NEW RECORD Drop In Jobless

WASHINGTON (AP) — The total number of Americans at work increased sharply in March while the unemployment rate dropped slightly, as the economy continued to expand, the Labor Department reported today.

Total employment rose by 700,000 over the month to an all-time high of 83.9 million on a seasonally adjusted basis, the department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

The total number of unemployed workers edged down to 4.37 million for a seasonally adjusted rate of 5 per cent of the work force. This was down one-tenth of one per cent from February's level, the report said.

Herbert Stein, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, said the rise of 700,000 in civilian employment was the largest monthly increase in over 20 years.

ENCOURAGING

"The combination of strong employment gains reported today and moderate wage behavior," Stein said in a statement, "is encouraging evidence of the fundamental forces working for full employment and greater price stability."

Flooding Damage Tops $41 Million

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The flood waters of the Mississippi River have hit an early and lower-than-predicted crest at St. Louis and officials said today it appears the worst of the flooding may be past.

"We're still sitting on a powder keg. The best hope is for only light rains. If we could get a week of no rain, we would be in good shape," said a National Weather Service spokesman.

ISN'T THE END

"This isn't the end of the flood. It's still up there and is above flood stage. We won't get back to normal until the water gets back in the channel. You must also remember that we are in April and rain can be expected," he said.

The weather service said the river had crested at 39.84 feet and dropped slightly by mid-morning today.

The weather service had forecast a crest of 40.5 feet for today, the highest level the river has reached at St. Louis since 1844. The forecast was revised Thursday to 40.3 feet, which still would have been a modern record, but the Mississippi never reached that level.

FLEE HOMES

The U. S. Corps of Engineers said the lower crest would "not have any great immediate effect" on its damage estimate of $41 million for the area from Hannibal, Mo., to Cairo, Ill.

The corps said that more than 1.2 million acres of land were under water from Hannibal to Cairo and nearly 4,000 persons have been forced to leave their homes. The death toll across southern Illinois and eastern Missouri stood at five.

Coast Guard reservists were called to active duty to assist in flood control Thursday. The activation of the reservists, authorized by President Nixon under a new law, was the first time ever that Coast Guard reservists have been called to duty during peacetime, a spokesman said.

Hundreds of Missouri National Guardsmen have been on duty in flood areas since late last week.

"We aren't out of the woods yet," said Richard Nieman, a spokesman for the Corps. "The levees are still in terrible condition. If we can hold out for a couple of days more, we will be in fine shape. I think the sunshine Thursday did a lot to boost the morale of the workers on the levees, too."

Blame 'Brain' For Kidnaping Of Socialite

DALLAS (AP) — A prosecutor in the Dealey kidnap trial today laid most of the blame for the scheme on Franklin Joseph Ransonette, 33, the elder of two brothers on trial in the case.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Doug Mulder told the jury in closing arguments, "Franklin is the convicted kidnaper. Frankin has been through this before. He has been down this road before. He has learned something."

Mulder said what "Franklin learned was: 1. don't buy the car yourself; 2. don't make the phone calls; and 3. find someone else to grab the girl."

Mulder pointed to the fact that the ransom money had been found in two containers, each with a loaded revolver, at the apartment of Woodrow Ransonette, 31, the younger brother. He suggested the large sum of $131,000 was for Franklin Ransonette while $119,000 was for Woodrow. "Who had been sticking his neck out all night," Mulder said, "Here sits the man who was the brain behind it. He pushed old Woody out in front every chance he got."

School Election Slated Saturday

Four persons are seeking two spots on the board of trustees of the Big Spring Independent School district in the election here tomorrow.

The candidates, in alphabetical order are Mrs. Billie Carr, Delnor Poss, Al Valdes and Roy Watkins.

Both Watkins and Poss are incumbents. The election will be held in two locations in the Northside Fire Station for Box 1 and all other voting boxes will vote in the vocational department in the east wing of the high school.

Polling hours are 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Voters also will vote for county trustees at the same location.

Alton Bagwell and J. D. Gilmore are running unopposed. Absentee voting indicates there is very little interest in the county election.

Fifty persons voted absentee in the Big Spring school race while only two bothered to vote absentee in the county race.

Glenn Margolis Winner In County Spelling Bee

In one of the tensest spelling bees held here in years, 10-year-old Glenn Margolis of Park Hill Elementary School Thursday won the right to represent Howard County in regional competition at Lubbock.

The 16-school rivalry took place in the HCJC Auditorium and was not decided until Scott Sullivan of Goliad Junior High, an unflappable competitor, stumbled on the word "beneficence" in the 64th round of competition.

Margolis returned to get the letters in the proper order with that word, then sailed through "bilingual" without a struggle. It was the 24th word offered by pronouncer Mrs. O. T. Brewster.

Glenn is a fifth grader, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Jack Margolis. His father is on the VA Hospital medical staff. The competition lasted an hour and five minutes. Last year, a winner was determined after 150 words had been tried on by the field.

Young Margolis won a plaque plus an expenses-paid trip to the Regional competition. All entries were awarded blue ribbons and a ball-point pen.

Judges in the contest were Tony Wynn, Anna Smith and Dal Herring, all of the HCJC staff.

The word "acquiesce" eliminated the Kentwood entry, Jennifer Smith, in the 53rd round just when it appeared she would go on forever.

One contestant was eliminated in the first round, three in the second, two in the third, three in the fourth, five in the fifth and one in the sixth.

CRITICAL SPOTS

A spokesman for the Corps said late Thursday the situation throughout the St. Louis district seemed to be improving.

"Business in here has slowed up quite a bit tonight," he said. "We've been told not to send out any more volunteers and we've had no more requests for sandbags."

With the river having reached its crest south of Winfield, Mo., Thursday, the critical areas were at Chouteau Island, just north of St. Louis, and Kaskaskia Island, about 100 miles south.

Flood control officials were keeping a close eye on Chouteau Island, where 67 persons remained in their homes. Shifts of 50 workers were being shuttled to Kaskaskia Island every four hours to continue sandbagging operations. Dikes there were reportedly holding against the slowly rising muddy water.

MORALE

Officials at Winfield, one of the critical spots earlier this week, were cautiously optimistic as the river there fell significantly Thursday.

'Wanted' Man Shot, Killed

HOUSTON (AP) — Police said an armed man wanted for questioning in a murder case was shot and killed Thursday night after pointing a pistol at two patrolmen who tried to take him into custody.

They identified the dead man as Eddie Patrick Gonzales, 25, address undetermined.

Carbon Black Produced Here Winds Up In Tires

Note: This is one of a series of stories focusing attention on local industries printed in connection with Big Spring's "Solutions to Industry Week."

Carbon black produced by the Sid Richardson Carbon Co. goes to virtually all major tire companies for making synthetic rubber.

The plant here gets heavy oil from Cosden Oil & Chemical Co. for producing carbon black.

Sid Richardson uses three operating units for producing different grades or forms of carbon black.

Each operating unit consists of three to six reactors or furnaces for a total of 13 furnaces.

Except during periodic maintenance, the reactors run around the clock and throughout the calendar, Tom Fetters, manager, said.

Sid Richardson's local plant is capable of producing 125 million pounds of carbon black yearly.

Employed here are 47 employees, including 33 men in production, maintenance and shipping. A private corporation based in Fort Worth, Sid Richardson uses local commercial trucks and its own fleet of railroad hopper cars to ship carbon black.

Annual payroll here approaches a-half million dollars.

Production superintendent here is Charles Stubblefield; Dale Young, mechanical supervisor; Harold Hicks, maintenance foreman; Mike Woods, laboratory manager; and L. Q. Radcliff, office manager.

The firm has a similar carbon black plant near Baton Rouge, La., a research and development center in Fort Worth and a research pilot plant operation in Odessa. Sales headquarters are located in Akron, Ohio, the home of many tire companies.

One of many firms founded by the late Sid Richardson, the Sid Richardson Carbon Co. now has a nephew of the founder, Perry R. Bass, as its president. The firm was established in 1948. Local facilities were built in 1961.

May 4 Concert Tickets Here

Tickets for the May 4 appearance here of the Army Field Band have arrived and can be picked up without charge at The Herald and the First National Bank.

The celebrated musicians, who headquarter in Washington, D. C., will be appearing at the Municipal Auditorium.

As the official touring musical representative of the United States Army, the Field Band has traveled more than one million miles since its formation in 1946, including concert tours of Canada, Mexico, the United Kingdom, Europe, the Far East and Central America.

Also appearing with the band is the 25-man Soldiers' Chorus, a select group of high-trained vocalists with a repertoire of patriotic medleys, Broadway show tunes, spirituals and operatic selections.

In addition to performing before American and foreign heads-of-state, the chorus was specially honored to be selected to sing at the Prayer Breakfast for the late John F. Kennedy, following his inauguration as President of the United States in 1961.

Both the Field Band and the Soldiers' Chorus perform frequently on network radio, television, and in motion pictures.

Charge Two In Slaying

HOUSTON (AP) — Two men have been charged in the slaying of a Houston laborer.

Leonard Randolph Page, 24, of New Orleans was arrested Thursday at a service station. Police said they are seeking Revert Watson, 21, also of New Orleans.

Both are charged with murder in the slaying of Carlos Rubi, 24, who was shot to death Wednesday night.

Police flushed two men from an apartment near where Rubi was shot but they escaped. Police said the two men dropped credit cards in their flight.

Page was arrested Thursday when a service station attendant became suspicious of a man at the station and called police.

Second Abduction

DALLAS (AP) — Police were confronted today with a second holdup-abduction in which questions arose about the status of the kidnap victim.

A young gunman held up a 7-Eleven late-night grocery about 11 p.m. Thursday, and in leaving ordered a woman in the store to accompany him.

A similar case occurred at Irving, a suburb, about three weeks ago. No trace of the Irving kidnap victim has been found and no such persons has been reported missing, leading officers to believe the young woman may have been a confederate of the robber.

Descriptions of both women were similar except for hair color, raising the possibility of use of wigs.

Bank Robbery At Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Three men held up the Bank of the Southwest today and escaped with an undetermined amount of money.

Employees said three white men with long blond hair were waiting in the bank when the workers arrived about 8:30 a.m.

The robbers fled in a black over green sedan.

Kodak Show Begins At 7:30 O'Clock

You better believe what is printed on the admission ticket for the Eastman Kodak travel show, "Mexico — A Photo Adventure" — scheduled for the Municipal Auditorium this evening.

The time is 7:30 p.m., which is what the ticket says. The Herald has been listing the time as 8 o'clock.

The tickets can still be picked up at either The Herald or the First National Bank. The show is free to the public but those attending should have tickets.

Eastman Kodak staged a similar photo adventure here last year about the wonders of Asia and it was warmly applauded.

