LADY BYRD AT LEI CATTLE AUCTION—Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson sold the late President's prized Hereford cattle herd Monday at public auction. Standing in front of a pen of cattle, she reminisced that "Lyndon started the herd twenty years ago... This was Lyndon's love. But the time has come to sell."

Denies Mailing Threat To Former Nixon Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — Watergate conspirator James W. McCord Jr. today denied to Senate investigators that he had tried to persuade the White House to keep him out of jail.

DESERT SONG

He admitted sending an unsigned letter last December to former White House aide John J. Caulfield threatening that "every tree in the forest will fall, there will be a scorched desert..."

But he said the threat was meant to apply only if the Central Intelligence Agency were falsely blamed for the Watergate wiretapping.

"The letter... did not contain any message requesting any contact with Caulfield, nor any request for the White House to get me out of the case, or off the case. I in fact sought no such contact at any time," McCord testified.

McCord also conceded that he had deliberately made two telephone calls to foreign embassies in Washington in an attempt to be overheard on government wiretaps. But he determined that this was a ploy to undermine the government's case against him.

DENY IT

McCord said he made the calls to test the government's honesty. He was convinced his own telephone had been illegally wiretapped, he said, but believed the government would probably deny it if asked about it in court.

He said he tried to be overheard on other taps on embassy telephones to see if the government would admit overhearing him there. He said it didn't. News reports today identified the embassies as those of Israel and Chile.

McCord's credibility as a witness has been under discussion since last Friday, when he told the Senate Watergate investigating committee that Caulfield had pressured him with offers of executive clemency.

NIXON'S NAME

Caulfield was listed to follow McCord as a witness at today's televised hearings. He has admitted transmitting offers of executive clemency to McCord, but denied that he invoked President Nixon's name in doing it.

McCord said Caulfield told him the President was aware of the clemency offers and would be informed of McCord's reaction. The White House has repeatedly denied that the President authorized clemency offers to anyone in the Watergate case, or that he was aware of any attempt to cover up the scandal.

McCord today repeated his previously publicized account of how he came to believe that the White House was ruthlessly attempting to blame the CIA for the Watergate break, for which McCord and others were convicted of burglary, wiretapping and conspiracy.

He said he had been told through his lawyer, Gerald Alch, that others wanted him to contend at his trial that the CIA was behind the wiretapping and burglary.

McCord, who retired from the CIA after 19 years of service, refused to go along, he said. He said Alch indicated that the CIA's personnel records could be altered to make it appear that McCord had been recalled to service for the Watergate operation.

CONVINCED

McCord said Alch persisted in efforts to blame the CIA. "By now, I was completely convinced that the White House was behind the idea... and that the White House was turning ruthless, and would do whatever was politically expedient," McCord said.

It was only then, he said, that he sent his letter to Caulfield. "The letter read in substance as follows, to the best of my memory," he said. "Dear Jack, I am sorry to have to write you this letter. If (CIA Director Richard) Helms goes, and the Watergate operation is laid at CIA's feet where it does not belong, every tree in the forest will fall, there will be a scorched desert. The whole matter is at the precipice right now. Pass the message that if they want it to blow, they're on exactly the right course. I'm sorry that you'll get hurt in the fallout."

HIDE OUT

On another matter McCord said he was told a plane owned by the mysterious billionaire Howard Hughes had been arranged for use in a plan, never carried out, to burglarize the safe of a Las Vegas newspaper publisher. The plane allegedly was to fly the burglars to a Latin American hideout after the breakin.

McCord said fellow conspirator G. Gordon Liddy had told him that then-Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell told him that "blackmail" information on a Democratic candidate was in the safe of Hank Greenspun, publisher of the Las Vegas Sun.

Ways To Help Train Labor Force Given

Programs designed to help industries in their problems of training labor for start-up or expansion were outlined at a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce here Tuesday morning.

Before it was over, discussion settled on how to reach the labor market and motivate members of the labor pool to get into jobs, and also take the training.

Panelists were Frank Alagna, director of industrial training with the Texas Industrial Commission, and Ed Ward, director of special programs in the special education division of Texas Education Agency. Both are from Austin.

Alagna projected a film which showed how Westinghouse obtained a labor force in the rural area of Round Rock by a three-pronged effort that included voluntary threshold or pre-employment training, 12 weeks of vestibule or part-time on-the-job training (half a day on the job, half a day in training), and fulltime on-the-job training.

The Industrial Commission, said Alagna, helps setup the training; the TEA becomes the implement for doing it. Ward added that it is possible to set up adult education programs which serve some who might be entering the labor market or desire to upgrade skills.

'CANDY GIRL' Berserk Gunman Kills Five

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — "I guess he just cracked," said William Edward Farmer Jr. "He knew my father — knew him well. We had been children together."

Farmer's father was one of four persons fatally wounded Monday by a gunman who sprayed rifle bullets without warning along a quiet Memphis street. The man also killed a police officer before he was forced from a house by tear gas and shot to death.

FIRED AT AUTOS

Authorities said the gunman, identified as David Sanders, 30, was sauntering down the street with a powerful rifle dangling in his hand when he suddenly whirled and shot to death four neighborhood residents. Four other people, including a federal parole officer, were wounded as the gunman fired at passing autos.

Witnesses told police the first to die was an elderly junkman, John Aldridge, who was collecting pop bottles and tossing them into his two-wheel cart.

The victims were William Farmer, 73, a retired railroad man, Jessie Dooley, and Henrietta Watson, known as "Candy Girl" because she worked in an adjoining candy store.

"One of the ladies from down near the corner called me and told me somebody had gone crazy and just started shooting folks and that my husband was one of them," said Lendora Farmer, 60. Her 28-year-old son, William, said he and Sanders had been classmates together.

Police Chief Bill Price said officers arrived at the scene shortly before 4 p.m. EDT and were told by witnesses that the gunman had fled into a house down the street.

Shield Bill Agreement

AUSTIN (AP) — House and Senate conferees are expected to sign a proposal for a limited newsman's shield bill yearly in the week after reaching apparent agreement Monday night.

Three senators and three representatives — the minimum necessary — said they would approve a compromise shield bill that could be breached in cases involving murder, rape, robbery, kidnapping or arson.

But the compromise measure reconciling differences in House and Senate bills remains unsigned.

Sens. Brooks, Clower and Santiesteban joined Reps. Alred, Garcia and McAllister in giving tentative approval. Reps. Luther Jones and Joe Allen said they wanted more time to think about it.

"I'm not sure this pierces the absolute shield," said Rep. Dave Alred, D-Wichita Falls, the chief House conferee. "I think it just says the shield shall not apply in certain cases."

Alred said he wasn't "splitting hairs," with that distinction.

If the compromise is approved by the committee, it would still have to be okayed by the full House and Senate.

THD Robbery In Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Three gunmen robbed the motor vehicle division of the Texas Highway Department's Houston office Monday and left with 135 licenses to steal cars.

The trio, armed with two rifles and a pistol, entered the office and one of them shouted, "Don't move or I'll blow your head off," witnesses said.

About 135 negotiable title forms were scooped up, along with a woman's purse.

A highway department spokesman said the blank title duplicates are used to replace lost original titles and may be used to show ownership.

Hospital Land Is Rezoned

Approval of rezoning of 135.9 acres from single family to light commercial was given by the Planning and Zoning commission to a proposed hospital tract Monday evening.

The recommendation goes to the city commission in a special session this evening.

The Hospital Corporation of America plans to build a 150-bed hospital, with all ancillary facilities, on the site, which is south of Eleventh place, and east of FM 700 (Marcy). The eastern boundary is a vacancy strip, owned by the Bristow Estate, which runs north and south along the east line from the Park Hill School.

