GIRL SLOWLY FROZE TO DEATH AT HIS SIDE

Man Survives Mountain Storm

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (AP) — Clint Miller, 24, recovering in a hospital from frostbite, recalled today how a 17-year-old girl mountain climber slowly froze to death at his side.

Miller, son of Maricopa County Manager Charles Miller, started climbing Arizona's highest mountain, 13,000-foot Mt. Humphreys, with five other members of the Arizona Mountaineering Club Sunday.

When savage winds up to 80 miles per hour tore their tents and swirled snow five feet deep around their hastily-erected camp Sunday night, Miller suffered frostbite and was left behind as four hikers walked to Flagstaff for help.

STAYED WITH HIM

Allison Clay of Scottsdale, less seriously frostbitten, stayed with him.

Miller said the weather was clear Monday morning and he and Miss Clay thought the hikers would be in Flagstaff in a couple of hours with rescue no later than noon that day.

But the storm picked up again, the powdery snow forcing Coconino County Sheriff's deputies to abandon a tracked vehicle and battle their way through waist-deep snow on foot.

"She started getting scared when they weren't back in a few hours," Miller recalled.

"She was looking at her watch, just starting at it, waiting for the rescue to come.

"We were both sitting in our glacier tent, not doing much, just trying to conserve energy. She was too shaken to do anything. I tried to get her to untie a knot, and it took about a half hour. She just couldn't concentrate."

SHE REFUSED BAG

They just waited there, Miller said, huddled in separate sleeping bags. Miller said he suggested that he and Miss Clay climb into the same bag for warmth, but she refused, and he did not force the issue.

"She hardly said anything," Miller said. "We didn't talk about what we were feeling, whether we might die or anything like that."

At 7 p.m. Monday, Miller said, Miss Clay's fear began turning to panic. She started begging Miller to go with her down the mountain.

"I told her, no way," Miller said. "We didn't even have snow shoes. Neither one of us could walk. Her feet were frost-bitten bad, and mine were frozen solid."

COULDN'T TALK

Later she became incoherent, Miller said.

"She couldn't talk," he said. "She was slurring her words. I tried to get her to talk but she just moaned and groaned. A couple of times I think she was crying."

Miller said he was about six inches away from the girl, face to face, and awake most of the night. He thinks she died sometime before dawn Tuesday.

"She was real quiet, and I reached over and grabbed her and started shaking her," he said. "But she was frozen."

FROST BITE

Doctors said Miller has been doing well since he was taken to Flagstaff Community Hospital by Air Force helicopter. It will be several days before they know whether his frozen hands or feet will require amputation.

Mason Skiff, 17, of Phoenix and Rick Hufnagel, 19, of Scottsdale also are reported doing well at the Flagstaff hospital, while Cynthia Johnson, 17, of Scottsdale, was released with minimal frostbite to the hands.

The sixth hiker, Douglas Rickard, 20, of Phoenix, was listed in good condition in a Phoenix hospital.

TEXANS

Get Ready For Nasty Weather

By The Associated Press

Winter swung another mean punch at Texas today, raising prospects for the state's second siege of nasty weather within less than a week.

There already was freezing drizzle in the north part of the Texas Panhandle as a big mass of arctic air pushed southward in early morning along a line from Wichita Falls to Lubbock.

More light snow or rain was promised over most of West Texas tonight and Friday, and prospects were seen for occasional showers or drizzle in other sections.

Officials forecasts held out chances Wednesday night for some of the snow to spread into North Central Texas but their predictions today made no mention of snowfall in that area.

Travel warnings were out for icy roads in the Texas Panhandle and for near-zero visibility because of early morning fog in several counties around Victoria near the coast.

Temperatures near dawn dropped to 20 degrees at Dalhart in the Panhandle, where it also was foggy, 21 at Amarillo, 25 at El Paso, 26 at Lubbock, 27 at Childress, 28 at Abilene, 29 at Wichita Falls, 30 at Midland and 32 at Wink. Readings at other points stood in the higher 30s to low 50s except for a 62 at Brownsville.

Sunshine warmed much of the state Wednesday before the fresh onslaught of cold, sending afternoon temperatures into the 60s at many points. The top marks ranged from 69 at Alice in South Texas down to 43 at Amarillo in the Panhandle.

Jumbo Jetliner Bomb Threat

NEW YORK (AP) — A jumbo jetliner from Madrid with 223 persons aboard was diverted today from Kennedy Airport to mile-high Denver, Colo., after a telephoned threat that a bomb was aboard set to go off below 3,000 feet, Trans World Airlines said.

A TWA spokesman here said the telephone call was made to an airline office in Madrid after the plane was airborne. He added that the call was an extortion threat, but did not elaborate.

In Madrid, airport sources reported the caller had demanded 15 million pesetas, or about $206,000, to say where the bomb was planted.

TWA said the jetliner was flying to Denver, which is 5,280 feet high, via an arctic route.

"Apparently it was a hoax, but we are taking every precaution," he said.

The Boeing 747 was TWA's flight 903 which left Madrid at 5:20 a.m. EST and was due in New York at 12:25 p.m. EST. There were 218 passengers and 15 crew members aboard, TWA said.

Average Rainfall Reported In 1972

Total rainfall hit the 72-year-average at the Big Spring Experiment Station on the nose at 18.42 inches but much of it came during the wrong time of the year for cotton farmers.

Rainfall during the first half of 1972 was below average, Bill Fryrear, location leader, said, leaving an above average amount for the rest of 1972.

Instead of large amounts in April and May, a larger amount fell in August, September and October.

Associated with light rains were cloudy, cool days that stayed too long below 70 degrees, the minimum growing temperature, Fryrear said.

Meteorologists predict several years of below average rainfall during the 1970s, Fryrear said. They base this projection on sun spot activity, which seems to be correlated to droughts.

Vote To Support Cut In War Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democrats voted 36-11 today to support a policy cutting off funds for the Vietnam war immediately.

The resolution, similar to one adopted by House Democrats Tuesday was sponsored in the Senate Democratic Conference by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

Its only conditions to a complete stop of funds for the war were arrangements to insure safe withdrawal of American troops, return of American prisoners of war and accounting for Americans missing in action.

The conference earlier rejected by one vote, 24-23, a resolution by Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., to invite President Nixon to meet with the Legislature Faces Thorny Problem, Rosson Reminds

What to do about school financing easily could get to be the thorniest problem facing the legislature when it convenes next Tuesday.

This is the opinion of Rep. Renal B. Rosson who will be the state representative from the 63rd district comprised of Howard, Mitchell, Scurry, Borden and Dawson Counties. He now ranks sixth in seniority in the House, a vantage point that may see him land up on several key committees.

If the U.S. Supreme court upholds the Rodriguez case in which the ad valorem system of taxation was held inherently unequal for financing schools, then the legislature is facing a whole new school support ball game.

Shifting the burden to other sources could prove a regular mare's nest.

On the other hand, if the court turns the Rodriguez case back with a decision that the matter is best left to the states to solve with equality to all pupils, Texas faces the Herculean task of overhauling its ad valorem system.

Representing a non-urban territory, Rep. Rosson is apprehensive that rural property might be raised sharply on the basis of fluctuating market values and without relation to the productivity of the land.

"This could be a dangerous situation," he said. "We don't want to be saddled with something that would cripple our economy.

"Perhaps there are other sources which ought to have the privilege of sharing in the load," Rosson said.

Rep. Rosson said he was among those who thought the Gilmer-Aiken minimum foundation program had proven basically sound but that it undoubtedly needed over-haul if not refinement to reduce inequities.

Any plan will get back to money, and thus appropriations and taxes figure to be vital matters in the legislative scheme. Financing primaries, and consideration of changes in election laws could also get to be hot potatoes.

Rep. Rosson said he would go to Austin Sunday and be in on some pre-conferences in advance of the legislative sessions.

REFUSES TO TRIM BONDS Two Brothers Accused Of Kidnaping Socialite

DALLAS (AP) — The two men charged with kidnaping a Dallas socialite remained jailed today in lieu of bonds of $100,000 each after being bound over to a grand jury.

At their examining trial Wednesday the accused men's lawyer requested that the bond be cut to $10,000 apiece, saying his clients couldn't make the bond. Justice of the Peace Robert E. Cole refused the request to lower bond for Franklin Joseph Ransnette, 33, and Woodrow Holmes Ransnette, 31.

The Ransnette brothers are charged with the Dec. 19 kidnaping of Amanda Dealey, 22, wife of Joseph M. Dealey Jr., a member of the Dallas Morning News publishing family.

She was abducted from the car parked outside her home in University Park about 5 p.m. and was released about 6 a.m. Dec. 22 after $250,000 had been paid in ransom. The ransom money was recovered.

FBI special agent Charles T. Brown Jr. posed as a friend of the Dealey family and actually made the money drop. He took over reception of the telephone calls from the kidnapers after the initial call had been made to Joe M. Dealey Sr., at Dealey's home.

Brown said he was directed to take the bag of money to a telephone booth at a grocery store, where he would get further instructions to take the money.

"I was warned that if there were any tricks or funny business, I would have a 'scope rifle at my head at all times and I'd get it," said the FBI agent.

After the last of four or five more calls, Brown testified that he was to go to Park Lane, in North Dallas and deposit the money near a light post.

Brown said it was past 3 a.m. when he got back to the Dealey residence. He said it was about 5:25 a.m. when he received a call, saying where Mrs. Dealey could be found.

After picking up Mrs. Dealey, Brown testified he later went with a sheriff's deputy to an apartment in Garland where he said he saw the orange money bag.

Deposits Up 9 Per Cent In Howard County Banks

	Dec. 31, '72	Dec. 31, '71	Gain
Loans and discounts	$32,859,452.42	$29,227,941.40	$3,631,511.02
Deposits	68,582,162.91	62,915,648.08	5,666,514.83
Cash	12,825,035.33	13,139,302.74	(314,267.41)
Total Resources	75,470,787.92	69,105,313.93	6,365,473.99

Deposits jumped nine per cent over a year ago and set a new record of $68,582,162 for the fourth Howard County banks of Dec. 31, 1972. Specifically the increase was $5,666,514.

Loans and discounts also set a new record as did total resources. Cash alone did not set a record, because more of the funds were now invested in government and other securities.

These figures were revealed Thursday in response to a call for condition as of the end of the year by the U.S. Comptroller of Currency and the State Banking Commissioner.

Loans and discounts amounted to $32,859,452, up $3,631,511 of 12 per cent over the same date a year ago; cash was $12,825,035, down $314,267, or 2.4 per cent; Total resources were $75,470,787, up $6,365,473, or 9.2 per cent. The previous high for cash was set at the end of 1970 when the banks had $16,221,588 on hand.

In addition to the booming figures in loans deposits and total resources, the banks had considerable liquidity through investments. The picture shaped up like this: U.S. bonds $6,399,554.74, up $1,066,016.30; other bonds $16,118,818.14, up $121,017.72; federal funds sold $3,500,000, down $500,000; total $26,018,372.88, down $687,084.02.

Had not the cotton harvest been delayed, the bank figures likely would have been substantially higher.

By individual banks the figures were:

FIRST NATIONAL — Loans and discounts $17,735,904.98 deposits $34,637,697.05, cash

$6,102,315.93, total resources $38,172,705.61. In addition the bank had $1,083,344.89 in U.S. bonds, $8,975,255.17 in other bonds, $3,000,000 in federal funds sold.

STATE NATIONAL — Loans and discounts $8,683,907.83, deposits $21,866,082.26, cash $4,404,230.69, total resources $23,549,795.89. In addition the bank had $3,975,528.37 in U.S. bonds, $4,270,142.81 in other bonds, and $2,000,000 in federal funds sold.

SECURITY STATE — Loans and discounts $4,422,147.26, deposits $9,031,185.55, cash $1,673,178.76, total resources $10,232,693.76. In addition the bank had $818,681.48 in U.S. bonds, $2,547,283.58 in other bonds, and $500,000 in federal funds sold.

COAHOMA STATE — Loans and discounts $2,017,493.25, deposits $3,047,198.05, cash $645,309.95, total resources $3,324,592.66. In addition the bank had $522,000 in U.S. bonds and $326,136.58 in other bonds.

Vickers Lands Job As State Demo Director

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Harrison Vickers, a 24-year-old Houston lawyer whose first political activity was managing Dolph Briscoe's Harris County campaign last year, will be the state Democratic party's new executive director.

State Chairman Calvin Guest of Bryan announced the appointment Wednesday. "We are extremely fortunate to have a young man of Harrison Vickers' caliber," Guest said, calling him "a brilliant young attorney."

Vickers said his responsibilities would include "making the internal operations of the party more efficient" and retiring "a rather large debt." The debt, about $20,000, was incurred "over a period of time for printing, decorations for conventions and other things," Vickers said.

Vickers has been in Austin since Nov. 15 working on arrangements for the inaugural ball to be held the evening before Dolph Briscoe and Bill Hobby are sworn in as governor and lieutenant governor Jan. 16. That ball is a major part of the debt repayment plan, he said.

A native of Orange, Vickers received a law degree from the University of Houston where he taught for one year before entering practice with Miller, Gann, Perdue and Draughn in Houston.

Harris County was not a Briscoe stronghold, giving him less than 40 per cent of its vote in the June primary runoff with Rep. Frances Farenthold of Corpus Christi and about 46 per cent of the November general election vote when his opponent was Sen. Henry Grover. Grover is a Houston resident, and Mrs. Farenthold moved there several months ago.

Vickers' appointment probably will go before the State Democratic Executive Committee for approval, a committee member said. The rules do not specifically require such approval, but it has been the normal practice followed by SDEC chairman, the committee member said.

New Assistant Director Of Band Arrives Here

Gene Currie, 37, Abilene, began work as assistant band director at Big Spring High School Wednesday.

As assistant to Bill Bradley, band director, he will work with the stage band and second high school band. His main interests include woodwinds and music theory.

Currie holds a bachelor's degree in music education and 1971 masters of music from Hardin Simmons University. He was working as a salesman prior to coming to Big Spring. At the same time, he taught stage band, theory and woodwind majors at Howard Payne College in Brownwood. For two years, he taught high school music in Rosamond, Calif., a suburb of Los Angeles.

A member of the Fort Worth Musicians Union, he plays piano professionally. He has made appearances in Abilene at the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, Ringling Brothers Circus and Walt Disney Show.

He and his wife, the former Barbara Fields of Childress, have one son, Jamie, 11 months.

Mrs. Currie has earned bachelor and master degrees from Hardin Simmons University in physical education. She has been teaching girls' basketball at Hardin Simmons for 11 years. They are members of the Baptist church.

Educational Center Is Approved For Lamesa

The activation of an educational center at Lamesa for the spring semester has been virtually assured, Dr. Thomas Salter, president of Howard County Junior College said today.

He, together with Tony Wynn, HCJC vice president, Alvin Canady, superintendent of Lamesa Schools, and Dr. Al Langford, Midland College president, were in Austin Tuesday and Wednesday with a conference with Texas Education Agency and the Coordinating Board for Texas Colleges and Universities.

Lamesa, through the education committee of its Chamber of Commerce, obtained returns on 978 survey forms which indicated an interest in Lamesa taking college-credit work at home through HCJC and Midland College.

An agreement was reached where the first semester program will be administered through HCJC. Both academic and vocational courses will be available.

Wynn, who will be assigned a major responsibility in working out the program with Lamesa, said he will be in touch with Supt. Canady and others to make arrangements for registration at Lamesa, coincidental with the HCJC spring semester registration in Big Spring. When course offerings have been firm for the Lamesa Center, Dr. Salter and Canady will make another trip to Austin for the final blessing from the coordinating board.

