Preceding the meetings with Caulfield, he said, offers of clemency had been made by fellow Watergate conspirator E. The White House has denied that the President had anything to do with any offers of clemency to defendants in the wiretapping case. McCord had previously testified that he had received such offers, but had mentioned only offers from the Hunts.

He said today that he hadn't mentioned the Caulfield offers earlier because it was painful to draw a personal friend into the affair, and because he wanted to be careful and accurate about his recollections regarding statements implicating the President

McCord said he had told these reasons to the Watergate grand jury and that the panel had agreed to question him later about the matter.

Plans For Kindergarten May Have To Be Junked

vear's kindergarten program in Big Spring may go down the wash if a bill, which has already passed the Texas House as H. B. 787, passes the senate. The bill would provide kindergarten for all five-year-old school children, beginning in September.

Under the present law, passed in 1969, Texas schools were to begin next year a phasing-in program of public kindergartens. Only children who were five years old by February of this year would be allowed to begin kindergarten in September.

bill, introduced by The Senator Ron Clower of Garland and Rep. Wilson Foreman of Austin, points out that "The unforeseen result of the present law is that only half of the children who will start first grade in September of 1974 will have attended kindergarten. The younger half of that entering class will not only be younger, they will not have had the advantgage of Kindergarten like their older classmates."

San Antonio Deputy Shot

SAN ANTONIO (AP) - A charge from a .410 gauge shotgun wounded Deputy Sheriff Peter Esquivel, 25, outside his home on San Antonio's west side Thursday night.

Fellow officers said Esquivel, who works with the sheriff's subpoena service but was off duty at the time, related these details:

He heard a noise and walked out of the house with pistol in hand, accompanied by his wife and a brother.

They found three young men across the street, beside a car, one armed with the shotgun and the others with a .22-caliber rifle and a pellet gun. Shots were fired at Esquivel and he fired back, apparently missing Deputies said they took three young men into custody and expected to charge two of them. The third was released after questioning.

Four Sought In Murders Captured

WELCH, W. Va. (AP) - Three men sought in the killings of six members of a Georgia family were captured today near this southern West Virginia town, state police said.

No details on the capture were immediately available.

A fourth man sought in the case was captured Thursday at a police roadblock near here.

George Dungee, a 35-year-old escaped convict. was arrested Thursday at a police roadblock set up after four men robbed a grocery store across the border in Virginia.

ROB GROCERY

Dungee was held in the McDowell County jail in Welch after making a statement to local authorities.

He was arrested Thursday after four men robbed a grocery store in Slate Creek Va., of $3,000 and several pistols and rifles.

Police said Dungee's three companions fled into a remote mountainous area after Dungee was captured. FBI agents had joined West Virginia and Virginia police in the search.

Nixon Plans To Finish Job

WASHINGTON (AP) - The White House today turned aside questions about whether President Nixon was aware of public comments regarding the possibility of his resignation and said the President has "a lot to accomplish in the second term and he fully intends to do that.'

When asked by a reporter if the President was going to resign, Press Secretary Ronald L Ziegler said that the President was going to continue with his work as he was elected to do in 1972.

Ziegler said he was aware of newspaper comments about resignation, but he said he would not concede - as the reporter put it - that there was mounting pressure in this area.

"I do not see a mounting point of view along this line at all," Ziegler said.

DEAR ABBY: I recently lost a very good friend, and the world lost a beautiful, sensitive woman of 31 who, after separating, did away with herself and her two precious children.

She confided her unhappiness to me a few years ago, and I let her unburden herself by the hour. It seemed to help her. However, in the last few months I had gotten out of close touch with her because, like so many, I was too busy to have her over.

The last time we talked on the phone, she said: "Let's get together soon." Then I put it off until it was too late

She needed my friendship more desperately than I knew. So many people attended her funeral. But where were they when she needed them? And where was I?

