TORNADO DAMAGE — Heavy damage was done to the David Todd home when a tornado touched down early Sunday morning. The home is located near Marshall where the storm raked the area causing heavy damage but no reported injuries.

U. S., China Are Aligned In UN Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The annual U.N. arms debate opens today with about two thirds of the nations in favor of the world disarmament conference proposed by the Soviet Union but with the United States and China opposed.

Mexico, the Soviet Union and the United States were the first speakers. The debate in the General Assembly's main political committee is scheduled to last through Nov. 23, but the subject is so complicated some believe it might continue into December.

Both France and China in the past have resisted all efforts to involve them in the 10-year-old, 25-nation Geneva disarmament committee.

Now France has agreed to participate in a preparatory committee for the world conference that the Soviet Union proposed a year ago. Its Aug. 25 reply in a U.N. poll on the subject suggested the committee consist of the 15 Security Council members, including the Big

Though no reply from China has been published, Deputy Foreign Minister Chiao Kuanhua said in general debate Oct. 3 that a world disarmament conference would be an "empty talk club" and "it is better not to hold it."

However, some diplomats remained hopeful that China could be induced to join a preparatory committee for the conference. Others were doubtful.

The United States also is against setting up a preparatory committee. Its Aug. 30 reply in the poll said any action to arrange a world disarmament conference would raise false hopes and lead to frustration.

Still, there were observers who believed that some in-between countries, perhaps Mexico, Romania and Sweden, could work out a resolution based on the Soviet proposal and push it through the assembly.

They noted that upward of 80 of the 132 countries in the assembly, in replies in the poll or speeches in the general debate, had gone on record in favor of a world disarmament conference in one way or another.

Storm Lashes Idabel, Okla.

IDABEL, Okla. (AP) — Cleanup operations increased today after one—and possibly two—tornadoes slashed through business and residential areas of this southern Oklahoma community, officials said.

At least three businesses, two trailer homes and three other houses were destroyed, but there were no serious injuries, authorities reported.

"Although we are estimating damages in excess of $150,000, we feel things could have been much worse in terms of personal injury," said Mayor Charles McGowen.

McGowen said one of the twisters hit the west side of the town, cutting a swath about two blocks wide.

"The tornado then apparently lifted back into the air, traveling about a mile and bounded down close to the high school," he said. The school suffered roof and window damage.

Four blocks of the business section were hit, said a spokesman for the Idabel Police Department.

Viets Preparing For Ceasefire

SAIGON (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger left Saigon for Washington today after the most intensive peace talks of the Indochina war, and the U.S. Embassy said progress had been made toward a settlement. But it indicated that the U.S. and South Vietnamese government still differ on some points.

"We have made progress," said an embassy statement. "Talks will continue between us and the government of Vietnam. It is not in the interest of negotiations to be more specific at this time."

Meanwhile, the South Vietnamese government was reported preparing for the eventuality of a cease-fire.

President Nixon's chief foreign policy adviser flew home to report to Nixon after six meetings with President Nguyen Van Thieu. Asked at the airport if his visit had been productive, Kissinger replied, "It always is when I'm here."

NOT CONFIRMED

Although Newsweek and Time magazines reported that the United States and North Vietnam have agreed to a settlement that would include a cease-fire, there was no confirmation from either U.S. or South Vietnamese officials in Saigon.

South Vietnamese sources said, however, that Thieu had issued orders that junior military officers — lieutenants and captains — should prepare to take over the functions of civilian village chiefs in the event of a cease-fire.

This was intended to insure that the Saigon government had a firm hold on the population and the government machinery should a settlement come, the sources said.

For the past two months, government workers have been painting South Vietnamese flags on the doors, walls and gates of homes and other buildings all over the country. The flags, which first began appearing more than a year ago, have often been described as a show of allegiance in the event of a cease-fire.

Informants said that during the past two weeks, government troops have captured at least two caches of Viet Cong flags during operations near Saigon and on the northern coast.

The Thieu government has been preparing contingency plans for a cease-fire for several months, aimed at strengthening and maintaining security and control over the local population.

The question of control would be a major issue in the event of a standstill cease-fire, and both sides would try to seize and hold as much territory and population as they could before a deadline, officials believe.

MUST APPLY

Senior field commanders were told last week that their immediate mission was to open up key highways closed by fighting and to drive enemy forces from hamlets and villages.

On the crucial issue of Thieu's future, both Time and Newsweek reported that the United States and North Vietnam have agreed to a peace plan leaving him in office until replaced by a caretaker government. Both said a cease-fire would be in effect while political negotiations went on, and Time said Hanoi "has agreed to negotiate directly with the Thieu government."

Both Thieu and Nixon have said that any cease-fire must apply throughout Indochina. Negotiations have already begun between the Laotian government and the Communist Pathet Lao, and the Cambodian government had announced agreement in principle to negotiate with the Communist-led Khmer Rouge. Kissinger made a side trip to Phnom Penh Sunday to confer for three hours with Cambodian President Lon Nol.

Kissinger held a final 2½-hour meeting with Thieu Monday morning. Afterward Thieu summoned provincial, city and police officials to the presidential palace for a mass meeting, apparently to discuss their roles in the event of a cease-fire.

HIGHEST MILITARY HONOR — The Congressional Medal of Honor is the highest honor that can be bestowed upon an American serviceman. Behind the display of Texas winners, which will be at Veterans Hospital following ceremonies today, are four Texas winners including Eli Whiteley, Texas A&M, James Logan of Kilgore and his grandson, Danny Foxworth, who took part in the ceremonies; George O'Brien of Midland, formerly of Big Spring and David H. McVerney of Crosby.

DENTIST SAYS Records Prove Hitler Dead

SAN DIEGO (AP) — A California dentist says recently uncovered dental records prove conclusively that Adolf Hitler is dead and that the German dictator was in frequent pain from a gum infection late in his life.

Dr. Reidar Sognnaes of Los Angeles told an interviewer last week an X-ray of Hitler's teeth that he found in American war archives provided proof that "will stand any test."

Sognnaes, a UCLA professor of dentistry, said the X-ray, previously available dental records and an autopsy performed by Russian doctors on bones found outside Hitler's Berlin bunker all coincide to show he died in the bunker in 1945.

The X-ray evidence was conclusive because of Hitler's unusual dental work, Sognnaes said.

"A peculiar telephone bridge, very bizarre crowns and unmistakable gum disease have given us the key to disprove all the rumors that Hitler is still alive," the dentist said.

Sognnaes said the dental X-ray was made along with a number of medical tests in 1944 after an unsuccessful attempt on Hitler's life. It was part of medical records seized by U.S. troops after interrogating Hitler's doctors. The dentist found it in a search of military archives in Maryland.

"Hitler had widespread gum disease," he said. "He had a major infection at the base of his teeth. Some of the jawbone had even been destroyed by the disease."

Furniture Problems Eased, Somewhat

"You still got some friends left," County Judge A. G. Mitchell told Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, as she opened a large package in Commissioners Court this morning.

Mitchell facetiously explained that some "good citizens" had read about how the court was mistreating her in connection with a desk and chair she wanted.

During the last several meetings, the court has discussed extensively where and how to get the office furniture for Mrs. Petty's vocational office education student. Mitchell suggested a "nail keg" for a chair several times.

Inside, the package Mrs. Petty found a wicker-bottom doll chair. "The court has been so nice to get me this chair," Mrs. Petty commented.

The court recessed until 1 p.m. to attend Veteran's Day activities at the VA Hospital.

Contribution Sets In

CHESTER, W. Va. (AP) — Two men who robbed Howard DeLong of more than $1,000 Sunday apparently felt guilty about leaving the 65-year-old DeLong and his wife tied up.

Police said they got a call from a person who identified himself as one of the men, and asked them to free the DeLongs.

Moral Strength Eroding, Says Whitely At VA Rite

By MARJ CARPENTER

"In the 27 years since World War II, our country has changed. Atheism is in competition with faith in God. Obscenity and pornography are destroying the character of our people. Our nation has been torn by disunity. Not many people realize that our moral strength as well as our military strength is being eroded away."

Not many people realize that our American society is decaying just as many other great societies have decayed in the past. These nations died because of internal decay and the lack of the will to survive at any cost. The will to win and survive at any cost is what made us the great nation that we are today."

With these words of warning, Eli Whiteley, former winner of a Congressional Medal of Honor and now a professor at Texas A&M, talked to a crowd of Big Spring citizens in front of the Veterans Administration Hospital for special Veterans Day Ceremonies.

