The unilateral cease-fire would be designed to set the stage for an exchange of prisoners and for the signing by the foreign ministers of the United States, North Vietnam, South Vietnam and the Viet Cong of the peace settlement drafted at Paris, the informants said.

There was no clear understanding of whether Hanoi and the Viet Cong had agreed to the allied cease-fire. However, the sources, who have had access to discussions by Thieu and other top-level South go along. Nixon's reported allusion to an international arrangement to guarantee peace was said by the sources to have been contained in a letter to Thieu, delivered either by U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker last weekend or by Haig, Nixon's special emissary.

According to the sources, the letter urged Thieu not to worry about the terms of the peace settlement because of the arrangement which would assure that any fresh effort by North Vietnam to start another war after a peace agreement would get nowhere.

There were no details given on the agreement to which the letter supposedly referred, but one South Vietnamese official said:

"Both sides are under pressure. We are under pressure from the United States. Hanoi is under pressure from the Soviet Union and Communist China ... Everything must be understood in the context of an international arrangement in the light of the detente."

Official sources said North Vietnam and the United States had agreed on the size of an international force to supervise the cease-fire. South Vietnamese sources said the new draft still left unresolved such basic Saigon demands as the withdrawal of all North Vietnamese troops from South Vietnam and restoration of the demilitarized zone between the North and South. But progress toward agreement was reported on those also. The U.S. Embassy indicated there would be further meetings between Haig and Thieu and said the schedule of President Nixon's special emissary was "open-ended." There were unconfirmed reports from Vietnamese sources that Haig brought a personal letter from Nixon to Thieu. But political sources in Saigon and Washington indicated that the halt in all attacks on North Vietnam which began Monday was not only a sign of good faith to Hanoi but also a message to Thieu that Nixon considers a just agreement is within grasp and he is determined to conclude it.

Nixon ordered all offensive miltary operations across the entire territory of North Vietnam halted Monday night, citing progress in the negotiations between Kissinger and Tho last week.

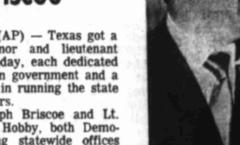

Nixon's action, which the Florida White House termed a "unilateral gesture," gave momentum to new peace hopes and came amid a host of reports that an agreement to end the war would be signed soon.

AUSTIN (AP) - Texas got a new governor and lieutenant governor today, each dedicated to reform in government and a bigger say in running the state for all voters.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe and Lt. Gov. Billy Hobby, both Democrats taking statewide offices for the first time, were sworn in shortly after noon by Chief Justice Joe Greenhill of the Texas Supreme Court.

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) - The 6th U.S. Circuit ...Court of Appeals agreed today to rehear area full arguments on a school desegregation plan for Detroit and 52 suburban school districts.

The court ordered its previous opinion in the case vacated pending oral arguments scheduled for Feb. 8.

The rehearing was requested by several of the suburban school districts.

The appellate court on Dec. 8 upheld findings of racial desegregation in Detroit area schools but ruled that all 52 suburban school districts involved must have their day in court before a school desegregation plan could be implemented.

Today's court action, in effect, restores appeals of the case to active status. It also halts any further district court hearings pending rehearing of oral arguments.

George Glynn, director for the county ASCS office, announced Melcoim Tunnell had been named the outstanding county farmer for 1972, and presented him a handsome plaque. Lawson also honored Tollison with a plaque as a testimonial of his service.

J. R. Dillard presided and recognized guests from Big Spring, Midland, and Odessa, Mrs. Warren Hall played the organ dinner music, and a group of young misses who helped with the service were all adorned with creations from the Dotty Dan plant.

Other new officers named were Charles T. (Corky) Blocker, vice president; Mrs. Betty Gregg, treasurer; and Mrs. Ruth Holcombe, secretary. Incoming directors are Bruce Key, Mrs. Edna Linder, Mrs. Gregg, Terry Franklin, while Jack Cook, Don Tollison, Gerald Hanson, and Mrs. Edna Linder are holdovers. Rev. Floyd Dunn, Methodist minister, and Paige Eiland offered the prayers.

