DESPITE MARGIN OF MORE THAN 100,000 VOTES

Briscoe Refuses To Claim Victory

By The Associated Press
Dolph Briscoe is acting about as normal as a man can who has the Texas governorship in his hip pocket without coming out and saying it.

reau vote totals gave him a margin of more than 100,000 votes over Republican Hank Grover of Houston. Briscoe's total continued to rise as the rural vote trickled in.

"Life is not coming to an end. This is an experience I wouldn't trade for anything." La Raza Unida's Ramsey Muniz, who garnered six per cent of the total vote in the governor's race, said he may run for governor again in 1974.

two years," Muniz said. "I'm going to pull out his platform and see that he carries it out." Sen. John Tower, who defeated Democrat Barefoot Sanders by more than 275,000 votes, said in Austin the election is a sign that Texas has become a two-party state.

campaign in the nation outside of the Presidential race." He refused to speculate on how he would have fared with Hubert Humphrey or George Wallace on the Democratic ticket but did add "the narrower the margin in the Presidential election, the better we would have done."

ENTRENCHED

Students Eviction Deadline

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Students remained entrenched in the administration building at Southern University in New Orleans today despite a looming deadline to get out or be evicted by "whatever means necessary."

Facing an ultimatum set by Gov. Edwin Edwards, the students were still in place at mid-morning.

They took over the building nine days ago to back demands for student control of administrative affairs along with other concessions.

Outsiders were kept from the buildings, but three black state leaders were seen entering this morning, presumably in an effort to resolve the situation without force.

LANDSLIDE WINNER

Presidential Bid By Black Hinted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy and Gov. George C. Wallace say they plan to work for a broadened Democratic party in the years ahead after George McGovern's smashing presidential defeat at the hands of President Nixon.

says he hopes the lessons of McGovern's electoral disaster Tuesday will produce a "responsible leadership that will bring the party back into the mainstream of American political thought."

One Of Four Industrial Hearings Slated Here

The Texas Industrial Commission will hold a regional public hearing at Howard County Junior College at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday to determine rural areas eligible for industrial development aid under the Texas Rural Development Act.

projects," Wine said. "This act provides us with the tools necessary to rebuild rural Texas."

A recent survey of a 40-year period from 1930 to 1970 conducted by the Industrial Commission revealed that 65 of the state's 254 counties have experienced a slow, but gradual decline in both population and new industries.

The hearing, one of four the Industrial Commission plans around the state during November, will help the agency determine the demand for the program and accept applications from communities or areas desiring rural designation.

The Texas Rural Development Act, passed by the 62nd Legislature, is designed to boost the low economy of many of the state's rural areas through partial financing of industrial development projects.

Under the new program non-profit foundations may apply for up to 40 per cent of the cost of financing a new or expanding industry in a rural area.

Chester Wine of Corpus Christi, chairman of the nine-member commission, called the program another aid to solving the economic problems of the state's rural areas.

To be eligible for financing, a community must have lost population during the last two federal censuses and gained less population or less manufacturing employment than the average for the state's Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas.

The new program will provide help for approximately 230 non-profit industrial foundations in Texas.

24 hours after Nixon's landslide victory for the first time since 1976 to be raised on the Republican side.

POLITICAL TALK

Sen. Edward W. Brooke of Massachusetts, the Senate's only black member and a landslide victor himself Tuesday, said he is going to give "serious thought" to a 1976 presidential bid, declaring that Vice President Spiro T. Agnew "is not the heir apparent" to GOP leadership.

Most of the political talk Wednesday looked toward the future as politicians of both parties assessed the voters' split decision that gave Nixon 49 of the 50 states and the largest popular vote total in history while confirming Democratic congressional control.

Final returns, still to be confirmed when official canvasses are made, showed Democrats with a net gain of two senators for a 57-43 Senate majority in the incoming 93rd Congress and a net loss of 11 members for a still-substantial 244-190 lead in the new House. There is one House member designated an independent.

POPULAR VOTE

Democrats made a net gain of one governorship among the 18 contested Tuesday, leaving them with 31 of 50 including four of the seven largest states—Illinois, Texas, Pennsylvania and Ohio.

In the presidential race, with 98 per cent of the nation's precincts counted, the popular vote stood:

Nixon 45,861,690, or 61 per cent.
McGovern 28,402,465, or 38 per cent.

Mills Taking Soundings On Speakership Contest

WASHINGTON (AP) — The election results make Congress more than ever the main repository of national Democratic political power—just when Democrats in the House must try to repair a leadership gap caused by tragedy.

Although members avoid discussing the situation publicly, the Democratic caucus must, on some basis, provide for the post of majority leader before Congress reconvenes Jan. 3, unless the leader, Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, is found alive by then.

Most sources predict a smooth adjustment, with Democratic Whip Thomas P. O'Neill Jr. of Massachusetts stepping up, perhaps on an interim basis. But a fight for the post is possible.

There is even speculation that the speakership, held by Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma, may be contested. Persistent reports are that Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas, the Ways and Means Committee chairman who staged a minor campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination, has been taking soundings. Mills reportedly has told associates he would never oppose Albert, but the speculation will not die.

In contrast, there is no indication of any move in the Senate to replace Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana or the Democratic whip, Sen. Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia. Boggs and Rep. Nick Begich, D-Alaska, disappeared Oct. 16 on a flight along the mountainous Alaska coast. A massive sea and air search, still continuing on a limited basis, has found no trace of their light plane. Both were re-elected Tuesday.

O'Neill is next in line behind Boggs in the party hierarchy, but an automatic succession is not assured. Boggs advanced to the majority leadership from whip last year, but only after a stiff intraparty contest in which he defeated Reps. Morris K. Udall of Arizona, James G. O'Hara of Michigan, Wayne Hays of Ohio and B. F. Sisk of California.

REFUSE TO RAISE THEIR PAY

Texans Direct Legislators To Rewrite Constitution

By The Associated Press
Texans showed mixed emotions toward the new legislature they elected Tuesday.

The "throw-the-rascals out" mentality that prevailed in the Democratic primary seemed just about to have burned itself out.

But voters refused to raise legislative pay from the $4,800 set in 1960 to a new level of $8,400 a year.

While not thinking their representatives and senators in Austin were worth more money, the voters still showed confidence in them by telling the legislature to draft a new Texas Constitution in 1974.

There was no great surge away from Democratic control of the legislature either. The slight gains made by the Republican Party in the House—from 10 to 17 representatives—resulted mainly from new single-member districts created in Dallas, San Antonio and Houston.

Republicans gained one seat in the Senate in a race that caught a first-term representative in the fallout from last year's stock scandal. Mrs. Betty Andujar defeated Democratic Rep. Mike Moncrief in a Fort Worth race.

Mrs. Andujar's campaign material sought to link Moncrief with Gus Mutscher, who resigned March 28 as House speaker after being convicted of conspiracy to accept a bribe, in the form of stock profits, from Houston promoter Frank Sharp.

Three representatives were added Tuesday to the list of 21 incumbents defeated for re-election earlier this year in the party primaries. One was a member of the "Dirty 30" coalition that opposed Mutscher last year—Rep. Tom Christian of Claude, a Republican who fell to first-term Democrat Rep. Phil Cates of Pampa.

Also defeated were Democratic Rep. Guy Floyd of San Antonio, by attorney Joseph Sage, and Rep. John Boyle, Irving Democrat, by Robert E. Davis, Dallas.

But 25 of the 28 incumbents who had opposition were re-elected.

A SKULL OF EARLY MAN — Richard Leakey displays a skull he believes is at least 2.5 million years old which would make it the oldest complete skull of early man ever found. The fossil was unearthed in fragments east of Lake Rudolf in Kenya. It is 500 miles north of Olduvai Gorge in Tanzania where the finds of Leakey's parents, Dr. Mary Leakey and the late Dr. Louis S. B. Leakey, revolutionized the study of prehistoric man.

Food Prices Due To Rise Rest Of Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supermarket food prices are expected to average more than four per cent higher for all of this year than they were in 1971, but the Agriculture Department says consumers may hear softer jingles at checkout counters after Jan. 1.

Higher farm prices are causing most of the rise in food costs this year, officials said. The projected four per cent increase this year would compare with a 2.4 per cent rise in grocery prices in 1971. However, that would be well below increases in the 5 per cent range in 1969 and 1970.

Restaurant meals also are expected to average four per cent higher this year. In all, higher prices and population growth will add seven per cent to the nation's total food bill.

In a preliminary report on the food situation, the department said Wednesday that Americans may spend a record $125.2 billion this year, compared with $117.3 billion in 1971. Meat and fresh produce have accounted for much of this year's food price increase, but officials said "some leveling" can be expected as more beef and pork move into the market this fall.

"Looking ahead to the first half of 1973," the report said, "the food price index may show less year to year increase than in the first half of 1972."

A spokesman said the food-at-home price index rose during the first six months of 1972 at an annual average rate of 4.2 per cent, including a 5 per cent gain in the first quarter.

SERVICE COMES AT NO COST Residents With Own Water Systems Can Have Checks

Howard County residents who have their own water systems can have their water tested at no charge through the Big Spring Howard County Department of Health according to director Buck Kirksey.

For residents of the county who take water from water wells, Kirksey recommends that the water from those systems be examined for contamination twice each year.

This service is provided for residents of the county at no cost, Kirksey said. Those who stop by the office of the Department of Health, 201 Lancaster St., will be given a sterilized bottle.

A sample of the water from a rural well is to be returned to the office, from where it is forwarded to the Midland regional laboratory of the Texas State Department of Health.

Test results are mailed to the residents, Kirksey noted. If contamination exists in the water, steps to correct the source will be determined, also at no charge.

Sources of contamination in well water include cesspools, faulty septic tanks and improperly sealed water wells, Kirksey said.

A resident who plans to install either a water system or sewage disposal system may receive also at no charge, recommendations and complete plans for installation of a sanitary, non-contaminable system.

The Department of Health will design a well protection plan and a capable sewage disposal system, tailored to the needs of the individual residence or business location, Kirksey said.

Supervision of the construction of recommended projects is also provided free, Kirksey added, insuring that methods of installation do not defeat the safeguards built into the design.

The services are necessary to maintain a healthful environment, Kirksey said, stressing that each water well in the county should be tested at least two times a year.

'Angels' Trial Triggers Wink

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — A prospective juror who says he doesn't like motorcyclists has been excused from the trial of four Hell's Angels for murder, drawing an exaggerated wink from Ralph "Sonny" Barger, former leader of the motor cycle gang.

Bert Sandy, a San Leandro bartender, was a sequestered Wednesday by Alameda Superior Court Judge William Hays as to whether he could serve as an impartial jurist.

"In 18 years of bartending I have developed a prejudice and cynicism towards all motorcycle riders," Sandy said in a loud voice.

Sandy was asked by Barger's lawyer, James Crew, if he would want a person with his opinion on a jury trying the case of a loved one.

"No sir," Sandy replied. Hays excused Sandy and, as he left the jury box, Barger gave him a deliberate wink and a nod of approval for his candor.

Sandy was the seventh person excused by Hays during the three days of jury selection. Defense lawyers have exercised 16 of their 40 peremptory challenges and prosecutor Donald Whyte has used 13 challenges.

Barger, 34, Sergey Walton, Gary Tompkin, both 28, and Donald Smith, 33, are charged with murdering Service W. Agero, 29, of Texas, whose body was found shot in a bathtub last May.

Domenici Taps Howe As Aide

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — U.S. Sen-elect Pete Domenici announced today that he has chosen former New Mexico legislator Dennis Howe of Albuquerque as his administrative assistant.

Howe, 31, will be Domenici's chief adviser and Washington, D.C., staff manager. Domenici said, "I have known Dennis Howe for a number of years. I wanted a young man with a willingness to work long and hard and with the ability to manage an office, to make decisions and to help me put together the best staff possible to serve New Mexicans in Washington and in the state."

Domenici said Howe had experience in northern New Mexico with the 1968 campaign of Republican Congressman Manuel Lujan. He served in the legislature for four years from Bernalillo County, and worked in the unsuccessful 1970 Anderson-Carter U.S. Senate campaign.

Howe was Domenici's statewide steering committee chairman.

Gale Warnings For Great Lakes

By The Associated Press

Gale warnings were posted for the Atlantic Coast from Virginia to Maine and for the eastern Great Lakes today as a powerful storm hit the Northeast with heavy rains, flooding and high winds.

Tides were two to three feet above normal in many places. Flash flood warnings were issued for parts of New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and the Delaware River Valley.

The Coast Guard said winds up to 50 miles per hour pounded Plum Island, off Newburyport on the Massachusetts north shore, threatening to force some inhabitants to safer ground for a second time this fall.

New York City was drenched by 5 inches of rain late Wednesday and early today. The flood gates at Stamford, Conn., harbor were closed as tides ran seven feet above normal.

Light fog blanketed the middle and northern Mississippi Valley and Northern Plains. The central and southern Plains had fair skies, while rain and snow showers fell in the central and southern Rockies. Snow flurries also dusted the Lake Superior area.

The Northwest had more rain and cloudy skies, but fair weather prevailed from the Southwest to Southeast. Temperatures ranged from 18 at Broadus, Mont., to 76 at Key West, Fla.

Whipkey is a member of First Baptist Church and former longtime publisher of the Big Spring Herald.

Martin County picked up a Sprabery Trend completion and two locations on today's oil report.

Belco Petroleum No. 1 Johnson, scheduled 7,100-ft. prospect eight miles north of Snyder and five-eighths of a mile northeast of the depleted Strawn opener in the Tonto, Northeast (Cisco) field, has indicated production in an upper Pennsylvanian zone, the Fuller line. On a 35-minute drillstem test from 5,023-5,042, gas surfaced in 40 minutes and oil and mud in 50 minutes. Recovery was 3,498 feet of fluid, 80 per cent oil and two per cent water.

Academic colleges, departments and Greek letter organizations will fill the time usually allotted the parade with extended open houses, receptions, reunions and coffees. Social activities replaced the parade after surveys conducted by the Homecoming committee showed little interest in parade participation.

Howard's SWCD To Annex Area

Directors of the Howard Soil and Water Conservation District (HSWCD) Tuesday signed documents indicating their desire to annex about 22,000 acres around Forsan to the HSWCD.

The North Concho SWCD directors are expected to sign their end of the agreement Monday.

Originally, the North Concho district boundaries were based on the North Concho watershed, which includes the Forsan area. With annexation, the HSWCD will follow the boundaries of Howard County.

Forsan area landowners already were being served by the Big Spring office of the Soil Conservation District. Changing boundaries will make no significant change as far as relations with the service are concerned, Gerald Miller, district conservationist, said.

PARIS (AP) — The United States told North Vietnam today the current buildup of American aircraft and other military equipment in South Vietnam is matched by a similar buildup on the Communist side and will continue until a peace agreement is signed.

U.S. Ambassador William J. Porter told newsmen at the start of the 16th weekly session of the Vietnam peace talks that every day a settlement "comes perceptibly nearer."

But he urged North Vietnam not to be impatient over the delay in reaching final agreement.

"We believe that the soundness and equity of an agreement are vital considerations which, if that agreement is to endure, must not be sacrificed to haste," Porter said in a brief prepared statement to the meeting.

HANOI GIGS
He referred to recent protests from Hanoi and the Viet Cong against the massive shipment of American arms to South Vietnam to beat the cease-fire.

This buildup, Porter told the Communist delegations, "is, of course, similar to what you are seeking to do for your own forces."

Commies Return To 'Tough Talk'

PARIS (AP) — The United States told North Vietnam today the current buildup of American aircraft and other military equipment in South Vietnam is matched by a similar buildup on the Communist side and will continue until a peace agreement is signed.

U.S. Ambassador William J. Porter told newsmen at the start of the 16th weekly session of the Vietnam peace talks that every day a settlement "comes perceptibly nearer."

But he urged North Vietnam not to be impatient over the delay in reaching final agreement.

"We believe that the soundness and equity of an agreement are vital considerations which, if that agreement is to endure, must not be sacrificed to haste," Porter said in a brief prepared statement to the meeting.

HANOI GIGS
He referred to recent protests from Hanoi and the Viet Cong against the massive shipment of American arms to South Vietnam to beat the cease-fire.

This buildup, Porter told the Communist delegations, "is, of course, similar to what you are seeking to do for your own forces."

"We see in these supply efforts a state of affairs which would be halted by both sides as soon as final agreement is reached. Thereafter, of course, the provisions of the agreement would apply."

The draft agreement would ban shipment of arms to South Vietnam by either side except for replacement of worn-out or destroyed equipment on a one-for-one basis.

In marked contrast to his usual tough tone when addressing the Communists, Porter paid tribute to the "good will and seriousness of purpose" with which he said the North Vietnamese negotiated the largely secret draft agreement.

"Recently, however, a note of impatience has crept into your many public statements," he continued.

