THE WEEK

approves the certificate of necessity, then the deal could be wrapped up within a month.

Seldom have we had a fortnight with such tragic deaths. Those of two old timers (H. W. Whiskey and Mrs. J. Y. Robb Sr.) at the beginning of the month were followed by two in the flower of youth — Brad Cederberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cederberg, killed in the crash of a private plane near Commerce where he was a second year student in East Texas State University; and Mrs. D'Ann Leffler, wife of James Leffler, who died apparently as the result of a blood clot. Leading off this wave of sorrow was the untimely death of Mrs. Renee Brown, also from effects of a blood clot.

Cosden Oil & Chemical Company raised the price of crude oil by cents last week. On the basis of buying 40-50,000 barrels a day, this means about $5,000,000 more revenue to producers and royalty owners in a year's time. Majors are expected to follow suit.

The City of Big Spring got its revenue sharing check for $98,389, making $334,000 so far and projecting about $30,000 more than anticipated for the year. Howard County came in for $68,665, making $228,000 it has thus far received.

At last, the 1972 cotton crop is harvested, and the final county ginning figure was 47,500 bales. (The yield report could be higher when cross-county ginnings are considered.) Just grain sorghum is being planted, farmers will be putting cotton into the ground.

Two new commissioners, Mrs. Floyd Mays and Charles Tompkins — were sworn in at the city council session last week. They got a baptism of fire, too, with large delegations on hand to propose and oppose a suggestion of legalizing Sunday off-premises sale of wine and beer. The council delayed action. They also had a large group on hand relative to the tennis center, and most of them supporting the application of Novice Kniffen, tennis coach, to be manager.

Friends turned out Friday to say happy anniversary to Edith Hatchett, vice president of State National Bank. It was some anniversary, too — 50 years of service with the bank. Knowing Miss Hatchett, you know those have been 50 good years of service.

Howard County received word from the state Department of Public Welfare, that henceforth the DOW will pack up the monthly cost of distributing surplus projects. In a year's time this will amount to nearly $10,000.

Howard County Junior College trustees will get a recommendation from Dr. Thomas Salter regarding a study group to check into a coliseum possibility. It appears to be the consensus if such a project can be swung, HCJC will have to be the umbrella.

The Steer band has been making friends south of the border during the past week with concerts in Monterrey and Mexico City. The group is due back Monday.

Big Spring Lions have landed the District 2A-1 convention for 1973. This should bring several hundred visitors here in April next year.

Klondike and Flower Grove school districts, in Martin and Dawson counties, have scheduled a consolidation election for April 30. This is seen in some circles as a repercussion from the decision of Grady School to establish a high school, which may have been influenced by a state threat to wipe out non-high school districts.

Don't forget the film, "Time to Run," which continues its own run at the Ritz Theatre through Tuesday. Something like 2,500 have seen it since opening at mid-week. The film has a strong Christian message.

TOO WET TO HANDLE
"The winners of these regional contests will come here Saturday for the national championships." The weather almost forced the cancellation of several of the regional throws. More WAFs For Webb?

A noticeable change in the Webb enlisted population may become apparent in the near future as a result of a visit Tuesday by ATC Women Air Force (WAF) Staff Director Maj. Diane Namaksy.

Maj. Namaksy, who has been tasked with the job of implementing ATC's plan to assign single enlisted WAFs to each of the commands undergraduate pilot training bases, met with key personnel on the question during her one day visit.

She conferred with Col. Stanley M. Umstead Jr., wing commander, and Col. Harold D. Shultz, Air Base Group commander; Lt. Col. Robert G. Matthews, chief, Personnel Division; Maj. Edward Hart, base housing officer and Capt. Regina M. McGuiness, Webb's senior WAF advisor.

At present only single enlisted women in the grade of E-4 and above are eligible to be assigned to a base not having an established WAF unit. To date, Webb has only two WAF in this category.

However, the situation may change as early as July once plans swing into full gear. Major Namaksy predicted that optimum single WAF strength may reach 50, but it could take up to two years. Under normal conditions assignments are programmed six months in advance, negating any mass influx.

In addition, female personnel will only be assigned to Webb as a need exists for their individual Air Force Specialty Codes. As soon as adequate housing arrangements are firm, the assignment of will assume full responsibility will commence.

Preliminary plans call for the WAF to take over one wing of an enlisted dormitory. As the number of enlisted women grows, other portions of the building will be designed for WAF personnel.

Each Squadron commander for his assigned WAF, just as in the case of male personnel. A WAF officer and NCO will be assigned the task of overseeing housing and other WAF related matters on an additional duty basis only.

Laredo and Laughlin Air Force bases have already successfully integrated single enlisted WAF into their base personnel structure. Major Namaksy stated that the Air Force is shooting for a total WAF strength of 45,000 by 1978. At present WAF total approximately 13,000 or 3.5 percent of the over-all force. Webb, including tenant units, presently has three officers and six enlisted women assigned, two of which are single, with another single E-4 programmed in shortly.

The ceremony took place at the Masonic Temple. James D. Berry was the official visitor and inspector. The local Commandry observed its 80th anniversary Saturday.

Cottonwood Original Fun Town In Martin County

By MARJ CARPENTER

STANTON — Ten miles north of Stanton on Highway 137, a row of abandoned store buildings stand. One half-dead cottonwood tree whispers in the wind, where a row of cottonwoods used to hold forth against the West Texas sandstorms.

Across the front of the old weatherworn building is a sign that if you look very close says "Cottonwood".

Back in the early 30's, it was a rural community and it was the original "fun town" of Martin County.

LOVED SPORTS
The people out there really loved sports, and they had a baseball diamond, a boxing arena with fights every Wednesday night and a small rodeo ground.

Only the two old faded buildings, the one remaining cottonwood tree and grown men, who were then children, recall the Cottonwood heyday.

Jim Shriver, a blacksmith, built a blacksmith shop at the site and planted the trees. Far families which lived out in that area at the time included the Koonces, the Standifers, the Odells, the Farrington, the Butlers, the Hardins, the Gibsons and the Saunders.

Descendants from a few of those families including Sheriff

Dan Saunders of Stanton recall Cottonwood.

COTTONWOOD INN
Weaver Carnes, son-in-law of the blacksmith who built the original shop, added the Cottonwood Inn and Red Koonce of Stanton built a grocery store. Business there were once owned by Otto Bryson, Charlie Christopher, Floyd Hives, Delmer Hamm, Otis Williams, Leroy Fincher and Wylie Clements.

The Clements' estate still owns the land where stand the deserted buildings. There used to be a baseball diamond in the Saunders' field across the road. In the Butler's field, the group that lived in the area held its own rodeos on the Fourth of July.

A boxing arena was opened and fights were held every Wednesday night. Later, the boxing arena was moved to Lenorah.

The area had a gas station, blacksmith shop, grocery store, cream station and a concrete slab for dances.

It was difficult to get the ten miles into Stanton because the roads were dirt and the cars were scarce. So everybody, when so inclined, kind of made their own fun at Cottonwood.

THEN CAME PROGRESS
The neighbors were all close friends and enjoyed life and each other. Then came progress. The people began to obtain more and bigger automobiles. The highway was paved. Nobody stopped at Cottonwood.

Nobody needed a blacksmith. And very few needed gas just ten miles out of Stanton. So the entire community of Cottonwood became a ghost town. When the wind whistles and the tilled soil blows and a few people remember — Cottonwood.

Dog Obedience Classes Set

Anyone with a dog that he wishes to train is welcome to enter the Obedience Classes being offered by the Big Spring Kennel Club.

Dog owners are encouraged to join the class whether their dog is a Mixed Breed or a Purebred.

A trained dog is a much more pleasant companion for yourself and your family, and more "socially" acceptable by your friends and neighbors.

Registration and orientation for the course will take place at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Pioneer Natural Gas Building at 501 Rannels. Owners are asked not to bring their dogs to this session.

For more information phone Mrs. D. D. Goodson, 263-4231 or Mrs. Robert Carr 267-8637.

Siboney's Sales Reach $8,783,000 For Year

Siboney Corporation are being drilled relatively near some of the company permits in the Arctic Islands.

The president said that the company has undertaken an expansion program in both plant facilities and product lines for 1973. He forecast increased sales and income for the year.

Net sales amounted to $8,783,000, said Shells, compared with $8,486,000 the previous year. Net income before taxes and extraordinary items was $312,748, up from $260,456 the year before.

Net income was pegged at $234,000, after providing $100,000 as a reserve to cover possible loss on a corporate investment in a former subsidiary. However, when extraordinary items are considered, the earning per share was 15 cents a share as compared with 33 cents the previous year when sale of a shopping center was good for an extraordinary item of $215,000 (and when no reserve was made for possible loss in investment).

Siboney rescued its short term debt by $7,300, which increased its working capital by $778,000. During the past two years, through internally generated funds, Siboney has cut its short-term debt by $1,200,000. This has changed the ratio of current assets to current liabilities from 1.6 to 1 to a new figure of 3-1.

Shiels said that another wholly-owned subsidiary, Alex Heiberg Oil Co., completed a trade with Phillips Petroleum Canada Ltd. and now one or more major oil companies have interest in 14 of the 16 oil and gas permits held by Alex Heiberg. Four wells presently

Easter Customs Undergo Big Changes Over Years

Along with a lot of other things, Easter customs have changed over the years. For instance, about 100 years ago in England on Easter Monday the children formed a circle around the church by joining hands and facing outward. This was known as "clipping the church."

In Ireland it was considered luck to get up early in the morning and watch the sun rise or "dance" in a pool or pail of water, which may help account for the well-known "luck of the Irish." Anyone who will get up before sunrise to look for good luck in a pail of water deserves to find it — and sometimes does.

In Germany the Easter Rabbit brought gifts much as our Santa Claus does on Christmas, and on Easter Monday all the children danced on the village green.

And of course, there was our own custom which still survives, of egg rolling on the White House lawn. And everyone has heard of the mysterious Easter Rabbit who leaves candy for good little children on Easter morning. The Easter Rabbit was known even 50 or 60 years ago, but his system was a little different then.

NO CHOCOLATE

In those days there were no chocolate Easter eggs and rabbits, or stuffed animals or toys such as children today take for granted. You made your own toys and novelties and colored your own eggs, and had more fun doing it than you could ever have with something which had just been given you.

You could make appropriate dolls by pricking a hole in each end of an egg and then carefully blowing out the contents. And it had to be done carefully or the results could be far from pleasant.

Then you could paint faces on the empty shells, make little bonnets or hats and paste them on and then glue the finished product to a little block of wood, and there were dolls, as many as you cared to make, all saying "Happy Easter" just by being in existence.

THE PROPER SPIRIT — This having been designated Clean Up, Fix Up, Paint Up Month in Big Spring, Yolanda B. Webb gets into the proper spirit by applying a paint roller to the front of a business establishment here. Yolanda is the wife of Richard H. Webb, who is stationed at Korat AFB, Thailand, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Blaz Ballon, 4103 Dixon.

