SPYING DEVICES MAILED TO PRISONERS?

Liberated Airmen Spark Struggle

MOSCOW (AP) — Three liberated American airmen reached Moscow on their way home today from North Vietnam and found themselves in the center of a struggle between American Embassy officials and U.S. peace advocates who escorted the pilots.

Lt. Mark Gartley and Lt. Norris Charles of the Navy and Maj. Edward Elias of the Air Force arrived on a flight from Peking. U.S. Charge D'Affaires Adolph Dubs attempted to approach the pilots in the customs area of the airport but was stopped by the escorting delegation of antiwar activists.

The activists were attempting to get the men back to the United States before they come under U.S. military jurisdiction again.

Under military law, the men are required to present themselves to the first U.S. official they encounter.

Prof. Richard Falk, a tall, gaunt man with a beard, barred Dubs' way as he approached the men. Falk told the American diplomat that his group has promised to escort the pilots home safely, and a meeting with embassy officials was not on.

GIVE US ROOM

Gartley, Charles and Elias huddled in a corner behind

Cora Weiss as Dubs and other embassy officials tried to approach them. There was a crunch caused by correspondents attempting to overhear the exchange.

"Stand back! Stand back," Cora Weiss shouted, "Give us some room."

PLACE TO STAY

Among the American officials at the airport were Brig. Gen. Samuel V. Wilson, the military attache and Air Force Maj.

Ronald Walker, the embassy doctor.

North Vietnamese officials in Moscow also went to the airport for the arrival of the pilots. Ton Quang Co, a North Vietnamese diplomat, said he was on hand "to observe."

When asked where the airmen would stay in Moscow before leaving for Copenhagen on Thursday, Co replied, "Our Soviet comrades will give them a place to stay."

They are expected in New York Thursday night.

A few moments later the pilots, their escort and the American diplomats retreated into a glassed-in office of the customs concourse to confer.

Earlier today the embassy said there would be men on hand to offer the freed prisoners "any help they might need."

Cora Weiss, cochairman of the accompanying delegation of members of the U.S. Committee for Liaison with Families of Prisoners detained in Vietnam, disclosed the latest Hanoi charge. She said the delegation was told that packages sent prisoners have contained spying devices rigged into such items as cans of milk, candy bars and toothpaste tubes.

Twister Hurts Three Near Fort Worth

By The Associated Press

One tornado swatted a cluster of mobile homes north of Fort Worth and another smashed through a horse stable south of San Antonio during the night.

The turbulent weather broke out south of a cool front which shoved into the Texas Panhandle and headed downstate Tuesday. By this morning its forward edge stretched across North Central Texas and into the western part of the state along a line from Midland to Wink.

A twister which hit at Avondale Heights 20 miles from Fort Worth on U.S. 81-287 injured three persons seriously enough to require hospital treatment and tore up 10 trailer houses. Police at neighboring Saginaw said all the injuries were minor.

Deputy Sheriff Bill Sweely quoted a fellow officer as saying it appeared the mobile homes literally blew up as the writhing winds struck about 9:30 p.m.

Telephone poles also were knocked down by the tornado which swooped south of San Antonio, and hail fell on that city's west side during one of several heavy thunderstorms in an area generally south of a Sherman-to-Lubbock line.

By this morning the stormy weather subsided into numerous showers and occasional light rain over South Central and Southeast Texas, through the coastal plains and into the Gulf of Mexico.

Skies were mostly cloudy across the eastern half of the state and generally clear in the western half.

Temperatures near dawn ranged from 51 degrees at Dalhart and 52 at Amarillo in the Panhandle up to 80 at Galveston on the coast, with most other readings in the 60s and 70s.

Tuesday afternoon's top marks went as high as 95 at Dallas and McAllen. Dalhart was the coolest spot with a high of 69.

Local Singers Bid For European Trip

The Meistersingers of Big Spring High School have been nominated as one of 50 high school choral groups being considered for a tour in Europe this summer.

The National Educators Scholarship Foundation notified him by letter and telegram this week, Jack Bowers, director of choral activities, said.

If chosen as one of ten best, the Meistersingers will join "The Festival of the Three Cities" in Europe next July.

Under the auspices of a government concert series, high school and college choral groups will appear in Vienna, Austria; Prague, Czechoslovakia; and Budapest, Hungary during the 12 day tour.

Bowers said the 65 singers will cut tapes in the next two weeks. Possibly, some of last year's tapes also will be chosen to send for the final audition. Use of last year's recordings is permitted.

Selected best high school choir in America last year, the Meistersingers have a good chance of being selected for the European tour, Bowers believes.

Requiring Visas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States as of today will require nearly all foreign travelers entering the country to have visas, State Department officials said.

The tightening of entry regulations is to meet the increasing possibility of terrorist acts in the United States and during the current U.N. General Assembly meeting in New York, the official said.

The regulations will be in effect until Jan. 1.

This means that, with the exception of travelers from Canada, anyone entering the United States even for a temporary stay of less than 10 days will need a visa. In the past, travelers from Western Hemisphere nations or those staying in the United States for less than ten days generally did not need visas.

The officials said the new regulations even apply to persons crossing the border from Mexico.

A SIGHT TO BEHOLD — An unidentified youngster shares in the joy of flight as he points a finger skyward to the show staged by the Air Force's Thunderbirds at Webb AFB Tuesday. Young people of all ages were attracted to Webb for the combination Career Day and "open house." In brilliant sunshine, the Thunderbird pilots staged an amazing performance.

Shriver Spells Out Webb Program Lures 5,000

GRAND PRAIRIE, Tex. (AP) — Sargent Shriver proposed a job insurance program today to pay for 80 per cent of the salary of workers losing jobs in the shift from war to peace for up to 18 months.

The Democratic vice presidential candidate said the Nixon administration had made no provisions for the people thrown out of work as the Vietnam war wound down and that many needed skills are going to waste.

Speaking to two groups at the Ling Temco Vought plant, which manufactures A7 attack aircraft for the Navy and Air Force, Shriver promised that under a Democratic administration no one would lose jobs until a replacement had been created in the civilian economy.

"If there are exceptions where this is not possible for some reason," Shriver said, "We guarantee under the law to pay 80 per cent of the man or woman's salary over a period of not less than 12 months to tide that person over a reconversion from wartime to peacetime." Later, Shriver corrected himself to say he had meant to make the time limit 18 months.

"Why do we say that?" he asked. "Because we believe that you or the men or women who used to work here should not have to pay for a reconversion to peace."

The LTV plant in October 1969 employed 24,500, a plant spokesman said. Current employment is 11,500.

Shriver said the loss of jobs in the aerospace industry "is not your fault. That's not the fault of the people who used to work here. That's the fault of the government of the United States because they haven't planned."

Shriver wound up a three-day visit to Texas—his fifth to the state—with the visit to the aerospace plant. He then flew to Des Moines where he was to deliver a major policy speech on justice at Drake University.

He suggested that in the Dallas-Fort Worth area the money could be well-spent for a rapid mass transit system between the cities which are 30 miles apart and linked only by highways.

In Fort Worth Tuesday night Shriver said President Nixon has been "the greatest master of inconsistency in the history of the White House."

Webb Program Lures 5,000

A day that began with rain cleared off to a beautiful West Texas day for the Webb Air Force Career Day activities here Tuesday.

Around 3,000 students attended the event, with another 2,000 airmen and civilians added when the Thunderbirds performed to make a crowd of some 5,000 viewing the show shortly after lunch.

There was no estimate of how many persons in Big Spring also had their eyes turned toward the sky.

Students attended from high schools in Big Spring, Odessa, Midland, Colorado City, Garden City, Lorraine, Forsan and others and college students were on hand from Sul Ross.

Officers in charge of the activities at Webb claimed that it was "a big success and will probably be continued next year."

Shooting-Slash Death Of Woman

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Police held a man today in the shooting-slash death of a woman who was shot about six times Tuesday night at her home, officers said.

The victim, Dossie Satterwhite, 39, also was slashed across the face. Police said they found a shotgun, a rifle and a bayonet at the scene.

The man was treated for cuts on his hands and jailed.

U. S. Diplomat Escapes Assassination Attempt

PHNOM PENH (AP) — A powerful terrorist bomb set ablaze the armored limousine carrying the ranking U.S. diplomat in Cambodia to work this morning, but the envoy escaped unhurt, authorities reported.

Police at first reported two motorcycle policemen escorting the limousine and a civilian were killed in the blast and four Cambodians wounded. But U.S. Embassy sources said later only one policeman was killed and that the other was critically injured. They said doctors offered little hope of saving him.

WRECKAGE

Thomas O. Enders, 40, the U.S. charge d'affaires, emerged unscratched from the battered wreckage of the car. He was on his way to the American Embassy, where he is in charge while Ambassador Emory C. Swank is on home leave in the United States.

Swank escaped an assassination attempt Sept. 7, 1971. A riderless bicycle bearing a 13-pound plastic bomb concealed among loaves of French bread was sent careening into his limousine. The bomb failed to explode and the bicycle fell harmlessly to the street.

"We feel very deeply for the policemen," Enders said in a brief interview in his office.

Otherwise totally unruined, the diplomat spoke as if escaping assassination attempts were part of his daily routine.

'NOT A SCRATCH'

"Not a scratch," he told one caller.

Enders pointed out that it was one year and one day since the last terrorist attack against U.S. Embassy personnel in Phnom Penh. Two Americans were killed and 13 others wounded when a softball game was bombed on Sept. 26 last year.

Police sources said they believe the bomb was placed aboard a pedicab and that it was detonated by an unknown terrorist on a motorcycle. No further details were available.

These sources said no arrests had been made.

Police immediately set up roadblocks to check civilians close to the site, near the independence monument on October 9th Boulevard.

The blast was so powerful it blew out windows of neighboring houses and stripped leaves and several branches of trees bordering the boulevard.

