GUERRILLA ROCKETS HITTING RESIDENTIAL AREAS

Explosions Rock Parts Of Beirut

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Explosions rocked banks and a restaurant in four different areas of Beirut today, cannon and artillery fire rumbled intermittently and the Lebanese army warned guerrillas it will retaliate "intensively and violently" to cease-fire violations.

The government continued censorship on news dispatches. The new explosions, which came in an area previously unaffected by the week-long fighting, destroyed the Development Bank on Hamra Street, Beirut's equivalent of Fifth Avenue, the G. Trad Bank on the Damascus Highway and the Lebanese Commerce Bank in the Shiyah suburb.

The fourth explosion blew up a restaurant between the plush St. George and Phoenixa hotels next to the British Bank of the Middle East.

The army said its positions at the radar station, Beirut airport, the army officers' housing compound were being fired on by mortars and rockets.

Outside Beirut, the army said, in the Bekaa Valley, "army positions are still under intensive shelling by armed men."

As for the south, the announcement said, "following the rocket and heavy mortar attack on the army Tyre garrison and the ambush of a military convoy on the Tyre-Sidon highway, eight soldiers were killed."

A senior army official said a joint cease-fire commission was making "desperate efforts" to stop the shelling. Guerrilla attacks today also were reported against a number of army installations and villages in southeast Lebanon, near the Syrian border. There was speculation in Beirut that the attacks were made by Palestinians who had crossed into Lebanon from Syria, as they did during the fighting last week.

100 WOUNDED
The guerrillas' military commander, Atallah Atallah, told the newspaper Asafa that between 30 and 50 of his men were killed and more than 100 were wounded in the savage fighting around Beirut Monday night and Tuesday that shattered a previous truce.

Hijack Money Recovered

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — FBI agents and state police have recovered the $303,000 ransom collected by a hijacker who parachuted into the jungle of British Honduras with his loot a year ago.

William M. Alexander, head of the FBI office here, said the money was recovered through efforts of the FBI and the Florida Department of Law Enforcement and identified through serial numbers and markings.

Alexander and FDLE Commissioner William L. Reed refused, however, to make public any details of the recovery.

"We didn't really expect to get that money back," William R. Howard, senior vice president of Eastern Airlines, said Tuesday as the FBI turned over the money.

It was given to hijacker William Hahneman of Easton, Pa., at Dulles International Airport near Washington, D.C., on May 5, 1972.

Howard also said Eastern had promised anonymity to informants, indicating that was why details of the recovery were kept confidential.

Hahneman surrendered at the U.S. Embassy in Tela, Honduras, nearly a month after he parachuted into the jungle with the money. He told an FBI agent that the money was destined for the "Communist Bank of China in Hong Kong."

An agent reported that Hahneman said the money was out of his hands by nightfall the day after the hijacking. He was convicted of hijacking last September and sentenced to life in prison.

$42,500 JOB

White House 'Plumbing' Boss Quits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Egil "Bud" Krogh, boss of the White House "plumbing" team that burglarized the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist, resigned today as undersecretary of transportation.

Krogh had reportedly been under intense pressure from Secretary Claude Brinegar to give up the $42,500-a-year job since his involvement in the burglary was made known.

Brinegar reportedly felt that Krogh's involvement with the Ellsberg break-in put him under a "very ugly cloud," as one source put it, and that the department was being hurt because of it.

Before moving to the Transportation Department, Krogh was principal assistant to top White House domestic aide John D. Ehrlichman.

Agreement to this mission was "my responsibility," he said in his letter of resignation. He called the Ellsberg burglary "a step taken in excess of instructions and without the knowledge or permission of my superior."

In his letter, Krogh said: "Under the circumstances which prevailed in the summer of 1971 and based on the best information available to me at the time, I believed that my decision was dictated inescapably by the vital national security interests of the United States."

Police Chief Vance Chisum indicated that they expect a ruling of murder and "there are some suspects in the case."

Miller was last seen around 9:30 p.m., by his father-in-law, Tommy Biggs, and another party who let him out of their car on the corner of Northwest Fourth and North Aylford when he said he was "going to buy some milk."

Miller resided at 1011 NW 4th and worked at Pollard Chevrolet, according to the investigating report of the officers. His body is at River-Welch Funeral Home with services pending.

Survivors include eight children, Billy Miller, Matthey Jo Miller, Earsie Jean Holme, and Tommy Miller, all of Dallas; Winfred Miller, 503 NW 5th, Ginger and Tyrone, of the home and Donino Parlaw, 500 NW 4th, all of Big Spring, and Patricia Bodily, address unknown. His wife preceded him in death in 1968.

Peace Justice Gus Ochotorena Jr. said his ruling in the death is pending an autopsy to be performed by Dr. R. B. G. Cowper, Big Spring.

Probe Continues In Man's Death

Earsie Miller, 53, was found Tuesday night on the corner of Northwest Fourth and North Bell, apparently shot to death. Police discovered the body around 10:33 p.m. after they received an anonymous telephone call reporting gunshots in an area near Gomez Liquor Store. Witnesses reported to police hearing two or three shots.

Miller was found lying on his left side, dead from a single bullet in the center of the upper chest, around four inches below the neck, according to City Detective Jim McCain, who is investigating officer in the case.

Justice of the Peace Gus Ochotorena, who was called to the scene of the crime, said this morning that he could not make a ruling until later today.

He said he had called for an autopsy, but that he could make no other ruling at this time other than death by gunshot wound.

When asked if the bullet lodged in the victim or went through the victim, Ochotorena stated, "I don't know."

McCain said the bullet was thought to be from a "medium calibre gun, possibly a .32 or .38."

'Little Joe' Coming Here

Michael Landon, known better to millions as "Little Joe" in the "Bonanza" television series, will be the star personality at the annual Big Spring Cowboy Rodeo and Reunion here June 20-23.

Charlie Creighton, president, confirmed Wednesday that a contract had been signed to bring the young actor here for all four days of the wild-west extravaganza.

Landon remembers that he finished last in his high school class of 301, but he could throw the javelin so well that he had 46 scholarship offers. He accepted the one from the University of Southern California, via Santa Barbara, to head up his scholastics. When an arm injury ended his athletic career, he took a screen test at Warner Bros. and got a contract. He had bit parts before he got his first starring role in — of all things — "I Was a Teenage Werewolf."

His big chance came, however, when he had the title role in "Legend of Tom Dooley." Besides the Bonanza series, for which he is perhaps most familiar, he has starred in dozens of shows, including "Playhouse 90."

As in past years, the 1973 production of the rodeo here will be directed by Tommy Steiner. Austin, the stock contractor, and will be announced by Tom Hatley, Ker-ville. The four-day show will be preceded June 20 at 4 p.m. by the traditional rodeo parade. Malcolm Patterson, parade chairman, said organizations are urged to compete for float prizes of $100 and $50. Each night after the show, Hoyle Nix and his West Texas Cowboys will play for the rodeo dance.

Air-Conditioning Approved For Road Aide's Vehicle

By JOHN EDWARDS
"If you got enough gumption to amount to something, you're supposed to get the goodies," County Judge A. G. Mitchell said Tuesday before voting to specify air conditioning for the assistant road administrator's pickup.

"All these dump trucks are working out in the same kind of sun," Commissioner Jack Buchanan replied.

In a surprise move Monday, the court had approved advertising for bids on one motor grader, one front-end loader, four dump trucks, six pickups and one "low-boy" for hauling a bulldozer.

Bids were authorized for two new patrol cars and a jeep for the sheriff's office. Revenue sharing funds will be used to buy this equipment, and some old equipment and vehicles will be traded.

Buchanan and Commissioner Bill Crooker Monday were appointed to help prepare specifications for vehicles and road equipment. After the Tuesday meeting, Crooker and Buchanan said they themselves brought the air conditioner question before the whole court.

COMMITTEE OUTVOTED
Tuesday, the two committees members voted against air conditioning the pickup to be driven by Clifford Hart, assistant road administrator.

Mitchell voted with the other two commissioners breaking the tie in favor of the pickup air conditioner.

"If they want to replace me on that committee, that's fine," Buchanan commented at one point.

Mitchell asked if Buchanan was going to "take his dolls and go home." Buchanan said he wasn't quitting, just wanted to do what the court desired.

