PRICE DANIEL MEASURE RUSHED TO SENATE

Serious 'Bribery' Question

AUSTIN (AP) — Speaker Price Daniel Jr.'s "legislative bribery" bill won unanimous House passage today, while a San Antonio representative said he had "a serious question" whether Daniel might already have violated its terms.

'REFORM'
The bill moved to the Senate on a 138-0 vote, the first time a measure in Daniel's "reform" program passed unanimously.

The Senate cut through delaying tactics and finally passed, 19-12, a bill giving firemen and policemen the right to organize and bargain collectively for wages and working conditions. The measure would prohibit strikes.

BARGAINING ACT
The city council could adopt the bargaining act on its own initiative. Or 20,000 voters or 5 per cent of the electorate could petition the council, which would have to adopt the act or set an election on whether the firemen and policemen should have the bargaining right.

The amended bill goes back to the House, where it was adopted after over eight hours of heated debate.

House members also passed to the Senate, 129-13, a bill requiring state anti-pollution agencies to record all pollution complaints and note them for possible action by the attorney general. The measure is a weakened version of one that started out requiring monthly reports from the agencies of what they were doing about each complaint.

Rep. Wayland Simmons, D-San Antonio, said a letter sent by Daniel last March to Rep. Bill Blythe, R-Houston, "raised a serious question in my mind in view of House Bill 9 (the legislative bribery bill) and his constitutional oath of office."

TAXATION
Blythe asked Daniel, on behalf of the Harris County Republican House delegation, whether as Speaker he would put Republicans on "each major committee? Appropriations, Revenue and Taxation, Rules, etc."

"I most certainly will," Daniel replied.

Copies of the letters were released by Daniel.

Daniel's legislative bribery bill prohibits a speaker candidate or his supporters from promising committee assignments in return for votes in a speaker's race. The speaker's oath of office includes an affirmation that he had not "promised any public office or employment, as a reward for the giving or withholding a vote at the election at which I was elected."

The speaker said the promise made in his letter to Blythe, dated March 8, 1972, was "absolutely not" a violation of either his oath or the terms of his bill.

"I stated publicly and put in writing publicly . . . that I believe in Republicans and all minorities being treated fairly in the House," Daniel said. "The oath of office and House Bill 9 do not and should not prohibit a candidate for speaker from taking positions in a speaker's race."

VITAL PART

He added that "a vital part" of his campaign for speaker "was not relegating anybody. Republicans, black, brown or woman, to a secondary position."

"The inference that there was any impropriety in taking a stand is utterly ridiculous," Daniel said.

Blythe's inquiries went to all House members who were speaker candidates as of last March, he said.

Daniel said he thought Simmons was trying to embarrass him—"Look at the timing. If he thought he had something, why didn't he bring it up during the election for speaker or earlier in the session," he said.

FALSE

Simmons said this was "absolutely false."

Daniel said Simmons had said he found the letters in his new Capitol office when he moved in at the start of the session. Simmons has the office used by former Rep. John Hannah, who helped run Daniel's speaker campaign.

Simmons refused to comment on where he obtained the letters.

Cancer Victim Snyder Woman Shot In Throat

HOUSTON (AP) — A woman who came here from Snyder for cancer treatment was shot in the throat today in a robbery at a motel, police said.

Eunice Watterman, 61, was reported in fair condition at Hermann Hospital.

Frank Watterman, the husband, told police two gunmen approached him as he was taking luggage from his car. He said both men had pistols and he robbed him of $90 while the other went to the motel room where Mrs. Watterman was shot.

Watterman said the men then tore the telephone from the wall and fled.

Deadline Nearing For Nominations

Deadline for registration for the Zale-Herald Youth Achievement Award arrives Friday.

Eligible for the eighth annual award are seniors from high schools in Coahoma, Forsan, Sands, Lamesa, Colorado City and Stanton, as well as Big Spring.

Nominees will get certificates while plaques will be awarded to finalists.

Each of the schools will supply a top entry and he or she will receive a trophy and a wrist watch.

Those submitting entries should fill out forms which have been appearing regularly in The Herald.

The awards banquet is scheduled April 26 at the Big Spring Country Club, at which time the 32 finalists, their dates and their parents will be honored.

Rosson Is Speaker At Legion Party

State Rep. Renal Rosson, Snyder, will speak at the 54th annual American Legion Anniversary birthday party and reunion at 6:30 p.m. Saturday.

Veterans of World War I, World War II, Korea and Vietnam and auxiliary members and Gold Star Mothers have been invited to the reunion at the American Legion Home on the San Angelo Highway.

A short memorial for departed comrades will be held, and the Legion's "Outstanding Citizen Award" presented.

The auxiliary will serve the barbecue supper free of charge. Dress is informal, and caps may be worn.

Communist Terrorists Rip House Of Worship

SAIGON (AP) — A series of explosions ripped through a crowd of Buddhists at a religious service before dawn today in the Mekong Delta, killing or wounding more than 100 persons. It was the worst terrorist attack reported in the 47-day-old cease-fire.

The South Vietnamese military command said 17 persons were killed and 88 were wounded, but the deputy police chief of the province said there were 20 dead and 82 wounded.

Most of the victims were Cambodians native to the region, according to Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, the chief spokesman for the Saigon command.

Both Hien and the deputy police chief blamed the attack on Communist terrorists.

Hien said several grenades were thrown into the Soai Kiem Pagoda in Tra Cu, a district town in Vinh Binh province 80 miles south of Saigon. But the deputy police chief said the attack may have been made with rockets fired from outside the town.

No arrests were made. Hien said he had no information on the likely motive for the attack but added, without explanation, that the police and the militia had anticipated trouble. Police forces have been present around Buddhist pagodas in Vinh Binh since a series of clashes there in 1971 between Cambodian monks and government authorities over the rights of the Cambodian minority.

Vinh Binh is in an area of the delta that once was part of Cambodia and a large part of the population is of Cambodian descent. There has always been enmity or tension between the Cambodians and the Vietnamese.

Saigon authorities said a field team of the International Commission of Control and Supervision flew to Tra Cu to investigate. The South Vietnamese delegation to the Joint Military Commission also lodged a protest with that peacekeeping organization.

City's Tax Man Is Dismissed

Lee Herndon, city employe, had his services terminated Wednesday afternoon.

Herndon, who officially was named city tax collector three years ago, had worked for the past year as a supervisor in the utilities department although his title had never been officially changed.

Herndon, who has lived in Big Spring 20 years, said that the announcement Wednesday by Robert Massengale, city finance officer, came as a surprise to him.

Massengale said in answer to queries today that it was correct that Herndon's services were terminated Wednesday but offered no further comment.

NIXON SPEAKS OUT

No Testimony On Watergate

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon today challenged the Senate to a Supreme Court test over his refusal to allow his legal counsel, John W. Dean III, to testify at the confirmation hearing of L. Patrick Gray III to head the FBI.

Such a challenge could prove to be a major test of the doctrine of "executive privilege," which has been used by presidents throughout the nation's history to protect information considered privileged under the constitutional separation of the executive and other branches of government.

"If the Senate feels they want a court test, we would welcome it," the President told newsmen at the White House. At the same time he said former Atty. Gen. John Mitchell and Republican fund raiser Maurice Stans are not shielded by executive privilege and would testify and "give good accounts" if summoned.

BUGGING

The Senate Judiciary Committee is holding hearings on whether to approve the nomination of L. Patrick Gray III to be director of the FBI. The hearing has touched often on the investigation of the June 17, 1972 break-in and bugging of the Democratic National Committee headquarters in the Watergate building.

Members of the Senate Judiciary Committee, Democrats as well as Republicans, have agreed they would like to hear Dean testify on matters relating to the qualifications of Gray to be the new FBI chief.

'HOSTAGE'

Nixon said he had heard speculation that the Senate might hold Gray as "hostage" until Dean testifies.

The President said he did not believe the reports that the committee would act that way.

One of the prime issues in the nomination hearing has been whether Gray acted properly in turning over FBI reports on the Watergate investigation to the White House.

Four Democrats on the Judiciary Committee have rejected an offer by Dean to answer only selected questions in writing about his relationships with Gray.

One of the four, Sen. Birch

Bayh of Indiana, said "a committee would be derelict in its duty to the Senate and the people of this country if it gave any further consideration to the Gray nomination."

Nixon, speaking with considerable emphasis, told his news conference: "I consider it my constitutional responsibility to defend the separation of powers."

Nixon Picks Bruce For Peking Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon announced today he is calling veteran ambassador David Bruce back from retirement to be chief of a U.S. liaison office in Peking which will further the improved relations between the United States and Communist China.

Nixon said the office will open in Peking about May and will have a total complement of 20 American diplomatic personnel, including two of this nation's top Chinese experts.

The two top deputies will be Alfred Jenkins, ranking State Department China expert, and John Holdridge, top man at the White House National Security Council. Both speak Chinese fluently and have traveled with Nixon and his top national security adviser, Henry A. Kissinger on his historic missions to China.

The Chinese also will be setting up a liaison office in this country as the result of diplomatic talks recently concluded with Kissinger in Peking. But Nixon did not say when they would send their mission here or who would head it.

Meanwhile, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass. introduced a bill to confer full diplomatic immunity and privileges on representatives of the People's Republic of China who will man the newly agreed to liaison office in Washington.

Two Pilots Released By Communist China

CLARK AIR BASE, Philippines (AP) — Two U.S. military pilots, the last Americans held prisoner in Communist China, arrived at Clark Air Base today and joined 108 other POWs awaiting flights home. They appeared in good shape.

Air Force Maj. Philip E. Smith, 38, of Roodhouse, Ill., and Lt. Cmdr. Robert J. Flynn, 35, of Colorado Springs, Colo., were flown from Hong Kong where they crossed the British-Chinese border several hours earlier.

Both were shot down while flying in the Vietnam War—Smith on Sept. 20, 1965, when he strayed over China's Hainan Island, and Flynn on Aug. 21, 1967, when a North Vietnamese MIG attacked him near the Chinese border.

North Vietnam released 107 American fliers and one civilian on Wednesday, and the Viet Cong are to turn over 27 military men and five civilians Friday in Hanoi.

That will leave 146 American POWs still in Communist hands, including seven servicemen and two civilians in Laos. All are to be freed by March 28, the deadline set by the Vietnam cease-fire agreement.

Flynn and Smith entered Hong Kong over the covered bridge spanning the Shum Chun border river after Red Cross representative Eugene Guy met them on the Chinese side and signed a receipt for them. Both were smiling broadly, and Flynn was smoking a cigar Guy gave him.

A helicopter took the pilots to a Royal Air Force field where a U.S. hospital plane was waiting for them. Waiting there also was Smith's brother, J.H. Smith, a Hong Kong import-export executive.

The two brothers had not seen each other in nearly eight years. When the flier saw his brother, he laughed joyously and reached out his arms to him, then started to cry as his brother enveloped him in a bear hug.

Flynn told U.S. officials that several days before they left Peking, the Chinese took them on a shopping expedition and they bought a variety of gifts for friends and relatives. The purchases were in 10 packages that were loaded aboard the plane. Smith, when asked what was in them, said, "They are to be surprises."

