'NO SIR'

'Did You See The Baby Being Killed?'

BELTON, Tex. (AP) — A Beaumont psychiatrist testified today that Fred Young Jr.'s psychological makeup would not allow him to commit a brutal murder such as that of the antique dealer's slaying for which he is on trial. But under cross-examination, he said "it's possible."

Young is on trial only on charges of slaying the dealer. He also is charged with slaying the victim's 3-year-old granddaughter.

The witness telling of Young's nature was Dr. David Henry Beyer, a psychiatrist at Beaumont Neurological Hospital. He examined Young in mid-March. The slaying occurred Jan. 5.

VERY ANGRY

The defense asked, "Could Fred Young have committed such an act as shown in these pictures?"

Dr. Beyer answered, "No."

At the time, the doctor was looking at photographs which showed the victim's throat cut, her back stabbed and her head severely battered.

Dr. Beyer said the wounds would have been inflicted by a "very angry, vicious type person."

What type would suffocate a child, he was asked.

"The same type angry, vicious attack behavior," he said.

The psychiatrist said he found none of these characteristics in Young and described him as a "rather quiet, troubled young man with feelings of himself being less good than other people."

He said also that Young "was rather impatient and insecure."

COULD HAPPEN

Under cross-examination, however, he said, "It's possible that Young could have committed such a crime."

Young, testifying Tuesday, said a newspaper account provided him with the first word that a baby was killed in the antique shop in Kountze where the murders took place.

He sternly denied killing Leslie Bowman, 3, or helping Dennis Anderson slash and beat to death Mrs. Mabel McCormick, 50, at Mrs. McCormick's antique parlor in Kountze.

Young is standing trial here for murder on a charge of venue for the death of Mrs. McCormick.

Anderson has pleaded guilty, received a life sentence and testified for the state that Young held Mrs. McCormick's legs during the stabbings. He claims Young killed the baby.

Young, 22, fashioned himself to the jury as an ingenue as he and Anderson set out before sunrise Jan. 5 to go "antiquing" in Texas and Louisiana. He denied he knew Anderson's plans to stock a Pearlant antique shop by stealing.

But he said he could do nothing but follow Anderson's orders to load the truck after he saw Anderson hit Mrs. McCormick with a hammer.

"I sort of flipped out. I did not believe it was happening," Young said.

CONVINCED

"Did you see the baby being killed?" he was asked.

Young responded, "No sir," after earlier telling the jury he left the house during the beating of Mrs. McCormick. He said he did not know that the baby's body was eventually stuffed in a toilet.

AF General Plans Visits To Webb

Gen. James M. Breedlove, deputy chief of staff for Operations at Randolph AFB, Tex., will be at Webb AFB Thursday on a two-fold mission.

Gen. Breedlove will present the National Safety Council Award of Honor to Webb and bestow the Silver Star upon Capt. Charles R. Emery Jr., in a ceremony scheduled to get under way in the Wing Conference Room at 9:15 p.m.

The general's plane will touch down here about 8:45 a.m.

Capt. Emery won the Silver Star for meritorious service in Southeast Asia.

AIRMEN HOLD MESS HALL FOR EIGHT HOURS

'A Feeling Of Isolation'

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — A group of black airmen from the Laredo Air Force Base are back in their barracks today after expressing what they called "a feeling of isolation" in this largely Mexican-American town with a peaceful but tense takeover of the base's mess hall.

The airmen held the mess hall for eight hours before walking out Tuesday afternoon under a promise from the base commander that no disciplinary action would be taken and an investigation made of their complaints.

A spokesman for wing commander Col. L.W. Svendsen said later that no damage was caused to the mess hall.

NO SOCIAL LIFE

Four representatives of the group of nearly 30 met with Col. Svendsen and aired a list of grievances ranging from the lack of "black-oriented clothes at the post exchange" to what one of them called "racism among Mexican-Americans in the base and in the town."

They also complained about the lack of social life for the few blacks in the base and what they termed the long hitches that blacks are required to serve in Laredo.

A base spokesman said there are nearly 200 blacks on the base which has a total 2,700 military personnel.

There are very few blacks in Laredo, a South Texas city located across the Rio Grande from the Mexican town of Nuevo Laredo.

In the past there have been no incidents of violence between blacks and Mexican-Americans in Laredo and at the base and look into the other complaints.

Col. Svendsen himself said: "Whether real or imagined, the black airmen feel they have a problem in that Laredo is isolated as far as blacks are concerned. They are almost base bound when it comes to being among their own people."

A base spokesman said that Svendsen promised the group's representatives that he would do all he could to ease racial problems in Laredo and at the base and look into the other complaints.

The blacks also said they want "someone who listens to their problems with a positive attitude and a change in the type and quantity of food serviced in the mess halls."

They said they also want "some type of brotherhood organization to be allowed in the base."

The airmen took over the mess hall when first breakfasts were served at 4 a.m. and locked the doors. Civilian workers left and traffic was blocked around the area.

The men used a phone inside the mess hall to call newspapers and several congressmen to air their complaints.

ONE BEFORE ELECTION, ONE AFTER

Wheat Investigations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two full-scale investigations—one before the election, one afterward—have been promised in the escalating dispute over wheat sales to the Soviet Union.

The pre-election probe by the FBI was announced by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew while campaigning Tuesday in Minneapolis. In fact, he said, "that investigation is in progress" at President Nixon's orders.

RUMORS FLYING

But the FBI said it had received no instructions to look into the matter. A spokesman for its parent agency, the Justice Department, Tuesday night would say only that "a preliminary review of the matter referred to by Vice President Agnew is under way."

An Iowa Democrat, Rep. Neal Smith, promised a House subcommittee investigation of the wheat deal and broader questions next February "after the passion of election-year politics has passed."

At a Minneapolis news conference, Agnew said that Nixon ordered the FBI probe to answer such questions as whether major grain exporters received and benefited from advance sales information allegedly fed to them by USDA officials and former officials.

He accused Democrats of spreading innuendos about the deal.

The Iowa congressman said he will press for a full airing of the wheat deal in February or March by a House Small Business subcommittee which he heads.

The deal, he said, raises broader questions about how farmers fare, as compared with exporters, in foreign agriculture trade.

LARGER PROFITS

Although the wheat deal was considered a boon for the Farm Belt, critics now question whether farmers were paid prices kept artificially low in order that exporters might reap larger profits. The farm price rose in late July and August after the size of the sale became known.

Another House subcommittee, headed by Rep. Graham Purcell, D-Tex., Tuesday completed a three-day probe into allegations that the Agriculture Department engaged in what Democratic presidential candidate George McGovern has called a "conspiracy of silence" by not disclosing full details of Soviet wheat purchases this summer.

A central figure, Clarence D. Palmy of Continental Grain Co., New York, labeled as an "outright lie" contentions that he carried along government secrets when he left the department June 7 to join the firm as vice president.

As an assistant secretary of Agriculture, Palmy in April helped lead trade talks in Moscow concerning possible grain sales to the Soviets. But Palmy said nothing was settled at that time.

Palmy denied repeatedly that he had any advance knowledge of a White House credit arrangement with the Soviet Union.

Agnew Hints Someone Set Up Demo Headquarters Break-In

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew suggested that somebody set up the wiretapping raid on Democratic headquarters and then tipped authorities in an effort to embarrass the Republican party.

Advancing that as a personal theory while saying he had no evidence of it, Agnew demonstrated that when he goes campaigning—in his new style as his old—controversy is virtually assured.

On opening day of his 1972 travels for the Republican ticket, Agnew dealt with two of the most controversial items on the campaign agenda, he Watergate wiretapping, which Democrats are blaming on the GOP, and assertions—which he disputed—that big grain dealers profited from advance word of a U.S. wheat sale to the Soviet Union.

Agnew was campaigning today in St. Louis, with his first appearance scheduled at the dedication of a new juvenile detention center.

After the dedication and a St. Louis speech, Agnew was to move on to Columbus, Ohio, third stop on an eight-state campaign tour.

The vice president Tuesday likened Democratic allegations about the wheat deal to Democratic assertions about the Watergate break-in case, saying the opposition raised an "innuendo of impropriety" without demonstrating anything.

Agnew told a news conference in Minneapolis that President Nixon had asked the Federal Bureau of Investigation to look thoroughly into the wheat deal "to see whether anyone has taken any undue profit, due to any misinformation or improperly revealed information on the part of the federal government."

In Washington, a Justice Department spokesman said: "A preliminary review of the matter referred to by Vice President Agnew is under way."

Dealing with the Watergate case, Agnew said that whoever is guilty of involvement in the raid on Democratic national headquarters in Washington June 17 should be punished, "and insofar as they relate to Republican policy-makers, if that can be shown, we have to take the consequences."

But Agnew said he is convinced "that just didn't happen," and that no top level Republican is involved.

A grand jury has indicted seven men, including five seized inside Democratic headquarters, on charges of illegally entering and conspiring to bug the offices. The other two are former White House aides.

Lawrence F. O'Brien, McGovern's campaign chairman, has filed an invasion-of-privacy damage suit, naming top Republicans.

"I have a personal theory that I can't substantiate any more than Mr. O'Brien can substantiate his wild accusations," Agnew said.

"What I'm saying is that someone set up these people and encouraged them to undertake this caper to embarrass them and to embarrass the Republican party," he added.

Voting Total Is Up

Tuesday, the county tax office registered 25 more voters pushing the total to 14,557.

Friday, Oct. 6 is the last day voters may register to vote in the Nov. 7 General Elections.

VICTOR — John Kerry, former leader of Vietnam Veterans Against the War, kisses wife, Julie, after he was apparent victor in Democratic race for congress in Massachusetts' Fifth District. He was apparent victor in field of 10 in state's primary Tuesday.

May Let States Channel Funds Into Rail Projects

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has voted for the first time to allow states to spend part of their federal highway allotments to improve rail-transit systems.

By a 48-26 vote Tuesday, the Senate authorized states to divert part of a two-year, $1.6-billion urban-highway fund into rail projects.

That provision, sponsored by Sens. Edmund S. Muskie and John Sherman Cooper, was attached to an $18-billion highway-transit authorization bill. The bill was approved 77 to 0 and sent to the House.

Included in the $18 billion is $1.2 billion for use over the next two years to continue federal highway aid, including funds for completing the remaining 20 per cent of the interstate expressway system. Another $3.8 billion is earmarked for buying equipment and paying off operating deficits in subway and other rail commuter systems.

Congress voted in 1956 to funnel revenue from gasoline and other highway-user taxes into a Highway Trust Fund. Since that time the fund has been used only for highway construction.

Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe issued a statement Tuesday night praising the Senate vote.

"We need all modes of transportation in some of our cities and we need meaningful alternatives in all of our cities," he said. "This bill provides for those alternatives by giving local, state and regional leaders the flexibility they need to attack the problems which are making our urban areas uninhabitable."

McGovern Raps 'Nutty' Polls, 'Lousy' Newspaper Columnists

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Tired of bad news, Sen. George McGovern has attacked what he termed "nutty" public-opinion polls and "lousy" newspaper columnists.

The Democratic presidential nominee rejected more emphatically than ever the findings of recent polls showing him far behind President Nixon. "I think the polls are a lot of rubbish," he said Tuesday. "I don't know where they conduct these polls. I've never talked to an American who's ever been polled by either Dr. Gallup or Harris. I think they make these things up in the backrooms somewhere."

ALWAYS WRONG

And he described some conservative newspaper columnists, whom he wouldn't name, as lousy, bitter, paranoid, despicable, obnoxious propagandists who are consistently wrong and who write nothing good about any candidate more liberal than Genghis Khan.

Today McGovern made two new proposals to increase Social Security payments, favoring full benefits for widows and an increase in the amount of outside income pensioners may earn without reducing benefits.

He spent the night in the mansion of Ohio Gov. John Gilligan. Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine was scheduled to join McGovern at appearances today in northern New Jersey and Philadelphia.

TAX CREDITS

Tuesday, McGovern told students and faculty at Chicago's largest Roman Catholic school that he favors income-tax credits for parents of parochial- and private-school students. And he delivered his standard political talk to a rain-dampened street crowd in Milwaukee and airport-rally crowds in Flint, Mich., and Columbus.

Throughout the day, in interviews with local newsmen along the way, McGovern scoffed at the polls that show him lagging 34 points behind President Nixon in general voter preference.

In any case, McGovern said, "we're going to make those pollsters eat those polls before this election is over." He said he's more strongly convinced than ever that he'll beat Nixon.

In Milwaukee, a newsmen asked McGovern if he feels he has been smeared by "the conservative press."

RIGHT OF KHAN

"Some of the columnists are really lousy," McGovern said. "They're so bitter and paranoid about the liberal, progressive movement in this country that they just can't write the truth, they can't write anything decent about any candidate who isn't somebody who is to the right of Genghis Khan."

The candidate said he thinks the American press in general is the best in the world and generally tells the news fairly. "I'm not trying to butter you up. I really mean that," he said.

But McGovern has begun to show signs of irritation at even general news coverage of his admittedly underdog campaign.

For example, late Monday night in Carbondale, Ill., he criticized Nixon for "hiding" in the White House and holding too few news conferences. Then he added, "I think that's why the press clobbers me so much, because they can get at me."

CLOUDY

Partly cloudy with a 30 per cent chance of thunder showers through Thursday. High today and Thursday 87, low tonight 68.

FINGER SHAKING — Democratic presidential candidate Sen. George McGovern, right, shakes fingers through a chain link fence with some of the 7,000 people that greeted him Tuesday night at the Columbus, Ohio, airport. Many of the people along the fence put their fingers through the fence to touch McGovern as he passed by.

REMOVING IRONS — An unidentified U.S. marshal removes the leg irons from Paschal Morahan, one of the Fort Worth five, in Abilene Tuesday for a bond-setting hearing in U.S. District Court in connection with the group's alleged gun-running activities for the Irish Republican Army. Behind Morahan is Daniel Crawford, another of the five charged.

Fort Worth Five Gig Bond Figure

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — Five Irish Republican Army sympathizers who were jailed for refusing to testify when ordered to do so about an alleged Irish gun-running scheme have had bonds of $100,000 set following intervention by a supreme court justice.

Dallas lawyer, Ed Polk, appearing for the five New Yorkers of Irish extraction, protested the amount of the bond set by U.S. Dist. Court Judge Leo Brewster. He also disagreed with the judge's added condition that each of the men possessing passports must surrender them to the court clerk until the case is cleared.

The five are Kenneth Tierney, 45, Thomas Laffey, 32, Daniel Crawford, 45, Mathias Reilly, 31, and Paschal Morahan, 25. Judge Brewster ordered all five to jail in June for refusing to testify before a federal grand jury investigating the alleged gun-running from Texas to the outlawed IRA.

U.S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas ordered their release last week, remarking that the case appeared to raise serious questions about whether an eavesdropping warrant had been used to "destroy the attorney-client relationship."

Claiming there was nothing to cause the judge to set high bond, Polk urged personal recognizance bonds for each. "It is our position that each of these men is a family man, has roots in his own community, is employed and has no charges against him," Polk said.

But in setting the bond, Brewster said: "These men have gone through a lot of hardship in being confined. But it has been by their own choice."

He added that if they had committed no crime, then it was to their advantage to testify before the grand jury.

Dr. J. E. Hogan, a co-founder of the Malone and Hogan clinic, has been named as an inspector for the American Medical Clinic Association. In this capacity he will participate next week in a team checking the Snyder Clinic at Winfield, Kans. for accreditation.

Car, Guard Rail Suffer Damages — Police discovered an automobile in a ravine near FM 700 just north of the rodeo grounds this morning at 12:44.

The unknown driver was reportedly picked up by a motorist at the scene of the accident. The car is registered to Peggy Baker, 507 E. 18th St.

The car was totaled, according to police, and damaged reflector poles and a guard rail when leaving the highway.

Israel Vows Bombers Will 'Meet Their Just Deserts'

By The Associated Press

Gunfire exploded again across the Syrian-Israeli cease-fire lines today as Israelis called for tighter security against Arab terrorist murders in Europe.

The Israeli military command reported at dawn that Arab gunners inside Syria opened artillery fire on the occupied Golan Heights, near the border region where Israeli forces invaded South Lebanon on an antiguerrilla mission over the weekend. There were no casualties, and the Israelis returned the fire, the command said.

ARAB SABOTAGE — Syrian shellfire has been aimed at the Golan Heights for more than a week, and most Israelis regard it as insignificant, but Arab terrorist attacks outside the Middle East have set a grim new mood in the country.

The newest Arab sabotage—a flurry of parcel bombs in Europe which killed an Israeli agricultural attaché in London Tuesday—brought a warning from foreign minister Abba Eban that terrorists will get what is coming to them.

He described the agricultural attaché, Ami Shachori, as "a man of the soil who devoted his life to rebuilding and creation," and vowed that "those who shed innocent blood, their supporters and those who aid them, will meet their just deserts."

Meanwhile, the Soviet Union announced it will boost arms shipments to Iraq and continue giving "material assistance" to the Palestinian guerrillas.

The announcement was made in a joint communique published by the Soviet and Arab governments.

Security was increased today for four Arab leaders in London, Egyptian Foreign Minister Mohammed el Zayyat, Lebanese Foreign Minister Khalil Abu Hamad, Qatar's foreign minister, Sheikh Hamad al Thani, and the president of the Union of Arab Emirates, Sheikh Zaid.