When some confusion resulted from voting, Mitchell said Commissioner Simon (Cy)

Terrazas "barely got out from behind that log." Then, Mitchell said he (Mitchell) did not raise his hand high, because he, Mitchell, was "ashamed" of his vote. Commissioner Bill Bennett was the other member voting for air conditioning.

'ROSE BED'
Toward the end of the meeting, tempers were frayed despite some offsetting good humor. Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, earlier turned off the tape recorder when remarks became personal.

Mrs. Virginia Black, county auditor, indicated she was unhappy about changes concerning bid advertisements and specifications. And a wench truck proposed after the Monday session was dropped from consideration.

Marvin Hanson, road administrator, argued for purchasing new beds for the four

BENT ON BURGLARY

CIA Supplied Spy Items To White House Aides

WASHINGTON (AP) — James W. McCord Jr. says he is "completely convinced" the White House was behind a scheme to blame the CIA for the Watergate wiretapping.

McCord, who faces a prison term of up to 45 years on his conviction for burglary, wiretapping and conspiracy in the case, told of pressure to blame the CIA in a memo given to Senate and government investigators.

The memo was published in the New York Times today, and confirmed as genuine by McCord's attorney, Bernard Fensterwald.

TAPE RECORDER
The development came as top present and former CIA officials headed for Capitol Hill to explain why disguises, a spy camera, a tape recorder and phony identification papers were supplied to White House aides bent on burglarizing the office of a psychiatrist who treated Daniel Ellsberg, defendant in the Pentagon Papers case.

The Justice Department meanwhile refused to comment on why the CIA involvement had been kept quiet since last year, when the department first learned that CIA assistance had been given to E. Howard Hunt.

Hunt was then under indictment in the Watergate case, and has since testified that he helped engineer the Ellsberg burglary.

McCord said in his memo that his then attorney, Gerald

Alch, met him twice last December, prior to the Watergate trial in January. "There followed a suggestion from Alch that I use as my defense during the trial the story that the Watergate operation was a CIA operation," he said.

RECORDS CHANGED
McCord, who had retired from the CIA after 19 years service, said Alch told him "my personnel records at CIA could be doctored" to suggest that he had been recalled to active duty to carry out the wiretapping against the Democratic party.

McCord said Alch told him that James Schlesinger, the newly appointed director of the CIA "would go along with it."

new dump trucks sought: "by any logic... new beds with the new trucks if it does cost a few more dollars." Hanson mentioned repairs which the old beds would need after being remounted. Bennett's motion to advertise for new beds too carried with no dissenting votes. Hanson suggested keeping the old beds for possible replacement parts. For years, the county had been patching and repairing old equipment, and they had been trying to get rid of the "junk" the last two years, Mitchell responded. Asked what he wanted with an old dump truck bed, Hanson quipped: "I thought we might want to put a rose on it and save it."

May 21, a regular day for meetings, was scheduled as the day for opening bids on a new maintainer, vehicles for the sheriff's office and airport improvements. Other bids will be viewed first at 3 p.m. May 29.

Bill To Restore Death Penalty Wins Approval

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas House tentatively approved restoration of the death penalty Tuesday, quareling only over what crimes it should cover. The 102-33 vote came after an afternoon of debate on amendment, cut off by Tyler Rep. Billy Williamson's request to "move the previous question." It was the first time this session a vote was taken with amendments still waiting to be read, House Speaker Price Daniel Jr. said. The death penalty would be mandatory for eight kinds of offenses, including "murder for hire, killing a policeman or fireman, killing a prison guard, or murder during a kidnapping, rape or robbery. The House still must vote on the measure one more time before sending it to the Senate. Rep. Terry Doyle, D-Port Arthur, argued against repeated attempts to extend coverage of the measure on grounds it might become unconstitutional. The U.S. Supreme Court has ruled arbitrary application of capital punishment violates equal protection of the laws. Two Houston Democrats, Reps. Andrew Baker and Craig Washington, tried unsuccessfully to block reinstatement of the death penalty. Baker's motion to replace the proposed death penalty with a life sentence failed, 105-29. Washington offered an amendment to hold executions on the floor of the House chamber. It was defeated 114-19. Also passed by the House, 137-3, was a competitive auto insurance plan for Texas. The measure goes to the Senate. Under the bill, insurance companies could compete on rates after approval of the State Insurance Board. The Senate voted 24-7 Tuesday to set up a University of South Texas System that would include schools at Edinburg, Kingsville, Laredo, Brownsville and Corpus Christi. In a rare rebuff of Sen. Bill Moore, D-Bryan, the Senate turned around and rejected a bill, 18-13, that it had tentatively approved only the day before. Moore's bill would have let game wardens, prison guards and some other law officers retire after 20 years with 40 per cent salary.

Insurance Liability Decision

AUSTIN (AP) — An insurance company must provide a lawyer for an automobile liability policyholder who has a collision even if he misrepresents the use of his vehicle, the Texas Supreme Court ruled today.

The court did not write its own opinion, but said it could find "no reversible error" in a decision by the Waco Court of Civil Appeals. The Waco court had ordered Aetna Casualty & Surety Co. to reimburse Mrs. Nell Harrington for $1,100 lawyer's fees paid by her husband, H. L. Harrington. Harrington had told the insurance company his pickup was not used in business, but told an investigator after the collision he drove it 35,000 to 40,000 miles a year buying parts for a concrete company.

The collision occurred on the way home for lunch, but the company said his misrepresentation of the truck's use removed its duty to defend the case. Harrington won the liability case anyway, paying a lawyer out of his own pocket. "Without question, Harrington's use of the pickup in his business jeopardized the coverage afforded him by the provisions of the policy; but his dual purpose use of the vehicle could not have otherwise affected Aetna's exposure under the policy and, in our opinion, did not invalidate the policy and deprive him of coverage when he was using the pickup as a private passenger vehicle," the Waco court said.

Passage of the first item would okay air conditioning of 17 elementary, Midland High Annex, one freshman school and one junior high, none of which is presently cooled. It would also complete the cooling of one junior high which is partially air conditioned now. If approved, the multipurpose sports facility would seat 5,100 people and would serve the community in general as well as the schools.

Alejos C. Torres, who is charged with carrying a prohibited weapon, will be tried by jury in county court Thursday. County Judge A. G. Mitchell said. Jury selection will begin at 9 p.m.

MIDLAND — Midland voters will decide in a May 29 bond election whether to air condition Midland public schools and to construct a multipurpose sports facility to be jointly used by public schools and Midland College.

The bidding:
South West North East
1 ♠ 2 ♣ 2 ♠ 4 ♣
4 ♣ Pass Pass Pass
Opening lead: King of ♣

In a highly competitive auction, South was permitted to buy the hand at four spades, although the opposition had a cheap two trick save available in clubs with favorable vulnerability conditions. Inasmuch as West has no defense and his partner has confirmed a good fit by giving a jump raise, it appears that he should persist to five clubs.

Once West passed, it was reasonable for East to defend since he holds three tricks in his own hand. West opened the king of clubs, and when the dummy was spread, East paused for a brief reflection before playing to the trick. On the basis of South's aggressive bidding, it appeared likely that the latter held the bulk of the missing high card strength in spades and diamonds. It was also safe to assume he was short in clubs and might have only a singleton. If this were the case, then the only other source of tricks for the defense was hearts.

It did not appear likely that West would shift to hearts on his own initiative even if East were to give him a discouraging signal on the first trick, for the dummy's side suit looked somewhat imposing. East decided to extend a helping hand to his partner, therefore, by over-taking the king of clubs with the ace.

At trick two, East shifted to the king of hearts to observe West's reaction. When the latter started a high-low by dropping the nine of hearts, East continued with the ace and then a third round of the suit. Declarer ruffed with the ten of spades; however, West over-ruffed with the jack to set the contract.

Had South guessed to trump with the ace of spades, North's king and queen would have been dropped the doubleton jack permitting declarer's ten to draw the last trump. However, South made the natural play on the hand and is not open to charge.

The major credit on the deal goes to East for taking full charge of the defense at a time when his partner hardly could be expected to come up with the right answer if left to his own devices.

Union's Pact Now Effective

A union contract for most Webb civilian employees, which has been under consideration since January 1972, was signed into being April 25. The contract will become effective upon approval of Headquarters, U.S. Air Force, and will be binding upon management and all members of the unit.

