SENATE COMMITTEE APPROVES SPENDING BILL—Sen. Grant Jones, right, D-Abilene, makes his point with Sen. A. M. Aikin, D-Paris, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee as the committee met Thursday and gave their approval to a $9.5 billion 2-year spending bill that will require no new taxes.

SLAP ABORTION RESTRICTIONS ON BILL

Action On Spending Bill Stalls

AUSTIN (AP) — A state spending bill rider prohibiting virtually all hospitals and their employees from being compelled to perform abortions was approved by the Texas House today.

The rider was added to the $9.7 billion two-year state spending bill, 108-31. It was offered by Rep. Tim Von Dohlen, D—Goliad, an avowed opponent of abortion.

MEDICAL FUNDS
Rep. Sarah Weddington, D—Austin, an abortion advocate, failed, 94-42, with a substitute that would have forbidden discrimination against a hospital employee for taking part in an abortion.

Von Dohlen said his amendment would spell out a state policy that hospital and individuals "have the right not to participate in abortions."

The amendment applies to hospitals receiving funds appropriated by the bill. Since medical funds are allocated by the spending measure, the Von Dohlen amendment would apply to virtually all hospitals.

With more than 100 amendments still pending on the bill, the House adjourned for the Easter holidays until 11 a.m. Tuesday.

"Are there any amendments up there that take a whack at Jane Fonda? That ought to slow us down a couple of more hours," said Rep. Neil Caldwell, D—Angleton, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

The House also added a welfare restriction that apparently would deny food stamps and other assistance to strikers and their families.

In the Senate, an amendment that would have prohibited Midwestern University from offering optometry courses to servicemen at nearby Sheppard Air Force Base failed on a 14-14 vote. Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby could have broken the tie but did not.

"LOCAL" BILL
The amendment was offered by Sen. John Traeger, D—Seguin, to a House passed "local" bill that permits Midwestern to give courses tuition-free at the base. Optometrists reportedly fear the bill will tend to reduce their profession to technician status.

The Senate sponsor of the measure, Sen. Jack Hightower, D—Vernon, said the real issue was "are we going to start telling a school what they can teach?" The legislature had created the College Coordinating Board to take care of problems like that and remove them from the political stage, Hightower said.

The Senate tentatively passed the bill, but Hightower's bid for a four-fifths vote to suspend the rules and allow final passage Thursday failed, 20-8.

It also would withhold benefits from mothers or other guardians of certain children on welfare if they refuse to take a job without "good cause"—as determined by the welfare department.

The vote was 89-47 after Speaker Price Daniel Jr. overruled a point of order that the amendment violated a rule against changing other state laws with appropriations bill riders.

Daniel spent almost an hour and a half Wednesday night trying to decide that same issue with regard to an earlier version of the amendment, which was withdrawn.

Approval of the final rendition of the amendment, by Reps. Bob Davis, R—Dallas, and Ralph Scoggins, R—El Paso, came as the oh-so-slow House debate on the two-year state budget entered its third day. Some representatives were looking for a way to speed things up.

Texan Nursing Grudge Kills Trio, Shoots Two

HOUSTON (AP) — Larry DeLon Casey, who says he has held "a real grudge" for three years, was in jail today accused of being the rifleman who launched a bloody shooting spree in southwest Houston that left three dead and two wounded.

Police said Casey, 21, signed a statement admitting he drove a car through the Willowbend addition Wednesday firing a .22 caliber rifle.

The dead included an elderly woman and two young children—Beulah K. Davis, 86, Jana Whatley, 10 and Claire Jakubowski, 5.

The wounded, listed in fair condition, are Karen Kurtz and Lynn Tucker, both 10.

Police said Casey also signed a statement that he shot and killed a drive-in food store clerk during a $70 robbery last Feb. 21. The victim was Dorothy Jones Young, 48.

GIRL TROUBLE
Casey was charged with three counts of murder and two of assault to murder in Wednesday's shootings and with murder and robbery by firearms in the grocery store slaying.

The complaint was filed with Justice of the Peace D. F. Thompson. No bond was set.

Casey blamed a fight with his girl friend, a quantity of beer and marijuana and the murder of his father for the shooting spree.

"I didn't know any of them (victims)," he told newsmen as he sat calmly in the police homicide division office. "I didn't really believe I had killed anybody. I didn't realize what I was doing at the time."

He told officers his father, Theron, a chemical controller working out of Newark, N.J., was robbed and killed in June 1970. It happened in New York City, he said, and his father was killed by two heroin addicts.

POT, BEER
"Ever since then I had a real grudge," he said.

Casey said he had smoked some marijuana, also had some beer and fought with his girl friend, adding this may have triggered his actions.

In the grocery clerk shooting, Casey said he had taken some barbiturates and "something got inside of me."

Police said Wednesday's shooting spree began when a man in a dark green car drove past and shot Mrs. Davis in the right chest.

A witness said the elderly woman had walked out on her driveway to get some sunshine.

Homicide detectives said they still were not sure about the sequence of events during the next hour after Mrs. Davis was killed.

The Whatley child was walking home from elementary school with a friend, Lora Adel Coffman, 18. Lora said a man drove up and fired. The bullet struck the child in the upper right arm, lodging in her right lung.

PARALYZED
"Jana was trying to get up and said she was paralyzed," Lora said.

The Jakubowski child was riding a tricycle in the driveway at her home when she was shot in the back of the head. It was first thought she had been struck by a car but doctors later discovered the bullet wound.

The Kurtz child suffered a wound in the right leg as she walked, along a street and the Tucker child was shot in the back.

Charlie Armstrong, 79, was working in his garden across the street from where Mrs. Davis was shot.

He heard the shot and turned to see the elderly woman fall to the pavement, he said.

After firing the shot, Armstrong said, the gunman "just casually put it (the rifle) down beside him and there he went."

Edith Bayne said she heard some children banging on her door and yelling that someone had been shot. She ran outside to find the Kurtz child wounded.

SCARED
"She was terribly frightened and kept saying she wanted her mommy," Mrs. Bayne said.

Several witnesses telephoned police the license number and description of the car from which the shots were fired.

When arrested, police said, Casey was in the company of his girl friend, Yvonne Ellis, and an 8-year-old brother, Bobby. Witnesses said the rifleman was alone in his car when the shots were fired.

Officers said they found a .22 caliber rifle in Casey's apartment.

Police said Casey was arrested in February after allegedly shooting into several trailer houses and he was free under $20,000 bond on that charge. He also had served a seven-year probation term for a conviction on burglary charges, officers said.

Police Chief Herman Short said Casey gave the statements in the presence of his lawyers after asking that newsmen be present, including television cameramen.

His mother, Doris Casey, sat silently while her son made the statements. She said her son, who was living with her, quit school after the 11th grade to join the Army.

Borden Judge Critical Of Nixon's Decision

GAIL — Borden County's peppery judge, C. Glenn Tombs, has fired one of his broadsides at President Nixon for announcing a ceiling on meat.

"For many years the agriculture department has urged 'cut government spending programs such as farm subsidies and let supply and demand take over,'" he wrote. "But when a successful industry does this, then you place ceilings on all red meat."

This was, he charged, "another one of your familiar reversals, when you did exactly what you had vowed not to do just three weeks before the price ceiling."

Tombs asked: "What are farmers and ranchers, such as me, to do about our increased prices on money, feed prices, agricultural implements, labor and many other things? Where is our ceiling on those goods we can't control? I haven't noticed labor wages going down. "Industry couldn't operate as we do on such low prices and high overhead. It takes $160,000 agricultural investment to produce an income of $10,000; how much investment does the average auto or mine worker have to invest to receive $10,000 a year?"

The judge had a few darts for "a bunch of empty-headed housewives who don't honestly know what price ceilings are all about. I doubt they would stop buying cosmetics because the price is too high."

Finally, he charged that the meat ceiling announcement was the result of protest groups, adding that "I would hate to think that we as farmers and ranchers need to resort to protests and boycotts in order to be heard. This shows instability in decision making."

TWO DECADES AFTER ORGANIZATION HEW Bureaucratic Monster That Staggers Human Mind

NEW YORK — "If I knew for certain," observed Henry David Thoreau, "that a man was coming to my house with the conscious design of doing me good, I should run for my life."

No one in the Eisenhower administration in 1953 gave much thought to this truth of a 19th Century thinker like Thoreau. Nevertheless, the creation by the first Eisenhower administration of the Cabinet post of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) two decades ago and its record over the last 20 years bear out in brutal terms that Thoreau was trying to tell us.

In its desire to do good works, HEW has grown into a bureaucratic monster of proportions that stagger the human mind. HEW's budget for fiscal 1973 is estimated to run ahead of defense expenditures with a total outlay of $79 billion — one third of the entire federal budget! Since its creation in 1953 its budget has increased 14 per cent, employing today 108,000 individuals and administering some 250 to 300 separate programs. In 1960 it had 100 programs; today the total is 300.

NOT MONEY'S WORTH
Former HEW Secretary Elliot L. Richardson confessed before he left to become secretary of defense that the taxpayer is not getting from HEW his or her money's worth. However, Richardson placed the blame on Congress for creating in HEW a massive, unmanageable bureaucracy. He faults Congress for creating, for political profit, programs "with big price tags — and much publicity" to demonstrate that a Senate or House member "cares about solving problems." As a consequence, HEW's budget and number of programs have grown to the point where billions of dollars are wasted and duplication is the rule rather than the exception.

Sen. Edward Kennedy admitted recently that "today HEW is unmanageable." But he, like former HEW secretary, now Democratic senator from Connecticut, Abraham Ribicoff, has no intention of trying to bring about cuts in HEW or reform its methods. Instead, both Kennedy and Ribicoff propose that the current health-care functions of HEW, totaling 40 separate programs and an annual expenditure of $18 billion, be cut loose and assigned to still another Cabinet level post (See HEW, Page 2-A, Col. 3)

WATERGATE Kitchen Too Hot For Kleindienst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst today announced he has disqualified himself from participating in the administration's Watergate investigation because it involves people with whom "I have had personal and professional relationships."

Meanwhile, President Nixon's official counsel, John W. Dean III, responded to news reports implicating him in the affair, by saying he will not be made a scapegoat.

'NONSENSE'
The Washington Post reported that Jeb S. Magruder, formerly the No. 2 man in the Nixon campaign, has told federal prosecutors that Dean and former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell helped plan the Watergate bugging last year, and later arranged payoffs to buy silence from defendants in the case.

Mitchell told newsmen outside his New York City apartment this morning that the report was "nonsense."

Magruder himself was absent from his home and his office in the Commerce Department. Dean, who has maintained a stony silence about past allegations linking him to the case, today took the unusual step of issuing a statement directly to the news media through his White House office. He bypassed press secretary Ronald Ziegler.

SYSTEM OF JUSTICE
He said he wouldn't comment again in the future, but said he hopes people "will be careful in drawing any conclusions as to the guilt or involvement of any persons until all the facts are known and until each person has had an opportunity to testify."

"Finally, some may hope or think that I will become a scapegoat in the Watergate case. Anyone who believes this does not know me, know the true facts nor understand our system of justice."

Kleindienst said he withdrew from the Watergate probe last Sunday, the day he met with President Nixon and Asst. Atty. Gen. Henry E. Petersen to discuss the case.

Kleindienst, who had served under Mitchell at the Justice Department, said he withdrew because he was advised Sunday "of information which relates to persons with whom I have had personal or professional relationships . . ."

Methodist Church Scene Of Rite

Good Friday or Black Friday will be observed by churches tomorrow in remembrance of the crucifixion of Christ.

Last of the noon-time Holy Week services sponsored by the Howard County Ministerial Fellowship is slated at 12:05 p.m. Friday at the First United Methodist Church. The Howard County Junior College Choir will present the program with rendition of a cantata.

Another cantata, "The Seven Last Words," will be presented by the choir of the First Baptist Church at 8 p.m. Friday at the sanctuary.

A Good Friday service will be held at the Church of St. Mary the Virgin at 10th and Goliad at noon.

Hail Pounds Parts Of Area Wednesday

Hail raked part of the Big Spring area briefly Wednesday night but apparently inflicted small damage.

The west and southwest fringes had relatively few marble-sized stones, but as the storm moved to the northeast the intensity of the hail increased.

In the vicinity of the Howard County airport the ground turned white with some stones golf ball size. Atmospheric, Inc., which had been monitoring the storm and predicted impending hail had its radar knocked out temporarily.

Texas Electric Service Company's switching station, a mile and a half to the southwest of the airport, had some hail but it also picked up .15 of an inch of rain. The measurement at the U.S. Field Station was .4.

U.S. Wants Accounting On How Funds Vested

The Office of Revenue Sharing asked 38,000 local and state governments today to tell how they are spending their revenue sharing funds.

Report forms which have been mailed out must be returned by June 20, with the governmental agencies required to publicize information on their expenditures in a general local circulation newspaper.

The City of Big Spring has already scheduled its expenditures, including the city paving program, improvements at the city equipment garage with construction of a building, and

Fund Deferrals Endure 90 Days

Big Spring schools were notified today that final approval of any application filed with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, for federal funds for new program and activities has been deferred. These deferrals will remain in effect for not more than 90 days, pending the completion of an administrative hearing, if a hearing is requested.

The notification also told the schools that the State Department of Education has been notified of this freezing of funds as well as heads of agencies through which the funds might come.

Supt. Sam Anderson said, "We expected this action, but maybe not quite this soon. Our next step will now be to prepare BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Authorities said a tornado hit Batesville today. Details were sketchy, but unconfirmed reports said that Arkansas College and possibly two elementary schools were damaged.

BULLETIN

Batesville police were quoted as saying that the Central Elementary School was hit and there were some injuries. Trees were down all over town and power was disrupted in almost all areas.

equipment for the fire station and police station, among other items.

County Commissioners Court has not decided how to fill out the report calling for planned revenue sharing fund spending, County Judge A. G. Mitchell said today.

He said planned expenditures will be outlined for the federal government sometime between now and the June 20 deadline.

Asked to speculate, Mitchell said the funds probably would go toward paving and new road equipment.

SHE'S PREPARED—With reports of flooding in Texas, Mrs. Beverly Morgan appears to be ready for the worst as she waits on a downtown Dallas street corner. She really isn't worried about high water; she is on her way to a dive shop in town to model her scuba gear for buyers.

Storms Swing New Punches At Weather-Weary Texans

Thunderstorms loaded with hail and hurricane-force winds swung fresh punches at weather-weary Texans today. The rash of wild weather, including at least one tornado and threats of others, was kicked up as the latest cool front surged across West Texas and the Texas Panhandle. Appearance of a funnel cloud six miles southwest of Plainview, where a twister killed three persons last Sunday, caused a tornado warning to go up. What may have been the same tornado was spotted on the ground southeast of Abilene, which is a bit farther south of Plainview.

There was no word of tornado damage, however. Mighty winds gusted up to 51 miles per hour at Plainview, the National Weather Service reported. Hail and briefly torrential rains pounded broad stretches of countryside as the new Pacific front shoved eastward. Near dawn it lay along a line linking the Wichita Falls, San Angelo and Del Rio areas. Parts of West, Northwest and Central Texas were kept under

Major Nelson To Get Pin

During March, the Salvation Army here served 501 local persons and 221 transients, according to a report given Thursday at the Salvation Army Board meeting. Those helped received shoes, household items, groceries, medicine and other types of material assistance, as well as transportation and other services.

Used clothing for local families is still needed, according to Major Donald T. Nelson, local officer.

Maj. Nelson will be presented a pin for 25 years of unbroken service to the Salvation Army at the Southwestern Territorial Congress in Atlanta, Ga., in June.

Nelson also reported that the local organization's float won honorable mention as most original entry in the Rose Bowl Parade in Dallas last month in conjunction with a meeting of Youth Council representatives throughout Texas.

Probation Revoked

COLORADO CITY — District Judge Weldon Kirk revoked the one-year probation of William Tyron, 18, here Wednesday. Tyron was one of three youths charged with assault on an officer. The other two await trial. He was accused of assaulting Don Bradshaw, a policeman, in a Feb. 1 melee which also resulted in Officer Pete Upshaw being beaten and sustaining a broken jaw.

Before the widespread storms started breaking out Wednesday evening, the frontal system stirred up stiff southwest winds which raised clouds of dust over parts of West Texas. Seal Agency Has New Appellation American Lung Association of Texas will be the new name of the Texas Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, it was announced today by Dr. Travis Smith, Abilene, president of the board of directors. Dr. Smith said the new name of the Christmas Seal agency will be effective immediately. The action corresponds with the adoption of the name American Lung Association by the National Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association.

"The simpler and shorter name will be easier for people to recognize and remember," Lung Association more accurately reflects our central purpose — the prevention and control of lung disease," Dr. Smith said.

'Mister Sam' Tribute Paid By Lady Bird

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lady Bird Johnson returned to Washington to pay tribute to the legendary "Mister Sam" at an unveiling of a bronze bust of the late Sam Rayburn.

More than 200 persons crowded into the National Portrait Gallery rotunda Wednesday to hear Mrs. Johnson spin some of the lore about the famous House speaker from Texas.

She said she remembered his patriotism most—"It was such a deep, strong part of his life. There was no doubt in his mind that the United States was the strongest country God ever made."

Rayburn loved children, Mrs. Johnson said, and "Each year we gave a birthday party for Mister Sam—attended only by small people."

The bronze bust, done from life by Jimilu Mason, was donated to the Smithsonian by Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Parten of Houston and Madisonville, Tex., longtime friends of the late President Johnson and Mrs. Johnson.

