McGOVERN GIVING SHRIVER CRAM COURSE ON CAMPAIGN

Labels Nixon Enemy Of Labor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George S. McGovern, in his first speech to a union gathering since he won the Democratic presidential nomination, today called President Nixon the enemy of organized labor.

"The Nixon administration's economic policies are one long list of outrages against the American worker," the South Dakota senator said.

"Richard Nixon is the enemy of the American worker. Richard Nixon is the enemy of the American trade union movement. Richard Nixon is the friend of the big-business Republican contributors and special-interest pleaders."

McGovern's remarks were prepared for the executive committee of the AFL-CIO Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union.

CRAM COURSE

The union's members number some 386,000.

His address came as an Associated Press survey showed that leaders of labor unions with six million workers have endorsed McGovern and President Nixon is backed by union leaders representing 2.4 million.

Union chiefs representing the remaining 10 million union workers are following the lead of AFL-CIO President George Meany, remaining neutral for the first time in almost 20 years.

Meanwhile today McGovern's choice for the vice presidential spot on the ticket, R. Sargent Shriver, continued receiving a cram course on the campaign.

Shriver, the 56-year-old Kennedy-in-law, lawyer, businessman and former diplomat, appeared the very picture of an eager student. He vowed Sunday to take his first campaign for elective office directly to the people and to refocus the image of America he said has been "blurred and darkened" by 3½ years of Republican rule.

Receiving a parade of McGovern aides and advisers at Timberlawn, the spacious estate he leases in suburban Maryland, Shriver reported he had been given the blessing of Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley and fully expects complete Daley support for the ticket.

The meetings among the staff, advisers, friends and candidates themselves began in early morning and continued into the night. They were described as getting-to-know-you efforts, to work out the office space, staff requirements and travel plans of the Shriver part of the campaign.

"We want to get him on the road by Thursday at the latest," a McGovern staff member said, indicating that, at first, Shriver would be concentrating on the nation's largest cities and on such issues as foreign policy and welfare.

WELFARE

Shriver has intimate acquaintance with both subjects, drawing on experience obtained as U.S. ambassador to France, the first head of the Peace Corps and the director of the Office of Economic Opportunity. He showed no unhappiness at his relatively low placing on McGovern's list of vice-presidential possibilities and said he is looking forward to his meeting Tuesday night with the Democratic National Committee.

Barring the unexpected, the committee will proceed to nominate Shriver just as the Democratic National Convention last month approved McGovern's choice of Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton as the vice-presidential nominee.

Daley's Demo Slate Faces New Challenge

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic National Committee today opens an extraordinary three-day meeting to nominate a running-mate for presidential candidate George McGovern.

But first the party must decide a number of seating disputes including one involving a slate headed by Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley.

Chicago Alderman William S. Singer, who led a successful fight to unseat the Daley delegation at the Democratic National Convention in Miami Beach last month, filed a challenge early today against the mayor's Illinois slate of committee members.

Some forces in the party were talking of a compromise that would avoid antagonizing Daley again. Daley, who has not been an avid McGovern backer, has welcomed McGovern's recommendation of Sargent Shriver as the vice-presidential nominee.

SHOCK

Challenges have been filed by dissidents in Wisconsin, New Jersey, Ohio and Virginia, and New York Democrats have been given until midnight tonight to say whether they plan to lodge a challenge with the nine-member Credentials Committee.

The full national committee meets at 2 p.m. Tuesday to nominate a replacement for Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton. He quit the ticket July 31 because of the public discussion arising out of his disclosure that he had undergone shock treatment for mental depression in the 1960s.

The fight over seating the Illinois members of the national committee stems directly from the Miami Beach convention where Singer's 59-member group replaced Mayor Daley's delegation.

Under the new rules by which the Democratic National Committee was expanded from 110 to 303 members, members are chosen by the state's delegation to the previous national convention or, in some states, by joint action of the convention delegates and the state executive committee.

COALITION

The complication in Illinois is that, although the Singer slate was seated at Miami Beach, a Cook County judge last week ousted Singer's challenge group from the Illinois convention which was choosing DNC members and put Daley's forces back into the delegation.

Tax Rate Will Remain Same

The city of Big Spring is expected to retain the present taxing rate throughout the coming fiscal year, according to city manager Harry Nagel.

The tax rate is on Tuesday's Commission meeting agenda, with a request for the rate to go unchanged.

Four bid openings for the regular meeting, scheduled for 5:15 p.m. in the Commission chamber, may provide for more expenses and more revenue for the city; a bid opening for a labor contract to construct the sewage treatment plant's chlorine contact chamber, a bid opening for pick-up trucks, opening for bids on Section 17, and bid opening for coated asphalt rock for the city's street seal-coat program.

Also on the agenda are claims for damages to mobile homes contracted in a shooting incident between police officers and a resident of a trailer park.

Four public hearings are slated to allow specific use permits and rezoning: two permits to place mobile homes as fixed dwellings, one to sell beer for on-premises consumption, and rezoning of land near the high school for construction of an office for the school employees credit union.

Pioneer Natural Gas has requested an audience with the City Commission to again present its case for a rate increase, which failed to pass second reading in the last regular session of the Commission.

The YMCA is scheduled to request a grant of additional property from the city in order to expand its facilities.

Grasshoppers Invade Midland, Fems Scream

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — City health department crews continued today a battle against invading grasshoppers that blanketed Midland Sunday night, forcing the cancellation of the League baseball game.

"There were millions of them," sportswriter Bob Dillon of the Midland Reporter-Telegram said. Dillon was in the press box of the stadium when the grasshoppers, some as long as three inches, swarmed over the playing field and the stands during the first inning of the second game.

Women screamed, players swung their bats and fans clawed at the insects as the grasshoppers covered the playing field, the stands and the mercury vapor lights.

"I've never seen anything like it," Dillon said. "The umpires finally called the game off. The lights were turned off and as we walked out of the stadium the ground was just thick with them."

Health Department officials said that a cool front that pushed into the area early in the evening might have brought the invasion.

"No one here seems to remember anything like it," a health official said. "The grasshoppers are still over town, and we have crews out there spraying in the downtown section trying to get rid of them."

Missing Girls Found In Closet

Eight Perish In Flames

BOSTON (AP) — Five children and three women died in an early morning fire today which swept through a wood frame tenement in Boston's Roxbury section.

A mother, Maria Gomes, 24, and five of her children, ranging in age from 1 to 8, were among the victims of the fire that destroyed all but the bottom floor of the 2½-story building. The blaze also left the head of the Gomes household and two young children hospitalized.

TENEMENT FIRE VICTIM — A Boston firefighter carries a badly burned child from a blazing tenement building in Boston's Roxbury section early today that claimed the lives of three women and five children. The child, apparently overcome by her injuries, was revived by mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and is listed in serious condition at a Boston hospital along with her sister.

Jets Destroy Soviet Tanks

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command sent scores of American warplanes into Cambodia Sunday and today to aid beleaguered Cambodian forces facing North Vietnamese tanks for the first time.

The command announced that U.S. Marine and Air Force jets flying from Bien Hoa Air Base, 15 miles northeast of Saigon, destroyed 14 Soviet T54 medium tanks along the Saigon-Phnom Penh Highway 14 miles inside the Cambodian border.

KNOCKED OUT

It was one of the biggest tank kills claimed in the four-month-old North Vietnamese offensive. The tanks were knocked out as they tried to encircle the Cambodian town of Kompong Trabeak, about 85 miles west of Saigon. The North Vietnamese appeared to be trying to secure the highway, a key route for troops and supplies to South Vietnam's northern Mekong Delta, where a big Communist buildup is reported under way.

