

FOOTBALL, GIRLS, BOOZE

The Talk Of Space City

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — "No," says the woman, "you don't hear much space talk around here anymore. They want to talk about girls and drinking."

This is the space capital of the world? With two men walking on the moon?

"They want to get away from the space talk," the woman went on. "All the layoffs — it's kind of damaged their spirits. . . . And there's going to be more layoffs. That's not helping things."

If the professional people watchers are correct, America is losing interest in space these days, having watched 10 men on the moon before Apollo 17. Now it's football and Christmas shopping.

NOT FOR LONG

"The interest in Apollo peaked during the last two flights," a network television executive said last week, explaining a sharp cutback in special programming on the flight.

But you figure this community, nurtured by the space movement, is an outpost where a "bird" has no wings and "rover" is not a dog.

The lights of the Manned Spacecraft Center glow across the street as the woman talks, a barmaid, mixes drinks for a group of new customers.

Nobody bothers to turn on television to a local channel carrying the complete color broadcasts of Apollo 17 from the moon.

Four years ago Apollo 8 flew to the moon and the Space Center went wild. It was Christmastime, but few noticed.

It wasn't the same for 17, 11th and final of the series.

At a fashionable club along NASA 1, the space community's main highway, a viewer switched the TV from a pro football game to the moonwalk of Apollo 17.

But not for long.

The other customers demanded football. They easily won.

Prepare For Farewell Exploration Of Moon

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Two jubilant American adventurers prepared today for a farewell lunar exploration.

But already aboard their lander Challenger was a new discovery — samples of intriguing orange soil possibly dating to the last fiery gasps of a dying moon.

Astronauts Eugene A. Cernan and Harrison H. Schmitt, in their last geology field trip in the moon valley of Taurus-Littrow today, take an eight-mile drive along the base of a high mountain and at the foot of wrinkled hills, using an electric car with a patched fender.

ORANGE DUST

The astronauts, saying they "like to cover new ground," traveled a mile farther than planned on Tuesday night, gathering many bags of lunar samples, including scoops of the orange dust never before found on the moon.

The orange material was found during exploration of an ancient avalanche, 4.4 miles from the landing camp in Taurus-Littrow valley. By coincidence, it was found by Cernan, not Schmitt, a geologist and America's first professional scientist in space.

"Hey," exclaimed Cernan as he stumbled into the soil at the rim of a crater called Shorty. "Wait a minute . . . there is orange soil."

IT'S ALL OVER

"It's all over," Cernan went on excitedly. "Orange. I've stirred it up with my feet."

On earth, scientists were also excited by the discovery, though cautious in their evaluation. They said the orange soil may have originated from "the last gaseous gasp of volcanism" on the moon.

Dr. Robin Brett, chief of the geochemistry branch at the Manned Spacecraft Center, said the material possibly could be rust — which has been found in other lunar samples in minute quantities — or some chemical combination which assumes a reddish color.

While Cernan and Schmitt motored on the moon, their crewmate, Ronald E. Evans, labored in the command ship America orbiting overhead.

Evans is operating an array of science instruments which are photographing and probing large slices of the moon.

VOLCANIC ACTION

If the soil is a product of the volcanism that Brett spoke of, it may represent material from as recent as 100 million years ago, a time that's only yesterday in the evolution of the moon.

SW Bell Offered Ten Per Cent Rate Boost

By MARJ CARPENTER

The city offered a 10 per cent rate increase to Southwestern Bell Telephone in place of the 25 per cent increase requested by the company when it approved the first reading of a rate increase ordinance at the regular council meeting Tuesday night at City Hall, with Mayor Wade Choate presiding.

Harry Sawyer, manager of the local office for the company, told the council that he could not accept that offer on behalf of his company and said he would return at the next council meeting slated for Dec. 26.

The offer was for a $110 increase for one party commercial instead of $3 increase and a 30 per cent increase for one party residential and 40 per cent for two-party residential instead of the $1.25 and .85 increases asked by Bell.

One councilman, Eddie Acri, thought possibly the council should compromise somewhere in between the rates recommended by Bell and those of the city manager, Harry Nagel. However, following a lengthy discussion, the council voted unanimously for the ten per cent offer.

BIDS SLATED

In other action, they granted a request to take bids on a complete new shop building and sheds for city maintenance, bids for the first phase of a continual paving program and bids to purchase uniforms for city maintenance employees.

In one of three separate presentations, Councilman Harold Hall outlined in detail plans for a new savings on shop and said that savings on equipment, as well as on oil, anti-freeze and other items purchased by the barrel instead of the case, would save enough to pay the building cost in about five years. He also pointed out that they needed something better than the present "shade tree" operation.

In another presentation, Councilman Jack Watkins outlined plans for phase one of a continual paving program, telling the councilmen of negotiations with the local lending institutions to provide for citizens involved to make loans. They would then be able to pay off some $160,154 of the required $183,527 for the first phase, with the city to pick up the balance.

In the third presentation, Bob Butler, city purchasing agent, told the council that they could actually save close to 50 per cent per year by purchasing

Citizens Seeking Paved Streets Need To Apply

All citizens who want their streets paved and who are not listed in phase I approved by the City Council Tuesday night are urged to obtain petitions from City Hall so that they may become eligible to be included.

Councilman Jack Watkins presented to the council last night a list of the streets being considered under the first phase of a continual paving program which will utilize a portion of the revenue sharing bonds.

DETAILS OUTLINED

He also outlined details whereby the individual property owner will be able to negotiate loans through the local banks to help pay for their portion of the program.

The total expected cost of the first phase will be around $183,527 with some $23,337 to come direct from the city and the other to be paid out over a period of time by the property owners.

The first streets listed are those deleted from other paving operations in the past since the engineering and utility work has already been done for these streets. The councilman pointed out that Big Spring still has some 31 miles of dirt, caliche and strip paved streets. The first phase will cover around three miles of these streets.

Those listed in the first phase include Lorilla from U.S. 80 to 7th, 8th from Andree to U.S. 80, Lockhart from U.S. 80 to 1st; NW 3rd from Dundee to Trades, Trades from NW 3rd to 4th, NW 5th from Scurry to Main, NW 6th from San Antonio to Douglas, NW 6th from Lamesa Highway to Goliad, and NW 8th from San Antonio to Aylford.

OTHERS LISTED

Others include NE 8th from Main to Goliad, NE 10th from Goliad to Snyder Highway, NW 11th from San Antonio to Lamesa Highway, NW 11th from Gregg to Scurry, N. Aylford from 3rd to 5th.

Others include 5th from Abrams to Douglas, and from Nolan to Benton, 6th from San Antonio to Abrams, Austin from 5th to 6th, Cardinal from Webb to 16th.

Others are State Park from 16th to Edgemont, Park Hill from 17th to 16th, 13th from Settles to Dixie and 14th from Settles to Dixie, Owens from 18th to S. End, 19th from Donley to Settles, 22nd from Main to Runnels and 24th from Runnels to Johnson.

Nixon Taps Ex-Time Exec

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon announced today he will name James Keogh, a former executive director of Time Magazine, to head the U.S. Information Agency, replacing Frank J. Shakespeare Jr.

In another round of changes in high-level posts for his second term, Nixon also designated the dean of the Duke Law School, Joseph T. Sneed, 52, of Durham, N.C., to be deputy attorney general. Sneed, one of Nixon's professors at the school, would succeed Ralph E. Erickson, who, the White House said, will be offered a high judicial post.

And, Ronald H. Walker, 35, a special assistant to Nixon who has been serving as an advance man on presidential trips, was named to be the new director of the National Park Service. He would succeed George B. Hertzog Jr., who was relieved of his duties by Nixon.

Remaining in a top-level post he has held since early in the Nixon administration, is 44-year-old William H. Brown III, chairman of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. The panel has been given new powers by Congress to combat job discrimination of all types. A native of Philadelphia, Brown was first named to the EEOC by President Lyndon B. Johnson and was kept on by Nixon.

APPEAL IS DUE Darrow Found Guilty, Draws Life Sentence

A five-woman, seven-man jury found William Paul Darrow guilty of sale of marijuana and sentenced him to life.

The jury reached the guilty verdict after deliberating one and one-half hours Tuesday.

In what is probably his last case before a jury as district attorney, Wayne Burns had urged the jury to take Darrow "out of circulation" and sentence Darrow to life.

Charles Kaufmann, defense attorney, said Wednesday he plans to file a motion for a new trial in 118th District Court. If that fails, he plans to file a motion for an appeal in the Court of Criminal Appeals.

ATTACKS CREDIBILITY Kaufmann attacked the credibility of the private citizen who said he worked 50-60 hours per week free of charge from late March to about the first of November as an undercover agent.

The Department of Public Safety and Midland police department both employ officers who work as undercover agents, Kaufmann said in reference to earlier testimony.

A man who sold narcotics to a uniformed police officer, Burns countered, could be easily defended as insane.

"He very conveniently remembers what the state wants him to remember, but he can't remember anything we want him to remember," Kaufmann said of the prosecution's key witness.