Smith's brother also made the flight to Clark Field. En route to the Philippines, the men put on new uniforms. Marine Maj. Chet Hanson, who made the flight with them, said they seemed in good spirits and asked about world events.

Hanson said one crew member, Lt. Col. Robert Smith, gave his name plate to Smith, saying, "I would be honored if you wear it."

Flynn was worried that his hair was too long for Navy regulations, but "we told him not to worry," Hanson said. "He had a cut that was almost like a Marine's crewcut."

Like the other POWs, Smith and Flynn were welcomed at Clark by Adm. Noel Gayler, commander-in-chief of U.S. forces in the Pacific, and Lt. Gen. William G. Moore, commander of the 13th Air Force.

Smith, the senior of the two returnees, said, "All I want to say is it's wonderful to be home." A small crowd of well-wishers clapped and cheered.

Smith and Flynn waved back, posed for photographs, then boarded a bus for the base hospital and medical checks along with the POWs who had arrived Wednesday from Hanoi.

The men freed from North Vietnam stayed awake most of their first night outside captivity, talking ebulliently to each other and the hospital staff.

"I used to have dreams about being home, but when I awoke I realized that I was still in captivity," said one POW who had finally dozed off. "I dreamed again last night about being free, and when I woke up this morning it was like a dream come true."

TEARS OF JOY — Air Force Maj. Philip Smith starts to cry as he is embraced by his brother, J. H. Smith, after he was released from POW detention by Chinese.

LICENSE TABS IDEA

AUSTIN (AP) — A bill doing away with annual automobile license plates in favor of small renewal tabs has been approved by the House Transportation Committee.

The measure, by Rep. Charles Tuper, D-El Paso, now is eligible for full floor debate in the House.

According to the Legislative Budget Board, the measure would save the state $10.5 million over a five-year period by eliminating most of the cost of producing license plates.

Plates would be renewed every five years, with tabs used for the intervening years. The measure would take effect with five-year plates issued April 1, 1975.

It's Going To Cost More For Flavor

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — It's going to cost more to flavor things. But agricultural exports should get a boost from the recent devaluation of the U.S. dollar, says Dr. Roland Smith, grain marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"The dollar devaluation will mean higher prices for certain imported food and fiber products such as spices, vanilla, pepper, coffee, tea, bananas, cocoa, silk and rubber. These changes should be immediately apparent," he said recently.

"On the other hand, the agricultural export situation is difficult to analyze as world money markets are still unsettled. However, the devalued dollar means that U.S. products are now cheaper abroad so we may be able to sell more agricultural commodities in foreign countries," points out Smith.

The specialist contends that any increased export of agricultural commodities will not adversely affect the already tight supply situation on most products.

"If foreign sales increase, they will come primarily from products that will be produced this summer and fall. U.S. farmers are increasing plantings this year due to increased demands, and total harvests are expected to reach record levels."

Transportation problems—congested ports and rail car shortages—are presently providing a cushion against any major changes in exports due to the cheaper dollar, notes Smith.

Eleanor Proves Sex Not Everything

NEW YORK (AP) — Elliott Roosevelt says his parents, the late President and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, stopped having sexual relations in 1916.

"Mother had performed her duty in marriage—five living children were testimony to that. She wanted no more but her bland ignorance of how to ward off pregnancy left her no choice but abstinence," Elliott Roosevelt writes in the April issue of Ladies' Home Journal.

He said his sister told him his mother, Eleanor, had confided that she knew nothing about contraception.

Actress Says 'My Friend' Beat Her Following Party

GILA BEND, Ariz. (AP) — Despite testimony from Sarah Miles and Burt Reynolds in the death of the British actress' business manager, Justice of the Peace Mulford Winsor still isn't ready to let a coroner's jury return a verdict.

He kept the inquest open following contrasting appearances on Wednesday by Reynolds and Miss Miles to get the report of Los Angeles toxicologist Thomas Naguchi on the death of David Whiting. The 26-year-old Whiting died in the actress' motel room Feb. 11.

SARAH MILES

The report was expected today or Friday.

It was the second delay. On Feb. 27 Whiting's mother succeeding in halting the hearing until Miss Miles and Reynolds could be forced to testify at the inquest.

Reynolds, Miss Miles and the governor for Miss Miles' child, Jane Evans, were flown here from St. George, Utah, where they are now filming the movie, "The Man Who Loved Cat Dancing."

Miss Miles was tense and at times broke into tears Wednesday as she described Whiting as "my friend." She said he beat her when she returned to her room after attending a party with Reynolds and other film crew members on the night of Feb. 10.

A relaxed Reynolds testified that he had just returned to his room on Feb. 10 when he received a call from the governor that Whiting was beating up the actress.

Reynolds said he went to Miss Miles' room and brought her back to his room.

He said it was "about 9:30 or 10" the next morning when Miss Miles returned to her own room and found Whiting dead. Reynolds said she summoned him and when he arrived at Miss Miles' room he found Whiting lying on the floor with pills scattered all around his body.

Whiting's mother, Mrs. Frank Campbell, was among the spectators in the court room. She told newsmen later she wasn't satisfied with the testimony.

Bid To Keep Fit Has Him Limping

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert Griffin's efforts to keep fit and trim has him limping.

The Michigan Republican hobbled into the Senate chamber Tuesday with the explanation that he suffered a muscle cramp while doing his daily exercises.

Republican leader Hugh Scott told Griffin he should try his own formula for keeping fit — proper diet and mental gymnastics.

Man Enters Guilty Plea

Robert Jerry Barkley, 31, of Colorado City, pleaded guilty in Howard County Court this morning to driving while intoxicated and defrauding by worthless check.

Defrauding by worthless check charges here resulted in a $1 fine plus court costs and sentenced to 60 days in jail.

County Judge A. G. Mitchell fined Barkley $50 and sentenced him to three days in jail in connection with the driving while intoxicated complaint.

This is the second time Barkley has been convicted of driving while intoxicated in less than one year's time. Second offense driving while intoxicated is punishable as a felony.

Mitchell County Attorney Joe Earnest said an application to revoke probation set in connection with the other driving while intoxicated conviction has been filed in Mitchell County Court.

And warrants have been issued in Nolan County for the arrest of Barkley in connection with two counts of defrauding by worthless check.

Mitchell Delays COG Appearance

Judge A. G. Mitchell was invited to the board meeting of the Permian Basin Council of Governmentments at Terminal Wednesday.

The judge decided to wait until next month's meeting so that the county will be an official member at the time that he attends. The county judge is automatically a member of the board of directors of the organization.

Assistant Police Chief Stanley Bogard attended a committee meeting Thursday of law enforcement officers on the council. He said that local officers will receive valuable training through the council of government's programs.

Two Are Handed Prison Terms

Wednesday afternoon, District Judge R. W. Caton revoked probation of two men accused of subsequent offenses.

William Jack Martin, 18, Vincent Route, pleaded guilty to burglary and was sentenced to three years in prison. This sentence will run concurrently with a two year sentence set in connection with a previous burglary. District Attorney Roebert H. Moore III said.

Larry Charles Peterson, 21, of 504 N. Lancaster St. now faces a two to seven year sentence after his probation on a forgery conviction was revoked. Peterson was accused of carrying a prohibited weapon at the NCO Club at Webb Air Force Base Feb. 11.

Runnels Group Gains Honor

The Student Council at Runnels Junior High School was named "Most Outstanding Student Council" at the District 8 Spring Forum last Saturday in Midland.

Forum competition was based on a point system in which councils were awarded points for projects sponsored at the various junior highs participating.

Instrumental in earning the Runnels council the top award were three projects sponsored by the group during this school year.

The projects included one to better student-community relations, one to improve student-faculty relations and another to promote school spirit and pride.

Specific activities initiated by the Student Council included a school-wide fund drive to buy shoes for needy students, a faculty tricycle race to boost faculty spirit a Christmas door decoration contest and a paper-collecting campaign to benefit the high school Meistersingers.

Officers of the Student Council are Elma Jean Abreo, president; Lupe Rangel, vice president; and Nora Valles, secretary. The council includes about 30 homeroom representatives.

Sponsors are Lila Williams and Mrs. Carlene Barron.

POW Bracelet To Be Removed

Neel G. Barnaby is ready to take off his POW bracelet.

Yesterday he picked up The Herald and there on page one "my prayers and hopes of the last few years were answered."

This was in the form of a picture of Lt. Cmdr. John S. McCain III coming down the ramp of a plane bringing back the latest group of prisoners of war.

Barnaby (Cmdr. USN Ret.), had served under young McCain's father, later a chief of naval operations, in installing the naval base at Meridian, Miss., and knew the young officer in training there.

Barnaby said he planned to take off his POW bracelet with McCain's name on it, mail it to him with a couple copies of The Herald and a message: "Take better care of yourself."

 A shrewd diagnosis of the declarer's predicament enabled West to pin a defeat on South's four spade contract, by pressing home a lethal assault against which the latter had no effective counter-measure.

When West's opening bid of one heart was doubled by North for takeout, East took advantage of the cheap opportunity presented to show his seven card suit. South new entered the proceedings by jumping to three spades to designate a good hand.

Observe that his holding is worth 11 points, counting high cards and distribution and a mere call of two spades, even though it comes as a free bid, is apt to be passed, since he might have acted on 7 or 8 points just to take the pressure off his partner. North carried on to game, and it may be noted that he would have been hard pressed to find another call if South had bid only two spades.

West opened the king of hearts against four spades, and East followed with the eight as the beginning of an echo to show a doubleton. South realized that if he won the trick, West would put up the ace of spades when trumps were led and then give his partner a heart ruff.

In an attempt to disrupt his opponent's line of communications, declarer followed with the deuce of hearts, permitting West to hold the trick. Now it was the latter's turn to deliberate.

South was more or less marked with both of the missing aces to warrant his jump to three spades in response to North's double. Although a heart continuation would ostensibly present the declarer with a trick, West might still give his partner a ruff on the third round—provided that he made the correct lead at trick two.

West continued with the queen of hearts, not a small one, and South was in with the ace. A spade was led and West put up the ace to lead a third heart. East ruffed and returned a diamond. South played the deuce from his hand and West scored the setting trick with the king.

Observe that, if West had led a small heart at trick two, declarer could have put up North's jack and then discarded the ace of hearts on the ace of clubs. When West gets in with the ace of spades to lead a third heart, South is out of that suit himself and is in position to overruff East if necessary. He limits his losses to one spade, one heart and one diamond.

By continuing with the queen of hearts, West placed the lead in declarer's hand and, inasmuch as the latter had no quick entry to the dummy for a discard on the ace of clubs, he was unable to prevent the ruff.

COST OF LOVING UP

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A man testifying in Municipal Court here in the arrest of several women charged with prostitution said he complained to the federal Wage and Price Control Board last fall because the price of prostitutes went up from $25 to $35.

John M. Rothberg, 24, testified before Judge T. C. Little that he had gone to an apartment about 10 times to have sex relations. "When I first started going there, the price was $25," he said, "and Phase 2 notwithstanding, the price was raised from $25 to $35. I filed a complaint with the Wage and Price Board.

