

Council To Spend $1 Million In Battling Organized Crime

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Criminal Justice Council said Wednesday it will spend more than $1 million in 1973 to ferret out organized criminal activities, ranging from bookie joints to corrupt public officials.

The anti-organized crime program was part of the council's "Criminal Justice Plan for Texas" issued by Gov. Preston Smith and council director Joe Frazier Brown.

Smith said the plan, if carried out, would cut Texas' crime rate by 10 per cent over the next five years.

The funds come largely from federal money allocated to Texas under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968.

LOAN SHARKS

"Intelligence reports from local law enforcement agencies, the Department of Public Safety and out of state sources indicate that organized crime exists to some degree in all major communities in Texas," the report said.

Organized criminal activities operating in Texas communities were identified as illegal gambling, illegal drug traffic, loan sharking, labor racketeering, auto theft, prostitution and pornography.

DATA NEEDED

"The perpetrators of these activities have been identified as members of organized criminal groups with at least part of their activities being directed by a national crime confederation," the report said.

"The inability of the components of the criminal justice system to deal effectively with organized crime has permitted these racketeers to derive millions of dollars each year from the sale of illegal goods and services to a large minority of the citizens of this state."

Lack of awareness of organized crime was scored as one of the major problems in attacking it.

"The general lack of public information concerning the extent and significance of organized crime in Texas is exemplified by the fact that thousands of otherwise good citizens patronize bookies who are known to be extensions of the national crime confederation," the report said.

The council also called for creation of a statewide investigative agency with subpoena authority, such as a state grand jury, and for statewide prosecution authority for the attorney general.

CONTROL UNITS

Prosecuting power and subpoena authority now is vetoed in local grand juries and district attorneys.

Included in the council's financial plan is $750,000 in federal funds for organized crime control units for police agencies, $149,000 for intelligence collection and $75,000 for corruption control units.

Evaluation of the anti-corruption program will be based, the council said, on success in "eliminating any protected status of organized crime," "the number of public officials removed from office for corrupt practices" and the number of indictments resulting from investigative hearings.

Mahon, announcing his judgment at the close of the second day of Mrs. Bradford's trial on Tuesday, said he will enter a written opinion in the case in the near future. Mrs. Bradford's lawyer, Tom Odeneal of Dallas, said he will await the written ruling before deciding whether to appeal.

Attorney Tom Law, representing the college, had contended that its decision on whether to renew Mrs. Bradford's

School Suit Tossed Out

FORT WORTH (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge Eldon Mahon has ruled that Tarrant County Junior College was justified in not renewing plaintiff Marie Bradford's $9,100-a-year teaching contract in 1970. He also dismissed her $110,000 damage claim.

contract as an English teacher was not based on her behavior April 12, 1969 as she contended, but instead was decided after two meetings of Mrs. Bradford with school officials in December 1969. The April 22 incident involved discussion of school policies.

While Odeneal had said her dismissal amounted to a "re-priming for her exercising her right of free speech" April 22, Law said the nonrenewal of her contract was not "Based on a thing she said in April . . . but was based solely on what was said in the evaluation conferences" she had Dec. 11-12, 1969.

AND NOW BAD NEWS (FOR KIDS) Big Spring Schools To Resume Sessions

School will be held in Big Spring Friday on a short schedule with classes beginning at 9 a.m. and dismissing at 3 p.m., according to Sam Anderson, superintendent.

"It is very important that all students attend Friday since it is the final day of the first semester and records will be rounded out," Anderson stated. "We have decided not to give final examinations for this semester, but to figure the students averages on the grades they now have. The cancelled school days were the examination days and we cannot hold them next week without confusing the entire spring semester."

Buses will run 30 minutes later than usual in the morning. Anderson reminded rural patrons.

There will be no school Monday. It was originally scheduled as a teacher in-service training day and a day for textbook hearings. Monday will still be utilized for this purpose. Teachers also must attend Saturday as an in-service training day originally scheduled for Friday. It is a grade record day for the first semester.

Big Spring students thereby end a week of play in the ice and snow with a final day of school, but they have seen a rare event — the freezing out of final examinations.

Lamesa schools re-opened today and plan to be open Friday. Garden City had tentative plans to open Friday. Colorado City will have their teachers report Friday, but pupils return on Monday. Loraine was not expected to have school Friday. Ackerly has no telephone lines, so they could not be contacted but probably will resume school next week. Stanton schools probably will not re-open until Monday.

Coahoma school business telephone was reported to be out of order and a spokesman at the high school said he had heard of no plans to hold school Friday.

Forsan really went back to school in earnest, scheduling school for Friday and Saturday with Saturday to be one of their make-up days. They also announce that the junior high basketball game tonight between Stanton and Forsan in Forsan will be held.

San Angelo State telephone that they had postponed their registration until Monday. This also applies to Howard County Junior College and Sul Ross.

Yoakum Youth Faces Rape Rap

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — A Yoakum, Tex., youth wanted in Tucson, Ariz., on charges of kidnaping, rape and armed robbery was captured here Wednesday by police and sheriff's officers.

They held Jimmy Wardell, 18, in the city jail to await extradition to Tucson.

Wardell is accused of being involved in an incident that occurred last month in which two men forced their way into a Tucson residence at gunpoint, raped a woman after tying up her children, then forced her to withdraw her savings from a bank.

Authorities said a second suspect apparently was still being sought.

Sea Show Isn't All Doom, Disaster

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Battle of the Coral Sea took place in May 1942. It was an historic naval clash that began the end of Japanese military expansion in the Pacific during World War II.

Jacques Cousteau recently has been exploring the area and looking at a modern-day battlefield — located on the ocean floor and littered with the slowly killing refuse of strip-mining.

He's filmed it for the 22nd of his famed undersea specials for the ABC Television network. The show is called "500 Million Years Beneath the Sea" and will be broadcast tonight at 8 p.m. EST.

SUB PAR

As usual, the photography is excellent; however, the over-all thrust of the show seems spread too thin and isn't quite up to Cousteau's earlier efforts.

No matter. Sub par for the 62-year-old undersea explorer and ecologist would be considered first-rate for anyone else.

On this outing, Cousteau and his crew go to the waters just off French-held New Caledonia, a tropical island rich in mineral deposits, particularly nickel.

Sections of the island have been strip-mined for years, with the refuse of both mining and refining dumped into one area of a lagoon near the island capital of Noumea.

What effect has this had on the undersea life? Cousteau provides no encompassing answer, but he takes the viewer underwater for a look. And the sight isn't a pretty one at all.

There only are a few creatures visible in what Cousteau calls the "undersea desert" created by man's carelessness. What life exists gradually has burrowed beneath the sediment to survive.

At night, there are a few signs that something has survived — among them brown and white creatures Cousteau calls sea mice.

UNABLE TO FLEE

And, as he puts it, they "move across the mud flats like a battalion of tanks, ravaging everything in their path — the dead, the dying and the contaminated."

He travels on, to a coral reef, where he finds "the corpses of sponges, plants, corals. Fettered to the ocean floor, unable to flee, they lie suffocated and buried."

The program isn't all doom and disaster. The farther he goes from New Caledonia, the more evidence he finds that undersea life will go on if man only gives it a chance.

The battlefield he shows is small. But it is a stark reminder that others like it exist all over the world as part of a quiet war we'll ultimately lose unless we change our ways.

NEW NATIONAL PRESIDENT OF HOME BUILDERS SAYS:

Hold On Fed Housing Subsidies Threatens Disaster

HOUSTON (AP) — The new president of the National Association of Home Builders says disaster is threatened in the industry by the current hold on new commitments for federal housing subsidies.

George C. Martin of Louisville, Ky., said he will continue to bid for a meeting with President Nixon to discuss the temporary hold on new loans and medium income housing commitments by the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Housing Secretary George Romney had told the builders that the President is delaying any new commitments to allow time for a basic review and reform of the housing program by the administration and Congress.

BREAK RECORD

Martin, a contractor, was elected president of the association Wednesday. He succeeds Stanley Waranch of Norfolk, Va.

Other officers elected included Lewis Cenko, Atlanta, Ga., first vice president; J. S. Norman, Houston, vice president-treasurer; and John Hart, Indianapolis, Ind., who won a three-man race for vice president-secretary.

The convention ended today with routine business transactions. The official attendance was announced at 56,219 breaking the previous high of 54,803 last year. Delegates will return here next year for the sixth straight Houston convention but will meet in Dallas 1975 through 1977.

Martin said he also hopes to meet with HUD officials to find out how existing commitments and statutory obligations will keep subsidized housing starts at the present record pace of 500,000 units a year through 1974 as indicated by the Nixon Administration.

HARDSHIP

The NAHB board of directors issued a policy statement Wednesday saying inflation and unemployment will result if there is a complete halt in subsidized housing programs such as those provided under Sections 235 and 236 of the National Housing Act.

The statement added that the stopping of new commitments works a hardship on low income families and on home builders who have bought land and committed money and manpower to build the subsidized units.

Martin told newsmen that the housing industry also is being damaged because the President is refusing to spend congressional appropriations for water and sewer work and for rural housing programs that produced about 200,000 subsidized units in 1971 and 1972.

He said the housing industry will not oppose the confirmation of a non-builder for the HUD cabinet post being given up by Romney.

Undersecretary of Commerce James D. Lynn, a Cleveland lawyer, had been nominated to head the department.

