

Jailed Scribe Says He Had Two Choices

DALLAS (AP) — Bill Farr, former reporter for the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner who was jailed for refusing to divulge his news sources, said today that he had two choices—either purge his own contempt by revealing his sources or stay in jail.

Farr, holding a news conference in connection with the convention here of Sigma Delta Chi, the professional journalism society, said that one of his main problems has been the printing of 40 briefs at a cost of $3,600.

He also said his treatment in jail was good and he was even given his own room.

Farr said that he and the judge had the same interpretation of the California Shield Law but, if the judge had mentioned a stay in jail, "I would not have printed the publication."

The case began in October 1970 when Farr was a reporter for the Herald-Examiner. Farr obtained information from one or more of the six lawyers connected with the Manson case, vowing that he would not divulge his sources.

Later, while working for the Los Angeles County District Attorney's Office, Farr was found guilty on 13 counts on contempt because he was no longer a newspaper reporter.

Farr told the news conference: "We're in the business to serve the public but that does not give the press a license to do anything it pleases. We members of the press have to establish our own guidelines."

On his job status, Farr said the Los Angeles Times for which he now works has agreed to continue his salary while he is still in jail.

"My main expense is the printing of the briefs," said Farr.

Kissinger Will Resume Peace Talks With Tho

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger will fly to Paris Sunday to resume Vietnam peace talks Monday with Hanoi's Le Duc Tho, the White House announced today.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler told newsmen: "We expect the talks to last for several days—perhaps longer."

The announcement came as Kissinger and President Nixon were holding conferences at Camp David, the presidential retreat near Thurmont, Md.

Ziegler said Kissinger, who is Nixon's assistant for national security affairs, will be accompanied by his deputy, Army Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr., who returned recently from meetings in Saigon with South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Asked at a later news briefing if next week's talks would complete the negotiating process, Ziegler said, "I cannot predict the outcome of a meeting that has not taken place."

However, he did say he anticipates that, following the new round of Paris negotiations, there would be "further consultations with the South Vietnamese and perhaps with the North Vietnamese."

Declaring that the United States will enter the talks "with a constructive attitude," Ziegler said:

"If the other side enters into these negotiations with the same spirit of good will that has characterized the sessions since Oct. 8, we would expect a successful outcome."

At one point, Ziegler said the Monday date for resuming talks was proposed by Hanoi.

Asked if Kissinger might sign or initial a peace agreement while in Paris, he said, "I would not anticipate Dr. Kissinger proceeding in that way."

This will be Kissinger's 21st trip to the French capital for talks with Le Duc Tho, a member of the North Vietnamese Politburo, and Xuan Thuy, who is Hanoi's principal negotiator at formal peace sessions there.

Kissinger's most recent journey to Paris was on Oct. 17 for a meeting with Thuy. He held ground-breaking sessions with Le Duc Tho on Oct. 8-11.

In keeping with a promise to give ample advance notice of Kissinger's travel plans, Ziegler said the American negotiators will leave nearby Andrews Air Force Base, Md., at 10 a.m. EST Sunday aboard a Boeing 707 jet from the presidential fleet.

They are due at Orly Airport in Paris at 10:30 p.m. Paris time.

Ziegler said the party will stay at the U.S. ambassador's residence but he would not disclose the site of Kissinger's private talks with Le Duc Tho, who arrived in Paris today.

In a formal statement, Ziegler said:

"The negotiations between Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, assistant to the President for national security affairs, and special adviser Le Duc Tho will be resumed in Paris on Nov. 20."

In advance of the anticipated climactic round between the two negotiators, the communist side issued a chorus of calls demanding the United States sign the peace plan quickly and without major change.

"We resolutely reject all the pretexts put forth by the United States and Saigon to demand modification of the substance of the agreement," North Vietnam's Xuan Thuy said at Thursday's weekly semipublic peace talks in Paris.

In Moscow, Le Duc Tho's last stop en route to Paris, the Soviets voiced "resolute support" for "the Vietnamese side's demand for the immediate signing by the U.S. government of the agreement to end the war and restore the peace in Vietnam."

Chinese officials in Peking told a visiting Hanoi economic delegation that "the U.S. government should keep its word and sign the already reached agreement as quickly as possible."

Washington officials nonetheless maintained an attitude of confidence that remaining differences would be ironed out within a relatively short span, even though some further exchanges may be needed after the forthcoming Kissinger-Tho parley.

Kissinger, in outlining the 9-point proposal Oct. 26, said six or seven items remained to be threshed out. South Vietnam's President Nguyen Van Thieu has since objected to several points and Saigon delegate Nguyen Xuan stressed these in Paris Thursday.

FARR OUT — Reporter Bill Farr of the Los Angeles Times pauses to chat with fellow newsmen as he leaves the County Jail in Los Angeles Thursday night after spending several hours locked up for contempt of court. His refusal to reveal his source for a story on the Charles Manson murder trial got him a jail term of indefinite length. He won temporary release on an Appeals Court writ.

Removing TV Sparks Riot

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An order taking radio and television sets from inmates at the huge Eastern State Correctional Institution near here is believed to have sparked its latest disturbance.

Prison officials said inmates assaulted three guards early Thursday morning, seized two maximum-security cell blocks and set fire to several mattresses. Guards used tear gas to quell the two-hour disorder.

Warden Robert L. Johnson said the directive was issued two weeks ago because "we discovered that some inmates were making weapons with the personal items."

Johnson, meeting with newsmen after order at the prison was restored, said no hostages were taken nor did the 35 inmates involved have weapons. Charges against the rebellious inmates were being considered, he said.

Col. Rocco P. Urella, the state police commissioner, dispatched 60 troopers to the 1,200-inmate facility at Graterford in western Montgomery County after two inmates overpowered a guard taking them to exercise.

Johnson said three guards required hospital treatment for their injuries, but returned to work Thursday. He added 14 or 15 prisoners were treated at the prison infirmary for smoke inhalation or the effects of tear gas.

Still More Responses To Labor Survey Are Needed

The goal has not yet been reached for the number of labor survey blanks returned to the Chamber of Commerce — one of the requisites for the possible location of a nationally known clothing industry plant in Big Spring.

Although responses have been good, the Chamber renewed its appeal today for individuals to fill out the survey forms, noting if they would accept employment now, or if they think they might like to have a job in the industry later. W. S. (Dub) Pearson, chairman, said many women now have family responsibilities, which may change in months ahead and would then be interested in employment.

At any rate, all women in the area are urged to complete the brief form and mail (postage pre-paid) to the Chamber. Individuals who know of others who may be interested are urged to get them to complete forms. Monday is the deadline.

QUICK DRAW KILLS TEXAN

GRANDVIEW, Tex. (AP) — Sheriff's deputies said today that James Don Sirrat, 26, was practicing fast draws with his .22-caliber pistol Friday and died of a bullet between the eyes.