Total tract being bought from the Edwards Brothers by HCA amounts to 149 acres, but about 14 acres were not included in the zoning change appeal because it will be used as a buffer between the Indian Hills addition and Park Hill School, said Dr. P. W. Malone, who presented the request to the zoning commission.

The proposed hospital would be located on the western part of the rezoned area, which puts it northwest of the Indian Hills area.

In other action, the committee approved changing a plot of land on the south side of FM 700 at Gollad to light commercial zone. It had previously been retail and SF 2 zone.

National MIA Day Slated

Sunday, June 3, has been set aside as National MIA Day in Big Spring.

Mayor Wade Choate today joined Gov. Dolph Briscoe in proclaiming the day which focuses attention upon the 1,300 members of the United States Armed Forces who are still unaccounted for in Vietnam.

"The number of captured Americans recently released by the Communist leaders in Indochina is only 30 per cent of those who are listed by our government as Prisoners of War or Missing in Action," noted Mayor Choate.

"The other 70 per cent — or 1,300 men, may still be alive and endure secret captivity with its degradation and deprivation," he added.

He called attention that this is in direct violation of the Geneva Convention to which North Vietnam is a signatory.

Because families of these missing men can't experience peace of mind until the fate of these men is known, the mayor urged the citizenry to join in a strong expression of concern for these missing, and in support of efforts to secure a complete accounting.

Woos Trash Can Lid, Pan, Rock

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Zookeepers are in search of a mate for love-struck "Monster," a Galapagos tortoise at the Sogile Zoo.

Zoo officials said Monster has been looking for a girlfriend and has wooed a garbage can lid, a feeding pan and a rock.

HARD DRUG PREDICTIONS

Tell In Advance Which Teens Likely To Puff Pot

BOSTON (AP) — Researchers say they have developed a method to tell in advance which teenagers are likely to use marijuana, which ones will go on to hard drugs and which ones will remain nonusers.

ANALYZED DATA

In a report from the Department of Psychiatry at Massachusetts General Hospital, the researchers said today they analyzed data from 2,222 junior high and high school students in the Boston area.

In that computer analysis, drug use in 1971 was predicted from five nondrug-related factors — including academic performance and cigarette smoking — measured in 1969.

The researchers said the analysis was 88 per cent accurate in predicting the nondrug users who went on to marijuana alone and 77 per cent accurate in showing what nonusers went to both marijuana and hard drugs such as heroin, stimulants, depressants and hallucinogens.

The data were also 72 per cent accurate in predicting what nonusers eventually used any type of drug and 67 per cent accurate in predicting which new marijuana users went to hard drugs.

The researchers said that in comparing data from nonusers and those already using drugs at the beginning of the study in 1969, the computer was able to sort out the two groups with 81 per cent accuracy using only nondrug-related information.

"We need to emphasize," Dr. Gene M. Smith of Massachusetts General said in an interview, "that we are talking about statistical probabilities in groups."

The report was to be presented today at the National Research Council-National Academy of Sciences meeting of the Committee on Problems of Drug Dependence held at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill.

Eyssen: Blue Laws Working

No significant violations of the so-called Sunday Blue Law are being committed in Big Spring, County Attorney William H. Eyssen Jr. said.

News that Midland had begun enforcing the unpopular law was gratifying, Eyssen said. General merchandise stores have been complaining that Big Spring customers go to Midland and Odessa to shop on Sunday.

He called the law "really pointless," because so many in Texas disregard it. But Eyssen said he must enforce the law and said complaints about the law should be directed to state legislators.

Eyssen has supplied stores with lists of items which cannot be sold on consecutive Saturdays and Sundays. He noted nothing prevents a chain from keeping one store open Saturday and another open Sunday.

Big Increases In Cost Of Food, Clothing, Used Cars, Gasoline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cost of Living jumped sharply again in April with big increases in the cost of food, clothing, used cars and gasoline, the government reported today.

The Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said consumer prices rose seven-tenths of one per cent last month, following a nine-tenths of one per cent jump in March. April's jump matched February's increase. March's jump was a 22-year record.

BEEF PRICES

The bureau said food bought in grocery stores rose 1.6 per cent, less than in each of the preceding three months but considerably higher than usual for April.

Fruits and vegetables were higher than normal and beef prices continued to climb, but the government said the increase was much smaller than in recent months.

Prices on a broad range of consumer goods other than food moved up sharply in April, reflecting recent wholesale price increases since the Nixon administration dropped price controls in January.

The jump in over-all consumer prices pushed the government's retail price index up at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 9.2 per cent over the past three months. The administration has set a goal of reducing inflation to 2.5 per cent by the end of the year.

PROMISES, PROMISES

The April consumer price index for all items showed a climb of 0.9 index points from March, up from 129.8 to 130.7.

In a separate report the bureau said average weekly wages in April rose four-tenths of a per cent, to $141.72. The rise resulted from increases of 0.5 per cent each in the average work week and in average hourly earnings which were partially offset by a seasonally adjusted 6-10ths of a per cent increase in consumer prices.

The administration has said it expects food prices to begin tapering off later this year and has resisted any further controls. April's figures, however, were gathered before the administration's ceiling on meat prices was put into effect and thus did not reflect its effects, the government said.

RAIN

Showers or thunder-shower possibilities: 40 per cent this afternoon and tonight and 20 per cent Wednesday. High this afternoon and Wednesday, around 80. Low tonight, near 50.

Thunder and lightning shook little rain loose in the cloud-darkened sky over Howard County Monday night.

The Big Spring Experiment Station measured .19 inches, bringing the year's total to 8.53 inches. Normal for Big Spring through Monday is 5.71 inches.

In the southwest part of Big Spring, 4 was measured. A resident in the east part of town counted 25 inches.

Rainfall came to .27 inches at the Texas Electric Service Co. switching station northeast of Big Spring.

Moss Creek Lake denizens registered 1 inch and estimated half an inch drenched the watershed toward Big Spring.

It may not have been enough to displace the 31.3 pound yellow catfish snagged earlier.

The H. H. Wilkinson Ranch west of Big Spring felt no rain Monday afternoon but collected one-quarter inch around 2 a.m. today.

Forsan Oil Well Service Inc., reported about 3 inches.

W. P. Odum, assistant manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, listed these area rain measurements:

Odeesa, trace; Midland, trace; Colorado City station, 1.2 inches; Martin County station northwest of Stanton, 2 inches; and the station north of Big Spring, .2 inches.

Texas House Backs Public Nudity Ban

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The first complete revision of Texas' criminal laws since 1856 has cleared what probably is its last major hurdle.

The House voted 114-27 to give tentative approval to the bill Monday and was expected to take a final vote on it today.

Only one important amendment was placed on the measure Monday, meaning there is a good chance the Senate will accept that one change, together with smaller changes, and send the bill to Gov. Dolph Briscoe, who is expected to sign it.

NAKED TRUTH
The House voted 123-14 to make it a crime to be naked in public. The penalty would be a fine up to $200.

Rep. Don Cavness, D-Austin, told the House his nudity amendment is needed because some people are bathing "completely nude, you know, with everything showing" on Lake Travis, west of Austin.

"A man no longer can go to a public place with his family because other people have imposed on his freedom to this extent," Cavness said.

INSANE?

Rep. Neil Caldwell, D-Alvin, asked Cavness if he had personally investigated the situation on Lake Travis. Cavness said yes.

"This is something you've looked into yourself," Caldwell said, drawing a laugh. "That's the long and short of it—the bare facts."

Rep. Jim Nugent, D-Kerrville, protested that men in public showers or public toilets be prosecuted under the Cavness amendment.

A motion was made to table the Cavness amendment. But when it became obvious that the motion would lose, at least 20 representatives, including Caldwell, rushed down to the speaker's rostrum to switch their votes. The final vote on the motion to table was 26-112.

