High Court Knocks Down Abortion Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today barred the states from interfering with the decision of a woman and her doctor to end pregnancies within the first three months.

In the 7-2 decision striking down the Texas abortion law, Justice Harry A. Blackmun said medical data indicates abortion in the first three months, "although not without its risk, is now relatively safe."

Therefore, he said, "any interest of the state in protecting the woman from an inherently hazardous procedure... has largely disappeared."

The Texas law made it a crime to end a pregnancy except "for the purpose of saving the life of the mother."

—Agreed to review a 1972 New York law providing various forms of assistance to parochial schools and the parents of children attending them.

—Rejected an appeal by five Irish-Americans who were held in contempt for refusing to help a grand jury in Texas investigate possible weapons shipments to Northern Ireland.

The ruling followed two years of deliberations by the justices. It was based predominantly on what Blackmun called a right of privacy. He said the right "is broad enough to encompass a woman's decision whether or not to terminate her pregnancy."

Justices Byron R. White and William H. Rehnquist dissented. White said he could "find nothing in the language or history of the Constitution to support the court's judgment."

Rehnquist, meanwhile, said "the court's sweeping invalidation of any restrictions on abortion during the first trimester is impossible to justify."

In a second 7-2 ruling, the court struck down Georgia's abortion law, finding three provisions to be unconstitutional. They were that in the first three months the operation be performed in an accredited hospital, that a medical committee must give its approval and that two physicians must concur with the woman's own physician that the pregnancy should be terminated.

Blackmun said the "interposition of a hospital abortion committee is unduly restrictive of the patients' rights."

Summarized, the court held:
1. The states are barred from restricting abortions within the first three months.
2. In this period the abortion decision must be left to the medical judgment of the pregnant woman's own physician.

RIGHT OR WRONG HE LOVED HER

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Police at Birkerød, north of Copenhagen, are looking for a man who sneaked into a house at night and had sexual relations with a woman who thought he was her husband.

The 46-year-old woman said she did not discover her mistake until the intruder was climbing out of bed again and she discovered her husband snoring in the other bed, police said.

Her shrieks woke up the husband and their three children, but the man got away.

Police are treating the matter as a case of rape although the woman admitted that she willingly submitted and had no complaints until she discovered that her bedmate was a stranger. However, the police said the man could be charged with violating an ancient Danish law that provides for up to four years imprisonment for "tricking a woman into the act of love by pretending to be her wedded husband."

FOUR MUSLIMS GIVE UP FIGHT

Nine Hostages Stage Escape

NEW YORK (AP) — Four gunmen who had vowed to die for Muslim paradise in a hail of police bullets have surrendered peacefully after their nine remaining hostages made a dramatic escape to signal the end of a two-day siege in a Brooklyn sporting goods store.

SHOWDOWN
The end came late Sunday afternoon, over 47 hours after a silent robbery alarm alerted police who surprised the young gunmen in the store. One patrolman was killed and two others wounded in a flurry of gunfire.

After the initial shootout subsided to a standoff, police ringed John & Al's Sports, Inc., in Brooklyn's Williamsburg section with sharpshooters. But fear for the hostages prevented any forced showdown and police concentrated on keeping communications with the gunmen.

The break came shortly before 1 p.m. Sunday when the hostages, led by a co-owner of the store, broke through plasterboard to a sealed off stairway and escaped to the roof while the gunmen were diverted.

Four hours later, following more negotiations with police and pleas from some relatives, the gunmen walked out. Two carried a stretcher with a third who was wounded and the fourth walked ahead.

Police said preliminary reports indicated their marksmen had not fired a shot since the original gunbattle, although the gunmen had fired volleys from time to time.

FIFTH MAN
Brooklyn Dist. Atty. Eugene Gold said he would go before a grand jury today with charges against the four that probably would include the murder of Patrolman Stephen R. Gilroy, the attempted murder of Patrolmen Jose Adorno and Frank Carpentier, kidnapping and weapons possession.

Police said they were searching for a fifth man who was said to have been driving a getaway car when the robbery began about 5:45 p.m. Friday. They said the motive for the robbery was to obtain guns, not money.

In a hand-written letter carried out by a doctor who attended the wounded gunman, the four described themselves as "servants of Allah" and said they were "expressing solidarity with all Muslims and oppressed people of the world."

ESCAPE ROUTE

"We have nothing to lose and victory and paradise to gain," they declared. "We will not give in to your demands, but we will continue to hold the hostages who are being well treated and will not be harmed intentionally by us."

three other hostages. The nine remaining included Jerry Riccio, a co-owner of the store.

Their apparent concern for the hostages enabled Riccio to persuade the gunmen to allow the nine to move to the rear of the second floor of the three-story building to be out of police gunfire.

Riccio knew that behind a plasterboard wall there lay an escape route — a sealed-off stairway — if they could use it. The opportunity came when the gunmen heard noises against an outside wall and ran upstairs to investigate.

Pentagon Planning To Test Alert Systems In Bedrooms

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon plans wide-scale tests next month on a radio warning system it wants to put in your bedroom.

The radio receiver listens silently to a government frequency and comes to life only when the military activates it with a special, coded signal.

The aim is to save lives by broadcasting warnings of tornadoes, hurricanes, floods or nuclear attack. Installation of the radio device would be voluntary.

Originally, Civil Defense officials hoped for a law requiring that the radio receivers be built into every new television set sold in the United States.

BIG BROTHER
But White House broadcasting officials overruled the military, which runs Civil Defense operations. They feared the public might interpret mandatory installation of the receivers as part of a government propaganda and spy system similar to the one used by dictator Big Brother in George Orwell's novel "1984."

The Pentagon's system can only talk, not watch or listen. Civil Defense officials, who conceived the warning system, have built a bombproof radio transmitter near Baltimore and plan to start test broadcasts to a 10-state area in early February.

About 400 high-priced receivers are being built, and will be distributed at first only to state and local government authorities who want them.

But technicians are close to perfecting a home receiver cheap enough—about $10—for almost anyone to afford.

The civil defense officials call the system DIDS, for Decision Information Distribution System.

Planning began in 1964, small-scale field tests were conducted in 1968 and Congress appropriated $2 million for the first transmitter and receivers in 1970. Cost overruns have raised the initial price to $5.7 million.

REMOTE CONTROL

If next month's tests are successful, and if Congress goes along, the Pentagon plans eventually to build a total of 10 transmitters that together would reach nearly every corner of the nation, except Alaska and Hawaii.

The automated transmitters could be operated by remote control from the North American Air Defense Command near Colorado Springs, Colo., or at either of two back-up points.

Elements Deliver Body Blow To Co-Op System

Saturday night snow flurries and high gusty winds wrecked reportedly greater damage to the local area than the previous prolonged ice storm.

Counties to the west and north suffered worse conditions than did Howard County. Hardest hit cities were Seminole in Gaines County and Lamesa, both of which had five inches of snow Saturday night.

5 MOISTURE
The Texas Experiment Station recorded the moisture level Saturday in Big Spring including rain and snow at 5 inch although the snow cover on the ground is said to have reached two inches.

Winds in Big Spring were clocked at 39.5 miles per hour on Saturday and up to 41.1 mph on Sunday. Winds in Abilene reportedly reached 45 mph.

Jim Eiland, assistant manager of Cap Rock Electric Co-op, said his service company lost 120 poles over the weekend, while 75 to 100 poles were lost in the ice storm week before last.

Thirty-six of those poles torn down Saturday were on a six-mile stretch of the Stanton Highway between Stanton and Lenora. The other poles were downed around Lenora, Tarzan and further west of Tarzan.

"It was surprising how it happened Saturday," Eiland remarked. "The ice built up on the lines real fast and then the high winds with gusts about 50 mph broke them down like toothpicks."

Repairs to the Cap Rock lines are "going slow," Eiland said, because the soil is soft and slushy due to the rain accumulated during both recent storms.

BETTER SHAPE
He reported that electricity has been returned to the Lenora-Tarzan area but that it will take the company a week to get all the poles erected again.

Big Spring's Texas Electric Service Co. survived the weekend in better shape, although also with reportedly worse damage than in the last storm.

Bob Goodwin, division sales manager for Texas Electric, said the wet snow and high winds caused only minor problems in Big Spring with only one street light pole downed.

Major problems suffered by TESCO, Goodwin said, were in the rural areas of the county where the firm serves oil companies.

These problems, which Goodwin said were cleared up by 8 p.m. yesterday, were caused by heavy loading of ice on electric lines which in turn broke crossarms and led conductors to short out.

The only damage in Big Spring recorded on the police department blotter was the breaking of a large window at the Baldrige Bakery at 1601 Scurry St. Winds reportedly blew the window out at 5:07 p.m. yesterday.

No wrecks were reported due to the weather. Neither was much damage done to Big Spring streets according to James Campbell, city public works director.

Damage reports from Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. were unable to attain by the noon press deadline.

Temperature in Big Spring dropped suddenly Saturday from a high of 66 degrees in the afternoon to 34 at 7 p.m. Temperature Sunday reached a high of 49 and a low of 37.

The area has suffered "double-snow" this winter as there have been eight snows since November while there are usually an average of four.

Weather Bureau reports indicate a new storm forming in New Mexico which is causing fresh snow drifts in West Texas. Clouds are also spreading across the southwest part of the state.

Maybe Snow

Mostly cloudy, cool, possible showers and light snow. Forecast tonight and tomorrow, partly cloudy and continued cold. Temperature tonight expected in mid 30's and tomorrow near 50. A 20 per cent chance of precipitation.

To Button Up Peace Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — As captured enemy documents signaled a midweek intialing of a cease-fire accord, Henry A. Kissinger flew back to Paris today to join allied and Communist officials in the last steps toward ending the Vietnam war.

