REPUBLICANS RAISE CURTAIN

Leaders Try To Avert Floor Fight

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Republicans today opened the curtain on a carefully programmed nominating convention they hope will lead to a second White House term for Richard M. Nixon.

When Sen. Robert Dole, chairman of the Republican National Committee, gavelled the delegates to order, their role already had been written: the unopposed renomination of Nixon.

DRAFT HASSLE
The only real bits of drama were off stage. One concern seating for the convention four years hence. The other points to a possible floor skirmish over the military draft.

The first afternoon meeting was given over to welcoming speeches and a filmed tribute to the last Republican to hold the White House before Nixon, the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Then, tonight, the spotlight shifts to Nixon, the Eisenhower vice president who made it on his own in 1968 after losing the presidential race in 1960. Three keynote speeches hall the accomplishments of his first four years on Pennsylvania Avenue.

Before stepping to the podium, Dole had tried to heal the split in party ranks over a proposed new method of selecting delegates. But the effort failed, and the convention's rules committee was scheduled to tackle the issue at a meeting just before tonight's convention session.

STRONGER LANGUAGE

Meanwhile, a movement to strengthen the platform's end-the-draft plank raised the possibility of a floor skirmish Tuesday. A group of delegates headed by Sens. Charles McC. Mathias Jr. of Maryland and Richard S. Schweiker of Pennsylvania are fighting for the stronger language.

With everything programmed, down to Nixon's re-nomination Tuesday night, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's selection Wednesday night and final adjournment at 10:20 p.m. Wednesday, the Republican convention loomed as a sharp contrast to the all-night sessions and bruising floor fights that marked last month's Democratic Convention here.

Only one issue appeared headed for a battle on the convention floor, the question of how delegates will be allotted by states for the party's next convention in 1976.

The convention's Rules Committee considers the question today.

COMPROMISE

Unless a compromise can be reached, the issue will be fought out on the convention floor and before the nation's television viewers Tuesday afternoon in the only crack of the solid Republican unity marking this convention.

Threat of another floor fight, over the women's rights portion of the party platform, all but vanished over the weekend. Rep. Margaret Heckler of Massachusetts said no woman on the platform tried to bring up a statement on abortion.

Even the protesters appeared to be following a well-ordered schedule. Several hundred caused a massive traffic jam Sunday night outside the Fontainebleau Hotel, scene of a $500-a-ticket, fancy-dress GOP ball. A few eggs were thrown and a few party-goers were jostled but large numbers of night-stick-carrying police dispersed the demonstrators without injury or arrest.

With no Republican opposition to Nixon to worry about, GOP leaders kept up a steady drumbeat of criticism of Democratic nominee George McGovern. Sen. Robert Dole of Kansas, the party chairman, planned a departure from the usual practice of lying low during the opposition party's convention.

LYING LOW

McGovern, meanwhile, planned a departure from the usual practice of lying low during the opposition party's convention.

He has a busy schedule for the week, including a tour of Pennsylvania flood damage today, a visit to former President Lyndon B. Johnson's ranch on Tuesday and a speech before the American Legion convention in Chicago on Wednesday.

HIS FIRST TASTE OF POLITICS — His Nixon hat cocked at a rakish angle, Page Evans, 6, revels in the attention he's getting in Miami Beach as the son of Thomas Evans Jr., co-chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Drive Aimed At Blocking Units In Que Son Valley

SAIGON (AP) — Three thousand South Vietnamese troops launched a drive today aimed at blocking a North Vietnamese division from pushing out of the captured Que Son Valley into South Vietnam's populous coastal lowlands south of Da Nang.

BIG GUN

U.S. Air Force crews reported spotting big North Vietnamese 130mm artillery guns and tanks in the area of the Que Son fighting, some 35 miles south of Da Nang. The air force communique said F4 Phantoms knocked out three of the guns and two tanks. It was the closest such heavy weapons have been reported to Da Nang.

The North Vietnamese pushed through the valley during the weekend, inflicting heavy troop and equipment losses on the South Vietnamese. It was the biggest Communist gain since Quang Tri fell last May 1 and posed an immediate threat to Da Nang, the country's second largest city, and a heavily populated 50-mile strip of Highway 1 to the South. Field reports said the South Vietnamese counter-advance westward from Fire Base Baldy was slowed by moderate North Vietnamese resistance and the long-range artillery fire.

130 WOUNDED

By noon, the South Vietnamese had advanced several miles to the mouth of the valley, and were about five miles from the fallen strongpoints of Fire Base Ross and the Que Son district headquarters.

One South Vietnamese regiment which had been defending Fire Base Ross was declared combat ineffective with at least 22 men killed, 130 wounded and scores of others scattered and missing.

For the third successive day, U.S. B52 heavy bombers swept over the valley to attack North Vietnamese troop concentrations and staging areas.

Field reports said hundreds of refugees were fleeing to the coast, including many wounded in the crossfire.

The Que Son Valley leads from the mountains near the Laotian border across Highway 1 almost to the South China Sea. It is a natural infiltration route to the coast.

It was the first time the Communists had taken the valley despite a major push in the region every year since 1964. This year's North Vietnamese drive of about 2,500 men was the biggest. A 5½-month series of attacks chipped away at the Hiep Duc and Que Son valleys, forcing the South Vietnamese to yield several firebases and villages earlier in the campaign.

The Saigon command also announced that 85 persons were killed or injured over the weekend in the Central Highlands when a civilian bus hit an enemy mine and a helicopter carrying refugees turned over and crashed.

Forty civilians were killed and 30 others were wounded when the mine ripped through the packed bus Sunday about 25 miles south of Pleiku, Saigon headquarters said.

NO COLLISION

The Saigon command first announced that a helicopter collision in the air over Kontum killed 38 Vietnamese and injured 42, but later said this was in error, there was no collision and 12 persons killed and three were injured.

Paving Of Airport Runways To Get Under Way Shortly

By MARJ CARPENTER

Paving of the Howard County airport runways is to get underway this week, according to an announcement made at commissioners court here Monday morning by Judge A. G. Mitchell.

A pre-construction conference was held at Terminal last week with representatives of the Price Construction Co., Crim Engineering firm, FAA officials from both Albuquerque and Webb Air Force Base, other Webb officials, the airport manager and others concerned in the project attending.

Safety regulations were set up with the short runway 6-24 to be topped first and all traffic kept off that runway until Sept. 6.

The 16-34 runway will be closed from midnight Sept. 5 until midnight Sept. 15 with all possible safety regulations carried out. The flagmen were to be equipped with radios, lights turned off, aircraft notified and all other possible safety practices, according to regulations set up at the meeting.

LIBRARY HELP

In other action Monday morning, commissioners approved continuation of employment of two students who are employed to help at the library and heard a request from Larry Justiss, county librarian in connection with state and federal grants.

At this time, Howard County library does not qualify for the grants. The commissioners approved the librarian's submitting the application with further study to be made as to whether it is feasible to bring the library budget up to the standard to qualify for these grants.

The grants would make it possible to have additional book stations out in the county and to extend library service to nursing homes and the elderly, according to Justiss. Commissioner Simon Terrazas presented Justiss with a series of books to study the back history of library service in the county before the court proceeds with any action.

They also discussed the library fines which go back to the county general fund and decided to leave that as it is at the present time.

JOINT COMMITTEE

Judge Mitchell appointed Terrazas and Bill Crooker to represent the commission on a joint committee with the school and city to select tax ap-praisers.

They tabled a request for a car for the sheriff's department until they could confer with the sheriff. They talked briefly to the deputy who drives the vehicle involved in the discussion.

A split vote occurred on an issue as to whether to repaint the bill floor. It has not been painted for many years but local paint contractors advised the county officials that the floor was originally of a finish that was not to be painted and that the paint would continue to peel off.

Commissioners voted 3-1 against painting the floor again but suggested removal of the peeling paint. Voting against more paint were Jack Buchanan, Bill Elliot and Crooker with Terrazas voting in the affirmative.

A discussion was held concerning the tax office addressing machine risers. The court discussed possibilities of going to a computer system and requested the judge to discuss it with the tax assessor.

In other action, they heard a weekly report from the road administrator and took bids on anti-freeze and petroleum products.

The county awarded the oil and grease bid to Pat Boatler Gas and Oil Co. on a low bid of six bids submitted. The bid for anti-freeze and gasoline went to Continental Oil Co., also on a low bid.

Stargazer Satellite

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A huge astronomical observatory, heaviest and costliest scientific satellite ever orbited by the United States, vaulted into space today to study the evolution of stars and to seek a powerful new energy source in puzzling deep-space X-rays.

The stargazer satellite, named Copernicus after a 15th century Polish astronomer, carries six telescopes to analyze the birth and behavior of stars and to possibly provide clues to the origin and future course of the universe.

The 4,900-pound payload, valued at $81.6 million, rocketed away from earth at 6:28 a.m. EDT atop an Atlas-Centaur booster. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said 20 minutes later the spacecraft was in orbit more than 400 miles high and was sending strong radio signals.

The main instrument, developed at Princeton University, is a 32-inch diameter telescope, the largest ever orbited. It will concentrate on studying ultraviolet light in young, hot stars whose life span is measured in millions of years, short by stellar standards.

A series of five smaller telescopes, provided by Britain's University College, London, will study many X-ray sources in space such as quasars, pulsars and radio galaxies.

FLOOD DEATH TOLL HITS 368

SEOUL (AP)—The confirmed death toll rose to 368 today in South Korea's heaviest rains in 47 years, and police said 66 persons are missing.

Many died in landslides set off by the 17 or more inches of rain that lashed the northern central part of the country Friday and Saturday. There were fears the toll would approach the record number of 647 killed in July 1925, when 14 inches of rain fell in two days.

Seoul, with a population of 5 million, was hit hardest. Officials said 66 bodies had been counted in the city.

Ministers Line Up Against Immorality

The Howard County Ministerial Association have taken a stand against anything that "hurts the moral climate of Big Spring."

The statement did not go into specifics but a spokesman said the action was leveled at the showing of obscene material by a theater which recently opened here.

Church goers in numerous churches were reminded of the pastors' campaign against "moral degradation" at Sunday morning services.