As Mrs. Johnson thanked the crowd for joining her in the tribute and turned to her seat, the successor to Rayburn's House seat, Rep. Ray Roberts, whispered in Mrs. Johnson's ear.

"Ray reminded me of a very important line," Mrs. Johnson said with a laugh. "I present this bust to the Smithsonian Institute..."

There were other light moments.

When Mrs. Johnson and her escorts, Sen. and Mrs. Lloyd Bentsen and Rep. and Mrs. J. J. Pickle, arrived at the crowded rotunda there weren't enough chairs. Mrs. Pickle scouted around and found a chair and hoisted it above her head to make it through the crowd back to the front row.

Then Roberts, as master of ceremonies, introduced Pickle as "my fellow colleague from the state of Houston."

He also introduced Chief Justice and Mrs. Warren Burger before they had made it into the room. When the couple finally arrived up front, Roberts appeared flustered, saying: "Ooh, the chief justice." As they took their seats, Roberts said: "Why don't you stand again for us?"

Burger did so, quipping that "I've been sitting all day. I'm glad to."

EYESORE VIEWED—Sheriff A. N. Standard looks over a cause of frequent complaints, trash along the road to the Midway community. This county road is strewn with trash, which blew off trucks, was dumped or was thrown out car windows. Here, somebody dumped a pile of cans beside the county dump. Standard asks those hauling trash to cover or tie it down with rope. He advises citizens to take the license plate number of intentional litterers so the "litter bug" can be prosecuted. Fines range from $10 to $200 in such cases.

Former Automobile Firm Defendant In Law Suit

A suit against General Motors Corporation, Uptown Auto Sales Inc. of Garland, Jimmy Anderson Pontiac-Datsun Inc. and Jimmy Anderson was filed in 118th District Court Wednesday afternoon. Bill Neal Jr. is suing for $106,000 in connection with a car he claims to have purchased from the former local dealer. Neal alleges that he has not been given title for a 1973 Pontiac he purchased from the Anderson dealership on Jan. 29. License plates were removed — without Neal's prior knowledge — from the Pontiac while it was parked at his home, the petition states.

STERLING ROAD Contract Let

Bailey Bridge Co., Inc., Abilene, and Seidel Inc., San Angelo, combined on the low bid of $952,565 for construction work on State 158 in Sterling County. The project begins at the point of takeoff from US 87 at the east edge of Sterling City. It will continue for a distance of 6.4 miles northeast of the Robert Lee highway. This includes the section of winding road which leads up to the plateau dividing the Sterling City and Robert Lee areas. With opening of Lake E. V. Spence, this road has been subject to increased traffic.

Former Postmaster General Hurls Charges At DWI Trial

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Dean John A. Gronouski of the LBJ School of Public Affairs says the failure of two state witnesses to appear at his drunk driving trial kept him from proving they lied.

Gronouski, a former postmaster general and a former U.S. ambassador to Poland, spoke at a news conference Wednesday following his testimony before a grand jury.

LEAVE TOWN

The grand jury is investigating allegations that Gronouski's lawyers paid the two witnesses to leave town during the October 1972 trial.

Gronouski was acquitted.

"If there was anything I needed it was to get those two guys on the witness stand... I knew if we could not get them on the witness stand and break down their lie then there would always be a cloud over this trial," Gronouski said.

He said he was driving home from a 1971 neighborhood Christmas party, where "some lousy punch was served," when a young police officer stopped him on Congress Avenue, Austin's main street.

SOBER AS JUDGE

"I was completely sober,"

Gronouski said. The officer said he did not appear to be drunk but that two men had said he was driving like one, he said.

Roy Minton, one of Gronouski's lawyers, told newsmen Frank J. Machado, a diesel mechanic and welder, was driving a 1957 Chevrolet behind Gronouski, that Machado "burned off," then saw the young officer looking around to see whose tires were squealing, and quickly told the officer as he pointed at Gronouski's car: "You better go arrest that man. He's driving like a drunk."

The other state witness who did not appear at the trial was Joe Arredondo, a passenger in Machado's car.

Minton said Machado later admitted to police and said in a sworn deposition that he lied to the young officer.

"He had lied to the police. He admitted he had lied to the police that the tires that had squealed were John Gronouski's," Minton said.

CIVIL RIGHTS

Minton said he urged Machado to attend the trial.

"He said he was not going to that courthouse anyway, anytime, that he hated the police," had filed a civil rights suit against them.

Rather than pay to have him leave town," he gladly would have paid Machado to go to the trial, Minton said. Machado's absence helped the prosecution's case, he said.

Asked why he thought Machado made the $460 payoff charge in a newspaper Tuesday, Gronouski raised his eyebrows, spread his hands and said, "What motivates people? I'm no psychiatrist, but I know he lied."

Minton said the only motive he could think of for the accusation was courthouse politics. He said the reporter who wrote the story, Carol Fowler, had been active in those politics.

"It is a matter of record that this entire case has been put together by Carol Fowler," he said, looking directly at a reporter sitting next to Ms. Fowler. "This is her suit."

Two men who attended the meeting at which Machado says Minton paid him to leave town have been Ms. Fowler's targets for years, he said.

One was former Justice of the Peace Bob Kuhn, who ran unsuccessfully against County Judge J. H. Watson in 1970. Ms.

Fowler worked in Watson's campaign.

TRIDICULOUS

Kuhn told newsmen: "She made the statement openly that she would get me."

The second man was County Commissioner Richard Moya. Gronouski's other lawyer, Charles Burton, called Ms. Fowler "the hatchet man" for a political faction in the courthouse.

Ms. Fowler said after the news conference the political charge was "ridiculous," and that she stood by her story.

Gronouski, Minton, Burton, Kuhn and Moya testified separately before the grand jury prior to the news conference. They said they were not allowed to discuss their testimony, but all denied Machado's charges.

Minton was asked if he had considered filing a libel suit.

"I suppose I've looked up a little law on libel the last two days. It does sound appealing to me," he replied.

Before being called into the grand jury room, Moya paced up and down in an outer office. At one point he took a name in vain and said, "It was so much more fun being a migrant worker."

Motorcide

WACO, Tex. (AP) — A car struck and fatally injured Brooks H. Travis, 63, of El Paso as he was walking across a Waco motel's parking lot Wednesday.

Police said an automobile leaving an Interstate 35 access road hit a second vehicle, which in turn left the roadway and pinned Travis against a wall of the motel. Travis died at a hospital several hours later.

Blues Singer No Longer Must Face Flight Count

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Blues singer Etta James is no longer charged here with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution but state authorities still have plans to try her this summer on drug charges, records show.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., April 19, 1973 3-A known singer was appearing at a local club.

Subsequently, she was indicted on charges of possession of heroin and possession of narcotics paraphernalia, state records show. She is listed in the records as Etta James Hawkins, also known as Etta James.

The dismissal signed by Giles said Miss James was arrested in New York City after a federal unlawful flight warrant was issued. The nationally issued.

Connally Isn't Talking About Political Hopes

DALLAS (AP) — Former Secretary of the Treasury John Connally isn't talking about his political hopes for the future.

A reporter asked him for comment Wednesday night on recurring rumors that Connally will switch from the Democratic to Republican party and seek the 1976 presidential nomination.

"Now ain't the time," he chuckled the three-time Texas governor, who was at Southern Methodist University to speak at the annual black tie dinner of the Uphrey Lee Associates—most of whose 180 members contribute $1,000 or more a year to SMU.

Connally also was asked about a recent remark by Frances Parethold, the former state representative who ran for governor in the last Democratic primaries, that she considers him the likeliest individual to claim the Democratic nomination for president.

"I'll have to leave that statement unchallenged and unmentioned," Connally replied, again with a laugh.

He did say that the Watergate bugging scandal will have no bearing on whatever decision he reaches.

"What two or three people do doesn't condemn all who call themselves Republicans," he said. "There has been corruption in both parties. It's inevitable because all are humans."

The American people, he said, tend to downgrade politicians and the Watergate incident gives them opportunity to say, "I told you so. Everybody in politics is no good."

Concerning the energy crisis, Connally said he has talked with President Nixon about the "cover a period of state representative who ran for governor in the last Democratic primaries, that she considers him the likeliest individual to claim the Democratic nomination for president.

"He said there will be a shortage of gas and heating oils next winter and there is no immediate relief.

Seven Last Words . . .

Two thousand years ago God dwelt among man in the person of Jesus Christ, yet He was rejected, reviled and finally crucified. His seven last utterances reflect the depth of His suffering and His eternal love.

Guest harpist will be Gail Barber, graduate of Eastman School of Music with highest distinction, and frequently in demand as soloist in this area. At the organ will be Jerry Whitten, Pampa, consultant in organ for Tarpley Music Company of Amarillo and who holds a master in organ from Union Seminary, New York; who has been organist for cathedrals in New York and Oklahoma City. Soloists will be Gerry Reese, soprano, Walter Wheat, baritone. Kelly Carlisle will be tympanist.

If your church is not observing Good Friday services — or if you have no church, please worship with us Friday at 8 p.m. when our great choir, directed by Joe Whitten, presents this immortal work.

You can't go away from this service without a renewed faith and uplifted spirit. Please worship with us — 8 p.m. Friday.

Foes Of War Marshaling Forces For Senate Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Long- time opponents of the Vietnam war are marshaling forces for a Senate vote in May on cutting off funds for continued U.S. bombing in Cambodia and Laos.

A bill by Sens. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., would deny spending for any U.S. military operations in Indochina and U.S. aid to North Vietnam unless Congress specifically approves.

They plan to offer the legisla- tion as an amendment to the annual State Department au- thorization bill pending before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The committee is to hear from Secretary of State Wil- liam P. Rogers on April 30 and act on the bill shortly there- after. The committee has ap- proved end-the-war amend- ments frequently in the past.

Case and Church, in a letter seeking the support of other senators, said their bill "is nei- ther pro-war nor antiwar, hawkish nor dovish."

"It is our sole purpose to make sure that this question is passed upon by Congress," they said.

With increasing frequency, senators have challenged the President's constitutional grounds for ordering renewed bombing in Cambodia and Laos.

Defense Secretary Elliot Richardson and other adminis- tration spokesmen say the mili- tary activity is within the Pres- ident's authority as command- er-in-chief to enforce the Viet- nam cease-fire agreements.

Case and Church said that with American troops with- drawn from Indochina, "any

Auto Causes Power Short

A hit and run accident caused an electrical power failure in west Big Spring for about 30 minutes around 11 p.m.

A car struck a guywire and left the scene, causing the electrical lines to arc and cause a power failure.

Police noticed that businesses in an area of around a block on West Highway 80 were out of power and summoned Texas Electric who restored operation as quickly as possible.

A partial description of the car was given to police who radioed it to Stanton law of- ficials since the car was ap- parently headed in that direction.

Electrical lines were reported arcing near McMahon Concrete about 1:30 a.m. from damage from weather conditions. Texas Electric trouble shooters also answered this call.

Judge Issues Injunction Against Three R Trust

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal judge has issued a permanent injunction against the Three R Trust and its trustee forbidding any further alleged violations of the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934.

Irvin M. Herz Jr., the trustee, agreed to repay the First National Life Insurance Co. about $500,000 which the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission alleged the trust owed the company.

The injunction was issued Wednesday by U.S. District Court Judge John V. Singleton.

The SEC had filed suit against several entities con- trolled by Robert L. Moody of Galveston in connection with an attempt to sell control of the First National Corp. to MDI Industries, Inc., of California.

Moody established the Three R Trust for his children. It held control of First National Corp., which in turn controlled the life insurance company, now in conservatorship.

The SEC alleged that MDI had paid $500,000 to Three R for control of the corporation and at the same time executed a promissory note for $1.3 mil- lion.

With paper control, the SEC alleged, MDI then arranged for a $1 million loan, half of which was to cover a sham transac- tion.

The settlement involving Three R and Herz was reached through a consent decree in which the defendants agreed to the injunction and the payment of money without admitting or denying the allegations.

Lloyd Cline Is Renamed

LAMESA — Lloyd Cline, re- elected to the Lamesa city council, was named mayor for the sixth year and Don Bryant was named mayor pro-tem for the second year at a city council meeting Monday night.

A budget of $1,335,124 for the operation of the city was ap- proved. Reflected in the million and a third plus dollar budget creased cost of Canadian River Water, an increase of ap- proximately eight per cent in salaries and two per cent in retirement costs.

However, the budget reflects no changes in the ad valorem tax rate or in service charges. Increased costs of operation are projected to be paid from some $86,000 of Revenue Sharing money plus normal increases in the tax, water and sewer department.

College Seeking Job Counselor

Applications are now being taken for a vocational counselor at Howard County Junior Col- lege.

Dr. Larry Cariton Key, dean of occupational education at the college, said the school is looking for a person with voca- tional experience, a masters degree and preferably with bilingual speaking ability in English and Spanish.

Salary of the full-time coun- selor will be paid through the Texas Education Agency at no expense to the college.

Dr. Key said he has adver- tised for the position throughout Texas and New Mexico. Hiring will be done probably by the end of May.

Nab Reporter In Newsroom

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Reporter Floyd Norris was arrested in the newsroom of the Concord Monitor Tuesday on a charge of possession of stolen property — a copy of a letter alleging bribery in the award of a dog track license.

The warrant, signed by former Laconia Mayor Peter Lessard, charged Norris with possessing a copy of a letter Lessard had written Gov. Meldrim Thomson Jr., concerning an alleged $50,000 bribe offered Lessard in connection with a dog track license award.

Thomas W. Gerber, editor and assistant publisher of the Monitor, said the charge that Norris received a stolen document "is preposterous."

Gerber accompanied Norris and police to Laconia where the reporter was booked, fingerprinted and photographed.

Norris, free in $100 bail, was arraigned Wednesday.

The letter reportedly was a factor behind the governor's search of confidential tax files in January, although that was not confirmed by the governor.

Lessard alleged the copy of the letter was stolen from his automobile. The Monitor used the letter as a basis of a front page story after Norris interviewed Lessard.

Norris, 25, said he obtained his copy of the letter from a source who got it through lawful channels.

Police entered the Monitor newsroom shortly after 9:30 a.m. and served the warrant. Norris was allowed to finish a story he was writing before being taken to Laconia.

Lovington Tornado?

LOVINGTON, N.M. (AP) — Ralph Valentine owns an auto repair shop which suffered most of the damage Wednesday when a small tornado dipped into Lovington.

The storm hit a commercial area south of downtown and Valentine said it ripped the roof off his garage, snapped two power poles, and damaged a car and a camper truck parked nearby.

No injuries were reported.

"If it was a tornado, it was a small one, but it had suction like a tornado," Valentine said. "It pulled the roof right off."

The roof fell on top of two vehicles, one in the parking lot of his repair shop and the other in the street.

Valentine said he did not see a funnel cloud, explaining, "There was too much dust. All I could see was dust."

"It appeared to be a tornado," said Police Capt. J. E. Polson. "It had the traditional tail hanging down."

Polson said he saw the cloud moving toward the northeast when he arrived at Valentine's garage. He said no injuries were reported.

Watch Spark Plug Wires

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Car engine misfiring may be caused by faulty spark plug wires rather than the spark plugs themselves. According to an oil company official, spark plug wires should be replaced every 24,000 miles.

The wires deteriorate because of chemical attack from engine oil and gasoline fumes, says W. E. MacDonald, technical services manager for Marathon Oil Co. A new set of spark plug wires, he says, can often make a big difference in performance.

Country Club Slates Cup Matches Friday

Big Spring Country Club golfers defend their course against 20 enemy golfers Friday in the annual First National Bank Cup Matches.

Action gets under way at 2 p.m. over the 18-hole Country Club layout as the 10-member Country Club group, led by captain Jackie Thomas, meets a team from the Big Spring Municipal course and a contingent of 10 out-of-towners. Bud Drake will captain the Muny group and John Billy Koonsman of Snyder is to lead the visiting team.

The action is a preliminary to the First Big Spring Country Club Championship Invitational, set Saturday and Sunday. Entry deadline for the event is 6 p.m. today. Action will get under way at 9:30 a.m. both days.

Among the entries in today's tourney will be Ronnie Broadrick, a former Steer golfer who earned All-America honors at Angelo State University last year, and Mark McCraney, another ex-Steer who is a freshman linkster at Western Texas College in Snyder. Broadrick will play on the Country Club team and McCraney sides with the Municipal crew.

Joining Thomas and Broadrick on the host squad are Harold Hall, Jack Cook, Mike Hall, Weldon Bryant, Jim Matthews, Fred Wilkerson, Daryle Hohertz and Howard Stewart. The Muny faction will have Max Pitts, Bob Waters, B. A. Brunson, Ray Blum, Jerry Barron, Bernard Rains, Richard Parrchall, McCraney, Drake and Ted Gross.

Teaming with Koonsman will be Snyder golfers Clyde Hall, Joe Williamson, John Boren, S. A. Parker, Milton Ham, Sid Burney and Blake Dewine, along with Jay White of Lamesa and Danny Walters of Abilene.

TEE TIMES
2 p.m. — Harold Hall, Max Pitts, Clyde Hall, Jack Cook, Bob Waters, Joe Williamson, B. A. Brunson, Ray Blum, S. A. Parker, 2:30 — Fred Wilkerson, Bernard Rains, Sid Burney, 2:45 — Daryle Hohertz, Richard Parrchall, Blake Dewine, 2:49 — Howard Stewart, Mark McCraney, Donny Walters, 2:56 — Ronnie Broadrick, Ted Gross, Jay White, John Jackie Thomas, Buck Drake, John Billy Koonsman.