Kaufmann challenged the idea that Darrow called the witness and said: "Hey, are you full up on weed?" (marijuana). "On other occasions, he said the witness approached Darrow about heroin and speed, but never marijuana.

The purchaser lacks law enforcement training, Kaufmann said.

TAMPERS WITH?

And the defense attorney suggested that the duffle bag, in which police carried the marijuana, could have been tampered with. They left it in a Holiday Inn in Austin before it was analyzed, he said.

Rather than locking it in a vault, police had been keeping it in a locked locker, which could have been opened, Kaufmann said.

While about seven ounces were said to be sold, the chemist analyzed only four ounces, Kaufmann reminded the jury.

The witness and purchaser, Burns replied in his closing arguments, "has gone that extra mile."

Burns prefaced this remark by blaming increasing crime in the United States on apathetic citizens.

Blaine F. Larson was jury foreman.

Other jurors were Mrs. Joe S. Knight, Ernest O. Smith, James Zapp, James B. Drake, Mrs. Eugene Peters, Mrs. Johnnie Lou Avery, Mrs. H. W. Butler, Ray S. McKinnon, Gary O. Bradbury, Wayne Henry and Mrs. Margaret S. Para.

Prexy Instructed To Cut Expenses

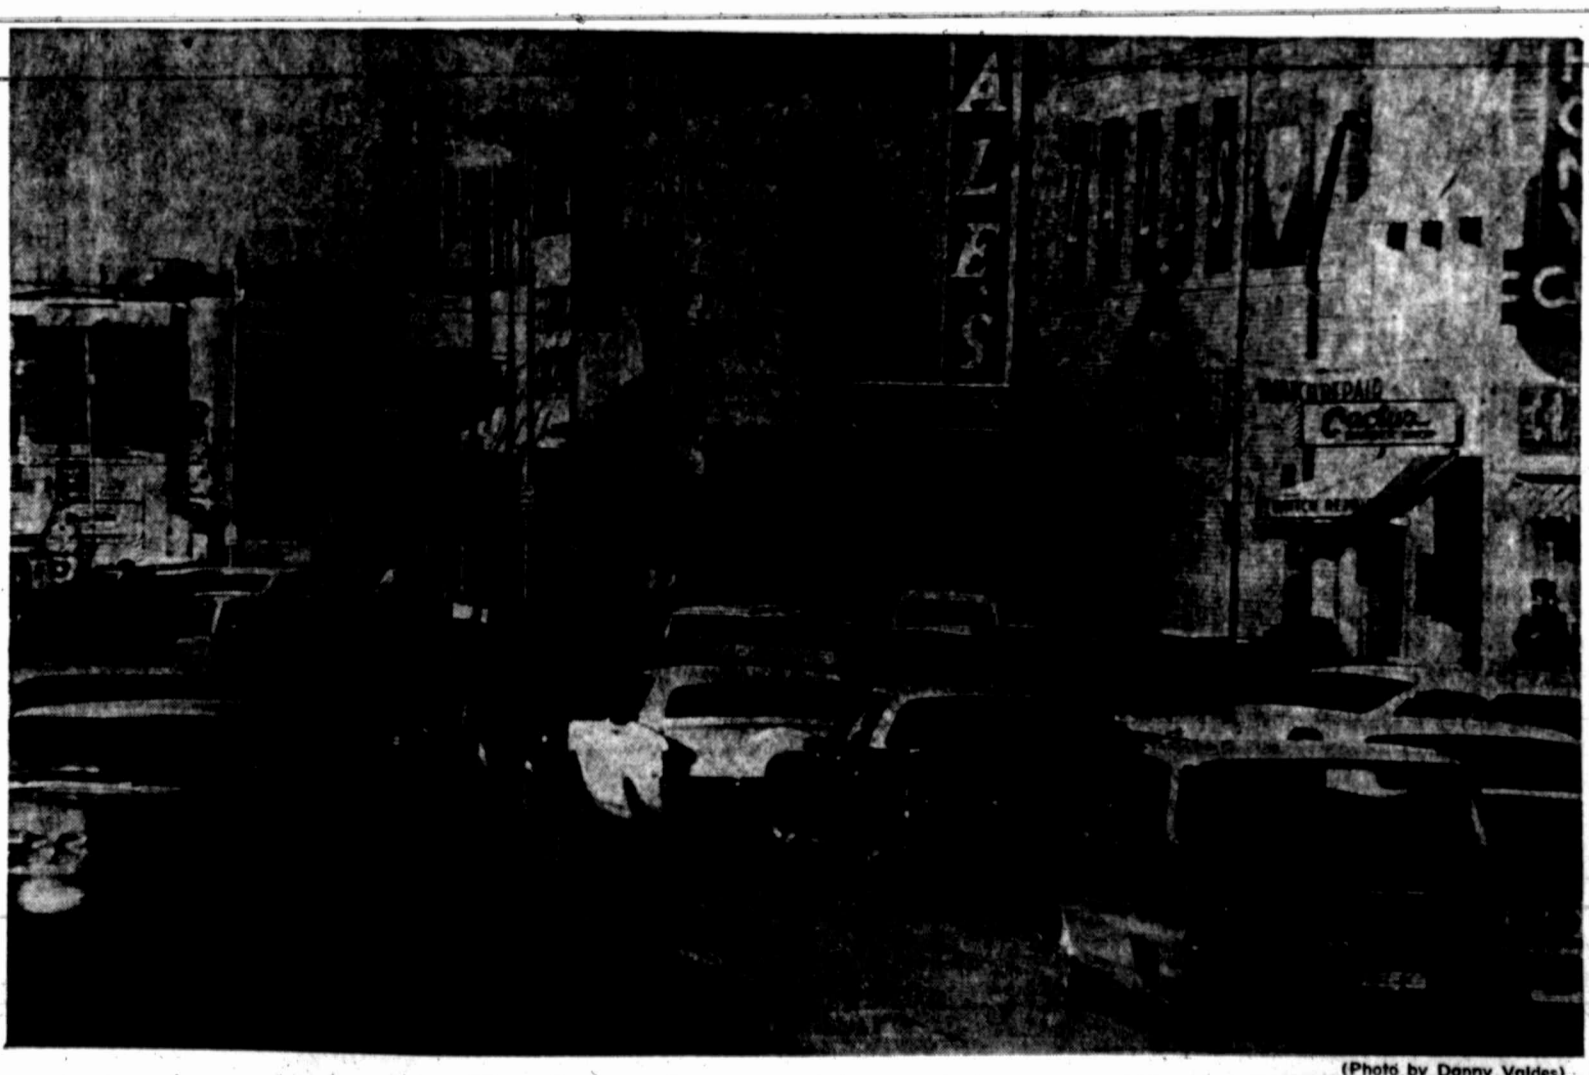

Howard County Junior College will receive $105,000 less state funds for the fiscal year starting Sept. 1, 1973, than for the current year if a Legislative Budget Board proposal is adopted.

This is approximately what Dr. Thomas Salter, HCJC president, had estimated recently in a presentation to the college trustees. Anticipating this possibility, the board had instructed him to pare operating expenses for the next budget year to meet that eventuality.

Currently, the college received $513,280 for academics and $106,000 in vocational-technical money, a total of $619,280 in state funds.

The Legislative Budget Board recommended $397,310 in academic funds and $117,011 for vocational technical, a total of $514,321 in state funds for the first year of the biennium. The difference between present and recommended funding is $105,000.

'BECAUSE I KNOW HE WANTS TO DO WHAT IS RIGHT'

LBJ Tells Blacks To Meet With President

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Former President Lyndon Johnson says black leaders should approach the Nixon administration with facts and not with demands.

"It's mighty easy for any group that has suffered as long and as cruelly as you have to feel a sense of injustice," the former chief executive said Tuesday.

"But he (Nixon) doesn't want to leave the presidency feeling he's been unjust. It's important that you talk to the President, his Cabinet and to Congress," Johnson said. "But don't go in there demanding or threatening."

Johnson's advice came after the Rev. A. Kendall Smith, an unscheduled speaker, pushed his way to the podium and listed several demands. The Rev. Mr. Smith, a New York minister, had asked Johnson for permission to give the benediction.

"We demand the extension of today's agenda," Smith told the closing session of the two-day civil rights symposium. "To adourn today makes this symposium no more than an empty ritual honoring one man. For this symposium not to expand and deal with a new definition of equality is to refuse the sun of a new day and prevents a rendezvous with the future."

Johnson, who already had given the closing address, returned to the podium after Smith's remarks were answered by Clarence Mitchell, director of the Washington bureau of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

"This is what I mean when I said it was time to stop playing games," Mitchell said. "If President Johnson has the courage to speak himself against white demagoguery, then I shall speak out whenever I have the chance against the black demagoguery."

In a long extemporaneous rebuttal to Smith's remarks, Johnson told the civil rights leaders gathered at the Lyndon B. Johnson Library on the University of Texas Campus: "I have known every president since Hoover. All of them left off wiser than they entered it, and I believe they are all honorable."

Johnson then addressed himself to several speakers who had criticized Nixon.

"It's a lot easier to want to do what's right than it is to know what's right," he said.

Earlier, the former president said a special effort should be made to lift blacks to an equal status with whites in America, but stopped short of calling for quotas.