The contract was negotiated under the provisions established by Executive Order 11491 as amended and within the guidelines of the Federal Personnel Manual and Air Force regulation.

The agreement is based on the desires of Local 1926 of the American Federation of Government Employees (AFGE), affiliated with AFL-CIO, and the employer to work toward the common goal of the accomplishment of the mission of the Webb Air Force Base. It is intended to improve working conditions, promote a high degree of morale and responsibility among employees and promote systematic employee management cooperation between the employer and the union, negotiators explained.

The local union was certified for exclusive base-wide recognition Nov. 16, 1970. The recognition is for a unit composed of all eligible wage grade and general schedule employees serviced by the Civilian Personnel office at Webb. Excluded from the unit are management officials, guards, first line supervisors and above, professional employees working in other than a clerical capacity, and members of the fire protection branch.

Representing the union in the negotiations were: Jose Perez, president, local 1926; Harry H. Sanders, spokesman negotiator; Donald W. Karns, alternate spokesman negotiator; Joseph C. Thames, member; Jimmy D. Ditto, member; Clarence Willis, alternate member; James C. Ringener, former member; and E. L. O. E. Watts, former member.

Management team members were: Maj. Joe L. Gill; spokesman negotiator; Lt. Col. Arnold G. Barry, alternate spokesman negotiator; Lt. Col. Ronald M. Miller, alternate member; Warren A. ## Gave Too Much

Jean Adams
TEEN FORUM

LOST BOY: (Q) I loved Jeff. I treated him nice. I did everything I could to keep him. I gave him everything he wanted.

Last week one of my best friends took him away from me. He liked her before he liked me, but she couldn't stand him then.

I want Jeff back. I need him. Help! — 16 in Massachusetts.

(A) There is a conflict in your letter. You say you did everything you could to keep Jeff. Then you say you gave him everything he wanted. That is not usually the best way to keep a boy friend. When he gets what he wants he often moves on.

Now you know. I am sorry your lesson was so painful, and that it cost you Jeff.

Next time, remember.

A JOB: (Q) I used to have this job making $15 a week but I don't have it any more. Business fell off and it played out. When I had it I could buy my clothes. Now that I don't have it, all my mother will do is feed me and let me live at home.

She will not buy me a jacket or a pair of shoes. I need both.

She tells me "You better find yourself a job" but she doesn't help me find one. I've tried every way I know to get one.

I am not lazy. I definitely want a job because I'm bored staying at home. My sisters nag me. Please give me your advice. — 15 in Washington, D.C.

(A) If your mother can afford it, she should buy you the clothes you really need. Keep looking for a job. I suggest you go back to where you were working before and ask. Business conditions change. Jobs open up. If your former boss has nothing now, he may have something later, or someone else in the organization may. Or maybe someone can send you to some other place that has jobs. Get in touch — keep in touch.

Radar Approach Unit Replaced

Webb's Radar Approach Control (RAPCON) facilities have been replaced by a new unit.

RAPCON is a radar unit which helps the ground controllers guide planes in when visibility is bad.

The old RAPCON was not adequate to handle Webb's increasing flying requirements, according to Capt. Robert Cline, squadron information officer. Capt. Cline said that the unit is the first of its kind in the Air Force. He said that the particular facility is unique because of its combination of equipment.

Webb's controllers, who are responsible for local military air traffic, Howard County Airport, and commercial air traffic within their range, will enjoy increased range as well as easier recognition of individual aircraft. Capt. Cline said they will also be able to read an aircraft's altitude now.

The RAPCON has not yet begun full-scale operation. Since it will be controlling T-37 air traffic, which has not been done before, new procedures for working with T-37s have to be developed.

Controllers are currently training on new equipment, and Capt. Cline said that the unit should be fully-operable within two months.

A LOVELIER YOU Organization Stops Housecleaning Woes

By MARY SUE MILLER
It is hard to say whether a homemaker or her family most dreads that upheaval known as "Spring Housecleaning." For sure the whole tiresome commotion could be avoided by substituting a clean-as-you-go system.

Actually, life styles in homemaking continually undergo changes, owing to necessary shortcuts for career-homemakers and to modern worksaving tools. With a bit of clever management, you can avoid the drain of the old seasonal cleanups on your looks, vitality and disposition. Here are some suggestions:

—Organize your work on a monthly basis. Jot down what needs to be done each day, each week and month. Plan so that monthly tasks — hard cleaning like book cases, storage closets, walls — get done within any three month period. But not all on the same day or in the same week.

—Make sure your work tools and cleansers are designed to perform jobs with speed and efficiency. See that they're handily stored, too.

—Wear fatigue-saving workclothes — firm girdle, support hose, well-fitted shoes with low heels and non-skid soles, and workgloves.

—Never stand when you can sit to perform a chore. Keep your spine in line, standing and sitting.

—Devote a beauty rite with cleaning sessions. Hair treatments, skin correctives and hand lotion will work for you while you work. As a result, the lady and her home are lovely.

'I've Cooled It' Says Designer Gernreich

By ANN HENCKEN
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Designer Rudi Gernreich says that people will wear anonymous daytime clothes in the future, but at home they will live into self-expression.

HIGH VISIBILITY — An evening dress by Rudi Gernreich was shown as part of his fall collection in New York Tuesday. The dress is a black check with a pink and orange flower overlay. Model has a tiny, heart-shaped mouth on white face makeup and wears a black wig.

"We're still very nostalgia-oriented which is not my bag at all. There seems to be this desire not to face present and future," Gernreich said Tuesday at his fall collection showing for Harmon Knitwear.

He made a clear distinction between his simple, happy-looking day clothes and the all-out, high visibility, evening dresses and pants.

After a break in the show, models emerged made up with white faces — tiny, heart-shaped mouths — and black wigs, to slither along in a series of Chinese-looking dresses. These were body-hugging and set with bold round flowers.

No hostess could ever get lost in the crowd of her own party wearing these black, pink and orange dresses.

Gernreich said he had difficulty thinking of a woman he most admires, fashion-wise, and was particularly down on the gigantic shoes which women are dragging around on their feet these days.

In fact, he used 10-year-old Capezio shoes with his clothes, "because the new shoes looked too old-fashioned," he said.

However, he says he has "cooled it," since 1969, when he showed toy rifles and dog tags. That season could have been a low point for him.

"People took it literally. They thought they had to

Jose Greco Troupe Dances At Festive Texas Wedding

HIDALGO, Tex. (AP) — Jose Greco and company danced the flamenco at a gala wedding reception Tuesday night for a wealthy South Texas rancher and the widow of a Chicago food manufacturer.

J. W. (Bill) Pate and Mrs. Peter K. (Virginia) Libby were married in a quiet private ceremony performed by Hidalgo County Judge Ed Gomez at Pate's Ranch home and attended by only about 25 relatives and close friends.

The reception, attended by about 250 persons, however, was something else.

Even wealthy South Texas ranchers don't go out and hire someone like Greco to perform for their wedding reception. Greco explained that he and Pate were good friends.

Greco knighted Pate as an "Hidalgo," an honor which he has the right to bestow on men of merit but seldom is given anyone outside Spain.

The reception was held at a lake's edge lined with palm and banana trees.

Pate and his bride rode to the reception in a horse-drawn cart, preceded by outriders and followed by a surry filled with musicians who serenaded the couple along the one mile route to the reception.

Driving from the palatial Pate home to the lake, guests passed down a palm tree-lined road which had pumping oil wells on one side and Brahman cattle grazing on the other.

The stage on which Greco and company danced jutted out into the lake. Across the shimmering water, towering palm trees, decorated with colored lights, served as a backdrop.

Shouts of "bravo" and "ole" rang out from the audience as Greco and 12 of his 20 dancers performed.

After being entertained by Greco's dancing and strolling Mariachis, the guests dined on Mexican food, roast turkey and baked ham served buffet style beneath gnarled, twisted mesquite trees.

U.S. Rep. Eligio de la Garza of Mission, the Lower Rio Grande Valley's congressman, served as master of ceremonies.

Pate celebrated his wedding by donating 10 acres of land to the City of Hidalgo for a park and one acre to the local Veterans of Foreign Wars post for construction of a building. He also presented his wife a young colt and a Brahman bull during the reception.

Hidalgo Mayor Ed Vela accepted the gift of land and also made Greco an honorary citizen of Hidalgo.

