AN EMBRACE FOR SAMMY—President Nixon embraces Sammy Davis Jr. during the festivities Thursday night at the White House where about 450 former prisoners of war and their guests attended the affair.

BLANCHARD Teachers Job Security Draws Fire

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Sen. H. J. Blanchard appeared ready to ignore his own well being today to block a proposal guaranteeing public school teachers job security.

Blanchard, who has a history of heart trouble and regularly rests during the lunch hour, had a plastic covering removed from beneath his desk — a sure sign a senator intends to talk awhile.

Before Blanchard started talking at 10:37 a.m., the Senate accepted House amendments and sent to the governor two major bills revising the state's laws dealing with parent-child legal relationships and juvenile delinquency.

Included in the parent-child bill is a provision that would legitimize babies born through artificial insemination. The other provides that a child could not be sent to reform school for running away, being a habitual truant or committing misdemeanors normally punished only by fines.

Blanchard protested that the teacher contract bill provides that "there is no way you can fire a teacher who could completely ruin a child . . . The right to strike, the right to be incompetent, all would follow."

Freight Train Explodes

BENSON, Ariz. (AP) — A dozen cars loaded with 500-pound bombs exploded like fireworks after a derailment in the desert near here Thursday night.

Only minor injuries to two crew members were reported.

The blasts rocked the unpopulated area up to three miles away and were visible for several miles.

The cars, part of a 107-car train, blew up near an isolated Southern Pacific Railroad siding known as Tully, 15 miles east of this southeastern Arizona ranching community. There are no structures at the siding.

Interstate 10 passes the area a few miles north.

The brakeman and conductor, identified as Kenneth Ball and Felton Parrish, both of Tucson, leaped from the moving caboose as the explosions started. The two were treated and released at a Benson hospital.

EASTLAND STEAK PROVES COSTLY

EASTLAND, Tex. (AP) — Most everyone agrees the price of meat is high but an Eastland man has found out the price of stealing meat is even higher.

Jessie Coy Kimbrough, 48, was sentenced to one year in prison Thursday by 91st District Court Judge Earl Conner Jr. after he pleaded guilty to stealing a one-pound-seven ounce sirloin steak from an Eastland supermarket.

The steak cost $1.89 per pound.

Kimbrough had remained in Eastland County jail in lieu of $3,000 bond since being charged May 11. He was charged originally with theft under $5 but Dist. Atty. Emory Walton changed the complaint, citing a 1937 state law making the theft of edible meat a felony.

Contest Under Way To Name HC Fair

The Howard County Fair Association is conducting a "name the fair" contest. Any Howard County resident is eligible to submit a suggested name for the fair, which is set for a resumption after a 20-year suspension.

All you have to do is to send your suggested name for the fair to the Howard County Fair Association, P. O. Box 2471, Big Spring 79720.

Entries will be received to June 16, it was announced by Johnnie Walker, president. A committee then will select a winner, and prizes will be awarded.

The fair will be held in September and designed to embrace every facet of the county's life, including agriculture, homemaking, horticulture, livestock raising, etc.

It Wasn't Skylab

The bright object seen in the sky this morning was a "clear plastic research balloon," the U. S. Weather Bureau said in its recorded announcement today.

Mills Didn't Give Signal Of 'Suicide'

EASTON, Md. (AP) — "He sounded tired, he sounded down, but he didn't give me any sign," recalls one of the last men to speak to Rep. William O. Mills before his apparent suicide.

That was George Dietrich, manager of Easton radio station WEMD, which the congressman called Wednesday night to read a statement responding to newspaper reports he failed to disclose a $25,000 campaign contribution from the Committee to Re-elect the President.

Mills' body was found Thursday by a caretaker on the floor of the horse barn at his Mulberry Hill Farm here Thursday, a 12-gauge shotgun nearby. In his pocket was a copy of the statement.

"It appears the cause of death was the result of a self-inflicted gunshot wound in the chest," said Talbot County State's Atty. William S. Horn.

The Washington Post reported Wednesday that Mills' 1971 campaign received $25,000 from the Finance Committee to Re-elect the President and the contribution was not reported to state election authorities as required by law.

"I wish to assure everyone that I have done nothing improper," said the statement he read over the radio station Wednesday night.

The Post and the Baltimore Sun reported in Friday editions that Mills left a number of suicide notes. The Sun, quoting police sources, said one note declared his innocence of any wrongdoing but added: "There is no way of proving my innocence. This is the only way out."

City Will Shut Down Monday

Monday, May 28 is not the old Memorial Day date but under the new long weekend holiday plan, it is Memorial Day.

The local schools, banks, post office, federal offices, city offices, county offices and most businesses will be closed.

Even the VFW Memorial Day poppy salesmen got high behind and started early, peddling the poppies here today.

Schools resume on Tuesday for the final week of classes.

Increased Appropriation Could Fund New Programs

The occupational education budget for Howard County Junior College will probably be boosted by $57,440 in 1974 over this year's total if Gov. Dolph Briscoe okays the $9.7 million two-year state budget bill approved today by the House.

Final version of the conference committee bill passed Thursday by the Senate and today by the House includes the appropriations of $163,518 for HCJC vocational-technical programs in 1974. That compares with the current $106,078 budget for 1973 and $160,241 in the 1975 outlay.

Dr. Thomas Salter, HCJC president, said the extra money, if approved by the governor, will be used to fund four new occupational education programs in the fall.

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Three American astronauts vaulted into orbit today and skillfully stalked the crippled Skylab space station, hoping to salvage it as an orbital home for a record 28 days.

"We had a normal burn and we're in very good shape," mission commander Charles Conrad Jr. reported after executing the first of six engine firings designed to track down their target.

FAST CHASE

The all-Navy crew of Conrad, Dr. Joseph P. Kerwin and Paul J. Weitz started their unprecedented mission on the power of a Saturn IB and immediately began a 17,000-mile-an-hour pursuit of the big station.

Riding with them were hopes they could cool down the overheated laboratory with a make-shift sunshade and save the $2.6 billion project.

If they succeed, the space handymen will carry out a comprehensive program of medical, earth resources and scientific experiments that could signal a new era in which the United States shifts emphasis from space exploration to space exploitation, intending to benefit mankind in many ways.

Ex-Midlander Is In News

Stories concerning a $25,000 cash contribution from secret funds of President Nixon's 1972 campaign finance commission to Rep. William Mills of Maryland involved James N. Allison, member of a well known West Texas newspaper family.

Mills was found dead at his Maryland home early Thursday.

Allison, son of James Allison Sr., publisher of the Midland Reporter-Telegram was for years associated with that paper before leaving in 1964 to help manage George Bush's campaign for the U.S. House of Representatives.

He later served as Bush's administrative assistant until 1968 when he teamed with Harry Treleven, a former vice president of the giant J. Walter Thompson advertising agency, to form Allison and Treleven Inc., a political consulting firm.

He later was appointed deputy chairman of the Republican National Committee, but rejoined his firm in 1971.

The firm's first major success in the political consulting field was the election of Ed Gurney of Florida to the Senate as the first Republican from Florida since reconstruction. Gurney is currently serving on the Senate Select Committee investigating Watergate and other alleged irregularities during the 1972 elections.

Allison said the $25,000 contribution from secret Administration funds went to James L. Webster, Rep. Mills' campaign manager, through Ken Rietz, a former partner in Allison, Treleven and Rietz, Inc.

assistant programs, the school will initiate a medical secretarial training program this fall, Salter said, to expand its allied health offerings.

Part of the extra money will also be used to study other possible allied health programs in the dental hygiene and X-ray technology fields.

"We would like to offer a broad spectrum in allied health," said the president. "It fits in with the Big Spring concept of itself as somewhat of a medical center."

Three new courses in agricultural technology concentrating on farming, ranching and cattle production will also be established.

ACADEMIC OUTLAY

The budget also includes $488,463 for the school's 1974 academic (arts and sciences) programs. This compares to $513,280 for 1973 and $505,541 for start and was 150 miles higher when the astronauts Apollo ferry ship shot into orbit 10 minutes after a 9 a.m. EDT launching.

BLAZING RAYS

On a lower orbit path, the spacemen required slightly less time to circle the globe and the gap between hunter and hunted gradually closed.

Three hours after launch the distance between the two craft had been reduced to 690 miles.

Once they catch the house-size station after a 7½-hour chase, they'll take the first look at the damage caused when a heat shield ripped away during the launch of the laboratory 11 days ago, exposing it to the blazing rays of the sun and soaring cabin temperatures to over 120 degrees.

Throughout the early portion of the flight, the astronauts were busy checking Apollo spacecraft systems and most of their conversation was technical.

But Conrad, the chatty veteran of an Apollo 12 moonwalk and two Gemini flights, managed a few observations.

"We're go here, Houston. Everything's looking good in here," he exclaimed as the astronauts settled into an orbit ranging from 96 to 221 miles high.

Sex Case Rocking Britain

LONDON (AP) — The Conservative government appeared today to be in no danger of being forced out of office by the sex scandal rocking Britain.

But most commentators believed the scandal, the worst to hit a British government in a decade, has scarred Prime Minister Edward Heath's administration and the party.

Heath assured the House of Commons on Thursday that Britain's security has not been compromised because two members of his government had been consorting with prostitutes.

"There are no grounds for supposing that any other ministers or any other member of the public service is involved," declared Heath, who reportedly was shaken by the events.

