Refinery Dust Settles Over Towns

TORRANCE, Calif. (AP) — Malfunctioning equipment at a Mobil Oil Co. refinery has spewed a fine dust into the air which settled over nearby communities and could cause property damage, said a spokesman for the Air Pollution Control District.

"We've never had anything like this so widespread before," said the spokesman, Jim Birakos.

He described the powdery substance, which grew sticky in Sunday night's fog, as a catalyst dust used in processing oil.

"Samples of the stuff we've taken indicate it's non-toxic but it could cause damage to property if it's not washed off," he said.

Investigators said the dust settled over parts of Torrance, Carson, Gardena and Lawndale.

Police departments in the affected areas said they received numerous calls about the fallout.

Birakos said the talcum powder-like substance was a catalyst dust used to speed up the process of converting crude oil to gasoline.

Edward Fulham, Mobil public relations manager, said the firm would not comment until an evaluation of the situation could be made by company officials.

Mobil plants in Torrance and Ferndale, Wash., were struck Sunday by about 600 members of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union in a dispute over new contracts.

They joined about 1,500 union members picketing at Mobil's Beaumont, Tex., plant in an earlier contract dispute.

Paul Harding, a union spokesman, said the union has negotiated contracts with five major companies covering some 30,000 OCAW members expired on Dec. 31, Harding said.

State Lottery Bill Filed

AUSTIN (AP) — Rep. Jim Kaster of El Paso has submitted two legislative proposals authorizing the state of Texas to conduct lotteries, saying it would raise about $69 million for the state through 50-cent tickets and weekly drawings.

A constitutional amendment permitting a state lottery was formally introduced and referred to the House State Affairs Committee Friday.

Kaster also filed for future introduction — probably this week — a bill creating a Texas Lottery Commission to conduct the lottery.

TOPS INCOME TAX
"It's a viable alternative to a state income tax," he said.

Another proposed constitutional amendment, sponsored by Rep. Lindsey Rodriguez of Hidalgo, would require a referendum every 10 years on legislators' salaries, with voters given a choice among pay scales ranging from $4,500 to $15,500 per year.

The entire state constitution will be up for revision next year when the lawmakers sit as a constitutional convention.

Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale filed a bill delaying the start of a mandatory quarter system in public schools from the start of the 1973-74 school year to 1975-76.

FIRE KILLS CHILD

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP) — Charles Edward McCary, 4, burned to death today in a fire that engulfed his parents' six-room frame home.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McCary, and four brothers and sisters, escaped with only minor injuries.

Bombing, Mining Of Vietnam Ends

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon ordered a halt today to all offensive military operations in North Vietnam "because of the progress made" in Paris peace talks, the Florida White House said.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon's order took effect at 10 a.m. EST and includes "bombing, shelling and any further mining of North Vietnam."

The White House spokesman described the move as "a unilateral gesture" that followed an exhaustive presidential assessment of the negotiations.

Ziegler refused to discuss reports that Henry A. Kissinger, Nixon's peace negotiator, and Hanoi's Le Duc Tho have, for all practical purposes, already reached an accord.

He did say in response to a question: "Dr. Kissinger will be returning to Paris at some point in the relatively near future."

Asked if North Vietnam had agreed to scale down its military operations in South Vietnam in return for Nixon's military concession, Ziegler said the White House had no information to indicate any change in Hanoi's military strategy.

Ziegler did say Hanoi was aware that progress in the Paris talks could lead to a U.S. move of the type he announced.

Nixon and Kissinger conferred for an hour and a half Monday morning at the President's bedside office here. It was their fourth meeting in two days since Kissinger flew here from Paris early Sunday morning.

Ziegler said Nixon transmitted the order to halt military operations in North Vietnam late Sunday night following one of his discussions with Kissinger.

Asked if any move would be made to deactivate mines already placed along the North Vietnamese coast, Ziegler said those weapons "will remain in place" and be discussed in future Paris talks.

Asked if Nixon was hopeful that a peace agreement could be announced by Inauguration Day—Saturday—Ziegler replied, "We have no artificial timetable." He said the objective all along has been to end the war at the earliest possible date.

South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu was fully informed in advance about Nixon's decision, Ziegler added.

The President has dispatched Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr., to Saigon to consult with Thieu about the Paris talks. Haig had a lengthy talk with Nixon and the automatic pay raise for six months for the secretary in the county welfare and juvenile office. This was the time that this office was originally scheduled for a raise. A request to start the raise earlier was denied.

County Judge A. G. Mitchell, who has been recovering from a gall bladder operation, presided this morning. He said he felt fine but he appeared weak.

Mitchell mentioned that he plans to work half days for a few days.

GOOD AS GOLD
Sgt. Robert Teachout, one of his men, agrees: "We are the paper policemen. But there's more excitement in this one little area than anywhere in the police station."

How does GACHA work? For example, take the gold-tooth file, which was inspired by an 18-year-old girl who got a traffic ticket. The policeman who pulled her over noticed she had a gold front tooth. He remembered that a female robber who had helped hold up four Miami finance companies also had a gold front tooth and was at large.

It turned out to be the same tooth and the same girl, Gracey said, and the CIC staff started thinking seriously about dentures. It occurred to one team member that another bandit sported gold teeth with diamond insets: still another group preferred stars.

Council To Ask Sheriff To Assign Port Deputy

By JOHN EDWARDS
County commissioners, faced with a decision on assigning an armed guard at Howard County Airport before each local flight, agreed to request Sheriff A. N. Standard to assign a deputy to this duty.

This decision was made Monday morning during their regular weekly court meeting. The Federal Aviation Authority regulations, which are to go into effect by Feb. 6, require a guard at each take-off at the airport.

There are four flights a day from Howard County Airport, except on Saturday and Sunday when there are three. The court stated that it will require around four hours work daily.

TYPE STIPULATED
Other security FAA requirements stipulate the type of fence needed by the aircraft ramp. Joe Swinney of Swinney Fence Co. of Coahoma presented facts to the court on specifications for a cyclone fence of 1,689 feet. The court plans to advertise for bids. Another 600 feet of barbed wire fence will also be required. Airport Manager J. W. McClendon told the court that taxiway lights are being repaired at this time.

Jack Buchanan, commissioner, introduced two requests for right of way on two different stretches of roads. The court approved both requests.

One right of way granted is a one-half mile extension of Williams Street in the Green Addition, where people are residing at this time. The other is 1,000 feet off FM 700 to the east on land owned by O. R. Bolinger. The approved right of ways are 560 feet.

SEEKS BIDS
The court also voted to advertise for bids on a 60 horsepower motor grader for maintaining the shoulders on county roads.

They also agreed not to start

Tooth File Helps 'Paper Policemen' Catch Crooks

MIAMI (AP) — Lochard Gracey and his team of self-styled "paper policemen" catch crooks with a computer code.

The code is called GACHA, an acronym for General Appearances of Criminals and their Habits Analyzed. GACHA is part of the Miami Police Department's Criminal Information Center (CIC).

Gracey, the unit's commanding officer, is a 26-year veteran of the force. But, unlike most policemen, he doesn't mind all the paperwork his job entails.

"We solve crimes where we've never been on the scene," he said. "We can put together a picture of a criminal we've never seen."

WATERGATE

Four More Defendants Plead Guilty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four more of the Watergate political espionage defendants pleaded guilty today, leaving only two of the original seven defendants at trial.

The guilty plea was entered by a new court-appointed attorney of Bernard L. Barker, Eugenio R. Martinez, Frank A. Surgis and Virgilio R. Gonzalez, all from the Miami area.

The plea brought to five the number of defendants who have withdrawn from the trial since it opened a week ago. Last Wednesday, former White House consultant E. Howard Hunt pleaded guilty to all charges.

SERIOUS QUESTIONS
The exit of four more defendants, leaving only two at the once-crowded defense table, raised serious questions as to whether the trial could continue.

Gerald Alch, attorney for one of the remaining defendants, James W. McCord Jr., said before court opened that he would seek a mistrial if the guilty pleas were offered, claiming the jury would conclude, even though it wouldn't be told, that the others had admitted guilt. The other remaining defendant is G. Gordon Liddy.

The new guilty pleas were offered by court-appointed attorney Al Newmeyer, in lieu of New York lawyer Henry B. Rothblatt, who had represented the four through the first week of trial but had refused to have them plead guilty.

PRISON?
Like Hunt, the four were required to plead guilty to all of the counts against them.

All four were charged with seven counts of an eight-count indictment and face maximum possible prison sentences of 55 years each. All four have CIA backgrounds dating from the Cuban Bay of Pigs invasion.

Sources close to the defense had said earlier that the Miami four had been under intense pressure to plead guilty and avoid a full airing of the charges against them, stemming from the burglary of Democratic party headquarters here last summer. The withdrawal of five of the seven defendants makes it unlikely that the full evidence in the case will be made public, at least in this trial.

BOOT LAWYER
Before the guilty pleas were announced, U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica revealed that the Miami four had written a letter last Friday firing Rothblatt as their lawyer because of his refusal to change their pleas to guilty. At their request, Sirica appointed Newmeyer for the purpose of presenting new pleas.

The Washington Post today quoted sources close to the defendants as saying Hunt has led the four to believe that if they plead guilty their families "will be taken care of" and they can expect relatively early release from prison. Hunt's attorney, William O. Bittman, said this report was "absurd," the Post said.

Classes To Resume Here Tomorrow

Tuesday is the day for regular school to resume following a teacher in-service training day Monday and a patched-up week where students missed four days due to inclement weather last week.

Tuesday is also the first day of the spring semester. There are no changes, except in the high school, where some students change some of their classes at mid-term.

There is no spring registration. Students pre-registered last spring for the entire school year and any changes in that schedule must be approved through the high school counselor's office.

ONLY OSORIO WILL STAND TRIAL IN AMARILLO

Former Exec Of Insurance Firm Enters Guilty Plea

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — The former executive vice president of National Bankers Life Insurance Co. pleaded guilty today to one of four criminal counts stemming from the Texas stock fraud investigation.

He would delay sentencing until the end of this trial. Since Stock previously entered a guilty plea in a federal court in Dallas only Osorio will stand trial here.

Co. and embezzlement from the NBL pension program. Stock's lawyer said his client previously pleaded guilty to filing a false annual report for the pension plan.

According to court documents, Stock, who will be sentenced by a Dallas judge, could receive a $1,000 fine and six months in prison. The maximum penalty for Akins is $10,000 and five years in prison.

The SEC claimed Frank Sharp, who controlled the bank and the insurance company, led several top state officials into a stock manipulation scheme to enrich them. In return, the SEC said, Sharp expected favorable attention for two banking bills which would affect his bank and his insurance company.

