Pact Talks Are Terminated

Reviewing the ... Big Spring Week ... with Joe Pickle

After a period of relative quiet, our luck ran out last week as one of our residents, Mrs. Buster (Lois) Bond, 60, of Coahoma was killed while enroute to Colorado to attend a wedding. Her companion, Mrs. Edna Bond Hopper, was hurt seriously in the collision west of Seminole.

Nearer home, Mrs. Jackie McDonald was hurt seriously when the family car collided with a trailer-tractor rig 22 miles south of Big Spring, setting off a fire that consumed both units. Dale Mitchell, 16, miraculously escaped serious injury when her car collided with a T&P train at the Coahoma crossing on Wednesday. James F. Jennings, 57, Odessa, was hurt critically when his car was in collision with one containing Mr. and Mrs. James Stringer, Midland, at the R-33 and SH 158 intersection in Garden City. And, luckily none was home when the gasoline tank of a car belonging to A. M. Hernandez exploded at his home on NW 5th, destroying it and another car along with the garage.

Twenty-nine years is a long time to be in dispute, but Martin and Andrews Counties last week agreed to settle litigation dating back to a road project that long ago. Martin County floated $10,000 in warrants to pick up the right-of-way tab on the Andrews-Big Spring highway, and Andrews County bought the warrants. Finally, Martin

'ONE YEAR TO LIVE' Students Write Own Obituaries

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Laurence Wyatt sentenced 60 students to death, took them to a funeral home, then had them write their own obituaries as an assignment in a literature class.

The purpose was to teach them about living, says Wyatt, 36, who teaches a course called "Death and Dying" at Florida Technological University.

He told students they had one year to live and gave them a weekend to analyze their lives and how they would spend their last days.

Priorities for the most part were disappointingly vague and general, Wyatt says. Students wanted to get a driver's license, or travel or become more tolerant.

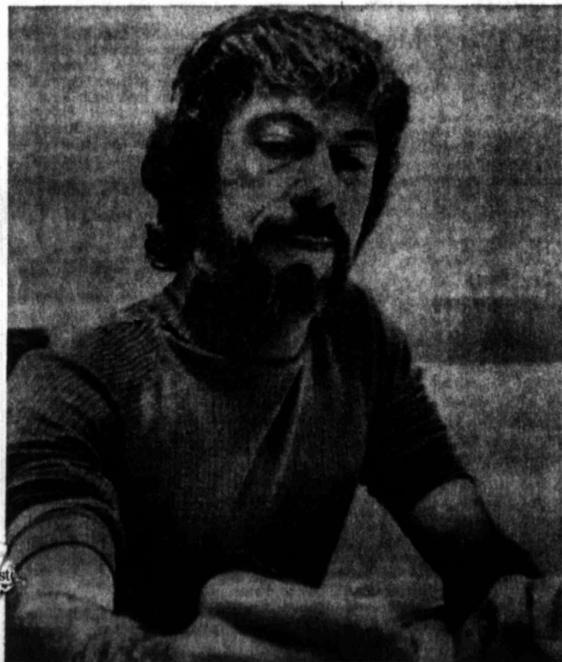

"But what it showed them," claims Wyatt, "is that they're wasting their lives. Things that suddenly became important were things they could be doing now."

He says it was a jolt when they wrote their obits and found they had nothing to show for their 20 years.

"Everything was in the future — something they planned to do or be," explained the instructor.

"Touring a funeral home they listened as professionals talked about death in a hypocritical, denying way," he said. "It was always the deceased, the dear departed, the beloved."

Wyatt said his aim was to make young people face death honestly and openly.

HAS HIS WAY Verbal Shots Are Directed At Briscoe

AUSTIN (AP) — After some members took verbal potshots at Gov. Dolph Briscoe, the State Board of Education directed its staff Saturday to go along with the governor's request for a top-to-bottom study of the schools.

Education Commission J.W. Edgar already had sent Briscoe a letter promising the Texas Education Agency's cooperation.

Briscoe's opposition was largely responsible for the legislature's failure to restructure the school finance system during the regular session that ended May 28.

The governor asked Edgar May 29 for a TEA study of both school finance and the entire educational system.

The board also reaffirmed its belief that a new state constitution should continue the board's existence as the policy-making body for elementary and secondary education in Texas. It went on record in opposition to any change that would eliminate guaranteed funding of the public schools.