A few hours earlier, Lord Jellicoe, the government's leader in the House of Lords, admitted to having "some casual affairs" with call girls and resigned. Two days before, Lord Lambton, the millionaire air force minister and first cousin to Foreign Secretary Sir Alec Douglas-Home, resigned for the same reason.

THE EYES OF THE CHAIRMAN—Sen Sam Ervin, chairman of the Senate Watergate investigating committee, eyes different witnesses during Thursday's hearing on Capitol Hill. The hearings recessed after Thursday's session and will resume June 5.

Key Member Of Conspiracy To Plead Guilty, Testify

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. attorney here has disclosed that a key member of the Watergate conspiracy has agreed to plead guilty without immunity and to testify as a prosecution witness at trial. He did not identify the individual.

U.S. Atty. Harold H. Titus Jr. said Thursday that after conferring with his three principal prosecutors he had learned that "it is realistic to anticipate a comprehensive indictment within 60 to 90 days."

Government sources quoted in the New York Times today identified the conspirator mentioned by Titus as former White House aide Jeb Stuart Magruder.

Magruder later served as an assistant to former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell on the Committee for the Re-election of the President.

GUILTY PLEAS

Titus also said that negotiations currently are under way aimed at obtaining guilty pleas and cooperation from others implicated in the wide web of scandals that have come to be known as the Watergate affair.

Addressing himself to speculation that he and his prosecutors would withdraw from the Watergate case, Titus confirmed this had been their intention up to the time of a meeting Wednesday afternoon with Archibald Cox, the newly named special Watergate prosecutor.

"He urged us, in view of the important work we were doing, that it was in the public interest that we carry on the development of the case," Titus said. "At this time, I wish to advise you that we will accede to Pro. Cox's request . . ."

In other developments Thursday, the Senate's Watergate hearing recessed until June 5, and former FBI acting Director L. Patrick Gray III said that he warned President Nixon last summer that "people on your staff are trying to mortally wound you."

Search Is On For Rapist

COLORADO CITY — A 13 year old girl was reported raped around 7:30 p.m. on the Seven Wells Road outside the city.

The girl told her parents and law officials that a man picked her up in town and drove her to the area. Mitchell County sheriff alerted officers in nearby counties to be on the lookout for the man, offering a description of the car in which he fled.

Law officials here watched for the vehicle Thursday but failed to find a car answering that description during the night.

In other action, Mitchell County sheriff's office is also investigating a robbery of the Colorado High School where culprits apparently used the base of a music stand to break into a school safe and steal an estimated $400 in money belonging to the journalism department and the senior cap and gown fund.

Nephews Of Local Man Found Dead

Two young Abilene brothers, nephews of Jack Goble of Big Spring, were found dead Thursday afternoon in an abandoned refrigerator behind a next door neighbor's garage.

Mrs. Linnie Goss called Abilene police at 12:29 p.m. reporting her two sons, Isaac Allen Goss, 3, and Kenneth Ray Goss, 6, missing. They were discovered dead at 12:40 by police officers.

Investigating officers said the brothers had been playing in the vicinity of the refrigerator and had apparently climbed into it after which the door closed on them.

Although no official ruling has been made, Peace Justice Rowland Dunwoody said all evidence seems to indicate the deaths were accidental.

Funeral is pending with Bailey Funeral Home in Clyde.

Kissin' Cousins

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am nearly 21 and am presently serving in the Marine Corps. I have read your column in the Stars and Stripes all over the world and think you might be able to help me. I have heard that first cousins aren't allowed to marry because if they do their children will not be right. Is this true?

For the last two years my first cousin and I have been seeing each other. I am not going to say that nothing serious has happened between us because that would be a lie. I am sure she loves me as much as I love her, but I guess we are both afraid. We just don't know what to do.

I would appreciate any information you can give me on the subject of cousins marrying, because we really are in love with each other.

Please don't mention the state we are from because we don't want our families to know about this year.

YOUR FRIEND
IN THE U.S.M.C.
DEAR FRIEND: First cousins MAY marry in some states, but I think you and your cousin should see a doctor, let him evaluate your family medical histories (on both sides) and get his opinion on the advisability of such a marriage should you want children.

DEAR ABBY: An unusually attractive and sophisticated - appearing woman, probably in her late 50s, lives in my apartment building. She wears no wedding ring and does not seem to work. We sometimes pass each other on the way out of the building, in the elevator, or coming in.

It's such a large building that I don't know where she lives. Any ideas about how to find out her name?

INTERESTED BACHELOR
DEAR INTERESTED: Introduce yourself, ask her name, and suggest coffee or something. If she's interested in you, you won't need a road map. If she's not, you aren't out anything.

Women Given Hints On Oriental Gardens

How to plan, plant and maintain a Japanese landscape was outlined Tuesday by Roy Peet, owner of Inland Port 213, for Rosebud Garden Club at a luncheon meeting at Big Spring Country Club. Following business, members toured Peet's Japanese Garden at his home, 710 Edwards.

Peet studied oriental arranging at the University of Hawaii. He said people in the West Texas area have no easy way to grow things. Unless people want to spend several hours a week maintaining a garden, he suggested starting a small Japanese garden in a small area of the yard. The garden can begin with one statue and a few plants that thrive in this area.

"Water does more than any other one item to add beauty in a yard," said Peet. "The sound of water gives a relaxed feeling." He said gardens should be planned to include something of beauty all year around, including winter months.

The garden at Peet's home includes a waterfall and goldfish pond. Several baskets of flowers hang from trees, and oriental statues abound. A fountain is enhanced with many rocks weathered by years of water flow.

New officers were installed by Mrs. Odell Womack. The officers are Mrs. J. W. Kuykendall, president; Mrs. Clyde Thomas, vice president; Mrs. Tommy Hart, secretary; Mrs. Jesse Crane, treasurer; and Mrs. G. P. Morrison, parliamentarian. Club delegate to the city's Council of Garden Clubs will be Mrs. Sam Kamm. Also, Mrs. Kuykendall appointed committee chairwomen.

Guests were Mrs. Robert Knight, Mrs. Tom Conway, Mrs. Brent Womack, Mrs. J. W. Trantham, Mrs. Kenneth G. Patrick and Mrs. Joe Whitten. Hostess for the meeting was Mrs. Womack. The group will meet for a swimming party in August at the home of Mrs. Thomas.

Mrs. G. P. Morrison presided, and $50 was donated to sponsor a member in attendance at the July Council of Garden Clubs school.

Warning Out: Watch Gauge

Gasoline wholesalers, who are trying to keep their respective stations in supply, are not claiming to be knowledgeable on whether there is ample gasoline in the resort areas.

Nationwide warnings that there might be a shortage of fuel at resort areas on Memorial Day weekend have not affected gasoline distributors here.

The nearest area, which might be referred to as a resort area would be Ruidoso, N.M. The daughter of one distributor said they were planning themselves to go to Ruidoso and "I sure hope there will be gas to get back."

Another distributor here from a major firm said that some stations are starting to close earlier at night and starting to close on Sundays which would make it more difficult to obtain gasoline while traveling.

"Motorists will need to remember that the stations are short on gas anyway and not needing to stay open all hours and there will be less and less of the all-night station and Sunday service available," he added.

A spokesman at Stuckey's, which is primarily a tourist stop, said they were limited to ten gallons per customer last week but had gas enough to fill all customers' tanks this week.

Apparently, no stations have yet had to close in Big Spring and very few are having to limit gallons of gas per customer.

But customers are cautioned that out in the world of the heavy traffic, it might get to be another story on weekends and during the vacation days.

MEDAL PRESENTED R. E. CATTON (L)
M. Gen. J. M. Breedlove at right

Col. Catton Retiring; To Reside In Spokane

Col. Ronald E. Catton, deputy commander for operations, was officially retired after more than 20 years of active duty. He's been an instructor at the Fighter Weapons School at Nellis AFB, an Air Staff operations officer at the Pentagon and a graduate of Air Command and Staff College. During his career he received both his bachelor's and master's degrees.

Since being assigned to Air Training Command, Col. Catton marked several accomplishments. In one year, while assigned to Randolph, he held three different command positions, including student squadron commander and two flying training squadron commands. When he was assigned to Webb as a lieutenant colonel he had already been notified of "a below the zone" promotion to full colonel.

He has 4,000-plus flying hours, a Distinguished Flying Cross with two oak leaf clusters and the Air Medal with 10 oak leaf clusters.

Col. Catton and his family will make their home in Spokane, Wash., following a three-month executive training period in Denver with his new employer, the International Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Prior to the medal presentation, Col. Stanley M. Umstead Jr., wing commander, traced Col. Catton's career for those gathered to witness the retirement. Col. Catton's wife Wilda and two sons were present for the ceremony.

He is a combat veteran of both the Korean Conflict and the Vietnam War. In Korea he flew the F-84 and as a member of the 8th Tactical Fighter Wing of Gen. Robin Olds fame in Southeast Asia, he flew more than 100 missions over North Vietnam, earning the Silver Star.

From 1962 to 1964, Col. Catton was a member of the world-famous United States Air Force Aerial Demonstration team, the

Negotiations For Lease Of Land Are Stalemated

Negotiations on a 99-year lease of land at the fairgrounds will be opened at 9 a.m., and bids on a station wagon for the sheriff's office opened at 10 a.m.