His body was found in his home. Deputies said Sirrat apparently dropped the pistol, causing it to discharge.

IN BELFAST TURMOIL — Mrs. Anita Currie, 30, who said today she was beaten and "branded" by two terrorists in her Belfast home, holds her baby daughter and stands with husband at their home when bullets struck their bungalow wall. The husband, Austin Currie points to one of the bullet holes. He is a member of Northern Ireland's suspended provincial parliament.

Two Black Students Killed; Officers Never Fired Shot?

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Gov. Edwin Edwards says he will not negotiate with students at Southern University, where two young blacks died in a confrontation with police, until they renounce violence and return peacefully to classes.

The campus of the nation's largest predominantly black university was quiet today in contrast to the melee of Thursday, when a group of students occupied the administration building.

POOL OF BLOOD
The campus was closed until after Thanksgiving, and only foreign and out-of-state students were still there, along with the guards who kept watch.

The two young men died of shotgun wounds when sheriff's deputies and state police advanced to clear out the occupied building.

When the officers moved in, a crowd of students was between them and the occupied building. Officers fired tear gas into the crowd, and when the smoke lifted, the two young men lay dead in a pool of blood on the sidewalk.

The officers said they never fired a shot, only tear gas. But students said they saw blue-shirted state policemen shooting shotguns.

SMOKE BOMB
Students and police also gave different accounts of how the violence began. According to police, students started the fracas by hurling a smoke bomb at the advancing line of officers. Students argued that police fired tear gas first and that the students only picked up the canisters and threw them back.

About two hours after the administration building had been cleared, fires broke out in two campus buildings, causing extensive damage.

The parish coroner confirmed that the two youths had been killed by shotgun fire.

Chief Deputy Gene Rives of East Baton Rouge Parish said early today his men were using hand-thrown tear gas grenades and tear gas projectiles fired from special grenade launchers.

HARD TO FIND
State Police spokesman were not available for comment. Sheriff Al Amis said his men heard pistol fire coming from the students lined in front of the administration building.

Fires broke out in two campus buildings, causing extensive damage, and a bomb exploded in another building later in the day.

Edwards ordered 500 National Guardsmen onto the campus and placed all of East Baton Rouge Parish (County) in a state of emergency. The campus was closed until after Thanksgiving.

AREN'T WHITE
Edwards, who had considerable black support in his election campaign last year, emphasized that the trouble was not racial.

"There aren't white people involved against black people," he told a late afternoon news conference Thursday. "It's a situation which involves a black administration and a black university, and involves black students."

The violence followed three weeks of unrest at Southern's 9,100-student main campus in Baton Rouge and a smaller branch campus in New Orleans.

Aspiring Actress Stabbed Dozen Times, Raped

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Police were still seeking clues today in the brutal slaying of an aspiring movie actress whose nude body was found on the beach here.

Authorities said the body of Kathleen Ann La Chance, 24, of Long Beach was found by joggers Wednesday night. She had been stabbed 12 times and raped, police said. Her arms and legs had been bound tightly to her body with leather shoelaces and sand had been stuffed in her mouth. Police said Miss La Chance, who moved to Hollywood from Chicago a year ago seeking an acting career, was last seen alive when she took her German shepherd dog for a walk.

Price Tag Is Cool $5 Million On Famous Canary Yellow Gem

NEW YORK (AP) — To make a point, Tiffany & Co. put a one day for sale sign on its celebrated Canary Yellow Diamond. "It's really a limited edition and a limited time ... Our objective is we hope to influence the public to be more careful and discriminating when they buy, to buy things really worth making a collection of."

"Some companies use this limited edition thing to get a better price. I don't say they all do. But there are too many using this thing that way."

Tiffany advertised the sale of the diamond in today's newspapers. The ads said: "This season seems to be replete with offers of so-called collectors' items issued in Limited Editions, often represented as Great Art but too often of questionable artistic merit.

"Some of them are huckstered with sophisticated 20th century versions of the snake oil techniques of the 19th century calculated to appeal to the greed of the customer with implied promises of increased future value, as well as with attempts to scare the customers into a quick purchase or else this 'priceless golden opportunity' will be gone forever."

Hoving said he preferred not to name specific objects being offered as limited edition collectors' items but he noted that he saw one silver-plated platter for sale for $60 in editions of 5,000. "It didn't look to me that it was worth $15 and 5,000 is hardly a limited edition," he said.

The Tiffany chairman said mail orders for the Canary diamond will not be accepted if postmarked after Nov. 17. The stone will be sold on a first-come, first-serve basis, he said.

Dive Proves Fatal

Officers said the attempt was made during a party.

HEATH VISITS ARMY POSTS IN LONDONDERRY

Booby Trap Bomb Kills Policeman

LONDONDERRY, Northern Ireland (AP) — Prime Minister Edward Heath visited army posts in Londonderry today while outside Northern Ireland's second city policeman was killed, bringing the toll of lives lost in the last three years of violence to 631.

Heath flew to bomb-shattered Londonderry in an army helicopter. He landed at an army post established on the fringe of the Creggan Housing Estate, bastion of the Roman Catholic-based Irish Republican Army until British troops forced them out in July.

Tight security was imposed for the prime minister's 90-minute visit.

He visited another army post at Ft. George, a short distance from the city center. Heath did not mingle with citizens of Londonderry or meet local politicians during his visit.

DESIGNED TO PROD
During the first day of his Northern Ireland tour Thursday he underlined his distaste for both Catholic and Protestant paramilitary groups by refusing to see their representatives.

Heath warned Thursday that any Protestant attempt to seize unilateral independence would be a bloodbath and lead to an end to London subsidies for Northern Ireland.

During the night a booby trap bomb killed a policeman and a politician's wife was beaten up.

The prime minister was to return to London tonight. Heath's two days of meetings with leading churchmen, politicians and security chiefs were his first broad sounding in the province since he took office in 1970. They were designed to prod the Protestant majority and the Roman Catholic minority toward agreement on a new form of local government.

In an attempt to restore order in Northern Ireland, Britain suspended the Protestant-dominated provincial parliament in March and put the government in the hands of an administrator named from London, William Whitelaw. The writ of direct rule runs out in March, and Heath would prefer not to have to extend it.

In a tough speech at the outset of his visit Thursday, Heath served notice that Britain's pa-trience with the continuing violence in Northern Ireland is running out.

'NEW START'
The time has come, he said, to make a "new start," for local political leaders "to listen as well as talk, to concede as well as demand."

Heath also called on the population to demonstrate its will for peace by making clear to the extremists on both sides "that the gun and the bomb offer no solution."

"It is not enough to sit behind closed doors and pray that the gunmen will pass you by," he said. "Violence will only stop when those who are against violence act to defeat it."

Heath underscored his opposition to both Catholic and Protestant paramilitary groups by refusing to see their representatives and by confining his meetings to more moderate leaders.

