'YOU DON'T KNOW HOW GOOD IT IS TO BE FREE'

More Happy Ex-Prisoners 'Home'

CLARK AIR BASE, Philippines (AP) — The Viet Cong released 34 more prisoners of war in Hanoi today, including the only foreign woman held by the Communists, and a U.S. Air Force hospital plane brought them to Clark Air Base for a presidential welcome.

President Ferdinand E. Marcos was on hand because two Filipino employees of the Voice of America were among those freed, along with 27 American military men, three American civilians and two West German medical workers.

One of the Germans was nurse Monika Schwinn, 30, who was captured near Da Nang April 27, 1969.

It was the second prisoner release in two days. On Sunday, the North Vietnamese freed 106 Americans and two Thais in Hanoi.

First off the plane today was the ranking American military member of the group, Army

Capt. Stephen R. Leopold, 28, of Milwaukee, Wis.

"My God, you don't know how good it is to be free, how good it is to be home," he said in a brief speech.

The POWs were dressed in the same gray shirts and dark slacks that other prisoners who have returned from Hanoi have worn.

All but one of the American military men smartly saluted the American flag before stepping down the ramp to be greeted by Marcos, Adm. Noel Gayler, commander in chief of U.S. forces in the Pacific; U.S. Ambassador Henry A. Byroade, and the commander of the 13th Air Force, Lt. Gen. William G. Moore Jr.

Marine Sgt. Frank E. Cius Jr., 36, who was captured June 3, 1967, saluted Gayler as he stepped down but not the colors. He was the only POW to be released so far for whom the military has not announced a home town. They said this was done at the request of his family.

Also on the flight were five members of the armed forces radio television network captured in Hue during the Tet offensive on Feb. 3, 1968.

They were Marine Capt. James V. Dibernardo, 38, of Mission Viejo, Calif., commander of the unit, Army Spec. 5 Jose M. Astorga, 22, of San Diego, Calif.; Army S.Sgt. John A. Deering, 30, of Durham, N.C.; Army S.Sgt. Harry L. Ettmueller, 29, of Pleasantville, N.J., and M.Sgt. Donat Joseph Gouin, 44, of Lima, Ohio.

The three American civilians were Clodean Adkins, 57, of Homeland, Calif., Michael Dennis Benge, 37, of Heppner, Ore., and Lawrence J. Stark, 37, of Chicago, Ill. All were captured during the Tet offensive in 1968.

Miss Schwinn, who was working for the Maltese Aid Service Mission when she was captured, managed a brief smile as she stepped into the glare of the television lights.

The formality that had marked the first part of the arrival quickly disappeared as the two men were smothered in the arms of their families. Balagot was greeted by his wife and all eight of his children.

The North Vietnamese and Viet Cong now have freed 299 Americans since the Jan. 28 cease-fire. Today was the first time the Viet Cong have released any prisoners at Hanoi.

GLAD TO SEE YOU 'TEX' — A helping hand goes out from Adm. Noel Gayler to L. Col. Robert J. Sandvick, Farwell, Tex., as the returnee slips on the ramp incline as he gets out of a plane at Clark Air Base. Sandvick was in the first of three hospital planes that brought former POWs from Hanoi's airport.

Guilty Plea By Novotny

DALLAS (AP) — Joe Novotny, one of three men who figured in the Texas Stock fraud scandals, pleaded guilty today to a charge of mail fraud as his trial and that of two companions opened in U.S. district court.

The mail charge is one of 12 counts in the indictment faced by Novotny. It concerns an envelope containing a letter with enclosures sent to the Exchange Bank and Trust in Dallas.

HAND IN POCKET

Novotny, 30, stood with one hand in his pocket as Judge William M. Taylor addressed him in the opening session. He was told his guilty plea could cost him a five-year sentence and a fine of $5,000.

Novotny told the judge he had changed his plea "freely and voluntarily." The judge set a later date for sentencing.

The other defendants—former Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and onetime State Insurance Commissioner John Osorio—said previously through their lawyers that they would plead innocent to all 12 counts in a federal grand jury indictment charging mail and wire fraud.

Informed sources said the government agreed in exchange for a guilty plea on one of the 12 counts to dismiss all other charges against Novotny, former president of the Sharpstown State Bank in Houston and in those days a principal aide of promoter Frank W. Sharp.

Before starting selection of the jury Taylor told the panel of potential jurors that they would not be concerned with the case of Novotny, which "will be disposed of in another proceeding."

He did not tell them that Novotny had pleaded guilty a few moments earlier.

Warning the jury that the case might go over into next week, the judge read out a list of 18 witnesses to be called by the government.

REAL TEST

Taylor rejected a motion that Carr's trial should be severed on the grounds that Osorio had a previous conviction and Novotny had changed his plea to guilty.

Emmett Colvin, lawyer for Osorio, sought a change of venue on the grounds of excessive publicity.

Two Men Beaten; No Charges Yet

A wild weekend in Big Spring left law officials investigating a break-in and beating, a double shooting, a stabbing, and a burglary Monday morning.

Donald Monk, 21, and Fred L. Chinske IV reported that they were beaten by four assailants at 1:56 a.m. Sunday at 1602 Scurry.

A Police detective report indicated that they had a description of the assailants but no names. Chinske stated to The Herald Monday morning that he could identify one of them and was en route to the district attorney's office to help in the investigation.

SENT BACK

Bob Moore, district attorney, said that he sent them back to the detectives with the information. No arrests have yet been made. Chinske was battered about the head.

Three youths were arrested at 11:52 p.m. Sunday at Carver's Pharmacy. One was reported inside the building and two in a car parked nearby. They are in the city jail. Held for investigation of burglary were Donald Prescott, 23, Michael Olson, 21, and William Martign, 18.

Both Lola Mae Hayes, 20 and Eugene Vanderbilt are hospitalized after apparently shooting at each other with two different .22 caliber weapons, according to an investigation by police detectives. The shooting occurred at Northcrest Apts., No. 6.

Vanderbilt had been shot once in the left arm. Lola Hayes was shot four or five times, according to the police report. Vanderbilt has been charged with discharging a firearm in the city limits.

HOSPITALIZED

Glen Gray is at a local hospital with a cut face and chest in connection with an incident at the Thrifty Lodge at 12:05 a.m. Sunday. Two persons were arrested and a third one released. Ultimately Albert Huey O'Neal of Denver City was charged with assault with intent to murder, according to the police detective's report.

A shooting also occurred Saturday at 10:05 p.m. at a Shoe Shine Parlor at 408 NW 3rd. A man who suffered a hip injury in the gunfire refused to see a doctor or file charges.

Cecil Murrell Odell was arrested in Odessa Saturday night in a car registered to Mrs. Adel Posey of 1000 Goliad. She was out of town and her mother, Mrs. Herman D. Page, went to the apartment and said that the house had been broken into and the car was missing. Charges were awaiting the return of the daughter.

At 10:36 p.m. a waitress was beaten up in the parking lot at Denny's. Sharon Houg was hospitalized and the beating is under investigation.

SLAIN ENVOY'S WIDOW — Mrs. Cleo A. Noel Jr., widow of the U.S. ambassador who was slain by Palestinian guerrillas, receives condolences today from unidentified Sudanese officials and diplomats before her husband's body is taken aboard a U.S. Presidential jet for a flight from Khartoum, Sudan, to Washington. Noel was one of three diplomats killed in the Saudi Arabian Embassy at Khartoum before the terrorists surrendered.

U.S. Plane Brings Home Bodies Of Slain Envoys

KHARTOUM, Sudan (AP) — Diplomats, Sudanese officials and newsmen wept openly today as a U.S. presidential plane left Khartoum to take home the bodies and families of two U.S. diplomats murdered by Palestinian guerrillas.

The burlap-wrapped bodies of U.S. Ambassador Cleo A. Noel Jr. and Charge d'Affaires G. Curtis Moore were carried from the blood-spattered Saudi Arabian Embassy on Sunday. The eight guerrillas surrendered to Sudanese authorities after holding out for 60 hours.

