MOOSE VISITS CITY — An Anchorage family watch a moose eat off the trees in Anchorage, Alaska. At this time of year, the moose, who are looking for food, have been coming into the city of 130,000 and they have been found in the streets, gardens, front yards and fields. In fact, Anchorage is starting to look like a zoo. The Alaskans are used to the annual visit of somewhere between 800 and 1,300 moose.

PAROLE PRO Knows Job Inside And Out

CHICAGO (AP) — "The governor wanted somebody who knows the loneliness of a prison cell," says John M. Nolan, a new appointee to the Illinois Pardon and Parole Board.

And Nolan has that experience. He served eight years and four months within the walls of the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa., on a 25-year sentence for bank robbery and still has two years to go on his own parole.

One of seven persons named to the parole board Wednesday by Gov. Daniel Walker, Nolan was 19 when he left his home in the depressed, coal-mining town of Harlan, Ky., with two older brothers and participated in a Cincinnati bank robbery.

"The judge said he was going to make an example of me, even though I'd never been in trouble before," Nolan said of his 1950 conviction.

"But I'm not bitter . . . and I've never been defensive about it. It would be defeatist to be too defensive," he said during a telephone interview Wednesday after his appointment was announced.

Now 42 and still a bachelor, he is a resident of the Chicago suburb of Calumet City and president of Local 51 of the United Auto Workers Union.

Walker restored Nolan's full civil rights in naming him to the $25,000-a-year post. After his parole in 1958, he worked for a time in a lumber mill, then got a job on an automobile assembly line on Chicago's far South Side.

He said he had always been "fascinated by the political process," and soon became involved in union work.

Nolan says that since his release from prison he has returned several times to Lewisburg and also has visited Leavenworth, Kan., and other federal correctional institutions to help counsel inmates.

"I feel a moral obligation. Those people need contact with the outside world," he said, adding: "It's nice to know you can walk out when you want to."

Two Officials Die In Plane Dive

WARSAW (AP) — The interior ministers of Poland and Czechoslovakia perished in a plane crash Wednesday night and Polish leaders ordered a top-level probe today.

Authorities declined any information on the crash near the Baltic port of Szczecin, except for a brief announcement broadcast by Radio Warsaw.

The radio reported that Polish Interior Minister Wieslaw Ociepka and his visiting Czechoslovak counterpart Radko Kaska, had died, along with their aides and the military plane's crew. The total number of deaths was not disclosed.

Dannie Botros Is Council Candidate

Latest to file to run in the April 3 City Commission election is Mrs. Dannie Botros, wife of physician R. G. Botros.

"I am running because I believe more (the payers) should be involved in our local government. Government should work for us, not against us, but we the taxpayers need to be heard and I pledge to the people of Big Spring to listen," she said.

Mrs. Botros, now a housewife attending Howard County Junior College, has been active in Democratic Party politics, the 1948 Hyperion Club, Medical Auxiliary, Kentwood PTA and the Girl Scouts.

"I believe people will accept me as a person and on my own merits," she commented, asked if she felt being a woman would hurt her chances in the race. Another woman, also a physician's wife, Mrs. Floyd Mays, is in the race along with four men.

Indians To Talk 'Peace'

WOUNDED KNEE, S.D. (AP) — South Dakota's two senators were flying to this tiny community today in an effort to end a two-day siege by militant Indians holding 11 residents hostage.

Sen. James Abourezk said he had been assured that one and possibly two of the captives held since the takeover Tuesday night would be freed when the plane carrying him and Sen. George McGovern arrives at nearby Pine Ridge, the closest town with an airport.

"I have this assurance through an intermediary and I know the American Indian Movement — AIM — leaders are aware of it," he said. "I'm confident we can negotiate the release of the rest once we get there."

Concern Is Expressed Over New BSSH Policy

By MARJ CARPENTER
The West Texas "sober drunks" are still in good shape, but the "drunk drunks" now have no place to go. The "sober-drunk" is the one who will admit he needs medical treatment and sign up for such.

Law enforcement agencies throughout West Texas are expressing concern over a recent revision of policy regarding admission of alcoholic and drug abuse patients to the Big Spring State Hospital.

The Big Spring State Hospital is doing so because, according to a letter sent out to sheriffs and police chiefs in the area, "New policies are necessitated by the fact that our alcoholism and drug treatment program at the hospital, under the previous open door arrangement, has been forced to function primarily in the role of a crisis intervention and detoxification facility. Crisis intervention and detoxification are not the role of our program; rather, we exist to provide comprehensive treatment and rehabilitation to those citizens willing to undergo treatment of a sufficient time duration to effectuate behavioral and attitudinal changes necessary for sobriety."

APPOINTMENT ONLY
The new policy is that effective Feb. 6, all alcoholic and drug abuse admissions will be by appointment only, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Dr. Preston E. Harrison, M.D., in answer to a question concerning the new policy, had Mrs. Mary Thomas state that this means that "We have quit taking them after 5 p.m. and on weekends."

WON'T BE ADMITTED
"Walk-in patients will not be admitted nor will they be seen by a staff member. Patients arriving at the hospital for a scheduled admission should be sufficiently sober so that they can legibly sign their name."
"Admissions can be scheduled by letter or by calling the Admission Office, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. and asking for an appointment date. At this time, we are also instituting a policy of not re-

Reds List 106 Yanks, Thais To Be Released

SAIGON (AP) — The United States announced tonight that the North Vietnamese had turned over a list of 106 American prisoners and two Thais to be released over the weekend. But it said the Viet Cong had not yet turned over a list of 30 Americans to be freed from camps in South Vietnam.

FOUR CIVILIANS
The U.S. delegation had initially said 108 Americans would be freed by North Vietnam and 34 by the Viet Cong, but it was discovered later that these figures included the two Thais held in the North and two West Germans and two Filipinos held in the South.

A Viet Cong spokesman said the American prisoners scheduled for release by them included 26 servicemen and four civilians.

The U.S. announcement said: "The Democratic Republic of Vietnam representative on the POW subcommittee, four-party Joint Military Commission, presented to the U.S. representative a list containing the names of 106 U.S. POWs and two Thai POWs. The United States has not been advised of the time and place of release. No new information has been received on the detained personnel held by the Provisional Revolutionary Government."

This is the government of the Viet Cong in South Vietnam.

NEXT OF KIN
The chief spokesman for the North Vietnamese delegation, Bui Tin, said the POWs would be freed over the weekend.

Immediately after the list was turned over to the American delegation, it was transmitted to Washington so that relatives of the American prisoners could be immediately notified of their impending release.

Once the next of kin are notified, Washington will make the list public.

There were no names released in Saigon either by the U.S. or North Vietnamese delegations.

The U.S. side said it was told that the 34 prisoners to be freed by the Viet Cong included 26 U.S. military personnel and eight American civilians.

The Communists released 143 American prisoners on Feb. 12 and 20 more on Feb. 13. The release of another 142 will leave 280 Americans still held in North and South Vietnam and Laos, according to Hanoi. They are scheduled to be released in two more groups, with March 28 the deadline for the repatriation of the last ones.

BIG GROUP
The United States had expected the release of the second big group on Tuesday, 15 days after the first big group was handed over. But the Communists balked, demanding that the United States and South Vietnam come to terms on the release of civilians held by the Saigon government and guarantees to end harassment of the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong representatives to the peacekeeping commissions in Saigon and other South Vietnamese cities.

Mum About Reported Threats To Bomb Houston Skyscraper

HOUSTON (AP) — Authorities declined to discuss early today a reported extortion attempt against Houston developer Gerald D. Hines and an alleged bomb threat against Houston's tallest building, which Hines developed.

Police records showed a man telephoned Hines' office Wednesday morning, asked to talk to the developer and was told by a secretary that Hines was not in.

The caller said he would call back, the report stated, and demanded to talk to Hines, saying he had planted bombs in One Shell Plaza, the skyscraper.

Another employee, not identified by the police records, talked with the caller the second time. The police report said the caller demanded $250,000 in $20 bills, an airplane, a stewardess and enough fuel for a few hours flight.

The man said he would call again Wednesday afternoon with more instructions but the police report ended here.

Newsmen were alerted that a light plane landed Wednesday night at Collier's Airport, a small airfield northwest of Houston, and witnesses said several men ran to the plane.

Spectators said the plane circled the field several times before landing and took off after being approached by the men.

Authorities would not say whether the plane was connected with the reported extortion attempt.

Lt. J. D. Belscher, head of the Houston police criminal intelligence division, and Tom Jordan, agent in charge of the Houston FBI, remained in their offices late Wednesday. Jordan could not be reached by telephone.

Belscher would say only that his office was investigating an extortion plot involving "a Gerald Hines building."

Hines, reached in his office late Wednesday, would not discuss the case. He said he did not want to give out information "until we piece this thing together."

"We don't want to mislead anyone," he said. Asked if he was taking the threats seriously, Hines replied, "No—in fact, we're going home."

Big Spring Rodeo Set June 20-23

Charlie Creighton, one of the founding officers of the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo Association, was re-elected president at the annual meeting Wednesday.

Directors fixed the dates of the 1973 show as June 20-21-22-23 (Wednesday through Saturday). Selection of a personality for the rodeo is still under consideration and an announcement may be made soon. The association had Festus (Ken Curtis) of Gunslinger for the past two years.

A contract has been approved with Tommy Steiner, Austin, to again produce the show, which is one of the three oldest in West Texas.

The board also listened to a presentation by a group from Snyder, suggesting International Rodeo Association affiliation, which Snyder has. However, the local association has its affiliation contracted this year with Rodeo Cowboys of America, an organization with which it has been associated since the beginning.

Other officers names were E. P. Driver, vice president; Malcolm Patterson, secretary; Jimmy Taylor, treasurer. New board members elected were Harry Middleton, son of the late R. V. Middleton, one of the founding directors; Skipper Driver, son of E. P. Driver, and grandson of one of the founders, the late Ira Driver; Jack Buchanan and Bill Neal, Holdover directors are J. R. Anderson, Bill Wilson, Leland Wallace, Kenny Thompson, Dr. H. E. Thompson, H. N. Read Jr. and Toots-Mansfield.

License Fees Mount Here

License plate fees totaling $133,707 were collected during February. Mrs. Zirah L. Bednar, county tax assessor-collector, said. As of Friday, 5,983 sets of all types of license plates had been issued.

At the end of the regular registration period last year, license plates had been issued for 23,084 vehicles, Mrs. Bednar said.

