EXPERIMENTS MAY BENEFIT MANKIND IN MANY WAYS

Draw Blood Of Three Astronauts

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Man had his blood drawn in space today for the first time as physician-astronaut Dr. Joseph P. Kerwin took samples from all three Skylab crewmen, starting a series of medical, earth resources and astronomy experiments that may bring many benefits to mankind.

SLEEP LATE

"Be advised Joe just drew all three of us and that it went very smoothly," Commander Charles Conrad Jr. told Mission Control after the spacemen awakened in their orbital lab an hour later than planned.

When the control center received no response on its first wakeup call, officials decided to let Conrad, Kerwin and Paul J. Weitz sleep as long as they wanted.

Later today, they planned a 10-minute news conference, answering questions from reporters here on the two hectic days in which they salvaged the huge laboratory by erecting a makeshift sun shade to cool it down.

The drawing of blood samples, to be done four times during the four-week mission, is one element of an extensive medical program intended to determine how man is affected by long-term exposure to the space environment.

BREAKFAST COOKING

Kerwin has a dispensary aboard to carry out his duties as a high-flying physician.

The astronauts also ate in the space station today for the first time. This became known when Conrad reported "the commander just shaved and breakfast is cooking."

He referred to a special tray in which foods are heated.

Until now, the fourth day of the mission, the astronauts have dined in their Apollo ferry ship because of high heat in the laboratory.

But temperatures dropped another five degrees overnight and were around 90 degrees.

"We're starting to live up here now," Weitz commented, after asking "how many towels and wash cloths can we use a day?"

Just 24 hours before, the heat inside the lab registered an unlivable 125 degrees because a protective shield had ripped away during the launch of the Skylab on May 14.

The astronauts cooled down the sweltering station by raising a huge awning-like sun shade over the affected area. Mission Control said the temperature was dropping at an average of more than one degree an hour and within a day or two it should be a livable 70 degrees.

Despite the still stifling heat in the 90s, Conrad, Kerwin and Weitz worked through the day in the two-story workshop area Sunday, checking and activating water, electrical and other systems.

GOT TOO HOT

Whenever it got too hot, they retreated to other rooms of the station, which are cooler because they have been shaded from the sun, or to the Apollo ferry ship which carried the spacemen to a rendezvous with Skylab on Friday.

A televised view beamed to mission control showed the astronauts floating with ease from one point to another inside the huge weightless workshop, which is as large as a three-bedroom house.

But most of the time they went about their work seriously and with little conversation as they sought to catch up on the schedule drawn up for their planned 28-day mission aboard the craft, man's longest space mission.

Considering the crew's optimism, mission control passed up a flight plan that called for completion of workshop preparation today and experiment activation late in the day.

What the Skylab astronauts learn about living and working in space will help determine if man can embark on long space voyages of the future.

NASA doctors hope to gain volumes of knowledge from this mission and the 36-day Skylab 2 and 3 flights scheduled aboard the same laboratory later this year.

HUNDREDS HURT Tornadoes, Rains Claim At Least 39

By The Associated Press

Tornadoes, heavy rains and strong winds marred Memorial Day weekend observances from Oklahoma to Florida, claiming at least 39 lives and causing millions of dollars in property damage.

Deaths were reported in nine states as the storms hopped across the Midwest and South. Authorities said hundreds of persons were injured and thousands of homes were either damaged or destroyed.

BAMA TWISTERS

Eleven persons were killed by twisters in Alabama; six died in two accidents in Missouri; five died in a tornado that struck Keefeton, Okla.; three were killed in tornadoes in Jonesboro, Ark.; three drowned in Kansas when a tornado struck their fishing boat; five were reported drowned in Tennessee; four drowned in flash floods in North Carolina; a Florida man was killed in a twister and one person drowned in Laurel, Miss.

The tornadoes left little standing in their unpredictable paths. They began in the Midwest Saturday afternoon and worked through the South and Southeast Sunday and early today.

State police in Alabama said at least 16 tornadoes touched down across the central and northern sections of the state Sunday night. Eight of the state's 11 deaths were reported in Brent, a town of 2,500. Police said more than 130 persons were injured in the Alabama twisters, including 47 in Brent.

FLASH FLOODS

Four persons were killed Sunday night in Brent, and four others died today of injuries suffered in the storm.

One of the victims died when a tornado ripped through the Brent Baptist Church, slicing the building in half. About 100 persons were attending the Sunday night worship service.

In mountainous western North Carolina, four persons died in flash floods caused by torrential rains. Two of the victims' bodies were found in a house that was washed away by the flooding New River.

An estimated 50 homes were destroyed or damaged Saturday evening at Keefeton, a community of 400 in eastern Oklahoma. Four members of one family — a man, his wife and two of their daughters — were killed in the storm, and another daughter was hospitalized in critical condition. A fifth Keefeton resident was among the dead.

BARELY ESCAPE

Some persons barely escaped the storm's fury. In West Memphis, Tenn., 17 members of the Clovis Williams family were inside their four-room home when it collapsed under a tornado's force. Mrs. Williams said it was more than an hour before she, her husband, 14 of their children and one grandchild were completely dug out of the rubble. None of them was injured.

"It looked like all smoke out there, it was raining so hard," she said. "Then the house just fell in."

A group of fishermen told Civil Defense officials near Laurel, Miss., they huddled under a concrete bridge when they saw a funnel approaching. The funnel flattened trees on both sides of their hideout, but it skipped over the bridge.

THE EVE OF DESTRUCTION — Funnel cloud begins to descend over northwest sector of Bloomington, Ind., Sunday afternoon. Extensive damage resulted, involving destruction of four homes. The tornado hopped across Bloomington, touching down several times.

'Missing Link' In Watergate Scandal

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — A Canadian associate of fugitive financier Robert L. Vesco claims they have a "missing link" in the Watergate investigation.

Norman P. LeBlanc, speaking at a news conference Sunday, invited special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox or his assistants to meet "somewhere, someplace" with him and Vesco.

LeBlanc did not reveal anything about their information on the Watergate case but said they would gladly tell their story to Cox and show him documents.

LeBlanc said he would not go to the United States to meet with Cox or his deputies unless promised immunity from prosecution. Vesco said the same thing last week.

Vesco is under indictment along with former Atty. Gen. John Mitchell and former Commerce Secretary Maurice Stans in connection with an unreported $200,000 donation to President Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign. Mitchell and Stans both have pleaded innocent, but Vesco did not appear in New York to answer the charges.

Nixon's Re-Election Panel Sets Low In Dirty Politics?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders of the Democratic party and of the Senate Armed Services Committee are challenging President Nixon's contention that Watergate investigations threaten to expose sensitive national secrets.

And the nonpartisan Fair Campaign Practices Committee says the campaign tactics of Nixon's re-election committee set a 20-year low in dirty politics.

In San Jose, Costa Rica, meanwhile, an associate of financier Robert L. Vesco said he and Vesco would like to talk with special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox about "a missing link" in the case.

The associate, Canadian businessman Norman P. LeBlanc, would not elaborate on the link in talking with newsmen Sunday. But he said he and Vesco would like to meet Cox somewhere to tell their story.

NOT AVAILABLE

Cox was not available for comment.

Vesco, former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and former Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans have been indicted in connection with an unreported $200,000 contribution to the 1972 Nixon campaign.

LeBlanc told newsmen that the Central Intelligence Agency is working clandestinely in Costa Rica to "get rid of" Vesco, LeBlanc and other businessmen connected with Vesco. He did not elaborate.

Chairman Robert S. Strauss of the Democratic National Committee said Sunday that Nixon is attempting to justify a partial Watergate cover-up on the pretext of national security. But he predicted the public won't buy it.

BIG DIFFERENCE

"There's a big difference, and I think the public will understand the difference, between national security and Nixon security," Strauss said in a television interview.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., acting chairman of the Armed Services Committee, said most of what the panel has uncovered so far has nothing to do with national security. The committee is investigating activities of the Central Intelligence Agency and other links between government security agents and the Watergate wiretapping.

"It seems to me that it's very important that we don't consider the effort to bug the office of the chairman of the Democratic National Committee as an effort to promote or defend national security," Symington said.

Symington spoke on CBS' "Face the Nation," Strauss on NBC's "Meet the Press."

Also Sunday the Fair Campaign Practices Committee, a small, nonpartisan group that investigates complaints of dirty electioneering, issued a five-page report entitled "Dirty Politics—1972."

The committee said other investigations have tied the Nixon campaign not only to wiretapping and burglary, but to theft of documents, forgery, personal vilification, violations of campaign finance laws, spying and a cover-up of apparent crimes.

Soviet Pilot Asks Political Asylum

BOON Germany (AP) — A 22-year-old Soviet pilot whose jet fighter crashed Sunday in West Germany has applied for political asylum. West German officials said today.

The Soviet air force lieutenant, whose name was not disclosed, signed an application for political asylum with the Office for Recognition of Foreign Refugees, authorities said.

The office maintains a refugee camp in the Bavarian town of Zindorf. Officials there confirmed receipt of the application, but said the pilot was not at the camp.

The pilot told interrogators he was defecting to the West after parachuting to safety near the East German border. Additional details were expected to be released later.

Two high-ranking Soviet officers and an official from the Soviet Embassy in Bonn visited the wreck site outside Brunswick to direct recovery of the burned-out fuselage, newsmen at the scene reported. The site was sealed off by West German soldiers.

The pilot's single-engine SU7 jet crashed and burned Sunday in a field near Klein-Schoepstedt, about 25 miles inside West Germany.

The Russian was first taken to a British military installation and then to a West German base for questioning.

In another border incident, a 20-year-old East German soldier crossed the mined border Sunday night and asked for political asylum, customs officials in Brunswick reported.

The last reported defection by a Soviet soldier to West Germany was in September 1969, when a 19-year-old Russian from a unit stationed in East Germany crossed the border near Helmstedt and asked for asylum. He said he was disillusioned with the military and political climate in Russia.

The last known Soviet crash in a western part of Germany occurred not in West Germany but in West Berlin. It was in 1966, when two Soviet pilots were killed in a YAK28 that crashed near Spandau Prison, where Rudolf Hess is held.

The crash Sunday occurred shortly before noon in bright sunshine. Witnesses reported the pilot ejected at an altitude of only about 300 feet, but a British Royal Air Force doctor who examined him pronounced him "fully fit."

An RAF spokesman said the plane apparently had been in West German airspace "only a few seconds" and had not been intercepted.

Witnesses reported it crashed into a field about 500 yards from a highway and burst into flames.

Travelers near the border reported seeing another plane crash during the weekend near the East German city of Magdeburg. West German news reports said it was a MIG fighter and both crewmen were killed.

Death Penalty Measure Ready For Final Action

AUSTIN (AP) — Legislation enabling Texas juries once more to assess the death penalty was expected to win final approval today from the state's lawmakers.