Orientation Awaits Frosh

Incoming freshmen at Howard County Junior College have been asked to be present at 9 a.m. Tuesday in the auditorium for an orientation assembly.

The new students will be provided counseling and pre-registration help. Actual registration begins Wednesday.

Teachers went on duty at HCJC this morning. Included in the new faculty are Charles McDonnell, music teacher who did graduate work at the University of Texas last year, M. A. Long, in technical vocational training and a part time teacher last year and Mrs. Wanda Reese, in the reading program, also moving up from part time teaching last year. McDonnell is replacing Ralph Dowden, who moved to a college in Louisiana.

Also new is Dr Tom Salter, replacing W. A. Hunt.

First BSBS Bible Fund Gifts Amount To $340

The Big Spring High School Bible Fund, which is being coordinated by the Howard County Ministers' Fellowship, got off to a brisk start over the weekend, when $340 was contributed by local citizens and organizations.

Chairman of the drive is the Rev. Caleb Hildebrand of Wesley United Methodist Church.

The donations, and money in any amount will be accepted, can be forwarded either to the Rev. Mr. Hildebrand or to The Herald.

Largest of the initial gifts was a $100 check by the First Christian Church.

Public support is necessary in the drive to offer an accredited course because tax funds cannot be used for payment of the instructor and allied expenses.

The Herald has been assisting in the drive for funds for the last 25 years. Two classes of Bible will be taught. Goal of the ministerial association is HOUSTON (AP) — Police at Hermann Park here Sunday noticed a youth selling pills to other young people and swooped down for an arrest.

"There must have been a couple of dozen people crowded around him," said park patrolman J. H. Marter. "I swear it looked like dollar days at a department store."

But when they got him to the police station they found the youth had $430 in profits and a sack full of over-the-counter diet pills.

The youth, 18, told police, "There's a thousand suckers born every minute. I mean it. I didn't even really have to try hard."

NAZI HUSTLED FROM PROTESTERS' PARK — Vietnam Veterans Against the War haul a member of the American Nazi Party from Flamingo Park in Miami Beach Sunday after the two groups fought a brief battle in which several persons were injured. It ended when all the Nazis were forced to leave.

15 IN TRAFFIC, MURDERS Texas Violent Deaths

By The Associated Press
At least two dozen persons died violently in Texas during the weekend.

The toll, tabulated by The Associated Press between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday, included 15 deaths in traffic, seven homicides, one in a fire and a drowning.

NEVER SURFACED
These were among the victims:
Al Romo, 23, of Fort Worth drowned Sunday while swimming with two companions in the Trinity River near Carrollton. He swung from the bank on a rope, hit the water and never surfaced.

Darrel H. Pollard, 58, of Wilson, on the South Plains near Lubbock, died Sunday when his car overturned five miles north of Wilson on Farm Road 2192. He was alone in the vehicle.

Denny Tatum, 19, of Irving was killed Sunday when a car on which he was working began rolling and crushed him against a tree.

John Alfred Morris, 23, a soldier stationed at Ft. Hood, was killed Sunday when his car rolled over on Interstate 35. The accident about a mile south of San Marcos injured Morris' companion.

MURDER CHARGE
Arthur Ray Peterson, 61, of Galveston was killed Sunday when his car ran off Interstate 45 near Texas City and overturned.

Daniel J. Walker, 19, was shot to death Sunday after an argument at a party in Houston, police said. They filed murder charges against B. D. Taylor, 29.

Gregory Gene Prenties, 18, of Austin was killed and four other youths injured early Sunday when their car hit a parked lumber truck on a Brownsville street.

Emelio Balboa, 16, of Raymondville was killed early Sunday when he was struck by a car on U.S. 77 just south of the Raymondville city limits.

FATALLY STABBED
Pedro Hinojosa, 26, was fatally stabbed in a Brownsville residence Saturday night. Police found the body when they answered a call to an apartment house.

Verna B. Harper, 51, was shot to death Saturday night as he stood in front of his Houston home. Officers said an assailant apparently stood across the street and fired a rifle to kill Harper.

Mrs. Lena Capehart, 63, of Lubbock died Saturday in a fire in her apartment. Firemen blamed smoking in bed.

Pierce Knox, 48, of Dallas was fatally stabbed Saturday night when he was attacked behind his residence. Police sought a suspect.

Carol P. Red, 18, of El Campo, died Saturday in a two-car crash on Texas 71 near El Campo. Three of her brothers were injured, two critically.

Ronnie T. Henderson, 32, of Dallas was fatally shot Saturday when a pistol tumbled from his pocket in a Dallas lounge. Police said Henderson was reaching into his pocket for some change when the weapon fell to the floor and went off.

NEAR SWEETWATER
A Phoenix, Ariz., woman returning from a visit to Waco was killed Saturday in a collision with a U.S. mail truck on Interstate 20 near Sweetwater.

Highway patrolmen said Dorothy N. Rodgers, 62, died after her auto blew a tire and veered across an 18-foot median into the path of the truck. Her husband was hospitalized.

Roy E. Craig, 40, died in an Abilene hospital Saturday after being hit by a pickup truck shortly after midnight in Coleman while he and another truck driver were fixing a flat.

Jose Villarreal, 27, was shot to death Friday night in San Antonio while taking a ride after a meeting at a local tavern. His brother Ramon, 18, was wounded.

WEDDING PARTY
Robert Moore, 23, was shot during an argument at a post-wedding party in San Antonio early Saturday. Another man was wounded.

An airman stationed at Kelly Air Force Base in San Antonio was killed Friday night when his motorcycle collided with a car on a frontage road just outside the city. He was Larry A. Loutham, 22, of Loomis, Neb.

A motorcyclist and his passenger were killed Saturday when their cycle hit a moving vehicle, careened away and rammed a parked car in Dallas. Police said the impact was so great it crushed the safety helmets of the victims, Stanley G. Salazar, 22, and Jewel H. Smith, 18, both of Dallas.

Stephen L. Posvar, 15, of Temple was killed late Friday when the motorcycle he was riding collided with a car. Officers said he was thrown about 165 feet.

Pontiff Cites List Of Crimes
CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP) — Pope Paul VI, apparently keeping in mind the killing of five persons during an attempted kidnaping in Sardinia last week, has cited a long list of crimes committed by mankind.

But the pontiff said Sunday in his weekly sermon at the papal palace that there is reason for optimism because the crimes still provoke indignation.

The crimes he listed included sabotage, hijacking, kidnaping, extortion, murder and political crimes.

"We must have faith," the Pope said. "First of all, the sum of the good outweighs the bad; secondly, because the indignation provoked by these maladies is still a sign of moral health."

Journalist Dies
NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Journalist Earl L. Shaub, 86, whose assignments for the Nashville Tennessean and the Hearst Universal Service included the Scopes Monkey trial, Charles Lindbergh, the Dempsey-Tunney fight and three presidents, died Sunday.

Fading Love
Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

SIGNS: (Q) I think Jon's love for me must be fading. Here are the reasons why:
(1) We have been going together 10 months. On Saturday, he used to come over at six. Now he waits until eight or 8:30 to come.

(2) On Sunday at first he came at 12:30, right after lunch. Last Sunday he came at 5:30.

(3) Sometimes he doesn't come at all. He doesn't even call.
(4) He has stopped kissing me good night.

(5) In the car when I sit close to him, he asks me to move over. He says it's hot. He has an air-conditioner in his car.

(6) When I ask to hold his hand, he says, "I ain't going nowhere." He used to like for me to hold his hand. I still like to hold it. I love him. Really. What can I do?
— Linda in Louisiana.

(A) It may be that Jon has just lost interest in you. Or it may be that he is angry or impatient with you for some reason.

Ask him what the facts are. If he honestly doesn't care for you any longer it will be better for you to know. That way you can break it off cleanly and get a new start with someone else.

If it comes to a break, look for a boy who speaks correct English.

EATER: (Q) It seems I just have to eat. It's usually at night. If I don't, I think I'll go crazy. I feel like I am gaining about five pounds a day. How can I stop? — Fat Girl in Vermont.

(A) You do have to eat. So don't stop. But you can stop the heavy snacks that put on so many pounds. When your taste buds start acting up, bite into celery or carrot sticks, or take a few sips of fruit or vegetable juice. Leave the ice cream and chocolate milk and other fattening foods in the refrigerator.

The low calorie items will ease that empty feeling without giving you the jitters when you step on the bathroom scales.

BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS

Q. 1 — Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠962 ♥K10 ♦A953 ♣Q1082

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♦ Pass 2 ♦ Pass
3 ♦ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—A bid of three no trump strikes us as a reasonable gamble. Having protection in three suits and a maximum raise, you should be willing to risk the spade suit in quest for the shortest road to game.

Q. 2 — Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠J106 ♥K10854 ♦Q62 ♣95

The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1 ♣ Dble. Pass 1 ♥
Pass 1 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Our vote is for a raise to two no trump. While normally such a raise denotes a holding of eight points (or seven points with a five card suit), we choose to raise with a point less than is normally prescribed because a takeout double followed by a bid of one no trump will usually indicate a hand that is slightly better than an ordinary one no trump overall.

Q. 3 — Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠K97 ♥AJ642 ♦K103 ♣74

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
2 ♦ Pass 2 NT Pass
3 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—This hand is just a shade too good for a rebid of one no trump, and yet is not quite strong enough for a jump to two no trump, which is forcing to game. We suggest a raise to two spades, the normally we avoid this with only three trumps when partner presumably has a four card suit. If partner rebids, we will then try three no trump on the next round.

Q. 4 — As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠A98 ♥A10754 ♦J ♣AQ102

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♣ Pass 2 ♥ 3 ♦
Pass Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—In order to determine the best final contract, a temporary bid is in order and the suggested bid is four clubs. If partner returns to four hearts, a further try may be made, if you feel so inclined, in the form of a four spade bid. This will describe a strong hand with a singleton diamond.

Q. 5 — As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠AKQJ952 ♥4 ♦AKQJ ♣7

The bidding has proceeded:
East South

What do you bid?
A.—Your first duty is to make a bid which is forcing to game. The only one available is a cue bid of two hearts. Regardless of partner's response, you will then embark on a Blackwood bid to determine the number of aces he holds. An immediate four no trump call might be misunderstood.