Osorio lobbied the Austin for passage of the two bills sought by Sharp. The trial for Osorio, Akins and Stock was originally set for Dallas but they claimed Dallasites knew too much about the case to render a fair verdict.

Shares in the names of five astronauts who refused his offer of it. The retirement fund then bought the stock and sold it to a Catholic order in Houston at a loss.

Casually Yours

By JO BRIGHT

Like every other female, Mother Nature acts up once in a while, just to get some attention.

I don't blame her. When you work your fingers to the bone providing sunny days and moonlit nights, and nobody seems to notice, it's time to throw your weight around a little. And that, she did.

We're indebted to the city crews who did a good job in a bad situation, as well as the police and sheriff's deputies who managed to be everywhere at once. Firemen got their trucks out when needed, and Webb AFB helped the civil defense unit come through with flying colors.

Still, there was lots of slippin' and slidin'. One of those who took a tumble was Good Neighbor, Willard Sullivan, (who made it to Sunday school despite his aches and pains). Another casualty was one of my favorite fellows, Dr. Floyd Mays. And if former football star, Jerry Barron, tells you his wife twisted his arm, don't believe it. The car has him benched, and the rest of the winter games have been canceled.

If some of you are suffering from post-Christmas let down, hang in there. The social season doesn't have to be over. This month you can observe birthdays of Dr. Martin Luther King (today) Franklin D. Roosevelt and Robert E. Lee (where are you when we need you?)

Shower Is Courtesy For Bride

Miss Wanda Sandridge, bride-elect of Rex Rainey, was honored recently with a shower in the home of Mrs. Ernest Welch, 610 Scurry.

Attired in a floor-length powder-blue dress, the honoree was presented a corsage of white roses. White carnation corsages were given to her mother, Mrs. Buford Hull; her grandmother, Mrs. Floyd Hull; the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Gorman Rainey; and his grandmothers, Mrs. Emory Rainey and Mrs. Shirley Walker.

A white organza and satin cloth covered a refreshment table appointed with silver and crystal. An arrangement of burgundy and pink roses and gladioli centered the table.

Serving were Mrs. Ted Hull, Mrs. Jim Huckaby and Mrs. Bill Draper. Guests were registered by Mrs. Lynn Adams.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Bill Blalack, Mrs. Orville Bryant, Mrs. Preston Adams, Mrs. Horace Blackshear, Mrs. R. L. Collins, Mrs. Dan McRae, Mrs. Bob Sellers, Mrs. Noel Hull, Mrs. Pete Hull, Mrs. Bob Carlile, Mrs. Cecil Suttles and Mrs. Earl Trout. Miss Sandridge and Rainey will be married Jan. 19 at College Baptist Church.

February looks even better. You can raise a Big Orange to Mr. Lincoln and Mr. Washington, or you can get a gang together and celebrate the 11th anniversary of John Glenn's orbit of the earth. Make it a biggie on St. Valentine's Day, or plan a Ground Hog Vigil on Feb. 2. (Don't tell me there's nothing to do in Big Spring.)

There's still a Christmas glow at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Gregory, 1017 Stadium, who are very proud of their son, Richard (Dickie) Gregory of Andrews. The Andrews newspaper cited the younger Gregory as personifying the holiday spirit and "saving" one family's Christmas. Finding a billfold containing $260, Gregory not only went to a great deal of trouble to locate the owner, he refused any kind of reward.

A LOVELIER YOU Use Common Sense In Applying Makeup

By MARY SUE MILLER

A lovely teen wants to know: How can I use eyeshadow without my little brother advertising the fact to the neighbors? And Dad telling me "go wash your face."

The Answer: The neighbors know without your little brother's broadcast. Their eyesight is as good as Dad's.

If wearing eyeshadow fortifies your self-assurance about your looks, be sure to apply it with the assurance of a pro. Overdoing will not accomplish the aim. You should look like yourself only better, upon applying any cosmetic. Nobody should be able to tell you wear the stuff, not even your best girl friend. When she asks, "What shade of shadow is that you're wearing?" watch out. She's a good pal, but only human like junior.

Right here let's talk about the family that disapproves of makeup on principle. The solution lies within the family circle. But, if Miss Teen would be subtle and tasteful — in the best, not sleazy, grownup tradition — she would stand a better chance of selling her viewpoint.

To gain acceptance, whatever the circumstance, you might try eyeshadow coloring sticks. They work like crayons and surely you mastered that medium back in pre-school. Along with light, definitive strokes, color plays a role here. For brown eyes try taupe, for blue eyes choose mauve.

Remarks will take a favorable turn.

Just Hop Back

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My wife is a former Playboy bunny. We've been married about a year. I realize that she met a lot of men while she worked as a cocktail waitress at the club — which is where I met her, but she still gets calls asking if she'll have a drink or dinner with them.

She asked me if I "minded" if she saw some of her old favorites. I really never thought it was right for her to go, but I said I didn't mind because I didn't want her to think I was jealous.

She goes out about once a week. Am I being a chump? If I took my secretary — or anyone else out, my wife would throw a fit.

Even though I said it was okay at the beginning, I've changed my mind. So how do I tell her that I "mind" without looking like a jealous husband?

CHANGED MY MIND
DEAR CHANGED: What's wrong with looking like a jealous husband if that's what you are — and with good reason. Tell your former Playboy bunny that her cottontail past is behind her now, and it's time she hopped into the role of a full-time wife.

DEAR ABBY: In our community we have a medical group. I guess you could call it a "clinic." I started going to a physician there who was arrogant and generally unpleasant. I wanted to switch to another doctor but didn't know quite how to do it. My problem was solved, however, when he went on vacation and one of his colleagues treated me instead. The substitute physician was wonderful, so I kept booking him for my treatments. (I get an inoculation once a week.) Yesterday at the clinic I ran into my first doctor, so I smiled and said, "Good morning."

He replied sharply, "Who's treating you? Whoever he is, he's doing a lousy job. You look like hell!"

Abby, I was so shocked I couldn't even respond. I just walked away.

Was this ethical? I mean, downgrading one of his own colleagues that way? How would you have handled it? Should I report him?

PHILADELPHIA BULLETIN READER
DEAR READER: Probably just as you did. Either that doctor needs a doctor, or he needs some lessons in tact, self-control and manners. Yes, report this incident to the administrator of the clinic.

DEAR ABBY: You would be doing a lot of hard of hearing people a tremendous service if you would explain the following in your column: The hard of hearing wear hearing aids to amplify the sound, so when people discover that one is wearing a hearing aid, why do they start shouting into a hearing aid amplifies the sound to such a penetrating pitch it makes the wearer extremely nervous, and drives him up a wall. Thank you.

WEARS ONE
DEAR WEARS: Here's your letter, and I hope it penetrates.

Terry McGarrity's Announce Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Terry McGarrity of Columbus, Mo., announce the birth of a daughter, Kay Louise, born Jan. 13 at Medical Arts Clinic-Hospital. The infant weighed 7 pounds, 3 ounces. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray H. Boren, 504 Westover, and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William Coons, Fort Worth. Mrs. E. P. Gullede of Fort Worth is the child's paternal great-grandmother.

C. Goodnight Blazed Trail Across Texas

"Charles Goodnight battled Indians, outlaws, fellow cattlemen and even the state, if necessary," said Mrs. T. G. Adams Friday to Modern Woman's Forum.

Her program, "Blazing the Goodnight Trail," was presented in the home of Mrs. H. M. Rowe, 1105 Johnson who assisted with the program with a discussion of "Pioneer Cattle Ranches."

"Goodnight was awed by none of the things he battled," continued Mrs. Adams. "He tried constantly to find ways to improve his surroundings, whether it be cattle, saddle or men."

Providing a brief history of Goodnight's life, Mrs. Adams said he came to Texas at the age of nine in 1845. In 1856, when he was 20, he owned 17 head of cattle, and by the early 1880's he had built his herd to more than 100,000 cattle and owned 1,335,000 acres of land.

Following the Civil War, Mrs. Adams said all Texas cattlemen faced a shortage of cash, and many gathered their herds and moved north. Goodnight and Oliver Loring, an older cattleman with trial experience, rode west to blaze the Goodnight-Loring Trail. During this trial ride the first chuck wagon seen on the range was designed and built by Goodnight, and Mrs. Adams said its design was never greatly altered.

"Charles Goodnight died in 1929 at the age of 93," concluded Mrs. Adams. "His legendary western lore is still sought by historians."

Mrs. Rowe talked about the XIT (named after 10 counties in Texas) Ranch which is reported to be the most extensive western range ever encompassed by barbed wire fence. The ranch comprised 3,050,000 acres of land in the Texas panhandle.

The XIT was established during the mid 1880's and was considered the largest ranch in the cow country of the Old West, according to Mrs. Rowe, and probably the largest fenced range in the world.

"The history of this ranch is a story of cows, horses and cowmen, plus the constant struggle of the men with the soil and the elements," said Mrs. Rowe. "Eternal vigilance was the price of life."

The state passed a law Feb. 20, 1879 which appropriated the 3,050,000 acres, and an act passed April 18, 1879 provided that the state capitol would be built from funds derived from sale of 3,000,000 acres.

"The bold brand of the XIT Ranch was burnt in the hides of hundreds of thousands of Texas cattle, and the enterprise brought about the useful end for 3,000,000 acres of land."

Following the program, Mrs. Mary Brown and Mrs. A. C. Bass related experiences of ranch life they encountered as young children on the ranch of their parents, the late M. H. O'Daniels.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Rowe. The next meeting will be at 3 p.m., Jan. 26, with Mrs. J. P. Dodge as hostess. Place of the meeting will be announced.

Meeting Planned

The Howard County Historical Survey Committee will meet at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday in the Chamber of Commerce conference room. Project and program plans for 1973 will be made during the business meeting.

Welfare Reform Is Slated For Only Minor Attention

WASHINGTON (AP) — Welfare reform, a thorny issue on Capitol Hill during President Nixon's first term, is slated to get only minor attention in the 93rd Congress.

While President Nixon may submit some new welfare proposals this year, tentative schedules of the House Ways and Means and Senate Finance committees leave little time for a major attempt to change the system.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., Finance Committee chairman, said in an interview he hoped to approve some relatively minor legislation on welfare early in the session.

But any big bill would have to originate in the House. Ways and Means Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., succeeded in getting that chamber to pass Nixon's welfare-reform plan in the last two Congresses, but each time the Senate killed it.

This year Mills has indicated he will have his hands full with tax reform, reciprocal trade, national health care, and reform of private pension plans.

Mills has said also he sees little to be gained from another battle over welfare reform in view of the frustrating results of his two previous efforts.

Meeting On Drug Abuse Is Slated

A meeting for the community-wide group studying methods of combating drug abuse will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Those attending are expected to form a nucleus for a group to help combat the problem here, according to Ron Mercer, chamber manager.

