

"As many years as I've pitched against these guys, they know me so well," Osteen said following his 11th victory. "I felt this might be the time to change a little bit."

"I just changed my tactics up. I'm not going to way what it is. But I did throw more breaking balls and less fast balls than any time this year."

The Astros, who are feeling the heat of the Dodgers pulling up on them from third place, helped their own defeat with three errors, making four of LA's six runs unearned.

Wes Parker's sacrifice fly and Larry Howard's passed ball let Willie Davis score two runs. Three more came in the seventh inning. Osteen delivered the final blow in the ninth with a home run to top his seven-hitter.

Houston's Cesar Cedeno drew Osteen's praise for his 14th homer of the season in the eighth inning.

RYAN, BAHNSEN Close—But, Not Enough

Nolan Ryan and Stan Bahnsen, two pitchers who were sent packing by New York teams last winter, came within four outs of baseball immortality Thursday night but had to settle for one victory and one defeat.

Ryan, California's smoke-throwing fast-baller, lost his no-hit bid on Larry Bittner's two-out double in the eighth inning and finished with a two-hit, 14-strikeout 5-0 triumph over the Texas Rangers.

Bahnsen was locked in a scoreless struggle with Kansas City's Roger Nelson until the eighth when a walk and two-out singles by Nelson, Cookie Rojas and Steve Hovley sparked the Royals to a 3-0 decision over Chicago in the second game of a doubleheader. The White Sox took the opener 7-3.

Elsewhere, Detroit took two from Milwaukee 3-2 and 8-5. Cleveland edged Baltimore 4-3. Oakland nipped Minnesota 4-3 and the New York Yankees downed Boston 6-2.

In the National League, the New York Mets shined Pittsburgh 1-0 in 10 innings but the Pirates bounced back to take the nightcap 7-5, the Chicago Cubs blanked Philadelphia 4-0 and the Phillies won the second game 3-2. St. Louis whipped Montreal 8-2, Cincinnati trounced San Diego 6-3, Los Angeles best Houston 6-3 and San Francisco and Atlanta were rained out.

While ex-Yankee Bahnsen was holding the Royals hitless for seven innings in the nightcap, his teammates threatened three times but failed to score. With two out in the eighth and a runner on first, Nelson bounced a single past third baseman Ed Spiezo for KC's first hit and Rojas and Hovley followed with run-scoring singles, chasing Bahnsen.

The Tigers had to come from behind in both games to stretch their lead in the AL East to 2½ games over Baltimore. Trailing 1-0 and held to one hit for eight innings by Bill Parsons in the opener, they took advantage of an error by Milwaukee third baseman Mike Ferraro. With two out, Willie Horton singled and Norm Cash walloped his 19th home run.

Detroit wiped out a 4-0 deficit with four runs in the third inning of the nightcap, then came from behind once again with four more in the eighth, highlighted by Eddie Brinkman's two-run tie-breaking single.

Cleveland took a 2-3 lead against Baltimore's Pat Dobson in the first inning on John Lowenstein's bases-loaded single but trailed 3-2 in the ninth.

With one out, though, Frank Duffy singled and pinch hitter Tom McCraw slammed a two-run homer.

Oakland's Vida Blue displayed his 1971 form for eight innings—a four-hit shutout—but needed help from Rollie Fingers in the ninth after Cesar Tovar doubled, Steve Braun singled and Harmon Killebrew homered.

Bobby Murcer and Johnny Callison homered for the Yankees against Boston, with Murcer driving in three runs and Callison two. Winning pitcher Fritz Peterson started a two-run rally that put New York in front to stay with a fifth-inning single but needed help from Sparky Lyle in the seventh. It was Lyle's 20th save.

New York Mets Split Twinbill With Pirates

Yogi Berra likes to think fondly of his New York Mets' tumultuous 1969 season. But Pittsburgh's Bill Virdon, glancing back over his shoulder, is more concerned with the more negative aspects of baseball's recent history.