Gray Withdraws As FBI Nominee

WASHINGTON (AP) - A Justice Department official, a former Illinois governor and a Los Angeles judge are among those being rumored as possible successors to L. Patrick Gray III as director of the FBI. President Nixon concluded Thursday night that the Senate would not accept Gray, his first choice, who apparently fell victim to the Watergate bug-casing. Nixon announced from the Western White House that he accepted to a request by Gray and withdrew his name because "it is obvious that Mr. Gray's nomination will not be confirmed by the Senate." White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon has not decided on a successor and that the preliminary screening of possible nominees has not even begun. Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst, who expressed deep disappointment that Gray was not confirmed, was quoted as saying that the administration has no names lined up as alternative choices. But during Gray's month-long appearances before the Senate Judiciary Committee, several names were mentioned in Washington rumor mills. Heading the rumor list are John Ingersoll, director of the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs; former Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie of Illinois, and U.S. District Court Judge Matt Byrne of Los Angeles, who is presiding over the Pentagon papers trial. Also mentioned have been Henry Petersen, head of the Justice Department's criminal division, and Police Chief Jerry V. Wilson of the District of Columbia. But some administration sources say they doubt Petersen and Wilson would be considered. The Washington Post today quoted sources as saying that administration officials have sounded out Senate Judiciary Committee Chairman James O. Eastland and Democratic Whip Robert Byrd to see if Petersen and Ingersoll would be acceptable. President Nixon suggested that Gray was the unfortunate victim of the Watergate controversy.

Can't Muster Votes To Kill 'Transcendental Meditation'

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - A Senate committee couldn't quite decide whether "Transcendental Meditation" was a form of religion or a stress-relieving exercise Thursday. So the Committee on Human Resources couldn't muster enough votes either to kill the measure, or pass it on to the committee agenda, where members can meditate on its fate. The meditation resolution by Sen. Babe Schwartz, D-Galveston, would urge state agencies to consider a technique known as "Transcendental Meditation," a trade name, as "one answer to the problems they're confronted with."

Jane Hobson of Houston said the technique was developed, and is taught, at a price, by an organization known as the Students for International Meditation Society. She said the method, using deep-breathing and concentration, would relieve stress. Sen. Bill Patman, D-Ganado, and Walter Mengden, R-Houston, pressed Miss Hobson on whether the technique might be a form of religion. Patman also read a statement in which "Transcendental Meditation" was said to be a cure for various physical and mental ailments, including "anxiety, hypertension and high blood pressure." Miss Hobson said that was correct. She also denied it was a religion or philosophy, saying it was "simply a technique of self-development."

Choir's Paper Drive Ending

Reluctantly, the Big Spring High School choir is stopping its paper drive. The singing group could still use the money it derives from sales of the paper but the purchasers in Midland are swamped and can't accept any more. Those who have accumulated waste paper can leave it at the containers in the College Park Shopping Center, if they will take it there within the next day or two. The money realized from the drive went into a fund to send the Meistersingers to Europe this summer. Choir Director Jack Bowers, who expressed gratitude for the people's cooperation in the paper drive, said that the outlook was encouraging that the Big Spring Choir Boosters Association would raise the money needed for the trip. He said he thought the choir needed only about $10,000 to insure the tour.

GETS DIVORCE WITH $15.60 HOW-TO KIT — After three tries acting as her own lawyer, schoolteacher Sharyn Calub, 26, finally won her divorce Thursday using a $15.60 do-it-yourself kit. "I owe it all to determination," says the happy third grade teacher, getting a hug from her mother, Alice Israel. "I saved $300 in lawyer's fees," she said. A judge signed the final judgment papers in Tampa Thursday.

Chain Cuts Meat Prices

By The Associated Press
Meat prices dropped today in one of the nation's major supermarket chains, marking the first extensive victory for backers of the nationwide meat boycott. The Grand Union Co., the nation's 10th largest chain, lowered prices of beef, pork, lamb and veal by at least 10 cents per pound below the ceilings imposed last week by the Nixon administration.

TOO EARLY
The price reductions are to continue through April. Grand Union President Charles G. Rodman made the price trim announcement Thursday and said the action had been "triggered" by the meat boycott.

The Grand Union move failed to spar any major price lowering by other large supermarket chains and the general effect of the boycott throughout the nation ranged from the closing of a major beef packing company in Kansas to no effect at all.

The National Beef Packing Co. said it will close its plant in Liberal, Kan., today and remain closed until the price situation improves. In New York state, a spokesman for the State Department of Agriculture said it's too early to tell the result of the boycott, but he said as of now there was no indication the boycott was biting into beef prices at either retail or wholesale level. However, he did say that some prices among tradesmen are rising.

SALES DOWN
In Seattle, Safeway Stores Inc., the largest retailer in the area, estimated that meat sales were down about 10 per cent since the boycott began April 1. But many supermarket officials said meat prices would not be cut until wholesale prices are lowered, despite continuing poor sales.

Many retailers and wholesalers said the full effect of the meat boycott probably will not be known until next week, following the weekend buying. Under the meat ceiling regulations imposed by President Nixon, retailers must start posting price ceilings for beef, lamb, and pork products near meat counters beginning Monday.

Storm Slopping Across Border

By The Associated Press
A storm in Mexico sent scattered rainfall slopping across the border into Texas today and east winds off the Gulf of Mexico brought more moisture into the state.

Skies were clear only in the Texas Panhandle and far West Texas, where early morning temperatures again sagged below freezing in a few spots.

Rain fell at rates up to 7.5 inch per hour in the Southwest Texas Hill Country north of Fredericksburg, and another moisture belt 155 miles wide stretched from northeast of Austin to Laredo.

Moderate showers mixed with occasional patches of light rain pelted a sector from near Alpine in the West Texas mountains across the Pecos River to around Colorado City and Snyder. There was light rain also along the Upper Texas Coast and up to 150 miles inland over East Texas and into Louisiana.

Occasional showers and a few thunderstorms were predicted over most of the state tonight and Saturday. Temperatures were expected to stay mild except for a little cooling by Saturday afternoon in the Panhandle.

Early morning temperatures eased down to 24 degrees at Dalhart and 28 at El Paso while the readings were still 61 at Brownsville and Laredo, and 62 at McAllen.

Thursday afternoon's top marks reached as high as 76 at Alice in South Texas. Alpine and Amarillo were the coolest spots with a 56 maximum.

Leadership In 3 Rodeo Events Changes Hands

DENVER, Colo. — Leads in three events changed over the weekend as cowboys competed for $43,389 at two rodeos, the Rodeo Cowboys Association said.

Bill Smith of Cody, Wyo., twice world champion saddle bronc rider, won $1,673 for first in the event average at the Canadian Western Rodeo in Edmonton, Alta., and picked up another $294 in the event at Spokane, Wash.

He leads saddle bronc riders with $7,329 in winnings. Another Wyoming cowboy, Joe Alexander of Cora, took the lead in bareback riding with $7,703. Alexander, who has reigned as world champion bareback rider since 1971, won $1,268 for first at Edmonton, and $215 for placing at Spokane.

Steer wrestlers are eyeing a rookie to the sport, Tom Ferguson of San Martin, Calif., who moved into first place with a $412 check from Spokane. Ferguson, who had the fastest time at the rodeo, 4.9 seconds in the second go-round, now leads in his event with $8,141.

Another cowboy who did well over the weekend is Bob Ragsdale, president of the Rodeo Cowboys Association.

The Chowchilla, Calif., competitor won $1,636 at the two rodeos, placing in calf roping and steer wrestling, and now leads the 1973 world champion all around cowboys standings with $18,469.

Larry Mahan, former all around champion from Dallas, Tex., is second in the standings with $13,576. He took first in the Edmonton bull riding for $1,761.

Someone Cares

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My name is Albert and I am a compulsive overeater. Three years ago I weighed 305 pounds. I was in debt to the tune of $8,000, my marriage was on the rocks, and I was about to lose my job. Overeating was the cause of all my problems, but I didn't know it then.

I had tried reducing clubs three times, diet doctors, quack doctors, shots, pills, and even hypnosis. One diet doctor put me on pills and shots and I lost 100 pounds in seven months. In less than six months I had put it all back on again. (It cost me $1,500.)

Then someone told me about Overeaters Anonymous and I went to a meeting. There were signs all over the place saying, "WE CARE."

Abby, I have never met a more loving, caring bunch of people in my life. I couldn't believe it. The only requirement to join "O.A." is a desire to stop eating compulsively. There are no dues, and nobody is weighed in, or humiliated. You don't even have to attend meetings if you don't want to. I can only tell you that after that first meeting I felt that God had sent me there.

Today, I weigh 180 pounds, am debt free, have money in the bank, and my marriage is more secure than ever. I've even returned to my church where I was ashamed to go for years because I felt so unworthy.

Overeaters Anonymous is strictly that. No last names are used, but I will sign mine and you may check me out. That organization has done so much for me I want to let others know about it so they can be born again. Because that's what happened to me. ALBERT IN LOS ANGELES

DEAR ALBERT: Not only did I check you out, I personally spoke with several members of "O.A." and every word you wrote is true. Anyone interested in learning more about this wonderful organization (there are chapters all over the U.S.) may write to: Overeaters Anonymous, P. O. Box 2613, Hollywood, Calif. 90029.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has made it plain that he prefers the television set to me. Several of my women friends have the same complaint. What could be the reason for this?

IGNORED: Maybe it's because he can turn off the television when he wants to.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "PUZZLED IN HOPE, ARKANSAS:" You are under no obligation to send the price of a gift instead of a gift. People who ask for CASH instead of wedding gifts are presumptuous. (Suggestion: Why don't you and six other people get together and send Amy Vanderbilt's new book on etiquette? I can think of no gift more appropriate.)

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Guests Tell Of Travels In Africa

Mrs. May Cannon and Mrs. Estelle Cornish, both of Nacogdoches, were guests of the Pioneer Sewing Club during a meeting Tuesday in the home of Mrs. R. A. Chambers.

Last July, Mrs. Cannon and Mrs. Cornish toured Africa, and they presented a program describing their travels.

Traveling by airliner, the women went first to Cairo, Egypt, where they viewed the pyramids and rode camels, later going to Nyrobi, Kenya, which they described as a beautiful city with lots of flowers. From there, they went on an eight-day "safari," traveling to game reserves of national parks in Kenya and Tanzania to see thousands of wild animals. Their lodging was in a world-famous "tree top" hotel. After numerous other side trips, they went to Addis Ababa, Athens and Greece.

Following the program, club members worked on individual sewing projects. The next meeting will be at 2 p.m., April 17 in the home of Mrs. J. H. Cardwell, Forsan.

Proposed Judicial Changes Explained By Judge Caton

District Judge Ralph Caton discussed proposed judicial changes to the Texas Constitution when he was guest speaker Tuesday for Scenic Chapter, American Business Women's Association, at Holiday Inn.

Under a proposed article, the judicial system is unified under the supervision of the Texas Supreme Court. Only two levels of appellate courts (Supreme Court and courts of appeals), and two levels of trial courts (district courts and county courts at law) are permitted.

Jurisdiction of all courts is left to the Texas legislature, and flexibility is provided for adapting the judicial system to future needs. The Court of Criminal Appeals and the Supreme Court are merged, temporarily increasing membership of the Supreme Court to 14, but gradually coming down to nine as incumbents vacate positions.

Also, under the proposal, all present judicial system personnel including judges, clerks, prosecutors and other non-judicial personnel, will be absorbed into the new court system. Justices of the peace and municipal judges are incorporated by the legislature into the county court system. However, no judicial office would be abolished during the term of the incumbent who holds the office.