HE'S GOING TO SELL OUT Runs About 50 Million Head Of Stock On Farm

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Raymond Mayo has about 50 million head of stock on his farm, but he says he's going to sell out because of an ailment that's ruining for a man in his business.

Mayo is a worm farmer with a bad back, and a man who can't bend to tend the critters hasn't got much future in the worm raising game.

Raymond, 38, and his wife, Sue, run the Shannon Worm Farm — one of the world's largest — on four acres of rich soil just outside this Florida east coast city.

The soil is rich because anybody who runs a worm farm also has a salable byproduct — gardening soil beefed up with worm manure.

Mayo says that in a good week he'll sell more than 2,400 cups of worms to retailers from California to Maine. The retailers sell the wrigglers — about 60 to a cup — to fishermen for 55 to 75 cents.

The worm manure sells at about 75 cents for a large plastic bagful, "but that's sold mainly to local customers," Mrs. Mayo says. "We don't advertise it, but we get lots of repeat business."

Mayo bought the worm farm two years ago after selling his moving and transfer business in New York.

But his wife says a recent back problem is getting a little too much for the worm rancher, "because he can't bend. And believe me, this is one business where you do a lot of bending."

The worm farm employs about six part-time workers — plus the Mayos and their four children — to care for and harvest the estimated 50 million

Mrs. Mayo says worms aren't exactly personality kids, "but they are pretty interesting. They don't take too much care — mainly just sprinkling them with food and water — and after a while you get used to the jokes from your friends."

The Shannon farm has earned a place in worm history.

While the run-of-the-mill bait worm is about eight inches long, the Smithsonian Institution in Washington has a preserved Shannon product that stretches 29 inches.

Radio Show Star 'Andy' Dies At 82

CHICAGO (AP) — "Howdy Amos... Howdy Andy" — for 32 years those familiar words opened a radio show that captivated millions of Americans.

For addicts of the "Amos and Andy Show," there were also the Kingfish, and Sapphire and Madam Queen. And there were the Beauty Parlor and the Fresh Air Taxicab Co.

But it was the Negro dialect of two white men, Charles Correll and Freeman Gosden, which drew Americans to their sets week in and week out after the show went on network radio in 1929.

On Tuesday, the deep voice of Correll, who played Andy, was silenced by death. Four days after he entered Chicago's Wesley Memorial Hospital in the wake of a heart attack, Correll died. He was 82.

Born in Peoria, Ill., Correll retired in 1960 and lived in Beverly Hills, Calif., a few blocks from Gosden, now 67.

Correll and Gosden met in 1919 as fellow members of an amateur theatrical group touring the South.

They formed a two-man team and toured tent shows in the South, sometimes singing duets.

In 1926, Correll and Gosden started a blackface minstrel show on Chicago's WGN which they called "Sam 'n' Henry."

When they changed stations in 1928 they had to find a new name for their act because of the WGN contract.

Adults Invade Child's Kaleidoscope World

It's a child's world, but about 200 adults representing a cross section of vocations, got a sneak preview of Hallmark's Kaleidoscope Tuesday evening at Lakeview Elementary School auditorium. As the doctors, teachers, administrators, club women and parents toured the creative art program, the rooms sounded like an elementary school art class.

KALEIDOSCOPE's associate director is Miss Janice Tapper who is here with the traveling art program for children created by Hallmark Cards.

"I need some glue." "Don't use all of the yellow paper." "We can't leave; I didn't try this one yet." "Look, they get to paste things down over there." "That's mine." "Look what I made."

The adults were intent in their creativity goals as they pasted, snipped, colored and painted.

Gearred toward inspiring children to use their imagination, the program promises to draw even more enthusiastic response from the more than 3,500 elementary students who will attend Kaleidoscope today through Oct. 6.

"Children can become their own artist if they are given the opportunity and encouragement to be creative," explained Miss Janice Tapper, associate director of Kaleidoscope, a traveling art program for children. "We are trying to give the child a personal experience in creating through the art medium. Children need a sense of fulfillment and the thrill of accomplishing something on their own."

Kaleidoscope, a "do it yourself" creative art program for children, stresses individual creativity. It is designed for children in grades 1 through 6, encouraged to build or create — to express themselves using familiar and simple objects and techniques. Children work with yarn, felt pieces, crayons, and other inexpensive materials found in most houses and schools.

"Kaleidoscope is not a one-time experience for the children," pointed out Miss Tapper. "They keep their creations for future ideas and have a new wealth of art experience to draw upon and to expand."

Miss Tapper, a native of Pennsylvania, received a bachelor degree from Slippery Rock State College in Slippery Rock, Pa. She holds a master's degree in education from Duquesne University in Pittsburgh.

Miss Tapper has taught on the elementary, secondary and college levels at the John Pettibone Middle School in New Milford, Conn., and the University of Pittsburgh in Pittsburgh, Pa.

She has served as a guidance counselor at both the Port Allegany school and the University of Pittsburgh, where she also served in an administrative position.

Miss Tapper has directed summer arts and crafts programs in both Pennsylvania and Connecticut. She is a member of the National Education Association and the American Association of University Professors.

Bella's In The Battle For Old Friend's Job

By MARY ELLEN MYRENE Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. Bella Abzug, wearing a floppy black hat as usual, chatted with bystanders and smiled easily when she spent one morning campaigning here last week outside a crowded subway station.

But the campaigning was for Sargent Shriver. For herself, Mrs. Abzug remained unusually subdued.

The question on everyone's mind was whether Mrs. Abzug — the flamboyant, finger-jabbing, raspy-voiced reformer — would seek the Democratic nomination for the seat of the late Rep. William F. Ryan.

The answer was yes. But standing next to Shriver, she delayed that news, seeking a cushion of time. Would she care to discuss her political prospects, a reporter had asked. "No," she said quietly, "this day is for Shriver."

With the death of Ryan on Sept. 17, Mrs. Abzug had lost a long-time friend. He had also been her opponent in the most bitterly fought campaign of her career.

In a move that generated widespread dissension, Mrs. Abzug invaded Ryan's 20th Congressional District last spring after her own district was lost to reapportionment and challenged him for the Democratic nomination to the seat he had held for 13 years.

It was a grueling campaign. Ryan emerged the victor by a 2-1 margin in the June primary.

He died Sept. 17 of cancer. Mrs. Abzug has emerged as a leading contender to succeed Ryan. She is the only candidate — among five mentioned — to actively campaign for the post.

Like Ryan, she is vehement in her opposition to the Vietnam war and a champion of women's rights.

Ryan's successor will be named this Sunday by a vote of 520 Democratic committeemen, two each from 260 elective districts. About 35 per cent of the committeemen will be drawn from Mrs. Abzug's old district, absorbed by the 20th District under reapportionment.

In her first public comment

BACK IN THE RACE — Rep. Bella Abzug, who lost a Democratic primary battle with the late Rep. William F. Ryan, is going after the nomination again. Ryan won the primary last spring but died of cancer Sept. 17 leaving Mrs. Abzug the chief contender.

on her candidacy Monday, Mrs. Abzug told reporters, "I think my chances are very good." She said she thought she had no major opposition.

Others being mentioned as possible candidates include Ryan's widow, Priscilla; State Assemblyman Franz S. Leichter, a long-time Ryan supporter; attorney Paul O'Dwyer, the Democratic Senate nominee in 1968; and Rep. James Scheuer, like Mrs. Abzug apportioned out of his old district.

'Civilisation' Film Set At College

"Protest and Communication," the sixth film in a series entitled "Civilisation," will be shown at 6 p.m. Thursday and at 2 p.m. Friday at Howard County Junior College auditorium. The public is invited to attend, and there is no charge.

The film discusses the impact of the invention of Gutenberg's printing press, the Reformation and the beginnings of Protestantism. Personalities studied include Erasmus, Sir Thomas Moore, Durer, Holbein, Cranach, Martin Luther and William Shakespeare.

NCO Wives Invited To Attend Coffee Thursday

Mrs. Stanley M. Umstead Jr., wife of the new wing commander at Webb Air Force Base, will be honored at a coffee which begins at 7:30 p.m., Thursday in the NCO Club on base.

The coffee is being hosted by the Non-Commissioned Officers Wives Club, and wives of all NCO's are invited to attend. Membership in the wives club is not necessary to attend the coffee, according to Mrs. Louis Rodriguez, hospitality chairman. Also, she stressed that wives of retired NCO's are invited to attend.

CARPET?

THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW BEFORE YOU BUY CARPET FOR YOUR HOME

- 1. Most people don't realize that carpet is the third most expensive item purchased by the average homeowner.
2. Quality—the average homeowner will live on his carpet purchase about 15 years—so quality should be the number one concern before he buys.
3. Price—a person should be very cautious not to over buy and equally cautious not to under buy depending on your personal needs, in other words, don't spend too much for too little.
4. Comparative shopping—a smart consumer should compare quality and price and yardage from at least 3 different dealers, or should obtain bids, this keeps everybody honest.

If you are generally interested in saving time and money, come in and see Ed Holland at Holland Carpets. 1600 S. Scurry room 3. Have a cup of coffee and discuss your carpet needs. If you are unable to come in call 263-0341 and he will come to your home.

Hiring Help Easier With Agency Tips

The easiest way for any employer to assure the selection of the best personnel available for service in his place of business is to interview and hire such workers through the Big Spring Employment Agency, Permian Building.

From the beginning clerk to the highly qualified executive, applicants come to Big Spring Employment because they know that private agencies are specialists in job-hunting and can, because of experience and contacts, place them in desirable jobs sooner than they could locate jobs for themselves.

To assure Big Spring employers the best job applicants available, many hours of hard work go on behind the scenes at Big Spring Employment Agency, from the time an employer calls in a job opening until it is successfully filled.

Job applicants are pre-screened so that employers will not have to spend valuable time interviewing applicants who are not by any means qualified for the particular opening.