In North Vietnam, U.S. Navy jets attacked the Loi Dong transshipment point and storage depot four miles northwest of Haiphong, and pilots reported their bombs set off large orange fireballs and blackened the area with thick smoke.

The U.S. Command said Air Force F4 phantoms beamed 2,000-pound laser bombs into three spans of the Cao Nung bypass bridge 48 miles northeast of Hanoi on the rail line to China. A spokesman said reconstruction of the bridge was near completion when the spans were knocked out. The bypass bridge had been destroyed earlier in the air campaign and the main bridge has been knocked out three times.

SHOT DOWN

North Vietnam claimed six American planes were shot down Sunday, but the U.S.

Command announced only one loss, a Navy A7 that was downed by an anti-aircraft missile 20 miles northwest of Vinh. The pilot was rescued, the command said.

Mean Thief In Nashville

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A Shelbyville woman says a thief took her last $225 and her dying husband's watch when she fell asleep during an all-night vigil for her husband at a hospital.

"It's beyond me why anyone would want to take the money and watch with my husband lying down the hall, dying," Mrs. Mary Warren said. "I just hope that whoever took it needs it a lot more than I do."

She said relatives brought her husband's Social Security and disability checks Friday to help her pay for her stay in Nashville and her husband's stay in St. Thomas Hospital.

"I cashed the checks and put the money and his watch in the zipper compartment of my pocketbook," she recalled. "I had been trying to stay up all night in the waiting room down the hall from my husband in case something happened to him during the night."

FIRED — Nguyen Van Vy has been fired as South Vietnamese defense minister and forced into retirement as a result of a military savings fund scandal, the South Vietnamese defense ministry announced today.

Price Construction Is Awarded Airport Pact

Price Construction Co. today was awarded a $92,318 contract by Howard County Commissioners Court for repair and improvement of the Howard County Airport runway.

The contract was awarded subject to the approval of the Federal Aviation Agency. A pre-construction conference with the county, Price Construction Co. and FAA officials is to be scheduled at a later date, said C. R. Crim, consulting engineer for the airport project.

FAA is to pay half of the project costs up to $52,000 while the county antes up the remaining half of the total cost of the project, if FAA approval is given on the contract awarded today.

Other bids submitted were Circle Construction Co., $101,464; and South Texas Construction Co., $113,000.

GRANT MADE

Commissioners today agreed to grant the Howard Soil and Water Conservation District $1,767.50 for 1973 to assist the district in its educational work concerning conservation of young people in Howard County and in its work with the Soil Conservation Service.

Jerry Iden, chairman of the board of directors of the Howard District which was formed in November, 1971, from the former Howard, Martin and Midland Districts, said that the state would match whatever local funds the district could obtain with state funds to cover operating costs.

Iden said that the estimated total 1973 operational cost for the district will be $3,335.

Jerry Miller, SCS agent, explained to the court that the Soil Conservation Service can send an agent to work in an area only if a conservation district is in operation and that the service and the district cooperate in providing technical assistance in conservation projects.

NO ACTION

No action was taken today on the proposed consolidation of the county's copy work onto one Xerox machine rather than the three in use.

A representative of Xerox Corp. told the commission that an increase in rates would make the total cost of operating current machines $3,564.35 for the 10-month billing period.

Consolidation of the work onto one machine would make the rate for the same period $3,984.72. A cost list presented the commission showed that it would cost the county $58.25 in employe time to send employes out of their offices to use the machines, which are currently in the 118th District Clerk's, Howard County Clerk's and Howard County Sheriff's offices. District Clerk M. Fern Cox and County Clerk Pauline Petty have opposed the proposed consolidation.

A statute was presented to the commission today which states "All filed pleadings shall remain at all times in the clerk's office, or in the court or in the custody of the clerk, except that the court may, by order, allow a filed pleading to be withdrawn for a limited time whenever necessary, on leaving a certified copy on file," to substantiate Cox's claim that records cannot be removed from his office.

Mrs. Petty submitted a list which showed that her office had taken in $19,339.75 in fees for making copies of deeds, licenses and other filings in her office through use of a copying machine.

Salary for Jackie Perkins hired to replace Mrs. Alma Lopez, road and bridge department secretary, was set at $310 per month today for a six-month trial period.

Commissioners approved the employment of Mike Gearhart in the road and bridge department today. Marvin Hanson, acting road and bridge administrator, said that Gearhart had been serving as a part-time employe this summer since graduation from high school, and he was given permission to hire Gearhart as a full-time crew member.

In other action, commissioners approved the county's bills for payment.

CLOUDY

GARY PLAYER WITH CHAMPIONSHIP TROPHY

Gary Player Restores Image In PGA Sweep

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP) — Gary Player, one of golf's mighty mites, has mastered The Monster and suddenly recouped his fading prestige. Four months ago, Player was eating humble pie after pulling within a stroke of the lead in the Greensboro Open, then being disqualified for not signing his scorecard, which read 67.

Today the crewcut South African is the new Professional Golf Association national champion and $45,000 richer. His second PGA title, his first coming in 1962, will probably reinforce the belief that he is one of golf's "Big Three" along with Jack Nicklaus and Lee Trevino. "EVENS OUT" "It just goes to show you what a humbling game golf is," said the 5-foot-8, 150-pound Player on Sunday. "But it all seems to even out."

Player harnessed a balky putter on the key holes down the stretch to salvage a two-over-par 72, destroying Jimmy Jamieson's dream of glory and finishing with 281 for 72 holes — one-over-par at the 7,654-yard Oakland Hills Country Club south course, dubbed "The Monster" by Ben Hogan in 1951.

The cherubic Jamieson, who won the Western Open this year, bogeyed the last three holes to drop out of a four-round total of 213, two strokes behind Player.

Veteran Tommy Aaron came in with a 71 to tie Jamieson for second, both earning $20,853 of the $225,000 purse.

Three-time champion Sam Snead, now 60 and always a sentimental favorite, blizzed the front nine in three-under 32 en route to a 69, good for a $9,274 and a share of fourth at 284 with 1969 winner Ray Floyd and Billy Casper. It was the best round of the day, equalled only by George Archer who finished far down the list.

Bunched at five-over 285 were second-round leader Jerry Heard, Doug Sanders, Canadian Open champ Gay Brewer, and Phil Rodgers.

Pretournament favorites Trevino and Nicklaus were far off the pace, with Trevino and Hale Irwin at 286, and Nicklaus finishing at 287 with Dan Sikes. The 36-year-old Player, who was the leader by a stroke over Casper heading into Sunday's round, boosted his money winning this year to $119,000.

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. # Berra, Koufax And Wynn Are New Inductees

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Baseball's Hall of Fame opens its doors today to Sandy Koufax, Yogi Berra, Early Wynn and five other great names from the past.

The eight new entries are being officially inducted into the shrine in ceremonies near The National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum while thousands watch the annual, mid-summer pageant.

Along with Koufax, Berra and Wynn, Lefty Gomez and Buck Leonard are receiving the honor in person. Three of the new members are being honored posthumously—Ross Youngs, Will Harridge and Josh Gibson.

Koufax, the youngest player ever to make the Hall at 36, retired prematurely from baseball because of an arthritic left arm. But before leaving the Los Angeles Dodgers, he established himself as the best pitcher in the game from 1962 through 1966.

