CARRYING DOZENS OF NEW BENEFITS AND HIGHER TAXES

Senate Passes $18.5 Billion Welfare-Social Security Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A momentous $18.5-billion Social Security-welfare bill has emerged from the Senate carrying dozens of new benefits and higher taxes. But it stalls reform of the welfare-families program indefinitely.

Capping a 17-hour session in which 40 separate amendments were considered, the Senate passed the bill 68 to 5 early today.

The 989-page bill would:

- Provide or increase Social Security benefits for widows;

- chronically ill old persons who need maintenance drugs; persons who want to retire at age 60; others who want to work beyond age 65; all male retirees who now get lower benefits than women with the same earnings records; disabled persons; elderly men and women who need glasses, hearing aids and dentures, and other groups.
- Substantially increase benefits and set a national income standard for aged, blind or disabled persons receiving welfare.

- Continue the program of Aid to Families with Dependent Children while three reform plans are tested.
- $648 IN 1973
- Aim to hold down the steadily rising costs of the two big government health programs: Medicare for the elderly and Medicaid for the poor.
- On the other hand, the 90 million persons whose paychecks are tapped to finance Social Security would pay more into the program, as would their employers.

- A worker now pays a maximum of $486 a year into the fund; the figure would go to $648 in 1973.
- A large portion of the tax increase is due to a 20 per cent hike in Social Security benefits approved by Congress last June. The fatter checks became effective this week.
- VETO FEAR
- Senate passage sent the bill, with its landmark changes in Social Security and welfare laws, to conference with the

- House, which last year passed a smaller, $8.2-billion version.
- A conference on the measure is expected to be held next week, and sponsors say they are sure a compromise version can be worked out and sent to President Nixon before the 1972 session ends. That probably will be Oct. 14.
- However, Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., floor manager for the bill, noting that the Senate added more than $5 billion in benefits in the floor debate, cautioned that the conferees

- would have to make many cuts in the Senate bill.
- “Otherwise I am afraid it will be vetoed by the President,” he said.
- Originally it had been expected the Senate might devote a month or more to the bill.
- It was disposed of in eight days and nights because the Senate decided to bypass the one bitterly controversial issue in the legislation—the question of what to do about welfare families.
- It did this by voting for a test

- of three rival plans to deal with the problems, a test which could take up to eight years.
- The three are Nixon's family-assistance plan with its $2,400 guaranteed income for a family of four plus aid for the working poor; a more-liberal version of that plan proposed by Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., and a tough “workfare” plan devised by the Finance Committee which would take many of the parents off welfare and

EVERYBODY HELPS — Tonight's football game here climaxes "Beat Abilene High Week" in Big Spring. One willing to do his part is Pupe, the diminutive dog owned by Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Sappers Blast Hospital Wards

SAIGON (AP) — Fighting erupted along Highway 13 today, blocking traffic less than 20 miles north of Saigon while B52 bombers launched their heaviest raids in the Saigon area since the 1968 Communist Tet offensive.

A Saigon command spokesman, Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, said the highway had not been cut, but traffic was suspended all day due to the fighting. He said the action occurred between the provincial capital of Phu Cuong, 13 miles north of Saigon, and the district town of Ben Cat, 28 miles north of the capital.

CAPTURED

Hien said 19 enemy were killed and three prisoners captured in one clash while one government soldier was wounded. Results were inconclusive in two other fights, he added.

Sources said they would not characterize the fighting as a push on Saigon, but rather an attempt to cut the highway.

On the northern coast near Da Nang, Viet Cong sappers attacked a leper colony and blew up several houses and hospital wards with explosive charges, killing one elderly woman patient and wounding 20 others.

Eight explosions occurred during the predawn attack and a ninth went off in midmorning, damaging the school, Associated Press correspondent Holger Jensen reported.

HAPPY HAVEN

The Happy Haven leprosarium, with about 190 adults and 55 children, is operated by the United World Mission, a Protestant church organization.

The only Westerner present was Mrs. Stuard Harverson, 71, wife of an Australian missionary doctor who operates an orphanage for Montagnard children on an adjoining stretch of the beach. She escaped injury.

Dr. Gordon Smith, the American missionary doctor who runs the leprosarium, was in Da Nang at the time of the attack. He said he could not explain the attack on the leper colony.

The B52 raids were ordered by the U.S. commander, Gen. Frederick C. Weyand, who is reported to believe the Communists plan a wave of attacks in the Saigon region aimed at discrediting President Nixon before the Nov. 7 election.

“If he — the enemy — makes a play for the election, this is where he is going to make it,” said one source discussing the Saigon region. “That’s why the B52 raids have been stepped up, on orders from Weyand.”

More than 40 of the B52s dropped 1,000 tons of explosives on enemy base camps, munitions stockpiles and infiltration routes. The blasts produced the effect of a minor earthquake in Saigon, rattling windows and knocking objects off walls.

4.7 Million Out-Of-Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment edged down last month and the total number of Americans at work increased, the government reported today.

The total out-of-work declined 200,000 to 4.7 million, for a rate of 5.5 per cent of the labor force, said the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

This was down from a rate of 5.6 per cent in August.

The total number of employed actually dropped 1.5 million to 82 million, but since it normally drops more than that for the month, the bureau figured it as an increase of 250,000.

The bureau also reported that average earnings of some 50 million rank-and-file workers rose six cents per hour to $3.71 and $1.81 per week to $138.75.

A large part of the hourly pay increase was technical, caused by the many school youngsters leaving lower paying summer jobs to return to their classes, and thus raising average pay.

On a seasonally adjusted basis, the bureau said, the earnings increase was only two cents per hour.

ODESSANS PAY LESS IN TAX LEVIES

It's that terrible time of year when property owners receive three tax envelopes, dunning them for school, city, state, county and Junior College taxes.

Apparently, Big Spring residents pay a little premium in comparison to the neighboring cities of Midland and Odessa.

Figuring values and tax rate on a $10,000 residence, Midland pays a total of $235 while Odessans escape with $197.

Big Spring's total is $245.50, according to the three local tax assessors.

The state, county and junior college tax totals $47.75, according to the county tax assessor. The city tax office lists $84 as their total. The school tax office stated that total school tax on this price residence would be $123.75.

Smith Is No-Billed By HC Grand Jury

A complaint charging Robert Earl Smith, 25, of 604 N. 10th St. with murder with malice in the afternoon shooting of Alvin McVae was no-billed by the grand jury about noon.

Emory S. King, 33, of a local hotel was indicted for theft over $50 in the $25,000 alleged swindling case involving two women.

Altogether 14 persons were indicted.

AWOL Yankee Kills Three, Hurls Bodies From Train

HANNOVER, Germany (AP) — Two U.S. army armed guards and a railroad cleaning woman were shot to death early today and their bodies tossed from a speeding train by an AWOL American soldier, German police reported.

Police said the soldier grabbed the guards' .45 caliber pistols and shot the three, threw their bodies off the Alpen Express and then vanished.

The Army said the guards had taken Thomas De Gregorio, 28, of Hialeah, Fla., in custody at Bremerhaven, and were returning him to his unit in Bamberg. The three soldiers were assigned to the 1st Battalion, 52nd Infantry.

Military investigators were aiding German police in the search for De Gregorio, the spokesman added.

More than 100 police with tracking dogs and several helicopters searched for the escapee, German authorities said.

They reported that investigations began after the express stopped in Goettingen, 12 miles south of Northheim, and blood stains were found in several compartments of the train.

The woman's dismembered body, which had been thrown first from the train, was found about 500 yards from the bodies of the two soldiers, authorities said.

They speculated that the woman was slain because she witnessed the overpowering of the two guards.

CRASH CUTS OFF LIGHTS — This 1969 car, driven by Kim Leslie Main of 606 Gollad, went out of control at 12:24 a.m. today at 1400 E. 3rd and struck a concrete light pole, causing the circuit to break loose and halting electricity for nine minutes in a portion of the east side of the city. NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The nuclear submarine USS Tullibee and a West German merchant ship collided in the Atlantic today off the North Carolina coast, the Navy said. A spokesman said there were no injuries and damage to both vessels was minor.