"I understand this to be the result of the fact that your hopes and ours for a settlement have not yet been realized....

"For our part, we do not believe in making public statements which might affect the atmosphere adversely at a time when we hope to achieve so much jointly with you. We can and do, however, affirm our good faith as we approach what we believe can be the final stage of our negotiations."

Passers-by on Wason Road may notice a big change in the appearance of the meeting house for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints at 1803 Wason. The building that stood on that lot two months ago has undergone a "face lifting."

The old flat-roofed, green cinderblock building there in August now has a new roof with a brick veneer exterior. Along with a lot of changing of the old, quite a bit of new is also being added. The east end of the building has been extended and a large chapel or sanctuary is under construction on that side.

When completed in the early part of 1973, this new section will be able to seat a congregation of 300, a large improvement over the smaller meeting area now in use. Also, with big changes on the building's exterior, there is a lot of remodeling on the interior. The center portion of the building is being partitioned off into a foyer, class rooms, offices, and a library.

To help keep construction costs down, church members and friends are contributing time and labor. Various finishing jobs like painting, laying floor tile, and landscaping have been subcontracted to the church membership. This not only saves money and provides the members with good practical experience, but also, provides times for fellowship with one another.

This will be demonstrated Saturday when members will meet, equipped with rollers and brushes for a paint party. The youth will also have a paint party of their own beginning at 9:30 a.m. After the work is done, they will change into cleaner clothes and will have a special fireside meeting, featuring the film, "Man's Search For Happiness," which was made specifically for the Mormon Pavilion at the New York World's Fair in 1964.

The youth fireside will begin at 3 p.m. at the building. A special invitation to the public has been extended.

JESSIE ADAMS

Jessie Adams Is Awarded Watch

Jessie G. Adams, drilling foreman with Continental Oil Company in the West Texas area and resident of Big Spring, has been presented with a watch in recognition of 30 years service with the company.

Adams was reared in the Abilene and Tahoka areas, and began his career with Continental as a roustabout in the McCamey area.

Following military service in World War II, Adams returned to the McCamey area and the employment of Conoco as a pumper. He was promoted to head roustabout in 1947 at McCamey, and to production foreman in 1962, transferring to Andrews, at that time. He was transferred to Big Spring as drilling foreman in 1971.

Lions Bidding For Conclave

Six new members were inducted into the Downtown Lions Club at its weekly luncheon at the Settles Wednesday.

They are Robert Massengale, Maj. Ed Hart, Harold Ingram, Tom Mills, Lonnie Bartley and Chaplain Ken Summy.

J. R. Dillard, Stanton, zone chairman, conducted the induction for the new members, noting that "Lions are a group of men banded together to serve our fellow man... to be load-lighteners."

Gary Bradbury, membership chairman, outlined plans for a continuing emphasis on membership enlistment during the year.

Jim Lemons, president, reported that Big Spring had put its name in the pot for the 1973 district 2A-1 Lions convention, and that Tom Mipps, Midland, district deputy who serves his area, had announced as a district governor candidate. The district cabinet voted to oppose a proposal for a Texas Lions Hall of Fame, he said, contending "every lion is entitled to be in a hall of fame." High school guests for the day were Patty Womack and Datha Workman.

Opportunities For Nurses

HOUSTON (AP) — The dean of the new School of Nursing at the University of St. Thomas believes nursing students should be a part of the university community.

She feels a liberal arts education goes hand-in-hand with the technical nursing skills necessary to educate today's nurse.

"What an individual is as a person makes a great deal of difference as to what he is going to be as a nurse," said Shirley Lynn Dooling, dean of UST's new school where 86 students, including 11 men, are enrolled.

"Most schools concentrate on nursing study, but tremendous value is gained by studying, say sociology or political science and political implications of health care with nursing."

"Nurses need a varied background in order to best serve a diverse clientele. Also the nursing students should be a part of the university community."

Miss Dooling said UST's program will develop the entire aspect of the personality along with nursing, using independent study, seminar approach, module building and forms of media.

"I anticipate the program will attract people with degrees in other fields who have been unable to find satisfactory job opportunities, as well as the registered nurse with technical skills who wishes to return to complete a degree," she said. There are several registered nurses enrolled this fall.

Miss Dooling's specialty is cardiovascular nursing. The native of Morehead, Kan. is a former assistant nursing dean at Oklahoma University.

CHANGE IN SENATE PARTY POWER — This chart shows the Democrat, Republican and other party strength in the U.S. Senate before and after Tuesday's election. The net gain for the Democrats was three from 54 to 57 and the GOP lost a like amount from 44 to 41.

Sputter Toward Senate Shakeup

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republicans, their ranks weakened by losses they had least expected, are sputtering toward a leadership shakeup.

Two key spots in the GOP Senate lineup must be filled and there is a possibility that Hugh P. Scott might be challenged again for the top job in the minority leadership.

Leadership changes seemed less likely on the majority side as Democrats celebrated a margin widened from 10 to 14 by Tuesday's election.

Republicans were shocked at the Democratic gains. They had been confident of picking up some seats and had even glimpsed a chance of moving into Senate control.

Jubilant Democrats, on the other hand, said their victory not only assures them an excellent working majority in the 93rd Congress but also means they probably will retain control in the 1974 and even the 1976 elections.

REVERSE SLIDE
The new 57-43 Democratic margin means the party has succeeded in reversing its downward slide from the 68-32 lead six years ago to a 55-45 edge in the 92nd Congress which adjourned last month.

The upsets which shocked the Republicans and surprised most Democrats came in Colorado and Iowa.

Veteran Sen. Gordon Allott had been considered a shoo-in in Colorado but he lost by about 15,000 votes to Floyd K. Haskell, a former state representative who had been a Republican until two years ago.

The debacle suffered in Iowa by Sen. Jack Miller, a two-term incumbent, was even more striking. He went down by 125,000 votes to Dick Clark, a relative unknown who walked 1,313 miles across the state in a folk-sy campaign.

STIFF CHALLENGE
Republicans also had expected Sen. Margaret Chase Smith to win a fifth term in Maine although they knew she faced a stiff challenge from Rep. William D. Hathaway, victor by 27,000 votes.

In the leadership realignment, Republicans must choose replacements for Mrs. Smith as chairman of the conference of all GOP senators and for Allott as chairman of the key Policy Committee.

Whether there will be another challenge to Scott as Republican leader is not certain. The Pennsylvanian has sometimes angered conservatives by taking positions more liberal than the Nixon administration.

Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., a top-heavy re-election victor in Tennessee, could decide to try for the leadership again. He lost to Scott 24 to 20 in the GOP conference two years ago.

Rail Curios Are Needed

More items pertaining to the Texas & Pacific Railroad are needed to round out an exhibit on railroading, scheduled next for Heritage Museum.

Mrs. Gerri Atwell, curator, said there had been a good response, but the museum would be grateful for loans or gifts of things such as lanterns, conductor uniform, caps, passenger train footstool, and pictures of the early days of railroading in Big Spring or of the various models of locomotives.

The exhibit of H. W. Caylor paintings, made possible largely through the loan of paintings by local owners, was closed out last weekend with a record of 2,599 registered visitors, said Mrs. Atwell. The executive board is taking steps to set up a permanent exhibit of some half dozen Caylor paintings which have come from the old West Texas Museum Association, or by gift.

Age Difference

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

AGE GAPS: (Comment) — Strongly disagree with the answer you gave the 16-year-old girl who wanted to go with the boy who was 23 and had a criminal record.

You said his age and his record made him a poor prospect. I don't think age should come between people. I think it is how much understanding and love there is between two people. By the way she wrote, I could tell that she loves him very much and I believe he could love her just as much if only he had the chance.

I am 15 and I go with a guy who is 20. My parents have deadlines and I abide by them. No one told us that the age difference was too great. So much for the "too old" bit.

As for the criminal record, I think it is great for a girl to be understanding and loving to a person who really needs to be loved and understood. If everyone felt toward this guy as you (and many others, I'm sure) do, how is he supposed to make a life for himself, knowing these people are against him because he was in the penitentiary?

He needs another chance and the only way he is going to get it is through the people as a whole. — A Girl With a Heart in New Hampshire.

(A.) You may be more mature than the average 15-year-old girl. I hope you are, because you are taking quite a chance in going seriously with a 20-year-old.

In giving advice I have to consider the way the world is.

Most 20-year-old young men want to go with young women about their own age. Those who want to go with girls five years younger are different. They may be different for one reason or for another. Some of the reasons are not good.

It is similar with a 23-year-old man who wants to go with a 16-year-old girl. There is always the question, why?

I agree that a person who has been in prison needs another chance if he genuinely wants it. As you say, the people as a whole owe him a chance. But a 16-year-old girl is not the people as a whole. She is a 16-year-old girl — and very vulnerable.

(Jean Adams reads and considers every letter, but she regrets that she cannot answer each personally. Mail your questions and comments to Jean Adams, care of The Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 2402, Houston, Texas 77001.)

SCORES UPSET — Rep. William D. Hathaway, D-Maine, scored an upset victory over the nation's only elected woman senator — Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine. Hathaway, 48, defeated the 74-year-old Mrs. Smith as she was making her bid for a fifth term in the Senate.

WAC Draws Duty In Korea

FT. HOOD, Tex. (AP) — Women in uniform have pretty well infiltrated the Army, but an armored division doesn't seem the likeliest place. Yet the 2nd Armored Division now has Maj. Dorothy Gorlicki, just returned from duty in Korea, as a member.

Things began moving when Maj. Gorlicki received orders returning her to the states before her scheduled rotation date.

Arriving at Ft. Hood two months early, it was soon found that the job originally slated for Maj. Gorlicki had not yet been created. "Would you like to join the 2nd Armored Division?" someone asked. "Sure," came the reply, and various staff officers from around the division soon interviewed the prospective division member. Accepting an offer from Lt. Col. Harold Weller, she became executive officer in the division adjutant general office.

Things have changed in the Army and the major feels opportunities for women and have changed as well. The majors, recalls a time when WACs did not have the same training as their male counterparts. Now WACs are given specialized training with the men and separate WAC schools have closed.

Rains Reduce Samplings

Upland cotton sample receipts totaled only 994 for the week ending Nov. 3 at the USDA's Pecos classing office, according to L. L. Wells, in charge. The rainy spell that lasted on and off for almost two weeks kept classing volume down for the second week in a row. The season's total reached 15,042 compared with 16,982 through Nov. 5, 1971.

Strict low middling (41) continued as the predominant grade with 57 per cent of classings. Low middling plus (50) and low middling (51) accounted for 21 per cent combined and strict low middling light spotted (42) made up 10 per cent.

Staple lengths averaged a little shorter during the week with staple 34 at 71 per cent. Staple readings continued to hold up with 93 per cent in the 3.5 to 4.9 range.

Breaking strength, based on the Pressley zero gage, averaged weaker at 70,000 psi compared with 80,000 psi a week ago.

Demand for strict low middling (41) and higher graders with 34 and 35 staples in the 3.5 to 4.9 range was strong. Middling (31) sold for 600 points over CCC Loan rates, middling light spotted (32) 500 points over, and strict low middling (41) 400 points over. There was very little demand for low middling (51) and lower grades.

Pollution Patrol Plans Polished

HOUSTON (AP) — The city plans for a new helicopter to fly pollution patrols.

Dr. Albert G. Randall, city health director, disclosed at a city council hearing Wednesday that he is drawing up bid specifications for a helicopter to track down polluters.

Randall said he hopes to have the helicopter delivered and flying sometime in January.

The council took no action on a proposal by citizen groups that it create a separate city department to fight pollution and make it the nucleus of a regional enforcement agency.

JOE D. VILLEGAS

Navy Airman Recruit Kenneth R. Farrow, grandson of Mrs. Ethel Hightower of Big Sandy, Tex., graduated from recruit training at the Naval Training Center in Orlando.

"Exercise Pacific Bond" began, Sept. 27, when a 43-man platoon from the 25th Infantry Division at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii, departed from nearby Hickam Air Force Base for eight weeks of training in Australia.

Pfc Fortunato M. Gomez Jr., of Lamesa, Tex., was one of the 43 men of the division's 2D Platoon Company A, 1st Battalion, 27th Infantry that will train with the Australian Army's 6th task force until late November. In the meantime, 390 men from the Australian Army will train with his battalion in Hawaii.

The 2D platoon will train at the Jungle Training Center in Canungra before joining an Australian Battalion in preparation for a task force exercise at Shoalwater Bay, scheduled near the end of the training.

The cross training is part of a platoon exchange program designed to strengthen existing Australian, New Zealand and U.S. links.

Pfc. Gomez is the son of Mrs. Dominga Gomez, 709 N. Canyon, Lamesa. His wife, Diana, lives at 405 South Ave. F, Lamesa.

Downtown Lions Plan Sale Of Mops, Brooms

Downtown Lions Club members next week will be selling mops, brooms and assorted other household items made by blind workers.

Proceeds from the sale go toward the club's sight conservation and blind work. Last month, for instance, the club spent $300 for glasses, mostly for school children who could not otherwise have had the glasses they need, and for needy adults who had to have these aids. The club, said Jim Lemons, president, has been averaging around $150 a month for glasses and for aid to blind people.

Archie Adkins is chairman of the sale which starts Tuesday evening and will continue through Thursday. The van from the Caravan Sales for the Blind, will be parked in the Highland lot as a distribution point for 10 teams of volunteers, said Adkins.

He urged Big Springers to purchase some items or items. "These are exceptionally well made," he said, "because the blind workers in the Lighthouses take great pride in their work. Making these products gives them work and makes them self-sufficient."

Indians Give It Back To Uncle Sam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Protesting Indians who seized the Bureau of Indian Affairs Building a week ago have returned it to the government—some of the worse for wear—and they claimed a victory.

The last two dozen Indians, out of as many as 500 who had occupied the white marble building since Thursday, filed out Wednesday night.

The Indians took with them Indian artifacts that had been on exhibit and BIA documents that they claimed contained evidence that public officials have deprived Indians of their property for many years.

"We know we definitely have changed the course of history," said Russell Means, a leader of the "Trail of Broken Treaties" caravan, which arrived in Washington last week to protest treatment of Indians by the government.

Dozens of Indian tribes from states like Oklahoma, Montana, South Dakota and New Mexico were represented in the caravan. Most Indians wore red headbands, armbands or scarves as symbols of "red power."

While in the BIA building, many fashioned makeshift tomahawks and clubs from legs of chairs and tables and vowed they would forcibly resist any attempt by police to evict them unless they first had action on their demands.

"We have destroyed the BIA," said Dennis Banks, national field director of the American Indian Movement.

Indian leaders said a major accomplishment of the seven-day occupation was the prospect the BIA would be dismantled. They said the documents that were seized would be used to assure Indians will control any new Indian agency.

Pot Proposition Victory Claimed

LOS ANGELES AP) - "I think it was a victory," said the marijuana initiative's coordinator. "We legitimized pot as an issue."

California voters turned down 3 to 1 the measure to allow persons 18 and older to smoke, grow and transport marijuana.

"The vote means a lot of Californians don't believe in current marijuana laws," Bob Ashford, 29, said Wednesday, "and this is going to strengthen our lobbying efforts to decriminalize marijuana through the legislature."

"If there's no relief there, you'll see another pot measure on the June primary ballot in 1974. Between three and four million persons in California are supposed to have tried marijuana. We think the time's come for a humane sane approach to pot."

The measure failed to generate the widespread public interest many thought it would. Many politicians, perhaps feeling the issue would fail, just ignored it.

Ashford had counted on a large student vote and "closest support" from mothers and fathers appalled by harsh pot penalties. "I think we got it, too," he said. "But it just wasn't as big as we expected."

Under California law, it is up to a judge whether first-time use or possession of marijuana should be a felony or a misdemeanor. Cultivation, sale and possession for sale are automatically felonies, as are use and possession after a first conviction.

The ballot proposition would have retained laws against buying and selling marijuana and prohibit persons under the influence from endangering others, such as by driving a car.

Federal laws would have been still in effect, although there was some question whether the latter could be significantly enforced if the California proposition passed. The U.S. attorney for San Francisco said if it passed, he doubted any arrests would be made by agents for small amounts of marijuana.

New Operation Evolves From Gibson's Discount

Herbert R. Gibson has consolidated the more than 20 corporations that comprised his retail and franchise Gibson discount operation into a new company, Gibson's Inc., according to local Gibson Discount Center manager David (Al) Stephens.

The new company, including more than 600 stores, has been sold to his two sons, with the senior Gibson remaining active only in the company's Dallas trade show and real estate.

Drug Epidemic Spotlighted

The growing epidemic of drug misuses is "On Your Doorstep." That's the theme for a community action program to combat drug misuse, using the resources already available in our community, putting them to work to develop solutions to the urgent needs.