MUST FIND

A representative of the Office of Emergency Preparedness told a NAHB panel on the energy crisis Wednesday that the United States must find ways of producing more energy in ways compatible with environmental goals.

Dr. Robert H. Kupperman, assistant to the director for science and technology in the OEP, said a better educated public would do wonders for the problem.

Trial Date For Moody

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal judge has set April 16 as the trial date on a request by the Securities and Exchange Commission that some $1,053,670 be repaid to the First National Life Insurance Co.

The SEC asked U.S. District Court Judge Woodrow Seals Wednesday that the money be repaid by some 15 defendants, including its former board chairman, Robert L. Moody.

The SEC petition alleges that insurance company assets were removed and used to buy the firm. It claims the corporate bonds were not replaced by other assets and were sold for $921,000, which was divided by some of the defendants.

First National is wholly owned by First National Corp., a Nevada holding firm based here. The insurance company was placed in state receivership in October.

Bass Guitarist Offered Her Dope

FAIRFAX, Calif. (AP) — Philip Lesh, bass guitarist for the Grateful Dead rock music group, has been arrested for investigation of possession of marijuana and dangerous drugs, police say.

Officers said Wednesday they went to Lesh's home here on a warrant based on information from a young woman who said she was offered drugs at the house on Monday.

However, the informant said someone other than Lesh made the offer, police said.

Tyler Dodges Airport Fine

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — With the threat of a $1,000 a day fine hanging over their heads, the Tyler city commissioners reluctantly voted Wednesday to hire a security guard for Pounds Field, the city's airport.

Last Friday, the commission voted not to hire a guard as stipulated in new national anti-skyjack rules. The field has five airline flights daily. Commissioners contended at the time that it was an airline function to supply guards, not the city's.

The Federal Aviation Administration announced Tuesday it was fining Tyler and three other cities $1,000 a day retroactive to last Sunday for failure to provide guards.

City Manager Ed Wagoner called an emergency meeting Wednesday in which the commissioners voted 4-0 to hire a security man at an estimated cost of about $1,000 a month.

City Atty. Jack Skeen Jr. said the city will seek to reduce fines already assessed.

Also fined were Aspen, Colo.; Prescott, Ariz.; and Marquette, Mich.

Parents Of Slain Sniper Blame Society For Death

EMPORIA, Kan. (AP) — The mother of Mark J. Essex says society was responsible for the death of her son, identified by police as the New Orleans sniper.

The shooting in which her son was killed and six other persons died by sniper fire is a "clear signal for White America to get off the seat of its pants and do something," Mrs. Mark Essex told newsmen Wednesday.

TERRIBLE THING

"If this terrible thing will awaken white America to the injustices that blacks suffer, then some good will come of it," she said.

Mrs. Essex and her husband have scheduled a news conference today.

Essex, a 23-year-old black, was shot to death by police on the roof of the Downtown Howard Johnson's hotel in New Or-here from New Orleans today. Funeral services are scheduled for Saturday morning, with the Rev. W. A. Chambers, a close family friend, officiating.

"We must cease provoking people to the point that they must seek revenge to get even with society," Essex' father said Wednesday as he and his wife spoke with newsmen for the first time since their son was identified as the slain sniper.

"I blame society," she said.

GOOD BOY

Mrs. Essex said her son did not hate white men, "he hated what the white man stood for, the white system. He knew whites, he went to school with whites, he dated a white girl and then he told me that he didn't know why blacks dated white girls because they're no different than black girls and they're not as beautiful."

She described her son as a good boy, a gentle man, always helpful.

Her son's troubles started in the Navy, which, she said, "brainwashed" him.

She said her son returned home last October to "think about the injustices a black man receives in the service."

She said he was harassed with petty annoyances and "racist mistreatment."

She said the youth and his friends were stopped repeatedly by Navy police, forced to show identification and even searched at times. He took a part-time job in a Navy club and was forced to ask permission to do part of his job that white sailors did freely, she said.

"It was just these little things on top of one another that made Jimmy do what he did," Mrs. Essex said.

ARGENTINIANS LOOK FOR VICTIMS

Twister Kills At Least 46

SAN JUSTO, Argentina (AP) — Rescue teams continued their search today for more victims of the tornado that cut like a giant scythe through this placid farm city.

Forty-six bodies had been found and at least 300 persons were injured. But the death toll was expected to rise.

The twister struck Wednesday afternoon and raged for 15 to 20 minutes, leaving in its wake a path of destruction 200 yards wide across the city of 50,000.

Communications and electricity were cut off and a heavy rain followed the tornado. Rescue teams had to bring in emergency operations and flood lamps.

Police headquarters became a temporary morgue. A dozen bodies of men, women and children were placed on the floor under blankets.

Cars were bowled over like tennis as the tornado roared in at 120 miles an hour. One auto was swept down a main avenue and flung through the wall of a downtown hotel.

An estimated 30 per cent of the buildings, mainly one and two-story homes and shops were damaged or destroyed.

San Justo, a grain belt city 300 miles north of Buenos Aires, was isolated from the rest of the country for nearly two hours.

In one of the first reports that got out a ham radio operator said the storm "struck very hard and fast."

"Many people ran into the street just as the wind hit, trying to find some place secure," he said.

Once word was received and the scope of the tragedy was known, radio and television stations in Santa Fe, the provincial capital 60 miles away, began broadcasting appeals for blood donors, aid teams, doctors and nurses.

The San Justo Hospital was among the buildings hit hard. Ambulances, buses and cars transferred the more seriously injured to Santa Fe.

Telephone repairmen managed to establish three emergency lines, but electricity was still off today because of the danger from broken high power lines.

Gov. Sanchez Almeida declared the city an emergency zone and the destroyed area was placed under military control.

Soldiers from the Santa Fe garrison pitched tents for the homeless. Pharmacies were directed to give free tetanus shots to all injured.

Soldiers from the Santa Fe garrison pitched tents for the homeless. Pharmacies were directed to give free tetanus shots to all injured.

Bribe Trial Next Monday

HOUSTON (AP) — The bribery and conspiracy trial of former Harris County Commissioner V. V. (Red) Ramsey has been delayed until next Monday.

U.S. District Court Judge Woodrow Seals excused the jury Wednesday after one juror, a Columbus resident, was unable to reach Houston because of icy roads.

Renewed storm warnings caused the judge to cancel today's session as well, and he is to be in New Orleans Friday.

Ramsey is accused of conspiring with Shoup Voting Machine Co. officials in voting machine transactions and of using the mail to accept $3,500 in bribes.

HOUSTON (AP) — Mayor Louie Welch says a recent survey shows Houstonians are aware of the needs of city government and will support a bond issue if it is properly presented.

Welch made the comment Wednesday after asking the city council to approve a $145 million bond election this year, the largest in the history of his administration.

Houston is ending the three-year period of the last bond election, one in 1970 when the voters authorized $108 million in general obligation bonds.

Welch has promised that the new three-year program will not necessitate a property tax rate increase.

FOGGY SYMPHONY

San Francisco Sings The Foghorn Blues

By JACK WEBB
Copley News Service

SAN FRANCISCO — Herb Caen, San Francisco's columnist laureate, calls it "The Fugue For Five Foghorns."

It's what sometimes wakes up San Franciscans at 6 a.m., rattling the windows and sending bleary-eyed citizens groping for their tranquilizers.

It is, in other words, Northern California's summer fog bank.

BIGGEST BREAK

The fog which regularly creeps under the Golden Gate Bridge is actually a blessing in disguise. It acts as an automatic air conditioner.

Whenever the mercury hits 80, and stays there for a day or two, fog is pulled in from the Pacific Ocean through the biggest break in the continental wall — the Golden Gate.

Sometimes the fog tumbles over San Francisco's Twin Peaks. Sometimes it sends a single tendril down the middle of the bay, a dramatic and silence-inspiring sight for any tourist enjoying a toddy or two in one of the city's 30-story-high lounges.

GETS DENSE

As soon as the fog gets dense enough, Coast Guard and civilian watchmen flick a multitude of electric switches — and the Fugue for Five Foghorns starts, sometimes swelling to a symphony of 13 horns and sirens.

Hoots, wails, moans and grunts emanate from Point Diablo and Lime Point on the far side of the bay, from the middle of the Golden Gate Island, Fisherman's Wharf and the Bay Bridge.

JOY TO WORLD

Fishermen say landlubbers will never understand the joy the horns give them. Old salts say they can lovingly identify and pinpoint the fog signals by their pitch and tonal qualities.

Citizens would probably like to identify them too, and send them a little present — a bomb, maybe.

PART OF MAGIC

The bay's siren song is heard most frequently during July, August, and September. Other times the horns are pretty quiet — San Francisco is rated as the fourth-sunniest city in the United States.

In fact, a lot of tourists show up in the summer months, and for them the foghorn blues is part of the magic of San Francisco.

Houstonians Eye Big Bond Election

HOUSTON (AP) — Mayor Louie Welch says a recent survey shows Houstonians are aware of the needs of city government and will support a bond issue if it is properly presented.

Welch made the comment Wednesday after asking the city council to approve a $145 million bond election this year, the largest in the history of his administration.