DIFFER

He continued to tell the crowd that the thoughts of Americans today are quite different from those of the 56 founding fathers who signed the Declaration of Independence. "They pledged their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor. But these men sired a nation that grew from sea to shining sea."

He continued his words of warning, reminding the crowd that "in the lifetime of most of us here, it was possible for our citizens to travel anywhere in the world with relative safety because of our flag and because the world knew that we would protect the individual with the full power of our collective might. In war torn lands in countries torn by revolution, it was only necessary to establish identity as an American to be guaranteed safety. This is no longer true in today's world, our government has sent men to the moon, to walk on its surface and returned them to the earth safely, yet it cannot guarantee the safety of one of its citizens in a walk across a public park."

"Pleading for Americans to work together to solve our problems, he then added, "The American people have in the past, proved their dedication to the principles upon which this nation was founded. They have endured many hardships and fought several wars to preserve those freedoms established by the Constitution. That first war that gave us birth was the longest war in our nation's lifetime until this war we are now fighting. And as our blood came from every corner of the world, so it has been spilled in almost every corner, bled into a field called Flanders the sands of Africa, places called Anzio and Omaha Beach. Splashed on a rock named Corregidor, on the bleak slopes of Pork Chop Hill and the rice paddies and jungles of Vietnam."

Whiteley stressed that we still have men and women of courage, conviction and bravery, willing to endure privation, hardship, danger and even death in the quest of freedom, justice and peace for all mankind.

STEALS SHOW

Little 3½ year old Danny Foxworth, grandson of Medal of Honor Recipient, James Logan of Kilgore one of four MOH winners present for the ceremony, stole the show when he unveiled the display of Medal of Honor winners, which will be shown permanently at the Big Spring Veterans Hospital. It is the first display of this type in Texas.

Other MOH winners present for the event, besides Whiteley and Logan were George O'Brien of Midland, formerly of Big Spring and David McVerney of Crosby.

The ceremony was marked by traditional color guard ceremonies by Webb Air Force Base, a pledge of allegiance led by two local scouts, patriotic music and all of the pomp of an old-fashioned patriotic holiday in Middle America.

Gold Star Mothers and Fathers were special guests of honor and the crowd was also dotted with veterans who are patients in the hospital, many in wheelchairs.

Others participating in the ceremony were Dan Shockey, A. C. Hicks Jack D. Powell, R. R. McKinney and the Rev. Steve Birdwell.

Leading citizens were also special platform guests.

BATTERED CHILD BITTEN, ACCORDING TO POLICE

NEW YORK (AP) — Two human bites on a 6-week-old boy found battered to death in his bassinet were inflicted by a child or an adult with a small mouth, the medical examiner says.

Detectives said Hector Rodriguez Jr. was killed Saturday night while his parents and about 50 of their friends were elsewhere in the Brooklyn apartment celebrating the baby's christening.

"It could have been done in a rage or by someone who hated the family," said Detective Ernest Borbee. "It's a very difficult case. No one heard screams until the mother went into the room to check on the child."

The medical examiner who performed the autopsy at Kings County Hospital said that in addition to being bitten, the boy's skull had been crushed from being battered against a wall or the floor.

The Rodriguez' other son, Vincent, 2, was not harmed. He was in another bedroom of the family's 22nd-floor cooperative apartment. The guests, including a number of children, were questioned and released pending further investigation.

"It's still a dream, a nightmare," said the baby's father, Hector, 22. "Whoever did it must have been sick. I pray to God they find him."

Hearing Slated On Annexation

Public hearing for an ordinance amending a portion of the Canyon View Subdivision is slated for City Commission action Tuesday.

Commissioners meet Tuesday at 5:15 p.m. in the Commission Room, City Hall. The land considered for annexation in Canyon View includes the south half of blocks 2 and 3 and the north half of 25th Street, bounded on the west by Arroyo Dr. and on the east by Central Dr. Commissioners are expected to act on a request for aid in restoring the place of business of Mrs. C. W. Creighton, whose antique shop was damaged by sewage backup Sept. 25. The ordinance placing mobile homes under General Residence zoning requirements has been under discussion for several Commission and Planning and Zoning Boards meetings. Tuesday it faces Commission discussion again. Water rates for accounts outside the city limits will be affected by an ordinance scheduled for Commission

ABSENTEES Nov. 3 Last Voting Date

The county clerk's office had voting this morning, Mrs. Chloe Newton, deputy, said. "Of those, six ballots have been returned. Also, 57 have voted in the office. In Howard County, 15,280 registered in time to vote in the Nov. 7 General Election. Voters who moved within the county from one voting box to another have until Nov. 2 to transfer and vote in the election. Citizens who recently moved here and did not register 30 days prior to Nov. 7 may vote on a limited absentee ballots, Mrs. Dorothy Moore, chief deputy tax assessor-collector, said.

CLOTHES WAR: (Q.) My mother is constantly hassling me about the clothes I wear. I want to look like the other guys I know. But when I do she says, "I don't want you to look like a hippie."

She doesn't want me to wear my hair long, either. — Peace, Yet There is No Peace in Connecticut.

(A.) You have your viewpoint and your mother has hers. You want today's look and comfort. She measures from the standards of an earlier time.

You can dress as your friends dress yet you can be as neat and clean as any teen-age boy of her youth. You can wear long hair, but it can be as well groomed and lustrous as that of any of her teen-age boy friends. Try for that.

AGAIN? (Q.) When we broke up after a silly misunderstanding my boy friend said if I wanted to go with him again to just ask him or tell him.

I really did want to go back, and I think he did too. But I thought if he wanted to enough he would ask ME.

We ended up not going together, and now he has a new girl friend. He rides by my house with her day after day just for spite. How can I get him back now?

— Sorry in Massachusetts. (A.) The same way you could have earlier — by not letting your foolish pride stand in the way. Tell him you still like him and would like to date him again if his offer is still open.

From the way he has been behaving, I believe it is.

Bid By Telephone Buys Rare Wine

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — A lawyer bidding by telephone paid top price at an auction of rare wines—the equivalent of $500 for a bottle of Steinberger Auslese, vintage 1888.

The unidentified lawyer was described by the auctioneer as a connoisseur and collector of rare table wines.

The auctioneer said he offered 57 exotic labels which were mostly collectors' items unlikely to be drunk. The wines never appeared at the Friday night auction except on a list.

The German lawyer's $500 bid doesn't come close to what a New York wine merchant paid at an auction in New York last May: $9,200 for a rare bottle of French wine, a 1929 Chateau Mouton-Rothschild.

Bridge Test

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold, with 70 part score:

♠KJ ♠AKQ ♠AJ3 ♠J103

What is your opening bid?

A.—One no trump. True, this hand exceeds the bounds of a no trump opening by a full point plus a 10. However, the conditions of score may create an awkward rebid problem if you open with one diamond and a partner responds in a major suit. The slight underbid is very unlikely to result in the loss of a slam and will, in fact, serve to facilitate further bidding if any develops.

Q. 2—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠Q8543 ♠87542 ♠8544

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South

1 ♠ Dble. ?

What do you bid?

A.—Our choice is for a barrage of three spades. This may keep the opponents out of a possible game in a minor suit or good them into a game in hearts, against which you have some defense.

Q. 3—As dealer you hold:

♠AKQ ♠KQ ♠AK9 ♠A1064

What is your opening bid?

A.—While this hand measures up to the specifications of a three no trump opening and, the as entirely correct, this department has a very slight preference in favor of an opening two spade bid. Such a bid provides an additional chance for a safe landing place if partner should have some weak hand containing four spades and no good play for nine tricks at no trump but would nevertheless produce 10 tricks at three no trump. Furthermore, the two spade opening does not preclude an eventual no trump contract.

Q. 4—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠A852 ♠KJ4 ♠AK ♠AQJ8

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—B is a close call between a jump raise to four spades and a jump shift to three diamonds.

Either may be accepted as correct. Our own bias runs to the latter by a narrow margin. It will have the merit of ferreting out a possible slam on some few holdings.

Q. 5—Your side is vulnerable; partner opens with one spade, and you hold:

♠108754 ♠8 ♠Q7 ♠KQ1075

What is your response?

A.—This is the type of hand for a preemptive raise. You have a great playing strength, but no defense. Bid four spades.