As part of this community action-oriented program, an hour-long film will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 14, at the City Auditorium.

The film features Art Linkletter, who gives a moving presentation which has stirred emotions and opened many eyes. Mr. Linkletter says drug misuse "has become epidemic and we are likely to lose the very young people who will lead this country in the years to come if we do not join to do something about it."

The showing of this film, provided by Aid Association for Lutherans, Local Branch 2107, in our community, is a must for all adults. Once again, the film will be shown at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Nov. 21 at the City Auditorium. It's free and the general public is invited.

Herbert Jr. will be president of Gibson's Inc. and Gerald will be executive vice-president.

The changeover comes as no surprise to store managers and franchise owners, said Stephens, who has expected the consolidation for quite some time.

The sons have been running the organization for about four years now, and the change seems to be a good and proper action, Stephens added. The goal is to make Gibson's Inc. the number one chain of discount stores in the nation through well-organized projections of growth.

Herbert Jr. said no changes in management policy will be announced at this time. "I'm sure," he added, "there will be changes as we go along."

The announcement was made Sunday evening at a dinner meeting in Dallas, a preface to the giant Gibson trade show held this week.

Also attending the trade show were four buyers from the local Gibson store, Supervisor Joe Campbell, clothing buyer Nora Mays, sporting goods buyer Chuck James and toy buyer David Stevenson.

TWO OR MORE CABINET POSTS INVOLVED

President's Plans For Major Second-Term Shakeup

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — Two or more Cabinet posts and dozens of White House and other key federal jobs are involved in President Nixon's tentative plans for a major second-term shakeup of the government's executive branch.

President has made no decisions on what resignations to accept. But even before Tuesday's election, two early departures from his Cabinet were signaled.

Some lower-level officials, however, might find themselves suddenly looking for new jobs. White House officials have expressed some displeasure with the lack of support Nixon's proposals have received from the middle levels of some agencies.

Some sources indicated they still another, unspoken reason behind Nixon's shakeup move—the President's desire to reward selected officials of his campaign organization.

High on this list would be campaign Director Clark MacGregor, reported to be in line for a Cabinet or other high-level government post if he wants it.

But an announcement Wednesday appeared to close the door to any official position for MacGregor during Nixon's second term. United Aircraft Corp. announced that MacGregor has been elected a vice president of the firm, "has how decided to return to private life," and will work out of United's Washington office.

Likewise, Nixon has deep respect for the ability of former Treasury Secretary John B. Connally, who headed the Democrats-for-Nixon organization. Connally probably could have virtually any Cabinet post, but says he wants none.

THE STING'S THE THING — Wasps go about their business of building a nest oblivious to the camera lens peering in from two inches above the nest in Wilmington, Del. The wasps are alighting on the delicate honeycomb as others are in the cells.

For a while, Connally and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller were rumored as possible successors to Secretary of State William P. Rogers. But Rogers, a long-time Nixon associate, has shown no inclination to leave his post early in a second term.

Neither has Henry A. Kissinger, star of a galaxy of White House officials, said publicly what he plans to do in second term. But there is little question that the job of chief foreign-policy adviser is his for as long as he wants it.

One of Kissinger's colleagues, Laird, Romney, Rogers and Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe have been in the Cabinet since Nixon's inauguration in 1969. George P. Shultz was in the original Cabinet as Labor secretary but later became budget director and was named Treasury secretary last May after Connally resigned.

As successor to Laird, Deputy Secretary Kenneth B. Rush, seems a possible choice. Rush, who was a law professor at Duke University when Nixon studied there, came to the Pentagon after serving as U.S. ambassador to West Germany.

Speculation about a successor for Romney has centered on Samuel C. Jackson, now assistant HUD secretary for community planning and management, and Donald Rumsfeld, director of the Cost of Living Council. Another name mentioned is that of Walter E. Washington, the Washington mayor, who has had wide experience in the housing field.

Jackson, a black, stumped the country extensively for the GOP ticket.

Appointment of Rush and either Jackson or Rumsfeld would fit the pattern of the first Nixon term: a tendency to keep things within the official family.

Raza Unida's Muniz Claims His Candidacy Factor In Outcome

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Ramsey Muniz, who ran for governor as the nominee of the Mexican-American Raza Unida Party, says his candidacy was the key factor in the outcome of the Texas gubernatorial election.

Muniz, 30, who plans to establish a law practice here, led the slate of five Raza Unida candidates in the party's first statewide campaign.

He contended that if Grover had made commitments to Mexican-Americans, he also would have snared a large enough margin from Spanish speaking voters to win.

"But he (Grover) didn't. I did," Muniz said. "I became the balance of power between Grover and Briscoe. I determined the governor's race."

He says he was the "balance of power" in the race that saw Democrat Dolph Briscoe edge past Republican Henry Grover.

Political analysts will probably argue this point for months, but it was generally agreed beforehand that Muniz would attract disenchanted liberals, some Negroes and many Mexican-Americans.

President Nixon and Republican Sen. John Tower, who won their Texas races, "made all sorts of concessions" to Mexican-Americans, Muniz said.

TE STAFFER — Joan Burkholder is the new program assistant for the Big Country Area of the Texas Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, according to Miss Audrey Elmore, Howard County BCA director. Miss Burkholder worked for two years as program assistant for the Northeast Minnesota Respiratory Health Association in Duluth. She replaces Mrs. Beezie Cooper who was recently named executive of the Big Country Area, which has offices in San Angelo.

Connally said he will remain a Democrat "as long as I can." But he won't stay in the party if "the McGovern forces continue to be as arrogant as they have been," he said in a post-election interview Wednesday.

Republican sources said, meanwhile, that Connally will have to "fall off the tight rope pretty soon and start organizing in the next four years if he expects to compete for the GOP nomination.

Calf Losses Tip Offered

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Department researchers say cattlemen can solve many of their calf loss problems by breeding heifers to bulls of smaller breeds rather than "larger, exotic" types.

A four-year study involving Hereford and Angus females showed fewer calving problems among two-year-old heifers when they were bred to Hereford, Angus and Jersey bulls.

Higher losses at first calvings were reported when young females were bred to Charolais, Simmental, South Devon and Limousin bulls, according to a report by the Agricultural Research Service.

When Robert H. Finch relinquished the HEW post, Elliot H. Richardson, then undersecretary of State, succeeded him. James D. Hodgson was undersecretary of Labor before being named to the Cabinet.

Rogers C. B. Morton was Republican national chairman when he was selected to replace Walter J. Hickel as secretary of the Interior. Hickel's ouster by Nixon on Nov. 25, 1970, was the only Cabinet change marked by any public rancor.

Rogers has ducked recent questions about his post-election intent; there is no evidence that he has been confiding with State Department associates about the future. But should he leave, there is a chance HEW Secretary Richardson would get the nod.

Like Rogers, he is a team player and will do whatever Nixon asks him to do. He long has hankered to return to the State Department, but he has unfinished business at the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

FACE JOB OF REORGANIZING PARTIES

Now That Voting Is Over In Texas

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer

After all the dust settles from the general election both the Texas Democratic and Republican parties will be back where they started before the campaign — in the throes of reorganization.

Despite claims by Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., and others that the unexpected strength shown by state Sen. Henry Grover, GOP candidate for governor, makes Texas a genuine two-party state, other GOP leaders disagree.

"The race will enhance Grover's personal reputation," said one big time political advisor, "but I don't think it will do much for the party."

The state party machinery is still in the hands of Tower and the other state leaders who early in Grover's campaign tried to discourage his efforts and even supported other candidates in the GOP primaries.

The state Democratic party machinery is in much the same shape.

The McGovern-Shriver campaign was handled in Texas largely by persons not directly connected with the Texas Democratic party, many of them from out of state. Only Gov. Preston Smith, State Agriculture Commissioner John White and State Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong saw fit to actually work for and appear with the presidential ticket candidates. After the election, party affairs will be in the hands of Gov.-elect Dolph Briscoe, who never appeared with McGovern in the five trips to Texas.

the Democratic Party cannot go it alone. The liberals can't win by themselves nor can any other group."

If Grover had been elected governor of Texas it would have sent shock waves through Tower's carefully built control and influence of the Republican party.

As governor Grover would have been titular head of the state party, a job Tower inherits now because he is the senior GOP office holder. This also carries with it patronage benefits, influence as the state party's top spokesman and financial help from the national party.

THIRD PARTY

La Raza Unida did not elect any statewide officials in the general election but they polled close to 200,000 votes and will be eligible to have their own primary in 1974.

A third party threat that might be attractive to some Democrats and Republicans is about the last thing the solider major parties need.

Mexican-American strength dropped in the House from nine to eight members, but it increased in the Senate from one to two.

There will be one woman senator and five women representatives—a big increase from the current one senator and one House member.

NEW RULES

Tuesday's election, along with the primaries, produced the biggest turnover in 20 years. 77 new representatives out of a total of 150 and 15 out of 31 senators.

Most observers expect the House to become more liberal, while 20 senators are likely to amass "conservative" voting records in the 140-day regular session that starts Jan. 9.

Rep. Price Daniel Jr. of Liberty, a moderate who leans more to the liberal than to the conservative side of the political fence, seems to have the House speakership sewed up.

Numerous house candidates ran on "reform" platforms, pledging to support ethics and lobby control legislation and new rules to make the House "more democratic."

May Be First Blind Person To Cast Vote Without Help

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — A young Stanford University scientist says he may be the first blind person to cast a regular ballot without human help in a voting booth.

His only aid was a sensing device called the "Optacon."

"The possibilities of the machine are limitless for the blind," Loren Schoof, 24, of Stanford's Applied Electronics Laboratory, said in an interview Wednesday.

With the book-sized Optacon, Schoof informed officials at his polling place near here Tuesday that he would cast his ballot like anybody else — alone and without help.

"The election officials reacted with a great deal of surprise and confusion," Schoof said. "They didn't quite understand how I could be able to read an ordinary ballot without assistance."

Finally, Schoof entered the booth and, he said, cast a completely secret ballot, despite his blindness.

Schoof, blinded at age 10 by a disease, explained that the blind reader uses the Optacon's small probe to scan reading material. The probe contains a miniature camera which activates a silicon retina, an array of 144 tiny rods which vibrate in the form of the character sensed by the probe. The blind person "reads" the character with his forefinger.

Schoof believes the blind should be able to pursue careers in science and engineering with the aid of the Optacon. The device helped him get his master's degree in electronics operations research in half the time he would have needed without it, he added.

The Optacon project originated with Prof. John G. Linvill, chairman of Stanford's Electrical Engineering Department, whose blind daughter is now a senior at Stanford.

Together with associates, they formed Telesensory Systems Inc., to produce the four-pound Optacon.

Jim Bliss, a former Stanford professor and now president of the corporation, said that since production of the Optacon began in September, 1971, the firm has done about $500,000 in business in the United States and Europe. The machines cost about $5,000 each.

THAT'S THE GUY

"The Democratic party has got to go through a period of reassessment of its posture," said White, who quickly admitted that McGovern was his second choice, after Sen. Hubert Humphrey lost at Miami Beach. "I hope there will be a moderating force in the party itself. It seems to me we have gotten off in fringe areas and moved away from the everyday American—that's the guy the Democratic Party has got to move back to."

White thinks Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., and Humphrey are the type of moderate leaders needed for the national party.

"The Democratic party has always been a loose coalition of philosophies," White said election night. "We've got to realize that the era of personalities is over, we have to set up a strong party structure to elect candidates."

Odessa Starting Annexation Plan

ODESSA — The Odessa city council has approved the first reading of 11 ordinances to annex 3,440 acres of land into the city.

The annexation will bring about 1,900 residents into the city and increase the city's tax revenue by about $213,000 annually.

Included in the annexation is a new residential development east of town, industrial land south of Odessa and a 72-block area on North Golden Street which is already almost completely surrounded by the city.

Final reading of the ordinances is scheduled Dec. 12.

CAN'T CUT IT

"For some years now our state party has been built around a personality cult built around a single man, usually the governor, and when he left office the thing was over. We've got to change that."

Texas AFL-CIO President Roy Evans, who also started out supporting Humphrey but backed McGovern, said the election proved one basic thing—"that one group inside

Students Offered Prizes For Essays

Students in Big Spring, Foran, Coahoma and Sands High Schools are being offered a chance to win money for soil and water conservation essays.

Directors of the Howard Soil and Water Conservation District Tuesday decided to award the best from each high school $5. In addition, they will present the author of best essay in the county $15; second best, $10; and third, $5.

The board plans to consider nominees for recognition which may include the outstanding resident conservation-farmer.

Leakage Grows In Enrollment

The perennial leakage in the senior high level accounted for all of the enrollment loss in Big Spring schools last week. The senior high dropped nine, which offset a gain of three in the elementary level. Elementary enrollment was 3,499, secondary 3,806, and hospital and home-bound enrollment 89, making a total of 6,794. This is 354 less than a year ago. Different basis of reporting make it difficult to pinpoint the losses, but elementary enrollment showed to be down only 13.

At Least A Bold Start

Rep. Price Daniel Jr., who is almost certain to become the next speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, has mailed to House members 35 proposed changes in the House rules, which he says will lessen the concentration of power and "make the legislative process more open, democratic and efficient. I believe these will allow the 150 House members to more accurately reflect the desires and attitudes of the 11 million Texans they represent."

One of his proposals is to cut down on the number of committees to 21 (with a few of them having sub-committees). Others are to let standing committees do the work of interim studies, investigations, etc.; make records of committee proceedings, such records to be open to public inspection; have uniform rules for all committees; limit committee assignments to no more than three committees, and to two in the case of chairmen (and to one in the case of the appropriations chairman); to allow members to choose one committee on the basis of their seniority, provided that this accounts for no more than 50 per cent of a committee's membership; impose stricter control over consent and local builds (providing for closer screening of these); install an automatic calendar system to insure that bills are acted upon in order they are reported from committee (except by two-thirds vote authorizing a special setting); screening of resolutions and requiring 24 hours notice; written amendments (with sufficient copies) when offered from the floor; prohibit introduction and passage of bracket bills; require records of expenditures by candidates for speaker, and prohibit House employees from campaigning for "speaker"; require the clerk not to let out of his possession the original copy of every bill introduced (they have been missed or stolen in the past).

Two of the most important proposals would limit consideration of bills during the final days of a session (this is when a lot of the dirty work has been accomplished in the past), and limit conference committees to adjusting differences (they have completely written bills in the past and crammed them down the House and Senate collective throats on a take-it-or-leave-it basis).

Later Rep. Daniel will reveal his statutory program to compliment the rule changes he proposes. How the changes and the statutory program are accepted by the House remain to be seen, but there is now the best atmosphere for reform of House operational rules in this generation, Rep. Daniel is to be commended for making a bold start, even if it does divest him of some of the arbitrary powers assumed by speakers in the past.

What Can We Depend On?

The trouble with scientists on the frontiers Sometimes the things they find out tend to upset what has long been confidently asserted.

Few points have been asserted with more confidence, for as long as anyone can remember, than that the speed of light is the absolute limit. This dictum is entrenched as one of the fundamental laws of physics.

Thus it is discomfulting to have Dr. Kenneth I. Kellerman come along and report to his American Astronomical Society colleagues that a thin light. Astronomers are at work trying to certain galaxy appears to be expanding faster and plausible explanations. So far they're stumped, and that makes us nervous. If you can't depend on the speed of light, what can you depend on?

Big Decisions

Around The Rim

Marj Carpenter

It's getting along toward Thanksgiving and apparently it's time to discuss food.

Even the commissioners court was discussing food Monday. Bill Crooker and Bill Bennett had their heads together studying a staple food bid and were going over each item shocked at the price of groceries. One Republican and one Democrat and neither understood the high cost of groceries.

WE SAT THERE wondering why their wives don't ever send them to the store to buy the family groceries and they might not have been so shocked.

But what amused this reporter was when they all got in a discussion of the cost of tuna and salmon in relation to the cost of other meats and began to discuss tuna casseroles and salmon croquettes.

It reminded me of the time I was covering a school board meeting in Pecos and the subject at hand was what type of shrubs and trees to plant outside the new junior high school.

One board member had one kind of trees in mind and another thought they ought to have non-bearing mulberries. They got into a hassle that wouldn't quit and everybody ended up with a different tree or shrub as their favorite.

The discussion went on and on and nobody appeared to want to relinquish their choice.

Finally, the school superintendent said with a smile, "Well, gentlemen, I'm stunned. All these years and I thought I knew this board. I thought you were a bunch of frustrated coaches and now I find out you're really a bunch of frustrated gardeners."

IT'S NEVER THE big things that drag out public meetings. It's those little things. I listened to a city council argue for two hours one time on what color the street signs should be.

I listened to another school board argue for a period of three months on whether or not the girl's showers in an elementary school should have modesty panels.

I've heard a chamber board discuss for over an hour whether it seemed too hot or too cold in the director's room.