Motorists driving with old tags after midnight April 1 are subject to fines. March 30 is the last working day before the deadline.

In addition to the county tax and motor vehicle registration offices at the courthouse, motorists may obtain passenger car plates from Newsom's Food Center. The Webb Air Force Base Federal Credit Union issues all types of plates.

A deputy from the tax office will be at the Coahoma City Hall to distribute plates on March 6 and 7.

FIRST STATEMENT — Pilot Martin Hamwell, making his first major public statement since he survived 82 days in the Arctic following a plane crash, told a news conference in Edmonton Wednesday night that he ate human flesh in his battle to survive.

Pilot Ate Flesh Of One Of His Dead Passengers

YELLOWKNIFE, N.W.T. (AP) — After 23 days alongside his wrecked airplane in the Arctic wilderness, an injured pilot ate the flesh of one of his three dead passengers to stay alive.

"There was no way out but to eat human flesh and this I did," Martin Hartwell said in a statement he read at a news conference Wednesday night in Edmonton after his action was revealed at an inquest in Yellowknife for the three persons killed in the crash.

Hartwell was flying three persons, a British nurse, a pregnant Eskimo woman and a 14-year-old Eskimo boy, to a hospital at Yellowknife when his plane crashed on Nov. 8.

Hartwell, who broke both ankles and a kneecap in the crash, said he ate the flesh of the nurse, Judith Hill, after the boy died and he had no one to forage for him.

"It distresses me and probably others to talk more about this," said Hartwell. "After David Kootook died, I realized that I, too, would soon be dead because I was too weak and injured to move around."

The nurse and the Eskimo woman died within hours of the crash, according to testimony at the inquest, but the boy remained alive for 23 days.

Three Eagle Scouts Given Badges In Rite Wednesday

Three members of Troop 5 received the top honor in Scouting Wednesday evening when they were presented with their Eagle badges.

This highlighted a service at the First Baptist Church, which has sponsored the troop for the past 45 years.

Those who became Eagle Scouts were George Gillespie, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Gillespie Jr., 2905 Hunters Glenn; Dane Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell D. Green 1902 Main; and Brian Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clement R. Jones, 1900 Goliad. Besides their outstanding record in Scouting, the three are active in school and church affairs.

They were given the Eagle badge by William T. McRee, former Scout executive who started the young men in Scouting when he retired from professional scouting and became scoutmaster of the troop. Bill Bradford, now serving his second hitch as scoutmaster of the troop, presented the Eagles to the congregation and had the youths pin a miniature Eagle emblem on their mothers.

This came after a candlelight investiture ceremony staged by members of the troop, and a background talk by Joe Pickle, vice president of the Buffalo Trails Council, on the spirit of Scouting and what is involved in the achievement.

Prayers were worded by Ernie Boyd, Lone Star district commissioner, and Gregg Henry, member of the troop. The new Eagles and their parents were honored at a reception in the Church Fellowship Hall.

City Seeking State Agent

City commissioners instructed City Manager Harry Nagel this week to continue seeking ways to acquire an Alcoholic Beverage Control agent for Big Spring.

Nagel reported to the commission Tuesday that the state ABC office said it lacks funds to station an agent here. He said, however, that the city will need one as there are 80 local establishments with liquor licenses.

Nagel said the ABC has six inspectors and two supervisors stationed in Odessa who have been cooperating with the Big Spring police.

"We need one here in town, though, and we should continue to seek another route to get an agent stationed here," Nagel said. Commissioners, citing the need to crack down on liquor sales to minors, agreed with Nagel's suggestion.

The possibility of stationing an agent here will be one of several matters brought up by Nagel when he, Mayor Wade Choate and Commissioner Harold Hall attend a legislative breakfast in Austin Monday.

At the breakfast, the city officials will meet with local legislators Sen. Jack Hightower and Rep. Renal Rosson, to discuss municipal problems.

Democratic Governors Assail Nixon's Ideas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic governors today voted unanimously to oppose President Nixon's plan to revamp federal domestic aid programs until they get more information on how it will affect their states.

At a breakfast meeting, the Democratic state executives decided to oppose the President's plan to switch many programs from direct aid to so-called "special revenue sharing."

"The Democratic governors are dissatisfied with the kind of information that has been given us," both about proposed budget cuts and the shape and size of special revenue sharing, Gov. John J. Gilligan of Ohio told reporters.

The Ohio governor, serving as Democratic spokesman because Gov. Dale Bumpers had to return to Arkansas, said the governors planned to pool their resources to analyze the President's proposals "and to inform the Congress as to the real impact of the budget cuts."

Gov. Marvin Mandel of Maryland, a Democrat and chairman of the conference, was scheduled to deliver a "State of the States" address, followed by a general discussion of governors' problems.

Gov. Dale Bumpers of Arkansas, chairman of the Democratic Governors Conference, told reporters that nothing at Wednesday's 2 1/2-hour White House session with top administration officials had changed the critical mood of most Democratic governors.

"I would be less than candid if I did not say that I am no wiser now than when I came," Bumpers said.

"I think Gov. Bumpers is understating his ability. I certainly think he is wiser," responded Gov. Linwood Holton of Virginia, chairman of the Republican Governors Association who has been the administration's chief spokesman and defender during the meetings.

Holton also declared he remains optimistic, despite coolness among congressional leaders, that the Nixon administration will succeed in persuading Congress to convert many of the 1,000-plus special federal-aid programs into four "special revenue-sharing" programs giving states wide latitude on spending.

But Mandel and Bumpers said the administration officials were unable to say which specific federal programs would be dropped, and when the administration's plans would be ready for presentation to Congress—though they said the officials contended federal help next year would be the same as this year.

Shiewitz, Carl Smith, B. R. Garvin, G. Harvey, Kenneth Wyatt and Donald Yena.

Discover Tumors In Rats Fed Saccharin

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration says rats that were fed saccharin in carefully controlled government studies have developed suspicious bladder tumors. But the agency adds that its scientists have not determined whether the tumors are cancerous, which would force a ban on the only artificial sweetener remaining on the market. Cyclamates were banned in 1969 under the so-called Delaney Clause in the law prohibiting any food additive that causes cancer in man or animals.

Virgil O. Wodicka, director of FDA's Bureau of Foods, confirmed the preliminary saccharin study results in an interview.

He said the FDA findings will be transmitted to the National Academy of Sciences, which is under contract to evaluate the sweetener's safety and its role in treating certain metabolic diseases.

Even if the bladder tumors are found to be malignant, Wodicka said, the cause may be traced to impurities in the saccharin or to "mechanical irritation" resulting from the high levels of the chemical fed to test animals.

"We're not going to take any action until we get a recommendation from the academy," Wodicka said.

Last year the FDA removed saccharin from the list of additives generally recognized as safe, and recommended that the average adult's daily intake be limited to one gram.

One gram is the equivalent of 60 small saccharin tablets, or seven 12-ounce bottles of the standard diet soft drink, the FDA said.

Tuition, Fees To Remain Same

ABILENE — There will be no increase in tuition, student fees or housing costs according to a 1973-74 fiscal year budget approved Monday by Abilene Christian College Board of Trustees.

The budget totals $8.6 million for the ACC system, including record figure of $7.9 million for the main campus in Abilene.

The new budget provides for a 3 per cent salary increase for faculty members, including fringe benefits. The budget also includes a 5 per cent increase in the price of student meal tickets. Effective Sept. 1, the seven-day student meal ticket will be raised $13 per semester coming from the present price of $255 per semester to $268 per semester.

Tuition remains at $39 per semester hour, while the general student fees and the room charges also remain the same.

Cronkite Levels Charge At Nixon

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Television newscaster Walter Cronkite says the Nixon administration is trying to raise its credibility "by dragging down that of the press."

The administration is manipulating public opinion in a way that "to stand up and defend freedom of speech and press is to appear anti-Nixon," he said, adding that the Supreme Court had stripped the press of "the privilege to protect its sources, and without such protection, a free press cannot survive."

The longtime anchorman for CBS' evening news made the charges in a speech before the 105th annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators here.

TO APPEAR — The Lubbock Christian College A Cappella choir will appear at 7:30 p.m. tonight in the West Highway 80 Church of Christ. The public is invited. Dr. Wayne Hinds is director.

Classification Demands Definition Of 'Security'

By OMAR BURLESON
WASHINGTON — An age old problem faces democratic governments everywhere. It is the desire to inform their populations freely, while preserving from public disclosures legitimate secrets essential to national security in a nuclear-missile world.

Contradictions can never be completely eliminated. The British have been trying to resolve their dilemma in this regard for more than 60 years. Laws enacted in the early 1900's ban disclosure of information "prejudicial to the safety or interest of the State" or possession of official documents by anyone who "has no right to retain it." They have found ridiculous and exasperating experiences with this provision in their law, such as, denying the press to mention the romances of King Edward VIII when the whole world knew about it.

Our own government has had limited success in attempts to bridge the gap between freedom of information and national security.

The First Amendment to the Constitution prohibits any law abridging freedom of the press but in 1798 and in 1918 the Congress attempted to legislate against revealing what was officially deemed secret, calling it "sedition." There has always been a broad gray area between black and white in these efforts.

A new attempt is now under way in the executive branch seeking protective laws without withholding information which the public is entitled to have. An inter-agency committee, composed of the Department of Defense, Department of State, Department of Justice, the White House, the Atomic Energy Commission, the Central Intelligence Agency, and National Security Agencies, are seeking to agree on legal provisions.

It is a very complex legal reform which is expected to be submitted to the Congress for consideration. No doubt it will be highly controversial and debate will be long.

New Language Is Adopted

YPSILANTI, Mich. (AP) — It's no longer "until death do you part" in Ypsilanti.

After legislation was passed giving Michigan mayors the power to perform marriages, the city of Ypsilanti decided to use the occasion to draw up new language for the marriage contract.

City Attorney Kenneth Bronson came up with an "ecumenical, civil and nonsectarian" marriage pact for Mayor George D. Goodman to use.

The first thing to go wasn't that "until death do you part" bit, Bronson said, since marriages no longer are considered to last forever.

"It's silly in a state-prescribed ceremony to make qualifications not in the law," he said. "The law provides a way, particularly with a no-fault divorce law."

The Ypsilanti ceremony has eliminated the "if any person should know any reason why these two should not be wed, let him speak now or forever hold his peace" part of the ceremony.

That clause, Bronson said, goes back to medieval England, when public announcements of weddings were published and those with legal objections were expected to raise them at the ceremony.