In the field of office skills, the Big Spring Employment Agency carries on an extensive testing program. For example, if an employer wants to hire a secretary, applicants have been given a shorthand test, typing tests on both manual and electric typewriters, verbal, numerical and clerical aptitude tests.

Included also are tests on business and industrial situations. The results of these tests may be used as a selection instrument in hiring applicants and as an indicator of future possibilities.

Big Spring Employment Agency is a commercial business operating within the American free enterprise system, in no way connected with job placement services offered by educational institutions, non-profit groups or by any branch of the government.

Private employment agencies render a different service from that of state and federal employment offices in that they are not involved in unemployment compensation, private agencies devote full time to job counseling, interviewing, testing and filling job placements.

DOES SHE OR DOESN'T SHE... Chances are she DOES have roaches, ants and other crawling pests in her home. But like everyone else, she hates to admit it. Don't be embarrassed. "Mrs. Homemaker," these pests have been with us since prehistoric times — and all we can do is rely on science to provide ways to prevent and destroy them. There are many products which offer temporary solutions but only one which offers protection 24 hours a day for months and months — Johnston's No-Roach. Johnston's No-Roach (comes in an amber bottle with a free brush attached) is different — and it's different for many reasons. No-Roach eliminates the need for frequent application of messy, unsafe sprays and powders. . . . No-Roach is clean and easy to use. Simply brush this odorless, colorless liquid around baseboards, sinks, tablelegs, behind cabinets and appliances, on shelves and inside cabinet doors. Use Johnston's No-Roach in bathrooms and anywhere else cockroaches may breed. No-Roach dries fast to form an invisible path of death that kills roaches, ants, spiders, silverfish, all crawling insects — and best of all it continues to kill effectively for months. To keep ants out of the house, brush No-Roach across window frames and door sills. Ants will not cross the coating. Use No-Roach with confidence. Available at Safeway, Furr's, Piggly Wiggly, Gibson's, Foodway, Giant Discount and all grocery stores. Distributed by Kimbell.

employment compensation, private agencies devote full time to job counseling, interviewing, testing and filling job placements.

Mrs. Sue Brown and Mrs. Ruby Taroni are experienced counselors who realize that each employer has the right to demand the person who is best qualified, considering the requirements of the work, the salary to be offered and the availability of applicants.

With this in mind, an employer or applicant can be assured of a carefully considered applicant or job before the two come into confrontation.

Latin Reactions To Enforcement

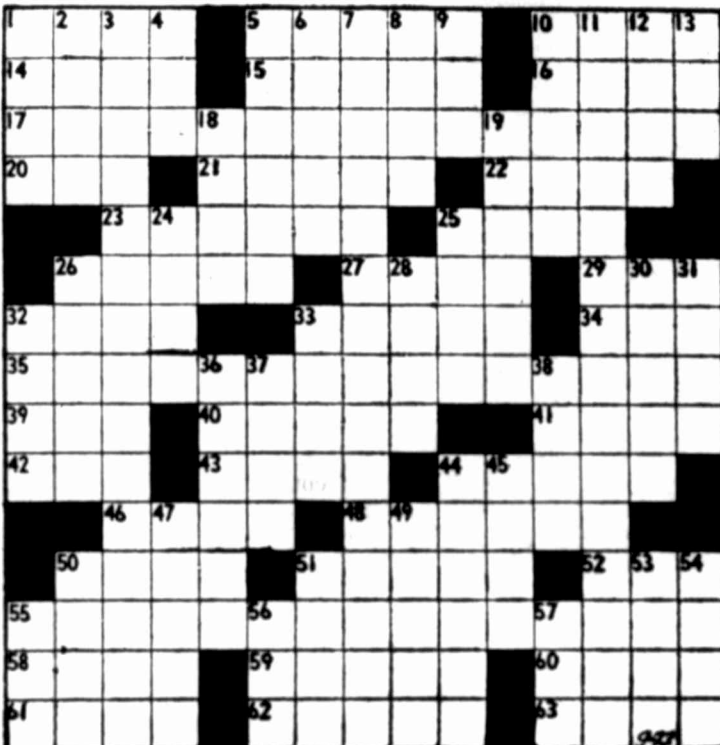

AUSTIN (AP) — Pan American University in Edinburg will get a $20,000 grant to research "Mexican-American reactions to law enforcement practices," it was reported here.

The federal grant was made to the governor's Criminal Justice Council, which will send it on to the school.

Another grant by the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, $42,583, will be used by the council to reduce "community tensions that produce civil disturbances" and also for "providing organization, training and equipment in individual law enforcement agencies to enable them to deal with civil disorders."

30 For Ex-Star Light Reporter

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Funeral services will be held today for Mary Browne Donoho, the San Antonio Light's star reporter in the World War I era.

Miss Donoho, 91, died Sunday.

She worked when virtually every man employed by the Light was in the military.

Her beat included the local military installations. She had contact with sources such as Gen. John J. Pershing.

A Seguin native, Miss Donoho's survivors include a sister, Agnes, of San Antonio.

Services will be held here, with burial at Seguin.

What's Bugging

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: For 18 years I've tried to get this point across to my husband, but he doesn't listen. He follows your advice to the letter, and if he reads this with your comments it will help our marriage.

We seldom go out socially, and when I mention a night out, he says, "Okay, Honey, let's go! You order theater tickets to whatever you want to see, and YOU make reservations for dinner wherever YOU want to eat. Press my such-a-color shirt and pick up my suit, and be sure the gas tank is filled so we won't have to stop for gas."

Abby, by the time I have done all that and have fed the kids, my evening out is no longer special. Then he gets disgusted because I'm not bubbling over with enthusiasm when we go out the door. The last six months I have told him I have changed my mind, and don't feel like going, and that makes him angry.

Please tell him to once come home and say, "I have tickets to play on THIS or THAT night, also reservations to dine at THIS restaurant, let the kids eat peanut butter, just pretty yourself up and let's go."

Maybe then I could generate some enthusiasm. Thanks.

DULL LUSTER

DEAR DULL: Are you feeling well, dear? Maybe you need a checkup. As I see it, ordering tickets to a play of your choice, and making dinner reservations at your favorite restaurant, and pressing a shirt and picking up a suit and filling a gas tank isn't all that much work. Now, what's really bothering you?

DEAR ABBY: After 25 years of marriage, my husband and I were divorced. A year later he married a younger woman. I live alone. We have two children, a daughter who was married last year, and a son who is being married soon.

I do not want to attend my son's wedding if my husband's wife is there — and that is my problem. She came to my daughter's wedding last year and ruined the whole thing for me.

I feel like telling my son that either he has me or that woman because I just can't stand to be where she is. I hate to miss my son's wedding, but there would be no point in my going with a lump in my throat and tears in my eyes.

Please, Abby, tell me what to do.

DEAR SAD: Tell your son exactly how you feel.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "IN A MESS IN ATLANTA": There is no law anywhere that can force a man to marry a woman. And if there were, I can't imagine a more discouraging union.

Blessings Of Highways

National Highway Week gives us occasion to pause and consider the vital necessity of our highways, and in Texas the blessings that these arterial roads and secondary routes have brought to our state and area.

A good place to start is the Interstate system, which has been completed and open to traffic on 80 per cent of the 3,176 miles allotted. That means that Texas now has 2,525 miles in service more than any other state will have when completed.

Two generations ago a trip to Dallas required a couple of days by car. A generation ago it was most of a day's journey. Now, without pausing for a stoplight, it is possible to drive from here to Dallas in 4½ hours. And this is safer travel, really than when we crept along.

But aside from this saving in time and certainly in comfort and wear and tear on the nerves and body, these highways have saved, according to the estimates of economists, $37 billion more than the total cost of the system by the time the network is finished.

Moreover, for every dollar of highway improvement invested, another $2.50 is spent in related industries, for materials suppliers, equipment, fuel, oil, tires. Another $2.50 is spent for consumer goods like food, clothing, recreation. Still another $2 is invested in new developments along the highways.

We are fortunate to be on the interstate system. But we are equally fortunate to have primary and secondary roads of high quality feeding into this rapid, frictionless system. And even our county has taken a role of leadership in lateral roads which serve as the capillaries that take and return traffic to the outermost fringes of our area. Few things, if anything, has contributed as much to our growth, development and livability as have our modern highways. That's reason enough to guard against letting taxes levied for highways be diverted for some other use.

Way To Stop It

Texas has a problem concerning which considerable progress has been made, but where room for more is evident.

That problem is the incidence of communicable diseases among state residents. Texas, which prides itself on being first in many things, cannot feel anything but concern for the fact it leads the nation in the incidence of some major diseases. And this is despite remarkable progress recorded in the past year.

Reported cases of polio, diphtheria, measles and other communicable diseases dropped sharply the first seven months of 1972, with expanded inoculation programs given credit. But Texas still reported 32 per cent of the total diphtheria cases in the nation, and 22 per cent of the national polio toll — down from 54 per cent and 71 per cent respectively in 1971, but still not low enough.

Since inoculations are the answer, Texas must exert extra efforts to expand the program. And the target is clear; the shameful communicable disease rate is largely concentrated among the state's minority group citizens.

What is needed is a comprehensive and inclusive program to see that all Texas children, regardless of their economic status, receive inoculations as infants against communicable disease.

... Be It Ordered

Around The Rim

Joe Pickle

Sometime ago, in connection with researching background for redefining and identifying city ordinances, Roy Anderson, assistant city manager, did a lot of digging into old records of the city.

HE DISCOVERED many interesting nuggets.

For instance, one city statute engaged in a bit of protectionism — only residents of Howard County were allowed to peddle produce in Big Spring.

Later, in 1913, the council made it unlawful to throw sticks and stones in the city reservoir. There being a question of expense involved, the council didn't get around to ordering it covered until some 50 years had passed.

