FARMER STRICKEN

Friends Pitch In To Harvest Cotton Crop

Time and cotton harvests wait for no man. And when Wylie Williams, longtime West Texas cotton farmer, had a heart attack about ten days ago in Lenorah, it was a disastrous time of year for a cotton farmer to be out of pocket.

Williams, who lived in Lomax for many years and still operates a farm there, has lived for nine years at Lenorah

A week ago, friends at Lomax heard about his misfortune just as he had got out 14 bales off a field half a mile west of the gin. They pitched in with 10 strippers and Cecil Long ran the 35 bales in ahead of all other gladly assenting customers. In about four hours the good turn had been completed. Furnishing strippers were Neel Fryar (2), J. L. McIlvain (2), Gene Perry, Richard Posey, Bob Adkins, Jimmy Miller (2) and L. G. Adkins. Erwin Bridge, Manuel Prado, T. E. Newman, H. O. Phillips, Jack Saunders and others gave a helping hand. The farmers at Lenorah decided they could spare a day to help him out. So in an old West Texas tradition, reminiscent of the days when they used to have house raisings, the farmers got together and decided to pick Williams' cotton and

On Tuesday, 20 strippers went into the field of 133 acres of cotton around the Williams home and began to get the cotton harvested.

Merle Mitchell of the Lenorah gin spearheaded the campaign which included the help of Butch Howard, Jack Kuhlman, Garth and Eddie Odom, Epley and Epley, Lester Graves, Martin Standefer, Buster Haggard, Jimmy Sawyer, M. W. Tunnell, Sammy Yates, Floyd Martin, Tommy Newman, Clarence Fryar, Glen Cox, Jimmy Robertson and

As Williams was brought home from the hospital late that evening and was riding in the family car up the road to the house, he saw his friends and neighbors and their cotton strippers spread

The farmers loaded it into trailers and took it to the Lenorah gin where by 1 a.m., Williams had 111 bales of cotton.

"There's really no way to adequately express gratitude for such an act, but thank you every one," Williams stated to friends this week. The early sharing spirit of pioneers of the west is still very much alive around Lenorah.

Hopes For Inflation Check Are Fading

WASHINGTON (AP) - Consumer prices climbed another three-tenths of one per cent in November, virtually erasing President Nixon's hope of bringing the inflation rate down to three per cent or less in 1973.

The Labor Department's announcement said two-thirds of the rise was contributed by higher prices for food, clothing and residential gas.

Beef prices rose instead of declining substantially, as they usually do. Nixon yesterday extended into 1973 the suspension of meat import quotas in hope of curbing the rise of beef on the hoof and in meat markets.

The November living cost index at 126.9 per cent of the 1967 average, was 3.5 per cent above a year ago. The actual increase in November was two-tenths of one per cent, but when adjusted for normal seasonal trends, the rise was threetenths of one per cent and matched the increase of a month earlier.

PO To Close For 2 Days

The U.S. Postal Service will operate a reduced schedule of services for the Christmas holiday period this year, Postmaster Frank Hardesty announced today.

On Saturday, Dec. 23, mail delivery and collection services will remain on their regular schedules. The main post office will be closed, but contract stations at Hemphill - Wells, Wackers, T.G.&Y. in Highland Shopping Center and North Side Variety store will be open for purchase of stamps and to receive parcels.

On Christmas Eve (Sunday), all post offices will be closed so that postal employees may enjoy the holiday with their families.

Post office lobbies will be open for mail deposit, access to lock boxes, and purchase of machines. Collection and special delivery services will provided.

On Christmas day, all offices will be closed. However, special delivery service will be

Local city officials point out that there aren't too many regulations accompanying the checks at this time, but like many federal programs, they may increase.

At the present time, one of the main rules is that cities must be able to account for the expenditure of the funds. It does not stipulate that it must be a separate bank account, but simply that they be accounted

Another stipulation at this time, is that the funds cannot be used to match federal funds. For instance, if a city has a sewage project with the federal government paying half, they can't use these federal funds to help pay the other half.