Wrapped up in my own little world with my own petty problems. This has been a hard-earned lesson from which I hope to profit in the future. Abby, please tell your readers that tomorrow might be too late to offer friendly help. Had I not been so selfish I might have saved the lives of two innocent children, and their mother who must have felt that no one really cared if she lived or died.

SAD AND GUILTY DEAR GUILTY: While listening to a friend unburden herhelf may be an act friendship, it doesn't of provide the therapy a deeply disturbed person requires. You don't say whether your friend sought psychiatric help, but if she helped her more by pointing out how desperately she needed it. Your friend was more than "unhappy," she was mentally ill. Sad? Yes. Guilty? No.

DEAR ABBY: I just received an offer from a gentleman. He wants me to move into his apartment and pay half the rent. All I would have to do would be the housekeeping. He thinks it's a good deal for me because he has a color TV, a waterbed, and a microwave oven. What do you think of his offer?

MITZIE DEAR MITZIE: As I see it, in exchange for your bed and board, you'd have to pay half his rent and do all the housekeeping. If you want a color TV, waterbed, and microwave oven, you'd be ahead to buy them. He doesn't mention the sleeping arrangements, but if he

Astros Break Skid, Nudge Braves By 2-1

HOUSTON (AP) - Hank Aaron came very close to hitting his 685th career home run.

But he didn't, and the Houston Astros hung on and defeated the Atlanta Braves 2-1 Thursday night to snap a fourgame losing streak.

In the top of the ninth with the Astros ahead 2-1, Houston starting pitcher Ken Forsch got the first two Atlanta Braves out and then had to face Aaron. With the count 3-and-2, Forsch challenged Aaron with a fast ball. Aaron connected and the ball sailed down the left field line. While Forsch held his breath, the ball settled foul by not more than six feet.

Aaron eventually walked, but Fosch got Dusty Baker on a grounder to short to end the game.

"I just hoped it would be called foul," Forsch said, recalling his last start when Bobby Tolan of Cincinnati hit one down the right field line that, the Astros claimed was foul but was called fair by the umpire.

Astros catcher Larry Howard said Aaron was thrown six straight sliders.

"We thought we might catch him leaning over the plate for another slider," Howard said. "So we threw him the fast ball. "But you can't challenge Aaron Forsch, 4-3, recorded eight strikeouts in beating the Braves' Pat Dobson, 2-6, for the second time this season.

MEMPHIS (AP) - "It was just a nice easy round, the kind you like to play," Dan Sikes said after he scored a five-under-par 67 for his little walk in the sun.

"Very pleasant," added the 42-yearold veteran Thursday after he had established a one-stroke margin in the first round of the $175,000 Danny Thomas-Memphis Golf Classic.

"I was lucky enough to have the ball close to the hole a lot. I didn't have too many long putts and I made all the short ones.

That's been a problem with the husky, slope-shouldered lawyer from Jacksonville, Fla., this season.

Just three weeks ago he missed from less than two feet to lose a playoff at Dallas. And a month before that he'd missed from about the same distance and failed by one stroke to get into a playoff at his hometown in the Greater Jacksonville Open.

But Sikes, who scored the last of his six tour triumphs in 1968, let none of the little ones get away as he moved one stroke in front of Ron Cerrudo and Dave Hill, tied at 68. Defending champion Lee Trevino

STEERS PREP FOR SPRING CLASH; TICKETS ON SALE

Tickets for the Big Spring Steer Black & Gold Spring football game have gone on sale, and meanwhile, Coach Bob Burris' Longhorns continue to prep for the finale with a 10 a.m. scrimmage Saturday at Memorial Stadium.

We're expecting a large turnout for the spring game because of the new coaches, new system, new offense and all," said Quarterback Club Co-Captain Harold Canning. "We're hoping for around 1,000."

Burris planned on about an hour and a half scrimmage for Saturday morning, capping the second week of spring work. The Steers went through two-hour session of drills and fundamentals Thursday night under the lights at Blankenship Field.