Also, the court will consider purchasing spot lights for the sheriff's office.

At 3 p.m., Bill Patton of Patton Equipment Co., Abilene, will confer with the court about the maintainer he traded for another purchased by the county about one year ago.

MOTORING LIBRARY
By not trading a used pickup being replaced, the county could have a car available for Howard County Library use, Mitchell said. This team and extermination of roaches at the library appears on the agenda.

Replacing an adding machine for the justice of the peace office with an electric adding machine will be discussed.

Wednesday, the court voted to exchange 4,250 feet of cyclone fence for a 99 year lease on 30 acres owned by the Howard County Rodeo Association, pending association approval.

Fencing, lights, roads and parking area improvements also were planned by the court for the county fair.

Memorial Day is Monday and the court postponed their regular weekly meeting until 9 a.m. Tuesday.

AUDIT READY
The audit of county finances for 1972 prepared by the firm of Thorburn and Green will be presented.

Aug. 7-9 Food Service Seminar Is Scheduled

Miss Edna Mae Spinks, with the Texas Educational Agency staff in Big Spring, will be among the field staff members who assist in teaching summer seminars conducted by the TEA food service specialists.

The seminars are to be built on modern management and nutrition needs, expected to bring some 3,500 food service directors, managers and cooks back to the kitchen and classroom for the mini courses ranging from three to five days.

One will be conducted in Big Spring Aug. 7-9 at the high school cafeteria as the final one in Texas for the summer. Miss Spinks expects around 250 to take part in that seminar with around 40 of the participants to be from the Big Spring school cafeterias.

Miss Spinks will also conduct a seminar in El Paso June 18-21 and plans to attend two others in Amarillo and San Marcos. The new seminars, which have been designed particularly for the supervisors and managers of school district food service programs, include money management, purchasing, and nutrition.

Topics offered earlier and to be continued this year are basic courses for managers and cooks, advanced course for managers, advanced course for cooks, and the Texas A&M University extension course in supervision.

More than 20,000 supervisors, managers, and cooks are employed by Texas public school districts in a food service program that is basically self-supporting, Cole said. They plan, cook, and serve lunches to students attending some 3,000 elementary and high schools throughout Texas.

Mortgage Loans

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 60 per cent of the $32.8 billion increase in commercial bank mortgage loan portfolios since 1965 has been in residential loans, the American Bankers Association reports. During the same period, the total dollar amount of mortgage portfolios for all other lending institutions such as savings and loan associations and life insurance companies has increased less than 50 per cent.

Chance For Trading

Leonid I. Brezhnev, Russian Communist party leader, will be in Washington June 18-26 to talk with President Nixon. Brezhnev needs U.S. assistance, in the form of low-cost loans and technical assistance. This the President probably can grant, but he has some items on his "want" list, too.

The President would like to arrange a mutual reduction in U.S. and Russian forces in Central Europe. A better balance in nuclear forces is desirable. He would like some token, such as more freedom of movement between East and West. He would like very much for Russia to halt its arms shipments to North Vietnam to make them observe the cease-fire they signed in January.

Do the President's shopping list and the Brezhnev need for U.S. economic assistance balance out? It all depends.

Congress would be especially happy if President Nixon got a mutual withdrawal of troops agreement from Brezhnev.

Our balance of payments problem is acute. One of the most painless means to reduce that deficit would be to withdraw a goodly portion of our troops and their dependents from West Germany. Yet Congress is obviously reluctant to force a unilateral withdrawal. A mutual withdrawal would solve the problem. Brezhnev might be persuaded to meet us halfway on that point.

As for halting arms shipments to North Vietnam, Brezhnev will almost certainly have to refuse. He could hardly be placed in the position of deserting an ally. Perhaps the best he could do would be to promise to withdraw support if we promised to do the same for South Vietnam. This topic is best forgotten.

"Cultural Exchanges"

"Cultural exchanges" we've had for a long time, even with the Communist nations. But surely 1973 is going down as the cultural exchange bumper year, at least to this point.

We've had the Russian gymnasts, that tiny Olga Korbut packing in crowds around the country. We've had Red Chinese acrobats, who not only have pleased crowds in person but were the performers on an hour-long show on capitalist television.

And now we've had the Russian Olympic basketball team.

And the players. Americans and Russians, have responded in kind. Near-fistfights have been features of the games; the Russian coach has Brezhnev certainly could afford to relax restrictions on East-West travel. Even a small relaxation would help the President in the midst of his Watergate woes.

There are no foreseeable problems with negotiating at Vienna further controls on nuclear armories. The strategic arms talks have proceeded well to date. Further agreements should not be difficult to obtain.

accused Americans of being "dirty players"; the U.S. coach has told his team they must use "more muscle" to counter the Russian talent, under international rules, for near-mayhem under the backboards.

However, such an occurrence may be more of an evidence of genuine "normal" relations between this country and the Soviet Union than any amount of polite applause for previous visitors has been. When two countries can engage in fierce competition, marked not only by roughness but mutual respect, without reaching for the nuclear rockets, we all have cause to breathe a little easier.

He's Seen It All

Around The Rim

John Edwards

The grandfather of officials still drawing county pay says: "I've seen everything."

County judge for two years, Peace Justice Walter Grice said he had been in office all but four years since about 1941. Most of the time he is marrying and burying in the capacity of justice of the peace.

ONCE, A 44-year-old man from Colorado City and 12-year-old girl about six feet tall asked him to marry them. Actually, the man did all the talking, the justice of the peace remembers.

The bridegroom told Grice he had her parents' permission.

Grice asked if he didn't know it was wrong. And the future husband replied a lot of people have done wrong.

"Well, I don't have to be," Grice said.

So a local minister wedded them.

BACK IN the forties, he and Deputy and later-to-be Sheriff Bob Wolf often worked together. Andrew Merrick was sheriff, and Denver Dunn, another deputy.

"Me and Bob Wolf were the only ones that could take it," the magistrate said. "We could go in anywhere."

A railroad hitchhiker fell over a train as it passed a salt lake here, Grice surmised. The body had swollen as "big as three people", but Grice remarked at how one leg left in the water was preserved.

"We figured he'd bust before we got him anywhere," Grice said.

A mortician covered the body with sawdust in a casket and poured formaldehyde over his remains rather than attempt to embalm the body.

"His people were never located," the peace justice said. Only a past girl friend was found, and the county paid for burial.

An inmate at the Big Spring State Hospital used to escape regularly.

"His home was in El Paso but they didn't want him," Grice recalled.

Before his death, "he made it back to El Paso a time or two," Grice said.

"He was in the habit of leaving and pulling off his clothes when he got out where he could," Grice said.

THE EL PASOAN was discovered in a salt cedar wilderness south of here, naked and dead for "quite a while."

Animals had eaten all his flesh except a little hide," Grice said.

Similar fate awaited a Big Spring resident a few years ago. This man used to "go off into the woods to sober up," Grice said.

Bill Green, then an employe of the telephone company here, made the discovery. The brush drinker had been lying dead in a pasture on the Charles Creighton place a year or two.

Grice said: "All we found was bones and shoes."

Economic Warfare

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — This is World Trade Week, and as the United States observes it with speeches and dedications and the usual paraphernalia of official ceremony, it cannot forget that trade is also a deadly financial game.

Events of the past few weeks underscore the stakes: The dollar was again hit by a selling wave, speculators fled currencies for gold, the stock market slumped, and world commodity markets were said to be nervous.

ALL THREE troubles are related to trade, especially U.S. trade. A financially sound nation is generally thought to be a successful trader. The unsuccessful trader is financially suspect because he runs up deficits, or IOUs.

And so, when the United States, biggest trader of all, the biggest financial force in the world, fails to trade effectively or to keep its economy under control or otherwise convince the world of its strength, fear spreads.

The fact is that while the United States is by far the biggest trader, it has become, in some respects, a weaker trader than before.

IT RAN up its first trade deficit of the century last year, with imports exceeding exports by $2.7 billion. In the first quarter of 1973 it did manage to raise exports by $2.1 billion to $15.34 billion. But imports rose to $16.26 billion.

And for those who long have viewed U. S. industrial leadership as unavailable, consider this: The first-quarter rise in exports resulted mainly from agricultural shipments; the rise in imports mainly from industrial purchases.

A fact sheet produced for World Trade Week shows the U.S. automotive industry is dependent upon imports from 32 countries, that the telephones we use require 48 materials from 18 nations, that 75 per cent of newsprint is imported.

There are unique reasons for the problem. The United States assumed an enormous role in the security of much of the non-Communist world in the past 30 years. Not only in Vietnam and Korea, but in Europe, too.

As a result, U.S. expenditures abroad have for almost two decades exceeded the input. The concern over this was lessened somewhat by the working thesis, however naive, that these expenditures were temporary.

THE MOOD of the United States is that of the offended giant, discriminated against by nations that once were weak but which now, either from economic merger such as in Europe, or innovation and self-denial, as in Japan, have themselves become giants.

Nations are loath to forego privileges, and enthusiastic about claiming them.

That, say free trade advocates, is economic warfare. And judging from history, it is easier to wage war than to cooperate. The spirit of World Trade Week is to effect an historic change. No less a goal.

IT'S THERE SOMEWHERE!

