

Ex-Prisoners Greeted With Cheers, Applause

CLARK AIR BASE, Philippines (AP) — The fourth release of American prisoners of war began today with the freeing of 107 military men and one civilian by the North Vietnamese.

The first of three big Air Force C141 flying hospitals landed 40 POWs at Clark Air Base at 5:08 p.m.—4:08 a.m. EST—about 15 minutes earlier than expected after the 900-mile flight from Hanoi.

PICKED UP
Two more C141s picked up the other 68 men.

The men aboard the first plane held an impromptu thanksgiving service during the flight from Hanoi, a military spokesman reported. Navy Capt. Charles R. Gillespie Jr. of Miramar, Calif., who had acted as their chaplain in camp, led them in The Lord's Prayer.

His eyes brimming with tears, the senior man aboard the flight, Navy Capt. Leo T. Profflet of Palo Alto, Calif.,

told the cheering crowd of Clark Base personnel:

"From the bottom of our hearts, I want to thank God, the United States of America and all you wonderful, good-looking people."

CHEERS

The crowd responded with cheers, whistles and applause.

Aboard the second flight were Air Force Col. John F. Flynn, 50, the senior POW, and Lt. Cmdr. John S. McCain III, 36-year-old son of the commander of U.S. forces in the Pacific in 1968-72.

Flynn, speaking for the 40 men on his plane, gave thanks for their release and also praised the morale of the POWs during their captivity.

"I would just like to state simply that as a group we have been privileged to serve our country under very difficult circumstances," he said. "And I would also like to thank our President, the services, the people of the United States for their support in efforts, in lives which were expanded in our behalf.

"I would like to particularly acknowledge the courage and integrity of our President. We know that he must have been faced with many difficult decisions and circumstances such as the bombings of Hanoi. He held our support and our prayers always."

SALUTE

McCain, whose wife lives in Orange Park, Fla., was given one of the loudest cheers when he emerged from the plane. He saluted the colors smartly, then walked smiling down the ramp to salute and shake hands with the welcoming officers. They included Adm. Noel Gayler, who succeeded McCain's father as chief of the Pacific command.

McCain limped heavily on his right leg, but he told a newsman he was "fine."

McCain and several other men reported that the morale of the POWs remaining in North Vietnam was high and they were looking forward to their release. North Vietnam has said it will release all the Americans before March 28, the deadline set by the Vietnam cease-fire agreement.

Aboard the third plane was the only civilian in the group, Bobby Joe Keesee, who deserted from the Army in 1962, took a rented plane to Cuba, served two years in an Arizona penitentiary and in 1970 forced a Thai pilot to fly him to North Vietnam.

Keesee evaded newsmen by getting Operation Homecoming officials to run a bus up to the rear entrance of the plane for him.

NO CHARGES

"He wasn't feeling well and decided to come out that way," a guard said.

Another official said Keesee acted like all the other POWs on the flight from Hanoi—"He talked happily with the others and he didn't appear to be injured."

A State Department official said Keesee was taken to the base hospital for a medical examination like the other POWs.

Apparently the United States has no charges awaiting Keesee. But in Bangkok the chairman of the charter company whose pilot was forced by Keesee to fly to North Vietnam said he would seek the American's extradition to face hijacking charges.

For the first time since repatriation of the prisoners began, one of the POWs did not have to wait until he got home to be reunited with his wife. Waiting at the hospital was Roberta Stafford, wife of Cmdr. Hugh A. Stafford of Aiken, S.C., who was shot down in August 1967 and who arrived aboard the first plane.

OVER CHINA

The Defense Department had suggested to the prisoners' relatives that they wait in the United States for their men, but Mrs. Stafford lives in Hong Kong.

GOING HOME — Lt. Cmdr. John S. McCain III limps down the ramp after the POW flight from Hanoi landed at Clark Air Base in the Philippines, today. He is the son of Adm. John S. McCain Jr., who was commander of U.S. forces in the Pacific in 1968-72.

'Legislative Bribery' Bill Faces House Vote

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Barring unforeseen delays, the House planned to take up Speaker Price Daniel Jr.'s "legislative bribery" bill today.

Six bills were on the calendar ahead of that key measure in Daniel's "reform" program, however, plus a program by "Athletes in Action," a religious group.

RED FOXES

One of the measures ahead of the legislative bribery bill was an endangered species bill which the House tentatively approved Tuesday, 89-52. Sponsored by Rep. Fred Agnich, R-Dallas, the bill would authorize the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department to protect non-game animals and to issue regulations safeguarding species in danger of extinction.

Certain animals would not be protected, however—coyotes, cougars, bobcats, red foxes and prairie dogs.

The "legislative bribery" bill is designed to prevent speaker candidates and their backers from making promises — or threats—concerning legislation, appointments and possible economic benefits in exchange for votes.

Such tactics were a major criticism against the regime of former Speaker Gus Mutscher and his "team" by a number of House "reformers," including Daniel.

The bill has gone through several rewrites, and still another version was prepared for consideration today as a substitute. Daniel said it was the best so far.

REFORM PACKAGE

Daniel's legislative bribery bill was the first of his "reform" package to be placed on the calendar following last week's three-day debacle that ended with passage of his ethics bill in a crippled form. Some viewed the weakening of the measure, through the elimination of most of its public financial disclosure provisions, as a sign of poor leadership by the speaker.

"I have butterflies in my stomach," a Daniel ally said of the upcoming legislative bribery debate.

Part of the House-passed lobbyist control bill, another Daniel "reform" measure, was held unconstitutional by Atty. Gen. John Hill Tuesday as it was heard by a Senate committee.

NO NEW COLLEGES

In legislative action Tuesday, the Senate passed to the House, 25-5, a bill prohibiting creation of any new state colleges and universities without approval by two-thirds of the Texas College Coordinating Board. Legislators in the past have routinely ignored board recommendations in the creation of new schools.

"We have created so many new colleges and universities that none of them can ever become a first class school. I think we are destroying higher education in Texas," said Sen. Charles Herring, D-Austin.

Herring said chambers of commerce have come to Austin for new colleges "year after year," but "when you want taxes to pay for them, you can't find these chamber of commerce men."

Sen. H. J. "Doc" Blanchard, D-Lubbock, criticized the bill.

"This takes the right to act on higher education away from the Senate and puts it in the hands of an agency," Blanchard said.

Senators also adopted, 25-5, a resolution asking the coordinating board to make a new study of higher education needs through 1980.

The Senate action coincided with the receipt of a letter to senators and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby from Gov. Dolph Briscoe, asking for restrictions on the growth of the higher education system.

OUT OF ORDER

He asked that the coordinating board be given authority to regulate the growth of state colleges and universities.

During the day, a bill allowing the Texas A&I University branch at Laredo to offer graduate courses was blocked on a parliamentary point. Hobby agreed with Sen. Bill Meier, D-Eules, the bill was out of order since it would authorize state expenditures before passage of the general appropriation bill.

Briscoe also sent the legislature a message asking for "emergency" action on 14 bills regulating water districts.

Says Influential Texans Call Bank Charter Shots

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The State Banking Board clears bank charter applications with influential citizens before approving them, a legislator told the House Business and Industry Committee Tuesday.

Rep. Frank Lombardino, D-San Antonio, testified that a board member told him two years ago that a bank charter application from his city would be approved "if you get so-and-so and so-and-so in San Antonio to approve." He declined to name the board member or the citizens whose okay was needed, but he later told a reporter, "Everybody would recognize their names." Neither is a professional banker, but both are associated with San Antonio banks, he said.

Lombardino was serving his third term as a legislator at the time. He said he was asking the unnamed board member about a charter for a bank which he was a small stockholder.

He told the committee he asked the other two members of the banking board, "Don't you go strictly on the merits of a charter application?"

"They didn't say anything and just shook their heads," Lombardino said.

He was testifying in favor of his bill to increase the board's membership from three to nine, saying "it is awfully wrong to have a complete industry controlled by two people"—the board majority.

The bill was sent to a subcommittee for further study.

Banking Commissioner Robert Stewart told the committee he was not aware of any practice of clearing charter applications with certain individuals in particular cities, or that either of the other two board members made his decisions because of such influences.

Demos Doubt Gray Will Be Confirmed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several Democrats on the Senate Judiciary Committee say they doubt L. Patrick Gray III will be confirmed as FBI director unless President Nixon allows his lawyer to testify about the Watergate investigation.

The committee voted 16 to 0 Tuesday to invite White House counsel John W. Dean III to testify, even though Nixon has said he will not allow it.

"I think it is essential to the nomination of Gray for Dean to appear," Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., said after the vote.

Senate Democratic Whip Robert Byrd, who has opposed the nomination from the beginning, said: "If Dean does not show, the Senate ought not act to confirm Gray. It is vital to the integrity of the Senate, in its role of advise and consent, that it have full details before it acts."

Byrd said that if Dean does not show, the Senate should not act on the nomination until the full investigation of the bugging of the Democratic headquarters last June is completed.

"It is injurious to the FBI to go without a leader," said Byrd. "I think the President ought to let Dean appear. If not, he should pull the name down and send us another nomination."

The committee approved a motion by Sen. John V. Tunney, D-Calif., requesting Dean to appear before the committee to testify on matters relating to Gray's qualifications.

Tunney has said he wants to learn Dean's role in the investigation of the bugging of the Democratic headquarters in the Watergate building.

Gray is expected to be confirmed in the next few days.

The patrol was looking for the last four cars for hit and run, even though the first driver, who did stop, wasn't cited. Authorities said the cars should have stopped even if not at fault.

DIVORCE FIGHT BRUISING AFFAIR

DALLAS (AP) — The couple was in Judge Greer Dowell's court to get a divorce.

Court bailiff Leroy Trice said the two lawyers in the case excused themselves and, with one of the clients, stepped into an adjoining room.

"I was sitting in the courtroom and heard noise coming from the room," Trice related.

Trice said he ran into the room to find the unidentified client holding one of the struggling lawyers while the other was slumped in a corner with a bleeding jaw.

More Are Buying Auto Tags Early

License plate receipts were above the amount collected at the end of the same number of working days in 1972, Mrs. Zarah L. Bednar, county tax assessor-collector, said today.

With no changes in the fees, total collections came to $325,198 compared to $247,341 on the same date last year.

March 30 is the last day license plates may be obtained before the deadline. Motorists driving vehicles without new plates after midnight April 1 face fines.

Newsom's Food Center, 1910 Gregg St., is selling passenger plates only. All types of license plates are available through the Webb Air Force Base Federal Credit Union and county tax office.

HORSEMEAT — Dolores Rooney, shown above buying horsemeat, served it to her husband, Edward, below, for three years but never got around to telling him. Instead, he learned of the character of his steaks in a story in the Portland Oregonian when a reporter happened upon Mrs. Rooney at a horsemeat market.

Nag, Nag, Nag, Day After Day For 3 Years

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Edward Rooney ate horsemeat or three years, thinking it was beef, and loved it. Then he got the news in the morning paper.

"Surprise, Edward. That's Really NOT Beefsteak," read the Portland Oregonian's front page headline.

In the story that followed, Dolores Rooney confessed she had conspired with her nine children to make Dad think those steaks, chops and roasts were beef when they were horsemeat.

A picture showed Mrs. Rooney buying horsemeat at a Portland market where a reporter interviewed her. Mrs. Rooney said the price of horsemeat is about one-fourth that of beef.