A meeting was held early in December to begin plans for formation of the group. All interested citizens are urged to attend, according to Mercer.

Look For Traces Of Drugs In Urine Of Young Pupils

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration wants to look for traces of drugs in the urine of high-school and grade-school students.

The first such drug-screening program, tentatively scheduled to start Feb. 1 in a Harlem school with grades five through eight, won't force any student to submit to testing.

LAST RESORT

But Nixon's top drug-abuse officials say they will supply federal money for a compulsory program if some local city wants one.

A spokesman for Dr. Jerome H. Jaffe, head of Nixon's Special Action Office on Drug Abuse Prevention, said Jaffe considers civilian drug-screening programs a last resort, but adds "When kids are dying, it may be time for last resorts."

Jaffe has called for public discussion of civilian drug screening like the Army's mandatory urine testing of Vietnam GIs before they return home.

The child's name won't be given to police, health officials or anyone outside the school, Alston said.

LET HIM ALONE

If the parents agree to testing but the child refuses, the student will be put in a "peer-group discussion" to explain his refusal to his fellow students, Alston said. If he still refuses "we let him alone," he added.

Alston said the test school, Frederick Douglass Intermediate School, has 1,700 pupils, and that parents of 1,000 already have agreed to testing.

He said he believes the school itself is relatively free of drug addicts. Alston said the program is intended to find and treat pupils who are experimenting with drugs before they can become addicted.

Cattle Losses May Be Huge

DALLAS (AP) — Texas Agriculture Commissioner John White has estimated that as many as 100,000 cattle died in Texas because of the past week's severe weather.

By Saturday, temperatures had risen to moderate levels and snow was melting, indicating further losses would not be expected.

Another estimate of 100,000 came from Orville Howard of the Amarillo Globe-Times and News who keeps a close watch on events in the Panhandle and South Plains of Texas.

Howard's estimate covered the area north of a line from Childress in the southeast Panhandle to the Lubbock area in the South Plains, and included the two and a half months this winter which have been unusually cold, cloudy and wet.

Commissioner White said the loss from deaths perhaps was $25 million, with another $25 million in damages from cattle losing weight in the bad weather and the inability of stockmen to meet market demands.

White said the cold spell may cost farmers and stockmen as much as $50 million to $100 million, a part of the loss from inability to get some cotton out of the fields and loss of quality from the moisture.

About 1.6 million cattle are on feed at most times in the Panhandle and parts of the South Plains. Some are on pasture on young wheat while the others are in gigantic lots where they are fed intensely for market.

Howard said native stock stood up better under the cold, wet weather than young cattle weighing 250-300 pounds brought in daily from the Deep South by scores of trucks for final "finishing" in the feed lots throughout the area.

Most of the cattle from the South are called "Southern selects" and are prized because they gain weight rapidly in the feed lots. Thousands arrive daily to take the place of other cattle shipped out to packers.

Commemorative For King Birthday

By The Associated Press

Observances today marking the birthday of the late Martin Luther King Jr. include a variety of memorial services and public school closings in a number of cities around the country.

Both city schools and city hall offices were closed today in Atlanta, Ga., where Mayor Sam Massell declared the day a legal holiday.

School closings also were scheduled in New York, Chicago, San Francisco, St. Louis, Seattle, Kansas City, Buffalo, N.Y., Newark, N.J., Oakland, Calif., Hartford, Conn., and a number of smaller cities.

King, who would have been 44 today, was assassinated in April 1968 in Memphis, Tenn. Today in Atlanta his widow, Coretta Scott King, will place a wreath on his crypt.

Then she will attend memorial services at the Ebenezer Baptist Church, which King headed. Speakers include King's father, Martin Luther King Sr., and his son, Martin Luther King III.

Second Checks Are Forwarded

COLORADO CITY — Mitchell Rogers, manager for Lone Wolf Electric Co-op was elected president of the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce in a special board meeting this week.

The county's check was $66,000 and Cee City received $22,236.

The county spent its first check in December for items for which money had already been budgeted. The total of $134,881 is $14,000 more than the county had originally been scheduled to receive.

However, the city's second check plus the first check of $23,306 was some $15,000 less than they were scheduled to receive.

The city's first check has been earmarked for the purchase of a new fire truck to replace one 25 years old. They also spent some on a new police radio equipment. They plan to use some of the city funds for repaving the sign light system street paving, improving sanitation system and updating other fire department equipment.

With four spades he would have supported that suit at once instead of returning to clubs. He, therefore, will not have enough trumps to handle your hearts. This misfit calls violently for a pass.

Terry Hancock New Publisher

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Terry Hancock, advertising director of the San Antonio Express and News, has been appointed publisher of The Eagle in Bryan-College Station, Tex.

The announcement was made by Charles A. Wahlheim, executive vice president for operations for Harte-Hanks Newspapers, Inc., the San Antonio-based publications company.

Succeeding Hancock as vice president and advertising director of the Express and News will be Conrad Kloh, 42, who is at present retail advertising manager of the Houston Post.

Kloh joins the Express and News on Feb. 2, while Hancock assumes his duties in Bryan-College Station on March 1.

Hancock, 41, has been Express and News advertising director for two years. He is a longtime San Antonio advertising executive who, prior to joining the Express and News, was assistant advertising director of the San Antonio Light. Before that, he was the Light's general promotion manager and had served on the retail advertising staff of the Express and News.

Hancock majored in journalism at the University of Texas at Austin.

Kloh, an executive at the Houston Post for nearly five years, previously was operation manager of the classified advertising department of the San Francisco, Calif., Newspaper Printing Co., which prints the Examiner and Chronicle there.

Hancock succeeds Harold S. Taxel as publisher. Taxel already has assumed his new duties as president of the San Diego Publishing Co., a Harte-Hanks company which produces 19 weekly newspapers in the San Diego, Calif. area.

Cold Outside

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

RUNNING AWAY: (Q.) Could you please tell me where runaways go and send me any advice you have on how to run away? I am 13 and a girl. — Had Enough in Pennsylvania.

(A.) I can't list any specific places that runaways go to, but I can tell you that, judging from my letters, most of them are soon ready to return home.

They learn very quickly that "it's cold outside" and that no one cares for them so much as their family does — even though their family may not be perfect.

I have had letters from many who have learned these facts from hard personal experience. Please take my word for it and save yourself a bad trip.

Remember it's January now, and especially cold outside.

RETURN?: (Q.) I really treated Kenny badly. I got mad at every little thing he did and told him. He started going out with Brenda behind my back. When I found out, I was so rough on him that he broke up. That was four months ago. Since then he and Brenda have been going steady. Three weeks ago Kenny came to me and told me he really loved me and was coming back to me, but he had to figure out a way to tell Brenda. That made me happy.

He has told me twice since then that he is going to break up with Brenda. Just the same, he's still going steady with her.

Should I go to Brenda and tell her? — Waiting in Indiana.

(A.) No, do not tell Brenda. And do not wait any longer on Kenny. His behavior indicates to me that he prefers Brenda to you, but wants to keep you in reserve in case anything happens.

You should start now to work out a life that includes other boys.

Spiralling Tax Bite

Social Security taxes now cost most wage earners in the United States of America another $18.30 per year — a total of $631.80 on salaries up to $9,000. Employers, of course, will match the fee.

Next year the tax will rise again to $702 for those who earn $10,000 or more. Self-employed persons will pay even more.

The significance of Social Security, however, bulks much larger than its everyday economics. Intended originally as a supplement to private retirement pensions, Social Security is developing toward a government pension program for all. It has become an integral part of the welfare program, paying benefits to those who have not contributed to the program at all. It also is becoming a federal budgetary problem because Social Security now pays out some $5 billion more each year than it takes from payroll taxes.

Some experts believe that the end to constantly increasing tax bites to pay for the program is in sight; that increases in costs or benefits are not likely in the future.

Quite apart from inflation as a fact of life, Social Security costs likely will continue to increase because of the concept that every life should be cushioned by the government against misfortune. On this basis the program must continue to escalate.

As it does and as it creates some small measure of added security for those who have retired it also will create an additional measure of insecurity for those who still earn wages. At some point, there needs to be a limit on the Social Security tax bite percentage beyond which the government must be told "thou shalt not." Workers ought to be left something of their own to manage, and, additionally, limiting the tax may also put a brake on escalating benefits.

Alas, Poor Whooper

Efforts to protect and increase the last flock of North America's once abundant whooping cranes have aroused widespread interest and sympathy. Over a period of several decades, federal government conservationists have been keeping watch on these marvelous birds. There has been a gradual increase in the flock: From a mere 15 in 1951 it had grown to 49.

This is the number of birds, at any rate, which took off from the wintering ground at Aransas Wildlife Refuge last spring for the long flight to Great Slave Lake in Canada's Northwest Territories. Now we have the disquieting news that there were fewer cranes in the flock when it returned to South Texas this year. At this writing, only 46 adult cranes and 5 young ones have been counted in official censuses.

More may yet be found, but hope of that is dwindling; the flock appears to have suffered a serious setback. This does not bulk large in the general scheme of things. Yet the matter is of some significance, in part because the whooping cranes have come to symbolize enlightened human effort to reverse the harm mankind does to its natural heritage. It is important that these splendid birds, whose haunting cry once was heard across wide reaches of the North American continent, be saved from extinction.

The Real Symbol

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

One thing and another: Someone said recently that happiness is like potato salad. Share it and you can have a picnic.

WASHINGTON CAN insist that the eagle is America's symbol. If it wants to, I prefer to think it is the outstretched human hand, palm up. If topos hand is ever given the green light on TV, it won't be hard to find a name for it. How about "Who Shed That?"

THE IDEA of busing school children to establish a racial balance is theoretically sound. Among its devious side effects, however, is that it has launched many a political career that otherwise would have been contained. Incidentally, one student approached a school administrator shortly before classes began and wanted to know what part of town he had to move to in order to be bused back to his old school.

A guaranteed, sure-fire way to forget all your troubles: Wear a pair of shoes that are too tight.

NOT TOO LONG ago, an industry which does business on a national scale dispatched a check for a little less than $4 million to an ex-employee who had taken them to court, claiming he had been paralyzed as the result of an on-the-job accident. (His lawyers pressing the case will take a third of it and never look back).

The company decided to settle out of court because it tired of paying $800 a day interest while the appeals ran on and on.

The size of the payment didn't especially astonish me (although it was the biggest ever rendered to one injured human being anywhere), but I can't help but wonder what sort of return that industry is getting on its investment that it could afford such a settlement.

AT ALMOST any class reunion, you'll see the same old faces but a lot more new teeth.

There's one pill which has never been perfected: One you would take to combat the car sickness you get before the payment is due.

PEOPLE WHO don't put their full names and return addresses on Christmas cards don't deserve to be remembered in kind.