"We've still got a long way to go and anything can happen," Yogi said Thursday night after the Mets split a twinbill doubleheader with the Pirates to remain 5½ games back of the front-running Bucs in the National League's East Division.

"I remember in '69 we were 9½ games out in August and we ended up winning it," the Mets' manager said. "We've got eight more games with them," he said of the Pirates, "so we'll get our chances."

For a couple of hours, the Mets were within 4½ games of the top, thanks to Jon Matlack, who pitched a four-hitter, and Wayne Garrett, whose 10th-inning sacrifice fly gave them a 1-0 victory in the opener.

But a few hours after that, Pittsburgh was back where it had been before the night's action got under way as Willie Stargell and Jackie Hernandez drove in two runs apiece, leading the way to a 7-5 triumph in the finale.

Elsewhere around the National League, the Chicago Cubs split a pair with Philadelphia, winning 4-0 before the Phils took the nightcap 3-2. Cincinnati clubbed San Diego 8-2. Los Angeles beat Houston 6-3, St. Louis mauled Montreal 8-2 and San Francisco's game at Atlanta was rained out.

In the American League, Detroit swept Milwaukee 3-2 and 8-5, the Chicago White Sox beat Kansas City 7-3 in a twinbill opener before losing 3-0, the New York Yankees defeated Boston 6-2, Cleveland edged Baltimore 4-3, California silenced Texas 5-0 and Oakland nipped Minnesota 4-3.

Virdon, who inherited a World Championship club when former manager Danny Murtaugh retired after the '71 season, was hardly optimistic when talking about the Pirates' lead.

"Look at the Phillies in '64," he said. "They were seven games ahead with 10 games to go and they lost it."

Matlack, who had won only one game in his last three starts, despite yielding just one earned run in that stretch, was in a buoyant mood. "We won the ball game and I was around at the finish. That's what counts," he said after raising his record to 10-5.

GIT ALONG LITTLE DOGGIE — Pittsburgh Pirates' first baseman Willie Stargell (8) and a dog that strayed onto the field eye each other up during the playing of the national anthem before the Pirates-Mets doubleheader in Pittsburgh Thursday night. After visiting Stargell, the first-base umpire and Pirates' pitcher Nelson Briles, the dog was escorted from the field by a security guard.

"If it has wheels, we can air-condition!"

ELKS FALL BY 11-10 MARGIN

Butts' Hit Gives American Win

Todd Butts rapped a clean single into right field past the outstretched glove of second baseman John Mayberry to drive in Rudy Hinojosa with the winning run in the bottom of the seventh inning to give the San Angelo Americans an 11-10 win over the San Angelo Elks in second-round action in the District-5 Sophomore League Baseball Tournament Thursday night.

In the other two games played yesterday, Midland Western downed Lockney, 10-8, and Midland Eastern clipped Midland Western, 6-4. The losses eliminated both Lockney and Midland Western from the tournament.

another passed ball and scored on Chris Mullen's single. Craig Hopper walked to put runners on first and second.

Allison was the big gun for Odessa Thursday as he drove in five of Odessa's eight runs. He had two doubles and a triple.

WHA Keeps Up Hockey Raids

The new World Hockey Association is continuing its raid on the National Hockey League, even dipping into the ranks of the NHL's retirees.

San Angelo Elks had taken a quick 5-0 lead in the first inning only to see the Americans come back to take an 8-5 margin in the third.

Lockney scored four runs in the top of the first and moved on to an 8-0 lead only to see Midland Western nibble away at the margin and finally pull out in front and eliminate Lockney from the tournament by a 10-8 figure.