Once he was able to harness his fastball and curve, the boy from Brooklyn dominated the National League. He led the senior circuit in earned run average those last five seasons, winning the Cy Young Award three times and Most Valuable Player once.

Koufax struck out 300 batters or more three times, including a record 382 in 1965, and pitched four no-hitters, also a record.

While Koufax was the golden arm of the Dodgers, Berra was a golden bat for the New York Yankees. The Yankee catcher had a modest 285 lifetime batting average, but was one of the game's best clutch hitters.

Aaron Interested In Only One Mark

By The Associated Press

Hank Aaron broke Babe Ruth's home run record Sunday. No, not THAT record. Aaron clubbed two home runs, including the game-winning shot in the 10th inning, lifting the Atlanta Braves to a 4-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

His first homer was No. 660 for his illustrious career, the most ever hit by one player with one team. Ruth had held the record, having belted 659 with the New York Yankees. But Aaron downplayed his achievement, preferring to look ahead—to that other record. "This club record does not have too much significance for me," declared the 38-year-old slugger, who came up with the Milwaukee Braves in 1954. "That 714 is still the big one to me—or maybe 715."

PLUS 55

Ruth, of course, holds the major league home record of 714, having hit 659 with the Yankees plus 55 more with the Boston Braves and Boston Red Sox.

Aaron's pair against the Reds boosted his season total to 22 and his career figure to 661, just 53 short of the Babe.

In other National League games, Pittsburgh swept a doubleheader from Montreal 8-0 and 7-2; Houston and San Francisco split a pair, the Astros taking the opener 7-3 and the Giants winning the nightcap 6-2; the New York Mets clubbed the Chicago Cubs 12-2, and Los Angeles blanked San Diego and St. Louis zipped Philadelphia, both by 6-0 scores.

In the American League, the New York Yankees swept a doubleheader from Milwaukee 3-0 and 6-4, the second game going 10 innings; the Chicago White Sox took two from Texas, 10-1 and 7-1; California swept Kansas City 4-3 and 3-2; Detroit and Cleveland split, the Indians winning the first game 2-1 and the Tigers the second 6-5; Oakland split a pair with Minnesota, the A's winning 6-3 in a 13-inning first game and the Twins winning the second 5-1, and Baltimore walloped Boston 11-2 in the lone American League single game.

Key Series Is Set To Open In New York

By The Associated Press

Sparky Lyle, left-handed pitcher, New York Yankees, felt something pop Sunday but it turned out to be only a scare. Denny Riddleberger, left-handed pitcher, Cleveland Indians, heard something pop and it turned out to be the late-inning home run bats of Detroit's Willie Horton and Mickey Stanley.

When all the popping was done, the third-place Yankees had swept a doubleheader from Milwaukee 3-0 and 6-4 in 10 innings while the Tigers, four games ahead of the Yanks atop the American League East, had salvaged a 1-2, 6-5 split with Cleveland that set up a key four-game series beginning Tuesday in New York.

Elsewhere, Baltimore battered Boston 11-2, Oakland downed Minnesota 6-3 in 13 innings but dropped the nightcap 5-1, the Chicago White Sox took two from Texas 10-1 and 7-1 and California swept Kansas City 4-3 and 3-2.

John Ellis had socked a two-run homer and Steve Kline had hurled eight scoreless innings against Milwaukee when New York skipper Ralph Houk signaled for Lyle to start the ninth and almost regretted it when his relief ace seemed to be in pain following a pitch.

"I caught my spikes on the back of the mound and I felt something pop," Lyle said. "There was no pain or anything and it was down in the lower part of my back, but for a few seconds I didn't want to throw the ball."

"I saw him stumble and raise his arm," said Houk with a sigh of relief. "So I went out to see if he was okay. He said he was and he proved it."

Lyle proved it by notching his 24th save and then coming back to hurl two scoreless innings to win the nightcap as the Yankees rallied in the late innings. Trailing 4-2 after Tommy Reynolds belted a three-run homer for the Brewers in the first inning, New York got a run-scoring single from Jerry Kenney in the eighth and a game-tying homer from Bernie Allen in the ninth.

BLANK TIGER CUBS Cardinals Claim 20th Straight

Jody Florez set the Big Spring Tiger Cubs down on four hits, and the Big Spring Cardinals mounted an 11-hit attack to lead the Cards to a 7-0 victory Sunday afternoon at Steer Park.

Florez, as usual, was impeccable, allowing only the four hits and hitting one batter. He did not walk anybody, and the Cardinals did not commit any errors behind him.

The Cardinal offense, which had been strained to the limit in a 9-8 victory over Snyder Friday night, casually produced seven runs by tallying one run in the second, fourth and eighth innings and two runs in the third and sixth innings.

The victory stretched the Cardinal record for the year to 20-0. Only a season-ending tournament stands between them and a perfect record.

The first Cardinal run came in the second when Billy Pineda was hit by a pitch to start the inning. Cather Joe Martinez singled to right-center field to move Pineda to third before Florez drove him home on a fielder's choice ground ball. The next three batters flied out to prevent any further scoring.

Zapata led off the next inning with a single. He stole second base and advanced to third on an error. Andy Gamboa walked but was thrown out trying to steal second. Benny Marquez walked before singled to center to score Zapata. Martinez hit a potential double play ball, but the Tiger Cub first baseman dropped the ball which allowed Marquez to cross home plate with the third run of the game.

After a single run in the fourth, the Cardinals put the game completely out of reach with the two runs in the sixth. Felix Martinez started the action with a walk. Pat Martinez followed with a single advancing Martinez to third. Pat Martinez was thrown out trying to steal second base, but Jimmy Fiervo walked to take his place. Zapata then singled to score Martinez.

After Gamboa forced Fiervo at third, Marquez batted home the last run of the inning with an error. Pineda reached on a single but Joe Martinez flied out to center to end the inning. The Cardinals scored their final run in the eighth inning on a hit batsman, a walk and an error.

For the Cardinals, Pat and Felix Martinez each were two for five at the plate as was Zapata. Gilbert Pesina was the only Tiger Cub to get more than one hit. He was two for four.

IN CUP PLAY Harold Solomon Kayoes Gisbert

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — The United States, defending Davis Cup champions, primed its one-two punch of Stan Smith and Harold Solomon to wipe out Spain today in the windup of the Interzone tennis semifinals.

And of the two, it may be the youthful, pint-sized Solomon with his baseball-bat swing that puts it away.

The 19-year-old from Silver Springs, Md., clearly has puzzled the Spaniards and probably is more feared than Smith, the 1972 Wimbledon champ and No. 1 in the United States.

"I frankly confess: Solomon I don't understand," said Spain's veteran Juan Gisbert after Solomon put him down.

Another veteran, Andres Gimeno, meets Solomon in the first singles match today with the United States holding a 2-1 lead after its doubles victory over Spain Sunday.