The terrorists also killed the Belgian charge d'affaires, Guy Eid, but freed Jordanian Charge d'Affaires, Nasser, Saudi Ambassador Abdullah Malhouk and his wife unharmed.

AULD LANG SYNE

A band softly played Auld Lang Syne as the flag-draped coffins were lifted into the Boeing jet shortly after dawn, and the grieving families said goodbye to the long line of well wishers.

Two U.S. Marines in dress blues flanked each casket, but otherwise there was no ceremony.

President Jaafar al Numairi assigned Minister of Reform Abdul Rahman Abdul Ilah to accompany the bodies of Noel and Moore and to present Sudan's condolences to President Nixon.

In Washington, the State Department said the plane would arrive at Andrews Air Force Base about 4 p.m. EST. The two diplomats will be buried in Arlington National Cemetery.

The eight guerrillas, members of the Black Septemberist faction of the Palestine liberation movement, were held at a Khartoum army headquarters.

OUTRAGEOUS

President Numairi cabled President Nixon that he would deal firmly with them. "We find the killing of these men outrageous," he said.

A high-ranking member of the Sudanese government told diplomats privately: "The guerrillas are already dead men."

More than 100 paratroopers surrounded the embassy Sunday as the eight Palestinians, described as between 19 and 25 years old, emerged from the building flashing victory signs.

In a statement issued in Beirut, Black September said the guerrillas surrendered "because of the high esteem we hold" for Numairi.

"We leave them in trust in his hands," the statement said. "We are confident they will be treated as true revolutionary fighters."

MACHINE GUNS

Armed with machine guns, grenades and revolvers, the guerrillas invaded the embassy during a reception Thursday night and demanded the release of a number of Palestinians held in various countries. It soon became apparent, however, that their chief goal was freedom for guerrilla leader Mohammed Daoud Odeh and 19 other members of the Palestinian movement under death sentence in Jordan.

None of the terrorists' demands were met, and King Hussein of Jordan on Sunday confirmed the death sentence against Daoud and his associates.

And Guy James, Coahoma, with a 26th place medium-weight Hereford.

Entered in different categories were 1,850 steers. In the youth barrow competition, local winners included:

Cindy Shaw, Knott, who received fifth place for her light-weight Duroc;

Jana Long, Knott, taking eighth in light-weight Duroc.

Patty Peugh, Knott, with a 20th place medium-weight Duroc.

Dick Perry, Knott, whose Chester White showed ninth place as a light-weight.

David Long, Knott, with a 13th place light-weight cross breed. And Kayla Gaskins, Knott, who brought a middle-weight cross breed.

Kent Robinson, Knott, participated in the calf scramble.

TEN COMPETING H. V. Crocker In City Race

As filing ended Saturday for the City Commission election, 10 candidates joined the race for the two seats to be filled April 3.

Howard V. Crocker of 1707 Benton St. was the last to file before the midnight deadline Saturday. Crocker was formerly chief of the city fire department.

Official entries in the race for the positions being vacated by incumbents Jack Watkins and M. R. Koger are Eli Gunn, T. E. Wilcox, Mrs. Floyd Mays, W. K. Carson, Eddie Vela, Mrs. Dannie Boiros, Jim L. Abreo, Charles Tompkins, H. Boyce Hale and Crocker.

"I have a special interest," said Crocker, "and that special interest is teamwork in city government. No one could spend 42 years with an institution as I did with the City of Big Spring, without realizing how the city is organized to function smoothly and effectively if people work together in harmony. I feel that the time has come to this, and if I can make a contribution to teamwork on the council, I will give it everything I have."

Crocker came here in 1930 and was part of a two-man fire department. He later became chief (for 28 years) and presided over the growth to 48 men and six stations at the peak before his retirement in 1971. He was on the Texas A & M fireman's short course faculty and board and on the advisory board of Odessa College's firemen's course.

He also has been active in community affairs, including the Milk & Ice Fund, and the Christmas Cheer fund in which firemen repaired toys for needy children and otherwise helped with Christmas benevolences. He worked with the Chamber of Commerce and with the late George O'Brien started the Firemen's Sunday School Class, a sort of downtown men's group.

He currently is in the Men's Bible class at First United Methodist, a member of the IOOF, Masons and other orders. He and his wife, Lona, a vocational nurse, have four children, Anne Miller, Lubbock, on leave as PE professor at Tech; H. V. (Sonny) Crocker Jr., Herald circulation; Mrs. Malinda Blackburn, Dallas, model; and Johnny Crocker, North Texas State University graduate. Crocker made it plain he is not drawing a pension from the City of Big Spring. His retirement is from the state.

No 'Pockets Of Fat' Claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Elliot L. Richardson said today there are no "pockets of fat" in the defense budget to pay for north reconstruction of North Vietnam.

Richardson said, however, it may be possible to come up with the funds if the cease-fire is fully adhered to by North and South Vietnam.

In that case, he said, some of the $2.9 billion programmed for Southeast Asia in the 1974 fiscal budget could be used for postwar aid.

The secretary denied that he was at odds with President Nixon, who said Friday that postwar aid to the North, if approved by Congress, would come from existing defense and foreign-aid funds.

The President was saying the money can be provided but was not suggesting that funds in the Pentagon budget were already programmed for postwar aid, Richardson told a news conference.

Richardson said another possibility would be that if Congress cut the over-all $79-billion fiscal 1974 defense budget, the cuts could be reprogrammed for aid to the North.

But as it stands now, Richardson said, the new budget is austere with little room for trimming.

"I have not been able to find any pockets of fat . . . There aren't any," he told reporters.

Richardson noted that Nixon described aid to the North as giving the Communists a stake in the peace. It would serve as a "very important insurance policy," the secretary added.

But, he said, this will depend first on whether there is an effective cease-fire, for only then can the work of reconstruction begin.

Flier Wants To 'Make Up'

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP) — In letters filled with yearning for the lost years, a Navy flier promised his three daughters he'd make up for having deprived them of a father while he was a captive of the North Vietnamese.

"I remember well you were angry with me the last time I was gone a few months," wrote Lt. Cmdr. Michael D. Christian to his 13-year-old daughter, Debbie, in a letter slipped from the Vietnamese prison dubbed "The Hanoi Hilton."

SORE AT ME?

"Now with six years, you have a right to be pretty sore at me."

Christian, among the freed prisoners who landed Sunday in the Philippines, got the letters out several weeks ago through a POW released in the first group.

For three years after he was shot down April 24, 1966, Christian was never allowed to write, and his family did not know he was alive. Since then, letters have been rare.

The letters are also rare in that they are among the few ever written at length from a North Vietnam POW camp. For years Hanoi allowed only six lines and only recently have they allowed seven lines.

"I'll be a slow horse on a fast track for awhile but I'm counting on you to bring me up to speed with what appears to be a modern generation," he wrote to Debbie.

SO BIG

"You must be so big now ... high school. Wow! After looking at your last picture everyone (fellow POWs) tells me I'd better get a shotgun.... I've recently heard bits and pieces of what my world is like now. I'm counting on you to bring me up to speed with what appears to be a modern generation. I doubt I will ever understand your language. You'll have to teach me the new words, so we can communicate."

"I'm very curious to things in which you have any interest, history, literature, homemaking, boys ... boys. There's a bet. Boys must be a part of your life by now. A teen-ager's 'affair d'amour'—what a wonderful time of life...."

SWEETHEART

"When you see me, sweetheart, I hope to appear fairly normal. I think I am quite sound and normal...."

Christian wrote his youngest child, 8-year-old Pamela:

"How vividly I recall my little tiger bouncing around and into everything. You're now four times older than when I last saw you. From your picture ... I see how pretty you are, and I am so very proud of all three of my beautiful daughters."

WELCOME — Monika Schwinn, Saarbrücken, West Germany, carries flowers and a large red handbag as she arrives at Clark Air Base, the Philippines, today after she was released by the North Vietnamese. Miss Schwinn, a member of Maltese, a private Catholic medical organization, was captured in South Vietnam April 27, 1969.