Horoscope Forecast
CAROL RICHTER

SATURDAY, JULY 29, 1972

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Use this day to find out the cause of what is holding you back, especially where intimate problems and anxieties are concerned. If you get involved with people today, tempers are apt to be short, so be on the lookout for this wherever it appears.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Private anxieties can be annoying but if you talk to others you find they will soon straighten out. Do what you can to improve your appearance. Take health treatments and feel better.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You are not certain just what you want to do in the future, so don't make any definite decisions while in such a mood. Study those persons who are truly happy and emulate their methods.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Work on your own personal ambitions instead of trying to see influential persons who are busy right now. An unpleasant situation arises, but handle it wisely. Show that you are capable.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Not a good day to visit new places since you could meet with delays. Do what you can to meet with delays. Do what you can to meet with delays. Do what you can to meet with delays.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Do away with whatever is unwanted and you can have real progress in the future. Being more willing to do what friends desire brings fine results.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Keep the promises you have made to associates and gain their respect. Try not to involve yourself in any civic problems that may arise but keep a close watch on all activities.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) You feel nervous today and should do some reading or resting instead of bustling about. Do only work that is important, then relax. Await a better time for doing work you had planned.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) You are anxious to do the things you like to do and have fun, which is all right. Take exercise that is helpful to your health. Avoid one who bickers.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Delve into whatever will put you in a happier frame of mind and make your life more interesting. Avoid argument at home. Don't spend too much time on unimportant matters. Be wise.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) An associate may want a big loan from you, or may want to take you to an expensive activity, so use willpower and refuse. Study your personal budget and cut down on your expenses.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) If you do something about improving your budget, you need not worry about finances in the future. Not a good day to ask for advice from a business expert who is in a bad mood.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Your major concern is judgment. Is not quite good now, so don't decide on anything that is important. Do more analyzing of your life. See where to make improvements for a fuller life.

BORIS CONCEDES EIGHTH GAME

Score: 5-3 For Fischer

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Bobby Fischer's chances of winning the world chess crown looked better and better today after Soviet champion Boris Spassky conceded the eighth game in 37 moves. The score is now 5-3 in Fischer's favor, and he needs only 7 1/2 more points to clinch the title. Spassky needs another 9 to retain it.

"Fischer is again showing the tremendous force that ruthlessly swept aside Mark Taimanov, Bent Larsen and Tigran Petrosian in previous matches," international grandmaster Isaac Kashtan said in an analysis of the match for The Associated Press.

"Based on this game," Kashtan concluded, "Spassky seems demoralized and unable to cope with the incisive accuracy of his opponent. Barring a complete reversal of form, Fischer's lead is likely to increase."

The ninth game is set for Sunday.

Some experts said Spassky played like a child on Thursday, and one, grandmaster Miguel Najdorf of Argentina, commented: "This is not championship chess."

Fischer's rooks pursued Spassky's king relentlessly. When the game ended after nearly four hours, the Russian's pawns were scattered hopelessly.

Fischer, playing the white pieces, advanced his Queen's bishop pawn—the English Opening—and by continual pressure deprived Spassky of any counterplay.

The American introduced a variation on the 11th move, and Spassky studied the board for nearly an hour before replying. He appeared safe for the time being, but on the 16th move he blundered with an exchange that cost him a rook to Fischer's bishop and pawn.

Spassky made one more error. "This time the kind of miscalculation that shouldn't happen to a grandmaster," Kashtan said. "His 19th move lost a pawn because of a double attack that is explained in all beginners' manuals."

In a few moves Fischer opened the lines for his rook, and Spassky's defeat was certain.

Keep Texans On Griddle

By The Associated Press

An end-of-July heat wave kept Texans on the griddle today.

A fierce sun sent temperatures soaring again Thursday, and readings shot as high as 105 degrees at Wichita Falls as crops, shrubs and lawns wilted in the dry scorcher. Top marks at other points ranged from 100 at Dallas and Mineral Wells down to 89 at Brownsville and Galveston.

By this morning it seemed only a little cooler in many areas. Near dawn it was still 82 degrees at Galveston, Palacios and Wichita Falls but as low as 68 at Midland.