A House-Senate conference committee agreed to a compromise Sunday night and planned to meet today to sign the bill, which would place it before the two chambers.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe is virtually certain to sign the measure, since he had asked the legislature to pass a death penalty law to replace one struck down last year by the U. S. Supreme Court.

"CAPITAL MURDER" The bill would set up several categories of "capital murder," for which killers could be executed: intentionally slaying a fireman or peace officer while performing his official duties; murder in the course of a kidnapping, burglary, robbery, forcible rape or arson; murder for hire—applying equally to the killer and the person who hired him; murder of a prison or jail employee; and murder during an attempted or successful escape from prison or jail.

In such cases, the trial judge would be required to sentence the defendant to death if all 12 jurors found he killed deliberately and his future existence would pose a "continuing threat to society." When the issue of provocation is raised by the evidence, the jury also would have to find unanimously that the defendant's act in killing his victim was "unreasonable in response to the provocation, if any, by the deceased."

10-2 TEST

A 10-2 "no" to any question would automatically result in a life sentence.

Under Texas law, a mistrial would result and the case would have to be tried again if the jury failed to say "yes" unanimously to all questions or "no" by a 10-2 margin to any one question.

It is likely that the measure will be challenged in court, since the Supreme Court never has ruled directly on whether it is constitutional to put a man to death.

The 5-4 decision that nullified Texas' death penalty law involved a split majority. Two justices said the death penalty in itself was unconstitutional in itself, while three based their opinions only on lack of uniformity in its imposition. One of the majority justices, in fact, said he did not believe capital punishment was unconstitutional.

DEVASTATED JONESBORO — Residents of Jonesboro, Ark., Sunday evening began picking up the debris left by tornadoes that swept through the city during the day. The buildings in the background are the Jonesboro High School complex, heavily damaged by the storm that left deaths and hundreds of injuries.

HOT STUFF — Faculty members at Goliad Junior High contained themselves until pupils had taken off to register a not-so-subtle hint that spring-time temperatures in the air-conditioned building sometimes are better for baking than teaching. Monday was a work day without the children, so they donned T-shirts with the slogan, "When it's Hot, You're Hot."

Freezer Door Is Removed

John Nutt of 805 E. 16th requested police to change a report that an abandoned freezer was incorrectly reported at his address.

Law officials now report that the freezer was found at 809 E. 16th and that the door has been removed from the freezing unit. They are seeking other abandoned freezers and iceboxes in the city following a recent tragedy in Abilene involving two small youths.

Disturbance Call Proves Overdose

A call to the police from the northside at 11:11 p.m. Sunday reporting a fight in the alley led the lawmen to the scene of what they said may have been a suicide attempt.

Police reported they did not find a fight, but instead found a 16-year-old girl suffering from an apparent overdose of some type of medication. She was hospitalized and her condition was satisfactory.

Several Wildcat Tests Abandoned

A Sterling County deep prospect, Captataz Drilling Company No. 1 Collings continued drilling after recovering shows of gas in an earlier drillstem test.

In Dawson County, Lario Oil & Gas No. 1 Broyles drilled to 4,337 feet. Two Howard County explorers were abandoned, also one in Mitchell County.

Martin County had several locations and a completion mostly in the Spraberry and Deana areas.

Santa Fe Petroleum Co., Los Angeles, Calif., taken over operations at the former Capataz Corp. No. 1 Collings Estate, Sterling County wildcat, 17 miles north of Sterling City.

A one-hour and 15-minute drillstem test in the Mississippi from 8,025-8,046 feet surfaced gas in 12 minutes at the rate of 195,000 cubic feet per day. During the second flow period, gas volume was rated at 350,000 cubic feet per day. Recovery was 1,600 feet of free oil, 300 feet of heavily oil- and gas-cut mud and 170 feet of filtrate water.

Operator was drilling ahead on an 8,200-foot Ellenburger contract.

An earlier drillstem test in the Wolfcamp from 5,781-6,050 feet, open two hours and 15 minutes, yielded 900 feet of gas in the drillpipe and 618 feet of gas-cut and slightly oil-cut mud. The test spots 660 feet from south and east lines of section

Equipment Stolen

Brooks Drilling Co. of Snyder reported equipment stolen from a rig set up near Vincent. Big Spring deputy sheriffs were investigating the theft this morning.

Newsman Dies

WHITESBORO, Tex. (AP) — Ronald Smith, 29, owner and editor of the Whitesboro News-Record weekly newspaper, died Friday.

Damage Is Light From Big Blow

Dry wind averaging about 30 miles per hour with gusts to 47 miles per hour Sunday battered and buried some young cotton plants, U.S. Big Spring Experiment Station personnel reported.

Ronnie Woods, assistant Howard County agent, said that a quick survey Monday morning indicated that field crops apparently escaped serious damage except in the quite sandy areas. Tender plants got a sand blasting in these sectors.

Sand started blowing from the north-northwest about 9:20 a.m. and did not subside until 6 or 7 p.m., station equipment shows. Wind speed hit a peak of 47 miles per hour at 12:10 p.m., said Gib Moore, an Australian conducting research on wind and soil moisture loss.

Again Sunday night, the wind picked up, this time from the northeast. The second sandstorm lasted only a short time as the cool front moved through. Dr. Paul Koshi said this blow peaked at 34 miles per hour at 9:50 p.m.

Moisture loss from an evaporating pan four-feet in diameter measured seven-tenths of an inch. This is high compared to a normal half an inch loss on a hot day, Dr. Koshi said. High was 83 degrees, and the low 51 degrees Sunday.

Freshly tilled soil would have lost a great amount of moisture.

Transfers Due By Month's End

Transfer requests for students residing outside of the Big Spring Independent School District must be made prior to June 1.

Applications are available in the school administration office at 11th and Owens. Transfer requests must be complete by June 1 with none to be accepted after that date except in extreme hardship cases.

Approval of the transfer requests is made in June by Supt. S. M. Anderson and sent to the Texas Education Agency.

Outdoor Senior Rites Are Moved

Baccalaureate services for the Big Spring High School seniors were moved into the high school auditorium Sunday due to windy weather.

The wind and dust was so severe that the school officials agreed late in the afternoon to move the ceremony.

The high school commencement exercises still are scheduled to be held on the football field Thursday at 7:30 p.m., if the wind can somehow blow itself out by that time.

Yep, That Was A Real Snake

An anonymous telephone call to the police station Sunday morning included the statement "I hope that is a snake I saw in front of the pool hall" and gave an address of a local establishment.

The animal warden went to the scene and an honest-to-goodness — but dead snake out front. The anonymous caller may not have to swear off — after all.

Eek! Is Not A Distress Screech

A man on Baylor street called the city police Sunday afternoon when he saw a car parked across the street on a vacant lot and heard a girl screaming.

A routine check by the police revealed that the occupant of the car was threatening to put a horned toad on the girl, causing all the excitement. He agreed to turn the horned toad loose.

Put Out Fire

Coahoma and Sand Springs firemen extinguished a fire about 5 p.m. Saturday near the Horton Fina Station in Sand Springs. According to Richard Gilmore of Coahoma, grass and lumber were damaged.

TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS, DROWNINGS Bizarre Incident In El Paso

By The Associated Press

Traffic accidents, drownings and shootings accounted for most of the violent deaths this Memorial Day weekend throughout Texas.

Under mostly fair skies Texas took to the highway and the traffic death toll mounted slowly.

TWO ELECTROCUTED
The Associated Press count, which began on Friday evening, reached 30 early today with 20 persons killed in traffic accidents and four in shootings. Four drowned and two were electrocuted.

A bizarre incident in El Paso Sunday afternoon added three to the list of shooting deaths.

Police identified the victims as Bonita Duran, 29, her brother Santiago 24, and her husband, Rafael Duran, 25.

Police said a young relative of the dead woman told them Mrs. Duran and her brother were moving her belongings from her home when her husband, Rafael, appeared with a rifle.

Mrs. Duran was shot once in the head. The young relative said she dragged Mrs. Duran's children with her out of the house and she heard additional shots.

Police later found Santiago shot in the head and back and Rafael Duran shot once in the head.

Early today a 25-year-old Three Rivers man, identified as David Cuellar Silva, died in a two-vehicle accident on U.S. 281 just south of Pleasanton.

Police said Cuellar Silva's car collided with a truck. Here are the ways others died.

Five persons were killed in a head-on collision Saturday night near the far west Texas town of Clint, 20 miles east of El Paso.

Killed were Victoria Zavala, 20, and her son Juan, 6, both of El Paso; Lorenzo Munoz, 22, of Fabens, Tex., his daughter Lorena, 2, and Frank Hernandez, 21.

BAR DEATH
A Dallas youth, James Bailey, 16, died Saturday afternoon in Lake Waxahachie when he was apparently swept underwater by waves whipped up by high winds.

Police said that a Houston woman, Ruby Dozier, 40, was shot to death in a bar Saturday night. Police say a man and his wife were arguing over a pistol when it discharged, hitting the Dozier woman in the chest.

Jimmy Holley, 23, of Liberty City, was killed in a one-car accident which injured seven others.

Army Spec. 4 Roger Reyes drowned Friday night while fishing in Lake Belton, near the Fort Hood recreational area, when his fishing boat capsized.

A two-pickup collision Saturday near the Central Texas town of Chilton claimed the life of a Louisiana man, Leonard Hockersmith.

A one-car accident Friday night on the Fort Hood reservation has taken the life of a Killen woman, Carol Hermann, 26.

BUGGY MISHAP
The collision of a dune buggy and a pickup truck near San Antonio Friday night claimed the life of a San Antonio couple, Lynn Mauldin, 21, and his wife, Denise.

Rumors Of Alcoholism, Mental Woes Dismissed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rumors of alcoholism and mental problems had surfaced and been dismissed when Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton was selected to run for vice president, according to an aide to his Democratic running-mate.

Gordon Well, then an aide to Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., says Eagleton was picked for second spot at the last possible moment. He said the rumors had been dismissed much earlier, when Eagleton's selection still seemed very remote.

In an account in the book "The Long Shot," to be published in September by W. W. Norton & Co., Inc., Well says he was informed by an Eagleton aide that the senator had undergone hospitalization in 1960 for mental exhaustion and depression. He said, however, this information came about an hour after the end of the Democratic National Convention.

Eagleton was chosen, Well said, only after opposition developed to McGovern's selection of Mayor Kevin White of Boston, and Sen. Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin turned the job down.

McGovern and Eagleton discussed Eagleton's hospitalization for the first time eleven days after the convention, Well said, and Eagleton then disclosed the matter to the public. Six days later McGovern dropped him from the ticket.

WEATHER FORECAST — Showers are forecast today for Atlantic Coast states, the Great Lakes and most of the Midwest. Showers are also forecast for the Dakotas. Warm weather is expected for Atlantic Coast states, cooler weather elsewhere.