"It was more of a surprise than a shock. The more I thought about it, the less I thought about it," said Rooney, a high school math teacher and basketball coach.

Rooney said the revelation hasn't altered his appetite.

"I've always been interested in horses. I'm a little more interested now," Rooney said.

Psychologist Scores Aspersions Cast By Child Welfare Officials

THAT CERTAIN SMILE — Israel's Prime Minister Golda Meir smiles Tuesday as David Blumberg, president B'nai B'rith, declares that he hopes she will be running for another term in office. Blumberg's declaration came in a speech at an award ceremony in Tel Aviv.

WHITEHOUSE, Tex. (AP) — Illinois child welfare officials have filed a court petition imploring Chicago's crime and filth-ridden ghetto streets are no worse for kids than a fresh air guidance center in Texas. The staff psychologist for the center calls the accusations "utterly and totally ridiculous." The Illinois court petition charges the East Texas Guidance and Achievement Center Inc. here with beating and abusing Illinois children sent to the center under contract, Illinois wants the children sent home.

POLITICS? Don Walker, a former Baptist minister and psychologist for the unit, says he has reason to believe the accusations were "politically motivated."

Illinois pays $24 a day to the school for each child. The petition was filed Tuesday by Patrick Murphy of the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services, detailing alleged abuses against 60 Illinois children from Chicago and Peoria at the center, located about 10 miles from Tyler, in East Texas.

Murphy's suit claims juveniles sent to the center were stripped naked and beaten with paddles until they collapsed, were locked in rooms without toilets or beds, were handcuffed and doped with tranquilizers to subdue them.

Department authorities say they will fly to Texas within two months and take the Illinois children home.

NO CONVICTION The youngsters, aged 10 to 17, come from Illinois, New Orleans and St. Louis under contracts signed with the states involved. Requirements for enrollment are that the child must never have had a court conviction but must have been rejected by state juvenile centers because of their discipline problems.

Walker said he "must categorically deny any charges of child mistreatment or abuse. The only source of such information must have come from some emotionally disturbed former resident or a runaway." The center's program, he continued, "has come under constant scrutiny by its professional board in weekly meetings and does not now, nor has it ever condoned child abuse or mistreatment. "I do have reason to believe that this move may have political motivation with the over-all purpose being to recall all out-of-state placement of Illinois children and adolescents. I regret this unfortunate tactic. I was told the children at the center heard the local news tonight (Tuesday) and some wept as they heard the accusations. Professionally, I deplore the sad effect of such procedures on the already borderline adjustment of the residents," Walker said.

BROKEN HOMES Murphy's suit asks that no more Illinois children be sent to the school and that the state review its program of using private agencies for its juveniles.

The center's administrator is 43-year-old Wayne Walker, no relation to Don Walker, a former New York stock broker. The children began arriving at the center two years ago, mostly from broken homes, all with emotional problems, not yet serious enough to require hospitalization or correctional institution care.

Most of the juveniles at the center are described as repeated runaways, totally withdrawn, hyperactive kids who managed to avoid court convictions.

BITTERNESS There was local opposition to the youths at first. They are kept out of local schools. A proposal to let a few of them play on the local football team fell through at the last minute. . . . after the kids had clipped their long hair. That incident, it was reported, created bitterness. Guidance center leaders said it set back emotional development six months.

When 20 girls were sent here for placement in the center rumors flooded through this piney woods country that a local brothel was opening.

Don Walker says there is still local opposition to the children's presence "but not as much as at first. It's quieted down a great deal."

Harold Higgins, superintendent of the local school district, says: "These are largely out-of-state people and it takes time for the citizens to adjust to it. It's not true these kids are mistreated stepchildren. We are not trying to mistreat these people. We are going all out to help them."

President Asks Congress To Restore Death Penalty

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon formally asks Congress today to enact a "carefully tailored" statute restoring the death penalty for certain federal crimes.

His message, due to be dispatched to Capitol Hill at noon, also urges stiffer penalties for drug pushers including life imprisonment without parole for major traffickers with a prior conviction.

On Nixon's orders, Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst prepared a separate measure on the death penalty to be sent to Congress along with the tough anticrime legislative package which Nixon announced in a nationwide radio address last Saturday.

The Supreme Court in a 5-4 decision last June ruled the death penalty unconstitutional as it was applied under existing law. The court was so split on the issue that each of the nine justices filed separate opinions.

Republican legislative leaders got an advance briefing on the

Queen Will Not Beef About Prices

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II stands to make a profit from the current high prices for beef.

She recently spent $35,000 to expand beef production on her 3,300-acre estate at Sandringham in Norfolk. A royal spokesman said the decision was made months ago, but he conceded on Tuesday:

"The farm at Sandringham is run as a business — and obviously at the moment the business to be in is producing beef."

legislative package before it was sent to Capitol Hill.

Emerging from the 2½-hour meeting with Nixon and his White House aides Tuesday, Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said the capital-punishment legislation "will include a very careful, narrow definition and provision for determination of guilt and suitability of the death penalty."

"The proposal will be carefully tailored within narrow limits so as not to run counter to the present Supreme Court decision," Scott added.

Nixon's legislation, Scott told a White House news conference, "will cover only those areas where the federal government has jurisdiction" — including treason, other war-time offenses, assassinations, hijacking and kidnapping.

The separate, broader legislative package seeks a thorough revision of the federal criminal code, raising current limits on monetary fines and restricting what Nixon has called "the present absurd use of the insanity defense."

Diet Book Suit Filed

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A $1 million class action suit has been filed against the author and publisher of the best-selling book, "Dr. Atkins' Diet Revolution."

Attorney Daniel Roth filed the suit Tuesday in Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court for Robert Zelvy of Beachwood and the more than 10,000 Ohioans Roth estimates have bought the book.

The plaintiff called the diet prescribed in the book "unscientific and potentially dangerous to health" and asked that the sale of the book be banned in Ohio and that those who bought it be reimbursed.

They also asked that author, Dr. Robert Atkins, and publisher, David McKay Co., Inc., be required to pay for any medical problems caused by the diet.

The book recommends a diet that activates a fat-mobilizing hormone. An American Medical Association committee says no such hormone has been found in man.

Dr. Edwards Due To Be Nominated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Charles C. Edwards, Food and Drug Commissioner since 1969, will be nominated to become an assistant secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the White House has announced.

A spokesman said Tuesday that Edwards would succeed Dr. Merlin K. DuVal Jr., who resigned last Dec. 15 as assistant secretary for health and scientific affairs.

Edwards, a native of Nebraska, formerly held top positions with the American Medical Association.

Character Actor Stacy Harris Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Character actor Stacy Harris, 54, died of an apparent heart attack Tuesday. Harris, who played the role of Leslie Harrington in the television series "Return to Peyton Place," starred on Broadway in 1953 in "Doorway to Danger."

Lax Enforcement Of Laws Shares Blame For Deaths

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP) — Slack enforcement of pedestrian laws was cited Tuesday as one cause of a soaring traffic death toll in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Traffic accidents have claimed 45 lives in the Valley this year, compared with 17 at the same time in 1972, according to safety officer Bill Smith of the Department of Public Safety here.

MIGHT HIT 200 He predicted Tuesday that the toll might reach 200 by the end of the year. That would be 84 more than last year's all-time record of 116 fatalities.

Noting that seven pedestrians have died in Valley accidents, Smith said, "Few, if any, law enforcement agencies enforce the pedestrian laws." He noted that pedestrian accidents in the Valley usually claim seven lives in an entire year.

The main causes of fatal accidents this year in the Valley are no different from other areas. Smith said a survey indicates the chief causes are driving while intoxicated, too much speed for conditions and failure to yield right-of-way.

He said no one killed in traffic accidents this year was wearing a seat belt. He noted, however, that in some two-car fatal accidents, persons wearing seat belts escaped with injuries while others in the same accident who were not wearing the safety devices were killed.

ROAD HOGS It is a myth that a large influx of winter tourists is largely to blame for the Valley toll, figures in accident reports available to Smith indicated.

Some winter tourists have been killed in traffic accidents but the records show they were not at fault, he said. Court records show, however, that one tourist from Canada was charged with negligent homicide in a fatal accident at Westlaco.

"The tourists do crowd the highways," Smith said. "If they do anything, they upset us and we go off somewhere and have an accident because we are mad."

Another problem, the DPS man said, is that many persons accustomed to slower driving in everyday situations are "still thinking at 30 m.p.h. when their speed gets up to 65 to 70 m.p.h."

The highway patrol has 25 men in the four counties of the Valley. "We need about three times that many," Smith said.

CONTEH TAKES EUROPEAN TITLE — Challenger John Conteh of Liverpool, England, stands over West Germany's Rudi Schimidke Tuesday after knocking the champion down in sixth round of their European light heavyweight championship fight at Empire Pool, Wembley. Conteh was awarded the title after referee B. Mascot, right, stopped the bout in the 12th round to save Schimidke from further punishment.

Dodger Rookie Great Mimic; Can He Play?

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — He does a great John Wayne. He's also Liberace and Ed Sullivan. Even a slick sound-alike of Flip Wilson's bombastic Geraldine. Now, if Tom Paciorek can only get away with impersonating a major league outfielder with the Los Angeles Dodgers. "It's now or never," said this man of many voices and baseball talents. "I've done all I can in the minors and have felt, at times, that the Dodgers were holding me back. Now, I feel there is a place for me."

The 6-foot-5 slugger has driven in 101, 105 and 107 runs in the past three summers with Dodger farm clubs in the Triple-A Pacific Coast League. His batting averages were equally impressive: .328, .305 and .307. Last year, while playing at Albuquerque, he led the PCL in home runs with 27. And his impersonations got a lot of laughs. Paciorek was named "Player of the Year" in all the minor leagues.

"I've reached the point in my career where I've got to make it," he said. "They traded away Frank Robinson to the Angels, so I think my name is in their plans." The 215-pound Paciorek was a baseball-football star at the University of Houston and, in 1968, was selected in the third round of the National Football League draft by the Miami Dolphins.

"I had good seasons as safety at Houston as a sophomore and junior," he said. "Then, a torn calf muscle wiped me out as a senior. The Dolphins offered me nothing, so baseball was the only choice I could make."

Tom, 26, was overlooked in the baseball draft after graduation from St. Ladislaus High School in Detroit. So, he signed the football offer from the University of Houston.

"Don't ask me why I wasn't drafted," he says. "I had hit 500 in high school. It made me disenchanted with baseball, so I turned all my real efforts to playing football."

Kenon, an Amarillo, Tex., junior college transfer, led the conference with a 17.6 points per game average. He was fourth in conference scoring with a 19.8 average.

He led the Tigers to a 21-5 season record and a bid to the National Collegiate Athletic Association Midwest regional tournament this weekend at Houston.

Kenon scored in double figures in 24 of the Tigers' 26 regular season games with a high of 32 against Wichita State late in the season.

His coach, Gene Bartow, had high praise for Kenon. "Larry was certainly a tremendous factor in our success this year," Bartow said.

"He is very deserving of player of the year honors in the Valley. He has been one of the hardest working players we have had."

Sam Houston Impresses In Win Over Wartburg

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The top-seeded Sam Houston State Bearkats appear a shoo-in for the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics basketball championship. The Texans mopped up on Wartburg, Iowa, 88-62 Tuesday night and easily put on the best show in the tourney's two-day first round, which only four of the eight seeded teams survived. Sam Houston, 28-0, will play Xavier, La., an 81-65 victor over Marist, N.Y., tonight.