"It is the duty of sustaining the momentum of this society's effort to equalize the history of some of our people so that we may open opportunity for all our people," he said.

Julian Bond, a Georgia state legislator, lashed out at Nixon in his speech.

"I'm a politician," Bond said. "And I backed the loser (in the November election). Now I want to get close to the winner. I want to be friends with him. I'm trying to learn to tap

Bond said the substance of the recent election was "the result of four lost years and will probably be the results of four years more."

"If the Nov. 7 election illuminated any political movement at all, it was the movement of the comfortable, the callous and the smug closing their ranks and closing their hearts against the claims and calls to conscience put forward by the forgotten and unrepresented elements in American society."

REAL EXCITEMENT HAPPENS FOLLOWING BOND MOVIE

The excitement wasn't over when Ernesto Morales Juarez, 17, of 606 NW 8th St. left a James Bond movie at the Ritz Theater Tuesday afternoon.

Juarez told police he was running in the alley of the 800 block of NW 8th St. when he heard shots, from where he didn't know. It wasn't until Juarez reached home, Patrolman Juan P. Palacios reported, that Juarez noticed blood on his hand and knew he was shot.

Police interviewed Juarez at Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital where he was treated for the 4:40 p.m. wound and released.

on a LBB recommendation that junior colleges be paid on a contact-hour basis instead of the current per capita for academic voc-tech payments now based on a contact-hour (or the number of hours students are in class). The per capita payments have been based on the 12th day enrollment, and the LBB noted that this bore little relation to the job that might be done all during the year.

REQUESTED MORE

HCJC had filed requests with the LBB under the old formula, rather than the contact-hour formula, hence there is a far greater difference between the college request and the LBB recommendation for both academics and voc-technical there is between the present funding and the recommended funding.

For instance, the college requested for the first year of the biennium $584,160 for academics, was recommended for $397,310, a difference of $186,850; for the second year $604,524 requested, $397,310 recommended, a difference of $207,215.

FTC DOWN

One reason for the disparity between the present level of funding and the amount recommended by the LBB next year is that HCJC full-time equivalent student total now is about 200 less than two years ago when appropriations were made (although the head count is down only 124). Part of this is due to a general trend, said Dr. Thomas Salter, also the presence of two new junior colleges in the vicinity.

Collection Points Set Up For Trash By JCs

A heavy gauge lid, painted in a bright yellow to highlight the panel colors, has a hole in the center through which people are encouraged to drop trash. Underneath are plastic garbage bags.

The City of Big Spring will maintain the boxes and will regularly service them.

In the survey, one of the reasons for litter downtown was given as an absence of trash cans. The Jaycees are experimenting to see if this works, and if so, perhaps others may be added.

Compromise Said Near On Troop Withdrawals

PARIS (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger and Le Duc Tho met today for what may be their last session in the current phase of their negotiations for a cease-fire in Vietnam. Kissinger was expected to fly to Washington to report to President Nixon soon after his meeting with Tho in a suburban villa. Before they met, a subcommittee of experts from both nations held a 90-minute meeting to discuss details of a settlement.

'A MATTER OF HOURS'

French press reports said agreement was near on the issue blocking a cease-fire accord, the withdrawal of North Vietnamese troops from South Vietnam. La Nation predicted agreement in "a matter of hours."

SET READY

Kissinger was accompanied this morning by William J. Porter, the U.S. delegate to the four-party weekly peace talks, and William Sullivan, deputy assistant secretary of state for Southeast Asian affairs. Tho's delegation included Xuan Thuy, the North Vietnamese delegate to the four-party talks, and Nguyen Co Thach, Hanoi's deputy foreign minister.

SOME SIGNS

The two peace negotiators had met for 52 hours during the past three weeks when Tuesday's session ended with cordial handshakes at a villa in Gif sur Yvette, 15 miles southwest of Paris.

palace said Thieu also told them he does not believe Nixon will sign a bilateral agreement with North Vietnam.

French Foreign Minister Maurice Schumann, who keeps in close contact with both sides, said Tuesday that a compromise is "possible and likely" despite "some signs of intractability."

"I have always been convinced that there will be a settlement before the U.S. Congress meets" on Jan. 3, Schumann told a press luncheon.

Reports from Saigon today said that President Nguyen Van Thieu feels President Nixon is hoping to announce a peace settlement during the Christmas season or in January, during his State of the Union address or at his inauguration.

Forsan Council Considers $175,753 Sewer Project

By JOHN EDWARDS
 FORSAN — The Forsan City Council discussed plans for a sewer plant and lines and contracted with Pritchard and Abbott for preparation of oil, gas, and real estate tax rolls Tuesday night.

Under discussion is a $175,753 sewer project. All but $43,938 could be paid by the federal government under a grant. With voter approval, the city would issue bonds for the rest.

Financing through the Farmers Home Administration for 40 years was considered.

Alderman Robert Walsh suggested adding about $7,000 to the $43,938 to pay for connections as a solution to the high cost for some persons connecting. There are 100 persons connected for Forsan water service.

CHARGE MENTIONED
 A possible monthly charge of $3 to $5 was mentioned but Hicks and Ragland, a Lubbock engineering firm, have not prepared estimates of operation costs.

A sewer plant operator would be one major expense.

"If we don't do it now because we want to," Alderman Susan Gaston said, "we're going to have to do it later because we have to."

Her comment reflected the consensus about increasing water quality controls.

Alderman Lee D. Whetsel first mentioned the problem of elderly persons who cannot afford an expensive connection.

And three visitors at the meeting indicated apprehension about costs.

But, with connection costs added to costs paid through bonds, they seemed agreeable.

Visitors included S. C. Cowley, Tommy Roberts, Stanley Willis and later Bob Cowley.

REPRESENTS FIRM
 Tom Miller represented the Odessa office of Pritchard and Abbott at the meeting.

His firm entered a contract with the city for preparation of the oil and gas rolls for the 1972 and 1973 tax years at the same price as before — $150 per year. They will appraise oil and gas property also for this price.

For another $150 yearly, the firm will type statements and type the real property roll.

Mayor Curtis (Jack) Lamb said that was not much more than they were paying.

The council and Miller discussed the city and Forsan schools contracting the Austin firm chosen by Big Spring, the City of Big Spring, Howard County and Howard County Junior College to appraise real property.

Also discussed was the problem of persons who sold land without recording the change in ownership at the county courthouse. The real owners sometimes contend the city has no proof of their ownership.

Mayor Lamb mentioned being unable to get the county and school system to join in a tax judgment against property of unknown ownership.

Installing signs designating streets was considered as a use of $1,095 in revenue sharing money received. Enclosing the water tower ladder was mentioned as a coming capital improvement.

MEADVILLE, Mo. (AP) — How many hunting dogs will go after a quail and bring back a three-gallon cream can?

Art Heaton of Meadville has one.

Clark Milligan, an assistant at the Fountain Grove Wildlife Area near here, gave this report to the State Department of Conservation:

Milligan and his brother, John, went to meet at Heaton's home.

They arrived to find Heaton's dog wandering around with a three-gallon cream can stuck on its head.

The can wouldn't budge.

They tried a little soap and water. Finally, Clark Milligan drove to Meadville and bought a chisel and hammer.

They got the can off and in it was a dead quail.

It turned out that Heaton had hit the quail with his pickup and it stuck in the grill. He removed the dead bird and tossed it in the can — and the dog went after it.

A LOVELIER YOU Regular Inventory Will Avoid Frantic Frenzy

By MARY SUE MILLER
In the midst of dressing for an occasion, have you ever run short of a necessary beauty aid? Your can of hairspray suddenly ran dry? Or your nail enamel ran like molasses?

Why not avoid such mishap, and the eleventh-hour frenzy that goes with it? If you then immediately bring your toiletries and cosmetics and periodically inventory your stock up to complement, you just cannot be caught short. Now's the time to make those moves in preparation for holiday events.

As every lovely has her favorite preparations, a general checklist would be pointless. However, there are a number of items that usually escape notice and are mighty handy to have on tap:

—In the makeup department, stick or cream to cover dark circles, fixative for false lashes where worn, mascara remover, pink blusher for erasing fatigue lines; medicated "disaster" stick to foil a blemish.

—Absorbent cotton quilted pads, cotton balls and swabs to facilitate cosmetic applications. How about the supply of cleansing tissue?

—Touch-up crayon for tinted hair; dry shampoo powder to cleanse in a trice; barrettes and bows to hold a slipping hairdo.

—Nail polish thinner and polish remover; split patchkit. —Deodorant and depilatory needs; foot powder; body rub.

YOUR GROOMING
Put aside your grooming doubts and worries! Send today for "Your Grooming — A to Z," a booklet that covers every step in achieving smooth looks. It tells how to manicure and pedicure, use deodorants and depilatories, bathe for beauty, tend feet, hands, teeth and eyes, polish skin and hair, care for clothes, apply perfume, overcome personal posers. To obtain your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin.

$7.4 Million For Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — The City of Houston received $7.4 million Monday and county government about $3 million as their share of federal revenue fund sharing.