In the future, according to Big Spring's City Manager Harry Nagel, the regulations will include forms to fill out so that each governmental unit will let the U.S. Government Know in advance for what purpose they plan to spend the funds. Like all "Big Brother" type funding programs, Big Brother apparently plans to call the

Minick Stock To Be Used

FORT WORTH — Billy Minick Rodeo Company of Fort Worth has been signed to provide bucking stock, calves and steers for the riding and timed events at the 55th edition of the Fort Worth Rodeo, scheduled 26 through Feb. 4 in conjunction with the 1973 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show. "Due to the size of the cowboy entry list — over 500 - and the scope of the Fort Worth show, I have contracted with four other outstanding rodeo production firms to join with me in supplying stock for the rodeo here," said Minnick.

addition to Minick's championship stock, bucking horses and bulls will be on hand from Beutler Bros. & Cervie of Sterling, Colo.; Reg Kesler of Missoula, Mont.; Wayne Vold of DeWinton, Alberta, Canada; Harry Vold of Fowler, Colo. and Neal Gay of Mesquite, Tex. Cowboys will be contesting for over $90,000 in rodeo purse money. Phil Lyne of George West, Tex., all-around world champion cowboy for the last two years will be here. In all, Minick has lined up 110 bulls, 250 horses, 150 calves and 150 Mexico steers.

"We also have brought in 50 of the wildest range mustangs from an Indian reservation in Great Falls, Mont." for the wild horse race feature of the rodeo," said Minick. Tickets are available by mail from Solimwestern Exposition and Fat. Stock Show, P.O. Box 150, Fort Worth, Tex. 76101.

Eddie Fisher Sues Operator

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Entertainer Eddie Fisher has sued the operator of a hotel here for $2.1 million, claiming that the hostel cut short a contract for 17 weeks after three weeks of performances.

When Fidel Castro took over Cuba trolley car going to see his girl friend in January 1959, Danny Valdes remembers: "That country was crazy for someone to help the country and help the people." After so many years of bad government and dictatorship, the people welcomed Castro.

"HE JUST fooled everybody," the native of Havana recalls. Everybody, that is, except his uncle, a political editor for "El Pais," a big morning and afternoon daily there. From the first, his uncle knew Castro was a Communist, Valdes said.

His uncle opposed Castro and now has only the large brick six-bedroom house he got after working 25 years for "El Pais."

Valdes remembers eating with Castro and others one day. His two best friends next door were the sons of a close Castro ally.

Their father, Manuel Bisbe, served under Castro as Cuba's representative to the United Nations until Bisbe died about four years ago.

Now chief photographer for the Big Spring Herald, Valdes knew Castro when Castro was president of the Young Revolutionary Party.

AFT ER GRADUATING with journalism and photography degrees from the University of Havana, Valdes took pictures for "El Pais," one of several Havanna newspapers with more than 300,000 circulation. He took pictures of Castro and Fulgencio Batista at political rallies.

Earlier through his uncle, he met another famous resident of the Cuban capital, Ernest Hemingway. Hemingway used to stay day and night at the Floridita Restaurant drinking and telling stories. Politicians and socialites frequented this Benitez. Valdes remembers the boy who played opposite Spencer Tracy in 'The Old Man in the Sea." Both the book by Hemingway and movie were set in Cuba.

KID CHOCOLATE, featherweight champion of the world in the 1920s, was an old man when Valdes met him. The photographer also was acquainted with Kid Gavilan, welterweight champion of the world.

A contract with the Big Spring Broncs, first brought Valdes, a pitcher, to Big Spring in 1951. He was one of about 18 Cubans recruited through Joe Langston's connection with Joe Cambria, scout for the Washington Senators.

His brother Al. Tito Arencibia, and Gil Guerra are the only others remaining here. Some live in Florida. Camilo Pascual and Mike Fornieles made the big leagues. Carlos Pascual, Camilo's brother, struck out Ted Williams in his brief big league stay. After pitching two big league games, he returned to Cuba.