Q. 6 — Both sides vulnerable. You are South and hold:
♠KQ1062 ♥7 ♦AK53 ♣J97

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South
1 ♥ 2 ♣ ?

What do you bid?
A.—Double. You should be able to take at least four tricks against a club contract, which with partner's expected three, will come to a 500 point penalty. With no sign of a fit, you should resist the temptation to bid two spades.

Q. 7 — Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠843 ♥QJ9862 ♦102 ♣955

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
2 ♦ Pass 2 NT Pass
3 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Partner has a powerful hand with values distributed in all suits. You may be sure, therefore, that he has some reasonably good heart support, and the proper bid is four hearts. A no trump contract might not work out well if the enemy is able to shut you out of your heart suit.

Q. 8 — As South you hold:
♠KQ85 ♥5 ♦A986 ♣KQ43

The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
1 ♥ Dble. Pass Pass

What is your opening lead?
A.—The opening lead of a trump is clearly indicated. Your partner by leaving in the double has predicted that your side will win more tricks with hearts as trump than will the opponents. It is, therefore, more important not to permit declarer to win tricks with any of his low trumps, and the extracting process must be started at once.

Hang In There

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am an 18-year-old girl, recently graduated from high school. I am planning on going on to college to become a mortician. When people ask me what I am going to be and I tell them, they about fall over.

Abby, I know that not many women want to be morticians, but you should hear some of the awful remarks people make when I tell them what I am going into. You wouldn't believe folks could be so mean and cruel. Some even laugh and ask me if I am kidding.

My mind is made up and I am not going to change it just because people think I'm weird, but I do wish you would tell them not to put down high school graduates who have selected unusual professions.

FUTURE LADY MORTICIAN

DEAR FUTURE: There is no excuse for ridicule or rudeness. Hang in there. You could be the one to give them their last "putdown."

DEAR ABBY: A simple question: When people ask you how you are, do they really want to know?

DELLA: Most people prefer a few cheery notes, not an organ recital.

DEAR ABBY: Please print this. It may save a marriage. I have a sweet, wonderful friend with a fabulous personality, but since her marriage not too many years ago, she has let herself go.

She has two children and has gained about 50 pounds. She never bothers to fix her hair and her clothes are a mess. Her home is not just untidy—it's filthy! Her husband is a goodlooking man with an easygoing disposition. I know he tries to overlook his wife's appearance and sloppiness, but how long can a marriage last when day after day a husband comes home to a slob?

WORRIED: Some men, believe it or not, can overlook a lot where there are compensating qualities. Don't assume that if your friend reads this, it will "save" her marriage. The one for whom the advice is intended usually thinks it's for somebody else.

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter from "YICH"—the girl with the boyfriend who didn't know how to kiss.

Your advice was to tell him about the problem. Well, if she has the knowhow, it's not necessary for her to tell him—she can teach him without saying a word. Kissing is such a natural thing, it's surprising how quickly an inexperienced person learns if he has the right teacher.

Personally, I'd just as soon have an amateur so I can teach him to kiss to suit me.

Skip Five

Your Good Health

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: After a hysterectomy I was given hormones but instructed to omit them five days each month.

However, I was completely miserable for those five days and for several more days after resuming medication. I urged my doctor to allow me to take them even on those five days.

He is reluctant to do so but does not say why. — Mrs. M.L.P.

The reason you are given the hormones is that, obviously, your ovaries were removed along with the hysterectomy. With the ovaries no longer present and therefore no longer furnishing you with their accustomed supply of hormones you began experiencing the anxiety and jitters that so often accompany menopause.

So your doctor gave you hormones to replace those the ovaries no longer were producing.

It is the usual practice each month to discontinue hormones for five days (or for a week), because that most closely approaches the natural pattern of release of hormones and thus avoids the risk of giving you more than your body requires. You may not be physically

Tidelands Plank Sinks

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Times-Picayune quoted Mrs. Robert Lindh of Baton Rouge, a delegate to the Republican National Convention, today as saying the Louisiana delegation had lost its battle to include a tidelands plank in the party's platform.

Louisiana, which has engaged in a long-standing dispute with the federal government over the revenue from oil and gas production in the tidelands, maintains its boundary extends 12 miles from the coastline. The government says it is three miles.

Mrs. Lindh said the Louisiana delegation was unable to get the two-thirds majority needed to include a plank on the dispute, the newspaper said. She said that Secretary of the Interior Rogers C. B. Morton rose to veto the plank of the Louisiana delegation on behalf of negotiations being conducted by his department with several states on mineral rights.

Nixon Leads McGovern, Gallup Poll Asserts

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — President Nixon has a 26 point lead over Democratic presidential candidate George McGovern, according to the latest Gallup Poll.

Nixon leads McGovern by 57 to 31 per cent.

The poll was taken Aug. 4 through Aug. 6, beginning the weekend Sargent Shriver was named by McGovern as his choice to replace Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton as his vice presidential candidate.

It shows a one per cent decline in McGovern's popularity from the previous poll, conducted after Eagleton disclosed that he had suffered from depression and had received shock treatments, but before he resigned the nomination.

The previous poll showed Nixon leading by 57 to 32 per cent, indicating that voters lost to McGovern apparently did not switch to Nixon but rather to the "don't know" category. The latest poll shows McGovern has lost a total of six percentage points since a survey taken immediately after the Democratic convention, when Nixon led by 56 to 37 per cent.

The Gallup organization said that following the Eagleton disclosure, McGovern lost popularity among all groups of voters, categorized by age, sex, education, religion, geographic area, profession and political party.

Shadow Insulted

ISTANBUL (AP) — The moral of this story is to be careful where you walk in Turkey.

An 18-year-old boy in Izmit, western Turkey, took offense when two friends trod on his Turkish villagers.

Rahmi Sarpay pulled out a pistol and shot one of them four times and the other five. Both are in a serious condition in an Izmit hospital.

Bike Checks Are Urged By Peavy

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — State Health Commissioner J. E. Peavy advises parents to travel with school children along the route to be taken by bicycle, "pointing out trouble areas and observing to see that the child obeys traffic regulations and uses hand signals."

Peavy said parents should check before school starts to see that the bicycle is in good condition and adjustment.

Children should be warned to obey traffic laws just as if they were motorists, he said.

ARRIVING held in M of the R Nixon arr

Miss Harris Weds William R. Henry Jr.

The Rev. Earl Price, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Big Spring, served as officiant for the Saturday afternoon wedding of Miss Sarah Jane Harris and William Ray Henry Jr. in the First United Methodist Church of Colorado City.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Harris, Colorado City, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Mary Whitaker, 2211 Runnels, Big Spring, and the late W. R. Henry.

In the church sanctuary, the couple stood under an arch covered with emerald fern and lemon leaves. Flanking the altar were white wrought iron candelabra with yellow tapers, and completing the setting were white baskets of yellow gladiol, green carnations and white daisies.

NUPTIAL MUSIC
Nuptial selections were presented by Mrs. Lester Biggs, organist, and Miss Sandy Young, Universal City, and Robert Jones, vocalists.

The bride chose a gown of white organza and Alencon; the empire bodice overlaid with lace extending over the shoulders and rising to form a high, scalloped neckline. Lace was repeated on the wide cuffs of sheer bishop sleeves, and the soft fullness of the gown flowed into a chapel-length train. Her Camelot cap held a lace-edged veil of illusion, and she carried a colonial bouquet of daisies in shades of yellow, mint green and white.

Miss Rhonda Harris attended her sister as maid of honor. The matron of honor was Mrs. Randy Nix, Abilene, and bridesmaids were Miss Deniese Harris, sister of the bride; and Mrs. Gary Walker of San Angelo. Their floor-length gowns were of yellow, green and white floral chiffon designed with full sleeves and ruffled bodice. All of the attendants carried nosegays of daisies and miniature wedding bells tied with streamers. Charlotte Brown was the flower girl, and altar tapers were lighted by Jamie Harris, sister of the bride, and Shirley Brown.

Greg Campbell of Dallas served as best man. Groomsmen were John Oglesby, Pecos, Kerry Gunnels, Big

R. Walkers Honored At Open House

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Walker of Colorado City were honored at an open house for their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Smith, 2151 Locust, Colorado City. Calling hours were from 3 to 5 p.m.

The honorees were married Aug. 19, 1922, in Windom, and moved to Mitchell County in 1925. They were the parents of two sons and one daughter, all deceased. Walker retired this year from farming operations. The refreshment table was covered with a white crocheted cloth and appointed with crystal. An arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums formed the centerpiece, and chrysanthemums were used throughout the home. A tiered cake was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Mrs. Walker was presented a corsage of white chrysanthemums, and Walker was given a matching boutonniere.

Serving were Miss Georgianne Smith and Mrs. Dave McInnis of Cisco, granddaughters of the couple; and Mrs. Bobby Hamrick and Mrs. James Quinney, nieces of the couple. Guests from out-of-town were Dave McInnis, Cisco; Mrs. Irvin L. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Whirley, all of O'Donnell; Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. Whirley and Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Dorn Jr., all of Coahoma; James Quinney and children, Abilene; Geno Jones, El Paso; Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Nelms and daughter, Dennison; Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Groves, Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Iglehart and Mrs. C. E. Rich, all of Westbrook; and Bobby Hamrick and children.

Couple United In Marriage

Miss Lucia Lynn Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Connell Taylor of San Angelo, formerly of Big Spring, was married to Gordon E. Simmons Saturday afternoon in the chapel of First Baptist Church, San Angelo. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Simmons of Detroit, Mich.

Chaplain Lee Butler, chaplain at Big Spring State Hospital, performed the ceremony, assisted by Dr. John H. Parrott, pastor of First Baptist Church, Roswell, N.M. The prelude of nuptial music was performed by Miss Ava Eakman, organist and pianist, who accompanied Bob Singleton as he played the recorder. Dan Gillespie, guitarist, accompanied the vocalist, Bruce Cripe of Tucson, Ariz.