Atlantic Fleet headquarters said the accident happened about 150 miles off Cape Hatteras.

The Coast Guard in New York said both the Tullibee and the merchant freighter Hagen signaled they were returning to port under their own power.

Mrs. Sargent says Mrs. Louise Cook, right, shown holding her other cat, Cougar, adopted Cynthia from the organization several months ago and agreed to have her spayed. Mrs. Cook says when the organization found Cynthia was pregnant they confiscated the expectant cat. Mrs. Cook indicates she and her husband plan to fight to have her returned.

Unconstipated

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am writing only to give you my sincere thanks. A few weeks ago I wrote for your booklet on constipation as I have been plagued with this for over 10 years.

My entire life revolved around not being able to have a normal bowel movement and I lived on laxatives. A few months ago I was at the point where I was consuming two to three laxatives a day. It was sheer hell, if you will pardon my expression.

Now, after reading your booklet and making up my mind to stop living on aids I can finally say I am no longer constipated. Mind you, it is still a little difficult, but I am determined to follow your rules, and it gets easier each day.

— Mrs. N.L.

Good for you! After 10 years or more of the "laxative habit," a few weeks may not be enough to get back completely to normal, but you are on your way.

I've learned as a physician that countless folks who deeply believe that they are hopelessly constipated really needn't be. They just don't understand the way a normal colon behaves, so they don't know what to do about their "constipation."

The booklet on constipation is available to anyone by mail. Send 25 cents for printing and handling, and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of the Big Spring Herald.

and have been having sex relations with my boyfriend for five months. He would always withdraw before climax.

Once I noticed some sperm had dripped on my vagina and I quickly wiped it out. Now I have skipped my period! Could I possibly be pregnant? How can I tell? He says there is nothing to worry about! I think there is. What do you think?

— Worried.

Of course there's something to worry about. Trying to wipe away the sperm isn't very effective, because it takes only one microscopic cell (out of millions) to cause pregnancy.

Could be your nervousness may be delaying your period, but then again you may indeed be pregnant. This business of withdrawal is far from being a reliable means of avoiding pregnancy.

Only way you can tell for certain early in pregnancy is to have your doctor do some tests. After a couple of months it will be obvious enough without tests.

Bad Breath Can Be Corrected" is the title of Dr. Thosteson's booklet explaining the causes and cure of bad breath. Dear Dr. Thosteson: In taking vitamins, is it any advantage or is it harmful to take more pills than prescribed?

My daughter takes six tablets each of iron, vitamin E and vitamin B. The prescription on the bottles call for one each daily. — H.C.B.

Your daughter apparently has bought the theory that if a little of something is good, a lot of it is better. Of course, this is not correct.

Remember that if she eats a reasonably balanced diet to begin with she gets vitamins of all types and all she needs of each. The reason for vitamins is to make up for the lack of a balanced diet.

Extra amounts of vitamins E and B will do no particular harm, although supplemental iron can be harmful.

But—really, now, why not believe the label on the bottle? At the very least your daughter, or you, could cut vitamin pills by five-sixths.

Riviera Has First Bale

COLORADO CITY — First bale of cotton in Mitchell County was baled at Farmer's Gin Friday for Steve Riviera.

Riviera farmed the 500-pound bale on Mrs. Dave Womack's farm. He received a $100 bonus paid by all of the area cotton gins, including Farmers, Producers, China Grove, and the Cooperative Gin Association of Loraine.

At this time, Gaines, Dawson, Glasscock and Mitchell counties have all reported first bales. Howard County apparently has none.

This may be due to the fact that the Big Spring chamber did away with a prize for the first bale this year and held instead a dinner honoring all farmers and ranchers.

Without a special incentive of some type, farmers apparently have no plans to hand pick an early first bale around Big Spring.

THREAT: (Q.) I met this other girl named Cindy. She told me about this party and I went with her. Well, at first we danced, talked and just had fun. As it got closer to 11, the girl giving the party said, "It's show time now."

Cindy told me that everyone would now act out what he or she wanted to be.

A girl got up and started taking off her clothes. I told Cindy that my mother said he home at 11:30 and I had to go. Cindy said in a loud voice that I thought I was too good to show my body.

I said, "That's not true. I want to be a doctor, and doctors don't take their clothes off."

I got up and ran for the door. Two boys caught me and started pulling off my clothes. I kicked and bit but it just made more boys come help. I picked up a bottle, broke it, and started cutting one of the boys with it. They let me up.

My clothes were half off but they were all right to walk home in. I told my mother that a dog was after me.

A week later I was out with some friends and saw Cindy and two of the boys. One of the boys said they were going to rape me. Cindy just laughed. What should I do? — 16 in Washington, D.C.

(A.) You should have told your mother and father the truth. Tell them now. Tell them about the threat, too. And stay as far away from Cindy and her mob (that is what it is) as you can. If they bother you again, report them to the police.

BIG AND LITTLE: (Q.) I have a small bust and a pot belly. Sometimes I look pregnant. I am 14, and my sister, who is barely 11, has a bust bigger than mine. If you can help me, please do! — Big in the Wrong Place in Indiana.

(A.) If you can get your midsection down, to normal for a 14 year old girl, your bust will look much better.

I am sending you a set of exercises, but it will be more than exercise. It will also take calorie watching, good posture and will power.

I suggest that you ask your doctor for a diet that will allow you to lose weight and also ask him to check your "pot" to see if your trouble is fat or possibly something else.

Predictions

By DON COOPER
Herald Sports Editor

The District 5-AAAA race gets underway with a bang tonight as the Big Spring Steers host the Abilene Eagles.

MIDLAND-Lee: The Mustangs will be favored to win the season's first game as the Rebels meet San Angelo.

The Cooper-San Angelo clash pits two of the conference favorites in an early showdown. Both teams are rated highly in the state's schoolboys poll. San Angelo is third and Cooper is fourth. The two teams are evenly matched — with explosive offenses and strong defenses. It promises to be a great game. I'll go with Cooper, 21-17.

BIG SPRING-ABILENE: The Eagles are flying high with a 2-1 season record. They defeated Sweetwater and Cleburne before losing to a rugged Temple crew in their last outing. The Steers, picked to finish last in the conference race, come into tonight's contest with an 0-3 mark. But, non-conference marks don't mean a thing when conference play starts. Big Spring will snap its losing streak tonight. Big Spring, 17-14.

LEE-ODESSA: Lee was picked to finish right behind Permian in the district. The Rebels will get a good start with a 21-7 win over Odessa.

COAHOMA-HAMLIN: The Bulldogs are angry. They come into tonight's contest looking for their first win of the season. They'll get it. Coahoma, 20-13.

STANTON-MORTON: The Buffaloes showed an outstanding defense and a lot of character in their 3-0 loss to Rankin last week. Stanton will get back on the winning track with tonight's 17-13 win.

FORSAN-SANDS: Both teams are young and lack depth at key positions. However, the Buffaloes have shown a stronger defense and offense than have the Mustangs. Forsan, 28-13.

ARKANSAS-TCU: This is the conference opener for both teams. The Razorbacks have not looked impressive in their outings this year. TCU has high hopes for defeating the Porkers for the first time since 1958. They won't. Arkansas, 35-20.

RICE-LSU: The Owls have shown themselves to be a team not to be taken lightly. Rice has looked very impressive in defeating Houston and Clemson and tying Georgia Tech. However, the Bayou Bengals will come out on top, 28-20.

TEXAS-UTAH STATE: The Longhorns had a scare last week; but quarterback Alan Lowrey proved himself a worthy successor to James Street and Eddie Phillips. Texas, 42-13.

MIAMI-NEW YORK JETS: Miami is the only undefeated team in the AFC East going into Sunday's contest. They won't be after it. Jets 27, Miami 24.

DALLAS-PITTSBURGH: The Cowboys were shocked last week by the youthful Green Bay Packers. They'll be ready for Terry Bradshaw and the Steelers this week. Dallas, 27-10.