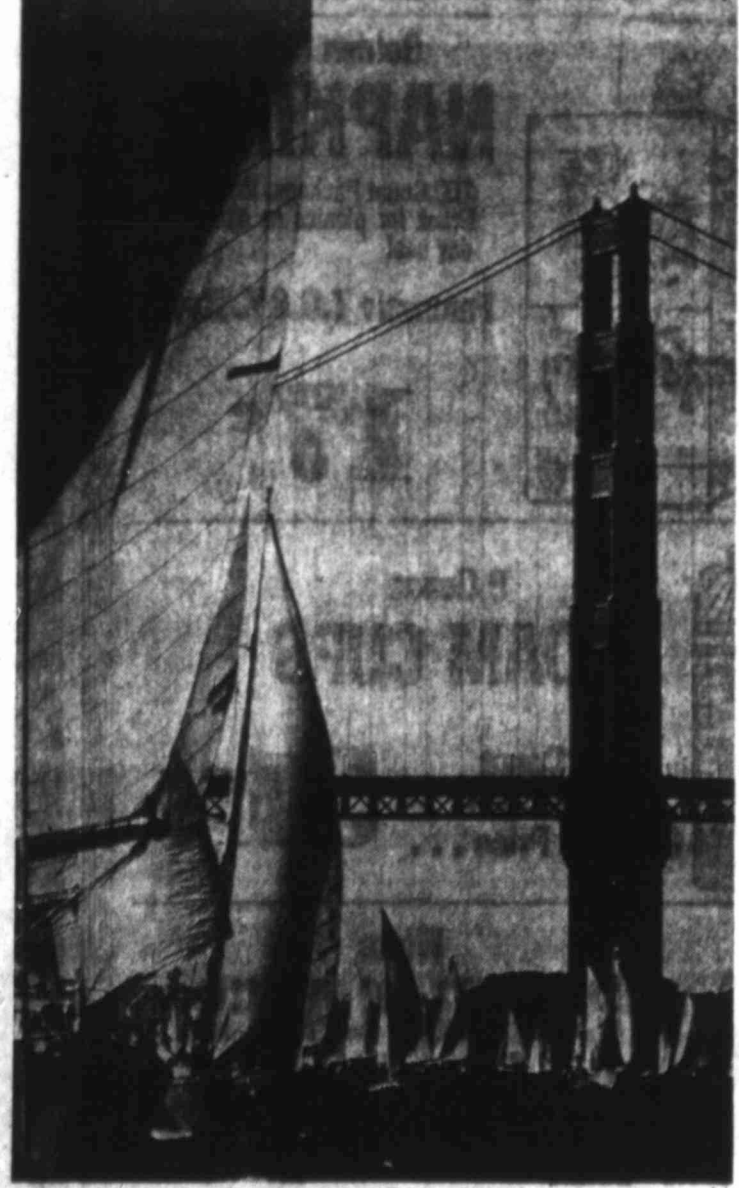

Houston is ending the three-year period of the last bond election, one in 1970 when the voters authorized $108 million in general obligation bonds.

Welch has promised that the new three-year program will not necessitate a property tax rate increase.

Asphyxiations

RICHMOND, Tex. (AP) — Police said an autopsy showed two persons found dead in a home here Wednesday were asphyxiated.

Officers said a faulty gas heater probably caused the deaths of Claudie Mae Allen, 50, and Johnnie McGee, 59.

GOLDEN GATE — San Francisco, a mecca for mariners, is also noted for the foghorns that blare out a warning to seafarers. The biggest foghorn is on top of the Golden Gate Bridge, shown above.

HOUSING AX Labeled 'A Slap At Rural America'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration's decision to cancel federally subsidized housing loans to poor farmers has been labeled "a slap at rural America" by a rural-housing organization.

And one senator called it part of "an apparent calculated indifference" by the administration toward farmers. He vowed that Congress would fight to rescind cutbacks in farm programs.

INCREDIBLE
 Agriculture Department officials said Tuesday that Farmers Home Administration field offices have been ordered to take no more new applications for low-interest loans for homes in rural areas. It also curtailed "until further notice" new loans and grants to build farm labor housing, and terminated direct grants to communities of 10,000 population or less for building sewer or fresh-water systems.

"It is incredible that the government, in the name of economy, puts the whole burden of balancing the budget on the backs of the poor," Clay L. Cochran, executive director of the Rural Housing Alliance, said in a statement.

The alliance works to improve all facets of rural housing.

Cochran said the cutoff repudiates 40 years of federal commitment to help provide decent housing for all people.

SAVE MONEY
 "Surely they could find tax loopholes that could be closed, military costs that could be pared, and use those devices to save money," Cochran said.

Freshman Democratic Sen. Dick Clark of Iowa, newly appointed to the Senate Agriculture Committee, deplored the action, saying he will work strenuously with the Agriculture Committee to rescind it.

"These latest cutbacks combined with the other cutbacks made since the election in programs intended to improve the quality of rural life are forming an increasingly clear picture of an apparently calculated indifference the part of the administration toward the rural farm community," Clark said.

EX-INMATE IS NEW JAIL CHEF—When James Lambros was released from county jail last month, he went right back in—as head chef. Lambros, a chef by trade, came to San Francisco seeking employment, settled for a job as manager of a nude film theater, subsequently got arrested and convicted on a pornography charge. While serving his term, he wrote a 17-page report on how to improve the menu through proper planning, preparation and nutrition analysis. He said he turned down a higher paying job so he could be chief cook for his fellow inmates.

Indictments Allege U.S. Food Stamps Used For Cash, Pot

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Federal grand jury indictments here are true, federal food stamps have been negotiable in San Antonio's barrios for cash, car repairs and even marijuana.

Federal prosecutors confirmed Wednesday the arrests of the last three persons who were among 18 San Antonio residents named last Thursday in sealed indictments on charges of violating food stamp regulations.

A spokesman for the U.S. attorney's office said a pattern revealed in the indictments was that food stamps allegedly were exchanged for one half their face value in cash.

INTERESTING DEALS
 But the indictments claimed other interesting deals were made.

Ramiro Mata, identified as the owner of Rams Paint and Body Shop, is charged in a four-count indictment to have accepted $300 in food stamps for repairing and painting a car, another $300 in food stamps for a used car, $250 in food stamps for a minibus and an additional $300 in food stamps for $150 in cash.

A U.S. attorney's office spokesman said any violation of food stamp regulations involving more than $100 is a felony. Food stamps must be exchanged for edible merchandise.

While some of the separate counts in the indictments involve alleged misdemeanor violations, several of the indictments involve thousands of dollars when money in the alleged violations is totaled.

WIDESPREAD
 A two-count indictment charges that James Villarreal, arrested Tuesday, purchased $2,990 in food stamps for $1,490 in cash.

In connection with one of 15 arrests made last Friday, Roy Valdez is charged with accepting a total of $2,200 in food stamps in five transactions.

The transactions involved, according to the indictment, one pound of marijuana two marijuana cigarettes and $830 in cash.

An investigation of "several months duration" by agents of the U.S. Department of Agriculture lead to the indictments, U.S. Atty. William Sessions said.

At the time of the first arrests, Sessions said the number of violations uncovered by the investigations "indicates that illegal exchanges of food stamps had become widespread in the San Antonio area."

Dawson's Cotton Set Next Week

LAMESA — The 1973 annual Dawson County Cotton Meeting will be held Wednesday in the Pioneer Park Community Center, 1607 S. 2nd.

The afternoon meeting is sponsored by the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce, Lamesa Cotton Growers and the Dawson County Subcommittee on crops.

Beginning at 1:30 p.m., Jim Valentine, area soil chemist Texas A&M, will speak on the "Effects of Different Rates of Fertilizer on Maturity of Cotton."

Dr. Robert McIntyre, area entomologist, Texas A&M, will then discuss the "Use of Beneficial Insects in Cotton."

The final talk at 3:40 p.m. will be given by Marvin Sartin, area economist-management, Texas A&M, on the Costs of Cotton Production in Dawson County.

Dr. Robert Metzger, area agronomist-cotton, Texas A&M at 2 p.m.

Following a coffee break, Leon New, area irrigation specialist of Texas A&M will speak at 3 p.m. on the "Results of Drip Irrigation on Cotton on the Louie Drennan Farm in 1972."

Shot In Throat
 RICHMOND, Tex. (AP) — Leroy Brown, 31, of Richmond was shot and killed Wednesday at his home.

Police said a charge from a 16 gauge shotgun struck him in the throat. They charged Willie Charles Gray, 18, of Richmond with murder.

URGES RETURN Mother's Medicine

NEW YORK (AP) — Pediatrics has boomed in America in the last 20 years, but Jack G. Shiller is one specialist who would like to see a return to the days when mothers could recognize baby's runny nose as a runny nose.

"What I'd like to do is make doctors help out of the mothers and rescue their confidence in taking care of their children," said Shiller, a Westport, Conn., pediatrician and author of "Childhood Illness: A Common Sense Approach."

MORE TIME

A return to what Shiller terms mothercraft would permit pediatricians to devote more of their time to more serious problems than children's tummy aches and mild poison ivy.

According to Shiller, most mothers handed care of their children before World War II. But now, given the boom in medical information, he believes many modern parents feel iritated or guilty if they don't call a doctor at the first sign of illness. This stems, he said, from reading and hearing about serious illness, such as the case of a headache ignored for years and suddenly discovered to be a brain tumor.

EARN MONEY

Pediatricians compound the problem, Shiller said, because they are hesitant to charge parents for an hour's time to discuss such subjects as a learning or perceptual problem. They earn their money by the $10 visits.