Military observers in Jerusalem said more acts of terrorism could be expected before the month was over and that Israel may react with what they called unconventional action.

Security was increased today for four Arab leaders in London, Egyptian Foreign Minister Mohammed el Zayyat, Lebanese Foreign Minister Khalil Abu Hamad, Qatar's foreign minister, Sheikh Hamad al Thani, and the president of the Union of Arab Emirates, Sheikh Zaid.

Military observers in Jerusalem said more acts of terrorism could be expected before the month was over and that Israel may react with what they called unconventional action.

United Way Fund Grows

The United Way campaign inched up a notch today, reaching $41,300.

Campaign Chairman Bob Hickson urged all workers to make every possible effort to complete their contacts. At the same time, Hickson emphasized the urgent need for every employed person to have a part. He pleaded that they consider giving the "fair share — an hour's pay a month."

Among firms whose employees have subscribed 100 per cent to United Way are Swartz, Mead's Auto, First Federal Savings and Loan, Big Spring Savings and Loan, and Blum's Jewelry.

Hickson reminded that 14 local agencies are looking to United Way for their support and that without it many of them will be crippled.

Welding Gear Is Reported Stolen — A cutting torch, acetylene welding rig, regulator and 50-foot hose have been missing since Saturday from a location two miles north of Big Spring off the old Gail Highway.

Stanley Haney, 1406 Virginia, reported the $170 loss to the Sheriff's Office Wednesday morning.

Black September — Officials said the seven parcels were disarmed, and that two similar devices were intercepted by security men at the Israeli Embassy in Paris.

Police said one of the packages discovered in London contained a leaflet saying the Black September Arab terrorist group, which said it carried out the Munich massacre, was responsible.

Shortly after the Tuesday's blast, the Lebanese Embassy in London said it received an anonymous telephone warning that "You will be next."

Light Freeze Due In Idaho — A light freeze warning was issued early today for southern Idaho, but such prospects were no comfort from the hot and muggy weather that plagued the nation's midsection.

Temperatures during the night persisted in the 70s and 80s as tropical air from the Gulf of Mexico flowed northward to the Northern Plains.

The Northeast enjoyed comfortable weather, but a wide band of showers and thunderstorms battered an area from the southern Rockies to the northern Mississippi Valley.

Other less severe storms touched the lower Mississippi Valley, the north and Middle Atlantic coast, Florida and the Pacific Northwest to the north.

Films Of Projected Tour To Be Screened Thurs.

Fredrick C. Flynn, executive vice-president of Presto Travel Agency, Dallas, will be here Thursday night to show films of two vacation meccas in Europe — Geneva and Rome.

The Presto agency is arranging The Herald-First National Bank tour plans. The eight-day tour departs the Midland-Odessa Regional Air Terminal Nov. 11.

Reservations for the trip are still being accepted by the Travel and Ticket Service Department of the First National Bank. If the purchaser leaves from Midland-Odessa, the cost will be $549. Departure from Dallas would reduce the fare to $499.

Thursday's films will be screened at the Big Spring Country Club, starting at 8 o'clock. There will be no charge. Flynn will be prepared to answer any questions about the trip.

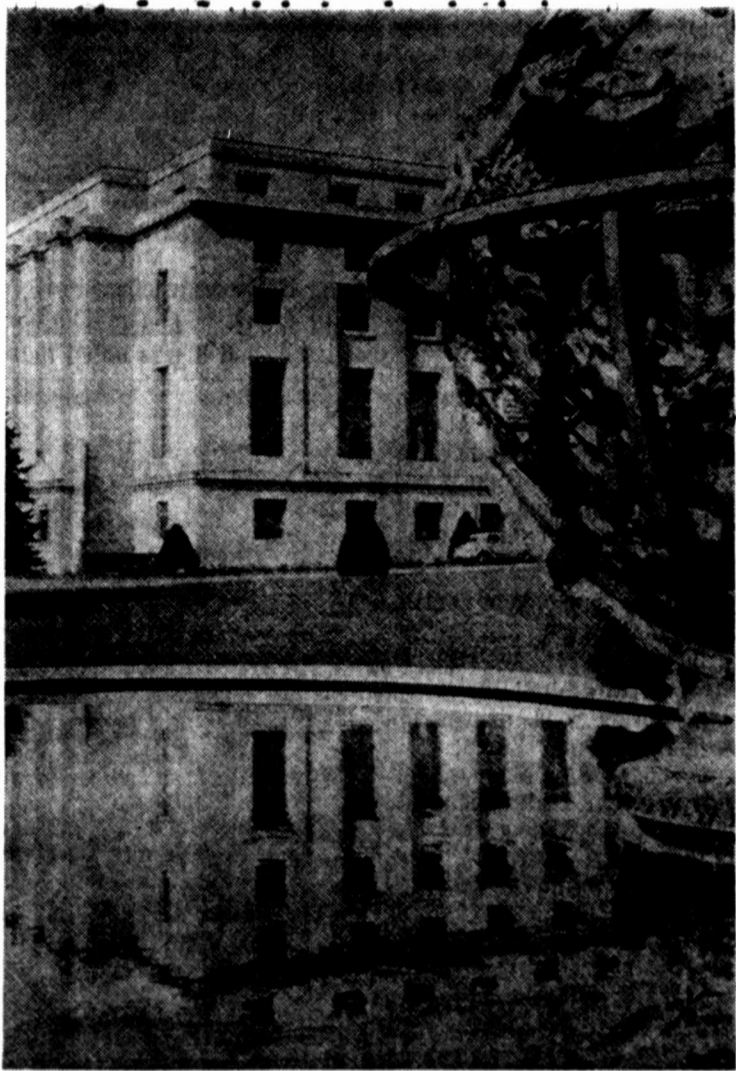

Door prizes will be given away at the Thursday night meeting. Refreshments will also be served.

Geneva, one of the cities the local group will visit, never closes down — no matter what the time of day or the time of year.

While Spring and Summer are the traditional tourist seasons with formal gardens lining the shores of Lac Lemman (the Lake of Geneva's official name) and sailboats and steamers dotting the waters, in Winter, Geneva becomes a favorite starting point for wintersport excursions. Some of the world's best ski country is only minutes away.

PRIME TIME
Autumn, on the other hand, is considered by many seasoned travellers to be prime time in this cosmopolitan capital of French-speaking Switzerland. The weather is still perfect. The "bise", or north wind, breezes in from the mountains and across the Lake, keeping the air pure and temperate. With Summer's end, Geneva swings back into its normal tempo of activity. Tourists no longer crowd the city, allowing an unhurried savoring of the attractions which have made Geneva the honorary capital of the world.

Geneva, a city with a 2,000-

GENEVA'S THE PALAIS DES NATIONS

year history and intense civic pride, is a happy blend of French "joie de vivre" and the Swiss passion for order and tradition; a highly civilized center with rustic provincialism just around the corner, an efficient modern city where the past is allowed to live on and be revered.

It is particularly in Autumn that Geneva earns its reputation as a major French cultural center. The Genevans are back in town and the music and art season is underway. The acoustically perfect Grand Theatre is the scene of concerts, operas and ballets. In addition to the many local ensembles, visiting artists this fall will include the Madrigal Choir of Bucharest, the Yomiuri Nippon Symphony Orchestra and Ray Charles.

Geneva has many fine museums of art, natural history, science and ethnography. There are also special museums devoted to such diverse subjects as watches, education, old musical instruments, automobiles, Voltaire and Jean-Jacques Rousseau. The latter is one of Geneva's favorite sons for whom the tiny island just below the outflow of the Rhone River is named.

IDEAL FOR WALKERS

The center of the city is compact and ideal for walking tours. A particularly enjoyable route rambles through Geneva's Old City, "La Vieille Ville." This is the largest of the old towns in Switzerland and is substantially restored. Along the cobbled streets which wind up and down the hill are antique shops, art galleries and charming restaurants and sidewalk cafes.

If you were to exhaust the delights of Geneva before they exhaust you, there are many one-day excursions to be made outside the city. Lausanne and Montreux, two other Lac Lemman resorts lie just around the bend through stretches of vineyards. The largest casino in Europe is just minutes away in France. (Bring your passport.) If you are traveling with children and want a brief respite, check with Geneva's Baby Hotel for a stay of a day, overnight or even longer.

Italy is only an hour's driving time through the Mt. Blanc Tunnel, the longest in the world. Further afield, Paris, Milan, Rome, Barcelona, Frankfurt and Brussels are reachable in about an hour by Swissair and other international airlines. In fact, Geneva is the center of a vast air network which radiates from Switzerland to the rest of the world. Swissair also operates daily nonstop service from New York to Geneva, the only carrier to use 747's on this route.

The Geneva Tourist Office is especially hard-working on behalf of visitors. It is located at 3, Place des Bergues; Geneva, Switzerland; or questions can be answered by Swissair or the Swiss National Tourist Office, both at the Swiss Center; 608 Fifth Avenue; New York, New York 10020, as well as any Swissair district or reservations office nationwide.

Research Info Is Available

The firm of Edward D. Jones & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, and represented locally by Dnr Wilkins, at 208 Permian Bldg., announces that it has contracted to receive the research information published by Argus Research Corp., New York, N. Y.

The Argus Corporation, for over 35 years one of the most respected and prestigious research firms in the world, is an independent research and portfolio management organization. Edward D. Jones & Co. offices will receive a wide variety of material published by Argus including monthly and weekly Staff Reports compiled by individual members of the Argus organization covering basic industries, such as textiles, steels, hotels, banks, with their specific comments about the leaders in each selected industry.

In addition, Argus prepares in-depth, basic analytical work on individual companies and gives periodic reports on the company in published progress reports covering previously recommended items. Also, a bi-weekly Security Reference List is published with a brief synopsis of securities suitable for various investment objectives such as "Secure Income", "High Yield", "Capital Gains-Speculative", and others.

John W. Bachmann, General Partner of Edward D. Jones & Co. in charge of Research, said, "We are pleased to be able to provide the added services and in-depth coverage which Argus provides to investors in this area."

Wilkins encourages anyone in the Big Spring area to write for, or use his office for copies of some of the past material and current information that Argus has provided.

Insist Books Do Not Give Fems Credit They Deserve

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Women's groups protested books said they could not remember a single case in which sex discrimination had figured in the past.

The women told education commissioner J. W. Edgar that scores of books portray women "only in certain roles mother, housewife, elementary school teacher with certain personalities emotional, illogical, passive."

DISCRIMINATION
"Young girls, just as youth of other groups who are victims of discrimination, need to be aware of prejudice against them and how to counter it, so that they will be able to handle instances of prejudice constructively," the Women's Textbook Research Committee said in a statement accompanying each of its 51 challenges.

The domination of the hearings by charges of sexual discrimination — 66 of the 96 challenges were based on such charges — marked a drastic change from past hearings. Longtime observers of the annual smirmishes over school books said they could not remember a single case in which sex discrimination had figured in the past.

'POSITIVE ROLES'
The entire morning session and much of the afternoon, was taken up with 29 challenges of proposed reading texts by the women's research committee. In most cases, a member of the committee testified that a large majority of the heroes of the pictures, and the "positive roles" found in the books were men.

Jolie Huchison of Austin spokeswoman for the group used this approach when challenging Houghton Mifflin Co.'s fifth grade reader "images." The book contains 468 pictures of men and 20 men heroes, but only 139 pictures of women and three women who could be regarded as heroes she said.

Publishers' representatives answered charges on each of the challenged books. In the case of "images," Houghton Mifflin Regional Director Forrest Overton said reading texts "are almost entirely anthologies or compilations" of previously published material. Thus "publishers of basic readers are almost entirely dependent upon the manuscript trade publishers have chosen to publish," he said.

But Overton said, criticism levelled at textbook publishers "concerning their tardiness in recognizing the changing roles of women in contemporary society are, for the most part, justifiable."

The hearings before commissioner Edgar are a new element in the annual textbook selection process. In the past such hearings have been held only by the 15-member State Textbook Committee.

This year, both the committee and the commissioner are holding hearings. Edgar has scheduled three days for the

He's A Nut

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Last weekend I was falsely accused of having an affair with the wife of a fellow worker. This fellow telephoned me at 7 a.m. and informed me that he had some good news and some bad news. The bad news was that I wouldn't be able to spend the weekend with his wife. The good news was that instead of doing me physical harm for having fooled around with his wife (which I never did), he had thrown a brick through the windshield of my automobile!

I thought it was all a joke. Now comes the problem: Later that morning, I found a $100 check in my car and a note from this fellow stating, "After contemplating my rash behavior, I realized how foolishly I behaved, so this $100 will cover the damages to your car."

I replaced the windshield which amounted to $30. What should I do with the remaining $70?

DEAR ON: Buy yourself a bulletproof vest. You never know what a nut like that will do next.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were invited to our nephew's high school graduation party, and when we arrived we were told our nephew had left town that morning to go on a vacation to the seashore. His mother said he had made plans to go three days before the party. We (and all the others at the party) were disappointed to come to a party and find the guest of honor wasn't even there.

We had brought a nice check which we wanted to hand to our nephew in person, but we left it with his mother instead. (The boy has been back for five weeks and we still haven't had an acknowledgement for our check.)

I asked the mother why she didn't cancel the party when she knew three days in advance that her son wouldn't be home, and she said, "It's proper to have a party to honor our son's graduation whether he's here or not."

We've never heard of such a thing. Was this proper? DISAPPOINTED RELATIVES DEAR DISAPPOINTED: About as "proper" as scheduling a wedding without a bride and groom. In any case, there is no excuse for his not having acknowledged your gift.

DEAR ABBY: I am being married in December and I have my wedding all planned out to the smallest detail because I want it to be perfect.

The problem is this: the guy I am marrying wears braces on his teeth. We thought he would have them off in time for the wedding, but he found out yesterday that he will have to wear them for another five or six months! He's 20, and junior in college (so am I) and it's bad enough that he has to wear braces at his age, but when I think of the wedding pictures and him with braces, I could cry.

Should I insist that he have them taken off for the wedding? I know it could be done, but his dentist isn't crazy about the idea. Please advise me.

BLUE BRIDE DEAR BRIDE: Don't mention his braces. I'm sure they aren't as conspicuous to others as they are to you.

DEAR ABBY: I read that letter from "Hurt Mother," who cried all night because her son had been in Viet Nam for over a year, went straight to his girl friend's house instead of coming home. (Your answer was perfect. You said, "Thank God he came home!")

I know only too well what you meant. My son was killed in Viet Nam after he had been there only three months. Ask "Hurt Mother" if she would like to trade places with me? She should get down on her hands and knees and thank God her son came home alive. I'd give anything in the world if mine had.

Coffee Fetes Rushees Of Alpha Eta Upsilon

A coffee honoring rushees of Alpha Eta Upsilon Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, was held recently in the home of Mrs. Derwood Blagrove at Ackerly. The rushees in attendance were Mrs. Bob Davis, Mrs. Bobby Barr, Mrs. Dwayne Plackwell, Mrs. Jim Moseley and Mrs. Jack Cobb.

Mrs. Jerry Iden, chapter president, introduced Mrs. Jerry Merrick who explained the aims and purposes of BSP, and Mrs. Jerry Hall, who outlined advantages of membership in the sorority.

Mrs. Derrill Bearden described service projects in which the chapter is now involved, including those which have been continued from the last season. At this time, members are involved in assisting a young resident of Girlstown who requires regular treatment at Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center. Club members alternate monthly or twice a month in transporting the girl to the center. Also, they take her to Midland at times when her braces must be fitted or adjusted.

The program, "Body Beautiful," was given by Mrs. Dan Shortes, who showed the art of Leonardo de Vinci, Renoir and Titan to illustrate their idea of beauty in the human body. She then compared standards of physical beauty during the Greek and Renaissance periods with those of today. At the conclusion of the program, she led members and rushees in a series of exercises set to music.

The coffee table featured the sorority colors of yellow and black and was centered with yellow roses. The next chapter meeting will be Sept. 28 in the Hall home at Ackerly, with Mrs. Bearden presenting the program.

'Civilisation' Films Will Continue Thursday

The fifth in a series of five films on "Civilisation" will be projected Thursday at 6 p.m. and Friday at 2 p.m. in the auditorium at Howard County Junior College.

This is a free public service of the college.

The current film concerns the "Hero as Artist" and centers around the Renaissance which came in full flower around 1500. From a quiet medieval town, Rome exploded into an expansion of imperial splendor. Over all the world of giants and heroes stood Pope Julius II, the patron of whose powers were surpassed only by his ego.

The figure of Julius II dominates the production of the film story, as he was able to dominate the greatness and strength of will of three geniuses — Michelangelo Raphael and Bramante. Without the driving force of Julius, Michelangelo likely would not have painted the Sistine Chapel. Raphael not have immortalized the Papal apartments, and Bramante would not have been able to tear down and rebuild St. Peter's.

It was said of Julius that "in his new temple he planned to erect the greatest tomb of any ruler since the time of Hadrian." It was a staggering example of superbia — what we call megalomania — and Michelangelo at that time was not without the same characteristic.

