U.S. SUSPENDS WITHDRAWAL OF TROOPS FROM VIETNAM

Communists Call Off Release Of American POWs

SAIGON (AP) — The Communists said tonight they are calling off U.S. prisoner releases scheduled for this week-end because the United States repudiated an agreement on final troop withdrawals and prisoner turnovers.

The North Vietnamese and Viet Cong also declared they will withhold the names of the last 138 American prisoners held in Vietnam. The POWs originally were to be turned over in two groups Saturday and Sunday.

NEW DEAL

The United States earlier had agreed to a Communist-proposed plan for accelerated troop withdrawals and the week-end prisoner releases. But then the American representatives here reversed themselves, citing orders from Washington.

They set new conditions for the final U.S. troop pullout. The Communists called the demands "illegal" and responded later by canceling the prisoner releases without specifying how long the holdup might last.

The U.S. delegation to the Joint Military Commission asked for the names of all Americans held in Laos and when and where they would be released. The delegation said withdrawal of the 5,249 American troops to be pulled out by next Wednesday was suspended until it got the information and until a first group of POWs was handed over.

AHEAD OF DEADLINE

North Vietnam and the Viet Cong had proposed releasing 138 Americans captured in Vietnam at Hanoi's Gia Lam Airport Saturday and Sunday. But this was contingent on the withdrawal of the last U.S. troops by then, three days ahead of the deadline set in the ceasefire agreement.

The United States accepted this offer without any conditions in a letter Wednesday to the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong members of the joint commission.

Today, however, the United States made its new demands concerning the POWs in Laos and gave its new conditions for continuing the troop withdrawal. Brig. Gen. John A. Wickham, the deputy chief of the U.S. delegation, also proposed that the first group of POWs be transferred on Sunday instead of Saturday and that the POW repatriation be completed on Wednesday instead of Sunday.

GUIDANCE

A spokesman for the U.S. delegation said the United States "needed additional time to move U.S. troops out in an orderly fashion." He said a timetable to withdraw the American troops on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, which his delegation proposed in the earlier letter to the Communists, represented the view of the U.S. Command in Saigon.

After "further guidance from Washington," he added, the U.S. delegation decided that more time was required to move out the American troops in an orderly fashion.

The Communists informed the United States earlier that seven American servicemen and two U.S. civilians had been captured in Laos.

DEADLOCK

Nomination Of FBI Boss Doomed?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nomination of L. Patrick Gray III to be FBI director may be doomed by a deadlock taking hold in the Senate Judiciary Committee, says a Republican member.

As Gray prepared for a ninth day of committee testimony today, Sen. Edward J. Gurney said the nomination is in trouble.

Gurney, R-Fla., told newsmen Wednesday the committee appears to be evenly divided. A tie vote would scuttle a motion to recommend confirmation.

Gurney protested what he called an effort by majority Democrats to "keep the hearings going as long as they can get away with it" for political purposes.

BUGGING CASE

The questioning Wednesday continued to focus on Gray's handling of the FBI investigation of the Watergate bugging case.

Gray, acting FBI director since last May, ran into criticism from Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., for turning over FBI investigative reports in the Watergate case directly to White House counsel John W. Dean rather than routing the documents through Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst.

Kennedy said Gray acted outside regular channels. But Gray said he responded to a request from the White House counsel "in the same way it has been handled in the past" under the late J. Edgar Hoover.

Dean was assigned by President Nixon to determine if any White House aides were involved in the bugging of Democratic headquarters in the Watergate complex here last June.

HORSE LAUGH IN LEGISLATURE

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas lawmakers hooted down, then voted down, a proposal today to allow the sale and consumption of horse meat in this cattle-conscious state.

When Rep. Woody Denson, D-Houston, asked permission to introduce his bill he was buried in an avalanche of nays from the floor.

A quick record vote also failed to sustain his proposal.

"I understand it's a delicacy in Europe," Denson lamented.

Coyotes Hunt Bill Shot To Briscoe

AUSTIN (AP) The House quickly approved, 122-5, a bill today that would allow ranchers to hunt coyotes from the air.

The bill won preliminary House passage Tuesday 122-13 and was previously approved by the Senate. If it passes on third reading today it will go to Gov. Dolph Briscoe for his signature.

Rep. Bill Healy, D-Paducah, said the bill is aimed at fighting rising wheat prices. "These predatory animals certainly are going to contribute to it if we don't do something," he said.

The bill applies only to the eight counties in Healy's district — Baylor, Foard, Wilbarger, Knox, Cottle, King, Dickens and Stonewall. It would allow the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department to issue permits to kill animal predators from the air, but would not allow the shooting of birds.

Thief Repentant But Needs Lesson

The best plans of mice and thieves apparently go awry.

A stolen car had not yet been missed at the Big Spring Dress Company when the thief apparently tried to bring the vehicle back.

The trouble was, that he was so enthusiastic about returning the stolen vehicle that he hit a wall at the factory. He jumped out of the vehicle and fled.

The manager at the factory reported a hit and run driver and later discovered that it was their own vehicle which had been returned.

Lamb Judging Set Friday In Show

From 2 to 5 p.m. today, 4-H and FFA members here will be watching their lambs and steers weighed, classified and sifted for the 37th annual Howard County Livestock Show.

Friday at 5:30 p.m., lamb judging begins. Steer judging follows at 7 p.m.

The public is invited to attend the annual premium animal sale at 10 a.m. Saturday. And a barbecue with plates going for $2 each is scheduled for 11:30 a.m.

Can Teach An Old Dog New Tricks?

SANTA CLARA, Calif. (AP) — A University of Santa Clara psychologist says a study started 42 years ago indicates that the learning process which contributes to a person's intelligence quotient continues at least through middle age.

Dr. John Kangas, 29, director of the Santa Clara counseling center, said the mean intelligence quotient of 48 persons went up about 20 points between the first time they were tested, at preschool ages, and tests four years ago.

"A lot of people feel as they grow older that they're going downhill. This study raises the hope that you can teach an old dog new tricks," Kangas said in an interview Wednesday.

He said the 48 persons in the study were from a group of 212 tested as preschoolers in the San Francisco Bay area in 1931. Given the Stanford-Binet IQ test, the group had a mean IQ of 110.7.

Dr. Katherine Bradley, a San Francisco psychologist, looked up as many of the original group as possible and tested them in 1941 and again in 1956. The scores were 13.3 and 124.1, respectively.

Kangas said he located the group again and tested them in 1968 and 1969. At the time of the latter test, the mean IQ had risen to 130.1, he said.

Kangas, whose findings were published in the Journal of Developmental Psychology, said the researchers who developed the Stanford-Binet test believed IQ did not increase after a person turned 16 or 18.

After hearing further from two New Jersey consultants on lotteries, the committee decided to postpone further consideration of the bill and constitutional amendment by Rep. Jim Kaster, D-El Paso.

Why postpone?

"Just to see if Mr. Kaster could get enough votes together. I just wanted to keep it before the full committee for further consideration," said Rep. Dave Finney, D-Fort Worth, committee chairman.

Finney said that "with the full committee present, I doubt he would be able to muster" a majority for his measures.

Another measure by Kaster, calling for a referendum on lotteries in November, "Probably, in my best judgment, will be the bill that comes out of this committee," the chairman said.

But Kaster disagreed.

Rep. Lindsey Rodriguez, D-Hidalgo, said after the hearing that he opposes the bill and does not agree with Kaster and his consultants that a lottery would tempt the poor to bet money they could not afford to lose.

"I think it is a tax on poor people—it works that way," Rodriguez said. "The more desperate a man is to improve himself, the more desperate he is to win to get out of his situation."

Rodriguez said a large number of Mexican-Americans along the border buy tickets in the Mexican national lottery.

Emanuel Gnat, vice president of Mathematica, Inc., a New Jersey consulting firm, told the House committee $500 million a year is being raised in six states that asked his company to set up lotteries.

"The public acceptance is enormous," Gnat said. "Eighty to eighty-five per cent of the people in those six states have bought lottery tickets at one time or another."

Surveys by Mathematica show at least 90 per cent of the population sees nothing morally wrong with lotteries, he said. Only 1 per cent are strongly against lotteries, he said.

Council Sets Open Meeting

FORSAN — A question and answer session for voters in Saturday's $65,000 sewer bond election will be held in the high school auditorium at 8 p.m. today.

Mayor Curtis (Jack) Lamb said he, the engineer and possibly aldermen will field questions from the audience.

Richard Chaney with Hicks and Ragland of Lubbock is the engineer who will appear. Chaney prepared plans for a sewer system.

Voters will decide the issue between 8 a.m. and 7 p.m. Saturday at Forsan High School. Both property and non-property owners may vote.

Revenue from the sewer system, not taxes, will pay off the bonds, Lamb said. Should the voters reject the project, the mayor fears federal or state regulations will force residents here to replace cess pools with costly septic tanks.

The City of Forsan has paid off all previous bond issues.

A Senate subcommittee must decide what to do about a proposal to abolish 153 rural schools. See Page 2-A.

Clean-Up Drive Will Be Kicked Off March 30

Plans are in the mill at the Chamber of Commerce for a city-wide clean-up campaign during the month of April to involve organizations and individuals throughout Big Spring.

Ray Perkins, chairman of the beautification subcommittee of the Chamber's Community Development Council, said the month-long clean-up drive will be kicked off March 30 by the Jaycees with a trash-gathering project at the Big Spring near Comanche Trail Park.

Bob Butler, a city employee formerly involved in the subcommittee's predecessor Pride People, said city sanitation crews will participate the second week of April by picking up boxes, old appliances and other junk that citizens collect from their own houses and yards.

Focus will center on elementary schools during the third week of the month. Perkins said a contest will be sponsored to see which class of each school can collect the most trash from its campus and surrounding neighborhood.

Goodyear Service Store will donate a radio to be given to the winning class and a television to be awarded to the winning school, Perkins said.

The last week of the April drive will center around the scouting programs in conjunction with the Boy Scout Save Our American Resources (SOAR) project.