Spell It Out

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my husband's spelling. It's horrid. I swear I don't know how he ever got out of high school. He is just beginning his career as a policeman, and his poor spelling has already started giving him trouble. He has to make out reports in writing and when he writes, "susphishun" and "rezziting" on a report, it raises a lot of eyebrows.

He talks well, but his spelling is outrageous. I told him to carry a small dictionary and to look up any words he isn't sure of. He says: "You have to know how to spell a word before you can find it in the dictionary so what's the use?"

Abby, do you know where an adult can learn how to spell from scratch? Even if it took a year it would be miracle enough for us. Thank you.

WORRIED WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Call your board of education and ask them what is available in their adult education department. Evening classes, or special tutoring could be the answer, but first your husband should take some tests to determine the kind of special help he needs.

DEAR ABBY: You've made references to May-December marriage, but you have never given any advice with regard to them. You should, and it should be one word, DON'T!

I have witnessed four, including my own, and all of them have been very unsatisfactory. Especially for the younger partner. Older husbands make poor fathers. Children make them nervous, and they are too tired to go anywhere with their young wives, and all too soon they are inadequate lovers.

A young woman is flattered to be pursued by a dashing, sophisticated "older" swain. But after they are married, he becomes a dull old man. When she is 22 and he is 36, the age difference doesn't show much, but when she is 35 and he is 49, things start to go downhill for her.

I wish someone would have wised me up. Until a woman has lived in such a marriage, she has no idea how many problems arise.

Time For Horse Trading

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen sides with the President's approach to attacking the problem of our trade deficit. In short, he thinks that negotiations offer the best avenue of stimulating our exports.

There are those who advocate putting an increasingly tighter lid on imports to bring the situation back in balance. And make no mistake, it's critically out of balance, for since 1971 when we ran the first international trade deficit since 1886 (for many years there was a hue and cry to step up our imports in order to encourage trade — "trade or aid," they called it), we have seen a progressively mounting imbalance until last year it hit $7 billion more imports than we had exports. If, as Sen. Bentsen points out, insurance, freight and other overhead items are added in, the deficit is more accurately an intolerable $14.5 billion.

The U.S. continues in a deficit status despite a second successive devaluation of our dollar. This is a device to make dollars held by foreign nations worth more in buying our goods. But, as the senator notes, this is simply treating the symptom rather than the disease. Moreover one of the flaws is that other nations can unilaterally and promptly devalue their currencies, and things are back like they were or we may be at a greater disadvantage.

We are therefore inclined to agree with his proposal, and that of the President, that some hard negotiations are in order to force a more stable basis of our improving our trade situation. We can't afford to shut off international trade, neither can we afford to keep on being a deficit trader. The answer, within reason, is some hard horse trading.

More Economical Way

We find it difficult to comprehend Gov. Dolph Briscoe's apparent opposition to a unitary primary. Great savings in election costs, not political incest, are the goal.

The Republican and Democratic parties are primarily involved in this proposal, although other parties can easily be included. One polling place would be provided for all elections. The ideal situation would be to have separate ballots and ballot boxes for each party, but only one set of election officials and clerks. Alternatively, separate election personnel would be provided for each party.

Between $3 million and $4 million would be required under a separate system, with the state bearing most of the cost of a statewide election. This sum can be reduced substantially. Although metropolitan areas will always do better than rural areas in per-voter cost of an election, savings are also possible in rural areas by consolidating election functions.

In the face of court decisions which require that candidates must not be asked to bear the entire cost of an election, the old order must give way to the new. A unitary primary may not be the perfect answer, but it would be a lot more economical — and hopefully better.

One of the great American pastimes is waiting up for the weather. Of course, you can still get the general prospects from the afternoon paper, the prognosis no less than every half hour on the half hour from the radio, but for some ingrained but equally inexplicable reason as the congenial fear of falling, millions wait to have all this confirmed in the 10 p.m. television wrap-up.

MOST PROGRAMMERS, realizing that the thing that made the viewing audience hang on through a pretty prosaic hehah of the day's happenings, held the weather back until the last few minutes of the program. And what do they get for this exercise in patience and hope?

A personality who knows more about hot dogs than high pressure systems, or conversely, doesn't know an isobar from an ice cream cone. There are refreshing exceptions, but too often it happens like this:

"WELL, IT looks like we have some weather again this evening! A major high pressure system is dominating the nation. It's resting right here — no, excuse me, that's the low that's bringing up the flow of moist air from the Gulf — Gulf of California, that is, as you can see the low was sort of over Arizona, or maybe that's Utah, or is that Colorado? Kinda hard to make out.

"Now... Where was I? Oh yes, the high pressure system. You see these lines here, this one that bows down there and then jogs out there. Well, that's on account of the high pressure system over there. It's holding those lows in there, but you can't say they aren't trying to worm themselves out of it.

"REALLY, it's a kinda mixed picture. Here's a low, there's a low, and another, and whatdaye know, there's a high! See, that big H over here. Now it was over here last night, but it's sorta uncertain where it will be tomorrow. If it moves, that means that these two L's could move here, and that should stimulate the flow of moist air up from the Gulf — the Gulf of Mexico, this time.

"NOW IF that happens, one of three things can happen. The warm, moist air being sucked in from the Gulf could run into this front — let's see — yes, here it is up here across the northwest corner of the country.

There's a well-defined storm system moving in from there, but not much should happen as a result. There are few minor thundershowers — Seattle had four inches in 30 minutes and Tacoma has flash flooding, else most of the rains are in the moderate range, like two to three inches.

"BUT BACK to the warm air and the front, they could collide, and that would trigger some thunderstorms down there, and, while we don't want to alarm you, you all know that this means that twisters could occur — right along here, and Zip!

"Or, a second possibility is that the front could become stationary and these two L's could move like so, and there you have it — well, when moisture comes up the trough, and moisture comes up the trough, and the hydrant on — pretty hard on the Gulf, you know.

"BUT LET'S move on to the third possibility. That high pressure system just decide to stay where it is, and then anything could happen. So the outlook for tomorrow is partly cloudy, not much change in temperature, and with a 20 per cent chance for late afternoon showers, and a stockman's warnings. Good night and good weather!"

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

We hear a lot about angels, but has any living person ever seen one? Do you suppose they are like us earth people, or are they a special breed?

E.M. The Bible has hundreds of references to angels, both good and bad. In the Old Testament, David promised "He shall give His angels charge over thee to keep thee in all thy ways." (Psalms 91:11) In the New Testament of course, it was an angel who announced Christ's birth (Luke 2:10, 11) and even Paul once said, "There stood by me this night the angel of God." (Acts 27:23)

Indeed, angels are a special class of being — created to be sure, yet a notch above us mortals. One thing they have never experienced, the Bible says, is the drama of our redemption. None the less, they do God's bidding, and assist in the operation of His universe.

We don't know why, but as the church age progressed, angels became less evident, at least less visible. Perhaps, in this time of faith and grace, since the incarnation of Christ, the need for the visible operation of angels has decreased.

In any event, don't underestimate their numbers and their activity. Once Christ spoke of twelve legions of angels who could be summoned to His aid. (Matthew 26)

Today, I believe we are surrounded by these things. They facilitate the life of the believer in accordance with God's will, and at death, gently carry the departed to heaven.

One of the pleasant reaches of a Christian's imagination is the vision of life here as part of a great family. A family where through faith, Christ Himself becomes our elder brother, and a host of angels our ministering servants — all to bring glory to God and a fruitful, happy life to us.

Political Abductions

By ROBERT D. OHMAN
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — On Sept. 4, 1969, anti-government guerrillas in Rio de Janeiro kidnaped the U.S. ambassador to Brazil, C. Burke Elbrick.

He was freed after the government released 15 prisoners, but his abduction set in motion a wave of political kidnapping in Latin America that is still growing in some countries.

The tactic of seizing an official for political gain spread to Guatemala, Mexico, Uruguay and Argentina. There also were isolated cases in the Dominican Republic, Columbia and Bolivia.

Common criminals, noting the reluctance of governments to risk the lives of those kidnaped, decided it was easier to snatch a wealthy victim for a cash ransom than rob a bank.

Diplomats and businessmen have been the chief targets, and the ever-present threat has forced them to change their lives. Embassies have become fortresses with the diplomats under constant armed guard. Business houses have increased their security staffs and assigned bodyguards to their leading executives.