"Love, honor and obey" has been replaced with "love, cherish and support." Under the Ypsilanti formula, the wife is as responsible for the husband's support as he is for hers.

Instead of pronouncing the newlyweds "man and wife" the mayor says simply, "I now pronounce that they are married."

Special License Tags Are Bought By Estimated 100

By ANN STEVENS
For a $10 fee, approximately 100 people in the county each year brand their automobiles with a mark of distinction — personalized license plates.

These plates must be processed through the state and the $10 fee is in addition to the regular price of plates.

Mrs. Zirah Bednar, county tax assessor-collector through whom they must be ordered locally, said most people applying for such plates want a name spelled out on them.

"Some of them request their nicknames, initials or special numbers on the tags," she said. There is a six-letter limit on what may be spelled out.

JUST IN CASE
Tag orders must go through the Texas Highway Department in Austin so that there will be no two alike in the state. Each applicant must list three choices on the order form, in case someone else in the state has already nabbed his first choice.

"I decided that buying personalized license plates would be a good way of expressing my opinion on something," said Capt. Regina McGuinness of the Webb AFB information office.

"I thought of putting my name or Zodiac sign, but that didn't really say anything. So being a women's liberator, the word 'Equal' seemed to say it all in only five letters. I decided to keep that on my tags until the equal rights amendment is passed," she said.

LIKE A STICKER
She noted that some people have called her "Capt. Equal" after seeing her license plates, which she has renewed for a second year.

"I do a lot of traveling, and the plates are kinda like a bumper sticker. They both say something about you," she remarked.

John Quigley, owner of Quigley's Floral Shop, has two sets of personalized tags, one for his family car and another for the shop's delivery truck.

"I think it's a sharp idea to buy personal tags. We're the Quigleys, and we want people to know," he said, speaking of the "A-JQ" plates on the family car. The "A" stands for his wife, Averil, and the "J" for his own first name. The "Q" is, of course, for Quigley.

His delivery truck sports another abbreviation with a double meaning — "PDQ." Since the state will not allow anything obscene on the tags, Quigley explained the meaning of "PDQ" is "Petunias Delivered by Quigley."

"When we travel out of state, people really notice them. The personalized plates are beginning to be popular in other states, too," Quigley said, noting that Texas was the first state he knew of to offer such tags.

Civil Air Patrol Commission Pick

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe named Jerry Puckett of Fort Stockton to the Texas Civil Air Patrol Commission on Wednesday for a six-year term ending May 31, 1977.

Puckett, a rancher-banker, replaced Mike A. Burkholder of Pecos, who resigned.

The bidding:

Opening lead: Deuce of ♠
South had a choice of plays to uncover a ninth trick in his three no-trump contract. His final decision was based on an inference drawn from the evidence before him.

West reasoned that inasmuch as the opposition had made no attempt to probe for a major suit fit, an attack in that direction might prove profitable. He therefore opened the deuce of hearts. East put up the ace, felling declarer's queen and then when a small heart brought forth the king, West unblocked for his partner by playing the ten—thereby retaining the four to reach East subsequently.

South had seven top tricks—three spades, one heart, one diamond and two clubs—with several prospects for more. Since he could not afford to surrender the lead because the opposition was in position to cash out their hearts, he decided to con-trate on the club suit which might be expected to yield two additional tricks if the finesse succeeded.

A club was led to the king at trick three, however, on the return, East showed out discarding a diamond. Declarer put up the ace of clubs and switched his attention in another direction. A small diamond was led and when West followed with the nine, dummy covered with the queen. When the finesse succeeded, South had his eighth trick.

The king of spades was cashed and a small one returned to the ace as both opponents followed suit. The crucial moment had arrived. Declarer had a choice. He could try to split out the spade suit by cashing the queen, or he could cross over to the dummy to lead a spade and finesse the ten.

Before committing himself, South led a small diamond on the chance that West might have a doubleton king—for if that card succumbed to dummy's ace, then the jack would become established for the ninth trick.

West followed with the ten of diamonds, however, and North put up the ace. Declarer paused at this point to count his opponent's distribution. West was known to have started with four clubs, three diamonds and presumably four hearts. It appeared then, that he had been dealt a doubleton spade.

A small spade was led from dummy and when East followed with the eight, South played the ten. West showed out and declarer's queen of spades was cashed for the fulfilling trick.

Front Sparks Heavy Rains In Few Areas

By The Associated Press

Showers and thunderstorms paced a new cold front's eastward march across Texas today, setting off briefly heavy rains in some areas.

The unruly weather developed first in the Texas Panhandle and gradually spread, reaching into areas from Stephenville to Palestine, Abilene to Corsicana, Kerrville to Del Rio, and around Austin, San Antonio and Victoria before dawn.

In early morning the forward edge of the frontal system lay along a line from Dalhart southward past Wink and into Mexico.

Skies cleared swiftly in its wake and winds gusting to 35 miles per hour raked El Paso, behind the front, throughout the night. Low clouds covered most areas east of the front except for the Lower Rio Grande Valley and a narrow strip of East Texas along the Louisiana line.

Moist air flowing inland from the Gulf of Mexico contributed to the shower activity.

Temperatures stayed on the mild side. Readings near daylight ranged from 44 degrees at Amarillo and Dalhart in the Panhandle up to 66 at Brownsville and Laredo on the Mexican border.

Official observers looked for the cold front to finish its sweep across the state by late in the day and skies to clear swiftly in its wake. Mild weather was predicted through Friday.

New Magazine At San Marcos

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (AP) — A new magazine is being published this spring at Southwest Texas State University, according to editor Gale Garrison, Laredo senior.

"Genesis," a 32-page magazine using a news-feature format, is experimental. Reception by students and the administration will determine whether the magazine becomes a regular school publication.

"Genesis" signifies the beginning, something new," Miss Garrison said, explaining that it carries no religious connotation. "If continued, each issue of the magazine will contain new information and the style will vary according to each editor." She noted that it is not a yearbook.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

ASKED, BUT: (Q) I have two best friends. We get along fine. About two years ago we were bowling and met Seth. We all threw ourselves at his feet. We worshipped him for weeks but he was not bowled over by any of us so we cooled it.

Well, last month he asked me out. I said yes. On the date, he asked me to be his girl friend. I new what my answer was, yes, but I told him I would have to think about it.

The next time I was with my girl friends, we were talking about him, and I found out he had asked not only me, but both of them, to be his girl friend. What should I do? — 15 and Furious in Maryland.

(A) You were wise to wait to say yes to Seth. You saved face by doing so. Too many girls don't wait, but plunge ahead into all sorts of sticky situations.

He may have been joking with you and your two friends. He may have just wanted to have dates from time to time with each of you. That would be perfectly fair of him so long as he wasn't committed as a steady to any one of you.

You have not committed yourself, either. You are still free to accept a date if he asks you for one. But do not get serious about him until you know him much better.

SPENDING MONEY: (Q) I need money and I'm sick of asking my parents for it. First they say, "What for?" I tell them. Then they say it's a waste and I don't get any money. Besides I figure I'm too old (14) to bum from them any more.

Just tell me a place to call and get a job. And don't put me down for being a girl. I can do most anything a boy can. — Job Wanted in Washington, D. C.

(A) Your parents should be providing you with a regular allowance. Maybe you can get them to make it bigger by offering to do extra jobs at home.

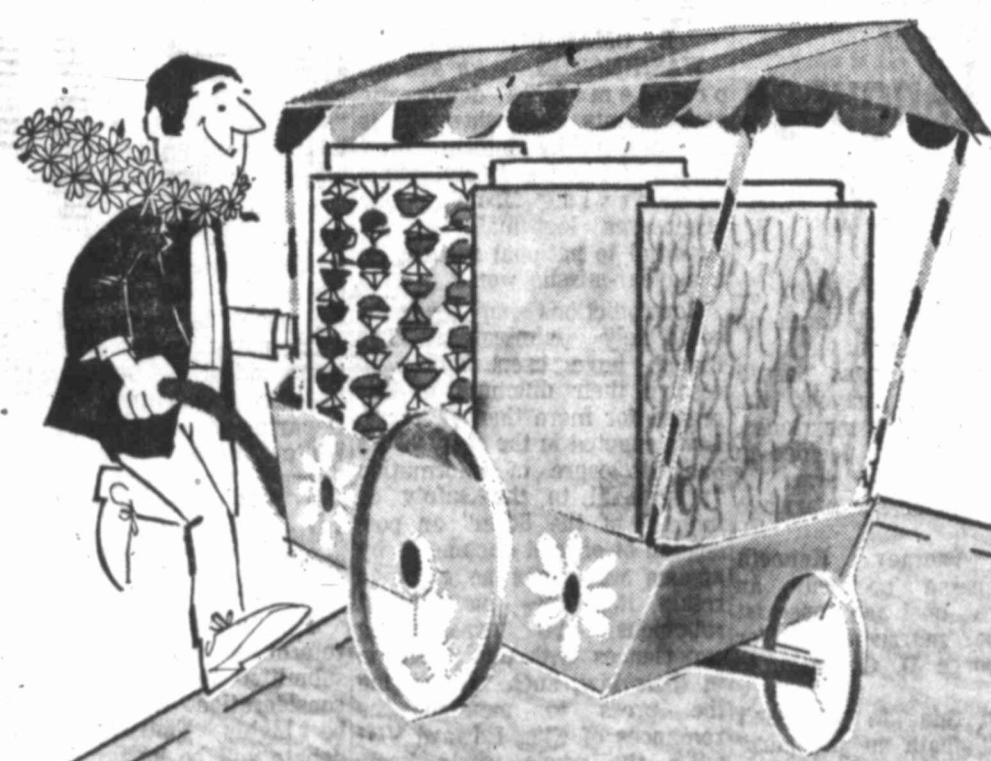

Another thing you can do is be a baby sitter, but must do a good job for couples so that they will keep calling her back.

You will learn much faster about spending wisely when you start earning your own money. Earning it, one learns the true value of it, and is less likely to waste it.

Hobby Lobby Is On The Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Along with worldly woes and money matters, there's talk on Capitol Hill about a White Carnival Glass Indian Chief toothpick holder and a Mt. Washington Peachblow vinegar cruet. The hobby lobby is hard at work.

This, too, involves the world and money—imports and rare coins—as well as consumer spending, in such places as flea markets and antique shops.

According to the hobby lobby, the problem is in telling what's truly old or really new—and what's just a copy or a fake.

