Airline Agent Slain By Four Sky Pirates

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — One airline employe was killed and another wounded in the hijacking of an Eastern Airlines jetliner from Texas to Cuba. The FBI identified two of the sky pirates as a former Commerce Department executive and his teenage son.

STAY IN CUBA
The father and son named by the FBI were Charles A. Tuller Jr., 44, and Bryce M. Tuller, 19. The FBI said the two also were wanted in connection with a Virginia bank holdup in which a police officer and a bank manager were killed by bandits last week.

The FBI identified a third hijacker as William Graham, 18. The fourth man was not named. All four skyjackers remained in Cuba when the jetliner, carrying 33 passengers and a crew of seven, returned to Miami from Havana.

Air piracy warrants were issued against the Tullers and Graham, and a Houston, Tex., judge set bond early today at $1 million apiece.

A burst of shots as the airliner was commandeered at Houston early Sunday took the life of Eastern ticket agent Stan Hubbard, 34, of Humble, Tex. Wyatt S. Wilkinson Jr., a 26-year-old refueler also from Humble, was wounded by two shots in the left arm.

The 727, en route from San Antonio, Tex., to Syracuse, N.Y., with stops at Houston and Atlanta, was being readied for the resumption of its flight at Houston when the hijackers struck.

DON'T KNOW
"We don't know whether the people who did the hijacking boarded here in Houston or whether they boarded at San Antonio and took action while they were on the ground in Houston," said H. C. Battaille, Eastern's Houston manager for administration and control. "We're still not sure what happened in Houston," Eastern's information officer, Jim Ashlock, said. "The gate agent may have spotted a weapon or something, but we don't know."

Ordered to fly to Cuba, Capt. Lee E. Hines, 41, of Atlanta made a 46-minute refueling stop at New Orleans. The hijackers directed a ground crewman there, Ernest Raymond, to strip to his underwear before they allowed him to approach the aircraft to refuel it.

WANTS GUARDS
The hijacked plane spent seven hours in Havana before flying back to Miami. It landed here at 2 p.m., 12 hours after the hijackers took control of it in Houston.

Hines refused to give newsmen details of what happened aboard the hijacked flight. Instead, he called on Congress and the airline industry to post armed guards at air terminals.

"There is a good possibility this hijack would never have taken place had there been armed guards there," he said. "The ticket agent might be alive today . . . if they had been."

30 PERSONS DIE

Commuter Trains Crash

CHICAGO (AP) — Thirty persons were killed today in a rear-end crash of two commuter trains on Chicago's South Side during the morning rush-hour.

Hospitals reported treating more than 200 persons for injuries.

The crash occurred while the two Illinois Central Gulf Railroad trains were near a platform station on the city's South Side, less than 10 minutes from the main downtown terminal.

A passenger on the train that initiated the collision said riders were given about 20 seconds' warning. "Everybody screamed and there was a pileup of people," she said.

Fire and police rescue crews rushed to the crash site, and as they worked with steel bars and torches to free passengers from the wreckage, screams of those trapped filled the air.

H. G. Mullins, superintendent for suburban services of IC Gulf said the lead train apparently ran past the station platform and was attempting to back up when the second train struck it.

The railroad transports about 35,000 commuters daily between the city and suburbs to the south.

The National Transportation Safety Board in Washington sent specialists to investigate on the basis of reports that the location of the crash was protected by automatic signals.

The lead train carried four new double-decker cars with each car's capacity about 155 persons, a railroad spokesman said. The rear train carried older cars, each having a capacity of about 85.

The spokesman said the cars were filled because of the rush hour.

Barbar Kukulski, a passenger in the lead car, said the rear double-decker car "just collapsed like tin foil" on impact. "There was blood all over the place."

A call for blood went out to the Chicago area to help treat the injured.

President Will Sign Benefits Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon announced today he will sign with "very great pleasure" major legislation providing an additional $5 billion in Social Security and welfare benefits.

At the same time, he said he was pocket-vetoing two measures—amendments to the Older Americans Act and a Research on Aging bill—because "both authorize unbudgeted and excessive expenditures and would also require duplications or fragmentations of effort which would actually impair our efforts to serve older Americans more effectively."

In announcing he is approving House Resolution 1—the survivor of his long-pending welfare reform proposals—Nixon noted the new law was stripped of a revised welfare system for families of dependent children.

"This is a deep disappointment to all—including the taxpayers—who are the victims of the existing welfare mess," he said.

"In the next Congress," he said, "I will renew my efforts to achieve a work-oriented welfare program that will help all deserving people on a fair and equitable basis—but which will contain firm work requirements, and will not encourage idleness by making it more profitable to go on welfare than to work."

Police Told To Enforce City's Dog Ordinance

Full prosecution of violations of the dog ordinance, is a recommendation made today by City Manager Harry Nagel to the police department.

According to Nagel, dogs have been running loose, unlicensed, "turning over garbage cans, messing up yards, chasing kids on bicycles, and in some areas it's difficult to walk down the street because of dogs."

The dog ordinance provides a $100 fine to the owner or keeper of a dog found to be in violation of one of three restrictions.

Running at-large, regardless of vaccinations or license, is a violation. A dog may be unleashed in public as long as it is in sight or control of the owner or keeper.

Slice Naval Operations Against North Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. 7th Fleet has drastically curtailed its naval operations against North Vietnam and withdrawn its cruisers and destroyers well below the 20th parallel in a further de-escalation to improve the climate for cease-fire negotiations, informants said today.

All Naval bombardment of the coast above the 29th parallel has been ended, and cruiser and destroyer strikes against the rest of the North Vietnamese coast have been limited, it was learned.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird confirmed last week that all air attacks on North Vietnam below the 20th parallel, including the areas of Hanoi and Haiphong, but he made no mention of any curtailment of naval bombardment.

Officials declined to comment today when asked if any action had been taken to deactivate the U.S. mines dropped in Haiphong Harbor. But other sources indicated no such action had been taken yet.

The 20th parallel is just above the port of Thanh Hoa, 85 miles south of Hanoi and 210 miles north of the demilitarized zone, but the farthest north U.S. ships are reported actively operating now is about 75 miles north of the DMZ.

The U.S. Command reported 120 fighter-bomber strikes in the southern pahnadle of North Vietnam below the 20th parallel Sunday and said a Navy A7 was shot down 26 miles northwest of Vinh. The pilot was listed as missing.

In South Vietnam, the land-grab war continued in anticipation of a cease-fire.

The Saigon Command claimed government forces had recaptured 15 of 21 hamlets in the Saigon region seized by North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces.

Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, the chief spokesman for the command, also reported that an airborne government force had recaptured the district town of Dak To, 25 miles northwest of Kontum in the central highlands, but he indicated the occupation might be only temporary.

Government forces lost another base 15 miles north of Dak To. Hien reported that the Dak Seang frontier camp was abandoned by remnants of a ranger battalion late Sunday night after a 1,000-round shelling that destroyed 80 per cent of the base.

The shelling was followed by a ground attack, and radio contact was lost with the survivors. A spotter plane saw a group of rangers from the base walking southward this morning.

Walker Gives Up After 217 Miles

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — A man attempting to set a new world walking record gave it up early today at the Albuquerque Academy track.

Jesus "Jesse" Casteneda had walked 217 miles on his way to the record 265.8 miles when he quit about 1 a.m., saying his feet and legs gave out on him.

Casteneda, a Spanish language teacher at the academy, began walking around the track at 8 a.m. Thursday. He said he made the attempt in an effort to raise funds for a youth center in his hometown of Auga Prieta, Sonora, Mexico, and for the Albuquerque Little League soccer program.