AIM MEMBERS WITH ASHES OF U.S. OFFER — AIM leader Dennis Banks holds envelope addressed to Justice Department containing ashes of federal proposal for Indians to evacuate Wounded Knee. AIM leaders burned the document. Russell Means (center) and Carter Camp took on.

Peace Talks In Teepee Due At Wounded Knee

WOUNDED KNEE, S.D. (AP) — Peace talks in a teepee were scheduled today at Wounded Knee, a hamlet held since Tuesday by militant Indians who have burned a government proposal to end the armed stand-off.

The Justice Department proposed late Sunday that the 20 Indians who invaded Wounded Knee could depart with no threat of arrest beginning at 10 a.m. EST today.

The federal offer stipulated the Indians must depart without their weapons and that only males must identify themselves as they pass through federal lines.

Federal officials said a grand jury investigation at a later date would determine if charges were warranted.

The Indians, led by officials of the American Indian Movement, jeered at the proposal in their camp Sunday night. They burned the paper on which the offer was written.

MORE IMPORTANT

"We decided the Indian people are more important to us than jail terms," said Carter Camp, an AIM leader. "We've got to force the government to come to terms with us."

About the same time, the Indians offered a peace proposal under which they would remain in this village where 146 Sioux and 31 U.S. soldiers died in an 1890 showdown.

The Indians also proposed negotiations for supplies and said that any federal arraignments or legal actions should be held here. They asked all civil rights and peace movement volunteers to gather here.

The Indians' announcement Sunday of their determination to stay here came after a meeting with New York attorney William Kunstler, who arrived earlier in the day.

Late Sunday, a Justice Department spokesman declined comment on the AIM proposal and announced that peace talks started Sunday would resume at noon EST today in a teepee. The teepee is on no-man's land between the Indian outposts and the perimeter of 150 federal lawmen surrounding Wounded Knee.

RANSACKED

AIM leaders Russell Means and Dennis Banks refused to attend Sunday's session after they learned the senior U.S. official, Ralph Erickson, special assistant to the U.S. attorney general, was not present. U.S. attorneys for North and South Dakota represented the government.

Building Collapse

BAILEY'S CROSSROADS, Va. (AP) — Search operations are continuing near the rubble of a partially collapsed apartment building where five construction workers died and nine others are missing.

Wrecking crews Sunday demolished a 24-story section of the structure so searchers would not be endangered, Fairfax County officials said.

Another 24-story section has slabs of concrete dangling above the ground held by twisted sections of steel reinforcing rods. Officials said those pieces of concrete would be removed before rescue workers could extend their search for the missing.

Wreck, Shots End Flight Of Oklahoma Jailbreaker

DENISON, Tex. (AP) — An auto wreck as shots were fired ended the wild flight of an Oklahoma jailbreaker with three hostages in a commandeered car.

Denison police said the fugitive, Eddie Lee Turner, 28, of Quapaw, Okla., fired at their pursuing units several times before the chase ended with his capture about 5:15 a.m. Sunday. He was lodged in the city jail here.

Turner and two fellow prisoners broke out of the Ottawa County Jail at Miami, Okla., Saturday morning, officers said, but the other two escaped freed two guards they had helped him overpower in their cell block and surrendered.

Authorities said two of Turner's hostages were found locked in a car trunk after his capture but all three escaped harm.

Officers gave these details: After breaking out of jail Saturday morning, Turner seized a bread truck for his getaway and fled. With him he took the truck's driver, Bernie Pennington of Miami, and a Michigan Corrections Department official, George Diwachak.

Diwachak had gone to take custody of Turner at Miami and return him to face charges in Michigan.

Soon after the break peace officers found the bread truck near Fairland, Okla. They learned that Turner had halted a late model car and seized its driver, Clinton Boyd of Miami.

Denison police spotted the car driven by Turner after being tipped by officers at nearby Sherman that he might be in this vicinity.

The Howard County Youth Horsemen's Club will have a benefit play day Saturday to aid the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center.

All the young horsemen in the area are invited to participate. Proceeds all go to the center. Association officials hope that as many handicapped children as possible will be on hand to witness the contests.

Registration begins at 1 p.m. in the Youth Horsemen's Arena on the Garden City highway, followed by start of contests at 2 p.m. There will be competition in barrels, association poles, American Junior Rodeo Association poles, one-bucket flags, and potato race.

Horsemen's Club In Rodeo Parade

Members of the Howard County Youth Horsemen's Club will participate in the San Angelo rodeo parade 10 a.m. Friday.

Most of the members will travel as a group, and those who want to be part of the caravan are asked to meet by 6 a.m. at Highland Center parking lot, from whence they will leave for San Angelo and the parade.

The next regular meeting of the association has been set for March 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the Howard County Fair Barns.

Typhoid Hits Labor Camp

HOMESTEAD, Fla. (AP) — A "voluntary quarantine" has been imposed on a migrant farm labor camp here in an attempt to halt a local epidemic of typhoid found in 15 of 107 persons sent to hospitals for testing.

The 2,000 residents "are allowed to leave the camp to buy food or work but that's about all," Dade County Public Health Director Dr. Milton Saslaw said Sunday. "They've been ordered to stay in the camp."

Health officials said the number of confirmed typhoid cases from a contaminated water supply at the camp had risen to 15 but there had been no deaths reported since the outbreak a week ago.

Hospital officials said today the bulk of the 107 persons under observation were still hospitalized and there was no indication when they would be released.

The epidemic has been labeled by officials as the area's biggest typhoid outbreak in recent memory.

"We're fairly certain that the water supply is the culprit," said Saslaw. The camp, 25 miles south of Miami, is served by two wells.

WEEK OF POLITICAL DEALING

Gaullists Falling Back

PARIS (AP) — France plunged into a week of political trading today after the Communist-Socialist alliance made the expected strong gains at the expense of President Georges Pompidou's Gaullists in the first round Sunday of the National Assembly elections.

The embattled Gaullists were trying to enlist the support of the centrist Reform Movement and other nonleftist opposition groups for the runoff next Sunday. Communist and Socialist leaders were working to swing Socialist voters behind the Communist candidates in districts where the latter ran ahead.

Most Gaullist bigwigs were elected Sunday or went into the runoff, but that meant little.

The returns from the first round were comparable to those in the first round of the 1967 elections, which the Gaullists came out of with a majority of only one vote. They were favored by districting that slide in 1968, after the May student riots, when voters of frightened French voters traded to President Charles de Gaulle to save them.

The Communists and Socialists took 40.5 per cent of the vote Sunday to 38.1 per cent for the Gaullists and their allies and 12.5 per cent for the Reform Movement. The Gaullist share was 44 per cent in the first round in 1968 and 38.3 in 1967.

Favored by districting that benefits conservative candidates and by the Communists' and Socialists' running separately in the first round, 48 candidates of the Gaullist coalition got the majority needed for election Sunday, compared with only eight Communists and one Socialist. But the Gaullist showing was even less than in 1967, when they got 62 seats on the first round, and way below the 144 they got in 1968.

Any candidate getting 10 per cent of the vote in the first round can stay in for the second, when only a plurality is needed for election.

Bennetts Offers Wheelchair Variety

Bennett's Pharmacy, 305 W. 16th, provides fast, convenient and professional service with every prescription and a variety of needs for the convalescent as well as traditional pharmacy supplies.

Convalescent equipment ranges from canes, walking stands to every type of wheelchair.

Everest and Jennings wheelchairs come in 3500 varieties and Bennett's can quickly order any variety needed.

They include special wheelchairs for the Tiny Tot, or children up to six years of age. They also have a growing wheelchair for children six to eight years old. When they are outgrown, a simple conversion of upholstery and footrest can be made by inexpensively converting the chair into a junior size. The chair then serves until continued growth calls for a larger model.

The junior 13 model is for the nine to 12 year old or a very small adult. Junior 16 is for persons of small body size and then there is an adult model.

