WITNESS SAYS FINAL POLITICAL AUTHORITY RESTED WITH WHITE HOUSE

Watergate 'Bugs' Hearing Starts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The leadoff witness in Senate Watergate hearings said today that Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell was making major decisions about the Nixon re-election campaign for up to 10 months before he resigned as head of the Justice Department.

Robert C. Odle, former director of administration for the Committee for the Re-election of the President, also said there was no doubt that ultimate political authority for the campaign rested in the White House.

Odle was questioned at length by the tribunal of seven senators as it opened historic hearings into the wiretapping scandal.

OF COURSE, YES

Sen. Joseph Montoya, D-N.M., inquired about "decision memoranda" that Odle said were sent regularly to Mitchell in the Justice Department.

Q. Well, how far back was the committee or its administrator sending memoranda to Mr. Mitchell at the department of justice?

A. I would say, after it was there and had been staffed up for a while, May of 1971.

Q. And you still presume that he was making some major decisions in the Department of Justice prior to the time he resigned as attorney general?

A. Of course, yes.

Mitchell resigned as attorney general in March 1972, took a lengthy vacation and began functioning as campaign director in April, Odle testified.

Odle said he would routinely get Mitchell's approval, while he was at the Justice Department, for such matters as renting more office space or leasing cars. He said he didn't know what other decisions Mitchell approved by other campaign staffers.

Odle said he had not known of political sabotage or spying by the campaign committee.

OUTLINES SETUP

"Only what I've read in the newspapers," Odle, 28, testified before a crowded, nationally televised Senate hearing.

Much of Odle's testimony dealt with the administrative setup at the Nixon campaign committee.

Odle specifically denied that he destroyed any documents involving the Watergate affair—although he said the committee had shredding machines at "convenient points" in its offices.

He also denied receiving transcripts of wiretaps.

Odle said he was "absolutely not" involved in bugging activities.

He said he hired James W. McCord as a security man for the re-election committee. He also said he fired McCord, later convicted as a Watergate conspirator.

Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., asked whether the Committee for the Re-election of the President was solely under control of the President and his top aides.

LAUGHTER

Odle described the relationship as one of cooperation, not technical or legal control.

"Is it fair to say that the committee was set up, organized and directed from the White House?" Talmadge asked.

"Those people who were at the White House had influence over the committee, they gave it direction," Odle testified. "But the campaign director, of course, was not at the White House. He came from the Justice Department."

That drew laughter from the standing-room audience. The man at the Justice Department was former Atty. Gen. John N.

Mitchell, now under indictment in connection with a secret campaign contribution.

"There was no doubt as to where the ultimate authority lay, was there?" Talmadge asked.

"No, sir," said Odle.

NEVER, NEVER

Odle said he heard of the Watergate burglary on Saturday afternoon, June 17, 1972. It had happened early that morning.

He said he was told of a burglary at Democratic headquarters.

"And I said to some people (See 'BUGS,' Page 2-A, Col. 1)

MEXICO BOUND Killers Of Six Spotted In Texas?

REYNOLDSVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Police investigators say a fingerprint found at the farm where six members of a family were slain has been tentatively identified as belonging to an escaped convict wanted for questioning in the killings.

The convict is one of three escapees from a Maryland prison sought for questioning in the slayings of five male members of the Alday family and the slaying and rape of the young wife of one of the victims. Police also are seeking the teenaged half-brother of one of the convicts.

NEWS PHOTOS

In the East Texas town of Carthage, a service station attendant told police he sold gas early today to four men who asked directions to Mexico and whose descriptions matched those of the fugitives.

The attendant, Frank White, said he did not associate the men with the case until he saw photographs in a newspaper shortly after the men pulled out of the station. He said the men's car, which had Georgia license plates, was the same model as one missing from the Alday home.

GIRL TALKS

In Georgia, Seminole County Sheriff Dan White said he had not been informed of the Texas report. However, he said a girlfriend of one of the convicts had said the four planned to head for Mexico.

William Beardsley, director of the Georgia Division of Investigation, said Wednesday a fingerprint found at the farm has been tentatively identified as that of Carl Isaacs, 19.

White said he is ready to issue murder warrants "immediately" if fingerprints found at the scene of the slayings are positively matched.

BODIES FOUND

The search for the four men has focused on a car stolen from one of the six victims whose bodies were found Tuesday morning.

Law enforcement officers said the search was nationwide, but it was concentrated in Georgia, Alabama and Florida.

Authorities identified the four men being sought as George Dungee, 35; Wayne Coleman, 26, and his two half-brothers Carl Isaacs Jr., 19, and William Newton Isaacs, 15. All four men are from Baltimore, Md.

Maryland authorities said Coleman, Dungee and Carl Isaacs all are escapees from the Poplar Hill Correctional Camp on the eastern shore. The three were believed to have been joined after their escape by the younger Isaacs, who is wanted on a bench warrant in Baltimore County for failing to appear at a trial on burglary charges.

FOUR WEAPONS

The Georgia investigative unit said the murders of Ned Alday, a brother, three sons and the wife of one of the sons were committed with four weapons: a .22 caliber, a .32 caliber, a .38 caliber and a .380 caliber.

Authorities said they are looking for the murder weapons and a 1970 Chevrolet Impala that belonged to the dead woman, 26-year-old Mrs. Mary Alday.

War Powers Slash Voted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee approved 15 to 0 today a bill to limit the war powers of the President.

The measure, identical to one passed by the Senate last year, would allow a president, without prior approval of Congress, to use U.S. troops in combat for only 30 days to repel attack or the threat of attack on U.S. forces or territory, and the rescue of Americans endangered abroad or at sea.

The bill was re-introduced this year by Sen. Jack K. Javits, R-N.Y., with 57 Senate cosponsors.

As approved by the Senate Committee, it would not apply to "present hostilities." Javits said it therefore would not require a halt in the bombing of Cambodia, but would prevent re-introduction of U.S. military activity in Vietnam or Laos without approval of Congress.

Armed Police Recover Body Of Young Fem

VICTORIA FALLS, Rhodesia (AP) — Armed police today recovered the body of Christine Louise Sinclair, one of two young Canadian women killed by gunfire on the Zambia-Rhodesia border near Victoria Falls.

The search for the body of the other victim, Marion Iduma Drijber, was abandoned, after teams searched the banks of the fourth gorge 400 yards up river.

Miss Drijber, 19, of Rockwood, Ont., plunged down the rugged cliffs into the river's crocodile-infested waters in the gorge when she was shot on Tuesday.

Police said there were no incidents during the search. Canadian diplomats in Zambia had been assured that Zambian troops across the Zambezi river would not interfere.

Nixon, Aides Use Yacht For Cruise

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon cruised the Potomac River on the presidential yacht with two aides.

Nixon, with Alexander Haig Jr., White House chief of staff, and Ronald Ziegler, press secretary, went aboard the yacht Sequoia Wednesday evening at dinnertime.

CLOUDY

Clear to partly cloudy through Friday with no important temperature changes. High today and Friday in the 80s. Low tonight, mid 50s.

TAKING A GANDER — Melissa Tarvin, 3, of Phoenix, Ariz., believes that discretion is the better part of valor as she takes to a picnic table at a park to escape the curiosity of the geese, which inhabit the park's canals and lagoons.

'Buck Rogers Adventure' Sparked By Mercury Dip

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Temperatures in the overheated Skylab space station dropped overnight as the script was being written for a space adventure in which three astronauts will fly a repair mission to the orbiting laboratory.

The mission would require one of the astronauts to take a space walk to install an awning-like shield between the spacecraft and the blazing rays of the sun.

for the unprecedented attempt.

As planning continued, flight controllers reported they had adjusted the position of the Skylab in relation to the sun so that temperatures inside had cooled and seemed to have stabilized at between 90 and 105 degrees.

This was down from Wednesday's average 100 to 110 degrees.

If it works, Skylab 1 astronauts Charles Conrad Jr., Dr. Joseph P. Kerwin and Paul J. Weitz could save their 28-day orbital trip and the 56-day voyages planned later in the year for the Skylab 2 and 3 crews.

Plans for the flight are being drawn up by specialists at space agency centers at Cape Kennedy, Houston, Tex., and Huntsville, Ala., and at the contractor plants of Martin-Marietta in Denver and McDonnell-

Douglas Corp. in Huntington, Beach, Calif.

TIMETABLE

"I've asked all concerned to come up with detailed recommendations and a detailed timetable by Thursday afternoon," Skylab project director William C. Schneider told newsmen Wednesday.

He said the only barrier to the flight is the 100-degree-plus temperature in the interior of the 85-ton laboratory, which was launched unmanned from Cape Kennedy Monday into a 272-mile-high orbit.

And temperature seemed to have decreased and stabilized at between 100 and 110 degrees.

A launch mishap stripped an insulation shield and protective thermal paint from the side of the workshop, allowing the sun's heat to penetrate the vehicle.

Texas Senate Votes 30-1 For Open Records Action

AUSTIN (AP) — The Senate voted 30-1 for an open records bill today that would allow anybody to get copies of most public records.

The bill now goes back to the House for debate on Senate amendments.

One of those amendments, by Sen. H. J. Blanchard, D-Lubbock, would allow an agency head to require posting of a bond or prepayment of the cost of copying lengthy records.

PRICE FIGHT

The Senate rejected 9-22 an amendment by Sen. Don Adams, D-Jasper, that would have permitted the Department of Public Safety to set its own price on copying records. The DPS makes a profit from this operation now, mostly at the request of insurance companies, and Adams said the bill would cost the state $1 million a year.

There are several exceptions in the bill, including private correspondence and communications of elected officials and information that is "related solely to the internal personnel rules and practices of an agency."

Both the House and the Senate had long calendars of local and uncontested bills, but there was meatier fare scheduled for later in the day.

Senators were expected to complete action on a package of bills designed to end water district abuses after sending 10 to Gov. Dolph Briscoe Wednesday. Awaiting approval of House amendments were bills requiring districts to maintain permanent offices and records; prohibiting developers' relatives and associates from serving as district directors; and mandating public notice before sale of district bonds.

LEE'S DAY

House members planned to take final votes on a stack of Senate bills which were tentatively approved Wednesday, including measures that would: —Remove juke box industry representatives from the commission that regulates their business and permit taverns to own their own amusement machines.

—Declare Aug. 27, birthday of the late former President Lyndon Johnson, a state holiday in place of Robert E. Lee's birthday, June 3, would become "Confederate Heroes Day," honoring Davis, Lee and other "Confederate Heroes."

—Allow hunting of coyotes, bobcats, red foxes and cross-breeds between coyotes and dogs from the air in 19 counties, but only after receiving permits from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

—Require coverage from the moment of birth in all health insurance policies that include maternity and newborn care—something that many policies omit.

DOOR-TO-DOOR

—Give Texas consumers a three-day cooling-off period in which to cancel door-to-door sales contracts of $25 or more, which involve credit financing.

Wednesday saw action on two of the most important and controversial bills of the legislative session, which adjourns 12 days from now: school finance and the penal code.

The school finance bill would provide $1.8 billion in new state aid to local districts, phased in over a six-year period. It also would measure a district's ability to pay basic school expenses on market value of real estate and other taxable property, instead of on the present economic index.

Two Men Electrocuted In Patricia Accident

PATRICIA — Two men were killed and a third injured near here when they lifted an irrigation pipe accidentally touching it to a power line at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Esteban Yanez (Steve) Valerio, 25, of Patricia and Alfonso Calvio, 24, of Knott, were killed. Robert Oaks of Ackerly was listed in satisfactory condition at Medical Arts Hospital in Lamesa Wednesday night.

The accident happened while the men were making a delivery for Newcomer Butane Co., Ackerly, to the Donnell Echols farm 13 miles southwest of Patricia.

Oaks walked up and barely was touching the aluminum irrigation pipe when contact was made with a power line, Dan Saunders, Martin County Sheriff, said.

AFTER RABBIT

The three men were trying to shake a rabbit from the pipe, Saunders said. Oaks was knocked away from the pipe and went to a farm shop about three miles off for help.

Cap Rock Electric Co-Op Inc. turned off power so the bodies could be removed. Investigating with Saunders was Guy Kinnison, Dawson County Sheriff.

ALFONSO CALVIO

Services for Mr. Calvio will be held at 3 p.m. Friday at the First Baptist Church, Ackerly. The Rev. Julian Vigil, pastor of Ingelsia Baustista Le Fe, Big Spring, will officiate.

Burial will be in Ackerly Cemetery.

Mr. Calvio was born Oct. 19, 1948, in Big Spring and was graduated from Sands High School in 1968. He played both football and basketball for Sands.

Entering the Army in 1969, he served in Vietnam. He was a member of the First Baptist Church, Ackerly.

SEVEN BROTHERS

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Calvio, Ackerly; seven brothers, Jimmy Calvio and John Calvio, both of Big Spring, Sammy Calvio, Tony Calvio, Alex Calvio and David Calvio, all of Knott, and Salvador Calvio, Liberal, Kan.; and one sister, Erlinda Calvio, Knott.

ESTEBAN VALERIO

Services for Mr. Valerio will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday in St. Margaret Marys Catholic Church. Burial will be in Lamesa Memorial Park under the direction of Brandon Funeral Home.

A life-long resident of Dawson County, he served with the Air Force in England.

Survivors include his wife, Beatrice Valerio, one daughter of the home, Corina Valerio; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Santana Valerio, Patricia; four sisters, Mrs. Julia Gonzales, Lamesa, Mrs. Janie Molina, Fort Worth, Mrs. Anita Ybarra, Patricia, and Mrs. Elna Puentes, Odessa; three brothers, Sam Valerio, Phoenix, Ariz., Ignacio Valerio, Ill., and Domingo Valerio, Bay City, Mich.

'BUGS'

(Continued from Page 1) who were in that meeting ... I said that could never happen here because I've got a guy working for me named Jim McCord," Odle said.

McCord was security man for the Nixon committee—and one of the Watergate burglars.

Following an opening statement defending Nixon and the majority of his campaign workers, Odle was questioned in detail about the setup of the Committee for the Re-election of the President, and its lines of authority.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., opened the hearings, and said his panel "must probe into assertions that the very system itself has been subverted and its foundations shaken."

Ervin said Watergate disclosures have "cast a black cloud of distrust over our entire society. Our citizens do not know whom to believe ..."

To dispel that, he said, the Senate committee must find the truth.

NATION WATCHING

"The nation and history itself are watching us," he said. "We cannot fail our mission."

Then, in turn, other committee members promised thorough, impartial investigation. Odle testified that former presidential staff chief H. R. Haldean played a key role, along with former Atty. Gen. Mitchell, in selecting staff members for the Nixon campaign committees.

SILBERIO CANTU

JILL HUNT

Silberio Cantu, Jill Hunt Are Sands Honor Pupils

ACKERLY — Silberio Cantu, son of Domingo S. Cantu, became valedictorian for the 1973 Sands High School graduating class with a 93.92 grade average.