CHAPEL
The chapel setting was illuminated by twin candelabra entwined with greenery, and green foliage covered an arch flanked by baskets of yellow gladiol.

The bride, carrying a cascade of white orchids, stephanotis, yellow sweetheart roses and babies'-breath, was attired in a gown of ivory satin faille with graduating pearl strands circling the empire waistline. Embroidered Alencon lace, lavishly patterned with pearls, covered the bishop sleeves. Her bouffant veil was bordered with a band of lace.

Miss Raye Nell Dyer, Big Spring, was maid of honor, with other attendants being Mrs. Jerry Taylor, Ft. Collins, Colo., sister-in-law of the bride; Mrs. Paul Cole, Concord, Calif.;

and Miss Kerry Martindale, Bartlesville, Okla.

They were identically attired in empire gowns of blue peacock soie with white and yellow lace outlining the A-line of the skirt.

Lawrence Simmons of Lake Orion, Mich., brother of the bride, served as best man. Groomsmen were Jud Lehman, Detroit, Mich.; Jerry Taylor, Ft. Collins, Colo.; and Randy Taylor, the latter two brothers of the bride.

RECEPTION
Prior to leaving on a wedding trip to Florida, the couple was honored at a reception in the Crystal Room of Hotel Cactus. Guest bags were distributed to guests by Elise Wheat and Shawna Henry, both of Big Spring.

Assisting in the house party were Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Coker, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hagood, Dr. and Mrs. Marshall Cauley, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. McCann, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Plumlee and Mr. and Mrs. Clem Jones, all of Big Spring; and Mr. and Mrs. Truett Worley, Roswell, N.M.

Out-of-town guests were the Rev. and Mrs. W. I. Taylor, the bride's grandparents; Miss Velma Woolridge, Miss Grace Woolridge and Fred Woolridge, all of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lawrence and Miss Karen Lawrence, all of Springfield, Mo.; and Miss Marcia Vaughn, Phoenix, Ariz.

The couple will reside in Pontiac, Mich., where Simmons is employed by Bloomfield Hills township. He attended Wayne State University, Detroit, Mich. The bride received an associate of arts degree at Howard County Junior College, and for the past two years, she and Simmons have performed on tour with "New Hope," a Christian musical group.

NO MORE PAGEANTS Final Curtain Comes Down For Miss Wool

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — There will be no more Miss Wools of America when the present holder of the title, Barbara Ward, ends her year-long contract.

Facing a lack of further funding, officers of the 15-year-old Miss Wool of America Pageant Inc. met here Wednesday and voted it out of existence effective Oct. 1.

The corporation started at the same time as the national Miss Wool program, which brought young women to San Angelo each year for competition and a crowning of the winner, who then had a year of tours and public appearances.

Financing was shared between the American Sheep Producers Council (ASPC), with headquarters in Denver, and the San Angelo Board of City Development. Expenses of putting on the yearly pageant grew each year, especially when it was decided to televise it. For three years, the pageant was shown from between 100 and 150 stations.

ASPC not only put up $100,000 for the show, held each year in June, but paid all costs for Friday evening at the Villa Inn.

After some criticism of the expense of the TV programs, it was decided in 1969 to cut costs by taping the pageant for showing later. But fewer stations used the tapes.

The budget for the 1971 pageants was cut to $39,000, which made it into a local show without either live television or tapes. Before the 1972 pageant, the ASPC decided not to finance either the pageant or the tour in 1973.

That left the local pageant authority with only the money the city could provide and facing $80,000 to $90,000 for bringing competing girls to San Angelo, housing and feeding them, and other costs. It looked elsewhere for funds but failed to find them. Wednesday's decision followed.

Now the name Miss Wool of America returns to its original owners, the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association.

Shots From The Artillery

With Vice President Agnew relatively muted, the Nixon administration is using Cabinet members to attack and counterattack the Democratic nominees.

Defense Secretary Melvin Laird and Secretary of State William Rogers have used congressional hearings, press conferences and the Republican platform hearings to unleash barrages at George McGovern and Sargent Shriver.

Laird has attacked McGovern's end-the-war and defense cut policies as "planned weakness, of white-flag waving, of begging" while Rogers charged Shriver with having "political fantasies" about an alleged missed chance to end the war in 1969.

It was not surprising when Treasury Secretary George Schultz, Commerce Secretary Peter Peterson and HUD Secretary George Romney paraded before the GOP Platform Committee to praise the administration, although Romney is in a bit of a feud with White House aides.

It was a bit surprising, though, when the normally mild-mannered Schultz used a Washington luncheon to rip into McGovern. He said McGovern's defense cut proposal would be "national suicide," that McGovern's tax proposals would bring "tremendous turmoil and uncertainty."

Nothing but tradition holds that Cabinet officers should stay aloof from partisan politics during a campaign year. Usually they put on somewhat of a show in tending the store. President Nixon's use of his heavy political artillery this early in the campaign suggests that he has caught a vulnerable target out in the open.

Jaw-Boning On Car Prices

The White House is using its "jaw-bone" in an attempt to talk the major U.S. automakers out of raising prices for their 1973 models.

This is another case of one federal hand struggling with another. The car manufacturers say the major part of the price increases are needed to cover costs in meeting emission controls and safety standards. These standards were set by the federal government.

Now President Nixon has sent Donald Rums-feld, director of the Cost of Living Council, to talk with the manufacturers and ask them to hold the cost line. GE modified its stand; others were resisting.

The administration is marking the first anniversary of wage-price controls and apparently wants to make a point with the consumer-voter on new cars. Yet the Price Commission found the price hikes to be justified, which makes the White House request inconsistent, to say the very least.

Theory On Love

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

This and that: One of our great trial lawyers, not long dead, once remarked:

"LOVE HAS NO BASIS in logic. You can't feel it or see it walk in, only when it walks out."

The same man also said that people are 100 per cent mentally unfaithful but are stopped by cowardice or lack of opportunity. Marriage vows, he contended, are evidence of possession, not affection.

THE NOTED ATTORNEY also took a dim view of justice, or more precisely the unevenness, unfairness and downright stupidity that determine who pays the price for his transgressions and who doesn't.

"First, a man steals to exist," he explained. "Then he gets everything he wants. Then he becomes holler-than-thou."

HAVE YOU HEARD about that special watch made only for taxpayers? It doesn't tell time — it only wrings its hands. It sells especially well in April and October.

The tax collector has been likened to the taxidermist. There's really only one difference — the taxidermist leaves the hide.

There are bears and there are bulls but the way I played the stock market I found out in a hurry I was just a jackass.

I ONCE KNEW a girl who must have played football. At least, she looked like she had blocked a kick with her face. Her face could best be described as a chaparone. I didn't go to her wedding, but someone told me there everyone kissed the groom. I think he could have made a good living, hiring her to scare people with hiccoughs.

This dame's sister was the sworn enemy of all photographers. The photos they made of her looked like her. She demanded justice when what she wanted was mercy.

THEIR BROTHER stayed in the eighth grade so long the other kids started bringing him apples, thinking he was the teacher. He not only missed everything on an aptitude test — he misspelled his own name. When he was promoted from the sixth to the seventh grade, he got so nervous he cut himself shaving. He was living proof of reincarnation — no one could ever get that dumb in one lifetime.

AH, FOR THE GOOD OLD DAYS, when pot meant something you raked in at a poker game, when you imported a cow to control the grass problem because power mowers hadn't yet been invented, when the 'R' associated with motion pictures meant that reserve seats were available, and you could start almost any business for $5,000. Now that doesn't even cover the legal fees to begin negotiations.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

If a tragic event, like the death of my child, would happen to me in the near future, I would just fall apart. Two years ago I had cancer and I considered killing myself and my retarded child. I'm crying for help, Dr. Graham. Please listen to me. M.L.D. Our mail is filled with "cries for help" like yours, and I wish I could sit down and talk to every one of them.

One line in your letter points up the mistake so many people make and that is: "If a tragic event, like the death of my child should happen to me in the near future, I would just fall apart." This shows that you think that God is just for the crises of life, like surgery, or an oxygen tent. Nothing could be more wrong. God is not an ambulance at the bottom of the precipice of life, waiting to pick up the pieces after tragedy comes. Jude wrote: "He is able to keep you from falling, and to present you faultless before the presence of his glory with exceeding joy." Jude 1:24.

I once visited a man who had a sick child, and he said, "If things get worse, we are going to have to call on God." We should remember that if we are on everyday speaking terms with Him, He will not leave us nor forsake us in life's emergencies.

planet. Jesus said, "Lo, I am with you, even unto the end of the world." Matthew 28:20. Personally, with all the problems of life, I would go mad without the assurance that He is with us every step of the way. Don't wait until tragedy strikes, don't wait until your child dies. Put your faith and trust in God now.

Overriding Issue

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The mystery over the alleged chance to make peace in Vietnam early in 1969 is beginning to clear up. Henry Cabot Lodge, who at the time headed the American delegation to the Paris talks, says North Vietnam did not budge from its demand that the United States unilaterally withdraw from South Vietnam and depose the Saigon government.

MR. LODGE, who was appointed the chief American negotiator in January 1969, declares that Sargent Shriver — then ambassador to France — never mentioned until last week that there was an opportunity offered by a change in North Vietnam's position. As a matter of fact, ever since the discussions started the United States government has always understood that Hanoi might make a settlement provided the Thieu regime were ousted from power in Saigon.

PRESIDENT NIXON certainly made a concession when he announced that he would agree to an arrangement whereby President Nguyen Van Thieu would resign if agreement was reached for a cease-fire and release of prisoners, with provision for an election in South Vietnam in which all political factions would participate. It was also indicated that there would be no peace unless a "political settlement" was included to assure the independence of South Vietnam, so that North Vietnam would not be permitted to take over.

W. AVERELL Harriman, who was President Johnson's chief delegate to the Paris talks, now says that President Thieu has had, in effect, a veto over the peace negotiations because he has insisted that the withdrawal of all our troops without any safeguards for maintenance of the rights of the South Vietnamese would leave the way open to the North Vietnamese to seize power.

