DEADLINE FOR WITHDRAWAL WEDNESDAY

Laos To Free U.S. Prisoners

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnam has announced an agreement to release the final 139 American prisoners held in

POW List, Page 14

Vietnam in exchange for withdrawal of the remaining American military forces beginning Tuesday and ending Thursday.

A North Vietnamese spokesman, Bui Tin, made the announcement early Tuesday, Saigon time.

Tin made the announcement early Tuesday Saigon time. He said that North Vietnam will release 40 more American prisoners at Gia Lam on Wednesday and 67 on Thursday.

VERY SOON

The Communist-backed Path-

et Lao will release nine American prisoners captured in Laos "very very soon" he added but said he was unsure of the date. He later said Wednesday.

U.S. demands for assurances that the nine prisoners held in Laos would be released had blocked the release of the 139 Americans in Vietnam since last Saturday.

The deadline for release of all American prisoners and the withdrawal of all American troops is Wednesday under provisions of the Paris peace agreement.

The timetable announced by Tin means that they will be one day late.

"That is to say" said Tin "that the American party will receive its POWs by a delay of one day. Our side agrees also that the withdrawal of American troops also will be delayed by one day."

LAST TROOPS

Tin said that the question of 159 U.S. Marine guards attached to the U.S. Embassy who the Communists had insisted should be part of the U.S. withdrawal had not been resolved. He said however that the Communists agreed to the American withdrawal plan of more than 5,000 troops on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday coinciding with release of the prisoners.

Tin said it was agreed that the four-party Joint Military Commission which under terms of the agreement was set to expire Wednesday will end its work after the last American prisoners are released and after the last troops have left.

The North Vietnamese said the release agreement includes the nine American prisoners held up to release of the other al to give an exact date, time and place for their turnover had held up release of the other U.S. troop withdrawal.

Tin said the resolution to the dispute was worked out in secret meetings between the North Vietnamese and United States in Saigon and between the Pathet Lao and the United States in Vientiane, the Laotian capital.

Tin said that the 825 members of the North Vietnamese delegation to the four-party Joint Military Commission and the 825 U.S. representatives to the commission will leave South Vietnam on Friday and Saturday.

WITHDRAW

The United States had refused to withdraw its commission delegation or the rest of the remaining U.S. military establishment in Vietnam until the Pathet Lao or North Vietnamese gave a precise commitment for release of the nine Americans captured in Laos.

Tin and other Communist spokesmen said the Pathet Lao will free the nine Americans at Gia Lam on Wednesday, along with 40 being released by Hanoi.

The American prisoner turnover will be completed on Thursday with the release by North Vietnam of the last group of 67 American prisoners, Tin said.

The United States suspended withdrawal of American troops last week until North Vietnam release of the nine prisoners assumed responsibility for the captured in Laos by furnishing the date and place they will be released. U.S. sources say some of the American POWs released earlier reported seeing the nine in Hanoi.

Watergate 'Star' May Call Names

Wiretaps Review

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today agreed without comment to review a lower court decision tossing out evidence gathered from dozens of government wiretaps affecting more than 50 criminal prosecutions.

The U.S. Circuit Court in Richmond, Va., ruled last October that wiretap applications that were not signed by the attorney general or assistant attorney general were illegal.

It barred the government from using evidence obtained by wiretapping in a narcotics trial in Baltimore.

The case centers around the 1968 Crime Control Act and a provision legalizing wiretapping authorized by the attorney general and approved by a federal judge.

The question before the court is whether applications signed by Sol Lindenbaum, executive assistant to former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, are valid.

The government, in requesting the high court decide the matter, said if the wiretaps were found to be illegal, there could be a "major disruption of the government's efforts to control organized crime."

It said 18 cases now pending in circuit courts and 35 cases in district courts would be affected by the ruling.

The Justice Department has revised its procedures since the Circuit Court decision. All applications for wiretaps now are signed by Atty. Gen. Richard Kleindienst.

In another action today, the court let stand the contempt citation of a Harvard professor, Samuel L. Popkin, who spent seven days in jail rather than disclose confidential information sources to a grand jury investigating the Pentagon Papers case.

Christmas Homecoming

MIAMI (AP) — Lt. Kevin Cheney was in a North Vietnamese prison camp last Dec. 25. But when he comes home, he will find that Christmas waited for him.

"All of Kevin's presents are still under the Christmas tree," said Rita Cheney, mother of the 27-year-old navigator who was shot down over North Vietnam last July.

"We all agreed last Christmas that we would buy our first artificial tree so we could keep it up until he gets home," Mrs. Cheney said Sunday night.

"I knew that this would be the one thing he'd probably really want — his own Christmas in his own living room."

"It will be Christmas for all of us, too, because his return will be the greatest gift any of us have ever received."

Cheney's name was among the 107 on the American prisoner list released by the North Vietnamese on Sunday.

Wurst Thief

FREISING, Germany (AP) — A wurst thief stole $16,400 worth of sausage and choice-cut meats in seven break-ins at a butcher's wholesale warehouse in this upper Bavarian town.

Police announced today they nabbed Hans Horst Pauli, 33, over the weekend while he was on his eighth foray into the warehouse. Pauli's accomplices escaped in an automobile.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Watergate defendant James W. McCord Jr., who says the public hasn't been told all about the bugging of Democratic national headquarters, has begun telling his story to Senate investigators.

Samuel Dash, chief counsel of the special Senate Watergate investigating committee, told a news conference Sunday that McCord had given him the names of others involved in the burglary and wiretapping and is to supply still more names later.

Dash declined to say if any of those named by McCord were "higher up" than the seven who pleaded guilty or were convicted at the trial here last January before U.S. Dist. Court Judge John J. Sirica.

The Los Angeles Times said it learned that McCord told Dash John W. Dean III, counsel to the President, and Jeb Stuart Magruder, a former presidential aide and campaign official, had prior knowledge of the burglary.

HIGHER UP

Magruder denied knowing about the Watergate operation in advance. And in Key Biscayne, Fla., White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said of the Times story: "Mr. Dean had absolutely no prior knowledge or any awareness whatsoever of the Watergate incident. The story is flatly incorrect."

Sirica disclosed last Friday, when he was to impose sentences, that McCord had sent him a letter saying not only that others were involved but that perjury had been committed during the trial and that political pressures had been applied to the defendants to plead guilty and remain silent. Sirica urged McCord and the other six defendants to cooperate with Senate investigators.

DASH IT ALL

McCord, an ex-FBI and CIA agent who was security director for the Committee for the Re-election of the President at the time of the break-in, met in the office of one of his lawyers with Dash Friday afternoon and again Saturday afternoon.

No details of what McCord said were disclosed, but Dash said McCord is willing to testify fully and under oath at committee hearings to be held as soon as possible.

Just when that will be is uncertain. Dash said that before hearings are held the committee will have to check out McCord's statements and leads he supplied "to make certain we have the complete story."

BIG SPRING HERALD

Price 10¢ Vol. 45 No. 253 BIG SPRING, TEXAS, MONDAY, MARCH 26, 1973 14 Pages 1 Section Price 10¢

Federal Aid For Port Here Will Be Sought

C. R. Crim, a local engineer, this morning was given authorization to request federal aid for $60,000 in Howard County Airport improvements.

Included in the improvements were fencing and lighting for a paved apron which must be completed by May 20.