76ers Helped By Decision

NEW YORK (AP) — The John Brisker affair is settled, with the struggling Philadelphia 76ers getting some much-needed draft choices and Walter Kennedy, commissioner of the National Basketball Association, getting the backing of his Board of Governors.

The Brisker matter involving Philadelphia and Seattle was settled Wednesday night following a nine-hour meeting, which because of its length caused the second postponement of the NBA's college draft.

The draft originally was set for last Monday, then today and now will be held next Tuesday.

The American Basketball Association, which says it wants to draft after the NBA does, is still scheduled officially to have its selection session on Friday, but is expected to change the date today. The ABA draft first was set for last Tuesday.

When the NBA draft is held, Philadelphia, which had the worst record in the league this past season, will not only have the first pick of the first round but also will have a bonus pick which will be made after the 17 regular first-round selections.

The board also ruled that the signing of Brisker will cost Seattle $10,000 and its second-round choice in the draft this year and in the 1974 draft, which will go to Philadelphia.

The special session of the 17-member board took place after a court had overturned Kennedy's original ruling in the matter.

Brisker became the NBA property of Philadelphia in 1969 in a supplemental draft but he signed with Pittsburgh of the ABA. When the Pittsburgh franchise disbanded last year Brisker signed with Seattle.

Kennedy then ruled that Seattle could keep Brisker but must pay a $10,000 fine and give its first-round draft choice to Philadelphia.

But Seattle owner Sam Shuman went to court and U.S. Judge John H. Tenney ruled that Kennedy had usurped the authority of the NBA's Board of Governors and was "guilty of misconduct" because he failed to hold a hearing or consult the board before making his decision.

Jayhawks Win Tennis Test

SNYDER — Howard County Junior College defeated Western Texas College, 4-2, in Western Conference tennis competition here Wednesday.

The Jayhawks and the Westerners broke even in doubles matches, 1-1, but the Big Spring team prevailed in three of the four singles tests.

The Jayhawks are now 26-4 in the standings, with a match to come against contender Odessa College in Odessa next Tuesday.

Odessa stands at 21-3 in conference, with matches still to play with Western Texas, as well as HCJC. Snyder is pretty well out of it with a 22-8 record.

Bill Alcocer, El Paso Andres, is HCJC's No. 1 player while Jay Box, Crane, is No. 2. Manny Flores, El Paso High, No. 3, and Terry Wood, Slaton, No. 4.

William Roan is in his second year as the HCJC coach.

SINGLES
Jay Box, HCJC, over Rick Odell, Western Texas, 6-2, 2-6, 8-6; Bryan O'Leary, Western Texas, over Bill Alcocer, HCJC, 7-6, 8-6; 6-4; Manny Flores, HCJC, over George Villanueva, Western Texas, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4; Terry Wood, HCJC, over Jon Moore, Western Texas, 6-2, 6-1.

DOUBLES
Alcocer, Roan, HCJC, over Odessa Moore, 6-7, 6-1; Willie Johnson, Western Texas, over Terry Wood, 6-1, 4-6, 6-3.

ASU'S RONNIE BROADRICK Aids Country Club Effort

Celtics Handed 129-96 Defeat

By The Associated Press

The New York Knicks gave the Boston Celtics some of their own medicine. In fact, it was an overdose, but not fatal.

"We were so out of it, it was pathetic," said Coach Tom Heinsohn after his lethargic Celtics were lashed 129-96 by the Knicks Wednesday night.

The worst defeat in Boston's playoff history—the 33-point margin exceeding by nine their two previous record losses—came just three days after the Celtics whipped the New Yorkers 134-108 in the opener of the National Basketball Association Eastern Conference final.

"We played a super game last night," said Heinsohn, the NBA Coach of the Year. "They played a super game this time and we didn't play any kind of game at all."

So overwhelming was the defeat, behind the 24 points of Walt Frazier, that the Knicks cleared their benches midway through the final quarter.

Knicks Coach Red Holzman, when asked if he thought the squeakers to run-aways, he replied:

"God, I hope not. I can't stand this. To have what happened in Boston Sunday night and here tonight, you realize you really do play one game at a time."

Carolina Coach Larry Brown and Utah Coach LaDell Anderson could have used a little of the Knicks cushion in their American Basketball playoffs.

The Cougars sneaked past the Kentucky Colonels 102-91 in the East but the Stars barely nipped the Indiana Pacers 104-103 in the West to even both best-of-seven division finals at 2-2.

Jimmy Jones pumped in 34 points and Willie Wise hit a key basket with 58 seconds left of the Utah triumph while Billy Cunningham tallied 32 for Carolina.

"These have been a great, hard-fought four games and now we are starting all over again," said Anderson. "We just won one on their floor and they are going to come out and try to do the same thing to us."

In the NBA West, Golden State says it has a remedy for the Los Angeles Lakers' Jim McMillan tonight.

"We've made adjustments, Warriors' Coach Bill Atles said of possible ploys for McMillan, who poured in 37 points for the defending champion Lakers in their 101-99 triumph over the Warriors in Tuesday night's first game.

Renko Outpitches Philadelphia Ace

By The Associated Press

"I always start a season hoping to do better than the last!" Steve Renko, pitcher, Montreal Expos.

Renko may not better his 1972 record, although it would be hard to do any worse, but he's assured himself of doing at least as well.

The tall right-hander, who won his 1972 debut and then suffered through a horrible 1-10 summer, hurled a four-hitter in his first 1973 appearance Wednesday and outdueled Cy Young Award winner Steve Carlton in pitching the Expos to a 2-1 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies.

It came one year to the day after his lone 1972 success, in which he beat the New York Mets, and was his first complete game since Sept. 16, 1971.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Chicago Cubs nipped the Mets 1-0 for the second day in a row, San Francisco edged Atlanta 4-3 on Bobby Bonds' 11th-inning homer, Pittsburgh trimmed St. Louis 8-2, San Diego defeated Cincinnati 4-2 and Houston beat Los Angeles 7-2.

Renko held the Phillies hitless until the sixth, when they touched him for two hits. The other two hits and their only run came in the ninth. Meanwhile, the Expos scored both their runs off 27-game winner Carlton in the first inning on RBI singles by Hal Breen and Jorge Roque.

The Cubs pushed across a first-inning run against New York's Jon Matlack on Cleo James' single, a stolen base, Glenn Beckert's sacrifice and a wild pitch and made it standup behind the six-hit pitching of rookie Ray Burris, Larry Gura and Jack Aker.

Bonds' 11th-inning homer off Atlanta's Tom House stretched the Braves' losing streak to six games and capped a thoroughly forgettable inning for the relief pitcher.

In the top of the 11th, with Sonny Jackson on second base, Johnny Oates on first and none out, House bunted into a rare unassisted double play by catcher Dave Rader. House bunted a short pop in front of the plate and Rader caught the ball for the first out and continued running to second base, tagging the bag for the unique double play. Jackson was near third and couldn't return in time.

Willie Stargell drove in four runs with a three-run homer and a single and Milt May added three RBIs as Pittsburgh blasted St. Louis. Stargell's homer highlighted a four-run first inning against Rick Wise, who owns the Cardinals' only triumph in 10 games.

Fred Kendall doubled to set up San Diego's first run, doubled home the second, scored the third on a single by winning pitcher Steve Arlin and squeezed home the fourth as the Padres beat Cincinnati and dropped the Reds into second place in the NL West, one-half game behind San Francisco.

Horsemen's Boycott Is Still On At Sunland

SUNLAND PARK, N.M. — Friday's racing program at Sunland Park was called off when horsemen continued their boycott of the entry box.

No horses were entered for the 10-race twilight program which was scheduled to get underway at 3 p.m.

This makes two straight race days which were cancelled due to the impasse between the New Mexico Horsemen's Association and the State of New Mexico. Over the weekend, horsemen declined to enter for Wednesday's program and the night agenda had to be scrapped.

The dispute centers on a four per cent gross receipts tax, which horsemen fear will be unfairly imposed on them by the State. Sunland Park is caught in the middle of the dispute. Immediately after horsemen declined to enter horses for Friday's races, Al Rosa, Sunland president and general manager, officially called the program off and noted that no provisions will be made to accept Friday entries on a delayed basis.

"It's unfortunate that horsemen are taking this attitude and this position," Rosa announced. "Naturally, Sunland Park has to make an economic adjustment to the situation. This week we'll begin taking steps to reduce the track's personnel staff."

Earlier in the week, Rosa met with the horsemen for three hours in hopes of helping resolve the dispute. The meeting produced no results.

The hassle between the horsemen and the State threatens not only the remainder of the Sunland meeting but also the upcoming meetings at Ruidoso Downs, Santa Fe Downs and La Mesa Park.

Two South Plains Cagers Charged

LEVELLAND — Two varsity basketball players for the South Plains College Texans — Leonard Waites, 19, and Ron Powdrell, 20, both of Albuquerque — were recently charged in connection with a $2,000 burglary April 7 at Frazier Hall on campus.

Also charged in the incident was Oree Mathews Jr., 19, an SPC student from Lubbock.

Authorities reported television sets, stereos, musical instruments and clothing were taken in the break-in.

Police recovered one television set in Lubbock, and the remainder of the property was found on the Eastern New Mexico University campus in Portales.

Ever heard of Jonathan Livingston Seagull? Me either. But according to one of the many pieces of paper calling my desk home now, he's the subject of what could be America's best-seller in 1973. Interested? I didn't think you would be. But you're gonna get it anyway.

"Jonathan was a super bird who was determined to be the fastest seagull around. And that means a lot to any athlete who, if he's any good, wants desperately to excel at what he does," says one semi-famous reader. "But Jonathan also learns that isn't enough. You have to provide leadership for others — not through a big macho thing but through being kind and sensitive and really caring about your teammates."

Uh huh. Here's what another guy had to say: "I think we're really different, or some of us anyway. We dare to be different. That's the key. I'll tell you something not many people know. There's a little book that has a lot to do with the success of this team this year — the inner success. I mean — 'Jonathan Livingston Seagull.' You ought to read it."

Er, not right now thanks. Believe it or not, those guys aren't Oral Roberts University basketball stars speaking. They're Dave Duncan and Bob Locker of the World Champion Oakland A's. Sort of worries you doesn't it? I mean, can you see Ben Davidson or Wilt Chamberlain sitting around the house just before bedtime about 8:30 some Saturday night, drinking a glass of chocolate milk and reading about some seagull? Hmmmm.

Ailing Trevino Eyeing Victory At Las Vegas

RANCHO LA COSTA, Calif. (AP) — Lee Trevino's got a nap in the neck.

"It's right up here," he said, massaging under his left ear. "It's a tendon that's pulled. I've seen the doctor about it and he's given me some heat treatments. I don't know how it will affect me."

"I'll just have to try it and see."

"I've always thought this was one of the most important tournaments in the world, maybe No. 4," Trevino said, before teeing off in today's first round of the prestigious MONY Tournament of Champions. "It's something I've always wanted to win."

"Any tournament is important, but to win one that includes the champions of all the others, now that'd really be something to do."

He's never accomplished that goal, but finished second and third the last two years and is listed as the second choice to favored Jack Nicklaus in the 31-man field that is competing for a total purse of $200,000.

First prize is $40,000. Should Trevino win it, he would be well past another of his major career goals.

"I want to win $1 million in prize money faster than anyone else has ever done it," he said. "It took Jack 10 years. I'm going to do it in 6 1/2. Of course, with the way purses are growing all the time, somebody will come along and break that record, but it'd sure give them something to shoot at."

Only Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper have passed the $1 million mark in career earnings. But Trevino has in excess of $950,000 and it's just a matter of time before he officially becomes the game's fourth millionaire.

INFLATION WOES

More Bad News About Economy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The rate of inflation advanced at a rapid 7.6 per cent during the first quarter of the year, with the savings rate in consumer spending which advanced at a rate of 6 per cent. The administration originally had projected a $35 billion increase in GNP for the quarter. The percentage increase for the first quarter is not itself a record. There was a 14.3 per cent increase in the first quarter of 1971 and a 14.7 per cent increase in the first quarter of 1972. That the consumer price index, a measure of retail price trends, will be released Friday and that also is expected to show a sharp increase, especially because the March wholesale price index advanced 2.3 per cent, the highest rate since the Korean war.

Texas Senate Committee Approves Spending Bill

AUSTIN (AP) — After correcting a $3.8 million oversight, the Senate Finance Committee today approved a $9.5 billion general appropriations bill for the fourth quarter of 1970. Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby said the bill likely would be laid out for debate next Tuesday "unless someone finds some serious defects in it over the weekend." "Our bill is heavy on education and the House bill is heavy on welfare," Hobby said when asked to compare the two measures. "Our bill would leave a little bit of a balance on new taxes." The House is in the midst of debate on its $9.7 billion spending bill. Before acting on the Senate appropriations bill as a whole, the committee unanimously agreed to add $3.8 million to the Senate bill as a special rider to pay for the 1974 primary elections. "The secretary of state just discovered the other day that neither the Senate nor the

TI Earnings Up 71 Per Cent

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The president of Texas Instruments Inc., Mark Shepherd Jr., reported that TI earnings per share for the 1973 first quarter sales, the highest quarterly figure since 1960.

Shepherd said Wednesday, at the corporation's annual meeting, sales for the quarter ended March 31, 1973, grew 34 per cent to $239,008,000 and net income climbed to $18,864,000, a gain of 75 per cent over the 1972 first quarter. Shepherd pointed out that net income reached 6.5 per cent of share for the 1973 first quarter sales, the highest quarterly figure since 1960.

CD Exercise Is Slated Tonight

County and city officials are to go through the motions of a "play like disaster" tonight in a civil defense exercise at the Dora Roberts Community Center. With the spring storms hopping around the state as they have been the past few weeks, a practice session on possible disaster is especially timely, according to W. D. Berry, civil defense coordinator. A committee of 20 has set up possible problems to be solved by the group, simulating real disaster.

Duncan Fought Frontier Decision Hard But Lost

By JOHN EDWARDS

As Big Springers await the flight to retain Texas International Airlines, they may want to consider the case of Duncan, Okla., vs. Frontier Airlines Inc. The intention of Texas International to discontinue service here has been revealed. But, at last notice, the airlines had not filed an application for permission to discontinue service to Howard County Airport.

HOW IT WORKS

"Under the Board's rules, the carrier is required to give notice and serve the application on the city," Charles T. Donnelly, congressional relations officer, wrote Congressman Omar Burleson. "The city, in turn, is entitled to submit an answer to the application thereby making its views known to the Board."

"Generally, if there is opposition... the Board will order a hearing on the application before making a final decision." The CAB official continues, "Customarily, these hearings are held in the community involved."

The CAB must determine whether "public convenience and necessity require that the certification of the applicant carrier be altered, amended, or modified so as to authorize the discontinuance..." Through Burleson, information about a similar case in Duncan was obtained.

DUNCAN'S STORY

"In support of its application, Frontier alleges, inter alia (among other things), that Duncan has consistently been a low traffic-generating point and has averaged only 2.29 passengers per departure during the most recent 12-month period."

"That Duncan is located less than 30 miles from Lawton and 70 miles from Oklahoma City, and is connected by good highways and convenient bus service."

"And that elimination of Duncan on its round-trip flight will result in a subsidy need reduction of $97,000 for the year ending June 30, 1970."

The City of Duncan and Duncan Chamber of Commerce filed an answer opposing Frontier's request.

In Aug., 1970, the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) did not make a decision. Instead, the CAB ordered an investigation.

A year later, a prehearing conference was held before an examiner, William H. Dapper. Exhibits and written testimony were to be presented on Sept. 30, 1971. Rebuttal exhibits and written testimony was to be submitted, then.

QUESTIONS POSED

The Bureau of Operating Rights from Frontier requested among other things:

1. Scheduled miles flown in year ending June 30, 1971.
2. Scheduled departures.
3. Available seat miles and ton-miles flown.
4. Revenue tons originated by station.
5. Number of passengers, tons of mail, express and freight enplaned and deplaned at Duncan by month.
6. Detailed description of advertising conducted to promote service to Duncan for fiscal years 1970 and 1971.
7. Summary, by month and by flight, of all overflights and cancellations since Jan. 1, 1969. Give the reasons for each.
8. Flight schedules, type of equipment, fares and arrival and departure times. "Indicate dates of inaugurations, suspensions, additions and deletions of flights."
9. Supply an estimate of the cost to Frontier for providing the service. Set forth revenues by category of traffic, the source and basis of all computations and "the breakdown of traffic and costing according to the service pattern provided during the year ended June 30, 1971."

10. Forecast financial results on the basis of—

A. Continuation of the Duncan service operated on August 1, 1971.

B. Assuming Duncan was the only intermediate point between Dallas and Oklahoma City.

C. Assuming the pattern of service at Duncan was limited to a turnaround service between Dallas and Duncan.

11. Compare the subsidy need per passenger at Duncan with the subsidy need per passenger at other points in Frontier's system having similar population and other characteristics.

12. Explain if the carrier has considered using any smaller aircraft to serve Duncan. Submit related studies and list of smaller aircraft owned by Frontier.

13. Tell if Frontier has considered or made any effort to obtain a replacement airline service for Duncan.

AREA PROFILE

The bureau wanted Duncan representatives to—

1. Sketch an economic profile of the area. This profile should describe present characteristics and trends in population, industries, trading centers, travel habits, communities of interest and other relevant facts.

2. Describe airport facilities and navigational aids. Show planned improvements including cost and source of money.

3. In narrative, specify how much the city and county spent improving the airport and access roads. Estimate how much local government and civic groups spent to advertise and promote airline service.