Neither body has announced definite plans for use of the money but Mayor Louie Welch said he did hope to use it for nonrecurring expenses, such as water and sewer lines and bridge projects.

Need Reason

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

COSTLY RIDE: (Q) I'm 14. My mother has a rule that I must not get in any car with any boy.

I spent Sunday night with my girl friend. Well, we went to church with her girl friend in her girl friend's car. Her girl friend brought us home from church. She is 16 and has a driver's license. But her boy friend rode home with us. He rode in the front with her and my girl friend and I rode in the back.

When I got home the next afternoon, I explained to my mother what had happened. I tried to explain that is, it didn't work. She grounded me for six months. I can't go out, I can't have any phone calls and my boy friend can't even come to see me. The only time I'll be able to see him for six months is two or three minutes after school. I am afraid I will lose him. What can I do? — In Trouble in Texas.

(A) It is good to have rules, but the rules should be reasonable and workable. By now your mother has probably cooled down. Talk to her again. Point out to her that if you had refused to ride home from church in the car you would have insulted your friends and also had to walk, which would have exposed you to much greater danger than a boy sitting in the front seat with his girl friend. Ask her if there can't be some modification of her car rule. I believe if she will give it some thought she will see it isn't practical in all situations. Also ask her if she thinks it is fair to punish your boy friend when he has done nothing to be punished for.

SPLIT: (Q) I was going out with this girl but she broke off with me. She said she did it because she did not like me.

Her mother said it was because she is shy and has to be with a gang. What should I do? I am in love with her and I believe she still likes me. — No Girl Now in Matne.

(A) You were going with the girl, not her mother. Accept what the girl said. Her mother may be trying to ease your disappointment, or may be trying to get her daughter to go with you. But if the girl does not like you, there is not much sense in trying to date her again.

Will Surrender In Cell Sex Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Four of the five members of a San Diego family accused of bribing federal prison officials for sex and other favors for two family members held in prison were to surrender to authorities in San Diego today.

The FBI said two former prison officials indicted in the case also would surrender.

Federal grand jurors here Tuesday accused John Alessio, 62, his son Dominic, 35, and brothers Angelo, 55, and Tony, 53, of conspiring to defraud the United States while John and Angelo were serving sentences at Lompoc and Terminal Island federal prisons in California on convictions of tax evasion.

TAX EVASION

Indictments returned in San Diego last week and made public Tuesday charged Dominic, Angelo and Tony with similar offenses. Counts also were returned against former prison administrators Daniel Morgan and Anthony Santiago, accusing them of granting the Alessio brothers favors.

John Alessio is a former general manager of Caliente Race Track in Tijuana, Mexico, and a millionaire businessman in San Diego. He remains in federal prison at McNeil Island, Wash., where he is serving a three-year sentence for income tax evasion handed down in 1971.

His brother Angelo was paroled late in 1971 after serving 5½ months of a one-year sentence on a similar conviction.

Named with Santiago and Morgan as recipients of Alessio favors were prison officials Curtis L. Phillips and Roy Goddard. Phillips and Goddard were not indicted. However, Goddard was suspended from duty with Santiago at Lompoc when the grand jury began its investigation last March.

SEX RELATIONS

The indictments allege that the two brothers had sexual relations with women companions within the Lompoc prison on June 28, 1971, and that, on several other occasions, the brothers were allowed to leave the

BETTING ON HORSE RACES

Baptist Leaders Accuse State Senate Panel Of Unfairness

DALLAS (AP) — Top executives of the Baptist General Convention of Texas Tuesday called on the Texas attorney general "to launch a full investigation" of a "blatant misuse of legislative power" by a state senate committee studying parimutuel betting on horse races in Texas.

'STACKED'
The Baptist leaders joined with the Texas Baptist Christian Life Commission in charging that the committee, chaired by Sen. O.H. (Ike) Harris of Dallas, is "stacked" and has "denied every rule of fair investigation."

The charges were made in a certified letter authorized by Dr. Landrum P. Leavell of Wichita Falls, president of the tin, Christian Life commission chairman. Harris' committee will hold an open hearing on horse race betting, which Texas voters rejected in 1968, Thursday at the state capitol.

"Despite the fact that the Sharpstown stock scandal so recently demonstrated lobby domination in its worse form," the certified letter to Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin charged, "We now find a senate study committee, set up to study the pros and cons of horse race betting, admittedly dominated by those who favor legalized betting."

FIVE COMMITTED
The letter cited news reports in which Harris reportedly admitted that a census of Texas horse raisers being taken by the committee "will be used to garner support for horse race betting in Texas."

It said the news reports revealed that five members of the nine person committee, including Harris, "are already committed in favor of on track parimutuel betting on horse racing," although Harris claims the committee, "has not decided what recommendations it will make to the legislature next January."

"Here we have a publicly-elected official (Harris) with all the resources of the state treasury at his disposal, using public monies to conduct a survey that will benefit a powerful lobby group, all under the guise of a 'horse census'" the Baptist leaders charged.

PUBLIC FUNDS
"Does the committee also plan to use public funds to survey Texas citizens who may be concerned about the other more significant effects of this profit making venture?" The letter continues, "We speak of increased crime, public corruption and, all too often, the destruction of families and homes."

The Baptist leaders added, "Texas Baptists do not oppose horse raising or even horse racing in itself. But we do strenuously object to a one-sided legislative body trying to cram a destructive element like horse race gambling down the throats of the citizenry."

Bond Issue Loses In Shallowater

SHALLOWATER — Voters in the Shallowater school district voted Tuesday to defeat a proposed $285,000 school bond issue.

Of the 284 votes cast, 174 were against passage of the issue and 110 for cast in favor of the proposal.

The bonds would have provided for construction of a new band hall and boys athletic dressing room and remodeling of 11 classrooms in an existing vacant facility.

The last school bond election in Shallowater was in 1964 when voters approved bonds totalling $400,000 for construction of a new junior-senior high school.

Odessa Annexes 3 000 Acres

ODESSA — The Odessa City Council Tuesday morning passed on second and final reading ordinances to annex more than 3,000 acres of land to the Odessa City limits.

Councilmen also agreed at the Tuesday meeting to form an industrial district in south Odessa. Forty-five firms have signed contracts requesting to be placed into the industrial district rather than be annexed into the city.

The council said it would study each application and announce at a later date its decision.

The 45 companies have signed agreements saying they will pay the equivalent of city taxes to remain outside the city.

In spite of all of the recent local opposition to the annexation, there were only a few people present Tuesday to protest.

The councilmen voted unanimously to annex the land, not including the Country Club estates, a residential section northeast of Odessa that has requested it be incorporated into a separate city. The request has been denied.

BIG SPRINGHERALD

SECTION B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1972 SECTION B

SHE'LL MAKE HOME IN ODESSA Things Happen In 10-Year Cycles For Mrs. Greenlees

Mrs. W. G. Greenlees, who lived at 206 E. 8th, left Big Spring Tuesday to make her home with her son and his wife in Odessa.

Mrs. Greenlees, widow of a Presbyterian minister who held pastorates from Virginia, to West Virginia, to Alabama, to Louisiana, to New Mexico, ended up in Big Spring because she had often visited here and because her other son, the late W. Everett Greenlees, Big Spring attorney and former judge, resided here until his death in 1962.

Her husband died in Lovington where he was then pastor at the Lovington church back in 1952. "Things seem to happen to me every 10 years."

Fiercely independent, she had lived on here in her home until she blacked out briefly and fell early Tuesday and had to scot across the floor through two rooms to the telephone.

"Wonderful!" Then her son and his wife decided it was time to move "Mother" to Odessa. "Isn't it wonderful to have a family who cares?" Mrs. Greenlees stated as she sat amidst the moving activity here Tuesday.

Then she added ruefully, as she watched the packing "Sure hope they don't throw out what they consider junk and I consider treasures."

Mrs. Greenlees has had an interesting life and "loved every place I ever lived." She was born in Abilene, although her family was originally from Louisiana and moved back there when she was very young.

She recalls that her mother used to tell stories about dancing on barges at Lake Charles with flowing long skirts, and dance bands, and "told such fantastic tales of the Louisiana in the 1800's."

She married the late Rev. Greenlees when he was an electrical engineer. "Never planned to marry a preacher, but the Lord called him and we went back to Union Theological Seminary in Richmond, Va., when our two sons were five and an infant."

At that time, there were very few married couples in college and where they ate in the Seminary, she was the only woman besides the woman in charge.

When they left, one Virginian said to her, in an attempt to be polite, "You're the only real lady I ever knew from Texas." "Well, sir," she stated, "I never met any women from Texas that weren't ladies. I'm sorry you met the other kind."

HOBBY
Her husband loved to paint and he painted portraits of their sons and many landscape scenes that Mrs. Greenlees was being particularly careful were packed with loving care.

She recalled that her husband had an unusual career as a minister and always went wherever he thought he was truly called, no matter how difficult the circumstances.

He preached in a Negro penitentiary he preached in the mountains of West Virginia. She recalled laughingly that there was a beautiful manse there and very little salary and that all of the silver was engraved with the letters, "PM" for Presbyterian Manse.