Board vice-chairman Herbert O. Wilborn, Amarillo, said Briscoe's request was just "a repetition of what we have been through the last year and a half."

A board study produced a recommendation to the legislature this year for a total restructuring of the state aid system. Market value of taxable property would have determined how much state aid a district received.

"We presented the legislature one of the finest finance programs I know of, and I don't see the point of wasting any more time," said Carl Morgan of Jasper.

Con Gang Is Apprehended

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — Two Texans and two Omaha, Neb., women awaited Johnson County District Court appearances Saturday in connection with an alleged confidence game.

Lester Redding, Houston, Tex.; William Johnson, Dallas, Tex.; and Lois McMorris and Viola Helbert, both of Omaha, Neb., were charged with obtaining money under false pretenses.

Authorities said the four were arrested Thursday in connection with $12,000 a Kalona-area farmer drew from his bank account for use in a card game.

Police allege that the unidentified farmer was in a game called three-card monte and was persuaded to withdraw the money to keep the game going.

The teller who helped the farmer notified authorities about the large withdrawal. Authorities said Redding was convicted in 1971 of a similar incident involving a Red Oak man and paid a $1,000 fine.

Two Experts Argue Over 1897 UFOs

By The Associated Press

The question of what happened, if anything, at Aurora, Tex., April 19, 1897, turned Saturday into disputes between two Unidentified Flying Objects (UFO) experts.

The mass of evidence on the side of reports that something did strike Judge J. S. Proctor's windmill on that day and exploded. The reports also say some creature died in the explosion and was buried by the citizens of Aurora.

During the weekend, Hayden Hewes, director of the International UFO Bureau, Inc., of Oklahoma City, added fuel to the dispute. He said there was nothing to the reports and that newspapers were only fanning the fire to keep it alive.

DEEP PROBING

This was disputed by the Midwest Unidentified Flying

Network and Bill Case, aviation writer for the Dallas Times Herald who has investigated the story deeply.

Case said the tests of metals found at the site by Hewes were not the same samples found by Case and others which several scientists have said are at least puzzling.

Walter H. Andrus Jr. took issue with Hewes' statement. Andrus is executive director of MUFON (Midwest Unidentified Flying Object Network).

Andrus told Case, "His (Hewes') announcement implies investigation of the repudiated crash of a UFO... is closed simply through analysis of four pieces of metal."

"Nothing could be further from the truth."

MUFON investigators and reporters from the Dallas Times Herald are still vigorously working on the investigation."

One point of dispute is a fused nugget of aluminum alloy which metallurgists say could not be produced on earth until this century.

The nugget was found beneath other metal fragments at Aurora. One speculation is that it came from the reported flying object. Others say that its composition indicates that it was manufactured well after the crash date.

WAS IT HOAX?

Andrus said, "If we determine it is a hoax, we will announce it candidly. And we will have the evidence to show why we believe it. But at the moment, our findings indicate the possibility it is a hoax are more and more improbable. MUFON's investigation is at its most intensive points."

The original 1897 story came from S. E. Hayden, cotton buyer and part-time newspaper correspondent at Aurora, a village which has become a ghost community. It is between Fort Worth and Decatur.

Hayden said the craft went to pieces with a tremendous explosion when it hit the windmill, scattering parts over several acres.

Hayden said the pilot, described as a "small man," was dismembered.

"However, enough remains were picked up to determine it was not an inhabitant of this world," Hayden wrote. "The men of the community gathered it up and it was given a Christian burial in the Aurora Cemetery."

RECYLING ENCOURAGED BY MAYORS

Country Is Running Out Of Trash Disposal Sites

WASHINGTON (AP) — A survey shows almost half the nation's cities are running out of trash disposal sites, the National League of Cities and the U.S. Conference of Mayors said Saturday.

They recommended a series of changes to encourage recycling of scrap materials. Less than one per cent of municipal waste now is recycled, they said.

The two municipal groups said cities throughout the nation were eager to adopt increased recycling, but were held back by federal regulations and market conditions that make it a financial burden instead of benefit. The survey reported more than 46 per cent of U.S. cities would run out of disposal sites within one to five years.

To encourage the recycling, the two groups recommended:

—Reduction of depletion allowances which favor production of virgin materials and reduction of freight rates on scrap; or, as an alternative, establishment of investment and tax credits to subsidize recycling.

—Priority consideration of recycled materials in government procurement.