4. What kind of charges, for example landing fees, and rent, are levied?

5. What has or could be done to generate more air traffic here?

NEARBY AIR FIELDS

6. Delve into travel agency, business, nearby airport and survey records to determine the number of passengers from Duncan using a neighboring air terminal.

7. Give road characteristics from downtown Duncan to the airport and other airports. The bureau wants distances, driving times and public transportation schedules and fares.

8. Outline means of transportation, on both surface and air, including air traffic service, availability of limousine, bus and rail transportation. How modes of transportation to of interest? would deletion of Frontier service leave Duncan? Compare time and cost of other modes of transportation to areas of local interest.

9. How many charter flights come into or leave Duncan? 10. Discuss plans to obtain future airline service.

Frontier asked Duncan parties to present some more evidence, and Duncan civic leaders asked Frontier to provide more information. A public hearing was later held.

Next came a report and an initial decision from Dapper, the government examiner. He utilized information submitted in answer to the above questions.

DECISION REVIEWED

At the end of a 31-page report, Dapper indicated he would permit discontinuing airline service.

The city and chamber filed a petition for discretionary review. Although the CAB did not review the matter, the board backed the examiner's decision.

"In support of his ultimate decision, he found, inter alia, that Duncan has consistently been a low traffic-generating point, that alternate air transportation is available at Lawton and Oklahoma City which are accessible by private automobile or public bus transportation, and that the subsidy involved in continuing Frontier's operation would be prohibitive."

"Moreover, he found that establishment of an air taxi replacement service is not a feasible alternative," the CAB order states. "In our judgment... at the examiner's findings support his ultimate conclusion and nothing in the petition warrants more extensive review or a change in the examiner's determination."

$40,000 Food Shortage Noted

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Officials in Cameron County are trying to find out what happened to $40,000 worth of commodities.

Sheriff Gus Krause seized a filing cabinet drawer full of records from the county surplus commodity distribution program where the shortage is reported.

Among the missing items are 5,600 pounds of butter, 16,000 pounds of cheese, more than 18,000 pounds of canned chopped meat and 30,000 pounds of flour, officials said.

$1,900,666 Crash Suit

LITTLEFIELD, Tex. (AP) — The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad Co. filed a third-party suit Wednesday denying blame for the Feb. 6 collision of a train and school bus that took seven lives.

Two damage suits totaling $1,900,666 have been filed against the railroad and the school bus driver, Artiss Ray Johnson, 68.

The new suit claims that the railroad was not negligent, that Johnson was not qualified to drive a school bus, and the Littlefield Independent School District was negligent in hiring him for that job.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., April 19, 1973 9-A

The day after the crash, Johnson was issued a citation for failure to possess a chauffeur's license. He did hold a commercial license, not legal for bus driving, and passed that test on the fourth attempt.

The collision occurred as the pupils were en route home four blocks from the Littlefield business district.

The bus carried 29 persons, and 17, including Johnson, suffered non-fatal injuries.

Mitchell, Dean Planned Raid On Demo Quarters?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Watergate spy team was commanded by two leading Nixon administration officials who tried to buy the silence of the arrested conspirators, the Washington Post says. Jeb Stuart Magruder, former No. 2 man in the Nixon re-election campaign, will tell a federal grand jury today that former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and present White House Counsel John W. Dean III planned and approved the bugging raid on Democratic national headquarters, the Post said in today's edition.

INDICTMENTS DUE
Magruder already has given his account to federal prosecutors, the newspaper reported. Dean soon will resign and his example may well be followed by H. R. Haldeman, White House chief of staff, the paper as saying.

KEY FIGURE
Mitchell, a former law partner of Nixon's in New York City, has been a close personal friend, ran the Nixon campaign in 1968, and was a principal figure in the first Nixon term.

CIVIL SUITS
The New York Times reported that Atty. Gen. Richard Kleindienst, has disqualified himself from further personal involvement in the case, on grounds it would be improper if he were to lead the prosecution of past or present colleagues in the administration.

CHAIRMAN'S VIEW OF WATERGATE—Republican National Chairman George Bush, standing, talks about the Watergate case and Democratic National Chairman Robert Strauss listens Wednesday during a joint appearance before the National Press Club in Washington.

LITTLE SILLY
"This gets a little sillier as it goes along, doesn't it?" Mitchell told a reporter as he left his New York City apartment this morning and was asked about the Post report. "I've had a good night's sleep and haven't heard any of this nonsense." He appeared relaxed as he boarded a chauffeured station wagon and lit his pipe.

CONSPIRACY
Magruder told the prosecutors, the Post said, that he was present at a February 1972 meeting in Mitchell's Justice Department office attended also by the attorney general, Dean, and G. Gordon Liddy, one of seven men convicted in the conspiracy.

EMPLOYERS GET QUESTIONS
Initial efforts in a two-part survey of county-wide employment and manpower needs will get under way today as questionnaires are mailed out to some 400 employers.

Employers Get Questions
The survey is being jointly handled through the Howard County Junior College, the Texas Employment Commission and the Chamber of Commerce to determine both the manpower needs of local employers and the training desires of the citizenry.

DAZED WOMAN IS RETURNED HOME
Hospital attendants reported to city police that a woman in a dazed condition was wandering around on the city streets at 3:50 a.m.

Employers Get Questions
Questionnaires mailed today are aimed at discovering employers' feelings on job training, the number of probable job openings in the near future, and the salary levels which beginning employees can expect.

DAZED WOMAN IS RETURNED HOME
Police located the woman and took her home and turned her over to members of the family. She told them she'd been out for groceries.

SHE'S TALLER THAN AN ELEPHANT'S EYE — Joy Williams, 17, of Fort Worth, a Six Flags Over Texas hostess, tries her hand at feeding Six Flagg VIII, a new baby Asian elephant that has arrived at the Arlington park. Miss Williams, a high school junior, stands in at 5-feet, 9-inches, and is really taller than this elephant's eye.

Ban On Texas Truth Tests To Continue

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals today continued its long-standing refusal to admit lie detector tests, even if the prosecution and defense agree to them.

The court reversed a 20-year-old conviction of Johnny Romero in Nueces County (Corpus Christi) district court.

"While we are aware of efforts to promote the reliability of polygraph tests and of their claim that they are now more reliable than before, we are convinced at this time that we should adhere to the general rule of exclusion," said the opinion written by Judge John O'Neil Jr.

O'Neil noted that prior to Romero's 1970 trial, his lawyers and the prosecution had agreed to permit the use of lie detector tests as testimony.

But Romero's lawyers later said the stipulation should be ... canceled because the polygraph examiner was only an intern and Romero had been given the drug methadone shortly before the test.

The state contended Romero's lawyers knew the examiner was an intern and that Romero had taken the drug but agreed to the test anyway.

O'Neil recounted a history of the acceptability of lie detector tests in federal and state courts before ruling that Romero's test shouldn't have been admitted.

"No machine or device has perhaps caused greater controversy among 'experts,' judges, lawyers, physicians, psychologists, government officials and the public in general than the polygraph or lie detector machine," O'Neil commented.

The leading case regarding polygraphs was Frye vs. U.S. in 1923, O'Neil said. In that case, the court ruled lie detector tests ... were in a "twilight zone" between the "experimental and demonstrable stages" of scientific principle.

Generally, state and federal courts have continued to view the tests as still in the "twilight zone," O'Neil noted.

A 1970 Texas case, Lee vs. State, said it has been the "consistent holding" of Texas courts that polygraph tests are not admissible.

In Romero's case, even though both sides originally agreed to the test, it still wasn't admissible, O'Neil wrote.

"Such stipulation does nothing to enhance the reliability of such evidence when offered by either side."

Further, O'Neil said, the inexperience of the examiner and the use of drugs "should certainly have been suspect to the trial court."

Mass Transit Forces Eye House 'Squeaker'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mass transit forces, enlisting governors, mayors and one of President Nixon's top aides in an intense lobbying drive, claimed the edge today for a House vote to let them tap highway trust funds.

"It's going to be a squeaker," said Republican floor leader John B. Anderson of Illinois. "But I think we have the votes."

He said Secretary of Transportation Claude S. Brinegar contacted members to urge their votes for the plan and that mayors, environmentalists and other groups across the country were asked to write congressmen and seek their backing.

LATE COUNT

Anderson said a late head-count Wednesday indicated a 215-198 House lineup for today's vote on permitting cities to use their $700 million in highway money for mass transit. He listed 20 members as undecided.

Rep. Jim Wright, D-Tex., called the Nixon-backed, Senate-passed option "sucker bait," contending the President would give cities no other mass transit money if they could use the highway money.

"Think," Wright told the House. "Think before you fall for that Department of Transportation sucker bait."

Wright was floor manager of a $25.6-billion federal highway authorization bill to which the amendment for optional use of the $700 million-a-year city highway money was proposed.

The bill would authorize an additional $8 billion for the 42,500-mile interstate highway system and extend the deadline for its completion three years to June 30, 1979.

MONEY BELLS

The rest is for other federal highways and such related programs as highway safety over the next three years—plus extension of the $1 billion-a-year federal mass transportation act for three years.

Congress appropriates the authorized money in separate bills.

And that, Anderson said is why mass transit proponents want the $700-million highway option now in addition to continuation of the regular mass transit money.

"The Wright bill holds out only a promise of $3 billion," he said. "No one knows how much will be appropriated. No one knows how much will be impounded. The $700 million is right there where you can use it."

Further, O'Neil said, the inexperience of the examiner and the use of drugs "should certainly have been suspect to the trial court."

PRICE CONTROL AUTHORITY May Get Caught Between GOP Opposition, Holiday Recess

WASHINGTON (AP) — House and Senate conferees have agreed on a compromise bill extending presidential authority to impose wage-price controls but Republican opposition in the House and the impending Easter recess leave the bill's future in doubt.

President Nixon's current authority to impose economic controls expires at midnight April 30 and Congress is due to quit today for its Easter recess, returning the morning of the 30th.

HOLD IT

Meantime, House Republicans forecast a floor defeat for the compromise bill agreed upon Tuesday. Of the Republicans in the Senate-House conference committee, only one, Sen. Bob Packwood of Oregon, signed the version finally approved.

In the Senate, maneuvering over a voter-registration bill dominates the floor calendar with the bill's manager, Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo., threatening to hold up all other legis... lation until he has agreement to vote on his bill first. Opponents have organized a filibuster against the bill, which would provide a postcard registration system.

Democratic Whip Sen. Robert Byrd said the wage-price bill won't be brought up until the day that Congress returns.

Some congressmen saw the bill as an opportunity for Congress to override the President's approaches to controlling inflation and unemployment by impounding and cutbacks in approved programs.

FOOD PRICES

But in each chamber, they lost on a lengthy list of amendments calling for everything from rolling back food prices to the prime interest rate to the six-month freezes across the board.

The major control item left—and knocked out by the conferees—was a return to Phase 2 mandatory rent controls in most major metropolitan areas.

House Republicans refused to sign the compromise version, citing one provision that gives the president authority to allocate petroleum products. This is seen as working in favor of independent distributors against the big oil companies.

"This makes the president a czar over the oil industry," said Rep. Garry Brown, R-Mich. "The House will never accept this."

Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., did not sign the report either. He had strenuously opposed the oil-allocation amendment in committee and on the floor.

Denver City Man Adjudged Guilty

Albert Huey O'Neal, 41, Denver City, was convicted Wednesday afternoon of aggravated assault after a complaint charging assault with intent to murder was dismissed.

County Judge A. G. Mitchell gave O'Neal two years probation and fined the defendant $1 plus $48 in court costs.

O'Neal was charged in connection with an incident March 4 involving Glen Gray.

Favorite Artist Of LBJ Expires

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Porfirio Salinas, a favorite artist of late President Lyndon B. Johnson, died here Wednesday night. He was 62.

Salinas had been hospitalized for three weeks with a liver ailment. He was a native of Bastrop.

He was known for his depictions of Texas landscapes, particularly of bluebonnets. He had been painting since he taught himself as a boy.

Mrs. Lady Bird Johnson commissioned Salinas to paint pictures of her husband's favorite scenes at the LBJ Ranch. The paintings were among those the Johnsons took with them to Washington and hung in the White House.

The artist is survived by his widow, Maria, and a daughter.

'Evening Of Theatre' To Be Free To Public

An "evening of Theatre" comes up today at 8 p.m. in the Howard County Junior College auditorium as part of the Festival 73 month-long observance. Like virtually all of the activities, there is no admission charge.

Both the Big Spring High School and the HCJC Hawk Players will be featured on the program.

Friday noon, as part of the pre-Easter observance, the HCJC choir, under the direction of Woody McDonnell, presents Benjamin Britten's setting of excerpts from the whimsical poetry of Christopher Smart. This will be at the First United Methodist Church at 12:05 p.m. and will last less than 20 minutes. There will also be a brief devotion.

This evening the BSHS drama department will have an one-act adaption by I. E. Clark of

MEN IN SERVICE

Airman David E. Kohanek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Kohanek of Rt. 1, Big Spring, has graduated at Keeler AFB, Miss., from the U.S. Air Force aerospace control and warning systems specialist course conducted by the Air Training Command.

Sgt. Tyree Marshall Jr., son of Tyree Marshall of 112 Detroit St. Lamesa, is a member of the Thailand-based organization that has been selected as the best communications-electronics unit in the U.S. Air Force for the second time in three years.

Brandon Work In Exhibit

Frank Brandon's striking study of "Festus" has been selected to hang in the Professional Photographers of America national show in Denver, Colo., in August.

Brandon prevailed on Ken Curtis, who plays the Festus role in "Gunsmoke," to pose for him here last August when Curtis was doing a repeat appearance at the rodeo.

The color portrait, finished in a screen that gives it the effect of an oil painting, was tapped out without formality of judging at the Southwestern Photographers Association in Dallas last week and given the silver rating that sends it to national.

Brandon also won a first-place blue ribbon from the Texas Photographers Association and his study of Zudajan, the Afghan hound of Mrs. Houston Zinn, was finished with a screen that imparts an etching effect, further highlighting the delicate detail.

Airman Kohanek attended Coahoma High School. His wife, Elizabeth, is the daughter of Mrs. Mary L. Taylor of Fort Worth.

Sgt. Marshall is assigned at Nakhon Phanom Royal Thai Air Force Base as a communications specialist with the 1987th Communications Squadron.

His unit is part of the 1974th Communications Group — headquartered at Udorn Royal Thai Air Force Base — which received the third annual Major General Harold M. McClelland Award, named in honor of the late general who pioneered worldwide communications efforts in the early 1930s.

The group, which earned the award for the first time in 1971, provides communications and air traffic control service in Thailand for Air Force units and other governmental agencies.

Sgt. Marshall, a 1959 graduate of Wallace High School, Colorado City, attended Trinidad (Colo.) State College.

'The Fun Palace' Figures In Suit

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A district court judge in Austin has asked lawyers for both sides in a civil suit against the Texas Vending Commission to submit briefs in the case by April 26.

The suit was filed by the Headquarters Corp., a vending machine company which operates a chain of amusement centers in the Dallas-Fort Worth area, against the TVC's rejection of an application for a 1973 general business license.

The TVC was created amid controversy over the vending machine industry in Texas in 1971.

CRIME

Judge Herman Jones of 53rd District Court made the request for the briefs Wednesday near the end of the day long hearings and also indicated to attorneys that he leaned toward upholding the license rejection.

The chain of amusement arcades operated by a group which came to Texas from New Jersey was described as a hotbed of narcotics and crime activity.

Testimony Wednesday was that the current principal stockholders in Headquarters Corp. bought into the company in August 1972 and that the firm operated amusement arcades in Dallas, Irving, Mesquite, Arlington and Fort Worth.

Numerous police and narcotics officers testified that there has been narcotics traffic and other law violations at the amusement centers.

Testimony showed that "The Fun Palace" in Arlington was involved in some 30 narcotics cases and that everything from heroin to diet pills flowed through the center.

NARCOTICS

Kenneth Haas of Grand Prairie, who owns 47 1/2 per cent of the stock in Headquarters Corp. testified that before coming to Texas, he owned a vending machine business in New Jersey. He said the firm now operates only two amusement centers — one in Arlington and one in Fort Worth.

Haas testified that although the company grossed about $200,000 in January, only $6,000 to $8,000 monthly comes from the two amusement arcades still in operation.

"We'd get out of Arlington if we could get out of the lease," he said.

REJECTED

In the meantime, he said "We're not going to put up with any monkey business" with the two amusement centers still open, and that any employee found pushing narcotics would be fired.

TVC director Ivan Williams testified that Headquarters' 1973 license request was rejected because of a violation of a TVC regulation regarding importation of foreign made coin operated machines. Williams also gave general welfare, health, peace and safety of the people as another reason that the TVC rejected the license application.

Haas testified Wednesday that the company will be forced out of business if the TVC does not grant Headquarters Corp. a license.

High Exit Fees For Jews Suspended By Kremlin

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House-inspired announcement that Moscow has suspended high exit fees for Russian Jews seeking to emigrate contains no guarantee that the taxes won't be reimposed at the Kremlin's whim, some U.S. officials say.

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott said Wednesday the Soviet leaders have promised President Nixon that the education taxes on Jews seeking to emigrate to Israel will be suspended indefinitely.

Nonetheless, some sources say the suspension stands on nothing but the Soviet word. They claim the two written communications recently sent to Nixon on the Jewish question do not promise even temporary suspension.

Rather, the letters pointedly refer to Soviet legal clauses providing for exemptions to the high exit taxes. Exemptions have been granted over the last month.

Being part of the Nixon administration, these officials stop short of saying that Nixon has been used by Russian leaders anxious to still the controversy in order to obtain improved trade benefits from the United States.