It was his second unsuccessful attempt. He failed on a try earlier this year.

County To Receive Initial Federal Grant In December

Howard County is to receive the first half of federal revenue-sharing grants for 1972 in the first week of December, Mrs. Virginia S. Black, county auditor, told County Commissioners Court this morning.

The other half for 1973 should arrive in January, she said. And later payments for the five years of revenue sharing are scheduled to be mailed quarterly.

Mrs. Black said she had heard conflicting reports on how much Howard County was due for 1972. The Texas Municipal League has reported Howard County is due $239,405 for 1972.

Local government officials from five states were briefed on revenue sharing at a National Association of counties meeting in Fort Worth last week.

The court indicated they approved Mrs. Black attending a meeting on revenue sharing accounting work in Austin in November.

SOME GET MORE
Local governments in states with state income taxes will get more federal revenue-sharing funds, Mrs. Black told the court.

Mrs. Black said local governments were advised against using revenue-sharing moneys to lower property taxes.

Commissioners Court should use revenue-sharing moneys so taxes will not need to be raised in the future, Commissioner William B. Crooker Jr. said in agreement with Commissioner Simon Terrazas.

Commissioner Bill Bennett said he had almost decided they should not accept the federal grants during a discussion of federal controls increasing over county governments. "I think we ought to get familiar with it before we decide whether to accept or not," Commissioner Jack Buchanan commented.

—Heard Louis Brown, one of two write-in candidates for commissioner of precinct one, ask about the correct method for writing in a name on the ballot.

SUGGESTED WAY

Mrs. Pauline S. Petty, county clerk, told the press later that those wanting to vote for a write-in candidate should not mark boxes for a straight ticket. All candidates should be marked individually when a write-in candidate is voted for.

Writing in a man's name and voting a straight ticket is the same as voting twice in the write-in's race. Whether ballots marked this way will be counted in that race is up to the presiding election judge, Mrs. Petty explained.

—Discussed installing a phone system for the Coahoma Fire Department. Bennett reported an official of the phone company there wanted the court to enter an eight-year contract. County Judge A. G. Mitchell suggested they pay a lump sum of about $1,500 instead for the equipment. This equipment is designed to ring up to 10 phones simultaneously when a fire is reported. But these phones cannot be used to phone out preventing busy signals in emergencies. Other commissioners had not encountered the same problem.

—Heard J. Mitchell request the respective commissioners contact gins at Lomax and Fairview about the county leaving fire trucks there during the ginning season. Mitchell felt this would save Howard County money for trips to and from fires. He instructed Marvin Hanson, acting

FREE HIJACKED AIRLINER Israel Is Outraged By Release Of Three

By The Associated Press
The Israeli government expressed "astonishment and disappointment" today at West Germany's release of the three Munich Olympic terrorists to Arab guerrillas who threatened to blow up a German airliner with 20 other persons aboard.
Foreign Minister Abba Eban asked for an explanation from Bonn.

Two Arabs took over the jet early Sunday on a flight from Beirut to Ankara, Turkey and Frankfurt. They demanded release of the three terrorists who survived the attack on the Israeli team at the Olympics and ordered the pilot to fly to Munich to pick them up.
The plane reached Munich after refueling stops in Nicosia, Cyprus and Zagreb, Yugoslavia, but the hijackers refused to let it land, apparently because of the police cars, ambulances and other vehicles at the airport. The hijackers then ordered the jet back to Beirut and made the pilot circle until the Germans flew the three prisoners to Zagreb.
After the freed terrorists were turned over to the hijackers, Yugoslav officials tried to bargain for the release of the passengers. But they yielded under threat and allowed the plane to refuel, and it took off for Libya.

LIBERATED HEROES
"The liberated heroes of the Munich operation and their liberators landed safely tonight," the Libyan radio announced.
The German government said the hijackers identified themselves as members of the Black September organization, the same group that claimed responsibility for the attack at the Olympics, in which 11 Israeli athletes, a Munich policeman and five of the Arab commandos were killed.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ
Q. 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠ 5 3 ♣ A J 9 8 6 3 ♦ Q 9 7 ♠ K 9 3
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♦ Pass 1 ♥ 1 ♠
2 ♣ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A—In view of the fact that partner has shown a strong hand by his free bid, we feel disposed to give him another chance. We do so in a mild way by returning to his first suit with a call of two diamonds. If partner is unable to set again, over the two diamond bid, the chance for game will not be bright.
Q. 2—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠ 5 2 ♣ A Q 4 2 ♦ 8 ♠ K J 8 7 4
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♦ Pass 1 ♥ Pass
1 ♠ 2 ♦ ?
What do you bid now?
A—Partner should be given the courtesy of the lead. When an opponent makes an attempt to bid your partner's suit, you should afford him an opportunity for a penalty double. You have a potential trump in your hand. With partner bidding diamonds and spades, it is likely that he can support neither of your suits. Pass and await developments.
Q. 3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠ A Q 4 ♣ J 9 7 6 5 ♦ A K Q 9
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South
1 ♥ 4 ♦ ?
What do you bid?
A—The interest here has made scientific bidding impossible. The recommended procedure is to bid a game on a spade, which at worst should depend on a spade. Bid 4♥ hearts or you may employ Blackwood first as a check.
Q. 4—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠ K 9 7 4 2 ♦ 7 3 2 ♦ 6 3 ♠ Q 4 2
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
Pass 1 ♦ Pass 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♥ Pass 4 ♦ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A—The you have presumably shown the full value of your hand by your reverse bid of two hearts, you should nevertheless bid five clubs to show the ace. The fact that you have such splendid controls should induce you to take this aggressive act. Remember, partner has jumped with only one ace and at best the king and jack of diamonds.

TERROR
Eban told the German ambassador, Jesco von Puttkamer, Bonn's "surrender" to the Arab guerrillas "constitutes a weakening of the international stand against terror."
Israeli newspapers called Bonn's compliance with the hijackers' demands shameful, dangerous and disgraceful. But a West German spokesman said Chancellor Willy Brandt's government felt the Israeli reproaches were "absolutely unjustified."

Pushing Utah Plane Search
PRICE, Utah (AP) — Search planes sat on the ground in snow and frustration all weekend, unable to search for a light plane missing since Oct. 11 with four Texans aboard.
Dean W. Holdaway of the Utah Civil Air Patrol said the search would resume today if the weather opened up. It had been snowing since Saturday and too cloudy to search since Friday in the eastern Utah area.
The National Weather Service predicted gradually clearing weather for today.
The single-engine plane left Cortez, Colo. for Salt Lake City with pilot Harold McCollum, 53, Dimmitt, pastor of the Hart Church of Christ; and J. C. Jackson, 43; C. C. Haines, 47; and Mart Booe, 41, all elders of the Hart church.
Late last week planes thought they might have spotted wreckage of the white plane in the Utah mountains. Ground crews searched for days and found a house trailer which had blown off a road in high winds several years ago.

Lousy Loser

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren
FOUR people are coming! We call them up and ask who they are, and they tell us they are bringing their two children.
Abby, we love children, but not at the wedding reception. Please help us!
BRIDES MOM
DEAR MOM: The printer was correct. All you can do is tell those who advise you that they are bringing their children that you are sorry, but you have not planned on children at the wedding reception and hopefully they will get the message — and a sitter!