Shiller begins his book by listing symptoms that require immediate doctors care — extremely difficult breathing, extreme alteration of consciousness or impending dehydration following a period of vomiting or diarrhea. He does not include accidents or such serious illnesses as leukemia.

"They are not do-it-yourself illnesses," Shiller explains.

Lowest Toll Since Beginning Of Blitz

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that three Americans were killed in action last week, eight were wounded and two died of nonhostile causes. It was the lowest weekly toll since the start of the aerial blitz against Hanoi and Haiphong.

The Command's weekly casualty summary listed no missing or captured. It said that the total for the war in that category had decreased by one last week to 1,805. A spokesman said one missing man had been declared dead or some other adjustments had been made, but he did not know which.

Not included in today's report were eight Americans missing this week, in the loss of a fighter-bomber over North Vietnam Wednesday and of a helicopter just below the demilitarized zone on Monday.

A total of 109 Americans were reported killed, missing or captured in the two weeks of Dec. 17-30.

The South Vietnamese command reported 385 government troops killed in action last week, the highest toll in six weeks. Another 1,449 South Vietnamese troops were reported wounded and 86 were missing in action.

The Saigon command also reported 923 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed last week, the lowest enemy toll reported in nearly a year. Much of the enemy attacks were by rocket or mortar fire, reducing the risks for the Communists to a minimum.

The allied commands now have reported these total casualties for the war:

American — 45,931 killed in action, 10,296 deaths from nonhostile causes, 303,605 wounded, 1,805 missing or captured.

South Vietnamese — 162,426 killed in action, 434,364 wounded.

North Vietnamese and Viet Cong — 920,538 killed.

Crew Died Without Ever Knowing Crash Imminent

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The sole survivor from the flight deck of a jetliner that went down in the Florida Everglades with the loss of 100 lives says he believes the cockpit crew died without knowing a crash was imminent.

"There was never any alarm or concern in the cockpit," Angelo Donadeo said from a hospital bed Wednesday. "I don't think anybody knew the crash was coming, even the captain."

Donadeo, 47, an Eastern Air Lines technical specialist, survived along with 5 passengers and stewardesses when the Eastern Lockheed L1011 TriStar crashed shortly before midnight Dec. 29. Among those killed were pilot Robert Loft, copilot Albert Stockstill and flight engineer Donald Repo.

Acrobatic Troupe Reception Slated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pat Nixon will give a reception Friday for 77 members of an acrobatic troupe from mainland China who have been touring the United States.

The Shenyang acrobatic troupe Wednesday visited the National Zoo to see two giant pandas that were a gift from China last year.

The pandas were sent to the United States after President and Mrs. Nixon visited China last year.

The Shenyang acrobats have given performances in eastern Canada, Chicago, Indianapolis and New York City. After completing three performances at the Kennedy Center in Washington, they will leave for Chile.

DEMOLAY SWEETHEARTS—Miss Sidney Crow, left, was crowned Demolay Sweetheart Monday evening by Miss Kay Williams, right, the 1972 title holder. The new queen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Crow, and Miss Williams is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Williams. In addition to a sweetheart pin, Miss Crow was presented a bouquet of red roses by Michael L. Thomas, master counselor of Leon P. Moffett Chapter.

Busy Months Ahead For Scouts, Leaders

The next three months will be busy ones for area Girl Scouts and their leaders according to Miss Arlene Estes, field director.

January events will continue Tuesday with a training workshop on songs and games. This will be held from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the First Christian Church. On Thursday, the West Texas Girl Scout Council annual meeting will begin at 7 p.m. in the Student Center, Lamesa.

The bus will leave Big Spring at 5:30 p.m. from Trinity Baptist Church.

Preparations for the Girl Scout cookie sale will begin with a Cookie Kick-Off Brunch from 9:30 a.m. to 12 o'clock noon, Jan. 24 in the Officers Open Mess, Webb Air Force Base. The breakfast will be attended by all area cookie chairmen and service unit chairmen. The actual sale will be Feb. 9-17, with Brownie Girl Scouts joining the older Scouts in selling the cookies this year. The family-size boxes will sell for $1.

Big Spring will be hosting a regional Girl Scout event Feb. 24; a weekend which is the final step in the interviewing process of Senior Scouts applying for international events in the coming summer. Mrs. Larson Lloyd and Mrs. Clyde Thomas are coordinating the weekend, which will be attended by a number of applicants from the surrounding councils and states.

"Senior Serve," an area event, will be held here March 24, offering Senior Scouts an opportunity to be of service to the handicapped. Cooperating in the event will be Big Spring State Hospital, Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center and the Veterans Administration Hospital. Senior Scouts from all over the council are being invited to attend the weekend activity, which will include orientation sessions and helping with the programs at the facilities. The service project will culminate Sunday morning as the girls attend services at the Toilet All Faith Chapel on the state hospital grounds. Coordinators will be Mrs. Larry Anderson, audiologist at the rehabilitation center; and Mrs. Lloyd and Larry Denning, directors of volunteer service at the state hospital and VA Hospital, respectively.

During the national celebration of the 61st birthday of the Girl Scout movement, all area troops are planning to participate in a "Girl Scout Program Parade" in the Highland Mall March 10. Displays of troop projects, action booths and stage shows will all be part of the event which will be open to the public, free of charge, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Daryl Hohertz is serving as chairman.

127 Women Appointees Keep Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon will keep almost all of his top-level women appointees for the second term, White House sources say.

In all, Nixon will soon announce that 127 women will retain administration jobs ranging from ambassador posts to assistant department heads. So far, he has named only one new top-level woman appointee—Anne Armstrong, former vice chairman of the Republican National Committee, who will be a Cabinet-ranking counselor to the President.

Few other major appointments of women are to be expected in the near future, administration sources said, but most of those serving during the past four years are assured of their jobs.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler announced Tuesday that Marina Whitman, a former University of Pittsburgh professor and the first woman named to the three-member Council of Economic Advisers, will stay on the job.

Forthcoming announcements are expected to affirm Patricia Hitt as education secretary of health, education and welfare for community and field services.

Do you really know how to give your new pantyhose the TLC they need for long service? "Yes" answers to the questions, following, lower the run-snag-tear rate.

1. Are you careful putting on and removing pantyhose? Start the job sitting down. Pulls and tugs only strain the material. Sharp rings, ragged nails and rough hands start runs and rips. Wear cotton gloves if necessary. Check the size of gift hose before wearing; short hose pop first time out.

2. Do you wash stockings in mild suds and warm water after each wearing? It's a must for good grooming as well as good wear. Wash in a mesh laundry bag, press out excess moisture with a clean terry towel, dry away from heat.

3. Do you have a separate drawer for hosiery? Invest in smooth plastic dividers so that hose can be "filed" by color and type, and can be protected from splinters of wood or other bruising objects.

4. Do you use two pairs with runs to create one whole pair? The pantyhose must be of the same color, each pair with one good leg. Cut away the damaged legs high up. Then roll and stitch or use a closely set zigzag machine stitch to seal the raw edges. Worn together, you have a pair of stockings with a double panty. Of course, if the hose has left-and-right fitted heels, you will require that combo to make the scheme work. Let's not think about it!

LEGLINE TRIMMERS
If your individual problem is heavy legs, send for my new leaflet, "Legline Trimmers," which contains spot reducing exercises that will meet your individual needs, whether for thighs, knees, calves or ankles, or for contouring your entire legline. Write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin.

Meetings Canceled Tonight

Due to weather conditions, the following organizations have canceled meetings scheduled for this evening.

Alpha Chi Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha has tentatively reset its meeting for 7:30 p.m., Jan. 18 in the home of Mrs. Ken Lord.

College Heights Parent-Teacher Association will meet at 3 p.m., Feb. 8 at the school.

Past Matrons Gavel Club will not meet tonight, but will resume its regular schedule at 6:15 p.m., Feb. 8 at the Holiday Inn.

There will be no meeting of Ladies Auxiliary to World War I Barracks 1474.

Laura B. Hart Chapter 1019, Order of Eastern Star, will not meet tonight.

Planters Garden Club will not meet tonight, and a makeup meeting date will be announced.

The Genealogical Society of the Big Spring has postponed its meeting until 7:15 p.m., Jan. 18 at Howard County Library.

Members of Friendship Breakfast Club will meet at 9 a.m., Tuesday at the Holiday Inn.

Dan Whiteheads Announce Birth

WESTBROOK (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. Danny Whitehead of Rhode Island announce the birth of a daughter, Melissa Lynn. The infant was born Jan. 7. Paternal grandparents are Mrs. N. L. Fuson of Big Lake and E. C. Whitehead of San Antonio. Maternal grandparents are Lt. Col. and Mrs. Robert L. Reid of Webb Air Force Base. Paternal great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Moody.

Mrs. T. A. Rees accompanied the Junior Dorns of Coahoma to Nederland to visit her son-in-law and daughter, the Dees Rovens, and to see Mrs. Rees' new grandson, Brian. The group returned home Saturday.

Women's Lib Scores Again: Pistol Packin' Port Warden

LOS ANGELES (AP) — With a .8-caliber revolver on her hip, Joellen Natow walks gangplanks and climbs ship ladders in Los Angeles harbor, getting big smiles from craggy-faced longshoremen.

"It's really nice to see something pretty around here instead of the same old cops," observed a veteran welder as Mrs. Natow passed by.