The proposal for the center drew praise from TEA and coordinating board representatives, who indicated this might become a pilot project for extending off-campus educational opportunities.

Both Midland and Howard County colleges will work for the passage of legislation which will permit students who pay tuition to one college to also take work at another without having to pay tuition again. The tuition and fees would be prorated among the colleges in which the student studies. This would permit Lamesa students to take work either at HCJC or Midland College, or those in Midland College also to take work at the University of Texas Permian Basin in Odessa.

In addition to Dr. Salter and Wynn, Dr. Langford, and Supt. Canady, those participating in the parley included Dr. Tom Hatfield, assistant commissioner for program planning; Walter Guttman, director of finance planning; Dr. Ray Hawkins, director of community colleges; Dr. Bevington Reed, director, all of the coordinating board, and Jim Haynie, Texas Education Agency.

Put On Probation After Brutal Rape

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — As required by state law, two boys have been placed on probation instead of in jail for beating, raping, robbing and burning an 84-year-old widow in a housing project last November.

The defendants, 11-year-old Victor Arce and 10-year-old Ronald Irby, pleaded guilty and were put on probation Tuesday by Common Pleas Court Judge Vito N. Pisciotta.

"In the case of a youth under 12 years old, the state can't commit him unless he has a prior contact with the authorities," said Lewis P. Mitrono, the district attorney's office.

The youths had been charged with burglary, robbery, rape, assault with intent to ravish, vandalism, aggravated assault and battery, damage to private property and indecent assault.

Police said the woman let the boys into her apartment after they told her they would do her shopping for her.

During the next four days, police said, the boys took $200 of the widow's money, spray-painted graffiti on the walls, wrecked the apartment, raped her, cut her hair and burned her breast and stomach with matches and a heated steel comb.

The woman finally was rescued when a social worker made a routine visit.

The victim told police she was too terrified to seek help, even when the boys left her apartment periodically, because they threatened to kill her if she told anyone of the attacks.

Thomas Arce has been sent to a detention center. The trial of the fourth boy has been delayed.

Membership on the Y team is open to local youths who are members of the YMCA. Two-hour workouts are held three times weekly, Monday, Wednesday and Friday, under the direction of Kendra Smiley, swim coach. Interested persons may obtain more information by calling the YMCA, 267-8234.

GOSPEL SINGER LEE CASTRO

Baptist Temple Church Features Famed Singer

The Baptist Temple will celebrate the Tenth Anniversary of Pastor and People Sunday with the visit of a renowned Gospel singer, Lee Castro.

The Rev. James A. Puckett has been at the Baptist Temple since it was established 10 years ago.

Castro has sung at the Pastor's Conference of the Southern Baptist Convention in St. Louis, Southern Baptist Convention in Philadelphia, Evangelism Conference in Frankfurt, Germany, at a city-wide crusade in Cali, Columbia and in Panama.

With two album recordings behind him, Castro is making a third and a fourth is planned in Spanish.

The native of San Diego, Texas, was reared in Corpus Christi and works out of Wichita Falls. He is a 1964 graduate of the University of Corpus Christi and an ordained pastor.

Castro will make three singing appearances Sunday. The Rev. Mr. Puckett said they have set a goal of 400 in attendance at the 10 a.m. Sunday service for those from eight years of age through high school.

The featured singer also is slated for the 11 a.m. worship service and 7:15 p.m. service.

Lions Seek New Members

Downtown Lions are continuing their emphasis upon member enlistment, and Dan Patterson, program chairman, told the club Wednesday Lions have no apology to make in inviting others to join them.

"This is because of the service record of the club, he said, a record that can be improved with more member strength.

Ernie Boyd, club secretary, underlined Patterson's statement by pointing out that the club spent $500 in December alone just on sight conservation.

Included were expenses of one eye operation plus numerous eye glasses to needy children and adults. This is but one of the programs which the Lions push to help individuals and the community.

Jim Lemons, president, reminded of the mid-winter conference in Ozona Jan. 13 when the Big Spring clubs will seek the 2A-1 convention for this spring.

He agreed afterwards with John Peace, a San Antonio lawyer who is chairman of the UT Board of Regents, who said, "We look forward to it (UT-San Antonio) being at least the second largest institution in the UT system before time is up."

At present, UT-Austin remains the largest in the system, said LeMaistre, with an enrollment of 39,500.

LeMaistre said after the groundbreaking there eventually will be "no dental school larger than" the UT Dental School at San Antonio and the medical school at San Antonio will be among the largest in the nation.

Until the dental and nursing schools are completed on tracts adjacent to the medical school in the South Texas Medical Center, they will continue to be housed in the medical school.

Flammable Chemical Leaks Snag Work At Corpus Port

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — A toxic and highly flammable chemical leading from a sunken barge kept the Port of Corpus Christi closed today.

Authorities ordered all electric lights off and barred motor vehicles for several blocks around the point where the Lines of Houston, went down stern first Wednesday night while offloading 9,600 barrels of vinyl acetate.

Until salvage crews could raise the barge, officials said there was no way of telling how much of the volatile had escaped evaporating almost instantly.

They said the principal danger was from an explosion if a spark reached a concentration of the fumes, although they could cause death if breathed in large quantity.

Workers donned special breathing equipment to avoid such effects as dizziness and eye pains.

The captain of the tug New Work, Jim Hutton, said the bilge tanks overflowed and caused the barge to sink.

To lessen the danger of explosions or fire, a Central Power & Light Co. plant across Corpus Christi Bay and the Centex Cement Co. plant with a big kiln were shut down along with several smaller operations.

Crewmen evacuated a Mexican merchantman, the Maya, which was docked close to the barge.

A light south breeze fanned the noxious vapors away from Corpus Christi for a time. Later, as the wind died down, authorities kept close watch to make sure there was no threat to any occupied places.

Port officials said they had not been able to determine where the chemical was leaking from open tank hatches or through a ruptured feed line.

The barge apparently sank while the bilge tanks were being filled with sea water to match the loss of cargo as it was being pumped ashore.

Snowstorm Churns Across Intermountain Section

By The Associated Press

Bitter winter weather plagued the Intermountain region, the Midwest and New England today, cutting off electric power and closing schools and highways.

A new snowstorm churned across the Intermountain region, where travel advisories were posted. Public officials and their critics in Salt Lake City were at each other's throats over snow-clogged streets that have left that city bound up since late last week.

Arctic cold pushed into the midcontinent as far south as Oklahoma. In Kansas, 75,000 customers of the Kansas City Power & Light Co. were without electricity at various times Wednesday and early today as ice-laden trees and power lines cluttered the streets and 5 inches of snow covered the glaze.

Parts of Nebraska, Missouri and Iowa were affected by the blizzard that closed many schools and made driving throughout the region hazardous.

Derailments Upset Katy In Oklahoma

WOODWARD, Okla. (AP) — The Katy Railroad was trying today to get its first train in two weeks through to Woodward, an official said.

The Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad is to abandon the 334-mile western Oklahoma line Jan. 15, and no train has made it to Woodward since Dec. 20 because of decipid tracks.

"Every time you call a train out there you have a derailment," Katy vice president Otto C. Putsche said in Denison, Tex.

"That's why we're trying to abandon that damn thing out there. There's no ballast in the roadbed and the ties are rotten and every time there's a train the whole thing shifts around and the trains derail. We're tied up there somewhere every day."

"But the train is at Elk City now and we're going to go north first thing Thursday morning, and if we have a successful trip it will get to Woodward."

Putsche said there also have been derailments in the Oklahoma Panhandle. Woodward is in far Northwestern Oklahoma.

George Balch, manager of Woodward Cooperative Elevator Association, said he had 80 carloads of grain waiting.

Good Decision

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

THE END: (Q.) During basketball season last year I met Pat who is a cheerleader. In the bus coming home from games, I would sit next to her and put my arm around her. She would get real close and everything, and we really enjoyed it.

Later we went to other places and had fun. But all of a sudden at the end of school she sat me down and said that she had discussed it with her parents and her friends and she didn't want to see me anymore. She said her parents didn't want her to get hurt.

Ever since then I have been suffering. I think she likes me and that her decision to break up wasn't what she wanted at all. Please tell me what to do. — 18 and Wounded in Virginia.

(A.) Pat may have got advice from others, but her decision was her own, and she appears to have stuck with it. It looks to me like a good decision. It is better for most girls to have a good time with several boys than to be too warm and cozy with one.

Pat has gone her way. Go your way now and find other girls to have fun with. Pat doesn't have a monopoly on fun.

HEAVY LOAD: (Q.) I am 13. My mother drinks. My father is a junkie. My stepfather knows we are in trouble but he is confused and does nothing about it, or anything.

My mother threatens to kill me. She doesn't answer me when I ask her a question. I need a doctor, but we have no money for one, or for medicine. A girl friend and I are planning to run away. — 13, Female and Discouraged in Washington, D. C.

(A.) I beg you not to run away. Your mother needs help. Go to your minister, or to your counselor at school. Tell him what you have told me. Ask him to help you find the right agency in your community to help your family.

Your problems may be too big for you to solve alone, but you are big enough to seek help in solving them. Do it today.

(Jean Adams reads and considers every letter, but she regrets that she cannot answer each personally. Mail your questions and comments to Jean Adams, care of The Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 3482, Houston, Texas 77061.)

No Theft, Says Court

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals reversed and remanded today a 10-year sentence for J. D. Brewer of Lubbock, who allegedly "converted" a rented typewriter to his own use.

Brewer rented the typewriter from Hubert Russell on June 29, 1970, paying $37.50 for the first and last month of the six-month agreement. But the check was returned marked "Account Closed."

Less than a month after he rented the machine, Brewer was in jail and remained there throughout the term of the rental agreement, according to court records.

"The mere proof that a defendant did not return the property is not sufficient to show a conversion," the appeals court said.

U.S. Population 210,194,312

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States started the new year with a population of 210,194,312, the Census Bureau has estimated. The bureau said Sunday that the net gain in population during 1972 was 1.6 million, a slowdown from 1971's 2 million and 1970's 2.2 million. The largest annual net increase was 3.1 million in 1956. The estimate includes the populations of the 50 states and the District of Columbia, the armed forces and federal employees overseas and their dependents living with them.

SCHREINER, JACKSONVILLE VIE Hawks Play Wranglers In ABC Meet Tonight

Season tickets for the third annual American Business Club Olympic Classic Basketball Tournament, which starts at 7 o'clock this evening and continues each night through Saturday, can be purchased at the gate.

The tickets cost $2.50 each and are good for all six games. The tickets for home games of the HCJC Jayhawks are, of course, not good for the meet.

The four teams entered in the tournament have won a total of 43 games while losing only 21. All the quintets have winning records, although some of them may not have by the time they leave here.

The pairings:
THURSDAY — Schreiner Institute vs Jacksonville Baptist, 7 p.m.; Howard County JC vs Cisco, 9 p.m.
FRIDAY — Cisco vs

DAVID MATTHEWS
Schreiner, 7 p.m.; Jacksonville Baptist vs HCJC, 9 p.m.

Jacksonville, 7 p.m.; Schreiner vs HCJC, 9 p.m.

In an Olympic-style meet, each team plays the other in a pre-arranged schedule. That means each team will be playing three times.

The team winning the most games is declared the winner. In event two teams tied with 2-1 records (and often it happens), the club scoring the most points in the tournament is declared the winner.

Schreiner, unbeaten now in 15 games, is the favorite but faces strong competition from Cisco, which is 10-1.

HCJC, the defending titlist, is 10-8 but one of its wins has come at the expense of Cisco.

Jacksonville is also 8-4 but has defeated some state-rated teams along the way.

HCJC's principal shortcoming is a lack of experience. Coach Harold Wilder is starting four freshmen and a sophomore. The locals suffer from a lack of height but has been impressive on the boards, mainly because 6-6 Tom Bledsoe, 6-6 Taylor Williams and 6-1 Leroy Lumzy have good spring in their legs.

Lee, a 5-9 boy from San Antonio, is the team's playmaker. One of the area stars on the local team is 5-11 Bobby Beall of Sands (Ackerly). Beall was an all-state performer last year.

David Matthews, 6-4, Colorado City; 6-4 Tony Goeke, Corpus Christi; 6-3 Blip Cummings, Cleveland, Miss.; Mike Randle, 6-4, Big Spring; and 6-6 Mike Britton, Brownwood, are others likely to play a lot for HCJC.

Harold Wilder is in his third season as coach of the Hawks and his teams have already won 62 games.

This will be the first game for HC since Dec. 14, when the Hawks cooled off New Mexico JC in a thrill-packed Western Conference game.

Charity Work Is Enriched By Donation

PITTSBURGH (AP) — President Nixon has donated a personal check for $1,000 to the charitable causes of baseball star Roberto Clemente, missing and presumed dead in a plane crash.

The money will go to relieve survivors of the Nicaraguan earthquake and to fulfill Clemente's dream of a sports camp for boys in his native Puerto Rico.

Clemente was believed killed last Sunday while accompanying a plane load of supplies from Puerto Rico to Nicaragua.

Clemente was named as one of baseball all-time greats in his 18 seasons with the Pittsburgh Pirates. Clemente is survived by his wife, Vera, and three sons: Roberto Jr., 8; Luis, 7; and Enrique, 4.

A group of 70 Pirate officials, players and front office workers were to fly today from Pittsburgh to Puerto Rico to console the family.

"I know it will be a struggle for them to continue without him," teammate Willie Stargell said earlier this week. "I hope there is something we can do."

Pirate President Dan Galbreath and players Steve Blass and Dave Giusti met Wednesday in Washington with President Nixon, who later made his personal donation to the Nicaraguan embassy.

Meanwhile, checks were pouring in Wednesday to various charitable funds established in Pittsburgh in Clemente's honor.

"It's just unbelievable," said Ruth Orman, who opened the first batch of mail at the office of the Pittsburgh Jaycees, sponsor of the Clemente-Nicaraguan Fund.

"I would guess this morning we've received about 300 letters," she said. "They're mostly checks from adults. I just opened one envelope with a check for $1,000."

Donations were also being accepted by the Nicaraguan Relief Fund, established here last week at Clemente's personal request.

In addition, the Pirate baseball club had set up another fund to build a sports camp for boys in Puerto Rico one of Clemente's longtime goals.

Meanwhile, the Allegheny County commissioners had declared today a day of mourning, and a memorial service for Clemente was scheduled in the county courthouse.

Al McGuire Clams Up

By The Associated Press
Al McGuire lost his cool in Indianapolis.

For the first time anyone could recall, the coach of the unbeaten nationally third-ranked team slammed the door and barred reporters from the dressing room after the Warriors barely managed a 67-66 victory over unranked Butler Wednesday night.

"If you can't put your guts out to play then get the hell out," the waiting newsmen overheard McGuire scream at his players.

In winning their ninth in a row, the Warriors wiped out a five-point Butler lead at 66-61 with six consecutive points in the closing minutes. Two baskets by Allie McGuire made it 66-65, then Dave Diesman won the game with two free throws.

A last second shot by Butler's Kent Ehret rolled off the rim as the buzzer sounded.

"We were fortunate to win," McGuire said later after he had calmed down. "They put pressure on us. I thought Mason did a magnificent job, the best against us all year. We tried to get him out on fouls, but we couldn't."

McGuire referred to Daryl Mason, 6-foot-7 Butler junior, the game's leading rebounder with 17. In addition, he scored 15 points, second to Ehret's 22. Larry McNeill was high for Marquette with 21.

Marquette was the only team in the Associated Press Top Ten to see action. Of the Second Ten, No. 14 Alabama whipped Florida 69-56 and No. 20 Indiana routed Ball State 94-71.