The Black & Gold tilt has been set for 8 p.m. next Saturday at Memorial Stadium, with a sophomore game to precede the varsity clash between 5:30 and 6 p.m.

Tickets are $1 and may be purchased from Quarterback Club Co-Captains Canning, Wilma Grice or Byron Smith, at Prager's Men's Store, The Herald office or Gibbs & Weeks Men's Store, or at the gate.

While the amount a Social Security pension recipient can earn without losing any of his pension has been increased, it should be eliminated entirely at 65 as it is at age 72.

The purpose of the limit has long since been invalid. It was originally enacted as a Depression measure to keep pensioners off the labor market. It was a share-the-work gimmick.

Opportunities for employment of the elderly are largely in small businesses and in services where part-time jobs are most likely to occur.

The entry of retired people into these occupations would be no serious drag on the labor market. On the contrary, it could help the economy by providing labor where shortages now exist.

Many older people have high skills acquired in a lifetime of work. Barring them from using these skills once they are on Social Security is actually an economic loss.

These shills are often in critically short supply, and employment of older workers is the only way

The limit on outside earnings can depress the living standards of people over 65. The situation is increasingly serious with the rising span of life.

Older people ought to be encouraged to participate in useful activity, as much for their

Saturday is Armed Forces Day in the United States of America, and it gives us pause to consider the contribution of those serving the nation through the military branches.

It would be oh so nice if we did not have to maintain a military establishment, not only for us, but all the world, for if we did not need arms, it would be because other nations did not have a similar need. We might even get along with a reduced or nominal force if other powers shared our ideals, our aspirations, our dedication to individual liberty. Alas, many do not, and what's more, some are diametrically and militantly op-

There is an essential need in American society today to blame. Blame it on the system; blame it on fate. If you're white, blame it on the blacks. If you're black, on the whites. If you're a GOP on the Demos. If you're a rightist, on the leftists. And vice versa, etc., so forth and so on.

The tendency to blame somebody else for your troubles is understandable, but the one blame victim that deserves special attention and invites logical analysis is the system.

WHAT IS the system and what is wrong with it? What is it about that crazy system that always makes things go wrong?

Knifing his way into the heart of the system, weeding out irrelevancies and extracting misconceptions, Dr. Laurence J. Peter made a startling discovery as to what is really wrong with the system. In a typically human irony, what makes the system fail, he claims is success. What demotes the efficiency of the system is promotion. Dr. Peter theorizes that in every hierarchical system (which means, in effect, every system), promotion leads to incompetency.

"In a hierarchy every employe tends to rise to his level of incompetency," states the concise outline of Dr. Peter's findings, otherwise known as "The Peter Principle," the subject of his book of the same name.

TO USE an example from his book. let's look at N. Beeker, a popular science teacher at Excelsior City High. His lessons and lab periods were inspiring and his students were co-operative.

He was not, however, good at paper work, but this weakness was generally offset by his success and competence as a teacher.

"Beeker was promoted to head of the science department where he now had to order all science supplies and keep extensive records. His incompetence was evident!

"For three years running he has ordered new Bunsen burners, but no tubing for connecting them. As the old tubing deteriorates, fewer and fewer burners are operable, although new ones accumulate on the shelves.

"Beeker is not being considered for further promotion. His ultimate position is one for which he is incompetent.

It took only one step for Beeker to rise from a level of competence to his level of incompetence. Thus, he will never again be promoted, although (and this is where the real tragedy lies) he will never be fired or demoted back to a level of competence.