Harbor officials here say Mrs. Natow is the first female deputy port warden to serve at any major port in the United States.

"Along the wharfs and aboard the ships the longshoremen grin and wave at me," said Mrs. Natow, 29. "Some even shake my hand."

As deputy port warden, Mrs. Natow boards foreign and American vessels in the 3,000-acre harbor to inspect flammable cargoes for proper handling and to check fueling operations as a guard against pollution.

Mrs. Natow also handles theft complaints from women working at a harbor cannery and teaches classes in female self-defense.

Since the Harbor Patrol works with the Coast Guard and other government agencies against illegal transportation of aliens and the smuggling of dangerous drugs, she is armed with a .8-caliber revolver. A city policewoman for four years prior to joining the Harbor Patrol, Mrs. Natow is married to a motorcycle policeman and is the mother of two sons, Scott, 8, and Todd, 10.

Along with the 41 male deputies on duty in Los Angeles harbor, Mrs. Natow patrols by boat, car, helicopter, and motorcycle.

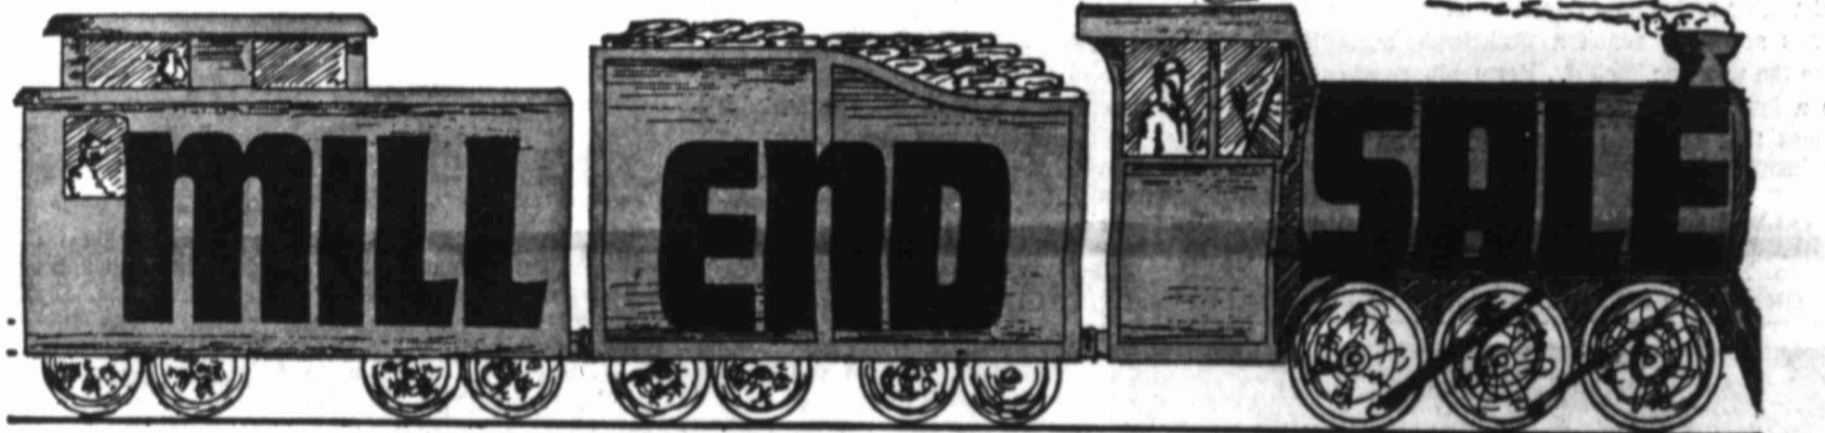

Pat Grutsch, chief deputy port warden, says Mrs. Natow owes her job to the woman's liberation movement.

"The people downtown said I'd have to take a woman on the force, and I thought it would be great," he said. "Sex wasn't the only obstacle Mrs. Natow had to overcome. She also had to learn the language of the port, such as, 'There's a camel loose in the channel. Get a seagull to pick up.'"

And Mrs. Natow now says confidently that that translates to, "A wharf pile is afloat, and we need a refuse boat to pick it up."

PRETTY PORT WARDEN—Los Angeles Harbor Department's first woman deputy port warden, Joellen T. Natow, talks over her duties with deputy Cecil Muchmore. A transfer from the Los Angeles Police Department, Mrs. Natow reportedly is also the first woman to hold this post in any major J.S. port.

All Mixed Up

Jean Adams'
TEEN FORUM

QUITE FAR: (Q.) There are five guys I think about. I think at least four of them like me. The other one I am sure about. I have gone as far as third base with him in his bed.

I love him, but I haven't seen him in two weeks. He hasn't called me or anything, and I don't know if he loves me.

I have been saving myself for him and haven't let any other guy touch me, but I think about other boys sometimes.

Should I give up on this one guy and just — you know — like other guys and things like that? I'm 14, he's 16. — Mixed Up With Boys in Michigan.

(A.) I am afraid you are not just mixed up, period. You have the wrong ideas about what a 14-year-old girl and 16-year-old boy should be doing together.

If your friend thought what you have been doing is right, and that you are the right girl for him, and that you two are headed in the right direction, he would call you. Be glad he is wise enough not to do what you seem to want to do.

Open your eyes and see that there are more valuable, more sensible things for a 14-year-old girl to be doing. And start doing them before you get into trouble.

10 YEARS OLD: (Q.) There is a boy in school who says he loves me. His name is David. I do not love him. I love Richard, who isn't in our school this year. I miss him.

I don't know how to tell David I don't love him. Can you tell me how? I am 10 years old. — Beth in Indiana.

(A.) If David is the same age you are, you do not need to tell him you do not love him. He is too young to be really be friends.

$1.8 Million Burst Tank Settlement

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP) — An out-of-court settlement for $1.8 million was agreed in federal court here only one hour before testimony was due to begin in a $3 million civil suit.

The suit, in which 19 individuals and their families were plaintiffs, followed collapse of a water tank that was under construction at a site belonging to the International Paper Co. near Atlanta, Tex., in 1971. The incident cost six lives.

Scott Baldwin, lawyer for the plaintiffs, said he believed the settlement was the largest ever reached in the Marshall division of the Texas East Federal District Court.

Named as defendants were the International Paper Co., the Rothschild Boiler and Tanker Works, Inc., and U.S. Steel Corp.

Six of the 19 plaintiffs were families of workmen killed in the Sept. 27, 1971 incident, while the other 13 were personally injured when the water tower collapsed.

The tank, a nine-story structure, contained more than a million gallons of water. The workmen were pouring cement in an excavation at the base of the tank, which was 97 feet high and 50 feet across, when it suddenly split and its load gushed out. Sheets of metal, pipes, girders and an avalanche of water crashed into the excavation, crushing to death six of the men.

The tank was constructed by the Rothschild Boiler and Tanker Co. of Shreveport, La. It was made from steel produced by U.S. Steel Corp.

Judge Refuses To Oust Pastor

McALESTER, Okla. (AP) — A district court judge has refused to oust the pastor of the Klowa Assembly of God Church after a lengthy dispute between two factions of the church.

The ruling was by Associate District Court Judge James B. Martin.

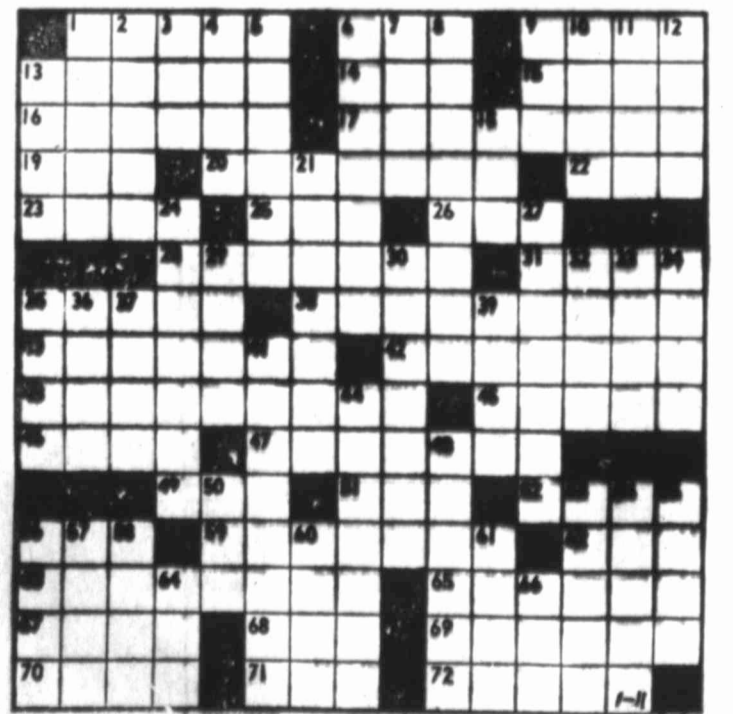

A suit to oust the Rev. Willard Peachee was filed last fall after church members deadlocked 12-12 on whether to keep him as pastor.

State church officials then decided to retain him.

Wants Out

Dear Abby,
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A woman who was married for 46 years wrote a long story about how hard her husband was to live with. She asked you whether she should choose divorce or suicide, and she signed herself "Suffered Enough."

You told her divorce was preferable. Are you married to a divorce lawyer, Abby? NOSY

DEAR NOSY: No. Are you married to an undertaker?