"With God's help I shall do my best to serve you to the utmost of my ability," Briscoe said shortly after taking the oath with one hand on an an-Bible used in 41 gubernatorial inaugurations.

Briscoe immediately repeated his pledge given during the long spring and summer campaigns that he would fight any new taxes this year.

"It is my firm belief that our present tax resources are sufficient to operate an effective. efficient government that meets its responsibilities without choking the initiative out of the working people and the busi-nesses of Texas by constantly demanding more and more taxes. Our goal will be no new taxes in 1973," Briscoe said. Hobby, who today announced he is taking a leave as president of the Houston Post, was sworn in first and used the opportunity in his brief address to push for constitutional revision, a key issue of his campaign.

Plastic Plant Is Newest Industry

STANTON — Fresh from an open house with one new industry Monday afternoon, Stanton and Martin County residents learned Monday evening at the Chamber of Commerce banquet of another. It will be Pierce Manufacturing company of Upland, Calif., headed by Paul Pierce. The plant, to be located in building at 100 S. St. Mary's, which formerly housed the Long-Eiland Motor Company, will manufacture trays to be used in beehives. The polystyrene plastic raw materials will be obtained from Cosden Oil & Chemical Company at Big Spring. For the time being, some of the injection moulding will be done by Texas Plastics of Midland.

would move from Upland immediately and that remodeling and equipping of the building will start around Feb. 1. The structure also will be used for warehousing in connection with national distribution from the Stanton facility.

Pierce said that two families

Target date for beginning construction is March 1.

At the outset, the new plant will utilize services of half a dozen employes, but with installation of moulding machinery and broadening of markets, this figure will increase substantially.

Monday more than 250 residents took in the Dotty Dan garment plant open house. This unit employs 29 presently.

900 acres, 45 of which he owns and the balance which he leases Aside from his cotton, grain sorghum and small grain production, he also engages in livestock production as a means of harvesting his grain and forage. The Tunnell children, as part of their 4-H work, have gotten into a sizeable hog breeding and feeding operation. But not all of the Tunnell talents have been devoted to the farm, for he is active in community affairs at Tarzan where he is a leader in the First Baptist Church and an adult 4-H leader. He also has served on his school board, on the board of the county Farm Bureau chapter and currently is a member of the Farmers Union. He is a member of the Lions Club at Grady (Tarzan-Lenorah)

He got an early start as an exemplary farmer, earning the Lone Star farmers degree when he was a lad in 4-H work.

He and Mrs. Tunnell, the former Glynda Welch, have five children, J. C., Lawenda, Brad, Shelly, and Joe Gay. Tunnell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Tunnell,

She said there was some pain, but not nearly as bad as she thought it would be. Also, her husband took the course, too, and he stayed with her during the labor and delivery, which made it a shared experience.

I am undecided as to whether to have my baby the natural way or not. My husband says I'm crazy to suffer any pain at all if I can avoid it, and I'm inclined to agree with him.

On the other hand, if your husband is right there and sees what you have to go through, it might make him appreciate you more. Please be honest. My doctor says DEBBIE it's up to me. DEAR DEBBIE: It is up to you to decide whether you want to grin and bear it, or take an anesthetic. (The proponents of the "grin and bear it" method swear by it.) I recently married for the third time. It all happened very fast, but I'm sure this time I've found the right man. Instead of sending the conventional formal marriage announcements, we had our marriage license photographed and printed, and we sent copies to our friends to let them know we are married. We certainly enjoyed the different reactions. Some people thought we had sent them our original license, and even mailed it back to us. Others thought we just wanted to prove we weren't "shacking up" (which isn't a bad idea nowadays - to prove it, I mean). One man thought someone was trying to force HIM into marriage and it gave him a good scare. A few thought it was in "poor

Time For Reassessment

As a British newsman and veteran observer and commentator on the American political scene, Henry Fairlie has a perspective denied most Americans.