Wisconsin's Badgers, who forced Marquette to go two overtimes to beat them last Saturday, shaded Pitt 72-70. Virginia rallied from a 15-4 deficit and beat Duke 80-74 in overtime, while Doug Collins of Illinois State scored 57 points in a 103-98 overtime triumph over LSU-New Orleans.

Kevin Joyce tallied 24 points, leading South Carolina over Lafayette 81-48, and Michigan State won its second straight holiday tourney, beating South Alabama 86-78 in the final of the Senior Bowl. Four straight baskets by Mike Robinson, the Spartans, who won the Kodak Kentucky tripped Dayton 74-70, the team's Most Valuable Player. Classic last week. Denver topped Washington State 71-61, and Stetson won the second half. Altogether, Oral Roberts defeated Marquette 81-76, Virginia Tech beat Hatter Classic, downing Florida Robinson scored 26 for the St. Bonaventure 96-93, Eastern Southern 78-69.

Coahoma Opposes Van Horn Today

BIG LAKE — Fourteen West Texas high school basketball teams are taking part in the 42nd annual Reagan County Tournament, which started here this morning.

The tournament has become one in which the expected does not always occur. In 1949, Sonora won the event by beating 4A and 3A teams, but failed to win its own district race. In 1958, Reagan County and Miles advanced to the championship game. The lead changed hands 12 times, the game was tied eight times and Miles triumphed 49-47.

Two years later, Wall, then a Class B school, played Class 3-A Monahans in the finals. The Hawks defeated the Lobos, 50-48. Fort Stockton stopped Reagan County in the 1961 finals and the Panthers also triumphed in the 1962 classic.

In '63 and '64 the Owls won their own tourney while Denver City was triumphant in 1965 and Crane took the title in '66 and '67. Reagan County captured the title again in 1968; it was the eighth tournament victory for the host Owls and they lead in that category.

Crane was champion in the '69 classic, as Tommy Jones, now a basketball competitor at Howard Payne College in Brownwood, fired in 56 of his team's 66 points in the championship game. Crane also won the event last year. The Golden Cranes have six Reagan County Tournament championships in their record book.

Seminole racked up Reagan County in the 1970 championship contest. In 1971, Coahoma, sparked by Jackie Dean Wolf, triumphed with a four-overtime

Orv Moody Is Overtaken In San Antonio Tourney

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Touring pro Ralph Johnston took advantage of a putting lapse by former U.S. Open champion Orville Moody and beat Moody and two others by four strokes in the eighth week of the $30,000 Professional Golf Management tournament Wednesday.

Johnston captured first prize of $5,000 in the 36-hole, two-day event with a final round 67, four under par for the Pecan Valley Golf Club. Johnston, of Atlanta, was out in 34 and in with 33. Moody, who was the first round leader with a 68 in cold and wet weather, could only manage a whopping 75 in the second round, which was played under sunny skies and mild temperatures.

The "Sarge," winner of three previous PGM events, three-putted five greens, allowing Johnston to pick up eight strokes. Johnston was in second place after the first round with a one-over-par 72.

Moody, of Lago Vista, Tex., finished in a tie with Rives McBee of Dallas and John Cutshall of Houston. McBee was 72-71 for the tourney, while Cutshall finished rounds of 73-70. The three earned $2,600 each.

Chris Blocker of Austin and Jim Barker of San Antonio finished in a tie for fifth with 144 while Bob Erickson of Winter Park, Fla., was alone in sixth place with 145.

Rockets Kayo Celts, 123-112

After crushing the Houston Rockets by 20 points Tuesday night, the Boston Celtics played the same team in the same place Wednesday night and lost by 11.

"We were going to the boards tough, we concentrated on screening out the rebounds and tonight we ran well," said Houston Coach Tex Winter after his Rockets walloped the Celtics 123-112 Wednesday night in their National Basketball Association game.

Tuesday night, also in Houston, the Atlantic Division-leading Celtics hammered the Rockets 130-110.

Houston guard Jimmy Walker had other reasons for the turn-about.

"We scored when we needed to in pressure situations late in the game," said Walker. "We were hitting at the free throw line when we got into bonus situations early."

In Wednesday night's other NBA games, the Baltimore Bullets tripped the Cleveland Cavaliers 89-80; the Detroit Pistons walloped the Phoenix Suns 119-105; the Milwaukee Bucks turned back the Atlanta Hawks 105-97, and the Seattle SuperSonics trounced the Kansas City-Omaha Kings 107-100.

Second-year guard Mike Newlin scored 20 points, helping Houston beat Boston. John Havlicek was the game's high scorer with 32 points.

Elvin Hayes scored 26 points and grabbed 24 rebounds, leading Baltimore past Cleveland. Hayes, who sank only three of eight shots from the field as the Bullets fell behind 43-40 in the first half, pumped in 12 points and snared 10 rebounds in the third period as Baltimore forged ahead 68-61.

Maynard Caught 29 Jet Passes

Don Maynard, scheduled to speak at the Quarterback Club's football banquet here the evening of Jan. 29, was the third leading receiver on the New York Jet football team the past season with 29 catches.

Those receptions resulted in two touchdowns and gains totaling 510 yards for the NFL team. That averages out to 17.6 yards per catch.

Don's longest passing gain for the year was for 41 yards.

He was one of ten Jets to score during the season. The team leader in that department was place-kicker Bobby Howfield with 121 points.

Astrodome Scene Of City Battle

HOUSTON (AP) — The fledgling football rivalry between Rice and the University of Houston has been shifted to the Astrodome for 1973.

Athletic directors of both schools announced Wednesday that the 1973 event will be played Sept. 15 in the Astrodome for the first time in the two-year history of the series.

"We're doing this for the Houston community, which had shown an interest in viewing the game at the Astrodome," Rice athletic director Red Bale and UH's Harry Fouke said in a joint release.

It will be the third game in the series. The 1974 game is scheduled back at Rice Stadium.

The initial showdown drew 62,000 fans but the crowd dropped to 51,000 last season.

UH Coach Bill Yeoman contended the September heat and humidity limited the gate receipts, and UH fans were eager for the game to return to air-conditioned Astrodome.

Cee City Quints Enter Tourneys

COLORADO CITY — Colorado City has entered its freshman and eighth grade basketball teams in the Ballinger Tournament, which gets under way at 2 p.m. Friday.

Coleman is defending champion in the ninth grade division while San Angelo Lake View won the crown in the eighth grade bracket last year.

Shultz Played At West Point

Col. Harold D. Shultz, base commander at Webb AFB, played football under Earl Blaik at the United States Military Academy at West Point, N.Y.

Blaik, probably the best known of all West Point coaches, is now 75. He resides in Palm Desert, Cal., and manages to play about four rounds of golf weekly. He retired as a business executive from the Avco Corp., in 1969.

Blaik's record at West Point was 121-43-10. He quit coaching in 1958.

Starts At 5 P.M.

FORSAN — Action will start in the Forsan-Garden City basketball triple header here Friday evening which will get under way with the girls' B game at 5 p.m. There will be no boys' B game played. The varsity teams play at 6:30 p.m., and 8 p.m.

Palmer Not Only Golf Great To Have Slump

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Arnold Palmer, probably the most popular professional ever to play the game of golf, is annoyed—but not overly concerned—with his failure to win a tournament last year.

"I don't like not winning a tournament," the 43-year-old Palmer said before his first round today in the $135,000 Glen Campbell-Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament.

"But it had to happen sometime. It happened to (Ben) Hogan and it happened to (Sam) Snead. And," he said, "it'll happen to Jack Nicklaus."

Palmer, however, is far from giving up—is far from through, in the grinding competition of the 18th season on the tour.

"I'm at the stage now that Snead was 10 years ago, or 20 years ago," he said.

"I'm really not hitting—the ball all that well, but that's not the problem. The problem is the short game. I've just got to start making some putts . . ."

Palmer went through 1972 without a victory, the first time that's happened in his storied career. He got close, was in position to win, at least four times, then failed.

Although he suffered probably his poorest season last year, the dynamic Palmer ranked at worst a sentimental favorite to take his fourth Los Angeles Open crown in the 72-hole competition that got underway today at the 7,028 yard, par 71 Riviera Country Club Course.

Golfers Await Coast Tourney

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The pro golf tour is off on another of its $8 million binges, and that means Jack Nicklaus will be dropping 20-foot putts, his rival half-smoked cigarettes and Bob Hope one-line quips at every green.

The $135,000 Glen Campbell-Los Angeles Open starts today over the historic Riviera Club, once known as "Hogan's Alley." It used to be the plain LA Open. Now it has the long, hyphenated name which makes some people wonder whether it's a golf tournament or a pop concert.

It's the new look of bigtime golf — par-busters shooting for a million and show people searching for new exposure.

Golf business has joined show business in holy wedlock. It's more than a marriage of love. It's a case of necessity and cold economics.

Crooner Bing Crosby started it all with the Crosby Club in 1937. Then Bob Hope got into the act. Campbell, the popular singer, added his prestige to this traditional tour opener. Dean Martin has a tournament at Tucson, Andy Williams at San Diego, Jackie Gleason at Fort Lauderdale Fla. and Danny Thomas at Memphis.

Burke Is Confident Yanks Can Win Flag

NEW YORK (AP) — Michael Burke has assumed control of the New York Yankee ship and sees clear sailing ahead.

"We think we can take all the marbles in 1973," the gray-haired Burke said after his 12-man business group took control of the American League baseball team in a $10 million deal with CBS Wednesday.

The syndicate pulled off the deal for the relatively cheap price because the CBS network apparently had become disenchanted with the once-powerful franchise.

Burke, who will continue as Yankee president, said that CBS was at times embarrassed to have a less successful team after earlier years of power.

But, despite the selling price—$3.2 million less than CBS paid for the franchise in 1964—Burke said that the network "broke even" over the years. CBS had some financially profitable seasons, said the new owner.

The change of ownership won't mean a change of location, insisted the new owners at a press conference.

"The Yankees belong in Yankee Stadium," said Cleveland shipbuilder George Steinbrenner, another of the new bosses. "and, they should always be winners. We don't plan to move anywhere except upward in the standings."

Steinbrenner and the rest apparently plan to leave full control in the hands of the seasoned Burke.

Names of the other new owners were not immediately disclosed. Burke said that a majority of them were from outside the New York area, however.

The deal was sparked when Burke and Steinbrenner were introduced through a mutual friend and began discussing the possibilities in September.

Burke, a former CBS vice president assigned to operate the team, negotiated the purchase with his former boss, William Paley, president of the network.

The Yankees had won their 29th pennant when CBS took control eight years ago. But since the network takeover, the New Yorkers have finished no higher than third in the American League.

In 1972, attendance at antique Yankee Stadium dropped to 966,328. It was the first time that the Yankees had failed to draw a million in a season since the Second World War.

Manager Ralph Houk, who signed a three-year extension to his contract late last summer, and the rest of the organization "will remain intact," according to Burke.

The only thing that will not remain intact will be Yankee Stadium itself. The 50-year-old structure will undergo a $24 million remodeling after the 1973 season.

Houston Bid Is Rejected

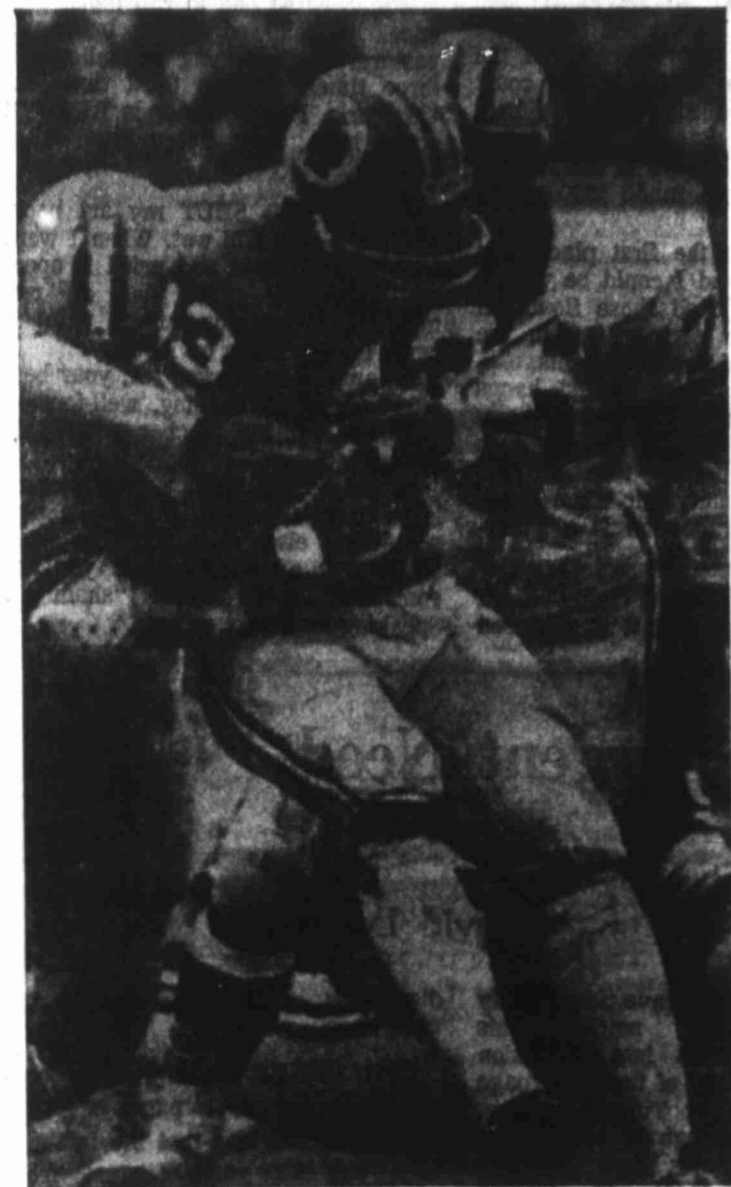

HOUSTON (AP) — The NCAA has turned down an offer by the Astrodome for a rent-free football game between national champion USC and runner-up Oklahoma as a benefit for Nicaraguan earthquake victims.

Arthur J. Bergstrom, NCAA controller, said two rules prevented his office from sanctioning the game, proposed by Ruben Askana, president of the Astrodome Corp., and Roy Hofheinz, senior chairman of the Astrodome board.

They proposed that the game be played as a memorial to Pittsburgh outfielder Roberto Clemente, killed in a New Year's Eve crash aboard a plane flying supplies to the disaster-torn country.

Bergstrom said any special event must be certified at the April meeting preceding the year the event is to be held. He said another rule bars member schools from participating in two post-season games.

USC defeated Ohio State in the Rose Bowl and Oklahoma whipped Penn State in the Sugar Bowl.

NAMED OFFENSIVE PLAYER OF THE YEAR — Washington Redskins' running back Larry Brown (43), shown in action against the Green Bay Packers, has been named Offensive Player of the Year in pro football by the Associated Press.

Larry Brown, Joe Greene Singled Out For Feats

NEW YORK (AP) — Larry Brown of the Washington Redskins, who ran around and over waves of tacklers, and Mean Joe Greene, who made waves of tacklers, were named today The Associated Press Players of the Year in the National Football League.

Brown, the running back who rolled up 1,216 yards to lead the National Conference and helped carry the Redskins to the NFC championship, amassed 41 of the 67 votes for NFL Offensive Player of the Year cast by a nationwide panel of pro football writers.

And Greene, the tackle who anchored the Steelers' line which had opposition quarter-backs running for their lives and running backs looking for places to hide, garnered 32 of the 67 votes cast to easily take NFL Defensive Player of the Year honors.