Specific activities have not yet been completely formed up, committee members said, but they should be soon.

Legalized Betting Gets Strong Play In Texas

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Legalized betting got lots of action in legislative committees Wednesday.

The Senate State Affairs Committee approved a proposed constitutional amendment that would allow the legislature to authorize bingo games and raffles by churches and other nonprofit organizations.

That resolution now goes to the Senate floor for debate.

The House State Affairs Committee was told Wednesday night that a well run state lottery would raise $80 million to $105 million a year, and most of the money would come from middle-income groups.

No opposition witnesses appeared in the time set aside for this morning.

After hearing further from two New Jersey consultants on lotteries, the committee decided to postpone further consideration of the bill and constitutional amendment by Rep. Jim Kaster, D-El Paso.

Why postpone?

"Just to see if Mr. Kaster could get enough votes together. I just wanted to keep it before the full committee for further consideration," said Rep. Dave Finney, D-Fort Worth, committee chairman.

Finney said that "with the full committee present, I doubt he would be able to muster" a majority for his measures.

Another measure by Kaster, calling for a referendum on lotteries in November, "Probably, in my best judgment, will be the bill that comes out of this committee," the chairman said.

But Kaster disagreed.

Rep. Lindsey Rodriguez, D-Hidalgo, said after the hearing that he opposes the bill and does not agree with Kaster and his consultants that a lottery would tempt the poor to bet money they could not afford to lose.

"I think it is a tax on poor people—it works that way," Rodriguez said. "The more desperate a man is to improve himself, the more desperate he is to win to get out of his situation."

Rodriguez said a large number of Mexican-Americans along the border buy tickets in the Mexican national lottery.

Emanuel Gnat, vice president of Mathematica, Inc., a New Jersey consulting firm, told the House committee $500 million a year is being raised in six states that asked his company to set up lotteries.

"The public acceptance is enormous," Gnat said. "Eighty to eighty-five per cent of the people in those six states have bought lottery tickets at one time or another."

Surveys by Mathematica show at least 90 per cent of the population sees nothing morally wrong with lotteries, he said. Only 1 per cent are strongly against lotteries, he said.

Lotteries played important roles in the establishment of schools such as Harvard, Yale, Dartmouth and Princeton, he said.

At one time in the 19th century, $55 million annually was raised by lotteries in this country, Gnat said, and this was more than the federal budget. But scandals destroyed the public's confidence in the lotteries and they were outlawed.

New Hampshire in 1963 and New York in 1967 started a modern trend toward legalized lotteries, he said. But those states ran them as bureaucratic enterprises, and they did not do as well as other states that later established "consumer-oriented" lotteries run in a business-like manner, he said.

The average amount spent per capita on lotteries is $1.60 to $1.70 a week, he said. The average income of the lottery player is $11,500 a year.

The Senate resolution is sponsored by Sen. A. R. Schwartz, D-Galveston, who pushed a church bingo law through the legislature in 1971 even though he knew it was unconstitutional.

"What I was doing was providing an affirmative defense for organizations sponsoring bingo," Schwartz told The Associated Press.

He said a lot of churches, veterans organizations and civic groups are operating bingo games or running raffles despite the fact it is a felony to do so. Anyone hauled before a grand jury could cite Schwartz' 1971 law until former Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin declared it unconstitutional, diminishing its executive power.

So Schwartz is trying to get the constitution changed, and he thinks he has a good chance because his proposal is tightly drawn.

The legislature could authorize lotteries only for churches, religious societies, veterans organizations or other nonprofit charitable organizations.

CLOSE PLANT DEAL — Members of the Industrial Foundation team were on hand at the factory site just off SH 350 north of town this morning to formally deed over the property to Sam Walls (center) of Walls Industries Inc. From the left, they are Cui Grigsby, Clyde Angel, Walls, Mayor Wade Choate and Tom Locke.

Property Formally Deeded Over To Walls Industries

With plant construction already under way, a deed formally transferring land on the Snyder Highway from the Industrial Foundation to Walls Industries was signed in ceremonies this morning at the Chamber of Commerce.

Civic and business leaders were on hand as Tom Locke, IF president, transferred title to Sam Walls, president of Walls.

"We're real proud to be a part of your community," said Sam Walls in a statement prior to signing of the deeds. "We came looking for a location, and we not only found a place to build a plant but some real nice people."

He mentioned that some of the plant's goods, winter sports garments, have already been produced here and will be sent out this afternoon.

TEAM EFFORT

Locke termed the location of Walls in Big Spring as "truly a team effort." Mayor Wade Choate lauded the Industrial Foundation for the part it played in negotiating with the clothing firm, and said, "I've certainly heard some nice remarks concerning the plant."

The city recently traded land immediately north of the Texas Highway Department to the Foundation in order to provide a site for immediate construction of the Walls plant.

Involved in the complex execution of agreements were:

HERE FOR RITE

Deeding of a tract of land (north of the Mount Olive Cemetery) by Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Worthy to the City of Big Spring; deeding of 8.40 acres by the City to the Industrial Foundation; granting of utility easements by the Foundation; conveying by the city 12 plus acres to the Industrial Foundation with a covenant that the land will be used solely for industrial development; conveying of the 8.40 acres to Walls Industries for its new plant. Walls also has an option on additional acreage for possible expansion or distribution facilities.

Here for the signing with Sam Walls were Bill Finney, vice president research and development; Albert Archer, vice president sales; Victor Conrad, vice president and manager of manufacturing.

Conrad noted that the training group, now functioning at Howard County Junior College, had turned out its first garment.

"They promised to have a dozen ready when we go back this evening," he said.

The unit here will concentrate originally on a cover-all type work garment. Work clothing is a rapidly expanding line, but Walls is perhaps better known for its production of winter sports wear. Archer said that currently the company has a greater demand for its products than the total of output, hence eagerness to get the local plant in operation. The plan is to set up a trained unit for production; train another and move it in as soon as workers have mastered the skills, and repeat the process until capacity is reached.

'Dangerous' Toys Action

AUSTIN (AP) — Rep. Charles Tupper showed the House three toys he described as "dangerous" and quickly won tentative approval of his hazardous toys bill today.

The measure, which advanced on a voice vote, needs one more vote—probably Monday—to be sent to the Senate.

Tupper, D-El Paso, displayed a set of "clacker balls" which he said could shatter or fly off their cords; an electric iron and a stuffed toy dog.

He quoted statistics which said an estimated 1,000 children die in Texas each year because of dangerous toys and 17 per cent of the blindness in Texas children resulted from accidents involving toys.

Federal law now gives the U.S. Food and Drug Administration power to issue lists of hazardous toys and remove them from store shelves.

Tupper's bill would enable the State Health Department to add more toys to the federal list and to ban their sale. A consumer also could seek a district court order against sale of dangerous toys.

"The purpose of this bill is that federal enforcement has been inadequate and will continue to be inadequate in Texas simply because of a shortage of inspectors," Tupper said.

Rep. Ed Howard, D-Texas, asked about items, such as darts, sold in sporting goods departments to adults "but when they get in the home become toys for children."

GETS JOB BACK — R. Gordon Rule has been reinstated as the Navy's top cost cutter, a post he lost after telling a Senate panel in December, 1971, about weapons contract negotiations. Reinstatement of Rule was made known by Pentagon sources Wednesday night.

Ford Recalls Many Torinos

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. is recalling 59,000 Torinos because of a possible steering mechanism defect. A Ford spokesman said Wednesday the firm estimates 1,100 of the recalled cars, all 1973 models, do not have a cotter pin installed in the steering linkage. The company is recalling 58,579 Torinos in the United States, he said, and 176 in Canada and 253 in Ford's export market to look for the suspect autos.

Without the pin, a nut on the steering centerlink-to-idler-arm connection could drop out causing impaired steering control, the spokesman said. No accidents or injuries have been reported as a result of the potential problem, he said.

Ford also said it is recalling 55 Pintos, also 1973s, to check a locking ring which secures the fuel sender unit to the gas tank, the spokesman said. If the ring is not fully engaged, he said, a "substantial" loss of fuel could result.

A Ford spokesman said the recall involves only cars built before last Dec. 1.

RFK's Son Quits $172 A Week Job In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Joseph Kennedy III, eldest son of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, has resigned from his job here as a community health worker and says he plans to do volunteer work instead.

"He worked real hard, going from early morning to late at night," said City Health Department Director Francis J. Curry who had hired the 20-year-old Kennedy as an assistant to coordinate community health programs. "I think he did a fine job and some definite pluses will come out of this."

Curry said Wednesday Kennedy told him he was leaving San Francisco for a few weeks and would return to do volunteer work for a neighborhood group in the Mission district, a predominantly Mexican-American area. Kennedy had offered to quit the $172.50 a week job after county Supervisor John L. Mollinari questioned "if there may be other people who are better qualified."

Knifed To Death In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Three men stabbed Kenneth Lee Browning, 19, to death during an attack on a west side street Wednesday night, his woman companion told police.

Officers said she quoted one of the trio as shouting they were going to kill Browning. Browning was knifed several times in the chest. Police said they had no clues to the identities of the attackers.

BOWEN KEEPS THINGS TICKING

Time Changes Everything

By ANN STEVENS
Thirty-five shining faces and 70 hands busily working, always moving, greet you when you enter the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Bowen, 1714 Purdue.

It is said time stops for no man, yet for Bowen it starts up again. Generally speaking, Bowen is a jeweler, more specifically he is a horologist, and more abstractly he is a measurer of time.

His main business and hobby is making and repairing clocks. Formerly he operated a jewelry store on Eleventh Place. Now he keeps shop in his home.

"FROM EVERYWHERE"
"I get calls from everywhere all over the United States — New Jersey, California, Mississippi, everywhere," said Bowen who can work on any type of timepiece from pocket watches to courthouse tower clocks. Many people, he said, hear about him through word of mouth and bring old broken clocks to him as a last resort.

Bowen collects antiques of all kinds, but says he especially likes old clocks, particularly grandfather clocks.