Underground Newspaper Editor Wins Reversal

AUSTIN (AP) — Underground newspaper editor Brent Stein won reversal of his conviction on charges of interfering with a policeman during an April 12, 1970 disturbance in Dallas' Lee Park.

'HIPPIE'

The Texas Coast of Criminal Appeals said Asst. Dist. Atty. John H. Stauffer made improper jury arguments and repeatedly violated the trial judge's instructions not to call Stein a "hippie" or allude to any other disturbance.

Stein, who edited the underground paper "Dallas Notes" under the name Stoney Burns, had been sentenced a three-year prison term.

He now is entitled to a new trial, unless the Dallas district attorney's office decides against prosecuting Stein again.

"The present case is rather easily resolved, since the prosecutor left little room for reasonable minds to differ as to whether his actions could be labeled harmless," the high court said.

Most of the opinion consisted of excerpts from the trial transcript, showing statements made and questions asked by Stauffer.

BELLY FULL

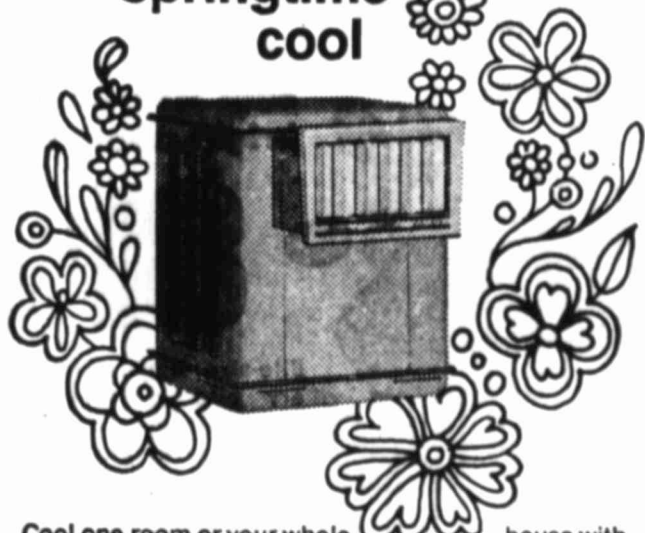

Such as: "There's an element out here, and you have seen them, and I'm getting sick of them. I'm getting my belly full of them."

Lee Park had become a popular gathering place for young people, and about 3,000 were present for the Sunday rock concert on April 12. An arrest of several persons for swimming in Turtle Creek sparked a disturbance that drew 200 policemen to the park.

Stauffer asked witnesses questions such as whether those in the group around the bearded Stein looked "similar to him in life style . . . or did they look like Mennonites."

END OF DAY — A group of St. Mary's school students gather at their low tables at the end of the day just before dismissal. Usually, only a small group work at each table in the spacious open floor concept at the school.

Variety Of Faiths Are Included In Faculty

By MARJ CARPENTER
St. Mary's Episcopal Parochial School is different from public schools in more ways than one. It is also different from many parochial schools.

An open space concept with carpeted floors and low tables gives the children a sense of freedom. There is a lot of individualized instruction among students at St. Mary's. They are allowed to advance at their own pace in many subject areas.

This is a new thing in the more progressive public schools, but the parochial school sometimes has an opportunity to develop this idea sooner, according to Steve Birdwell, rector at St. Mary's.

Job Of Raising Titanic May Soon Be Undertaken

LONDON (AP) — Douglas Woolley commemorated the 61st anniversary of the sinking of the Titanic today by vowing to raise the ship later this year.

Woolley, 38, is a worker in a nylon-stocking factory who has never been to sea and has never made much more than $30 a week. But he said in an interview: "We will raise her this year. There is no doubt about it."

Some people question whether Woolley has the money, the technical ability and the legal right to do the job. He claims he has solved all these problems.

Woolley says the system has proven itself by refloating a 1,000-ton barge in the River Danube.

Woolley says he will try a pilot project first. He wants to raise the Cunard liner Queen Elizabeth, which burned and sank in Hong Kong harbor. He is convinced Hong Kong authorities will let him try because they want the wreck cleared from the harbor.

He plans to go to Hong Kong in May to work on the pilot project, then begin locating and raising the Titanic later in the summer when the weather off the Canadian coast is most favorable.

Petrofina Is Set To Issue More Stock

American Petrofina has announced that it plans to issue 2,857,143 additional shares of its Class "A" common stock as part of a financing plan to acquire the assets which it has agreed in principle to purchase from Standard Oil Company (Ohio) for $100,000,000. The assets include a refinery at Port Arthur, interests in related crude oil pipelines and all of the marketable properties of BP Oil Corporation, a subsidiary of Sohio, located in Florida and Georgia with some additional properties in North and South Carolina. This trade was announced previously. The closing is scheduled for July 1, 1973. The working capital involved in the operation at that time will be purchased and financed separately.

R. J. Golland, president of American Petrofina, said all shareholders of the company will be offered the opportunity to participate in the financing by purchasing, at a subscription price of $35 per share, their proportionate part of the additional shares. Any shares not subscribed by other shareholders will be acquired by the company's parent, a wholly owned subsidiary of Petrofina S.A., of Belgium, which presently owns 69 per cent of the common stock of American Petrofina. There are presently outstanding 7,654,854 common shares of American Petrofina.

A special meeting of the shareholders of American Petrofina, tentatively scheduled for June 18, 1973, will be asked to approve the financing plan. The plan will also be submitted for consideration and approval by the board of directors of Petrofina S.A.

Midland Attorney Heads WTCC; Pearson On Board

Emil C. Rassman, Midland, prominent West Texas attorney and civic leader, was installed Friday as president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at its 55th Annual Convention held in Abilene.

Burl B. Hulsey Jr. of Fort Worth, president and chief executive officer of Texas Electric Service Company, was named president-elect.

Other officers elected for 1973-1974 were: C. L. Cooke, Fort Worth, president of Community Public Service Company, vice president (finance and membership); W. H. Collins, Midland, editor, Midland Reporter-Telegram, vice president (program of work); J. R. Beadel, Brownwood, president, J. R. Beadel and Company, vice president (special events); Garnet Gracy, Abilene, senior vice president, First National Bank, treasurer; and C. W. Brown, McCombs, retiring WTCC president, chairman of the board.

Elected a director for a three-year term was W. S. Pearson, Big Spring.

Rassman is senior member of the Midland law firm of Rassman, Gunter & Boldrick and is a member of the board of regents of the State Senior College of Texas and is a director of the State Bar of Texas. The Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce selected him as one of the "Five Outstanding Young Texans" in 1951. He is a fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers and the American and Texas Bar Foundations.

Approved by directors was a "Wonderful West Texas" promotional campaign which will sell and remind West Texans of the great place and altitude West Texas is and tell and sell visitors to the 132-county area on West Texas. A mass media campaign will be launched in the next few months using radio and television with the cooperation of the Texas Association of Broadcasters—18 television stations and 101 radio stations; billboards with the cooperation of the 11 West Texas billboard companies, and distribution of automobile bumper stickers.

Three resolutions were adopted. One was that the WTCC ask the West Texas congressional delegation to urge the transportation subcommittee to amend legislation to continue the existing highway program through the Highway Trust Fund, and that highway funds not be diverted from the purpose for which they are intended.

The second was a resolution in which the West Texas Chamber of Commerce strongly urge the West Texas congressional delegation to keep Custom Regulations 807.00 and 806.30 in effect to protect thousands of Texas-Mexico border industrial jobs.

The third was that WTCC urge Congress to adopt the Federal Act to Control Expenditures and Upgrade Priorities (S. 40).

Also approved at the business session was a new tourist promotion campaign to promote more tourism in the 132-county area served by WTCC. The program will include a new Cheap air conditioning is no bargain.

Servel Gas Air Conditioning is a Bargain.

The bargain comes in smaller utility bills, fewer maintenance calls and the longer life of a Servel system. But you'll never buy one cheap. The Servel goal has always been: "Build it like the Swiss." That's why the units are precision-made. And that's why they contain more stainless steel than any other air conditioner on the market. They're built to last and to perform dependably. This and the economy of natural gas energy saves you every month. Quality construction is the reason you pay more for Servel initially. Because quality doesn't come cheap. Long, economical operation is the reason you'll save in the long run. Because quality pays off. Most people can afford quality when they know all the facts. Glaucoma

It can steal you blind.

Glaucoma occurs in 2% of all people over 35, and increases in incidence with age. It often results in the destruction of precious vision.

One of the warning signs of encroaching glaucoma is increased pressure within the eye.

When the examination reveals the need, the Doctors of Optometry associated with TSO use an electronic tonometer to accurately measure intra-ocular pressure for indications of glaucoma.

In cases where intra-ocular pressure is higher than normal, patients are referred for medical observation.

Guard against eye disease, eyestrain and poor vision with an annual professional eye examination by a Doctor of Optometry associated with TSO.

'CAN MARY JANE SPEND THE NIGHT?' Stranger In House

One of the major highlights in the life of prepubescent girls is that event known as "staying over."

It begins, innocently enough, when your daughter asks if Mary Jane can spend the night at your house. She understands your affirmative answer to also mean that you will provide 24 cans of root beer, three large bowls of popcorn and the rest of the chocolate cake.

Promptly at 7 p.m., Mary Jane arrives bearing her sleeping bag, large suitcase, small overnight case, curler bag, five comic books, a bag of candy (in case you neglect to provide sustenance for the evening) and three large board games.

With some hesitancy you invite her in (wondering how long she actually plans to stay with you).

Giggling uneasily, your daughter and guest speed away to the bedroom, where assorted shrieks, strange thumps and peals of laughter issue for the next hour and a half.

Suddenly, feeling the need of restoratives, the duo prances into your kitchen, famished for popcorn, chips and dip and cold chicken. After a brief repast, during which they consume the equivalent of a longshoreman's dinner, they disappear again.

Just as you settle down to watch your favorite television talk show, you are invaded by daughter and friend, burdened with their sleeping bags, candy bars, flashlights and other necessities.

You're informed that they can't wait to see "Curse of the Werewolf," which begins right now, naturally.

You and your husband retreat to your own sanctuary (your bedroom with the 12-inch portable that only receives channel 4 except on foggy nights when you sometimes get the Ukrainian News Report on channel 17).

From the living room, you are bombarded by more shrieks, giggles, flashing flashlights and the horrendous musical score from "Curse of the Werewolf."

At 12:30 "Werewolf" ends. You faintly hear an announcer introduce "I Was a Middle-Aged Vampire."

You fall asleep to the crunch of popcorn and cackles of the vampires. THEY'RE WATCHING

At 3:30 you awaken, feeling strangely ill at ease. Hysterical giggles erupt from the dark shadows of your bedroom. The slumber partiers have been watching you sleep. You now firmly announced that they are to go to bed immediately and that there will be no further talking, etc., etc.

Two hours later, you are aroused again. The guest is famished, your daughter confides. The guest would prefer blueberry pancakes unless you happen to feel like making a bacon omelet.

You stagger toward the kitchen, skidding through the living room on the wall-to-wall popcorn. "Maybe you can stay over next week," your daughter says to the friend enthusiastically.