Also the court planned to ask for federal grants toward lighting a tetrahedron wind indicator lighting the main runway marking taxiways with reflectors and installing a prefabricated visual approach slope indicator. Crim said this approach angle indicator would be less expensive than the device at Webb Air Force Base.

NEW BUILDING

Crim also submitted estimates prepared by Gary & Hohertz for a new terminal building. County Judge A. G. Mitchell did not think a new terminal building could be paid for this year and it is not a project which the federal government will help pay for. Cost of a terminal was not included in the $60,000 total.

Adapting the hangar now leased by Central American Airways Flying Services Inc. for use as an air terminal was considered.

County Commissioners Court wrestled with the problem of obtaining enough local funds to finance the projects most of which are required for airport certification or airport security.

Mrs. Virginia Black, county auditor, gave $15,000 as the budgeted amount available for airport improvements during 1973.

Once federal approval of grants is secured the court may do work as they can afford it. "You can draw partial payments on what you have completed," Crim said.

Somebody After Knife Victim, Says Justice

By JOHN EDWARDS "Somebody was after him," Peace Justice Gus Ochotorena Jr. said neighbors of William Highsmith told him.

Highsmith, 67, local painter, was found dead in Room Six of the Big Spring Motel, 1000 E. 3rd St., at 10:30 a.m. Saturday. The screen door and window screens were latched and the only door locked. But Highsmith had suffered 22 knife wounds.

Highsmith, a Big Spring resident since 1942, was living at 1603 Donley St. until about three days before his death. Acquaintances described Highsmith as a quiet man who spent little money. He kept no refrigerator at the Donley Street house.

The daughter — about 10 years of age — of the motel manager reported hearing noises in the room Friday afternoon, Ochotorena said. No one was seen entering the room around the time of Highsmith's death.

Ochotorena, who is heading the investigation being conducted by city and county law enforcement officers, declined to say anything about a suspect except that the person had a motorcycle.

A River-Welch Funeral Home spokesman said between five and seven persons attended the funeral this morning. Highsmith, a native of New Mexico, has no known living relatives.

Ochotorena this morning was awaiting an autopsy report from a pathologist in Abilene.

Bid To Check Lumber Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration announced today it is moving to check skyrocketing housing costs by increasing the nation's lumber supply and seeking voluntary agreement by the Japanese to hold down their purchase of U.S. timber.

Cost of Living Council Director John T. Dunlop, who announced the plan before a Senate subcommittee that is studying the lumber price problem, said the government also is acting to increase the availability of railroad freight cars, and he hinted at possible re-imposition of price controls on the forest products industry.

Dunlop, in his statement for a Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs subcommittee, did not take a direct position on the controversial bill by Sen. Bob Packwood, R-Ore., to ban all log exports from the United States by Jan. 1, 1977.

But Dunlop's announcement that the administration will seek voluntary restraints on Japanese log purchases apparently signaled that the administration opposes a legal ban.

Pressure has increased in recent weeks from Congress and nongovernment lumber and housing industry groups for the government to at least impose an export ban on logs cut from federal lands.

Dunlop said extra trees will be made available from national forests for commercial harvests this year.

He said the administration will sell 11.8 billion board feet of timber by the end of this calendar year, up from the 10 billion board feet originally planned.

St. Patrick Could Have Benefitted

A week after St. Patrick's Day, 3,193 1/2 pounds of snakes were driven out of Big Spring.

That's how many pounds of buzzing rattlers the Jaycees weighed in at the annual Rattlesnake Roundup.

Top hunter and carting off the two major prizes was Roy Oliver of Woodson, north of Abilene.

He collected 625 pounds and also the longest snake, totaling five feet, six inches.

Jack Carr, of Big Spring was second with 539 pounds and the Tonn Brothers of Big Spring totaled 523 pounds for third.

Tony Cortese of Big Spring brought in the shortest rattler of 13 1/4 inches in length.

Times were bleak for 50 per cent of the rattlesnake hunters. Only half of those who entered actually caught rattlesnakes.

Chamber Honors Airmen Tuesday

The Base Community Council of the Chamber of Commerce will hold a reception honoring the four outstanding first term airmen at the Big Spring Country Club Tuesday.

Honorees, Sgt. Leon R. Crawford, Sgt. Gary C. Childers, A1C Gary L. Bowen, A1C Gary A. Mickelson, will be recognized and awarded gifts from Hemphill Wells, Elmo Wasson Men's Store, Prager's Men's Store, Gibbs & Weeks, Ritz Theatre and K. C. Steak House.

Sugar Land Derailment

SUGAR LAND, Tex. (AP) — A Southern Pacific Railroad spokesman said today it may take several days to remove freight train cars damaged in a derailment near here.

The California-bound freight derailed Sunday, splintering a small wooden trestle bridge.

No injuries were reported in the derailment that involved about 20 cars of the 100-car train.

About eight tank cars were involved. They carried an industrial alcohol solution, the spokesman said, which was flammable but not explosive. Other flat bed cars carried truck-trailer sections containing cement bags.

The spokesman said the cause of the derailment was not immediately determined.

Millions Of Americans Are Not Able To Buy Home Of Their Own

WASHINGTON (AP) — The price for a home of your own is accelerating at a rate which threatens to leave much of middle-class America paying rent permanently.

Millions of families living on below-average incomes already cannot afford houses. New houses under $12,500 virtually disappeared for national census figures in 1970 and under-$15,000 houses will join them soon. The $20,000-and-under houses which accounted for nearly half of new houses a decade ago now represent less than 10 per cent.

The causes for surging prices vary—easier money higher labor costs dwindling available land bans on sewer hookups spurring lumber costs and strong demands for bigger and better houses.

SNIDE COMMENTS
But the effect is illustrated by remembering Levittown with its boxy identical houses rolling like army columns over the hills and gulches of Pennsylvania and Long Island.

They absorbed their share of snide comments but they cost $6,900 apiece—$100 down, $70 a month—and provided sanctuary for a housing-starved population coming out of World War II.

Levittown houses sell for $35,000 now.

The construction workers who built Levittown once moved right in themselves but despite hefty raises they now can't afford the houses they work on.

And the workers aren't the only ones.
"It's absolutely insulting to say to a man making $15,000 a year you can't buy our least expensive house," said Peter Taylor head of operations for Levitt and Sons' single-family-home division.

CANT AFFORD IT
You must earn $18,000 a year now to qualify for a new Levitt house. "It's not even middle-income housing," said Taylor. Our nation "is making decent housing something that's available only to an affluent few."

A home-seeker on a moderate income who wants to save his money a little longer can forget it said Taylor. Houses are going up $3,000 a year. "If you can't afford it today you can't afford it tomorrow."

If Levitt, one of the nation's pioneers in economical mass-produced prefabricated housing is having trouble keeping housing costs down consider what's happening across the country.

In Salt Lake City a family bought a house for $32,000 two years ago, made $2,000 in improvements and sold the house recently for $41,500.

SOLD IT
In Milwaukee a builder is getting $49,000 for a four-bedroom house which brought $34,900 in 1970.
In Chicago a family bought a suburban house for $34,000 in ported rapidly rising prices for single-family homes usually at a rate of at least 10 per cent. The average price of a new house has jumped from $16,825 to $24,844 in seven years, according to the National Association of Home Builders. It took 15 years prior to 1965 for prices to increase that much.

$231 A MONTH
In mid-1970 the average house were $11,600 down and $231 a month for 25 years. Now with easier down-payment requirements due to a federal ruling and relatively lower interest rates the terms are $8,400 down and $228 a month for 25 years.