Mrs. Leslie Beard Honored With Coffee

Mrs. Leslie Beard of Windsor, England, was honored at a coffee from 10:30 a.m. - 12 o'clock noon Friday in the home of Mrs. Will P. Edwards Jr., 806 W. 14th. Mrs. Beard is the sister of Mrs. Connie Edwards of Big Spring, formerly of England.

A red, white and blue theme was used for the coffee, and the honoree and both Mrs. Edwards chose attire which featured those colors. They wore corsages of red, white and blue carnations; Mrs. Beard's with a miniature Union Jack, Mrs. Will Edwards' with miniatures of both flags.

Members of the house party were Mrs. Bill Neal, Miss Zane Neal, Mrs. Rip Patterson, Mrs. Dan Patterson, Mrs. William Hull, Mrs. Gene Nabors, Mrs. Jack Little and Mrs. Tommy Gage, all of whom wore red, white and blue carnations with tiny American flags.

The register table was accented with a Texas motif, and the guest register was in the form of a certificate signed by Mayor Wade Choate, making Mrs. Beard an honorary Citizen of Texas. Guests signed as "witnesses."

The refreshment table was covered with a red cloth and centered with the colorful carnations interspersed with American and British flags. A similar arrangement was placed on a credenza which was decorated with both western and British accents.

Mrs. Beard and her daughter, Miss Pippa Beard, arrived here Aug. 28 and plan to leave this week. They were entertained recently at a dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Nabors.

ABWA Unit Gains New Members

New members of Cactus Chapter, American Business Women's Association, were welcomed at a salad buffet held Monday evening in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room.

Introduced by Mrs. Owen McCombs, president, they are Mrs. Alpha Jones, Mrs. Marjorie P. Baker, Mrs. Garland Conway, Mrs. Richard Acuna, Mrs. Ted Fowler, Mrs. Weldon Railey, Mrs. Don Baker, Mrs. Ruth Verlee, Mrs. W. A. Fishback and Mrs. Bill Read, the latter two of Coahoma.

Guest speaker was Ralph Williams, minister of 14th and Main Church of Christ, who discussed responsibilities of an American citizen. He said, "All citizens must be aware of crime rates, stand behind laws and law enforcement officers, teach high morals in the home, vote, get involved and be proud of their citizenship."

The vocational talk was by Mrs. Evelyn Delatour, an employe of Parks Insurance Agency. The invocation was by Mrs. T. A. Proctor, and the benediction by Miss Mary Perdue. Over 200 members will be in Lovke Friday for an area dinner, and the next chapter meeting will be Oct. 16.

Sewing Club Will Make VA Spreads

The Sew and Chatter Club has begun a project of sewing lap spreads for use by patients at the Veterans Administration Hospital. The initial plans were made during a meeting in the home of Mrs. Marvin Sewell, 407 Washington.

Mrs. Ruby Martin, president, distributed instructions for making the spreads, which will be constructed from scrap materials. The spreads must meet Red Cross specifications, being 36 by 58 inches, a top layer with backing, and the spreads must have ties which can fasten around wheel chairs. Club members plan to sew 10 to 15 of the spreads.

Dessert was served, and the birthday of Mrs. Lee Porter was observed with a cake.

The next meeting will be at 3 p.m., Sept. 27 in the home of Mrs. F. C. Appleton, Coahoma.

Mrs. Hull Feted At Baby Shower

Mrs. Dickie Hull was honored Tuesday with a baby shower in the home of Mrs. D. G. Harris, 1303 Dixie, with cohostesses being Mrs. Pete Anderson, Mrs. Dee Foster and Mrs. Buford Hull. Guests were registered by Miss Pam Foster.

The refreshment table was laid with a white cut work cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink candles, carnations and roses. Crystal appointments were used.

The honoree was presented a pink carnation corsage trimmed with tiny baby rattlers.

Birthday Dinner Is Sunday Event

Mrs. A. L. Gilstrap, 2102 Nolan, was honored at a dinner Sunday on her 74th birthday. Relatives attending were Dorothy Gilstrap, Romeo Gilstrap and Mr. and Mrs. B. Gilstrap, all of Big Spring; the B. J. Adames, Brownwood; the Odes Adams family, Monahans; and the J. C. Gilstrap family and Mrs. Eva Gilstrap, all of Colorado City.

AAUW Views Amendments

Proposed amendments to be on the November ballot were discussed during Monday's meeting of the Big Spring Branch, American Association of University Women.

Mrs. Cynthia Schaffer commented on several of the proposals, and the women agreed to support amendments 1, 4, 7, 8, 11 and 12. If the amendments pass, they feel state officials will have more interest and time to develop their programs. Also, they feel there would be more workable basic laws which would require less revision of the constitution and there would be less discrimination because of sex, race, color, creed or national origin.

Mrs. Julian Patterson and Mrs. Paul H. Allen presented a film on "Kaleidoscope," a creativity workshop for children, aged 6 to 12, which will be held here as a public service by Hallmark Cards Inc. The workshop is slated Sept. 27 to Oct. 1 at Lakeview School for all public school children in the specified age range. "Kaleidoscope" is designed to stimulate a child's imagination; promote active learning through seeing, touching, hearing, imagining, experiencing and appreciating; and encourage the exploration of new ways to creativity. The AAUW will join the PTA City Council, public school personnel and other groups in assisting with the art project.

Mrs. R. B. McDonald, president, led a general discussion on upcoming programs which concern today's emerging problems and issues. The AAUW studies will continue to focus on education, international relations, cultural events and topics relating to the community.

"Coming Elections" will be the theme of AAUW study groups which meet Oct. 2.

Blackboard, Music Among Needed Items

Blackboards and sheet music are among items needed by Westside Community Center according to reports heard Monday night by the board of directors.

Included on the list of "most wanted" items are a new piano, as well as any type of kitchen articles — from tea towels to dishes, pots and pans. The kitchen items will be utilized by members of a new home demonstration club which is scheduled to be formed at the center under the guidance of Miss Sherry Mullin, county HD agent. It is planned that out of this club will come a day care center.

The piano and sheet music is needed by the 31-member children's choir which is directed by Mrs. Joe Dawes. A resolution was drawn up to be sent to Peter Stone, who has moved to San Marcos, for his "two year's devotion as president of the Westside Community Center." Appreciation was also expressed to Stone and Bob Bell, both of whom donated stoves to be used by the HD club being formed at the center.

It was announced that sewing, knitting and crocheting classes have been changed to 7:30 p.m. every Thursday. Mrs. Robert Garcia is the instructor.

Building plans were discussed, and it was noted that paving and landscaping have not been completed.

Mrs. Ren Boodle presided during the election of new officers. They are Mrs. Caleb Hildebrand, president; Mrs. Douglas Williams, vice president and program chairman; Mrs. Efrean Abreo, secretary; Mrs. Herbie Smith, treasurer; and Mrs. John Hogan, publicity.

Funds May End Freeway Fuss

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Supporters of a controversial freeway, stalled for years over its planned route through parkland, received a boost Tuesday when the Senate passed a high-ways-mass transit bill.

Tacked on to the $18 billion bill was a provision permitting Texas to build San Antonio's so-called North Expressway on its own without using any federal funds.

Sponsored in the Senate by Republican John Tower and Democrat Lloyd Bentsen, the bill now goes to the house.

Conservationists have fought the expressway in the courts for more than a decade because its proposed route would cut through local parkland. It originally was to be built with federal money.

Construction began on both end sections but has been halted for months by legal maneuvers.

Conservationists and ecologists have held demonstrations and vigils along the planned route, planted trees where the expressway may one day be built, and issued studies proposing different routes.

Supporters of the freeway several months ago collected thousands of signatures on petitions urging that it be built.

Bumper stickers for and against it are still a common sight, although the controversy has been relatively dormant in recent months.

Named Houston Purchasing Agent

HOUSTON (AP) — L. Garland Bailey, 54, an aide to Mayor Louie Welch, was named city purchasing agent Tuesday by the City Council to replace Dan M. Brock who resigned to take a similar post with St. Luke's Hospital.

Bailey, first employed by the city in 1941, at one time was first assistant purchasing agent before transferring to the mayor's staff in 1968.

New Olds Line Goes On Display

Oldsmobile's 1973 lineup, featuring the new completely redesigned Cutlass models, will go on display here Thursday at Shroyer Motor Company, Third and Gollad.

From its compact Omega to the luxurious 98 and Toronado, Oldsmobile will span the 1973 automobile market with 27 models, two more than for this year. All models include a long list of engineering advancements.

Oldsmobile's new entry, the Omega, is built on a 111-inch wheelbase with an over-all length of 197.5 inches, with body styles including a two-door coupe, four-door sedan, and a hatchback coupe with a rear door that opens up to reveal a flat carpeted load floor. Front and rear bumpers are mounted rigidly to meet new requirements for front-end impacts up to five m.p.h. and rear barrier impacts up to 2.5. The standard has a 250-cubic-inch six-cylinder motor with a 350 V-4 four barrel unit optional. Power drum and power disc brakes also are optional, along with variable ratio power steering, turbo hydromatic transmission.

CUTLASS REDESIGNED
All intermediate Cutlass models have been completely redesigned. There are two Vista Cruisers, two Cutlass Supremes, one Cutlass, and two other Cutlass models. Front ends feature a single seven-inch headlamps in place of dual lights, yet with more candlepower on low beam than the dual headlights. New energy-absorbing front bumpers meet the new requirements.

The Vista Cruiser, built on a 116-inch wheelbase, has a lift-open tailgate with fixed window. Two special packages, the Salon and 4-4-2, are optional for 1973, and they create a highly personalized car with the sharp appearance and comfort of the

Pensacola's Fish Kill

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — A "huge and massive fish kill" in Pensacola's East Bay continued to take its toll today in thousands of dead menhaden and other fish, authorities reported.

"The fish are still dying—there's nothing we can do," Florida Marine Patrol Lt. Lewis Zangas said Monday.

"There's no way to estimate the number of dead fish. We just watch them popping up."

Causes of the fish kill spotted over the weekend on a five-mile long strip of East Bay were unknown.

Lack of oxygen and algae bloom were cited by Zangas as possible causes.

"Man-made conditions caused it—it's not normal there," he said. East Bay used to be one of the best areas."

Authorities feared the urbanization which has fouled Escambia Bay may be reaching into East Bay, relatively unaffected until recently.

The Pensacola-Escambia Bay region has been plagued by fish kills, including a continuous one in Texas Bayou where two tons of dead fish are carted up daily.

'SUICIDE' ARRESTED

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — William Evans was supposed to be dead, but police arrested him anyway.

Last Tuesday, police said, Evans parked a rented car on the city's Highland Park Bridge and left a suicide note inside, apparently to throw off detectives who were on his trail.

But after a tip from an informant, police arrested Evans Monday.

He was charged with auto theft, forging auto titles and stealing credit cards and jailed in lieu of $9,000 bond to await a trial.

Hefty Wheat Profits Yarn Said Untrue

HOUSTON (AP) — The manager of one of six grain exporters selling wheat to the Soviet Union said Tuesday that reports of big profits being made by them are untrue.

Frank Hemmen, manager of Cargill, Inc., also denied that American exporters got advance notice of the size of the Soviet purchase or of any increase in the U.S. subsidy payments.

Hemmen, who took part in the Russian grain sales negotiations, said grain dealers will be fortunate if they break even on the sales.

Without disclosing the size or the price of the Cargill sale, Hemmen said the world price of wheat on the Sept. 10 date of the sales was $1.63 a bushel.

"If we make any profit it will be about one per cent of the sale price, unheard of in any industry, and we won't know until May, 1973, whether we made that infinitesimal margin," he said.

Weldon V. Barton of the National Farmers Union told a U.S. House subcommittee Monday a windfall profit up to $100 million for the big grain companies could result from the Russian sale.

He said such a possibility would depend on whether dealers had inside information that would permit them to buy grain cheap from farmers and then hold it to sell as the price and subsidy payments rise.

The subsidy payment of 11 cents per bushel before the Soviet sale was raised to 47 cents for the week Aug. 25-Sept. 1. Cargill had no knowledge of the subsidy rise, Hemmen said, and could not have bought great quantities of wheat on short notice.

He said his firm had only several hours notice that the Soviets wished to discuss sales terms with the company.

Ways Are Sought To Bar Cattle Raiders Meet Friday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Conservation Foundation, working under government contract, urged the National Park Service to get out of the recreation business and preserve national parks as areas where the public can get a taste of real wilderness.

The foundation issued a 254-page report, "National Parks for the Future," urging the Park Service to bring people into the national parks, but to keep automobiles, house trailers, sport facilities and commercialism out.

Recommendations unlikely to find easy acceptance included:

—Legislation to involve the Smithsonian Institution and other agencies in the planning and staffing of the National Park Service's historical and cultural activities, paving the way for a separate agency "to take over those roles."

—Steps to reduce automobiles in national parks, including "an immediate moratorium on road building, parking lots and other auto-oriented improvements" and a study of other, more compatible systems of in-park transportation.

—Gradual elimination of in-park facilities run by private concessionaires, replaced by "non-profit, quasi-public corporations whose primary allegiance is to appropriate public use of the parks."

—A $100 billion "buy back America" program for federal acquisition and development of urban parks to be financed by taxing capital-gains profit on land speculation and by a 5 percent excise tax on sales of recreation vehicles and equipment.

—Camping within national parks should be primarily tent-camping, with house trailers and other private vehicles limited to the fringes.

William Donnell of Marathon, president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, will head a two-day meeting of the organization here Friday and Saturday at the Scharbauer Hotel in Midland.

The first day will be devoted mostly to committee meetings with the general session of the board of directors to be held Saturday.

Highlight of the two-day meeting will be a Friday noon address by Dolph Briscoe, Democratic candidate for Governor of Texas.

The directors of the cattlemen's association will place heavy emphasis on animal health conditions in the state during the Midland meeting.

Don C. King of Fort Worth, secretary and general manager of the association, said the screwworm condition in South Texas and in the Big Bend area of West Texas was the worst it has been since 1958.

John Armstrong of Kingsville, chairman of the animal health committee, will also give a report on the spread of other diseases from Mexico because of new highways going into use.

Donnell will preside at the general session Saturday. Joe A. Hubenal of Rosenberg will also give a special presentation of the spread of fire ants in East Texas.

Child Evangelism Workshop Is Set

Child Evangelism Fellowship of Howard County will hold its first fall workshop Thursday from 9:30 to 11 a.m. at 1600 Wood St. Those interested, will be making visualized songs and getting ideas and helps to make their classes of special interest to children.

The regular Teacher Training Class will begin a week later, Thursday, Sept. 28, also at 1600 Wood St., 9:30 to 11 a.m.

The local director, Miss Katie Raspiers, invites persons to attend the sessions geared to help the individual in the home, in the Sunday School and in the neighborhood. There is no charge except for materials needed to visualize songs or lessons one desires to purchase.

Kiwanis Antique Show Upcoming

The sixth annual Kiwanis antique show and sale has been set for Oct. 6-8 in the downtown convention center at Fort Worth.

The show is for benefit of needy children, said Zane Field, in charge of the show. So far there are 55 dealers from 20 states who have booked space for the show which will include a million items, according to officials. Hours are 12 noon to 10 p.m. except 8 p.m. on the final day.

Oldsmobile for '73

Cutlass. It's two new cars.

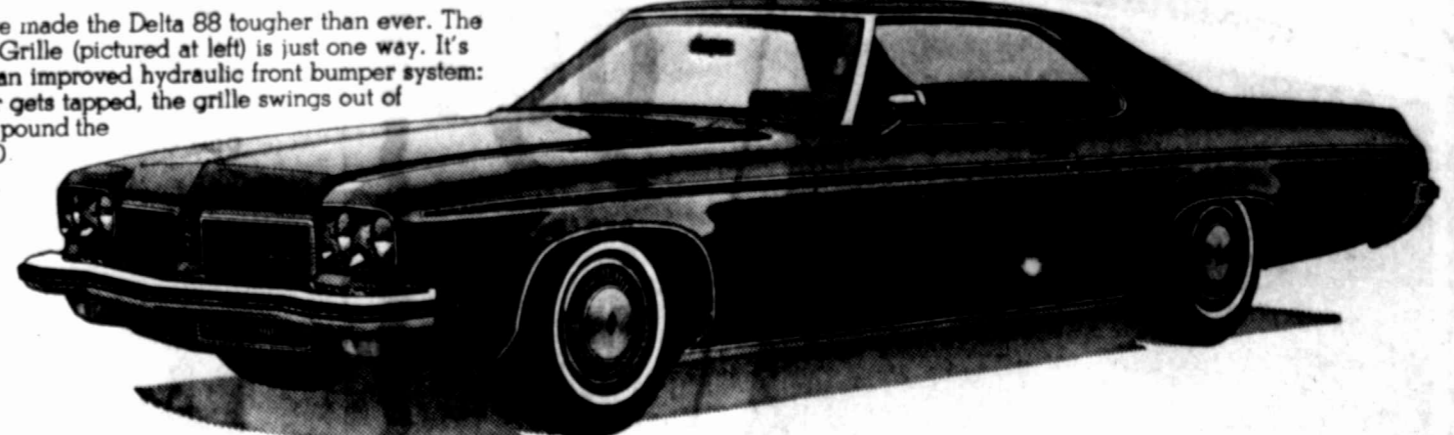

Cutlass S Colonnade Hardtop Coupe. Sportier this year. Roomier. Heavier. Yet surprisingly easy to own. Even if you order the new swivel bucket seats.