OTHER GAMES:
Colorado City 17, Dunbar 14; Snyder 21, Lamesa 14; Sterling City 28, Garden City 18; Baylor 27, Miami (Fla.) 21; Texas Tech 30, Tulsa 17; Southern Methodist 28, New Mexico State 13; Kansas City 31, Cleveland 10; Green Bay 16, Chicago 3; Atlanta 24, Detroit 20; Baltimore 35, San Diego 27; Cincinnati 20, Denver 13; New Orleans 17, New York Giants 6; San Francisco 24, Los Angeles 21.

Steers Take On Abilene In Loop Opener

For the first time since the Sweetwater scrimmage Sept. 3, the Big Spring Steers are healthy. The injury roster has dwindled to none, and the Steers are still plagued by a deep sprain of his ankle. However, Steer mentor Clavia Hale said that Parker would be able to see some action against Abilene.

Returning to the starting lineup for the first time since the opening game of the season will be linebacker Dick Conley. Conley suffered a separated shoulder in the Lubbock Monterey game and has seen only spot action since then against Hobbs and Snyder.

Starting for the first time this season will be running back Earl Reynolds. Reynolds acquired a shoulder injury in the Sweetwater scrimmage and has been unable to start in any of the games this season, although he did see action in all three contests.

In other lineup changes, Hale indicated that senior Johnny McCasland may get the nod over Ben Carr at the left guard post. McCasland is a 185-pounder. Mike Tredaway will start at defensive end in place of Rob Lawlis, who started at end against Snyder. Hale also the open date last weekend, Hale and the Steer coaches decided to use Reynolds and J. F. Smith solely as running backs. Steer mentor Clavia Hale said that Barry Truette will start at fullback against Abilene in place of Ricky Steen, who started the last two ball games.

During the time provided by the practice sessions, the Steers must be able to establish their running game if they hope to beat Abilene. "We haven't really established a running game this season, however, we hope to get it established tonight," Hale said.

Abilene lacks the awesome size in the defensive line that Snyder had. The largest player in the Eagles' line is left tackle Jerry Knopf, a 290-pounder. However, Abilene's defensive front has considerable experience. Four of the front five are lettermen. Only right tackle Terry Bunley, a 190-pound junior, has not lettered.

Among the linebacking corps and secondary, the Eagles are largely unexperienced. Left linebacker David Wilburn, a 171-pound senior, and right cornerback Alan Stephens, a 174-pound senior, have varsity experience. The rest are up from the junior varsity ranks.

Abilene will operate out of the Veer offense. The keys to the Abilene attack are quarterback Gary Stirman, a 185-pound senior, and running back Thomas Hines, a 158-pound senior.

Among the linebacking corps and secondary, the Eagles are largely unexperienced. Left linebacker David Wilburn, a 171-pound senior, and right cornerback Alan Stephens, a 174-pound senior, have varsity experience. The rest are up from the junior varsity ranks.

Abilene will operate out of the Veer offense. The keys to the Abilene attack are quarterback Gary Stirman, a 185-pound senior, and running back Thomas Hines, a 158-pound senior.

Abilene comes into tonight's contest with a 2-1 record. The Eagles defeated Sweetwater and Cleburne before falling to Temple two weeks ago.

Abilene lacks the awesome size in the defensive line that Snyder had. The largest player in the Eagles' line is left tackle Jerry Knopf, a 290-pounder. However, Abilene's defensive front has considerable experience. Four of the front five are lettermen. Only right tackle Terry Bunley, a 190-pound junior, has not lettered.

Coahoma To Meet Hamlin Pipers

COAHOMA — The Coahoma Bulldogs will be looking for their first win of the season tonight when they journey to Hamlin to meet the Pied Pipers of District 6-AAA.

The Bulldogs go into tonight's contest with an 0-3 record. They dropped the season opener to Sonora, 21-20, then fell to Colorado City, 27-18, and last week were defeated by San Angelo Lake View, 20-15.

Hamlin is a very experienced ballclub. The Pipers count nine starters back from the 1971 club. Quarterback Milton Jones, a 180-pound senior, will direct the ground-oriented offensive. Joining Beal in the backfield are Freddie Franklin, Tim Tindol and the dependable Eddie Padron.

Keys to the defensive unit include Beal, Steve Fraser and outstanding sophomore linebacker Putt Choate. Choate also sees much action for the Bulldogs as a running back. He lends good size and speed to the backfield.

The Bulldogs will return home Oct. 13 when they host Ballinger.

DOLPHINS BOAST PERFECT RECORD

Miami Favored Over Joe, Jets

NEW YORK (AP) — There is only one team in the National Football League with a perfect record after three weeks of the 1972 regular season—the Miami Dolphins.

There are only two teams in the NFL with perfect losing records after three weeks—the New Orleans Saints and the Philadelphia Eagles.

The Chicago Bears are also winless, but they have a tie to blemish their otherwise perfect losing record.

With the rash of upsets in pro football the past two weeks, one might think that it was time for either the Saints or the Eagles or the Bears to pull one off.

This doesn't appear to be the weekend, however. And it also looks as though the Dolphins will continue as the league's only unbeaten, untied team.

Now for a look at the games, and the latest Fearless Football Forecast, with hopes everybody can forget last week's performance was 8-6-1 for the second consecutive week—putting the record at 22-15-2 for 596.

Buc Heroes See Playoffs From Bench

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Bill Mazeroski and Jose Pagan, who've both known the thrill of World Series-winning hits, will likely spend the coming National League playoffs on the bench. The two aging heroes of the Pittsburgh Pirates have given way to younger players and seem destined for pinch-hit duty at best against the Cincinnati Reds.

WON '60 SERIES "Max," the second baseman whose epic homer won the 1960 series for Pittsburgh, played in just 34 regular season games and batted .188. He's already said this will be his last year.

Pagan, who doubled home the winning run against Baltimore in the last game of the 1971 Series, is no longer the club's prime utility man. "They fit into our plans mainly as pinch-hitters," said Pirate Manager Bill Virdon, once a teammate of both players. "Of course, it's just a day to day thing. It could change."

Mazeroski and Pagan both feel they could do the job if pressed into service.

'READY TO PLAY' "I'm ready to play," Mazeroski said after a drill at Three Rivers Stadium.

Though he has grown pudgy with inactivity, Mazeroski has yet to have the quickest double-play throw in baseball and there's still gold in this tattered glove.

Runnels Rips Travis, 36-6

Jesse Doss scored four touchdowns and a strong defensive effort propelled the Runnels Jr. High Yearlings to a 36-6 romp over Snyder Travis here Thursday afternoon.

Doss scored on runs of 3, 30, 8- and 25-yards and added two points after his first touchdown on another run.

Runnels jumped out to an 8-0 lead on a three-yard run by Doss late in the first quarter. Doss' TD capped a 23-yard, three-play drive which started when several Runnels defenders crashed through a block a Travis punt. Doss tackled on the two points with a run.

With three minutes showing on the clock in the second period, Doss climaxed a 57-yard drive with a 28-yard PAT failed and Runnels took a 14-0 lead into the halftime intermission.

Doss' third touchdown came on an eight-yard run with 1:03 left in the third quarter to cap a 75-yard drive. The touchdown run was set up by a 41-yard pass from Doss to Erloy Green which put the ball on the Travis eight-yard line. Mike Puga tackled on the two points after the touchdown.

Travis returned the kickoff to its 47. After gaining three yards to midfield, Doug Morrell took a screen pass and romped 50 yards for the touchdown. The PAT failed and Runnels held a 22-4 lead.

Doss' final touchdown came on a 25-yard run with 5:15 remaining in the game. His score was set up by a 35-yard pass from Chris Burrow to Clarence Palmer. The PAT failed and Runnels held a 28-6 lead.

Puga wrapped up the scoring for Runnels when he banged over from five yards out with 2:31 left in the game. A Burrow to Palmer aerial netted the two-point conversion to make the final score 36-6.

Runnels was sparked by a strong defensive effort which allowed Travis just two first downs and only 75 yards in total offense. Singled out for praise were defensive ends Kyle Wheeler and Camillo Chavez, defensive tackles Terry Carter and Johnny Davis, linebackers Doss and James Combs, halfbacks Humberto Ocha and Cornell Kimble, cornerbacks Burrow and Alan Partee and safety Green.

