Federal Judge Rules OEO Closing Illegal

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge says the Nixon administration is acting illegally in its plan to disperse rapidly the programs and people of the Office of Economic Opportunity.

U.S. District Court Judge William B. Jones issued a broadly worded order Wednesday enjoining Howard Phillips, acting OEO director, from proceeding further with the administration plan to phase out the antipover-ty agency.

Jones said the administration could not unilaterally terminate OEO programs established by Congress as long as funds are appropriated for them. His decision came on suits filed by a union local representing government workers and a Missouri rural redevelopment corporation.

In Chicago, however, U.S. District Court Judge James B. Parsons refused to halt the administration's actions. Parsons said suits filed in Chicago were premature since "OEO will continue as provided by law unless Congress acts to discontinue it or fails to act to cause its continuance and that Community Action Agencies will be funded for their programs at least through 1973."

The Chicago action also was filed by a union local that represents OEO employees.

The White House and the OEO said they would have no comment on the two decisions until government attorneys studied them.

Phillip R. Kete, president of the government union local in Washington, told an overflow crowd of about 100 in the lobby of OEO headquarters after

Jones issued his decision: "We are proud to have fought, and happy to have beaten, this attempt to violate the laws of the United States."

He urged President Nixon to replace what he called "Howie Phillips and his wrecking crew" with managers who will carry out the Economic Opportunity Act as, he said, the union members will. The crowd cheered.

Controversies Pitting Oilman Against Oilman

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Controversies pitting oilman against oilman and environmentalist against industrial giants go before the Texas House today.

The House scheduled an afternoon session, with the calendar listing the oil and gas unitization bill and a measure setting up a state agency to coordinate government activities affecting the environment.

In an early morning session for local and uncontested bills, the Senate passed and sent to the governor a measure calling on the state commissioner of agriculture to make a 60-day study of cattle brands and livestock identification and then make recommendations. Supporters said the severe winter of 1971 that caused considerable drifting and mixing of cattle in the Panhandle stressed the need for a better coordinated livestock identification system.

Desana Awarded Title To HC Mineral Rights

District Judge R. W. Caton Wednesday filed a judgment awarding a Midland corporation $246,560 plus full title to mineral rights on some land in Howard County. The judgment resulted from legal action taken concerning agreements, a debt and alleged damaged reputation.

Oil, Gas and Minerals Development Corporation, which was chartered in Nevada, failed to appear, the judgment states.

The Desana Corporation, Midland, was awarded $143,738 plus $7,822 interest and 10 per cent interest from the date of the judgment.

Desana gained a judgment of foreclosure of its lien against the defendant's mineral interest in the Armstrong Lease. It covers the northwest fourth of section 30, block 33, Township Three North, Texas and Pacific Railway Co. Survey.

In addition, the plaintiff, Desana, was given ownership of equipment used on this acreage.

Desana was credited for oil delivered to the Permian Corporation.

The north half of the northeast fourth of section 30 in the same block and personal property was awarded Desana.

Also, the Nevada corporation was divested of equipment and interest in the lease covering the southeast fourth of section 19 in and on the same block and township.

Because of alleged damages to Desana's business reputation, Desana will recover $75,000. And $10,000 in fees for Desana's attorneys was added.

In its original petition, Desana mentioned agreements between the parties in the suit concerning wells Desana caused to be drilled and completion attempts made.

The environmental bill would require state and local agencies to file statements assessing the impact of their projects and activities on the environment. The proposed agency would have the power to file suit to make a laggard anti-pollution agency do its job.

In action Wednesday, legislators sent to Gov. Dolph Briscoe's desk a bill backed by the State Bar of Texas as an alternative to no-fault car insurance.

The bill would add $2,500 in "no-fault" medical and loss benefits for the policyholder himself to every auto liability policy—unless rejected in writing by the policyholder.

But unlike pure no-fault coverage, the bill retains the right of an injured traffic victim to sue the other driver.

TRADE PRACTICES

House members passed, 133-9, and sent to the Senate a bill listing 20 "deceptive trade practices" that would subject a businessman to money penalties to the state if he lost a suit filed by the attorney general. A consumer also could sue and collect three times his out-of-pocket loss.

Present law forces the attorney general to prosecute consumer cases under the general fraud statutes—considerably more difficult than proving a specific deceptive practice.

The House takes a final vote today on a bill requiring insurance companies to sell $250 deductible auto liability policies to anyone requesting them in writing. In debate Wednesday, the House removed a provision raising the required bodily injury liability to $15,000 per person, up to $30,000 in any one accident.

House members advanced the bill, another part of the bar's package, by a 101-37 vote Wednesday.

City Due $7.5 Million Hospital, Group Told

By MARJ CARPENTER

Six items of importance to Big Spring and Howard County were among the projects approved at the meeting of the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission Wednesday at Terminal.

Judge A. G. Mitchell was welcomed as one of the newest board members to the group. He also delivered the dues check for the City of Big Spring, who approved joining the commission at their meeting the night before.

Judge Mitchell brought a roar of applause when he claimed that "Howard County will be glad to be the peacemakers and settle all these differences between Odessa and Midland and take anything they don't want."

It was further announced that Glasscock County has joined and Judge Weldon Parker will also be a new board member.

LOCAL APPOINTMENTS

Jack Buchanan, county commissioner from Howard County, was among six appointees added to the regional manpower commission. Vance Chisum, Big Spring police chief, was named to the Criminal Justice Advisory Board.

Named to the Health Advisory Council were four Big Spring citizens, including Dr. Carl Marcum, K. H. McGibbon, Floyd McIntyre and Gus Ochotorena.

A certificate of need was approved for the Hospital Corporation of America which will now see the certificate go to state seeking final approval.

Larry Brett of Dallas from the Hospital Corporation of America was at the meeting and said the construction of the new $7,500,000 facility for Medical Center Memorial Hospital will begin as soon as that final approval is given.

FORSAN STILL O.K.

The council approved the waste water collection and the distribution facilities for the City of Forsan. This project would be 75 per cent federally funded at a cost of $159,248 under the Environmental Protection Agency.

HAT THROWN IN — County Judge A. G. Mitchell threw his hat in as he made his first appearance at the Permian Basin Regional Council at Terminal Wednesday. Howard County was the largest county left in Texas that had failed to join a regional commission.

aside when Congress vetoed the Rural Sewage and Water Act was unfunded since this project falls under another federal program.

The commission also approved a Texas Highway Department request for $382,000 to update 1.6 miles of highway from just north of Big Spring on Highway 87 leading to the State Hospital.

COLLEGE LAND

They approved the acquisition of the 137.6 acres in Webb Air Base Training Annex in Martin County for Howard County Junior ior College to use for an agricultural experiment farm.

Members of the board also agreed to $58,800 in federal funds for improvements at Howard County Airport to bring it up to security standards demanded by the FAA.

Another project of interest to Big Spring was approval of $23,150 in second year funds for the Big Spring State Hospital's program of training a staff to work with alcoholics and drug addicts.

CONTROVERSIAL ITEM

Most controversial items at the session was a request by the Boys Club of Odessa called Hope for Odessa for work with pre-delinquents. The grant was $55,000 and barely slipped by with five voting for, three against, and two abstaining.

Another item, which had first failed to receive a second, and then later was granted was a $7,400 request by Midland Community Action Agency to train workers for a program to help communities help themselves.

Other grants approved included $26,000 to Fort Stockton for the Pecos County Community Action Agency, $37,963 to Odessa's Vocational Rehabilitation Commission, $10,450 for improvement on the correctional facilities in Fort Stockton, $32,648 to the planning commission for the teletype network for law enforcement officers for the coming year, $6,403 to the Midland District Attorney for office equipment, $100,277 to Midland College for a licensed practical nurses training program, and $117,660 to the Permian Basin Mental Health and Retardation Centers.

Eight other hospitals in the region were awarded certificates of need on recommendations of the Health Services and Facility committee headed by Harley Reeves.

Judge Chester Taggart of Monahans and Ernie Crawford, executive director of the commission, preside at the proceedings.

Attending from Big Spring were Judge Mitchell, Mrs. Virginia Black, county auditor, and K. H. McGibbon.

Body Found: Worry Ended

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — "The worst part was wondering if she was sick, or hurt, or even being held prisoner somewhere. But now we know what happened."

Mrs. Rodney St. Dizier spoke calmly of her daughter, Celeste Lee St. Dizier, 18, whose body was found Wednesday in a shallow grave near Denton, Tex.

She talked about the months of uncertainty, the rumors she and her husband had heard and of the hopes which ended when clues turned out to be false.

SEDUCTION ATTEMPT

A prisoner from the El Reno Federal Reformatory led authorities to the grave 10 miles north of Denton. Police said their information was that another man had given Celeste a heavy dose of narcotics to knock her out during a seduction attempt. The drugs apparently killed her.

Celeste had disappeared June 23, 1972, after she attended a party in a northwest Oklahoma City apartment.

"She told me that night she was going to a party and then to Fort Worth the next day to see the Rolling Stones concert," Mrs. St. Dizier said. "I only knew she was going with someone named Dave and Linda."

"When she didn't come back, I thought she must have been at a friend's house, but when she didn't call I knew something was terribly wrong."

ALL SORTS OF RUMORS

She was listed as a missing person Aug. 26. Two months ago, police began to follow up on the belief that the girl might be dead, Mrs. St. Dizier said.

"We heard all sorts of rumors," she said. "We heard she was in California and we even heard that she was dead and buried in a back yard here in Oklahoma City."

Mrs. St. Dizier said she followed up all leads, and retained a lawyer to continue the investigation.

Mrs. St. Dizier said she did not know whether police would find the man who gave her daughter the narcotics, but added: "I'll never stop looking."

Tax Reform Remains In Issue Stage

WASHINGTON (AP) — Income taxpaying time is at hand; federal tax reform is not.

An issue during the 1972 presidential campaign, tax reform is still in the issue stage, although Congress has taken an initial step toward shaping legislation.

There is, however, no likelihood that the product will be the kind of overhaul of upper-bracket and corporate tax provisions advocated by some Democrats.

President Nixon has said he will recommend property-tax relief for the elderly and a tax credit for parents on tuition paid to private elementary and secondary schools.

The administration has not yet presented detailed proposals, but is expected to recommend little more than that.

Nixon is concentrating on another aspect of the tax question, contending that if Congress undoes the economies in his budget, "it would take a 15-per-cent increase in income taxes to pay for the additional expenditures."

SANITATION

The Senate also approved and sent to the governor a measure that asks neighboring states and the Congress to work with foreign countries in an effort to establish comparable sanitation and inspection standards in handling vegetables.

OIL AND GAS

Under the unitization bill, one driller could produce all the oil in a field—sharing production with the other owners—if 75 per cent of the working and royalty interest owners approved.

Some oilmen support the measure in the belief it would make it easier to use production methods calculated to boost recovery of a field's oil and gas. But others see it as a grab for their property rights by big oil companies.

Probe Reports Of GOP Spying

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Watergate grand jury appears to be investigating allegations of Republican spying and undercover disruptions that went beyond the break-in and bugging of Democratic national headquarters.

Questioned Wednesday were former White House aides Dwight Chapin and Gordon Strachan and a California attorney, Donald Segretti.

Both Chapin and Strachan have been linked in various published accounts to allegations of political spying and sabotage. Three lawyers have said that Segretti tried to recruit them for political espionage against the Democrats.

RELIABLE TIP
According to an FBI report made public in Senate hearing, Segretti received more than $30,000 in Nixon re-election campaign funds from Herbert Kalmbach, the President's personal lawyer.

Calmbach told the FBI he acted at Chapin's request. Last Feb. 7 the New York Times reported that Strachan made the initial White House contact with Segretti.

The Washington Post said in today's editions that convicted Watergate conspirator James W. McCord Jr. told the grand jury he was advised that transcripts of wiretapped Democratic conversations were hand-carried to former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell. The newspaper attributed the story to reliable sources and said McCord had confirmed it.