The proposed article provides that all judges are selected by nonpartisan election. Voters will be given an opportunity to provide for merit selection of appellate judges. Merit selection will be submitted as a separate constitutional amendment and, if approved, appellate judges will be appointed by the governor from a list of qualified nominees submitted by a judicial nominating commission. At the expiration of their terms, judges will be subject to approval or rejection by voters. If rejected, the office becomes vacant and will be filled by the governor from a list of nominees submitted by the nominating commission.

Merit selection will be submitted as a separate constitutional amendment and, if approved, appellate judges will be appointed by the governor from a list of qualified nominees submitted by a judicial nominating commission. Also, selection and duties of sheriffs, county attorneys and county clerks are left to the legislature.

Judge Caton, who has been in Big Spring 13 years, is district judge over Sterling counties. He said, under the proposed change, there will be no one to fill his office if he leaves, unless a judge is called from some other district.

Mrs. Troy White presided during business, and new members initiated were Mrs. J. A. Edgar and Mrs. Jesse Crane Jr. Also, Mrs. Emma Slaughter was reinstated as a member.

Vocational speaker was Mrs. Jerry Thompson, bookkeeper for Lucelle's Interior Designers. In-convocation was by Mrs. Gattlin Jones, and benediction by Mrs. Edgar Cruz. Guests were Mrs. Ruby Adkins and Mrs. W. T. Brewer. The next meeting will be a salad supper May 1 at First Federal Community Room.

Counseling Services Aid Local Students

Counseling and guidance services available to students at schools were discussed Wednesday by Mrs. Jimmy Ray Smith and Mrs. Harold T. Rosson for 1953 Hyperion Club.

Mrs. Smith, a counselor for local elementary schools, outlined some of the testing conducted on students with minimal brain damage. She said counselors at the elementary level are probably the only non-authoritative people in a child's life. Counselors listen to the children and help them deal with personal problems or problems with teachers and parents.

Mrs. Rosson is a counselor at Big Spring High School, and she said a majority of her counseling is based on preparing students for college or a trade after high school graduation.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Bill Estes, 1609 Osage, with Mrs. H. W. Middleton as cohostess.

New officers were elected. They are Mrs. Clarence Peters, president; Mrs. Jimmy Taylor, vice president; Mrs. Middleton, recording secretary; and Mrs. Bill Pollard, treasurer.

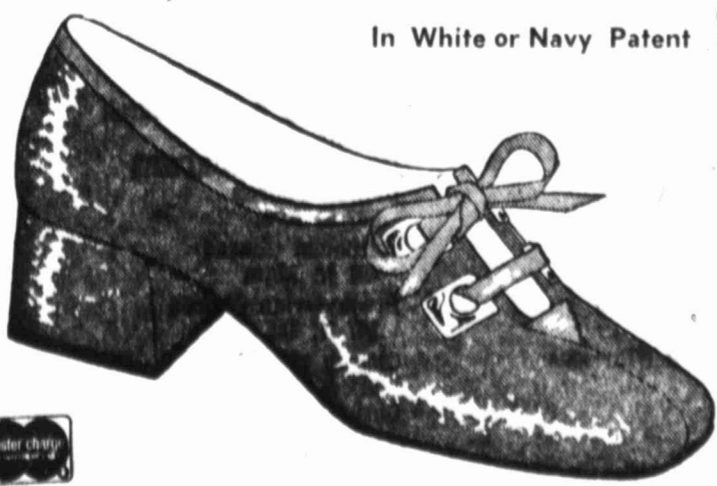

The group will meet for a salad luncheon at 11:30 a.m., May 2 in the home of Mrs. Peters, 802 Highland.

ROUGH-HOUSE: (Q.) I am the middle one of three boys, 10, 12, and 15. My little brother and I fool around and fight quite a bit. When my father sees us, he takes a plastic bat he has and hits us with it. Believe me, we have a lot of black and blue marks.

To Tip Or Not Is Question

GENEVA (AP) — "Service not included" says a sign in a Geneva lakeside restaurant. Then the puzzled guest notes the check lists 15 per cent for service. Two blocks away, a client is politely reminded by a pretty waitress that "service cost compris."

Officials are confident that the "all-included" approach will eventually prevail.

The tip will become a thing of the past, one official predicted. But a successor is in sight. The commission notes that a trend toward extra tipping is growing fast where the "service compris" of the Cherokee Chief Motel in Cherokee, N.C. (AP) — Noah Powell, 67, principal chief of the Eastern Band of the Cherokee Indians, died Wednesday.

do a certain amount of scuffling, wrestling, rough-housing. To avoid hurting your little brother, however, you should keep it under control. Do not get into serious fights with him. If he has a complaint against you or you have one against parents. When you are fooling around just for fun, try to pick a time when your father is at work, or when he is in a relaxed mood and your noise and commotion won't bug him.

WHICH ROOM? (Q.) I say it's all right for David and me to be in my room (my Mom is always home) when he is over and we are watching TV or listening to records or just talking. In my room we have enough space. There is a big chair for David and I could sit on the floor. We wouldn't have to be on the bed. My mom doesn't think like that. She says: "Girls don't entertain their boy friends in their BED-ROOMS."

I don't think it is my bedroom. It is just my room. It is also MINE, and I decorate it myself. — 16 and Misunderstood in Maine.

(A.) Your mother's objection to your entertaining David in your room makes sense. But she should give you much more privacy to entertain him in the living room. Talk to her seriously about this. Try to convince her that she is being unfair and intruding. Because she is.

Party Rising Again

The Democratic party never ceases to alarm Republicans and surprise Democrats. Like the legendary Phoenix, it seems to rise, youthful and enthusiastic, from the ashes of its former self.

Since the unpleasantness of last November, many Democrats and many hopeful Republicans held a wake. No clear way could be seen through the gloom for the former party of the people. Conservatives blamed liberals and liberals blamed themselves.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

My older sister was killed in a car accident at age 36. She professed faith in Christ as a child, but then went astray, becoming a heavy drinker. I don't think she knew what hit her the night of her collision. Anyway, I have always wondered whether or not she went to heaven. Does God wink at our faults once we believe?

This question is often asked, and it opens a subject where only God has the final and authoritative word. Since the relationship of an individual to Christ through faith comes from a personal spiritual transaction, our evidence is limited to speech and conduct. God keeps the official book, however.

I am sure on the day of the Crucifixion very few if any standing on the periphery of the crowd heard the one thief profess faith. What reputation they did have would have made it doubtful that a criminal would be in heaven — yet the Lord promised Paradise that very day.

I admit it is natural to expect that following a decision for Christ, the mode of life would validate the step of faith.

Haldeman's Revenge

By Rowland Evans
And Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — The morale of Dr. Henry A. Kissinger's talented NSC staffers, many of whom believe themselves victims of back-room persecution by the White House palace guard and the State Department hierarchy, is dropping to an alarming low point for reasons having nothing to do with Dr. Kissinger.

The sense of persecution is well-founded and its symbol is undeniable: National Security Council (NSC) staffers are not given the perquisites of other White House aides. More important is the determination of the State Department, ever more jealous about NSC encroachment on its hereditary turf, to deny promotions and good assignments for Foreign Service officers attached to Kissinger — a discrimination fought by Kissinger but tacitly backed by H. R. (Bob) Haldeman, the mighty White House chief of staff.

THUS, THE NSC is becoming a dead end for career Foreign Service diplomats, a fact drenched with irony. While NSC staffers, who helped President Nixon achieve his glorious triumphs (the SALT agreement, the China policy, Vietnamization, the Berlin agreements, among others) are treated shabbily, domestic White House staffers are grandly rewarded despite the implications of Watergate, the failure of Phase III, the ITT scandal and other political disasters.

The irony is directly traceable to Haldeman. It is no secret that Haldeman resents everything about Kissinger — his continuous and highly favorable publicity, his total access to the President and the exemption of his NSC operations from Haldeman's iron control.

In a city where appearances tell so much, Kissinger's men are members of a special White House underclass. Unlike domestic aides under Haldeman's control, the NSC staffers are denied regular White House transportation, are denied use not just in Vietnam," said the bipartisan Speaker of the House Carl Albert.

With that, members proceeded to adjust their differences in a spirit of compromise and brotherly and sisterly love. Party regulars and reformers endorsed a slate of 25 at-large additions to the national committee. Without splitting an infinitive nor shattering a teacup the party stepped away from the wailing wall, bound up most of its wounds, and began talking eagerly again of taking care of those naughty Republicans.

This does not mean that Democrats have adopted an 11th Commandment, as Republicans once did: Thou shalt not speak evil of Republicans. Many of the going gets heavy, Democrats will take round-house swings at Democrats like they always have.

Room For Both

It's early to be thinking about Thanksgiving, but Rep. Bertram L. Podell of New York has it on his mind.

By unhappy coincidence, Thanksgiving this year falls on Nov. 22. That also is the 10th anniversary of the assassination of President Kennedy.