—Regulation of packaging and product design, to reduce waste disposal.

—Consideration of solid waste as a supplemental fuel, with "major commitments... to stimulate energy recovery from solid wastes."

—Removal of legal and political barriers to the shipment and disposal of trash across state, county and municipal lines.

—Low-interest federal loans for recycling facilities, and grants for "planning, training and demonstration programs."

—Federally-sponsored studies of trash collection methods, by teams including experienced municipal waste management authorities.

The report said solid waste is growing five times faster than population in the United States, and solid waste volumes generated by U.S. cities have almost doubled in the past 20 years.

Percy Shapes Up Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Charles Percy, one of the chief Republican critics of President Nixon's handling of the Watergate scandal, disclosed Saturday he has taken the first step towards a possible 1976 presidential race.

With his support and approval, a group of the 53-year-old senator's friends have formed an "Exploratory Committee" to do initial research and help Percy decide whether to run in 1976.

The Illinois Republican was not available for direct comment on the move. But the early action was understood to reflect his belief that a 1976 presidential bid will require a strenuous, all-out drive in both primary and nonprimary states.

A member of the GOP's moderate-to-liberal wing, which has failed to nominate a presidential candidate since the 1950s, Percy faces the almost certain opposition of President Nixon. The President reportedly told his Cabinet last month the senator will never be president "as long as I have anything to say about it."

Existence of the Exploratory Committee, formed last Feb. 9 in Chicago, was made known in a letter and financial report mailed Friday to the secretary of the Senate. Although such reports are only required from formal candidates for federal office, Percy has decided to make full disclosure of funds from the start of any presidential bid.

Thomas J. Houser, a Chicago attorney and chairman of the Exploratory Committee, emphasized in the letter that "no decision has been made as to whether Sen. Percy will be a candidate and no decision is expected until late 1975."

Is Nixon Ready To Get Tough With Business?

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's top economic advisers apparently came up with a new anti-inflation proposal Saturday, sources said. There were indications in might include a get-tough policy toward big business.

Sources close to the Cost of Living Council expect there will be more vigorous enforcement of existing controls, involving penalties instead of hand-slaps where violations occur. It was understood this would be coupled with selective new controls in some areas, probably including the petroleum industry.

These sources stop short of forecasting a new price freeze, although they point out this definitely has been one of the options under consideration by President Nixon.

After a meeting by the President's top economists, a source said no additional meetings were scheduled, indicating the program was complete. He said the program would probably be submitted to him later Saturday or Sunday.

In Key Biscayne, Fla., where Nixon is staying, a press spokesman said "there was no sense of crisis" in the advisers' meeting. "They are reviewing the problems in a measured way."

Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren declined to predict whether steps would be taken in the next few days.

He said one of the proposals the advisers were probably discussing was the advisability of a special tax on gasoline as a matter of economy and conserving fuel.

The President is known to have rejected one proposed tightening of the Phase 3 anti-inflation program that was recommended by his advisers, including Secretary of the Treasury George P. Shultz.

Shultz was reported to be disappointed that his recommendations had been rejected. Some sources interpreted that as meaning the President favored more drastic action than his key advisers could support.

Besides Shultz at the economic advisers' meeting was Federal Reserve Chairman Arthur Burns, Director Roy Ash of the Office of Management and Budget and Chairman Herbert Stein of the Council of Economic Advisers.

They were joined by presidential consultant and former Treasury Secretary John B. Connally, Director John T. Dunlop of the Cost of Living Council and William E. Simon, deputy secretary of the treasury and chairman of the Oil Policy Committee.

Time, Santa Fe Labeled 'Butchers, Destroyers'

SARATOGA, Tex. (AP) — Former Sen. Ralph Yarborough called Time, Inc., and the Santa Fe Railroad's subsidiary, Kirby Lumber Co., "butchers and destroyers" of the Big Thicket Saturday.

He recommended a boycott of Time, Sports Illustrated and all other Time, Inc., publications. Yarborough addressed a meeting of the Big Thicket Association.

He said if the thicket dies, it will be "at the ruthless hands of a few men whose greed for summing passing worse than that of the weak-charactered Watergate conspirators."

"Who is cutting and destroying the thicket? The day is past for nambypambyism; the time is here to call a spade a spade. Time, Inc., owner of the East Texas operations at Evadale, Tex., and the Santa Fe Railroad, through its wholly owned subsidiary, the Kirby Lumber Co., are the butchers and destroyers," Yarborough said.