The only thing calorie-counting ever did for me was to improve my arithmetic.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

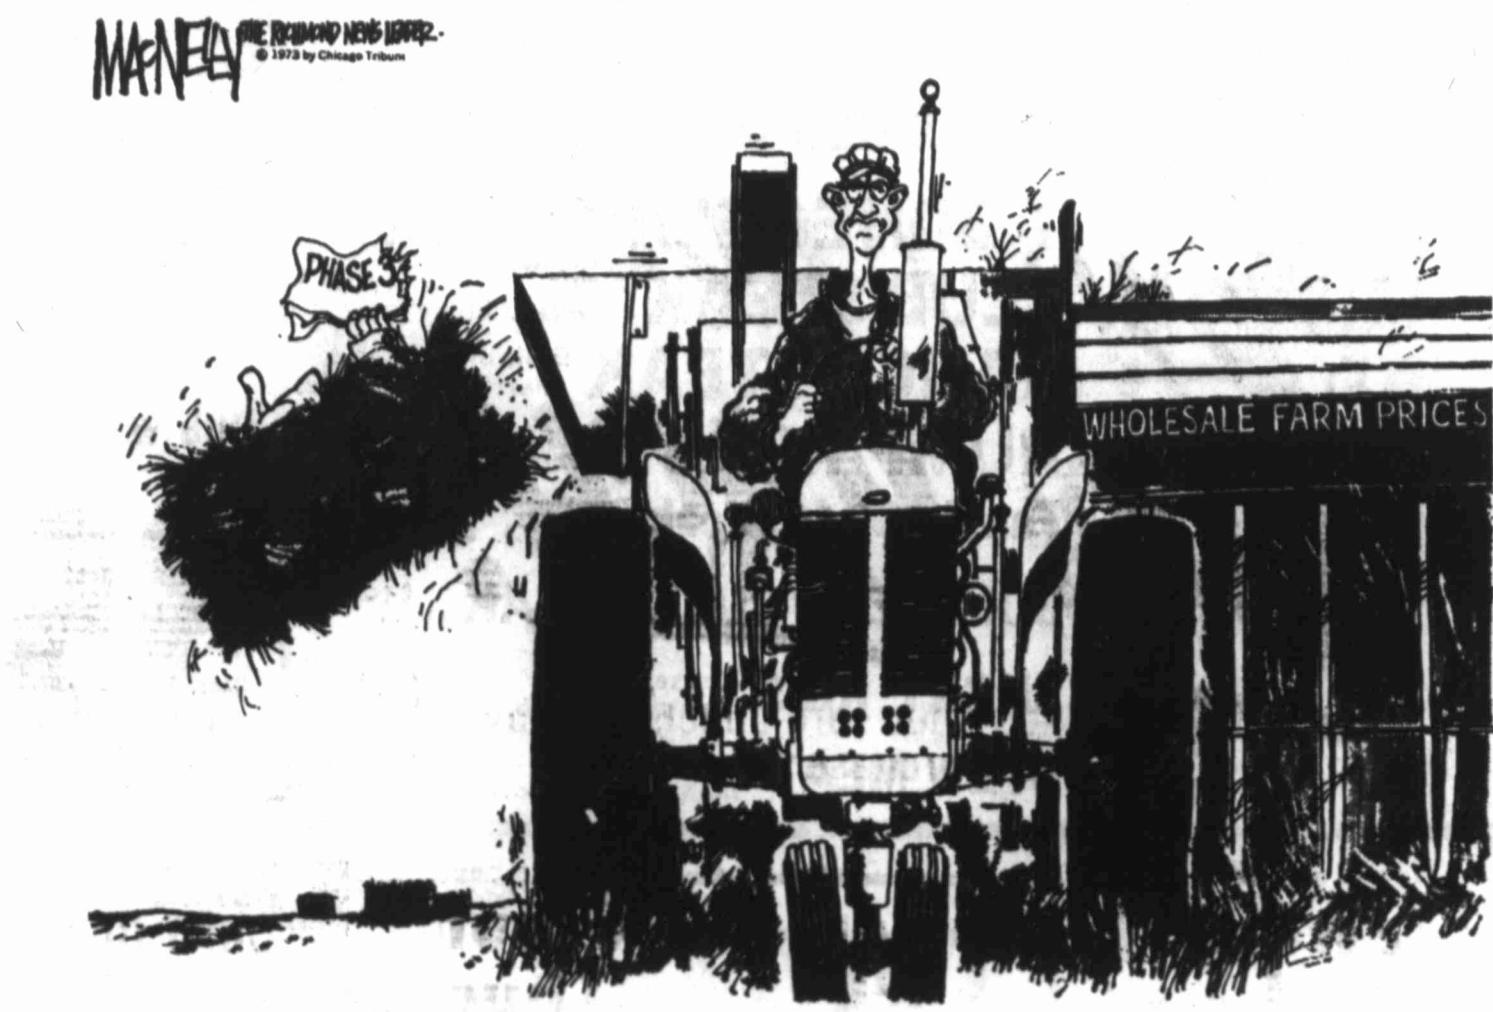

For years I went to church, but recently I have given up. My husband ignores me, partly because I am getting old, and becoming unattractive. He's never been a religious person, and is in better health than I am. That's the reason I have given up church — because it seems the good get no face, and the godless prosper. I will not give my name or address but I need help, and hope to find it in your column.

S.R. I am sorry to hear that, in your despair, you have given up going to your church. That may suggest you have been going for the wrong reason. You seem, for example to have the idea that godly people should be rewarded by health and success, while evil people be punished. The Bible says eventually this will be true, but not necessarily in this life.

An agnostic farmer once said to Dwight L. Moody: "I planted my crops on Sunday, cultivated them on Sunday, harvested them on Sunday, and I got more for them when I sold them in October than the farmers who observed the Sabbath day. Now, what do you think of that?"

Moody said: "God doesn't always settle his accounts in October." You read Psalm 73 for a tremendous analysis of this very problem. In a spirit of disgust, the author says of pagans, "these fat cats have everything their hearts could ever wish for", and then in a moment of self-pity asks "Have I been wasting my time? All I get is trouble and woe!"

But then the conclusion begins to formulate. He says "I went into God's sanctuary to meditate", (and S.R., don't fail to note where he got his wisdom). He began to take the long view. Short term gains stood out in sharp contrast with long term rewards. The previous confusion turns to confidence as he exclaims, "My health fails, yet God remains. He is the strength of my heart forever." Remember the word "God" is literally "The Good."

Protein Popper

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband and I were interested in taking a protein supplement as we felt maybe our diet was lacking in it. So we went to a health food store and the man sold us a large bottle (for $2.19) of protein from soy beans. He told us to take "around 30 a day — to do any good." That seems like a lot to us.

My husband is 27 and I am 30 and take a multiple vitamin with iron every day but that is all in the way of pills. While neither of us feels ill, we do feel like we could and should have more energy.

I thought our diet was fine until I read in a magazine that if your diet is lacking in protein it can be like a "hidden disease," you never feel sick but never really good. — Mrs. S.R.K.

You are getting plenty of protein. Two servings of protein a day (meat, fish, cheese, eggs) won't starve you for protein, and if at breakfast you have some bacon or an egg, that's some extra protein. Cereals and milk add a bit more.

The idea that a normal person needs pills or food supplements to be healthy is a fad. I can't see any evidence that the pill poppers and health food devotees are healthier than anyone else.

It's true that a diet really very rich in protein as vegetables go — since few vegetables have large amounts of protein, although nuts have a good deal.

So I have grave doubts that popping 30 pills a day is going to do anything for you.

It's true that a diet really deficient in protein can make you sluggish and not up to par, but a genuinely protein-deficient diet is not likely in an average household.

And among elderly folks, some get in the habit of eating soft, "easy" foods, and only enough to satisfy appetite, because they can't chew meat, or don't want to take the trouble of fixing any of the multiple good forms of protein. I'll repeat the main ones again: lean meat, fish, eggs, cheese, poultry, plus some in cereals, milk, nuts, and in a few vegetables of the pea and bean family.

At your age, lack of exercise can leave you feeling a bit droopy, and the upper 20s and early 30s is a good time to get back into the habit of some brisk exercise. Bowling, biking, hiking, swimming, chopping wood, calisthenics, just about any kind of exercise is good for you and makes you feel alive.

Try the exercise instead of the pills for a few weeks.

EAR NOISES — Are you bothered with ringing in the ears? If so, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for the booklet, "Ear Noises — Their Causes and Cures," enclosing with your request 15 cents in coin, and a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope.

First Black On Ford's Board

DETROIT (AP) — Dr. Clifton Wharton Jr., president of Michigan State University, has become the first black to be named to the board of directors of the Ford Motor Co.

Wharton's election Thursday follows the recent election of black board members at General Motors Corp. and Chrysler Corp.

A Ford statement said Wharton has arranged to have Michigan State receive the salary he will receive as a board member.

Critical Issue

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Again and again the argument is made, either by some senator or representative or by critics across the country, that the President doesn't take Congress into his confidence before he makes an important decision — such as resuming the bombing raids on North Vietnam. Just why the commander-in-chief of the armed forces of the United States should be required to disclose the details of military operations planned during the conduct of a war is not clear. But there has been a constant flow of unfavorable comment which has encouraged the enemy to prolong the war. The belief has begun to spread abroad that congress is not backing the President and that, if North Vietnam refuses to make any further concessions, American troops will soon be withdrawn anyway.

IT HAS JUST been revealed that the chairman of the joint chiefs of staff told a congressional committee that he was not consulted by the president about the resumption of the bombing of North Vietnam. This has been promptly construed as a failure to confer on policy with the top men in the Pentagon before the bombing was directed by the President.

BUT THERE was no military question involved in renewing the bombing. The chairman of the joint chiefs and the commanders in Vietnam were prepared at any time for the order. They realized, of course, that the decision was one which would come from the President. It was simply a means of indicating to North Vietnam that the offensive which it had carried into the heart of South Vietnam, followed by the acquisition of different strongholds in the South, would not be ignored. The problem of getting a peace treaty is related to these vital matters of territorial rights.

THERE HAVE been so many organized attempts by "demonstrations and otherwise to denounce the bombing that suspicious are being aroused about foreign influences within activist groups in this country. A belief is beginning to be expressed that subversives have been in operation and that some of the "demonstrations" are not entirely instigated by Americans.

THE PRESIDENT is not required to go before congress every time he takes a step designed to fulfill the pledges of the United States under its treaties. Nor is it necessary to consult with committees of congress about the conduct of foreign policy, until, of course, conclusive agreements have been reached that require ratification by the Senate. The president is dependent upon funds to be voted by congress. What the present situation needs is cooperation with the commander-in-chief rather than opposition. If unity were manifested by congress, the peace negotiations would soon result in a pact that would end the war.