Their longest stay was in Greensboro, Ala., where they put down deep roots with 20 years of service to a Presbyterian Church there. Then they went to Louisiana and the last two years of his life ended up at an adobe church in Lovington, N.M., which was one of the most "spiritually rewarding locations."

She recalled that they had the two sons and also picked out two girls' names, but never had a daughter. However, she has four granddaughters and a grandson, two great grandsons and a great granddaughter. She will now be at home at 1401 N. Graham in Odessa and invites her friends to visit her.

"I have lots to be thankful for... my family, my friends and my church."

Brimberry Is Named Judge

COLORADO CTY — Jake Merritt, head of the Colorado City Housing Authority, and Dennis Walding, executive director, reported to the Colorado City Council Monday night that proposals for building 26 new units of low-cost housing were being studied and that the target date for the beginning of construction is Jan. 1.

The 26 units are expected to cost about $444,000.

The Housing Authority also presented its annual report showing income of $18,006 and expenses of $14,653 on 50 units built several years ago.

The balance of $3,353 was divided between $2,905 spent for equipment and a $448 payment on the original cost of the project.

The Rev. John Mikow, local Presbyterian pastor, appeared before the council to request a blast from the fire siren as a daily noon prayer call from Dec. 24 through Jan. 6, as part of a program called "Key '73," an evangelistic endeavor. The request is granted.

W. A. Brimberry was appointed as city judge for a two-year term.

Chilly Weather Maintains Grip

By The Associated Press
Chilly weather maintained a grip on most of Texas today, but this time the icing miseries of the past few days were missing.

Skies which cleared Monday, bringing sunshine to thaw the treacherous glaze on roads and streets in many areas, stayed that way this morning as the latest cold front pushed southward to a line linking Lubbock, San Angelo, College Station and Lufkin.

Forecasters warned, however, that light rain or drizzle would occur in coastal areas by tonight and other sections Thursday—over a 100-mile wide belt between Wichita Falls and Del Rio by early morning and later in the day from a Houston-Del Rio line northward into the Texas Panhandle.

Prospects were seen for possibly freezing rain early Thursday in parts of Northwest Texas and adjacent areas of North Central Texas.

Gradual clearing of skies gain from west to east was predicted for Friday.

Temperatures near dawn dropped to 13 degrees at Marfa in the West Texas mountains and 14 at Amarillo and Dalhart in the Texas Panhandle.

Readings at other points included Childress 17, Wink 18, Abilene, Lubbock, Marfa, San Angelo and Wichita Falls 20, Mineral Wells 23, El Paso 24, Fort Worth 26, Dallas and Midland 27, Tyler 28, Longview and Waco 29, College Station and Texarkana 30, and Lufkin and San Antonio 32.

Anti-Pornography Weapon

The country's running battle with pornography won an important round this week when the U.S. Supreme Court, in a stout 6-3 opinion, said states have extensive powers to stop the mix of alcoholic beverage and sexy "live entertainment."

The decision rests upon laws that regulate licensing of bars and the sale of alcohol in them.

The case stems from San Francisco's flagrant city's attempt to restrain them.

Still to be heard by the high court are cases against pornography merchants on New York's Times Square. Other merchants are trying to protect their own businesses against the invasion of the porno shops which, they claim, ruins other business. Building owners are using contract terms to combat occupancy by fifth peddlers.

Other attacks upon unrestrained public display of pornographic conduct have been unsuccessful in the battle between personal freedom and public mores. As the battle continues, gross intrusion of the smut merchants upon the public ought to be reversed.

Surely, there must be some dileneation between what is freedom of choice and what is an appeal to base animal functions.

The power of contracts and permits is considerable as they apply to corruption of public places, which includes any place where more-than-routine use of a community's police services is required.

The public has the obligation to justify the social costs of even private activity of a community's people. It certainly has the obligation to justify its policies for licensing activity for public use.

Hard To Please A Marxist

MARXIST condemnation of the United States is universal and therefore to be expected.

But it does produce some peculiar inconsistencies. Chile's President Salvador Allende in visits to Lima, Peru, and Mexico City takes the familiar view of the U.S. as an "exploiter" and says his revolutionary movement "guarantees a path toward economic independence" from American interests.

Curiously, the Russians, old pros in the anti-American game, take us to task for alleged selfish disinterest in aiding other nations.

Soviet Ambassador Jacob Malik complained to the United Nations that the U.S. campaign to reduce its budget assessment is unjust. The "richest country in the world" should have its U.N. assessment increased, not lowered.

Otherwise, he contended, poor countries will be deprived of relief.

Malik wants us to do more: Allende less Russia wants us in. Chile wants us out.

ACTUALLY, neither has fared badly. From the end of World War II through 1970, Chile received $1,187 million in U.S. foreign grants and credits; Russia, $358 million.

First Flight

Around The Rim

Joe Pickle

Sunday will mark the 69th anniversary of the first flight by Orville and Wilbur Wright in an airplane. This generally is regarded as the birth date of practical flight, although the idea is old as mankind and designs go back to the sketches of Leonardo da Vinci around 1500.

THE WRIGHTS, who had operated a bicycle shop at Dayton, Ohio and were introduced to aviation via the glider, conceived an air frame from their experience with the box kite. When they were able to obtain a motor that weighed only 150 pounds and generated 12 horse power, they put the tow together and their epochal flight into a 27 mph wind at Kitty Hawk N.C. is history, although the distance spanned was hardly as much as the wing span on some modern airplanes.

BUT, SAYS The Pilot magazine put out by Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association, there is mounting evidence that the Wrights were by no means the first to employ powered flight successfully. A New Zealand farmer, Richard Pearse, made numerous flights of 100-50 yards, and on March 21, 1903 (10 months ahead of the Wrights' flight) he made a control flight of 2 1/2 circuits of a small field before 25 witnesses.

The magazine goes on to say that six years before the Kitty Hawk milestone, W. D. Custead, a railroad ticket agent in Central Texas, was supposed to have flown a powered plane of his own design a distance of five miles.

CONTEMPORARY accounts, published in 1897 by Waco newspapers say that Custead made a round trip flight between the McLennan County villages of Tokio and Elmott, and landed safely. He used an engine designed by Gustave Whitehead of Bridgeport, Conn. who is said to have flown an improved version of the plane at Bridgeport on Aug. 18, 1902.

If you think this is shoving the time of powered flight forward, consider "a Texan who was flying at least 38 years before the incident at Kitty Hawk," according to The Pilot. He was Jacob Brodbeck, a native German who had immigrated to Texas to teach school at Fredricksburg. In Germany he had spent spare time rying to build for the Kaiser a spring-powered clock that would run forever without winding. He cooked up a gadget where the pilot would continue to rewind one end of a spring while tension on the other turned the propeller of an airplane.

HE MOVED on to San Antonio, supplemented his teaching earnings so he could pursue his hobby. No one can fix the exact date of his first flight, but there are a number of witnesses to it, and one person wrote an account of it.

His craft, according to the story, managed to takeoff and climb to tree-top level. Alas, the spring principle didn't work as well as it had on toys, for it ran down a far faster than it could be rewound. The plane went kerplunk, but Brodbeck was unhurt. He began a lecture tour to raise more money, but at one of his stops, all his research records and drawings were stolen.

HE DIED in 1910 without having documented his feat. The case of Custead, however, offers more substantial confirmation, but the anniversary of the airplane is apt to go right on being on the date of the Wright Brothers' 59-second flight in 1903.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

I am a clinical psychologist and I read your column regularly. You seem to delight in "sniping" at our profession. For example, you stated that the suicide rate is higher among psychiatrists, than any other professional group. We deal in depression, and as you know, depression is contagious. Please stop taking "pot shots" at us. M.T.H.

I've had ample occasion to observe the benefit that counselors, psychologists, and psychiatrists can provide. Nothing was intended by way of a professional "put down" I believe in the column you refer to. I said, "psychology is a helpful science."

Some time ago, it was my privilege to meet with psychiatrists for a luncheon at a famous university. They all agreed that man is so psychologically constituted that he needs to be converted. They also indicated that psychiatry is beginning to realize that it has limitations, and that while it can diagnose causes, it cannot give lasting cures.

This is where Christ comes in, the One who heals the soul as well as the mind. As the old hymn put it "The Great Physician now is near, the sympathizing Jesus. He speaks the drooping heart to cheer, O hear the voice of Jesus."

Some of my favorite Bible stories are about men who could easily have been victims of depression, but who didn't succumb because of supernatural strength. Paul, in prison at midnight, is found singing. Here's hoping that a bit of that indomitable spirit is yours too.

Personal Banker

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — As Americans become more affluent they are confronted with a greater number of decisions about what to do with their money: spend it, save it, invest it, lend it. Where, when, why, how?

Insurers, brokers, bankers and others would love to supply the answers, because to the man with the answers goes the business. Few insurance agents, however, are expert in banking; few bankers are authorities on stocks.

The ordinary American with a little extra money and a lot of questions has, therefore, to search about for answers and then, somewhat futilely, hope he can integrate them into a meaningful, logical financial program.

