Hanoi Signal Is Awaited

Economy Is On Upswing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government index of leading economic indicators rose again in September, pointing to a continued expansion of the nation's economy, the Commerce Department said today.

The Department also reported that the August increase in the index, originally put at 2.2 per cent, was revised upward to 2.6 per cent, making it the largest monthly percentage increase in more than a decade.

The September advance was 0.4 per cent. But the significance of the smaller increase is debatable. Many economists believe that the index presages ups and downs in the economy rather than measures its strength.

Five of the eight indicators available for September rose.

Rising were indicators for the average work-week, new orders for durable goods, contracts and orders for equipment, building permits and the prices of industrial materials.

But there were declines in indicators for claims for employment insurance — which actually showed an increase and thus an unfavorable movement — and stock prices and the ratio of prices to labor costs.

Absentee Vote Total Mounts To 263

The County clerk's office had counted 263 absentee voters this morning — 73 more than Thursday. Of these, 157 voted in the office, and 106 ballots have been returned through the mail. Mrs. Margaret Ray, chief deputy county clerk, reported 552 ballots mailed out altogether.

Chamber Critical Of 8 Amendments

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — A West Texas Chamber of Commerce study task force and committee has recommended defeat of eight proposed constitutional amendments on the Nov. 7 election ballot.

The Constitutional Amendments Study Task Force and State Affairs Committee recommended approval of five amendments and made no recommendation on another.

Opposition was recommended to telling the Legislature to write a new state constitution for submission to the voters; granting property tax exemptions for disabled veterans and families of servicemen killed on active duty, as well as persons over 65; the so-called "women's rights" amendment; four-year terms for statewide elected officials; enabling special legislative session to propose constitutional amendments; exempting state employees from the ban on dual office-holding; and allowing expenditure of funds from county permanent school funds.

Peron's Return Is Given Green Light

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Argentina's military government announced Thursday night it had authorized the Italian airline Alitalia to fly exiled ex-President Juan D. Peron back to Argentina from Spain on Nov. 17.

Peron's strong party organization in Buenos Aires had declared it would reveal the date for Peron's return at a party convention Nov. 6. The government announcement appeared to be another move to force the 77-year-old leader to declare for good whether he will return to the Argentine political scene as predicted by his followers.

Saigon, Cong Are Relegated To Sidelines

By The Associated Press

The horse trading that hammered out Vietnam peace terms leaves little doubt that the original combatants, the Saigon government and the Viet Cong, were much the junior partners in the end.

In the course of the bargaining both sides evidently made important concessions. But the bargaining was done by representatives of the United States and North Vietnam. The pronouncements were made by them, while the Saigon regime and the Viet Cong's "Provisional Revolutionary Government" waited on the sidelines.

The Vietnam war began as a contest between a guerrilla movement dominated by Communists and a Saigon regime consolidating its hold after the 1954 ouster of France and the Geneva settlement. The guerrillas were aided by the North but for years there was no overt infiltration of northern troops. The South was assisted by the Americans, but for years only a handful of U.S. advisers was on the scene.

Now, after many years of bloodletting, the Americans and North Vietnamese emerge at peace negotiations as the main antagonists, while the others just look on.

The Americans' partner, represented by President Nguyen Van Thieu, seemed to be dragged kicking and screaming in the direction of compromise.

There is no public indication yet of how Hanoi's junior partner is taking it all. But the Viet Cong's subordinate role was indicated, for example, in the issuance of instructions from North Vietnam on when and how to expect the cease-fire.

President Nixon's chief negotiator, Henry A. Kissinger, noted that one point at issue has been whether the United States would sign the agreement for South Vietnam. He conceded that it was "understandable" that the South Vietnamese might want to sign their own peace treaty.

The Americans and North Vietnamese came a long way, even from where they were less than a year ago. Then the Americans said they would within six months of an agreement. Now period for total withdrawal is down to 60 days.

The North Vietnamese had withdrawal of all men and materiel and dismantlement of all bases. Nothing is said about materiel and bases in the terms broadcast by Hanoi. The Viet Cong is unlikely to welcome the idea of all that hardware remaining in the hands of South Vietnam's million-man army and police forces.

Since the beginning of peace talks in Paris, Hanoi had demanded that President Thieu be dumped. It repeated this demand as recently as Sept. 27 in an article in Hoc Tap, the official party magazine. That article called for an interim regime to arrange elections.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States waited today for a direct signal from Hanoi to open the last round of secret talks that Henry A. Kissinger promises could bring peace to Vietnam "in a matter of weeks, or less."

The presidential adviser, saying "peace is at hand... an agreement is within sight," told newsmen Thursday that "what remains to be done can be settled in one more negotiating session... lasting, I would think, no more than three or four days."

But in Saigon, South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu raised questions today about just how near at hand peace might be in Indochina. And North Vietnam also cast doubts on a quick settlement.

TO SET TIME

Kissinger said the North Vietnamese were asked last Sunday to set the time and place for settling the ambiguities that arose in the push to meet a Hanoi-requested rush timetable.

North Vietnam said today, however, it had rejected prolonging of the negotiations and Washington must bear "full responsibility for the fact that the already complete peace agreement has not been signed and the war is dragging on in Vietnam."

The statement came in the form of an editorial in the official newspaper Nhan Dan, but it did not mention Kissinger, and it was not immediately clear whether it was a response to his comments.

In his first public reaction to the Kissinger announcement, Thieu told a crowd of supporters at the presidential palace in Saigon that peace will come to his war-torn country "when I sign the agreement."

"Any agreements between the United States and the North Vietnamese is their affair," Thieu told some 1,000 city and provincial councilmen and National Assembly deputies.

"We don't know exactly what agreements have been reached. But one thing is true. We do not agree on anything yet. In this case, the only cease-fire that will take place will comply with our stands. I will present the agreement to you, and I will not sign any agreement in secret."

Murder-By-Mail Bombs Traced To American

TEL AVIV (AP) — A 22-year-old American tourist has been arrested for investigation in connection with the murder-by-mail bombs addressed to President Nixon, Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird, the state radio reported today.

The broadcast identified the suspect as Dennis Feinstein and said he came to Israel as a visitor several weeks ago.

Police gave no immediate details of the case.

Israeli explosives experts on Wednesday defused three deadly envelopes addressed to Nixon, Laird and Rogers after they were found in a post office in the Israeli frontier town of Qiryat Shemona near the Lebanese border.

Feinstein was ordered jailed for 15 days by a magistrates court in Safed. He told the court he had nothing to do with the letter-bombs, packed in ordinary blue air-mail envelopes and addressed to Washington.

Police told the court the American was picked up by an Israeli soldier in the Lebanese frontier zone "in suspicious circumstances."

The chief spokesman at Israel's national police headquarters said police were making public no details of the case. He declined to give the suspect's home address in the United States.

In Stockton, Calif., Mrs. George Feinstein identified Dennis Feinstein as the son of her brother-in-law, Mayer, of Stockton, and said that he had gone to Israel about a week and a half ago.

"I don't understand a thing about this," Dennis' father said when contacted by telephone. "I don't hardly believe it. I'd rather not comment on anything at all now."

Mrs. Feinstein said her nephew was born in Stockton and graduated from Lincoln High School there. He attended Delta College, a two-year school, briefly and then went into the Navy. He got out of the Navy about a year ago and had been doing odd jobs since then, she said.

Most Texas Areas Clear Following Heavy Rains

By The Associated Press

Rains which drenched much of North Central and East Texas moved out of state toward the east today except for a little drizzle here and there.

In their wake dense fog blanketed areas from the Panhandle-Plains sector eastward and southward to around Dallas, dropping visibility close to zero in places around Abilene and San Angelo and often to no more than 100 to 300 feet over much of the countryside above the Caprock.

Official weather observers cautioned motorists to drive with caution in the fog belt. They said the hazard should disappear after a few hours.

Rainfall up to nearly 3 inches in the Dallas-Fort Worth vicinity and around Longview and Tyler soaked broad areas late Thursday, causing temporary flash flood warnings in at least nine counties. As much as 1 to 2 inches fell at many points.

The downpours also contributed to at least four traffic deaths.

A collision of a car and truck on a rainswept Dallas freeway Thursday night claimed the life of Alvin Alfred, 23, of Ville Platte, La. Soon afterward a pickup truck hit and killed Thomas J. Edwards, 43, of Dallas as he was running from the opposite road lane toward the crash.

In other accidents during heavy rain, William Blanton, 25, of Denton died as a car and truck crashed on Interstate 35 in the Dallas suburb of Carrollton and Arthur Lay, 66, of San Antonio was killed when his car hit the back of a gasoline tanker about 10 miles northwest of San Antonio on Texas 16.

By this morning the rainfall had dwindled to light drizzle around Childress, Fort Worth, Dallas and Tyler.

Early morning temperatures eased down to 44 degrees at Midland and 45 at Wink in West Texas while it was still 57 at Brownsville on the south tip of the state.

Forecasts called for clear to partly cloudy skies throughout the state and another cool night.

Woman Claims Galindo Kept Bills' Money

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A Brownsville housewife testified today that Fred Galindo kept money from a court settlement that was supposed to be used to pay her medical bills.

Galindo, Democratic nominee for Cameron County district attorney, is being tried on a charge of theft by bailee, which accuses him of keeping money from a court settlement that was to be used to pay medical bills for a California man.

Testimony from Mrs. Concepcion Claire closely paralleled testimony Thursday from the California man, Mrs. Claire testified that she and her infant son were injured Nov. 30, 1969 in a traffic collision and spent five days in a Brownsville hospital.

The pregnant woman testified that she hired Galindo to file a damage suit against the driver of the other car.

The insurance company settled out of court for $1,778.41, she said. Mrs. Claire added that she received a check for $715.14 from the settlement from Galindo.

The woman said Galindo was to pay medical bills totaling $361 for her and was to keep the remainder as his fee. But, she said, she learned in August of 1971 that Galindo had not paid the bills as he had promised to do 13 months earlier.

On Sept. 22, 1972, eight days after Galindo was indicted on the other matter, he paid the medical bills, Mrs. Claire said.

Defense lawyer Joe Walsh strongly objected to allowing the woman to testify, saying that it was an extraneous offense and would "very likely cause the jury to return a verdict of guilty."

He said the testimony of the woman was an attempt to show misconduct and not a crime.

Man Charged In Art Theft

(Related Picture 2-A)

A Big Spring man was arrested and charged, and 21 of about 27 original paintings taken from a Chalk community house Oct. 16 were recovered 6:15 p.m. Thursday.

Calvin Lee Camp, 50, of 815 Creighton St., was charged with receiving and concealing stolen property worth more than $50.

The sheriff's office released Camp on $3,000 bond set by Peace Justice Jess Slaughter.

Sheriff A. N. Standard Jr. said the Texas Rangers assisted with the continuing investigation of what is believed to be the largest art theft in Howard County history.

This art work belongs to Mrs. Doris Chalk Cole, Big Spring, and was taken from an old family home in what was once the Chalk community east of Forsan.

Standard said the theft had "odd ring to it" when investigation began. Paintings were removed from their frames before they were removed from the country residence.

McGovern Camp Is Dealing Warily With Peace Talk

LOS ANGELES (AP) — as timed for election-eve impact.

"Whatever their motives, if this administration can bring off a settlement of this war, they'll have my full support and cooperation in any effort that can lead to peace," he said.

Word from the White House Thursday that "peace is at hand" produced no basic change in the campaign stance McGovern adopted earlier in the week amid initial reports of a possible settlement.

He said then, and he says now, that he is for it, that it should have come years ago, and that the political effect is not important.

"I don't think we ought to be trying to count votes when bodies are involved."

"There is no evidence that I have yet been able to see that convinces me there is any new circumstance leading to peace now that was not there for the asking four years ago," he told a campaign rally in Sacramento Thursday night. "We can only mourn four more years of war..."

McGovern said any intransigence on the part of Nguyen Van Thieu, the South Vietnamese president, should be brushed aside.

"He said the other day that he was not going to let us dictate a peace settlement to him," McGovern said. "I say to Gen. Thieu, if I were president of the United States you, Mr. Thieu, would not dictate war to us."

There was no evident atmosphere of political crisis in the McGovern camp, in contrast to that four years ago when Nixon and his strategists were confronted just before the 1968 election with word that then-President Lyndon B. Johnson was suspending the bombing of North Vietnam as part of a broadened effort to negotiate peace.

New Camera Promised

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — After four years and $250 million, the Polaroid Corp. has introduced a new self-developing color camera it says will "change our lives."

About the size of a paperback book and weighing only 24 ounces, the SX 70 will retail for $180 and be available nationally soon after the first of next year, Polaroid said Thursday night. It will go on sale in Florida Nov. 10.

The camera, brainchild of Polaroid founder Dr. Edwin Land, requires the photographer essentially to do only three things — focus, push the shutter button and wait.

One second after the photographer pushes the shutter, the camera ejects a developing picture unit within an invisible stiff protective plastic structure. The unit represents 17 layers of compounds, some only 10-thousandths of an inch thick.

Predictions

By DON COOPER
Herald Sports Editor

Last week was rough on football prognosticators. Upsets in high school, college and professional football ran rampant. Hopefully, this week will be different.

DISTRICT 5-AAAA: The Abilene Cooper-Permian showdown highlights the card. In the other loop games, second-place Midland Lee visits Big Spring, San Angelo is at Midland High and the hapless Abilene Eagles take on Odessa High.

In other important area contests, Coahoma hosts a tough Ozona crew and Stanton is on the road against Crane.

BIG SPRING-MIDLAND LEE: This is my upset special of the week. I'm counting on the Steers' offensive line to put out its best effort of the season and the defensive line to pressure Pat Lyons as the Steers stop the Rebels, 17-15.

ABILENE COOPER-PERMIAN: Cooper has to have this one to keep alive in the district race. Permian can afford to lose one and still be the favorite for the loop crown. However, don't look for the Panthers to let down against the Cougars, Permian, 28-20.

MIDLAND-SAN ANGELO: The Bobcats seem to have snapped out of their slump. San Angelo, 21-14.