AS A PART of fund-raising, the governing body ordained a $1 annual poll tax for persons 21-60 years of age. This 1914 statute may never have been rigidly enforced, and soon was forgotten.

Plagued with complaints, the council issued an order banning the grazing of livestock within the city limits. In a civic mood, the council also established official "cleanup" weeks.

ANOTHER ORDINANCE made it unlawful to engage in malicious jeering or hooting.

This reminded me of some earlier delving I had done in the minutes. My notes pegged this in 1914. The ordinance made it against the law to engage in "malicious jeering, hooting, bawling, and howling at any person on the streets of Big Spring."

THE ALDERMEN had, in 1913, adopted a curfew law, declaring that any person under the age of 16 had to be off the streets by 9 p.m. Thereafter, at intervals when there were furries of minor crime or disorders, the ordinance was dusted off and enforced momentarily.

One of the earliest actions was to deal with the problem of loose livestock, particularly pigs which used board walks for scratching lice-laden backs, and thus making of the walks as safe as walking during an earthquake.

DEALING with early-day speed demons, the council adopted a 10 mph limit down town and 15 mph elsewhere. Not many vehicles could exceed the limits, possibly the only one being the famous Thomas Flyder fire engine which was purchased in 1909 and was the town pride and joy until 1925. The claim is made that this was the first motorized fire engine in the state.

The council once took it upon itself to declare that tuberculosis was "returnable," and in another action suggested strongly (if indeed it did not order) schools to be closed during a meningitis scare. In fact, the council told people to stay away from public gatherings.

A LITTLE later, when ministers petitioned for the council to ban "commercialized baseball in Big Spring," the aldermen, knowing well that the city was a red-hot baseball town, found a way to table the request.

At the very start the city dealt with problems which have persisted, including a complaint that taxes were too high on a couple of pieces of property. A special committee checked and said it didn't think so. After the city acquired the water system from C. F. Aldermen, commissioners surveyed the water rolls and ordered a couple of non-payers cut off. In 1917, after providing a sewage system, they forced one local resident to connect to it.

As late as 1925, with pressure growing to abandon the old aldermanic form of government, the council decided not to wait for the federal government's decennial enumeration — it engaged E. A. Kelly to take a census. He did and found 5,500 bonafide residents.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

The Bible says, "Honor thy father and mother," but how can you do that when there is nothing to honor? When a father yells, screams and beats without reason it is hard to honor him. It has been that way ever since my mom married him. My real father doesn't want me either.

T.H. My heart goes out to you. But, the honoring of parents precept is like a two-sided coin — it is beneficial to children as well as parents.

I can understand your dissatisfaction with a father who is sometimes brutal and lacking in understanding, and of course, this is wrong. But children who are totally lacking in parental respect can make it hard for themselves. The "honor" the Bible calls for is a respect for the position rather than the person. For example, a soldier may have a personal dislike for his superior officer. When he salutes, he is not honoring the person, but the uniform — the rank of his superior.

The Bible teaches that we are to respect family rank. We are to maintain a certain honor for parents, and when children do, a better relationship is established. Let us say that you went to your father and said, "I am sorry for the trouble we have had, and I know I'm partly to blame, and I want you to forgive me. I appreciate all you have done for me, and I love you for it. I'm going to try to be a better daughter."

Isn't it possible that your father's whole attitude might undergo a change? I believe that it might, and it is worth trying. Jesus said, "If ye forgive . . . your heavenly Father will also forgive you." Matthew 6:14. There is healing in forgiveness.

It's Good Business

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — One result of spreading affluence and its corollary, consumer activism, is the availability today of information that once was closely guarded by money institutions.

A growing number of banks now publish for individuals the type of money management bulletins that once were directed only at wealthy individuals and corporations.

There is nothing altruistic about it. It's good business. Millions of persons today have discretionary income; they have money left over after paying for basic needs, and they can decide how they want to save or spend it. Naturally the banks are interested.

In addition, people are better educated today. This doesn't necessarily mean that they are better equipped to handle themselves in the complex marketplace of modern society, but it does mean that they want to know how.

The combination of money and education adds up to power. That power underlies the entire consumer movement — it led to the more vigorous regulatory climate and now it is fostering the disclosure of information once regarded as private.

Monthly publications by large banks treat such diverse topics as controlling travel costs, the art and science of budgeting, and calculating retirement costs.

Among the tips is a savings timetable that lists the amount that must be saved per month at various interest rates to achieve a specific goal in a stated time.

If you wished to build up savings of $10,000, you would look down the chart and read that you would have to put away $65.86 a month for 10 years, assuming 4.5 per cent interest.

Smart savers then may turn to another chart, also offered by the banks under their recent "the truth never hurt" policy. This chart illustrates the damage that inflation rates cause.

It shows that if the rate of inflation was 4 per cent a year — it exceeded that in four of the past five years — the buying power of that money would be $8,200 in five years, $6,700 in 10.

Have such revelations hurt the savings institutions? Hardly. Savings and loan associations are bulging because the growing financial assets of Americans — more than $35 billion in savings, life insurance, pensions and the like — must be placed somewhere.

Wise consumers know that, like corporations, they must have "liquidity," or money that can be used quickly. Therefore savings.

As the level of education and the availability of information rise, so also rises the number of direct shareholders in corporations, so also does the amount of life insurance.

The facts aid rather than hurt legitimate financial institutions.

Summer Sirens

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Students at Indiana University campus in Indianapolis got used to the sounds of fire alarms and emergency vehicles this past summer.

It seemed a problem with the fire detectors in rooms that were not air-conditioned kept tripping the school's firm alarm.

"The detectors are set as low as they possibly can be now, consequently there is nothing we can do about it," a school official said.

Bass Is Fish Pro

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Richard E. Bass is director of the Division of Fish and Wildlife for the Indiana Department of Natural Resources.

Didn't Box A Compass

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Did you get a lot done last year?

You did? And feeling pretty confident about it, too? A lot of people are like that — always patting themselves on the back for the number of things they manage to get done.

You probably wouldn't feel so smug, however, about the list of things you achieved, if you were honest enough to look at the other side of the balance sheet and list the things you didn't do in the previous 12 months.

Without knowing you at all, for example, I'll wager that you — like me — didn't —

Teach Sophia Loren to eat spaghetti with chopsticks.

Box a compass.

WASHINGTON — On the luck of the draw the Democrats have been getting all the bad breaks while the Republicans are loaded with luck. Looking just ahead is a bit of chancy maneuvering which if it turns out badly could be as disastrous as anything thus far.

THAT IS THE possibility of envenomed debate over the bill passed by the House ruling out court-ordered busing until other methods of ending discrimination are proved unworkable. This is a highly emotional issue the Republicans mean to exploit and the Senate is an ideal forum. Hardly less than control of the Senate in the November election is at stake. As Sen. Hubert Humphrey puts it: "Sure, we can commit suicide if this goes to a donnybrook on the floor with the Republicans holding our feet to the fire on an issue that's got so many voters worked up."

NOT ALONE the Senate, but the presidential campaign will suffer in a showdown over busing. George McGovern would have to leave the campaign trail to come back and vote against the House bill. The Democratic platform calls busing one way to bring about integration and equality of opportunity in the schools.

It is in the close races that a vote will weigh heavily one way or the other. In Rhode Island Sen. Clair-borne Pell has moved up to within three or four points of his Republican challenger, John H. Chaffee, even though the polls show a lopsided majority for the Nixon-Agnew ticket.

THE SAME thing applies in Montana where Sen. Lee Metcalf is currently rated ahead of his Republican challenger, State Sen. Henry Hibbard, a rancher. While busing with a racial goal is not an issue in Montana, the state is essentially conservative and the effort is to pin a radical label on Metcalf. A pro-busing vote might help.

SEN. ROBERT P. Griffin has worked harder than any other Republican to inflame the busing issue and he will rally the troops if and when the issue reaches the Senate floor. After the federal court decision in Detroit ordering a massive interchange of pupils between the city schools in Detroit and the white suburbs, Griffin was rated a shoo-in. But the Democratic contender, State Attorney General Frank J. Kelley, equally hard-line on busing, has moved to postpone implementation of the Detroit decision until after the election. The latest Detroit News poll shows Griffin at 42 to 39 for Kelley, which means a margin for error swinging the seat either way.

WELFARE-REFORM LEGISLATION

Sweeten Bill With Social Security Hikes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Working against a deadline, the Senate opens floor debate today on the hotly disputed welfare-reform legislation, a gigantic bill sweetened with Social Security increases.

The fate of the $14.6-billion legislation is highly uncertain because prolonged debate over its controversial provisions would thwart congressmen's hopes for adjournment by Oct. 1.

MEDICINE

But the bill also contains many Social Security and Medicare benefits which its sponsors consider highly popular in election year.

An effort will be made to rescue these benefit provisions in some fashion if the full bill cannot be passed.

The 889-page bill has been nearly two years in the making. It passed the House in June a year ago and has been stuck since that time in the Senate Finance Committee.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has called the bill to the floor despite the lateness in the session to fulfill his pledge that President Nixon's top-priority proposals would be given consideration.

As the bill was submitted by the President and passed by the House, it contained his proposals to change the system of providing public assistance for families with dependent children.

NIXON PLAN

The Senate Finance Committee, however, rejected the Nixon plan and substituted its own Welfare system which would impose much tougher work requirements on parents in the welfare families.

This dispute is expected to dominate the Senate debate.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., floor manager for the bill, predicted that all the provisions except those on the welfare families could pass in a few days.

The Social Security provisions in the bill would give special benefits to widows, the disabled, men, persons who work beyond 65 and other groups.

WORKING POOR

The legislation would expand Part A of Medicare, which is financed by Social Security, to give coverage to 1.5 million persons who now receive Social Security disability payments and to include payment for drugs needed by chronically ill aged persons.