McCord was quoted as saying that co-conspirator G. Gordon Liddy, a former White House aide, said Mitchell had ordered a "list of priorities" in bugging Democratic conversations last year.

Mitchell repeatedly has denied any prior knowledge of the Watergate bugging operation.

Anne Armstrong, a counselor to President Nixon, said she agreed with Sen. Barry Goldwater that the Watergate affair is hurting the Republican party. She told newsmen that the administration is determined to clear up the case and the courts are the best way to get at the truth.

SILENCE
Goldwater, R-Ariz., said that continued White House silence on the Watergate affair may spell election disaster for the GOP. But he said he has a hunch Nixon knows that exposure of the roots of the case would severely damage Democrats.

Goldwater said he has always thought there is far more involved in the Watergate case than partisan domestic politics even though he has no evidence that is true.

"But knowing the President and the political thing or person he is, I have suspected there might be some knowledge about what the other causes (of illegal GOP wiretapping) might be—that if he withheld comment on them to the proper time they might be very damaging to the Democratic party," Goldwater said.

Bible Course Is Slated At Webb
A new course "Understanding and Teaching the Bible" will start at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Chapel Annex, and will be held each Monday evening. This eight-session course helps teachers find new ways of teaching the Bible, its content and interpretation.

Participants explore both current issues and classic problems. Those materials include three tape cassettes, and individual instructional placemats which take place of the pupil's books. Call Mrs. Dot Schultz — 263-3603 — for full details. Anyone is welcome to take this course without cost.

'Time To Run' Lures Crowd
Almost 500 people attended the premiere showing of "Time to Run," the latest release of World Wide Pictures, film arm of the Billy Graham organization, last night at the Ritz Theatre.

"It was an excellent turnout especially for a Wednesday night when a lot of churches hold prayer meetings," said Dallas Nash, leader of the film showing committee.

He said that the West Texas coordinator of the film premiere told him Big Spring had a larger turnout than did Amarillo and other large cities in the area.

"We are anticipating that on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights, we may not be able to get all the people in to see the movie," said Nash. Seating capacity of the theatre is 800.

Some 2,600 presale tickets have been sold. Tickets at the door are $1 for children and $1.50 for adults.

Nash urged citizens to come early to get seats for the weekend showings of the film which centers on a father-son conflict.

Membership Drive Starts For Teen Center Monday

By ANN STEVENS
A membership drive will begin Monday in the senior high school and two junior highs for a new teen center. "The Kave," slated to open around June 1.

Being organized by Steve McMillan, a Howard County Junior College student, the center will be open to students ages 13-19. It will feature live bands and entertainers, both local and nationally-known, each weekend after opening.

Fifteen students, including five from each of the three secondary schools, are serving on a youth committee which will make and enforce all rules of the center.

NO LIQUOR, DRUGS
"In the past, teen centers have been run by one or two persons," said McMillan. "This time, it will be run by young people. They are going to make the rules and enforce them themselves."

Constitution and bylaws of the center, drawn up by the youth committee last week, prohibit the use or possession of alcohol, narcotics and drugs within the center.

"Everytime a teen center has been started in Big Spring, dope and alcohol have played the main part in getting it closed down," said McMillan, who has been working with one of the city commissioners for two years on the project.

"I'm trying to start this center mainly because I see the problems of young people. A lot can be overcome by creating something they can dig on," he said. The club will include pinball and football machine, a television, recorded music and a snack bar.

A board of 12 parents including Eddie Acti of the City Commission will serve the center in an advisory capacity.

Membership cards, selling for $2 a month, go on sale at the three schools Monday. McMillan said 600 students have already indicated interest in the center.

Trash Pickup Under Way
As the city's part in the month-long April beautification drive, sanitation crews are providing free pick-up of trash from their yards and property.

Citizens who have trimmed their trees, cleaned out garages or junked old appliances are asked to call the Chamber of Commerce and report their addresses. Chamber officials turn the addresses over to the city which then provides the special garbage pick-up.

"It's mostly consisted of tree limbs and yard trash," said Dick Nichols, sanitation superintendent, who has coordinated the efforts so far of three city workmen in two flat-bed trucks gathering the garbage.

Approximately 80 people have called in to report their piles of trash. According to Chamber Secretary Barbara Giles, that represents "a fair turnout."

John Billy Koonsman of the Loyd Mountain Community in Scurry County lost 21 rifles and six rifle scopes in a burglary last Friday night or Saturday morning, a bulletin in the Howard County Sheriff's Office shows.

Agnew Raps So-Called 'Advocacy Reporting'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew today struck out at journalists who take sides in news stories, saying the nation's news media seems to feel more and more that they should control public reaction rather than report what has happened.

Agnew's comments were contained in the text of a speech, released here, in advance of delivery at the "April Freedom Forum" of the National Educational Program at Harding College, Searcy, Ark.

The speech was critical of so-called "advocacy reporting," a school of journalism in which a reporter takes sides on an issue.

PUBLIC REACTION
"Once journalists believed that their job was to report as much as possible what happened. Today, the view increasingly seems to be that the media should control the public reaction to what happened," Agnew said. "Advocacy journalists, he said, act more as lawyers developing news briefs, than as reporters."

"They ferret out and publicize principally those facts which support their own point of view—points of view which are considered by them to be revealed truth and should be presented to the American people," he said.

"It is advocacy journalism more than any other factor which has caused the current ill feeling between government officials and the opinion-making media," Agnew said. He identified opinion-making media as the television networks, wire services and magazines which cover the nation and world with their own personnel.

REPUGNANT
Saying "The idea of interference with the free flow of information to the American people, by government or anyone else, is repugnant to me," Agnew claimed the Nixon administration wants to be fair with the press.

He said there was right and wrong on both sides in the controversy between the media and the administration, and called for "reasoned debate and communication between the parties" to reach a solution "or even an improvement."

But he said the staffs of opinion-making news media have come to "think of themselves as representatives of the people and just as routinely view the federal government as the enemies of the people."

"Now something seems very out of joint about this. Does a man who works for CBS represent the people? Or does he primarily represent CBS?"

"What advocacy journalism ultimately causes is a dispute between a government position and a reporter's position... Advocacy journalism makes him a salesman for his point of view."

Harrison To Take Office As Chapter President

Dr. Preston E. Harrison, superintendent of the Big Spring State Hospital, will be inducted Sunday as president of the West Texas chapter of the American Psychiatric Association.

The ceremony will take place at 4:30 p.m. in Lubbock when Dr. Harrison succeeds Dr. Pete Palasoto, Abilene, as head of the unit which covers the western half of the state.

Dr. Harrison holds degrees from East Texas State, the University of Texas, and Baylor Medical College. He has served as a professor at Baylor and did research work at the University of Chicago.

He became clinical director at the hospital here in 1953, and in 1957 was named acting superintendent, then superintendent in 1958. He was chosen to be a fellow by the Menninger Foundation and did a residency there in his chosen field of psychiatry, in which he also holds a PhD degree.

Under his leadership the hospital here has become one of the most modern in concepts of treatment in the state system. Since 1966 it has been fully accredited by the American Hospital Association.

Dr. Harrison is on the state advisory council on alcoholism. He is a fellow in the AAAS, a member of the American Medical Association, American Psychiatric Association and American Society of Clinical Hypnosis.

Sixth Member Of Houston Fire Department Indicted

HOUSTON (AP) — The scandal-racked Houston Fire Department suffered another blow as a sixth fireman was indicted by county grand jurors.

Roy Taylor, a district chief with the department, was accused by the grand jury of taking a $3,000 kickback on each of four fire trucks purchased by the department in 1971.

R. H. Connacher, an employee in the city's health department who shares an apartment with Taylor, also was indicted. The two were charged with felony bribery, while Taylor was indicted by himself on one count of bribery.

The indictments allege that Taylor and Connacher conspired with Claude Wright Jr., a salesman for American LaFrance of Elmira, N.Y., to add $3,000 per truck into the bid price of four aerial trucks the city purchased for $90,718 each.

At that time Taylor was maintenance coordinator for the department and in charge of drawing up specifications and making recommendations on which trucks should be purchased.

The $12,000 extra, the indictment says, was to be paid to R&H Sales of Stafford, Tex., under the guise of delivery costs for each truck. Connacher is listed in the assumed name files in Harris County owner of R&H Sales.

When the trucks were delivered to Houston last year, on-duty firemen went to New York to bring them back.

Connacher, a $550-a-month maintenance employe in the health department, invoked the Fifth Amendment and refused to testify Tuesday when he was called before the grand jury.

Taylor also took the Fifth Amendment last Friday when he appeared before the same body.

The grand jury will meet again Friday to hear more testimony on the purchase of fire equipment, a spokesman said.

It had previously indicted former Fire Chief C. R. Cook and his brother, Thomas W. Cook, also an employe of the department, on felony theft charges. Also indicted were Edward J. Zalesack on a perjury charge, George Manos, acting head of the arson investigation division, on a charge of turning in a false fire alarm and Lee DeFroke on a theft charge.

Withdraws Abortion Bill From House Study

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The representative who won the landmark Texas abortion case before the U.S. Supreme Court is resting her case as far as the state legislature is concerned.

Rep. Sarah Weddington, D-Austin, asked a House Human Resources subcommittee not to consider her bill giving women 18 and older the right to an abortion without anyone else's consent.

She also said a few physicians now perform abortions in their offices "on a very limited basis."

SKINNY DIPPING

AUSTIN (AP) — Travis County commissioners approved a resolution against skinny-dipping after County Judge J. H. Watson broke a 2-2 tie.

The resolution would urge the legislature to pass a law against public nudity. One section says nude bathing around such places as "Hippie Hollow" on Lake Travis is affecting the morals of children.

Voting against the resolution were Commissioners Richard Moya and Johnny Voudouris.

"I suppose my morals were ruined because when I was in the Cub Scouts we used to skinny-dip," Voudouris said later.

"If the full legal rights bill for 18-year-olds passes, that will help some," Ms. Weddington said in an interview.

Most hospitals and physicians reacted hesitantly to the Supreme Court decision, saying they were uncertain how much freedom they had to perform abortions.

"I think itself is beginning to resolve itself as more hospitals

Cost Of Feeding Prisoners Jumps

By MARJ CARPENTER

The inmates at the jail have not suffered because of the high price of meat.

Sheriff A. N. Standard has always been known to firmly believe that a good healthy menu at the jail avoids illnesses and the expense of hospitalizing prisoners.

The week's fare usually includes at least one roast, liver and lots of ground meat. Mrs. Virginia Black said they use an abundance of lunch meat for sandwiches at night.

Mrs. Black said that cost per meal took an all-time jump of 30 cents per prisoner in February to 43 cents per prisoner last month. This was for a total of 1601 prisoners fed meals during the month.

INEVITABLE

"There's no way to avoid it with the cost of groceries climbing like they are," Mrs. Black added. She said the meat bill alone last month was $361.

Last September, Commissioner Bill Crooker objected to exotic foods on the jail menu, such as "tuna or salmon." Since that time none of these items has been purchased. Currently, they might be cheaper than some of the non-exotic meats.

The city jail, which only serves coffee and doughnuts for breakfast and transfers prisoners of long standing to the county jail, is not affected by rising prices.

FIREMEN COOK

At the fire stations, the firemen alternate in taking turns as station cook. They each design their own menu and usually serve whatever item they can cook best.

Since they keep a deep freeze and often buy a quarter of beef at once, they are not yet affected by the cost of meat rising.

"But they soon will be when it comes time to stock up the freezer again," the fire marshal stated.

Since the firemen pool their money for groceries, they will probably be faced with learning to prepare more economic food dishes. And, according to one fireman, "We were already eating about thriftily as we could."

Open Records Complicated

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A Senate Jurisprudence subcommittee has been given an open records bill whose sponsors concede is a lot more complicated than they first thought.

Randall Wood of Common Cause, a self-styled citizens lobby that has been working for the House-passed measure told the full Senate Jurisprudence Committee that the proposed legislation has grown thornier the longer he works on it.

Several state agency heads testified on the difficulties the measure would cause them.