Representing the finest in quality, workmanship, reliability and prestige, they are the most widely used wheelchairs in the world.

EVERYTHING FOR THE CONVALESCENT — Bennett Pharmacy, located at 305 W. 16th St., has in stock everything from wheelchairs and crutches to walking aids and medicine for the convalescent.

to persons with limited manual dexterity.

The selections include different size wheels, special chairs for amputees, indoor and outdoor features, semi-reclining and different footrests.

The company started in 1918 and is the world's largest manufacturer of wheelchairs. Bennett's offers the customer a wide selection and asks the customer to drop by and visit with them about these needs or any needs of the convalescent. They also continue to offer the very best in traditional pharmaceutical services.

Hester-Robertson, Inc., Offers Carrier Product

Hester and Robertson Mechanical Contractors, Inc. has a complete line of Carrier air-conditioning and heating products, including electronic air cleaners, humidifiers, electric or gas-fired furnaces, and residential or commercial refrigeration units. These refrigeration units are in stock and ready for immediate installation. And it's soon going to be the time of year to need them.

Hester's Sheet Metal became the authorized Carrier dealer for the Big Spring area in March, 1962 and has since that time installed a large number of commercial and residential units in Big Spring and the surrounding trade area.

Hester's Sheet Metal combined its operation with Sam Robertson Plumbing Co. last year to form the Hester and Robertson Mechanical Contractors, Inc.

This enables them to better serve the Big Spring area with a wider range of services which now includes all types of air-conditioning, sheet metal work, plumbing, pipe-line construction and ditching, as well as sprinkler systems and boiler repair and installation.

Also, all types of heat or steam piping of commercial or industrial installation are offered.

All of these items are offered at competitive prices with expert craftsmen, dependable service, and any new residential or commercial installation of a mechanical nature.

New products now in stock at Hester and Robertson include the all new Carrier residential line, Model GS equipment, which offers Carrier's dependability of a long-life compressor at a more competitive price than ever before.

For those citizens who are looking for a quality unit with an economical price tag, this is the answer. In many instances, where there is an existing furnace blower capable of handling air conditioning, and duct work is already installed, this new compressor and condensing unit by Carrier can be installed in conjunction with these items for a price less than the cost of two evaporative coolers.

The compressor on this unit will have a full five-year warranty. This puts refrigerated air conditioning in the homes of many people who previously thought that they could not afford it.

Quick and dependable repair service for any and all types of refrigerated air conditioning are available at Hester and Robertson, as well as free estimates for your plumbing, heating and air conditioning needs.

Get Out On Own

Jean Adams
TEEN FORUM

COMPETITION: (Q.) I am 14, cute and very interested in boys. My best friend, Susan, is also 14 and very, very attractive. When we go by cute boys they never look at me. They always look at her. They make me feel like I am ugly or something.

Since last summer she has gone out with seven boys. I have gone out with none!

Everyone tells me I shouldn't hang around with so many prettier than myself, but I like Susan very much. We've been friends for a long time, but just watching while she has all the fun is getting old.

What should I do? Stay-At-Home in Connecticut.

(A.) You can be friends with Susan, but you don't have to be with her every minute. Try walking alone a good part of the time — or with girls who are not so dazzling.

ASKED: (Q.) Linda is my friend. Not my best friend but a good friend. She is going with Joe. Linda's mother doesn't like Joe. She has asked me to break them up. Should I? Pamela in Pennsylvania.

(A.) You shouldn't. That would be meddling. It would be fair to Linda or Joe or you. Stay away from it.

If Linda's mother insists that you try, tell her you can't do it.

If she keeps on insisting, talk to your parents about what she has proposed.

(Jean Adams reads and considers every letter, but she cannot answer each personally. Mail your questions and comments to Jean Adams, care of The Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 2402, Houston, Texas 77001.)

Hale Stumps For Economy

H. Boyce Hale — manager of tires, batteries and accessories Dewey Ray Inc. — issued this statement concerning his candidacy for the City Commission.

"In so far as becoming a City Commissioner, I have only one desire and ambition, and that is to work to make Big Spring a more progressive city.

"To work for a better place in which to rear our children and further secure the right of all people to live among each other with dignity is my goal.

"I support all areas of recreation programs as well as economical government. As I see it, we need to work hard to get a coliseum, and I support this effort 100 per cent.

"We need economical city government without choking City Hall to death.

"If elected I will keep away from the administrative force. That is why we have a City Manager. I will be only a City Commissioner, nothing else."

Hale is a member of the Parks and Recreation Board.

Mary Martin's Husband Dies

BRASILIA (AP) — American film and theatrical producer Richard Halliday, 67, husband of actress Mary Martin, died Saturday. He was co-producer of many of Miss Martin's most successful musicals, including "The Sound of Music" and "Peter Pan."

Farm Devices To Be Shown

ST. LAWRENCE — Just demonstrations at 10 a.m., and name that machinery needed by agricultural producers in this area, and chances are it will be demonstrated this month in the Glasscock County.

Sponsored by the St. Lawrence Cotton Growers Association, the 1973 Farm Machinery Field Day is March 14 at the Community Center here.

Specialists will also demonstrate equipment for incorporating herbicides with other practices in cotton production. The machinery display will begin at 9 a.m. the field demonstrations at 10 a.m., and the discussions by personnel of the companies at 11:30 a.m. The program ends at 4 p.m.

The community center is adjacent to FM 2874 and five miles west of where that farm road intersects FM 33. Personnel of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will be present for answering questions.

Cancer Of Male Organs Induced In Baboons

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Two researchers said Saturday cancer of male accessory reproductive organs has been induced in a high primate, the baboon, for the first time. Dr. Sydney J. Shain and Leonard Axelrod of Southwest Foundation for Research and Education made the announcement in a paper delivered at an international symposium here.

Researches said development of a model animal which gets adenocarcinoma is essential to the disease's understanding. In this manner, the changes leading to the disease may be observed and from such knowledge of the mechanism, possible prevention and control measures may be designed. The researchers say previous attempts to induce adenocarcinoma in experimental animals as models have met with little success.

Corpus Man Earns IET Certification

HUNTSVILLE — Guadalupe E. Silvas Jr., serving a 10-year sentence in the Texas Department of Corrections, has earned certification by the Institute for Engineering Technicians of Washington, D.C. Silvas, Corpus Christ, gained recognition for his experimental gains while participating in the TDC on-the-job training program in the design and engineering section of the division of new construction.

Youth-Centered Society

The United States today is a youth-centered society. We take our cultural cues from the young. Industries are geared to the youth market. Social programs, from family planning to education to job training, are youth-oriented. Vast sums of public money are spent on projects benefitting the younger segments of the population.

But by the year 2000, all of this could be reversed, a study by the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions indicates. We could during the next century be a nation increasingly old — and with social, political and economic changes to match.

The vehicle for this change is the break being applied to our population growth. The U.S. birth rate has been slowed dramatically. We are approaching the zero population growth goal. The center concludes we will pass it, and that we will seek a negative birth rate — fewer births than deaths.

As a result, by shortly after 2000 more than half the population of the country could be over 50; nearly one third may be over 65. The shift in political emphasis would be dictated by sheer numbers. So, too, would shifts in the direction of the economy and of social policy. Our lifestyles, needs, priorities, and productive capabilities will be greatly altered.

It's an interesting hypothesis, and a very likely one. And it carries with it further analogy. If the youth in our youth-oriented society today are the ready recruits of revolution, will not the older Americans of that not-too-distant tomorrow take their place?

Already we are seeing some evidence of this, an increasing willingness to join in common cause on the part of older Americans. As their numbers increase relative to the population, and as their needs increase as well, so should militancy.

Intriguing Foundation

California's Gov. Ronald Reagan has come up with the political ultimate. He has proposed a tax cut in perpetuity for Californians, one that will live on after he has vacated the governor's mansion.

Reagan's proposal is a permanent 10 per cent cut in the state income tax, plus a constitutional amendment which would freeze the state's total tax take at the current level, and reduce it a bit each year.