Social Security taxes would be raised about $6 billion a year to pay for these new benefits.

Nixon's family-assistance plan would fix a minimum $2,400 annual income for a family of four and, for the first time, provide payments for the working poor.

The Finance Committee's Welfare plan would remove from the welfare rolls families whose children were in school and require the parents to take jobs with a federal corporation in order to receive any income from the government.

Siren Test To Be Staged Saturday

At noon on Saturday, the quarterly siren test will be conducted by the City of Big Spring and Webb Air Force Base.

The test signals will consist of a one minute steady tone, followed by one minute of silence, and concluded with a one minute warning tone.

Other than those persons required to check the siren system operation, no action will be required by Civil Defense or Webb personnel. The responsibility of the sirens being activated for the City of Big Spring will be by the Big Spring Fire Department, said W. D. Berry CD coordinator.

POLITICAL FANS — President Nixon, right, finds himself vying for attention with another popular Republican personality, Mrs. Martha Mitchell, left, as they leave the dias Tuesday night at GOP fund-raising dinner. As Secret Service agents cast a worried eye, jostling Republicans press forward for autographs. The dinner was held at a midtown Manhattan hotel.

Nixon Asking Big Victory So He Can Press Programs

NEW YORK (AP) — President Nixon, making his biggest campaign-season tour, says he seeks not simply victory but "a victory for America—that's what we're working for."

Nixon, appearing at a $1,000-a-plate Republican fund-raising dinner in New York, argued that he must have the opportunity to "finish the job" that was begun with overtures to Moscow and Peking.

The President also held out voters the prospect that in a second term he would achieve in the domestic arena the triumph which he claimed for his first 3 1/2 years in the field in foreign policy.

THINGS TO DO

Nixon's remarks were piped by closed-circuit television to GOP dinner audiences in 27 other cities.

In talking about "a victory for America," Nixon said he believes his appeal crosses regional, party and generational lines. He went on: "We've only begun and there's so much left to do."

Looking to the past, and particularly to his ventures into personal diplomacy in China and the Soviet Union, he asserted, "we have changed the world."

Nixon, accompanied by wife Pat, was bound today for California, to address a money-raising GOP luncheon and to inspect the new rapid-transit system in San Francisco, and to attend a "Victory '72" dinner in Los Angeles.

TERRORISM

Nixon met in New York Tuesday with Jewish leaders from 13 states as well as with the Republican faithful and Democrats for Nixon, and today released a statement renewing his stand against Arab terrorism against Israel.

"The time has come for civilized people to act in concert to remove the threat of terrorism from the world," he said.

Saying some argue that "terror is the last resort of the weak and the oppressed" who seek only political justice, Nixon said, "This is nonsense."

He argued that justice must be achieved through negotiation.

FIRST STOP

The President's first stop Tuesday was the tiny island on which stands the Statue of Liberty, where by dedicated a federal immigration museum.

Hundreds of persons, most of them schoolchildren and almost all representing ethnic groups, were ferried to the island for the ceremonies.

HECKLED

At least a handful heckled Nixon, however, and were hustled away by federal police who, in some cases, clamped fists over the mouths of those shouting "end the war."

About 200 protesters showed up outside the Americana Hotel where Nixon addressed the party fund-raiser. But they were gone before he arrived, moving to the nearby local headquarters of his campaign committee where some were seized by police after a few windows in the neighborhood were broken.

Nurses' Group Sets Tuesday Meeting

District 21 of the Texas Nurses Association will hold its regular monthly meeting Tuesday at 2:30 p.m.

Theme for 1972 is Community Services, and this program is a follow-up of last month's meeting when the program was on the battered child syndrome. Tuesday's program will include both a lecture and a slide presentation and will show what Midland Memorial Hospital is doing to educate parents to the art of being parents, according to Mrs. Gwen McKay, NMH director of nurses.

Loan Limit Boost Included In Act

The Rural Development Act of 1972, signed by the President Aug. 30, provides new loan and grant authorities.

Included in these changes is an increase in the maximum operating loan limit, from $35,000 to $50,000. For information on this and any other change effecting Farmers Home Administration contact the Farmers Home Administration County Office in Room 220 — Federal Building, Big Spring, or call 267-8041.

LIVERMORE, Calif. (AP) — Nicholas C. Christofilos, 56, one of the nation's foremost nuclear scientists, died of an apparent heart attack Sunday. Christofilos was in charge of the Astron Project at the University of California. The project attempts to create a clean, inexhaustible means of generating electrical power by harnessing thermonuclear fusion reactions.

34 FOR WICK — Wick Fowler, 63, journalist, humorist and author, died in an Austin hospital early today. Fowler's death was attributed to amyotrophic lateral sclerosis, the lethal muscular disease that claimed the life of the "Iron Man of Baseball" Lou Gehrig.

INTO SECOND SAFE WITH A STEAL — San Francisco's Gary Maddox goes into second safe under the late tag of Houston Astros' Roger Metzger. Action took place in the sixth inning of the Sept. 26 game in which San Francisco went on to topple the Astros 5-2.

LOSE TO GIANTS, 5-2

Astros Close In On Third

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Astros may be closing in on third place in the National League's Western Division. They're currently in second place after being eliminated from championship contention by the Cincinnati Reds last Friday, but many more 5-2 defeats like Tuesday's loss to San Francisco and the Astros can start thinking about being No. 3.

The Astros led 2-0 after four innings and Jerry Reuss was pitching no-hit ball until the fifth inning crept up on them. Suddenly they were behind 4-2 and Reuss had retired from the evening.

It was a game where a little break here or there could have helped the Astros in their battle with Los Angeles for second place.

"The ball (Jim Ray) Hart hit was what started them," Houston Manager Leo Durocher said. "It was a knuckle ball by the time it got to (shortstop Roger) Metzger."

The ball struck Metzger on the glove and head and went for a double to start the Giants' four-run fifth inning. Gary Matthews brought in two runs with another double. Another scored on Tito Fuentes' single, and on the same play a fourth run scored when Astros outfielder Bob Watson couldn't handle Fuentes' hit.

Bobby Bonds clubbed his 24th homer of the season in the seventh to make it 5-2.

Houston's runs came on Watson's homer in the second inning and a single by Tommy Helms in the fourth.

"Bonds hit a ball I didn't think would go out of the park," Durocher said.

The Giants helped starter Sam McDowell and reliever Elias Sosa with three double plays, including a crucial double out in the eighth inning initiated by shortstop Chris Speier.

The Astros close out their home season tonight against the Giants.

Brewers Belt Bosox
Scott Returns To Haunt Boston

By The Associated Press
George Scott helped the Boston Red Sox win a pennant in 1967 and could help them lose one in 1972.

The former Boston slugger, dealt to the Milwaukee Brewers last winter, returned to haunt the Red Sox Tuesday night in the midst of their tension-filled American League East baseball race.

"If I say I'm not fired up playing here, I'd be telling a lie," Scott said after hitting a two-run homer at Fenway Park that led the Brewers to a significant 6-4 triumph over Boston. "After all, I played here for six years and I have a lot of friends here."

The defeat cut Boston's lead in the East to a mere half game over the Detroit Tigers and kept the four-team race in an extremely nervous state.

The Tigers and New York Yankees, both idle Tuesday night, gained ground on the Red Sox. The Yankees moved within 2½ games of Boston and are tied with the Baltimore Orioles, who lost 3-2 to the Cleveland Indians.

In the other American League games, the Kansas City Royals stopped the Chicago White Sox 2-1 and the California Angels nipped the Texas Rangers 2-1. Rain washed out a two-night doubleheader between the Minnesota Twins and Oakland A's.

National League scores: Pittsburgh 5, Philadelphia 1; Chicago 6, Montreal 0; Atlanta 5, Cincinnati 9; San Francisco 5, Houston 2; New York 3, St. Louis 1 and Los Angeles 7, San Diego 3.

The Red Sox were unable to hold a 4-0 lead built on early two-run homers by Carl Yastrzemski and pitcher Marty Patin. The Brewers finally caught up in the eighth after getting a run in the fifth on Johnny Briggs' homer and one in the sixth on Ellie Rodriguez' run scoring hit.

Brock Davis touched off Milwaukee's winning rally with a bunt single and eventually came around with the first run on Rodriguez' sacrifice fly. Joe Lahoud then reached base on Yastrzemski's error at first base and Scott promptly put Patin's pitch into the seats.

Chris Chambliss and Ray Fosse hit consecutive home runs in the fourth inning to lead Cleveland over Baltimore, dealing the Orioles their 32nd one-run defeat of the year.

Chambliss also singled home a Cleveland run in the sixth.

The Orioles scored a run in the fifth on singles by Johnny Oates and Don Buford and a sacrifice fly by Bobby Grich, then scored their second run on Oates' ninth-inning homer.

Steve Busby pitched a five-hitter and Ed Kirkpatrick slammed a home run as Kansas City beat Chicago and dropped the White Sox four games behind the A's. The defeat lowered Oakland's pennant-winning magic number to four in the West.

Rookie Billy Parker hit a home run and Andy Messersmith fired a three-hitter to lead California over Texas. Parker's homer came off Mike Paul in the second inning. The Angels added the eventual winning run in the sixth when Lee Stanton scored on third baseman Jim Mason's throwing error.

Blass Looking For 20th Victory

By The Associated Press
Roberto Clemente would dearly love to get his 3,000th major league hit in Pittsburgh. But the Pirates' Steve Blass isn't too concerned where he gets his 20th victory — or, for that matter, whether he gets it at all.

"Either I do or I don't," Blass said Tuesday night after winning his 19th of the baseball season, scattering eight Philadelphia hits as the Pirates beat the Phillies 5-1.

"I certainly want 20," added Blass, who would become the first Pittsburgh hurler to reach that plateau since Vernon Law did it in 1960, "but I'm not going to worry about it."