I don't feel that I am in any way jeopardizing my marriage. In fact, I think I'm "protecting" it. After all, how many husbands who are getting ahead in the world want to come home to wives who can't talk about anything except toilet training and the price of ground chuck?

I know I'm doing the right thing. All I need is some encouragement from you.

BACK TO COLLEGE

DEAR BACK: You have it. Your parents may mean well, but they're off the beam.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for nearly a year to a nice guy who has lots to offer, but I want out, Buddy and I were married because we thought I was pregnant. It turned out I wasn't.

Burton Rejects Royal Request

At first I was happy. Then I started to miss going out with other guys and—having fun. Before I got married I had lots of boy friends and now I miss all that.

Buddy hasn't mistreated me, and I really do like him, but I don't love him, and I can't see staying married to someone I don't love for the rest of my life.

I talked to my pastor and he told me to "grow up," which was no help at all. What I really want is a divorce, but on what grounds? And how should I break the news to Buddy? I hate to just walk out.

LONDON (AP) — Actor Richard Burton reportedly turned down a royal request to star in a charity concert to raise money for a British ambulance brigade. Instead, he sent the brigade 100,000 pounds, or $200,000.

The Daily Express said that the request came from Princess Margaret, sister of Queen Elizabeth II and president of the St. John Ambulance Brigade, which operates on donations.

She telephoned Burton in Rome, where he is making a movie, last week and asked him and wife Elizabeth Taylor to headline the show. But the newspaper said that, although Burton wanted to appear, he said movie commitments would tie him up the next 18 months.

Princess Margaret told Burton she hoped to raise the 100,000 pounds for the ambulance service.

Two days later, the Daily Express said, a bank draft for that amount from Burton arrived at the brigade's headquarters.

DEAR WANTS: If Buddy doesn't know what's on your mind, level with him — and right now. No nice guy with lots to offer would want to stay married to a girl who doesn't love him and wants out. This is a matter for both of you to decide. He may be as glad to get rid of you as you are to get rid of him.

Houston Crime Picture Mixed

HOUSTON (AP) — While crime in Houston increased by 3 per cent in 1972, crimes against persons dropped during the year, a study by the police department shows.

Most of the increase, officers said, was due to more burglaries and felony thefts.

However, the four main categories of crimes against persons — murder, rape, robbery and assaults — all declined.

The figures showed murder and non-negligent manslaughter decreased 3 per cent, rape was down 9 per cent, robbery decreased 2 per cent and major assaults were down 25 per cent.

At the same time, burglaries were up 12 per cent and felony theft up 7 per cent — but auto theft was down 13 per cent.

DEAR ABBY: Because you appear to be an intelligent woman who has managed to combine a successful marriage and family with a career, I am hoping you can offer me some encouragement.

I am a 24-year-old, reasonably intelligent woman. My husband is a young professional man who is presently establishing himself in business. We have a beautiful baby, 6 months old.

I have two years of college credits and want to return to get my degree. When the baby is a year old I plan to take a light course to begin with, and will be away from home only three mornings a week. My husband is 100 per cent for it, but my parents think I am crazy.

My mother tells me if I go back to college it will be the ruin of my marriage. My father feels a woman should be allowed to go to college only in order to find a rich husband, after which she should stay home and have a baby every year.

The bidding:
West North East South
1 ♠ 2 ♥ Dbie. 3 ♦
Dbie. Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Ten of ♣ Today's hand, taken from a recent tournament, caused considerable discussion among several East-West partnerships when a premature double left them on the short end of the score.

West, as dealer, had just enough to eke out an opening bid of one spade. North overcalled with two hearts and East doubled. He expected to take book in his own hand and anything his partner could contribute would be pure profit. In the event that West was unable to leave the double in, East reasoned that he had some tolerance for spades.

South promptly rescued his partner by bidding three diamonds. With hearts obviously stacked behind North, he reasoned that his seven-card suit would probably provide a safer haven. West was caught in the rhythm and, losing sight of the fact that his holding barely qualified for an opening bid, he doubled three diamonds which became the final contract.

West opened the ten of clubs, and declarer took advantage of the favorable lead by winning the trick with the queen in his hand and then cashing the king and ace so that he might discard one of his losing spades. A diamond was led to the ace and South continued with the jack. When diamonds divided three-two, declarer conceded two trump tricks and two spades and claimed his doubled contract.

As it turned out, West could have defeated his opponent by underleading the ace of spades at the opening gun. After the defense cashed three spades, West can sit back and wait to score his two high diamonds. If West opens the ace of spades, East must unblock his king so that West can cash the queen and then give his partner a ruff on the third round.

Lacking the benefit of an advanced peek at all hands, West is not open to criticism for failing to uncover the killing defense. His judgment in doubling three diamonds is questionable, however. He might have reasoned that when South ran from two hearts, the latter was obviously short in that suit and that East's heart tricks, therefore, might not be cashable at a diamond contract. The prospects for a substantial killing were not bright and the prudent course would have been to pass and hope for a small profit.

Suicide Of Texas Youth Prompts Review Of Jails

WASHINGTON (AP)—The suicide of a Texas youth has prompted the Supreme Court to review the government's responsibility over conditions in local jails.

On any given day, about 4,000 federal prisoners are in state and local jails waiting to be tried or sentenced.

The jails often are overcrowded and the facilities substandard, Chief Judge John R. Brown of the U.S. Circuit Court has said. Inmates routinely subject other prisoners to "varieties of subhuman treatment that no citizen of a civilized nation... should be compelled to endure," Brown wrote last July.

POT CHARGES

The judge and two others, John Minor Wisdom and Irving L. Goldberg, wanted their court to reconsider its ruling that the parents of the youth, Reagan E. Logue of Corpus Christi, were not entitled to damages for his death.

They lost, 12 to 3, but on Monday the Supreme Court agreed to hear the parents' appeal.

The 18-year-old boy faced federal trial on charges of conspiring to smuggle 229 pounds of marijuana into the United States when he was placed in the Nueces County jail.

Doctors, mindful of a suicide attempt and a diagnosis that the youth was acutely psychotic, had recommended he be kept in a hospital, the appeal said.

One day young Logue removed the long bandage from his arm and hanged himself.

The parents are seeking the $5,000 in damages awarded in 1971 by U.S. Dist. Court Judge Owen D. Cox of Corpus Christi but reversed by the Circuit Court.

MORAL ISSUE

The appeal tests whether the U.S. government is exempt from liability under federal law. But, it also says, there is a deeper, fundamentally moral issue at stake: "the conditions to which the federal government subjects its prisoners when it turns them over to local jails."

The Justice Department opposed the review.

The case will be argued before the court in March or April with a final decision due before the end of June.

In another action Monday the justices cut down a major women's-rights case. Also from Texas, that case tested a state regulation forcing pregnant women to leave their jobs after the seventh month.

INVALID

In the appeal, Mary Ellen Schattman of Austin contended the inflexible policy of the Texas Employment Commission violates the equal-job rights of pregnant women.

Last March, the circuit court in New Orleans found the regulation to be neither unreasonable nor arbitrary. This reversed Dist. Court Judge Jack Roberts of Austin who had declared the regulation invalid. The Supreme Court rejected Mrs. Schattman's appeal without comment or dissent.

Last month the court dropped another major women's rights case. That one tested whether the Air Force could force out women who have babies.

The justices had agreed in October to hear Susan Strunk, a captain threatened with discharge for giving birth. The Air Force then decided to allow the 28-year-old nurse to remain on duty. The court responded by routing her appeal to a lower court.

EQUAL RIGHTS

Still before the justices is an appeal to give women in the service equal housing and other benefits.

In a third action, the court agreed to decide whether federal prisoners who were denied a speedy trial are entitled to have their convictions reversed or only to have their sentences reduced.

The case to be heard later in the term involves a Chicago man, Clarence Eugene Strunk, who was brought to trial on a federal auto theft charge 10 months after he was indicted.

Last August the circuit court in Chicago found the government had been unreasonably slow. The 10 months were ordered sliced from Strunk's five-year sentence.

POPULATION

Appealing, the Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., prisoner argued that the conviction should have been set aside. An American Bar Association advisory committee recommended 1967 that, when trial is not held promptly, there should be outright dismissal of the indictment. Strunk's appeal said this procedure is followed only in the circuit court in Richmond, Va., and the District of Columbia.

The high court also: —Ruled 6 to 3 in a Louisiana case that state supreme court judges may be elected from districts that are unequal in population.

—Agreed to rule on methods used by the Food and Drug Administration to determine the effectiveness of some 1,350 drugs.

—Agreed in a Wisconsin case to decide whether the owners of bars featuring nude dancers are entitled to a hearing, before the state closes them down.

—Rejected an appeal by tax fighter Viven Kellems challenging a six per cent Connecticut tax on dividends and sale or exchange of capital assets. She contended the state violated the Constitution by singling them out while leaving bank interest and other forms of investment income untaxed.

London Flu In San Marcos

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—A top state health official predicts the next 30 days will indicate whether Texas is to be confronted with major outbreaks of London flu.

"If we are going to see an upswing, then we'll see it in the next 30 days," says Dr. M. Dickerson, who disclosed four cases of the new strain have been isolated in the state.

The first case in the new strain of Type A England flu, commonly called London flu, was isolated in San Marcos, said Dickerson, who is chief of the State Health Department's communicable disease division.