Bill Reducing Marijuana Penalties Due Test Today

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A compromise bill designed to keep Texans caught with small amounts of marijuana from going to prison gets final legislative action today.

The House-Senate conference committee that negotiated the compromise finished work Sunday and was to meet again today to sign the report. Approval by both the House and Senate today is necessary before the measure can go to the governor.

Under the bill, Texans arrested with four ounces or less of marijuana in their possession would not be subject to prison sentences as they now are. But they could be sent to county jails and be ordered to pay stiff fines.

Steve Simon of the National Organization to Reform Marijuana Laws (NORML) predicted the bill would result in more use of marijuana, "but I don't see a tremendous increase."

The bill is a wholesale revision of Texas laws on drug abuse, but attention has focused mainly on marijuana. Under existing law, possession of any amount of marijuana is a felony, carrying a penalty of two years to life in the state prison.

Under the compromise bill, possession of up to two ounces of marijuana would be a misdemeanor, punishable by up to six months in jail and a $1,000 fine. Possession of two to four ounces also would be a misdemeanor, but the maximum penalty would be a year in jail and a $2,000 fine. Over four ounces would be a felony, with penalties of 2-10 years and a fine up to $5,000. A judge could, at his own discretion, reduce a conviction for possessing four ounces or more to a misdemeanor, with a year in jail and a $2,000 fine as the punishment.

Persons previously convicted of first offense marijuana possession under the current felony law could petition the trial judge for a new sentence. Gov. Dolph Briscoe also has

Icelandic Feud Threatens NATO

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Iceland's escalating cod war with Britain threatens the North Atlantic Alliance with a major crisis on the eve of President Nixon's meeting here with French President George Pompidou.

An Icelandic gunboat crippled a British trawler with shellfire in the disputed fishing grounds Saturday. On Sunday Prime Minister Olafur Johannesson in a broadcast expressed thanks to the gunboat's crew, said their action was "natural and inevitable law enforcement" and warned the British: "Events like that can always repeat themselves."

NATO diplomats in Reykjavik speculated that Johannesson's left-wing coalition government may be trying to lure Britain's warships into a gun duel before the arrival of Nixon and Pompidou on Wednesday. The purpose of such a strategy, these diplomats suggested, would be to bring the Nixon administration down from its neutral perch in the dispute and over to Iceland's side.

Iceland, Britain, the United States and France are all members of NATO, and the air base that the United States operates at Keflavik is a key link in the anti-submarine defense chain across the North Atlantic. Because of the cod war, Iceland said he would ask the State Board of Pardons and Paroles to review the cases of all persons now in the penitentiary for first offense possession of marijuana.

Call Girls Acquaintance Scandal Grows

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard is reported investigating allegations that a third member of Prime Minister Edward Heath's government has been involved with call girls.

The Press Association, Britain's domestic news agency, reported that Heath "now knows the name of a third minister who is alleged to figure in the call girls scandal."

The People, a Sunday newspaper, said it had gotten the name of the third man from Norma Levy, the 26-year-old call girl whose customers included Heath's disgraced air force minister, Lord Lambton. The woman reportedly said the man visited her about three times and paid up to $125 each time.

Mrs. Levy said a fourth member of the government might have been one of her customers also. The People reported, but she would have to see a photograph of the man before she could be sure of the identification.

Mrs. Levy was reported in hiding in Morocco, and police sources said Scotland Yard detectives were going to fly there to interview her.

South Korean Oil Tanker Hit By Insurgents' Fire

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — A South Korean petroleum tanker was hit by insurgents' fire today and burned 24 miles southeast of Phnom Penh as fighting stalled a Mekong River convoy with critical supplies for the capital, a shipping official said.

The owners of the tanker Boo Heung said the ship was hit by two rounds from an unknown weapon from the island of Koh Kev in the middle of the Mekong. Crewmen jumped overboard and were rescued by Cambodian navy boats escorting the convoy from South Vietnam.

It is the eighth convoy to run the hazardous river passage in two months. The last one, which arrived on May 17, came under rocket attack, and one freighter was sunk and a tanker badly damaged by fire.

Cambodian intelligence reports say 8,000 enemy soldiers are concentrating around the government's river naval base at Neak Luong, 32 miles southeast of Phnom Penh. It is believed they will try to capture the base, which would further imperil the river convoys that bring the capital much of its fuel, ammunition and other supplies.

RICE, FISH

Meanwhile, a road convoy of 135 trucks and 100 trailers loaded with rice and fish arrived in Phnom Penh Sunday from Kompong Som, the country's seaport on the south coast. The road from the coast was cut for two days last week, but government forces reopened it Wednesday and another large truck convoys made the 147-mile run on Thursday.

CIVIL WAR

Canada's chief peace observer in South Vietnam, Michel Gauvin, said in an interview that the fighting has increased in some areas of Vietnam since the cease-fire was proclaimed four months ago. He cited the Mekong Delta, in particular, and commented: "What you have is a civil war here, with all the dramatic and unfortunate facets of civil war."

Gauvin said cease-fire violations have been committed by both sides. But he implied that the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were more to blame, saying: "I believe you find yourself with a party which is on the defensive and a party which is more or less on the offensive."

Hungary and Poland today agreed to discuss Canadian and Indonesian reports of North Vietnamese troop infiltration into South Vietnam. The action averted a Canadian walkout from the International Commission of Control and Supervision.

Some Hikers Still Have Not Turned In Money

With the money pledged to 27 walkers still not turned in, the Annual March of Dimes Walk-A-Thon held May 5 yielded $1,452.34 for the fight against birth defects, chapter officials reported Saturday.

A dual-purpose ceremony was held Saturday night to collect money earned by the some 75 walkers and to honor outstanding participants in the annual event.

Ronnie Smith, chapter chairman, said the total may increase as much as $500 when the remaining walkers turn in their money. He urged them to do so by contacting him, Eli Guinn or Mrs. Jerry Hewett.

E. Lee Thackrey, 71, placed double, winning a 10-speed bicycle for collecting the most money of any single walker, $276.50, and a rocking chair for being the oldest walker.

police chief, was given a clock radio for collecting the second most money of any walker, $125.

With 63 sponsors, Carolyn Hill was awarded an AM-FM radio for being the walker with the most sponsors. Gary White, most unusually dressed walker, won two eight-track tapes.

For being the first to finish the walk, in an hour and 20 minutes, Gerald Christich received a car console.

Twelve-year-old Larry Martin won a $5 gift certificate from Gregg Street Cleaners for being the youngest male walker, and nine-year-old Prissy Mann won some scented candles for being the youngest female.

Jeffrey Hart won a $10 gift certificate from Blum's Jewelers and Linda Bull won a water cooler in a drawing held at large among walkers who collected at least $10.

'REFORM' SESSION TO SHUT DOWN Rallying Cry, Derision

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A 140-day legislative session, in which "reform" was both a rallying cry and a subject of derision, shuts down tonight at midnight.

Only one of Speaker Price Daniel Jr.'s remaining live "reform" bills, one designed to show where lobbyists get their money and how they spend it, was still in negotiations.

House-Senate conferees on the lobby measure planned to meet again today in another effort to work out the big hang-up: Should individuals who spend more than $150 in a three-month period to influence their own senators and representatives have to register as lobbyists and report their expenditures. House negotiators said, "Yes," while senators said, "No."

IN DOUBT

Compromises were reached by negotiating committees Sunday on four major issues: public school finance, reduction of penalties for marijuana possession, the death penalty and a code of ethics, including financial disclosure, for legislators and other state officials.

The ethics issue sometimes appeared in doubt but Daniel got at least part of what he wanted, chiefly a requirement that legislators, elected state officials and key state agency policy makers disclosed their investments and sources of income so conflicts of interests might be detected.

Daniel remained on the offensive for his nine-bill "reform" program from the day the session convened Jan. 9 to Sunday, when he was still plugging for tight lobby regulation.

He harped on "reform" so incessantly, that some rural senators, and a small group of anti-Daniel representatives guffawed publicly about "reform."

At Least 17 Gunned Down

GUATEMALA CITY, Guatemala (AP) — At least 17 persons were shot dead in an armed clash between military policemen and 1,000 peasants who seized private land plots in the eastern part of the country, authorities said Sunday.

Among the dead were a sergeant and five military policemen who were sent to remove a group of peasants who had taken over the land, police said. Eleven of the land invaders also were killed.

The clash occurred Saturday night outside the Palo Verde hamlet, 72 miles east of Guatemala City.

A police spokesman said the military policemen made several arrests and just when they were leading the prisoners away, the other peasants started firing at the soldiers.

Water, Inc., Slates Tuesday Meeting

Members and directors of the Howard County unit of Water, Inc. will meet at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Texas Electric Service Co. Ready Room. Officers and directors will be elected and chairman appointed, according to President Bill Gibson, who called the meeting one of the most important in recent years.

Women Eligible To Ask For Flight Training

Effective immediately, women may now apply for Warrant Officer Flight Training (WOFT) in the U.S. Army.

In announcing the change in the Army's enlistment program for prospective aviatresses LTC John Melbye, West Texas commander for Army recruiting, said "under this new program, women who have a genuine desire to fly now have an opportunity to pursue this interest and receive considerable in-flight training in the Army."

Col. Melbye noted that Army representatives throughout West Texas have detailed information about the rigors of flight training for interested prospects.

In the past, the WOFT program has been an exclusively male-oriented activity. Now, to be eligible for WOFT, women must successfully complete the same requirements as men. These include:

Basic training at Ft. McClellan, Alabama; high general aptitude score on the initial testing with the Army Classification Battery of tests; composite score of 300 or higher on the Flight Aptitude Selection Test.

Also high school diploma, two years or more of college is preferred; between 18 and 28 years old; prescribed physical and medical qualifications; volunteered to accept appointment as a Warrant Officer, U.S. Army Reserve, and serve on active duty for a period of 36 months following successful completion of the WOFT course; U.S. citizenship or have lawfully entered the U.S. under provisions of Immigration and Naturalization Act.

Gem Show Fares Well

Some 1,000 people turned out this weekend for the fourth annual Gem, Mineral and Artifacts Show sponsored by the Big Spring Prospectors Club at the County Fair Buildings.

Lowell Knoop, president, said the turnout was down from the 2,500 at last year's show probably because of the Memorial Day weekend and the windy weather Saturday and Sunday, the two days of the show.

In spite of the low attendance, the Prospectors Club made three or four times as much money as last year, Knoop said, although a tabulation of proceeds has not yet been made.

Knoop said the two most popular displays seemed to be the wax sculpture of Red Williams from the Hobby Center and the sand bottle painting of Blanchard's from Mobile, Ala.

He said with proper planning, next year's show could draw a crowd of between 5,000 and 6,000.

'POLITICALLY SENSITIVE' John Connally Denies Interceding For ITT

NEW YORK (AP) — White House aide John S. Connally says he did not "personally intercede" in behalf of International Telephone and Telegraph's successful effort in 1971 to retain the Hartford Fire Insurance Co.