Therefore, his new analysis of John F. Kennedy and Robert F. Kennedy and their politics cannot be dismissed or attacked as either axe-grinding or myth-making.

In his book, "The Kennedy Promise," Fairlie contends that JFK, and later RFK, unfairly led the American people to expect too much from a president and from themselves. Had John Kennedy lived and been re-elected, Fairlie claims, the electorate eventually would have turned on him for unfulfilled expectations.

The British journalist argues with some credence that the street violence of the late 1960s can be traced to frustrations and disillusionment. The author also suggests that the street leaders were following JFK's lead by turning politics "into theater.'

Lyndon B. Johnson, Kennedy's successor, was the chief victim of the disillusionment.

Kennedy did rhetorically exhort Americans, he did preach that an elevated national will, led by a single ruler, could overcome social ills. Kennedy also exalted personal leadership over functioning political institutions.

While the rhetoric did inspire aspirations, it was not enough. Will alone cannot overcome poverty, disease and discrimination. Government does not function by one-man rule, no matter what the man's stature.

The tragic assassination of the Kennedy brothers has provided a protective shield around

Adjustment Overdue

Once again the issue of recomputation of military retirement pay is before the Congress. It is past time for action to rectify injustices brought about by changing the rules in 1958.

In the last session of Congress, 95 bills were introduced concerning recomputation, including one sponsored by the White House. But no action was taken

Since 1958, retirement pay has been tied to the cost of living instead of active duty pay. This has resulted in drastic unfairness to many ser-

The change in rules was a breach of faith which resulted in discrepancies. The President pledged in the campaign of 1968 and again in 1972 to recompute retirement pay. This Congress should redeem the pledge and

I have some friends who drink wine with their meals, and others who take an occasional cocktail. I would like to know what the Bible teaches about the consumption of alcohol. The Scripture speaks of "wine that maketh glad the heart of man." Please give me your thoughts on this. We don't want to disobey the Lord, nor do we want to be unnecessarily puritanical. W. J. There is no one statement of Scripture that settles this muchdebated question. Considering the whole spectrum of Bible truth, however, an opinion can be formulated.

Without question, the excessive use of wine, or any alcoholic beverage, is denounced by the Bible. "Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging; and whoever is deceived thereby is not wise" (Proverbs 20:1).

Yet, like your quote from the 164th Psalm, there are references to wine that admit of some useful purposes One such case is the advice of Paul to Timothy, where wine's medicinal use was helpful for a stomach disorder.

One of the reasons I am a teetotaler is because alcohol is such a terrible problem in this country. It's making to deal with it. In fact, HEW has recently announced that it is probably the most dangerous drug in America today.

D. L. Stump was the young, turn-ofthe-century newspaper editor who printed the first edition of his Port Arthur News in the baggage car of an excursion train speeding toward the coastal city.

. STUMP'S PRINTING equipment was being shipped on the train, so being an enterprising and eager fellow, he set up shop and prepared to meet his first deadlin

I'd like to have known him. I can see him now - rolling up his sleeves and loosening a high, stiff collar. He may even have adjusted a green celluloid eyeshade before starting to tap out a description of the train:

"THE TRAIN carrying the excursion from Kansas City and points south to Port Arthur consisted of nine cars. They were baggage car No. 9, carrying the plant of the Port Arthur News, Pullman palace sleepers 'Melissa,' 'Cremora' and 'Tulsa,' Pullman tourist sleeper car No. 468, P. and G. coach No. 45, and dining car.

"The train carried 121 passengers bound for Port Arthur, and was in charge of Conductor J. F. Stevens of Kansas City, who, took special delight in looking after the comfort and welfare of the excursionists. M. Chas. Copeland, deputy United States marshal, of Siloam Springs, Ark., accompanied the party as special guard for the train. Mr. Copeland has achieved a wide reputation as a United States officer, and has made a record for absolute fearlessness in the discharge of his duties".

