Crash Kills 14 Golden Knights

SILK HOPE, N.C. (AP) — A special transport plane carrying the Army's Golden Knights stunt parachute team on a recruiting tour crashed into a cornfield today. Military authorities said at least 14 persons perished.

A spokesman at Ft. Bragg, N.C., where the flight originated, said 11 members of the team, two pilots, a crew chief were killed.

NO SURVIVORS

The spokesman also said one other person possibly was aboard the plane. There were no survivors.

The black and white C47 transport, a propeller-driven plane of World War II vintage, crashed about 9 a.m., an hour after it left Ft. Bragg en route for a recruiting appearance in Overland Park, Kan.

Residents of this farming area in the central part of the state said they heard the plane just before the crash and its engines sounded erratic.

One of the rescue workers said it looked to him as if the men inside had tried to jump as the plane crashed but that they had used no parachutes.

Unopened parachutes and baggage were strewn about the crash site.

WHITE BODY

The plane's white body was torn with gaping holes, its wings had been shorn off and its engines were scattered among cornstalks and trees in the wreckage area.

The bodies were scattered for several hundred yards around the wreckage of the plane.

L. M. Petty Jr., a resident of the area, said he heard the plane's motor "come on and go off" and then heard what sounded like an explosion.

The Golden Knights, the official U.S. Army parachute demonstration unit, was formed in 1957 at Ft. Bragg. They perform 150 to 200 free-fall exhibitions each year.

The unit is composed of two 14-man teams. Each team consists of nine jumpers, one narrator, one ground controller, one pilot, one copilot and one crew chief.

Gunfire Kills Airman, Infant

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — An airman and an infant were dead, two other persons critically wounded and a fifth in custody today after a Medina County robbery and a chase to Lackland Air Force Base where their car was raked by gunfire.

Killed was Ernest Jerome Walker, 21, an airman and former patient at the Lackland Narcotics Treatment Center. He had been reassigned to Seymour Johnson AFB, N.C., and was due there Feb. 26 but had not shown up.

Also killed was Iris Anderson, 7 months. Officers said they did not know she was in the car.

Wounded were Mrs. Virginia Anderson, in her early 20s, who was the mother of the infant, and Castroville City Marshal Frank Hayes, 45, who was shot at the scene of the robbery and alerted other officers by radio.

A fifth man was taken into custody at Lackland after the chase and was not identified at once.

The robbery that touched off the chase occurred at Suehs Liquor Store in Castroville, 25 miles west of San Antonio, about 7:45 p.m. Wednesday.

While the robbery was in progress, Hayes happened on the scene and handcuffed one man, but was surprised by another and shot in the abdomen and right arm.

The men then fled by car and a chase to San Antonio ensued.

The shootout took place at Lackland.

WT BUS-TRUCK CRASH KILLS SEVEN

Several 'Burned Almost To Dust'

FORT STOCKTON, Tex. (AP) — A bus en route to Miami, Fla., crashed into a jackknifed tractor-trailer on a narrow bridge and seven persons died in the resulting fire, the Department of Public Safety reported today.

As many as 25 persons suffered injuries. Four were uninjured.

The crash occurred 30 miles east of this remote West Texas town late Wednesday. The bus was en route from San Francisco to Miami.

At one time, official reports placed the death toll at 15, but this apparently included some multiple counts of bodies.

Jim Robinson, spokesman for the Department of Public Safety, said the victims were scattered all over the area and the dead were so severely burned that identification was delayed.

At a late hour, only the truck driver, Juan Valdez, a companion, Fabio Marin; the bus driver, Lynn Young of San Antonio, Tex.; and a passenger, Scallion Burnett of Pecos, Tex., had been identified by the safety department.

Sigrid Morgan, Fort Stockton police dispatcher, said some of those on the bus were "burned almost to dust."

The safety department flew an identification team from its Austin headquarters.

The bus, belonging to Greyhound, was being operated by the Kerrville Bus Line, said John McHaffey president of the Kerrville firm.

The bus was to stop later at San Antonio before going on to Miami.

Of the injured, 20 were taken to the Fort Stockton hospital, said administrator Roger McLaughlin. Two other injured were taken to a hospital in nearby Iran.

A safety department spokesman said the accident occurred four miles west of the small community of Bakersfield on a narrow bridge over Tunis Creek on U.S. 290 in the desolate, hilly country northeast of the Davis Mountains.

Evidence at the scene indicated the truck jackknifed on the bridge which is 22 feet wide. It was a rental type truck belonging to an El Paso firm and was loaded with furniture.

Fort Stockton Police Sgt. Tony Cordova said the bus exploded into flames upon impact, its fuel supply turning the vehicle into an inferno filled with screaming passengers.

Cordova said those who did not die in the flames leaped from the bus onto the darkened bridge and then into the dry bed of the creek in an effort to escape the searing heat and flames.

Bakersfield is a tiny settlement of natural gas pipeline employees and their families.

The two injured taken to the Iran hospital were identified as Mrs. Lilly Jamin, 49, of Lake Charles, La., and Joe D. Ramirez, of Ozona, Tex., which is about 25 miles from the collision site.

Dr. E. R. Franks at the Iran hospital quoted Mrs. Jamin as saying she was asleep near the back of the bus when the collision occurred.

"People panicked," she was quoted by Dr. Franks. "I saw a big flame coming up the middle of the aisle. People were screaming and kicking windows open. A man came up and pushed me through a window."

She was reported in stable condition with a broken back and body burns.

Women, Children Start Fleeing Wounded Knee

WOUNDED KNEE, S.D. (AP) — Women and children were being evacuated today from Wounded Knee and militant Indians were reported beefing up their forces as a government deadline to leave the hamlet approached.

Seven former hostages were to join the evacuation of the historic village, occupied nine days ago by Indian protesters who vowed Wednesday they were "prepared to die." Federal officials have described the situation as extremely grave.

The Justice Department said Wednesday that all nonresidents of the village must depart without weapons by 8 p.m. EST, after which any of the Indian invaders will be subject to immediate arrest.

Departure of seven men and women held captive for a time last week would leave only one former hostage, a Roman Catholic priest, still in the besieged community. Two elderly men and a 12-year-old girl left previously.

Father Paul Manhart, whose tiny church has been used by the Indians as a headquarters, said he intended to remain. "This is my reservation and I'll stay here to administer to my people," he said.

Officials said the night passed peacefully, although occasional gunshots could be heard. The shots appeared to have been from small rifles or shotguns.

REPORT CLAIMS

Neglect In VA Hospitals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional investigators say there is a pattern of neglect in the nation's veterans hospitals that endangers the well-being of hundreds of thousands of patients.

They allege that an ailing veteran must wait weeks or months for admission to one of the 168 Veterans Administration hospitals. Once there, they claim, he is likely to suffer from cramped quarters and may seldom see a nurse. Conditions at some hospitals were reported so bad that a patient may leave in worse shape than when he was admitted.

Those were the conclusions of a confidential report prepared for the House Appropriations Committee by its staff investigators. A copy of the report was obtained Wednesday by The Associated Press.

The investigators said their conclusions were based on interviews with VA officials in Washington and at 14 VA hospitals across the country and examinations of VA records.

VA Administrator Donald E. Johnson promised a detailed response to the Appropriations subcommittee currently conducting hearings on the VA budget.

Replying to questions about parts of the report, he denied the allegations of neglect and maintained that VA hospitals are treating more patients better, primarily because of increased reliance on outpatient care.

Ultimately, the report said, the blame falls on the White House Office of Management and Budget for refusing to allow VA hospitals to hire enough employees to meet patient needs and for blocking expansion of hospital facilities.

Not Here, Says Powell

Jack Powell, administrator of the Veterans Administration Hospital here said this morning that Big Spring Veterans Hospital was certainly not one of the 14 that they investigated for a report released by Associated Press.

Powell said that the VA hospitals all over the country have been notified of the news release and that it is apparently a report that was to have gone to a Congressional committee, which was obtained by an Associated Press reporter.

"The information in that news release does not apply to conditions here," Powell said, and added that he knew of no veteran that had waited weeks to get in this hospital or been neglected after admitted.

Powell also indicated that as far as he knew the funds for next year for this hospital will be about the same as this year. "We have received no indication that there will be a cutback. At this time, there is a lot of criticism of the administration and the government. It seems to be the trend."

Two Charged In Break-In

Two arrests have been made in connection with the break-in and robbery and assault at 1602 Scurry which occurred shortly after midnight Saturday.

Arrested and jailed Wednesday were Arthur Tommy Smith, 18, of Room 13, 200 Goliad and Barracks 229 at Webb and Robert Leroy Peoples, 17, of 200 S. Goliad.

Justice of the Peace Gus Ochotorena set their bonds at $5,000 each. They remain in the county jail. The two are charged with robbery by assault.

Warrants have been issued for two more arrests in connection with the incident.

In other action, John E. Curtis was released on $3,500 bond, charged with theft over $50. He is 26 and his address is Rt. 1, Box 578.

Sherry Sieler was jailed in the city jail charged with disorderly conduct and a traffic violation. She had earlier refused to give her name.

Eugene Vanderbilt, was dismissed from a local hospital after treatment for a gunshot wound, fined for discharging a firearm in the city limits and released.

Just Too Long For 'Justice'

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals Wednesday said it was just too long a wait between Gene Everett McKenzie's arrest in 1964 and his trial in 1968 to sustain his conviction.

McKenzie was charged with armed robbery in 1964, but sat in jail until September 1968, waiting for a trial. In 1972, in a post conviction habeas corpus proceeding, Dallas District Court Judge Jerome Chamberlain ruled McKenzie had been denied a speedy trial. For one thing, the judge said, witnesses who might have been able to clear the defendant had died. In addition, the 1972 hearing showed McKenzie had repeatedly requested a trial date in letters to various officials, friends and relatives.

"Without reciting everything that was introduced at the hearing, suffice it to say, there was sufficient evidence for the hearing judge (Chamberlain) to conclude, as he did, that the appeal had been prejudiced by denial of a speedy trial," the appeals court said.

FIRST — Hiroko Easton, first single enlisted Air Force woman to arrive at Webb, has assumed her duties in the hospital in the Admitting and Discharging Section doing administrative work. The sergeant also works with the medical evacuation of patients. She was joined on base shortly by Sergeant Wanda J. Schuetz of the Procurement Division.

'STICKS AND BONES'

Calls TV Postponement A Cowardly Cop-Out'

NEW YORK (AP) — The Columbia Broadcasting System says it is postponing the telecast of "Sticks and Bones" because the award-winning Broadway play might be "unnecessarily abrasive" for viewers caught up in the return of Vietnam war prisoners and other veterans.

The play, which had been scheduled for network airing Friday night, deals with the callous reception given an American GI returning home blinded from the war.

The CBS announcement Tuesday sparked angry reactions from the play's author and its producer, Joseph Papp, who called the postponement "a cowardly cop-out."

A spokesman for the network said a prime reason behind the decision was that at least 69 of the 184 CBS affiliates who normally take the network's Friday night programs have refused to carry "Sticks and Bones" after previewing it in closed-circuit screenings. In a telegram to all 205 CBS affiliates, Robert C. Wood, the network's president, said, "Most of us agree that the production is a serious, concerned and powerful tragedy of some of the uglier aspects of human nature as revealed in a highly imaginative contemporary story."

Wood added, however, "Many of us both at the networks and among the stations are now convinced that its presentation on the air might be unnecessarily abrasive to the feelings of millions of Americans whose lives or attention are at the moment emotionally dominated by the returning POWs and other veterans who have suffered the ravages of war."