Cutlass Supreme Colonnade Hardtop Coupe (foreground). More of a little limousine than ever. You can see it in the formal roofline and new opera side windows. You can feel it in the spacious, quiet interior. And even in the ride we've patterned after our bigger Oldsmobiles.

Delta 88—with a new grille that swings out of harm's way.

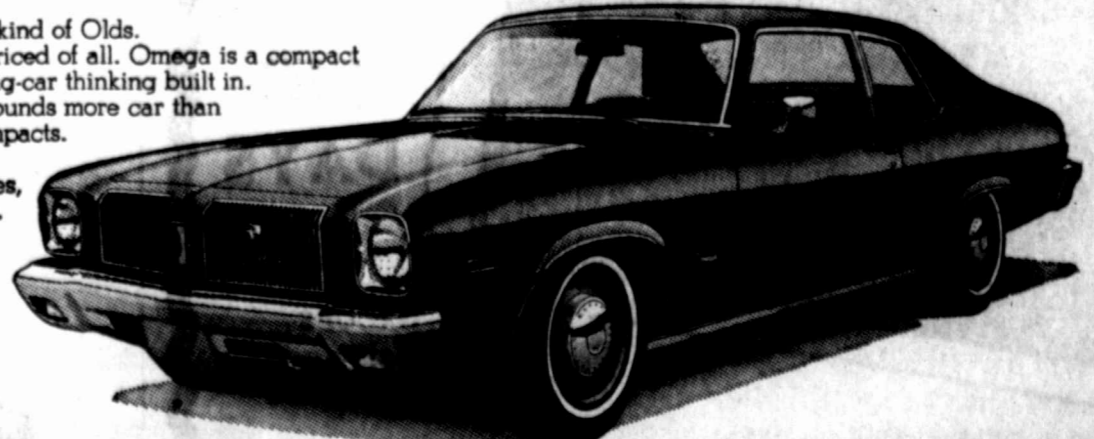

For '73, we've made the Delta 88 tougher than ever. The Swing-Away Grille (pictured at left) is just one way. It's teamed with an improved hydraulic front bumper system: if the bumper gets tapped, the grille swings out of the way. We found the seats 100,000 times, and drove the Delta 88 thousands of hard miles, to test durability. All to make sure it's more than just big, comfortable and smooth-riding—not just another pretty car.

Omega. The new compact Olds at a compact price.

And you can feel the difference on the road. A deluxe interior with new "wet-look" vinyl trim is standard. So is full carpeting. And a 250-cu.-in. engine. Coupe, 3-door hatchback or sedan, it's a lot of Olds for the money.

See the '73 Toronado, Ninety-Eight, all the new ones at your Olds dealer's showroom now.

FLAGSHIP OF THE FLEET — The all-new Chevrolet Monte Carlo is among the most changed of all seven Chevrolet car lines in 1973. Featuring beautifully sculptured side and rear-quarter metal, new grille, and an optional Landau or opera-type vinyl roof, the Monte Carlo is a styling classic. Many months of advanced chassis and suspension engineering work have given the Monte Carlo handling and roadability said to equal or surpass that of Europe's most expensive touring cars. Pollard Chevrolet Company is the local distributor.

Chevrolet Offers Three All-New Cars This Year

Chevrolet, which sells more cars and trucks than any other manufacturer in the world, in 1973 will offer three product lines that are completely new from the ground up... the Monte Carlo, the division's personal luxury car; an all-new Chevelle, and a completely restyled line of pickup trucks. Chevrolet's first new pickup truck in six years.

The 1973 Chevelles, featuring seven car series... from the top-of-the-line Caprice to the versatile Vega... give America's automobile buyer the greatest choice on styling features and safety innovations ever offered in the division's 62-year history.

In the model year that just ended, Chevrolet broke its all-time past sales record. Along the way new sales records were established for the Corvette, the Monte Carlo, the Caprice, the Nova, and the Vega... which gives some idea of the breadth of Chevrolet's current sales strength.

John Z. DeLorean, a General Motors vice president and general manager of Chevrolet, stated that "the '73 models are substantially improved in roadability, comfort and styling."

SERVICE INCLUDED
"In addition," DeLorean added, "Chevrolet dealers are undertaking an all new service program, called Service Supremacy, which should result in a giant step toward better service."

Wreck Results In Suit Here

Jurors are to decide whether Joe Carlos Rodriguez of Big Spring is entitled to compensation for a car destroyed in a one-car wreck.

Selection from 100 notified prospective jurors was to begin this morning in 118th District Court.

Rodriguez is suing Howard County Insurance Agency of Big Spring and Ranger County Mutual Insurance Co. of Houston for $2,000 plus $500 in attorney's fees.

The plaintiff's original petition alleges Rodriguez purchased a 1968 car here and also purchased insurance on Nov. 22, 1971, through the local agency.

On Nov. 23, his car was destroyed in a one-car accident, the plaintiff's original petition says.

Howard County Insurance Agency generally denied the allegations of the plaintiff.

In a motion for summary judgment, Ranger contends the plaintiff cannot recover because the binder would not have been effective until the day after the collision, according to the contract.

The Houston firm's motion concluded that the plaintiff indicated no contract was formed in a deposition.

Scurry County Fair To Open

SNYDER — The annual Scurry County Fair will open Thursday and continue through Friday.

Most exhibits will be in place Wednesday afternoon, but perishables may be entered from 8 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Thursday. This year's fair in the Scurry County Coliseum will not include a livestock division, or sections for field crops and textiles. All other sections, including commercial and educational booths, are intact.

Found Shot To Death At Grave Of Wife, Son

NEW BRAUNFELS, Tex. (AP) — The May 11 New Braunfels flood apparently has claimed another victim—a young man who was found shot to death at the grave of his wife and baby son who died in the rushing waters.

James Moos, 26, was buried Tuesday near the grave of his wife, Shirley, 24, and 21-month-old son, Brian in Saints Peter and Paul Catholic Cemetery.

Justice of the Peace John Fuhrman said Moos was found in a kneeling position, holding a .30.06 rifle with which he apparently had shot himself through the mouth.

Fuhrman ruled the death a suicide.

Moos' wedding ring had been removed from his hand and was placed on his wife's grave.

Police said Moos borrowed the rifle from a friend Sunday afternoon. Officers investigated when they received a report that gunshots were heard at the cemetery.

The young couple and their son lived in the Blueder Creek watershed, the area hardest hit by the flash flood that took 15 lives.

Mrs. Moos' grandfather, Edgar Brecher, said the family managed to get atop their house before it began floating, but were thrown off. Moos said later that he and his wife put the baby on top of a large tire floating nearby, but something struck them in the dark and he never saw his wife and son alive again. Moos was rescued, and the bodies of his wife and child were found later in the Landa Park area.

Moos is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Moos, and two brothers, Michael and John David Moos, all of New Braunfels.

super year for Chevrolet in 1973," he concluded.

The 1973 Chevrolet passenger cars and trucks are scheduled for public introduction on Thursday, Sept. 21.

All told, Chevrolet will offer 47 passenger car models in '73, eight more than in the previous year.

The new Monte Carlo... one of the industry's strongest candidates for Car-of-the-Year honors... has outstanding handling and roadability characteristics.

From its new impact resistant bumper and new roofline to its sculptured taillights, the Monte Carlo has redesigned interiors, instrument panel and steering wheel.

Also new is an acoustically-engineered double-panel roof while a power-operated all-metal sliding roof is optional.

Another customer-plus is a new 22-gallon fuel tank.

The full-size standard Chevrolet... the industry's top selling car... offers a new luxury series... the top-of-the-line Caprice Classic.

The Classic sports a convertible model for the first time along with two and four-door hardtops and a four-door sedan.

Also offered are two and three-seat Caprice Estate wagons which have a 125-inch wheelbase and the popular Glide-Away tailgate.

NAMES ARE KEYS
New station wagon names in 1973 are keyed to comparable Chevrolet series. Thus the former Kingswood becomes the Impala wagon and the Bel Air replaces the former Brookwood station wagon in the Chevrolet lineup.

Both Nova and Camaro have new model entries in 1973.

The Nova hatchback coupe features a lift-away deck and six feet of flat floor when the rear seat is in a downward position. Utility is the hallmark of this remarkably-handling small-family car either for in-town shopping or for country cruising or camping.

It's 1973, and Chevrolet roofs are opening, seats are swiveling, bumpers are retracting, hatches are flipping up.

Did you ever have so much to talk about that you didn't know what to say first?
We're happy to report that's us for 1973. But since everything must begin somewhere...

Isn't it romantic?

You see that rectangle beaming at you from above? That's a moonroof. Not to be confused with a sunroof. (Although many people will undoubtedly be caught using it like one.) A power roof is available on Chevelle and Monte Carlo; a manual one on Nova.

Bumpers are exciting?
This year's are something to get stirred up about. One of our new bumpers, for example, is built around twin hydraulic cylinders. So on minor impact, the whole system retracts to cushion the shock.

It's standard on all big Chevrolet, Chevelle and Monte Carlo models. Nineteen different models to choose from.

New Malibu Colonnade Hardtop Coupe.

New Nova Hatchback Coupe.

Look what we hatched

You know us for our little Vega Hatchback. Now dependable Nova has one. Which literally makes it half trunk with the backseat down. It's a feature as practical as Nova itself.

We've been thinking about your legs

One of the few things people asked us to improve in our popular Chevelle was leg room in the backseat. Well, your knees will be pleased with the '73s. There's almost 3 1/2 more inches in the sedans.

So what else is new

Naturally this is only a taste of what's new for '73.

Among other things, we're introducing larger gas tanks for longer cruising range, a new Exhaust Gas Recirculation system, a hatchback for wagons, and a highly refined flow-through power ventilation system.

Plus a reading light for front seat passengers, improved suspension systems, engines that give you performance combined with gas economy, reclining seats and scores of dramatic styling changes.

We invite you to see it all at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Building a better way to see the U.S.A.

(above) Caprice Coupe. Our new uppermost Chevrolet. Its luxury, comfort and quiet ride rival the most expensive cars you can buy.

(below) Monte Carlo 5 Coupe. America's newest road car. With the handling of the finest European cars, and the looks and comfort of an American car.

Pension Reforms: Congress Moves To Strengthen Rights Of Employees

By EDWARD NEILAN
Copley News Service

WASHINGTON — Battle lines are forming on regulation of private pension plans.

The multibillion-dollar pension system, once the exclusive province of labor and management, is rapidly becoming a consumer issue. A legislative showdown on the question, which affects millions of Americans, is expected early next year.

PRIVATE PLANS

Contenders in the controversy over pension legislation range from supporters of modest changes to those who champion a complete overhaul.

Private pension plans now hold more than $137.1 billion in assets and cover more than 39 million persons. They paid an estimated $7.3 billion in benefits to 4.7 million retired persons in 1970. Assets in these funds are growing at the rate of $10 billion a year.

The three main approaches to pension plan regulation reform are:

1. In the Senate, a small bipartisan coalition is backing a proposal (S 3598) sponsored by Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr., D-N.J., and Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y. This approach, generally supported by the labor movement and opposed by most industry associations, is designed to solve pension problems of the future. But present inequities would not be corrected.

SWEEPING BILL

2. In the House, a pension study task force under Labor subcommittee Chairman Rep. John H. Dent, D-Pa., has completed the first phase of a new inquiry into pension issues. Legislation is expected to be drafted late this year.

3. The White House, which backed a relatively modest proposal in 1967, sent Congress a tougher, more sweeping bill (HR 12272) at the end of 1971. Meanwhile, the Nixon administration has nearly completed an updated study of private pension problems.

Some supporters of pension reform legislation state that unless Congress acts to strengthen private pensions, pressures will continue building up to expand the Social Security system and that this will overburden both employees and employers who pay the costs.

Newest forces on the pension scene, according to the National Journal Research Service, is consumer advocate Ralph Nader.

MAIL 'AMAZING'

Nader began an investigation of private pension plans two years ago. In 1971 he circulated a questionnaire to more than 800 people who complained about problems with their pension plans. According to a Nader staff member, the continuing volume of mail on pension is "amazing."

Results of the Nader questionnaire and his group's approach to corrective legislation will be incorporated in a book "You and Your Pensions," to be published this fall.

TAX DEDUCTION

Major provisions of Nader's proposal call for:

1. Setting up a limited number of private institutions regulated by the Security Exchange Commission to administer pension funds.

2. Giving tax deductions to employers, employees and the self-employed for money they contribute to individual retirement accounts in these institutions and providing immediate vesting of money for employees.

3. Allowing employees with pension funds deposited in these institutions a voice in how the money is invested.

OUT OF BUSINESS

The drive for reform is based on criticism — including some from influential Democratic and Republican members of Congress — that existing laws governing private pensions are so lax that millions of employees enrolled in the plans collect no benefits even after many years of service.

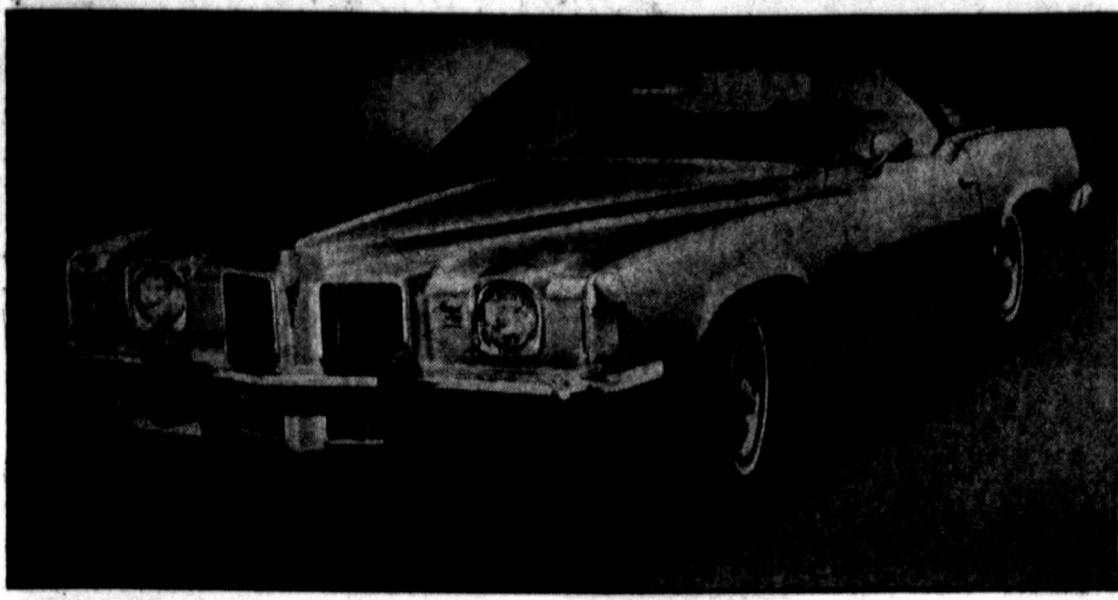

Some lose their pensions because their parent companies go out of business, merge with other companies or move their plants to new locations.

Many employees in the present highly mobile society leave their jobs before they meet the sometimes rigorous qualifications to become eligible for benefits.

Most of the money to finance private pension plans comes from employers. They contributed more than $12.5 billion to the funds last year while employees paid in about $1.4 billion.

NO FAIR

No law requires private employers to provide pension plans. Many of the larger plans have resulted from collective bargaining between management and unions.

PERSONAL GRAND PRIX — Front end styling on the 1973 Grand Prix is an interpretation of Pontiac's traditional split center theme. Single headlamps with parking lamps on the leading edge of the fenders add to the distinctive look. Immediately noticeable in profile is the new fixed rear quarter window which blends with the classic styling and improves visibility. All-new Grand Prix instrument panels result in greater reliability and ease of service. Joe Hicks Motor Company is the local dealer.

Emission Control, Bumpers Featured On New Pontiacs

Pontiac for 1973 features a new sporty intermediate, fresh new styling and continued engineering improvement in energy-absorbing bumpers and emission control.

There are 33 models in the new Pontiac lineup including 13 full-size Pontiacs, two Grand Am and seven LeMans intermediates, four Firebirds, six Venturas and the Grand Prix. The addition to the intermediate line is the stunning new Grand Am which incorporates classic styling with unique ride and handling characteristics. A distinctive body-colored front bumper and flexible rubber-like urethane front end panel combine functional styling with engineering to give an improved bumper system.

On most 1973 models, Pontiac has front bumpers which exceed the requirements of the Federal bumper standards by being completely self-restoring in a five-mile-per-hour barrier test. A new carburetor choke design contributes to substantial reduction in hydrocarbon and carbon monoxide emissions. On the initial cold start the choke is on strong for improved driveability, but is pulled off more rapidly as the engine warms up for improved emission control and fuel economy.

Also new for 1973 is a duct system directing cold air to the carburetor. This increases maximum engine power and allows greater spark advance with a consequent increase in fuel economy.

The standard Pontiacs feature an all new front end with the grilles for 1973 extending the full width of the front, wrapping around the leading edge of the fenders.