John Kinney, director of the Archives Division of the Texas State Library, said the words "by general category" in the bill worried him.

Suppose someone asks for all information on the Texas Rangers from 1836 to 1972, he asked. His office would be required by the bill to furnish it.

Sen. William Braecklein, D-Dallas, said it seemed obvious to him that the State Archives and the research divisions of public libraries would have to be exempted from the measure.

J. H. Van Horn Jr. of the Texas Education Agency urged the committee to put in a requirement that "some legitimate need" be demonstrated before documents could be requested. Otherwise, the law would become "the plaything of malicious and malevolent or officious meddlers," he said.

Texas To Get $45 Million

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe said here that Texas will get $46 million in revenue sharing funds for manpower programs during the 1974 fiscal year.

The larger cities will get $34 million with the remaining $12 million coming to 12 regional councils of government not included in the metropolitan planning areas.

Briscoe said the allocations will follow a formula developed by the federal government which considers past funding of manpower programs, total labor force, poverty level and unemployment.

Blacks Protesting Police Brutality

HOUSTON (AP) — Mayor Louie Welch has ordered the city legal department to investigate what black longshoremen describe as police brutality at their union hall.

Some 600 longshoremen stayed off the job Wednesday in protest. The one-day work stoppage slowed down the loading and unloading of cargo at the Port of Houston.

Reuben Wheatley, president of International Longshoremen's Association Deepsea Local 872, led a delegation which appeared before City Council.

Wheatley accused city police of brutality against four union members last Friday night outside a union hall.

Duos And Pan-American Day Pace Festival '73

"Festival '73 — Sights and Sounds of Now," continues with a program Friday spotlighting duos.

The program — as are virtually all in the series — will be without charge and will be in the Howard County Junior College auditorium starting at 7:30 p.m.

This will be followed by a day-long variety of offerings Saturday — Pan American Day.

The initial half of Friday's program will see Mary Skalicky, head of the HCJC music department, teaming with Harlen Thorton, another faculty member, in a piano duo. This will include selections by Bach, Satie, Ravel, Milhand and Mussorsky.

The second half will be devoted to dual acting and readers theatre. Initially, Rita Stayton and Billy Ballard will present a scene from Neil Simons' "Barefoot in the Park." This will be followed by a readers' group comprised of Kelly Draper, Karen Carlton, Mike Thompson and Rickie Messenger doing "Children at Christmas." For the finale, Steve McMillian, Lois Bair, and Kelly Draper will present a scene from Simon's "Star-Spangled Girl."

Saturdays fare includes a lecture on Don Quixote at 11 a.m. in the SUB parlor by Jack Dunn; a Mexican luncheon ($1) in the cafeteria; Dr. Hugh Chardon, of the University of Texas, El Paso, giving a 1 p.m. demonstration lecture at the auditorium on Mexican music; Mexican folk dancing and music arranged in the quadrangle by Mrs. Lynda Molina at 2:30 p.m.; a brief Flamenco classical guitar concert by James Eddy, Fort Worth, at 3:30 p.m.; and finally a film, "Viva Mexico," at 6:30 in the auditorium.

The series began a week ago with a writers' workshop; a symposium on jazz music; and a concert by the West Side Choir.

All-Time Champ Cowboy Still Wins At Roping

DENVER, Colo. — Dean Oliver has a penchant for setting records, so it's only natural that he reign as rodeo's all-time biggest winner, according to the Rodeo Cowboys Association.

Oliver, of Boise, Idaho, regarded by some as the greatest calf roper in the history of RCA calf roping championships, has won $453,464 since starting his rodeo career in 1951.

The record was held formerly by the late and great Bill Linderman, who won $443,013 during his 25-year career. Linderman was killed in a commercial plane crash in 1965.

At 43, Oliver still beats men half his age in an event where thousands of dollars are divided by split seconds. So far this season he is second in calf roping with $10,873.

Competing formerly in steer wrestling as well, he won the world champion all around cowboy crowns from 1963 through 1965. He holds the record for winning the most money in a single event in one year, $38,118 in calf roping in 1969.

Other event pacers for RCA through April 9 are:

All-around — Bob Ragsdale, Chowchilla, Calif., $18,469, and Larry Mahan, Dallas, $13,576; saddle bronc riding — Bill Smith, Cody, Wyo., $7,329, and Shawn Davis, Whitehall, Mont., $6,146; bareback bronc riding — Joe Alexander, C ora, Wyo., $7,703, and Rusty Riddle, Mineral Wells, Tex., $7,503; bull riding — Pete Gray, Mesquite, Tex., $7,826, and Bobby Steiner, Austin, $7,474; calf roping — Ernie Taylor Hugo, Okla., $11,378, and Dean Oliver, Boise, Idaho $10,873; steer wrestling — Tom Ferguson, San Martin, Calif., $8,141, and Billy Hale, Checotah, Okla., $7,935; GRA barrel racing — Allene Gayler Colorado Springs, Colo., $3,727, and Gail Petska, Norman, Okla., $2,369. (Terri Himes Beulah, Colo., and her sister, Thaye Lewis, Big Spring, Tex., are ninth and 10th with $1,191 and $970.)

Public Employees Plan For Meet

Fifty-eight city and county employees including department heads and judges will participate in an Emergency Operations Simulation Exercise (EOS) at 6:30 p.m. April 19, at the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center.

According to W. D. Berry, director of the city-county Department of Civil Defense, trained specialists will simulate a disaster, such as a tornado or explosion, and the governmental officials will put to the test of coping with the disaster as if it were real.

Berry said it has been about eight years since such an EOS was staged. He said it is being held now to indoctrinate new governmental employees on emergency operations.

A free buffet supper will be served to all participants of the exercise at 5:30 p.m.

'Mod Squad' Shot Down

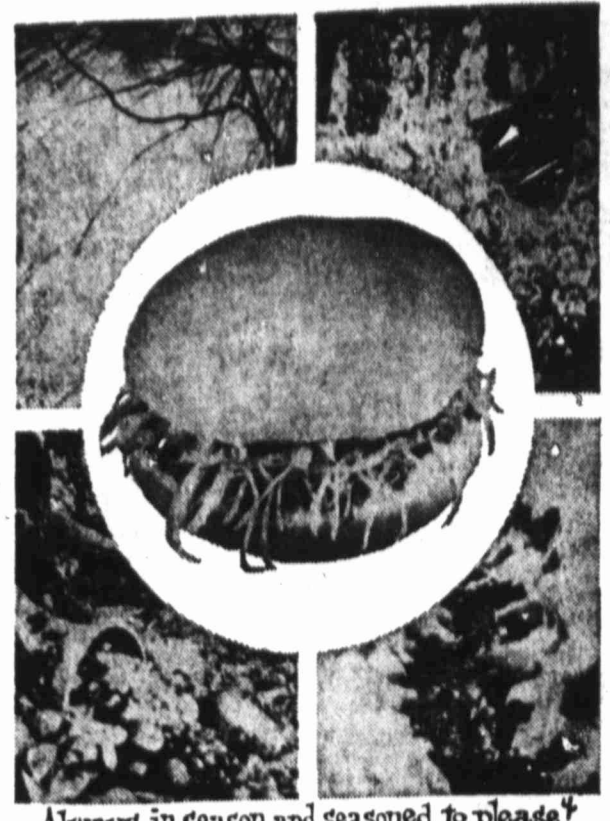

NEW YORK (AP) — The ABC television network has announced that six shows, including "Mod Squad" and "The Julie Andrews Hour," will not be renewed at the end of the current viewing season.

ABC, the last of the three major networks to make public its 1973-74 evening schedule, said Thursday it was also cancelling "The Paul Lynde Show," "The Men," "Here We Go Again" and "A Touch of Grace."

The September lineup will feature five new police, comedy and dramatic series. The new shows, still uncanceled, are "Bob and Carol and Ted and Alice," a half-hour comedy loosely based on the movie of the same name and "Toma," an hour-long police series.

Also, "Mr. and Mrs.," a half-hour series about a district attorney and his lawyer wife; "Griff," an hour-long private eye show starring Lorne Green of the now-defunct "Bonanza" series; and "ABC Suspense Movie," a 90-minute series with a varied cast.

A science fiction series called "Cyborg" will replace "ABC Suspense Movie" once a month, ABC said. The show will star Lee Majors, who will continue as a regular in the top-rated "Owen Marshall" series.

Not Hypocritic

Jean Adams
TEEN FORUM

NEW VIEW: (Q.) I have been going with a girl for almost a year now and I like her a lot. I have always stressed to her that loyalty is important to us. But one day recently I saw another girl, a complete stranger, and something came over me. I wanted to talk to her, but I didn't. As she was leaving the meeting we were attending, she said good-by to me and I said good-by to her. That was all we ever said to each other.

There isn't much chance of me ever seeing her again. I don't even know what her name is. I still have a strange feeling for her. And I also feel like such a hypocrite, still going with my old girl friend and still liking her, although I would give almost anything to have a date with this new girl. I feel bad and confused. What can I do? — Hypocrite in Maryland.

(A.) You are not a hypocrite — you are a boy who is learning as he goes along in life. The thing that happened to you happens to other teen-age boys and girls. Do not chide yourself because it happened to you.

But do recognize that you are too young to be tied down so tightly to one girl that you cannot think about another girl without being considered disloyal.

Talk to your girl friend about loyalty in the new light of what you have learned. Suggest a less binding arrangement in which you two can be friendly and continue to see each other.

Texas Will Get $19 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas will get $19 million for federal job programs during the next year, U.S. Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., announced.

The money will go for summer jobs for the young and public service jobs for the unemployed, Tower said. He said about $6 million is earmarked for the youth jobs.

The money was from a nationwide federal grant of $800 million from the Labor Department for its Public Employment Program through June 30, 1974.

but also have other friends as well.

THREAT: (Q.) This girl wants to beat me up: It's because Ron quit her and started going out with my girl friend, then with me. We are now going steady and love each other a lot. Ron broke up with her because he couldn't stand to look at her anymore. If you could see her you would know why. She still likes him. She is really tough. If she started a fight with me I know she could whip me. What can I do? — Scared in South Carolina.

(A.) This girl sounds very sick. Tell her to leave you strictly alone or you will report her to the police. Then avoid being around her.

Baptists Rap Lottery Bill

DALLAS (AP) — The Texas Baptist Christian Life Commission has issued a statement against the passage of a bill now before the legislature that would call for a referendum on legalized gambling for the state.

The social affairs agency of the Baptist church asked in the statement that all Texans oppose House Bill 47, which is being considered by the House State Affairs Committee.

The Baptist statement, passed unanimously by the commission and given to news media, said legalization of gambling "such as a state lottery or pari-mutuel betting would compound problems of already-hard pressed law enforcement officials."

The statement contended that legalized gambling "would result in increased suffering by the poor."

The poor person, the commission added, because he does not understand gambling odds, "would constantly pour his already meager funds into the bottomless pockets of the wealthy who would control gambling."

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

Normally, a coach wouldn't consider a second place finish anything to write home about. But in this particular case, Coach Larry Horton may make an exception.

Horton's Big Spring Steer baseballers, while still eyeing their first district crown ever, wrapped up second place for the first half of 5AAA action Tuesday with a nice, solid 5-2 record. And any of you knows that's a lot better than seventh — the place Big Spring is supposed to finish in the league.

I guess that's still possible (I was a journalism major, not math), but not too likely. There are still seven games to go, and when you rely on bats instead of pitchers, it seems like more can go wrong and it gets a little more uphill still. A team that hits .320 for the season, scoring 138 runs in 10 games, and bats over .350 in district — well, it's a bit too impressive to be scoffed at.

While the Steers must catch first half champ Midland on the road this time, they will play host to the other potential killers — Odessa, Odessa Permian and Abilene Cooper. And by the way, after three weeks of the district stuff, it looks like Horton wasn't far off when he predicted his Steers could be winning by "crazy scores like 16-11."