The Hartford, Conn., Courant reported Saturday that ITT approached the former Treasury Secretary in April 1971 for help in a federal antitrust suit against ITT. A settlement allowed ITT to keep Hartford Fire.

The Courant also reported that the Securities and Exchange Commission had unearthed "politically sensitive" memoranda in which a high ITT official thanked Connally for helping obtain a delay in the case that helped the company reach the settlement.

The newspaper quoted a memo from an ITT vice president, William R. Merriman, to Connally, in which Connally's aid was described as "most instrumental" in obtaining the delay.

Asked about the newspaper report, Connally, now a special adviser to President Nixon, said, "I don't believe that's true. I didn't personally intercede."

And when asked about an allegation in the Courant that his law firm in Houston, Tex., had been paid by ITT for work related to the merger with Hartford Fire, Connally said, "I know nothing about it."

Officials of the law firm earlier had refused to comment, the Courant reported. Connally took a leave of absence from the firm after he was named adviser to the President on May 11.

Connally, who was treasury secretary during the antitrust proceedings, spoke Sunday with newsmen before addressing the national dinner of the Union of Orthodox Jewish Congregations of America.

Saturday, Sen. Bill Moore, D-Bryan, jumped to his feet in the Senate and shouted that "the whole reform is hogwash" and asserted that former Speaker Gus Mutscher had "10 times as much honor as Daniel."

Mutscher was convicted last year of conspiracy to accept a bribe from promoter Frank Sharp in return for his efforts to pass two banking bills. His administration sparked the House's "reform" drive.

Only two of Daniel's bills failed altogether.

5 Children, Mom Treated For Shock

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Five young children and their mother were treated for shock early today after a bomb exploded alongside their house in Belfast.

The family were Roman Catholics living in a mostly Protestant area.

Another child, 4-year-old Paul Coome, was killed Saturday night by a gunman of the Irish Republican Army firing at a hold until British troops invaded such guerrilla strongholds as the Bogside and Cregan last summer.

The child was the 805th con-bombing is weakening. A military spokesman said the average bomb now contains 20 to 200 pounds of explosives compared with up to 200 pounds in the past. And the army said there were 70 bombs set off in the first four months of this year compared with 378 in all of last year.

firmly fatal in nearly four years of communal strife in Northern Ireland.

Meanwhile, the British army reported more success in its fight against the IRA, claiming that the leadership of the guerrillas in Londonderry has been cut to about 40 men.

Londonderry, the province's second largest city and a Catholic center, was an IRA stronghold until British troops invaded such guerrilla strongholds as the Bogside and Cregan last summer.

The army also said the IRA's

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP TV Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Today is Potpourri Day, during which time we clear the desk of unrelated items, get ready for next week and check what time Lamont Cranston is expected to see his shadow.

First up is auto racing and fighting, both to occur on the ABC television network, but simultaneously, unless ABC secretly has filmed the rush-hour on any Los Angeles freeway.

The race is Monday's Indianapolis 500, which ABC is broadcasting for the third straight year on a delayed basis. It'll edit videotape of the race to two hours and show it from 9 to 11 p.m. EDT.

The fighting involves seven Saturdays of professional boxing that ABC plans to televise from Madison Square Garden, starting July 7 and usually at 4 p.m. EDT. It's the first weekly network series of live boxing broadcasts since the mid-1960s.

season, which began this week with Dizzy Dean as guest commentator in the broadcast booth, seems to be going slowly on its initial plan to bring in baseballwise celebrities of show business to help cover its Monday night games.

JOLTIN' JOE

Former Yankee great Joe DiMaggio will be in the booth next Monday, NBC says. Nobody's been announced for the June 4 game, but June 11 will bring us Bobby Riggs of the tennis world.

The June 18 game features Dave DeBusschere of the New York Knicks basketball team. He briefly pitched for the Chicago White Sox before switching sports.

Tackling Energy Problem

The administration seems to be edging nearer deciding it must invoke some sort of energy allocation system.

President Nixon's energy message gave scant attention to the subject of possible governmental efforts to control the use of fuels. But since that time, hints have been dropped all around that such a policy is indeed under study. And well it should be.

The chairman of the government's Oil Policy Committee, William E. Simon, has suggested legislation temporarily limiting speed on highways to 50 miles per hour would be useful in cutting down on gasoline consumption.

The White House issued an executive order supply all their previous gasoline outlets, making asking oil companies "voluntarily" to continue to any cuts proportionately to prevent the cutting-off of supplies to independent operators.

These are as yet weak moves, but they indicate the trend of officialdom. The trouble is, we continue to approach the energy question in fragmented fashion, and only gingerly at that.

Take the proposal for limiting highway speeds to 50 miles per hour. No doubt that is a novel idea, speaking in terms of conserving gasoline. Simon says it would be only of temporary duration — but our energy situation is not a short term problem, especially where petroleum products are concerned. And it's a cart-before-the-horse proposition.

Wouldn't it make more sense to restrict the horsepower of automobiles manufactured and sold in this country, instead of allowing the production of vehicles capable of much, much more speed and power than our energy situation makes practical?

Wouldn't it make better sense to develop energy policies that will encourage development of reserves and supplies? This can be done as quickly as, if not quicker than, many stop-gap measures.

Avoids Hairy Question

The U.S. Supreme Court has kept a grip on its priorities. It refused to review a ruling on the hair code at Tyler (Tex.) Junior College.

By declining to hear an appeal, the court let stand a lower court decision overturning the schools haircut restrictions. The case stemmed from a suit brought by three young men who were not allowed to enroll in 1970 because their hair was too long according to school regulations.

Presumably, Tyler Junior College administrators and teachers now will have more time to administer and teach, instead of measuring boys' hair. Anyhow, although this worries some elders, it is a transitory fashion which will change without necessity of law.

You Beg To Differ?

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

How would you rate the top ten news stories of the past 75 years? If you're average, the odds are you reason the most important episodes have taken place within the last 30 years are, more properly, within your life span. That's a very human reaction.

The PEPSI-COLA Company recently took a nationwide poll of newsmen in conjunction with its 75th anniversary celebration.

Man's landing on the moon proved to be the top news story, followed in the appointed order by:

(2) Atom bomb dropped on Hiroshima; (3) John F. Kennedy Assassination; (4) World War II; (5) World War I; (6) tie between bombing of Pearl Harbor and Russian revolution; (7) Great Depression; (8) Wright brothers' flight; (9) 1929 stock market crash; (10) Vietnam War.

Then came Lindbergh's historic flight across the Atlantic, development of nuclear energy; space exploration, invention of television while the development of Salk Vaccine and the sinking of the Titanic tied for 15th place.

Participants in the balloting mentioned 200 different news events.

THE NORMANDY invasion fared poorly in the voting, as did the development of the automobile, the Nazis' extermination of the Jews, the Yalta Conference, the hoisting of Sputnik into the heavens, the death of Mahatma Gandhi by an assassin's hand, the development of plastic and penicillin and heart transplants.

The Vietnam War likely doesn't deserve a place in the top ten, although it drained a nation of its resources and divided its people. The war was officially recognized as a war by the Congress of the United States.

Television has proved to be such an enormous influence on the life of all Americans, its significance was, no doubt, underplayed in the balloting.

Why the development of the automobile did not compel more respect in the voting is a mystery. Nothing has influence of the American economy, nor the habits of its people, like the motorcar.

SUCH SIGNIFICANT stories as civil rights, the Spanish-American War, the founding of Israel (its reverberations will long be felt in the Middle East), Roosevelt's New Deal, the Black Movement in America, the European Common Market, Albert Einstein's Theory of Relativity, the invention of the telephone, Pope John's Ecumenical Movement, women's rights, invention of the transistor, invention of the electric light bulb, the birth control pill, re-institution of the Olympic Games, antibiotics, Admiral Perry's trip to the North Pole, dissolutions of the Colonial empires, the Nationalist movements in both Africa and Asia, the emergence of America as a world power and the student revolts on college campuses around the world all were encompassed in that 75-year period.

How would you have voted?

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

After my husband left me five years ago, I learned my married sister had been out with him three or four times all night. Now, this sister claims I have been out with her husband. This really hurts me, because it is an absolute lie. How should I treat a family member who is slandering me?

C.H. There are two things about slander, so the dictionary says. First, that it defames character, and second, that it is false.

The real issue then is how to handle false charges made against us. None of us are immune to that, so it is a problem touching all our lives.

The Apostle Peter had a beautiful statement on this in chapter 2 of his first letter. Pointing to Jesus as the example, he said: "Christ never sinned — never told a lie, never answered back when insulted, when he suffered, he did not threaten to get even; he left his case in the hands of God who always judges fairly." Then Peter added, "Follow in His steps." This is not easy, I know, but faith carries with it the power to accomplish desired ends.

It seems obvious that your sister makes accusations against you to cover up her wrongdoings. This is an old trick, but your mother and other discerning people will not be fooled for long.

In another Bible reference (Hebrews 12), the writer suggests

"Try to stay out of all quarrels and seek to live a clean and holy life . . . Watch out that no bitterness takes root among you."

You follow the paths of truth and love, and God will give you an immunity to any slanderous charges.

Success Doubt

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The American idea of success is being infiltrated by doubt, with resulting restlessness and disillusionment, a survey soon to be published by the American Management Associations indicates.

The survey, which drew the greatest response ratio in the business and educational organization's 50-year existence, shows that many businessmen, rather than an isolated few, are reacting against conformity and impositions on health and conscience. The survey received 2,821 usable replies.

—MORE THAN half the businessmen queried reported that pressures to conform are growing, or at least not decreasing.

—Nearly 30 per cent said job requirements have hurt their health in the past five years, mainly "from increased strain and tension brought on by heightened day-to-day business pressures.

Campus Floats

ORANGE, Calif. (AP) — Students who want to get places at Chapman College this summer will step on campus in California, attend seminars afloat on the Pacific Ocean and go to classes on Tahiti and the Fiji Islands.

The students will pay from $1,000 to about $1,500 to enroll in a five-week summer session on the college's World Campus Afloat. The campus is an 18,000-ton passenger vessel converted for classroom and laboratory study as well as college living.

The floating campus sails from Los Angeles June 16, staffed by professors expert on the culture, religion, economics and government of the peoples of the South Pacific.

There will be study stops at Tahiti, the Fiji Islands, New Guinea and the Philippines. The session ends July 21 at Hong Kong. The students can either fly back to Los Angeles or pay additional fees to sail on a second five-week session that will taken them to Taiwan, Korea, Japan and the Hawaiian Islands.

Really Racy Stuff

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks a lady librarian gets tired of hearing:

"What have you got left on the shelf where you hide the really racy stuff?"

"I don't want any of your books, kid. You're the one I'd like to check out. What would you like to do tonight?"

"Why are you always shushing people so it's so quiet in here you can hear a pin drop? Who wants to listen to a pin drop, anyway?"