Runnels will visit Snyder Lamar Oct. 12.

ALWAYS A PROBLEM — Cincinnati Reds' Manager Sparky Anderson broods as he contemplates his next problem—the Pittsburgh Pirates in the National League playoffs. When he doesn't have a problem, the hyper-active manager said, he makes one up. He runs a tight ship but says the players are looking for discipline. His close haircut attests to one of his rules, no long hair.

CINCINNATI PILOT Sparky Seeks Problems

CINCINNATI (AP) — Sparky Anderson is a man in constant motion, seeking problems to attack and soothing his ulcer with the satisfaction he draws from managing the Cincinnati Reds. "I never stop all the time," Anderson told a visitor to his Riverfront Stadium office as the Reds prepared for Saturday's opening of the National League baseball playoffs in Pittsburgh.

"If I don't have a problem," Anderson said, "I'll invent one. I couldn't live, I think, if there weren't any problems."

Sparky Anderson does not strike the casual visitor as a problem-seeking world-beater. Rather, his easy manner and frank talk lend an air of "country-boyism," of a man at peace with himself and his surroundings.

Johnny Bench, the Reds' all-star catcher, says "the impression is deceptive." "Sparky is the smartest manager in baseball," Bench says. "Managing-wise, he's second to none... the moves... the small things he does are from years of experience."

Anderson is 39, but looks older, and is smaller at 5-foot-10, 170 pounds. His brownish hair is clipped short, a manifestation of conservative attitudes—attitudes some players find hard to accept.

"I've got many guys on this club now who hate me," Anderson says. "But my guys out there know what I'm doing. I am doing, not anybody else."

Anderson's dislike for the long hair and moustaches sported by some athletes showed through in blunt conversation. "In baseball today," he says, waving his hand to add emphasis, "anything goes. The easiest thing for any manager to do today is to let anything go."

"Just look at some of these clubs," he guffaws. "The players, like kids today, still crave discipline, but with honesty and fairness."

Anderson's beckoning for the old virtues draws a sympathetic note from Bench, the maturing young catcher who is the team's field leader. "Sparky comes from the old beliefs that a ball player presents himself to the public, and that we're their idols," Bench says.

"Discipline has always been one of his things," Bench adds. "But if you do things right, and know they're right, you can have a winning ball club."

'Don't Worry, Honey' Says Jailed Reporter

BELLEVILLE, N.J. (AP) — The wife of Peter Bridge, the newspaper reporter jailed for refusing to testify before a grand jury probe, says no one would talk to her husband if he revealed his sources.

Anne Bridge said it would be just as though she were to reveal the secret of a neighbor — "She will never talk to me again."

Mrs. Bridge's husband, Peter, 36, went to jail Wednesday for refusing to reveal new confidences to a grand jury.

"If Peter reveals his sources nobody will talk to him. Or give him a scoop. I sure am proud of him," she said Thursday. "I don't want him to change his mind. He really believes in his case. I'm sure he's right. We'll pull through somehow."

Bridge is the first journalist to go to prison for contempt since the U. S. Supreme Court ruled June 29 that newsmen may not withhold confidential information from grand juries.

Five months ago he wrote an article for his paper, the Evening News of Newark which has since gone out of business, in which he quoted a member of Newark's Housing Authority as saying she was offered a $10,000 bribe to influence her vote for the authority's new executive director.

On July 7, Bridge was found guilty of civil contempt for refusing to answer five of about 80 questions posed by an Essex County grand jury investigating the election.

"He has the key to the jailhouse door," the sentencing judge said before Bridge was led away in handcuffs. "All he has to do is answer five questions."

Bridge may gain his freedom if the grand jury's term is not extended beyond its expiration date of Oct. 30.

"It was kind of hard," recalled Mrs. Bridge, mother of two with a third child due any day. "I cried. The cameras were right at me. I am a cry baby by a rule. But I'm a tough cookie."

"Peter told me, 'Don't worry about it, honey.'"

Before the sentencing, she said, "we seemed to be alone. Then out of a clear blue sky it seems like everybody has been calling us. There has been lots

Bridge has been without a job since the news went out of business Aug. 31.

'Everyone Needs To Have Friends'

"A woman is what she does — actions show her nature," said Mrs. Wayne Stroup to Phi Zeta Omega Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Clay LaRochelle, 600 W. 16th.

"Making and Keeping Friends" was the program title, and Mrs. Stroup stressed the importance of having friends with whom personal problems can be discussed. She said friends should be chosen carefully and wisely, and that friendship should be a treasured possession.

Mrs. Martha Womack, a prospective member, was a guest for the model meeting. Plans for upcoming activities were announced. A bake sale is planned Oct. 14 at Highland Center Mall. Investiture ceremonies for a Brownie troop sponsored by the chapter will be held at 3 p.m., Oct. 18 at the YMCA, and a Halloween party for members and their families will be held at 8 p.m., Oct. 27 in the home of Mrs. Stroup.

A LOVELIER YOU Sheer, Glowing Look Gives Natural Effect

By MARY SUE MILLER
An "un-madeup" look is the aim of the "now" women with an unaffected lifestyle. This means a sheer, glowing, wholesome look all day long. It's a straight-on look that says, "This is me!"

The effect can be achieved only by transparent, weightless formulas designed to enhance, not mask, one's complexion. A Wholesome Face collection of makeup is what's wanted.

First-off, women with dry or normal skin require a perfect sort of moisturizer, an under makeup moisture gel that provides a smooth, dewy surface for makeup to cling, long and evenly. For an oily skin, there's oil-free under makeup blotting gel. This little item performs a large service by creating a buffer zone between skin and makeup which discourages oily build-ups and puddled foundation.

As for foundation, all day face tints give a flawless finish via transparent liquid in natural, honest shades — neutral, cool beiges and warm, pink-laced beiges. For instance Amber Buff for a golden blond, Amber Blush for a tawny brunet.

Deftly assembled and applied, makeup with honest intent emphasizes your individuality. And honestly, isn't that the best policy?

EYES OF YOUTH
You are not lost to youthful beauty because of dark circles, puffiness, or wrinkles around the eyes. These problems can be brought under control by proper skin care, cosmetic applications, health habits and facial expressions. Methods are detailed in my leaflet, "The Eyes Of Youth. To obtain your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 15 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

RIGHT SPIRIT — Mayor Wade Choate proclaimed this "Beat Abilene High Week" last Sunday. A true believer is the group which painted this sign. It's located at Kentwood and 25th Streets. The two teams open their 1972 District 8-AAAA season here tonight. Regardless of the outcome, the fans would grade out "E for Effort."

May Help All

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please keep my name off this. If my mother knew I wrote it she would kill me.

First, my mom has been in the psychiatric ward four times. (She used to take all kinds of pills.) She can't get along with anybody. She knows everything and is never wrong. Everybody else is. She doesn't talk — she hollers! She is always picking on me, and when I complain to my father, he says, "You know your mother is off her rocker, so don't expect her to act normal."

When I ask him why we don't just send her away somewhere, she says, "Because she will get well faster at home, and if you don't try to get along with her, we will send YOU away!" Is that fair? I am 16 and have some rights, too.

My mom's been going to a psychiatrist three times a week for five months now and I can't see one bit of improvement. It's costing my father a fortune. That's why he can't buy me a car.

I guess maybe I just need someone to talk to. Maybe if I acted goofy enough they'd send me to a shrink. It would sure be neat to pay someone to listen to me complain. Thanks, Abby, for letting me get this off my chest.

DOWN IN THE DUMPS
DEAR DOWN: Many a truth is spoken in jest. Maybe you do need someone to listen to you. If there's a counseling service at school, take advantage of it. Or inquire about seeing someone at Family Service or your local Mental Health Clinic. Living with a disturbed person isn't easy, but if you learn more about your mother's illness you will be more compassionate and less hostile, which would help her, and you, too.

DEAR ABBY: We live in an apartment, and the people next door have taken their stereo out on the patio and the racket is driving me up a wall. They have one of those twin speaker setups, and I hear rock and roll blasting away until I think the top of my head will fly off! I simply cannot understand how they can tolerate the sound level. They have GOT to be deaf!