ODESSA-ABILENE: Another week and another loss for the Abilene Eagles. Odessa, 35-10.

COAHOMA-OZONA: This is a tough one. The Bulldogs simply overpowered a good Stanton team last week. Ozona ripped a strong Reagan County crew. I'll go with the Bulldog Wishbone, 21-14.

STANTON-CRANE: Can the Buffaloes bounce back from their 20-0 loss to Coahoma? I think so. Stanton, 14-10.

SANDS-HAWLEY: It's been a long season for the young Mustangs. They will still be looking for their first win of the season after tonight's game. Hawley, 21-6.

TEXAS A&M-BAYLOR: The Bears will claw the Aggies, 27-14.

TEXAS-RICE: The Longhorns showed great poise in their 35-15 humiliation of Arkansas. Texas, 27-13.

TCU-NORTE DAME: Playing Notre Dame the week after the Irish suffered a stunning upset is bad enough but playing Notre Dame with key players injured is too much. Notre Dame, 35-10.

NEBRASKA-OKLAHOMA STATE: The Cowboys pulled off an upset earlier in the season when they walloped Colorado; however, don't look for an upset this week. Nebraska, 34-7.

TEXAS TECH-SMU: This should be a fine battle of quarterbacks with the Red Raiders' Joe Barnes going against Keith Bobo of the Mustangs. Barnes and the Raiders win, 24-20.

Other Games:

Lamesa 14, Brownfield 13; Smyer 21, Garden City 18; Borden County 35, Three Way 12; Arkansas 20, North Texas 7; Houston 28, Mississippi State 20; Oklahoma 48, Kansas State 7; Southern Cal 37, Oregon 12; Iowa State 24, Kansas 14; Kansas City 24, San Diego 21; Dallas 16, Detroit 13; Oakland 31, Los Angeles 23; Miami 20, Baltimore 13; Minnesota 17, Green Bay 10.

Palmer Shoots 65; Tied For Golf Lead

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Arnold Palmer had a twinkle in his eye as he sat and savored the six-under-par 65 he'd posted in the first round of the $135,000 Sahara Invitational Golf Tournament.

That gave the struggling old champion a share of first place Thursday with four others and gave him a good shot — for the second time in as many weeks — of ending a 15-month victory famine.

"Maybe this time," the 43-year-old figure, already a legend, said with a smile, "maybe this time I can make it stand up."

He'd led last week's Kaiser International by two strokes after two rounds, but his putting touch deserted him and he finished well back in the pack.

Palmer's 65, forged over the 6,800-yard Sahara-Nevada Country Club course, put him in a first-round tie with veteran Doug Sanders, rookie standout Lanny Wadkins, Larry Ziegler and Canadian George Knudson, the streaking winner of the Kaiser last week.

DISTRICT 7-AA SHOWDOWN

Coahoma Set For Ozona

COAHOMA — The Coahoma Bulldog defense will have its work cut out for it tonight when Ruben Tambunga and Ozona come to town. Tambunga is the leading rusher in District 7-AA and Ozona is tops in the district in most of the team statistics.

The Bulldogs are fresh off a 20-0 win over arch-rival Stanton in last week's District 7-AA opener while Ozona also brings a 1-0 district mark into tonight's contest.

Last week, Ozona shattered Big Lake. Tambunga, who has rushed for over 3,500 yards in varsity play, is a 5-9, 170-pounder. Tambunga was a second team All-State selection as a junior last year. He has led the league in rushing since the opening game of the season. He has led the league in rushing since the opening game of the season. He has led the league in rushing since the opening game of the season.

Two other reasons for Ozona leading this season are David Sewell and Gerald Huff. Sewell is a 6-0, 179-pound quarterback who threw for six touchdowns as a junior last season. Huff has been near the top of the district rushing statistics since the start of the season. Currently, he is second with 423 yards. He is a 6-0, 170-pound running back whom many consider to be one of the best all-around athletes in West Texas.

Veteran performers in the Ozona offensive line include end Randy Crawford, guard Rick Hunnicutt and tackles Fred Vella and Gary Mitchell.

Coahoma has turned the season completely around since September. The Bulldogs opened the season disastrously by dropping the first three games of the season to Sonora, Colorado City and San Angelo Lake View. The Bulldogs had taken an early lead on Sonora only to finally lose in the closing minutes, 21-20. Sonora is presently the number one team in the Class A ranks.

Beal will get the call to direct the Bulldogs' Wishbone attack against Ozona. Joining Beal in the backfield will be halfbacks Tim Tindol, who broke loose for a 51-yard TD jaunt against Stanton, and Freddie Franklin and fullback Eddie Padron. Seeing heavy duty for the Bulldogs tonight will be last week's star Puff Choate, a 195-pound sophomore. Choate rushed for 161 yards against Stanton.

Handling the kicking chores for Coahoma will be Beal. Beal is currently leading the district in punting with a phenomenal 48.9 average for 12 kicks.

Kickoff for tonight's contest is 7:30 p.m. in Bulldog Stadium.

Borden Co. Faces Three Way

GAIL — The Borden County Coyotes put their perfect record on the line tonight when they travel to Three Way in eight-man grid contest.

The Coyotes take a 6-0 mark into tonight's contest. Last week, Borden County ripped Cotton Center, 38-6.

The Coyotes opened the season with a 42-0 romp over Wellman. Since that opening game win, Borden County has blasted Dawson (38-6), Smyer (24-16), Whitharral (72-0) and Klondike (70-14), before demolishing Cotton Center last week.

Rebels Attack Big Spring Tonight

Lyons Leads Lee Invasion; Teams Meet In Loop Tilt

STEEERS FACE REBELS — The Big Spring Steers, shown in a recent practice session, host the Midland Lee Rebels in tonight's District 5-AAAA clash at Memorial Stadium. The Steers are 1-2 in district play while Lee is 2-1. Kick-off is set for 8 p.m.

CONFERENCE CLASH

Stanton Buffaloes Visit Crane

STANTON — Head Coach Bill Young's Stanton Buffaloes will be attempting to shake off the effects of last week's 20-0 defeat at the hands of Coahoma as they travel to Crane to take on the Golden Cranes in the second round of District 7-AA competition tonight.

The Buffaloes go into tonight's contest boasting a 4-2 mark — the best record in several years at Stanton — on the season and an 8-1 record in league competition. The only blemishes on the Stanton record are the loss to Coahoma and an early defeat by highly-regarded Rankin.

"Crane is a lot like Coahoma," said Young. "Crane does not have a real great record this year; however, they've played some very tough opponents."

Last week, Crane beat McCamey, 7-0, and the week before, they beat Van Horn, 25-0. Three of their losses have been to Lovington (N.M.), Monahans and Fort Stockton. Those are all good ballclubs. "I don't think they're as large as they used to be; but, the team's real solid. Crane's a real good ballclub," Young continued.

Key offensive personnel for Crane include senior tackle Ted Hogan, a 170-pounder, senior guard Arden Lowery, a 160-pounder, and senior center Louis Stone, a 215-pounder.

In the backfield, the key personnel include quarterback Tinker Cadena and tailback Jerry McGee. Both Cadena and McGee are juniors.

Stanton found the weather and the Coahoma Bulldogs too much to overcome last week as the Buffaloes dropped their 11th straight game to Coahoma. A heavy rainfall before the game and a steady rain during the game eliminated the Buffs' aerial attack. With split end Paul McAlister, the district's leading receiver, turned into a spectator, the Buffaloes were forced to rely on their ground game.

Stanton's light-weight offensive line was never able to establish itself as the bigger Bulldogs effectively controlled the line of scrimmage and completely stymied the Buffalo running game.

Stanton will be counting on a dry field tonight to defeat Crane. Young said that a large portion of the Stanton success this year has been their well-balanced offensive attack — mixing the running of Dwayne McMeans and Larry Jones with the threat of Rick Wilson's passes to McAlister.

Joining quarterback Wilson in the backfield are halfbacks McMeans and Armando Rios and fullback Jones. Mitchell Irvin will see considerable action at the halfback slot for the Buffaloes.

Wilson will handle the kicking chores for Stanton in addition to his quarterback duties.

PROBABLE STARTING LINEUP STANTON BULLDOGS

Offense
Tight end — David Dillard, 175
Left tackle — David Chandler, 165
Left guard — David Standler, 160
Center — Randy Lambert, 140
Right guard — Ronnie Dickenson, 175
Right tackle — Duane Clary, 170
Split end — Paul McAlister, 165
Quarterback — Rick Wilson, 189
Halfback — Dwayne McMeans, 175
Fullback — Larry Jones, 138
Halfback — Armando Rios, 135, or Mitchell Irvin, 135
Defense
Left end — Steve Cook, 190
Left tackle — Glenn Woodburn, 175
Right tackle — Roger Guffertzer, 195
Right end — Duane Clary, 179
Left linebacker — Garland Eiland, 160
Middle linebacker — Mitchell Irvin, 150
Right linebacker — Ronnie Dickenson, 175
Safety — Vernon Brown, 145
Safety — Armando Rios, 135

LARRY JONES — Larry Jones will open at fullback for the Stanton Buffaloes tonight when they travel to Crane for a District 7-AA clash. Jones also sees action as the rover on defense.

GORDON EILAND — Gordon Eiland will see action for the Stanton Buffaloes against Crane in a District 7-AA contest tonight. Eiland is a 160-pound linebacker for the Buffaloes. Stanton is 4-2 for the season.

The air should be filled with footballs tonight as the leading passer in District 5-AAAA Pat Lyons brings his Midland Lee Rebels into Memorial Stadium to meet the Big Spring Steers in a crucial league contest.

Lee was upset by Abilene Cooper last week to fall into a tie for second place in the district standings with Midland High Cooper and Odessa High at 2-1. The loss left the Rebels one game behind league front-runner Odessa Permian which boasts a 3-0 conference record.

The Rebels held a 3-0 lead going into the final minutes of the game last week before falling to Cooper, 7-3. Permian pounded the Steers, 24-0, to remain undefeated in loop play.

LEE MUST WIN
Lee must win tonight to stay alive in the district race. Therefore, the Rebels are concerned with two games tonight. First, the Rebels must contend with the Steers on the field and will be keeping an eye out for word about the Cooper-Permian clash in Odessa. If Cooper should upset Permian and the Rebels can subdue the Steers, the stage would be set for the Lee-Permian showdown next week.

Standing in the way of the Lee plans will be an irritated bunch of Steers. The Steers suffered their worst defeat of the year last week at the hands of Permian when they fell, 24-0. Big Spring was simply overpowered by Permian and the Steers will be out to redeem themselves tonight. Also, the Steers must win tonight to keep alive an outside chance at the district crown.

CHANGES MADE
Head Coach Clovis Hale has made two changes in the offensive line in hopes of bolstering his forward wall, which was porous against Permian as the Steers were held to 44 yards on the ground. D. W. Powell, who has started most of the year at left tackle, has moved over to left guard replacing Ben Carr and Ken Froman has moved into Powell's slot.

The addition of Froman to the offensive line adds bulk to the forward wall. Froman is a 200-pounder, 15 pounds heavier than Carr. With these changes, the Steers will have only one offensive lineman under 190 pounds in the starting lineup. He is center Craig Barber, a 170-pounder. Barber was chosen "Lineman of the Week" by the Steer coaching staff following his performance against Permian.

DAVIS GETS CALL
Alan Davis will get the call at quarterback for the Steers. Also expected to see considerable action for the Steers at the signal-calling spot will be junior Tom Sorley. Sorley played most of the second half against Permian and responded with a good effort. He completed nine passes for 107 yards against the Panthers.

Joining Davis in the backfield will be Earl Reynolds and Barry Truette. Reynolds will be at running back with Truette handling the fullback duties. Also expected to action at fullback will be Dick Conley. Ricky Steen, who normally sees heavy duty at fullback for the Steers, has been out with influenza and is not expected to see much action against the Rebels. J. T. Smith will spell Reynolds at running back.

PRIME TARGETS
The prime targets for Steer aerials will be flanker Willie Williams, tight end Jerry Knoepfel and split end Nate Poss. Poss had an exceptional night against Permian last week as he grabbed seven passes for 78 yards.

The only defensive change for the Steers will be at left end where Rob Lawlis gets the nod over Mike Tredaway for the starting berth. However, Hale expects Tredaway to see much action.

The Steer defensive unit turned in a fine performance last week. Twice in the first quarter, the Steers stopped Permian inside the Big Spring five-yard line. One Permian threat was killed by a Vicky Woodruff recovery of David Shipan's fumble at the three; the other drive ended on an incomplete pass.

WORN DOWN
Until the Steer defenders were worn down by the continual Permian onslaught, they turned in a commendable job.

The leading targets for Lyons' passes are tight end Brian Williams and split end Keith Poe. Williams is the clutch receiver and Lyons likes to go to him in crucial situations.

Joining Lyons in the Rebel backfield will be fullback David Perry, tailback Rick Dunn and wingback Rusty Shaw.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — It'll be a pair of 4-1 teams squaring off here Saturday afternoon and that should be quite a boost for visiting Texas Christian.

The Horned Frogs were pretty certain that when they reached South Bend it would be to meet an undefeated Notre Dame team ranked somewhere in the top 10.

But unheralded Missouri took care of that notion last Saturday by shocking the Irish 30-26 and topping from eighth place in the ratings to 13th.

The aura of Irish invincibility is gone, at least for the time being, and TCU, coming off a 13-10 last-minute victory over Texas A&M, will be seeking its fifth consecutive road victory.

Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian said, "I don't think anything is easy after a loss, particularly after a game like we played against Missouri. It seemed like we did everything wrong and they did everything right."

"TCU is a winning football team. You look at the only game they lost—it was to Arkansas. And looking at the films, we noted they played a good ball game and actually led Arkansas 13-0 at one point." Parseghian pointed to TCU's use of the Wishbone-T offense "with some added wrinkles," and said, "They execute it as well as anyone I have seen."

The Irish coach also noted that the TCU defense has given up only about 120 yards a game rushing.

