PAIR ARRESTED Deputy Slain In Gun Battle

SAYRE, Okla. (AP) — A Wheeler County, Tex., deputy sheriff was shot and killed near Shamrock, Tex., Sunday night and two young men were arrested today in connection with the shooting.

The Oklahoma Highway Patrol gave this account: Two men got gas at a service station in Shamrock just before midnight Sunday and left without paying.

Deputy Sheriff Carol Copeland, 35, gave chase and stopped the two men about 10 miles east of Shamrock on U.S. 66. When he approached the car the driver opened fire.

Copeland was shot once in the arm and once in the head. Copeland managed to return the fire and radio for help before he died. He wounded the driver in the leg, hip and arm.

Roadblocks were set up in Oklahoma. The car containing the men apparently had taken a dead end road near Interstate 40 and was returning to U.S. 66 when it was stopped by a roadblock.

Troopers Ed Thompson and Billy Ray Thompson said the men were driving without lights when they saw the roadblock.

The lights were then turned on and the car stopped a short distance from the roadblock where the passenger took off on foot and escaped.

The 17-year-old driver was apprehended without incident and taken to the Beckham County jail here.

Several law enforcement units converged on the area. At 2 a.m. today the searchers arrested a man, 20, and also placed him in the county jail.

Social Security Benefits, Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new Social Security law increasing benefits — and also taxes — became effective today.

The measure, signed by President Nixon Oct. 13, raises the amount of wages subject to Social Security taxes from $9,000 to $10,800 and increases the amount of tax from 5.2 per cent to 5.85 per cent.

The maximum Social Security tax under the old law was $468, but under the new one the maximum tax is $631.80.

The new law has numerous new benefits, including a provision that will allow widows to receive 100 per cent of what their husbands would have gotten instead of 82½ per cent.

The new law will also let persons who have reached retirement age earn $2,100 a year without loss of benefits instead of the previous $1,680. Above $2,100, they will lose $1 for each $2 of earnings.

The new law allows men to receive the same retirement benefits as women. Under the old law, a woman with an earning record identical to a man's got $10 more a month if both were entitled to maximum payment.

The new law also requires that all Americans receive Social Security numbers when they enter school, reduces their waiting period for disability payments from six to five months and allows a college student to continue receiving survivor benefits at age 22 until he completes a semester.

It also increases the annual deductible for Part B of Medicare, which chiefly covers physicians' charges, from $50 to $60.

False Ceiling Fold Hurts 60

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — An estimated 60 to 70 persons were injured when a section of a false ceiling collapsed at a downtown ballroom packed with some 500 persons welcoming in the New Year, police said.

A spokesman at Memorial Hospital said one person had been admitted for treatment of head injuries and was listed in "fairly serious condition."

Vandals Inflict Damages Of $2,000 With BB Shots

A group of Big Spring youths could end up with an expensive holiday season, as the result of a rash of vandalism with BB guns over the weekend.

Police have several leads on the youths who inflicted over a $2,000 worth of damage on the shooting spree.

Among the damage reported Saturday morning were A. D. Heirman, 1701 S. Monticello, two door windows and a rear glass for an estimated $100 worth of damage to his car; George Archer at 2500 Carol, two windows hit and two BB shots in the body of the car for $85 worth of damage; Grady Hodnett, 611 Scurry, left rear door and rear windows of his vehicle for $130 in damage.

Others include James Weaver of 713 Washington, the rear

SAN JUAN, P. R. (AP) — A cargo plane carrying Pittsburgh Pirates' star outfielder Roberto Clemente and four others on a relief flight to Nicaragua crashed into the Atlantic Sunday night shortly after taking off, the U.S. Coast Guard said.

A Coast Guard spokesman said today rescue units "have found a suitcase, a hatch cover, metal pieces, a wheel and life jackets" but no survivors.

Lt. John L. Parker said the search for survivors would continue "all day."

Amadee Chardon of the communications department at San Juan International Airport said the four-engine DC7 went down at 9:22 p.m. and that it was loaded with food and relief supplies for survivors of the Managua earthquake.

RESCUE UNITS

Clemente, 38, was named on Christmas Eve to head Puerto Rico's earthquake relief effort. The plane went down about 1½ miles north of the airport, within sight of some of San Juan's luxury resort hotels.

Sources at the airport said it plunged into the ocean as it made a sharp left bank while climbing after takeoff. They said the plane was owned by Arthur Rivera, a private air cargo operator.

A Puerto Rico Ports Authority official said besides Clemente occupants of the propeller-driven plane were pilot Jerry Geisel, copilot and owner Rivera, flight engineer Rafael window shot out on a new pickup; Marvin Sewell, 407 Washington, two left glass and rear window of 1972 car for estimated $200 in damage.

Hunting Mishap

HALLETSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Onecimo Ruiz Jr., 14, of Houston was shot to death in a hunting accident here Sunday, a Lavaca County Sheriff's Department spokesman said.

Also Delbert Burchett, 2101 Morrison, one window on the right side and one in the body of a pickup, $25 damage; James Grimsley Jr., 1203 Barnes, one window on the left door of a vehicle, $25; Cecil Riordan, 1103 Barnes, left front glass of vehicle, $15; Elizabeth Jackson, 200 Eleventh Place, right front door, $25; 7-11 Store, 1701 Marcy, west door window and door, $200.

Also, the 7-11 Store at 11th and Settles, door glass, $100; W. P. Wright, 2505 Rebecca, rear window and two on left side, $75; David Proffitt, 2612 Ann, left front door and rear Macias, and another passenger identified only as Lozano.

As rescue units searched for survivors, Clemente's wife, Vera Christina, and his father, Melchor, watched from a nearby beach. Rescue efforts were hampered by six-foot waves.

Clemente completed his 18th season with the Pirates in 1972. Last season, he became the 11th man in baseball history to reach 3,000 hits for a baseball career.

MOST VALUABLE

Clemente had compiled a lifetime batting average of over .300. He won four National League batting titles and hit over 300 13 times.

Last season, he batted .312 in 102 games.

In 1971, he batted .414 in the World Series against the Baltimore Orioles and was named the outstanding performer in the series, won by the Pirates.

He won the National League's Most Valuable Player award in 1966 and was selected to the league's all-star team 12 times.

He was born Aug. 18, 1934, in Puerto Rico. It was on Nov. 22, 1954, that the Pittsburgh Pirates paid $4,000 to draft the young, obscure Puerto Rican from the Montreal farm team of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Clemente collected his 3,000th hit Sept. 30 when he lashed a double in the fourth inning in a game against the New York Mets. The crowd of 13,117 at Three Rivers Stadium in Pittsburgh gave him a standing ovation, and the game was stopped while he was awarded the baseball from that hit.

REALLY SHY

Only two other active players, Hank Aaron of the Atlanta Braves and Willie Mays of the Mets have attained the 3,000-hit circle.

Later, the right-handed batter said, "I was just glad to get the hit, period. I give this hit to the fans of Pittsburgh and to the people of Puerto Rico."

He said he had been embarrassed by the standing ovation. "I feel bashful when I get a big ovation. I am really shy, and so is my family. I never was a big shot, and I never will be a big shot."

Extra Copilot May Be Last Living Link To Crash Cause

MIAMI (AP) — An extra copilot may be the last living link to what happened in the cockpit of an Eastern Air Lines jumbo jet moments before it crashed in the murky Everglades, killing at least 97 persons.

Federal officials say First Officer Warren Terry, 38, who was not a regular crewman on Flight 401 but was listed on the passenger list as an observer, may have been in the cockpit when the plane crash-landed in the swamp 17 miles northwest of Miami Friday night.

Terry, who joined Eastern Aug. 29, 1966, was listed in "poor condition" early today at Palmetto Hospital in Miami.

His injuries were not disclosed, but officials said he was unable to talk.

"If he was in the cabin, he is the last living link to what happened there," said Ed Slattery, a National Transportation Safety Board official.

Terry was believed to be riding in the "jump seat" located behind the pilot seats on the flight deck of the Lockheed 1011. Slattery said NTSB investigators had not been able to establish where he was when the plane crashed, however.

Eastern spokesmen couldn't immediately say why Terry was on the plane, and federal officials said they didn't know either.

Meanwhile, Eastern Air Lines tentatively announced 97 of the 178 passengers and crewmen aboard were killed and 80 others survived.

One person was unaccounted for, an Eastern spokesman said. He said last-minute ticket changes made it difficult to determine who was on the plane when it left New York for Miami.

John H. Reed, chairman of the NTSB, said tapes of the conversations among crewmembers before the plane went down indicated there was no awareness of danger before impact.

"There is no evidence in what I have found on this tape or any other tape that an emergency situation existed," Reed said.

Officers Are Given Oaths

Brief ceremonies New Year's morning at the commissioners courtroom saw county and city officials sworn in for the coming year.

Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, acted as the official officer to administer the oaths to Robert H. Moore III, new district attorney, Justice of the Peace Walter Grice, Zerah L. Bednar, tax collector, W. H. Eysen Jr., county attorney and Sheriff A.N. Standard. Simon Terrazas was sworn in separately as required by law for county commissioners.

Also present at the ceremony was Acting County Judge Wayne Burns and several other special guests.

Judge A. G. Mitchell was contacted by telephone shortly before the ceremony in his hospital bed in Houston. He underwent recent surgery. He told county officials that he hopes to be back home in a few weeks.

HAPPY NEW YEAR — Big Spring's New Year's Baby is Amanda Ybarra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jose Ybarra, 1411 Mesa. The 7 pound, 1 oz. girl was born at Medical-Arts Clinic at 12:40 a.m. Jan. 1, barely arriving after the New Year.

Being Mayor Involves Too Much Politicking

COTATI, Calif. (AP) — Annette Lombardi, one of three radical candidates who won election to the city council last April, says she is resigning as mayor of this small college town.

"Being mayor involves too much socializing and politicking," she said during the weekend. She has three months left of a one-year term.

Miss Lombardi, 25, Geoffrey Dunham, 29, and Stephen Laughlin, 25, won three of five council seats running as a "radical" slate, and Miss Lombardi was elected mayor. All three were former students at Sonoma State College.

"Stopping the destruction of the environment here isn't what I'd call radical," said Miss Lombardi. "But the developers think it's pretty radical. I guess. And I'm under 30, too. That's pretty radical."

Miss Lombardi said she will submit her resignation at Thursday's council meeting, and she is expected to place Dunham's name in nomination as her replacement. She said she plans to stay on the council but will not seek re-election.

"I have a desire to do a lot more traveling," said Miss Lombardi, who was in Rome when she learned of her council victory. "I want to get that out of my system first."

Freezing Rain

Predicted for tonight in this area are freezing rain and light snow. Reported 40 per cent chance of precipitation this afternoon and 50 per cent tonight and Tuesday. Weather to be in upper 20's tonight and mid-30's for a high temperature on Tuesday.

SWEARING IN — New local officers were sworn in officially at New Year's Day ceremonies at 10 a.m. Monday at the courthouse. Included were, from left, Sheriff A. N. Standard, Tax Assessor-Collector Zerah Bednar, Justice of Peace Walter Grice, District Attorney Robert H. Moore III. Moore is the only new officer in the group.

MISSION HELPFULNESS—This is the team at the out-patient clinic at the Big Spring State Hospital, where increasing emphasis is in helping people before they have emotional cracks. Standing, at left, is Dr. Ron Cohorn, executive director,

Out-Patient Clinic Helps Head Off Mental Trouble

You no longer have to suffer mental or emotional shipwreck before help comes.

The out-patient clinic at Big Spring State Hospital, once the link between the hospital and discharged and furloughed patients, is increasingly helping people prevent emotional cracks. Its help is as near as your telephone or a trip to the hospital campus.

One contributing factor to the increasing patronage of the clinic — which is open to everyone, regardless of income level — is an increasing frankness which the public seems to be applying to drug addiction, alcoholism and emotional disorders. The superstition that those with emotional problems have been possessed by the devil or are somehow incurable is disappearing.

HEADING IT OFF

To dispel this foolish notion, the out-patient clinic has been working since September 1968 to help people who are getting well — and now — more importantly, to help people before they get emotionally sick.

There has been no increase in the function of seeking to keep the former patients from returning to the hospital, according to Ron Cohorn, Ph.D., executive director since August 1972. However, a new one is emerging.

"At this point we are dealing increasingly with the people from the community who have never been in the hospital," he reported.

"We are operating from the view that people with problems can be helped long before they need hospitalization or long and continuous psychiatric treatment," Dr. Cohorn said, M.D., said. As chief of psychiatry at Big Spring State Hospital he is responsible for the hospital's psychiatric program, but also has an active part in the out-patient clinic's services, conducting progress clinics and providing psychiatric care and consultation.

EASY TO GET HELP

"We try to make it easy for people to get service in the clinic," Dr. Cohorn said in describing the clinic's no-waiting-list intake method.

A professional staff member is assigned to taking in people each week. This intake worker handles incoming calls from persons seeking counseling. He answers questions about clinic services and will set up an appointment for the caller the same day or at the earliest possible time. The intake worker handles calls concerning follow-up care for hospital patients being released, also former outpatients seeking additional counseling.

At the initial visit the intake worker conducts an informal interview, and later summarizes his impressions at the weekly clinical staff meeting. The staff formulated a diagnostic statement and a plan and goals for the patient's care, and a work with the patient.

Dr. Sheldon described the ultimate goal for each patient as "helping him achieve the greatest productivity with the minimum amount of discomfort. The staff is anxious to intervene in the person's crisis while the problem is occurring, because this is the time when the individual is most amenable to change and the point where treatment is most beneficial."

"We offer all psychiatric services," Dr. Cohorn said, "including individual, group, and family therapy, child psychiatry, psychological testing, psychiatric evaluations and electroencephalograms (brain wave tracings)."

Specialized groups for alcoholics and depressed patients have been formed so the patients can share their experiences with each other that they may solve their common problem. In an effort to make services available to everyone, the clinic sets charges for visits proportionately to the patient's economic circumstances.

Dr. Cohorn farmed his grandfather's cotton fields at Lamesa to raise tuition for his education at Texas Tech. He completed his in-service training for his master's degree at Big Spring State Hospital in 1968, staying on as a staff psychologist. In 1969 he worked in Lamesa schools while working on his doctorate, and did his internship in Houston. Dr. Cohorn has done research in several areas, including organic brain damage and suicide, and is currently co-authoring a section of a book on alcoholism. He has an affinity for country-western music.

THE PSYCHIATRIST

The schoolboy's rhyme goes "doctor, lawyer, Indian chief." Ice cream store manager, salesman, bank teller, deputy sheriff, Air Force sergeant, staff member is designated to medical doctor, frustrated lawyer and psychiatrist have all been applied to Dr. Robert Sheldon.

A native Texan, Dr. Sheldon received his medical degree from the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School in 1964. After five years of general practice in Beaumont, he did his residency in psychiatry at Baylor University, Houston. He has been chief of the Alcoholism Section of the Texas Research Institute of Mental Sciences in Houston and director of the Waco Mental Health-Retardation Center. He was chief of psychiatry and neurology for the Texas Department of Corrections before joining the staff here.