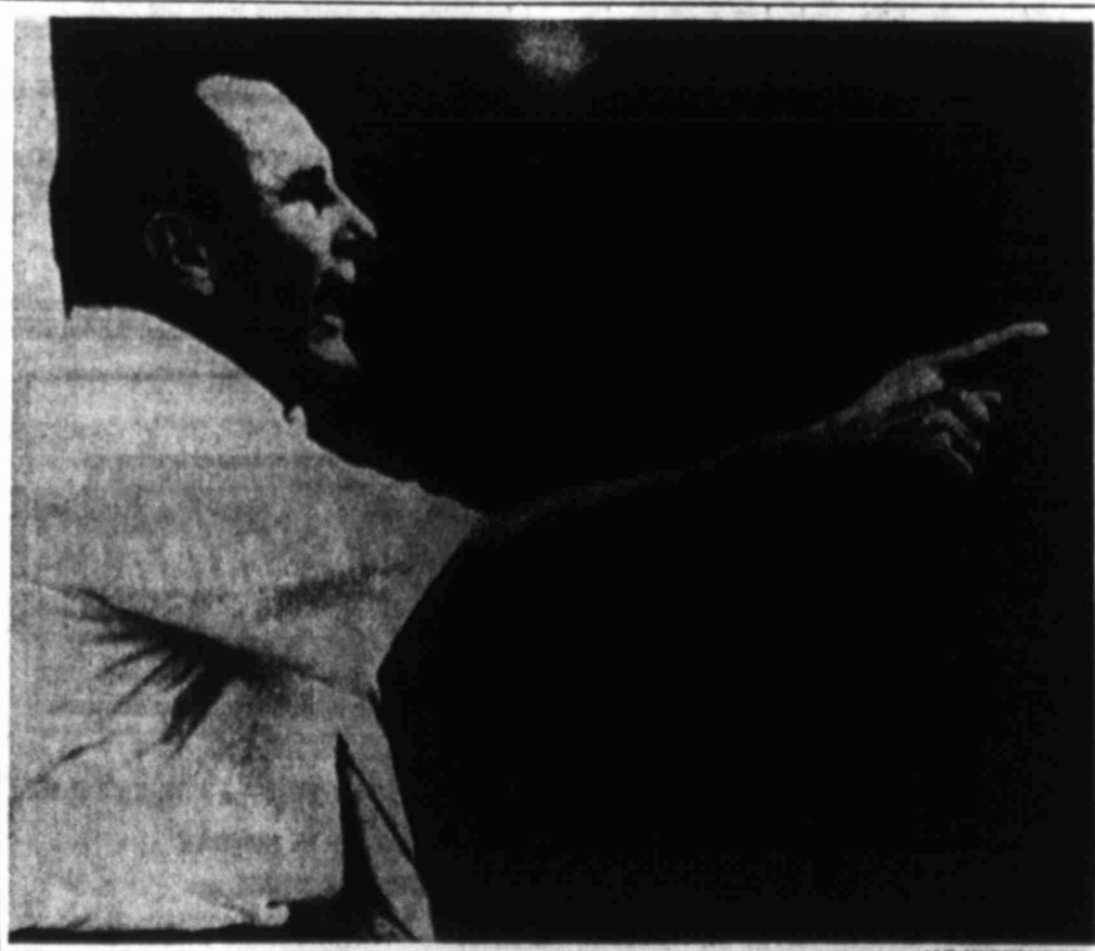

see who goes into the finals against Australia or Romania. But the balding Gimeno is a clever player and dangerous enough to solve Solomon's two-handed returns. He beat Smith, of Pasadena, Calif., in the opening singles match.

Smith and Gisbert meet in the final singles match following the Solomon-Gimeno confrontation.

Smith teamed with Erik Van Dillen of San Mateo, Calif., to give the U.S. team a powerful edge by defeating Gimeno and Gisbert Sunday 6-3, 6-6, 6-2 6-3.

The Americans dominated the doubles match except for the second set, when Smith's service went awry and Gisbert began firing rockets over the net.

The Romanians took a 2-1 lead in their semifinals in Bucharest Sunday as Ion Tiriac and Ilie Nastase dispatched the Aussie doubles team of Colin Dibley and Mal Anderson 6-2, 6-2 in a swift 75 minutes.

Woman Without Job Becomes Dogcatcher

By SHELLA TRYK ALBUQUERQUE Tribune Writer

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — She's young, blonde, friendly and until recently she was desperate for a job.

Pat Conner has a degree in sociology and history and a teaching certificate in secondary education. At 24, she's had experience in teaching, business and social work.

But like so many other university graduates in New Mexico, she couldn't find a job. "Then at city personnel, I heard about this job and I applied," said Mrs. Conner. She got the job — and became Albuquerque's official female dogcatcher.

The official title is Animal Control Officer. I had such a low income last year, I didn't pay any income tax," she said with a wry grin.

Mrs. Conner earned her own way through college — first at the University of New Mexico, then at Chicago City College and finally in Tennessee, where she obtained her degree from Memphis State University.

Returning to New Mexico this year to live, Mrs. Conner found teaching jobs in short supply. And most state jobs in social work require that an applicant be a state resident, she found.

After more than a month of looking she found the dogcatcher position. "It's a difficult job — the public doesn't understand," said Mrs. Conner, showing a bite mark on her arm. She spent part of her time in the hospital, from a severe reaction from an anti-rabies shot.

"This girl had left her dog running loose and when someone reported it and we went to pick it up, it bit me," she said.

"What ticked me off was the judge didn't even fine her, and this girl said she didn't care that the dog had bitten me."

It's a typical reaction, she said. "People say they love their dogs and they hate the dogcatcher. But then they don't want the responsibility of their animals, and they just dump them out on the street. Or they let them run loose and get vicious. Or they move away and leave them to starve."

Animals have to be watched and cared for and trained like children, she said.

Leading the way among the crowded dog cages, Mrs. Conner patted this one, spoke encouragingly to that one, rubbed the nose of another.

An old bulldog, a skeleton thin Shepherd, a young golden retriever, a huge Shepherd-Collie mix, assorted poodles, wriggling pups all waited out what could be their last days.

Mrs. Conner has found that her job, like most emergency employment positions, has been financed for only "a year or two."

"That's not right," she said. "Suppose a man with a family had the job, and he'd get fired after a year or so?"

For herself, Mrs. Conner is hoping to earn enough money to go to graduate school. Originally she had planned to get a master's degree in education. But now she's not so sure. "I think I'd like to go into some kind of work with animals," she said, and reluctantly put the clinging cat back in its cage.

A LOVELIER YOU Loofah Sponge Is Ecological Skin Aid

By MARY SUE MILLER A lovely writes: Please tell me what a loofah sponge is made of. Does it really benefit the skin? It looks so coarse and feels so rough. I hesitate to make a purchase in cosmetic counters.

The answer: Loofahs are not new. They have been used for centuries for scrubbing the skin to a fine glow and immaculate cleanliness. They are not products of the sea or of synthetic materials, like more familiar types of sponges. Loofahs come from the interior of a gourd that climbs on a tropical plant. When ripe it is removed, then treated and processed before it arrives at your cosmetic counter.

It comes to you in several forms. One is a thin, mesh-like rectangle about the size and shape of a kitchen sponge. Some are very large and roundish like a gourd. Others are oval to fit the hand or backed with terry toweling. While still dry loofahs have a coarse, scratchy feel. When wet they soften and become extremely pliable.

Working Woman Purchases Food

The traditional responsibility of the housewife for family food shopping hasn't changed much, despite the fact that so many thousands of wives are working. The working woman either does not or cannot delegate this job, says Leo Bogart, executive vice president and general manager of the Bureau of Advertising. He based his statement on a woman study of "The Working Woman."

You'll soon learn that your body really hasn't had a good scrub in its life until a going-over with a sponge that swooshes away all those dead skin cells and makes the body complexion bright and sparkly.

A word of caution... Do not use a loofah if your skin is unusually sensitive, or if you have the problem of blemishes. Of course, you would never use a loofah on your face. These sponges, ages-old, are ecology young, as appropos to today's living as to yesterday's simple hygiene.