He said the two-hour show would be aired at some later, unspecified time, "when the context of its showing will be less distressing and its possible application to actual events less immediate."

'THERE WAS A RAT IN THIS LADY'S COMMODE'

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — You'd think a fireman fights fires. Right? Wrong. "There's a rat in this lady's commode," the dispatcher at an Austin fire station said. "At least she thought it was a rat. She was nearly hysterical." "I asked her if she'd tried to flush it on through, but she screamed, 'It keeps coming back at me.'" "We sent a unit out, and it turned out to be a squirrel. We were too late to save the squirrel, but that seemed to be okay with the lady." Last week firemen raced to a residence where smoke was reported. "Baby bottles," said the dispatcher. "They were in a sterilizer and I guess they overheated." Then there was Saturday night's bat in the nursing home, which was routed by two units armed with brooms. And, says the dispatcher, a few weeks ago a woman called to say "there had been an explosion and we'd better come out." "I was about to hang up and send somebody out there when she said, 'Oh, just a second. It's all right. One of the tires on my wheelchair blew up.'" "You may not believe the calls we get," the dispatcher said.

Souvenir Hunters Paying Loot For Inaugural Wood

WASHINGTON (AP) — The contract to dismantle the stands and sell the wood, said he's sold about 200,000 board feet of it for about $30,000.

One man bought $6,000 worth to build a beach house on the Virginia coast, he said, and a fireman bought a load for work at an apartment house he owns.

"All kinds of people buy it, even some of the congressmen and senators," Hoffman said. "The Capitol policemen bought some. Lots of people."

Streeky said he has sold 87 of his $100 souvenirs so far. That's just one of the more exotic uses of the half-million board feet of lumber from the stand and seats built for the President's second inauguration Jan. 20 at the Capitol.

Jacob Hoffman, who won the contract to dismantle the stands and sell the wood, said he's sold about 200,000 board feet of it for about $30,000.

Streeky contracted with a local cabinetmaker to cut the wood into 11-by-14-inch squares and shape the edges. He said he uses color photographs he took at the inauguration, and has the brass plates inscribed by a local engraver.

Streeky says he's looking for other ways to make money from the scrap wood. "I've got a lot of scraps," he said. "I've got to figure out what to do with the scraps."

'Green' Rangers Face Challenge

WITH YOUTHFUL OPTIMISM

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The green Texas Rangers enter the 1973 major league baseball season with a new manager, added punch at the plate, and youthful optimism they will make some waves in the American League West. "We'll be competitive," promised Whitey Herzog, who took over the helm from Ted Williams. "It's going to be a helluva challenge."

Herzog, who came from the New York Mets' organization, said, "I have the toughest job in baseball. My team is younger and less experienced than any other major league team. It's short on fundamentals, lacking in confidence and it lost more games than any other team in the majors last season."

The Rangers compiled a 54-100 win-loss record last season and finished 3 1/2 games behind Oakland. Texas was woefully weak at the plate in 1972 and two winter trades may beef up the team batting average. Slugging Oakland first sacker Mike Epstein and hard-hitting Rico Carly of Atlanta were obtained in off-season wheeling and dealing by owner Bob Short and General Manager Joe Burke.

Epstein hit 26 homes for the World Series champions last year while Carly hit .277. Carly has a major league lifetime batting average of .317 although his fielding leaves something to be desired. "The designated pinchhitter rule was made for somebody like Rico, but we're not ruling out the possibility of using him in the outfield," Herzog said. Epstein was formerly with the club when the Rangers were in Washington but asked to be traded because of a disagreement with Williams over whether he should be platooned against left-handed pitchers. Herzog said the Rangers can expect "a lot of hours on fundamentals. Building their confidence is something that won't be easy."

The 41-year-old Herzog has one of the youngest coaching staffs in the majors with Chuck Hiller, 37, Chuck Estrada, 35, and Jackie Moore, 34.

Herzog, who observed many of the present-day Rangers in the Florida Instructional League, said "There were 14 clubs in that league and everybody agreed that Bob Short's youngsters were the best of the crop."

Such young players as outfielders Jeff Burroughs, Joe Lovitto, catcher Bill Fahey, and infielders Dave Nelson, Toby Harrah, and Vic Harris will have to mature rapidly for the Rangers to be a solid club this year.

Texas has good balance on its pitching staff. Veteran Dick Bosman, who has a 50-43 record the last four years, is the anchor of the staff. He had a 3.64 earned run average on an 8-10 record last year.

Hard-throwing youngsters on the staff include Rich Hand, Pete Broberg, Bill Gogolewski and Don Stanhouse.

Relief pitcher Horacio Pina, one of the finest stoppers in the league, was traded to Oakland in the Epstein acquisition.

The Rangers are still several years away from title contention but could prove a tougher club to intimidate this season.

Lippy Lauds De La Santos

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — Houston Astros manager Leo Durocher says Dominican Republic pitcher Ramon de la Santos may be the surprise of Houston's spring training.

And there's no place Durocher would rather have a surprise than on his pitching staff. "He's going to be a hard man to keep off the club," Durocher said Wednesday after de la Santos had retired six of the seven men he faced in an intrasquad game.

"You're not going to beat him with walks. He throws strikes. You have to beat him with the bat."

Pitching is the focal point of the Astros' spring training. The pitching didn't reach expectations in 1972 and that's Durocher's No. 1 concern this year.

Starter Larry Dierker, Houston's only 20-game winner, is sidelined and can't throw until Mar. 23 following an operation to remove a calcium deposit from his pitching hand.

Two Jayhawks All-League

Two members of the Howard County Junior College basketball team, Taylor Williams and Tom Bledsoe, have been named to the All-Western Conference squad chosen by the coaches.

Both boys stand 6-6 and are outstanding rebounders.

Howard County finished in second place in the conference race, with a 12-4 record — three games ahead of Western Texas of Snyder. South Plains of Levelland won the championship with a 15-0 record.

The all-conference squad: George Pannell and Ron Powdrell, both of South Plains; Alvin Meadows, Frank Phillips; Joe Pride, Clarendon; Walter Hannibal, Western Texas; Harold Rhodes, Amarillo; Donnie Jackson, New Mexico Junior College; Earnest Jenkins, Odessa, and Taylor Williams and Tom Bledsoe, both of HCJC.

Williams and Bledsoe helped the Jayhawks post an impressive 27-13 record during the season.

Bonney Says His Quint Will Be Mentally Set

HOUSTON (AP) — Jerry Bonney, co-captain of seventh-ranked Houston, has a good memory and he's already acted to stop what happened to the Cougars in the NCAA playoffs last year.

The Cougars, who will meet Louisiana Saturday in the Midwest pre-regional basketball playoffs at Wichita, Kans., were upset by Southwest Conference champion Texas 85-74 in last year's first round.

Bonney says the Cougars weren't mentally ready for that game and as senior captain, he's making sure UH doesn't make that mistake again.

Following Houston's final regular season game Monday, Bonney called a closed-door meeting of the 23-3 Cougars.

"I told them we have to have good practices this week," Bonney said. "We didn't do that last year. We weren't really concentrating on the game. All we were thinking about was low site of the regional tournament."

"Our practices were good physically, but they weren't good mentally," Bonney said. "We weren't as strong as we should have been mentally and anybody who says he was ready is just lying to himself."

It will be the second meeting of the season for UH and USL. Houston won the first match 82-80. The Cougars later beat 16th ranked Jacksonville on a shot by Bonney in the last four seconds.

And that's how Bonney says the playoffs will be — close. "I don't think anybody is going to beat anybody really bad," Bonney said. "I think that will be a positive factor for us because we're used to close games."

Coronado Slams Eagles, 12-8

'PRISONS FULL OF ATHLETES' Believes In Helping

NEW YORK (AP) — An inscription on the base of the Statue of Liberty, "Give me your poor, your tired, your huddled masses..." could well be emblazoned on the desk of Bill Daniels, enterprising Colorado sports entrepreneur.

But it would be rephrased to read, "Give me your murderers, your addicts, your disadvantaged miscreants..."

Ron Lyle, a heavyweight boxer who served 7 1/2 years for second degree murder, will attest to that. So will South Carolina's well-known Bobby Lee Hunter, Olympic flyweight contender serving a term for manslaughter. Earl Manigault, a former Harlem drug addict and ex-convict with pro basketball aspirations, and D. C. Barker, a light heavyweight fighter who learned his skills in Colorado State Prison.

BETTER KNOWN

They are just a few of the better knownfortunates who have found a fresh start through Daniels' helping hand.

"The prisons are full of good athletes, men asking for a break in life," Daniels said, relaxing in the skyscraper headquarters of the American Basketball Association. "All the federal money in the world can't help them. They need love and understanding—someone to care."

Daniels, 50, a dapper onetime Navy pilot who made good in cable television, doesn't hang around jail cells to fill the roster of his Utah Stars of the ABA or satisfy his desire to back a boxing champion.

He is president of the Denver-based firm, Daniels and Associates, which operates cable TV systems in California, Texas, Colorado and Wyoming. He can scribble a million dollar check for a 6-foot-11 college basketball ace without batting an eyelash. He is president of the six-year-old American Basketball Association.

Long active in the rehabilitation of convicts, addicts and alcoholics, Daniels got Lyle out of the Colorado State Penitentiary on parole after the latter had served 7 1/2 years of a 15-to-20 year sentence and gave him a chance to go after the heavyweight boxing crown.

Lyle was unbeaten and was named 1972 "Fighter of the Year" before suffering his first defeat last month at the hands of Jerry Quarry.

DANIELS GUEST

Bobby Lee Hunter, a sensation at the 1971 Pan-American Games in Cali, Colombia, was let out of the South Carolina Penitentiary to attend the Lyle-Quarry fight at Madison Square Garden—as guest of Daniels.

"Bobby Lee is scheduled to get out on parole this summer," Daniels said. "He is coming to Denver. We are going to see that he gets a good start in pro boxing, if that's what he wants, or anything else he chooses to do."

Daniels became involved in sports four years ago when he was awarded the Denver franchise in the International Boxing League, an amateur body that later folded. His interest in boxing remained, as in basketball and other sports. He sponsors two race car drivers, Lloyd Ruby and Cale Yarborough.

His main concern, however, he admits, lies with the disadvantaged.

"These guys all have been knocked on their behinds," he said. "They are forgotten, spurned by society. They need help, love and understanding. I think of how fortunate I've been and figure this is the least I can do to balance the books."

Subs Named All-Tourney

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — It won't happen often but two subs made all-tournament teams at the recent state schoolboy basketball tournament.

Junior Rick Dowdle came off the bench in two games to pour in 40 points for the Class 3A champion, Longview Pine Tree, and was a unanimous all-tournament selection in that division.

But the choice of sophomore Cleotis Wiley of Class 1A champion Kennard to the all-star squad is more amazing in that his coach only decided to bring him to the tournament at the last minute.

Subbing for the injured Curtis Jones in the championship game, he tossed in 23 points as Kennard whipped previously unbeaten Petrolia 77-67.

Petrolia's Larry Spruiell, Paul Lamb of Kennard and Robert Barnes, San Augustine sophomore, were the other unanimous selections.

Lamb, 6-6, was the leading rebounder in the tournament with 39, and Barnes scored 41 points and hauled in 25 rebounds.

Here are the complete all-tournament teams:

Class 3A
Rick Dowdle, Longview Pine Tree, Jr.
Paul Lamb, Waco Jarrigon/Kennard
Steve Mayes, Rockport-Fulton, Sr.
Glyn Hughes, Sr.
Kent McCurley, Lamesa, Jr.
Harry McCurley, Lamesa, Sr.
(The McCurley brothers tied for the fifth spot.)