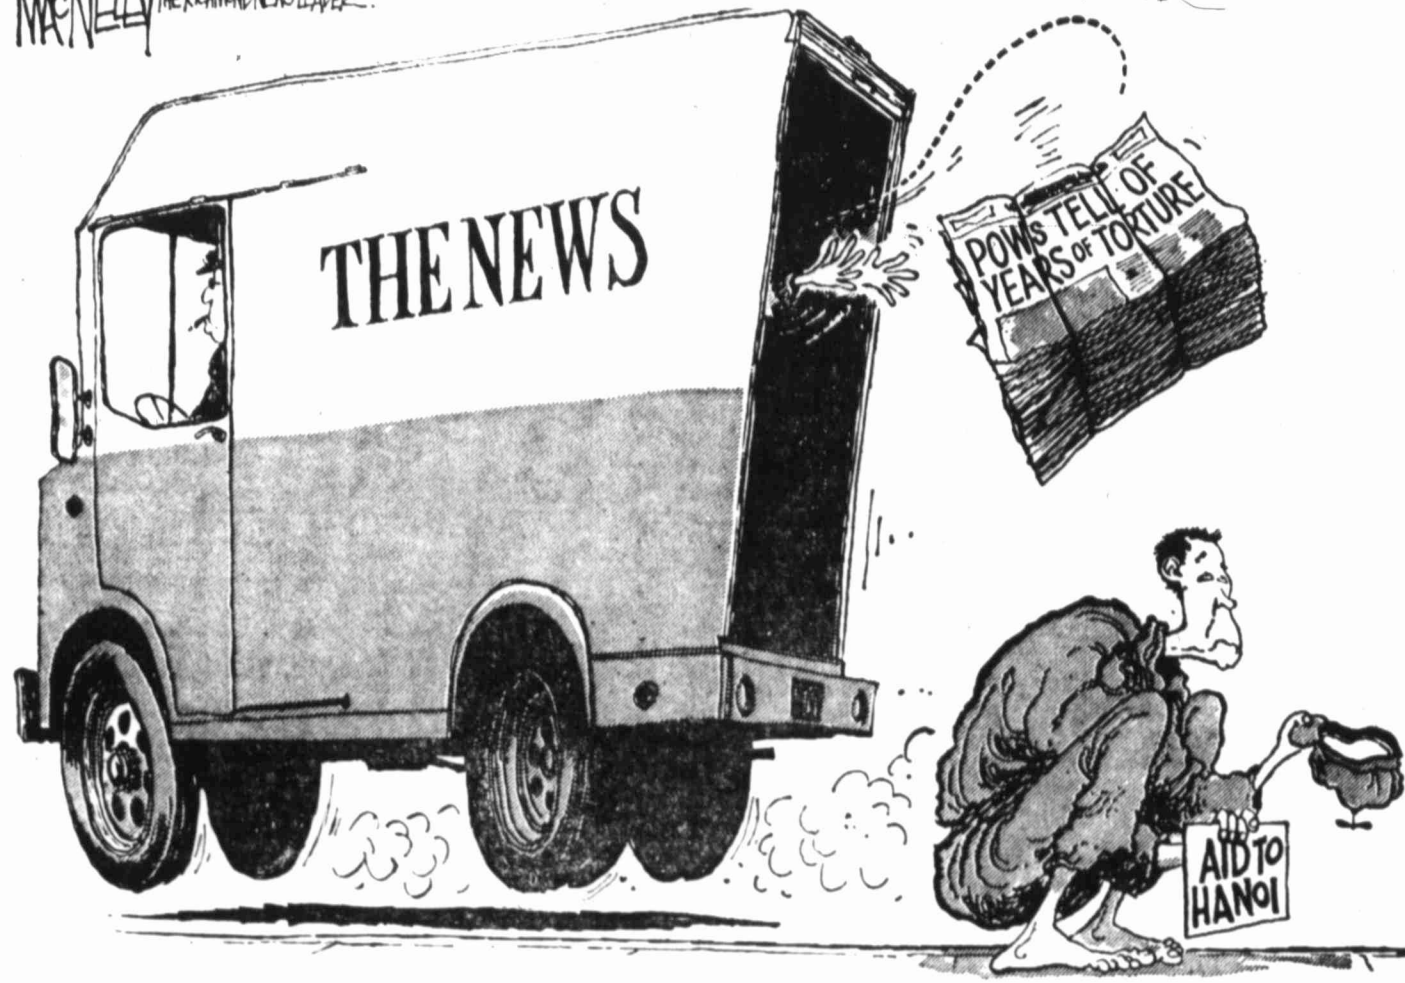

an 11th Commandment, as Republicans once did: Thou shalt not speak evil of Republicans. Many of the going gets heavy, Democrats will take round-house swings at Democrats like they always have. But when the primaries are over, just as with most family fuses, they manage to smooth over their differences and unite against the common enemy, Republicans.

We shall be hearing more about Democrats in the days ahead. Spring has come. Democrats appropriately took advantage of the best of seasons to dedicate themselves to rebirth and renewal.

Podell thinks Thanksgiving should be moved to Nov. 29, so that the memory of the tragedy will not cast a pall of gloom over the Thanksgiving.

We can appreciate Podell's concern, but we also believe that Americans can commemorate the death of a president appropriately and still be grateful for this nation's plenty.

McNALLY THE CHRONICLE NEWS LEADER

to Christ at any age. He locks us into a relationship that nobody can sever. The famous statement in John 19 that: 'no man can pluck them out of my hand' would seem to include even the individual himself.

Pray that God will help you leave this matter in His hands, and then will give you the wisdom and courage you need to live right yourself.

Three Things To Cuss About

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is about as near to an eternity on earth as man ever knows.

He may wither and fade and grow old. His memories don't. They stay fresh and forever young.

And memory is the bonfire that keeps the human spirit warm, guarding it from the eternal chill. You've got a pretty good fire going yourself if you can remember when —

Heavyweight champ John L. Sullivan was known as the Boston Strong Boy.

On hot summer days before the arrival of bubble gum and sanitation, kids gouged war tar from the street and chewed it. The taste was awful—but the price was right.

During Prohibition a man's social standing often depended on whether he enjoyed a good credit rating with his bootlegger.

You could never be sure whether the bulge in a man's back pocket marked the presence of a wallet or a hip flask.

Most children learned young to dislike the taste of orange juice because they rarely got any except as a chaser for castor oil.

Mother wept the day her son put on his first pair of long pants and Dad let him start carrying the gold watch left him by Grandpa. This was the family's way of acknowledging that it had lost a boy and gained a man.

There were always three things for a man to cuss about — the whims of women, the vagaries of the weather and the ways of government.

Few men carried cigarette lighters because most men didn't smoke cigarettes, and a cigar really didn't taste right unless it had been lit by a kitchen match.

All a growing boy knew about sex he learned from sneaking a look at the pink pages of the barber shop's Police Gazette or reading a copy of Captain Billy's Whiz Bang.

The best way for juveniles to show their superiority over adults was to speak to each other in pig Latin in their presence.

A man didn't amount to much if he had to pay cash for his groceries. He usually charged them all week and settled his bill on Saturday night.

You could get a black eye or a broken head for gossiping about a woman's reputation.

Those were the days — remember?

Stein Leventhal Syndrome

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please give me some facts on Stein Leventhal syndrome. What are its effects on pregnancy? Is it necessary to have an operation or can one take drugs for it?

— F.A.

This is a disorder of the ovaries — they become enlarged and develop cysts. Menstruation is irregular or absent or may be either excessive or scanty.

Effect on pregnancy? In general, the patient is infertile. Further, there is an excessive growth of body hair because of the relative dominance of androgen over the estrogen, or female hormone, which normally produces the ovaries.

Cause of the disorder is not known. It has been observed that menarche may start at the normal age, but an irregular pattern usually develops.

In passing, lest this upset young readers who note an irregularity of the menstrual pattern — some irregularity is quite common. There may be one or several periods, and then a lapse of several months without periods. This irregularity tends to disappear as the body matures. So don't, if you happen to have some irregularity in the teens, jump to the conclusion that you have Stein Leventhal syndrome!

Treatment of Stein Leventhal syndrome primarily consists of surgical removal of wedges of tissue from the ovaries, after which menstruation and fertility improve.

Sometimes steroids (cortisone-type drugs) may be used, alone or in conjunction with surgery. The ailment is treated by a skilled gynecologist to one.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please explain the ailment, "spastic colitis," its treatment, cause, and what finally can be done to cure it. Is surgery of any help? — J.F.

Spastic colitis takes up a fair share of my booklet, "Colitis and Kindred Complaints," and I suggest that you read it. Send 25 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for a copy. It will explain why and how surgery is sometimes necessary in treating particularly stubborn cases.

Dear Sir: What do you think of taking vitamin E for heart trouble? The fellow down at the gas station who seems to know all about these things told me I should take vitamin E every day. It would cure my angina pectoris.

He sells vitamin pills on the side, and said that at the last meeting at his regional distributor's house he was told about new discoveries and how vitamin E heals scar tissue. He looks pretty sharp but I wonder if he really knows or just wants to sell me his pills. They are pretty expensive. — B.C.

Vitamin E is such a popular fad right now that it is being touted as a cure for almost anything you can think of. Latest claim I've heard is that it cures sweaty feet.

I'd have to be at least a little bit reluctant to accept the saying of the fellow down at the gas station when it comes to treating angina pectoris. The claims for vitamin E in heart disease have not been confirmed by American cardiologists.

Dear Sir: I have a relative who I have some reason to believe is indulging in masturbation or self-abuse. Do you have a leaflet dealing with this or can you give me some information as to the effect and way of breaking it? — Mrs. M.E.B.

The term "self-abuse" probably has done more emotional damage than all the masturbation that has occurred over the years. There is no medical evidence that the habit is harmful. I suggest that you just stop worrying.

Of all the problems that pediatricians encounter in children, pinworm is the commonest. To learn the newest methods of treatment, write for the booklet, "The Commonest Pest, Pinworm," enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope, and 25 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.

In Memoriam

Around The Rim

Ann Stevens

Hundreds of people die on my birthday each year, but this year I knew one. That has made all the difference. He died on my birthday, my number 21. I became an adult; he became a corpse. He was only two years old.

A blood clot formed in the brain of a baby, and I learned of death on my birthday.

ALTHOUGH HE was no relative of mine, the death of this child horrified me beyond philosophizing except to consider the unfairness of it all — that an innocent child should die before me.

It has been a while since that happened, but Saturday night I was witness to another death, that of a strong and able man, and again it stunned and horrified me.

It seemed rather ironic at the time that he should die at a festivity honoring four young men. He himself was 66.

Yet following the death of long-time Herald publisher Robert Whipkey was to have emceed, spoke a short yet comforting phrase in acknowledgment of the highly-respected man's death. He said, "God's will be done."

That Christian statement, with which the Taoists might have agreed, assumes there is a plan for the world, a "Will" that knows best, and a reason for death. Perhaps therein lies human comfort.

FROM A Taoistic point of view, it was natural. The mature die to make way for the young — at least, that is what a Taoist would have seen in the tragedy.

Symbol of the century — old philosophy was a circle cut in half by an "S." Half the circle was colored black, the other half white. Called the yin and the yang, the two halves represented the opposing forces of evil and goodness in the world.

Taoism enabled its followers to view the misfortunes of life (and death) in a matter-of-fact manner. Bad things must happen, it taught, but they will be offset by good things.

Taoism represented perfect balance in the world of negative and positive, bad and good, sadness and happiness, hate and love. A very simple belief in essence yet often difficult for humans to practice, Taoism encouraged courage and allowed for optimism.

ASTRONAUT BUZZ Aldrin, speaker at the Air Force Association banquet Saturday which Mr. Whipkey was to have emceed, spoke a short yet comforting phrase in acknowledgment of the highly-respected man's death. He said, "God's will be done."

That Christian statement, with which the Taoists might have agreed, assumes there is a plan for the world, a "Will" that knows best, and a reason for death. Perhaps therein lies human comfort.

Sex And Ideology

William F. Buckley Jr.

So the Sex Education, Counseling, and Health Clinic at Princeton University, for reasons compelling as will be noted, decided to distribute to all Princeton students a "Birth Control Handbook" — presumably, among other reasons, to ease the pressure on the Admissions Office, a generation hence, of applicants who list both parents as being Princeton graduates. So far, pretty much routine. Most colleges shove out such information as a matter of course. But this Handbook is special.

Before being distributed, it obtains the imprimatur of the Advisory Council to the Clinic, a fifteen-member body which includes the vice president for Administrative Affairs, the associate dean of the college, and the assistant dean of Student Affairs.

THE HANDBOOK advises Princeton students on anatomical and sexual nuts and bolts, but there is more to come, as one might have anticipated from the cover design of the handbook which features a clenched-fist revolutionary salute and the slogan "Medicine for the People."

"The fact of zero population growth claims to direct its propaganda primarily at white, middle class Americans," explains the Princeton handbook, "does nothing to eliminate the factor of racism which is an inevitable historical aspect of the U.S. population-control movement, financed and directed by America's white ruling class."

Meanwhile, the "Princeton Alumni Weekly" is carrying on a spirited investigation of live on the Princeton campus. Miss Susan Williams, of the class of 1974, writes in a column "On The Campus" that the best guess is that 30 per cent of the Princeton girls live with Princeton boys regularly, and an equal percentage, irregularly.

Jackson's Bill

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — If Sen. Henry M. (Scoop) Jackson has his way the Soviet Union will make a fundamental change, eliminating all restrictions on immigration. Not only the 100,000 Russian Jews, Jackson's figure, who have applied to emigrate to Israel but minorities and dissidents of every kind would be free to leave.