BATCH OF BILLS

In a little batch of bills under study by the House Commerce Committee are a proposed Hobby Protection Act and legislation on antique glassware. They're aimed at protecting against purchase of a copy that's either mistaken to be—or fraudulently represented as—an original.

Rep. Fred B. Rooney, D-Pa., in a statement to a House commerce and finance subcommittee hearing Wednesday, said consumers are being misled by reproductions and are spending millions of dollars on what they believe are originals.

Harvey G. Stack, partner in Stack's rare-coin firm in New York City, said he receives dozens of phone calls from people who think they have found rare coins, which usually are "copies, fakes or 'genuine reproductions' of ancient or modern coins now.

In some cases, he added, merchants "have quite innocently sold them as genuine to customers. . . . Few of the fakes are ever marked as copies."

GENUINE COIN

E.A. Babka of Dubuque, Iowa, publisher of periodicals for the antiques industry, said reproductions run well below the price of originals. For example, he said, "a 'Mt. Washington Peachblow' vinegar cruet, pastel-pink satin glass with an amber vine-shaped handle and feet, may cost you around $25 to $37.50. An antique would run about $400 or $500."

The subcommittee heard other calls for blocking the importation of imitation hobby items.

Virgil Hancock of Bellaire, Tex., a director of the American Numismatic Association and head of the Organization of International Numismatists, said one Chinese in Malaysia "has boasted of shipping into this country over 40,000 coins in the past three years. I have inspected some 10 shipments he has made into the United States and I have yet to find an original, genuine coin."

JERE DEE SINK

Sink Joins Security State

Jere Dee Sink will be associated with Security State Bank as a Vice President effective today.

He is married to the former Andre Sledge, who is the daughter of Mrs. Paul D. Sledge, 1516 Kentucky Way, Big Spring. They have three children: David 12, Jamie 10, and Melissa 8.

Sink began his banking career in the Amarillo National Bank in 1959. Prior to coming to Security State Bank, he was associated with the First State Bank of Tulla since 1966. He has worked in all bank departments during his career, said J. D. Nelson, Security State president, who announced Sink's association with Security State.

He is a graduate of Plains High School, and attended Howard County Junior College. He graduated from West Texas State University in Canyon, with a BA degree.

Sink has been in the Kiwanis Club, Easter Seal program, American Institute of Banking, and Little League. He is president and director of the Kiowa Cattle Company and of the First Tulla Corporation in Tulla.

EDC Conclave Slated Tonight

The Economic Development Council of the Chamber of Commerce will hold its initial meeting of the year at 7:30 tonight in the Chamber office.

The council is in charge of Chamber projects in the fields of retail, agriculture, industry, conventions, tourism and manpower-labor.

Co-chaired by W. S. Pearson, Don Lovelady and Gerald Miller, the 42-member council tonight will review last year's projects for economic development and decide which to carry over this year.

Vote Today On Proposal To Probe Prairie View

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Not too eagerly in some cases, Texas representatives planned to vote today on resolutions to investigate Prairie View A&M and to drop Texas' appeal of a House redistricting decision.

One resolution would create a House committee to investigate the administration of predominantly black Prairie View A&M College.

Another would urge Atty. Gen. John Hill to drop the state's appeal of a three-judge federal court decision ordering the legislature to redistrict the House this year.

Hill said Tuesday that the resolution was "moot" since the state's appeal was argued Monday before the U.S. Supreme Court.

"There is no choice but for the court to rule," he said. Some members reportedly feared that immediate redistricting—which would have been the result of abandoning the appeal—would throw the House into turmoil. The chairman of the House redistricting committee, Rep. Fred Head, D-Troup, is considered a candidate for speaker of the 1975 House.

In action Wednesday, the House passed and sent to the Senate bills that would:

- Allow the University of Texas of the Permian Basin to offer freshmen and sophomore courses. The school is now limited by law to juniors, seniors and master's degree candidates.
- Reduce the minimum age for notaries public from 21 to 18.
- Give firemen and policemen a pay raise of $1 per month for each year of service. The bill would increase their longevity pay from $3 to $4 monthly per year of service.
- Raise from 6 to 10 per cent the annual interest rate on unpaid court judgments, such as those being appealed.

Desire To Help Others Followed Catastrophe

Cities, like people, come together in the face of a catastrophe. But why wait for tragedy to present an united front?

Dr. Granberry, a dental specialist who finds time to do an amazing amount of civic, youth and church work, had been mayor of Lubbock only 19 days when on May 11, 1970, a tornado slammed down in the center of the city and slashed its way to the northern gates.

He had offered for the office, he recalled, because he had perceived real divisions in the city — downtown merchants squabbling with the shopping centers, city government haggling with the county, etc.

"Petty differences were pulling us apart. Then came the tornado that ripped out part of the heart of the city. The part that was ripped out was brick and mortar and stone, but the part that was left was filled with understanding and a desire to help one another."

Suddenly Lubbock came together. Bankers joined laborers in digging through rubble; socialites prepared thousands of sandwiches; hippies waded into water-swollen streets to rescue people and push out cars.

Out of this tragedy, Lubbock found a spirit of unity to move forward, he reported. Ten days later, part of a mountain broke off in Peru and precipitated mud slides that claimed 70,000 lives. He was president of the Texas Partners for Peru, and at the request of President Nixon, flew to the scene.

"What I found there, on an international scale, was what I had witnessed in Lubbock, countries forgetting differences and helping," he said.

The tragedy is to wait for tragedy to unite. All the spirit of working together needs is stimulation, he said. This boils down to an every-day attitude of wanting to help, but not waiting for someone to come with a hand out."

Jim Lemons, president, announced a zone meeting for Monday 7:30 p.m. at Coker's, and a fashion show for the wives at the March 28 meeting.

Sewing Machine, Motorcycles, She's Comfortable With Either

By BARBARA LORD

From motorcycles to sewing, and from camping to home decorating — that covers the vast range of interests for Mrs. Bernard (Cleo) Young, who also manages to find time to serve as an area representative for Mary Kay Cosmetics.

Mrs. Young is a vivacious person, always on the go with her job, her hobbies or her children. The Youngs have three children, Denise, 13, Rodney, 10, and Kimberly, 2. Young is a chemist for Cosden Oil and Chemical Company.

"Keeping up with a teenager as well as a two-year-old is almost too much at times," said Mrs. Young, but she does it with ease and composure. A favorite family activity is camping, and this incorporates a number of other interests such as motorcycling, fishing and water skiing.

Mrs. Young, although she can't swim a stroke, loves to water ski.

"I'm not afraid of the water," she said. "I've really tried hard to swim and just can't do it. My kids are all water ducks."

Camping trips are the only time Mrs. Young really enjoys motorcycles, because she can use cycles to see more of the countryside. Her husband and son, however, spend much of their leisure time testing their balance and dexterity on hill climbs and other cycling activities.

CHILD PROOF
On the home front, Mrs. Young is happiest when she's working on a decorating project or sewing for her daughters. Her husband drew up the plans for their home at 2313 Allendale, and since the family moved there four years ago, Mrs. Young has added a bevy of highlights to make it comfortable and homey.

MRS. BERNARD YOUNG

"We made the home child proof," Mrs. Young said. "We put up a lot of paneling that doesn't mark easily, and put in floors that don't require waxing but still look nice." Mrs. Young likes bright, yet practical, colors.

"I would love to be like the women who plan their meals for a week or a month in advance, but I just haven't developed the talent," said Mrs. Young. "I'm always on the lookout for casseroles and other recipes that can be prepared fast but are still good. I've gotten a lot of delicious ones from my customers and friends."

The Youngs like to eat outdoors. The whole family likes Spanish or Italian foods, and Young is particularly fond of fish. Fruits, such as peaches, and vegetables are stored in the freezer for year-round use. Desserts are not a regular part of every meal, but available whenever the family wants them.

"I'd like to have more time for entertaining," Mrs. Young said, "but everything I do is spur-of-the-moment. I call up several friends in the morning and say 'Come for coffee,' but we seldom have a planned party."

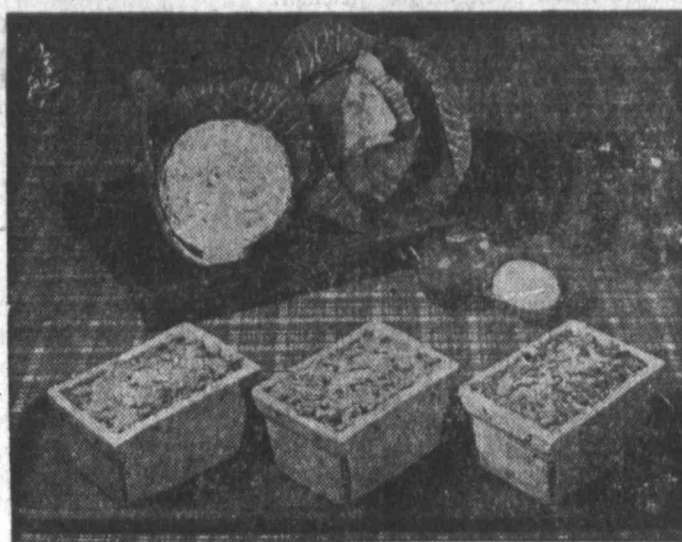

AWARDS
Mrs. Young's job takes several hours each week. It involves making deliveries, going to homes for demonstrations and mailing packages. Her efforts have brought her several awards from the company, and made her many friends in the area.

Mr. and Mrs. Young are both from Clyde. He received a bachelor's degree in chemistry from Abilene Christian College, and is now a group leader in the instrument section at Cosden.

The Youngs are members of Eleventh and Birdwell Church of Christ, where he serves as a deacon, and they both teach a class. She is also a member of Progressive Woman's Forum.

Robust Flavor Combo In Tasty Casserole

Want to cook something a little different that the family will love? Our Casserole is a robust vegetable combination that's hard to beat. It features cabbage and fresh tomatoes with some notable companions such as ground marjoram and grated Cheddar cheese.

Cabbage is a popular vegetable for many good reasons. It's available all year, comes in a choice of two colors, is rich source of Vitamin C and is economical. All the common varieties of cabbage are high in Vitamin C, but new green cabbage is an extra rich source.

Try serving Cabbage and Tomato Casserole with ham, pork, chicken, or lamb. Together with whipped or boiled potatoes, the meal achieves a nice balance of nutrition.