He testified that when he called the board, however, no one would take his name because "they thought I was kidding."

Environmental Suit Seeks To Block Building Of Dam

HOUSTON (AP) — An environmental lawsuit aimed at blocking construction of the proposed $54.7 million Palmetto Bend Reservoir near Edna has been submitted to the U.S. District Court clerk here.

The suit was being transferred to the district's Victoria division for formal filing. It was to be heard by U.S. District Court Judge Owen D. Cox of Corpus Christi.

GAMBLE

Submitted Wednesday, the suit contended that the Federal Bureau of Reclamation project is "a biological, environmental and economic gamble whose consequences or risks have yet to be ascertained by the defendants."

It requested a federal court injunction restraining the bureau from purchasing land, preparing the site, constructing or otherwise pursuing the project in Jackson County, about midway between Houston and Corpus Christi.

The suit was submitted by the Sierra Club, a national conservation group, and by the Palmetto Citizens Group of Edna and Wayne L. Legro, a Jackson County landowner and president of a Houston industrial supply company.

It named as defendants Secretary of the Interior Rogers C. B. Morton, commissioner Ellis L. Armstrong of the Bureau of Reclamation, James A. Bradley of Amarillo, bureau regional director, and the bureau's area planning officer, Norman Flagg of Austin.

FINANCE

Palmetto Bend, a two-stage project that would dam the Navidra River and later the Lavaca River, is designed to be a 13,700-acre reservoir for municipal and industrial water.

Backers say it would attract growth around the Matagorda industrial and population Bay area.

The project would be financed with Texas Water Development Board bonds and operated by the Lavaca-Navidad River Authority.

"TRAGEDY"

Texas Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong, after an environmental assessment of the project, concluded it was "totally unnecessary and should be abandoned." He said it would be a "tragedy" to the marine nursery areas of Matagorda Bay.

Social Services Suit Shaping

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Atty. Gen. John Hill has told a federal cabinet member the state may have to sue to recover funds owed it for social service payments.

In a letter to Health Education and Welfare Secretary Caspar Weinberger, Hill asked for a reversal of HEW's rejection of Texas' claim to $92.7 million.

Hill supported Texas Welfare Commissioner Raymond W. Vowell's claim that the money is owed to match state social service expenditures from July 1, 1971 to March 31, 1972.

"We are confident that you will preclude the necessity of litigation in this matter by a favorable decision to Texas," the attorney general said in his letter.

Flagg, identified in the suit as day-to-day director of the Palmetto Bend project, declined comment on the legal action.

He said about 2,000 acres of land already have been acquired for the project. Its first stage will require 18,400 acres.

The suit alleges the project violates eight federal laws, ranging from the Federal Reclamation Laws of 1902 to the Federal Water Pollution Control Act of 1972.

Baptists Rip Ethics Move

DALLAS (AP) — The executive board of the two million-member Baptist General Convention of Texas has charged the Texas House with "utter disregard for the will of the people" for its passage of a watered-down legislative ethics bill.

The 192-member board, which operates the convention between annual sessions, specifically criticized Tuesday an amendment by Rep. Fred Agnich of Dallas which substituted mostly confidential financial disclosure by state officials for the full disclosure provision in the original bill.

"The heart of effective ethics legislation is full and open financial disclosure. This was, for the most part, stripped from the bill by an amendment which made financial disclosure secret rather than open," the board said in a statement at its quarterly meeting here.

Jurors Start Inquiring Into Houston Steel Costs

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal grand jury was to return today for another day of testimony in what is expected to be a lengthy investigation of Houston area steel prices.

The probe began Wednesday and some 200 boxes of records from several firms were subpoenaed.

Executives of firms also were summoned. The companies included U.S. Steel, Armco, Bethlehem Steel, Lofland Steel, Texas Cold Steel, Confederated Steel Corp., Austin Steel Co., Whitlow Steel Co. and Schindler Bros. Steel.

Most of the companies are suppliers of reinforcing steel products.

Specific objectives of the investigation were not revealed but it was being headed by Wilford L. Whitley Jr. of the Justice Department's antitrust division.

Whitley was reluctant to answer any question. He did say the probe would be lengthy and he did not expect to need a special grand jury and that the newly impeached regular jury will be used.

Whitley said some of the subpoenaed firms might be complainant witnesses.

U.S. Atty. Anthony J. P. Farris, who is not actively engaged in the probe, said it began elsewhere but started its grand jury phase here after talks between the department and his office.

"Any release on a matter of this magnitude would have to come from Washington," Farris said.

A planned hearing today before U.S. District Court Judge Woodrow Seals on a request by Schindler Bros. to quash its subpoena was cancelled.

A copy of the grand jury subpoena attached to the motion showed that steel firms were being asked for bid and price records on reinforcing material from Jan. 1, 1967 to the present time.

Schindler had argued that the material filed 22 filing cabinets, was mingled with other documents and was needed for tax purposes.

Executives of the steel companies declined comment.

"Of course, I'm not completely in the dark," said one executive. "But I can't comment at this time, on the advice of my lawyer."

DIG THAT WOMAN—Alma Riley of Wichita Falls, 22-year-old divorcee, is shown working in a ditch with a utility crew for the Lone Star Gas Company. Shoveling mud may not be glamorous, but Alma applied for and got the job. "If I make it through the first six months, I'll go as far as I can," she says of her work as a trainee.

Shoveling Mud Is Her Game!!

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Alma Riley is believed the first woman in this part of Texas to work on a utility crew for Lone Star Gas Co.—and possibly is the first woman so employed by the company anywhere.

Shoveling mud may not be glamorous but Alma applied for and got the job.

"If I make it through the first six months, I'll go as far as I can," she says of her work as a trainee.

DIVORCED

Besides learning how to handle the business end of a shovel, Alma is learning to tap poly pipe, operate a mechanical digger and will learn how to weld poly pipe as well. She also paints with primer and tapes metal pipe for protection.

Since she began work Feb. 1, Mrs. Riley (she's 22, divorced and mother of a daughter, Mary Lynette, 16 months), has had only one day's work when she could shovel dry dirt. The rest of it has been heaving mud from around pipes. The mechanical digger does most of the work but has to be stopped short of the pipes' level. That earth is shoveled by hand and Alma's hands do their share.

Alma is no amazon. Under the long-johns and two pair of pants she wears on cold days, she's slender. Her hands are slim inside cotton twill work gloves and she wears such a small size in gum boots she had to hunt all over town to find a pair that fit.

'SHE'LL DO'

"I've seen parts of the city I didn't know existed," Alma says. She never knows when she reports in the morning where her crew will work.

A native of Lake Charles, La., Mrs. Riley was in the WAF for nearly two years and has lived in Wichita Falls since May. She attended a business school here for a short time but decided against office work because she preferred to be outdoors.

"I always was a tomboy," she says. She used to help her father work on his car in Lake Charles and sometimes went along with him when he did highway work. Her crew leader, Anastasio Perez, says of Alma's work: "She'll do." Although swinging a shovel in damp, cold weather isn't as comfortable as office work, Alma has no regrets. "I like the pay," she grins.

Nixonites Would Revise Broadcast Renewal Acts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Restructuring the broadcast industry through the renewal of Broadcast renewal policies of the Federal Communications Commission would be revised substantially under legislation proposed by the Nixon administration.

The White House proposal, announced Tuesday, would prohibit the FCC from setting categories, quotas, formats or guidelines for programming.

Licenses would be renewed for five years, instead of the present three years, and the present FCC requirement for an automatic hearing when a competing application is filed would be eliminated.

WILL LISTEN

Under the proposal, said Clay T. Whitehead, director of President Nixon's Office of Telecommunications Policy, the FCC would be precluded "from restructuring the broadcast industry through the renewal process." The OTP drafted the legislation.

Hearings on the legislation open today before the House Commerce Committee's communications subcommittee.

Subcommittee Chairman Torbert H. Macdonald said his panel will listen closely as witnesses discuss administration ideas on "how broadcasters should run their businesses." If the 1934 Communication Act's machinery, set up to provide a way to judge rival claims by radio and television license-holders and their challengers, "has become outdated, if not outrightly obsolete," said Macdonald, D-Mass., "then it is up to this committee to recommend changes."

'Star' Article Tells Of Rail Car Rescue Hobby

Dave Wallace, San Antonio, has been a railroad buff since his teenage days in Chicago, where he repaired steam engines and operated signal engines and controls to direct train traffic. When the old rail cars — forced into retirement by the advent of modern transportation systems — began retreating to the junkyards, Wallace seized the opportunity to combine business with pleasure and began overhauling discontinued units. In Sunday's Texas Star, Jan Cameron records the story of Wallace's pastime that has also been a profitable business. Since 1964, he has completed 24 restoration jobs, recycling old train cars into gift shops, restaurants, motels, offices and hunting lodges. Those helpful, though chattery, summer guests are returning to Texas this month. Hugh Williamson describes these summer residents whose favorite dwellings are the chimneys, in "Welcome Back! Jonathan Livingston Swift," featured in this week's edition of the Sunday magazine. The chimney swifts should be welcomed, explains Williamson, because without them "the atmosphere would consist mainly of insects."

Also in the Star, veteran newsman Stuart Long reports the historical sidelights of a gift by Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson to the state. Mrs. Johnson donated two trees with interesting stories to replace trees destroyed on the State Capitol grounds by a violent windstorm last August.

Steers Bow To Monterey

By JACK COWAN

For four innings Wednesday, the Big Spring Steers looked like major leaguers. It was the other four that killed them.

Defending state champion Lubbock Monterey broke loose in the late innings, overcoming an unusual rash of errors along the way, for a hard-earned 10-7 victory over the Steers.

The win gives the Plainsmen an 8-0 record, while the Big Springers fall to 3-4 as they head into their last action before opening Dist. 5-AAAA play Tuesday.

Coach Larry Horton's crew enters the Hereford Invitational Tournament Friday and Saturday, meeting the winner of the Hereford-Canyon game at 3 p.m. Friday.

A victory would put the Steers in Saturday's 3 p.m. finals, while a loss would put them in the consolation bracket for a 10:30 a.m. tilt.

Pampa, Borger, Dumas and Levelland round out the entry list.

Big Spring held a surprising 4-0 lead at the end of two innings, and after the visitors surged ahead in the sixth frame, the Steers tied the game in the bottom half of the frame at 7-7.

The Plainsmen scored the winning runs in the first overtime inning as Larry Horn, Glenn Yarborough and Tommy McIntyre stroked singles off losing pitcher Ricky Steen.

McIntyre was the winner, giving up just one hit in two and two-thirds innings.

Orlando Olague opened the game on the mound for Big Spring, and went four innings before the Plainsmen exploded.

Earl Reynolds doubled home Willie Williams and Jerry Knoepfel for the Steers' first runs of the game, and after Steen got a hit, Reynolds scored on a wild pitch to stake to hosts to a 3-0 first inning lead.

The Steers scored a run in the second inning after filling the bases, as Steen drew a walk to send Greg Crawford home.