MOSCOW RECENTLY granted free exit to 60 Jewish families but this, in Jackson's view, is a mere token to appease American opinion. So long as the law stands requiring emigrants to pay the cost of their education, in some instances up to $25,000, Jackson will push for his amendment denying "most favored nation" status and government credits to the Soviet Union.

He has 76 sponsors in the Senate for that amendment. Whether he can hold a majority in light of the signs of relaxation and in the face of a concerted lobbying effort from the White House is the test just ahead. It will come when a trade bill is sent up to Congress.

COLD WAR warrior bent on breaking the understanding with the Soviet Union or a compassionate humanitarian determined to ease the plight of many thousands long suffering under a repressive regime — you take your choice. Among Jackson's colleagues in the Senate are cynics who are convinced that he is running hard for the presidential nomination in 1976, with his stand on the Soviet Union part of an effort to establish a centrist position and consolidate the support of American Jewry so generous in his 1972 try in the Democratic primaries last year.

IN THE meantime in this waiting interval with no White House trade bill yet in sight, events are shaping the future. The Chase Manhattan Bank in New York extended an $86 million credit to Moscow to help finance the Kama River truck project. This was matched by a credit of the same amount extended by the Export-Import Bank. Altogether the bank has underwritten $102 million in credits.

Two other items making up the total are $3,101,000 for flatware for consumer use jointly with the Wells Fargo Bank of San Francisco and $11,671,000 for 500 submersible electric pump units underwritten by seven American banks. The Ex-Im Bank points out that under these agreements the dollars do not leave the United States and, therefore, they do not contribute to the big dollar deficit.

THE JACKSON amendment would prohibit such credits not only to the Soviet Union but to any Eastern European nation with laws restricting the free movement of peoples. Jackson is convinced that, despite the persuasive efforts of White House economic counselor Peter Flanagan on Capitol Hill, he can hold his 76 sponsors against any compromise. A Devotion For Today

As the mountains are round about Jerusalem, so the Lord is round about his people, from this time forth and forevermore. (Psalm 125:2, RSV)
PRAYER: We praise Thee, Lord, for the certainty of Thy presence and care. Thy faithfulness is stronger than mountains and more enduring than the everlasting hills. Thou art forever the same — Savior and friend. Amen.

FINEST FOR Lawn and Garden

Time To Plan Landscape Is Now, Insist Experts

This is the time to plan for improvements and additions to home landscape, and the top professionals in the field are suggesting a "selfish" approach for homeowners. "The first question a home landscape gardener should ask himself," they say, "is 'just how much maintenance can I handle?'" The final plan for outside decorating should hinge on the answer.

The American Association of Nurserymen, spokesman for the nation's nursery growers, garden centers, landscape designers, and installers, says the best plan for residential landscaping can have unhappy results if it is beyond the ability or capacity of the resident to provide proper upkeep.

Their answer to the problem is what some authorities in the organization refer to as "zone maintenance."

Roses Need New Spot

So some of your rosebushes didn't make it into the new season. They were beautiful, you knew them by name and talked to them as friends and cared for them, but they're gone. One of the happy wonders of gardening is that we can easily and economically replace plants with new growing residents that quickly earn our affection.

Filling the space left in an established rosebed, though, can be a disappointing process if a simple procedure is ignored. The American Association of Nurserymen explains the problem.

Soil which has grown roses for several years, the nursery people say, tends to exhaust quantities of plant nutrients. The roses still growing in it continue to thrive because their roots spread to new areas, but a new plant in the same soil will quite likely starve.

The new rose in the bed must be planted in a new environment. Remove the present soil to a depth of 12 inches and a width of 18 inches, and replace it with soil from another part of the garden where roses have not grown. Then prepare the ground in the same way as in any original rose planting.

Following that simple procedure, new neighbors can be added for your rose garden family at just about any time.

Putting Green In Back Yard? Why Not Try It?

A putting green in the backyard is more than a little hole in the ground, but it's a practical addition for most golfers with a little bit of space, some enterprise, and a desire to make their home exterior a place to play. Three major factors to be considered, according to the American Association of Nurserymen, are the preparation of the soil, the selection of the lawn material, and continuing care of the green.

The initial preparation is most important in the development of an enjoyable putting green in a private yard. The size of the area can be based on the amount of space available, although something like 40 feet by 60 feet is desirable. The green should be elevated at the center to permit adequate drainage. An elevation of approximately 6 feet is preferable to a depth of 12 inches and a width of 18 inches, and replace it with soil from another part of the garden where roses have not grown. Then prepare the ground in the same way as in any original rose planting.

Following that simple procedure, new neighbors can be added for your rose garden family at just about any time.

provide good deep percolation to permit the water to move to the root areas of the grass cover, and hold a reservoir of moisture.

A number of different types of grass will provide the fine surface desired for a professional quality putting green. Specific advice from a nursery garden center is indicated on this matter, too. Depending on how quickly the golfer wants to use the putting green, either grass sod or grass seed may be applied. Sodding the green, while somewhat more costly, can mean the area will be ready to use in a few weeks. Seeding will require a growing season before the player can get on the mini-

A home putting green should have four or five standard putting green cups, and these are available at most golf supply shops. The cups may be removed when the grass is to be mowed.

Injured Trees Need Help, Too

You know what to do if you suffer a minor cut on your hand: apply a bit of antiseptic, cover the wound and let it heal. Cuts and wounds on trees and plants materials need the same care!

Openings that occur in plant tissues provide access for insects and disease organisms, and require treatment. Small wounds will heal by themselves, but any cut larger than one inch in diameter should be covered with specifically prepared tree paints containing an antiseptic and available at any nursery garden center. Don't substitute a house paint because some contain toxic materials that will injure plants.

Tips Offered For Hedges

While hedges can be pruned as often as necessary during the growing season, don't prune any particular branch of a growing or immature hedge closer than six to eight inches to the old growth. Follow that tip and you can look forward to a dense growth development. Mature hedges may be cut to the old wood or even into it without adverse effect.

Rotary Mowers Are Popular

One of the secrets of an attractive lawn is a lawnmower in good working order.

The old hand-powered reel type is a relatively rare instrument now, and even the powered reels are in the minority. The rotary mowers are most popular and versatile.

Regardless of type, however, a sage course is to have your mower serviced before starting a new season with it. This may save you a lot of grief and expense. In buying a mower, try and get one amply powered for your need. In using a mower, remember safety may prevent regret — don't take a chance with those whirling blades. They can cut through steel in a wink, and certainly through your hand or foot.

RX For A Slipped Disc: Why Not Ground Cover?

In any well-landscaped lawn the introduction of gracefully designed areas of ground cover provides a handsome change of pace. On steeply sloping banks such plants offer protection against erosion. Depending on their variety, the ground cover plants dislay a bounty of shades and colors through the seasons of the year.

Now an alert homeowner teamed up with his doctor and his nursery garden center to arrive at still another purpose for ground covers in a residential setting. The result is a solution to problems supposedly created by his back ailment — an increasingly common symptom in this "white collar worker" society.

The solution came from one of the Washington, D.C., area's aggressive nursery garden center operators, Daniel Capner (currently President of Garden Centers of America), who suggested replacement of the townhouse owner's small lawn with an assortment of ground covers and shrubs. "We designed four separate areas in the yard," Capner says, "to give a variation of scenery and color, and a void maintenance problems for the man of the house."

The four areas include an entryway, a public area at the front of the home, a quiet place in a secluded corner of the yard, and a "party" location surrounding the patio. Trees, hedges, shrubs, low-lying plants, cedar chips and hardwood rounds combine to offer the different textures and surfaces and vistas in the over-all plan.

the Washington project would not necessarily be appropriate elsewhere, some of the suggestions offered by nursery authority Capner have universal value. "Soil preparation is probably the most important part of the process," he says. "Some ground covers will grow in almost any kind of ground, but all will do better if the soil is given the proper care before planting."

Jim Corbett Handed Post

LITTLEFIELD — Jim Corbett Blagg, Amarillo, has been named as city manager of Littlefield effective April 23. He fills the post vacated by Pat Bradley, who quit to accept the position of city manager in Edinburg.

Blagg was born Nov. 22, 1947 and graduated from Crosbyton High School in May 1966. He received his BS degree in social studies from West Texas State University in January 1970.

He was employed as city manager in Amarillo in June 1971 when he worked in several phases of the city structure until August 1972 when he became program coordinator for the city of Amarillo.

Blocking Bill To Impose Equal Time Doctrine On Newspapers

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Newspapers should be forced to give politicians equal space to answer criticism, says Sen. Walter Mengden, R-Houston.

"This bill is going to open it up so we can have open and free discussion on both sides, not just one side," he told the Senate Jurisprudence Committee Thursday. "And that's what freedom of speech and freedom of the press is all about."

7 VOTES NEEDED
The committee voted 5-2 in favor of Mengden's bill, but under Senate rules 7 votes are needed to get a measure out of the 13-member committee.

The bill remains as pending business before the committee. Voting for it were Sens. William Braecklein, D-Dallas; O. H. Harris, R-Dallas; Bill Meier, D-Eulless; Mengden and Jim Wallace, D-Houston.

Sens. Bob Gammage, D-Houston, and Oscar Maury, D-Dallas, voted against it. Sen. Charles Herring, D-Austin, did not vote.

The bill would make it a misdemeanor punishable by a $500 fine and one year in jail to refuse to publish a reply by a politician whose personal character has been attacked in a newspaper article or editorial. Equal space must be afforded even if the candidate's "official record" has been criticized.

BUY SPACE
Any criticism of a candidate so close to an election that there would be no time to reply is prohibited by the bill. "We just want to be fair, that's all," Mengden said.

He charged that newspapers say, in effect, "I've got the newspaper and I'm going to rake you over the coals, but you don't have a chance to reply."

"The only way you can do it now," Herring suggested, "is to buy space at an exorbitant rate."

Mengden said the Houston Post erroneously reported just before an election that he had received more in contributions than he had spent, when in fact he was $17,000 in debt. The Post refused to run a correction, he said, and he still owes that debt because the story caused potential contributors to cut him off.

"I'm talking about lies," he said. He did not say, and his bill does not provide, that there should be an exemption when the newspaper criticism is the truth.

The bill essentially seeks to extend to newspapers the fairness doctrine television and radio stations must follow, Mengden said.

He read from a newspaper editorial that referred to him by his legislative nickname, "Mad Dog," which became so popular when Mengden served in the House in 1971 that representatives frequently barked when he got up to speak.

Herring asked Mengden if he had any other witnesses for his bill beside himself.

"Well, yes, sir, I have about 12 million out there around the state, but I didn't want to call them all," Mengden replied.

Billy Boykin, representing the Texas Press Association, testified against the bill. He said it was unconstitutional.

The public, not the TV or radio stations, owns the air waves and has a right to insist on equal time, Boykin said, but if you don't like what is said about you in a newspaper, which is privately owned, you can start your own newspaper. "I can start an automobile plant, too, and compete with General Motors," Braecklein said.

Boykin agreed that newspapers should be fair. "I disagree with some journalism professors today that say it's okay to print opinion without labeling it as such. That's what's going to cost us the freedom of the press," he said.

'Environmental Protection' Measure Apparently Killed

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The so-called "Environmental Protection Act," keystone of Texas environmentalists' legislative program for six years, apparently is dead for another session.