But some headway is being made. A few brokerage houses now are looking toward the day when their personnel will be taken off commissions and greatly upgraded in skills so that they will be able to serve as financial advisers.

Insurance companies too foresee the day when the agent might fulfill that role. And some lawyers seek to be such broadly skilled professionals, although people of such abilities usually can find wealthier clients.

Perhaps the response with the greatest potential emanates from the commercial banks, many of which advertise themselves as "full service" banks and some of which offer 40 or more different services.

Some of these now are going in for the personal banking concept. As one, the United Bank of Denver, a pioneer, states:

"You have a personal physician, a personal attorney, maybe a personal stockbroker. Now you can have a personal banker."

This is good news for the customer, who is often shunted from one department to another in large commercial banks.

At United and at Harris Bank & Trust, Chicago, and at North Carolina's largest, the Wachovia Bank, among others — a customer may be assigned his own banker, and it is this

Happy Holidays For Bad Drivers

MENTOR, Ohio (AP) — Traffic violators in Mentor have been given the holidays off.

Municipal Court Judge Alfred Dahling said no traffic hearings would be held from this Friday through Jan. 3 so no one has to dig into Christmas money to pay a fine.

Let's Play Cliche Game

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Let's take a little time off from Christmas shopping to play a game. It's the cliche game — a good one because it prepares us for life.

For where would we be without cliches, except tongue-tied? They seem to be as necessary to the educated as the uneducated man. They enable us to make conversation without really thinking.

Here's how you play the game: One player asks a question that has to be answered by a recognizable cliché. The one who can come up with the most clichés is the winner, whether he regards it as an honor or not.

To get the ball rolling — nothing like starting with a good cliché — here are a few examples that ought to give you food for thought — oops, there's another one.

— "What kind of a spectacle was it?" It was a sordid spectacle.

— "How pure was her character?" It was as pure as the driven snow.

"It was, that is, before what happened?" Before she drifted.

"Well, what is your own character above?" It is above reproach.

"You say it was a cute sight to see. Tell me, just how cute was it?" I'd say it was as cute as a speckled pup on a red wagon.

"What is a little knowledge?" It is better than none. "No dummy, you goofed that one."

What is a little knowledge? "A little knowledge is a dangerous thing. That's better — let's don't fall asleep on our feet."

"Is talk very expensive?" No, sir, talk is cheap.

"Where do you think would be a good place to put my money?" Where your mouth is.

"What, above all, must we always be able to tell?" We must be able to tell the forest from the trees.

"What is handsome?" Handsome is as handsome does. "When our hostess serves us your mind."

person to whom he goes with business of any kind.

The personal banker has undergone a training program and, while not an expert in all areas of finance, has some understanding of them and knows who in the bank to ask for specialized advice. And, of course, he knows the customer's financial condition and goals.

The program, while helping the customer, is paying immediate dividends for the banks, too.

United Bank, for example, found that personal checking accounts rose 18.5 per cent just a year after it began its program in January 1970, but it measures even more benefits in the form of good will, payable in the future.

Other banks have been so fascinated by the concept that United Bank now runs conferences for other banks considering the switch.

The obvious danger to the concept's future is that the personal banker might tend to view the customer as a prospect for the bank's many services rather than as a client to be aided — that he will emphasize sales at the expense of service.

This, as many Americans have learned, is the weakness and even the conflict in many broker-customer and agent-customer relationships.

Casualty Of Rates

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — A concrete example of how the high rates for second-class postage have upset the publishing industry is furnished by the announcement just made by Time, Inc., that it will suspend the publication of "Life" magazine at the end of this month.

THIS IS THE second of the larger national magazines to be crushed by the second-class postal rates. In a statement on the latest suspension, executives of the magazine pointed out that it had reduced its production from 8.5 to 5.5 million copies and increased the per copy price, but said that the impact of these moves was undercut by a very heavy increase in second-class postal rates.

When the postal-rate increase was first proposed, publishers realized that an added $130 million would have to be found annually to pay for mail service by the year 1976. "Life" magazine, in an editorial, declared that this amount was more than twice the profits earned by all magazines in 1970. The editorial added:

"OUR FOUR MAGAZINES (published by Time, Inc.) earned $11 million before taxes last year (1970).

over the next five years the bill for mailing these magazines to subscribers would rise by about $27 million.

"Such drastic increases might be tolerable if the publishing industry could pass them on to customers by raising subscription and advertising rates.

"THE INDUSTRY has been raising both in recent years, but as the shrinking profit figures show, the high rates haven't been sufficient to offset higher costs. The experience of recent years also shows that steep increases in subscription rates tend to lead to lower circulation.

"Thus, if the entire postal rate increase were passed on to subscribers, a chain reaction might get under way in which falling circulation would lead to lower quality, thence to a further drop in circulation, and so on.

"THE POSTAL service obviously needs more revenue. But it should not impose an increase that could literally drive hundreds of marginal magazines and newspapers out of business and lower the quality of those that survive.

It's Indivisible

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — Since that day in June of 1971, when he was booked in federal court for violation of the Espionage Act, Daniel Ellsberg, a hitherto little known scholar and researcher, has been a public figure.

With the resumption shortly of his trial over his revelation of the Pentagon papers he promises to become one of the celebrated causes in the long record of the conflict between organized power and the individual.

HIS PRINCIPAL lawyer, Leonard Boudin, believes the trial in Los Angeles will last from three to four months. When it first began four months ago, a defense motion charged that government use of wiretapping in collecting evidence was reason for the judge to declare a mistrial. Rejected in the lower jurisdiction, the United States Supreme Court declined to review the allegation.

Behind all the legal technicalities in the mass of documents already put together is a fundamental question: Did the public have the right to know the full and unedited story of the Vietnam war contained in the 47 volumes of the Pentagon papers? That is Ellsberg's contention, to be argued by his battery of seven lawyers with the support of numerous witnesses.

WHEN PUBLICATION initiated by a half-dozen newspapers, the revelations of duplicity, double-dealing and downright falsehood caused an immense sensation. An attempt by the Administration to enjoin printing of the documents was rejected by the Supreme Court in a 6-to-3 vote.

THE ESPIONAGE Act provides imprisonment up to 10 years and a $10,000 fine for unauthorized possession of information which "the possessor has reason to believe could be used to the injury of the United States or to the advantage of any foreign nation." On the allegation of injury to the United States the prosecution will put great emphasis.

Boudin has collected the indictments in every previous espionage case and they show, with one exception, that they were based on passing information to a Soviet agent.

WHAT THROWS a special light on the Ellsberg case is that it comes at a time when freedom of information, the right to know, is threatened in various areas.

Texan Hopes Pentagon Can Shed 'Kicking Boy' Image

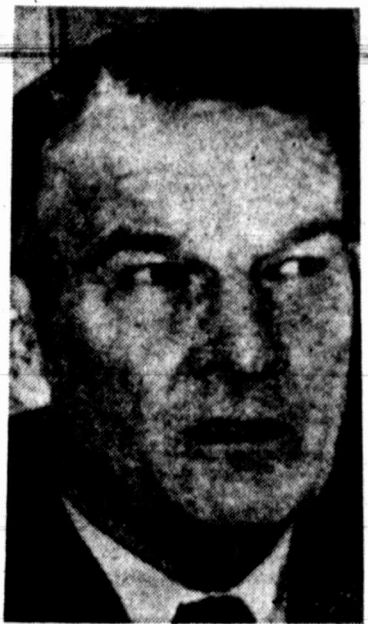

DALLAS (AP) — The nation's new deputy defense secretary says he wants to change the Pentagon's image from that of "kicking boy."

Dallas oil well driller William P. Clements Jr., 55, was appointed Tuesday as the new Pentagon deputy chief. He held the post for a year following the announcement of his appointment.

"The Defense Department has been everybody's kicking boy," he said.

Denying that he was appointed to "balance" the more liberal new Secretary of Defense Elliott Richardson, Clements said: "We have different backgrounds and we complement each other."

Clements, chairman of SEDCO, an oil well drilling firm he founded in 1947, stressed "radical change" for the department.

W. P. CLEMENTS JR.

Clements said the department must radically alter its image so as to earn "a broader base of support from the public."

"The public must be educated so that it will understand that the Department of Defense is its department. We must have the people feel this... have them share some of the problems of the department so they will understand it better."

Clements didn't detail how he plans to involve the public more in defense matters but said it could be done "without endangering national security."

He described himself as a moderate with deep feelings about the need for a "strong national security policy."

"They share our pride in our country," he said of Pentagon military leaders, "and they want to do what is best and they are reasonable people."

May Not Be Such Hot Idea

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Keystone Automobile Club says it may not be such a hot idea "to make the one for the road a cup of coffee."

It warns, in fact, that drinking coffee after booze at holiday parties may do more harm than good.

"A driver who is drunk — and knows it — can frequently get home safely by compensating for his condition," says Roy D. Henshaw, Keystone's safety director. "However, the driver who is drunk and thinks he's sober because he had a cup of coffee is a real menace. He makes no compensation for his condition whatsoever."

Henshaw suggests starting the party with a cup of coffee. "This would tend to fill the reveler's stomach and leave less room for alcohol," he says. "Once alcohol gets into the blood, nothing can dilute its effects."