The chops bake for an hour and a half — for the last thirty minutes, they're brushed frequently with a simple orange glaze of corn syrup and orange rind.

Even a novice cook can prepare Orange Glazed Pork Chops with confidence. The secrets of the recipe are chops cut double thickness and corn bread stuffing, already expertly seasoned and ready to be added to the other ingredients. A green vegetable and a mold-ahead salad accompany the chops nicely.

Sugar and spice? In this case, the everything nice (pork chops, orange, corn bread stuffing) makes a glamorous company dinner.

ORANGE GLAZED PORK CHOPS

4 double cut loin pork chops
2 tps. chopped onion
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 tsp. orange rind
1 tsp. chopped pecans
1/4 tsp. salt
2 cups packaged corn bread stuffing
1/4 cup corn syrup

Have butcher make a slit or pocket in side of each pork chop. Saute onions in butter until tender. Stir in orange juice and rind, pecans, salt and stuffing. Season pork chops with salt and pepper and fill pockets with stuffing mixture. Skewer.

Place in shallow baking pan, cover with foil and bake at 375 degrees for 1 hour. Uncover and continue baking 30 minutes, while brushing frequently with orange glaze. Make glaze by combining the last two ingredients. Serves 4.

1 envelope unflavored gelatin

1/4 cup sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
1 1/4 cups water
1/2 apple, thinly sliced
1/4 cup vinegar
1 tsp. lemon juice
1/2 cup finely shredded cabbage
1 cup chopped celery

Mix gelatin, sugar and salt in a small saucepan. Add 1/2 cup of the water. Place over low heat, stirring constantly until gelatin is dissolved. Remove from heat and stir in remaining 3/4 cup of water, vinegar and lemon juice. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in remaining ingredients. Pour into a pint mold and chill until firm.

Salads Hit Spot With Everybody

The salad is simple and classic. More and more, salads have become big taste-bud teasers. Even their initial preparation is pleasurable to the senses — the sight of red-ripe juicy tomatoes ... the sound of crisp green beans snapping with the slightest bend ... the feel of fresh lettuce leaves crackling in your hands ... the smell of spicy aromas from dressing the salad dish ... and the delectable joy of tasting your salad ingredients for the final test of perfection.

CARROT SALAD

1 lb. carrots, peeled
1 1/2 1/2-oz. can pineapple tidbits, well drained
1 cup miniature marshmallows
3/4 cup golden raisins
2 cups sweetened whipped cream

Shred carrots very thin. Combine first four ingredients in large bowl. Fold in whipped cream. Cover bowl. Refrigerate at least 8 hours or overnight. When ready to serve, garnish with additional shredded carrots and lettuce leaves. Serves 6 to 8.

CUCUMBER SALAD

1 medium onion
4 medium cucumbers, peeled
1 1/2 cups vinegar
3/4 cup sugar
3/4 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
3 tps. parsley

Slice onion and cucumbers. Place in bowl. Combine remaining ingredients and pour over onions and cucumbers. Mix well. Cover and refrigerate about 3 hours. Serves 6 to 8. If marinade is too tart, add 1/2 cup water to dilute.

For those diet-watchers, heat chicken broth with tomato juice and season with Worcestershire sauce.

Dilute and heat condensed cream of celery soup; top with crumbled blue cheese.

Soften vanilla ice cream and stir flaked coconut and a little light rum into it; freeze. Serve with chocolate sauce.

Don't Bottle It Up

It was disappointing to see the Senate Jurisprudence Committee spend four hours debating the House-passed open-meetings bill and then send it to a subcommittee.

The subcommittee routing traditionally is bad news for passage. We trust that isn't the case this time but only a move to assure senators that the total aim of the bill is to make government more visible, more responsible, and less vulnerable to improper influences. If the measure is in need of amendment to clarify points which some administrators feel will preclude talking with board or council members, then this should be done promptly and permit the Senate to vote on the measure.

The open-meetings bill is the first of the reform package sent to the Senate. The package is the test of the Senate's determination to give Texans better government than they've had in the recent past. We think that when a citizen wants to go to Austin and observe the processes of government in action, he ought to be able to get in. We think that pre-cut legislation, arranged in private — with or without the help of unidentified lobbyists — has too much potential for mischief.

The Legislature is embarking upon voter-directed revision of the Constitution. That task should envision a higher order of public service and pay commensurate with the standards. We think it's time to start getting the kind of performance that will encourage that kind of goal.

The Senate is half full of new members. There is evidence that those new members want to open up government to public view. Getting the opening meetings bill out of subcommittee is a great starting place on achieving that aim.

Decision Benefits Public

The city commission has examined a proposal to substitute a $1 per vehicle charge for Moss Creek entry as a replacement for a 50 cent fishing and boating charge presently in force — and then rejected the suggestion.

We feel that this was a wise decision, notwithstanding the stated aim of seeking to cut down on the admissions-in the hope of also cutting down on damage and disturbances.

The difficulty with a charge of this sort is that it shotgunns the good with the bad. Besides, a sizeable percentage of the traffic at the lake is by those who drive there to watch or picnic. Charges for boating or fishing, on the other hand, are for special uses and these logically can be imposed without infringing upon the public (whose money provided the facility in the first place) to visit and view.

Tragedy Of Ireland

William F. Buckley Jr.

LONDON — The tension mounts here as the time approaches to release a White Paper which will chart policy for England toward Northern Ireland. It has been delayed for one reason or another, most recently because of the election in the Republic of Ireland, which the English have sought studiously not to influence, in part because they consider Jack Lynch, the incumbent prime minister, a reasonable man, in part because any attempt to influence the election would almost certainly have an effect contrary to that intended; and the government of Edward Heath is simply not constructed to play Machiavellian games.

EVERYONE IS gloomy about the White Paper because everyone knows that whatever it says, it is bound to disappoint, and probably infuriate, one party or the other. The Republic of Ireland will want to see, at the end of the tunnel, the unification of the whole of the island. The two million Ulster Protestants will want above all to know that no such prospect is in sight. The northern Catholics, though they are divided on the matter of unification, will want to see in the White Paper lapidary guarantees of equal status. The Ulster Protestants will want to see in prospect the restitution of their own parliament, the Stormont, in which they will prevail in virtue of their numbers. The IRA Provisionals will want to see something entirely unsatisfactory to their fellow Catholics so as to induce a revolted dissatisfaction from which it profits, and the Ulster Defense Force appears to be far more interested in a bright and happy future shooting school children and fraying Catholic churches, than in dull reconciliation.

THE TROUBLED spirit of England issues from the general feeling that there is no "solution" to the Irish problem. Asked what he would do in Ireland if he were now plenipotentiary, Terence O'Neill, who was prime minister during the crucial years 1963-69, was struck quite dumb, which is no reflection on his resources. On leaving the White House, President Andrew Jackson was asked what would he do if he had it to do again, and he answered "Shoot Clay and hang Calhoun."

NO DOUBT Lord O'Neill would gladly have pulled the noose tight around the neck of Rev. Ian Paisley. On the other hand, he believes that the trouble really began in 1966 when the northern Catholics insisted on celebrating — in true Irish fashion, over a period of 12 days — the 50th anniversary of the uprising in the south, which is not a tactful thing to do, rather as if the German community in New York City loudly celebrated the anniversary of the Reichstag fire.

Although Lord O'Neill's pedigree is as fiercely Irish as anyone — he can trace his descent from the Irish Kings — he is really English, and in the North he is often called a "Protestant traitor" for such offenses as visiting a Catholic school, meeting with the Prime Minister of Eire, and sending a message of condolence on the death of Pope John.

THERE IS lacking anywhere the strong figure, the equivalent of the Bangladesh's Mujibur Rahman, or Algeria's Ben Bella, whose repatriation would mean stable government, and an end at least to free enterprise terrorism. The attempt by a decent, middle-class bureaucracy to handle the Irish problem is most likely to fail, in part because the passions involved defy schematic solutions, in part because there is no preponderant force.

THE TRANSCENDING tragedy lies in the world belief that the problem is a sectarian dispute among Christians. It is instructive to remind oneself that the IRA Provisionals and the gentlemen of the Ulster Defense Force would spit in the face of the Pope and the Queen of England rather than exchange a Christian amenity.

Life Is Short Tale

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Things if he didn't open his mail.

The hippety-hop life of a cottontail rabbit is a short tale. Out of every 1,000 bunnies born, only a third will live long enough to leave the nest. They are killed by cold or rain or raiding skunks, weasels or cats. Slightly more than three years after birth, all 1,000 rabbits will probably be dead.

A young brave in the Guajira Indian tribe in Colombia who wants an attractive bride may have to pay his prospective mother-in-law as many as 300 goats. Compared to the prices brides fetch in other native tribes around the world, this may seem exorbitant — but it has a built-in guarantee. If the bride proves unfaithful to her husband, he can return her and collect a fine from his mother-in-law — also payable in goats.

Quotable notables: "Pleasure is nature's test, her sign of approval. When we are happy we are always good, but when we are good we are not always happy." — Oscar Wilde.

Cut-rate: What did his tribalism pay Benedict Arnold, America's most famous turncoat? He asked 20,000 pounds from the British to relay them the secret plans of West Point. They actually paid him only 6,000 pounds — worth less than $15,000 today. Later, however, the British voted his pretty young wife, Peggy, the instigator of his traitorous deed, to an annual pension of 500 pounds — $1,235 a year.

Worth remembering: "A nursery school is a place where parents send children to catch colds from each other so they can stay at home."

Folklore: Charms in the shape of a fox's head bring good luck. A sputtering candle is a sign a stranger is coming. If you light a candle and it immediately goes out, this foretells an impending disappointment.

Poverty War Ended

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The United States government announced today that the War on Poverty is over and the United States has won. In a historic ceremony at the White House, the President signed the peace treaty which had been negotiated over a period of several months.

THE TERMS of the treaty were lined for reporters: "The United States will withdraw all troops from the War on Poverty within 30 days and will no longer supply financial aid to war-torn poverty areas. "Poor people will be allowed to choose their own destinies without interference from outside sources. "All advisers to the War on Poverty will be brought home.

"ATTACKS ON health problems, unemployment, housing and education will cease as of midnight, March 5. A team of Administration officials will be sent into the field to see that there are no violations of the agreement. If they find anyone continuing the War on Poverty, they shall report them to the Justice Department in Washington. "Legal aid for poor people will be withdrawn from combat areas.

"POVERTY VICTIMS will remain in their own homes and will be forbidden to move into other territory while the treaty is in force. "All weapons used to fight Poverty will be removed, crated and shipped out of the fighting areas.