"One reason I especially like old things," he remarked, "is that they used to make 'em to last. Now they make 'em to sell."

Bowen said he has been interested in clocks all his life. His grandfather came to the United States from Switzerland where he had once helped manufacture watches.

BEGAN AS YOUTH
"When I was only eight or 10 years old, the neighbors found out I liked clocks, and would bring me all the old alarm clocks they had. Most of my learning I did the hard way — by just trying and making mistakes. That's the best way because you never forget your mistakes," he said.

He opened his first jewelry shop in Fort Worth in 1948. He moved to Big Spring in 1950 and after working at Zales and the air base opened up his own jewelry store in 1958. He had to move it, however, when the property he was leasing was resold.

Although he said he is seeking another site for a shop, he said he enjoys doing the repair business at home. "If I wake up at 3 in the morning, I can just get up out of bed, go in the next room and start to work."

"LIFE SHORT"
Bowen said he rarely sleeps more than five hours a night. "Life is too short to be spent asleep," he commented.

Sleeping hours, however, have supplied the answers to several repair enigmas. He recalled the case of one old clock which he worked on for several years, continually taking it apart piece by piece in search of what kept it from running.

LIFELONG INTEREST — James Bowen, 1714 Purdue, specializes in the making and repair of clocks. He has been called all over the nation to repair old clocks. Here, he poses with several of his own timepieces. The one in the center dates back to the mid 1600s.

"One night, I dreamed about it and discovered what was wrong. I woke up, put on my clothes, and in 30 seconds I had it fixed," he attested.

Bowen and his wife Mary have a collection of some 35 clocks of their own at home. Most of these were collected from antique shops over the country during vacation trips.

CAN TELL YEAR
Oldest of his clocks is a gold plated one made in Paris, France between 1620 and 1660.

As a mechanic can often tell you what make and year model a certain car part is from, so Bowen says he can identify the date and place of manufacture

U.S. Plane On Spy Mission When Attacked By Fighters?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Official secrecy is raising suspicion that an unarmed U.S. Air Force C130 transport-type plane was on an electronic intelligence mission when attacked by Libyan jet fighters over the Mediterranean Wednesday.

U.S. authorities said the four-engine plane was on an unspecified military mission over international waters 83 miles from Libya when it was jumped by two Libyan Air Force jets in daylight.

They refused to describe the mission. Libyan officials said they had no notice of the incident.

Cannon shots missed the C130, which escaped unharmed into a cloud and flew back to base in Athens, officials said.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers summoned the senior Libyan diplomat in Washington and protested strongly while the top American representative in Tripoli handed the Libyan government a similar protest deploring what was called an "unpardonable incident."

"Neither the Defense Department nor the State Department would discuss the C130's mission, refusing even to answer questions about the size of the plane's crew.

Normally, there would be nothing secret about a flight of a C130 if it was engaged in the usual chores of such a plane, carrying cargo or passengers.

Sources here said the plane was on neither a cargo mission nor a routine flight.

It is known that C130s, equipped with electronic "black boxes," have been used to listen in on radio messages and to monitor radar frequencies.

There was no way of telling whether the Libyan fighters knew what this C130 was doing over the Mediterranean.

Authorities discounted the possibility that the Libyan pilots mistook the U.S. C130 for an Israeli airliner. There have been reports that Libyan warplanes have been ranging out over the Mediterranean looking for Israeli commercial planes to average a Libyan airliner shot down by the Israelis over the Sinai several weeks ago.

State Department spokesman Charles W. Bray told newsmen "there could have been no confusion in anyone's mind."

Officials said they were at a loss to explain the attack or to say whether the Libyan pilots intended to scare the American air crew rather than to shoot down the plane. One report said the jets came within 100 yards of the C130 before firing their cannon.

Del Rio Firm Given Pact

Del Rio Flying Service, Inc., of Del Rio, Tex., has been awarded a $600,000 annual contract for the new centralized Air Force flight-screening and training program at the Hondo Municipal Airport, Hondo, Tex.

The contractor will supply qualified instructor pilots to conduct in-flight screening and training of undergraduate pilot trainees. Del Rio Flying Service will also be responsible for maintenance, refueling, storage, and security of the 80 T-41 (Cessna-172) aircraft which will be supplied by the Air Force.

The T-41s at Howard County Airport will start their trip down to Hondo in April, with the transfer complete by August. Training on the T-41 here will continue until about July 26. At that time, all undergraduate pilot trainees will be coming to Webb with some type of flying experience.

Eleven civilians and four military personnel will be affected by the consolidation. The T-41 program, contracted with Central American Airways of Kentucky, has been in operation here for about five years.

Gunned, Killed

HOUSTON (AP) — John Mack Harris, 31, was shot and killed Wednesday night at a residence near downtown Houston.

Police said the slaying occurred in the climax to an argument between Harris and a 28-year-old man.

To Investigate F111 Crashes Near Holbrook

HOLBROOK, Ariz. (AP) — Investigators have come from Cannon Air Force Base at Clovis, N.M., and Tactical Air Command headquarters at Langley AFB in Virginia to the site of Tuesday's F111 crashes which killed four Air Force officers.

The two swing-wing fighters, based at Cannon, collided on night training mission about three miles north of Holbrook.

Searchers found the bodies Wednesday of Maj. William W. Gude, 39, of Colorado Springs, and Capt. David C. Blackledge, 30, of Cresskill, N.J. in the wreckage of the second plane. It was about 3½ miles from the other crash site.

Bodies of Maj. Richard L. Brehm, 37, Omaha, Neb., and Capt. William T. Halloran, 25, of Brownsville, Tex., were removed Tuesday night from the wreckage of their plane.

The Air Force refused to give any details of the crash and closed off the crash sites.

The collision brought to 36 the number of F111s lost since 1967 when testing of the craft began. Nine were lost in Indochina and the rest in accidents.

Witnesses described the collision as "an explosion... a flash of light in the air," and "a huge ball of yellow flame."

Ted Scull of New York City watched while riding in the dome of the Santa Fe Super Chief.

He said the two planes, one moving more rapidly than the other, flew overhead and slipped out of sight.

When they reappeared "it looked like one plane," he said. "A split second later they collided and exploded."

Life Term For Raping Midlander

FORT WORTH (AP) — Criminal District Court Judge J. E. Winters has sentenced James Richard Whitten, 29, of Grand Prairie to a life term in prison for raping a Midland woman.

Whitten changed his plea from innocent to guilty Wednesday as his trial was going into a third day.

He admitted assaulting the Midland woman, 31, last Oct. 26, at an Arlington motel and raping a Houston woman and her daughter in November.

The woman who was assaulted in Arlington told jurors earlier that Whitten was her attacker.

She said he forced his way into the motel room at gun point, raped her and fled, leaving her bound with hosiery.

Thearrant County grand jury routinely will receive the two cases involving the Houston victims Thursday. Winters accepted Whitten's guilty plea on the two and sentenced him to 20 years each to run concurrently.

HELPING SCOUTS — Charles Bell, Frosty Robison and A. J. Slatser are three of four top chairmen that will head up the Buffalo Trail Council Boy Scout sustaining membership drive, which is getting under way here.

BS Band Wins Lone First

The Big Spring High School band placed first in sight-reading and second in concert competition in Odessa Wednesday in what proved to be one of the toughest spring UIL contests in several years.

The contest was a month earlier than usual and where the five A bands in this particular region usually make a clean straight first division sweep, three of them included a second division with their ratings.

Midland Lee and Big Spring had identical ratings and Midland High reversed itself with a first in concert and a second in sightreading. Permian and Odessa High still had two first divisions ratings.

The smaller schools also saw their ratings dip from what they had been making in recent years. Coahoma, who had a first division last fall in marching, collected third division in both concert and sight reading.

In the meantime over in Midland, junior high choirs competed. The Goliad choirs are directed by Gay Edmunston. Her advanced choir rated second division in concert and third in sightreading and her girls' choir rated two third divisions.

RUNNELLS FIRST
At Runnels Jr. High where Judy Storm is director, had three choirs competing. Runnels Jr. High girls choir collected the only concert first division of any C or B junior high choir all day long. They had a second in sightreading.

The Runnels Advanced choir placed second in both concert and sightreading and the Boys choir had second in concert and third in sightreading.

Unemployment Up

HOUSTON (AP) — Unemployment in the Houston area climbed by one-tenth of one percent in February to 2.4 percent of the civilian work force, the Texas Employment Commission reported Wednesday.

Scouters Launch Annual Sustaining Member Drive

The annual sustaining membership drive in Big Spring for the Buffalo Trail Council, A. J. Slatser is chairman of Boy Scouts of America, is currently under way here.

Robison, whose portion of the drive will begin first, has already named his steering committee.

They include John Currie, Roy Hughes, Jimmy Parks, Jack Guley, Dick Bott, Ray Boatles, Sherman Smith, Dr. Clyde Thomas, Harry Sawyer, Darrell Pittman and Joe Pickle.

"With this type of leadership, and with the cooperation of Big Spring citizens who have always backed boy scouting, I expect the drive to be a big success," Robison stated.

Traffic Death

GAINESVILLE, Tex. (AP) — B.A. Harry, 73, of Forestburg in Montague County was killed late Wednesday in a traffic accident at an intersection inside Gainesville on U.S. 82.

Officers said Harry's pickup truck struck another vehicle which had stopped for a signal light.

After Russell's Ringer, TV Script Is Rewritten

NEW YORK (AP) — It won't go in the National Basketball Association record book, but Bill Russell probably never will forget the 25-foot shot he made from a swivel chair, a shot he was supposed to miss.

Millions have seen it on television—in a commercial—but few know the time, money, laughs and tension that went into what turned out to be a 30-second adventure.

To get that 30 seconds of film, it took 12 hours and finally the producers settled by re-writing the script to conform with Russell's remarkable talents.

Dan E. Hutchins, advertising executive of the Long Distance Division of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, for whom the commercial was made, related the interesting vignette today involving the all-time great of the Boston Celtics.