Kissinger met with President Nixon for an hour today in preparation for the negotiator's departure for nearby Andrews Air Force Base and the flight to Paris.

Officially, the White House continued to portray the purpose of Kissinger's return to the French capital as "completing the text of an agreement" to end the fight.

But a flurry of developments

Sunday bolstered the belief that an agreement soon will be signed, calling for a cease-fire, the return of prisoners of war, and machinery to reshape the South Vietnamese government.

Classes Open At College

Classes got under way today at the Lamesa branch of Howard County Junior College while school is entering its first full week at the Big Spring and San Angelo campuses.

Latest combined registration figures for the three campuses is 1,207, including 130 enrolled in the San Angelo banking and law enforcement courses and 125 taking academic and occupational courses at the Lamesa center.

Late registration for the main campus has been extended through Wednesday.

Some 15 classes are being taught in Lamesa, including art fundamentals, ceramics, beginner's typing, accounting, shorthand, psychology, sociology, police science, welding, freshman English and U.S. history.

Enrollment at the college this semester reached an all-time high which President Dr. Thomas Salter attributed to faculty recruitment led by counselor Dr. Wayne Bonner and to the off-campus classes.

Another factor accounting for higher enrollments is the "early admissions program" initiated this semester at the college.

Under this program, approved by the Coordinating Board, high school seniors in their second semester may enroll in classes at HJC which count as college credit after graduation from high school.

At Least 162 Die In Jetliner Crash

KANO, Nigeria (AP) — A Jordanian jetliner bringing 202 Moslems home from a pilgrimage to Mecca crashed on landing in a fog here today and burst into flames. Officials said most aboard were killed.

The death toll was previously given as 162 and 191 as rescue teams went through the burned wreckage. Radio Nigeria reported about 40 survivors. Officials here said they have recovered 11 persons alive.

A witness said the plane was engulfed in flames after it crashed on the runway at about 10 a.m.

The world's worst air disaster took the lives of 178 persons in the crash of a Soviet Aeroflot jet near Moscow last Oct. 14.

Mecca, the holiest place of Moslems, is in Saudi Arabia.

The Royal Jordanian Airlines Boeing 707 left Saudi Arabia from Jidda, near Mecca, on the 2,100-mile flight to Kano.

Officials in Lagos, 730 miles south of Kano, said it was not likely that a full report on the crash will be available before Tuesday.

Trio Charged In Burglary

Three persons were arrested inside the College Park Laundry at 1:04 a.m. Sunday and charged with burglary.

Bond was set at $2,000 each by Justice of the Peace Gus Ochotorena. The three charged are Maria Renteria, Felipe Diaz and John Renteria. Missing was money from coin-operated machines.

Other burglaries over the weekend were reported by George Cox, who told of a burglary at 2400 Scurry with $75 in change missing, and a break-in at the 7-11 store at 1806 S. Birdwell with $234.60 worth of cigarettes, an undetermined amount of beer and soft drinks and $25 in change missing.

The Trail's End Motel reported a theft where one tenant left with everything but the mattress, taking a bedspread, blanket, two sheets, two pillows, two pillow covers and two pillow cases.

Police also arrested four youths at Tatum Texaco charging Jimmy Hager, 18, of Missouri with possession of a stolen credit card and picked up two boys, ages 16 and 15 and one 13-year old girl to check as possible runaways.

Cubs To Signup At Kentwood

All boys (8-9-10 years of age) who would like to share in the adventure of Cubbing are invited to be at Kentwood Methodist Church at 7 p.m. today.

This is the rechartering night for the pack, and leaders are eager for new boys to become a part of the Cub pack. Boys should be accompanied by one or both parents for the signing. Registration fee is $1.50 for the year, said Bobby Scholer, Cubmaster.

'Fort Worth Five' Appeal Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP) — By a vote of 8 to 1, the Supreme Court today rejected an appeal by five Irish-Americans who were held in contempt for refusing to help a grand jury in Texas investigate possible weapons shipments to Northern Ireland.

The five, all New Yorkers, spent 11 weeks in jail before Justice William O. Douglas ordered their release last September while their lawyers appealed to the court. Douglas was the dissenting justice today.

Now it will be up to the government to decide whether to move to put the men back in prison. The court rejected the appeals without comment except for a vigorous dissent by Douglas.

The Fort Worth Five, as they are called, spurned offers of immunity and refused to testify before the federal grand jury in Tarrant County. They are Kenneth Tierney, 45, a nurse from Yonkers; Thomas Laffey, 32, a real estate salesman from Williston Park; Mathias Reilly, 31, a bus driver from Blauvelt; Daniel Crawford, 45, a house painter from Manhattan; and Paschal Morahan, 25, a carpenter from The Bronx.

In appealing, their lawyers claimed information given the grand jury was based on illegal electronic surveillance by government agents.

Second, the appeal contended the men were protected by the Fifth Amendment from testifying since if they cooperated with the grand jury they might have been prosecuted in Britain or Northern Ireland.

The government conceded one of the defense lawyers had been overheard during a surveillance. However, the government said, the Irish-Americans themselves were not overheard and the surveillance did not prompt any of the grand jury's questions.

Last August the U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans, which had examined the "bugging" logs, ruled the surveillance involved "nothing of evidentiary substance."

The appeal argued, however, that the defendants and their lawyers should be permitted to examine the logs. What might have appeared to a judge to be a "chance remark" could have major significance to a lawyer assisting a defendant, the appeal said.

The government conceded one of the defense lawyers had been overheard during a surveillance. However, the government said, the Irish-Americans themselves were not overheard and the surveillance did not prompt any of the grand jury's questions.

Small Business Loan Firm Begins

The efforts of several area banks to form a small business investment company here have successfully culminated with the licensing of the Permian Basin Capital Corporation of Midland.

Wm. B. Johnston is president of the new corporation.

The firm, located at 303 W. Wall Avenue in Midland, begins operations with $500,000 in private capital. It will be engaged in venture capital activities in the Permian Basin area of West Texas and Southeastern New Mexico.

As an SBIC it is a privately owned and operated small business investment company, licensed by Small Business Administration, to provide equity capital and long-term loans to small firms. An SBIC often provides management assistance to the companies it finances.

Rainwater Gets High Scout Honor

Champ H. Rainwater, formerly of Big Spring, was among those who received the Silver Beaver, the highest honor the South Plains Scout Council can bestow, at the Friday evening annual council banquet in Lubbock.

Before being transferred from here to Lubbock as a vice president of Pioneer Gas Company, Rainwater was for years district manager of the gas company here and had been active on the Lone Star District committee.

Three Iowa Men Charged Here

Texas Highway Patrolman Kenneth Maxwell and John Ferguson arrested three Des Moines, Iowa, men on narcotics violations after stopping them for a routine traffic violation at 4:20 p.m. Saturday on IS 20 5 miles south of Big Spring.

David William Brown, 19 was charged with possession of marijuana and possession of LSD and Michael Robert Crow, 21 and Douglas L. Smith, 19 were each charged with possession of marijuana.

JP Walter Grice set bond for $5,000 on Crow and Smith and $10,000 on Brown.

Community Court Of Honor Slated

A community Court of Honor has been convoked for Friday 7:30 p.m. at the Coahoma High School auditorium for presentation of six Eagle Scout awards.

So far as immediately known this is the largest number of Eagle Scout to receive their badges at the same time within one troop in the Lone Star District.

The Eagle award is the highest to which a Scout may achieve.

Those to be honored are Ray Don Meyers, William J. Brown, Lowell S. Boyles Jr., Thomas S. Marvin Jr., Jesse F. Griffin, and Edwin E. Dickson.

All are members of Troop 8, Coahoma, led by Scoutmaster Don Meyers. Bene Bobo, field executive for the Lone Star district, will officiate at the Friday honor court. Monty Stokes, Longview, former district executive will attend as will Mrs. Stokes.

Government Forces Trying To Recover Their Wounded

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese forces have suffered a major defeat in the past few days, with two army battalions overrun and cut to pieces and relief forces repeatedly ambushed northwest of Saigon.

Fields reports said at least 80 soldiers, some of them wounded, had drifted back to government lines in the past two days. Some had been given safe conduct passes by the Communists after agreeing to throw away their weapons.

NOT KNOWN

It was not known how many more were trying to escape nor was there any accurate count of the dead and wounded from the two battalions of the 3rd Division which apparently fell into an enemy trap six days ago. The government has admitted so far to 56 of its troops killed and 132 wounded since Friday.

South Vietnamese commanders, after a series of emergency conferences, rejected a Viet Cong offer of a local cease-fire to allow unarmored helicopters to pick up 130 wounded government soldiers. Officers said they thought the offer was a ruse to forestall air strikes and other attacks so the Communist forces could get away from the area 40 miles northwest of Saigon.

No new fighting was reported today in the area along the southern edge of the Michelin rubber plantation. Field reports indicated that both sides were resting up after nearly a week of bitter combat.

While South Vietnamese commanders said their forces had killed more than 300 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong, the Communists claimed two battalions of Saigon's 3rd Division were "wiped out" and three other battalions "heavily mauled when they tried to go to the aid of the first two."

The Viet Cong's Liberation Radio claimed 500 government soldiers were captured.

One survivor was Capt. Phuong Van Tau, who commanded one of the battalions caught in the trap. Wounded in the leg, he straggled back today and said he had escaped after his unit was ambushed and surrounded for several days. He said relief helicopters could not land because of heavy enemy fire and his troops eventually ran out of ammunition.

The commander of a ranger force trying to rescue stragglers confirmed that many of them had been given safe conduct passes by the Communists after agreeing to throw away their weapons.