Class 2A
Robert Barnes, San Augustine, So.
Dennis Jennings, Grand Saline, Jr.
Charles Harris, San Augustine, Sr.
Kim Hennig, Madras, Jr.
Ronnie Morland, Grand Saline, Sr.
Jerry Sifton, Morton, Jr.
(Morland, Sifton and Stewart tied for the fifth place.)

Class 1A
Larry Spruiell, Petrolia, Sr.
Paul Lamb, Kennard, Sr.
Louis Nix, Spook, Jr.
Darrell Massie, Petrolia, Jr.
Cleotis Wiley, Kennard, Sr.

Big Ten Will Red-Shirt

CHICAGO (AP) — The Big Ten has finally capitulated to an ancient demand by conference football coaches for red-shirting.

Only the move to a five-year college competition rule approved Wednesday by the policy-making faculty representatives now appears academic.

For one thing, red-shirting—the practice of holding out a promising player for one season—appears doomed by recent NCAA legislation which eventually will limit any school's total football scholarships to 105.

Also, the action by the faculty group at the conclusion of the Big Ten's March business conference must be reviewed by individual member schools under the White Resolution.

This means the matter must again be reconsidered at the May conference meeting after each school votes on it.

The Big Ten since 1956 has operated on a four-year college span for athletes which conference football coaches have howled long and loudly put them at a sharp disadvantage in competition with such red-shirting conferences as the Big Eight and Pacific 8.

JC Golf Teams Gather Here

Howard County Junior College will host the regular conference play in Western Junior College golf Friday.

The time is 9 a.m. at the Big Spring Country Club course with Odessa College and Western Texas of Snyder locked in a tight fight for first place.

Representing HCJC in this round will be Ricky Cox in the No. 1 spot, 2. Mike Moore, 3. Cary Karlson, 4. Mark Felton, and 5. Charles Harrell. Cox shot a five round in the Border Olympics meet last weekend. Play will be 18-holes medal. The low four of the five scores for each team will count.

Five Net Teams In HC Tourney

Five teams are signed for the Howard County Invitational Tennis Tournament set for here Friday and Saturday.

Paco Ceron of Cent-Tex College at Killeen is seeded No. 1.

Nets Battle Back To Win

By The Associated Press

How does a basketball team come back from a 23-point deficit? Garbage shots, defense and hustle.

That is the way the New York Nets described their 91-89 comeback American Basketball Association victory over the Kentucky Colonels Wednesday night.

Coach Joe Mullaney of the Colonels had some other ideas. "The Nets were atrocious, and we kept up with them," Kentucky won the turn-over battle 28-21.

"We have never become the defensive team we should be," Mullaney said. "We are constantly doing things to give up the ball."

Mullaney, in a rage after the loss, chided Artis Gilmore for not playing defense and allowing the other teams center to get the ball without any resistance.

In other ABA action, Indiana stopped Memphis 122-114, Utah eased past Carolina 128-112 and Denver edged Dallas 116-111.

In the National Basketball Association, New York crushed Philadelphia 120-94 and Cleveland beat Houston 118-100.

"When you are ahead by 20 points at the half, I guess you aren't supposed to say anything," Mullaney said.

Losing 51-28 at one point in the second half, the Nets staged an amazing comeback and finally tied it at 85 with 4:07 to go on a jump shot by Billy Paultz.

George Carter's field goal gave the Nets the lead 89-87 with 28 seconds to go and Gary Gregor's two free throws with eight seconds left iced the victory. Dan Issel scored at the buzzer for the Colonels.

Carter and Lackey each had 20 points for the Nets while Paultz added 19. Issel scored 25 for Kentucky while Louie Dampier added 24.

The Indiana Pacers scored its fifth straight ABA victory at the expense of the sagging Memphis Tams.

Freddie Lewis scored 22 points for the Pacers who defeated the Tams for the seventh time in eight meetings.

Ron Boone scored 34 points and led the Utah Stars over the Carolina Cougars.

Boone, Willie Wise and James Jones combined for 82 points for the Stars in the battle of division leaders.

The Denver Rockets stole the ball twice in succession late in the game and enabled them to defeat the Dallas Chaparrals.

Marv Roberts stole the ball on successive plays and fed Ralph Simpson for layups.

Walt Frazier scored 28 points and Bill Bradley added 22 to lead the New York Knicks over the Philadelphia 76ers in an NBA contest.

The game was close just before halftime, but the Knicks scored eight straight points and then Frazier sunk 10 of his points in the second half to make the game a rout.

The Cleveland Cavaliers ripped off 12 straight points at the end of the first quarter to take a 28-24 lead and went on to trounce the Houston Rockets.

More Mature John Bench Working Hard In Camp

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — There's a change in Johnny Bench this year, and, as far as Manager Sparky Anderson is concerned, it's a change for the better.

"I've never seen John work as hard as he's been working here," Anderson said Wednesday after the Reds went through a four-hour drill.

"He's matured. He's come out here and completely taken charge."

Bench, the 25-year-old catcher who last season won the National League's most valuable player award after leading the league in home runs and runs batted in, has come to camp with something to prove.

During the winter he received a scare. A spot was discovered on his right lung. Surgery was performed in December, and a benign lesion, caused by a fungus, was removed.

"I believe the scare he got pushed his maturity along fast," said Anderson.

Observers say the surgery changed Bench's outlook on life and on the game of baseball. This became noticeable when Bench did a television promotion for baseball Tuesday.

At Bench's request, the film makers edited into the script "a baseball career doesn't last forever."

"I realize now that anything can happen," explained Bench, who hit 40 home runs and drove in 125 runs while hitting .270 last season.

"He's more businesslike than he's ever been," added Anderson. "There's no messing around at all. And, you can see a change in his attitude toward people asking for autographs."

"There were times," said Anderson, "when it used to bother him. Now he's happy to sign for everyone."

Bench explained it differently. "This is my seventh camp," he said. "I just know what to do. I guess through the early days of this camp with Tony Perez, Joe Morgan and Pete Rose, not here, the guys were looking to me."

When the other stars showed up, Bench found himself running the show. He prodded Rose Wednesday when the Cincinnati left fielder, about to take part in his first workout after holding out for six days, was stopped for a television interview.

"We've got a job to do, let's get going," Bench, finally getting Rose to cut the interview short and in the Reds' exercises.

Atlantic Coast League Opens Playoffs Today

By The Associated Press

Modern technology has produced a lot but still hasn't come up with a sound-proof football auditorium. They'll need one today in Greensboro, N.C.

It's the start of the Atlantic Coast Conference playoffs.

Usually unpredictable, but always noisy, the ACC holds its annual mad bash to determine a league winner and representative to the National Collegiate Athletic Association's playoffs.

The Wolfpack, who've drawn a first-round bye as regular-season champs, won't jump into the pool until Friday. The 15,000-plus fans at the Charlotte Coliseum will predictably roar through three day-night games—North Carolina-Wake Forest, Maryland-Clemson and Duke-Virginia.

The noisemakers will also be in good voice in Lexington, Ky., where the Kentucky Wildcats and Tennessee Volunteers meet to determine the Southeastern Conference championship.

The teams are tied for the SEC lead with 13-4 records and have come down to the last day of the regular season to settle matters in one of the wildest finishes in recent history.

South Carolina, one of the teams already headed for the NCAA's post-season party, finished its regular season Wednesday night with a 90-79 victory over Duquesne.

South Carolina State defeated North Carolina-Asheville 87-78 to win the District 6 championship in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics' playoffs.

Several other NAIA district playoffs were held Wednesday night as teams advanced to the national tournament.

Marymont College (Kan.) whipped Bethel 82-60 in District 10; Slippery Rock tripped Mercyhurst 70-68 in District 18; Augustaana breezed past McKendree 109-61 in District 20; Hanover beat Franklin 69-57 in District 21; Ferris State stopped Hillsdale 69-66 in District 23; Valdosta turned back LaGrange 95-85 in District 25; Guilford defeated Winston-Salem 74-69 in District 26 and Pembroke State topped Norfolk State 90-84.

Three of the teams in the ACC playoffs are nationally-ranked—No. 2 North Carolina State, No. 8 North Carolina and 10th-rated Maryland.

Pinkham, Kinlund Are Fired As SMU Aides

DALLAS (AP) — Bitter Mike Pinkham, one of two assistant basketball coaches fired at Southern Methodist Wednesday said there was such a lack of discipline that players showed up late for practice and three got drunk the night before a game.

Pinkham and Neal Kinlund were dismissed Wednesday but head coach Bob Prewitt was handed a one-year contract to shore up the Mustangs, pre-season Southwest Conference favorites who sank to a 7-7 record.

Pinkham said "It's an injustice. I'm a disciplinarian and I tried to discipline the kids and he (Prewitt) didn't. I can't see kids getting by with things. Three kids were out drunk before the (second) Arkansas game with girls and I caught them."

"I don't think you can win doing things like that. I don't think the players should have been allowed to play. Two of them were starters."

Pinkham added, "I don't know how they could have dismissed me and Neal and they don't dismiss him (Prewitt). Look at his record (65-85)."

He said "Some of the kids even came to me wanting discipline. In practice, they would show up late... or do anything they wanted to do. There is just no discipline here."

Pinkham said he thought SMU would have trouble recruiting blacks in the future.

"I don't think black players will come here anymore... I doubt if they'll even be recruited," Pinkham said.

Prewitt said "I'm not going to get into any discussions about what Pinkham has to say. I feel the statement I made earlier that there was a basic difference in our philosophies still stands. There were some problems and I'm making every effort to work these out."

Among the problems Prewitt has ahead of him include star freshman center Ira Terrell's demand to play forward and criticism by junior forward Sammy Hervey of junior guard Zach Thiel's attitude.

Pinkham said "I've worked hard and done the job. I've been as loyal to the coach as I know how. I've done the work he has asked me to do and even more. I'm not ashamed. I know I did a good job—look at the record... look at the recruits. This just stuns me. I thought probably they would fire all three of us. But I'll be better off getting into a better program."

Pinkham said "I worked hard on recruiting. The coach (Prewitt) was no recruiter. And there was no discipline."

PORTER AWAITS CALL

Sam Houston Is Named Champ

HUNTSVILLE (AP) — Sam Houston State Coach Archie Porter got the call he had been waiting for Wednesday. Now he is staying close by the telephone to see if the National Invitation Tournament in New York City will dial his number.

Sam Houston was named The Associated Press college division basketball champion and Porter said "Maybe it will help get us into the NIT. I see where they still have three openings. There are a lot of teams in that tournament we could stay with."

The undefeated Bearkats need only one more triumph to erase the NIA record for the most consecutive victories of 33 set by Stephen F. Austin. They play in the NAIA playoffs in Kansas City beginning Monday.

"We sure do like you guys because you had us rated No. 1 before anybody else did this season," Porter said. "This will help our recruiting and maybe put a bug in the ear of the NIT people. The tournament is the week after the NAIA playoffs and wouldn't conflict."

Porter said "I'm very proud of the particular group of kids on our team. Four of our starters are seniors and they've worked hard. They've come close for the last two years. Now this really caps things."

Porter said of the nationwide panel of sportswriters and broadcasters who voted in the poll: "It shows sportswriters are a whole lot smarter than coaches. It took them coaches awhile to get on our bandwagon."

Augustana of Illinois, whose season record was marred only by a one-point loss to Sam Houston, was No. 2 in the final poll with a 23-1 record.

Number Sign For Clinic

Fourteen children have registered so far for Saturday's free orthopedic clinic at the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center. Center spokesmen said 40 children are expected to attend.

The clinic, co-sponsored by the center and the Howard County Easter Seal Society, is held every three months to offer a diagnostic and evaluation service to crippled children through a team approach.