This would limit in advance the spending of future California administrations. Future governors and legislatures would have the amount of spending they could do predetermined for them; any new programs they voted would have to pass a statewide vote.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

Should I go to church just because my parents make me? To tell the truth I don't get much out of it. Our minister is okay, but he doesn't give the best sermon I've ever heard. I can listen to television and hear better ones.

D.T. My parents made me go to church too, and like you, I resented it. One thing it did accomplish, however, was to impress upon me my parents' belief in God, the Bible and the church. I'm grateful now for their insistence, because unknowingly, it was the foundation for my faith today.

Both the law and a Christian conscience obligate your parents to provide responsible guidance. Actually, I would question the sincerity of their love and their interest in your welfare if they did not do so. Evidently, they are following the Biblical command of Proverbs 22:6, "Train up a child in the way he should go." When you come of age, you can, of course, do as you please.

Now, about your minister's sermon. I think you are trying to make it something it isn't. Sermons are not supposed to be oratorical masterpieces nor verbal entertainment. They are a sharing of the Scriptures, which God later can use in the mind and heart of the hearer. To the extent a sermon communicates the living truths of Christ's gospel, to that extent it is successful. Listener approval or endorsement is quite secondary. I suggest you ask God, through a personal faith, to help you squeeze all the good possible out of life's experiences — whether they come to you by compulsion or choice.

Kennedy Shift

By Rowland Evans
And Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — The clearest signal of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's rapid movement toward the middle of the road came recently when he invited Ben F. Wattenberg, a leading theorist of centrist Democratic politics, to a secret luncheon in his Capitol Hill office.

KENNEDY'S NEW-POLITICS admirers would have been irritated to know he sought out Wattenberg, who remains a key adviser to Sen. Henry M. Jackson and the driving force behind the new Coalition for a Democratic Majority (CDM).

But they would have been appalled that Kennedy told Wattenberg he feels the party must move back toward the center to regain the blue-collar vote, adding that the party has the wrong side of such inflammatory social issues as compulsory school busing.

KENNEDY HAS been meeting privately with Democratic national chairman Robert Strauss, AFL-CIO operatives and other party centrists in key positions. But the seriousness of his move toward moderation is indicated by his seeking out Wattenberg, a non-politician with views obnoxious to Kennedy's new-politics friends.

A footnote: Kennedy privately contends the 1976 Democratic nominee must win some electoral votes from the south — contradicting new-politics theorists who feel Dixie is Republican for the foreseeable future. Although a speech at the University of Virginia April 9 is the only Southern engagement on Kennedy's present calendar, he is expected to book Deep South speeches this year.

IN FIGHTING President Nixon's evisceration of the anti-poverty program, the Community Action Program (CAP) in Salt Lake City is doing again what has caused so much trouble for anti-poverty activists all over the country: a federally-financed agency moving into political action against elected public officials.

An anti-Nixon flyer distributed in Salt Lake City does not disclose its sponsors but in fact was prepared at and mailed from the county CAP office, issuing this broadside:

WHEN WE called the CAP office about the peace blasting President Nixon, we were told to contact the office's full-time central city coordinator, James Reed. But Reed, whose salary is partially paid by the federal government, told us he was not in charge of handling the flyer. Who is? "The people are in charge," he declared. Reed admitted the flyer had been prepared at the CAP office and mailed on their subsidized postage meter to the CAP mailing list. But he claimed that none of the $606,000 in annual federal funds for the Salt Lake County CAP was used (which would be illegal), contending the flyer was financed with funds from the county government.

Actually, federal and local funds in such anti-poverty offices are often hopelessly intermingled. A CONFIDENTIAL letter warning that "uncontrollable demonstrations" against the U.S. in the Panama Canal Zone may break out when the United Nations Security Council meets in Panama March 15 has been sent to President Nixon by nine members of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

The Security Council meeting, approved in January over strong U.S. protest, "will provide a diplomatic and propaganda forum for attacks against the U.S. position in the zone," the nine Senators said. They range from dovish Democratic Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri to hawkish Republican Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina.

Overweight can be one big factor. (How much does he weigh?) So can faulty shoes. Maybe he just hasn't been fitted properly. But from the sound of the situation, I would strongly suspect some structural defect in his feet, with urgent need for special shoes or some correctly designed support.

In brief, I doubt if he stands a prayer of getting over his trouble until he has the situation analyzed by an expert, which means going to a podiatrist or orthopedist. Soaking his feet in hot water will relieve the soreness and muscle spasm temporarily, but it won't do a thing to get at the basic trouble.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Enclosed is a long stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents for your booklet, "How to Heal Peptic Ulcers and Keep Them Healed." How can you be sure you have an ulcer, and how different is it from acid stomach?

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Opportunity knocks but once, they say, but sometimes it's better to turn a deaf ear to the door.

One of the times to let opportunity beat its knuckles in vain on your portal is when it comes to offer you a job you don't want.

Many people make a sorry brag that they undoubtedly have the worst job in the whole world. That couldn't be true for all of them. No matter how boring, vexing or worrisome your job is, you usually can look around and see someone who has a job so bad you wouldn't trade yours for it.

Here, for example, are a few

Worst Job In World?

- Chairman of the entertainment committee at a national meeting of Mafia leaders.
- Resident in a wax museum.
- Stand-in in a concentration camp.
- Morale officer in a concentration camp.
- A bathing suit salesman in Siberia.
- The night watchman at the city dog pound.
- The tax attorney for Howard Hughes.
- The dietician for Jackie Gleason.
- The social secretary for Count Dracula and his family.
- And now do you still think you've got the worst job in the world?

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband has the problem of calluses on his feet which he can never get rid of. He can hardly walk when he gets home. He is a bartender and on his feet all day.

What is the best way of treating this? Would it be better to soak his feet in hot water or cold? — Mrs. A.C.

Such a growth of callus on the feet has to be the result of abnormal pressure on the feet.

Overweight can be one big factor. (How much does he weigh?) So can faulty shoes. Maybe he just hasn't been fitted properly.

But from the sound of the situation, I would strongly suspect some structural defect in his feet, with urgent need for special shoes or some correctly designed support.

In brief, I doubt if he stands a prayer of getting over his trouble until he has the situation analyzed by an expert, which means going to a podiatrist or orthopedist. Soaking his feet in hot water will relieve the soreness and muscle spasm temporarily, but it won't do a thing to get at the basic trouble.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Enclosed is a long stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents for your booklet, "How to Heal Peptic Ulcers and Keep Them Healed." How can you be sure you have an ulcer, and how different is it from acid stomach?

Foot Work

Hope the booklet mentions it. — Mrs. J.W.

It does. The stomach juices are supposed to be acid, but if there is too much acid, it bothers an ulcer. So the amount, along with some other factors, is important.

There's no simple way to know whether stomach distress is from an ulcer, hiatal hernia, gastritis, heartburn or some other ailment, but your doctor can distinguish them, often with the help of X-ray.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Could you tell me the symptoms of a tumor of the brain? I have a sister who thinks she has one. — Mrs. H.M.

It takes a specialist with some pretty sophisticated equipment to diagnose a brain tumor accurately. There isn't any do-it-yourself way.

I'm printing this letter because I regularly get letters from people who are "sure" they have brain tumors or are afraid they have. For some reason, it's the type of scary notion that some people get and can't get rid of.

Best answer I know for such people is to tell them firmly, but in as kind a way as you can, that they have to do one of two things: either give up the idea that they have a brain tumor and stop fussing about it, or go to a doctor and find out for sure.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would you comment on the enclosed clipping? — A.H.S.

"Enclosed clipping" is an ad promising to let you lose two inches by being wrapped in some sort of stuff and then just lying down for an hour and a half, without pills, diet, or exercise.

My comment? Anyone who thinks you can change your figure by any such methods is pretty glib. Too many want an easy way to reduce. It requires effort on your part — the will to reduce, diet restriction and some degree of exercise.