In other second round games today, Slippery Rock met Quinnipiac, Conn.; Valdosta, Ga., faced Guilford, N.C.; Ferris, Mich., State battled No. 8 Maryland-Eastern Shore, and South Carolina State opposed No. 4 Wisconsin-Green Bay.

Defiance, Ohio, was set to collide with second-seeded Augustana, Ill., in a late afternoon starter. In other night games, Westmont, Calif., will meet Missouri Southern and Oklahoma Baptist will go against Winona, Minn., State.

Sixth-seeded Fairmont, W.Va., State met its downfall Tuesday night, bowing to Missouri Southern 70-63. No. 3 Kentucky State, the defending champion, No. 5 Marymount Kan., and No. 7 Alcorn A&M all were eliminated Monday.

Quinnipiac beat Ouachita Baptist 79-66, South Carolina State dumped Hastings, Neb., 82-71; Maryland Eastern Shore outscored Eastern Montana 114-107, Green Bay tripped Dallas Baptist 77-66 and Winona State clipped Grand Canyon, Ariz., 70-64.

Sam Houston, paced by Mike Newell and James Lister, ran up a 25-6 lead early in the game, threw up an airtight defense and blocked 16 Wartburg shots.

HERE AT 4 P.M. Monterey Vies With Steers

Tuesday's scheduled game with the Pecos Eagles was postponed because of high winds and dust, but the Big Spring Steers didn't have long to wait before returning to action. Lubbock Monterey, the defending Class AAAA state champion, is in town today to battle the Steers at 4 p.m. in the first of a home-and-home make-up series. The first meeting between the teams, scheduled last Saturday, was postponed because of poor weather.

The Steers will send Orlando Oague to the mound against the hard-hitting visitors with Earl Reynolds behind the plate. Mike Treadaway will be at first, Willie Williams at second, Ricky Steen at short, Greg Crawford at third, Bruce Felts in left, Jerry Knoepfel in center and Gilbert Pesina in right field. Monterey will probably start either Tommy McIntire or Glenn Yarborough, while Jimmy Shankel will be catching. Monterey is 6-0 in the year, including an 18-2 season-opening victory over Odessa High.

The Steers are 3-3, but remain hot at the plate with 43 season runs and a .290 team batting average. Tuesday's cancelled game with Pecos may be made up March 28, according to Steer Coach Larry Horton.

Wooden Professes Lack Of Concern

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Coach Ned Wulk says his Arizona State Sun Devils will play their normal run-and-shoot style against UCLA but Coach John Wooden of the Bruins doesn't really care. Told of Wulk's plans for the National Collegiate Athletic Association Western Regional playoff encounter Thursday night, Wooden said, "It neither pleases nor displeases me. I try very hard not to get too concerned over how they will play. It's very well known that I probably scout other teams less than others because I try to play our game most of the time. I try to develop strengths in our own team and not worry too much about the others. "I don't mean to be critical," Wooden said of coaches who depend more on scouting opponents. "This is my philosophy. I place more emphasis on what we're doing and hope we're reasonably prepared to play against different styles. Generally speaking, it's personnel playing against you that hurts you, not the style."

The Bruins, 26-0 and ranked No. 1 in the nation with a 71-game winning streak, seek their 33rd consecutive playoff triumph and a step toward their seventh consecutive NCAA basketball title against Arizona State, 19-7, of the Western Athletic Conference.

Three other regional playoffs also get under way on Thursday. In the East, at Charlotte, plays No. 8 Maryland and No. 18 Penn takes on No. 4 Providence.

The Midwest at the Nashville, Tenn., sends fifth-ranked Marquette against No. 6 Indiana and Austin Peay, No. 19, against No. 17 Kentucky.

The Midwest pairings at Houston feature No. 7 Southwestern Louisiana vs. ninth-ranked Kansas State and 12th-ranked Memphis State vs. unranked South Carolina.

Thursday's winners play on Saturday with the four survivors advancing to the semifinals at St. Louis on March 24. In the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics championship tourney at Kansas City on Tuesday, Sam Houston, which finished the regular season as the No. 1 team in the AP College Division poll, won its first-round game, beating Wartburg 88-62.

Other first-round results Tuesday included: South Carolina State 82, Hastings, Neb. 71; Maryland-Eastern Shore 114, Eastern Montana 107; Quinnipiac of Connecticut 79, Ouachita Baptist 66; New Orleans Xavier 81-65; Missouri Southern 63; and Winona, Minn., State 70, Grand Canyon 64.

CROCKETT, PEARSON NAMED ASSOCIATION VICE-PREXYS

Don Crockett has been named vice president of the Sophomore League and W. S. Pearson was elected vice president of the Hi Junior division of the Big Spring Teenage Baseball Association, according to league president Al Valdes.

Also in the recent meeting of the group Tommy Walker was selected player agent and Lillian Valdes secretary-treasurer. The concession supervisor position is still open. Valdes said that the group would hold another meeting Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Local 826 Union Hall on Highway 80 East near Cosden.

At the Monday meeting there will be discussions on the campaign for finances, and a board of directors will also be appointed. The league is also seeking persons to fill positions as managers and coaches.

McLennan Loses, 87-70 In National Tournament

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — Defending champion Vincennes, Ind., cleared the first hurdle Tuesday night as it began defense of its National Junior College Athletic Association basketball crown with an 87-70 victory over McLennan County College of Waco, Tex.

Other first round winners were Dalton, Ga., over Three Rivers, Mo., 83-82; Olney, Ill., over Dixie College of St. George, Utah, 85-71; Mercer County Community College of Trenton, N.J., over Southern Idaho of Twin Falls 70-68 in overtime; Ulster of Stone Ridge, N.Y., over Platte of Columbus, Neb., 89-77; and Bacone, Okla., over Paducah, Ky., 85-80.

In the opening day, Vincennes jumped to an early lead and held on. The Dalton victory came on a free throw loss after the buzzer by Roger Rome, who missed his first shot but sank the second.

Other first-round results Tuesday included: South Carolina State 82, Hastings, Neb. 71; Maryland-Eastern Shore 114, Eastern Montana 107; Quinnipiac of Connecticut 79, Ouachita Baptist 66; New Orleans Xavier 81-65; Missouri Southern 63; and Winona, Minn., State 70, Grand Canyon 64.

Jim Banner Resigns Job As AAU Track Mentor

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The latest spat between the Amateur Athletic Union and the National Collegiate Athletic Association has resulted in University of Pittsburgh track coach Jim Banner resigning as coach of the AAU track squad that will meet the Russians in a meet here Friday night.

Banner resigned as coach of the U.S. men's team Tuesday at the urging of Pittsburgh athletic director Cass Myslinski. Banner's move came in the wake of NCAA threats that its member institutions involved in the meet would be subject to probation and any undergraduates entered could lose their eligibility.

Meanwhile, efforts to break the deadlock between the two organizations fell apart Tuesday night because of the "unyielding, arbitrary" attitudes of the groups, said Rep. Peter Peyser, R-N.Y. "I'm burned up with both these organizations," Peyer said in Washington. "They're both trying to build power bases on their own." At issue is NCAA certification of the meet. The AAU has not requested certification, saying it is not necessary, while the NCAA says unless meet officials request NCAA sanction, its member schools and athletes face stiff penalties.

Both sides have refused to budge from their positions. The AAU claims certification isn't necessary because of the international nature of the meet. The meet was not certified by the NCAA last year but no penalties were levied.

"We had no inkling this was going to happen, but my AD thinks it best for me to come home," Banner said. "I'm very disappointed." Also affected are eight U.S. team members, including Olympic gold medalists Rod Milburn of Southern University and Randy Williams of Southern California.

Ruidoso Sets Summer Sale

RUIDOSO DOWN, N.M. — The first annual Select Racing and Breeding Summer Sale will be staged at the All-American Sales Plaza at Ruidoso Downs on July 27-28, according to an announcement by Ruidoso General Manager Al Rosa.

The quarter horse sale is open to broodmares, stallions, horses in training and two-year-olds. To assure a high quality sale, each entry must meet specified conditions, Rosa pointed out.

"The Ruidoso Downs Select Racing and Breeding Sale will be conducted by the management of Ruidoso Downs and will provide a perfect opportunity to bring both buyer and seller together since the sale coincides with one of our really great quarter horse events — the trials weekend of the Rainbow Futurity," said Richard Thompson, sale manager.

Thompson also holds the post of assistant-to-the-president at both Ruidoso and Sunland Park. Thompson noted that the weekend of the Rainbow Futurity trials represents a main highlight of the Ruidoso season — and a time when interest in buying racing quarter horse stock is at a high pitch.

Anyone interested in obtaining more information about the sale, or in securing an entry blank, is invited to contact Richard Thompson at Ruidoso Downs Race Track, P.O. Box 449, Ruidoso Downs, New Mexico 88346. Entries for the sale close April 15, 1973.

Games will be played on the tour with the Israeli Nationals in Tel Aviv, Jerusalem, Haifa, Holon and Beersheba. Coaches for the NIAA club will be named soon.

Storm Postpones Races In Japan

NAEBA, Japan (AP) — A snowstorm with shifting winds forced postponement Wednesday of the Naeba World Cup men's slalom and women's giant slalom ski races. Officials were to meet later Wednesday to decide whether Wednesday's entire schedule might be run Thursday.

Wednesday was to have been the final day of three days of World Cup competition at Naeba, 112 miles northwest of Tokyo.

Gaylord Perry Ready But Seaver Ailing

Gaylord Perry, the American League's Cy Young Award winner in 1972, appears ready to open the season, but Tom Seaver, former National League Cy Young winner, is unlikely to make it for the opener.

Perry, named the AL's top pitcher after compiling a 24-16 record in his first season in the league, looked razor-sharp Tuesday as the Cleveland Indians blanked the California Angels 3-0 in an exhibition game shortened to 4½ innings by rain.

The lanky right-hander went the distance, shacking the Angels on five scattered singles and striking out four.

Half Of Fems' Track Field Is Lined Up

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — At least half the field is completed for the 4th annual National AAU Women's Basketball Championships scheduled to start March 27 in Gallup.

Mickie Mickelsen, AAU women's basketball chairman, said today that John F. Kennedy College of Wahoo, Neb., will defend its title.

Kennedy and seven other teams have been seeded and will draw first round byes, said Miss Mickelsen, a University of New Mexico assistant professor in the health, physical education and recreation department.

Other seeded teams are Ouachita University, Arkadelphia, Ark.; Raytown, Mo.; Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, Tex.; Parsons College, Fairfield, Iowa; Seminole Junior College, Seminole, Okla.; Milwaukee, Wis., and Brownsville, Ind.

Ouachita was runnerup a year ago. Raytown finished third and Wayland Baptist fourth in the tournament at Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Miss Mickelsen said other entrants include Claremore Junior College, Claremore, Okla.; Allentown, Pa.; Des Moines, Iowa, and the host Cathedral Falcons of Gallup.

The field will be completed from regional tournaments throughout the country.

Miss Mickelsen said first-round pairings probably will be released March 21 or 22 along with numerical placements of the top-seeded squads.

First round games will be played March 27-28, quarter-finals March 29, semi-finals March 30 and the title game and one for third place March 31.

TCU Coach Is Hurt In Wreck

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Billy Tohill, 33, head football coach at Texas Christian University, suffered critical injuries today in a one-car accident on Fort Worth's South Freeway.