Officer Assaulted In Making Call

Patrolman J. D. Carter of the city police, was hospitalized early Sunday morning and treated for a severe cut over the right eye and other cuts and bruises while investigating a disturbance call.

Joe A. Torres was jailed and transferred this morning to the county jail. Justice of the Peace Gus Ochotrina set bond at $1,000 on a complaint charging aggravated assault on a police officer.

A neighbor called about a disturbance at a residence in the 1000 block of N. Gregg at 1:15 a.m. Two officers, including Carter, were sent to the scene, then called for three more officers at 1:22 a.m. when the arrest was made.

In other law action over a busy New Year's Eve weekend, Joe Dutchover Perez was jailed early Sunday and charged with statutory rape. His bond was set by Ochotrina at $1,500, plus $500 bond on a drunk charge. Two sisters, ages 16 and 13, were held in protective custody with the 16-year-old also charged as drunk.

Domingo Cantu of Coahoma was put under $500 bond for fleeing a highway patrolman. Bond was set by Ochotrina.

Three white males were seen by officers trying to go through the window of a home here where the resident is on vacation. They escaped arrest.

Bill McDonald reported a burglary at the Foxx where coin-operated machines on cigarette machines, pool tables and a cash register were broken open. An undetermined amount of cash was missing, plus two cases of Schlitz beer.

A new pickup was stolen from in front of Betty Lou's. Keys had been left in the vehicle, said police.

Frank Ramero, who officers said made a wild ride south on Gregg Saturday around 8:15 p.m. with his lights off and traveling on the wrong side of the highway just north of the overpass, was caught at 800 Gregg by the police. He was charged with driving while intoxicated. A passenger was held on drunk charges.

The car, traveling at high speed, caused a whole row of highway traffic to leave the road to the right around 8:10 p.m.

A resident at 210 Lockhart reported that he kept his Honda motorcycle in the house, but somebody broke in and damaged the vehicle anyhow.

DEATHS

Sudie Gibson

Mrs. Sudie H. Gibson, 91, mother of Anne Gibson Houser, died in a hospital here at 6:05 a.m. Monday. She had entered the hospital Sunday.

For more than a quarter of a century she had taught music here until her retirement in 1962, and prior to that had devoted four-score years to teaching in colleges.

Services will be at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home, with interment in Trinity Memorial Park.

Mrs. Gibson, who made a singular contribution to the city's cultural life, was born Nov. 1, 1881 in Edwards, Miss., and was married to Charles T. Gibson in 1903. He died in 1919.

In 1934, Mrs. Gibson came from Clinton, Ky., to Big Spring where her daughters resided and set up her studio. Prior to that she had graduated from Hillman College in Clinton, Miss., and then taught at Clinton (Ky.) College and Jonesboro (Ark.) and at her alma mater in Hillman College.

She was a member here of the First Baptist Church and of the Laura B. Hart chapter of the Order of Eastern Star.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Anne Gibson Houser, Big Spring, and Mrs. B. R. Keller, Bellaire; five grandchildren, 16 great-grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Anna Ritter, Darlington, S.C.

Larry Baldock

Funeral for Larry Baldock, 19, will be 2 p.m. Tuesday in the Birdwell Street Baptist Church, followed by burial in Trinity Memorial Park.

He was found dead 8:30 a.m. Sunday in the J. C. Edens residence on Williams off North Birdwell Lane where he had attended a social gathering the night before. Justice of Peace Walter Grice ruled that death was due to an over-dose of Darvon, adding that a partially empty bottle was found beside his bed.

Services will be conducted by the Rev. E. G. Newcomer and the Rev. Bob Lee.

Larry was born March 30, 1953 in Coleman and came to Big Spring with his parents two years later. He attended school here before joining the Army in 1969 and completing his high school work while in service prior to discharge in 1971.

Surviving him are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl F. Baldock, Old State Highway; two brothers, Louis Daniel Baldock, Camp Hood, and Ronnie Earl Baldock, Big Spring; five sisters, Mrs. Bettie Louise Adkins, Shirley Darlene

William Dehlinger

Services will be held at 11 a.m. Tuesday in the River-Welch Funeral Home chapel for William (Bill) Dehlinger Sr., 76, retired T&P employe. He had come here as a young man to work in the railroad shops.

The Rev. Elra Phillips and the Rev. J. B. Sharp, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, will officiate, with burial in Mount Olive Cemetery.

Born Jan. 4, 1896, in El Paso, he married Clara May Barker Aug. 2, 1916, in Big Spring. She died Oct. 30, 1965.

Mr. Dehlinger had lived in Big Spring the past 58 years. He retired from T&P Railway in 1958 as a boiler inspector.

He was a member of the First United Methodist Church and the Men's Bible Club. He was also a member of the AF&AM Masonic Lodge of El Paso.

Survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Jimmy Lewis of Monahan; a sister, Mrs. E. E. Kienle of El Paso; three grandchildren; three great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Hesta L. Hall

COLORADO CITY — Mrs. Hesta Louise Hall, 85, of Colorado City, died at 12:05 p.m. Sunday in the Claxton Lodge after a long illness. Funeral will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday in the First Methodist Church in Lubbock.

Burial will be in Lubbock City Cemetery under direction of Kiker-Rains-Seale Funeral Home.

Born Oct. 15, 1887, in Jonesboro, she married Harry L. Hall July 21, 1907, in Robert Lee. He died in 1959.

Survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Harold Blank of Lubbock; a sister, Miss Cydne Stuckney of Colorado City; a brother, Alvin Stuckney of Midland; three grandchildren; three great-grandchildren.

Mack A. Rainey

Last rites will be said Tuesday 10 a.m. at the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel for M. A. (Mack) Rainey, 92, long-time resident of Howard County.

Officiating will be the Rev. Eldon Cook, assisted by the Rev. Dale Cain, Mr. Rainey's pastor at East Fourth Baptist Church. Burial will be in Mount Olive Cemetery. He married Emma Minchew July 20, 1900, and they were, so far as is known, the senior married couple here. The family moved to Coahoma in 1923 where he farmed, and later to Big Spring where he worked for the bombardier school and then to Big Spring schools.

Surviving are his wife, three sons, a daughter, and 14 grandchildren, 25 great-grandchildren and six great-great-grandchildren.

M. Hernandez

COLORADO CITY — Manuel G. Hernandez, 68, retired railroad worker of Colorado City, died at 4:45 p.m. Saturday in the Root Valley Fair Lodge in Colorado City. Funeral was to be at 1 p.m. Monday at St. Ann's Catholic Church with the Rev. Joseph Kennelly officiating. Burial was to be in Mitchell County Cemetery under direction of Kiker-Rains-Seale Funeral Home.

Born April 18, 1904 in Kinney County, Mr. Hernandez lived in Colorado City for several years.

Survivors are his wife, a son, Sevastian Hernandez of Abilene; seven grandchildren.

Britain Joins Common Mart, Poll Mixed

LONDON (AP) — Britain surrendered a thousand years of economic independence to join Europe's Common Market today, but there were signs many in the island nation and on the mainland viewed it as just another historic milestone.

A survey showed British public opinion divided over the prospect of lost sovereignty and higher prices. The poll found 39 per cent opposed the move, 38 per cent liked it and 23 per cent had no opinion.

Not everyone on the continent marched to the tune of "Zukunftsmusik," German for "Music of the Future."

"The competition will be fierce and perhaps not very pleasant at first, but it's bound to be good for this country in the end," said George Dowling, 58, a North London businessman.

WORRIED
"Lots of people I know are worried that Britain is going to be bossed from Brussels," said Robert Wheatley, 22, a bank clerk from a London suburb. "That's probably not true, but many of my friends don't like even the possibility."

Some centralized bossing is inevitable. All the Common Market countries—Britain, Ireland and Denmark, the new members, and France, West Germany, Italy, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg, the original six—have given up some of their independence.

TAX COLLECTOR
The basic arrangement is that of a customs union. All members let in each other's goods without duty and charge the same import taxes on goods from outside the nine nations.

But Western Europe's cost of living soars faster than that of the United States, and there are complicating factors in the new accord.

In Denmark, Copenhagen restaurants sold bottles of New Year's champagne at two rates: as much as $22 before midnight and as little as $12 afterwards since taxes on champagne dropped from $6 to $1. However, tax collectors are likely to point out that both bottles sold in Copenhagen at New Year's had to be imported in 1972. They will want to collect from the restaurants at the old rate.

BUBBLY BUFFS
Bubbly buffs in Britain and Ireland got no such favors.

Food will cost more in Britain after Feb. 1 because Common Market prices for farm products are well above world levels. Meat, grain, sugar and dairy products will cost more. But Britons could get some fruits and vegetables cheaper under the continental system.

The new arrangements add irritation to relations between Western Europe and the United States. U.S. farmers long have attacked the old Common Market for keeping down imports of American products. Now Britain must adopt these measures too.

But higher farm prices are good news in Ireland and Denmark, where farmers make up a large proportion of the eight million population. Only about four per cent of the 55 million Britons still are down on the farm.

Manufacturing tariffs go down April 1, but the cuts are spread over five years, so the first ones will amount to only two or three per cent on most products.

The present rate of inflation in Britain could boost prices by that much between now and April.

Besides, importers tend to take a tariff reduction as an additional profit rather than pass it to their customers.

In Italy, a value-added tax goes into effect today amid fears it will bring higher prices as it has in other Common Market countries. Britain starts later in the year.

JOINT ATTACK
The West Germans and French have been talking about the advantages of a joint attack on inflation, but what they expect to accomplish is unclear.

In the matters of daily international life, the Common Market has not brought much change to anyone but a comparatively small number of farmers and businessmen. Tariffs are abolished, but taxes still are charged on small shipments from one member country to another.

There are more customs posts on the borders than ever. The nine member countries have agreed citizens from any member ought to be free to settle in any other, but there is a lot of fine print attached to this.

Immigrants to Britain, even if they are British subjects, will have to live in the country five years before they can exercise that right on the continent. This will apply to Asians from Uganda.

Auto Accidents, Gunfire Take No Holiday In Texas

Deaths from traffic accidents and gunfire took no holiday in Texas during the New Year's weekend. As the period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday entered the closing stretch, the toll stood at 40 fatalities, including 30 on streets and highways and 10 homicides.

WILD CHASE
One of the latest victims was Deputy Sheriff Carroll Copeland, 36, of Shamrock in the Texas Panhandle. Other officers said Copeland caught two men who failed to pay for gasoline and, after a high speed chase, was shot in the head. They arrested two young men who fled across the state line into Oklahoma and said one of them was wounded three times before he fell.

Robert Coleman, 8, of Beaumont was struck and killed by an automobile Sunday about three miles north of Beaumont on the old Silsbee highway.

Police reported Marcus Artega, 30, of Brownwood died Sunday night as his car, moving at high speed, hit another vehicle parked on a city street.

William H. Palmer, 28, of Oklahoma City and his daughter Tia Michele, 3, were killed in a three-car pileup Sunday northwest of Houston on Interstate 45. Officers said one of two autos on the opposite side forced the other across the median strip into Palmer's lane.

Alfred A. Svonek, 46, of Austin died Sunday as he was struck by a car three miles west of Bastrop on Texas 71.

A two-car crash at the intersection of an Interstate 45 feeder road and a Houston street claimed the lives of Mattie Belle Pettey, 77, and Cates Ford Pettey, 56, both of Houston.

DOUBLE SHOT
A rifle discharged Sunday while Onecimo Ruiz Jr., 14, of Houston was hunting near Hallettsville and killed him. His father told officers the weapon went off accidentally while the youth was checking it.

Police said Terry Lee McMiller, 22, was shot and killed Sunday night when, after he refused to help another man start a car, a girl fired at him and, as relatives were starting to a hospital with him, her male companion ran to McMiller's car and also shot him.

Robert Lee Houston, 80, of Bartonville was killed early Sunday in a one-car accident on Farm Road 407 in Denton County.

FATAL FLIP
Apollinar M. Fiero and his 2-year-old daughter, Deborah, were killed in El Paso late Saturday night when their car was involved in a roadside collision at an El Paso intersection.

Tomas Gutierrez, 21, of Dallas was killed early Sunday when his car left Farm Road 837 and overturned. The accident occurred five miles west of Frankston in Anderson County.

Robert Louis Person, 22, of Houston was killed when his car hit a curb and overturned early Sunday. The accident occurred on a Houston street.

Lawrence C. Baugh, 62, of South Amana, Iowa, was killed Saturday night as his car and a truck collided in the Texas Panhandle east of Shamrock on U.S. 66. He had been working for a construction firm on a pipeline project near Shamrock.

Terry Glenn Harrison, 15, of New Caney died Saturday in Montgomery County Hospital in Cleveland of gunshot wounds. Officers said the accidental shooting occurred Saturday at the Harrison home.

Carrie Miller, 78, was killed at Glidden in Southeast Texas Saturday night when he was struck by a car on U.S. 90.

Ruby Jean Gignou, 16, of Borger was killed Saturday night in a two-car collision on Texas 176. The accident occurred about two miles west of Borger.

Hungary's MTI news agency said Jecfoat was a lieutenant, however, and said he was from Mississippi. It gave Conlee's home state as Illinois. Other prisoners named were Lt. Paul Louis Granger and Lt. Col. John Harry Yuill, both B52 pilots. Their hometowns were not given.

The Saigon command reported more than a score of violations at the halfway mark of the New Year cease-fires. The command said five government soldiers were killed, five missing and 36 wounded. Two civilians also were reported wounded. North Vietnamese and Viet Cong losses were put at six killed.

FRONT LINE FLUTIST—A South Vietnamese soldier tries his hand at some holiday tunes as he does guard duty in sandbagged outpost near Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airbase. He sits behind barbed wire and wire mesh, used as protection against grenades in case of terrorist attack.

United States Broadens Halt In Bombing Viet

SAIGON (AP) — The United States broadened on Monday its halt in the bombing of the Hanoi-Haiphong heartland to include all of North Vietnam.

U.S. officials indicated that the bombing cessation from the 20th parallel 200 miles southward to the demilitarized zone is one of short duration in connection with a 24-hour South Vietnamese cease-fire for the new year that ends at dusk Monday. A unilateral 24-hour Viet Cong cease-fire ended just after noon.

The U.S. bombing halt above the 20th parallel, which includes Hanoi and Haiphong, is in effect indefinitely, tied to a resumption of "secret peace talks in Paris scheduled Jan. 8 heavily."

Peking's official Hsinhua news agency reported early Monday a series of statements attributed to captured American pilots. The statements deplored the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam.

One F4 pilot, identified as Maj. Carl Herbert Jecfoat, was quoted as saying U.S. leaders "must take all measures to put an immediate end to the war" in Vietnam.

Another, Lt. Col. William Walter Conlee, was quoted as saying: "We observed a row of shops and living quarters which have been bombed and also a hospital which has been badly damaged, and we observed a school that has been bombed and six killed."