You can lose weight if you really want to. Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Lost Secrets of Reducing," tells you how — naturally and without gimmicks — to the level that best suits your individual needs. For a copy, write to him, care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope.

Liability For Fleeing Felons

Security was so lax at a state penitentiary that prisoners could get whiskey, drugs, and even guns without too much trouble. One night a hardened criminal stole a gun and made good his escape.

HE WAS recaptured within a few hours, but not until he had invaded a nearby home and shot a housewife in the leg. In due course, she demanded damages from the state.

"They run that jail too carelessly," she charged in court. "Escapes are common. Furthermore, they knew that this particular criminal was dangerous. Therefore, the government is to blame for my being shot."

The court agreed, and the woman won a substantial verdict.

INJURIES inflicted by escaped prisoners are leading to a growing number of damage claims against either prison officials or the state itself. The law says penal institutions must be run with fair regard for the safety of those outside the walls.

Nevertheless, the authorities are not to blame if the escape could not reasonably have been prevented. Nor are they liable, even though negligent, if the injury to the outside citizen was not reasonably foreseeable. Thus:

WASHINGTON (AP) — Brant are getting so scarce on the east coast that Nathaniel P. Reed, Assistant Secretary of the Interior, expects the hunting season will be closed for at least two more years.

Estimates are that these little geese have dropped from 200,000 in the late 1960s to about 40,000, the smallest number in a quarter of a century. The decrease has been blamed on poor nesting seasons in the Canadian Arctic.

Buying Land

DUBLIN (AP) — Despite heavy government taxes, nearly 100,000 acres of Irish land have been bought by foreigners in the last decade. Germans are reported to be the principal buyers.

Minister of Lands Sean Flanagan says there is no likelihood of a takeover by Common Market millionaires, despite the fact that any citizen of an EEC country who lives or works in Ireland for two years would be free to buy Irish land.

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: May I add my comment to "Hunter's Wife," concerning a husband who loves to hunt:

A minister I knew in the Army more than a quarter of a century ago once told me that far too many deer were only wounded, and went off into the woods to die in agony.

"My system," he explained, "is to break the deer's leg with my first shot. Then I send my dogs after him. They drive him to my car, and I shoot him there, so I don't have to carry him, but can load him right on."

In short, Abby, people who love to kill will always find a way to rationalize their cruelty.

C. H. IN N.Y.C.
DEAR C. H.: I am appalled. I hope that minister didn't preach what he practiced.

DEAR ABBY: If anyone wonders what to give a senior citizen who's on a tight budget, please tell them to be practical. (I have enough perfume soap and aftershave lotion to last me a lifetime.)

A most appreciated gift would be a book of postage stamps, or some stamped envelopes, or postcards. It's not always easy for us older folks to get to a post office, and it's nice to have these things on hand.

Last Thanksgiving a dear friend gave me my Christmas present early. It was a large box of Christmas cards. Bless her, if she hadn't given me some, I wouldn't have been able to send cards that year.

Please, pass the word, will you, Abby? It will make a merrier Christmas for many senior citizens.

C. H. S. IN S. F.
DEAR C. H. S.: Consider it passed. But why wait until Christmas?

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L. A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069.

Party At Forsan

FORSAN (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Henry hosted a '42' party Thursday evening with 10 guests attending. Refreshments were served.

Gardeners' Convention Set Here

The 27th annual convention of District 1, Texas Garden Clubs Inc., is expected to bring approximately 150 garden club members to Big Spring when the meeting is held April 5-6 at the Settles Hotel.

The district is comprised of three zones, with Big Spring being in the Southern Zone.

Further plans for the convention were completed during a recent meeting in the home of Mrs. G. P. Morrison, 801 Macy, with Mrs. Dale Smith presiding. Another meeting is slated March 28 in the home of Mrs. J. W. Trantham, 1319 Stadium.

The convention is being hosted by the Council of Big Spring Garden Clubs, however, all garden clubs in the city are assisting the council. Duties have been assigned, with all garden clubs being represented on the various committees.

The anniversary theme will be "Forty-five Years Later," and a tea will honor the state president. Other state and district officers will be recognized at a pre-convention dinner.

During the planning session, council clubs agreed to hold a fall flower show in conjunction with the Howard County Fair which is slated here in September.

The Planters Garden Club is sponsoring an open meeting Thursday at First Federal Community Room at 2 p.m. when Mrs. Floyd Mays will show a film on wild flowers of Texas.

Lomax HD Club Hears Program

Recipes that make use of condensed soup were shared by Mrs. Bob Adkins when she presented a food program Thursday afternoon for the Lomax Home Demonstration Club. Mrs. Adkins stressed ways in which the soups can be used to make white sauces, gravies, casseroles and stews. Also, she told of recipes in which soups are even used in cakes and cookies. She distributed printed recipes to each member.

Mrs. L. G. Adkins was hostess, and Mrs. A. J. Stallings was a guest.

Mrs. Russell Tidwell presided for the business session as the women made plans to attend the county-wide home demonstration luncheon and book review March 28 in the Howard County Fair Barn. The guest reviewer will be Mrs. Clyde E. Thomas. The club will provide workers and pies for the concession booth during the upcoming stock show.

Due to the March 28 luncheon, the club will not meet as scheduled March 15.

A LOVELIER YOU Skin-Care Creams Are 'Hot' Article

By MARY SUE MILLER
Would you believe it: skin cleanser and moisturizer designed to be heated before application?

Well, it's so, and the reasoning behind this development makes sense. Warmed, rich and creamy facial cleanser penetrates deep down. Warmth relaxes the pores so that the cleanser removes even imbedded soil.

Warmth promotes absorption of moisturizer, too. It glides on to pamper the skin, day or night. For winter-weary allover complexions, relief comes with warm and creamy bath lotion.

Now don't make the mistake of taking any cream at hand to the kitchen and warming it. That does not work. You just get a mess of pottage.

A specially designed electric dispenser with temperature control, and creams specially formulated to respond to heating are the essentials of the scheme. Operation is easy. Jars are slipped into the dispenser to heat and applications are made directly from jars.

The idea was dreamed up by a California beauty. Cal. girls are not lacking a reputation for lasting good looks. Besides, some like it hot. This is not to say that "cold" creams are passe. Some like it cold.

But now you have an alternative. A very good one it is too.

NEW BEAUTY

For ways to keep past-30 skin smooth and dewy, order my leaflet, "New Beauty For Dry Skin." It tells in personalized steps how to cleanse, correct, protect and make up for dryness. LIKE SHAKESPEARE'S 'GLOBE' Odessa Theater Gains Fame As One-Of-A-Kind In World

By GODFREY ANDERSON
Associated Press Writer
ODESSA, Tex. (AP) — If you think the oil-rich Permian Basin of West Texas is an unlikely place to find the world's only authentic reproduction of William Shakespeare's famed Globe Theater, you've reckoned without Mrs. Marjorie Morris.

"Why there are people here who say: 'I don't care for Shakespeare,'" she confesses, adding in shocked tones: "Can you imagine?" Mrs. Morris does care and the Globe of the Great Southwest stands on the grounds of Odessa College to prove it.

The theater raises octagonal, 14-foot walls of stone and hand-added beams to a peaked cedar roof with a cupola on top. The triangular lot on which it stands is just a hundred yards or so from the busy neon strip of beer and hamburger joints along U.S. 385. Dry desert winds blow round it instead of the Thames-kid mists the old Globe knew. It has a roof and air conditioning, but it's otherwise a faithful replica of a 16th-Century English playhouse.

Mrs. Morris first got bitten with the Globe Theater bug in 1948 when teaching high school. A pupils brought a model of the Globe to her English literature class and said: "Wouldn't it be wonderful if we could have a Globe Theater of our own in Odessa?"

"We could," she replied, and set to work on the project with the vigor of Lillian Bayliss restoring London's Old Vic.

Making the old Globe the subject of her master's thesis, Mrs. Morris did research with Shakespearean experts such as Dr. Arthur Sampley at North Texas State University and Dr. Allardyce Nicoll at England's Birmingham University.