Saturday's session will begin at 9 a.m., but parents of children may register them up until noon that day. There is no charge for the services.

A seven-member team will help determine what type of treatment is best for each child, whether one of a combination of the following treatments: physical therapy, surgery, braces, corrective shoes, drugs or a home exercise program.

Team members include an orthopedic surgeon, pediatrician, physical therapist, occupational therapist, speech therapist, public health nurse and brace man.

Children up to the age of 21 from Howard County and the surrounding area are eligible to attend.

'Tonight, I'm Going To Take My Lovely Wife In My Arms'

By The Associated Press

Fifty-six more American men headed home today on the final leg of their flight to freedom.

The 56 enroute from Clark Air Base in the Philippines to family reunions in the United States are the latest prisoners of war to be freed.

They left Clark on three giant C141 hospital planes bound for four locations—Andrews Air Force Base in Maryland, Kelly Air Force Base in Texas, Scott Air Force Base in Illinois and Travis Air Force Base in California.

Their return brings to 299 the number of American prisoners of war repatriated since the Vietnam cease-fire. Hanoi says another 286 are still to be freed. The 56 were all the freed prisoners who remained at Clark, the first stopover on the journey home. They were preceded by 80 other former prisoners who returned to the States Wednesday.

One of those arriving at Maxwell Air Force Base near Montgomery, Ala., was Air Force Capt. Thomas M. McNish of Franklin, N.C.

McNish, a POW for 6½ years, drew cheers from the welcoming crowd when he declared:

"I'm a 30-year-old bachelor with a lot of living to catch up on!"

Blue Angels Dodge Death

EL CENTRO, Calif. (AP)—Three Blue Angel precision flying jets crashed in the Southern California desert during maneuvers today but their pilots apparently ejected safely, the Navy said.

"A few military pilots in the area tell us they saw three fully extended parachutes, indicating the pilots got out okay," said a spokesman at El Centro Naval Air Station. The crash site was about 20 miles west of the air base in an area restricted for jet training flights.

There are seven pilots including one backup flier, who train in six high-speed F4 Phantom jets during air shows throughout the United States. In crashes since 1967 four Blue Angel pilots have been killed, all at or near the same spot in the hilly area of desert.

A flight companion, Capt. David F. Gray, Jr., 31, of Tampa, Fla., told the Maxwell crowd:

"A loving God made me an American and to America I return. A loving President preserved my honor and with honor I return. A loving wife waited with a strong heart and to her I return. Thank you heavenly Father; thank you Linda; thank you, America."

At Travis Air Force Base, Navy Capt. Ernest M. Moore,

Jr., 43, of Coronado, Calif., summed up his feelings on his return:

"Tonight, I'm going to take my lovely wife in my arms—something I have dreamed about for years. And I will know an openness and communion with her that I have never known in the past."

"That is why this is my special day." Moore had been a prisoner for six years.

Willeford Takes A Dim View Of Commission

Dr. George Willeford, chairman of the Republican Party of Texas, doesn't think the Texas Constitutional Revision Commission is likely to produce a document representing the views of Texas.

In a statement from the state party headquarters, their chairman concurred that those named to the commission are "individuals of high calibre," but that the "Democratic officials who suggested members... failed in having them truly represent the people of Texas." He contended that there were more liberals than others. Willeford said that, by his party's analysis, there were 16 commissioners whom he considered liberal, eight moderates, and 13 conservatives.

The makeup included 33 Democrats and only four Republicans. This did not, he said, square with a 66 per cent Republican vote for president, 53 per cent for U.S. senator, and 45 per cent for governor of state voting. Dr. Willeford also hit at the failure to include Republican representatives from the Panhandle or Harris County, which he regarded as Republican strongholds. He called for a Republican to be put on each of the subcommittees.

"A constitution which fairly represents the views of Texans is too much to ask from a commission which does not," he said. "If they (the commissioners) do not write a Constitution that can be voted on and approved by conservatives and liberals, Republicans and Democrats, all of the effort will have failed."

Big Spring ISD Now Has Thousand Fewer Students

By MARJ CARPENTER

The peak year in school enrollment in Big Spring was in the 1965-66 school year when the total count peaked at 7,820 after climbing steadily for 10 years from 1956-57 when it was 5,386. In 1973, Big Spring was 1,000 students below the peak year in 1965. However, we are still up 1,000 from the total enrollment of 1956. The present enrollment is 6,846. It has shown a gradual decline since 1966. There was a gradual rise in the decade between 1956 and 1966. In other words, the enrollment went up for 10 years, peaked, and now has gone down for the past eight.

ENROLLMENT NOSEDIVING

Big Spring school enrollment continued its nosedive last week, reporting a net decline of 26 pupils and leaving the total at 6,647.

Within the past four weeks, the totals have declined by 91, and 66 of that occurred within the past two weeks. Nearly half the drops have been at high school, where the total is 40 less than it was four weeks ago. Four weeks ago the enrollment was running 231 below the comparable date of the previous year; last week that disparity had increased to 313.

Elementary enrollment amounted to 3,468, down 12 for last week, secondary 3,895, down 12, hospital and homebound 84, down two.

rollment was in the 5,000 figures and in 1959-61, it was in the 6,000 figure similar to what it is this year.

In the decade between 1961 and 1971, the over-all figure remained in the 7,000 figure wavering up and down with such things as the annexation of the Gay Hill school in 1963-64 and the opening of kindergarten in 1970.

The high school today has 1,922. At the end of last year they had 1,885 and at the beginning of last year, they had 1,898. The high school enrollment peaked in 1965 the same year that the entire system peaked but has more or less held its own ever since, actually increasing a little this year.

The two junior highs presently total 1,203 with 1,139 last May and 1,198 the previous September. In May 1970, they totaled 1,191 and in May 1971 they added up to 1,189. September 1970 showed 1,220, with almost an identical figure in May 1969 with 1,221. September 1969 showed 1,225 and May 1968, 1,229. The junior highs have showed a slow decline the last five years, but actually have also pretty much held their own.

DROP OF 500
There has been a drop of 500 in the past five years in the elementary schools. In May 1968, they totaled 3,952 and this year, at the beginning of school, they enrolled 3,409. This is almost the same drop there is in total figures, so it seems that the scholastic population of Big Spring is getting older.

Kindergarten began here in 1970 with 137 and in 1972 had 32. Kindergarten figures are not true predictors of things to come because they only include the language handicapped until this year, when a third of the other five year olds are to be included. However, not until 1978, when all five year olds will attend kindergarten in Texas, will the figures of kindergarten enrollment actually predict things to come.

But the figures speak for themselves. The over-all drop in school enrollment in the past five years is 710. Over 500 of that figure is in the elementary schools.

The two junior highs share a drop during that five year period of about 100 and the high school has a drop of about 100. This is why during the past five years, it really doesn't seem to the average Big Spring citizen like there are less students. The average citizen pays the most attention to the high school program.

We still have big bands and choirs and about the same number of participants in everything else. A drop of 100 over a five-year period is only around 20 a year and nobody's missed them.

But when you look below at the drop of over 500 in the grades, it spells the future. And things to come. Unless the population increases, in the meantime, that enrollment drop will move year by year to a secondary level. And then it will be noticed.

Monday at 7:30 p.m., the city council will meet to consider an ordinance prohibiting livestock inside Forsan city limits, Mayor Jack Lamb said.

S. J. Willis and Jimmie C. Shoultz, the new candidates, face incumbents Mrs. Susan Gaston, John B. Anderson and Bobby S. Wash. All candidates run at large for the three vacancies.

Voters will cast ballots at Forsan High School between 8 a.m. and 7 p.m. At the same time, voting will be conducted here and at Elbow Elementary School for three school board positions.

Monday at 7:30 p.m., the city council will meet to consider an ordinance prohibiting livestock inside Forsan city limits, Mayor Jack Lamb said.

GIVEN TWO-YEAR SENTENCE — Mrs. Edith Irving was sentenced in Zurich, Switzerland, today to two years in jail for her part in the $650,000 Howard Hughes autobiography hoax. She could have gotten five years.

Howard Hughes Hoax Sentence

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Edith Irving was sentenced to two years in jail today for her part in the $650,000 Howard Hughes autobiography hoax. She could have gotten five years.

The prosecution had called for only 18 months and asked for it to be suspended. Prosecutor Henry Ardinaud told the Zurich Superior Court she evidently was acting under the influence of her writer husband, Clifford Irving, who is now serving a 2½-year sentence at the U.S. Federal Penitentiary in Louisburg, Pa.

In the public deliberation on the sentence, a peculiarity of Swiss trial law, the presiding judge favored the suspended term proposed by the prosecution, but the other two judges voted in favor of an unconditional two-year term.

The sentence will be reduced by the two months Mrs. Irving served in the United States last fall plus four days she spent in Swiss custody while awaiting trial. Her lawyer said he hoped to get her paroled before the end of the year.

A native of Switzerland, Mrs. Irving pleaded guilty to all the charges against her, including fraud and forgery to cash three checks totaling $650,000 which the McGraw-Hill Publishing Co. had given her husband to be passed on to the billionaire reclusive.

Mrs. Irving also was ordered to pay trial costs, estimated by one judge at 20,000 francs—about $20,000. The court noted that because of dollar devaluation, Swiss franc funds recovered from the swindle and frozen in Swiss banks had increased in value by 58,400 francs and ruled that this additional money be awarded to the defendant to help cover the costs.

The court formally recognized damage claims filed by McGraw-Hill and totaling about $390,000 in addition it awarded McGraw-Hill a nominal 400 francs to help cover legal fees. A damage claim filed by Howard Hughes for $366,700 was not recognized by the court, which suggested he file a civil law suit.

U.S. Finding Few Nations Ready To Share Indochina Aid Burden

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has found few nations willing to join its program of international aid for Indochina, dampening chances that Congress will approve American participation.

Of the non-Communist nations President Nixon is counting on to join in an assistance program, only Japan has indicated willingness to pay large sums. But even in Tokyo's case there are uncertainties as to the amount and the form of contributions.

NOT SATISFIED
The United States won't be satisfied with anything less than a major contribution, certainly far larger than the $50-million initial payment mentioned in Japanese newspapers recently.

And since Washington prefers a multinational effort with individual contributions as free of strings as possible, the usual Japanese practice of tying aid to investment returns is not readily acceptable to the United States.

With Congress generally cool toward an Indochina aid program, particularly if it includes North Vietnam, Secretary of State William P. Rogers has been stressing a plan to involve many nations that would share the burden.

BRITISH COOL
He has stated that the European Community as well as Japan has shown a willingness to join in. But if the Japanese position is uncertain, the European Community is an even weaker possibility.

Great Britain, for instance, has said it cannot provide more than a token amount. France has shown no inclination to participate and few other European nations are expected to contribute in any meaningful way.

The Bonn government's planning for 1973 is to lend no more than $32 million for reconstruction in all four Indochina states. This would have to be repaid over 30 years at 2 percent interest and, for the moment, would be given on a bilateral basis, not through some international forum.

Weakening Rogers' claim of widespread international interest has been the response from the other participants in the Paris conference on Vietnam.

LIMITED FUNDS
Britain and France already are considered largely out of the picture. Indonesia has said it won't contribute at all and, of course, the Vietnam states are to be the recipients, not donors.

That leaves only Canada among the non-Communist participants joining the United States in stating a willingness to provide aid through a multinational program. But the Ottawa government's financial contribution must be limited compared to what the United States or Japan can afford.

Of the Communist nations that participated in the Paris conference, China and the Soviet Union say their aid will go only to North Vietnam and only on a bilateral basis. Poland and Hungary, which also participated in Paris, are expected to follow suit.