Mrs. Beckham Tells Island Trip Highlights

Mrs. Fred Beckham discussed her recent four-week trip to Hawaii at a breakfast meeting of Coahoma Past Matrons Club, Saturday at Coker's Restaurant.

Mrs. Beckham said she particularly enjoyed attending the Kawaiahoa Church in downtown Honolulu, where services are done in both Hawaiian and English. Another highlight of the trip was Kamehameha Day festivities which included outrigger races and a parade honoring King Kamehameha.

Mr. and Mrs. Beckham were in Hawaii as guests of her cousin and family, Dr. and Mrs. Laurence Thompson. Mrs. Thompson is the former Maranell Terry of Westbrook.

Decorations at the breakfast were done in a Hawaiian motif. A yellow antiqued flower arrangement in a white bowl centered the table and was flanked by sea shells. Serving tables were accented with a wooden bark hanging, "Tiki Bob" a nod to Captain Hanks. Acacia (mokeypod) and sea shells, coral and pictures completed the setting. Each member was presented a souvenir shell lei when they arrived.

Mrs. Tom Barber presided, and the invocation was by Mrs. Norman Read. ASSISTING MRS. Beckham as hostess was Mrs. Edith Jackson of O'Donnel.

Who Gets The Disaffected?

The colorful national political career of Alabama's Gov. George Corley Wallace came to an official end the other day. He announced that he would not accept the nomination for president of the American party, and would do only so much campaigning as his doctors would permit.

He was cut down, seemingly at the height of his career, by the bullet of a would-be assassin in a Laurel, Md., shopping center. He is paralyzed from the waist down by the bullet which lodged in his spinal canal. He may never walk again.

It is a great personal tragedy. It is also a national tragedy that men of strong opinions cannot safely travel across this country and express their view without fear of assassination.

What will his supporters do in the November general election? No one seems to know. Unlike 1968, when Wallace said he didn't see "a dime's worth of difference" between the Republican and Democratic nominees, this year the differences are sharply drawn.

The Wallace people, as with those supporting

Sen. George McGovern, are discontented. passionately demanding a change, but for different reasons. Will they vote for a change, or will they vote for the status quo by choosing Richard M. Nixon?

Much may depend on what Wallace does. If he campaigns, even to a limited degree for Democrats, as aides have hinted, many of his followers will go along. Similarly, they could be turned to Nixon by an opposite stance.

Encouraging Development

Substantial encouragement comes from the acceleration of building here. While the rate is yet a long way from the boom days, it does represent a health start toward recovery from the doldrums.

Few things contribute so much immediately to quickened economic activity as building. This

By a curious coincidence, Wallace and McGovern have appeared as the champions of men and women who are persuaded that the American dream has turned into something approaching a nightmare. Both major parties are faced with the problem of finding a place for these disaffected people. The party that succeeds in forging a new coalition will almost surely dominate the American political scene for perhaps a generation or more.

is good news within itself, but the better part of the news is the gradual but seemingly steady resumption of residential construction. This has been at an almost total standstill, and it was unnatural. The pressure for good housing is making itself felt, and we hope continues to be felt increasingly.

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

Some one asked me recently what I thought the world would be like 25 years from now. I think there'll be a change in diapers. Outside of that, I hesitate to say.

I FORESEE a time, however, when the housewife will have at her fingertips a wonderland of electronic servants, but there'll be fewer repair men around to fix them — and the time the warranties on them and the time they go on the Fritz will be much shorter, like about 23 hours.

Automobiles will be relegated to fourth place among the country's largest industries — behind the repair trade, recreation and psychiatry.

WEDDING RINGS will continue to be round. So will the rings which wind up in some men's noses after they exchange wedding vows.

Fiends will discover an exquisite way to torture, that by placing their victims in sound-proof rooms. Most of the people will have grown so used to deafening noise that they will feel lost and helpless without it. If you don't think you have a problem now, spend a night in the country, where the only sounds you hear are the gentle breezes rustling the leaves in a nearby tree and the distant call of the whip-o-will.

AUTOMOBILES will be capable of speeds up to 250 miles an hour but it'll take an hour and 15 minutes to drive to work because the roads will be so clogged with traffic.

That home you order will come off the assembly line, and could be ready for you in a week but for the fact that it will take three years to clear the papers on it.

MENTAL HOSPITALS likely will outnumber those dedicated to the proposition of curing physical ailments, mainly because medicine will have made great inroads about eliminating malignancies, arthritis, heart trouble and TB.

Some individual who is not impatient with oldsters will do an about-face and be puzzled as to why youth doesn't understand him.

IF THE PRICE of bread doesn't go to 75 cents a loaf, it will be because they've started making it with sawdust. But, then, why fault the bakers? The price of everything else will go up accordingly.

Nixon's Intent

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Examining the economic condition of America today, the experts are saying that improvement is noticeable. Expansion has begun again, and both employment and production are rising. The rate of inflation is being gradually reduced, and the position of the United States internationally is getting better.

THIS OUTLOOK is expected to characterize the rest of 1972, with a slow but steady increase in employment. Nobody can guess just what progress will have been made by the end of the year, and the tendency of business is to look toward 1973 with a spirit of optimism. The wage and price situation has been brought to a more stable status, though there is no indication as yet of how long controls will be maintained. It may be assumed that there will be restraints at least until the beginning of 1973 and that the Nixon administration would be ready to continue or reimpose such controls if prices and wages should reach excessive levels. The general purpose is to preserve growth in business and to encourage employment.

THE BUDGET DEFICIT in each of the last two fiscal years has been $23 billion, and the proposed budget for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1973, would be close to balance under full employment conditions. If President Nixon is re-elected, there are indications he intends to stick to his policy of holding down federal expenditures and hopes to have even more cooperation from congress.

"THE ADMINISTRATION will propose a program of tax reform before the year is out. One of the objectives we seek in developing such a program is to increase the equity of the tax system. However, when we consider the differences of opinion that exist about what equity is, when we consider the possible inequities of suddenly changing long-established practices, and when we consider the past record of congress in these matters — it is not prudent to count on a large or swift increase in revenue from closing 'loopholes' affecting small fractions of the population," said Herbert Stein, COUNCIL OF Economic Advisers.

"A warning is also in order when we turn to the possibility of meeting our budget problem by raising taxes generally. The pressures for higher spending are great. But the public resistance to higher taxes is also great, and understandably so. Failure to control spending may make a tax increase necessary without making it probable. It would be better to face the expenditure problem now than to count on successfully facing the tax problem later."

THE DETERMINATION, however, to get the budget balanced is evident. The president seems to believe that by curbing inflation while stimulating business activity and employment, revenues from taxes will naturally increase and the federal government will collect more money. This, of course, will be the biggest single factor in removing deficits.

A HARD-TO-RESIST TEMPTATION!

Alimony Observation

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Despite all its dieting, America is still one of the world's greatest bread-eating nations. We consume over 14 billion pounds a year, or about 73 pounds a person.

If you want to be a writer, it's hard to write about a subject people find much more interesting than money. One of the biggest all-time nonfiction best sellers is a book titled, "A Guide Book of U.S. Coins."

When you see a pink elephant coming at you on a hangover morning, do you know what you've got? You've got Zoppia, the hallucination that you are being chased by animals.

The infamous Bastille of Paris, a symbol of the French Revolution, wasn't a lockup for common rogues and criminals. It was a jail largely for nobles who had offended the king or his men. The prisoners often had spacious apartments dined on the best delicacies and wine, and sometimes had wild parties at which they entertained up to 20 outside guests.

Quotable notables: "Anybody can win, unless there happens to be a second entry."—Indiana novelist George Ade.