MANY PEOPLE can accept rise after rise in status before they finally reach their levels of incompetence but as Peter emphasizes most strongly, eventually they will get there. The call of promotion is strong, and when man is tempted, he cannot usually resist even if he knows it may represent a level of incompetence. Peter's Corollary, a logical ex-If your ad is cancelled tion, you are charged o number of days it ran. tension of the Peter Principle, is that eventually every job in a hierarchy seems so far removed from everyday government operations that even White House aides themselves know little about what the future holds. One obvious example is the case of Gen. Haig as "interim" staff chief. Haig wants to get out of politics and back to his job as vice chief of staff in the Army within a few weeks, or even sooner. Yet, one top White House aide sees two years as the proper tenure for Haig. Another believes he will be kept on for two months.

PEKING - Arriving in Peking as of Chou En-lai, whose achievements Ambassador of the United States for China in everything but name, David K. E. Bruce is initiating a new phase in the rapidly developing relationship between the two countries. The speed with which the exchange of missions between Peking and Washington came about is in itself remarkable.

WHEN HENRY ... Kissinger, the President's adviser on national security affairs, came here in February the outside limit of his hope was to get agreement on trade offices in the two capitals.

This would be a modest establishment, without fanfare, intended to smooth the way for increased trade. He was astonished when Premier Chou En-lai suggested a liaison mission that would have diplomatic immunity and some diplomatic privileges.

THE CHOICE of Bruce was a 10strike. Not only America's senior diplomat serving as Ambassador in Paris, Bonn and London, he is a scholar and a witty raconteur out of his wealth of experience. Yet, for all his many years in foreign posts he is unmistakably an American. His independence has been uppermost from the announcement of his appointment to his arrival in Hong giving Americans extraterritorial Kong, the first stop on the way to Peking. He has a diplomatic assignment of the first importance as diplomat and administrator over every detail of the life of this vast land are without parallel in the contemporary world.

Transcripts were made of these conversations and as part of the preparation for his assignment Bruce read the thousands of words exchanged between Kissinger and Chou. It gave him an extraordinary insight into the mind of one of the commanding figures of the century.

HAVING SPENT part of his youth in Paris where he first became a member of the Communist party Chou speaks French fluently, as do Bruce and his wife. Like Bruce, he has strong feeling for antiques and art objects.

Almost to the day 130 years ago Secretary of State Daniel Webster sent Caleb Cushing, the first American emissary to Peking, to negotiate a treaty to protect American businessmen and missionaries. One of Webster's worries was that Cushing would be required when presented to the emperor to perform the kowtow, which consisted of "three kneelings and nine prostrations" with the nose on the floor. It turned out that, while he did negotiate a treaty privileges, Cushing never saw the emperor.

SOME CRITICS called Nixon's self invited mission to Peking a kowtow, but that was the beginning of the greatest diplomatic venture of our time. Now with his beautiful wife. Evangeline, Bruce will represent the best of America. Copyright 1973 United Feature Syndicat The Q. & A.

MR. NIXON did not summon the official to ask him about it. Nor did he seek to find out the truth for himself. Nor did the development stimulate any Oval Office conversation at all. He has seen a few Republican Congressmen lately, they have left his office deeply disturbed by Nixonian detachment from the Watergate wreckage.

Thus, while stunned Republican politicians 'are beginning to talk of the real possibility of impeachment, Mr. Nixon seems unable to wrench himself out of the habit of business as usual. In the judgment of key officials both inside and outside the White House, Mr. Nixon is confiding in nobody SIMILARLY. HE has resisted the changes being pushed by three top White House officials - Gen. Alexander Haig as "interim" chief of staff, counsel Leonard Garment and press secretary Ron Ziegler. They wan t frequent and intimate presidential talks with his Cabinet and Republican members of Congress, fresh faces in the White House and the bureaucracy and, most important, exposure to the press.

But in fact, Mr. Nixon's presidential life has changed very little, leading to doubts by both his supporters and his enemies that he means to keep his promises of a new open-door

UNDER MILITARY discipline, Haig has no choice in the matter and must accept the risk of watching his brilliant Army career dirtied or even destroyed if he is kept in an essentially political job at the White House. Although Haig tells intimates he wants to open up the White House and restore bipartisan civility, he is totally subject to orders of the Commander-in-Chief.