Q. 6—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠AKJ ♠A8752 ♠A ♠Q874

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—A vigorous rebid is in order, but not one that absolutely insists upon game, which may not be available if partner has a shaded response. Our preference is for a raise to three spades. Normally we insist upon four trumps for such a call but, since no other suitable bid is available, we must ask partner to get along with only three trumps this time.

Q. 7—Partner opens with one club, and you hold:

♠K642 ♠K753 ♠Q743 ♠A5

What is your response?

A.—One diamond. The four major suit holdings are stronger, a diamond response is more strategic. It affords the opportunity of rebidding at the level of one and, if partner happens to have four hearts or four spades, you will hear about it at once.

Q. 8—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠AJ63 ♠73 ♠A62 ♠AK85

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♠ 3 ♠ Pass Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—While there is good reason to believe that you can beat three spades, a double is not recommended. There is too much danger that partner will choose not to leave it in and, if he responds in hearts, you will find yourself, no doubt, in a shaky contract. We would prefer to play for a reasonable sure profit of passing.

In A Funnel

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 45 and have had this trouble for 10 years off and on, but it seems I have it every day now. When I get up in the morning my ears are plugged up. When I sniff inward it clears them up for about a minute, and then it's the same thing over again. When I talk, it seems like I'm talking through a funnel, and it is hard for me to hear the other person.

It makes no difference if the weather is dry or humid. I've been to different doctors, and they told me to put drops in my nose but it doesn't help.

You don't mention having seen an ear specialist, but this sort of problem is one for a specialist. The symptoms sound as though the Eustachian tubes are intermittently plugged for one reason or another. I would not be able to guess at the cause without knowing a good deal more about your condition.

As to the nose drops, were you given any special instructions? Just using the drops in the nose is not likely to be effective in this sort of case.

The action of the drops is to shrink swollen tissues. If swelling in the nasal passages, where the Eustachian tubes enter, is responsible for your on-again, off-again hearing, then the drops might be helpful — if you apply them to the right place.

The way to do it is to lie down, with head back, introduce the drops in the nostrils, and when you feel them at the back of the nose, roll your head, first to one side and then the other. That way the drops can reach the proper place where they may do some good.

As you probably know from reading this column, there can be trouble from using nose drops to excess. They will shrink boggy, swollen tissues, and "dry up the nose," but there's a "rebound effect."

That is, the mucous membranes react to this dryness by producing more moisture, so in a little while you have the same condition to contend with as before — only more severe.

Therefore, while I offer you the method of using nose drops, I am not recommending that you use it for any length of time. You may need more specific treatment than that. So that's why I want you to see an ear specialist.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: This may sound silly, but is there any danger if the pilot light of a gas stove goes out when everyone is in bed and asleep?

It can be hazardous if the room is small and poorly ventilated — and there's also the risk of enough gas accumulating and being set off by a spark. Have the pilot adjusted.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: For constipation, you have mentioned diosetyl sodium sulfosuccinate but did not mention the particular name of any drug containing it. Which do you recommend? I am 93 and cannot be active as of even a year ago due to arthritis in the hip. — A.B.

I'm a bit shy about calling D.S.S. a "drug," because it gives some people the wrong idea. It is a "stool softener," and of particular help in elderly folk.

It is the main ingredient of a score or more preparations, and I can't honestly say that one is better than the rest.

Some individuals may have a preference for one or another. Either ask your doctor to suggest one, or ask your druggist for one of the various "stool softeners" containing diosetyl.

Plus making use of the other suggestions in the booklet, of course.

Underdogs Have Day In College Football

By The Associated Press
A favorite quote of most football coaches starts something like this: "On any given Saturday..."
The past weekend may have been one of those given Saturdays.
ITEM: Ninth-ranked Colorado 20, second-ranked Oklahoma 14.
"You always go into a game like this intending to contain them," said Colorado Coach Eddie Crowder after the Buffs held explosive Oklahoma to 163 yards on the ground and 75 through the air, "but it's always an unknown. That's why we play the game."
ITEM: Unranked Missouri 30, No. 8 Notre Dame 26.
"You just never know what will happen in this game," said Al Onofrio after the Tigers posted what he called "a tremendous victory for us, our biggest since I've been a coach at Missouri."

ITEM: Third-ranked Alabama, seemingly whipped, scores twice within 36 seconds in the final two minutes to overcome 10th-ranked Tennessee 17-10.
"IT HAPPENS"
"This happens in life," philosophized Coach Bill Battle, who played under Bear Bryant at Alabama and lost for the second time in three meetings with his old coach. "That's what's great about football."
The outcome of those games figures to jumble The Associated Press Top Ten ratings this week—behind top-ranked Southern California, that is, which whipped No. 18 Washington 94-7 as Sam Cunningham and Anthony Davis each scored twice.

Elsewhere fourth-ranked Ohio State drubbed Indiana 44-7, No. 5 Nebraska buried Kansas 56-0 for its third straight shutout, sixth-ranked Michigan trounced Illinois 31-7 and No. 7 Louisiana State shaded Kentucky 10-0.
Fired-up Colorado intercepted three Oklahoma passes, recovered a fumble and rallied from a 7-0 halftime deficit on Gary Campbell's 43-yard gallop—first touchdown yielded by the Sooners this season—Ken Johnson's six-yard pass to Jon Keyworth and a pair of 33-yard field goals by barefoot booter Fred Lima.
Notre Dame had allowed only 30 points in winning its first four games, but Missouri managed that number Saturday as the Irish lost two of their five fumbles and had two passes picked off. The gambling Tigers ran the ball five times on fourth down in the first half and made the yardage each time, including a 16-yard touchdown by Leroy Moss and a pair of one-yarders by Don Johnson.
Trailing 19-3, Alabama knotted the score on Wilbur Jackson's two-yard plunge with 1:48 left and won it 36 seconds later on Terry Davis' 23-yard dash around end on the first play after John Mitchell recovered a fumble by Tennessee's Condredge Holloway.
Southern Cal's rugged defense held crippled Washington to minus seven yards in plugging up a 20-0 halftime lead. Overall, the Huskies lost the ball six times on a fumble and five interceptions thrown by sophomores Denny Fitzpatrick and Mark Backman.
CAL IS CRUSHED
Elsewhere, a 532-yard rushing attack enabled 11th-ranked UCLA to overcome seven fumbles and crush California 49-13. Kermit Johnson accounted for 139 yards, including touchdown runs of 35 and 45 yards in the opening period.
Penn State's John Cappelletti gained 162 yards as the 12th-rated Nittany Lions blanketed Syracuse 17-0 and Oregon used Don Reynolds' 85-yard dash and three field goals by sub-kicker Hugh Woodward to stun No. 13 Stanford 15-13.

Knudson Wins Top Loot In Napa With Final 70

NAPA, Calif. (AP) — "How sweet it is," Canadian George Knudson chortled after breaking a two-year victory drought Sunday in the final round of the $150,000 Kaiser International Open golf tournament.
"Now," the 35-year-old Toronto native said, "I'm gonna play one week then go home for two months."
Knudson, winner of eight titles but whose last previous victory was the 1970 Robinson open, fashioned a front-running 70, two under par for a 271 total and a three-stroke decision over big Bobby Nichols and Hale Irwin, tied for second at 274.

Both closed quickly in the cool, cloudy weather that settled over the 6,819-yard, par 72 Silverado Country club course, but neither ever was a major threat to Knudson who held a lead of from five to seven strokes most of the way.
Nichols, a former PGA champ and now a club pro at the Firestone Country Club in Akron, Ohio, scored a hole in one on the 197-yard seventh hole en route to a course record 64, eight under par. Irwin put a 66 on the heels of his 65 in Saturday's third round.
Grier Jones was next with a 69-276 and Bobby Mitchell was alone in fifth at 70-277.

Big Spring JVs Beaten, 36-0

Neil Vanderburg scored two touchdowns on one-yard runs to lead Permian High School's junior varsity to a 36-0 decision over the Big Spring junior varsity here Saturday.
Mark Fielden scored on a seven-yard quarterback sneak and Travis Howard also hit paydirt from one yard out. Jerry Burger booted two conversions and Fielden threw a conversion pass to Phillip Thames.
The Permian junior varsity now has an 8-1 record.