"Those who were wounded in the War on Poverty will be compensated with daily food stamps worth 50 cents. "Prisoners of Poverty will not be exchanged. They must remain where they are until they are able to figure a way to escape their ghetto. "As soon as the peace treaty goes into effect, all references to Poverty will be stricken from U.S. publications."

A WHITE HOUSE spokesman told reporters, "The President believes this is the greatest peace treaty in the history of mankind. This was a war he did not start, but one which he vowed to end. Poverty has been defeated, and the President achieved the defeat with honor, something his critics predicted he could not do."

A reporter asked, "But suppose the forces of Poverty continue their aggression?"

THE SPOKESMAN said, "The United States has done all it can to fight Poverty. No matter what happens now, we're getting out of the war."

Another reporter asked, "Now that the War on Poverty is over, will there be a peace dividend for the American people?"

"No," the White House spokesman said, "because the money used to fight the War on Poverty is now needed to purchase military hardware which has been sadly neglected during the last seven years."

Long Name — Droopy Ailment

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have heard of a disease called myasthenia gravis but cannot recall reading about it. Is it an old disease, or recently discovered? Is it curable, or can it be arrested? What are the symptoms? Where could information about it be obtained? — Mrs. C.E.P.

No, it's not a new disease. It was described in medical literature back in the 1600s. I don't know as I would call it a common disease, but it certainly isn't rare, either. An estimated 50,000 patients in the United States have it, chiefly women over 30.

While there are things we want and need to know about it, we have enough familiarity with it to know what to do for patients. The characteristics of the ailment involve muscle weakness — drooping eyelids are an early sign — and then such things as double vision, difficulty in chewing, swallowing, talking. It is believed that the difficulty is attributable to faulty transmission of nerve impulses to the muscle fibers. The muscles are still there but don't get their "orders to move."

What causes it? It's difficult to say, but abnormal functioning of the thymus or thyroid glands is noted in some cases. Under the circumstances, "cure" is too strong a word, although in some patients the difficulty does stop. But one thing we do know: in the majority of cases, strength promptly returns when the patient is given an anti-cholinesterase drug which counteracts an enzyme thought to block passage of impulses from nerve to muscle fiber. These drugs are given on a daily basis to keep the patient perking along in good shape. If the response falters, steroids such as prednisone may be tried. In some instances, removal of the thymus gland is effective. Occasionally remission occurs — that is, the symptoms of the disease disappear — after a brief course of medication, but as a general thing, the patient must continue the medication. — You can get more information through the Myasthenia Foundation, Inc., 2 East 103rd St., New York, N.Y. 10029.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: How much sea water can I take per day? I have arthritis and would like to give it a try, but no directions came with it. — F.E.D.

Sea-water as a "cure" for almost anything you can mention has had a lot of publicity but no evidence that it is any good. Since it is merely brine, I dare say you could drink whatever amount you wanted, short of having the excess salt upset your stomach, or disturb your blood pressure, liver or kidneys. I don't expect it to do a thing for your arthritis.

First question: leave it to your doctor. Briefly, hemorrhoidal bleeding presents itself as red blood, ulcer bleeding as a dark tar-colored stool. Second question: yes.

By colitis is meant a variety of intestinal ailments from very serious to merely uncomfortable. For a better understanding of its causes and treatment, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for his booklet, "Colitis and Kindred Complaints," enclosing 25 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed (use zip code) envelope to cover cost of printing and handling.

... Fire, Fire, Fire

Around The Rim

Marj Carpenter

Covering news in small towns has often included covering fires. And somehow, I never have envied the fireman.

Just here in Big Spring, there was a recent discussion of firemen being unable to fight a fire outside the city limits. Of course, that's out of their hands. If the city and county have agreed in this manner, there's really nothing the fireman himself can do about it. We don't know the answer, but it isn't up to the fireman. It's up to the governmental officials.

WE'RE PRONE to wonder what they would do if there was a house on the edge of the city limits with part of it in the city and part of it out. I guess one group could put out the fire in the living room and one the fire in the carport.

We understand that last Saturday, the local firemen were fighting a grass fire and had to get so far out in the field that the truck stuck. They then caught a ride to a house fire where another truck was fighting the blaze.

It's not all fun and games for the firemen. I remember one time I rushed to the scene of a heater treater fire outside Andrews and rushed in close to get a picture. I jumped in the car and was headed back to the office when I heard an explosion and went back. Fire was burning all around in the area where I had been standing a few moments previously and one fireman was screaming.

"I think Marj is in there." Then I drove up. He was glad to see me and I was glad nobody had rushed in to save me when I was long gone.

I WENT to Kermit once when an oilfield fire was blazing and had two of my kids in the car. The man at the gate said, "No women and children." I turned to the kids and said, "Get out and wait here." Then I handed him a press card and said,

"Now I'm just a reporter" and drove on.

Over in Pecos one time, I got to the Todd Cantaloupe Shed fire rather quickly and helped the owners rush into the basement and bring out their records of fancy gift crate customers. One of my kids was in the car that day and was screaming, "Mama, you dumbhead." Or something similar. I got a great picture that day of a roaring fire around a sign that said "Ice for Sale."

I never have lived in a really big city where they had one, two and three alarm fires. I've lived in other towns about the size of Big Spring and then in small towns with volunteer fire departments where they blow that siren every time there's a fire. And some days there are a bunch of them.

The worst fire I ever saw was in Mercedes and lasted two days and nights with eight fire departments fighting it. It started at a cotton gin and spread to three packing sheds and a box crate factory and it began to look like one whole end of town was going to burn. People were laying wet sacks on their roofs and squirting down the walls of houses.

WE TAKE it for granted that if there's a fire, somebody will put it out. But fire can be a terrible destroyer of property and lives.

I've stood to the side of a ranch-house outside Andrews and watched a family standing in the road crying because they knew their son and brother was burning to death inside. I've stood by the highway while a truck driver died trapped and screaming in a crash on a Toyah bridge.

I've watched them pull a child out of a closet where he hid after setting his Grandma's house on fire while playing with matches.

Fire can be a terrible thing. Be glad for the firemen that will fight it.

Reform Or Lesson?

By Rowland Evans

And Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — The revolution transforming power realities inside the House of Representatives, faster than the outside world imagines, poses a threat that cooling battles over tax reform and foreign trade will become orgies of legislative excess.

THE DO-GOODING reforms adopted by the House Democratic caucus in fact transfer root power from conservative-oriented House committee chairmen — particularly Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas, the Ways and Means chairman — to the liberal-dominated caucus. Expert at sensing the climate on Capitol Hill, Mills has not fought these reforms but embraced them — hinting to friends he might just let the House run wild and see how it likes it.

THE GOAL of the present revolution, of course, is not a tax-trade Baccchanalia but an end to the feudal system of power divided among committee chairmen, instead concentrating it with Speaker Carl Albert of Oklahoma and the elected party leadership.

From the beginning, Mills has been a principal target. Liberal reformers have always grumbled about his committee's awesome jurisdiction (taxes, tariffs, Social Security, welfare) and unique authority (power to send bills to the House floor under a "closed" rule barring amendments). Albert's canny adviser, Rep. Richard Boll of Missouri, is a long-time critic of Mills. Most important, Albert was nipped last November when Mills allies tested the water for a possible Mills speakership.

THE RESULT has been an amazingly swift assault on Mills' prerogatives. While Mills was nursing a back ailment in Kensett, Ark., last week, the Democratic caucus approved a major weakening of the closed rule. In effect, it provides that a simple majority vote of the caucus could open up previously inviolate trade and tax bills to multiple amendment.

NIXON AIDES spin nightmarish tales of what might transpire under a liberal-controlled caucus, spurred on by Nader's Raiders and Common Cause, defying the leadership. Worse yet, they fear massive tax cuts, Social Security boosts and high tariffs pouring from a runaway caucus.

Whether controllable or not, it is probable that the caucus will be making major legislative decisions. But unlike many Ways and Means members, Mills does not seem apprehensive. He actually approved last week's momentous changes in advance.

THAT'S BECAUSE Mills is no zealot flinging himself to death against an angry caucus majority. Still a figure of unmatched prestige in the House, he believes he can talk the caucus out of wholesale amendments. Or perhaps, he hints privately, he might not even try. The result of a tax or trade bill open to amendment might teach the House a lesson.

Get Move On

HAILSHAM, England (AP) — Frank Garner, 82, was banned from driving for 10 years for going too slowly.

Police told the court here that Garner was traveling along the middle of the main London-Eastbourne highway at 10 m.p.h. Garner pleaded guilty to driving without reasonable consideration for other road users.

MY ANSWER

Billy Graham

My problem is severe insomnia. I've tried praying about it, with little result. My doctor has prescribed sleeping pills, but now I fear becoming addicted. What advice can you give me? D. L.

First of all, I hope you realize that some people do not require eight hours of sleep. Physicians say that the sleep "ration" varies according to physical and mental characteristics, and environmental factors. Wasn't it Thomas Edison who slept only about four hours, before he returned to his many creative activities.

Often the culprit in cases of insomnia is worry. Did you know the Encyclopedia says that worry can produce muscular tensions that block sleep? For this, God and faith have an answer. Said the old Psalmist, "I sought the Lord and He heard me, and delivered me from all my fears." Another Bible statement of wisdom are the words of Jesus in Matthew 6, "Don't be anxious about tomorrow. Live one day at a time."

So then here's my advice. Use your sleepless hours constructively. Spend them in Bible reading and prayer and maybe listening to some soothing music. Repeat to yourself the words of Psalm 4:8, "I will lie down in peace and sleep, for though I am alone, O Lord, you will keep me safe."

A Devotion For Today...

(Love) can outlast anything. It is, in fact, the one thing that still stands when all else has fallen. (I Corinthians 13:8, Phillips)

PRAYER: Our Father, help us this day to be agents of Your love. Take from our hearts anger, hatred, and selfishness. Use each one of us to bring hope, peace, and joy. In the spirit of Jesus. Amen. (From the "Upper Room")

MEATLESS DAYS, PERHAPS?

Pocketbook Problems

NEW YORK (AP) — Pocketbook problems are going to be big news in coming months, and don't be surprised if some tempers are tested beyond the breaking point. Yours, George Meany's or maybe even the President's temper.

The fact is that there is still a lot of inflationary thrust beneath consumer prices, especially for food, and there isn't much that can be done at the moment to prevent further rises in the next few weeks and months.