Skies stayed clear to partly cloudy in most sections, with occasional storms spilling southward from Colorado to near Dalhart in the Texas Panhandle and occasional showers dotting the Upper Texas Coast.

Official forecasters looked for no marked weather change through the weekend. A few more thundershowers were predicted at scattered points in the Panhandle and extreme North Texas.

DEATH CONFIRMED — The Chinese Embassy in Algiers confirmed today the persistent reports that Lin Piao died last year in a plane crash. Piao was once Chairman Mao Tse-tung's political heir and died while fleeing to the Soviet Union after an unsuccessful plot to assassinate Mao, according to a statement made in Algerian government newspaper.

'Sissy' Will Not Seek Nomination

HOUSTON (AP) — State Rep. Frances "Sissy" Farenthold says Democratic vice presidential nominee Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton should resign immediately, but she won't try to replace him on the party ticket.

Mrs. Farenthold who was nominated for vice president at the Democratic Party's national convention in Miami Beach, said Eagleton was hurting the Sen. George McGovern presidential campaign.

Mrs. Farenthold was runner-up to Eagleton when the convention named Eagleton as McGovern's running mate.

"Senator McGovern has a list of about 10 names of potential vice presidential nominees and I'm sure he would choose someone from that list," said Mrs. Farenthold, a leading Texas backer of McGovern. She also said she was not on the list.

Mrs. Farenthold, who lost the Texas Democratic party runoff election, said she would make no active effort to have Eagleton removed or to have her name considered as a possible replacement.

Eagleton disclosed Tuesday he had not told McGovern that he had a history of psychiatric care.

"The shortcoming was on Eagleton's part for not telling McGovern in advance," Mrs. Farenthold said. "In effect, the convention nominated him without disclosure of the psychiatric background. If it had been in the open, I think it would have been a serious consideration."

"I think it's more important right now than building an organization," she said.

Mrs. Farenthold said a potential psychiatric problem should not disqualify someone from serving as governor, senator, or even vice president when only ceremonial aspects of the jobs were considered.

"But when, in this age of violence, the vice president is only a heartbeat away from the presidency, it does matter," she said. "What could be no detriment to a governor or a senator is a different matter when looked at in the light of the strain of the presidency."

Mrs. Farenthold said McGovern could replace Eagleton with a minimum of disruption to the campaign.

"He should step aside right now," she said. "I hope that he does it and that we can quickly get another selection and get on with the campaign."

No Civil Action Against Airmen

No local charges are to be filed against the three Webb airmen arrested Saturday by the Howard County sheriff's department. Officers claimed the three were in possession of marijuana and narcotics paraphernalia, according to 11th District Attorney Wayne Burns.

"The matter has been turned over to military authorities for disposition, and we will not take any more action in the matter," said Burns.

The three were arrested by Sgt. Robert Puente and Deputy Al Lee, sheriff's department, Saturday in the Silver Heels residential area after the vehicle in which the three were riding reportedly made a U-turn in front of the patrol unit.

Man Is Stabbed During Argument

The victim of an early morning stabbing has been released in good condition from a local hospital.

Police received a call at 1:32 a.m. from the Melba Hotel, 813 E. 3rd St. and learned that Arthur Burkhardt, 813 E. 3rd, had been stabbed on the face as the result of an argument.

Police have the identification of the assailant, a Big Spring man. No charges have been filed.

Burkhardt was taken by Alert Ambulance to VA Hospital.

Carr To Go On Trial In Dallas Nov. 20

DALLAS (AP) — Former Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and five others indicted in the Texas stock fraud scandal are to go on trial here Nov. 20.

Defendants other than Carr include:

Joseph P. Novotny, former president of the Sharpstown State Bank in Houston; John Osorio, one-time Texas insurance commissioner. Carr's former law partner and once president of National Bankers Life Insurance Co.; Dallas lawyers Tom Max Thomas and Jarrell B. Ormand and Dallas investor David Hoover.