"I'm through. It's gutted. There is nothing we can do with it," said the sponsor, Rep. Hawkins Menefee, D-Houston.

Menefee asked the House to set the bill aside after representatives voted 80-58 for an amendment by Rep. Ray Hutchison, R-Dallas. There was no objection to his request, and the measure was "laid on the table, subject to call."

And Menefee said there would be no attempt to bring it back up. In effect, he said he would not be content with half a loaf.

zed if they were "subject to second guessing by individuals and courts."

SHUT DOWN
Earlier, Hutchison had contended the bill would allow individuals to shut down major airports—"Any person who thinks one 747 pollutes the air would be able to close down the airport."

Menefee, attacking the amendment, said the "entire thrust of the bill" was to give "citizens some control over the (state anti-pollution) agencies."

"We wouldn't need this bill if the state agencies had been doing their job," he asserted.

Approval of Hutchison's amendment, Menefee said, would be the same as "saying that the bureaucrats of the Air Control Board and the Water Quality Board have the right to set whatever regulations they want."

Hutchison's amendment was the provision giving citizens the right to file anti-pollution suits.

Asked why he would not settle for this, Menefee, a critic of current state pollution standards, said:

"The issue is our state agencies and our bureaucrats over there. They are the ones that are fouling things up."

Would Harris (Houston) County's air and water be any cleaner if present standards were enforced?

"A little bit," he said.

FILE SUIT
The bill would have entitled any Texan to file suit to stop pollution of the air and water. Under present law, only the state or those suffering provable, specific damage from pollution may sue.

A committee amendment would have made compliance with a "valid" standard, rule or order of a state agency a defense in a pollution suit. The same amendment would have permitted suits to determine whether an agency was doing its job.

But Hutchison's substitute amendment took out the word "valid" and completely removed the right to compel an agency in court to do its duty.

"This bill in its present form will bankrupt this state and the economy, or economic system, that we have," Hutchison said.

He contended that anti-pollution agencies would be paral-

BUREAUCRATS
The bill was introduced in the 1967, 1969 and 1971 legislatures by former Rep. Rex Braun, D-Houston, but it was stymied each time.

Claim Good Shot At Killing 'Pork Barrel' Water Project

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's legislative loyalists say they have a good chance of sustaining his veto of a water program that he claims "has attained a distinct flavor of pork barrel."

The 1965 rural water and sewer grant program was killed by Nixon in January as part of what he called "our determined effort to hold down taxes and combat inflation."

HOUSE TEST

Attacking "a blatant infringement of congressional authority," Rep. W. R. Poage, D-Tex., chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, guided through Congress last month his bill to resurrect the program.

As the House passed it by 297 to 54, Poage said: "When the Senate passes similar legislation, I urge that we vote to override a veto in a resounding fashion—should the President again strike out against this vital program and against the Congress."

The Senate and the President did as Poage expected. On Thursday, Nixon sent the vetoed bill back to the House.

In the first House test of Nixon's veto power this year, Speaker Carl Albert said the vote will come Tuesday and "I think there is a chance" the veto will be overridden.

But Rep. Charles M. Teague, R-Calif., senior GOP member of the Agriculture Committee and a leader of the administration's farm-policy forces, said: "In my opinion, we have an excellent chance to sustain the President's veto."

EXECUTIVE POWER

Disagreeing, Poage said: "I can't believe there are enough members who would let the President do their thinking for them, who would change their vote and thus defeat this good legislation."

In the President's view, the legislation requiring his administration to spend an estimated $120 million "would increase federal spending by at least $300 million during fiscal years 1973-1975.

Furthermore, he said, "a grave constitutional question is also raised" by the bill "which purports to mandate the spending of the full amount appropriated by the Congress."

Nixon said he has been told by Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst "that such a mandate conflicts with the allocation of executive power to the president" by the Constitution.

Schedules Vote On Rolling Back Prices, Interest Rates, Rents

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has set a vote next week on a rollback of prices, interest rates and rents—and President Nixon's administration is standing firm against any such move.

Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz drew the administration line Thursday before a Senate subcommittee.

He defended Nixon's ceiling on meat prices, but said "we are not considering imposition of a freeze, ceiling or whatever you call it in other areas."

LATE CHOICE

The House Banking Committee Wednesday wrote the provision for a rollback to the levels of Jan. 10, the end of Phase 2, into legislation to extend the president's economic-control powers.

These expire April 30 unless Congress acts. The timetable is tight and Nixon could be confronted, if the legislation is passed, with a last-minute choice between signing a bill to which he objects or seeing the economic authority lapse.

However, the legislation faces a stiff fight in the House and Senate, where Republicans, with some Democratic support, will be trying to trim the measure back to the simple extension Nixon has asked.

MONKEY WRENCH

The Senate has rejected freeze proposals. But Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., told Shultz Thursday the margin for rejection has diminished on successive votes and he intends to keep trying to add a freeze provision to bills as they come up.

Shultz, who has said he would not be surprised to see Nixon veto such a measure, declined to be drawn out further, saying he knows Nixon strongly disapproves but would not predict his action.

The kind of freeze proposed in the Banking Committee bill, Shultz said, would be "a catastrophe for the American economy."

"The economy is growing fast . . ." he said. "If you throw a gigantic monkey wrench into the machinery, you create catastrophe."

As Shultz spoke, the Labor Department was reporting that wholesale prices rose 2.2 percent in March, the sharpest monthly increase in more than 22 years. Wholesale prices of finished goods climbed at a seasonally adjusted rate of 4.6 percent, highest on record.

And the Cost of Living Council indicated that prices for hamburger may be allowed to rise above the required ceiling on grounds much of it contains some imported meat.

IMPORTED MEAT

Director John T. Dunlop said the administration's meat-ceiling regulations allow increased costs of imported meat to be passed on to the consumer.

Aiming at a vote on the economic-control legislation before Congress leaves on its Easter recess, House leaders plan quick consideration by the Rules Committee after the report on the bill is filed Tuesday, the earliest possible date, and then House debate as beginning possibly Thursday.

Houston's Durocher Fires Pitching Coach

By The Associated Press
President Nixon will not throw out the first ball when the major league baseball season gets into full swing today, but he'll hand it to Air Force Major Leo Durocher, a former POW, who is throwing out the first pitch.

Meanwhile, Durocher shuffled his coaching staff by firing Jim Owens, the club's pitching coach since 1967. Hub Kittle, a Houston coach since 1971, will handle the pitchers while Bob Lillis, a player with the original 1962 Astros and director of minor league instruction since his retirement following the 1967 season, will fill the vacancy on the coaching staff.

"Durocher said he wasn't completely happy with the pitching situation and thought a change was in order," explained General Manager Spec. Richardson.

The season actually got under way Thursday with the traditional early opener in Cincinnati, where the San Francisco Giants defeated the defending National League champion Reds 4-1 behind the seventh-inning pitching of Juan Marichal. Chris Speier's two-run single in the seventh inning capped a tiebreaking three-run uprising.

Today's American League schedule also finds the New York Yankees at Boston and Milwaukee at Baltimore in afternoon action and the Chicago White Sox at Texas and Minnesota at Oakland under the lights.

In National League day games, St. Louis is at Pittsburgh, Philadelphia at the New York Mets and Montreal at the Chicago Cubs. After dark, it's Houston at Atlanta and Los Angeles at San Diego.

That will leave the AL's Detroit at Cleveland on Saturday in the final opener. The Indians closed out the exhibition schedule Thursday by no-hitting the Texas Rangers 4-0 behind the pitching of Steve Dunning, Mike Kilkenny, Ray Lamb and Milt Wilcox.

Nixon's visit will mark the first time a chief executive will attend a season inaugural in a city other than Washington. The President deferred throwing out the first ball to Maj. Luna of nearby Orange, who pitched the first no-hitter on record.

Rangers Open Against Chisox

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Rangers, losers on the field and flops at the gate, charge into the 1973 American League season tonight against the Chicago White Sox with high hopes of turning the old Washington Senators into a thriving franchise.

"We should have a more exciting team with much more hitting," says general manager Joe Burke. "If we show progress on the field, I'm sure we'll show progress in the stands."

Burke admits the season ticket sale is disappointing but adds, "When you lose 100 games it has its effect."

The Rangers only drew 662,974 fans last season as they sagged to major league baseball's worst record—54-100. The season ticket sale was only about 3,000 and it is nearing only 2,000 this season for the 35,698 capacity Arlington Stadium.

However, Burke is encouraged that people in the Dallas-Fort Worth area "are talking baseball."

The Rangers expect a crowd of between 20,000 to 25,000 fans for the opener which pits veteran Dick Bosman of Texas against foxy knuckleballer Wilbur Wood, a 24-game winner for the White Sox last season.

The game marks the debut of Whitey Herzog as the Rangers manager.

Herzog, who came from the New York Met system, has drilled the Rangers long and hard on fundamentals a n d pepped up his boys with a lot of back patting.

"There's a positive attitude that never was here last year," says shortstop Toby Harrah of the Rangers who played under the departed Ted Williams last year.

The Rangers made some trades for muscle in the off-season, acquiring such sluggers as Mike Epstein, Rico Carty, and Alex Johnson.

"This will be a much improved hitting team." "There's more talent here than most people would have you believe," Herzog says.

The White Sox, second place finishers in the American League West, are a proven product under manager Chuck Tanner, who has baseball's highest paid hitter in Dick Al-

Braves, Astros Vie Today; Aaron Eyes Homer Record

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Atlanta's Hammering Hank Aaron hits the road to immortality again tonight as the Atlanta Braves open the National League season as hosts to the Houston Astros.

Newly acquired righthander Gary Gentry, 7-10 a year ago with the New York Mets, was Braves Manager Eddie Mathews' choice to pitch and Astros Manager Leo Durocher picked lefthander Dave Roberts. A turnout of 30,000 was expected at Atlanta Stadium. Pregame activities will include a ceremony honoring released prisoners of war, including Air Force Lt. Col. Quincy Collins of Atlanta, who will throw out the first ball.

Aaron, 39, and starting his 20th major league campaign, needs just 42 home runs to surpass the all-time record of 714 set by the immortal Babe Ruth.

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

All right, you want a local column? You got it. You want a football column? You got it. I've been trying to get rid of this junk on my desk anyway.

From what I can gather, three Big Springers and a couple of Coahomans are going through spring football drills in Texas colleges right about now. I'm bound to be missing someone, but that's the breaks. Maybe we'll get them later.

Robert Dennis, an all-district performer for the Steers three years ago, heads into his junior season at Texas A&M as a linebacker. According to the depth charts the Aggies send out he isn't exactly setting the world on fire, but it's a new position for him after starting out as a defensive guard. The 5-10, 190-pound Dennis was a squadman as a sophomore.

Another Big Springer, Mike Adams, is one of many Dist. 5-AAAA gridlers performing for Gene Mayfield at West Texas State. Mike was a quarterback for the Steers, but he's now a defensive back.

In Alpine, sophomores Dean and Don Richters of Coahoma have been shining during the spring workouts, along with ex-Steer Randy Morgan. Morgan is expected to start at guard for the Lobos next fall, and Dean Richters is eyeing a starting berth in the defensive secondary.