The House refused to accept an amendment to make it harder for a defendant to prove he was insane at the time he committed a crime.

NEW TEST
The same amendment lost by a 17-14 vote in the Senate last Wednesday.

Rep. John Hoestebach, D-Odessa, argued that the insanity test in the proposed Penal Code is the "irresistible impulse" defense that would allow a defendant to cool off 10 minutes after killing someone in a fit of anger, say he was sorry and get away with it.

Rep. Craig Washington, D-Houston, said the new test is not irresistible impulse because the defendant must prove he suffers from a mental disease or defect that caused him to be unable to conform his conduct to the requirements of law.

Under present law, a defendant is considered insane only if he can show he did not know the difference between right and wrong or that he did not know the nature and consequences of his act.

ENGLISH LAW
This test is based on an 1843 English murder case involving a man named M'Naghten. Most psychiatrists say the M'Naghten Rule is antiquated.

Meistersingers To Repeat Show
The high school Meistersingers will present a repeat performance at 8 p.m. today of their Broadway Musical Revue concert which drew a crowd of approximately 600 in the initial performance last night.

"We've still got over $5,000 to go," said Jack Bowers, choir director, of the group's efforts to finance a summer European tour.

Tonight's show, the same as Monday night's, will include selections from some 10 major musicals including "Camelot," "Fiddler on the Roof," "Paint Your Wagon," "Porgie and Bess," and "The Unsinkable Molly Brown."

Tickets are $2 and can be purchased at the door at the high school auditorium.

Developing 'Death Ray'

LONDON (AP) — The British government is exchanging information with the United States on a laser "death ray" that both nations are developing to destroy aircraft and missiles at long range, the Defense Ministry said today.

A spokesman said work on a powerful, long-range laser gun has been going on for some time. Scientific sources said the gun being developed has a range of 70 miles and ultimately can be mounted in aircraft.

But they said the first tests will probably take place on shipboard because of the electrical power needed.

A laser produces a beam of intense light waves concentrated along a very narrow line rather than scattering as from a normal light source. Since light travels at 186,000 miles a second, a laser weapon's beam would reach its target instantly.

Col. Harold Shultz Is Transferred To Chanute

Air Training Command officials have announced that Col. Harold D. Shultz, Webb's Base Commander, has been reassigned to Chanute AFB, Rantoul, Ill.

He will assume duties as the commander, 3345th Civil Engineering Squadron. He will be responsible for facilities worth $100 million and the supervision of 600 personnel.

His duties will include design, construction, and maintenance of all real property facilities; utility systems; fire protection; and management of all base real estate. He will control an annual budget of approximately $10 million. Chanute has a total of 1,638 family housing units, about four times the Webb total.

COL. HAROLD D. SHULTZ

Col. Shultz arrived at Webb in February 1972 from Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala., where he had been associated with Project Corona Harvest for several years.

The colonel, a 1951 graduate of the U.S. Military Academy, has served overseas tours in Korea, Germany, and the Republic of South Vietnam. His awards and decorations include the Silver Star, the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Bronze Star Medal, the Air Medal, Purple Heart and the Air Force Outstanding Unit Award.

In addition to his BS in Engineering from West Point, he holds an MA in history from Stanford University and an MBA in business administration from George Washington University. After receiving his masters in history, he was assigned an instructor and assistant professor of history at

'Reform' Bills Prediction

AUSTIN (AP) — Speaker Price Daniel Jr. predicted Monday that voters will kick out more than half of the members of the legislature if weak "reform" bills are passed.

"The public outcry if weak bills are passed will be as great as the outcry and reaction to the Sharpstown scandal," Daniel told a news conference.

The turnover in the legislature — more than 50 per cent in 1972 — will be as big in 1974, he said.

Daniel again declined to name the lobbyists he claimed Sunday had conspired to get the legislature to pass weak bills on campaign financing, lobby control and ethics.

There are "about a dozen" of them, and they will be named "at an appropriate time," he said. Daniel said allegations that he is squabbling or quibbling with Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby or the Senate are "absolutely unfair and untrue."

He also denied he has decided to oppose Hobby for the lieutenant governorship next year. Suggestions have been made that he run, he said, but they have "gone in one ear and out the other."

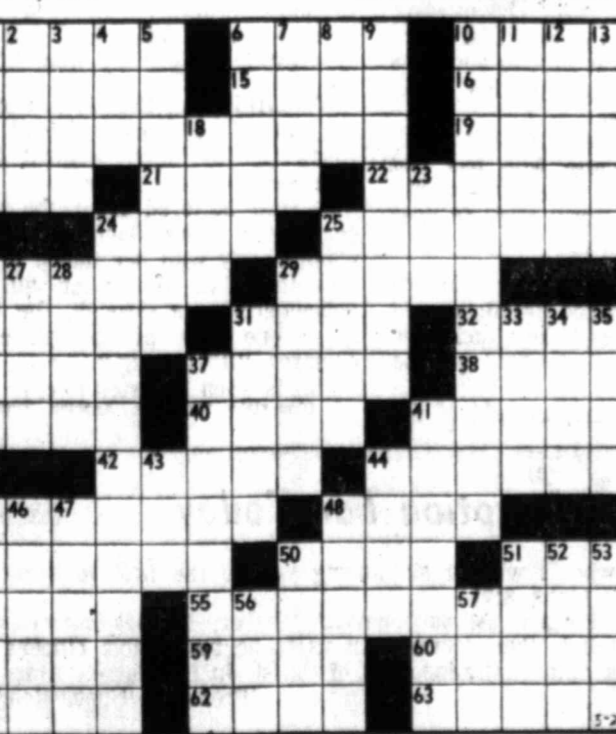

Asked how he rated Hobby's performance as a reformer, which Hobby campaigned as, Daniel said: "Action speaks louder than words."

Spreading Tentacles

Like a spider web, various other activities are being indicated by investigations growing out of the Watergate affair, or more particularly what is claimed to be attempts to cover up the incident of breaking into and bugging the Democratic National Committee headquarters last summer.

The president, intimating that he had not been informed of all developments, said he assumed responsibility in the sense a superior is responsible for the acts of his inferiors. The inference is that he did not know of the ill-starred project or efforts at covering the matter. He is to be believed, for he has painted himself into a pretty tight corner, and revelations to the contrary would be disastrous.

If it is the way the scenario ends, there is, as noted before, the frightening prospect that powerful underlings stood as a complete barricade between the chief executives and the effectual control of the administrative machinery.

But of late, the tentacles have spread to other disturbing possibilities. One of these is the prospect (attested to by the former head of the CIA) that someone high in the administration sought to involve the Central Intelligence Agency in what could easily be conceived as political espionage, and that efforts were made to get the CIA to ask the FBI to cool its probe of political payoffs which flowed into Mexico and then back home to cover the tracks of its identity.

At this stage, it would appear neither got too far, but the chilling part of it is the mere possibility that they could even partially be brought into the domestic political processes. Besides smacking of something wholly foreign to our basic concepts, these present the ugly spectacle of us spying on one another.

Once Upon A Time . . .

Alas, Hans Christian Andersen may have been before his time. Had he lived in this era of acting and entertainment awards, he might have exercised his genius by writing the greatest fairy tale of all: "Once upon a time there was a man (or woman) who won an award, and he marched to the microphone and said simply: 'Thank you.'"

Why do women need a constitutional amendment to guarantee their rights? Men never needed one. All they needed was permission from their mothers, wives and sweethearts.

We read that emotional tension is fattening. Now, there's something I don't mind giving up. Please pass the scalloped potatoes.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

What, in your estimation, is a good test for one's Christianity? Each denomination has its own standards, but I would be interested in your opinion. J.R.