Jill Hunt is salutatorian with a 93.54 grade average. She is the daughter of Robert Hunt.

Co-captain of the football team, Silberio attained honorable mention on the all-district team and was chosen most valuable Sands defensive player.

After taking second in the district interscholastic slide rule contest, Silberio placed seventh in regional competition.

He belongs to the Beta Club and participated in the class play. The student body voted Silberio "Most Likely to Succeed" and "Most Conscientious."

Silberio plans to attend Angelo State University, Howard County Junior College is next for Jill.

Jill, a cheerleader for four years, also played basketball. She was named football sweetheart and "Most Beautiful."

She lists the Zale-Herald Youth Achievement Award, Beta Club, Who's Who, membership in the pep squad, co-editorship of the annual and FHA.

Uniform Traffic Signs Coming, White States

One of the signs of the times will be the gradual transition to sign forms that will be understood the world over, Jack White, Texas Highway Patrol, told the Downtown Lions at his Wednesday meeting in the Settles.

Deadline for the completion of standard signing is not until 1980 in Texas, but there is a definite move in that direction.

The octagon signs still will mean "stop," he said. Horizontal rectangles will be for guidance; triangles for yield; pennants for no passing; trapezoids for recreation areas; vertical rectangles for regulatory information (such as speed, etc.), a rectangle with a pitched roof for schools; circles for railroad.

Signs with a slash mark will be prohibitory. For the time being there will be a written sign below as in the case of a left-turn marker with a slash across it, and beneath: "No Left Turn." Eventually the wording will be eliminated, said White.

There will be a change in coloring, too. Mostly white will be for lane and turns; yellow for no passing and caution; orange in construction.

Texas is moving toward conformity of the 1966 federal safety standard act, which was adopted in 1970 by the Federal Highway Administration, he reported.

Jim Lemons, president, announced a board meeting for Tuesday evening. He also reported the light bulb sale had brought $1,617 to the club's sight-conservation and blind fund.

Oil Crisis Will Worsen, Chamber Members Told

The petroleum products crisis will get tighter before it gets better, even in this area, Rene Brown, Cosden Oil & Chemical vice president, predicted at a Chamber of Commerce membership breakfast at the Settles Thursday.

The best hope of minimizing the pinch will be Cosden's stepped-up refinery output due to arrival of foreign (Iraq) oil, he said. This will mean that Cosden should be able to produce at 60,000-barrels-per-day rated capacity, or perhaps in excess.

But, Cosden supplies most of the gasoline marketed in this area, regardless of brand (Cosden being a custom refiner, which manufactures gasoline to any specifications), so there still could be less than enough to go around. Some marginal stations might close, he added.

GROUPS CITED

Brown's talk on the energy situation, principally as it applies to petroleum, highlighted the session in which schools and youth groups were cited for their cleanup efforts. There were several individual awards.

Carl Smoot, for the Key Club, and Supt. Sam Anderson were presented with plaques. All elementary schools were presented with Texas flags that have flown over the state capital, and Cedar Crest, represented by Tom Henry, received in addition a United States flag which had flown over the national capital.

To Darrell Pittman went the $50 prize. The session was livened by a demonstration by Tom Fetters and others of an "electrical impulse" apparatus.

The domestic crude oil shortage is not the only problem, noted Brown, for there have been no new refineries (a little matter of a $200 million price tag for a modest-sized one), and there is a shortage of sites due to pressures by ecologists.

The gas situation may improve with well-head prices going up, but there will be a time lag of sufficient length to create a pinch at least through next winter. This also may be true for fuel oils, because of certain restriction on sulphur content. The LPG situation should improve as its use as a substitute fuel diminishes.

"Somebody's going to be cold next winter," he predicted.

WOULD HELP

Greater refining output will help alleviate the diesel shortage, which also could be helped if light industry abandons it for heating.

The government can help by releasing bans on some grades

Asks Revocation Of Probation

Elbert Ernest Turner, 25, of 1026 Birdwell Lane, was arrested Wednesday, and a complaint has been filed charging him with forgery and passing.

District Attorney Bob Moore filed a motion in 118th District Court to revoke the five years probation set for Turner on March 21.

Turner was convicted of defrauding with a worthless check for more than $50. He is now accused of passing a forced check for $47 at a local liquor store May 9.

Because of the motion to revoke probation, Turner is being held without bond in county jail.

Pioneer Will Ask Rate Hike

Pioneer Natural Gas Company officials announced today they are completing work on a rate study for Big Spring, Coahoma and Forsan.

The mayors of the three cities involved were notified last Dec. 27 by the company that an independent study of the facilities was to be made and city officials were invited to participate in the inspection. In addition to the inspection team of the independent consultant and company engineers, a representative of the railroad commission participated in the survey.

This week members of the commissions in Big Spring, Coahoma and Forsan were presented the results of the inspection with an analysis of the earnings. The Big Spring distribution system of Pioneer Natural Gas Company showed a significant deficiency in earnings, according to the study.

The company has not as yet made a request for an increase or determined the amount it will request.

Last year, company officials called to the attention of the commission that the Big Spring district contained the only town on the company's West Texas system without a cost-of-gas adjustment provision in the rate and requested, without success, that such a provision be included in the Big Spring rate.

This provision allows the increase in the average cost of gas in the field to be passed on to the customer at periodic intervals. Such a provision is, in the company's view, critical to maintaining an adequate gas supply. Such a provision will again be asked for in any request for an increase in rates, said company officials.

Pioneer's gas supply continues to be adequate. The company is continuing its active exploration and development of new gas supplies to insure service to its customers. The company's producing subsidiaries are spending record amounts in the acquisition of additional gas supplies.

Because of the critical gas shortage that exists today, competition for new gas reserves has become severe and has resulted in significant increases in the field cost of gas.

The higher cost of these new gas supplies makes it necessary for the company to pass these increases on to the customer, said a Pioneer spokesman.

Local Native Is Drowned

Melvin Glenn Pederson, 17-year-old Abilene Cooper High School senior who drowned Wednesday at Johnston Park at Lake Phantom Hill, was a native of Big Spring. He also was the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ward and a nephew of Mrs. W. A. Read.

Witnesses said he was swimming with three companions and was returning to shore after having swam out to buoy barrels. About 45 yards from shore he got in trouble and went down before his friends realized he was in difficulty. Efforts by his friends to locate him in the murky water were unsuccessful.

Melvin, who was to have graduated at Cooper within two weeks, was born here June 9, 1955. He leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Richardson, 824 Poplar, Abilene; one sister, Dixie, a student at Angelo State University; his grandparents here.

Four To Attend El Paso Parley

Four officials of Webb Federal Credit Union leave Friday to attend the Department of Defense Credit Union Council meeting in El Paso.

Attending the two-day meeting of seminars on military credit union operation will be Wade Choate, manager; Jim Gray and Don Stone, assistant managers; and Charles Crowmover, loan officer.

Choate is a member of the executive board of the council.

Eddie Kinney On Advisory Panel

John E. (Eddie) Kinney, a Woodville attorney, has been appointed to the Southeast Texas Advisory committee to the Constitutional Revision Commission.

Kinney is a 1959 graduate of Big Spring High School, and resides in Woodville where he is a member of the law firm, Wheat, Wheat & Stafford. He is the son of Mrs. Grace Kinney and the late Leon Kinney.

DEATHS

Daniel Burns

Services for Phillip Daniel Burns, 59, who was killed in a single-engine plane crash near Van Horn Tuesday, will be held at 3:30 p.m. Friday.

Elbert Garretson, minister of the 11th Place and Birdwell Lane Church of Christ, will officiate. Assisting will be Sam Kitching of the Eastside Church of Christ, Snyder.

Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park under the direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Eleanor Burns, Big Spring; a daughter, Mrs. Phyllis Smith, Hermleigh; two sons, Carl Burns, Lawrenceburg, Ind., and Dan Burns, San Angelo; four grandchildren; seven brothers, Ed Burns, Victor Burns and Hulbert Burns, all of Fort Worth; Wade Burns, and Paul Burns, both of Ekiah, Calif.; and N. C. Burns, Paradise, Calif.; and two sisters, Mrs. Iva Dee Fridmore, Lubbock, and Mrs. Frankie Logan, El Centro, Calif.

The family requests memorials be given to the Westview Boys Home of Hollis, Okla.

Funeral services will be for Phillip McKinney, James Fridmore, John Arnett, Ronnie Byrne, John Hooper and Wallace Hooper.

E. Singleton

Ellard (Chill) Singleton, 70, died at 9 a.m. today in a local hospital. Services are pending at Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Mr. Singleton was born Feb. 5, 1903, in Mills County. He came to Big Spring in 1943. He served in the Army in World War II and was a member of the Church of Christ in Mullen.

Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Joe H. Ratliff, Big Spring, and Mrs. Novis Wright Dickens; and a brother, Bob Singleton, Pasadena, Calif.

Bill Michalopoulos

SAN ANGELO — A former five-year resident of Big Spring, W. G. (Bill) Michalopoulos, 69, of San Angelo, died Tuesday night in a San Angelo hospital.

Services are set 2 p.m. Friday in Assumption Hellenic Orthodox Church with burial in Fairmount Cemetery.

Born in Greece, Michalopoulos lived in Big Spring 1920-25 before moving to San Angelo to become a partner in Crystal Confectionary here with his uncle, the late Mike Micalopolos.

IT'S CATCHING — Four-year-old Ray Dumareq wincing as he catches a fly ball at a Leonia, N.J., softball clinic for children in kindergarten to the second grade. About 150 children — nearly 50 of them girls — were taught to hit, catch and find first base.

117 YEARS Major Overhaul Of Penal Code

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The first wholesale revision of the Texas Penal Code in 117 years has been approved by the Senate without major amendments and sent to the House.

Final passage came on voice vote Wednesday, but nine senators asked to be recorded as voting no: Adams, Aikin, Blanchard, Hightower, Jones, McKinnon, Patman, Snelson and Trager.

The Senate slapped down on lopsided votes several amendments by Sen. Walter Mengden, R-Houston, that would have toughened the bill.

INSANITY TEST It then voted 17-14 against amendment by Sen. Jack Ogg, D-Houston, that would have made the insanity test more to the liking of prosecutors. It also rejected, by voice vote, an amendment by Ogg that would have permitted officers to get search warrants for any evidence of a crime.

The new code is the result of seven years of work by more than 100 prosecutors, defense lawyers, judges, law processors and laymen.

Capital punishment, drugs and abortion were left out of the new code for fear emotional debate on those issues would defeat the entire code. Those subjects are handled in separate bills.

The new code classifies all crime into three categories of felony and three levels of misdemeanor.

A first degree felony is punishable by a prison term of 5-99 years or life.

A second degree felony carries a penalty of 2-20 years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

A third degree felony is punishable by a prison sentence of 2-10 years and a fine up to $5,000.

A Class A misdemeanor calls for a jail term up to one year and a fine up to $2,000.

A Class B misdemeanor carries a penalty of six months in jail and a fine up to $1,000.

A Class C misdemeanor is punishable by a fine up to $200.

The maximum prison term under the new code, therefore, is 99 years of life for a first degree felony. That means recent prison sentences of thousands of years would not be permitted in the future.

Those terms mean little anyway, since a man is eligible for parole in 20 years or after serving one-third of his sentence, whichever comes first. Good time credits and blood donations can reduce this to as little as 9 1/2 years of actual prison time.

NOT SAME THING

Eligibility for parole is not the same thing as getting parole, however. The Board of Pardons and Paroles is required to consider several things before granting parole, including the attitude of the community where the crime was committed.

A 1,000-year prison term tells the board that community probably would lose some respect for law if the convict got paroled after only a few years in prison.

The new code is mainly a codification of present criminal law, but there are a few major changes, such as the removal of prohibition of "deviate" sexual acts between consenting adults in private.

The present insanity test is: Did the defendant know the difference between right and wrong, and did he know the nature and consequences of his act? A negative answer to either question excuses him.

Tax Exemption To Cost ISD

SWEETWATER — Sweetwater Independent School District board members have learned that the schools will lose at least $28,865 in revenue the coming year.

According to tax assessor-collector Alvin Kendrick, the loss is a consequence of tax exemptions which will be granted persons 65 years and older. Kendrick told the board that more revenue will be lost if all eligible taxpayers apply for the exemption.

This is the M'Naghten Rule, which was first pronounced in an English murder case in 1843. It was a major improvement over the phrenology test—bumps on the head—that it replaced. But many psychiatrists have said the M'Naghten Rule has been outmoded for years.

The proposed new code would excuse an accused person if he suffers from a mental defect that prevents him from conforming his conduct to the requirements of law.

Ogg said this was too close to the "irresistible impulse" test that prosecutors dislike. His amendment would excuse criminal behavior if the accused, because of a mental defect or defect, "lacked the state of mind required as an element of the offense charged."

'IMPULSE'

Eligibility for parole is not the same thing as getting parole, however. The Board of Pardons and Paroles is required to consider several things before granting parole, including the attitude of the community where the crime was committed.

Possible For Most Of World To See Watergate Show 'Live'

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP TV Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Today's televised Senate hearings on the Watergate scandal were in no way limited to U.S. viewers who could see them on public television or on any of the three commercial networks.

Because of the satellite, it was theoretically possible for most of the world to plug into the show and see it live.

Nobody did, but news teams from at least two major nations planned to broadcast same-day television pictures of the proceedings, which also were being covered by European and Asian radio reporters.

HIGHLIGHTS

The drill called for videotaped highlights of today's hearing before the Senate Select Committee to be sent by satellite to England and Japan, in addition to the radio reports filed overseas.

The ABC Television network was running the television pool from which ABC, CBS, NBC and the Public Broadcasting Service took their "feeds" for broadcast on their networks.

That feed also was to be taken by the British Broadcasting Corp. and England's commercial television system for transmission overseas this afternoon, ABC officials said.

The two British television reports were to be videotaped at a local Washington television station, edited there, reporters' narration added and then broadcast to London by satellite.

Before the start of the Watergate hearings, the Senate Radio-Television Gallery said it had received 13 requests from foreign broadcast journalists—most of them European—for permission to cover the hearings.

However, it wasn't immediately known how many actually showed up and were accredited. Fifty broadcast journalists had sought accreditation for the hearings, a gallery spokesman said.

'Deep Throat' Ruled Obscene

BOSTON (AP) — The movie "Deep Throat" has been ruled obscene in a six-page decision by U.S. District Court Judge Frank J. Murray.

"In its explicitness," Murray wrote, "the film goes beyond any film which has been examined by the courts and probably beyond anything thus far exhibited in public theaters in this country."

Murray said the movie was obscene because "taken as a whole, it appeals to a prurient interest in sex, is patently offensive in that it affronts contemporary community standards with respect to description and representation of sexual matters and is utterly without redeeming social value."

College professors had testified as witnesses both for and against the film.

Murray issued his ruling Tuesday.