'COME AND GET 'EM' In a broadcast heard in Saigon Sunday afternoon, the Viet Cong offered to release 130 wounded South Vietnamese prisoners as a "humanitarian" gesture during a cease-fire from 1 p.m. Sunday Saigon time until 6 p.m. Monday. The broadcast gave a map location and instructions for the South Vietnamese to fly unarmed helicopters into the area one at a time. The Viet Cong said the prisoners had been captured Friday in a "major battlefield victory" in the rubber plantation.

Airport's Underground Wiring Needs Replacing

The Howard County Commissioners Court went into executive session this morning for a conference with Sheriff A. N. Standard.

Judge A. G. Mitchell indicated that they planned to discuss personnel and salary raises, as well as the possibility for needing to hire another man as airport guard.

In action earlier, the court heard Gene Haston, local electrician, tell them that they needed to completely rewire the underground wiring at the airport taxiways and runways. In recent weeks, the county has done some patchwork on the taxiway system and now discover that it is also needed for the runway system.

Judge Mitchell announced that the airport committee and some of the commissioners court would go to Albuquerque to seek approval from the FAA for the repairs.

In other action, commissioners approved buying an overhauled motor for $175 to install in a used pickup, which they purchased from Webb Air Force Base. They also approved purchase of 500 line posts and corner posts for placement along a county road.

Allan Hautanen, FAA airport inspector from Fort Worth and Hal Everett, air transportation secretary were waiting late this morning to confer with the commissioners about airport security as soon as the group adjourned from executive session and returned to an open meeting.

L. A. Stinson

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday in Nalley-Pickie Rosewood Chapel for Luther A. Stinson, 82, who died in a local hospital at 5:30 p.m. Sunday.

Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park. Born Oct. 10, 1890, he married Oma Odessa Wilkins Dec. 21, 1921 in Kemp. They moved to Big Spring in 1970 from Dallas.

He was a member of the First United Methodist Church, Gibraltar Lodge 1179 AF&AM in Dallas and of the Public Employees Association. He retired from the Texas Employment Commission in 1956.

Survivors include his wife, Della, Big Spring, one son, Mel Stinson, Big Spring and two grandchildren, Steve Stinson, Dallas, and Mrs. Charles Bokelman, College Station.

R. L. Anderson

Robert Lee Anderson, 74, died Friday in a Big Spring hospital. Services are scheduled at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the New W. Ellis Chapel in Midland. Burial will be in Resthaven Memorial Park in Midland.

Mr. Anderson moved to Stanton from Burk Burnett a year ago. He previously had lived in Midland.

B. J. Campbell

Billy Jack Campbell, 41, of Seymour, a native of Haskell,

L. Bilberry

L. D. Bilberry, 60, of Post died in the VA Hospital here Saturday.

Services will be at 2 p.m. today in the Calvary Baptist Church in Post. Burial will be in the Terrace Cemetery.

WEATHER FORECAST

Cooler weather is forecast for most of the nation today. Milder weather is expected for Florida and California. Snow flurries or snow are forecast for the Great Lakes and northern New England, part of the Southwest and northern Rockies. Rain is forecast for the Pacific Northwest and eastern Gulf coast.

Humor Interpreted By Drama Students

Humor, the subject of study this year for 1905 Hyperion Club, was reflected in a program given by Big Spring High School drama students Thursday at Big Spring Country Club.

Cochairmen for the program were Hyperion members, Mrs. Clement Jones and Mrs. H. B. Reagan. Mrs. Georgia Martin of BSHS drama department accompanied the students, and John Hicks, a senior student, served as master of ceremonies.

Susan Smith read Carl Sandburg's "Little World, Little White Bird," after which five students, in appropriate costumes, gave a reading theater presentation of a humorous family feud. The program concluded with excerpts from "The Tall Tale."

The performers were Terry Allison, Mark Sheedy,

Lynn Dickinson, Tina Teague, Tobyn Hooper and Miss Smith.

Hostess for the meeting was Mrs. Robert Currie, with Mrs. Rogers Heffley as presiding officer. Mrs. Heffley read a letter from Mrs. V. C. Phillips, president of Western District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, asking for a club vote on whether or not to sell the TFWC headquarters in Austin. Members gave an affirmative vote. Also, Mrs. Heffley reminded club chairmen that district reports are due by Feb. 1. The Western District convention is slated March 23-24 at the Regal 8 Motel in Midland. Federated clubwomen are also invited to a community improvement seminar Feb. 9 in Monahan.

Mrs. O. T. Brewster announced that the club has donated $10 to the Dr. Dean Box Scholarship fund as a memorial to Dr. Box, who was a member of the club.

The next club meeting will be Feb. 15 in the Don R. McDonald home, 510 Highland, with Mrs. Chesley McDonald as hostess.

Spring Show Slated By Art Association

A spring art show was tentatively planned for April when the Big Spring Art Association held its January meeting in the home of Mrs. Dawson DeViney, 1745

Purdue, with Mrs. Guy Talbot as cohostess.

Chairman for the show will be Mrs. Gary L. Grant, with Mrs. Jerry Harry and Mrs. Elaine Bucknell as co-chairmen.

Mrs. DeForest Frazier, president, welcomed two new members, Mrs. Martha Conway and Mrs. M. E. Wagner.

Other events planned by the club include an exhibit March 10-11 in conjunction with the antique car show in the county fair barn, and the sponsorship of a children's art show March 17-24 during National Children's Art Week.

The next two business meetings will be held in the Frazier home, 1408 E. 14th, Feb. 20 and March 20. Mrs. Frazier said that help is needed to finance the spring show and those who would like to contribute funds are asked to call her at 263-1617.

Talley Scores For La Gallinas

Five and a half tables were in play for La Gallinas duplicate bridge games held Friday at Big Spring Country Club.

Winners were Mrs. Hayes Stripling Jr. and Mrs. Paschal Odum, first; Mrs. Bill Estes and Mrs. Auriel LaFond, second; Mrs. John Davis and Mrs. M. A. Cook, third; Mrs. Ollie Anderson and Mrs. L. B. Edwards, fourth; and Mrs. Garner McAdams and Mrs. O. T. Brewster, fifth.

Brent Womacks Announce Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Brent Womack, No. 5, Coronado Hills Apartments, announce the birth of a son, Ryan Brent, Jan. 14 at Hendricks Memorial Hospital, Abilene. The infant weighed 5 pounds, 8 ounces. The mother is the former Martha Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Lewis, 1205 E. 18th. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Odell Womack, 1601 Tucson.

Events Planned For Delta Deltas In Basin Area

Coming events were announced at a recent meeting of Texas Delta Delta Chapter, Phi Sigma Alpha, in the home of Mrs. Clyde Cantrell, Snyder Highway. Mrs. Herman Shifflett, president, introduced a guest, Miss Virginia Younger.

The annual Permian Basin area spring assembly has been tentatively scheduled March 31 in Big Spring, with members expected to attend from Lamesa and Midland.

Mrs. Jimmy Mason, chapter sweetheart, will be honored at an event in February. Named to attend the volunteer council meeting at Big Spring State Hospital was Mrs. Cantrell. The program was given by Mrs. A. A. Wadle who chose the topic, "Competing With Yourself." She noted that when competing in a question of actual achievement or matter of cultural or intelligent accomplishment, the basic reason becomes sound and is a healthy one. However, she pointed out that competition that serves no useful purpose can be foolish and destructive.

The next meeting will be Feb. 6 in the home of Mrs. J. H. Duke.

Daughter Born To D. Burtlesons

Mr. and Mrs. David Burtleson, 2213 E. 11th, Odessa, announce the birth of a daughter, Kristi Michelle, at 5:40 p.m., Jan. 10. The infant weighed 8 pounds, 6 ounces. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Duke Baker, 2504 Cindy, and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Burtleson, 1704 Runnels. The mother is the former Brenda Baker.

Here's What's In For Spring Styles

To most designers, hats are in for spring, jewelry is abstract (but never ethnic) or so rich and real-looking only your burglar's "fence" could tell the difference. Platform shoes are controversial as to degree of clunkiness, but high heels are definitely back.

Sisters To Take Oath

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — In what spokesmen say may be an Army first, three Salt Lake City sisters are to be sworn in today as members of Women's Army Corps.

The sisters — Wanda Lee, 22, Paula Marie, 20, and Pamela Louise, 18 — are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Norris Weimer.

Brig. Gen. Mildred C. Bailey, director of the Women's Army Corps, will come to Salt Lake City to administer the enlistment oath, the Army recruiting office said.

The sisters will report to Ft. McClellan, Ala., next Tuesday for basic training and then will go to Ft. Gordon, Ga., for a 10-week course in communications.

Wanda, a graduate of Brigham Young University, has been working in Provo for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Paula completed three years at BYU, and Pamela attended Ricks College, Rexburg, Idaho, for a year.

Wanda is credited with interesting the other two in joining the Army. "I'm a good recruiter," she said.

ONE OF THE locally-owned Shetland sheepdogs competing in Saturday's show, sponsored by Big Spring Kennel Club was "Design's Delight of Dawn", bred and owned by Donald G. Bailey. This type of dog resembles, but is not a miniature version, of the collie. It was developed in the Shetland Islands as a sheep dog, being gentle-natured but protective and loyal. The Sheltie is shown here with Mrs. Bailey.

'Music Into Drama' Stimulates Various Moods In Listeners

"Music into Drama" was presented by Mrs. Bill McIntosh Friday evening for members of Beta Omicron Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, in the First Federal Community Room.

Moods Of Music Shown In Slides

Mrs. McIntosh asked members to describe their personal moods, as stimulated by the various types of music heard during the program. The moods range from "dancing" to "reading" and "reminiscing."

Mrs. Eldon Marsh, president, extended appreciation to Mrs. Clifford Hale, Mrs. Victor Kyrilyuk, Mrs. Tom Wall and Mrs. Gerald McCasland who provided and served refreshments at the Veterans Administration Hospital this month.