The new bumper system on the front of all full-size and intermediate Pontiacs and the Grand Prix features a new energy-absorbing unit mounted to the frame that can compress up to three inches and return to normal position when the force is removed.

This unit utilizes heavy telescoping steel chambers, pressurized gas and hydraulic fluid to absorb the impact.

Protective rub strips and bumper guards are available. The new rear bumper on all Pontiac full-size and intermediate-size cars except Safaris is backed up with a high strength steel-boxed beam reinforcement. The bumper is supported with flexible steel bars to form a spring system.

Extensive changes have been made on the 1973 engines to meet more stringent exhaust emission standards with no reduction in engine performance or driveability. In fact, over-all driveability and fuel economy will, in most instances, be significantly better.

REDUCES OXIDES

A new EGR (exhaust gas recirculation) system helps reduce oxides of nitrogen to 1973 standards. This system introduces exhaust gas into the air fuel mixture in the intake manifold, when required, lowering peak combustion temperature with consequent reduction of NOX.

1973 Olds Ninety-Eight:

Who could ask for more car... or more value!

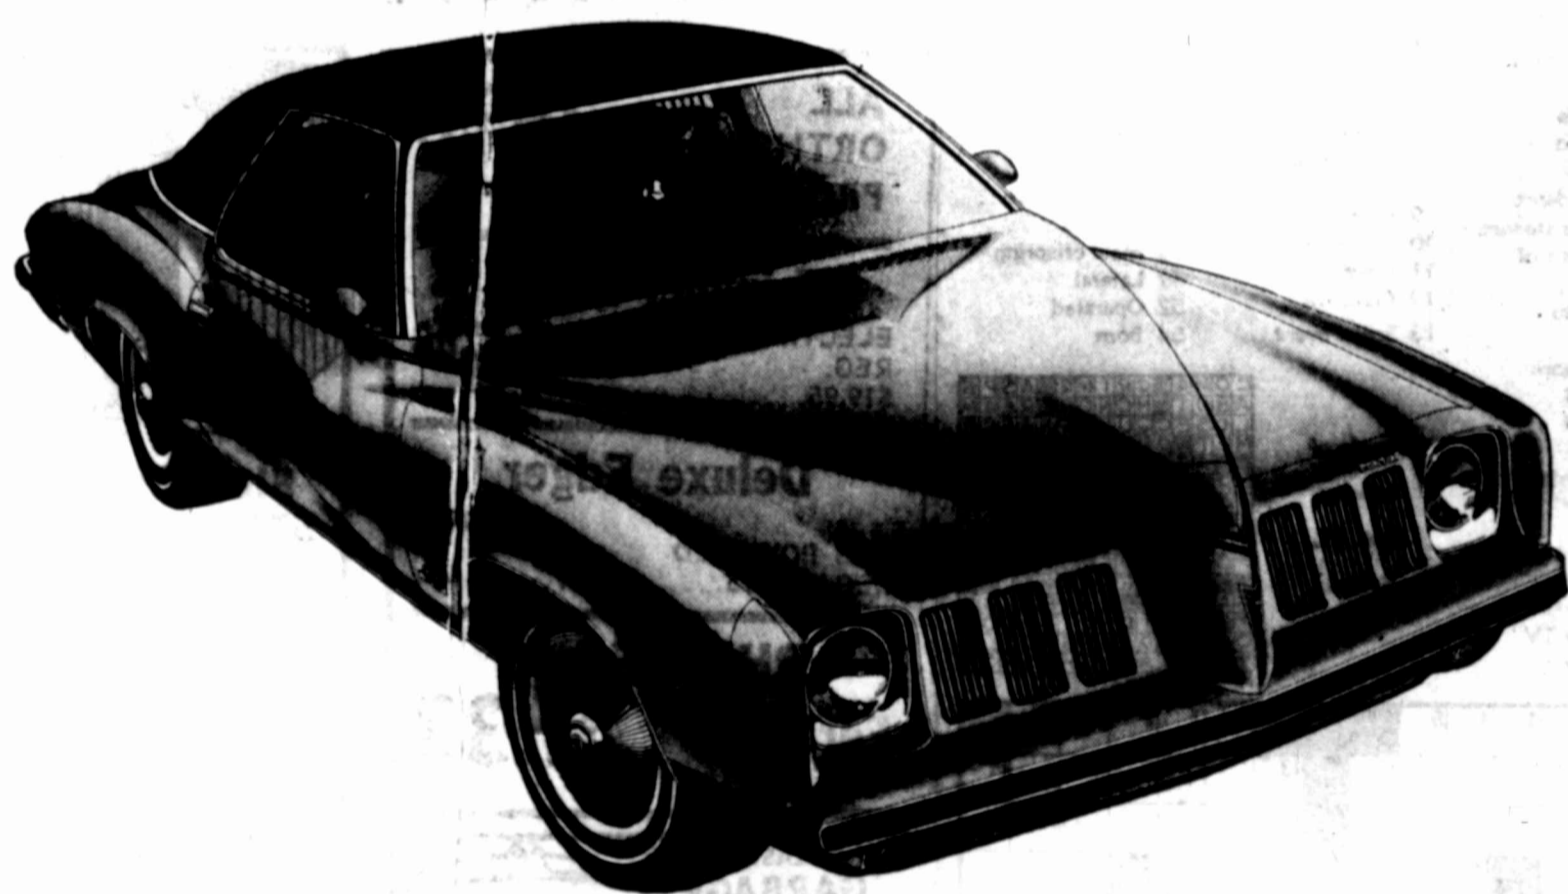

Value has always been an important Oldsmobile trait. And it probably has never been more evident than in the 1973 Oldsmobile Ninety-Eight. With spacious interior, solid-foam front seat and a road-smoothing 127-inch wheelbase, it puts a lot of car under you. There are perhaps five or six American cars that can be considered in the Ninety-Eight's class. Several are more expensive. But we don't think any are more car.

Take a test drive and draw your own conclusions at...

Who in America would introduce a new car like this?

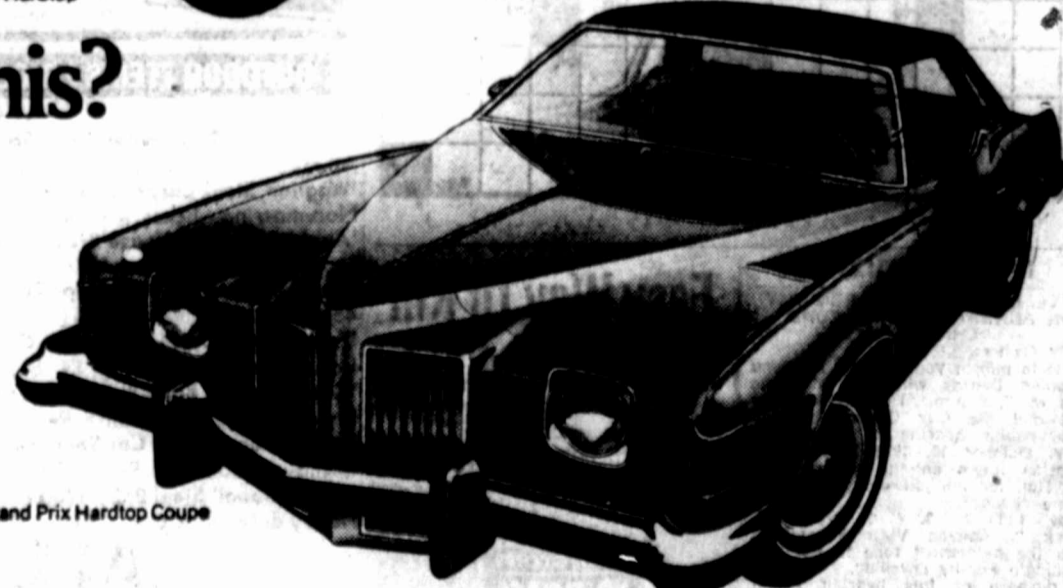

Grand Am with Colonnade Hardtop styling

Luxury LeMans 4-cyl. Colonnade Hardtop

And styling like this?

Grand Prix Hardtop Coupe

And a classic like this?

(Only Pontiac would. Pontiac introduces the first Grand Am. It has the feel of a Grand Prix. The handling of a sports car. The characteristics you've admired in fine road cars. (That could make it the newest American car ever.) (The 1973 Luxury LeMans has been totally restyled. With great benefits. Improved bumpers. Excellent visibility. A strong, new roof.

The classic Grand Prix is designed around a single principle. Spare nothing, compromise nothing, the driver is all-important. You'll understand when you get behind the wheel.

Pontiac has more news, too. New comfort for Catalina, Bonneville and Grand Ville. A new low-priced Ventura Hatchback. For our Firebirds, stronger bumpers, nicer interiors. Shouldn't you see a Pontiac dealer? Soon?

Buckle up for safety.

Better Move

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

DEPARTURE: (Q.) My mother and father are getting a divorce. She says it will be final in October, and I will live with her. She says we will have to leave this town.

I was born here and have been in school here since kindergarten. All my friends are here and I don't want to leave. I am popular, I make good grades and I don't think I could do any better anywhere else. What should I do? — Home Loving Girl in New Mexico.

(A.) Your mother apparently has made an agreement to move and to take you with her.

If you ask her I believe she will tell you this is so.

If it is, you have no choice but to go with her. If you were older, say out of high school, you might be able to get a job and stay there. But your handwriting tells me you are about 13.

You can find new friends in your new town. You can make good grades. Work at it positively and you can do as well or better in a new place as you are doing where you are.

Plan to write some of your best friends; have one or two visit you occasionally if possible. Start immediately looking for new friends in your new school and town.

Versatones Play At Legion Hall

Legion members will get a chance to hear the Versatones combo, the band chosen for the impending 19th District autumn convention, this weekend.

This is a local group, post officials stressed, and it will play at the American Legion hall from 9 p.m. to midnight Sunday.

The executive committee of Post 355 decided Tuesday to engage the Versatones for the district meeting here Oct. 14-15.

Regular meeting of the post is set for 8 p.m. Thursday.

HOMECOMING: (Q.) What's the word on homecoming dances? Can a high schooler invite a college freshman? Can a girl invite a boy? Who pays for the tickets to the dance? — Waiting for the Night in New Jersey.

(A.) Yes, you can invite that college freshman. You pay for the tickets unless he offers to pay, and you know he can afford them.

CARROT-AND-STICK Power Battle Over Chum Of Governor

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — After a day off for party political conventions, Texas legislators return to work today in an atmosphere heated by a carrot-and-stick power battle over a chum of Gov. Preston Smith.

Committees in both chambers planned afternoon meetings on Smith's requests for competitive insurance rate legislation and greater budget authority.

But the big topic as lawmakers came back to the Capitol was: Will the Senate confirm Secretary of State Bob Bullock in a new job to which Smith appointed him Monday, chairman of the State Board of Insurance?

He denied using committee assignments as leverage to secure votes against Bullock.

Bullock frequently criticized Barnes during the Democratic primary campaign for governor this year. Both Barnes and Smith failed to make the runoff. Barnes did not openly fight Bullock's confirmation as secretary of state during the June special session. But senators did reject Smith's selection of Larry Teaver, another close friend of the governor, as insurance board chairman. Smith has left that position vacant and said Bullock would remain in his present job until confirmed as board chairman.

Smith aides also called senators Tuesday, seeking votes for Bullock's confirmation.

There were indications that the governor's tactics might include opening his special session call to bills favored by various wavering senators.

ALL FACTIONS GET A LITTLE ACTION

Briscoe Controls Convention

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Dolph Briscoe gave a little and took a little Tuesday in controlling the September Democratic state convention.

There was scant mention of the national Democratic ticket during the nine-hour session but supporters of Sen. George McGovern were exuberant later, claiming they had outmaneuvered George Wallace's people.

JUST A LITTLE

Actually everybody got a little of what they wanted — which was the way Briscoe planned the convention.

Briscoe not only managed to keep the warring factions under control at the convention but he also was successful in placing key supporters as heads of the State Democratic Executive Committee and on the National Democratic Executive Committee.

The new 65-member State Democratic Executive Committee contains only 11 members that served during the Gov. Preston Smith regime. A number of these are McGovern and Wallace backers who have not had a hand in politics at the state level before.

All members of the state and national committees are sworn to support the party nominees.

A party platform drafted by Briscoe's people received only minor changes at the hands of the convention. It takes a mild stand against forced school busing and a strong stand for law and order legislation. It also calls for a code of ethics for public officials that would make all of them, down to the local level, file financial reports.

FACE THE FUTURE

"Let us face the future with a Texas Democratic party which is alive and vital, a party whose strength is forged by the fires of diversity," Briscoe said in his keynote address.

The "fires of diversity" appeared numerous times during the convention as tempers flared over political differences.

About 14 delegates from Smith County (Tyler), each carrying Confederate flags and sporting large Wallace buttons, staged a small demonstration and walked out of the convention hall. "We got tired of just sitting," said Mrs. Sarah

Wright, Tyler, "We're sick of the Democrats and I think I'll vote for Henry Grover (Republican candidate for governor)."

CONTROVERSY

The convention's closest and most controversial vote came over a suggested resolution supporting the farm workers lettuce boycott. Chairman Will David at first said a voice vote defeated the resolution. There was instant chaos amid demands for a roll call. A poll of delegations, after a long delay in convention proceedings, showed the resolution approved 1,800 to 1,804.

The convention accepted Briscoe's recommendations that Calvin Guest of Bryan, his campaign manager, be the new state Democratic chairman, succeeding the controversial Roy Orr of Dallas. Sen. Barbara Jordan, a Democratic nominee for Congress from Houston, was named vice chairman, and Miss Juliana Cowden of Alvarado, secretary.

The convention chose Mrs. Billie Carr of Houston, prominent McGovern supporter; Hall Timanus of Houston, state campaign manager for Wallace, and Sen. Joe Bernal of San Antonio, as the three new members of the National Democratic Committee. Guest, Miss Jordan and Miss Cowden will also serve on the national committee along with the current national committee members Jess Hay of Dallas, and Mrs. Jane Blumberg of Seguin.

NO ATTEMPT

There was no official attempt during the convention to urge support of the McGovern-Shriver ticket, other than the pledge state and national committee officials took to support party nominees.

Briscoe made no mention of the national ticket in his keynote speech. As a "uncommitted delegate to the Miami Beach National convention he was leader in the stop McGovern movement, later voting for Wallace then switching to McGovern after the result was obvious.

John Hill, nominee for attorney general, commented in a speech on the McGovern-Shriver ticket and the crowd broke out in an uproar of both cheers and boos. It was impossible to tell which was loudest.

HE'LL KEEP IT FOR A WHILE — Mrs. Robert L. Crippen touches her astronaut-husband's beard minutes after he and astronauts Dr. William Thornton and Karol Bobko ended a 56-day stay in an altitude isolation chamber. The exercise, called the Skylab Medical Evaluation Altitude Test, was to test equipment and food that will fly in space next year. Of her husband's beard, Mrs. Crippen said: "He can keep it for a little while." The test was conducted in a chamber at the Manned Spacecraft Center.

Astronauts Come Out

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Three bearded and happy astronauts returned to the outside world today, ending a 56-day altitude chamber isolation test.

Astronauts Robert L. Crippen, Dr. William E. Thornton and Karol J. Bobko walked through the hatch of the chamber and were greeted and embraced by their wives and families.

REAL NICE

"Man, is it nice to get out!" exclaimed Crippen, the commander of the test crew who appeared in a shaggy, dark full-faced beard. "The last 56 days weren't as tough as I thought they would be."

The astronauts entered the altitude chamber to begin the experiment, called the Skylab Medical Evaluation Altitude Test (SMEAT), on July 26. They lived in a chamber outfitted with equipment and supplies that will be used next year on the long-term space flights of an orbital workshop called Skylab.

The three spacemen subsisted on the same food that will be carried aboard Skylab and performed many of the same medical experiments planned for that mission.

"You better pick the company you will be with on Skylab," said Thornton. "I couldn't have made a better choice." Thornton served as the medical doctor on the test mission. Bobko, sporting a reddish brown beard, said, "Skylab crews will find their home quite livable."

BIG MEAL

The astronauts were awakened at 5:45 a.m. (CDT) with a Navy call to "Man your mops!" An hour and 15 minutes later they emerged to the joyous welcomes from their families.

Among those greeting them were the parents and sister of Crippen and the parents of Bobko.

Thornton, known as something of a gourmet, had been chafing the past few days at the Skylab diet. He and the other two face two more weeks of it, and after that Thornton plans a big meal of his own choosing.

"I'm afraid it'll be glutinous and not gourmet," he said. The astronauts planned to breakfast with their families and then begin at once a long medical debriefing.

Bible Fund Gains Additional $120

A $100 donation from D. L. Dorland, Midland oil producer, helped move the Big Spring High School Bible Fund closer to its goal of $5,500.

Although the drive for funds ended 10 days ago, gifts for the course being taught at the local high school continue to come in. Another $20 check from Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Chapman was also received, moving the grand total to $5,387.50.

Dorland asked that his gift be given in memory of Frankie Wagoner.

Weather Balloon Falls On Farm

A 900-pound weather balloon fell on a Gail Route farm managed by Neil Crosby, the Sheriff's Office learned Tuesday.