IN 1956. Valdes moved to Big Spring to photograph and perform other duties for Cosden Oil and Chemical Co. Between 1957 and 1965, he pitched for the oldest baseball team in Texas, the Big Spring Tigers.

Since 1969, he has been full-time chief photographer for The Herald. He and his wife have one daughter, Ileana, 14, and are expecting another

Reason For Bombing

WASHINGTON - Again the emphasis by the critics is on the resumption of raids by U.S. bombers over North Vietnam. But, somehow, very little is being reported about the increased amount of war supplies that have been sent to the North Vietnamese forces and the Viet Cong. Nor has there been much said about the renewal of warfare by the Communists in many parts of South Vietnam.

ONLY THE American bombing gets the headlines, and the impression is given that the United States is escalating the war. The true story probably is that the Communists have been amassing supplies for a big offensive while the talks about peace have been going on. There is no evidence that the North Vietnamese are getting ready to stop the war. On the contrary, there are signs that they have been preparing to take over more and more areas in the southern

Under these circumstances, the United States is not going to remain indifferent. Our ground troops have been reduced to a very small number - less than 27,000. The way to influence the adversary is to break up the supply lines, and this is what is being done now.

IT IS UNFORTUNATE that coincidentally the peace talks have been beclouded, and that efforts to reach affected. But the United States cannot from a military standpoint ignore the situation. For the North Vietnamese have presumably begun to prepare to make an invasion. The natural move to prevent it from taking place is to impair the routes of supply and to destroy if possible the arms and munitions that have been sent to

The American strategists had thought that the bombing of Haiphong harbor and other raids had been sufficiently effective to inhibit any big offensive. But apparently military weapons and other material have been getting to the North Vietnamese in large quantities.

UNDER SUCH circumstances, the peace talks become less likely to lead o an agreement soon. The North Vietnamese would prefer to get much more territory under their control and by another offensive to show the South Vietnamese that the United States has not burt the military power of the northern contender in the war.

SO AS THE press discusses the conference and the messages that are passing back and forth about peace, North Vietnam seems determined to keep the war going. The United States naturally is responding by a bombing campaign designed to weaken the capacity of Hanoi to carry on large-scale offensives.

In the Gospels, and throughout the New Testament, Jesus Christ appears as the goal of all Old Testament revelation.

You're asking why God should have chosen that little race of people in an obscure part of the world, as the cradle for Christ and redemption. The rationale for that will have to be left to heaven's illumination. All that happened, however, among the Jewish people prepared them and the world for the Messiah's birth. There were such ideas as a universal king, a ruler of David's house with a righteous reign, and the concept of a Sufferer (Isaiah 53) who could anew the ITT Political influence ruckus.

WASHINGTON - Sen. Edward M. Kennedy sent a shock wave through the ranks of the divided Democrats when he came out with praise for President Nixon and the pledge of full cooperation in the Congress. Did this mean that the leader whom many of the faithful see as the champ in 1976 had capitulated in the face of the landslide with only his own state of Massachusetts failing to join the parade? At the Pearson Foundation Awards lunch Averell Harriman interpreted it as meaning that Kennedy was merely setting up the target to knock it down. But it is more than that.

KENNEDY SEES as surely as perhaps anyone in his party the perilous dilemma Democrats face. He understands that the public doesn't relish the idea of the opposition coming out fighting at the opening bell when the new Congress convenes. Mere obstructionism is not going to win any prizes.

The sickness, as Kennedy sees it, goes much deeper than the tactics of Congress vs. the President; deeper than Robert Strauss vs. Jean Westwood or Strauss vs. any of the socalled compromise candidates for Democratic National Chairman. It can be put in one word: Racism.

THE MOST disturbing aspect of the campaign and the aftermath was the way in which racism won respectability of a sort. At a wide level, integration of the races had begun to be accepted. Now the current has been reversed and the evidence comes from a variety of sources.