BURN EFFIGIES

Protestant mobs burned effigies of Heath and Whitelaw in East Belfast Thursday night, a booby trap killed a policeman, and terrorists beat up a politician's wife.

Melita Currie, 30-year-old wife of Social Democratic politician Austin Currie, said two men burst into her home during the night, pummeled her about the face and as she lay unconscious in a chair scratched the initials "UVF" on her bosom.

The Ulster Volunteer Force is an extremist Protestant group.

INFLATION ROARS Economy Grows Little Stronger

WASHINGTON (AP) — The economy grew a little stronger and inflation increased slightly more than estimated earlier, the Commerce Department said today in a report on national economic output for the July-September quarter.

At the same time, the department said, profits of corporations before taxes showed a moderate increase in the same period, rising at an annual rate of $4.2 billion compared with $3.4 billion in the second quarter of the year.

Revising its estimate of the Gross National Product, value of the nation's goods and services and the broadest measure of the economy, the department said GNP grew at an annual rate of 6.3 per cent in the third quarter, a sharper rate of increase reported only a month ago.

The revision was good news for the administration in part because it showed the economy is still recovering

POLICE STOP PERONIST DEMONSTRATORS — Armed and helmeted Argentine policemen move to disperse Peronist demonstrators who tried to get to Ezeiza Airport, outside Buenos Aires, today for the arrival of former President Juan D. Peron. At right are two young men with a flag.

Peron Home On Mission

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Juan D. Peron returned to Argentina today, ending 17 years in exile. The former president's chartered jet airliner landed at Ezeiza International Airport, bringing the 77-year-old one-time dictator home on a mission of "peace and understanding."

Troops and tanks ringing the airport kept thousands of Peronists from reaching the airport to welcome Peron. Police and soldiers used tear gas repeatedly to disperse columns of marchers trying to reach the airport in southwest Buenos Aires.

The military government permitted only 300 Peronist leaders to go to the airport to welcome Peron and the 140 Peronist chiefs and celebrities who accompanied Peron and his wife, Isabel, on the flight from Rome.

This nation of 24 million people watched on a national television hookup as Peron touched Argentine soil for the first time since he fled to a Paraguayan gunboat in the River Plate after being overthrown by the armed forces in late September 1955.

Argentina, South America's second-largest nation, was in turmoil. Peron found all activities paralyzed, both by a national holiday decreed by the military government and a general strike ordered by the Peronist-dominated General Confederation of Labor.

Hours before Peron's Altalita jet landed, 60 noncommissioned navy officers mutinied at their training school in Buenos Aires. The mutiny lasted four hours. Informal sources said the navy rebels apparently were left wing Peronists planning to stir up demonstrations in support of their hero.

The mutineers took four hostages at the navy mechanics' school, piled into three buses, two trucks, an ambulance and a station wagon and headed down the highway toward the airport. Then they changed course and headed south through the suburbs.

Army troops, already out in force for Peron's arrival, surrounded the caravan and escorted it back to the school. The men surrendered at 4:25 a.m.

Meanwhile, leaders of the Peronist movement called on their supporters to defy a government ban and give Peron a mammoth airport welcome on his return today.

The Peronists predicted that despite the ban on demonstrations, more than a million persons would throng to the airport 30 miles west of Buenos Aires to greet the 77-year-old ex-dictator who ruled Argentina from 1946 to 1955.

Labor unions called a general strike to swell the turnout, but the military government massed 30,000 troops to seal off the airport. It said only 300 persons designated by the Peronist leaders would be admitted. The Peronists didn't even submit a list of names.

The government also reserved the presidential suite at the airport hotel for Peron, his wife and his official party, and he was expected to remain there for at least the first two days of his visit. Security police took over most of the other rooms, evicting newsmen and other guests.

Peron left from his home in Madrid to Rome early this week. Before boarding a chartered Italian airliner Thursday night, he appealed to his followers to be "prudent and avoid disorders."

Peron is expected to remain in Argentina less than a week, conferring with leaders of various political factions, and then make a tour of Latin American cities before returning to Madrid. Peronist leaders said he has invited representatives of other political parties to meet with him at the airport hotel.

Some observers predicted Peron would try to form a political alliance to balance the armed forces' power or would try to come to terms with the junta on a compromise candidate for president in the elections President Alejandro Lanusse plans to hold in March.

He did not rule out the possibility that he might be a candidate.

More Warrants Due In Largest Drug Roundup

With 26 arrested, the dragnet for alleged illegal drug activity continues today with warrants still remaining to be served. Police Chief Vance Chisum said.

Last arrested was Sherrie Bromell, 22, of 503 W. 8th. She is charged with sale of marijuana and has been released on bond of $25,000 set by City Court Judge John R. Coffee.

This brings the number of adults facing drug complaints to 25. One 16-year-old boy also is in county jail. Bond of $10,000 for the juvenile has not been posted.

Guard Cutter Jarvis Safe In Aleutian Inlet

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Her powerful engines stilled by flooding, the battered Coast Guard cutter Jarvis is safe in a sheltered Aleutian chain inlet today as divers probe hull damage.

The 378-foot, high-endurance cutter and the Japanese fishing boat were towed to safety after a nine-hour battle against mountainous North Pacific seas were joined late Thursday by two other Coast Guard vessels carrying repair supplies and needed fresh water.

All four ships were anchored near Sedanka Island, a wind-blown rock speck 20 miles from where the Jarvis, her engine room flooded and her pumping system useless, sent an SOS Thursday morning.

Spokesmen said Navy and Coast Guard divers would help determine what repairs are necessary before the Jarvis can be taken to a repair facility.

The Coast Guard said Jarvis, commissioned only last August as one of the service's newest and largest class of cutters, was showing damage along the entire length of her hull and possibly to her propeller shafts.

No decision has been made on where the stricken ship would be taken for repairs. Coast Guard spokesmen said it was assumed the Honolulu-based ship would be towed to port by the two rescue cutters if her jet and diesel engines could not be repaired.

"This experience put the mettle of the entire crew to the test," said Coast Guard Capt. Donby Mathieu, chief of district operations in Juneau. "Being adrift without propulsion is a trying and harrowing experience for any mariner. You feel helpless; you're at the mercy of the seas."

Jarvis Capt. Frederick O. Wooley reported his crew nearing total exhaustion but said his ship had never been "in imminent danger of sinking."

The cutter, with 170 men aboard, was towed to relative safety late Thursday by the 836-foot Japanese fishing trawler Koyo Maru No. 3. The Japanese vessel was the first of a five-ship international force that responded to the Jarvis' distress call.

The ship, one of a class of cutters described as "the pride of the fleet," first encountered difficulties early Wednesday when she struck a reef at Dutch Harbor on Unalaska Island. The vessel was on a routine Alaska fisheries patrol.