Notre Dame speedster Eric Penick, a sophomore halfback, probably will be ready to play Saturday after missing the Missouri game with a shoulder injury. Wide receiver Willie Townsend, out of the Irish line up since spraining a knee against Michigan State, was an uncertain participant for Saturday.

Cooper Looks For Upset Over Permian

Abilene Cooper will be looking for its second straight upset win tonight when the Cougars invade the lair of the Odessa Permian Panthers in the high-light game of the District 5-AAAA slate.

Cooper defeated Midland Lee, 7-3, last week to knock the Rebels out of a first-place tie with Permian in the district standings. Permian was keeping its record unblemished with a 24-0 win over Big Spring.

Cooper will be attempting to stay alive in the district race against Permian. The Cougars are enmeshed in the logjam for second place in the standings with a 2-1 district record. Also at 2-1 are Lee, Midland High and Odessa. One game back at 1-2 are Big Spring and San Angelo. Abilene High is 0-3 in district competition.

In another crucial district conflict, the Midland Lee Rebels will be taking on the Big Spring Steers. Lee must win in order to stay among the front-runners for the district title. The Steers have to win to keep from being eliminated from contention.

San Angelo will visit the surprising Midland Bulldogs and Odessa will take on the hapless Eagles at Abilene in other loop games tonight.

OSU HAS MOTIVE

Nebraska Has Momentum

Oklahoma State has the motive and Nebraska has the momentum for their college football struggle Saturday that will decide the front-runner in the Big Eight Conference.

"We appreciate the chance to play a team like Nebraska," says Oklahoma State Coach Dave Smith, whose Cowboys are currently tied for first with the third-ranked Cornhuskers. But although Smith is "sincerely looking forward to the game," Oklahoma State will face a Nebraska team that has won five straight games since its surprising opening-day loss to UCLA.

"Momentum is the name of the game and they have it," said Smith. Both teams have 2-0 league marks but several other clubs in that skin-tight race have a chance to move into contention because of key games Saturday.

Seventh-ranked Colorado, 3-1 in the Big Eight, visits Missouri, 0-2, and No. 8 Oklahoma, 0-1, hosts Kansas State, 1-2, in two other games involving nationally-ranked teams.

In other games involving the Top Ten, top-ranked Southern California visits Oregon, Southern Mississippi plays at No. 2 Alabama in a night game; fourth-ranked Ohio State meets Wisconsin; fifth-ranked Michigan hosts Minnesota; Washington State takes on No. 9 UCLA and Rice; entertains 10th-ranked Texas. Sixth-ranked Louisiana State is idle.

Elsewhere it's No. 11 Penn State at No. 20 West Virginia; 12th-rated Auburn at home to No. 17 Florida State; Texas Christian visiting 13th-ranked Notre Dame; No. 14 Tennessee entertaining Hawaii; Iowa State, No. 15, at Kansas; Air Force at No. 16 Arizona State; Arkansas, tied for 18th, against North Texas State at Little Rock and SMU, the other No. 18 team, meeting Texas Tech.

Nebraska, the defending Big Eight champion, will be the heavy favorite before an expected hometown crowd of 76,000 at Lincoln. It's expected to be a battle dominated by the quarterbacks.

Dave Humm masterminds the Nebraska offense while Brent Blackman steers Oklahoma State. The Cornhuskers also have a pair of legs to go with their good arm—running back Johnny Rodgers.

Flower Grove Jolts Hermleigh, 77-46

FLLOWER GROVE — Nancy Priblya poured in 36 points and Cindy Hill added 27 points to lead the Flower Grove Dragettes to a 77-46 romp over Hermleigh here Thursday night.

Wilma Stirl led Hermleigh with 40 points. The win ran Flower Grove's season record to 2-0. Flower Grove will host Garden City 7 p.m. Monday.

SINGLE-GAME FOUL MARK

Squires Drop Rockets, 155-111

Officials cried "Foul" at the American Basketball Association game between the Virginia Squires and Denver Rockets.

And foul, foul and foul... By the time Thursday night's match was finished, a single-game record of 86 personal fouls had been set and the Squires had a 155-111 triumph.

That wasn't the only record set in the foul-punctuated match by a long shot. Two of the records were set by the Rockets—56 personal fouls with seven players ejected. The Squires set records with 92 free throw attempts and 74 conversions.

The Squires used 44 of those charity points in a record-tying, 53-point fourth quarter to bury the visitors.

called the foul show, "an experiment." "I openly admit I went to an extreme, but I wanted to experiment."

Hannum said he wanted to illustrate what he considers "a bad trend" in pro basketball. In the only other ABA game Thursday night, the Utah Stars blitzed the Memphis Tams 151-98.

Two games were played in the National Basketball Association, where the Milwaukee Bucks topped the Kansas City-Omaha Kings 114-108 and Chicago edged Golden State 94-93.

In scoring the record-tying 53 points in the last quarter, the Squires made only four field goals—one a three-pointer by William Franklin. Eight Virginia players scored in double figures, including Julius Erving with 22. He also had 11 rebounds.

Ron Boone and Zelmo Beatty sparked Utah to a 47-point second quarter as the Stars drubbed the Tams. Boone and Beatty scored 12 points each in the second-period outburst.

Bob Dandridge and Oscar Robertson led a third-period scoring burst that carried Milwaukee past Kansas City-Omaha. The score was tied 13 times before Dandridge hit two free throws to give Milwaukee an 80-78 lead with 3:40 left in the period. Robertson and Dandridge then led a surge that gave Milwaukee a 90-80 lead.

Bob Love threw in 30 points to pace Chicago over Golden State. Cazzie Russell had 28 for the losers. Love connected on five straight jump shots in the final 3:12 of the game to clinch the victory for the Bulls.

Hannum said he told his team "to play the exact same kind of defense as Virginia,

MEET WASHINGTON

NY Giants Face Big Hurdle

NEW YORK (AP) — New York's a two-team football town again with Norm Snead and the revamped Giants in a dead heat with Joe Namath and the Jets for Gotham's heart.

The Giants, winners of four straight, now face the biggest hurdle in their climb back to glory Sunday in a matchup against Washington with a shot at tying the 'Skins for the National Football Conference's East Division lead.

The guess is nice try, but the Giants won't win. Washington is a 24-21 choice to outgun the rejuvenated Giants.

Washington's graybeard defense and a productive Giant offense should be a near-stand-off, but Sonny Jurgensen and the Redskins' offensive have an edge on a young New York secondary that sometimes makes juvenile mistakes.

Monday's prediction is for Roger Staubach to make a comeback at quarterback and spur the Cowboys to a bruising 24-20 decision over the Lions, coleaders with Green Bay at 4-2 in the NFC Central.

An 18-7 season guessing record puts the percentage at .720 over incredible upsets last weekend by Philadelphia and Denver made the Sunday-Monday mark 8-4-1.

Here's a look at the other 11 NFL games scheduled this weekend: Los Angeles, 4-11, at Oakland, 3-2-1; Maybe the A's left some luck at the Oakland stadium. The Raiders to run up a surprising 30-17 margin and protect a half-game lead in the fading American Conference West.

Kansas City, 3-3, at San Diego, 2-3-1; Chiefs, 0-3 in magnificent Arrowhead Stadium are 27-20 picks on the road. Washington, 3-1, is a game ahead of both Dallas and the Giants at 4-2.

Miami, 6-0, at Baltimore, 1-5; Colts are still grunting and fumbling over their coach's firing and John Unitas' demotion and the Dolphins seem strong enough to win even with so-so execution. Miami to take it 27-14.

Minnesota, 2-4, at Green Bay, 4-2; The Purple Puffs have had it if Fred Cox' leg doesn't straighten out and Fran Tarkenton's luck doesn't change. The Pack is sorta back, but the Vikings to take it 21-17 and further scramble the Central race.

San Francisco, 2-3-1, at Atlanta, 4-2; Falcons have always been defensively potent and now Bob Berry's occasional passing wizardry gives them a blue chip chance at whipping the Rams in the NFC West. Steve Spurrier is doing okay as John Brodie's stand-in at quarterback, but Atlanta to do it 20-17 this time.

Philadelphia has something to make up for.

Philadelphia, 1-5, at New Orleans, 0-5-1; Both teams went out last Sunday and ruined the 'Loser's Bowl'; the Eagles upsetting Kansas City and the Saints deadlocking the 49ers. But, it's still some sort of classic matchup of the NFL's bottom teams and Phillie is a 27-21 choice.

Pats 44-13 three weeks ago at Foxboro and Joe Namath didn't even cut loose his arm. If Joe goes after that leaky New England pass defense, it'll be 31-14 Jets.

Cleveland, 3-3, at Denver, 2-4; Quarterback Charley Johnson has put life in the Bronco offense while the Browns continue to flutter. Denver 17-10.

NCAA Leaves USOC

Announcement Claims USOC 'Shortchanged' US

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association has withdrawn from the United States Olympic Committee, charging that the USOC has "shortchanged" it.

Complete reorganization of the USOC was demanded by the NCAA in its announcement, made Thursday by Charles Neinas, chairman of the NCAA International Relations Committee, and Samuel E. Barnes, NCAA secretary-treasurer. The NCAA's 18-member Council made the decision at its fall meeting in Knoxville, Tenn.

"The NCAA strongly supports continuation of the Olympic Games," Barnes said in a statement. Reorganization has been sought for almost 10 years, he said, and the council has "told our delegates to continue to strive for reorganization within."

help raise money for the USOC and not appoint people to USOC committees.

"This action should not be construed as recommending the United States withdraw from the Olympic Games themselves," Neinas said, adding that the International Relations Committee hopes for improvement in the games.

don't think it can be reorganized internally. It's a classic case of inbreeding. The only external force with enough clout to bring it about is... Congress.

"The troubles in Munich at the '72 games are only the latest example of the continuous, countless bungs of the USOC," Barnes said. He was in Munich during the games. "We feel we can do more for the student-athletes within the United States Collegiate Sports Council and the World University Games than through the USOC," Barnes said.

Mavs Rip Edison, 35-6

SAN ANGELO — Tommy Churchwell scored three touchdowns to spark the Goliad Mavericks to a 35-6 romp over San Angelo Edison here Thursday night.

Churchwell's scores came on runs of five- and 10-yards and on a six-yard pass.

Churchwell opened the scoring in the second quarter on a five-yard run with Steve Weeks tackling on the extra points to give Goliad an 8-0 lead.

The score mounted to 16-0 in the second period when Churchwell scored on a 10-yard run with Steve Hughes tackling on the extra points.

Longhorns Take On Rice Owls

The defending Southwest Conference champion Texas Longhorns don't exactly go to Rice Stadium Saturday night with a bad case of the coffee nerves but if past history means anything they'll be spooked plenty before they get out of there.

"We have never gone to Rice Stadium and had anything but a rude bouncing around," says Coach Darrell Royal of the Longhorns. "I don't think we've ever performed there like we've been predicted, too...and I don't think we've had a game there that was decided before the fourth quarter."

Texas leads the SWC race in its quest for its fifth consecutive crown with a 2-0 record followed hotly by Southern Methodist at 1-0.

Even when Rice has had weak teams, the Owls have given the Horns fits in Houston—and this year they have more.

Muscle quarterback Alan Lowry says, "We'll have to block them and be as physical as they are...and execute at the same time. You can't beat Rice any way except by taking it to them. And our defense is going to have to be ready for anything because that Rice offense will do just about anything."

TECH VISITS SMU

defeat Texas Tech Saturday in Dallas to setup a showdown in Austin next week with the Longhorns.

SMU Coach Hayden Fry says he looks for Tech, which is 0-1 in SWC play, to "really challenge us with their running game. They have excellent inside runners and George Smith gives the Red Raiders that outside threat. Joe Barnes does a good job of running at quarterback."

The Mustangs lead the defense in the nation against the rush, hold the No. 1 punt returner in Kris Silerthorn, and have the top scorer in junior running back Alvin Maxson.

"We know SMU is an outstanding football team," says Texas Tech Coach Jim Carlen.

Texas Tech fullback Doug McCutchen says the key to beating SMU is controlling the football.

Longhorns Take On Rice Owls

know he's great. I haven't seen (freshman) Wayne Morris, but if he's half as good as Maxson he's all right."

Another SWC game Saturday finds Baylor trying to stay alive in the loop race against Texas A&M.

In other games, North Texas is at Arkansas in Little Rock, Houston is at Mississippi State, and Texas Christian is at Notre Dame.

The SWC has a 199-1 non-conference record and it's the most victories by league schools in a single season since 1959 when the then seven-team league posed a 19-11-1 record.

Baylor sophomore tackle Joe Johnson says, "We really need a conference win. That's what we want...to win a conference game and get back in the conference race. That's why you are going to see us giving our best Saturday night against the Aggies."

On the non-conference front, TCU has Notre Dame's respect. Irish scout John Murphy says of the Horned Frogs: "They're very aggressive and they have good balance on both offense and defense."

Irish Coach Ara Parseghian adds, "Mike Luttrell is an exceptional runner and they also have some fine defensive people like linebacker Dade Terveen."

SALARY NEGOTIATIONS BEGIN

Can Blue, A's Find Happiness?

In the next episode, Charles O. Finley will begin salary negotiations with Vida Blue and that might be as fascinating as the improbable, if popular triumph of his Oakland Athletics in the World Series.

Blue will earn $83,000, counting his Series dividend, from baseball this year — not bad for a pitcher who won six games and lost 10. But he feels abused by Finley and the A's conquest of the Cincinnati Reds gave him scant pleasure.

He was sulking because his manager, Dick Williams, sent him to the bullpen and he started game six only because rain (and commissioner Carl Lindeman, of the National Broadcasting Co.) eliminated a travel day.

No doubt Blue's resentment will carry over to his next public debate with Finley about salary, and the bitterness of last spring may seem playful by contrast.

That dispute wasn't resolved until May 2, and, naturally, Blue holds Finley responsible for his subsequent difficulties.

When a pitcher wins 24 games one year and six the next, there has to be a reason. Some of it is that Blue is only 22 and he had difficulty accommodating to sudden success. He was an instant celebrity.