Young Man, Woman Irish Gun Victims

BELFAST (AP) — The curtain fell today on the bloodiest year in Northern Ireland history; and, in the Irish Republic to the south, the new year began with shooting deaths of a young man and woman two miles from the border.

Irish police said they found the shooting victims after a farmer reported hearing shots about 2 a.m. outside his home near the Donegal village of Burnfoot.

The killings came only three days after a rash of bombings on the Irish side of the border killed two persons and wounded 15.

In Northern Ireland today, there was a flurry of shooting and bombing, and the outlawed Irish Republican Army vowed worse violence in the months ahead.

The last day of 1972 claimed the last death of the year. A 56-year-old Catholic baker, Hugh Martin, was found shot dead in his car Sunday morning in Belfast.

As bells chimed out the old year in the battered British province, gunfire broke out in the Ardovne and New Lodge Roman Catholic districts of Belfast. One man was shot and seriously wounded.

A bomb wrecked a garage at Newton Butler, County Fermanagh, and three gasoline bombs were thrown through the window of a Catholic home in Bangor, County Down. There were no serious casualties.

Four people were wounded in Belfast late Sunday night when gunmen ambushed a bus carrying Catholics and sprayed it with bullets.

Just before midnight Sunday, army and police headquarters reported that 469 people had been slain in 1972, bringing the death toll since the present troubles began in 1969 to 680. That is 14 more than were killed in the Irish civil war of 1922.

The figures underscored the escalation of the violence since it began in civil-rights protests by the minority Catholics and grew into full-scale guerrilla war waged mainly by the Irish Republican Army.

In 1971, only 173 lives were lost, compared with 25 in 1970 and 13 in 1969.

ASIANS ARE AMONG HARDEST HIT

Foreign Firms Forced To 'Africanize'

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — The battle cry of "Africa for the Africans" will be heard anew in 1973. Political independence was achieved in much of the continent more than a decade ago, but leaders of many countries have convinced themselves that there's still too much foreign influence. Some are cracking down on aliens, particularly those with important stakes in business and industry. Asians are among the hardest hit. Few sanctuaries are left for them in Africa. Foreign companies are being forced to "Africanize" their operations through laws and direct pressure. Uganda has seized the property of most noncitizens with the intention of making local blacks the masters of their economic destiny. Now Uganda faces a bleak year. Foreign reserves are dwindling fast and the once-promising tourist industry is in ruins. The nation is bereft of professional expertise and managerial skills following the exodus of thousands of Asians and whites.

The initial euphoria generated by expelling outsiders is fading. Ugandans can be expected to look to president Idi Amin to deliver on his promises. Kenya's president, Jomo Kenyatta, has told his countrymen that 1973, the nation's tenth year of independence, will be marked by an all-African economy. The Trade Licensing Act increasingly is being used to bar noncitizens from local commerce. Kenya is expected to order an election early in the year, in part at least to remove some of the deadweight accumulated in his ruling Kanu party. Kenyatta himself remains as popular as ever and shows no sign of stepping down. President Gaffar el Numeiry says the revolution in Sudan "will force ahead to achieve its objectives." CIVIL WAR The Sudan, still recovering from a 16-year civil war, is struggling to settle hundreds of thousands of refugees filtering back home from neighboring states. Somalia is pushing a policy of "scientific socialism" which has yielded some promising if modest results. Communal projects and modern farms have been launched in once arid areas. A Texas concern's discovery of oil and natural gas in northeastern Ethiopia may revitalize the ancient kingdom. Land-reform measures designed to accelerate agricultural development are continuing. Unrest in Ethiopia's northern province of Eritrea could develop into another of Africa's Moslem-Christian, Arab-African, radical-conservative conflicts. The Eritrean Liberation Front is waging a bloody war of secession against Emperor Haile Selassie. In Zaire, the "return to authenticity" campaign of President Mobutu Sese-Seko includes greater efforts to remove noncitizens from industry and commerce. ONE-PARTY Zambia enters the new year as Africa's latest one-party state and with a disturbing array of problems. President Kenneth Kaunda has detained many political foes, among them his boyhood friend and former vice president, Simon Kpewewe. Zambia is now the most urbanized country in black Africa, having 35 per cent of its 4.3 million people in cities and towns. Its 1972 blueprint for economic reforms closed most fields of trade to outsiders. Burundi is still reeling from tribal fighting but it seems in no hurry to resolve the dispute with neighboring Rwanda which it accused of inspiring the clash. Economically, Burundi faces a cut in aid from Belgium, but its application to join the East African Community with Kenya, Uganda and Tanzania should prove successful.

Major firms are also encouraged to employ Nigerians. Senegal's poet-president, Leopold Senghor, in power since independence in 1960, faces the voters early in 1973 and is expected to win again despite controversy surrounding a law giving women more rights in the predominantly Moslem nation. Senegal reserves several trade areas for Africans only. Dahomey saw its unique three-man commission of presidents overthrown by yet another military coup in late 1972—the fifth army takeover since 1963. Chronic instability has given Dahomey its dubious distinction as the most coup-prone country in Africa. Liberia faces more change under reform-minded President William R. Tolbert Jr., who is introducing new freedoms and battling corruption and inefficiency in high places. Whether Tolbert's promise to raise his people from mats to mattresses will be fulfilled depends as much on Tolbert's leadership as it does on the fluctuating prices of iron and rubber, Liberian assets. Ghana's year-old military government has survived one plot against it by backers of the civilian regime the soldiers ousted last January. The country is still burdened by a $850-million foreign debt, part of the legacy of Kwame Nkrumah. Rigid austerity measures, unemployment and lingering hostility to military rule could threaten stability. IVORY COAST Arab political influence is being felt in several West African states with sizable Moslem communities. Chad recently ousted Israeli diplomats. The Arabs tell their African neighbors that the Arab-Israeli confrontation is just like black Africa's conflict with white minority governments on the continent.

Prosperous Ivory Coast appears to have shelved its controversial suggestion of "dialogue" with South Africa while concentrating on domestic development. Ivory Coast has been a program to Africanize the capital and personnel of many existing firms. Fighting continues in Portugal's African territories. Portuguese forces control the situation in Mozambique and Angola, but guerrilla fighting has taken an enormous toll in lives and money. Fresh terrorist incursions have been reported from Rhodesia after several years of relative quiet. Perhaps more significant has been apparent bickering among Portugal, Rhodesia and Malawi on how to handle security in the tense area where the black and white-ruled parts of Africa meet.

Flu Strikes 15 States

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Influenza this winter has struck at least 15 states, but only three areas apparently are having any prolonged bout with the bug, reports the Center for Disease Control. The CDC said widespread outbreaks of the London flu, a new strain belonging to the same virus family as Hong Kong flu, have been reported in New York City, Baltimore and Santa Clara County south of San Francisco. State public health officials also have reported isolated cases in Hawaii, Arizona, Colorado, Kansas, Texas, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Tennessee, Illinois, Washington and New Jersey. According to the CDC, the outbreak in the Baltimore area appears to be declining, although emergency-room visits are 5 to 10 per cent higher than normal. Authorities at the CDC say there is no clinical difference between the London flu and the Hong Kong variety that was widespread in the United States in 1968-69.

How To Read The Bible In A Year

There is no habit one might form that will do more to ease the strain and tension of life today than the regular reading of the Scriptures, because there is a power resident in them found in no other book. Often included in New Year's resolutions is one to read the Bible through, but because there is no systematic plan of reading, the effort is soon abandoned. The following outline is simple, and with a few minutes each day, one can read through the entire Book in a year. Cut this out and paste in your Bible and begin the reading for 1973: (Explanation on January 1, read to Gen. 4; on January 2, from Gen. 4 to Gen. 8; on January 3, to Gen. 11, etc.)

"The boy who survived had already been about the wreckage but he didn't wander away," said L. Charles Dillard of Fort Smith, who is with the Civil Air Patrol and one of the first to reach the wreckage. "He stayed there with the mother, because she was still alive."

In Critical Condition After Surviving Crash

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Laura Handley, 23, of the St. Louis suburb of Florissant, Mo., was still in critical condition Sunday at a Fort Smith hospital, after surviving a plane crash last week. Mrs. Handley and her son Keith, 6, were found Saturday in the wreckage of a light plane that crashed Thursday night on rugged Rich Mountain near Mena. The bodies of Mrs. Handley's husband, Jack G. Handley, 26, and their 10-week-old son Eric were found in the wreckage. Authorities said Mrs. Handley was suffering shock, exposure and a head injury. Keith, who authorities said Saturday seemed to "be doing pretty good," was transferred to Temple, Tex. Dr. H. N. Rogers, a member of the Mena hospital staff, said Mrs. Handley and Keith were "near frozen."

Cops Quell Revelers At Fort Lauderdale

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Police battled a crowd of between 4,000 and 6,000 New Year's revelers at a popular beachfront early today. Twenty-seven persons were injured, including 16 policemen, and 36 persons were arrested, police said.

Broward County Sheriff's Lt. John Tamburello said a force of about 150 law enforcement officers was required to quell the hour-long disturbance which covered about a half-mile of Atlantic Boulevard, an area of bars and motels favored by college vacationers.

The disturbance broke out about midnight when a crowd gathered around two plainclothes detectives who were arresting a man at a bar on assault and battery charges, police said.

Four Killed Near Austin

AUSTIN (AP) — Two cars collided head on late Sunday night on a farm road east of Austin, killing four persons and injuring another five. All the dead were residents of Elgin, about 25 miles east of Austin. The dead were Johnny Jones Sr., 52; Johnny Jones Jr., 28; Kenneth Jones, 5; and Charles Tennor, 28.

The youths broke windows, tore up beach chairs and set them on fire on the beach, erected barricades in the street and threw empty beer cans, rocks and garbage at police.

Misconstrued?

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — The Utah Highway Patrol cautioned motorists about driving Friday morning except when necessary because of the record snowfall in the Salt Lake City area.

Police said one youth struck one of the two detectives, who drew and fired his pistol, grazing the leg of another youth and the crowd responded by throwing bottles and cans.

But patrol dispatcher Ruel Anderson said later that day: "We've been misconstrued." It seems many workers in the city telephoned their employers, saying the highway patrol said not to go to work.

More officers were called to the scene and the disturbance quickly spread, police said.

"We didn't mean they didn't have to go to work. Work is necessary. We ask them to use all caution, but to go to work." More than 18 inches of snow fell in Salt Lake City.

Hunger Nicaragua's Top Woe Before Quake

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — Hunger was Nicaragua's main problem even before an earthquake devastated its capital more than a week ago. A prolonged drought had seriously affected the production of corn, beans and rice.

or another during the year, Belew said. Protests mounted here over what many considered slow and improper distribution of food and other supplies by Gen. Anastasio Somoza's national guard.

Tachito" Somoza, son of Nicaragua's leader. Without rank or position, but utilizing the strong influence of his father, the younger Somoza controls arrivals and departures of mercy flights at Las Mercedes airport.

Wendell Belew, the U.S. Embassy's commercial attaché, said the problem of hunger "existed here 10 days before the earthquake."

Foreign relief planes have made as many as 500 flights into the city, bringing tons of everything from food to field hospitals; yet a number of the survivors still need assistance.

Tons of food could be seen stored in the airport's main hanger over the weekend, and Somoza was busy giving orders about where it should be taken.

He added that the lack of rainfall, normally about 80 inches a year, had caused as much economic damage to the country and its people as the earthquake.

President Nixon's personal representative, Maurice Williams, met with Somoza on Sunday to discuss the possibility of extending American aid for six months.

"As soon as they arrive, the supplies are sent to the National Emergency Committee, which is under civilian control," he said.

He said the quake had "only revealed the magnitude of Nicaragua's problems. The government already had problems feeding the poor farmers; and, with the arrival of food from foreign countries, both they and the victims of the earthquake demanded food."

Williams, head of the Agency for International Development, said Somoza had outlined a list of necessities ranging from food to the reconstruction of Managua.

When informed that there were no civilians on the committee, Somoza replied: "Okay, you can say that there are civilians. Because there will be as of now."

TONS OF FOOD
If the assistance is not continued, Belew said, "the country's problems will be aggravated within three months."

The official in charge of receiving the tons of food and other supplies arriving in Managua is a 21-year-old Harvard graduate named Anastasio

ALMOST INTERCEPTED—Dallas Cowboys' Cliff Harris (43) is hit by Washington Redskins' Bob Brunet (26) as he tries to intercept a pass Sunday during the NFC championship game in Washington. The Redskins downed the Cowboys 26-3 and won the right to face the Miami Dolphins in the Super Bowl.

Allen Restores D. C. To Glories Of '40's

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Redskins, whose last pro football championship came when Franklin D. Roosevelt was in his third term as President, ambushed the Dallas Cowboys Sunday to capture a Super Bowl berth.

Washington's 26-3 victory over Dallas gives the Redskins the National Conference championship and sends them against the Miami Dolphins, 21-17 winners over the Pittsburgh Steelers, for the National Football League's world championship on Jan. 14 in Los Angeles.

"We have a lot to be thankful for," Washington Coach George Allen said. "It was a great team win, a 40-man victory."

NIXON CALLS
Later Sunday night, Allen received a telephone call from President Nixon, who invited the Washington coach and his family to the White House this morning.

"This was close to a perfect game," Allen said. Tom Landry, the Cowboys' coach, agreed.

"Washington deserved to win," Landry said. "They were playing excellent football in every phase."

Dallas never had a chance as the marauding Redskins excelled on offense, defense and the specialty teams. The Cowboys could run only six plays, not counting punts, in the first period, and didn't get a first down until nearly 25 minutes into the game. And that came on a personal-foul penalty against Washington.

Curt Knight, who redeemed himself handsomely in the playoffs after suffering a miserable season, broke the scoreless duel with an 18-yard field goal in the second period. He later added kicks of 39, 46 and 45 to set an NFL playoff record for most field goals in a game.

But the twin lightning bolts from quarterback Billy Kilmer to wide receiver Charley Taylor were the bombs that tore asunder Dallas' vaunted Domsday Defense.

"I think they thought I was going to try to go to (wide receiver) Roy Jefferson more and that could hurt them, so they covered him more," Kilmer said. "So I went to Taylor."

Official's Call Triggered Anger

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Veteran referee Burns McKinney, retiring after 34 years of officiating in the Southwest Conference, said Sunday he had "never seen anything like the un-sportsmanlike conduct penalty that cost Texas Tech a vital touchdown in Saturday's 32-28 Sun Bowl loss to North Carolina.

Bill Davis, an Atlantic Coast Conference official, made the call that triggered an explosion of anger on the Red Raider bench.

"It (the call) was a shame, and a new one on me," said McKinney.

It happened in the second quarter with North Carolina leading 9-0. Tech's Davis Corley blocked a Tar Heel punt and Donald Rives plucked the ball off the ground and ran 32 yards down the sidelines for an apparent touchdown.

However, Davis threw a flag toward Tech Coach Jim Carlen. McKinney said "Bill told me that a coach was on the field and I (Davis) had to go around him."