Blass will have one more regular-season start, then he'll rest until the start of the National League playoffs against Cincinnati.

It's likely that the 30-year-old right-hander will open the best-of-five playoff Oct. 7 against the Reds' Don Gullett.

But unlike Blass, Gullett had his problems Tuesday night. The Atlanta Braves ripped him for seven runs in six innings and handed him his 10th loss in 18 decisions en route to a 10-9 victory over Cincinnati.

In other National League games, the New York Mets downed St. Louis 3-1, the Chicago, San Francisco defeated Houston 5-2 and Los Angeles beat San Diego 7-3.

In the American League, Milwaukee topped Boston 6-4, Cleveland edged Baltimore 3-2, California clipped Texas 2-1, and Kansas City nipped the Chicago White Sox 2-1. Minnesota's twinning doubleheader at Oakland was rained out. 7 Clemente picked up a pair of singles against the Phillies to raise his major league hit total to 2,996, putting him just four short of a lofty mark reached by only eight other players in the history of the game.

Pittsburgh has two more games in Philadelphia before returning home to face New York and Pirates Manager Bill Virdon announced right after that game that, if Clemente reached 2,999, he'd be benched until the start of the series with the Mets.

"We'd like him to get 3,000 at home," Virdon said—and Clemente echoed that sentiment.

"That's what I want," Roberto said. "I play all my life in Pittsburgh. I'd like to get my big hit there."

The Bucs bunched all their runs against the Phils in the sixth inning. Al Oliver doubled in two, Manny Sanguillen singled for two more and Blass singled for the final run.

Ralph Garr, Dusty Baker and Earl Williams drove in two runs apiece for the Braves, who battered Gullett and two relievers for 13 hits. The decisive run, however, came in the top of the ninth inning on Larvell Blanks' sacrifice fly.

Baker hit his 17th homer while Hank Aaron hit his 32nd, the 671st of his career, putting him 43 short of Babe Ruth's all-time record. Those homers countered two by the Reds' Johnny Bench, who leads the majors with 39 homers and 121 runs batted in. Pete Rose added three RBI to Bench's four in the game as Cincinnati stroked 14 hits.

Messerschmidt Stops Rangers

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Rangers, the weakest hitting team in the majors, had lost 11 straight games, but California's Andy Messerschmidt was still worried.

"I don't usually pitch well against them. I don't know why, but they hit me about as well as anybody. So, I was up for this one. It's hard getting up for a lot of teams this late in the season, but this wasn't tough to get ready for as far as I was concerned."

Washington held a 4-1 edge over Messerschmidt, but Texas is 1-2 against the Baron after his three-hit, 2-1 triumph Tuesday night.

"I missed three months of the season because of injuries to my middle finger," Messerschmidt said. "That messed up my whole season. I've pitched well since I've come off the disabled list. I'm 5-2 and my earned run average has been good. But I've got a lot of catching up to do and no time to do it."

Messerschmidt struck out six and walked three. He wasn't affected at all by a one-hour rain delay that interrupted the game with two out and the bases loaded in the Angels' sixth.

"Even with the rain, it was hot enough that I wasn't too worried about my arm. There were no problems, although a lot of times rain delays have affected me."

Messerschmidt had the Rangers on the brink of their 27th shut out, but a walk to Toby Harrah, Bill Fahey's ground out and Rookie second baseman Vic Harris' single to right center ended that threat in the eighth.

Foster Holds Onto Crown

LONDON (AP) — With sweat still dripping from his brow after his successful light-heavyweight title defense Tuesday night against Chris Finnegan of England, champion Bob Foster pencilled in his next two dates which could be in the same ring.

The first, yet to be finalized, will be against Muhammad Ali over 12 rounds in November. The second will be a return against the left-handed Finnegan, "who gave me my hardest title fight ever," as Foster admitted later in his dressing room.

London promoter Jarvis Asaire was confident Tuesday of getting the fight with Ali for the same Wembley ring, with satellite television screening for the United States.

'Broadway Joe' Gets AP Award

NEW YORK (AP) — "With Joe we always have the threat of a sudden touchdown," said Weeb Ewbank, coach of the New York Jets.

You couldn't get much more sudden than Joe Namath's touchdowns last Sunday. The Jets' rifle-armed quarterback fired a total of six scoring strikes—including three within a 1 1/2-minute span—and amassed 496 yards passing as New York shredded Baltimore's vaunted defense and beat the Colts 44-14.

Namath's remarkable performance—his touchdown total was one shy of the National Football League record and the most by a quarterback in a decade and his yardage was the third highest in league history—earned him selection Tuesday as the NFL's Offensive Player of the Week.

PATS' LINEBACKER Cheyunski Named Defensive Player

NEW YORK (AP) — "I thought before the game," New England's Jim Cheyunski said, "that the team seemed to be down. A win like this will get everybody keyed up again."

Cheyunski helped to get the Patriots keyed up. The middle linebacker made 11 unassisted tackles and helped out on seven others to hold favored Atlanta at bay. And it paid off with a 21-20 victory by the Patriots.

McAshan Gets AP Honor

Eddie McAshan has been hearing the boos since 1970, when, as Georgia Tech's first black athlete, he became the first major to quarterback a major college football team in the Deep South.

He heard them in the fifth game of the 1970 season when he failed to move his previously unbeaten team in a 17-6 loss to Tennessee.

LEE TOPS IN 4A Childress Leads In 2A

A master poker player couldn't have shuffled the deck better in Class 2A of The Associated Press schoolboy football poll.

A completely new deck had to be brought out after three of the top four teams in last week's voting bit the dust and Childress drew the ace, taking over the No. 1 spot in Class 2A from defeated Jacksboro, which slipped to fourth.

Not one team remained in the same position it held a week ago as Refugio, the pre-season favorite, moved into second place, followed by Friendswood, Jacksboro and Hondo. San Antonio Lee continued to dominate Class 4A, as did Uvalde in Class 3A, Sonora in Class A and Celina in Class B. Class 4A experienced almost as severe a case of upsets as Class 2A with three of the top five teams losing—No. 2 Port Neches-Groves, No. 3 Houston Westchester and No. 5 Killeen. Longhorns Get Nod Over Tech

NEW YORK (AP) — Texas Tech for real or is this the real Texas?

The answer will come in Lubbock Saturday night when the Texas Longhorns, unimpressive in their opening game, begin their quest for a fifth consecutive Southwest Conference championship against the Red Raiders of Texas Tech, who were most impressive in whipping Utah 45-3 and New Mexico 41-16.

"We didn't play a poised, polished game," said Darrell Royal over Miami, Fla. "I was pleased with the effort and I'm delighted with the win, but I'm really concerned about the kind of football team we have."

So is Tech's Jim Carlen. "Texas," he said, "is a solid club in virtually every area and I think their offensive line is the strongest we've seen since we've been here, but we're a relaxed team and we're looking forward to playing Texas. We know most of their team because we tried to recruit them."

The longshot is tempting, but the Longhorns are the champs until someone proves otherwise. Tulane at Michigan—Can Tulane do to Michigan what it did to Georgia? Green Wave turns blue. Michigan.

West Virginia at Stanford—In the immortal words of Satchel Paige, "Don't look back; someone may be gaining on you." Sometimes, it's worse to look ahead, which Stanford might be doing to next week's clash with Southern Cal. Ergo... West Virginia.

Purdue at Notre Dame—You can't assess a team on one game," says Northwestern's Alex Agase, a 37-0 loser to Notre Dame, "but Notre Dame is always good and it's a question if they are going to be out for blood following last year's fourth-quarter 8-7 loss and two tough losses this season to Bowling Green and Washington. Do Boilermakers have blood? Notre Dame."

Tennessee vs. Auburn at Birmingham—Bill Battle has lost three games in two years at Tennessee, two of them to Auburn. Time for revenge Tennessee.

Wisconsin at Louisiana State—Wisconsin has won both starts by 31-7 scores and that could be the score of this one too... in reverse. Louisiana State.

Florida State at Kansas—Battle of the bomb between David Jaynes of Kansas and Gary Huff of... Florida State.

Michigan State at Southern California—"Michigan State has as many fast backs as there are in the world," says USC's John McKay. "We'll have to play much better to prevent them from getting outside." Oh! Southern Cal.

Colorado at Oklahoma State—Buffs are thinking national championship. Colorado.

North Carolina at Ohio State—Woody Hayes says last week's layoff will put the Buckeyes at a disadvantage.

"At least we didn't lose over the weekend," he said. Nor this weekend, either. Ohio State. Though, is too tough. Penn State.

Iowa at Penn State—Hawkes are rebuilding and could surprise. Lions' defense, though, is too tough. Penn State.

Chamberlain May Join New Team

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Superstar Wilt Chamberlain is considering leaving the NBA Champion Los Angeles Lakers to sign with the new San Diego Conquistadors of the American Basketball Association, a newspaper reported here today.

Reynolds, Lawlis Cop Player Awards

PLAYERS OF THE WEEK — Earl Reynolds (42) and Rob Lawlis (61) were selected "Back of the Week" and "Lineman of the Week" respectively for their play in last week's Big Spring-Snyder football game.

Earl Reynolds carried the ball eight times for 37 yards and caught a 28-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Alan Davis to earn "Back of the Week" honors for the Big Spring Steers.

Reynolds was the leading ballcarrier for the Steers in Friday night's 21-10 loss to the Snyder Tigers in the final non-conference game of the season for Big Spring.

Reynolds suffered a shoulder injury in the Sweetwater scrimmage one week prior to the season opener against Lubbock Monterey and saw only limited action against the Steers' second opponent, the Hobbs, N.M., Eagles.

Dwayne McMeans rushed for 146 yards and two touchdowns as Stanton defeated Wink, 35-2. McMeans' performance netted him "Back of the Week" honors. McMeans is a 170-pound from the Buffalo coaching staff.