However, that possibility was suggested by American Jewish organizations and congressional critics of the Soviet emigration policy.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said there is nothing to stop Moscow from reinstating the taxes he labels "education ransom" once the trade concessions are approved.

Jackson is the sponsor of an amendment to prohibit granting the Soviet Union so-called most-favored-nation treatment unless the President can periodically certify the Jewish taxes haven't been applied.

The Jackson amendment has the support of a Senate majority, and a similar House bill also has overwhelming support.

Writing To Donny Is Fun

MANCHESTER, England (AP) — Teacher Godfrey Allen, 41, came up with the answer to the problem of "reluctant writers" at Miles Platting Secondary Modern School. He got the 11- and 12-year-olds to write to their pop idols instead of doing essays.

Said Allen: "Writing to some one like Donny Osmond is much more exciting for them than being given a conventional school subject to work on."

Most of the youngsters addressed their letters to Donny,

Mrs. Wadle Cited By Cactus Chapter

Mrs. A. A. Wadle has been chosen Woman of the Year by Cactus Chapter, American Business Women's Association. The announcement was made Monday during a dinner meeting at Furr's Cafeteria where Mrs. Owen McComb was the presiding officer.

Mrs. Wadle, who joined ABWA in 1967, has served as its president, vice president and treasurer as well as holding various chairmanships.

The daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James M. Owens, she was one of nine children and spent her youth in Mexia. Mr. and Mrs. Wadle, who were married in 1940, have one daughter, Mrs. Richard (Barbara) Treat, who lives in Buenos Aires, Argentina where she and her husband are missionaries. Wadle is employed by the Internal Revenue Service.

Mrs. Wadle attended Beaumont Commercial Radio College, Laredo Junior College and Howard County Junior College and, in addition, has taken various sales and public relations extension courses through the University of Texas. A varied business career has given her experience in several fields. Before coming to Big Spring she had been a buyer for clothing stores, teller for a bank, bookkeeper for an insurance firm, credit manager for a furniture store and travel consultant for the American Automobile Association.

While attending HCCJ, Mrs. Wadle worked in the business office and was also office manager for West Texas Compress. Since 1968, she has been bookkeeper for Harding Well Service.

She is a member of Texas

MRS. A. A. WADLE

Insurance Women's Association, Knife and Fork Club and Phi Sigma Alpha. The latter named her Woman of the Year for 1969.

The Wadles are members of the Church of Christ.

Guest speaker at the meeting was Mrs. Marj Carpenter, reporter for the Big Spring Herald, who discussed the proposed "Shield" bill to protect journalists. In stressing the importance of freedom of the press, Mrs. Carpenter said reporters should not have to reveal their sources of information when they are working in the public's interest. She was introduced by Mrs. Margaret Wiles, program chairman.

Mrs. E. J. Earle, vocational speaker, discussed her duties as a secretary at Webb AFB.

Mrs. McComb read a letter from Miss Teresa Bull, an ABWA scholarship recipient, expressing appreciation. Also, a letter from H. A. Buffington Jr. of ABWA headquarters congratulated Mrs. McComb on her accomplishments. Mrs. C. C. Choate announced that Gov. Dolph Briscoe has declared May as ABWA Scholarship Month.

New chapter members are Miss Bonnie Brumley, Mrs. Dimas Anguiano and Mrs. Edna Hughes. Guests were Mrs. Carpenter and Mrs. Jo Ann Jamison. Prayers were said by Miss Velma Graham and Mrs. Eva Stewart.

The next meeting will be at 7 p.m., May 21.

Local Unit Hears Rebekah Program

The planned program of Mrs. Ophelia Carnes, Texas Rebekah Assembly President, was outlined Tuesday evening by Mrs. Everett Hood, district deputy president, for Big Spring Rebekah Lodge No. 284 in the IOOF Hall. Mrs. Carnes' program theme for the year is "Wheels of Fortune."

Guests were Henry McEntyre, Oddfellow deputy grand master, and Mrs. McEntyre, Odessa, and 14 members of John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge.

Mrs. Joe Awtry, noble grand, presided, and Mrs. Earl Wilson announced 14 members attended the District 2 Rebekah meeting Saturday in Odessa. The next district meeting will be in Midland in October.

Refreshments were served from an ecor covered table, overlaid with pink. Serving were Mrs. Jewel Fields, Mrs. Wayne Burleson, Mrs. Ora Martin and Mrs. Gertrude Rodrick.

Plant Sale Scheduled At Center

Dr. Paul Koshi conducted soil tests Tuesday evening for members of Men's Garden Club at the U.S. Experiment Station. New members present were Bill Block and Philip Edwardus.

Plans were finalized for the club-sponsored plant sale to be held from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., Saturday at Highland Center Mall. Vegetables, budding plants and a few small shrubs will be available.

Members will plant trees and shrubs to assist the landscaping project at Westside Community Center. Guests at Tuesday's meeting were Frank Rice, E. S. Morgan and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. McLenny of Sand Springs.

The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m., May 15 at the experiment station.

Landscaping Planned For Community Center

Mrs. John Hogan and Mrs. Ben Boadle outlined progress of the landscaping project at Westside Community Center when the center's board met Tuesday.

Pioneer Natural Gas Company contributed a machinery and two operators for digging holes and ditches in preparation for the landscaping. Members of Men's Garden Club will plant trees and shrubbery at the center within the next week.

It was announced that story hours will be conducted at 2 p.m. each Saturday at the center by members of the young people's group at Webb AFB Chapel. Also, the Noon Optimists Club donated and installed basketball goals, a tennis net and other equipment for the new playground area. The Dora Roberts Foundation will fence the basketball court.

Board members were urged to encourage people to participate in the county fair scheduled in the fall.

Auxiliary Serves At VA Hospital

Mrs. Wayne Basden presided during the Tuesday meeting of Benevolent and Patriotic Order of Does at the Elks Hall. It was announced members served refreshments Monday to patients at the Veterans Administration Hospital. Yarn and beads are needed at the hospital for use in patient therapy projects. An invitation to the Elks barbecue scheduled Saturday was read.

The Rev. Jim Collier reported a leader is still needed for a Boy Scout troop to be made up of boys living near the center.

Also needed at the center are drinking fountains for the playground and for the new building. Named to a nominating committee to select a new slate of officers were Ben Bancroft, Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr. and Mrs. H. D. Williams.

Don't Dodge IRS

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband owns a very successful business. He is a devoted, faithful husband and a wonderful father. All my friends think I'm the luckiest woman in the world. I would be, if it weren't for the fact that I am terrified that my husband will go to prison for income tax evasion.

He hasn't paid any taxes in six years. At first he really didn't have the money at tax time. The next year he put off filing until it was too late. The third year he didn't need an excuse. Now he says he knows plenty of others who don't pay any taxes, so why should he?

I have talked to him until I'm blue in the face. Now he refuses to even discuss it.

Abby, I am worried sick that with the new computer system they will soon catch up with him. What can I do?

JANE DOE
DEAR JANE: If you can't talk some sense into his head, confide in your lawyer and ask him to file the penalty will be considerably lighter than if the feds catch him.

DEAR ABBY: Listen to this. A friend of mine is pregnant and some of her friends are getting together to give her a baby shower. This woman is 44 years old, soon to be 45, and she has six children to boot. (Her grandmother to boot. Her oldest is 23 and her youngest is 12.) I say it's ridiculous to give a shower for a woman this age. Some of my friends disagree with me. What do you say?

A FRIEND
DEAR FRIEND: I see nothing ridiculous about it. On the contrary, I can't think of anyone who could use the lift more.

DEAR ABBY: The letter about "Jane" who has convinced that she should take care of her elderly father has haunted me.

I am 60, and God forbid that any of my children should ever have to "take

Couple United In Marriage

Miss Judith Kay Jones became the bride of Bill Pyrd of Houston in a ceremony performed Saturday by the Rev. J. B. Sharp in First United Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell N. Jones, Apt. 32, 801 Marcy, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Talmadge Copeland of Levelland.

Mrs. Eugene Hixenbaugh of Solvang, Calif., served as her sister's matron of honor, and Terry Byrd, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Byrd will reside in Houston where both are associated with Foley's Department Stores. His position is department manager, and she is a buyer. Both are graduates of Texas Tech. Mrs. Byrd graduated from Big Spring High School.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding, other than the bridegroom's parents, were Eugene Hixenbaugh and sons, Eric and Kurt, Solvang, Calif.; Ms. Sherry Broida and Barry E. Jones, both of Beverly Hills, Calif.; Miss Clovene Miller, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Byrd, all of Lubbock; Miss Jimmy Lou Willis, Levelland; and Bill Fisher, Houston.

A LOVELIER YOU

Rainwater Is Still Mild, Soft On Hair

By MARY SUE MILLER

Lovelies in time past collected rainwater in basins to use for shampooing their tresses. Rainwater was known to be mild and soft, being free of chemicals and minerals and kind to the hair.

Imagine catching the rainwater of today. Your water would be dark brown, with visible and invisible pollution from chimney ash to wind-blown pigeon bacteria. You'd have to live in the farthest wilds to avoid pollution these days. Even then, water from wells might be full of dulling iron and calcium.

Be calm, don't make a move. Now water as pure as pure rainwater is made in the laboratory and used in shampoo products to achieve the same clean, fresh results. It's done by deionization — the removal of harsh minerals from tap water.

The result is gentle as rainwater shampoo. Non-alkaline and non-damaging. Use purports to be especially easy on color-treated, fine or easily broken locks.

Applications follow the familiar methods: two lathers and two rinses. In the latter connection many women have asked about the availability of tap water. Why not rinse with bottled spring water, not the therapeutic but the pure kind from mountain springs?

LOVELIER HAIR
Overcome your hair problems! Send for my booklet, "How To Have Lovelier Hair." Advice includes: corrective care of dry, abused, oily and hard-to-manage hair; expert coloring methods and treatment of tinted hair; hairstyle formulas; tips on perfection cutting, permanents, straightening and grooming. Write to Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald for your copy, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin.

Mu Zetas Examine Sculpture, Painting

"Through sculpture an artist can satisfy her needs to express and communicate her feelings about objects of beauty," said Mrs. Joe Thurman Monday evening to Mu Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, at the home of Mrs. Ollie Harrington, Kentwood Apartments. She said sculpture physically represents ideas and ideals of a certain era in civilization.

Painting was discussed by Mrs. Calvin McMurray who said people should educate themselves about various styles of painting before making a purchase.

"A painting should not be used as an accessory to a room," said Mrs. McMurray, "because if it is a good work of art it will stand out in any decor." She said gaudy and busy frames distract from a good painting, and that frames should not be used as a method of complementing a painting.

A ritual of Jewels ceremony was performed for Mrs. Kent Harrington, and BSP traditions were outlined by Mrs. Coy Mitchell. A mizpah disc was presented to Mrs. Barry Olschaw who is moving to California.

Mrs. John Normington was cohostess. Members will observe BSP Founder's Day at a banquet April 26 at the Webb Air Force Base Officers Open Mess.

The next chapter meeting will be May 14 with Mrs. Robert Wilson and Mrs. Mitchell as hostesses.

Forsan Residents Visit Relatives

FORSAN (SC) — The S. J. Willis' are in Henrietta, Okla., to visit his mother, Mrs. Cora Willis, who recently underwent surgery.

C. H. Huff of Hobbs, N.M., recently visited his parents, the Jim Huffs, and his sister and family, the L. T. Shoults'. The Jackie Shoults' of Woodrow are here to visit his parents, as well as her parents, the John Nobles.

Mrs. Audrey May, San Antonio, is visiting her brother-in-law and sister, the J. W. Snellings.

Danny Henry, Paducah, recently visited his parents, the Ted Henrys.

Mattie Mae Barnett has returned from Lubbock where she had a check-up at Methodist Hospital.

Participating in a recent basketball workout at Clarendon were Rudy Holguin, Bob Highley, and David Crook. Accompanying them to Clarendon were Raymond Holguin and Paul Kennedy, who visited in Pampa with the Andy Andersons.

Jim McDonald, son of the J. D. McDonalds, plans to move to Farmington, N.M.

AAUW Eyes Study Topics

The four study topics considered by the American Association of University Women for the 1973-75 biennium were explored when the group met Monday in the First Federal Community Room.

Miss Arlene Estes, program leader for the discussion, introduced the speakers who presented information on, and ways to treat, each topic. They were Mrs. Star Warford, "Women: Searching for Self"; Miss Margie Newbrough, "Media: Issues in Communication"; Mrs. William Winn, "Global Interdependence: Budgeting for Earth"; and Mrs. Harvey Rothell, "Dynamic Learning: Releasing Human Potential."

The latter topic was the one chosen for study.

Mrs. Warford reported that the scholarship committee has chosen one high

Future Bride Feted At Party

Miss Cindy Price of Corpus Christi, bride-elect of James Morgan, was honored recently at a bridal shower in the home of Mrs. Dorothy Thompson, 1325 Mesquite.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Tom Paeth and Mrs. Jack Graham. Refreshments were served from a table covered with a white linen cloth and centered with a blue arrangement. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

The honoree was attired in a blue and white pantsuit and was presented a corsage of blue and white carnations. About 20 guests attended.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Betty Price of Corpus Christi and John Price of Big Spring. Morgan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim King, 1010 E. 20th. The couple plans to be married Saturday in the First Presbyterian Church with the Rev. Earl Price officiating.

Clean-Up Work Starts In Forsan

FORSAN (SC) — Response was good Saturday in Forsan for the beginning of the community's week-long clean-up campaign. Women in the town prepared a covered-dish buffet dinner which was served at the community house. A games night and covered-dish dinner is scheduled at 6:30 p.m. tonight at the club house.

EASTER SPIRIT — Major Ellen Nelson, right, of the Salvation Army, assists members of the Ladies Home League in making bunny-shaped tissue holders to be given to residents at Big Spring Nursing Inn and Mountain View Lodge. More than 230 of the favors will be delivered by the women Friday afternoon.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Being a newlywed, and anxious to try out all of my recipes, I found it hard to do so while staying within my budget. Then I came up with the fantastic idea of a "leftover swap!"

Now I'm sure you are wondering just what is a leftover swap.

Every other day, all the girls and one fellow in the apartment house meet at my place with yesterday's leftovers and we swap.

I'm telling you some of the best meals I've turned out have been made with someone else's leftovers.

And the funny thing is that none of our husbands suspect a thing. . . Mrs. Bob Rinehart

Dear Heloise:

I enjoy your household hints very much. However, I have a very serious problem, and I wonder if you might be able to help me out.

I've just folded up my knitting and put away my dreams.

I've lost most of my buttons and fallen apart at the seams.

Now this may not pose a problem for the gal who loves to sew,

But to this "scatter-brained redhead" it is a downright, low down blow.

If you have a simple answer, please let me know right away.

I'm not sure I'll hold together. Even for another day. . . Beulah Kiltmiller

Dear Heloise:

I planned on serving banana splits at my daughter's birthday party. My only problem was that I didn't have enough banana split dishes.

I took care of this by using those aluminum trays that frozen dinners come in. I had dozens of them stored away and I simply cut off the big divided section of each tray and they made beautiful substitute banana split dishes. . . Mrs. Lois Hamilton

Dear Heloise:

Take one or two of those large plastic garbage bags, sort your clothes as to colored and white and put one washer load in each bag. Also measure out your

Altrusans Note Club Birthday

The 56th birthday of Altrusa Club International was observed Thursday by the local club at Coker's Restaurant. The dining table was centered with a birthday cake flanked by pink candles and primrose rosettes.

Mrs. Willard Hendrick read "A Birthday Letter" which appeared in the Altrusa magazine, and Mrs. W. H. Kay, local president, was presented a token birthday gift.

Named as delegate to the international convention in Montreal, Canada was Mrs. Hendrick, with Mrs. Kay as alternate. The convention is July 22-26.

It was announced that Mrs. H. D. Cowden will show slides of her recent trip to the orient at the next meeting, April 26.

soap powder and put in the bag with the clothes. Just dump it all in the washer.

When the clothes are done you turn the bag inside out, fold your clothes and carry them home in the same bag. This way you don't have to carry a basket or a box of powder with you — makes life so much simpler. . . Louise Lunnen

Dear Folks:

Just want to alert you to be on the lookout for "Ghost Jon" who will be gracing this column off and on for the next few weeks.

I think he's the wittiest little elf who has entered our lives in a long time. Let me know what you think of him. . . And if you like him.

Dear Heloise:

If you ever have leftover corn bread, crumble and add it to your meat loaf.

It's also great to use when breading chicken or pork chops.

I always manage to have some leftover cornbread to be used in this manner. . . Sandy Hoefe

This column is written for you . . . the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint or a problem write to Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald. Because of the tremendous volume of mail, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will, however, answer your questions in her column whenever possible.

Teachers Discuss Learning Disabilities

Two resource teachers from local junior high schools spoke Tuesday to Big Spring Branch, Texas Association of Children with Learning Disabilities, at Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center.

Mrs. Ann Neel, Runnels, and Mrs. Martha Moore, Goliad, are in their second year as resource teachers. The women agreed that students coming from schools which had extra help for students with learning disabilities have a better concept of themselves and their disability.

"Students who have received no help are ashamed of their problems," said Mrs. Neel. "This leads to one of the biggest problems a teacher can face; convincing the student that he or she does have talent and can use it if they have confidence."

The teachers said that all junior high school students are required to take mathematics, English, physical education, science and history. Resource teachers provide individualized help to students that are below their grade level. The teachers prepare individual programs to fit the needs of each student.

A reward system is used to encourage students to complete assignments. When a lesson is finished, the student gets a ticket. When five tickets are collected, the student can cash them in for 15 minutes of free time.