Pair En Route To Huntsville
Two men convicted of felonies were released from county jail to take a Texas Department of Corrections bus to the state prison at Huntsville.

They are Froylan Flores Lopez, 41, who was found guilty of forgery and sentenced to five years, and Chester Aaron Sweat III, 23, who was convicted of burglary.

The radicals in Panama have said that if they can not get possession of the Canal Zone peacefully, they will do so by force.

Panamian Issue Heating Up In Washington Again

By OMAR BURLESON, M.C. WASHINGTON — In the year 1973, at a time when demands were being made by radicals in Panama for the United States to surrender its sovereignty over the Panama Canal, then Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes called in the Panamanian minister for a talk.

Mr. Hughes said it was "an absolute futility for the Panamanian government to expect any American Administration ever to surrender any part" of U.S. sovereign rights, power, and authority acquired under the 1903 treaty.

Unfortunately the present Secretary of State and several secretaries before him, have not been as determined. Talks beginning soon after Panamanian mobs assaulted the Canal Zone in 1964 resulted in a three-pronged treaty, published in 1967, which yielded authority over the Canal but was never signed.

Panamanian leaders, headed by Omar Torrijes, have taken an increasingly severe position against the United States. Their "hate the U.S." propaganda has been accompanied by the takeover by force of the Panama Power and Light Company, the hijacking of 17 U.S. owned and operated buses in the Canal Zone and what was found by a House of Representatives investigating committee to be the involvement of high Panamanian officials in drug traffic to the United States.

Now a n o t h e r dimension has been added and this is the point of these comments. On Jan. 16, 1973, the United Nations Security Council, on the invitation of the revolutionary representative of Panama, decided to convene in Panama City for a series of meetings starting next Thursday, March 15. The chairman is Agullino Boyd, the Panamanian representative to the U.N. who promoted the arrangement. He was the leader of the anti-U.S. demonstrations in the Zone in 1968.

The radicals in Panama have said that if they can not get possession of the Canal Zone peacefully, they will do so by force.

Foreign Appreciation Seen In Her Meals

By BARBARA LORD
Mrs. Wade Morris seldom prepared a meal prior to her marriage, but in the past three years she has acquired a knack for many foreign as well as American dishes. Her favorites include Spanish, Italian and French cuisines.

Spanish cooking is nothing like Mexican," said Mrs. Morris (Malaney). "The Spanish use a lot of olive oil and a lot of chicken. Their foods aren't as spicy as Mexican cooking, and a tortilla in Spain is an egg omelet."

Lt. Morris, a student pilot at Webb AFB, is partial to Italian cooking and is particularly fond of manicotti and lasagne. However, Mrs. Morris said he is great to cook for because he's willing to try anything new.

Mrs. Morris finds life as a student pilot's wife a bit hectic at times. Her husband's schedule consists of "earlies" and "lates," meaning one week he may go in from 4:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., while another week his hours may be noon to 9 p.m.

"It's difficult to plan meals for him," said Mrs. Morris, "but it's important for him to have something hot every evening, so I try to have something ready. I just have to make sure it's something that will keep warm if he doesn't get home when he plans."

FLORIDIANS

The Morris' were both reared in Florida, and the main food item they miss in Texas is seafood. Although they are not used to snowy and cold winters, they enjoyed the unusual surplus of snows Big Spring saw this winter. Both of them took up snow skiing at Ruidoso. They still classify themselves as "beginners," but they immediately liked the sport. In Florida they did a lot of water skiing.

Mrs. Morris is a congenial and gregarious person who enjoys having people stop by to chat. When it comes to entertaining, she likes small dinner parties, but always on a casual basis. These times are when she often tries out new recipes, and she admits she follows recipes "to the letter."

"I don't dare vary recipes," she said. "I just don't feel that confident about knowing what things will taste like." Mrs. Morris did a lot of baking as she grew up, but her mother handled the rest of the meal. Baking is still her favorite aspect of kitchen work, and the couple usually has a dessert on hand whenever they want one.

Lt. and Mrs. Morris both graduated from Florida State University. He received a bachelors degree in mathematics, and she received her BA and masters degree in Spanish. In 1968 she went to Spain and took graduate courses in Spanish at the University of Valencia. Today she lacks only a thesis to receive her doctorate.

Mrs. Morris keeps active as a member of Officers' Wives Club and as class reporter for the Prairie-Copilot (an OWC monthly newsletter). Also, she does substitute teaching for all grades in the Howard County school system.

HOBBIES

At home, she often relaxes with a crewel embroidery or cross-stitching project. Future plans include lessons in water color painting.

"We like to go 'junking,'" said Mrs. Morris. "We find old pieces

Texas Indian Tribes Boast Proud Past

Texas' only Indian reservation, the home of the Alabama and Coushatta tribes, was described by Mrs. Don McKinney, speaker for the 1941 Study Club Monday evening in the home of Mrs. W. A. Wilson. She based her talk on material taken from the books, "You Shall Pay for Custer's Sins," and "Sam Houston's Indians."

The reservation, located on US 190 between Livingston and Woodville in East Texas, is in Polk County near Lake

Told Treatment For Obesity, Hypertension

"There are more than 21 million people in the United States with hypertension," said Mrs. J. E. Matthews when she was guest speaker for TOPS No. 249 recently at the YMCA.

Mrs. Matthews said chances of having a stroke are four times greater if people are not treated for hypertension. It can cause cerebral hemorrhaging, diabetes, degenerative arthritis of the back and legs, leg ulcers during pregnancy and gall bladder trouble.

"Vitamins which can be bought over the counter do no good because they just flush out of the body's system and are not used," said Mrs. Matthews. "Vitamins should be recommended by a doctor." She stressed that vitamins A and B can have serious side effects.

In discussing overweight, Mrs. Matthews warned against by-pass surgery, saying it should be considered only in cases of extreme obesity. By-pass surgery is the cutting and closing up of the small intestine so that it is not used by the body. She said all experts agree that the best way to lose weight is to cut down on consumption of fats and sugars.

Local Woman Gets Certificate

Mrs. C. C. Cunningham was presented a certificate of perfection for unwritten work Tuesday evening by Mrs. Jewel Fields, lodge deputy for Big Spring Rebekah Lodge No. 284.

Mrs. Joe Awtry presided, and Pat Savell, degree team captain, asked the degree team to meet at 3 p.m., Sunday at the Oddfellow Hall.

Honored for their birthdays were Mrs. A. F. Gilliland, Mrs. Akin Simson, Mrs. Gertrude Hill, Mrs. Melvin Newton and Mrs. B. D. Walker. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Robert Wilson, Mrs. W. N. Wood, Mrs. K. J. Nielsen and Mrs. Gertrude Rodrick. A St. Patrick's Day theme was used for decorations.

At a district meeting Saturday in Kermit, the assembly degree was presented to Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cunningham, Earl Wilson and Lonnie Griffith.

Nail Biting Can Be Inherited

A genetic basis for nail biting in children was indicated by an investigation of the habit in twins.

Of 338 pairs of twins (676 children) age 6 years and older studied, 203 children or 30.3 per cent bit their nails. The habit was 1.5 times as common in girls as in boys.

When a parent had been a nail-biter, the chances of a child being a nail-biter were about three times as great as when neither parent had bitten their nails.

Ex-Members Are Guests Of Club

Three former members of the Pioneer Sewing Club were guests of the group Tuesday for a meeting in the home of Mrs. T. R. Camp, Forsan. They were Mrs. A. O. Ruffin and Mrs. Ben Hodges, both of Colorado City, and Mrs. O. N. Green, Big Spring. The women worked on individual handwork, and refreshments were served. The next meeting will be at 2 p.m., March 20 in the home of Mrs. J. H. Cardwell, Forsan.

Livingston. It is nestled in picturesque woodlands in the midst of the Big Thicket.

In tracing the history of the tribes, Mrs. McKinney said the Indians helped Texas families during the war for independence. There are now approximately 186 families living on the reservation, with the state assisting in expenses for their health programs, as well as in other areas. Some jobs are provided by the timber industry and tourist trade, but more sources of employment are needed, as is vocational training.

Indian Village features a school, church, library and museum where Indian arts and crafts are displayed and sold. Tourists may enjoy the tribal dances performed by "Na Ski La" dancers in colorful buckskin and eagle feathers or tour the "living village" where tribal members cook food, make pottery, beadwork, basketry, weave or create other artful or functional items.

Mrs. O. J. Bohannon presided for the meeting, with prayer led by Mrs. Rod Tiller. Mrs. Jeanette Brooks was a guest.

New officers elected were Mrs. Wendell Shive, president; Mrs. Tiller, vice president; and Mrs. Grady Tindol, secretary-treasurer.

Refreshments were served from a table decorated in the St. Patrick's Day theme.

The next meeting will be April 2 in the home of Mrs. Shive at Coahoma.

Rebekah Lodge Drapes Charter

Advocates Plead For Women's Liberation

Three advocates of the Women's Liberation Movement explained its growth and goals Tuesday afternoon to members of the 1955 Hyperion Club. The guest speakers, Mrs. Jerry Dudley, Mrs. Larry Reese and Mrs. Ramzi Botros, were introduced by Mrs. Don McDonald at a meeting held in the First Federal Community Room.

Mrs. Dudley was the first speaker, opening the discussion with a poem, "Where is it Written?" by Judith di Vorst. She described the female stereotype as one who is required to live a certain way because she was born female. The origin of this stereotype was explained in the form of quotes from well-known authors.

Mrs. Dudley said the common ideal for a woman has been "in your home, behind your man."

Mrs. Reese pursued the subject of Utopia, saying that the ideal society would desire "girl babies as much as boy babies." She expressed the idea that an equal society will be one in which both male and female are allowed to choose their role in life, but not necessarily to reverse their roles. In conclusion, she noted changes in the life of a female from birth to death in a "liberated" world.

The final speaker Mrs. Botros, emphasized the importance of legislation in pursuing equality. She detailed bills before the 93rd Congress concerning child care, hospital care, working conditions, pension and Social Security reform as well as equal legal rights for women.

Mrs. Botros encouraged the women to "realize political power and leave the minority."

After the program, Mrs. McDonald presided for a brief business session, appointing a nominating committee consisting of Mrs. H. C. Ernisting, Mrs. Garland Morrison and Mrs. Jimmy Morehead.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Harold Pearce, Mrs. James Watson and Mrs. John Ritenour.

The next meeting will be held April 3 in the home of Mrs. Hank McDaniel.

The Go-Between

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a private secretary to a gentleman who owns a successful business. I like my job and have been with him for some time.

Recently a young woman has been calling my boss at least six times a day. He seems eager to talk to her as he has instructed me to put her through immediately no matter what. (His wife is told he will return her call when he is available.)

Sometimes this young woman telephones and leaves an involved message which I must relay to my boss promptly. ("Call me at 5 p.m. at home and if I am not there, don't call again, but leave a message on your answering service where you can be reached after 8 p.m.")

I have other things to do, Abby, without handling this "affair." I also find it embarrassing as well as annoying to be in the middle of it. I am instructed to tell his wife that he is "tied up" in a conference when I know he is having a long lunch with this new girl friend. This rubs me the wrong way.

How do I get out of this bothersome and embarrassing bind? I like my job and have built up seniority and many benefits, and don't want to quit.

IN THE MIDDLE
DEAR IN: You are paid to handle your boss' telephone calls, messages and follow his instructions, so do just that without sitting in judgment on his personal affairs. If you can't fulfill your secretarial duties without feeling that you are a "party" to something which rubs you the wrong way, the only alternative is to quit. You certainly can't tell your boss to choose between you and HER!