According to my understanding of the Bible, the real test of Christianity is two-fold: to love God with all our heart, soul, mind and strength, and our neighbor as ourself. Love for God includes, of course, acceptance of His Son. This is the basis for being a Christian, but there is more. With a watch, the mainspring's purpose is to make the hands move. So it is that the mainspring of faith in loving the Lord, is to produce deeds of love in our lives daily.

"Your religion is good and vital," wrote a wise man, "if it nourishes you in confidence, hope, love and a sentiment of the infinite value of existence; if it is allied with what is the best in you against the worst, if it makes you understand that pain is a deliverer; if it increases your respect for the conscience of others; if it renders forgiveness more easy, fortune less arrogant, duty dear, and immortality more real."

In Matthew 25, when Jesus related the parable of the servants receiving varying amounts of money from a master going away, he used a key phrase. It was, "You have been faithful in handling this small amount." Evidently, the rewards were the greatest to those faithful in the least detail.

What a person does in the sanctuary is one thing. What he does in the supermarket or swimming pool is another, and the latter may prove the greater clue to one's grasp of the Christian life.

Home-Cooked Meals

By PENNIE SUE THURMAN

(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Even with meat prices still up, a home-cooked meal costs half as much and tastes twice as good as a meal prepared from packaged food.

That's what I found out when I cooked the same meal twice — once from convenience foods and once from scratch.

What surprised me, though, was how difficult it was to get all those little tins unwrapped, into the oven and onto the table all at the same time while preparing the packaged meal. In a way, it was more work than mixing my own salad dressing, appetizers and soup.

To provide the four people to eat the four servings for which most recipes are written my husband, and I invited another couple to join us.

The menu: cheese puff appetizers, potato soup, lettuce salad with Thousand Island dressing, beef stroganoff, mashed potatoes, broccoli with cheese sauce, biscuits, brownies and coffee.

The cost for the packaged meal was $9.22. Most of it was discarded as waste cardboard and tin foil. From scratch, using butter and fresh vegetables and meat, the meal cost $5.81.

The project was inspired by a local newspaper item written during this spring's meat boycott. It noted that a check of neighborhood grocery stores showed that sales of TV dinners and other heat-and-eat foods swung upward as meat sales fell off.

"What happened," the article asked plaintively, "to home-made chicken soup swimming with noodles?"

The menu included more starch than nutritionists might advise, but packaged food tends to be starchy and I based the menu on what could be found packaged.

All the food was bought at the local Jewel Tea Co. supermarket where I ordinarily shop and, to my knowledge, none of the food was on sale that day.

The frozen beef stroganoff, $1.09 for an individual 8-ounce serving, probably contained no more than four ounces of beef, according to a butcher in the meat department. Actually, it looked like even less on the plate and contained quite a bit of gristle.

Twelve frozen cheese puff pastry appetizers, which I approximated with 15 cents worth of processed cheese, butter and flour from a "Joy of Cooking" recipe, cost 99 cents.

"I don't know where they found cheese that heavy," my husband said, lobbing the lump from one hand to the other.

The broccoli in the little plastic pouches wasn't bad. But the cost, 46 cents each for two packages, compared with 35 cents for a pound of fresh broccoli covered with 19 cents worth of cheese sauce.

Unlike the home-cooked meal, which left us all full nearly to discomfort, the packaged meal seemed to be mainly filler. The mashed potatoes had the consistency of wallpaper paste and sat like a rock in my stomach.

A consumer advocate's nightmare, they were little more than a powder which still had to be mixed with milk and butter.

After the second meal, we all agreed the difference in flavor was well worth the three hours spent in preparation.

But I'm a working woman, and the savings, which worked out to about $1.50 per hour, would not justify the time were it not for the quality.

MEANWHILE MR. Nixon's critics, always willing to believe the worst about him, took the curdling sanctimony of his speech as a personal challenge to uproot any scintilla of evidence linking the President to Watergate, or to the subsequent effort to isolate the case. The Chapquiddick solution of Sen. Kennedy, with of course the appropriate modifications, would have disarmed

Mr. Nixon's critics, and made the investigation a much more listless affair. Sen. Kennedy, far from encouraging a meticulous public investigation of the Chapquiddick affair, took refuge in a grand jury proceeding which in those days was reliably confidential, suffered a grave diminution of his reputation, but by no means a mortal one. The obituary of the President in the past fortnight suggests that he knows now the grave mistake he made on the evening of April 30.

THERE IS something in Mr. Nixon that is at war with his generally sound political judgment. It is the compulsion to self-justification. He gave one other very bad speech during his Presidency. It was when he decided to send American troops into Cambodia. He begged, and even demanded, that the whole of the American public should endorse his decision, indeed that the American public should understand it as an act of great military and above all extramilitary statesmanship.

THE SENIOR Democratic leadership in Congress is remarkably restrained on the subject precisely because these are gentlemen who know that the success of the prosecutorial staff of the Senate Committee may be in inverse ratio to the best interests of the republic. What if, after a half dozen weeks of hearings, the only truly plausible conclusion is that Mr. Nixon was "guilty"? What then?

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — It is incumbent on every columnist to see "Last Tango in Paris" and comment on it. Some critics have called it the greatest movie of our time. Others have written that it is one of the great rip-offs of the film industry.

BUT HAVING seen the movie, I would like to advance the opinion that most critics have missed the point of the picture.

"Last Tango in Paris" is not, as has been described, the story of an aging American (Marlon Brando) and a young girl (Maria Schneider) in a desperate sexual battle for survival.

It is really a simple heartwarming film about two people trying to rent the same apartment in Paris.

ONLY THOSE who have ever searched for an apartment in Paris can appreciate what Brando and Miss Schneider go through for this lovely flat near the Seine.

In the film, Brando plays a washed-out American, whose wife has just committed suicide. He wants the apartment in the worst way. So does the young French girl.

THEY MEET by accident in the empty flat and you see Brando's mind working. He figures if he attacks the girl, she'll go away and he'll get the apartment.

But Miss Schneider, a child of the French bourgeoisie, is made of sterner stuff, and she puts up little resistance to Brando's assault.

THE NEXT day they are back at the apartment again. Brando has bought a table, chairs and a bed to assert his claim to it. But Miss Schneider is not impressed and walks about the place as if it were hers. This infuriates Brando and he throws her down and keeps muttering, "It's mine. It's mine." Schneider just laughs at him.

BRANDO IS now desperate. He shows Miss Schneider a dead rat. It shakes her up, but not enough to give up the place. So Brando decides to humiliate her with beastiality.

Rather than being frightened by Brando's brutality, Miss Schneider becomes more determined than ever to wrest the key away from him.

BY THIS time, Brando is worn out and figures the apartment isn't really worth it. He leaves without telling Miss Schneider his name.

A little battered from the sexual encounters, Miss Schneider returns triumphantly with her fiancé to show him the flat. But after all Miss Schneider's been through, the fiancé takes one look at the place and declares, "It's too big."

This is when I started to cry.

Have Milk Pastuerized

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: How many calories in an 8 or 10 ounce glass of raw milk? We love it at home and have been drinking it — also we are putting weight on. But I don't blame the milk. We are big eaters also. — F. O.

Figure about 21 calories per ounce, and you can do your own arithmetic, depending on the size of the glass.

The figure will be the same whether the milk is raw or pasteurized.

But if you are gaining weight, you can help yourself some by substituting low-fat or skim milk — the nutritive value will be the same, except that fat (high in calories) has been removed. And some loss of Vitamin A.

But why keep drinking raw milk and running the risk of infection (brucellosis and other diseases)? That's why any resistance to the cold pasteurization was adopted, to prevent the diseases which can be carried by milk if a herd happens to pick up an infection.