One result is that savings and loans closed $2.4 billion in mortgages in 1970 and $5.4 billion last year.

Away from the big cities are cheaper houses but prices are rising fast everywhere. The three-bedroom house which sold for $22,850 in Boise, Idaho, in 1971 is $27,400 now.
Of 30 cities checked in an Associated Press survey all re-

CHINESE MEDICINES

Wine Soaked Herbs Arthritis Tonic

Editor's Note: When Chinese feel under the weather, they doctor themselves just like Americans do. AP's science editor, who just completed a three-week tour of China, finds that sometimes their remedies are exotic.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE AP Science Editor

SHANGHAI, China (AP) — To relieve your headache or toothache, you might try this Chinese remedy:

On the back of your hand, massage the spot located about one inch behind the webbing between thumb and forefinger. Rub it with fair pressure for five or ten minutes.

TOOTHACHE TIP "For a toothache, it is very effective to relieve pain for several hours or even a whole day," says Dr. Hsu Chia-Yu, a doctor of internal medicine who visited the United States last October.

The Chinese people trot off to drugstores or go see their doctors for treatment of various ailments just as Americans do. Dr. Hsu said, but there are differences, some rather exotic.

Like a pill containing antelope horn for the common cold, some herbs soaked in wine are one preparation for arthritis. Turtle shell is the main ingredient of one general tonic. Six herbs are concocted in a syrup to treat insomnia. Seeds from a particular kind of bush are said to combat spells of dizziness.

Massaging the spot at the base of the thumb—called the "snuff box" because people used to put snuff there to lift it to their noses—is being used as a new way of inducing anesthesia for head and neck surgery without any other puncture needles.

Dr. Hsu says he shows some patients how to do the massage themselves. And Mao Kuo-Hua, the genial chief interpreter for a group of visiting American doctors, says he does it to relieve a sore throat and that it usually works, at least temporarily.

Mao added that he sometimes does his own acupuncture, administering a needle into a spot on the outside of the leg, just below the knee, for relief from an upset stomach.

When the sniffles of a common cold strike, some Chinese wear face masks, like a surgeon's mask, in order, we were informed, not to pass the cold on to someone else.

IMPRESSION Many Japanese follow the same custom. Drugstores sell "detoxifying tablets," a kind of tonic called Yung Hwang, with many ingredients.

For bronchitis, the choice is antibiotics or herb medicines. Dr. Hsu prefers a combination in case of high fever.

For arthritis, Dr. Hsu and colleagues prescribe cortisone and other steroid drugs, sometimes herbal lotions applied externally or herbs taken by mouth. Acupuncture "can bring symptomatic relief" through treatment given daily or every other day for ten to 15 times, the physician said.

Plates Must Be Changed

AUSTIN — For all practical purposes, Saturday (March 31) will be the last day to register motor vehicles for 1973, Robert W. Townsley, director of the Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway Department, said today.

Townsley noted that the law set the final registration date as April 1, which this year falls on Sunday when county tax offices are closed.

The 1973 license plates must be displayed on vehicles registered in Texas starting Monday, April 2. So they must be acquired not later than Saturday, March 31, to avoid penalty.

Townsley said many county tax officers had expressed concern that the pace of registration this year has slowed markedly. "It looks as if great many vehicle owners are putting registration off to the last minute," he said.

Cheer Wallace On First Texas Visit Since Gunner Shot Him

DALLAS (AP) — Gov. George Wallace addressed 3,000 cheering supporters in Dallas Market Hall Sunday as his first visit to Texas since he was shot during the presidential campaign last year.

"Let's keep on keeping on and some day we'll see a real restoration of constitutional government in the United States," he told them. The governor, looking wan and tired, spoke only 10 minutes at the end of a concert of western and country music lasting three and a half hours. But he received a tumultuous reception from a crowd wearing 1972 Wallace campaign emblems and waving confederate flags.

HUGE DEBT Main object of the Wallace visit was to seek help in settling a campaign debt exceeding $200,000. The debt piled up after the assassination attempt last May 15 at a Maryland shopping center. Last time Wallace came to Dallas in mid-1971, he netted $30,000 at an appreciation dinner to kick off his 1972 campaign. This time adults were expected to pay $10 a head and children $5 but lower contributions were also accepted.

Some 8,500 seats were set out on the huge Market Hall floor, but only about one-third of them were occupied. It was far from a full house. But those that were there made up in enthusiasm whatever they lacked in numbers.

They cheered, sang God Bless America, and raised banners reading: "Wallace tells it like it is."

DON'T WORRY Wallace gave no hint whether he might run again for governor of Alabama.

He said from his wheelchair: "I'm getting along fine . . . I can't stand up for America anymore, but I'm sitting down for America."

Wallace said he was leading in the Democratic primary when he was shot and Michigan and Maryland had just proved that those supporting him were in the mainstream of American thought.

"I and you represent a majority viewpoint in the United States," he told them, adding: "Don't worry. They have heeded the message you sent from Michigan, Maryland and other states. That's where things will change in our country, in the political arena."

Jerry Lee Lewis, Tex Ritter, George Morgan, Charley Walker and Wallace's own son, George Jr., were among those taking part in the program

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, TEXAS — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss . . . and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment for both men and women, that is not only stopping hair loss . . . but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. They invite you to try the treatment and see for yourself!

Naturally they would not offer this opportunity unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone. The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss. Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family" this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Hair loss caused by sebum can also run in your family, and many other conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair . . . now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Prexy Of Farmers Union Will Speak In Stanton

National Farmers Union President, Tony Dechant, will be the principal speaker at the annual fish fry of District 8 Farmers Union, Thursday, April 5.

Vern Chandler, Midland, district director, said the affair will be held at the Caprock Electric Cooperative in Stanton beginning at 7:30 p.m. There will be a prize awarded to every lady wearing a cotton dress while attending the annual meeting.

Dechant was elected National President of Farmers Union in March of 1966 after having served as secretary-treasurer of the nationwide general farm organization. He was born and spent his youth on the family wheat farm in Ellis County, Kans.

Farmers Union has recently challenged the farm program cut-backs announced by the administration, and president Dechant has taken the lead nationally to get congressional support for the restoration of farm program reductions. His speech in Texas will be one of the many which he has pledged to make across the nation as he "stumps the country" in an attempt to arouse public opinion against what he claims is a "campaign to destroy farm programs."

TONY DECHANT

Chandler said that the limited number of tickets is selling fast. The tickets for the chicken and fish fry and the program are $2 for adults and $1 for children and are available from Vern Chandler (telephone 915-563-0948) and George Martin, president of Mitchell County Farmers Union (telephone 915-737-2666). Counties included in District 8 Farmers Union are Dawson, Glasscock, Martin, Midland, Mitchell, Runnels, and Tom Green-Concho counties.

Can A Legend Work?

The victory of Peronist candidate Dr. Hector J. Campora in Argentina's presidential election should focus attention on that South American nation for the next few months.

In the first election in which Peronists could compete since Peron himself was ousted by the Argentine military in 1955, their victory was spectacular. Not only did Campora lead the presidential balloting, but Peronist candidates won six of the 22 province governorships up for election. Most of the rest will be settled in April runoff elections; Peronists may get still more governorships.

The military regime now in power has said it will allow the transition of power to Campora peacefully. But there is still nagging suspicion on that score. In any case, the military is unlikely completely to relinquish its hold on Argentina's government; no doubt it will closely watch Campora's actions and could intervene again.