BILLY TOHILL

Tohill was taken to Peter Smith Hospital with head and other injuries.

The accident occurred about 6:30 a.m. just north of the intersection of Loop 820 and U.S. 81 South.

Patrolman M.F. Pendergraf said witness told him Tohill was southbound in an Irv's lane when he struck the concrete curbing and glanced off to the right.

Witnesses said Tohill's car then struck the outside guard rail and a small road sign.

"He apparently hit a light standard then," Pendergraf said, "and struck the guard rail again."

Tohill's car then bounded across the outside guard rail and collided with a large billboard before coming to rest in the service road adjacent to the freeway.

Tohill was thrown from the car and was found lying beside the battered wreck.

Police said the car, a 1973 model, was demolished and the dashboard was shoved up against the front seat.

Tohill has been coach at TCU since November 1971 when he was named to succeed Jim Pittman, who died of a heart attack on the sidelines at the TCU-Baylor football game Oct. 30, 1971, in Waco.

He came to TCU in January 1971 as Pittman's defensive coordinator and chief assistant after serving as an assistant under Pittman for five years at Tulane University.

After the 1971 season, when TCU compiled a 6-4-1 record, Tohill and Pittman, the latter posthumously, were named coaches of the year in the Southwest Conference.

The TCU football team is in the midst of spring training and Tohill had met his players through scrimmages Tuesday.

Athlete Killed By Meningitis

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — University of Tennessee high jumper Tony Wilson's death Monday has been attributed to a type of meningitis.

Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Olin Wilson of Columbus, Ohio, and brother of singer Nancy Wilson, was admitted to University Hospital Sunday after complaining of feeling ill.

After his death Monday, the athlete's parents requested an autopsy to determine the cause of death, officials said.

A UT Student Health Service spokesman said the meningitis caused multiple small brain hemorrhages.

Rebels Win, 6-5; Odessa Smashed

MIDLAND — Chuck Barnett led Midland Lee to a 6-5 victory over Lubbock Coronado here Tuesday, collecting four hits in as many tries.

Barnett's final safety was a bad hop single in the sixth that drove in the Rebels' final run.

Over-all, Lee is now 2-2 while Coronado dropped to 3-4.

Midland Lee 6-5, Coronado 3-4.

Abilene High crowded all its fire power into the third inning in mauling Lubbock High, 12-9, here Tuesday.

The Eagles, now 3-4 on the year, scored eight runs in the third. The Westerners dropped to 3-4.

Lubbock 10-9, Abilene 3-9.

Odessa — Lubbock Monterey smashed Odessa High, 12-

4, in a baseball game here Tuesday.

The Plainsmen, winner of 12 straight over two seasons and seven in a row this year, counted six runs in the first three innings and then erupted for six in the fourth.

Odessa, 3-3 on the year, hosts Lubbock High in a 1 p.m. doubleheader today.

Monterey 12-9, Odessa 3-4.

Wichita Falls — a two-run homer by Glen Wutrich, which came after two men had been retired in the last inning, propelled Wichita Falls Rider to a 5-4 victory over Abilene Cooper here Tuesday.

Cooper is now 3-3 on the season while the victory was Rider's fourth in six assignments.

Cooper 11-10, Wichita Falls 4-13.

Wichita Falls 5-4, Abilene 3-9.

LA Lakers Lock Up 3rd Cage Division Crown

By The Associated Press It's "so what" time for Los Angeles... although, to listen to Jerry West, the Lakers have been hum-humming their way through the National Basketball Association schedule for some time now.

Dallas 118, and Denver 114, San Diego 96.

The defending NBA champions went into the Buffalo contest with a 10-game lead over Golden State — their probable first-round playoff foe — and only 10 regular-season games to go.

"To tell the truth," West said Tuesday night after the Lakers locked up their third straight Pacific Division title by defeating Buffalo 121-112, "I wasn't even aware we still needed a win to clinch it. When you're so far ahead, you're not even paying attention to that."

West had 23 points and Jim McMillian had 22 while Wilt Chamberlain tied his season high with 25 points and grabbed 23 rebounds to lead Los Angeles past the Braves.

In Tuesday night's other NBA games, New York beat Phoenix 115-111, Baltimore edged Kansas City-Omaha 103-99, Chicago dumped Seattle 104-89, Cleveland downed Atlanta 115-107 and Golden State topped Portland 109-101 to clinch the league's last remaining post-season berth.

Willis Reed, troubled much of the season by a variety of ailments, hit a season-high 28 that figure in the Knicks' triumph over the Suns.

In the American Basketball Association it was Kentucky 139, Memphis 103, Utah 131, Nate Archibald put on a one-man show with 42 points and 13 assists — but one man wasn't enough for the Kings to counter Baltimore's balanced attack. Phil Chenier had 24 points, Archie Clark had 23 and Mike Riordan had 21 for the Bullets.

Avalos Defeats Melvin Dennis

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Texas welterweight champion Jesse Avalos of Dallas piled up a commanding early lead and weathered a furious assault in the last two rounds to defeat Melvin Dennis of Houston in a 12-round title bout Tuesday night.

There were no knockdowns, but Dennis' heavy punches in the late stages left Avalos looking like the loser. His left eye was closed, and he was bleeding from the nose and a cut over the eye.

It was a split decision. One judge scored the fight 11-11, but the other judge and the referee had Avalos the winner, 118-11 and 119-11, respectively. Avalos weighed 142 pounds and Dennis 114.

Ecological Methods Told By Speaker

Working with the laws of nature to conserve nature's products was discussed by Dr. Paul Koshi Monday when he spoke to Organic Soil Makers at the U.S. Experiment Station.

Dr. Koshi said only organic materials should be used for fertilizers, and that only non-poisonous sprays should be used for insect control. He mentioned several ways individuals can aid in the clean-up of society, such as making a compost of waste materials rather than burning it, saving papers for paper recycling drives and buying only returnable bottles and containers.

Dr. Koshi said electricity can be preserved if people would use smaller bulbs. Water pollution would be less if all water was returned to the soil rather than to waterways. He also suggested use of manual lawn mowers and lead-free gasoline. According to Koshi, the cost in keeping litter off the highways is slowly decreasing, but the litter problem in the county's parks is becoming worse.

Mrs. Jan Huff presided, and members exchanged gardening hints. Epsen salts mixed in fertilizer will help roses; squash which is soaked overnight in turpentine prior to planting will not have bugs; a drop of corn oil applied at the top of an ear of corn on the silks will keep worms out, and sulphur placed around plants will prevent mildew.

Bethany Class Meets Monday

A meeting of the Bethany Sunday school class, First Baptist Church, was held Monday evening at Coker's Restaurant. Mrs. Mamie Roberts presided, and Mrs. C. T. Clay gave the devotion. Tables were decorated in a St. Patrick's Day theme. Hostesses were Mrs. T. B. Atkins and Mrs. Boone Horne.

A LOVELIER YOU Tropical Atmosphere In Bathroom Decor

By MARY SUE MILLER
Do you long for the color and warmth of a tropical island? Fulfillment, though, is but a dream? Then make a private retreat of your bathroom. A bit of do-it-yourself palm tree wallpaper, new towels and mats printed with bright none-such flowers, cabana-stripe shower and window curtains might turn the whole trick. With the addition of several living green plants, of course.

A hitch in the scheme occurs when the bathroom is too small for comfort, as many are these days, and storage space for mere necessities is non-existent. A little determination, however, stretches the walls. Tier shelves on poles house towels in a decorative manner. Shelves fitted into a corner make space for the daily grooming and beauty aids. Cabinets, designed to slip under a wash basin, provide storage for reserve stocks of cleaning supplies, boxes and rolls of tissue, bath soaps and fragrances, et cetera, ad infinitum. Also available are medicine chests, to hang above the wash basin, if one is not already installed behind a mirror.

All accomplished to your satisfaction, draw a warm, fragrant bath, shut the door, immerse yourself in the tub. Relax for as long as possible, then gently cleanse with the gentlest of soaps, maybe like the ones the astronauts took to the moon. When you leave the tub, you won't think you've been on the moon. Just on moonbeams bathing a tropical sea.

"White House Is Listening" Says Texas' Anne Armstrong

By FRANCES LEWINE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Presidential counselor Anne Armstrong, top woman in the Nixon administration, says she's dealing with issues from politics and parks — and that the White House is heeding her.

In her Cabinet-level post, she works for the Equal Rights Amendment, promotes revenue sharing and President Nixon's concept of the "new federalism," serves on the Cost of Living Council and acts as liaison with Spanish-speaking groups and the Bicentennial Commission.

After six weeks on the job, "trying to find out where I'm at," Mrs. Armstrong surfaced to talk to reporters last week and said, "I've been given even greater responsibility than I expected to get."

"I have not been talked down to and I have had effect in many instances," she said.

What about the general White House attitude toward women?

"Probably more sensitive than a normal business or factory," she replied.

When it was suggested that might not be very sensitive, Mrs. Armstrong said, "There's still a lot of learning to be done. I think it's come a long way."

And at the top, referring to President Nixon, she said, "There is great sensitivity."

At daily meetings with top Nixon aides, Mrs. Armstrong said she discusses any issue she desires and contributes ideas on a wide range of domestic matters.

Mrs. Armstrong says she has found herself seated at Nixon's left hand at a Cabinet meeting and several dinners and so far has had all the access to the President "that I felt necessary."

To Mrs. Armstrong, these early indications signify that she can be effective within the administration.

Nixon appointed the 45-year-old former co-chairman of the Republican National Committee to the $42,500 counselor's job on Jan. 19 and said she would have responsibilities over a wide range of domestic issues and areas of special interest to women.

So far, Mrs. Armstrong has wheeled from an economy-minded White House a staff of 12 to 14 and two offices.

She has weathered a blast from Martha Mitchell, who resented appointment of women's rights advocate Jill Ruckelshaus as Mrs. Armstrong's part-time assistant for women's activities.

Mrs. Ruckelshaus, wife of the head of Nixon's Environmental Protection Agency, William Ruckelshaus, has been a popular and outspoken Republican member of the National Women's Political Caucus.

Denouncing "this women's lib business" and "equal rights — we don't need that, it's silly," Mrs. Mitchell said "I resent it like hell" that Mrs. Ruckelshaus was in the White House with "all her liberal ideas."

"I've been a friend of Martha and I don't agree with her in this matter —

Tech Changes Rules At Dorms

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech University President Grover E. Murray has announced as of March 2 the stipulation of hours women must return to residence hall rooms on campus were discontinued.

In notifying parents of young women who live in residence halls of the change of policy, Dr. Murray pointed out that recent court interpretations of Federal law and subsequent advisory opinions by legal counsel require that hour requirements for women be dropped because they are judged to be discriminatory.

Prior to the new ruling, junior and senior women students had self-determined hours as did sophomore women if over 21 years of age. Sophomore women under 21 had to have their parents' consent to have self-determined hours. No freshmen women have had self-determined hours but conformed to rules and regulations adopted by the residence halls themselves.

and that's that." Mrs. Armstrong said of the wife of the former attorney general.

Also on her growing staff is Pamela Powell, daughter of actress June Allyson and the late Dick Powell. She headed the Young Voters for Nixon in the 1972 campaign, and will be a staff assistant for liaison with youth groups and the embattled American Revolution Bicentennial Commission, which Nixon is seeking to reorganize and streamline.