South Vietnam, with American assistance, has built a big army and is gradually training an air force. The belief among military men here is that the South Vietnamese can defend their country in ground combat but are not yet ready to take care of themselves in air warfare. Meanwhile, the effort to get a peace agreement has drifted along, and the real issue has been who is going to control South Vietnam. If the existing Saigon government is forced out, the North Vietnamese will move in and the independence of the South will vanish.

HENRY KISSINGER, President Nixon's adviser, went to Saigon to take a look at the situation there and talk with President Thieu. While more American ground troops are being withdrawn, it is believed that he is carrying assurances to the head of the Saigon government that the commitment to protect South Vietnam with air cover will continue whether or not Thieu moves out in favor of an "interim coalition regime."

There have been reports that on this trip Mr. Kissinger will discuss with President Thieu the possibility of setting a date for the latter's retirement so that negotiations of a "political settlement" can begin.

WHATEVER HAPPENED early in 1969 with respect to North Vietnam's willingness to make peace, the fact remains that, unless there is a definite understanding that the form of government which the South Vietnamese people have selected will be maintained and that the Communists will not take it over, there will be no peace in Vietnam or in Southeast Asia.

Sober Events

BELFAST (AP) — "Getting married, without drink" is the motto of Rev. Dr. John H. Davy, former Moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Ireland. He persuaded the Church Assembly in Belfast to reprint 5,000 leaflets deleting reference to alcohol at wedding receptions.

Small Investors Hide

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — As the over-the-counter market for securities becomes more organized, and as price quotations on relatively small companies become widely disseminated, many brokers expect a surge of small investor interest.

Prices of shares in these companies, which are not listed on any central exchange but instead have been traded by telephone, are now being widely broadcast through a central reporting service.

The quotation service, called NASDAQ for its founder, the National Association of Securities Dealers, permits a broker to receive almost instantly the latest price and the name of the broker making a market at that price.

One eventual result, it is said, will be to open an entire new world for thousands of small investors who, to varying degrees, have become disaffected with the market.

A small investor, as some over-the-counter dealers like to point out, can have little impact on the price of a blue chip company and just as little influence in its affairs. And he can get battered by the institutions.

These institutions, such as mutual funds, pension funds and bank trusts, get larger and larger — and, of course, more influential in determining stock prices. Moreover, they tend to run in herds, often battering prices.

As quotations for more and more small companies are made available via NASDAQ, small investors are expected to seek more action in that market, to some extent leaving the institutions to play among themselves.

Small investors will, in other words, be inclined to hide where the big investors can't bother them. Big investors today are so enormous that often they must invest in multiples of millions. Small companies, therefore, offer them no outlet.

Eventually, said one over-the-counter broker, there will be distinct markets, one made up of giant investors for giant companies, the other of pygmy investors in pygmy companies. The mutual fund industry hasn't been able to stem the flow of blood. For the sixth straight month, net redemptions exceeded sales in July. Sales totaled $398 million, redemptions $424.5 million.

To place the situation in perspective, it must be noted that in every year since World War II, when the industry was an infant, it has sold more shares than it has been forced to redeem. This year it might be different.

The funds are caught in a complex situation that includes a deterioration of sales forces, investor dissatisfaction with past performance, and the desire among some share owners to take gains or recoup losses because of recent price gains.

Ironically, the redemptions come at a time when the industry's performance has improved sharply. The mutual fund industry average, compiled by Arthur Lipper Corp., has outperformed every well known market average or index this year.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Princess Ubolratana of Thailand became Mrs. Peter L. Jensen and said afterward, "I just couldn't be a person. But now I am no longer royalty and I am free."

Proud Of Award, Says Alf Landon

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Alf M. Landon said today that a special "Distinguished Senior Statesman" award being presented to him at the Republican National Convention in Miami Beach this week is "something I am really proud of."

Landon, the GOP presidential nominee in 1936 and former Kansas governor, was to fly from Kansas City to Miami Beach today to attend his first Republican convention in 24 years and receive the award.

"This is one of the most outstanding honors to come to me since my party gave me its presidential nomination in 1936," Landon said.

The Greatest Show

Day after day after day in a Los Angeles courtroom, an elderly gentleman sat attentively in a back row seat. He had no stake in any of the cases. He knew none of the participants. But when asked why he was there, he had a ready reply: "Because this is the greatest show on earth."

COURTROOM scenes do provide the central drama in countless movies, plays, and television programs. Yet, surprisingly few people go to see the real thing. Unless highly publicized, trials often take place with no spectators at all.

Why don't more people visit courtrooms? Perhaps they feel reluctant to "listen in" on the private lives of others.

BUT IN the eyes of the law, the anonymous spectator, far from intruding, actually plays a useful role in our scheme of justice. It is his very anonymity that makes him effective. Judges, lawyers, witnesses, and jurors, not knowing who the stranger might be, have an extra incentive to be conscientious.

People may also be court-shy because they just do not realize how remarkably open our courts are. The United States Supreme Court once observed:

"WE HAVE been unable to find a single instance of a criminal trial conducted (in secret) in any federal, state, or municipal court during the history of this country."

True, access may occasionally be limited for some special reason: to prevent overcrowding, to keep order, to protect children.

BUT AS A rule, you may walk into a court as freely as into a church, with no one at the door to check your name or ask your business. When the judge in a murder trial ordered that "respectable citizens only" would be admitted to the courtroom, his order was thrown out by an appellate court as "preposterous."

OF COURSE, around Law Day each May many people do go to court to watch justice in action. But the courts are just as open (and just as interesting) all year long. In a sense, that is what Law Day is all about.

West Virginia Flooding Damage Tops $6 Million

By The Associated Press
Officials in West Virginia and Minnesota sought federal help today as the result of weekend flash flooding that inflicted damage estimated in the millions of dollars.
West Virginia Gov. Arch A. Moore Jr. has asked President Nixon to declare four counties disaster areas.
The presidential declaration is necessary for federal relief funds to be allocated. The request covers Mingo, Logan, McDowell and Wyoming Counties.
Total damage from the West Virginia flooding is estimated at $6.9 million, a spokesman for the governor said, with $1.9 million of that to property, both public and private.
More than 100 persons were being housed Sunday evening at the grade school in Gilbert, headquarters for emergency flood aid in the southern West Virginia area.

American Red Cross and Salvation Army workers provided free meals to about 1,000 area residents Sunday.
Road damage in the Gilbert area was estimated at $1.5 million, according to spokesman, and 200 car bridges and more than 500 foot bridges were washed away.
Thirty-five persons were isolated from Gilbert, a tiny Mingo County community, when a major bridge washed out.

Fight For Control Of GOP In '76 Moves To Showdown

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The fight for control of the Republican party in 1976 is swelling toward a convention showdown against the will of the GOP hierarchy.
National party Chairman Robert Dole pressed for a compromise, but found his offers spurned by both sides Sunday.
The battle pits smaller and party's moderate elements, more conservative states against the more populous states, which in some cases prove to be strongholds for the triumphant side will gain a head start on influencing the party's choice for president in 1976.

HAPPY REUNION — Lana Odunkesener, left, was reunited with her 11-month-old son, Aaron, late Sunday night at Cleveland Hopkins International Airport. The child had been separated from his parents since July 28 because of passport difficulties in Turkey. The boy was brought back by Stella Rizak, left, a ticket agent for Pan American World Airways in Cleveland. Miss Rizak volunteered to fly to Turkey and get the child.

Mailers Halt Publication Of NY Times

NEW YORK (AP) — A work rules dispute in the New York Times mailroom halted publication of today's edition of the newspaper after only 1,000 of the normal 850,000 copies were off the presses.

Management representatives and officials of New York Mailers' Union Local 6 were to meet today in an effort to settle the dispute. At issue was the transfer of a mailroom clerk, the union said.

The walkout occurred shortly after the presses rolled at 9:30 p.m. Sunday. About 1:30 a.m. employees were told to go home and a management spokesman said the newspaper was shutting down for the night.

Management issued this statement:

"The New York Times was unable to publish Monday editions because of a work stoppage by the New York Mailers Union No. 6 (ITU).

"The mailers, who process the papers from the presses to delivery trucks, contended that the Times breached its contract with the union by changing mailroom work conditions.

"The Times maintains that its action conformed with the existing agreement and any issues in dispute could be resolved under contract terms."

Union president George MacDonald said the dispute stemmed from the transfer of a daytime mailroom clerk from the newspaper's main office to its west side plant earlier this month.

MacDonald said the transfer violated a contract provision for negotiations and arbitration before such transfers.

Public Broadcasting 'Just Too Political'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal Telecommunications Commission Chairman Nicholas Johnson called today for a congressional investigation of President Nixon's involvement with the Corporation for Public Broadcasting.

STEPPED DOWN

In a letter to Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., chairman of the Senate commerce subcommittee on communications, and Rep. Torbert H. McDonald, D-Mass., chairman of the similar House committee, Johnson said:

"The Nixon administration's goal of molding public broadcasting into a domestic Voice of America is clear for all to see and a great American like CPB president John Macy is hounded out of office at a time when he is recovering from surgery."

Macy announced Aug. 10 that he is resigning the job he has held since Congress created the corporation in 1969 because of his health and "my growing belief that the current trends in the development of the industry point toward the desirability of a change in leadership."

"Recent events... have hardened my conviction that the time for a change has arrived," he said.

Macy's resignation came after Frank Pace announced he had stepped down as CPB board chairman although he will stay on the board. Successors to both will be chosen Sept. 15 by the board.

The decision by Macy to quit came after Nixon vetoed a two-year, $155 million authorization for the corporation and the House Commerce Committee went along with his request to limit it to a $45 million, one-year authorization. Macy's salary also was cut from $65,000 to $42,500 a year.

WHOLE THING

"John felt the whole thing had just become too political," one associate said, especially when Nixon's veto message accused the CPB of becoming "the center of power."

Johnson's letter said, "I have watched with growing dismay and outrage as President Nixon, acting through his Office of Telecommunications, vice president, and others, has tried at potential, and to turn its program to frustrate the development of public broadcasting ends."

Doss Is Returned To Face Charge

Albert Sonny Doss, 37 of Colorado City, was arrested in Irving over the weekend and returned to Howard County on charges of assault with intent to murder.

