MRS. IRVING RELEASED — A tearful Mrs. Edith Irving stands with her husband, Clifford, after she was released today from Nassau County jail. She had served two months for her role in the Howard Hughes autobiography hoax. She still faces Swiss charges. Her husband is due to start a 2½-year prison term in 10 days. Meanwhile the couple will spend that time in Sarasota, Fla., with their two young sons.

Connally Stooge Of 'Billionaires?'

Zippered Lion Ate Whole Thing

HOUSTON (AP) — King, the lion, was slightly weak today and he'll be on a diet of mush for a few days.

It was something he ate. Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Huggins, owners of the seven-month old pet, said King tried to make a meal out of a vinyl couch last week.

It left him with a bad stomach ache. The normally robust beast stopped eating. His weight dropped from 110 pounds to 82 pounds. He had to see a doctor.

His owners placed King in the family pickup truck for the trip to see a veterinarian.

A motorist honked. The ailing lion leaped onto the freeway.

Now he had more than a stomach ache. He suffered what Mrs. Huggins referred to as abrasions to "his bottom side."

He finally made it to the operating table Wednesday. Dr. Bruce Hutchinson, resident veterinarian at Texas A&M University's Small Animal Clinic opened the animal's abdominal cavity.

King's stomach and small intestine yielded two zippers and a large piece of vinyl.

The vet rubbed ointment on King's other injury.

The Hugginses also bought a large cage to keep King out of trouble.

"Lions just have a tendency to eat things they've got no business eating, like furniture," said Mrs. Huggins.

Reward Is Upped For BB Vandals

A group of "concerned merchants" are offering a $500 reward for information leading to the identity and conviction of persons responsible for vandalism of business houses by BB-guns.

Damage caused by the vandals over a period of nights amounts to thousands of dollars.

The reward money now totals $650. Anyone with information on the miscreants can contact police headquarters. The identity of the informants will not be revealed.

LIBRARY WILL BE CLOSED MONDAYS

New library hours at the Howard County Library get underway Sept. 4 with the library to be closed all day each Monday, according to Larry Justiss, librarian.

The facility will open on Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. and on Thursday from 12 noon to 9 p.m.

Lake Spence Close To Peak Level

Lake E. V. Spence began to level off today at elevation 1854.48. This is .68 of a foot under the previous peak level in August of 1971. It also is about a foot less than had been anticipated on the basis of runoff from the flood in the Snyder area last Sunday.

O. H. Ivie, general manager for the Colorado River Municipal Water District, said that within the past week Lake Spence has picked up nearly 20,000 acre-feet. Lake Thomas 50 miles upstream, gained 26,000 acre-feet and more than 7½ feet in vertical rise. Lake Spence's vertical rise is about four feet.

Skyjacking Gunman Demands $2 Million

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — A bicycle-riding gunman demanding delivery of $2 million he said would be spent on children crippled in the Vietnam war forced a United Air Lines jetliner to Vancouver today after commandeering it at Reno, Nev.

The three-engine Boeing 727 landed at Vancouver International Airport after circling the airfield while authorities sought to meet his demands, which the airline said included a small arsenal of weapons, electronic gear and gold bars, in addition to the $2 million in cash.

In Seattle, the Federal Bureau of Investigation said the hijacker "wanted it—the money and equipment—on the ground so he could see it before he landed."

The FBI added there was no indication where the hijacker wanted eventually to go.

The airliner landed at 12:32

p.m. EDT, about 2½ hours after it was taken over in Reno.

In Chicago, a spokesman for United said the hijacker had also demanded that a radio station broadcast a statement to the effect that the hijacking was part of a concerted effort to destroy the United aircraft fleet unless the Vietnam war was ended.

United said they had relayed such a statement to radio station CJOR in Vancouver, which broadcast it. The airline also quoted the gunman as saying the $2 million he had demanded be delivered in $20 and $50 bills was intended to aid children crippled in the Vietnam war.

The airline said the hijacker, described as a middle-age man wearing a ski mask, ordered the few passengers who had boarded the early morning flight to San Francisco off the plane after rushing it. Also ordered off the flight—No. 877—were three stewardesses, the airline said.

Three male crew members were on board the plane when it took off, the airline said. Fifty-two passengers were scheduled to have taken the flight.

It was the second hijacking of a United plane at the Reno airport in less than three months.

On June 2, a man wearing a white pillow case over his head walked on to a United 727 jetliner and demanded $200,000 and parachutes.

Confab Turning Into Forum For Attacks On McGovern

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Preliminaries for next week's Republican convention are turning into a forum for attacks on Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern and mark the opening stages in the battle for control of the GOP in 1976.

A floor fight over the shape of the 1976 convention was assured Thursday when the Republican National Committee approved a delegate allotment plan supported by GOP leaders and party conservatives that favors the smaller, more solid Republican states.

The peace talks were countered quickly by the campaigning McGovern.

In Racine, Wis., the South Dakota senator said that hopes for any serious peace talks are being jeopardized by what he termed "a highly publicized global junket" by national security adviser Henry A. Kissinger on the eve of the GOP convention.

Legal Help For Poor Dies In Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's demand for total control over the government's legal aid program for the poor has squelched efforts to free the project from the federal bureaucracy.

The development was a triumph for conservatives who object to the frequent lawsuits initiated by federal poverty lawyers challenging state and local government practices, particularly in the welfare field.

In a surprise move, Senate House conferees announced Thursday they were giving up rather than giving in to Nixon's specifications.

The dropped legislation setting up an independent national corporation to administer the legal aid program, leaving the two-year effort in limbo and the program under the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Nixon had recommended the shift to an independent corporation, but insisted on power to choose all of its directors with no strings attached.

The President last year vetoed a bill creating the independent corporation, but allowing him only a minority of board appointments.

Groping for a compromise that would avoid a veto, sponsors pushed through a new bill giving the president power to select a majority of the directors, 10 of 19, requiring only that six would have to be lawyers.

The president would have chosen five others from organized bar groups, two from clients of the program, and two from former legal-services lawyers.

The White House let it be known this, too, would be vetoed if it came to Nixon's desk.

The conferees said they chose to abandon the fight rather than give the president absolute control of the board.

In another endeavor to avert a veto, the conferees trimmed funds authorized for OEO from $3.1 billion to $2.4 billion for the current fiscal year, and from $3 billion to $2.4 billion for fiscal 1974.

The seven-year-old legal-services program has become one of the OEO's most-sensitive activities. Several governors—particularly California's conservative Republican, Ronald Reagan—have fought the poverty lawyers in their states.

Burns Fatal

DALLAS (AP) — Levy McQueter, 28, a city policeman, died late Thursday night of burns suffered July 28 at an Oak Cliff community service center.

He was injured in a flash fire while using gasoline to clean a shower stall. Firemen said fumes from the gasoline were ignited by the pilot light on a water heater.

RAIN

Thirty per cent chance of afternoon and night time thunderstorms, otherwise partly cloudy, through Saturday. High today and Saturday 87, low tonight 63.

BLANKET OF SECURITY

Secret Service Agents Have Five 'Protectees'

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — When the Republican National Convention opens in Miami Beach next Monday, the U.S. Secret Service will be responsible for the safety of five "protectees."

In its mission of providing security for President Nixon, his wife and two daughters, and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, the Service will be using some 500 men to check on everything from potential assassins to drinking water. They will also secure hotels, travel routes and the huge Convention Hall itself.

OUR JOB

"We're not down here to take on the whole convention scene," said Secret Service spokesman Bill Hawthorne. "Our job is just to provide security for our protectees."

The preparedness picture: The Coast Guard will patrol waterways along Miami Beach and in Biscayne Bay off the Florida White House.

Army helicopters will patrol off-limits airspace over Miami Beach and Key Biscayne. They will be equipped with television cameras to record demonstrations. Army reconnaissance planes will fly photo missions over Miami Beach.

FOR EXAMPLE

Approximately 1,500 other federal law officers and military intelligence personnel will be involved in convention security, sources say, along with 1,150 state and local police and 3,000 Florida National Guardsmen. Some 2,500 paratroopers and Marines will be on standby at Homestead Air Force Base 20 miles to the south.

Among the precautions being taken are what Hawthorne calls alternate security patterns.

"As an example," he said, "during the Democratic National Convention, Sen. (George) McGovern's motorcade was diverted because we got a 'man with a gun report.' What we did was routine: we took an alternate route, then investigated the incident."

QUESTIONED IN PLANE BOMBING — Ruth Watkin, center, and Audrey Walton, right, are confronted by newsmen as they leave a Rome police station Thursday night. They were questioned in connection with Wednesday explosion aboard an El Al jetliner. Authorities said two Arabs gave the two British girls a record player to take aboard the Tel Aviv-bound plane. A time bomb was believed to have been placed in the record player.

THINK COOL: It's Time To Buy Winter Wardrobes

BLACK AND BLUE — Black and blue become compatible when the colors are combined in this clean-lined suit which is a new design by Balmain. The blue jersey blouse is worn with a black and blue checkered suit. Black mink adorns the jacket's collar and cuffs, taking the attire out of the casual class. Hat is blue felt, gloves black leather.

WARM WOOL — The perennial favorite, wool, makes its appearance as a sure sign that winter is on the way. Ungaro of Paris included this brown wool print dress in his latest showing. Details include a shirt collar and an elasticized waist which gives a "wrinkled" effect. The new word is used to denote small gathers.

THE UNGARO MANNER — Paris couturier Ungaro presented this dark brown cashmere coat in his 1972 fall-winter collection. Coat comes with five buttons and wrapped by a small leather belt. Other details include two-splitted side pockets, two chest pockets and a shirt collar coupled with reversed cuffs. Shoes are brown leather.

WINTER ENSEMBLE — This ensemble coat and dress in yellow, white, brown and beige tweed is from the Molyneux collection and appeals to women who like the "quality" look. Braided coat, collar and cuffs are of the same fringed material. The dress has a straight skirt, slightly gathered at the waistline. The top, in yellow jersey, is matched by the turban. ## Women Continue Sewing Projects

Mrs. J. D. Snelling was hostess for Pioneer Sewing Club Wednesday afternoon in her home. The eight members present continued individual handwork projects. The next meeting is at 2 p.m., Sept. 5 in the home of Mrs. T. T. Henry, Forsan.

Former Residents Return For Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Luce of Stephenville, former long-time residents of Big Spring, were guests recently of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Little, 202 State. Luce is a fiddler and played during many Old Settlers' Reunions when he lived here.

Installation Ceremony Highlights Ceremony

Mrs. Bert Affleck Sr. installed new officers for the Philathea Sunday school class, First United Methodist Church, during a monthly luncheon held Thursday in the fellowship hall. Class leaders will be Mrs. Cass Hill, president; Mrs. Paul Guy, first vice president; Mrs. Hugh Duncan, second vice president; Mrs. W. E. Singleton, recording secretary; Mrs. Hayes Stripling Sr., treasurer; Mrs. C. R. Moad, curriculum chairman; and Mrs. A. D. Franklin, group major. Luncheon hostesses were Mrs. E. C. Howard, Mrs. Genevieve Cass, Mrs. H. V. Crocker, Mrs.

Paul Darrow and Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscales, the latter two providing decorations. The invocation was by Mrs. Elra Phillips, and singing was led by Mrs. J. B. Apple, with an accompaniment by Miss Roberta Gay, pianist. Mrs. Hill presided and introduced the guests, the Rev. Elra Phillips and Miss Edith Gay. The program, "Prayer Thought Patterns," was presented by Mrs. Apple. A poem was read by Mrs. Phillips in recognition of members having birthdays this month.

Legion Unit Will Host Convention

Plans for the District 19 convention here of American Legion auxiliaries were finalized by local auxiliary members Thursday evening at the Legion Hall. The convention is scheduled Oct. 14-15 with activities at the Settles Hotel and the Legion Hall. Registration Oct. 14 will begin at 9 a.m. at both the hall and the hotel. Meetings, banquet and dance for that day will be at the hotel. Registration will be conducted only at the Legion Hall Oct. 15, followed by breakfast, meetings and lunch. Members who pre-register for the convention will be charged $5, whereas it will cost them $7 at the door. Mrs. E. N. Rea, Veterans Administration Hospital representative, announced comic books are needed at the hospital for patients. New members introduced were Mrs. Odell LaLonde and Mrs. Isabelle Blakeney. The group will meet for a covered-dish supper at 8 p.m., Thursday at the Legion Hall.

Republican Feminist Urges Legalization Of Abortion

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Though her husband works for President Nixon, Jill Ruckelshaus says there have been no White House repercussions from her strong plea that the Republican convention urge the legalization of abortion. That position is contrary to the expressed views of Nixon for whom William D. Ruckelshaus works as administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency. Because of her pronounced views on women's rights, Mrs. Ruckelshaus rapidly is being considered the most outspoken woman at preliminaries leading up to next week's GOP convention. "I worry about it," she said during an interview Thursday.

Ruckelshaus testified at GOP platform hearings for a strong women's plank and for the controversial abortion proposal similar to one the Democratic convention defeated in a major fight last month.

She's doubtful the GOP convention will approve the abortion measure, which says in effect that decisions on abortion should be left to each woman's conscience. But Mrs. Ruckelshaus believes the convention will adopt its first women's plank in history, complete with wording that approves day care centers, equal legal and economic rights for women, a commitment to ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment to the Constitution and appointment of more women to top government jobs, including the Cabinet and Supreme Court.