I heard a booster club argue at three different meetings one time on how many lights should light up a victory tower.

AND I LISTENED to a hospital board worry about whether or not to put Christmas lights around the chimney on top of the incinerator.

One time a South Texas commissioner court argued half a day about what kind of stationary to purchase and where on the stationary each official's name would be placed.

It's these earth shaking decisions that keep politicians busy. And now that we've elected our choice for another year, we'll see just what kind of big important developments they'll come up with in the next political year.

England's Crisis

William F. Buckley Jr.

LONDON — Mr. Edward Heath has lost a good bit of the glamour he was supposed to have achieved, early in his term as Prime Minister, primarily from the fact of his being a totally non-glamorous prime minister. His election as head of his party was a surprise. His election as the government of England was a surprise. And mostly it was a surprise, during the early period, when he talked back to the vested interests and, for a period, held them at bay.

THE VESTED interests, in England, are primarily the labor unions. They are the nearest thing to an intractable force ever seen in a parliamentary system. They grew particularly strong in England because economic progress, over the generations since the industrial revolution, was viewed there as a categorical affair. England's idea of class made this rather more natural than it would seem in societies of atomic mobility, like our own. And, inevitably, the superstition grew that it was labor union leaders who are responsible for economic advances. The English may yet perish by that sword.

IN THE LAST years of Harold Wilson, he came to acknowledge, in his circuitous way, that something had to be done about the labor unions — about the wild-cat strikes, the jurisdictional strikes, the inordinate leverage critical unions exercise on the commonwealth. Accordingly he introduced reforms that would have denied the unions some of their outrageous powers over the public. Nothing came of it, because suddenly, unaccountably, Harold Wilson was defeated in a general election; it was as if Providence had intervened to keep him from having to face a crisis, which has been Harold Wilson's lifelong goal.

Wilson's reform was now sustaining the assault from a monopoly labor union that would galvanize the country behind labor reforms. He appears to have been quite wrong.

NOTWITHSTANDING the in-convention, there was widespread public support for the strikers. In part there was sympathy for the hard working conditions of the miners — that much is routine. But in part the English seemed to be saying that work-for-profit simply isn't all that important; that if conditions are not congenial, never mind the pay.

My Answer

Billy Graham

Please enlighten me on the following problem. My nephew is accused of fathering a child by a woman who has other children born out of wedlock. My nephew has since married a fine lady, a widow, who also has a child. This nephew believes that he is committing a sin if he does not support that first child, and that it says so in the Bible. I maintain he is wrong, and that his money should go to his immediate family, M.B.

I am not a competent judge in such matters, and I am certainly not familiar with the laws of your state.

Since it appears, however, that your nephew had an affair with this woman, who has had several children born out of wedlock, he has a moral obligation to the child in question. The fact that she has borne several children with paternal origin undecided does not prove that the child he supports is not his. If it is, or if he is uncertain about it, I believe he is under obligation to provide support. An innocent child should not be the victim of parental mistakes.

It seems to me that you should commend your nephew for his noble gesture, rather than condemning him. After all, he broke man's law and God's, and the Bible says, "Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." (Galatians 6:7.)

This is precisely what concerns me about the free-wheeling sex standards of today. In the very nature of things, there is a penalty for disobeying the laws of God. I think it's obvious that there is no such thing as free sex. A cost is attached, any way you look at it. When will we learn that sex and family affairs conducted as God intended bring no grief to anyone — but rather happiness to all involved.

A Devotion For Today . . .

Cast all your anxieties on him, for he cares about you. (1 Peter 5:7)

PRAYER: Our Father, we confess our many failures which have prevented us from reaching the heights. Forgive us, and help us through new vision to dedicate ourselves and with renewed strength move forward in meaningful discipleship. In the spirit of the Master we ask. Amen.

(From the "Upper Room")

More Time Required

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — While it is true that peace in Vietnam appears at hand, many more days of negotiations and discussion will be required before a treaty and a cease-fire may be arranged. The actual signing of an agreement by all parties may be even later.

An indication of how much work remains to be done can be gained from a reading of certain sections of the text of the proposed agreement as broadcast by radio Hanoi:

"THE SOUTH VIETNAMESE people shall decide themselves the political future of South Vietnam through genuinely free and democratic general elections under international supervision.

"The United States is not committed to any political tendency or to any personality in South Vietnam, and it does not seek to impose a pro-American regime in Saigon.

"National reconciliation and concord will be achieved, the democratic liberties of the people insured. An administrative structure called the national council of national reconciliation and concord, of three equal segments, will be set up to promote the implementation of the signed agreements by the provisional revolutionary government of the republic of South Vietnam and the government of the republic of Vietnam. To organize the general elections, the two South Vietnamese parties will consult about the formation of councils at lower level. . . . "The two South Vietnamese parties shall sign an agreement on the internal matters of South Vietnam as soon as possible and will do their utmost to accomplish this within three months after the cease-fire comes into effect.

"The reunification of Vietnam shall be carried out step by step through peaceful means.

"There will be formed a four-party joint military commission and a joint military commission of the two South Vietnamese parties.

"An international commission of control and supervision shall be established.

AN INTERNATIONAL GUARANTEE conference on Vietnam will be convened within 30 days of the signing of this agreement.

"The government of the democratic republic of Vietnam, the provisional revolutionary government of the republic of South Vietnam, the government of the United States of America and the government of the republic of Vietnam shall strictly respect the Cambodian and Laos peoples' fundamental national rights as recognized by the 1954 Geneva agreements on Indo-China and the 1962 Geneva agreements on Laos."

What this means, of course, is that the Viet Cong will have their rights preserved. Although they are referred to as a "provisional revolutionary government," evidently certain minority rights are to be guaranteed to them.

Encampments Fun

Robert E. Ford

Some residents got quite upset last June when a good many youngsters attended Expto 72 in Dallas didn't show up in private homes for bed and board as expected.

Some tents were put up on cooperative residents' back or front lawns.

And a tent city of 2,000 persons sprang up at Arlington between Fort Worth and Dallas.

But not many were as much fun as the Baptist tent encampments at Christoval, Tex., 50 or so years ago.

"Encampments" were just what the word means — camping — and were more permanent than a "camp meeting." At least they seemed to last longer.

Over in Glorietta, N.M., the Baptists have now what they call an "encampment," and hundreds or maybe thousands go there each year. But an oldtime Baptist would scoff. The New Mexico place is too civilized, sophisticated, modern.

AS CHRISTOVAL, people came from all over the country in their touring cars and roadsters.

They erected their tents in the banks of the Concho River beneath tall pecan trees, or they simply erected four poles and stretched canvas between them, leaving the top open to the sky but giving privacy for sleeping and dressing. It doesn't rain a lot in Christoval in the summer.

Ah, there was grand preaching in an open-sided pavilion. But it was the Concho River that drew attention as much as anything else — making the whole thing a summer vacation with religious overtones.

THE RIVER was narrow, its flow not too rapid, and the water was clear and beautiful.

There was swimming but under different customs. There were hours for girls to swim and hours for boys. There was none of what was called "mixed bathing," although there were rumors that a few free-spirit boys who would go upstream out of sight who would go upstream out of sight of their elders and swim whenever they pleased.

Downtown Christoval had a general store on the east side of what essentially was the only street. The post office was in the store.

On the other side was the weekly newspaper, printed on a genuine Washington press, a slow way of printing but Christoval residents had plenty of time.

The greatest wonder of all was the drug store, and it still exists, probably in the same building.

The store had a soda fountain — you couldn't operate a drug store without them in those days. There were no prepared medicines.

Any pharmacist in those days virtually memorized huge books on preparation of drugs. He took the raw material and filled the prescription.

In the back of the drug store was the doctor's office, another wonderful place.

The doctor had two skulls sitting on a shelf — and no one ever could determine why. Perhaps it was to scare unruly little boys into being quiet while being examined.

The doctor owned the only automobile in town, a Model T Ford without a self-starter. The cranks — that's an instrument to turn over the motor, youngsters — frequently "kicked" if the motor backfired, which it often did, breaking the cranks' arm.

SO THE DOCTOR was always trying to persuade someone to start his car for him — and sometimes they broke their arms. There was a joke in town that the doctor did this to get more business of setting broken bones.

OILING IT UP!

Young Execs Moving On

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The voluntary emigration rate among managers in their 30s has been shooting upward since the first of the year, said the professor. Optimism prevails, and the young mobiles are changing jobs again.

It is nothing unexpected. Just as water churns when the kettle is heated, so also do the spirited, talented young managers begin to move about when the economy gets hot.

Eugene Jennings, who has spent his adult life — he's a bit on the far side of 40 — studying executive mobility, maintains that this group is the avant-garde of job changers, and that younger and older executives will follow their lead.

"This group is vital to understanding business economics," he said. "They have the most mobility, the greatest capacity to be optimistic. They are a good barometer of optimism. When they move it means people are betting on the future."

For at least two years this group, which usually is the most free to change jobs, was frustrated. "Intelligence dictated that they watch their nests." They were unable to hasten their careers by job changes.

But there is more than optimism and ambition involved in executive churning, which still isn't as intense as it was in pre-recession days but may double the rate of 1969 and 1970.

Between 1965 and 1968, said Jennings, who is a professor at Michigan State University, an author and business consultant, many companies recruited more talent than they needed. Then came the recession.

"They discovered that too many of the people they had hired were not of the proper caliber. They were forced to counsel out a lot of young and middle-age managers." To be "counselled out" is to be laid off gently.

In reducing their staffs, however, many companies failed to reassure competent workers whom they wanted to stay.

Some of these talented people lost their sense of direction, said Jennings. They too expected the ax.

Many of these managers are now moving on, said Jennings, who maintains 41 listening posts in corporations. Their employment was never reinforced by the company, he said. They weren't told they were wanted.

Easing their movement is the fact that opportunities of age exist. Because of the vagaries of birth rates and economic growth, middle-age managers are in growing demand. There are openings for those in their late 30s to mid-40s.

Those who can market themselves now tend to go, Jennings observed. "They are rebelling against corporate life, against what is called the '5 to 9' routine," or of working until 9 p.m. when others leave at 5.

"The unions gave the blue-collar worker the idea of a fuller life," said Jennings, "but nobody speaks for the overworked executive." Therefore, he concludes, they are speaking up for themselves.

Fat Ladies Softer Touch

More Bodies Down There?

BRUNSWICK, Ga. (AP) — Search operations resume today in the swift Brunswick River for six persons missing after a ship slammed into a mile-long bridge, sending at least 10 vehicles into the water. Five bodies have been recovered since the Tuesday night tragedy, and Ted McKenzie, a state district engineer helping with rescue efforts, said Wednesday "there might be more than six bodies down there. "We just won't know until we can get to the wreckage," he said. "We know there's at least six down there, though, just from what the survivors have told us." Six Navy divers searched all day Wednesday but failed to find any more bodies. Civil Defense official Ralph Kelly said two oil slicks were spotted, indicating the location of cars the divers had been unable to find. Underwater visibility was reported to be only a few inches. The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers was to bring in a barge and crane today to begin removing the rubble of the Sidney Lanier Bridge. Three 150-foot sections collapsed into the river, which is about 40 feet deep. The U. S. Freighter African Neptune was outbound Tuesday night when it missed the draw span and smashed into the bridge. ## Value Of Building Permits Here Up By 59 Per Cent

October building permits indicate constructions in the City of Big Spring at a total cost of $226,858, bringing the total for the year to $1,479,309. This represents an increase of 59 per cent over the construction costs for the same 10 months in 1971. Costs through October last year totaled $928,805. The October costs also showed a significant increase over the mere $22,825 begun in October 1971. A total of 357 permits for the year have been issued, compared to 276 through October of last year. The greatest contributor to the October increase was the beginning of construction on the new Sacred Heart Catholic Church building, estimated to cost some $152,800. Two new residences were given permits during the month: Dovecote Inc. applying for permit on a $30,000 residence at 2702 Coronado, and Buster Peek applying for a new $20,000 home at 2920 Melrose. Permit for construction of a new business building was issued to Charles Buzbee for a $6,000 structure at 3201 W. Hwy. 80. The quarter-million dollar construction cost for October ranks second for the year only to the month of July in which permits were issued allowing construction at an estimated cost of $323,605. Revenues from the issuance of October permits totals $231.50, raising the total for the year to $2,317.00, another nice increase over the October year-to-date total for 1971 of $1,968.50. Plumbing and electrical permits are also up from last year, 624 electrical permits over the 1971 figure of 533, and 235 plumbing permits over the 125 issued for the first 10 months of 1971. Fees collected in the plumbing and electrical inspection division for the year now stand at $5,309.40 over last year's $4,122.10.

Power Search: Underground Atom Plants May Be Answer

Copley News Service There is a psychological problem in locating nuclear power plants. Many people associate nuclear plants with atomic bombs and don't want to live near such plants which hover over the landscape.

Their fears, according to scientists, are groundless since a nuclear plant isn't a bomb and can't blow up. Some fear the possible escape of radiation despite the superconservative safety requirements imposed by the Atomic Energy Commission. FEAR Some researchers at the California Institute of Technology's Environmental Quality Laboratory have come up with what they believe may be a solution to avoiding some of these fears. They say that nuclear power plants could be put underground.

sites not presently acceptable for nuclear power plants would be available for underground plants. WASTE HEAT "Conceivably," he said, "underground plants could be built closer to the population centers which not only use the power but might be able to avail themselves of the waste heat now lost by surface plants. The waste heat could be used for space heating, air-conditioning and other industrial uses."

Winds Raking West Texas

By The Associated Press A new Pacific cold front traveled across West Texas toward the southeast today, and stiff south winds raking areas ahead of it switched around to the northwest as the forward edge of the colder air arrived. Light to occasionally moderate rain fell across the north part of the Texas Panhandle and showers extended as far south as Amarillo. More showers were expected to mark the progress of the frontal system downstate. Near daybreak the norther had pushed as far as a line linking Childress and Midland. Early morning temperatures ranged from 43 degrees at Amarillo and Dalhart and 44 at Texarkana up to 86 at Brownsville and 70 at Galveston. Windy and somewhat cooler weather with clearing skies was predicted for most sections by Friday, but forecasters looked for no big changes in temperatures.

17 Yankees Die In Viet

Dr. M. B. Watson and Dr. Martin Goldsmith said the plants could be constructed underground without substantial changes in already developed equipment design. PLANT COST There would be some additional cost for putting the plants underground. The two said it would increase the plant cost by less than 10 per cent. Goldsmith said one potential advantage of placing power plants underground is that containment vessels for radioactive materials would be backed up by hundreds of feet of rock on all sides. "This," he said, "will give even greater assurance of containing radioactive materials in case of accident." He said the greater safety and inconspicuousness of such plants might mean that some surface

SAIGON (AP) — Seventeen American servicemen were killed in action in Vietnam last week, the U.S. Command reported today. Two more died of nonhostile causes and two were wounded. The size of the death toll — the largest in a month — was due to the loss of 15 servicemen in a helicopter that was shot down in the Mekong Delta Oct. 31. Two U.S. civilians also were killed. The South Vietnamese command reported its highest weekly casualties since the second week of August: 598 killed, 2,548 wounded and 123 missing. The South Vietnamese said 2,901 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were killed and 107 captured during the week.

Delaware Holds Onto Top Spot

NEW YORK (AP) — Delaware retained its hold on the No. 1 position in the college division football poll, and South Dakota, by virtue of its victory last Saturday over North Dakota State, jumped from nowhere to the fifth position.

The Blue Hens, first all but two weeks in the balloting by sports writers and broadcasters for The Associated Press, have an 8-0 season record and collected 10 first-place votes and 278 points in the results announced today.

Louisiana Tech, which held first for two weeks, is 9-0. It received four votes for first and 240 points.

South Dakota, 8-1, was not listed in the Top Ten teams last week but then beat No. 6 North Dakota State 35-21 last Saturday. It received one first-place vote and 166 points.

California Poly-San Luis Obispo is third with 191 points and Tennessee State is fourth with 167. These are the same positions they held last week.

Ashland was fifth last week and beat Waynesburg 41-0 but still dropped to sixth in the current poll. North Dakota is seventh and Grambling eighth, each a jump of one place for the two teams.

Idaho State entered the poll as No. 9 while McNeese State, last week's No. 7, now is 10th.

Dropping from the poll were North Dakota State, and Massachusetts, last week's No. 10, which lost over the weekend.

Hull Gets Green Light

The judge gave Bobby Hull a green light but the Quebec Nordiques led him to a dead end.

Hull, making his first appearance as player-coach of the World Hockey Association's Winnipeg Jets came out on the short end of a 3-2 score against Quebec Wednesday night.

In the only other WHA game played, Los Angeles nipped New York 2-1.

A ruling by a Philadelphia judge earlier Wednesday granted Hull and other NHL jumpers the right to perform with their WHA clubs.