Section Of Kansas City Retains Flavor Of 1800s

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A bumper sticker on a red double-decker English bus describes River Quay as "The Old New Town." That succinct phrase is as accurate as one can be about the revitalized area on Kansas City's near north side.

The district is a curious juxtaposition of young people with new ideas wanting to preserve valued ways and items of the past in buildings constructed before or around the turn of the century.

A daytime visitor walking the streets just a few blocks north of Kansas City's main commercial center can find the Mexican Import Shop next door to Lock Hing, "an Oriental bazaar." Up the street is Dinkeldorf's Deli and Snoodly Poot's Ice Cream Parlor.

At night the action is at Ebenezer's, a tavern that features live bands and singalongs, and Poor Freddie's, an Italian restaurant that has live music.

BOOTS OF EARP
These and the rest of the 40 new businesses located in the district are housed in buildings that once felt the boots of Wyatt Earp. Doc Holliday, Bat Masterson, Jesse James, Wild Bill Hickok and the Union Army.

A prime motivating force behind the area's renaissance is Marion Trozzolo, a 47-year-old former professor of business administration who was the first man in the United States to put Teflon on frying pans to prevent food from sticking to the surface.

Trozzolo bought his first building in the deteriorating area in 1960, a year before he started coating frying pans with Teflon. His firm, LPF Plastics Corp., still has the license to the process in a four-state Midwest region.

His first building had to be razed, but Trozzolo liked the area so well he purchased the original Board of Trade building which now houses his enterprises.

Since then he has continued to acquire nearby properties and now owns or leases buildings with a total of 475,000 square feet of space.

In the summer of 1971 Trozzolo met with several friends and acquaintances to discuss the possibility of turning the area into something similar to San Francisco's Giardelli Square or Chicago's Old Towne or Atlanta's The Underground.

The discussion resulted in the formation of the River Quay Merchants Association. Members voted on the name, quay means a landing place by a body of water, and the pronunciation: the anglicized "key."

SITE OF LANDING

The name was selected because the area's northern boundary is the Missouri River and the district is the site of Westport Landing, a stopping place for explorers and settlers of the West.

To Trozzolo, the eight square block area is more than a piece of land. "We have a real feeling of community," he says. "People are happy here. Even the shoppers or businessmen who come just for lunch are smiling and more relaxed."

An integral part of the district's atmosphere is an apparent paradox. Most of those starting ventures in the area are between 25 and 30 years of age. Their businesses are conducted in structures 60 or more years old.

Trozzolo's explanation? "Young people want a sense of permanence," he says. "This area, which is rich in history, helps give them that."

Trozzolo estimates $7 million already is invested in the area, which had its grand opening last summer. A feasibility study indicates one million persons will visit the area this year, he adds.

Trozzolo owns the land and buildings and controls usage. He pays for the cost of exterior changes and tenants do the interior work. Underground wiring preserves the area's appearance.

Trozzolo says the section has the "lowest crime incident rate" in the north area. There are private patrols and most buildings have burglar alarm systems.

Trozzolo's office — which resembles a cave, complete with stalactites reaching halfway to the floor — is filled with newspaper clippings and abstracts of the buildings in the area. James Sutter, who later discovered gold in California, had an interest in one.

LIGHT AT THE END OF THE TUNNEL—Ken Henderson (25), new Chicago White Sox outfielder recently acquired from San Francisco, and Ed Spiezio (6-3), talk during fungo practice prior to Thursday's game against the Oakland A's at the Chicago. Henderson later belted his first American League home run — a grand slam, at that — to help the Sox win, 6-3. The photo was taken through a rolled-up tarpaulin. (AP WIREPHOTO)

'Horns Ranked No. 2; Royal A Non-Believer

on 22 carries and scored touch-downs on runs of 10, 10 and 12 yards before bruising his elbow midway of the third quarter.

Presley, 6-2 and 200, completed seven of 12 passes for 204 yards, including scoring tosses of 67 and 86 yards to split receiver Jim Moore.

It is a paradox that Texas, which usually throws only on third and long yardage, is so deep at wide receiver that the third teamer, Chris Lemberg, was applauded after three acrobatic catches in the spring training finale.

Texas lost a chunk out of its defense when all-southwest Conference linebacker Randy Braband, who made the crucial fourth-down stop on Alabama's Wilbur Jackson in the Cotton Bowl, completed his eligibility. His replacement is Wade Johnston, 215, a high school shot put champion, and Royal says it is "pretty apparent the defensive secondary is not settled."

But eight defensive starters return.

Possibly more revealing than words, however, on the prospects of the '73 Longhorns was Royal's agreement to televise the wrap-up of spring training in five cities.

DKR ain't in the habit of showing off those that don't rate it.

Sunland 'Cap Slated Today

SUNLAND PARK, N.M. — Trainer Bob Arnett will have a strong hand to play in today's 13th renewal of the Sunland Park Handicap.

The mile- and -sixteenth classic, the season's prestige event for handicap horses, drew a full field of 12 and offers a gross purse of $10,150. Today's excellent 12-race agenda gets rolling at 1:30 p.m.

The two highweights in the Sunland Handicap, Stubby's Kid and Mystic Maker, will be coupled as the betting entry of Trainer Arnett. Stubby's Kid will pack Jerry Nichodemus in a 121-pound load, while Mystic Maker will haul Arthur Anderson in a 119-pound package.

Stubby's Kid, rated as one of the finest homebreds in the history of New Mexico thoroughbred racing, has been to the post five times since the start of the '72-73 season — and has yet to turn in a poor effort.

He debated with a nose win against allowance company, then came back to snare a nose victory in the $4,000-added Cabin Fleur Handicap at a mile. He followed this up with three straight thirds at sprint distances. The last was recorded a week ago against the great handicap speeder, Fast Gas.

BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By JERRY METCALF

What was the greatest start ever made by a rookie in his first game in big league baseball history? ... Bob Nieman hit home runs HIS FIRST TWO TIMES UP IN the majors. ... Nobody else ever made a start like that. ... Nieman achieved this feat when he broke in with the old St. Louis Brown in 1951.

Ever wonder how far a golfer walks when he plays 18 holes? ... Someone has figured out that the average golfer walks between five and six miles during an 18-hole round.

Here's a real sports teaser for you. Of all the heavyweight boxing champions in history, only one ever attended college. ... Can you guess which one? ... Many people might say Gene Tunney, but that's not right. The only heavyweight champ who ever went to college was John L. Sullivan.

Forsan Girl Set For Cage Camp

RANGER — Valerie Stevens of Forsan has been accepted in the Ranger Junior College Basketball Camp June 3-8, with activities to be directed by Ron Butler, coach of the Ranger Junior College Rangeans.

Th. camp for junior high and high school girls, is the fifth annual event and the only one of its kind in Texas.

Golf's Champions Gather For Tourney This Week

qualifiers — Bruce Devlin, Bruce Crampton, David Graham and Bob Shaw. Graham and Shaw will be playing in the T of C for the first time, Crampton already has won two tournaments this year.

Last year's PGA champion, Gary Player, is South Africa's contender and George Knudson is Canada's.

The Commonwealth of Puerto Rico will be represented by the personable Juan (Chi Chi) Rodriguez. Only two foreigners have won the T of C, which carries a record first prize of $40,000 this year. Canadian Stan Leonard was the first in 1959 when he edged Billy Casper by a single stroke.

Then a decade later Trevino won the title the first year it was played over the demanding La Costa course 30 miles north of San Diego. That year he was the only player to beat par for 72 holes with his 4-under 284. Trevino was second with an even par 288.

Among the Americans competing this year, Bobby Mitchell is defending champion. Last year he defeated Nicklaus in a sudden-death playoff with a birdie two on the first extra hole — the 14th.

The T of C roster this year reflects the challenge of little-known pros and youth on the ever-richer PGA tour.

Lanny Wadkins, 1972 Rookie of the Year, John Schlee and Jim Jameson will be competing at La Costa for the first time. Another hard-charging youngster is Jerry Heard.

Few if any tour tournaments this year will attract so many of golf's big names. That's because players like Nicklaus, Trevino, Player and Arnold Palmer nowadays are selective about their appearances, preferring to play in only from half to two-thirds of the more than 40 PGA events. Only the lean and hungry and the young must compete every week either to make a living or a name, or both.

The MONY tournament will host them all this year — Nicklaus, Trevino, Player and Palmer, Doug Sanders, Gay Brewer, J. C. Sneed, Bert Yancey, Bob Lunn, Johnny Miller, Grier Jones, Deane Beman, Jim Colbert, Lou Graham, DeWitt Weaver, Mike Hill, Bob Dickson, Rod Funseth, and Buddy Alin, a Vietnam war veteran playing in the T of C for the second time.

BENEFIT KEG MARATHON NETS $260 IN 14 1/2 HOURS

Eighty-seven games and 14 1/2 hours later, Ann Sigmon and Craig Shipman retired from bowling marathons with $260.09 to go toward a trip to Houston and the Texas Special Olympics for 11 Big Spring youngsters.

Donations at Bobby Lane Bowlarama, pledges, and nickel-a-game sponsors came up $90 short of the bowlers' goal, but it didn't slow the two. Mrs. Sigmon had a total pinfall of 6209 in 42 games for a 150 average, while Shipman, a member of TARS (Teens Aid the Retarded), had 6,148 in 45 games for a 136 average.

Shipman and Mrs. Sigmon started bowling at 10:30 a.m. Friday, and called it quits at 1 a.m. Saturday. The bowlers broke 30 minutes for lunch and 20 minutes for dinner on Friday.

Big Spring children qualified for spots in the seven-event Special Olympics by placing in the Odessa regionals three weeks ago. They will compete in track events, basketball shooting and bowling.

An upcoming bike-a-thon and a movie sponsored by the TARS will help finance the trip to Houston, scheduled May 17-19.

Cattlemen Organizing To Battle Rustlers

Pilot Hill, Calif. — Vigilante committees played a deadly role in deciding how the West was won. A modern version, deadly serious, is forming in the foothills here in Northern California, where angry cattlemen are threatening to take the law into their own hands unless something is done to stop 20th century cattle rustlers.

The 10 cattlemen who sat around a poker-sized table the other day in the back room of the general store in Pilot Hill, on the same Highway 49 where Black Bart once robbed stagecoaches, aren't calling themselves a vigilante committee. Their official name is Tri-County Livestock Protective Association, a group of substantial cattle ranchers from Placer, Nev., and El Dorado counties.

But they are talking like something straight out of a vigilante scene from the Old West. Said Pilot Hill cattleman Barney Dobbas: "More and more landowners and stockmen are carrying guns. And there's going to be some killing."

REWARD OFFERED

For almost two years the cattlemen's association has offered a $1,500 reward for arrest and conviction of cattle rustlers. That hasn't worked. Not a penny in reward money has been paid. And the theft of cattle, often the hit-and-run variety where an animal is butchered in the field and a side of beef hauled away, is getting worse.