"FAMILIAR PATTERN The innocence, the happiness, of his rookie year have given way to disenchantment. He was a blithe spirit, now he is becoming suspicious and uncommunicative. The pattern is familiar.

The A's gifted center fielder, Reggie Jackson, earlier opposed Finley in a protracted controversy and the experience left him angry and depleted. Jackson hit 47 home runs in 1969, then regressed to 23 in 1970, the year he was fighting with Finley.

Those who know the Oakland situation fear Blue will squander his exceptional talent unless he regains his peace of mind.

Jackson eventually achieved such independence that Finley treated him with respect. That is Blue's best hope. The A's need his left arm and his drawing power.

It will be interesting to see how Finley adjusts to baseball prosperity. He is entitled to gloat a bit and one can visualize the expression of Horace Stoneham when Finley crows that he has given the Bay Area its first world championship team.

That's a fact. Stoneham had a pennant winner in San Francisco, but the Giants lost the 1962 World Series. Now there is chatter among the A's about a "dynasty." It happens every autumn.

But Finley is bright, impulsive and unpredictable. Once he released a ballplayer (Hawk Harrelson) who provoked him, Harrelson was so penitent he immediately obtained a $75,000 bonus for signing with the Boston Red Sox.

When the current A's won the American League pennant in a tense playoff with the Detroit Tigers, San Diego's Buz Bavasi sent his scouting director, Bob Fontaine, to the scene with instructions to stay near Finley.

Watch for Andy Capp.

Coahoma Clips Crane, 20-6

COAHOMA — Brian Winter scored one touchdown and added a two-point conversion to spark the Coahoma eighth grade to a 20-6 win over Crane Coahoma's Homecoming Thursday night.

Janet Smolko presided over the festivities as Homecoming Queen and Danny Thomas was named Football Hero.

Luis Flores scored one Coahoma TD and David Rodriguez recovered a Crane fumble in the end zone for the other Coahoma TD.

Runnels Falls To Glenn, 20-12

SAN ANGELO — Randy Dewes rifled a 57-yard scoring strike to Ronnie Cajas with 10 seconds left in the first half to spark San Angelo Glenn to a 20-12 win over the Runnels Yearlings here Thursday night.

Glenn was trailing the Yearlings 12-6 when Dewes connected with Cajas for the go-ahead touchdown. Glenn ran for the two-point conversion and took a 14-12 lead into the halftime intermission.

Glenn got on the scoreboard in the first quarter on a 15-yard run by Dewes. The PAT attempt failed and the San Angelo team had to be satisfied with a 6-0 lead.

Runnels Falls To Glenn, 20-12

Runnels tied the game at 6-6 in the second quarter when Jesse Doss romped 47 yards for touchdown. The PAT attempt was no good.

Late in the second period, Yearling Chris Burrow scored on a 10-yard run to give the Yearlings a brief 12-6 lead. Again the PAT attempt failed.

On the ensuing kickoff, Glenn moved the ball out to its own 43-yard line. On the next play, Dewes connected with Cajas for the score.

Briscoe Hoping For 2-1 Edge In November Vote

By The Associated Press

The two major party candidates for governor of Texas continued their late campaign sprints Thursday, buoyed by estimates that at least a half million more Texans will cast ballots Nov. 7 than four years ago.

Democrat Dolph Briscoe said in San Antonio that he is "shooting" for a 2-to-1 margin of victory in his gubernatorial race with Republican Henry Grover.

Briscoe said polls indicate he will win a "very large majority" across the state, especially in Dallas and East Texas.

Briscoe also nixed any claims that Raza Unida Party candidate Ramsey Muniz is hurting his campaign.

Briscoe told about 300 persons at a San Antonio reception that El Paso leaders told him recently that Muniz has made "very, very small inroads there."

The same is true in such South Texas areas as Hidalgo and Cameron counties, Briscoe told newsmen. Both have large Mexican-American populations.

Briscoe also denied claims by the Raza Unida that he is "hiding" from the public. Muniz has been seeking a debate with Briscoe, but the Democratic nominee said that his schedule is "pretty fixed until the end of the campaign."

Meanwhile, Grover appeared in his hometown of Houston and said he didn't think Texans wanted the same "head-strong Democratic machine to rule this state for another term."

Grover told the Rotary Club of Houston that problems of busing, education, crime, welfare and threats of state corporate income taxes are minimized by a much-needed no-fault insurance program.

"If we don't at least try to push through a statewide no-fault plan, the federal government will push it down our throats," Grover said.

"Our opponents—a continuation of the same old unenlightened, selfish interests which have long controlled the governor's office—are spending Texas straight into an income tax," Grover said.

He said the sales tax hasn't been able to "keep up with the rampant fiscal irresponsibility of the Democratic leadership."

Grover also stressed the need to delay the widely-discussed state corporate income tax, explaining that a state personal income tax would be sure to follow.

U.S. Company Hits In Peru

LIMA (AP) — Occidental Petroleum Corp. disclosed Thursday night that it has struck oil in its first exploratory well drilled on a 2.9-million-acre jungle tract in the Amazon Basin of northeastern Peru.

The United States firm, the first private company to begin drilling in a rapidly expanding search for oil in the jungle area, said the find was made just south of the Peru-Ecuador border.

The well is on a large structure 7 miles long and 3 miles wide, the company said. It "flowed at the rate of 2,650 barrels of 36.4 degree API gravity low-sulphur crude oil from a zone located at approximately 12,750 feet," Occidental said.

The company said the production rate was limited by available testing facilities and additional testing of a "potentially productive shallower zone in the well will be conducted."

The Occidental discovery is the latest of several in the upper Amazon Basin beginning with a rich find made in Ecuador five years ago by a Texaco-Gulf consortium.

It is the fourth find in the Peruvian portion of the basin in the past year. Three earlier discoveries were made by Petroperu, the Peruvian state petroleum company.

Superport Committee Bill Signed Into Law By Smith

HOUSTON (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith has signed into law a bill creating the Texas Offshore Terminal Commission, which will develop Texas' first offshore terminal to handle super tankers too large to enter conventional ports.

With the increased technology that has developed in the past few years, larger ships are being built to realize economies in transportation costs—a trend which is expected to accelerate in the future," Smith said Thursday.

"Already Texas ports are inaccessible to much of the world's water transportation fleet," he said. "Unless remedial action is taken, a substantially greater portion of this fleet will be unable to serve Texas ports in the future."

Smith said several members appointed by the governor and will have $500,000 in appropriations to establish and run the commission.

Smith said several comprehensive feasibility studies now underway could lead to privately owned and operated port facilities in the Gulf of Mexico.

"This bill does not compete with the studies currently under way," he said, "but will provide a mechanism to coordinate planning and eventual construction of a deep draft offshore terminal, while providing every adequate protection for our state's fragile coastal environment."

Eleanor McGovern Back From Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eleanor McGovern is back home following a five-day vacation in the Virgin Islands.

The wife of Democratic presidential candidate George McGovern had been sidelined from her own active campaigning because of exhaustion and an attack of abdominal pains that sent her to the hospital briefly.

Charles Guy Quits Post At Lubbock

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Chas. A. Guy, who became a Lubbock newspaperman more than 48 years ago, announced his retirement Friday as editor and publisher of the Avalanche-Journal newspapers. Guy thus closes a chapter in Texas news annals that started Jan. 3, 1924.

His newspaper career reaches back to his high school days when he worked in the sports department of the Tulsa (Okla.) Democrat, now the Tribune, and the Tulsa World.

Guy served on innumerable boards and commissions. He chalked up a number of "firsts" in fields ranging from Chamber of Commerce undertakings to flying jaunts. He is widely known in Masonic circles.

CHARLES A. GUY

Guy served on U.S. teams studying conditions in war-torn Europe and toured the U.S. and other parts of the world officially and unofficially. He has covered national political conventions since 1932, national sports events and spot breaking news stories. He was a member, 40 years ago, of a special expedition into at the time a dangerous, area of Mexico to study the Yaqui Indians.

He fathered the idea for the Goodfellows, the organization which each Christmas for 40 years has raised funds and distributed Yule joy to the city's less fortunate.

Guy graduated from the University of Oklahoma in 1923. He received an honorary Doctor of Laws from Texas Tech in 1965.

While he was still in high school, Guy started in the sports department of the Tulsa Democrat, now Tulsa Tribune, later moving to the Tulsa World.

Guy worked for The El Reno (Okla.) American, and later on The Bristow (Okla.) Record. He joined the weekly Plains Journal in Lubbock Jan. 3, 1924, as associate editor.

Guy and Dorrance Roderick, who ran The Plains Journal business office and is currently chief executive officer of the El Paso Times, bought the Plains Journal in 1924.

The two formed a later partnership with J. Lindsay Nunn, then publisher of the Amarillo Daily News and Post; Houston Hart of the San Angelo Standard, and Bernard Hanks of the Ablene Reporter-News. This was the first joint venture of Hart and Hanks, starting a partnership which has now grown into a nation-wide newspaper operation.

Guy attended schools in Georgetown, Ky., and Lawrenceville, Ill., but received most of his pre-college education in Tulsa. His father was in the oil business.

Guy became editor of the Lubbock Evening and Sunday Journal which began publication as a daily in September, 1925.

Cost Of Beef Dips Slightly Across Nation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumers paid less for beef last month because of a slide in cattle prices and the first dip in middleman markups since last June, the Agriculture Department said today.

The September retail price of beef, a key indicator in the cost of living, was slightly less than $1.13 per pound on an all-cut basis, including hamburger as well as steak.

That was almost three cents less than in August and 4.4 cents cheaper than the record high in July. In August, however, the price spread—the markup—from cattlemen to consumers was a record 44.8 cents per pound.

Last month, according to a "market basket" report on U.S. farm-produced food, the middleman share for beef was 43.3 cents per pound, a decline of 3.3 per cent in a month.

Statistically, however, the middleman beef margin was 20.3 per cent more than last June and 14.9 per cent more than a year ago.

All grocery store foods averaged 0.1 per cent less in September but 5.6 per cent more than a year earlier.

Last week the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported take-home food in September rose 0.1 per cent from August. But USDA officials said their report covered only food produced on American farms and did not include imported items and seafood products.

The BLS report also covers meat prices only for the first week in a month, while the USDA surveys beef and pork for the entire month.

Broken down further, the USDA report showed that of the average retail beef price of just under $1.13 per pound, the "farm value" was 69.6 cents in September, down from 71.0 in August and the summer peak of 77.5 last June and July when cattle prices were higher.

Farm value is not the price producers get for cattle, but it is their share of what consumers pay at retail stores. It requires nearly 2.3 pounds of live steer, for example, to make one pound of supermarket beef.

A total market basket of food items, theoretically enough to feed a typical family for a year, cost an annual rate of $1,320 in September, down $2 from the record highs reported for July and August.

California High School College Will Take 1,600

FREMONT, Calif. (AP) — What could be more patriotic than a school with red, white and blue school colors, an American eagle mascot and the telephone number 796-1776?

What could be more nontraditional than a school with giant pillows on the floor and acid rock music piped in between class periods?

American High School has it all.

In the morning, principal Joe Tranchina hangs his coat on a red, white and blue coat hanger and sips coffee from a mug of the same colors as his secretary briefs him on a red, white and blue phone.

making 1,270 ultratrips. In fact, the students themselves named their new $5 million high school which opened this fall, and chose their own mascot and colors.

"All I'm trying to do is to make the kids a part of the school," Tranchina said in an interview.

"The degree to which we've de-institutionalized the school's setting allows the students to become more involved in the learning process," Tranchina explained. "The positive attitudes from this improved environment make the student a better learner."

Although Tranchina says the curriculum is standard, keys to the school are "how the students and teachers relate" and interdisciplinary instruction with emphasis on integrating various subjects.

Of the 54 men and women he selected to teach at American High, Tranchina says:

"They were old pros and young people in the profession beginning to feel impersonalization impinging on their teaching. Many saw their vision fit American."

TEA Bankrolls Tutor Center

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (AP) — The new Southwest Texas Teacher Center, a cooperative program involving Southwest Texas State University, the San Marcos public schools and the Region 13-Education Service Center, has been financed by the Texas Education Agency.

The center is an effort to improve teacher education at both the pre-service and in-service levels. It also is paving the way for the switch to performance-based teacher certification due in the state by 1977.

Put more simply, the principal's vision of American High was a school which didn't look like a school.

Wall-to-wall carpeting covers all 180,000 square feet of the school building. There are no classrooms as such, only colorful screens between groups of students.

Large fluffy pillows help students relax while in class.

Between classes, music booms out through the public address system.

"We have run the gamut from Bach to the Beatles to acid rock," said Tranchina.

During the center's first year, concentration will be placed on getting organized, planning and some experimentation. One of its major objectives will be to develop and test performance-based teacher education materials.

Another goal will be to cooperatively plan the local teacher education experiences at the pre-service level.

Police reported Alvin Alfred, 23, of Ville Platte, La., died in a collision of a car and a truck and Thomas J. Edwards, 43, of Dallas was killed soon afterwards while crossing the opposite lane of the roadway on foot to reach the same spot.

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP) — Howard Payne College trustees have raised the ceiling on enrollment to 1,600 students for the future. This year's enrollment—a record 1,525—is in excess of the 1,500 limit voted several years ago.

Paul Cates, Lubbock businessman and president of the trustees, said he believes "Howard Payne College is truly on the move."

"The administration and faculty at Howard Payne are doing a great work. And the people of Texas believe that they are. I am convinced that Howard Payne is going to move ahead in every way during the immediate future," Cates said.

Cates was re-elected president of the board for the coming year, as was W. C. Carpenter of Brownwood will be first vice president and Groner Pitts of Brownwood secretary. Dr. Veda Hodge of Midland was elected second vice president.

JOHN TOWER

In The U.S. SENATE

He Will Protect Our Schools

Senator John Tower's record on education is clear and consistent, for all to see. He is for quality education, but against the forced busing of school children solely to achieve racial balance. His every vote has reflected this view. In just the past few weeks, he has voted for and supported measures to limit forced busing.