The charges were made last October in connection with an alleged stabbing of Melvin Alton. Doss was arrested on a traffic violation in the Dallas area for passing on the wrong side.

He was placed under $5,000 bond here by Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter and was in the county jail as of Monday morning.

AT FISH FRY — Local bass fishermen and families attended the Big Spring Bass Club's first annual family fish-fry almost 100 strong Friday evening at Howard County Junior College cafeteria.

Devlin To Take Rest After USI Success

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Bruce Devlin picked up the check for $40,000, sighed a bit, smiled and commented in his usual soft tones: "That's it. I'm about through playing golf for a while. Now I've got to go to work."

son, pushed his official money winnings to a personal record of $119,000 for the year—and just as he said he would—was packing it in for the year.

The 34-year-old Devlin, a plumber in Armidale, Australia, before he picked up a new set of tools to plumb the riches of the American pro golf tour, had a final-round 69 over the hills and dales of the 7,212-yard Pleasant Valley Country Club course and posted a 13-under-par 275.

It was his eighth victory in 11 seasons on the American tour, which he now plays only on a part-time basis. Most of his time now is devoted to his golf course architecture business in Florida.

Devlin held a two-stroke lead when play opened on the bright, sunny day and was neck-and-neck with Lee Elder and rookie John Mahaffey threatened at one time or another.

Elder, who needed a victory in this one or any other major event to become the first black player ever to compete in the Masters, had a 70 and was alone in second at 278.

The 24-year-old Mahaffey had a 71 for 279 and was tied for third with veteran Tommy Aaron, who closed with a 69.

British Open champ Lee Trevino was never a factor. He had a strong 68 final round, however, for 288, well back. Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and South African Gary Player did not compete in this event, which was sponsored by United States Industries for the first time.

Elder birdied the first hole from about five feet to close to within a stroke, but Devlin's string of four consecutive birdies beginning at the eighth "kind of told the story," the Australian said.

IN BSGA TOURNEY Bailey, Buzbee Win At Muny

Tinker Bailey and Sonny Buzbee teamed to win top honors in the Big Spring Golf Association's 18-hole tournament, an event at the Muny Course which teamed ten-and-under handicap players with these using 11-and-over.

handicaps of ten strokes and under will again team with these 11 and over. Only half handicaps will be used, however.

The City Tournament will be staged Sept. 23-24. Entries will compete in matched play the first two days, reverting to medal play on the final day to determine a winner.

The Grand Tournament, which usually climaxes association activity for the year, is scheduled the second and third weekends of October.

The association has booked an Obstacle Tournament for members Sept. 17. In such a meet obstacles will be set up on six different holes.

Jim Daniel Wins Blind Open Meet

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP) — Jim Daniel of Summerville, Ga., fired a 93 Sunday for a 36-hole total of 187 to win the National Blind Open Golf championship at Satarmount Forest Country Club at Greensboro.

Daniel finished four strokes in front of defending champion Joe Lazzaro of Waltham, Mass. Lazzaro shot a 96 during the second round.

Pat Browne of New Orleans, who led after the first round Saturday with a 91, shot a 108 Sunday and finished in fifth place.

Other finishers in the championship flight were Chuck Mayo of San Jose, Calif., 196; Frank D'Ottavi of Philadelphia, 197; Charley Boswell of Birmingham, Ala., 202; and Canadian Phil Lederhouse of Prince Albert, Sask., 210.

Each golfer in the tournament had a coach who lined the club up behind the ball and described each hole.

Jerry Wilson Is Added To ACC Athletic Staff

Jerry Wilson, former star linebacker for the Big Spring Steers, has been added to the faculty and coaching staff at Abilene Christian College.

Wilson, noted here for his cranking defensive play despite a lack of size, will serve as head baseball coach and assistant football coach at the Abilene school. In addition, he will be a PE instructor.

His assignment in baseball and physical education will fill positions originally slated for Dee Nutt, who is returning to the school after a three-year leave of absence.

Nutt, head basketball coach at ACC from 1954 through 1969, recently accepted an administrative and coaching assignment with the college's Campus School.

International Leaguers Are Praised By Catton

Over 320 Little Leaguers and parents attended the International Little League banquet staged Saturday night at the Dora Roberts Recreational Center.

League president Rocky Vierra extended the welcome and introduced Webb AFB Chaplain Kenneth D. Summy, who gave the invocation.

Jack Barber, District 3 administrator, was introduced by Karl Axelrod, league vice-president. The principal talk was given by Col. Ronald E. Catton, Webb wing commander.

Films of the USAF Thunderbirds were screened. Catton commended the players, drawing attention to the fact that each was "one of five boys who chose to be participants rather than spectators."

He also praised the parents for their enthusiasm in the program and for providing "taxi service" for their boys to and from the playing field.

Catton also had kind words to say about the managers, coaches and umpires, who took the time to teach the boys how to play the game. He stressed the importance of learning to be members of the team to players.

Jim Dykes was elected president of the league for the 1973 season. The new vice-president will be Dale Sutter while Mary Hilliard will serve as secretary. Joe Gill as treasurer, Carl Davis as safety officer and Rocky Vierra as player agent.

Vierra introduced each manager who, in turn, presented each boy with a trophy. Sixteen teams make up the International's major, minor and pee-wee program.

Vierra also gave his outgoing board of directors an appreciation plaque. They included: Karl Axelrod, vice-president; Maxine Myers, secretary; Rob Roberson, treasurer. He also presented a special award to Dale Sutter for his "tireless effort and work done for the league."

THEIR TEAMS IN CATBIRD SEAT

Martin, Tanner Glad

Billy Martin had a lot going for him. All Chuck Tanner had was his 10-year-old kid. In each case it was just about enough.

Martin's Detroit Tigers, rebounding from a nine-run California explosion in the fourth inning, came up with eight of their own in the sixth to outlast the Angels 12-9 Sunday and grab a 1½ game lead over Baltimore in the American League's East Division.

And in the West, Tanner's Chicago White Sox split a double-header with Boston to climb into a flat-footed first-place tie with Oakland.

"I found a good luck piece Friday on the floor of the shower," said the manager of the Tigers, "and we've been winning ever since." Then, pointing to other religious articles sent to him by fans, among them a St. Christopher's Medal and a Mezuzah, he added: "We've got everything going for us."

It was Martin who, a week ago, in a successful effort snap Detroit out of a slump, determined his starting lineup by picking it out of a hat.

Tanner went him one better Sunday. He had his 10-year-old son, Bruce, choose the White Sox' lineup. The result was a 9-7 victory over Boston in the opener of their twinning. Then Tanner reverted to his own lineup and came out on the short end, the Red Sox winning 5-4.

In other American League games, Minnesota beat Baltimore 4-1, Cleveland defeated Oakland 3-1, Milwaukee nipped Kansas City 2-1 and the New York Yankees topped Texas 2-0 in 10 innings.

In the National League, Houston flipped Philadelphia 3-1, Cincinnati belted the New York Mets 8-1, Montreal nosed out Atlanta 1-0, San Francisco shaded St. Louis 5-3, the Chicago Cubs topped Los Angeles 5-3 and Pittsburgh swept a pair from San Diego 9-3 and 5-2.

Bobby Darwin slammed a three-run homer for the Twins in the first inning off Mike Cuellar and that was all Ray Corbin needed to hand Baltimore its fifth loss in six games. Corbin scattered four Orioles hits including Terry Crowley's homer.

The Indians managed all their runs against Oakland's 14-game winner Ken Holtzman in the first two innings, Alex Johnson and Graig Nettles each doubling for one. Rookie Dick Tidrow allowed just seven hits to the A's.

Syd O'Brien and Johnny Briggs each singled home a run for the Brewers against the Royals. Rob Gardner held the Rangers hitless for 5 2/3 innings but it was the Yanks' ace reliever, Sparky Lyle, who beat them. Lyle beat out a 10th inning bunt, moved to third on a hit batter and a sacrifice, then scored on Bobby Mucce's grounder to first when Frank Howard made a bad throw home. Roy White singled for the second run. New York remains two games back of Detroit and a half-game behind Baltimore.

Oilers' Cole Boosts Stock

HOUSTON (AP) — Two weeks ago against Chicago the Houston Oilers watched a Bear free kick roll to a stop and be recovered by the opposition for a game-winning field goal.

But Saturday night in the Astrodome the Oilers put together their own kicking game to help down the Green Bay Packers 20-3 in a National Football League exhibition victory.

Linzey Cole was the goat of the Chicago game, failing to cover the free kick. But Saturday night Cole took a Packer kickoff 75 yards to set up Mark Moseley's field goal that put the Oilers ahead to stay.

"We had a wedge up the middle and it was good, real good," Cole said. Despite a strained thigh muscle, Moseley added a little Oiler mischief. On the kickoff following his field goal, he stroked an on-side kick, the Oilers recovered, and on the next play quarterback Dan Pastornik hit Alvin Reed with a 48-yard touchdown pass.

"We had planned to try it if we scored but during the week Moseley got hurt so we kinda forgot about it," coach Bill Peterson said of the on-side kick. "But after the field goal, he said he was okay, that he could do it so we did. It was just a perfect kick."

Peterson said the kicking game can't be overstressed. "Kicking is the most important play in football, no doubt about it and our kicking game was so much improved over the week before."

Mets Look Like Old Selves In Debacle

Just last week, the New York Mets were talking about the summer of 1969 when they made their late-season charge to win the National League pennant. On Sunday, the Mets had the fans talking about the summer of '62 when they were the laughing stock of baseball.

The Mets brought back the good, old days—or rather the bad, old days—with a mistake-filled seventh inning that helped the Cincinnati Reds to an easy 8-1 baseball victory. Pitcher Jim McAndrew committed the first of several New York mental lapses by throwing late after a hunt to put Cincinnati runners at first and second. Before it was over, the Mets committed three errors and literally stood around on other plays to give the Reds six runs, five of them unearned.

The defeat dropped the Mets 12 games behind the Pittsburgh Pirates in the National League East. The Reds, meanwhile, remained 6½ games in front in the West over Houston. The Astros kept the pressure on Cincinnati with a 3-1 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies.