I didn't have the courage to go over there and tell them personally to turn the music down, so I telephoned them, and would you believe the phone rang a full 10 minutes before they heard it! They did turn it down a bit, but the next evening it was blaring away again.

Don't tell me to report them to the manager. The people on the other side did that and got nowhere. And in case you think I'm an old fogey, I am 33 years old! Please help me.

LOSING MY MIND IN L.A.
DEAR LOSING: Go over there and TELL them they are disturbing your peace. And since the other neighbors are equally annoyed, how about getting up a petition? Present it to the manager. If that doesn't get results, call the gendarmes.

DEAR ABBY: The Admiral of this installation was leaving for another assignment. His last day he came to each person to bid farewell. (I am a woman, employed here.) When the Admiral approached my desk I stood up to shake his hand.

Another woman employee loudly criticized me for standing up for a man.

DEAR B: It is proper for a woman to stand in greeting a man for whom she wishes to show respect for his age or position.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box 69709, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

School Club Votes Change In Names

The Vocational Office Education Club of the local high school, sitting in formal session earlier this week, voted to change its name to the Office Education Association.

The club was sought because the organization is affiliated with the State and National Education Association.

Several years ago, the state of Texas voted the change in names but the Big Spring chapter retained the old name because the Vocational Office Education cooperative program was just becoming known by the employers within the city.

The change was welcomed now since the club feels that its organization is identified as OEA on both the state and national levels.

'Hang Loose' Oilmen Told

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A top oil company official has urged Oklahoma oilmen to respond positively to legitimate needs of the people or face "a tightening noose of public disapproval and restrictive legislation."

James M. Patterson, director of public relations for American Oil Co., Chicago, told members of the Oklahoma Petroleum Council. "We have reacted to criticism too often by protesting loudly, and instinctively defending our own interests."

"We need to hang loose and learn to look at our problems in terms of what they mean to our customers—the people we serve. In the end, the public's interest and our interest had better be the same, or we're in deeper trouble than we realize."

Patterson's comments were made at a dinner concluding the council's 14th annual meeting.

He cited the developing national energy supply problem as an area where the industry's efforts to warn the public of approaching danger may have gone astray.

"When we talk about the shortage of available natural gas supplies, we emphasize that the trouble has been artificially low, government controlled prices," Patterson said.

"That's true from our standpoint, but to a customer with a gas furnace in his home, the lower the price, the better. What we need to point out is that as domestic reserves dwindle and we are forced to import frozen gas, the price is far higher, and other alternatives are also costlier."

Patterson said there has been a decline in public regard for the industry.

Reverse Pressure

Apparently hoping to prove that nothing succeeds like excess, Chicago police have begun a campaign of total enforcement in an effort to win contract agreements from the city.

Instead of striking as some police have or threatened elsewhere, the Chicago men in blue have been extra diligent. They have been writing circulars urging the move "to bring our discontent to the public and to show the superintendent of police that we can and will stand up against him."

So far, the results have been mixed. Certainly the public is aware of police discontent (although how sympathetic a man just ticketed is toward the tacker is debatable). This isn't the first instance of super-zealous law enforcement being used to bring out a change of policy. One instance which comes to mind is the strict crackdown on illegal drinking ordered by an Oklahoma governor in advance of a prohibition repeal vote in that state — which resulted in approval of repeal, as the governor wanted.

But it is perhaps the first instance of a work speedup — not slowdown — being used by a group of public workers seeking redress of grievances. It's at the other end of the spectrum from the normal practices — walkouts, sitdowns, etc. — and for that reason may be more difficult to combat, although Chicago is fighting back by among other things transferring officers to tough assignments, who know, but what can be done? A police strike-in-reverse might be copied by other public workers prevented by law from strikes and walkouts. Teachers could give harder lessons and more homework, firemen could be more rigid in their inspections of buildings, sanitation workers might even find ways to slam cans around with more gusto.

It would be ironic indeed if the "reverse" pressure from all its public employees. What in the world would we use for griping material?

Significant Showing

An exhibit of the works of H. W. Caylor, who came here in the early 1890s to paint the West Texas scene, is attracting considerable attention at Heritage Museum. Interestingly, it is drawing inquiries and spectators from widely separated points, as well as a brisk visitation by local folk.

Caylor set his goal as putting on canvass the West Texas landscape, flora fauna, and the people at the transition period between the open range and the barbed-wire fence. Only rarely did he deviate from this, perhaps to do an occasional portrait. In so doing, he has left us a faithful record of how our country and how the cowboys really were. Forty years after his death is a long time to properly recognize this pioneer artist, but people here will do well to take advantage of this show, made possible through the generous loan by owners of Caylor originals.

Depression Food

Around The Rim

up out in the country, he said his neighbor had a problem. They had a pack of hounds and no money. The solution known as "Depression Dog Food" might interest a few hunters faced with more inflation and poach than pocket book.

SO I CALLED Bo for the recipe. The recipe was re-routed to Bo's mother, who apparently had some knowledge of the archaic concoction. She writes:

"Kill as many jackrabbits or cottontails as possible. Skin and cut in chunks — guts, eyeballs and all. Heat water in 3 washtub. Add rabbit parts. Put on more Mesquite logs and cook until rabbits are done well

According to the breed dog and his taste, add:

1. Cornmeal. 2. Salt. 3. Bacon or salt pork or fat used to fry fish. (The deal here is to get rid of all that grease in the refrigerator that you can't figure out what to do with.)

"IF YOUR pooch has a yen for spicy food, add several chili pequinis. Most hounds will appreciate a chicken (or chicken bouillon cubes) thrown in the pot."

"Stir with a pitchfork until musk thickens. Registered breeds of dogs may have to be encouraged to eat this 'poor man's' dog food. Several days of fasting will help their appetite considerably."

My Answer

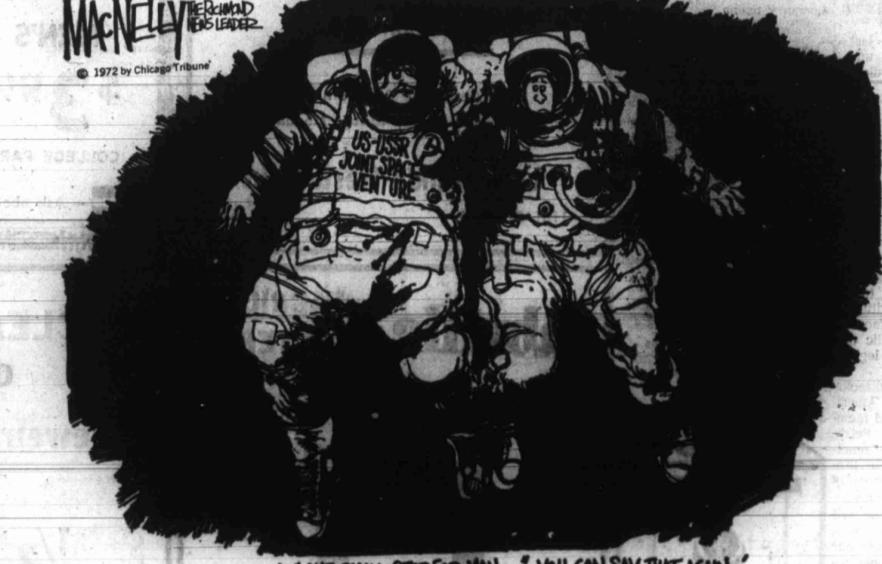

BILLY GRAHAM

I have a question regarding one of your recent columns in which you spoke about helping the poor, the weak and underprivileged. In view of the federal programs which dole out money so freely to the poor, are you suggesting that we give and give to the poor, when the millions spent on them is about to wreck our country?

F.D. I am opposed to giving anything at all to people who are physically and mentally able to work and I believe that most Americans are — except the recipients.

But when Jesus talked about helping the underprivileged he was speaking of a principle greater than the giving of money. He meant that we are to have compassion upon the unfortunate, the downtrodden, and those who are discriminated against. He meant that we are to be sensitive to the needs of others, and willing to share with them and care for them.