As one of her first missions, Mrs. Armstrong has been working for ratification by the states of the Equal Rights Amendment which would provide constitutional guarantees of equality for women.

Some other areas in which she works:

Cost of Living Council: The wife of a Texas millionaire cattle rancher, Mrs. Armstrong firmly announces her opposition to any food price freeze or rent controls. "Let the free market take its course" is her philosophy.

Parks: It is understood that Mrs. Armstrong will become chairman of the Poverty Review Board, which has been selecting properties for transfer to public park and recreation use.

Politics: Along with new GOP Chairman George Bush, a fellow Texan, Mrs. Armstrong plans to work closely in the political arena. She said Nixon wants them to find "brighter, better caliber candidates to run for office."

Women: Working with Civil Service Commission Chairman Jayne Spain and visiting Cabinet department heads, Mrs. Armstrong says she hopes to promote more high-level appointments for women.

Mrs. Armstrong, the mother of five children ages 16 to 21, said she isn't getting home to Texas as much as she expected.

She and her husband, Tobin, commute to see each other on weekends, and have a special White House phone at the ranch in Armstrong, Tex.

Asked if she thought her responsibilities were spreading her out too much, Mrs. Armstrong at first started to express some doubts. But she quickly caught herself and said with a smile "I'm talking like a woman. Men move laterally. Why can't I?"

Singing Group To Perform Here

The public is invited to hear the Christian Dynamics Singing Caravan during a performance at 7:30 p.m., Thursday at St. Paul Presbyterian Church. The singers are a group of young people from Indiana which specializes in modern songs celebrating the Christian gospel. Guitars and pianos are used in accompaniment.

Kindergarten Will Host Tea

The Kollege Kindergarten of College Baptist Church will have a St. Patrick's tea for parents, grandparents and friends of students at 10:30 a.m., Friday.

'Quotable Women'

Here are some quotable quotes from women during the week:

"I haven't heard a whisper of royalties." Author Barbara W. Tuchman, speaking about her book, "The Guns of August," which has been published in the Soviet Union apparently to counter the impact of "August 1914," the novel by Aleksandr I. Solzhenitsyn which was barred by the Kremlin.

"It's easier to raise money for anything than for children. That should be the first thing people give money to, but it isn't. They're supporting new approaches, gimmicks in theater. But this is the year we have to make a go of our foundation. I know it is a losing thing, but it must lose less money and an audience." Actress Beatrice Straight, speaking about her involvement in producing and directing children's theater for a nonprofit company called Young World Foundation.

Hope Failed Her

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: For 25 years I have been very close to a widower. I am divorced. This man owned considerable rental property, and I lived in one of his apartments. I paid rent like everybody else, but I cooked for him and helped him rent and clean apartments when tenants vacated them. I was a trouble-shooter for violations, inspectors, routine checks, etc.

He was close with his money and paid me nothing. I didn't demand anything because he often talked about "our future" when he would sell his property and we would retire together in Florida or Palm Springs. He was 75 and I am 72.

He had one 83-year-old brother with whom he was not friendly. Also some nieces and nephews. To make it short, this gentleman was recently found dead of a heart attack. I was called immediately since I am the only one he ever spoke of.

I heard he left no will, or any mention of me. A friend advised me to put in a claim for the work I did. I was not exactly a common-law wife, but I was more like a free maid, housekeeper, rental manager and his best friend for 25 years. Do moral issues count in court? Or is it too much of a longshot? I don't want to make a fool of myself.

DEAR LOST: Take the facts to a lawyer. And this should be a lesson to others; get it in writing!

DEAR ABBY: My husband received a wedding invitation addressed to "Mr." only — no mention of his wife. The people who sent it have met me, so I can't imagine why they would exclude me. My husband doesn't work with either one of them, so it can't be a business friendship. (It was sent to our home.)

What really hurt me more than anything was the fact that my husband accepted the invitation!

Maybe I am stupid, but this has me puzzled. Do you think my husband should have accepted?

MRS. NOBODY DEAR MRS.: Had your husband asked if your name was left out on purpose or by mistake, he would have known whether to accept. He should have asked.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have a 10-month-old baby, and we've never had a sitter, but we wanted to go to a late party last Saturday night, so we asked my mother-in-law to sit for us. She seemed happy to do it, and we knew we could trust her with the baby.

When we got home, did she ever let us have it! She said I was a very poor housekeeper, from the condition of my refrigerator, cupboards and closets. Also, that I didn't do my laundry often enough from the looks of my stuffed clothes hampers. (Abby, I go to the laundromat twice a week.) Then she said we ought to be ashamed of ourselves for running up such big bills, and she named off some of them. She had actually snooped into our desk drawers and looked over our bills.

My husband just kept his eyes on the floor all the while she was talking, and I was too shocked and hurt to say a word.

I have lost all affection for her now. How should I act toward her in the future?

DEAR HURT: I wouldn't ask her to sit again. In time, if she regrets her actions and tries to make amends, I'd go the 70 x 7 route.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Eagles Unit Gets Award At Meeting

Big Spring Eagles Auxiliary No. 3188 was presented an award for obtaining its membership quota of 12, during the recent zone conference at the Settles Hotel. The award, a green leaf emblem, was given to Mrs. James Dalton, auxiliary president, in conjunction with her theme, "The Living Tree."

Other awards went to Odessa Auxiliary No. 2914 and to Corpus Christi Auxiliary No. 2249 for reaching five times their membership quotas. Houston Auxiliary No. 63 was given the permanent traveling trophy for zone conference attendance during the 1972-1973 club year.

Officials present for the conference were Mrs. Clara Whitfield, state president; Mrs. Della Leifeste, national treasurer; Mrs. Mary Meyer, state auxiliary mother; and Marvin Coon, state aeries president.

The conference was reviewed by local members Monday evening at the hotel. Mrs. Dalton presided, and the membership application of Miss Kathrine Sayers was accepted. Date of initiation will be announced.

The group agreed to contribute to several charities, including the Jimmy Durante Crippled Children's Fund, Max Bauer Heart Fund, Boys' Country at Hockley; and the auxiliary memorial foundation of which Mrs. Dalton is state chairman.

The next meeting is at 7:30 p.m., March 28 at the hotel.

Big Nut Supply Inspires Push

So many food stores are working with peanut producers, processors and distributors in helping you share in the abundance of this nutritious and versatile food.

It's a nationwide promotion effort to make full use of this year's huge peanut harvest. You can look for fresh peanuts, salted peanuts, roasted peanuts, peanut butter, and peanuts in all kinds of baked items and confections.

Marionettes Slated Friday

Sponsored by Mu Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, the Nicolo Marionettes will appear at the municipal auditorium at 4:30 p.m. Friday, bringing to young audiences their latest production, "Aladdin and his Wonderful Lamp."

In the Nicolo version, the story is a musical extravaganza filled with tricks, illusions and stunts that will delight children. There are magicians, vanishing Genies, a flying carpet, a disappearing castle, and a cast of lavishly costumed marionettes telling a story of magic, mystery and suspense.

The settings and properties were designed by Patrick Bellew, noted Broadway designer. The wooden actors have a human appeal in their lively actions and in their individual characters. There is a bright hero, Aladdin, the pompous old sultan, the pretty princess, the conning magician, the funny court assistants and many others.

Ann Jones, who has costumed stars of the Broadway stage, created the brilliant costumes for the marionettes.

Melodic tunes from the classics enliven the action of the play.

Admission is 75 cents.

Open Meeting Set At Rehab Center

"Parents Can Be the Greatest Source," will be the theme of a round-robin discussion when the Big Spring Branch of Texas Association of Children with Learning Disabilities meets at 7:30 p.m., Thursday at Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center. Mrs. Cecil Stephens will be the program leader. All parents who have a child with a problem in a special area of learning are invited to attend the meeting.

Honor Founder

Mrs. C. C. Forrest, vice grand, presided during a meeting of John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge Tuesday evening at the IOOF Hall.

It was announced that the next meeting, 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, will include a program about the late Schyler Colfax, founder of the Oddfellows and Rebekahs. Presenting the program will be Mrs. Everett Hood, Mrs. U. S. Beechly and Mrs. Audrey Gibson.

The refreshment committee for next week will be Mrs. Garland Land, Mrs. Terry Vigus and Mrs. Ted Brown.

AUSTIN HEADQUARTERS District To Consider Sale Of Club House

The Western District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, will hold its annual district conference in Midland Friday and Saturday at the Regal 8 Motel, with delegates attending from 60 clubs. The district covers an area from Coahoma to El Paso.

Mrs. V. C. Phillips of Grand Falls, district president, will preside for the business session Saturday, and Mrs. Hays Stripling of Big Spring, third vice president, will preside at Friday evening's banquet. Other officers participating will be Mrs.

Clyde Angel, Big Spring, third vice president; and Mrs. Vance Hendrick, Monahans, second vice president. Delegates will attend from several Big Spring clubs.

The state convention held in Dallas last spring will be reviewed, in that the most volatile issue at that state meeting was the future of the TFWC headquarters building in Austin, which was reported to be accruing "more debts than it is worth."

The delegates voted in May to sell the building, which was paid for partly through the generosity of the late Clara Driscoll. It was later decided that such a vote could not be taken until all members of the federation had been advised that a sale was being considered. For that reason, the next state convention, in May, will again consider the sale of the building. For every 15 members, each club will get one vote.

Straw votes will be taken Saturday at the district meeting in Midland. All federated club members who would like to hear the discussion on the proposed sale are urged to attend the Saturday morning meeting.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You are thinking big and you are becoming big. You are going to become big in your path that requires a switch in methods if you are to be able to contend with them wisely. However, these changes produce in time a better set of circumstances for you to operate under. Maintain your cool.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19): You want to have fun, but there may be some obstacles in your path today so well until tomorrow. An associate may be somewhat demanding, but it is necessary. Evening is fine for radio listening or TV viewing.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20): Listen to views of kin that you were not able to understand before, but do not show resentment. The ideas of other people have to be considered intelligently. Don't let a close tie who could be your best friend as well.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Make a move in motion of all kinds is necessary, and tonight, especially when driving on highways and byways. Make sure you spend wisely and well, and count your change; keep wallet safe.

MODERN CHILDREN (June 22 to July 22): Don't let others order you or you will regret it later. Try to understand before, but do not show of taking more out of it, and if you must have one, start one. Cultivate your own.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 23): Don't be forced with others in order to get your own way, or you can only use a wiser-pardoning. Share clear of social activities tonight where big arguments might start.

Girls Escape Kidnaper After 6-Day Crime Caper

DALLAS (AP) - Police outlined here Tuesday details of what they said were the fourth and fifth kidnappings in Dallas since Christmas.

Police said two sisters, Vicki Martin, 11, and Sonya, 12, were lured from their home by a man related to the girls' step-mother. Police said the children told them the man said he was going to drive them around the block but wound up taking them on a six-day crime binge.

Mark J. Whiteman, 24, of Terrell, was jailed on two counts of kidnaping in lieu of $200,000 bond.

Police said he was also charged with burglary in Ava, Mo., where he was arrested Saturday night.

Officers said during the crime spree, which began March 5 with the abduction of the two girls, Whiteman stole two pickup trucks and burglarized homes in Texas, Arkansas and Missouri.

Dowdy Wins Court Round

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) - A federal appeals court Tuesday reversed conspiracy and bribery convictions against former Texas Rep. John Dowdy and left it up to the government to decide whether he should face a new trial.