They all pleaded innocent Thursday before U.S. District Court Judge William M. Taylor Jr.

Charges against the six involve alleged fraud and conspiracy. Several convictions and indictments have resulted from the scandals involving Sharpstown State Bank, NBL and state government officials.

Pioneer Shows First Half Gain

Pioneer Natural Gas Company's consolidated net income and earnings per share showed an increase for the second quarter of 1972 over the same period a year ago according to an announcement made today by Burton P. Smith, company president.

Consolidated net income for Pioneer Natural Gas Company and subsidiaries for the quarter ended June 30, 1972, amounted to $2,529,906. This compares with $2,243,589 for the second quarter of 1971. For the first six months of this year, the consolidated net income amounted to $5,817,607 compared to $5,221,622 for the same period in 1971.

Earnings per share for the second quarter amounted to 34 cents on the 7,468,132 shares outstanding during the period. This compares with 30 cents per share on the 7,468,132 average shares outstanding during the same period last year. Earnings per share for the first six months of 1972 are 78 cents compared to 70 cents per share for the same period in 1971.

ON GUARD NEXT TIME?

DENVER (AP) — A gunman robbed the East Denver Industrial Bank and fled with about $600 after he inquired about a job as a bank guard.

Police said the man entered the bank and asked a cashier, "Do you have any positions open for a bank guard?"

The cashier asked another clerk, "We don't hire any guards, do we?"

"Good," the bandit said, "give me all your money."

Casa Manana Curtain Stuck

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — An actors' strike rang down the Casa Manana curtain Thursday night and Fort Worth's musical theater-in-the-round may be closed for the rest of the summer season.

An 8:15 p.m. performance of "The Student Prince," fifth of Casa's eight musicals this season, was cancelled in late afternoon when an Actors Equity Union official told the players to strike.

Willard Swire of New York, assistant executive secretary of the association, called union members in the cast out after negotiations over salaries broke down.

Statements by Swire and by Casa Manana president Robert McCollum indicated that chances for resumption of negotiations were slim.

"White Dust"

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My daughter urged me to buy a vaporizer type humidifier for use in my bedroom. She has one in each of her children's rooms (age 1 and 3).

The instructions state, "In highly mineralized water areas a white dust may form on furniture. This can be wiped away with a cloth. To avoid this, use distilled water."

We are in hard water area, and the powder that forms from just one night's use is really amazing, and purchasing distilled water would be prohibitive.

I am constantly worrying what this white dust might do to our health. We use the humidifiers only at night. — Mrs. R. R. J.

The "white dust," since it comes from ordinary drinking water, probably is not poisonous. All the same, it is dust, and with all our air pollution, there certainly is no point in adding any more dust to it. It's that much more pollution to irritate the respiratory system.

One question: is the cost of distilled water as prohibitive as you think? If I were you, I'd do some investigating. So far as that goes, it wouldn't be difficult to rig up a simple apparatus so you could make your own distilled water at home.

An alternative might be to rig some sort of a cloth drape — cheese cloth, perhaps — to see whether that wouldn't trap the dust but let the water vapor get through.

You didn't explain why you need a humidifier except that your daughter urged you to get one. If you don't have a real humidity problem, I wouldn't run the risk of breathing any excess dust.

Tick Deaths In Oklahoma

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP) — Rocky Mountain spotted fever probably is what caused the deaths of a Muskogee County man and a Tahlequah boy, a pathologist reported here.

The decision brought new warnings from state health officials about the dangers of diseases transmitted by ticks.

James Calvin Hood, 62, of Council Hill, and Kelly Lynn White, 14, of Tahlequah, both died in Muskogee General Hospital after brief illnesses.

Dr. Tom Gafford, county pathologist, said Rocky Mountain spotted fever is the "probable clinical diagnosis," but said it could not be confirmed by laboratory analysis.