The rising cost of government: In the decade from 1960 through 1970, the average U.S. family—including families in which the wife worked also—earned $74,874. From that amount Uncle Sam took about a year's pay—$10,070—in income and Social Security taxes alone. But for each $100 a worker forks out for U.S. income and Social Security taxes, the federal government collects another $74 in hidden taxes.

The fact sheet: George Washington Carver found more than 100 new commercial uses for the sweet potato. One out of three Americans today is a bicyclist. But bike riding is of doubtful value in weight reduction, as you use only one-fifth of a horsepower to pedal 10 miles an hour—little more than in walking. Modern tennis developed from a game played on horseback in the 12th century.

The Alter Mama

Omar Burleson

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The United States Senate has again passed the Bill entitled "The Comprehensive Headstart, Child Development and Family Services Act of 1972." In December of last year the Congress passed a similar measure as an amendment to the Economic Opportunity Act which was vetoed by the President.

"CHILD DEVELOPMENT" should not be confused with "day care," which provides facilities for children of working mothers. There are provisions for these services in other legislation.

The Bill passed by the senate and which will soon be before the House of Representatives is more than just "child care." As described by the advocates it is "an activist's program intent upon perfecting the child's early environment." Dr. Reginald Lourie, president of the Commission on the Mental Health of Children, in testifying before the Senate Committee said "there is serious thinking among child researchers that we cannot trust the family one to prepare young people for this new kind of world — not only we parents unnecessary, but they are too inept to rear their own children."

WE'LL HOW-DO-YOU-DO Dr. Lourie! — The "new kind of world" Dr. Lourie refers to must be that novelized by Huxley who foresaw test-tube children and regimented adults whose pleasure was dispensed in governmentally prescribed doses.

As Dr. Ernest Van Den Haag, New York University psychoanalyst testified, "the assumption that social science has as yet produced a tested theory of child rearing is sheer fantasy. Only a few variables have been detected, and they suggest that family care should be encouraged, not replaced."

NO ONE argues that there is not a need for remedial services for disadvantaged and neglected children. There are programs already in effect for this purpose. The "Child Development Bill" as passed by the U.S. Senate and now to be considered is much, much more, that the government knows best. "If the Government has such knowledge it is a well kept secret of which the scientific community is quite unaware."

MR. GEORGE GILDER in a recently published article had this to say: "When these heavens (family and home) are eliminated, where do we go to find love and individual affirmation — to be accepted for whom one is, rather than for what one does or how much money one makes? Where can one find meaning and a sense of the future — of human transcendence? Not in a day-care center, I trust."

The Concept of communal child rearing is alien to America and would deeply affect the traditional values found in the family unit.

The greatest objection of all to these proposals is the simple proposition of substituting a building for a mother's image.

TV Coverage

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — First radio broadcast of a major political convention was in 1924, and RCA provided the cameras and the few viewing sets for the first TV coverage in 1940.

Viewers in '40 could be counted on fingers. In '52 about 34 million people watched all three networks during the first nationally telecast convention coverage. This year, it's expected that about 118 million will see both convention proceedings.

Food Price Problem

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Right when the nation's economic referees were about to congratulate themselves on bringing order to the consumer price game, those incorrigible food prices are stepping out of bounds again.

Based on latest wholesale figures, supermarket prices could become the center of attention again. Meat, poultry, eggs, fruits and vegetables seem destined to go higher. And coffee prices too.

The rise forecast in retail coffee prices represents an unexpectedly diabolical blow from nature in the form of a freeze-dried situation in the Brazilian coffee growing areas, where you must remember, it was winter in July.

The wholesale food price problem can be seen as especially irascible when it is contrasted with the prices of other wholesale items which now appear to be conforming to expectations and expectations.

Eliminate food prices from the Wholesale Price Index and it shows for July a rise of only two-tenths of one per cent, which makes a yearly average of 2.4 per cent, a figure that by modern standards is acceptable.

Include the prices of agricultural goods, however, and the WPI rise comes out to eight-tenths of one per cent, a yearly average of 9.6 per cent, a rate that could bankrupt a family of hungry, growing children.

The signals being sent out by this ominous turn are directed in sharp focus at:

—The Price Commission,

July Car Sales Record Posted

DETROIT (AP) — Sales by U.S. auto manufacturers broke all-time July records last month, opening 1972's second half in the wake of a spectacular six months in which they rolled up new sales and profits records.

Passenger car import sales, both foreign and domestic, were down in the U.S. market for the second month in a row and in comparison with 1971's first seven months.

which has been hesitant to tangle with farmers.

—The administration and its election advisers, who must know that consumer attitudes can become politicized in election years.

It is nearly too much to believe or bear, but while the nation still wrestles with inflation, albeit while enjoying benefits of a sturdy expansion, some economists are talking about recession.

This dismal outlook may have something to do with the psychology or the politics of the forecaster. Some economists are by nature as dour as their subject: most economists, like others, lean to the left or right in politics.

Whatever the reason for the recession talk, this is the reasoning:

The country is overspending. We'll have a three-year federal budget deficit of more than $80 billion. Everyone knows that deficits are inflationary. Nobody knows this more than the Federal Reserve Board.

The Fed, therefore, will be goaded into action. It will seek to restrain the economy by restricting the money supply.

Letters To Editor

TO THE EDITOR: I know this will not bring back our grandson, but it could prevent someone else being killed as our grandson was a week ago. The city should please fix that curve on North Birdwell Lane. We try to keep our city safe, but this is a death trap, and I think something should be done about it.

MRS. OLLIE BRANSOM

DEAR SIR: It seems to me that we have a group of county commissioners and a county judge who are more interested in insulting and ridiculing one another than they are in taking care of the county's business. It is my personal opinion that the whole damn bunch should be thrown out of office.

My Answer

Billy Graham

I made a decision in your Dallas crusade and have been visiting churches. (You told me to find a spiritual church.) But I don't find the same kind of preaching and singing in the churches you had in your crusades. Can you tell me which church in our area has services like yours?

No church will have a choir of 5,000 voices, singing led by Cliff Barrows, and vocal solos by singers like Ethel Waters, George Beverly Shea and Norma Zimmer. A crusade is a joint effort by many churches in a community, and such a project would be impossible without the participation of local churches (many of them small). Large crowds generate emotion and enthusiasm, and naturally, you can't expect such spirit in a local church.

But there are similarities. They will sing the same songs, pray to the same heavenly Father, and preach the same Gospel. When Christianity began it did not attract thousands of people, but Christ's disciples met in homes (not cathedrals or temples) in small groups. But even in this small way they were able to turn the world upside down, and change the course of history.

Some of the most vital churches I know are small, but their enthusiasm is big, their faith is big, and their God is big. So, don't compare your local church situation with the crusade services. Look for the similarities, not differences, and remember that our Lord said: "Where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them." Matthew 18:20.

A Devotion For Today . .

Why are ye fearful? have ye not yet faith? (Mark 4:40, ASV)
PRAYER: Eternal God, give us courage to meet the challenges of this day with the truth of Christ and the gospel. This we ask in the name of our Savior, who has taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

Burleson Announces Date In Academy Competition

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Congressman Omar Burleson Saturday announced that he will be interested in competing for nominations to the service academies for the class entering July, 1973, that he uses a competitive method of selection. Thus, all young men who meet the necessary requirements may be considered.

The service academies are the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland; the Military Academy at West Point, New York; the Air Force Academy near Colorado Springs, Colo.; and the Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, New York.