DEAR ABBY: I am a 33-year-old wife and mother. I've always been a good tennis player. My husband tries hard to keep up with me. Whenever we've played tennis with friends, I've considered his pride and have never beaten him in a singles game before a crowd, for which he's been grateful.
For some strange reason, I recently decided to show him up, and beat him unmercifully before our friends. I don't know why, but I did it, knowing full well what I was doing to his pride.
Since then, nothing has been the same between us. No cross words were spoken, but we both know that I humiliated him intentionally, and he has not forgiven me for it. It's so serious that he hasn't made love to me in two months.
I do love him, Abby. He's kind and attractive, and a woman wouldn't want a better husband and father. Besides that, he's a wonderful lover, and I need a lot of love.
Now I am furious with myself. Should I apologize? I'm afraid to even mention that tennis game. How do I get things back to normal?
UPSTATE WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Bring up the incident that's been gnawing at both of you, talk it out, and plan the air change as you for intentionally humiliating him, but shame on him for having allowed you to lose to him in order to salvage his pride. He may be a wonderful lover, but he's a lousy loser.

DEAR ABBY: I need an answer soon. My 18-year-old daughter still wets the bed. She is very pretty and just announced her engagement to one of the finest young men in the community.
No one would ever suspect she has this problem. We have tried everything. Years ago the doctor said there was nothing physically wrong with her and she would outgrow it, but she hasn't. Is there anything we can do to get her over this in a hurry, or is it hopeless? She is planning a December wedding and she's afraid to get married.
DESPERATE MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: She should visit the doctor again for a complete examination. If she's physically sound, her problem could be emotional — and it's not hopeless. (P.S. She should tell her fiancé about her problem. He probably won't believe her, but at least he can't say he wasn't warned.)

Starch Eater

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Doctor: I am a woman 22 years old with three children. I eat an eight-ounce box of laundry starch each day.
I have always eaten it off and on, but for the last four months it's gotten to a box in a day and it's like I'm on dope!
If I don't have any at home I get real nervous until I get to the store and open the box for a taste even before I get back home.
My weight has jumped from 138 to 156 in the last two months.
What's the matter with me? — Mrs. L.F.B. Pica.
Any abnormal appetite such as yours comes under that heading.
Not too strangely, the condition is often associated with anemia, and no wonder.
The eating of starch at the expense of other foods such as proteins, fruits and vegetables is bound sooner or later to have its effects.
Treatment of anemia usually ends the craving, although in your case, from your description of it, a lot of will power will be required also.
Starch contains about 1,600 calories to the pound, so do I have to say more about your weight gain? You may also have a low blood sugar which also would produce a desire for carbohydrates. This could account for the escalation of your starch hunger.
It too could be corrected by more protein and a better balanced diet.
You should not feel the least bit hesitant about seeing your doctor.
Tell him all about your starch habit and he will help you onto a better diet. You will also be able to get a reading on your blood situation, which ought to be investigated.
Dear Dr. Thosteson: Do you recommend surgery or stripping varicose veins? What are the results? Are there any after effects? About pregnancy? Will this cause new ones to break out? — Mrs. E.S.
There are a couple of your questions that aren't quite clear to me. Surgery or "stripping" are the same thing. The "stripping" is accomplished by making two small incisions, one above the varicose vein, one below, and then drawing or "stripping" the vein out lengthwise, so only two small scars remain afterward.
No particular after effects. But getting rid of the varicose

Bad Weather Delays Hunt For Plane

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Snow and poor visibility have forced temporary cancellation of the hunt for the missing light plane carrying House Democratic Leader Hale Boggs and three others.
A spokesman at the Rescue coordination Center at Elmendorf Air Force Base said Sunday night that 35 planes were ready to resume the search as soon as weather permitted. But the National Weather Service predicted more of the same conditions which kept all but two Coast Guard planes on the ground Sunday.
For the first time since the search began Oct. 16, no Air Force planes were aloft Sunday. Light snow, fog and a 1,000-foot ceiling were reported — the worst weather conditions since the Cessna 310 disappeared on a flight from Anchorage to Juneau.
Aboard the plane were Boggs, 58; Alaska Democratic Congressman Nick Begich, 40; Russell L. Brown, 37, a Begich aide, and the pilot, Don E. Jonz, 38.

Wild Welcome For Pop Group

LONDON (AP) — An American pop music group, the Osmonds, has arrived in Britain for a short tour to a rousing welcome by some 5,000 teenagers.
Many of the British youngsters who greeted the Osmonds at London's Heathrow Airport on Sunday, had slept at the air terminal overnight to catch a glimpse of the Americans.

Better Stop

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM
PART WAY: (Q.) My boy friend and I go pretty far, and we have fun, but we stop short of sex. My problem is that I don't get "aroused" as he does.
Do boys get more excited than girls? Or am I supposed to have a special feeling? He is 18 and I am 17. We have been going together almost a year. — Not Excited in New Jersey.
(A.) Some contend that boys get more aroused than girls, but this is not necessarily so. Your not getting turned on by the boy you are going with indicates to me that you do not care enough for him to be attracted to him physically. Really caring is important where sex is concerned.
Experimenting as you and he seem to be doing, is often disappointing. I urge you to stop it. If you don't, you may go over the edge some day or night and find yourself in deep trouble.
AGAIN? (Q.) Tom and I broke up last summer because he was going to be gone all three months. He is back now and we are in school and he smiles at me and says "Hi!" but that is all.
I still like him. I got my girl friend to ask him if I still liked me and he told her no. Then I wrote him a note telling him I still like him.
He did not answer the note but he still smiles at me. What do you think? — Trying in Texas.
(A.) I think you have been going at it the wrong way with messages and notes. Get his attention with YOU. Talk to him yourself. If he doesn't want to be bothered with you any more, he will be cool. If he does he will be warm.

Briscoe Likely To Help Ticket

Because of the ranching background of Dolph Briscoe, the wide-open spaces of Texas have been loosely dubbed as Briscoe Country, and by and large this has been true this year. There is no indication but what Briscoe, the Democratic nominee, will carry this area by a wide margin despite predictions of an equally pronounced margin for President Nixon on the Republican ticket.

This, of course, would be good news to others on the Democratic ticket who might benefit from habitual Democratic voters getting back into the Demo column on the ballot.

Dolph Briscoe looms as a fresh personality on the Texas political scene. It has been something like a score of years since he labored in the Texas House of Representatives as a bright young political star tutored by Cactus John Garner. Instead of pursuing a career in politics he retired to the management of the family ranches only to emerge two years ago as a relative unknown who ran a good third for governor. This year, with voters in his party ready for a change, he captured the gubernatorial nomination convincingly.

He has been called as a liberal legislator in his day and as a conservative now, as a vasculator who dabbled between the militant McGovernites and the strident Wallacites at the national Democrat convention and pleased neither. The easier course would have been to hold out for a third candidate until the storm blew itself out. Yet, it seems to us that this incident illustrated that Briscoe has the capacity to communicate with both sides and be a conciliator, someone who is a proven business man yet a willing listener to labor; a man of means, beholden to none but who recognizes the plight of the poor; a member of a heavy majority who can work effectively with all members of the legislature. These seem to us ample reasons why he should be the choice for governor.

An Army Of New Voters

Voter registration may be as many as 5.5 million Texans this year, which would be approximately 70 per cent of those who are eligible to register.

That estimate by Secretary of State Bob Bullock is based on counties that have reported and a projection of last year's registrations from unreported counties. With registration open later under the new rules, 1.5 million more apparently have qualified to vote this year than last.

Registration this close to election day indicates new voters are planning to exercise their franchise on Nov. 7. The sharp increase of 1.5 million more eligible voters for this year over last is partly due to the lowered voting age — 18 — in effect this year. That means three age groups (18, 19 and 20) are first-time voters this year instead of only the 21-year-olds.