The pasteurization does not change the nutritive values.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have angina pectoris. Can I have sex relations? And how often? — F. C.

Unless there are some special circumstances in your case, the answer is yes. The average angina patient ordinarily can continue at whatever has been normal for him. It's discussed in my booklet, "How To Handle Angina Pectoris," which is available by mail. Send 25 cents for printing and handling, and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for a copy.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Two years ago my wife, 24, had her womb and appendix removed because of pelvic disease. Is there such a thing as an artificial womb? We want another child desperately. — K. R.

I'm sorry, but no, no such thing. Have you considered adoption? That's the only answer.

DIZ, CURT & TONY

New Trio Makes Debut

NEW YORK (AP) — While the San Francisco Giants and Houston Astros went about the business of baseball, the television viewers got a taste of a new stop play-by-play, expertise, reminiscing and cornpone humor.

And the fans at home and the 24,186 at the game were treated, if that's the proper word, to an off-key, a cappella, gravelly, drawing version of The Wabash Cannonball.

It wasn't exactly Humble Howard, Dandy Don and Fearless Frank — but then, it wasn't a gridiron they were overlooking.

It was the diamond in the cavernous Houston Astrodome and it was the newest entry in show business-sports, Curt, Tony and Diz.

Curt Gowdy and Tony Kubek will be there every Monday night for NBC's Monday night Game of the Week. The new addition is a weekly celebrity, in this case... YAHOO!... Dizzy Dean.

In weeks to come, it could range from baseball greats like Joe DiMaggio and Casey Stengel to other sports stars like basketball's Dave DeBusschere of the New York Knicks and tennis hustler Bobby Riggs... and ultimately to diverse personalities such as Dinah Shore, Woody Allen, Pearl Bailey, perhaps Tiny Tim, and others.

But for the premiere of the experiment — one which had been lambasted by hard-core baseball fans long before it ever got on the air — NBC went for the combination man, baseball star and personality in Dean, the premiere pitcher of the St. Louis Cardinals' "Gashouse Gang" of the 1930s.

The trio became a quartet in the sixth inning as Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn joined the act. At times, the airwaves seemed to be almost cluttered with commentary, occasionally related to what was happening on the AstroTurf, more often not.

It was going into the bottom of the third inning that Dean swung into The Wabash Cannonball. He did one verse, greeted with mild applause by the fans, then unexpectedly broke into a reprise.

Houston's Roger Metzger, stepping into the batter's box, glanced around and stepped out again as the second verse twanged around the ballpark. Home plate umpire John McSherry turned to look up at the broadcasting booth, then flung out his arms as if to say, "Enough, already."

"I'm delighted with the guest celebrity program," Kuhn had said before the game. "It automatically draws a big audience of people who won't normally watch baseball." Whether that's true won't be known for a while — until the ratings come in and a trend can be discerned.

Speier Whips Psyche, Astros In Giant Victory

HOUSTON (AP) — San Francisco shortstop Chris Speier's Astros centerfielder Cesar Cedeno twisted a back muscle being reverse psychology must have been trying to field Speier's triple, Houston Astros.

"I usually don't hit well in the Astrodome, but tonight I was seeing the ball very well," Speier said after hitting a two-run triple and two-run homer to power the Giants to a 9-4 series ending victory on national television Monday night. "I guess I just used reverse psychology."

Houston wrested the National League Western Division lead from the Giants during the series and still held it by five percentage points but the way the Astros lost Monday night was enough to send Manager Leo Durocher to an analyst's couch.

While Dizzy Dean, NBC's first guest celebrity in its Monday night series, serenaded the Astros with a chorus of "Wabash Cannonball," the Astros blew it in the first inning when a four-run Maddox and Gary Matthews. Tito Fuentes knocked in a run in the sixth with a single and Maddox preceded Speier's seventh inning homer with a solo shot. Ed Goodson also homered in the ninth.

Jesus Alou's pinch single scored two Houston runs in the second. Jimmy Wynn's solo homer in the fifth and Larry Howard's single in the sixth accounted for Houston's other runs.

"They are all big," San Francisco Manager Charlie Fox said, "but this has to pick us up. To lose three straight and then come back like this has to help."

The Astros had one other setback before departing for a two-game series with the Cincinnati Reds. Relief pitcher Jim York drew an automatic $50 fine when he was warned about a brushback following Speier's home run.

Grider Quits Steer Position

Jerry Grider, Big Spring Steer varsity football and track assistant the past year, has resigned his position to enter private business in Abilene.

Grider, a graduate of Abilene High, came to Big Spring after a three-year stint at Beeville High School, where he was head track coach and also served as a varsity football assistant.

Before that, he was baseball and basketball coach at Bee County Junior College in Beeville.

Grider attended Cisco Junior College, and then attended North Texas State University where he earned his B.S. and M.S. degrees, finishing in 1966.

Steers Work On Pass Game

The Big Spring Steers will concentrate on sharpening up their passing game this week in preparation for Friday night's Black and Gold Spring football finale.

"We'll slack off on the overall scrimmaging the rest of this week," said head coach Bob Burris, "and work mainly on our passing and pass protection. We do want to throw a lot this weekend."

The Steers had part of their night workout washed out Monday night, but got in an hour and a half scrimmage session. They'll return to Blankenship Field tonight for another 7:30 p.m. practice, and Wednesday's workout is set for the regular 3 p.m. starting time.

Burris reported no new injuries, but said that tackle Ken Froman would be held out of practice the next three days to allow a minor knee injury to heal before Friday.

The Spring clash will be a regular game, but without punt or kickoff returns. Burris said on regular punting situation the coaching staff would let the punters "kick under fire," but safeties will fair catch the balls.

Tickets remain on sale at The Herald office, Prager's Men's Store and Gibbs & Weeks Men's Store, and from Quarterback Club co-captains Harold Cannington, Byron Smith and Wilma Grace. Tickets are $1 and may also be purchased at the gate. Game time Friday is 8 p.m.

FLYING HIGH—Woman gymnast Ting Chao-fang, 27, of the People's Republic of China, takes to the air as she vaults on horse at the U.S.-People's Republic of China gym meet at New York's Madison Square Garden Monday night. The Americans scored a 111.90-109.40 victory.

Senate Returns To Probe Of U.S. Amateur Sports

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today began anew an attempt to solve the problems surrounding amateur sports in the United States, especially those of the Olympic games.

Sen. John V. Tunney, D-Calif., said inadequate financial support, haphazard planning and jurisdictional wrangling between groups of what he called unresponsive bureaucrats severely undermine U.S. participation in events such as the Olympics.

All these factors have contributed too frequently to the waste and overshadowing of the dedicated efforts of the people for whom sports are conducted—the individual athletes," he said. "Too often we have mounted a national effort unworthy of the individual excellence of these athletes."

Tunney, son of former heavyweight boxing champion Gene Tunney, made his remarks as the Senate Commerce Committee opened hearings on bills that would fundamentally alter the official structure of U.S. amateur sports.

Witnesses scheduled for the first of three days of hearings, to be chaired by Tunney, are Olympians Harold Connally, hammer throw; Willie Davenport, hurdler; Donna de Varona, swimmer; Suzie Chaffee, skier; Tom McMillen, basketball; and Bill Toomey, decathlete.

Other anticipated witnesses include sportscaster Howard Cosell; Rep. Ralph Metcalfe, former Olympic gold medal winner; David Rivenes, new president of the Amateur Athletic Union, and Walter Byers, chief executive of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The hearings are expected to address themselves to the Olympic program, the need for a national sports development fund and the practicality of a federal sports commission that might at last resolve disputes between the Amateur Athletic Union and the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Tunney said the athletes cannot be asked to dedicate themselves to competition, often at considerable cost and sacrifice, only to see their work frustrated by poor planning and inadequate support.