But the most important thing that will emerge from the convention, she believes, is an increased awareness by both men and women of the abortion issue and inequalities facing women. "Even ladies who came out of curiosity at first are coming in stronger in the discussions," she said of meetings here. "What we are talking about is so clearly right. If we can talk to everyone long enough, they'll agree."

'Thrills Of Retirement' Viewed By Teachers

Mrs. Arah Phillips led a discussion entitled "Thrills of Retirement" for Big Spring and Howard County Unit, National Retired Teachers Association, Tuesday in the Downtown Tea Room. Members agreed that advantages of retirement include not having to meet a deadline, being able to do things there wasn't time for previously, and being free to take part in community improvement activities. Mrs. Fay Newman presided, and new members enrolled were Mrs. A. B. West, Mrs.

Agnes Currie, Mrs. Roy Odom, Mrs. Earl Brownrigg, Mrs. Bernice Slater, Mrs. Lela Porter and Mrs. Morris Webb. Honorary membership was given to Mrs. Della Kay Agnell. The 34 members present agreed to meet the second Tuesday of each month through May. Meetings will be for lunch at 12 o'clock noon in the Downtown Tea Room.

For Complexion?

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My daughter, 16, asked if I would ask our family doctor for the birth control pills. Would he prescribe them?

She said half the girls at high school take them for their complexion. Is there such a thing as those pills helping complexion? Did you ever hear of such a thing? Please answer so I can prove it to her. — Mrs. L.K.

Yes, there is such a thing — estrogen, which is one of the hormones in birth control pills, is sometimes used for acne in girls.

But not all girls have acne, and not all those with acne need or ought to have hormones.

I'd like a better description of your daughter's complexion problem — if she has a problem. If it is an occasional pimple that blossoms with her menstrual period, I doubt that she needs any hormone treatment. And if her complexion problem involves being pale and sallow, estrogen won't help anyway.

It is hard for me to conceive that half the girls in any high school have an acne problem serious enough to warrant use of the pill. And mild cases of acne can be handled pretty well with simpler measures.

It couldn't be that some of the girls are using complexion as an excuse for taking the pill for other purposes?

To settle the matter, why don't you and your daughter see your family doctor, and let him decide whether her complexion problem needs treatment? And discuss the pill with him.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am near panic with varicose veins and aching legs at the age of 25. Seems to have worsened since the insertion of an IUD. Is this my imagination? Does alcohol affect varicose veins? — K.S.

I doubt that the IUD had anything to do with the veins, and alcohol would have no effect. I'd suggest wearing full-length support hose for comfort, or have the varicose veins removed surgically, which is the only truly corrective measure. Neither support hose nor any other method will make the veins improve.

Why? Because valves have been damaged, blood accumulates in the veins instead of being carried upward, and the condition continues to worsen. For a thorough understanding of the why's and wherefores, I suggest you send 25 cents and a long self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Big Spring Herald for a copy of my booklet, "How to Deal with Varicose Veins."

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Could a 5-year-old child's overweight problem be due partly to fluid retention caused by too much salt? — D.L.

I would very much doubt it, unless, of course, there is some more serious underlying cause such as, for example, kidney disease.

Instead of looking for some simple excuse like too much salt, I'd take the child to a pediatrician for a thorough examination. If no disease is present, then I'd start a common-sense diet program to get him back to normal weight.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 18 and have not had my period in seven months. (I am not pregnant.) Is it possible that I could have cancer? — P.L.

Why the concern about cancer? First, it is very unlikely at your age; second, it usually causes bleeding.

I would suspect either some glandular dysfunction (particularly low thyroid) or some emotional complication.

Troubled with gout? To learn of new treatment for this cruel and painful disease, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of his booklet, "Gout — The Modern Way To Stop It." Please enclose a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Candidate Is Using Living Sign Holders

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Grover Robinson III, a candidate for the state House of Representatives, doesn't like the sight of billboards or campaign signs.

So he's using living sign holders.

"Our nonlitter roadside campaign method involves people standing on the roadside about a block apart holding small signs," the Democratic candidate said.

"The first sign says, 'Vote Grover Robinson.' The next one says, 'Have you met Grover?' A little way along there's a sign that says, 'Grover's up ahead, please wave and honk.'"

"Then I'm standing there with a sign that says, 'Hi, I'm Grover. Please vote for me.'"

A goodly number of honks and waves from passing motorists were reported Wednesday, the first day of the roadside campaign.

'Profit Is Not A Four-Letter Word'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The United States Chamber of Commerce is passing out buttons to Republican convention delegates reading "Some of My Best Friends Are Businessmen" and "Profit Is Not a Four-Letter Word."

The chamber's executive vice president, Arch Booth, said the aim is to remind GOP policymakers that a healthy business community is basic to prosperity.

Noting that the Democrats had few businessman delegates to their national convention last month and few kind words for business in their platform, Booth said: "Business is the new minority."

Layoffs At Kelly Air Base Sparks Letter Writing

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — About 400 temporary employees at Kelly Air Force Base are scheduled to be laid off Sept. 16, prompting a letter writing campaign by wives of some of the affected workers.

Despite the layoffs, Kelly spokesmen said Wednesday that the base hopes to rehire most of the employees in permanent or part-time jobs.

Kelly officials said the workers were employed under a special program about a year ago with the stipulation that they were hired for a 12-month period.

A spokesman said Kelly officials will begin meeting with the affected employees today to assure them that they will be interviewed individually on their qualifications and eligibility for staying on the payroll.

The letter-writing campaign is aimed at President Nixon, Texas senators and congressmen. The letters from the "concerned wives" called the layoffs "a great injustice" and contend that 304 of the employees involved are military veterans and 240 of them are Vietnam veterans.

ATTACKS VESTED INTERESTS, 'NIXONOMICS'

Shriver Campaigns At Swift Pace

HOUSTON (AP) — Democratic vice presidential candidate R. Sargent Shriver, coming on like a friendly tornado, made his first campaign stop in Texas Thursday and planned more appearances today.

He arrived in Houston, flitted over to Beaumont for two and one-half hours and then flew back here at a pace that left his campaign organizers breathless trying to keep up.

'NIXONOMICS'

Tanned, relaxed and almost ebullient, Shriver waded into crowds to hammer at a theme which paints Republicans as the party of millionaires, vested interests and "Nixonomics."

In news conferences, speeches and handshaking sessions, Shriver said he and the Democratic presidential candidate, Sen. George McGovern, represented the "party with the heart," "the party of the people."

Shriver arrived Thursday at the Jefferson County Airport near Beaumont, and shrugged off a cordon of Secret Service protection to talk with about 300 people. They had waited more than an hour in the hot sun.

He laughed and joked and waved as he went down a fence line shaking hands.

Shriver paused at a sign held by a black youngster. It read, "Let George and Sarge take charge." He read it carefully and then burst into laughter. At another point, a group of Mexican-Americans called "good luck" in Spanish. He replied, "Muchas gracias," and grinned widely.

A crowd estimated by a fire marshal at 1,800 waited more than two hours in the non-air conditioned Lamar University gymnasium to hear Shriver.

Many in the audience were members of Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union locals and Shriver's remarks were aimed at the working man.

GOT HEART

The Nixon administration, he said, in a staccato delivery emphasized by jabbing hand motions, is more interested in corporations than people.

"They've got ITT, but we've got Y-O," he said. "They've got money, but we've got heart. And on Nov. 7, the party with heart will beat the party with money."

Shriver said President Nixon deliberately increased unemployment to halt inflation, "but he didn't halt inflation... he created a recession."

As a result, he said, Nixon has created "inflation, unemployment and recession. Three in one. Nobody has done that before. It's a Nixon first."

Shriver, in shirt sleeves and his brow filmed with sweat, attacked former Texas Gov. John Connally, leader of the Democrats for Nixon.

"Connally and his so-called democrats will help us win," he said. "He'll separate the millionaires and make it clear it's nothing but millionaires for Connally and the people for us."

The crowd roared and whistled and waved McGovern-Shriver signs amid shouts of "Right on!"

JOBS, PROGRESS

Nixon negotiates with Jewish leaders but the McGovern-Shriver team will take a different tack, he said.

"We intend to negotiate with you," he said. "We intend to make American number one in jobs and social progress."

Shriver's schedule today called for a breakfast with Jewish community leaders, a visit to the Houston Ship Channel, a speech before the Jewish War Veterans convention and lunch with a group of Mexican-Americans.

Eight Acquitted Of Shooting At Doves Protected By Law

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — Eight persons, including a U.S. magistrate and a high-ranking official of the Texas Department of Public Safety, have been acquitted of charges they shot at protected migratory doves.

BAITED DOVES

U.S. Magistrate Charles Ruth of Beaumont, Maj. Kent Odum, the regional commander of DPS in Corpus Christi, and six others were acquitted Thursday by federal magistrate Joe Huffstutler of Tyler, acting on a defense motion, despite sworn state testimony that guns were fired at baited doves.

Also acquitted of shooting migratory birds over baited land were James William Field, a DPS pilot-investigator; Byron Bugat of Beeville, a semi-retired gunsmith; Warren Neil Hazlip of Beaumont, president of Gulf Coast Business Forms; Roger Hazlip, vice-president of the same company, and Hubert Oxford of Beaumont, owner of Oxford Building Materials.

Another defendant, David Husband of St. Augustine, was tried after lawyers had requested the transfer of his case from Tyler to Beaumont.

All were ticketed by U.S. game manager C. R. McCallum, who said he found them shooting doves on a Nacoches County farm Sept. 1, 1971. McCallum was accompanied by Ed Baker, game manager of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Service.

NEAR MANAGER

Both McCallum and Baker testified that they encountered the group of hunters shooting birds while there was maize and milo spread over the area.

As Ruth was being ticketed by McCallum, and after he had been advised that the area was baited, Ruth fired at doves while standing near the game manager, the testimony showed.

Artist Expires

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — Watercolor artist Roy Martell Mason, 86, whose paintings appeared on the covers of Colliers and Reader's Digest magazine, died Sunday. He won a gold medal of honor in 1961 from the American Water Color Society.

Change Of Heart By Johnny Cash

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Entertainer Johnny Cash says he would prefer not to sing at the Republican National Convention next week in Miami Beach.

It was announced Tuesday in Nashville that Cash, Lynn Anderson, Bobby Goldsboro and Mickey Newbury all would sing at the convention.

But Cash said Wednesday, "I just don't think I ought to take a stand for either side, either party."

Cash said he originally thought he could do the song on a neutral figure, but decided later it would be unlikely.

Jewish Veterans Soften Anti-War Resolution

HOUSTON (AP) — The Jewish War Veterans have softened a strong anti-war resolution after a heated debate.

Delegates to the organization's national convention Thursday passed a resolution calling for "immediate and unconditional cease-fire by all parties" in Vietnam.

The JWV made headlines a year ago when it became the first national veterans organization to endorse total withdrawal of U. S. forces from Indochina by Dec. 31, 1971.

This year, the group's resolution committee recommended an even stronger position including a "unilateral, immediate and unconditional cease-fire by all U.S. armed forces."

But the resolution did not get a second when presented to the convention for debate.

Instead, the substitute motion was adopted by voice vote after almost two hours of increasingly heated debate.

Albert Schlossberg, immediate past national commander, was among delegates arguing for the substitute motion.

"It is essential that the verbiage, the rhetoric and the insanity that has been thrown around on this subject come to an end," Schlossberg said.

In other developments, Jerome B. Cohen, the outgoing national president, predicted that President Nixon will more than double his 1968 Jewish vote this year.

Cohen said Sen. George S. McGovern's "distasteful" tax proposals and Nixon's "progressive foreign policy" will combine to boost Republican support among Jewish voters.

Cohen said Nixon's Jewish support among Jewish voters, cent to 22 or 23 per cent." In the big cities where he had 8 to 9 per cent, it should almost double, he said.

Two Big Spring Churches Welcome New Ministers During August

By MARJ CARPENTER
Two local churches welcome new ministers with Bill Reese the new arrival at the Carl Street Church of Christ and the Rev. J. B. Sharp arriving at the First United Methodist Church.

Bill Reese is the new minister at Carl Street Church of Christ. He and his family are at home at 2283 Carl, having come here from Goldsmith.

BILL REESE

REV. J. B. SHARP

Mr. Reese was reared at Anson, where he completed high school, and studied at Abilene Christian College and Fort Worth Christian College before entering the full-time ministry at Midkiff in 1968. After 18 months he moved to Goldsmith where he ministered to the Church of Christ there for the past three years. He also has participated in several lectures.

He and his wife, the former

Ellen Newman, Abilene, were married in 1959, and they have three sons, John, 11, Russell, 10, and Carroll, 6.

The Rev. J. B. Sharp arrived this summer as new pastor at the First United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Sharp came from Amarillo to assume the position of pastor here.

The Jehovah's Witnesses will hold a public talk at 10 a.m. on "Satisfying Mankind's Greatest Need." Watchtower study will be held at 11 a.m. on "Asserting One's Independence From God Leads to Calamity."

A youth revival will be held Monday through Sunday, Aug. 21-27 at the Mt. Bethel Baptist Church. Services will be nightly at 8 p.m. with dinner served Sunday after each service.