The judgment overruled an earlier NHL injunction which had deprived Winnipeg of Hull's services.

When he took the WHA ice for the first time, Hull received a thunderous standing ovation from a Quebec crowd of 10,126. The Nordiques were less hospitable.

Hull did assist on a goal by Danny Johnson with five seconds left in the game, but by that time, it was too late. The Nordiques, with Pierre Roy and Jean Payette scoring in the first period and Yves Bergeron in the second, hung on for the victory.

A LEADER'S PERFORMANCE — George McGinnis of Indiana forces in one of the goals that gave him a game-high 35 points in the Pacers' 135-124 American Basketball Association victory over Utah Wednesday night.

Indiana moved atop the Western Division standings, one-half game in front of the Stars.

Cunningham, Calvin Lead Cougars Past Kentucky Colonels

By The Associated Press — Billy Cunningham and Mack Calvin are survivors. The team Cunningham left is starting the season with 14 losses and Calvin's old club has disappeared completely.

Cunningham played for Philadelphia in the National Basketball Association last year. He departed to join the Carolina Cougars of the American Basketball Association this season and the 76ers are now threatening to never win a game.

Calvin was a star for the ABA's Floridians but when the league pared itself he was tossed into the common draft and grabbed by Carolina.

It was a lucky break for both of them, but it has been luckier for the Cougars, who now are first in the ABA East. The new boys in town are doing everything Carolina thought they would and Wednesday night they led the Cougars to a 126-111 victory over the Kentucky Colonels.

Calvin scored 33 points and Cunningham 28 and each hit 12 points in the second quarter when the Cougars tallied 39 points to grab a 64-50 halftime lead after holding just a 25-23 margin after the first period.

Carolina went on to get a 93-77 lead after the third period. Joe Caldwell added 22 points for Carolina while Dan Issel hit 28 points to lead the Colonels.

In other ABA games, Indiana beat Utah 135-124, Virginia whipped Denver 116-111 and Dallas downed Memphis 126-118.

Indiana grabbed the lead in the ABA West by beating Utah as George McGinnis scored 35 points. It was the Pacers' seventh straight victory. Mel Daniels had 24 points and Roger Brown 22 for Indiana. James Jones led the Stars with 32; Ron Boone had 29 and Willie Wise 27.

Julius Erving had 38 points, 21 in the second half, for Virginia. The Squires had trailed Denver 65-64 at halftime but their defense, led by Roland Taylor, stiffened and they took the lead. Taylor hit 14 points for Virginia and Warren Jabali and Ralph Simpson each had 22 points for Denver.

Philadelphia Losing In Big Numbers

By The Associated Press — Philadelphia is losing in big numbers now. The 76ers have dropped 14 straight and the latest loss came at the hands of a team whose top shooter was hurt.

Nate Archibald of the Kansas City-Omaha Kings sprained his thumb in the first quarter of Wednesday night's game. It didn't stop him from scoring 34 points and dropping the 76ers 12 games out of first in the National Basketball Association Atlantic Division after just three weeks of the season.

"It's tough. It's very tough," said Philadelphia guard Fred Carter. "All we can do is just keep plugging."

Archibald, who leads the league in both scoring and assists, did some plugging of his own after he was injured. "I found that I couldn't hit my jumpers so I had to pass off," the 6-foot-1 guard said. "I shot terrible (14-of-16). I couldn't hit anything but lay-ups."

The little star must have healed quickly as he hit 16 points in the final period. He also handed out 18 assists during the game.

The Kings, who trailed for most of the first half, got 23 points from rookie Ken Riley and took the lead for good in the third period. John Block led the 76ers with 35 points.

In other NBA games, Boston beat Golden State 128-111. Milwaukee topped Seattle 116-103. Baltimore beat Buffalo 126-94 and Phoenix whipped Cleveland 107-99.

Boston scored 40 points in the third quarter. Don Chaney had 11 in the third and 23 for the game. John Havlicek led the Celtics with 25 and JoJo White had 18. Rick Barry led Golden State with 34 points. Boston now leads the NBA Atlantic by one-half game over New York.

The loss dropped the Warriors one game behind Los Angeles in the Pacific Division. Milwaukee, led by Kareem Abdul-Jabbar's 29 points and Bob Dandridge's 25, had little trouble with struggling Seattle. The Sonics were held to just three field goals in 8 1/2 minutes of the third period. Spencer Haywood hit 29 points and John Brisker 27 for Seattle.

Elvin Hayes scored 25 points and grabbed 20 rebounds for Baltimore. The Bullets led 69-40 at halftime and won easily. Mike Riordan scored 20 for the Bullets while rookie Kevin Porter turned in 19 points and 12 assists. Buffalo's high scorers were Bob McAdoo with 18 points and John Hummer with 16.

Phoenix' Charlie Scott scored 34 points, including 14 during a 35-point third quarter. Cleveland had led 54-43 at halftime before the Suns put on their rally. Austin Carr led the Cavaliers with 26 points. The victory was General Manager Jerry Colangelo's third straight since General Manager Jerry Colangelo took over for Coach Bill van Breda Kolff.

SEASON ENDS FOR DUANE Chargers Deactivate Thomas

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The football season has ended almost as soon as it began for Duane Thomas, the enigmatic running back of the San Diego Chargers.

Coach Harland Svare, who activated Thomas for the first time Sunday and then left him on the bench while the Chargers were losing to Thomas' former Dallas teammates, said Wednesday he was placing him on the reserve list. That means Thomas will be ineligible to play for the rest of the National Football League season.

The announcement was a surprise, since Thomas had attended every team practice since Friday and was reported to be at ease Tuesday, talking with some of his teammates and staying later than most of them to run back kicks. But he was absent Wednesday.

There were other indications of trouble at the stadium Sunday. During most of the pre-game workouts, Thomas stood to one side, his hands on his knees. Near the end of the National Anthem he walked slowly beside the Chargers' bench. During the game he sat on the bench, staring straight ahead, outwardly responding neither to the game nor to several teammates' attempts at conversation.

"Obviously he's got some problems that won't permit him to play now," Svare said Wednesday. "I hope he will be able to play for us next season. His actions Sunday were not deliberate and were not intended to be disrespectful."

"He was relaxed yesterday (Tuesday) but I don't think that would have kept up. He did not show up today. I did not expect him."

Thomas has been living in a hotel here with his wife and two children. He is under probation for a marijuana possession conviction in Texas, and one of the conditions of probation is employment, but Svare said, "it doesn't necessarily have to be football." It was not learned whether he will stay in San Diego.

Thomas, 25, one of the best running backs in the NFL for the past two seasons, was traded from the Cowboys to the Chargers July 31 for running back Mike Montgomery and receiver Billy Parks. His relations with his employers, which had reached a state of noncommunication in Dallas, did not improve in San Diego.

SUSPENDED OILER Next Move Is Up To Wells

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Oilers Coach Bill Peterson says the next move is up to Warren Wells if the controversial wide receiver intends to play for the Oilers.

Wells was fined, suspended and placed on the Oilers' move list Tuesday for being absent from Oilers functions and Peterson said Wednesday the next move belongs to Wells.

"All I know is he was out on the field running today (Wednesday)," Peterson said. "We gave him a chance to play and we'll give him another chance but this time it's up to him to show us he wants to play."

Wells must remain on the move list a total of two games and could be there until the end of the season.

But Peterson was more worried about the Philadelphia Eagles, Sunday's opponent in the Astro dome. "They're a lot like we are," he said. "They've been struggling but they've moved the ball real well and they've changed up their defense. They use the zone pretty well. They've made it tough to read."

Peterson said he would stick with Dan Pastorini at quarterback again this week although the second-year Santa Clara flinger is having a touch season.

"He's tightened up some and he's waiting a little too long to throw the football," Peterson said. "I think he's just not anticipating his receivers well." Peterson started No. 1 draft choice Greg Sampson at defensive end last week and Council Rudolph at end but said he would return to Leo Brooks at tackle and Pat Holmes this week.

"I think a little competition is good," Peterson said. "We gave Sampson a chance to play and now we're going to see if Leo can come back."

Houston and Philadelphia have two of the worst records in pro football. The Oilers are 1-7 and the Eagles 1-6-1 after a 6-6 tie with St. Louis last week.

Both offensive units have been impotent. Philadelphia hasn't scored a touchdown in 10 quarters. Houston has scored 31 points in the last five games including two shutouts.

Hunter's Goal Lifts Angelina By 'Hawks

LUFKIN — James Hunter scored with 12 seconds remaining in the game to give Angelina College an 88-87 win over Howard County Jr. College here Wednesday night.

Angelina had taken a 48-45 lead at the half, only to see the Jayhawks battle back behind the hot hand of guard Leroy Lumzy to grab the lead early in the second half. The Jayhawks led by as much as five points during the second half of the game.

The Jayhawks had a chance to pull the game out immediately after Hunter's basket; however, when Howard County put up the shot, it missed the basket to preserve the Angelina win.

The Jayhawks had three players break 20 points in the game. This was the first time in recent years that three Howard County players scored more than 20 points in one game. Tom Bledsoe led the Jayhawk scoring parade with 29 points. He was followed by Lumzy with 24 points and Taylor Williams with 22 points.

Howard County returns to Big Spring for the first home game of the season Nov. 14 when the Jayhawks meet Southwestern Christian College. That game has been designated "Jam Jayhawk Gym Night."

DON'T WIN BIG Cowboys Criticized

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys are suffering the slings and arrows of the Super Bowl champions who don't win big.

"It's kind of tragic but we're going to get criticized anytime we don't win big because we've put ourselves in the position of super stars," said cornerback Mel Renfro. "If you don't perform like a super star, well something is wrong in the eyes of the fans."

The Cowboys were roasted in the local media in the wake of Sunday's 34-28 victory over San Diego in which the National Football League champions almost blew a 31 point lead.

Coach Tom Landry underwent such stern criticism about the performance of his defense at Wednesday's press conference that he said "I thought we won."

Television stations in the area showed "lowlight films of Cowboy defensive boo-boos."

"The years of one team being dominated are past," said Renfro. "There are so many great individual performers spread through the league that you can have a good defense and still look bad. That's what has happened to us from time to time. We have a great defense but that's not going to keep us from getting stung."

Renfro harkened back to the dynasty talk that floated from the Cowboy dressing room after Super Bowl VI.

"The dynasty talk was a little premature because the teams in the NFL are too equal,"

Renfro said. "New England beats Washington then gets wiped out by a weaker team. I imagine St. Louis will test us in that area," Landry said of Sunday's game against the Cardinals in Texas Stadium. Renfro may have put his finger on Dallas' problems, saying: "When you've gone to the championship, you sometimes get complacent. You don't worry about the little games. You wait until the big games to play really hard...that's just human nature."

Sports... In Brief

Football PITTSBURGH — The Pittsburgh Steelers placed veteran safety Chuck Beatty on waivers. Hockey PHILADELPHIA — Bobby Hull and other stars who jumped from the National Hockey League to the new World Hockey Association are free to play in the WHA under a ruling by a federal court judge.

DISTRICT 7-AA STATS Choate Moves Into Second

Sophomore Putt Choate has moved ahead of Roland Beal to take over possession of second place in the District 7-AA rushing statistics released today. Choate, who also plays linebacker for the Coahoma Bulldogs, has carried the football 133 times for 673 yards, a 5.5 yards-per-carry average. Choate's teammate Beal has gained 661 yards on 87 carries. In fifth spot in the top rushing stats is a third Coahoma player, a halfback, Freddie Franklin. Franklin has 556 yards on 82 carries.

Table with columns: Team, Rush, Pass, Avg. Rows include Coahoma, Stanton, Reagan Co., etc.

THURMOND HAS THE REACH — Nate Thurmond's 6-11 height is used to good advantage as he tips rebound away from John Havlicek (17), Boston Celtics, as the Golden State Warrior controls a rebound in the first period of their National Basketball Association game at Boston last night. Warriors Joe Ellis (31) wait for Thurmond to tip ball his way. Boston won, 128-111.

Howard, McMeans Capture Honors

Two sterling performances by a sophomore quarterback and a senior halfback made it tough for the Stanton Buffalo coaching staff to choose a top back after the Buffs' 20-12 win over McCamey last week. Sophomore Billy Howard made a successful debut as a Stanton signal-caller and halfback Dwayne McMeans made the most of his rare offensive appearances to earn "Co-Backs of the Week" honors at Stanton.

Reynolds Among Leading Rushers In District 5-4A

Earl Reynolds is the only Big Spring Steer ball carrier ranked among the top 20 rushers in District 5-4A, according to the league statistics released today. Reynolds, who saw little action against Abilene Cooper last week, is 19th among the loop's ballcarriers with 102 yards on 25 carries. Both Tom Sorley and Alan Davis are ranked among the top 10 passers in the district. Davis is fifth with 23 completions in 63 attempts for 369 yards. Sorley is seventh with 42 attempts, 20 completions for 278 yards, with most of the yardage coming in the last three games. Steer split end Nate Poss has moved to second in the league pass-catching statistics while teammate Jerry Knoepfel is close behind in third place. Poss has 15 catches for 225 yards. Knoepfel has 14 catches for 215 yards.

Judge Rules Against NHL

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The new plutocrats of the sporting set — Bobby Hull, Derek Sanderson, John McKenzie and others who jumped from the National Hockey League to the World Hockey Association — have received an official courtroom go-ahead to begin earning their riches. A preliminary injunction issued Wednesday by U.S. District Court Judge A. Leon Higginbotham prohibits the NHL from enforcing its controversial reserve clause, which had given it a monopoly on professional hockey player pool. He stopped short at this time, however, from ruling the clause illegal. The decision was a godsend for the WHA, which based its survival strategy on luring established stars for sky-high salaries. The order was set to become effective upon payment by the WHA of a $2.5 million bond.

BUBBA'S LITTLE BROTHER Tody Tries To Escape Shadow

as Larry Cole except he's getting them on raw ability rather than savvy," compared Dallas Cowboy coach Tom Landry. "I've lived under a 'Bubba's little brother' stigma," announced the third son from Dallas. "People really haven't seen me; they only have heard Bubba had a little brother." Well, they're seeing him now on the far left of the Dallas Cowboys' defensive line — Tody Smith. Please do not confuse him with any other of the Smith brothers.

For one of his recent experiences, Tody is doing better. At USC he missed what would have been his sophomore season with an injury, made All-America as a junior, then could play in only four games as a senior because of an ankle injury. Still, Dallas made him the 25th player taken on the draft round of the 1971 draft. Pursuing a holdout, Tody missed most of training camp. When he did sign, he was assigned to the taxi squad. "For the last five seasons, I've had only one full season of football," he noted. "I haven't had a chance to really assert myself." He has it now and he wants the Cowboys to view him only as a man named Smith. "I'm sure when they look at me they have visions of another Bubba," said Tody. "I'm sure any coach would. What people don't realize is Bubba is 6-8 and weighs 280; I'm 6-5 and go 240 at the most. Obviously, there is a difference. Obviously, my style cannot be the same."

MEET ARKANSAS Owls Trying To Salvage Season

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rice's trick plays are far more sophisticated than those diagrammed in the dirt of every sandlot football game. "We do draw them up on paper," says Rice Coach Al Conover. "But, if we had some sand out there on the artificial turf it would be all right." Rice plays Arkansas Saturday at Little Rock and both are trying to salvage seasons that have been going downhill lately. Arkansas, 2-2 in the Southwestern Conference, and Rice, 0-3, are both out of the conference title chase. Arkansas coach Frank Broyles says Rice "gives you it up and pitched it to a halfback who had nine players blocking for him. The officials overruled the play, saying the ball had not been marked ready for action. Conover is like the golfer who sinks an approach shot for a par — he doesn't care how, only how many. The Owls have averaged more than 34 passes a game and threw 47 times in a 29-10 victory over Clemson. "I don't care what we do as long as we move the football," Conover said. Rice started the season in surprising fashion, beating Houston and Clemson and then

Kings Stretch String To Nine; Drop Flames

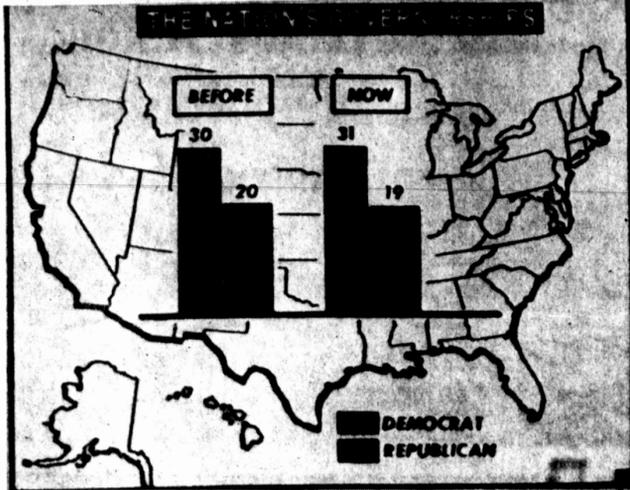

It took some doing, but the National Hockey League's hottest team stretched its unbeaten streak to nine games Wednesday night with a 2-3 tie against expansionist Atlanta. Now, guess which team is unbeaten in its last nine. Powerhouse Montreal? Nope. The tenacious New York Rangers? Negative. Boston's defending Stanley Cup champions? Guess which team the Los Angeles Kings? Believe it or not, the Kings, surprise leaders in the NHL West, are hockey's hottest club. L.A. losers of 141 games in the last three seasons, got two goals in the final 3 1/2 minutes to gain the tie. There was some solace for Atlanta though. They did snap an eight-game winning string for the Kings. In other NHL action Wednesday, Montreal stung Toronto 5-2, the Rangers downed Vancouver 5-2, Chicago rapped the New York Islanders 6-1, Pittsburgh defeated Philadelphia 5-2 and Minnesota whipped California 5-2. Los Angeles defenseman Giles Marotte tipped in a shot to cut the Flames' lead to a single goal. Then, with only 35 seconds left on the clock, Mike Corrigan deflected Juhani Widing's shot into the Atlanta net for the tying goal. The Rangers, unbeaten in seven consecutive games at home, bunched four goals in

Nixon 'Very Turned On' By Economic Problems

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon's chief domestic-policy aide says Nixon is "very turned on" about reorganizing the federal bureaucracy. But he predicts 1973 will find economic issues "right on the front burner."