In the other National League games, the Chicago Cubs defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-3; the San Francisco Giants trimmed the St. Louis Cardinals 5-3; the Montreal Expos nipped the Atlanta Braves 1-0 and the Pirates took a doubleheader from the San Diego Padres, 9-3 and 5-2.

Don Wilson struck out 14 batters and allowed just four hits while pitching Houston over Philadelphia. He fanned 11 over the last five innings, relying on his fastball.

Jim Hickman hit a two-run homer and Billy Williams and Ron Santo delivered key runs-scoring singles to lead Chicago over Los Angeles. Hickman's blast, No. 13, gave the Cubs a 2-0 lead in the first before the Dodgers tied it in their half of the inning on Willie Crawford's two-run double. Williams and Santo then broke the tie with their base hits in the third.

Ron Bryant notched a victory in his first start since August 2 and Dave Kingman walloped a two-run homer, leading San Francisco over St. Louis. Bill Stoneman pitched a two-hitter and Tim Lincecum hit the only run of the game with an eighth-inning single, leading Montreal over Atlanta.

Gloom Cloaks Arch Manning After Loss

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — "I just didn't play well or do anything well," a dejected Archie Manning said.

During what was probably his worst night as a Saint, the Dallas Cowboys took advantage of Manning's ineffectiveness for a 30-7 preseason victory Saturday night.

Manning, who passed for two touchdowns and ran for another last year in upsetting Dallas, this time connected only eight times in 22 attempts for a total of 55 yards. The Cowboys intercepted him three times, twice by Herb Adderley.

"The first one was a down and out and Adderley just seemed to be standing there," Manning said. "The next was a bomb to Margene Adkins and they bumped off. The last was a lack of communications."

"He threw the ball right to me," Adderley said. "He should have known I was close enough to get them. All I had to do was catch the ball. Maybe he underestimated my speed."

But if Manning was having his troubles, quarterback Craig Morton demonstrated that Dallas could win without the injured Roger Staubach. Morton made good on 16 of 35 pass attempts for 210 yards, including a 57-yarder to Bob Hayes late in the first period to put the Cowboys in front to stay.

"I believe I can do the job as long as my arm is strong, and it's strong now," Morton said. "It may take me three more games to really be ready. There were a few times I didn't seem to have the 'feel' of the pass."

New Orleans coach J. D. Roberts said he felt that Dallas punter Ron Widby and soccer-style kicker Toni Fritsch hit the most. Widby, a former Saint, averaged 40 yards on six kicks, one of them for 47 yards that bounced out of bounds on the Saints' 2. Fritsch booted field goals of 40, 44 and 20 yards.

Kenyans Awaiting Word From Jomo Kenyetta

MUNICH (AP) — Kenya and Ethiopia, breeding grounds of Olympic distance running champions, loomed today as the pivotal nations in the great walkout threat of the Munich Games.

Ethiopia has made its airline reservations for home. Kenya's athletes, meanwhile, waited in Olympic Village for the go-or-stay word from President Jomo Kenyatta amid the furor over Rhodesia's entry in the 20th Olympics.

"If Jomo says go, the Kenyans will go," said a black American track star. "If Jomo says stay, those cats will stay. When Jomo speaks, that is Gospel."

The 24 competitors from Ethiopia were booked on a flight today to Addis Ababa as athletes from a dozen other countries hung on the fence over the Rhodesian question.

The national Olympic committees of Africa remained rigid in their complaint to the International Olympic Committee about the invitation of white-controlled Rhodesia, a continental neighbor of South Africa which was kicked out of the 1968 games over similar charges.

United States blacks stuck by their pledge to "stand united with our African brothers," but continued to refuse full explanation of the veiled threat of withdrawal.

While politics filled the air around Munich's magnificent Olympic Park, the young sports warriors continued readying themselves for competition in 60-degree breezes.

Sightseers by the thousands jammed the areas around Olympic stadiums, many Bavarians peering through glass and fences at the venues of these billion-dollar games which many will not see due to a scarcity of tickets.

Hundreds climbed the Olympiaberg—Olympic mountain—for a panoramic view of the entire sports scene. The man-made hill is constructed atop rubble from World War II, when Munich was heavily bombed.

It will be from that reasonably slight peak that blunderbusses will be fired Saturday to signal the opening of the 20th Olympic Games. They replace the traditional cannons.

The third of four chartered 707 jets filled members of the United States team across the Atlantic Ocean with the final bunch due tonight.

Rookie Shines For Cardinals

Maybe this will be Old Timmy's year in pro football. Old Timmy is Tim Van Galder, a 26-year-old rookie quarterback, who came off the bench in the second half and sparked the St. Louis Cardinals to a come-from-behind 17-13 victory over the Denver Broncos in one of 10 National Football League exhibition games over the weekend.

Van Galder, a three-year member of the Cardinal taxi squad, came in with Denver ahead 13-0 and threw a 29-yard pass to Jackie Smith on his first play.

"We needed some momentum and he gave it to us," said Cardinal coach Bob Holtway after St. Louis had pulled the game out on Van Galder's five-for-eight completions for 82 yards, including the touchdown pass.

Van Galder was more fortunate than another rookie, running back Ray Jamieson of the Oakland Raiders. Jamieson suffered a broken neck during the Raiders' 34-9 romp over the Los Angeles Rams in their nationally televised game.

Jamieson underwent surgery for more than two hours and was reported "doing quite well" Sunday with no evidence of paralysis.

The New York Giants and New York Jets battled to a 31-31 deadlock, the first tie of the NFL pre-season competition. In other weekend results New England beat Chicago 27-17, Detroit drubbed Cleveland 34-7, Houston downed Green Bay 20-3, Dallas humbled New Orleans 30-7, Miami routed Cincinnati 35-19, San Diego nipped San Francisco 17-16 and Pittsburgh whipped Atlanta 31-17.

The unbeaten Kansas City Chiefs try for their fourth in a row tonight when they entertain the Baltimore Colts in their new Arrowhead Stadium.

OUT ON BUNT TRY — Don Wilson, Houston Astros pitcher, is out as he collides with Philadelphia Phillies pitcher Ken Reynolds after Wilson tried down first base side of mound in seventh inning of Sunday's Astros-Phils game in Philadelphia. Infielder Larry Howard moved to second on the play. Astros won, 3-1.

Wilson On Target As Astros Win

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies got a taste of the kind of medicine Steve Carlton has been handing out to the opposition when Don Wilson struck out 14 batters.

The Astros' hurler led Houston to a 3-1 National League victory Sunday using little more than his fastball.

"I decided to forget the fancy stuff," said the 27-year-old Wilson, "and just throw the fastball. I was striking everybody out with the fastball."

His 14 strikeouts tied Philadelphia's Carlton's league leading season tally for a single nine inning game.

Wilson said he tried "to go in and out, up and down" in the early innings, but then changed his style. Twelve of the strikeouts came in the final six innings. The only hit in that period was a home run by Greg Luzinski, described by Wilson himself as "one I can tell my grandchildren about."

As a matter of fact, Luzinski's hit was one of only four the Phils managed all afternoon as Wilson boosted his record to 10-8.

Cesar Cedeno tallied for the Astros with a solo shot and two more runs came in the eighth, pinning starter Ken Reynolds with his 11th loss of a winless season.

Wilson said the weather outside may have helped him maintain the pace of using the fastball inning after inning. "Back in the Astrodomes sometimes I stiffen up... but today I felt loose and the ball was moving."

"He looked awfully good," admitted Phil manager Paul Owens. "I didn't think he was as fast as he was but I'll admit it always looks easier from the dugout."

"He just stuck it to us... with 14 strikeouts we didn't even put any pressure on the defense," said Owens.

The Phil skipper also expressed disappointment with the 11th straight loss suffered by Reynolds.

"It's a shame, we just don't get the kid anything to work with, he can't afford a mistake," said Owens. "For six innings he pitched as good as you can."

In the sixth, Reynolds, protecting a 1-0 lead, grooved a pitch to Cedeno. The Houston center fielder put it into the seats in left-center for his 18th home run of the season.

Whitworth Is Links Champ

KANSAS CITY (AP) — "When you can't hit shots that are your favorites" you're in for trouble," said Kathy Whitworth after winning the Southgate Open ladies golf tournament on the fifth extra hole of a sudden-death playoff with Jocelyne Bourassa.

She was speaking of a four-foot putt missed by Miss Bourassa, a 25-year-old French-Canadian rookie on the tour, on the 18th Sunday to send the tourney into the sudden death playoff.

Until that missed putt, Miss Whitworth was sure her 216 at the end of the regulation 54 holes wouldn't be good enough and she would have to wait to another time to notch her 63rd professional tourney victory. Instead they tied with 4-under-par 140s over a 6,237-yard Southgate course.

"It was an easy putt, right to left," said Miss Bourassa. "It's my favorite. But it stayed right. It never touched the hole."

The Texas veteran and the Canadian yearling matched strokes on the first four extra holes. On the fifth, Miss Bourassa tried to cut across a slight dogleg to the right but her drive landed behind a small pine and she could not salvage par.

For the sum of $5, heads of families can buy their way into the barbecue for their entire families, no matter whether they have one or ten kids. In addition, they can attend all meetings of the club. The organization meets each Tuesday evening to review films of the previous week's game and hear scouting reports on future opponents.

An added treat this year will be the fact that all local games will be filmed in color.

For those who haven't had time to contact any of the co-captains of the QBC, membership ducaats will be available at the gate Thursday evening.

Spiko Dykes, a member of the University of Texas coaching staff and former head coach at both Coahoma and Big Spring, will deliver the principal address at the barbecue.

Dykes is a gifted speaker and one of the most popular coaches ever to work in this area. He developed district champions at both Coahoma and Alice.

Mahon Talks War Policies

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex., was to dedicate a new National Weather Service center today at the Midland-Odessa airport.

Mahon, 71, has spent most of the last three days in the area, visiting constituents and talking down the Democratic presidential nominee, Sen. George McGovern, while saying he would support the party in the November election.