The association meeting was frustrated by their inability to catch the fleet-footed rustlers, including a "stool pigeon program" where rewards would be offered to anonymous tipsters. The cattlemen even brought in two lawyers to advise them on their legal rights in protecting their property. But after listening to one of the lawyers define the legal difference between the use of "reasonable force" and "deadly force," one of the gray-haired cattlemen growled:

"There's only one answer. When you catch some S.O.B. stealing your cattle, shoot him." The cattlemen suspect "hippie types" of stealing their stock more than professional rustlers. They also blame foothill sheriffs and judges for lack of pursuit and prosecution. Said Francis Bacchi, who runs one of the largest herds in El Dorado County: "We get little or no help from our law enforcement agencies. And when they do get somebody, the courts turn 'em loose."

Dobbas told of the day he was with a deputy sheriff when they sighted a man butchering a cow in Dobbas' pastures. He said they pursued the man on foot, but the deputy refused to draw his gun, despite Dobbas' repeated shouts of, "Shoot him! Kill him!" Dobbas said his shouting only made the rustler run faster, and he got away. "It's the most frustrating thing," he complained. "They're always faster than you are."

"SHOT FIRST"

Several of the cattlemen, including a "stool pigeon program" where rewards would be offered to anonymous tipsters. The cattlemen even brought in two lawyers to advise them on their legal rights in protecting their property. But after listening to one of the lawyers define the legal difference between the use of "reasonable force" and "deadly force," one of the gray-haired cattlemen growled:

IN FINE FORM—Aaron Taylor, 2, re-enacts his attempt to eat the state income tax refund check of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Taylor of Nitro. There was enough left that a St. Albans bank still honored the check. Such checks carry a notice that they should be cashed immediately.

LGA BUSINESS is conducted at monthly luncheons by Mrs. Morris Rhodes, right, president; Mrs. Robert Patterson, left, treasurer; and Mrs. M. A. Snell, secretary. The vice president, Mrs. C. O. Nalley, was unable to be present for the picture.

LADIES' DAY is every Tuesday on the 18-hole golf course at Big Spring Country Club. Here, Mrs. A. W. Rees, LGA golf chairman, keeps her eye on the ball while getting moral support from Mrs. Don Reynolds, a golfer who also serves as chairman of the pool committee.

IT'S BEEN an active year for the Ladies Golf Association, and more special events are in store. Pictured at the club are, from left, Mrs. James Owen, social chairman; Mrs. Walter Wheat, past president and yearbook chairman; Mrs. Auriel La Fond, La Gallinas bridge chairman; and Mrs. Howard Carleton, chairman for Easter activities.

'Trumps Or Tee Shots'

By JO BRIGHT

You don't have to play golf to be a member of the Big Spring Country Club Ladies Golf Association.

In fact, many of the association's hardest workers wouldn't consider trading their trumps for the best set of woods in the world.

The LGA was formed years ago to bring the women of the country club together to work for the betterment of the organization, and its aim has remained constant through the years. Any woman who is a member of Big Spring Country Club, in good standing, is eligible for membership. Business luncheons are held regularly on the first Friday of each month, and 'golf day' is held every Tuesday. Beginning Tuesday, free golf lessons will be given twice a week for a month by the club pro, C. G. Griffin.

For those not inclined to the out-of-doors — but still possessing a competitive spirit — the LGA duplicate bridge games are held every Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. and Fridays at 1 p.m. In recent years the La Gallinas duplicate bridge group was formed, and these women play at 10 a.m. Fridays.

And if you know the difference in a flush from a full house — you're welcome to join the Friday afternoon poker games.

The LGA sponsors events for teenagers and children, as well as special entertainment and social affairs during the year for all club members. There are four hostesses for every LGA luncheon meeting.

Mrs. Morris Rhodes is currently serving a second term as president, assisted by the other officers, Mrs. C. O. Nalley, vice president; Mrs. M. A. Snell, secretary; and Mrs. Robert Patterson, treasurer.

Committee chairmen are Mrs. Elmo Wasson, bridge; Mrs. Wade Choate, Christmas; Mrs. Howard Carleton, Easter; Mrs. A. W. Rees, golf; Mrs. Vernon Swafford, house; Mrs. Auriel La Fond, La Gallinas; Mrs. Harvey Williamson, poker; Mrs. Don Reynolds, pool; Mrs. Jo Bright, publicity; Mrs. James Owen, social; Mrs. Harold Davis and Mrs. Jerry Snodgrass, teen; Mrs. Alton Underwood, telephone; Mrs. Lowell Jones, ways and means; and Mrs. Walter Wheat, yearbook. New officers are elected annually.

Through the years, money raised by the LGA, particularly fees collected for bridge play, have provided numerous improvements to the clubhouse and its environs. The facility is for recreation and enjoyment of its members, and the LGA helps make it a pleasant place to spend some leisure time.

RECREATIONAL EVENTS for teenagers are slated at Big Spring Country Club under the guidance of Mrs. Jerry Snodgrass, right, co-chairman of the teen committee. The other chairman, Mrs. Harold Davis, was unable to be present as Mrs. Snodgrass explained the plans to Mrs. Jo Bright, left, publicity chairman, and Mrs. Alton Underwood, telephone chairman.

FOR YOUR PLEASURE

See Doctors' Exhibit At Heritage Museum

You will notice elsewhere in this section that the "Festival '73 — Sights and Sounds of Now," continues at Howard County Junior College this week. Highlights will be the 3 p.m. concert today by the Meistersingers, and then Tuesday at 8 p.m. the "Seven Trials of Christ," narrated by Guilford Jones. There will be a respite for Easter, then a stepped-up tempo through April 29.

The Doctors' exhibit is being extended at Heritage Museum through the courtesy of the Permian Basin Medical Auxiliary, headed by Mrs. W. B. Allensworth, and those who have graciously provided materials. Many school groups have indicated a desire to view the displays, hence they will be up, hopefully for much of the remainder of April. More than 500 have visited in two weeks time. Meantime, J. W. Purser's committee is hard at work getting things lined up for the next major exhibit spotlighting oil.

W. A. Fishback brought 115 elementary pupils to view the Doctors' Display; Mary Brackenridge and 22 of her high school students also came, as did Cub Scouts from Troop 179, led by Mrs. John Wilson and Mrs. Janice Rosson.

Also on display are two additional Caylor paintings provided by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ham of Burleson, who are offering them for sale. Originally these belonged to Mrs. Louis Mauldin, an early-day teacher here. They are "Over the Rimrock" and "Quick Sand." Sponsor members for the week were Mr. and Mrs. Z. M. Boykin, and sustaining members Mrs. Walter Wheat, Gene Mikeska, Mrs. H. B. Reagan, adult member, Brent Melton.

Clinton Osborn brought in a massive tooth of a prehistoric mastodon, also a prehistoric camel, etc., all unearthed near here.

The Lubbock Symphony presents its popular Pops Nite program Monday evening under the Big Band era theme. Director William A. Harrod will take a nostalgic look at the works of such greats as Glen Miller, Tommy Dorsey, Woody Herman, Duke Ellington, Glen Gray, Russ Miller and others. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. in the Lubbock Municipal auditorium, where tickets (from $1 to $5.50) are available.

The third annual Andrews Art Exhibition has been scheduled for April 27-May 2 by the Andrews Art Guild in the County Museum at 212 NW 2nd in Andrews. The fee is $2 per entry for members, $3 for all others. Paintings and drawings are accepted in any medium with the three main categories oil paintings, waterbase and graphics. Best of show will get $100, and there will be $50, $30 and $20 prizes for first three places. Information may be had from Mrs. Elsie Tabor, 1303 NW 8th Place (915-523-3766), Andrews.

The Midland Art Association and Southwest Museum have set May 10-June 3 as dates for the seventh annual Southwestern Area Art Show. Six categories are open for paintings, sculpture, ceramics, drawings, photographs and graphics.

Now open at the Museum of the Southwest, 1705 West Missouri, Midland, is a display of Victorian glass, typical of the highest peak of this art in the late 19th century. There are prime examples in cut glass, engraved glass, ornamentation and vivid hued glass, pressed glass, and finally classical aesthetic glassware. Museum hours are 10 a.m.-5 p.m. daily, 2-5 p.m. Sundays.

Mail orders are being taken for Metropolitan Opera performances in Dallas May 17, 18 and 19 when the company will open the spring four with "Carmen." This will be followed by "Macbeth" May 18, a matinee of "Tosca" May 19, and an evening performance of "Il Travatore" May 19. Information may be had from the Dallas Grand Opera Association, P.O. Box 895, Dallas 75221 (or call 214-651-9831).

Here's news for flower lovers. The Abilene Iris Trail will be held Easter weekend, Saturday and Sunday. Open to the public (at $1), the hours are from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. and 2-6 p.m. and include gardens at McMurry College, the I. I. Cupps home at 1757 Edgemont, and the W. H. Park home on Curry lane. Also Harrelle Tranham, 2925 Grape; James R. Vinson, 2441 Swenson; and Russell J. Day, 2442 Swenson.

There will be a juried art show in connection with the annual Fort Concho Arts Festival April 28-29. All Texas artists and craftsmen are invited to show, but the deadline is Friday. Fee is $3 per painting (limit of two). Prices are $100, $75, and a pair of $50s. There are two purchase prices of $150 and $100. Information may be had from the Fort Concho Museum, 714 Burgess, San Angelo 76901.

From the Rosedown Plantation and Gardens at St. Francisville, La., comes word that the rose season is now nearing a peak season. Rosedown is a restored ante-bellum home and has a magnificent formal garden on the Great River Road.

"Imagine That" has buttoned up at Midland Community Theatre, and next up is Arthur Miller's gripping story of the witchcraft trial in 1692. It opens April 27 with other shows April 28, May 4, 5, 11 and 12 (plus two student shows May 2 and May 6).

New Slate Is Named For Club

Mrs. Curt Strong was elected president of the Big Spring Child Study Club for the 1973-1974 club year, Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Dan Shockey, 2600 Rebecca.

Serving with Mrs. Strong will be Mrs. Bill Reynolds, vice president; Mrs. Charles Dunham, secretary and reporter; Mrs. Howard Stevens, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Warren, librarian and historian; and Mrs. David Elrod, parliamentarian. Mrs. Don Long led the program, "Let's Share — Our Children." She said the dictionary defines child as "son or daughter; young person; immature in judgment." Mrs. Long taught children for 10 years in Austria and England, and she related experiences and similarities between children in various countries. Each member was asked to tell about an experience with their children.

New members introduced were Mrs. Joe Whitten and Mrs. Tom Locke. Mrs. Lonnie Bartlett was co-hostess. A spring luncheon is scheduled at 12:30 p.m., May 9 in the home of Mrs. Stevens, 2908 Navajo.

List Will Make Thank-Yous Easy

Thank-you notes are an important responsibility of the bride's and she must take it seriously. The bride must write the notes herself promptly. She should mention the gift specifically and sign her name. She may order special cards with her name on them, but printed thank-you cards are not acceptable. She should also keep a careful list of who gave her each gift and should check it frequently to be sure she has not neglected anyone. The list should be kept handy for future reference.