Senator John Tower does not speak and vote just in generalities. He acts for the communities he represents. He played an important role in forestalling bureaucratic action in the case of the Big Spring public schools.

After the settling of a case involving Big Spring schools, Senator Tower wrote the attorney for the local school district, on August 18, 1971:

"I trust that you were pleased at the decision of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare not to proceed further in the Big Spring case. I hope this indicates a change in policy on the part of the Department. You can be assured however, that I shall continue to monitor their activities x x x"

John Tower knows of our local situation. He is alert to it. We can count on him. We can't be sure about his opponent.

John Tower as Senator is important to all Texans. He is doubly important to the people of Big Spring and Howard County. Think about this when you mark your ballot.

Not Good In Long Run

The unexpected Israeli air strikes against Lebanon and Syria were a sharp reminder that the Middle East remains one of the most flammable tinder spots in the world.

The reason for Israel's new policy of preventive action against guerrilla aggression and terrorism must have been compelling. It doubtless sees itself as a small nation in a hostile Arab sea, fighting for its national survival. Under these circumstances any advantage it can gain, no matter how small or transitory, is helpful.

However, Israel must realize that its military superiority over the Arabs is not in itself enough to win her long-term battle. She also depends upon the moral support of the non-Communist world. Each act of preventive violence diminishes Israel's claims to that moral support — particularly if it comes during a quiescent period in hostilities.

Whatever degree of unity the Arabs possess is the result of their common hatred of Israel rather than their love for one another. Raids such as the air strikes against Lebanon and Syria may tend to draw the Arabs together.

The even greater danger, however, is that all such acts of violence, however justified, give the Soviet Union another opportunity to move deeper into the Middle East under a cloak of righteous peace-keeping.

It is clear, for example, that Egypt already is having regrets because it expelled Soviet advisers. Unable to get modern arms from the West quickly and cheaply, President Anwar Sadat has now sent his premier, Aziz Sidki, to Moscow to see if the damage can be undone. Russia, which at greatly reduced expense, may well be persuaded still has key bases in Egypt in her pocket, but to furnish Sadat parts to maintain the Egyptian war equipment which poses a threat to Israel's flank. Now, the Soviet Union, because of Egypt's precipitate action in expelling the advisers, has piled Iraq and Syria deeper into her web. Adding Lebanon to the list — or Libya or Sudan — would increase the Soviet influence on Middle East affairs as well as the military pressure on Israel.

Speaking for the State Department, Robert J. McCloskey says that the "climate of international opinion" will bring the parties in the Middle East strife to the negotiating table. Hopefully, some of that climate might affect the Soviet Union.

It's Not Contagious

Pittsburgh Mayor Peter Flaherty's glowing description of his city's finances is unlikely to find an echo among other big city mayors impatient to run their fingers through revenue sharing funds authorized by Congress.

Flaherty, boasting of a budget surplus of $13 million, has proposed to drop Pittsburgh's 1 per cent wage tax in 1973.

The mayor did not suggest that the $1.16 million Pittsburgh will receive from the federal government under revenue-sharing legislation should also be returned to the taxpayers from whom it has been taken.

The pressure for tax relief, unfortunately, loses its effectiveness proportionately to the remoteness of spenders from collectors.

'Colorful' Excerpt

Around The Rim

Charles Teague

For those who weren't able to attend the last irregular session of the City Omission, I submit a portion of the transcript for your information:

MAYOR WADE NOTE: The City Secretary will read the next agenda item.

CITY SECRETARY: Request to advertise for bids to purchase pink paint for whitewall tires of city vehicles.

OMISSIONER JACK HAWKINS: I object to this action for the reason that it's a waste of the tax payers' money to paint the golf course greens and the whitewalls of city vehicle tires pink.

We can save (just a ball park figure) $37.47 by using the same color for both projects. There's a surplus of green paint at the warehouse (unless the city gave it away to somebody) that hasn't been used for two years, because nobody seems to find the time to paint the golf course greens.

CITY MANAGER HARRY BAGEL: Well, let me inject something here. This question came up at City Hall just a few days ago. We did a little research and discovered that it's been a policy of the City Omission for city vehicle tire whitewalls to be painted pink.

CITY OMISSIONER HAROLD OVERHAUL: Well, that settles it then, Jack. If that's the policy, we'll just have to learn to live with it.

OMISSIONER EDDIE EAGERLI: Yeah, Jack. And besides that, I figured just exactly how much it'll save to use green on the whitewalls: $37.19, not $37.47 like you said.

OMISSIONER M. R. GROOPER: Is that right, Harry? Will it really save just $37.19?

BAGEL: Well, let me state this: The Director of Public Works James Cagle tells me that the green paint has set in the warehouse long beyond its lifetime. It's likely that the stuff is no good.

What we were hoping to do is order enough pink paint for BOTH the Whitewalls AND the golf course greens.

We performed a little survey in the surrounding cities and found that most of them are going to pink golf course greens; so we thought we'd do the same thing.

MAYOR NOTE: If the Omissioners will recall, three months ago we did agree to paint the golf course greens and the whitewalls the same color, with the condition that there are no objections.

This is a public hearing. Does any one in the audience have any objections?

CONCERNED CITIZEN: Yessir, I sure do. Most of the golfers in the City, including myself, are now using pink golf balls. If you paint the greens pink, how are we going to see our pink golf balls on the pink greens?

OMISSIONER EAGERLI: Well, we can provide green dye for you to color your golf balls green before you get on the course. And I'll make an offer you can't refuse.

ST. LOUIS — Add to the handicaps the Democrats face in this election the presence in many states of strong statewide Republican candidates. Missouri, a swing state on the winning side with one exception since Grover Cleveland, is an example.

STATE AUDITOR Christopher "KH" Bond, 32 years old, with the reform image, is the Republican candidate for governor. He is running against the Democratic establishment suffering from the erosion of years in office. Denouncing the "spoils system" in tandem with Attorney General John Danforth, 36, seeking re-election, Bond is given a lead over his Democratic opponent, Edward L. Dowd of St. Louis.

Bond is a good reason for defecting Democrats to vote a straight Republican ticket on Nov. 7. If President Nixon's "new majority" has any meaning, it is in states like Missouri where young aggressive candidates are to be found on the Republican side.

ACROSS THE Mississippi in Illinois an outstanding Republican is demonstrating exceptional pulling power. Running for re-election to a second term, Sen. Charles Percy is campaigning in East St. Louis and the downstate counties with tireless energy. One of the party's brightest stars, he has shown his courage by taking stands unpopular with the right wing, which is dominant in his state. This makes it inevitable that he should be projected as a possibility for President in 1976.

THE POSSIBILITY is based on two assumptions. One, which now seems all but a certainty, is that he would win a second term with a large majority. The second, more doubtful, is that his party will not solidly on the right and harden around the inevitable choice of Spiro Agnew to head the ticket four years from now.

But a great deal can happen in the interval and Percy is perfectly positioned to take advantage of the breaks.

His opponent is a melancholy example of the tired faces out of the Democratic past. Rep. Roman C. Pucinski comes from the bossed wards of Mayor Richard Daley's machine. Outside Cook County his appeal is practically zero. While Nixon has a two-to-one lead in the downstate counties, Percy is 45 points ahead in the latest sampling.

BECAUSE HE had the audacity to put through a state income tax, the voters were prepared to turn out the Republican governor, Richard Ogilvie. But lately he has moved up against the maverick Democrat, Dan Walker. Walker emerged from a fratricidal primary that left many scars.

Because Missouri is Sen. Thomas Eagleton's home state, the carry-over from the grisly business of the off-again-on-again Eagleton affair is greater here than anywhere else. A strong resentment persists that our boy was booted off the ticket. This is the reason many Democrats, whether they express it in public or not, will vote against the McGovern-Shriver ticket.

Weaknesses Reappearing

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite the demise or merger of more than 100 securities firms over the past few years that was supposed to have left the industry stronger than ever, evidences of weakness are reappearing.

James Needham, New York Stock Exchange chairman, calls it "the valley of a business cycle," but that is simply a broad euphemism for financial strains being experienced by the survivors of the recent shakeout.

In what seems in a small way to be a repeat of the old scenario, well-known securities houses are reporting sagging incomes, and in some instances they see little hope of recovery except through mergers.

As Needham told NYSE member firms this week that the situation compelled him to resist pressure for negotiated or lower commissions:

—Hayden, Stone, Inc. was reported net income for the three months ended Sept. 29 of only $24,968, or one cent a share, compared with $93,110 a year earlier.

The company's management echoed an old refrain. They said they have now "focused attention on tightening our cost control procedures."

—Stockholders of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Inc. were contemplating a 52 per cent decline in September earnings to $1.6 million from $3.3 million in September 1971.

Merrill Lynch, the world's biggest broker, remains highly profitable, however, as do several other firms, including E.F. Hutton and Donaldson, Lufkin & Jenrette Inc.

—First Boston Corp., an investment banker and underwriter, reported a 53 per cent decline in earnings for the third quarter, and Reynolds Securities showed a 15 per cent drop.

—Shields & Co. and Drexel Firestone Inc. were reportedly exploring possible advantages of combining, primarily to reduce fixed overhead. Halsey, Stuart & Co. and A.G. Becker & Co. were doing the same.

The condition of The Street is said to result from a combination of high overhead and sagging volume. Ironically, some of the overhead consists of computers installed to handle high volume.

What seems to be the biggest plague of all is the one alluded to by Needham: the cyclical nature of the industry. It is extremely sensitive not only to economic changes and expectations, but to the whims of investors.

Many critics claim that it is still suffering from the excesses of the late 1960s, when millions of new shareholders were attracted to investments and then disillusioned by both falling prices and low ethics.

PEACE COULD come quickly if South Vietnam could be assured of its independence. This would require North Vietnam to respect the sovereignty of the nation to the south. It would mean that the Viet Cong would not become troublemakers and that the Hanoi government would confine its activities to North Vietnam. All this could be worked out if the three groups felt they had to do it.

Military assistance has been going to North Vietnam from the Soviet Union and Red China. Both could use their influence and join with the United States in a tripartite pact to protect the independence of North Vietnam and South Vietnam, respectively.

IT SHOULD BE obvious to all concerned that an end of the war is desired by everybody. The United States is on friendly terms with Peking and Moscow, and an agreement certainly could be written which would promise North Vietnam that it would not be at a disadvantage just as South Vietnam would be

So Near . . .

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Peace is "just around the corner," but the corner is always just a bit far away. The adversaries do not seem to be able to get together.

HENRY KISSINGER has had a chance to talk at great length with President Thieu of South Vietnam and has reported to President Nixon that South Vietnam is ready to accept sensible terms of peace which will permit South Vietnam to negotiate a cease-fire, to be supervised internationally. But the "political settlement" which is to follow has not yet been agreed upon, even in principle. So the formula that would be acceptable to both sides has not been devised.

assured that its freedom would be maintained.

The objectives are clear. But what is lacking is a statement by the countries supporting North Vietnam of a willingness to see that the terms of the peace agreement any carried out.

When the United States signed the Southeast Asia Treaty, it served notice that the main concern was the protection of the nations of the region, and it was assumed America would come to their aid if their existence or independence was threatened. This country, along with Australia, the Philippines and New Zealand, have fulfilled their obligations under the treaty. Settlement of the Vietnam War by a collaboration of some of the very governments that are parties to the Southeast Asia treaty would help to increase the prestige of that document.

IT IS DISCOURAGING to read the comments of uninformed persons who in their "antiwar" speeches attack American involvement in Vietnam without realizing that what has been done in Southeast Asia has a direct relationship to the prevention on a third world war — which would, of course, be far more dangerous to the inhabitants of other continents as well as Asia. This is why American foreign policy has been endorsed by many leaders in Europe and Asia and by thoughtful observers in the United States who are familiar with the incidents that have led to two world wars.

THE NEGOTIATIONS for peace in Vietnam are proceeding hopefully, and progress is being made. But what is most needed, as a unified America, to uphold the efforts of our government in securing worldwide support for the policies that will insure protection for small nations and prevent a third world war.

Shen's Worried

Garth Jones

By JOHN PINKERMAN
Editor, Copley News Service
(Subbing for Garth Jones)

Jimmy Shen is worried. He doesn't say this in so many words, but he is deeply troubled by the possibility that the United States will find some way to evade responsibility for the defense of the Republic of China that is laid down in a formal U.S.-Nationalist China treaty and in congressional resolutions.

SHEN—AMBASSADOR to the United States James C. H. Shen — is a former news reporter, editor and student of world affairs. His observations of U.S. overtures to Peking arouse in him alarm for the 15 million people on the island of Taiwan.

He considers mainland China part of "his" country, one could not help but conclude that his people and his government on Taiwan take a vastly different view of peace in Asia than do the American people and the American government. It just may be that he has read the small print in the treaty and resolutions that bind the United States to the defense of Taiwan and the Pescadore Islands.

THERE SEEMS to be a feeling of relief in America following President Nixon's pilgrimage to Peking — all is well now with the Red giant of Asia, wheat trade insures peace and Japan's recognition of the Communist government guarantees even more tranquility.

Shen is more fearful, perhaps more realistic. On Japanese Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka's recognition of Mao Tse-tung's regime, Shen says, "We should keep a close watch on Japan. Japan has now doubled her defense budget. She is building jet fighters.

"YOUR COUNTRY and ours share the responsibilities for peace in the Western Pacific. We have fought in two wars together, we never have fought each other. America is the staunch friend of free Chinese everywhere.

"But, your country has an important responsibility in our part of the world — in Korea, Taiwan, the Philippines, Japan. Will the United States be able to count on Japan for the use of bases in event of trouble?"

BUT, his inclusion of "collective security" worry indicated he had read the Dec. 2, 1954, collective security treaty between his nation and the United States — plus all the watering down documents produced since.

The late President Dwight D. Eisenhower produced the treaty and through strong leadership also produced an 85-3 Senate confirmation vote. But, the Senate added these "understandings:"

—That any extension of the treaty area would be taken only with the mutual agreement of two-thirds of the Senate.