Leonard Woodcock, head of the United Auto Workers, was dismayed to find members who openly expressed their racial antagonism. They may have been submerged George Wallaceites at the beginning of the 1968 campaign when the union went to work to bring them back into the Democratic fold. They certainly contributed to Wallace's 50 per centplus majority in the Michigan primary this year. Woodcock's impression was that they had moved beyond this to a declared hostility toward any easing of the racial

PUBLIC CONVEYANCES were integrated, so were lunch counters, theaters and other places of normal public access. But none of this touched the fundamental grievance of blacks locked in the core cities and ringed around by white suburbs. With a radical approach in housing and land use, that lock must be broken if the Democratic party is to have a chance of pulling itself together; or it should be added in a far more serious vein, if we are to be one nation indivisible. The odds against this happening are considerable. The issue of busing to integrate the schools used so insidiously by the Nixon strategists scared the life out of many liberal Democrats. A look at the lack side of the dilemma is equally dismaying. Increasingly, the militants are also separatists. They want no truck with whitey. This can mean a separate black presidential ticket in 1976.

However, holding 20 high card points and completely even distribution, there is no entirely satisfactory call and the final contract was a reasonable undertaking. West opened the four of hearts against three no trump and when the dummy was spread, declarer paused to appraise his prospects. The opening lead assured him of three heart tricks. He had four top diamonds and in order to bring the total up to nine, it would be necessary to dislodge the ace of clubs.

There was a risk involved, however, in surrendering the lead. If West has the ace of clubs, a spade shift thru dummy's king may submerge the contract before South can regain control. In order to improve his chances, declarer decided to resort to a little subterfuge to throw the enemy off the track.

heart beats by contraction of

The ten of hearts was played from dummy at trick one, however, when East followed with the deuce, South put on the king from his hand. His strategem was to give West the impression that has held the lone aceking of hearts, and that the play of the ten from dummy was made to induce East to cover if he had the queen.

At trick two the king of clubs was led and West played the ace. It appeared that another heart lead would dislodge the ace and establish the entire suit for West. He accordingly returned the three of hearts. To his astonishment, South won the trick with the nine and the latter proceeded to run for cover with 10 tricks.

If declarer had permitted North's ten of hearts to win the first trick, West would have been alerted to the futility of continuing the attack in that suit when he regained the lead with the ace of clubs, A spade shift would then become obvious and the defense cashes five tricks in spades to send South down to a two trick defeat.

It is a community tradition to welcome the jolly old gentleman just before the Christmas school holidays. Stanton schools let out today. This is really a special event in Stanton. Santa on the fire truck is accompanied by an antique car parade. Don Tollison, Jack Ireton, Bill Cogens and Kenneth Holcombe all have an antique car and they usually manage to roust out some of their antique gar friends in other cities for the annual event. Following Santa's arrival, he takes a seat of honor in the chamber office in the main section of town and Stanton children from the fourth grade down line up to go in and talk to Santa. There they are presented a sack full of candy, nuts and fruit. The Jaycees helped fill about 400 sacks to help out Santa.

Following this the Booster Club sponsored a Pancake Supper and bingo for the entire

Also, the lighting winners were presented prizes last night including six winners: Kenneth Holcombe, Jimmy Barnhill, Dewey Anderson, Vernon Cox, Billy Morrow and Roy Koonce. A community Christmas is not something new to Stanton. The history of Martin County tells of community Christmas trees in the early years, which were usually held in one of the churches. One old-timer recalls that families used to bring one toy for each child to the Community Tree on Christmas Eve and actually place the toy on the tree. Santa Claus would then take the toys off the tree one

A Merry Christmas O. T. BREWSTER, Innkeeper

HOUSTON (AP) - Police Chief Herman Short says he might be a candidate for mayor of Houston next year but he is not enthusiastic about running for the office.

Short, who has been police chief for eight years, commented Thursday after a visit by W. L. Mathew, head of the "Draft Short for Mayor Committee," a group described as 600 interested volun-"about teers.' "I'm pleased by anyone's interest in me, but I haven't thought much about the mayor's race," Short said. "I have not made any decision, but no, I'm not enthused about it."

The draft movement was formed after Mayor Louie Welch announced he would not seek another term.