Tunney's bill would create a nine-member commission to review American Olympic participation and recommend legislation to reform and improve that program.

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

Whoever said "People are funny" was wrong. People aren't funny. They're sick.

How else would you explain it? In an era where sports are at their very peak, a man is about to break one of the greatest of all records — and all he gets for his efforts is torment. Oh, I forgot to mention one thing. He happens to be black.

It's just a matter of time before Hank Aaron surpasses Babe Ruth's all time career home run mark of 714, providing he can continue to take all the abuse he's been receiving lately. Six letters in every 10 he opens are full of hatred and slurs, and he can't take the outfield in his own Atlanta Stadium without hearing cries of "nigger" and "You're not as good as Babe Ruth."

Admittedly, Aaron is growing sick of the attacks. "You don't know how bad it is until it happens to you. I never said I was better than Ruth, but what am I supposed to do, stop hitting?"

It's strange. Aaron gets no abuse when his team is on the road, and the only abuse that can be heard is when opposing pitchers elect to walk the home run ace. But when he returns to Atlanta, it's the big racist bit all over again.

Great national pastime we've got, huh...?

Actually, if you consider Aaron's achievements an imposition on all that's holy in baseball, listen to this. The newest inductee into the Baseball Hall of Fame is... Dennis the Menace. I kid you not.

Through his creator Hank Ketcham, Dennis participated in a game of baseball for the blind in a story in a Dennis the Menace comic magazine, and that epic will be part of an exhibit at the Cooperstown, N.Y., shrine.

Baseball for the blind, a game invented by Ralph Rock of Telephone Pioneers of America, is made possible by the invention of a "beep ball." It's actually a softball containing an electronic device that beeps, enabling sightless batters to hear it coming and swing at it, and sightless fielders to catch it. Only the pitchers, catchers, umpires and fielding assistants are sighted.

The bases emit radio squeals activated by an umpire so that the blind batters know where to tag them. Since the time Dennis played in such a game blind-folded, Rock has received numerous inquiries, 60 beep ball teams have been formed, 2,000 beep balls have been ordered and a World Series of Sightless Softball is being planned...

I've always been a little reluctant to classify horse racing as a sport — in my own head, anyway — having the tendency to narrow it down more precisely to gambling rather than "sports." Recent reports from Sunland Park, N.M., make me realize just how brilliant I can be sometimes.

More than 2,700 persons attended the spring meetings daily and wagered $11,266,202, or $188,622 a day. That's not counting the fall meeting, and it's not counting Wednesday night programs. The final reports from Ruidoso in a couple of months should be even more staggering...

Hall Of Fame Names Twelve

NEW YORK (AP) — Twelve football players who started their collegiate careers before 1920 were named today to the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall of Fame in the Pioneer Player category.

Those who will be honored in special ceremonies on their home campus this fall are: Earl Abell, Colgate; Harold Ballin, Princeton; Aubrey Devine, Iowa; Robert Fisher, Harvard; Forest Geyer, Oklahoma; Also selected were Arthur Howe of Yale, John Mautsch, Michigan; Murray Shelton, Cornell; Gaylord Stinchcomb, Ohio State; Henry Seibels, Sewanee; Clarence Swanson, Nebraska; and Dr. Hube Wagner, Pittsburgh.

In announcing the selections, Awards Chairman Richard Kazmaier said the Pioneer Player and Coach category would be gradually eliminated beginning next year to enable judging of all candidates in a single category.

Winter Meetings Sent To Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn says the annual major league baseball winter meeting has been shifted from Orlando, Fla., to Houston because of accommodation problems.

NIX NAMED AT LORRAINE

COLORADO CITY — Former Colorado City High School athletic director Truman Nix has accepted the position as head football coach at Loraine High School.

Nix, a graduate of Loraine High, told the Colorado City school board last week he will resign as a member of that board to take the job at the Class B School.

The 47-year old Nix, who coached at Colorado City from 1964-71, succeeds Freeman Lamkin at Loraine. Nix is a former president of the Texas High School Coaches Association. He resigned from a three-year term as a school board member to accept the Loraine job.

Red Sox Triumph In Texas League

The Red Sox exploded for 12 runs in the fifth inning Monday and came away with a 16-10 triumph over the Cubs in Texas Little League baseball competition.

Herrera was the winning pitcher for the Reds, now 7-2 on the year, as he allowed five hits. Luevano paced the team with a pair of hits, while Vigil, Trevino and Herrera all added one.

For the Cubs, 3-6, Ortega had a pair of safeties and Woodruff, Flores and Franks had the hits. In National Minor League play Monday, the Eagles upset the Hawks 17-12 as Bill Baum was the winning pitcher and Bill Little, Willie Durivan, Brad Small and Brent Raney led the way at the plate. Ben Watson hit a home run in the losing effort, and Len Long took the defeat.

The Stingrays smacked the Elks 16-2 in an American Minor League battle as Blake Rosson twirled a three-hitter and swatted three hits to lead the way. Hal Willingham also starred at the plate. Jody Dowdy was the loser.

In an American Pewee game last week, the Panthers topped the Tigers 18-6 behind the 17-strikeout pitching performance of Wesley Beauchamp, and David Berry's three hits. Kirk Allen was the losing hurler, while Tony Shortes had three hits in the loss.

Chippers Earn Share Of Lead

ODESSA — Roy New tossed a two-hitter and slammed a solo home run Monday to pace the Morton Chippers to a 4-2 Industrial League win over Revexne Polymers. The victory gives the Chippers a share of first place with a 5-1 record.

Jackie Wolf added a double and Paul Miller, Jim Roger and Bob Shy rapped singles in the triumph.

The Chippers, now 17-6 on the year, will be competing in the Amarillo Softball Tournament this weekend.

Midland, Lamesa Enter Baseball Playoffs Today

Dist. 3-AAA champion Lamesa begins bi-district work at home today and 5-AAAA titlist Midland High begins its regional warfare in schoolboy baseball action involving area teams.

Lamesa, which won its best of nine league series with Brownfield 6-3 Friday, is at home against Wichita Falls Hirschi in the first of a three-game series at 4:45 p.m. Phil Palmer, 11-3 on the year, will probably be on the mound for the Tors, who carry a 16-7 mark into the playoff tilt.

The second game will be played in Wichita Falls Friday 3:30 with a third game to follow, if necessary. Lamesa was a state semifinalist last year.

Big Robert Shaeffer will probably get the pitching call for Midland's steamrolling Bulldogs when the Purple Park travels to Irvin for a 4 p.m. battle with MacArthur.

Too Late Calls

Jean Adams
TEEN FORUM

LATE CALLS: (Q.) Every night about 10 o'clock my sister calls her boy friend and they talk until 2 or 3 a.m. I know because her room is next to mine and she keeps me awake talking.

Every morning I have to get up and go to school without enough sleep because of the phone calls. What can I do? — Tired in Maine.

(A) Your sister should not talk on the telephone late at night except in an emergency, and she should not talk nearly so long.

Discuss the phone calls with your parents. Ask them to work out some adjustment so that you can get the sleep you need.

TANGLE: (Q.) First there is Andrew. He is in the Navy and is in love with me. I am not in love with him, but I write him and have dates with him when he is at home because when I tried to break up with him he threatened to kill himself.

Then there is Rod. He is the one I love. He says he thinks he is in love with me, but he has a regular girl friend and won't give her up. He calls me every night and comes to see me now and then.

Rod knows about Andrew and uses him as an excuse for keeping his girl friend.

What can I do? I want Rod but I don't want Andy to kill himself — 17 in Alabama.

(A) Andrew has problems, no doubt, but I don't think he is going to kill himself. He is just working on your sympathy and fears to keep you convenient. Write him a kind but positive letter and tell him it is over.