To retrieve the balloon, a truck was driven over the crop, and Crosby is seeking compensation for the damages he said resulted. Bill Whitton, chief deputy sheriff, said Crosby planned to keep the balloon at the house there until compensated.

Sox Regain Top In East

Double Loss Knocks Detroit Out Of First

By The Associated Press
Elsewhere in the AL, Minnesota topped Texas 5-3, Kansas City took California 7-2 and Chicago took Oakland 8-7 in 15 innings.
In the National League, Pittsburgh dumped New York 5-1 clinching a tie for the NL East title, Cincinnati reduced its magic number in the West to four by beating San Francisco 5-4, Montreal thumped Chicago 7-2, Houston edged Atlanta 5-3, St. Louis edged Philadelphia 2-1 in 10 innings and San Diego topped Los Angeles 5-2.
Bill Parsons throttled New York on six hits and George Scott and Johnny Briggs tagged consecutive homers for the Brewers. And, believe it or not, the Brewers felt the pennant pressure every bit as much as the Yankees.
"Here's really more pressure on us than on New York, Boston, Detroit and Baltimore," said Scott, "because we don't want to be on a last place club the rest of our careers. Every win means something for us, if only for morale next spring."

ORTA BLASTS HOMER

White Sox Defeat Athletics, 8-7

OAKLAND (AP) — Jorge Orta tagged a one-out home run in the 15th inning Tuesday night, giving the Chicago White Sox a vital 8-7 American League baseball victory over the Oakland A's.
The victory moved the White Sox within four games of Oakland in the AL West championship race and kept the A's magic number for clinching the title at nine.
Orta's homer came against Gary Waslewski, the record-breaking 50th player to appear in the game. The A's used 29 players, a record for one team, and the White Sox used 21.
The A's missed a golden opportunity to win it in the 14th when they loaded the bases with one out. But Dave Duncan missed a squeeze bunt and two Oakland runners, Reggie Jackson and Catfish Hunter wound up on third base in the ensuing rundown. Hunter was declared out and the Sox escaped the jam.
The A's bounced from behind twice to tie the score. Duncan's 19th home run following a lead-off single by Sal Bando tied it at 7-7 in the bottom of the 13th after Luis Alvarado had drilled a two-run single in the top of the inning for the White Sox.
Joe Rudi's two out single in the bottom of the ninth had driven in two runs and tied the score at 5-5 for the A's.
Alvarado tagged a homer in the ninth for the Sox and Ed Hermann connected in the fourth.

Astros Clip Braves Behind Wilson, 5-3

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Righthander Don Wilson, working out of bases-loaded jams in the first and third innings, recorded his 13th victory Tuesday night as Houston slipped past Atlanta 5-3 and maintained its slim hopes in the National League West.
The Astros remained 7 1/2 games off the pace of the Cincinnati Reds, who beat San Francisco and sliced their magic number to four. Houston has five games remaining with the Reds.
"I was having a little trouble with the mound right at the start," said Wilson who yielded only one run while stranding seven Braves in the first three innings.
Wilson worked seven innings, before Leo Durocher lifted him.
"He (Durocher) didn't ask me if I was tired," Wilson said. "He just said 'I'd had enough'."
Doug Rader smacked his 21st home run in the seventh to stake the Astros to a 4-1 lead.
Atlanta went in front 1-0 in the first on Ralph Garr's double and Felix Millan's single, but Houston rallied for three in the third after two were out on run-scoring singles by Jim Wynn and Lee May and a double by Cesar Cedeno.

TOVAR STARS IN WIN Twins Trip Rangers, 5-3

MINNEAPOLIS—St. Paul (AP) — Cesar Tovar, the littlest Minnesota Twin, enjoyed one of the biggest games of his major league baseball career Tuesday night.
And even if he couldn't provide the American translation of "hitting for the cycle," the 5-foot-9 Venezuelan knew his homer, triple, double and single carried the Twins to a 5-3 victory over the Texas Rangers.
"I think maybe I got one or two in the minor leagues and in Caracas," Tovar beamed. "I don't remember one in the big league. What do you call it, anyway?"
Tovar, who raised his batting average five points to .261, saved his two-run homer for his last at-bat—with one out in the last of the ninth inning off reliever Paul Lindblad, 5-8. He tripled in the first and scored the game's first run on Steve Braun's single.
He singled in the fifth and doubled in the seventh.
"I feel comfortable for the first time," Tovar said. "I been coming to the ball park at 4 o'clock every day to see Doc Lenz for my back. It's okay now."
He was struck by a pitch Aug. 9 in a game against Texas and suffered a hairline fracture of his right shoulder. Despite the injury, Tovar has appeared in 129 of the club's 141 games.
"It hurt to swing," Tovar said, "but now it no longer bothers me."
His batting capped a not-so-dull September game between non contenders.
Bob Darwin, in his first at-bat since he was struck in the head Saturday by Kansas City pitcher Dick Drago, slammed a two-run homer in the first inning.

NBA Rockets Sell Rights

HOUSTON (AP) — For a second straight day, the Houston Rockets of the National Basketball Association were involved in a player deal Tuesday, selling negotiating rights on rookie 6-10 center John Gianelli to the New York Knicks of the NBA.
The Rockets sold reserve center Dick Cunningham to Milwaukee while buying center-forward Don Smith from Seattle Monday.
Gianelli, from the University of the Pacific, was the second round draft choice of the Rockets but they could never come to terms.
Ray Patterson, Rockets general manager, said he didn't think the Knicks will have similar problems.
"There's no way they would pay us the amount of money they paid for Gianelli unless they could sign him," Patterson said, while refusing to name the purchase price.
Gianelli didn't figure in current Rocket starting plans, Patterson said.
"The kind of money he wanted we weren't going to move into the future," he said, adding that apparently, "the Knicks have different priorities than we do."
"The good thing about it (the sale of Gianelli) is that it's an exchange for Don Smith," Patterson said. "Instead of having a rookie like Gianelli for our second round draft choice, we get a veteran like Smith in that spot."
"We traded our first round draft choice for Otto Moore (a five year veteran center) and having them as number one and number two choices is a pretty good deal. This puts us ahead of what we felt we would have at this time."

STEERS WORK OUT — The Big Spring Steers run through drills Tuesday afternoon in preparation for Friday night's contest with the Snyder Tigers. The kick-off for the game in Snyder is set for 8 p.m. This will be the last non-district game for the Steers this season.

BS Steers Prep For Snyder Tigers

The Big Spring Steers continued to run through their paces Tuesday in preparation for the last non-conference game of the season against the Snyder Steers in Snyder Friday.

According to Steer Head Coach Clovis Hale, the injured players on the Steer roster are getting well and will probably see action against Snyder. Hale was referring in particular to fullback-linebacker Dick Conley, running back-safety Earl Reynolds and running back-robber Barry Truette. Two players are still considered doubtful for the Snyder game. They are guard Mike Parker and defensive tackle Vicky Woodruff. Parker suffered a severely sprained ankle in the Lubbock Monterey game and Woodruff is having problems with his appendix.

Snyder is a rugged defensive ballclub. The Tigers will bring a 1-1 mark into Friday's game. Snyder defeated Dunbar in the opener, 3-0, and fell to Midland Lee, 16-0, after holding the heavily-favored Rebels to only a field goal until midway through the fourth quarter.

The Snyder defenders have tremendous size with three linemen weighing in at 200-plus pounds. The largest man on the Snyder line is left tackle Mickey Gonzales, a 258-pounder. Observers feel that the best athlete on this defense-oriented club is linebacker Welton Cobb, a 192-pound sophomore. Cobb, who also plays tailback on offense, runs a 9.6 century and is considered an "excellent" line.

In looking back at the 23-14 loss to Hobbs last Friday, Hale said there were three reasons for the loss. He cited the second-quarter fumble inside the Steer nine-yard line, the missed field goal with four minutes left in the game and the Steers' inability to get the ball back and the absence of five starters in the game. The five absent starters were Conley, Reynolds, Truette, Woodruff and Parker.

Despite the second narrow defeat, Hale emphasized that the players "are not down." Hale said he feels that the Steers play the toughest "non-district" schedule of any team in the district. He added that he feels that the experience gained in the two opening losses will benefit the Steers in district play.

The Snyder contest will kick off at 8 p.m. Friday.

Arena Sites Down To One

HOUSTON (AP) — The city of Houston, which has been looking at three possible sites for a new sports arena, apparently was down to only one after a meeting Tuesday. But more sites are expected by the Sept. 26 cutoff date for again investigating a place to house hockey, basketball and other sports.

Developers of the downtown Allen Center informed city councilmen Tuesday they were withdrawing their offer to give the city 2.5 acres of land for such an arena.

And Ed Davis, a consulting engineer for the city, said he would not recommend building the arena on present city land in the downtown civic center. He said the small area would make it necessary to cantilever the building out over surrounding streets, which could be costly.

He also said present parking in the civic center area could not support the new arena.

That left open an offer of the suburban Greenway Plaza office development which has proposed to give the city seven acres for the arena, and also guarantee it a share of the revenue from existing parking garages and lots.

In the audience but not speaking Tuesday was Reuben Askans, president of the Houston Sports Association which leases the county-owned Astrodome. He was asked if his organization had a proposal for a sports arena near the Astrodome and replied, "No comment."

Mayor Louie Welch said later, however, that he understood the Astrodome interests would make a proposal.

Bradshaw Earns 'Player Of Week'

NEW YORK (AP) — When Terry Bradshaw was a rookie during the 1970 National Football League season, he threw four interceptions in a game against the Oakland Raiders, who easily whipped Bradshaw and the Pittsburgh Steelers 31-14.

The blond quarterback's return match against the Raiders last Sunday was a lot more successful even though he threw three interceptions. He scored two touchdowns and passed for another as the Steelers won 34-28.

Bradshaw's performance, which included rushing for 49 yards and completing seven of 17 passes for 124 yards, earned him Associated Press Offensive Player of the Week honors.

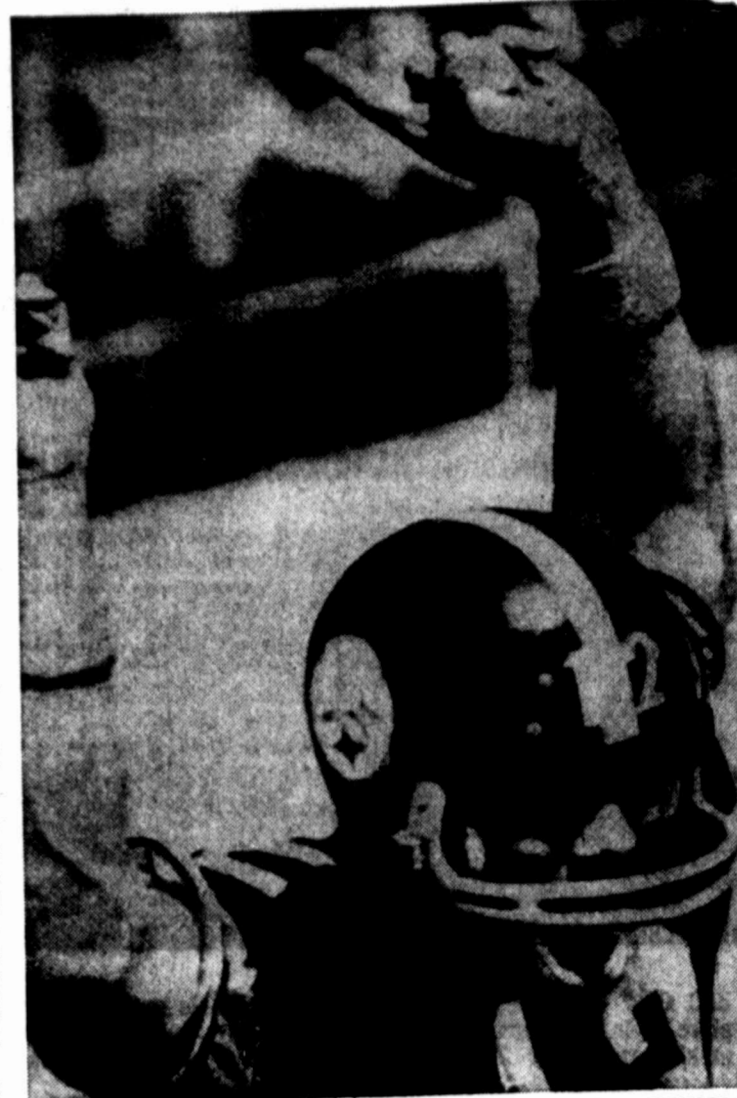

The third-year pro was the Steelers No. 1 pick in the 1970 NFL draft. He had been selected as the Little All-America quarterback while playing at Louisiana Tech.

Bradshaw never received the sideline training of most pro quarterbacks. He started the first seven games of his rookie season before giving way to Terry Hanratty, a second-year man. The time spent on the bench must have made an impression on Bradshaw, who came back last season to start at but one game and lead the Steelers in rushing touchdowns with five.

Pittsburgh has never won a title, league, conference or division. But Bradshaw is the player that the Steelers' owner, Art Rooney, and head Coach Chuck Noll, are counting on to lead the way toward the Super Bowl.

Other top performances on the first Sunday of the regular season came from Greg Landry of Detroit, who threw three touchdown passes against the New York Giants; John Brodie of San Francisco, who passed for three TDs and Gene Washington who scored them against San Diego, and Miami running back Larry Csonka, who rushed for 121 yards against Kansas City.

Bob Thomas of Los Angeles rushed for 144 yards and two touchdowns against New Orleans while Bob Berry of Atlanta threw one TD pass and scored twice against Chicago and John Riggin of the New York Jets rushed for 125 yards against Buffalo.

ELATED WINNER — Steelers quarterback Terry Bradshaw pokes his fingers into the air after scrambling for a 21-yard quarterback sneak touchdown in Pittsburgh Sunday in action with the Oakland Raiders. The 24-year-old native of Shreveport, La., has been named offensive player of the week in a poll by The Associated Press. The Steelers defeated the Raiders, 34-28.

Smith, Powell Cop Top Player Honors

David Standefer and J. T. Both Franklin and Padron are seniors. A pair of seniors shared "Back of the Week" honors for the Stanton Buffaloes. Quarterback Rick Wilson ran for one touchdown and completed five of nine passes for 67 yards as he directed the Buffaloes to their second win of the season, a 27-6 trouncing of O'Donnell. Fullback Larry Jones carried seven times for 83 yards and one touchdown to earn a share of the "Back of the Week" honors at Stanton.

Henry Olivarez, a defensive back, earned "Back of the Week" honors for his performance in the Borden County Coyotes' 35-6 romp over Dawson.

Dennis Day copped "Lineman of the Week" honors at Forsan. Day, a defensive lineman, had 15 unassisted tackles to receive the recognition.

D. W. Powell graded the highest of any Big Spring Steer offensive lineman against Hobbs to receive "Lineman of the Week" selection by the Steer coaching staff. Hale commented, "He (Powell) was our only lineman with a good night." Powell is a 213-pound tackle.

Sophomore Putt Choate was selected by the Coahoma coaching staff as "Lineman of the Week." Choate, a linebacker, had 12 unassisted tackles and earned 43 defensive points against the Colorado City Wolves.

Audrey Brummett was selected as "Lineman of the Week" by Borden County Head Coach Bob Dyess for his performance at guard in the Coyotes' win over Dawson Friday night.

Oilers Release Mark Moseley; Acquire Butler

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Oilers sent placekicker Mark Moseley packing Tuesday and picked up Skip Butler, former University of Texas-Arlington kicker who was waived earlier in the year by the New York Giants.

Moseley said he was bewildered by Coach Bill Peterson's decision.

"I thought I'd done all right," he said, "especially considering all the trouble we've had with our holders. I don't really know what they expected of me. I'm no superhuman."

Peterson said he expected more long-distance accuracy from the third-year man from Stephen F. Austin, who last year was the American Conference's most accurate kicker inside the 40-yard line.

"It was more of a distance factor than anything else," Peterson said. "I decided after the Denver game Moseley just wasn't going to be able to provide what we needed."

Moseley said his problems came about after quarterback Lynn Dickey was injured and the Oilers tried seven different holders before settling on rookie running back Al Johnson.

In other moves Tuesday the Oilers cut Jim Fassel, a rookie quarterback acquired last week from San Diego, and activated tight end Jim Butler from the taxi squad.

That left a taxi team opening for Kent Nix, former Chicago Bears quarterback who reported to the Oilers Monday afternoon. The TCU-ex will work out this week and possibly will be activated for Sunday's game against Miami in the Orange Bowl.

Thomas Reports To SD Guess Who Came To Charger Drill?

GREENVILLE, Tex. (AP) — The judge who placed Duane Thomas on probation for possession of marijuana last February apparently was a big factor in convincing the moody running back to come out of football retirement.

Thomas returned Tuesday to the San Diego Chargers, who acquired him from the Dallas Cowboys in July for wide receiver Billy Parks and halfback Mike Montgomery.

State District Court Judge Hollis Garmon said Tuesday he told Thomas that if he completed one successful year with the Chargers, the court would consider reducing Thomas' five-year probation sentence.

Judge Garmon said he and probation officer William Hadcock met in Greenville, the site of Thomas' trial, with the former Cowboy, who never officially reported to the Chargers after the trade.