"I asked him was it before or after the score," McKinney said. "Davis said it was before the score."

McKinney penalized Tech 15 yards from the spot where the Tech coach came on the field.

Tech Coach Jim Carlen said he didn't remember going on the field but said "I had to dodge a photographer wearing a red jacket." Tech's team colors are red and black.

McKinney of Midland said

FINDS TAYLOR
Just after nine minutes into the second quarter, Kilmer found Taylor streaking across the middle on a slant-in to connect on a 35-yard touchdown aerial. That made the score 10-0 before Toni Fritsch added three for Dallas with a 35-yard field goal that hit the left upright, then bounced across.

After that, it was all Washington as the Redskins' Crunch Bunch kept quarterback Roger Staubach and his Cowboy cohorts surrounded.

Staubach, getting his first starting, call since he was injured in preseason, failed to ignite the potentially explosive Cowboy attack. The former Heisman Trophy winner from Navy connected on only nine of 20 passes, for 98 yards.

Kilmer, on the other hand, was nearly flawless, hitting 14 of 18 for 194 yards and the two scores.

"We had our opportunities," Landry said, "but we missed them and they didn't."

LONE STAR CONFERENCE
By The Associated Press
Stephen F. Austin, the No. 1 small college team in the nation, took its lumps last week so Sam Houston State's Bearkats will take the only unsoiled record into Lone Star Conference play this week.

The Bearkats, who are now 7-0 for the season, repeated as champions of the Quincy Holiday Tournament in Quincy, Ill., last week with impressive victories over Winona, Minn.; Tennessee State and Augustana, Ill.

S. F. Austin's Lumberjacks may have ruined their No. 1 ranking when they fell to NAIA power Hillsdale, Mich., 59-56.

Lone Star Conference action resumes Tuesday when Howard Payne travels to McMurry in the feature contest.

S. F. Austin tries to get back on the right track when the Lumberjacks play at East Texas State. On Thursday, SFA is at Tarleton.

Memphis Tiger Clan Captures Fifth In Row

By The Associated Press
Memphis State, tabbed a college basketball powerhouse before the season, has bounced back from a disastrous start and regained its prestige.

The Tigers from the Missouri Valley Conference won their fifth in a row Saturday night, beating Vanderbilt for the first time ever 74-71.

Memphis State, 121-7 last season, was ranked No. 11 in the pre-season Associated Press poll, but the Tigers dropped out of the Top Twenty when they lost three of their first five games. Two of the defeats were dealt in a row by Marquette and Texas.

UPSET VANDY
The Tigers started to click when they beat Navy 80-51. Then followed triumphs over UC-Santa Barbara, Arkansas, Cornell and the conquest of Vanderbilt, the 10th-ranked Commodores' first defeat of the season.

"This was a super win for us," said Coach Gene Bartow of the Tigers. "Playing in Nashville is about as tough as playing Marquette in the Milwaukee Arena," where Memphis State lost to the Warriors 72-69.

Vanderbilt, playing without injured Rod Freeman, wiped out a 14-point deficit and took the lead at 66-65 before Memphis State won on baskets by Larry Kenon and Ken Andrews in the last two minutes.

"This was the kind of game that will help us in our SEC conference play," said Roy Skinner, Vanderbilt coach. "I would rather lose a game like this against a great team like Memphis State than win an easy one against a poorer club."

The Memphis State triumph was one of the exciting games that marked the holiday week-end. No. 1 UCLA made it 53 victories in a row, beating Illinois 71-64 for the Sugar Bowl title, and No. 3 Marquette came from behind and took the Milwaukee Classic with a 75-73 double overtime victory over Wisconsin. It was the Warriors' 79th straight success at the Milwaukee Arena.

But the list goes on: North Carolina's Charlie "ChooChoo" Justice, Kentucky's Babe Parelli, Rice's Dicky Maegle, TCU's Baugh and Jim Swink, Navy's Roger Staubach, and Notre Dame's Joe Theismann are there along with those of Syracuse immortals Jim Brown and Ernie Davis.

ONE OF THE most memorable contests, coincidentally involved Alabama.

In 1954, the Tide's Tommy Lewis leaped off the bench to tackle Rice's Maegle as he headed downfield for one of his three touchdowns of the day. Officials awarded the touchdown to Maegle and Rice was a 28-6 winner.

Alabama also figured in one of the weirdest Cotton Bowl games — a 29-21 victory over Texas A&M in 1942. The Tide made only one first down, but seven interceptions and five Aggie fumbles made first downs irrelevant.

Layne was in the 1946 Cotton Bowl, hitting 11 of 12 passes for two touchdowns, scoring four more himself and kicking four extra points. Texas defeated Missouri 40-27.

Walker and Rote were the big guns in 1949, when SMU cut down Oregon and Van Brocklin 21-13.

HC Resumes Work Tuesday For Meet

Howard County JC, which resumes workouts Tuesday for the third annual American Business Club Olympic Classic Basketball Tournament starting here Thursday evening, will carry the poorest record onto the floor among the competing teams but it would be inadvisable to sell the Jayhawks short.

The host club, a green team when the campaign began, didn't really begin to jell until it started Western Conference play Nov. 30 against NMJC in Roswell.

The Big Springers are 4-0 in league competition, however, and seem to play especially well in their own gymnasium.

HC hasn't played since Dec. 14, at which time it knocked out a talented New Mexico Junior College team here.

Harold Wilder's team is 10-8 on the year. The Hawks launch tournament action against Cisco College at 9 p.m. Thursday.

The other contest Thursday, down for 7 o'clock, sends Schreiner Institute of Kerrville against Jacksonville Baptist.

In Friday night's games, Cisco tangles with Schreiner at 7 p.m., and HCJC has it out with Jacksonville at 9 o'clock.

Saturday's games send Cisco against Jacksonville Baptist at 7 o'clock and Schreiner against HCJC at 9 p.m.

In this type of tournament, each team plays the other in a pre-arranged type of meet. The quintet winning the most games is declared the winner.

In the event two teams tie for first place with the same won-lost record, the club scoring the greatest number of points in the three games is declared the winner.

Schreiner won its first 15 games this season and has to be regarded as the favorite. Cisco is 10-1, its only loss coming here at the hands of HCJC.

The Wranglers had beaten Howard County by a solitary point in an earlier game at Cisco.

Jacksonville is rolling along with an 8-4 record and has played some of the saltiest teams in the state.

Season tickets for the tournament are on sale with any ABCUB member.

Fingers Will Attend Dinner

HOUSTON — Rollie Fingers, the 1972 World Series relief pitching hero for the Oakland Athletics, will be one of the featured guests at the 13th annual Houston Baseball Writers Dinner in the Grand Ballroom of Astroworld Hotel on Friday, Jan. 26.

Fingers will receive the special World Series Award for his outstanding achievements in the Athletics' four-game-to-three series win over the Cincinnati Reds.

Others who will be at the head table with Fingers include Billy Williams of the Chicago Cubs, Wilbur Wood of the Chicago White Sox, Dave Hilton of the San Diego Padres and Tom Gorman of the National League umpiring staff.

Fingers, 26, appeared in six of the seven games in the World Series and posted a 1.74 earned run average in 10 1-3 innings and a 1-1 record.

The 6-4, 195 pound right-hander, who wears a handle-bar mustache, pitched in the first five World Series games. Then in the deciding seventh game, Fingers cooled the Reds on no runs and no hits the final two innings to give the A's their first world championship since 1930 and their first ever in Oakland.

IN COTTON BOWL Baugh And Meyer Started It All

DALLAS (AP) — The year was 1937.

A rawboned Texan named Sammy Baugh guided Texas Christian to a 16-6 triumph over Marquette. L. D. Meyer, a nephew of the TCU coach scored both touchdowns, one on a 24-yard pass from Baugh.

That's how the Cotton Bowl football classic began 36 years ago.

The 37th, pitting Paul "Bear" Bryant's fourth-ranked Crimson Tide and Darrell Royal's Longhorns, went into the record books today, adding some new names. Perhaps the names will be those of Roosevelt Leaks and Alan Lowry, Texas' top backs, or All-American Jerry Sisemore.

appearances, scoring twice as TCUC dropped a 14-4 squeaker to Mississippi in a 28-27 verdict over Syracuse.

Brown scored three times in the latter game.

Syracuse got its revenge in 1960 when Davis led the unbeaten Orangemen past Texas 23-14 to cement their claim as national champions.

Texas which was making its 14th Cotton Bowl appearance today, chalked up one of its most celebrated victories in 1964, beating second-ranked Navy and Staubach 28-6. Texas was ranked No. 1.

Carlisle was the hero that day, passing for two touchdowns and running for a third.

The Cotton Bowl got its first look at the Wishbone in 1969 when Texas tripped Tennessee 36-13, the first of five straight appearances by the Steers.

Texas was the national champion the next year and Worster helped prove it as the Steers scored late in the games to beat Notre Dame 21-17.

The Fighting Irish returned the next year to even the score 24-11, snapping a 30-game Texas winning streak.

And now it's 1973. The 37th Cotton Bowl, billed as the Battle of the Wishbones, is in the history books.

TIDE HOPEFULS
Possibly the names will be those of Alabama quarterback Terry Davis, offensive lineman John Hannah or running back Steve Bisceglia.

But whoever, they'll join the lists along with those of Doak Walker and Kyle Rote, Southern Methodist; Byron "Whizzer" White of Colorado, now a U.S. Supreme Court justice; Bobby Layne, Duke Carlisle, Bud McFadin, and Steve Worster of Texas; John Kimbrough of Texas A&M; V. A. "Titile" LSU; and Oregon's Norm Van Brocklin.

But the list goes on: North Carolina's Charlie "ChooChoo" Justice, Kentucky's Babe Parelli, Rice's Dicky Maegle, TCU's Baugh and Jim Swink, Navy's Roger Staubach, and Notre Dame's Joe Theismann are there along with those of Syracuse immortals Jim Brown and Ernie Davis.

One of the most memorable contests, coincidentally involved Alabama.

In 1954, the Tide's Tommy Lewis leaped off the bench to tackle Rice's Maegle as he headed downfield for one of his three touchdowns of the day. Officials awarded the touchdown to Maegle and Rice was a 28-6 winner.

Alabama also figured in one of the weirdest Cotton Bowl games — a 29-21 victory over Texas A&M in 1942. The Tide made only one first down, but seven interceptions and five Aggie fumbles made first downs irrelevant.

Layne was in the 1946 Cotton Bowl, hitting 11 of 12 passes for two touchdowns, scoring four more himself and kicking four extra points. Texas defeated Missouri 40-27.

Walker and Rote were the big guns in 1949, when SMU cut down Oregon and Van Brocklin 21-13.

WOODY HAYES DISCOUNTS ODDS

Trojans Heavy Favorites

By The Associated Press
Southern California, an awesome scoring machine ranked No. 1 in the nation, is a hefty favorite to whip Ohio State in today's 59th Rose Bowl football game but Buckeye Coach Woody Hayes discounts the odds.

"There's not a team that can't be had," said the crusty Hayes. "Sure, Southern Cal is fast-faster than anybody. There's a way to stop speed before it gets started, but I'll be damned if I'm going to tell you."

comes from fleet-footed 5-foot-9 tailback Anthony Davis and quarterback Mike Rae, who has a pass completion average of 55 per cent.

"They can run and pass, they have a good defense," Hayes said of Southern Cal, a 14-point favorite. "There is no weakness to their attack. They are No. 1 and rightfully so. We're No. 3, wanting to be No. 1."

Favored Nebraska, powered by Heisman Trophy winner Johnny Rodgers, will be attempting to regain some prominence after winning national championships the past two years. Rodgers has scored 17 touchdowns this season.

Notre Dame sophomore signal-caller Tom Clements has completed 51 per cent of his passes for 163 yards and eight touchdowns while Eric Penick has rushed for 727 yards and an average of 5.9 a carry.

Both Alabama and Texas will be wielding the Wishbone-T offense—a creation of Longhorn Coach Darrell Royal. The Crimson Tide has averaged 302.9 yards rushing with the Wishbone while Texas has averaged 276 on the ground. "I tell you Alabama can throw the ball off the Wishbone," says Texas defensive coordinator Mike Campbell. "But they really don't run their Wishbone much different than we do."

OWENS SHINES
Tinker Owens, a 17-year-old freshman and brother of former Heisman Trophy winner Steve Owens, scored one touchdown and set up another as Oklahoma whipped Penn State 14-0 in the Sugar Bowl New Year's Eve. Owens scored in the first quarter after grabbing a 27-yard pass and caught a 17-yarder in the fourth that set up Leon Crosswhite's one-yard TD plunge.

In bowl games played Saturday, No. 6 Auburn ripped No. 13 Colorado 4-3 in the Gator Bowl. North Carolina defeated Texas Tech 32-28 in the Sun Bowl. The East edged the West 9-3 in the Shrine game and Tennessee beat Louisiana State 24-18 in STATESBORO, Ga. (AP) — Center Leon Williams poured in 18 points and grabbed 28 rebounds Saturday night to lead South Alabama to a 73-67 victory over Texas-Arlington in the consolation game of the Claxton Fruit Cake Classic basketball tournament.

Georgia Southern and Austin Peay of Tennessee were to meet later for the championship.

HIGH SCORING
Southern Cal, 11-0, seeking its third national title in the last 10 years under Coach John McKay, has averaged 430.1 yards and 38.6 points per game. The Trojans' offensive punch the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl.

Auburn capitalized on several Colorado mistakes as Mike Fuller hit Rob Spivey with a 22-yard scoring strike and Dave Beck fired a 16-yarder to Don Nugent for another touchdown.

A 13-yard scoring pass from Nick Vidnovic to Ted Leverenz in the final minutes of the game carried the Tar Heels to victory and ruined the three-touchdown performance of Texas Tech's George Smith. Tennessee manhandled LSU in the first half and built up a 24-3 halftime bulge but then had a weather a fierce second-half onslaught by the Tigers for the victory.

"Momentum is a crazy thing," said Tennessee Coach Bill Battle. "I can't explain what made it swing from Tennessee to LSU. Maybe we played a little too conservative in the second half."

McClendon said: "You saw two teams with pride and I can't LSU Coach, Charlie express how proud I am of this LSU team."

TIME TO THANK TINKER—Oklahoma University split end Tinker Owens holds his most valuable Sugar Bowl trophy as he gets some pats on the back from teammates following their 14-0 win over Penn State. Tinker, a freshman and brother of former Heisman Trophy winner Steve Owens, scored one touchdown and set up another. At left is linebacker coach Warren Harper.

Sooner Defenses Halt Penn State, 14 To 0

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Oklahoma Sooners, who finished the 1972 college football season as the No. 2 team in the country, will have to wait until late this afternoon to learn whether they'll be bridesmaids or brides on the Sugar Bowl. "I don't want to get into an argument about that," Coach Chuck Fairbanks said Sunday night after his team rang out the country, will have to wait until late this afternoon to learn whether they'll be bridesmaids or brides on the Sugar Bowl. "Oklahoma is the best as far as I'm concerned. But if we don't have the best team in the country we certainly have the best defensive team."