There was a three-way tie for runnerup in the offensive category as O.J. Simpson of Buffalo and Earl J. Morrill and Larry Csonka of Miami received five votes apiece.

Simpson provided the Bills with most of their offense and, surpassing the injured Brown in the regular season's final game, won the league rushing title with 1,251 yards.

Morrill replaced injured quarterback Bob Griese in the fifth game of the season and proceeded to direct the Dolphins the rest of the way to a perfect 14-0 season and to the American Conference East championship. Csonka was the mainstay of Miami's record-setting ground attack as he bulled for 1,117 yards, second only to Simpson in the AFC.

Closest to Greene's 37 votes in the defensive balloting were linebackers Nick Buoniconti of Miami with eight and Chris Hanburger of Washington with seven, followed by defensive tackles Bob Lilly of Dallas with four and Merlin Olsen of Los Angeles with three.

Only a minor leg injury—which forced Coach George Allen to bench Brown for the final two games of the season in preparation for the playoffs—kept Brown from winning the NFL rushing title.

Mr. Pegasus Returning To Track This Weekend

EL PASO — Mr. Pegasus, a top stake winner in the Southwest a few seasons back, returns to racing after a spell at stud duty to head Friday night's feature race at Sunland Park.

The 10-race card gets rolling under the lights at 7:30 p.m. Friday's program marks the first night racing schedule of the new season. Night racing on Fridays will continue at Sunland through late April. The standard first post of 1:30 p.m. will remain in effect for all Saturday and Sunday programs.

Friday's feature is an allowance test for horses four-and-up at six furlongs. A purse of $1,600 is on the line.

Mr. Pegasus looks like the early favorite despite his recent inactivity. The seven-year-old scored his last Sunland Park victory in 1969 when he captured the Texas Derby at a mile-and-sixteenth. He's been prepping sharply for his racing return and has recorded some extremely fast workouts.

Included in the lineup for Friday's feature is Running Guy, a four-year-old gelding who scored his last victory against non-winners by a comfortable three lengths. Hunch players may do well to take a look at the Number 2 horse, Bum Bet. The seven-year-old son of Sir Ruler has been campaigning on the eastern circuit and from September of '69 to February of '71 won over $30,000.

The 10-horse field is rounded out by Fortuneheir, Earl's Memory, Waster, Seyberto, Old Lightning, Iron Sea and Careless Wind.

Old Lightning has made only three career starts and boasts an excellent record of 1-1-0. Defending Jockey Champion Doc Lewis will be in the irons and the duo should pose a potent threat.

In his last start here, Fortuneheir took the early lead by two lengths and appeared to have the race well under control. However, the grey gelding tired badly in the closing jumps and faded to a disappointing fifth-place.

Earl's Memory will be making his first start since scoring a half-length victory over maidens at the close of the Fall Meeting. That was at 5 1/4-furlongs and Friday's added distance may suit the gelding even better.

Can Do Something

With reports from the holidays practically complete, it now appears that nearly three-score Texans died on highways and streets, and that our state had the shameful distinction of leading the nation in carnage. Nationally, it appears that the toll for the year may reach an appalling 56,000 for 1972, a gain of some 2,300 over the previous year.

The time has come for an even penetrating closer look at an analysis of the causes of these mishaps. One factor seems clear — excessive drinking plays a big part in accidents which cause deaths on the highway. Perhaps the word "excessive" is not the best choice, for every study we have heard about shows that even with less-than-intoxicating amounts in the bloodstream, driving performances are significantly impaired. This may not mean that he is weaving or otherwise deviating from as reasonably normal course, but he has his attention span considerably shortened, is not aware of approaching cars from the side, or appreciative of other perils which may suddenly present themselves. In short, his reflexes are dulled dangerously.

It would be profitable to single out our tragic

Presidential Primary

Time was when what push existed for presidential preference primaries in Texas came from the Democratic party's left wing.

The McGovern reform rules changed all that year. Out went the unit rule, in came the proportional method of delegate selection at all levels — and those who had been accustomed to running party affairs after whomping down the opposition found the machinery out of their control.

As a result, Texas may find itself with a holiday record and see to what degree drinking was involved. The drinking driver is something we can — and must — do something about. We cannot always control circumstance, but we can exercise more control over those who try to mix alcohol and gasoline.

presidential preference primary in 1976. Now the push is coming from the traditional power wing of the party as a reaction to the reforms, and resistance may arise from the party's liberals, who managed to capture a significant number of delegates this time around.

A bill to give Texas a presidential preference primary already has been pre-filed by Rep.-elect Luther Jones of El Paso and — it stands a very good chance of passage.

Lone Contribution

Around The Rim

Marj Carpenter

The theme of this year's Rose Bowl Parade — old movies — was a particularly good one. It was kind of heartwarming to see all those good old movies recalled. I was only disappointed because there were not more Disney movies, but perhaps that could be a theme, all on its own.

I would shudder to think of having a parade of some of the top movies in the recent years. It would be too cold to portray a lot of them.

NOW I'M NOT an art expert and even got up and left when they were going to show the movies from the Mini-Flick as evidence in the court room, because I didn't give a hoot about such art. But I've seen a few movies in recent years in the regular theatre that have made me get up and leave.

Like I said in the first place, I'm no art expert, and I could be wrong, but I really enjoyed those floats on movies like the African Queen, the Wizard of Oz and Arabian Nights.

My one contribution to art hangs framed in my mother's living room. Mothers have a way of keeping such things. The painting won a blue ribbon at the county fair when I was in the eighth grade and is a watercolor of a liveoak tree.

THE INTERESTING thing about that watercolor is that it is supposed to be a painting of a hackberry tree. Hackberry trees in no way resemble liveoaks. They are tall and willowy and liveoaks are short and squat. Which shows how good an artist I really was.

One Sunday afternoon, I sat in the backyard laboriously painting that hackberry tree to turn in Monday morning in art class. Supper time arrived. At our house, when mealtime arrived, Dad called — once. He thought everybody should come immediately.

Whenever he had to call more than once, he bellowed like a bull in a pasture. That evening he called me three times and the third time, his "Marjorie, I said Supper is READY" could have been heard five miles away.

I SLAMMED SHUT my art book. The paint was still wet. When I went back after supper and pried it open, the shades of green had all run together. It was too late to paint it over. I turned it in on Monday.

It came back marked "A, your best effort, excellent shading, well-formed liveoak!" and the teacher entered it at the Fair.

So the way to paint a good picture is to paint one thing that looks like something else, then shut the book and run it all together and you get something that's called "shading". Speaking as an art expert . . .

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

Sociologists tell us that tomorrow's world will have more leisure and less work. In my book, such ideas cause a nation's downfall. What do you think? R.P.

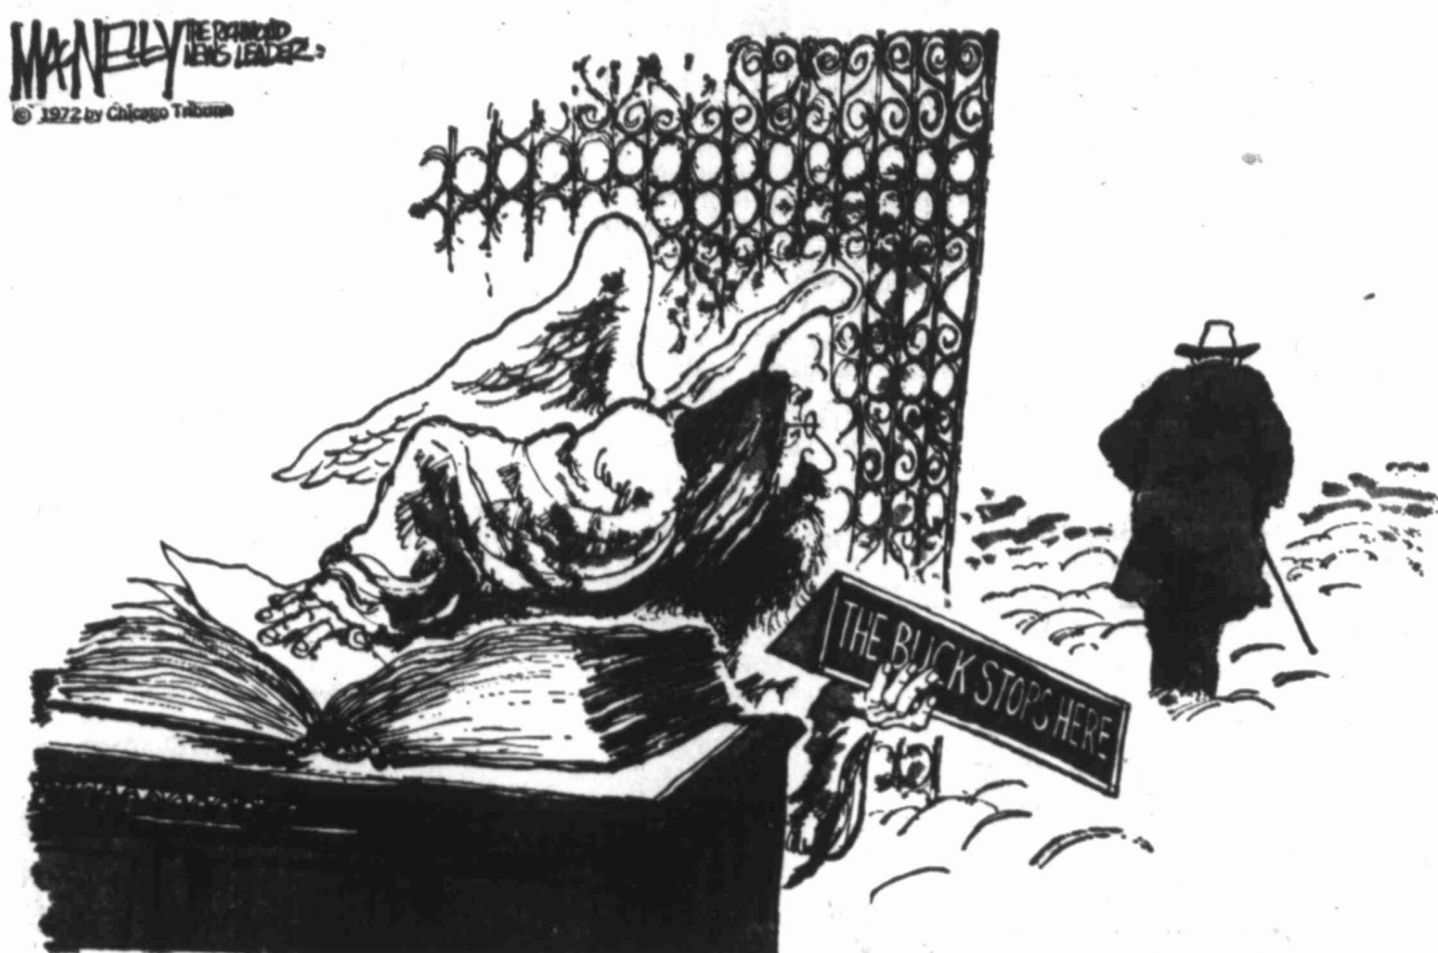

It was the old poet Milton who said: "Hours have wings and fly up to the author of time, and carry news of our usage. All our prayers cannot entreat one of them either to return or slacken pace. Each misspent minute is a new record against us in heaven. Sure, if we thought thus, we would dismiss them with better reports, and not suffer them to fly away empty."

It seems to me the tragedy of our society is that so much of what we do is empty, without purpose and significance. This makes the distinction between work and leisure a bit fuzzy. One man could dissipate his working day by carelessness and poor motivation, but another might so use the same hours in leisure, that they would become highly productive and greatly rewarding.

The important thing is not work or leisure; it's whether a person sees himself as a manager of what God has given him.

It was Paul who said to Corinthian Christians, "whether you eat or drink, or whatever you do, do all to the glory of God."

If America is headed for a downfall, it's not because we praise or fault the work ethic, but because we misplace our faith.

Fill In Blanks

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — The White House, in its running feud with The Washington Post, has kept Mrs. Dorothy McCordle, a Post reporter, from covering the President's social events. It is believed that the ban will be in effect at least until after the inauguration.

THIS IS not the catastrophe one might think it is, mainly because social events at the White House write themselves, and you really don't have to be there to cover them.

There is actually a form which reporters fill out after each affair. This is it:

PRESIDENT AND Mrs. Richard M. Nixon gave a dinner party last night in honor of the prime minister of —. Included on the distinguished guest list were Supreme Court Justice —, Secretary of — and Mrs. —, Admiral and Mrs. —, Gen. and Mrs. —, Ambassador and Mrs. —, Mr. and Mrs. — of the — Oil Company who gave $2 million to the Republican Party, Mr. and Mrs. — of the — Insurance Company who gave $1 million to President Nixon's campaign, and Mr. and Mrs. — of the — Automobile Company, who donated $500,000 to the Committee for the Re-Election of the President. Mr. — is being considered as ambassador to —.

ALSO ATTENDING the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. — of — Industries. Mr. — is under indictment in California for violations of the antitrust law. Also present were Mr. — a real estate man who is a close friend of the Nixon family, and Mr. and Mrs. — of the — Pharmaceutical Company. Mr. — is trying to merge his company with the — Drug Corporation.

The guests dined on Soupe aux Poissons, Boeuf Comme il Faut, Sauté Haricots Blancs and Souffle Billy Graham.

During the dinner the Air Force Strings played songs from "No, No, Nanette." After coffee the President rose to toast the prime minister of —.

HE SAID, "In all my travels around the world I have never been in a more interesting country than —. Pat and I remember the first time we got off the plane at your wonderful capital of — and how the crowds at the airport — us."
"The country of — has shown by its actions that it is a true friend of the United States. Not only have you supported us in our — against Communist aggression, but you have proven that you can make it on your own, as long as you have the military strength to survive.

"YOUR NATION has sent us many fine people who have become worthwhile American citizens. I need only mention —, who invented the —, Dr. — who found a cure for —, and, lest we forget the women, Mrs. — whose ethnic pies and cakes have become famous throughout our land. Mr. Prime Minister, I welcome you to the United States and toast you and your people."

The prime minister of — responded to the toast by thanking the President for his hospitality. He then went on to say that the only flaw in the friendship between the two countries was the United States' stiff and unfair tariff on —. He said he hoped this tariff would be lifted soon and he thanked the President for all the planes and tanks he has agreed to give — for its support of Mr. Nixon's Vietnam policies.

AFTER THE toasts, — and his chorus came out on stage to entertain the guests. They sang Stephen Foster songs. But in the middle of "Ol' Black Joe," a young lady in the chorus reached into her bosom and pulled out a sign which said "Stop the Bombing."

She was led off the stage by two Secret Service men while the chorus sang "God Bless America."

Press Secretary Ronald Zeigler, when asked about the "Stop the Bombing" incident, denied it had taken place.

Seas Thought To Be Very, Very Old

In popular language, "ocean" and "sea" are used interchangeably, today's seven seas are the North and South Atlantic, North and South Pacific, Indian, Arctic and Antarctic oceans.

Scientists believe that the seas are as much as 500 million years old because animals that lived then occur as fossils in rocks which once were under ancient seas.

Financial Plight

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — It is at this time of year, when the mail brings bills rather than greetings, when reality closes in upon the spirit, that the working stiff takes pause to brood upon his financial plight.

The postholiday letdown may be responsible for the mood or probably it has something to do with early dusk and the realization that winter has just begun and that vacation time is months away and that junior needs his tuition money now and Uncle Sam wants his by April 15.