Sports personalities are not content with monopolizing the TV screens with their game exploits these days. They are also clogging the commercial breaks.

ORGANIZATIONAL MEETING SET FOR GIRLS TONIGHT

The Miss Softball America League will hold an organizational meeting tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the Rannels Junior High gym, according to West Texas Area Commissioner Jane Upton.

More than 500 girls are expected to play this summer, Miss Upton said, with girls divided into a minor and major league, and possibly a senior division. Last year there were over 300 girls on 19 teams, and 25 teams are expected to be formed this season.

The Big Spring League was the largest in the nation last year. Organizations are also being formed in Denver City, Lamesa, Andrews, Plains and Sweetwater.

All girls from 9 through 18 years of age and other interested persons are invited to attend tonight's meeting.

Anyone interested in coaching or managing a team is urged to attend. Sponsors for several teams are also being sought.

Monterey Winner Over Longhorns

LUBBOCK — Lubbock to move to third, Harrelson Monterey rolled to its 11th taking second on the play. baseball victory of the season by belting Big Spring, 5-1, here Wednesday.

Rickey Steen started on the mound for Big Spring and yielded four runs in the first three innings. Greg Crawford took over for the Longhorns in the fourth.

Mark Scott, in notching his second win against no losses for Monterey, went all the way on the mound and surrendered only three hits.

The two Big Spring pitchers yielded ten hits, three of which bounced off the bat of Jimmy Shankle. Dwayne Clanton and Rocky Alburts each had two blows for the winners.

Wednesday's game originally was to have been played as part of a doubleheader but was weathered out.

Glen Yarbrough scored the first run of the game for Monterey in the opening round when he beat out an infield hit, stole second, then third on an infield out and raced home on a wild pitch.

In the second, Alburts singled and Brad Harrelson, trying to sacrifice, gained a life on a bobble. Alburts was out trying

YMCA To Teach Life-Saving

The Big Spring YMCA will hold a life-saving course beginning Tuesday and running through May 1, physical director Pat Owens has announced.

The classes, for both boys and girls, will be held each Tuesday and Thursday from 6-8 p.m. There will be a 12-15 age group for juniors, and a course for seniors over 15 years of age.

Entry fee is $7.50 for YMCA members and $15 for non-members, and includes a textbook, card, emblem and computerized record of certification in the national YMCA office. Interested persons may enroll by calling the Y at 7-8234, with the first class time deadline for entering.

Owens and Nancy Rhodes will be the course instructors.

Alabama Tries Big Ten foe

NEW YORK (AP) — Pro basketball scouts were expected in force again tonight for the National Invitation Tournament's quarterfinal doubleheader at Madison Square Garden.

A pair of upset winners in opening NIT games, Fairfield and Virginia Tech, tangle in tonight's opener with Alabama and Minnesota going in the second game. The winners clash Saturday in one of the tournament's semifinal matches.

Fairfield and Virginia Tech weren't really expected to get past tough first round opponents. But George Groom's 23 points and 19 by Phil Rogers helped Fairfield to an 80-76 decision over Marshall and Tech took New Mexico 65-63 with 6-7 Allan Bristow scoring 26 points and grabbing 10 rebounds.

Alabama survived its first test against Manhattan, beating the Jaspers 87-86 on Glenn Garrett's desperation jump shot at the buzzer.

The Crimson Tide, 21-6 for the season, figures to have its hands full with Minnesota's tough, pro-type club.

"They are as powerful and physical as any basketball team I've ever seen," said Alabama's Coach C.M. Newton after watching Minnesota, 21-4, wipe out Rutgers 68-59.

The key men for the Gophers are 6-10 Ron Behagen and 6-8 Jim Brewer, both likely first round selections in the drafts of the two pro basketball leagues.

While the collegians run through their paces, the pro scouts are watching closely.

Hargett May Play More In Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — The way Edd Hargett figures it, even going to the 1-13 Houston Oilers can't be a come down.

He figured Wednesday in a five-player deal which sent him along with end Dave Parks and linebacker Tom Stincic from the New Orleans Saints to the Oilers in exchange for reserve Oilers quarterback Kent Nix and injury-slowed Ron Billingsley.

Hargett, a fifth-year backup man for Archie Manning, did not play a single down last season.

"If I can play any, then I'm happy," he said after the trade. "I don't have any idea why they never let me play. I guess they were just determined to let Archie play the whole game no matter what."

The Oilers already have quarterbacks Dan Pastorini and Lynn Dickey, but Dickey last year.

"We've got every confidence Dickey's going to play for us next year with Dan Pastroini," said Oilers Coach Bill Peterson. "You can call Hargett sort of an insurance thing, though."

Stincic could become the Oilers' top middle linebacker by default since Garland Boyette took an assistant coach position with the team. However, Stincic has been bothered by injuries through his four-year career with the Saints and Dallas Cowboys.

As for Parks, the former all pro from Texas Tech handed out a written announcement after the final Saints' game last season that he no longer would play in New Orleans and would be choosy about where he was traded.

Last season Parks caught 32 passes for 542 yards and six touchdowns.

"We dropped so many passes last year," Peterson said. "The trade should help us, especially our receiving. We may use Dave at tight end some in addition to wide receiver. He's got good hands and experience. We need experience, too, especially our receivers."

In return the Saints got Nix, who completed 33 of 63 passes but had seven interceptions last year, plus seven-year regular defensive tackle Billingsley, who missed most of last season with knee injuries.

Dave Concepcion Says He Wants Regular Job

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Dave Concepcion was supposed to be one of two men sharing short-stap duties for the Cincinnati Reds this year.

The 23-year-old Venezuelan didn't like that idea, however. He didn't like having to platoon with Darrel Chaney, and this spring he has done something about it.

"If the season were to open tomorrow and a right-hander was pitching, I'd probably still open with Concepcion," Reds' Manager Sparky Anderson said Wednesday, although he had announced previously that Chaney would face right-handers and Concepcion southpaws.

Concepcion has made a near-miraculous turnaround this spring. A .209 hitter last year and a .209 hitter the year before, he has slugged the ball a better than .350 clip all spring and is the Reds' leader in runs batted in.

"As far as I am personally concerned, I am not contemplating any change in my status with St. Louis University," Polk said. The Billkens coach was in Edinburg earlier this week, and sources there said he had the inside track for the Pan American job. Polk denied his Texas trip had anything to do with changing jobs.

Boston Celts Win Record 63rd Game

Elsewhere, it was Houston 118, Baltimore 110; Atlanta 98, New York 93; Los Angeles 124, Kansas City-Omaha 118; Milwaukee 119, Seattle 96; Detroit 122, Portland 109 and Phoenix 134, Buffalo 124 in overtime. Jo Jo White's jump shot with 4:14 left put the Celtics ahead of the Bulls for good. Following White's shot, the last 10 points for both teams were scored by just two men—John Havlicek for Boston and Chet Walker for Chicago.

The Cougars, led by the first and second medalists Lee Baird and Ken Walter, stand at 595, followed by San Angelo No. 1 at 600, Midland No. 1 at 605, Permian No. 1 at 607 and Big Spring No. 1 with a 607.

Los Angeles Flavor Is Noted On Padre Club

YUMA, Ariz. (AP) — There's a Los Angeles Dodgers' flavor about the San Diego Padres—not surprising, since the club president, Buzzie Bavasi, and both his managers, Preston Gomez and Don Zimmer, have come from the Dodgers. The Padres, like the Dodgers, are long on pitching, youth and speed, short on power and experience. Only in San Diego's case, the pitching isn't quite as good, the youngsters not quite as dazzling, and the fast runners seldom on base.

WEST GETS HOT — Los Angeles' Jerry West scored 28 points in leading the Lakers over KC-Omaha although the Kings' Nate Archibald set a league record for assists in one season. Archibald, also the NBA's leading scorer, had six assists for a total of 910, breaking Guy Rodgers' mark of 908. Archibald scored only eight points before leaving the game at halftime with a severely bruised left elbow.

Milwaukee broke open a close game midway in the third period to defeat Seattle. The Sonics' downfall came after Coach Bucky Buckwalter was hit with two technical fouls and ordered from the game.

Bob Lanier set a Detroit club record of 1,146 rebounds—he also scored 33 points—and the Pistons posted a club record 25th home victory in whipping Portland. Phoenix trailed Buffalo by 17 points in the third quarter before rallying to beat the Braves in overtime.

After Russell's Ringer, TV Script Is Rewritten

NEW YORK (AP) — It won't be long before Dan E. Hutchins, advertising executive of the Long Distance Division of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, for whom the commercial was made, related the interesting vignette today involving the all-time great of the Boston Celtics.

Sports personalities are not content with monopolizing the TV screens with their game exploits these days. They are also clogging the commercial breaks.

Joe Namath is big with pop-corn poppers and shaving cream. Mark Spitz, the Olympic swimming ace, has a million dollar contract with a razor company. Muhammad Ali does a deodorant dialogue. Joe DiMaggio bats 'em out for a bank.

"We wanted a basketball star to feature one of our commercials," Hutchins said. "Bill Russell was a natural—a great athlete, a good personality and possessed with a wonderful laugh."

The script called for Russell to sit in a swivel chair behind an eight-foot desk and tell all the viewers that they can make points by calling friends and relatives via long distance.

At the end, he was supposed to wheel, throw the ball at a basket 25 yards away and naturally miss since nobody could make a shot like that.

Then he was to say: "I can miss, but you can't miss if you use long distance..."

ORGANIZATIONAL MEETING SET FOR GIRLS TONIGHT

The Miss Softball America League will hold an organizational meeting tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the Rannels Junior High gym, according to West Texas Area Commissioner Jane Upton.

More than 500 girls are expected to play this summer. Miss Upton said, with girls divided into a minor and major league, and possibly a senior division. Last year there were over 300 girls on 19 teams, and 25 teams are expected to be formed this season.