'We Won The Super Bowl'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington Coach George Allen says his Redskins won "the Super Bowl in RFK Stadium" Sunday by defeating the Dallas Cowboys 24-20.
Dallas Coach Tom Landry says the Redskins "got the first one. We can get the second one and win all those in between."
Despite the rhetoric, Washington's victory propels the Redskins atop the National Conference's Eastern Division race with a 5-1 record, second in the National Football League only to Miami's perfect 6-0 mark. Dallas slipped into a second-place tie with the New York Giants at 4-2.
"The Redskins stayed in there for 60 minutes and that's how you beat the world champions," Allen said. "It's a team victory. It looked like they were going to rug us out of the stadium."
Dallas dominated the game's first 20 minutes and built up a 13-0 lead on two short field goals by Tom Fritsch and a 39-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Craig Morton to wide receiver Ron Sellers.
But two things occurred that foretold of the Redskins' victory.

On the game's second play, Morton threw a perfect strike to running back Calvin Hill, who was five yards behind the Washington defenders.
"I dropped it," Hill said. "If I had caught that pass, we would have won. I dropped two, no, three passes. I was wondering if I could catch the ball anymore."
Then, on the TD pass, Morton stepped up into the pocket, found himself all alone, but spotted Sellers in the end zone.

Dolphins Remain Only Unbeaten NFL Team

By The Associated Press
The Washington Redskins won a big one. The Miami Dolphins won another one. The Philadelphia Eagles finally won one... and the New Orleans Saints didn't lose one.

"It was their sticking together as a team; just staying in there," said Coach George Allen of his Washington Redskins' 24-20 victory on Sunday over the Dallas Cowboys in the National Football League.

Charley Harroway ran 13 yards for the game-winning touchdown as the Redskins, now 5-1, took the lead in the National Conference East and the Cowboys dropped into the runner-up spot at 4-2.

The Dolphins remained the only undefeated team in pro football with a narrow 24-23 victory over the Buffalo Bills. It was Miami's first full game without a quarterback. Bob Griese, who led them to the Super Bowl a year ago. Griese was sidelined last week with a broken ankle.

BREAK STREAK
The Eagles broke their six-game losing streak with a bang—beating the Kansas City Chiefs 21-20 on quarterback Pete Liske's three touchdown passes.

And the Saints, also winless this fall, didn't win, but they did tie the heavily favored San Francisco 49ers 20-20. The Saints almost won it. Bruce Gossett's 36-yard field goal with three seconds left in the game salvaged the tie for the 49ers. New Orleans might have won anyway, but, leading 20-17, quarterback Archie Manning ran the ball on a fourth-and-sixth at the 49er 36—rather than try for a field goal—with 50 seconds to go.

In Sunday's other NFL action, the New York Jets won a wild one, beating Baltimore 24-20 and spoiling the debut of Colts' new head coach, John Browns beat the Houston Oilers 23-17; the Denver Broncos upset the Oakland Raiders 30-23; the Atlanta Falcons edged the Green Bay Packers 10-9; the New York Giants stung St. Louis' Cardinals 27-21; the Los Angeles Rams clipped the Cincinnati Bengals 15-12; the Detroit Lions lashed the San Diego Chargers 34-20 and the Pittsburgh Steelers crushed the New England Patriots 33-3.

In tonight's television game, the Minnesota Vikings are at the Chicago Bears.

Larry Brown ran 34 yards for one Washington touchdown and caught a 19-yard Sonny Jurgensen pass for still another. En route to the victory, Jurgensen joined football's exclusive "30,000 club." Only he, John Brodie and Johnny Unitas have passed for more than 30,000 yards in their pro careers.

BUFFS CAN SEE JAYHAWKS, STILL WATCH NFL CONTEST

This evening's "Meet the Jayhawks" program in the Howard County JC Gymnasium has been so timed that sports buffs can leave in time to catch the NFL Monday night telecast.

The college program will get under way at 6:45 p.m., when the doors of the gym will be opened to the fans.

The Jayhawk players new and old, will be introduced at 7 p.m., by Coach Harold Wilder.

At 7:15 p.m., warm up drills are scheduled. Wilder will offer brief explanations and demonstrations of the HC offense, defense and the press at 7:30 p.m. There'll be a team scrimmage at 7:45 p.m.

The fans will be served coffee, cookies and punch shortly before 8 o'clock, at the same time exchanging conversation with Jayhawk players and coaches.

Only admission price for the program will be a bar of soap.

Season tickets will be on sale at the box office. Schedule cards will be handed out and brochures have been prepared for distribution.

This is practically an all-new HCJC team (Herbert Lee is the only returning regular) and Wilder reasons the team, though green, may make a better showing than did last year's team.

This is a better balanced club, Wilder says, and offers a defeat. Periman is the only team remaining undefeated some outstanding scoring threats.

Texas, Mustangs Facing Rugged Tests This Week

By The Associated Press
Texas and Southern Methodist receive severe tests of their Southwest Conference co-leadership this Saturday en route to their Nov. 4 showdown in Austin that could decide the ultimate champion.

The Longhorns, seeking their fifth consecutive title under Coach Darrell Royal, put a 35-15 thumping on Arkansas Saturday night and sent the pre-season favorite Razorbacks back to Fayetteville in shock.

Texas quarterback Alan Lowry overcame eight 'Horn fumbles, including one of his own out of the Razorback end zone, to rally Texas from a 9-7 half-time deficit.

Arkansas fell apart in the second half crunch. Four times the Hogs only had 10 men on the field during Texas assault and quarterback Joe Ferguson was badly off form.

Coach Hayden Fry of SMU dialed Keith Bobo's number as his quarterback and the poised junior responded with three touchdown passes in a hard-earned 29-14 victory over Rice.

Texas travels to Houston to meet the Owls Saturday night while SMU hosts Texas Tech in a day game in the Cotton Bowl.

Tech has the best record in the league on the heels of a solid 35-10 mauling of Arizona. Tech, which has been getting excellent quarterbacking from Joe Barnes, is now 5-1.

In other games Saturday, Texas Christian kept its title hopes alive with a chilling 13-10

GONE! — New York Jet fans go wild as their team's Ed Bell gives an exuberant leap after scoring in the fourth quarter on a pass from QB Joe Namath. The touchdown gave the game to the Jets, 24-20.

SCORES AGAIN

Morris, who had run five yards for Miami's first touchdown, ran 15 yards for their last one—the one that made the difference against the Bills. It came shortly after Yepremian had booted the longest threepointer of his career, a 54-yarder.

Firemen, Clutch Hitting Paid Off For Athletics

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Oakland A's—World Champions. "It has a nice ring to it," said Dick Williams.

"The trophy belongs right here," the Oakland manager added while squeezing the gold bauble symbolic of a World Series winner.

The trophy belonged to the A's because of good relief pitching and clutch hitting—the combination that helped win four of the seven baseball games, including Sunday's 3-2 thriller.

Rollie Fingers came through with the pitching again and Gene Tenace delivered another clutch hit as the A's defeated the Reds in the final showdown.

"It's a beautiful thing," said Williams, pointing to the trophy in the champagne-drenched A's clubhouse.

NEW STATUS
Williams understandably was emotional about his new-found status in the baseball world. He had led the Boston Red Sox to a pennant in 1967, but lost the World Series to the St. Louis Cardinals. Two years later, he was fired.

He was able to take this trophy home to Oakland even though the A's weren't given much of a chance to win it. From the start, they were torn with dissension and labeled a patsy for the powerful National League champion Reds.

Pitcher Vida Blue and first baseman Mike Epstein were the most notable of the players disatisfied with their roles in the series. Blue verbally blasted his manager and owner Charles O. Finley because he wanted to be a starter, not a relief pitcher. Epstein had a shouting match with Williams after he was taken out of a game early for defensive purposes.

Williams, accused of over-managing, moved his men around as if he were playing chess. And, for the most part, he made the right moves.

Some questioned Williams' logic in using Tenace in the lineup in place of Dave Duncan, a catcher who had hit 19 home runs during the season. But Tenace, who only hit five out of the park this year, made his manager look like a genius when he hit two home runs in the first game for all the runs as the A's took a 3-2 decision. Blue, after sounding off the day before, came in to save the game for starter Ken Holtzman.

In the second game at Cincinnati, Fingers gave Jim "Catfish" Hunter ninth-inning help and Joe Rudi hit a home run and made an outstanding catch against the left field wall to preserve a 2-1 Oakland triumph.

POOR TREATMENT
The beleaguered Reds were treated with disdain in Oakland. At the A's ballpark, fans showered left fielder Pete Rose with eggs and oranges. At Oakland City Hall, a sign read: "Where's Cincinnati?"

The Oakland partisans found out soon enough. Or at least, they found out who Jack Billingham was. The journeyman pitcher, with only a 500 lifetime record in the majors, allowed but three hits and no runs in eight innings and won his first World Series game 1-0 over the A's. Clay Carroll, the Reds' best relief pitcher, saved the game for him.