The movie was seized March 13 by customs agents at Logan airport. It was enroute to Sack Theaters Corp., a Boston chain.

The movie's owner said it has played at more than 60 American theaters and grossed nearly $3 million.

News of Big Spring Business and Industry

4-A Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., May 17, 1973

Consumer, Industry Share Higher Cost

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association says it is going to cost the oil and gas industry more to produce petroleum energy and the American consumers will have to pay more for it.

Robert A. Buschman of San Antonio said: "If oil and gas producers are going to do business then the price of their products must be determined in the open marketplace."

Paul H. Dudley Jr., manager of the Exxon Co's Southeastern Exploration Division said energy problems can be solved with the help of proper action by the federal government.

Dudley said large and more frequent offshore lease sales are needed. He noted that at least 50 per cent of the nation's remaining oil and gas potential lies beneath federal lands much of it offshore.

Summer Is Cycling Time

Cecil Thixton has been a business man in Big Spring for 44 years.

He is an expert motorcyclist himself and he and his son have both won championships in motorcycle hill races.

Thixton is aware that the motorcycle season is now. A lot of people purchase motorcycles and bicycles to make special summer cycling trips.

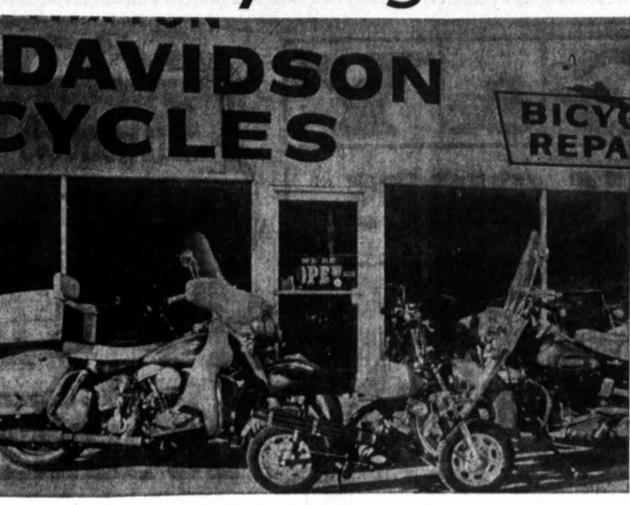

Before you make a decision, drop by Thixtons at 908 W. 3rd. Cycling is one of the fastest growing popular sports in America, as well as being a most economical method of transportation.

They also can keep your motorcycle in tip-top shape for those long-range summer trips or short-hops overland.

Their workshop service includes service for all brands of cycles, lawn mowers and bicycles. And they have the parts. Factory trained personnel are ready to help you with your problems.

Thixton has been Big Spring's Harley-Davidson distributor for all these years and he calls the Harley-Davidson cycle "the safest thing on wheels." He has been riding them himself since the '30's.

The line includes mini-bikes to the ultimate in powerful models.

Vacation Time Is Painting Time

If you missed spring cleaning and have decided to remodel for summer, you will want to take advantage of the paint selection at Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Co. Drop by 300 E. 2nd and ask to see their selection.

They also have a mixing and blending service with special charts where Roy Smith can select just about any shade or tone of any color of paint you might be seeking.

Higginbotham-Bartlett is one of the best known lumber yard names in this part of the state and you can count on them for reliable products and reliable service.

Voices of long experience at Higginbotham-Bartlett point out that a good way to reduce the work of summer clean-up and increase the beauty of your home is with paint — and suggest that you use the quality line of Jones-Blair house paints.

J-B Sundial House Paints is offered as a premium quality finish for exterior wood, siding, sash, trim, doors and fences as well as metal surfaces such as gutters, rails and steel sash.

And of course, the lumber yard offers the very best in lumber. If you are interested in a building or remodeling job, be it small or large, contact them for materials and advice.

Linoleum, tile, floor coverings — these are also available at a top selection at this lumber yard.

Don't postpone any longer that fix-up and remodeling at your home or business. Drop by Higginbotham-Bartlett this week and seek the materials and the know-how for the project.

Stolen Scotch Caper Solved In Fort Worth

FORT WORTH (AP) — Authorities lodged formal charges against seven men Wednesday in the Dallas theft of imported Scotch whisky valued at $76,000.

The men, among nine persons arrested early in the day during a raid on an expensive home near Alvarado in Johnson County, were jailed in lieu of bonds totaling $725,000.

Complaints filed with Justice of the Peace Bob Ashmore name Mike Strother, 34, formerly police chief in suburban Forest Hill and recently a ball bond man; Lawrence R. Spears, 35; Robert Lumpkins, 46; Jimmy Don Hardin, 28; Eddie E. Milligan, 26; Stephen J. Dippery, 31, and Frank T. Gursky, 32.

Strother is accused of receiving the 1,000 cases of stolen whisky from Milligan. He is charged with felony theft, conspiracy to commit felony theft and concealing stolen property.

Spears, who was indicted Nov. 16, 1972, on charges of stealing 10 paintings valued at $161,000 from the Woman's club of Fort Worth, is charged with receiving and concealing stolen property and with conspiracy.

Lumpkins and Hardin are charged with receiving and concealing and conspiracy. Milligan and Gursky with felony theft and Dippery with conspiracy.

Bonds on the felony theft charges were set at $75,000 each and on the others at $25,000 each.

Police said the raid began Tuesday afternoon when city detectives received information that a load of 12,000 bottles of whisky was in a truck parked near a service station.

They watched the truck for 6 1/2 hours before a green pickup appeared and a man drove the truck with the whisky to a motel in West Fort Worth.

Hours later, assisted by a police helicopter, officers followed the truck to several spots in Fort Worth and finally to the rural residence near Alvarado, where officers made the arrests.

The whisky was stolen from Dallas rail yards Monday. It was owned by Overseas Container Service and was due for distribution in Dallas.

1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass
4 ♠ Pass Pass Pass
Opening lead: Five of ♠

South, the declarer at four spades, was under the impression that he had received a favorable lead in today's hand. Due to a blind spot, however, he turned the opening to his own disadvantage.

West opened the five of hearts which was won in dummy by the king. Thankful that the opponents had not opened a diamond, South resolved to dispose of as many losers as possible without delay.

A spade was led to the ace, felling West's queen, and then declarer proceeded to run the hearts. On the ace and queen, he discarded North's four and nine of diamonds. East ruffed in on the third round with the eight of spades and then cashed the king.

East underled the ace of diamonds next and West put up the king to drop dummy's jack. East's play entailed little risk, for declarer's anxiety to obtain quick discards clearly indicated that diamonds was his weak suit. West shifted to the four of clubs, dummy played the three and East put in the ten which South ruffed.

South was left with three losers—the nine of hearts and the queen and six of diamonds. As only two trumps remained in dummy, declarer was obliged to concede a trick at the end for down one.

South was unduly concerned with the diamond situation. Even if the defense had chosen to open that suit originally, they are limited to two tricks—the ace and king. Declarer's only other loser is the king of spades, for after trumps are drawn there is still a spade in dummy to ruff out the nine of hearts.

Altho West's heart opening did not give anything away, South was still in position to take 10 tricks with careful play. After the ace of spades is played at trick two, it is suggested that declarer continue to draw trump. East's best defense is to play the king and another spade. The ace of hearts is cashed to discard a diamond from dummy.

South now plays a diamond and puts in North's nine. This dislodges East's ace and after the queen of diamonds drives out West's king, declarer's jack becomes established. All he has to do is to ruff the nine of hearts in order to claim the rest of the tricks.

Observe that even if the nine of diamonds loses to the ten, there is still a trump left in dummy to cover declarer's third diamond, and, if the hearts are divided 4-3—the rest of his hand becomes high.

Plan Will Crimp Drug Smugglers

YUMA, Ariz. (AP) — In a small Mexican border village near here, the United States and Mexico have quietly begun a new avorach which threatens to crimp the style of drug smugglers in the coming months.

As an experiment, local Mexican authorities in San Luis, Sonora, were left out completely of Operation Cactus I. Instead, Mexican Federal Judicial police suddenly moved into the community and started making arrests, aided with information supplied by U.S. undercover agents.

NAB 200
Since Operation Cactus began in late February, U.S. and Mexican agents have arrested more than 200 persons on a variety of drug charges and seized large quantities of heroin, marijuana and other drugs.

A reliable U.S. source said similar operations, involving close cooperation between both federal governments and leaving out local Mexican police, who often are accused of conspiring with smugglers, soon would begin along the border.

Phillip Jordan, special agent in charge of Arizona for the U.S. Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs, said final plans for Operation Cactus were mapped out Feb. 18 in Tucson, Ariz., when the U.S. and Mexican attorneys general met. San Luis, a few miles south of here, was selected as the first target.

Jordan said Mexican police and army troops were flown to San Luis and surrounded the fashionable ranch home of Pedro Avilez Perez.

IN THE HAY
One of the targets of the raid, hidden beneath a haystack in a pasture, was 19 tons of marijuana.

Jordan said Avilez slipped from the ranch home less than 10 minutes before Mexican authorities surrounded it. In the week that followed his drug smuggling operation was broken.

More than 60 of his alleged employees were arrested, an additional quantity of marijuana and several pounds of heroin

Moscow's Posture Could Calm Mideast Situation

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
The clouds over the Middle East have a sullen threatening look and if a new storm is to be avoided, much depends upon the thinking in Moscow.

Developments such as the latest row between Lebanon's be-deviled government and the Palestinian commandos are symptomatic of the restlessness that can lead to new and explosive situations.

Moscow's public attitude toward Israel and the Arabs underwent one remarkable change not long after the Jewish State was born, and the whole performance clearly demonstrated how practical and emotionless the Kremlin could be in pursuit of foreign policy goals.

Before World War II, Joseph Stalin's policy was violently anti-Zionist, probably because Zionism expressed a nationalist sentiment that might rub off and contaminate the 3 million Jews of the Soviet Union.

One Dead, Two Wounded

MCALLEN, Tex. (AP) — A McAllen man remained in the Hidalgo County jail at Edinburg today in connection with a shooting incident which left one person dead and two wounded.

Roel Garza Munoz, 32, surrendered to authorities late Wednesday afternoon, charged in the shooting death of Ricardo Garcia Gonzalez, 21. Gonzalez died Wednesday following the shooting at the parking lot of a tavern.

Garza Munoz was ordered held in jail in lieu of $50,000 bond by Justice of the Peace Dario Garcia.

Juan Flores Armendariz, 27, of McAllen, was hospitalized for treatment of gunshot wounds in the shoulder and leg. Frank Gutierrez, 52, of McAllen, suffered head injuries when he was pistol whipped, police said.

Officers said Garza Munoz was free on $5,000 bond on a federal weapons charge and was free on $3,000 bond on a charge of possession of marijuana at the time of the shooting.

The shooting and pistol whipping incident came about 30 minutes after state narcotics officers and McAllen police raided a south McAllen residence, seized about 535 pounds of marijuana and arrested two men.

Silverio Gerra Cano Jr., 25, of McAllen, and Rafael Guerra Jr., 28, of Hidalgo, were ordered held in jail in lieu of $20,000 bond each following an arraignment on charges of possession of marijuana before Justice of the Peace Garcia.

Officers said the men arrested at the home in south McAllen had planned to load the marijuana into a truck with some cabbage. A truck was also seized.

Plane Dive Kills Ex-Gas Official

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — R. W. Harris, former official with El Paso Natural Gas, and an unidentified man were killed Wednesday in the crash of a light airplane south of Prudhoe Bay.

State troopers said Harvey Wiley and William Haggart, both of Houston, Tex., were seriously injured. The pilot, Jack Spurgeon, Anchorage, received minor injuries. Two military paramedics and a civilian helicopter were sent to the scene, troopers said.

An aircraft fitted with electronic locating equipment was sent earlier to find the wreckage because of heavy fog.

Officials said the twin-engine plane went down between Deadhorse and Franklin Bluff.

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

Norman Roberts wouldn't be surprised if all of Dist. 7-AA arrived at the finish line at the same time next fall. The district will be even more evenly matched than this past season when his Bulldogs claimed their second consecutive district title, and though Reagan County and McCamey hold an edge, nobody is going to be a weakling.

"I think we'll be all right," the head Bulldog said this week. "We'll be a little inexperienced up front and we don't have a lot of depth, but if we can escape the injuries we should do okay."

While the Class AAAA boys are out hitting heads these days, the rest of the schoolboys in the state are merely loosening up their arms and learning a few formations, and that includes the Bulldogs. "Of course, we don't really get to do anything now, but I think our kids have gained some quickness and strength in the offseason program."

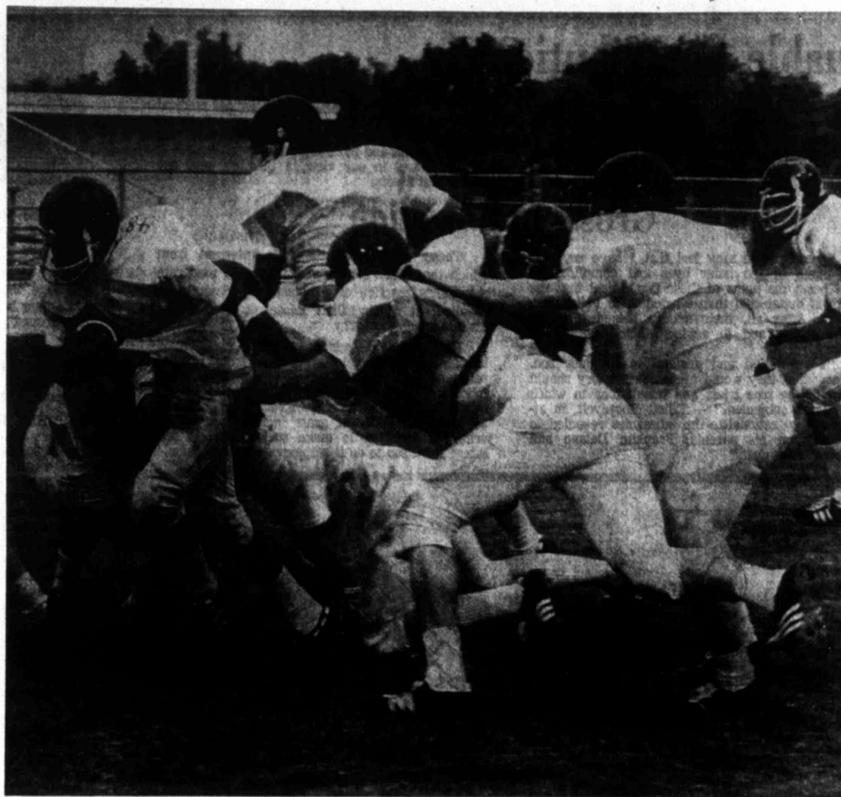

When things finally do get down to the real stuff in August, Roberts' first problem will be to replace the graduating Roland "Snickle" Beal, who impressed nearly everyone as a fine wishbone quarterback. "We've got a little competition going there now, and it's still open. Jody Bennett is the No. 1 quarterback right now, and Dan Meacham and Gary Roberts are going for the No. 2 spot."