With one week to go in the campaign, public attention begins to sharpen on issues and candidates as voters make up their minds. In the interest of majority rule in America, one can hope a high percentage of the record number of voters will actually cast a ballot.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

Through hard work and careful planning my husband and I bought a home in a lovely neighborhood with good schools. Now, under local laws, our children are being bused to distant, undesirable schools several miles away. It takes two or more hours for them to make the trip. It has taken the spirit out of me, and I have not attended any school activities, or shown any interest. Is this unchristian?

S.D.C. Busing is a desperate, perhaps temporary attempt to achieve a more equitable racial balance in our schools. Our nation's leaders are divided upon its effectiveness and practicality. People of both races are complaining about the inconvenience of busing, and the probability is that the system will be changed again and again. The important thing is that everyone seems to be trying for a solution to this difficult problem, and that is all to the good.

Regarding your attitude of detachment toward the new school situation, I believe you are wrong. The schools need parental interest and concern more than ever. Then, too, children quickly take on the attitudes held by their parents, and this would hardly make the situation better.

Visit the new school your children attend. Meet the teachers, and share your concern and interest. Teachers have their problems, too, and so do the students. This is a time of general anguish in our educational system, and our schools need all the help, support and understanding they can get. Don't let your children down. They are the hope of our future, and apathy is one of their greatest enemies.

Nixon On Schools

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — President Nixon's speech to the nation over radio on Wednesday, though supposed to be "political," might well have been addressed to the session of Congress which will meet in January. For Mr. Nixon was concerned about what is going to be done in the field of education when the new Congress assembles here to begin its legislative tasks.

THE PRESIDENT pointed out that under this administration the federal government's contribution to education increased from $9 billion in fiscal year 1969 to $15.7 billion for fiscal year 1973. He added:

"But money is only part of the answer. Too often over the years, the American taxpayer has seen millions of tax dollars poured into education programs that did not work because not enough thought and planning went into them. Much of the resistance to the imposition of more taxes today is the result of rightful dissatisfaction at the way present tax revenues are being spent.

"Three times I have said 'no' to excessive education spending legislation. In each case, I did so because I believed the added tax burden would have far outweighed the benefits to be derived by the program.

"IN EACH CASE, the question was not whether to increase worthwhile spending on education, but how much to increase it. I believe that in those three cases the amounts proposed by the Congress were more than the public could afford to pay, and the amounts I proposed were in balance with both our educational needs and the economic well-being of the American taxpayer."

The President referred to the top priority that had been given to the development of career education in the high schools. He noted that the amounts of loans and grants to college students have been increased so that $4 billion in federal assistance now is available.

MR. NIXON spoke of the needs of the nonpublic schools which have served the nation by providing millions of American children "with a moral code and religious principles by which to live." He asserted that he is determined to guarantee parents their freedom of choice in selecting schools. He supported in the last Congress a tax credit on tuition for parents of children attending non-public schools and is resolved to seek similar tax-credit legislation in the next Congress since the 92nd Congress didn't act. He gave this explanation:

"In my judgment, the Constitution does not prohibit tax inducements to encourage and maintain diversity in American education — and I am prepared to fight to guarantee that that diversity remains in America."

ON THE subject of forced busing, the President declared:

"Another fundamental element of American education which goes back to our beginnings is the neighborhood school. The neighborhood school is the focal point of community involvement. It binds together students, parents and school administrators. It brings out the best in all of them.

"No one profits by the confusion and resentment that is generated when whole school systems are disrupted by the forced busing of school children away from their neighborhoods. The answer to inequities in our educational system is to spend more money on learning and less money on forced busing.

"QUALITY EDUCATION for all and an end to racial discrimination are goals that we seek, and we seek them both. The way to achieve them is to eliminate unlawful discrimination, and to make a special effort to improve the quality of education in the disadvantaged areas. That is the policy that I am committed to as president. The emergency School Aid Act, recently enacted, authorizes $2 billion of new money to help meet the special problems of desegregating the nation's schools."

Peace Good For Market?

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Will peace be good for the stock market? Analysts almost invariably believe it will be, at least in the short run. A cease fire grows closer there seems to be a tendency to discount the positive impact.

It will be there, almost all agree, but some analysts seem inclined to believe it will be a muted rather than a sharp explosion, more like the uplift from an underground detonation.

The market will rise, they say, more from a sense of relief that a burden has been removed. It will be the change of public psychology as much as any rearrangement of economic factors in a postwar world, they argue.

Pro. Paul Samuelson, the Nobel Prize winning economist believes for example, that relieved investors might express their hope in the future by raising the price-earnings ratios of stocks.

The P-E ratio, as most investors know, is an estimate of the future. If investors are confident of the economy's strength or of the future of a certain company, they are willing to pay more per share for a piece of the action.

Other observers believe a cessation will mean that many thousands of investors who deserted the market in the past few years will be inclined to return.

In the strictly economic sense, the impact will be more long than short-range. In all probability the war's end will give the country a further chance to bring back economic stability. But it isn't likely to give a sudden injection of funds into the civilian economy as was believed a few years ago. In effect the dividend has already been spent.

To explain: The Vietnam war isn't ending suddenly. If it did then perhaps there would have been a cash bonus. Instead the war has been wound down over a period of years. The $25 billion war of 1968 is a $8 billion war in 1972.

There is a bright side to this also, and it's that the market isn't likely to be plagued by a postwar recession or adjustment. That too is behind us. The 1971 recession was that adjustment.

Sam Nakagama chief economist of Kidder Peabody & Co. puts it in these words: "The adjustment is already in and we've paid the price. The negative adjustment has taken place; now it is mainly positive."

Feet Trouble Many People

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

One of the commonest health problems affecting Americans today is foot trouble. Podiatrists estimate that 85 per cent of us over 35 have some maladjustment of the feet. Wrong shoe styles and increased dependence on the automobile are among the chief factors blamed.

Vermont still has a few old round barns and puzzled tourists often ask why they were built in such an odd shape. Explained one Vermont farmer: "They built them round so the devil couldn't corner them."

Few people who leave money are in a hurry for their heirs to collect. But probably the most ingeniously annoying will ever written consisted of a series of envelopes, one within the other, and each marked, "To be opened 12 months from today."

When the last envelope was opened, 10 years after the death of the testator, the relatives, who had already been kept on tenterhooks for a decade, learned that the fortune they coveted was to be left to accumulate for 100 years before being distributed.

Prosperity note: Each year holders of winning tickets totaling $1 million at the nation's horse racing tracks fail to cash them. Most of the tickets are tossed away by mistake.

The high cost of sports: "Each year some 17 million people are hurt badly enough to need a doctors care while participating in sporting events," says Dr. James A. Nicholas, an orthopedist for the New York

Securities Have Best Year Ever

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Fiscal year 1972 was the best year on record for the Texas securities industry, the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas reported Saturday.

The year which began Sept. 1 should show continued growth, but not at as high a rate as 1972, said the report by Dr. Ernest W. Walker, finance professor at UT-Austin.

New securities registered for sale in Texas were valued at $1.1 billion in 1972, an increase of 42 per cent over the fiscal year 1971 figure.

Renewals, or securities that were not sold during the first 12 months after initial registration, increased less than 2 per cent from 1971, to $476 million. The report said the small increase was "an encouraging trend," since a high volume of renewals traditionally indicates a weak market.