Siboney Sells Shares Block

Hbeils, president of Siboney Corporation, announced that 1,918,866 shares representing all of the remaining shares of the corporation's common stock held by the liquidator of Dempsey-Tegeier & Co., Inc. has been purchased for investment by a group of individuals in a private transaction. Sheils also announced that it is anticipated that two members of the group, Graham Walker and Theodore Rosen, will be added to the corporation's board of directors.

Detailed Interpretation Of Open Meetings Law

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin ruled today that governmental bodies may hold closed meetings with their attorneys, but only for limited purposes.

Martin issued a detailed interpretation of the Texas Open Meetings Law to Criminal District Atty. Tom Hanna of Beaumont, who had asked about limitations on county commissioners' courts.

The opinion extends to all state and local government bodies.

Despite the fact that the law grants no specific exemption, Martin said, "a public body is entitled to hold closed meetings with its attorney when such body seeks the attorney's advice in regards to pending or contemplated litigation, settlement officers and similar matters where the duty of a public body's counsel to his client, pursuant to the rules and canons of the State Bar of Texas, clearly conflicts with" the open meetings act.

He emphasized that in closed meetings an agency and its attorney can discuss only those items.

Martin said a three-day notice must be posted of any open or closed meeting with an agency's attorney "if matters of official or public business, where agency policies affecting public business, are to be discussed with him."

The attorney general also said a public body could confer

Skull Discarded After Doc's Death

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Sedgwick County investigators thought they might have a homicide with the discovery of a well-preserved skull near Derby, Kan.

The skull was found Tuesday night by two boys in a pile of rubbish along a creek bank.

"We began our investigation on the possibility there might have been a murder," Sheriff Johnnie Darr said Wednesday.

After sifting through debris near the discovery site, Darr said, investigators were directed to relatives of a deceased physician.

Darr said the skull, part of a skeleton used for demonstration, was discarded after the doctor's death.

Govrnr's Press Secretary Quits

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith today announced the resignation of his press secretary, Carlton Carl, effective next Friday.

Carl, 27, will become executive assistant to Rep. Price Daniel Jr., who claims enough votes to become House speaker in the legislative session that begins Jan. 9.

Daniel announced Carl's appointment at a "freshmen caucus" of newly elected House members Wednesday.

Carl has been with the governor's office since March 1969 and became press secretary in October 1971. He is a graduate of Columbia College and the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism.

A group of interested governmental officials went to Midland Thursday to study the combined city-school computer system there. They are studying the possibility of combining tax collections of governmental agencies in Big Spring.

Making the trip were Harry Nagel, city manager; Robert Massingale, city finance officer; Don Crockett, school business officer; J. O. Hagood, school tax official; Zirah Bedner, county tax collector; and Virginia Block, county auditor.

Controls Attacked By Editor Carter

DALLAS (AP) — Government disruption of news media affairs and what he called "the petulant complaints of an irate President" were attacked by Hodding Carter III, editor of the Greenville, Miss., Delta-Democrat Times, before members of Sigma Delta Chi, the professional journalism society, Thursday.

He told about 700 delegates at the society's national convention that the federal government has stepped far beyond its jurisdiction in manipulating press affairs.

"The public and even the press have seen fit to give the government the power to interpret the meaning of the First Amendment," Carter said "and anyone who places faith in government interpretation is living in a fool's paradise."

Carter, whose newspaper was one of the few to endorse Sen. George McGovern for president, said much of the difficulty comes from newspaper leaders being unwilling to cross government figures.

"In an era as crucial as ours, journalism's most powerful figures are falling all over

Mrs. Reid, Howard Pioneer, Expires

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Coahoma Church of Christ for Mrs. Donna E. Reid, 75, Howard County pioneer, who died at 5 a.m. today in a local hospital.

Mrs. Reid, who moved to Howard County in 1898, was born in Mason Dec. 17, 1896. She married Hiram Clay Reid Dec. 19, 1915 in Big Spring.

Ralph Beistie, minister of the Coahoma Church of Christ, will officiate at the services. Burial will be in Coahoma Cemetery with Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home in charge.

DEATHS

Mrs. Reid, Howard Pioneer, Expires
Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Coahoma Church of Christ for Mrs. Donna E. Reid, 75, Howard County pioneer, who died at 5 a.m. today in a local hospital.

Mrs. Rhea Dies In Colorado City
COLORADO CITY — Services were to be held here at 2 p.m. Friday for Mrs. Odie Hardegree Rhea, 72, who died 8:45 a.m. Friday in the Root Memorial Hospital after a long illness.

Services were to be in charge of Leslie Mickey, Levelland, her former pastor, and Tom Yoakum, minister of the 22nd and Austin Church of Christ. Burial was to be in the Colorado City Cemetery under direction of Kiker-Rains-Seale Funeral Home.

Mrs. Rhea was born in Runnels County Dec. 8, 1899 and had lived here for 36 years. She was a member of the Church of Christ. Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Twila Jo Everett, Liberal, Kans.; two sons, Bobby Rhea, Colorado City, and Benmon Rhea, Corpus Christi; two sisters, Mrs. Gladie Hays, Ballinger, Mrs. Dora Priddy, Midland; two brothers, J. J. Hardegree, Sand Springs, and P. V. Hardegree, Temple; and five grandchildren.

Response To Call For Help Too Late

Earl Foster Henry, 75, was dead on arrival at a local hospital Thursday night.

He called the hospital at 10:39 p.m. and reported that he was dying but that he could not get the ambulance telephone to ring. The nurse notified the police, who obtained an ambulance that rushed to his home in north Big Spring.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. at Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel with Dr. Jimmy Law, College Baptist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Mt. Olive Cemetery.

Born April 19, 1897 in Comanche County, he married Tommie May Moore June 2, 1917 in Proctor. They moved to Big Spring from Merkel in 1935. Survivors include his wife,

THE WALL — In Lamesa, Higgenbotham-Bartlett Lumber Company provides a block-long wall for teenagers to paint. A lot of enthusiasm goes into painting class legends and John plus Mary slogans. Vandalism in the rest of the town is negligible.

Mess Or Colorful, The Wall Is Nevertheless Different

LAMESA — "Let's meet at the wall." This is a common statement among teen-agers in Lamesa.

And the wall — that's a block-long side of Higgenbotham-Bartlett Lumber Company that for 10 years might have been an invitation to become an eyesore.

The kids used to paint class slogans on the wall, or the water tower or the school buildings or somebody's fence. And then somebody at the lumberyard who understood kids decided to invite them to paint on the yard's building wall all they wanted to. They did and left the rest of the town alone.

COLORFUL

Now that wall is a colorful thing. It has every color of paint imaginable on it and paint has been painted on top of paint through the years.

The favorite topic is the age-old Johnny plus Mary bit. Another favorite is to put the Year of the Senior Class in as large and colorful letters as possible. The more ambitious apparently either bring a ladder or stand on top of a truck, because there is more room at the top. The bottom part of the wall, as high as a person can stretch is covered.

There are no obscene words on this wall. This wall belongs to kids and they like it clean.