Whatever it is a time when everyone needs relief from bleak reality, when the spirit craves an infusion of hope to nourish dreams. And so, here it is.

Would you like to become a millionaire? While you consider your response to this perplexing question, here is some factual information on how it might be done, depending upon your age.

If you are young enough, say 25, you might accomplish this goal if you can invest $100 a month for 40 years, and never dip into it except for taxes.

If you're middle-age you may have to settle for less, something ranging from a half-million dollars down. But your approach would be the same — to set aside $100 a month every month and never vary from that schedule.

The advice comes from a noted stock market authority, a conservative investor with a fascination for slide rules and the magic of compounding, a man who began his own advisory service because Wall Street gave him opinion rather than fact.

Will Not Snap Her Garter

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — They say that what you don't know can't hurt you.

If that is true, then it must also be true that what you don't do can't harm you.

Acting on that theory, I plan to stay out of trouble, because in 1973 I'm not going to —.

Get in a dogfight with Lassie. Snap Mae West's garter.

Ask my landlord to repaint my apartment.

Steal the keys to Ft. Knox.

Mark graffiti on the walls of the Taj Mahal.

Become a munitions salesman in Indochina.

Become a tree surgeon and perform an appendectomy on an oak tree.

Tweak the muscles of a 90-pound weakling at the beach.

Drag a red, white or blue herring across anybody's trail.

Rub out a mobster.

Pick a fight with City Hall.

Entice away any gangster's moll.

Denounce in print motherhood or the federal highway program.

Buy a pig in a poke.

Plant weeds in any man's garden.

Patronize any second-floor massage parlor unless it has been given a seal of approval by the king of Sweden.

Bear false witness against my neighbor who, after all, outweighs me by 30 pounds, is 20 years younger, and also had a longer reach and used to box in college. Why would I want to lie about a nice guy like him?

Weigh a butcher's thumb in the balance and find it wanting.

Make any blind dates at cocktail parties where everybody gets blind.

Kite a check.

Run off with any other guys' wives. For a man over 60 it would be like snatching rhinestones from a dime store jewelry counter.

Perform any miracles in the office. If you perform one miracle in the office, the next day they expect you to perform two — and three on the day after that.

Count the calories of my dieting friends. There's nothing more fruitless.

Tell my boss that I've been watching his work, too, and that it also could bear a little improving.

Hide my light under a bushel — or my money under a mattress.

Help finance another trip to the moon. There must be a less expensive place we can go to bring back rocks from.

Repeat all the sins that bored me during 1972.

The Urgent Need

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Have times really changed very much? This correspondent came into possession last week of a copy of the front page of "The New York Times" of Dec. 25, 1888. Even though 84 years have passed, the headlines were strikingly similar to those on today's newspapers.

THERE HAD been a fatal "powder" explosion in West Virginia, and this was front-page news.

Also there was a "Crash on the Bridge," when a train telescoped at the Brooklyn Terminal.

At the top of another column was news of "A Bold Daylight Robbery," which four men robbed a messenger of $1,000 in Pittsburgh.

Under the title "Thefts by Wholesale," with a Chicago dateline, several incidents were enumerated, including accusations that bonds had been stolen from investment banking firms.

ANOTHER REPORT told of the killing of a woman at a late hour at night by her husband. She was a bride of only a few months.

Stories about shipwrecked crews on the West Coast, along with numerous other items, were reported. News about the poisoning of persons who ate one type of food was mentioned.

The headlines in those days were not large so that 20 or 30 news dispatches could be printed on the front page.

THE GENERAL impression conveyed by the first page of "The Times" of 1888 was that life in those days was not very different from what it is today. The real change, of course, is that there are more people in America now, and thus crimes have increased in number. Likewise, drugs have become more widely distributed and have had an effect in contributing to the misdeeds of many individuals.

Unquestionably, as one reads a newspaper of 84 years ago, one gets the feeling the United States had the same kind of troubles then that it has nowadays, though the magnitude of them is hardly comparable. The problem of dealing with crime now is one of the most serious facing state and federal governments.

ROBBERY HAS become so prevalent that tens of millions of dollars are stolen annually in hold-ups on streets or by persons who invade homes and places of business to get money. Some of the thieves enter banks and terrorize the clerks behind the counters as well as customers. The same thing happens in stores. There is no means available as yet to provide police protection against all such crimes.

The Real Reason

William F. Buckley Jr.

I note, the greeting cards that bear the wish of the sender that the recipient have a "prosperous new year." Until quite recently the word prosperous was widely used to convey something other than the sender's wish that his friend's salary might be raised, or the profits of his corporation rise from five per cent on gross after taxes to six per cent. A prosperous estate used to suggest — health, happiness, joy even.

IN A RECENT discussion about political contributions with the new chairman of the Democratic Party I learned something I confess I had never thought of. The confession is intended to convey not that there is little I have not thought of, but rather that there is much which is obvious I have not thought about. Mr. Robert Strauss said that an important reason why a contributor to political parties or candidates wants to maintain the privacy of his gift isn't that he doesn't want it known that he is seeking to exert leverage on public policy, or to buy himself an ambassadorship, or the usual business. What he really doesn't want is — that his wife should know about it.

THE SCENE IS as follows. Wife and husband are sitting at the breakfast table reading the morning paper, and she sees the list of recently published contributions to Sen. George McGovern. Lazily her eye goes down the page and stops at the name: John T. Sylvester, $10,000. Obviously another John T. Sylvester, thinks Mrs. John T. Sylvester, but then her eye moves on towards that identification which is specified by the distrustful new election law and — she reads, "John T. Sylvester, $10,000, architect, Cincinnati, Ohio." She looks left to her husband, who only a month ago denied her a fur coat, and a month before that a trip to Europe, and the month before that a new car for their daughter — with loathing.

I found Mr. Strauss' argument devastating: it is always safer to bet on the right of privacy. Must we repeal privacy? Even in order to be democratic?

At the press conference immediately before a debate in which I participated a gentleman reporter from one of the local newspapers looked up at me and said: "Are you contributing your fee to the library?"

A precedent flashed through my mind. I had read about it 20 years ago. The Harvard historian, Bernard Proves, in opposition to Sen. Joe McCarthy, or whatever, and a gentleman got up during the question period and said: "Mr. de Voto, are you a communist?" To which de Voto replied was: "Are you an adulterer?"

So I said, Bernard de Voto-wise: "What does your newspaper pay you?" I thought that would throw cold water on the question, and a fortiori on his question. But to my horror, the reporter without a moment's hesitation began to recite to the whole company his daily wage, his overtime, fringe benefits — before I could say — STOP! I didn't really want to know!

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Getting home fixed up and establishing greater harmony with those who dwell with you is best today. First get your matters well handled, though. Attend some party in the evening that is a delight.

Never Fear, IRS Forms Are Here

For many years, the U. S. taxpayers were greeted with income tax forms in the mail the day after Christmas. That always punctured the balloon of good Yuletide Cheer in a hurry. This year, tax payers were allowed to go all the way into the new year before they received the Internal Revenue greetings.

The first ones were distributed by the Post Office Wednesday with everybody expected to receive theirs by the end of the week.

Frank Hardesty, postmaster, said that they handled 13,476 of the forms locally.

The post office turns over all forms with incorrect addresses to the IRS office. Anybody who has not received a tax form by Monday may call the Internal Revenue office at 7-2812.

It's Nothing New For Jesse James

AUSTIN Tex. (AP) — State Treasurer Jesse James was sworn in Wednesday to his 17th two-year term.

James, 69, was appointed treasurer by Gov. Coke Stevenson Oct. 21, 1941. He was elected to the job in 1942 and has been re-elected every two years since then.

He was sworn in by state district court judge Charles Mathews of Austin.

Riot Police, Cairo Pupils Match Fists

CAIRO (AP) — Riot police reinforcements arrived at suburban Ein Shams University today as about 1,000 protesting students vowed to remain on the closed campus unless authorities drive them out or release their imprisoned friends.

The students remained in defiance of a government decree temporarily closing all universities and institutes of higher education because of bloody clashes Wednesday afternoon at Cairo University.

Several students and police were injured and a few students were seen being loaded into police vehicles at Ein Shams this morning. But during the early afternoon, witnesses said, all appeared quiet. Cairo University also was reported calm.

The government of President Anwar Sadat reacted to the clashes by ordering all of Egypt's 250,000 university students to take an extra week of winter vacation.

Several hundred of them tried to march from the campus to downtown Cairo on Wednesday, but the police drove them back with clubs and tear gas. The students fought back with stones and bricks, and the battling continued most of the afternoon.

The government refused to say how many persons were injured or arrested. Eyewitnesses saw dozens of ambulances moving among the injured.

The universities were scheduled to close from Jan. 12 to Jan. 26 for Kurban Bairam, the Islamic equivalent of Christmas.

In suspending classes a week early, Higher Education Minister Shams Eddin el Wakil said he hoped "that, after the vacation, studies will be resumed in an atmosphere of calmness and stability."

SIMON WARD

England's Star

By GEORGE WALDO
Copley News Service

LONDON — With only four West End plays, one minor film, and several TV Shows behind him, 28-year-old Simon Ward becomes a star with the role of the year — Winston Churchill in the record-breaking new picture "Young Winston."

PROBLEM SOLVED
Producer Carl Foreman knew from the start that the casting of England's wartime leader was his major problem — Churchill in young manhood between the ages of 18 and 26. Actors he had in mind when he first wrote the script 10 years ago were now too old. But his problem was solved with the selection of Ward — blue-eyed, sandy-haired, fine-featured, with an uncanny resemblance to the real man. Peter Ustinov has called him "the most gifted younger actor in England" and many film critics here see him as the heir to Burton, O'Toole and Finney.

"I prefer the thoughtful actor to the showy one," Ward said over lunch out at Shepperton Studios. "I don't think I've taken any one actor as my model, but I guess I like the acting of Alex MacGowen the best."

"I had to make six screen tests to get this role, all the time waiting anxiously while they compared my tests with those of 400 other hopeful aspirants. When director Richard Attenborough called me to tell me the part was mine, all I could say was 'I thought I had missed it!'"

"I really must admit I was a rather unpromising student at the Royal Academy."

IMPORTANT ROLE
But despite this modest self-appraisal, Ward was chosen for an important role in a West End production of "The Fourth of June" soon after his graduation from RADA. This earned him a series of impressive notices and a long series of good TV parts. The London Times critic (not an easy man to please) promptly dubbed Ward "BBC's favorite anguished young idealist."

But the highly self-critical Ward refused to be impressed. He still feels he has yet to reveal his acting strength.

MANY STORIES
"Of course young Churchill is the best challenge I've had in the 10 years I've been in acting. I have to grow from a timid, tired, and hesitant young man to a daren't devil adventurer, capable of foolhardy heroics."

A dominated son, Churchill becomes a dominating journalist and brilliant politician — all before his 28th birthday.

"In my study of the man, I found many stories beneath the surface account of Churchill's early life. At 18, he had had only four serious talks with his father. He fought in vain for his father's affection and approval. He admired his mother, the American-born heiress Jessie Jerome, but she was as remote as a beautiful goddess. After his father's death, his mother married a man only 18 months her son's senior. Another emotional blow to young Churchill must have been the marriage of his one true sweetheart to a rival."

It's Nothing New For Jesse James

AUSTIN Tex. (AP) — State Treasurer Jesse James was sworn in Wednesday to his 17th two-year term.

James, 69, was appointed treasurer by Gov. Coke Stevenson Oct. 21, 1941. He was elected to the job in 1942 and has been re-elected every two years since then.

He was sworn in by state district court judge Charles Mathews of Austin.

Riot Police, Cairo Pupils Match Fists

CAIRO (AP) — Riot police reinforcements arrived at suburban Ein Shams University today as about 1,000 protesting students vowed to remain on the closed campus unless authorities drive them out or release their imprisoned friends.

The students remained in defiance of a government decree temporarily closing all universities and institutes of higher education because of bloody clashes Wednesday afternoon at Cairo University.

Several students and police were injured and a few students were seen being loaded into police vehicles at Ein Shams this morning. But during the early afternoon, witnesses said, all appeared quiet. Cairo University also was reported calm.

The government of President Anwar Sadat reacted to the clashes by ordering all of Egypt's 250,000 university students to take an extra week of winter vacation.

Several hundred of them tried to march from the campus to downtown Cairo on Wednesday, but the police drove them back with clubs and tear gas. The students fought back with stones and bricks, and the battling continued most of the afternoon.

The government refused to say how many persons were injured or arrested. Eyewitnesses saw dozens of ambulances moving among the injured.

The universities were scheduled to close from Jan. 12 to Jan. 26 for Kurban Bairam, the Islamic equivalent of Christmas.

In suspending classes a week early, Higher Education Minister Shams Eddin el Wakil said he hoped "that, after the vacation, studies will be resumed in an atmosphere of calmness and stability."

Executions For Planters

TEHRAN (AP) — Five saboteurs trained in Iraq were executed by firing squad today in Iran for planting bombs in public places, a government spokesman announced.

It said the five were caught trying to put a bomb in a gas station at Sannadej, 70 miles from the Iraqi border and the executions took place there.

The five admitted at their trial they were trained in camps in Iraq, the spokesman added.

More than a hundred leftist terrorists have been executed or killed in gun battles in the past two years. A government spokesman said urban guerrilla activity now has been virtually eliminated except near the Iraqi border.

Youngsters Shun Chance To Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The low turnout in the sub-21 bracket.

The voting age was lowered from 21 to 18 by a constitutional amendment in time for the 1972 elections.

Voter participation was highest in the 45-64 age bracket with a 71 per cent turnout among the 42.3 million who were eligible to vote. There was a 51 per cent turnout out of 13.6 million eligibles in the 21-24 age bracket, many of whom also were first-time voters.

The report said that 64.5 per cent of whites cast ballots, 52.1 per cent of blacks and 37.5 per cent of Spanish origin. It was the first time the Spanish origin category had been reported by the Census Bureau. It speculated some of those in this category might not have been U.S. citizens.

A bureau official said registration percentages were highest among persons over age 25.

CR Ducats Can Still Be Had

Those rumors about a sell-out of the Friday and Saturday (Jan. 26-27) performances of Campus Revue '73 aren't exactly correct.

While there has been a heavy demand for these two shows, there still are tickets left for those who prefer to attend those evenings.

The offerings on Thursday evening offer even more latitude, and the opening show has an abundance of choice tickets on the evening of Jan. 23. Reservations for any of the four performances can be made by calling the high school.

SAYS EXPERT Crime Fight All Wrong

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former consultant to a presidential commission today proposed that police be freed from dealing with prostitution, gambling and marijuana possession so officers can concentrate on fighting violent crimes.

Dr. Amitai Etzioni, a Columbia University sociologist, said prostitutes, gamblers and marijuana possessors have no victims, but surveillance of them "costs us about half of our police resources."

He said freeing police from dealing with prostitution, gambling and marijuana possession and three other proposals could reduce crime in the nation by 80 per cent in the next 12 months. The other three proposals:

Relieve police officers of the responsibility of removing pedestrian drunks from the streets but still leave them responsible for removing drunken drivers from the highways.

—Outlaws all handguns with the exception of sporting arms for hunters, inoperative weapons for gun collectors, and target guns for members of the National Rifle Association who store and use their weapons only at NRA facilities.

—Provide employment for all unemployed young people—especially males—because the scientist said, most crimes are committed by unemployed males between 14 and 29.

Soviet Leaders Relieved By Suspension Of Bombing

By The Associated Press
From what Moscow has said and done — or, perhaps, failed to say and do — it seems Soviet leaders are as relieved as anybody outside North Vietnam by suspension of the bombing of Hanoi and Haiphong.