Omar Burleson

WASHINGTON, D.C. — It is anyone's appraisal whether the 92nd Congress, just concluded, was a "do-something" or "do-nothing" one.

THERE IS A VAST difference, of course, in the quantity of legislation enacted and its quality. Insofar as quantity is concerned approximately 240 measures have been passed which may be considered as major with many, many others considered of less importance nationally. These latter measures had to do with amending certain laws and some apply to specific cases and areas of the country.

For the last several years, the emphasis has been on legislation dealing with social and educational matters, including health.

IN THE FIELD of health, near $4 billion has been provided in new laws to train more family doctors and nurses. The sum of $1.5 billion has been provided to find cures for cancer.

In addition, money has been provided for research on several types of anemia control, multiple sclerosis research, communicable disease control, heart, blood vessel, and long disease research. The Vocational Rehabilitation Act, providing new aids to the severely handicapped and other disabled persons, is extended.

ADDED TO the present Higher Education Act is a system of Basic Education Opportunity Grants; a program of direct institutional aid to colleges and universities and grants for occupational and vocational education, including what is known as the National Institute of Education, which proposes to develop new and better methods of teaching at every level from pre-school to post-graduate.

The Head Start program was broadened to include children of working families in the voluntary day care program.

VETERANS EDUCATION assistance was considerably increased and provides for vocational rehabilitation for returning veterans. In addition educational benefits were increased by 25 per cent and provisions were made for increases in medical care as well as a boost by 10 per cent in benefits for disabled veterans.

Benefits were increased for an estimated 20 million senior citizens such as nutritional meals for those who need them, low-cost transportation, employment opportunities, community centers, pre-retirement training, health and education services, and centers to study the variety of problems facing older people.

DRUGS, JUVENILE delinquency and crime were treated in numerous pieces of legislation. Principally, they are the establishment of a National Institute on Drug Abuse, increasing funds on specific projects under the Community Health Centers Act, providing grants to states to develop a new drug abuse program, establishing a Council for Drug Abuse Strategy and the requirement for federally funded health facilities to provide needed treatment for drug addicts.

A number of bills were passed relating to consumer protection — truth-in-lending, wholesale meat and poultry inspection, truth-in-packaging, automobile safety, toy safety and fair credit reporting, to name a few.

Protection of the environment received high priority in the Congress. A measure entitled "The Water Quality Standards Act" provides $24.6 billion towards cleaning up the Nation's water. A far-reaching measure towards controlling air pollution and conservation of our resources and wildlife is another major enactment.

Home Picketing

Henry's plan to open a tavern in a suburban neighborhood raised the hackles of nearby residents. One afternoon, several men showed up at his house with protest signs and began to picket.

EQUALLY INCENSED, Henry went to court for an injunction against this "intrusion into my private life." At the hearing, the picketers insisted they were mainly exercising their right of free speech.

But the court sided with Henry and issued an injunction.

"THE HOME is a retreat from outside affairs," said the judge. "When the right of free speech is weighed against the right to privacy, the balance favors the privacy of the home."

Courts generally have concurred in placing a high value on the home as a privileged sanctuary from strife.

NEVERTHELESS, residential picketing has sometimes been allowed under special circumstances — such as the fact that the occupant of the house is a public official.

Thus, the picketing of a governor's home by a civil rights group was upheld in court. The judge said the picketers "had a legitimate right, protected by the Constitution, to appeal to those in authority for redress."

AND THE picketing of a landlord's home by disgruntled tenants was sustained on the ground that he had no other known headquarters where they could vent their feelings.

Of course, even if picketing itself is considered lawful, it may still be condemned because of the manner in which it is done.

In another case, the home of a hospital executive was subjected to mass picketing by boisterous marchers. Furthermore, they flaunted signs that were plainly libelous. This time, a court held the picketing unlawful.

"CONDUCTED at a considerable distance from the hospital," said the judge, "in a residential area, it was apparently aimed to cause humiliation and mortification to the victim and his family. It represents a form of direct and unmitigated coercion, a foul blow."

A Devotion For Today

As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you; abide in my love. (John 15:9, BSV)

PRAYER: Father, only we ourselves can block Your love from us. Forgive us when we do this. Help us to move up closer and feel the warm and wonderful communication of Your love. In the name of our Savior, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

Indian Finds Texas Big But Appealing

A petite young lady from a country that measures almost 100 times smaller than the state of Texas is visiting in Big Spring and finds the massive-west of Texas appealing.

"I feel at home here already," said Premia Bradhan after only a week in Big Spring. Miss Bradhan is a native of Sikkim, one of three small Himalayan countries slightly northeast of India. Few people in Sikkim or India have ever heard of Big Spring, but Miss Bradhan was quite familiar with the city before arriving here.

A close friendship developed between Miss Bradhan and Miss Pat Wiley, a Big Spring native, while the latter worked on a special dairy project for the American Embassy in India. Miss Wiley has lived in India off and on for the past six years, but she was born and reared in Big Spring, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Wiley, 2400 Robb. She talked about her home town until Miss Bradhan finally said "I want to see for myself."

After the red tape of arranging for visas and passports, Miss Bradhan is now seeing Big Spring for herself, as well as many other parts of the country.

In New York City she was awed by the skyscrapers, and already has the attitude of many Americans that "it would be fun to spend a couple of weeks there, but I wouldn't want to live there. The buildings are so tall they seem to form a wall around you," said Miss Bradhan. "Everything is so high you can't see anything."

Washington, D.C., was far more pleasing for her. She liked the greenery and colorful gardens which reminded her somewhat of India. When Miss Bradhan moved from Sikkim to India she began a handicrafts shop specializing in mirrors and jewelry. She learned from some Indian gypsies who wore the small decorative mirrors as jewelry. She took the mirrors and attached them to pillows, pictures and cloth jewelry and taught many Indian peasant women the art. In addition, she made hand-sewn landscapes, people and animals into colorful pictures for wall hangings.

Miss Bradhan doesn't know how long she'll remain in the United States. She said there is a lot she still wants to see, and is amazed at how fast you can get from one place to another.

"We went to San Angelo the other day and just drove of doing things," said Miss Bradhan. "There's an old saying that the British invented red tape, and the Indians perfected it." She majored in English at the university and speaks the language better than many Americans do. She also knows many of the slang expressions commonly used here.

India is, however, a pretty country. It is mountainous and green, and the people are colorful in their dress. Schools are organized under the "Cambridge" system used in England where 14 years of total schooling equals the 16 years it takes to obtain a college degree here.

"Everything is pretty much patterned after the British way see before I go back."

History Of Texas Is Outlined

"Home life of the Indians was disrupted by the coming of the white man," said Mrs. Charles Sweeney to members of Woman's Forum, Friday in the home of Mrs. Arnold Marshall, 700 Highland. "Settlement in Texas began a clash of cultures, and Washington sent cavalry to aid the settlers in dealing with the Indians."

Mrs. Sweeney's program, "Inlaws and outlaws in Texas," verbally guided the women through Texas history from the coming of the Spanish through the Indians' troubles to the blazing of the Buffalo trails. She said the Texas Rangers were organized to control the outlaws after the cattle drives began to be the builders of Texas economy. Roads for the stage coaches and cattle were made, and eventually the "iron horse" came to make Texas more accessible.

Each person in the club was asked to tell their home state, and Mrs. Sweeney granted "amnesty" to all those who were not native Texans.

Mrs. Joe Pickle presided, and Mrs. Pete Warren was cohostess.

Friendship Class Meets For Lunch

Friendship Class of Wesley United Methodist Church held its monthly luncheon and business meeting Friday at the Church of God, 603 Tulane, and members agreed to contribute $5 to the United Fund.