She started knocking on doors to raise the money. Some doors were slammed in her face.

"People looked at me and said: 'She's crazy.' They said: 'How can you get money for something like this?' But I forgave them," Mrs. Morris said.

Odessa — named by Russian railroad laborers who thought the surrounding wide, flat prairies were like their homeland steppes — is in, cattle and oil country. Its people weren't strong for the English bard and his poetry, but they did want the best for their children. Mrs. Morris stressed what a heritage the Globe would be.

Citizens were told they could have their name on a plaque in the theater for a $100 donation. Patronships were offered for $1,000. The regents of Odessa College gave a pie-shaped slice of campus land to build on. A Houston foundation contributed a $30,000 check. Children collected nickels and dimes.

No plans or drawings exist of the old Globe, which burned in 1603 after housing Shakespeare's acting company for five years. An Odessa architect, J.

Ellsworth Powell, worked by the guidelines laid down in Mrs. Morris's thesis. He supervised meticulously the positioning of each length of wood, each piece of stone.

Construction was a stop-go affair. While the money lasted, building continued. When it ran out, work stopped until new funds were found.

The theater, costing nearly $350,000, finally opened in October 1972. Dr. Nicoll hailed it as "the most nearly authentic replica of Shakespeare's own Globe anywhere on earth."

"I feel God has blessed every bit of it," gushed Mrs. Morris. "In a way this is my child — I have no others."

The audience in the eight-sided interior sit in a steep horse shoe around the stage, which thrusts among them with no proscenium arch. None of the 418 seats is more than 45 feet from the players. It's almost theater-in-the-round.

The Globe already has staged "Hamlet," "Macbeth," "Julius Caesar," "Merchant of Venice," "Midsummer Night's Dream," "Romeo and Juliet," and "Taming of the Shrew."

But it doesn't always stick with Shakespeare. Other classics have a look-in too — Shaw's "Pygmalion," Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest," Moliere's "School for Wives" and "The Miser," the 1927 version of "Dracula" is under rehearsal.

Director Charles David McCally's production of "Taming of the Shrew" as an Elizabethan western was the hit of the summer season just ended.

"It was western but it wasn't coarse," Mrs. Morris hastened to explain. "We stuck to Shakespeare's text all through, though we did change a few place names to Big Spring or No Trees, Texas. It got a big laugh."

Mrs. Morris believes in good clean fun but not the other kind.

"There are times when Shakespeare's language gets a little naughty," she said. "We feel this is an educational project, so we keep it clean."

For the shrewish Katharine, artist Roger Titus designed a western outfit with a red silk shirt, divided skirt and highlaced boots. She carried a bullwhip in the early scenes. By contrast, her wedding dress was turn-of-the-century style in red taffeta. Petruchio he put into almost black pants, high boots and a hat over his eyes like a typical western villain and fortune hunter.

T. Anthony K. Elliott, minister from the British Embassy in Washington, was mildly astonished as a first night guest. He was escorted by a mounted sheriff's posse, presented with what was claimed to be the world's largest cup of tea — which he couldn't lift — and treated to a chuck wagon barbecue on bales of hay outside the theater.

Bullish on central air conditioning? Consider investing just a little more in a long-term, blue chip Gas air conditioning system.

Only a Gas air conditioning system pays you regular dividends for many happy years. That's because the heart of a Gas cooling system is a simple gas burner, rather than an electric, mechanical compressor. A clean-burning gas flame doesn't wear out — so there's less to go wrong, fewer maintenance calls, a longer life with no loss of original cooling capacity. And because natural gas is the prime energy source, you'll also save money on operating cost.

Call one of our air conditioning specialists this week — before the summer market becomes really active. He'll make a free, no obligation, survey of your home and give you a quotation on the cool investment.

MARKET CLOSED Seeking Solution To Dollar Crisis

BRUSSELS (AP) — The foreign exchange markets of the nine Common Market members will be closed all this week as the world's richest countries prepare for more talks later this week, seeking a solution to the dollar crisis.

The Common Market's finance ministers met Sunday at their headquarters in Brussels and decided to extend the market closing they had ordered last Thursday night. But they failed to agree on a joint program to protect their currencies.

MEET AGAIN
The ministers said they would meet again Thursday in Brussels. They announced another conference for Paris on Friday to which the United States, Japan and other major trading nations would be invited. And the nine said they would meet again in Brussels next Sunday.

The U.S. Treasury said that it wants to cooperate with the other major trading nations in solving the monetary crisis. But it stopped short of promising to participate in the conference Friday.

Japan joined the European countries in closing its foreign exchange market for the week. The halt to official trading takes the pressure off the state banks, which last week spent billions to keep the U.S. dollar from falling below its floor.

The dollar was devalued 10 per cent on Feb. 12. Closing the exchanges means there will not be any agency enforcing a fixed set of exchange rates during the week's trading on private money markets.

upward as this would affect our competitiveness." Other informants said there had been sentiment among the ministers for a float. But they could not agree whether their currencies should float individually or be fixed against each other and float jointly against the dollar.

ASSAULT
The Common Market finance ministers said the assault on the dollar "was due to a distrust of speculative origin" and was not justified by the official exchange rates.

Pope Paul VI Elevates 30 To College Of Cardinals

VATICAN CITY (AP) — They were Bishop Stephan Trochta of Litomerice in Czechoslovakia and Bishop Julius Hosius of Cluj-Gherla in Romania, the private consistory at which Pope Paul VI elevated 30 prelates to the college of cardinals today, but told them cardinals may lose their exclusivity if they die in the age of 75.

The surprise of the consistory was the Pope's suggestion that three of the new cardinals be Americans: Archbishop Timothy Manning, 53, of Los Angeles; Humberto Medeiros, 57, of Boston, and Aponte Mar-tinez, 50, of San Juan, Puerto Rico.

SURPRISE
The pontiff also identified two prelates he had named cardinals in secret — "in pectore" — in his chest — in 1969 because they lived in Communist lands.

BELIEVES ANCIENT ASTROS VISITED EARTH 'Gods From Outer Space'

NEW YORK (AP) — Erick von Daniken insists that alien astronauts visited the earth in ancient times. To back him up, he has a pair of worldwide best sellers that have recently become paperback phenomena in this country.

"Maybe not all the theories in my books are correct," von Daniken said in an interview here recently. "But there is no doubt that we were visited from outer space long ago."

lished in 1970 and 1971, enjoyed relatively good sales. More than one million paperback copies of "Chariots of the Gods?" had been sold at the end of last year.

Early in January, a film based on the books was shown on network television. Sales soared.

as the second best selling non-fiction paperback in the country on "The New York Times list. A survey of campus bookstores by The Chronicle of Higher Education ranked it third in sales this month. It was not among the top 10 campus sellers last month.

HOLY BOOK
Von Daniken said religious doubts first caused him to question traditional explanations of man's past. Raised in a strict Catholic home, he began to wonder about Old Testament references to gods, instead of a singular god, and about the actual events that inspired the biblical writers.

GREAT SOCIETY TO FEDERALISM Mayors Will Be Consulted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's municipal leaders will be consulted during the transition from the Great Society to President Nixon's New Federalism, Housing and Urban Development Secretary James T. Lynn said today.

The President's fiscal 1974 budget specifically reasserted his commitment to a federal role in housing," Lynn said. "And on our evaluation, in the months immediately ahead, of how best this role can be played we want and will seek your advice."

to change that situation in which mayors are in the dark about so much of what is happening."

"We now face a period of transition in putting the community betterment part of the New Federalism into effect," Lynn said in a speech to a joint conference of the National League of Cities and the United States Conference of Mayors.

The National League of Cities board voted Sunday to try to talk President Nixon out of money needed for local programs but to avoid a head-on collision.

Wreck Kills Six Near Fort Worth

By The Associated Press
A highway crash killed six persons, including an unborn child, near Fort Worth but the number of violent deaths in Texas during the weekend nevertheless was lower than usual.