TORS CANDIDATES

So far, nobody has thought to comment this year Tors with paint on the wall, but perhaps they'll get around to it because the football team is champions for the first time since 1965.

One safe driving group tried to paint an advertisement in one corner. The kids made short work of that adding a little humor to the occasion. They apparently do not plan for their wall to be cluttered up with ads. Now one couple — and only one, went around the corner on the west wall to paint their Who plus Who. It looks like somebody has tried to clean it off. The Lamesa teenagers apparently make their own rules about the wall and stick to them.

Some folks might think it's a mess. But it's colorful, and many feel that it has kept other parts of the town from being a mess.

It's a colorful tribute to both the teenagers of the town and the people who like teen-agers. It's the most colorful wall in all of West Texas.

Seven Howard County Farm Bureau delegates attended the 39th annual Texas Farm Bureau convention held at the Rice Hotel in Houston Nov. 12-15. The seven were Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Fryar, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins and Derwood Blagrave.

Over 900 official voting delegates, representing most of the 207 organized county Farm Bureaus, adopted state policies and recommendations on national issues. Total attendance at the convention was more than 1,500.

Convention activities began on Sunday, Nov. 12, with registration. Highlights of the day included a Discussion Meet and Talent Find competition for young people and a vesper service.

On Monday's agenda was the yearly administrative report by Executive Director Warren Newberry, Waco. TFB President J. T. Woodson of Gober brought the president's annual address. The convention's main address was delivered by Dolph Briscoe Jr., Uvalde.

Tuesday's activities began with a voting delegate breakfast and special conferences on livestock, cotton, services, poultry, farm labor, wheat and feed grains, and Farm Bureau women. The business session convened at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday with voting on resolutions sent in by county Farm Bureaus.

The business session continued Wednesday with voting on resolutions. The convention concluded with the election of directors and the TFB president.

To Open Birth Control Unit For Students

HOUSTON (AP) — The University of Houston will open a birth control center at its campus health center Dec. 1 and contraceptives for both male and female students will be dispensed free.

Dr. Elisabeth Ward, who has been working with the health center for about one year, is a gynecologist and will be in charge of the birth control center.

She said preventative treatment would include routine tests for syphilis and gonorrhea, breast and pelvic examinations, pap smears, and urine, blood count and blood sugar tests. All tests will be free.

Dr. Joseph Schnitzen, acting dean of Student Life, announced the program Wednesday and said UH had made an agreement with the city for a family planning center on the campus, to be federally funded.

"These services are for enrolled students only and medical information is strictly confidential," Dr. Ward said.

Dr. Ward said she would continue her abortion referral program with emphasis on prevention of pregnancy and abstinence as a birth control method.

Dr. Ward said she would not fit intra-uterine devices or diaphragms, but would refer women students to Planned Parenthood, a family planning center in Houston.

Dr. Schnitzen said the university would keep a close check on the number of students using the center and would increase the staff if necessary.

Cattle Rustlers Gallup In Gallup

GALLUP N. M. (AP) — The days when conflicts involving cattlemen kept the law busy aren't over yet in Gallup.

Heavy rains have damaged many fences in the area, and a number of cows and horses have wandered the streets of the city lately. The City Council directed Police Chief Manuel Gonzales to clamp down on offenders.

Gonzales announced that he planned to incarcerate the wandering livestock in a fenced area generally used for recreation at the city's new $1-million jail. The city attorney was directed to prosecute owners of animals that destroyed property.

Now the city has another problem — cattle rustlers apparently made off with six of the impounded cows.

The bidding:
South West North East
2♥ Pass 2NT 3♣
3♥ Pass 4♥ Pass
6♥ Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Eight of ♣. South lost an ambitious slam contract when he failed to obtain maximum mileage from his dummy's thin assets. Six hearts is not a sound undertaking and the blame must rest on South's shoulders for getting overboard. Inasmuch as his two bid is a forcing call, none of North's responses should be taken seriously. The latter may have been pushed into the auction somewhat against his will, and South would have manifested better judgment by settling for game. A trump lead would have assured declarer's defeat; however, West heading his partner's bid, made the natural opening of the eight of clubs. South won the trick with the king.

The ace of clubs was cashed at trick two, on which dummy discarded a spade. A third club was led and West ruffed in with the nine of hearts and returned a small trump. South could not afford to draw the hearts, inasmuch as he needed both of dummy's trumps for ruffing purposes. He therefore led a fourth club and West ruffed in with the jack for the setting trick.

Declarer wasted the ace of clubs by playing that card prematurely. It is urgent to ruff out the little clubs as quickly as possible, since West is obviously short in that suit himself. Observe the effect if South leads the six of clubs at trick two and trumps in dummy.

A small spade is returned and declarer fineses the queen. Now the seven of clubs is led. If West discards, declarer ruffs in dummy, draws trump, and subsequently concedes one trick in spades.

If West ruffs in on the third round of clubs with the nine of hearts, South discards a spade from dummy. West will presumably return a trump; however, declarer is in, and, after cashing the ace of spades, he ruffs his remaining spade with the six of hearts. South returns to his hand by trumping a diamond and pulls West's last heart. His only loser on the deal is the nine of hearts.

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas Schools Supt. Nolan Estes told high school principals today it would be up to them to apply discipline in accordance with the general guidelines laid down following Thursday's walkout of about 300 Negro pupils to attend a protest rally.

He also said the city's public schools would be kept open "so long as one student needs an education."

A spokesman for the schools administration said the rules for dealing with disruption of classes provide that any pupil involved cannot return to class until the principal has interviewed the parents.

Cold Front May Bring Light Snow

By The Associated Press

Wintry weather aimed a new punch at Texas today, and forecasters said a new Pacific cold front might bring light snow mixed with showers in the Panhandle by night.

Fog and temperatures a few degrees below freezing coated automobiles with ice in parts of the Panhandle-Plains sector in early morning, and the National Weather Service warned motorists to drive with caution. Visibility dropped to a few hundred feet in places.

The same frontal system prompted warnings against heavy snow at higher elevations in New Mexico and widespread rain elsewhere.

There already were scattered showers in South Texas between Alice and Corpus Christi, and clouds covered most of that section, including the coastal plains. It was generally clear or there were only high, thin clouds over the northern two-thirds of the state.

Forecasters called for increasing cloudiness throughout the state, continuing showers near the coast and light rain or showers along and ahead of the cold front as it moves through the Panhandle and western areas of the state.

Official observers looked for the leading edge of the cooler air to reach a line from near Wink southward into the Big Bend country of far West Texas by night. Skies were expected to clear in its wake as the front progresses eastward.

Temperatures near dawn dropped to 27 degrees at Amarillo and 28 at Dalhart, where it was foggy. It was 30 at Childress, 31 at Lubbock and 32 at Abilene. Readings at other points ranged from the higher 30s into the 40s and 50s in most areas, staying as high as 66 at Brownsville on the state's southern tip.