John D. Ehrlichman, who flew here with his boss and other Nixon aides Wednesday night for what was described as a discussion of an effort to get government to work "more efficiently and more effectively," said in an interview the President is getting deeply involved in federal management problems.

Nixon announced through Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler that he is planning a significant reorganization of the White House staff and the rest of the bureaucracy, and also is making a point of seeking standby resignations from all his political appointees.

VERY TURNED ON
Ehrlichman said: "I think the President is going to be willing to take a look at the whole question of how the federal government is working. We've already got structural reorganizations but I think in a functional sense there's going to be more and more inquiry, more and more involvement... in the management aspects of government. He's very turned on with that subject."

Ehrlichman said much of the work in this area presumably would be accomplished by the Office of Management and Budget, which Nixon created to combine the functions of the old Budget Bureau with problems of efficiency engineering. He said OMB "has not fulfilled its management role, in the President's opinion."

Ziegler indicated personnel changes and reorganization actions or proposals are likely to be a centerpiece of Nixon's work in the weeks preceding his second inaugural on Jan. 20, 1973.

LABOR WOES
Looking farther ahead, Ehrlichman said the first months of 1973 would see a sharp Nixon focus on economy in government, impending labor negotiations in major industries, and such matters as monetary policy and the lingering balance-of-payments problem—all having a major domestic impact.

For one thing, Nixon faces an early decision on whether to continue wage-price restraints, due to expire April 1.

"Next year is going to be an economic year," Ehrlichman predicted. "Those are all going to be big items."

Nixon will begin his second term facing a rather dreary budget outlook. With red ink already flowing freely, he repeatedly made a barely qualified campaign pledge of no federal tax increases—especially in 1973—if Uncle Sam's spending can be brought under control.

The President's aim is to meet a self-imposed spending limit of $250 billion—still a record—during the current fiscal year that began July 1. But Ehrlichman said budget-tightening does not mean a cut-back in government.

"You hear people say that if you have budget stringency that means some current federal programs won't be happening in the future. That's not the inevitable implication of a spending restraint," he said.

Masked Men Shoot Three Men In Back

CHRISTIANSTED, St. Croix V.I. (AP) — This island's second restaurant holdup in as many months triggered a search today for four masked men who shot two men dead and wounded a third.

Police said the bandits entered the Brauhaus Restaurant as 10 persons lounged around the dining room watching election returns Tuesday night.

The robbers, clad in fatigues, demanded that customers empty their pockets and then cleaned out the cash register, officers said.

Witnesses said the victims were shot in the back before the robbers jumped into a getaway car and sped away from the restaurant, about seven miles from here.

The shootings followed by two months a similar robbery-slaying at the Fountain Valley Golf Club which left eight persons dead, including five Americans. Five Virgin Islanders, who pleaded innocent, have been charged with those murders.

Following a pattern established after the September slayings, Atty. Gen. Ronald Tonkin refused to divulge information about the investigation of the Brauhaus killings.

OLDER HAND AIDS WARRIOR — A teenage Cambodian army soldier, hit in rocket attack on advancing troops, is helped to aid station by other buddy during battling to reopen Route 5, the vital "rice road" north of Phnom Penh, the Cambodian capital. There are an unknown number of teenagers in the Cambodian army who fight alongside older and more seasoned veterans.

Five Skyjackers Given $320,000

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A relief Mexican airliner flew 52 passengers and seven crewmen home from Cuba today after their hijacked plane sprang an oil leak in Havana.

But the Cuban government gave no indication what it would do with the five hijackers, the $320,000 they collected and six suspected bank robbers surrendered by the Mexican government.

The hijacked plane, a Boeing 727 of Mexicana de Aviacion, arrived in the Cuban capital Wednesday. The relief plane was dispatched at 11:15 p.m. with an extra crew to fly the other plane out. It was expected later today.

Three Americans were reported on the hijacked plane.

Five armed men took over the jet Wednesday 23 minutes after it took off from Monterrey for Mexico City. They demanded safe conduct out of the country for six persons accused of a series of bank robberies in Monterrey and a million pesos — $80,000.

As the plane circled the city and police rounded up the suspected robbers, the hijackers upped the money demand to 4 million pesos. Police brought four of the suspects from jail, including a woman who had been wounded when she was arrested. The other two were not in custody, but came to the airport in answer to broadcast appeals.

The plane landed at Monterrey and refueled for the 2½-hour flight to Cuba. Police dressed only in bathing trunks brought the money and the alleged robbers aboard. The hijackers then freed 29 of the passengers — 20 women, seven men and two children.

Planes Blast Bases In Syria

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli planes bombed two guerrilla bases in Syria today in retaliation for recent raids in the occupied Golan Heights, the Israeli military command announced.

The planes struck the bases just after noon. The spokesman did not identify the targets but said all planes returned safely.

The spokesman said he believed the targets of the pilots were across the cease-fire line from Boqaata, in the northern sector of the Golan Heights, where a land mine exploded beneath a tractor Thursday, wounding the driver, and a patrol clashed with guerrillas this morning.

The spokesman said he had no knowledge of Arab casualties or damage from the air attack.

Re-Election Of Nixon Sparks Demonstrations

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — University of California students and street people staged two protests against President Nixon's re-election and the war in Vietnam. They ended with some rock throwing and trash fires but no reported arrests or injuries.

A noon rally in Sproul Plaza Wednesday turned into a raid by some 150 demonstrators who charged into a campus restaurant and ruined the lunch of a visiting South Vietnamese government official.

Tran Cong Ham, planning chief of the Saigon government's Interior Department, got out a back way, and police shouldered inside to rescue his translator who had been left to face the jeering crowd. There were no arrests.

At 7:30 p.m., a second crowd assembled, this time at Willard

U.S.-Polish Trade Gains

WASHINGTON (AP) — Trade between the United States and Poland will triple during the next several years under a new trade agreement, American officials predict.

The agreement was signed Wednesday and provides that each government will make reciprocal credits available to finance each other's exports. Credit from the Export-Import Bank reportedly will be available to Poland, officials said.

Secretary of Commerce Peter G. Peterson said current trade between the two countries totals $200 million a year. He said this will probably grow to $600 million over the next several years, and that the United States may realize a trade surplus with Poland by 1973.

Her Class Work Wasn't What Teachers Wanted

By BARBARA LORD

"I can still remember my teachers getting angry with me when they found me drawing instead of doing reading, writing or arithmetic," said Mrs. Ira Raley. "I've always loved to paint, and I love nature. Anyone can paint, but you have to be able to feel what you're painting to be really good. That's a God-given gift."

Mrs. Raley shares her "gift" with students ranging in age from seven to 70. She teaches groups or individuals and gets a lot of enjoyment from helping others learn the benefits of painting which have meant so much to her.

Mrs. Raley began painting at about the age of seven, and her works depict a keen observance of almost every aspect of living. She does portraits, snow scenes, western landscapes and animals. Horses are one of her favorite subjects. Some of her art incorporates use of materials other than paints to give her work a uniquely realistic texture.

"I encourage original and creative paintings from my students," said Mrs. Raley, who thinks an art instructor should be demonstrating and offering hints to students all during a class session. She said painting is the best thing in the world for anyone who is nervous. She receives a lot of cooperation from her husband who assists with housecleaning while she conducts her classes or paints on her own time.

"We are a congenial couple," said Mrs. Raley. "We love life and we love people. The people I teach are more than students to both of us; they are friends." Raley is a retired employee of Big Spring Independent School District. The couple has four children, Mrs. James D. Belew and Mrs. Joe Meador, both of Big Spring; Mrs. E. L. Collier, Coahoma; and James C. Raley, Midland. They also have 13 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

COOKING IS ART
Cooking is another form of art that Mrs. Raley enjoys, and she is a firm believer that people need two good balanced meals per day. She received her share of cooking experience as a young girl, because she is from a family of six sisters and two brothers.

"When you're in a family that size, you have to help," she said.

Cooking for two people posed some problem once the Raley's children were all reared and gone, but now Mrs. Raley has adjusted her recipes to less quantity while maintaining the quality.

"My husband doesn't like leftovers, and I want to make him happy," said Mrs. Raley. She said her electric skillet is the most used appliance in her kitchen, and that her recipes are old favorites that are simple to make, quickly prepared and tasty to eat. Raley usually prepares the couple's breakfast, and also keeps a ready supply of hot coffee on hand for students whenever they want some.

"When my family was still at home, I always had the Sunday meal in the oven and cooking before we left for church," said Mrs. Raley. "Now I sometimes go to church without even knowing what we're going to have, but I always come up with something."

HOLIDAY CANDY
During the Christmas season Mrs. Raley makes candy, particularly pralines and divinity, but she makes very few sweets compared to when her family was growing up. Quite often, her children and grandchildren visit, and Mrs. Raley is in her glory when little children are around. She said she can't think of anything she would rather do than keep her grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Raley, married in 1925 in Williamson County near Austin, have lived in Big Spring for 25 years. In addition to painting, she also does decoupage work, makes frames for miniature paintings, designs miniature flower arrangements and experiments in any new idea she hears about. Her home is filled with beautiful antiques and a collection of China dolls, as well as many pictures which she has done. With all of her activities, she still treasures her time alone when she can read or devote herself to church work. She teaches a Sunday school class at College Baptist Church. She is a charter member of Big Spring Art Association, joining the group before it became a federated club.

Pear Kuchen Makes Perfect Meal Finale

Slices of juicy ripe pears topped with spiced, buttery crumbs makes Fresh Pear Kuchen a grand finale to any meal. Serve it slightly warm with whipped cream or with a wedge of pungent cheese such as Roquefort or Bleu.

Pears reach their peak of goodness after they are picked. To ripen pears at home, place in a paper or film bag with a damp sponge or wad of cotton to supply humidity. Hold at room temperature until pears are fully ripened. If a film bag is used, it should have some holes in it.

Take advantage of the good supplies of winter pears in the market now. They're ideal for easy salads, for preserves, pickling or freezing. Only 100 calories in a good size pear 3 inches long by 2 1/2 inches in diameter, 182 grams, which is welcome news to the diet conscious.

FRESH PEAR KUCHEN
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
2 tps. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tps. plus 1/2 cup sugar, divided

3 tps. shortening
1/2 cup milk
2 large fresh pears, cut in 1/2-inch slices
1/4 tsp. ginger
1/4 tsp. nutmeg
1/2 tsp. grated fresh lemon rind

2 tps. butter or margarine
Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and 1 tablespoon sugar. Cut in shortening with pastry blender or two knives until mixture resembles oatmeal. Stir in milk. Spread dough in the bottom of a buttered 9-inch pie plate. Arrange sliced pears on top of dough. Combine spices, remaining 1/2 cup sugar and lemon rind and mix with butter or margarine to form coarse crumbs. Sprinkle over pears. Bake in 375 degree oven 30 to 35 minutes or until pears are tender and a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

Makes 6 servings.

Tasty Condiment A Treat Anytime

A delightful condiment to serve now and later.

FIG CHUTNEY
1/8 tsp. each ground allspice, cloves and cinnamon
1/2 tsp. salt
2 cups water
2-3 cup cider vinegar
1 1/2 cups granulated sugar
1 cup firmly packed light brown sugar

1 1/2 tps. grated lemon rind
2 tps. lemon juice
3 cups dried figs, sliced (about 1 1/2 pounds)
2 cups cranberries (1/2 lb.)
1-3 cups chopped pared tart apple (2 large apples)
1/2 cup seedless raisins

1 cup chopped toasted filberts
Place spices, salt, water, vinegar, sugars, lemon rind and juice in large saucepot; bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring often until sugar dissolves. Stir in figs; cook, stirring occasionally, until thickened - about 30 minutes.

Add more water during cooking if necessary. Stir in nuts; cook 2 minutes more. Pour into hot sterilized jars and seal. Makes about 2 quarts.

SEA-GOING DUTY — Ensign Rosemary Nelson, 24, of Walla Walla, Wash., gets her first sea duty aboard the hospital ship USS Sanctuary when it leaves Hunters Point Naval Shipyard at San Francisco, Calif. She is the Navy's first woman officer assigned a sea-going billet and is to serve as the ship's disbursing officer. Here, she talks to Avis S. Robinson, deck force seaman, right, from Lame Deer, Mont.

AAUW Told Of 'Adult' Attitudes

"I'm OK, You're OK," a book by Dr. Thomas Harris, was the subject of discussion when the day study group of American Association of University Women met Monday in the home of Mrs. Neil Willoughby.

Mrs. James Collier explained Dr. Harris' thesis of "parent-adult-child" being implicit in everyone. According to Dr. Harris, boundaries between the "parent," "child" and "adult" within each person are fragile, and emotions are easily "turned on." Therefore, "as adults, persons may react with their own internal 'parent' or 'child' responses. The ability to change comes through the 'adult' in a person.

Mrs. Collier summarized these ways of staying on the "adult" level: Become sensitive to the "parent" and "child" signals; monitor the internal dialogue among the three, asking what is happening; look for the "child" in others and appeal to it as such; and take time to make decisions about basic values first.

The next meeting of the study group will be Dec. 4 in the home of Mrs. Preston Harrison. The subject to be discussed will be consumerism.

Review Work Of DCCW Convention

Convention reports were heard by Immaculate Heart of Mary Altar Society during a Monday meeting presided over by Mrs. Fred Hyer. The DCCW convention was held recently in San Angelo.

Mrs. L. D. Jenkins announced that mass is being held at 9:30 a.m. Saturdays at the Veterans Administration Hospital, and Mrs. R. L. Anderson said the society serves refreshments to patients at the hospital on fourth Fridays. According to Mrs. Mildred Ward, the society is continuing to send cards, at appropriate times, to members of the parish.

The parish will have a joint social meeting the evening of Dec. 2, and the society will have its Christmas party Dec. 4 at the home of Mrs. Hyer.

The altar committee for November includes Mrs. Walter Ross, Betty Ross and Virginia Ross.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Earl Taylor, Mrs. V. O. Wade and Mrs. Tillie Billock, from a table decorated in the Thanksgiving theme. The centerpiece was a statue of the Virgin Mary based in orchid mums. The attendance prize went to Mrs. Willie Lee Butler.

Students' Biggest Problem? School Men Say, 'Parents'

Situations liable to arise in any school atmosphere were discussed by local principals Tuesday at a meeting of the City Council of Parents and Teachers. The panelists focused on relationships between students and their parents, teachers and school administrators.

Members of the panel and schools they represented were Tom Henry, Cedar Crest; Ernest Morgan, Lakeview; Jim Holmes, Kentwood; and Ernest Boyd, Park Hill.

Each of the men cited hypothetical cases of typical problems that they have heard about or encountered. They agreed that the most widespread problem is lack of parental concern and participation. Parents are seldom seen or heard except when a disciplinary or academic problem occurs and parents are summoned for discussion. The panel members said teachers and administrators would like to see parents to tell them when a student is doing good work as well, but never get a chance. The principals all said they are making more effort to call students to their offices to compliment them on good work when warranted, as well as when a student has done something wrong. They want to eradicate the theory that students are only sent to the principal for being bad.

"We're all human beings," said Morgan. "Our little people have an outlook on life and minds and feelings just as we do. Given the opportunity, they would come to the principal to talk over their problems."