A letter of appreciation was read from Jack K. Daniels, executive director of High Sky Girls' Ranch, for the hospitality extended to four residents of the ranch who spent the holidays in the homes of Mrs. Fred Burgess, Mrs. Marsh, Mrs. John Herbert and her daughter, Rita Weatherman.

A social hour followed the meeting. Mrs. Burgess will host the Jan. 25 meeting, which will be held in the Chamber of Commerce building.

Mrs. Collier narrated a series of colored slides to depict different moods of music which accompanied the narration.

Mrs. E. Y. Buckner presided, and Mrs. Lynn Hise introduced Mrs. Collier. The meeting was held in the First Federal Community Room.

Hostesses were Mrs. B. M. Keese, Mrs. M. A. Webb, Mrs. Paul Sweatt, Mrs. Ola Mae Robertson and Mrs. V. L. Perkins. The chapter will sponsor a benefit coffee Feb. 10 in the home of Miss Agnes Currie.

Mrs. C. E. Shive and Mrs. J. L. Terry tied for high score during games held by the Rook Club Friday in the home of Mrs. Jerome Lusk. The 11 members were joined by one guest, Mrs. C. R. Moad, and refreshments were served. The next meeting will be Feb. 16.

Mrs. W. R. Hall and Mrs. Hayes Stripling tied for third and fourth places with Mrs. Ray McMahan and Mrs. Elvis McCrary. Fifth place went to Mrs. Henry Bell and Mrs. Morris Rhodes.

Rook Club Holds Games Friday

Mrs. Jack Irons and Mrs. Hudson Landers were first place winners Friday in duplicate bridge play at Big Spring Country Club. Taking second place were Mrs. Morris Patterson and Mrs. John Fish.

Mrs. W. R. Hall and Mrs. Hayes Stripling tied for third and fourth places with Mrs. Ray McMahan and Mrs. Elvis McCrary. Fifth place went to Mrs. Henry Bell and Mrs. Morris Rhodes.

By MARY SUE MILLER
It is said that beauty is in the eye of the beholder. Maybe so. But let us hope that a beholder is myopic in the extreme, when it comes to looking at most of us girls when we get ready to retire.

A mass of skin-care go, no matter how much treatment is needed, can hardly be considered a beautiful sight. And what about a mass of rollers? Or a tangled web of long, hanging locks?

A film of skin-care corrective benefits the complexion quite as much as a mask of it. The skin can absorb only a small quantity.

Overages are wasted on your skin, not to mention your pillow. If you must curl your locks, do cover the devastating process with a pretty cap. Braid long tresses and bow the ends.

Finish with a bit of chap chaser on your lips and a quick brush-groom of your eyebrows. That way you retire a lovely and arise more so. Too, you show consideration for your family that even junior appreciates. If you are a dorm dweller, look around when you return to school.

Enough, except to remind ump-teens to keep today's message in mind: not for a check on Miss Teen, but on one's own self. Really, there is no such thing as part-time beauty.

YOUR GROOMING
Put aside your grooming doubts and worries. Send today for "Your Grooming — A to Z," a booklet that covers every step in achieving smooth looks. It tells how to manicure and pedicure, use deodorants and depilatories, bathe for beauty, tend feet, hands, teeth and eyes, polish skin and hair, care for clothes, apply perfume, overcome personal posers. To obtain your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin.

Lions Auxiliary Has Luncheon

The Downtown Lions Auxiliary held a luncheon Wednesday at La Posada Restaurant with Mrs. Wayne Speegle as a guest. In presenting the treasurer's report, Mrs. John Quigley read an acknowledgment of a donation to a local fund. Mrs. Jim Holmes, president, announced the next meeting will be Feb. 21.

Waiting For Love

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are in our twenties. We have been married for almost a year and a half. We have no children. Our sex life is nil. We haven't slept in the same bed for nine months. In as many months we have not even eaten a meal together, nor have we held hands, watched TV together, or spent one evening together. We spoke to each other month ago, and that was on the telephone.

Still, with our limited communication we have grown to love and appreciate each other more every day. You see, my husband is one of the thousands of men who is serving his country overseas. God willing, he will be home in three months, and then I will thank my lucky stars every day for having my husband near me. Every wife should follow suit. Courage to those who are separated from their loved ones.

MRS. RONALD M. HAYES
DEAR MRS. HAYES: Thank you for a beautiful reminder. Many of us casually take for granted the blessings others are denied.

DEAR ABBY: That woman who wrote to you about having a mad crush on her doctor has the same problem I had, only I didn't have sense enough to ask anybody's advice. I plunged right into a stupid affair with him. All I can say is, if a woman has to find an affair, she should find herself a nice salesman. The last man in the world to pick is a doctor. He just doesn't have the time to carry on a decent affair. He has a hundred built-in excuses for not showing up, or canceling out, or running away early.

My never did call me by my first name, or last name. Or even the number on my chart. Sign me . . . CURED IN ALBANY

DEAR ABBY: According to my mail (with few exceptions), the only woman a doctor has time for other than his wife is his nurse.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter and her fiance told us they would rather have $1,000 in cash than a big wedding. Our stipulation was that she would tell us when it was to occur and we would give her the money.

They were married on a Saturday and we were not told until the following Monday (they sent us a brief note). Although they didn't honor their part of the agreement, we honored ours.

At Christmastime we gave our son a new car. He's a college student and needed reliable transportation. Our daughter immediately asked where "her" car was. In other words, she felt that since we gave her brother a car for Christmas, she had one coming, too. Her husband makes a good living, but as an appeasement gesture, we told our daughter that when she was ready to buy a home, we would give her the price of the automobile toward a down payment.

These are the only children we have, but how much do you think parents owe their grown children? BAFFLED IN BALTIMORE

DEAR BAFFLED: They don't "owe" their grown children anything. I don't know much about your son, but your daughter appears to be taking you for all she can get, and she's getting plenty.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teenagers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069.

CARTER FURNITURE, 204 Scurry St., is the scene of Big Spring's finest collection of home-office desks. Shown above is the beautiful National solid oak roll-top desk, or lawyer's desk as Benjamin Franklin called it. Shown in the photo is not Ben Franklin himself, but Carter Furniture's own Loy Loudamy who appreciates the satisfaction found in well-constructed, built-to-last furniture. This desk features center-drawer lock, roll-top lock, two roller-bearing file drawers with dividers included and a reading lamp. The matching adjustable, swiveling-rolling chair is also available. See it today at Carter Furniture, 204 Scurry.

CECIL THIXTON HARLEY - DAVIDSON MOTORCYCLES

UNUSUAL EVENTS occur daily, but this is the first time ever that Cecil Thixton's Cycle Shop has had a sale. Almost the entire stock of cycles and bicycles has been reduced in price for quick removal. Pictured above is Howard Walker with two famous Harley-Davidson Cycles. The Mini X-90cc has a 4-speed shift, 12-volt electrical system with al-ternator, and a new oil-injection system. The full-sized Z-90cc has also been improved with the addition of turn signals as standard equipment and an all-new cradle frame. All Harley-Davidson Great American Freedom Machines from 90 to 350 cc's have been completely redesigned.

SCHWINN BICYCLES are limited in production, but Cecil Thixton's Cycle Shop is expecting a shipment of about nine of these wonderful machines in the latter part of January. Howard Walker (above) asks that persons desiring to purchase one of these Schwinn's report to the Cycle Shop as soon as possible to make reservations. Also in stock is the American-built VISTA, the German-made VOLKSCYCLE, and the French ROYAL ASPORT. Harley-Davidson touring bikes, the Sportster and Electra-Glide are also on hand in complete selection.

Pine Toppled By Wind Kills Member Of Coed Scout Unit

NEW WAVERLY, Tex. (AP) — A co-ed group of Explorer Scouts were safely back in Ford Worth today after one of their fellow scouts was killed and an adult leader seriously injured when a tree fell on their encampment late Saturday night.

The adult leader A. B. Millett, 55, was in the intensive care unit at Hermann Hospital in Houston.

The group of scouts, 11 girls, ing rain to walk through the muddy, slippery path in the Sam Houston National Forest and on the road to this town to summon help.

The scouts and a rescue squad using a swamp buggy borrowed from an oil exploration firm, went back into the forest early Sunday, picking up Millett and the body of Shelton, then crawled back to the road as the Scouts trudged along behind.

The injured man was first taken to a hospital in Conroe, then to Houston.

The Scouts slept for awhile in the grand jury room at the Montgomery County Courthouse in Conroe before going back to Fort Worth.

Fire Deaths At Marshall

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP) — An early morning fire today killed two elderly women.

Police identified them as Mrs. Charles Fry, 71, and her sister, Mrs. Blanche Boughman, 88.

They were found dead in their beds.

Charles Fry, owner of the house, escaped through a second floor window.

Neighbors reported smelling smoke about 11 p.m. Firemen who responded to a call said the entire downstairs was in flames.

Vote Due In House Today On Open Meetings Measure

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas House members vote today on whether they want to broaden public access to government meetings and limit the scope of legislative compromises.

A vote also was set in the House on joint legislative rules. Heading today's calendar — the first of the legislative session that began 13 days ago — was Port Arthur Rep. Carl Parker's bill expanding the 1967 open meetings law. The bill would apply the open meetings requirement to legislative committees for the first time, with fines for lawmakers who participate in secret meetings. Conference committees, appointed to resolve disagreements between the House and Senate over individual bills, often have met

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

TWITCHY: (Q.) Every morning I take an aspirin because of a restless night and every night I take an aspirin because of a terrible day. I never wake up in the morning without a headache.

Our doctor has checked me for everything. He says I just have to relax. My mother says I just have to relax. But I can't. My little sisters yell at each other and nearly tear the house down. They fight all day. One is six and one is 12 and there is not any peace in our home any more.