Bombers Blast Tanks, Troops

SAIGON (AP) — Nearly 100 tanks and several thousand fresh North Vietnamese troops have crossed the mountain passes that feed the Ho Chi Minh Trail, and American B52s and fighter-bombers are harassing them as they make their way south, U.S. sources reported today.

Some intelligence reports indicate the armor may be headed for the Plain of Jars in Laos rather than for South Vietnam. Several of the tanks have been knocked out, according to military sources.

An equal number of tanks have reached the three North Vietnamese divisions in South Vietnam's war-ravaged Quang Tri Province, the sources reported.

Up to 8,000 troops also have been sent across the DMZ in

LA Lakers Slip Past Chicago

Disputed Call Wipes Out Bull Victory

By The Associated Press

Chet Walker missed a foul shot but grabbed the rebound and let fly with a 30-footer.

The ball sailed through the basket to give the Chicago Bulls an apparent National Basketball Association victory over the Los Angeles Lakers at the overtime buzzer Tuesday night.

But referees Mark Mano and Paul Mihalik disallowed the shot and instead awarded a 106-105 triumph to the Lakers.

The official ruling was that the "clock failed to start after Walker's foul shot hit the rim."

But the Chicago crowd was in no mood for technicalities. The hometown fans roared in anger while Bulls' General Manager Pat Williams had to explain the ruling over the loud speaker system.

Then, shortly after Williams made his explanation to the crowd, he announced that the club would protest the referees' decision.

"I'm confident of winning this protest," said Williams, "because we have the video tape. It will show that the referees did not signal for the clock to start and therefore the Bulls should have been awarded the victory."

"The timer told me he never got the signal and his word is good enough for me."

In the other NBA games Tuesday night, the Buffalo Rockets 95-94; the Kansas City-Omaha Kings nipped the Cleveland Cavaliers 100-99; the New York Knicks walloped the Atlanta Hawks 114-93; the Baltimore Bullets trimmed the Philadelphia 76ers 123-102 and the Milwaukee Bucks thrashed the Portland Trail Blazers 115-94.

In the Chicago-Los Angeles match, Walker had sent the game into overtime with two free throws to tie the score at 98.

In the closing seconds of the overtime period, the star forward was in a similar situation when he made his first foul point. Then came the controversial shot.

Elmore Smith scored 25 points and grabbed 22 rebounds to lead Buffalo's victory; Nate Archibald's 12-foot jumper with seven seconds left powered Kansas City-Omaha past Cleveland; Walt Frazier scored 29 points for New York; Mike Riordan had a career-high 31 points for Baltimore and Milwaukee buried Portland under a 38-9 blitz in the third period.

ABA Plans To Expand

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The American Basketball Association owners, more confident than ever in their league's survival, have taken steps to expand into two new cities next season.

ABA Commissioner Robert Carlson said the owners voted Tuesday to accept applications for the additional franchises for he said the trustees hope to expand the league into larger television market areas.

He named Los Angeles, Chicago, Philadelphia, Jersey Meadows and Honolulu as strong possibilities.

Carlson also expressed confidence in the ABA's future. "I've been connected with this league since May, 1969. I've seen ownerships go up and down and up again.

"But never have I seen more stable ownerships than at the present time, particularly in regard to the new buildings going up in Indianapolis, San Diego and Denver," he said.

The commissioner said applicants will be interviewed in February at the All-Star Game in Salt Lake City.

The issue of expansion remains connected to the proposed merger with the older National Basketball Association. A new merger committee was named, with Charles O. Finley, owner of the Memphis Tams, its chairman.

The ABA also approved a hardship draft to be held next spring, a move which owner Leonard Blood of the San Diego Conquistadores said opens the way for his team to negotiate with All-America center Bill Walton of UCLA.

By The Associated Press

James Jones' 25 points led the Utah stars to a 123-104 American Basketball Association rout of Virginia while Rich Jones pumped in 31 as the Dallas Chaparrals turned back New York 105-98.

In the only other contest, Denver beat San Diego 110-105 in overtime.

After a seesaw first quarter in which the lead changed hands nine times, Utah opened up a 14-point lead in the second period and boosted the bulge to 29 at the start of the fourth period. Zelmo Beaty added 23 points for the stars while Julius Erving topped Virginia with 24.

Dallas finished off the Nets in the first half, piling up a 68-43 spread after two periods and turning back a second-half rally. It was the fifth triumph in seven games for the Chaps, who also got 22 points from Bob Netolicky. John Roche had 25 for the Nets, who played without regulars Bill Melchioni and Billy Paultz.

Dave Robisch, a lanky lefty, scored six overtime points as Denver defeated San Diego, handing the expansion Conquistadores their eighth straight loss.

The Qs jumped to an early 17-3 lead stayed ahead until Robisch's short jump shot with 6 1/2 minutes left in regulation time tied the score at 86.

Warren Jabali of the Rockets scored with two seconds remaining to send the game into overtime.

Despite his heroics, Robisch surrendered team scoring honors to Ralph Simpson, who had 26, two more than Robisch. An Diego's stew Johnson was high for the game with 30.

UTEP Rips Wayland, 71-44

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Wayland Baptist College was easy prey for Texas El Paso Tuesday night as the Miners, paced by Gary Brewster's 18 points and Ed Lynum's 15 rebounds, humiliated the Pioneers 71-44 in college basketball action.

Wayland opened the scoring with a pair of quick field goals, then the Miners' potent man-to-man defense took over and UTEP dominated the rest of the contest, holding the Pioneers to a dismal 28.3 per cent shooting average from the floor.

Wayland's one bright spot was 65 Pat Shelby, the only Pioneer to even approach double figures as he led all scorers with 25 points — eight buckets from the floor and nine of 10 free throws.

Shelby also led Wayland's defense with six rebounds, but the boards belonged to the Miners who pegged 47 rebounds to Wayland's 23.

UTEP's balanced offense connected on 53.1 per cent of shots from the field and collected double-figure performances from four men. Besides Brewster, Gus Bailey furnished 13 points, Frank Keeton 12 and Lynum contributed 10.

The Miners now are 6-1 for the season, while Wayland fell to 3-5.

STOLZ NAMED To Position

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Dennis Stolz "is a very capable, dedicated young man" and will be a very fine coach," says Duffy Daugherty, the man Stolz is replacing after 19 years as head football coach at Michigan State University.

The MSU Board of Trustees scheduled a special meeting today to formally act on the recommendation by MSU President Clifton Wharton Jr. to name Stolz, 39, to Daugherty's former post.

Four of the five trustees contacted informally Tuesday night at MSU's Football Bust praised Stolz, who served as defensive coordinator under Daugherty the past two years.

Stolz, a Lansing native, played high school football at nearby Mason and was stand-out quarterback at Michigan's Alm College in the 1950s. He coached at two area high schools before returning to Alma as head coach in 1965.

Daugherty, whose team finished with a 5-5-1 record this season, hired Stolz from Alma.

John Garrett Sparks Purdue To Victory

By The Associated Press

When John Garrett was growing up—very far up—in Peru, Indiana, his idol was Rick Mount, who, at the time, was busy shattering Purdue University's basketball scoring records.

So it was no surprise when Garrett followed Mount to Purdue. And if the speedy Mount was the best little man ever to play for the Boiler-makers, then Garrett, who's grown up to a hefty 6-foot-11, may be the best big one.

Garrett averaged almost 27 points per game as a freshman last year and hit on an amazing 53 per cent of his field goal attempts. That's the kind of shooting that excites basketball people and Garrett kept the juices flowing Tuesday night with a virtual one-man show that moved the Boiler-makers to a 66-65 victory over Miami of Ohio.

All the young man did was score 15 of Purdue's last 24 points including the winning basket with one second left to play. That gave him 29 points on 13 of 22 shots from the field and, in case you're wondering, that 59 per cent accuracy.

Maryland's Tom McMillen was almost as hot at the start of the third-ranked Terrapins' 99-73 victory over Georgetown as Garrett was for Purdue.

McMillen scored nine of his team's first 19 points and finished with 29 for the night. He also grabbed 15 rebounds as Maryland dominated the out-manned Hoyas, who started three freshmen.

You can't knock frosh to Arizona. The Wildcats used five of them for most of the second half against San Diego State and came out with a 79-70 victory.

Steve Downing tapped a rebound of a missed free throw in for Indiana's winning basket as the 15th-ranked Hoosiers escaped with a 69-67 victory over gritty Notre Dame.

Indiana was down by as many as 13 points in the second half before launching a comeback.

"I'm just happy to go home a winner after a game like this," said Bob Knight, Indiana's coach.

Knight's old Army team came out a winner too, but

SANDS-UNION
ACKERLY — Frosty Floyd hit for 15 points to spark Sands to a 62-50 win over Union here Tuesday night. The contest was the district opener for Sands.

Floyd's 15-point performance was almost matched by Randy Cheatham, who hit for 14 points. Also in double figures for Sands were Ricky Hughes with 11 points and Danny Coldiron with 10 points.