Some kidnappings go unreported to protect the victims' lives, but there have been more than 200 since 1969 in Argentina, Uruguay, Brazil, Mexico and Guatemala.

It is estimated that a fourth of these were committed by antigovernment guerrillas, generally leftists or anarchists.

Most of the victims were released unharmed after the kidnapers' conditions were met, but a dozen have been slain.

Nearly 150 so-called political prisoners have been set free and flown to Cuba, Algeria or Chile.

In Argentina alone, ransoms totaling $13 million have been paid in the past 12 months, including a record $1.7 million last month for a British tobacco executive.

Tough military measures in Brazil and Uruguay virtually have stamped out political kidnapping. The crime has also tapered off in Guatemala, but it continues simmering in Mexico and has skyrocketed in Argentina.

Argentine police registered six major abductions in 1970 and three in 1971. They jumped to 18 in 1972 and soared to 29 in the first four months of this year.

Unsung Feminist

Persons who visit the State Cemetery on the fringes of the Capitol complex in Austin probably will be most struck with the grave of Gen. Albert Sidney Johnston.

IT IS COVERED with a full-length sculpture of the general reclining in death.

If it is raining and you don't care to roam the cemetery, you can go to the Elisabet Ney Museum and see the original — the cemetery version is an authorized marble one, commissioned and paid for by the State of Texas.

WHO WAS Elisabet Ney? Well, it's surprising that the women's liberation movement hasn't put her on a pedestal as a symbol of the emancipated sex.

For in the 1800s and early 1900s, she insisted that she was an individual and not just an appendage.

It is highly probable that if you begin discussing her in some circles in Austin that lips will tighten and she will be referred to still as that "scandalous woman."

Walk into the front entrance of the Capitol and you are struck by a pair of heroic statues by Miss Ney. One is of Sam Houston and the other of Stephen F. Austin.

Look at the toes of both these statues. Small boys, surrendering to an impulse to touch, have worn the toes of both heroes.

MISS NEY was brought to mind by a recent story by Dick Roberts of the Travel and Information Division of the Texas Highway Department. It appeared in the department's official magazine, Texas Highways.

Roberts seems of the same opinion that Miss Ney should receive some recognition from women's liberation.

Miss Ney stormed the gates of the art schools of Germany against all the traditions forbidding women to become sculptors.

She was brilliant and soon was doing portraits of some of the great of Germany.

She married a Dr. Edmund D.

Montgomery but do you think she became Mrs. Dr. Edmund D. Montgomery? Not on your life.

She insisted that she still be called Miss Ney.

THE COUPLE came to the New World in 1870 and bought a plantation called Liendo near Hempstead. It had been established in 1853.

You can imagine the scandal in that atmosphere.

She never referred to Dr. Montgomery as her husband. She identified him to her neighbors as "my friend."

Well, that set tongues wagging, you can bet. Living in sin like that!

Few if any took the trouble to discover that in an apparent moment of concession to custom the Montgomerys had recorded their marriage certificate in the Waller County Courthouse.

DR. MONTGOMERY selected Texas as their home — or perhaps Miss Ney did — because he hoped the Texas climate would cure his tuberculosis.

For nearly 20 years, Miss Ney and her husband — notice how a study of her life turns the reference around from "Dr. Montgomery and his wife" — tried to make a living of farming with only moderate success.

Miss Ney and Montgomery then moved to Austin and she resumed her sculpting.

It is quite surprising that she picked Texas as their home, for the angular stone edifice at 304 East 44th St. is rather ugly.

But the house was comfortable inside and well arranged for her studio work.

SHE SCANDALIZED even sophisticated Austin, although her life style apparently did not prevent her from obtaining many commissions, largely from the state.

For one thing, she wore trousers instead of a skirt. And she cut her hair short.

Persons who know anything at all about Miss Ney even now are inclined to repeat a disturbing story.

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

After 80, Ease Up

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can you tell me why, after I walk two or three blocks, I get a tight feeling in my chest? After I rest for a few minutes I am okay. This is more or less after each meal. I am 80 and still do a good day's work.—H.P.

Congress or somebody should provide medals for people who still do a good day's work at 80. But at 80, you've still got to admit that you aren't as young as you used to be.

I'd prefer to examine you physically before giving you too glib an answer as to why you have that "tight feeling" in the chest, but I'll hazard what seems to me to be a possibility that fits the facts you gave me.

Your heart, after 80 years has done a lot of work, and you can't blame it for getting a bit tired. Well, maybe not "tired," but it doesn't have the zing it used to have.

Now hold on a minute! If you think I'm saying you have heart disease — I'm not! I'm just saying that we all get older, and we have to accept it. In your 80 years your heart has beaten something like three million times, and considering that, it evidently is in pretty good shape still. Just — well, it's older.

It still keeps pumping blood around your body, but it doesn't do it quite as easily now. So when you walk two or three blocks, that tight feeling in the chest is a polite warning that your heart doesn't want to be pushed any harder than that.

You comment cannily that this happens particularly after a meal. That's not surprising. Additional blood circulation to the digestive organs is required after we eat. Think of it this way: digesting food, separating it into the various nutrients and absorbing them, is work.

It's your heart that circulates the blood to nourish the organs for his work, so your heart is called upon for a bit more effort after a meal.

That's why you get this "tight feeling," this warning signal from your heart, after your meals.

I repeat: although it needs more rest than formerly, you evidently have a pretty good heart.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I've always had trouble with my nose, sneezing perpetually in the spring, summer and fall. I don't think I will ever go on a hayride again without at least two boxes of tissues.

The most irritating part of my problem, usually in the evening, is that one side or the other of my nose clogs up and I can't get any air through it.

Does this indicate some serious sinus problem? Is there medication that would help?—J.Z.

Whether your sinus is involved is beside the point, although such continued congestion probably will affect your sinuses if it hasn't happened already.

From the sounds of things, I would suspect that your first line of defense would be to put yourself in the hands of an allergist. You have the signs of being allergic to growing things — trees, grasses, flowers, plants. An allergist can readily test you for the more common offenders in these groups.

Much heart trouble is preventable. Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of his booklet, "How To Take Care of Your Heart," enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

The Concerned Pros

By Rowland Evans
And Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — In a sudden burst of emotion, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, the usually unemotional 1964 Republican presidential nominee, confided to a colleague that he would "gladly" give up his seat in the Senate to become Richard Nixon's White House staff chief — if the President asked him.

WHAT GOLDWATER was telling his Republican friend was that Mr. Nixon must give his innermost staff the solid political professionalism so dangerously lacking the past four years. One obvious place to look for that professionalism, Goldwater was saying, is among Republicans in the Senate or House.

Goldwater's sensational offer came shortly after he heard that Mr. Nixon had picked four-star Gen. Alexander Haig as his "interim" White House chief of staff.

AT THE SAME time, and without Goldwater's knowledge, an informal committee of Nixon aides who predate the H. R. Halderman-John Ehrlichman regime — some inside the White House and some outside — has been conducting its own private investigation of what the President should do to begin restoring order, decency and political action to the White House. Their answer in part:

persuade a Republican member of the House with long service and high standing within the party to move to the White House.

One suggestion: Rep. John Rhodes of Arizona, a popular conservative who is also chairman of the House Republican Policy Committee.

STILL OTHER proposals from the highest levels of the Republican party have bleekly but frontally warned Mr. Nixon that he cannot temporize in building his new White House staff, or risk not installing a chief of staff both acceptable and responsive to Republican officeholders and other party professionals. Otherwise, he will lose what chance he has to recapture the allegiance of his own party.

THUS, ONE former member of the first Nixon Cabinet who stands high with both party brass and rank-and-file is quietly pushing a two-part solution to the President's immediate problems of staff and the matter of an independent Watergate prosecutor: put a party regular acceptable to the congressional wing in charge of the White House staff; and name an elder statesman from the Democratic party, thoroughly familiar with the importance of protecting the interests of the presidency, as chief Watergate prosecutor.

Marquis Childs

Reverberations

PEKING — President Nixon's finest hour was when he came to Peking in February 1972 to end 20 years of isolation from the world's most populous nation.

A SPECTACULAR performance on television, it was meant not as an end in itself but as the first step in a renewal of the close relationship that had once existed. In short, it was a new turn in the long love affair between the United States and China.