"Since Time, Inc., is using its economic power against the hopes and the habitat and the natural wonder of Texas, the people of Texas should respond in kind and quit buying Time magazine and Sports Illustrated and all the Time publications until they quit destroying our thicket and quit opposing the creation of a Big Thicket National Park," he said.

Yarborough also urged a massive letter writing campaign, starting "first and foremost" with President Nixon, followed by Secretary of the Interior Rogers Morton, congressmen and U.S. senators.

"Write somebody in Washington every day until the Big Thicket Bill is padded," he said.

He praised the Texas House for adopting a resolution asking Congress to create a national park in the Big Thicket but did not mention that the resolution died in the Senate.

Bugging Issue Helpful To Basic Wage Clout

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the indirect ways Watergate is hurting the administration can be seen in the passage by the House of a bill that would increase the minimum wage. For three years Republican opposition has kept the legislation bottled up in the House, but a distracted White House was unable to apply effective lobbying pressure this year.

Dick Cook, resigned to take a job in private industry. The White House, with other things to worry about, only now is moving to fill the vacancy. Cook played a key role in last year's battle when the Republicans passed their substitute and then blocked all efforts to reach a compromise with the Senate, so that the legislation died.

Only 20 Republicans deserted the administration last year, but 37 defected this time, and in a sure sign of weakened White House influence, 11 of them were freshmen, who are generally susceptible to leadership pressures. Talks with several of the freshmen made clear that the vote wasn't a protest against Watergate. It was simply that there was no effective administration force to oppose the barrage of arguments laid down by hard-working labor lobbyists.

BLANCO ELEVATED Franco Is Still Man In Charge

MADRID (AP) — A taciturn admiral formally took over some of Gen. Francisco Franco's job Saturday, but political observers predicted little change in the generalissimo's authoritarian policies. Adm. Luis Carrero Blanco became premier in a swearing-in ceremony at El Pardo Palace, where Franco has resided in his 33 years of autocratic rule since his victory in the Spanish civil war.

Spanish government. Franco will hold those powers for life under the constitution. Carrero, described as an archconservative "more Franco than Franco," will preside at Cabinet meetings and direct general policy to coordinate organs of government and administration. However, all his actions will be subject to Franco's approval. Carrero is responsible only to Franco.

Airmen To Enter Special Roping Event In Rodeo

Can airmen untutored in the ways of cattle catch a wild calf, rope it with a pair of bloomers and then lead it back home? Well, the answer will come from three nights of the annual Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and rodeo, June 20-23.

Four squadrons at Webb AFB have volunteered to furnish a three-man team the second, third and fourth nights of the show to undertake this challenge in competition with each other.

This is not on the opening night agenda, which is crowded with the colorful opening ceremonies. But starting on Thursday, June 21, this is the way it will work:

Trios representing the Field Maintenance Squadron, Organizational Maintenance Squadron, Hospital Squadron and Airbase Group Squadron, will line up as four raw-boned calves are released in the arena.

TO HAVE HALTER
The only consolation to the airmen is that each calf will have a halter — but that may not help too much when they attempt to put the pair of bloomers on the balky Brahams' other end. Once (or if) this is accomplished, then the team has the task of hustling the calf across the finish line. The lowest aggregate time for three nights will win for the lucky squad.

By the end of this week, Tommy Steiner, Austin, producer of the rodeo, will begin shuttling in truck loads of Brahma bulls, broncs, and roping calves in preparation for the annual show.

He has lined up also a series of specialty acts, and these will be topped by one booked by the rodeo association — Michael Landon — or Little Joe — of Bonanza fame. He will be backed by a string band, the Western Union.

Wednesday afternoon, June 20, the traditional rodeo parade will be staged with multiplied scores of horses and riders again choppety-clopping through the downtown area. The association also has raised its prize for the best rodeo parade float to $100 and second place to $50, which is expected to sharpen competition.

STREET DANCE
The evening of Tuesday, June 19, there will be a street dance downtown, and then each evening after the show, there will be a rodeo dance in the Howard County Fair Barns with Hoyle Nix and his West Texas Cowboys furnishing the music. Rodeo Clowns will be Tommy Lucia, Weatherford; and the Western extravaganza; and the board of directors, all members which volunteer their time.