Frosty Floyd just can't get enough. The 6-2 freshman from Sands High School wasn't content to star on his high school football and basketball teams. No, he had to go and win district in the 120-yard high hurdles last week at Borden County.

The talented Mustang clocked a 15.7 for a gold medal, and will run this weekend at the Region I-B meet at the Lubbock Monterey track. Floyd, who started at halfback for the Ponies in football and was the leading scorer and rebounder on Sands' district champion basketball team, appears to be well on his way to some kind of super career.

He'll be joined in the regional competition by Kenneth Schuelke, who finished second in the district 220-yard dash action in 23.9.

And the messages keep coming in. If I had known what I was getting into when I started naming Big Spring Steers who went on and are now playing college ball, I'd probably have kept my mouth — or my typewriter, I guess it is — shut.

The latest to be waved in front of my face are Jimmy Farris, a linebacker at SMU; Rondel Brock, a defensive lineman at Rice; and Gray Ray, a defensive end for the University of Texas at El Paso. You'd think with all that talent they'd have a pro team here or something.

One other amazing thing. The professional baseball season is only a week old, and already I've lost track of the pennant races. It could be a new record.

Guts - N - Feathers Friday Favorite

SUNLAND PARK, N.M. — back in the saddle. Guts-N-Feathers, owned by Richard Worley of Clovis, N.M., shapes up as the one to beat in Friday's twilight headliner at Sunland Park.

The 5 1/2-furlong sprint, saluting the famed football great, Don Maynard, is the centerpiece of a 10-race agenda which starts unfolding at 3 p.m. First post on Saturday and Sunday is 1:30 p.m.

Most of the weekend focus is expected to be on Sunday's renewal of the $7,500-added Sunland Park Handicap at the testing distance of a mile-and-sixteenth.

Guts-N-Feathers failed to get into the winner's circle last year, but he engaged tough claiming company and built up winnings of over $3,000. The six-year-old gelding made his seasonal debut last month — following a vacation of nearly 10 months — and finished fifth as a 5-2 shot in a field of $4,500 claimers. Don Lewis will be

THE JAW'S BROKEN, NOT THE LIP—Former world heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali answers questions during a 45-minute news conference in Toronto Wednesday afternoon. Ali, also known as the "Louisville Lip," suffered a broken jaw in his March 31 fight with Ken Norton in San Diego, but it apparently doesn't hamper his talking ability. Ali failed to make a scheduled appearance at Maple Leaf Gardens Wednesday night where three of Canada's best boxers were appearing on the same card.

Havlicek Heats Up To Rescue Celtics

With Boston's hockey team and a 1-0 advantage in the ABA's Eastern Division finals.

When a team is running, they get fouled. It's that simple. The Celtics hit 32 of 35 foul shots with Havlicek going 12 for 14 at the line while Don Nelson scored 12 of his 16 points at the foul line.

Pete Maravich totalled 34 points in a losing effort. His coach, Cotton Fitzsimmons, assessed the evening in this way: "I thought our team played well in the first half but the Celtics in the second half."

At Charlotte, N.C., the Kentucky Colonels had a good second half too, the last six minutes of the final quarter, that is. Wendell Ladner hit two three-point goals and scored a total of 10 points as the Colonels outscored the Cougars 24-8 in the final six minutes to gain the come-from-behind victory and go one-up in the ABA's Eastern Division finals.

The Kentucky scoring was topped by Rick Mount's 31 points. Dan Issel added 24 while Ladner finished with 19. Billy Cunningham's 25 points paced the Cougars, who took the regular season series against Kentucky 6-5 while finishing first in the ABA East.

For most teams, playing a more helter skelter brand of basketball is not the answer. But the Celtics don't have overwhelming size and must rely on its chief asset—speed.

"We don't have a big physical team," said Boston guard Jo Jo White, who had 16 second period points on his way to a 28-point night. "But we have speed."

Hennigan In Command After McGraw Fails

By The Associated Press (Hennigan) — "I can't keep going to Atlanta right now," said McGraw. "Besides, we wanted to find out what Hennigan could do."

Normally, you'd expect Tug McGraw in a situation like that. But this was one of those rare instances where the high-salaried relief pitcher needed help himself.

McGraw, who had entered the game in the eighth inning in relief of starter Jerry Kosman, couldn't survive the ninth before bowing 5-4 to Hennigan's clutch pitching.

"I was wild, plus I was high," said McGraw. "I'm always disappointed when I don't get the job done, of course. But it's nice to have Hennigan break the ice. It's encouraging to know you can get help from another guy."

In the other National League games, the Atlanta Braves defeated the San Diego Padres 8-1; the Cincinnati Reds turned back the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-1 and the San Francisco Giants nipped the Houston Astros 5-4.

It was one of those familiar scenes in St. Louis with McGraw coming in from the bullpen in the late innings to preserve a 5-3 lead. The star left-hander issued a walk and a single in the eighth inning before working out of trouble, then made more problems for himself in the ninth.

He gave up a single to Jose Cruz, a walk to Tim McCarver and a two-out single to Ted Sizemore that scored the Cardinals' fourth run.

Then New York Manager Yogi Berra looked to the bullpen, something he usually doesn't do with McGraw on the mound.

McGraw's shot came off Houston relief pitcher Mike Cosgrove and wiped out a 4-3 Houston lead fashioned in the eighth inning on John Edwards' rousing single.

The game rally decided a seasaw game that produced three ties.

Jim Wynn led off the first for Houston with a homer, but the Giants tied the game in the bottom of the inning when Bobby Bonds doubled and scored on a pair of wild pitches by Griffin.

Garry Maddox singled, stole second, went to third on a grounder and scored on Dave Rader's foul sacrifice fly to tie the game.

Big Jobs Benefits Made By

WASHINGTON — President Nixon today to provide a new standard for unemployment insurance to assure average weekly wage payable for unemployed.

Nixon, in a message to Congress, also called for some 635,000 agricultural workers, with safeguards, to be eligible for unemployment insurance.

Nixon said he would like to see the third major change in employment insurance to preserve the system during the recession.

He said the new employment insurance to strikers and demobilized non-strikers is to be put into effect in an earlier measure, in July 1973, the basic purpose of the measure is to provide employment insurance to workers who are laid off.

McCovey Wrecks Astros With 9th Round Blast

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Willie McCovey belted a two-run homer following Chris Speier's leadoff walk in the ninth inning, lifting the San Francisco Giants to a come-back 5-4 baseball victory over the Houston Astros Wednesday night.

Big Jobless Benefits Plea Made By Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon asked Congress today to provide minimum standard for unemployment insurance to assure that workers would receive at least half their average weekly wage when eligible for unemployment benefits.

Nixon, in a message to Congress, also called for extending unemployment coverage to some 635,000 agricultural workers, with safeguards to insure aid to migrant workers as well. Nixon said he also wanted a third major change in the unemployment insurance system "to preserve the neutrality" of the system during labor disputes.

He said the payment of unemployment insurance benefits to strikers and denying benefits to non-strikers in a labor dispute should be ended.

In an earlier message to Congress, in July 1969, Nixon said the basic purpose of the unemployment insurance program was to pay weekly benefits high enough to prevent a severe cut in a worker's standard of living when he is between jobs. Nixon said it generally was accepted that it would take benefits of at least 50 per cent of the worker's normal wage to meet the goal.

He called on the states then to "act within the next two years" to meet this objective of providing adequate benefits.

No Easy Way Out

The siege of Wounded Knee will end eventually, but that trouble is like a hangnail on a cancer patient.

Until the Indian can move into the world of 1973 instead of 1873, there are bound to be more episodes such as that at Wounded Knee.

There are facts to face. The first is that the days are gone when families can live a simple, pastoral life — herding a few sheep, killing a little wild game, weaving their own cloth, having their illnesses treated with medicine-man magic. The white man can't make a living on a few acres of rich land; certainly the Indian can't do it on some of the poorest land in the United States — land given to him for his reservations.

The trouble is far deeper. Treaties that ended the Indian wars made the Indians wards of the government. A bureau looks after health, education, even his housing. There are many instances where the government has failed to live up to terms of the treaties, of course, and many things government has done have been done very poorly.

For example, the government spends more than $1,500 on every Indian on or near a reservation. But when you see a family of six living in abject poverty in a dirt-floored hogan on a remote spot of the Navajo Reservation, you wonder where the family's $9,000 went.

There is general agreement that the Bureau of Indian Affairs is an ineffective arm of federal government. But merely turning all BIA jobs over to Indians is no solution. The trouble is the paternalistic system.

The answer lies in "freeing" the Indian to become a responsible citizen. As long as the Indian is a ward of the government, there will be an "Indian problem." Let the Indian keep his traditions as far as possible. Let him keep pride in his heritage. This country is big enough for diversity.

Yet, making the change will be neither easy nor inexpensive. So what to do?

One idea of several years ago still has considerable validity though Indians and politicians oppose it. The idea is to "buy our way out of the Indian problem," to put it bluntly.

The federal government could put every Indian on a subsidy for as long as he lives. The payment should be geared to the cost of living for the Indians' protection. There would be no strings attached to the subsidy. No more "Papa-knows-best" supervision by the BIA.

There would be a cut-off date. Indians born after a certain date would become like other Americans in terms of help from public funds.

Property rights would be the Indians' own problem. The Laguna Indians of New Mexico have the right to open pit uranium mine in the U.S. Some say it will eventually be worth billions of dollars. The Navajos — largest tribe with 13,000 population and a high birth rate — have scarcely begun to tap their mineral wealth. But that would be their problem. They would no longer be wards but free people.

Best Seller

The sum of $1.5 million has been paid for the paperback rights for one book. This is the largest known such payment.

No, the book is not another sequel to "The Valley of the Dolls," or a brightly illustrated new sex manual. Nor is it the intimate memoirs of Henry Kissinger.

The book is "The Joy of Cooking." It was first published in 1931 and has sold more than six million copies in hardcover over the last 42 years.

New American Library, which made the deal to print the paperback version, obviously has something of lasting value, interest and use. That is more than can be said for many hot-selling, but short-lived, books.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