After rain postponed the fourth game one day at Oakland, the A's took a 3-1 lead in the Series by beating the Reds 3-2 with a dramatic, two-run winning single in the ninth—as the Reds won the fifth game 5-4 and sent the Series back to Cincinnati. Tenace hit his fourth home run in that game to tie a Series record shared by four others, including Babe Ruth.

BACK IN GROOVE
Rose held in check the first four games, got back at the Oakland pitchers with two runs batted in—a first-pitch homer in the first inning and a game-

THEY WON IT ALL — It was a happy band of Oakland Athletics players after the final out in the final game of the World Series Sunday. The A's won four games to three, defeating Cincinnati 3-2 in the final game. Mike Hegan rushed in to join teammates Sal Bando, who jumped on catcher Dave Duncan, and relief hurler, Rollie Fingers.

Key Factor In Series May Have Been Tolan Injury

CINCINNATI (AP) — The over his outstretched glove was sinking," Tolan said, "but sight of Bobby Tolan limping Tolan tipped it, but the ball it wasn't. I just tipped it. It just slowly about the Cincinnati bouncer to the center-field took off."

Reds' clubhouse evoked bitter memories for a team pondering its defeat in baseball's World Series classic.

It was the loss of Tolan through an Achilles tendon injury that, in good part, transformed a 1970 National League championship team into an ordinary team in 1971.

Now, slumped aside by Oakland in the World Series Sunday, the Reds could look again at the injured Tolan as a key factor in their demise.

If there was a goat in the Series' seventh and deciding game, it was the swift center fielder who amazed baseball professionals this season with his apparently complete recovery from two Achilles tears—the one of the most damaging injuries in sports.

Tolan dashed in on Angel Mangual's line drive in the first inning, only to see the ball rise and bounce crazily past Denis Menke.

Tolan later strained a muscle in his left leg as he chased Sal Bando's run-scoring smash in the Oakland sixth. Crippled, Tolan left the game minutes later.

"The season's over gentle men, and I'm going to take a nice long vacation," Tolan said, "I'm tired. I need a rest. I've got nothing else to say."

Tolan circled the clubhouse, shaking the hands of his teammates and that of Reggie Jackson, the A's slugger who missed the entire Series with a crippling leg injury.

"I thought Mangual's fly ball Oakland)

"I feel it was my fault," Tolan said, sipping a cola. "I let the fans down, and I have no excuse."

Reds' Manager Sparky Anderson, who contended even when the Reds were down 3-1 in games that his team would prevail, granted Oakland the title of baseball's best team.

"We should have won the Series in six," he said, "but we blew a game over there (in Oakland).

Who will tell Rich Anderson how to vote?

Rich Anderson is the one man running for state representative in this district who knows the people in all the counties he's seeking to represent. He's spent 20 years working with these folks in business, church and community activities. During this period of time people who've gotten to know Rich have learned that he's a very honest man—and that he's very much a man of his word.

Check with people who know Rich in the new district: Howard, Dawson, Scurry, Borden, Coke and Sterling counties. They'll tell you there's not a way in the world Rich would let the big lobbies or special interest groups influence his vote. Or push him around. Rich Anderson is his own man. He's making just one campaign promise: to be a representative you'll be proud of.

Violent Death Toll In State Stands At 20

By The Associated Press

Texas experienced a relatively violence-free weekend through midnight Sunday, with a welcome paucity of motor vehicle fatalities responsible for the low violence figure.

Early today, the Associated Press' regular violence death count stood at 20, including 14 motor-vehicle deaths, five shooting deaths and one fatality from smoke inhalation.

The AP began its count at 7 a.m. Friday and included deaths that occurred before midnight Sunday.

CAR OVERTURNS

Samuel Chaffino, 45, was killed Sunday when his car was struck by a Missouri-Pacific switch engine at a railroad crossing in Houston.

Alice M. Walker, 52, of Mesquite was killed Sunday night as her car crossed an exit road on U.S. 80 near Mesquite.

Keith Snyder, 13, was killed Sunday while hunting with his brother in a field southwest of Tyler. A justice of the peace said the youth was accidentally shot by his brother as they were walking near Bellwood Lake.

Gary James Newcomb, 18, of Houston was killed Sunday when the car in which he was riding collided with another car on a Houston street.

A young couple from Waco died in Dallas early Sunday in a one-car accident on the Thornton Highway. Police identified the victims as Andrew Wallace, 24, and his wife Kathy, 23.

In Mesquite, a 44-year-old man, Roy Lee Ashley, died in a hospital of injuries he suffered when he was struck by a car at De Soto.

In Houston, a woman was shot to death and a man was wounded early Sunday. Police said the dead woman was Mary Pearl Dendy. Her husband was identified as C. L. Denby. Police said the shooting incident followed an argument.

In Midland, custody were held in a man in police were connected with the shooting death of Ann Moore. Police said that Mrs. Moore, whose age was not given, was found shot to death in a lounge she owned.

In Houston two persons died of gun wounds Saturday. Police said that a 19-year-old youth, identified as Lindsey D. Palmer, was killed by police officers during an exchange of gunfire.

Charlie L. Anderson Jr., was found shot to death outside a Houston residence. Police quoted a woman as saying she fired a pistol through a window when she thought someone was breaking into her house.

CASE REFERRED

Officers said the case will be referred to a grand jury.

In Victoria, three-year-old Mark Resendez was killed when he was struck by a car. Police said the auto did not stop.

IS IT RAINING ALL OVER THE WORLD? — Horses in a corral located close to Big Spring stand around looking for a dry place after heavy rains had hit the area for three days ending Saturday evening. Needless to say, the animals aren't used to this sort of underfooting. Rains in some parts of the country totaled more than four inches for the period.

Young Exhibitors In Area Score Heavily At Fair

The 4-H youths in this area bagged a number of honors at the State Fair in Dallas in the junior livestock show, winning way more than their share of the honors.

Top honor in the area in the calf show was the reserve champion polled Hereford, a 915-pound steer owned by Gary Webb, Ackerly and the Martin County 4-H Club, which was purchased by Frito-Lay for 75 cents a pound.

Howard County, fresh from its own barrow show, took most of their honors in this division. Guy James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ovis James topped the cross-bred and Joe Gaskins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gaskins, the Duroc division. Reserve champions were shown by Cindy Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Shaw, Danny Peugh (Hampshire), son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Peugh and Danna Westbrook, (Poland China), son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Westbrook.

Jack Estes, Dawson County had the champion Duroc. Other winners in the fair in this area included in barrows Chester White, heavy — Guy James, Howard County second and Carl Griffin, Dawson County seventh, in Chester White, Class 8 — Shara Gay Airhart, Dawson County, second, and Danny Johnson, Howard County, ninth.

Crossbred, Class 36 — J. C. Tunnell, Martin County was second, and Elonna Airhart, Martin County, fifth.

Crossbred — Class 37, Brent Nichols, Howard County, was fourth, and Summer Shaw, Class 38 fourth.

Duroc Class 11, — Kenneth Smith, Howard County, placed first, Brad Tunnell, Martin County, fourth, and Sam Jones, Flower Grove FFA, eighth.

Duroc in Class 12, Cindy Shaw, Howard County was first, Judith Yates, Martin County, second, Jody Yates, Martin County, fifth, and J. C. Tunnell, Martin County, sixth.

Duroc — In class 13 Van Gaskins was the winner followed by Brent Nichols with both a second and fifth, and Summer Shaw placed tenth.

Hampshires — Jack Estes of Klondike FFA, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Estes, Lamesa, showed the Hampshire champion. Danny Peugh showed the reserve champ.

Hempshire — Class 16, Jody Yates and Randy Holcomb, Martin County were eighth and tenth. Hempshire — Class 18 Estes placed first, and Patty Peugh of Howard County, fourth.

Poland China Class 21 — Randy Holcomb, Martin County was seventh. Spots, Class 27 —

Cari Griffin, Dawson County, placed second and Richard Taber of O'Donnell FFA, 10th.

In the junior steer show, under Angus, Clay Holcomb, Martin County, placed seventh in heavyweight, and Tana Yates, Martin County, second in medium weights.

Herefords — Daria Holcomb, Martin County placed ninth in heavyweight division and Kirk Stubblefield, Mitchell County 4-H, was 10th in mediumweight. Gary Don Harkey, also of Mitchell County, was seventh in lightweights.