Eighteen cases of the fever have been reported so far this summer in Oklahoma, compared with 17 last year, the state epidemiologist, Dr. Stanley Ferguson, said.

Antiques Dealer Hit With Charges

HOUSTON (AP) — Antiques dealer C. Dorman Davis has been indicted by a Harris County grand jury on charges of receiving and concealing 50 historical books, allegedly stolen from Lamar University in Beaumont.

The books allegedly were recovered during a police raid of Davis' office and library, prosecutor Bob Bennett said. District Judge Sam W. Davis set a $1,000 bond.

Keep Mouth Shut

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago I lost my wonderful 44-year-old husband.

A year before his death I was treated for a rare gum disease. I sat in a dentist's chair for endless hours, for weeks, but despite the enormous expense, pain and time, my teeth could not be saved.

Since my husband's death I have been out on dates, but no one appealed to me until I met this one person I think I could really care about.

My problem: I have never told anyone that I have dentures. (I hate the very thought of it!) I am terribly sensitive about the fact that I wear them, although they look very natural and fit perfectly.

Could you please ask your male readers how they feel about women with false teeth? Thank you. FEELING LOW

DEAR FEELING: I'll ask, but I'm sure that no intelligent man would think anything of it. Just keep your mouth shut. (P.S. In one way, he'd be getting a break. He'll never have to pay your dentist bill.)

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a new mother who breast-feeds her baby in mixed company — and strangers at that. She is my daughter. It wouldn't be so bad if she did it in her own home, but the other night she was a guest in our home and she did it at the dinner table in the presence of our guests.

You would think she would have more modesty than this, but apparently it didn't seem to bother her.

We wouldn't ask her to leave the room in front of the other guests. Please tell us how to handle this. The only thing we can think of is not to have her to our home again until the baby gets older.

DEAR UPSET: Of necessity, mothers have nursed their babies in public places with such subtlety and efficiency with the use of a blanket or shawl that they were hardly noticed. But sitting at the dining room table at a dinner party seems a bit brash. Tell your daughter how you feel.

DEAR ABBY: There are places to go for a drinking problem. And places to go with a mental problem. But where does a person go with a mother-in-law problem?

I have practically turned myself inside out trying to get along with her. Nothing works. My mother-in-law just doesn't like me.

I've been a good wife to her son, and a good mother to her grandchildren. I'm a good housekeeper and cook, and when it comes to pinching pennies, I can do that, too. I'm a loyal church worker, and I'm not boisterous or gossipy. So how can I solve my problem?

TRIED EVERYTHING
DEAR TRIED: If you've "tried everything," and can't get along with her, try getting along WITHOUT her.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

SECOND TIME: (Q.) My mother believes my boy friend is on dope. This is not true. He did try it, but quit, and he told me if I ever tried it he would quit me.

His father kicked him out when he heard about the dope. He has been working and supporting himself but he is going into the Army soon.

I have to see him on the sneak because my mother hates him so. I got pregnant with him once, but fell and had a miscarriage. Now I am pregnant again. I can't tell my mother. She has a bad heart and it would kill her. I don't know what to do. There is no one I can talk to. — 15 and Scared in Pennsylvania.

(A.) No matter how bad your mother's heart is, this is something that she and your father must know, so talk to them. You need their guidance in the decisions that must be made quickly now.

GIRL NEEDED: (Q.) All the boys I hang around with have girl friends. They say I can't go out with them unless I have a girl. I don't have one. How do I ask a girl to go steady with me? — 14 in Georgia.

(A.) Before you ask a girl to go steady, you should know whether you like her and she likes you. You don't seem to know or like any girl well enough now to ask her. Date several to find one you really like. If she likes you enough and you like her enough, you won't have any trouble deciding how to ask her to go steady with you.

(Jean Adams reads and considers every letter, but she regrets that she cannot answer each personally. Mail your questions and comments to Jean Adams, care of the Big Spring Herald, P. O. Box 302, Houston, Texas 77001.)