I am 16 and can't wait until I can go away to college — that is, if I don't have a nervous breakdown or go crazy first. My boy friend doesn't stay but a few minutes when he comes to see me. He is afraid I will have a nervous breakdown.

Please help me. No one else can. — Nervous in New Jersey.

(A.) You "do" need to relax. But you can't relax just by telling yourself to relax. The best way is to get so interested in some project that it fills your mind and your time, and outside distractions — such as little sisters yelling — do not bother you.

Your answer might be some new subject of study. It might be a new boy friend — your present one reminds you of your troubles; you need a boy to take you away from them. You are a free soul. You must unchain yourself from small and useless worries and let that soul take wings.

OLDER: (Q.) I am 15 and my boy friend is too. But I am five months older than he is. My mother doesn't want me to go with him because I am older than he is. I do not think this is fair. What do you think? — Discouraged in Alabama.

(A.) I believe your mother must have some other objection to the boy that she has not told you about. Ask her what her real objection to him is.

Larry Czonka Most Beautiful

MIAMI (AP) — Larry Czonka of the Miami Dolphins has been voted the most beautiful player in the National Football League.

Czonka will receive his trophy today from the Miami-based Bryna Cosmetic Co. Usually, the firm gives its trophy to one of its female consultants. But, this year, employees of the company voted unanimously to give the award to Czonka, who has broken his nose 10 times in his football career.

Ginnings Are Curtailed

The 1972-73 cotton harvest was curtailed for a second week because of wet cotton fields.

Only 13,000 samples were graded at the USDA Cotton Classing Office at Abilene the week ending Jan. 19. This cent. Bark in samples was the highest since the season total of 338,000 samples, which is more than twice the number of samples graded by this date last season. B. B. Manly Jr. estimates the harvest to be 75 per cent completed.

Samples graded during the period of this report were 21 per cent white, 69 per cent light spotted, and 8 per cent in predominant grades were grade 42 at 44 per cent, grade 52 at 41 per cent, and grade 32 at 11 per cent. Bark in samples was the highest since the season total of 338,000 samples, which is more

Staple lengths have been brought from 21.00 to 22.50 cents per pound. Micronaire discounts ranged from 4 cents per pound to 6 to 6½ cents per pound. (The samples graded.)

An increase of low micronaire readings was probably due to increased harvesting of late planted cotton. Only 48 per cent was within the premium micronaire range, as compared to 71 per cent the previous week.

The price range for grade 42 32, premium micronaire cotton was 23.95 to 26.20 cents per pound; grade 5232 cotton

BISMARCK, N.D. (AP) — Drinkers who overestimate the size of their checking accounts would be protected from criminal prosecution under a bill being considered by a committee of the North Dakota Legislature.

The bill, introduced at the request of the states attorneys association, is sponsored by freshman Rep. Dean Winkler of Williston.

All rights to collect on a bad check through civil action would remain intact, he added. "As I understand it, the association feels that a check that has been issued to a bar by a man who has had a couple of drinks should not be held as criminal because of insufficient funds in the account," Winkler said.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Of Hemorrhoidal Tissues Promptly Relieved

Gives Prompt, Temporary Relief from Such Burning Itch and Pain in Many Cases.

The burning itch and pain caused by infection and inflammation in hemorrhoidal tissues can cause much suffering. But there is an exclusive formulation that in many cases gives prompt relief for hours from this itch and pain so that the sufferer is more comfortable again. It also actually helps shrink swelling of hemorrhoidal tissues caused by inflammation and infection.

similar successful results in many cases. This is the same medication you can buy at any drug counter under the name Preparation H. Preparation H also lubricates to protect the inflamed surface area and it doesn't sting or smart. In fact, it has very soothing qualities which make it especially helpful during the night when itching becomes more intense. There's no other formula like Preparation H. In ointment or suppository form.

An Opportune Time

The country has its best chance now to get off the farm subsidy treadmill.

A combination of hard winter and shrewd Russian traders left American granaries short, prices rising and farm income up sharply, foreshadowing more rises in food prices. By design of mishap, Department of Agriculture officials found the Russian grain deal larger than they knew it would be — or willing to admit it would be.

In any case, there's a demand for more grain. This is a desirable condition because it stimulates the market, making subsidies difficult to justify.

President Nixon, by executive direction, has freed more wheat lands from subsidy-imposed controls, and has eliminated export subsidies for farm products.

Next step is to persuade the Congress that a subsidy for as much as 21 per cent of the total net farm income (the figures for last year) is more than can be justified.

The congressional farm bloc has shrunk in recent years. Urban congressmen feel the pressure for help against rising living costs, paced by food prices.

The subsidy level for the current fiscal year is approximately $3.3 billion. Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz said lately that the government ought to get out of the farm business. As a starter, he will propose a reduction of subsidies by $1.3 billion or more for the next fiscal year.

Subsidies were started under President

Franklin D. Roosevelt to keep farmers, stuck in a glut of production, from starving in the Depression Era. They were kept during World War II to stimulate production when farmers were leaving the farm in swarms to take war production jobs.

By then, farm subsidies had a potent constituency of their own. Through numerous plans to revise and improve, subsidies stayed: soil bank, price stabilization, rural revitalization. It all cost money for holding down production.

Today the conditions are different. For the foreseeable future, food will be in short supply in the world. American know-how ought to be freed to try to meet the market needs. But success will depend in a large measure on whether the farmer can get justice in the market place. So far the middleman, not the farmer, has been getting fat.

Maybe It Will Save Money

In the sky over Southern California's Mojave Desert, there is being staged an aerial show which has as vicarious onlookers the American taxpayer. What's in progress is the "fly-off" between two competing designs for an attack plane, one developed by the Northrop Corp. and the other by Fairchild Industries, Inc.

This fly-off is a key step toward final contract award in the Air Force's A-X (attack aircraft-experimental) program. And it represents a new departure in Pentagon weapons procurement which could avoid the costly—sometimes scandalously so—overruns in previous Pentagon purchases.

Before, planes have been contracted for production not only without actual competition with another design, but without having first been proved in the air. The new concept is aimed at exposing any deficiencies — such as cropped up with the TFX — before production begins, thus making changes possible at greatly reduced cost.

Moreover, the competition angle is designed to reduce cost, too. The design-to-production ceiling for the A-X was set at $1.4 billion a plane. The competing manufacturers then designed craft they can bring in for that price. Fixing the unit price in advance and then challenging manufacturers to meet it is regarded as a major procurement reform.

How well the program works to save money won't be known until and if an A-X contract is signed, sealed and delivered. Or until we find out months or maybe years hence to what extent the plane makers want us to bail them out.

Bye, Bye Bison

Around The Rim
Tommy Hart

Nothing in the history of this nation has ever quite rivaled the slaughter of the bison, which came later to be known as the buffalo.

QUALIFIED AUTHORITIES rate the population of the prehistoric buffalo at 100 million. This particular area of West Texas had more than its share.

During the middle 1800s, they roamed over the country in herds of thousands and at times in tens of thousands. They were killed principally for their hides though, occasionally, during the winter months, their meat was shipped to northern markets.

BECAUSE THEY were such patsies to the hunter, there was little sport in killing them. They wandered across the land in search of grass, a sluggish beast which would get mean only when angered.

During a stampede, the herd could be stopped by shooting the lead bulls. No ordinary rifle could penetrate the forehead of the buffalo bull. He was possessed of an exceedingly thick skull and, in addition, wore a heavy mop of hair which inevitably was encased in a hard accumulation of clay.

THE BUFFALO hunter aimed for the heart, striving to place his rifle bullet just behind the shoulder.

So concentrated was the kill in this area, most of the buffaloes were gone by the time the first permanent Howard County settler, William Travis Roberts, arrived in the 1870s. The slaughter had left the country covered with bones, especially around watering holes.

IN HIS SUNSET years, Mr. Roberts declared they so covered the ground around Moss Springs (which was not far removed from Signal Mount in Southeastern Howard County), that a person could walk on them without touching the soil.

An Englishman named Jimmy Killfall approached the Roberts ranch in 1881 and asked to be granted the privilege of stacking the bones. Anxious to have a neighbor, Roberts consented. He wondered aloud why a man would go to such trouble, and he was told that Killfall wanted them to await the arrival of the T&P Railroad. It was the first inkling Roberts had that a rail line was going to be built so close to his homestead. He experienced another surprise when he learned that Killfall made the handsome sum of $900 out of the sale of his bones.

AT FIRST, only the larger and heavier bones were gathered. They fetched $10 to $15 a ton. The commercial value of the bones consisted in the calcium phosphate content, used to neutralize the acid in the cane juice of refining sugar. The residue was used as fertilizer. During the middle 80s, the buffalo bones business was big in these parts.

As a matter of fact, the endeavor kept a lot of families in the area who otherwise would have been forced to move — a terrific drought gripped the area at the time and there was little other work for a few years.

THERE ARE, no doubt, still buffalo bones to be found in the county, just as there are Indian arrow heads, but they are extremely rare. The scavengers did their job well.

Friendly And Unfriendly Fire

Once upon a time a man tried to collect fire insurance on a box of cigars. Having smoked them all, one at a time, he argued that they had been "destroyed by fire" and were therefore covered by his policy.

BUT THE court pointed to a rule which is followed almost everywhere in the field of fire insurance: that damage done by a "friendly" fire is not covered. A friendly fire is one that is burning where it belongs — in an oven, in a fireplace, or at the tip of a cigar.

"In common parlance," a court explained, "one has not 'had a fire' so long as it has burned only in the place where it was intended to burn."

THIS RULE has generally been applied not only to things burned on purpose, like the cigars, but also to things burned by mistake.

Consider two examples:

1) a housekeeper threw an envelope into the family furnace, unaware that it contained a valuable ring;

2) a man unwittingly tossed his wife's dentures, wrapped in tissue paper, into a trash fire.