But without this return to Peronism, Argentina could hardly expect to progress politically. The Peron mystique is powerful, as the election returns show. The Peron legend still commands overwhelming support among Argentina's organized labor and its poor. That legend is not likely ever to die of its own, but an inept Peronist administration could kill it.

Argentina has a staggering 60 per cent annual inflation rate. Campora is expected to decree a mandatory salary increase to offset this — but how that will cure chronic inflation is hard to see. He is also expected to nationalize bank accounts and foreign trade, which may cause a flight of capital from Argentina.

Perhaps given the opportunity to govern time Utopia their backers believe they will. But again, the Peronists will bring about the Argentine realities of governing are harsh, much harsher than dreams and remembrances. Chances are that the mystical hold of Peronism on vast numbers of Argentines will fade, once the Peronists are the ones to make the hard decisions with which all Argentina must live.

A Hard Choice

The action of two New York banks in raising prime rate interest to 6 3/4 per cent is liable to set off a national interest rate hike.

The timing is interesting, and argues against government protests to bring about a rollback, as happened earlier this year when banks boosted prime rates.

The United States has just completed discussions with other Western nations on the sinking value of the dollar. Those discussions resulted in agreement to "float" most Western currencies — to let them set their own value level.

During the course of the talks, several nations urged that in return for cooperation to bolster the dollar, the United States take some action of its own to defend its own currency. And among those actions would be a general increase in U.S. interest rates. Such an increase could be expected to attract more investment in the United States from abroad, and to keep more U.S. investment money at home. That would help somewhat to balance our international payments ledger, and generally improve the dollar's standing on the world money market.

But it will also make things more costly for Americans. The dollar devaluation thus far has rate hike would be something else. By increasing the cost of money, it would increase eventually the cost of most goods and services as well.

This administration is caught between a rock and a hard place.

A Woman's Hand

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

Never underestimate the power of a woman.

ALFRED NOBEL, a gloomy bachelor whose invention of dynamite earned him more krona than he knew what to do with, created the fund for the peace prize named for him because of the influence of a charming woman.

As Countess Bertha Kinsky of Austria, the woman answered Nobel's ad in a Paris newspaper which sought a lady of breeding to serve as his secretary and housekeeper.

The countess was 'between jobs' at the time, having recently lost her position as a governess in the baronial von Suttner family because the young man of the clan, Arthur by name, seven years her junior, had fallen in love with her.

In a few years, Mrs. von Suttner became known around the world as authoress of a pacifistic novel, 'Lay down Your Arms.' It was the 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' of its day.

Nobel wrote his congratulations to her, and Bertha immediately approached him with the idea of taking part in peace meetings.

HE WAS understandably cold to the idea at first but did show up at the very end of a peace congress in Switzerland in time to have dinner with the von Suttners. After that, he exchanged letters with the woman, now a Baroness, on the subject of abolishing war.

Around 1893, he wrote in one of his letters that he believed peace might be brought about if all countries would agree to resist the first aggressor.

THE KINSKYS were an honorable family themselves but had neglected to accumulate any substance and the patriarchs of the von Suttner tribe did not regard her as a suitable match for their son.

Stricken with her beauty and her wit, Nobel hired her. He soon became enamored of her and told her so, but Bertha professed her love for Arthur.

Arthur kept on writing her every day. One day, not long after she had assumed her new position, Bertha yielded to a powerful impulse, sold an heirloom, bought a train ticket to Vienna and went home.

THAT DID IT for young von Suttner. He whisked the countess away and married her. With heavy heart, Nobel set about to find another secretary.

IN THE SAME letter, he told her of his idea for a fund for prizes to those who advanced the cause of peace.

The will he left went beyond that. It also included prizes for service to mankind in physics, medicine, chemistry and literature.

The foundation for this purpose came into being in 1900, three years after Nobel's death. It amounted to $5,610,000 and was so well managed that millions were added to it, despite the lower exchange rate of the Swedish krona.

TO THEIR credit, the Nobel prize committees have lived up to the instructions not to favor people because of nationality, and have not been overcome by local pressures. The awards have not become popularity contests.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

My parents and teachers tell me I've got a problem. It has to do with lying. I even lie where to tell the truth would be just as good. Guilty feelings come and go, but the habit remains. Is it possible to get rid of it, and how?

L.B.

There's a strange expression in the writings of the old prophet Isaiah, Chapter 30 indicts God's people as a rebellious crowd who love lying. Then come these words: "The Lord . . . waits for you to come to Him, so He can show you His love. He will conquer you to bless you."

The "conquering" that God is permitted to do in our lives is the neutralizing of evil tendencies. The Bible teaches that we all have a dual nature — one that seeks evil purposes, and the other, activated by God's Spirit, that seeks good. You're trying on your own to lie your way to success, but it's never worked for anyone else.

Even superficially, it's obvious that to tell the truth is always the easiest way. You're not bothered by trying to remember what you said or did last time in a given situation.

I know that we have classified lying, and some lies, branded as "white" are quite allowable. No such distinction is on God's books.

When a popular comedian says of certain mistakes, "The devil made me do it," he's reflecting a truth, particularly in lying. The Scripture says the devil is the "father of lies," but the Gospel's good news is that Christ's resurrection broke Satan's power.

'WHITE HOUSE, THIS IS UNIT ONE... I'M PINNED DOWN AT THE SENATE! ... WHITE HOUSE? DO YOU READ ME, WHITE HOUSE?...'

So, L.B., you can certainly get rid of the habit, if you follow the suggestion of the Psalmist in chapter 141, "Set a watch, O Lord before my mouth; keep the door of my lips."

You'll discover that one of the most beautiful things in the world is plain old truth.

Hal Boyle

They Tell All On Bus

By JOY STILLEY (Substituting for Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — Soap operas are all right if you're content with minor-league drama, but if you really want to know what's going on in the suburbs, a commuter bus is where it's at.

Not only does the same cast of characters appear every day, but you get a one-hour segment — uninterrupted by commercials.

Women under the hair dryer in the neighborhood beauty salon are reticent compared with the women — and men — who ride the 7:30 bus I take into Manhattan every weekday morning.

Without benefit of organ music, they go right into their dialogue, audibly reporting the details of their private lives to their seatmates. But if their favorite head-nodder or tisk-tisker hasn't managed to get a place nearby, they shout their confidence across the aisle. Although our eyes may not be open that early in the morning, our ears unfortunately are, and when they tell all, we hear all.

Thus I have been able to follow the continuing saga of job troubles, in-laws problems, financial worries and love affairs through the humid days of summer and into the shivery days of winter, missing hardly an episode.

By the time the bus reaches my stop and I have to tune out, I have become so involved I can scarcely wait for the next installment.

Will the man in the third-row window seat get fired because the resentment he has been building up for months finally caused him to explode to his boss?

Will the blonde who still wears a beehive hairdo finally settle for the widower she met on a singles weekend in the Catskills? Will the kids recover from the chicken pox in time for the family to go on the long-planned trip?

Will the aisle-seat financier who made a killing last week in the stock market be just as vocal about all the money he lost yesterday?

Will the son of the modishly dressed man whose ties outdazzle the sunrise make it into one of those colleges that don't seem to appreciate his brilliance?

Will the loudest member of the back-seat coffee klatch forgive her husband for forgetting to take out the garbage last night?