The number counted by the Associated Press reached 16 fatalities, with 11 in traffic accidents, between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday. There also were five fatal shootings and one fire death.

Three men and two women, one of them an expectant mother, died as two cars collided late Saturday night on U.S. 377 in Keller, near Fort Worth, late Saturday night. Officers listed the dead as Jackson Samsill, 38, of nearby Richland Hills and his pregnant wife Janis, 25, a school teacher Mrs. Samsill's uncle and aunt, John E. Kotarski, 50, and Virginia Kotarski, 51, of Tree Rivers, Wis., and James S. Langston, 29, of Fort Worth.

PLAYING POOL
These were among the others dying violently:
John Foulke, 33, and Donald Lee, 25, were shot to death and Lee's brother David, 22, was wounded Sunday when a neighborhood argument over barking dogs erupted in gunfire near their El Paso residence. No charges had been filed. Houston police sought five persons in the fatal shooting of Pedro Gonzalez Martinez, 26. Martinez was killed as he stood outside a lounge after playing pool with the five men officers sought.

George Flores, 4, was killed Saturday night in San Antonio when he was struck by a taxicab. The operator told police the boy darted into the street and he could not avoid him.

Ronald Torres, 24, of Sabinal was killed Saturday night when his car hit a bridge abutment on U.S. 90 about 5 1/2 miles east of Sabinal in Medina County.

ONE-CAR CRASH
Larry Russell McWilliams, 18, of Fredonia was killed near Mason Friday as the car in which he was a passenger overturned. The driver was not seriously injured.

Larry Wayne Anderson, 25, of San Antonio was killed early Saturday in a one-car crash on that city's north side. Investigators said the car exploded after striking a utility pole, which was cut in half by the impact. Larry Eben, 23, of Richmond was killed and three other persons injured Saturday when the car he was driving crossed a ditch and hit an embankment near Richmond.

Leon Ford, a laborer from Houston, burned to death Saturday in a fire at his home. Arson investigators said the blaze started in a mattress on which Ford was sleeping.

Shirley Jolivet, 40, was shot to death Saturday during an argument at her Houston home. Eddie Lee Douglas, 70, of Houston was charged with murder.

Brooks Entered In Coahoma Race

COAHOMA — Rodney Brooks, long-time resident of the Coahoma area, is a candidate for the office of trustee of the Coahoma Independent School District.

He is seeking one of the regular three-year terms. Brooks farms near Coahoma and he and Mrs. Brooks have two children. Wednesday is deadline for filing as a candidate for the board.

Barking Dogs Sparks Death Of Two Men

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Police blamed an argument over barking dogs for a shooting in which two men died and a third was wounded seriously Sunday.

Gunfire killed Donald Lee, 25, and John Faulk, 33, in the Northeast El Paso neighborhood where they lived.

David Lee, 22, a brother of Donald, was wounded. No charges were filed at once.

Officers said the Lee brothers were engaged in a discussion with another man when Faulk emerged from his home and was shot. They said another neighbor was fired upon as he then went outside his home.

Donald Lee was killed and his brother wounded in the ensuing gunfire, officer said.

BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS

Q. 1—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠AKQ103 ♥93 ♦AJ7642

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass

2 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass

3 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. Merely to provide partner the opportunity to take his original takeout to the two level and your strong rebid, the pass can be considered forcing.

Q. 2—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠AK865 ♥K10 J63 ♠AQ4

The bidding has proceeded: North East South

3 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid?

A.—Six no trump. For a preempt at this level partner can be assumed to possess a solid suit of at least eight and quite possibly nine cards in length. You consequently have the required 12 tricks for a slam, but, it might be vital to protect your king of hearts from being led thru in case partner has a small doubleton in that suit.

Q. 3—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠KJ1074 ♥A864 ♦K753

The bidding has proceeded: East South

What do you bid?

A.—This hand has splendid offensive possibilities and may well produce a game in the best suit, the partner may have a below average hand. The best way to portray this strength is by a takeout double.

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠KJ753 ♥AJ1072 ♦A ♠A5

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 1NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Despite partner's announcement of a mediocre holding we would be inclined to insist upon a game contract. If partner has a preference for one of the major suits there should be a good chance, because of the highly favorable distribution. The suggested bid, therefore, is three hearts. A bid of only two hearts will very likely be passed by partner.

Q. 5—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠KQ865 ♥J9 ♦J43 ♠AQ8

The bidding has proceeded: East South West North

1 ♠ 1 ♠ Pass 3 ♦ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Despite your lack of a heart stopper, a bid of three no trump is recommended. There is nothing to be gained by rebidding spades.

Q. 6—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠Q84 ♥J75 ♦KJ943 ♠Q85

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass

1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass

2 ♠ Pass ?

What action do you take?

A.—Two spades. Partner has continued the bidding at a time when he could conveniently pass. His hand, therefore, must have certain merit. You have your values where they fit best and you should give partner one more chance. He will realize that you have only three spades because at your first opportunity you preferred clubs to spades.

Q. 7—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠A73 ♥KJ1063 ♦J10 ♠KQ8

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass

1 ♠ Pass ?

What action do you take?

A.—A strength-showing temporarily bid is in order. While there is no doubt that you have a game, the hand may have greater potentialities, for partner's exact strength has not yet been determined. A jump bid in hearts is not suitable because the suit itself has not the proper texture. Spades should not be supported vigorously with three trumps. So, by the process of elimination, we choose three clubs, intending to take further action on the next round.

Q. 8—Both sides vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠92 ♥10542 ♦AK972 ♠K10

The bidding has proceeded: West North East South

1 ♠ 2 ♠ Pass ?

What action do you take?

A.—Four hearts. Partner's vulnerable overall should be approximately six tricks and your hand rates to produce at least four. A single raise therefore would not be adequate.

800 TEXANS SHOW UP FOR DEBATE Connally Switch Talked

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 800 Texans showed up for a debate Sunday between the new chairman of the Democratic and Republican parties, but the Texas politician they talked about most wasn't there.

Democratic Chairman Robert Strauss of Dallas quipped he was pleased to speak to "such a large gathering of Democrats for Nixon," a reference to the cross-over campaign led successfully by Connally last fall.

Asked when or if he thinks Connally will make the switch, Strauss replied: "I expect to make a good many mistakes as Democratic National Committee chairman but one of them will not be predicting what John B. Connally will do."

Democratic Chairman George Bush of Houston said Connally has "tremendous leadership ability" but said the overriding preoccupation with whether Connally will or won't change parties is isolated to Washington.

He said he just returned from a tour of a half-dozen states and got only a rare question about Connally or the chances of his becoming a Republican.

Bush said Connally "will be welcome in the Republican party...along with the 20 million others Democrats who voted Republican for the first time" last fall in the presidential race.

Former Texas Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, a Connally protegee who was defeated in a race for governor last spring, said he has talked to Connally frequently but wouldn't spell out his plans.

Clouds Spread Over Texas

By The Associated Press

Showers and thunderstorms surged inland from the Gulf of Mexico today through coastal areas from Galveston to Corpus Christi as clouds spread over the eastern half of Texas.

There also was light rain in areas from around Alice to near Corpus Christi, San Antonio and Coullia in South Texas, and occasional thunder showers around Kilgore and Marshall in East Texas.

At the same time a cool front approaching from areas of fresh snowfall in New Mexico, where heavy snow warnings were up for the northern mountains, promised temperature drops and occasional showers for western sections of Texas.

The rather weak front was reported moving east before dawn along a line stretching southward across Central New Mexico to El Paso and then southeast across Mexico.

More showers were expected ahead of the frontal system as it progressed into the eastern half of the state.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 25 degrees at Marfa in the West Texas mountains and 35 at Dalhart in the Panhandle up to 67 at Corpus Christi and 68 at Brownsville.

Generally sunny weather sent the mercury climbing Sunday afternoon as high as 80 at Victoria and 82 at Alice in the south while the top marks were only 52 at Dalhart and 54 at Amarillo in the Panhandle.