BOTH THE ring and the dentures were ruined in the flames, and claims for fire insurance were filed in both cases. But both claims were later denied in court, since the furnace fire and the trash fire were friendly — burning where they belonged.

Of course, a fire may change its character from friendly to unfriendly.

SUPPOSE THAT some red hot cinders jump out of a crackling fireplace and set fire to nearby draperies. For this kind of damage, you could indeed collect compensation under the ordinary fire insurance policy.

For, as one court pointed out, most of the fires that eventually do cause damage are fires that were friendly when they began.

Yes, He Is Different

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — When you first meet him, you probably won't guess what sets Tyler Hicks apart from so many others. He has just crossed 50, has a wife, children, suburban home and a good job to which he commutes five days a week.

Hicks will tell you himself that except perhaps for such qualities as motivation and mental attitude he is like most other people. But he isn't.

Probably the most startling difference between Hicks and you is that consistently, year after year, he makes more than $100,000 — sometimes much more — in his spare time, and that means only 15 hours a week at work he enjoys.

HICKS MAINTAINS a regular 9-5-type job as a publishing executive because he finds the discipline seems essential to his way of life. He also heads a $2-million financial institution. The rest of the time is spent on small ventures.

Recently he bought a $100,000 yacht. And while he is an expert on using cash intensively, so much has been coming in lately that he is for the time being unable to invest it quickly. He paid cash for the yacht.

Yes, he is different, but he maintains that almost anyone else can earn $5,000 to $50,000 clear profit each year for no more than 10 to 15 hours of work a week.

Hicks does it by writing — 32 books to date — but also through ownership of rental property, consulting, mail-order, business education by mail, a pool room managed by a relative and a small marine equipment company.

YOU CAN MAKE extra income, he maintains, in stores, rental property or services, particularly in what he calls "paper" businesses that require only a pencil, paper and telephone.

Most small retail enterprises can be absentee owned at a profit he says, "but you've got to use your head." Poor training and preparation is a major reason for failures. "Too often the managers don't look ahead; they fail to plan their expenses for a year and bump from one crisis to another."

Rental property, he believes, is one of the best methods for building riches. Always buy multiple units, he insists, and try to pay no more than three to seven times the rent roll.

Service businesses often require very little capital and are ideal for imaginative self-starters. There is always a demand, he says, for home and office cleaning. There is potential in such off-beat businesses as providing oil change and grease jobs in the customer's own garage.

SO CONVINCED is Hicks that he can make more fortunes in writing and, he claims, so convinced is he that you can make a fortune listening to him, that the latest five of his 32 books have been on money.

Some of them, all published by Parker Publishing Co., West Nyack, N.Y., are "How to Borrow Your Way to a Great Fortune," "How to Build a Second Income Fortune in Your Spare Time," and "Smart Money Shortcuts to Becoming Rich."

Spring Cold Snap Kills British Bees

Bees are dying of starvation in England because the cold weather has stopped the nectar on which they feed from rising in the plants, according to the Ministry of Agriculture.

As a result, honey yields are expected to be hit and apple and other crops will be affected.

A Devotion For Today . .

Do your best to present yourself to God as one approved, a workman who has no need to be ashamed. (II Timothy 1:15, RSV)

PRAYER: Our Father, as we study Thy Word, we pray Thee to open our eyes and our understanding that we may see Thy truth in Thy Word! Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

Recently there was a debate in the State of California about the evolutionary theory being taught in the schools. Some were contending the textbooks should say, "Man may have come from the sea," rather than, "Many did come from the sea." Won't this set science back? B.T.A.

"Evolution" is more properly termed the "Theory of Evolution," because it is just one of several ideas about the origin of man. It is really a hypothesis, meaning an assumption or inference from collected data. Says the Encyclopedia Britannica, "the weakest link in all of these theories, including Darwin's, was the lack of detailed knowledge of the laws of heredity and variation . . . it accounted for the 'survival of the fittest,' but threw no light on the 'arrival of the fittest.'" (Vol. 8, p. 917)

Furthermore, I find no evolutionist giving an explanation of what halted the evolutionary process. It is admitted that it stopped millions of years ago — but why, and how? In other words, the theory of evolution member of the California Board of Education said, "makes it a speculation far less credible than the creation account."

As you know, I'm a firm believer

MACNEELY THE BIRMINGHAM NEWS LETTER © 1973 by Chicago Tribune

in the Bible, and I find the account in Genesis 1 to be a beautifully simple and quite adequate explanation of our origin. "In the beginning, God created the heavens and the earth" and "God made man like His Maker." Frankly, I'm glad that the Gospel is more concerned with the "revival of the unfit" than the "survival of the fittest."

Hal Boyle

Possessions Possess

NEW YORK (AP) — Sidewalk comments by a Pavement Plato:

How many things are you owned by?

The question is not an idle one. It is, in a way, a test of how wise you have come.

Many people like to brag about their possessions and how valuable they are. When they get an expensive new car or finer house, they trumpet it aloud as if it were as important as the Second Coming of deity.

What they fail to realize is that usually they don't possess their possessions; their possessions possess them.

The great philosophers throughout history have advised that the best life is one lived simply, that the fewer things you want, the fewer things you need. You are more content if you appreciate the realities of life than if you are swept or swayed by its trappings.

There is much truth in the saying "There is nothing more cowardly than a million dollars." Show me an ordinary, easygoing run-of-the-mill guy who is made unexpectedly rich, and in three months I'll show you a man changed — not for the better but for the worse. He'll be avaricious, apprehensive, suspicious, and afraid to buy a friend a drink at the bar for fear that he will be made a sucker.

He will think everybody is after his money — he'll be only half right there — and he will have become a peon, vassal, and slave of it.

In the society of thieves and robbers we dwell in — and thieves infest every human society as fleas do dogs — what pleasure lies in owning great jewels or vast art collections? Mere vanity alone. To keep them safe you have to put them in a bank vault or donate them to a museum.

Yes, a life of money is often a life of fear. The more you admire money, the less value you put on people — and therefore the greater fool you become. Because the greatest wealth a human being can have lies in the wealth of human relationships he has. We make each other rich by whom we are and what we do for one another.

All a man needs to be happy is a job he likes, a small home with a front porch he can sit on during a summer evening with his shoes off, a sweet wife who hums in the kitchen, and a child or two glad to call him father.

Naturally, it would be nice if he also had a barrel of bourbon aging in the basement. It wouldn't wreck his character, and few thieves would try to rob him of it. Happiness is always a simple thing.

Why Are Drugs Abused?

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

The Abbott Laboratories sent me a public service circular they recently produced, called "Understanding Drugs."

It's such a clear explanation of why people get involved with addicting drugs that I want to reproduce part of it here, for the benefit of those who may want to clip it out, or those who will read it — and remember it. Here's the excerpt:

WHY ARE DRUGS ABUSED?

Of the many thousands of medications available today, with prescription and without, only a handful are widely abused.

Aspirin, for example, is widely used to relieve headaches, arthritis and other painful conditions. Yet we seldom hear of "aspirin addicts."

What makes commonly abused drugs different from aspirin and thousands of other drugs that are seldom abused? Although they vary greatly in chemical makeup and in the way they work in the human body and brain, almost all widely abused drugs have one thing in common. They produce unusual and abnormal feelings which drug abusers call a "high" or a "low."

Actually "high" and "low" can mean many things, depending on the person and the drug. Drugs that dull the senses — such as heroin which is not used in medicine — can create a false feeling of well-being in certain individuals. Stimulant drugs — such as amphetamines — can produce an unwarranted feeling of power and excitement.

But in all cases, a "high" or a "low" results in one thing: an escape from reality. And it is reality itself that the drug abuser seeks to avoid.

This is a question drug abusers often use in defending their habit. Let's turn the question around and ask, "what's right with feeling bad?"

Consider physical pain. Bad, right? Well, not exactly. If you couldn't feel pain, you could place your hand on a hot stove and feel nothing until you smelled flesh burning. Normally you would immediately feel pain, and instinctively snatch your hand away with nothing but a minor blister.

Like physical pain, emotional pain is a signal that something is wrong, and a warning to do something about it right away. Even non-prescription drugs such as aspirin carry warnings about continued use and overuse. Unless used with caution, such helpful drugs may hide the difference between a minor illness and a more serious one.

Similarly a drug "high" or "low" offers relief from EMOTIONAL pain. The drug user no longer hurts. Consequently he does nothing about the situation which is causing the problem.

When he comes down again, he hurts as much as ever — or more. For some drug abusers, one such "crash landing" is enough. Others go back to their drugs and try again to escape the problems of real life.

Like a person who cannot feel pain, the habitual drug abuser becomes immune to the warning signals of growing danger. At last, his emotional problem no longer can be ignored. A wild spree of drug abuse can end in emotional explosion, irreparable physical damage, or even death.

The entire circular, of which the above is part, can be obtained at no charge by writing to Public Affairs Dept. 383, Abbott Laboratories, North Chicago, Illinois 60064.

Foreman Gets Shot At Frazier Crown

KINGSTON, Jamaica AP — Joe Frazier makes the fifth defense of his world heavyweight title tonight against young, bull — strong George Foreman with the shadow of Muhammad Ali still haunting him from the wings.

It is a definite crisis in the three-year reign of the savage, swarming champion, who was born on a South Carolina plantation, reared in Philadelphia and prepared for his profession by work as a butcher in a slaughterhouse.

Should Frazier lose, the heavyweight division could be thrown into temporary turmoil had his day. Now it's my turn.

AFC Achieves Clean Sweep In Pro Bowl

DALLAS (AP) — The American Football Conference, formed in a fiery merger with the old National Football League, had every right to be cheery today—at least for a year.