When we forget the pit from which we came, we cease being human beings. Louis Pasteur, the French scientist, was fond of saying: "My time and energy belong to mankind." Giving and sharing, not only money, but concern and love are the heart and soul of Christianity. Of our Lord it was said, "He was rich, yet he became poor, that we through his poverty might be made rich." II Colossians 8:9. Doling money out to the poor from the government can never take the place of Christian love. Jesus said, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me." Matthew 25:40. The need of the world is Christian compassion and concern.

Pension Programs

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Only one in eight of this country's self-employed have undertaken pension programs under the Keogh Act, which permits them to set aside in a tax shelter as much as 10 per cent of income up to a maximum of $2,500 a year.

The situation is causing concern in the life insurance industry, the major provider of retirement plans for the self-employed, which finds itself unable to stimulate enthusiasm for the Keogh provisions.

Underlying their concern is the fear that a gap in any kind of private insurance coverage — life, health, casualty or retirement — tends to be filled by, or to at least draw the critical interest of, the federal government.

James Attwood, chairman of the industry's Task Force on Pension Legislation, estimates that only 20 per cent of self-employed professionals and probably 5 to 8 per cent of nonprofessionals have coverage.

Epileptic Okay

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Epileptics may obtain Kentucky driver's licenses under a new Public Safety Department regulation, provided they have a physician's statement the condition is controllable by drugs.

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — We haven't had any drills in double-talk lately, have we? Well, we might as well have one now, just to be sure we're in shape for the fall and winter social season.

Your ability to double-talk, of course, can make or break your social career. Double-talk is the art of saying one thing while thinking just the opposite, and it is the basis of all polite conversation. For if we only opened our mouths to speak the truth, we'd all quickly lose our teeth, and life would be a jungle of resentment.

Perhaps the best way to proceed is to give a few examples of commonplace double-talk in real life situations. The speaker's actual remarks are in quotes, followed, in each case, by what he was actually thinking.

"Why, I could have had John as a husband if I had wanted to. He used to come running every time I snapped my fingers." — I guess I must have snapped them once too often.

"What kind of girl do you think I am?" — Anyway, you guessed right the first time.

"Harry, you know I hate to be asking you for money all the time." — But I'd rather ask than go without it.

"You know I just love to go to a football game, Reginald. But please don't keep apologizing for the seats — They're just fine." — I guess those tiny little figures running around on the field way down there must be the players.

"What if you did make a mistake and take the wrong turnoff, dear? It'll just give us a chance to enjoy this splendid scenery that much longer." — Wake me up when we get there, stupid.

"Well, Mr. Throggshead, as my potential financial adviser, would you suggest right now that I put any extra money I

He feels a better balance must be reached between obligations and benefits. Presently, an individual incurs severe tax penalties if funds are withdrawn before age 59 1/2, 6 months. He believes that penalty is too severe.

They'll Even Try

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Wanting to show "anyone in need of help that there is someone who cares," a group of suburban Avon residents has formed Avon Referral Service.

Its members offer to babysit, lend an ear, find an appropriate organization to which to refer someone, cook meals — do what they can any day, any hour.

Their first service was mailing telephone stickers with emergency numbers on them, along with those of group members who accept distress calls.

"We try to help people if we can," says Jack D. Biegelburger, a spokesman for the 30-person group. Or, he adds, "support them until we can get them in touch with the right people."

One recent case involved an unwelcome raccoon in a woman's garage. Since it wouldn't leave, the group called the Lorain County Metropolitan Park System to solve the problem.

Double-Talk Drills

had in apartment houses, stocks, bonds, or undeveloped real estate?" — I hope this joker has enough cash on him to pick up the lunch check. Otherwise, both of us will be embarrassed.

"Cross my heart and hope to die, Mama, I didn't steal the nickel from your purse." Sister took the nickel — I took a dime.

"Yes, it's a deal. But why do you want me to put it in writing? Isn't my word of honor enough?" — If I put it in writing, you could use it in court.

"I don't want you to get your expectations up too high, nephew, but I don't mind letting you know that you're the very first person mentioned in my will." — I couldn't wait until the second paragraph to disinherit you.

Now do you understand double-talk?

Budget Ceiling

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Richard Nixon has the responsibility of carrying on the duties of chief executive each day, and he can hardly go out campaigning across the country to the extent some critics think he should. Many serious problems demand a President's attention. While an election campaign may be important, it must not interfere with the operations of the presidential office itself.

EARLIER THIS week, for instance, there was an hour's conference between the President and the Republican leaders of the House, in which Mr. Nixon discussed his proposal for a $250-billion ceiling on federal spending.

A meeting was subsequently held with the President, Mr. Ehrlichman, assistant to the President for domestic affairs, and Caspar Weinberger, deputy director in the Office of Management and Budget, in which they gave the newsmen details of the conference.

MR. EHRlichman spoke of the vote to be taken in the House on the question of an amendment to the bill extending the debt ceiling. This would provide that the chief executive would have the power to cut expenditures as he wishes in order to stay within a $250-billion limit.

"There are basically only three ways to avoid higher taxes," said Ehrlichman. "One is through great restraint on the part of the Congress in the appropriations and authorizations which it passes. I might say parenthetically we have seen very little evidence of such restraint in this Congress.

"SECONDLY, the President would be required to veto authorizations and appropriations which substantially exceed his budget, and third, as an alternative, is the route which the Congress has under consideration this week, that is, an over-all limitation on spending by the federal government."

The President, Mr. Ehrlichman added, feels that the third method is a much more practical and workable approach by Congress than to adopt high authorizations and appropriations on all kinds of different subjects in a disjointed and uncoordinated way, send the bills to the President for a possible veto, and then have to reconsider each again.

MR. WEINBERGER made the point that in 1968 Congress insisted on a spending ceiling as the price of its giving President Johnson the surtax and, in effect, forced the limitation on a rather unwilling president. But it was done so badly that the effect was not what it could have been.

BOTH OF THE President's aides stressed that Mr. Nixon's proposal has no intention of proposing any new taxes and believes that the ceiling on spending will enable him to make enough economies to avoid the need for tax increases. They made it clear that there is no intention to touch the social security setup.

Soap Opera Day

MURWILLUMBAH, Australia (AP) — It was just one of those days for Eileen Piper, who lives in this town in northern New South Wales and works as a waitress.

Mrs. Piper was being driven to work when the auto was involved in a collision. She was unhurt but shaken.

Mrs. Piper asked a truck driver from a nearby sawmill to drive her home. The truck crashed through her front fence and damaged a corner of her house.

Mrs. Piper decided to clean the stove. It "exploded" — a blow-back that threw her against the wall.

Mrs. Piper decided it was time to lie down. While taking her rest, her son, aged 2 1/2, pulled a cupboard over on himself and fractured a leg.

Then came the good news: Mrs. Piper's boss would give her normal pay for the day.

One Tight Race

Garth Jones

Samplings of Texas voters by political pollsters point to a November victory in Texas by President Richard Nixon.

But it's too early to bet any money you can't afford to lose.

TEXAS REPUBLICAN campaigners are enthusiastic over opinion polls that show Nixon ahead in Texas as much as 53 percentage points, but in the same breath they say they'll be glad to win by any margin.

Supporters of Sen. George McGovern claim the current margin between Nixon and their candidate is not as wide as the polls indicate and say it's possible for the gap to be closed by Nov. 7.

An even closer race, according to both pollsters and campaign managers, is the battle between Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., and Democrat Barefoot Sanders.

Some reports give Tower only a four-point lead now.

A POLL published by a national magazine Time caused considerable stir the past week when it showed 71 per cent of those questioned in Texas favored Nixon while only 18 per cent favored McGovern and 11 were undecided.

Another recent national poll (Gallup) showed young voters in the South, including Texas, favoring Nixon by a 70-29 margin.

A Republican poll of the state in August, according to their state headquarters, showed Nixon with 68 per cent and McGovern about 29.

"From what I have heard and seen in my travels around the state I know there are more than 18 per cent of the voters for McGovern," said Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong who is a state coordinator for McGovern.

Shriver and one of the few state officials actually campaigning for the Democratic ticket.