ADDING EXCITEMENT to Mr. Stump's first edition was the major sporting event held the previous day, March 17, 1897. Sprinkled throughout the newspaper were his descriptive (and editorial) comments:

"The much talked of prize fight between Corbett and Fitzsimmons occurred at Carson City yesterday, and Corbett got the worst of it, being knocked out in the fourteenth round. Jim will now rank with Sullivan, while Fitz wears the championship belt. Of course, many let their admiration get the better of their judgement, for it was the general opinion that Fitzsimmons was too much for Corbet."

"WAR TALK is now engaging the attention of all Europe. If they keep it up as long as Corbett and Fitzimmons did, they will be apt to get into a real fight."

"A left-handed punch just below the heart was what knocked Corbett out. The old Phrase 'hitting below the belt' will not be a back number."

"Will John L. stick to his word and insist on fighting the Carson City champion? He will make a mistake if he does. He would be more apt to lose admirers than gain them, and he surely has enough now to satisfy any man."

"THE GREAT Corbett and Fitzsimmons fight is over, and now the people can turn their attention to the doings of Congress until something of greater moment arrives."

By SMITH HEMPSTONE ing for William F. Buckley Jr.)

WASHINGTON - On his return in 1919 from the newborn Soviet Union, muckraker Lincoln Steffens told Bernard Baruch: "I have been over into the future, and it works."

LIBERAL LEMMINGS in droves followed Steffens on that same mindbending trip to Moscow, returning almost always with equally fanciful evaluations of the Workers' Paradise. Like the comic British Communist in the movie, "I'm all right, Jack," they were blinded by "all those wheat fields and all that ballet," and hence perceived no tyranny. The illusion persisted well into our own time until it was finally and devastatingly destroyed - not by a Western intellectual, but by Nikita Khrushchev, who in his famous speech to the Politburo told it as it was under the tyranny of Stalin and Beria.

DEPRIVED of their spiritual homeland and belatedly wary of authoritarian communism (perhaps the climate has changed, now that Hanoi is chic on the canape circuit), Western intellectuals of necessity had to create another. Many of them, when they rested on the seventh day, found they had wrought: Sweden.

It was a natural enough choice. Sweden had a policy of neutralism in World War II (while doing very well, thank you, out of selling iron ore to the Nazis until the tide turned) and Vietnam. She had cnadle-to-thegrave socialism, swinging sexual mores and a total commitment to every cause remotely connected with that trendy golden calf, environmentalism. To cap it all off, Sweden was more than happy to grant sanctuary to American deserters and draft-dodgers. Florida Team Acting Super By The Associated Press

They're in a different sport but they share the same nickname and that's enough to make Jacksonville's Dolphins act every bit as super as the football variety from Miami. Jacksonville, ranked 15th in The Associated Press poll of college basketball teams, rolled to a 96-64 victory over Pan American Monday night. Butch Taylor led the romp with 25 points as the Dolphins ran their season's record to 12-2 with their seventh consecutive victo-

Most of the teams at the top of The AP rankings took Monday night off but No. 8 Missouri, No. 11 Alabama, No. 13 Southwestern Louisiana, and Jacksonville all were in action. UCLA continues to lead the rankings but for the first time, the Bruins were not the unanimous choice of the sports writers and broadcasters for the No. 1 slot.

UCLA, undefeated in 57 consecutive games, received all but one first place vote, and totaled 778 points. The other first place ballot went to unbeaten North Carolina State, ranked second after 11 straight victories this season. Maryland, 10-0 through the period covered by the poll but beaten Sunday by NC State, is No. 3.

North Carolina jumped to at which time they tangle with fourth place, followed by Long quette, Missouri, Providence

Bradley Named APPEARS IN PRO BOWL In Cage Game Brockington Seeks To NBA Stars To Emulate Brown

(Special to The Herald)

"I just want to be consistent," said John Brockington after rushing for 1.105 yards as a 1971 rookie with the Green Bay Packers.

"Jim Brown beat people because he was there every Sunday, killing them on every play. Mainly, I want that consistency. I don't want to be a one-year flash.

Brockington lived up to his own goal. He rushed for 1,027 yards in 1972 and was named to the NFC Pro Bowl squad for the second year in a row.