Do not make any demands on Rod. Let him do his own deciding at his own pace between you and the other girl. And do YOUR own deciding at your own pace. At 17 you should be friendly with several young men, and should have your eyes and your mind open.

Mike Hoffman, Minneapolis, Minn., a 25-year-old computer operator playing in his first National Championship, combined with Jack Rhattigan, Cottage Grove, Minn., a 41-year-old pharmacist, to win the National Open Pair Championship held in St. Louis last March. A tremendous final session enabled them just to nose out Dan Rotman, Skokie, Ill., and Charles Peres, Chicago.

The hand above gave rise to considerable discussion when it was dealt in this event. The bidding almost invariably followed the pattern shown and several North-South pairs bought the contract for five spades after their opponents had competed up to five hearts.

Where West chose to open the king of hearts, declarer proceeded at a merry pace. Dummy ruffed with the king of spades, the closed hand was entered with the eight of spades and South's remaining heart was ruffed with the queen of spades. The ten of trumps was overtaken by the jack and declarer pulled West's last spade with the ace. He ran dummy's club suit next, discarding all of his diamonds in the process. He took all 13 tricks.

At a few tables, East refused to give up in the auction and persisted to six hearts. His attempted sacrifice was doubled and the opposition cashed two club tricks and one spade to administer a 500 point sting.

Ordinarily this penalty would provide ample compensation for a non-vulnerable game which—in tournament bridge—is awarded a 300 point bonus in addition to the trick score. However, those North-Souths who took all the tricks playing at spades scored 510 points (210 for the trick score plus the 300 game bonus). The mere 10-point saving by sacrificing at six hearts represents a key margin at duplicate bridge, where the scoring is based solely on a pure point comparison of the results of every pair that played the deal.

The top score for East and West was obtained at a table where West devoted considerable attention to the selection of an opening lead against South's five spade contract. He despaired of the prospects of cashing many heart tricks, and it appeared to him that any hope for defeating the bid rested in uncovering some hidden strength in his partner's hand.

Since West had a high card in diamonds, he decided to launch his attack in that direction despite the fact that he held only a doubleton in that suit. Accordingly, he opened the king of diamonds. East overlooked with the ace and continued with the queen and jack. After three tricks were cashed, the defense cheerfully conceded the balance to the declarer. When all the scores were in, it turned out that they were the only East-West pair to register a profit on the deal.

Ginger Sentenced 3-To-5 In Prison

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP) — Ginger McCrary Taylor, 32, a member of a Texas family linked to a string of slayings across the country was sentenced to 3-to-5 years in prison Monday on her guilty plea to passing bad checks.

She was charged with writing 33 checks totaling $1,437.50. Defense Attorney William Hodges, a public defender, argued prior to sentencing that the term recommended by a probation report at the state women's prison was unduly long.

He said she had four children and planned to start divorce proceedings against her husband, Carl Taylor, and "begin a new life."

Mrs. Taylor was granted immunity from prosecution for testimony before a grand jury which indicted her husband and her father, Sherman McCrary, on charges of murder and kidnaping in the slaying of a Lakewood doughnut shop waitress.

McCrary, 47, was convicted in the strangulation shooting death of Leora Rose Looney, 20, who was abducted from her night waitress job in August, 1971. Taylor, 38, is scheduled for trial at Pueblo on the charges in July.

Carolyn McCrary, Mrs. Taylor's mother, has pleaded guilty to accessory after the fact of murder and kidnaping in the Miss Looney's death and is scheduled to be sentenced here Friday.

New Master Plan To Be Discussed

Steve James, from the Department of Community Affairs in Austin, will come to Big Spring May 30 to look at the city in connection with the possible development of a master plan.

City Manager Harry Nagel was notified by telephone Monday morning that James will be on hand to study the situation here, look over the community and explain to councilmen what would be involved in obtaining a grant to develop a plan.

It has been a number of years since the city has had a plan of growth and progress, according to Nagel.

Borden's Pay Scale Oked

GAIL — The Borden County school board Monday night approved a salary schedule which will allow all teachers at least $1,000 above the annual specified in state schedules.

Borden schools were not following the state schedule and the alteration will increase the teacher payroll from $198,131 to $199,233, James McLeroy, superintendent, said.

In other action, the board: —Voted to entertain bids on three 48-passenger Chevrolet school buses.

—Decided to purchase a 1973 model GMC carryall.

—Appointed three members to the board of equalization: Pat Hensley, Nathan Zant and Brent Murphy. The board of equalization will convene at 10 a.m. July 19.

—And discussed summer work including painting houses for teachers and other school buildings.

Four-Day Fair Opens Friday

KERRVILLE — A fairgrounds is rising once again on the tree shaded campus of Schreiner Institute, Kerrville.

The hill country setting has been bustling with activity for the past week in preparation for the second annual Texas State Arts and Crafts Fair which opens its four-day run Friday at 10 a.m.

A total of 289 exhibitors have begun to arrive, setting the stage for the largest gathering of Texan artists and craftsmen in one place at any one time.

Fair director Phil Davis reports arrangements are progressing on schedule and all will be ready for the 35,000 expected to attend.

Crafts new to the fair include apple head dolls, saddle making, a sling shot maker, silver spoon rings and soap stone carving. Anyone desiring accommodations during the fair is urged to contact the Chamber of Commerce, Kerrville at 512-896-1155.

Six Scholarships Are Given UTPB

The University of Texas of the Permian Basin received six scholarships last week — all from Monahans — to be awarded to qualified students who will attend the University when it opens in September.

The First State Bank of Monahans became the first bank in the Permian Basin to establish multiple scholarships at the new University by presenting two $500 awards to a student from Ward County. Permian Coca-Cola Bottling Co. also donated two $500 scholarships to students attending UTPB from any of the counties served by the company, including Andrews, Ector, Gaines, Ward, and Winkler. Also contributing scholarships were Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Dunagan of Monahans, who presented two $500 awards for UTPB students, without residence restrictions. Dunagan, president of the Permian Coca-Cola Bottling Co., was also instrumental in obtaining the scholarships from the bottling company and the bank.

Summer Employees To Start June 1

June 1, the 13 summer employees will start work for the county for $2.40 per hour, County Judge A. G. Mitchell said.

The federal government will pay $1.60 per hour for each of the 13, Mitchell said. Because the boys will be doing hard physical labor, Mitchell said he felt they deserved more than $1.60 per hour.

Working for the road department will be Randy Tom, Lonnie Banks Jr., Kenneth Joe Froman, Tom Kevin Sorley, Jim Bob Carter, Rjello Monje, James Scott McEwen, Troy Leon Kerby and Fred Irven Franklin Jr.

David Earl Ramsey, Robert Mark Callahan, Terry Glenn Carter and Gilbert Norman Ashley will be performing maintenance and janitorial work in the courthouse and library, Miss Jackie Perkins, secretary to the road department, said.

Two From Area Given Degrees

DENTON — The Texas Woman's University held its annual Spring Commencement program Saturday.

Recipients of degrees and their major fields of study included Mrs. Martha Jane Thompson Glover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Thompson of 1800 Eleventh Place, Big Spring, with a BS in elementary education. Mrs. Glover now resides in Garland with her husband, Robert Glover, at 441 Barnes Drive.

Mrs. Frances Winn, Coahoma, was graduated with a BS in nursing.

Tips For Buying Mobile Home Issued By Center

Tips for buying a mobile home are contained in a 12-page leaflet issued by the Consumer Products Center of the General Services Administration. "Buying and Financing a Mobile Home" includes a definition and description of what is a mobile home ("... a moveable dwelling unit, built in its entirety in a factory, designed, engineered and constructed for use as a permanent residence"), types and sizes, what's included in the basic price (usually a living room, complete kitchen with appliances, separate dining room or dinette, one or two bedrooms, cabinets and closets, a automatic heating system, water heater), etc.