Taps And More Taps

By Rowland Evans

And Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — When the FBI last week revealed the existence of 17 or more telephone taps to uncover national security leaks, Dr. Henry Kissinger's aides suspected one of those taps was on Kissinger's own phone — reflecting the morbid suspicions between Kissinger's National Security Council (NSC) staff and the Haldeman-Ehrlichman palace guard.

IN FACT, Kissinger's White House telephone was spared an FBI tap, at least in that particular phase of the running investigations by the FBI and other federal investigators of the NSC staff, ordered by the suspicious Ehrlichman-Haldeman "Berlin wall."

Whether Kissinger's telephone was spared in all other probes of the NSC is still not absolutely certain. In mid-1971 domestic policy chief John Ehrlichman was ordered by President Nixon to take control from the FBI of a complete new probe of leaked military and foreign policy secrets regarded by both Mr. Nixon and Kissinger as dangerous to national security. At that point, Ehrlichman launched a second secret investigation of Kissinger's NSC — without asking Kissinger's approval.

EHRICHMAN'S second probe, moreover, was completed and filed without Kissinger being informed what, if anything, turned up.

In addition, there are unproved indications that members of Kissinger's staff were under occasional secret surveillance from non-civilians in the Pentagon security apparatus.

In the public mind, these security probes of Kissinger's staff — and perhaps Kissinger himself — have falsely linked Kissinger to the Watergate scandal. In his latest statement issued Tuesday night, President Nixon sought to break this linkage.

ONE CLEAR reason for this presidential statement: growing speculation that Kissinger, Mr. Nixon's prize exhibit throughout his White House tenure, might simply resign as public opinion unfairly dragged him ever closer to the Watergate disgrace.

The relationship between the Kissinger operation, on the one hand, and the Berlin wall of Ehrlichman and chief of staff H. R. (Zob) Haldeman on the other was always strained, distant and suspicious. As we have reported, Haldeman denied Kissinger aides normal White House perquisites, such as access to the White House mess and transportation.

BEYOND THAT, Kissinger and his staff were regarded as virtual enemies by the crewcut bully boys manning the Haldeman-Ehrlichman offices.

The reasons are obvious. Kissinger was the only top White House aide with powerful ties outside the White House, both to Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York and to Eastern establishment intellectuals. The direct reason for the repeated security probes was Kissinger's deliberate selection of some Kennedy-Johnson liberal intellectuals who had difficulty getting maximum security clearances long before Mr. Nixon became President.

New Friendship

Marquis Childs

HANGCHOW — You start in China with the $80,000,000, and the new social order having released their energies, they are everywhere. For the newcomer the impression is of a people moving irresistibly forward.

ON A Sunday the Great Wall is black with masses marching up the steep slopes to the highest watch towers. They have been brought from Peking in trucks and buses provided by commune or factory for the outing on their day off. At the Ming tombs the same crowds pass through the great red gate and queue up to go down into the crypt.

They are good-natured, cheerful seeming, with little pushing or elbowing. Here is a son or a grandson — the Chinese look so much younger than their years, you can never tell — helping an elderly woman up the steep slope. She has the tiny feet, stumps almost, that resulted from the foot-binding custom of the upper class in the old China.

Children, fresh and healthy looking, are all over the place. They suck on Popsicles sold by vendors, they munch on half-loaves of bread. Teenagers march with a leader holding high a pole with the red flag of the People's Republic blowing out stiffly in the strong wind.

HERE IN Hangchow the pagodas and pavilions of the old China, or new structures similar in design, reflect the historic past. In the 12th century the city was the center of a school of painting noted for the landscapes of the dramatic mountains encircling beautiful West Lake.

From the beginning of the Sung dynasty the city, as the seat of imperial power, had a fabulous splendor. Marco Polo wrote of one of its districts that had been entirely turned over to entertainment "as the greatest city which may be found in the world where so many pleasures may be found that one fancies himself to be in paradise."

THE SHORES of West Lake are today handsomely wooded with willows that bend over the water and newly planted trees lining the roadways. The setting of Silk Mill No. 1, which turns out brilliant brocades, is a carefully tended garden with flowering borders and broad passageways.

Hua Kang Park, where President Nixon fed the big goldfish, is bright with flowers and immaculately kept. As it was seven centuries ago, Hangchow is where the Chinese dream of going.

Time and geography are part of the mixture of a people who have undergone years of turbulent change as we had reason in a small instance to realize. An overseas Chinese in Washington asked us to try to find in Shanghai a brother whom he had not seen in 23 years. Thanks to the diligent efforts of friendly escorts, he was located even though he had undergone a name change.

HE WAS absent on his regular run on a freighter to Dairen and his wife came to see us in the Peace Hotel. Still young-looking, she could hardly contain her excitement. The good news to take back is that the 83-year-old father is alive and well. One can conjecture that this is happening in thousands of instances as overseas Chinese come in large numbers. They are being encouraged to visit their motherland.

The knitting together is occurring in a variety of ways, large and small. Mass organizations attacked during the cultural revolution are being rebuilt. Trade unions, youth leagues, peasant organizations — these are an important second channel of communication to the countryside for Mao Tse-tung and Chou En-lai. That is to say, they supplement the three-cornered organization in every commune and factory of the army, the cadres and the peasants and workers.

MY ANSWER

Billy Graham

My children use the word "square" to peg someone who is "not with it," who is out of date, and living in the past. Why has this word come into such disrepute? There is nothing wrong in being "square" in the old-fashioned sense, is there? G. H.

The way you phrase your question partly provides an answer. That is, to the extent anything is "old-fashioned", it tends to be rejected by today's generation.

In my dictionary, the noun "square", has seven other meanings before it says "a person who is overly conventional or conservative in taste or way of life." In a later definition, it does say that "on the square" refers to being honest, or dealing in an open manner.

Etymology, or the study of how languages develop, reveals that many words change their meaning over the course of years. The word "let" for example, meant block or prohibit in old King James English, but now, of course, means to permit. A complete reversal, you see.

When Dr. Nelson Bell went as a missionary doctor to China early in this century, he took every opportunity to learn Chinese — not the academic style, but the "low language" of the country people. They called it "earth words". I would suggest, without ever stooping to coarseness or vulgarity, that you adopt the current language styles of the majority of Americans today. Let's face it squarely, you'll be more easily understood, and be listened to as a contemporary.

What a wonderful attitude the Apostle Paul had. This is what he wrote in 1 Corinthians 9: "Whatever a person is like, I try to find common ground with him, so that he will let me tell him about Christ."

A Devotion For Today..

He is our peace, who... has broken down the dividing wall of hostility. (Ephesians 2:14)

PRAYER: "Lord, make me an instrument of Thy peace; where there is hatred, let me sow love; where there is injury, pardon; where there is doubt, faith; where there is despair, hope; where there is darkness, light; and where there is sadness, joy." We pray this prayer in the spirit of the Master, who Himself taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven... Amen."

IN BLACK & GOLD SPRING FINALE

Steers Test New System Tonight

New Head Coach Bob Burris unveils his system before Big Spring football fans tonight at 8 p.m. in the annual Black and Gold Spring Game at Memorial Stadium.

"This is just sort of a fun game for the kids," Burris said Thursday. "We divided the teams as evenly as we could, but it's awfully hard to split things up when you don't have any more players than we have."

Things are thin, with just 43 players suited up for the action, but the coaching staff is still expecting a good show to cap off the three weeks of spring work.

The Steer sophomores-to-be will collide at 5:45 p.m. in a preliminary to the varsity affair.

One of the reasons for the lack of quantity in tonight's battle is injuries, which claimed two of the top linemen. Tackles Scott McEwen, who suffered a broken hand last week, and Ken Froman, sidelined with stretched knee ligaments, will miss the action and Joe Rocha, another tackle, is doubtful after sustaining an ankle injury.

One other player, junior flanker Dennis Fulcher bruised some ribs in last week's scrimmage and will miss the action tonight, while three other varsity prospects missed the whole spring session.

Flanker Earl Reynolds, linebacker Mark Taylor and sophomore quarterback Ronnie Mullins were victims of off-season injuries. Mullins suffered a muscle tear during track season, Taylor underwent an operation on his shoulder during the winter and Reynolds, a two-year starter as a running back, broke his ankle playing baseball.

Passes are liable to fill the air from at least one end of the field, as quarterback Tom Sorley of the Black squad, actually decked out in white for the clash, is expected to test the Gold secondary all night long. Ronald McKee, Billy Don Whittington and Kenneth McMurtry will be at split end and on the receiving end of most of Sorley's passes, along with flankers Eddie Ross and Randy Schreengost.

Center Shayne Yater, guards Joel Fellows and Kyle Neighbors and tackles Don Partee and Danny Sherman are expected to provide much of the protection, with Barry Loyd and Mark Anderson manning the tight end spots.

Halfbacks Bruce Abbe and Andre Hurrington and fullbacks Lonell Banks and Lonnie Gillihan will get the call on the White rushes.

Orville Rau will be the backup quarterback. Also due to see action are center Mark Hedges, guards Casey Lovelace and Scott Robb and tackle Wayne Dickens.

The Gold squad will likely rely more on the running of halfback Doug Robinson and fullback Vicky Woodruff, while quarterbacks Barry Canning and Mark Moore will be dropping in occasional passes. When they do, flankers John Thomas Smith and Doug Smith and tight end James Coffey will be the probable targets.

Top line hands are likely to be guard Steve Brackett, tackle Mark Callahan and center Jody Matthews. John Thomas Smith, at cornerback, and Matthews at linebacker lead the Gold defensive charge.