Are You Ready? Fall Collections Are Here

By ALISON LERRICK Associated Press Fashion Writer

PARIS (AP) — You don't go looking for surprises at Yves Saint-Laurent.

The fall and winter Rive Gauche collection is simply as pretty as clothes can be. Rive Gauche means Left Bank, and Saint-Laurent's boutique, called Rive Gauche, is on the left bank of the Seine.

Saint-Laurent was the first to put women in pants. And now, even though skirts are back with a vengeance, he hasn't changed his mind.

His pants are straight, wide and cuffed in tweed or gray flannel. They come with those famous long, belted jackets, often in suede, or a long Eskimo parka with a drawstring waist and fur-trimmed hood. You can also have it for gala occasions in black satin.

Otherwise, it's the pleated tweed skirt at the knee with a printed, silk shirt that ties in a bow at the neck and a long, knitted cardigan. The Rive Gauche sweaters are cable, striped, mottled or nubby in the same shades as the tweeds.

The colors, in fact, are the most beautiful part of the collection and much more cheerful than the serious 1950s shades most designers are fond of. Saint-Laurent mixes green, rust and mustard, gray-blue and royal, plum and mauve or burgundy and coral. They also go on the crocheted cap with a huge braided wool border that hides every single hair.

While you can still find a few bulky polo coats at the Rive Gauche, the better idea is a long circular cape in the same color as your suit.

For evening, it comes in black, as almost everything does, over a black silky jersey dress with gold kid boots.

Friday Meeting

Mrs. Frank Powell and Mrs. G. C. Barnett were hostesses Friday for a meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to the United Transportation Union at the IOOF Hall. An Easter motif was used in decorations on the serving table. Mrs. Barnett presided and announced a district meeting for Oklahoma, Texas and Louisiana auxiliaries will be held June 22-24 in San Antonio.

Marriage Vows Said At Methodist Church

Nuptial vows were exchanged by Miss Sandra Kay Belew and Ricky Don McAdams at seven o'clock Thursday in the Wesley United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Caleb Hildebrand performed the rites while the couple stood at a heart-shaped archway of greenery centered by a basket of white gladioli and pink roses.

A prelude of traditional wedding music was provided by Miss Cindy Adams, pianist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arvin Henry, Route 1, and McAdams is the son of Mrs. Betty McAdams, 1104 Mt. Vernon, and Don McAdams of Durango, Colo.

The bride wore a white street-length gown styled with princess lines and a front yoke of lace and embroidery. Her long sleeves were highlighted with lace insets. She carried a cluster of white and pink carnations and stephanotis, tied with lace and satin streamers.

Miss Helen Pipes served as maid of honor. She wore a street-length gown of pink crepe, also fashioned princess-style with long sleeves.

Mike Pipes served as best man.

Mrs. McAdams is a graduate of Coahoma High School and is currently attending Howard County Junior College. She is employed by Jack 'n Jill Kindergarten. The bridegroom graduated from Big Spring High School and attended H.C.C. He is currently working for Berkeley Mobile Homes.

MRS. RICKY McADAMS

Following a trip to the Dallas area, the couple will reside at 1809 Johnson.

A reception honored the newlyweds in the church parlor immediately following the ceremony. The serving table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with a four-branched candelabra entwined with pink roses and greenery. A tiered cake also accented the table. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

Waco School District Sued By Equality Action League

DALLAS (AP) — The Women's Equity Action League (WEAL) has brought suit against the Waco School District charging sex discrimination.

The complaint, filed with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare Thursday claims that under the Education Amendment Act of last year the Waco school district received $1 million in federal funds and cannot discriminate on the basis of sex and continue receiving these monies.

WEAL Texas division president, Dr. Paula Latimer, said a study showed discrimination in recruitment, promotion and salary policies, in the athletic program and in student course assignments.

She said Waco maintains an athletic program allotting $250,000 annually to boys and only $970 to girls.

According to Dr. Latimer, "Girls are prohibited use of $1 million worth of stadium, athletic fields, equipment and gymnasiums," but she said, "However, they are allowed use of tennis balls on a regular basis."

Among other claims made by Dr. Latimer were the proposed recommendation by an all-male committee that the boys' athletic program be expanded at a cost of $154,000 annually, while there was no allotment for the girls' athletic program as requested by several parents groups.

She cited shortcomings in the ratio of men to women in administrative positions and as principals in the Waco school district. She said the only female department director, in charge of food services, is paid $2,000 less than other department heads.

Dr. Latimer said that only 5 of 46 elementary school principals were women.

"The Waco school district, by dictum, counseling, persuasion or lack of alternatives, require girls to enroll in hairdressing minority girls only, cooking and sewing courses. Boys are similarly placed in auto mechanics, woodshop and repair and construction courses," said Dr. Latimer.

"The department of Labor's wage and hour division is already suing the Waco school district in federal court for allegedly paying women less than men in custodial jobs.

The lovely, lacy things that every bride wants in her trousseau do provide glamour, but the practical bride will plan her trousseau with tomorrow in mind.

Since many brides work after their marriage, it's a good idea to plan their wardrobes around clothes that will be usable for business after the honeymoon.

She should also think ahead to what kind of social life she'll have after marriage. Will most of her entertaining be at home? Will the young couple and their friends prefer informal socializing or more formal parties?

County Agent Talks To Area HD Clubs

Howard County home demonstration clubs heard hints for outdoor lawn care and indoor easy cooking in programs presented during the past week. Bruce Griffith, county agent, will visit all HD clubs during April to present programs on how to care for lawns in the West Texas area.

CENTER POINT CLUB
Bermuda grass is the best thriving grass in this vicinity, according to Bruce Griffith, Howard County agent and guest speaker Tuesday for Center Point Home Demonstration Club at the home of Mrs. H. L. Stamps, 1018 Bluebonnet.

Griffith said the three main essentials of lawn care are a once weekly slow watering during which the water soaks 10 inches in the ground; a good fertilizer that is thoroughly wet down; and a high mowing that takes off no more than one-third of the grass. He said that mowing high will keep the insects down and will shape the bottom of the lawn.

A good spray for lawns and plants is one tablespoon of detergent in a gallon of water. Griffith said anyone wanting their soil tested could write to the county agent, care of the court house, or telephone the agent's office to have a fact sheet mailed.

Griffith said the non-bearing mulberry is a good shade tree for West Texas. Also, he offered hints on raising tomatoes. He said tomato plants need to be in the shade and that a thin layer of cheesecloth will protect them on cold days.

Mrs. Bob Wren presided, and devotion was by Mrs. Stamps. It was announced that 12 members attended the district spring conference held recently in Colorado City.

Members contributed $5 to the Audrey W. Russell 4-H scholarship fund. It was announced the monthly luncheon for senior citizens will be at noon Wednesday at the county fair barn.

Mrs. Mack Sundry was a guest, and Mrs. Vernon Kent won the attendance prize. Pastels were used on the refreshment table. A spring green cloth covered the table and was overlaid with lace. The centerpiece was an Easter basket filled with multi-colored spring flowers, bunnies and eggs.

A program on herbs and spices will be presented by Mrs. Alden Ryan, Mrs. Nannie Garrett and Mrs. Wren at the next meeting, 11 a.m., April 24 in the pioneer Gas Flame Room.

FAIRVIEW CLUB

A luncheon consisting of dishes prepared with condensed soups was served Tuesday to Fairview HD Club in the home of Mrs. L. A. Griffith.

Vernon Whites Announce Birth

Butler, 208 Madison, and Mr. and Mrs. Kim Long, Route 1, Stanton.

The menu included an appetizer, salad, casserole, and dessert, and each recipe utilized some kind of soup. Guests were Mrs. Lucille Engle and Mrs. Gary Cagle. Mrs. C. A. Smauley was cohostess.

Recipes for several dishes were distributed to members. It was announced that Mrs. Griffith, Mrs. Smauley and Mrs. J. F. Skalky attended the district Texas HD Association meeting in Colorado City.

Mrs. Glen Earhart won the attendance prize. The next meeting will feature a program on herbs and spices by Mrs. Griffith and Mrs. Smauley. It is scheduled at 2:30 p.m., Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Robert L. Allen, 400 Circle.

'Women's Lib Goals Confuse Adolescents'

By C. G. McDaniel
AP Science Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — The women's liberation movement is contributing to psychological disturbances in adolescents, a psychiatry professor claims.

Dr. Derek Miller of the University of Michigan acknowledged the value of some aspects of the movement Thursday but said it contributes to "role confusion."

Miller spoke at the annual meeting of the American College of Physicians and with newsmen about this and other factors which he said add to the problems of contemporary adolescents.

"Apart from its valuable economic message, the women's liberation movement is again implying to parents that magic solutions are possible as well as simple ones," he said.

"The role confusion that exists in today's fathers complicates adolescent development. This role confusion is reinforced when it is elevated to the status of a philosophy."

The psychiatrist pointed out that many of today's parents were adolescents during World War II and lacked the presence of a father during their teenage years.

"This may mean that neither the fathers nor the mothers of today's young people may know how a father should behave toward an adolescent boy or girl."

"As a result, children may see no real difference in the behavior of their parents toward them," he said.

This causes particular problems in early adolescence when boys and girls are struggling to become independent of their mothers, Miller said.

If both parents are "equally motherly," then the adolescent has no one else in the family to turn to for support, he said.

"Thus when there is an insistence on similar roles for both parents, foundations are laid for disturbed adolescents with severe identity confusion," the psychiatrist said.

Miller also criticized day care centers, which the women's liberation movement advocates to help free women of their duties as mothers so they can work.

The welfare of the infant is often ignored in considering the convenience these centers provide for mothers, he asserted.

History Of Surnames Discussed

"Almost any combination of letters is somebody's name," said Miss Gladys Burnham Thursday to the Genealogical Society of the Big Spring at Howard County Library.

Miss Bernice Cason, president, announced the South Plains Genealogical Society will sponsor a workshop April 28 in Lubbock. The May 10 meeting of the local society will also be a workshop, and members may come to the library any time after 5 p.m. that day to participate. Miss Cason urged members to bring reference materials. Also, new officers will be elected.

Flirty Neighbor

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been a widow for one year. I have been told often that I'm a nice looking woman and I don't look my age, which is 49.

Yesterday, a neighbor rang my bell as he had done a hundred times while my husband was alive, and asked if the coffee pot was on. He said his wife was shopping.

I made him welcome, but it didn't take me long to figure out he wanted more than coffee. He said: "It's too bad you live next door—the neighbors don't miss a thing. Now, if I could meet you somewhere . . ."

I looked out the window and said: "Oh, I think your wife just drove up, and she'll need your help with the groceries," then I jumped up and opened the door.

Abby, I like this man's wife very much, but I don't think I can ever be in her company without feeling guilty. I am a terrible actress. Must I move? I really don't think I am up to handling this.

A LADY ALONE
DEAR LADY: Why should you feel guilty? Go about your business as though it never happened. One of the differences between a man and a woman is the man's ability to forget such a rebuke. He has probably blocked it out already. I suggest you do the same.