Robert Wash, a 186-pound fullback, carried 12 times for 53 yards and contributed 13 unassisted tackles from his linebacker spot to earn Forsan "Back of the Week" honors.

Halfback Garland Williams was chosen "Back of the Week" by Borden County Coyote Coach Bob Dyess following the Coyotes' 24-16 win over Smyer Friday night.

Frosty Floyd picked up 137 yards rushing and added another 95 yards on three kick-off returns to earn "Back of the Week" honors at Sands High School. Floyd is a freshman at Sands. Mustang Coach Bob Davis also mentioned fullback David Zant in connection with "Back of the Week" honors. Zant had 35 yards on six carries and caught four passes for 65 yards.

Guard Rob Lawlis was selected "Lineman of the Week" by the Big Spring coaching staff for his performance in the Steer-Snyder contest Friday night. Lawlis is a 190-pound senior.

Offensive-defensive tackle Duane Clary, a 175-pound senior, was selected as "Lineman of the Week" at Stanton. Buffalo Head Coach Bill Young said, "Clary had a lot of tackles on defense and did a real good job as a blocker."

Wesley Thixton, normally a back-up halfback, was moved into the line for Forsan and capped "Lineman of the Week" honors. Thixton, almost microscopic at 124 pounds, played guard on defense and saw duty as an offensive tackle against Imperial. He had nine unassisted tackles and did "a fine job," according to Forsan mentor Jack Woodley.

Roy Don Henley, an offensive end, earned "Lineman of the Week" honors for the Borden County Coyotes.

Flag Football

Anyone interested in participating in flag football this year is asked to contact Jake Glickman, sports chairman of the Jaycees.

Glickman said that a flag football league is being organized and team managers and coaches and players should get in contact with him so that "we can get the league rolling."

The league is for community adults who don't get much exercise and would like to play, according to Glickman.

Glickman said anyone interested in participating can contact him at 267-8216, extension 251, or 263-3285.

Horoscope Forecast

CAROL RICHTER

THURSDAY, SEPT. 28, 1972

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Although the early part of the day can be utilized to advantage by a calm, steady and cheerful approach to your goals and aims, the afternoon and evening find you all too apt to be in an argumentative frame of mind which could cause you to miss out where it means the most to you by stirring up plenty of opposition, ignore others' anger.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Do that shopping and have correspondence in the a.m., and then make sure in p.m. you do not lose your temper, or you can lose a fine job. Much care in motion is imperative especially in the evening. Driving can be particularly hazardous.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Any interest in financial affairs should be handled in a.m. Be prudent tonight. Take care you are not more extravagant than you can easily afford now. Think along more constructive lines tonight, especially.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Plan time for improving health and good looks so you gain favor easily and can feel sure of yourself when dealing with others. Out to the social affairs you like but be very cautious. Do nothing to jeopardize your reputation.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 22) Ideal time to set up appointments with good friends for whatever your mutual purposes. For those am that is not rational and safe. A perfect evening for doing social things with congenials.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22) You can rid yourself of responsibilities easily.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have some leftover duties to attend to, although it is in your mind to go out for pleasure, so be sure to do those first. That lunch you have is fully, so do not follow it. Steer clear of trouble.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) If you are too blind with a partner, you can certainly start a big argument, so use diplomacy instead. Handling that civic matter conscientiously brings excellent results. You are a gracious person; show it socially in p.m.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have excellent talents and can get all that special work behind you with speed and efficiency now. Others are in no mood to give you assistance, so do not ask. Don't get bogged down with details; best results.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Just what you need is a partner for entertainment activities, you can have a delightful time if then today. Do not pressure others into going with you. Work some on that particular product.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Back close the instead of annoying them and make everything much better. Get rid of causes of tension. Fix faulty appliances, but get rid of whatever is dangerous, unrepairable.

Commercial Sewer Service Rate Increase Is Looming

A total city budget of $3,465,542 was approved by City Commissioners Tuesday evening in regular session, but deletion of four sewer service rate increases will require some adjustment.

Commissioner Jack Watkins, Mayor Pro-Tem Eddie Acri and D. A. Brazel suggested that adjustments in commercial rates were certainly in order, but an increase in residential, multiple apartments and rooming houses will unduly place more burden on the average tax-payer. They argued that the citizen is taxed and charged sufficiently at present, and that sources of revenue other than increasing the citizen's costs should be considered.

City Manager Harry Nagel recommended that the proposed increase of 25 cents in sewer rates for residential, multiple apartments and rooming houses accounts be deleted from the schedule of proposed increases. Commissioners agreed with the recommendation and passed unanimously the first reading of the ordinance for rate increases.

on hotels, motels, office buildings, filling stations, restaurants and cafes, laundries, stores and business houses, hospitals, schools, churches, institutions and public buildings.

Commissioners tabled vote on a resolution which was designed to rescind blanket approval of any and all rent-supplement housing projects for Big Spring. The resolution was intended to amend the 1966 rent supplement resolution, one which was written for the purpose of approving construction of the Northcrest Apartments, but which now has been defined to allow construction of all projects without specific Commission approval.

As the proposed resolution read, Commissioners argued that it would allow permission for the most recently proposed project, presented by Bill Sheppard and Winston Wrinkle, and all others which may be pending approval of the Department of Housing and Urban Renewal. It also excluded from specific approval any housing projects which have already been constructed, but may at a later date, request the rent-supplement program.

Commissioners asked that the ordinance be rewritten to exclude approval of any rent-supplement project except Northcrest Apartments and the Wrinkle-Sheppard project without consent of the City Commission.

The resolution was scheduled for consideration again in a special called meeting this morning at 10:00 a.m.

Senate Refuses By One Vote To Confirm Smith's Choice

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Rebuffed for the second time by a stubborn Senate, Gov. Preston Smith sifted suggestions today for his third choice as chairman of the State Insurance Board.

RALPH IS BACK
One name was prominent: former U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

Smith's No. 2 selection, Secretary of State Bob Bullock, failed by a single vote to win the Senate's approval Tuesday, and Bullock blamed Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and the insurance lobby.

Acting behind locked doors after trying to keep the public out, the Senate rejected Bullock, 19-11, the same margin by which Larry Teaver lost out as board chairman on the opening day of the special session, Sept. 18, said, "I am disturbed" that the Senate "will apparently not permit a person who is committed to protecting the insurance consumer to serve" on the board.

as board chairman on the opening day of the special session, Sept. 18, said, "I am disturbed" that the Senate "will apparently not permit a person who is committed to protecting the insurance consumer to serve" on the board.

"My defeat, coupled with the defeat of Teaver, is proof that no person can be confirmed at this time who is not closely connected with the insurance industry or so weak-willed that he wouldn't say 'mud' if he had a mound of it," Bullock said.

HE'S DISTURBED
Until Barnes is "back in Brownwood," the lieutenant governor's home town, "we are not going to see much in the way of reforming the insurance industry," Bullock added.

Word Awaited On U.S. Funds

In presenting his proposed 1972-73 City Budget for Commission approval in Tuesday evening's regular session of the City Commission, City Manager Harry Nagel noted that a surplus of funds amounting to $343,726 had been reserved from budgeting.

When the estimated $400,000 share of federal revenue-sharing funds are confirmed by the U.S. Congress, the surplus will be added to the federal money and the total budgeted for various capital improvements, such as street paving and curbing and sewer treatment plant improvements.

Commissioner Jack Watkins objected to the budget because it contained a $164,068 surplus from the 1971-72 fiscal year and a $343,726 surplus for the coming fiscal year, but had nothing for the tax-payer in the way of capital improvements.

He argued that the tax payer deserved something more from his tax dollar than just fire protection, police protection, water and sewer service and government. The tax payer deserves capital improvements, Watkins said.

Commissioners Harold Hall, M. R. Koger, Mayor Wade Choate and Mayor Pro-Tem Eddie Acri voted to approve the budget. Commissioner Watkins voted against the budget approval.

Total budget for the coming fiscal year has been proposed as $3,645,200. An amended budget will be constructed when revenue-sharing funds are confirmed.

Roundup Raises Cash For Center

ABILENE — The Cattleman's Roundup for crippled children has brought in $60,268 for the West Texas Rehabilitation Center. With cash donations of $14,472 and previous stock sales of $6,472, this brings to $81,213 the amount so far raised.

Charlie Morris, general chairman of the Roundup, said another $40,000 is needed. The next sale is Saturday, Oct. 7, at 1 p.m. at Abilene Livestock Auction; then Monday Oct. 9 a sheep and goat sale at Coleman; and finally a farm equipment sale Nov. 11 in Lawn at Tex Herring Co.

Kleindienst Will Deliver Speech

PLAINVIEW — United States Attorney General Richard Kleindienst will be the featured speaker for a public affairs conference at Wayland Baptist College Oct. 5 and 6, according to conference coordinator Mary Zumot, instructor in political science. The conference, using the theme "Election '72" is sponsored by the college and Plainview League of Women Voters.

Homecoming Will Honor 5 Classes

Former students and graduates of Angelo State University's classes of 1932, 1942, 1952, 1962 and 1972 will be among those honored during 1972 Homecoming activities scheduled for the weekend of Oct. 21, according to Mrs. James (Kathy) Feist, chairman of the ASU Ex-Students Association Homecoming Committee.

A tentative schedule of events has been released by planners for the Ex-Students Association which calls for an open house in the new Physical Education Building from 8 a.m. to 12 noon; the annual Homecoming Parade at 2 p.m.; a reception from 3 to 5 p.m. for Exes and faculty; the football game at 7:30 p.m. with Texas A&I along with the coronation of the Homecoming Queen; and the after-game dance at the Houston Harte Center.

Alleged Baby Trade Bond

IMMOKALEE, Fla. (AP) — Jennifer Fire Sims, a 19-year-old mother charged in the alleged swap of her 3-month-old baby for a used car, was placed in the Collier County Jail today after a judge set her bond at $5,000.