DEAR ABBY: May I add my two cents to the hassle about doctors and nurses calling their elderly patients by their first-names?

You will notice that a nurse's badge reads, "Miss Jones or Mrs. Smith" — never "Mary" or "Anne." And a doctor expects to be addressed as "DOCTOR" — never by his first name, therefore an adult patient should be given the same courtesy.

I solved that problem recently when I went to see a doctor I had not seen before. He came bouncing into the examination room all pep and vinegar, and after glancing at my card, he said, "And what is bothering FRANCES this morning?"

I replied, "Nothing very serious, JIMMY!" After that, I was "MRS." to him and his staff.

GRANDMA (VAN BUREN) DEAR GRANDMA: That's what I call giving a doctor a taste of his own medicine. Hooray for you!

DEAR ABBY: Someone wrote to you saying she needed a false fanny, and your answer interested me. Is there really such a thing on the market? If so, I certainly could use one. I weigh about 80 pounds and can't seem to gain. I'd look a lot better in clothes if I had a little something in the back. I don't have any trouble with my front view because I wear a padded bra, so please let me know where I can buy one of those false fannies and I will be forever grateful.

SHAPELESS IN HOPE, ARKANSAS
DEAR SHAPELESS: There are indeed such things advertised in catalogs. I send me a stamped addressed envelope and I'll track down the address.

Newcomer Club Has Luncheon

Hostesses were Mrs. Bill White and Mrs. Jim Campbell. The attendance prize, made by Mrs. Luke Fortenberry, was won by Mrs. Campbell. About 25 attended, including three guests. Mrs. Dennis Howard, Mrs. Tony Wynn and Mrs. Bill Freeman.

Study Club Has Book Review

"Hound Dog Man," a book written by Fred Gipsom which was on the best-seller list in 1940, was reviewed Tuesday evening by Mrs. L. Z. Rhodes for members of Forsan Study Club.

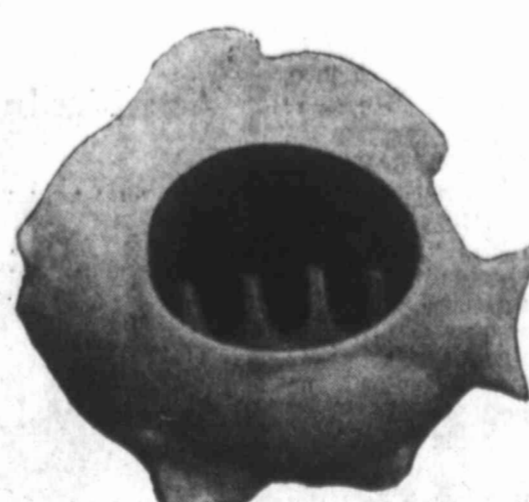

The book tells the story of a 12-year-old boy in the Texas hill country who wanted a hound dog, and his subsequent experiences with the dog.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Raymond Moore, with Mrs. Edman McMurray as cohostess. Mrs. W. R. Cregar won the nominating committee presented a proposed slate of officers. Elections will be conducted at the next meeting, March 19, in the home economics room of Forsan High School.

Jean Adams
TEEN FORUM

BABY ON WAY: (Q.) I am 16 and my girl is almost 16. We have been going together for six months. She is pregnant. Her parents know about it, but they think I don't know.

Her mother told her to break up with me and to tell me she didn't ever want to see me or talk to me again.

We really want to get married because we really love each other. I have a fairly good job and my mother could help us with the baby. We are very seriously in love. Anything you can do to advise us would be appreciated. — Troubled in Pennsylvania.

(A.) Ask your parents to go with you and talk to the girl and her parents. Be very honest with both your father and mother and hers.

Try to avoid getting into arguments about what has happened in the past. The future of you, the girl and the baby is the important thing now.

NO DANCE: (Q.) My girl friends and I were planning to go to a college dance until I asked my mother if it would be all right. She said no, that I do not belong at a college dance.

She knows the girls I was going with and she likes and trusts them. There are two campus policemen and one city policeman at the dance. My girl friends said the boys were not fresh. The dances are open to high school students.

I am 16. — Girl Dancer in Maine.

(A.) When you are a senior in high school, you should be ready for college dances. They are usually held partly to interest senior students in the college.

I do not believe you are a senior yet. That is probably why your mother said no.

Opening lead: Queen of ♠
Failure to execute a safety play while developing his long suit, led to South's downfall in the three no trump contract presented today.

North was confronted with a choice of calls on the second round. Over South's rebid of two diamonds, he could have proceeded directly to three no trump himself.

However, with a good six card major suit and only single stoppers in hearts and clubs, he chose instead to jump to three spades, which is of course forcing to game.

When South proceeded to three no trump, North accepted the decision.

West opened the queen of hearts and the king was played from dummy. A diamond was led, East followed with the five and declarer put up the jack which won the trick. He continued with the king and East was in with the ace. A heart return dislodged South's ace. He played the queen of diamonds; however, East showed out and West was revealed to have a second stopper in the suit. When the latter got in, he cashed enough heart tricks to send the declarer down to defeat.

South could have won the hand by leading a small diamond instead of the king after the jack held, for East is left with the lone ace. However, this is an unnatural play and would have been based on a peek at his opponent's holding.

A more legitimate play was available to the declarer which would have enabled him to salvage his contract. It is suggested that, when the first diamond is led from dummy, South put in the nine from his hand. Altho this gives West an opportunity to win a cheap trick with the ten, the latter is not in position to continue the attack in hearts without giving South an additional stopper in that suit.

West's best return is a spade. Declarer puts up North's ace, enters his hand with the king of clubs and leads the king of diamonds. East is in with the ace and returns a heart. South puts up the ace, cashes the queen and jack of diamonds, pulling the outstanding cards in that suit, and runs for cover with nine tricks—two clubs, four diamonds, two hearts and one spade.

Opening lead: Ten of ♠ South's jump rebid of three hearts is unconditionally forcing on his partner and presumably offers the opening bidder a choice of contracts. Inasmuch as North had no stopper in spades, he was reluctant to persist in no trump, so he carried on to four hearts.

West opened the ten of spades. East put up the ace, returned the queen and South played the king. Declarer led a club to the ace and cashed the king, on which he discarded a spade. A heart was led next and the ten was finessed. West was in with the king and he shifted to a diamond. North played the four and East's nine dislodged the king. South drew trump and conceded a spade at the end. In all, he lost two spade tricks and one heart.

East forfeited all hope for the defense by his play to the first trick. West's lead of the ten was obviously the top card from a short suit. It is highly unlikely that he has a singleton, for that would give South five spades and with that holding, he would presumably have bid the suit at some stage of the auction.

Inasmuch as East has no side entry, he should attempt to maintain a communication avenue with his partner. This can be accomplished only by withholding the ace, so that West can lead the suit again when he regains the initiative.

If East permits South to win the first trick by covering the ten of spades with the jack, the latter will presumably play the ace-king of clubs next to discard a spade and then take the heart finesse.

West is in with the king of hearts and returns a spade. East can now cash two tricks in the suit to complete the defensive book, and then a fourth round of spades will establish West's nine of hearts on an overruff as the setting trick. In all, East and West score two spade tricks and two hearts.

Jinxed Love Life Of 'Born Loser'

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — The jinxed love life of convict Jerry Randall took another plunge today as Jackson County Prosecutor Bruce Barton ruled Randall's recent prison marriage illegal because he already had a wife in Texas.

Randall, who is serving 5 to 10 years for shooting the former Carmine Russell of Sterling Heights in a lovers' quarrel, married her in a Valentine's Day ceremony at Southern Michigan Prison.

But the story attracted the attention of Zenobia Ann Randall, who said she still was recognized legally as Randall's common-law wife despite having filed for divorce.

Randall admitted to living with Zenobia for several years and said she had filed for the common-law marriage while he was in the Texas penitentiary.

Randall insisted he had signed divorce papers and returned them to Texas, freeing him to marry Carmine.

"We were never really married and as far as I am concerned we are legally divorced," he said last week.

"What he signed was undoubtedly a waiver of citation which voids the necessity of appearing in court," said Neal Duvall, assistant prosecuting attorney of Harris County (Houston), Tex.

Duvall also said Texas recognizes common-law marriages immediately, without a minimum period of cohabitation required.

Zenobia's divorce action, filed last May, did not become final until Feb. 21, 1973 — a week after Randall's marriage to Carmine.

"The law clearly is that if he is already married, he cannot marry someone else," said Barton. "But we wouldn't prosecute if he entered into the second marriage thinking honestly he had a legal ability to do so."

However, Barton said, the second marriage was void and would have to be performed again.

Burleson, Co-Sponsors Propose Healthcare Act

WASHINGTON—Congressman Omar Burleson (D-Tex.) and 29 cosponsors Wednesday introduced the National Healthcare Act of 1973, legislation which Burleson said "uses the most efficient and least expensive methods" to cover the full spectrum of health care problems, including catastrophic illness.

Rep. Burleson said the bill includes a number of improvements over a similar bill introduced in 1971, adding that the essential thrust remains the same — to provide far-reaching and improved health care without creating a costly new government mechanism.

He said the bill has a first-year cost of $8.1 billion in additional federal funds, a cost which is far below estimates for some comprehensive proposals.

Noting that catastrophic illness is a matter of special national concern, Rep. Burleson pointed out that the Healthcare Act of 1973 provides that anyone who incurs $5,000 worth of medical expenses in a given year can qualify for up to $250,000 of benefits — even if he has been reimbursed by insurance for some or all of that $5,000.

Another strong feature of the bill, Rep. Burleson said, is that it phases in benefits on a timetable basis, thus assuring that the program enlarges benefits as manpower and facilities become available.

Under a state pool plan, a faster phase-in for the poor, near poor and previously uninsured, goes into initial operation by July 1, 1974. By 1980, the minimum standard benefits for private group and individual plans would be raised to the level initially required for the state pool plans.

The Healthcare Act allows for a gradual replacement of Medicaid while at the same time providing better benefits for the poor.

Other key features of the bill provide:

- Containment of rising health costs through increased use of less-costly ambulatory care facilities, increased power for health planning agencies, cost and quality control standards.
- Upgrading of health manpower through improved federal training programs, federal grants to medical schools, better student loans.
- Raising health benefits for all; establishing federal minimum standards, use of private insurers to provide benefits, as well as tax incentives to assure better benefits.
- Creation of a cabinet-level health council to oversee the organization, delivery financing and quality of health care.
- "I don't believe that we need build yet another all-new federal structure to deal with health problems when we can build upon the skills we already have to make our health care and health delivery systems more responsive to actual needs, and do so at a price we can afford to pay," Burleson added.

Bush Plans Remain Hazy

WASHINGTON (AP) — George Bush says he has given up the idea of ever running for office again.

In the next breath, however, he says he won't promise he'll never change his mind.

"I will say I am absolutely not going to run for governor of Texas," Bush said at a news conference.

The Houston oilman held a House seat for three terms before being defeated in a bid for the Senate. He later was named ambassador to the United Nations and this year became chairman of the Republican National Committee.

"I wouldn't be here unless I'd given up hope of running for office again," Bush said.

"In my own mind I feel a burden is lifted. Before I took this job, I made an assessment as to where this job goes or doesn't go. I wouldn't be here if I had continuing ambitions of this nature."

He said his wife Barbara doesn't believe him.

One of the worst jobs to have if you held ambitions to run for any office from Texas, Bush said, was at the UN—"but that worked out differently than some had thought."