In order for Rep. Burleson to consider applicants, a candidate must meet these requirements: 1) Must be a U.S. citizen; 2) must be over 17 and a legal resident of the 17th Congressional District; 3) must be under 22 years of age on July 2, 1973; 4) must never have been married; 5) must be physically fit, including excel-

Doubts Addition Of Shriver Will Help Texas Demo Party

DE SOTO, Tex. (AP) — The chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee in Texas, Roy Orr, said Sunday he has doubts that the addition of Sargent Shriver to the Democratic ticket will help the party in Texas.

Shriver, brother-in-law of Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., and a former Peace Corps director, was chosen by the Democratic presidential nominee, Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., Saturday. Shriver takes the place on the national ticket vacated by Sen. Thomas Eagleton, D-Mo., who resigned after a furor over his mental health.

Two of McGovern's choices for the second place on the ticket—including Senator Kennedy, turned down the position before Eagleton was chosen by the National Democratic Convention.

Orr said he assumed McGovern chose Shriver for his "national value" but he added in the same breath that in Texas "Shriver wouldn't be any improvement over Eagleton."

"McGovern could have done better," Orr said.

He added that he believes Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., would have been the best choice to balance the ticket and carry Texas in the November general election.

Former Sen. Ralph Yarborough of Texas and state Rep. Frances Farenthold had been mentioned as possibilities to join McGovern on the ticket, but apparently neither was approached.

Mrs. Farenthold, defeated in a runoff election by Dolph Briscoe for the Texas democratic gubernatorial nomination, ran second to Eagleton in voting by delegates at the national convention in Miami Beach, Fla.

Yarborough said Saturday he believed his two defeats in Texas precluded his being asked to run with McGovern. He has been a staunch supporter of the democratic standard bearer and still is campaigning vigorously for the South Dakotan.

Hits Gusher

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A computer error gave Charles J. Friedl of Louisville more than he bargained for when he tried to renew his two Ashland Oil Co. credit cards.

He has received 300 new cards.

The oil company asked Friedl to destroy the cards. He said he would.

BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS

Q. 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠J73 ♠A874 ♠K732 ♠A3

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass

2 ♥ Pass 2 NT Pass

3 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A—Four hearts. Your hand has the value of 13 points and partner's return to hearts makes it a moral certainty that he has four trumps. You should contract for game.

Q. 2—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠A ♠A64 ♠KJ75 ♠AQ1094

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 1 NT Pass

2 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A—Two diamonds. Offensive prospects for this hand are outstanding for when partner responds with one no trump to a club opening that shows a hand of about average high card strength (13-15 points) plus a probable club fit. Since your investigation is all controls, a slam investigation should be begun. If your reverse in diamonds elicits a club preference you can cue bid the ace of hearts next to see partner's reaction.

Q. 3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠A43 ♠AK ♠K92 ♠109864

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass

2 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A—Two no trump. This may seem rather drastic with only six points in high cards, but partner has shown a very powerful hand with a value of at least 19 points, which gives the partnership a minimum of 25 points. It seems to us it is desirable to indicate possession of a partial stopper in clubs with a

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠642 ♠AKJ75 ♠AQ4 ♠83

The bidding has proceeded:

East South

What do you bid?

A—Pass. This hand tempts many players into a two heart overall, which is fraught with danger. While prospects of game are remote at the present time, the risk of a sizable penalty is distinct. Beware of hands in which you have three losing cards in the suit with which your adversary has opened the bidding.

Q. 5—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠KQJ1094 ♠A6 ♠A ♠AQ93

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

2 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass

4 NT Pass 5 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A—Our choice is six spades. Since partner has made a positive response to your bid without the ace of clubs, he surely has either the king of diamonds or the king of hearts, or both. This solves the problem of surplusing the six of hearts, for surely he must have a club suit as good as five to the king-jack.

Q. 6—Partner opens one spade and you hold:

♠Q10864 ♠73 ♠82 ♠AJ84

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

Pass Pass 1 ♥ 2 ♠

Pass Pass Dble. Pass ?

What is your response?

A—There is a response which announces to partner: "I have a 4-3-3 hand and could have opened with one no trump had I been the dealer. Take it from here; you know what I have." That bid is three no trump.

Court Case May Result In Slower Repossession

LUBBOCK — A recent United States Supreme Court decision in most states, including Texas, requires a creditor who had sold goods "on time" under an installment contract to obtain a court order allowing the sheriff to take such goods from a defaulting purchaser without a hearing. If the creditor was wrongfully, the purchaser was allowed to bring a suit at a later time for any damages he may have suffered, Prof. Kraemer said.

In the case of Fuentes v. Shevin, however, the Supreme Court has held that the purchaser's rights to due process of law are violated if the order is issued solely at the request of the creditor and the purchaser is not given an opportunity for a hearing to contest whether such an order is proper on the facts of the case before the goods are taken. As the Court said in reaching its decision, "It has long been recognized that fairness can rarely be obtained by secret, one-sided determination of facts and decisive rights."

This new legal requirement will result in a delay between the time when a buyer defaults and the time when goods can legally be seized. "The delay will undoubtedly cost something," Prof. Kraemer said, "and this will probably be reflected in increased credit costs or in increased costs for the goods themselves." It was his opinion "waivers" in purchase contracts will be tossed out unless clearly explained.

Bill May Restore Confiscated Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government will have to give back the money it took from some 2,000 Japanese-Americans forced into internment camps during World War II if Congress approves a pending bill. A House subcommittee heard appeals Friday for out-of-pocket action on the measure to return the total $4.5 million confiscated from accounts in U.S. branches of a Japanese bank.

Only Way

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: When I was barely 16 I had to get married. George (made up name) was 18. It was a mistake from the start, but I stuck by him because of our kids who are now 8, 9, 11 and 12.

George always ran with other girls. He still does. I never denied him love or affection, but it was like a sickness with him. Even he admits he can't help it. They are the worst kind of girls, too. I can't count the times George brought home a social disease.

Two years ago I kicked him out for that reason and I started divorce action. Our oldest daughter became so upset she wouldn't eat. She always idolized her father but I don't know why. He hardly ever looked at her. Anyway, this girl was practically starving herself to death, so the doctor advised me to let George come home. I gave him one more chance.

Last week I kicked him out again for the same reason, and this time I made up my mind to go through with the divorce. Abby, I just can't live with this man any longer. Now the same daughter is sick again. She can't keep any food on her stomach. She says if I don't take Daddy back she will run away or kill herself.

If anything happens to my daughter, I will never forgive myself, yet I don't want to spend the rest of my life with a man like George. What should I do?

DEAR IN: Get some professional counseling for your daughter and proceed with your plans. Tell her that your mind is made up, and she will have to be a big girl and accept your decision.

DEAR ABBY: I recently served on jury duty and I was shocked at what went on. One woman said the man must be guilty or he would never have been arrested. Another man urged everyone to vote guilty so we could all go home. Another man suggested we should all vote guilty and close the case because the court costs are paid for by tax dollars.

The case ended in a 7-to-5 vote of guilty which prompted one juror to suggest that we make it a unanimous vote because the judge "got awful upset" over hung juries. Abby, if any of your readers can tell me that my experience was unique, please have them write to you. Thank you.

WAITING IN COOLVILLE, OHIO
DEAR WAITING: All right. Former jurors?

DEAR ABBY: "Disgusted" wanted to keep people from going to movies which showed "raw sex."

I am a healthy-minded 23-year-old woman who wants to know why "disgusted" complains about "raw sex," but the sickening sights of war, shoot 'em-ups, bloody violence and other forms of raw murder don't seem to bother her.