The AFC made it a historic clean sweep over the National Football Conference in Sunday's 33-28 Pro Bowl victory.

Previously, the AFC had captured the exhibition season 27-25-4 and the regular season 20-19-1 from their older rivals and Miami dropped-NFC member Washington 14-7 in the Super Bowl.

Sunday was the clincher in a collision of All-Stars between the two leagues.

"Last year the NFC got the most ink—we wanted to prove something," said running back O. J. Simpson of Buffalo, the game's Most Valuable Player.

Simpson, who led the NFL in rushing with 1,251 yards, scored one touchdown, rushed for 112 yards and caught three passes for 58 yards.

The victory before 47,879 chilled fans in Texas Stadium gave the AFC a 2-1 lead over the NFC in the series.

"I'm not sure the AFC is the most ink—we wanted to prove something," said running back O. J. Simpson of Buffalo, the game's Most Valuable Player.

Simpson, who led the NFL in rushing with 1,251 yards, scored one touchdown, rushed for 112 yards and caught three passes for 58 yards.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Cowan. His father is vice president of the Uvalde First State Bank. The Cowan family consisted of three older brothers and a sister, Jill Cowan, who is a junior in high school. The other brothers are Jim Cowan, now of Corpus Christi; Bill Cowan, Abilene; and Bob Cowan, who resides in Tulsa.

Johnny Unitas Traded To S. Diego Chargers

BALTIMORE (AP)—Veteran quarterback Johnny Unitas of the Baltimore Colts was traded to the San Diego Chargers, Colts General Manager Joe Thomas said today.

The trade was "for future considerations," Thomas said. No present players or draft choices were involved in the trade, the Colts said. The Chargers will assume Unitas' standard player contract and the Colts will meet all future obligations accrued by Unitas during his playing career with the Colts, the NFL club said.

There have been rumors that John Hadl, 11-year quarterback of the Chargers who has asked to be traded would go to the Colts or possibly the Los Angeles Rams in a three-way deal with Baltimore.

The 39-year-old Unitas, former University of Louisville player, is going into his 18th year in professional football. During his career, he completed 2,796 of 5,110 passes and has passed for 39,768 yards and 287 touchdowns.

Crampton Cops Martin Tucson Links Tourney

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Bruce Crampton has taken two in a row, but the Australian veteran harbors no illusions about winning three consecutive events on the tough American pro golf tour.

"No, I don't think so," Crampton said with an almost sad smile when asked if he planned to make this week's Bing Crosby National Pro-Am his third successive triumph.

"This one took a lot out of me," Crampton said Sunday after his easy, front-running victory in the Dean Martin-Tucson Open, a decision that was tarnished just a trifle by a meaningless triple bogey seven on Crampton's finishing hole.

"I'm pretty tired," he said. "I didn't sleep very well all week. I came in here knowing I was playing well. I was keyed up, ready to get on with it."

"Now that it's over, I'm really tired."

Crampton's victory, following his triumph at the Phoenix Open just the week before, made him the first man to win consecutive American tournaments since Arnold Palmer took the last two events of the 1969 season. Palmer also is the last player to win three in a row, in 1962. Crampton opened the final day's play—the start was delayed 1½ hours by frozen greens and biting, 20-degree temperatures—with a three-stroke lead, eagled the second hole and wasn't threatened as he breezed home with a 71 for 277, 11 under par on the 7,200-yard Tucson National Golf Club course.

George Archer, who lost to Miller Barber in a playoff for the Tucson title a year ago, Labron Harris and Gay Brewer tied for second at 282. Archer had a 72 while Harris and Brewer matched 70s in the weather that changed from bitter cold to mild and sunny.

Rod Funseth, winner of the Glen Campbell-Los Angeles Open three weeks ago, Bobby Nichols and Richie Karl were next at 283. Nichols shot 72, Karl 73 and Funseth 74.

Lee Trevino, a two-time Tucson champion and the pre-tourney favorite, really was never in it. He had a final round 70 for 285.

Crampton, winner of 12 titles in his 17 years on the American tour, picked up $30,000 from the total purse of $150,000 and pushed his earnings to $60,000 for just two weeks.

Cowan Is Named To Sports Post

Jackie Cowan, formerly associated with the San Angelo Standard-Times, has been named sports editor of The Herald.

He succeeds Don Cooper, who quit to become wire editor of the Texarkana paper.

A native of Uvalde, Jackie served as sports editor of that city's Leader-News before moving to San Angelo 2½ years ago.

JACKIE COWAN

Born in Belton, Cowan resided in Killeen, Houston and Skiatook, Okla., before moving with his parents to Uvalde.

Cowan was a quarterback and place kicker in football at Uvalde, where he played under Marvin Gustavson. He also won two letters in basketball and lettered in tennis, having been a member of a doubles team which went to the regional finals one year.

Jackie recently graduated from Angelo State University, where he was sports editor of the Ram Page for two semesters.

He is married to the former Peggie Butts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleo T. Butts of Ballinger, a senior inspector for the Union Texas Corporation.

The Cowans will make their home here in the Carleton House.

Tilleman Goes To Atlanta

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Oilers General Manager John Breen announced today that defensive tackle Mike Tilleman, the Oilers' leading tackler last season, has been traded to Atlanta for the Falcons' No. 1 draft choice.

The Falcons will draft 14th in the Jan. 30 National Football League draft of college players.

Tilleman, a seven-year veteran from Montana, ran into contract problems with the Oilers before last season and played out his option during 1972. He would have become a free agent May 1.

An Atlanta source said earlier the reason for the trade was Tilleman could get along with Coach Coach Norm Van Brocklin.

Pirkle Lone BS Winner In Handball Tourney

A. J. Pirkle, competing in Class B, was the only Big Spring entry to win a match in the Executive Club's Handball Tournament in Lubbock the past weekend.

Pirkle defeated Milton Pierce, Lubbock, 21-14, 21-8, and Dean Shuman, Lubbock, 21-20, 21-15, before coming a cropper at the hands of Jim Burom, Lubbock, 21-10, 21-18.

Dr. Merlin Kilburg, Oklahoma City, trounced Steve Peace, Lubbock, in the Class A championship finals, 21-9, 21-18.

Peace earlier had ousted Tito Arencibia, Big Spring, 21-8, 21-8. Arencibia then lost to Joe Pascual, Dallas, in consolation, 21-20, 21-20.

Ray Thomas, Big Spring, also in Class A, yielded first to Lie Lewter, Lubbock, 21-6, 21-6, and then to Gary Bernhard, Dallas, 21-4, 21-6.

Myers Gets 12 In Jacks' Romp

NACOGDOCHES — Archie Myers, former Howard County JC star, scored 12 points in helping Stephen F. Austin humble Southwest Texas State, 90-62, here Saturday night.

Stephen F. Austin is now 16-1 on the year and 7-0 in conference.

Five Local Players Are Named All-Tournament

Robert Aldridge of the Brahmas was the lone Big Spring player named to the ninth grade all-tournament team in the San Angelo Junior High Tournament staged last weekend.

Others on the squad were Mickey Abbott and John Paul Bramhall, both of Lee, Don Cole, Brownwood, Richard Acosta, Edison, Roy Young, Lee and Todd Butts, Lincoln.

Others on the elite squad included Arnold McDowell and Alan Hodshire, both of San Angelo Lake View, Brad Bowman, Brownwood, Burt Titus and Steve Speer, both of San Angelo Edison, and Raul Guerrero, Jesse Rios and Bobby Elizondo, San Angelo Glen.

Aldridge emerged as high point man in the tournament, Glenn won the tournament by topping Edison in the finals, 62-60.

Four Big Spring players were named to the all-star unit in the San Angelo Eighth Grade Tournament the past weekend.

They were Bubba Stripling and Mike Harris, both of Goliad, and Cornell Kimble and Elroy Green, both of Rannels.

Jones And Glynn Help Jackets

COMMERCE — Howard Payne College narrowly defeated East Texas State, 62-60, in a Lone Star Conference game here Saturday.

David Jones scored nine points and Tommy Glynn six for the Yellow Jackets. Both are former Stanton High School players.

Howard Payne is now 6-2 in conference and 14-3 over-all.

LEAGUE CONTEST Jayhawks Visit Snyder Tonight

Dangerous Western Texas College gets its first crack at Howard County JC in Western Conference play in Snyder tonight.

The Westerners, coached by Sid Simpson, have won only three of six straight but they always play well against HCJC. With the bluejays showing tonight, as they will be, since TWC is competing for the league championship for the first time, the Westerners are apt to pull out all spots.

Howard County is 15-9 on the year and 6-0 in conference play. The Hawks need this one tonight to insure themselves of a perfect league record in their shootout with South Plains of Levelland here Thursday night.

Coach Harold Wilder will go with his regulars, which means Tom Bledsoe, Taylor Williams, Leroy Lumzy, Mike Randle and Herbie Lee will be on the floor when the opening buzzer sounds.

Coach Harold Wilder introduced his college basketball team to the Civitan Club at their regular meeting Friday, and each member of the squad gave a short autobiography of himself.

Yet Wilder was the only representative of the team there.

The players were there by proxy, their photos appearing on a projection screen in color, and their voices coming from a recording disc mounted around the film-slide.

Looking ahead to impending obstacles in conference play, Wilder told the group, "This year all our games have been close, and consequently any one team can beat the other. The teams in our conference are well balanced — every team is an obstacle. We just have to be patient and approach each game as it comes, then try to win that one."

PAM ROWLETT

AA Red Heads Play Wizards

GARDEN CITY — The Whizzing Wizards of Garden will play the fabulous All-American Red Heads in a basketball exhibition in the Garden City Gymnasium at 8 o'clock Friday night. Gym doors will open at 6:30 p.m.

One of the stars on the Red Head team is 6-2 Pam Rowlett, a center-forward, a second year veteran with the team.