Left standing by the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals was Dowdy's conviction on three counts of perjury.

Dowdy, a Democrat, was convicted in 1971 on eight counts of conspiracy, bribery and perjury in connection with the operations of a Maryland construction company under investigation by various federal agencies.

He was sentenced to 18 months in prison and fined $15,000.

Dowdy had appealed on grounds the indictment and the government's case impugned his legislative acts as a member of the House of Representatives.

He also contended that evidence produced by electronic surveillance had been improperly admitted in his trial.

Trojan Horse For Tourists

ANKARA (AP) - The Wooden Horse of Troy is to ride again, according to an announcement by the Cultural Department here.

An eight-meter-high replica of the horse is to be erected outside the ruins of Troy, in northwest Turkey, the announcement said.

Tourists visiting the site of the epic Siege of Troy will be able to walk around inside the wooden construction.

SURPRISE HONOR — When Leonard Cowden (left) of Amarillo, area manager for the U.S. Savings Bond division, came to Big Spring Tuesday he delivered a certificate of appreciation to Larson Lloyd (right), district chairman, for Lloyd's patriotic service in support of the bond program. Larson's district achieved 106 per cent of its goal in 1972, selling a total of $1,483,296 in bonds. The district includes Andrews, Borden, Dawson, Fisher, Gaines, Martin, Mitchell, Nolan and Scurry counties, as well as Howard. Six of those counties, including Howard, went over the top. Larson has been working with the program 15 years.

'I DON'T CONSIDER IT DEAD' Voters Reject Trinity Project

By The Associated Press
Voters struck down a $150 million tax-bond issue vital to the Trinity canal project, but supporters were reluctant today to call it a dead issue.

"I don't consider it dead," said David Brune, general manager of the Trinity River Authority (TAA), architect of the proposed 1.6 billion canal and river development program.

"I say this — it is either temporarily or permanently set aside. That would be my estimate," Brune told newsmen today.

our federal budget year after year ...

LITTLE MONEY
"It shows that people still can unite and work with very little money, sheer determination and plenty of legwork to turn back a sophisticated and high pressure advertising campaign," Fulcher said.

"Technically speaking, we could bring it back before the voters in 40 days, but I don't think this would be realistic," Brune said.

Asked if a new Trinity development program, without navigational provisions might be designed and placed again before voters, he replied:

"I couldn't speculate on that at this time because I just don't know."

Asked to pinpoint the reason for voter rejection, Brune said: "I think we failed to some extent to articulate adequately the economic issues favorable to the project. I also think there were many side issues raised that obviously caught the attention of the voter and caused concern about the project."

In unofficial tabulations turned down the tax proposal 137,820-116,368. The bond portion of the ballot failed on a vote of 137,006-115,970.

To pass, the issue required a majority of the total vote plus endorsement from nine of the 17 counties included in the TRA territory.

The eight counties favoring the proposal were Kaufman, Navarro, Henderson, Freestone, Anderson, Leon, Trinity and Liberty.

Tarrant and the downstream counties than we thought we would."

"I don't think there was any sudden thundercloud ... we felt all along there were two basic objections to the project. One was the environment. The other was economic. We felt that the weight of logic was on our side. Our main task was simply to make our points known."

Bond Is Reduced For Chavarría

Peace Justice Gus Ochotona reduced bond of $50,000, which was set for Richard Chavarría by Municipal Judge John Coffee, to $20,000 Monday.

But Chavarría, 29, of 504 N. Nolan St., who is charged with burglary, remained in county jail Tuesday.

Chavarría had written District Judge R. W. Caton complaining of the high bond set by Coffee.

Lab Busy, Busy

SASKATOON (AP) — Director J. W. Hamm says the Saskatchewan soil testing laboratory is getting busier. The laboratory, located at the University of Saskatchewan, processed 5,894 samples in the 1972 fall testing period compared with 2,801 in 1971.

The laboratory analyzes soil samples sent in by farmers and gives advice about the use of fertilizers to overcome nutrient deficiencies for specific crops.

State Revenue Study Released

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas ranks 40th among the 50 states in state and local taxes on individuals, yet at the same time has one of the most regressive tax systems, according to an interim study committee on revenue and taxation.

Rep. Don Cavness, D-Austin, chairman of the committee, said Tuesday he is not "as optimistic as the governor, lieutenant governor and speaker that this House will meet necessary appropriations without a tax bill."

Cavness released the committee's findings, including estimated revenue from possible income, corporate or additional sales taxes.

The committee estimated a 1 per cent income tax with a $1,000 deduction would raise $588 million in 1974-75, a corporate tax of 1 per cent would produce $34 million and an increase of 1 per cent in the sales tax would bring in $511 million. If exemptions were eliminated, the present sales tax of 4 per cent would raise $995 million more, and if services were included, another $259 million, the panel said.

A family of four with an annual income of $5,000 to $10,000 paid $455 in direct state and local taxes in 1968, compared with $545 for the national average.

"The impact of direct taxes on individuals is regressive (if) the percentage of income required to pay taxes decreases as personal income increases. While all other states have regressive tax systems, the Texas system is more regressive than that of most states," the report said.

"We should have had this type of staff work for many preceding years," Cavness said.

TEEN FORUM

A COMMUNE? (Q.) My girl friend and I are planning to live in a commune instead of getting married. We have heard many people tell us what they thought of commune living; some comments are not worth printing. I mean they just come out and say awful things about it.

My girl friend and I decided to get your opinion. — Interested in Indiana.

(A.) I think the commune, in which all live together and share food and other things, is suitable for only a very small minority of Americans today.

Communes, it is true, have received a lot of attention because of their extreme departure from our standard ways of life, but I have seen little tendency among young people to flock to them.

By far the majority of the young people I observe follow the traditional route of dating, marriage, an apartment or house, a job or jobs, and eventually a family of their own.

I advise you to wait a few years before you decide for life in a commune, marriage or something else. In a couple of years, for instance, she may be in love with some other boy and you may be in love with some other girl.

FORBIDDEN: (Q.) I started dating this guy about a month ago. My older sister used to get out with him. She is married now to another guy. She hates my guy. She told our mother he has been in jail and uses dope, which is not true.

My mother forbids me to go out with him, but I do, behind her back. I have tried to tell her that what my sister says is untrue but she won't listen to me. How can I get her to listen? — 17 in Texas.

(A.) Ask yourself why your sister, who is now married to someone else, would tell lies about your boy friend. Maybe what she says is true and you just refuse to believe it.

Talk to her about the boy. LISTEN to her. Ask her when he was in jail? Where? For what? Ask her how she knows he took or takes narcotics. Ask her what else she knows about him.

Then talk to the boy. If, after all this, you are still convinced he is a good boy, talk to your mother. I believe she will listen.

(Jean Adams reads and considers every letter, but she regrets that she cannot answer each personally. Most questions and comments to Jean Adams, care of The Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 2452, Houston, Texas 77061.)

MUSCLED WAY INTO A MAN'S WORLD — Denise Ledoux, 19, of Uxbridge, Mass., won the bet she could lift Denis Ludvigson at the store where he worked in Auburn, Mass. Ludvigson weighed about 200 pounds and after Denise proved her strength, he helped get her a job at Crossman's Distribution Center in Auburn. Crossman's is a company which specializes in hardware and building supplies, and its customers are almost exclusively men. Miss Ledoux became the first saleswoman hired by the store and enjoys her work, including driving a forklift.

Evidence Brings Sharp Warnings To Commies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House and State Department have issued sharp reminders to the Communists after weighing evidence that Hanoi is infiltrating South Vietnam with men and heavy equipment in violation of the cease-fire agreement. Government intelligence sources decline to be specific in virtually identical language, spokesmen for the President and for the secretary of state Tuesday reminded Hanoi publicly as well as through diplomatic channels that the Paris pact specifically forbids an arms buildup in South Vietnam.

Washington is delaying a formal protest until it can get a clearer idea of Hanoi's intent, the precise amount of infiltration and specific timing of the movements.

250 TANKS

Also, The Associated Press reported last month that more than 250 tanks had rolled down the supply trail along with several large artillery pieces, armored personnel carriers and large quantities of ammunition.

Any military buildup in Laos caused by another country would, in itself, violate the agreement signed in Paris Jan. 27 by the United States, Hanoi, Saigon and the Viet Cong.

In Paris, meanwhile, the Viet Cong issued a statement accusing the Saigon government of violating the agreement by conducting military operations and failing to release civilian prisoners.

On the U.S. side, another reason for diplomatic care is concern for the release of American prisoners still held by the Communists.

And, yet, the stiff stand taken Tuesday at the White House and the State Department represents a considerable change in public attitude.

OPTIMISTIC

For example, Secretary of State William P. Rogers said Sunday on CBS' Face the Nation: "I am quite optimistic that the agreement will work, that the cease-fire will be effective, that our POWs will all be returned on time, that we will have all of our troops out of there by March 28, and that the cease-fire will continue to be effective."

The change in mood developed first at the White House. Gerald L. Warren, deputy press secretary, was asked the expected question whether President Nixon is concerned about evidence that the agreement is being violated.

"We are adhering to the agreement and we expect all parties to adhere to the agreement," he said.

Warren added: "I can tell you we are using every means of communication that we have to express our position on this subject. I am not prepared to go into details, except to tell you that our expectation of full compliance is well-known."

Then, at the State Department, where the daily briefing had been delayed, Charles W. Bray, a department spokesman, said the situation was being watched "very closely and with some concern."

"I would re-emphasize today," he went on, "our expectation that all parties to this agreement will observe it in full. We expect compliance with the agreement."

Fort Worth Running Guns From Mexico To Ireland?

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional investigative committee was told by the Justice Department Tuesday that it believes five Irish-Americans held in Fort Worth were running guns from Mexico to Ireland.

FIRST MENTION

It was the first mention of Mexico in the case and the first time the department has spelled out its allegations.

The information came before a House Judiciary subcommittee considering a resolution by Rep. Bella Abzug, D-N.Y., calling for facts from the Justice Department to help determine if the department has abused the grand jury system and improperly held the men. Asst. Atty. Gen. A. William Olson apparently furnished a copy of his information to Rep. David Dennis, R-Ind., who used it to question Rep. Abzug and the first witness, Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass.

Olson said in his statement neither the five defendants nor their lawyers ever raised the issue of whether the Texas grand jury had authority to conduct the investigation and whether it might not be held in New York, where the men reside.

MOST LOGICAL

He said Texas was the most logical location.

"It is possible that a grand jury investigation involving this same conspiracy could have been brought in either Florida or New York," Olson said.

"However, the substantial activity known to us at that time took place in the Northern District of Texas.

WON'T TALK

He said the grand jury investigation in Texas was still under way.

The probe has been thwarted seriously by the refusal of the five Irish-Americans to testify after being given immunity, he said.

The five were jailed after refusing to talk to the grand jury and served four and a half months in county jail in Fort Worth and, recently, in the federal institution at Seagoville, Tex.

The Justice Department tried to prevent the committee from holding the hearing or pursuing the Abzug resolution, chairman Joshua Ellberg, D-Pa., told the hearing in summing up a private meeting with subcommittee members and Justice officials Monday.

Opening lead: King of ♠ Perfect timing was an essential ingredient to successful defense against South's three no trump contract.

West opened the king of hearts and declarer permitted him to hold the trick by following with the eight after East played the three. West, fearing that a heart continuation would not be profitable, shifted to the ten of diamonds. North followed with the four, East with the five and South played the king.