Bennett will be a junior next year, Meacham a senior and Roberts a sophomore.

"There's a nucleus of running backs and split ends returning, but not too much experience. Several of the kids are really about equal, it looks like." Fullback Putt Choate, a 200-pounder, will be back after impressing last season long with halfbacks Eddie Padron, Tim Tindol, Ricky Patterson, John Echols and Randy Gee. Top hand among the ends right now appears to be Glenn Washburn.

On the line, 180-pound guard Kyle Kiser looks like the early workhorse of the group, and guards Robbie Tindol and Mike Martinez and tackles Frank Coats and Den Woods also hold special spots in Roberts' mind.

Roberts added that several of the young kids had been looking good in the padless work also, Guy James, Don Kelso and Mike Collier.

THE END IS NEAR — Members of the defensive unit close in on an unidentified ball carrier during a Big Spring Steer scrimmage session Wednesday. The Longhorns reached the halfway point in their drills Wednesday, and coach Bob Burris said his team is beginning to show big gains in progress. The Steers will hold another scrimmage session Saturday at Memorial Stadium, and then end the workouts next Friday with the Black and Gold Spring Game.

Steers Reach Midway Point

The Big Spring Steers have reached the halfway point in their Spring football drills, and the way Coach Bob Burris sees it, they're about halfway to where they need to get.

"We've made some progress, finally. We're making fewer errors and the hitting is getting a lot sharper," the coach said following Wednesday's drills. "We had a real good workout Tuesday under the lights."

Working some in the afternoons and some at night at Blankenship Field, the Steers continue to prep for Saturday's scrimmage at Memorial Stadium. The Longhorns head into the final week of drills and close out the sessions with the Black & Gold spring game a week from Friday.

Two more players were sidelined with injuries this week, Scott McEwen and Joe Rocha, joining David Arbuckle, who broke his arm in the first scrimmage action and tackle Ken Froman, who stretched a knee ligament. McEwen broke his hand and Rocha sprained an ankle. Both are tackles.

But while some were losing out to the pains, others were making their moves. Burris found a couple of "pleasant surprises" in his backfield during this week's action, halfback Bruce Abbe and fullback Lonnie Gullihan, both seniors to be. "We've been extremely pleased with the progress of these two," he said.

Also showing well at halfback is Lonell Banks, who has been switched from the fullback spot. Burris said workout times the remainder of the spring session would depend on the weather. He said there would be no game with the graduating seniors, due to time problems and a lack of seniors.

King Tournament Loses Glamour

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Only two seeded players remained today after two rounds of the $150,000 Alan King-Casars Palace Tennis Classic that saw a rash of upsets.

The top two seeds, Stan Smith and Rod Laver, were eliminated in the first round Tuesday. Then on Wednesday third-seeded Ken Rosewall, fourth-seeded and defending champion John Newcombe were knocked out.

In addition, sixth-seeded Marty Riessen and the eighth-ranked Roy Emerson were also ousted. Arthur Ashe, seeded fifth, and seventh-seeded Cliff Drysdale were the only rated players left in competition.

U.S. Fems Lose In Cage Meet

LIMA, Peru (AP) — The U.S. men's team have qualified for the finals of the first world basketball festival with a 92-62 victory over Chile while the American women were eliminated in a 63-59 loss to France.

The men's victory Wednesday night was their second in a row in preliminary play.

Consider the argument that the very fact that the American League broke with the National League is a bonus. This totally ignores the fact that the National League could be correct.

Consider the argument concerning the publicity. How many people are going to buy how many tickets for how many seasons just to see the designated hitter?

The excitement of seeing one additional good hitter in the lineup does not outweigh what the designated hitter rule has taken away from baseball in the American League.

No longer can the fan leap to his feet and cheer wildly when his pitcher hits a single. You say this happens so infrequently as to render it a nonargument. Just listen to the people the next time it happens in a National League park, of course.

OR DESIGNATED BLUNDER, MAYBE

The New DH: A Wise Idea?

By MIKE WALDNER
Copley News Service

Residents of the toy department are not apt to select Dick Allen the American League's Most Valuable Player this year. He will be replaced by Joe Cronin, president of the league.

You must realize the importance of words to the journalist to understand the situation. The American League, under the direction of Cronin, has made a major contribution to the working day of the men on the sports beat by taking a rather bland word — designated — and giving it a sparkle never before imagined.

It is because of the American League that we have the designated hitter.

Enterprising wordsmiths have taken it from there to develop the designated talker (Billy Grabarkewitz) designated shooter (Jerry West), designated cheater (Oklahoma University football) and designated whatever you wish to designate.

Granted, the American League was not thinking of others when it elected to make baseball a 10-man game with a pitcher and batter sharing the work load. The American League was thinking only of the American League.

It matters not how selfish their instincts were, Cronin and the owners can be complimented for several reasons. The designated hitter rule is good because it inserts offense into the game. Purists will protest the thought, but the average fan would prefer an 8-5 game to a 1-0 gem.

The designated hitter rule is good because the American League has thrown off the shackles of the National League.

The designated hitter rule is good because it has provided every club in the American League with an untold amount of publicity.

Sadly, this is not the complete story. Despite the many uses of the word, the whole stunt could prove to be a designated blunder.

Consider the argument for the runs the designated hitter provides. The runs scored totals could have been increased by any one of a number of other gimmicks — (a) juicing up the ball, (b) lowering or even eliminating the pitcher's mound, (c) moving the pitcher back a yard or so, (d) limiting the number of pitchers on a staff to seven (10 is the standard number), (e) limiting the size of gloves.

Consider the argument that the rule is a forward move. Those in agreement with this theory worship at the altar of the National Football League. They will not rest until the two-platoon system has been adopted.

They probably think basketball should become a 10-man sport with five offensive specialists playing five defen-

SECRETARIAT IN SHAPE Usual Preakness Stories Are Missing This Year

BALTIMORE (AP) — Trainer Lucien Laurin found it difficult to accept what was happening outside Pimlico's Barn E.

There was the usual activity as groom Eddie Sweat attended the colt Secretariat, and newsmen chatted about Saturday's $150,000-added Preakness Stakes. But something was noticeably missing.

Rumors. "It's unbelievable," Laurin said. "We're almost ready to run the Preakness, and nobody has Secretariat broken down yet."

The reference was to the virtually ceaseless string of rumors about Secretariat which preceded his record-breaking victory in the Kentucky Derby on May 5.

Almost daily, there were reports about Secretariat—that his left foreleg was unsound, that he wasn't prepared properly for a top effort in the Derby, and even one rumor just prior to the race that he had been scratched.

Laurin patiently denied every report, and then after the Meadow Stable colt ran the 1 1/4-mile Derby distance in 1:59 2/5, he said: "Well, I guess that takes care of the rumors."

"The rumors had me half nuts at Churchill Downs," Laurin recalled at Pimlico. "It was worth it, though, to win the Derby. Now, I'd like to win the Preakness. I've never won that."

Secretariat is an early 2-5 favorite to win the 1 3/16-mile Preakness. But Laurin remembers when Riva Ridge, another Meadow Stable colt, went off a top heavy 3-10 choice last year and wound up fourth as Bee

Bee scored a major upset on a sloppy track.

"I sure was disappointed that day," Laurin said. "I don't even want to think about it."

Secretariat's chief opposition in a probable field of six, is expected from Sham, Sigmund Sommer's colt who also broke the old Derby record but finished second, 2 1/2 lengths behind.

Sham's trainer, Pancho Martin, is not as boastful as he was prior to the Derby, but he's not ready to pack it in prematurely and bypass a shot for the $129,900 winner's share of the $181,400 purse.

Splittorff Is Old Reliable

KANSAS CITY (AP) — What causes a pitcher who had a 12-12 record last year get off to a 6-1 start this season?

"Consistency," says Paul Splittorff of the Kansas City Royals, who has done just that, "and the way this club has been playing."

The 26-year-old left-hander said he has confidence in his ability to get his pitches over the plate "whether I'm ahead of the hitter or behind."

That includes "fastballs, change-ups, curves and everything," said the 6-foot-3 native of Evansville, Ind., who grew up in Arlington Heights, Ill., a suburb of Chicago.

The Royals' good start also gives him confidence.

Illness At Home Keeps Keino Off U.S. Track

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Kip Keino says he missed two International Track Association pro meets because he was unable to return from Kenya where one of his children was critically ill.

Keino alarmed ITA officials when he failed to appear for meets Friday night at Toronto and Saturday in Philadelphia.

The ITA executive vice president, Jack Butefish, said he had called the State Department in an effort to locate the ex-policeman who had returned to Kenya for a brief rest and personal business.

his welfare and there was the remote thought of foul play," Butefish said.

Efforts to contact Keino were unsuccessful because his village of Eldorat, 300 miles from Nairobi, has no phones.

But Wednesday, said Butefish, ITA meet director Jim Terrell returned home to his apartment and found Keino.

"It was all very simple, his son was critically ill with pneumonia and nearly died," Butefish said. Keino, who bought a farm 10 miles outside Eldorat for his family with six children, "was completely out of reach," the ITA officials said.

Valuable Contribution

By proclamation, Mayor Wade Choate has urged the community to join in the observance of Texas Nursing Home Week. It's a splendid idea, for it focuses attention upon this needed humanitarian service.

Both of our major facilities, Big Spring Nursing Inn and Mountain View Lodge, are staging special events to mark the occasion to show that they are indeed integral, contributing parts to the community.

Today, these homes fit importantly into the health care systems here and are providing a care with dignity for our infirm elders.

Not so many years ago there was no such service, only a few private nursing enterprises quartered in cramped quarters of homes. Some foster home service continues to this day, but under better arrangements and supervision.

The advent of medicare and medicaid expedited the sudden growth of nursing care centers, most of these oriented to the elderly. These were designed for providing for patients who could no longer care for themselves, and indeed for families who were physically in no position to give adequate service.

The nursing homes have put within the reach of these residents not only custodial care, but balanced diets, sanitary surroundings, nursing service (and in most instances periodical medical checks), activities, recreation and all the things which make the sunset years or last days of life more tolerable and more dignified.

They are, in our view, a blessing, and one of our best assets.

Gross Indiscretion

"Some people may feel that I have revealed too much of the inner lives and complications that beset the paths of these two. I feel that the truth is better told than alluded to in veiled sentences. After all, their actions helped to make them strong and to achieve their positions in history.

"I am proud and grateful to be their son. I know that they would agree that history should know of the true trials and tribulations to which they were subjected." — Elliott Roosevelt, in attempting to rationalize the intimacies revealed in his book on his parents, Franklin Delano and Eleanor Roosevelt.

These words, and the full statement from which they were excerpted, in no wise moderate a reader's reaction of astonishment, if not being appalled, at which Elliott Roosevelt wrote about his father and mother.

He reported their incompatibility and alleged his mother's complete abstinence from marital relations after the birth of their last child, following this with claims of intimacies of his father with two secretaries. Even if true, Elliott, as a son, is guilty of gross indiscretion. For a writer or historian to make such claims is one thing; for a son to do it surpasses comprehension.

Loud And Clear

Around The Rim

Marj Carpenter

It's the merry, merry month of May, last May 1, we did an informal survey of the local schools to see if anybody around had ever heard of a Maypole or a May basket. Both are now obsolete items.

We then began to take an informal pole around the office, and all of those who had "danced around the Maypole" were several years older than the "have-nots." But we never could figure out just what year the Maypole ended.

SURELY, THOSE who have not had to learn to wind a Maypole have missed something, although we're not sure what. We're not sure that it gave us lessons in grace, but we did learn to concentrate on when to step to the inside and when to step to the outside, so that we wouldn't snarl the project into a hopeless web.

I certainly remember my Maypole. In fact, I blame the Maypole for the fact that I now speak emphatically and in a loud voice.

Back in the first grade, it soon became evident to the 25 students in the class that 12 of us were to be selected to dance around the Maypole in a spring festival program over in the high school, in front of the "entire high school student body."

The little girls were all hoping they would be selected and the little boys were all hoping they would not. Finally, we were picked. The girls were assigned a color. One was to dress in green, one lilac, one pink, one blue, peach, and mine was to be yellow.

THE BIG day of the practice in the auditorium on the stage arrived.

I had a line to say, "Now we are going to dance around the Maypole." I went around the house for weeks curtsying and saying, "Now we shall dance around the Maypole, now we shall dance around the Maypole, and so on . . ."

At that practice, I stepped to the front of the stage and said, "Now we shall dance around the Maypole." I can't hear you, Marjorie, the teacher called. I said it again louder and finally in such a voice that I thought I was shouting. "It just won't do," said the teacher and she gave my one line to Ann Schmalzried. I went through 12 years of school with Ann Schmalzried, without ever liking her again.

And I began to become so loud-mouthed that by the time I got into the fourth grade, they selected four from our class to be the orphans in the High School Little Theatre presentation of "Daddy Long Legs." And in that production, like the same in "The Snake Has All the Lines," I had all the lines. Ann Schmalzried didn't even get to be in the play.

I HAD GREAT lines — memorable to those who lived through the Depression such as "Mush, Mush, Cornmeal Mush; Slush, Slush, same old slush; how we hate it, corn meal mush." I even got to drop a cup and break it and sweep it out of sight of the mean matron in the play.

I don't know what the moral to this story is . . . but the Maypole should have been good for something. Either to teach the grace of the dance, to make the little boys learn to bow and to teach at least one child to speak up — forever after.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

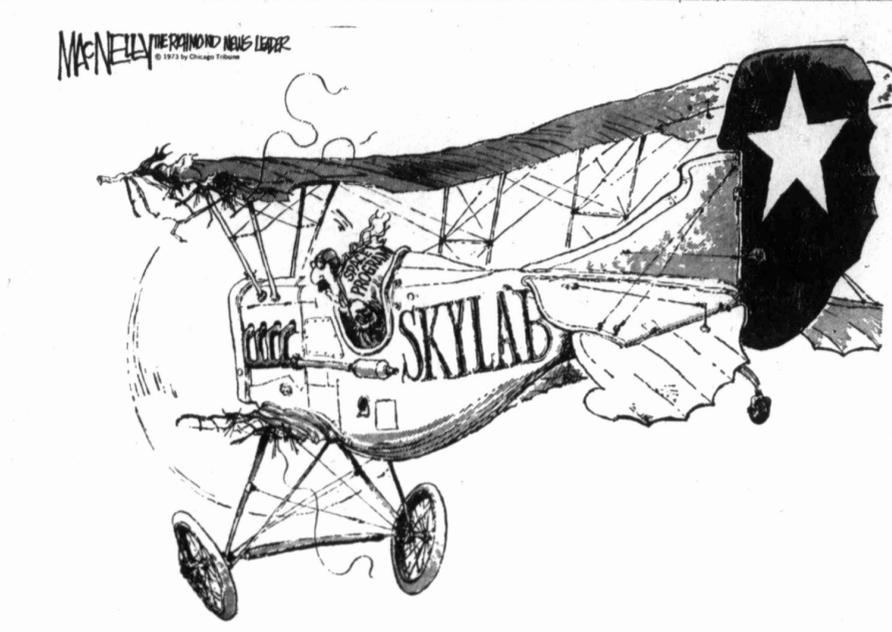

After looking at your TV program tonight, I decided to write you for help. I am single, pregnant, scared and worried. Although I was baptized, I am filled with guilt and sorrow. If I try praying, a feeling of unworthiness comes over me. After praying for others, I dare to tuck in a word at the end for myself. Is there hope?