The Rev. W. L. Green, pastor of the New Magnolia Baptist Church in Calvert will serve as evangelist. He was previously at the Fairview Baptist Church in Bryan 11 years and spent six years at the Little Flock Baptist Church in Wilcox.

The First Presbyterian Church reports that Mr. and Mrs. Price will leave Big Spring Monday morning to go to Dallas to spend several days with his sister before they leave for their vacation. Estes Park and Yellowstone seem to be their destination.

During their vacation, Dr. Shirley Guthrie and Dr. Gage Lloyd will fill the pulpit.

Ancient Christians Linked To Olympics

Ever since the Apostle Paul walked and talked the Gospel through Greece — doubtless visiting some of the great athletic games of Olympia, Corinth and Nemea in the process — the ancient faith of Christians has been peculiarly entangled with the idea of sports.

And this year's Olympics, scheduled to be held in Munich from Aug. 26 through Sept. 10, will be no exception. For the Christian faith, still identifiable as identical with that of Paul, will be there in full evangelistic fervor. This time, though it will be represented by no dour, fierce-voiced apostle, but by some 50 enthusiastic young students of Chicago's Moody Bible Institute and a regular showing of the world-famed films from the Moody Institute of Science.

While the films are being shown free to many of the 2 million visitors expected here for the Olympics (including some 20,000 competing athletes), the 50 students will be doing what Paul did: trying to convert the world to Christianity.

Which just goes to show that neither sports nor real faith has changed much in 1900 years.

Paul, whose missionary journeys traversed Greece from about 50 to 55 A.D., is believed to have had the opportunity to see several of the ancient Greek games during the period. It encompassed two Olympic games, in 49 and 53 A.D., three Isthmian games at Corinth, in 50, 52 and 54 A.D., and three Nemean games also in 50, 52 and 54 A.D.

It is probable that they impressed him deeply. While he did say that bodily exercise (knee-bends, push-ups?) "profiteth little," he may not have had competitive sports in mind at all. In fact he drew much of the rich language of his exhortations to Christians from Olympic terminology.

When the Romans took over the games from the Greeks they had conquered, Christians took an active part. But as the games turned from their true purpose (to develop a sound body and a sound mind) the olympics deteriorated into a sport for spectators where pure entertainment at any cost was the goal. The end result was the martyrdom of Christians in the Roman arena.

The Roman emperor Theodosius I ended them in 383 A.D. They were not to be successfully revived until 1896, in Athens.

Dr. George Sweeting, president of the Institute, who with Moody Institute of Science Director Irwin Moon originated the idea of sending the students to Munich, has drawn attention to the idea that the Olympic motto, "Citius, Altius, Fortius," (faster, higher, stronger) is a good one for Christians. Said Dr. Sweeting:

"In Paul's letter to the Corinthians he stressed that the physical body must be disciplined, even enslaved, in order to run successfully in the Christian race of life. He wrote: 'But I keep on beating and bruising my body and making it my slave, so that I, after I have summoned others to the race, may not myself become unfit to run' (1 Cor. 9:27)."

"Also, in the early Olympics, the athletes offered sacrifices of grain, wine, and lambs before they began their competition. Paul put it this way to Christians: 'I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, they present your bodies a living sacrifice.'" holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service."

"Paul also emphasized the training and discipline required of Olympic competitors when he wrote to the Corinthian Christians, 'Any man who enters an athletic contest practices rigid self-control in training.'"

The rigid rules of the Olympics are also echoed by Paul in writing to Timothy, a younger Christian minister, said Dr. Sweeting: "And if a man also strive for masteries, yet is he not crowned, except he strive lawfully."

A mirror was used as the theme for a Women's Missionary Prayer retreat breakfast on Monday morning at the home of Mrs. Truitt Thomas for 12 members of the First Church of God missionary group, along with six guests.

The group was served doughnuts, fruit and coffee and presented with paper mirrors with the words, "How Do I Look Today Lord?" and followed by several questions.

Mrs. Edwin Beasley serves as spiritual life director and was in charge. The women were asked to "look into God's mirror to see if they were fit to approach Him at prayer." Group singing of "Let Me See Jesus" followed and then directed prayer led by Mrs. Charles Long of Odessa. Mirror folders were passed out with appropriate scriptures on each page. Musical meditation followed using the record, "Created in His Image" by Bill Gaither.

Miss Elzada Herring presented a poem, "Faith of Jesus" followed by another hymn and a buzz session featuring six questions and followed by responsive reading.

The group then studied the dictionary definition of image and compared it to the Biblical definition. A meditation on "Mirror, Mirror on the wall" followed using "Jesus as our mirror."

Big Spring Native Heads Church Tours

R. B. Hall Jr., assistant vice president for development at Hardin-Simmons University for the past 18 months, has resigned effective Sept. 1, according to Dr. Clyde Childers, vice president for development.

Hall plans to remain in Abilene and establish Christian Travel Inc., "a ministry promoting Christian travel." He plans to assist churches, various religious groups and denominations with mission tours, in pastoral exchanges in foreign lands and lay Bible teachers' study tours.

Hall, a native of Big Spring, served as pastor of the First Baptist Church at Littlefield immediately before coming to Hardin-Simmons. He has been pastor of churches in both Oklahoma and Texas and was director of public relations and student recruitment for Wayland Baptist College Plainview for three years. He is a graduate of H-SU and Southwestern Seminary in Fort Worth. In 1966 Hall and his wife participated in a pulpit exchange with the pastor of Kingston Baptist Church near London, England, and in 1968 made a tour of Europe and Holy Land. He directed a tour to the Baptist World Congress and World Exposition in Japan during the summer of 1970.

New Regulations Unpopular With Business Community

By MARJ CARPENTER
Businessmen have no love lost on a governmental regulation formed a little over a year ago called Occupational Safety and Health Act.

It indirectly affects every businessman in America and is a safety bureau that is condemned to counting lavatories, beds and toilet facilities as part of its sworn duties.

Businessmen, who own some of the larger stores in Big Spring, claim that the biggest headache involved is in keeping annual reports of every accident on the job as well as every time an employee becomes ill on the job.

"This makes a nauseated employee a great nuisance," one businessman quipped here this week. Local businessmen agreed that thus far the bureau has been considerate of this area.

They held a meeting here last spring pointing out what the regulations meant to retailers and emphasizing the annual reports.

"RIDICULOUS"

Many area businessmen consider the "plumbing requirements ridiculous." They call for such things as hot and cold running water and a lavatory for every 10 employees, with men and women's in separate locations.

Toilet facilities must include one for up to nine employees, two for 10 to 24; three for 25 to 49; four for 50 to 74 and five for 75 to 100.

Apparently, the government firmly believes that the more employees there are, the less they will go to the bathroom.

Businessmen from very small businesses who simply have a restroom with a door that opens to the bathroom are baffled by the baffle regulation. This states "The door to every toilet room shall be fitted with an effective self-closing device and the entrance to the toilet room shall be so screened that the interior of the toilet room is not visible from the workroom."

One regulation which has not plagued local businessmen, according to one local spokesman, is the first aid regulation.

NEARBY

The regulations state that businesses must provide first aid unless there are medical facilities at a nearby facility and the government has not yet defined nearby facility. So, everybody thinks they are close to a "nearby" facility.

If regulations are ever enforced about the number of beds needed in retiring rooms for women, the bed business ought to become brisk at the local furniture stores.

Very few businesses comply completely with the regulation that where "10 or more women are employed at any one time, at least one retiring room shall be provided for rest and emergencies with one bed required for 10 to 100 women employees and two beds for 100 to 250 women employees." If there are nine women employees, they can do without a bed, or retiring room. Men employees

Council To Talk Of Replacement

A discussion of a tax appraiser for Howard County will be among the items to be brought up Monday at commissioners court at their regular meeting at 9 a.m.

Other items include a conference with Larry Justiss, librarian; a second discussion on purchasing a car for the sheriff's department and a conference with Marvin Hanson, acting road administrator.

At 10 a.m., bids will be opened on petroleum products and anti-freeze for county vehicles.

Beer Is Missing In Store Entry

A breaking and entering report was made to sheriff's officials Thursday by Pinkie's Liquor Store on U.S. 87 north.

The break-in was discovered around 6:15 a.m. Whoever entered broke in through the front door and apparently received a cut in the process, since a trail of blood was reported from the door to the rack where approximately $52 worth of liquor was reported missing, according to the officer's report.

The case is still under investigation here.

Jack F. Johnson Has Operation

Jack Frost Johnson is confined to the intensive care unit in Scott and White Hospital in Temple, after having undergone surgery for removal of his spleen Wednesday.

His sister, Mimmie Earle Johnson, who returned from his bedside last night, said Jack was resting well after having been critically ill over a period of days.

Registration Opens Monday

Registration at the Big Spring Headstart School will be Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 21-22, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. at the Kate Morrison Building on Northwest Sixth.

Children ranging in age from three years nine months through five, as of Sept. 1, 1972 are eligible.

The program allows for only 200 children, and the first 200 to enroll are taken.

Parents should bring the child's birth certificate and any health records where possible.

Registrants must eventually have proof of age.

Classes will convene Wednesday, Aug. 23, and lunch will be served that day.

Bus schedules will be the same as last year with pickup points at Airport, Cedar Crest, Boydston, Bauer and Lakeview Elementary Schools.

Votes To Spend $1.66 Million On Excursion Railroad In Texas

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — East Texans who are conscious of history and the tourist dollar had state money today to back up their plans for a 28-mile excursion run by train from Palestine to Rusk.

The Parks and Wildlife Commission voted Thursday to spend $1,660,536 on the project, which Rep.-elect Emmett Whitehead of Rusk said should attract more than 100,000 visitors a year.

Whitehead and Sen.-elect Don Adams of Jasper appeared in support of the proposal, and Rep. Fred Head of Troup phoned in his support.

Five commissioners approved the expenditures, but Pearce Johnson Jr. of Austin, former chairman, abstained. He said, "I hesitate to spend that much on something that has not been thought out. We don't even have a train."

Paul Schlimper, director of state planning, said Gov. Preston Smith's office was searching for a steam engine and railroad cars and hoped to find them in Mexico.

Mexico is converting its nationally owned railroads from steam to diesel powered locomotives, Schlimper said, and Smith has written the U.S. ambassador in Mexico City about acquiring a train.

Smith also has asked help in acquiring two surplus Army locomotives.

In addition to a one-mile nature trail and the longest footbridge in the United States, Whitehead said Rusk had raised nearly $500,000 for a recreational park as an additional attraction near the railroad.

Also, he said, the city plans to place buffalo and Texas Longhorn cattle on 300 acres next to the Jim Hogg State Park and to renovate the mineral springs of the 1880s that Hogg, a former Texas governor, and others bathed in.

Diane Booker of the Texas Film Commission said the railroad should be popular with movie producers who now go to Mexico when they want to film a scene involving steam-operated engines.

Wayne Sellers, a manager of the Texas State Railroad and publisher of the Palestine Herald-Press, said Palestine was founded by the railroads and is still a major railroad center with 600 employees. In addition, he said, "there are almost as many retired" in the city.

"It provides a great reservoir of know-how," he said.

The 1971 legislature transferred 26 miles of the Texas State Railroad to the Parks and Wildlife Department, after the Texas South-Eastern Railroad had ended its lease in 1969.

The railroad had been leased to various private companies for many years.

Adams said the commission's action would "preserve the only state railroad in Texas and probably in the United States—preserve it for your son and my son and give them an opportunity to see an iron horse."

Radio Vet Dies

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — W. Walter Tison, 73, a broadcasting pioneer in the Southeast who helped establish radio station WSB in Atlanta in 1922, died Tuesday. He was a former president of the Florida Association of Broadcasters and a director of the National Association of Broadcasters.

Today's Rings

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

RING ROW: (Comment)
 All my girl friends have steady boy friends and I could have one too, but my mother ruined it. This boy gave me a ring. I was so excited. But when I got home my mother asked me, "Where did you get that ring?"

I said, "From a boy."
 She said, "You are too young to go with a boy. That ring is too expensive. Plus if boys see you are going steady they won't bother with you."
 I liked this boy and he liked me, but now it's the end. I'm really depressed. — 15 and Finished in Florida.

Impresario Dies

CULVER CITY, Calif. (AP) — Concert impresario Mary Bran, 75, whose career spanned 50 years and four countries, died Wednesday. She has represented at various times such artists as Artur Schnabel, Marian Anderson and Jose Greco.

dent into a big and troublesome problem.
 I don't think you are too young to wear a boy's ring if you want to. I do think you'd have more fun free, but you should be permitted to make the choice yourself.

DATE WANTED: (Q)
 Jim and I work together. We are both 18. We had a date on Jan. 29. Since then he has been very friendly with me but he never asks me for a date.

He isn't going with any other girl that I know of. At least not as a steady. How can I get him to ask me for a date? I am hurting for one. I really like him. — Long Time in Louisiana.