Solve Problem

MONTREAL (AP) — Dr. Yukio Tanaka, a McGill University chemistry professor, says he has discovered that molecular compounds occurring naturally in citrus fruits and seaweed are a simple, inexpensive antidote for metallic poisoning. He says the compounds combine with excess metal, prevent their absorption in the body and are excreted harmlessly.

Hal Boyle

But Could We Stand It?

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the things that make the world sometimes boring is that it usually plods so routine a path.

Yes, the world is too predictable. It would be more interesting — and probably a lot more fun — if fantasy instead of fact were given more rein, and the unexpected happened more often.

Why, indeed, should our existence be so ruled and confined by the rut marks we make in our daily lives? Do we restrict our horizons out of ineptitude, laziness, ignorance of larger views, or shameful cowardice of spirit? We give up too much of our human possibility to the shibboleths of common sense and safety?

We escape our cramped confinement chiefly through our daydreams. Wouldn't it be a lovelier and more livable world if those daydreams came true more often?

For example, to name a few daydreams, wouldn't it make for a livelier 1973 if—

Margaret Mead married Dr. Henry Kissinger and told him really how to solve his problem?

Richard Nixon left the White House two years early to become a $250,000-a-year pro football coach?

Dr. Joyce Brothers ran off with the gypsies and became a fortune teller?

Bing Crosby proved he could pull a six-ton truck by the hair of his toupee?

Phyllis Diller's former husband Fang were allowed to tell in public his side of the story of his life with her?

Anytime any employe had a birthday, the boss would put a gin in the water cooler?

Muhammad Ali became a sheik in Arab? "All that goes up must come down" could be applied to taxes?

A fire plug was invented that would do to a dog the same thing the dog did to it? Can't you imagine the dog's expression?

People enjoyed themselves in church half as much as they act like they do in night clubs?

Television would finally solve the problems of upset stomachs, bad breath and armpit odors in America and go onto higher matters?

A druggist would concoct a "respect pill" that would cause teen-agers to regard their parents as members of the human race?

Every girl suddenly had red hair and green eyes?

The Mona Lisa would either burp out loud or break into a belly laugh?

Everybody got what he wanted — and nobody got what he deserved?

We could live just one week in this world without the feeling we were walking through a slaughterhouse?

If—!!! But could we stand it, if all our daydreams came true?

What Makes It 'Hit And Run'?

Russell's first reaction, when his car knocked down a pedestrian, was panic. He drove to a nearby gas station and cried:

"There's an injured man back there in the street."

THEN HE SPED home to hide. It wasn't long, however, before the police tracked him down and placed him under arrest on a charge of hit-and-run driving.

At the trial, Russell protested that panic "can happen to anyone." Also, he reminded the court that he had at least made some effort to get help to the victim.

NEVERTHELESS, he was found guilty of the charge. In spite of extenuating circumstances, said the court, he had committed precisely the act forbidden by statute.

This case illustrates the law's stern attitude toward the hit-and-run driver. Although panic is understandable, it is not forgivable. If you are involved in an accident, you must stop, identify yourself, and — in most states — give reasonable aid to anyone who is injured.

DOES IT MATTER if you were not to blame for the accident in the first place? Not at all. It is what happens afterward that counts. Nor is it an excuse that you "thought it was nothing serious." Once you have hit someone, it is your duty to get the facts before going on.

ON THE OTHER hand, you are not guilty if you were truly unaware of the accident. In one case, a nighttime hit-and-run accident was traced to the owner of a station wagon. Telltale bloodstains and threads from the victim's clothing were found on his right front tire.

Yet, the man swore in court that he had known nothing about it until the police came to his house. His driving after the accident had been perfectly normal, with no sign of a guilty conscience. Nor had he made any effort to remove the incriminating evidence from his tire.

A COURT decided that he was indeed telling the truth. Finding him not guilty, the court said:

"Knowledge is an essential element of the crime."

FOR ALL CRIMES EXCEPT MURDER Maximum Prison Term Of 25 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — A national advisory commission on criminal justice has recommended a maximum prison term of 25 years for all crimes except murder and a maximum of five years for those committed by persons who are termed not a danger to others.

Other major charges recommended Sunday by the National Advisory Commission on Criminal Justice Standards and Goals include full access to legal services and the news media for those in prison, an end to the practice of defense and prosecution agreeing to a guilty plea for a lesser crime, only a single appeal for convicted criminals and decriminalization of "simple drunkenness."

The commission's recommendations are strictly advisory and have no formal support from the Nixon administration, nor do they form the basis for any legislative program.

At a news briefing, the commission chairman, outgoing Delaware Gov. Russell Peterson, and Jerris Leonard, head of the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration which provided the nearly $2 million for the year-long study, said the commission's report contains controversial material such as possibly putting criminals in residential treatment homes instead of prison.

But they said it was not the purpose to get into many of the most controversial issues of the day. The report sidesteps discussion of capital punishment, gun control, marijuana, wiretapping or the rights of courts as opposed to newsmen's rights to protect their confidential notes and sources.

"It was not our purpose to get into extremely controversial policy issues," Leonard said at a news conference unveiling the report. He described the commission's recommendations as a "reference work."

"We're hoping the professionals can use this study as a blueprint for action," added Peerson. "Many of the standards are a compilation of things already being done. What the commission has done is to bring the variations together."

Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst announced the convening of the first National Conference on Criminal Justice on Jan. 23 to review the major findings of the new study.

One of the scores of recommendations calls for a shift of emphasis from prisons to community-based corrections programs where rehabilitation of offenders can be carried out much more effectively. Another recommendation calls for substantial new rights for inmates.

'Perry Mason' Loses Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Raymond Burr, television's Perry Mason, has lost his own case in Superior Court because he failed to prosecute within the five-year time limit.

Superior Court Judge Norman R. Dowds dismissed the suit against attorney Donald E. Leon.

Burr, acting as his own attorney, filed the suit in 1967 claiming Leon breached an oral contract by giving him bad legal advice on a piece of property. Burr had asked $95,000 damages, citing legal fees to Leon and other attorneys and embarrassment by a wage garnishment in 1967.

Burr, who now plays a crippled police officer in the Ironside television series, did not appear in court.

Nelson Is Guilty Of Killing Officer

FORT WORTH (AP) — David Nelson, 20, was found guilty today in the Oct. 29, 1971 sniper slaying of policeman Edward M. Belcher.

The eight-man, four-woman jury deliberated a little more than three hours, mostly on Saturday, before announcing its decision to Judge Charles Lindsey this morning.

Nelson showed little expression as he heard the verdict.

The jury was to be asked later to pass sentence, which could run from two years to life imprisonment.

The case went to the jury Saturday with instructions that no verdict could be announced until today Nelson was ordered back to jail through the weekend.

Nelson is accused of killing Patrolman Edward M. Belcher, 24, from ambush while Belcher was investigating a riot at a south side night spot, the Electric Circus.

Nelson has denied owning the 30-30 rifle prosecutors say killed the officer.

During closing arguments Saturday, Nelson was alternately described as "an innocent man" and an "assassin."

Three Police Officers Slain By Guerrillas

BELFAST (AP) — Guerrillas killed three police officers in Northern Ireland Sunday night, climaxing two days of the heaviest bombing in the province in months.

At least eight bombs exploded, and British army experts defused two others. One blast wrecked a Belfast tavern frequented by Roman Catholics Saturday night and wounded 25 persons.

Two more bombs went off in the center of Belfast today, but the armed men who planted the bombs gave ample warning so that no one was hurt. One wrecked an auction room and the other a news stand.

The Provisional wing of the Irish Republican Army was blamed for most of the bombings, but Protestant extremists were believed responsible for at least two of them, including the Belfast tavern blast.

One policeman was killed by a mine that exploded under his truck on a lonely country road 35 miles west of Belfast. Another policeman with him was badly wounded. The army said the 100-pound mine was detonated by guerrillas hiding in bushes 200 yards away.

Two hours later, two other police officers were killed and two critically wounded when a 20-pound booby-trap bomb under their car exploded outside police headquarters in Londonderry.

The deaths raised the confirmed fatality toll in the province's 3 1/2 years of communal violence to 687, including 20 police officers.

The Provisional IRA command in Londonderry said the booby-trap bomb outside the police station was a warning to the provincial police "who rigorously uphold the British constitution and who play a large part in the torture of internees."

Snipers peppered army posts in Catholic areas of Belfast but no casualties were reported. Troops arrested three men in the Catholic Ballymurphy quarter when they spotted them burying a rifle and 100 rounds of ammunition in a backyard.

The army had trouble from the Protestant militants of the Ulster Defense Association, too. Soldiers disarmed 40 masked UDA men armed with clubs in Belfast Saturday night. Late Sunday night, the army said, a group of UDA men jumped a police-army patrol in southeast Belfast and wounded one policeman.

West As Good As Ever, Says Herb Gilliam

By The Associated Press
One thing about Jerry West: He never acts his age. Another thing: The Los Angeles Lakers are mighty glad of it.

"I don't see West slowing down one bit," says Herb Gilliam of the Atlanta Hawks. "There's no sign at all that he is."

Gilliam got to see the Lakers' "old man" first-hand Sunday, and the 34-year-old West looked as good as ever in leading a 102-100 National Basketball Association victory over the Hawks.

West took the momentum away from Atlanta in the waning minutes when he stole the ball from Pete Maravich. West later got a basket on a goal-tending call to break it open.

"I try to contribute what I can," said West. "Maravich has a tendency to put the ball out front. I just happened to reach for it at the right time."

In the other NBA games, the Milwaukee Bucks beat the Chicago Bulls 100-95; the Baltimore Bullets dropped the Phoenix Suns 95-94 and the New York Knicks tripped the Seattle SuperSonics 86-84.

In the American Basketball Association, the Carolina Cougars turned back the Memphis Tams 104-100 and the Kentucky Colonels nipped the San Diego Conquistadors 100-97.

Saturday's results in the NBA included: Boston 111, Philadelphia 95; Cleveland 123, Houston 115 and Phoenix 116, Golden State 110.

ABA: Indiana 108, San Diego 107 and Utah 105, Kentucky 96.

Before West took over, Atlanta held a 95-94 lead and had possession of the ball. By the time West was finished, it was 99-94 Los Angeles.

"When West does finally leave, the Lakers just won't be the same team," added Gilliam.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar scored 35 points and Bob Dandridge added 21 as Milwaukee defeated Chicago. The Bucks held a second-half rally led by Jerry Sloan. The Chicago star scored 16 of his 20 points in that stanza.

Mike Riordan made four timely field goals in the fourth quarter to help Baltimore's cause. A last-second field goal by Phoenix tipped out of the basket.

BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By JERRY METCALF

Here's one that's hard to believe... But it's true... Two of the greatest pro basketball players of all time, Bob Cousy and Bob Pettit FAILED to make their high school basketball teams...

Both were cut from their squads in their high school days!... It seems incredible, but it's been confirmed by the National Basketball Association... And it proves again that truth is sometimes stranger than fiction.

Has any basketball player ever scored all his team's points in one game?... This amazing feat happened once in a high school game in Alabama... A player named Walter Garrett scored 97 points in one game a few seasons ago, and the final score in that game was 97-54!

Here's one for you bowlers... Do you have any idea what the odds are against rolling a perfect 300 game? According to the American Bowling Congress, the odds are against a 300 game, even by the best of bowlers, are 367,000 to 1... There have been almost 7-million games rolled in ABC tournaments over the years and only 19 perfect 300-games in all that time the odds of 367,000 to 1.

Hawks Face Amarillo In Conference Game

Howard County JC's Jayhawks ventured north this morning to resume their quest of the Western Conference basketball championship. The Big Spring collegians oppose Amarillo College in a 7:30 p.m. contest. They'll be after their fifth straight league decision and their 14th seasonal conquest. They've lost nine to date.

This is one of two league contests for the Hawks this week. The Hawks tangle with Frank Phillips College of Borger here Thursday night.

Amarillo will be tough to beat at home. The Badgers aren't experiencing the season they had last year but they've picked up momentum in recent weeks and are always tough to beat at home.

HC owns league decisions over New Mexico Military Institute, Odessa College, Clarendon College and New Mexico JC. The wins over NMMI and Clarendon came on the road.

The Hawks would dearly love to go into their Jan. 25 game here against South Plains with an undefeated record but face three rugged opponents between now and then. The locals go to Snyder next Monday to joust with salty Western Texas College.

The locals still have makeup games to play with Lubbock Christian College JV and Concordia Lutheran of Austin both of which were weathered out last week. Concordia Lutheran will come here Jan. 31 for a contest but the engagement with LCC hasn't been rescheduled.

Likely starters for HCJ tonight are Taylor Williams, Leroy Lumzy, Tom Bledsoe, Mike Randle and Herb Lee.

DAVOS, Switzerland — Lasse Eiskind of Norway won the 1,000 meters race in 1:17.6 to set a world speed-skating record at the Swiss International Speed Skating Championships, clipping nine-tenths of a second off the previous mark set by Germany's Erhard Keller in March 1972.

SANDS SEEKS TWO GAMES

ACKERLY — Coach Bob Davis is seeking one or two games to complete the Sands High School 1973 football schedule.

The Mustangs would like to book anything up to a Class AA B team for either Sept. 7 or Sept. 14, preferably at home. The Ponies now have only eight games and can play as many as 10.

Only home games the Mustangs now have are with Javton, Hawley and Roby. The only non-conference opponents now on the Sands schedule are Ropes and Imperial.

Those interested can call Davis in care of Sands High School, Ackerly.

'No Game Plan' Good Enough For Upset

By The Associated Press
Norm Sloan has dealt a blow to strategy and at the same time, given Maryland's Atlantic Coast Conference title hopes a kick in the pants.

Professing "no game plan," North Carolina State's coach went into Sunday's blockbuster meeting with Maryland hopeful but unarmed with strategic ploys.

It turned out better that way, as David Thompson tipped in a field goal with three seconds left to give third-ranked North Carolina State a tense 87-85 victory over the No. 2 Terrapins.

"We didn't have a last-shot play," confessed Sloan. "We didn't have an out-of-bounds play. We didn't even have a game plan. We just had general organization and tried to make something happen."

FROZE BALL
What happened to Maryland might not have happened if Coach Lefty Driesell had not used HIS game plan.

The Maryland coach, his team holding an 85-81 lead with roughly five minutes left, decided to freeze the ball.

"The theory was good," Driesell said later. "The idea was to make them foul. They did and we had our best shooter at the line but it didn't work."

Tom McMillen, an 85 per cent free-throw shooter this year, missed two vital one-on-one situations and the Wolfpack jumped on the mistakes.

Tim Stoddard tossed in a field goal and Thompson sank two free throws to tie the score at 85-81. Then Tom Burleson fired the ball toward the basket rim and Thompson picked it off in mid-flight and put it through.

North Carolina State, 11-0, thus remained one of two major college unbeaten in the land, knocking Maryland, 10-1, out of the dwindling class.

The top-ranked UCLA Bruins show a 12-0 record after whipping California 69-50 Saturday for their 57th straight.

In other big games over the weekend, Notre Dame upset No. 4 Marquette 71-69; No. 7 Kansas State shocked No. 5 Missouri 70-55; No. 8 Minnesota walloped Wisconsin 78-54; No. 14 Alabama tripped ninth-ranked Vanderbilt 83-77; 11th-rated Providence trimmed Duquesne 86-79; San Francisco No. 12, blasted Pepperdine 104-84; No. 13 Southwestern Louisiana toppled Texas-Arlington 79-73; No. 16 Indiana crushed Ohio State 81-67; No. 18 Florida State defeated Cincinnati 78-74; St. John's, N.Y., tied for No. 18, smothered St. Francis, N.Y., 93-72 and No. 20 Louisville clipped Wichita State 78-75 in double overtime.

WALTON LEADER
Center Bill Walton led UCLA over California with a hot streak at the start of the second half. The Bruins, trailing at halftime for the first time this year, went on a 20-4 ripoff to score the second half as Walton scored nine points.

Dwight Clay's jump shot with four seconds left gave Notre Dame its victory over Marquette that snapped the Warriors' 81-game winning streak at home.

Missouri was beaten by Kansas State's zone defense. The Wildcats bottled up Missouri's rugged front line while running away to a 16-point lead at the start of the second half.

Minnesota, held to a 31 tie at intermission, ran up 47 points in the second half behind Jim Brewer to bomb Wisconsin.

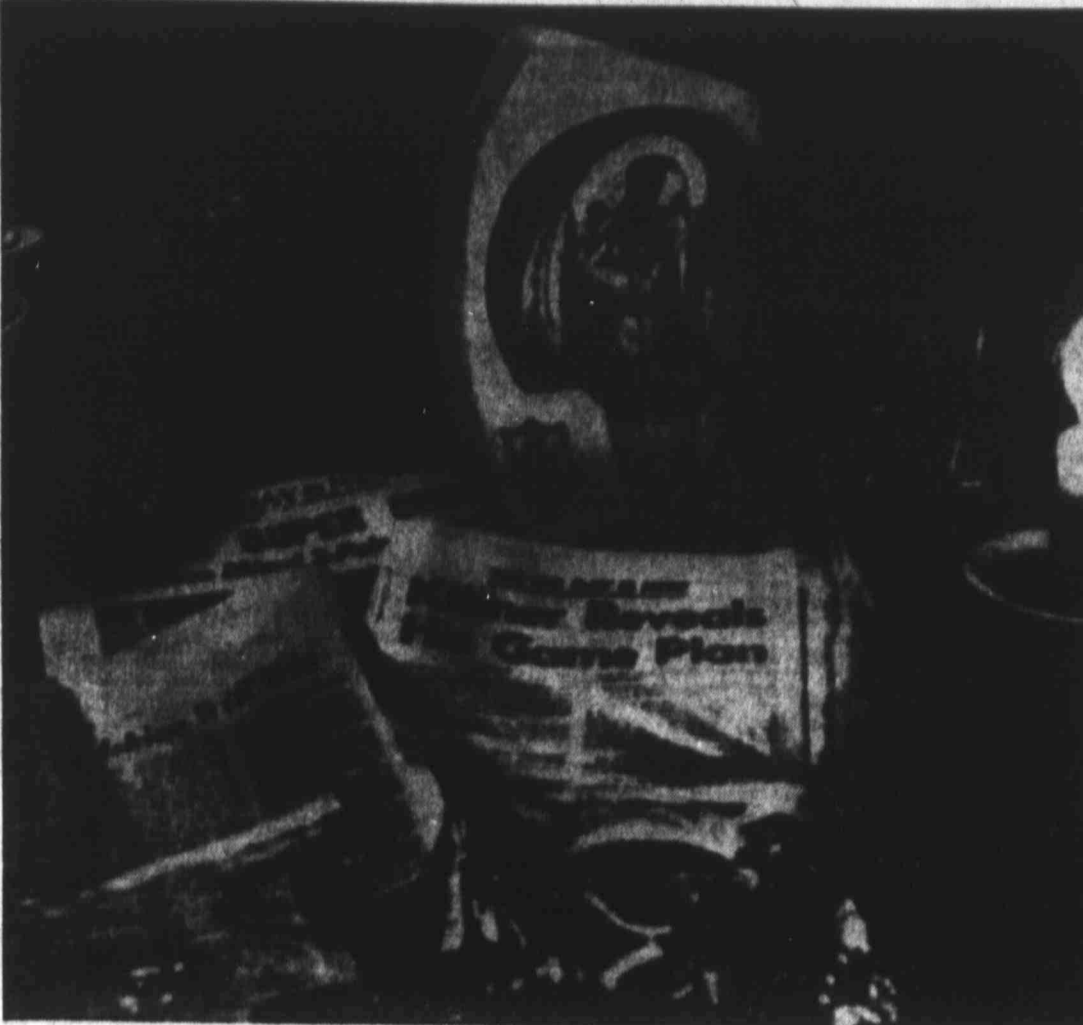

Wendall Hudson's tip-in with 4:34 left out Alabama ahead of Vanderbilt to stay.

MORNING AFTER—Remnants of a not so super Super Bowl game for Washington Redskins' fans lie scattered over the bar of a restaurant in Washington. The Miami Dolphins defeated the NFC champs 14 to 7 Sunday at Los Angeles.

Redskins Sauteed By Miami, 14-7

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Welcome to the Super Bowl Fish Fry," said the sheet banner in the massive Memorial Coliseum. However, it was the Washington Redskins who got neatly sauteed by pro football's unbeatable underdogs, the Miami Dolphins.

"Washington's Championship Menu: Pilet of Dolphin," said another homemade paean to Coach George Allen's Over-The-Hill Gang. However, it was Miami quarterback Bob Griese who feasted on the tasty gases in the Redskins' defense.

It was bullish Larry Csonka who gobbled up the Coliseum turf. It was Manny Fernandez who chewed up the Washington ground game. It was Jake Scott who speared the Redskin aerial attack like a hungry interloper amid trays of hors d'ouevres.

FIRST EVER
And when the banquet was over on Sunday, the Miami Dolphins, with a victory in Super Bowl VII far more convincing than the final 14-7 score, had become the National Football League's first team to munch their way through an entire season without so much as a tie to blemish their record.