Alas! I may never know how it all comes out — I missed the 7:30 this morning. But I have a feeling they'll all do a reprise tomorrow.

Hal Boyle is on vacation.

'Growing Pains'

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am also one of those "midnight massesses" as you dubbed Mrs. J.D.S. whose 5-year-old has nightly leg aches.

My son is only 3 but he too has "growing pains." And just as you said, he is a normal, active child and more active some days than others.

So, after many of those too-long nights, I learned that a very warm bath shortly before bedtime is probably the best thing to do to prevent these leg aches.

Not just a five-minute "quickie," but a good soaking. My son is allowed to play for 20 minutes or so. This not only helps relax those overworked muscles but also helps him unwind after those very busy days.

And, Mrs. J.D.S., try it for yourself, too! Don't forget that we gummies have followed those busy gummies around all day. — Mrs. R.M.E.

Thanks, Mommy. I hope others will take your advice to heart, to the benefit of themselves and all the youngsters with aching, muscle-cramped legs.

As I've said before, growing doesn't cause pain. The so-called "growing pains" or bed-time leg aches, usually are muscle spasms or cramps resulting from the strain of a busy day of running around doing the things that kids do.

The hot bath is an excellent solution. And yes, it shouldn't be a "quickie." Give these muscles time to relax normally.

One word of caution, resulting from another letter that told of the painful legs turning out to be rheumatoid arthritis (which can and does attack children).

In such cases, the pain isn't going to be only at bedtime. There will be pain at other times, and usually other signs, that point to arthritis. So don't use the bed-time leg aches as a handy explanation for other things which can occur, even though less often.

One more point: faulty footwear (which usually means footwear that has become too tight) can throw feet and legs out of normal position, put extra strain on the legs, and result in cramps at night.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Three months ago I had a pain in my chest, a squeezing pain. I did not go to the doctor. Is it too late to tell now if it was a heart attack? I am 66. — Mrs. S.B.

No, it's not too late to see your doctor. Heart trouble, including angina pectoris, is more common in men than women, but women past 60 have a fair amount of such trouble.

Examination, a review of events at the time of your pain and since, as well as an EKG (electrocardiogram) are in order. If the pain was due to a frank heart attack, evidence would be apparent on the EKG.

It would be wise to be checked for diabetes as that can be a common cause of heart trouble in both sexes.

"You Can Stop Sinus Trouble!" is the title of Dr. Thosteson's newly revised booklet explaining what sinus trouble really is and encouraging sinus sufferers to do something about it. For a copy write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dear Sirs:

I would like to comment on the article written by Rev. Claude Craven concerning long hair. How long is "long?" I would interpret this scripture (I. Cor. 11:14) to mean "hair as long as a woman's" from what I have read and concluded from the Scriptures, women in those days wore their hair very long, in most cases to the waist. What was the accepted length for a man's hair? We don't really know. The writer says there is no indication in the Scriptures that Jesus had long hair. On the other hand, there is no indication that Jesus had short hair. There is no physical description of Jesus in the Bible.

Personally, I don't like hair that is extra long — like below the collar. But if it is clean and well kept, I can live with it.

If a boy or man has long hair, he automatically is put into a category with hippies, homosexuals (who, by the way, aren't necessarily effeminate or long haired) and druggies. To me this is unfair. I do not believe a man is any less "masculine" because he wears his hair long; nor do I believe that a woman in a nice pants suit is any less "feminine" than a woman who wears a dress. These have nothing to do with outward appearances. I realize that many who are associated with drugs, etc. are long haired, but do we have a right to condemn and categorize everyone who has long hair?

The only thing the article proved to me was that the writer doesn't like long hair. That is his right; but I don't believe we have a right to put someone down just because they are exercising their rights to look the way they want to look.

As Christians we need to try to understand our young people; I'm not so far from my youth that I can't remember how hard it is to be a member of that group. It's even harder for them today. If we don't try to understand, who will; after all, we raised them. God loves us all. He doesn't look at the color of skin or length of hair. He loves us for ourselves. If we would be like Jesus, we must first learn to love.

Phase 3 Problems

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The answer to whether Phase 3 is to be a transition to a less regulated economy or whether it will be declared a failure and lead to a resumption of more rigid economic controls is just ahead.

Two pocketbook issues support this view:

1. The cost of living is in a power climb when, according to the script written in Washington, it should be gliding softly back to earth. Consumer prices rose in February at an annual rate of 9.6 per cent.

THE RETAIL buyer is now paying $12.86 for the same assortment of goods and services that cost $10 in 1967. It hurts even more to go back 10 years, when the same market basket costs $9.12.

2. This is a big year for major wage negotiations. The Commerce Department "Survey of Current Business" states it clearly:

"In 1973, major contracts covering 4.7 million workers will expire or may be reopened for negotiations. This is about two million more than the number of workers involved in negotiations in 1972."

Litter Diving

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Pollution fighters along the nation's shores have discovered a new underwater sport — diving for litter.

Keep America Beautiful, Inc., the national environmental improvement organization, reports that diving clubs in California's San Diego County are enthusiastic participants in a broad-based program to clean up the area's many harbors, bays and beaches.

Thanks in part to the divers, KAB points out, tons of debris have been fished out and many underwater hazards have been eliminated.

Mental Case

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am so worried about my grandson who is 14. Tonight his mother telephoned me long distance in such a weakened state I could hardly understand her. Her 14-year-old son had struck her and beaten her violently with his fists. In the past he has lied and stolen from her, but no amount of punishment helped. Tonight he all but put my poor daughter in the hospital. She has two children. The little girl is an angel, but this boy is, I fear, a mental case when angered. He is big and strong for his age and I am afraid one day he will seriously injure or kill some member of the family. Both children are adopted (different parents); could it be hereditary? Please tell me how I can help her? Her husband travels a great deal and she cannot handle the boy.

HEARTSICK
DEAR HEARTSICK: Tell your daughter to get in touch with her local Mental Health Association, or the County Child Welfare Department and arrange to have her son psychiatrically evaluated. Assure her that she would not be punishing the boy; she would be helping a desperately sick lad.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "FULL OF PIMPLES": Surely you jest! The advice of your more "experienced" friends on how to get rid of pimples is worse than worthless. It's dangerous. Forget it, or you could find yourself with something much worse than pimples.

Texas Rangers Still Guard Lone Star State's Interests

"It's hard to stand up against a man that is in the right and who keeps on a-comin'," said Mrs. W. E. Singleton quoting a Texas Ranger, Thursday for Modern Woman's Forum.

Meeting in the home of Mrs. Hugh Duncan, 1600 Tucson, Mrs. Singleton paid tribute to the Texas Rangers with a program outlining their history and achievements.

"The Texas Rangers is the most famous organization of mounted police in our country," continued Mrs. Singleton. "Its history goes back more than 100 years."

The Rangers were originally formed by Stephen Austin in the 1800s as a band of mounted riflemen to protect American settlers along the Brazos River from Indians and Mexican bandits. In 1835 they were formally organized by the Texas General Council and were assigned the task of defending the frontier against Indians. After Texas joined the Union in 1845, the Rangers continued to play a major role in defense.

"In 1874, 450 Rangers received commissions as peace officers, and within 10 years peace and quiet was restored to the interior of Texas," said Mrs. Singleton. Currently the Rangers are a branch of the Texas Department of Public Safety, with a force of 82 men. They wear no official uniforms, and furnish their own clothing, transportation and weapons. Mrs. Singleton said qualifications to become a Ranger are extremely high.