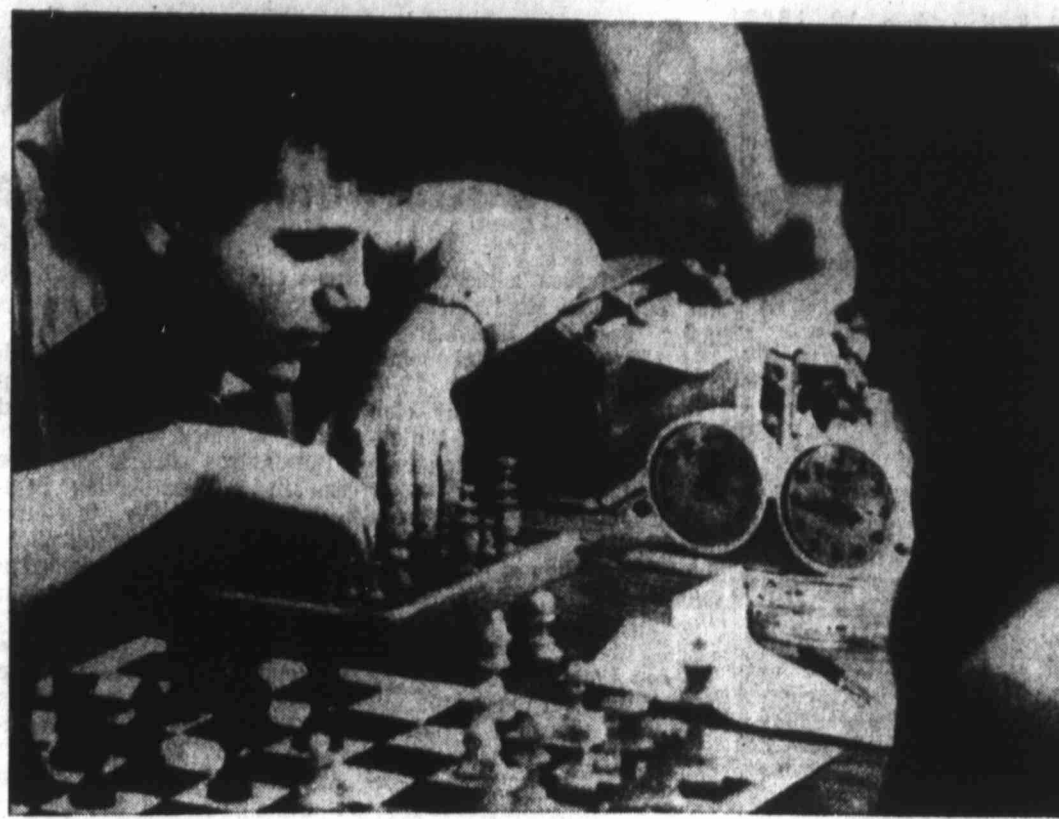

(A.) That one date and no more makes me think he has decided you are not interesting enough to him to be more than a good friend. Continue to be friendly and to talk to him. Someday when he is in a good mood ask him, "Jim why haven't you ever asked for another date?" Tell him you enjoyed that one.

If this doesn't get him back on the dating track, quit wasting your time wishing. If being around him hurts too much, look for a job somewhere else.

'Shotgun Lady' Hit, Killed

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Private graveside services have been conducted for Marion Schwanck, known as the "shotgun lady" to the youths who tormented her in her last years.

Mrs. Schwanck was buried Wednesday. She was struck and killed by a car in front of her home Sunday.

The 77-year-old widow became known as the "shotgun lady" because of the double-barreled weapon she sometimes carried. But friends and neighbors described her as just a little old lady who wanted to be left alone on her trash-laden farm.

Almost nightly, carloads of youths sped up and down in front of her house, yelling obscenities and throwing bottles and other objects.

Mrs. Schwanck was standing on the roadside with her shotgun Sunday night when a car struck her.

BLIND CHAMP HOLDS HIS OWN — Dr. James R. Slagle, of Bethesda, Md., who has been blind since he was 14, is holding his own in the U.S. Chess Open in Atlantic City. On the modified Braille chess set the white pieces are flat near the top and the black molded in regular fashion. Pieces are pegged into squares to prevent inadvertent moves. Dr. Slagle, a mathematician, was the U.S. Braille chess champion last year. His opponent is Elizabeth Buscemi of Jersey City. The doctor is the only blind person in the tourney.

The Losers

Part I: The Pros

By DON COOPER
Herald Sports Editor

A lot of time and effort goes into the process of selecting the champions of the different professional divisions and college conferences before the start of each football season. However, few people realize that just as much effort should be devoted in the selection of the last-place teams as in the selection of the champions.

Unfortunately, few people are interested in putting out the time to select the losers. The pre-season experts say that such-and-such team will finish last in the division or in the conference; however, those experts really don't care about the teams that do not finish first.

So, I have decided to put forth a little effort and predict the last-place teams in professional and major college football.

First, in the National Football League, I see the division losers stacking up in this order:

AFC East—Buffalo Bills. AFC Central—Houston Oilers. AFC West—Denver Broncos. NFC East—New York Giants. NFC Central—Chicago Bears. NFC West—New Orleans Saints.

With one exception, these last-place teams could possibly climb as high as next-to-last in their divisions. It's unlikely, however, it is possible.

The one team that seems to be assured of resting comfortably in its divisional cellar is the New York Giants of the AFC East Division.

The Giants, former World Champions during the days of Charlie Conerly and Y. A. Tittle, have fallen upon hard times. Just as a champion must give credit to good luck, no key injuries and strong personnel for its success, the team that finishes dead-last must give credit to bad luck, key injuries and basic ineptitude for its dismal condition.

In recent years, the Giants have not only played poorly; they have also displayed the short-sightedness to insure future poor years.

Last season, the Giants were plagued with an almost non-existent pass rush. Fred Dryer was the leading passer in the Giant defensive front four. Following the season, the Giants traded Dryer.

What offense the Giants displayed last year was due to their quarterback Fran Tarkenton. So, the Giants traded Tarkenton to the Vikings for veteran quarterback Norm Snead, running back Vince Clements and wide receiver Bob Grim.

Snead, who in his illustrious NFL career has performed for the Washington Redskins, Philadelphia Eagles and Minnesota Vikings, is not in the same class as Tarkenton as a signal-caller. Last year with the Vikings, a divisional champion, he was one of three undistinguished quarterbacks.

Part of the blame for Snead's lack of success could be placed on the teams he played with before joining the Vikings. When with the Redskins and the Eagles, Snead saw more blitzes than Poland. He's shell-shocked.

The other two new Giants were Clements, a rookie running-back with bad knees, and Grim, the Vikings' leading receiver last year. Grim went to the Giants as willingly as Napoleon went to Elba. He showed up in the Giant camp just three days ago.

Last year, the Giants' first draft pick was Rocky Thompson. Thompson's debut in the NFL was less than spectacular. By the end of the season, no one had heard of him—and the Giants were trying to forget him.

This year, the Giants will earn one pick in the NFL Draft. But, going by the Giants' past record, one feels that the New York management will probably trade this choice away sometime during the season. Among other top draft choices the Giants have lost this way are Alan Page (Vikings), Bob Griese (Dolphins) and Willie Lanier (Chiefs).

Astros Crush Expos

May Belts Pair Of Homers In Romp

MONTREAL (A.P.)—Houston bats played such a merry tune that the beaten Montreal Expos finally used an infielder to pitch and the Astros triumphed 17-5 Thursday night.

That pulled the Texas club within 5½ games of the National League's West Division-leading Cincinnati Reds.

Every regular in the Houston lineup except shortstop Roger Metzger batted on hits as the Astros collected a total of 20-13 of them in the final two innings.

It was Houston's biggest hit-and-run spree of the season. Lee May smashed a pair of home runs while Doug Rader and Cedar Cedeno had one each.

May had two singles in addition to his two homers, Cedeno had a pair of doubles to go with his homer to hike his lead-leading average to .351 and Rader and Bob Watson had three hits each.

The fireworks took place after the Expos scored three times off Houston starter Jerry Reuss in the first two innings and sent him to the showers.

George Culver worked the final seven and two-thirds innings to finish up the game and record his fourth victory.

The Astros struck for five runs in a third inning highlighted by May's three-run homer. Montreal starting pitcher Bolor Moore later yielded a two-run homer to Rader in that inning.

Cedeno smashed his homer in the fourth off reliever Steve Renko and May later hit his second home run off Tom Walker, the Expos' fourth pitcher.

Cedeno had a two-run double in the eighth and knocked in another run in the ninth with a double to give him four runs batted in. May also knocked in four runs.

The Expos used six pitchers and things got so bad at the end that infielder Hector Torres was called on by Montreal to pitch for the first time in his organized baseball career. Torres yielded five straight singles before posting the final two outs.

Sound Of Silence In Baltimore

By The Associated Press

The Baltimore Orioles and Chicago White Sox played to the sound of silence Thursday. Only 665 paid customers showed up in Baltimore to watch the White Sox beat the Orioles 6-1 and throw both American League baseball races into a real traffic jam.

The White Sox inched to within a half-game of the Oakland A's in the West while the Orioles lead dropped to the same margin in the East.

Closing ground on the Orioles were the Detroit Tigers, who split a two-night doubleheader with the Minnesota Twins. The Tigers won the opener 12-3 and the Twins the second game, 7-6 in 10 innings.

The third-place New York Yankees, idle Thursday, moved within 1½ games of the top, while Boston loped off a game to three behind the Orioles.

Fifth-place Cleveland, also in contention, remained eight games behind after losing to the California Angels 4-2.

Thursday's National League results: Atlanta 2, New York 1; Chicago 2, San Francisco 1; Philadelphia 9, Cincinnati 4; Houston 17, Montreal 5; San Diego 3, St. Louis 2 and Los Angeles 4, Pittsburgh 2.

Texas had a 3-1 lead before Smith ripped a three-run homer off Mike Paul in the eighth. Smith's towering shot into the left-center field stands gave starter Marty Pattin his 11th victory in 22 decisions.

Luis Alvarado and Pat Kelly each drove in two runs in the sixth inning to power Chicago past Baltimore, which lost its third straight.

In addition to his two-run single in the sixth, Alvarado doubled to set up a run-scoring single by pitcher Dave Lemons in the second. Lemons, given seventh-inning relief help by Cy Acosta, won the decision over Baltimore's Pat Dobson.

The attendance at Memorial Stadium was the lowest in the Orioles' history. The previous low came on Sept. 27, 1965, when Baltimore hosted the old Kansas City Athletics.

Detroit won its opener by scoring seven runs in the second-inning. Gates Brown and Jim Northrup delivered two-run singles in the rally off Jim Perry. The Tigers tied the second game with four runs in the ninth, only to lose it on Rich Reese's sacrifice fly in the 10th.

Lee Stanton hit two homers and Bob Oliver hit one to account for all the California scoring as the Angels stopped the Indians. Andy Messersmith won his third game and first one since May 6.

The Houston Oilers, preparing for their Saturday night exhibition game against the Green Bay Packers, have signed a free agent and cut three rookies from the team.

Kent Branstetter, a 6-3, 260-pound defensive tackle from the University of Houston, was picked up by the Oilers Thursday after being waived by the New Orleans Saints.

The rookies cut were Glen Chmelar, defensive end from Baylor; Henry Brandon, running back from Southern; and Elmer Allen, a guard from Mississippi.

BOSOX TRIP TEXAS, 4-3

Smith's Bat Doing Talking

By The Associated Press

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP)—Reggie Smith refused to answer reporters' questions for the third straight night, but once again his bat had all the right answers.

The suddenly silent Boston rightfielder slammed a double and a three-run, game-winning homer to lead the Red Sox to a 4-3 win over the Texas Rangers.

In the three-game series, Smith hit safely eight of 13 times at bat. He belted four homers and two doubles besides scoring four runs and driving in 10 more.

"He's given us the lift we've needed," said Red Sox Manager Eddie Kasko. "He missed a full week because of a wrist injury, but he was able to take batting practice every day. He just wasn't able to throw. I'd say he didn't suffer from the time off."

"He's always been a real good hitter, but I haven't seen him go on a streak like this before. He's always been capable of it, though."

Kasko, whose club is only three games out of first in the heated American League East pennant fight, claimed he never felt the Red Sox were out of contention.

"Well, we're right up there now, aren't we. I never got discouraged. I never felt we were out of it earlier when things weren't going as well as they are right now. Nobody jumped up and ran away with our division, so we've never been in serious trouble."

Texas starter and loser Mike Paul, now 5-5, said he wasn't about to change his pitching style just because of Smith's hot streak.

"If I did that I'd be adjusting for nine different batters each game. I've pitched effectively against him before. He hit a ball that was up a little. It wasn't that bad of a pitch. I'm never going to give into a hitter. I'll always throw what's best for me."

In this instance, what was best for Paul wasn't best for the Rangers.

Thomas, obtained by San Diego in a July 31 trade with Dallas, apparently did some running by himself Thursday morning and then left. He did not meet with Coach Harland Svare.

Svare said he encountered the taciturn athlete on the practice field and they exchanged five words.

"Hello, how are you?" Svare said he asked, and he said Thomas responded, "Fine."

The two met here Aug. 4 but neither commented on the topic of discussion.

Svare revealed Thursday that he gave Thomas permission to leave on that occasion and that he knew the athlete would return, although he didn't know when.

"He had some business to clean up," Svare said.

The Chargers gave up second-year men Billy Parks and Mike Montgomery to obtain Thomas in a deal that is final regardless of whether Thomas ever wears a San Diego uniform.