Joining the Gold effort will be halfback Greg Spears, fullback Ricky Darrow, flankers James Alexander and Joe Rains, split ends Keith Thomas and Lawrence Byrd, center Celestino Correa, guard Steve Ferrell and tackles Daniel Gomez and Buddy Gillenwater.

Most players will play both on offense and defense.

Bob Glover and Larry Horton will coach the Gold team in the intrasquad matchup and Tommy Jackson and Ron Freeman will lead the Whites as Burris and Tommy Adams watch from neutral corners.

BATTED BY BREEZE — Striking a blow for the Lib Movement, Libby Terry, 21, a senior at the University of Arkansas, took over the duties as the official batboy for the Razorbacks baseball team. Arkansas was facing Trinity University of San Antonio Thursday when tragedy struck and an untimely breeze swept her headgear away and mussed her coiffure. Luckily, the team had to take the field, leaving her time to repair the damage.

Longhorns, Trinity In Winners' Clash

ARLINGTON (AP) — Pitching dominated the opening round of the NCAA Dist. 6 baseball playoffs with the Texas Longhorns getting a record performance from Ron Roznovsky and Trinity a near-no-hitter from Mike Bacsik.

The Longhorns and Tigers meet tonight at Turnpike Stadium in the winners' bracket of the double elimination playoff. Trinity dropped Arkansas 6-0 and Texas clipped Pan American 7-1 Thursday night. Pan Am and Arkansas collide this afternoon in the losers' bracket.

Roznovsky became the winningest pitcher in Longhorn baseball history for one season as he upped his record to 13-2 with a six-hitter. He had 10 strikeouts and walked only two batters. "Ron pitched a strong ball game," said Texas Coach Cliff Gustafson. "The hits they (Pan American) got off him weren't really hit very hard."

Bacsik surrendered a second inning single to Jim Anderson and that was the offensive fireworks for the Razorbacks, who are playing in the NCAA playoffs for the first time. Trinity Coach Houston Wheeler said, "Mike did a masterful job. It's his finest game. A lot of his stuff was high, but luckily Arkansas was hitting line drives right at people."

Bacsik struck out 10 Razorbacks but he allowed five walks. Texas, the Southwest Conference champion and Dist. 6 representative in the College Baseball World Series in Omaha, Neb., last year, upped its record to 46-5.

Trinity, the Southland Conference champion, is set Saturday for the tournament with the winner of today's first game scheduled to play the loser of tonight's game at 1 p.m. Saturday. The winner of tonight's second game gets a bye to 7:30 p.m. Saturday. If a seventh game is needed, it will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

Rodgers, who is 5-foot-9 and 180 pounds, will have the richest contract ever signed in the Canadian Football League, said Michael Trope, president of World Sports Management, Inc. Figures were not disclosed.

"That's the prerogative of the Montreal club," said Rodgers, but the contract is believed to be worth more than $100,000 per year. "Money is the basic reason I chose Canada," said Rodgers, a first-round draft choice of the San Diego Chargers in the National Football League. "Canada is a beautiful place. I know I'll be happy there."

Richard Wortham of Texas and Paul Stanley of Trinity will hook up in the feature duel tonight. The Mustangs trimmed the Elks 13-8 in the American Minor League triumph over the colts. Ben Watson was the winning pitcher and Jack Spargo got a double to spark the attack. Steve Thompson was the loser, and Lloyd Benson had a home run for the Colts.

The Cardinals 7-5 in Texas Little League play, Herrera was the winning pitcher and Miles the loser.

Miles and T. Rubio had home runs in the losing effort, while Biddle also had a hit. For the Red Sox, Vigil, Bickford, Rivera, Trevino and Vela shined at the plate.

The Hawks scored four runs in the top of the sixth inning to gain a 6-5 National Minor League triumph over the colts. Ben Watson was the winning pitcher and Jack Spargo got a double to spark the attack. Steve Thompson was the loser, and Lloyd Benson had a home run for the Colts.

For the Jets, now 4-7, Barry Rosson was the losing pitcher but rapped two hits to top the plate attack. Kevin Bartley, Pearce, Floyd, R. Bartley, Kohl and Dixon all added hits.

Wood Notches Victory No. 11

By The Associated Press "He's just Wilbur Wonderful," says Chuck Tanner. "He's really Wilbur Wood, but you can pardon the Chicago White Sox manager for speaking in superlatives."

Chicago's star pitcher had just won his 11th game—tops in the majors—with a 4-1 decision over the California Angels Thursday.

Wood earned the decision over Nolan Ryan, the Angels' hard-throwing right-hander. Ryan struck out 13 batters to raise his major league-leading total to 107.

Because of his fabulous start, a 11-3 record and 10 victories in the last 11 games, Wood was naturally asked about a possible 30-victory year. Or even 40, for that matter.

"No comment," he said. "My goal now is the next game—No. 12."

In the other American League games, the Boston Red Sox walloped the Milwaukee Brewers 10-1; the Detroit Tigers blanked the New York Yankees 4-0 and the Minnesota Twins trimmed the Kansas City Royals 2-0. Rain postponed a doubleheader between the Baltimore Orioles and Cleveland Indians.

In the National League, the Atlanta Braves turned back the San Francisco Giants 2-1 and the New York Mets topped the Los Angeles Dodgers 7-3 in 19 innings.

Rico Petrocelli collected four hits, including a home run, and drove in three runs to pace Boston over Milwaukee. The Red Sox backed Bill Lee's five-hit pitching with 16 hits.

Boston second baseman Doug Griffin was hit on the left hand by a pitch in the first inning and suffered a broken bone. It was estimated that he will be sidelined for four to six weeks.

Dick McAuliffe slugged a three-run homer and Mickey Lolich fired a six-hitter to pace Detroit over the New York Yankees.

McAuliffe's first for the year landed in the upper right field seats at Tiger Stadium following singles by Gates Brown and Duke Sims.

Nicklaus, who has won $146,063 on the PGA tour this year, swept from behind with birdies on the final two holes Thursday for a five-under-par 67 over the 6,883-yard Atlanta Golf Club course.

Clarke Gets Hart Trophy

MONTREAL (AP) — Bobby Clarke, whose scoring and play-making talents often were overshadowed by the roughhouse play of some of his Philadelphia Flyers teammates, was named today winner of the Hart Trophy as the National Hockey League player judged most valuable to his team.

Clarke, 23, is the first player from a West Division club to receive the honor, which carries with it a monetary award of $1,500.

Clarke received 158 points in the voting conducted among members of the Professional Hockey Writers' Association in the 16 NHL cities. Runner-up Phil Esposito of the Boston Bruins received 96 points and Bobby Orr of the Bruins was third with 63.

Orr, a defenseman, won the trophy the past three seasons.

First Penal Code Revision In 117 Years To Governor

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The first large scale revision of Texas criminal laws in 117 years passed its final legislative test Thursday and went to Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

The only subjects not included in the bill are abortion, drugs and capital punishment, all of which were considered emotional issues that might endanger the entire penal code. Separate bills on each of the three subjects have been considered by the Legislature.

The bill cleared its last hurdle before the governor's signature when the Senate accepted House Amendments by voice vote. Ten senators later

County Employee Is Off Payroll

The third road department employee who was fired and then offered his job for 90 days probation is off the county payroll again, County Judge A. G. Mitchell said.

Mitchell said the laborer was dismissed Thursday morning for "rule violation." The other two did not stay with the department after being offered a probationary period.

asked to be shown voting against the new code.

All crimes are classified as either felonies or misdemeanors, with three classes of each. A first degree felony, the worst crime under the new code, could bring sentences ranging from 5 to 99 years or life imprisonment.

Council Launches Program At ACC

ABILENE — Abilene Christian College's National Development Council formally launched a $100,000 development campaign for the Abilene Christian Schools recently. The campaign development committee and friends have committed $77,000 toward the $100,000 goal.

The three-year capital goal is designated to renovate the 40-year-old Zona Luce Building for high school use, centralizing the heating and cooling; to equip College Church of Christ facilities for serving as elementary school; to improve Hillcrest Church of Christ facilities for service as the middle school; and operational needs including furniture.

Opening lead: Eight of ♠.
Preemptive opening bids are two-edged weapons. While they frequently serve to interrupt the easy flow of information between opponents and subject them to high-level guesses during the auction, they sometimes backfire against their users by providing valuable information concerning the distribution that might enable a perceptive declarer to make an unnatural play.

Observe South's performance in this hand, where he found himself the declarer at four spades after East had opened the bidding with three diamonds.

West opened the eight of diamonds, East played the jack and then cashed the ace. The shift was to the four of clubs. South put up the ace, for there was no question in his mind concerning the location of the king. East had already shown up with 10 points in the diamond suit and the declarer reasoned that his opponent would not have made a preemptive bid if he held an honor on the side.

While the normal play in the spade suit is to lead over to the ace and then finesse the jack on the return, South was convinced that the queen of trumps was held by West. If West had the ten as well, there was no way to avoid the loss of a trump trick. If East had the ten, however, South could pick up the entire suit by an unusual play.

Declarer led the jack of spades from his hand. West played the three, North the deuce, and East followed with the four. The ace and king of spades picked up the remaining trumps and South drove out the king of clubs by playing the queen. When he regained the lead, he cashed the jack and ten of clubs to discard a small heart from his hand. His losses on the deal were two diamond tricks and one club.