IT IS GOING TO COST MORE

Europe For The Young

By TERRY RYAN
Associated Press Writer

American students traveling to Europe this summer will pay more to get there and more to stay, but there are ways young people can stretch their travel budgets.

DOLLAR WOES

Higher transatlantic youth fares will contribute to the increased costs. Like other American travelers, young people will also find their devalued dollars buy less when they arrive.

Despite the increased costs, airlines and campus travel agencies report no lessening of student interest in European travel.

"It is going to cost a little more, but most young people seem willing to look for little economies instead of junking the whole thing," said Sandy Soule, director of student travel for the Council on International Educational Exchange (CIEE). To keep expenses down and prolong their European stay, young people should shop carefully for transportation and take advantage of the special youth facilities and discounts available in most European countries.

Charter air flights are probably the cheapest way to go. Round trip to London will cost between $180 and $200 from East Coast points and between $280 and $300 from the West Coast. Best buys look like charters organized on individual campuses. Be sure to deal with a reputable company.

WORTH $2

The CIEE will have flights from East and West Coast cities open to all students. A prerequisite is possession of an international student identity card, which costs $2. Information on the flights and the card are available from the CIEE at 777 United Nations Plaza, New York, N.Y. 10017.

The international student identity card is worth the $2 even if you are not flying a CIEE charter. It is universally accepted in Europe as proof of student status and is good for reduced admission at many museums, theaters and music events.

Trans World Airlines and Pan American Airways have announced summer youth fares to Europe, but those fares have not yet been approved by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

If approved, the peak season youth fares will be $243 round trip between New York and London and $250 between New York and Paris. The fare is for people 12 to 23 years old. Reservations will be taken on a space available basis and not confirmed until seven days before departure.

LOWEST FARE

The lowest regular fare on major air carriers will be $313 on a 22-to-45 day excursion ticket.

For students who favor more leisurely travel, two steamship companies will offer reduced fares this summer.

The Italian Line will carry students 16 to 24 from New York to Naples for $150 and to Venice for $170. Cunard Line will ferry students from New York to England for $150 on the QE2.

Non-student passengers will pay a minimum of $395 for the same accommodations.

The recent 10 per cent devaluation of the dollar will hit young travelers wherever they go in Europe.

Five marks will still get the wanderer a bed at a student hostel in Berlin, but five marks now translates into $1.72 instead of the $1.55 of a few weeks ago.

STRETCH IT

Young people can stretch their budgets by staying at youth hostels and student hotels eating at student restaurants and taking advantage of student travel bargains in moving around Europe.

The International Youth Hostel Federation operates hostels in 28 European countries where young people can stay for about $1 a night. Usually located on the edges of big cities, these dormitory-style accommodations are primarily for hikers and bicycle riders.

Trustees of the Bessie M. Radford Trust conveyed lots one through eight in block four of the Original Town of Big Spring to Johnson, a Travis County resident. This property is located at First and Runnels Streets.

Numerous properties in Texas and New Mexico also changed hands.

A youth hostel card is necessary for staying in most hostels, and it is advisable to secure one before leaving the United States. Write to American Youth Hostels, 20 West 17th St., New York, N.Y. 10011. The card costs $5 to $10, depending on your age.

Student hostels are the next step up. They are more likely to be centrally located and many are university residences or small hotels. Costs range from $1 to $3. An international student identity card is necessary for admittance.

CHEAP HOTELS

Many student hostels have special restaurants where card-carrying students can eat a full dinner for about $1. The CIEE has a booklet listing student hostels and restaurants by country. It costs $1.

At about $3 a night, young travelers can move out of the youth and student hostels into the low cost hotels and rooming houses that most tourists skip. For outdoor types, there are commercial campgrounds throughout Europe costing from 25 cents to $1.25 a day. Many are located near major cities, others in rural and resort areas.

Time and money usually determine how students get around in Europe.

Hitchhiking, or "autostopping," is the cheapest, least dependable and most time-consuming method of travel.

But there are ways for students to travel at reduced rates on trains and airplanes.

A Student-Railpass entitles the holder to two months of unlimited second-class travel over 100,000 miles of track in 13 countries. It is not good in Great Britain or Ireland, Eastern Europe, Finland or Greece.

The Student-Railpass cost $133. It must be purchased in advance in the United States from the CIEE, travel agencies or the U.S. offices of European railroads.

GET IN

Many countries that do not honor the Student-Railpass have similar reduced-price plans for student train travel within their borders.

The International Student Travel Conference operates a network of special student trains throughout Europe. Fares are lower than regular second-class rates and students can save up to 40 per cent on round trip tickets. An international student identity card is necessary for these fares. The CIEE will have available in April a 25 cent booklet listing the routes and rates of student trains.

A word about border crossings. A round-trip ticket indicating you have a way to leave the country and about $5 for each day you plan to stay will usually get you in.

Regents Hike Dorm Rates

HOUSTON (AP) — University of Texas System regents have ordered a dormitory rate increase of 8 per cent for UT Austin.

The rates will go into effect at the start of the fall semester. Cooperative housing rents will be hiked 8 to 10 per cent, while married student apartments will not be affected.

The higher rates are required by food and operating cost increases, a 10 per cent vacancy allowance and a "possible increase in the federal minimum wage to $2 per hour," the regents said.

The regents, meeting Monday in Houston, also instructed the UT Austin administration to "make a demand on the contractor to do the remedial work on the Lyndon B. Johnson Library at his expense."

If he refuses, the regents added, the staff should "prepare preliminary plans for the remedial work and... institute a suit against the contractor, the architect and the bonding company."

Navigation Of Trinity Not Spanking New Idea

(On Tuesday March 13, voters of 17 Texas counties vote on a $150 million bond issue for financing the 10 per cent local share of the $1.2 billion Trinity River barge canal. A majority of the total voters and nine counties must favor it for the project to go ahead in a bid for federal funds. This article shows that navigation on the Trinity is hardly a new idea.)

By GODFREY ANDERSON
Associated Press Writer

DALLAS (AP) — The first recorded meeting about improving the Trinity River was held at Huntsville in 1849 with steam navigation its object. A few years later an estimated 50 boats were plying continuously to Trinidad in Kaufman County and to Porter's Bluff in Ellis County.

At that time, local chroniclers described the Trinity as "the deepest and least obstructed river in Texas."

That view isn't shared by everyone today. "The Trinity is long, but nobody but a Texan would call it a river," wrote Robert N. Jones to a Dallas newspaper the other day. "People are questioning whether it flows enough water to float tugs and barges... We don't need to raise any bridges. We should dig down until we find water."

Back in '14

Back in 1914, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers had already built some locks and dams to keep the lower river navigable. But after World War I, Congress cut off funds. Parts of the river began to stagnate.

A first step towards what may become America's most ambitious and costly water development project was made by the late John W. Carpenter of Dallas and Amon G. Carter of Fort Worth in 1930.

Working through their respective chambers of commerce, they formed the Trinity River Canal Association dedicated to revitalizing efforts to achieve barge navigation to the twin cities upstream. Later, this merged with other associations to form the existing Trinity Improvement Association.

Some effort was made to clean up pollution of the river after formation of the Trinity River Authority, a state agency, in 1955.

116 YEARS

But it was 116 years after that first Huntsville meeting that President Lyndon B. Johnson signed in 1965 the bill that meant authorization for the canalized river.

Even that didn't get any steamshovels started. Before appropriating funds, at that time set at $911 million, Congress wanted a new study made of what it all might cost. This was started in January 1967 and the Corps of Engineers filed its report in July of the following year.

Wholesale Prices Up, Up And Away!!

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices soared 1.9 per cent last month for the biggest rise since the early Korean War inflationary surge in 1951, the government said today.

The rise in February included another sharp increase of 3.9 per cent for farm products and processed foods, the third biggest monthly jump in a row that added up to an annual rate of 56 per cent.

Prices of a broad range of industrial raw materials rose 1.1 per cent, the largest monthly increase in 22 years, said the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The report appeared certain to raise new criticism of President Nixon's loosened Phase 3 economic controls, particularly from organized labor which has charged that wage hikes are virtually frozen at 5.5 per cent while food prices continue to soar.

The over-all rise in the bureau's wholesale price index was a little less—1.6 per cent—on a seasonally adjusted basis. Farm products and processed foods were up 3.2 per cent seasonally and industrial raw materials one per cent on that basis.

The report said the index rose at an annual rate of 11 per cent over the past six months, which included five months of the more stringent Phase 2 controls and one month of Phase 3.

"Prices in the last three months of the period advanced more rapidly than in the first three months, reflecting an unusual climb in prices of farm products and processed foods and feeds in December, January and February, together with a faster pace for industrial commodities toward the end of the period," it said.

The February increase pushed the wholesale price index up to 126.9, meaning that it cost wholesalers on the average $126.90 for goods worth $100 in the 1967 base period.

In farm prices, livestock rose 11.5 per cent in February, 27.4 per cent above a year ago; poultry was up 7.1 per cent for the month and 30 per cent for the year; milk up 1.4 and 6.6. Fruits and vegetables declined 2.8 per cent in February but were still up 15.2 per cent over the year. Grains declined 5.5 per cent in February but were 37.8 per cent above a year ago. Eggs dropped 17.8 per cent last month but were 41.6 per cent above a year ago.

In processed foods, meats, poultry and fish averaged 5.4 per cent higher in February and were up 17.3 per cent over the year. Dairy products rose two-tenths of one per cent for the month and 5.5 per cent for the year. Fruits and vegetables were up five-tenths in February and 8.4 per cent for the year. Sugar and confectionary goods rose 2.4 per cent for the month and were 2.7 per cent above a year ago.

Bad Braking Units Cited

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — An Indiana University study sponsored by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration shows more traffic accidents are caused by faulty braking systems than by faulty tires, lights or other car parts.

The driver and road conditions, however, still cause most crashes, the two-year study reports.

The study was conducted by Kent Joscelyn, director of the Institute for Research in Public Safety, and John Treat, head of the institute's accident research division.

They investigated more than 1,000 accidents in the Bloomington and Monroe County areas.

The researchers said braking and other mechanical problems caused six per cent of the accidents and may have contributed to 27 per cent.

Other causes included bald or underinflated tires, faulty lights and signals and excessive play in steering wheels.

STILL FACING 30 AMENDMENTS Ethics Bill Debate 'Hot'

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A marathon House debate on a tough ethics bill — the No. 1 "reform" measure of this legislature — was to continue today with 30 amendments still to be voted on.

The House wrangled from 2:30 p.m. to 10:48 p.m. Wednesday, disposing of 39 amendments. It adjourned until 10:30 a.m. today, only a half hour before Gov. Dolph Briscoe was scheduled to submit his budget message to a joint session.

Most of the amendments in Wednesday's debate were tabled.

MAJOR CHANGE

The only major change made in the bill was an amendment by Rep. Lane Denton, D-Waco, to require reporting of gifts worth $50 or more rather than $250 or more. The vote was 89-57.

The House also put on amendments requiring an ethics commission that would be created by the bill to hold public meetings and also to require the members of that commission to themselves comply with the ethics bill. But the bill already required those things so the amendments were repetitive.

The House tabled amendments that would: —Add mayors, city councilmen, eldermen and county commissioners to the list of officials that must make annual financial reports. The vote on the commission was 85-49. The vote on the others was 103-37.

ALL FEES

—Require legislators-lawyers to list all fees and all clients. The vote to table was 121-19.

—Put all financial statements in the State Archives after two years. The vote was 112-28.

—Change the ethics commission from a 12-member appointed board to a 21-member panel made up of grand jury foremen from all over the state, with the secretary of state drawing that many names from a drum containing the names of all the state's grand jury foremen. The vote was 77-56.