The Big Spring League was the largest in the nation last year. Organizations are also being formed in Denver City, Lamesa, Andrews, Plains and Sweetwater.

All girls from 9 through 18 years of age and other interested persons are invited to attend tonight's meeting.

Anyone interested in coaching or managing a team is urged to attend. Sponsors for several teams are also being sought.

Monterey Winner Over Longhorns

LUBBOCK — Lubbock Monterey rolled to its 11th baseball victory of the season by beating Big Spring, 5-1, here Wednesday.

Rickey Steen started on the mound for Big Spring and yielded four runs in the first three innings. Greg Crawford took over for the Longhorns in the fourth.

Mark Scott, in notching his second win against no losses for Monterey, went all the way on the mound and surrendered only three hits.

The two Big Spring pitchers yielded ten hits, three of which bounced off the bat of Jimmy Shankle. Dwayne Clanton and Rocky Albertis each had two blows for the winners.

Wednesday's game originally was to have been played as part of a doubleheader but was weathered out.

Glen Yarbrough scored the first run of the game for Monterey in the opening round when he beat out an infield hit, stole second, then third on an infield out and raced home on a wild pitch.

In the second, Albertis singled and Brad Harrelson, trying to sacrifice, gained a life on a bobble. Albertis was out trying to move to third, Harrelson taking second on the play. Clanton followed with a single to plate Harrelson.

Monterey picked up two more runs in the third. Gary Ashby and Shankle wired singles together. The runners moved along on a wild pitch. Ashby counted on an error at the plate. Albertis followed with a one-baser that plated Shankle.

Big Spring picked up an unearned run in the sixth when Willie Williams reached first on an error. Smith followed with a single and Williams sprinted aboard on a two-out single by Crawford.

Monterey came right back to score when a Steer misplay enabled Harrelson to get aboard. He moved up on Clanton's single, then stole third and home.

"The Plainsmen stole a total of five bases during the afternoon. Scott fanned seven and issued only three bases on balls. The defeat was the fifth in 11 starts for Big Spring.

YMCA To Teach Life-Saving

The Big Spring YMCA will hold a life-saving course beginning Tuesday and running through May 1, physical director Pat Owens has announced.

The classes, for both boys and girls, will be held each Tuesday and Thursday from 6-8 p.m. There will be a 12-15 age group for juniors, and a course for seniors over 15 years of age.

Entry fee is $7.50 for YMCA members and $15 for non-members, and includes a textbook, card, emblem and computerized record of certification in the national YMCA office. Interested persons may enroll by calling the Y at 7-8234, with the first class time deadline for entering.

Owens and Nancy Rhodes will be the course instructors.

Alabama Tries Big Ten foe

NEW YORK (AP) — Pro basketball scouts were expected to be in force again tonight for the National Invitation Tournament's quarterfinal doubleheader at Madison Square Garden.

A pair of upset winners in opening NIT games, Fairfield and Virginia Tech, tangled in tonight's opener with Alabama and Minnesota going in the second game. The winners clash Saturday in one of the tournament's semifinal matches.

Fairfield and Virginia Tech weren't really expected to get past tough first round opponents. But George Groom's 23 points and 19 by Phil Rogers helped Fairfield to an 80-76 decision over Marshall and Tech took New Mexico 65-43 with 6-7 Allan Bristow scoring 26 points and grabbing 10 rebounds.

Alabama survived its first test against Manhattan, beating the Jaspers 87-86 on Glenn Garrett's desperation jump shot at the buzzer.

The Crimson Tide, 21-6 for the season, figures to have its hands full with Minnesota's tough, pro-type club.

"They are as powerful and physical as any basketball team I've ever seen," said Alabama's Coach C.M. Newton after watching Minnesota, 21-4, wipe out Rutgers 68-59.

The key men for the Gophers are 6-10 Ron Behagen and 6-8 Jim Brewer, both likely first round selections in the drafts of the two pro basketball leagues.

While the collegians run through their paces, the pro scouts are watching closely.

Hargett May Play More In Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — The way Edd Hargett figures it, even going to the 1-13 Houston Oilers can't be a come down.

He figured Wednesday in a five-player deal which sent him along with end Dave Parks and linebacker Tom Stincic from the New Orleans Saints to the Oilers in exchange for reserve Oilers quarterback Kent Nix and injury-slowed Ron Billingsley.

Hargett, a fifth-year backup man for Archie Manning, did not play a single down last season.

"If I can play any, then I'm happy," he said after the trade.

"I don't have any idea why they never let me play. I guess they were just determined to let Archie play the whole game no matter what."

The Oilers already have quarterbacks Dan Pastorini and Lynn Dickey, but Dickey last year.

"We've got every confidence Dickey's going to play for us next year with Dan Pastroini," said Oilers Coach Bill Peterson. "You can call Hargett sort of an insurance thing, though."

Stincic could become the Oilers' top middle linebacker by default since Garland Boyette took an assistant coach position with the team. However, Stincic has been bothered by injuries through his four-year career with the Saints and Dallas Cowboys.

As for Parks, the former all-pro from Texas Tech handed out a written announcement after the final Saints' game last season that he no longer would play in New Orleans and would be choosy about where he was traded.

Last season Parks caught 32 passes for 542 yards and six touchdowns.

"We dropped so many passes last year," Peterson said. "The trade should help us, especially our receiving. We may use Dave at tight end some in addition to wide receiver. He's got good hands and experience. We need experience, too, especially our receivers."

In return the Saints got Nix, who completed 33 of 63 passes but had seven interceptions last year, plus seven-year regular defensive tackle Billingsley, who missed most of last season with knee injuries.

Dave Concepcion Says He Wants Regular Job

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Dave Concepcion was supposed to be one of two men sharing short-stop duties for the Cincinnati Reds this year.

The 23-year-old Venezuelan didn't like that idea, however. He didn't like having to platoon with Darrel Chaney, and this spring he has done something about it.

"If the season were to open tomorrow and a right-hander was pitching, I'd probably still open with Concepcion," Reds' Manager Sparky Anderson said Wednesday, although he had announced previously that Chaney would face right-handers and Concepcion southpaws.

Dave Concepcion Says He Wants Regular Job

Concepcion has made a near-miraculous turnaround this spring. A .209 hitter last year and a .209 hitter the year before, he has slugged the ball at a better than .350 clip all spring and is the Reds' leader in runs batted in.

On the home run front, all-time National League slugger Hank Aaron and Willie Mays were back at their specialty... namely, hitting the ball over fences.

A tie-breaking two-run homer by Thurman Munson in the sixth inning off relief ace Tug McGraw climaxed a 6-2 victory for the New York Yankees over the New York Mets despite Mays' second spring homer.

Hal McRae's two-run homer wiped out a 2-0 Houston lead on Bob Watson's two-run shot and the Kansas City Royals went on to beat the Astros 5-3.

Peters, a veteran nonroster lefty, worked four innings for the Royals, allowing three hits, two unearned runs and fanning six.

Boston Celts Win Record 63rd Game

Service Is Keyword At Brown's Gulf Station

Service is the keyword at months are invited to drop by offering all the service they can built up quite a list of customers who will be glad to tell you why they go to that particular station. The answer is simple: Service. It's still a service station.

Kent Brown recently won a trip to Jamaica awarded by Gulf Oil for the operation of his station and the increase in sales there. This did not come about by accident. It came about through good service. Brown still believes that this is what it is all about at service stations. They have complete service calls 24 hours a day even though the station only remains open from 7 a.m. until 9 p.m., and in the summer months, 10 p.m. They have two numbers that may be called at night if their customer is needing a service call. These are 3-3647 and 3-2337. At the station, Brown sells all of those topnotch Gulf products, including tires and also handles Dunlop tires. Brown stresses that car owners, before they select new tires for the spring and summer

MR. AND MRS. B. G. (JACK) SHEPARD

B. G. Shepards Are Feted At Reception

Mr. and Mrs. B. G. (Jack) Shepard, who were married March 21, 1923 in Dallas, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Wednesday with a reception in the Nursing Home Care Unit, Veterans Administration Hospital.

Mrs. Barry B. Maddy, Coahoma, and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. True, longtime acquaintances of the Shepards and volunteers at the hospital, Mrs. Maddy presided at the guest registry.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a gold cloth and overlay of white nylon net accented with gold satin ribbons and corner clusters of white wedding bells. The tiered cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom, and the centerpiece was of gold and white chrysanthemums. During the reception music was provided by a choral group composed of hospital employees directed by James McFarland.

She Cries 'Uncle'

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I live 350 miles from my young sister who is 13. She wrote and told me she is being bothered by a "funny uncle." This same uncle tried the same thing with me and my two older sisters when we lived at home. My parents knew about it at the time, but they never seemed to care or think it was very serious. Anyway, this uncle is still allowed in our house.

submit that children should be included as it is that kind of togetherness that holds the family together.

I have directed many church weddings and I'm with "Plain Talker." In the first place, most children do not want to get dressed up to go. They would rather stay home and play.

When they finally do get to the church, they seldom watch what is going on at the ceremony. They are too busy sliding up and down the pews, or changing from one seat to another, or writing in the hymnals.

Then when they get to the reception, they really let loose. They run around and play tag, bumping into people who are carrying their coffee or punch. Or they run around in other parts of the church or hall or wherever the reception may be. And do they ever eat up the peanuts and candy on the buffet table? They sure do.

SIGN ME... ANOTHER PLAIN TALKER

CONFIDENTIAL TO PETE IN WESTPORT: You may be the best entertainment in town, but Westport is a small town.

I wrote to my sister and told her to tell a school counselor, a minister or a policeman about what's going on, but she says she feels so ashamed and guilty. I wish I could make her understand that it's not HER fault, and that there is no reason for her to feel guilty.

I feel so helpless and frustrated. Is there anything I can do from here?

BIG SISTER

DEAR SISTER: Persuade your young sister to report this "funny uncle" to the juvenile authorities immediately. And just to cover all the bases, she should tell her school counselor about him. I can't imagine your parents being so calm and unconcerned.