Dickerson said two more cases were confirmed among students at the University of Texas at Austin and a fourth case has been serologically confirmed in a patient from Childers in Northwest Texas.

As yet, weekly reports from throughout the state have not shown a marked increase in the number of influenza cases and there has been "no pattern" of an outbreak, says Dickerson.

FILING FOR DIVORCE—Former Premier Jans Otto Krag of Denmark and his actress wife, Hella, shown here in a 1966 photo, announced Wednesday in Copenhagen that they are filing a joint application for divorce. Theirs was one of Denmark's most celebrated marriages. They are shown arriving at the White House on April 27, 1966, as guests of then-President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson. Mrs. Krag is looking up as raindrops hit her.

$500,000 Flash Fire

DALLAS (AP)—An executive jet suffered $500,000 damage and a man working on it was burned on the face and back when a flash fire broke out at a hangar belonging to Southwest Airmotive at Love Field.

Masey Thompson, 33, of Irving was servicing the plane's oxygen system. The blaze was controlled by the hangar sprinkler system until fire units arrived.

The $2 million twin-jet Jetstar is owned by Dresser Industries Inc.

Increase Imports Of Heating Oil

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Nixon administration has authorized increased imports of heating oil to help alleviate shortages in various parts of the nation.

The Office of Emergency Preparedness said the action would make available up to 250 million gallons of additional No. 2 fuel oil for the current winter season.

The office made the additional oil available by increasing quotas from the Virgin Islands during the January-April period.

The Department of the Interior soon will publish an official notice informing sellers that imports may be increased in districts one through four, which includes all areas east of the Rocky Mountains.

The government added that applicants must certify that the amount of oil they apply for is required to meet contract obligations.

Oil Workers Call Strike

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — Workers struck at the Mobil Oil Co. refinery here Wednesday night. Tentative agreements averted walkouts at three similar plants in this area.

A company official reported 1,500 members of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers union left their jobs as negotiations between Mobil and union local 423 failed to produce an agreement by an 11 p.m. deadline.

It was nearly 3 a.m. today before a union spokesman, Roy Stefflen, informed newsmen that negotiators had worked out a settlement for Texaco plants in neighboring Port Arthur and Port Neches.

Like an agreement reported earlier Wednesday for the Gulf Oil Co. refinery in Port Arthur, Stefflen said it is subject to approval by the OCAW's national headquarters in Denver and to a vote by local members.

No details were disclosed.

BEFORE NOMINATION HEARING—Chairman John O. Stennis, D-Miss., talks with William P. Clements, left, before the Senate Armed Services Committee met to discuss Clement's nomination to become deputy defense secretary. The committee was asked to delay action on the nomination until the Security and Exchange Commission completes an investigation of his oil drilling company.

Inauguration: A Mixture Of Tradition, Pageantry

By JAMES CARY
Copley News Service

WASHINGTON — Take a dash of Flo Ziegfeld, add a touch of the pomp and ceremony of 19th Century Europe and sprinkle well with things traditionally American.

What do you have? A typical American inauguration ceremony for newly elected presidents.

SECOND TERM
For President Nixon this quadrennial and most spectacular of American political celebrations will climax at 10:00 a.m. (Big Spring time) Saturday, Jan. 20, when he is sworn in by Chief Justice Warren Burger on the steps of the Capitol to launch his second term.

A quick lunch with Congress will follow. Then at 1:15 p.m. the traditional, massive parade down Pennsylvania Avenue from the Capitol to the White House will begin with President Nixon leading the way.

A scheduled 45 bands, 40 floats, marching units from the Army and Navy academies and scores of other groups will join the thunderous, drum-beating procession.

It will jog to the right at 15th Street, then swing past the front of the White House with Mr. Nixon dropping out there to review the two hours of pageantry — keyed to a "Spirit of '76" theme — from an enclosed, bulletproof, heated and carpeted stand constructed in front of the executive mansion.

$50 SEATS
Stands have been erected along the route for guests who wish to pay $5 ($2 for children 12 and under), $20, $25, or $50 for reserved seats on a first-come, first-served basis. There are 47,000 seats in all, the price varying according to desirability.

More stands flank the presidential reviewing box in front of the White House for use of invited guests only, but other open areas along the route are set aside for anyone who can get there to watch the parade free of charge.

More than 200,000 are expected to do so. Newsmen from across the nation and upward of 40 television camera crews will record the scene for history.

One group of Washington residents, however, is not welcome. These are the thousands of starlings that people the elms and oaks along the parade route, traditionally displaying utter disdain for all who dare to walk beneath them.

'HOT FOOT'
A special $13,000 contract has been let to spray the trees with a chemical repellent formula that will give the birds a "hot foot" if they attempt to occupy their habitual roosts during the inaugural period.

All this is the more visible part of the American way of letting the world and the American people know one administration has ended and a new one is beginning.

The planning actually begins many months before. An inaugural committee and chairman is appointed — headed this time by restaurant and motelman J. Willard Marriott, who also directed Mr. Nixon's first inaugural.

A tentative budget is drafted. Subcommittees are formed, finances raised, entertainment lined up and contracts let.

Initially the committee for the current inaugural persuaded banks, corporations and insurance companies to advance $2.6 million (to be repaid later) of the estimated $3.9 million it decided would have to be raised through ticket sales to inaugurate events to finance the celebration.

This does not include the $650,000 Congress provided to erect the Corinthian-columned stand where Mr. Nixon will take his oath, plus other stands for invited guests at the Capitol.

PAID STAFF
Once these arrangements were completed the committee pulled together a paid staff of 107 persons, lined up 3,000 volunteers, moved into some old temporary government buildings in Southwest Washington and developed detailed plans for the inaugural. The finished program is spread over three days.

Thursday, Jan. 18, there is a 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. reception at the Smithsonian Museum of History and Technology honoring Vice President and Mrs. Spiro Agnew. Tickets, provided by special invitation only, cost $10.

That night a "Salute to the States" honoring the 50 states and their governors begins at the Kennedy Center at 9 p.m. Again by special invitation only, 5,000 guests are expected to pay $25 to $100 each to be entertained in two of the center's theaters by such stars as Bob Hope, Pat Boone and Vicki Carr.

MAJOR EVENTS
Friday, Jan. 19, there are four major events — a "Salute to America's Heritage" and three separate concerts.

The heritage program will be staged in the Corcoran Gallery of Art from 2-4 p.m. in recognition of the contributions of America's ethnic and minority groups. The music, food, and art of these groups will be featured in what the committee calls "a festive air similar to that of a neighborhood block party." Celebrity co-hosts will mingle with the guests.

Tickets are $10 for adults and $5 for children under 12. The three concerts the same night will feature American, youth and symphonic music respectively. They begin at staggered times at the Kennedy Center to avoid the congestion of thousands arriving at the same time.

Frank Sinatra, Sammy Davis Jr. and Les Brown's orchestra are among those featured at the American concert. It begins at 7:30 p.m. in the opera house. Tickets cost $500, $250, $25 and $20. The $500 and $250 tickets include cocktails and a candlelight supper after the concert.

The youth concert will begin in the Eisenhower Theater at 8:30 p.m. Tickets are $10. The symphonic concert, featuring the Philadelphia Symphony under Eugene Ormandy is at 9 p.m. Pianist Van Cliburn will appear. Tickets range downward from $500, including dinner and cocktails.

Love Unnecessary In Cuban Crimes

MIAMI (AP) — The Cuban government says its authors of mystery stories must have their villains caught only through a series of deductions and never by accident.

The government, which controls publications in Cuba, also says love is unnecessary diversion to the serious business of solving mysteries.

The Committee on Propaganda and Culture of the Interior Ministry in rules for a writing contest says crime are not to be solved through decoding, word associations, truth serum, snatches, comparisons of cigarette butts of the suspect and those found at the crime, or victims' dogs that don't bark and reveal the culprit in the process.

Police are to be portrayed as brilliant masterminds and the works are to be of an instructive nature and a stimulus to prevention and vigilance of activities that are antisocial or against the power of the people.

Planes Wage Heavy Raids In Panhandle

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. planes kept up heavy raids on the North Vietnamese panhandle today while ground action tapered down in South Vietnam.

South Vietnamese officials reported 54 enemy attacks in the 24 hours before dawn today, the lowest number since the New Year's truce period.

American fighter-bombers flew 144 strikes over North Vietnam below the 20th parallel and U.S. B52s flew 42 more, dropping about 1,200 tons of bombs. The raids for the past two days have been the heaviest in that area since Nov. 15.

The planes were concentrating on storage areas and routes used to move supplies southward toward South Vietnam, the U.S. Command said.

Another 187 fighter-bomber strikes and 51 B52 strikes were flown in South Vietnam, in support of government forces or against known or suspected enemy targets.

South Vietnamese spokesmen said armored troops two days ago found the bodies of 200 Communists killed by bombs about nine miles southwest of the provincial capital of Svay Rieng, in eastern Cambodia.

The bodies of 30 other North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed by air and artillery strikes were found Wednesday in the western part of War Zone D, about 12 miles southeast of Song Be and 70 miles northeast of Saigon. Apparently they had been slain on Tuesday when militia troops supported by bombers and artillery fought a ground battle. Six South Vietnamese were killed and seven wounded in the fighting, spokesmen reported.