WORRIED
This suggests a clue to things to come. Possibly, Moscow foresees a whole new chapter in superpower relations that cannot begin to unfold until the Americans find some acceptable way out of the Indochina mire. Maybe — just maybe — the Russians even might be willing to provide a little extra shove to help matters along.

Why were Soviet leaders so clearly worried and so meticulously careful about their reaction to the fierce U.S. bombing of their ally?
Obviously, Moscow ardently has wanted to avoid upsetting the new trend in U.S.-Soviet relations for down-to-earth practical reasons involving the Soviet economy and its troubles. But there are deeper reasons perhaps. Can it be that the Russians are worried that endless U.S. involvement in Indochina paralyzes American policy planning and inhibits developments of a sort the Kremlin would like to see take shape?

Is it that Leonid Brezhnev has reverted to an old notion of Nikita Khrushchev that it might be possible to insulate the two superpowers against the possibility of blundering into war with each other?
BROAD HINTS
Back in the 1950s, Khrushchev threw out broad hints, scaring West Europeans in the process, that the Americans and Russians might do worse than stake out spheres of influence in a sort of superpower coexistence that the rest of the world would have to accept.

Khrushchev was repudiated eight years ago, but the notion of whacking up the world seems to be popping up again. Whatever their goal in the present circumstances, the Russians had to have important reasons for the way they spoke and acted when U.S. B52s rained destruction on Hanoi. Figuratively, they wrung their hands. They said it wasn't right. They denounced it as barbarous. They said it might affect Soviet-American relations. Might. They didn't say positively.

That was a good deal less than they could have said and probably much less than North Vietnam wanted them to say and do.
Meantime, the Russians walked on tiptoe in the Middle East as if to suggest they didn't want anything untoward to happen there, thus affronting the Egyptians. They made a big ditch for detente in Europe. They engineered a new, peaceful-looking relationship between the two Germans. They talked affirmatively with the Americans about a number of things all the way from strategic-arms limitation to commerce.

NO TRESPASSING
Moscow might see some important benefits from a modus vivendi under which both superpowers observe "no trespassing" signs.

The United States did not interfere when the Russians crushed a reform movement in Czechoslovakia, and Americans officially appear resigned to the idea that Communist-ruled Eastern Europe is the Soviet backyard.

The Americans, too, are being passive about growing Soviet influence in South Asia through India and Bangladesh and the flag-showing activities of the Soviet fleet in the Indian Ocean. Actually, the Americans are pulling out — or trying to pull out — of the Asian mainland.

GIFT TAXES Mills Plans Review Of IRS Code

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sweeping review of the Internal Revenue Code, leading to a tax-reform bill for House consideration this summer, is planned by Chairman Wilbur D. Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee.

But Mills cautioned, in an interview, against expecting either a substantial increase in government revenues or a general lowering of taxes to result from the reforms.

"I don't think you increase revenues by tax reform," the Arkansas Democrat said. "You usually find that a gain here is offset by a loss there." And, he added, in its present fiscal situation the country cannot afford an over-all tax cut of any size.

Mills said he expects to begin hearings by late January or early February, depending on how quickly the new House completes its organization, and to continue about six weeks.

He said the review of tax laws will have no particular targets, but in discussing possibilities he indicated some areas that might get special attention:

—Reform of estate and gift taxes, with emphasis on discouraging such devices as trusts which relieve one generation of tax liabilities.
—Capital gains. Mills has suggested several times that the present six-month period for holding an asset before its sale results in low-taxes capital gains—may be too short.
—The minimum tax, a provision in the 1969 tax act intended to ensure that wealthy persons taking advantage of special tax preferences would pay some tax in any case. Mills said the tax has not produced nearly as much revenue as had been anticipated, suggesting that its terms may be too loose.
—Municipal bonds. He said he still favors a provision, lost in the development of the earlier act, by which local governments would have the option of taking a government subsidy on interest rates rather than issuing bonds whose yield is tax-free.

He said local officials are coming to realize that such an arrangement would broaden the market for their securities beyond the institutions and wealthy individuals who now buy municipal bonds because of the tax advantages.

Mills indicated he is not optimistic about chances for some of the changes often advocated by tax reformers, such as repealing special depreciation rules enacted in 1971, or subjecting the income of U.S.-owned foreign corporations to current tax.

Mills said he does not intend to re-introduce the bill he offered last year that would have repealed more than 50 tax preferences in present law unless Congress voted to retain them.

Food Stamps Record Set
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department says food stamp program participation increased to a new record high of 12.1 million in November.

The preliminary estimate is a gain of about 100,000 from the revised October figure of 12 million.

With the gain in participation, the total value of bonus stamps increased to a record $175.7 million for the month.

Participation in the food distribution program was estimated at 2.7 million people—the same as in October.

The school lunch program reached an estimated 8.3 million children—a gain of 400,000 over November of 1971. The greatest number of children receiving free or reduced-price school lunches was in March of 1972, when 8.4 million were fed.

Her Husband's Praise Makes Cooking Fun

By BARBARA LORD
Maintaining a grade point average of 3.8 is no easy task for any student, but for Mrs. Steve (Linda) Dick of Coahoma, who is also a full-time housewife and mother, the feat is remarkable.

When Mrs. Dick graduates in August with a degree in elementary education from San Angelo College, she will have put in an equivalent of 3 1/2 years of college time. She's not one to sit idle. Even while student teaching last semester at Moss Elementary School, she continued doing classwork through evening classes at Howard County Junior College and various correspondence courses.

Mrs. Dick has been on the honor roll every semester at Angelo College. She is a member of Kappa Delta Phi and the Senior Women's Honor Society, both for students with a 3.5 grade point average or above. Her 3.8 average warranted an "award of academic excellence" from the school.

"BETTER LATE"

"I know I've done much better in college than I would have if I had gone directly from high school," said Mrs. Dick. "My grades in high school weren't that good. It's been a lot of hard work but it makes a difference when you're paying your own way and have to be away from your family. You work a little harder to make it worth while."

Mrs. Dick said she wouldn't be able to do it without the help and cooperation of her husband who works in civil engineering at Webb Air Force Base. Since Mrs. Dick began school he has proved a big help with the couple's daughter, Denette, 3. The task of getting three people dressed and out in the morning is a big chore, and Dick is responsible for getting Denette ready while Mrs. Dick prepares breakfast for the family.

"A lot of people don't eat breakfast anymore," said Mrs. Dick, "but I'd be sick by 10 o'clock without it. It's just a natural part of the day."

Meals in general are a favorite part of Mrs. Dick's life. She is a versatile and talented cook who says her greatest inspiration is her husband's pride in her cooking.

"Steve brags about my cooking so much, that I naturally spend a lot of time trying to think up new foods that will please him. He doesn't help me prepare the meals, but he always knows what he wants, so I have no problem deciding on menus."

There's no chance of getting tired of any one meal in the Dick household, because although he will eat anything, he insists on variety. Once he has had something, he doesn't want it again for about three months. This suits Mrs. Dick well, as she is an experimenter at heart and is always on the lookout for new recipes.

ONLY GIRL

"I was the only girl in a family of six brothers," said Mrs. Dick. "That's how I

ORIENTAL PEPPER STEAK WITH TOMATOES

1 lb. steak (sirloin, flank or round)
1 lb. green peppers
1 lb. tomatoes (fresh or canned)
1/2 to 3/4 large onion
2 cloves garlic
1 tsp. cornstarch
1 cup beef broth
3 tbsps. cooking oil
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. sugar
1 tsp. gourmet powder (optional)

Trim fat from steak, and wipe clean. Slice cross-grain to obtain thin slices about 2 inches long by 1 inch wide by 1/4 inch thick. Cut peppers, tomatoes and onion into eighths. Crush garlic. Mix cornstarch with 1/2 cup of broth.

Saute garlic in hot cooking oil until slightly brown. Stir in steak and cook over high flame for two minutes. (If round steak is used simmer for an additional seven or eight minutes). Put steak in a warm bowl and set aside while making sauce.

Saute onions and peppers for five minutes, then add tomatoes, salt, sugar, gourmet powder, soy sauce, and 1/2 cup beef broth. Add cornstarch mixture. Stir, cover and simmer for two minutes. Add steak gradually, and simmer about 10 minutes. Serves 6.

CHINESE EGG ROLLS

1 cup water
2 eggs
3/4 cup all-purpose flour
1 1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 carrot, coarsely chopped
1/2 stalk celery, coarsely chopped
2 tbsps. bean sprouts
1 green onion, sliced
1/2 cup pork, ham or beef, cooked and cubed

1/2 cup peeled and deveined shrimp, cooked
1 tsp. sugar
Dash pepper

Mix water, eggs, flour and one-half teaspoon salt for 15 seconds on highest speed of blender (or shake vigorously by hand for one minute). Grease a six-inch skillet lightly and heat. Pour just enough batter in to make a thin pancake. Bake over medium heat about one minute or until pancake is firm. Do not turn. Remove pancake to flat surface and cool. Repeat, making eight pancakes and reserving two tablespoonsful of the batter.

Grind or grate carrot, celery, bean sprouts and green onion very fine. Turn into mixing bowl. Use medium speed on blender (or grate by hand) to chop meat. Turn into bowl. Repeat procedure with shrimp, and add sugar, salt and pepper. Mix thoroughly. Place about one tablespoonful of shrimp-meat mixture in center of each pancake. Roll pancake around filling, fold ends over and seal with reserved batter. (Toothpicks may be helpful). Place, seam side down, on baking sheet and refrigerate at least one hour. Fry in two inches of hot cooking oil (355 degrees) until golden brown on both sides. Drain. Makes eight egg rolls.

TIM SHUN YOK KOW (Sweet & Sour Meat Balls)

4 medium green peppers, seeded
4 canned pineapple slices

Dish Is Easy To Fix But Difficult To Say

Wong Gor Ngow Gone garnished with Chiang Lo Po will probably take more time to pronounce than to prepare. Beef liver goes Chinese for a tasty change that's easy on the cook.

Chinese main dishes often combine meat and vegetables in a harmonious blend of flavors. For Wong Gor Ngow Gone, beef liver is cooked with sliced cucumbers. Soy sauce and chicken bouillon add to the sweet sour radishes.

WONG GOR NGOW GONE (Chinese Liver with Cucumbers)

1 lb. beef liver, sliced one-third inch thick
2 to 3 cucumbers
2 tbsps. flour
1 tsp. salt
Dash pepper
2 tbsps. soy sauce
2 tbsps. fat
1/2 cup chicken bouillon

Combine flour, salt, pepper and soy sauce. Sprinkle over liver and blend in thoroughly. Heat fat in heavy frying pan. Brown liver. Add cucumbers and bouillon. Cover pan and cook over moderate heat 5 to 10 minutes or until cucumbers are tender. Serve immediately with unseasoned rice. Serves 4.

CHIANG LO PO (Sweet Sour Radishes)

1 bunch radishes
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. sesame seeds (or oil if available)
2 tbsps. soy sauce
2 tbsps. sugar
2 tbsps. vinegar

Wash and trim radishes. Slice cross-wise being careful not to cut through. Sprinkle with salt and let stand 10 to 20 minutes. Drain. Mix remaining ingredients and pour over radishes. Chill. Serve cold as relish with Chinese Liver and Cucumbers. Radishes absorb more flavoring as soaked longer, but also become darker in color and less crisp.

ON BEST DRESSED LIST — These five people were among the best dressed men and women in the world according to some 2,000 fashion designers, social and theatrical personalities and the fashion press, according to Wednesday's announcement by publicist Eleanor Lambert. From left, they are New York mayor, John Lindsay, Mrs. Nancy Reagan, Richard Roundtree, Mrs. Henry Ford II and Mick Jagger.

'Fashion Plate' Prefers Sears Work Shirts, Indian Jewelry

NEW YORK (AP) — Actor Robert Redford is back on this year's International Best Dressed list for men and women.

"I didn't know ski parkas were in this year," said Redford, in a call from Utah.

"That's where all us fashion plates hang out, he said, adding that a hand cast was part of his wardrobe right now, as he'd recently had a skiing accident.

Sears blue work shirts, boots, tennis shoes, jeans and durable clothes from the 1930s.

He doesn't like hollotrope, anything Ivy League, trendy clothes or clothes he can't move around easily in.

"I like clothes best when I've worn them for two or three years," said Redford, adding that he still wears a 15-year-old leather jacket and a tan suede jacket he got at a Paris flea market in 1957.

Those on the list of 12 best-dressed men with Redford are Mick Jagger, rock star; Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York; Richard Roundtree, film star in "Shaft"; and Robert Evans, movie executive.

Others include Gianni Bulgari, Italian jeweler; Billy Baldwin, New York interior decorator; John Gallier, international socialite; David Susskind, television personality; Fred Hughes, with Andy Warhol Enterprises; Armando Orsini, New York restaurateur; and David Mahoney, chairman of North Simon.

On the list of 12 best-dressed women are Miss Marisa Berenson, actress; Baroness Thierry van Zuylen, Paris socialite; Mrs. Samuel P. Reed and see her new nephew, Jr., daughter of Mrs. Charles Donald Paul, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don McEvers. The infant Shilma Khan, wife of the Aga Khan; and Mrs. Henry Ford II of Detroit.

Others include Mrs. Reinaldo Herrera Jr. of Caracas, Venezuela; Mrs. Ronald Reagan, wife of the governor of California; Mrs. Frederick Melhado, New York; Signora Gianluigi Gabetti, Milan, Italy; Mrs. Mick Jagger, wife of the rock star; Mrs. William Buckley Jr., wife of the author, columnist and television commentator; and Mrs. William Clay Ford of Grosse Pointe, Mich.

Poinsettia Culture, Care Explained To Gardeners

Exhibition and culture of poinsettias were discussed Wednesday by Mrs. Jesse Crane Jr. for Big Spring Garden Club in the home of Mrs. G. T. Hall, 704 Texas.

Mrs. Crane said poinsettia plants should be set aside in February and allowed to dry out. To start new plants, a poinsettia may be cut at each joint and each stem replanted.

A combination of half sand and half peat moss was suggested by Mrs. Crane for planting poinsettias. She said they should be set in a cool place and that new growth should start in March.

Mrs. John Knox presided and was re-elected club president. She and other officers will be installed in May. It was announced that Big Spring Council of Garden Clubs will host the District 1 spring convention April 5-6.

Cohostess for the meeting was Mrs. J. C. Pickle. Mrs. Merle Hollis of Arkansas was a guest. The next meeting will be at 9:30 a.m., Feb. 7 in the home of Mrs. L. B. Edwards, 2707 Crestline.

Gene Mikeska Talks On Interior Design

"You must be honest with your designer by first saying how much you want to spend, along with your likes and dislikes, for there are always alternate choices," said Gene Mikeska when he spoke Tuesday evening to members of the Scenic Chapter, American Business Women's Association.

Mikeska, an interior designer and owner of Lucelle's, was introduced by Miss Shirley Lee. He stressed that each home should express the client's character and personality.

"Today's trend in interior design is the collective look," he continued. "This is a combination of different periods and styles but, with it, we should not be afraid to use color."

C. Forrest Joins Rebekah Lodge

C. C. Forrest was accepted for initiation in John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge No. 153 Tuesday at the IOOF Hall. Mrs. W. E. Rayburn presided, and the auditing report given by Mrs. Homer Petty was accepted by the membership.

Mrs. U. S. Beechly, financial secretary, gave the semi-annual report of activities and monies received by the lodge. A certificate of perfection was presented to Mrs. Jessie Barker by Mrs. Lee Thackrey, lodge deputy.