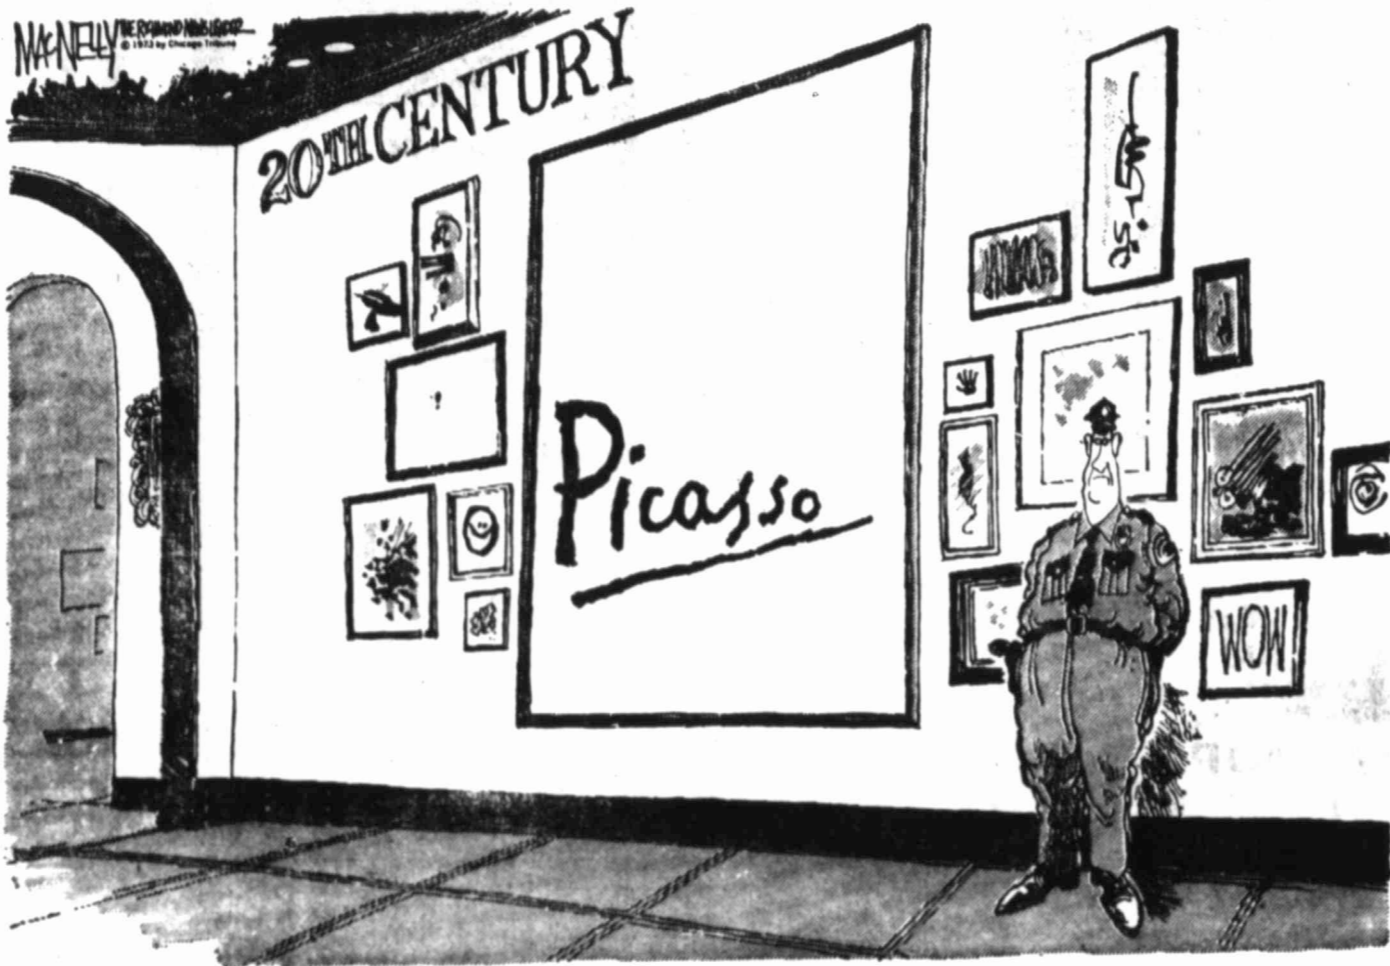

What can I say to a neighbor who always claims that it just doesn't matter what religion a person has. Sincerity seems to be the key word with this lady, and content is of little importance.

F.L. What this neighbor has said is one of those logical traps that stall the seeker of truth. Actually, this lady would not use that illogical approach of "sincerity" in any other endeavor. Driving through Mexico, or buying a pound of coffee, requires a bit more than a sincere motivation.

Actually, though, Christianity is not a religion — if by that word, you mean a system of moral standards. According to John 10:10, Jesus came to give "life" and that "more abundantly." Faith, if it is real, transforms the whole being from the inside, whereas religions are notorious for adjusting attitudes on the outside.

The fact of the many religions in the world attests something in every human life. Someone has called it a "God-shaped vacuum." It means there's an innate need for God, and if we don't let the real answer stand up for our identification we'll fabricate one of our own.

Tell your neighbor about your own faith, because sharing a personal witness cannot be contradicted. Tell her that you have not heard of anyone else who made the sweeping statement Jesus did in John 14:6, "I am the way, the truth and the life, no man cometh to the father but by me." On such content, one can safely stake your whole life.

Tommy's X-Rated Remarks

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks a housewife gets tired of hearing:

"You go to the P.T.A. meeting this time. I'll go next time."

"All you do is mess around with diapers and dirt all day. What do you know about the world situation?"

"Can't you let me get at least halfway through my Martini before you start telling me what a hard day you've had?"

"Did you meet any interesting door-to-door salesmen today, Honey?"

"Yes, as plumbers we still make emergency house calls. We probably can get a man there tomorrow afternoon at the latest. Incidentally, I assume you are familiar with our policy of requiring a $25 down payment in cash before we begin work."

"Mommy, our class in civics is adopting an Eskimo village. Can you give me $5, please?"

"Of course, I don't expect you to start taking out the garbage can all the time. But I tell you my back hurts tonight."

"I'm working late tonight. Don't hold dinner. You and the kids eat without me."

"Well, would you like it any better if you were working in an office all day taking orders from 10 men instead of five?"

"Don't start nagging me this morning about asking for more money. We went all through that yesterday and the day before."

"Mommy, the cat next door had kittens, and the lady said I could have two of them. Shall I try to get her to give me three?"

"What is the women's liberation movement all about, anyway? What do they need liberating from? I hope you're not going to start spouting their kind of nonsense."

"Why is it that we always seem to have asparagus and cheese on the nights I'm particularly hungry?"

"Well, if you don't feel that you have anything fit to wear, why don't we just stay home? I didn't want to go anyway."

"Mommy, Tommy sneaked into an X-rated movie. Do you want me to tell you what he said he saw?"

Trade Crisis

By Rowland Evans
And Robert Novak

TOKYO — When the senior bureaucrat in the Ministry of International Trade and Industry (MITI) last week personally delivered to Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka statistics indicating an easing of the economic threat to the U.S.-Japanese alliance, Tanaka's reaction was typically blunt: I don't believe it.

THE MITI bureaucrats predicted that the present $4 billion Japanese surplus in trade between the two countries would drop to $2.8 billion over the next year. Tanaka, a politician-businessman with a distrust for bureaucrats, thinks that guess wildly over-optimistic. So does American businessman Robert Ingersoll, the U.S. ambassador to Japan. Tanaka and Ingersoll independently conclude a surplus of around $3.6 billion would be more realistic.

The continued huge surplus means deeper trouble yet ahead in U.S.-Japanese relations. Ingersoll will press ever harder to open Japan to U.S. imports, but (as we reported earlier) there seems little hope here for American products. The result: continued pressure on Japan to lessen exports to the U.S., renewing bitterness here that Japan must sacrifice to save non-competitive American business.

THE DEEPENING dispute over trade contributes to stresses between the two economic superpowers which have persisted since the "Nixon shocks" 18 months ago. U.S.-Japanese relations have never been the same. Scheduled reciprocal visits between Tanaka and President Nixon, Emperor Hirohito's proposed American tour and Dr. Henry A. Kissinger's three visits here have failed to convince the Japanese that they are taken seriously in Washington.

It was deeply resented here when Treasury Secretary George Shultz went to Europe during this year's world monetary crisis and ignored Japan. Government officials are in-sulted by the absence of a Japan expert on Kissinger's staff and complain that Kissinger himself is really not interested in Japan. Tanaka recently grumbled to his foreign minister, Masayoshi Ohira, about his ambassador's lack of influential contacts in the White House.

ALL THIS might well be endured, even by the sensitive Japanese, were it not for the economic reality of the trade imbalance. The official Japanese line is that Japan is now abandoning its export mentality and turning to internal development. But privately, there is intense irritation that American business inefficiency is forcing Japan to suppress exports.

It could get worse. MITI's optimistic forecasts hope the upvaluation of the floating yen will restrain exports — especially autos — by increasing prices. But the reputations of the Toyota and Datsun are such, U.S. officials here fear, that they will still sell in the American market.

THE PROSPECT is for more U.S. muscle — possibly tariffs authorized by the forthcoming trade bill — to hold down exports, breeding still more resentment here. That resentment could get serious if serious economic dislocation results in Japan. Japanese are bitter that the textile agreement forced on them by Washington has badly hurt the Japanese industry while not really helping the beleaguered, non-competitive American industries.

THE UNDERCURRENTS of irritation are played down by older, high-ranking officials who recognize Japan's debt for past U.S. generosity and reliance on the present U.S. nuclear shield for protection against Japan's two Communist neighbors: China and, more particularly, the Soviet Union. This angers the younger generation, a factor due to rising nationalism.

Egg Hiding Time

Around The Rim

Marj Carpenter

Easter egg hunts are supposed to be one of childhood's happy moments, but I never have been entirely convinced that this is true.

There are two kinds of children... those who can and those who can't find Easter eggs. I was a "can't." I used to dread Easter morning's arrival because I knew my brother was going to find all the eggs and have to "share" them with me. I would race to where I had found an egg the previous year and if there wasn't one there, I would race to some spot that my brother had already looked and picked up the egg.

I HAD SUCH strong feelings on the subject that when my own three children came along, I always hid three dozen and told them to sit down after they'd found their dozen. The only trouble with that was that the eldest girl, Cathy, was a "can't" like me and she was always the last one up hunting those darn dozen eggs.

The second girl was a "can" and always won prizes for the most eggs or the prize egg everywhere she went. I believe she could have found the proverbial needle in the haystack. But poor Cathy — she turned out to be a class salutatorian, and has a master's degree from the University of London — but she couldn't find Easter eggs and her happiest Easter was probably the year she had the chicken pox and everybody brought her presents and she didn't have to hunt eggs.

I had a few bad moments with Easter eggs after I was grown. One year when I was teaching in Odem, another teacher and I went set to hide the eggs in the yard of a third teacher. We hid them and went back to school and the teacher asked, "Where did you hide the prize egg?" And I answered, "Under the oleander bush." It was then that we discovered we had hidden the eggs in the wrong yard. There was no oleander bush in her yard. So the other teacher and I went back and found the eggs and took them in a hurry to the other yard and rehid them. And even when I had helped hide the things, I had a hard time finding them.

THIS SHOULD have been enough bad luck for one human being with Easter eggs. But there was more to come. I used to have hard luck cooking I used to have hard luck they would all the darn things out in the water. I had hard luck dyeing them, because when I mixed the dye it was usually grainy.

I was forever helping with Easter egg hunts because I taught Sunday school and worked with the church and worked with Brownie scouts.

Finally, Carolyn — who loved egg hunts, invited her entire second grade class to hunt eggs in our yard and I spent hours getting ready. I finally got all the eggs hidden while my three year old son watched from the kitchen window.

I WENT BACK in and was putting the finishing touches on cookies and jellybeans and favors when I heard my son behind me, "Look, Momme, Look what I found." He had a big basket absolutely stacked full of eggs and the biggest smile you ever saw. He had gone out and picked most of them up.

"Oh no," I screamed. "Gimme those eggs." And back out in the yard I faced hiding those eggs in record time. Then I had to come in and explain to a sobbing little boy that "I'd hide some eggs just for him in the side yard."

And the whole time I was thinking, Darn those Easter eggs. They have always spelled disaster for me — each spring.

Original Picasso

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — I never met Pablo Picasso, but I have an original sketch of his personally dedicated to me and I owe it all to a fellow named Harvey Brodsky of Philadelphia, Pa.

THE STORY behind the sketch began in Paris in 1958 when I was working on the International Edition of the New York Herald Tribune. I received a letter from Mr. Brodsky telling me he was in love with a girl named Gloria Segal, but they had broken up. Gloria had a fantastic crush on Picasso, Mr. Brodsky wrote, and if I could get the artist's autograph, he was sure that the romance would bloom again.

I was doing a column on the ridiculous requests a columnist gets in Paris and I included Brodsky's letter as an example.

I KNEW I had no way of getting the great artist's autograph, but it made the best point of what I was up against when it came to my mail. Now, as luck would have it, Mr. David Duncan, the photographer, was working with Picasso in Venice, on the Riviera, and he took the Paris Herald with him that morning.

FOR SOME reason, Picasso was very moved by the request and with colored crayons he drew a beautiful bouquet of flowers. On top of the sketch he wrote "pour Gloria Segal" and signed it with the date.

Since Picasso never did anything like this, Duncan was very excited and called me from Venice. "He did it!" Duncan announced. "He not only gave me his autograph for Gloria Segal, but also a crayon sketch which I have in my hand!"

"The hell with Gloria Segal!" I screamed over the phone, "what about me?"

DUNCAN RETURNED to Picasso's studio and told him that as long as he was doing sketches for girls from Philadelphia he didn't know, the writer of the column felt he deserved one, too.

The Profumo Factor

William F. Buckley Jr.