"He had some problems while in Dallas," Judge Gar-mon said. "He felt he was under an unfair contract. But I have reasons to believe he will come through with the Charges and complete a successful year."

Thomas, who was a big factor in the Cowboys' drive to the world championship last year, was traded after disagreements over Thomas' contract, his refusal to talk to the press and his self-imposed isolation.

After Thomas refused to suit out with the Chargers he was suspended and fined $150 for each day he was absent. The fine now totals nearly $3,000.

Tuesday Thomas reported to the Chargers and went through a special training session in football gear, including work with quarterback John Hadl.

Bob Schmeiker, the Chargers' offensive coach, said of Thomas as "He looks great to me."

In his two years with the Cowboys, Thomas gained 1,596 yards on 326 carries and scored 16 touchdowns.

Kansas City Tops California, 7-5

ANAHEIM (AP) — Rookie right-handed Monty Montgomery throttled the California Angels on six hits Tuesday night and Kansas City supported him with a 15-hit attack for a 7-2 American League baseball victory.

Montgomery, defeating the Angels for a second straight time, contributed a double and a run-scoring single to the attack.

PLAYERS OF THE WEEK — J. T. Smith (left) was named "Back of the Week" and D. W. Powell was named "Lineman of the Week" by the coaching staff of Big Spring High School for their performances in the Steer-Hobbs Eagles game Friday night.

Kirkland Set For Razorback Kicking Duties

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Mike Kirkland, a freshman quarterback from Pasadena, Tex., will handle place kicking duties for the Razorbacks Saturday, Coach Frank Broyles said Tuesday.

Sophomore Andy Bolton of Smackover did the kicking in the Southern California game, booting a field goal and an extra point.

The Razorbacks put in some extensive work on passing and kicking Tuesday in preparation for Saturday's game in Little Rock with Oklahoma State.

OSU is the first of four wish-bone teams Arkansas will play this year and "it will take a lot more work between now and Saturday if we are to be ready for it," Broyles said.

Cougar Linebacker 'Player Of Week'

By The Associated Press University of Houston linebacker Harold Evans had been told the big boys from Arizona State would pick on him last weekend — a likely story since Evans is 6-foot-5 by 215 pounds.

But just to make sure no one got the best of him, Evans went out and intercepted a pass and returned it 20 yards for one touchdown, set up another touchdown with a blocked field goal attempt, blocked a third-down pass and made 14 tackles.

Although the Cougars' fourth quarter heroics fell short in a 33-28 loss to the Sun Devils, Evans certainly took care of himself and he earned The Associated Press Southwest Conference Defensive Player of the Week honor for his efforts.

"Last week I didn't have such a good game," said Evans, who was actually more touted in high school as a basketball player. "They told me they (Arizona State) were going to pick on me. I just made up my mind that I was going to get better as the week went on."

Against Rice in UH's opener last week, Evans said he had a tough time defending against the run and he feared the Sun Devils would try to capitalize on him.

"I wasn't getting the keys on the backs," Evans said. "It was just poor techniques. I worked on it all week and against Arizona State I kept thinking my main fault was the run, the run."

"Pass defense seems to come natural to me. You just drop back."

Evans was pleased with his progress against the Sun Devils

Cougar Linebacker 'Player Of Week'

but added "It could have been better."

Houston linebacker coach Larry French said Evans' performance was just beginning to be an outstanding career.

"He's a good athlete," French said. "He doesn't realize what his potential is yet. If we can just get him to play to his capabilities, he hasn't even scratched what he can do yet."

Evans said the Cougars aren't too happy about their 0-2 record and they're ready to do something.

"I think this week is going to be the week," he said. "We've been having some close games. I think those close games are over and we're going to start winning now."

Evans also thinks he's better prepared for any future toughs who try to invade his turf at linebacker by ground or air.

UH Continues Winning Ways

HOUSTON (AP) — Continuing their winning ways in the young golf season, the University of Houston Cougars took a second tournament of the year Tuesday.

With a team total of 621 strokes, the Cougs easily downed Houston Baptist College, which was second with a 645, and St. Thomas University, which was third at 662.

Mike Phillips of UH won individual honors on the third hole of a sudden death playoff with a six-foot birdie putt. He was tied after the regulation 36 holes at 150 with teammate Perry Arthur and Steve Buellet of HBC.

DISTRICT 7-AA STATS Bulldogs Grab Loop Lead

Coahoma holds the lead in District 7-AA football statistics released today. The Bulldogs have picked up 597 yards on the ground and 80 yards through the air in 10 games for an average of 68 yards.

The Stanton Buffaloes are in the district stats with a 5.5 per game average in total offense. The Buffaloes are also in the district in team offense allowing just 171 yards a game. Coahoma is fifth in team defense with a 241.1 average.

In individual statistics Coahoma's Freddie Franklin is the third leading rusher in the district. Franklin has 25 attempts for 184 yards. Fourth in the district is Stanton's Dwayne McMeans with 171 yards on 40 carries.

Coahoma's Eddie Padron and Beal have 152 yards and 1 yard respectively to occupy the sixth and seventh spots in the district.

Three other Stanton ball carriers are in the top 20 rushers in the district. They are quarterback Rick Wilson running back Mitchell Irvin and back Larry Jones. Wilson has 125 yards, Irvin has 100 yards and Jones has 95 yards in two games.

Wilson is the second leading passer in the district with 10 completions in 19 attempts for 168 yards. Beal's seven-of-27 passes him third place in the passing stats.

Stanton's Paul McAlister is the loop's leading receiver with eight catches totalling 147 yards.

Joyce Takes NBA Position

NEW YORK (AP) — Jack Joyce, a former FBI agent, will become the first fulltime director of security for the National Basketball Association Nov. 1 and will head a staff of nationwide security representatives it was announced Tuesday.

A native of Oakland, Calif., and a former Navy officer, Joyce was personally commended on 33 occasions by former FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover for his outstanding performance of duty.

MOORE, 40, replaces Marcel Pronovost, who quit the Leafs organization to take a coaching position with the Chicago Cougars in the World Hockey Association. Moore coached Dayton of the IHL the last two seasons.

'WE NEED TURNOVERS' Bruins Get Nod Over Michigan

NEW YORK (AP) — UCLA already having beaten one college football giant with an opening-game upset of Nebraska, goes for another Saturday night when the Bruins take on Michigan's defending Big Ten Conference champions in Los Angeles.

The triumph over Nebraska hinged on five turnovers—three fumbles and two interceptions—and UCLA's Pepper Rodgers is hopeful of more of the same.

"To beat Michigan we need turnovers," he says. "Bob Schembecher has got to play some people who will give us the ball."

Washington at Purdue—Boilermakers are boiling after losing to Bowling Green. But they also may be looking ahead to Notre Dame Washington.

Stanford at Duke—Stanford's Indians were upset by Duke's Blue Devils last year. Stanford's nickname is now the Cardinals. Duke's hasn't changed.

Ducks waddle into Oklahoma's Wishbone this weekend and UCLA's next week. The Ducks will find it tougher running Oklahoma. Nebraska at Army—Army has a 73-6-3 record in opening games. Last year, though, the Cadets lost to Stanford and this year they'll lose to ... Nebraska.

Notre Dame at North western—The last Northwesterr coach to beat Notre Dame was Ara Parseghian. The last Notre Dame coach to beat North western was Ara Parseghian. He did it by a 50-7 score last year and the Wildcats are sharpening their claws for revenge. Upset special for the week ... Northwestern.

Michigan State cornerback Bill Simpson made more than one dream come true by his "perfect day" on the football field last Saturday.

His happiness was shared with his father, whose hopes of a professional baseball career were thwarted when he lost a leg during World War II.

For his defensive performance in the Spartans' 24-0 victory over Illinois Saturday, the 20-year-old Simpson was named Associated Press College Back of the Week.

"I had always thought of having a big day like I did Saturday," said the 6-foot-1, 170-pound junior cornerback. "It was just a perfect day."

Simpson scored two touchdowns, one on a 48-yard punt return, the other on a 20-yard pass interception. He also recovered a fumble, setting up a field goal, and he made several tackles.

But Simpson was happiest with his punting. His eight punts averaged nearly 35 yards.

"The punting did give us good field position," he said. Four punts landed inside Illinois' 11-yard line.

Southern Methodist at Florida—SMU's M&M boys—Alvin Maxson and Wayne Morris—will find it tougher running against Florida than against Wake Forest. Nevertheless ... Southern Methodist.

Texas Tech at New Mexico—Green.

Choose Your Figures

The special session of the legislature, wrestling with a proposal from Gov. Preston Smith that it reform the state insurance rate-making system, may get bogged in an argument over whose figures to believe.

Company supporters and advocates of leaving the rate-fixing under a strictly controlled plan argue that elsewhere in the nation, where competitive rate-making procedures are followed, rates are higher. Some contend they are as much as 17 per cent higher on a national average.

This, argues Gov. Smith and his aides, not so and that major cities in many other points around the nation have substantially lower rates than comparable or larger Texas cities.

We may expect to see a lot of rate tables bandied about before the issue is settled. Perhaps the governor's best hope is that some of the larger companies who are writing the major end of Texas insurance seem to favor a competitive rate system. Meanwhile, a new issue has been injected in the nomination of the governor's close friend and secretary of state, Bob Bullock, to be chairman of the insurance commission. His confirmation will come up during the session, and it will be interesting to see what the Senate does. Last time

Rhetoric, But Little Action

When the United Nations General Assembly gets going this week, the Munich killings and subsequent Israeli retaliation raids will be fresh on the minds of the delegates.

But this doesn't mean any progress is assured either in stemming terrorism or in quieting the Middle East. As the Security Council action of last week showed, there is no agreement on either question. World opinion, if it exists as an identifiable entity, is supposed to be outraged at the Munich killings. But translating this into international action is quite another thing.

The Russians, ordered from Egypt abruptly, are working hard now to establish ties with other Arab states, notably Syria and Iraq. They are not going to join in condemnation of terrorists from Palestine, and it is unrealistic to expect them to do so. Similarly, this country is not going to join the United Nations in censuring Israel for its retaliatory actions, however non-productive we may believe them to be. Not only is our long-standing support of Israel in the way of such a move, but we have an election to settle in November.

In any case, the United Nations is not ready at all to deal with the central issue: What to do about the Palestinian refugees. And until that question is settled, terrorist activity is going to continue. The Palestinians are desperate people; to their minds, no course is left except terrorism. They were displaced from their homeland by the creation of Israel. And the Arab states to which they went have not assimilated them. This question should have been settled before partition.

Some Come And Go

Around The Rim

Joe Pickle

To some degree, industries come and go, depending on such a variety of factors as raw materials, markets, management, etc.

FOR INSTANCE, perhaps the earliest industry in this area was Bison (buffalo) hunting. The "big spring" was reputed to be such a favorite slaughter ground that years later it was said to be impossible to walk within a radius of a mile of it without stepping on bones. Interestingly, the bones gave rise to the next industrial operation — the gathering and shipping of these to be used in manufacture of fertilizer and the processing of sugar.

ABOUT 60 YEARS AGO, Big Spring was noted for a time as a watermelon shipping point. Newly broken sandy lands were noted for their prolific production as well as for sweetness of the melons. These were shipped to the Fort Worth market which was next door to such a famous melon patch as Parker County.

FIFTY YEARS ago a major gravel operation was developed within the city limits of Big Spring (this is still a vigorous mining operation although to the southeast of town). This was before the days of giant mechanical earth moving equipment, and mule teams and fresnos were used to slip the gravel across platforms which spanned railroad tracks (yes, tracks extended southward to what is now Tenth Street) to load waiting cars.

SPECIAL PROPERTIES of soil in the Morita regions later led to the development of a mine and processing plant for oil well drilling muds.

At the turn of the century, a profitable salt mine and plant was operated at Colorado City and supplied the area, particularly needs of stockmen.

During the Depression, to utilize canner and cutter grades of beef which were being killed off under government programs, a meat canning plant was operated here to supply meat for families on relief.

A SORT OF public industry, which functioned as a make-work enterprise, was a stone quarry on scenic Mountain. Young men in the CCC (Civilian Conservation Corps) camp extracted big chunks of limestone from the mesa's rock cap, then sawed them by hand into big blocks used to construct buildings on the mountain, also the retaining wall for the drives.

In the late 1930's, Big Springers brought in a factory to manufacture chenille bedspreads, which it did successfully for a time. This later became a managerial and World War II casualty. We once had a cotton oil mill, too.

FOR A BRIEF time, manufacture of concrete building blocks did well until other bigger plants flooded the market. Efforts were made to package the earth south of the Stuckey location on IS 20 west as a special oil absorbent material, but it was easier to produce than to sell. Like many communities, there was a sash and door plant for a time, and later one manufacturing the same thing from aluminum. Perhaps the most recent excursion into product manufacture that didn't make it was computers, which might have been the biggest of all except that giants of the electronics trade, after a sleeping start, suddenly awakened and swamped the market.

Maine's Dilemma

Marquis Childs

NEWAGEN, Maine — The equinoctial rains have come, the summer visitors have departed and in the brilliant sun of Indian summer the rockbound coast, the long sweep of the ocean, the dark forest of pines take on a new and gentler life. The best season of the year, Indian summer is a belated blessing.

AROUND THE POND across the road the golden rod glows as though with an inner light. On the top of some of the taller maples the first brush of frost has left its scarlet mark. The sumac is beginning to turn.

How to keep Maine green? How to keep it relatively unspoiled when tourists are second only to lumbering in the state's economy? These are questions Gov. Kenneth M. Curtis is trying to answer. It comes down to striking a balance between the need for more industry and more jobs — in Maine with unemployment over seven per cent as the urgent need, and keeping the coastline, the lakes, the rivers, the silent, empty spaces in something like their natural state; that is to say, unpolluted and not too cluttered with the rash of motels and hamburger stands that spring up with the tourists.

IT IS THE DILEMMA of all of America as a rapidly increasing affluent population takes to the road and as industry expands. For Maine the dilemma is acute, since many of the 4,000,000 visitors come for unspoiled beauty and for the solitude that has been obliterated almost everywhere else.

Gov. Curtis has just received the report of a distinguished task force set up by Resources For The Future. The report recommends that heavy industry on the coast be limited to two zones, one at Portland and the other at Machias Bay. Portland last July had the second largest oil spill on the East Coast — 100,000 gallons — and the muck has not yet been entirely cleaned up.

DEPENDENT for domestic and industrial use on oil, Maine is at the end of the line and the expectation is for shortages and higher prices this winter. Over this vital flow the state has virtually no control other than a limited veto.

It is like the timber industry, owned almost entirely outside the state. Maine is, therefore, a province with the decisions on economic destiny taken in board rooms in New York and elsewhere.

CURTIS, DURING his six years as governor — he is in the middle of his second and last term — has had not only a Republican legislature but a Republican executive council. The council with extensive powers over state officeholders is chosen not by popular election but by the legislature.

In the state capitol in Augusta Governor Curtis speaks with modest hope of what can be accomplished.

BUT EFFECTIVE antipollution measures cost money and they can cost jobs. They can mean the closing of older and less efficient plants. Turning several hundred men out of work in a pulp mill in a small community is a grievous blow.

"And was Jerusalem builded here among these dark Satanic Mills?" That was the dour response of William Blake to England's industrial revolution. The mills have scarcely smudged the Maine landscape.

Let's Look At Handouts

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — If you fail to analyze critically those surveys made from time to time about the swift growth in fringe benefits paid to workers you might believe that life was becoming a big handout.

Last year, according to a National Chamber of Commerce study, such benefits accounted for 30.8 per cent of the average firm's payroll.

In 1961, the study states, the average annual benefits paid cost $1,254. Similar payments last year averaged $2,544, a gain of 103 per cent in one decade.

Out of average annual earnings of $8,260 paid in 1971, the Chamber lists three average benefits per employee: Social Security $372, up 178 per cent in a decade; insurance $369, up 171 per cent; paid sick leave $81, 131 per cent up.

Following in order are: profit sharing $86, up 105 per cent; paid holidays $244, up 94 per cent; private pensions $402, up 91 per cent; paid vacations $400, up 90 per cent, and "other" $228, up 20 per cent.

Does this mean that labor is draining away the vitality of its employer? Some businessmen are inclined toward that point of view.

Before jumping to conclusions you must define "worker," because some of the most beneficial fringes are those that make the executive's life more comfortable and financially rewarding. Benefits are not solely a blue-collar phenomenon.

Nevertheless, some executives draw on a vast array of statistics showing that corporate profits have indeed been pinched in recent years by rising payroll costs, despite the growth in overall prosperity.

But in a broader perspective that includes social good and national goals it is more difficult to assess the impact. Productivity of American factories has not risen as fast as in many countries, but that may be changing.

In fact, a study just released by Standard & Poor's shows that "for the first time in recent years there was a significant dip in 1971 in the portion of the sales dollars of industrial companies that went into payrolls."

S&P defines payrolls to include wages, salaries and fringe benefits, which it said amounted to only 26 cents for every dollar of sales, down from nearly 28 cents in 1970. The percentage was the lowest since the 1950s.

Of 29 industrial groups for which comparisons were made, 19 showed declines in wage-cost ratios and 10 reported rises. Among those showing declines were autos, chemicals, electrical equipment, oil and steel.