DEAR ABBY: "Plain Talker" was all for leaving youngsters out of adult affairs, such as weddings. Then someone wrote in to

Marionettes Here Friday

Sponsored by Mu Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, the Nicolo Marionettes will appear at the municipal auditorium at 4:30 p.m. Friday, bringing to young audiences their latest production, "Aladdin and his Wonderful Lamp."

In the Nicolo version, the story is a musical extravaganza filled with tricks, illusions and stunts that will delight children.

There are magicians, vanishing Genies, a flying carpet, a disappearing castle, and a cast of marionettes telling a story of magic, mystery and suspense.

The settings and properties were designed by Patrick Bellew, noted Broadway designer. The wooden actors have a human appeal in their lively actions and in their individual characters. There is a bright hero, Aladdin, the pompous old sultan, the pretty princess, the coniving magician, the funny court assistants and many others.

Ann Jones, who has costumed stars of the Broadway stage, created the brilliant costumes for the marionettes. Melodic tunes from the classics enliven the action of the play.

Admission is 75 cents.

Four Join Spring City Chapter

Four new members were accepted into Spring City Chapter, American Business Women's Association, during its annual Hand of Friendship tea Sunday in the home of Mrs. Barbara Martin, 4059 Vicky.

The new members are Mrs. L. M. Maggard, Mrs. Wayne Wallace, Mrs. June Bristol and Mrs. Shirley Claver. Guests were Ms. Florence Odom, Ms. Dorothy Dockett, Miss Mary Anderson, Miss Sandra Crocker, Miss Kay Kennemer, Ms. Marjorie Jordan and Mrs. Peggy McDonald, a member-at-large.

Rebekahs Study Life Of Author

The life of the late Schuyler Colfax, member of Odd Fellowship and author of the Degree of Rebekah, was outlined by Mrs. U. S. Beechly Tuesday for John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge No. 153 at the IOOF Hall.

Colfax was an editor and statesman, serving as vice president of the United States under Yllyses S. Grant. He wrote the Rebekah Degree and it was accepted by the Odd Fellow grand lodge in 1851. The degree is for wives of Odd Fellows.

In conjunction with the program, Mrs. Brookie Martin played "Blest Be the Tie that Binds," and Mrs. Lee Thackery read a story by Daphne Kenealy which honored Colfax. Also, the poem "Let's Give a Toast," was read by Mrs. J. C. Pye. The poem was written by Bernice Skiles, past noble grand of a West Virginia Rebekah lodge.

Mrs. A. I. Johnson presided, and the 18 members present reported 15 visits to the sick.

The Pioneer Sewing Club met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. C. R. Camp, Forsan, where they continued work on individual projects. Refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be at 2 p.m., April 3 in the home of Mrs. R. A. Chambers, 2113 Warren.

Speaker Says "Love, Violence Bring Out Plants' Emotions"

"Cleve Backster, a speaker at the African Violet Society of America convention held recently in New York, substantiated that plants do have feelings," said Mrs. Phillip Bunch, guest speaker Wednesday for Texas Bouquet Violet Club in the home of Mrs. Adrien Westbrook.

"As a polygraph expert, Backster did experiments with plants using lie detection machines to record reactions," said Mrs. Bunch. "His experiments convinced him that plants have some sort of telepathic communication and probably possess emotions or feelings."

Mrs. Bunch said Backster attached polygraph machines to plants and found they react exactly as humans when subjected to violence, anger, joy or love. In one experiment he placed two plants alone in a room and then gave six people each a slip of paper with a certain task to perform. One person was to murder one of the plants. The people filed past the plants, and as the "murderer" went by, the plants reacted so violently that the polygraph needle jumped as far as it would go. Backster attributed this to "overwhelming fear."

Backster said the experiments also showed that a fruit or vegetable which is completely rotten or that is cooking will still show reactions.

Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscales presided during business, and refreshments were served from a table covered with a yellow linen cloth with milk glass appointments. Mrs. Robin Szczepaniak was a guest. The group will meet again April 18 in the home of Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscales, 705 W. 18th.

Colorado Action Strictly For Birds

DENVER (AP) — The lark bunting has a "furtive, secretive air," while the mountain bluebird has "an open, honest, trusting look," a state legislator contends.

Rep. Michael Strang offered the descriptions while lobbying to have the mountain bluebird named Colorado's official bird to replace the lark bunting.

Other members of the committee decided, however, to retain the lark bunting as the state bird below 5,000-foot elevations, the mountain bluebird between 5,000 and 8,000 feet and the ptarmigan above 8,000.

Opening lead: Ace of ♥

A substantial swing was in the offing when today's hand was dealt during an important National Team Championship. Yesterday we presented the result at one table where North and South ended up in a contract of six diamonds doubled. In an all-out effort to make his bid, declarer was unable to cope with the adverse distribution, and he ended up three tricks short, for an 800 point deficit.

East and West were pleased with the result, inasmuch as their opponents can fulfill a grand slam contract in clubs with the greatest of ease. They were in for a surprise when they compared results later with their teammates who held the North-South cards when the hand was replayed at the other table.

The bidding proceeded as depicted in the diagram, and it will be observed that neither North opened the bidding in second position—which proved to be a costly decision. If North does open with one club, the partnership can hardly fail to reach at least a game contract in the suit—if not a small slam—and thereby assure a profit on the deal.

East's two spade bid is a specialized convention employed by some partnerships to act as a mild preemptive measure against the opponents and at the same time announce possession of a good six card suit. It shows less high card strength than an opening one bid and is, of course, not forcing.

South's two no trump overall was made in an effort to compete—his hand is not suitable for a takeout double because of the shortage in hearts. West raised to three spades and North carried on to three no trump, a decision open to question inasmuch as partner figures to have support for clubs and North's hand is highly unbalanced.

When West persisted to four spades, North had another opportunity to show his suit by bidding five clubs. He should not have passed the decision around to his partner and, even after South doubled, it is doubtful whether North should have let it stand.

South opened his singleton ace of hearts against the final contract, and then shifted to a small diamond in a desperate attempt to get his partner in for a heart ruff. North put up the ace of diamonds; however, he did not read South's purpose and continued with a diamond which East ruffed.

The king of spades was driven out and, when East regained the lead, he drew trump, ruffed one club in dummy and discarded the other two on West's long hearts. His losses consisted of one spade, one heart and one diamond. The doubled contract was worth 790 points and the net result on the deal was a mere 19 point swing—a virtual standoff.

Anti-Reds In Chile Win Vote, Lose Hope

By PENNY LERNOUX

Copley News Service

SANTIAGO, Chile — "Chile is finished for us," the young businessman said. "The Marxists won. I am going to take my family to Venezuela."

Why such pessimism when, in fact, the right-wing and center-leftist parties in the opposition Democratic Confederation outpolled the Marxists in the recent Chilean congressional elections?

"The Marxists won," the man replied, "because the poor are now aware of their political power."

That, he seemed to feel, means that things will go on from bad to worse in Chile.

The results of the elections themselves, though, would seem hardly to justify such a dim view of the political future.

The Democratic opposition polled 55.7 per cent of the valid votes cast Sunday, March 4, while the Marxist parties in President Salvador Allende's Popular Unity (UP) coalition got almost 44 per cent. True, that was a Marxist improvement of about 8 per cent over their showing in the 1970 elections that propelled Allende into the presidency. Moreover, UP's performance reversed the voter's traditional tendency to switch allegiances in mid-term elections.

Allende's two predecessors — Christian Democrat Eduardo Frei and the National Party's Jorge Alessandri — lost their power to impeach Allende.

UP's victory was all the more surprising because it came at a time when the Chilean people are suffering severe inflation and food scarcities.

The opposition parties were convinced that by uniting forces, rather than each putting up a separate slate as they did in the 1970 race, they easily would win 60 per cent of the vote. The more optimistic even believed the opposition might attract 70 per cent of the vote, giving the parties a clear two-thirds majority in congress and the power to impeach Allende.

That they were wrong, as my business acquaintance said, is due primarily to the "political consciousness" of Chile's poorer classes.

Had politicians from the opposition spent much time in Santiago's slum "poblaciones" and "campamentos" they might not have been so certain of a landslide victory.

Most of the poblacion inhabitants do have a higher standard of living under the Allende administration. They no longer reside in flimsy tents and they now can afford to buy a few consumer goods. Many live in simple but comfortable homes.

They have running water, electricity and telephones. The men claim they are earning better pay. Unlike middle-class housewives, the poorer women do not have to stand in long lines to buy food because the government supplies them with artificially cheap "family baskets."

However, UP is not just buying full stomachs. Housewives in the campamentos, for example, speak knowledgeably about the political scene and the revolutionary processes taking place in Chile. They feel Allende has given them self-respect and that "no sacrifice is too much to make to help our comrade."

UP supporters believe that if the government can cope with its most serious economic problems this year, the Marxist coalition not only will win the presidential race in 1976 but a majority in congress in 1977 when the next congressional elections are to be held.

With a majority, the Marxists could amend the constitution, throw out the opposition-dominated judiciary, end freedom of the press and complete Chile's socialization.

Fort Worth Triumph

FORT WORTH: A FRONTIER TRIUMPH. By Julia Kathryn Barrett. Encino Press, Austin, $12.50.

Casual observers of city names may be mystified as to where the "Fort" in Fort Worth came from.

This is thoroughly explained in this new book which tells the history of the city through Reconstruction.

The fort was established June 6, 1849—at least the flag first was flown then. It was one of a line of posts established to push back militant Indians.

Yet the troops had only one fight, beating several hundred Indians to the punch by attacking them at night.

By Sept. 17, 1853, the Indian threat had ended in that particular area and the fort was abandoned, so as a military post it did not have enough history to stick in people's minds.

Yet any fort attracts civilians—after all, the post was established to protect the great flow of farmers which began in the 1840s in this region.

Thus it became a town, too, slightly contemptuous of nearby Dallas, a mere village. It was called "Fort Town" for some time.