In the girls' game, Leah Roman had 129 points to lead Sands to a 66-72 laughter over Union. The win gives Sands a 3-0 mark in district play. Also in double figures for Sands were Ann Nichols with 16 points, Connie Hughes with 15 points and Jill Hunt with 10 points.

In another contest, the Sands B-team claimed a 65-64 win over the Big Spring sophomores, Victor Rodriguez led Sands with 21 points.

Sands will meet Sterling City in the opening round of the annual Robert Lee Tournament Thursday. The girls will play at 4 p.m. and the boys will collide at 5:30 p.m.

The bidding:

1 ♠ Pass 2 ♦ Pass
2 ♥ Pass 4 ♥ Pass
Pass Pass

Opening lead: Jack of ♣ South, the declarer at four hearts, handled his assets in very loose fashion, and when he ran into adverse distribution in both major suits, his campaign collapsed.

West opened the Jack of clubs which was covered by North's queen and East won the trick with the ace. He continued the suit, South played the nine, West the ten and dummy was in with the king. Declarer cashed the king of spades, led back to the ace and played a third round, ruffing in dummy with the eight of hearts. East overrudded with the ten and returned a club, putting his partner in with the eight. West played a fourth spade trumped by North's nine of hearts and overrudded by East's Jack for the setting trick.

South was guilty of gross carelessness. When the third spade is led, a precautionary measure is in order. Instead of ruffing in dummy, it is suggested that declarer discard North's remaining club. If it should prove that the spades are divided three-three, he will have surrendered nothing by his gesture, for he can now trump his club loser in dummy — and will merely have traded trick for trick.

The advantage of discarding the club on the third spade can readily be seen in the present instance, where it serves as a safety play against an unfavorable break in spades. West is in with the Jack of spades, and his best return is a diamond. The dummy's ace is played and a trump led to the closed hand, so that South can ruff a club.

Another heart puts South in to trump a fourth round of spades in dummy. If East overruddes, it is the third and last trick for the defense. If he refuses to trump, South can ruff a diamond in his own hand and then score a 10th trick with his remaining high heart.

Views On Trinity River Work Aired

Public hearings into the $1.2-billion Trinity River canal project and its possible impact on the environment were to enter their second day today at Liberty County Courthouse, near Houston.

The first of three scheduled hearings was held here Tuesday. The last will take place Thursday at Fairfield.

Tuesday's hearing, which lasted most of the day minus a lunch break, at one time attracted a crowd of several hundred persons. Between 40 and 50 of them spoke. Many more handled in written statements.

After District Engineer Col. Floyd H. Henk, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, had given some explanation of what the Trinity project involves, the public had their say.

POLITICIANS PRESENT

Politicians, mayors, union officials, realtors, students, bird watchers, conservationists, hikers, geologists, and simple nature lovers followed each other to the microphone.

Senior citizens reminisced aloud about pleasant summer afternoons along the unspooled Trinity of old.

Junior citizens talked of canoeing joys on the same waters today. High school pupils delivered class protests and pleas.

Dr. James F. White, chairman of the Citizens' Organization for a Sound Trinity, attacked the Corps of Engineers for taking the role of advocates of the Trinity plan.

"Why should public officials plead for environmental destruction of such magnitude?" he asked. "Why should the U.S. Corps of Engineers be fronting for the financial interests on the Trinity Improvement Association and the Trinity River Authority? Is it any wonder that a current justice of the U.S. Supreme Court has called the Corps public enemy No. 1?"

Bread Essential?

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: How essential is bread in one's daily diet? Some diets advocate two slices a day. Some say refrain entirely.

Will vitamin C supply me with enough ascorbic acid to supplement my inability to tolerate raw fruits due to chronic colitis?

Recently I was told by a chiropractor that a daily supply of calcium lactate would keep me well, whether I have hay fever, sinusitis or whatever. Do you recommend calcium? — E.B.

Bread isn't "essential" in anyone's diet — provided necessary nutrition is available from one source or another.

There are millions of people in the world who never eat any bread. Take, for example, those in areas where rice is the staple food, and people live all their entire lives without ever tasting bread.

There is, in fact, NO FOOD that is "essential," because there always can be some adequate substitute for it.

At the same time, we all need certain basic nutrients — protein, enough carbohydrate for our energy needs, vitamins, traces (and in some instances considerable quantities) of various minerals, a certain amount of fat. But where we get these nutrients isn't the important question.

Bread is primarily a source of carbohydrate. Although different kinds of bread can contain varying amounts of minerals, variable amounts of protein, and much bread these days has B vitamins added.

Two to four slices a day is probably average for most folks, but this can vary, depending on what else you eat. If you are talking about "diet" in terms of reducing, a modest amount of bread usually is all right. Often it's the spread (the butter, jam or whatever) that does more damage, so far as adding weight goes.

The same is true of potatoes. Potato isn't especially fattening — but the butter, gravy, sour cream and such toppings can pile on a lot of calories.

About vitamin C. Vitamin C is ascorbic acid. If you can't tolerate fruit or juices that are rich in vitamin C, then supplemental tablets can be substituted. From 100 to 200 mg. a day should be sufficient.

Calcium? Certainly I "recommend calcium." It's one of the necessary minerals, useful in forming and keeping strong bones, in healing wounds, and a variety of other purposes.

Whether you get the calcium from a glass or two of milk a day or from many other foods that contain calcium doesn't matter. I certainly don't recommend that people take calcium in lactate or other tablet forms unless they aren't getting enough calcium in their food.

As to being a guarantee against "hay fever, sinusitis, or whatever," that's bunk.

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: By coincidence, a woman named Bonnie has a phone number similar to ours, and I keep getting calls for her. My wife works nights and I am home alone in the evening so I started having a little fun when people would call up asking for Bonnie. One night last week a guy called for Bonnie and I said she was in the shower but she'd be out in a minute. The guy on the other end of the phone said, "Well, I'm her husband and you'd better be out of that house before I get home or I'll blow your head off!" Then he hung up.

That evening on the TV news they reported a local shooting. It seemed a husband came home and found his wife with another guy so he shot him, and the guy was in critical condition. The husband admitted the shooting, and said he warned the guy on the phone to get out of his house.

Bonnie's name and address were in the evening newspaper, so I looked it up in the phone book and the number was the same as ours — only the last two numbers were reversed!

Now this has taught me a good lesson, but here's my question: Should I confess this phone bit to the authorities? STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL

DEAR CON: Whether it will make a difference to the authorities to learn that the husband thought he had given the victim fair warning is anybody's guess. But in matters that deal with the law, tell your story to a lawyer and let HIM handle it. This is no laughing matter.

DEAR ABBY: I am a singer and have been told by many that I should sing professionally, but I prefer to remain an amateur because I have family obligations, which I consider more important than a career.

Recently I was invited to sing for a local civic club. I rehearsed many hours on a well-planned program and presented it from memory perfectly. (I accompanied myself on the piano.) Afterwards, I received no gift, nor memento for my performance, nor did I receive as much as a "thank you" note from the organization. Furthermore, when the event was reported in the newspaper, my name was omitted.

Why are people and reporters so thoughtless?

DEAR NEVER: I don't know, but I'm sure your complaint is valid because I have heard it often.

DEAR ABBY: When one child in the family gets a birthday present, should the other child get a present, too? Many parents do this so the other child won't feel hurt, left out, or jealous.

It seems to me that this teaches a child to expect a present whenever someone else in the family gets one, and if he doesn't he is very disappointed.

What is your view?
FORT BENNING MOM
DEAR MOM: It's thoughtful to take a little gift to the other child, but it should be only on his special day. Each child token. Children need to learn will have his turn, and if he how to stand on the sidelines must share his "special day," while a sibling has the limelight it ceases to be "special."

Singing Cadets To Appear Here

The Big Spring A&M Club has added a second dimension to its scholarship program. The famous Singing Cadets of A&M will be in concert at the Big Spring High School Auditorium on Monday, Jan. 8 at 7:30 p.m.

The 60-voice choral group will be on tour during their mid-semester break. The Singing Cadets' 1971 travels included 33 performances on the road, two appearances on national TV, once on regional TV and was highlighted by a performance at the White House for President Nixon's monthly religious service.

Projects from the "set" will be added to the local scholarship fund heretofore supported only by the annual Spring barbecue. With the addition of this second fund-raising function, the A&M Club hopes to expand the benefits of the scholarship program.

In keeping with the club policy to give the supporters of our scholarship program their money's worth, we feel that each persons will go away from this concert thoroughly entertained and proud of the state-supported University which this group represents," said Paul Shaffer, president of the A&M Club.

The price of admission will be $1.75 per person. Tickets may be purchased from the various members of the Big Spring A&M Club, Newsom's Pragers, Texas Electric, Higginbotham-Bartlett, First National Bank or at the auditorium on the night of the concert.

No-Billed After Shooting Death
HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston police sergeant, Eddie Pavlock, was no-billed by a grand jury here Monday in the shooting death of an ex-convict Nov. 28.

Pavlock was wounded in the right shoulder in an exchange of gunfire with Nathaniel "Monkey Man" Gibbs, 33, whom police were seeking on charges of assault to murder and robbery by firearms.