Mr. Nicholas von Hoffman, a columnist for the Washington Post of Rabelaisian appetite for anti-Republican grist, has calmly reported over the Columbia Broadcasting System that he has discovered a reason for terminating the investigation into Watergate.

THE REASON is this: Nixon did it. He was the head of the burglary ring. He was the Godfather of the operation. But... Quiet. We mustn't go into the question further. We must instantly staunch our concern. Because if we push the investigation further, inevitably Nixon, the prime mover, will be uncovered. And if he is, he will be impeached. And if he is impeached, he will be convicted. And if he is convicted — Spiro Agnew will become president of the United States, and this tribulation Nicholas von Hoffman is not prepared to endure, not even in the high cause of justice. Accordingly he urges us to leave it as it is right now. With that apologetic, he drops the curtain on his tongue.

CBS WILL be recalled, among its many services, as the network through whose facilities Edward R. Murrow professed the national humiliation brought on by the wild charges of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, who never said about President Truman that he personally superintended the subversion of foreign policy. McCarthy labored to find the provenance of. Although the argument is good for CBS declining to censure Mr. von Hoffman's defamations against Richard Nixon, there is no reason that leaps to mind for CBS ignoring that defamation. It would be reassuring to hear a spokesman for CBS, wherever, reassuring its listeners that it believes in the presumption of innocence even when the defendant is the President of the United States.

THE WATERGATE business, meanwhile, has without question become more serious than it was a few months ago. During the first period it was largely dismissed by the American people as trivial. One could almost hear the voter say that if anyone wanted to risk a jail sentence in order to tap conversations conducted by Larry O'Brien and Frank Mankiewicz — well, everyone should be free to be his own kinky self.

THE POLLSTERS established that the desperate effort of the McGovern forces to transmute Watergate from the hot-foot harassment of the political opposition it was then acknowledged by the voters as being, into a watershed of national morality was nothing less than rank polemical opportunism.

A Devotion For Today..

This is the day which the Lord hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it. (Psalm 118:24)

PRAYER: Our God, give us glad hearts for the work of this day. May our service to Thee be unselfish and done with joy. In Jesus' name. Amen.

HOROSCOPE

FRIDAY, APRIL 12, 1973
GENERIC — A major event indeed can be a difficult day and evening, but because of the planetary vibrations bring the best for most of us to be tough, controlling these impulses and use kindness and courtesy with others, you can have a fine day.
ARIES (May 21 to April 19) You have more duties ahead of you, so do not rush off on any tangents, but carry through conscientiously. Get away from some 1960s from persons who like to blame others for their misfortune. Sleep well tonight.
Taurus (April 20 to May 20) You are apt to look at yourself in a wondrous light, so be kind to yourself. Instead, don't spend too much money today. Make sure you do not lose your temper with anyone and get along better.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) If you get these duties handled at home early, you can relieve the tensions there. The evening is not good for entertainment, so put it off until a better time. Avoid moon likes to argue.
MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Try not to make a mountain out of a molehill. Think about your other activities, save some possible time for a relaxing evening.
LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) If you improve your budget, you get rid of that security check. Get your papers in better condition, but stay within your budget. Plan how to get your work done more efficiently. A little astuteness can be most wise now.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Try to have a good friend, or an unblemished record of conversation. Put effort into gaining your finest aims, and they are yours.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) With fewer outside activities, you can now handle home affairs and improve your appearance. Do a clear of a higher-up who is looking for someone whom to vent ire. It could be you otherwise.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have a new friend who needs careful handling. If you are to develop the friendship instead of suddenly breaking it, you have real fact and can now use it wisely. Get good results with everyone.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) With all that you get out of it, you get it off. You have real fact and can now use it wisely. Get good results with everyone.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) This is a good time to have a good talk with an associate and get right results. There is a Plan how to get your work done more efficiently. A little astuteness can be most wise now.

WEAK LINK IN CHAIN Hospitals Potential Source Of Smallpox

CHICAGO (AP) — Hospitals are a potential source of smallpox, says a leading epidemiologist who maintains that all hospital personnel should be vaccinated.

Dr. Alexander D. Langmuir, a visiting professor at Harvard University Medical School, said Wednesday the hospital is "the weak link in the chain" of smallpox prevention.

The former U.S. Public Health Service employe made the comment in a lecture at the annual meeting of the American College of Physicians and elaborated later at a news conference.

Since October 1971, smallpox vaccinations have not been required universally in the United States, following a report by an advisory committee to the surgeon general.

This committee pointed out that there were many more deaths and complications resulting from the vaccination, once required for school entry, than from the disease itself.

But Langmuir said hospitals should require that all new employes have smallpox vaccinations and renew them every three years.

He said a hospital smallpox outbreak — and ensuing lawsuits — may be necessary to alert hospital administrators to the problem.

The fast turnover of hospital workers makes the potential for introduction of smallpox to the hospital even greater, he said.

'Botton Pushing' Measure Filed

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — House members will get a chance to clarify for once and for all whether they should let somebody else vote for them when they are away from their desks.

Rep. James Nowlin, R-San Antonio, was seen last week letting another member push the voting button on his desk. In a 1970 campaign, Nowlin had criticized his opponent for the same practice.

On Wednesday, Nowlin introduced two resolutions: one would permit "button pushing," the other would prohibit it.

Under the permissive resolution, button pushing would be okay only if a member had left a written request specifically requesting a certain vote.

Nowlin said he hoped the House would choose one of the alternatives and thus remove any "fiction" that might exist in current rules.

Bob Derryberry Leaves Cisco

CISCO — Bob Derryberry has resigned as basketball coach at Cisco Junior College to become first assistant to Ken Henson at Howard Payne College in Brownwood.

Derryberry's record at Cisco was 54-49. He succeeds Johnny Carter, who resigned to become head coach at McLennan Community College in Waco.

Dean Madison will replace Derryberry as the Cisco coach. He has been dean of student personnel services there.

WORSE THAN BALD TIRES

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Keystone Auto Club's safety director has urged a recall of women's platform shoes, saying they "could cause more highway accidents than bald tires."

Roy D. Hanshaw claims the "new platform shoes which the ladies are now buying by the millions are probably the worst driving shoes ever created."

He said it is difficult to shift the foot from the accelerator to the brake in an emergency while wearing a four- or five-inch platform shoe.

"If car manufacturers must recall their automobiles for safety defects, it would seem logical for fashion designers to be similarly responsible," Hanshaw said.

Will Jane Admit She Was Wrong?

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas House of Representatives wants people who have made "ill-timed and unfounded remarks" about returning POWs to apologize.

A "simple letter of apology" to the Texas Legislature and to POWs would be sufficient, said Rep. R. B. McAlister, D-Lubbock, the sponsor of the resolution. The measure passed the House Wednesday.

"Those who have termed our POW returnees liars and hypocrites (should) show their courage and integrity by saying five words: 'I admit I was wrong,'" McAlister said.

McAlister did not say what individuals he was referring to.

Blames Her Ills On Birth Control Pills

By RICHARD SALTUS
Associated Press Writer
BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — Until Nov. 6, 1968, Laraine Henard was a busy young housewife, caring for four foster children and planning to adopt two of them. Now she is partially paralyzed, walks and speaks with difficulty, can do only limited work around the house.

The stroke that damaged her brain that morning reduced her mental capacity in some areas to that of a small child. Her judgment is greatly impaired, and she and her husband — who is crippled by polio — have had to give up the foster children.

As argued in a $7 million lawsuit now being tried here, Mrs. Henard's stroke was caused by the birth control pills she had been taking. The Henards also contend that the manufacturer of the pills, Syntex Corp., failed to give adequate warnings about dangerous side effects. The pills were sold under the brand name Norinyl 2.

Moreover, as Mrs. Henard testified in halting monosyllables, that she was influenced in her decision to take the pills by a booklet in her obstetrician's office called "The Pills and Human Happiness."

The 64-page booklet was distributed by Syntex and, according to Mrs. Henard's attorneys, gave no hint of trouble the pills might cause.

The suit asks $1.75 million in general damages and $5.25 million in punitive damages. Defendants are Syntex; Mrs. Henard's obstetrician, Dr. Richard C. Wallace of Bakersfield; and a doctor who also prescribed the pills, Dr. Harry Wong.

Syntex, chartered in Panama with subsidiaries in Delaware and in Palo Alto, Calif., has categorically denied all charges. The firm also refuses to discuss any aspects of the suit.

During the first stages of the trial, which is expected to last about 10 weeks, several physicians testified for the plaintiffs that they believed the pills caused Mrs. Henard's stroke.

One of them, Los Angeles neurosurgeon Dr. Richard D. Walter, said it was his opinion and that of his colleagues that there is a relationship between oral contraceptives and strokes.

A similar opinion was given by a Fort Worth, Tex., neurosurgeon, Dr. Marvin Overton. He said he has dealt with female stroke victims in increasing numbers since 1967. He said they all had one thing in common — use of oral contraceptives.

The Henards' action is far from the first suit charging the pills with harmful side effects. And since 1966 the Food and Drug Administration

Girl Scouts Seeking Day Camp Director

The local Girl Scouts are looking for an adult woman or man who will serve as director of the annual day camp this summer.

Qualifications for the job include an enjoyment of the out-of-doors, some experience working with adults for youngsters and a willingness to accept training for the opportunity.

"Values to grow on — that's Girl Scout camping in a nutshell," said Miss Arlene Estes, field director. "The outdoor setting provides a natural atmosphere for girls and adults to grow individually and together; to better understand and appreciate themselves; and to improve their abilities to relate to others."

"These intangibles are a direct result of the girls living and working together for five short days. Through tion has on occasion complained about misleading advertising by the makers of oral contraceptives.

But attorneys say this is apparently the first suit accusing a pharmaceutical company of misleading or false advertising in material — such as the Syntex booklet — directed specifically at women themselves.

Albert Hampton and Anthony Klein, attorneys for the Henards, have said they

Reunion Held At Rest Home

About 15 people attended a get-together Sunday for relatives of Mrs. Tabitha Cunningham, a resident of Mountain View Lodge. Five generations of the family were represented.

Guests included her daughter, Mrs. J. E. Kennedy, Garden City; her grandson, Rex Kennedy; her great-granddaughter, Mrs. Phillip McBride of Point; and her great-great grandson, Mikel Stephen McBride.

Mrs. Cunningham, who was 90 in January, has seven sons and two daughters. She was married to William Cunningham in 1900. He died in 1956.

The couple moved to the West Texas area in 1927, and Cunningham farmed in the Knott community. Mrs. Cunningham has 29 grandchildren, 36 great-grandchildren and two great-great grandchildren.

the obvious day camp activities of cooking, nature awareness, crafts and camp skills, the campers are maturing without even being aware of the growth. "We are looking for a camp director who can accept this philosophy and can help make day camp happen for 125 young girls in the immediate area."

Miss Estes said other administrative staff members still needed are a nurse or first aider and a business manager.

Day camp dates have been set for June 11-15, 8 a.m. to 2 p.m., at the camping grounds in Silver Heels. Persons interested in contributing their time and talent to making the day camp successful are asked to call the Girl Scout district office, 263-1364, 263-0972 or 263-4911 for additional information.

ESA Gives Honors For District 8

Mrs. Priscilla Webb, Monahans, was named outstanding ESA'er for District 8 at a meeting Sunday in Fort Stockton. Mrs. Webb was district president for Epsilon Sigma Alpha.

Mrs. Tonita Williams, McCamey, was selected outstanding first year member, and Lambda Alpha Chapter, Odessa, was named outstanding chapter for the district. The first place educational award for programs went to Sigma Theta, Fort Stockton.

Big Spring State Hospital was among suggestions for district social service and philanthropic projects. The projects will be voted on at the next district meeting, June 10 in Kermit. Other suggestions are muscular dystrophy, multiple sclerosis, Opportunity School at Monahans, the March of Dimes, the Odessa Halfway House, and the Permian Basin Rehabilitation Center.