Brockington will be one of the 80 National Football League All-Stars in action at Texas Stadium in Irving Sunday, when the Pro Bowl is played outside of Los Angeles for the first time since its inception in 1951.

Tickets are on sale at Dallas Cowboys Ticket Office in Expressway Tower, 6116 North Central Expressway, and at all major Sears stores in the Dallas-Fort Worth area. The Cowboys will accept mail orders when accompanied by a check or money order. All tickets are $10. Brockington has developed into one of the pro game's superstars. "Just dealing in sheer running ability," says Ray Nitschke of the Packers, "I'd say John is as good as any running back Green Bay has ever had."

"You've got to like the guy," said veteran defensive lineman George Seals. "He breaks tackles and comes at you over and over again.'

"Brockington is as fine a runner as I've ever seen," says Minnesota Coach Bud Grant.

The key to Brockington's success - along with his 6-1, 225-pound frame and his outstanding speed and balance - is his determination.

"He's unwilling to ever quit - on anything," says Green Bay defensive back Charlie Hall, John's roommate and close friend. "He's never too tired to work some more. He has intense concentration.

"I think he's going to become the greatest running back ever to play the game."

Brockington makes his theory of running sound quite simple.

"The first thing you have to do when you're a running back is accept the fact you're going to get hit," he says. "If you're running slow, you get hit, and if you're running fast you're going to get hit. So you might as well run fast and hard.'

Green Bay Coach Dan Devine leaves no doubt about his view of John Brockington. "This is the man," says Devine,

"around whom we are going to build a championship."

NEW YORK (AP) - Bill Bradley has been selected by the East Coaches to play in the National Basketball Association's All-Star Game at Chicago on Jan. 23 for the first time in his career, it was announced today by NBA Commisioner Walter Kennedy.

Bradley will be joined by Elvin Hayes of Baltimore; Jo Jo White of Boston; John Block from Philadelphia; Jack Marin of Houston and Bob Kauffman as substitutes for the East Squad.

The West coaches selected Chet Walker of the Chicago Bulls; Dave Bing and Bob Lanier of Detroit: Gail Goodrich of Los Angeles; Nate Thurmond of Golden State: and Bob Dandridge of Milwaukes.

Coach Tom Heinsohn will have an East squad loaded with strong cornermen to cope with Coach Bill Sharman's more balanend sound. The West will have a height advantage up front but the East has the edge in the back court.

The East will open with John Havlicek and Dave DeBusschere at the forwards. Dave Cowens at center, and Walt Frazier and Pete Maravich at the guards, Lenny Wilkens, Lou Budson and Wes Unseld complete the squad.

The West will counter with Spencer Haywood and Rick Barry at the forwards, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar at center, and Jorry West and Nate Archibald at the guards. Sidney Wicks and Wilt Chamberlain round he 13th time, tving Bob Cousy, the all-time leader

(A.) I think you are sensible. Saying no meant that you did not risk getting in so deep that you might be badly hurt emotionally. It also meant that you did not risk veneral disease. It also meant that you did not risk pregnancy. Also, you did not cheapen yourself by giving into a sales talk that did not even include the pretense of love. Even if Rod asks you again, and even if he abides by your rules, I think you can find much more worthwhile boys to go out

West and North passed and now East bid five diamonds, an action that he iginal objective. might have considered on the previous round inasmuch as he had no intention of defending against the opponent's game contract. South persisted to five hearts and North suddenly sprang to life, and bid a slam. East doubled the slam bid in order to warn his partner claimed his contract. If East had raised his partner to five diamonds directly, his opponents might not have bid a slam. In order to facilitate the defense and avoid any disaster, East can go one step further by bidding three spades as his initial response. This action would assure a spade lead against any contract reached by the opposition.

Altho the bid of a new suit by the responder is forcing for one round, East incurs slight⁶risk, for even if West should raise spades-East can always return to five diamonds, which was his or-

Observe that East and West have a cheap sacrifice at five diamonds, losing only three tricks. A save at six diamonds costs only 300 points, and if the opponents persist to six hearts.