Mrs. Petty, lodge mother, presented Mrs. Rayburn with a scrapbook covering events of her term as noble grand. She was also given a money corsage by Mrs. Jim Ferguson on behalf of the members.

The 15 members present reported four visits to the sick. Installation of new officers is scheduled Tuesday at the IOOF Hall, and Mrs. A. I. Johnson, incoming noble grand, asked all members to be at the hall at 7 p.m. to have their pictures made.

'DO NOT PLAN ON SEEING IT IN A DAY'

West Is East But What Is Texas?

By NEIL MORGAN
Capley News Service

LA JOLLA, Calif. — A French journalist, assigned to write about the American West, recently sought me out at my home here. He had been beating his way through our part of the world to his considerable bafflement. When I took him in, it was not a moment too soon. What we had to offer each other was perspective. He had helped me understand his country on a recent visit, and now he needed help.

AND NO WONDER

And no wonder. There is no adequate guide to the United States — either domestic or foreign. Perhaps it is because it is still so difficult for Europeans to comprehend what is happening in America. I understand their plight and would be the last to complain.

When we live here in the American West, we grow accustomed to its excesses, its unreasoning innovation, its relentless pursuit of the unique.

An immediate crisis for the European in the American West is finding where it is.

CONSIDER BEEF

New Yorkers consider beef from Kansas City to be western beef, and so declare it; yet by western standards, Kansas City is about 600 miles east of the West. In Texas some profess to be southerners and some to be westerners, but this state is seldom claimed either by South or West. Texas is thought to be part of a region called the Southwest. Southern California is part of something called the Far West.

Usually the American West is regarded as that region of 11 states lying between the Rocky Mountains and the Pacific.

It is an area about equal in size to the combined area of the British Isles, Denmark, The Netherlands and Belgium, France, West and East Germany, Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Greece, Spain and Portugal — almost all of Western Europe; the trip from Paris to Rome is not very much farther than the interstate run from San Francisco to San Diego.

So size presents a problem of context for the European visitor in America: the height of the Rockies, the depth of the Grand Canyon, the vastness of the Great Basin desert, the traffic of Los Angeles, the void between places of habitation, the absence of towns and cities even in much of California.

These were some of the problems my French friend faced. He was a man accustomed to the sheltering network of villages and country roads with which the centuries have endowed his land. For him, setting out to drive from Salt Lake City to Los Angeles was a chilling experience.

I think if I were to write a guide to western America for such Europeans, I would try hard to write it as Temple Fielding writes his fat red guide for Americans visiting Europe. It would begin on a note of bland understatement:

"The West is spread out. Do not plan on seeing it in a day. Although highways are faster than in Europe, distances are greater. The American seems content to spend a great amount of his life in his automobile, and you will too. Accident rates are lower than on European roads, but you cannot tell it from looking. The only real way to see the West is by moving there, which almost everyone seems to be doing.

ARID AREAS

"The European visitor will compare the Rocky Mountains from Colorado north to Montana with parts of the Alps, but the arid areas of southern Utah, New Mexico, Arizona and eastern California, with their desert mountains, will seem barren and unfamiliar.

"To see a typical Wild West village, one must visit a sound stage in the Hollywood area, or go to Disneyland, a collection of pseudo-antiquities. Indians seem almost impossible to identify, even when you are told that you are among them. If you are eager to hear Indian dialects, you may have to tune in the radio stations of Indian areas, like the one in Gallup, N.M., where cheap wine commercials are heard in the languages of the Navajo and Hopi. Indian blankets are available at service stations, but be wary; they may have been factory-produced by another tribe.

VISIT OLD TOWN

"If you are looking for something really old by American standards, visit Old Town in San Diego, site of the first California mission in 1769. That year marked the entry of the first white settler in California.

"For an example of another American adaptation visit the Napa and Sonoma valleys north of San Francisco, where vineyards are planted from cuttings brought to the United States from Europe a century ago. In San Francisco, the European visitor will find one of the few genuine antiques of the West: cable cars which like Pigalle in Paris or the Soho in London, and racked most recently with an unsuccessful antinuity drive.

"Perhaps the unique church of all the American West is Forest Lawn, which is regarded by many as not a church at all. Visitors should inquire from attendants as to what exactly it is, since answers vary. It is hard, after all, even for us to understand ourselves.

99 Die In Plane Crash

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Investigators sifting the wreckage of an Eastern Air Lines TriStar jetliner that crashed into the Everglades Friday have found the body of a woman hidden in dense sawgrass. Officials said the body of a Mrs. S. Karpen, found Tuesday, was the 99th and almost certainly the final one to be recovered from the site of the worst single-plane disaster in U. S. history. The Dade County medical examiner and Eastern agreed for the first time Tuesday on the final death and survival figures for the crash. Both listed 99 dead and 77 survivors. Ed Slattery, spokesman for the National Transportation Safety Board which is investigating the crash, said it appeared that investigators were "not going to need to bring in much wreckage."

Cotton Group Claims Boll Weevil Is On Run

RALEIGH — Cotton Incorporated's top pest expert declared here that the two-year eradication experiment, now nearing completion, is showing every sign of proving successful. Total eradication of the billion-dollar pest throughout the U.S. cotton belt is a definite possibility, he added.

Dr. George A. Slater said potential federal funding for a nationwide eradication program likely could come from the rural development act of 1972, which authorizes grants of up to $50 million a year for pollution abatement and control projects in rural areas.

"We have the weevil on the demand critical planning and run, Slater told an audience attending a special "cotton momentum" meeting sponsored by Cotton Incorporated. Research is financed out of the $1-per bale by producers. So far cotton one has put $1 million into the eradication experiment.

The scientist said pollution abatement funding for an all-out eradication effort could be justified because eliminating the boll weevil would reduce the amount of insecticides used on cotton by more than half. Beltwide eradication will all-time low.

"But I don't believe it would require any more money than it presently costs to live with the weevil in an average year," he said.

Slater reported that the first 18 months of the two-year pilot eradication experiment have reduced weevil numbers to an enormous sums of money, which will call into play the combined resources of federal and state governments and the cotton industry, he said.

Court Refuses To Review Ruling On Austin Schools

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Officials in Austin, Tex., must come up with a new school desegregation plan utilizing an order or not. That's the effect of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals' refusal Wednesday to clarify its ruling on Austin schools—a ruling that has confused a district court judge, school officials and even members of the 5th Circuit.

The Austin case was one of the legal storm centers in President Nixon's opposition to school busing as a means to achieve racial balance.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge Jack Roberts of Austin had decided on a school desegregation plan, rejecting the HEW plan for busing.

HEW appealed to the 5th Circuit and Nixon, in an extraordinary move, repudiated the HEW busing plan.

The 5th Circuit, despite Nixon's opposition to busing, reversed Roberts in the August ruling.

LEGAL STORM

The 93-page ruling in 1972 told the Austin Independent School District and the Texas Education Agency to remedy discrimination in public schools. If they couldn't do it, the 5th Circuit said, the district judge in Austin was to remedy it.

The Austin case was one of the legal storm centers in President Nixon's opposition to school busing as a means to achieve racial balance.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge Jack Roberts of Austin had decided on a school desegregation plan, rejecting the HEW plan for busing.

HEW appealed to the 5th Circuit and Nixon, in an extraordinary move, repudiated the HEW busing plan.

The 5th Circuit, despite Nixon's opposition to busing, reversed Roberts in the August ruling.

GUIDELINES

The appeals court said the district judge could not "totally reject the use of busing."

Certain other guidelines were to be followed, but neither the school officials nor the district judge understood the guidelines.

The school district filed a motion asking the 5th Circuit for clarification, but the appeals court refused Wednesday.

The refusal—a terse, one-sentence denial—came in a bitter 9-5 split with dissenting judges calling the majority opinion an "example of how a reviewing court can pass the buck ... and confuse the district judge."

"A denial of the motion for clarification just may be construed as evidence that the majority of this court did not know or could not articulate the reasons for their so-called remedy," said the five judges in a barbed three-page dissent.

No one could understand last August's majority ruling, they added.

TOO MUCH?

"When the litigants and the trial judge are unable to understand what the Court of Appeals is trying to say ... it is an error to deny a motion for clarification," said the written dissent.

One of the dissenting judges, Walter Gwin, said the August order fails "to offer any guidance on the key, substantive questions: 1. How much desegregation is required? and 2. How much busing is too much?"

"The important issues in this case," said the dissenters, "deal with the question of discrimination against Mexican-Americans, the de jure character of that discrimination and the appropriate remedy. It is up to the majority of the court to tell the litigants and the trial judge what the opinion means ..."

CONFUSION

To underline the confusion, the dissenters pointed out what Judge Roberts said to lawyers in the case when he received the August order from the 5th Circuit:

"I assume that all of you have read the opinion. I hope you know more about it than I do ... If you can help out any, I sure would appreciate it."

The dissent was written by Judge J. Minor Wisdom. He was joined by Chief Judge John R. Brown, Gwin and Judges Brian Simpson and Irving Goldberg.

The majority included Judges Griffin Bell, who wrote the August opinion for the majority, James Coleman, Robert Ainsworth, John Godbold, David Dyer, Lewis Moran, Charles Clark, Joe Ingraham and Paul Roney.

Judge Homer Thornberry of Austin, the 15th member of the 5th Circuit, did not participate in Wednesday's ruling.

Humble Makes Museum Gift

Officers of the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, Library, and Hall of Fame in Midland have announced a grant of $20,000 to the museum by the Humble Companies Foundation, Houston.

George T. Abell, museum president, said that the Humble grant will be used in connection with construction and equipping of the petroleum museum's first building. Work on the building will begin during the first part of 1973.

Abell said that the gift "represents the very fine civic and industry spirit demonstrated by the Humble enterprises over a long period of time." He thanked Larry Byrd, Midland division manager for help in obtaining the grant.

Numbering Names

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I named our son John Allen Jones II after my husband. We used "the second" because we didn't want to call the baby "Junior." We were later told that "the second" should not be used when a boy is named after his father. It is used only when a boy is named after another relative bearing the same name. We know several people who have used "the second" when naming a son after his father. Have all these people made a mistake or has the rule changed?

In this state (Tennessee) we have one year in which to make a change in a name without any difficulties. Please tell us whether we should change "the second" to "Junior."

DEAR NEEDS: Change your son's name from "the second" to "Junior." A child bearing the same name as his father is Junior. If a child bears his grandfather's name, which is different from his father's name, he is "the second." If grandfather, son and grandson all have the same name, the father of course is "Junior" and the grandson is "the third." The use of "second" indicates that the bearer of the name is a cousin, nephew, or grandson of the original holder of it.

DEAR ABBY: We are two girls who are having a big argument. She's 17 and I'm 18. She's a virgin and I'm not, and she says a guy can tell whether a girl is a virgin or not by the way she walks.

I say a girl doesn't walk any differently after she's gone all the way with a guy than she did before.

We'll be looking for your answer.

WAITING IN COLORADO: DEAR WAITING: You can't tell if a girl is a virgin by the way she walks. But you can sometimes tell by the way she TALKS.

DEAR ABBY: My poor, sweet, young daughter-in-law is half out of her mind because our son has left her. Why did he leave her? Because she continually checked up on him and nagged him. Well, why wouldn't she check up on him? He is never where he says he will be, and she has caught him with other women several times. And she nags him because she loves him and doesn't want him running around with other women.

This lovely, intelligent daughter-in-law is crazy about our son, and he loved her, too, before she started nagging him. Now she wants to call him up and apologize for having nagged him and checked up on him. I told her she was nuts and she should have thrown him out a long time ago.

He tried to tell her that 95 per cent of the married men cheat on their wives — it's natural because men like a change. My husband who works in an all-male business took a survey and found out that only 20 per cent of the married men cheated on their wives!

Abby, what do you think she should do? Even if he is our son, I think she should lock him out for good.

MISSOURI MOTHER-IN-LAW: DEAR MOTHER: I think your daughter-in-law should quit discussing her marital problems with you. She needs some professional objective advice from an impartial party. Since she hasn't asked for my advice, I'll not offer any. But I think you should bow out.

CONFIDENTIAL TO WORRIED IN CEDAR RAPIDS: My doctor said: "Tell the 49-year-old lady with the 32-year-old husband to keep her guard up. She is not beyond the age of child-bearing."

| West | North | East | South |
| Pass | 1 NT | Pass | 2 ♣ |
| Pass | 3 ♣ | Pass | 4 ♣ |
| Pass | Pass | Pass | Pass |

Opening lead: Queen of ♣ South's two heart response to North's one no trump bid is a signoff. If he has as many as eight high card points, he would first bid two clubs which is artificial and requests the no trump to show a four card major suit.

Altho South's response ostensibly requests the opening bidder to pass, North held a maximum no trump, 18 points in high cards, plus a fit for his partner. He, therefore, made one more try by raising to three hearts. South accepted the invitation and carried on to game.

West opened the queen of hearts which proved to be an effective choice. Observe that, in the absence of the trump lead, declarer has time to give up a diamond trick and then ruff out a small diamond in dummy. He thereby restricts his losses on the deal to two hearts and one diamond.

The heart lead and continuation prevents South from obtaining the diamond ruff for, if he plays a round of diamonds himself, the defense has the opportunity to draw North's trumps. Declarer pondered the situation for a moment and then uncovered an alternative plan of campaign.

He ducked the opening lead, and when hearts were continued, he put up dummy's ace, leaving only the king outstanding. The ace of spades was cashed followed by a spade ruff. Dummy was reentered twice in clubs to trump out two more spades with the seven and eight of hearts, as both defenders followed suit.

All the spades were gone and the only trumps left were the dummy's nine and East's king. South continued to lead clubs and East ruffed in. A small diamond was returned, declarer played the deuce and West's ten dislodged North's queen. The ace of diamonds and the nine of hearts took the last two tricks.

Declarer's stripping operation resulted in the scoring up of an overtrick when East found himself employed late in the deal, however, this was not essential to South's success. The principle behind his line of play was to develop an extra trick in the trump suit once he was deprived of the diamond ruff. This he accomplished by reversing the dummy.

The count is simple: The ace of hearts, the ace of spades, the ace of diamonds, four club tricks and finally, three spade ruffs in the closed hand.

About Shoveling

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Remainder of yesterday's while and I would like to take the pill. How soon should I start? Should I take it at all before we get married? — MAC.

Is there a right way and wrong way to shovel snow? I remember someone expounding at length about rhythm of shoveling — more use of the legs to ease the back and arms. Will that help?

I am a 9-to-5 desk worker, 60-ish, and like to do all my household chores myself, painting, lawns, garden, leaves, and SNOW. I enjoy it and would like to continue, but not if it kills me. — H.W.

Right way to shovel? In any kind of lifting, the more you use your legs, the less strain is on the back — but it doesn't change the total amount of energy you have to use, so there would be no significant effect so far as a heart attack would be concerned.

To answer a part of yesterday's questions, there may or may not be any warning of an oncoming heart attack. You can't just go ahead and shovel with the expectation of stopping if or when an attack is imminent.

But on the other hand there are several precautions that can add much to your safety.

The angina pectoris patient, who has dull chest pain when he exceeds the exertion level that he can tolerate, has plenty of warning, of course. But not many angina patients are going to be shoveling snow or indulging in other heavy exertion anyway.

Generally speaking, the man over 50 who customarily does only fairly light work (sits at a desk all day, does a little walking, tends his garden or cuts the grass on weekends) shouldn't expect to be in the same shape as a man who does hard physical work every day. He's the fellow who should avoid digging out after a heavy snowstorm. He just isn't "in training" for it.

If he insists on taking the risk anyway, he must certainly should quit as soon as he starts to huff and puff or notices any chest discomfort. That can't always save him from trouble, but it may.