That is important to recall in light of the disaster to the Nixon Administration. For the Chinese, in receiving the President and reversing the propaganda so long targeted on the wickid imperialism, put a far greater stake on the ultimate outcome than did the United States.

MY WIFE and I had been in China for 36 hours before we learned of the President's dramatic appeal to the nation and the housecleaning of top officials. Then we got the news from a fellow American who had still been in Hong Kong when the story broke. Not a word in any Chinese newspaper or on the state radio.

At the very top, to be sure, the full text of the President's address came by short-wave shortly after it was delivered. Excerpts from the address and a report of the events of that dramatic night were contained in a private semi-official letter going out to the cadres (some 5,000,000) in the provincial capitals throughout the country. Add another several million with transistor radios capable of picking up short-wave broadcasts on BBC or the Voice of America and the total would be perhaps one per cent of the 800 million Chinese.

FOR THAT one per cent the future of an administration in Washington with three and a half years still in office is supremely important. This is not alone for the mutual benefits that can flow between the two countries but for the peace of the entire world.

The Nixon-Kissinger structure of peace is three-cornered. China, the United States and the Soviet Union are in relationship of tension eased by common compromise. The American weight in this three-cornered structure is essential in view of the deep-seated hostility between the People's Republic and the Soviet Union.

Monthly Flea Market Lure To Dealers And Curious

By MARJ CARPENTER
 Once a month, Big Spring is a big antique center and antique dealers and customers who like antiques congregate here. This assembly is for the monthly flea market, which has been held by May Belle's Antiques, every third weekend for seven years. Mrs. Mabel Kountz, who owns the shop, hosts the big Flea Market. Dealers come from as far away as New York, Las Vegas, and locations in New Mexico and Oklahoma. "We trade and buy from each other as well as to the many customers who appear each month," Mrs. Kountz added.

RECENT MOVE
 For several years, the group held its sales on the College Center Parking lot but have moved them to East 3rd Street alongside Maybelle's Shop. "We like it here because we're out of the wind," Mrs. Kountz stated. She has even planted trees alongside the building and plans to beautify the area. Her own shop is tremendously interesting and is in three sections. One section is for antiques, one section belongs to the "peddler" who claims he can fix anything — antique or modern. The third section is leased by Mary Holloway, artist. And she has some beautiful paintings in her shop, which is called "Signor's." She is having a showing of her own this weekend in Hobbs, N.M.

This year has been particularly disastrous weather-wise. Maybelle has begun to feel like adopting the old mailman motto — "Through hail, frost, snow and sleet, etc." WEATHER DISASTER
 This year, every third weekend has featured a disaster in weather, Maybelle stated. "We had snow, ice, sleet, hail, wind, sand, rain, and fog," she added. "But last weekend, we had one pretty day out of two, so things are looking up." The next market is scheduled for May 19-20 and Maybelle is hoping for two "beautiful days."

Residents Sounded Out On Epilepsy Center

Fred Ross of Houston, regional manager of the Epilepsy Foundation of America, has contacted some area residents who are interested in forming a Midland-Odessa-Big Spring epilepsy chapter.

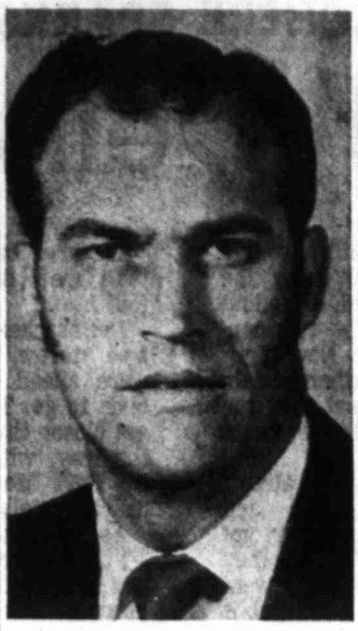

Some of the purposes for the chapter would be to promote research and to make known available treatment, improve educational opportunities for epilepsy and to educate and provide information to the general public.

The chapter would aid in problems concerning the person who has epileptic seizures in requests for basic information, names of qualified physicians, information regarding anti-convulsant drugs, legal problems and counseling for the multitude of personal problems which epileptics endure.

There are seven state chapters in various cities in Texas, which have proven to be helpful with their enthusiastic organization of doctors and volunteers, according to Ross.

The meeting to plan the new chapter will be held in Midland May 17, 7:30 p.m. in the parlor of the First Presbyterian Church, 800 West Texas Ave.

Interested persons should contact Mrs. Bill Early, 1704 State Street, Big Spring or call her at 7-2792. She is at the state hospital on Mondays.

Destruction of the eyores structures will be done at no cost to the owners if they are financially unable to upgrade the buildings to meet city building, plumbing and electrical code standards.

In attempts to obtain voluntary compliance with condemnation, David Zellers, code enforcement inspector, will be accompanied by groups of neighbors when meeting with the property owners.

"We will try to form neighborhood groups to develop pride in their community," Nagel said. Floyd McIntyre and Father James Delaney agreed to help city representatives obtain voluntary compliance from northside owners in order to upgrade the appearance of the city's north section.

Old Buildings In Two Sections To Be Razed

By ANN STEVENS

City commissioners approved Tuesday a summer program to tear down dilapidated vacant buildings primarily on the north and west sides of town and tabled a request to rezone a north side addition to allow siting of trailer homes in the four-block area.

City manager Harry Nagel said the city will begin condemning run-down abandoned buildings throughout town on June 2 when a 28-member labor force funded by the federal government through the Permian Basin Regional Planning Council begins summer work for the city.

Other means of raising funds to promote tourism. Mayor Pro Tem Eddie Acric appointed Commissioners Polly Mays and Harold Hall, Chamber officials Ron Mercer and Arnold Marshall and motel owners Mrs. Vernon Stewart and F. B. Estep to a committee to look into other methods of fundraising.

Purpose of the motel tax, as outlined by Chamber spokesmen requesting the tax, is to fund promotion of the city through advertising and other means of attracting tourists to visit Big Spring.

To HIRE TECHNICIAN

To comply with Texas Water Quality Board requirements, the Commission approved spending $7,606.90 to hire a lab technician and two laborers for the sewage treatment plant and to plant trees around the plant for an esthetic value.

Nagel explained that fines up to $1,000 a day could be levied by the Water Quality Board if the city did not comply.

The lab technician would analyze sewage samples from throughout the city to determine where chrome and silver deposits are coming. Nagel said there is already a qualified applicant for the post which would carry a $447 monthly stipend.

Nagel said the tree-planting, to cost $1,500 would improve both the aesthetic value of the sewage plant and would change wind currents in the area helping to confine odors.

BOUGHT VEHICLES

In other action the Commission:

—Awarded bids totaling $71,944.53 for equipment. Contracts included $24,997.50 to Plains Machinery for a motor

Cage Series Ends Tonight

BALTIMORE (AP) — The six-game series between Russian and American basketball teams, characterized by rugged play on both sides, concludes tonight, with the United States holding a commanding 4-1 lead. A near-capacity crowd is expected at the Civic Center when the United States, sparked by the shooting and playmaking of Ernie DiGregorio, rides in on a three-game winning streak. DiGregorio was hailed Tuesday by Vladimir Kandrashin, the Russian coach, as "sort of the conductor of the game; one who changes the climate of the game."

Apparently fresh in Kandrashin's mind was the contest in New York Monday night, when the 6-foot guard scored 25 points and handed out 11 assists in an overtime U.S. victory. In the five games played thus far, DiGregorio has tallied 90 points and baffled the visitors with his dribbling and passing.

For the last two contests, he's received scoring help from Providence College teammate Marvin Barnes, who has pumped in 29 points. Len Elmore, a leaper from Maryland, has grabbed 19 rebounds in the past two games, including a series-high 11 in Indianapolis. The Soviets, whose lone triumph came in the second game of the tour, have relied on the play of big Aleksander Belov, who scored the winning basket in the disputed victory over the U.S. in last summer's Olympic championship in Munich.