Bruins Win Round One

By The Associated Press

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Bruins have won the first round in their legal fight to keep two stars who have signed contracts with the World Hockey Association.

U.S. District Court Judge Levin H. Campbell ruled Thursday that goalie Gerry Cheevers and center Derek Sanderson remain bound to the Bruins at least until Oct. 1 when current National Hockey League contracts expire.

Cheevers signed with Cleveland and Sanderson with Philadelphia of the WHA this summer after helping the Bruins to a second Stanley Cup championship in three years.

Campbell said that in accordance with their NHL contracts Cheevers and Sanderson must refrain from making public appearances in behalf of Cleveland and Philadelphia.

The attendance at Memorial Stadium was the lowest in the Orioles' history. The previous low came on Sept. 27, 1965, when Baltimore hosted the old Kansas City Athletics.

Detroit won its opener by scoring seven runs in the second-inning. Gates Brown and Jim Northrup delivered two-run singles in the rally off Jim Perry. The Tigers tied the second game with four runs in the ninth, only to lose it on Rich Reese's sacrifice fly in the 10th.

Lee Stanton hit two homers and Bob Oliver hit one to account for all the California scoring as the Angels stopped the Indians. Andy Messersmith won his third game and first one since May 6.

The Houston Oilers, preparing for their Saturday night exhibition game against the Green Bay Packers, have signed a free agent and cut three rookies from the team.

Kent Branstetter, a 6-3, 260-pound defensive tackle from the University of Houston, was picked up by the Oilers Thursday after being waived by the New Orleans Saints.

The rookies cut were Glen Chmelar, defensive end from Baylor; Henry Brandon, running back from Southern; and Elmer Allen, a guard from Mississippi.

The Phillies unlimbered their muscles and, battering three Cincinnati hurlers for 16 hits, tipped up the Reds 9-4, providing Carlton with his 15th consecutive victory.

Elsewhere in the National League, the New York Mets destroyed Atlanta 2-1, Houston defeated Montreal 17-5, the Chicago Cubs nipped San Francisco 2-1, San Diego clipped St. Louis 3-2 and Los Angeles whipped Pittsburgh 4-2.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox beat Baltimore 6-1, California defeated Cleveland 4-2, Boston topped Texas 4-3 and Detroit split a doubleheader with Minnesota, winning the opener 12-2 before the Twins took the 10-inning nightcap 7-6. The New York Yankees, Kansas City, Oakland and Milwaukee were idle.

It was about three weeks ago, just after Steve had won his 15th game of the year and 10th in a row, that Beverly glanced at the Phillies' schedule and figured he'd be going for No. 20 on Aug. 17.

"That's my birthday," she told her husband, "and that's what I want. Your 20th victory." It was a tough order.

"I haven't beaten them since 1967," Carlton said of the Reds. "You have to stay on top of that lineup. You never can relax."

And for awhile, it looked like Cincinnati's streak against him would continue. After Deron Johnson gave him a lead with a two-run homer, the Reds jumped him for three runs in the third on Dave Concepcion's single, Bill Plummer's double, Pete Rose's single and Joe Morgan's double.

But Don Money's sacrifice fly and Willie Montanez' two-run homer in the fifth gave him a 5-3 edge and the Phils built on it with two more runs apiece in the sixth and seventh innings.

"We want Steve! We want Steve!" the fans chanted—and he obliged by returning momentarily to the field to acknowledge their ovation. "It felt great. I want to thank the fans. It was touching. Nothing like it ever happened to me before."

Carlton became the first player in 21 years to win 20 games with a last-place club.

Now a lot of people are wondering if Carlton can do a few things neither he nor anyone else has done in a long time.

The first goal is 19 straight victories, a feat unattained since Rube Marquard of the New York Giants set the modern major league record in 1912.

Then he'll be trying to become the National League's winningest pitcher since 1952, when the Phils' Robin Roberts posted a 28-7 record.

And finally, he'll be shooting for that magic 30 victories. Denny McLain did it for Detroit in 1968 but it hasn't happened in the National League since 1917 when Grover Cleveland Alexander did it for—you guessed it, the Phils.

But one step at a time, if you please. "I can't say I can shut 30 games out of my mind,"

BIRTHDAY PRESENT FOR WIFE

Phils' Carlton Captures 20th Victory

By The Associated Press

It was a birthday present Steve Carlton had been saving for three weeks. And when he presented it to his wife, she had to share it with 33,376 other delighted onlookers.

"I was very happy I could give it to her," the Philadelphia Phillies' left-hander said Thursday night after winning his 20th game of the baseball season, the first National League pitcher to reach that plateau.

For awhile, it appeared he'd have trouble getting it. Then

Carlton admitted. "But my goal is 25."

Ed Kranepool broke a tie with an eighth-inning sacrifice fly and Tug McGraw came out of the Mets' bullpen to preserve Tom Seaver's 14th victory, shutting off a ninth-inning rally after the Braves had put runners on second and third with one out.

Lee May drove in four runs with a pair of homers and Doug Rader and Cesar Cedeno each added a solo shot to lead the Astros' 20-hit assault against six Montreal pitchers—or, more precisely, five pitchers and a shortstop.

Montreal Manager Gene Mauch wound up using Hector Torres for the final two outs after Joe Gilbert had been manhandled for eight hits and seven runs in 1-3 innings.

"I'd used all the pitchers I was going to use and Gilbert couldn't get the outs," Mauch explained—and Astros Manager Harry Walker voiced some understanding. "I would have done the same thing under the same circumstances," he said. "Why bring in a starter who probably needs the rest?"

Jose Cardenal's two-run homer in the third inning carried the Cubs past the Giants, Nate Colbert drove in two runs, one of them with his 34th homer of the year, to lead the Padres past the Cardinals and Wes Parker belted a tie-breaking triple in the sixth inning, then scored on Bobby Valentine's squeeze bunt to send the Dodgers past the Pirates.

Svare said he encountered the taciturn athlete on the practice field and they exchanged five words.

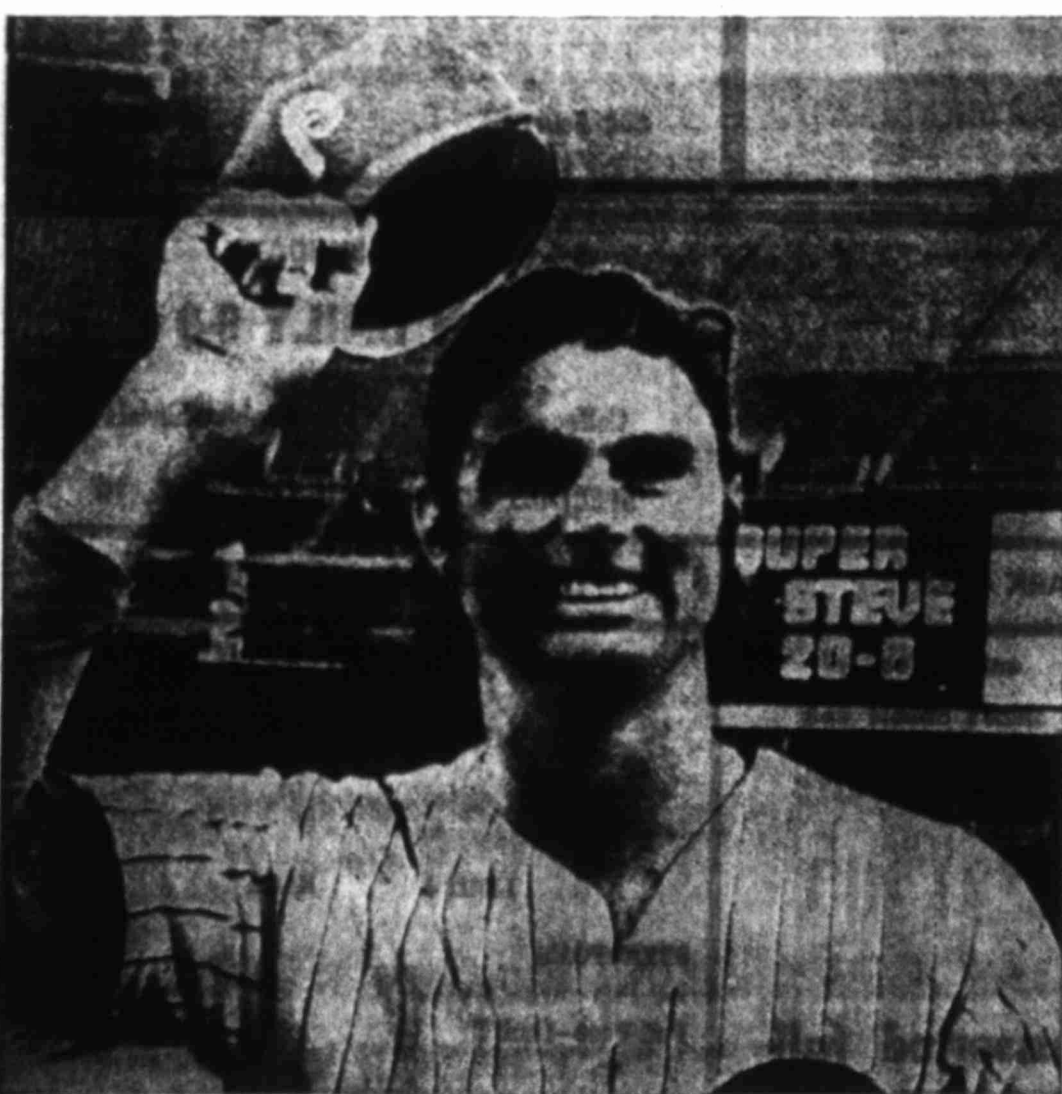

"Hello, how are you?" Svare said he asked, and he said Thomas responded, "Fine."

The two met here Aug. 4 but neither commented on the topic of discussion.

Svare revealed Thursday that he gave Thomas permission to leave on that occasion and that he knew the athlete would return, although he didn't know when.

"He had some business to clean up," Svare said.

Refuges Open For Hunters

AUSTIN — Two national wild life refuges will be open to bowhunting this year — the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge and the Laguna Atascosa National Wildlife Refuge.

Bowhunters will be allowed on the Aransas Refuge, located 35 miles north of Rockport, Sept. 12-25, Sept. 29-Oct. 2 and Oct. 6-9.

The refuge will be open from 5:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. on those days except on Sept. 21, the first day, when it will be open at noon.

Archers may kill one deer of either sex, one javelina and as many of the feral hogs as they can find.

The hunt is open to all archers, the only requirements being a valid state hunting license and payment of the refuge's daily entrance fee of $1 per car.

The Laguna Atascosa hunts will be Oct. 6-8, 13-15, 20-22 and 27-29. Gates will open at noon on Friday and one hour before sunrise on succeeding days.

The bag limit on the Laguna Atascosa Refuge, located 20 miles east of Harlingen, is one deer, either sex, per hunter. No other form of wildlife may be hunted.

Hunters on both refuges are expected to know and obey state and federal hunting regulations. No camping is permitted on either refuge.

SCHLEE SHARES LEAD IN USI TOURNEY — John Schlee from Coral Springs, Fla., a non-winner in his eight years on the pro tour, matched veteran Tommy Aaron with a 67 to tie for the lead in the opening round of the United States Industries golf tournament at Pleasant Valley Thursday. British Open champion Lee Trevino, ailing with a virus infection, struggled to a 74 in the first day of play.

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — John Schlee had a share of the lead going into today's second round in the $200,000 USI Golf Classic because he went against his wife's wishes.

"I went back to putting cross-handed," the lanky, graying veteran said after cutting five strokes off par with 67 in Thursday's first round, giving him a tie for the top spot with Tommy Aaron.

"I had been putting cross-handed some during the winter and spring, but I'd shift from conventional to cross-handed while I was on the course," the 33-year-old Schlee said.

"My wife told me to do it one way or the other. I don't think she could stand the suspense of waiting to find out which way I was going to putt," he said.

"So I started putting conventionally all the way.

"Last week I played real good, hit the ball real good, but didn't make a single putt. I figured I had to do something. So this week I started putting everything inside of 12 feet cross-handed."

It staked him to a five-under-par round on the 7,212 yard Pleasant Valley Country Club course and share of the lead in the chase for a $40,000 first prize. Schlee, who has yet to win in eight years on the tour, and Aaron were one stroke in front of New Zealand lefty Bob Charles, a 74 and must improve in the second round if he's to survive the cut for the final 36 holes.

Hole-In-One 'Old Hat'

The hole-in-one 72-year-old J. R. Farmer made on the 145-yard seventh hole at the Big Spring Country Club Thursday was 'old hat' to him.

It was the tenth ace of his golfing career, which embraces several decades. Jim has a handicap of eight but usually shoots in the 70s. He recorded a 77 yesterday.

He used a three-iron and bounced the ball into the hole. Jackie Thomas, a member of the foursome of which Farmer was a member, blistered the 18-hole layout with a 71. Red Womack and Dick Pfeiffer each recorded 73s. Hudson Landers and Jack Cook were other members of the group.

FREE AGENT FROM BEARS Concannon Joins 'Pokes

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Jack Concannon became the fourth man Thursday to enter the muddled quarterback picture of the world champion Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League.

The eight-year veteran was acquired as a free agent from the Chicago Bears, climaxing a week of flurried activity after No. 1 man Roger Staubach injured his right shoulder last Saturday night.