DALLAS SUPERINTENDENT TALKS DISCIPLINE

Black Pupils Stage Another Walkout

Estes flew back to Dallas Thursday night from Atlanta to confer with Police Chief Frank Dyson and other police and school officials regarding the Thursday trouble, in which a number of black pupils were arrested. He indicated that penalties will be moderate in an apparent effort to ease the tension.

The walkout, which included a march and rally at city hall, was part of a three-week-old series of protests in response to recent shooting incidents in Dallas in which seven blacks have been killed by police. Police have maintained that officers were threatened in each case.

A smaller rally also took place Thursday night on the city hall steps. About 50 blacks, mostly adults, sat quietly, singing and talking.

RACISM
But the day rally on Thursday was the most significant. The pupils who walked out from several predominantly black high schools gathered on the city hall steps to denounce the shootings as well what they called racism in the Dallas school system.

That portion of the protest passed peacefully, but as it ended, police say some of the black youths split into three separate groups and attempted to block entrances to city hall.

Police Chief Frank Dyson said after the pupils refused to leave the entrances, they were arrested. Of 78 arrests made, 41 persons were classified as adults and placed in jail. A police jailer said "about 90 per cent" of those jailed had not posted bond of $27.50 later Thursday. Those classified as juveniles were placed in a detention home to be picked up by their parents.

About 88 per cent of the 135,000 students in Dallas public schools are black.

Claims Kissinger Soon Will Resign

HOUSTON (AP) — The author of a newly published biography of presidential adviser Henry Kissinger said Thursday night that Kissinger will resign soon to accept the presidency of the Rockefeller Foundation.

"The question is, when," writer Charles Ashman said in an interview.

Ashman, a former professor of constitutional law at the University of the Pacific in Stockton, Calif., was in Houston to promote his book "Kissinger: The Adventures of Superkraut."

He said when Kissinger quits will depend on the pace of negotiations for peace in Southeast Asia and who becomes the next secretary of state.

Surgery For Heart Patients Using Vein Swap Cuts Pain

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A surgical procedure for some heart patients in which a vein is transplanted to improve blood flow not only relieves pain but apparently prolongs life, a Texas surgical team reports.

Little has been known about the long-term effects of the procedure, in which a vein from the patient's leg is transplanted to bypass vessels leading to the heart which have been partially stopped up by thickening of the arteries—arteriosclerosis.

Dr. Denton Cooley of the Texas Heart Institute, Houston, told a news conference that he and his colleagues have found that patients who have undergone this operation die at a lower rate than other heart patients, even those with the mildest coronary disease.

He emphasized that the number of patients studied so far is small but added that "we are encouraged."

Cooley and other surgeons at the scientific sessions of the American Heart Association spoke favorably of the bypass surgery, which has been growing in popularity, although they acknowledged that some problems remain to be worked out.

They emphasized that not all patients who have angina pectoris—sharp pains in the chest growing out of arteriosclerosis—are candidates for such surgery and that they must be carefully selected.

MAY GO DOWN
The American Heart Association estimates that since 1967 some 35,000 such operations have been performed, 20,000 in the last year.

Dr. J. Willis Hurst of Emory University, Atlanta, president of the association, told newsmen that "the flurry of every-one doing it may go down."

Dr. Gerald Austen of Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, noted that "it did spring up that doctors in small hospitals" were performing the surgery.

And he pointed out that it is a complicated procedure with a complicated period of recovery following surgery, so that it should be done only in centers which can provide adequate care.

Dr. Richard S. Ross of The Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, said that following the bypass surgery 85 to 90 per cent of the patients will be relieved of their angina pectoris.

"We are all enthusiastic about the promise of this operation," Ross said. The transplant does not alter the disease, he said, but it does bypass the obstruction.

Hurst said that the more damage the heart itself has suffered, the less the vein bypass surgery can offer.

'GLOOMY GUSES'
Cooley said some "Gloomy Guses" among heart specialists view some changes in heart readings and body enzyme levels following bypass surgery as being negative implications.

He said, however, that such changes follow many kinds of surgery and are not permanent, although he acknowledged that there is some heart damage in a few patients following the procedure.

Christmas Gift Early Or About 28 Years Late

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE, N.M. (AP) — Christmas came a couple of months early—or 28 years late—for Duane H. Baldwin of El Paso, Tex.

Baldwin, a White Sands Missile Range employee, recently received the engraved silver wrist watch his mother mailed him as a Christmas gift in 1944.

The gift traveled around the South Pacific during the closing months of World War II. Baldwin then was a corporal with the 1st Cavalry Division.

He finally put the watch on his wrist during a recent 1st Cavalry Division reunion at Ft. Hood, Tex.

About the time the watch was mailed, Baldwin said, he was detached from his unit, then in New Guinea, with a squad of engineers. A series of events including a bout with malaria and a bullet wound kept him from ever rejoining the unit.

Meanwhile, a friend in the unit, expecting Baldwin to return, picked up the package.

Since Baldwin never got back to his unit, the friend, M. M. Gilstrap of Cleburne, Tex., carried the package around the war zone in his duffel bag and finally brought it home to Texas with him.

Gilstrap finally delivered the package he had been saving 28 years at the Ft. Hood reunion.

The watch had been sent by Baldwin's mother, Mrs. L. A. Geeler of Vicksburg, Miss., and his sister, Mrs. Gene King, now of Napa, Calif.

Spectacular Is Slated On Tuesday

ON TELEVISION — A five-hour World Evangelism Special at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, November 21st on KMID, Channel 2 will feature Dr. Oswald J. Smith, founder and minister of missions of "peoples Church," Toronto, Canada, above; the Rev. Yohann Lee, Korean cleric and Dr. Jack McAlister, President of World Literature Crusade. Dr. Oswald J. Smith is Honorary President of the World Literature Crusade and Dr. Lee is the organizations Overseas Director.

A five-hour World Evangelism Special is due to air on KMID, Channel 2, Tuesday, November 21st, starting at 7 p.m., announced a spokesman for the local Television Station.

The Missions Spectacular is presented and sponsored by local churches, and World Literature Crusade, a California-based organization, founded more than 25 years ago by Dr. Jack McAlister its President.

Dr. McAlister will be joined during the five-hour spectacular by his Co-host as well as other members of the worldwide organization prerecorded overseas, and local guests. The screening will primarily focus attention on stories with on-the-spot scenes of the literature ministry around the world. The WLC head will also offer late news reports from overseas.

Since its inception, WLC has been supplying Gospel literature to 415 missionary organizations and denominational societies for distribution in 210 different countries, resulting to date in more than two and a half million nationals in these lands making a written decision for Christ, it was noted.

Gorden McAlister recently completed two years of traveling more than 40,000 miles with a professional crew in making eight miles of film to get "the story behind the stories" for the WLC television special. He was in countries of Asia, Africa, South America and Europe.