M. A.

To be sure, there is both help and hope. First of all, you need to know that Christ's ministry proved again and again the reality and power of God's forgiveness. The way He handled Peter after his denial and Thomas after his doubt, proves that God is interested in you!

On baptism, let's turn first to the impartial definition of Webster's dictionary. He called it something "signifying spiritual rebirth." That implies several things — that the real action is in the unseen world of the spirit, and it marks the beginning, not the end of Christian experience. You are twenty-one, but you're a babe in God's family. There needs to be nourishment and growth. You can begin today to receive not only forgiveness, but assurance that having forgiven, God now forgets. If He does, so should you. That chases guilt and sorrow. Following light, request His power daily to withstand further temptation.

Please don't be hesitant to pray for yourself. Why else would half of the Lord's prayer be directed to personal matters, if He didn't approve such self-concern? It is God's pleasure to remake our lives after the pattern of His Son. He starts where and when we let Him.

Mailbag Bulletins

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Be glad you don't grow at the rate an opossum does. As an adult it reaches 28,000 times its birth weight. If this were true of you and you had been an eight-pound baby, you would now weigh 112 tons, too much for even a mother to love.

The health care you can get readily depends to a great extent on where you live in America. For example, there are 133 counties which have no resident physician. However, only 0.2 per cent of the U.S. population lives in these counties.

The beard of a man who lets it grow numbers about 13,000 whiskers. They grow at a density of about 390 per square inch on his cheeks, 580 per square inch on his chin.

Know your calendar: In the ancient Roman calendar, ascribed to Romulus, the year had only 10 months. The last was called December because it came from a word meaning 10. But when two more months were added, it was still placed last despite the fact its name was no longer appropriate in that position. The Saxons called the last month "winter-monath" or "heligh-monath," because it contained Christmas.

It isn't disease alone that keeps us from becoming centenarians. One of the quickest ways to extend the average life of the American male would be to eliminate the lethal toll of accidents, homicides, and suicides.

Quotable notables: "There are plenty of new sights under the sun for those who have eyes to see. Nothing is done finally and right. Nothing is done positively and completely. In science, probably 99 per cent of the knowable has yet to be discovered." — Lincoln Steffens.

A sick society: The world may not be crazy but it drives many people mad. One out of 10 Americans suffers from some form of mental illness, mild or severe. Mental disease has become a problem affecting 21 million U.S. families — one out of four.

A rut: The nation's leading chain case operator, Lester B. Dill, operator of Meramec Caverns on Highway 66 in Missouri, claims he has been in more than 15,000 caves throughout the world — more than anyone else in history. What's your claim to fame?

Productive: Why is agriculture so important? Because if he lived only on wild plants and wild game, each human being would need eight square miles in which to forage. But thanks to proper soil cultivation, that same amount of acreage can now support on the average more than 5,000 people.

Worth remembering: "One of the reasons so many politicians are keeping their mouths shut today is that they are afraid if they open them a foot will fall out."

Folklore: Hairs from a black cat have curative powers. Cats born in the month of May make poor mousers. If a cat sits with its back to the fire, expect a storm soon. Put butter on a cat's paws to keep it from straying from a new house you move into.

As was Austin O'Malley who observed, "God shows His contempt for wealth by the kind of person He selects to receive it."

Fiction 'No Sale'

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — It's getting harder and harder to sell fiction to the movies these days. The other day a friend of mine went in to see the producers at Magna Cum Laude Productions.

"Hi, Fletch. What have you got for us this time?"

"I THINK I've got a fantastic yarn. It concerns a President of the United States at some time in the future."

"Go ahead, Fletch. Your President stories are always good."

"Well, you see there is this President, and he's up for re-election, and his party has to raise $15 million because the opposition party has a chance of beating him. So a committee is set up to collect the money and spend it. Now this committee decides to allocate a large sum of money for dirty tricks, sabotage, bugging and that sort of stuff."

"IT'S PRETTY farfetched so far, Fletch, but go ahead."

"The White House hires a former FBI agent and a former CIA agent . . ."

"Wait a minute, Fletch. Did you say the White House hires them?"

"Right. They're paid by the committee, but they work right in the White House. Their jobs are to get the goods on the opposition by bugging, forgery and burglary."

"IN THE script, Fletch, does the President know about all this?"

"We don't find out until later. That's where the suspense comes in. Anyhow, the dirty tricks team made up of Cubans . . ."

"Hold it, Fletch. Did you say Cubans?"

"Right, the Cubans think they're working to overthrow Castro. Anyway they try to plant a bug in the opposition party's headquarters, but they're caught. Now this is where the picture gets good. The White House is afraid the whole operation will be blown, so they work out a fantastic coverup with the CIA, the FBI and the Justice Department."

"IT GETS better," Fletch says. "One of the guys, an ex-CIA man, talks and implicates the former attorney general of the United States."

"Then the thing really unravels. Everyone on the committee is out to save his own skin and they implicate the President's own legal counsel and half the White House staff including his two highest aides. The President goes on the air and says he is going to get to the bottom of the coverup no matter where it leads. He fires his attorney general."

"THANKS A LOT, Fletch," a producer says. "Don't call us, we'll call you."

"Wait," cries Fletch. "The White House counsel says the President knew about it all along."

"So the President then goes on nationwide television and says that he has just received startling new information that he is involved in the whole affair, hence he is going to resign."

. . . Might Have Been

William F. Buckley Jr.

I wonder how it would have gone over? . . .

Ladies and gentlemen: The events surrounding the so-called Watergate case bring me once again to report to you directly.

LAST AUGUST I told you that an investigation revealed that no one working on the White House staff was involved in any way in the Watergate case. At that time other rumors were floating about suggesting that the White House was also involved in discreditable tactics involving the Democratic primaries. On the basis of the disclaimers I made about Watergate you are entitled to assume that I was also denying any White House participation in, or knowledge of, these other tactics.

Later in the fall, in the height of the campaign, my press secretary Mr. Ziegler angrily denounced the Washington Post for suggesting that there was in fact a tie-in between Watergate and senior members of my staff.

SHORTLY AFTER my inauguration, a Senate committee began to look into Watergate and later in March, a grand jury turned again to the subject after receiving testimony from one of the convicted burglars. During that period my staff had been instructed not to give testimony, on the grounds that principles were at stake involving the separation of powers.

I am reporting to you tonight to tell you that I have been consistently mistaken in my attitude towards this case.

THE EXECUTIVE Department is numerically the major department of government. There are over two million people on the payroll. In the White House there are 2,000 people. The Re-election Committee had thousands of employees.

But the fact of the matter is that I accepted the office of President because I was willing to take the responsibility of being the top man in this massive organization. Now as President, I depend on aides who in turn depend on aides. The line of responsibility extends from me to the civil servant hired yesterday to sweep the floors, and to the least volunteer in my political activities.

JOHN EHRLICHMAN and Robert Haldeman have let me down. I say this with an overwhelming sense of sorrow, even as fathers are sometimes forced to say that their own sons have let them down. This is not the time or the place to tell you about their strengths and their virtues. It is an ugly but perhaps necessary part of the human story that at any given moment society concentrates exclusively on a man's transgressions. Under the circumstances I have no alternative than sadly to dismiss Mr. Ehrlichman and Mr. Haldeman.

BUT THEIRS alone is not the blame. I am not your President because I am naive. I should far sooner than I did have suspected a complicity between White House staff members and the initiators of the Watergate conspiracy and other practices. My own enthusiasm for my own election, my own contempt so frequently expressed in public and in private for the lawlessness of some of those who opposed Administration policy, both during my administration and the previous Administration, unquestionably transformed zeal into lawlessness.

There were signs all about me that I should not have mistaken. Examining my conscience I can see that I should have acted earlier, that I should have interpreted things I heard differently; that I was deeply wrong to attempt to discourage the elicitation of the truth.

I HAVE HOWEVER been elected President very recently and by a huge majority of the American people, and I will not trivialize that election, or disrupt the stability of the Constitution, or convulse this Administration by any heroic gesture of resignation.

But I have earned humiliation. If after the Senate committee is done investigating this sad, sordid affair, the majority members of the Senate vote to censure me for my role in it, I shall accept that censure with a heavy heart, but with full respect for the integrity of my judges. Thank you, and goodnight.

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

About Fibroid Tumors

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is myoma uteri? The doctor says that is my trouble and seemed quite concerned. I had been told a year ago that it was a small fibroid and nothing to worry about.—E.R.

Dear Doctor: I am 39 and have fibroid tumors. I would like an explanation of the advantages and disadvantages of having the tumors removed, or of having a hysterectomy instead.

I now have one child and do not wish to have more. I understand that when hysterectomies are performed there is a chance the ovaries will develop cysts.—Mrs. M.H.G.

Myoma uteri is the technical term for a fibroid tumor, the sort that appears in the uterus with considerable frequency.

In most cases, when fibroid tumors are discovered, the woman is told not to worry, because in the majority of cases there just isn't anything to worry about. Very often these tumors remain as they are for years. Indeed, sometimes after menopause they recede in size.

The exception is that occasionally a fibroid tumor — myoma uteri, if you prefer that term — begins to enlarge, can cause discomfort, or bleeding, or other symptoms, and sometimes even becomes malignant.

If any of these symptoms occurs, that's time enough to get rid of the tumor. So in E.R.'s case I would take it for granted that her fibroid has begun to show some changes and the doctor judges the time has come to remove it.

To answer Mrs. G.: Sometimes a small fibroid can be removed from the wall of the uterus, yet leave the uterus itself in place. But this is not always possible. The size and location of the fibroid is one consideration. The fact that at times there may be several, or even quite a number of, fibroids is another.

In such cases it is much more satisfactory to resort to hysterectomy — that is, removal of the entire uterus.

The fact that Mrs. G. does not want any more children, and at 39 is approaching menopause and the end of child-bearing years, would indicate that hysterectomy would be preferable to trying to remove just the fibroid.

As to cysts of the ovaries following hysterectomy — well, it can happen, but it can happen without a hysterectomy, too. In other words, ovarian cysts are NOT something to be expected after a hysterectomy.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is poly-migratory-arthritis. Is this common only among teenagers.—A.R.

It would be arthritic pain that moves from joint to joint, the prefix "poly" meaning "much" or "multiple."

If it is indeed rheumatoid arthritis, then it certainly does not affect only teenagers.

Rheumatic fever can cause this too.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: If one is exposed to german measles (rubella) when less than three months pregnant, is it harmful to the baby even if the mother does not get the disease? I had the vaccination three years ago.—Mrs. B. S.

No, no danger. That's why you had the vaccination — so the baby would not be harmed even if you happened to be exposed.

A Devotion For Today . .

This one thing I do . . . I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus. (Philippians 3:13-14)

PRAYER: Divine Father, help me to envision the perfect goal for my life as a committed Christian. Empower me this day to "press toward the mark." In Jesus' name. Amen.

Rios Zepeda Trial Drags In Edinburg

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — The prosecution in the San Benito strangulation murder trial will attempt to introduce a statement given officers by the defendant in which he said he killed two girls after "something came over me."

Antonio Rios Zepeda Jr., 21, of San Benito is being tried in 92nd District Court here on a charge of murder with malice in the April 11, 1972, slaying of Maria Norma Delgado, 15. He is also charged, but is not being tried at this time with murder in the death of Patricia Segura, also 15.

Cameron County Dist. Atty. Fred Galindo said Wednesday he will begin to present evidence sometime today concerning the one-page statement given officers about April 12, 1972, at the San Benito police station.

At the time the statement is brought up, defense lawyers Joe Cisneros and Johnny Dominguez will ask District Court Judge J. R. Alamia for a hearing without the jury present to determine if the statement was voluntarily given. The defense present a number of witnesses in an attempt to prove the contention.

Judge Alamia Wednesday rejected a defense motion for a dismissal of the charges against Rios Zepeda on grounds that his constitutional rights were violated while he was in the Cameron County jail at Brownsville.

Galindo revealed in court, with the jury outside, that Cameron County Sheriff Bill Gatliff had obtained some of the defendant's hair secretly when he was given a haircut in the jail.

Dominguez said this was a clear violation of the defendant's rights and asked for the dismissal.

The judge then turned down the request after Galindo said he did not intend to use the hair samples in any way during the trial.

Texas Ranger Jack Dean, one of two officers present when Rios Zepeda gave the statement, had just started to testify when court was recessed for the night.

Most of Wednesday's testimony concerned evidence already introduced in the trial. Defense lawyers conducted an intense cross examination of investigating officers concerning each piece of evidence.

The bodies of the girls were found April 11-12, 1972, floating in separate irrigation canals near San Benito.

The case is being heard by a jury of seven women and five men and was moved here to Hidalgo County from Cameron County on a change of venue.

Keep Faith In Fellow Man, Graduates Told

Maintaining faith in one's fellow man will help insure that there is no lasting crisis in confidence in the democratic process in America, a veteran educator told the 80 graduates of Howard County Junior College at exercises this morning.

Dr. Bevington Reed, commissioner of higher education for the state of Texas, outlined the system of checks and balances which exist within government and in the free press and public education system to guard against misuse of power and corruption.

"We can, should and do question the institutions of our society. Herein lies our strength. Herein also lies our responsibility," said the native West Texan.

Associate degrees were awarded by Dr. Thomas Salter, president, and K. H. McGibbon, chairman of the board of trustees, to 72 students in arts, 14 in applied arts and three in applied science.

Anita Merlene Brown was announced as valedictorian with a grade point average of 3.80. She will receive a scholarship to the University of Texas of the Permian Basin.

Announced as salutatorian was Sara Jane Tipton with a grade point average of 3.77. She also is entitled to a UTPB scholarship.

Dr. Reed told the graduates that in the final analysis all institutions of our society — church, home, government, etc. — are dependent on the effectiveness of the people who make them up.

He said our nation can take hope during the present crisis of distrust in government from the fact that scandals and misdeeds have occurred and been corrected in the past.

Right Of Way Claim Upheld

STANTON — The Texas Supreme Court Wednesday affirmed a Martin County Court judgment for $12,800 returned a couple of years ago in a condemnation suit.