Monterey got to Olague for four hits in the fourth inning as it tied the game, and it was a three-run homer off the bat of Rocky Alburts in the sixth that put the Plainsmen on top for the first time.

But there was a case of charity in the bottom half of the frame that kept the home folks alive, as the Steers scored three runs on two errors, three walks and a wild pitch — but no hits.

Steve Harr, who hurled 3 2/3 hitless innings, lost his control as Monterey lost the lead.

Crawford made it to first on an error, followed by a walk by Williams and another off the bat of Reynolds that filled the bases.

Steen and Olague drew back-to-back walks, then Reynolds scored on a wild pitch by Harr.

Monterey outhit the Steers 13-7, as five players collected a pair of hits.

For the Big Springers, Reynolds swatted two safeties, including a double, to lead the way.

Monterey outpitched the Steers 36 to 13 in 10 innings.

Monterey: Reynolds 2b, 2-3; Steen 3b, 1-2; Olague 1b, 1-2; Williams 2b, 1-2; Knoepfel 3b, 1-2; McIntyre 2b, 1-2; Alburts 1b, 1-2; Harr 3b, 1-2; Crawford 3b, 1-2; Steen 3b, 1-2.

Big Spring: Olague 1b, 1-2; Reynolds 1b, 1-2; Williams 2b, 1-2; Knoepfel 3b, 1-2; McIntyre 2b, 1-2; Alburts 1b, 1-2; Harr 3b, 1-2; Crawford 3b, 1-2; Steen 3b, 1-2.

IT WORKED—Big Spring's Earl Reynolds crosses the plate Wednesday with the Steers' third run of the first inning against Lubbock Monterey. The run came on a double steal, as Ricky Steen went from first to second and Reynolds came home during the action. Both runners were safe, but it didn't help much as the Plainsmen scored a 10-7 win over the Steers.

Coaches Split On Juco Ruling

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — Junior college coaches are sharply divided over whether their basketball programs will be hurt by the NCAA's new scholarship eligibility policy.

The question was put to the 16 coaches whose teams reached the National Junior College Athletic Association's tournament, now in progress here.

Seven said yes, recruiting would be more difficult, seven said no, and two said some, perhaps, but not much.

ABC RELAYS CANCELLED

The ABC Relays, called off last weekend because of bad weather, won't be rescheduled, Big Spring track coach Glenn Petty said today.

Petty said that conflicts with other meets and the difficulty in getting work personnel on Friday evening led to cancellation of the meet this year.

The event was scheduled to be run last Saturday morning and afternoon, but rains forced a postponement until the night at first, and then officials tried to move it to Snyder's all-weather track. However, poor weather conditions forced its cancellation there, also.

Aaron Sets Sights On Ruth's Record

By The Associated Press

Old-time baseball fans who were steadfast in their belief that Babe Ruth's hallowed record of 714 home runs would never be broken now must face reality—Hank Aaron will do it.

The 39-year-old Atlanta Braves slugger, needing only 41 homers to tie Ruth's long-standing record and 42 to break it, made it emphatically clear Wednesday that he was taking dead aim on the Babe's total—and if he reaches it this season, he will quit.

"If I should get extra lucky and hit 42 homers this season, I'm planning on quitting," he said. "But my real plan, which is more realistic, is to hit at least 42 in two seasons."

Aaron, with a career total of 673 homers, including 34 last season, said his goal this year is 35 homers. That would leave him six short of Ruth's record, and make the buildup overwhelming for the 1974 campaign.

Aaron didn't hit any homers Wednesday as the winless Braves lost their fifth exhibition game, 4-3 to the Chicago White Sox. Tony Muser led the White Sox with three runs batted in, including two with a double during a three-run first inning.

Meanwhile, rookie outfielder Al Bumbry had three hits, including a run-scoring double and a game-winning single, helping the Baltimore Orioles edge the Minnesota Twins 4-3. Bumbry also drew a walk, stole a base and threw out a Minnesota runner at the plate.

Veteran Jim Lyttle, fighting for a berth on the Kansas City roster, improved his chances

Jaycees' Volleyball Play Opens Today

Twenty-four men's and women's volleyball teams will gather tonight for the four-day Second Annual Coahoma-Sand Springs Jaycees Volleyball Tournament at Howard County Gym.

Action gets under way tonight at 7 p.m. when the Hustlers and Muffler take on Bob Brock in the women's opener, followed by six more games.

Friday's first round men's play pits Permian Tire against Dickinson at 7 p.m., Pancho's takes on Jal, N.M., at 8 p.m., and the Odessa Men and Big Spring Jaycees clash at 10:30 p.m.

In the women's bracket, play will open at 1 p.m. with square off at 6:30 p.m., and play, and competition runs through the 4:30 p.m. championship game in the men's bracket. The women's title game is set for 4 p.m.

No admission fee will be charged to the tourney.

Tohill Remains Critical In Fort Worth Hospital

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — U.S. 81 intersection. Police said Doctors said Billy Tohill, Texas Christian University's head football coach, remained in grave condition today from head and internal injuries suffered in an auto accident.

He underwent lengthy surgery before being moved Wednesday evening to the intensive care unit in John Peter Smith Hospital.

Tohill, 33, was involved in the one-car accident about 6:30 a.m. Wednesday while apparently en route to pick up film shot during a scrimmage the day before.

Witnesses reported his south-bound vehicle hit a concrete curb and bounced to the right just north of the Loop 820 and

Arizona State Tries Mighty UCLA Tonight

By The Associated Press
The UCLA Bruins, a team with the strongest finishing kick the last six years, jump into the playoff pool tonight to begin defense of their NCAA basketball title.

Not only do the awesome Bruins have tradition going for them—but also the home court advantage.

"I hope that Arizona State, the University of San Francisco and Long Beach are very aware of it," says UCLA Coach John Wooden. "I want all their players to read it and think about the fact that we're playing in Pauley Pavilion."

The top-ranked Bruins have not only been unbeatable at home, though—they've also been perfect on the road. Their record 71 straight victories is the talk of college basketball. So is the fact that they've won the NCAA title six straight times.

"Arizona State has a chance but I won't bet on 'em," said Long Beach State Coach Jerry Tarkanian about UCLA's opponent in the West Regional semifinal test.

TAKE THAT—Sam Houston State's Floyd Allen, on his way down with a rebound, plants a foot in the midsection of Xavier University's James Williams and is charged with a foul on the play. The action was in the second round NAIA tournament game in Kansas City Wednesday. Xavier won, 67-70.

BEARKATS FALL IN NAIA Xavier Stuns Sam Houston

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Xavier of Louisiana, unranked and ungraded, has proved one of the most potent giant killers in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics basketball tournament in recent years. The Gold Rush, led by Bruce Seals, rose up Wednesday night and struck down top-seeded and previously unbeaten Sam Houston State, the nation's No. 1-ranked small college club, 67-60.

Tonight Xavier, 21-5, has opportunity to turn giant killer again as the Gold Rush collides with the No. 8 seed, Maryland Eastern Shore, 24-2, in the quarterfinals.

Sam Houston's defeat left only three seeded teams in the six-day meet. The others, in addition to Eastern Shore, are No. 2 Augustana, Ill., and No. 2 Wisconsin Green Bay.

Other quarterfinal pairings: Slipper Rock, Pa., 22-5, vs. Wisconsin Green Bay, 28-3. Guilford, N.C., 26-5, vs. Westmont, Calif., 25-5.

Augustana, 27-1, vs. Oklahoma Baptist, 19-11. Second-seeded Augusta, with its ability to win the close ones, moved into the favorite's role to win this 36th annual NAIA dribble derby, although the Vikings and the other remaining clubs still must reckon with Xavier.

The Vikings advanced by nudging Defiance of Ohio, 64-61. Green Bay downed South Carolina State 72-55 and Eastern Shore disposed of Ferris, Mich. State 95-90.

Wednesday's other games saw Slippery Rock bomb Quinnipiac, Conn., 104-75; Guilford whip Valdosta, Ga. State 98-81; Westmont Clobber Missouri Baptist surprise Winona, Minn., State 82-72.

Seals, Xavier's sophomore sensation, masterminded the downfall of the proud Bearkats from Texas. He connected for 32 points, hitting on 14 of 24 from the floor, and had 10 rebounds.

"We were flat," said Archie Porter, the Sam Houston coach. "F-I-A-T. We obviously were not mentally ready. Xavier brought the game to us. They played tough."

A howling overflow crowd of 10,500 watched the Bearkats, 28-1, jump ahead 7-0 and Xavier strike back to gain a 32-31 halftime lead. Sam Houston forged out front 43-39 with 13 minutes and 37 seconds left.

Gregory Bernard put the Gold Rush ahead for good with two free throws with 6:44 to go. Soon thereafter, Seals unloaded three consecutive baskets. After that it was all Xavier.

Steer JVs Topple SA

SAN ANGELO — The Big Spring junior varsity baseball team rallied for three runs in the last inning Wednesday for a 7-6 decision over San Angelo.

Sammy Rodriguez sacrificed home a run and Ricky Darrow doubled to push across two more in the final frame as the Steer JVs pushed their season record to 3-2. John Morellon, the winning pitcher, also got a hit. Kit Grice walked and Billy Don Whittington got on by an error.

Morellon struck out six batters and walked seven in going the full five-inning game. He collected two hits, along with Rodriguez, to spark the Steers at the plate.

'Sex Lessons' Prove Costly

IGLESIAS, Sardinia (AP) — A local court sentenced Emma Gallozzi, a 50-year-old housewife in this mining town of southwestern Sardinia, to 25 months in prison for giving "sex lessons" to teen-agers in exchange for oranges. Police arrested Mrs. Gallozzi in November after farmers complained that small quantities of oranges were being plundered from their groves each night. The farmers told police they believed the looters were young boys. Police questioned five boys and reported they said a few oranges were the price the housewife asked for participating in the lessons. Otherwise they said, they had to pay a fee of 100 lire — 17 cents — for each class.

Rids Open Cars

ESSEN, Germany (AP) — The scoop arm of a steam shovel swung into the path of a passing train today, ripping open the side of two passenger cars, the federal railway office said. It reported one person was killed and 24 others injured.

NEW USE FOR OLD LANDMARK—These days barns are converted into houses, mansions are remodeled into apartment buildings and this old outhouse has been made over into a shelter at a school bus stop. Old building was moved from backyard of property of Lester H. Soltys, Spring City, Pa., and shelters children of neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. James Moore. Youngsters are, from left, Belinda, 10; James, 7; and Sheila, 12, waiting for approach of bus.

Garnishment Laws Challenge

DALLAS (AP) — A class action suit challenging Texas garnishment laws was on file here today, brought by a suburban Farmers Branch couple who claimed their checks bounced, their credit rating was shot and their jobs were jeopardized.

James R. and Myrna S. Pierce claimed in the petition they were denied due process of law when their $418 bank account was garnished, without notice, by Texas Consumers Finance Corp.

In addition, the suit also claims garnishment of their bank account denied their three children "a full and adequate Christmas."

The couple asks $100,000 in damages and a three-judge federal panel to review the case.