DeBUSSCHERE SPARKS WIN 'Hope Shot' Delivers Knicks

NEW YORK (AP) — "It was a hope shot," explained New York Knick forward Dave DeBusschere. "I was looking for the free throws—it was just luck that the ball went in." A horde of reporters were gathered in the New York trainer's room where the 6-foot-6 DeBusschere, an ice pack on his sore right knee, was describing the key play in the Knicks' 103-98 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers Tuesday night at Madison Square Garden. The Lakers had cut a 21-point New York lead down to two, 94-92, with one minute to go. Los Angeles was surging, having scored eight points in a row. The Knicks were disorganized. Walt Frazier had fouled out, and none of the Knicks was shooting well. Knick forward Bill Bradley tried a jump shot from the right side. It missed, bounding high off the rim. The two centers, Willis Reed of New York and massive Wilt Chamberlain of Los Angeles, went for the rebound—with DeBusschere lurking alongside. "Willis kept the ball alive," said DeBusschere. "He and Wilt went up, but neither got control of the ball. When they came down, that's when I went up. I just grabbed it and put it back up. "Wilt reacted by grabbing me. The shot I threw up was just a hope shot. I was playing for the foul, since Wilt had both his arms around me." The ball went in, and the foul was called on Chamberlain. "It was instinct," the 7-1

Chamberlain said of the foul. "He just had better position than me; all I could do was foul him." DeBusschere calmly sank the free throw, and the Knicks were ahead 97-92 with 48 seconds to go. The Lakers couldn't get closer than three feet of the way, with two free throws by Earl Monroe and four by Knicks safely ahead. As a result, New York took a 3-1 lead in the National Basketball Association's championship playoffs. The Knicks can wrap up the best-of-7 series with a victory in Los Angeles Thursday night. DeBusschere finished with 33 points, his career playoff high. He had 22 in the first half, when the Knicks raced in front 47-26, then took a 55-44 margin into the locker room. Reed added 21 points, Frazier 19. For the Lakers, guards Gail Goodrich and Jerry West each had 22. "The Knicks led by 13 after the third quarter and were ahead 94-84 with five minutes to go before the Lakers reeled off eight straight points before DeBusschere's crusher. How does a team blow a 21-point lead? "They have a lot of great players, who started to do a lot of things right," offered Knick Coach Red Holzman. "Twenty-point leads don't hold up in this series," said DeBusschere. "These teams are too good. You almost have to get in front by 20, because you have the nasty tendency to let down, especially on defense. I think I'd be scared with a 40-point lead."

Pacers One Away From ABA Crown

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Bob Leonard called it "the greatest series" he's ever seen in the American Basketball Association. The Indiana Pacer coach could afford an optimistic outlook with his club just one game away from another league championship and a chance to wrap it up before the home folks in Indianapolis Thursday night. The Pacers, on George McGinnis' last-minute heroics, edged the Kentucky Colonels 89-86 Tuesday night in game No. 5 and, for the second time, won on the Colonels' court for a 3-2 edge in the best-of-7 series. McGinnis stole an in-bounds pass at midcourt and dribbled under for a stuff shot that applied the clincher with only 23 seconds left. Only seconds before, McGinnis came close to being a goat, when he broke under the basket, and a pass trickled off his fingertips to give the Colonels possession. The crowd of 16,779 saw the neighboring state rivals playing tough defense in a game that was void of the high emotions and rowdiness that had marked some of the earlier contests. The teams opened the final quarter with the Colonels in front 64-62, but six-year veteran Freddie Lewis hit 11 of Indiana's first 13 points in the period as the Pacers opened their biggest advantage at nine points. That spurt was aided by stolen passes by rookie Don Buse that led to six of the Indiana

Brahaney, Strock To Play In All-America Grid Tilt

LUBBOCK — Oklahoma's Tom Brahaney, a two-time All-America center from Midland, and whip-armed quarterback Don Strock of Virginia Tech head a list of 10 players who will play in the 13th annual Coaches All-America Football Game, it was announced Tuesday. The contest, hailed by Sports Illustrated magazine as "the best of the all-star games," is slated for June 23 in Texas Tech's Jones Stadium. Brahaney, a finalist for the Vince Lombardi Award presented annually to the best lineman in college football, was the hub of the Oklahoma offensive line that helped the Sooners lead the nation in total offense, rushing and scoring in 1971 and 1972. Strock, meanwhile, completely rewrote Virginia Tech's record book in two years as a regular.

Black Hawks Nab Wild 8-7 Win Over Montreal

MONTREAL (AP) — "I can't explain it, really. It was a wide-open game on both sides," said Montreal Coach Scotty Bowman in the understatement of Tuesday night's record-shattering Stanley Cup shootout. Chicago Black Hawks prevailed 8-7 over Montreal to cut the Canadiens' lead to 3-2 in the best-of-seven series which now moves to Chicago for the sixth game. It will be nationally televised Thursday night (8 p.m. EDT-NBC). If a seventh game is needed, it will be played in Montreal Sunday afternoon. The Canadiens started the scoring parade at 2:47 of the first period on a goal by Frank Mahovlich and there was no letup until the final gun sounded with the Canadiens furiously putting on a six-man attack in an effort to tie the contest. "Unbelievable," was the word used in both dressing rooms after the game. "I was sitting on the bench praying," said Stan Mikita, the Black Hawk star who scored two goals and added two assists to the Chicago total. The two teams battled to a 2-2 tie in the first period and then pumped in eight goals in the second period with the Hawks scoring five to take a 7-5 lead which they never relinquished. The eight goals in one period and 15 in the game set Stanley Cup records. "I've never seen anything like it," said Mahovlich.

LAMESA — Phil Palmer tossed a four-hitter Tuesday as the Lamesa Golden Tors stopped the Brownfield Cubs 5-3 in the fifth game of their Dist. 3-AAA baseball playoff. Lane Held stroked a double and a triple and Kyle White drove in the winning runs with a triple as the Tors upped their season record to 14-6. Game No. 6 is set for 4:30 p.m. Friday in Brownfield. LUBBOCK — The defending state champion Lubbock Monterey Plainsmen won a coin flip Tuesday and the right to play two of their three bi-district playoff games with Amarillo Tascosa at home. The series starts Tuesday at 4:30 p.m. in Amarillo.

RIGGS SURE OF EASY VICTORY OVER COURT

RAMONA, Calif. (AP) — Women's tennis? "I think it stinks," says Bobby Riggs. Tongue firmly in cheek and hand on wallet ready for a friendly wager, the 55-year-old Riggs hoisted the banner of male supremacy Tuesday as he prepared for his three-set, $10,000 match Sunday with 30-year-old Australian Margaret Court — a contest he modestly termed "the match of the century." "They're fun to watch," Riggs said of women players. "They hit the ball back and forth, have a lot of nice volleys. You can see some pretty legs. But compare the caliber of tennis to men and it's night and day. "I'm out to prove that a guy 55 years old, with one foot in the grave, can play with the best woman in the world and maybe beat her. It'll be a big boost for men's superiority." Riggs won the Wimbledon and U.S. Championships in 1959, 27 years before Mrs. Court performed the same feat. He's still a top player in the seniors division; she's the leading money winner on the women's tour.

DALLAS (AP) — The computers say it's Stan Smith all the way to the finals in the 100,000 World Championship of Tennis beginning tonight, but by old Ken Rosewall, the only man ever to win the $50,000 prize, is again lurking in the backstretch. # Matlack Hit In Head; Score's Fate Recalled

By The Associated Press
On May 7, 1967, a left-handed pitcher who broke into the major leagues by winning Rookie of the Year honors was hit in the head by a line drive and was never the same.

On May 8, 1973, a left-handed pitcher who broke into the major leagues by winning Rookie of the Year honors was hit in the head by a line drive and...

damage than Score did. The Cleveland star was struck in the eye and never recaptured the brilliance of his brief career.

Matlack, 23, got the left side of his forehead in front of a hard line off the bat of Atlanta's Marty Perez in the seventh inning of the Braves' 10-6 victory over the Mets but apparently suffered nothing worse than an egg-sized lump, although he wound up in the hospital for overnight observation and routine X rays.

Elsewhere in the National League, Montreal ended Houston's nine-game winning streak

4-3, Los Angeles turned back Pittsburgh 7-4, San Francisco outslugged St. Louis 9-7, the Chicago Cubs edged San Diego 3-2 in 12 innings and Cincinnati downed Philadelphia 7-1.

American League scores: Chicago 1, Boston 0; Kansas City 7, Detroit 2; New York 14, Minnesota 4; Texas 5, Milwaukee 3; Cleveland 2, California 0. Oakland at Baltimore was rained out.