With the American Conference's top offense and equally supreme defense, they had barreled through the year with a 14-0 record. Then, in a pair of come-from-behind efforts, they'd nudged past Cleveland 20-14 and Pittsburgh 21-17 for the AFC title.

And finally, as underdogs of anywhere from one to three points, they marched into Super Bowl VII, silently determined to shove into the background their 24-3 humiliation at the hands of the Dallas Cowboys in the championship game of a year ago.

They didn't just push it into the background. They obliterated it.

"I don't know what I'm gonna tell these guys in training camp," Coach Don Shula said in the jubilant Miami locker room. "except maybe, we gotta win the College All-Star Game."

"There was always the empty feeling of not having accomplished the ultimate," said Shula, who twice had taken teams into the Super Bowl and twice had come away a loser.

"This is the ultimate." The Dolphins had come within one busted field goal attempt in the waning minutes of becoming the first shutout victor in the Super Bowl.

And, with their 17-0 record, they moved within one victory of the Chicago Bears' twice-achieved record for the NFL's longest winning streak.

NOT THE STORY
The scoring statistics are simple. A 28-year Griese-to-Howard Twilley touchdown pass with one second to go in the first quarter and a one-yard Jim Kiick plunged with 18 to go in the second. But that hardly tells much of a story.

Washington's scoring is a bit more complicated—and it tells an important story. It was the defense, helped by a frenzy of confusion, that got the points.

Gary Yepremian's 42-yard field goal attempt was blocked by Bill Brundage and, when the Cypriot place-kicker recovered the ball and tried to pass it, he lost the handle.

Cornerback Mike Bass snatched it in mid-air and galloped 49 yards down the left sideline for the touchdown which, with 2:07 to play, averted the ultimate ignominy for Washington.

Suddenly, the record championship crowd of 90,182 fans—and the estimated 75 million television viewers, including those in unblack-out Los Angeles—had themselves a close game. They waited for the on-side kick. But it never came.

DIDN'T HOLD
"There was too much time left," Allen said. "You just try to kick deep, hold them and maybe block the punt." But they didn't hold them until barely a minute remained.

They didn't block the punt, a 40-yarder by Larry Seiple that dumped the Redskins back on their own 30-yard line.

Then, after three incomplete passes by Billy Kilmer and a final crushing quarterback sack that left him staring helplessly at the smog-laden California sky, the Dolphins, for their 60 minutes of work, were each $15,000 richer—closer to $25,000 if you include the AFC playoff shares.

The National Conference champion Redskins each receive about $17,500 including the $7,500 Super Bowl loser's check.

Griese, who played it protectively cozy in the second half, finishing the game with eight completions on 11 passes for 88 yards, was dynamite in the first half of his first start since the fifth game of the season,

'I Shoulda Ate It,' Says Yepremian Of His Pass

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Quarterback Bob Griese laughed and said he'd try to work with Gary Yepremian on his passing, but the Super Bowl champion Miami kicker said, "I shoulda ate it" instead of trying to throw the ball after his attempted field goal was blocked.

Yepremian grabbed the ball and tried to throw it after the kick was blocked, but the Redskins' Mike Bass picked it off and ran 49 yards for Washington's only touchdown Sunday.

"I shoulda ate it," Yepremian said. "I should have just fallen on the ball."

He said "I just picked up the ball and thought I could throw it to somebody. I saw two teammates who were open but when I tried to throw the ball just slipped out of my hands," Yepremian said. "My mind went blank."

Afterwards he spent worried minutes on the sidelines, frightened that he might have blown the game.

"I was so scared, scared maybe I could have lost the game," the 5-foot-8 soccer-style kicker from Cyprus said.

"Wouldn't it have been terrible... we win 16 games in a row and then if we'd lost on that play of mine people still would have said we were a fluke team."

As it turned out, the play may have been a fluke but the Dolphins proved they weren't 14-7.

Dolphins Fielded Share Of Heroes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — When the experts got around to picking a hero of Miami's 14-7 Super Bowl victory, they found themselves in a mob scene of Dolphins.

Defensive line stalwart Manny Fernandez figured in 10 tackles, most for either team.

Jake Scott intercepted two passes, equalling a Super Bowl record.

Pope Paul VI, Golda Meir Meet

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Golda Meir conferred with Pope Paul VI today amid expectations that the first papal audience accorded an Israeli premier might lead to formal diplomatic relations between the Vatican and the Jewish state.

The unexpected arrival in Rome of a ranking Israeli official in charge of religious affairs indicated the possibility of the start of talks over the future of holy places in Jerusalem, controlled by Israel since the 1967 Middle East war.

The official, Meir Mendelsohn, the deputy director general of Israel's Ministry of Religious Affairs, declined to discuss with newsmen his plans while in Rome. He described his visit as private.

Vatican sources said the discussions between the Pope and Meir centered on the status of Jerusalem. The informants also said the Vatican may have decided to play a role in the search for an Arab-Israeli settlement.

The Pope has maintained strict neutrality between Israel and its neighbors, and some quarters view the Vatican as a possible behind-the-scenes mediator. The Italian government put up a heavy security screen for Mrs. Meir's visit to ward off attacks by Palestinian terrorists. About 500 armed police ringed Flumicino airport.

Meir's arrival from Paris Sunday night, and the plane stopped on a remote section of a runway a mile and a half from the terminal.

Extra guards were detailed to the premier's quarters, the Israeli Embassy, the synagogue and other Israeli offices.

Mrs. Meir's schedule also included talks with President Giovanni Leone and Premier Giulio Andreotti.

Relations between the Holy See and Israel have been cordial. Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban saw the Pope three years ago. The Vatican's deputy secretary of state paid a visit to Israel last year.

But the two have disagreed — sometimes heatedly — over Jerusalem and its places holy to Christianity, Islam and Judaism.

Beginning with Pope Pius XII, the Vatican has pressed for a special international status for Jerusalem. And, after Israel in the 1967 war captured East Jerusalem and Bethlehem, the sites of the Christian holy places, the Vatican expressed alarm about free access to the shrines.

The Israeli government has rejected all proposals for internationalization of Jerusalem, saying all of the city is now Israel's capital and will remain Israel's capital and will remain Israel's capital and will remain Israel's capital.

Natural Gas Bills Spiral

WASHINGTON (AP) — Natural gas bills, which have already ballooned by a third or more during the past few years, are destined to swell even faster if producers take advantage of a new pricing procedure created by federal regulators.

As a measure of what the future could hold for consumers, three producers in the vital offshore Louisiana field have asked for an immediate 73-percent price increase and want further annual increases which would drive their prices to twice present levels within seven years.

Behind the new pricing procedure is a nationwide gas shortage. For the first time last year, the demand for natural gas exceeded the supply. Producers and the Federal Power Commission contend higher prices are necessary to lure untapped sources of gas onto the market.

The requests for the price increases are the first major ones under the new FPC procedure called optional pricing.

Tenneco Oil, one of the applicants, said approval will indicate to the gas-producing industry that the FPC will be based on economic factors including the cost of alternatives.

The other applicants are Texaco and Belco Petroleum Co.

Opponents challenging optional pricing in the courts charge it is certain to produce windfall profits for producers. Such opponents as the American Public Gas Association have accused the FPC of failing to investigate whether the present gas shortage is an industry creation aimed at eliciting higher prices.

These assertions are denied by producers and the FPC.

Besides the gas association, a combine of municipal gas companies, the opponents include Consumers Union and 21 so-called Concerned Congressmen, headed by Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif.

They call optional pricing an end run around the 1938 Natural Gas Act, which originally was used to regulate only the prices charged by interstate gas pipelines. The FPC resisted regulating prices charged by producers at the wellhead until the Supreme Court ruled in 1954 that producers, too, must be regulated.

'NEW GAS'

The FPC regulates only interstate sales, and the prices on sales within state lines have jumped well above the 21-cent per thousand cubic feet permitted for interstate sales.

Last season the FPC began approving individual emergency sales at above mandated prices. The commission granted permission for the importation of liquefied natural gas from Algeria at a cost of $1 per thousand cubic feet. Gas manufactured from coal is expected to hit the market in a few years at prices of $1 per thousand cubic feet or higher.

The optional pricing procedure permits producers to seek higher than existing rates for gas supplies which represent new gas. But "new gas" isn't fully defined yet. However, it at least covers gas from fields formerly used only for sales within state lines, gas from previously undeveloped fields or from new wells.

Decline Noted In '73 Cotton

Through a similar percentage of the total harvest, cotton from the 1972 High Plains cotton crop is proving superior to 1971-crop cotton in grade, staple and micronaire, but a decline is being recorded in the fiber strength category, according to officials of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock.

PGC's conclusions are drawn from the 25-county producer organization's first season report on area cotton quality, covering the first 1,250,000 bales classed, about 62 percent of an expected 2,012,000 bales harvest. The first report of 1971, used for comparison, included an analysis of the first 780,000 bales or about 61 percent of that year's final 1,279,000 bale output.

In grade, "early season" cotton from the 1972 crop ran 52.5 percent white, 33.3 percent Light Spot and 16.8 percent Spot. Corresponding figures the previous year were 16.9, 63.5 and 17.6, respectively.

Staple length for 1972, at 31.7 thirty-seconds of an inch is well ahead of the 30.4 thirty-seconds average for the first six-tenths of the 1971 crop. Also, almost 52 percent of 1972 cotton has staple length of 1.5 inch or longer, compared to only a little over 16 percent of those staples in 1971.

Micronaire readings from the current season so far, although disappointing to many farmers, are still outstripping the sorry record of 1971. Average for the crop so far has been 3.3, compared to a 3.0 average at this stage of the harvest last season, and over 30 percent of this year's crop has fallen in the most desirable 3.5 to 4.9 range, as opposed to a bare 7 percent in 1971.

Pressley, or breaking strength of the 1972 crop has been disappointing also, with an average of only 75,870 pounds per square inch and only about 55 percent above 75,000 pounds. The first 780,000 bales last year averaged 80,300 pounds with 69 percent above the 75,000 mark. However, longer staple offsets the lower Pressley.

Rare Books To Be Shown In Two Places Locally

Insured for the sum of one million dollars, under constant protection by an armed guard, and displayed on velvet-covered shelves, a priceless collection of rare books from The University of Texas at the Permian Basin will visit Big Spring and Webb Air Force Base Wednesday.

Currently touring the 28 area towns that participated in the Founders Library book drive last spring, the exhibit will be on view at First Federal Savings and Loan from 11:30 to 3:00 and in the lobby of the Officers Club at Webb from 4:00 to 5:30. Big Spring, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Roy Cederberg and with considerable help from Webb, raised over 1600 volumes in the exhibit drive.

The massive Founders Library campaign brought a total of over 130,000 volumes to the UTPB library.