Finally, Mr. Nixon's sudder decision to bring John B. Connally into the White House added still more confusion. Top White House aides were led to understand Connally would have no voice in major policy decisions. Yet he is now preparing to draft a new anti-inflation policy in effect repudiating Secretary of the Treasury George Shultz's disastrous Phase II. It is very much like earlier years of the Nixon administration: confusion, uncertainty, presidential

This is no Picnic

We Americans are the kind of people who often get so busy we fail to take enough time to do the really important things. We get so involved with the every day business of living that we concentrate on the smaller aspects of life, neglecting the larger areas which are infinitely more important; such as being thankful.

Our service men and women, as a result, are often taken for granted. They have their time to serve, and we accept it as a matter of course until someone close to us pays the extreme sacrifice for the freedoms we enjoy, and then we might take a moment to reflect on how important they really are to us.

But now is a time when we should become aware of the sacrifices they are making for us. Many of them have interrupted their education, their family life, their job -- because their country has called, and they have responded to their duty. In many instances today, they face dangers which we, the ones safe at home, seldom realize.

We are proud of these men and women who are serving our country and who consequently are protecting our American heritage. And while this is a small way indeed to say thanks, we hope in some way they realize we are grateful to them for their services.

TOTAL OF 6,824 PERSONS INVOLVED Webb Assets Valued At $131,000,000

Here are highlights and statistics concerning Webb AFB, or the 78th Flying Training Wing, of the Air Training Command, whose mission it is to train young officers to become jet airplane pilots. Over the years the base, which was opened October 1951, has turned out more than 8,000 AF pilots. Currently it graduates about 380 pilots per year in 45-member classes at six-week intervals

Training is done in T-41 (a beginning propeller-type) plane, and the T-37 and T-38 jet aircraft. (The T41 operation is being phased out here this year). The main base encompasses 2,439 acres; has 463 buildings including 261 housing units; has 979 acres in auxiliary field facilities and 345 acres in the parasail training area.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) - A 17-year-old boy who had pleaded guilty to turning in a false fire alarm has been sentenced to respond to every fire call in neighborhood for two veeks.

Town Justice Robert Kiener ordered on Wednesday that a fire dispatch radio be placed in the youth's suburban West Seneca home beginning June 25. He said the youth, whose name was not revealed, must report to the fire station and remain there until the equipment and men return:

"Then you can return home and go to sleep, with one foot on the floor waiting for the next call, the same as these firemer you called out," Kiener said.

Name Inspires Its Mission

The fourth major - but numerically the smallest branch of the Armed Forces is the United States Coast Guard. Perhaps not as well known as the Army, Navy, and Air Force, the Coast Guard nevertheless is the oldest continuous sea-going service in the nation. The Navy came into existence in 1775, but it had declined and went into limbo temporarily after the Revolutionary War when the Coast Guard was born in 1790. The young nation ordered 10 small cutters into service to supress smuggling. It has capabilities ever since.

It's name implies its mission - guarding the coast. This applies not only to the United States, but also to places where the nation may be engaged in combat. For instance, the Coast Guard functioned in and off Vietnam until last year

RESPONSIBILITIES

This branch of the service is responsible also for aids to navigation maintaining a vast array of lights, signals, boys and bouy tenders. It also is the arm of the government for enforcing fishing treaties. It also specializes in ice breaking on key waterways, and more recently in protection of ports against pilferage, as well as insuring port safety and safety for the merchant mathine. A new assignment is controlling and cleaning up oil spills at sea and in port.

Most familiar, perhaps is its search and rescue mission. Last year, the Guard handled 44,370 missions, and in soding saved an estimated 4,000 lives and helped prevent property damage calculated at $233 million. The total force of the professionals numbers slightly over 37,000.