—That nothing in the treaty "shall be construed as affecting or modifying the legal status (which this is construed to mean Formosa is part of China?) of the sovereignty" of Formosa and the Pescadore Islands.

THERE ALSO was a joint Senate-House resolution of Jan. 29, 1955, a document that some believe gives America the "out" Shen fears: "This resolution shall expire when the President shall determine that the peace and security of the area is reasonably assured by the international conditions . . ."

THEN, ON March 12, 1970, came another "or otherwise." It was a letter to Sen. J. William Fulbright, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, from H. G. Torbert Jr., an assistant secretary of state, and it said in part: "This resolution (of Jan. 29, 1955) is now 15 years old. In the event of a new crisis in the Formosa Strait, this administration would not view the continued existence of the Formosa Resolution as a source of congressional authority."

No wonder Jimmy Shen worries.

Detective Turned Actor

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — The best amateur actor in the history of the New York City Police Department is doing well as a professional television and movie performer.

"I had to go into the movies to get promoted," said former detective Eddie Egan, who plays a police lieutenant in Paramount's new crime thriller, "Badge 373."

Eddie, whose real-life exploits were the basis for the a war-winning film, "The French Connection," is the legendary detective who made 8, 741 arrests during a 19-year career as a crime-solver.

This amazing total is a record for the Police Department here.

Eddie, a maverick detective sometimes in trouble with his superiors because of his unorthodox methods, retired last year because he was "tired of paper work" and because he had always yearned for an acting career.

He feels he has smoothed out his quarrels with the Police Department. He has his badge, and is still permitted to wear strapped to his right ankle the gun he wore while in service. And, beginning in 1975, he will start receiving annual retirement pay of $11,000, which is 42 per cent of his final salary as a detective.

Defending the brusque tactics he employed while on duty — he wasn't noted for following departmental rules to the letter — Egan remarked: "An old cop once told me, 'The only trouble you can get into on this job is by doing the job.' I found out myself that when you're arresting 8 to 10 people a day, you become maybe too experienced. You cut the corners to close sometimes to please everybody."

Anyway, Eddie feels his future is pretty bright. He has a contract with Paramount tying him to the production of 13 films for which he has submitted plot outlines. Also in prospect is a television series, tentatively entitled "My Partner and I."

"Hopefully, I'll play myself," said Egan, "but that's being negotiated."

There are sound reasons for Eddie's optimism. He has already played six professional roles, and behind him lie innumerable real life roles while he was a detective, in some of which his own safety was at stake.

Egan, now 42, stands 6 feet 1, weighs 225 pounds, has wavy brown hair and intense blue eyes, and looks like a retired pro football fullback. He said there was considerable difference between acting for the Police Department and for Hollywood.

"The pay is nicer now, but acting is literally a matter of survival when I was a detective. In some places, if they knew you were a cop, you'd end up with too many holes in your head."

"I think that I played everything but a midget. At different times I was disguised as a blind beggar, a bum, a priest, a doctor, a bank teller, a college coach, a movie producer and a hospital patient."

My Answer

Billy Graham

My wife and I have been wrangling for a long time. Now she is talking about getting a divorce. Do you think it is right to separate because of petty disagreements?

The Bible says: "What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder" (Matthew 19:6). Marriage is something holy. If you and your wife are Christians, you will not regard it lightly. You must remember, too, that Jesus emphasized again and again that the spirit is more important than the law. If your differences are petty you can save your marriage and your home. Perhaps you both have been expecting perfection, and that has led you into the habit of nagging and complaining about little things that might better have been overlooked. You must begin now to be a little kinder. Try to be patient. Show your appreciation, but swallow that harping criticism. Occasionally bring your wife an unexpected gift. And every day tell her you love her. Any family will go on the rocks without love and forgiveness. You can't break the habit of fussing and scolding without the help of God. Begin each day with Bible reading and prayer. As you draw near to God, you'll draw closer to each other.

A Devotion For Today . . .

The light shines on in the dark, and the darkness has never mastered it. (John 1:5, NEB)
PRAYER: O God, who gives love and understanding to all Your creatures, so fill our hearts with the spirit of giving and sharing that we may be helpful today to someone who needs help. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

Bowels And Diet

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am enclosing 35 cents and a long self-addressed stamped envelope for your booklet, "Lost Secrets of Reducing," but I would like an answer to another problem.

Whenever I go on a diet I have trouble with my bowels not moving. What can I take to keep them regular? — Mrs. F.B.

You aren't the only one wondering about this. Lots of dieters do — but they shouldn't. The bowel is a very pragmatic organ. It does the work that needs to be done — which is to get rid of waste material from the intestinal tract whenever there's enough to be worth getting rid of.

Now when you go on a diet, you eat less. That's the purpose of a reducing diet, is it not? If you eat less, there's less material for the bowel to discharge, so it doesn't happen as often.

You say you want to remain "regular," and the chances are that you do remain regular — except that "regular" doesn't necessarily mean as often as before.

In other words, if you eat less, don't expect to have your bowel act as often. Missing a movement for a day or two doesn't mean you are in trouble or that you are "constipated."

Of course, one thing you can do is to eat more fruit and vegetables, particularly the low-calorie vegetables. You'll find helpful lists in the booklet. For reducing, cut down on high-calorie, low residue foods such as carbohydrates and fats, and substitute an equivalent amount of low-calorie vegetables which have a rather high residue (cellulose, which you don't absorb) but don't add weight. (They are also valuable sources of vitamins and minerals.)

Or, alternatively, you can get some artificial "bulk producers," such as agar preparations. An occasional (not daily) dose of milk of magnesia can induce slightly more frequent movements without unduly irritating the colon, as the harsh laxatives can.

Or, finally, you can just accept the fact that if you are eating less, you don't need as frequent movements.

I am quite aware that a lot of readers, who have been brought up to believe that a daily bowel movement is "necessary for health" will still have an unreasoning belief that, even on a diet, they ought to have just as much bowel activity regardless of the reduced food input. But figure it out for yourself. Why should you?

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is a caruncle of the urethra? — R.

It's either a fold of skin or a tiny tumor at the end of the urethra in women — the urethra being the tube from the urinary bladder to the outlet.

It can cause a deviation of the urinary stream as well as painful urination. A caruncle also tends to bleed readily.

The cause is not clear, but probably due to loosening of underlying membranes. It is successfully treated by removing the caruncle surgically. Not a difficult procedure.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Do you see any harm in using a depilatory to remove stray eyebrow hairs? I don't like to pluck them because I've heard it increases growth, and anyway there are too many stray hairs to do that. — L.G.K.

Depilatories are likely to irritate tender skin, and there's also the risk of getting them in the eye, so I'd say pluck. Plucking does not increase growth. With either method, the hairs will grow again. Have you considered having the hairs removed permanently by an electrologist?

What causes "balance" trouble? What can be done to correct or overcome it? Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Dizzy Spells," discusses loss of balance, vertigo and nausea, Meniere's disease and labyrinthitis. For a copy write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald enclosing 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope.

Dallas 15th In Income

DALLAS (AP) — Dallasites generally have the highest family income among people in the five largest cities of Texas but rank a poor 13th when nearby suburbs are included, recently released 1970 census figures show.

Median income—set at $10,019 for Dallas—means that half the families make more than the average amount and half make less.

Behind Dallas comes Houston with $9,876, followed by Fort Worth $9,271, El Paso $7,963 and San Antonio $7,734.

Put in the context of the nation's 50 largest cities, Dallas ranks 15th. Highest median income in the nation is found in Honolulu, $12,539.

Yet five rich Dallas-Fort Worth suburbs outrank even Honolulu—Highland Park $21,271, University Park $14,653, Richardson $14,387, Farmers Branch $13,317, and North Richland Hills $12,557.

Nearby suburbs ranking higher than Dallas itself include Carrollton $10,976, Duncanville $11,200, Euless $11,550, Garland $11,420, Grand Prairie $10,231, Irving $11,454, Lancaster $10,500, and Mesquite $10,983.

Nearby cities where the median family income is less than in Dallas are Fort Worth, Balch Springs $9,326, Greenville $8,458, and Cleburne $8,194.

Midland has the highest median income among Texas metropolitan areas with $10,457, followed by Dallas with $10,405, Houston with $10,191, and Fort Worth with $10,101.

Theme Shocking But Bunker Story Is Morality Play

By JAY SHARBUTT
 AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Archie Bunker & Co. are drawn from the hit British series, "Till Death Us Do Part." That title is based on the last promise a preacher declares them married.

Keep this in mind Saturday night. Because Archie and Edith Bunker are being asked to violate their marriage vows and, to paraphrase the old song, change partners and swing.

"All in the Family" is an unlikely forum in which to explore the phenomena of wife-swapping, but, by neddies, the show has gone and done it. And with taste, yet.

Now this definitely is the year television's ancient no-go areas — lesbianism, homosexuality, venereal disease — have been opened to the viewing public. But wife-swapping? It's such a topical newcomer that when Carroll O'Connor went on NBC's "Tonight" and warned it was coming up on his show, the entire studio audience had just one reaction: "Ooooooohh"

But they needn't worry. Saturday's show is a hard-hat morality play. It pits the traditional values of Bunker-Edith against those of a middle-aged mod couple who claim they saved their marriage through "swinging."

Both sides get together because Edith is innocent. She finds a copy of "Now Family" magazine in the subway and starts browsing in the magazine's swap section. She doesn't know about that kind of swap.

A fun-loving "mature, lonely couple" is advertising that they'd like to meet a similar couple "to swap good times." Edith answers the ad and invites them over to the house. A few scenes later the doorbell rings. Well-dressed Curtis and Ruth Rempley (Vincent Gardenia and Rue McClanahan) burst into the Bunkers' life with the cry, "Here we are!" Naturally, they befuddle Archie. When Edith explains that she answered their personal ad, he tries to make the best of it. He offers them drinks. Curtis declines with a leer: "It dulls the senses." The Rempleys don't smoke, case of the giggles when a puzzled Archie says, "Yez don't smoke, yez don't drink — what do yez do for fun?"

Reagan Obliquely Denies Claims

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan turned to parody to deny a report that he will run for the U.S. Senate when his second four term expires in 1974.

"Sen. Cranston shot an arrow into the air and like everything else he tries to do, it fell to earth and he knows not where," Reagan said at a news conference Wednesday.

His statement came in reply to a question about a remark made by Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., who said Tuesday he was convinced the governor would challenge him for the Senate.

Reagan, who has traveled twice to Asia and once to Europe on missions for President Nixon, also said he would be honored to carry out further diplomatic missions but that he has had no invitation to become a "roving ambassador."

Mrs. Lyons Honored At Shower

Mrs. Harold Lyons was honored at a bridal shower Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. L. B. Thomas, 900 Runnels. The honoree is the former Kathy Blalack. She and Lyons were married Oct. 10 in the study of Dr. Jimmy D. Law, pastor of College Baptist Church.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Preston Adams, Mrs. Bill Adams, Mrs. H. C. Blackshear, Mrs. Bill Brook, Mrs. Orville Bryant, Mrs. Bob Carlile, Mrs. Bill Draper, Mrs. Noel Hull, Mrs. Bob Zellars, Mrs. Ernest Welch, Mrs. Earl Trout, Mrs. Pete Hull, Mrs. Gorman Rainey and Mrs. Shirley Walker.

Attired in a pink street-length dress, Mrs. Lyons was presented a corsage of white gardenias. Her mother, Mrs. Bill Blalack, and her grandmothers, Mrs. Pat Blalack and Mrs. Juanita Brookshire, all received corsages of white carnations.

A white organdy and net cloth covered the serving table which was centered with an arrangement of lavender gladioli and white chrysanthemums. Milk glass appointments were used.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyons are residing at 904-E. Nolan.

Mrs. C. T. Clay Joins Beauceants

Mrs. C. T. Clay became a member of Social Order of the Beauceant during initiation ceremonies Monday evening at the Masonic Temple. Mrs. Lee Porter presided.

A letter from Mrs. H. L. Case, general chairman of the Eye Foundation, asked members to continue their support of the program and encouraged people to make use of the foundation when necessary. Mrs. Clarence W. Fagerstrom of St. Paul, Minn., recently installed supreme worthy president, also wrote to outline her program for the year.

Mrs. Porter announced that all committee chairmen must have their annual reports completed by the next meeting, Nov. 13. The meeting will include a Thanksgiving dinner for members and their families beginning at 6:30 p.m., at the Masonic Temple. Refreshments were served by Mrs. A. F. Pitts.

Catholic Women Give Views On Abortion

Twenty-five Big Spring women were among the 200 who attended the annual convention of San Angelo Diocesan Council of Catholic Women Monday in San Angelo. The theme was "For the Life of the World."

Mrs. Peter Collora, speaker during the luncheon, discussed the National Council of Catholic Laity and the local diocesan organization.

"There are two main points I want to make," said Mrs. Collora. "First the National Council of Catholic Laity is people oriented and it relates very well to the church. It has respect for institution and it is tied to the church. Secondly, it begins on the local level and goes on to the national structure. It is vigorous, very alive and very independent."

She said the goals of the group are to renew the church by renewing each person, remake the temple order, have concern for the future of the world and to have us all make history rather than have history make us.

Sister M. Regina Foppe, O.L.V.M., spoke to the group about "Christian Woman and Social Action." She encouraged members of women's groups to take part in local, state and national activities.

"I had never seen such poverty as I have seen in Texas, and I had never seen such wealth as I have seen in Texas," said Sister Foppe. "And it's in the same community. We're beginning to get the injustice out of our system, and that's why I'm in the kind of work I am in today." She told the women to take a good look at the boards in city government, the United Fund and other offices, and to take active roles in improving conditions in the state.

Mrs. R. L. Tiehen of Sweetwater was elected president of the group. Other officers elected were Mrs. Thomas McCurdy of Midland, vice president; Miss Mary Sue Brewer of San Angelo, treasurer; and Mrs. Jose Esparza of Imperial, secretary.