Tickets ($3 adults and $1.50 students) can be obtained at Creighton Tire, also Patterson Agency, Driver Agency, First National Bank, Big Spring Savings, First Federal Savings, Ward's Boot Shop, Smallwood's Western Wear, Webb AFB Credit Union, John H. Lee's Service center on base, and the chamber of Commerce.

More Time Sought For Inflow Study

Two city officials and a local engineer will ask the Water Quality Board Thursday for additional time to survey infiltration-inflow problem with the city sewer system.

Bill Brown, city utility director, explained that the city has been working under a July, 1973 deadline to have the major problems ironed out. Additional time is needed, though, he said, to survey the situation before action is taken.

Brown, who will go to Austin with City Manager Harry Nagel and engineer Roy Crim, defined infiltration as the intrusion of ground waters into the sewer system. "It adds considerably to the hydraulic loading of sewer treatment," he said.

Inflow is any water origination outside of sewer system connections. Brown and Crim are now preparing a detailed report on what has been done on the matter and what they are going to do. Brown said the WQB will most likely grant the city an extension rather than order it to comply immediately.

"We were told by WQB in June, 1971 to take care of the infiltration-inflow problem. We did some survey work, but were limited because we didn't have accurate knowledge of how much inflow we had," Brown noted.

A waste discharge permit was granted in May, 1972 on the condition that the city stop ground water from entering the collector and trunk sewers and remedy other closely related problems.

Operating Table Mishap Costly

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — A jury has awarded $1.5 million in damages to a housewife whose mental capacity allegedly was reduced to that of a 6-year-old through a mishap on the operating table.

Billy Joyce Malone, 35, the mother of six children, won the award after a four-week Superior Court trial that ended Wednesday.

Doctors testified that Mrs. Malone became mentally retarded during a routine operation at a Berkeley hospital in December 1971 when the anesthesiologist accidentally cut off the oxygen supply to her brain.

Mrs. Malone's attorney argued that the injury had reduced her mental abilities so badly she was no longer able to take care of her children or keep house.

Fun Program Opens Monday

The Citywide Summer Recreation program buttoned up its learn-to-swim sessions Friday, and Monday it will begin its two-months of daily supervised recreation.

Every elementary age child in Big Spring and area is invited to take part in this free program.

There is no charge because it is supported by the City of Big Spring, the United Way, the Big Spring schools and the YMCA, which recruits and supervises the staff.

Parents are urged to bring their children to Comanche Trail Park Monday by 9 a.m. So far, 75 have preregistered for the park program, but many others are expected to sign Monday and during the week.

Activities will be conducted from 9 a.m. to 12 noon daily Monday through Friday during June and July. The Comanche park program will be paralleled by one at Lakeview, where last week there was a cumulative attendance of 634.

Cliff Cook heads the staff of supervisors at the park, and he is assisted by Mrs. Helen Dansford, Curtis Mullins III, Teresa Griffin and Paul Nabors. Sam Dawson is in charge of the Lakeview program and is recruiting his staff.

Another part of the summer program is for teen-agers. The principal activity is basketball from 7 to 9:30 p.m. in the Runnels Junior High Gym, and teen-agers are urged to meet Ben Neel there on these evenings.

At the park, activities include story-telling hours, planned recreation, action games, still games, nature hikes, arts and crafts, and every day a trip to the park swimming pool. The learn-to-swim effort had an attendance of 304.

Receives Big Spring Aid

A small but growing church in Delta Junction, Alaska, will receive a bus and church pew because of some Big Spring and Sand Springs teamwork.

The Rev. Clayton Hicks, title was sent to Alaska so the chaplain of the Veterans Administration hospital, said an old friend of his, the Rev. David Ray, wrote him and expressed a need by his church for a bus and some pews for their new auditorium.

The Rev. Hicks said the same week he had received the letter

Tyler Rates No Holiday In America

Among the dates that this country has not set aside as a national holiday is March 29, which is the anniversary of the birth of John Tyler, 10th president of the United States.

As a matter of fact, his fellow citizens didn't get around to doing honor to his memory until half a century after he died. He died on Jan. 18, 1862, and on March 4, 1911, Congress appropriated $10,000 for a monument. It took until 1915 to get this modest memorial set up in the Hollywood Cemetery in Richmond, Va., where Tyler's remains had been moldering for 10, those many years.

Yet Tyler, who was born in 1790, served virtually a full term in the White House, and while no historian rates him with the great ones, he wasn't the worst president ever, by any measure.