DEAR ABBY: I have been dating an attractive gentleman who has a very annoying habit. He keeps looking at his watch every 15 minutes or so. What conclusions would you draw from this annoying habit?

REDHEAD
DEAR RED: I would conclude that he is eager to go somewhere. (Possibly home.)

DEAR ABBY: I am in the 8th grade but I'm very mature for my age. I've got a real big crush on this dude named Johnny who's a senior and hangs around with my older brother.

I am very good at expressing myself in poetry so I wrote six real neat poems telling Johnny how I felt about him, and I mailed them to him. I waited a whole week and never heard anything. I know he got them because I put my name and address on the envelope, and it never came back.

I finally couldn't stand it any more so I wrote Johnny a long letter explaining why I wrote the poems and telling him if he thought I was too young for love, I would settle for friendship but I just had to play some role in his life. I poured out my heart in that letter. I haven't heard a thing since, and now he doesn't even come to the house to see my brother.

I am going out of my mind wondering what he thinks of me. Should I call his mother and take her into my confidence and ask her what to do? I've talked it over with some of my friends but they're no help. I'll do anything you say to get him, Abby. Please help me. SECRET LOVE

DEAR SECRET: Don't call Johnny's mother. Boys are inclined to avoid aggressive girls, so cool it for a few years. And the next time you feel like pouring your heart out in poetry or prose, go ahead—but don't mail it.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

MRS. EULA ANN FUQUA

Memories On 90th Birthday

Mrs. Eula Ann Fuqua celebrated her 90th birthday Monday. When she first came to Coahoma, she was 23 years old. For 67 of her 90 years she has lived in and around Coahoma and Big Spring, and the years hold a multitude of memories about this area in its early days.

"You don't know what you've missed if you haven't done your laundry on a wash board," said Mrs. Fuqua. "We used wash boards and wood-burning stoves. Of course, farming was done with mules and horses, and now its all modern machinery."

Mrs. Fuqua was married to the late E. H. Fuqua, who farmed in Coahoma and Big Spring until his death in 1952. She likes the modern conveniences available to homemakers and farmers now, and doesn't refer to the past as the "good old days."

"Coahoma just looked like a bunch of orange crates thrown out when we first came," said Mrs. Fuqua. "Horses and buggies cluttered the streets. Some people were living in tents, but there weren't very many people here."

When the Fuquas arrived, Coahoma consisted of a grocery store, post office, depot, barber shop, general store and a rooming house which is still there. There was no school or church, and her husband helped build a frame building which served as a school on weekdays and a church on Sunday.

MESQUITE FLATS
"Everything else was just mesquite flats," said Mrs. Fuqua. "and Big Spring wasn't much bigger. There were a lot of saloons there. Coahoma was a pretty wild place, too. There were shootings and fights every Saturday night."

Mrs. Fuqua was born near Hillsboro, and lived a few months in Arkansas during her infancy. She was reared in Taylor County near Abilene, and was married there Nov. 10, 1902. She was a mail carrier for a year in Abilene; delivering via horse and buggy from Abilene to Potosi. The round trip took from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day.

Even though she lived during the times when homemaking was a full-time job, with no mixers, frozen foods and electric appliances, Mrs. Fuqua still found time to make quilts and do a lot of sewing.

Today, Mrs. Fuqua lives with a daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Allen, Coahoma. She is a member of Sand Springs Church of Christ. She has four other children, Oley Fuqua and Mrs. Bertha Minchew, both of Sand Springs; Paul Fuqua, Odessa; and Mrs. W. C. Barber, Santa Maria, Calif. Another son, Roy, died in 1959. She has 22 grandchildren, 55 great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren.

OPEN HOUSE
About 50 friends stopped to visit with Mrs. Fuqua during an open house on her birthday. Her children and their families were hosts. She was named "sweetheart of the day" by a radio station, and received an orchid corsage from a local florist.

Refreshments were served from a white lace-covered table centered with a large birthday cake.

Crackle Art Procedure Explained

Crackle art was demonstrated by Mrs. Robert H. Stewart Wednesday for Newcomers Handicrafts Club at the home of Mrs. James Watson.

Mrs. Stewart gave step-by-step procedures for the art, beginning with the mixing of art plaster with water and pouring it into a mold. In about 45 minutes, the molded plaque is sanded with extra fine sandpaper and painted with a mixture of water and Mod-Podge. When this dries, a picture or design may be stuck on the plaque and smoothed. Another coat of Mod-Podge is applied over the picture and allowed to dry.

The crackle effect is from a bottled mixture applied with the fingers and allowed to dry for four to six hours. A burnt umber finish is acquired by rubbing turpentine on the plaque. Mrs. Stewart displayed several items she had made with the technique.

Mrs. Tom Williams of California was a guest. Mrs. Joe Cox will show how to make crocheted slippers at the next meeting, April 25, in the home of Mrs. Larry Denning, 1205 Wood. Members will make the slippers for area hospital and nursing home residents as a philanthropic project.

Soap Fall-Out Injures Flowers

PARIS, France—Adelaide Jolivet, the concierge, tried to grow flowers outside her ground-floor apartment. But Nicol Richard, a petty model, hung her lingerie out to dry every night on the floor above. The water dripped on the garden, and the flowers died.

Furious, Mme. Jolivet cried to the other tenants of the building, "That proves that Nicole is not a virtuous woman!"

The model hailed the concierge into court for defamation of character. The judge ruled that defendants, not Mme. Richard's morals, were at fault. He fined Mme. Jolivet $20.

Wedding Ceremony Performed Saturday

Nuptial vows were exchanged by Miss Judith Lane and Charles E. Bailey Jr. at 7:30 p.m., Saturday in Birdwell Lane Baptist Church with the Rev. Robert D. Lee officiating for the formal ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Lane, Silver Heels, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bailey Sr., Old San Angelo Highway.

The wedding party stood before an archway entwined with emerald fern and blue bows. On either side were candelabra and baskets of white gladioli and blue carnations. The vocalists, Mr. and Mrs. Nile D. Cole, were accompanied by Mrs. Robert D. Lee, organist, and Mrs. Jimmy Gray, pianist.

The bride's wedding attire was a white peau de soie gown styled with A-line skirt, bowed at the back, and empire bodice featuring a stand-up collar of satin and lace outlined with pearls. The Chantilly lace sleeves ended in wide cuffs trimmed with lace, and the lace was repeated in appliques over the skirt. The gown was complemented by a chapel-length train. Her full-length veil of illusion was held by a tiara, and she carried a cascade of feathered carnations topped with an orchid and showered with white and blue streamers.

BLUE GOWNS
Mrs. Ronnie Cox of Freeport served as her sister's matron of honor, wearing an empire gown of blue crepe overlaid with sheer floral print. The bridesmaids, Miss Marie Bailey and Miss Terry Bailey, sisters of the bridegroom, wore similar gowns in light blue crepe with Victorian sleeves. The attendants carried single blue carnations.

Ronnie Cox of Freeport, the bride's brother-in-law, was best man, with Gary Cole and Ronnie Pope serving as groomsmen. The ushers were Charles Grizzard and Billy Scott. Richard Bailey, brother of the bridegroom, was ring bearer, and the flower girl was Rhonda Mae Cox.

After a wedding trip to Houston, the couple will reside at 507 Runnels. The bridegroom, a graduate of MRS. CHARLES E. BAILEY JR.

Forsan High School, attended Howard County Junior College. The bride will graduate from Forsan High School in May.

RECEPTION

Refreshments were served by Miss Pam Hagen, Miss Kathy Bailey and Miss Della Ashton during a reception in the fellowship hall. The table was covered with a white cloth overlaid with net and appointed with crystal and silver. A miniature bride and groom topped the tiered wedding cake, and the centerpiece was a silver candelabrum arranged with blue carnations.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Lane, Snyder; and Mrs. R. J. Anderson, Stephenville.

A rehearsal dinner was held Friday at Coker's Restaurant with the bridegroom's parents as host and hostess.

His Best Tie Wasn't Enough

BARNESLEY, England — Raymond Wilde, 25, was wearing his best shirt and tie and a brand new jacket as he walked down the main street to Purtons, the tailor, but women blushed, shrieked and threatened to faint.

Wilde was wearing no pants, and a sign around his neck read, "I've got my jacket, Burtons, but where's my flipping trousers?" The tailor quickly provided the missing trousers.

Then Ray explained, "Only half the suit was delivered even though I called the store five times about it. I had to take extreme measures, because the wedding's tomorrow."

Gift Of $25 Goes To HCARC

A donation of $25 was given to Howard County Association for Retarded Children Tuesday evening by Non-Commissioned Officers Wives Club at Webb AFB. The money will be used to send one area child to the Texas Special Olympics in Houston scheduled by the Texas association.

In other business, the women allotted $20 to the fund to assist with medical expenses for Ashley Lewis who was born with birth defects.

Mrs. John Denton presided and announced the club made about $125 profit on a recent style show. Elections will be held in May to fill vacated positions. Mrs. Denton also announced that several members decorated the base nursery for Easter.

The group will meet for an arts and crafts show at 7:30 p.m., April 24 at the NCO Club. Members were asked to bring items they have made for display. Any woman whose husband is a member of the NCO Club is invited to attend the meetings, and anyone needing transportation may contact Mrs. Denton at 263-7158.

Safety Programs Help Cut On-Job Accidents

By ANN STEVENS

Industrial accidents seem to be increasing at a slight rate each year, local hospitals and clinics report, yet industries are beginning to devote more attention to continuous preventative safety programs for employees.

On a nation-wide basis annual industrial accidents are reportedly on the increase in spite of the extensive safety standards and requirements laid down in 1970 under the Federal Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) Act.

MOST MINOR

Most of the industrial accident cases treated by local hospitals are of a minor nature, according to a consensus of hospital business managers.

Considered minor are those cases in which the victim can come into the hospital for treatment and leave later that day without losing more than a day of work time. One hospital estimated that 90 per cent of its industrial accident cases are of this type.

Not all the hospitals could provide exact figures on the number of industrial accident victims treated. One said that it is treating 25 cases, including in-patient and out-patient.

Another hospital reported that the number of cases has been holding fairly steady over the last few years. A third, however, was able to provide exact figures which showed an annual 21 per cent increase in the number of industrial accident cases.

BRUISES, STRAINS

Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital treated 190 cases in 1970, 231 in 1971, 280 in 1972 and 64 so far in 1973.

An estimated four-fifths of all industrial accident cases involve such minor problems as lacerations and bruises, and the victims often are sent to hospital only for precautionary purposes.

The few that are considered major, that is that involve more than a day of lost work time, frequently involve employee complaints of back strain incurred from stooping, lifting heavy objects, or remaining in odd positions for a lengthy period of time.

Spokesmen for Cowper Clinic and Hospital noted that ginning season usually yields a number of accidents, mostly mashed fingers and toes.