She was arrested last Saturday night by officers who said they found her and the couple's two other children hiding in a carnival truck near Union Springs, Ala. Her husband, Eugene William Sims, 24, fled into woods near the carnival and managed to shake a posse of state troopers, sheriff's deputies, police and bloodhounds.

Collier County Sheriff Doug Hendry said the couple was accused of trading the baby boy to Harold and Frances Vannoy last week for a 1971 green Chevrolet.

Officers said the trade occurred at an Immokalee trailer park where both couples were working as migrant tomato pickers.

Immediately after the trade was made, Sheriff Hendry said, Sims and his wife packed their 1-year-old daughter and 2-year-old son in the newly acquired auto and left Florida.

Eddie Acri Named To State Panel

Mayor Pro-Tem Eddie Acri announced before Tuesday evening's City Commission meeting that he has accepted the appointment to a legislative committee on Municipal Finance of the Texas Municipal League.

In a letter of Sept. 18, League President Alfred H. Koebig, also Mayor of Seguin, said, "I feel that your personal participation in the League's program of policy development is essential."

The immediate concern of the committee, according to Koebig, will be to establish the Texas Municipal League legislative policy for implementation in January.

Acri's acceptance of the appointment was termed by Mayor Wade Choate as beneficial to Big Spring. Acri plans to attend the initial meeting of the Committee in Austin on Oct. 31.

Anatomy Text With Sexy Touch Giggled

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — An anatomy text with a sexy touch, coauthored by a Michigan State University professor, has drawn the wrath of a female professor.

"The Anatomical Basis of Medical Practice" contains photos of nude women splashing in the surf and posing seductively on swings. But R. Frederick Becker, a professor of biomechanics at MSU, insists he intended only to "liven up a pretty dead area."

"I certainly don't think we were trying to exploit anybody's sexuality or anything like that," said the MSU instructor. He wrote the book with two other teachers while all three were teaching at Duke University.

But Dr. Estelle Ramey, a professor of physiology and biophysics at Georgetown University's School of Medicine, says the book is an "obscene denigration of women... a lascivious approach to the study of anatomy."

In a letter to the 1,000-member Association of Women in Science (AWIS), of which she is president-elect, Dr. Ramey said, "The book was obviously intended to make a lot of money by gingering up a rather dull subject with the fun and games of prurient photographs of leering naked women in seductive poses."

Dr. Ramey said the writing in the book was "sexist," giving this quote as an example:

"We are sorry that we cannot make available the addresses of the young ladies who grace our pages... our wives burned our little address books..."

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Our grandson, 14 months old, has nystagmus. Is there any cure? Would glasses do any good? He has the horizontal jerking of the eyes.

He seems to tilt his head back to one side. Does this make him see better? Is it a handicap? I haven't been able to find much information about nystagmus. I do hope you will be able to give me the answers. — G.M.P.

THE answers? Too big an order! But one thing is certain: he has an eye defect, or perhaps a combination of eye defects and, yes, it definitely has to be a handicap for the little fellow.

Nystagmus, or rapid movement of the eyes, can occur very early in life — or it can develop later in life from a variety of causes.

There are a score of different types of nystagmus. Movement can be from side to side, up and down, or in a circular motion. There's a variety involving slow movement in one direction, then a rapid movement the other way.

In short, nystagmus is a complicated matter, and I couldn't say yes or no as to whether glasses would help. If there is a refractive error, then glasses, of course, could help. If the nystagmus is due to some other type of ailment, then glasses would not be the answer.

Nystagmus, for another thing, may be associated with amblyopia (defective vision from one cause or another). Whether this accounts for the youngster tilting his head is something I can't answer, except to say that it is pretty obvious the headtilting is an effort to see better. I confess this isn't a very satisfactory answer for you, but I don't think it is possible to give you an acceptable answer with so many possibilities involved.

The one specific piece of advice which I can give — and I most solemnly DO — is that this child should be cared for by a fully qualified eye specialist. If there is none in your community, then he should be taken where there is one. His troubles are not the kind that will correct themselves or "go away as he gets older." He needs careful and detailed diagnosis, and whatever appropriate treatment is indicated after the source of his trouble has been determined.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I was in the hospital three years ago and had to have many iron and liver shots in my buttocks. The shots have left a few marble-like deposits beneath the skin which are painful at times. Will they eventually disappear and what really causes them? — H.D.

After three years it is doubtful if they will disappear. They represent scar tissue that occurred because the injected material can sometimes be irritating and cause mild inflammation. They are not harmful, however.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 80 years young but sometimes have a slight dizziness and poor balance. Do you consider occasional Dramamine tablets an advisable treatment? — Mrs. C.S.

Maybe. That or other anti-dizzy medications can be tried — but the effectiveness depends on the cause of the dizziness. If you have anemia or some other blood disorder, that's what needs treatment, rather than drugs to mask the symptoms.

Eye and ear disorders should be checked, and treated if possible. If it is a matter of adjustment of your blood pressure, do not move too suddenly from a lying, sitting or bending position.

Not all dizzy spells come from the same cause. What causes "balance" trouble? What can be done to correct or overcome it? Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Dizzy Spells," discusses loss of balance, vertigo and nausea, Meniere's disease and labyrinthitis. The bidding:
South West North East
1 ♠ 1 ♠ Pass Pass
2 NT Pass 3 NT Pass
Pass Pass

Opening lead: Four of ♠
An interesting defensive problem arose for West when today's hand was dealt in a recent team-of-four match. The final contract at both tables was three no trump.

South opened the bidding with one club and West overcalled with one spade. North and East passed and now South had a problem. A re-opening double was not an appealing recourse despite his holding 19 high card points because of the singleton heart, which is the suit partner is most likely to bid.

A jump to three clubs was an alternative, but the best chance for game appeared to lie in a nine trick contract and with two spade stoppers, South decided that a jump to two no trump—despite the lack of a diamond stopper—would offer partner the best inducement on how to carry on if he had anything. Holding seven points, North had ample to raise to three no trump.

Since the bidding clearly indicated that a spade lead would probably be into the ace-queen, West opened the four of hearts at both tables and East's eight dislodged declarer's ace. The ace and king of clubs were cashed, but when West showed out on the second round, discarding a spade, declarer abandoned the suit temporarily to lead a small spade in an attempt to reach dummy.

It would not have availed West to duck, for after North's jack of spades wins the trick, the king and queen of hearts are cashed. A club lead from dummy allows South to finesse the ten, pick up the jack with his queen and then cash the long club and the ace of spades for 10 tricks—two spades, three hearts, and five clubs.

Both Wests put up the king of spades and the crucial moment had arrived. One West chose to exit with the jack of hearts and South took 11 tricks, giving up a diamond at the end.

At the other table, West paused to assess the situation. If declarer held the missing spades, as appeared likely, he could take three spades and three hearts in addition to the two clubs previously scored. If South also has the ace of diamonds, then that card will score his ninth trick. If, by some chance, the latter has more strength in clubs not yet showing but lacks the ace of diamonds, then failure to shift to a diamond will hand declarer his contract.

Reasoning that he had everything to gain, and at worst—an overtrick to lose by shifting—West led back the king of diamonds on which his partner gave him an enthusiastic come-on with the eight. West continued with the queen and a small diamond to East's ace and the latter then cashed the setting trick with the six of diamonds.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

NOT TOO SHY: (Q.) Terry is very shy. That is one reason I liked so much to go with him. He never tried anything dangerous. But two weeks ago he came over without calling me or anything. I am pretty sure he had been drinking.

Nobody else was at home and right at the beginning he started to try something. I didn't stop him because I love him.

Now I am pregnant. I don't want to tell my mother, and I haven't said anything to Terry because he hasn't said anything since then about that night. He is 18. I am 16 and in desperate need of help. — Afraid in Texas.

(A.) Two weeks is hardly long enough to be sure. By the time you see this answer you may have discovered you were mistaken about being pregnant. If you weren't mistaken tell your parents immediately and ask them to help you. Tell your friend too.

A girl alone in a house should not let a boy or man she thinks is drunk or has been drinking inside with her, no matter how sure she may have been of him in the past. Drinking changes some boys and men drastically.

CHARGED: (Q.) My boy friend has been charged with two burglaries and some other things and may have to go to a state correctional institute for boys. He told me he did the burglaries to get money for us to spend on dates.

(A.) If your boy friend has been charged with two burglaries and some other things and may have to go to a state correctional institute for boys, he told me he did the burglaries to get money for us to spend on dates.

This is a shock to me as we were thinking of getting married when we were old enough.... Do you think I should date other boys while he is gone or wait for him? — Crying in Colorado.

(A.) Date other boys. Also think seriously about whether this boy is suitable for you. Even if he stole for "you", it was stealing just the same.

Mouth Hints

LONDON (AP) — Dentists should operate an early warning system in the diagnosis of diseases, says Prof. J. Harold Jones, professor of oral medicine at Manchester University.

He told the British Dental Association conference in Swansea that certain changes in the mouth could provide pointers which could lead to the early diagnosis of bodily disease.

Death Rule Test Case

DALLAS (AP) — Dist. Atty. Henry Wade said Tuesday he is preparing to challenge the U.S. Supreme Court decision that the death penalty is unconstitutional as previously administered, using the death penalties assessed against Rene Adolfo Guzman and Leonardo Ramos Lopez as a test case.

Guzman and Lopez were convicted in Belton in June 1971 of gunning down Ellis County sheriff's deputy A. J. Robertson. They also were indicted—and still can be brought to trial—on charges of slaying two other deputies in the Trinity River bottoms in Dallas in February 1971.

Wade said he plans first to take the test case to the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals and eventually to the Supreme Court.

"Even if this is reversed (in the state court), we will ask the attorney general to take it before the Supreme Court," Wade said.