Following the luncheon, workshops were conducted concerning the League of Women Voters, citizens for educational freedom, the right to life and working together as a group. Resolutions were adopted to support all movements which are against abortion; to inspire diocesan women to appreciate and use their right to vote; to support proposed legislation for education; and to assist and sustain all movements aimed toward achieving justice and peace.

The women were urged to write to the President and other legislators stating their opposition to abortions, and to presidents of television networks concerning use of "R" and "X" rated movies on television.

The meetings concluded with a mass officiated by the Most Rev. Stephen A. Leven, bishop of the diocese.

Rainbow Girls Slate Halloween Festivities

A Halloween party for Order of Rainbow for Girls, Assembly 60, is scheduled Monday. Members are to meet at 6 p.m. in the parking lot behind Hemphill-Wells.

Plans for the party were announced Tuesday at the Masonic Temple by Pam Wheeler, worthy advisor. Other upcoming events include a study session from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday at the temple. A Thanksgiving dinner will be held at 6 p.m., Nov. 14 at the hall, and each member is to bring a covered dish.

Grand Cross of Color members of Rainbow are invited to an area banquet at 7:30 p.m., Nov. 10 in the Masonic hall, Odessa. Guests will include Mr. and Mrs. Victor Whitfield. She is supreme inspector of Texas and he is chairman of the Texas Rainbow executive committee. Anyone wishing to attend the banquet should contact Mrs. W. C. Fryar at 390-4538 by Nov. 1.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Gals:
Do you have trouble finding your favorite spoon or knife in your kitchen drawer?
I think you do, so get out that bright red nail polish and dab it on all the articles that you urgently need from time to time.
This helps to keep the nerves calm when you are in a hurry — no problem spotting that red! ... Love, Heloise

Dear Heloise:
As I'm a bride, I'm just beginning to collect recipes that we like. I clip a lot out of the paper. I store them all in a Manila folder.
At the front, I have categories such as main dish, appetizers, desserts, etc., with the names under the proper heading.
As I try each one, I put it on a 3x5 filing card if we like the dish, or toss it away if we don't.

This way, I can remember what my "favorite man" likes. ... B.C.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise:
After the birth of my first daughter, I found myself with very little cash and an empty cigar can. (You must have seen the pink and blue cans produced by a cigar company, bearing the greeting: It's a boy, or, It's a girl.)
With the addition of a few pink and white carnations, the message was clear — much to the delight of my wife and her visitors.
A masculine approach to a most feminine situation. ... Jim

Dear Heloise:
Have you ever done something stupid only to realize the mistake too late?
I can't buy women's pants as

I'm a 5 foot 9, and all leg, and even the tall pants shops can't fit me.

By accident, I found one pair that fit to a tee even in length. One day in a rush, I asked my husband to put the wash into the dryer. (My knit pants were machine washable but, not dryable.) Naturally, I forgot my pants were in the washer.

They came up to my knees! Oh, dear, what would Heloise do, I thought.
Well, my husband and I wet them good and stretched them until they fit again, making sure to block them on a flat surface covered with towels. Now as good as new. ... B. Coleman

Dear Heloise:
I found that when you have elastic to sew back on shorts and pants, you have to hold them tight, so I take a coat hanger and put the elastic and shorts or pants on it, and it is much easier.
The hanger stretches it out and holds it in place while you are sewing. ... Denette Huff Age 10

This column is written for you the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint or a problem write to Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald. Because of the tremendous volume of mail, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will, however, answer your questions in her column whenever possible.

Group Discusses Fabrics, Sewing

"Tale of Two Costumes" was the film shown by Mrs. T. M. Macklin, guest speaker for Howard County Young Homemakers Monday evening in the Coahoma High School home economics room.

Mrs. Macklin is a representative of a designer fabric line. She told the women how to choose fabrics that are best suited for particular patterns and styles. Various sewing hints were given which she said would give a more professional look to home-sewn clothing.

Mrs. Eddie Read presided. Members are collecting food items to be given to a local family for Thanksgiving. The next meeting is at 7:30 p.m., Nov. 27 in the Coahoma school home economics room.

Bazaar Planned At Sterling City

The Volunteer Service League for the Sterling City Nursing Home will sponsor a Harvest Festival and bazaar Nov. 4.

The event will be held downtown in the old City Cafe building from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

All types of home-prepared foods will be offered for sale, along with various types of craft work and gift items. Snack foods will be served to browsing customers.

All proceeds will be used for the benefit of the nursing home which now has 30 residents.

Mrs. Petty, Rev. Phillips Honored By Rebekahs

Mrs. Homer Petty and the Rev. Elra Phillips were presented gifts by John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge Tuesday evening for "faithful service."

Program chairman was Mrs. Ralph LaLonde, assisted by Mrs. Grady Beck and Mrs. Russell Loftis. Mrs. LaLonde and Mrs. Loftis read poems in honor of Mrs. Petty and Rev. Phillips.

Mrs. W. E. Rayburn, noble grand, presided as Mrs. Beck was elected lodge deputy and Mrs. Everett Hood was named district deputy president. New members are Mrs. Terry Vigus and Mrs. Thelma Roberts.

Mrs. Jones Lamar expressed appreciation to the group for the memorial they sent to the IOOF magazine in honor of her late husband.

Lodge instruction was conducted by Mrs. Lee Thackrey, and it was reported that proceeds from the fall festival amounted to over $160.

United Church Women Eye World Community Day

By MARJ CARPENTER
Church Women United in Big Spring will celebrate World Community Day on Friday, Nov. 3, at 9:30 a.m. in the First United Methodist Church. They will join with the young and not-so-young in thousands of other communities across the nation in a "Coming of Age Celebration." Millions of 18 to 21-year-olds will be participating in a national election for the first time and will be joining their elders in assuming full citizenship responsibilities.

They recognize that mature Christian's citizenship is never an accomplished fact, but a constant process of "Coming of Age." They welcome the idealism, vigor, and commitment to a peaceful world community that the young people bring with them as citizens come of age. Women of all churches are invited to join this united celebration, which will feature joyous songs, reminders of God's eternal promises in this season of meaningless political ones, and the sharing of dreams between old and young. Some hopes for society will be expressed by individuals during the service. World Community Day is more than just one day of special emphasis for church women.

Through offerings received on World Community Day and World Day of Prayer, which go into a fund called Intercontinental Mission, Church Women United across the nation participates in a ministry all over the world. This year, of particular concern in relation to World Community Day, are programs to train women to cope with the rapid changes in our society and to help shape new social structures.

For example, the Intercontinental Mission budget includes funds enabling the participation of minority women in a variety of decision-making conferences, major assistance to establish a program on social and economic development among women in the Caribbean, grants for self-development projects among American Indians and Spanish-speaking women, budget assistance for a Christian women's world conference on peace-building, and funds for training sessions for church women who volunteer to serve disadvantaged persons as tutors in adult basic education programs and as assistants in health care systems.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH announces that Joe Whitten, 42, has been named the new minister of music and youth. His first Sunday here will be Nov. 5. The church is aiming at a goal of 600 in Sunday School to welcome Whitten.

Born in Muskogee, Okla., Whitten has served four Southern Baptist churches over a period of 21 years including Calvary Baptist, Lubbock, First Baptist, Pampa, First Baptist, Tulsa and First Baptist, Levelland.

Churches, in a sense, are like a business in that they market a service, engage in financial transactions, have objectives, own property, communicate with the public and motivate groups.

Carnival Slated For Church Youth

All young people of the Big Spring area are invited to take part in the Halloween carnival being staged Saturday by the Big Spring Baptist Association young people.

The carnival will be at First Baptist Church with part of the booths in Fellowship Hall, and part outdoors. There will be various free booths and activities, including the traditional apple bobbing, a spooky chamber, and even a "horror" movie film.

Each local unit of CWU is involved all year long in corporate action for peace and justice. Citizen Action Task Forces work on local, national and international problems. They work in response to awareness of needs, which is sometimes sparked by the Citizen Action Plan of CWU. The three areas that are spotlighted are the needs for shaping new social structures, opening opportunities for women in transition, and for peace-building.

The Women of First Presbyterian Church, Big Spring, will be hosts to the annual meeting of District III of the Presbyteries of Tres Rios on Tuesday, October 31 at 9:30 a.m. Mrs. R. Earl Price, district chairman, will preside at the meeting and says she expects approximately 60 ladies to be present.

The annual meeting is a time of inspiration and sharing by representatives from nine churches in this area. The

L. Moodys Leave Here

Moody Sunday will be the highlight at Trinity Baptist Church this Sunday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Moody, who are leaving to go to Dun canville.

The couple came here six years ago and he served as educational director at Trinity. He has accepted a similar position with the Calvary Baptist Church in Duncanville. While there, he will also be able to attend the Arlington Baptist School and earn his master's degree in music.

The couple has two children, Tonda, 6, and Tony, 4, natives of Big Spring.

MR. AND MRS. LEONARD MOODY
... to be honored

TIME AND TALENT — This profile of Abraham Lincoln took nearly 300 hours to complete. At right, Steve Postic works on another Lincoln carving. He uses only simple tools, has been turning out wooden personalities since 1937.

Illinois Man Is Master At Carving Likenesses

Copley News Service
NOKOMIS, Ill. — He works in his kitchen beside two double windows overlooking a tomato patch.
 Arched over his right shoulder from atop the kitchen sink beams an old metal desk lamp, the kind with the jointed bendable arm stand.
 He cuts personalities into wood with a pocketknife — the fourth such tool in a 37-year line of descent. This one retains only one and one-half inches of its original three-inch blade.
 "Honing's (sharpening) what wears 'em down."
 Steve Postic, 67, has lived here in central Illinois for 22 years.
NEARLY ADORNED
 His white frame house is neatly adorned with two old wooden rockers, a "Tempus Fugit" Elgin grandmother's clock and several strikingly beautiful wood carvings.
 Postic has been carving wood profiles since 1937, when he got the idea from "an old school-maid."
 "She brought an Indian chief carving for me to see, and I wanted one like it, so I carved one," Postic recalled.
 Piercing blue-gray eyes under dark black bushy brows peer up from a chiseled face. Detailed lines like those he sets into wood curve from nose to mouth, to a chin with a hollowed-out cleft.
 And a sly grin spreads across his mouth when he gives you a dose of his witty, dry humor, tempered with playful trickery.
 "I'm a polio victim from 13 months old — they used to call it infantile paralysis. The Army said I had 33 per cent use of my hand. When I was smaller I couldn't even pick up a lead pencil in cold weather."
 Obviously proud of his progress, Postic beams. "I got the most satisfaction knowing I could do this with crippled hand."

Water Inc. Sets Member Meeting

LUBBOCK — More than 100 leaders of Water, Inc., will converge on Lubbock Saturday, Oct. 28, for the launching of the organization's annual membership drive. The kickoff meeting is slated at 2 p.m. in the Fifth Floor Meeting Room at the First National Bank.
 Featured speaker will be Dolph Briscoe, Democratic nominee for governor.
 Water, Inc., a non-profit membership-based corporation, is in the forefront of efforts to solve future water shortage problems. Formed in 1967, it now lists more than 2,200 members. Workers will be aiming at a 3,000 member goal during the campaign which continues until Dec. 15.
 Past local directors include W. E. Gibson Jr., G. C. Broughton and Sidney Clark.

Band To Plug Its Activities

A few weeks ago the Big Spring High School Band staged its half-time show under the theme, "And Now a word from our Sponsors." This evening the band will do a little plugging for its own activities.
 One routine will focus attention on the kickoff of the annual fruit cake sale Nov. 14; another will whoop up the annual bake sale Dec. 14 at Highland Mall; and still other will point to CR-73, with its ticket sales starting Jan. 2. Shuretta Ownbey, band treasurer, will narrate the ceremony of allegiance before the game, and the half-time routine will spotlight twirlers Laure Proctor, Terri Sledge and Kelly Carille to tune of the "Little Brown Jug."

Defeat Proposal 4, Sissy Says

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Rep. Frances Farenthold said Tuesday she is against allowing the Legislature to write a new Texas Constitution.
 "It is the finest American tradition... that when we need a new constitution, we elect a convention and charge its members with the task of writing it," Mrs. Farenthold said in a statement distributed here.
 The Corpus Christi Democrat urged defeat of Amendment 4 on the Nov. 7 ballot, which would empower the legislators elected then to convene in January 1974 to write a new constitution.
 "It is wrong in theory for the legislative branch to write the constitution, because the legislators will expand their own powers at the expense of the legitimate powers of the executive and judiciary branches," Rep. Farenthold said.
 She also said state representatives and senators should not write the state's basic law because "there is too much leftover corruption in the Legislature and too much control... by special interest lobbyists."

Grover Supports No-Fault Plan

HOUSTON (AP) — Republican candidate for governor Hank Grover says problems of busing, education, crime, welfare and threats of state corporate income taxes are minimized by the no-fault insurance program.

heads and now has a complete set of presidential profiles carved from sassafras wood. "Guess I just ran out of Indians," he said with his reason for choosing presidents as a subject.
OWN TECHNIQUE
 Postic has his own craftsman's technique. He begins by drawing tiny lines across the face of the profile to scale the carving. He lays a cut-out paper pattern over a two-inch-thick piece of wood to cut the outline of a head. Showing how, he clamps the piece of paper to the wood. "I use a hand saw to size the piece of wood."
 Measuring is done with a six-inch plastic ruler — "You don't scratch the wood that way. I use sandpaper and steel wool to smooth out the surface."
 "It took me 300 hours to do the first carving of a president — Lincoln. Now I'm down to 250 hours on each, a little better than one carving a year. It's a lifetime of work."
 Postic sent President Nixon a profile of himself.
 Mr. Nixon was the only carving he made while the man actually president. "I copied him out of a coin catalogue. Nixon's the 36th president, got beat then got reelected — Cleveland," Postic knowledgeably claimed. Mr. Nixon sent him a letter saying he'd added the carving to his collection of special mementos.
 "Almost went batty with my hand when I first began carving," because of the minute detail and precision needed. He worked the night shift in a coal mine and carved during the day.
 "I had to come out of the mines in 1940. These old coal miners get bad backs and short of breath — from breathin' bad air."
WAS JANITOR
 Toting boxes into the living room, he said, "It's a good thing I was a school janitor. I got these boxes to put my profiles in."
 Postic opened a box lovingly and carefully as each one must be individually unwrapped and admired. Postic gave a mini-history lesson.
 "Benjamin Harrison. He's the boy that beat Cleveland."
 "Here's old Teddy (Roosevelt) — I didn't get the specs on him. I just can't get the hang of it to get up under the glasses and carve the eyes."