Polled Hereford — Gary Webb was second in mediumweight and also reserve champion.

Shorthorn — Rosalind Welch, Martin County 4-H, was second and Zane Wade, Dawson County, fifth.

Short horn in lightweight — Kenny + McKere, Mitchell County, tenth.

Crossbred heavyweight — Gary Hanson, Martin County, seventh; medium weight, Leslie Welch, Martin County, third and lightweight, Elonna Airhart, Martin County, ninth.

The 1973 Volkswagen is still $1999.*

A bargain is a bargain.

While you can see the new 1973 Beetle is still at a nice low price, you really can't begin to see the value until you know what you're getting for your money.

A warranty, for instance, that's twice what you get with any other small car: 24 months or 24,000 miles.

But then, we wouldn't be offering it if it weren't for our incredibly finicky factory inspection: over 1100 inspectors poring over more than 5,000 parts. (It sounds compulsive, but it's the best way to reach perfection.)

And now, there's our new VW Computer Diagnosis system. Meaning literally what it says: a brand new computer that's been installed, or soon will be, in our service area ready to be hooked up to your car. The most advanced service system in the world, it checks vital service parts, via sensors and probes built into critical areas, and spells the results out in plain English.

People should have it so good.

Consider also our legendary resale value. When you compare it with other cars after three years, it makes our $1999* sound absolutely amazing.†

Everything adding up to one important point: there's a big difference between being cheap, and being a bargain.

Few things in life work as well as a Volkswagen.

More Research Needed

Weather experts met in Oklahoma City this week to discuss the relatively new science of weather modification and its application to rain-starved areas of the Southwest. The common theme which ran through the meeting was a call to greater action, particularly from the federal government, to spur development and use of the various techniques.

Experiments have been and are being conducted in many areas, including Texas, into the practicality of weather modification. The trouble is, however, that the science remains imprecise. While much knowledge has been gained, much more needs to be learned before modification can become any sort of dependable source of water.

Experimentation and study should continue, as Oklahoma Gov. David Hall urged at the conference, and the government should participate fully. But there are other considerations which must be given as much attention.

There is the whole legal tangle involving possible damages from too much rainfall; who would be liable, and how can "blame" be assessed?

The scientific evaluation of many experiments needs to be pressed, not only on the ability to produce rain or additional rain, but when to let nature take its course in producing moisture. The effect of cloud seeding one area as opposed to others needs to be defined.

Weather modification offers exciting and great possibilities, for it may be nature's way of transporting water that otherwise might have to be brought in mechanically at fantastic expense. But a lot of gray areas need to be cleared, both on the scientific and legal fronts.

Unexpected Help

Help for the United States is coming in the United Nations from an unusual source — Red China.

The Peking government has announced it will voluntarily increase its share of the U.N. budget to 7 per cent from the present 4 per cent over the next five years. The United States presently shoulders 31.52 per cent of the budget, and wants to trim its share to 25 per cent; China's willingness to up its ante helps the American case.

Our case for cutting our U.N. budgetary commitment is a sound one. The present assessment is outdated; other nations have greatly improved their economies since the United Nations was organized and can thus now afford to pay higher dues. But our allies have not rushed to increase their levies in response to our plea; it is ironic that the Red Chinese are the first to recognize new responsibilities.

With the expected admission of East and West Germany to U.N. membership next year, the Red Chinese increase should clear the way for a reduction of our cost. The reduction could even be greater, and no less justified, if other nations would voluntarily review their own responsibilities as Peking has done.

Turn Out Light

One thing and another: I wouldn't say he didn't have any contrition in his soul but I once knew a fellow who was deaf and never did tell his barber.

I UNDERSTAND the last American soldier who'll leave Vietnam has specific instructions: He's to turn out the light at the end of the tunnel. There is an enormous difference, I think you'll agree, between the girl with the hour-glass figure and the one who looks like an alarm clock.

I WAS telling my No. Two daughter the other day I didn't think I could pass a typical eighth grade test, without thorough briefing from a Ph. D. in Mathematics. In this enlightened age, the flower of our youth must pass more tests to get into college than his sire did to graduate.

SOMEONE SAID recently it's easy watching the years rush by, with barely a 'hello' and a 'good-bye,' is that you find you no longer want what you thought you had to have as a youngster.

I've got to remember to listen to Sen. Tower more often, when he preaches we've got it better under the present administration. I get so downhearted, at times. But then I've always been suspicious of a man whose leader is a better poker player than he is.

INCIDENTALLY, at those $25 a plate dinners the political parties have, like the one staged for Barry Goldwater in Midland the other night, are the waiters tipped $3.75? That figures out to the customary 15 per cent.

Appearances can be deceptive. The early bird may get the worm, true, but again he may simply have been up all night.

My idea of the successful, contented man is one who can convince his wife she'd look fat in a fur coat. He can also tell you to go to Hell so persuasively, you'd actually look forward to the trip.

I'VE OFTEN been told I descend either from birds or monkeys. I've tried hard, but I've never been able to grow a feather.

If you are resigned to the fact that you are living among fools, try taking tranquilizers. If for no other reason than you'll find yourself being nice to people you don't like.

THE MOST gratifying thing about watching the years rush by, with barely a 'hello' and a 'good-bye,' is that you find you no longer want what you thought you had to have as a youngster.

This very bright tadpole down the block debated with his maternal parent about the wisdom of going to school. "Mother," he demurred, "why don't you just teach me? You know everything."

Spending Program

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — With billions of dollars of expenditures at stake, it is amazing to see the indifference in some quarters here to the failure of Congress and the President to work together and assure the American people that their funds will be spent with the utmost care to achieve the worthy purposes for which the legislation is designed.

THE MERE EFFORT to hold down the amount of money that shall be expended reflects a fear that the total will put a strain on the treasury, add to inflationary pressures and result in higher taxes.

The attempt by many members of Congress to give the President power to cut back spending by the government was defeated. It had a very good objective — to discourage the trend in Congress to establish programs which could become more and more expensive as they went into effect. But, as it turned out, no limitation was allowed, and President Nixon's veto of a bill which calls for a substantial addition to the budget was overridden.

MANY PIECES of legislation have been enacted in numerous fields for which money has been appropriated by Congress, and it will be difficult for the President to exercise a restraining influence on the tendency to increase the spending from year to year.

Fortunately, the United States has a good position among the nations of the world from a financial standpoint, and the fact that it has big deficits in its annual budgets has not hurt its financial reputation. The battle against inflation has been carried on successfully through a policy of restricting rises in prices and wages. Federal taxes have not been raised, but the outlook is that this will have to be done if spending is not held down and deficits grow larger and larger. Then the voters will make their opposition known.

THE PROBLEM of handling governmental funds — whether Congress shall continue to appropriate as much as it wishes or whether the President shall have power to cut back on the spending — is one that has not been settled. Certainly if taxes have to be increased, the administration will be criticized, and it can only point to the unlimited sums which Congress has been appropriating for the projects it authorizes. The federal government has not been subjected to the control which would be forthcoming in a big business operation — it would not keep on adding to the spending year after year more than is taken in.

PRESIDENT NIXON is not happy over the treatment he has been given by Congress and probably will have something to say about it during the remaining weeks of the campaign. For it is obvious that he hasn't had the co-operation of the house and senate in trying to put a ceiling on the total of federal expenditures.

One of the chief reasons why the President's wishes have been disregarded is that the country is not thoroughly informed about the importance of keeping the spending within certain limits. The government should educate the citizens on why there are deficits.

THE FINANCING of government is not an easy subject to explain to the public, but it is an important one. The executive branch has the primary responsibility for maintaining a sound position in fiscal matters. Hence, if the chief executive proposes a ceiling on expenditures, there should be an explanation of why such action is needed and the risks involved in not imposing it.

Best Month Of Year

Hal Boyle

A Tribute to October: The Very Best Month of the Year

Editor's Note: Hal Boyle is sometimes asked by readers which of the more than 7,000 columns he has written is his own favorite. Here it is, reprinted from his recent book, "Help, Help! Another Day!"

NEW YORK (AP) — If the Lord whispered in your secret heart that you had but one month to live and let you pick that month, which would you choose? I'd say October.

The birds love it, the beasts love it, and man himself then stands upon the summit of the year.

October is all the other seasons wrapped into a 31-day grab-bag package, tied with a rainbow ribbon. It is the period when Mother Nature, the great dramatist, brings her traveling road show to a climax.