Matlack sailed into the seventh inning with a 3-1 lead when the mishap occurred with two out and the bases loaded. The ball caromed off his head across the first-base line, landing on the fly near the Mets' dugout and rolling in for a ground-rule double.

After Perez' shot, reliever Phil Hennigan issued an intentional walk to Hank Aaron, whose 681 home runs are second to Babe Ruth on the all-time list. That brought up Dave Johnson, who had homered earlier and ranks second on the Braves in lifetime homers—mere 611 behind Aaron. Johnson hit a fly ball that caromed off the top of the bullpen fence in right field for a grand slam home run that highlighted a seven-run inning.

JIM RICH

Rich Accepts Olton Position

Jim Rich, eighth grade coach at Goliah the past two years, has accepted a position as head basketball coach at Olton High School of Dist. 3-A.

Rich, whose junior high teams have posted a 35-8 record in his stay here, will be moving to the panhandle city early in June. Olton Supt. Joe Turner and athletic director Ed Miller made the appointment.

After his graduation from HPC in 1965, he coached two years at Hart. He left coaching for a year, then returned to guide Olton to two district titles in 1969-70. His season marks at that Class A school were 20-3 and 21-5.

At Goliah, Rich's teams posted 19-5 and 16-3 records.

Senior League Registration Set

Senior League baseball sign up has been set for Thursday from 4:30 p.m. to 7 p.m. at Birdwell Park across from the high school, according to league president Al Valdes.

Sixteen players have signed to play already, and if a total of 30 boys register, Big Spring will field two teams to compete with teams from Coahoma and Snyder. Boys 17 and 18 years of age are eligible.

Valdes, Big Spring high school coach Larry Horton, Ray Perkins and Woody Woods have indicated they will work with the Senior League.

Archery Group Schedules Shoot

The Howard County Archery Club will have its monthly club shoot Sunday at 2 p.m. at the club range two miles north of Cahoma.

Medals will be awarded to first place finishers in the men's and women's competition, while second and third places, as well as top shooters in the youth groups, will earn ribbons. For other information archers may contact range captain Dewey Howard at 263-2642.

Expos Nip Houston On York's Error

MONTREAL (AP) — The Montreal Expos stopped the winning streak of the Houston Astros at nine games Tuesday night, but they needed the help of Astros relief pitcher Jim York to do it.

York's throwing error in the last of the ninth inning allowed the Expos to break a tie and take the game 4-3.

With the score 3-all, right-hander Ken Forsch retired Ron Fairly on the grounder to second base, but Ken Singleton walked and Ron Woods singled, sending the big outfielder to third.

York, the Astros' top performer in the bullpen, drew the summons and intentionally walked John Beccabella.

Boots Day batted for Bob Bailey in the clutch situation and he hit a perfect double play ball back to York.

Singleton was beating down the path to home plate but York first wheeled around and made as if to throw to second base—only to find no one was covering the bag.

As Astros catcher John Edwards yelled, "Home, home!" York did throw toward home plate but the ball bounced in the dirt and Singleton scored, snapping the Astros' win streak.

With the wind whipping straight out, the baseballs followed as Tommy Agee, Cesar Cedeno and Fairly all blasted home runs.

Agee hit the first one in the second inning and Cedeno another in the third.

Smallest Ranger Directs 5-3 Win

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Whatever it is about the Texas Rangers that brings out the worst in the Milwaukee Brewers surfaced again Tuesday night, this time with a big assist from the smallest man in the visitors' lineup.

Ken Suarez, the Rangers' 5-foot-9 catcher and ninth man in their batting order, scored twice and doubled in a run. He also cut off two Brewers runs with a pair of defensive plays, the difference in a 5-3 Texas victory.

Brewers rookie Gorman Thomas opened the third inning with the first of his three singles but was picked off moments later on Suarez' snap throw to third. That prevented a run because Darrell Porter followed with a walk and Pedro Garcia singled.

Suarez' other big play came in the sixth when Milwaukee, down 3-0, chased Rangers starter Pete Broberg with a walk, a single and a run-scoring single by Dave May.

George Scott greeted reliever and eventual winner Charlie Hudson with a run-scoring double, but May also tried to score on the hit and was called out on a disputed play at the plate.

Scott scored the tying run soon afterward, barreling into Suarez and beating the throw from second baseman Jim Mason, who had fielded John Briggs' grounder.

But Texas scored the decisive run in the eighth when Mike Epstein was hit by a pitch by loser Billy Champion, moved to second on a walk, took third on a fielder's choice and sprinted home on Elliott Maddox' slow grounder to short. Alex Johnson singled Suarez home with an insurance run in the ninth.

HOROSCOPE

By CAROL RIGNER

THURSDAY, MAY 10, 1973

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day of evening when you need to avoid almost any sort of argument or discussion with anyone else and to make sure you do not get so involved in the small things of life that you neglect a pleasant and kind word for those with whom you are allied. Hostile words or acts could lead to estrangement.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Handle all those replies to letters and other responsibilities you have very intelligently today and get good results. Don't waste time criticizing a co-worker. TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Put yourself in professional hands and improve your appearance considerably. Get much pleasure. Try to be more active person and you become happier.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You want to make good changes at home. Try to be more active and charming.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You are in a fighting mood. Be sure you do not get into arguments with associates. You may have to let some disappointing letter float your way. This can be turned to your benefit later.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 31) Cultivate the habit of economy now and you soon will be able to make more constructive investments. That business expert is not in a good mood. Await a better day to deal with him. Take it easy.

FRIGIDAIRE (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Don't

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You may not see things as your friends do, but if you give in a little, you gain much instead of losing a good deal. Don't be argumentative or facetious with anyone. Diplomacy is your best bet. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Show a bigwig you imitate him and make a real place for yourself; improve your reputation considerably. Make sure you pay that bill, or you get into trouble later. LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You're now able to get all of those duties awaiting your attention, but do them in a methodical fashion for best results. Cheer mate who may be in a sad mood. SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You may not see things as your friends do, but if you give in a little, you gain much instead of losing a good deal. # Astronauts Will Monitor Earth's Natural Resources

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Astronauts will play their first role as monitors of earth's natural resources when they board the Skylab space station. They will use a $37 million array of six photosensors to evaluate actual and potential resources over a wide area of the globe.

A dozen countries have asked the astronauts to employ the sensors to scan farmlands, mountain ranges, river basins and watersheds in search of everything from minerals to crop disease.

The Skylab is scheduled to be launched May 14, with a three-man crew joining it following day.

"The Skylab earth resources experiments offer an almost unlimited potential for near term benefits affecting man here on earth," reported astronaut Paul J. Weitz. He is the space expert on the Skylab crew.

"During the five months the station will be manned by three crews, it will fly over 75 percent of the earth's surface, including the entire United States except Alaska," Weitz said.

"With this excellent view, data can be obtained applicable to mankind's most pressing problems, such as weather, food production, pollution, flooding, mineral reserves."

erosion and the depletion of natural resources." Weitz emphasized the sensors are experimental, designed to determine which instruments can best be used by man in space and which can be operated on unmanned satellites.

"But," he said, "they could lead to a science in such things as mapping snow cover and assessing water runoff potentials; mapping air and water pollution and their sources; assessing diseased and healthy crops; timber volume estimate; locating arable land; determining sea status and fishing grounds, and locating hidden oil and mineral reserves."

Jury Indicts Ex-Judge On Theft, Forgery Raps

VICTORIA, Tex. (AP) — A former Victoria County judge has been indicted on 11 counts charging felony theft, misappropriation and embezzlement of funds and forgery.

William C. Sparks was billed Tuesday by a county grand jury which had been investigating his official conduct since April 30.

Sparks resigned April 9 after a routine audit by county auditor Duane Mullenix uncovered discrepancies in accounting for state highway department right-of-way refund checks.

Total funds involved were $43,503.58. Most of the money has been restored and Sparks claims the funds were only mis-handled.

The former judge appeared shortly after the grand jury convened Tuesday, waived the two-day citation period, was arraigned before Dist. Judge Joe E. Kelly and pleaded innocent.

Kelly set bail at $2,000 on each charge and Sparks posted the bond.

Dist. Atty. Robert J. Seerden said the indictment involved nine transactions concerning state and county warrants and checks made payable to the county from private firms.