Panel members agreed principals should get to know students by name, as well as circumstances of the child's home life. They felt a more personal relationship with students would help administrators understand them better.

Mrs. Roger Coffman presided at the business session. The next meeting will be at 9:30 a.m., Dec. 5, in the conference room of the VA Hospital.

English Gardens Set Theme For Luncheon

English flowers and gardens were the topic of a luncheon meeting Wednesday for Big Spring Garden Club at Webb Air Force Base Officers Open Mess.

Guest speakers were Mrs. Donald Martin, a native of London, England; and Mrs. Robert Bauer, originally from Dublin, Ireland. They told about British customs of serving refreshments and served the women English tea. Flowers of Britain and British Commonwealth were of particular interest to members, and the guest speakers agreed that many of England's flowers are the same as those in the United States. The most plentiful ones are daffodils, tulips, English roses and rhododendron.

Sgt. Joseph A. Kozak of Webb showed a film, "Britain is a Garden," which illustrated the colorful flowers and foliage which brighten English landscapes.

Mrs. W. B. Allensworth and Mrs. W. G. Wilson were cohostesses for the luncheon, a highlight of which was a display of Mrs. Wilson's collection of English dolls. The costumed dolls, including replicas of Queen Elizabeth and wives of Henry VIII, were purchased in London, England, by Mrs. Wilson's son, Bill Wilson, now residing in Venezuela.

Christmas projects were explored, and Mrs. D. S. Riley was chosen to represent the club at a Southern Zone meeting Thursday in Kermit.

Mrs. W. J. Harris and Mrs. W. R. Hall placed first during duplicate bridge games held Wednesday at Big Spring Country Club. Second place went to Mrs. A. Swartz and Mrs. Elmo Wasson, with Mrs. Joe Herbert and Mrs. R. W. Whipkey placing third.

The nominating committee presented a proposed slate of new officers. Elections will be held in December. It was announced the next national BPO Does meeting will be in Hawaii, and members were urged to make early plans to attend.

Pro-tem officers were Mrs. L. D. Jenkins and Mrs. Alma George.

'Knock Off Salty Talk' (The Ensign's A Lady)

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — When Navy Ensign Nelson steps onto the deck, the sailors knock off the salty talk.

Rosemary Nelson has become the first woman officer in the Navy to be assigned a sea-going billet.

When the hospital ship Sanctuary steams out of Hunters Point Naval Shipyard next month, she will be in charge of 39 stewards and three disbursing clerks.

She'll also be the ship's paymaster.

"That could make me very popular or very unpopular, said the pert, 24-year-old brunette from Walla Walla, Wash.

But Miss Nelson, who reported aboard the Sanctuary a week ago, says she doesn't expect a sea of troubles in her new assignment.

"I won't have any problems different from any other young officer," she said. "I'm an officer and I expect my men to follow my orders."

And she says she's not worried about whether she's "saulted and such."

"It's the attitude that counts. A man who is lax on saluting can be a good worker."

But Miss Nelson, who designed her own shipboard work uniform of a long-sleeved white blouse and black slacks, will have more than her men to worry about.

She has donned rubber boots and an oxygen breathing apparatus to fight fires at a damage control school, training which will prepare her for a supervisory role during shipboard emergencies, said her department head, Lt. Harry Wright.

She says she may even try to qualify as an officer of the deck and navigate the big, white-hulled Sanctuary, even though her specialty as a supply officer doesn't require it.

"I think it would be fun and good experience," she says. "It'll help me understand what the other guys are going through."

Equal Rights Of Women Explained By Attorney

"Since 1967, women in Texas have had equal rights with men in regard to property," said John Ferguson, local attorney, when he was dinner speaker Tuesday evening at the Spanish Ina for Scenic Chapter, American Business Women's Association.

In discussing property rights for women in Texas, Ferguson presented background information showing there was extreme discrimination in this area for many years. He noted that legislation passed in 1967 did much to ease the inequality and that Texas is now "Much more liberal than lots of states on property rights."

The speaker was introduced by Miss Shirley Lee, and the meeting was conducted by Mrs. Troy White. Prayers were said by Mrs. Lambert Misk and Mrs. Tony Barron.

The vocational talk was by Mrs. Geraldine Dietz, bookkeeper for the Big Spring Independent School District.

Mrs. Wayne Rock was installed as a member of the chapter.

It was announced that the chapter's Christmas party will be a covered dish dinner for members and guests at 7 p.m., Dec. 5 in the Texas Electric Reddy Room.

Hostesses with Mrs. Norvelle were Mrs. Bill Adams, Mrs. Noel Hull, Mrs. Bill Draper, Mrs. Orville Bryant, Mrs. Pete Hull, Mrs. Pete Anderson, Mrs. Dan McRae, Mrs. Paul Warren, Mrs. Horace Blackshear, Mrs. Bob Zellars, Mrs. Milton Carver, Mrs. Charles Barbee, Mrs. Cecil Suttles and Mrs. Shirley Walker.

Newcomers Plan Christmas Party

Tentative plans for a Christmas party were discussed by members of Newcomers Handicrafts Club Wednesday in the home of Mrs. David Logan, 2917 Macauslan. Mrs. Fred Amburn of Galveston was a guest. The group will meet again at 9:30 a.m., Nov. 29 in the home of Mrs. Joe Rogers, 503 Scott.

Rebekah Lodge State President Urges 'Faith'

Mrs. Lenora Moore, Rebekah state president, has urged local Rebekahs to combine unselfishness, cooperation, conviction, faith and determination in "making the world a better place."

The plea was in a letter from Mrs. Moore which was read Tuesday at the IOOF Hall.

Certificates of perfection were presented to Mrs. Ivan Collins and Mrs. Gertrude Gingerrich by Mrs. Jewel Fields, local deputy. Mrs. C. C. Cunningham presided.

Members agreed to honor Mrs. D. W. Adkins and Mrs. W. E. Harper during November, when the women will celebrate their 88th and 87th birthdays respectively. Those honored Tuesday for their birthdays were Mrs. Lonnie Griffith and Mrs. R. H. Unger. Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Griffith were feted for their 46th anniversary.

The women agreed to attend a film about drugs Tuesday following an early business meeting. The film will be presented by the Chamber of Commerce at the municipal auditorium.

Gets Hooked

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Forgive me if I make many mistakes, but I was not brought up in English. I am a widow, 45 years old, and lonely for male companionship, as are many others. I read an advertisement promising dating by computers. I foolishly answered this ad which supposedly had offices in West Hartford, Conn.; Manchester, N.H.; Boston, Mass.; Portland, Maine; and Providence, R.I. I paid $25 and was promised two "computer matched" dates per month over a period of 36 months. The contract was full of phrases like "if possible" and "if necessary" and "do not guarantee." But is there no recourse against these people who disappeared in thin air? I should have been smart enough to see this trap, but they talk so fast while they are with you, that like an idiot you sign the contract without realizing that you are being taken.

Anyways, after I paid my money and no dates were arranged, I went to the police with my contract and all the correspondence. They looked it over and said that it had been so cleverly worded, I was hooked. But they told me to write to the Department of Consumer Protection and to the Better Business Bureau, and if I (and others who had been taken in as I was) would do the same, these people would be in hot water one way or the other.

I hope you will print this, Abby, so others who have been robbed as I was will write to the above mentioned places and complain.

What Purpura Is

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is purpura? I have had this for almost two years. My doctor didn't know what it was, and the skin doctor doesn't seem able to cure it.

Is there anything that can be done for it? If so, what kind of a doctor must I go to? —
Mrs. A.C.G.

Purpura is excessive bleeding under the skin, resulting in red or purple splotches. I dare say your doctor knew what it was but didn't know what caused it.
That's understandable, because it can be caused by quite a variety of conditions, and treatment, of course, depends on the cause.

In a sense, purpura is something like a bruise — a bruise represents bleeding under the skin. The difference is that purpura, unlike a bruise, isn't a sign of blood vessels broken because of a bump or blow.
Rather, it is the inability to heal, promptly, small broken places in blood vessels.

A natural fragility of small blood vessels can be the cause.
Years ago purpura used to occur in some infants and often was fatal. Today treatment with vitamin K usually brings quick recovery. In short, the condition is usually a lack of clotting ability in the blood, most commonly a deficiency of the particles called platelets which are essential in forming clots and hence in stopping bleeding promptly.

Vitamins C and K, and quite possibly calcium can be helpful in controlling the condition — but it is still important to find the underlying cause.

Such causes can include poisoning (by cleaning solutions among others), drug sensitivity, and a variety of infections, such as some kidney or liver diseases, meningitis, scarlet fever and others. Allergies and certain kinds of anemia also can be at fault.

If such an underlying cause can be identified and treated effectively, the purpura disappears.

But when, after two years, there is no progress, it is time to see someone who specializes in blood disorders. A platelet count and other blood examination would be an essential part of the study.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My grandmother died in her 40s of cancer of the cervix or uterus, and my mother died at 62 of cancer of the cervix.

I am 41. Do you think to be on the safe side I should have a hysterectomy?
I get a Pap test every six months, but that doesn't prevent it. — B.T.

True, a Pap test doesn't prevent cancer, but it will detect it very early. While there may be a familial tendency to cancer, I would say that a hysterectomy purely as a preventive measure is too extreme.

Continue your frequent Pap tests. If cancer should develop, there would be adequate warning.

Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching, and other rectal problems, write to Dr.
Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald requesting a copy of his booklet, "The Real Cure For Hemorrhoids," enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Grande near El Paso, the agricultural economy of Texas has since grown into a gigantic agri-business complex worth $6.6 billion annually.

Explored in the Nov. 12 issue of the Texas Star is the state's abundant food production, which now tops all other 49 states in total volume. The Star takes a look at Texas foods from the perspectives of production and industry, preparation for holiday feasts, history and tradition and even dieting.

Included in this week's edition of the Star are recipes for holiday desserts by the nationally-famous Texas food authority, Helen Corbitt. She shares with readers such favorites as Branded Chocolate Mousse and Buttermilk Pralines.

Excellence in the preparation of foods in Texas is exemplified by the cuisine of the Menger Hotel, one of San Antonio's oldest inns. Sunday's Star features this inn, which has maintained a reputation for serving fine foods to famous travelers for more than a century.

Star Hostess Mary Faulk Koock provides readers with time-saving suggestions for the holidays and traditional "tried and true" recipes.

"Eating Out For Dieters" by Sandra Sue Sheehy is the Star's contribution to those readers who want to enjoy holiday foods without gaining extra pounds.

Camels Go In Rags
A group of geese on the water is called a plump. When airborne, these birds become a skein. Put them on the ground and they are called a gaggle.
Several camels are known as a rag. A group of mules is a barren. A number of sheep is called a huddle or flock. There is a clamor of rooks, a murmur of thrushes, a murruration of starlings. Perch come in packs, smelt in quantities and herring in shoals.

The bidding:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 4 ♠ Dble.
Pass Pass Pass
Opening lead: King of ♠ South managed to hoodwink an unwary opponent to sneak thru his four ♠ade contract in today's hand.

North's direct raise to four spades was a trifle unorthodox since he did not have the singleton usually prescribed for this preemptive call. His hand appears to lack defensive merit, however, and he reasoned that vulnerability conditions made the risk relatively slight.

East was reluctant to be shut out of the auction and, since it was too dangerous to bid a suit himself at such an advanced level, he doubled.
West was not inclined to disturb the situation with his modest holding, and the bidding subsided.

West opened the king of clubs and South played the ace. The king and ace of spades drew the trumps.
There was a temptation to lead the jack of clubs next, for after the queen was dislodged, declarer could discard a diamond on the ten of clubs and thereby restrict his losses to three tricks.

Mature reflection convinced South that, if West had the king-queen of clubs, then East's double marked him with the remaining high cards and, in particular, with the ace-queen of diamonds. If West gets in with the queen of clubs, then a diamond shift might well be expected, and the defense would have an opportunity to rack up the setting tricks before South can regain the initiative.

Declarer decided to engage in a bit of deception.
Instead of leading a high club, he played the three from his hand. The unsuspecting West followed with the deuce and East was obliged to win the trick with the eight. He cashed the king of hearts and continued with the ace, which South ruffed.

The jack of clubs was put thru, West covered with the queen and North ruffed. A heart was trumped in the closed hand and the ten of clubs was cashed on which the six of diamonds was discarded from dummy. South conceded a diamond trick and trumped out his remaining diamonds. In all, he lost one club, one diamond, and one heart.

Sixth Graders Enjoy Fruits Of Capitalism

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Sixth graders at Carver Elementary School earn make-believe $150 weekly paychecks computing taxes, graphing sales charts and managing financial records.

Charles Kelly, 11, earned $1,200 in two months and bought a $900 skate board in the progressive workshop to teach youngsters the mechanics of modern capitalism.

The workshop gives 11-year-olds practical business experience, including weekly paychecks, a bank where they can endorse and deposit checks and a hiring and firing system complete with applications forms and job interviews.

Each of the 50 pupils draws $150 a week salary for completing classroom and homework assignments.

But the checks are make-believe and no money actually changes hands.

Any pupil can earn overtime by working harder. The teacher decides that and draws up checks.

Charles is president of the classroom bank and earns an additional $50 in the managerial slot.

"He takes his job very seriously," explained Jane Swinney, 31, a teacher who created the program. "He's even fired one of his four bankers for tardiness."

Miss Swinney set up the academic year as a business venture.

"We set out to create a program as close as possible to the business world," she said, "because much of what goes on in the classroom isn't relevant to these kids."

For example, in balancing checkbooks the youngsters learn math, she explained.

They haul in discarded toys to auction, and bid their salaries. That's where Kelly bought his skate board.

"The prices are high," said Miss Swinney. "That way the kids must figure how long they have to work or how much overtime they need to buy an item."

They compute taxes to finalize their purchases and some more energetic youngsters earned overtime binding graph charts for ready reference.

The premise behind the workshop is that if you can interest a youngster you can teach him anything. "And it's turned some lackadaisical sixth graders into pluggers," said Miss Swinney.

Workshop Set On Religion

A workshop on religious teaching skills will be held at Webb, Saturday, Nov. 18, Chap. L. Col. Kenneth Summy announced.

The Rev. Robert Hanson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Monahan, will be the instructor for the all-day program.

The workshop will be designed to assist teachers in developing skills which will enable them to work effectively with all sorts of student interests, Chap. Summy said.

The size of the group will be very limited to preserve the effectiveness of the presentation, according to Chap. Summy.

The workshop will be held in the Chapel Annex from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and is primarily for those interested in working with the Protestant religious education program at the Base Chapel, the Chaplain said.

Hanson is highly qualified in teacher skills instruction, according to Chap. Summy. He is a native of Detroit, Mich., and graduated from Iowa State University in 1955 with a B.S., and from McCormick Theological Seminary in 1959 with a B.D.

He did postgraduate work at San Francisco Theological Seminary and was awarded the Th. M. Degree Cum Laude in 1971.

Anyone interested in attending this workshop can obtain full information by calling Ardis Dennison at 283-1805.

Mrs. Brown, who was selected from a field of 65 nominees submitted by school districts from throughout the state, will represent Texas in the 1973 National Teacher of the Year competition.

Air Forces Double Strikes To Back Laotian Troopers

SAIGON (AP) — With bombing halted above the 20th parallel in North Vietnam, the United States has shifted much of its air effort to other parts of Indochina and has doubled the number of strikes in northern Laos in support of government troops there, senior U.S. officials disclosed today.

Officials said U.S. fighter-bombers are now averaging about 50 strikes a day in the Plain of Jars region of Laos where North Vietnam has launched its annual dry-season offensive. This is in addition to the strikes along the Ho Chi Minh supply trail in eastern Laos.

PAMELA HURTS
B52 bombers are also being used to support the Laotian army in the northern part of the country, but it could not be learned how many of these raids were being flown. For the seventh successive day, U.S. B52s made saturation strikes on both sides of the demilitarized zone, keeping up the effort to blunt the North Vietnamese supply buildup in anticipation of a cease-fire.

In the past week the B52s have flown more than 400 strikes along the northern frontier, dropping more than 12,000 tons of bombs on enemy supply points.

For the second day, bad weather following Typhoon Pamela reduced strikes by U.S. fighter-bombers over North Vietnam. These strikes were reported in the southern panhandle Wednesday; 20 were flown Tuesday.

In South Vietnam, a U.S. Marine A4 Skyhawk blew a tire and crashed in flames while trying to take off from Bien Hoa Air Base, 15 miles northeast of Saigon. The pilot ejected and was not hurt, the U.S. Command said.

The South Vietnamese command reported that North Vietnamese and Viet Cong attacks in the 24 hours before dawn today dropped to 65, the lowest number since Oct. 19 and about a third less than the level in recent days.

EXPLOSIONS
But North Vietnamese forces fired about 1,000 artillery, rocket and mortar shells at government positions in and around Quang Tri City. It was the heaviest shelling in several weeks, indicating that North Vietnamese supplies are getting through.