Under Texas law, a creditor may freeze a debtor's bank account without notice until the debt is paid. Creditors may not garnish wages in Texas.

GO-SLOW TACTICS Britain Faces Threat Of Industrial Chaos

LONDON (AP) — Britain faced the threat of industrial chaos as railroad engineers, civil servants and hospital workers continued wildcat strikes and go-slow tactics today.

Prime Minister Edward Heath called a Cabinet meeting to discuss the worsening situation.

The British Railways Board announced that 2,000 trains had to be canceled in the southern region alone.

The rift between the government and the Trades Union Congress over the government's pay freeze was widening. The congress was reported ready to back the protesting unions with financial support and perhaps call a one-day national strike.

The government seemed determined to stand fast and apparently was getting public support for its anti-inflation program.

The union-backed opposition Labor party had lost ground to Heath's Conservatives in the last month, according to a poll undertaken on behalf of the Daily Telegraph newspaper.

As thousands tried to get to work in London this morning, railway engineers were giving all sorts of reasons not to man their trains. In one instance they walked out because their engines had no speedometers, although for years suburban commuter trains never had them. Others just left their trains standing to attend meetings.

Gas supplies were shut off from 3,250 factories, 1,685 schools and 4.2 million homes throughout the country. About 20,000 waterworks employees threatened to join the gas workers if their pay claims aren't considered.

More than 1,000 customs and excise officers were on strike at airport and ports.

Mafia Strikes?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The police report on James N. Allen's admission to the hospital for treatment of second-degree burns said he had been assaulted—with a bowl of hot spaghetti.

Allen said Wednesday he was sleeping in his apartment when a woman dumped the spaghetti on him. There have been no arrests.

Mrs. Russell, attired in a beige knit A-line dress with beige patent accessories, will be presented a corsage of yellow rosebuds.

Members of the house party will be Mrs. Horace Tubb, Mrs. Jimmy Epler and Miss Brenda Webb.

Old Flame Burns

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Ten years ago, when I was a single man, I was doing some work in the home of a very attractive woman. (Painting and decorating.) She was very friendly and always went around in a thin robe and nothing underneath. Over coffee one morning she told me how unhappy she was (sexually) with her husband. It turned out we had an affair which lasted about two months in the afternoons when her husband was working and her kids were in school. It was no big love affair, it was just fun for both of us and I never saw her again.

I made the big mistake of bragging about it to a few of her neighbors, and one of them must have told her husband after all these years because he tracked me down and called up my wife and told her everything. Now my wife is giving me a hard time, even though we weren't married (but were going together) when all this took place.

Maybe it's a coincidence, but last week two strange men jumped me and gave me a terrible beating.

Abby, I can't understand why this man would want to make my life so miserable for something that happened ten years ago. Can you? CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: Either he just found out about it — or just found YOU. There are some valuable lessons to be learned here. Men who work around women should keep their minds on their work. And those who don't should keep their mouths shut.

DEAR ABBY: When I give a dinner party I do as much as possible in advance because I have no help and I like to spend the cocktail hour with my guests.

What gets me is the well-meaning guest who surprises me with something for my dinner to "help out." It is invariably something which requires a lot of fooling with, like a mold for which I have to hunt up a suitable serving platter, and then unmoil it, or a loaf of unsliced French bread from which I am supposed to make garlic bread. I hate to sound like an ingrate but please, Abby, tell these people who are thoughtlessly thoughtful that if they want to bring something to please bring it ready to serve.

BOLLOXED IN BOTHELL
DEAR BOLLOXED: Will do. And that includes sweet corn, husks and all, freshly picked from "our" garden. Or worse yet, home grown spinach.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter was seriously ill with tuberculosis when she was 17 years old. She made a complete recovery and thank God, she is a healthy girl now. Her boy friend stood by her and loves her all the more, but his mother is trying to break them up. She insists that once a person has tuberculosis they are never cured.

These two young people are very much in love and plan to marry one day, but the boy's mother is giving them a hard time.

My daughter's doctor told me that she was cured. How can I get this message across to that boy's mother?

GRATEFUL MOM
DEAR MOM: I suppose you could have the doctor put it in writing. If the boy's mother wants to break up the romance she will have to come up with another excuse. The one she is using isn't valid.

DEAR ABBY: What does a normal, healthy 34-year-old male with a wife and family say to his parents when they send him a PURSE as a gift, with the excuse that it is a very useful man's item in a country they just visited? Sign me NUT A GAY LIBBER

DEAR NOT: If he is indeed a "normal, healthy 34-year-old male" etc. he says, "Thanks."

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700 Los Angeles, Calif., 90069.

Dawson's Food Show Set Friday

The Dawson County Food Show will be held Friday at 7 p.m. in the Forrest Park Community Center.

Competition will be divided into junior and senior levels; each with four food classes. These include bread and dessert, fruit and vegetable, snack and beverage and a main dish.

"Food preparation skills and nutrition knowledge are two primary goals of the boys and girls who enter this contest," said Mrs. Mildred Crump, Dawson County extension agent, "but the ultimate goal is leadership development."

The four senior and four junior winners will compete in the District 2 Food Show to be held at Texas Tech, May 24. The senior district winners will compete in the State 4-H Roundup at College Station in June.

Menus and recipes will be scored prior to the contest, and each contestant should have them in Extension Office no later than noon Friday. These will count 25 per cent of total score.

Eighty-eight 4-H'ers, 24 boys and 64 girls, are eligible to participate, having carried food educational project this year.

Twenty-seven trained adult leaders, who have assisted with food groups in five 4-H clubs, will assist with the county food show.

They Team Up For Home Improvements

By BARBARA LORD
After 13 years in their home at 3228 Drexel, Mr. and Mrs. William (Bo) Bokelman might have a hard time recalling the details of what the home first looked like. They are its original owners, but the house barely resembles its original floor plan.

What was a garage, was first converted into a bedroom and small den, and is now an extension of the living room. The living room wall has been moved back a few feet. The inclined back yard has been leveled and a swimming pool installed. And more recently, a wall between two bedrooms has been removed to make a large "master" bedroom which Bokelman is currently working on.

The Bokelmans also installed a large, brick-enclosed fireplace in the living room, cut a see-through nook in the wall between the kitchen and living room, and have added paneling, flooring and outdoor landscape improvements.

"Most of the changes have been family projects," said Mrs. Bokelman. "Particularly, the swimming pool. We all helped level the lawn, and have all hauled cement around."

Assistance with the projects over the years has been provided by the couple's four children. Only Russell, 12, still resides at home. The others are Charles, who lives with his wife in College Station while he attends Texas A&M; Mrs. Mackie Edmiston, and Greg who is stationed with the Army at Ft. Polk, La. They also have one grandson, Christopher, 7 months. Bokelman works as a jet engine technician at Webb Air Force Base.

"When all of the children were home, we needed four bedrooms," said Mrs. Bokelman, "but as they left we started knocking out walls. Actually, my biggest responsibility is walking around behind Bo and cleaning up, and that's a full-time job."

Mrs. Bokelman has decorated their home in a moderate Spanish decor which she said wasn't really planned, but the couple's frequent trips to Juarez, Mexico reaped many pretty Spanish items.

"We like to be able to go when we want to," said Mrs. Bokelman. "That's why I've never let myself get involved with clubs and playing bridge. We may jump in the car and cover 400 miles just running around during a day."

When she had three children under five years' of age, Mrs. Bokelman said she never had time for many outside activities.

"My friends didn't even want to see me coming if I had the kids with me. Now that they've grown, I'm just as happy staying home and helping Bo or working in the yard." She has converted the back yard into a wonderland of color with flowers, hanging plants and decorative items. Peach, apple and plum trees add to the atmosphere, and the covered patio is a perfect place for a relaxed summer meal.

Mrs. Bokelman jokingly claims that her favorite meal is the one where she sits on the patio with a glass of wine while her husband prepares something on the grill. Actually, however, she is an experienced cook whose biggest problem is cooking for three people rather than for the six she was used to.

"I'd still rather cook for a large group than a small one," said Mrs. Bokelman. "I had all the recipes in my head, and now I have to follow new ones or concentrate on cutting them down. It's a mix-and-match process. I just cook to suit us."

Baking is her favorite part of meal preparation, although a pie that used to last for one meal, now stays around for two or three days. She likes to make hot rolls, pies and cakes.

Mrs. Bokelman was born in Abilene and reared in Big Spring. Her husband, a Columbus, Neb. native, first came to Big Spring when he was stationed here with the Air Force. He received his applied arts degree from Howard County Junior College through four years of night courses while he maintained a full-time job. The family attends Trinity Lutheran Church.

Salads, Soda Bread For St. Pat's Feast

Salads are just the kind of dishes that fit in, whatever the occasion. By varying ingredients and portions you can serve them either as side dishes or main dishes for any meal.

St. Patrick's Day is a fine time to enjoy a hearty salad glowing with Irish green. Fresh spinach is the main ingredient in Grapefruit Luncheon Salad, teamed with freshly sectioned Florida grapefruit, lettuce, cubed ham and fresh mushroom slices. And over the top goes a piquant Grapefruit Dressing, made with Florida grapefruit juice and salad oil accented with herbs and spices. This flavorful dressing gives the perfect lively lift to Grapefruit Luncheon Salad.

Orange Shamrock Salad is another dish you'll want to try. It's a mixture of watercress, orange sections, cubed avocado (choose a ripe one) and shrimp. So festive looking, it combines favorite delicacies into a dish perfect for a holiday.

Encouraging Ex-Beginning

The Legislature's courtesy in arranging a joint session to hear the governor's executive budget proposals on very short notice is a refreshing performance in Austin. It indicates, at least, a tendency to cooperate in the biennial budget battle to meet state requirements.

Gov. Briscoe's version of the budget is $91.6 million below the Legislative Budget Bureau's version. The bureau had already cut $600 million out of agency requests. There will be adjustments, of course. The bill for public education is subject to substantial change. Welfare may wind up with more than has been listed in either budget proposal.

Federal help remains a question on several of the important budget items.

The $300 million "surplus" the governor has earmarked may turn out to be one of the most-optimistic set-a-sides of the year. But it's a great beginning.

First, the prospects for a good start on the two-year spending program has been made. Second, if the projections are sound, there's enough money to go around.

For the first time in a long time it is realistic to assume that the money will do the job — as it looks at the moment.

The governor's projection increases spending totals by $391 million over current spending levels. That, coupled with the proposed surplus, means he anticipates $691 million in new money without new taxes. That is because the sales tax, primarily, performs so well, particularly with the hefty boost from inflation.

The sales tax was tailored to grow with the economy, or inflation, or both. The fact that the income from taxes has increased faster than inflation is good news for Texas taxpayers. It should be understood that legislators will eventually write the budget and that the various agencies have their people in the Capitol trying to justify restoration of some of the $600 million-plus that has been pared from departmental requests.

Everybody is for economy. Now they get down to the business of squaring cuts with requirements. The beginning is in a constructive atmosphere.

... Except For The Gander

It is difficult to understand or maybe it isn't — why members of the legislature seemingly believe in a code of conduct of ethics applicable to everyone, except, of course, the members of the legislature.