M. L. Graves, a farmer near Stanton, won the county court case, decided by a jury and presided over by County Judge Carroll Yater. Texas Electric Service Co. appealed first to the Court of Civil Appeals, El Paso.

That failing, TESCO then turned to the State Supreme Court.

Damages were awarded for six power line towers crossing one mile of Graves' irrigated cotton field, Thomas L. Rees, attorney for Graves, said.

Rees, a Colorado City lawyer, was pleased when he heard the news Wednesday afternoon.

Also Wednesday, the Texas Supreme Court refused a writ of error, finding no reversible error in two other area cases:

William Butler Dawkins Cooper vs. Texas Board of Medical Examiners, Midland.

And Ollie Dale Dickson vs. Texas Employers Insurance Association, Andrews.

Notaries Public Have 485 Renewals

The county clerk's office counted 485 notary publics who requalified for the designation by filing a new bond before the deadline Tuesday, Mrs. Margaret Ray, chief deputy county clerk, said several others have filed to become new notaries after June 1.

SERGEANT TERRANCE J. BRUGMANN receives the U.S. Air Force Commendation Medal at Tempelhof Central Airport, Germany, from Lieutenant Colonel Roy Anderson, commander, 1946th Communications Squadron.

S. Sgt. Terrance J. Brugmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Brugmann, 114 N. 12th St., Mena, Ark., has received his second award of the U.S. Air Force Commendation Medal at Tempelhof Central Airport, Germany.

Sgt. Brugmann, a military training supervisor, was cited for meritorious service at the USAF School of Applied Aerospace Sciences, Sheppard AFB, Tex.

He now serves at Tempelhof with the 1946th Communications Squadron.

The sergeant is a 1962 graduate of Mena Senior High School. His wife, Geraldine, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bedwell, Sterling City Route, Big Spring.

Second Lt. Dennis W. Parker, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Quinlan of R.R. 2, Rantoul, Ill., has been awarded his silver wings at Webb AFB, Tex., upon graduation from U.S. Air Force pilot training.

Lt. Parker is being assigned

DENNIS PARKER

High School, received his BS degree in 1971 from the University of Illinois. He was commissioned in 1972 upon completion of Officer Training School at Lackland AFB, Tex. His wife, Sandy, is the daughter of C.M. Sgt. and Mrs. Russell Buske of 4006 Dixon St., Big Spring.

Robert D. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Miller, R.R. 1, Knifley, Ky., has been promoted to technical sergeant in the U.S. Air Force.

Sgt. Miller, a fuels supervisor at Davis-Monthan AFB, Ariz., serves with a unit of the Strategic Air Command, America's nuclear deterrent force of long range bombers and intercontinental ballistic missiles.

The sergeant completed 11 years of military service, including 12 months of duty in Vietnam.

He was graduated in 1961 from Adair County High School, Columbia, Ky.

His wife, Cecilia, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Mason, 1013 Bluebonnet St., Big Spring.

Airman Felix A. Blair, son of Mrs. Vada A. Wagner of 1010 N. 18th, Lamesa, Tex., has been assigned to Keesler AFB, Miss., after completing Air Force basic training in San Antonio.

During his six weeks at the Air Training Command's Lackland AFB, Tex., he studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations.

The airman has been assigned to the Technical Training Center at Keesler for specialized training in the Armament systems field.

Airman Blair is a 1972 graduate of Lamesa High School. His father, Felix J. Blair, resides in Lovington, N.M.

CAMPING TRIP: (Q) I am 15. In August I will be 16. My boy friend is 18. To celebrate the end of school we were planning to go to a national forest on a well-organized camping trip with a recognized mountain-climbing club.

The trip will last from Friday afternoon until Sunday morning. It will be chaperoned by adult sponsors. Until I ran into a snag, I was planning to share a tent on the trip with a girl friend.

The only reason I wanted to go was to have fun camping out, mountain climbing and hiking. There were no other motives, and my boy friend felt the same.

I think such an outing is completely innocent and I think my mother should let me go. But she won't. What do you think? — No Progress in New Mexico.

(A) You sound sensible, and such a trip would surely be worthwhile if all the young people participating — including you — are trustworthy, and qualified campers.

Your mother should at least talk with the adult sponsors and get details of the arrangements before she makes up her mind finally.

MOTHER TROUBLE: (Q) When I call my girl friend, her mother always asks who I am. She also sometimes tells me my girl isn't there when I know she is.

I don't get to see her much because I am 15 and in senior high and she is 13 and in junior high.

How can I get her mother to let me call her and visit her and be comfortable doing both? — Brushed off in Oklahoma.

(A) Visit your girl friend's mother. Ask her if you can come by to see your girl friend when the mother is home. Promise to call on the telephone first.

When the mother sees that you are straightforward and

SEC. B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, THURSDAY, MAY 17, 1973 SEC. B

She Faced Challenge With Husband's Help

By BARBARA LORD
"Cooking was a learning process when I got married," said Mrs. David (Pat) Rhoton. "My husband helped a lot, and he really knew more about cooking than I did, but it didn't take him long to turn the kitchen completely over to me."

The only time Rhoton assists with the cooking now is when the family eats outside. He's in charge of anything on the charcoal grill, and during summer months this amounts to a fairly regular job.

Rhoton is owner of Custom Builders and Woodworkers. The Rhotons have three children, Rhonda, 15; Craig, 13; and Kevin, 11.

Mrs. Rhoton, although she said she got "introduced" to cooking while she was growing up, admits that the task of preparing an entire meal was somewhat overwhelming when she first got married.

"I'm trying to teach Rhonda more about cooking than I learned when I was her age," said Mrs. Rhoton. "She enjoys it, and I just let her in the kitchen and leave her alone."

Still, most of the cooking falls on Mrs. Rhoton's shoulders, and she enjoys it; particularly if she has time to be creative and organized.

"I like to do a good job when I'm cooking," she said. "Some people just cook for the sake of filling people up, but I think it should be nutritious and appealing to look at as well."

COOKING
Mrs. Rhoton said her family is easy to please because they like anything, but some of their favorites include Italian and Mexican dishes. There is almost always something sweet around the house, because Rhoton doesn't think a meal is complete without a dessert finale. Even with her snacks, however, Mrs. Rhoton tries to keep them nutritional.

"When company is coming, I get things made ahead of time and enjoy my guests," said Mrs. Rhoton. "That way I don't have to spend all of the time in the kitchen. It usually means a lot of work beforehand, but it's worth it."

The Rhotons like to entertain on an informal basis. They often have couples in for games and snacks. Occasionally however, she likes to get a little fancier. Christmas and New Year's holidays usually provide the setting for a more formal party.

Since moving into their new home on Chaparral Road, Silver Heels, the Rhotons have an ideal place for entertaining. The home, which was built by the family, is comfortable and spacious, and beautifully decorated in a Spanish style.

The five acres on which it sits provide a quiet atmosphere that makes it enjoyable for Mrs. Rhoton to just sit and watch the birds or "cottontails."

When school is out, the "quiet atmosphere" erupts into a bevy of activity as the children come and go to various activities. Mrs. Rhoton says she operates a "taxi service," sometimes making three or four trips into town and back after schools let out.

SCHOOL

In addition to her duties as wife, homemaker and mother, Mrs. Rhoton is a student and business woman. She keeps the books for her husband's business, and she is taking classes at Howard County Junior College. She will finish at HCC this summer, and plans to complete her degree requirements in elementary education at Odessa College.

"David is a craftsman," said Mrs. Rhoton. "He does beautiful work that he can be proud of. I want to get skilled in something, and I think I will enjoy the teaching field."

Mr. and Mrs. Rhoton are both active at East Fourth Street Baptist Church where they work with young people's groups. Mrs. Rhoton has lived in Big Spring since she was 10 years old. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy D. Rudd, Tarzan. Rhoton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Rhoton Sr.

Make fancy oatmeal cookies

Cross-Stitch Cookies New Handicraft Art

This cross-stitchery wins a blue ribbon — the cross-stitch cookies, that is. Rich with oats 'n' spices and other things nice, the dough is shaped into balls and flattened with the tines of a fork. (Quick "needlework" this.)

They bake till crisp and crunchy, then win hearts as well as prizes. Handicrafts are "in" these days, but delicious homemade cookies — particularly the old-fashioned oatmeal type — have never been out!

CROSS-STITCH SPICE COOKIES

1 cup shortening, soft
1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1 egg
1/2 tsp. vanilla
2 cups sifted all-purpose

flour
1/2 tsp. soda
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. nutmeg
1 cup quick or old fashioned oats, uncooked

Heat oven to 375 degrees. Beat together shortening and sugars. Add egg and vanilla; beat well. Sift together flour, soda, salt, cinnamon and nutmeg. Gradually add to creamed mixture, beating well. Stir in oats.

Shape dough to form 1-inch balls. Place on ungreased cookie sheets. With tines of fork, press to make criss crosses on each. (If dough sticks to fork, occasionally dip fork in flour.) Bake in preheated 375 degree oven, 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 4 dozen.

MYSTERY PIE

3 egg whites
1/2 tsp. baking powder
1 cup sugar
20 Ritz crackers
1 cup pecans or 1 cup coconut
1 tsp. vanilla
Beat egg whites and baking powder until foamy. Add sugar and beat well. Fold in crushed crackers. Add pecans or coconut and vanilla. Pour into a buttered pie plate and bake at 325 degrees for 30 minutes.

STRAWBERRY SURPRISE

1 3-oz. pkg. strawberry gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 10-oz. pkg. frozen strawberries
1 small can crushed pineapple, drained
2 bananas, mashed
1/2 cup pecans, chopped
1/2 cup sour or whipped cream
Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add strawberries, bananas, pineapple and pecans. Chill half of mixture until thickened. Spread cream on top. Add remaining mixture and chill until firm.

until thickened. Spread cream on top. Add remaining mixture and chill until firm.

NUTRITIOUS SNACK

5 cups old-fashioned oats
1 cup sunflower seeds
1 cup sesame seeds
1 cup wheat germ
1 cup whole wheat flour
1 cup almonds, chopped
1 cup cooking oil
1 1/2 cups honey
Combine oats, sunflower seeds, sesame seeds, wheat germ, wheat flour and almonds. Add oil and honey, and mix well until all ingredients are moist. Press out on cookie sheets. Bake at 325 degrees for one hour, until lightly browned. When cool, break into bite-size pieces and store in covered container. This snack is good anytime, and freezes well.

CHICKEN SALAD

1 1/2 cups cooked rice, chilled
1 chicken, boiled and diced
1 cup celery, chopped
2 tbsps. bell pepper, chopped
1 cup toasted slivered almonds
3/4 cup mayonnaise
2 tbsps. salad oil
2 tbsps. vinegar
2 tbsps. onion, chopped
1 1/2 tbsps. salt
1 tsp. curry powder
Dash pepper
In a jar, combine salad oil, vinegar, onion, salt, curry powder and pepper. In a bowl, combine rice, chicken, celery, green pepper and almonds. Pour oil and vinegar mixture over chicken and rice mixture, and toss with mayonnaise. Flavor improves after chilling.

CHICKEN & RICE CASSEROLE

1 chicken, cut up
6 slices bacon
2 cups Minute Rice
1 can cream of chicken soup
1/2 can milk
Line a 9 by 9-inch baking dish with bacon strips. Add rice. Arrange chicken pieces over rice, season to taste. Combine soup and milk, and pour over chicken. Cover and bake for two hours at 325 degrees.

Tasty Meal In Spicy Chicken

A fascinating dish from a Big Spring hostess's personal files.

AFRICAN CHICKEN

1 fryer chicken, cut up
3 tbsps. Tabasco sauce
1/2 cup flour
3/4 cup salad oil
1 medium onion, finely chopped
1 1/2 cups tomato sauce
1 tsp. lemon juice
1/2 tsp. thyme
1/2 tsp. sugar
1/4 tsp. nutmeg
1/4 cup peanut butter
Salt to taste
Thoroughly rub 2 teaspoons Tabasco sauce over chicken. Dredge in flour, reserving 1 tablespoon, and brown in oil in large skillet; remove chicken and keep warm. Drain oil from skillet but leave 2 tablespoons of it. Add onion to skillet and over low heat stir in reserved 1 tablespoon flour, then remaining ingredients blending well. Return chicken to skillet; cover and simmer, basting often, until tender — 25 to 30 minutes. If sauce becomes too thick, stir in a little water. Makes 4 servings.

A LOYAL, STEADFAST COUPLE
Snack crackers and cheese

Snack For A Spring Fling

In the spring, romance is in the air and a flurry of showers and wedding receptions follows. Whether it be a luncheon, an afternoon or evening affair nothing you can serve is more popular with everyone than a flavorful cheese spread with crackers. This spread is easily prepared and can be made a day ahead. It has a zippy, yet delicate flavor and can be molded as a heart or a wedding bell to suit the occasion. To go with it we suggest light, crisp, subtly flavored crackers.

SWEETHEART MOLD

4 8-oz. pkgs. cream cheese
8 ozs. Process Swiss cheese, finely grated
8-ozs. Camembert cheese, cut-up
2 ozs. blue or Roquefort cheese
1 2-oz. jar sliced pimientos
Pasteurized Process Cheese Spread, Cheddar Parsley Sprigs
Crackers
Let 3 packages cream cheese, the Swiss, Camembert and blue cheeses soften at room temperature for 1 hour. In large bowl of electric mixer combine cheeses and beat until smooth. Drain pimientos, set half aside, chop remaining and stir into cheese mixture. Put into aluminum foil-lined 5-cup heart-shaped pan. Cover with plastic wrap and refrigerate overnight. Next day: Let remaining package cream cheese soften 1 hour.

LADY MARINE RETIRES — Sprucing up prior to her retirement is the country's first 30-year woman Marine, Sgt. Maj. Bertha Billeb, shown with her husband, Bill, who holds the same rank. Mrs. Billeb served tours of duty at several Marine installations before her military career ended this year. Her husband says, "You can bet I was the only gunnery sergeant in the Marine Corps who could kiss a sergeant major and get away with it."

'Chemicals Pollute Convenience Foods'

"Most convenience foods have been adulterated with chemical preservatives to prolong their shelf life," said C. R. Smith, Colorado City, guest speaker Monday for the Organic Soil Makers at the U. S. Experiment Station. Smith is a physical therapist at Root Memorial Hospital.

"These preservatives are harmful to our bodies," continued Smith. He stressed that "the way the majority of people eat" causes heart attacks and cancer. He said 83 per cent of all deaths in this country result from heart attack or cancer.

Smith said much of the food people eat today has the natural vitamin and mineral content removed and substituted by synthetics. In refining wheat, for example, Smith said the bran and wheat germ are removed and only the endosperm and starch are used in making flour. Also, he said the chemicals used in bleaching flour are harmful.