Concannon was the Philadelphia Eagles' No. 2 draft choice out of Boston College in 1964, and was traded to the Bears three seasons later after seeing limited action. He was a regular or semi-regular in three of his five years with Chicago, but last year played behind Bobby Douglass and Kent Nix.

"At a time like this, when you really need a player like Concannon, it can be very difficult to find one. Naturally, we're pleased," said head coach Tom Landry. "He's the type who can give us the backup experience necessary to make our drive to the championship. And this is our goal."

Whether Concannon is primary or secondary backup depends on the status of Danny Reeves, a former collegiate quarterback who had a measure of success with the Cowboys as a running-passing halfback for several seasons before knee injuries decimated his speed and quickness.

Reeves had retired as a player this year to become a full-time offensive coach. The present crisis forced Landry to call on Reeves as a veteran quarterback backup. The reasoning went that Reeves knows the Cowboy system and spent much of last year grooming at the quarterback position.

Landry emphasized Thursday that Reeves' stature has not been altered by the trade for Concannon.

"He will continue to work at quarterback as he has been. We'll regard it as the same situation until we determine what path we'll take," Landry said.

The key to the path the Cowboys will eventually take is Staubach, the man who led the team to the Super Bowl championship last January, but whose season has been sliced by his shoulder separation.

Most everyone, including Staubach, believes he will come back strong this season from the injury to his throwing shoulder.

"My arm will be just as good as new, but I'm going to get me some running-back shoulder pads," Staubach said. "They've been available to me. I should have been wearing them."

Reaves Gets Nod Against Redskins

By The Associated Press

Rookie quarterback John Reaves of the Philadelphia Eagles faces an acid test against the Washington Redskins tonight as another week-end of exhibition pro football gets under way.

Reave impressed in his first start last weekend against the New England Patriots. The Eagles' No. 1 draft choice from the University of Florida, Reaves led Philadelphia to a 2-20 victory. He completed eight of 11 passes for 89 yards, two of them for touchdowns.

He will be facing a more experienced team in the unbeaten Redskins. Washington routed the Denver Broncos 41-0 last week paced by veteran signal callers Bill Kilmer and Sonny Jurgensen.

In addition to Philadelphia at Washington, Minnesota plays at Buffalo in another NFL exhibition tonight.

Fran Tarkenton, traded during the off-season by the New York Giants, will start at quarterback for the Viking in his second game for Minnesota. He played his first game for his old team last week and led the Vikings to a 24-14 triumph over San Diego.

Seven more preseason games are scheduled for Saturday. Three more are listed for Sunday and one for Monday night, making it a 13-game week-end program with all 26 NFL clubs in action.

Oakland at Los Angeles in a nationally televised game, (NBC-TV) headlines the Saturday card. In the other six Saturday games, San Francisco is at San Diego, Miami at Cincinnati, Denver at St. Louis, Green Bay at Houston, Pittsburgh at Atlanta and Dallas at New Orleans.

On Sunday the New York Giants tangle with the New York Jets at New Haven, Conn., Cleveland battles Detroit at Ann Arbor and the Chicago Bears go against New England at Foxboro, Mass. The Monday night game is Baltimore pitted against unbeaten Kansas City in the Chiefs' new Arrowhead Stadium.

Dallas figured in a deal with the Chicago Bears Thursday. The Super Bowl champions, who suffered the loss of quarterback Roger Staubach due to a shoulder injury against Los Angeles last week, acquired veteran quarterback Jack Concannon.

He was signed as a free agent, having played out his option with the Bears last season. However, the Cowboy sent the Bears tackle Bob Asher, one of their second year men, and Bill Line, a rookie defensive lineman. In addition the Cowboys gave the Bears a second round future draft choice.

In another Thursday development the Patriots asked waivers on Ara Person, a tight end, to make room on their roster for linebacker John Huard.

Armed with the bigger pads, Staubach says, his injury will not stop him from his scrambling ways that gave the Cowboys some crucial gains last season.

"The quarterback run has a place in professional football when used properly," Staubach said. He added he will start throwing the ball in about eight weeks.

The man who replaces Staubach as No. 1, Craig Morton, probably has the most pressure of the four.

Landry has said the Cowboys can repeat as world champions with Morton at the helm as long as he stays well. A poor performance or an injury to Concannon would certainly hurt those chances regardless of Reeves or Concannon.

Staubach Remembers Good Advice

DALLAS (AP) — It was at the Pro Bowl in Los Angeles last January that Detroit quarterback Greg Landry gave Dallas quarterback Roger Staubach some good advice: "Get yourself some bigger shoulder pads."

Staubach remembered Thursday that Landry told him "You're crazy and nuts to be wearing such small pads."

Now Staubach knows why. He suffered a shoulder separation Saturday in a collision with Los Angeles' linebacker Marlin McKever.

"My arm will be just as good as new but I'm going to get me some running back shoulder pads," Staubach said. "They've been available to me. I should have been wearing them."

Issues Shaping Up

It's far too early for political partisans to get their blood pressures too high, because the campaigners haven't really had a chance to warm up.

But it is time for us all to remember that the business of a presidential election campaign is to attack an administration and to defend it. That's the process now commanding attention.

The President and his policies will come under sharp and even bitter attack. His defense of his administration is his obligation under the American system. On his defense depends, in very large part, his hopes for re-election.

One thing that requires early attention is the raid on Democratic National Headquarters, as bizarre a bit of business as has ever embarrassed any politician.

HUD Secretary George Romney, smarting under a directive from the President to handle "bureaucratic haggling" in Pennsylvania, flood-damaged areas, pointedly told the President he had already reported to him on the matter and would decline to report further unless it could be done personally. That letter, a copy of which was made available to the press, was written against a background of a HUD staff cut of 800 persons at a time when HUD is digging into scandals in the FHA subsidized housing programs.

That's an administrative issue. Labor was launching an attack, citing high profits and hold-the-line controls on wages as unfair. The President will be obliged to reply in defense.

The war will remain an issue until all the troops are out of Vietnam. There's no way to avoid that, nor should it be avoided. Settlement of the matter would be a big plus for the President.

There have always been insurmountable "ifs" in the dealings during the war. History of that war is solid proof that truth has eluded many a highly-placed official; optimism was an early and frequent victim of the war.

The electorate is in the listening stage of the campaign. It's a painfully-stimulating stage designed to winnow out the essential issues and personalities deemed best suited to handle the world's toughest job.

Texas Gets A Break

A provision penalizing Texas for not having a personal income tax has been removed from a U.S. Senate revenue sharing bill and the state will recognize an additional $20 million because of it.

Gov. Preston Smith calls it a victory for state autonomy from federal control over a state's tax structure. Perhaps the governor is right, but just as important is that Texas has just written a new budget without imposing any new taxes, and the additional funds may enable the next legislature to do the same.

The personal income tax has generally been ill-thought-of in Texas and state government hasn't found it necessary to impose one on its citizens. The state shouldn't be penalized on that basis.

Under the revenue-sharing concept now being considered by the Senate (the House has already passed similar legislation), Texas state government will get $66 million and cities and counties will get $202 million.

Mortal After All

Around The Rim

Charles Teague

Dot's cats were always a source of pleasure to her, as long as they were around, that is. It seems to me that her feline companions were about the pastures a greater portion of their time, for days on end, in search of birds, rats or some other object of subjugation.

ONE OF THE earlier sleek, black models, named Tom, had a vicious combination of overactive claws and the uncanny ability to play hide-and-seek.

I remember as a pre-schooler what a dubious companion Tom made for an only child. Reared in Borden County near the very center of the sticks, I had few playmates, one of the most unforgettable of those being, of course, old Tom.

TOM DIDN'T know much about the rules of the game, such as "hide your eyes and count to 10," or "touch base first and you're in free." But he was quite handy with the rather unorthodox rule of "extend your claws and let him know you've found him." And that was precisely his favorite part of the game, as witness the scars on my lower legs.

One of the more unfortunate incidents Tom was involved in during his stormy days with Dot was a game of hide-and-seek with an unknowing partner, an attractive lady wearing a hoop skirt, which revealed her dainty ankles. The flaring skirt was an invitation which even the most cultured cat would find difficult to resist. Of course, Tom, being a country boy at heart, and not over-loaded with good taste, found nothing about the situation to cause a moment's hesitation.

A SECOND later, the screaming lady was, without a doubt, convinced that a multi-fanged, demonic entity had exacted full payment for any misdeed from a forgotten past performed.

BUT RETRIBUTION lay ahead. Tom, who surely considered himself the most fearful of all prairie beasts, came to showdown through a screen door one orange evening. His opponent was the largest, and probably the only, Boxer he had ever seen in his earthly existence.

The fateful scene was an innocent encounter and should have been overlooked by both animals. Tom, however, demanded of the gods an immediate decision of general superiority.

TO DEMONSTRATE the power of his gigantic 10-inch, eight-pound frame, the slender, short-haired feline inhaled. He swelled and bristled, and swelled and bristled until his feet were a full three inches off the floor.

A low rumble rose from the deep throat of the Boxer. Tom swelled and bristled still more. More rumbles from the boxer.

LEVITATING a full foot above the floor now, Tom had to do something — he couldn't go on swelling and bristling. And happen it did. In one long exhalation, the black streak — emitting a hair-raising cry from another world — crossed the breadth of the living room sofa, crashed into the dining table settings and flashed over the stove to a kitchen cabinet. The invincible tiger was mortal after all.

Second Miracle?

Marquis Childs

SAN FRANCISCO — Loyal Democrats are slowly coming back to life after the long nightmare of the vice-presidential fiasco. There is no disguising the cost of the interval that began with the seizure of indecision following Sen. Thomas Eagleton's disclosure of his hospitalization for mental illness.

THE EPISODE further disillusioned prominent Democrats who were already lukewarm toward Sen. George McGovern's candidacy. Normally the source of sizable campaign contributions, they are today waiting it out. Whether they will eventually come around to support a McGovern-Shriver ticket is still in question.

Here is a lifelong Democrat who stops just short of declaring he will vote for President Nixon: "I have 3,000 employees. Each one is carefully tested before he goes on the payroll. Why Sen. Eagleton's record was not thoroughly examined before he was chosen for the second highest office in the land is more than I can understand."

HE HAD backed Sen. Hubert Humphrey in the California primary. Party regulars who had stayed with Sen. Edmund Muskie were put off by the stop-and-start indecision over the possible choice of the Maine senator for the No. 2 spot. This seemed further evidence of ineptitude in the top ranks of the party.

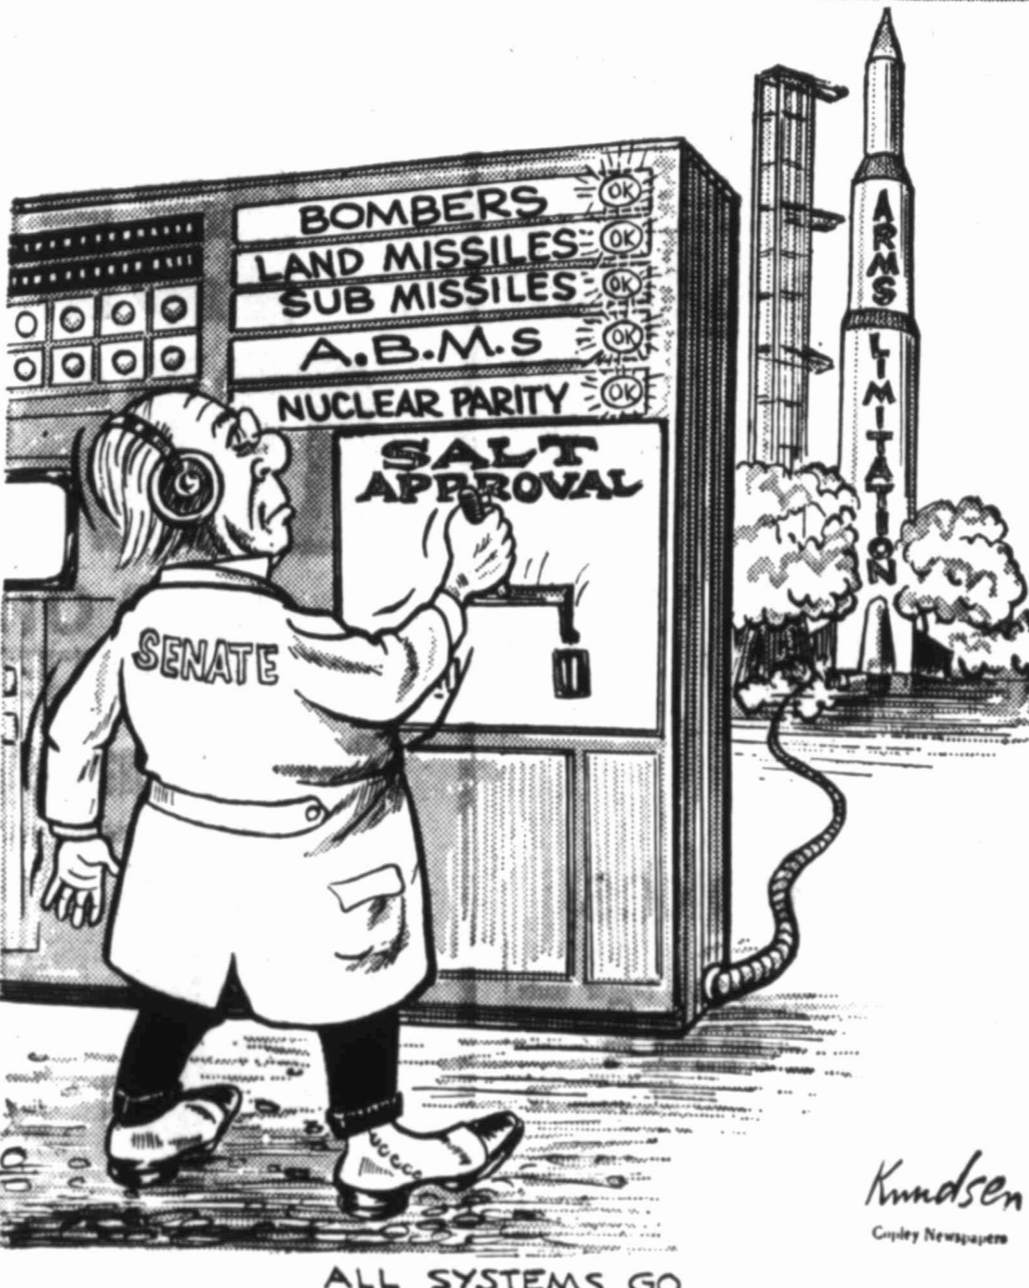

Similar reports of doubt and indifference among the big wheels come from those sampling opinion around the country. At best the attitude is, "Wait and see." Contributors in the five-figure column in the past are being invited to a meeting in New York by behind-the-scenes activists who believe it is important to be in a position to exert a modifying influence on McGovern. Supporting McGovern's anti-Vietnam war stand, they believe he must moderate his more radical economic proposals if he is to get any appreciable shares of the votes of middle America.