Observe that it would not have availed West to cover the jack of spades with the queen when that card was led, for East's ten must succumb to a "backward" finesse.

A Class C misdemeanor, the least significant offense in the code, is punishable with fines up to $200.

The new code changes the insanity defense from the old M'Naghten Rule—did the defendant know right from wrong and did he know the nature and consequences of his act?—to one that excuses criminal behavior if the accused suffers from a mental disease or defect that prevents his conforming his conduct to the requirements of law.

Fornication, adultery and "deviate" sexual acts between consenting adults in private are deleted from the current criminal statutes.

A new general theft section replaces more than 50 separate theft provisions in the present code. With the exception of livestock, any theft is classified under one of the felony or misdemeanor categories according to its value.

Farmers and ranchers insisted that the theft of livestock, regardless of value, be kept a felony.

One of the amendments accepted by the Senate makes it a Class C misdemeanor to be nude in public if another person is offended by the nudity.

Enrollment Is Urged By Y

Enrollment of elementary-age children in the Citywide Summer Recreation Program is progressing, but officials urged other parents to enter their children. There are no charges for the program itself.

By enrolling now, children can choose which section of the learn-to-swim effort, which will precede the summer program, they want to attend. There will be four half-hour sessions daily June 4-8 at Comanche Trail Park to get youngsters familiar with water and perhaps learn basic strokes.

The daily recreation program begins June 11 and continues Monday through Fridays at Comanche Trails Park and at Lakeview YMCA under trained, adult leadership. Activities include arts and crafts, games, nature studies, short hikes, swimming, etc.

For those taking the learn-to-swim portion, a $1 fee is suggested for using the pool; for the recreation portion a $1 fee for crafts supplies and replacements. However, regardless of ability to pay the fee, any child is more than welcome to take part.

Enrollment is at the Central YMCA, which is the administrative agency. This is separate and apart, from the YMCA program and requires no membership.

Speaker for the meeting Saturday in Midland was Owen H. Ivie, general manager, Colorado River Municipal Water District, talked on the science of weather modification, its legal aspects, types of clouds seeded, the radar utilized.

Transsexual Will Appeal Conviction

HOUSTON (AP) — A man who says he plans to undergo an operation to change his sex failed again in his battle to wear women's clothing on the streets here.

Richard Anthony Mayes, 26, who says he prefers to be called Toni Rochelle Mayes, was fined $50 in county court at law after being found guilty of violation of a City of Houston ordinance forbidding persons to appear on public streets disguised as a member of the opposite sex. The court trial was an appeal from a municipal court proceeding where he was also found guilty and fined the same amount.

Mayes' attorney, Larry Sander, said he plans to appeal the conviction.

The conviction came after testimony from Dr. Keith D. Smith, a specialist in reproductive endocrinology, at the University of Texas Medical School here, who said Mayes possesses both male and female traits. Smith said Mayes would be considered a man because he has male sexual organs and chromosomes but would also be considered a female because of his psychological orientation and the presence of female hormones in his body.

Mayes says he plans to undergo an operation to remove his male sexual organs. Injection of female hormones and living and dressing as a woman are necessary precedents to the operation, he said his doctor has told him.

Mayes charged that police were bent on harassment, since only moments before his arrest on Sept. 21 a municipal judge had dismissed an earlier similar charge against him on a technicality.

Juanita Jennings Given Party Upon Retirement

Mrs. Jimmy (Juanita) Jennings was honored by her fellow employees Thursday night with a dinner at Furr's Cafeteria honoring her retirement at City Hall.

Mrs. Jennings is working her last day today in the city tax office after 23 years of service. She earlier taught school in an elementary school here two years and has held other jobs in the community.

Her husband is co-owner of an auto supply firm here and plans to retire also within the next few years.

In the meantime, they are building a cabin in the Ponderosa pine area near Cloudcroft, N.M. They plan to spend some time there along with visits from their married children and grand-children. They also have a cabin at Lake Thomas for the entire family to enjoy.

Mrs. Jennings stated, "I've enjoyed my years in the tax office but am really looking forward to spending time in the mountains, at the lake and enjoying our family and friends."

City officials expressed appreciation for her years of service. "She will be difficult to replace in her position," according to Harry Nagel, city manager.

BIG SPRING HERALD

SEC. B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, FRIDAY, MAY 25, 1973 SEC. B

Take Care Of Trees; They May Mean Life

Two Ohio research scientists are developing conclusive evidence that trees may be a primary factor in preserving man's most vital resource. Man can exist as long as perhaps five weeks without food; without water, possibly five days; but without air, our life expectancy is under five minutes. Exploratory studies conducted by two Forest Service researchers reveals that trees play a major role in preserving the livable qualities of the air around us.

According to the American Association of Nurserymen, whose industry-wide concentration is devoted to the protection and improvement of the environment, trees and other green, growing natural materials help to filter falling dust and other pollutants by capturing foreign particles in their leaves. Now that premise has been substantiated by the Forest Service research report.

Pathologist Leon S. Dochinger and Biological Technician Frederick Bender, both at Steubenville, Ohio, are conducting the studies. According to their reports, some 35 million tons of dustfall and suspended pollutant particles are added to our atmosphere each year. "For years," the researchers say, "man has observed how trees cleanse the air, but he has remained unaware of how important trees are in this role. One has only to look at the dust coatings on the tree trunks, branches and foliage along unpaved roads, or the whitish mass of chemical deicers splashed on woody plants during winter months, or the gritty film of particles on conifer and hardwood trees found near stone quarries and cement kilns to realize the importance of trees. In all instances, tree plantings curb the movement of particulate matter."

During the study in question, particulate pollutants were surveyed at two sampling stations during the months of March through October, 1971. Sophisticated air pollution sampling devices were positioned in various environments — open terrain, under a canopy of hardwood trees, and under a canopy of conifer trees. Scientific equipment included a dustfall bucket for larger sizes of settling pollutants, and a Hi-Vol sampler for smaller particles. In both instruments the air was drawn through a filter that captured the particulates, providing data for the researchers' evaluation. Results showed that green canopies did reduce the amount of particulate pollutants in the air, when compared to areas without trees.

The researchers say, "This initial work has substantiated our original belief that trees have a cleansing effect on the atmosphere. Now more in-depth, long-term research is necessary to see how significant an effect tree plantings have along with other variables such as air movement, temperature, season, and pollution sources."

For a copy of a new publication describing the role of trees and plants in the improvement of the atmosphere, "Our Air: Unfit for Trees," is available free from Information Services, Northeastern Forest Experiment Station, Upper Darby, Pa. 19082.

Mutscher Files Plea

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — Just meeting the deadline they were granted defense lawyers filed all papers needed for the appeal of former Texas House Speaker Gus Mutscher and his two top associates Wednesday.

Mutscher, state Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth, and Rush McGinty, a Mutscher aide, were convicted here March 15, 1972 of conspiring to accept a bribe from Houston promoter Frank W. Sharp in 1969.

Judge J. Neil Daniel, who presided at the trial, granted the defense an extension of the usual 30-day filing period because of the length of the trial and the complexity of testimony given.

The state now has 30 days in which to file its answering brief. The judge then has a further 30 days to study both briefs before sending all documents to the Court of Criminal Appeals.

While all this goes on, the three defendants remain free on appeal bond. They were assessed five-year probated prison terms.

About Shyness

Jean Adams

TEEN FORUM

DETERMINED: (Q) I am now 17. I am a junior and have quite a few friends who respect me. Up to now I've been quite capable of talking to girls.

In English class there is a girl who sits next to me. She is quite pretty and intelligent. But for some stupid reason I can't seem to converse with her. Oh, sure, I can talk about homework, but I want her to know that I'm interested in her and not this stupid class.

Now it's obvious that I am shy and I'm not ashamed of it, but somehow I must break this barrier or mental block. Please don't tell me to ask for her phone number because that's not the real communication I want out of her. I tried to ask her out to a game today but I just couldn't seem to organize my thoughts in my head (my main problem around her).

I am determined to get to know her. And I want this to be done before someone else gets wise.

Of course it's hard to answer this letter, but tell me what men have said to you. Also could you tell me of books that may have some kind of information on teen-age dating or the art of getting to know one another? I've dated many times but I've never met anyone like her before and I am determined to get to know her. — This is Different in Indiana.

(A) I get so many letters like yours that I am preparing printed sheets for boys and girls on conquering shyness, teen-age dating and what you describe so well as the art of getting to know one another. All three sheets are free to any teen who writes me, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. The address is Jean Adams, P.O. Box 2402, Houston, Texas 77001.

By the way, you are an excellent letter writer, and it is time for you to recognize that the study of the English language is not stupid. It is what you are going to have to use in getting to know this girl.

NOSY BROTHER: (Q) My brother won't leave my stuff alone. He goes through everything and leaves it a mess. He is 10 and I am 14. What can I do to make him stop? — Bothered Big Sister in Virginia

(A) You probably talk about your boy friends and other important things in front of your brother and this makes him curious about a world he does not know. Keep quiet about your personal affairs when he is around. He will return to his own affairs and leave yours alone.

(Jean Adams reads and considers every letter, but she reports that she cannot answer each personally. Mail your questions and comments to Jean Adams, care of The Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 2402, Houston, Texas 77001.)