Mrs. C. R. Smith continued the program by telling the role of a homemaker in helping to prevent heart attack through helping her family establish good eating habits. She said people should eat a well-balanced breakfast, avoid convenience foods, eat fresh fruits and vegetables, trim fat from meat before cooking and drain fat after cooking.

In addition, Mrs. Smith said more families should eat fresh fruit rather than pies or cobblers. She said homemakers should make their own bread and use fresh ingredients when preparing foods. Also, she said homemakers can help lessen the stress in family situations and see that members of the family get enough exercise.

"Eating habits will be passed on for generations," said Mrs. Smith. "It is up to the homemaker to change those habits that are bad."

A nominating committee composed of Mrs. Jan Huff, Johnny Johansen and M. B. McFall was appointed. Guests were Mrs. J. F. Farquhar, Mrs. John Edgar and Mrs. Ronald Pietroski.

The next meeting will be June 11 at the experiment station, and guests are welcome to attend.

Convention Slated In San Angelo

Mrs. Eschol Graham was elected president of Eagles Auxiliary No. 3188 Monday evening at the Settles Hotel.

Others elected were Mrs. Dutchie Burns, vice president; Mrs. Nell Tippie, treasurer; Mrs. Jack Cottongame, secretary; Mrs. Harvey Clay, conductor; Mrs. Troy Melton, chaplain; Mrs. Mae Steele, reporter; Mrs. David Thomas and Mrs. David Henkell, guardians; Mrs. Toby Cunningham, Mrs. Bill Cochran and Mrs. Lillian Pijanowski, trustees.

Mrs. James Dalton, outgoing president, presided, and initiation was conducted for Mrs. Marcella Carter. Others accepted for initiation were Mrs. Mary Geery and Mrs. Peggy Cluck.

It was announced that two local women will be installed as district officers at a District 4 convention May 26-27 in San Angelo. Mrs. Mae Steele will be junior past president, and Mrs. Dalton will become a trustee.

Attending the convention from Big Spring will be Mr. and Mrs. Toby Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Clay, Mr. and Mrs. David Hinkell, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cottongame, Mr. and Mrs. Eschol Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dalton, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Clanton, Mr. and Mrs. David Thomas, Mrs. Steele, Mrs. Tippie, Mrs. Florence Casey, and Preston Ward.

Three Win Top Honors

Mrs. Sam Frazier was crowned KOPS (Keep Off Pounds Sensibly) queen during a recent dinner meeting of TOPS Club No. 249 in the Texas Electric Reddy Room.

Mrs. Doyle Miller was named TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly) queen for the year, and Mrs. Jean Kloss was elected monthly queen. All three women were presented bracelet charms. Mrs. Frazier also received a diploma, KOPS pin and a red rose, and Mrs. Miller was presented a gift certificate. A travel prize and charm went to Mrs. Frank Russell.

Mrs. Lee Wright presided and welcomed a new member, Mrs. Dolores Bowersox, formerly of Oklahoma.

The table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with a blue floral arrangement and candles.

The club meets at 9:30 a.m., every Thursday at the YMCA. Persons interested in joining the club are invited to attend the meetings.

Scotch Foursome Slated Friday

The Ladies Golf Association will sponsor Scotch Foursome (Louisiana draw) matches Friday evening for members of Big Spring Country Club. Mrs. A. W. Reese, LGA golf chairman, said play will begin at 5:30 p.m.

Forsanites Entertain Mother's Day Guests

FORSAN (SC) — Mrs. Mary Ann Digby and daughter, Teresa, of Odessa spent Mother's Day here with her mother, Mrs. Ann Fairchild. Other Mother's Day visitors were the James Craigs of Robert Lee who were guests of Mrs. Vera Harris and the Jim Craigs; and the Frank Hesses of San Angelo who visited her mother, Mrs. L. W. Willis.

While in Whiteface as a guest of her son, Frank Davidson, Mrs. F. E. Davidson attended a bridal shower for her granddaughter, Ginger Davidson.

Guests of the Don Murphys and Paul Kennedys recently were the M. E. Petrees, James Kennedys, Bob Petrees, David Kennedy and James Edwards, all of Crane.

Spending the holiday out of town were the L. S. Camps who were guests of their son and daughter-in-law, the Boyd Brawleys, in Odessa; and Mrs. Nola Story, who went to San Angelo to visit her daughter and family, the Robert Stroems. Her daughter from Midland, Mrs. Jeff Barber, also joined the group.

The Micky Allens have returned to Grand Prairie after visiting her parents, the J. B. Andersons. The Andersons recently visited the G. P. Harrels in Stanton.

Party Honors Miss Corson

Miss Mary Nell Corson was honored Tuesday evening with a bridal shower in the home of Mrs. Noel Hull, 2611 E. 25th. The honoree is bride-elect of Phillip Welch. The couple will be married Saturday in the Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church.

Miss Corson was attired in a street-length beige dress. She was given a nosegay corsage of pink, yellow, white and red Sweetheart roses with accents of babies'-breath. Identical corsages were presented to her mother, Mrs. Ed Corson, and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Ernest Welch.

A yellow linen cloth, overlaid with white net, covered the refreshment table. The centerpiece was an arrangement of red, pink and yellow roses and blue carnations. Appointments were of crystal and silver.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Bill Draper, Mrs. Buford Hull, Mrs. Ted Hull, Mrs. Orville Bryant, Mrs. R. L. Collins, Mrs. Bill Blalock, Mrs. Bob Bradberry, Mrs. Pete Hull, Mrs. Bob Zellars, Mrs. J. L. Hagood, Mrs. Sherrill Carroll, Mrs. Ed Black, Mrs. Gorman Rainey, Mrs. Dwan Leonard and Mrs. R. W. Blasingame.

Past Matrons Have Meeting

Mrs. Jimmy Felts and Mrs. Lloyd Duncan were hostesses Thursday evening for a dinner meeting of Past Matrons Gavel Club at Holiday Inn. Decorations and favors for the meeting were sent by Mrs. Henry Brewer who is visiting in Arabia.

Mrs. Ollie McDaniel presided. Members agreed to serve refreshments at an open installation ceremony of Laura B. Hart Chapter 1019, Order of Eastern Star. The installation will be June 2 at the Masonic Temple.

New officers for the Past Matrons will be named at the next meeting, June 14, at Holiday Inn. Also, secret pals will be revealed.

Flame Room Is Setting For Bridal Gift Shower

Miss Darla Earnest, bride-elect of Van Barton, was honored at a bridal shower last Thursday evening (May 10) in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room.

The honoree was attired in a light blue pantsuit and was presented a corsage of blue carnations. Her mother, Mrs. Joe Earnest; grandmother, Mrs. O. R. Dunlap; and the future bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Arthur Barton; were given corsages of white carnations.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a white lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of spring flowers.

Hostesses were Mrs. Lawrence Allen, Mrs. Orveta Beeson, Mrs. Howard Dodd, Mrs. Jess Franklin, Miss Earlene Harris, Mrs. Harry McMillan, Mrs. Robert Rodman and Mrs. Jackie Thomas.

Miss Earnest and Barton plan to marry May 26 at Carl Street Church of Christ.

Mom's Mad

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: How right you are! No one should drop in on their married children unannounced. They might be smoking grass there!

I learned the hard way. If someone stole my purse, I'd report it to the police. But when I'm present when they're smoking marijuana in their own homes, I just keep my mouth shut, come home, and air out my clothes and hope I never have to smell it again.

I know what I am going to put in their Christmas stockings next year. A hacksaw for her, and a file for him.

I've invited my daughter, her husband, and several of their friends over for dinner next week, and if those kids light up in my home I'll call up the sheriff. (I wonder if I should warn them in advance? Or do you suppose after four years of college they are sufficiently educated to know that one doesn't break the law in the home of a host?)

I never thought I'd send a letter I couldn't sign, but here's one. Aren't we a bunch of lovely law abiding Christian parents? Thanks for being a good ear. I had to tell someone or explode. FRUSTRATED MOTHER

DEAR FRUSTRATED: Why the frustration? Just tell your kids you don't want them lighting up in your home, and if you are present when they light up elsewhere, absent yourself.

DEAR ABBY: Since you frequently give waitresses space in your column to air their pet peeves I hope you'll give equal time to a customer who has one:

Where do people get the nerve to go into a busy restaurant and READ at the table? I can understand someone giving the newspaper a quick going over to get the news, but I've seen people leisurely reading books and magazines at the table while others are waiting to sit down and eat. I hope you'll print this for some of those selfish people who need to be jarred into more considerate behavior.

CHICAGOAN
DEAR CHICAGOAN: I'll print it. But those who behave in the above mentioned manner need more than a "jar." They need an earthquake.

This Shaky Earth: Public's Tendency Is To Shrug It Off

By HAROLD Y. JONES
Copley News Service

SAN FRANCISCO — California is sitting on a time bomb, and nobody can say for sure when it will explode. Scientists have known it for decades, and they have tried, with only middling success, to make the public, lawmakers, architects and builders do something about it.

The time bomb, of course, is in the earth's crust — the potential for earthquakes. EARTH'S CRUST Massive pressures force sections of the earth's crust (or plates) to grind against each other from time to time. The upheavals often mean great loss of life and destruction of property worth millions of dollars.

Few people know that better than those who live in California and Alaska, both of which are on the so-called Ring of Fire, an earthquake-prone area that girds the Pacific Ocean.

A quake in Alaska in 1964 killed 131 people and caused $524 million in property damage. A quake in San Fernando, Calif., in 1971 killed 65 people and caused $500 million in property damage — including wrecking three hospitals and five newly built highway overpasses.

NOT REALLY

The granddaddy of them all, the famous 1906 San Francisco quake, killed 800 people and caused $500 million in property damage (and the dollar was worth much more then).

That quake measures 8.3 on the Richter scale and it released 350 times the energy of the San Fernando one. It is still fresh on everyone's mind.

But has this awareness, this sense of living with danger, made people more careful? Not really. Not as much as scientists think they should be, at any rate.

"Public and government reactions after the '06 quake were to ignore the problem," said Karl V. Steinbrugge, professor of structural design at the University of California, Berkeley. "It's only recently that the hazard is receiving increasingly heavy attention."

In the years after the San Francisco quake, geologists found it "practically impossible" to get state money to study earthquakes. California wanted to play down the disaster image the quake created.

Official policy was to drop all mention of the word earthquake and refer to the event as the "1906 fire."

But facts are facts, and realism seems to have won out. Today, the 1906 quake is called just that, even in San Francisco. With this realism came the need for constructive thinking.

Scientists have come into their own. They are finding it a bit easier to get money to study earthquakes.

And governments, at all levels, have begun to take positive action — to require tougher building codes, to restrict construction in earthquake-prone areas, and to finance studies of earthquakes.

True, they have needed constant spurring — and nature has helped. It wasn't until a quake killed 115 people and caused $40 million in property damage in Long Beach, Calif., in 1933 that the Legislature passed the Field Act, which has resulted in construction of earthquake-resistant schools.

QUAKE HAZARDS

And within a year after the San Fernando quake, Gov. Ronald Reagan set up the Governor's Earthquake Council to coordinate efforts in the executive branch to reduce earthquake hazards.

And the U.S. government has set up a National Center for Earthquake Research. All this costs money, but it is money people will have to pay to avoid the effects of disasters.

On the whole, according to Steinbrugge, interest in earthquake hazard reduction has quickened considerably since 1950 — all over the United States.

(The threat is not only to California: killer quakes have been recorded in Missouri, South Carolina, Puerto Rico, Utah, Montana, Hawaii, Oregon and Washington state. California is most actively concerned because nearly two-thirds of the quakes recorded during the last century in the United States occurred in California.)

The major villains are faults, or fractures in the earth's crust, that run southeast from just north of San Francisco through and around Los Angeles into northern Mexico.

The biggest is the San Andreas fault — 700 miles long. In 1906, the Pacific plate west of it shifted several feet to the north of the American plate to the east of it with tremendous force.

Others are the Hayward fault, near Oakland, the Calaveras, near Ean Jose, and the San Jacinto, San Fernando Elsinore and Imperial faults in Southern California.

The need is to design key structures so they will withstand the tremors generated by movements of plates — and remain functional. "This is the area we are making most progress in," says Steinbrugge.

A California law now in effect has pre-empted new hospital construction from local control. It requires that they be built to remain functional (that is, with electric power, water conduits, oxygen piping, effective waste disposal equipment, etc.) after disasters, including quakes. This requires rethinking old methods in many fields — geology, engineering, architecture and the like.

"This concept of functional adequacy is being considered for other kinds of emergency structures, like fire stations and disaster command posts," said Steinbrugge.

Banker Moody Ordered To Show

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Banker Shearn Moody Jr. has been ordered to appear in federal court May 21 in the receivership case involving his private bank.

U. S. District Court Judge James Noel acted Wednesday, indicating the hearing would be the final one in the matter.

Noel's order was in response to a May 7 hearing on a motion to compel Moody's attendance. The Galveston banker reportedly has been in Durham, N. C., for a number of months following the closing last September of his private bank, W. L. Moody & Co., Bankers, Unincorporated.

Aggie Profs Substitute Alcohol For Auto Gas

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Two Texas A&M University professors are experimenting with methyl alcohol as a substitute for automobile gasoline.

The alcohol can be obtained from log-grade bituminous coal at a cost of about 11 cents per gallon.

Dr. W. D. Harris and Dr. Richard R. Davison conducted a study of the possibilities and came up with some surprising conclusions.

HIGH RATING

"We are a country that runs on oil and gas," Dr. Davison said, "and we are beginning to run short on petroleum. Projections show that we will be importing 14 million barrels of oil per day by 1985. We wonder how many paper dollars we can export in exchange for this oil before they become worthless.

"The only alternative we see is converting to other forms of energy quickly," he continued, "or soaring prices and political pressure will force curtailment of all kinds of activity that depend on oil. The only alternatives readily at hand are atomic energy and coal, especially the latter because of its convertibility into electric power, gas and liquid fuels."

"Methanol," Dr. Harris said, "has a high octane rating, higher than premium gasoline. It does not pollute anywhere near as much as petroleum products and it will produce a marked increase in power in automobiles."

Dr. Harris pointed out that motor tests showed methanol produces as much as 90 percent less carbon monoxide and hydrocarbons than gasoline.

DRAWBACKS

"Compression ratios could be raised again," he said, "delivering much more 'punch' to automobile engines. Methanol can also be mixed with water in certain amounts without lowering its efficiency or performance as a motor fuel."

There are some drawbacks. One is the possibility of starting difficulty in cold weather. The researchers feel, however, that this can be overcome with manifold heating devices or perhaps additives in the fuel.

BEGAN WITH JUNE 17 BREAK-IN AT DEMO QUARTERS

Watergate Investigations Blossom

By STEVEN COHEN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate committee probing the Watergate affair, which opens hearings today, is directing only one of a series of investigations that began with the June 17 break-in at Democratic National Committee headquarters.