THE PRESENCE of Sargent Shriver on the ticket is a plus but, as the Louis Harris polls the McGovern camp had taken just before the Miami Beach convention showed, any No. 2 other than Sen. Edward Kennedy would make only a point or a point and a half difference. As a long-time friend and ally of Chicago's Mayor Richard J. Daley, Shriver should help substantially in Illinois. And Illinois is one of the states the Democrats must carry if they are to have a chance to win in November. Shriver will for the first time be testing his vote-getting ability.

ALL THIS is the old politics, and is as dead, if you believe the young militants who put McGovern over in the primaries, as Tammany Hall. Yet even their crusading spirits have been dampened by the backing and filling over the vice-presidency. The task they face looms ahead with the vastness of a Grand Canyon to fill up by Nov. 7. It is here that the loss of a precious month can mean the difference between a possible narrow win and disastrous defeat. The young, the apostles of the new politics, had 18 months to work their miracle in the primaries. Now in little more than two months they must work a second miracle. For the cynical, the doubters, this is simply not in the cards.

Well, Taxes Are Rising

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — There is hardly a family in America that doesn't discuss—if that is the proper word—taxes, often with awe or woe or indignation. Taxes are negative. Taxes take away. Taxes are wasted.

The subject of taxes also is tiring because, as most families have learned, there isn't much you can do about them but pay, and that is a very unsatisfactory catharsis for strong emotions.

Eventually, therefore, most such discussions are terminated for the sake of the family's well-being. But if you worked for the Tax Foundation, Inc. you couldn't permit yourself the luxury of trying to forget. You remember.

At the foundation you think about taxes constantly rather than sporadically. It's your job, but your outlook, judging from the tone of the foundation's reports, isn't any different. Taxes are too high. Money is wasted. The only real difference is that the foundation does something about it. They write about taxes, thousands upon thousands of words about them. And the effect? Well, taxes are rising.

The foundation was formed in 1937 as a private, nonprofit organization "to engage in research and public education on the fiscal and management aspects of government." Among its trustees now are some of the biggest names in American industry.

In a recent issue of its "Monthly Tax Features" are some typically horrifying examples of how spending grows, how taxes rise, how money is wasted, how legislators raise their pay, how federal benefits soar.

"Gov't. Payroll Cost Up 400 Per Cent From '53-'71," declares one headline. Expanding, the story relates that:

"While fulltime state and local government employees have about doubled from 4 to 8 million over the 1953-1971 period, monthly payrolls for them have skyrocketed from $1.2 billion to $6 billion, or by 400 per cent."

It observes that "fulltime workers' pay averaged $730 per month in 1971, $33 more than in 1970," failing to remind readers that in terms of constant dollars—minus inflation—that $33 raise is less than a cost-of-living increase.

Regarding legislators, who it implies can do something about taxes by resisting bigger paychecks and fringe benefits, it comments:

"In 19 years between 1947 and 1966 salaries of New York State legislators rose by 500 per cent. They now get $20,000—almost 10 times what they got in 1947."

Underground Papers

Garth Jones

By JURATE KAZICKAS (Substituting for Garth Jones)

With less emphasis on bomb-making and more on day-to-day community problems, underground newspapers continue to grow in numbers and influence.

There are at least 400 of these journals published weekly compared with about 200 a few years ago. Underground editors say their total readership is about 20 million.

At the same time that underground papers have folded in major cities like New York and San Francisco, they are taking root in such unlikely turf as Apopka, Fla.; Anniston, Ala.; and McConnellsburg, Pa.

"THERE ISN'T a town with a population of more than 50,000 that doesn't have an underground paper," says Max Scherr, founder and editor of the Berkeley Barb.

Since their major mushrooming in the late '60s, the papers have been changing to reflect the new moods of the youth movement. Where once the pages promoted urban guerrilla warfare, now they delve into local problems and issues of interest to a wide range of citizens.

"The underground press represented the vanguard of the revolutionary struggle," says Tom Forcade, a Zippie, Washington correspondent for the Underground Press Syndicate and self-styled authority on the underground scene.

"But what did all those kids living in hippie pads care about bombs? Now the papers are becoming much more relevant and realistic. They write about the alternative institutions of the community like day care centers, the food co-ops, the health clinics."

THE PAPERS still speak to the generation that created the counterculture. They are anti-establishment, enduringly antiwar and anti-Nixon. Revolutionary rhetoric and scatological phrases spice the editorials. Marijuana smoke-ins make headlines. The ads sell sandals and water beds and incense. And the personals, unprintable anywhere else, advertise "Handsome male 30 seeks attractive, sensuous woman."

Many underground papers have begun aiming at a broader audience, adding book and movie reviews, activities, meetings and demonstrations that aren't covered as daily fare in traditional papers.

Underground papers have not only popularized everything in the counterculture from drugs to dropping out, they have also aided the momentum of causes like ecology, women's liberation and peace.

Activists credit the Ann Arbor Sun for helping elect two radicals to the City Council and for lower fines for marijuana smokers. Boston After Dark and the Phoenix claim their investigative stories were instrumental in halting construction of the Park Plaza urban renewal project that many felt threatened the community.

SERVING THE NEEDS of the underground press are two newsgathering organizations, Liberation News Service and the Underground Press Syndicate.

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — There is some gossip that Jimmy Caan may be slated by Hollywood for a buildup as a new male sex symbol.

"That would be nice, wouldn't it?" said the 6-foot strawberry blond actor, then added mockingly: "But I'd have to start eating more Vitamin E and get more colorful underwear."

Whether or not he becomes another Clark Gable, Caan — after a hit role in television and then one in the movies — is on the springboard to a big film career. He won wide critical favor with his portrayal of a football hero in the ABC television picture, "Brian's Song," and also as Sonny Corleone, the fiery elder son of Marlon Brando in the smash financial success, "The Godfather."

Jimmy was slated early in life to become a businessman like his father, a Bronx meat dealer. To please his parents, he studied economics and business management at Michigan State and Hofstra College before he decided he had to follow his own high school dream of becoming an actor.

"I think acting is an art form and I like to treat it that way," he says. "I try not to take myself too seriously, but I take acting very seriously."

Caan made his Broadway debut in "Blood, Sweat and Stanley Poole," a drama in which he understudied five roles.

Caan thinks life should be a mixture of laughter and achievement. His philosophy is that of the old Persian poet who wrote, "Unborn yesterday, dead tomorrow, why fret about them if today be sweet?" He believes his best virtue is that, "I treat everybody with respect, and I don't go out of my way to hurt anybody."

"My worst fault is that I don't want anyone to dislike me. So I bend over backward to please bastards, and this can get you in a trap."

Here are Jimmy's likes: "Friends more than anything — women who are super feminine — sports, sunshine and horses — blue and tan colors and conservative clothes — earthy barnlike smells — lilacs are my favorite flower, as they were my mother's — bird sounds and country music — Chinese food and soda pop (I'm a freak for root beer) — a patriarchal society—children and people who are honest, fun-loving, a little crazy and eccentric, who live out their fantasies and are full of love."

And here are his dislikes: "Cooked carrots and celery tonic — insensitivity and hatred — envy — selfish women and overdressed women — city noises and city soot — greedy people who kill the environment — anything phony — the smell of dirt, unclean air and bad people. I have a spooky nose for evil people and can smell them out in five seconds."

Ignoring Rules

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The treatment of prisoners of war by North Vietnam is a tragedy that has received worldwide comment, but very little has been done about it. Under the Geneva Convention, which has been signed by the Hanoi government and 130 other nations, the plight of American prisoners of war and missing in action could be taken up by the governments of the world.

SEN. STROM THURMOND (R-S.C.) has introduced a joint resolution urging that they make a concerted effort in this regard. He points out that a resolution adopted by the international conference of the Red Cross was supported by 114 nations and called on the parties in the conflict to abide by the Geneva convention and give humane treatment to the prisoners of war. Sen. Thurmond says:

"This plea, along with those of President Nixon, the Congress, and the American people, falls on deaf ears. The government of North Vietnam was one of 131 which signed the Geneva Convention. In so doing, it committed itself to identify and properly care for all prisoners of war in a humanitarian manner, to allow immediate release of the sick or wounded, and to permit inspection of prisoners and camps by a neutral party. Also, the convention provides for the free flow of letters and packages, and protection of prisoners from public humiliation and abuse."

"THE UNITED STATES and its allies are complying with the humane provisions for prisoners held by South Vietnam. The American people, the Congress by previous resolution, and the administration are united in the quest for this type of treatment, including arrangements for the exchange of prisoners. This is a humanitarian issue. POW's should not be held as hostages."

Many Americans imprisoned by the North Vietnamese have, of course, been mistreated and, even though sick or wounded, have not been released. They have been subjected to public humiliation and abuse. A large number have never been identified. Communication with their families has been restricted, and lots of them have not been heard from since being captured. No inspection of prison camps by a neutral organization, such as the International Red Cross, has been permitted.

PRESIDENT NIXON and predecessors have made repeated efforts to obtain the release of prisoners. The President has proposed an unconditional release on both sides. This meant the return of 36,000 North Vietnamese and Vietcong in exchange for fewer than 5,000 Americans and South Vietnamese. Hanoi has refused even to discuss the matter. Sen. Thurmond believes that the North Vietnamese must be "condemned by all signatory nations of the convention — they must be convinced that we will not retire from Southeast Asia without prisoner exchanges."

The South Carolina senator's resolution requests the governments which have signed the pact to exercise every political, diplomatic, economic and psychological action, public and private, against North Vietnam to comply with the Geneva convention.

THERE HAS been a general impression in this country that the release of prisoners of war is up to the government which is holding them. This is not so.

My Answer

Billy Graham

I read where one of Hollywood's greats committed suicide recently. He was handsome, gifted, and popular. Why would a man with all these things end his life? Have you any explanation? A.M.J. You forgot to mention that he was rich. Which all points up the well-known fact that these things cannot satisfy the deep hunger and emptiness of the human heart. Suicide, of course, is instant withdrawal from life on this planet. And, if life ends at death, as some surmise, it would be an escape from the rigors and pressures of life.

The man I suppose you refer to, left a note which was interesting. He said: "Dear World: I am leaving because I am bored. I have lived long enough. I am leaving you with your worries in this sweet cesspool. Good luck."

Karl Jung, the great psychiatrist once said: "The central neurosis of our times is emptiness." That was simply a modern paraphrase of Jesus' words: "Man shall not live by bread alone," and "Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you." (Matthew 6:33.)

The Bible says, "If in this life only we have hope... we are of all men most miserable." (Corinthians 15:19.) The body can be destroyed, but the soul never dies. It is immortal. So, actually, there is no such thing as suicide. This movie star killed his body, but no pill, no poison, no gun, can kill the soul. The Bible says, "And many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame." (Daniel 12:2)

A Devotion For Today..

See that none render evil for evil unto any man; but ever follow that which is good, both among yourselves and to all men. (I Thessalonians 5:15)

PRAYER: We thank Thee, most gracious Father, that with Your help we are able to choose good instead of evil. In the name of Jesus, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven... Amen."

Harte-Hanks Earnings Up 33 Per Cent

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Harte Hanks Newspapers Inc. has announced a 33 per cent increase in earnings per share for the fiscal year ending last June 30.

Robert G. Marbut, president and chief executive officer, said earnings were $1.22 per share before goodwill amortization and extraordinary credit, compared with 92 cents per share for the previous year.

Goodwill amortization amounted to 11 cents per share during the fiscal year, versus one cent per share during the previous year, resulting in net earnings before extraordinary credits of $1.11 per share versus 91 cents per share. This is a 22 per cent increase over the previous year.