"Do you have any sure-fire books on how to make money after 65? My husband is retiring next month."

"I found this copy of 'Forever Amber' in the children's section. Hasn't it been misplaced — or am I just that far behind the times?"

"There are a couple of high school kids smooching behind the nonfiction stacks. Aren't you going to do something about it?"

"No, I don't want any books, lady. I just want a place where I can sit down and take a nap. I'm homeless."

"Garbage, garbage, garbage! That's all they write nowadays. If a man like Charles Dickens were alive today, he'd have to earn a living writing for seed catalogues."

"Whom do I report a dirty old man to? No, he didn't say anything to me, but he just sits across the reference table from me and leers whenever our knees touch."

"Why Elsie Dimmer, don't tell me you've been working at the library here ever since we got out of college! Whatever became of your plans to go to Broadway and become an actress?"

"Please, Miss Dimmer, can't you just forget I owe the library 55 cents for returning my books late? If I have to pay you I won't have enough money left to go to the movies and meet my boy friend."

"What about those nice books about the Bobsey Twins? Did they ever grow up? I think one of the reasons I was so unprepared for marriage was that I was still reading about the Bobsey Twins until I was 16."

She Has A 'Tricky Knee'

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My 13-year-old daughter has had a problem with her knee. The first time it "gave way" when she was just standing. About a month later it gave out again when she was running, and she really wrenched it.

It became quite sore and swollen, and we had an orthopedist examine her. He taped the knee, but said that X-rays showed nothing wrong, and the knee gradually got better.

What do you think could have happened? And what can we do to prevent a recurrence? It's been a month since the last time. — Mrs. R. G.

Not an easy question to answer, but the knee tends to be what we call an "unstable joint." The knee has to move in quite a variety of ways, and it just isn't a simple piece of biological engineering. It is complicated.

Thus I can't venture an opinion as to exactly what happened in your daughter's case except to point out that adolescents can have some disorder or injury to cartilage or internal ligaments of the knee which cause the joint to "give out" as unexpectedly as happened in her case.

Twisting or running can put stress on such a joint. It can happen to boys who develop a "trick knee" in football, basketball or other such sports. But girls are not immune to some unusual strain that can produce the same sort of problem.

The taping of the knee evidently stabilized the situation — at least for the time being. To prevent a recurrence, the soundest means is to avoid violent activity — running or dancing included — but this is a formidable restriction to try to impose on an active 13-year-old.

If she'll try to avoid heavy strain of that type for a few months, whatever injury occurred in the knee may heal and strengthen sufficiently. The fact that it didn't show up in X-rays would seem to rule out damage to the bone structure.

Or if your daughter experiences some twinges, but without the knee giving out under her, an elastic knee support may be wise for a time, while further strengthening develops.

If the trouble recurs, however, the same doctor should see her again, since he is now familiar with the case. In my limited experience, it is often necessary to resort to

Helps Indians

MACON, Ga. (AP) — The Allman Brothers Band has plans to do a series of benefit concerts to aid Indians of North America.

The money from the benefits will be used to set up a fund for the preservation of the North American Indian Culture. The goal is to raise $2 million, to aid various North American Indian organizations.

surgery to secure the joint. Such surgery, however, leaves the knee perfectly functional. That is, it does not, as so many fear, mean that the knee will be stiff thereafter.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Dealing with your column on venereal disease, and washing to prevent V.D., I've found a source which disagrees.

The Metropolitan Life publication, "Facts You Should Know About V.D. But Probably Don't," states on Page 3: "The soap and water washes away some of the germs . . . and it helps to urinate . . . These steps are no guarantee but they will reduce the chances of infection." Please straighten this up so the public will know. — R.D.

There's no conflict. Your quotation says "these steps are no guarantee," a sentiment in which I thoroughly concur.

If you remember, my reference was to a young lady who wanted to know if taking a bath four hours later would prevent V.D.

Well, it won't.

How does VD start? Why are teenagers among its most frequent victims? Will it cure itself? Dr. Thosteson has the answers in his convenient layman's language booklet, "Venereal Disease: How to Avoid It; How to Cure It." For a copy write him in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 35 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed (use zip code) envelope.

Raises Questions

By Rowland Evans

And Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — President Nixon's statement Tuesday, with its remarkable admission that he did after all impose national security limitations on the Watergate investigation, instead of winning sympathy from Capital Hill supporters of his hard-line foreign policy has now spawned two steel-edged questions from them:

QUESTION NO. 1: It has been long standing practice for the President of the United States personally to approve or "sign off" all highly sensitive covert operations of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA). Why then did Mr. Nixon say that "elements of the early post-Watergate reports led me to suspect, incorrectly, that the CIA had been in some way involved?" Should he not have automatically known?

QUESTION NO. 2: Assuming, however, he did not know, Mr. Nixon need only to telephone CIA headquarters at Langley, Va., on a secure scrambler telephone to find out the truth. Why did he not immediately place that call?

The answers almost surely will lead to one of two interpretations: either the President was deeply, hopelessly involved in the Watergate cover-up, or he was far removed from the daily flow of events in the government to a degree probably unprecedented in U.S. history. The latter interpretation, damning though it is, might at least salvage his presidency for the remainder of the second term.

IN EITHER EVENT, however, the President's hope that his Tuesday statement would rally around him the bipartisan national security coalition — especially Democratic Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington — has failed. Jackson, a staunch supporter of Mr. Nixon's foreign policy and his first choice to be Secretary of Defense, was appalled by the President's third Watergate statement.

SO WERE A great many other Senators, deeply disturbed by testimony from CIA officials that the White House tried to involve the CIA in the Watergate cover-up. Unanswered questions posed by Mr. Nixon's statement make doubly sure a close cross-examination of ex-White House aides H. R. (Bob) Haldeman, John Ehrlichman and John Dean when they appear at closed-door Senate Appropriations Committee sessions. Sooner or later, the slow-moving Ervin Committee's probe will get them in open session.

Some senators friendly to the President now think the worst. "I'm convinced now that he's up to his neck in the cover-up," one powerful Senator told us.

BUT THAT harsh view may not take into account the astonishing isolation and remoteness of a President who shunned all routine details of government, who communed with only a very few staffers and who did not even read the newspapers.

So, Senate investigators will be trying to find whether Dean sought to implicate the CIA on the orders of Ehrlichman and Haldeman or of Mr. Nixon himself. Some of the President's old Senate supporters strongly suspect the worst. The White House hopes they will find that Mr. Nixon was merely incompetent.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — About 10,000 springbooks, the antelope which is South Africa's animal symbol, are to be shot on farms in this country for export to Europe this year.

Use Care In Check Writing

Martin bought a secondhand motorcycle from a friendly stranger, giving him a check for "eight hundred dollars." But when he got the check back from the bank at the end of the month, it had been upped to "thirty eight hundred dollars."

MARTIN DECIDED that the bank had no right to take the extra $3,000 out of his account.

"It's not my fault the fellow was crooked," he argued in a court hearing. "Let the bank try to collect the difference from him."

BUT THE bank pointed out that Martin had made three careless mistakes in writing the check:

- 1) he had failed to fill in the payee's name;
- 2) he had failed to fill in the numbers after the dollar sign; and
- 3) he had left more than an inch of open space in front of the word "eight" — plenty of room for inserting the word "thirty."

THE COURT concluded that Martin, by his negligence, had invited the tampering — hence, would have to bear the loss himself.

Of course, as a general rule, a bank has no right to pay any more money out of your account than you have authorized. The bank, after all, has the best opportunity to detect fraud by examining a check before cashing it.

But the law will usually shift the loss to you, if, by your carelessness, you have made the check easy to alter.

FURTHERMORE, you have a duty to go over your cancelled checks within a reasonable time after they are returned, and to alert the bank if something is amiss.

For example:

A MAN whose signature had been forged on a check had to absorb the loss himself because he neglected, for almost six months, to let the bank know what had happened.

A court said that by his procrastination, he had deprived the bank of a fair chance to track down the villain.

Losing Streak Is Terminated

By The Associated Press
Manager Whitey Herzog of the Texas Rangers hasn't been having much luck choosing his relief pitchers lately, so it stood to reason that umpire John Rice couldn't do any worse.
As things turned out, Rice made the right move—for the Rangers—when he wig-wagged to the bullpen in the seventh inning Sunday. The result was 2-13 innings of one-hit relief by Bill Gogolewski that preserved Sonny Siebert's 5-2 victory over the New York Yankees and enabled the Rangers to break an eight-game losing streak.
In the only other American League action on a generally rainy Sunday, Kansas City and Boston split a doubleheader, the Royals romping 13-3 in the opener and the Red Sox rebounding in the nightcap 7-2.
The Oakland-Detroit, Cleveland-Chicago, Baltimore-Minnesota and California-Milwaukee games were rained out.
John Maberry singled twice, doubled twice and knocked in five runs, and Ed Kirkpatrick and Gail Hopkins homered, leading Kansas City over Bos-

Cardinals Capture Both Ends Of Double Header

The Big Spring Cardinals ran their won-lost record for the year to 7-0 by battering the Brownfield Astros in the first game, 19-12, and the Lamesa Eagles in the second game, 23-2. The end of the nightcap 23-2. The Red Birds swung back into action in Lamesa next Sunday.
Jody Florez, on the pitching rubber for the Birds in the opener, had a relatively easy time, although the Astros outthrew the locals, 17-15.
Florez helped his own cause with two hits and three runs.
Everyone in the Cards' starting lineup but first baseman Pat Martinez hit safely at least once. John Grizzle clubbed a first inning home run and added a single in the second for Big Spring. He drove in five runs.
Andy Gamboa Jr. accounted for three of the winners' hits while Sammy Rodriguez and

Nicklaus Holds On To Claim Links Gold

ATLANTA (AP) — "My only objective," Jack Nicklaus said, "was to win the golf tournament."
He did, making the $150,000 Atlanta Golf Classic his fourth title of the year and regaining his customary spot atop the money winning list.
Nicklaus, who won the Tournament of Champions five weeks ago in his last previous start, virtually won this one on his first three rounds of 67, 66 and 66. In Sunday's final effort over the 6,883-yard Atlanta Country Club course, he could do no better than a one-over-par 73 for a 272 total, a very respectable 16 under-par.
Tom Weiskopf was the only one in the field able to keep close to Nicklaus during the first three rounds. And it was Weiskopf who put the pressure on over the finishing holes.
Weiskopf finished with a 69 for 274, a score good enough to win any previous Atlanta Classic.
"Sometimes after thinking these things over a couple of days a man can think differently," said Robinson, who added, "We're going to try to change his mind."
The decision to quit was the temperamental Pepton's second in 13 months.
On baseball's retired list from May 1 to June 30 in 1972, he returned to hit .262 in 66 games for the Cubs.
This year he hit .267 for the Cubs with three home runs and 18 runs batted in but was traded to the Braves for minor league infielder Andy Thornton and cash.