Mrs. J. E. Peters read the poem, "Met God in the Morning." Invocation was by Mrs. E. R. Corcoran, devotion was by Mrs. J. W. Brigrance. The daily creed was led by Mrs. Alta King.

Two Assume Office On Girl Scout Board

Two vacancies on the executive board of the Girl Scout Senior Planning Board were filled at a meeting recently at Colorado City State Park.

Elected to the board were Miss Paula Parks, vice president; and Miss Lynn Leavell, secretary-treasurer, both of Snyder. Activities for the coming year were discussed. Tentative plans were made for a Senior Scout conference and a skiing trip. More details will be announced later.

It was agreed that executive officers present for board meetings may vote on issues if their vote is necessary to provide two votes for the troop they represent. It was also agreed that representatives of three troops will constitute a quorum for voting.

Knott Neighbors Haye Reunion

A group of women who have lived in Knott during the past or who presently live there, met for the 1972 annual neighbors reunion Friday in the home of Mrs. Clem Shanks, 1403 E. 18th, Big Spring.

About 25 women attended the salad luncheon affair, and spent the afternoon reminiscing about the years when they were neighbors. Decorations were done in a Halloween motif.

The 1973 reunion will be held the last week in October in the home of Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins, Knott.

State's Six Banners Fly High In History

"Texas is the only commonwealth that was an independent republic before it joined the union," said Mrs. H. M. Rowe in her program, "Texas under Six Flags," presented to Modern Woman's Forum Friday at the home of Mrs. A. C. Bass, 106 Washington.

"The history of the Lone Star State is filled with romantic episodes, colorful events, daring undertakings and real heroism," continued Mrs. Rowe. "Today, Texans point with pride to the six flags that have flown over their state."

In the early 1500's, Spanish adventurers flew the first flag over Texas and saw the state "as a quiet giant still asleep," according to Mrs. Rowe. The territory was claimed by France in 1685 when La Salle landed here and brought the second flag to fly over the area. The state's third flag came in 1821 when Mexico separated from Spain and according to the terms of a settlement, Texas became part of the Republic of Mexico.

"On March 2, 1836, Texas declared their independence, and for 10 trouble-filled years Texas held her own as an independent republic," said Mrs. Rowe. Her first national flag was azure with a central golden star which gave the state its nickname.

"The northern states rebuffed Texas because of slavery," said Mrs. Rowe, but in 1845, after bitter controversy, Texas was admitted to the United States. Her "Lone Star" flag was lowered and the Stars and Stripes became her fifth flag.

When the Civil War came, Mrs. Rowe said Texas seceded and joined the Confederacy which gave her its sixth flag, the "Stars and Bars." This war was eventually over and the "Stars and Stripes" were returned," said Mrs. Rowe. "Texas settled down to grow and take its rightful place in national affairs."

Mrs. Harwood Keith continued the program by outlining Spanish influence on Texas, which she said is evident when one visits southern cities and notes that about 80 per cent of the population is of Spanish or Mexican descent.

"The rare style of architecture found in churches, homes and public buildings is evidence of Spanish influence," said Mrs. Rowe. "Many sections of America are supplied with bananas, oranges, pineapple and limes that are grown in abundance by the Spanish people in the southern part of our state," Mrs. Keith described some of the colorful celebrations held annually to honor Spanish heroes and battle conquests.

The group then discussed the influence of Blacks on Texas, noting that John Saunders Chase was the first black graduate of a Texas university and became the first black architect registered in Texas. He has since designed many homes and public buildings in Houston. The women agreed that blacks have shown a keen interest in local and state improvements and have played a vital role in over-all growth of Texas.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Hayes Stripling Sr. and Mrs. W. G. Wilson. Mrs. H. M. Rowe presided. The next meeting will be at 3 p.m., Nov. 10 in the home of Mrs. T. G. Adams, 507 Johnson, with Mrs. Keith as cohostess.

LITTLE CHANCE PENDING PEACE PACT WILL FALL APART

Agnew Doubts Agreement Will Be Signed By Deadline

WASHINGTON (AP) —

President Spiro T. Agnew says the United States won't be ready to sign a Vietnam peace agreement by Tuesday, but doesn't think this will prevent an agreement "in due course."

"There is no question about the principal parts of the agreement," Agnew said Sunday. However, he added there "are just a few matters to be made 'crystal clear' between the parties before it can be made final."

WORKED OUT
South Vietnam's foreign minister, Tran Van Lam, said sign with North Vietnam with draws its troops from the South and until there is agreement on the exact role of a proposed National Council of Reconciliation and Concord which is supposed to maintain a cease-fire and supervise elections.

A tentative peace agreement to end the long war was worked out in Paris in negotiations between presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger and North Vietnamese envoys. North Vietnam is demanding that it be signed in Paris on Tuesday, claiming the United States earlier agreed on that date.

The proposed agreement does not provide for withdrawal of North Vietnamese troops from the South, although U.S. forces would be withdrawn within 60 days after the agreement is signed. War prisoners in Indochina would be released in the same 60-day period.

FEW DETAILS
Kissinger has said one additional negotiating session of three or four days will be required to work out a few details before the agreement can be signed.

A statement today by Hanoi's official newspaper said the United States has only "two choices," to sign the agreement worked out in Paris, or face intensified war. Viet Cong forces have mounted widespread new attacks throughout the South in recent days.

Other Communist countries, including Russia, joined in Hanoi's demand for a quick signing. Pravda said there is no justification for a delay in signing.

Pope Paul VI expressed hope Sunday that the agreement would bring true peace, adding: "We are now waiting for the great news of the truce of weapons and afterward that of a fraternal peace."

Agnew said on ABC's "Issues and Answers" program that he didn't think "anything will be signed Tuesday." He also said there is no substantial disagreement, and "I don't think the chance of it (the agreement) becoming unstuck is very great."

He said he does not think President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam will block the agreement.

However, there seemed to be major disagreement over the question of North Vietnamese troops remaining in the South. The South Vietnamese foreign minister, Lam, said today that "the North Vietnamese troops have to withdraw back to North Vietnam."

MAKE IT CLEAR
But pressed on this point Sunday, Agnew said the United States had withdrawn its earlier insistence on a North Vietnamese withdrawal because Hanoi had dropped its demand for "an imposed coalition government and the dismantling of the Thieu government entirely."

The agreement now provides, he said, that "the country remains effectively under the control of its elected officials, the Thieu people . . ."

Lam also expressed concern over the National Council of Reconciliation and Concord that would be set up. He said Hanoi interprets it as "a disguised form of a coalition government."

"In the Vietnamese way, they said it is a government structure, while on the American side you understand it is an administrative structure. So it has to be made clear," he said.

Peace Settlement Too Late For Odessa Hero

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — For Ronnie D. Beets, any peace settlement in Vietnam is too late.

For him, the war ended in a fierce battle near Chu Lai in the summer of 1967. But he continued to fight for his life in hospitals in Japan, San Antonio and Long Beach.

Months later, it seemed he had won his battle to survive and the Army discharged him. He was a paraplegic, but alive and filled with vitality and a desire for a college degree and a family.

WAR WOUNDS
But war wounds don't always end easily, and for Ronnie Beets, luck ran out Thursday in a hospital in Odessa, Tex. He died of the lingering after-effects of the Viet Cong grenade that tore through his stomach and shattered his spine.

The Beets family gathered over the weekend at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Beets of Oklahoma City. They include his widow, the former Marilyn Farley of Oklahoma City, and his 6-year-old son Ronald and 4-year-old daughter Rebecca and a brother, Bill.