SAFETY GROUPS

Treatment of industrial accidents is usually paid for through workmen's compensation funds by industries themselves. The hospitals noted that bills for the treatment are usually sent straight to insurance companies rather than to the injured employees.

Several local industries reported that special employee safety committees are part of their continuous safety programs.

Jack Smith, industrial relations director of Cosden Oil and Chemical Co., said that employees go through an indoctrination program by the plant's safety department when they are first hired.

As the largest local industry employing 800 persons, Cosden reported a total of 260 industrial accidents in 1972, with only 19 of them involving lost time. Smith said that represents a decrease over previous years.

Both Cosden and the Cabot Corp. have employee committees which meet monthly to point out any dangers that exist within the plants and to suggest possible safety improvements. Both programs began before passage of OSHA.

Cosden employs a full-time nurse and has an ambulance which can be used to rush employees to the hospital if necessary. Cabot has a full-time registered first aid man. Both are equipped with sufficient first-aid supplies for minor injuries.

OPINIONS ON OSHA

What do representatives of industry management think about the OSHA Act and its requirements? "It's terrible. I'm thoroughly disgusted with it," said one administrator. "It requires the impossible," said another. "It's a Pandora's box which requires every employer to observe every regulation — federal, state and local — on health and safety."

Most seemed to agree with those quoted above, although one industry spokesman in charge of safety operations said, "Some of its requirements are unreasonable, but the act itself is basically good. It makes people more safety conscious than they are now."

Unique Instrument Is Played By Australian

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) aboriginal music coexist.

A didjeridu, mentioned in "Tie Me Kangaroo Down," a song popular a few years ago, is coming to the United States.

A didjeridu is a dronepipe, the traditional aboriginal wind instrument of northern Australia. It is a long hollow piece of wood, about six feet long. By custom it is made from a branch of a gum tree hollowed out by termites.

It will be played by George Winunguj, 55, a member of the Maung Tribe of Goulburn Island off the northern coast of Arnhem Land in the Northern Territory of Australia. He will have an understudy along, David Mindabal, 42.

Occasion for all this is an 18-city tour in the United States of the Adelaide Wind Quintet of the University of Adelaide. The didjeridu will be solo and accompanying instrument in an Australian-written work called "Sextet for Didjeridu and Wind Instruments." It will be performed at all the concerts.

Members of the quintet all are lecturers in the Department of Music at the University of Adelaide. They play flute, oboe, clarinet, bassoon and French horn.

A didjeridu is an instrument of rhythm rather than melody, producing a drone of constant pitch in E flat. However, Winunguj and skilled players can produce variations of timbre and rhythm. The vocal chords are used for special effects on the instrument.

A sustained sound is maintained by an unusual method of breathing. Short breaths are snatched through the nose while enough air is retained in the cheeks to expel down the tube and maintain the sound.

Winunguj learned the art from his father.

One of Australia's leading composers, George Dreyfus, was commissioned to write a work for didjeridu and wind instruments, the first of its kind. The work is an attempt to let the Western and

After the U.S. tour, the quintet will play two concerts in London and two in Switzerland before starting an Asian tour.

Va.; Schenectady, N.Y.; Elkins, Institute, Bluefield, Williamson, Logan, Shepherdstown and Montgomery, W. Va.; New York; Stamford, Conn., and Winunguj's part. His cues to New Brunswick, N.J.

Can fresh tomatoes be frozen? They can be. Wash ripe tomatoes in cold water, place on a tray so that they do not touch, then put in freezer. Take out as many as you need. They aren't suitable for slicing. The peel will slip off when the tomato is held under hot water.

Reading is fundamental. It should also be FUN.

Everyone knows how vital it is for children to learn to read — and read properly and well. But in many cases, they're forced to read rather than encouraged to read. This means that many kids aren't developing good reading habits which are so essential to learning and maturing. Youngsters over 8 years old are beginning to think for themselves, make their own decisions—these boys and girls are developing habits that will last them the rest of their lives. And for this very reason, we publish a newspaper for kids, for kids, and of special interest to kids. We call it The Hoot Owl. It contains news of the world, special events, special features—all presented in a manner that appeals to youngsters. This is a newspaper that kids want to read because they understand it and enjoy it.

The Hoot Owl is just like an adult newspaper—Editorials, Letters to the Editor, Society, Sports, Travel, Entertainment and Special Features—all written, edited and directed specifically by and for youngsters between 9 and 16 years of age.

So don't wait until your youngster has begun to rely solely on TV for his information source. Start him on a program of self-motivated learning by mailing the coupon to this newspaper today.

STRICT MOM: (Q.) I go to a boarding school about 20 miles from home. At home I have a really close girl friend. We are now in the 10th grade and have been going together since the seventh. We are both 15.

When her mother was 16 she got pregnant. Now she is very strict on her daughter. I can understand why, but the rules she has are ridiculous.

My friend and I feel very strongly toward each other, but we are not interested in sex now. But her mother doesn't believe that. She thinks we don't know any better and will get into trouble if she doesn't keep a sharp eye on us.

This depresses my friend and me. What do you think of our situation? — Victim in Massachusetts.

(A.) Your girl friend's mother is making a mistake if she assumes that her daughter will make the same mistake she once made and keeps harping on it. Such an attitude is likely to encourage a girl to do things she might not otherwise do.

But I do not think it is a mistake to forbid a 15-year-old girl to visit a boys' school for a weekend. A day is fine — so long as both sets of parents know and approve.

Perhaps your friend's mother will ease up on her rules in a year or two.

WHIPPED: (Q.) I am going steady with Diane. She is 15 and I am 16. I love her very much and don't ever want to leave her.

My problem is that she is always asking me to take my shirt off. When I do she likes to playfully hit me with whatever is at hand. One day she made a whip out of a stick and a piece of heavy cord and I have been catching it ever since.

The boys in gym have started asking me what is happening to me. She says she loves me, and insists on cleaning me up when the cuts are bad. I haven't been able to talk to anyone because they wouldn't understand. This includes my parents. I love her. Please help me. — Scars in Maryland.

(A.) I understand. Diane has an emotional hangup. By giving in to her you are encouraging it. What she really needs is someone to help her see what it is and to get over it.

Urge her to go to her doctor and talk to him about it. He may not be able to help her, but he may know someone who can.

In the meantime, refuse to play her kind of games. If necessary, break up with her.

CENTRAL FIGURE in the Miracle at Pentecost, largest religious mural in America is Peter, who is six feet tall at the center of the painting. The artist will speak at the First Presbyterian Church at 7 p.m., today.

Artist To Talk About Painting

The artist who created the much publicized "Miracle at Pentecost" mural, largest religious oil painting ever completed by an American artist, will be guest speaker at the First Presbyterian Church at 7 p.m. today and each night thereafter through Wednesday.

The huge mural, which measures 24 feet by 124 feet, is being shown daily in the Hillcrest Gardens in Dallas. St. Peter is 6 feet tall in the center of the picture, which portrays numerous Bible characters.

Torgor G. Thompson is the artist and he will speak and also present slides while discussing the art work.

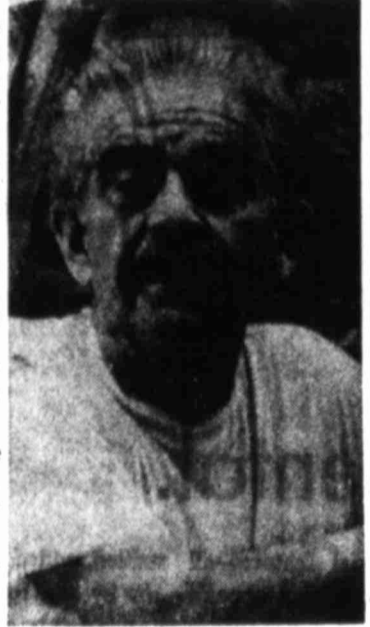

For centuries, the Bible has been the source of inspiration for artists of the Western World who had reached soaring heights of creativity in capturing in paintings a fleeting moment from the timeless pages of the story of Man.

One of the most awe-inspiring episodes, the Miracle at Pentecost, which heralded the day that Christianity began, has been a truly remarkable oversight as only a few pictorializations have been done of this occasion.

Dr. D. H. Byrd, descendant of an early pioneer family of Dallas, is patron of the painting.

It was the inspired conception of Thompson, to show not only the Apostles, based on a description of the events in Acts 2 — but to include in the painting persons mentioned in the New Testament as having loved and followed Jesus during the nearly three-year period of His ministry on earth.

The painting is gently curved away from the viewer at the center. Never before has an artist undertaken such an ambitious endeavor as bringing together in one representation pictorialization of persons whose contact with Jesus gave rise to most of the Great Teachers' revelations.

The artist is also well known for cartoons. His central character in the cartoons is a roughneck wearing a hard hat in an oil field.

Plastic Trash Bags Are Preferred Over Cans

Seventy per cent of participants in a four-week city trash survey preferred plastic trash bags over metal garbage cans, as results released this morning indicated.

Home owners on Warren, Grace, Carl, Woods, Sycamore, Bluebonnet, and Stadium streets — areas which presently have a metal can, curb-side collection system — were given the plastic bags by the city and asked to try them out.

Questionnaires filled out by 90 residents showed that 63 preferred the plastic bags while 27 would rather stick with the metal cans.

Fifty-two said they prefer the plastic bag, curb-side collection system to the metal can system. Fifty said the neighborhood was cleaner during the test period, while 23 claimed it was no cleaner.

Asked if they like the idea of the city furnishing the bags, 61 said yes and 13 no. However, they indicated 63-21 that they would not be in favor of a rate increase to adopt the plastic bag system.

The 30-gallon bags were provided residents at the cost of three cents apiece.

After reviewing survey results, James Campbell, public works director said, "Where we already have curb-side (front yard) garbage pick-up, we'll probably change to the plastic bag system."

"We feel like we need to change our system of garbage collection because what we have now is inadequate. As for the areas with alley pick-up, we may try another survey of some kind," he said, indicating that large dumpsters might be tested.

Senate Journal Costs Slashed

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Employee cutbacks and cheaper methods of preparing and printing the Senate Journal have enabled the Senate to slash costs by $218,802 this session, Secretary Charles Schnabel said.

Schnabel figured the savings, he said, by comparing expenses in January, February and March of this session to the same three months in 1971.

He predicted by the end of the session, in late May, Senate expenses would be $250,000 lower than two years ago.

Total expenses through March, Schnabel said, were approximately $1.1 million, compared to about $1.3 million two years ago.

Pop Music Televised

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP TV Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — This has been a good year in television for pop music, what with the start of NBC's "Midnight Special" and ABC's "In Concert" series last February. The year may get even better, because another pop music show is waiting in the wings.

It's called "Flipside," a half-hour effort that as of April 14 will start appearing in the late afternoons on Saturday and Sunday in nearly 100 cities across the nation.

The show is syndicated, which means it won't be on any network. You'll have to check your local newspaper listings to learn on what station it's appearing and which artists are on the bill.

But it may be worth the searcher, particularly if you have the family, because "Flipside" is being taped in recording studios during actual record sessions.