Solons, who have a fair record of pushing through reforms proposed by Price Daniel Jr., speaker of the House, balked when it came to financial disclosures which would include the solons. It was good medicine for all state employees, or those making $10,000 and above, but for those who are responsible for casting votes on laws under which officials will function apparently feel they are above this disclosure. Sauce for the goose is not sauce for the gander.

Moonlighters

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — In all the hearings on protecting newspapermen's sources, no one has mentioned that one of the major reasons the government and defense lawyers are subpoenaing notebooks, tapes and film is that it saves them a lot of money they otherwise would have to spend doing their own investigative work.

THE TRUTH of the matter is newspapermen are a great source of information for lawyers and, thanks to recent court rulings, they may now be used to provide evidence in any kind of a court case.

If journalists are expected to moonlight for Justice Department lawyers as well as district attorneys and defense lawyers, then they should be paid for it.

TO HEAR them tell it, newspapermen consider themselves grossly underpaid, and there isn't one of them who wouldn't be willing to earn a few extra bucks even if it meant working for the government or the legal profession on the side.

So rather than fight the subpoena mania that exists in the United States, I think journalists should not only encourage it but charge for their services.

IN THE case of the federal government, I believe all newspapermen could be sworn in as deputy federal marshals and be paid $22,500 a year. Then any time the Justice Department wanted any information from one of them, it could just call up and say, "Marshal Jack Anderson, would you please bring in your notebooks for last week."

The beauty of this arrangement is that while newspapermen were doing investigative work for the government, the Justice Department could release hundreds of FBI agents to work on the Watergate case.

COUNTY AND city district attorneys might not be able to pay newspapermen on a yearly basis, but something could be worked out on piece rates. If it got too profitable, the newspaper publishers might demand some of the action.

An appearance before a grand jury might be worth $750, and if the newspaperman's source is convicted he would be entitled to a bonus of $250.

Strangely enough, the area where newspapermen are becoming more in demand as witnesses is in civil suits. This is where the big money is, and I believe any newspaperman who helps a lawyer in a civil suit should receive 25 per cent of the attorney's fee.

Making newspapermen a branch of the legal profession in this country would be the greatest contribution to giving them the financial security they all desire. The writers of the Constitution never spelled it out, but I like to think that's what they had in mind when they wrote the First Amendment.

Chiseled In Stone

By Rowland Evans
And Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — The Nixon administration facade of deep puzzlement over Hanoi's continuing violations of the Jan. 27 peace agreement shrouds growing anger that could soon bring violent U.S. counteraction.

THE COUNTERACTION would almost certainly include air attacks deep inside North Vietnam — possibly at supply depots near the Ho Chi Minh Trail, possibly inside Hanoi itself.

No decisions have yet been taken for this reason: President Nixon's advisers are not certain whether some 20,000 North Vietnamese troops and an estimated 300 tanks and other military equipment now moving south, in direct violation of article 7 of the peace agreement, really mean what they seem to mean.

THAT IS, hard evidence is still lacking that the Hanoi politburo is setting the stage for a major offensive against South Vietnam and not simply "replacing" equipment claimed to have been destroyed since Jan. 27.

The Jan. 27 agreement — signed by the Communist Vietcong, Saigon, the U.S. and Hanoi — committed the Vietcong and Saigon to "not accept the introduction of troops . . . armaments, munitions, and war material into South Vietnam" except to replace destroyed or "worn out" equipment.

SAIGON'S OWN forces have destroyed nothing like 300 enemy tanks in the seven weeks since the Paris agreement was signed. Nevertheless, the Nixon administration concedes privately that Saigon itself has been guilty of many violations. Further, some officials feel that the heavy infiltration now taking place might be explained as an effort by Hanoi to get even for the huge amounts of U.S. equipment delivered in Saigon in November and December.

Moreover, the apparent Communist decision to dismantle new SAM-2 anti-aircraft sites at Khesanh, the once embattled U.S. Marine outpost in northwestern Vietnam now under Hanoi's control, proves Hanoi can change its mind under pressure.

INDEED, THE White House intention recalls those earlier crises that led to the invasion of Cambodia and Laos and to the May 8, 1972, decision to mine Haiphong harbor.

That means President Nixon will not hesitate to use maximum air power to try to force Hanoi to live close to the letter of the Jan. 27 agreement. No decision is expected until the end of March. Even if infiltration continues, military experts believe no major offensive is possible until next fall. The reason: murderous losses suffered by Hanoi during the heavy offensive last spring and summer, which ended in nearly total failure.

IF HANOI has really decided to test Mr. Nixon's fiber, junk the Jan. 27 agreement and attempt a final military solution against Saigon, the war is certain to be far more difficult even than last December's (during which record numbers of B-52 bombers were shot down). In these past seven weeks, air defenses have been tightened throughout North Vietnam. Moreover, clusters of SAM-2 anti-aircraft missiles may well be ready for installation at many strategic places in the northern part of South Vietnam previously far off limits to the Communists.

IN SHORT, President Nixon is fully prepared to show that, when he promised he would achieve an "honorable" end of the war, he meant "honorable" — not a fig-leaf settlement to cover the release of American POWs. That is the presidential mood today, and it is a mood that seems chiseled in hard stone.

Old Swinging Door

Around The Rim

Marj Carpenter

Back in the days of the big newspaper fight between two Pecos newspapers in the early 60's, they literally fought about everything. This even included trying to win the trophy for the best business float in the big rodeo parade. The Pecos Independent had won that trophy for several years with Old West floats. And we were planning to win it again in 1962.

WE WERE HAPPILY building a saloon, complete with swinging door for the occasion. We heard that the Billie Sol Estes paper was building a secret float in a locked warehouse. We built ours in the driveway of our publisher because the float simply did not tell the whole tale. We just went on building our saloon.

The good old small town grapevine told us that since we were building a saloon scene, their's was going to tell of early west religion to make us look like the bad guys. We went on building our saloon. The day of the big parade came just three months after all the national notoriety that the Estes story in the Pecos Independent had brought to Pecos.

We dressed a young proofreader up in a red can can dress and sat her on the piano. We had a six-shooter fight in progress and a dead Indian on the floor. This reporter was dressed in old ragged western clothes and an old cowhand hat and played honky tonk tunes on the piano. We laid the microphone down inside the old upright piano and managed a real tiny player-piano type sound. We had mugs of beer that were really iced tea and shaving cream foam. We hooped and hollered and sang songs of the "eighties" all the way up the street.

AND THE FINISHING touches were the signs on each side that said, "Don't pay any attention to them. They're just trying to get their names in the Pecos Independent."

Now the judges were area news reporters from the television stations and we knew we had it won by the way they were laughing when we went singing and yelling past the judge's stand.

By the time the Estes entry, secret to the end, came up the street, it was all over.

They sat beneath a brush arbor like in the old Cowboy Camp Meetings. I had nothing against camp meetings. I think everybody ought to try to attend at least one of the Boys Camp meetings. All of us on that saloon float really were church members.

BUT BY THE time the rival float came singing up the street. "We Shall Gather At The River," it was all over.

The devil and the saloon tunes and the old west action had won the trophy — even though consecutive years to keep it.

A Last Straw?

William F. Buckley Jr.

It is increasingly difficult to work up public indignation over outrage, as long as it is committed by a labor union. In the past few years in New York City labor unions have closed down newspapers and killed off three of them. Labor unions have shut down the ships at sea, closing off passenger and freight traffic. Labor unions have grounded the airlines, or most of them, leaving passengers the option of flying either to Toronto or to Detroit, but nowhere else.

THE LABOR unions have shut down the schools, all the schools, in violation of the laws which it is the supposed purpose of the schools to preach obedience to. The labor unions have shut down public transportation, causing something very like a closing of the entire city. The labor unions inflicted on the independent operators who declined to join in the strike.

New York's severest retaliation against these strikes, some of them illegal, others merely convulsive, economically, socially, and culturally, was 15 days in jail during the Christmas holidays for Mr. Albert Shanker, the leader of the teachers' union, during which he is said to have run out of tea and crumpets on the third day, resulting in a loss of weight of three and one-half ounces.

I REMEMBER some years ago arriving at a television station and meeting at the elevator Prof. John Kenneth Galbraith, all six feet five of that eminent intelligence, who always gives the impression that he is on very temporary leave of absence from Olympus. We met Billy Rose, the impresario, rich, famous, a little cranky, and (if my memory serves) Dick Gregory, the amiable but extremely touchy Negro comedian. It was opening night for a new talk show hosted by David Susskind, and the gimmick was a Sony-sized television, set on a swivel, which would face whichever member of the panel the questioner, who spoke from a half mile away at Grand Central Station, was addressing his question to.

"NOW, GENTLEMEN," Mr. Susskind explained, "there has been a jurisdictional question between the unions here as to which union has the responsibility for turning the knob at the control booth which swivels the television set toward the guest being questioned. So when a question is asked, the person the question is directed to should get up from his chair and run quickly toward the chair opposite the television, exchanging places with whoever was sitting there."

TO THIS day, I cannot believe it! I dimly remember an evening spent jumping up from my chair and passing Mr. Galbraith running at sprint speed from his chair to occupy mine, diving into the empty chair, panting, and attempting a suave answer to the lady or the gentlemen from Grand Central Station who little knew what heroic physical exertions were involved in situating the guest in front of the little screen.

I do solemnly believe that if the Queen of England had asked Mr. Galbraith or Mr. Rose or Mr. Gregory or myself to make such asses of ourselves in order to indulge her imperial pleasure, we'd everyone of us have said, "Madam, go jump in the royal lake." But not so the labor unions. You treat them as fatality as a fog, a drought, a hurricane.

THE OTHER day a colleague of mine, a lady of bright disposition and middle years, went to her garage to fetch her car — only to find the garage door closed and her car interred inside. A strike. She asked the doorman of the apartment building, in which she is part owner, to raise the garage door, but he informed her that the striking garage attendants removed the sparkplugs from the machine that hoists the doors, so that there is no feasible way to lift them.

Moment Of Grandeur

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Things that make life worth living:

Celebrating your fifth birthday with your best girl in an old-fashioned penny candy store with 25 cents in your pocket and the whole afternoon free to spend it.

Having your biggest rival in kindergarten come down with the mumps.

Sunlight bediamonding a wave-rippled lake.

Peeling the dry skin off a healed sunburn.

The taste of onions in anything.

Proving to your beaming mother you now know the alphabet well enough to look up any word in the dictionary she can think of. "Go ahead, try me on any word, Mom. Do you want me to start with dog or cat?"

Pitching pennies to a wall in the schoolyard, because nothing made the principal madder.

Soaping the windows of the neighborhood grouch on Hal-looey.

One-putting the 18th hole to break 100 on a golf course for the first time.

The feel of soap and hot water after two weeks up front with combat troops.

Digging a cave in the back yard and wondering how long it would take if you dug clear through to China.

Feeling a girl blow her breath in your ear at a high school dance. Am I making this up? Could this be happening to me?

Pushing your baby sister in a carriage and getting pretty proud when all the girls in the block run up and say she looks just like you.

The affection in a father's hands when he tosses you up and catches you after pretending he's going to let you fall.