Sunday, Mahon watched a polo game here in his honor and presented trophies to the winners after attending church services earlier in the day.

He saw the Midland Cubs and the El Paso Sun-Dodgers in a Texas League baseball game and on Saturday made appearances in neighboring Odessa.

Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, the veteran congressman said he didn't believe McGovern could win against President Nixon if Mahon defended Nixon's war policies and said McGovern's defense posture was unrealistic. "He (McGovern) may improve his image to some degree between now and then (election day)," Mahon said, "but if he improves it in Texas, he's going to have to modify and clarify some of his views."

Police, Protesters 'Confer' Across Line Of Nightsticks

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Police and protesters got acquainted across a line of nightsticks on the eve of the Republican National Convention as demonstrators capped a day of street action with an attempted disruption of a GOP gala.

Sunday was, however, clearly a day of preparation for both sides.

Only a fraction of the assembled protesters and a small band of police participated in Sunday's main event.

Most of the 4,000 demonstrators remained in Flamingo Park while the 1,000 National Guard troops and 2,500 Army paratroopers stood by in their encampments, but were never called.

An "Honor America" parade and a "dishonor America" rally occupied attention early Sunday. So did a marijuana smoke-in, an anti-Nixon rock opera and the bodily ejection from the park of a contingent from the American Nazi Party.

But the day's only real confrontation came at nightfall when some 350 members of the Society for a Democratic splattered dinner jackets, scuffed satin slippers and torn ball gowns.

This was the first time at either of the two conventions that nonparticipants had been caught up in a confrontation between police and demonstrators.

KEEP RICH OUT

Chanting "Keep the rich out," the demonstrators burned an American flag, locked arms at the hotel entrances and harangued and jostled dinner guests arriving in tuxedos and formal gowns.

About 200 helmeted state troopers stood shoulder-to-shoulder in front of the hotel as early arrivals elbowed their way through the jeering protesters. After an hour, the troopers moved slowly forward and forced the demonstrators away from the premises.

The demonstrators gave ground, pounding on roofs and hoods of cars as they retreated. Then, proclaiming victory, they began the two-mile southbound trek back to Flamingo Park.

Police reported no arrests and no injuries. The only casualties apparently were eggvention Hall, sat briefly in a demonstration area in front of it, then returned without incident to the campsite.

The "Honor America" parade, organized by a local political candidate, wound through the streets in 85-degree heat with few participants and fewer spectators.

ZIPPY ACTION

The "Dishonor America" rally, organized by the Zippie faction of the Youth International Party (Yippies), ended with 400 persons marching the six blocks from the park to Convention Hall. A bottle of urine was poured on "objects of honky American culture" — a can of deodorant, brassieres, computer cards and an American flag.

Contingents of fatigue-clad Vietnam Veterans against the War arrived by car and on foot throughout the day, ending what they called "the last patrol." One batch of VVAAs halted in front of the Doral Hotel, headquarters for the Committee to Re-elect the President. The vets executed a left face, then broke top M16 rifles over their knees.

Credentials Fight Waged

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Republican convention Credentials Committee was to dispose of two seating challenges today — one an attempt by Rep. Paul McCloskey to sound a note of protest on the Vietnam war and the other an effort to seek more black delegates.

McCloskey, who had challenged President Nixon for the GOP presidential nomination based on opposition to Nixon's war policies, had hoped to have an author opposed to the war nominate him for the presidency.

BLACK DELEGATION

GOP General Counsel Fred Scribner said it is unlikely that either McCloskey's challenge or one brought by three young Virginians seeking black delegates will be carried to the full convention.

Even if the Credentials Committee reverses an earlier GOP committee recommendation which is unlikely, McCloskey still can't take his Vietnam protest to the convention floor because of rules adopted by another pre-convention panel.

McCloskey had hoped to be able to name author Thomas Mayor his sole convention delegate and have Mayor nominate him for president.

To preclude such a possibility, convention rules adopted late last week require that no person can be nominated unless the majority of three state delegations favor him.

The GOP National Committee's Contest Committee, in addition, ruled that McCloskey, from San Mateo county, Calif., did indeed get one delegate of New Mexico's allotted 14 delegate votes due to his showing in the presidential primary there. But all the votes will be cast by the delegation chairman and McCloskey's name won't be put in nomination.

NO LEGAL RIGHTS

McCloskey has conceded that he has no legal rights to choose his own delegate. But he argued last week that the GOP has a moral right to hear his protest even though it would eventually go on to overwhelmingly nominate President Nixon for re-election.

"It's like putting locks on five doors and then cementing them shut," McCloskey said.

The Credentials Committee reserved morning and afternoon for deliberations.

However, once the committee gets past its procedural matters, it was expected to dispose of the two challenges rapidly. Twenty minutes was allotted for each case.

The Republicans rarely have seating squabbles. They had one each at the last two conventions.

The Democrats averaged more even before adoption of reform rules which required that women, minorities and young people be chosen as 1972 convention delegates in proportion to their population.

REFORMS

In implementing the rules, groups from 30 states brought 80 challenges against Democratic delegations. A special team of examiners heard testimony on the challenges and the made recommendations for the convention's Credentials Committee. It took the committee 10 days to resolve the challenges immediately before the Miami Beach meeting in July.

EXAMINES CULTURE—Dr. John Myther of the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution examining experimental Bay Scallop culture from algae tank on dock at Woods Hole, where researchers are studying ways to turn sewage into oyster meat.

Studying Ways To Turn Sewage Into Oyster Meat

WOODS HOLE, Mass. (AP) — Researchers at the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution are studying ways to turn sewage into oyster meat.

The idea is to feed the sewage to algae and the algae to oysters and other shellfish such as scallops, clams and quahogs.

Nothing is proven yet, and the researchers concede many problems remain unsolved, including cost. But the thought is tantalizing: turning waste into food.

PROFIT?

Dr. John Rytter of the oceanographic institution, head of the project, said if the study works out the aquaculture-sewage treatment system he is devising could take sewage from a town with a population of 50,000 persons and produce more than 900 tons of oyster meat a year, worth about $5 million.

The study, which has been going on for two years in large fish tanks at the institution, soon will move to a $75,000 laboratory about two miles away.

This plant, large enough to handle sewage from 75 persons, will test Rytter's theories.

The plant will have six algae ponds with a surface area of 2,000 square feet, a thousand-gallon-a-minute pumping rig and places for animal cultures.

The system takes algae grown in sewage diluted to about 10 per cent concentration in seawater, pumps it into a food reservoir, then with filtered seawater, into the animal tanks.

NO FIGURES

Rytter said the diluted sewage has been found to be "an excellent culture medium for marine phytoplankton (algae) comparable if not better than the artificially enriched seawater medium used for many years at our laboratory."

Fifty varieties of sewage have been used to cultivate the algae, and only one batch has proved toxic.

The project is backed by a number of research grants from organizations such as the National Science Foundation and the Ford Foundation.

In a recent issue of Bio-Science, Rytter said there are "many hurdles to cross before this utopian solution can be realized."

Orgy Of Destruction With No Parallel In Vietnam War

QUANG TRI, Vietnam (AP) — As efficiently as a heel grinds out a smouldering cigarette, so have the South Vietnamese, their American allies and the North Vietnamese crushed the life from Quang Tri City.

Both sides are systematically destroying the once-pleasant riverside community of palm-shaded streets and historical sites where 80,000 Vietnamese lived. It is an orgy of destruction that has no parallel in the Vietnam war.

BROKEN HOMES

The vistas of tumbled, broken homes, of steel rods sticking grotesquely from twisted concrete walls, of hollow-eyed, crouching men are from earlier wars. Quang Tri today is Seoul in 1950, Cassino in 1944, the towns and villages of Europe wiped out in World War I.

A pall of black smoke hangs over the city, like that over an American industrial town in the days before anyone bothered about pollution. But here the only industry is war.

The South Vietnamese marches inside Quang Tri have taken well over 1,000 casualties in 25 days at a conservative estimate, their American advisers say. The Vietnamese paratroopers before them were relieved because of crippling casualties.

SHELL SCREAMS

No one wants to go forward or back, only to crouch under a wall and listen for the boom of a distant gun firing, and the crumpling as the shell screams into the city. At least 1,000 shells boom into Quang Tri every day, they say. And that is not counting the shelling and air strikes launched against the North Vietnamese.

At any one time that enemy might number 600 men at most, the marines say. Some sit inside the walled Citadel in the northern part of the city, reportedly with enough food and other supplies for two years, left behind in May by the fleeing South Vietnamese infantry.

The North Vietnamese also hold five strongpoints in the south of the city, formerly moated forts for headquarters elements of the South Vietnamese army. The defense include stout demonstration bunkers built by the U.S. Marines three years ago.

NO DOUBT

If progress can be measured by 10 yards advance today, then back five tomorrow, or a whole block gained by a battalion in three weeks after taking 200 casualties, then the South Vietnamese are making progress in Quang Tri.

If the Communists measure progress by delaying the government advance for a few days at the cost of no one knows how many dead then Hanoi no doubt is satisfied.

Young officers graduating from the Thu Duc Officers' School near Saigon fear going north to Quang Tri. The war is so fierce there, they say, that man could not survive to live out his true destiny.

But the officers still go north from Saigon to Quang Tri, just as the other officers come south from Hanoi. Their destiny seems to be to die in a dead city.

ISTANBUL (AP) — There are some red faces at Istanbul's police headquarters. Thieves recently entered an office block next door to the graystone building and systematically looted 148 offices, according to a press report.

The mass burglary of the four-floor building must have taken all night to accomplish, the report said.

Odessa Theater Damaged By Fire

ODESSA — The Mini-Flick Theater here was heavily damaged Saturday night.

The blaze erupted about 8:15 p.m. Saturday as people were watching the show.

Four trucks and 15 men from the Odessa Fire Department battled the smoldering in the theater.

Firemen believe the fire might have resulted from a short in the electric lines in the west wall of the building, but investigators said they would need to inspect the damaged structure in the daylight.

No one was reported injured in the fire which damaged the newly-opened adult movie house, but the ceiling and west half of the building were destroyed and heavy smoke damage resulted throughout the five-room building.