This is the month that, like a cider press, squeezes out the best juices of all the other months—the promise of spring, the sultry days of summer, the aftermath of autumn, the premonitory chill of winter. Everything that walks the earth feels an amber thrill, a tremendous effort that sings in the pulse.

Now is the glory of the universe manifest, and in the mighty pages of the hills each patch of woods elects its own tree beauty queen. You like the dogwood? We don't quarrel. I'll take the maple, that yellow torch.

It is as if everyone suddenly had been given magic color glasses. The stars bend nearer. And that big blob of moon—a child feels it is so close he could reach up with a knife and spread it on his bread like butter.

The stag stamps on the hill-top and lifts an amorous bugle to the night.

The squirrel, bright-eyed and bushy-tailed, becomes an annual miser. The bear invests his excess profits in fat, planning to live off this stored capital until he emerges from his hibernation next spring, cross and bankrupt.

The wind at night now had become a violin, playing a love song for the young, a last tune of youth for the old. Do you stay awake to hear it? You'd better! He only plays a little while, this wandering fiddler in the dark.

October wears a crown and makes every man a king. It bears the harvest superiority of the rounded apple over the petaled flower, the advantage of fruition and achievement over pale promises. April is the fledgling politician of the year, saying, "Stock with me, and we'll go places." October is the mature statesman holding out the golden reward.

Everyone knows when October is here. The air feels like a raise in salary.

The boss smilith, the workman giveth a full day's—I mean day's—toil and cometh home at eventful to a cheerful wife. She forgetteth to find fault.

Yes, it's a grand time—too late for hay fever, too early for pneumonia. It's a flood in the blood, a high tide measured by the turning sun. There's no tax on it, so spend it while you have it. No October lasts forever, and there is no real guarantee it will ever come again.

Split Decisions

News stories about split decisions by the United States Supreme Court must surely bewilder many a reader. What the majority confidently asserts in Paragraph One, dissenters just as confidently deny in Paragraph Two.

WHAT SHALL the ordinary citizen make of all this? If even the experts cannot agree on what the law is, how can plain folk be expected to know? Of course, the law is what the majority opinion says it is. A dissenting opinion has no legal force.

IN FACT, in many countries, dissenting opinions are simply not allowed. Once a majority decision is reached, dissenters are expected to keep their views to themselves.

But on our Supreme Court, public dissent has a long and respectable history. It has been a regular feature of the Court ever since 1806, when a holdout justice voiced his disagreement with Chief Justice John Marshall.

ONE GREAT virtue of this right of dissent ("the only thing that makes life tolerable," said Justice William O. Douglas) is that it may help shape the law of the future. Major changes in the law, including even amendments to the Constitution, have had roots in earlier dissenting opinions from the Court.

Still, dissent, if overdone, can needlessly weaken both public understanding and public acceptance of a Court ruling. At least, say critics, a judge should not dissent merely because of minor disagreement or personal pride.

STATISTICS DO show that relatively few of the dissenting opinions—even those of Oliver Wendell Holmes, the "Great Dissenter"—have ever become the law of the land.

Is it surprising that dissent occurs so often? Not when one considers the kind of questions the Court must answer. Almost always, they are questions on which even the wisest and fairest of men may differ. The easy ones just never reach the Court at all.

Subway Rated As The Noisiest Train

NEW YORK (AP) — The noisiest subway stations in the world are on Manhattan's west side where the "A" trains run express at high speed between 59th and 125th streets, according to a noise surveyor.

"It sounds something like a tornado going directly overhead when you're in a storm cellar," said Martin F. Huss, a transportation engineer at Huss, a transportation engineer at Brooklyn's Polytechnic Institute.

Huss said, "The very best system in terms of low noise would appear to be Montreal's, which runs on rubber wheels."

Missionary House Is Edged By Zoo

HONOLULU (AP) — Newly compiled figures show the Honolulu Zoo continued as the most popular attraction among Hawaii's parks and museums in 1972, drawing 1,107,000 visitors in the first six months.

The least popular attraction was the Waioli House, a restored missionary residence on Kauai Island, which only 426 persons visited.

Seeking Markets Abroad

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Seeking to spread the risk and thus reduce losses or add to profits, the American insurance industry is going abroad in quest of markets.

U.S. insurers already are licensed in 150 countries. They operate 360 overseas offices and employ about 10,000 foreign nationals selling mainly fire, marine, accident and automobile insurance. But this may be only the beginning.

One company, Sentry Insurance, based in Stevens Point, Wis., had no overseas business as recently as 1968. Now it estimates that 10 to 15 per cent of volume is from abroad and expects the figure to grow to 25 per cent in two or three years.

"It's been a long time in coming," said John Joanis, chairman and chief executive, "but I think the industry is finally realizing there are some very fertile markets beyond our domestic borders. The markets that Joanis sees are not only in the likely areas, such as England, Western Europe, Australia and Japan. He sees the day not distant when American insurers will be active in China, India and the Soviet Union.

Ideological differences, he believes, won't prevent the spread. Instead, the need for insurance will assure its acceptance, he said. Inevitably he feels, free enterprise will work its way in. "Creeping capitalism," he termed it.

INA has been abroad for many years. Continental Insurance and Chubb & Son also have an overseas tradition. And to a lesser degree, so do Travelers and Aetna.

But, said Joanis, "Much of the industry is not as alert to the possibilities as it should

The advantage to the American companies is not solely one of volume. Sentry and others believe that a company with foreign markets is a more efficient, more stable enterprise because it is better protected from cycles.

Cycles have nagged the insurance industry for so many years that they are considered an unavoidable malady. "The industry is always running up and down hill," Joanis said.

He explained: This business prices its product and later determines its costs. Sometimes it sets a price and then finds out it costs a lot more to provide the service.

When you have a good year, he said, you tend to over-react in competing by price. You lower your figures; then you have inflation. As a result, you must attempt to regain your losses by raising prices again.

Change Designation On Daughter's Birth

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (AP) — A baby girl with a European father and a Maori mother has achieved fame by being formally registered as a half-caste European.

Deidre Hemingway's Maori grandfather, Tom Waiwai, insisted on the move because he said, he was "fed-up with the term half-cast Maori."

Said Waiwai: "Whenever anyone with mixed blood does anything wrong he's always described as being part-Maori."

Of People, By People

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Shelby Street Federal Savings and Loan opened a new Eastside office recently with a new twist. There were no speeches and not a city, county or state official or political office holder in sight. Instead, the ribbon cutting was handled by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Denges, long-time customers who live in the area.

My Answer

Billy Graham

I heard you say that there is no sin in sex. If so, what is all the discussion about the new morality? M.W.

The "sex freedom" now practiced by many is not new. Other civilizations experimented with it, and if you read history you will find that unrestrained freedom of sexual activity leads to serious and tragic problems in society. The gift of sex, like other God-given gifts entails terrific responsibility. When I said,

"There is no sin in sex," I meant when it is practiced in the environment of holy matrimony.

If as I have, you had counseled hundreds of people whose lives have become a wasteland of confusion because of the wrong use of sex, if you had talked to scores of unwed mothers, and had shared the ghastly secrets of many who had ignored the seventh commandment, you would know that the commandment, "Thou shalt not commit immorality," makes a lot of sense.

A Devotion For Today..

Jesus said to his disciples, "If anyone wants to go with me, he must disregard himself and take his cross and follow me." (Matthew 16:24, Goodspeed translation)

PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, we come to Thee to confess our sins, even the one of neglecting the symbol of our faith. May we look back to the two crossed lines, disregard ourselves, and follow Thee in service to our fellowmen. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

A VETERAN is a man who loves his country - without reservation.
A VETERAN is a man who is willing to lay down his life to uphold the freedoms of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.
A VETERAN is a man proud of his flag. He will fight to his death to protect the country for which it stands from those who would dare to dishonor it.
A VETERAN is a man who cherishes his freedom, passionately serves his country, honorably and supports her willingly.
A VETERAN is a man well-deserving of our appreciation, our love and our prayers, 365 days a year.
A TIME TO HONOR
Those who have served our country in its greatest time of need, without reservation; honorably and willingly - those who have faced death in foreign places and returned to the country they valiantly protected - the freedoms of life, liberty and pursuit of happiness. It is these men we honor today.

LIVING COSTS DISCUSSED — Marina Whitman, of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, discusses consumer prices Friday at a Washington news conference. The cost of living, led by higher prices for clothing, accelerated in September and pushed the rate of inflation to 3.5 per cent since President Nixon's Phase 2 price controls began.