Finally, as I've mentioned before, these heart attacks rarely afflict the man with a thoroughly healthy heart. But how do you know if you have one?

That's where your doctor comes in. An ECG (electrocardiogram) from time to time won't necessarily detect every clue, but it will give clear evidence of artery or heart muscle deficiency in a big majority of cases.

Finally, how is your blood pressure? If it is on the high side, that's another warning to be careful.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: would you please send me some pamphlets on dark stools, almost black? — M. O'B.

Since this is a common sign of internal bleeding, you shouldn't waste time looking for pamphlets. You must report this condition at once to a doctor and find out what is wrong.

What is angina pectoris? Is it dangerous? Is there a cure? If you would like to learn more about angina pectoris, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of his helpful booklet, "How To Handle Angina Pectoris." Please enclose a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope, and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

POWS Urge End Of War

TOKYO (AP) — North Vietnam said today that 30 American prisoners of war, including 20 crewmen from B52 bombers downed recently, have issued a joint statement urging the U.S. Congress to try to help end the Vietnam war.

The official Vietnam News Agency broadcast the text of the statement and the names of the 30 POWs. Hanoi had reported the capture of all them previously.

The statement recalled the remark made in late October by Henry Kissinger, President Nixon's chief adviser for national security, that "peace is at hand" in Vietnam.

"But, the statement continued, "now the war is more fierce than ever before and American lives are in grave jeopardy from the round-the-clock attacks. This contradiction compels us to add our voices to the public opinion in our country. Whether we have been detained for a few days or several years, it is important that you hear us.

"We strongly appeal to the members of Congress to exercise all your legal and moral power to bring about peace.

"This statement is made by those who know that more delay can only increase the suffering, lengthen our confinement and aggravate the wellbeing of the country which we serve."

'OH, OH, HE REALLY SLITHERED OVER IT!' Average Briton Can't Do Without Telly

By JOSEPH THESKEN
Cable News Service

LONDON — The commentator was fairly ecstatic. Where was that British reserve? "Oh, oh, he really slithered over it!" he reported in admiring tones. He could have been describing Mike Garrett slipping into the end zone for a San Diego Charger touchdown.

REAL ACTION
Actually, his comments were directed at a sleek horse that barely cleared a seven-foot barrier. The jump was part of the competition at the Norwich Union Championship horse exhibition, which was being faithfully reported via BBC 1.

This was British telly in action, not the most exciting event for an American brought up on football, baseball and basketball, but the English did those horse shows.

If nothing else, the telecast was beautifully photographed and the horses were graceful as they made their leaps, that is, those which didn't knock down the barrier.

"He didn't quite take up his knees enough," the commentator noted sympathetically as one of the horses virtually demolished the stand. The rider slipped off his mount and landed softly on the grass.

Then there are the nightly 10 o'clock news shows. The lead-off item in the program I watched began: "In Hampshire a new record was set in land sale. A 2,500-acre site was sold for three and a quarter million pounds to a London businessman, Joseph Wright."

WRONG QUESTIONS
The reporter diligently pursued Mr. Wright into London but the interview was not very fruitful.

Wright ignored each of the queries, then looked tolerantly at his adversary: "You ask very different questions." With that, he walked out of camera range.

There was a story about an escaped murderer from a mental institution who forced the bars of his window, climbed down 4 feet to the ground with a makeshift rope, made his way over a 20-foot fence and escaped into the foggy night.

Drug Raid At Hotel

HOUSTON (AP) — Federal agents seized a reported $45,000 in cash and arrested 11 persons in a New Year's Eve raid at an airport hotel, they disclosed.

Also seized by agents of the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs, working jointly with Customs agents, were five cars, three guns, about 100 pounds of marijuana and small quantities of cocaine, opium and morphine.

Charges of possession with intent to distribute marijuana and cocaine were lodged against Ronald A. Galli, 34, and Nick I. Vechio, 29, both of Brooklyn, N.Y., and Harland B. Brancel, 28, Billy M. McNurien, 20, Lawrence L. Scott, 27, and Lonnie Robinson 31, and his wife Evelyn, 30, all of Houston. Four persons were charged with possession with intent to distribute cocaine.

CIA Boss Is Not Spy Type

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. James Rodney Schlesinger, President Nixon's choice to be the new director of the Central Intelligence Agency, would rate low marks if the nation needed to match the fictional image of James Bond.

While Ian Fleming's Bond chased beautiful women in his off hours, Schlesinger, an academic by training, watches birds.

A pipe-smoker, whose necktie is usually askew, Schlesinger is a dedicated family man with eight children.

A careful man, he seldom leaves home without consulting a road map, even though the trip might involve only a jaunt of several miles to a dinner party.

While working for the Federal Budget Bureau, he drove to work in what an aide described as "an old beat-up car that has a Blue Book (list) value of about $45—he gave me a ride home one night, and I was afraid of the brakes."

Schlesinger brings to his new job a background in economics and social science including an associate professorship in economics at the University of Virginia; service at the Rand Corp. "think tank" in Santa Monica, Calif., where he advised the government on nuclear arms and other national-security subjects. He joined the Budget Bureau in 1968 and became an assistant director when the agency became the Office of Management and Budget (OMB).

In the OMB job, Harvard-trained Schlesinger was responsible for framing the energy policy of the government, especially as it might affect air and water pollution.

In 1971, he headed a little-known survey designed to evaluate the nation's intelligence-gathering activities.

That led to a sweeping reorganization of the intelligence community including an expansion of CIA Director Richard Helms' job to new authority covering the whole $5 billion-a-year U.S. intelligence effort.

A Budget Bureau aide once said Schlesinger "has an analytical mind—that's as incisive as the cutting edge of a steel die."

Five Americans Killed In Indochina Battles

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that five Americans were killed in action in Indochina last week and another 24 are missing, raising the two-week casualty toll to 109 since the start of the Hanoi-Haiphong blitz Dec. 18. Most of the casualties were captured. The U.S. Command also reported 13 Americans wounded last week and three deaths from nonhostile causes. The South Vietnamese command reported that its total of battlefield deaths declined last week for the third successive week. The total of 293 was the lowest since North Vietnam launched its offensive last March 30. Another 1,056 South Vietnamese soldiers were wounded, and 29 were missing, the Saigon command said. It claimed that 1,288 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were killed last week. The allied commands now have reported these total casualties for the war: American — 45,928 killed in action, 10,294 deaths from non-hostile causes, 303,597 wounded, 1,806 missing or captured. South Vietnamese — 162,041 killed, 432,915 wounded. North Vietnamese and Viet Cong — 919,615 killed.

FEASIBLE IN 10 YEARS OR LESS Earthquake Forecasting

MENLO PARK, Calif. (AP) — Earthquake forecasts as reliable and precise as hurricane warnings will be feasible in 10 years or earlier, a U.S. Geological Survey research chief predicted. "We are on the threshold of spectacular breakthroughs. We anticipate success," Jerry T. Eaton said Wednesday in an interview. Eaton is chief of the survey's office of earthquake research and crustal studies. "All the elements of our work are coming together now. This means that we can judge the size, the time and magnitude," he said.

POOLING DATA
Japanese and Russian research efforts also are progressing on a major scale, Eaton said, and those nations are pooling their information with that developed by American scientists.

Eaton said that, while there has been notable progress in earthquake-prediction ability over the last eight years, "we can't venture a scientifically based prediction yet."

"I will make an out-on-a-limb guess that there will be no catastrophic quake (in the San Francisco Bay area) of the 1906 San Francisco scale for at least the next 20 to 30 years."

The Dec. 23 Managua, Nicaragua, earthquake with its huge toll in human lives and destruction underscores the worth of a reliable quake-predicting system, Eaton said.

ELASTIC ENERGY
"It's simple to say what causes a major earthquake. It's the release of stored elastic energy jammed up in the rock faces locked together in plates of the earth's crust moving in opposite directions," Eaton said.

Laser and computer instruments developed since the great Alaska earthquake of Good Friday 1964 make it possible to record minute fault creeping and to detect symptoms of fault failure, Eaton said.

"With laboratory simulation of rock-strain endurance, plus other clues, we can construct computer models of when there must be a failure in a fault locking system," he said.

He said California's 700-mile San Andreas Fault system is nature's contribution to the study.

EXPERIENCE
"It will give us a number of 5 Richter magnitude quakes — just below destructive scale — and we will be able to prove and test out all we have found out," he said.

"We'll have to have the dry-run experience with San Andreas quakes of magnitude 5 or less before we can have full confidence in our capability of predicting a really major quake," Eaton said.

Council To Have Closed Sessions

The city council is going into executive session twice before the regular meeting next Tuesday night.

Commissioners will meet today on a matter of personnel. In a recent discussion meeting, the council talked about plans for hiring an administrative assistant, also a secretary for the sewage department. It is not known whether these are the items to be discussed today.

An executive session has been called for Tuesday for the purpose of discussing a land transaction. No announcement has been made as to what land transaction is to be discussed but the members of the Dora Roberts Foundation board have been invited to the meeting. Two years ago the foundation acquired the Cosden Country Club properties and gave them to the city.

Under the Texas open meetings law, personnel and land matters are two things under which closed sessions are permitted.

Cotton Samples Show Decrease

Pecos Territory cotton sample receipts continued to decrease at the USDA's Carlsbad Classing Office. Samples from 2,285 bales of cotton were classed for the week ending Dec. 29, bringing the season's total to 61,583, according to Mack Bennett, in charge.

Strict low middling (4) remained the predominant grade with 31 per cent of classings. All white grades combined made up 53 per cent. Strict low middling light spotted (42) accounted for 25 per cent, and all light spotted grades combined made up 35 per cent. Reductions for bark were made on 17 per cent of the samples.

Staples ranged from 29 to 36 with staple 32 predominant at 44 per cent. Staple 33 accounted for 21 per cent and staple 31 for 18 per cent. Mike readings remained about the same as a week ago with 57 per cent in the "premium range."

Upland cotton in low grades and below grades brought 11 to 14 cents. Acala 1517 strict low middling (41) of 36 and 37 staple, brought about nine cents over Loan rates.

Head Tax Idea Axed

DALLAS (AP) — Agreement by airlines to foot the bill for security caused city councilmen to shelve a proposed $1 head tax on travelers departing from Dallas Love Field. Council members made it clear, however, that their decision hinges on government approval of increased airline fares. The city had proposed to charge all passengers boarding here a $1 tax to pay for the beefed-up security force ordered recently by the Federal Aviation Agency. Instead, all but one of the airlines serving Dallas agreed to meet the costs for more guards provided fares are raised.

SUPPLYING AMERICAN ADDICTS 'Chinese Connection'

HONG KONG (AP) — Among the farm houses, tenements and sprawling mansions of this colony are about 20 secret laboratories producing more and more of the heroin sold on American street corners, according to Western narcotics experts.

This "Chinese Connection" is expanding as legal and diplomatic pressure threatens the traditional "French Connection" of Turkish opium or morphine processed into heroin in France and then smuggled to the United States.

TRAFFICKERS
The U.S. Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs estimates the percentage of Southeast Asian heroin supplying the American market has at least doubled recently, to almost a third of the total U.S. supply.

But narcotics agents tend to scoff at precise figures. "The traffickers don't publish balance sheets, so how can we know how much they are smuggling," says one agent.

Norman Rolph, Hong Kong's commissioner of narcotics, business are very security and says: "All the people in this surveillance conscious. They have a high degree of mobility. The laboratories in which they refine the morphine are everywhere, from chicken runs to villas. They spend just a day or two in each one and then move on to another."

PUBLICITY HOUNDS
The opium and heroin trade in this part of the world is almost exclusively run by Chinese, and the vast bulk of their trafficking is for Asian addicts.

Officials say there is no indication mainland China is exporting any of the narcotics.

If arrested, the traffickers almost never tell authorities about their smuggling network. "The Mafia are publicity hounds compared to the Chinese," says an informant in Bangkok, the capital of Thailand.

Pick GOP Director

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Brad O'Leary, who was finance director of Sen. John Tower's recent successful re-election campaign, is the new executive director of the Republican Party.

Dr. George Willeford, state GOP chairman, said O'Leary replaces Zack Fisher who moved to Wichita Falls to establish an office for Rep. Bob Price, R-Tex.

O'Leary, 36, joined the Tower campaign staff in 1971 and was responsible for raising more than $2.8 million from 34,573 contributors, Willeford said.

Previously O'Leary had been executive director of the Missouri Young Republicans, a fieldman and chairman of the urban affairs committee of the National Young Republican Association, advance man for Vice President Richard Nixon in the 1960 campaign, vote fraud investigator for the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee and co-chairman of fund raising organization for Vice President Spiro Agnew.

He also has been with the editorial and promotion departments of the St. Louis Globe Democrat newspaper.

"Money and fear are the only things that hold this dirty business together, and money is the only thing we can chip at it with," he adds.

Thailand and Hong Kong use a reward system based on the value of drug seizures to attract informers. In Hong Kong, an informer can earn as much as $100,000 for a tip that leads to a major seizure and arrests. And nearly all major seizures come from such information.

SMALL FRY
But generally it is only the small fry that are caught. The rich financiers pulling the strings from the top evade arrest. They carefully avoid any direct contact with the people handling drugs. Even when authorities know whom they are, no evidence can be obtained to convict them, agents say.

Narcotics officials agree the trafficking in Southeast Asia has not been hurt or even slowed by law-enforcement efforts. Some believe, however, recent large seizures are a promising start to a widened drive.

It seems doubtful any progress is being made in the most vital country of all — Burma.

About 70 per cent of the world's illicit opium is grown in the "Golden Triangle," a border region of Burma, Laos and Thailand. It is so nicknamed for its shape on a map and the money flowing into it from the opium traffic.

Most of the opium production from the "Golden Triangle" comes from the Burmese part, which is outside the domain of the government.

Tribesmen in the area live off the drug trade, and the government is reluctant to move against them because it sometimes uses them against Communist guerrillas. The United States does not supply aid to Burma and its influence is slight.

OPIUM
President Nixon, in hopes of throttling the heroin supply before it reaches the United States, has ordered American officials overseas to encourage Asian governments to step up their fight against narcotics trafficking and addiction. And the U.S. government is helping Asian governments build up their manpower and is assisting in the crackdown.

Wiping out the opium at its source is the key to success, officials say. This means destroying fields of opium poppies in the "Golden Triangle" and other areas and replacing the opium with other crops.

But many of the hill people who grow the opium are not enthusiastic about abandoning their opium harvest in favor of another crop which might not bring them as much money. Bandits and private armies roam the mountains, and they also depend on the trafficking for their money.

Agents report that, fairly recently, tons of heroin has been stockpiled in Burma. One possible reason for this accumulation is that a major market has been lost with the withdrawal of most American troops from South Vietnam. Another reason, they say, may be the expanding production.

Newspaper Deal In Georgia Made

CARTERSVILLE, Ga. (AP) — The Daily Tribune News and Herald Tribune in Cartersville has been sold to Carmage Walls and Associates of Montgomery, Ala.

In a joint announcement, John T. Fleetwood, the former editor, publisher and owner of the newspapers, and Charles E. Hurley, the new editor and publisher, said Monday the sale was effective Jan. 1, 1973.

No price was disclosed. Hurley, 33, is president of a new corporation that negotiated the sale and purchased 100 per cent of Tribune Publishing Co., Inc., as well as 100 per cent of the stock of both the North Barrow News in Adairsville and the Chatsworth Times.

Hurley, a native of Ft. Payne, Ala., said no personnel or policy changes are planned for the daily or the three weekly newspapers.