Mrs. Neel said the goals of resource teachers are to help students understand themselves in and out of the classroom; to help students succeed in classrooms other than the resource class; to communicate to other teachers that some students have learning disabilities; and to find remedies for the disabilities.

The women agreed it is important that students don't use disability as a "crutch." The resource teachers must help students maintain confidence in themselves so they can see the progress they are making.

Mrs. Moore showed slides of resource areas at Kentwood, Goliad and College Heights schools and she described some of the games and equipment used in learning motivation.

Mrs. Ted Hicks presided. The group will meet again May 17 for a discussion about resource teachers at the high school level.

IN THE LEAD—Cedar Crest Elementary students have a big lead on those of other city elementaries in the week-long collection of trash from the school campuses and neighborhoods. The cotton trailer parked at Cedar Crest was still the fullest of all schools this morning. Competition between schools is being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

'The Lone Ranger' Thrills Teenagers

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP TV Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — If you hear "The Lone Ranger" on radio these days, don't be alarmed. It's still 1973.

What is happening is an aural time warp caused by Charles Michelson, a New York broadcaster who for eight years has been promoting a gradual mini-boom in radio nostalgia.

He owns the rights to rebroadcast a dozen half-hour radio series that were the real biggies of the 1940s, series like "The Green Hornet," "The Shadow," "Gambusters" and "Sherlock Holmes."

He began leasing them to stations in 1965 and says the shows now can be heard on more than 400 stations in major, medium and minor markets across the U.S.

Michelson got in the casting business in 1938 as a distributor of the shows that now are his golden oldies. His market went flat in the 1950s with the arrival of television.

He went into television as a buyer of U.S. programs for overseas TV stations. But he kept the 16-inch shellac records on which the words and deeds of Lamont Cranston, Kato and others were preserved.

"We decided around Christmas time in 1964 to throw out these old records," said Michelson. "But just before we did it, I got a little sentimental — I must have been the holiday season — and I said, 'let's see if maybe we can do something with them.'"

Whereupon he wrote to Oddly enough, the greatest friends he'd known for years at the start were college students running campus radio stations.

He proposed a revival of radio's golden days. Twelve said they were interested and he was in business.

But first there was a period of negotiations with the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists. The talks involved fees that would have to be paid the artists on the original radio shows.

"We didn't even have a list of the original actors, anymore," he laughed. "We finally had a committee of actors from the old days come in and listen to the shows and identify the voices."

The necessary fee arrangements were made and he went to work.

RECOMMENDED RECIPES

Mrs. O. T. Brewster

ANGEL SALAD
6 ozs. cream cheese
1 cup lime gelatin
2 cups pineapple juice, heated
1 1/2 cups crushed pineapple
1 cup celery, chopped
1/2 can pimiento
1 cup pecans
1 cup whipped cream
Mix gelatin and hot pineapple juice. Set aside to cool. Mash cream cheese, and add pineapple, celery, pimiento and pecans. Fold in partially congealed gelatin mixture. Fold in whipped cream and pour into molds.

EGGPLANT CASEROLE
1 eggplant
1 bay leaf
1 large onion, chopped
1 cup celery
1/2 lb. Velveeta and cheddar cheese, mixed
1/2 tsp. sweet basil
3 eggs
Salt and pepper
1/2 tsp. curry
1/2 tsp. chili powder
1/2 tsp. paprika
1 garlic bud, crushed
1 tsp. soy sauce
1 can pimiento
1 can mushrooms
Bread crumbs
Peel eggplant and cut into chunks. Cook in boiling water, with bay leaf, until tender. Drain. Sauté onion and celery in butter. Add to eggplant. Add cheese, basil, eggs, salt, pepper, curry, chili powder, paprika, garlic, soy sauce, pimiento and mushrooms. Put in casserole dish, sprinkle with bread crumbs and bake at 400 degrees for about 25 minutes.

SEAFOOD GUMBO
6 tbsps. flour
1/2 cup shortening
6 garlic cloves
1/2 cup onion, diced
1/2 cup bell pepper, diced
1/2 cup celery, chopped
2 lbs. raw shrimp, peeled
1 8-oz. can tomato sauce
3 qts. water
1 lb. claw crabmeat
1/2 bunch celery, chopped
1/2 tsp. thyme
3 bay leaves
1 pkg. frozen okra
1/2 pt. oysters with juice
Salt and pepper
Make a roux (sauce thickener) by mixing flour and shortening. Add garlic to roux and brown. Add onion, bell pepper, and celery. Cool until transparent. Add shrimp and tomato sauce. Simmer 10 minutes. Stir in water and

CURRY GLAZED HAM
Delicious tradition

Glazed Ham Remains An Easter Favorite

Traditions reign triumphant at Easter. The feast is timeless in its tradition of joy and good fellowship — along with a festive atmosphere. It's an occasion demanding the finest of foods.

Here are some recipes that provide a festive atmosphere but don't require lengthy preparation. The hostess can enjoy the day along with family and guests.

GLAZED BAKED HAM
5 to 7-lb smoked half ham
Curry Glaze
Place ham, fat side up, on rack in an open roasting pan. Insert roast meat thermometer so the bulb is centered in the thickest part. Be careful that bulb does not rest in fat or on bone. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast in a slow oven (325 degrees), until the thermometer registers 140 half ham (18 to 24 minutes per pound); 160 degrees for a "cook-before-eating" half ham (22 to 25 minutes per pound). Brush with Curry Glaze several times during last 1/2 hour baking time.

Note: For "fully-cooked" whole ham allow 15 to 18 minutes per pound for blend well. Add all remaining ingredients except okra and oysters. Cook 1 hour. Add okra and cook 20 minutes. Add oysters and cook 10 minutes. Serve in soup bowls over rice. Makes 1 gallon.

LEMON CHEESE CAKE
1 graham cracker crust
1 8-oz. pkg. cream cheese
2 tbsps. butter
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg
2 tbsps. flour
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup lemon juice
2 tbsps. lemon peel, grated
1 tsp. vanilla
Cream butter and cream cheese. Add sugar, egg, flour, milk, lemon juice, lemon peel and vanilla. Pour in pie plate lined with graham cracker crust, bake at 300 degrees for about 35 minutes. Spread with topping made by mixing 1 pint sour cream, 3 tablespoons sugar and 1 teaspoon vanilla.

CARROT SALAD
3 cans sliced carrots
Chopped celery
Chopped bell pepper
Onions
Parsley
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup oil
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. pepper
1/2 tsp. dry mustard
1 can tomato soup
Marinate carrots, celery, bell pepper, onions and parsley in marinade made with all remaining ingredients.

JAM CAKE
1 cup shortening
1 tsp. salt
1 1/2 cups sugar
4 eggs
Grated rind of 1/2 orange
Grated rind of 1/2 lemon
3 cups flour
1 1/4 cups buttermilk
1 1/4 tbsps. baking soda
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. allspice
1/2 tsp. nutmeg
1/2 tsp. cloves
1 cup jam
Cream together shortening and sugar. Beat eggs and add. Add baking soda to buttermilk, and add to creamed mixture alternately with flour, beginning and ending with flour. Add spices and grated rind. Add jam. Pour batter into three layer cake pans, and bake at 325 degrees for 25 minutes. Spread with white or caramel icing.

It's not uncommon for daughters to telephone their mothers after they get married to ask about cooking hints, but Mrs. O. T. Brewster suddenly found herself in a situation where she had to ask her daughter for help.

It was 30 years after she got married before Mrs. Brewster had to learn the intricacies of cooking. Brewster was a hotel manager for 30 years in El Dorado, Ark. The Brewsters and their daughter, Ann, lived in an apartment within the hotel and didn't have so much as a kitchenette. All of their meals were eaten in the hotel restaurant.

The Brewster's daughter is now married to Walter Dobie, and they live in Lafayette, La. When the Brewsters moved to Big Spring 10 years ago, it was the first time Mrs. Brewster had had a kitchen of her own and she found herself calling her daughter for recipes. Brewster is manager of the local Holiday Inn.

"We still eat at the Inn quite often, but the evening meal is usually at home," said Mrs. Brewster. "Since I only cook one meal a day, I try to put a little extra into it. Cooking was a new experience after 30 years of marriage, and I find it kind of challenging."

TEACHER
Mrs. Brewster taught school here for nine years and retired about a year ago. She taught Spanish, French and the humanities. "I felt it was time to retire," said Mrs. Brewster. "I'm enjoying being with adults rather than spending all of my time with students, although I wouldn't trade my teaching years for anything."

A casual and relaxing atmosphere greets guests when they arrive at the Brewster home at 112 Canyon Drive. One of the joys of not teaching for Mrs.

She Waited 30 Years To Conquer Cooking

Brewster is being home when people decide to drop in. The spaciousness of their home is another treat for Mrs. Brewster who has done a beautiful job of decorating it to receive full benefit of high beam ceilings and windowed walls.

"We seldom do any formal entertaining, but we have a lot of guests, and I love it," said Mrs. Brewster. "My husband is a professional party-giver, so he is a tremendous help when we have company."

Mrs. Brewster also enjoys her time alone when she can read. She said she reads for several reasons: to provoke thought, to learn something or to go to sleep. Although she reads a lot, she doesn't like to be the first to read a book.

"It wastes too much time to read something you haven't already heard was worth reading," she said. "I wait until enough people have read a book and told me it is good. That way I don't waste time reading bad books." Mrs. Brewster's interests range from gardening to philosophy and the arts.

APPRECIATES ART
"I'm not an artist by any means," said Mrs. Brewster, "but my interest in humanities has taught me to appreciate the arts." In her living room she has two abstract paintings done by a friend which depict the agony and triumph of life. Also, she admires Picasso's work.

"We all use the surface to pad our real selves," said Mrs. Brewster, "but Picasso seemed to see beyond the surface, and he must have seen a lot of cruelty in life."

Mrs. Brewster keeps abreast of current events and attitudes. She thinks Americans tend to take themselves too seriously, have neglected humor and need to bring humor out more in everyday living.

In the education field, she thinks people should learn to forget their hostilities about integration and busing, and should concentrate on excellence in education.

Mrs. Brewster is a member of 1905 Hyperson Club and Big Spring Garden Club. Also, she teaches a Sunday school class at First United Methodist Church and has given several book reviews for church groups.

Date-Fudge Treats In Baskets

Baskets brimming with confectionery delights are as much a part of the traditional Easter celebration as is the hunt for colored eggs or a new flowery bonnet for mother.

This year add a special touch to your youngsters' Easter baskets with a homemade candy treat... Crunchy Date-Fudge Candies. These egg-shaped sweets are chock-full of the flavors youngsters love — chocolate fudge, nuts, Borden imported dates and crisp rice cereal. And because they're made with dates imported from the lands where the Easter story itself unfolded, they're particularly appropriate for the holiday season.

If the youngsters are anxious to aid in the Easter preparations, let them help roll this confection into fudge "eggs" — they'll have a ball!

CRUNCHY DATE-FUDGE CANDIES
1/2 cup butter
4 cups miniature marshmallows (or whole marshmallows cut up)
1 cup (6-oz. pkg.) fudge chips (or milk chocolate chips)
4 cups dry crisp rice cereal
1 8-oz. pkg. imported diced dates or whole dates, cut up
1/2 cup chopped pecans
Melt butter over a medium-low heat in a large saucepan. Add marshmallows and cook until almost melted, stirring constantly. Add fudge chips. Continue stirring and cooking until all is melted and blended. Remove from heat, then add rice cereal, imported dates and nuts. Mix until coated and blended. Roll rounded teaspoonfuls of cooked candy into balls with your hands. Top each ball with 1/2 of a whole date and place balls on a greased cookie sheet until cooled. Makes 4 dozen.

Let the youngsters help

HOUSTON FAMILY FEELING MONEY SQUEEZE

The Connors Are Several Thousand Dollars In Debt

By JURATE KAZICKAS
Associated Press Writer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Bob Connors used to own a 14-hp engine, 30-foot boat, buy new cars every other year, and dine out on steak three times a week.

Now, the boat has been sold, they're still driving their 1967 station wagon with 112,000 miles, and a $6 barbecue dinner once a month is a special treat.

FINANCIAL BIND

Connor, 36, a furniture salesman, father of five children with four teenagers living at home, had been living the good life and his only thought was that it would get better. But then he lost his job and the subsequent 30 per cent drop in family income disrupted his dreams. Adding to the problem were the rising costs in living and the expensive tastes acquired over the years.

The Connors are facing their first real financial bind. "I'm desperately concerned," said Connor, a balding man of medium build. "The only thing that keeps me going is that I still have a few years ahead of me and maybe things will pick up for us again."

He used to earn about $19,000 as an assistant manager at a large furniture store in Houston. His wife, Dolores, brought in another $6,000 for secretarial and accounting work.

Their four-bedroom Spanish-style house on the outskirts of Houston is still decorated with touches of their more affluent days. There are several sets of Mediterranean furniture, thick shag rugs and six-foot plastic flowering plants.

PAID CASH

"We paid cash for everything and there wasn't anything I couldn't buy if I wanted it," said Dee, a lively, petite blonde. Daughters Nancy, Paula and Theresa took modeling lessons, Jay and Butch were active in the town sports programs. The family exchanged $1,000 worth of gifts at Christmas. The Connors had all they wanted and about two years ago Dee quit her job so she could be home for the children.

Then, last year, Bob left his job for a combination of personal reasons and pressures on his firm due to increased competition. He took another sales position paying about $13,000. Everything seemed to fall apart at the same time.

There were three operations in the family and $5,000 in medical bills and no insurance to cover them. Payments on the boat, the furniture, the freezer started to pile up. Food prices, taxes, insurance rates all went up as well.

SO DEPRESSING

Now, the Connors are several thousand dollars in debt. In an effort to get clear, Bob sold the boat. "That was so depressing," said Bob grimacing. "I really felt I'd had my day."

The Connors next sold their mutual funds and withdrew all their savings, and considered selling the house to move into an apartment. Dee went back to work part time as free-lance secretary and real estate sales person.

The penny-pinching and scraping to get by began. Dee supported this month's meat boycott, but then the Connors had not been eating much beef the last few months. The huge freezer they still owe money for is empty. Dee used to buy tenderloins for the family for $10. She can't afford to spend that much now, and besides that same cut of beef has gone up to $13. Their grocery bill is about $50 a week, which is about what it was two years ago, says Dee, but then there were steaks in the shopping bags as well. Family meals consist of lots of chicken, chili, lasagna and spaghetti. Bob has gone from 135 to 170 pounds in the last year. "It's probably because I quit smoking, but I sure must have something to do with all that starchy stuff we have to eat, too."

GOOD OLD DAYS

The Connors talk wistfully about "the good old days" when things were "flush."

"We took a fantastic vacation once to Colorado with the children. We charged everything and had $1,300 in traveler's checks. Now, we can't even afford to go to Corpus Christi," says Dee.

They still have American Express and Carte Blanche charge cards but keep them only for future days. There are no new clothes or spending money for the children, and gone are the days when they could give 14-year-old Butch a custom-made surfboard. "I consider buying a magazine a form of entertainment," says Dee, who picks up her monthly Cosmopolitan at the stands and has kept up her subscriptions to Reader's Digest, National Geographic, Bon Appetit and Vintage, a gourmet wine magazine to satisfy her epicurean tastes. Dee is fascinated by French wines, knows the best year for Nuits St. Georges, but the only bottle on the kitchen shelves now is Italian Swiss Colony for cooking.

Dee, a smart dresser, is partial to name designers for herself and her daughters, one of whom made the best-dressed list at school. She used to spend several thousand on clothes but today she can't remember when she last bought a dress.

BOUGHT DOG

Both Dee and Bob have to drive more than a half hour to work. Keeping up the station wagon and the 1970 Pontiac is an $80 month expense they have to cope with. But they have started to use the self-service gas stations. A gallon of gas is two cents cheaper there.

Some pleasures are hard to give up, no matter what the cost. "We bought a dog the children all loved only to discover it was allergic to fleas," said Dee. "Well, you don't just get rid of the dog. So we have to spend about $30 for cortisone shots twice a year."

It's important to Dee to look good. "You've got to present yourself well to the world. I don't want to look like some lousy, dumb housewife and no matter how tough things get, I won't give up my make-up and false eyelashes."

Dee easily spent $40 a month for bleaching her hair, but has been using that money to pay off the furniture. She wears wigs every day so she doesn't have to go to the beauty parlor for a set. There was a time when she owned about 20 wigs, but they've long since been sold and she's down to three.

SECURITY

"What I miss most," said Dee, "is not being able to go into a department store and buy what I want. Once if I saw a beautiful set of crystal glasses, I just handed the saleslady $100 and walked out with a box. I haven't bought anything that wasn't an absolute necessity in months."

Bob says he'd really like to have his own furniture store some day. But that requires lots of capital. For a time the Connors considered selling their house for $30,000, but Dee was reluctant.

"It's the only thing we have. It's our only security. What if the new business didn't work out? Then where would we be?"

Bid To Close Sex Movies In Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Police have started a crackdown on the more than 30 motion picture theaters which show films involving acts of sexual intercourse.

Capt. James M. Albright, head of the police department's vice squad, said, "We intend to get to every one of the 30-some pornographic movie houses now operating here."

The drive was started last week when charges were filed against an operator showing the movie "Deep Throat," which has been ruled obscene by courts in New York City and Dallas. "Deep Throat" had played in Houston a year ago attracting no attention from the police at that time.

On Monday, adversary hearings were held on two movies shown at the Cinema Arts Adult Theater in the downtown area and the films ordered seized for a grand jury investigation. A film shown at a local bar, the Zipper Lounge, was reviewed at an adversary hearing Tuesday and also seized.