BS Hardware Wins, 13-3

Big Spring Hardware scored in every inning in blasting the Optimists, 13-3, in the opening Teen-Age Hi-Junior Baseball League game here Saturday night.
Jody Bennett, on the pitching rubber for the Tigers, surrendered only one hit to the Optimists. Roger Burchell was the loser.
Albert Alvarez had a home run for the Hardware team, which started off with five runs in the "hells" round and never looked back.
Bennett also had two hits and scored three times. Alvarez smashed a single along with his four master.
Kelly Rastland, Mark Moore and Keith Stone all hit safely for the winners. Mike Dennis had the only hit for the losers.
Optimists: Winner—Jody Bennett; loser—Roger Burchell.

Joe Pepitone May Ship Out

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Joe Pepitone remained a baseball temp today amid efforts by the Atlanta Braves to talk him out of a second voluntary retirement.
The 32-year-old player, traded May 19 by the Chicago Cubs to the Braves, announced Saturday night plans to quit and possibly go to Japan.
But Braves Vice President Eddie Robinson, after conferring with Pepitone, noted Sunday: "We hope nothing's definite yet."
The Cubs handed the Colts their second defeat in 11 American Little League starts here Saturday night. Final score was 4-3. Winning pitcher was Richard

Pro Caddies Making More Than Track Mercenaries

In the first season of professional track and field competition in America, the earnings of the top 10 athletes aren't equal to the income of the top 10 caddies in professional golf.
Even with bonus money from Post Cereals, $15,000 will be a big score.
These people are world figures in athletics; Olympic gold medal winners, highly gifted and skilled, superbly conditioned. They've heard the roar of great crowds and accepted tributes from kings and prime ministers.
Now they play before small houses, and compete for a $500 purse.
"I can't jeer at $500," says vaulter Bob Seagren. "I can use the money."
NOT FAR BEHIND
There is a suggestion of the circus in the International Track Association's difficult first season. As yet, nobody has been asked to run against a horse or wrestle a bear. But that can't be far behind.

San Diego Club Will Move To Washington

SAN DIEGO (AP) — "When the fans hear about this, we won't be playing in front of nobody," said Nate Colbert.
The slugging San Diego first baseman's remark reflected the surprise and disappointment of his teammates that Padre owner C. Armbro Smith had signed a mid-season letter of intent to sell the club for removal to Washington, D.C. in 1974.
"A lot of exciting baseball is still to be played here," said club Vice President Peter Bavasi trying to sound cheerful. "I hope lots of folks will come out to watch."
That hope was plainly optimistic, however, after Smith placed the club in lame-duck status in San Diego by announcing sale of the team May 5 for a record $12 million to a group of Washington, D.C., businessmen headed by Joseph Danzansky.

LITTLE LEAGUE Sabres Batter Rockets, 10-3

The Sabres humbled the Rockets, 10-3, in International Little League play here Saturday night.
A lead off home run by Rodney Smith in the second inning ignited a five-run out-break for the Sabres.
Roland King drove in three tallies later in the inning with a bases-choked single. Racing in on the blow were Dale Luther, Lennie Smith and Brian Hunt, all of whom had walked.
Rodney Smith capped the Sabre surge in that round with a run-producing fly ball to center.
The Sabres put the decision on the top shelf in the third with a three-run rally. Hits by Brian Hunt and Paul Dockter highlighted that round.
A line drive double by Ralph Clark produced the Sabres' final two runs in the fourth.
Most of the Rockets' runs were unearned. Two came in the first and the other three in the fifth.
Rockets: Winner — Rodney Smith; loser — Troy Baker.
The Dodgers outlasted the Orioles, 8-7, in Texas Little League play Saturday night.
The win was the sixth in ten starts for the Orioles. The Orioles are now 4-6.
Orioles: Winner — Jones; loser — Rubie.

Adams, Dikes Meet Champs

LAMESA — John Adams and Bob Dikes of Midland won the two-day partnership tournament in Lamesa with a two-day score of 133 shot in high winds and blowing sand.
Second in the championship flight were Jess Claiborne, Lamesa, and John Billy Coosman, Snyder, shooting 137. Hank Jordan and Aubie McBride of Brownfield were third with 138 and Jay White and Ralph Berryhill, Lamesa, fourth with 141. Ted Gross and Dan Wilkins of Big Spring were next with 142.
In the first flight, winners were Leon Anderson and Oliver Seilheiner, Hobbs, 142, followed by Al Langford and John Berry, Midland, 145.
Leading the third flight were Steve Holmes and Ron Garner, Midland, 163, and Mike Jones and Frank Snow with 164.
In the second flight, Lamesa's Rex Cotton and David Bessire were winners with 151 followed by Sam Goodnight and Larry Roberts of O'Donnell with 152.

Red Sox Rip Oriole Nine

The Red Sox measured the Orioles, 11-3, Saturday night in inaugural Teen-Age Sophomore League play, making the most of four hits.
Dick Battle, the winning hurler, yielded six safeties to the Orioles but had far better control than his hill opponents. A five-run sixth inning broke the game wide open for the Red Sox and they added three runs in the seventh.
Battle got off to an uncertain start, yielding two runs in the opening round to the Orioles but pitched airtight ball thereafter.
Glenn Daniels and Freddy Pickett of the Orioles each drove out two safeties.
Hitting safely for the Sox were Venecia, Battle, Ken Fowler and Craig Clark.
Red Sox: Winner — Dick Battle; loser — Bobby Johnson.

Lamesa Host In Opener

LAMESA — Lamesa's Tornados and the Pecos Eagles will meet Thursday at 5 p.m. in Lamesa for the first game in a two-out-of-three series for regional AAA baseball championship.
The second game will be played at 6 p.m. in Pecos with a third game to immediately follow if it is needed.
The Tors took an impressive 19-8 record into the playoffs after defeating Wichita Falls Hirsch in the second and third game of a series for bi-district champions. They eked by with a one run lead in each of the two games.
Pecos also lost its bi-district opener to Dumas and then came back and won the second and third contests.
The Lamesa-Pecos teams have met twice earlier this year in pre-district tournaments with Lamesa defeating Pecos in one outing and Pecos beating Lamesa in the other.
This is the fourth sport during the 1972-73 school year that Lamesa has gone into the playoffs, having played off in football, basketball and volleyball earlier.
Padre officials blamed National League club owners for placing the team in an impossible position.
"I blame the National League, which forced us to pay $10 million for an expansion franchise," Bavasi said. "We'd be in good shape if we had paid the American League expansion price of around $6 million."
"We've shown we can break even on attendance of 700,000," Bavasi said team resources had been drained by interest payments on the $10 million loan secured to purchase the team. Annual interest on the loan is around $700,000. He said the team had shown small profit last season, but not enough to pay that figure.

Sweetwater Duet Wins Tourney

SWEETWATER — Henry Bennett and Bob Faver, both of Sweetwater, teamed to win the Sweetwater County Club 29er Golf Tournament here Sunday, with a 54-hole total of 202.
"The President's Flight was captured by Charles Barnett and Coy Berry, both of Sweetwater, who finished with a 212.
Dan Strong and Graham Mackey of Midland finished second in the championship flight, two shots back of the leaders.
Charles Norman and Bob Hodges, both of Dallas, were second flight winners.

Hits New Low
PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The Gallup Poll reports that President Nixon's popularity has dropped to its lowest point since he took office five years ago.

"THOSE CRAZY EPISCOPALIANS"

ever see one of their funerals? brrrr!

Some say an Episcopal funeral is cold. It's short, simple, and taken straight from the Prayer Book. Never maudlin. The casket remains unopened. It's covered with a pall, so you don't know if it cost a hundred dollars or a thousand. And there is no eulogy for the dead.

Episcopalians, though, say the funeral service affords one of the strong reasons for their faith in the Church, because it's conducted as much for the living as for the dead.

In such a context, eulogies seem hardly apropos. After all, we're all children of God and equal in His sight. How important, really, is the fact that "the departed" was highly regarded by his fellow man? It seems pretty insignificant compared to God's loving promise of eternal salvation.

Like its funeral service, the Episcopal Church is conducted for living people. Afterwards, it's between you and God. Your nearest Episcopal minister would be delighted to talk with you about this "living theology."

SUMMER TRIP: (Q.) I've been invited by my girl friend's parents to go on vacation with them in Vermont this summer.

My parents don't think it is right for me to go. They seem to think there's something morally wrong with it. We'd be with her parents all the time. I would like to hear your views.

I am 19 and she is 18 — Invited in Indiana. (A.) I think the girl's parents were very thoughtful to invite you to go on vacation with them. It sounds like a good idea to me.

OPERATION: (Q.) I have to have an operation. It is for curvature of the spine. My doctor says I will have to spend about three months in body casts before the operation. He wants to put me in a cast right after school is out.

My problem is that my boy friend, who lives in another state, is planning to visit my family and me for a week in the middle of June, and I can't stand the idea of having him see me all trussed up in a cast.

My question is, can't I wait until after his visit to start? The doctor says it is up to me. I talked to him just today, about it. My parents are very angry with me. They say I shouldn't wait. What do you think?

Under Pressure in New Hampshire. (A.) Your doctor will not and cannot make you start the process at any specific time. But if you ask him he will advise you about the best thing to do.

Ask him, straight and clear, if waiting for two or three weeks will be likely to do more damage to you than your trouble has already done. Do what he says.

Y's Summer Program Gets Under Way June 4

YMCA summer program activities will begin June 4, according to Curtis Mullins, "Y" executive director.

The summer schedule features instructional and recreational activities for all ages and skill levels in the indoor Horace Garrett Memorial Swimming Pool. Instruction classes for youth will be offered in three sessions, June 4-22; June 25-July 13; and July 16-Aug. 3.

Registrants may choose the session which they desire. Recreational swimming is scheduled each morning for elementary age youth and teenagers are scheduled in the afternoons.

Instruction for adults is planned June 5-28 on Tuesday and Thursday evenings with separate classes for men and women.

Physical education classes in gymnastics, tumbling, trampolines, and gym games are scheduled Monday through Thursdays until Aug. 10 for elementary-aged youth and teenagers. Good health habits, attitudes of good sportsmanship, coordination, discipline and skill development are stressed in participation.

Classes in arts and crafts for ages 6-12 will be held weekly with a choice of time and days. Self expression and appreciation of beauty in things of everyday life through the use of various materials and media will be emphasized.

Teenagers are offered opportunities to participate in gymnastics, swimming instruction, junior and senior life saving classes, recreational swimming, weightlifting, handball, paddleball, volleyball and basketball.

Special interest classes in beginning guitar, tap and ballet, and baton twirling are included in the schedule.

Family night swims will be held on Monday and Friday nights during June, July and August.

Registrations are now being taken for classes at the Central YMCA, 8th and Owens St. For further information and details of specific programs phone the "Y" at 267-8234.