The fort was named for Gen. William Jenkins Worth, a distinguished commander in the Southwest. He is buried at Broadway and Fifth Avenue in New York.

The town went through many traumas. The most serious was an uprising of slaves, believed organized by abolitionists, resulting in the burning of large portions of Fort Worth and Dallas.

The book is a definitive history of 366 pages. Julia Kathryn Garrett taught for 45 years in Fort Worth and is the author of numerous histories.—The AP (REF).

NEW MAN — NEW WORLD. By Leighton Ford. Work Books, Waco, Tex. $3.95.

Leighton Ford, vice president of the Billy Graham Association, says in this new work that a revolutionary force is at work in people—the power of the gospel of Christ.

He says Christians are at a strategic intersection in life and history and that they cannot afford to be passive.—The AP (REF).

THE BOOK OF DEDE KORKUT. A translation. University of Texas Press, Austin, $7.50.

This book is one of the oldest surviving pieces of Turkish literature and can be traced to 10th century origins. No one knows who wrote it. Dede Korkut is a symbol of minstrelsy rather than an actual author.

HOUSTON (AP) — City councilmen have adopted a master plan for $1.45 billion rapid transit system in Houston.

They will decide later how the project shall be financed.

The plan, as broadly described in a report by a firm of transportation consultants, would be divided into two phases requiring 15 to 20 years to finish.

There would be a downtown subway station, a system of train routes radiating like spokes from the downtown area, express bus lanes on the freeways and upgraded bus service in all neighborhoods.

Better Alone

Jean Adams
TEEN FORUM

VIRGIN: (Q.) I have very few friends. I don't like the ones I have, but I can't find any others. I am the only virgin in my group, and they make fun of me because of that. My sister, who also isn't a virgin, makes fun of me too.

She and my friends are always going out with guys. They go out for just one reason. Well, two reasons, really. The second reason is drugs.

I don't go out. I am afraid if I do with anyone I know I will get into trouble. What else can I do? — Lonesome in Connecticut.

(A.) It is better to hang around alone than to hang around with people who pull you down. The real reason your dubious friends taunt you is that they are trying to get you to descend to their level. This is a trait of human nature.

You are smart to stay away from sex and drugs, and I promise you that if you really try you can find girls and boys who feel as you do and who will appreciate your good qualities.

CURSED: (Q.) All my mother does is beat me up, yell at me and curse me. I am planning to run away. Do you know any places that would take a 14-year-old girl? Please don't tell me it's cold outside (I read your column); I'm fed up.

All my friends are treated with respect by their families, but not me.—Sick of it in Pennsylvania.

(A.) You cannot know exactly what goes on in the homes of your friends, so do not spend

The 12 stories originally were sung or chanted in the courts and camps of political or military leaders and remained a major oral tradition even when formed into a book.

The episodes are so well done that they often are considered authentic history of a single nomadic tribe, although scholars are not always able to tell where a good story and history begin and end.

The book was lost for a long time, then was printed for the first time in 1916, overcoming problems of reconstruction and translation. This is the first English production.

The translators are Warren S. Walker of Texas Tech University and Faruk Sumer and Ahmet Uysal of the University of Ankara.—The AP (REF).

GUIDE TO THE NEW MEXICO MOUNTAINS. By Herbert E. Ungnade. University of New Mexico Press, Albuquerque, $7.50. Paper $3.45.

New Mexico is so filled with mountains you need a program to sort them out. And that is what this book does—a kind of handbook organized for easy reference.

It includes a brief geological history as well as a short report of the settlement of the state.

Added are the ski resorts and areas of special interest to mountain climbers.

This is the second edition, enlarged and revised. The late Herbert E. Ungnade was a mountain climbing fan and died in a fall in 1965 shortly after the first edition was published.—The AP (REF).

TODAY IS YOURS. Edited by Sallie Chesham. Word Books, Waco, Tex. $3.50.

Seventy-seven persons from many backgrounds contributed to these devotionals and inspirational pieces.

HAROLD WESLEY

Airman Harold G. Wesley, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Billy R. Kittrell of 1908 S. Monticello Big Spring, has been assigned to Chanute AFB, Ill., after completing Air Force basic training.

During his six weeks at the Air Force Training Command's Lackland AFB, Tex., he studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations.

The airman has been assigned to the Technical Training Center at Chanute for specialized training in aircraft maintenance.

Airman Wesley is a 1972 graduate of Big Spring Senior High School.

Tex., has been named Outstanding Noncommissioned Officer of the Quarter in his unit at Vandenberg AFB, Calif.

Sgt. Roten, a fuels specialist, was selected for his leadership, exemplary conduct and duty performance. He is assigned to a unit of the Strategic Air Command, America's nuclear deterrent force of long range bombers and intercontinental ballistic missiles.

The sergeant is a 1968 graduate of Permian High School, Odessa, Tex.

His wife is the former Karen Lee. They are the parents of one child, Brian. Sgt. Roten has completed 12 months of duty in Vietnam.

Navy Seaman David E. MacKay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. MacKay of 1412 Tucson Drive, Big Spring, Tex., graduated from recruit training at the Naval Training Center at San Diego.

U.S. Air Force Maj. Thomas E. Morris, son of Mrs. T. M. Morris, Rt. 2, Ninety Six, S.C., has received the Meritorious Service Medal during ceremonies at Patrick AFB, Fla.

Maj. Morris, a staff development engineer, was cited for his outstanding duty performance with the Aeronautical Systems Division at Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio.

He now serves as commander of the Grand Bahama Army Airfield, Bahamas, which is under the jurisdiction of the Air Force Eastern Test Range at Patrick.

U.S. Air Force Captain Earl J. Guidry Jr., son of retired USAF Major and Mrs. Earl J. Guidry Sr., who reside on Dorr Field Road, Arcadia, Fla., has arrived for duty at Barksdale AFB, La.

Captain Guidry, a KC-135 pilot, is assigned to a unit of the Strategic Air Command, America's nuclear deterrent force of long range bombers and intercontinental ballistic missiles. He previously served at Nakhon Phanom Royal Thai AFB, Thailand.

The captain, a 1964 graduate of DeSoto High School, received a B.A. degree in political science in 1968 from the University of Florida where he was commissioned through the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program.

His wife, Tricia Ann, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Statter of 608 Baylor Blvd., Big Spring, Tex.

U.S. Air Force S. Sgt. Dennis W. Roten, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Roten, Stanton,

Mexico To Be Featured In Sunday Texas Star

Emphasizing Mexico as a land of contrasts, the Texas Star features this neighboring country in a special edition this Sunday.

Barry Bishop, an American journalist and correspondent for 15 years in Mexico, compares the country's past and future in "Modern Mexico on the Move." According to Bishop, "President Luis Echeverria Alvarez is working feverishly to speed interior development and to create at least 600,000 new jobs a year in a country of 50 million." An increase in agricultural and industrial production and overseas trading are major developments implemented to reach this goal.

Not Too Much Beefing At Zoo

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Most of the Cincinnati Zoo's 2,500 meat-eating residents are bearing up under substitutes forced by the inflated price of meat.

Horsemeat has gone up from 28.5 cents a pound a year ago to 50.5 cents and zoologist Barry Wakeman says the zoo can't afford it.

The animals eat about 2,500 pounds a week for an annual meat bill of $65,000, up from $33,800.

Wakeman said 95 per cent of the animals are eating a prepared product made up of horsemeat, eggs, yeast, kidneys, corn oil and additives. The remaining 5 per cent won't eat it, however.

"They're the older animals," Wakeman said, "and set in their ways."

Also in the Star, Jean Harker Burr's informs American tourists to Mexico of important Customs regulations which will save time and money at border crossings. Jeff W. Henderson details a fascinating train tour of a canyon complex in Mexico that is four times larger than the Grand Canyon in the United States.

A biographical profile on Dr. Hector Garcia, founder of American GI Forum, which seeks to benefit Mexican-American veterans and their families, is drawn by John Paul Moore. Twenty-five years after its organization, the Forum has grown to 240 chapters in 22 states.

Food editor Mary Faulk Kooch features favorite Mexican recipes such as Pozole and Pinto Bean Soup in her weekly Star Hostess column.

America's Grain Machine: It Keeps The World Fed

Caplay News Service
 WASHINGTON — Massive grain sales to the Soviet Union and a worldwide grain shortage have sent U.S. reserves skidding toward a projected 441 million bushels by June 30 — the lowest in almost six years. But the leading edge of a giant new crop will begin moving into grain markets about that time and the tight supply situation is expected to ease.
 The Agriculture Department is anticipating a 20 million ton increase in the feed grain harvest and a 225 million bushel increase in the wheat crop. This is expected to be enough to more than meet all U.S. domestic needs with enough leftover to meet requirements elsewhere in the world even if the crop failures of 1972 are repeated in part.
 Severe winter weather and lack of a sheltering ground snow cover sent the Soviet grain crop plummeting from 139 million metric tons in 1971 to 122 million in 1972.
 There are simultaneous crop failures in India and Bangladesh and a poor crop year in Australia which is normally a major producer and world supplier of wheat.
 Out of this grew a sudden surge of demand that has contributed in part to soaring food prices in the United States.
TONS OF WHEAT
 Of this, 7,666,000 tons had been shipped by March 2. The Soviets 11,075,000 metric tons of wheat, 374,000 metric tons of rye, 6,300,000 metric tons of corn and 1 million metric tons of soybeans — a $1 billion transaction for 18,749,000 metric tons of grain.
 The remainder is to be on its way by the end of the crop year, June 30.
 By that time the expected U.S. wheat carry over of 441 million bushels will be the smallest since an earlier shortage sent it down to 425 million bushels on July 1, 1967.
 To meet the changed world and domestic situation the Nixon administration has released 40 million acres out of a national total of 61.5 million acres that were idle under various feed grain, cotton and other support programs.

MARIJUANA MINOR PROBLEM COMPARED WITH ALCOHOL, DRUGS

Public Notions About Dope Use Largely Wrong

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal drug commission today said government efforts may be perpetuating drug use instead of discouraging it.