The mobile home, the leaflet explains, is a structure that cannot be pulled by the family car; it must be transported to the home site by special equipment. Further advice is to check on city or county regulations before acquiring land for the mobile home and make certain about utility services as needed. The leaflet also gives examples of costs (purchase, down payment, financing costs, monthly installments) on a typical purchase. It suggests

Initial Phase Of Y Summer Program Set

Parents were urged today to begin registering their children for the Citywide Summer Recreation Program.

The first phase of this will be one week of learn to swim at the Comanche Trails Park pool. The recreation program begins 11 and continues Mondays through Fridays through July.

The only charge (and this is optional for those who cannot afford it) is a $1 pool use fee for the learn-to-swim effort, and $1 for craft supplies replacement. Any elementary school-age child is welcome to participate regardless of the nominal supplies and pool fee.

The program is financed by the City of Big Spring, the United Way, the Big Spring Schools, and the YMCA and it is operated by a trained staff to insure close supervision. Two sections are held during the weekday mornings — one at Comanche Trail Park, and one at Lakeview YMCA.

Parents may enroll their children at the Central YMCA office, since the Y is the administrative agency for the program. This has nothing to do with YMCA membership and all children are urged to participate.

John Paul Amos Attends Session

John Paul Amos, safety inspector at Cosden Oil & Chemical, recently attended a three day session of the international fire school sponsored by the Ansel Company at Marinette, Wis. Fire school trainees were taught the latest in advanced fire fighting techniques in classroom lectures and field practice sessions. Most of their time at the school is spent in fighting actual fires, ranging from small gasoline spill fires to 800 square foot pit fires and gasoline and propane pressure fires.

No Date Is Set For Hearing

Robert S. Davie, an administrative law judge, has been named as the judge in charge of the administrative hearing between Hew and Big Spring schools on a civil rights issue.

Retirement Reception Honors Bill Dawes

William R. (Bill) Dawes was honored Sunday afternoon with a retirement reception in the library of Marcy Elementary School. Dawes is retiring at the end of this school year as principal of the school, a position he has held since the school opened in 1959.

WILLIAM R. DAWES

Dawes' association with the Big Spring Independent School District began 35 years ago in 1938. As a music teacher, he has taught in every school building in Big Spring except Moss and Kentwood elementary schools. He has served as Marcy's principal for 14 years.

Dawes received his bachelor's degree in music education from West Texas State University, Canyon, and then taught music for seven years in Ende, Nara Vasa and Lovington, N.M. In 1938 he received his master's degree from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich. He then returned to his native Big Spring and has been here since that time. Prior to becoming principal at Marcy, he also completed superintendent. Following their retirement, Mr. and Mrs. Dawes plan to do some traveling, including trips to Michigan and Ohio to visit relatives.

Mrs. J. W. Carter presided at the guest registry for Sunday's reception. Friends called between the hours of 3-5 p.m. Alternating in the receiving line with Mr. and Mrs. Dawes were Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dawes, Mrs. John Nobles, Mrs. Broocke Eubank and Mrs. Ola Mae Robertson. The house party consisted of Marcy faculty members.

The serving table was covered with a white cut-work cloth and centered with an arrangement of cut spring flowers in a Belgian cut-glass bowl. The registry table, also laid with a cut-work cloth, was accented with a small arrangement of daisies.

Dawes was presented a tape recorder from faculty members. Mrs. Dawes received a corsage of pink carnations.

Five Local Girls Are "Little Miss" Winners

Two Big Spring girls were among four young ladies chosen to represent District 2 of the West Texas "Our Little Miss" pageant at the state pageant scheduled June 18-23 in Waco. Jaylene Saunders, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Millard Saunders, and Dawne Denesse Kloor, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kloor, were chosen at a district pageant Saturday in Lubbock. District 2 covers an area from Lubbock to the Mexican border and from Abilene to El Paso. The other winners were Laura Jeffcoat, Kermit, and Salena Sorrels, Odessa. Two local girls also won in the La Petite division. They were Tessa Underwood, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Underwood, and Tymy Kaye Brooks, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brooks. Other winners in this division were Evelyn Victoria Turk, Odessa, and Angela Cunningham, Monahans. Another daughter of the Loyd Underwoods, Dawn, 6, won the La Petite title in the Odessa pageant and is also eligible for the state competition.

Entrants in both divisions were judged on modeling of sportswear and party dress. La Petite Division is for ages 3 to 6. Those entered in the Little Miss division, ages 7 to 12, were also judged on talent. Jaylene played the piano, and Dawne did a song and dance routine. The local winners had all been winners or runners-up in the Big Spring pageant, and are all now contestants-at-large in the state competition.

Part Of The Job

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: If you feel that a private secretary should not sit in judgment of her boss' private affairs, then she should not be imposed upon to take insignificant, petty messages from his girl friend. After all, a secretary is employed to support the welfare of the business her boss represents.

No one should be asked to lie, and a secretary should feel remorse when she has to tell lies for her boss.

Your second offense was to inform that secretary that this is one of her secretarial duties. It is NOT!

OUT OF THE MIDDLE DEAR OUT: And what if the boss owns his own business? A secretary is paid to convey messages to and from her boss, whatever they may be, and whether the message is from a business associate, his wife, or girl friend is none of her business. If she feels "remorse" when she tells a caller that her boss is "tied up" when he is not—or that he is "out" when he is busy, she has the privilege of finding a job that's more to her liking.

DEAR ABBY: I am having a fight with my girl friend. We wanted to go dutch treat to a drive-in movie and I was a little low on money, so I suggested that she drive my car and I would ride in the trunk of the car.

She agreed, took the wheel, and drove to the drive-in. When we got there she refused to let me out. I pounded and pounded but she wouldn't let me out. I finally gave up and had to stay cramped up in the trunk while she watched the movie. After the movie, she drove herself home and then she let me out.

She said she wanted to teach me a lesson because what I wanted to do was not only dishonest it was stingy, too. I say the theaters charge all they can get, which is way too much, and anybody who can get in for free deserves to. Was she right, or was I?

DEAR CRAMPED: She was. Your chintzy stunt backfired. But watch that girl friend. She's a tough teacher!

Club Hears Hospital Collection Problems

Hospital collections and how they differ from collections made by other businesses, were outlined Thursday by Mrs. Ophelia Click for Big Spring Credit Women at the Settles Hotel.

Mom-Daughter Banquet Held

Mrs. Wayne Basden, president of the local Benevolent and Patriotic Order of Doves No. 61, served as mistress of ceremonies for the drove's mother-daughter banquet Thursday at the Elks Hall. Charter members were honored by Mrs. Harvey Clay, and past presidents were recognized by Mrs. M. J. O'Brien. Mrs. Bill Rogers recognized five-year officers, and a memorial service for deceased Doves was led by Mrs. Kay Williams.

"People don't plan on sickness," said Mrs. Click. "When they do get sick, many resent it and don't make an effort to pay for it. They would rather spend their money on other things."

Out of the total hospital bills, Mrs. Click said medicare pays about 23 per cent, and hospitalization pays about 38 per cent. The rest is up to the patients themselves. She also said some people are "professional hospital goers who make the rounds of all of the hospitals with no intention of paying."

The speaker said collections present different problems than those faced by other businesses, because terms must often be discussed after the service is performed rather than before.

During the business meeting, winners in the essay contest sponsored by the club were announced. They are Darlene Thomas, first; Theresa Borman, second; and Kay Clayton, third; and Jim Cantu, fourth. The students submitted essays entitled "How Credit Will Effect My Future."