Dr. Jordan Grooms Honored By First United Methodists

By MARJ CARPENTER
 Dr. Jordan Grooms will be delivering the sermon Sunday morning in First United Methodist Church. This will be the last opportunity to hear Dr. Grooms before he leaves Big Spring, for his term as district superintendent is ending at Annual Conference this month. He will be going to Hereford in June as pastor of First United Methodist Church.

Dr. Grooms is married to the former Gladys Collins. They have two children including Dr. Barton Grooms who was married May 12 in Knoxville, Tennessee, and who is a practicing physician in Amarillo. Mrs. Jerry Hewitt (Tele) who lives in Big Spring with her husband and two children, Jeri and Kirk. Dr. Walter Dickinson, Dr. and Mrs. Grooms' nephew whom they raised, is also in private practice in Amarillo.

"Dr. Grooms occupies a very special place in the life of our church as he was pastor here for an eight year period before returning to us as District Superintendent," said the Rev. J. B. Sharp, local pastor. Grooms' other pastorates include Vega, Haskell, Levelland, Lamesa, and Polk Street United Methodist Church in Amarillo.

He was an exchange pastor in England for one year and has had preaching missions to Mexico and Cuba as well as prayer missions throughout the South.

The Rev. Sharp states, "Let our attendance Sunday morning reflect our appreciation of Dr. and Mrs. Grooms, that it may be a great day in their lives and in the life of our church."

They were also honored on Tuesday of this week when the district Methodist women held a meeting and special luncheon at the First United Methodist Church where the Grooms were special guests of honor.

CHARLES SIMPSON, outstanding Southern Baptist Minister, will be the guest speaker at the East Fourth St. Baptist Church this Sunday evening, May 27, at 7 p.m. Rev. Simpson is greatly sought after as a speaker and Bible teacher for our day and time.

He served for fourteen years as pastor of the Bay View Heights Baptist Church in Mobile, Alabama, and during that time the church experienced a great spiritual revival. As the church grew, more and more requests came to Rev. Simpson to share God's message with others, thus leading him to become involved in full-time Bible teaching through television, literature and seminars. Since 1971 the Simpson family ministry has originated from Hollywood, Florida.

The public is cordially invited to attend the service at East Fourth St. Baptist Church Sunday evening. The nursery will be open for children three years of age and under.

THE WOMEN'S Missionary Society of the First Church of God met in the sanctuary, for the May business meeting.

Norma Beasley gave a report on the state WMS meeting in Austin, stating that there was good representation, good slides of Russia by the Butler's, outstanding entertainment and excellent food. Anna Smith, State President, and also President of First Church of God WMS, reported registration was almost double the usual state meetings.

Anna Smith encouraged everyone to attend the National Camp meeting in Anderson, Indiana the week of June 18-24, with missionary sessions being on Saturday afternoon.

The Spiritual Birthday

celebration began in the Fellowship Hall with the opening chain prayer by Anna Smith, Paul Chappell, and Richard Bartlett. Jan Griswold sang, "The Longer I Serve Him, the Sweeter He Grows". Rev. Edwin Beasley gave a brief talk on "Growing Spiritually Compared with Physical Growth." Judy Bruce sang "Since Jesus Passed By." Scriptures were read by different ones to back up the growth of the Baby, Toddler, Teenager, and Keenagers. Testimonies were given by individuals classified in each section for their spiritual growth. Everyone sang, "And They'll Know We are Christians by our Love" as a closing song.

Cakes were furnished by Norma Beasley, Cordeia Castle, Kaythn Thomas, and Rosetta Ingram. Punch furnished by Missionary Society, served to 25 people present.

This also, served as a Going away get together for Jan Griswold, and Barbara Montgomery, they were both presented with gifts from the church. To show its appreciation of their music and teaching talents.

A NEW scholarship for summer staffers at Ridgecrest, N.C., and Glorieta, N.M., Baptist Conference-Centers has been created through a special gift from an anonymous donor. The T. L. Holcomb Scholarship award will be made annually, beginning this summer, to the staffer at each conference center who, in the opinion of a selection committee, makes the most significant contribution to the purposes and objectives of the center.

Every staffer is eligible, regardless of what college he attends. The scholarship, awarded at the end of the summer, is to be used for college tuition or other necessary fees.

The T. L. Holcomb Scholarship Fund, donated to the conference center division by a person wishing to remain anonymous was placed with the Southern Baptist Foundation. Proceeds from this fund will provide a $500 scholarship annually to a staffer from each conference center.

DR. GENE W. NEWBERRY, dean of the School of Theology at Anderson College since 1962, will spend 1973-74 giving leadership to the fast-growing Kima Theological College of the Church of God in East Africa.

One of the best known theologians in the Church of God, Dean Newberry long has been a national leader. From 1955 until last year he was president of the Board of Church Extension and Home Missions and formerly was national director of the movement's youth fellowship.

Witnesses Hold Circuit Meet

The two day "Do All Things for God's Glory" Circuit Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses addressed 1,646 persons on the subject "Decide Now For Divine Rulership".

As pointed out by Mr. Sutherland, "Each one must decide for himself whether he will advocate divine rulership. He must study the Bible, not just read it, and then allow what he reads to direct his course of life and personality, bringing his life in harmony with what he finds in the Bible. Truly advocating divine rulership, then, involves the whole range of life, the way we walk each day".

Another highlight of the Sunday program was the ordination of 56 new ministers. These were baptized following a baptismal talk by Robert J. Schlegel, Circuit Supervisor.

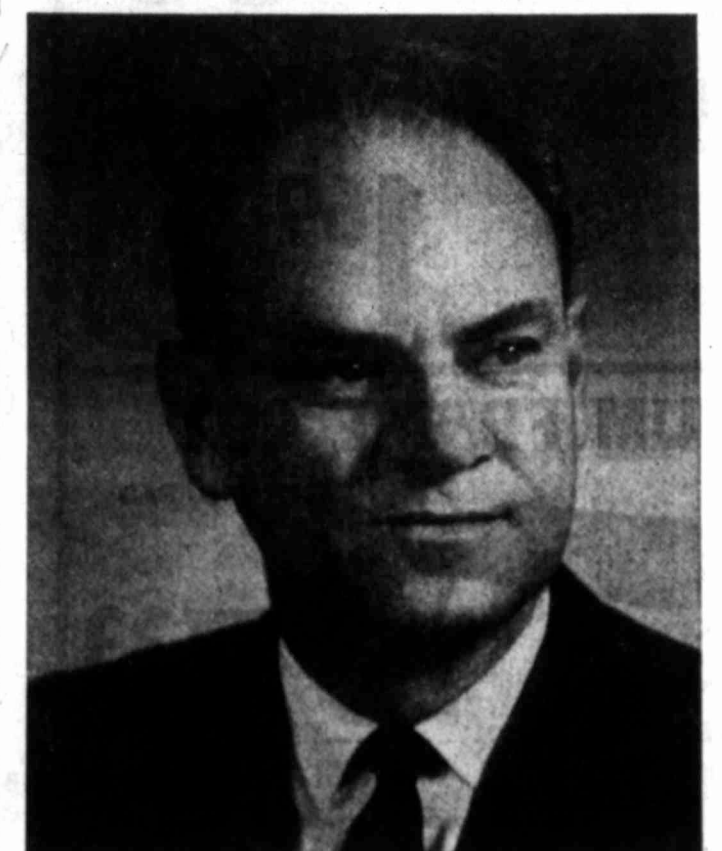

Regular meetings will now be resumed at the local Kingdom Hall according to the local presiding minister, James L. Watkins.

HOROSCOPE

CARROL RUGHTER

Saturday, May 26, 1973
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Not a Saturday to take any chances, since possible depression, delays and many obstacles are in the path of your desires. Try to be philosophical and casual in what you do, expecting some hindering conditions so you will not get upset! Where it takes a while for things to work out as you wish. Keep cool, poised, and confident, but do get into light activities, etc. are in fine working order. Dates today can save much time later.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Avoid that friend today who is acting in an obnoxious way, and do after your aims with vim and vigor. Take a rain check on that invitation, since the social is not for you now. Make notations of good ideas.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Make that friend today who is acting in an obnoxious way, and do after your aims with vim and vigor. Take a rain check on that invitation, since the social is not for you now. Make notations of good ideas.
MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Read through those periodicals that will give you the information you need, but use a new start for best results. Better avoid what you do not want to do out of your belongings. Use tact.
LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You had better keep the promises you made to others instead of going out for fun. You are better rechecked to another day. Use diplomacy with mate if you want cooperation. An angry word could lead to trouble, real trouble.
VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Cut your conversations short with a partner.

Corps Can't Collect Fees In Oklahoma, Arkansas

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — The
U.S. Army Corp of Engineers cannot collect user fees on Corps lake recreation areas in the Tulsa district because of a federal judge's ruling Thursday.

U.S. District Court Judge Allen
E. Barrow issued a temporary restraining order at the request of three Oklahoma congressmen.

Higher fees, some representing an increase of as much as 300 per cent, were to be collected
Friday at a number of recreation areas in Oklahoma and in parts of Kansas and Arkansas.

Barrow scheduled a hearing on a preliminary injunction for June 4.

U.S. Reps. Jim Jones of Tulsa,
Clem McSpadden of Chelsea
and Tom Steed of Shawnee filed the suit Thursday, asking the court to restrain the Corps
from charging fees until Congress
can vote on legislation
prohibiting the fees.