"They (Rangers) have a tradition of individualism, resourcefulness, self-reliance and politeness," said Mrs. Singleton. "They often get their man with quick thinking rather than by force. There is nothing more exclusively Texan than the Texas Rangers."

The program was supplemented with a talk, "Return of the Rangers" by Mrs. A. C. Bass who described Fort Fisher at Waco the present day Ranger headquarters.

Fort Fisher is the home base for Ranger Company A and houses the official Ranger Museum named in honor of Col. Homer Garrison. Col. Garrison headed the famed force for 30 years and was often termed the "J. Edgar Hoover of Texas" according to Mrs. Bass.

The fort in Waco cost $500,000. In the museum are found priceless collections of guns, Bowie knives and other equipment which belonged to early-day Rangers as well as a valuable collection of Western paintings.

Speaking at the groundbreaking for the fort in 1967 Col. Garrison said "This new fort will be a memorial to the men who gave their lives to see that law and order were established in Texas. As sure as I stand here there will always be a Texas Ranger force as long as there is a state of Texas."

Mrs. H. M. Rowe presided during the business meeting. Members who attended the recent convention of Texas Federated Women's Clubs are Mrs. Rowe, Mrs. S. R. Nobles and Mrs. Margaret White.

The next meeting will be April 13 in the home of Mrs. E. C. Howard 1500 Lancaster.

Lib Advocate Wants Coalition Of Sexes

By JURATE KAZICKAS
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Betty Friedan, now involved in controversy with her more radical sisters in the women's liberation movement, sees an alliance between the sexes as the most effective way to achieve equality for women.

At the first major fundraising event for the New York chapter of the National Organization for Women, the outspoken feminist on Sunday cited man-hating and lesbianism as issues that could only hinder the movement's progress.

Ms. Friedan first emphasized the victories for women over the last few years: the Supreme Court's abortion decision, passage of the equal rights amendment by Congress, the millions of dollars in back pay women received from American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

But she repeated her view expressed previously in various magazine articles that the lesbian issue was being used by some as a ploy to divide women. Several feminists, such as Robin Morgan and Tl-Grace Atkinson, have denounced publicly Ms. Friedan's opinions.

"The essence of the movement is that women are people," said Ms. Friedan, addressing about 80 persons. "What do we care about someone's sexual preferences? What relevance does it really have?"

"Let U.S. Rep. Bella Abzug introduce a bill for lesbian mothers. Let Ms. magazine do a special issue about lesbians. But let us concentrate on men and women working together for full partnership in society."

Those paying to hear Ms. Friedan's address ranged in age from 6 to 60 and included about 10 men. Nibbling cheese and sipping wine, they sat on the floor of the apartment of Muriel Fox and her husband, Dr. Shep Aronson, both NOW founders.

There was heated discussion of marriage, divorce and economic injustices against the housewife. But many guests said they found Ms. Friedan's views about lesbianism the most interesting.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:

In the springtime, "Young man's fancy turns to thoughts of love," while mothers turn to making plans for summer!

This idea is about getting the dirt out of "very dirty" work clothes. I have a college boy who does construction work during the summer.

He comes home covered with mud, dirt, etc., socks, pants, shoes and all. I shake all the loose dirt off in the backyard. Lay them out flat on the lawn. Turn on the garden hose full force (directing it, of course, on the clothes) and wash those pants, shirts and socks until the big dirt is gone.

Then, I wring out the loose water, put them in the washer to wash the usual way. It's been great for me! Evelyn Reagan

When I serve asparagus, I pour off the liquid, put it in a container in the freezer and, after a few times, I have enough for cream of asparagus soup. A Soup Lover

Relatives Visit In Ginder Home

Guests in the home of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Roy Ginder, 107 Gunter, are their daughter, Mrs. Richard Scott, their granddaughter, Amy Lynn, and Mrs. Ginder's mother, Mrs. Ethel Clark, all of Albuquerque, N.M. The guests plan to return Wednesday to Albuquerque.

how do they stand the ritual?

Monday night, Jim Farbusch wore a feathered headdress to a boys' meeting with his son.

Tuesday, for the neighborhood cookout, he donned an apron embellished with funny slogans.

At the Wednesday civic club, he kept things lively... noisily shaking coins in a coffee can as he assessed lines from derelict members.

Thursday was lodge night. No special rites, so a simple fez sufficed.

Friday? High-school home-coming game. In a coonskin boat, reeking of mothballs, Jim chanted the traditional incantations: "Two, four, six, eight... who (sic) do we appreciate?"

Saturday chores found him bedecked in a rather gaudy uniform-of-the-day; silky-shiny coveralls in chic burnt-gold hue.

And on Sunday, as he passed his acquaintance, the Episcopal rector, in front of the church, Jim chuckled: "Those crazy Episcopalians! How do they stand all the robes and ritual?"

Maybe you, too, wonder what makes Episcopalians tick. They have some rather interesting thoughts on religion. Your nearby Episcopal neighbor or minister would be flattered if you'd ask him to discuss these with you... and he'd likely be the last person in the world to "twist your arm."

Torturous Decor In Restaurant

CAMBRIDGE, England — Jane Morgan, who lives in a thatched cottage, decided to go into business and found the arrangements "rather torturous."

So far, she has invested $3,000 in a collar with iron spikes, double wrist crushers, a Spanish gaiter for crushing feet, a hand clamp for extracting confessions and an iron pillory.

"I'm going to open a restaurant, and this is the kind of decorations the students say they want," she said.

TEEN FORUM

EXCITED: (Q.) I am in love with my English teacher — not mentally but physically. She is about 22 and very well built. She wears low cut and short dresses.

She has done many things which I think are to lead me on. She gives me an "A" on every paper even though I know I don't deserve it.

She has asked me over to help grade papers. Should I take the invitation and find out if my suspicions are true or just forget the whole thing? — 15 in Oklahoma.

Stay friendly with her, but let her invite a male teacher if she wants someone to help her grade papers.

DATES AT 12: (Q.) I am 12 but I look 16. My mother claims she trusts me but she still treats me like I'm 4 years old. Every time I have a date — it has to be double date, I can't single date — she tells me, "Remember, boys that age are fresh."

Right now I'm going with a boy who is 16. Our parents know each other well, but still my mom doesn't trust me. I won't be going with him long, I know, because I can only have one date a week with him. I'm tired of being treated like a baby. Please tell me what I can do to get better treatment. — Kicked Around in Kentucky.

(A.) Your mother should be much stricter on you than she is. You may look 16, but you are only 12. Your boy friend is 16 and when you are out with him on a double date your parents are not there to oversee what happens, no matter how well they know each other.

Tell your mother, and your boy friend, you think you are too young for double dating, and should drop it for a year or two.

Meistersingers Capture Awards At UIL Contest

The Meistersingers were one of three choirs in their classification to earn sweepstakes awards at UIL district contest in Midland Thursday.

They placed first in both concert and sightreading competition along with Midland Lee and Odessa High.

There were only eight choirs in the three regions of West Texas and the Panhandle that made sweepstakes honors this season, compared to over 20 last year.

Other ratings for Big Spring High School choirs included Cappella, I in concert and III in sightreading. Freshmen Choir, II in concert and III in sightreading. Boys Choir, I and II and Girls Choir, II and I. Jack Bowers is high school choir director.

BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS

Q. 1 — North-South vulnerable. As South you hold:

♠10 4 ♥K10 2 ♦AK10 4 2 ♣7 5 2

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 2 ♦ 3 ♣

3 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—We recommend carrying on to four spades. Your 10 high card points are readily usable by partner who has shown a very fine opening bid by rebidding freely at the level of three. His hand should surely be worth 16 points at spades, so that the necessary 26 points for a game should be available.

Q. 2—Both vulnerable. As South you hold:

♠A10 8 4 3 ♥A 8 5 7 2 ♣8 4 3

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

Pass 1 ♣ Dble. Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Two spades. A jump bid is in order, so that partner will recognize that the hand has game potentialities. Any hand containing a five card major suit and two aces opposite a partner who has doubled, presents bright prospects for game.

Q. 3 — Neither vulnerable. As South you hold:

♠AK 5 3 ♥Q 6 ♦AK 8 7 ♣10 4 3

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

1 ♣ 1 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid?

A.—The partner has made a mere overall we would not be content with any final contract of less than game. To assure reaching such a contract, you must make a jump shift, and the suggested call is two spades, intending to support hearts if they are rebid, or to abide by a no trump contract if partner's rebid is in that form.

Q. 4 — East-West vulnerable. As South you hold:

♠A 9 2 ♥AQ ♦A 8 4 ♣AK 7 6 3

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♣ Pass 1 ♥ 1 ♠

What do you bid now?

A.—With this powerful hand an immediate slam signal is in order and the recommended call is a cue bid of two spades forcing to game. Whether or not further vigorous action will be taken will depend in part upon partner's response. Incidentally, we would have preferred to open the bidding with two no trump, for which you hold the required 22 points.

Q. 5—Neither side vulnerable. As South you hold:

♠AK 8 7 ♥K 8 7 5 ♣J10 6 2

The bidding has proceeded:

East South West North

1 ♦ 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠

Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—This hand is somewhat better than what your partner might expect it to be on the basis of a mere nonvulnerable overall at the level of one. He has responded freely, asking you to proceed. You should cooperate by going on to three spades at least.

Q. 6—Both vulnerable. Both have 60 part score. You are South and hold:

♠KJ 8 6 5 ♥AK 7 4 2 ♣10 9 3

The bidding has proceeded:

East South

What do you bid?

A.—Since a fight may be anticipated, you should arrange to mention both suits if it becomes expedient to do so and the proper way to plan this is by a mere overall of one spade. Something is bound to happen around the table on the first round and you should have a chance to mention the heart suit at a reasonably low level.

Q. 7—Both vulnerable. As South you hold:

♠AQ 9 6 4 ♥7 ♣AK 9 8 4 2 ♣6

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♥ Pass 2 ♦ Pass

2 ♥ Pass 3 ♠ Pass

3 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—With this highly unbalanced hand you do not want to play no trump and partner should be made to prefer one of your suits. The proper rebid is four spades, describing a five card suit. This will by inference indicate your diamonds are six cards long inasmuch as you bid that suit first.

Q. 8 — Neither vulnerable. As South you hold:

♠9 7 4 3 ♥Q 6 2 ♣AK10 ♠AQJ10

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South

1 ♣ 1 ♠ ?

What do you bid?

A.—A jump to three clubs is our choice. Inasmuch as this hand is the equivalent of an opening bid, a mere free raise to two clubs, tho it designates a good hand, would be quite inadequate.

HYPOCRISY IN TRACK

Runner Ready To Blow Whistle

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lee Evans says he took money as an amateur runner and he's willing to tell the whole story of what he calls "the hypocrisy of amateur track."

Vann Rallies To Defeat SMU Mate

HOUSTON (AP) — If George Hardie was able to sleep at all Sunday night, Southern Methodist teammate Tim Vann must have figured prominently in his nightmares.

"Anytime you lose three match points, it's hard to sleep at night," a sympathetic Vann said.

Vann, who has played No. 2 behind Hardie this season, had just rallied from three match points in the tie-breaker of the final set for a 4-6, 6-4, 7-6 victory over Hardie in the finals of the 15th Rice Collegiate Invitational Tennis Tournament.

"The same thing happened to him in the finals of the (Southwest) conference tournament last year," Vann said. "I just feel sorry for him. We're very close."

No one really blamed the frustrated Hardie for sailing his racket into the crowd when he lost the match point.

Hardie broke Vann's serve on the first two points of the tie-breaker and had a 4-2 advantage when Vann started his rally.

Vann's excellent backhand to the baseline made it 4-3 and Hardie then double faulted to tie the score at 4-4 going into the final point of the tie-breaker.

Hardie served and had Vann in a vulnerable position but Hardie hit a slam shot into the net to end the match.

The final matches in singles and doubles meant nothing as far as the team championship was concerned. The Mustangs had that sewed up before the final day. And despite speculation of an evenly matched tournament, that's where Vann expected them to be.

"We thought SMU was the definite favorite all along," said Vann. "I think we proved we're tops even if we didn't win by a big margin."

The Ponies won the tournament with 14 points followed by University of Corpus Christi with 11 points, Rice, Houston and Texas A&M each had 10.

The team of Dan Courson and Carter Lomax of Texas A&M won the doubles championship by beating Jorge Andrew and Carlos Goffi of Corpus Christi, 6-7, 6-4, 6-4.

Vann said it was the first time he had played Hardie in the finals of a major tournament and it presented problems. "We've played doubles together since he was a freshman and we even roomed together down here," Vann said.

"So we really had a good chance to psyche each other. There was a lot of needing, all in fun."

Vann said he had an advantage in the finals against the lefthanded Hardie because he had already defeated lefties Guf Pellizzi of Rice and Lee Merry of Houston in earlier rounds.

Irish Luck Falters; Gobblers Win NIT

NEW YORK (AP) — Virginia iced Notre Dame with 12-point deficit in the final six minutes of regulation play. But Notre Dame bounded out to a 91-87 lead with 55 seconds to go in the extra period. It seemed again that Virginia Tech's dreams were flickering.

It was a 20-foot jump shot un-leashed as the buzzer sounded. Irish had run out the end of regulation time. It was a perfect shot, one which

Big Spring Swim Team Takes 2nd

LUBBOCK — The Big Spring Swim Team, with an increased number of entries, finished second in the Lubbock swim meet Saturday.

Abilene won with 648 1/2 points, while the Big Springers scored 357 for runner-up honors. Third went to Midland with 260 1/2, Odessa was fourth with 223 and Lubbock trailed with 114 points.

Doug Mays, Joe Dromsky, Kim Taylor, Susan Sharp, Billy West, Anne Mathews, Mary Mathews, Kristy Mathews, Rocky Hale, Irene Little, Brian Jenkins and Linda Lester all managed first place finishes for the local team.

Other team members capturing at least one ribbon were Billy Thompson, Jayme Taylor, Mark McBride, Carrie Little, Paige Little, John Little, Cathy Mays, Heddy Danford, Kathy Perry, Jamie Petty, Gabe Buckley, Linda Lester, Linda Bledsoe, Paul Torp, Bill Baum, Janice Danford and Cindy Wall.

Stevens took the inbounds pass and looked at Lieder—but Brokaw was swarming all over the intended target. Notre Dame had busted the play.

So Stevens improvised. He wheeled around one defender and, with nine seconds left, shot a 15-footer from the left side of the key.