Pam hails from Dresden, Tenn. She is exceptionally strong, possessed of a fine jump shot and a determination to excel on defense.

Texans Defeated In Las Cruces

LAS CRUCES, N. M. — The New Mexico State University Junior Varsity outlasted South Plains College of Levelland, 66-62, in a basketball exhibition here Saturday.

The last was only the third of the year for South Plains, compared to 17 wins. New Mexico State has won seven of eight.

Charles Hutchings and Ron Powell each had 19 points for the Texans, who trailed at half time, 37-30.

Foyt To Drive For Gilmores

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — A. J. Foyt, five-time national auto racing champ, signed Saturday in Houston to do his 1973 driving for Jim and Diana Gilmore, the Kalamazoo couple announced here.

"We were very happy to line up Foyt," said Gilmore. "The air is more tense any time A. J. steps into a race car."

The Gilmores have sponsored championship class drivers for seven years, including Gordon Johncock, Jack Brabham, Art Pollard and Mel Kenyon.

Foyt, 38, won the Indianapolis 500 in 1961, 1964 and 1967.

"He wants to be the first man ever to win four times at Indy," Gilmore said. "We'll give him all the help we can to make that possible."

Details of the financial arrangement between Foyt and the Gilmores were not disclosed.

Cisco Wranglers Win 17th Game

ABILENE — Cisco College, loser only to Howard County JC this season, defeated the Abilene Christian College Junior Varsity here Saturday evening, 82-57.

The win was the 17th in 18 starts for the Wranglers, who will likely enter the Region V Tournament at Lubbock as favorites this year.

Drivers May Cut Premiums

Two separate classes in defensive driving will be held beginning Wednesday at Howard County College.

Harold Wilder will teach the course, which will allow drivers who complete the course to get a 10 per cent reduction in both liability and collision insurance rates for the next three years. This amounts to $60 or more in some cases.

Wilder has been teaching drivers education for the past eight years. He recently completed a special training course to qualify him to teach defensive driving. This will make the second time he has taught the class.

"The course is designed for experienced or even expert drivers," Wilder explained. Those who take the media-oriented course pick up many valuable tips that alert them to potential hazards created by other drivers, and how to immediately react to such dangers.

The four-week course is taught under the continuing education office at the college. Those interested should telephone 267-6311 Ext. 32 and pre-register as early in the week as possible. The fee will be $10.

The evening class will begin Wednesday, Jan. 24, from 7-9 p.m., and the day class begins Thursday, Jan. 25, from 2-4 p.m.

TREE TO GROW IN KENTWOOD — Parents and pupils teamed Friday to give substance to Arbor Day at Kentwood elementary school by planting a tree. Here Mike Evans, Scott McGuire, Randy Roberts and Terry Howell lower a balled non-bearing mulberry into hole in the confident hope of shade and beauty in a few years. Arbor Day, as the name implies, is to encourage the planting of trees.

Working On Railroad More Labor Than Melody

While he'd been working on the railroad all the live long day for 36 years, Higgin Baeza of Coahoma saw the train change from steam-powered to diesel-run, from a major form of transportation to a conveyor principally of freight. Contrary to the folk song, "Dinah Blow Your Horn," he has found working on the railroad is more labor than melody.

Baeza retires from the Texas and Pacific Railway Co. Jan. 31 after working with the company since 1936.

While with the railroad, Baeza served as section foreman, the supervisor of rail crews in charge of repairing damaged tracks.

When he started with the and P as a track laborer Baeza earned $2.22 a day. Now, he earns some $833 a month.

"I guess I've covered every mile of track between Abilene and Van Horn. Repairing railroad tracks is hard work.

They say it could kill a mule. And when the weather is the worst, you've still got to get out and keep the trains rolling."

The job of a track laborer is to replace worn-out or broken rails, ties, spikes and rock ballast, and to keep the trails smooth.

"When I started, we did all the work by hand with gangs of eight or so men. Now most of it's done by machines. Machines can pull in the ties, drive in spikes and lay rails," he said.

He estimated that about half of the track laborers have been laid off due to machines.

Baeza reflected that the airplane and automobile have taken most of the passengers away from the railroads, but he said nothing could equal the trains as transporters of freight.

He predicted a revival of passenger train travel, though in some 40 or 50 years when a automobile traffic becomes heavy enough.

Baeza said that after he retires with his wife in Coahoma, he plans to "go fishing and just take it easy and do the things I haven't had time for."

WATERGATE AFFAIR Guilty Pleas Money Offer

WASHINGTON (AP) — As the Watergate political espionage trial entered its third week today, Time magazine said it learned that one of the original seven defendants, E. Howard Hunt Jr., offered money to four other defendants as an inducement to plead guilty.

The government's key witness, Alfred C. Baldwin III, a former FBI agent, faced cross-examination from defense lawyers today.

Only two of an original seven defendants remained on trial in U.S. District Court here in connection with the break-in and alleged bugging of Democratic party headquarters at the Watergate last summer. Hunt and four others have pleaded guilty in the case.

Time magazine said Hunt offered the other four $1,000 a month apiece for each month they spend in jail. It said the admissions of guilt by Hunt and the others "staved off" testimony that the operation had been approved by other persons.

Hunt's lawyer, William O. Bittman, said Hunt "categorically and emphatically denies" the magazine story.

Time magazine said Hunt recruited the four to bug the Democratic offices saying: "It's got to be done. My friend Colson wants it. Mitchell wants it."

The magazine said this was a reference to former Atty. Gen. John Mitchell, who was also Nixon's campaign manager for a time, and to Charles Colson, a special counsel to President Nixon.

It didn't say where it obtained the information.

Colson's office issued a statement saying Colson "unequivocally denies what Hunt is quoted as saying and points out that he (Colson) had already denied it under oath."

BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS

Q. 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠A864 ♥A10985 ♦1093 ♣4
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass
2 ♥ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—This hand rates one more try, and the suggested call is three hearts. On a point count basis, the hand is valued at 11 points, eight in high cards and two for distribution. The additional point is to be added for the fifth heart when partner supports that suit.

Q. 2—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠942 ♥AK ♠AKQ10 ♠AJ107
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
Pass Pass 1 ♦ Pass
2 ♠ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Since you are now assured that partner will respond to your next bid, there is no great necessity for jumping. A slam contract is definitely in the offing, and you should take it easy as to the best means of ascertaining which denomination will prove most playable. Bid three clubs and await your partner's reply.

Q. 3—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠QJ982 ♥A5 ♦1042 ♠AQ6
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♦ Pass
2 ♠ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—While it may be tempting to double the two spade bid, we lean toward a pass. Despite your impressive holding, you must remember that your spades are unfavorably located under the declarer and, while it is unlikely you will defeat the contract, it is not apt to be a complete slaughter. There is the further consideration that your penalty double of two spades may induce East to run to three diamonds, a contract which you are by no means prepared to hurt.

Q. 4—Partner opens with one heart and you hold:
♠Q8432 ♥A104 ♦K95 ♠83
What is your response?
A.—Two hearts. A response of one spade should be avoided, for it might lead to complications. This hand is not strong enough to justify two forward moving bids. In support of hearts it is worth only three points and, therefore, comes within the limit of a single raise.

Q. 5—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠AK6 ♥AJ ♠74 ♠KQJ1083
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♦ Pass
What do you bid now?
A.—Two no trump. This is preferable to the jump rebid of three clubs. Theoretically it is one point short, containing only 18 points, but the extra ten and a solid six card suit more than compensate for the technical deficiency.

Q. 6—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠KJ6 ♥AKQJ63 ♦4 ♠AK7
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♦ Pass
1 ♠ Pass 2 NT 3 ♦ ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Since the appropriate procedure at this point is not clear to you, a forcing pass is in order. Partner heard you open with a demand bid and cannot drop the bidding. He should be given this opportunity to clarify his original negative response.

Q. 7—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠KQJ2 ♥A ♦852 ♠KQ854
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♦ Pass
1 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass
What do you bid now?
A.—This hand has distinct slam possibilities if partner has a reasonably good diamond suit, in which case you might hold your losses to just one trick. In order to learn more about this hand, we suggest that a temporarily bid of three hearts be made at this point. This may put partner in a position to bid a slam.

Q. 8—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠82 ♥1097 ♦AQJ106 ♠A94
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♥ Pass ?
What do you bid?
A.—Three hearts or even four hearts. It would be quite painful to bid three diamonds which in this sequence is not forcing.

REP. ELMER MARTIN

Solon's Post Challenging

COLORADO CITY — Things can get to be almost overwhelming for a freshman lawmaker, Rep. Elmer Martin, Colorado City, concedes.

The 61st district representative and his wife were here Friday for the 64th annual Chamber of Commerce banquet. A former Mitchell County judge, he was elected last November to the legislature.

"I've found out one thing," he said. "It's utterly impossible to even read all the bills introduced, much less master them. And I've learned something, too — that everyone comes running to the first-term to co-sponsor a bill. By the time it goes through committees, hearings and amendments, it may not resemble what its caption says. So I'm not co-sponsoring anything — not yet."

The school tax problem can easily get to be the biggest issue of the session if the Supreme Court upholds the lower court ruling that ad valorem tax as administered in Texas is not constitutional for school purposes, Rep. Martin thinks. Since the court won't rule until late in the session, this could present all kinds of problems.

Looking down the road, he foresees a herculean task when the legislature is convened in 1974 as a constitutional convention. What he has seen so far convinces him to believe that it will be a near impossible task without possible additional special sessions.

Rep. Martin has been named to the agriculture and ecology committees.

Police Chief Asked To Resign

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Police Chief Glenn Stanford has reported that he has been asked to resign. He said he has not made a decision.

The chief said the request was the outgrowth of his opposition to a regional program which includes law enforcement.