Steers Oppose Abilene Here

Coach Ron Plumlee, who guided his Big Spring Steers to a third place finish in the Borger Tournament last weekend, said the Steers would have fared better against the ultimate winner, Borger, in the semifinals had they not been cold in the opening period. Now 11-8 on the year, the Steers are set to open 5-AAAA competition here Tuesday night against what is regarded as a good Abilene High team. Johnny Tonn of the Steers was named to the all-tournament team at Borger and Plumlee said he had three outstanding games in the meet. Borger, which cooled Big Spring, 86-62, in the semifinals went on to humble Hereford by two points in the championship game.

The Steers will carry a good record into the Abilene game. One of Abilene's wins, incidentally, came against Lubbock Monterey, a club which defeated Big Spring earlier this season. Big Spring returned a third place trophy from Borger by trouncing Perryton Saturday evening, 90-73. Tonn scored 23 points in that contest. John Thomas Smith did almost as well with 20 while Randy Marshall had 13 and Charley Brown 11. The Longhorns will oppose Midland High, the 5-AAAA favorite, here Friday night. Borger, which now has a 13-3 record and is the favorite in its district, had previously won the Wichita Falls Tournament. Against Perryton, the Steers were down, 41-30, shortly before the first half ended but Coach Plumlee sent out instructions for his team to go into a full court press and the results were devastating. The Longhorns outscored Perryton in the past four minutes for the second period, 15-3. In the third quarter, the Steers were in command, stuffing 25 points through the hoop to only 11 for Perryton. No Steer fouled out but four of the Longhorns each had four fouls at the end. The Big Springers wound up with 29 fouls for the contest.

For Bowl Game

DALLAS (AP) — Partly cloudy and cool weather with a very slight chance of rain was in prospect for the Cotton Bowl Football game between Alabama and Texas this afternoon, official forecasters said. They predicted the temperature would be in the lower 50s by game time and the wind blowing from the northeast at 5 to 10 miles per hour. The probability of rain during the game was placed at 10 per cent.

Miami Tips Steelers For Super Bowl Spot

PITTSBURGH (AP) — It's not enough against Miami. The young Pittsburgh Steelers, but next year is now for the Miami Dolphins, pro football perfectionists. The Dolphins earned the right to meet the Washington Redskins in Super Bowl VII Jan. 14 by defeating the Steelers 21-17 here Sunday in the American Football Conference title game. Larry Seiple's daring dash on a fake punt and quarterback Bob Griese's off-the-bench heroics enabled Don Shula's Dolphins to boost their record to 16-0 and end the best season in Steeler history.

Henry Takes Presidency

DALLAS (AP) — Don Henry of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal was installed as president of the Texas Sportswriters Association Sunday, succeeding Bob Galt of the Dallas Times Herald.

Dick Moore of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Three names were placed before the membership for vice president nominees. They included: Jim Garner, sports information director at Texas Christian University. D. D. Freeman, Texas sports editor of The Associated Press. Jim Trinkle, columnist, Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

The membership will vote on the vice presidential nominees by ballot. Other matters conducted at the meeting included the raising of dues from $5 to $6 for the 237 member organization; discussion of the procedure for All-state schoolboy selections; and discussion of the progress of the planned Texas Sports Hall of Fame in Grand Prairie, Tex.

A press box committee praised facilities at Tully Stadium in Spring Branch, Ennis High School, Lamar Consolidated, Texas High, Texarkana, Chapel Hill, Pine Tree and W. T. Barrett Stadium in Odessa. Censured by the committee for inadequate facilities were Quanah, Corsicana, Handley, and Pecos. Poor handling of press relations at the state schoolboy football playoff between Franklin and Schulenberg at Bryan High School was also brought to the attention of the membership.

trademark all season weren't enough against Miami. Seiple's 37-yard run from punt formation set up the tying score, but the momentum really swung when Shula replaced veteran Earl Morrall with Griese, who had played just one game since breaking his leg five months ago. The Steelers had taken a 10-3 lead in the third quarter on a field goal by Roy Gerela, but Griese engineered the two touchdown drives that meant the difference. The Steelers, who finished with a 12-4 record after winning the first division title in their 40-year history, were in the game until the end. However, Terry Bradshaw, hospitalized last week with the flu and bothered by headaches and a pinched nerve in his left shoulder, was intercepted twice in the closing moments. The Dolphins, who lost to the Dallas Cowboys in last year's Super Bowl, came from behind to beat Pittsburgh, just as they did last week against the Cleveland Browns.

Maynard To Speak At Banquet Here

Don Maynard, who recently set an all-time professional career pass reception record while wearing the uniform of the New York Jets, has tentatively agreed to be the principal speaker at the annual Quarterback Club banquet honoring the Big Spring Steers.

The meal will be served Monday, Dec. 29, in the high school cafeteria. Maynard, who has been the favorite receiver for fabulous Joe Namath down through the years, bettered Raymond Berry's all-time record for pass receptions. He started his career in the NFL but was cast adrift by the New York Giants and made his mark with the Jets of the AFL.

Don played his high school football for Colorado City and went from there to Texas Western College (now UT-El Paso). He remarked here a couple of years ago that he planned to play professional football "until they tear my uniform off me."

The public will be invited to break bread with the QBC and hear Maynard. Tickets for the party will shortly go on sale. Several awards will be given away during the banquet.

ian who has one of the last short haircuts and clean-shaven faces in pro football, said he improvised on the play. "I never thought of it until the situation opened up," he said and it was a split second decision to run... It has to be the most exciting thing in my career."

Soph Holloway Led Tennessee To Bowl Win

HOUSTON (AP) — Tennessee's sophomore quarterback Condredge Holloway, who says he'd rather play pro baseball than football, certainly seemed to enjoy his work enough in the 14th annual Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl.

The speedy little signal caller, who passed up a $90,000 baseball contract offer to get his college degree, personally dismantled 10th ranked Louisiana State with touchdown runs of 19 and 15 yards and a 6-yard touchdown pass to Jimmy Young to lead the Vols to a 24-17 victory over the 10th rated Tigers.

COULD DO BETTER "My best game is when I complete 20 of 20 and score every time I carry the ball," Holloway said when asked about his performance Saturday night in the Astrodome. "I don't keep up with individual accomplishments."

He later said however he was satisfied with his performance. For all of Holloway's heroics, it almost wasn't enough because the Tigers, down 24-3 at the half, roared back with two second half touchdowns and it took two fourth quarter stands by the Volunteers to keep their victory.

After LSU had scored its second touchdown, Tennessee had to throw back two more Tiger Thrusts late in the game.

LSU Quarterback Bert Jones, projected as the first quarterback to be selected in the Jan. 30 pro draft, scored one TD on a 2-yard keeper and sophomore Brad Davis hit from one yard out for the other. Jones took the Tigers downfield again within striking distance before Vol defensive end Carl Johnson, named the game's outstanding lineman, dropped Jones five and eight yards on consecutive plays.

SOUTHLAND CONFERENCE

Maybe the Southland Conference basketball teams had too much turkey over the holidays because they played anything but inspired ball last weekend. The conference took only one of six tournament tests and Louisiana Tech's eight game winning streak was snapped and Arkansas State's speed record was blemished. Tech and Arkansas State were battered in the Mercer Invitational Tournament and Texas-Arlington took its lumps in the Claxton Classic—both tournaments in Georgia. Southwestern Louisiana, unbeaten in six games, gets into action this week playing at Pan American on Thursday and traveling to Jacksonville Saturday in what should be a rugged test. Louisiana Tech has the next best record in the league—5-2.

Nutty Diet

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I read about a new diet plan where you take one tablet with your breakfast food and then eat the more fattening foods you eat, the faster the weight disappears. Have you heard of this plan and do you think it would be safe to take? The guarantee states that you must keep the weight you lost off or your money will be refunded.—A.R.

I can't knock down every nutty diet plan that comes down the pike, but I will say about this one that you are never, never going to lose weight by eating "fattening foods" no matter how many pills you take.

The only sensible way to lose weight is through a sensible diet that is well-balanced and where the only guarantee is that you will be able to keep thin and healthy at the same time. The weight loser has to revamp his (or her) concept of food and avoid compulsive eating. A reduction as well as maintenance diet can be balanced yet low in calories. This is what you have to learn.

Raining Fish?

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The man who told his wife he saw fish falling from the sky was not crazy, neither was he lying.

In the summer of 1926, I caddied at a local golf course. There had been a long drought that summer and the fairways were brown and dried up.

"One afternoon while I was caddying, a sudden storm came up and a terrific thundershower followed. Rain came down in torrents, and with it came a shower of tiny frogs about the size of nickels. They were alive and jumping all over, thousands of them!

The golfers and I couldn't believe our eyes as we watched thousands of frogs come right down with the rain from the sky. We saw it happen.

WM. A. WALKER, EVANSVILLE, IND.

DEAR ABBY: Here I have gone all my 70 years without writing a letter to a columnist, but now Dear Abby has finally smoked me out. I can't sleep until I help out that poor devil whose wife thinks he needs to see a shrink because he said he saw it raining fish.

He may have. In some areas, summer storms are preceded by twisters which are in reality tornados that suck up an immense amount of water from a stream or pond, and with it all the life that is in it. It's converted into a "waterspout" and carried for miles before it's deposited in a shower of rain.

If anyone doubts this, write to me, and I'll spin some wonderful yarns about flying saucers.

F. C. MILLER, SAN DIEGO, CAL.

DEAR ABBY: I was raised on a farm in Minnesota, and as a boy I remember a storm coming up. It looked serious so we all ran to the cellar. In 40 minutes it was all over.

Afterwards, we went outside and saw our chickens going wild, eating tiny fish and frogs. We were inland at least 10 miles, so the only explanation was that a tornado had sucked them up out of a stream and had dumped them on our farm.

This is not a fish story. I saw it with my own eyes. FLOYD J. McMANUS, LAGUNA BEACH, CAL.

DEAR ABBY: Of course it could have rained fish. It rained HERRING in Scotland in March of 1817. The "herring rain" lasted about an hour, and this is no fish story.

KIM LONG, WHEELING, W. VA.

DEAR ABBY: I lived on a farm three miles from Ashland, Wis. A storm came up suddenly and afterwards I saw little tiny fish in the cowtracks around our barn. I'm no kid, Abby. I am 80 years old.

RICHARD HAGSTROM, ZIG ZAG, ORE.

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine named Ed Brady heard something strike the roof of his home during a severe rainstorm, and the next day he found a big eel in his rain-barrel. He lived half a mile from the river. This occurred at Oquaga, N. Y. Ed Brady still lives there and can verify it. H. D. JOHNSON, WALTON, N.Y.

DEAR ABBY: I personally drove through a "rainstorm" of tadpoles in western Missouri 14 years ago.

TADPOLES FALLING ON MY HEAD IN DODGE CITY, KAN.

DEAR ABBY: I learned about how fish could be sucked up by a funnel cloud and dropped miles inland when I was a lad in public school in Holland, 55 years ago.

Y. Y. OUDSHOORN, VICTORIA, B.C., CANADA

DEAR ABBY: About 35 years ago while I was driving through a thunderstorm near Hershey, Pa., dozens of tiny frogs came down and pelted the hood of my automobile.

Scramble To Buy Life

By The Associated Press
Newsstand copies of Life magazine are disappearing rapidly as collectors and sentimentalists around the country scramble to buy up the final issue of the pioneer in pictorial journalism.

Not a single copy of the Dec. 29 issue was available at four major newsstands in Chicago's downtown Loop area, and dealers in Los Angeles said speculators have been purchasing 10 to 20 copies at a time.

Some dealers in Dallas limited the new collector's item to one to a customer.

"We didn't even put them out," a spokesman for a Hollywood, Calif., drug store said. "We had enough orders to cover them. We'd been taking orders for a week."

A Life spokesman said 500,000 copies were printed in addition to the 200,000 supplied to newsstands in the past. Subscribers were mailed 5.5 million copies.

Some dealers felt sorry about the belated attention Life was getting. "What makes me mad is they wouldn't support the magazine when it was alive," a Miami dealer said. "And now it is dead, they are treating it like a hero."

Life announced Dec. 8 that heavy financial losses attributed to television competition, increased postal rates and other factors had forced the magazine out of business after 36 years.

To Lay Off About 100 Workers

HOUSTON (AP) — A declining budget coupled with a scheduled 5 per cent pay raise will force the Manned Spacecraft Center here to lay off about 100 workers in the next six months, a spokesman at the center said.

John McLeish, MSC public information director, said "approximately 100 or maybe less" will be dismissed from the space center, bringing the total work force to about 3,600.

Most of the layoffs will come among administrative workers, he said, reflecting administration drives to cut administrative costs of the agency. McLeish said that many MSC workers will also face reductions in their civil service grades and pay.

The 5 per cent federal wage increase due in February has further tightened the budget and contributed to the layoffs, he added.

You Be You

Jean Adams
TEEN FORUM

RESOLUTION: (Q.) I never knew who my father was. He ran away when he heard my mother was pregnant. She was 15 then. I am 15 now.

She is married, but she gives sex to other men besides my stepfather.

I am like her. I can't say no to boys. A lot of them. I ran off with one and lived with him for a month. It's another boy now. I've been letting him for six months.

If a boy asks me and I say no, he reminds me about how my mother is. All of them know about her.

I have talked to my counselor and principal about my problem, but they don't seem to care. Can you help me? Thank you, anyway, for listening to me. It makes me happy just to know someone cares enough to listen.—No Way Out in North Carolina.

(A.) You do not "have" to do as your mother does. You do not "have" to say yes when you want to say no. You do not "have" to say, "I'm no good, so what's the use."

You are a child of man, woman and God, attractive, desirable, intelligent. Under the laws of God and man you are just as good as any other girl you know. All the girls you know were born the same way you were born, and by the same processes. They have bodies like yours, and minds too. The difference in you is in the way you think of yourself.

Tell yourself all this. Over and over. By telling yourself again and again that you "will" be good and decent you can help yourself to "be" good and decent. You have to do it for yourself. No one else can do it for you.

I "do" care enough to listen and I have enough faith in you to believe that you can be a good and fine girl and that you "will" be one.

NOT NOW: (Q.) Dick says he doesn't want a girl friend right now. He told me his friends don't have girl friends, and he doesn't want to be odd. We were going together but he broke up. He doesn't believe me when I tell him I like him and want to go back with him.—Help in Washington, D.C.

(A.) Quit trying to talk Dick into anything new. But be friendly and smile when you see him. Sooner or later he will want a girl friend again and when that time comes you will have a chance with him. Until then, pestering him will hurt you more than it will help you.

FRATERNITY BROTHERS LEFT HIM AS PRANK 'A Momma's Boy' Dies In Fall From Cliff

NEWHALL, Calif. (AP) — A 21-year-old Southern California college student described by his father as "a Momma's boy" died at the base of a 500-foot wilderness cliff, the victim of a prank by fraternity brothers.