Tedd Smith, pianist for the Billy Graham Evangelistic team, will furnish the musical background for the five-hour program.

Purpose of the program, said the spokesman, is to bring an arm-chair view of WLC missionary ministry in action.

Key 73 Organization, Union Service Highlight Activities

By MARJ CARPENTER

Two highlights of the church week in Big Spring will be the Union Community Thanksgiving Service on Thursday morning at the First Presbyterian Church at 10 a.m. and the organizational meeting for Key 73 Sunday at 8:30 p.m., also at First Presbyterian.

The Howard County Ministerial Fellowship will host the Thanksgiving service with the Rev. Edwin Beasley, pastor of the First Church of God bringing the message.

Special music is under the supervision of Jack Bowler, high school choir director. The Rev. J. B. Sharp and the Rev. Elra Phillips of First United Methodist Church are co-chairmen for these services.

churches already involved will organize Sunday night with the hope that still more will join them.

THE PRAYER BAND MISSION circle of the Mt. Bethel Baptist Church met at the church with the chairman, Mrs. Faye Warner presiding and Mrs. M. Woodridge presenting the devotional.

The new general missionary president, Mrs. Dorothy Green, was a special guest. Contributions totaled $10 to the general mission program entitled "Challenge of the Cross."

An appreciation card and cash donation went to the niece of the pastor's wife for loyal service during Mrs. Lois Mitchell's illness.

The lesson on thankfulness was taught by Mrs. Mary Ivory, relating the real meaning of thankfulness.

are confronted when they believe in Him. It also tells how God might reveal Himself and through the individual by the person of Jesus Christ.

From the opening number through "I Believe God Is Real," "Tell It Like It Is" deals with this issue of non-belief in God. It begins by searching for the Creator and ends with the knowledge that God is real because "we can feel Him with fingers of faith and see Him with the eyes of our soul."

The "Do As I Say" number deals with the "credibility gap." It talks about saying one thing, but doing another. It also talks about concern for outmoded "pat" answers, and the importance of living Christianity day by day.

"Conform" deals with God revealing Himself through the person of Jesus Christ, who brings "A New Mind." The musical ends by challenging both performer and listener to "Pass It On."

"To Russia With Love," a gripping motion picture, speaks to the heart. Many of the shots were filmed inside Russia and give eloquent testimony to the fact that hunger for the Word of God is very real in that land of multiple closed churches. It graphically portrays life today for many thousands of Christians in the communist third of the world.

Secret arrangements were made in advance for an English-speaking Russian Christian to rendezvous with a U-E photographer on a visit to Russia. The two met quietly at the appointed hour, and for the next few weeks our cameraman captured a revealing glimpse of the underground church at worship. He found himself deeply moved by what he saw in the closed churches, the status of Christians living under Communism.

During the first part of the film, the voice of Stephan Bankov, young Christian lay pastor whose escape to the West with his wife and two children is dramatized in the film, is heard speaking in Bulgarian. English overtones are those of our narrator.

The public is cordially invited to view this exciting and informative film to be shown at First Church of God, 2009 Main St. on Nov. 19 at 6:30 p.m. A freewill offering for Bibles will be received at the close of the showing.

Evangel Temple Assembly of God, 2205 Goliad, Big Spring, will combine the Revivaltime World Prayer Meeting with two special missionary rallies on Sunday, Nov. 19.

Missionary Walter Kornelson of Johannesburg, South Africa, will present an unusual presentation of slides, curios and material from Africa at 9:45 a.m. and 7 p.m. He will preach in both services.

"This man is one of the most unusual and gifted missionaries to ever minister in Africa," commented Pastor Calvin. "He is considered the 'first choice' among missionaries for a 'dark continent.'"

"One unusual item that will be shown by this missionary is a five-foot elephant tusk," said Pastor Calvin. "And it is surprisingly heavy."

The Revivaltime World

Prayer Meeting will take place at 6 p.m. with Evangel Temple joining with over 100,000 persons and some 2,000 churches in prayer at that same time.

These needs have been compiled into lists and duplicated for distribution to 2,000 prayer groups. Every individual in each group or church will be asked to pray for 15 to 25 specific needs. Such needs as physical healing, financial problems and marital troubles are among the most frequent prayer requests.

The Revivaltime World Prayer Meeting has grown to the place where it is called the largest prayer meeting of its kind in the world. The public is invited to attend these services.

On Sunday at 8:30 p.m. an organizational meeting for Key 73, nationwide evangelism program, will be held at the First Presbyterian Church with members and Christian groups, as the Rev. R. Earl Price as temporary chairman. Locally, it will include many denominations across the nation.

In 1967, at the time of the Berlin Congress on Evangelism, Carl Henry, then editor of Christianity Today, published a compelling editorial entitled "Why Cannot We Get Together?" His main thrust was a challenge to all types of Christians for a great cooperative effort of Christian witness.

The Year of Penetration in the six phase program is set at 1973 but the year, 1972, the Year of Preparation is considered crucial. The 10 local KENTWOOD UNITED METHODIST at 2805 Lynn announces that the annual Thanksgiving meal will be held Sunday following the 11 a.m. worship service with members of the church and friends invited, according to the Rev. Melvin R. Mathis, pastor.

Sunday in the church sanctuary the youth of First United Methodist Church will present "Tell It Like It Is," a folk musical about God. The performance will begin at 6 p.m., and the public is invited.

"Tell It Like It Is," speaks of God, how He reveals Himself, what He is like, and some of the problems with which people

Witnesses Told Of Assignments

Special assignments and program features for the semi-annual convention of Jehovah's Witnesses to be held in Sweetwater, Texas Nov. 25-26 were announced Monday by James L. Watkins, presiding overseer of the local congregation.

Speaking assignments were given to James Watkins and Ora King of the local congregation. Loren Spencer will be chairman of the program Saturday, Nov. 25.

There will be much for the local congregation to do as the needs of some 1,000 to 1,700 who will be present will require attention to care for these needs, some 23 departments have been organized. Mr. Watkins will be heading the sign department assisted by Mr. Americo Szabo of Colorado City.

Erased Four-Day Weekend At Ford

DETROIT (AP) — United Auto Workers union members at Ford plants will not be getting a four-day Thanksgiving weekend.

In turning down a union request to switch the Dec. 17 paid "bonus holiday" to Nov. 24, Ford said Wednesday that a strong demand for Ford products makes it essential to keep the factories producing at peak performance.

The "bonus holiday" was a product of 1970 contract negotiations.

Clubwomen To Select 'Clerk Of The Month'

The Business and Professional Women's Club will join the Altrusa Club and two chapters of American Business Women's Association to assist the Chamber of Commerce in implementing a Clerk of the Month contest. The program, which has been undertaken locally in the past, recognizes retail clerks for their courtesy, efficiency and helpfulness during the pre-Christmas shopping period.