Children, if educated honestly by their parents about sex, will be able to cope with movies containing sex. If children don't learn that sex is a healthy normal part of their lives, they will do their research with dirty books and in the back seats of cars.

"Disgusted" needn't worry about blushing. The theaters and drive-ins are dark. I am more worried about throwing up!

Don't Lie

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

TWO BOYS: (Q) I like Matt. He treats me nice. Lloyd hurts me over and over, but I really like him. Here is the way it is: I was going with Lloyd and loving it. All of a sudden I realized that for nearly a month he had been acting like he didn't much care for me. So I broke up with Lloyd and started going with Matt.

I like to go with Matt, but every time I see Lloyd I like him more and more.

He has told one of my girl friends he would like to go with me again. He told her I'm the only girl he would go with. But he hasn't asked me.

I have already told Matt I like him and that I don't like Lloyd. That is not the truth.

What do I do now? — All Tangled Up in Tennessee.

(A.) Two things you definitely should not do:

(1.) Tell anymore lies.
(2.) Lead a boy to think you like him when you honestly don't.

If you cannot truly enjoy going with Matt, break up with him. Do it now. Do not wait until Lloyd asks you to go with him again.

PAWED: (Q) I've been going with this guy for a year. He has been great. But now that we've got to know each other better he tries to paw me in the wrong places.

When I push him away he gets mad and pouts like an immature baby.

I do not want to lose him. Please tell me what I can say to him. — Uneasy in Ohio

(A.) Talk plain to him. Tell him you like him very much but are not ready to get physical too early in life. Tell him if he won't try to push you, then you won't have to keep pushing him away. I think he will understand.

(Jean Adams reads and considers every letter, but she regrets that she cannot answer each personally. Mail your questions and comments to Jean Adams, care of the Big Spring Herald, P. O. Box 2402, Houston, Texas 77001.)

Postal Rates Hike Receipts

Since Jan. 1, 1972 and through July 21, 15,375,000 pieces of mail have been processed through the Big Spring branch of U. S. Postal Service.

"The 1971 total for the same period is 18,985,000, but the total can only count in-coming mail. All out-going mail goes to the Midland post office now, and we can't count it in our volume," said L. R. Calvert, acting foreman of mail at the local office.

Revenue received by the post office through July 21 amounted to $431,000. By the same time in 1971, the office had collected $389,000.

"The current figure is up over last year, but only a small portion of that is due to increased postage rates. The increased postage rates were in effect for part of 1971," said Calvert.

Murder Trial Starts Today

LAMESA — The murder trial of Roy King, 23-year-old Seagraves man, started in 106th District Court this morning with the selection of a jury.

King is charged with the Nov. 20, 1970, shooting death of Scott Williams, 54-year-old business manager of a Seagraves lumber firm.

The trial was moved to Lamesa on a change of venue.

A co-defendant in the case, Jerry Watson, 30, also of Seagraves, entered a plea of guilty Jan. 5 in the murder of Williams and was given a life term.

According to investigating officers, Williams surprised the pair while they were in the process of burglarizing the lumber firm.

Canker Sores

Your Good Health

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is the cause of canker sores? I used to get them one at a time. Now there are two or three at a time in different parts of my mouth. Do you have a remedy? — R.L.

The heck of it is that there's no single cause of canker sores. Among the various factors that have been related to various cases are injury to the mouth membrane, sensitivity (allergy) to a considerable variety of things, poor general health, changes in the system (as with menstruation), mouth infections, even emotional stress.

So general rules for avoiding canker sores are these: make sure no lingering infection is present in the mouth; don't use too stiff a toothbrush; have any cavities or jagged teeth repaired; if you note that the cankers occur after eating some particular food, or using some specific dentifrice or mouth wash, stop using it. Sometimes tablets containing lactic acid bacilli help. Sometimes an antibiotic may be necessary.

As with any ailment for which there is no single, simple cause, various methods succeed in certain cases. When some remedy works, the user is convinced — wrongly — he has a "cure" that will work for everybody. Three or four years ago a reader kept track of the remedies offered to him by friends, relatives and doctors. Here's his list:

From relatives: "Load up with vitamin C pills." "Gargle with salt water." "Change toothbrushes."

From friends: "Sleep on the side of the face without the canker sores." "Eat lots of oranges." "Stay away from citrus fruit." "Drink lots of water." "Avoid chocolate, french fries, etc." "Use an alum stick."

From three general practitioners: "Rinse mouth with dilute hydrogen peroxide." "Cankers will come and they will go." "Use triamcinolone acetonide in emollient dental paste."

From a periodontist: "Burn them with silver nitrate."

From a dentist: "Nothing much can be done, but ease the pain with medication."

From two pharmacists: "Use a preparation containing hexachlorophene, benzocaine and tannic acid." "Use a powder of aluminum hydrate, benzocaine, magnesium trisilicate and sodium acid carbonate."

He said that, for him, the silver nitrate gets the best results, but it wasn't a remedy that one could use at home. Then his cankers disappeared. How?

His theory: "I think the laughter I got from these 'ad- vices' cured them. Laughter is still the best medicine."

Note to L.D.H.: Yes, I know there are rumors going around that cataracts can be "dissolved" with medication, but that's all they are — rumors.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple. Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of the booklet, "How To Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," enclosing a log, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Texan Tops At Cheyenne

DENVER, Colo. — A Texan took the biggest bite of the record $106,471 awarded Sunday at the end of the 76th annual Frontier Days rodeo in Cheyenne, Wyo., the Rodeo Cowboys Association said.

Ted Smalley, Burkburnett, Tex., won $5,038 in calf roping, the richest event at the "Daddy of 'Em All."

The 41-year-old veteran, who serves as second vice-president on the board of directors for the association, placed second in the second go-round of competition, and finished second in the "average."

All around cowboy at the rodeo, winning the most in two events, was Walt Arnold, Silverton, Tex., who picked up a total of $3,819 in calf roping and steer roping.

Event "average" winners included Hugh Chambliss, Santa Rosa, N.M., $1,526 in saddle bronc riding; Rusty Riddle, Mineral Wells, Tex., $1,751 in bareback riding; Larry Rohrig, Rifle, Colo., $2,239 in bull riding; Jack Witcher, Miles City, Mont., $3,853 in calf roping; Bob Marshall, San Martin, Calif., $3,406 in steer wrestling.

Election Forms Printer To Get Part Of Debt

The last few dollars appropriated by the Texas Legislature to cover costs of party primary elections in May and June were to begin trickling to county party chairmen Friday, according to Secretary of State Pat Bullock.

Approximately $325,000 in addition to the $2,150,000 appropriated to cover the election costs is needed, said Bullock.

"When we have paid all the county chairmen, we will not have one cent remaining of the money appropriated to pay for conducting the 1972 primary elections," added Bullock.

D. A. Brazel, presiding county Democratic chairman during the primaries, said that the local party is due a little over $400 from the state to cover election costs.

"All our debts have been paid, with the exception of $800 owed to a Fort Worth company for which printing election kits and precinct record forms for election judges," said Brazel. "Our election workers were paid first, and the local company which printed the ballots has been paid," said Brazel. Secretary Bullock said that each county chairman will receive funds equaling 26.66 percent of any remaining debt. Based on its $800 debt, Howard County Demos will receive approximately $213.28 with which to appease creditors. Remaining expenses "will just have to ride until the 63rd Legislature meets in January and takes action on the party election debts, according to Bullock."