Revenues for the year amounted to $54,865,000 versus $39,980,000 for the previous year, for a 37 per cent increase. This resulted in net income before extraordinary credits for the year of $3,615,000 versus $2,830,000 for the previous year, for a 28 per cent increase.

APPEAR BEFORE PLATFORM COMMITTEE — Jerry W. Wilson, left, Chief of Police, Washington, D.C.; Mrs. J. Evans, center, and Myles J. Ambrose, are shown Thursday as they appeared before the Platform Committee of the Republican National Convention. Mrs. Evans is a member of the Planning Board of the White House Conference on Aging and a Senior Citizen. Ambrose is a special assistant Attorney General for Drug Abuse.

Republicans Unveil First Installment Of Platform

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — In tempo and in tune with the will of the White House, Republicans are readying President Nixon's GOP national convention, right on script.

If anything happens that isn't in the text, an ample cadre of administration aides and political managers is on hand to deal with it.

There has been no indication so far of major need for their services.

MORE THAN EVER

The campaign buttons emblazoning GOP lapels read "Nixon, Now more than ever." It is an apt slogan at a convention dominated in every aspect by the President the GOP will renominate next Tuesday.

The platform draft the party begins unveiling today is a White House production. A preliminary draft was written there. While it was condensed, indications are that there have been no significant departures from the administration text.

And while that has produced liberal complaints, it would in fact be surprising if such were not the case. Platforms are tailored to the views of candidates, and in the case of the Republicans, there is only one, Nixon.

EXCITING?

Republican rule-makers saw to that by drafting an instant change in the regulations that will guarantee only Nixon's name is placed in presidential nomination.

"This is an exciting convention," said Sen. Robert J. Dole of Kansas, the Republican national chairman. "We have had differences of opinion and we have resolved those differences of opinion."

But it took a low threshold of excitement to find much in the Republican preliminaries. Administration officials looked on — and, according to some liberal critics, prodded — as GOP panels and leaders arranged for the renomination ceremonies.

"It's almost like we were here to attend the coronation of Richard the first," said Rep. Paul N. McCloskey Jr. of California, the liberal who staged a brief, futile challenge to President Nixon in the early primaries.

UNDER CONTROL

"Nothing will be said to embarrass the President," McCloskey said. "Nothing will be allowed to disturb the carefully staged management of this convention."

The Californian sought to have a delegate seated to cast the one vote committed to him for presidential nomination; the Republican National Committee rejected that unilaterally.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York was the dissenter-in-chief for the liberal side at GOP platform hearings, and that clearly was the way the administration wanted it. For a while Javits disputed the Nixon position on some issues, and called for total U.S. withdrawal from South Vietnam. He is firmly supporting the President for re-election.

John D. Ehrlichman, a top White House aide; Herbert G. Klein, director of communications for the administration; and Charles K. McWhorter, a New York lawyer and Nixon political associate, were among about a dozen officials on hand for preliminaries.

EYE ON RULES

McWhorter kept an eye on the GOP Rules Committee, but said he was not there as an administration agent. Ehrlichman turned up at platform hearings, where the star witnesses were Cabinet members and other administration officials.

But it appeared that the proceedings had been arranged in advance to avoid any overt, on-the-scene management.

When Sen. Robert P. Griffin of Michigan held a news conference to assail Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern, he said he had consulted with the White House. "They didn't tell me what to say," he added.

While McCloskey and Common Cause, the self-styled citizens' lobby, protested that the platform evidently had been drawn at the White House, other moderate to liberal Republicans were more concerned about the impact of 1972 decisions than about the current proceedings.

COMPLAINT

They were said to be considering a complaint to Nixon about the adoption of a 1976 delegate reapportionment plan that benefits Southern, rural and generally conservative states.

The national committee approved it Thursday with Dole's endorsement. There was no open administration involvement, but it was clear the party chairman would not have backed the plan in defiance of White House wishes.

No Need Of Grand Jury Probe Into Fatal Accident

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Travis County Assistant Atty. Jim McMurtry says there is no need of a grand jury investigation into a fatal automobile accident involving a federal judge from Houston.

McMurtry, acting county attorney, said Thursday his investigation showed "no evidence of alcoholic consumption or excessive speed or of negligence" in the Aug. 11 accident in which Theodore Franklin Terrell, 57, a Houston deputy constable, was killed on Texas 71 west of Austin.

U.S. District Judge John Singleton, Houston, was driver of a car that collided head on with the car driven by Terrell during a rainstorm on a curve. Singleton and a passenger in his car received minor injuries.

McMurtry said at least six witnesses testified before him that the section of road was hazardous.

"Since there is no evidence on which an indictment of information will rest, this investigation will be handled in a routine manner with no further action," McMurtry said.

Jane's Undercut Ires Sen. Chiles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Lawton Chiles of Florida has accused actress Jane Fonda and former Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, both recent visitors to North Vietnam, of undercutting Congress on the war issue.

The Florida Democrat told the Senate on Thursday that he believes comments made by Miss Fonda and Clark about their visits "have created such an adverse public reaction that it makes impossible for Congress to undertake successfully any measure seeking to legislate an end to the Vietnam war."

He said Miss Fonda had let herself be used by the North Vietnamese and that antibombing statements attributed to Clark by Radio Hanoi leaves Clark "coming across as denouncing the United States."

"The result: American public opinion is affected negatively; Congress, which must have public support, is once again undercut in its efforts to find an end to the war."

Haven't Felt Money Pinch Since Dow Strike Started

FREERPORT, Tex. (AP) — Residents of the seven communities which make up the Brazosport area apparently have not felt the financial pinch that was expected when some 3,400 employees of Dow Chemical Co. struck June 23.

Except for the strikers themselves who admit they are hurting. And possibly Dow which won't say.

Dow, the biggest employer in the 50,000-resident area put its 3,200 supervisory and research employees on shifts and hired 600 new employees when the strike was called and the plant continues to operate.

David Rooke, plant manager said July was the biggest and best month in the plant's history.

PAYROLL BIGGER

Rooke said as a result of the massive overtime the plant is paying, the payroll is bigger than in normal times.

Glen Heath, executive editor of the Brazosport Facts at Freerport, said "the money is there, it's just in fewer hands."

Dan Parkinson, executive director of the Brazosport Chamber of Commerce, said "retail sales seem to be doing well."

Ralph Davis, president of the First Freerport National Bank, said "a lot of money is in the area. It's just not going to the people who were working before."

However, a union spokesman disagrees.

J. B. Crow, business manager of Operating Engineers Local 564 which represents 2,600 of the strikers, said many smaller merchants as well as some of the larger ones have told him they are having problems.

GETTING BY

He said his men are hurting but they are getting by.

He said area financial institutions are letting strikers defer payments on houses and cars and there is an emergency welfare fund for those who need it.

Crow said many of the strikers have left town for other jobs.

He said some found jobs locally but he claims the employment didn't last long.

"A local contractor needs people and hires some of us," he said. "But as soon as he finds out they are strikers, they get laid off."

No one seems to have any idea when the strike might end.

After a lapse of several weeks, talks were held last week but no settlement was reached.

Dow claims it wants to contract out the roughest, dirtiest jobs because it can't keep men in them. It also wants to hire cheaper labor available from non-union contractors for low skill jobs such as janitors.

The company said no one would be laid off in the move but when persons are promoted, retired or quit, they would not be replaced.

WHY TALK?

Crow claims the company proposal would decimate the union.

"We are trying to keep our organization from being destroyed," he said. "That is what they're set out to do. Until we get this problem settled, there's nothing to talk about."

Some violence flared up the first weeks of the strike. The company accused strikers of blocking entrances and scattering nails while the union said persons driving across picket lines attempted to run over pickets.

However, there has been no assumption since both sides agreed to an injunction limiting picketing.

Man In White Coat Shot By Corpus Christi Cop

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — An officer investigating a report that two shots were fired at the police station early today wounded a man who appeared to be reaching inside his coat for a weapon, police chief James Avant reported.

Hospital attendants said the wounded man, Benjamin Llanos of Corpus Christi, was under intensive care. He was hit in the right side. Today was Llanos' 20th birthday.

Avant said his officers began a search of the area after witnesses told them a man in a white trenchcoat shot twice at the police station.

They stopped five men for questioning and one of them—in a white trenchcoat—tried to back away as he put a hand inside the coat, the chief said.

At that point patrolman Eddie McConley fired once and wounded Llanos, Avant said. He reported a search disclosed that Llanos carried no weapon.

The four young men with Llanos were questioned and released.

Ice Cream Supper Set In Coahoma

The Coahoma Band Booster ice cream supper will be held Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the elementary cafeteria.

All parents of band students and their families are invited to attend. Parents with ice cream freezers are requested to bring ice cream and the others to bring cake or cookies.

Booster club officials point out that this will be an opportunity to get acquainted, meet the Band Booster officers for 1972 and to join the organization.

Primary objectives of the group for 1972 include raising money for the club's share of the new high school band uniforms and carpeting the band hall.

Money will be raised by the sale of memberships, and through the operation of the concession stand during the five home football games.

Band booster officers for the coming year are Ralph Beistle, president; Louis Loveless, vice president; Mrs. James Herm, secretary; Mrs. Stan Griffin, treasurer and Mrs. Carl Frazier and Mrs. Larry McDonald, membership chairmen.

Dame Will Dace Sugar Plum Fairy

DALLAS (AP) — Dame Margot Fonteyn, world renowned dancer, has agreed to star in a performance of Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker" in Dallas in December.

She will dance the part of the Sugar Plum Fairy in a joint performance of the Dallas Civic Ballet and the Dallas Symphony Orchestra Dec. 21-23.

New sets and costumes for the production will be commissioned.

John Quintana Top Winner

DENVER, Colo. — Pro rodeo cowboys won more than $80,000 at six major rodeos ending over the weekend, the Rodeo Cowboys Association said.

Biggest winner was John Quintana, Eugene, Ore., who leads for the 1972 bull riding championship with more than $19,000 in winnings.

Quintana, 24, won $1,770 altogether, picking up checks at Sikeston, Mo.; Burwell, Neb.; Colorado Springs, Colo.; and Caldwell, Ida.

Seven were injured in saddle bronc and bull riding; four of those were hospitalized.

Don Farmer, Elko, Nev., was trampled after bucking off his saddle bronc. Bull riders Bill Stanton, Okadale, Calif., and Ernie Coen, Espanola, N.M., were hit and trampled by bulls, and twice world champion barrel rider Paul Mayo, who also competes in bull riding, butted heads with a bull, fracturing several facial bones.

Leaders in various events are:

All-around — Phil Lyne, George West, $36,825, and Larry Mahan, Salem, Ore., $29,734; saddle bronc — J. C. Bonine, Hysham, Mont., $19,211, and Mel Hyland, Surry B.C., $18,578; barrel racing — Joe Alexander, Cora, Wyo., $23,084, and Rusty Riddle, Mineral Wells, $15,251; bull riding — John Quintana, $19,406, and Larry Mahan, $16,353; calf roping — Dean Oliver, Boise, Idaho, $20,711, and Phil Lyne, $18,604; steer wrestling — Roy Duvall, Warner, Okla., $17,444, and Tom Elliott, Peyton, Colo., $13,601; GRA barrel racing — Jeana Day, Woodward, Okla., $8,806, and Gail Petska, Norman, Okla., $5,949.

"The ambulance service was so excellent that I wanted to do something in return," the retired developer said Tuesday.

Bull made inquiries and learned the city needed a new ambulance. So he bought one, fully equipped — and presented it to the city.

It cost $9,000.

Seek Clues To Jump In Overdose Deaths

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A task force of investigators acted today to solve a rash of heroin overdose deaths which the county medical examiner said may be more than merely coincidental.

Six deaths since July 2 have been officially attributed to heroin overdoses. Final reports on five other suspected cases were pending.

The Organized Crime Control Bureau, a recently established, federally subsidized squad of city and county officers, was ordered Thursday to find the source of extremely strong heroin dosages which police say are circulating here.

NO EVIDENCE

Charles Doerr, a veteran narcotics officer who heads the anti-crime bureau, said his office had no evidence to indicate the recent deaths were anything but accidental, although he is open to all possibilities.

He and other officers blamed the deaths on an influx of the purest heroin ever sold on the street here.

Bexar County Medical Examiner Dr. Ruben Santos questioned the strong-heroin theory.

"I have never seen so many overdose deaths in such a short time," he said, "but I still can't understand why there aren't more than this if there is so much strong heroin on the street."

Santos said authorities probably will not be able to prove anything other than accidental death, "but it just doesn't make sense why we have only six reported this year, compared to 21 for all of last year."

number of addicts there are and the strength of the heroin the police say is on the street." He added:

MURDER?

Four of the recently confirmed heroin related deaths were recorded last weekend and include one of two men hurled from cars. Almost three dozen overdose cases have been reported this year, compared to 21 for all of last year.

$2,000 Reward

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — A $2,000 reward has been offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of those responsible for the slayings of Florence Jones, 49, and Lois Jernigan, 52, both of here.

The two sisters were found shot to death at Mrs. Jones' home Sunday. The rewards were offered by the families of the women.

Police said the two were shot with an automatic pistol. They said they had no suspects and did not have a clue of the motive for the shootings.