It promises to be a close-up look at the complex, difficult process of recording songs, a process many kids never think about when setting out to become the next James Taylor or Carly Simon.

The program will feature such top recording artists as Roberta Flack, Dr. Hook and the Medicine Show, Seals & Croft, Tom T. Hall and Blood, Sweat & Tears.

The hosts and interviewers on each show will be executives of the record companies for whom these artists perform; they'll chat with the performers and hopefully give the public some insight into the business. Thirteen shows are planned, with seven already taped.

"The concept of the show is that the behind-the-scenes of the music business is a very interesting thing that's seldom revealed to the audience," says Howard Marks, coproducer of "Flipside."

"And the interest in popular music is such that the audience really would like to know more about these people and see them in an informal setting and hear what they think," he said.

WEEK'S PLAYBILL

Triple Role Played

Peter Seamus O'Toole turned 40 this year, precisely the age of Miguel de Cervantes as the Irish star portrays him in "Man of La Mancha" the screen version of the international stage musical hit.

It is a landmark for O'Toole during which he intends to take a sabbatical from the film world in order to re-examine his own values.

Although he is certainly the best qualified actor in the world to undertake the difficult triple role of Cervantes, the 70-year-old El Grecoesque figure of the demented Don Quixote, and the pathetic old Spanish Gentleman, Don Quixano, O'Toole was frankly glad to see the last day of production come along.

"It's the long sessions in makeup and putting on the armor three times a day that make a film like this so exhausting," he claimed. "Period films as such aren't difficult. It's walking around all day with your face frozen into place by gum arabic and false hair."

Don Quixote had always been one of his favorite literary characters since he first read the Cervantes classic in his teens, O'Toole said, but he was quite happy when he could put him back on the printed page.

He saw nothing unusual in an Irishman laying the demented Spanish knight. "There's a little touch of madness in us all," he claimed. "And the Irish are known to have more than their share."

O'Toole was born in Connemara, County Galway, Ireland, on August 2, 1932, the son of an itinerant bookmaker. He spent his boyhood in Kerry, Dublin, Gainsborough and, finally, Leeds, where he found his first job, at 14, as a copy boy for the Yorkshire Evening News. After a brief trial as a reporter, both he and his editors agreed that he should move on other fields.

After spending two years of his National Service as a signaller in the Royal Navy, he applied for and won a scholarship to the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art.

He toured England in "The Holiday," in which the young Welsh actress Sian Phillips played his sister. A few years later, they were married and now have two daughters.

He made his film debut in "Kidnapped," after which he was signed by Jules Buck to play in "The Day They Robbed The Bank of England." During this period, he formed his partnership with producer Buck, with whom he founded Keep Films Ltd.

In 1969 O'Toole was signed to lay the title role in "Lawrence of Arabia," the most difficult film of his career.

His next film added to his growing reputation when he costarred with Richard Burton in "Becket," another critical and box-office success.

Big Springs will see O'Toole latest work when "Man of La Mancha" (PG).

Driver's License Is Must For Getaway

After getting the highest marks possible for her portrayal of innocent college girls in her two previous films, Ali MacGraw finally has her diploma and in "The Getaway," opposite Steve McQueen, opening Wednesday at the Cinema Theatre, has graduated to playing a cold-eyed killer.

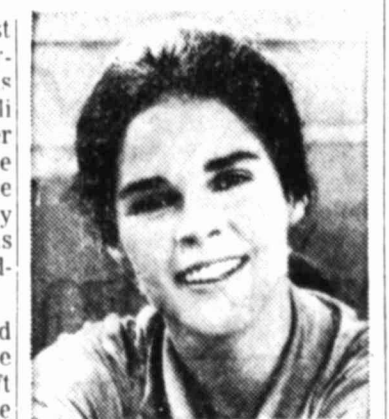

Ali, the Ivy League's (and Wellesley's) greatest gift to the screen since Katie Hepburn left Bryn Mawr, changes her image completely by switching from presentation by switching from the youthful charm of her previous successes into the role of gun toting bank robber.

The pistol bit, as well as her slam-bang driving of "The Getaway" cars in the Sam Peckinpah-directed picture for National General Pictures, release, are both genuine firsts for Ali. She'd never had a gun in her slender hands before assuming her role opposite McQueen, and she'd never driven an auto.

After a six weeks "crash course" during which she won her California driver's license, Ali, as she was called on to do in the picture, operated a series of automobiles with both flying colors and flying fenders.

In both endeavors she was immensely helped by her rugged co-star, Steve McQueen. Of his new and talented pupil, McQueen had nothing but praise as he watched her in action during the Texas location filming of "The Getaway."

"She's just the greatest," McQueen marveled, after seeing Ali get off six fast shots on the company's temporary pistol range. "I would never have doubted it if you told me she'd been firing hand guns all her life."

Ali herself looks on neither of her new accomplishments as "any big thing, really. I'd just never had any occasion either to shoot a gun or drive a car before. The driving, of course, I love, but the pistol thing — they can have it."

Directing At Age 75

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — In today's youth oriented film business Henry Hathaway ussets the trend. He is directing an action-filled crime movie with black actors, and he's almost 75 years old.

You'd never know it as you watch him goad a film crew to faster work on a Los Angeles location for "Hangup," he moves quickly, talks crisply and is himself amazed that he will turn 75 March 13.

Hathaway is a multi-millionaire who has earned his fortune not only from his lifetime in films but from successful dealings in business retire in luxury. Yet he is working harder than most 30-year-old directors on "Hangup," a film about a black cop in Los Angeles.

He is amused by the new directors who claim to be innovators in shooting documentary style on real locations.

"I was making documentary films 25 years ago," he remarked. "Pictures like 'The House on 92nd Street,' 'Kiss of Death,' '22 Rue Madeleine,' and '1971 International Competition' 'Call Northside 777' were all shot on locations."

Those pictures had stars like William Eythe, Victor Mature, James Cagney and James Stewart, but the rest of the actors were unknowns to give the feeling of realism instead of seeing familiar faces.

STAR MAKER
"These new directors use unknowns, but they make the mistake of choosing amateurs. You can't do that. You need actors with experience. So I brought out from the stage actors like Richard Widmark, Lee Marvin, Jack Warden, E. G. Marshall, Karl Malden, Millard Mitchell and others who hadn't been seen on the screen before."

"It's the same with 'Hangup,'" William Elliott, Marki Bey and Cliff Potts aren't recognizable film performers but they've had considerable experience."

Born in Sacramento, Calif., Hathaway was a child film actor at 8, prop boy at 14. After army service in World War I, he returned to films as prop man, then assistant director and finally director.

His first big hit was "Lives of a Bengal Lancer" in 1935. Then came a parade of memorable films: "Trail of the Lonesome Pine," "Spawn of Home in Indiana," "Nob North," "Johnny Apollo," "Brigham Young," "The Black Rose," "The Desert Fox," "Home in Indiana," "Nob Hill," "Niagara," "How the West Was Won" three segments, "The Sons of Katie Elder," and "True Grit."

ROUGHNESS EXAGGERATED
Along the way, Henry Hathaway acquired the reputation as one of the toughest directors in Hollywood.

"That's been blown up out of proportion," he declared. "I made seven pictures, with Gary Cooper, with John Wayne, seven with Tyrone Power, five with Susan Hayward. If I had been rough with them, they wouldn't have made another picture with me."

Russian Churches May Outlast Faith

MOSCOW (AP) — "That Asiatic city of innumerable churches, Holy Moscow!" According to Tolstoy's "War and Peace," Napoleon uttered these words as he stood before Moscow and directed his army's invasion in September 1812.

A visitor to Moscow today doesn't see nearly as many gilded, onion-shaped cupolas as Napoleon saw from his vantage point on Sparrow Hills, now Lenin Hills.

But there are still some splendid remnants of this Communist city's former ecclesiastical glory to excite an architecture enthusiast or student of history.

ONLY 45 REMAIN

As the seat of the Russian Orthodox faith, Moscow was known in Napoleon's time as "the new Jerusalem." And on the eve of the Bolshevik revolution in 1917 there were 657 churches. Today, according to the Moscow patriarchate, only 45 orthodox churches still have services.

Many churches, some of them priceless monuments of Russian architecture, were destroyed in orgies of atheism under Stalin and Nikita Khrushchev.

Some suffered more ignominious fates: They were turned into museums, aquariums, movie theaters, clubs, furniture factories, laboratories, offices or apartments. And still others dotting the landscape are only abandoned.

The queen of Moscow's surviving churches is the 16th-century cornucopia of multi-colored domes and spires, crosses and arches called St. Basil's Cathedral. The cathedral — now a museum — has become for foreigners a symbol of Moscow.

Tsar Ivan the Terrible ordered construction of St. Basil's in 1554 to commemorate his conquest of Kazan, the citadel of Tartar invaders who kept Russia in servitude for three centuries. The church was consecrated in 1557, but not really completed until 1679.

A Soviet newspaper, Komsomolskaya Pravda, revealed in 1965 that St. Basil's was marked for demolition during the Stalin era. Journalist V. Peskov quoted a prominent Soviet expert in restoring antiquities, Pyotr Baranovsky, as saying he threatened to kill himself if the scheme was carried out. Baranovsky was arrested for opposing the demolition, but was later released. He said wiser heads eventually prevailed in the Kremlin and plans for St. Basil's destruction were abandoned.

Other remarkable Moscow churches, however, did not escape Stalin's wholesale destruction of what he called "abodes of cult."

The 19th-century Cathedral of Christ the Savior was dynamited in the early 1930s.

focus for our capital. It was demolished . . . "A swimming pool was constructed in its place. I think there must be 50 such swimming pools in Budapest alone. And not a single architectural monument was destroyed there."

Solukhin's essay was one manifestation of a nostalgia kick which gripped many Russians starting around the middle 1960s. Another manifestation was the restoration of many crumbling churches and monasteries as Russians — including high officials — sought to recover a cultural heritage lost or ignored in the chaos and pragmatism of revolution.

FOCUS ON CAPITAL

There was also an element of pragmatism in the decision to restore Russia's neglected treasures. The stately old churches attract western tourists who bring dollars, marks and yen to spend in a country badly in need of convertible currency.

CONTINUITY

And many Russians, though they may be atheists, derive from the churches a sense of the continuity of "Mother Russia" and the pride of unique artistic achievement, not conveyed, perhaps, by the monuments of communism: electric power stations, concrete dams and prefab apartment buildings.

Almost all of the well-preserved churches are now museums of some sort and signs say: "This building is preserved by the states as an architectural monument."

The guides proudly show off the frescos or religious scenes which cover the walls and ceilings. But they seldom give credit to the Christian faith which inspired the work.

Nevertheless, many Russians who visit these once-sacred precincts often make no effort to hide their devout respect for the churches and the Orthodox faith.

One chilly autumn afternoon, two elderly women in woolen shawls paused silently in the Kremlin's opulent Archangel Cathedral and crossed themselves.

"This is a museum," a young woman guide was telling a group of foreign visitors at the same moment. "Only a few old people from another generation come here for religious purposes."