The panel urged creation of a new federal antidrug agency with a limited lifespan and asked private citizens to assume the major burden of discouraging drug use.

BOOZE WORST

Reporting to Congress and President Nixon on results of its two-year study, the National Commission on Marijuana and Drug Abuse also said: —Public notions about drug use are largely wrong.

—Private citizens rely too much on government to discourage drug use.

—America's worst drug problem is alcoholism. Heroin dependence runs second.

—Legal use of barbiturate

“downers,” especially by housewives, is “America's hidden drug problem.”

—Marijuana is a minor problem compared with alcohol and other drugs. The commission reaffirmed its year-old recommendation to end criminal penalties for smoking marijuana.

The commission, relatively conservative in makeup, included nine members appointed by Nixon and two each by both houses of Congress. Its chairman is the former Republican governor of Pennsylvania, Raymond P. Shafer.

BUREAUCRACIES

The commission's sharpest words were aimed at what it called a “drug-abuse industrial complex,” the welter of federal bureaucracies that now spend nearly $1 billion a year on anti-drug programs.

“To justify ongoing programs, the drug bureaucracy must simultaneously demonstrate that the problem is being effectively attacked, and that it is not diminishing . . . Throughout this process fundamental assumptions are not questioned, programs are not evaluated, and the problem is perpetuated from year to year.”

The report recommended setting up a new federal agency that would take over virtually all anti-drug law enforcement, treatment and prevention. States were urged to set up similar agencies.

LEAD TO CRIME

The agency would be dissolved automatically after five years, unless Congress extended it. Its functions would be reassigned to other agencies.

The commission said that society should pay most attention to controlling the types of drug use that lead to crime or other behavior that damages society.

By this measure, it said, alcohol “is without question the most serious drug problem in this country today.” It is strongly associated with violent crime, auto accidents, suicide and broken marriages.

The commission urged the alcoholic beverage industry to advertise the harmful effects of drinking and to refrain from tempting youth to drink. It rejected any return to prohibition, however.

Heroin is the only other drug which the commission found to be a major threat to society. The report said that, although only a tiny portion of Americans ever try it, and although most of them don't become dependent on it, the drug is nonetheless strongly habit-forming and especially attractive to slum youth and others unhappy with their surroundings.

EXPENSIVE

The habit is expensive and often leads users to steal, push drugs and engage in prostitution to raise money. However, the commission said, the extent of heroin-related crime is often exaggerated and heroin isn't often associated with violent crime, as is alcohol.

Amphetamines, barbiturates, hallucinogens, methaqualone and cocaine rate only “moderate social concern,” the commission said, because their use is relatively well-controlled.

However, it urged stricter controls on methaqualone, said cocaine use seems to be increasing and claimed doctors appear to be prescribing too many barbiturates.

The commission did not join

Nixon's call for mandatory life sentences for heroin dealers. Rather, it called for better-trained police, less confusion and infighting among federal drug-law enforcers and efforts to prevent corruption of police by drug pushers.

TREATMENT

It also said persons accused of simple heroin possession should be offered the option of treatment or counseling, either before trial or before sentencing.

The commission also urged states to set up treatment programs, which it said should be funded mainly by the federal government.

But it said neither improved law enforcement nor improved treatment can do much about the root causes of drug use.

These causes can only be attacked if government focuses on social, economic and cultural forces behind drug use and if private citizens take up most of the burden of discouraging drug use, the commission said.

Among its many detailed recommendations the commission urged a freeze on distribution of drug literature, most of which it found to be factually wrong. And it asked that educators consider a freeze on classroom drug instruction, which it said may merely stimulate youthful interest in drugs.

482 PAGES

The commission spent $1 million in its two-year study and visited 36 countries. Today's 482-page report is its second, following last year's recommendations on marijuana, which it found to be virtually harmless to the casual user and without significant links to crime or other drugs.

Big Insurance Decision Due On March 27

AUSTIN (AP) — The House Insurance Committee probably will face a decision March 27 on competitive rates for car and home insurance.

A subcommittee indicated it would decide Thursday on a competitive rate bill and lay out its recommendations at a meeting of the full committee next Tuesday.

The subcommittee left little doubt its final recommendation will be a bill by Rep. Don Cavness, D-Austin, which is identical to one passed by the House in October during a special legislative session.

Under Cavness' bill, insurance companies would set their own rates, subject to scrutiny by the State Insurance Board to make sure they were adequate and non-discriminatory but not excessive. The board would gather statistics from each company and publish a standard rate each year based on the combined premiums and losses of all companies doing business in Texas. The standing rate would be used for comparison with actual rates charged by each company.

Rep. Carlos Truan, D-Corpus Christi, sponsor of a competitive rate bill of his own, said he would not support the Cavness measure unless it is to require the board to set maximum rates that no company could exceed.

Cavness said he was absolutely against a ceiling. During the special session, he withdrew support from his bill at one point after the House added an maximum rate provision.

“I am just not ready to give the companies complete control over what they can charge. It's just a simple matter of not having complete faith in the insurance companies,” Truan said.

Cavness also said he would have a preliminary report for the committee on an actuarial study of insurance board statistics which show that uniform, state-set rates give Texans cheaper car insurance than most other states get from competition.

He said the actuary, Dr. Robert Witt of the University of Texas at Austin's insurance department, had “pretty well indicated that the information put out by the insurance board was statistically unsound.”

Americans Didn't Know Why They Were Fighting?

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong general whose troops battled U.S. forces in the Saigon region for seven years says the Americans were good, courageous men and better equipped than his own, but they had no cause to fight for.

The Americans were "good fighters... There was no doubt about their courage," Lt. Gen. Tran Van Tra told newsmen at a Canadian cocktail party.

"But every army must have a cause and ours was national liberation," he continued. "Soldiers who fight for an ideal will always defeat those who don't have one, even if they are not as well equipped. The Americans did not have an ideal to fight for."

The party was given by Canadian peacekeeping officials for their visiting foreign minister, Mitchell Sharp.

At one time, U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker was less than 10 feet from the diminutive general whose troops tried to overrun his embassy in the 1968 Tet offensive. But Bunker spotted the green Viet Cong and North Vietnamese uniforms and moved away.

It was the first time Western newsmen have been able to talk at length with the Viet Cong general who reportedly commanded the 1968 attack against Saigon and the attacks last year around An Loc and along Highway 13 north of Saigon.

Tra obviously enjoyed the discussion but parried most inquiries on tactical subjects and his own role, saying such answers were "top secret."

The Tet offensive of 1968, Tra said in response to one question, was aimed at "forcing the Americans to de-escalate the war." Last year's Communist offensive was aimed at "forcing the Americans to sign a peace agreement at Paris," he said.

Statutes Can't Halt Gun Ownership, Says Burleson

By OMAR BURLESON, M.C. WASHINGTON — Opponents of the 1968 Gun Control Law had a slogan saying, "Guns don't kill people — people kill people."

The truth in that line is now pretty obvious. In spite of the law governing gun registration and transportation across state lines — in spite of sizable federal funds to upgrade local law enforcement — in spite of additional law enforcement officers in many places, crime is still rampant. It is true that some categories of major crimes have shown a decline in the last two reports. Crimes committed with firearms continue to be a major concern. This situation gives rise to arguments on both sides of the question on gun control. The more criminal acts committed with firearms, the more the anti-gun proponents claim the need for more control. Some even want to deny every citizen the right to own a gun. The other side is that we have the requirement for registration of certain types of guns, which has shown no improvement in the rate of crime in which guns are used.

Each instance of heinous crime gives impetus to the gun controllers. Immediately after the vicious shooting of Sen. Stennis of Mississippi, newspaper editorials appeared in many city papers advocating more gun laws and more legislation was introduced in the Congress for this purpose. In a robbery in Washington, D.C., this past week, the robbers shot five people and pistol whipped others for no cause other than to demonstrate their viciousness.

It is a simple fact that firearms can be home produced without any great ingenuity. The police recently warned people to lower their radio antenna when parking their automobiles on the street. This is because hoodlums can come by and with little effort, break off the antenna which can be used to fashion into a firearm. It will never be difficult for the criminal to find even easier ways to acquire a gun. Just as liquor was provided in prohibition and narcotics are provided today by organized crime, so would organized crime find guns for anyone who could pay the price while legitimate owners were denied the right of private possession.

The President sent a pretty rough anti-crime bill to the Congress last week. The recommendations emphasized deterrents to crime, including the restoration of the death penalty for certain federal offenses. Probably no stronger language has been used on the subject than that contained in the message.

It is time we observe what is going on around us and go after the criminal and not the gun. The individual who carries a gun during commission of a felony does so with absolute premeditation and with a willingness to use it to kill.

In London, England, where the strictest gun regulations are known, we find the city is now facing a truly alarming increase in crimes committed with firearms. Ireland, a nation with years of strict gun controls, has managed to acquire enough weapons to carry on a civil war.

There is simply no way firearms can be eliminated, but the fear of severe punishment can eliminate at least some of the criminals who use them.

Watson Speaker At McCall Fete

WACO — William Marvin Watson, former U.S. postmaster general, will speak at a March 30 banquet honoring Dr. Abner V. McCall, president of Baylor University, Watson's alma mater.

Watson, who was special assistant to the late President Lyndon B. Johnson, will be the guest speaker at the banquet in conjunction with McCall Recognition Week on the Baylor campus.

State and local officials have been asked to proclaim March 30 as Abner V. McCall Day.

A scholarship fund has been established in McCall's name by the advisory committee for the recognition event. The committee, composed of business, political, denominational and civic leaders, will fund the initial scholarship.

Plans for the recognition day include convocations on campus during the week, an afternoon reception for out-of-town guests and the banquet at Waco's Civic and Convention Center. About 2,200 persons, including Gov. and Mrs. Briscoe are expected to attend the banquet. The governor will deliver a brief speech. H. C. Pittman, executive director of the State Bar of Texas, also will speak briefly at the banquet.