Potentate's Ball Is Definitely On

All signs for 'go' for the Potentate's Ball Saturday night in the San Angelo Coliseum, according to George Bair of Big Spring, who will formally be installed as potentate of the Suez Temple earlier that day.

Installation ceremonies for Bair and other officers will be conducted at the San Angelo Suez Temple at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

Music for the ball will be played by Mal Fitch and his orchestra. Fitch will also play during the inauguration dance for Gov.-to-be Delph Briscoe. All Master Masons, Shriners and their ladies are invited to attend the ball, Bair stated.

FROSTY FELINE—A tiny icicle hangs from the mouth of a cat, stranded for nearly an hour on a ledge of a New York City apartment building that was struck by fire Wednesday. It was saved by a fireman, right. One person was killed and six others were slightly hurt in the blaze.

Saw Youth Running With Gun Seconds After Officer Shot

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Two security guards at the Riverside Village Apartments testified Wednesday they saw a tall, black youth who looked like David Nelson running with a rifle seconds after they heard a shot.

A third guard at the apartments added in his testimony that he recovered a rifle in a flower bed after the other officers briefly lost sight of the man during a chase around the complex.

None of the three, however, could identify Nelson definitely as the man.

Nelson is being tried in Judge Charles Lindsey's Criminal District Court No. 3 on a charge that he fatally shot patrolman Edward M. Belcher Oct. 29, 1971.

SCARED

The killing took place on a parking lot near the Electric Circus, a now closed night spot that is about a block south of the Riverside Village Apartments.

While he held a shotgun at Nelson's head, security guard Delbert Burns said, another guard talked to the youth.

Algie Howard, the second guard at the apartments which were the target of a boycott by militant blacks at that time, said Nelson was "scared and shaking and crying."

Howard said he did not know when he was talking to Nelson that a patrolman had been shot nearby.

Burns left and Howard said he continued to talk to Nelson.

"I thought he was innocent, so I let him go," Howard told the all-white jury under questioning by prosecutors Marvin Snodgrass and Rufus Adcock.

"He (Nelson) was running and everybody else was running too," Howard said of the exodus from the club parking lot after many pistol shots were fired during a disturbance just before Belcher was slain and another officer wounded.

"He (Nelson) said they said he had shot a police officer, but he said he did not shoot anyone. I knew he was right when he said everyone else was running, because I was running, too."

LET HIM GO

"To me, he seemed innocent, so I let him go."

Under cross-examination by defense lawyer Clifford Davis, Howard agreed that "it is a frightening thing to have someone aiming a shotgun at you."

Nelson had an apartment in the complex, but Howard said he did not know him.

Wilson Sims, the third security guard, said he was with his two co-workers when the youth who looked like Nelson ran by carrying a rifle.

Sims said he fired two shots at him, as did Howard. Both missed.

As he chased the running man, Sims said he turned a corner and saw a rifle in the flower bed. The weapon had a telescope, he said.

A 15-year-old boy told the jury Tuesday that he and two of his friends held Nelson at 3006 sports rifle with a telescope sight for $25. The sale was made 12 days before Belcher was shot.

Prosecutors tried to tighten the evidence that they say will link Nelson circumstantially with the sniper slaying of the 24-year-old officer.

DISTURBANCE

Several policemen told the jury they had been called to the Electric Circus around midnight to quell a disturbance caused by the breaking up of a dice game outside the club.

Patrolman J. R. Shaw said that as he heard a rifle shot, "I saw the top of officer Belcher's head come off and brain material and fragments hit us."

"Officer (R. G.) Turner grabbed his head and fell down."

Turner was taken to a hospital, where he was treated and dismissed.

Shaw added that officer Belcher "didn't have a chance."

The Tarrant County medical examiner, Dr. Felix Gwozdz, told the jurors that Belcher suffered "a massive, explosive type wound . . . there were massive fractures of parts of the skull."

"Parts of the boney structure in the skull were missing, the right ear was missing and part of the lower jaw was absent."

Named Prexy Of NBC News

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard C. Wald has been named president of NBC News, succeeding Reuben Frank, 52, who said he asked to be relieved as administrator to return to production.

Frank, president since 1968, will be a senior executive producer in the network news division. He was producer of the "Huntley-Brinkley Report" for nine years before switching to administrative positions.

The change was approved Wednesday at a meeting of the National Broadcasting Co. board of directors, a spokesman said.

Wald, 41, has been executive vice president, reporting to Frank, since last June. He was managing editor of the New York Herald Tribune when it folded in 1966, spent a year as assistant managing editor of the Washington Post and joined NBC News in 1968 as vice president.

Frank joined NBC News in 1950 as a writer after three years with the now-defunct Newark Evening News in New Jersey.

Will Never Be Intimidated By American Bombs, Force

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam warned today that it will never be intimidated by American bombing or other acts of force and will not accept American efforts to "impose unreasonable terms" in the peace talks.

As Henry A. Kissinger and Le Duc Tho met for the fourth straight day in their secret negotiations, Nguyen Minh Vy told the weekly meeting of the semipublic, four-party peace talks.

DECISIVE STAGE

"The negotiations have now come to a decisive stage, it is either good progress toward signing an agreement, or continuation of the war. Obviously, this depends on the American side."

With American goodwill peace could be rapidly restored, Vy continued. But if the United States "clings to the policy of force in an attempt to impose unreasonable terms . . . the Vietnam question cannot be settled and the war will be prolonged."

Meanwhile, Kissinger and Tho were joined for the first time in their current round of negotiations by the technical experts who have been working on details of various items that might be included in a ceasefire agreement.

NO PROGRESS

The joint meeting of the top negotiators and the experts indicated that the negotiations between Kissinger and Tho were going beyond arguments over basic principles. But both sides maintained their news blackout, and there was no evidence of progress toward release.

Harte-Hanks Names Taxel To Key Post

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The president of the San Diego Publishing Co., Charles Billings, has been named to direct the suburban newspapers of Harte-Hanks Newspapers Inc.

Harold Taxel, 45, a publisher of one of Harte-Hanks Texas newspapers, has been selected to succeed Billings at the San Diego Publishing Co., which controls 19 San Diego, Calif., area suburban newspapers which Harte-Hanks communications group recently purchased.

Billings, 41, has been named corporate director of suburban publishing operations, according to an announcement by Charles Wahlheim, executive vice president of operations of Harte-Hanks.

Wahlheim said Billings' position is a new one in the Harte-Hanks corporate structure.

"It was time that our company had a full time specialist in this area," said Wahlheim of Billings' responsibilities for suburban newspapers.

Taxel leaves the Eagle in Bryan-College Station, Tex., where he had been publisher since early 1971. Prior to that, he was general manager of the San Antonio Express-News, largest of Harte-Hanks newspaper operations.

Billings at one time served as consultant to Harte-Hanks and, says the announcement by Wahlheim, he will continue to perform some consulting functions, in addition to his operations duties.

Prior to establishing his own consulting firm, Billings was corporate controller for Copley Newspapers for 20 years.

Taxel's successor at Bryan-College Station was not named immediately.

Wahlheim's announcement said the administrative company changes would in no way affect the management structure of the individual suburban newspapers involved.

"We want to retain the unique personalities of each of these publications; that is best done by maintaining the existing management structure and editorial policies," said Wahlheim.

Ex-Banker Draws Prison Sentence

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP) — The former president of the Atlanta (Tex.) First National Bank has been ordered to serve a six-month sentence for conspiring to defraud the bank.

U.S. District Court Judge William Steger Wednesday sentenced C. B. Duke Jr. to six months in federal penitentiary, gave him a 30-month suspended sentence and five years probation for each of eight counts on which Duke was earlier convicted. The terms will run concurrently.

moving the main obstacles to agreement.

In Saigon, the government radio commented that: "No progress should be expected from the peace talks at this time as every available indicator suggests that Hanoi is preparing for the worst."

Communist sources said Hanoi is still ready to sign the agreement drafted in October by President Nixon's top foreign policy adviser and the North Vietnamese Politburo member, but rejects major changes they say the United States is demanding.

GIVING GROUND

Other informants also said North Vietnam has shown no inclination to make concessions despite the massive bombing of Hanoi and Haiphong last month.

Nor were there any indications that Kissinger was giving ground.

The main obstacles to agreement are known to include North Vietnam's refusal to accept the government of President Nguyen Van Thieu as the only legitimate government of South Vietnam or to recognize the 17th parallel as an international border separating North and South Vietnam as two independent states.

Kissinger and Tho met for four hours Wednesday. The session was hosted by the North Vietnamese in a villa owned by the French Communist party in suburban Gif sur Yvette.

NEWS BLACKOUT

The two delegations again avoided meeting face to face before newsmen, but Kissinger shook hands with an unidentified North Vietnamese official as he entered the villa. It was the first publicly visible handshake in the current round of talks, which began Monday in an icy mood.

Both sides maintained their strict news blackout. State Department Press Officer Charles W. Bray III said in Washington that the Nixon administration's decision not to release news on developments in the talks was sensible and defensible. He said there is a standing injunction against either side or informed speculation on the talks. But he said U.S. missions abroad have been supplied with material American ambassadors could draw upon to explain Nixon's decision to renew the bombing of Hanoi last month. The material was not being made available in Washington.

Hanoi's Vietnam News agency reported that the Viet Cong has called for an urgent conference of nonaligned nations to help end the war. It said the Viet Cong foreign minister, Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, made the appeal Jan. 1 in letters to her counterparts in the Third World.