"If we don't at least try to push through a statewide no-fault plan, the federal government will push it down our throats," Grover told the Rotary Club of Houston Thursday.
 "This type of coverage will at least let each driver's insurance agency worry about the driver's needs, and let the non-insured needs," Grover added.

Ginners Decline To Make Guess About '72 Crop

Most cotton ginners in Howard County decline to give estimates on the date of harvest and the anticipated cotton crop this year.
 "Due to the weather," they said, "it's anybody's guess as to when the harvest will begin. The amount of cotton depends a great deal on how the late cotton comes along and when the killing freeze arrives."
 A Martin County gin ginner commented that most farmers will probably wait for the freeze. He said that seven bales had been ginned at Lenora, but that the real beginning of the harvest would come in the last week of November.
 Smokey Greenhaw, Lenora gin ginner, estimated the Martin Co. crop to equal that of last year, but offered his guess with some reservation.
 Ted Smauley, Howard County gin ginner, guessed at the first of December for the good freeze.

The rain which the county has experienced during the past week has spoiled his estimate of county cotton production.
 "Before the rains," said Smauley, production county-wide could have been estimated at 35,000 to 40,000 bales. Now he's afraid to guess.
 Sue Hoggart, Co-op Gin, noted that hopes are high for a frost by the 15th or 20th of November.
 Co-op Gin expects to process about 6,000 bales this year, an increase over the previous year, because the crops are much better now.
 Most gins still offer cotton trailers to farmers at no cost on a first come — first served basis. Co-op Gin has auctioned to the farmers its cotton trailers, relieving the gin of maintenance responsibility.
 A check with ginners reveals an estimated 2,000 cotton trailers in the county.

Umstead Returns To Assume Post

Col. Stanley M. Umstead Jr., commander of the 3560th Pilot Training Wing at Webb, will return to the base next week from pilot-instructor training at Randolph AFB.
 He will assume active command from Col. Ronald E. Catton, who has been acting wing commander. Colonel Catton was formerly the deputy commander for operations.
 Col. Umstead has been undergoing instructor training in Northrop T-38 Talons. The program is designed to qualify pilots in all phases of flight instruction in T-38s.
 The purpose of this training, mandatory for all Air Training Command wing commanders, is to familiarize them with the training programs at their bases. They must also fly instructional flights with student pilots.
 The colonel is coming to Webb from command of the 388th Tactical Fighter Wing at Korat Royal Thai AFB, Thailand, where he had been since April 1971.

Be Sure You Vote One Candidate Alone

By JOHN EDWARDS
 Not so many years ago, voters scratched out the names of candidates or issues for whom they did not wish to vote. This furnished some sort of outlet for voters to vent their feelings and often they marked the line so hard the pencil went through the paper. Wet-dry elections practically perforated some of the ballots, Mrs. Pauline S. Petty, county clerk, recalled.

Since 1967, state law has provided for a more positive

TACLD Unit Stages Sale

The Big Spring chapter of the Texas Association for Children with Learning Disabilities is sponsoring a bake sale at College Center Safeway store Saturday.

The hours will be from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., and proceeds from the sale will go toward sending delegates to the eighth annual conference in San Antonio Nov. 16-18.

TACLD is a non-profit federated organization with 35 state councils. From a handful of parents in 1965 when it was incorporated, the unit has grown to a membership of 1,541 devoted to increasing public understanding of the problem of children with learning disabilities, also to stimulate improvement of school and community relationships in ubercoming perceptual, conceptual and coordinative learning problems.

Many More Votes May Be Counted

DALLAS (AP) — The head of the Texas Election Bureau estimated Thursday that the total general election vote in the state Nov. 7 will be between 500,000 and 700,000 more than the presidential vote in 1968.

Bob Johnson said from 3.5 million to 3.7 million persons will cast their ballots in the election, compared with the 3,078,917 who voted in Texas four years ago.

Earlier, Secretary of State Bob Bullock estimated that voter registration would total about 4.6 million.

In the 1968 election, Democrat Hubert Humphrey carried Texas by 38,960 votes over Richard Nixon, with American party candidate George Wallace obtaining 584,290 votes, or 18.1 percent.

The Texas Election Bureau is a nonpartisan, nonprofit organization set up by newspapers and later joined by television and radio stations to collect and count votes.

Bomb Detonated Following Talk

CHICAGO (AP) — A bomb exploded in a Chicago high school Thursday, injuring no one, an hour after Edward Cox, a son-in-law of President Nixon, spoke to pupils there.

"The bomb would have killed somebody if it had hit them," said John A. Gologly of the Chicago Police Department.

He described it as a small, black powder-pipe bomb about one inch in diameter. It exploded in a lobby of Lane Technical High School on the northwest side.

Cox addressed the school's student council and left the building about one hour before the blast.

Pupils were evacuated from the building after Cox left and after Lane officials said they received a telephone call warning that a bomb would explode.

Deannexation Bill Signing Monday

MIDLAND — A group of Midlanders is due to be in Austin Monday noon for the signing of a bill which opens the way for deannexation of Midland County from the Permian (Odessa) Junior College System.

The bill was passed during the recent special session and will permit deannexation election. Midland backers indicated there may be a second ballot ready for the same time to create a Midland College District and to approve $5 million for a campus.

Quickly To Scene

HUTCHINS, Tex. (AP) — When two bandits held up the W. W. Grocery here they got away with $800.

Police were quickly on the scene. The Hutchins Police Department is right next door.

way of voting. Citizens now are supposed to indicate their preference or position by marking the box beside it with a check, or plus sign.

State law, nevertheless, requires election officers to count ballots marked "by the old scratch method" if the voter's intention can be determined.

All but your choice must be scratched, of course, if you use the old way of voting. A mistake in one race does not nullify the whole ballot, though. Officials are required to count a ballot in each race where the voter's preference can be deciphered.

Failure to sign or signing only initials on a still attached voter stub invalidates the ballot altogether. Voters are supposed to sign, detach and drop the stub in the stub box.

Another mistake voters make is to mark one of the boxes at the top for voting a straight ticket, then splitting the ticket — that is voting for some of the candidates in another column. If a voter intends to split a ticket, he should not mark the "straight" ticket box.

If a name is written in a check should be put beside the name, or all other names for that office scratched out.

Should the voter mess up a ballot, he should ask the clerk for a fresh one. He is entitled up to three ballots to get it right, but three defaced ones, like strikes in baseball, means the voter is out.

Any voter may request assistance from the election judge, who is there to offer instructions or any possible aid to carry out the voter's intent.

HAVE MAIL WILL TRAVEL — James Boren sits on a horse he will use Monday when he and five others will ride from Philadelphia to Washington in a one-time effort to prove that the Pony Express is faster than the regular mail. The spook of the U.S. Postal Service is the work of Boren, former State Department employee who now is promoter of the National Association of Professional Bureaucrats.

Trick-Or-Treat Children Should Exercise Care

Halloween, Tuesday, Oct. 31, was proclaimed by Mayor Wade Choate as Trick-or-Treat Day for Big Spring.

Safety in trick-or-treating is urged by city officials. Parents are encouraged to travel with their children on spook night, said Chief of Police Vance Chisum.

The parents should always know who their children will be calling on, he added, noting that parents should be concerned about the safety of the treats their children are given on Halloween.

Carrying a flashlight on the Halloween route will aid motorists in detecting the goblins as they cross streets, Chisum advised.

Particular attention to the streets should be given by both motorists and the trick-or-treating children, he added. "A lot of kids will take the whole street," Chisum pointed out, arguing that children stay out of the streets as much as possible.

Another helpful item in maintaining a safe Halloween experience is reflective tape applied to the back and sides of Halloween costumes, Chisum said. This item can be obtained at most hardware or department stores.

A delicate approach by South in today's hand enabled him to capitalize on a slightly favorable bid of distribution to develop a crucial trick. The four heart contract reached by North and South was an aggressive undertaking; South's overall of two hearts after East opened the bidding with one spade was sound, but when his partner merely invited a game by raising to three hearts, South should have declined. He has balanced distribution with six potential losers outside of the trump suit, and it is not a reasonable expectation that partner can take care of three of them.

West opened the three of spades, East played the queen and continued with the king and ace—South ruff-

Texas Voters May Approve 4-Year Term For Governor

AUSTIN (AP) — John Connally wanted Texas voters to have four-year terms and used his powers of persuasion but failed to get it written in the constitution. It may become part of that document this year with hardly a word spoken.

Seven years ago, when Connally backed it with his popularity and political prestige, the proposal was rejected by 54,112 votes out of 503,686 cast.

It was a bold attempt and terrific struggle to try to crack nearly 90 years of tradition.

House members who called themselves a "kamikaze squad" fought an unsuccessful delaying battle for two months, one denounced it was a bid for "one-man rule." Two lawmakers had to be restrained by their colleagues on the day the final vote was taken in the House.

CRITICAL

Ralph Yarborough, U.S. senator at that time, said after the proposal was defeated that voters "have slapped down hard a greedy grab for power..."

The proposal surfaced again in the 1967 and 1969 Legislatures, but it was not until 1971 that legislators decided to submit the issue to another statewide vote this year.

If it is approved, the governor and other major elective officials who now serve for two years will get four-year terms. This would apply to the lieutenant governor, attorney general, state land commissioner, agriculture commissioner, comptroller and treasurer and also to the secretary of state, who is appointed by the governor.

Officials elected in 1974 or afterwards would be affected.

Texas' chief office holders had four-year terms for a few years following the Civil War, but two-year terms were established in the Constitution of 1876 because of that unpopular Reconstruction period and the desire to weaken state government.

BREAK-THROUGH

There was a constitutional breakthrough, however, in 1954 when an amendment established four-year terms for county and district officials.

Connally once told county judges the longer terms resulted in "increased efficiency, effectiveness and stability."

But a 1962 poll (Belden) indicated 56 per cent of Texans favored limiting the state chief executive to two terms, or four-year terms for two terms, or four-year terms for two terms, or four years.

Thirty-nine states elect governors for four years, but this figure has not changed since Texas turned down the proposal in 1965.

Supporters claim four-year terms would enable governors to spend more time on state policy and less on campaigning, would free candidates from special interest groups because campaign expenses would be reduced and would generate interest in state politics by setting the election for governor in off-presidential election years.

Chinese Gains In Health Care Are Reported

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The leader of 12 Chinese doctors visiting the United States says more than 100,000 doctors and health workers have moved from cities into rural areas in his nation to bring basic health care to millions of countrymen.

"We have achieved great progress," Dr. Wu Wei-jan told physicians, surgeons and faculty members from three Kansas City area medical schools Thursday night.

But he said medical equipment is still inadequate in quality and quantity and in some things "we must learn from your advanced experience, as well as from other countries."

In one Shanghai hospital, he said, more than 240 operations have been performed to sew back fingers and hands severed by accidents, and more than half of these have been successful.

Acupuncture involving special needles for anesthesia during surgery "is safe and effective under many conditions. But in some cases it is not satisfactory and needs to be perfected. We need to keep on with some basic research," the 52-year-old surgeon said.

For two weeks the Chinese have been visiting U.S. medical and health care institutions under the sponsorship of the Institute of Medicine of the National Academy of Sciences and the American Medical Association. Their visit will end Nov. 1 in San Francisco.

Dr. Wu said that "before liberation" in China, meaning the advent of the Peoples Republic of China, medical care was for only the wealthy, privileged few in cities, "and drugs and medical equipment had to be imported."

Now, most infectious diseases have been eliminated, and health care has been taken into the rural areas and communes, he said.

Wu said advances also have been made in saving patients with severe burns. He did not give details during his 15-minute talk, delivered in flawless English.

Chinese Gains In Health Care Are Reported

Mitchell Taxing Agencies Benefit

COLORADO CITY — Local taxing agencies this week received their biggest check in the drive to collect delinquent taxes.

A total of $33,575.37 was received by the county, city and the school district for seven years back taxes on the Baker Hotel.

The taxes for the years 1965-71 were paid by the Republic National Life Insurance Co. of Dallas to the tax attorneys for the local taxing bodies.

Attorneys had filed suit for the back taxes in February, and the suit was to have gone to trial Oct. 13.

Fewer Peanuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Peanuts held in commercial storage as of Sept. 30 were more than 1.6 billion pounds of unshelled or farmers' stock equivalent, down 9 per cent from a year ago, the Agriculture Department said Thursday.

A Church Is . . .

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a 13-year-old, and my parents force me to attend church every Sunday. I hate going to church because I see people there who I know are drunkards, gossip, liars and cheats, and they are right there every Sunday saying their prayers and singing the hymns. I don't have any respect for hypocrites and our church is full of them, my own parents included.

I am only 13, so maybe my opinion doesn't count, but I don't see any sense in my going to church with a bunch of hypocrites. ONLY A BOY DEAR ONLY: Christ became a man at 13, and you are not too young to become a man either. One goes to church to learn about the Bible and the word of the Lord, although God dwells in one's heart, and it's not necessary to "go" to church to communicate with Him. A church is not a museum for Saints, its a hospital for sinners, so "Judge not, lest ye be judged," young man.

DEAR ABBY: My son and daughter in law have a darling two-month-old baby, and they ride all over on a motorcycle with the baby strapped to the mother's back.

My son and his wife wear heavy helmets in case they fall off or get into an accident, but the baby doesn't have anything on his head. I don't like to meddle, but I mentioned this to them, and they didn't pay any attention to me.

Now what should I do?

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Mention it again! And this time explain to those foolish parents that they are exposing that child to possible injury or death! No one should ride a motorcycle unless he is protected.

And that goes for infants too!

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 69700, L. A. Calif. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.