BSP Unit Names Committee Heads

Mrs. Fred Burgess, newly elected president of Beta Omicron Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, named committee chairman for the 1973-74 club year Thursday at a salad supper in the Webb AFB chapel annex.

Grad Party For Randy Grimes

Randy Grimes, a senior at Big Spring High School, was honored Thursday evening with a cookout at the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Barber, 606 W. 17th. Cohosts were Mr. and Mrs. Neal Bryant.

The dining table was covered with an avocado cloth and accented with avocado candles. A world globe and mortarboard formed the centerpiece, and patio lights were used. Miniature diplomas were given as favors. Grimes is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Grimes. He plans to attend Howard County Junior College.

The chairmen are Mrs. Jesse Curry Sr., social; Ms. Pam Holtorf, program; Mrs. William McIntosh, service; Mrs. John Denton, ways and means and telephone; Mrs. Sid Smith, yardstick; Mrs. Wayne Stewart, scrapbook; and Mrs. Geoffrey Brougham, extension officer.

Mrs. Eldon Marsh, outgoing president, was presented a miniature gold gavel by chapter members. It was announced the chapter has been named a "three-star chapter" by BSP international headquarters based on educational, social and civic accomplishments.

Ways and means projects for the coming year were discussed. Phi-pal names were revealed, and new names were drawn. Guests were Miss Audrey McCrary, Mrs. Robert F. Penner, Mrs. Eddie Sides, Mrs. Frank Mendenhall and Mrs. Herman McMillan of Ohio.

County's Resources Discussed

"Natural Resources of Howard County" was the program presented Tuesday by Jaylene Saunders and Kathy Harrell for Center Point Home Demonstration Club.

Speaking in the home of Mrs. H. M. Haygood, the girls, who are members of JFF 4-H Club of Elbow, agreed that some of the most important natural resources of the county include a 300 acre lake (Moss) and several smaller lakes which supply adequate water for industrial use; hundreds of acres of farm land, with cotton and milo the most valuable crops; vast amounts of ranch acreage which supply ample meat products; and wildlife such as deer, turkey and antelope. The program was one which won the speakers third place in a 4-H district competition in Lubbock.

Mrs. J. F. Skalicky, a guest, installed new officers. They are Mrs. Bob Wren, president; Mrs. W. L. Eggleston, vice president; Mrs. J. R. Petty, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. James Petty, council delegate. Other guests were Mrs. Billy Grimes and Mrs. W. F. Harrell.

Following business, members had a "bake, make and grow" exchange. Mrs. Skalicky won the attendance prize. The next meeting will be June 12 in the home of Mrs. C. T. Lindley, 1405 19th.

BIG SPRING HERALD

SEC. B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, MONDAY, MAY 28, 1973 SEC. B

Wedding Ceremony Performed Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. Terrence Robert Willie are on a wedding trip which will include visits to Corpus Christi, Padre Island and Monterrey, Mexico, following their wedding Saturday evening in the East Fourth Street Baptist Church.

The Rev. Eldon Cook performed the ceremony at an altar decorated with a branched candelabra holding votive candles and entwined with wild smilax. Matching candelabra flanked the altar, along with large arrangements of pink gladioli, white spider mums and snowflake pompons.

The bride is the former Cheryl Lynn Lasley and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Whittington, 1022 Stadium. Willie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Willie of Fond du Lac, Wis.

Background music was provided by Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Oliphant, organist and pianist, respectively. Miss Jenny Lynn Payne, Dallas, was vocalist. The bride wore a formal-length gown of beige silk organza accented with white Swiss embroidery. The bodice extended to form a high neckline encircled with Swiss embroidery. Her Juliet sleeves, fitted above the elbow, swept to full gathers held at the wrist with embroidery trimmed cuffs. A gathered skirt fell softly from the empire waistline. Clusters of gathers unfolded across the center back, creating a chapel train. Matching Swiss embroidery highlighted the skirt and train, and the bride wore a beige lace picture-frame hat with a tiered illusion veil. She carried a nosegay of gardenias, pink sweetheart roses and babies'-breath.

ATTENDANTS
Miss Carolyn Cook was maid of honor. She wore a floor-length gown of pink voile fashioned empire style with a large pink and white eyelet collar and a ruffle around the skirt bottom. She wore a pink picture-frame hat with embroidered daisy accents. Bridesmaids were Miss Lynn Parsons and Miss Sunnye Hallard, both of Dallas. They were addressed identically to Miss Cook.

Outdoor Day For Lakeview Club

Boating, fishing and sight-seeing were among activities for Lakeview Home Demonstration Club members Thursday at the Colorado City Lake cabin of Mrs. Lewis Carlile. Mrs. Carlile served fried catfish for the luncheon, assisted by Mrs. E. P. Madison, outgoing president. Games were played. Guests were Mrs. Carlile and Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Stewart. The club has discontinued meetings for summer months.

Fred Behm, Milwaukee, Wis., was best man, and groomsmen were Jim Orseth, Midland; and Arlen Griffin, Hobbs, N.M. Ushers were Joe Dobry and Mack Tillman, Wichita Falls.

Miss Melissa Lasley, the bride's daughter, was ring bearer and was attired like the other bridal attendants. Mrs. Willie attended North Texas State University and has been employed for four years as a legal secretary for the law firm of Bader, Wilson, Menaker and Cox of Dallas. Willie graduated from the University of Wisconsin, and is a petroleum engineer for Texaco, Inc., at the company's Vealmoor area office. The couple will reside at 1707 Purdue.

RECEPTION
A reception was held in the church fellowship hall. White tulle, bordered with Chantilly lace flounces over white satin, covered the serving table. Crystal and silver appointments were used, and satin bells topped the tiered cake. Pink and white carnations around votive candles formed the centerpiece. Serving were Mrs. Bob Haynes, Lubbock, and Miss Jan Crocker, Dallas. Mrs. Jim Orseth, Midland, presided at the guest registry.

Out-of-town guests were Ray Adams, brother of the bride, Bill Dear, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Menaker, all of Dallas; Larry Klinke, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Willie, Mrs. Tom Jeffers and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Georg, all of Van Dyne, Wis.; Mrs. Erven Kuhn, Mr. and Mrs. William Kuhn, Fond du Lac, Wis.; and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Peterson, Milwaukee, Wis.

Residents Travel, Visit Relatives

FORSAN (SC) — The J. W. Snellings have returned from a three-week vacation to Hot Springs, Ark.; Oklahoma City, Okla.; and San Antonio. They were accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Audrey May of San Antonio, on the trip to Arkansas and Oklahoma. Another sister, Mrs. N. G. Bell of Snyder, joined them in San Antonio.

Mrs. F. E. Davidson was in Whiteface recently to visit her son and family, the Frank Davidsons. She attended graduation services for her grandson, Robert Davidson.

Forsan Residents At Graduation

FORSAN (SC) — The Jim Craigs and Mrs. Vera Harris were in Robert Lee recently for graduation ceremonies for their granddaughter, Jamie Craig, daughter of the James Craigs, Robert Lee.

Mrs. J. H. Cardwell attended a bridal shower recently for her granddaughter, Caron Breithaupt, daughter of the T. D. Breithaupts.

Recent guests of the T. D. Henrys were their son and family, the Danny Henrys, Paducah.

Guests of the E. M. Baileys recently were their son and family, Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Bailey and children, College Station; the J. T. Creightons, Rankin; and Mrs. Bobby Phillips, Quanah.

Prizes Awarded In Credit Club Contest

Three seniors and one junior from Big Spring High School took top awards in an essay contest sponsored by Big Spring Credit Women's Club.

The essay subject was "How I Think Credit Will Affect My Future." Winners were Darlene Thomas, $25; Theresa Borman (the junior) $15; Kay Clayton, $10; and Jim Carter, $5.

This was the first of what is planned to be an annual contest designed to teach young people the pros and cons of credit prior to high school graduation. Mrs. J. B. Apple, a member of the credit club, provides classes at the high school and junior college level which are oriented toward an understanding of what a good credit rating means. She is owner of the Credit Bureau of Greater Big Spring.

The high school recently included courses on "home and family living" and "consumerism" in its curriculum, and the lectures by Mrs. Apple fit into this category.

"Most kids, when they graduate from high school, want to start out on the same level they have been used to while living with their parents," said Mrs. Weeks. "For this reason, many of them find themselves deeply in debt, and our club is trying to impress on young people that their good credit rating is a valuable possession and must be guarded."

Mrs. Weeks said

businesses have traditionally been leery of offering credit to young people. She stressed, however, that people aged 21 and under control a large percentage of the buying power in this country. She thinks the trend is changing and that businesses are becoming more lenient about providing credit. She warned that this trend could stop if the credit is abused by the young, but she feels those who would abuse it are a great minority.

New Slate Installed By Sorority

Mrs. Michael Gallagher was installed Monday as president of Alpha Kappa Omicron Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi at the home of Mrs. Jerry Meyer.

Serving with her are Mrs. Charles Hamner, vice president; Mrs. Clay La Rochelle, recording secretary; Mrs. Lois Pace, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Gary Huckabay, treasurer; and Mrs. Meyer, extension officer.

In other business, perfect attendance charms were given to Mrs. Gallagher, Mrs. Huckabay, Mrs. Meyer, Mrs. Gerald Ernest, Mrs. LaRochelle and Mrs. Allen Carlile. Members agreed to have a bake sale from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Saturday at Highland Center Mall and at Gibson's Discount Center. Last Saturday the women hosted a cookout for a Brownie troop they sponsor at the Day Camp area in Silver Heels.

Following business, members went to K.C. Steakhouse for dinner. Meetings will discontinue for the summer, the next one scheduled in September.

Bride's Choice
Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Our 22-year-old college graduate daughter is being married soon, and I wonder how far to let her go with the wedding arrangements. She wants to get married in a public park. (How can you ask people to stand in a park? What if it rains?) She doesn't plan on having ushers or bridesmaids. She says since there will be no aisle to walk down it would be pointless. She wants a justice of the peace instead of a minister. My husband's people are Catholic, and mine are Episcopalians. Our daughter was brought up Episcopalian, but she doesn't believe in anything. The young man she's marrying is not committed to any religion either. Wouldn't relatives who believe in something criticize us for having a wedding without a minister? We agreed to foot the bill for this wedding and don't want to appear ridiculous, which we probably will if we go along with what she wants. Or shouldn't we worry about what people will think?

OLD SCHOOL MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: It's your daughter's wedding, and she should have the kind of wedding she and her fiance want. If it rains, those without umbrellas will get wet. If relatives who "believe in something" criticize you for having a justice of the peace, tell them it was your daughter's choice. (at least she'll be legally wed, and lots of parents would settle for that.) Paying for the wedding doesn't give you the right to do it your way. And if you worry about what people will think, you'll waste a lot of energy.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "JUST CURIOUS IN DENVER": I don't have any ghost writers. Sometimes I wish I did, so I'd have somebody to blame besides myself when I goof.