Don Richters drew special praise from Sul Ross Coach Richard Harvey, who said he was "having an extremely outstanding spring as an offensive guard." He'll likely be the other guard spot opposite Morgan when the real season starts. Another ex-Bulldog, Donnie Buchanan, should see a lot of duty again as a running back.

One other grid item I've tucked away — Bill Bryant, who coached under Spike Dykes here three years ago, has been named head football coach at Round Rock High School. Bryant led Tuli to an 8-1 record last year and a Dist. 4-AAA co-championship, was given a two-year contract and starts to work Monday.

He replaces Bob Stanley, who held the position for about eight days. Stanley, another assistant under Dykes, was named an assistant at Texas A&M shortly after he had resigned at Odessa Permian to take the Round Rock job.

There. Now is that enough football news to tide you over for a couple of weeks?

In case it's not, here's something that might pass as football news and yet it's kind of interesting. The Dallas Cowboys have named a Strength Coach. No kidding. He's Alvin Roy, and he's going to show the Cowboys how to be stronger. Roy has tutored muscles for the San Diego Chargers and Kansas City Chiefs, not to mention several United States weight-lifting teams in international competition. He trained the American team which won the 1952 Olympics in Helsinki.

Baptists Set Cinder Meet

The Royal Ambassadors of the Big Spring Baptist Association will hold a track meet Saturday at Memorial Stadium for youths from the first through 12th grades.

Action starts at 9 a.m. for the RA's, a boys program within the Big Spring area Baptist churches. Joining local runners will be youngsters from Stanton, Forsan, Coahoma, Garden City, Knott, Lenorah, Tarzan and Prairie View.

Finals are expected to get under way around 1 p.m.

First, second and third place finishers in the fourth through 12th grade competition will be eligible to compete in the state meet, scheduled for April 19-21 at Camp Carter in Fort Worth. More than 150 are expected to compete Saturday, while the state event will draw around 3,000.

First through sixth graders will compete in the 50 and 330-yard dashes, the 400-yard relay, the high jump and long jump. In the seventh, eighth and ninth grades, the 75, 220, 440 and 880-yard dashes will run, along with the 440-yard relay, high jump, long jump, discuss and shot put.

The high school sophomores, juniors and seniors will compete in the 100, 220, 440 and 880-yard dashes, mile run, 440-yard and mile relays and the four field events.

Competition will be among the grades, except for the 10th through 12th, which will run together.

Basketball Benefit Slated In Ackerly

ACKERLY — Beta Sigma Phi will sponsor a three-game basketball exhibition tonight at 6 p.m. in the Sands High School gym. Proceeds from the event will go to the Easter Seal campaign.

The Sands Pee-wees will take on the Big Spring Gra-Y Panthers in the first game, followed by a meeting between the Women Outsiders and the Sands senior girls. In the last game of the night the Men's Outsiders will play the Sands senior boys.

Angelo State's Cameron Pleased With Workouts

SAN ANGELO — Angelo State University completed its 1973 spring football workouts last weekend, and despite a less than spectacular performance by the offense, James Cameron was pleased with the overall progress of the team.

The Ram head coach devised a unique scoring system for the final scrimmage — and the defense took advantage by scoring a 57-30 win.

But the offense still got in plenty of work, and in three full-scale scrimmages, produced more than 1100 total yards — an average of 370 steps per outing.

The main concern during the spring was the offensive line, but even with 18 drills, the problem wasn't solved. "It may be sometime before we're set," Cameron said. "We lost so much from last year that it's almost a complete replacement process."

"But we did make some big gains on defense, and our backfield has plenty of prospects. We had a good spring session, for the small number of players out," he concluded. The backfield is indeed full of potential. Gary Olivo completed 25 of 51 passes and Shae Southall hit 14 of 39 as the pair sparked the aerial attack to 662 yards. On the ground, Willie Burton picked up 164 yards in three scrimmages while Mike Cook added 106 and Bobby Littlefield managed 102. And in the receiving department, Charlie Franklin grabbed five receptions for 169 yards while Nathan Mathis managed a dozen for 198 yards.

With the Rams moving into the I formation, and Cameron putting more emphasis on passing, the aerial game accounted for about 60 per cent of the spring offense. And in three drills, Franklin managed four touchdowns while Burton scored three and Olivo and Melvin DeBose each had two.

Even though ASU will have just eight returning starters back, the 1973 season, now just five months away, should feature another strong Ram team in the Lone Star Conference.

CAROLINA LEADS, 3-1 Nets Near Death In ABA

The New York Nets are on the brink and the Carolina Cougars are ready to push them over tonight.

Lou Carnesecca isn't jumping yet, but it doesn't look good for his club in the American Basketball Association playoffs.

Are the Nets finished? "Let's first win one—and then we'll see," says the New York coach whose club is down 3-1 to the Cougars in their best-of-7 East Division semifinals.

The Nets were beaten 112-108 Thursday night in New York for their third defeat of the series, one of three professional playoff games during the evening.

In another ABA game, the Indiana Pacers defeated the Denver Rockets 97-95 to take a 3-1 lead in their best-of-7 West Division semifinal set.

In the National Basketball Association, the Milwaukee Bucks trimmed the Golden State Warriors 113-93 to take a 2-1 lead in their Western Conference series.

Along with the Carolina-New York game tonight, Kentucky plays Virginia at Hampton, Va., in the other East semifinal. The Colonels are in the driver's seat with a 2-1 lead in that series.

In the NBA tonight, Atlanta

meets Baltimore in Eastern Conference series and Los Angeles takes on Chicago in the West. Boston and Los Angeles hold 2-0 edges in their best-of-7 sets and New York is in front of Baltimore 3-0 in theirs.

Carolina's victory Thursday night was helped by an unexpected source, according to Carnesecca—Joe Caldwell's outside shooting.

"You expect Billy Cunningham to kill you, but you don't expect Caldwell to beat you from the outside," said Carnesecca. "The book is that he's weak from far out, so look for him to drive and score underneath."

Caldwell, who scored 22 points, combined with Cunningham's 29 points and 23 by Mack Calvin to help the Cougars withstand a last-quarter comeback by the Nets.

Indiana came back from a nine-point halftime deficit to beat Denver and virtually sew up their series. Billy Keller hit a three-point field goal with 14 seconds left to give the Pacers 96-95 lead, their first lead of the game since then opening minute.

ODESSA — With a second place finish the likely stakes, the Big Spring Steers and Odessa High Bronchos collide Saturday at 2 p.m. on the OHS Diamond.

The Steers, 3-2 in District 5-AAAA play and 8-7 on the year, will be trying to bounce back from Tuesday's painful 3-2 loss to the Abilene Cooper Cougars, while the Bronchos have the same thoughts after a similar fate at the hands of Midland. The Bulldogs, 5-0 in league play, nipped Odessa 4-3 Tuesday, the Bronchos' first loop loss in four outings.

Greg Crawford will probably be on the mound for the Longhorns, with Orlando Olague behind the plate. Chris Duron will start at first, Willie Williams at second, Ricky Steen at short and John Moreland at third base. The outfield will come from John Thomas Smith, Fernie Paredes, Nathan Poss, Gilbert Pesina or Jerry Knoepfel.

Sixen continues to lead the league in hitting with a .776 average, while the team's season average is still above the 300 mark.

The Steers could see either Rick Hetzler, Ricky Lender or James Atkinson on the mound. The three have been the main hurlers in the Broncs' 11-5 season standing.

In other action around the district Saturday, Midland (5-0) takes on Abilene Cooper (3-2), Midland Lee (1-3) tries Abilene (2-3) and San Angelo (0-5) goes up against Odessa Permian (2-3).

Status Quo Gets Approval In NFL

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — National Football League owners have decided to leave game rules much the same for another year.

At the annual NFL meeting here Thursday, the owners turned down all major rule changes proposed, including measures which would have allowed a sudden-death period to decide ties and a two-point conversion option after touchdown.

"The owners felt there was an advantage in ties," explained commissioner Pete Rozelle. "Many of those voting felt that ties kept the races tight as in the case of Oakland and Kansas City last season where the race bounced back and forth."

"There was also the feeling that the tension of the last few minutes of regulation game might be diluted by a sudden-death period."

Rozelle said about half of those voting supported either the sudden-death or the two-point conversion. Voting on the questions was not as rigidly fixed among old league lines as shown in previous years, according to the commissioner.

The owners did vote to make movement between inactive and active squads easier when they eliminated the fixed number of moves a team could make in bringing players to the parent club. The owners kept a 40-player limit with seven inactive players, but dropped the regulation 12 transfers, which was the limit until this year.

Controversy Hits Masters Again

A HAPPY LEADER — Tommy Aaron displays his pleasure after sinking a putt on the 10th green Thursday in the opening round of the Masters at Augusta, Ga. Aaron shot a four-under-par 68 to capture the first round lead.

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — use our four caddies or at least have a blind draw." Tommy Aaron, a slump-ridden perennial runner-up, takes a one-stroke lead over Jack Nicklaus and a 100-pound former baseball pitcher from Japan today into the second round of the Masters, shaken by another controversy.

The latest fuss was ignited by a 120-pound peppercorn from Puerto Rico, Chi Chi Rodriguez, who contends he and some others are getting a bad deal on caddies. He wants a fairer system. His complaint carried extra bite because it seemed aimed at such Masters untouchables as Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer. "They get the more knowledgeable caddies," Chi Chi argued. "We should be allowed to "Considering the wind and the fact I wasn't sure what would come out of the bag, I must say I was happy with my round," said Nicklaus. Aaron, a tall, bespectacled Georgian who has won only one official title while finishing second at least a dozen times, grabbed the first round lead Monday by shooting a four-under-par 68, which included three 15-foot putts. "I've been playing badly," Aaron said. "I've been hitting everything good but my woods and irons."

Nicklaus, the 5-2 favorite J. C. Snead, with 70s; Grier seeking his fifth Masters crown, came in close pursuit with a rallying 69, that included the hand-picked international near-misses for eagles on the field of 82 fell back to scores long 13th and 15th holes. Putting Amazes Amazing Ben

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Ben Hogan's contact with big time tournament golf these days is like your—through the television tube—and the thing that impresses him most is the fantastic putting skill of the new breed.

"We always considered it quite a feat to get down our six eight-footers," the undisputed king of the 1950's said. "But now if a fellow misses from 40 feet, he grimaces and agonizes like a cowboy struck in the heart by an Indian's arrow."

Hogan gave a demonstration of the agony, and everybody laughed. The 60-year-old shotmaking genius from Fort Worth, Tex., flew into this bustling golfing hotbed on the eve of the Masters to receive the William Richardson Trophy from the nation's golf writers for his many contributions to the game.

Hogan acknowledged that it was he who first suggested the traditional Masters Champions dinner on the Tuesday night, preceding the tournament. "The last year's champion serves as the host," Hogan explained. "He chooses the menu and picks up the tab. I won twice. When I discovered that the cost of the dinner was more than the prize money, I finished second four times." Hogan, while grim and a bit unsocial in his playing days, never lacked for a wry sense of humor. Commenting once to a group of reporters on the fact that many golf writers never leave the press tent, the fairway immortal said: "Some day a deaf and dumb mute is going to win the Open, and the world will never find out about it."