BIG STICK

Administration spokesmen concede their inability to bring quick relief from rising food prices by increasing the supply. And it is unlikely that families will reduce the pressures by lowering their consumption.

The unhappy situation is directly at odds with the goal of price stability that President Nixon has sought through fundamental fiscal and monetary changes. Short of admitting failure, his only option is direct intervention.

More than once in recent days the President has reminded listeners that he can act directly — that he has a "big stick" in the closet. It is "totally wrong" to assume controls have ended, he said in a radio address.

There is, the likelihood also that the family shopper will be tempted to take direct action, although her power is limited to boycotts, protests and the like. But voluntarily lower her family's standard of living? No.

ANGUISH

Whereas a housewife can pare her budget for clothing, transportation and entertainment, she can lower the quantity or quality of food served to her family only with a great deal of anguish over their health.

The frustration will be made even less tolerable by the expectation that wages will be restrained, if only through psychology rather than controls. And this surely will test the temper of Meany, the AFL-CIO leader.

Meany already has warned that organized labor "will push wages up unless prices come down." Since there is little chance that prices will fall, a Meany-Nixon confrontation could put the big stick policy to its first big test.

About the only certain relief in sight for workers are the big refund checks from the Internal Revenue Service that are going out to hundreds of thousands of workers who failed to adjust their withholding forms last year.

TRYING DAYS

These checks, however, are a one-time blessing and inflation is a continuing curse.

Could it be the farmer who will be most severely tested? While farm prices have been rising very sharply, the amount of the food dollar that goes to farmers is still well below what it was 25 years ago. Still, because of the direction in which farm prices have been moving, it is likely that pressure will build for food price relief at the source, the farm, which is guaranteed to be viewed by the farmer as highly unjust. Some trying days are ahead for budgeteers, and if there is any escape it isn't highly visible now. Meatless days, perhaps? Few families are likely to accept them if they can continue eating meat without borrowing money to do so.

Change Vote Date

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Cameron County Judge Ray Ramon has changed the date for the South Padre Island incorporation election from March 10 to March 24. Ramon said he made the change to allow time for absentee voting which is to begin March 5 and continue through March 20. The judge set the election last week after being petitioned by a number of South Padre Island residents.

Commercials Producing

'Generation Of Cynics'

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — told the Phoenix Advertising Club. "I tell you candidly, if I were a businessman or broadcaster or an advertiser, or if I ran an agency, that single indicator would strike terror in my very bones." He noted that "there are some encouraging signs on the self-regulation front. Vitamin ads are already off children's weekend programs. Selling by program hosts or characters is being phased out. Commercial minutes and commercial character are scheduled for reduction by the start of the year." He praised the National Association of Broadcasters Code Authority and various advertising associations for their efforts to curb drug commercials which, he said, "would compete with laundry soap for No. 1 on the 'pain in the neck' parade."

Irish Vote Count Starts

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — The count started today in the Irish Republic's national election with both sides claiming victory on the basis of a heavy turnout.

First reports indicated that more than 90 per cent of those registered voted in some areas. It was believed that the overall turnout was close to the record 81.3 per cent of 1933.

The election pitted Prime Minister Jack Lynch's Fianna Fail—Soldiers of Destiny—party against a coalition of Liam Cosgrave's Fine Gael—Irish Party—and the Labor party.

Fianna Fail has been in power for 16 years. First results were expected around 11 a.m. EST, but the final results may not be known before Friday or Saturday because of a complicated system of proportional representation.

Patrolman Shot, Suspect Slain

NEW BRAUNFELS, Tex. (AP) — A state patrolman was wounded in the hand and a man was killed Wednesday night after a robbery in San Antonio and a shootout near here.

After the holdup in San Antonio, officers said three bandits tried to escape by driving north of the city on Interstate 35, where they encountered a roadblock set up by Patrolman Hugh Hartman and a deputy from the Comal County Sheriff's department.

Gunfire from the bandits' speeding car hit Hartman in the hand.

The wounded officer managed to get off a charge from his shotgun, hitting the car.

The shootout occurred at another roadblock near New Braunfels when one of the robbers was killed. He was not identified at once.

Women Given Greater Freedom At San Marcos

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (AP) — Weekend and overnight lockouts. Self-regulated hours will mean "open dorms," however, according to Dean of Women Lunnelle Anderson. Every possible means of keeping coeds safe and secure while in their dormitories are being taken, Dean Anderson says. Under the new policy, dormitory desks will close at midnight Sunday through Thursday and at 2 a.m. Friday and Saturday. Doors will be secured at these hours and male visitors must leave the lobbies. Deputized male attendants will be on duty to let residents back into their dorms. Patrolling security guards will admit women into their dorms after the male attendants go off duty on weeknights and after the 2 a.m. closing on weekends. The coeds may leave their dorms whenever they choose.

Broken Window Was Vandalism

The sheriff's office listed a window broken from a vacant building at 100 S. 5th St. in Coahoma as vandalism instead of burglary, as suspected originally. Nothing was believed taken. Frank Hernandez, the owner, lives in Colorado.

'WHAT'S GOING ON HERE?'

Italian 'Our Gang' Tragedy

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP TV Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Honor Thy Father" is a huge, well-researched book by Gay Talese.

It's about New York's Cosa Nostra, its various "family" squabbles and the resulting thumps of falling bodies. The book has been fashioned into a two-hour movie that airs tonight on the CBS Television network. For some viewers, this may be an offer they can refuse.

Others may give it a try if they've enjoyed Talese's fine, real-life account of the affairs of Salvatore "Bill" Bonanno and his father, Joseph "Joe Bananas" Bonanno, the latter listed in government files in 1963 as head of his own Cosa Nostra family here.

But a warning: After movies like "The Godfather" and "The Valachi Papers," "Honor Thy Father" comes across as just another Italian "Our Gang" tragedy.

It is suggested, should you watch it, that you have a copy of the Talese book at the ready.

It's a necessity if you are to keep track of the assorted "family" references that zip by faster than one can say fettucini.

The show's composers try to keep things together with an off-screen narrator, Joseph Campanella, who periodically describes who is fleeing, fighting or fooling around with whom.

It's of little help. The correct note is sounded by a peace delegate from the big boys who, upon facing Joseph Bonanno's small army at a parking lot meeting, asks: "What's going on here?"

There also are scenes of men dying of heart failure attributed to pistol and submachine gun bullets in their persons.

And so it goes, not all of it violent, until the Bonanno empire is whittled down. The final whittle involves the use of a credit card that puts Salvatore Bonanno in jail for four years.

The movie was an ambitious project, but it seems too familiar, too long and too disjointed. It was shot on location in New York, and after seeing it I wish New York had shot back.

Three Return From Dallas

STANTON — Three executives of Cap Rock Electric Co-operative of Stanton return today from the National Rural Electric Cooperative Meeting in Dallas.

O. B. Bryan, Cap Rock manager; Glenn Cantrell, board president; and James Eiland, executive manager were among the 10,000 representatives of nearly 1,000 rural electric systems attending the five-day meeting.

Among nationally prominent governmental leaders addressing sessions at the confab were Sen. Herman Talmadge (D-Ga.), Rep. J. J. Pickle (D-Tex.), Sen. Charles Mathias (R-Md.), Sen. Richard Clark (D-Iowa).

Theme of the meeting was "Time of Crisis" concerning the Administration decision to terminate the direct loan program of the Rural Electrification Administration.

Medical Costs Can Be Pared

Rising medical care costs can be slowed if the Texas Legislature will enact a strong certificate of need bill and revise the Texas pharmacy law. That was the conclusion of the final report of the Senate Interim Committee to Study Rising Medical Costs.

The committee recommended a certificate-of-need provision in a proposed revision of the Texas hospital licensure law. It would require hospitals of all types to apply to an appropriate health facilities planning council for a certificate-of-need in the event a hospital decides to make a capital expenditure in excess of $50,000.

The outlay would not be approved by the council unless there was a definite need for the expansion or the purchase of equipment. Upon approval, a certificate of need would be issued, and the hospital would be free to carry out its plans. The failure of a hospital to comply would jeopardize its license.

The other means of slowing the rising medical care costs reported by the Senate interim committee is "by revising the Texas pharmacy law to allow the pharmacist, in filling a prescription, to select a product within the group of drugs having the identical chemical entity but differing in brand name. The law as it presently stands is commonly known as the 'anti-substitution' law."

Dance Scheduled

There will be a dance Sunday in the John H. Lees Recreation Center at Webb AFB, T. T. Trull, a rock group from San Antonio, will be back to provide music. The dance will start at 8 p.m. and continue until midnight. Admission will be 50 cents per person.

FORT WORTH (AP) — A jury assessed Houston printer Peter Anthony Derks a 30-year prison sentence Wednesday for the rape last May of a Fort Worth woman.

Derks, 26, waived his right to appeal, and within minutes District Court Judge J. E. Winters formally passed sentence.

Jurors deliberated only 10 minutes Tuesday before returning a guilty verdict. The punishment ruling Wednesday came after about three hours of deliberation.

Derks testified he was under the influence of marijuana and LSD when the woman, 25, was attacked south of Fort Worth May 19, 1972. He said he could not recall the assault.

Summer Primary Measure On Its Way To Full Senate

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A bill to move the Texas primary from May to August is on its way to the full Senate after being passed by a committee Wednesday with only one dissenting vote.

Sen. Nelson Wolff, D-San Antonio, sponsor of the measure, said it would cut the expense of office-seeking by shortening the time required to campaign. The bill would basically shift elections, and corresponding political conventions closer to the November general elections. The primary, now in May, would be the first week in August. Runoffs would be in September. And all election days would be on Tuesday, instead of Saturday.

Longoria said summer elections were "out of the question in Texas." He said voters "have got to go to work or to school. They won't be home in July or August."

Longoria later predicted his "only hope is in the House" for defeat of the Wolff bill.

The deadline for filing would be moved from February to the first week in June, on an amendment by Sen. Jack Ogg, D-Houston.

Guards With Bloodhounds Hunt Two Armed Fugitives

MCALISTER, Okla. (AP) — Prison guards with bloodhounds searched today in a wooded area about two and one-half miles southwest of the town of McAlester, Okla., for the escapees, one of them from the state penitentiary Wednesday night.

very relieved," said Fay Durant, Busby's sister-in-law. She was staying with his wife. Busby told the highway patrol he walked to a house and called authorities after his release. Troopers took a statement from him and rushed him home.