Mrs. Webb presided, and new officers elected were Mrs. Dan Cotten, Midland, president; Mrs. Don Stockton, recording secretary; Mrs. Carol Dyson, Odessa, treasurer; Mrs. Ivan White, Fort Stockton, historian; Mrs. Frank Felts, Midland, coordinator; and Mrs. Wanda McGovern, Fort Stockton, parliamentarian.

The new president announced her theme will be "Unity is the Key." Closing thought was by Mrs. Clovis Hale, Big Spring, district chaplain. An ESA state convention is slated May 18-20 in San Antonio.

'Gourmet Will Eat Anything'

"A gourmet is a person who will eat anything put before her and who can make a complete meal with a single item," was the opinion expressed by Mrs. Walter Wheat Tuesday for the 1970 Hyperion Club. She outlined the difference between a gourmet and a creative cook.

"A true gourmet will eat all parts of an animal," continued Mrs. Wheat. "On the other hand, creative cooking is productive cooking. A creative cook is eager to show off her work, and she strives to add creativity to complete meal planning."

Mrs. Wheat said a creative cook must always be alert for new recipes and must achieve judgement and knowledge of "what goes with what." She must be adventurous in the kitchen, taste recipes before serving and take note of people's reactions to recipes.

For cooking meats, Mrs. Wheat offered three rules. She said meat should never be salted before it is cooked because presalting toughens meat. Meat should always be patted dry before cooking, and less tender cuts of meat should be slightly browned and cooked at low temperatures.

"A good cheese sauce will hide a multitude of sins in the kitchen," said Mrs. Wheat as she offered several hints for day-to-day cooking. She said bread should be made on a day when the homemaker has nothing else to do. For finicky guests, she said chicken is always a safe dish to serve. Meat should never be sprinkled with a seasoned tenderizer. Salad is indispensable to any meal. Appetizers should always be "appetite teasers," and dessert should add a crowning touch to a meal.

"Never call leftovers, 'leftovers,'" added Mrs. Wheat. "What you put on the table tells your family how much you love them. Every cook can show her creativity at least once every day, even if there's not time to do it with every meal."

Mrs. Wheat is a former home economics teacher and worked several years as a home economist for Texas Electric Service Company.

New officers were elected during the business meeting in the home of Mrs. Harold Raines, 2610 Rebecca. They are Mrs. Howard Carlton, president; Mrs. Robert Knight, vice president; Mrs. Raines, secretary; and Mrs. Scott Davis, treasurer.

The group will meet for a luncheon at 12:30 p.m., May 8 at Big Spring Country Club.

Mothers' Club Names Officers

Mrs. Myrna Key was elected president of Immaculate Heart of Mary Mothers' Club at a meeting Tuesday in the school cafeteria. Other officers are Mrs. Luis Puga, vice president; Mrs. Elmer Olson, treasurer; Mrs. Carol Cusano, secretary; and Mrs. Joe Dromsky, corresponding secretary. Installation will be at 7 p.m., May 8 at Carlos' Restaurant.

Forum Meeting Is Postponed

The scheduled meeting on Friday of The Woman's Forum has been postponed until Friday, April 27, when it will be held at the home of Mrs. E. B. Compton. The meeting was set back to enable members to attend funeral services for Mrs. James Lettler.

The Truth Hurts

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Quite by accident I saw my husband's car parked in a strange place when he was supposed to be out of town on business. I hid and waited for him to return, and several hours later a young girl drove up with Bob in the car. He kissed her sodoily hurriedly got into his own car, and drove off. I followed the girl home, rang her doorbell and told her who I was. She was shocked because she didn't know Bob was married. (She's 22, Bob is 41.)

very nonchalantly said: "What do you want me to do, spank a 41-year old man?"

Bob moves his clothes out of the house and refuses to have anything to do with me. We have three children who need a father. I've begged him to forgive me, but he's still angry. Abby, why should I get HIM to forgive ME? He should be begging ME to forgive HIM. How can I get him back?

REDD EYES
DEAR RED: You may not be able to. Moral: A woman will forgive an unfaithful husband faster than a man will forgive an emaculating wife.

DEAR ABBY: I am an 18-year-old girl, recently graduated from high school, and now I have a steady job that pays well.

I recently moved out of my parents' home to assume full responsibility for myself and my life.

My problem is this: I am constantly approached by adults who ask me why I left my parents' home. When I reply, "Because my parents have done so much for me that I decided it was time I did something for them," they look at me like I'm crazy.

Abby, that's the way I feel. I think the best way for children to repay their parents for all they have done is to become self-sufficient and self-supporting as soon as possible, and relieve parents of the responsibility.

In this day and age people are so used to condemning the youth for doing something wrong, they condemn them even when they do something right. Or am I wrong?

INDEPENDENT IN OHIO
DEAR INDEPENDENT: Not every 18-year-old chick is able to leave the nest and become self-sufficient and self-supporting, but those who do deserve congratulations not criticism.

'Ladybird' To Address Graduates

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson will deliver the commencement address at the University of Virginia on June 3.

Her late husband, President Lyndon B. Johnson, was scheduled to deliver the speech.

Patrick, president of the graduating class at the university, said President Johnson had worked on the speech before his death, and that it is possible Mrs. Johnson might use some of the material in her address.

University President Edgar Shannon Jr. invited Mrs. Johnson to deliver the address last month, and she has accepted although no formal acknowledgement has been received, Patrick said.

Mrs. Johnson's son-in-law, Charles S. Robb, will graduate from the University's law school in June. He and his wife, Lynda, live near here.

Sorority Told Basic Debating Techniques

"At Wit's End," a program outlining strategy of debating, was held Tuesday by Mrs. Wayne Stroup for members of Alpha Kappa Omicron Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi in the home of Mrs. Clay LaRochelle, 600 W. 16th. Members divided in teams and debated the effects of poetry versus painting on world culture.

JOHN EHRLICHMAN HARRY R. HALDEMAN

2 Powerful Nixon Aides

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harry Robbins Haldeman and John Daniel Ehrlichman share an ample supply of critics—and a boss who considers both of them nearly indispensable. The boss is President Nixon, so the critics don't count for much at the White House.

'GERMAN MAFIA'
No strangers to controversy, Haldeman and Ehrlichman also share with Henry A. Kissinger the distinction of being Nixon's most powerful assistants. Character members of what some have called the "German Mafia," they regulate the flow of people, papers and proposals reaching the President's office.

Haldeman — everyone calls him Bob — is chief of the White House staff, keeper of the gates and Nixon's nay-sayer. Ehrlichman has likened him to a lord chamberlain.

Soon after the President took his oath in 1969, Haldeman's office became known to critics as the "Berlin wall"—because members of the Cabinet and Congress found it blocking the path to Nixon's door.

CONSPIRACY
More recently, Republican Sen. Lowell Weicker of Connecticut suggested Haldeman had advance knowledge of policies and personalities behind the Watergate conspiracy and should resign. The bipartisan leaders of the Senate select committee investigating campaign misdeeds stated publicly they had no evidence Haldeman was involved. Haldeman added a firm denial of his own.

Ehrlichman is the President's domestic policy assistant and, like Haldeman, he has been judged too aloof and inaccessible by some administration officials as well as senators and congressmen.

The two men, close friends since college days at UCLA, are Christian Scientists who neither smoke nor drink. As young men they were Eagle Scouts. Like Nixon, they display enameled American flags on their lapels and Haldeman even shares the President's enthusiasm for cottage cheese lunches.

COURAGE
Politically, Haldeman is a conservative generally regarded as standing somewhat to the right of Nixon. Ehrlichman is seen as more receptive to liberal thought. Both are intensely loyal to Nixon.

Ehrlichman, when interviewed by author Allen Drury for his book "Courage and Hesitation," said: "Part of our job is never to confront the President with a situation in which he has to disappoint someone or take a harsh action. For that reason, we usually send memos to him for decision. He can then be perfectly free to turn ideas down without making his decisions personal."

Haldeman also gave Drury testimony to Nixon's detachment from argumentative hurly-burly, and to Haldeman's own reputation for barring the presidential door.

"Ehrlichman, Kissinger and I do our best to make sure that all points of view are placed before the President," he said. "We do act as a screen, because there is a real danger of some advocate of an idea rushing in to the President or some other decision-maker, if the person is allowed to do so, and actually managing to convince them in a burst of emotion or argument. We try to make sure that all arguments are presented calmly and fairly across the board."

POWER PLAY
In pre-election days, Haldeman made no secret of a conviction that the original builders of Washington wisely placed the White House and the Capitol at opposite ends of Pennsylvania Avenue.

"I don't think," he said, "Congress is supposed to work with the White House. There is a clearcut division of power which was intentional, and I think that a certain amount of distance is healthy."

Since November, Haldeman and Ehrlichman have been more accessible to Congress members, especially Republicans who argued they fared poorly in the election because of White House preoccupation with fashioning a Nixon landslide. Consultation and cooperation now are oft-used words and the President himself has found it desirable to expand the list of those invited to periodic breakfast sessions with GOP congressional leaders.

Football Film To Be Shown

Dallas Cowboy highlights of the 1972 football season will be shown in the basement of the Howard County Library at 2 p.m. Saturday.

This is the first of three free films being shown free of charge as part of National and Texas Library Week here, Larry Justiss, librarian, said.

"The Great Train Robbery," billed as the first American film to tell a complete story, will be shown. It was produced in 1903.

Also, the library is screening "Famous Movie Monsters." Among the monsters are Frankenstein, Dracula, the Mummy, the Wolfman and the Creature from the Black Lagoon.

Paintings, drawings and sculpture made by Big Spring High School students is being exhibited in the conference room of the library.

Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper reviewed "Captains and the Kings" last night as part of library week activities.

STUDENT SHOWS HER ART—Letricia Trevino, a senior at Big Spring High School, shows some of her art work to Larry Justiss, librarian, at Howard County Library. Hers and other students' work is being exhibited at the library this week in connection with the National and Texas Library Week. Tuesday night, 58 persons attended a review given by Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper. After hearing Mrs. Cowper's comments on "Captains and the Kings" by Taylor Caldwell, the group toured the art exhibit.

Lions Clubs Here Can Plan For Convention

Big Spring will be the site for the 1974 convention of Lions District 2A-1, the downtown Lions Club was told in a convention report Wednesday.

The Downtown club also won third place in the overall activities contest during the past year, said Jimmie Parks in a report on the convention last weekend in San Angelo.

The new district governor is Tom Nipp, Midland.

Delegates voted down a proposal for a Texas Lions Hall of Fame; approved limiting state officer terms to two years; and to increase dues by $1 a year for the Texas Lions League for Crippled Children.

Parks, presiding for president Jim Lemons, who was sidelined with a case of laryngitis, announced that the Downtown Club will meet jointly with other clubs April 25 when Congressman Omar Burleson will be the speaker.

The zone Ladies Night affair has been set for May 10 at the Big Spring Country Club, with the district governor and district governor elect, as guests, along with J. T. Dillard, Stanton, zone chairman, and Homer Hodges, Winters, former governor.

Youth members for the day were Katie Bradshaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bradshaw, and Melody Burcham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Burcham. Katie is on the volleyball team, National Honor Society, Future Teachers, Future Homemakers, Gold Diggers, and Spanish Club. Melody is on the volleyball team, is a Meistersinger, in the Future Teachers and the Latin Club.

Verbal Brawl In House Over Pot Law Changes

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The first big fight over marijuana reform in the Texas Legislature ended in a draw early Thursday after 4½ hours of verbal bloodshed.

The House Criminal Jurisprudence Committee voted 11-10 to make two important changes in a bill backed by Gov. Dolph Briscoe, then wiped them out on a 12-9 vote.

The bill remains before the committee in precisely the same form it was in before the debate began Wednesday night.

Titled the Texas Controlled Substances Act, the measure would overhaul all Texas drug laws, but the main conflict centered on the marijuana provisions.

to the debate, most interested in a Mattox amendment that would knock out jail time for possession up to three ounces, making it a fine of up to $500.

But Mattox withdrew that amendment when polling of the committee by his supporters showed he could not win.