Bruins Must Make Super Comeback — Minus Esposito

The Boston Bruins are in trouble, and at least one of them knows it. "We're two games down," observed Boston's flamboyant center, Derek Sanderson, following the Bruins' 4-2 loss to the New York Rangers at Boston Garden Thursday night. "Without Esposito I'd say it's desperate. "I don't say it's impossible," he added, but it's desperate. It will have to be the greatest comeback in history."

Big Springers In Abilene Run

ABILENE — Big Spring eighth and ninth graders will be entered in the Abilene Junior Relays Saturday at the Cooper High School track.

Preliminaries in the two-division affair will be at 9:30 a.m., while finals are set to get under way at 2 p.m.

Donald Walters, a double winner last week at Snyder, will lead the Big Spring Toros as he shoots for top finishes in the long jump and 220-yard dash. Hurdler Ronnie Mullins, sprinter Dick Martin and Scott Goodblanket in the 660-yard dash are other potential point-getters for the Big Springers. The Toros' 440-yard relay team is also expected to fare well, after posting a best of 46.5. Martin, Chip Matthews, Walters and Steve Hereford make up the foursome. Runnels and Gollad will be among the field in the eighth grade competition. Gollad's main hopes center around Mike Harris in the 660-yard dash and Tommy Churchill in the sprints, while Runnels' high jumper-discus man Allen Partee and Charles Puga in the 330-yard dash are also favorites.

Longhorns, TCU Sparkle In Drills

NOW YOU DON'T HAVE TO USE A COTTON HERBICIDE MADE FOR SOMEONE ELSE'S SOIL.

All those herbicides you've been using weren't made for your soil: sandy soil. They're all basically designed to provide weed control in other cotton areas. Where the soil is a lot different than it is here in West Texas. Those herbicides were all you had. But no more. Now you have your own: Sancap.* Sancap has been developed exclusively for cotton growers for use on sand, loamy sands and fine sandy loam soils. And all you do is broadcast Sancap over your field at planting or within two days following planting. Simple. SANCAP GIVES EXCELLENT CONTROL OF CARELESSWEED AND RUSSIAN THISTLE. Stops 'em cold. Without hurting your cotton. With ordinary rainfall or irrigation. Sancap. We made it especially for you. Especially for your problems. And not for anyone else's. Gasoline Sales Cutback Revealed

HOUSTON (AP) - Shell Oil Co. confirmed Thursday that it is reducing sales to large bulk users of gasoline but spokesmen for Exxon Co., USA, Gulf Oil Co., U.S., Continental Oil Co. and Phillips Petroleum Co. said they were not yet allocating gasoline.

A spokesman said Shell was cutting back deliveries to large users in Houston and Dallas because of a tight supply situation.

The statement was issued after several Dallas companies, including the Coca-Cola bottler, reported Shell's action.

The Shell spokesman added, "Unfortunately, we do not foresee immediate relief for this situation."

The American Petroleum Institute reported Wednesday that domestic gasoline supplies approximated 218 million barrels as of last Friday, compared with 241 million barrels a year earlier.

Shell attributed part of the problem to increased demand for heating and diesel fuels in the winter months, when refiners normally are building inventories for the spring-summer heavy gasoline consumption months.

BILLY GRAHAM says, about the new motion picture

time to run

There is no doubt that today we see the family unit being attacked from every side, torn apart and fragmented. TIME TO RUN is a motion picture about a family, about listening, about the silences between people, the unspoken moments, and the moments of anger that don't really accomplish anything. TIME TO RUN openly offers the reality of Jesus Christ as an answer to the human dilemma.

I feel that thousands of people will see a part of themselves in the film. Hopefully, families seeing it will be brought closer together in real understanding and communication.

I urge you to take your children . . . or your parents . . . to see TIME TO RUN when it comes to your community. You may find it more of a mirror than a motion picture!

BILLY GRAHAM

TIME TO RUN will be shown at the Ritz Theater April 11th through 17th with two shows nightly! also matinees Saturday and Sunday. Watch for time listings!

Fire Is Reported

An oil tank battery was reported on fire at the edge of Forsan this morning. A deputy sheriff and firemen from Webb Air Force Base and Forsan were dispatched to the scene.

Sponsored by the Billy Graham Evangelistic Film Ministry, the film will be shown at the Ritz Theatre twice daily each weekday during the period plus matinees on Saturday and Sunday.

Local church leaders and laymen are invited to a preview showing of the picture March 16. Written comments were solicited from those attending after viewing the full-length movie.

Members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormons) are preparing for the 143rd semi-annual World Conference. The conference will be held at historic Temple Square in Salt Lake City, Utah. The three day conference, beginning April 6th, will include the beautiful music of the world famous "Mormon Tabernacle Choir" along with inspirational talks by church leaders. The Sunday morning session will be broadcast by KOSA-TV, channel 7 from 9-11 a.m., April 8th.

SEARCH FOR MEANING — College dropout Jeff Cole (Randall Carver) keeps on the move in a desperate attempt to find meaning in life in the new World Wide Pictures release "Time to Run" which will be shown at the Ritz Theatre, April 11-17.

"I believe it is what our teenagers and parents both need," said Mrs. M.L.F. of Big Spring. "Very good appeal to young people, their language, their actions and reactions but not overly done," wrote Mrs. J.C.P.

"The family in this film represents, unfortunately, many American families. Their experience with Christ can apply to anyone looking for a meaningful life," commented R.S. "The most spiritual film I've ever seen. Praise God! He is in the film," wrote one churchman attending.

"Time to Run" concerns the failure of a success-oriented engineer to relate to his wife or college-age son. The film is the drama of conflicts that are tearing the family apart.

In an attempt to escape the ever-growing hostilities, the son, Jeff, takes to the road hoping to find some meaning in his confused life.

A spiritual dimension is added by Jeff's girlfriend, Michelle, who takes him to a "Jesus People" rally where he glimpses the possibility of a life-style based on forgiveness and love.

In a dramatic reunion both father and son finally find it possible to say, "I'm sorry."

Show times for the film include 7 and 9:15 p.m. weeknights and 2:15 and 4:30 weekend matinees.

Mother's Day Out Set At First Methodist Church

By ANN STEVENS
"It's better than any day care center or a babysitter in the home," said one parent about the Mothers' Day Out program offered twice weekly by the First United Methodist Church.

The 9 a.m.-3 p.m. child care program each Wednesday and Friday was begun in 1967 to give mothers some free-time to themselves and to cure what Rev. J. B. Sharp calls "cabin fever."

"I think it's wonderful," said Mrs. Bill Narrell who has taken her young children since she moved to Big Spring three years ago. "I need some time away from the children, and this is offered at a nominal cost."

Jobeth Corwin, director of the church's children's ministry, said the program is for mothers of preschool children. Four paid workers supervise recreational activities, feeding and rest periods for the some 30 children now regularly participating.

Mothers are asked to bring the food or formula they wish their children to eat, while the church provides milk. A rest break is observed after lunch.

During the six-hour period, children are allowed to play with toys, games and play equipment. Various creative activities such as finger-painting and play-dough shaping are held as well as storytime periods and outside play.

"The primary purpose of Mothers Day Out is to give mothers a chance to run errands, have lunch with their husbands and to have a period of time to themselves without having to worry about their children," said Mrs. Corwin.

The program is open to church members and non-members. Charge for one day for one child is $1.75 for members and $2 for non-members. For each additional child, it costs $0.50 cents.

"All a person has to do to enroll her children is to appear on the specified days," said Mrs. Corwin. It is held in the nursery on the second floor of the church's education building.

"It's not really a babysitting situation," commented Mrs. Narrell who takes her two sons, ages two and six, both days of each week. "They're not just dropped off at someone's house. They are in their second home."

Mrs. Narrell uses her free time those two days to work part-time. "Mothers' Day Out is not really a factor in my taking the job, but it certainly enables me to work worry-free."

Another mother who takes her two young children to the church at least once a week, Mrs. Virginia Ross, said she uses most of her "free time" working part-time.

"But if I'm not working, I use the time to do something for me like sew, do needlepoint or read," she said.

Mrs. Ross is one of the non-members who takes part in believe in ecumenism, and I

Easter Festival Slated At Cisco

One day nearly eight years ago Phil Kendrick drove along U.S. 80 to deliver a load of eggs. An idea began to shape in his head. Why not stage an Easter pageant in a setting like the poultry farm of his father, H. J. (Pon) Kendrick.

That evening he told his parents about it and the elder Kendrick agreed to give it a trial. That was in the Spring of 1965. The pageant is nearly ready for its ninth showing and getting larger all the time.

Phil Kendrick was here last Saturday to tell about it and to invite area residents to witness it on the specially fashioned outdoor staging area on US 80 between Eastland and Cisco. The colorful pageant begins at 3:30 a.m. April 22 and concludes at sunup.

There is no charge, and the family makes up what spectators do not give in a free-will offering. The cost of staging — including capital costs of stages and equipment — is around $2,000. Last year the offering was only $200, but that doesn't

So uncertain were they about the initial pageant in 1965, that they offered free breakfast to all who attended. The farmyard was filled to overflowing.

The first production had 23 scenes and 65 characters. The swimming pool was boarded over for one stage, and an elevated one was put on top of the bathroom. Now there is a 360-foot long master stage which will accommodate 600 scenes so there is no interruption. Friends and neighbors now boost the cast to 135.

With visitation, the Kendricks have provided for as many as 10,000 seating spaces, and 10,000 cars. Attendance has exceeded 20,000.

Local Officers Take Training

Howard W. Kloss, Kenneth D. Shores, and Robert A. Yeager, all patrolmen for the Big Spring Police Department are in their ninth week of training at the Permian Basin Regional Law Enforcement Academy in Midland. The three are among twenty-three other trainees attending the twelve week, 480-hour basic certification school. During this week, trainees will be instructed in defensive tactics, accident investigation and reporting, and traffic law enforcement.

For the past eight weeks, courses have been taught in areas such as history and philosophy of law enforcement, courts and corrections, ethics and professionalization, basic first aid, constitutional law and police liability, Texas motor vehicle laws, juvenile law and crime prevention, to name only a few in the curricula.

Before its inception, there existed no central agency where area police organizations located in the region could send their personnel for basic or in-service training programs. Each department had the responsibility of training their own personnel and the majority did not have the facilities, training personnel or training programs to meet the standards set forth under Texas Law. Now with the Regional Police Academy, a comprehensive and thorough training program, centrally located, is offered to enable the officer in the small department to obtain the same training as any other officer in the region.

Basic certification is required by the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education by the end of the first year of employment with a law enforcement agency. Patrolmen Kloss, Shores, and Yeager have been attending the twelve week school since February 5, eight hours a day, five days a week, and will graduate on April 27. They are considered on temporary duty for training purposes and are being paid their regular salaries. All students must maintain a grade average

Jean Westwood To Conduct Poll

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Jean Westwood, former Democratic National Committee chairman, plans to conduct a poll to measure her chances of winning a U.S. Senate seat next year.

Mrs. Westwood, who resigned her committee post under fire after the party was swamped in last fall's presidential election, said either she or freshman U.S. Rep. Wayne Owens would have a chance of winning the Utah seat on the Democratic ticket. The office is currently held by Republican Wallace Bennett, 74, who has not said whether he will seek re-election in 1974.

If Owens, 35, chooses to run for the Senate, Mrs. Westwood said, she might run for the U.S. House of Representatives.