Explosions ripped through an ammunition dump on the edge of Da Nang for six hours. Field reports said small arms ammunition covering an area of three city blocks was destroyed, but no casualties were reported.

Initial reports said three enemy mortars set the ammunition dump on fire, but there was some suspicion it might have been accidental.

The Saigon command reported that Communist troops penetrated a hamlet 25 miles north of Saigon but were driven out. Several small firefights also were reported along Highway 13 closer to Saigon.

Woman Killed, Four Injured

HILLSBORO, Tex. (AP) — A collision of a car and a pickup truck just west of here late Wednesday killed Erma Calloway Byars, 39, whose home was on Rt. 2, Hillsboro.

Four persons suffered injuries. They are Joe Beck, 39, and Joe Willie Beck, 19, both of Hillsboro, who were in the car with Mrs. Byars; and A. O. Rogers, 58, and Danny Rogers, 22, both Rt. 2, Hillsboro, who were in the pickup.

ARMOR UNLOADED FOR SOUTH VIETNAM — A new armored personnel carrier for the South Vietnamese army is unloaded from a ship at Saigon's port. This is part of the military aid being sent to the South Vietnamese in advance of a cease-fire.

Canadian Satellite To Bring TV To Many

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A dozen Indian and Eskimo high school students have arrived here to watch a Canadian satellite launched tonight on a mission to bring radio, television and telephone to their icebound home areas.

Some of the students are from the treeless wilderness north of the Arctic Circle.

An American-made Delta rocket is scheduled to lift off at 6:20 p.m. EST to propel the 600-pound satellite toward a stationary orbit 22,300 miles high. From that lofty outpost, the payload will greatly expand contact with the outside world for hundreds of small communities in northern Canada.

and several Canadian subcontractors.

Telesat Canada Corp., jointly owned by the Canadian government and telecommunications companies, is paying the U.S. space agency $6.5 million to launch the payload, including rocket costs.

Six of the students were selected in nationwide competition sponsored by the Canadian Broadcasting Corp. Qualifications were that they come from a community to be serviced by the satellite, they have good academic standing and be native or long-term residents of the north, where most communication now is by short-wave radio.

Cyclist Killed

CHANNELVIEW, Tex. (AP) — Roger Dale Johnson, 19, of Channelview was killed in this Houston suburb shortly after 1 a.m. today when his motorcycle hit a bridge abutment. The accident occurred at the point live television which we've never seen. Old Market Street Roader had and bring us closer to passes over the San Jacinto River.

They flew here Wednesday with Canadian Communications Minister Robert Stanbury and other government and communications company officials.

The other six students, from Fort Smith, Northwest Territories, raised more than $3,000 to make the trip on their own to Cape Kennedy from their town north of the Arctic Circle.

Jean-Paul Grimard, the Fort Smith mathematics teacher who organized the trip, said the satellite "will give us a live television which we've never seen. Old Market Street Roader had and bring us closer to passes over the San Jacinto River.

Empire Life Plea Studied By Jurists

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Third Court of Civil Appeals studied today a request by Houston lobbyist James C. Day to take Credit Factoring, Inc., a corporation headed by Day, and its parent company, Empire Life Insurance Co. of America, out of state receivership.

Day also asked Wednesday that records of the two companies, now in the hands of state Insurance Board liquidator Tom McFarling be returned.

Both firms are owned by Galveston financier Shearn Moody Jr. Their records were ordered placed in receivership by State District Court Judge Herman Jones last July.

McFarling is holding the records for the court when trial is set for the state's suit against Day, Moody and the two companies on charges they milked Empire Life of its assets for their benefits.

SENIOR CITIZEN LOBBY Produces Cash For Many

WASHINGTON — Senior power activists, Geritol commandos, rocking chair raiders and other groups representing the elderly have seen their efforts bear fruit.

The last two years have been unusually productive in terms of congressional legislation passed that is of special importance to elderly Americans.

Many of the measures would probably not have gone through without the heightened lobbying effort by the nation's oldest.

Americans was H.R. 1, signed by President Nixon on Oct. 30.

In a radio address after the signing, the President said: "Senior power can be a tremendous source of energy for our country. Churchill was a great leader at 81, Holmes at 83 and Connie Mack led the Athletics at 88. Michelangelo was painting at 89. And for every celebrated name like these, there are millions of ordinary citizens in their 70s and 80s who are making extraordinary contributions to their communities."

Strong impetus was added by the Senate Committee on Aging and by fallout from the 1971 White House conference on aging.

Some setbacks in Medicare and Medicaid, however, were mixed among the advances.

One of the bills with the most sweeping advantages to elderly things.

The President said "I believe that millions of older Americans can make great contributions to our nation's progress if only they have the chance."

"This really is the point of our government programs and policies — to help older Americans play a full, continuing role in the great adventures of America."

There are indications that 1973 will see even more benefits accrue to older Americans. The Older Americans Act will be "perfected" in the months ahead, the President said.

The Senate Committee on Aging will conduct hearings early next year on "new directions in Social Security."

Committee Chairman Frank Church, D-Idaho, said recently: "It is clear, I think, that we in this nation can no longer rely on catch-up benefit raises or even an automatic cost-of-living mechanism."

The $5.3 billion H.R. 1 package makes more than 100 changes in Social Security, Medicare, Medicaid and the adult categorical assistance programs (aid for the aged, blind and disabled).

Among the major Social Security provisions are increases in widow's and widower's benefits, special minimum monthly benefits for persons with low lifetime earnings, liberalization of the retirement test, increased benefits for delayed retirement, change to age 62 computation point for men, and a reduction in the waiting period for disability benefits.

Medicare amendments would affect nearly 1.7 million disabled Social Security beneficiaries under age 65 who would be entitled to Medicare coverage provided they have been eligible for benefits for at least 24 months.

Other changes affect payments to health maintenance organizations, physical therapy services, chiropractic services and protection against retroactive denial of payments under Medicare.

Webb Officers Get Medals

Four Webb officers have recently received medals for exceptional performance of duty.

Capt. Thomas A. Darby, a student pilot, received the Meritorious Service Medal for his service as a forward air controller in Southeast Asia. During this mission he directed air strikes on an enemy force surrounding an allied reconnaissance team, and made possible the evacuation of the team, his citation said.

Capt. Danny D. Thompson, an instructor pilot with the 3581st Pilot Training Squadron, was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for heroism while flying as a forward air controller in Southeast Asia. During this mission he directed air strikes on an enemy force surrounding an allied reconnaissance team, and made possible the evacuation of the team, his citation said.

Chap. (Maj.) Neil F. Daley, Catholic chaplain at Webb, was awarded the Meritorious Service Medal for his service as Installation Chaplain at Wheeler AFB, Hawaii, from 1968 to 1972. According to the citation, his efforts were responsible for an outstanding chapel program.

Col. Whitcomb O. Jones, deputy commander for logistics, also received the Meritorious Service Medal for "improving training management with increasing economy and effectiveness" while serving in three staff positions as chief, tactical and defense training division; chief, bomber and airlift training division; and director, aerospace vehicles training.

Thompson Speaks To ABC Friday

American Business Club members will hear Friday noon about physical therapist training and the need of help in this critically short career area.

Jim Thompson, director of the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, will speak on the need for competent therapists, and for scholarships to help college juniors and seniors to earn degrees in physical therapy. Thompson is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons and the Baylor School of Physical Therapy.

The Living Endowment Fund, established by ABC, awards scholarships annually for training of young men and women in physical therapy skills. Merrill Creighton, chairman of the fund locally, will have information in this phase of the club work.

Life In Prison For Bank Bandit

HOUSTON (AP) — Carl LeVerne Rogers, 24, has been sentenced to life in prison for the Feb. 22 robbery of the South Texas Bank here.

Rogers was one of three men charged in the holdup. About $18,000 was taken from the bank and a diamond ring and a revolver were taken from a security guard.

Defense lawyer Richard A. Mayhan said Wednesday he would appeal.

The other two men have not come to trial.

TWO PROBLEMS STAND OUT ABOVE ALL THE REST

What Happened To McGovern?

By WALTER R. MEARS
Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern's quest for the White House was doomed by the blunders of its infancy, errors that all his campaigning could never undo.

To the end they plagued his candidacy. And in the end they helped President Nixon attain one of history's great land-slides.

FATAL FLAWS

In part, the fatal flaws stemmed from what McGovern had to do—or thought he had to do—to catch up and win the Democratic nomination in the first place.

But two problems stand out above all the rest:

—The admittedly ill-conceived McGovern proposal that every American be given $1,000 by the government. He dropped it, but was never able to forget it. And the Republicans used it to help implant the notion that, if elected, McGovern would give away the money of the workman to people who refuse to work.

—The case of Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, the vice-presidential nominee McGovern deposed—after promising him 1,000 per cent support despite his tardy disclosure of past mental treatments.

Those, and an assortment of other incidents, statements and slipups, enabled Nixon's forces to make McGovern himself the central campaign issue.

That effectively denied him the traditional offensive role of the challenger, and shielded Nixon from the necessity of any intensive personal campaigning to defend his conduct in office.

POLITICAL SABOTAGE

It was particularly valuable to a president whose own campaign organization had been implicated in the June 17 wire-tapping of Democratic national headquarters, and whose top White House aides had been accused of political sabotage and espionage.

And it was particularly frustrating to McGovern, struggling to take the attack, but always forced to defend. Nothing nettled him more than the fact that his own credibility, once rated his greatest asset, was put in question.

It was the image of radicalism on one hand and indecision on the other that appeared the central McGovern problem.

In that situation, McGovern steadily escalated the tone and wording of his attacks on Nixon and, in the process, aggravated the problem. He overstated his case, then had to defend the overstatements.

EXPOSURE

It was a campaign McGovern began on Jan. 18, 1971, in desperate need of exposure and attention to propel him out of single figures in the public-opinion polls. At that point, no one could foresee that Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, then the towering favorite for the Democratic nomination, would be toppled in the 1972 primaries.

For a year, McGovern campaigned almost unnoticed. He went through three press secretaries in search of someone who could help him command national attention.

That quest, and the effort to shape an identifiably different position among Democratic contenders, helps account for the error that haunted McGovern to election day: the $1,000-grant proposal.

McGovern unveiled it on Dec. 23, 1971, saying he would drop the welfare program and instead give about $1,000 a year to everyone from "the poorest migrant workers to the Rockefeller." The money was to be taxed back from the relatively affluent.

NO ESTIMATE

He offered no estimate of the cost.

As with his other proposals of those early days, it went almost unnoticed—to emerge months later as a major issue and a major problem.

That came during the California presidential-primary campaign, when McGovern defeated Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota in the contest that clinched his spot atop the Democratic ticket.

Humphrey hammered at the issue, called McGovern "the handout candidate," accused him of playing "the politics of deception."

Nixon's Republicans were carefully taking notes.

On Aug. 29, in a Wall Street speech, McGovern dropped the income-grant plan in favor of a federally financed welfare system to provide about $4,000 a year to a needy family of four. Again and again, he said it would give nothing to anybody able to work.

ANY SKELETONS?

But the old proposal, and the impression it left, never stopped haunting his campaign.

The Eagleton case really began with a question, put, by the Missouri senator's account, by Frank Mankiewicz, a top McGovern aide: "Tom, do you have any skeletons rattling around in your closet?"

Eagleton said no, and hours later, on July 13, he was duly nominated to run for vice president with McGovern.

Then, on July 25, the running-mates appeared together in Custer, S.D., Eagleton to announce that he had three times been hospitalized for nervous exhaustion and fatigue, and twice had undergone electric-shock treatments.

"I am 1,000 per cent for Tom Eagleton and I have no intention of dropping him from the ticket," McGovern said.

But six days later, he did just that, saying that Eagleton's medical history would otherwise come to dominate the campaign.

BITTERNESS

Long afterwards, McGovern said he believed "the Eagleton thing" was at the root of what had then become his credibility problem. "I've tried to explain to people that a political leader who won't change his mind is really a menace rather than a leader."

"But I think that was the reason," he said.

McGovern acknowledged, too, that he was hurt by the bitterness of the primaries, particularly the Humphrey attacks in California.

With Eagleton off the ticket, McGovern embarked on what could only be a damaging, semi-public quest for a replacement. Only when he came to a candidate with no constituency of his own, Sargent Shriver, did McGovern find a new partner. The Democratic National Committee nominated Shriver on Aug. 8.

LOSING GROUND

But what was designed to be a six-week Democratic head-start on the campaign became, instead, a time of disarray. Amid the Eagleton case and its aftermath, the flow of campaign donations—never enough—diminished to a trickle. The polls showed McGovern losing ground to Nixon.

There were organizational problems.

Starting from nowhere in his drive for the nomination, McGovern had of necessity put together his own organization in the primaries, usually running head-on into the opposition of the party establishment.

That, too, left its scars, notably in Chicago, whose Mayor Richard J. Daley was denied a seat in the convention that nominated McGovern. While Daley came around, some in his organization never appeared to be wholeheartedly behind McGovern.

HE LEFT

There were the highly publicized defections of Democrats for Nixon, notably that of John B. Connally, Nixon's former secretary of the Treasury. "Good riddance," said McGovern. "We didn't kick Connally out, he left."

But there was evidence that a good many other Democrats were leaving, too, concerned, Connally said, about McGovern's proposed defense posture; the nominee advocated cuts of some $30 billion in defense spending over a three-year period.

McGovern had presented a detailed defense-spending blueprint, a document that had the virtue of telling the voters precisely what he proposed to do.

But it had the political drawback of permitting the Republicans to assert that it would cost jobs, and to churn out figures about where, and how many.

McGovern remained a candidate in search of a theme that would grab the American voter. He never found it.

Barbara Jordan Bangs Out Homer

HOUSTON (AP) — Barbara Jordan, who is accustomed to being first, won an overwhelming victory to the U.S. House Tuesday night, the first Negro elected to that body from Texas since Reconstruction.

Miss Jordan, 36, a state senator, grabbed 79 per cent of the vote to defeat her white Republican opponent, Paul M. Merritt, and Manuel Barrera of the Socialist Workers party in the newly-created 18th Congressional District, an inner-city area with a 42 per cent Negro population and 12 to 15 per cent Mexican-American.

The daughter of a Baptist minister, the tall, plump Miss Jordan had a heavy hand in creating the new district while serving on the redistricting committee in the Texas Senate. She won 80 per cent of the vote over two black men in the Democratic primary, where she also had support from the city's business establishment.

DEEP VOICE

A graduate of the predominantly-black Texas Southern University in Houston, Miss Jordan's deep, strong speaking voice bears the trace of the New England accent acquired while she got a law degree at Boston University.

A self-styled liberal reformer, she first won election to the state Senate in 1966 after two unsuccessful state House races and rapidly gained influence in the male, white-dominated institution.

This year her colleagues named her speaker pro-tem. While the governor and lieutenant governor were out of the state she served as governor for a day.

Sen. A. M. Aikin Jr., conservative dean of the Senate, said last year Miss Jordan came to the Senate "with three strikes against her. She was a woman, a black and even worse, both a woman and a black. She settled down and became one of the most effective members of the Senate."

In a recent interview, Miss Jordan said she had confidence in her role in political life, despite her sex and color. "I basically feel comfortable about what I do and what I say and the positions I take. I feel comfortable about my own sense of direction."

CRANKED UP

One of her primary opponents, State Rep. Curtis was too comfortable with the white establishment.

"Downtown and the whole conservative Democratic party are cranked up for her and black people ought to know what's coming down," he charged at one rally.

"It's a white, racist conservative system. When you join them you've compromised your voice," Graves said of his woman opponent.

Asked about her support from conservative businessmen and her campaign contributions—she outspat her primary opponents more than 4 to 1—Miss Jordan said, "It is a liberal district. Each candidate running expounded a liberal philosophy so any choice made could not be based on ideology. I would like to think that they looked over the field of candidates and decided I would be the best one to represent the 18th Congressional District and Texas."

NO PREFERENCE

While Miss Jordan supported the McGovern candidacy, that support came only after the primary. "I had no preference among the contenders for the nomination. I was more comfortable with Muskie than the other candidates but it appeared to me that I kept looking for something else which I couldn't see. Some person you could look at and become excited about as a leader of this country, like John Kennedy."

Looking forward now to moving to Washington, Miss Jordan said she plans to join the Black Caucus of Negro congressmen, and work for congressional reforms.

"Something needs to be done about the seniority system. I don't have any concrete proposals, but I think much of the talent which gets to the United States Congress is stifled by the same one of the most effective seniority system."

As for her own political future, she said, "I just don't know what the political scene in Texas will look like four, six or 10 years from now. If it appears that Congress is all there is available to me as a resident of Texas, then I suppose that's all there will be."

"But I don't know what could develop with the passage of time."