—Require the reporting of any stock, even one share. The vote was 94-46.

TAX RETURNS

—Substitute copies of income tax returns for the financial statement set out in the bill. The vote was 85-54.

The bill would require all elected or appointed state officers, and all state employees with policymaking power and who earn $12,000 or more a year, to file an annual financial statement listing their income, its sources and also all their holdings.

The bill would prohibit any public official or employee—even school teachers—from certain acts, such as using information gained on the job for private profit.

Many members of the House ran on "reform" platforms. Ethics legislation has been attempted in several recent legislatures, but the first ethics bill to win approval since the 1950s was declared unconstitutional by former Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin in 1971. Martin said the financial disclosure section violated the right of privacy.

Atty. Gen. John Hill recently issued an opposite opinion on the bill the House is debating, declaring it to be constitutional.

FUNERAL QUIZ

Rep. Richard F. Reynolds, D-Richardson, offered the amendment that would have required legislator-lawyers to disclose every fee and every client.

Rep. Jim Nugent, D-Kerrville, a co-sponsor of the bill resorted to sarcasm to defeat Reynolds' amendment.

"Dry cleaners (like lawyers) also perform a service," Nugent said. "Are we going to require them to list every customer? What about shoeshine boys? What about funeral directors?"

Nugent listed several others, and the House began shouting no after each question. Then Nugent brought them to their feet with this ringing summation:

"And think of the situation we'd be in if all these massage parlors reported all their customers!"

Rep. Hillary Doran, D-Del Rio, helped defeat the amendment that would put the records in the State Archives.

"I for one resent historians at a later date seeing what fools we might have made of ourselves," he said.

NOOOO!

Rep. Billy Williamson, D-Tyler, offered the amendment that would create a commission of grand jury foremen. He said the bill called for political appointments—by the governor and other top state officials.

"How would you like for me to name the members of this commission?" Williamson asked.

"Noooooo," shouted scores of lawmakers, followed by laughter in which Williamson joined.

"Well, I wouldn't like for you to either," he responded.

There was more laughter, but the vote to table Williamson's amendment was surprisingly close, 77-56, and that told the sponsors of the bill the mood of the weary House members was beginning to sour.

Only three more amendments were debated before the recess.

Star Examines Patient Care

That siren-blazed ambulance ride from the scene of an accident to the hospital has been one of medicine's weakest links. Approximately 60,000 Americans are believed to die annually because the initial care received in ambulances is either improper, inadequate, or both.

In Sunday's Star, Donald V. Williams examines a new program proposed by several physicians which would have city and-or county governments take over all emergency medical services.

Houston has been first in Texas to inaugurate the new plan, with Dallas announcing its intention to follow suit and San Antonio preparing to launch its program by late this year.

Wiley College faces its 100th anniversary with success — a success derived from a family cohesiveness shared by the school's student body, faculty, and administration. The story of Wiley's growth is recorded in this week's Texas Star. Located in the East Texas city of Marshall, Wiley is one of the state's six surviving private colleges originally founded for Negroes. Founded in 1873, the school's early growth took place in a climate that was sometimes hostile. But a remarkable family spirit provided the dynamic force that elevated the school toward its present success.

Carr-Osorio Trial Drags

DALLAS (AP) — After three days of preliminary maneuvering, the mail and wire fraud trial of former Texas Atty. Gen. Vincent Waggoner Carr and former Texas Insurance Commissioner John Osorio was getting under way in federal court here today.

Since the trial opened Monday, about 14 hours has been spent in the careful quizzing of some 52 prospective jurors, from which 12 and two alternates were finally selected.

Carr and Osorio will be tried by a jury of eight women and four men. Several of the women are housewives; one is the wife of an insurance company executive. Men on the jury include the owner of an apartment house, an insurance agent and a Mexican-American aircraft mechanic.

When the jury was finally selected U.S. District Court Judge William M. Taylor Jr. immediately dismissed it for the night, while he heard legal motions from the defense.

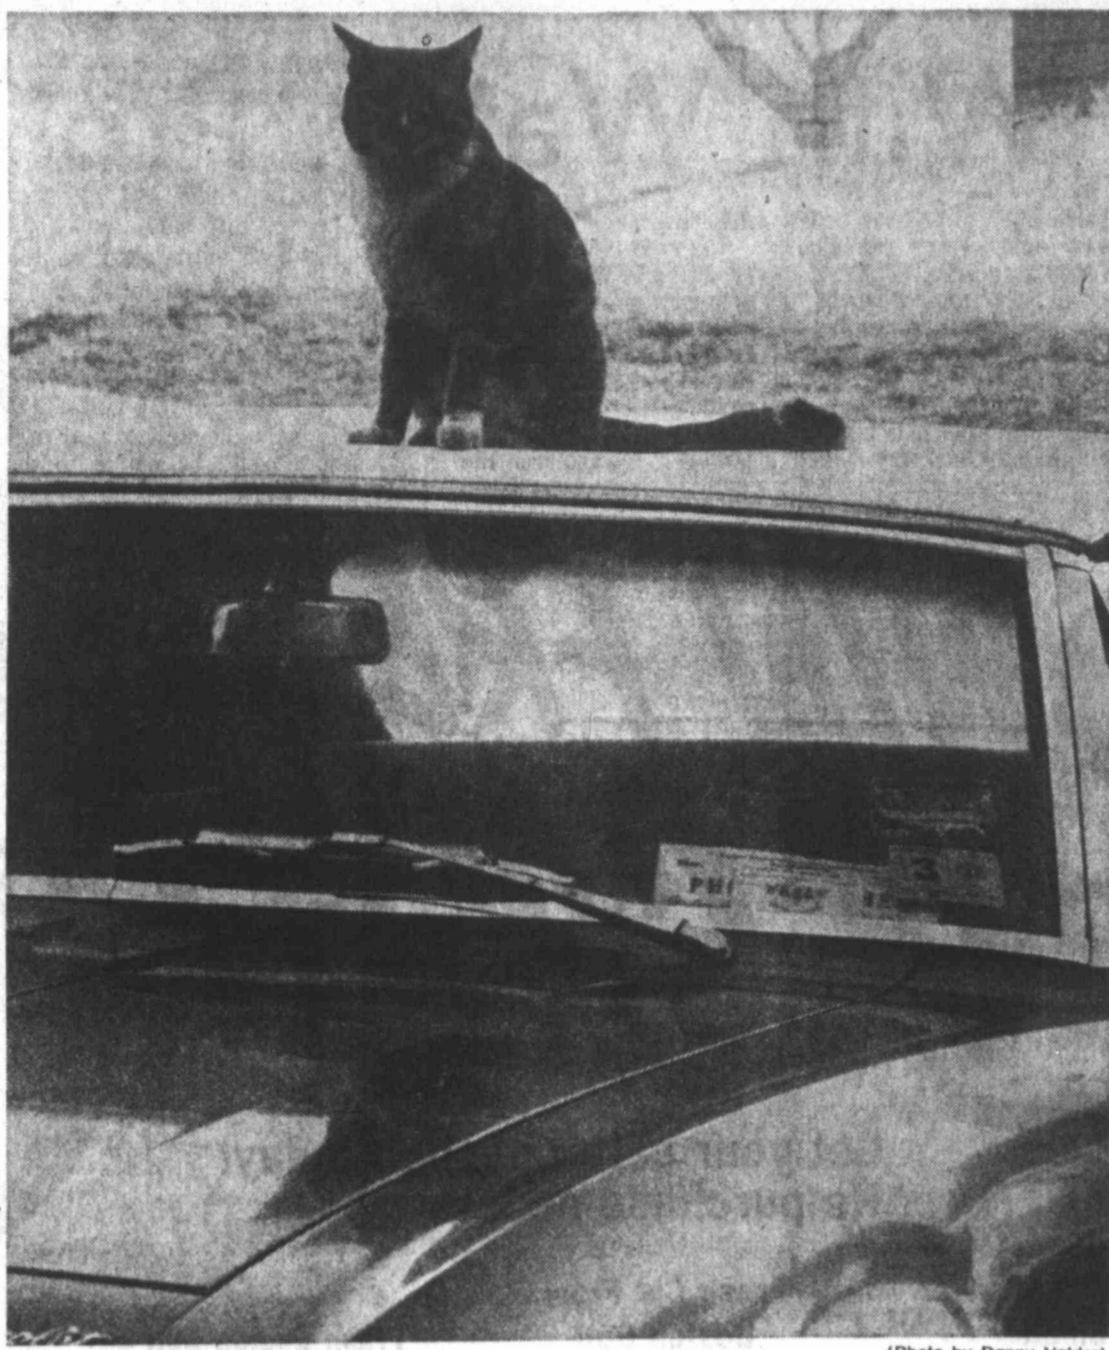

Travis Shelton of Lubbock, helping Carr who is leading his own defense, moved that Carr be allowed a separate trial because of Osorio's Feb. 26 conviction at Amarillo on embezzlement charges. Osorio was given a three-year sentence and a $5,000 fine. He is appealing both.

Shelton argued that it would be "highly prejudicial" for Carr to have to stand trial alongside Osorio. The two were at one time law partners in Austin.

Both men asked that the trial be moved out of Dallas, because they feared extensive news coverage of their case might influence jurors here.

U.S. Atty. Frank McCown argued that, on the contrary, a fair and impartial jury had been found without undue trouble.

Judge Taylor, remarking that lawyers on both sides of the case had been allowed extensive time for questioning the jurors, denied the motions.

22 Million Chinese Have Identity Crisis

SINGAPORE (AP) — The 22 million Chinese who don't live in China have an identity crisis. "You never know what you are."

Those with fortitude, patience and luck tour the mainland. A number come out disillusioned but a few find their fires stoked for seeking change back home.

"I didn't feel particularly proud but I was impressed—all the people you meet in China share the same views," said Pang Cheng Lian, a respected Singapore journalist who is ethnically Chinese.

"When I went to China," she said, "I kept asking myself, 'I'm supposed to be Chinese—how should I be feeling?' Strangely there was some sort of affinity."

"Ultimately language is the important thing." For others, it's more than language. "So you don't like toufu," joked a culturally wounded San Francisco Chinese when a Jewish friend disdained bean curd in a Hong Kong restaurant. "Order some salami."

"I could never live in China," runs a typical comment. "But now, as a Chinese, I feel proud."

The China Travel Service in Hong Kong is deluged with overseas applicants wanting to visit the homeland. Officials estimate about 100 American Chinese go in each month.

Overseas Chinese who return report they were treated well, especially if they spoke the language. They were separated from other foreigners. Authorities discouraged them from mingling too freely with local Chinese.

To many, communities overseas are more "Chinese" than China. Visitors back from Peking report surprise at how things differed from the mental pictures—or memories—they had brought with them.

"When the Chinese went overseas, the culture just froze for them," observed one Western expert. "They hung on to what they remembered because they had to have something to keep them Chinese."

ORDER SALAMI
In Peking, a dead relative is dispatched without great ceremony. In Kuala Lumpur, women are hired to wail as the departed uncle is trucked behind a brass band to the crematorium where mourners eat noodles and drink brandy.

Plans Launched For Youth Week
A discussion group, which included Col. Stanley Umstead, wing commander at Webb AFB, and Jack Alexander, president of the local chapter of the Air Force Association, met at the NCO Club at Webb at noon Wednesday to begin plans for Accent on Youth Week. This will be observed at the base March 25-31.

The week will be highlighted by the selection of four outstanding young airmen at the base. These will be honored at a banquet March 31 at a site and hour to be determined.

The banquet will be sponsored by the Air Force Association chapter here. Efforts will be made to bring a nationally known personality here for the event.