Cap Rock Work On Basin Agenda

Construction of approximately 17.5 miles of distribution line to serve approximately 236 consumers for Caprock Electric Cooperative, Inc. in Howard County will be among the project applications discussed at a Permian Regional Planning Commission application review committee meeting.

The meeting will be held at Terminal Thursday with final approval to be up to the board of directors on June 13.

Other Caprock projects seeking approval include watermain and sewerage work in Midland, Upton, Ector, and Reagan counties.

In Glasscock County, Caprock is seeking 19 miles of line for 175 members; in Martin County 14 miles for 98 members; in Borden County two miles to serve six members; and in Dawson County one mile for four members.

Other projects seeking approval are the Permian Basin Centers for Mental Health and Retardation and a regional alcoholism authority. The fourth project is the application for institutional training project at Midland College under the manpower development and training act.

BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS
Q. 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠K 5 10 3 9 5 4 ♠K 7 5 3

The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1 ♠ 1 ♠ 2 ♠ 2 ♠
2 ♠ 2 ♠ 3 ♠ 3 ♠
4 ♠ 4 ♠ ?

What action do you take?
A—Five clubs. You have not yet done full justice to the holding in view of the fact that your partner opened the bidding and made a free rebid at the level of two. When you now show club support, after having previously announced first round control in spades, partner may be in position to bid a slam.

Q. 2—You are South, vulnerable, have 60 part score, and hold:
♠A J 9 5 10 ♠A Q 10 8 3 ♠A 10 9

The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ 1 ♠ 1 ♠ 1 ♠
1 ♠ 1 ♠ 2 ♠ 2 ♠

What do you bid now?
A—Two spades. This hand is not quite strong enough for a rebid of two no trump. Such a call should be based on a high card holding of at least 15 points.

Q. 3—You are South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠K Q 10 9 4 ♠A Q 6 3 ♠A K 6

The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ 1 ♠ 2 ♠ 2 ♠

What do you bid now?
A—Three diamonds. True enough, higher bids are in sight and on the surface this might appear to be an underbid, but there should be no hurry. Since you are making a free rebid in the face of partner's free response, there is not the remotest danger that the bidding will drop. More specific information may be forthcoming at a lower level as a result of your mild sounding rebid.

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠10 9 8 4 2 ♠Q 8 4 ♠A J 5

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ 1 ♠ 2 ♠ 2 ♠
2 ♠ 2 ♠ 2 NT 2 ♠
3 ♠ 3 ♠ ?

What do you bid now?
A—To persist further with no trump on such a doubtful diamond stopper would not be discreet. There is a great likelihood that partner has a hand containing six spades and only four clubs. The suggested call, therefore, is a return to three spades.

Signup Time Is June 5

Registration for summer school at Big Spring High School will be between 9 a.m. and 12 noon June 5 in the high school general office. Tuition in full will be required at the time of registration.

A schedule of classes will be posted after 7:30 a.m. Wednesday with first period classes beginning at 7:55 a.m. that day.

Tuition is $22 for one course of $40 for two courses. One and one-half credits is the maximum that may be earned in regular summer school.

Course offerings, which will include if there is at least 16 students for each course include English, social studies, mathematics, typing, health, physical science, homemaking and driver education.

Driver ed classes begin June 2 and end June 22 for classroom instruction. Behind-the-wheel instruction sessions are scheduled for June 22, June 23, June 24 and June 27.

Bonds Sell Well Here

United States savings bond sales here and in District 4 are running ahead of schedule.

For the first third of the year, sales in the district amounted to $559,406, which is 38 per cent of the goal. April sales aggregated $109,992.

By counties, the picture was as follows for April sales (cumulative total) and per cent of year's goal:

Andrews $5,392 (48.60%) 81;
Borden $604 ($2,253) 11; Dawson $8,252 ($45,487) 38; Fisher $3,457 ($19,487) 32; Gaines $12,346 ($38,179) 42; Howard $15,138 ($225,518) 43; Martin $866 ($7,840) 26; Mitchell $15,311 ($53,071) 26; Nolan $15,827 ($53,071) 26; Scurry $4,799 ($48,783) 30.

The area sales in April amounted to $1,090,708 for the district, or 38 per cent of the year's target. For the state the total was $19,525,843, an increase of more than $2 million over the same month a year ago. Through April state sales stood at $83,791,839, up 1/2 million.

'Mexican Bandit' Faces Dope Rap

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Michael de Anda, who plays the role of a burly Mexican bandit in a television commercial about potato chips, is facing drug possession and perjury charges.

After his case was postponed until June 8 on charges involving about five ounces of heroin, he was arrested by federal agents as he walked from the courtroom.

The agents took him to another courtroom for arraignment on a perjury indictment by a federal grand jury, accusing him of lying about whether he knew a major drug pusher.

The character actor served on Mayor Sam Yorty's Citizens Narcotics Committee for two years until 1971.

MILITARY PROCUREMENT-II

Building Cargo Plane Turns Into Nightmare

In the early 1960s, Defense Secretary Robert McNamara decided the way to cut defense costs was through a new procedure called total package procurement. It turned out to be one of the most expensive procurement techniques ever devised, as this second in a series from The AP Special Assignment Team demonstrates.

By JEAN HELLER
Associated Press Writer

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — For the Lockheed Corp., building the C5A super cargo plane for the Air Force is like being beaten with a wet rope. It's going to be such a relief when it's over.

What looked like a fairly routine job when Lockheed won the contract to build the airplane in 1965 has turned into a nightmare of cost overruns, delivery delays, performance deficiencies and public ridicule.

When the C5A was first ordered, it was estimated that 120 of the planes would cost just over $3.4 billion. Currently the Air Force has reduced the order to 81 aircraft at a total cost of more than $4.4 billion. The net result is that the unit price of the aircraft has nearly doubled.

BEHIND SCHEDULE

—Delivery of the 81st plane, which will be the last, was scheduled for this month, two years behind schedule.

—The C5As delivered in 1971 had 251 deficiencies per aircraft. Last year was better, but each plane still had 126 deficiencies.

—The C5A was supposed to have a flying life of 30,000 hours. Without structural modifications and reductions in air speed and payload capacity, the Air Force now estimates the planes won't last beyond 6,500 hours in their assigned role of airlifting huge amounts of cargo or large numbers of troops.

—The fleet of C5As was supposed to be 75 per cent operationally ready at any given time. Because of unreliable aircraft components, inadequate training and numbers of maintenance personnel, only about 54 per cent of the fleet is operationally ready at any one time.

COSTLY PACKAGE

The Air Force estimates it will cost at least $259 million to fix these and other deficiencies in the C5A, but nothing can undo the fact that the airplane has been one of the worst examples of Pentagon procurement in history.

Some of the most serious problems with performance and cost can be traced back to the way the Lockheed contract was written, under a purchasing procedure called total package procurement.

"It was a complicated contract, a terribly complicated contract," Keith Anderson, Lockheed's corporate vice president for government contracts, said in an interview. "It's going to be a case study. They'll be using it in the Harvard Business School for the next 25 years as an example of what not to do."

NO IDEA

In total package procurement, a would-be contractor makes a package bid on the development and production of an item. For the winning bidder, that package bid becomes a fixed-price contract, with fixed required performance specifications for the product and fixed delivery dates. Price, performance and delivery are inflexible.

"What they were asking us to do was develop something and price the production product at the same time," Anderson said. "But until you've developed something, you haven't got the faintest idea what producing it will cost. Yet that's the kind of judgement we had to make."

"What you're bidding is your best guess, but then if you win the contract, your best guess becomes your contract and you're locked in. If you've made a bad guess, you're in trouble."

BAD GUESS

And Lockheed made a very bad guess. There is no provision in a total package procurement for building prototypes or reproduction items, those early models on which bugs are ironed out. Under a TPP contract, all items built are supposed to be the real thing, and under that setup, problems don't begin to show up until the product is on the production line, the worst possible place to try to cope with trouble.

"In the C5A, the essential error that was made, as in so many of these big total package programs, is that they did not wait to go into production until they had all the problems shaken out of the system they were developing," David Packard, former deputy secretary of Defense, said in an interview.

"The desire of the military to accelerate a program and to define an operational date too early and consider that date as being fixed and to define the whole program that way makes the project more rigid than realistic."

WRONG AGAIN

"We thought we had an airplane project that would just require a scale-up of existing technology," Anderson said. "We were wrong. It was a far more difficult job than we had anticipated. We ran into problems that caused delays. Then the economy-inflation-took off on us. That made the delays terribly expensive, far above what the contract covered. And fixing the problems was made all the more difficult because the Air Force was so inflexible on the plane's performance."

Actually, that kind of inflexibility is designed as a cost control. Under TPP, no changes are supposed to be made in an item after a contract is signed because changes make the item more expensive. But the dictum also leaves no room for tradeoffs, the process of modifying one specification so another can be met. Tradeoffs in the development stage are invariably necessary since few new concepts ever work in reality the way they do on paper.

TOO HEAVY

"There was a problem with the C5A being too heavy," Anderson said. "It wouldn't take off in the short distance the Air Force specified. That could have been taken care of with a little more power in the engines which was possible and wouldn't have cost much. But that would have changed engine specifications and the Air Force wouldn't permit it."

"It's like asking an automobile dealer for a car with a 500-horsepower engine that gets 30 miles to a gallon. He'll tell you you have to settle for one or the other or a combination somewhere in between. But if you're like the Air Force, you tell him you want what you asked for and that's it."

While Lockheed has been having problems because changes couldn't be made in specifications, Litton Industries is having trouble because changes were made in a TPP contract it holds.

MONEY CLAIMS

Litton is building five giant Landing Helicopter Assault ships for the Navy at the company's modern, new Pascagoula, Miss., shipyard. Litton has threatened to take the Navy to court to settle financial claims the company made for reimbursement of costs incurred when the Navy made changes in the LHAs after the project was underway.

Citing the change orders, Litton is asking $1.056 billion for the five ships. The Navy has said it won't settle for more than $946 million.

"There was a whole slew of very significant changes made in the ship in terms of Navy requirements," Litton President Fred O'Green said in an interview at his Beverly Hills office.

"Under a total package contract the Navy shouldn't have been in the shipyard let alone changing the specification on the ships. We made a mistake when we didn't throw them

Accident Victim To Exit Hospital

Hazel Vestel Howard of Friona is expected to be released today from Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital where she was taken shortly after 1 p.m. Friday after being involved in a major two-car accident on Gregg Street.

According to the report of investigating police officer Ernest Lee, the accident occurred as the Howard car was traveling south on Gregg Street and a pickup driven by Jackie H. Cottingham of 1607 Jennings started to make a left turn onto Gregg from Fourth Street.

Mrs. Howard is reportedly back on her feet after experiencing pain from bruises on her back and a leg.