Albright said the move against the sex movies is aimed at getting felony conspiracy charges filed on their operators. "It's easy to make misdemeanor charges and just as easy for the operators to pay the fines and get back in business," he said.

In the past, he said, it has been difficult to process the cases through the courts, Albright said. Under the law, before a film may be seized an adversary hearing must be held. Albright said the time involved in the hearings has been shortened from two to three days to a few hours now.

"We are getting more cooperation from the district attorney's office and the judges, but not as much as we need. It is still not at all what we want."

Because of crowded court calendars, he added, "It will take us over a month to be able to move against all the pornographic movie houses in town."

Last fall, a state court reversed a decision on a Houston movie case, ruling that the jury must view the entire movie, not just selected film clips. "That threw out all the cases we had at the time," Albright said.

He predicted that at least one of the cases made here in the next month will be appealed through state and federal courts.

"If the Supreme Court decides these films are not obscene, that's all right with me," Albright said. "Until then, it's the law."

Austin Managing Editor Resigns

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Richard Seaman, managing editor of the Austin American-Statesman for the past four and a half years, has announced his resignation. Seaman will become vice president for public relations of Lakeway, a luxury resort community at Lake Travis northwest of Austin, effective May 1. Seaman came to the American-Statesman in 1968 after 14 years with the Abilene Reporter-News and five with the Wichita Falls Record News. He is a graduate of Midwestern University at Wichita Falls. Seaman is president of the Headliners Club of Austin, and a member of the boards of directors of the Austin Chamber of Commerce and Goodwill Industries of Austin.

TANGLED IN DEADLY STRUGGLE REMINISCENT OF TONG WARS OF OLD

Young Chinese Robbing, Beating, Extorting, Sniping

By RICHARD E. MEYER
AP News Features Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It would be risky. But Tom Tom would chance it. Chinatown had been home once, and he hadn't been back in a while.

"To Chinatown," he said and turned over his glass. His boys did the same. One, with a bulge under his coat, pushed away the barmaid, bringing another brandy. "You want me to die?" he asked her, and he didn't mean of a hangover.

Tom Tom donned his brown leather jacket.

DANGER

His bodyguard, the one with the bulging coat, went first — out of the Macao in North Beach, a territory where they weren't exactly welcome, across Broadway and into Chinatown, the most dangerous territory of all. Tom Tom and his boys were the Sney Sing. And Chinatown these days was a free-fire zone in a war between the Wah

Ching and the Chung Ching Yee. Police call it the Chinese Gang War. They say the warriors, mostly teen-agers and almost all under 25, have been involved in 13 killings over the past four years. In New York there has similar gangs, police count six such killings.

Defying the feudal hierarchies their patriarchs created to keep the peace in Chinatown, these young Chinese are robbing, beating and extorting. Many are sniping, kidnapping, stabbing and torturing — striking out at each other in ghetto frustration, struggling for survival and, in some cases, considerable money and power.

GRUDGES

Running in 20s and 30s, and groups of 100 when their vengeance peak, they mix longheld grudges worthy of the Hatfields and McCoy's with the turf consciousness reminiscent of the Puerto Ricans; and they cover it all with mou gong, a Chinese omerta that would make the Godfather proud.

"What the kids are doing is pretty close to what the tongs did in the 19th century," says a San Francisco policeman. The comparison is just gangs, like tongs, provide stability, security and brotherhood for young Chinese immigrants in a strange and sometimes hostile land.

Like tongs, the gangs would like the story to stop there — with their efforts to become the Boys Clubs of their people. "This is not a gang," protests Kit Fong, 24. He and his brother, Joe, 18, run the Chung Ching Yee. Joe was sentenced to life in prison recently on a conspiracy to murder conviction.

GO KILL

But like the tongs of old the gangs are deadly. "If a leader says, 'Go kill that guy,'" says Tom Tom, matter of factly,

"you go do it." In the 1900s, authorities were so stymied by the tongs that everybody but the police seemed to know when and where the hatchet men would clash. Today, the most recent organized crime report by California's attorney general lists one Chinese gang, the You Lee, that has been defunct for more than a year and fails to note altogether the existence of the Chung Ching Yee.

The gangs, like the tongs, have thoroughly embarrassed their elders. "We're ashamed of them," mutters the Rev. Tso Tin Taam, twice president of the Chinese Six Companies, unofficial mayor of Chinatown and the pinnacle of Chinatown's feudal pyramid.

REALLY UP TIGHT

And they have succeeded in frightening much of the throaty populace. "The average family tells its kids, 'Don't go down beating and killing and ex-

Eddie Chin, a law student in his 20s, sipping soup in a Chinese restaurant — in the daytime. "And the businessmen are really up tight."

For all this, there are signs the young Chinese, at least in San Francisco, are having misgivings. Kit Fong, however, negotiated for four straight days recently on an honest attempt to make peace with the leaders of the Wah Ching.

"These guys aren't Boy Scouts," says George Woo, a professor at California State University who knows the young Chinese well. "But they'd like to try to be Boy Scouts if somebody would give them a chance."

How is it, then, that these sons of Pan Ku, ruler of the world, are at each other's throats? Why are these heirs to Confucius, lover of peace, beating and killing and ex-

It all began in the 1960s, the Kennedy years, when the president accepted 16,000 refugees from China. In 1965, restrictions on Chinese immigration were abolished. Today, China, like other nations, can send as many as 20,000 persons into the United States each year.

STRIP JOINTS

In January 1963, the uprooted hopeful who arrived on Gum Son, or Golden Mountain, as they described the United States, included an 18-year-old boy with a dark thatch and large brown eyes, named Lak Man Tam. He came with his family, seven persons in all. His father had been a well-known lawyer in Canton. The family joined thousands pouring into what was already one of America's oldest ghettos — eight-story blocks called Chinatown, bounded by Nob Hill, the financial districts and North Beach strip joints.

Housing, never plentiful, was impossible to find. And more than half of what was available was substandard. Population density soared to 912 persons per acre — 11 times that of the rest of San Francisco.

NO JOBS

The unemployment rate doubled for the rest of the city. And those who were able to find jobs didn't make much money. Lak Man Tam's father found his professional skill useless. There wasn't much call in the United States for a Cantonese lawyer who couldn't speak English. So, like many others, he got a job in a Chinese restaurant as a bus boy. Large restaurants paid the minimum wage. Smaller ones paid $1 an hour, plus meals, minus tips. Most mothers bent over sewing machines in the 150 piece-work shops scattered through the back streets. Many worked seven days a week. Some earned as little as 50 cents an hour. Lak Man Tam didn't go to school.

WASTE OF TIME

It seemed a waste of time. He couldn't speak English, and almost all of the classes in high school were taught in English. Had he gone, there was doubt he would have learned much.

Without an education, Lak Man Tam had trouble finding work.

Through the Chinatown-North Beach Youth Service and Coordinating Center, a government-financed youth program, he got jobs as a dishwasher and a waiter.

Lak Man Tam's friends were immigrants, too, and they were different in small but important ways from their American-born contemporaries. Foreign born called the American-born ABCs — "American Born Chinese."

The ABCs called the foreign born FOBs — "Freaks Off the Boat."

The ABCs wore Ben Davis pants to the heels of black Beatle boots, white t-shirts, dark derby jackets and sunglasses. The FOBs wore sport shirts, sport jackets that didn't match, ankle-length pants and flat shoes, usually sneakers.

"CHINA BUGS" "China bugs," they sneered. And the FOBs would fight.

Like Lak Man Tam, Kit Fong was an immigrant. He remembers with precision his arrival: 10 a.m., Jan. 27, 1962, on the boat. In China, his father was an architect, his mother a lady of leisure. But there was no call in Chinatown for an architect without American credentials, so his mother went to work in a sewing shop and washed dishes.

Kit Fong couldn't speak English either. He avoided school for several months. Then he tried classes with Chinese translators. But he found them unsatisfactory. He worked as a newspaper boy, in the kitchen at United Air Lines and as a delivery boy for a bean sprout company. But none of these jobs was particularly challenging.

He says he and seven other Hong Kong Chinese began burglarizing homes and businesses. They called themselves the Bugs, referring proudly to their small size, which enabled them to slither through transoms, climb drains and otherwise gain forbidden access.

STICK TOGETHER

Kit Fong and Lak Man Tam found common cause against the ABCs. "The ABC had more people and they made trouble for the FOB," Lak Man Tam remembers. "They made us stick together. If you go together, you can save yourself, and that was the way Wah Ching was organized."

Lak Man Tam picked up a nickname: Tom Tom. Those were busy days, 1967, 1968 and 1969. There was unintelligible education to protest: School administrators to pelt with cherry boxes, their cars to set afire, a principal to stab and his office windows to break. There were livings to earn: houses to rob and businesses to extort, sometimes by simply eating a big meal in a restaurant and walking out, or by ignoring ticket takers at the movies. Or by offering to hire on as look-see boys for illegal gambling.

The Wah Ching gave Tom Tom the forum he needed to express himself. To stand short and lean in his dark denims and brown leather jacket, flash his big grin and assert his leadership. "In 1967-68," he remembers, "we thinking about these things: Rich guys that own restaurants, and they hiring busboys, and they paying us 65 cents per hour and 50 cents per hour."

"We called a meeting '69 at the CACA Chinese American Citizens Alliance, and we said, 'We want fair money, like everybody else.'"

The meeting was one of three which marked a turning point. It was a Human Rights Commission meeting, and it included some of the lords of the Chinatown hierarchy, including Judge Harry Low and representatives of the Six Companies.

While not a group of commercial firms, the Companies represents Chinatown's accumulated wealth. On its board sit the mandarins of seven associations one too small to have a vote, each representing residents from a different district of the Canton delta. Organized beneath it, in pyramid fashion, are the rest of Chinatown's 43 district associations.

Its numerous tongs, and its family associations, each headed by the mandarins who own the buildings in Chinatown and run the businesses inside them, make Chinatown the richest, over-organized ghetto in the United States.

Keep Saying 'No'

Jean Adams
TEEN FORUM

URGED: (Q.) My boy friend wants to show me how much he loves me by having sex with me.

I do not think that is necessary, and besides, I'm afraid of what might happen if we did.

We have a very good relationship now, and if he doesn't realize I love him after all we have done together the past year, I don't think sex would help. He wants to marry me some day. I tell him sex then would be soon enough for me. He says he understands how I feel, but I don't think he does.

What can I do? I love him very much and don't want to hurt his feelings. I am 16. He is nearly 16. — Saying No in North Carolina.

Your reactions are the right ones. Do not let him talk you into changing them.

ERRANT FRIEND: (Q) I am a girl, 15, and have a girl friend who is 16 now. We have been friends for a long time, but the last year has been very difficult.

First she started drinking and would have nothing to do with me. I wrote her a note to tell her I loved her and hoped she would be friendly with me again. Pretty soon after that she started talking to me again and this lasted about three months.

Then she started acting cold and angry, and told me she never had cared anything about me. For several months she stayed away from me. But recently she has been more friendly. I do not want to abandon her. She is basically good, I think, but her mother drinks and does other questionable things and this disturbs her. What can I do?—Discouraged in New Jersey.

(A) Do not abandon your friend. But do not depend on her for your own friendship needs. Find other friends. Your friend's drinking is complicating her life. She may need you as time goes on. Be there.

To Review Chevy Suit

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Supreme Court agreed Wednesday to review the decision of an Abilene judge to grant a new trial in a lawsuit against General Motors Corp. by the widow of a man who allegedly died from inhaling exhaust fumes.

The suit by Velma Cosper Sutton also was filed against Taylor Chevrolet Co. of Abilene.

She said her late husband had bought a pickup truck from Taylor Chevrolet. Court records showed he was warned that the truck had a damaged exhaust system.

Records also show Stacey Cosper parked the truck and went to sleep with the windows up and the motor running and allegedly died from inhaling carbon monoxide.

Judge Raleigh Brown of Abilene dismissed the suit in October 1972 and in December denied a motion to reinstate the case. But after he left the Abilene bench in January 1973 to become associate justice of the Court of Civil Appeals at Eastland, the new judge, Donald Lane, granted a motion for a new trial. He set aside the dismissal and reinstated the case on the docket.

General Motors appealed to the Supreme Court that Lane's order was invalid and void because, in effect, Mrs. Sutton, had been allowed to file two amended motions rather than one, which is not permissible.

The Supreme Court said it will hear General Motor's request for a mandamus May 16.

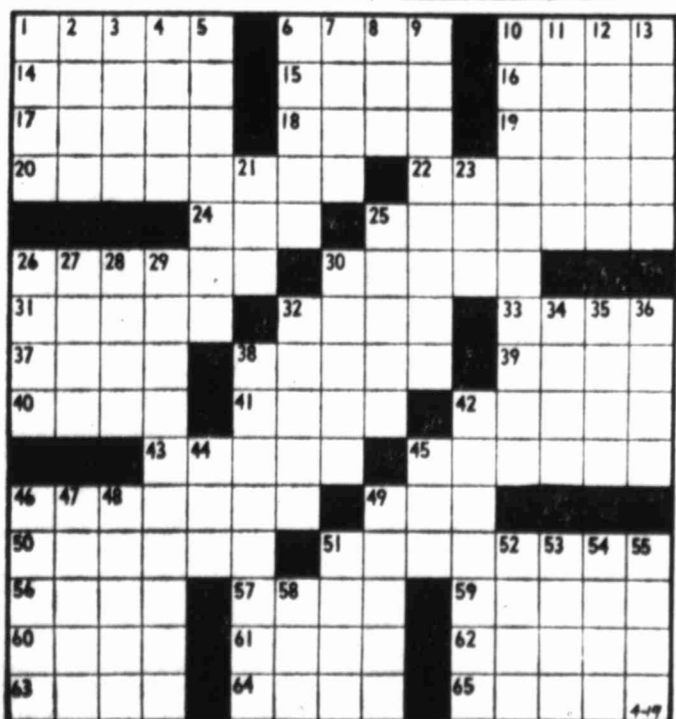

Diplomat Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jan Clechanowski, 85, Polish ambassador to the United States during World War II, died Monday. He remained in Washington in retirement and wrote a book, "Defeat in Victory" on the Polish situation after the war.

Abilene Girl Hit In Strangle Case

COMANCHE, Tex. (AP) — Charges have been filed in juvenile court against a 16-year-old Abilene girl in connection with the strangulation death of a small boy.

Officials said the girl, who was charged here, was arrested after Mrs. Gerald Green returned home Monday to find her six year old son Erick strangled with a knotted rag. Her four-year-old daughter Terri, was found bound and gagged.

Police said Patricia Black, 16 was visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Green of Comanche while on furlough from the Brownwood State School for Girls. She had been committed to the school last September on charges of stabbing Rosemary Bedford, a woman for whom she had been babysitting.

The girl, who has since been returned to Brownwood, was released from the girl's school in a newly instituted program to permit them to visit area homes on a furlough basis.

Comanche County attorney W. L. Farrel said he has filed a petition to declare the girl a delinquent. He said he hopes to have the girl certified as an adult today. If he is successful, she can be tried in district court.

Unique Project Is Successful

ACKERLY — The Future Homemakers Association at Sands High School is about to complete a unique project with the end of the school year.

The girls wrote letters to several persons in the community requesting that they become secret grandparents.

Those who accepted immediately had a secret granddaughter who sent them surprises during the year.

Some of the group have received such thoughtful gifts as chocolate cake, greeting cards, bookmarks, cookies and other thoughtful gifts.

It's been a good year for the elderly around Ackerty and they are anxiously awaiting May 10 when they will be guests at an ice cream supper.

That is the night that the FHA will reveal who are the secret granddaughters.

It's probably one of the most thoughtful projects that has come this way in a long time.

Opening lead: Nine of ♣
A brilliant false card by West led to the upset of South's four heart contract.

West opened the nine of clubs, the five was played from dummy and East put up the ace. He shifted to the ace and queen of spades and declarer was in with the king.

South proceeded to draw trump by first cashing the ace of hearts—on which West followed suit quite nonchalantly with the ten. He had been doing some thinking on his own, and he realized that, if declarer were left to his own resources, he would cash the top heart honors and then lead toward dummy's jack—thereby restricting West to one trick in the suit. Only drastic action on West's part could alter his opponent's course.

The fall of the ten of hearts gave South something to think about. Now that the defense had cashed their two aces, declarer's only concern was to hold his trump losses to one trick. Of course, if West's heart holding consisted of the queen-ten doubleton, South could score an over-trick by playing the king next to drop the queen.

If the ten of hearts was a singleton, however, the play of the king would surrender the contract for it would establish two heart tricks for East. South finally decided to take out insurance against East's holding all the missing trumps.

The dummy was entered with the ace of diamonds, and the jack of hearts was put thru. If East followed with a small heart, declarer intended to let the jack ride. If the finesse lost, South's contract was assured because the trumps must now divide three-two. If East covered the jack with the queen, declarer can play the ace and then the only trick he would lose in the suit would be the nine of hearts.

When East showed out on the second heart, it was revealed that declarer had been conned into making a losing play, for West could not be prevented now from winning two trump tricks.

The Water Report

Despite the findings of the U.S. Corps of Engineers that its study of importation of water from the Mississippi into West Texas is infeasible, many area leaders feel that efforts in this direction should proceed and eventually will succeed.

A. L. Black, Friona, president of Water, Inc., a West Texas group dedicated to adequate area water resources, says that the report is no surprise, that from the beginning "we have known that under project-formulation standards now in use, the import project could not be justified." He added that efforts are being exerted to revamp project standards.