Declarer led the nine of clubs for a finesse and East was in with the queen. He returned a heart, South put in the jack and West won the trick with the queen. There was no point in clearing the hearts, for West lacked a card of reentry with which to run the suit.

A shift was clearly indicated. The diamond suit did not offer much hope, for if East had strength in diamonds he might have been expected to give a more encouraging signal than the five spot earlier. West therefore shifted to a spade in an effort to make a play for his partner.

South was obliged to play the jack from dummy, since nine tricks were not yet established. East was in with the king of spades and then cashed the setting trick with the ace of clubs.

Observe that, if West either clears the hearts or leads another diamond when he is in, South has time to dislodge the ace of clubs and establish his nine tricks—one spade, one heart, three diamonds and four clubs.

Spirit Of The Law

Legal technicalities are seldom the refuge of United States Supreme Court justices. For they are concerned daily with broad constitutional questions in an atmosphere in which justice and equity are dispensed with broad and eloquent strokes.

It was distressing therefore to hear from Justice William H. Rehnquist in a case from Mississippi in which a black was convicted of killing a policeman. The defendant, Leon Chambers, was convicted in spite of the fact that another man, Gable McDonald, had confessed to the crime four times, once in a signed statement later repudiated, and three times in private conversation.

The defense attorney, under Mississippi law and in a number of other states, including Texas, could not enter into evidence the oral confessions, because of the hearsay rule. And, since the prosecution did not call McDonald as a witness, he was inhibited from calling him to the stand, since rules forbid the cross-examination of a witness by a lawyer who called him to the stand.

In an 8-to-1 ruling written by Justice Lewis F. Powell Jr., the court struck down the conviction, saying, "The availability of the right to confront and to cross-examine those who give damaging testimony against the accused has never been held to depend on whether the witness was initially put on the stand by the accused or the state . . . where constitutional rights directly affecting the ascertainment of guilt are implicated, the hearsay rule may not be applied mechanically to defeat the ends of justice . . . the rulings of the trial court deprived Chambers of a fair trial."

Rehnquist, the lone dissenter, argued that Chambers should not be given a new trial because he did not make any constitutional objections at his original trial and thus could not raise them for the first time on appeal. This is being slave to the letter rather than the spirit of the law. Hopefully, he will mellow.

Some Things Change

Twenty years ago, on March 5, 1953, Joseph Stalin died.

The anniversary of his death went without notice in the Soviet Union this time, but Stalin's demise was the beginning of major changes for Russia and the rest of the world.

In the last 10 years, events have taken place which were unimaginable in Stalin's day. The U.S. and Russia have signed and honored a limited nuclear test-ban treaty. An American president has been a guest in Moscow.

One agreement on limiting nuclear arms has been reached and another is in the works.

Discussions are under way aimed at lowering troop forces in central Europe. Russia is buying grain from the U.S. It also is more open for visitors and the economy is more oriented toward consumer goods. And Stalin's daughter, Svetlana, lives in the United States.

The Soviet Union is far, far from being a free and open society, but it has come a long way since the death of one man, harsh, brutal rule.

Great Train Wreck

Around The Rim

Joe Pickle

When I was attending school in Central Texas two score years ago, the old timers were still talking about the great train collision on the Katy. One of my professors had witnessed it as a lad.

PERHAPS IT didn't impress me sufficiently, for I couldn't conceive of anyone deliberately ramming two speeding locomotives together, except in the miniature for the movies. But this was no movie stunt — indeed it was before the days of the flickers — that W. G. Crush, Dallas, general passenger agent for the M. K. & T. dreamed up. Irwin Ross has a fine article about it in the current issue of "Texas."

A RAILROAD in Ohio had bumped two decrepit locomotives together, but there wasn't much of a show. Crush figured he could stage a train wreck with no punches pulled, and that Texas was the place to do it. He sold company officials on the idea as a promotion, selected a site in a natural amphitheatre in McLennan County, not far from Waco. The grade dipped from both ends in a swale surrounded by elevated terrain. A perfect sight, or so Crush thought.

On Sept. 15, 1896, a year after the Ohio bumping, Crush gave the sign from a pole marked "Point of Collision." Thousands lining the removed slopes scarcely breathed. Katy could count up more passengers hauled on a single day than at any time in its long history — even to this day.

WITH A flair for the dramatic, Crush had the two locomotives roll to the point of collision for photographs, much like prize fighters preparing for the start of a match. Whistles sounded and the bunneled locomotives backed majestically back up the grade to their appointed starting points.

Crush gave the signal. Black smoke billowed from the funneled stacks, steam hissed and the drivers began to roll. Speed mounted as the locomotives roared down the opposite grades. Whistles had been tied to the drivers, and each revolution brought a shriek, augmented by torpedoes placed on the rails for added effect.

ROSS SAYS that contemporary accounts told how the suspense was so terrible that many turned their heads. On streaked the engines, pulling cars packed with crossties for added weight. Then came the crash no more than 10 feet from the "point of collision sign."

EVEN CRUSH could not have imagined the devastation that followed. Metal shattered and flew through the air like shrapnel and artillery. The caphead of the smokestack was blown a quarter of a mile and plummeted into the earth near where a crowd of screaming people scurried to get away. A massive truck (the smaller wheels and heavy frame on which cars rest) spun through the air and snapped a pole like a toothpick. A two-inch bolt ripped out the eye of a Waco photographer. Two lengths of a heavy brake chain writhed through the air, killing a 19-year-old lad. One other person was fatally wounded. Several were hurt; one man fell out of a tree and broke a leg.

EVEN THE blaze were impressed. A hardened New York photographer later wrote: "I doubt if ever there was more complete destruction in the world than those two engines." The carrier had to pay out heavy damage claims, but nobody ever matched Mr. Crush's train wreck.

Opposing Faces

By Rowland Evans
And Robert Novak

RALEIGH, N.C. — When Gov. Ronald Reagan of California swept into Washington for the recent governors' conference and unfurled plans for wholesale governmental retrenchment, a significant dissent came from boyish, first-year Gov. James E. Holshouser of North Carolina.

REAGAN, preparing a last try for the presidency, urged his Republican colleagues not to pick up federal social services programs being dropped by President Nixon but to let them die, thereby rewarding taxpayers. Holshouser quietly disagreed, arguing a golden opportunity now exists for state government to assume new responsibility by taking over the federal programs.

In this and other matters, Holshouser is a conspicuous upstream swimmer in the new Republican South. While Southern Republicanism glitters with success by moving ever further to the right, Holshouser holds to the principle the party can triumph here with progressive policies and a broader political base encompassing both left and right. Considering the Republican reliance on the South for future presidential victories, the outcome of his fight for a moderate, non-racist party has important national implications.

THESE TWO faces of Southern Republicanism surfaced in North Carolina last fall. While Holshouser was scoring his stunning upset, the state was electing to the U.S. Senate a right-wing television commentator named Jesse Helms — an archetype of emergent Southern Republicanism so warmly embraced at the White House.

Letters To Editor

Dear Sir:

After reading the sermon by the pastor of Trinity Baptist Church in Friday's Herald concerning long hair, I had to write. The pastor quoted I. Cor. 11:14, "Does not even nature itself teach you that if a man have long hair, it is a shame unto him." On down in I Cor. 11:16 Paul says "But if any man seem to be contentious, we have no such custom neither the churches of God." I understand this to mean that if people use this Scripture, I. Cor. 11:14 to bring about arguments and divisions, then there should not be any such rule against long hair.

I personally think that long hair is a harmless fad that will pass if not too much "to do" is made over it. I surely do not think it is a sin or that person should be judged by the length of his hair.

To Whom It May Concern:

My husband and I would like to comment on the article in the Sunday edition concerning mobile homes. We have lived in a mobile home two and a half years, and have enjoyed every minute of it. We have two children, and we have more room and more storage space than we've ever had in a house. We do not consider our home a "cracker box" not a "trailer house." It is our home, and we love it. Buying a mobile home is like everything else. We get what we pay for! As a matter of fact, we have seen houses that looked more like "cracker boxes" than the mobile homes we've seen. People are turning to mobile homes because of the housing situation in the cities. Some of the rental houses we have seen should have been condemned! Mobile home living is great for this family.

A Devotion For Today

Meditate upon these things; give thyself wholly to them; that thy profiting may appear to all. (I Timothy 4:15)
PRAYER: O Lord, give us a new understanding of Thy love and its power to sustain us. Help us to cast off our doubts. Give us the grace to trust ourselves completely to Thy love and care in all of life's situations. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

I am an orphan, and have had a hard time to say the least. I ran away from a boy's home, and later was injured in an accident. Now, I am in the home of a Christian couple, and they are fine people. They want me to become a Christian, but I just don't feel I'm ready for the Christian life. Please pray for me that, although mixed up, I will somehow do the right thing. M.G.

You would be a most unusual fellow if at this point you were not mad at life, and suspicious of people. The conditioning of the early years has far reaching effects, but many a man has turned a liability into an asset. You are one of those.

Apparently, now you are in a good home. It's very natural that your foster parents want you to follow their beliefs, but I get the impression they are rightfully leaving the decision up to you. Don't wait too long, however, because we need to respond when the Spirit of God calls us. As a Christian, you will have the help of the Lord to make the right decisions, and to discover the really happy life.

A statement of Scripture that ought to be particularly meaningful to you is Psalm 27:10, "For though my father and my mother forsake me, the Lord will take care of me." This only comes about, however, by a conscious act of our will. Some of the most dramatic and encouraging stories in the Bible are about young men who found themselves away from family and friends, but under the loving, guiding hand of God. A case in point would be Joseph in Genesis 37-50.

I'm encouraged by your desire to "do the right thing." Through a personal faith in Christ, you'll be enabled to practice the advice of Tryon Edwards, "Between two evils, choose neither; between two goods, choose both."

Foot Problems Begin Early

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I wonder if shoe companies try to cash in by stressing the absolute need for expensive "well-designed, supporting" shoes starting at the earliest months.

I have read that no shoes at all is the natural and best way to develop baby's muscles and thus develop the arch. Ankle supports seem fine for skaters but, like crutches, don't they help you stand without allowing the muscles to do their own work? If the environment were suitable, wouldn't bare feet be the ideal?

I recognize the need for foot coverings but wouldn't a good-fitting, less expensive, lighter shoe be just as effective as the stiff, high-ankled shoes? — Mrs. P.S.

You are essentially right except I don't know that there's any special campaign to urge expensive shoes for youngsters. All I'm about to comment on is what the right shoes are for a young one.

Most children are born with perfect feet — the occasional abnormality is quite another matter, of course.

A child's foot doesn't need shoes to develop properly. That isn't the purpose of shoes. The purpose of shoes is to protect the feet, to prevent stepping on a pebble or something from hurting, to prevent stubbing a toe on something hard.

A properly fitted shoe is one that is snug enough not to be clumsy, but long and wide enough to permit growth, because a small child's feet grow rapidly. An infant may need new shoes every four months or so, for a time. It's the shoe that becomes too tight that damages feet.

So make sure toes aren't being cramped or the foot isn't crammed into a shoe that's too narrow. A toddler will outgrow his shoes far sooner than he can wear them out — but that's the way it is.

It costs money for new shoes, but it's money well spent. Most foot problems begin developing between the ages of 2 and 8 years, and then mostly because shoes become too tight.