According to UTPB president Dr. Bill Amstede, the traveling book display, featuring volumes selected from a University collection valued at more than one million dollars, is a way to show the University's gratitude to the thousands of area residents who contributed to the Founders drive.

The extremely rare and beautiful volumes in this display were given to UTPB during the Founders Library campaign, Amstede explained, "and we want the people to be able to see some of the fruits of their efforts."

The University has taken a number of measures to ensure the safety of the rare, fragile volumes while traveling and while on display.

"Because most of these books are virtually irreplaceable and of inestimable value," Amstede noted, "the collection from which they are taken is insured against loss for one million dollars."

An around-the-clock guard watches the collection, and an armed guard will accompany it on the road.

To protect the volumes en route, they are packed in padded velvet-lined, orange and white cases specially designed for their safety. While on display the books are placed on their own velvet-covered shelves and roped off for protection.

The 40 exquisite books in the exhibit, the oldest dating back to 1841, cover subjects ranging from history, politics, and geography, to art, literature, and religion.

An example of the beautiful and valuable volumes included in the display is "The Victoria Psalter," published during the lifetime of the British Queen Victoria and featuring elaborate multi-color illuminations of the Psalms.

An extensive collection of early books on Texas and the Southwest is also featured in the exhibit, including the extremely rare "Cattle Industry of Texas," published in 1895.

The traveling display will be accompanied by members of the UTPB administration who will be on hand to answer questions. A brief narrated slide show on the progress and programs of the new upper-level university will also run continuously while the exhibit is on display in each town.

Bair Heads Suez Shrine Temple, Ceremonial Here

George William Bair, Big Spring, was elected illustrious potentate of the Suez Shrine Temple at the annual meeting Saturday evening in San Angelo.

He becomes the third Big Spring man to hold this post, having been preceded by Ted O. Groehl and Cecil D. McDonald. Joe Burrell, who began his career with the Big Spring Shrine Club before moving to Midland, also was elevated to the top position.

OTHER OFFICERS
Other officers elected to serve Suez Temple in 1973 are Robert M. Yancy, Abilene, chief rabban; Dr. S. H. (Sam) Harris, San Angelo, assistant rabban; A. C. (Pete) Peeler, Midland, high priest and prophet; H. L. Cravens, Brownwood, oriental guide; Otis C. Grisham, San Angelo, treasurer.

Ben E. Godfrey, San Angelo, was re-elected for the 23rd consecutive years as recorder.

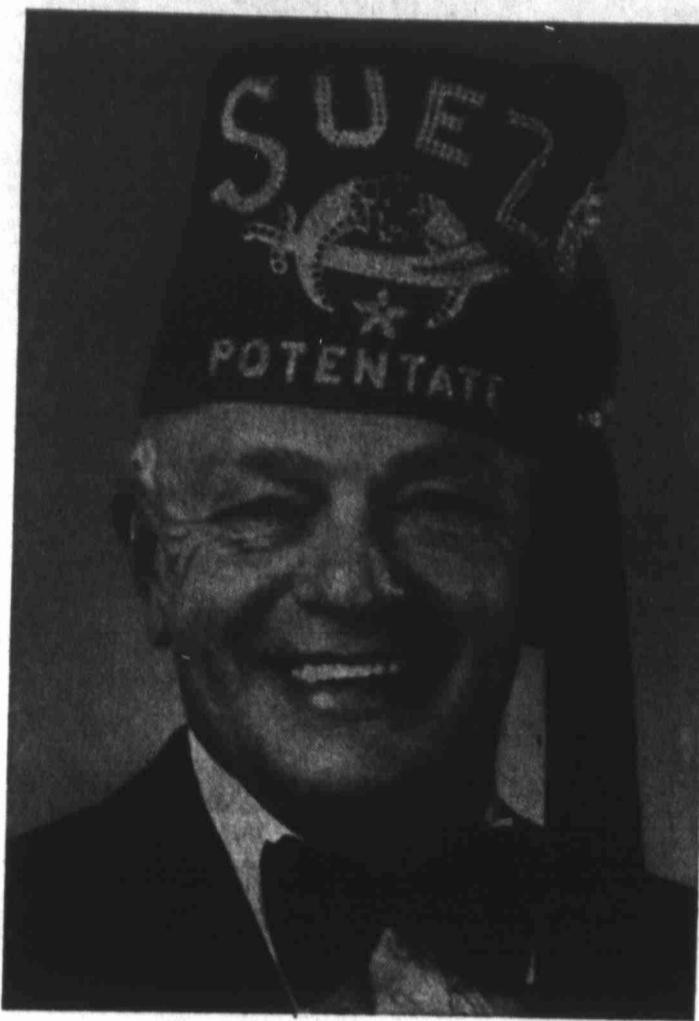

Elected as Imperial Council representatives were: Martin G. Browne, Dallas, past potentate; George Bair, Robert Yancey, and S. H. Harris.

Elevation of Bair to the top office in the temple means that the Spring ceremonial will be held here May 5. Some 2,500 or more people are expected to be here for the occasion.

IN OILFIELD WORKS

Potentate Bair was born May 25, 1920 in Berryville, Ark. and attended college in Oklahoma on an athletic scholarship. After college, he worked for oil field supply organizations in Oklahoma until 1941 when he went to Ft. Worth to work in the defense industry. In the spring of 1942, he enlisted in the Armed Forces and served in the infantry until 1946, spending 17 months overseas. He was discharged as a field commissioned officer.

From 1946-1948, he was a field representative for an oil field construction company in West Texas and New Mexico and was a district sales representative for an industrial welding supply organization until 1950. He started General Welding and Supply Company in Big Spring in the early 50's. In connection with his business, he is a member of the American Welding Society and the Texas Motor Transport Association, and other allied groups. Bair has owned and operated as many as six of this category of store in West Texas and New Mexico and is one of the few independent and individually owned businesses of this type in Texas.

He is a permanent contributing member to the Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children and a member of the 100 Million Dollar Club.

He is also active in church and civic affairs, being a past deacon and chairman of the building and finance committee of the St. Paul Presbyterian Church. He is a past patron of the Order of Eastern Star and has received the outstanding citizen's award from the Order of DeMolay. He also serves on the advisory board of the Salvation Army. His wife, the former Frankie Blackburn, and he have two children, Max, 20, now employed with Wyatt Industries Company in Houston, and Judy, 18, a sophomore at Lindenwood College in St. Louis, Mo. His hobbies include motorcycle riding, hunting and fishing.

which he helped to organize. He served three times as first ceremonial master.

ACTIVE MASON

Potentate Bair is a member of Staked Plains Lodge No. 598, Big Spring York Rite bodies, Waco Scottish Rite and was initiated a member of Suez Temple Dec. 6, 1956, being a ring candidate, know as the "Mad Matador". He has long been active in the Big Spring Shrine Club, having served as president, secretary, circus chairman, and an honorary member of Suez Motor Patrol

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jazz musician Duke Ellington is hospitalized here with a virus infection that doctors attribute in part to his rigorous schedule.

Parr Probe Proceedings

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A federal grand jury was to meet today and Tuesday in what at present are the last two scheduled sessions involving an apparent investigation of South Texas political kingpin George Parr and others.

Although Parr evidently has not been a witness in the lengthy proceedings, court records indicate he is involved.

The government at one time attempted to obtain the records of three political entities in Duval County, where Parr—now in his 70s—got his nickname as the "Duke of Duval."

The records the government sought from the San Diego and Benavides school districts and the Duval County Conservation and Reclamation District turned up missing, the government said at one point in the case.

The development prompted US District Court Judge John Wood Jr. to comment it was "too coincidental not to arouse the curiosity of any investigative body."

He ordered the First State Bank San Diego, Tex., to produce its records for the grand jury investigation, which apparently began last spring after internal Revenue Service agents initiated a probe.

At issue were the bank's records dealing with the school districts and the water district for 1966-69. The government argued the bank records were necessary to the case, since the governmental entities' records were missing.

The bank fought the government's request for the records.

Woman Goes Long Way For Fish

COVENTRY, England (AP) — Mrs. Audrey Braddock believes in paying for what she gets.

She makes a two-mile round trip to collect canal water for her golfish, which, she believes, thrive on it.

But she felt she should pay for the jugful she takes twice a week. So the British Waterways Board drew up a special four-year's contract, and Mrs. Braddock paid the full fee of one pound — that's around $2.40 — in advance.

Said Mrs. Braddock: "Nothing in life is free. It's only right that I should pay for the water and I was pleased to sign the contract. My goldfish are happier in canal water than that out of a tap."

Auto Accidents Again Lead Texas' Violent Death Toll

By The Associated Press

The return of good weather to Texas helped cut down on traffic fatalities over the weekend, and motor vehicle deaths as usual led The Associated Press count of weekend violent deaths.

The grim tabulation began at 6 p.m. Friday and included deaths that occurred before midnight Sunday.

Early today, the tabulation reached 23, including eight traffic fatalities, six shooting deaths and five deaths in fires. A beating, an accidental strangulation, a drowning and a stabbing accounted for the other violence.

Richard D. McBride III, 8, accidentally strangled to death Saturday night at his home in Arlington, apparently while practicing tying Cub Scout knots with a scarf.

Two men died in a house fire in Jacinto City Sunday. The fire, which the local fire chief said started from a faulty heating unit in the attic of the house, killed Jimmy Allen Goynes, 33, and James L. Gibbens, 43. A third man escaped death by diving out a bedroom window.

Little Isabel Sanchez, 9, months, was found drowned Saturday, headfirst in a bucket of water. Her mother discovered the tot's body. Police said the death was apparently an accident.

Alvin Moore, 42, was stabbed to death Saturday night in a Houston apartment. Police said witnesses told them they saw two women, one with a knife, drag Moore's body into the street and walk away.

Richard E. Kinney, 23, of Houston died Saturday night of injuries suffered earlier in the day when his small car collided with a big truck. The accident occurred on Interstate 10 between Houston and Baytown.

Nellie Rose Harris, 30, was shot to death Saturday night in Houston. Homicide detectives said the woman's common law husband, John William Pete, 31, told them he shot the woman. He was charged with murder.

R. C. Fleming, 88, was killed on U.S. 90 near his Crosby ranch home Saturday in a two-car accident which injured five other persons.

Needville police said a former mental patient, Verge

Mae Abendroth, 38, was charged with murder at Marshall Saturday in the beating death of Rose Demel, 72. The victim was bludgeoned with a flower pot, police said.

Luther Mitchell, 36, was shot to death at a Houston party Saturday, police said. A man was sought in the slaying.

Fire raced through a two-story frame home at Galveston Saturday, killing Joseph Powell, 42.

Police at Dallas said an argument over a traffic accident Saturday led to the shooting death of Bobby Ray Moore, 26. Another man was arrested in connection with Moore's death.