'It Only Meant 56 More POWs'

NEW YORK (AP) — Folk singer Joan Baez and three other antiwar activists have returned from a trip to Hanoi with 600 letters from American prisoners of war to friends and relatives in the United States.

Barry Romo of the Vietnam Veterans Against the War told newsmen on the group's arrival here Sunday night that the intensive U.S. bombing campaign against the Hanoi-Haiphong area "didn't mean a thing in North Vietnam. It only meant 56 more POWs."

He said that, during their stay in the North Vietnamese capital, the Americans met with 13 American prisoners.

With Miss Baez and Romo were Telford Taylor, a Columbia University law professor, and the Rev. Michael Allen of the Yale Divinity School.

Japan Air Lines Chairman Dies

TOKYO (AP) — Shizuma Matsuo, 69, chairman of the board of Japan Air Lines, died Sunday. He was the first postwar director-general of the Air Transportation Agency of the Ministry of Transportation and helped establish the airline in 1961.

The dead man was identified by relatives as Fred Phillip Bronner—a student at Pierce College in the San Fernando Valley. His body was recovered Sunday in rugged terrain in Angeles National Forest.

HE WAS FAT
Sheriff's deputies said he was last seen Dec. 22 by three Chi Chi Chi fraternity brothers who left him in the forest at 2 a.m. dressed in a sport coat and gym shorts "to teach him a lesson." They said they considered the 5-foot-10, 270-pound Bronner "obnoxious."

The victim's father, Leon Bronner, a 52-year-old Polish immigrant, said during the search for his son in the desolate mountainous area: "I know it is not possible for this child to survive. My son, he was not an athlete. He was fat, and he was raised like a Momma's boy. He never walked. We always drove him."

Diane Bronner said she had opposed her son's decision to join a fraternity because of hazing practices.

"I hope all the fraternities will be closed down because of this," Mrs. Bronner said.

BROTHER?
"How can they take my son from his bed at two in the morning and leave him in the mountains? They call themselves brothers but they are not."

Sheriff's deputies said they did not know what charges, if any, would be filed in the case.

"If Bronner went voluntarily, they (the fraternity members) are only guilty of stupidity," a sheriff's spokesman said.

A missing-persons report was filed by three fraternity members six days after Bronner was deserted. Gordon Gillespy, 19; John Bergess, 29; and John Morzan, 21, said they thought Bronner would hike along the Old Ridge Route back to Interstate 5, where he could hitch a ride.

Investigators said the three returned on Dec. 24 to search for Bronner but found only his jacket. Authorities speculated that Bronner could have seen automobile headlights and set out across the hills before he fell over the cliff.

Deputies said the young man probably died of massive head injuries suffered in the fall.

'Silent Power'
BEIRUT Lebanon (AP) — Mao Tse-tung, leader of Communist China, has been named man of the year by a Beirut newspaper in preference to President Nixon.

As Sasa, an independent French-language daily, said Sunday that, while Nixon was "perpetually resorting to war" to achieve his ends, Mao realized much progress and victories with his "silent power."

Langdon Chief Of RR Commission

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Railroad Commission elected Jim C. Langdon to be its chairman Friday.

Langdon, a member of the powerful oil and gas regulatory agency since 1963, will assume the chairmanship Jan. 1. His selection by the three-man commission follows the traditional practice of rotating the chairmanship to the commissioner who must stand for re-election next. Langdon's six-year term expires Jan. 1, 1975.

Langdon, a former chief justice of the Court of Civil Appeals in El Paso, was appointed to the Railroad Commission in 1963 to fill an unexpired term, and won election to the commission in 1964.

Achilles Plagued With Heel Woes

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — What do you do when your name is Achilles and you report to sick bay with a sore heel?

If you're a Marine recruit, like Daniel L. Achilles of Ithaca, your first problem is to convince the sergeant at the dispensary that it's no joke.

Then — like the Grecian hero — you bow out of the military scene.

Pvt. Achilles enlisted in the Marine Corps in October and recently had to report to the dispensary at Parris Island, where he was in training.

Luckier than his Grecian namesake, whose vulnerable heel removed him from the ranks of mortals forever, Pvt. Achilles is recuperating at home from a case of stress fracture, involving minor injuries of the heel.

Pvt. Achilles is visiting with his buddies in Ithaca, as the Greek Achilles used to do in Ithaca, Greece.

Create Giant Regional Bank Holding Company

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A multi-billion dollar financial institution, First National Bancshares, Inc., was created in Dallas Sunday in an extraordinary New Year's Eve board meeting.

The action brought to fruition months of planning to form the largest bank holding company in the South and Southwest, currently $3.5 billion in resources and more anticipated.

The two banks were the only firms actually involved in Sunday's formalities. However, another nine banks in the state have joined in separate agreements to also become Bancshares subsidiaries.

Together, they could report year-end resources of about $500 million. When these acquisitions have been added, Bancshares will have about $4 billion in total resources.

Almost Forlorn Hope

Remember the "insurance session" of the legislature convened this fall — the one which failed to adopt insurance law reforms?

One of the leftovers from that session, which bogged down in pros and cons of competitive rates, was renewed interest in the no-fault insurance concept. No-fault was once supported by Gov. Preson Smith, but his enthusiasm evaporated. However, a committee to study no-fault, was formed with Rep. Grant Jones as chairman.

Now Rep. Jones announces he is preparing to write a report for his committee. But the report will be written without any hearings have been conducted. And it will make no recommendations of any sort; it will simply be a factual report.

Perhaps this will be a sufficient exploration of no-fault insurance, but it's doubtful. Committees, functioning properly, sift through available material and hear as many expert opinions as possible on the subject for scrutiny, and then in better position to advise other legislators on complex problems. The reason for having committees at all is that they can more completely do the necessary research than can the entire House or Senate. If a committee cannot reach any conclusions, and cannot even hear witnesses on such a subject as no-fault, the outlook for any action in Austin on the matter is exceedingly bleak. When you consider that the insurance commission has recommendations from the industry itself to cut fire and extended coverage rates, particularly in this area, but so far has sat stolidly on its fat bottom, the feeling of hope gives way to cynical doubt.

Sickening Tragedy

One of the worst traffic mishaps in history wiped out 19 lives of an Austin church group bound in a bus for a winter outing and religious retreat in New Mexico. Death and injury came in a tidal wave as the bus collided with a cattle truck on a narrow bridge near Ft. Sumner.

It is tragedy enough that these many lives have been snuffed out, but despair compounds the grief when you hear that the narrow bridge which furnished the mixture for death is one which has been urged for years for replacement. Granted New Mexico is not the most populous state in the union, but with its considerable revenues from tourists plus its great oil wealth, it ought to do better by its highways, and certainly in giving priority to elimination of death traps.

Travel Reflections

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

Memories of a recent trip to Europe:

In 20 centuries, the dread of invasion among most people in Europe hasn't diminished. They're still prone to build their towns on hilltops, with the most imposing buildings at the top of the hill. On Capri, the head of the Gerber baby food companies has built a villa on the side of a mountain and can get there only by helicopter. It's no place for a sleep walker.

IN SWITZERLAND, cheese is served with most meals and in both Switzerland and Italy, the waiters won't bring you water with your meal until you ask for it. They expect you to drink wine with every repast. If you ask for milk, they give you a quizzical look as if you're not quite right in the head. The Italians may be getting away from pasta, but it will be a long time in coming. They serve spaghetti, complete with a tomato base, at almost every meal.

LAKE GENEVA, which laps at the doorstep of the city of Geneva, Switzerland, is one of the most beautiful lakes in the world. It is also polluted, as is the River Rhone, which escapes from it and flees to the Mediterranean Sea.

The largest building in Geneva, still two years away from completion, will house an international labor federation. One gets the idea that Labor intends to have very much to say in international politics in future years.

THE BEST road in Italy, running down the west coast from Rome to Naples, is privately owned and is marked much like the Interstate highways in America. The principal crops along the way are grapes and olives. When one walks into the colosseum in Rome, he can almost hear the roar of the Roman crowds in Caesar's time. For three centuries, or until the church became strong enough to stop it, Christians were put to death there through exquisite methods of torture. A series of walls was built in what was once the arena, and one wonders how the spectators could get a clear view of what was going on. The explanation is that Rome was later invaded, and the walls were built there for the benefit of troops assigned to defend the area.

THE BIGGEST churches, like St. Peter's and St. Paul's, have no pews in them. One feels he is truly in the heart of Christendom when he visits either place.

The fueling stations in Rome are not recessed from the road as they are in this country but rather built along the sidewalks in front of apartment houses and businesses. They consist simply of a couple of pumps and a compartment for oil and other automotive equipment.

MANY BUSINESSES in both Switzerland and Italy, secure in the knowledge that many tourists frequent their countries, are devoted to changing money — for a small fee. Whether you're changing from dollars to lira or francs, or reversing the procedure, you're resigned to the fact that it's going to cost you.

Near the centers of the great cities, there are very, very few private homes. Rome probably has more apartment houses per square mile than any other city in the world. Apartment houses do not come equipped with clothes lines or electric dryers, so the people hang their wash on balconies, and rare is the day when bed linens and towels are not hung conspicuously out to dry.

The Revival

Gorth Jones

Texas' influence in Washington, which was at a low ebb this time four years ago, may again reach the level of the good old days when Lyndon Johnson and Sam Rayburn took care of their home state.

THERE WILL be one big difference in the years ahead. In the Johnson and Rayburn era, and again during President Johnson's administration, it was the Democrats getting things done for Texas.

Now, there will be both Democratic and Republican sources for Texans to contact on the other side of the Potomac.

In 1968, after Johnson decided not to run again and President Richard Nixon was elected, many prominent Texans bemoaned the fact, publicly and privately, that they had no one to talk to in Washington.

SEN. RALPH YARBOROUGH, never friendly with a lot of conservative Democratic politicians and Texas businessmen, had worked hard against Nixon and had no entree to the White House.

Sen. John Tower, Republican, had worked for Nixon but since his state voted against the president it left Tower without much backing in his arguments for Texas.

Gov. John Connally, who always had a strong voice in Washington, had retired and Preston Smith, the incoming governor, was widely known for avoiding national politics and had no experience and little influence with Congress.

LI. Gov. Ben Barnes did much of the talking and lobbying for Texas in Washington in the next year or two.

Gradually the situation improved for Texas.

TEXAS REPUBLICANS began to be appointed to high places. Former Texas Attorney General Will Wilson went to the U.S. Justice Department. Paul Eggers, a strong challenger for governor, got a top job in Internal Revenue Service. Ken Towery, a top Tower aide, became an assistant in the U.S. Information Service. Later, Mrs. Anne Armstrong became co-chairman of National GOP Committee.

In 1970, Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, widely known Democratic businessman with previous experience in Congress, replaced Yarborough with the backing of both moderate and conservative Texas Democrats.

Connally became the president's choice for Secretary of Treasury and Nixon's personal trouble-shooter for economic affairs.

NEW LOOK at the situation. Nixon begins his second term in January with the over-whelming backing of Texas voters after a campaign that made Texas one of the 10 key states in the nation.

Tower was re-elected with the apparent support of many Texas Democrats who also voted for Nixon. His control of the state Republican party and position in the national party is stronger than ever.

More Republicans than ever before have been elected to the Texas legislature, and will be working closely with Tower and the Nixon administration.

Robert Strauss, Dallas attorney and strong Connally ally, has been named chairman of the National Democratic Party. George Bush, Houston oil man and ambassador to the United Nations, is slated for chairman of the National Republican Party.

WILLIAM P. CLEMENTS, Dallas executive who headed Nixon's reelection campaign in Texas, has been named No. 2 man in the Defense Department.

On the state level, the incoming governor, Dolph Briscoe, took an obvious hands-off position in his support of Democrat George McGovern. Because of this and because of his past record as a multimillionaire rancher and banker, Briscoe is sure to get plenty of attention from both the White House and Congress.

Mexico Economy

John Cunniff

By CHRIS ANGELO (Substituting for John Cunniff)

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The Mexican economy recovered from its 1971 slump during the last half of this year in an atmosphere of change brought on by legislation and statements aimed at increased "economic independence" and additional government intervention in some sectors.

Leading the list of legislation was a bill sent to Congress by President Luis Echeverria in November to tighten controls on the importation of foreign technology.

In an introduction to the bill, expected to be passed, Echeverria said many contracts for foreign technology increased production costs for the purchaser, prohibited or limited their expansion or development of their own technology. Such cases were among 15 types of contracts which the law would prohibit.

One recent government decree eliminated free importation of sophisticated electronic equipment and created a research center for development of Mexico's own telecommunications technology. Another required ownership of auto parts manufacturers to be 60 per cent Mexican and components of autos for domestic sales to be 60 per cent Mexican-made.

Echeverria said the government also was preparing "legal means" to eliminate "threats and pressures" on Mexicans to sell businesses to foreigners.

Expressions of uncertainty over future government plans, prompted by increased government participation in parts of the private sector, brought answers from other officials. "What you do not do, the state will," Partimomy Minister Horacio Flores de la Pena told Monterrey businessmen. "The state will go as far as you push us."

Recent government acquisitions included an additional 3 per cent ownership in Telefonos de Mexico, the telephone monopoly, to give it controlling interest; 34 per cent of stock in Azufre Panamericano, which controls three-fourths of sulphur production, to put total ownership in Mexican hands; and interests in a bank, television station, newspaper chain and hotel chain, acquired as payment for long overdue debts to the government. A new company with 52 per cent ownership by the government and 24 per cent by farm laborers was created to handle all domestic and foreign sales of tobacco, as well as production planning and financing. "If Mexico moves toward the left," Flores de la Pena said, "it will be due to strong pressures from the powerful countries." When the head of a Monterrey industrial group accused the government of intervening in the economy at the expense of freedom, Deputy Minister of the Presidency Fausto Zapata said: "We are not headed toward a model of socialism by the state. Sacrifice of freedom or part of freedom in exchange for an expanded range of action...is not the road we've chosen."

Hal Boyle

Can Be Forced To Write

NEW YORK (AP) — Nothing will seem free in 1973.

But there is no reason for mankind to give up hope, according to our annual Fuzzy Forecast of the year ahead. A glance at the old crystal ball reveals both good news and bad news.

The good news is that jobs will become more plentiful. The bad news is that prices will go on rising, and more and more people will accept the viewpoint that inflation has become a permanent way of life in the United States.

A move will develop to abolish penny coins on the grounds that they clutter up the pockets, slow cash transactions and are no longer worth counting. Twenty years from now an ai-tempt will be made to drop the nickel for the same reasons.

A medical quack will announce that he has solved the problem of cancer and that it is on the edge of extinction. He will die of the disease himself later in the year.

Congress will ban cigarette-smoking during meetings in both the House and Senate chambers. The telling of lewd stories in the cloakrooms will also be prohibited. Snuff and chewing tobacco will continue to be allowed. A move to raise congressional salaries and pensions will be abandoned after voters stage a national chain letter protest.