"I THINK Texas is probably doing as the rest of the nation," Armstrong said. "There is some discernible movement to close the gap. It's beginning to close — I'm not saying it's closed — but it's closing to close."

Spokesman for Texas Democrats for Nixon are leery about making predictions or polls but they leave no doubt they think the final margin will be a lot closer than the polls show now.

Both sides agree that the outcome of the Nixon-McGovern race vitally affects the Tower-Sanders conflict. A big Nixon win could push Tower to victory. A McGovern win or even a close loss gives Sanders a chance.

The closeness of the Tower-Sanders race is indicated by opposing poll results.

REPUBLICANS say a statewide poll made in August showed that Tower was 14.1 percentage points ahead of Sanders.

Then in September the Texas said another statewide poll showed Tower only five points ahead — 42 per cent favoring Tower, 37 for Sanders and 21 per cent undecided.

Actually, the decision in both major races likely is being made now as Texans complete voter registration before the Oct. 7 deadline, Saturday midnight. Both parties claim they will benefit by a large registration.

"REGISTRATION is spotty," says Armstrong, "we know that large numbers have registered and are being registered in Austin, Dallas and Houston. It's not so good in South and West Texas. It's just pretty good in East Texas."

A Devotion For Today

Walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise, redeeming the time, because the days are evil. Wherefore be ye not unwise, but understanding what the will of the Lord is. (Ephesians 5:15-17)

PRAYER: Lord, help us to make the decisions of the day in the light of eternity. Help us to meet the needs of those You have placed in our care while there is yet time. Amen.

First Christians Set Plans For Gospel Singing Program

By MARJ CARPENTER

The First Christian Church here is preparing for the appearance on Saturday, Oct. 14 of the Singing Joe Cruse Family of Jacksonville. They are one of the top gospel singing groups in the entire South and will sing following a Fellowship Supper at the local church next week. Interested persons are urged to make plans to attend — if they like topnotch gospel singing.

LOCAL MORMON leaders announce details of the upcoming national conference which will feature their 125-year-old tabernacle choir, one of the best known choirs in the world.

The Salt Lake Mormon Tabernacle Choir, fresh from a triumphant visit to Mexico, will be featured during the 142nd semi-annual World Conference of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints October 6, 7, and 8 in the Tabernacle on Temple Square in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Harold B. Lee, at 73 the youngest president of the church in over 40 years, will preside at all seven sessions of the convention which will attract thousands of leaders from all parts of the free world. He will be assisted by his counselors, President N. Eldon Tanner and President Marion G. Romney.

President Lee became president and prophet of the fast-growing three-million-member church on July 7 after the death on July 2 of 95-year-old Joseph Fielding Smith. President Lee had served as First Counselor to President Smith.

A feature of the conference will be the appearance of the famous 375-voice Tabernacle Choir under the direction of Richard P. Condie. The choir first sang on August 27, 1847, in a temporary earth and willow bowery and faithfully has appeared at conferences since. Constantly upgrading and replenishing with new and young voices, the choir has attained pre-eminence among choral groups the world over. It is better trained, more disciplined than ever before.

The 125-year-old choir, looking ahead with confidence, appeared before a cheering, applauding crowd in August in the spectacular National Auditorium in Chapultepec Park in Mexico City. Also the choir held exhausting recording sessions for a new all-Spanish album and participated in an area Mormon conference. The appearances and recording in Mexico climaxed months of rehearsal and language study.

FIRST BAPTISTS are completing details for their interfaith rally, which begins Sunday with Gil Strickland of Dallas as the speaker for the "Meet Jesus" week. He will be assisted by Vee Gray, who will be in charge of the music. All evening services next week are at 7:30 p.m. except for the one on Friday, Oct. 13.

When a special after-football game fellowship will be held. The Monday, Oct. 2 service will be Youth Night beginning at 7:30 p.m.

with a pizza supper at 6:15 p.m. and Cindy Crisp of Odessa, Miss West Texas, will give her testimony.

Tuesday is All in the Family night with a hot dog supper and magic show. At 7:30 p.m., Banky Stocks, Kent rancher, will tell about his experiences. Good Neighbor nights is Wednesday, Oct. 11 with a dinner at 6 p.m. in Fellowship Hall followed by a concert at 7 p.m. by Vee Gray, with Wayne Watts, Wichita Falls businessman telling of his Christian faith at 7:30 p.m.

Thursday is God and Country night. Highlight will be the appearance of Cleve McClary, former much-decorated lieutenant who has been featured at several Billy Graham meetings. The after-game program will be at the HCJC gym around 10:30 p.m. with the Shilos, a music group from Baylor furnishing music.

Saturday, the Shilos will participate in a special program at the church. THREE MAIN SPEAKERS Convention coming up Oct. 30-31 at Hardin Simmons University in Abilene will be Rev. Peter McLeod, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Austin and Omar Pacheco, Mexican Baptist president in Texas. More details of this meeting will be told at a later date.

Most Church Leaders Eye Election With Care

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — While some church leaders have organized to support the presidential candidacy of Sen. George McGovern, others are advising against such partisanship and others have voiced their backing for President Nixon.

It's a mixed medley when it comes to recording the religious counterpoint to the current national election contest, but that element is keenly involved this time, even though both candidates are Protestants.

"Directly and indirectly, religious factors will play an extremely important role in the outcome," says the Rev. Dr. Gerald Strober, who has done special research on the subject.

For the first time in the annuals of modern presidential elections, some prominent churches have formed a cross-country interfaith network for McGovern, in behalf of the Democratic contender. Although acting as individuals, and specifically not as spokesmen of their constituencies, they maintain that ending the Vietnam war is such a basic moral imperative that it justifies clergy in taking sides publicly in the campaign.

It's a new strategy, breaking with the long-time practice against clergymen organizing to back particular candidates. But its key planner, Methodist Bishop James Armstrong of Aberdeen, S.D., says there are "new reasons" for it.

"We're raining death on Vietnam today more than ever before," he says. "A nation is being reduced to rubble and it's our moral responsibility to do whatever we can to stop it."

Local units of pro-McGovern clergy are being formed in many communities.

Dr. Strober, co-author of a new book issued by Association Press called "Religion and the New Majority," contends that the nation's new, predominant political force is symbolized by evangelist Billy Graham's friendship with Nixon.

"There's a close affinity between Nixon's and Graham's political and social philosophy and their vision of America," Dr. Strober says, adding that their views coincides with that of a growing preponderance of evangelical Christians.

He says that even though Graham avoids specific endorsements, his influence strengthens Nixon's position, both because of their close friendship and the compatibility of their views, which is shared by a decisive "new majority" of middle Americans.

Some clergy have backed Nixon more directly. In Fort Worth, Tex., at a meeting of the National Baptist Convention, U.S.A., representing 6.3 million members and the country's largest black denomination, its president, the Rev. Dr. Joseph H. Jackson, came out for Nixon's reelection.

However, "boos" and shouted protests sounded in the meeting hall when he told 12,000 delegates: "McGovern says he'll get us out of Vietnam in 10 days. If he does more than Nixon in Vietnam, he'll carry a white flag."

Rabbi David Polish, president of the Central Conference of American Rabbis, urged Jewish institutions and their representative leaders not to take sides publicly in the contest. He said such partisanship could produce a schism detrimental both to the cause of Israel and of the American Jews.

The bidding:
North East South West
1♣ Pass 1♥ Pass
1♠ Pass 3♥ Pass
4♥ Pass Pass Pass
Opening lead: King of ♠

A delicately conceived and executed campaign enabled South, the declarer, at four hearts, to throw an opponent in at the crucial moment in today's hand and force a favorable return to present him with a 10th trick.

West opened the king of clubs and the ace was played from dummy. South would have welcomed the appearance of another heart in the North hand, for three trumps would have assured him of obtaining two diamond ruffs—thereby virtually guaranteeing success on the deal.

His only recourse was to lead a diamond at trick two and hope for the best. East's five was covered by the jack which lost to West's king. The latter made the expected trump shift which restricted South to only one diamond ruff.