They don't have to be expensive shoes, but they must fit, must be big enough so the foot isn't crowded.

Signs of foot trouble that can be detected by parents include these: Does the child dislike walking or have a peculiar

Shaky Agreements

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — In the President's office the other day that tireless grandmother, Prime Minister Golda Meir of Israel, was given, along with promises of continuing aid, a warning of conflict ahead. The Government of the United States, she was told, cannot dictate the emigration policy of the Soviet Union.

THE ADMINISTRATION wants to give the Soviet Union "most-favored nation" tariff treatment together with credits through such agencies as the Export-Import Bank. Opening the way to greatly expanded trade, this was the heart of the agreement reached in Moscow last May.

That agreement is now clouded by a controversy that has its roots deep in domestic politics. Although the Administration has not yet set up a Soviet trade bill, the opposition is waiting with a trap to sidetrack it. This is an amendment by Sen. Henry M. (Scoop) Jackson, deriding the concessions unless the Soviets stop applying an exit tax on Soviet Jews emigrating to Israel.

JACKSON'S GIRL Friday, Dorothy Fostick says he already has 60 signers, well over a majority. In the last Congress 76 senators endorsed a similar amendment. With this roadblock looking so large, Moscow will find a way to call off the exit tax. However, those in the White House directly concerned are less optimistic. They point out that this is intervention in the domestic affairs of the Soviet Union, and, moreover, it is not alone the Jews who want out.

The key figure is Leonid Brezhnev, No. 1 in the Kremlin. He told the Americans in Moscow in May that the charge levied against Jews leaving the Soviet Union — the equivalent of the cost of their education, as high sometimes as $25,000 — was an error. He described it as a "bureaucratic bungle."

BUT HE WENT on to say that, since it had received such wide publicity with angry denunciation from Jews around the world, his government could hardly seem to yield to U.S. dictation.

The trade agreements signed in Moscow were largely to the advantage of Washington. The Berlin agreement, impossible without Moscow's sanction, was a plus for the West. A certain amount of East-West pacification, though, would have taken place without the Moscow accords.

ALL IMPORTANT for Moscow was trade — the need for grain to overcome the food shortage; the need for computers and every form of advanced technology to boost a halting economy. If this is ruled out by denial of the concessions such as "most-favored nation" that go to America's trading partners, little or no reward is left for the Soviet Union. So, others in the Soviet hierarchy perhaps rivals, can say: What was all the fuss about and where has it got us?

A BIT OF history may be instructive. Nikita Khrushchev was invited to America by President Eisenhower, who was seeking to ease off the cold war. Then came the shooting down over Sverdlovsk of the U-2 spy plane and Eisenhower's fumbling response. It marked Khrushchev's end and the end of the initiative. Could this same thing happen again?

DON'T GAMBLE ON LADDERS! Ever see a housewife stand on a folding chair and strain to reach something on a top cabinet shelf? Maybe her husband scolded her for it. Yet this same gent may use some old 2x4's uncertainly nailed together into a shaky ladder when he climbs up to do some painting or roof repair. "I don't use a ladder enough to buy a good one," he may say. That's not the point. One slip could lay a man up for months and cost him a lot more than a garage full of ladders. For the preservation of the race, don't gamble with ladders; buy a professional quality ladder.

Council Lowers Pool Fees To Seek Volume

City commissioners Tuesday evening voted to lower seasonal rates at Comanche Trail swimming pool but tabled consideration of salary increases for department heads.

Rates at the city pool were lowered to attract greater public purchase of seasonal tickets. Fees were trimmed from $12.50 to $8.50 for adults and from $7.50 to $5 for children.

Total revenue from Comanche Trail pool last year was $3,191.75, while operating costs were $8,500. The regular daily swimming fee of 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children was left intact.

'SCALE NEEDED'

Commissioner Eddie Acri moved to table consideration of salary increases for the eight division department heads until the next meeting when Commissioner M. R. Koger can be present. Koger was out of town last night.

Commissioner Harold Hall agreed to the tabling suggestion, saying that a comprehensive salary scale needs to be formulated for city employees.

In other action, the Commission passed on first reading an ordinance charging $3 for turn-off of city water service for repair purposes. The fee will not apply in cases where a citizen wishes to discontinue his water service.

HEARING SET

Also approved was an ordinance prohibiting hunting and bow-fishing at Moss Creek Lake and exempting persons over 65 years of age from the daily fishing permit fee of 50 cents.

Date for a public hearing on annexation of 74.35 acres of city-owned land north of the Texas Highway Department was set for March 27 at the regular 5:15 p.m. commission meeting.

City Manager Harry Nagel explained that the city is conveying an L-shaped tract to the Industrial Foundation for acreage immediately north of the city cemetery, plus $500 an acre for acreage in excess of that received in the exchange. The move is to bring all the land — that to be owned by the Foundation and that to be gained by the city north of the cemetery — into the city limits.

A resolution was passed authorizing the mayor to execute deeds consummating the land exchange with the Foundation. Part of the land gained by the Foundation is for the new Walls garment plant, and the remainder must, under terms of the agreement, be used for industrial development.

POLICE CAR BID

Commissioners accepted the $21,554.88 bid from Bob Brock Ford for six police cars. The cars are interceptors or patrol cars, and the bid accepted was $3,592 per car.

An ordinance easing zoning restrictions for pool halls was accepted, as was one allowing indoor fixed structure amusement or recreational establishments in the "Neighborhood Service" classification.

Novis Womack, Hudson Landers and Jimmy Ray Smith were named to the Board of Equalization, and Jack A. Goble was appointed as a reserve police officer.

Permission was given to purchasing agents to advertise for bids on aluminum sulfate for water treatment.

Cleaning Up Galveston Oil Spill

HOUSTON (AP) — A U.S. Coast Guard official estimates it will take 10 more days to contain and clean up remaining patches of oil in Galveston Bay.

Some 420,000 gallons may have leaked into the water since a collision last Friday between a petroleum barge and a merchant ship.

Coast Guard Capt. Warren Waggett said Tuesday high winds and tides were hampering the clean up operations.

"We've got the largest part of it confined in two areas but the winds and tides are giving us lots of trouble," he said.

Waggett said the crude oil has covered about seven miles of shoreline from south of Red Bluff to a little west of Morgan's Point.

E. G. Marsh, regional director of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, said the thick coating of goo washed up on some beaches and undoubtedly wiped out the small, shore-dwelling organisms. He said the oil blanket is several feet wide and a half inch thick in places.

Dudley Johnson, marine resources director of the State Health Department, said there apparently has been no damage to commercial oyster reefs in Galveston Bay. He said there are no major commercial reefs near the spill area.

Carr-Osorio Trial Action Quickens

DALLAS (AP) — A sharp legal battle was expected at the Carr-Osorio trial today as the government seeks to introduce voluminous records of National Bankers Life Insurance Co. and defending lawyers try to have them ruled inadmissible evidence.

NBL is the insurance company of Frank W. Sharp, key figure in the Texas stock scandal of two years ago, was indicted along with Carr and Osorio, but he pleaded guilty and will be sentenced later.

U.S. District Court Judge William M. Taylor Jr. gave defending lawyers, including Carr who is defending himself, most

Bank Teller Thinks Deaf Mutes Bandits

LARGO, Fla. (AP) — A bank teller given a note asking for a coin bag mistook two deaf mutes for robbers.

"Please give me a zipper bag," read the note that a teenager dressed in white cutoff trousers passed to the teller at the First Federal Savings & Loan Association on Tuesday.

Thinking it was a holdup, the teller triggered an alarm, police said. The teller then stalled the youth identified as Robert J. Pokorny, 19, of Painesville, Ohio.

liquidator of the insurance company.

EIGHT WOMEN

When the court met today, lawyers from both sides were expected to argue legal points about whether the records may be used by the government.

If they are admitted, Barney Wood, custodian of records, will be called to testify as to their authenticity.

After Woods, the government still has two witnesses—Sam E. Stock, who succeeded Osorio as president of NBL, and Don M. Akins, who was vice president of the company.

As things now stand, it is not expected that Novotny will be called to testify.

The trial began March 5 and today is the eighth day. The first three days were devoted almost entirely to selection of the eight-woman four-man jury.

Most of Tuesday's witnesses testified about mailing or receiving envelopes containing letters, checks, financial statements or certificates of deposit—packages which are the subject of mail fraud charges against Carr and Osorio.

Censors Okay Detective Mag

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — A copy of the American magazine "Inside Detective" banned 33 years ago by government censors has been cleared for distribution. The Government Gazette lifted the original notice imposed on Sept. 8, 1939.

Blood Climb

LONDON (AP) — Tall men tend to lose their hair sooner than shorter, and if they're chubby as well the chances of baldness increase.

That's the finding of Mrs. Betty Roney, who runs a London hair clinic. She believes that the bigger you are the greater the task of your blood supply to give nourishment to the roots of your hair.

Phone Rates Hike Sought

HOUSTON (AP) — The city council has been told by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. that it needs a rate increase to offset the rising cost of meeting Houston's telephone service needs.

The company is asking to increase residential rates 28 percent, or from $6.30 to $8.10 a month for a one-party line. It wants to boost business trunk line rates 52 percent, from $26.25 to $39.90.

N. K. Hoverstock, vice president and general manager of Southwestern Bell's Houston operation, told councilmen that without the rate increase, "we run the risk of deteriorating service."

LOCAL DELEGATION BACK — Jonathan Honea, Big Spring, holds a trophy he won at the recent Distributive Education state contests held in Houston. With Honea are Jerry Bigham, center, local DE coordinator; and David Coats, a voting delegate in the convention. More than 600 students from around the state are enrolled in the program. Of that number, 65 competed at Houston.

Animals Picked Up Here Interred At City Dump

By ANN STEVENS

Like that of other members of the police force, the job of Bob Baker deals with both the living and the dead. His, however, concerns animals rather than people. He is the city animal warden.

Baker's job begins between 7 and 8 a.m. each day and involves a patrol of the city's busiest streets to find and pick up animals, both live and dead.

So far this year Baker has picked up 247 live animals and 162 dead ones including dogs, cats, rabbits, skunks, possums, badgers, javelinas and even deer.

"If I find a dead animal, I pick it up and put it in the pickup. If it has been run over several times and is bloody, I scoop it up with gloves," said Baker, adding that most of the carcasses he collects are those of canines.

Dead animals are buried at the city dump. "Some people don't like that," Baker said, "but it's something that has to be done."

If the dead animal has an identifying tag or collar, the owner is notified. "A lot of times the tags are knocked off when the animal is run over," making notification of the owner impossible, Baker intimated.

Besides that more morbid aspect of his work, Baker is also charged with the duty of picking up stray animals, most of which are dogs.

The city considers any dog running at large to be stray, he said. Dogs with unknown owners are taken to the city pound at 900 E. 2nd St. where they must be kept for at least three days.

If the owner of a dog does not claim his pet within the specified 72 hours, the city may sell the animal to anyone wanting him for a small fee, usually $3.

"Now there are only four or five dogs in the pound, although there have been up to 30 or 40 before," Baker noted. He said the pound is not prepared to handle cats.

"Lately, a lot of people have called wanting cats to take to their farms to cut down on the rat problem," Baker said. He said he calls these wanting cats when he finds stray ones, rather than committing them to the pound.

Baker said he has never filed charges on anyone for cruelty to animals although he has filed on those allowing their dogs to roam free. There is not a branch of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals in Big Spring, he said.