Developments on the international front:

London will offer to set Wales and Scotland free if the struggling Irish will just settle down and behave themselves like the decent Englishmen they aren't.

In Paris, the French Academy will unanimously turn down a proposal that Americanese be taught as a second language in France.

A half-dozen mass riots and small wars will break out in Africa. They will die down soon, however, when the rest of a war-weary world refuses to pay any attention to them.

The loudest political laugh of the year will take place when Henry Kissinger opens a Christmas present from a well-wisher — and it turns out to be a brand new megaphone.

Billy Graham

Ralph Nader says we need a new Spartan ethic in this country. Do you agree, and is there any link between this idea and Christianity?

H.F.R. My dictionary says that "Spartan" means a person of great courage and fortitude. Apparently ancient Sparta produced that kind of person. Mr. Nader is right, because with the sort of problems America faces increasingly this year, the need becomes critical, not for better technology, but for better people. Our machines and our assets will only serve us in the purposes that we determine.

If we choose to major in self-indulgence, we'll get the reward of that, which is destruction. Rome proved that conclusively. If, however, we opt for those qualities of life that made America great in the first place — love of country, diligence in employment, a brotherly concern for our fellow men, then we'll come to the nation's 200th Anniversary in 1976 stronger than ever.

If we don't, I fear we may not make that birthday.

Christianity, with its process of repentance and faith, teaches a healthy respect for and control of one's body, which parallels the Spartan ethic, but adds a distinctive purpose in life, which is service to God and men. It's not strange today that psychologists are finding a real link between discipline and happiness. Got room for one more New Year's resolution? By faith, try what the great apostle Paul wrote about in First Corinthians chapter 9, "I am God's messenger... I run straight to the goal with purpose in every step."

A Devotion For Today

Hath the Lord as great delight in burnt offerings and sacrifices as in the voice of the Lord? Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice, and to hearken than the fat of rams. (I Samuel 15:22)

PRAYER: Dear Lord, let me not fail You in 1973 — this is my year of opportunity. The world no matter where I look, could not be needier. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Rosier Outlook

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — There are signs that 1973 will be a good year, economically speaking. Already some of the statistical data which the commerce department issues from month to month show that the composite index of leading business indicators moved ahead in November, as six of the eight indicators recorded higher figures.

NATURALLY, there had been hesitation during most of 1972 with respect to preparations for the coming year. How would the presidential election turn out? Would the result mean a shift in domestic policies? How would this affect American business?

As long as these questions were unanswered, there was a reluctance to make long-range plans. Now there is every evidence of an intention to expand rapidly in 1973. It is to be noted that among the increasing economic indicators were new orders for durable goods. This means that construction and business investment will continue to rise in the months ahead.

BUT THE index and statistics are not as impressive as the spirit that exists in American business today as compared with six to eight months ago.

There is a feeling in the business world that international trade has begun to grow and will continue to do so from now on. President Nixon, by his trips to Peking and Moscow, has stressed the need for closer commercial relationships between all countries. Necessary adjustments have been made in monetary systems which will help to enlarge the exports of various nations and stimulate the flow of imports to others. On the whole, there seems to be more emphasis on increasing world trade and less on building bigger armies and setting up stronger defenses.

UNFORTUNATELY, the United States recently went through a recession and a continuing high rate of inflation that required the imposition of some restrictions. The economy has not had the freedom that it might have if government controls could be set aside and prices adjusted in natural ways. According to the experts, 1973 will reflect the improvement of the consumer posture, as the individual's income increases and his purchasing power is felt in retail trade and in other categories.

THERE IS no doubt that the coming year will see many readjustments in the economy as unemployment is further reduced and the national output grows.

The business community is optimistic about the future. It sees opportunity in an enlarged foreign market and is confident of growth domestically. It doesn't like controls but thinks they will eventually be withdrawn.

IF DURING the next four years Mr. Nixon does a considerable amount of traveling abroad with the idea in mind of discussing trade relations everywhere, the result might be a better economic outlook for all the nations involved.

Seniority Test May Spark Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 93rd Congress convenes Wednesday amid indications the coming session could produce more fireworks than any since the late President Harry S. Truman took on the 80th Congress a quarter century ago.

Democrats, their Senate majority enlarged to 57 and their House losses held to 12 seats in the Nov. 7 election, are talking of challenging President Nixon on issues ranging from the Vietnam war to federal spending.

Sen. Robert C. Byrd, the assistant Democratic leader, says he has no doubt that efforts will be made to cut off money for the war unless an agreement is reached in Paris. But he said he personally will not support such efforts during the next 30 days, nor perhaps within the next 60 days, and feels that the real hope for peace lies in the negotiations in Paris.

ENERGY CRISIS

Questioned Sunday on NBC's "Meet the Press," Byrd offered this list of priorities:

"Hijacking legislation; legislation dealing with highways, trade, the extension of price and wage controls, strip mining, the energy crisis; I think the Congress will come to grips with the issue of separation of powers and I think that it will be more assertive of its rightful place in the constitutional system of checks and balances."

Internal reform could set off another battle in the early days of the new Congress. The seniority system of selecting committee chairmen is expected to be tested in the House where a move is under way to persuade the Democratic caucus to elect chairmen instead of appointing them on the basis of seniority.

A coalition of some 50 organizations calling itself the Committee on Congressional Reform is pushing for election of chairmen as well as another proposal to ban closed sessions of committees unless personnel matters or national security are being discussed.

FEDERAL SPENDING

One perennial Senate fight, over a proposal to modify the rule requiring a two-thirds vote to choke off filibusters, is not expected to come up this session.

Some liberal Democrats who have favored lowering the two-thirds rule to make it easier to cut off debate have had a change of mind. And Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., says he does not anticipate the issue will be raised this session. Some liberals, however, say at least a token effort may be made to modify the rule.

The biggest fights between Nixon and Congress are sure to be over the President's refusal to spend Congress-approved money in his effort to cut federal spending. Another area of conflict is his revenue-sharing approach which turns some of Congress' program control over to states and cities.

The President and Democratic leaders also are at loggerheads over extension of wage-price controls, national health insurance, tax reform, a higher minimum wage and Nixon's reorganization plan.

BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS

Q. 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠AQ94 ♥A106 ♦5 ♣AJ1095
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass
1 ♣ Pass 3 ♥ Pass
1 ♦ Pass 1 ♥ Pass

What do you bid now?
A.—Five hearts. A mere raise to four hearts would not be adequate. Up to this point you have not indicated that you have a hand of over minimum values. When partner jumps, you should do more than make a forced raise. With two hearts and two diamonds, four hearts would be the proper call. The recommended sequence describes a singleton in the fourth suit.

Q. 2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠AQ6 ♥AQJ4 ♦KQJ107 ♣5
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♦ 3 ♣ Pass Pass

What do you bid now?
A.—Double. The appropriate way to show strength of this hand is not by a reverse bid of three hearts or a jump bid in diamonds, either of which shows a strong hand, but neither of which allows for the possibility of your partner having a spade suit.

Q. 3—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠AQJ64 ♥K92 ♦AK4 ♣K5
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
Pass Pass 1 ♠ Pass
2 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Despite partner's previous pass, the prospects for a slam are extremely bright. It is almost inconceivable that partner is aceless, but if you have any quins you may try it out with blackwood, or at least bid four diamonds to observe partner's reaction. For a mere bid of four spades, a glaring demerit is in order.

Q. 4—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠J109742 ♥1083 ♦A4 ♣Q6
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♦ 3 ♣ Pass Pass
Dble. Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Four spades. Your hand has assumed great proportions now that partner has made a takeout double at the level of three. A bid of only three spades would indicate a forced response and would almost surely be passed by partner.

Q. 5—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠KQJ5 ♥AQ ♦K10987 ♣94
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♦ Pass 1 ♥ 2 ♣

What do you bid now?
A.—Two spades. This hand is, perhaps, a shade light for a reverse bid, but we consider it proper procedure in order to guard against being shut out of the spade suit. Partner should realize that you opened with one diamond in anticipation of re-bidding one spade over a possible heart response and developments have put you in a position where you must make a slightly aggressive bid.

Q. 6—With 60 part score, vulnerable, your partner opens one club. You hold:
♠K64 ♥KQJ105 ♦AK63 ♣7
What is your response?
A.—One heart. A jump shift is not recommended at this point. It is better to get in one free round of bidding which may permit a better basis for the decision on the next round.

Q. 7—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠KJ653 ♥87 ♦K3 ♣KQ65
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
Pass Pass 1 ♦ 1 ♥

What do you bid now?
A.—One spade. The jump shift is not indicated if you passed an optional opening. If partner has some shaded this hand opening with nothing in spades, you do not wish to apply the pressure. If he has a sound hand he will bid again and then will come your try for game.

Q. 8—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠95 ♥932 ♦AJ4 ♣AK976
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♣ Pass
2 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Three diamonds. This is not intended as an ace showing bid. Actually we are deliberately deceiving partner into believing we have a diamond suit so that he might contract for game in no trump if he holds the protection in hearts. Since we have the equivalent of an opening bid and partner has opened, there should be a game.

Lubbock Rites Held Saturday

Miss Cathy Dee Cone and Rick D. Kennedy, both of Lubbock, were married at three p.m. Saturday in the Tabernacle Baptist Church of Lubbock.

The Rev. E. L. Bynum, pastor, officiated, before an altar decorated with candles and arrangements of white carnations and gladioli interspersed with greenery.

A prelude of traditional wedding music was by Merel Nelson, organist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Roscoe Cone, 2609 Cindy, and Kennedy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe D. Kennedy of Albuquerque, N.M.

The bride was attired in a white velvet gown styled with long sleeves edged with soft lace at the wrists. The neckline was highlighted with clusters of seed pearls. Her illusion veil fell from a crown of seed pearls, pearl drops and white lace. She carried a cascade of white stephanotis centered with a white orchid and babies'-breath.

Miss Carolyn F. Smith of Oklahoma City, Okla., maid of honor, wore a floor-length gown of bright green velvet accented with a lace collar and lace trim on the sleeves. She carried a cascade of red carnations.

Kellie Cone, the bride's niece, was flower girl, wearing a floor-length red velvet dress with white lace accents. She carried a lace basket of red feathered carnations.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I used the pedestal part of a white plastic bird bath as an attractive candle holder.

My particular bird bath has the pedestal top open (when you remove the bowl of the bird bath), so I cut a piece of wood to fit in this little opening, but on some when you remove the bowl part you will find it just kinda clips on and the pedestal is solid. If this is the case you have no problem.

I used a candle and candle ring to go with the decor in my living room and was very pleased with the results.

At Christmas time I plan to use a green ring with a holiday arrangement in a milk glass container.

At the present I'm using a blue glass candle dish set in the ring with a blue candle.

My neighbor bronzed a bird bath pedestal and plans to use hers as a plant stand.

Arlene

LETTER OF THOUGHT

Dear Heloise:

Chicken and hamburger are the answer to planning economical meals today, but I've found that if your menu seems humdrum — bake some homemade rolls or bread and people think they have a feast.

For the money it costs, and the appreciation it gets, I think homemade bread is the best bargain today. And I'm talking about bread made from scratch. It isn't that hard to make either.

Stella Sayles

Dear Heloise:

My idea has to do with traveling!

After making your new clothes for the trip, pull out the round bobbins with the matching thread and drop these little bobbins into a plastic pill bottle.

Put a needle through the center of the bobbins and then snap on the lid.

This is an ideal repair kit for a button that has pulled off or a torn seam.

Irene Blakely

Dear Heloise:

I recently purchased an old-fashioned bed of iron and brass but the slats on the old bed were too short.

The delivery man had brought new ones which were made from 2 X 4's.

You can't imagine the difference it makes in the mattress. My mattress is 8 years old but feels like it's brand new.

Doris Elizabeth

Dear Heloise:

I'm one who loves to cook and try new recipes.

I used to go and get everything I needed to try a new recipe, and freeze it until I was ready to try the recipe.

However, when the time came that I wanted to use this (meat, fish or fowl) for my "special new" recipe, I couldn't remember where I had seen the recipe!

Now all I do is jot down the page and cookbook that particular package was bought for before I put it in the freezer.

Josephine Brabo

Dear Heloise:

When making deviled eggs, use the bottom, rounded surface of the spoon bowl (hold the spoon upside down) to scoop up the yoke mixture and stuff it into the hard-boiled white part.

It seems to work so much better.

Child Dental Clinic 'Fun'

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — You can hear the Portuguese-language equivalent of Little Red Riding Hood over the earphones by the dentist's chair. And your novocain comes in three artificial flavors: orange, peppermint and strawberry.

But those aren't the only differences in Dr. Maria Mendonca Pedrosos' child dental clinic. There are no parents around to hold your hand or pat you on the head. They are watching you through a closed-circuit television screen in the anteroom.

Your appointment is flexible, since the imaginative doctor believes you should be at ease before submitting yourself to treatment. That means you can bat on a toy typewriter, do a puzzle, watch fish rush about a huge aquarium or simply play with the other kids who came to have teeth pulled or checked.

"So far none of my clients has cried or made any sort of ruckus," the dentist says.

To many of the youngsters visiting her clinic, a dental appointment is becoming a synonym for fun.

Her experiment in providing a congenial, fairy land atmosphere has been so successful "some kids even have had their parents bring them back just so they could play around in the office."

When it comes to pulling the teeth, the doctor is loaded with gambits that help sway the child's attention from the business at hand. All the child's likes and dislikes, including his favorite topics of conversation, were put down on paper by the parents for the dentist's exclusive use.

"The child has to give up the idea the dentist is a boogyman and that his office is a torture chamber," Dr. Mendonca says explaining her secret.

FOCUS ON FAMILY LIVING

Work It Off Or Play It Off -- But Unwind Those Tensions!

By SHERRY MULLIN
County Extension Agent

"How can we learn to live with our tensions?"

As you make those new year's resolutions, consider resolving to accept and live with your tensions. We all have the classic reasons for tension in modern life. Tension and anxiety are normal reactions to threats against peace, safety and security for ourselves and the ones we love.

Let me give you Dr. W. Wyan Washburn's "Ten Commandments" for preventing tension or "unwinding" when it occurs. You may avoid an ulcer, an itch or a heart attack.

1. Work it off or play it off. Working or playing even for half an hour per day is very relaxing. Work off your anger or frustration by digging in the garden or around the flowers. A big bunch of grass or a stump can absorb a lot of "punishment," which your mind would like to give your boss, your spouse, or anyone who does not "understand" you.

2. Talk it out. Unload. Explode. Cry. Bring your problems to the surface. Do not pack them deep into yourself in silence. Confide your worries to some level-headed friend you can trust. It may be your wife, your husband, a minister, physician or an old school friend. Talking things out relieves the strain on you. A good honest cry is a "pop-off valve" for tension. These things may be all the treatment you need.

3. Take one day at a time — one thing at a time. Rome was not built in a day, but one stone or one brick at a time. If you face a mountain of endless things to do, don't try to do them all at once. Take one at a time, and do it well.