Virginia Coach Don DeVoe gestured as to say, "Grab him!" and Charlie Thomas clutched Gary Brokaw. Two foul shots would lock it up for the Irish, but Brokaw missed the first of the one-and-one and Allan Bristow got the rebound. Virginia had the ball back and called time out with 12 seconds on the clock.

DeVoe called for the same play that had tied it up before. Work the ball to Lieder, he said. Have Bristow set up a screen and have Lieder shoot his 20-footer again.

Nicklaus Top Elder, Barber For Victory

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Lee Elder had the right idea. It just didn't turn out.

"I was playing Jack (Nicklaus)," he said. "I figured if I could stay close to him, if I could beat him, I'd be okay. Miller (Barber) and Lou (Graham) were up there close, but I was playing Jack."

So did everyone else as Nicklaus conquered his nagging problems, came from behind on the final four holes, caught Barber at the end of regulation and won the Greater New Orleans Open with a birdie on the second sudden death playoff hole.

"I accomplished what I came to accomplish," Nicklaus said Sunday after completing his final tournament before beginning defense of his Masters crown week after next.

The Masters, that staid, tradition-bound old event at Augusta, Ga., also was a major factor in Elder's efforts on the wet and soggy Lakewood Country Club course.

The 38-year-old Elder led at the end of the first round, shared the top spot after two rounds and remained there when Saturday's scheduled third round was washed out by a three-inch rain. It forced a double round of 36 holes on the 7,080-yard Lakewood Country Club course.

He finished in a tie for sixth. Nicklaus gained the playoffs with a final round 69 and tied the 41-year-old Barber at 280, eight under par. Barber had a 70, including a bogey five on the final hole where he missed the green.

Graham, tied for the lead most of the final round, went to a 73 and was third alone at 281. Next came Billy Casper and young Tom Watson, tied at 283. Casper had the best round of the cool, breezy day, a 67, and Watson closed with a final 69.

Present Day NY Yankees Reviving Murderers' Row

By The Associated Press Meet the new Murderers' Row: Bernie Allen, 2b; Roy White, lf; Matty Alou, rf; Bobby Murcer, cf; Graig Nettles, 3b; Ron Blomberg, 1b; Johnny Callison, dh; Rick Dempsey, c; Hal Lanier, ss.

"Everything they hit was a base hit," said Baltimore pitcher Doyle Alexander. "I think they could have come up with out a bat and got a hit."

The new Murderers' Row wears the same pinstripe uniforms the old one wore more than 40 years ago, those of the New York Yankees. In recent years, though, Yankee bats have resembled Death Row, but there are signs of change.

The rejuvenated Bronx Bombers pounded out 16 hits Sunday in romping to a 10-2 exhibition baseball victory over the Orioles. It was the fifth time they have unloaded 15 or more hits and the fifth time they have scored 10 or more runs in a 14-5 spring training log.

Alexander, who is bidding to replace Pat Dobson as Baltimore's fourth starter, walked the last mile Sunday. The Yankees tagged him for nine hits and seven runs in 1-2-3 innings, including a two-run double and RBI single by Nettles and assorted run-scoring hits by Callison, Alou, Allen and Blomberg.

In other developments, Cleveland drew first blood in the weekend trade with Oakland when newly acquired center fielder George Hendrick doubled and singled twice and

Stanley Named A&M Assistant

COLLEGE STATION — Former Big Spring assistant Bob Stanley has been named freshman line coach at Texas A&M University, just eight days after he had accepted the head coach position at Round Rock High School.

Stanley, who worked under Spike Dykes here in 1970 and moved with him to Alice, was line coach at Odessa Permian the past two seasons.

Gregg, Haywood Capture Race Honors At Sebring

SEBRING, Fla. (AP) — Peter Greer, 31, is going to cut down on driving a bit to mind his sports car dealership and his family in Florida.

Hurley Haywood, 24, is planning to keep his bachelorhood for awhile and go on to bigger and richer victories in other forms of racing.

For the moment, however, the two personable young drivers are kings of the walk in U.S. endurance competition.

Aided by Dr. Dave Helnick, a physician-radiologist from Hialeah, Fla., the two wheeled a yellow Porsche Carrera to a 10-mile victory Saturday in the 23rd renewal of the Sebring 12-hour sports car race. They won about $90,000.

Only six weeks before, they had driven a similar machine to an 85-mile triumph in the 24-hour marathon at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Expos 7-1, the Dodgers' 'B' Squad Nipped the Houston Astros 3-2, the Texas Rangers 15-7 while the Detroit Tigers shaded the Chicago White Sox 2-1 and the Minnesota Twins topped the Atlanta Braves 1-0 in games shortened to 4 1/2 innings by rain.

Games between Cincinnati and St. Louis, Pittsburgh and the New York Mets, and Boston and Philadelphia were rained out.

NATIONAL TITLE AT STAKE Memphis Tries Bruins Tonight

ST. LOUIS Mo. (AP) — Memphis State probably will ignore its own intuition and try to play a run-and-shoot game against incomparable UCLA tonight for the National Collegiate Athletic Association Basketball championship.

The showdown battle for all of the marbles in college basketball begins at 8:10 p.m., CST. It will be televised nationally by NBC. Gene Bartow, the Memphis State coach, said he doesn't believe "anybody in the country can beat UCLA playing a run and-shoot game." Almost in the

Girls Lure Four Soldiers To Death

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — The British army distributed thousands of drawings today of two girls who lured four sergeants to an apartment where terrorists murdered three of them and gravely wounded the fourth. The drawings were made from descriptions provided by the sergeant who survived the shooting and another one who at the last minute didn't accept the girls' invitation. The two girls, called Jean and Pat, met the soldiers in a Belfast bar Friday night and invited them to a candlelight party at an apartment. One of the girls left, saying she would get another girl. But she returned with two men carrying machine guns. The gunmen forced the unarmed soldiers to lie face down on a bed and then riddled them with bullets. The wounded soldier was left for dead but later managed to get away. Most of his jaw was shot away and a bullet was lodged in his spine. The girl called Pat was reported to be 18 to 22 years old, about 5-foot-7, with thin features and shoulder-length hair that might have been a wig.

Driver of the other car, David Wayne Clemons, 21 was treated for bruises at a local hospital and released.

Safeway Suing Farm Workers

The following statement was released today by Quentin Reynolds Chairman of the Board at a news conference at the San Francisco Press Club: Safeway Stores Incorporated today filed suit in Los Angeles superior court against the United Farm Workers the Interfaith Committee to aid farm workers and various individuals associated with them including the Reverend Frederick Eyster and Father Boyle. Damages in the amount of $150,000,000 are demanded. The complaint alleges that the defendants are and have been engaged in a conspiracy to commit unlawful acts — such as bringing spurious lawsuits against Safeway, distributing leaflets and pamphlets which contain false and misleading statements, engaging in mass picketing of Safeway Stores and otherwise disrupting the lawful conduct of its business. This complaint grows out of a continuous course of intimidation and harassment which started in late December 1972.

Bill To Freeze Interest Rates

WASHINGTON (AP) - Contending that President Nixon's program of economic controls is impossibly weak, House Banking Committee Chairman Wright Patman is introducing a bill to stabilize rents and freeze all prices and interest rates for 60 days.

Under Phase 3 of Nixon's economic program, which started in January, there are no limits on rents or interest rates; no firm guidelines for price increases, and no mandatory wage-increase limits on most of the economy. However, the food, construction and health-care industries remain