This may well be: indeed, the possibility of importation of water from this and other surplus areas should never be overlooked. The time may come when the welfare of the nation, as well as the state, will demand more water for this vast highland irrigated area which produces half of the states grain sorghum, 40 per cent of its cotton and 35 per cent of its wheat.

Industrial and municipal demands may take up more of the slack than anticipated, because they may have to subsidize the industry upon which their existence depends. Perhaps off-season electric generating capacity (the Mississippi diversion is estimated to last only three months during the off-peak power season) can modify costs.

Realistically, however, the finding that direct benefits would be only 14 cents of every dollar an import project would cost, or 27 cents direct and indirect benefits, will have a sobering effect on the proposal. Even if formulation is altered, it will require many years to overcome the effects of the adverse report. If anything, cost estimates are likely to rise more rapidly than those of benefits, because they are tied mostly to agriculture, the low segment on the economic totem pole.

Hence, we need to turn immediately to alternate efforts to boost our water resources. The engineers suggest stepped up research on injection of playa lake water. Weather modification, if it can be demonstrated that it produces appreciable results, offers the most economical and readily available supply of supplemental water which will stretch both our productivity and our reserves until such a time as mechanical importation is feasible.

More Mending Later

Court reform for Texas — giving the system the kind of cohesive direction needed to make it a more effective step in the system of justice — is limping from the wounds of compromise.

The justices of the peace and county courts at law were left of the bill in a Senate committee compromise. Other features to upgrade the performance of courts were deleted in what sponsor of the changes, Sen. Charles Herring of Austin, called "a product of compromise" and a recognition that "politics is the art of the possible."

The compromise means more work later and an expensive interim in terms of inferior performance of a still-fractured system of justice — unless the Senate mends the damage.

True Confessions

Around The Rim

Marj Carpenter

I was talking to the journalism class at Howard County Junior College the other day, telling interesting news stories I had covered through the years. And I happened to recall the old Oscar Kernohan murder story.

Now there was a murder story that was a murder story. Kernohan, a very educated man, apparently became distraught while traveling with his wife and small stepson from San Antonio to California.

BETWEEN FORT STOCKTON and Balmorhea, he became irritated, killed them both and buried them. He drove on to Pecos, ate supper and started to El Paso. Outside Toyah, he became lonesome and picked up a hitchhiker.

The hitchhiker upset him when he asked about some blood in the car, so he killed the hitchhiker. Tired of digging graves, he stuffed this body in a culvert.

The body was found by a rabbit hunter. In the hand of the hitchhiker was clutched an incriminating credit card receipt.

Kernohan was traced to California and arrested and returned to Reeves

County to be charged with murdering the hitchhiker.

WHEN QUESTIONING him about the murder, they asked why he killed the man and Kernohan told them because he was asking questions about the murder of his wife and child.

Everyone kind of shrugged that off, but Kernohan kept insisting that he had murdered and buried his wife and child.

Finally, we all made a strange parade to the grave site — the sheriff's officials, the handcuffed prisoner, the highway patrol, the ambulance driver and this reporter.

SURE ENOUGH, he went right to the site and said dig. When they dug, there were the bodies.

Kernohan spent several weeks in the Reeves County jail awaiting trial, where he was given a life sentence.

He asked if he could check out books from the library and while there, he read most of the books in that library.

Well, so be it. Everybody has a bad day now and then.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHNS

What is the meaning of the phrase "Maundy Thursday"? T.F. Etymology is a study of how words came to have their usage and definition. In the case of Maundy Thursday it comes from the Latin "mandatum" meaning command.

Perhaps this day — just before Good Friday was so named through a corruption of the word "mandate." It stood for the "new commandment" given the disciples by Jesus at the Lord's Supper on Thursday evening.

In the 13th chapter of John Jesus naturally begins his farewell discourse by a statement of His departure. The disciples had a difficult time understanding it but He was sharing the wonder of His imminent glorification as the divine saviour of the world.

The new commandment which Maundy Thursday refers to was really the old commandment in which Moses had summarized the whole law. Jesus however made it new by giving it a new motive. To "love one another" as He had loved His disciples was to propose a new kind of self-sacrificing love. Maundy Thursday became then the preface to marvelous Friday and miraculous Sunday.

Herrnstein's Law

William F. Buckley Jr.

The current issue of "Commentary" magazine has in it a wonderfully optimistic article about the economic strides of the Negro population during the decade of the 1960's which anyone aching for a whiff of optimism ought to read, particularly in anticipation of hearing a speech by, say, Julian Bond who becomes progressively lugubrious in direct proportion as the Negro people advance along the social and economic scale. That article has been widely reported on; not so another article in the same issue of "Commentary" by Richard Herrnstein, the Harvard psychologist who wrote provocatively in the summer of 1971 summarizing his researches on IQ.

WHAT THEN happened to Herrnstein is vividly described.

Soon after the publication of his article, the radicals at Harvard launched a long campaign of harassment. Posters featuring Professor Herrnstein spring up all over the place: "Wanted For Racism." I might add that similar posters were distributed at Northeastern University in Boston when I spoke there recently, featuring, however, not the professor but my amiable self and listing among my sins the support I have given to the "theories" of Herrnstein which theories as it happens I have not written about.

Students would enter his lecture hall, distribute anti-Herrnstein diatribes, seek to monopolize the question period, harangue the class under his watchful eye. The undergraduate newspaper devoted lascivious attention to the persecution of Herrnstein and finally editorialized, taking issue with a hundred professors who deplored the incivility to Herrnstein and the implications of it to academic freedom. After all, said the "Crimson," you can't always distinguish between theory and policy. The reader is left to infer that Herrnstein's theories imply obnoxious policies of a racist character.

AND SO it went for the balance of the year. Mr. Herrnstein went to the University of Iowa and it was simply impossible to deliver the lecture he went there to deliver — a mathematical account of the learned responses of pigeons.

The SDS toughs, high on ignorance, had come in from all over the region, had stormed into the lecture hall leaving no room for the scholarly audience; and the University Administration, faithful to the un-deviating standard of pusillanimity set by the administrations of Harvard (where a pro-Vietnam student group was prevented from holding a session) and Yale (where Gen. Westmoreland was prevented from speaking) did nothing.

MEANWHILE PROF. Herrnstein had also been invited to speak at Princeton. When he learned that the Administration would make no effort to give him the only kind of shelter that makes it possible to speak seriously, and that the punks had announced their intention of surrounding him physically until he had given them satisfaction — he cancelled out. The administration of Princeton was furious — with a few protesting Princeton's incapacity to provide effective hospitality for an out-of-town scholar.

And what is the fuss all about? There is not a shred of "racism" in any orthodox sense in the work of Prof. Herrnstein. But what he has done is point to some of the implications of liberal social doctrine up against what is now known about the heritability of intelligence. It isn't true that a mother and father of extra-high I.Q. will necessarily have children with extra-high I.Q.'s. What is true is that a considerable percentage of the time they will. That is a genetic factor, the complement of which is the environmental factor.

HERRNSTEIN'S LAW, if I might put it so, is that the greater the success you have in eliminating environmental differences, the more clearly genetic differences will figure. If (assuming it were possible) every American child were exposed to identical teachers, schools, homes, encouragement, and opportunities, the achievement would trace directly to genetic factors, the manipulation of which it has not yet been suggested that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare is competent to cope with.

She's Just Your Type

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks a widower gets tired of hearing: "You'll love to meet her, Joe—she's just your type."

"You've got to quit thinking of the past. After all, you're still a young man—comparatively speaking, anyway."

"Why don't you come eat with us tonight, Joe? Me and the missus aren't speaking, and maybe you could help break the deadlock."

"Listen, old pal, will you do a buddy a favor? How about me borrowing your apartment tonight? You could go to the movies or something."

"How's your love life, kid? A guy with his own salary to spend — I'll bet you have to beat them away with a baseball bat."

"You'll thank me later for introducing you to her, Joe. She sews her own clothes and likes opera."

"This is the second time you've had us up here this month, sir. Don't you know you're not supposed to try to flush hot grease and paper towels down the toilet simply because you sink in full of dishes?"

"Did you ever think you might be too particular, Joe? You know you're not getting any younger, and beggars can't be choosers."

"I'd like to go to the poker game with you tonight, Joe, but I can't. My wife and I are celebrating our 20th wedding anniversary."

"You're not the only one who misses her, Mr. Joe. It's so lonely now when I come to clean your apartment. Every minute I still keep expecting to hear her call from another room. She was a real lady."

"I don't blame you for not rushing into another marriage, Joe. I rushed into three of them — and I'll probably die in alimony jail."

"Aw, come on, Joe. Let's stay and have a couple more. You won't get bawled out if you get home late."

"All you've got in your refrigerator is four pounds of hamburger and three packages of cottage cheese. Is that all you ever fix yourself for dinner?"

One-Pouch Diverticulosis

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: When my baby was 14 months old, he started bleeding from the bowel. At the hospital they diagnosed it as Meckel's diverticulum, and they operated.

Now I'm wondering if this is anything like diverticulosis that you have written about, and if there is more than one pouch involved. They told us at the hospital that there was only one, but I wondered if they said that just so we wouldn't worry.

Do you think they took out part of the intestine, or just the pouch? And can this recur? — Mrs. C.J.

Meckel's diverticulum resembles the adult diverticulosis which I write about only to the extent that Meckel's diverticulum is a blind pouch in the wall of the small intestine. Pouches are common among older adults, but are in the colon, or lower bowel.

Meckel's diverticulum occurs in the small intestine, and there is only one, instead of the multiple ones that occur in adults.

Best way to think of it is to compare it to the appendix — a pouch or duct which may cause no trouble, or may become inflamed and painful, or may ulcerate and bleed. In some instances the blind end of the pouch may be attached to the abdominal wall, and in some cases adhesions can cause intestinal obstruction.

The treatment is the same as for appendicitis: surgical removal. There is no need to remove part of the intestine, too.

There is no recurrence, any more than there is any recurrence after an appendix has been removed. Nor do new pouches form: Meckel's diverticulum is a congenital defect, meaning that the baby was born with it. A quirk of development.

While not nearly as common as the adult diverticulosis, Meckel's diverticulum is discovered frequently enough to be readily recognized by physicians. About one person in 50 will be born with it, but not all will require surgery for it. That depends on whether it causes trouble.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Writing about uric acid, you used a figure of "9 milligrams per cent." Which did you mean? Nine milligrams or 9 per cent? — T.H.U.

Neither. Meant just what I wrote — but maybe I should have explained. Such measurements as that are common in medicine, but the "per cent" doesn't mean exactly what it means to you.

The phrase means "9 mg. of uric acid per 10 cubic centimeters of blood."

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Every so often, our daughter, 22, gets blisters on her soles after a hard game of tennis or paddle ball. Is it possible to toughen the skin or wear certain kinds of socks or shoes? — W.M.

Can do a bit of both. Blisters result from irritation. The type of sock she wears may be a factor. Cotton or wool should be less likely to cause trouble than nylon.

Shoes should be snug but not tight — a shoe that fits too loosely can allow motion of the foot against the sole of the shoe, causing irritation and blistering. Quite possibly painting the soles of the feet with tincture of benzoin, if done fairly regularly, will toughen the skin enough to help her, but make sure she's wearing the right footwear.

Emphysema can be controlled. To learn how to live with this serious lung disease, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald, requesting a copy of the booklet, "How to Control Emphysema," enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dollar Diplomacy

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — As everyone knows, the best way to become a U.S. ambassador is to contribute a large sum of money to the presidential election campaign — and have your candidate win.

THIS ELECTION was no different from elections past except that the prices of ambassadorships have gone up. Luxembourg, for example, never went for more than $50,000. But this year it was given to Mrs. Ruth Farkas of Alexander's Department Store who made a $300,000 contribution to President Nixon's campaign.

Countries throughout the world are very sensitive to the prices put on U.S. diplomatic posts and now consider it a matter of prestige if they get a U.S. ambassador who has made an enormous contribution to the Republican Party.

IT WAS for this reason that the foreign minister of Zemelulu called on an undersecretary of state here the other day.

"I understand you are sending us an ambassador who contributed only $50,000 to President Nixon's campaign. I want you to know my government considers this an insult. We deserve at least a $100,000 contributor."

THE UNDERSECRETARY replied, "Money isn't everything. The man we are sending you has excellent business qualifications and strong connections in the White House. He is held in high esteem."

"That is all well and good, Mr. Secretary, but I have it on highest authority that you are appointing an ambassador to Tonkash who contributed $100,000. Why has the price on our American ambassador been so deflated?"

"ZEMULULU IS in the malaria belt, and the climate is hot and sticky. Mr. Foreign Minister. We tried to get you a $100,000 contributor but nobody wanted to go to your country. We were very fortunate to find you a $50,000 donor who didn't know where Zemelulu was. We were so desperate we were considering sending you a professional diplomat."

"WE WOULD have refused him," the foreign minister said. "My government still does not understand how you can send a $300,000 donor to Luxembourg and a $50,000 one to us. Our country is five times the size of Luxembourg."

"You must understand, Mr. Foreign Minister, that size has nothing to do with our ambassadorial assignments. It is a question of geography. The big donors are partial to Europe and the Caribbean. When you give the kind of money they do, you can't expect them to take a hardship post."

A Devotion For Today . .

This do . . . in remembrance of me. For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink the cup, ye proclaim the Lord's death till he comes. (1 Corinthians 11:26, ASV)

PRAYER: Lord, we pray that You will make Yourself known to us in the breaking of the bread and renew our lives by the power of the Holy Spirit working in us. Amen.

How Do You Keep Worms On Farm?

The escapes climbed out of the plywood boxes in which they were kept, crawled over a 6-inch fence and made off into nearby woods, Kruse said. Undaunted, the Kruses started over and now have about 180,000 of the wigglers, give or take a handful. The new batch is psyched into believing in eternal daylight with a 15-watt light bulb overhead at night. There's a big demand from fishermen and gardeners, who use them to aerate the soil. The Kruses receive $6 for 1,000 worms.

Low Temperatures Damage Fruit, Pecan Trees In WT

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Another round of cold, and hail damaged some vegetable crops in the Winter Garden area, he said. Corn and grain sorghum planting are about complete in the blackland of Central Texas, and planting has begun to gain momentum in North Central counties. A little corn also has been planted in the High Plains.

Cotton planting has been limited to southern counties although a small amount of acreage has been seeded in Central Texas, Hutchison said. Most cotton farmers are waiting for the soil to warm up and dry before planting.

Farmers in East Texas have about completed watermelon planting, he said. Sweet potato bedding also is active in that area.

Watermelons are making good progress in South Texas, and strawberries are now in good supply in the Winter Garden area.

Livestock and range conditions are generally good over the state although supplemental feeding remains active in a few areas, Hutchison said.

District Agriculture agents gave these reports: South Plains: Wheat is progressing well and is starting to head. Some corn has been planted, but cold weather is delaying emergence. Freezing weather has damaged some fruit trees.

Rolling Plains: Small grains are making excellent growth. A good grain crop is expected. Only a limited amount of cotton remains to be harvested in four counties. Herbicide application and land preparation are active where field conditions permit. Home gardening is gaining momentum.

North Central: Corn planting is near completion in a few counties. Grain sorghum seeding is lagging behind due to wet fields. Cotton planting is just starting. Cowpeas, blackeye peas and vetch are making good progress. Cattle prices have dropped about $6 per hundredweight.

Northeast: Small grains as well as pastures and ranges are furnishing good grazing with cattle gaining weight but marketing has slowed. Land preparation for cotton and corn is underway in counties where fields are dry. Wet soil is hampering home gardening in some counties. Some small peaches are appearing.

Far West: Low temperatures caused some damage to fruit and pecan trees. Land preparation and preplant irrigation have been active, but cold weather has delayed spring planting over the area. Livestock are in fair to good condition. Calf and lamb crops are making good progress.

West Central: Only a limited amount of grain sorghum has been seeded. Home gardens are off to a slow start due to adverse weather. Tom Green County had a heavy set of peaches, apricots and plums, but freezing temperatures caused some damage. Livestock are gaining weight.

South: most of the cotton crop is up to a good stand. Some grain sorghum is being replanted due to damage by rootworms. Watermelons are making good progress. Harvesting of cabbage, onions and carrots remains active. Livestock conditions are improving but hornflies, ticks and lice are a problem.

Car Dealers Must Pay $337,000

DALLAS (AP) — North Texas auto dealers for Ford and General Motors must pay $337,000 in customer refunds by lowering prices on their current inventory of parts and accessories, the Internal Revenue Service said here.

The refunds are part of nearly $10 million ordered for more than 8,900 dealers nationwide for jumping the gun on a price increase which the Price Commission granted late in 1971.

Chrysler Corp. and American Motors have yet to be investigated, the IRS said. The current refund order affects about 40 per cent of Ford and GM dealerships.

It's a shame that the people who paid the higher prices to begin with won't be able to get the benefits of the refunds," one IRS employee said.

CREDIT GALORE

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Standard Oil apparently thinks Gregg Chastain is a pretty good credit risk.

So good, in fact, that the company sent him 315 credit cards in the mail.

Chastain found the cards, all with his name and credit number and packed in a small box, waiting for him when he came home from work.

He said he was expecting one new card, which should have been sent this month when his current card expired.

A Standard Oil spokesman in Portland said that sort of thing is handled in Concord, Calif., and he didn't know what happened.

Stays Productive

A good garden lettuce is Oak Leaf. Just pick the outer leaves from different plants. New leaves will grow and the plant remains productive for a long time. Oak Leaf is among the most heat resistant in the loose leaf class.