Sir William Osler, a famous American physician, many years ago advised his patients to divide life into "day-long compartments" as a way to gain composure and peace of mind.

4. Make a change. If the going is rough, escape for awhile. Read a book. See a movie. Even change jobs. Go back to school and learn to do something that deep down in your heart you always wanted to do. There are many ways to escape temporarily. Don't run away from your problem, but withdraw long enough to recover breath and balance.

5. Follow personal hygiene and health habits. Fighting tension begins with good health. Your habits of sleep, rest, exercise, body care, elimination, or the clothes you wear can make or break tension. A tight shirt collar can cause a head-ache. Heels too high can cause backache. Constipation can make you a bear. Overeating makes you sluggish. You know the answers. Be temperate. Use some part of every day for physical, mental and spiritual conditioning. Like the astronauts, prepare yourself today for the maximum effort tomorrow.

6. Omit stimulants. Many people are tired all the time because they drink too much coffee, tea, or soft drinks which contain caffeine. Some nervous systems get used to caffeine. For the others, it is like whipping a tired horse. If your body is over-stimulated all day, it is then hard to relax when you need sleep. If the cycle goes on and on, one is tempted to take a sleeping pill, then a wake-up pill . . . or alcohol or a narcotic. Then comes trouble.

7. Co-operate instead of compete. Is winning every argument so important? If your every act is a race against time, money, success, or the other fellow, somebody is bound to lose. It might be you. Give in occasionally. You could be wrong, you know. Competition is contagious, but so is cooperation.

8. Accept second best. Perfection is good, but it is expensive. You may make the most sales, live in the finest house, or have the shiniest kitchen, but it will cost you in tension and worry. Trying to be first leads to compulsiveness. This becomes a neurosis and you are tied in knots again. Shun the superman urge. Many lesser goals will give satisfaction.

9. See your doctor and dentist regularly. Do not assume your not feeling well is only "nerves" or tension. You may have a root abscess in a tooth, or you may be in the very early stages of some preventable or curable disease. It makes sense to do as good maintenance on your body as on your car or farm machinery.

10. Try religion. No medicine or surgery has ever been able to relieve tension the way a good case of religion can. The Golden Rule is still the best rule. If you are worried or anxious, do something for somebody else. If your trouble is "no shoes," seek out the man with "no feet." Forgive somebody for a real or fancied wrong. Go the second mile.

You freely accept the miracle of birth and the mystery of death. Why not just as freely accept all that happens in between?

Miss McGuire Weds Steven Michiel Hull

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Beverly Jean McGuire and Steven Michiel (Mike) Hull at 7:30 p.m., Friday in the College Baptist Church. The Rev. Floyd Hull, grandfather of the bridegroom, officiated.

The couple stood before an arch of cathedral tapers flanked by baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums. Palms of jade foliage completed the setting.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Monty McGuire, 601 E. 17th, and Mr. and Mrs. Buford Hull, Route 2, Box 166.

A prelude of traditional wedding music was provided by Mrs. D. M. Richardson, organist, who accompanied Russ Rainey, vocalist.

The bride chose a formal-length gown fashioned in candlelight peau de soie with long, fitted sleeves. The empire bodice was accented with a small self bow at the center front. Narrow scalloped lace daisies, centered with pearls, enhanced the deep cuffs, high collar, bodice and skirt front. The skirt swept to a full train which was attached at the waistline. Her shoulder-length illusion veil fell from a lace and pearl Juliet headpiece, and she carried a cascade of white roses tied with lace and French picot ribbon.

Mrs. Rodney Fuqua served as matron of honor, and Miss Susie McGuire, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Each attendant carried a single white rose. They were attired in identical floor-length gowns of royal blue velvet styled similarly to the bride's, but with accents of light blue velvet ribbon.

Richard Templeton was best man, and Ken Shaw served as groomsmen. Ushers and taper lighters were Lonnie Wright and Larry Sandridge, the bridegroom's brother.

LaDon Carder of Amarillo, the flower girl, wore a gown like the other attendants. Ring bearer was Steve Sandridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Hull both graduated from Big Spring High School. He attended Howard County Junior College and is employed as a roustabout for A. J. McNallen of Forsan. Following a trip to points in southern Texas, the newlyweds will reside at 600 Drake.

RECEPTION

gladioli and carnations with blue pompons on a branched silver candelabrum centered the serving table, which was covered with a blue linen cloth overlaid with white net. The tiered cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Lonnie Wright, and Miss Wanda Sandridge, the bridegroom's sister. Mrs. Ward Booth, another sister of the bridegroom, presided at the guest registry.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Terry, grandparents of the bridegroom, Mr.

Bridesmaid Luncheon Held Friday

A bridesmaids luncheon for attendants of Miss Shara Dee Hambrick, bride of Larry Wayne Cohorn, was held Friday in the home of Mrs. Bill Wallace.

Cohostesses were Miss Mary Ann Wallace, Mrs. Bill Etchison and Mrs. Chris Boyd.

The dining table was covered with a white lace-trimmed cloth and centered with a spray of tiny candles interspersed with assorted blue and white winter flowers.

Attendants honored included Mrs. Steve Wilkes, Lamesa, sister of Miss Hambrick; Mrs. Randy Hambrick, Lubbock; Mrs. Jim Kreier, Huntsville; Miss Sandra Cohorn, Lamesa, sister of the bridegroom; and Mrs. Freddie Hodnett.

Guests included the couple's mothers, Mrs. Bill Hambrick and Mrs. A. B. Cohorn, as well as Mrs. Curtis White, grandmother of the bride-elect.

'Sun' Queen Rules Today At El Paso

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Miss Kyle Reuel Barnhouse was named Queen of the 38th Annual Southwestern Sun Carnival here Saturday night during the annual coronation ball.

The new Sun Queen is a junior journalism major at the University of Texas-Austin and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barnhouse of El Paso.

First lady in waiting was Miss Rebecca Elisa Armijo, a UT-El Paso sophomore and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Armijo.

Second lady in waiting was Miss Lucille Dianne Pitzer also of UT-El Paso and the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Homer F. S. Pitzer Jr.

The Sun Coronation ceremony is a midway event in the sun carnival.

The new queen and her court will ride in the annual Sun Parade here today.

REHEARSAL

A rehearsal dinner was hosted Thursday by the bridegroom's parents at Coker's Restaurant. White linen cloths covered the dining tables which were centered with arrangements of blue flowers.

Avoid Floury Look

To avoid a floury look on the bottom of chocolate cookies and the bottom and sides of chocolate cakes, add a little softened cocoa to the flour with which you dust the greased pans.

A LOVELIER YOU New Turtle Oil Aims At Dry Skin Problems

By MARY SUE MILLER

A Lovelier asks: Is turtle oil effective? The claims sometimes made for it sound more like that short-distance runner the hare, than the tortoise who got there. My skin is very dry. I need advice.

The answer: There's been a new development in turtle oil for use on the face. It results from several years of painstaking research and testing. Tortoise-like!

The new version of turtle oil is aimed at extra dry areas around nose, eyes, mouth and chin, the disaster areas. Only a drop is used at a time. It is placed in the palm of the hand with a dropper and then finger patted on where needed.

The formula is a pure extract of turtle oil — 98.7 per cent pure, with very little admixture. Vitamins E, A, D are complements of it.

Bedtime applications come recommended when the face has been cleansed and will have a protracted period of relaxation. That way the extract has a long night to "get there," to soften and moisturize.

Turtle oil in any form appears a bit exotic to us. But it is as old as Egypt. The beauties of antiquity relied on it. Travelers at the turn of the century and later, purchased vials at great price in the Near East. And brought the stuff home to be marveled at and envied.

You must use any skin product faithfully for at least a month before you can judge its efficacy for you. If possible, buy a small size on the first try. You are right to investigate its content and application. Just so turtle oil extract is now up to you.

DRY SKIN BEAUTY

For ways to keep past-30 skin smooth and "dewy," order my leaflet, "New Beauty for Dry Skin." It tells in personalized steps how to cleanse, correct, protect and make up for dryness. To obtain your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 15 cents in coin.

Wash Splashes From Hosiery

Slush-spattered hose will spoil the effect of an otherwise well-groomed appearance. Those splashes are easy to wash away with a sudsy cloth once you reach your destination. Later with soap suds, wipe your legs right through the nylons and the soiled spots will disappear.

Beauty Who Forgot Speech Wins 'Cotton Maid' Crown

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A Dallas, Tex., beauty is the 1973 maid of cotton and in a slightly ironic twist, her first major official duty will be to go home.

The schedule for Debra Ann Ploch, 20, calls for her to participate in events of this weekend's Cotton Bowl festival in Dallas.

Debra, a brown-haired, brown-eyed lass majoring in English and Spanish at the University of Texas in Austin, was crowned Friday night from a field of 20 lovelies from 13 of the nation's cotton-producing states.

Debra won despite a lapse in her speech on the benefits of cotton. The 17th girl to speak, she faltered at first and then there was silence.

DRAWS BLANK

"I'm afraid I've drawn a blank," she said. She then turned and walked quietly into the darkened backstage.

"I really thought I had blown it. I just thought it was not meant to happen," Debra said later. "I couldn't even remember the context of my speech."

"I'm incredulous. I'm in a daze," was her first comment as the band played "Days of Wine and Roses" and the announcer gave her name as the winner.

Chosen as first runner-up for the title was Marlon James, 19, of Cedar Hill, Tex., and second runner-up was Vivian Craig, 20, of Stanley, N.C.

Also among the five finalists named by the judges was a Tennessee girl—Janet Porter, 21, of Humboldt—and a Louisiana girl—Lexie Woodard, 21, of Ruston.

"Oh, my gosh, I'm looking forward to sailing on a junk in the far east," said the 1973 Maid after her crowning by another Texas beauty, Debbie Wright of Tahoka, Tex., the 1972 Maid of Cotton.

SAILING

The new Maid is an avid sailing enthusiast and does some sailing instruction.

Her connection to cotton, she explained, was through her great-grandfather, who raised it in Karnes City, Tex. Her father, Harold A. Ploch, is a regional officer in Dallas for International Business Machines.

Debra has a grade average of 83 out of 100 at her university and also manages to sandwich—in part-time work for a Dallas department store when she is at home.

LOVELY GIRLS

She won't be seeing much of classes during the coming year. The Maid of Cotton, as the industry's goodwill ambassador, travels the world to promote the fiber, in wardrobes provided, of course, by the industry.

"The thing I'll remember about this week are the wonderful friends I've made," said Debra of her fellow contestants. "They are all lovely girls."

Debra is not new to beauty pageant and is a nominee for up in the Miss Texas Universe pageant and is a nominee for Texas Cowboy Sweetheart. A reception for Debra was held under sponsorship of the Memphis Cotton Carnival Association following the crowning.

The National Cotton Council, which conducts the annual contest, staged a news conference for the winner today.

The new maid was selected by a seven-member panel of judges, including two former maids of cotton, which was headed by Dr. Zelma Patches, associate dean of student affairs at Oklahoma State University.

CELEBRATING THE NEW YEAR—Revelers jam Times Square in New York early today as they join in boisterous celebration of the new year. An estimated 300,000 persons packed the square to mark the traditional moment.

Many Americans Planning To Spend Day In Front Of TV

By The Associated Press

The New Year came one second late for revelers around the world this year as observatories adjusted their clocks to more precise alignment with the earth's rotation.

Not many noticed the extra second, of course, but Russell Brown was in a quandary.

Brown presides over the annual lowering of the illuminated ball on the Allied Chemical Tower in Manhattan's Times Square, the symbol for millions of American television viewers of the passing of the old year.

GOD FORBID

"God forbid anything should go wrong in the world for a full second," he said, laughing.

"But 11:59:61 is going to look very funny at the bottom of everybody's TV screen, right?"

Celebrations by ordinary citizens around the world today were expected to coincide at times with New Year's messages for 1973 from heads of state.

Many Chinese were to spend the day in movie houses, watching a color documentary film on the meeting of Chairman Mao Tse-tung and Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, the Viet Cong's chief negotiator at the Paris peace talks.

END THE WAR

Calls for an end to war in 1973 were heard from such heads of state as Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin, who demanded "the earliest signing by the United States of an agreement on a cease-fire and restoration of peace in Vietnam."

Indonesian President Suharto called on all "disputing parties" in Vietnam to eschew violence in favor of "good will and honesty."

SPECIAL MESSAGE

Denmark's young Queen Margrethe had a special New Year's message for Danes, her first since succeeding to the throne after her father's death last January.

In light of the Vietnam bombing halt Saturday, she said in her message: "The news of the last 24 hours leads us to hope that peace may now finally come to that unfortunate country."

Meanwhile, many Americans also called for company payment toward the cost of hospitalization insurance to be increased by $5 per month effective Jan. 1, 1974. The company will continue to pay total costs of such insurance for single employees.

Some improvements in pensions are included, he said, and effective Jan. 1, 1974, premium pay for night work will be increased to 20 cents per hour on evening shifts and 40 cents hourly on overnight shifts.

The company and union also agreed to the establishment of a joint labor management health and safety committee at company costs, he said.

Although each company and each plant must negotiate the contracts separately, most companies traditionally have used the first settlement as a model, a union spokesman said.

The OCAW represents about 60,000 oil workers nationally. Most are employed along the Gulf Coast, in the Great Lakes Region, in California and on the East Coast.

Four years ago the OCAW called a strike which lasted as long as six weeks at some localities. Minor fuel shortages were reported in some cities during the strike.

The settlement with American's Texas City refinery was the first of 415 contracts to be negotiated. The OCAW represents workers with nearly all major oil companies as well as workers on some pipelines, marketing terminals and petrochemical companies.

Grosprion said the agreement with American Oil calls for wage increases of 6 per cent effective Jan. 1—an average of about 30 cents per hour—and an additional 27 cents per hour effective Jan. 1, 1974.

The union had asked for a $1 per hour increase over two years. The average hourly salary for OCAW members is $4.95, a union spokesman said.

Killer Gunned Down By Deputy

HOUSTON (AP) — Two men as the prisoner tried to stab him.

The wounded prisoner died an hour later while undergoing surgery. He was shot in the chest.

Lanham was convicted last October in the brutal rape-murder of Linda Faye Sutherland, 21, and given a 25-year sentence. Miss Sutherland was abducted from a parking lot.

The other two men, James Earl Arivette, 28, and James Winters, 18, were back in jail within an hour.

Sheriff's Capt. Larry Frazier said jailer Walter S. Corney was transporting the men on a jail elevator when Lanham whipped out a homemade knife and told the jailer to let them off at the jail entrance on the third floor.

There Lanham grabbed Deputy James Nickle and forced him to accompany the three men down a fire escape. But Nickle managed to break away from Lanham, ran back to his office, snatched a pistol out of his desk and shot Lanham just raped, thrown off a bridge and killed with a shotgun.

Arivette, who was recaptured on the jail parking lot, was being held on kidnaping and armed robbery charges. He