He then offered an amendment making it a jail term up to 30 days and a fine up to $500.

Rep. Robert Maloney, R-Dallas, sponsor of the Briscoe bill, moved to table the amendment.

Those representatives who opposes Briscoe's bill as too harsh had worked for weeks to win this key vote.

Hendricks said he had petitions signed by 35,000 persons who favor lowering the penalty for marijuana possession. He had 1,600 telegrams and uncounted letters and telephone calls for reduction of the penalty. Only eight letters opposed change, he said.

The vote was 11-11, so the motion to table failed.

Then the committee voted on the Mattox amendment. Again it was 11-11, so the amendment failed.

Voting for the amendment were Hendricks; Andrew Baker, D-Galveston; Terry Canales, D-Premont; Coleman; Woody Denson, D-Houston; Hernandez, D-San Antonio; Sam Hudson, D-Dallas; Mattox; Craig Washington, -Houston; Ron Waters, D-Houston; and Sarah Weddington, D-Austin.

CRYSTAL CLEAR

Before it was taken, Rep. Bob Hendricks, D-McKinney, chairman of the committee, made it clear he favored Mattox' amendment and would vote against the motion to table.

JAIL, FINE

The Briscoe-backed bill would make it a misdemeanor punishable by up to six months in jail and a fine of up to $1,000 to possess under four ounces of marijuana. Possession of four to eight ounces would carry a jail term up to two years and a fine up to $2,000, and possession of more than eight ounces calls for prison time from two to 10 years and a fine up to $5,000.

Under present Texas law, marijuana possession is punishable by a prison term from two years to life—the toughest marijuana law in the United States.

The committee first defeated 16-5 a motion by Rep. John Hoestenbach, D-Odessa, that would retain the felony classification for marijuana possession but lower the maximum term from life to 10 years.

Voting with Hoestenbach were Reps. Lynn Nabers, D-Brownwood; Wayland Simmons, D-San Antonio; Joe Spurlock, D-Fort Worth; and Billy Williamson, D-Tyler.

MAKE UP YOUR MIND

Rep. Ronald Coleman, D-El Paso, offered an amendment to lower the penalty for possession of narcotics paraphernalia from a 2-20 prison term to 2-10.

Rep. Jim Mattox, D-Dallas, thought the penalty should be even lower. He moved to amend Coleman's amendment by making it a maximum jail term of one year and a fine up to $2,000.

Williamson moved to table Mattox' amendment. The motion to table failed on a 10-10 vote.

The committee then voted on the Mattox amendment, which failed 9-11, with Spurlock changing his vote.

"Make up your mind, Spurlock," said Simmons.

The Coleman amendment passed 16-3, with two voting present.

A large, mostly youthful audience seemed, by its responses

Hard To Ask Folks 'To Eat Patience'

By The Associated Press

Cattlemen from Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, California and Iowa said they would visit senators in Washington today to plead against farm price rollbacks to Jan. 10 levels.

The stockmen said their efforts Wednesday included trips to major supermarkets in the area around the nation's capital to speak with housewives at the meat counters.

Speaking as members of the "Concerned Livestock Feeders" they said their message was that the meat boycott wouldn't help food prices.

One member of the group, Ralph Halstrom of Cherokee, Iowa, said the organization had some success Wednesday. The bill was held up in the House Rules Committee, he explained.

The organization displayed two Angus steers. Ray Switzer, Sioux City, said one weighs 700 pounds—representing the amount of beef a consumer could buy in 1953 with money earned for 240 hours' labor. The other animal weighs 1,200 pounds and represents the amount of beef a consumer could buy this year for the same work.

Also in Washington to meet with lawmakers on rollback proposals were the directors of the National Farmers Organization.

"Until someone can show me something better, I'm going to advocate a price rollback to drop retail meat prices at least 20 cents a pound," promised Ann Brown of Washington, D.C., an organizer of last week's meat boycott.

Royal Holz, a Grand Junction, Iowa, beef feeder, said the best policy is to "play it cool and be patient. We in the beef industry fully expected meat prices to go down with an increased supply. What we didn't expect was this extremely harsh weather which has caused a large death loss and a reduction rate of gain."

"It's hard to ask people to eat patience," countered Mrs. Brown.

Ellsberg Describes Journey To Disillusionment In Viet

ELLSBERG TALKS ABOUT HIS TESTIMONY—Daniel Ellsberg, co-defendant in the Pentagon Papers trial, talks with newsmen after he testified in Los Angeles Wednesday. Next to him is his wife, Patricia. Ellsberg, who vividly described his journey to disillusionment in Vietnam Wednesday, will climax that story Thursday, telling jurors how he risked his government career to copy the Pentagon Papers, hoping to end the war.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Daniel Ellsberg, vividly describing his journey to disillusionment in Vietnam, is expected to tell jurors today how he risked his government career to copy the Pentagon papers in hopes of ending the war.

Testifying in his own defense Wednesday, Ellsberg portrayed himself as a true believer in the war in Vietnam who became sick when he saw first-hand that U.S. policies in Southeast Asia were futile.

Ellsberg and Anthony Russo, both former employees of the Rand Corp., are charged with espionage, conspiracy and theft for admittedly copying the papers, a top secret study of U.S. involvement in Vietnam, a study Ellsberg later leaked to news media.

BROKE DOWN

Ellsberg broke down and sobbed during a recess Wednesday after describing to the jury his experiences during a trip to Vietnam.

"I was asked about some incidents in Vietnam that just brought back some vivid memories. I could see the faces of the Vietnamese I was describing and it was very sad," Ellsberg said later.

On the witness stand, he began to tell how as a government researcher he gained access to the Pentagon papers and took the study to his office in Santa Monica, Calif.

IMPOSSIBLE

But the bulk of his full day of testimony was an account of his ascent to high posts as a government consultant, his trip to Vietnam and the realization that true facts about the conflict were being hidden from Washington.

"My impression was that official reporting (to Washington)

Monthly Rent Median in '70 Set At $108

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you paid more than $108 per month rent in 1970, utilities included, you paid more than at least half of all U.S. families.

The U.S. Census Bureau, in a weekend report, said $108 was the "median" monthly rent for houses and apartments at the beginning of 1970 for the 22.3 million rental units in the country.

The median is the point at which half of the total number falls above and half below. It is not the same as an average, but a Census Bureau spokesman said Saturday that the average "is pretty close to the median" on rents.

Blacks were appreciably below the national figure, with an $59 per month median.

Two-thirds of all rental households—14.8 million—fell within the $50 to $150 per-month range, the bureau said.

Another 1.4 million households paid less than $50 per month and about 4.8 million paid $150 or more. Of those, about 265,000 paid $300 or more a month, the bureau's report shows.

The highest median rent including utilities in the nation was found in the Stamford, Conn., standard metropolitan statistical area. It was $162 per month.

Other areas with medians above the $150 mark were Ann Arbor, Mich., $160; San Jose, Calif., $157; Norwalk, Conn., $154; Las Vegas, Nev., $151 and Anaheim-Santa Ana-Garden Grove, Calif., $150.

Among the lowest median rent areas were Brownsville-Harlingen-San Benito, Tex., $58; Fort Smith, Ark., $67; Gadsden, Ala., $67; Laredo, Tex., $59; McAllen-Pharr-Edinburg, Tex., $57 and Monroe, La., $67.

Jury Holds Over Probe Of Agency

The Howard County grand jury left pending its disposition of the investigation of a Pontiac dealership here when it adjourned Wednesday afternoon.

Several Howard and Scurry County persons purchased cars but did not receive title, according to the district attorney's office.

If they are not compensated and other stipulations met, Guy Talbot, special investigator for the district attorney, said the investigation will be continued before the next grand jury. He declined to say what the other stipulations were.

Bill Crocker, supervisor of the Texas Motor Vehicle Division in Austin, testified. Also, the grand jury heard testimony from Pontiac and General Motors Acceptance Corporation officials from Dallas, Fort Worth, Abilene and El Paso.

Also, James R. Grant, 30, forger and passing a forged check; Mary N. Huseman, defrauding with a worthless check for $50; Richard L. Robertson, 26, burglary of a residence owned by Keith Proffer; and Dicky Joe Tindol, 21, possession of marijuana.

Also Thomas Daniels, 62, Anson, defrauding with a worthless check; Wing Devonshire, defrauding with a worthless check; and James L. Howard, 28, North Glenn, Colo., theft by bailee of an automobile.

Left for the next grand jury are cases against John Early, 18, Robert Peoples, 17, Jack Scott and Arthur Tommy Smith, 19, robbery by assault; Ray E. Johnson and Curtis Ray Lockhart, robbery by assault upon Vivian Bledsoe; Aulton Vaughn Jr., 36, burglary, burglary of a residence at night and theft over $50; and Salvador O. Trevino, 21, auto theft.

Detroit Had Tools To Lick Smog 15 Years Ago, Didn't?

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — "Detroit had the tools to lick smog 15 years ago and didn't do a damn thing with them," says a California inventor who claims American automakers ignored an antismog engine he developed in the 1950s.

Ralph Heintz says Japan's Honda Motor Co. is now using basically the same design as his to pass 1975 exhaust emission requirements. The federal Environmental Protection Agency on Wednesday granted a year extension to meet those standards.

Heintz says both he and Honda developed a "stratified charge" engine which, like diesel engines, employ pre-combustion chambers to burn fuel completely.

Heintz, 81, an inventor and engineer who operated an aircraft equipment firm during World War II, said he became interested in the stratified charge engine after visiting Los Angeles in 1955, where smog caused his eyes to water.

Heintz said he turned his patents over to Stanford, his alma mater, "with the idea being the auto companies would be more willing to talk to a university representative than to an individual."

FIRING CHAMBER
Gasoline is fed into a small chamber where it is ignited and then blown into the main firing chamber, Heintz said in an interview Wednesday. American autos, with only one carburetor, do not burn fuel as efficiently, thus causing smog, he added.

Heintz, 81, an inventor and engineer who operated an aircraft equipment firm during World War II, said he became interested in the stratified charge engine after visiting Los Angeles in 1955, where smog caused his eyes to water.

Texas Land Study Measure Killed

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Senate Natural Resources Committee has killed a bill calling for a study of the use of Texas land and resources.

Sen. A. R. Schwartz, D-Galveston, sponsor of the measure, Wednesday estimated the cost of the study at $10.2 million. This would be money well spent, he said, because the study would involve "billions of dollars worth of resources."

Plight Of Vietnamese Orphans Concerns U.S.

WASHINGTON, D.C. — "Orphans in the Storm" truly describes the great number of illegitimate children left in South Vietnam as an aftermath of the war. The number has been privately estimated from 15,000 to 100,000 or more. Of course, no one really knows except that there are many of them and that they face a sad and pitiful life. This is one of the continuing tragedies of the war. It is made more so because of difficulties involved in trying to help them.

Even in the case of an American serviceman wanting to bring his child back to the United States, the problem of his doing so is extremely complicated.

A child born out of wedlock in this country naturally acquires all the rights of citizenship, but one born outside the United States must be legitimate before being allowed to enter this country. There are other legal requirements which make it extremely difficult if not impossible for the child left fatherless in South Vietnam to be eligible for entry into this country. Moreover, South Vietnam places strict barriers on permitting children of GIs to leave the country.

The sadness of it all is deepened since the child is often branded as an outcast or half breed in Vietnamese society. On moral grounds it is obvious these children, by virtue of blood, have as much right to be citizens of this country as of Vietnam.

While talk goes on, and will intensify in the months ahead, about providing economic aid to both North and South Vietnam, should not these abandoned orphans be high on the list of any financial assistance to Vietnam?

These questions should be prominent in any consideration:

- 1) Should the United States government not insist that part of any economic aid be specifically earmarked for abandoned children of our servicemen?
- 2) Should regulations and existing laws be amended to simplify the procedures for a serviceman who wishes to bring his legal wife and children back to this country?
- 3) Should not the same be provided for the serviceman who wants to take responsibility for raising his own illegitimate child?