The announcement of the B&PW's participation was made during a salad buffet Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Charles Summers, 1812 Benton. Mrs. Summers presided as various fund-raising projects were discussed. The club is selling pecan halves at $2.25 per pound. Also, placemats of Texas scenes have been ordered for sale, and another fund-raising endeavor will enable some local citizens to win a $100 Seth Thomas antique clock.

Yearbooks were distributed by Miss Helen Willard, program chairman. Mamie Roberts, hospiality chairman, announced that plans are being completed for the club's Christmas party.

A LOVELIER YOU Glides, Not Strides, Make Graceful Walk

By MARY SUE MILLER

You have heard it said that diamonds are a girl's best friend. But those gems come in second when you wear evening clothes. The grace of your figure and movement is the premier accessory.

Slumped posture or a slipshod walk downgrades one's dress and figure, however lovely they may be. Worse, gauche carriage threatens your poise and personality appeal. The walk to strive for is a glide you do not seem to touch the ground, but rather walk on air. Here's the way to take the steps:

1. Pull up tall, with feet together and knees slightly flexed. Easy does it, never strain or stiffen. Step out by lifting left foot a fraction off floor and moving foot forward toes pointing straight ahead; let major action flow from hip joint.
2. Place foot lightly on floor, one pace ahead of right foot. Heel and toe should touch surface almost simultaneously, to avoid heel chunk and toe flop. For balance "grip" floor with toes. Follow up with right foot.
3. As you continue walking, add these skills: Keep feet moving on two imaginary parallel lines that run two inches apart. Let arms fall relaxed, close to sides, or carry an evening purse in one hand at waist level.
4. Work throughout for light steps and for perfect rhythm. To test your aptitude, listen to the sound of your steps on a linoleum-covered or bare wood floor. You can pat yourself on the back when the beat falls evenly in a waltz-time glide, and almost soundlessly.

Optometrist Shows Films Of Mexico

A medical mission trip to Mexico was described Tuesday by Dr. Harold Smith to Jayceettes in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room. He showed slides to implement his talk.

Dr. Smith, a local optometrist, was one in a group of 10 medical personnel who visited villages in Mexico providing residents with medical services. He said the group worked primarily with Indians in the country who live very primitive lives. He said many of the Indians still live in caves.

Mrs. A. J. Pirkle Jr. presided, and Mrs. Gary Davis was appointed second vice president. Members will sponsor a Christmas party Dec. 14 for the work village at Big Spring State Hospital. They are also preparing a Thanksgiving basket for a local family.

Guests were Mrs. Earl Tarbet and Mrs. Pete Gregg. The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m., Dec. 12 in the home of Mrs. Pirkle, 3216 Cornell.

Film Viewed By SCUBA Divers

A film about SCUBA diving was shown Wednesday to members of Spring Divers SCUBA Diving Club at the Executive Building, 1600 Scurry. Several members told highlights of a recent diving trip to Lake Amistad.

Membership in the club is open to anyone interested in SCUBA diving and who is certified under one of the three national SCUBA diving certification programs. For further information, interested persons may contact Charles R. Kaufmann, 267-6827, or attend the next regular meeting, 7:30 p.m., Dec. 7 in the Executive Building.

Keep Bike Safe With Glow Tape

Decorating a bicycle with glow-in-the-dark tape will help automobile drivers see the bike when you are riding at night or at dusk.

Optometrists say the most visible bike decoration is an open triangle of about 5 square inches in size. Retroreflective triangles can be seen by approaching drivers at a distance of about 800 feet. That's about the length of two and one-half football fields.

Couple In Italy Announce Birth

Capt. and Mrs. Richard Edmonds, residing in Italy where he is stationed with the U.S. Army, announce the Nov. 7 birth of a daughter, as yet unnamed. The mother is the former Betty Jane Mooney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Mooney, 1800 Lark. The maternal grandmother is Mrs. William Newborn, 1612 Lark.

Baptist Officials Visit Pastor Here

In Big Spring Tuesday to visit the Rev. Roy H. Honea were Dr. E. K. Oldham, president of Arlington Baptist Seminary, and Dr. Roy Johnson, business administrator of the school. Rev. Honea, presently a patient at Medical Arts Clinic and Hospital, is pastor of Grace Baptist Church and president of the Christian Service Foundation of Arlington Baptist schools.

Rainbows Will Carol For Elderly

A Thanksgiving dinner preceded the business meeting for Order of Rainbow for Girls, Assembly No. 60, Tuesday at the Masonic Temple, with the invocation given by Zina Johnston.

Pam Wheeler, worthy advisor, presided. Kay Williams, worthy associate advisor, began a traveling "friendship basket" which will be passed from member to member with a small gift for which the recipient will pay $2. The funds will go to the Rainbow treasury.

Miss Johnston is collecting food items for a Thanksgiving basket which will be presented to a local family. Also in conjunction with the holiday season, members will befriend residents in local nursing homes who have no family members living in the area. The girls will provide various services and sing Christmas carols for the residents.

Mrs. W. C. Fryar, adult advisor, gave a Thanksgiving program and challenged members to "use your Christian influence in standing for justice in the world." She urged them to resist those who would cause them to lower their moral standards.

Spice, Rice Party Held At Ackerly

Miss Shara Dee Hambrick was honored at a spice and rice party this week in the home of Mrs. Freddie Hodnett.

Miss Hambrick is the bride-elect of Larry Wayne Cohorn. Attending the party with the honoree were her mother, Mrs. Bill Hambrick, Ackerly; and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. A. B. Cohorn, Klondike. Also in attendance was Miss Hambrick's grandmother, Mrs. Curtis White of Ackerly.

The serving table was covered with a white lace cloth, and accessory pieces were blue. During the evening, guests prepared blue rice bags for the wedding which will be held Dec. 29 in the Ackerly Baptist Church.

Seasonal Motif For OES Dinner

A dinner meeting was held Tuesday by the Past Matrons Club of Chapter 67, Order of Eastern Star, in the Downtown Tea Room with hostesses being Mrs. George Pittman, Mrs. D. D. Dyer and Mrs. G. C. Graves. The Thanksgiving motif was carried out in decorations.

Following the invocation by Mrs. Ocie Mason, Mrs. Wayne Parrish presided as reports were given concerning sick and shut-in persons. A memorial service honoring a deceased member, Mrs. Dalton Mitchell, was led by Mrs. Dyer.

Guests introduced were Mrs. Owen W. Scott, Silver Springs, Md.; Mrs. H. E. Rhodes and Mrs. Mary Ehlman.

The club will hold its Christmas party at 7 p.m., Dec. 12, with hostesses being Mrs. Eugene Gross, Mrs. Owen Graham and Mrs. O. H. Daily.

ENGAGED — Mrs. Lydia Miles, 1200 Wright, announces the engagement of her daughter, Alma L. Willetts, to Sgt. Richard P. Lavergne of Webb Air Force Base. Sgt. Lavergne is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lavergne of Warren, R.I. A December ceremony is planned.