Listening to a minister tell you and your bride-to-be what each can expect from the other in a happy marriage.

Awakening safe in your own bed the morning after you return from a foreign war, cheered by the bird sounds and familiar street screeches of peace and home.

Noticing at 16 that the cuffs of the pants you bought last year are much higher above your ankles this year. You may not wind up the runt of the litter after all.

Scrambling exultantly back downhill after climbing the tallest peak in Colorado.

The lasting scent of the first gardenia corsage you ever gave to a girl who deserved to wear it.

Spending endless hours selecting a name for the first baby, and flipping a coin to see what to call all the others.

Unexpectedly at 60 finding the Deity in many more places than you recognized Him at 17.

Of such small moments and portents are our long lives made.

Itching In The Elderly

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 78 and for the last several months I have had this awful itching problem, first one place and then another, head, hands, back or feet. What bothers me most is the awful itching around the genital area when I'm trying to sleep.

I have tried many different salves and powders. Could it be I'm lacking in a certain vitamin, or estrogen? — Mrs. S.P.

Itching can be an aggravating problem as the years advance — some other folks are bothered very much, others very little. It's a bit unpredictable.

The big change that comes with age is that the sweat and oil glands in the skin decrease in activity, and the skin becomes dry.

Salves and powders can add to the dryness — and the irritation — rather than helping. So can bathing too much, — as they can remove some of the oil which still remains in the skin. So don't bathe too often; use a bland soap, rinse well to remove any remaining soap.

An ordinary bath oil — most any of the bath oils the drug store has — very often will work wonders. While you have mentioned "salves and powders," you make no mention of bath oil, so I most decidedly recommend that you try it. You can use it either in the tub or, as has been recommended before, rub it on AFTER the bath to soften the skin and retain in the skin some of the moisture from your bath.

As for the genital itching, a void "feminine" sprays, medicated soaps, and tight-fitting undergarments.

You inquire about lack of vitamins and estrogen (female hormone). Both can, indeed, be factors also. It is quite common for oldersters to eat less than they used to, and particularly they sometimes cut down too much on their protein foods (lean meat, fish, dairy products). As a result their vitamin intake can be diminished. A mixed vitamin capsule, containing A, B and C, once a day is wise.

Decreased amounts of estrogen in your system also can be important, and your doctor may be able to give you some substantial relief by giving you estrogen, either by mouth or as a cream to relieve the vaginal itching.

You may find that trying just one of the above suggestions won't bring you the relief you want (and need) but making use of all of them will.

Diverticulosis is a bulge in the digestive tract. To become more familiar with the subject, write for Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Don't Let Diverticulosis Throw You," enclosing a long, self-addressed, use zip code, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

MY ANSWER

Billy Graham

I try to live as close as possible to Christ, but I have a problem — prayer. I just can't seem to concentrate when I pray. My mind wanders, and I sometimes fall asleep right in the middle of the prayer. I love God and I want so much to communicate with Him. Is there something the matter with me, or is the devil just giving me a rough time?

J.B. Let's take your last question first. It's a matter of Bible record that the devil has the sabotaging of your spiritual life as one of his goals. See what the Lord said to Peter in Luke 22:31. I think whenever we are successful spiritually, it is because God has bared His mighty arm in our behalf, and overcome Satan's attacks. The path of the mature Christian is never free of turbulence; it's a series of battles where the ultimate victor is Christ.

A Devotion For Today . . .

"You have been going about this mountain country long enough." (Deuteronomy 2:2, RSV)
PRAYER: Thou God of great causes, call us to venture into new, thrilling experiences in the Christian life. Keep us from living on a treadmill, getting nowhere. Help us to not lose sight of promised lands. We pray in the name of Christ. Amen.

DENOUNCES INDIAN TACTICS — Richard Wilson, Oglala tribal president, has denounced the American Indian Movement's tactics at Wounded Knee and has called for Federal marshals to defend the Bureau of Indian Affairs Building. On Feb. 23, the fourth attempt in 11 months to impeach Wilson failed.

Blizzard, Food Woes Stall Talks

WOUNDED KNEE, S.D. — Negotiations stalled by a severe blizzard were to resume today between the federal government and an occupation force of Indians reportedly running low on supplies.

The Indians say that neither the cold weather nor the food rationing they initiated Wednesday would force them out.

"I'd say we could last three days on the food we have," said Dennis Banks, a leader of the Indian group that took over Wounded Knee 16 days ago. "Each person will have one meal a day."

Another Indian leader, Russell Means, said the need for medicine, including insulin for diabetics, was "critical."

But, Banks said, "The blizzard and the conditions it's causing make us more determined to fight it out. We're used to this. That's why we think we'll win."

Justice Department spokesman Jack Hushen said National Council of Churches observers at Wounded Knee would be permitted to take food, fuel and medical supplies to the encamped Indians.

Banks and Means said no supplies reached the village Wednesday, and charged that the government officials had held up the deliveries.

In Sioux Falls, a federal grand jury on Wednesday indicted 31 persons on charges stemming from the takeover. The charges included burglary, larceny, conspiracy and civil disorder.

U.S. Attorney William Clayton said the indictments were sealed and the names of the defendants would not be released until warrants were served.

He also said the grand jury will resume its probe on Monday.

Rail Terminal Sold In Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Directors of the Union Terminal Co. agreed Wednesday to sell the terminal building to the city of Dallas for $5,325,000.

Voters have approved $6 million for the purchase and the next step in the transaction is for the city council to approve terms of the sale.

Included in the purchase agreement are 25 acres of parking area from Houston Street west to Stemmons.

The terminal has been closed since rail passenger service to Dallas was discontinued in 1968. It will become a passenger depot again June 10 when the National Railroad Passenger Corp. (Amtrak) begins a Dallas stop on the Chicago-to-Houston run.

The city also hopes to make the terminal a transit center connecting downtown with the new regional airport by Surtran buses.

Hotel Lawsuit Lost By Zsa Zsa

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Zsa Zsa Gabor has lost her $300,000 suit against the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Miss Gabor, who was not in court for the jury's verdict Wednesday, had charged hotel negligence contributed to the robbery of $253,000 of her jewels.

The actress was robbed at gunpoint in a hotel elevator three years ago.

The jury decided Miss Gabor could have put the jewels in the Waldorf's safe.

 TEEN FORUM

CRITIC: (Comment) I am a second semester college freshman and I have been not only reading your column for quite some time but I have also been studying it. For one thing, I think it is misnamed. There isn't any real forum. Kids write you for advice or to disagree with you. This sounds fine, but you are the judge, jury and executioner. You are always right.

With you, premarital sex, grass and resisting dictatorial parents is always wrong. Your advice is out of date, and it irritates me. All around you teens are sharing in sex, smoking grass, and challenging their parents' God-like attitudes. Instead of counseling, you condemn. One answer you gave was particularly bad. Some kid wanted to run away. Instead of telling him of a youth hotel he could go to and find others like him, you told him it's cold out there and advised him to stay at home.

To me that is garbage. — No Use for You in Maryland.

(A.) Thank you for writing. Some of the advice I give must get to you. If it didn't, you wouldn't bother to write such a defiant, vehement letter. Maybe you are beginning to see that it IS warm at home, and that some of your parents' advice really makes sense. I hope so.

PRE-TEEN "LOVE": (C.) Someone has been writing me little notes signed "And they called it Puppy Love." The notes have a picture of a puppy with hearts all around him. I am sending you one to look at. The person doesn't even write her or his named. — Secretly Loved in Virginia.

(A.) The note you sent in is cute and no doubt it pleased you to receive it. But don't get too excited about unsigned note or letters.

Drug Survey In Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — The third annual drug survey among junior and senior high school pupils in the Houston School District shows an upward trend in the use of alcohol, tobacco, marijuana, stimulants, barbituates and opiates or cocaine.

Results of the survey were made public by Mrs. James Tinsley, chairman of the school board's drug education committee.

She said schools on the West and East Coasts have experienced declines in usage and she had hoped the same trend would be reflected in Houston.

Tony Arriola To Get Commission

Five Hardin-Simmons University ROTC students have received Regular Army appointments, according to Col. Harvey Stewart, professor of military science.

The appointments are made available to those cadets who have distinguished themselves throughout their ROTC and university careers, said Col. Stewart.

Among students receiving regular Army appointments is Meliton C. (Tony) Arriola Jr., Infantry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Meliton Arriola Sr., 1002 NW 2nd, Big Spring. Arriola is majoring in business and minoring in economics.

A sample of 5,775 pupils taken last Jan. 24 in grades 7 through 12 found 28.5 per cent of those surveyed had used marijuana during a previous six-month period. That would be an increase of 7.8 per cent since the first survey was taken in 1970 and an increase of 4.6 per cent over 1971.

Use of hard drugs — opiates or cocaine — totaled 6.6 per cent this year compared to 5.1 per cent in 1971 and 4.4 per cent in 1970.

American Consumer Becoming Powerful

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite a feeling of helplessness as food prices rise almost without effective resistance from government, the American consumer has become a powerful force in the marketplace.

How much of that power is actual versus potential is debatable and depends largely on the effectiveness of the myriad consumer groups that have evolved during the past decade of reslessness.

But even without organization, the total of spending and saving by the consumer can dictate the fortunes of industry and even frustrate the cleverest plans of government.

This year, the consumer will spend about $780 billion, a jump of about $60 billion over 1972, making automakers and furniture dealers and builders happy. He will account for three-quarters of the gross national product.

For the third straight year, housing starts are expected to top two million units. And for the third year in a row, auto sales are expected to set a record, probably somewhere near 11 million units.

But it is the ability to save as well as to spend that gives the consumer his great power, and government and industry are now getting ready to see that power exerted.

Chase Manhattan Bank forecasts a rise in the savings rate from just under 6.5 per cent of after-tax income at the close of 1972 to 8 per cent or even more during the first half of this year.

PAY FOR FORD

Such a level would be less than the 8.6 per cent rate reached in mid-1971 but otherwise would top by far any percentage reached in the past 20 years. What are the explanations?

Inflation, for one thing. Consumer resistance has always grown in reaction to price increases. This may not be so in regard to food, an expenditure on which Americans prefer not to skimp, but it is true elsewhere in the market.

But offsetting any reduction in savings to pay for food is the fact that incomes will be getting an injection from higher Social Security benefits and income tax refunds that might total $10 billion.

TAX REFUNDS

Windfalls of this sort, says George D. Aiken, the senior member of the Senate, walked into the Capitol wearing a bright, rainbow-colored tie along with his conservative business suit.

When the 80-year-old Vermont Republican was complimented on his choice of tie on Tuesday, he retorted, "Thanks, but I don't pick 'em. They give 'em to me."

To Leave Nixon For Stanford Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ezra Solomon will leave President Nixon's Council of Economic Advisers at the end of the month to return to teaching at Stanford University.

Solomon, 52, had been Dean Witter Professor of Finance at the Stanford Graduate School of Business before serving for two years on the President's council. There are two other members of the council.

Solomon is a native of Rangoon, Burma, and became a naturalized U.S. citizen in 1952.