The escapees are Marion Belk of Oklahoma City, serving 25 years for armed robbery in Oklahoma County, and James D. Alexander of Marshall, Tex., serving seven years for armed robbery in Creek County.

Acting FBI Director Says Arrest Of Reporter Valid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The acting director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation today said the arrest of reporter Leslie Whitten on charges of possession of stolen documents was valid even though a grand jury did not return an indictment, says acting FBI Director J. Patrick Gray.

Whitten and Indians Hank Adams and Anita Collins were arrested Jan. 31 outside of Adams' apartment as they were loading three boxes of the stolen documents into Whitten's car.

IN HIS HANDS
A grand jury refused to indict them after they testified that they were returning the documents, stolen during last fall's Indian occupation of the BIA to the agency. Whitten's boss, Jack Anderson, wrote several columns about the BIA occupation.

Gray told the Senate Judiciary Committee Wednesday that the arrest was made after District of Columbia police told the FBI some of the stolen documents were to be delivered "to the columnist for a sum of money."

He said the FBI had no information the documents were being returned to the BIA. Gray said the arrest of Whitten, with a box of documents in his hands, was made on the authorization of an assistant U.S. attorney.

Gray also confirmed that, after Whitten's arrest, Anderson's telephone records were subpoenaed in an action initiated by the government attorney who was in charge of the grand-jury investigation.

PEOPLE SPEAK
He said the telephone records were not used, as Anderson says, to inquire into the columnist's news sources, but to try to locate other stolen BIA documents.

The committee is conducting hearings into Gray's appointment to succeed the late J. Edgar Hoover as FBI director. The hearings continue today.

A member of the panel, Sen. Marlow Cook, R-Ky., asked if the check on Anderson's calls continued after the grand jury refused to indict. "No, it's stopped," Gray said. "The grand jury has spoken."

With respect to the FBI's investigation of the Watergate bugging case Gray offered to let any member of the Senate inspect the raw files.

He also said he would make available for questioning any FBI agent who participated in the investigation.

Gray testified that from the outset he ordered an aggressive, all-out probe of the break-in and bugging of Democratic national headquarters without any restrictions as to who might be involved.

PATRICK GRAY III On Firing Line

Porno, No! Tawdry, Yes!

AUSTIN (AP) — "Topper" magazine might be "dismally unpleasant, uncouth and tawdry," the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals said Wednesday, but that doesn't mean it violates pornography laws.

The court overturned the conviction and fine of Harmon B. Thacker, a San Antonio grocery store owner, who had the magazine for sale in his store.

The court said the magazine showed "no overt... sexual activity" although it did have some female nudity.

"This court has held those kinds of pictures not to be obscene and we adhere to that holding," the opinion said.

It also commented on the way the charge was filed — on the basis of a vice squad detective who walked in the store and bought the magazine.

There was not a suggestion of an assault upon individual privacy... so obstructive as to make it impossible for an unwilling individual to avoid exposure," the court said.

Weekend Trip

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My 29-year-old daughter recently divorced her husband. Bernice has a four-year-old son who is staying with me while his mother is off on a weekend trip.

I just found out Bernice went on this trip with her boy friend, which is something I do not approve of. She has always been a respectable girl, and if this gets around, I'm afraid it will ruin her reputation and spoil her chances for marrying a nice man.

I am a 63-year-old widow. I own my own home and enjoy cooking and keeping house. More than anything else, I love my grandson and he loves staying with "Grandma." I could give him a wonderful home.

If I can obtain proof of my daughter's immoral conduct and prove her to be an unfit mother, what are my chances for gaining custody of my grandson?

CONCERNED GRANDMOTHER

DEAR CONCERNED: Are you concerned for your grandson or for yourself? I don't recommend pursuing your scheme. Your chances for gaining custody of your grandson are small, and should you lose, your daughter would probably never let you see him again.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a nice guy, but he has lousy grammar. My problem is that my oldest child is in the first grade, and even though I've corrected her when she talks like her father, she has picked up some of his bad habits. I hate to hurt my husband's feelings by correcting HIM in front of the kid, but if I don't, I'm afraid she will sound like he does, which is pretty bad. I would appreciate your advice. STUCK MOMMY

DEAR MOMMY: Keep correcting HER, and don't worry about your husband. The good Lord seems to look after children in such circumstances. How else can we explain those who were reared in homes by parents with "lousy" grammar but speak beautifully?

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69706, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

SLATED HERE IN APRIL

Local Garden Clubs To Host Convention

The Rosebud and Oasis garden clubs will be in charge of table decorations when the spring convention for District 1, Southern Zone, Texas Federation of Garden Clubs, is held in Big Spring April 5-6.

The Rosebud club, which met Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Charles W. Sweeney, 6 Highland Heather, with Mrs. J. F. Sanders as cohostess, voted in favor of the Big Spring Garden Club Council's plan to have a flower show at the county fair later this year.

Mrs. Odell Womack, nominating committee chairman, read the proposed slate of officers for 1973-74. They are Mrs. J. W. Kuykendall, president; Mrs. Clyde E. Thomas, vice president; Mrs. Tommy Hart, secretary; Mrs. Sam Kamm, reporter; and Mrs. Jesse Crane Jr., treasurer. The installation luncheon will be held in May at Big Spring Country Club.

Mrs. Dale Smith, a master amateur flower show judge and certified landscape critic, was the speaker. Also, she is a ratified state lecturer and a member of Rosebud Garden Club.

"Modern Forms in Flower Arranging: Abstract and Free Form Designs" was the topic.

In defining free form, Mrs. Smith said it must "wobble wobble."

"In other words, you would use no completely round base or container for there are no geometrics in free form," said the speaker.

Free style means you can arrange anything from traditional to modern to abstract; you are not restricted to any one style. Express yourself in your flower arrangements, and don't try to be a carbon copy of someone else when you arrange.

Mrs. Smith has "graduated" to heavy form, which will not tear up, using mostly dried plant material. She said her appreciation for this type arrangement stems from traveling several miles to a flower show and arriving with flowers too fragile to hold up very long.

To get balance in arrangements, she suggested that the arranger close one eye, and study the arrangement, thereby getting a true picture. It is easier this way, she explained, to discover if it is lopsided, too heavy at the top or in need of a heavier base.

The speaker made six arrangements, one of which was made with a weathered piece of wood and barbed wire. This was an abstract arrangement, giving the subtle suggestion of a fence.

The next meeting will be March 27 in the home of Mrs. L. B. Edwards, 2703 Crestline Road.

Sale Of Books Brings $300

The Friends of the Library netted more than $300 during the recent two-day used book sale at Howard County Library.

The public is invited to attend a review of "The Book of Acts" from the Bible, at 2:30 p.m., March 18 at the library. Mrs. Ealk Earl K. Moore Jr. of Odessa will be the speaker. There will be no admission charge. "Captains and Kings," a book by Taylor Caldwell, will be reviewed in April by Mrs. R.B.G. Cowper. More details will be announced.

Friends of the Library meet at 1:30 p.m., each fourth Tuesday of the month at the library. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Natives Of Pakistan Describe Customs

Mr. and Mrs. Rasheed Quadri, local residents who are natives of Karachi Pakistan, were guest speakers Tuesday evening for the Business and Professional Women's Club at a dinner meeting in Coker's Restaurant.

Quadri and his wife, Azra, discussed social customs, religions, marriage and governmental changes in Pakistan. Quadri, who has been associated with the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center for the past year, recently went back to Pakistan to be married, and his wife returned with him to Big Spring. The couple was introduced by Mrs. Garland Morrison.

The program was arranged by the public relations committee. Mrs. John Hardy, chairman; Mrs. Mamie Roberts, Mrs.

Ruby Billings and Mrs. Morrison.

Mrs. Charles Summers presided for the business session, and the invocation was by Mrs. Roberts. The president announced a leadership seminar for B&P members will be held in Seminole March 24.

Mrs. James Vineyard was welcomed as a new member, and Mrs. Rozelle Dohoney, a former member, was introduced as a transfer member from the Pecos Club. Mrs. Wesley Majors was a guest.

The next regular meeting, March 13, will be under the direction of the legislation committee with Miss Moveida Rhine as chairman. An appreciation dinner for bosses is scheduled March 27 at Coker's Restaurant.

Originality Of Thought Stressed

"A good conversationalist must be original in her thoughts," said Mrs. Gary Huckabay Tuesday for Alpha Kappa Omicron chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, in the First Federal Community Room.

Listing the attributes of a good conversationalist, Mrs. Huckabay said a talker must also be a good listener, and that she must not dwell extensively on her own personal life or problems. The members discussed their own ways of keeping a conversation going smoothly.

Mrs. Clay LaRoche conducted an installation ritual for Mrs. Jerry Meyer. Pledge training was given by Mrs. Jolene Burgess. Mrs. Allen Carlie was hostess.

A couples rush party is scheduled March 17 with a St. Patrick's Day party at Webb Air Force Base pavilion. The next business meeting will be March 13, place to be announced, and new officers will be elected.

Women Buy Vehicle Stock

Stock in the Winnebago Corporation was purchased Tuesday by Market Challenge Investment Club, which met in the Chamber of Commerce conference room. Mrs. W. H. Eysen reviewed the company, as well as Hunt Building Corporation in which the club already owns stock.

Mrs. M. A. Porter presided, and Mrs. Leon Hoag reviewed the status of all stocks owned by the club. In other business, Mrs. Robert H. Moore was appointed treasurer, and club by-laws were revised.

The group will meet again at twelve o'clock noon, March 27 in the First Federal Community Room.

Rugs Are Displayed

The art of making hooked rugs was demonstrated Wednesday by Mrs. Joe Y. Rogers for Newcomers Handicrafts Club in the home of Mrs. Robert R. Stuart, 1506 Tucson.

Mrs. Rogers displayed two rugs she had made, plus a wall-hanging she is completing.

Rugs may be hooked from a kit which includes the necessary materials as well as a design already printed on the material. However, the rugs shown by Mrs. Rogers were her own designs. She stressed the importance of buying a thickly woven quality burlap for hooked rugs. The burlap must be tightly stapled to a frame prior to hooking.

Mrs. Rogers said burlap and rug yarns come in a wide variety of colors and allow versatility in the methods of use. In addition to rugs and wall hangings, Mrs. Rogers has created designs for chair covers and upholstery.

A salad-buffet meeting is scheduled at 11:30 a.m., March 14 at Mrs. Rogers' home, 503 Scott.