Ronnie Beets was a paratrooper and machinegunner in the 101st Airborne Division in Vietnam. His brother recalls Ronnie's story of what happened the day he was wounded.

KNOCKED OUT
Ronnie was hit and his machinegun was knocked out. Then, he was hit by rifle fire. But he put his gun back in action and fired 2,000 rounds before it jammed.

His wounds were so severe he could not be evacuated immediately and was held in a field hospital for seven days before being sent to Japan.

A month later, Ronnie came home, but to a hospital in San Antonio. Three months after that, he was moved to a hospital in San Diego. Eight months later, he was well enough to be discharged.

SWEETHEART
Ronnie attended the University of Oklahoma for a time, then went back to Odessa, where he had graduated from high school, and married his childhood sweetheart.

A few days ago, Ronnie's war wound caused an intestinal blockage that sent him back to the hospital, where he died before hearing the news that a cease-fire may be imminent in Vietnam.

Funeral services for Ronnie Beets will be held today in his native Anadarko, Okla.

His brother says Ronnie "was glad he went and he didn't hold it against the United States just because he got wounded."

The ex-soldier's mother feels the loss of her son, of course, but Bill says "she'd rather see it end now so none of her grandkids will have to go over and fight."

Frank Henderson McDowell was inaugurated formally Saturday as president of East Texas State University—the first alumnus ever to head the school.

McGovern Offers Voters Moral Salvation At Polls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern considers himself more than the Democratic presidential nominee. In his view he carries the hopes of righteousness and morality into the election one week from Tuesday.

The attitude has been implicit in his speeches and statements from the beginning. Now it is on the record.

Asked whether he views the campaign as a crusade of good against evil, and one in which the conscience of America will not let him lose, McGovern replied: "That's exactly the way I see it."

DECEPTION
In Spokane, Wash., at a Roman Catholic university, McGovern described the choice this way: "Most of all we have a crisis of the spirit right here in our country that challenges every thoughtful American in Many a politician has claimed to offer the voters political salvation. To that, McGovern adds what he acknowledged to be the unique concept of moral salvation at the polling booth.

That outlook permeates the campaign of the Methodist minister's son who once studied for the clergy himself.

PUBLIC TRUST
"Abraham Lincoln once was asked if he thought God was on his side," McGovern said in Seattle Saturday night. "Lincoln replied, 'I am much more interested in making sure that I am on the side of God.' That is what our country needs."

Quoting Franklin D. Roosevelt, McGovern said the presidency "is pre-eminently a place of moral leadership, and that is the kind of president I want to be."

That outlook accounts for the things that Nixon's administration has done are evil. "I don't like to make judgment on the man himself."

RALLY AROUND
If he does lose, McGovern said, "I don't see how I could in good conscience ask the American people to rally around the Nixon standard . . . we'd be better off with a period of soul-searching and re-examination rather than to try and paper over the very dangerous trends that this administration has set in motion."

In Spokane, Wash., Saturday, a group of more than 100 Roman Catholic priests announced support for McGovern, saying "basic Judeo-Christian principles are at stake" in the election.

"It is of the greatest moral urgency that George McGovern be elected the next president of the United States," the Jesuits presented a petition to McGovern at a campaign rally.

It is evident that McGovern regards the Nov. 7 choice in an interview with The Associated Press, McGovern said that light, too.

He has judged Nixon's the most corrupt administration in American history, saying that for the first time "we have officials right at the top of the government who have betrayed their public trust."

McGovern has termed Nixon's bombing of Southeast Asia "the most evil thing ever done by an American president."

Another president, Lyndon B. Johnson, first ordered the bombing of North Vietnam. McGovern opposed it then, too.

McGovern recounts the story of a black man telling him in New York that the election "will literally break your heart" because the voters are satisfied with Nixon's leadership.

"I happen to think the American people are better than that," McGovern said.

Because of this attitude, McGovern said, he could not in even if the President proves to be the choice of the majority.

Strange Tests May Be Held

Big Spring is among 18 schools in Region XVIII which are participating this year in the sixth grade criterion-referenced tests in the Texas Education Agency's assessment of mathematics and reading.

So if your sixth graders report some strange tests, don't be alarmed. Last year 22,000 sixth grade students in the state participated in the testing program.

This year that number has increased to 761,735. Post-test workshops have been scheduled including one Thursday, Nov. 2 at Big Spring High School vocational classroom.

Dr. Bob Hoey of the California Test Bureau and Mrs. Vee Taylor, regional guidance coordinator for the West Texas Education Center will conduct the session.

The workshop is for test administrators and sixth grade teachers who will be using the test results to individualize classroom instruction.

The 1973 Volkswagen is still $1999.*

A bargain is a bargain.

While you can see the new 1973 Beetle is still at a nice low price, you really can't begin to see the value until you know what you're getting for your money. A warranty, for instance, that's twice what you get with any other small car: 24 months or 24,000 miles.  But then, we wouldn't be offering it if it weren't for our incredibly finicky factory inspection: over 1100 inspectors poring over more than 5,000 parts. (It sounds compulsive, but it's the best way to reach perfection.) And now, there's our new VW Computer Diagnosis system. Meaning literally what it says: a brand new computer that's been installed, or soon will be, in our service area ready to be hooked up to your car. The most advanced service system in the world, it checks vital service parts, via sensors and probes built into critical areas, and spells the results out in plain English. People should have it so good. Consider also our legendary resale value. When you compare it with other cars after three years, it makes our $1999* sound absolutely amazing.† Everything adding up to one important point: there's a big difference between being cheap, and being a bargain.

Few things in life work as well as a Volkswagen.

*1973 Volkswagen Sedan III suggested retail price, P.O.E. Local taxes and other dealer charges, if any, additional. †Volkswagen of America, Inc. If an owner maintains and services his vehicle in accordance with the Volkswagen maintenance schedule any factory part found to be defective in material or workmanship within 24 months or 24,000 miles, whichever comes first (except normal wear and tear and service items) will be repaired or replaced by any U.S. or Canadian Volkswagen Dealer. And this will be done free of charge. See your dealer for details. †Source: 1969 manufacturers' suggested retail prices and 1972 average used car lot retail prices as quoted in NADA Official Used Car Guide, Eastern Ed., June, 1972.

Barker Returns From Workshop

John F. Barker, administrator representing the Big Spring Nursing Home, has just returned from a three-day educational workshop held Oct. 27-29, at the Inn of the Golden West in Odesa. The workshop was co-sponsored by the Texas Nursing Home Association and Texas League for Nursing, and was directed by the University of Texas at Austin, Division of Extension, Distributive Education Department.

Titled, "Because We're All In This Together," the workshop concerned communication and interpersonal relations between the nursing home administration and nursing staff, and was approved by the Texas License Board for Nursing Home Administrators to count toward 14 hours of continuing education.

The Texas Nursing Home Association is the professional association of licensed extended care facilities, nursing and custodial homes in the state, and has in the last five years, trained over 13,000 nursing home administrators and staff members in its education program. Its 700 members represents over 42,000 beds, and are both proprietary and non-profit. TNHA is affiliated with the American Nursing Home Association and is dedicated to improvement of health care for the aged.

Texan Captures Union Veep Post

NEW ORLEANS (AP) - Representatives of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees from five states met here Saturday to elect a new national vice president.

The delegates elected Maynard White of Houston, as a national vice president for the United States region. White is business manager for local 1558, representing employees in Houston and Harris County.