Declarer can count nine tricks—six hearts, the ace of diamonds, a ruff in that suit, and the ace of clubs. It appears that he must find the ace of spades with West, so that a ruff can be given to that suit by leading toward North's king. South was not optimistic on this score, for West's opening lead of the suit originally bid by dummy apparently marked the former with at least the king-queen of clubs and probably the jack as well. He had shown up with the king of diamonds and if he also held the ace of spades, an opening bid might have been expected from West in second seat.

Declarer reasoned that his only chance was to find East with four diamonds and to put the latter on lead at a time when he had only spades left and would thereby be obliged to make a favorable lead for South. After winning West's heart shift at trick three with North's queen, a club was ruffed in the closed hand as a preliminary measure to strip East of that suit. The ace of diamonds was cashed next followed by a diamond ruff with the king of hearts as both opponents followed suit.

A third club was trumped in the closed hand and South showed out—discarding a spade. The ace and jack of hearts drew the outstanding trumps and at trick 10 declarer exited with the eight of diamonds. When East turned up with the queen, South's efforts were duly rewarded for his opponent was down to the A-J-8 of spades. After cashing his ace, East was obliged to present dummy's king with the fulfilling trick on the deal.

In all, declarer lost two diamond tricks and one spade.

Zip Codes Can Easily Be Obtained Over Telephone

Zip codes, which speed the mail economically, may be easily obtained by calling the Postal Service, Postmaster Frank Hardesty said.

Area town zip codes, also are listed in the first of the yellow pages. Zip code books are available in Post Office lobbies.

Even the first three numbers alone of a zip code will hurry a letter, Hardesty said.

Zip, short for Zoning Improvement Plan, codes allow mail to go directly from one sectional office to another by passing clearing houses like the Terminal Annex in Dallas.

Hardesty said the first numbers start with zero for the northeast corner of the United States and grow larger as you go west. The Texas zone is designated by 7.

Next comes the number of one of 554 sectional centers. Big Spring mail goes through Midland, 97. Big Spring, like other associate offices, is specified by the last two numbers - 20 here.

Busy Filipino Nurse Frets About Family

By MARJ CARPENTER
COLORADO CITY — Even though extremely busy as a new nurse at Root Memorial Hospital in Colorado City, a small petite Filipino has taken time in recent weeks to worry about her family "and the situation in my country where they have proclaimed martial law."

"I am sure," she stated in her clear and concise English. "That the President of the Philippines had no choice because we have had many months of student demonstrations, bombings and terrorists threats which are communist inspired. It seems to me that people in this country do not worry about communists, but in that part of the world, we are very aware of their threat." CALLED 'LOU' The nurse is Lourdes Carreon, 24, lovingly called "Lou" by her fellow workers at Root. "I like my work here. Everyone is so friendly and we learn a lot. Where I came from, a nurse was just assigned one duty, but here we do many things."

A graduate of nursing school at San Juan de Dios Hospital in the Philippines, she applied through an agency that brings nurses to hospitals needing them in the United States. She came with another girl, who is now moving to California to be

Pamphlet Boosts Mitchell County

COLORADO CITY — This community has decided to make the most of its history and put out pamphlets telling the locations of their many historical markers.

The town probably has more markers than any town in West Texas of comparable size. And some of them are hard to locate.

So the local historical survey committee has put out a ten-page booklet which features a map showing interested persons how to locate the markers.

They will be distributed at the Old Timers' Reunion Saturday and at all class reunions and then will be available at the chamber office the City National Bank and the museum, according to Sefton Pickens, chamber manager.

Huge Melon Will Be Auctioned Off

COLORADO CITY — "Melon, melon, who gets the melon?" will be the theme of a Chinese auction at the Mitchell county Fair on the final day Saturday.

Mac MacKinnon, publisher of the Colorado City Record, brought in a "foreign water melon" from Del. Leon that weighs over 65 pounds.

Two or three of the local melons at the agriculture exhibit are nearly as big. But the foreign melon is to be auctioned off to whoever has set a price at the exact hour that the "gong" sounds Saturday.

To cool the melon, the winner may have to go to the local ice house. There's no way it's going to go in the average household refrigerator.

Area School Men Attend Conclave

H. D. Smith, superintendent of the Forsan Independent School District and Bill Easterling and Rob Ethridge of Coahoma Independent School District, will be among 65 other area school administrators and their wives attending a program entitled "Area School Administrators Eveing" to be held on the Angelo State University campus tomorrow.

The program is designed to acquaint the school officials with the various programs at the University. The program will include a coffee at the Houston Harte University Center, a buffet dinner to be served poolside in the new physical education building and the football game that will pit the Rams of ASU against the Bearcats of Sam Houston State.

Competition Open In Seal Design

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech, which will launch its 50th anniversary celebration early next year, has announced a seal design competition aimed at providing an appropriate symbol to be used in connection with the observance.

The month-long competition, beginning today and ending Monday, Nov. 6, will be open to any persons or any group, according to Speech Prof. John F. Deethardt, chairman of the seal subcommittee of Tech's 50th Anniversary Activities Committee. The winning designer (or group) will receive a cash award of $100. A theme of academic excellence and achievement was suggested by Dr. Deethardt.

Mitchell Fair Has Fine Agricultural Exhibit

By MARJ CARPENTER
COLORADO CITY — Just inside the Mitchell County Fair Barn in Colorado City was a simple booth decorated all in green and holding an iron grill-work chair and table with an open Bible. Across the back of the booth are the words, "Let's get back to basics."

There was no name of a sponsor on the back of the booth so it is possible that it was a theme for the entire fair, which definitely has gotten back to the basics of an old-fashioned, heart-warming county fair.

Curtis Thomason, game warden, is general chairman of the fair for the second year, assisted by Bobby Lemmon, county agent.

The fair does not include a livestock show, but has one of the best agricultural exhibits at any West Texas fair. There is top-notch and keen competition among the farmers in the exhibits. On Thursday morning, they were bringing in sample cotton stalks, with many open bolls, and carefully arranging them in prominent places along a railing by the agriculture exhibits.

LOTS OF INTEREST

There was no lackadaisical interest in these exhibits, but keen competition even down to a division in pomegranates which had three separate entries. Other entries included grain, peppers, squash, tomatoes, radishes, cashews, egg plant, beans, peas, turnips, pears, apples, and one of the biggest tumbleweeds in the area. The exhibitors sat the tumbleweed over in a place by itself, apparently not expecting to judge it.

Heading the agriculture committee were Travis Turner, Murrell Blassingame and Lermons.

IDENTICAL BOTTLES

The flower show did not concentrate on fancy arrangements but on single blooms, and the chairmen were carefully placing the entries in the many varieties of flowers that can and will bloom in West Texas in identical green bottles. Nobody would be able to say a blossom won because of its container.

These chairmen included Mrs. Earl Brown, Mrs. L. J. Taylor, Mrs. Sims Palmer and Mrs. Roy Coles.

The art show is headed by Mrs. Gary Baker assisted by Mrs. H. P. Ball and Mrs. Lynn Halbert. Crafts were headed by Mrs. Don Stewart and Mrs. George Powell. Mrs. Janet Choate headed the youth department assisted by Mrs. Bob Mitchell. An antique display was headed by Mrs. W. E. Smith and Mrs. Rex McKinney.

The clothing display was arranged by Mrs. Bruce Byrne, Mrs. Jimmy Moody, Mrs. Randy Hicks, Mrs. Harry Dockery and Mrs. Linden Solomon.

RATTLESNAKE RATTLES

Somebody brought a jar filled with 365 rattlesnake rattles. Nobody was sure which category it went into. It was sitting on top of the foods display being set up by Mrs. W. E. Harris, Mrs. R. E. McMullan, Mrs. C. N. Stubblefield, Mrs. Don Blassingame and Mrs. Bobby Nobles. Everybody was sure it didn't belong in the foods department.

It wasn't an antique. It wasn't

John M. Alderson Freed On Bond

Convicted of second offense driving while intoxicated June 22, Alderson has committed the same offense again since in Brewster County, the motion for revocation states.

Alderson was given a one-year probation sentence and fined $250 plus court costs last summer.