Shared Resources

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — For the first time in American History, Congress is about to pass legislation which will authorize the federal government to give $30.1 billion to states, counties and municipalities over the next five years to help them deal with their growing problems. Since the Senate and House negotiators have reached final agreement on a compromise measure, enactment this week by Congress seems assured.

THE NEW formula reconciles the bill that the House has passed which was favorable to states with a number of large cities with one adopted by the Senate which would have been of more benefit to rural states.

The new plan, which is described by Charles Walker, deputy Secretary of the Treasury, as "very, very constructive," will cause more than $2.5 billion of funds to flow from the U.S. Treasury to state capitals to be disbursed to local governments in October. The measure will provide $5.3 billion this year to the states and 38,700 localities to help them meet their budgetary difficulties. The sums will be increased each year through 1976, but the total expended will not exceed $30.1 billion in federal funds.

WHEN THE program is analyzed, it will be found that two thirds of the money is to be passed on to towns, townships, cities and counties, but that the preference goes to big cities with substantial poverty. The remaining one third is to be spent by state legislatures as they may deem necessary.

THE HOUSE AND Senate conferees endorsed a house provision which limits the expenditure of revenue-sharing funds by localities to these fields:

1. Public safety, including police, fire protection and building-code enforcement.
2. The environment, including sewage disposal, sanitation and pollution.
3. Public transportation, including transit systems and street repair.
4. Health and recreation.
5. Social service programs for the poor and aged.
6. Libraries and local financial administration.
7. "Ordinary and necessary" capital expenditures for construction.

THIS LISTING of priorities doesn't allow officials to use revenue-sharing funds to increase their own salaries or to engage in luxury building, such as sports stadiums.

The compromise agreed upon last Friday gives each state 91 per cent of the amount it would get on the version of the bill most favorable to it, which is one way of determining the states that would get the most money this year.

This historic change in the relationship between the federal government and the state and local governments has one significant factor included in it. There are no "strings" attached to the funds.

IN ANY event, it is a significant factor and makes funds available to many cities and counties which cannot get enough money out of their own tax systems, either due to a small population or the inability to raise taxes.

Must Get Organized

By LOUISE COOK

(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

The best laid plans of mice and men, not to mention women, invariably go astray when vacation time rolls along.

No matter how early you start, no matter how many lists you make, something is bound to happen that leaves you with a last-minute flurry of unpacked necessities, unconfirmed reservations and unsettled nerves.

This year I was determined to beat the system.

Our passports were in order. So were our smallpox vaccination certificates, even though you don't need them these days to get back in the country.

The trains, the planes and the mails all were reported to be in working order. Unlike the year there was a postal strike in Britain. Grudgingly, I placed a transatlantic phone call to make hotel reservations in England only to be told: "Can't you confirm it in writing, please?"

This year, I mailed neatly typed letters — carefully filing the carbons — a full three weeks before departure.

Of course I managed to misaddress one of them, sending it to the wrong address in the wrong city in the wrong county. Somehow those British postmen, now back on the job thank goodness, got the letter on the right track and I received an answer. After a long-expected delay to allow for considerable worrying — on my part — and derision — on my husband's.

Then there was the problem of laundry. Anyone who's ever packed for vacation knows that it takes at least a master's degree in mathematics to figure out just when to do the last laundry before leaving. Timing is crucial so the whole family has enough clean clothes to take along and enough clean clothes to wear before departure. Naturally, somebody always winds up with one too few pair of something.

Planning where to go is simple, right? Wrong.

Three weeks before we were to leave our itinerary was set. Then someone suggested another option. Two weeks before departure day we were wavering. Another friend talked about the crowds. Maybe we should change plans. And what about the weather? One week before leaving we were more uncertain still.

An article in a travel magazine offered further possibilities. Returning coworkers told of marvelous — and cheap — little hotels.

Departure day is one day off. Our destination? Uncertain.

But at least everything's packed. Or is it? And did I turn off the lights? What about telling the mailman to hold our letters?

Next year I must get organized.

My Answer

I saw you on TV recently and was amazed, and disappointed, to see that you have conceded to the "long hairs," and have adopted the current style of long hair. I can tolerate it among the young, but it seems to me that a man like you, so well known, so customarily free of gimmicks, an idol of both young and old, does not need to resort to fashion to be noticed. Then too, doesn't the Bible say, "If a man has long hair it is a shame unto him?"

1 Corinthians 11:14.

I have always worn my hair longer than the average. Many clergymen through the years have done this. It just so happens that, although I have worn my hair "long" for years, that at last it happens to be in style.

Yes, Paul said: "Doth not nature itself teach you that if a man have long hair, it is a shame unto him?"

1 Corinthians 11:14. But if one takes this statement as "gospel," then one must define what is "long." My hair is short compared to many men, and "long" compared to a crew cut. It is not, in my opinion, the length of women's hair — at least of the average woman.

Research reveals that during our Lord's day the Roman men wore their hair in the style of Caesar, short, and the Jewish men wore their hair longer, in the Jewish tradition. We have no clue as to the way Jesus wore his hair.

The American colonists, our forefathers, according to paintings and the records, wore their hair down to their shoulders, and no one seemed to criticize them very much, if any. It seems to me that within limits of decency, a person ought to be able to wear their hair any way they see fit.

A Devotion For Today . . .

Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid. (John 14:27)

PRAYER: Replace our boastful, hateful, and envious thoughts, O Lord, with unselfish and loving ones. May Your thought become ours so that we may convey messages of kindness, peace, and good will. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Republicans Hail Prospects For General Election Gains

DALLAS (AP) — Texas Republicans, convention oratory ringing in their ears, headed homeward today with visions of unprecedented political triumph in November.

They commandeered the Dallas Convention Center for eight hours Tuesday, hammering out a platform, reelecting leaders, blasting the Democratic hierarchy for forming a united front.

TABOO

Never before, they were told, has the Republican philosophy been so favorably received in Texas. But overconfidence, they were warned, is taboo, and complacency is intolerable. "The general prognosis is excellent," said Dr. George Willeford of Austin, reelected state chairman despite a move last June by gubernatorial candidate Henry Grover to have him ousted.

"But I must call on you at this moment to examine the fantastic opportunity we have and to exploit the prime situation to the fullest," he said. "We need not apologize for our past loyalties to the Republican cause. It has meant near misses, but now it looks like they were merely tuneups for this greatest political game of our lives."

"This year, this state. Now the tide has turned. The doors have opened. It now is not only a question of winning — but winning big."

Willeford was but one of many to address the party faithful, but the theme generally was the same—unity. "Sure, like all families, we've had our family quarrels," said Grover, a state senator who reportedly remains at odds with Willeford. "But that's all over now. We are united as never before."

MINOR FUSS

A minor flap of sorts developed between the national committeewoman Anee Armstrong and Nancy Palm, "Napalm" to friend and foe, the fiery chairman of the Harris County (Houston) delegation.

Mrs. Armstrong, co-chairman of the Republican National Committee, was quoted in a news story as saying Grover could not beat Dolph Briscoe, the Democratic nominee for governor.

Mrs. Armstrong denied making the statement, which in fact she did not. But Mrs. Palm walked out of the Convention Center saying only "no," when asked if Mrs. Armstrong's explanation was satisfactory.

Otherwise it was a serene session as Sen. John Tower, Tennessee Gov. Winfield Dunn, state treasurer candidate Maurice Angly, Willeford, state vice chairman Mrs. Malcolm Milburn, Grover and others addressed the delegates.

THE GREAT PUMPKIN — When Charlie Brown goes looking for the real Pumpkin this October, Earl Bohannon has the answer. He put out a few pumpkin seed in the spring, and showers caught the patch just right. Part of the result is this 50-pound pumpkin. Bohannon lives on Anderson Street in the northeast edge of Big Spring.

Police Shakeup In Nuevo Laredo

MEXICO CITY (AP) — All nearly 12,000 men now searching for plantations of marijuana, which is grown to be sold in the United States.

A speaker for the governor told The Associated Press two agents were fired because of "irregularities" and the other three were reassigned.

The governor said he was sending 10 new agents to the border city.

Federal and state police blame a crime wave in Nuevo Laredo on a drug war which has killed 68 persons in the past two years. The governor's office said two or more Mafia groups apparently are fighting to control the drug traffic across the border into the United States.

"Our main purpose is to act strongly against all those who are terrorizing Nuevo Laredo and who have sunk the city in the worst chaos ever," the governor said.

He said he had not been notified officially that President Nixon will visit Friday in Laredo, the Texas city across the Rio Grande from Nuevo Laredo.

Atty. Gen. Pedro Ojeda Paulada, commenting on the Nixon trip, said, "Mexico can only profit from an efficient United States control at the border to stop drug smuggling."

"If they are able to control smuggling completely," he said, "we will not need the

Scout Leader Is Needed By Troop

Troop 7, one of the oldest Boy Scout troops in Big Spring, is in need of a scoutmaster.

Bert Andries, who has served in this capacity for years, has had to submit his resignation due to press of other business. The troop is sponsored by the Downtown Lions Club, has its own hut near Kate Morrison school, a bus, and a good stock of camping equipment. Andries pointed out there are plenty of boys, but the urgent need is a man who enjoys working with boys. Jimmy Ray Smith is institutional representative for the troop.

Will Destroy Both Parties?

DALLAS (AP) — La Raza Unida Party national chairman Jose Gutierrez said here Tuesday the Mexican-American political faction will destroy the Democrats and put the Republicans out of the picture.

Gutierrez, of Crystal City, Tex., was critical of both parties when he arrived in Dallas to meet with local party leaders, make a television appearance and stump for Ramsey Muniz, La Raza gubernatorial candidate.

"Both major political parties are only interested in promoting their own interests and well-fares," Gutierrez said, referring to Sen. George McGovern, President Nixon and "all the other animals."

He claimed one million voters support his party in Texas, and he added the strength of La Raza is increasing due to "non-traditional methods of campaigning."

Jay Colvin Winner Of Three Awards

Cub Pack 1 held its regular meeting Tuesday night in Airport School.

Honored were Webelo Jay Colvin, who received the geologist, outdoorsman and forestry awards; and Ismael Beal, winner of the sportsman and forestry prizes and who graduated to the Boy Scouts.

Beal plans to become a member of Scout Troop 14, sponsored by the Airport Baptist Church. The honor flag went to Den 4, the attendance flag to the Webelos. Cub Round-Up Night will be Tuesday, Sept. 26, at Airport School.

Autographs Probe Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., asked today for a congressional investigation on whether space agency officials had prior knowledge of arrangements for astronauts to sell their autographs.

He said in letters to the House and Senate Space Committees that it was surprising that a number of astronauts could have made identical signature-sale arrangements, over a period of several years, with officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration becoming aware of it.

Aspin said it was apparent that NASA heads either were negligent in not finding out about the arrangements, or condoned them.

NASA announced Friday that 15 astronauts had received $2,500 apiece from a West German stamp dealer for autographs, at the rate of $5 a signature.

BOB DIDN'T UNDERSTAND

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Sixteen-year-old Robert Franklin of Shaker Heights was waiting for a bus when three youths approached, demanded cigarettes and money for lunch.

"All I have is 52 cents," Franklin replied.

Then, witnesses reported, one of the trio pulled a gun and Franklin was shot in the abdomen. He was hospitalized in fair condition.

The wounded youth's brother, William, 20, later said, "I guess Bob just didn't understand. When somebody's got a gun, they're not in their right mind. You don't argue, you just give them what you've got."

Slight Enrollment Increase Noted

School enrollment continued to climb this week with total registration in all schools assing 6,800 last Friday with a total of 6,807 in comparison to 6,787 the previous week.

The increase this week was all in the elementary school areas. The difference between this year's enrollment and that of last year at the same time has narrowed to a loss of 322.

After the first week of school, it was close to a loss of 500. School officials believe that the enrollment will now level off and remain fairly static until mid-semester, according to Noel Reed, assistant superintendent of special services.

Have It Checked

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 18 and have had a whitish vaginal discharge for three or four years. I am a virgin so I never worried about venereal disease. Should this be treated, and if so, exactly what is it I have? — S.B.

A very common question from girls — but also a question that can't be answered positively on the basis of information in a letter. The human body just isn't that simple! But here's an approximate guideline that ought to help.

Some discharge can occur normally at the time of ovulation, that is, at mid-cycle, or half way between the beginning of one period and the beginning of the next one. This is a mild, transient discharge, and isn't irritating, and nothing needs to be done about it.

If, however, the discharge is more continuous, rather than just for a few brief days at mid-cycle, then it ought to be checked by your doctor.

One frequent cause is a parasitic infection by a microscopic organism called trichomonas. This has nothing to do with whether you are being "a good girl," as we used to say. That is, it CAN be passed back and forth by sexual contact, but it also is contracted without any sexual aspect.

The discharge can become quite irritating, and if the doctor finds that that is the cause of the discharge, the sooner it is treated the sooner you are rid of it.

There can be other causes of discharge — venereal disease among them, of course. But there can be irritation of the cervix from various causes, too.

So I've given you a guide as to when to look for trouble, but there's no way I can offhand tell you "exactly what it is." Your doctor can, though.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I cannot talk to my father about sexual matters, so I'm asking you. When should a boy wear an athletic supporter for swimming? I am 12 and a good swimmer, and go off the diving board quite frequently.—T.C.D.

This isn't really a sex matter. It's a matter of personal comfort (and of protection, in contact sports).

Many swim suits have built-in supporters. If yours doesn't, you'll probably be more comfortable if you wear a supporter.

Meantime, don't be too sure that you can't talk to your dad about sexual questions. I'm speaking as an older man who is a father — but once I was 12 years old, too, so I can see a little of both sides.

Lots of fathers don't know how to bring up sex subjects because they don't know just what their sons want to know — and they don't like to cram down the young folks' throats things they already know or don't yet care about.

If the sons will give the fathers a hint, most dads welcome it. So if some particular question is bothering you, just ask your father about it casually, and see if you don't get the ice broken.

Note to J.S.: You are entitled to your opinion of course. But with two million cases of gonorrhea a year, and I forget how many unwanted pregnancies, I think it's time for somebody to speak out occasionally against "the free and easy sex habits of high school kids." If they think that "talking down" to them, so be it, but it's time somebody tried to impress upon them that sex has to be handled with a certain amount of knowledge and understanding, and it's up to them to learn something about it. If that's contributing to the generation gap, so be it.

Career Day Plans Are Discussed

Details of plans for Career Day at Webb Air Force Base on Sept. 26 were discussed by members of the Base Community Council Steering Committee when they met at noon Monday at the Ramada Inn.

The group, which is currently led by Dr. C. B. Marcum and Col. Ron Catton, discussed details of various air force and commercial displays to be on hand for the event.

Students from high schools and colleges within a 100-mile radius are invited to attend. There will also be a special Air Force demonstration by the Thunderbirds.

They also set plans for local civic clubs to entertain new classes of students at Webb Air Force Base.

The bidding:
West North East South
1NT Pass 4▲ 5♣
Dble. Pass Pass Pass
Opening lead: Ace of ♠

South's decision to sacrifice at five clubs in today's hand was, at best, of doubtful wisdom. East's jump response to four spades over his partner's opening bid of one no trump confronted South with a completely blind situation and the more discreet course is to let nature take its course. The damages against five clubs may far exceed the value of the opponent's game if North's values present a misfit. Furthermore, there is no assurance that four spades is a cinch, despite South's apparent lack of defensive values.

The trump lead would not have cost West anything, it is difficult to criticize him for attempting to cash the ace of spades. South ruffed with the four of clubs and cashed the king next to test the lay in trumps. When both opponents followed suit, it appeared that he had been guilty of taking a phantom save—for in defending against four spades, North and South could have scored a trick in every suit.

With the ace of hearts clearly marked in the opening no trump bidder's hand, there was no danger that declarer's five club contract would suffer more than a 100 point deficit, and therefore very little swing was in the offing on the deal. South sought for some way to capitalize on the trick gained by the opening lead and thereby make his enterprise pay off with a profit—and presently he uncovered a method to assure success.

At trick three he led the deuce of diamonds and West was confronted with a choice of unpleasant alternatives. He actually chose to put up the ace of diamonds and exited with the queen of clubs to North's ace. The closed hand was reentered by leading the six of diamonds to the queen and a small heart was played next. West rose once more with the ace, but that was the second and final trick for his side. Dummy's king of hearts took care of one of declarer's small cards in that suit and the other two were discarded on the king of spades and the king of diamonds.

West nothing to duck when South led his small diamond at trick three. The king of diamonds is played from dummy to win that trick and then declarer can discard his remaining card in the suit—the queen—on the king of spades. The ace of clubs draws West's remaining trump, the closed hand is reentered by ruffing either a spade or a diamond and a heart is led toward the king. The defense scores two heart tricks, but that is all.

Cotton Classing Office To Open

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's seasonal cotton classing office at Pecos will open Monday for the 1972 season.

Lucius L. (Luke) Wells will be in charge of the office for the 10th consecutive year.

The Pecos office classifies cotton for farmers in Reeves, Pecos, Ward, Glasscock, Reagan and Upton counties. This is the 19th season for this office to operate with the sponsorship of the Trans-Pecos Cotton Association. It is one of 36 classing offices in the Cotton Division, Agricultural Marketing Service.