Before issuing the order, Barrow
asked the Corps to show the fee increase. When that was not done, he issued the 10-day injunction blocking all fees and said it would be extended 10
days if necessary.

Although the judge's ruling
affects only the Tulsa district,
it is expected to influence
Corps action in other states.

Former Congressman Ed Edmondson,
as lawyer for the three congressmen, told the court the Corps has breached
the law in attempting to impose user fees.

Jones testified that official records revealed the Corps lost $23,000 from 1970 to 1972 attempting to collect the fees.

McSpadden, a former state
senator, said the Oklahoma legislature had spent $6 million since 1966 to build access roads to Corps reservoirs. It was spent with the understanding that there would be no fees involved in public use of the recreation areas, he said.

Accused Of Trying To Sell Baby Kim For Heroin 'Fix'

NEW YORK (AP) — State
Supreme Court Justice Gerald
Culkin, saying he had no other choice, has released from custody
a man accused of trying to sell his battered infant daughter
for the price of a heroin fix.

James Layne, 30, who was arrested April 28 in a Manhattan
subway station, was freed
because he had not been granted
a court hearing within the required 72 hours.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Richard
Failla said he had not moved on the case for lack of witnesses, adding that as many as 30 persons may have been on the Manhattan subway platform where Layne was arrested.

Failla appealed for witnesses to come forward, particularly a woman who took the baby, 3-month-old Kim Cruz, to a Transit Authority patrolman and said she rescued her from the floor of the subway car.

Layne was arrested by a patrolman after a brief struggle and charged with kidnapping, attempted abandonment, endangering the welfare of a child, second degree assault, harassment and public intoxication.
Judge Culkin set May 23 for a hearing for Layne, who had spent most of the time since his arrest under psychiatric observation at Bellevue Hospital.

Kim was admitted to St. Vincent's hospital in critical condition, but has been improving. Her mother is in a methadone maintenance program.

Corps Can't Collect Fees In Oklahoma, Arkansas

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — The
U.S. Army Corp of Engineers
cannot collect user fees on Corps lake recreation areas in the Tulsa district because of a federal judge's ruling Thursday.

U.S. District Court Judge Allen
E. Barrow issued a temporary restraining order at the request of three Oklahoma congressmen.

Higher fees, some representing
an increase of as much as 300 per cent, were to be collected
Friday at a number of recreation
areas in Oklahoma and in parts of Kansas and Arkansas.

Barrow scheduled a hearing
on a preliminary injunction for June 4.

U.S. Reps. Jim Jones of Tulsa,
Clem McSpadden of Chelsea
and Tom Steed of Shawnee
filed the suit Thursday, asking
the court to restrain the Corps
from charging fees until Congress
can vote on legislation
prohibiting the fees.

Before issuing the order, Barrow
asked the Corps to show the fee increase. When that was not done, he issued the 10-day
injunction blocking all fees and said it would be extended 10
days if necessary.

Although the judge's ruling
affects only the Tulsa district,
it is expected to influence
Corps action in other states.

Former Congressman Ed Edmondson,
as lawyer for the
three congressmen, told the court the Corps has breached
the law in attempting to impose
user fees.

Jones testified that official records revealed the Corps lost $23,000 from 1970 to 1972 attempting to collect the fees.

McSpadden, a former state
senator, said the Oklahoma legislature had spent $6 million since 1966 to build access roads
to Corps reservoirs. It was spent with the understanding that there would be no fees involved in public use of the recreation areas, he said.

Accused Of Trying To Sell Baby Kim For Heroin 'Fix'

NEW YORK (AP) — State
Supreme Court Justice Gerald
Culkin, saying he had no other
choice, has released from custody
a man accused of trying to sell his battered infant daughter
for the price of a heroin fix.

James Layne, 30, who was arrested April 28 in a Manhattan
subway station, was freed
because he had not been granted
a court hearing within the required 72 hours.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Richard
Failla said he had not moved
on the case for lack of witnesses, adding that as many as 30 persons may have been on the Manhattan subway platform where Layne was arrested.

Failla appealed for witnesses
to come forward, particularly a

month-old Kim Cruz, to a Transit

Grand Coulee Dam Show Postponed

GRAND COULEE DAM,
Wash. (AP) — The energy crisis is so bad that the annual light show at Grand Coulee Dam, one of the world's largest hydroelectric units, won't start on Memorial Day, officials say.

The spillway light program has been a tourist attraction on Memorial Day since 1941. But steam flows this year in the power-poor Pacific Northwest are so low the program will have to be eliminated, a dam spokesman said.

Littering Fines Rarely Levied

Litterers rarely are fined for their trashy habits here.
Reporters cannot remember when police cited anyone for littering.

"It's been ages since that's been done here," Sheriff A. N.
Standard said. Normally, deputy sheriffs will give lit-terers caught littering an opportunity to pick it up.

Generally, only repeaters and those involved in aggravated cases are prosecuted, he said.

Four Facing Drug Raps

Two El Paso residents and two Big Spring residents were arrested in two separate narcotic cases Thursday night in Howard County.

A 20-year-old woman and 22-year-old man, both of an El Paso address, were arrested at 11 p.m. for possession of marijuana three miles west of Big Spring on IS 20.

Texas Highway Patrolman Kenneth Maxwell and Bill Priest stopped the vehicle for speeding.

Peace Justice Walter Grice set $5,000 bonds in both cases, but the El Pasoans were in county jail this morning. No complaints had been filed this morning. Names are being withheld until the suspects are charged.

Similarly, Grice set bonds totaling $12,500 for a 23-year-old Big Spring man arrested for possession of marijuana in two incidents, two counts of sale of amphetamine and possession of amphetamine.

Also arrested at the same Big Spring residence at 11:40 p.m. was a 29-year-old suspected of possession of amphetamine.

Sheriff's deputies released the 29-year-old on $2,500 bond set by Grice, but the 23-year-old remained in county jail.

Police Detectives A. N. Henry and Sam Smelser; Guy Talbot, special investigator for the district attorney; and Dan Hutchinson Jr., local agent for the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission, participated in the raid.

Hulseley Heads Foundation

AUSTIN — Burl B. Hulseley Jr., president of Texas Electric Service Co., was elected vice president of the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation at a meeting of the directors here Thursday.

Howard R. Drew, research director for TESCO, was named executive vice president and secretary.

The directors and the University of Texas also announced continuation of foundation-supported research into the thermonuclear fusion reactions at the university. The foundation, composed of Texas Electric and nine other investor-owned electric utility companies in Texas, is interested in nuclear fusion as a possible source of energy for producing electricity.

Announcement of the new two-year research agreement, valued at $800,000, was made at a luncheon held at Green Pastures by Dr. Stephen H. Spurr, president of the university. Among those attending were Dr. Robert Hirsch, director for the Division of Controlled Thermonuclear Research, U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, Washington, D.C.; Lt. Gov. William P. Hobby and House Speaker Price Daniel Jr.

Foundation support of fusion research at the university began in 1963. Under the research agreement announced today, the foundation will finance a continuation of the program for two more years to April 30, 1975. The research is being carried out in the physics and engineering departments.

Loan For Cap Rock Co-Op Opens Door To Expansion

A loan of $435,000 has been approved for Cap Rock Electric Cooperative, Cong. Omar Burleson advised today.

This, with $110,000 to be borrowed from another source, will finance a $546,000 improvement and expansion program, said O. B. Bryan, Stanton, Cap Rock general manager.

It is anticipated that this eventually will provide for addition of some 470 members, both on the existing lines and on the 64 additional miles of line to be constructed.

Work already has begun out of Cap Rock surplus funds, said Bryan. Some of the work will be done by Cap Rock crews, while heavier portions will be contracted.

About half of the funds will be used to "heavy" up existing lines, that is to install larger conductor for more efficient transmission of power to satisfy heavier loads.

Part of the funds will go to replace repaired lines which fell in the wake of last winter's historic ice storms. There also will be short extensions as well as tie-ins from existing lines.

Bryan said that the $435,000 carries to 5 per cent. The remaining $110,000 comes from the Cooperative Finance Corporation, in which all electric cooperatives hold stock, and it carries a 7 per cent rate.

The President has signed a law which permits the creation of a $618,000,000 revolving fund for each of the next three years. This fund will be sustained by past interest payments and by prepayments of REA loans. In time, REA loans likely will be financed largely from this fund, which will be independent of the federal budget. Also, cooperatives will rely more heavily on their CFC, through a sliding scale, said Bryan. For instance, Cap Rock had only to borrow 20 per cent from the CFC, but its 30 per cent next loan would have to come from this source.

College's Agent To Be At Webb

The representative will be at the education center on base, to counsel with those interested, but Veri I. Green, director, said it would be helpful if those who want interviews will call in advance to get them scheduled.

Fire Hydrants Are Blown Out

Water running in the streets at some locations Thursday was the city who were bleeding local fire hydrants.

James Campbell, director of public works, said that the hydrants need to be opened once a year to blow out the mains because sand sifts into mains in West Texas.

Each hydrant is opened at least once a year for this purpose. Some of them have, of course, been used during the year while others have not, but this is the only method of getting the sand out of the mains, Campbell added.

Sprinkler Heads Are Taken Here

Thieves who are obviously not afraid of "haunts and ghosts" and who do not even consider a cemetery as sacred stole six portable sprinkler heads at the City Cemetery.