He outpolled T. J. Ray of Baton Rouge, La., 11,335 to 8,945.

More than 100 delegates represented union members in Louisiana, Texas, New Mexico, Arkansas and Oklahoma.

The one-day meeting was called to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of Victor Solito, also of Houston. Solito retired to become Houston's city tax assessor.

The AFSCME is the nation's largest public employees union. It has some 560,000 members nationally and some 25,000 members in the five-state southern region. It is the fifth largest union in the AFL-CIO.

Mayor Moon Landrieu of New Orleans told delegates he would employ the union as a major organizing drive among New Orleans city workers in coming weeks.

Landrieu said salaries in the public sector in Louisiana are too low to compete in private industry in many jobs.

"We need to form a partnership to convince the people that the municipal worker is entitled to a fair day's pay. Good government doesn't have to be expensive, if it's efficient," he said.

Sanders Again Hits Tower's Absenteeism

By The Associated Press
U. S. Sen. John Tower got a boost from President Nixon Sunday in his effort to hold on to his job while his Democratic opponent told supporters in the Rio Grande Valley that Texas needs a full time senator.

Tower hosted about 300 persons Sunday in a $50-a-head reception in Houston which featured the appearance of Clark MacGregor, President Nixon's campaign chairman, and a telephoned endorsement by Nixon himself.

In McAllen, Sanders again hit at Tower's absenteeism in the Senate and said his Republican opponent's reliance on help from Nixon made him "probably the biggest coattail rider in the history of Texas politics."

Tower also answered questions Sunday on a paid, political telecast in Houston and told persons who telephoned in that the end is in sight in the Vietnam War. "The possibility of peace is strong," Tower said, but added that a cease fire probably cannot be arranged before the election.

Tower said any differences between President Thieu of South Vietnam and the Nixon administration on peace terms can be worked out since "Salgon will have to go along."

The North Vietnamese are "hastening to try to get an agreement" signed before the election, Tower said, because they suspect Nixon may be in an even stronger bargaining position after receiving a fresh mandate from the American people.

Earlier Sunday in Austin, Sanders told about 200 persons that "any tax reform legislation next year should include tax reduction for single persons and middle income families."

"Tax reform," Sanders said, "too often has meant tax breaks for the few. It's time the people who pay the freight—those in the middle income brackets—have some kind of relief."

On Tower's voting record, Sanders said, "John Tower voted to give out of state banks exemption."

At the same time, Tower voted against income tax reductions for single persons and middle income families.

Tower's campaign received a boost over the weekend when the Fort Worth Star Telegram editorially endorsed him, saying, "He continues to grow in effectiveness as a capable, alert and conscientious public servant."

George R. Witten In 'Who's Who'

LUBBOCK — Thirty-six students at Texas Tech University have been nominated for "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" for the academic year of 1972-73.

The list includes George Ronald Witten, son of Mr. and Mrs. George O. Witten of Colorado City, senior marketing major.

Nixon Cinch Bet If Polls Correct

NEW YORK (AP) — President Nixon held a 26-point lead over Democrat George McGovern going into the last two weeks of the presidential campaign, according to the fourth and final Yankelovich poll.

The survey, commissioned by the New York Times and Time magazine, gave Nixon 56 per cent to 30 per cent for McGovern and 14 per cent undecided. This was a 4 point gain for McGovern over the previous poll.

Based on telephone interviews with 3,010 registered voters, the survey was conducted from Oct. 15 to 24. It ended just before the administration announced that peace was at hand in Vietnam.

The four Yankelovich surveys were taken in the 16 largest states, which together have 332 electoral votes — well over the 270 that are necessary to carry the presidency.

Survey results gave Nixon a lead of 22 points or better in 10 states — Texas, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Missouri, Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Georgia, Virginia and Florida.

The President held a lead of between 12 and 22 points in Michigan, New Jersey and Wisconsin, the poll said. In only one of the 16 states, Massachusetts, did McGovern appear ahead.

The Gallup Poll, meanwhile, reported that it found "the Democratic party has certain strengths which may not be apparent in the latest figures on candidate preferences."

In its mid-October survey, reported last week, the Gallup Poll found Nixon ahead by a 23-point margin, 59 per cent to 36 per cent for McGovern.

But when voters were asked which political party they thought best able to deal with the nation's top problems, the GOP was ahead only 55 to 45 per cent, Gallup said Sunday.

The survey also showed apparent growing apathy toward last July, 48 per cent said they were "very interested" in the campaign, but the figure fell to 39 per cent in the latest poll.

Trudeau Magic Faces Vote Test

TORONTO (AP) — Canadians are voting today to decide whether Pierre Elliott Trudeau continues as their prime minister and if he does, whether he will have a sizable majority in the House of Commons.

How much of the so-called "Trudeaumania" that sparked his Liberal party's 1968 sweep has worn off? How much of the Trudeau personality-plus magic remains? These are key questions as the 53-year-old Liberal standard-bearer asks an often fickle Canadian electorate for endorsement of his first four years in office.

Some political seers regard the Liberals under Trudeau as unbeatable, but he wants enough House of Commons seats to assure a comfortable majority and a sympathetic legislature.

This federal campaign fell short of the excitement of public excitement. Trudeau's performance has been much less dazzling than in 1968 when his party won almost 60 per cent of the 264 House seats.

When Trudeau dissolved Parliament this fall and called this election, the House lineup was Liberal, 147; Conservative, 73; New Democratic Party, 25; Social Credit, 13; independent, 2 vacant, 4 Trudeau had an ample working majority.

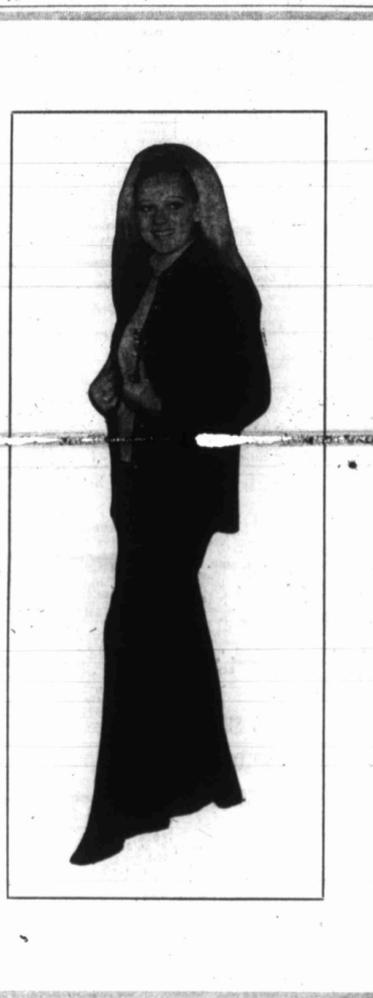

If Trudeau's campaign lacked the fire of 1968, his Conservative rivals put on a lackluster performance under Robert L. Stanfield, whom the Tories often and glumly referred to as "not dynamic." Polls and seers said the Liber-

Who will tell Rich Anderson how to vote?

Rich Anderson is the one man running for state representative in this district who knows the people in all the counties he's seeking to represent. He's spent 20 years working with these folks in business, church and community activities. During this period of time people who've gotten to know Rich have learned that he's a very honest man—and that he's very much a man of his word.

Check with people who know Rich in the new district: Howard, Dawson, Scurry, Borden, Coke and Sterling counties. They'll tell you there's not a way in the world Rich would let the big lobbies or special interest groups influence his vote. Or push him around. Rich Anderson is his own man. He's making just one campaign promise: to be a representative you'll be proud of.