Here is a brief rundown of investigations into the Watergate break-in and similar matters:

FEDERAL GRAND JURY
WASHINGTON — Convened shortly after the break-in, it returned indictments against the seven original Watergate defendants, all of whom were convicted in January. The grand jury renewed its probe after the trial and is expected to return many more indictments.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY
NEW YORK — Began an investigation in January of an unreported $200,000 cash contribution to President Nixon's campaign by financier Robert Vesco and returned indictments last week against Vesco, former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, former Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans and Harry L. Sears, New Jersey chairman of the Nixon campaign.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY
HOUSTON — Began an investigation last week of $89,000 in contributions to the Nixon campaign that were traced to one of the men captured inside the Watergate. The money was part of a $100,000 contribution by Robert H. Allen, president of Gulf Resources & Chemical Corp. and chairman of the Texas Finance Committee to re-elect the President.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY
ORLANDO, FLA. — Indicted Nixon campaign operative Donald Segretti and accountant George Hearing in connection with a bogus letter on Sen. Edmund S. Muskie's stationery, accusing Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey and Henry M. Jackson of sexual misbehavior. Hearing has pleaded guilty; Segretti was to appear in court today.

LOS ANGELES COUNTY GRAND JURY — Expected to convene next month to investigate the burglary attempt at the office of the psychiatrist of former Pentagon papers defendant Daniel Ellsberg. The matter became enmeshed in the Watergate affair when it was disclosed that principals in the Watergate case also were involved in the reported burglary.

CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY — Being probed by the Senate Armed Services Committee and subcommittees of the Senate Appropriations and House Armed Services committees in connection with the Ellsberg burglary and the White House Watergate cover-up. It has been disclosed that presidential aides tried to order CIA interference with a Watergate-related FBI investigation. Also disclosed was that the CIA had provided disguises and other material to former CIA agent E. Howard Hunt, one of the convicted Watergate conspirators and one of those implicated in the Ellsberg burglary.

JUSTICE DEPARTMENT — Outgoing Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst promised that the department's Watergate investigation would be the most thorough since that concerning the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. Kleindienst since has resigned because close associates have been implicated in the scandal. Atty. Gen. designate Elliot L. Richardson plans to name a special prosecutor to run the investigation.

GENERAL ACCOUNTING OFFICE — Five apparent violations by the Nixon committee of the 1972 campaign-spending law have been taken to the Justice Department by the GAO, the congressional watchdog agency. The committee pleaded no contest and was fined $8,000 in one case. It pleaded innocent in another case involving the Vesco donation. The remaining three still are pending at the Justice Department.

WHITE HOUSE — President Nixon announced last August that an internal investigation by former presidential Counsel John W. Dean III cleared all staff members of involvement. The White House now says there were inadequacies in a report relayed orally to Nixon. Dean has denied conducting such an investigation.

CIVIL SUITS — By Common Cause, to force disclosure of pre-April 7, 1972, campaign contributions, and by the Democratic National Committee have resulted in sworn depositions which have shed light on the Watergate case.

KENNEDY — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's subcommittee on administrative practice began a Watergate investigation last fall but recommended it be taken over by a committee with greater resources. Kennedy's committee has been processing the material it gathered and turning it over to the select committee.

PATMAN — The House Banking and Currency Committee, under Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., began an investigation of matters relating to Watergate in August but halted its probe after members refused to vote the committee subpoena powers in October.

SEGRETTI — "NO COMMENT" — Donald H. Segretti, White House campaign figure, answers questions by newsmen concerning his indictment on charges of distributing a bogus campaign letter, with a repeated "No Comment" as he arrived in Tampa Wednesday evening. Segretti is due for an arraignment hearing today.

House OK's Bill To Muffle Juke Box Industry Blasts

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas representatives have tentatively approved a Senate bill revising the juke box control law, but only after making drastic changes to meet long-standing complaints against present regulation of the amusement machine industry.

A final vote could come today. The measure advanced Wednesday, 136-3. Passage would return the bill to the Senate for action on amendments.

In its original form, the bill would have removed the three juke box industry representatives from the Texas Vending Commission, which would be renamed the Texas Amusement Machine Commission. It also would have created an advisory committee from the industry.

The House voted to go deeper, however.

VIOLENCE CITED

It removed the present restriction against any tavern's owning more than one juke box or other amusement machine. Instead, a firm that is not connected with the amusement machine business could own an unlimited number of machines used exclusively on its premises, with the commission's approval.

Rep. Hilary Doran, D-Del Rio, the sponsor, said this would "wreck the entire legislation."

He reminded the House that the state began regulating the industry in 1969 after a legislative investigation showed it was "plagued by a history of violence and unrest."

Rep. Ray Hutchinson, R-Dallas, author of the amendment, said the one jukebox limitation forced taverns and other businesses to rent from the big amusement machine companies.

"If you vote for the Hutchinson amendment, just tell the vending machine operators to go get yourself a $50 beer license... What you are doing is pulling the teeth from regulation of the vending companies. It is a subterfuge to let them get out of it," said Rep. Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur, sponsor of the 1971 law creating the commission.

The House also deleted a $3,000 maximum on the amount of annual license fees an amusement machine company would have to pay on its machines, at $10 per machine.

Rep. Jon Newton, D-Beeville, said 18 of the 25 top companies have more than 300 machines, meaning they pay at a rate less than smaller firms must pay.

An amendment by Rep. Ralph Scoggins, D-El Paso, eliminated the proposed advisory committee, which he said would be too powerful.

Witnesses to the crash or persons who observed anything unusual about the flight path of the jet trainer should contact Goodfellow AFB in San Angelo at 653-3231, ext. 361 or 650.

Air Force personnel indicated that persons who give information to GAFF may remain anonymous if they wish.

At Workshop

Edna M. Spinks, Big Spring, was among 75 persons from seven states who participated in a regional facilities and equipment workshop at Oklahoma University. The workshop was for supervisors of school lunch programs.

Crash Probe Continues

An investigation into the April 30 crash near San Angelo of a T-38 jet trainer, in which two officers died, is continuing. It is being conducted by an eight-member accident investigation board appointed by Air Training Command.

Air Force safety officials are still attempting to locate persons who witnessed the crash which occurred in the early morning hours on the banks of an equalization channel at Twin Buttes Reservoir near San Angelo's Mathis Field.

FACES ROUGH GOING IN TEXAS SENATE School Financing Wins Okay

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A bill pouring vast quantities of new state aid into local school districts and totally revising the Texas public school finance system has passed the House but faces a short, rocky road in the Senate.

The $1.8 billion, six-year measure was approved by the House Wednesday, 94-44.

BETTER ODDS

Rep. Dan Kubiak, D-Rockdale, co-sponsor of the bill, said its chances in the Senate have been improved by Sen. A.M. Aikin's agreement to carry it in that chamber.

"This certainly enhances the bill's chances because of the man's tremendous ability as a senator and his marvelous knowledge of education," Kubiak said.

Aikin, dean of the Senate, was co-author of the Gilmer Aikin Act of 1949, which set up the present state aid system for public schools, called the Minimum Foundation Program.

There are perils aplenty ahead of the bill in the Senate. Sen. H. J. "Doc" Blanchard, D-Lubbock, "tagged" the bill, meaning there must be a 48-hour delay after it reaches the Senate before it can be considered by committee. With the regular legislative session facing mandatory adjournment May 28, any such delay is dangerous.

Gov. Bill Hobby favors a measure recommended by Gov. Dolph Briscoe to delay attacking the problem of inequality in education until the 1975 Legislature. Briscoe's bill would allocate $39 million in emergency grants to the 113 least wealthy school districts in the 1974-75 school year.

LOCAL TAX

Local shares of the school program would be what a district could raise from a tax of 25 cents per $100 in market value of taxable property. The state would make up the difference between this and the estimated cost of basic public schools expenditures, including teacher and administrator salaries.

State-supported teacher-pupil ratios would be cut from 1-10 to 1-24 in 1974-75 and 23-1 in 1976-77.

In 1975-76, the state would provide $37.50 per educationally handicapped child for compensatory education, increasing the amount to $75 the following year.

Districts that want to go beyond the minimum program would get help from the state if local taxes wouldn't do the job. In 1974-75, the state would make up the difference between what a 5 cents per $100 property tax would raise the $50 per child. Optional "leeway" funds would raise to $100 per child with a 10-cent tax in 1975-76; $200 per child with a 25-cent tax in 1977-78 and $300 per child with a 40-cent tax in 1978-79.

The bill also would provide an increase of $800 per bus wheel in state aid for transportation and would boost aid for routine operating expenses from $30 per pupil now to $130 in 1978-79, in five stages.

Judge Suggests Runway Extension

County Judge A. G. Mitchell said today he would like to see the short east-west runway extended at Howard County Airport within two or three years.

By extending it 1,500 feet, he said this runway would, like the north-south runway, be long enough for jet planes. Additional land, now ranch land, must be acquired for such an extension.

BRUTAL KILLER OR DEDICATED REBEL?

Following The Pancho Villa Trail

By NEIL MORGAN
Copley News Service

COLUMBUS, N.M. — It will be 50 years next July 20 since the morning that Pancho Villa rode a Dodge touring car into the Mexican town of Parral and was assassinated in a volley of gunfire.

CAR ON EXHIBIT

That car is on exhibit in Chihuahua City at the home of Villa's widow. A plaque in a crumbling wall marks the old hacienda at Canutillo that Villa left that morning in 1923 to drive into Parral. It was his last home. All over Mexico, old revolutionary wounds have been healing and Villa has been made a hero. His name has finally gone up in gold in the halls of the Mexican Congress.

But he has been a hero of sorts for many years in this little New Mexico border village, whose residents are braced for a summer-long procession of curious visitors ready to follow the Pancho Villa Trail.

In Columbus there is a museum named for Villa, and ever since 1959 there has been a nearby state park bearing his name.

OUTRAGE

All that is high irony, for it is here at Columbus that Villa drew the outrage of the American people and almost precipitated war between the United States and Mexico. There are only several hundred inhabitants today in Columbus, but there were several times that number on the night of March 9, 1916, when Villa's men slashed across from Mexico to kill 17 Americans and set fire to the town. Not since the War of 1812 had invaders set foot on the American mainland.

Villa's raid was short, and historians disagree on whether the revolutionary bandit led his men or stood back away from the Columbus incident.

It was not a significant act of war but one of sheer bravado, perhaps inspired by the recognition in Washington of Villa's political enemy, Venustiano Carranza, as head of the Mexican republic. He almost succeeded.

FRUITLESS HUNT

The U.S. military was issued orders to capture Villa. Without any explicit permission to enter Mexican territory, two armed columns under Brig. Gen. John J. (Blackjack) Pershing marched into northwest Mexico on March 15, 1916. For almost a year, Villa led Pershing and his men on a fruitless hunt through the rugged Sierra Madre. Pershing withdrew early in 1917 as U.S. intervention in World War I grew to be a more pressing demand. The war against Pancho Villa simply faded away.

There is not much in Columbus today to remind visitors of that bloody night except the Villa museum and the nearby park. An old-timer or two who will give you a colorful account of the Villa raid — possibly eyewitness and possibly not — can be found lounging in front of the market or the post office. A couple of lively bars — the Pink Pony is the nerve center of town — give tourists a place to escape the glaring sun and cool themselves from the 32-mile drive south from Deming to the border.

VILLA EXHIBITS

The Villa museum is in an old two-room store. Its walls are lined with pictures and memorabilia, which have been unusually easy to come by because Mexican museums have not openly displayed Villa exhibits.

The one exception is in Chihuahua City, where Villa's widow — "one of them," cynics will tell you — opens her house to the curious and points out carbines, uniforms, photographs, and the car in which Villa was killed in 1923.

In the Columbus museum, one photograph shows a wistful and poignant Villa, dressed in a suit with tie and vest. It was taken during the quiet final years of his life when he had retired to the old hacienda at Canutillo and given up the banditry and brawling of his more active years.

FOLK HERO

That photograph is one of the more intriguing ones of Villa, for it shows a gentle and kindly side of this primitive but monumental folk hero.

Even the citizens of Columbus, which felt Villa's blind wrath so long ago, have mixed feelings today about Villa.

Like those who discuss Villa anywhere — and they are still legion, for he captured a place in border folkways of the Southwest — the people of Columbus disagree on whether he was a just and brutal killer or a dedicated revolutionary who killed only for a cause.

SAVAGE GORE

No one can overlook his savage gore. In the Columbus museum are photographs of heaps of corpses of group hangings, of masses of charred bodies burned after battle. But it was revolution time in Mexico, and such scenes were common for years. It is uncertain whether Villa should be blamed for as much terror as he is; some believe he was given more credit than he deserved.

No matter how much blood he spilled, he probably spilled more alcohol. Whenever he captured a town, he ordered alcoholic beverages destroyed. He drank little, and regarded alcohol as a threat to discipline. Pictures in the Columbus museum show casks and gallon jugs being emptied in gutters by his officers.

Another photograph shows Villa at the zenith of his career, sitting in the president's chair in the palace at Mexico City. At the height of his military triumphs, Villa probably longed to assume the presidency of Mexico. But he was not as effective in the ways of the capital as in those of the battlefield.

EXPLOITS

It has long been arduous to follow the scene of Villa's exploits through Chihuahua and Durango. The roads south of here in Mexico, including the one leading from Columbus to the Mexican town of Casas Grandes, scene of some of the most comprehensive Indian ruins uncovered in North America, have until recently been unimproved and difficult.

ROAD TO JUAREZ

But a paved highway has now been completed from Columbus to Casas Grandes. It completes a Pancho Villa circle trail that has long been the aspiration of Villistas on both sides of the border.

Sand Boil Woes Fade

LAKE VILLAGE, Ark. (AP) — Officials say they expect no more trouble from a sand boil on a Mississippi River levee near here.

A sand boil, formed by water seepage, becomes dangerous when it displaces sand beneath the levee. When sand is being displaced, the water turns muddy.

Army Engineers' spokesman Larry Goodson said the situation was brought under control Wednesday after workers put sandbags around the boil. "It's running clear water now and we don't expect it to break out any more," he said.

The boil, discovered Monday night, was the first major one on the Mississippi in Arkansas during the current flooding, Goodson said.

On Tuesday, 44 Arkansas National Guardsmen were dispatched to the scene.

HOUSTON (AP) — Shell Oil Co. has accused the Environmental Protection Agency of discrimination in the EPA's proposals for new federal permits for discharging liquid wastes.

Shell said during public hearings Wednesday that the EPA is unfairly attempting to saddle Shell with much stricter pollution limits that the EPA is proposing for three rival Houston Ship Channel refineries.

Gene Smith, Shell process superintendent, said the proposed EPA permit would restrict Shell to 60 per cent of the pollution discharges specified by the EPA's guidance document, issued March 7.

Smith said Atlantic Richfield's refinery would be allowed 85 per cent and Exxon and Crown Central Petroleum Corp would be permitted to exceed the guideline limits.