'Thanks, But I Don't Pick 'Em'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George D. Aiken, the senior member of the Senate, walked into the Capitol wearing a bright, rainbow-colored tie along with his conservative business suit.

When the 80-year-old Vermont Republican was complimented on his choice of tie on Tuesday, he retorted, "Thanks, but I don't pick 'em. They give 'em to me."

TAXES TO FINANCE MASS TRANSIT

Senate Slaps Highway Lobby

WASHINGTON (AP) — Handing the highway lobby a rare defeat, the Senate has voted to allow cities to use $850 million in road-user taxes to finance mass-transit systems.

"This is a shattering victory over the highway lobby which for years held the highway trust fund in a grip of concrete," said Sen. Lowell Weicker, R-Conn., after the 49-44 vote Wednesday.

TRUST FUND

The vote to divert a portion of the $18-billion, three-year highway aid bill to urban transit work was largely symbolic, since each city's share would be relatively small. But road-builders and their allies were concerned with the changes in a policy that since 1956 has funneled $87 billion into building highways.

The trust fund, which totals about $6 billion a year, is made up of a four-cent tax on every gallon of gasoline and levies on tires and lubricants.

The Senate approved another amendment to bar President Nixon from refusing to spend any of the $18 billion. Floor debate on the bill continues today.

DOWN DRAIN

In other votes Wednesday the Senate:

—Rejected, 70 to 23, an amendment by Sens. Weicker and Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., to divert $2.3 billion in trust-fund money for local-choice road or transit programs.

—Approved, 70 to 23, an amendment by Sen. Harrison Williams, D-N.J., to provide $80 million for two years to subsidize the daily operations of failing municipal transit companies, and $3 billion over three years for subway construction.

The subsidy amendment is opposed by the White House and key members of the House and its future is uncertain. While there is a need for maintaining local transit systems, opponents say, it would be like pouring money down a drain since there are no checks on how the money would be spent.

The $3-billion construction grant for rapid rail projects is the regular White House budget program that would normally be in the housing bill.

But Williams attached the program to the highway bill because there may be no nousing bill this year. President Nixon has suspended most federal housing programs pending reevaluation.

HAPPENING

The amendment to tap the trust fund for urban transit was sponsored by Sens. Howard Baker, R-Tenn., and Edmund Muskie, D-Maine.

Baker said the fund has served its historical purpose in revamping the nation's major roads and that. He added: "In urban areas, more highways are no longer the single answer to transportation needs."

Fire Chief's Heat Hurts?

HOUSTON (AP) — Three Houston firemen have asked a state district judge to prevent Fire Chief C. R. Cook from allegedly intimidating firemen who testify before a county grand jury investigating his department.
 The petition, filed in District Judge Miron A. Love's court, is an unusual legal maneuver called a suggestion of contempt. Robert E. Hall, lawyer for the three firemen, said finding Cook in contempt of court is one of several options open to Love if he rules in favor of the firemen. He said another would be simply to instruct Cook to stop the actions that are alleged.
 The firemen are Walter H. Nelius, James Baker and Matthew Gillien. All have testified before the grand jury which indicted the chief and his brother, Thomas Cook, on charges of theft and conspiracy to commit theft.
 The petition states that since they testified, Cook has taken various actions against them, including suspension and reassignment to less desirable jobs.

Railroads Wage Package Likely To Win Acceptance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's railroads and 15 unions have negotiated a package of wages and benefits that is likely to win acceptance under Phase 3 guidelines.
 The package provides increases in pay and fringe benefits of about 7 per cent on a yearly basis. Under the Nixon administration's mostly voluntary Phase 3 guidelines, wage increases of 5.5 per cent a year are permitted, plus 7 per cent in fringe benefits.
BIG PACKAGE
 The Cost of Living Councils, however, has said there will be flexibility in the guidelines, and a council source indicated that Tuesday's agreement was announced that the package likely will be approved.
 Industry and union spokesmen say the agreement covers 18 months beginning July 1 with a total package of wage and benefit increases of 10.7 per cent. They figured the total annual increase at about 7 per cent.

 The agreement, affecting 500,000 workers, is subject to ratification by members of the Sheet Metal Workers union, and by officials of the other unions.
 The agreement is unprecedented in that never before had there been a nationwide rail settlement in advance of contract expiration dates. The past 10 years, for example, were marked by 13 major rail strikes, many of them ended by emergency congressional action.
 The early settlement apparently was dictated in part by pressure to resolve problems of the industry's financially shaky retirement fund before June 30 when all current national railroad contracts run out. Certain benefits temporarily being paid by the government will lapse on that date if the industry is unable to put the fund on solid ground.

SOCIAL SECURITY
 Under the tentative settlement, the carriers and unions will recommend that Congress extend the time for restructuring the fund for 18 months beyond the current June 30 deadline.
 In the meantime, the carriers agreed to pick up the payments now paid by the workers into the separate railroad retirement fund covering them in lieu of Social Security. This will add $42.75 per month to the paychecks of workers now contributing the maximum amount.
 Spokesmen for the unions and National Railway Labor Conference, bargaining arm for the industry, said the agreement includes a 4-per-cent wage increase, effective Jan. 1, 1974, which will add about 21 cents to the rail workers' $5.31 average hourly pay.

$46,654 Job Pact Extended
 HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston school board has extended Supt. George Garver's contract to Aug. 31, 1976, one year beyond his old contract.
 The action Tuesday added a year to his 3 1/2 year contract the trustees gave Garver when the board rehired him in January 1972. The previous board had fired him in August, 1971.
 Last month the board raised Garver's salary to $46,654 a year.

Car Emissions Hassle Warms

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Chrysler Corp., in a significant departure from General Motors and Ford, has questioned the ability of Detroit to control harmful auto exhausts through the use of chemically activated antipollution devices.
 S. L. Terry, environmental and safety-relations vice president for the nation's third-largest automaker, told the Environmental Protection Agency that the devices, called catalytic converters, are not ready to be put on cars.
 All three firms said last year that the best means of meeting proposed emission standards for 1975 model year cars were the converters, which use chemicals to break down exhaust gases into harmless components.
 Terry commented during the latest round of EPA hearings ordered by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Washington. Terry said Chrysler's experimental converters had broken down in tests and would not be able to perform adequately in normal car use.
 Terry said Chrysler would ask Congress to amend the 1970 Clean Air Act to give auto manufacturers until 1977 to meet the proposed 1975 standards for reductions in hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide.
 Ford also has said it would seek congressional action to resolve disputes over the proposed restrictions.

Dewey Ray

In Harrisburg, Pa.

THE CATHOLIC WITNESS:

Hurray for Ray

Hurray for Dewey Ray. Ray, an auto dealer from Big Spring, Tex., told the press the other day that he refuses to sell subcompact cars because he believes they're unsafe.

We make no judgment on the safety of the little autos because, in our opinion, it simply isn't clear whether they are all that bad, considering that road safety takes in many factors. But what is clear is the merit of living by your conscience as Ray says he's doing.

Giving up a sale to satisfy your conscience seems to be some kind of betrayal of the American way, but Ray seems willing to take the risk of being branded a traitor. Also, the manufacturer he represents hasn't attempted any "reprisals" against him for refusing to carry its subcompact line. That's nice too.

In Dickinson, N.D.
THE DICKINSON PRESS
By Don Oakley

Driver on horns of a dilemma

Automotive and safety experts have long known that big cars are safer than little cars. That is, when a big car collides with a little one, the latter has much the worst of it.

One concerned dealer, Dewey Ray of Big Spring, Tex., has stopped selling compacts and subcompacts entirely. He went so far as to buy a half-hour of time on a television station to show a film which vividly records the results of collisions between small cars and standard sized. He reports that several people told him they had decided against buying a small car after seeing the film.

In Midland, Texas

MIDLAND REPORTER-TELEGRAM:

Big Spring Auto Dealer Refuses To Sell Little Cars

BIG SPRING (AP) — Big Spring automobile dealer Dewey Ray refuses to sell subcompact cars, despite the profit motive. He believes the popular little cars are unsafe.

"All of us have to live with our own consciences," Ray says, "It's a car I don't want the responsibility of putting any of my friends or any of their children in."

Ray has a Chrysler Motors Corp. agency here, selling Chryslers, Imperials, Dodges and Plymouths — but not Dodge's Colt or Plymouth's Cricket, the subcompacts.

He has concluded after a review of an Insurance Institute study and a viewing of films testing the cars that they pose an extraordinary danger to driver and passengers in collisions with standard-sized autos, Ray said in an interview.

"In a head-on impact between a Colt and a Plymouth Fury at 40 or 50 miles an hour, for example, it appeared to me from actual films that a person driving the Fury could have opened the door and walked away," he said.

"But it appeared the entire front end of the Colt moved into the front seat, and I don't see how anyone could have walked away from it alive."

His condemnation of subcompact cars is not confined to Chrysler products. He believes that equally unsafe are other autos weighing in the subcompact range of 1,600 to 2,000 pounds, including Ford's Pinto, Chevrolet's Vega, the Toyota and the Datsun.

"I think the thing that has surprised Chrysler Motors so much is that they can't persuade me that the amount of money I can make on those cars should be a compelling factor for me to sell them," says Ray, 48, married and the father of five children.

He said Chrysler officials had tried to persuade him with the argument that "after all, I'm in the business to make money."

"I think they consider me a little bit eccentric," he said.

He said also that "when you compare the going price in many cases for subcompacts with the discount price of an American car or compact, I feel a man gets a lot more and certainly a lot more safety for his money."

Ray said he explained to customers coming into his showroom wanting one of the subcompacts that he doesn't carry the line and why.

"If they insist on buying one, we direct them to dealers in nearby towns who sell them," he said.

"I believe we as dealers are and have been listening to the manufacturer far too much and far too long," he said. "Since we're the people who have to face the consumer, I think it's long past time we started advertising and presenting consumer-oriented material rather than a lot of hoopla and price advertising," Ray said.

He said his television spots for the last year had featured some of consumer advocate Ralph Nader's admonitions about the responsibilities of the dealers and manufacturers and what the consumer should look for and ask for in regard to his car.

"I'm trying to offset the image the ordinary dealer has by using a good part of my advertising dollar to present facts about automobiles," Ray said.

"I should spend some of my time and money, and I think every auto dealer should, giving the consumer a fair presentation on the facts of safety of the various automobiles. Certainly we can assume quite fairly that the manufacturer is not going to do it."

He said Chrysler had attempted no reprisals against him, although "the factory can be quite subtle about some of these things."

"For example, I'm waiting now on delivery of 1973 Imperials, and I know a number of dealers throughout the nation already have Imperials on their lots waiting to show them," he said.

Ray said his inquiry into the safety of subcompacts sprang from "moral" origins.

"All I want to do is give the man in my area a fair chance to judge for himself," he said. "Let him balance the safety of the car against the price of the car."

Here's what They're saying:

They're even saying things in Saginaw about Dewey Ray's fight to keep his customers alive. From Texas to Tennessee — from California to Carolina — newspapers have headlined his story. The Associated Press told the world about Dewey Ray. We want to be sure our neighbors know, too.