SEXUAL PROBLEMS II: SEX COUNSELING HANDICAPS MINISTERS

'Where There Are Serious Sexual Problems, There Is Ego Damage'

Editor's Note: This is the second of two articles discussing the effectiveness of counseling where marriages have broken down due to poor sexual relationships.

By VICTORIA BILLINGS
Copley News Service

Ministers also have handicaps to overcome in sexual counseling.

"The church doesn't think sex is a good thing, so people hesitate to take their questions and problems to ministers," says the Rev. James R. Seipel of St. Cross Episcopal Church, Hermosa Beach, Calif. "It's too bad we've made it look that way."

"People who come in for marital counseling usually aren't fulfilled sexually as they would like to be," says the Rev. James Slay Jr. of First United Methodist Church, Redondo Beach, Calif.

"I think Dr. William Masters and Mrs. Virginia Johnson (pioneers in the field of sexual research) have made counseling for six years. She and I haven't read any of their books. I talk about sex as a symptom of other problems in a relationship."

Other counselors are taking a more direct approach. They acknowledge that sex is part of a relationship with communication as an important element. But, they prefer to focus on the sexual problems.

"When someone comes in with a sexual problem, you start there if that's where they're at," says Dr. Robert Bragonier, an obstetrician and gynecologist.

"We start with sex because people are so frustrated and impatient. They want quick therapy," says Dr. Mary Jane Hungerford, a psychologist who has been involved in sexual therapy with couples plus four other pairs of counselors, work with couples individually and in groups answering questions, dispelling misconceptions and discussing problems.

"If a wife thinks a husband only touches her when he wants sex and he feels rejected when she says, 'no,' I try to help her to refuse gracefully. I get him to show her in other ways that he loves her."

"Sometimes people have gone as far as they can in therapy. Most who come to us have tried everything else and read all the books," says Marilyn Fithian, co-director of the Center for Marital and Sexual Studies, Long Beach, Calif.

Occasionally couples have difficulty resolving their problems, and Mrs. Fithian and her co-director work past the two-week therapy period.

"It's hard to measure success in this field," Mrs. Fithian says. "It isn't always what you expect."

"One couple was on the verge of divorce when they came. When they left the wife was so happy about the improved intimacy in the relationship she wanted to stay with her husband," Mrs. Fithian recalls.

"In another case, a man solved his problem and the couple left satisfied with their sexual relationship. But on the flight home, his wife asked him for a divorce."

Mrs. Fithian says many couples with sexual problems don't need extensive therapy. They need information they can use at home to help their relationship.

"Some women think if they respond to sex it benefits the man," the counselor says. "They're cutting off their nose to spite their face. Sometimes, after years of premarital training to control herself, it's hard for a woman to give herself permission to enjoy sex."

"People also need to touch more. In our society we learn that to touch each other you have to be flat on your backs," Mrs. Fithian notes. "The first week here couples are told to caress each other without having sex."

"When there is more warmth, intercourse is more frequent. Once couples get in touch, they seem to do fine."

Washington PTA Annual Carnival

The annual fall carnival at Washington Elementary School will be between 9:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Saturday. Chili pie and hot dogs will be served, and the carnival will feature games and prizes for the youngsters. The event is sponsored by the school's Parent-Teacher Association.

Fish In Sky?

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been seeing a doctor about my nerves, and I guess you could say I have developed a crush on him.

Abby, he is the kindest most understanding man I have ever known. Just being near him gives me such a calm feeling, I hate to leave his office. We are about the same age (50) and he is married, too. He knows my marriage is a shambles because that is part of my problem and I've discussed it frankly with him.

He advised me to spend a weekend at a resort motel with a pool and get away from the pressures of home for a few days. Do you think he was hinting that he would like to meet me there? He said, "Doctors have pressures, too, you know."

When I told him I felt unappreciated and unattractive, he patted my hand and assured me that I was a very attractive woman that ANY man could appreciate. Could he have meant that HE could appreciate ME?

When I told him my sex life was dull and unfulfilling he said I should be more aggressive, and not wait to be pursued. Was he trying to encourage me subtly?

Should I tell him how I feel about him? I have a hunch he has a special interest in me, but I don't want to make a complete idiot of myself.

DREAMING OF DOC
DEAR DREAMING: It's highly unlikely that your doctor has more than a professional interest in you. Many women get crushes on their doctors. It's a combination of gratitude, admiration and hero-worship, but it's only temporary, so if I were you, I wouldn't tell him how I feel about him. Follow his advice, but don't take it personally, dear.

DEAR ABBY: When will people become more considerate of elderly baby sitters? Right now my widowed mother-in-law, whose income is from Social Security and baby-sitting, is sick in bed with the flu which she picked up sitting with a sick child.

I think it's unfair to call a sitter to sit with a sick child unless you at least warn the sitter that she is exposing herself to an illness.

This has happened to my mother-in-law before, but she says that once she gets there she is committed and she wouldn't think of refusing to sit. I think the sitting fee should be doubled for sitting with a sick child (that's only $1.50 an hour), then maybe parents would think twice about spreading their children's diseases. Or better yet, they'd stay home, where parents should be when their children are sick.

CONCERNED
DEAR CONCERNED: I agree, sitters (elderly and otherwise) should be warned that the child is sick, but I doubt if doubling the fee would be an inducement to risk exposure to an illness.

Fruit Cake Correction

Several ingredients were omitted from the recipe for Lemon Fruit Cake which appeared in Thursday's Herald. The complete recipe follows.

- LEMON FRUIT CAKE
- 1 lb. butter
 - 2 cups sugar
 - 1 cup white raisins
 - 4 cups flour
 - 6 eggs
 - 1 oz. bottle lemon extract
 - 1 tsp. baking powder
 - 1 lb. pecans, chopped
 - 1/2 lb. candied cherries, cut up
 - 1/2 lb. candied pineapple, cut up

Use part of flour to coat pecans, cherries and pineapple. This keeps them from sinking to the bottom of cake. Cream sugar and butter. Add eggs, flour and baking powder, and mix well. Add and mix remaining ingredients. Stir well and place in three loaf pans lined with wax paper. Bake at 250 degrees for about 2 1/2 hours. Put a pan of water under the cake for the last hour of baking time to maintain moisture in the fruitcake.

Plumper Cushions

In covering foam rubber cushions, cut the fabric so that the cover will be slightly smaller than the cushion itself. The cushion looks better and will stay plump and uncrinkled much longer.

Don't Let Fire Hurt 'Goblins'

COLLEGE STATION — To a child, a Halloween costume is a ball of fun — but it shouldn't turn into a ball of fire.

Roxanne Schnorr, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A&M University, reminded parents that while "trick or treating," children can be exposed to many direct sources of fire which could easily ignite a costume coverup.

Litged pumpkins, colorful candles and open fires for roasting wieners or toasting marshmallows are examples of this hazard.

"Since most costumes are made for temporary use, inexpensive and often highly flammable materials are used in their construction," she explained. "Because of this, the parent should read all labels on the box and garment before selecting a costume with a child."

The fabric's flame resistance should be described in the labels — the safest stating the material meets the Department of Commerce Standards for flammability safety.

Philatheans Hold Dinner Meeting

Pyracantha greenery, with orange and red berries, was used to decorate tables for a dinner meeting held Thursday evening by Philathea Sunday school class of First United Methodist Church. The main centerpiece was a pumpkin.

Mrs. Cass Hill presided, and the invocation was by Mrs. Floyd R. Martin. Mrs. Hugh Duncan spoke on the topic, "This is Our Life," concluding her talk by reading a poem, "A Day at a Time."

Mrs. Paul Darrow introduced members having birthdays in October. Miss Kathy Groves, granddaughter of Mrs. Everett Hood, was a guest.

Hostesses were Mrs. Hood, Mrs. R. D. McMillan, Mrs. Paul Carroll, Mrs. C. M. Weaver, Mrs. Herbert Smith, Mrs. Bill McIlvain, Mrs. W. U. O'Neal and Mrs. W. E. Singleton.

PEP SQUAD TO HOLD REUNION

The Pep Squad of Big Spring High School for years 1935, 1936 and 1937 will hold a reunion and Dutch luncheon at 12:30 p.m., Nov. 12, at Holiday Inn. Anyone who was in the Pep Squad during these years and has not been contacted call either Mrs. A. J. Prager, 283-7701, or Mrs. Travis Carlton, 263-2444. Mrs. Lillian Shick Dawson was the sponsor during those years.