NOT EPICS

He scored a number of interesting "firsts," although, admittedly, these were not epics of statesmanship. Nevertheless, John Tyler was the first president to ascend to office upon the death of a chief executive.

He was the first president whose father had been governor of a state.

He was the first president whose wife died while he was in office.

He was the first president to marry while in office; he remarried two years after the death of his first wife.

Tyler certainly believed that woman's place was in the home and he did his best to keep his two wives there.

He sired eight children by his first wife, nee Letitia Christian, and seven by his second wife, nee Julia Gardiner. His first child was born April 15, 1815, and his last one on June 20, 1860, only a year and a half before Tyler himself passed on. If there had been television in those days, he would have been a natural for "Can You Top This?"

Tyler was the other half of the famous slogan, "Tippecanoe and Tyler Too," and there were those unkind enough to say that he rode into office on the coattails of William Henry Harrison. If so, he wouldn't be the five vice president to do so, and you can bring that down to modern times, too.

All Public Agencies Are Busy Studying Budgets

This is the season when most of your local public agency costs are decided. It's budget making season. Administrative officers for schools, the county and city going — to department heads have gone — or are presently with requests for their budget estimates for the next year. When these come back — and inevitably are pared — and are shaped into the over-all total of estimated expenditures and revenues, the finished document goes to the governing boards for tentative agreement.

Public hearings then are advertised and held, but those who wait until this time to ask that things be included or excluded are, from practical experience, a bit tardy.

Budgets have been changed as a result of public hearings, but rarely. Thus, the time to get in effective licks on budgeting is now while the fiscal documents are still in the formative stage.

NO BIG AREA

Even so, for most public bodies, there isn't a big area of finance which allows for critical change. For instance, the history of costs (plus an inflation and growth factor) will pretty well peg what expenses for supplies and services will run. The payroll is — or will be — decided upon. To these are added estimates on capital expenditures for equipment or building. And there you have it, one side of your budget. The other side, of course, is the income from taxes and outside sources, also internally generated revenues.

City department heads are now submitting their monetary requests for the next fiscal year beginning Oct. 1 to Finance Director Robert Massengale.

With half of the department heads having reported, Massengale said he soon will draw up a list of expected expenditures and revenues which will be turned in to City Manager Harry Nagel probably in two weeks.

After Nagel reviews and revises the budget, it will go before the City Commission probably in mid-July for tentative approval. A public hearing will be held on the budget for fiscal 1973-74 probably in early August, and then the budget will be adopted on three readings.

The budget includes three major funds — the general fund, water and sewer fund and revenue sharing.

SUM ESTIMATED

Based on a Congressionally-established formula of population, tax effort and income, the City of Big Spring will probably be awarded $390,000 in revenue sharing for the next fiscal year, according to Massengale. These revenue sharing funds will be used to finance the city street paving program, a narcotics program and purchase of fire-proof clothing for certain employees.

The Big Spring Independent School District budget is getting extra, detailed attention because of anticipated cut-back in federal impact funds. Administration officials sliced $100,000 off in requests before going to the board. At last reports, the board has whacked off another $70,000, and now is considering whether to dip into reserves or consider a tax increase. Impact funds are estimated to amount to $175,000 less next year. This year was down $70,000.

Another problem confronting administrators and trustees is what effect extending the kindergarten to cover all five-year olds will have on costs.

Notices have gone out to department heads of Howard County for their budgetary requests. No major decisions are anticipated until after the commissioners sit as a board of equalization and the anticipated tax yield is fairly clear. Best bet is that there will be few major changes.

Grady Independent School District budget will have to be enlarged substantially due to the addition of a high school with the first three grades of that high school to be held this year. The senior year to be added the 1974-75 school year. The board is holding study sessions to determine such off these items of lowest priority. Payrolls previously were firm when the board adopted its standard schedule. Probably, by time for the next board meeting, a budget proposal will be ready for the trustees to consider.

The Forsan Independent School District budget will increase $20,000 from $565,000 to $585,000. H. D. Smith, superintendent, said. The increase will be primarily due to teacher's pay raises.

He said the preliminary budget has been firm, the official hearing will be Aug. 13. Coahoma superintendent, W. A. Wilson, said his staff has just begun to figure the new budget but the same tax rate will be used.

He said an official hearing will be held in late summer. The budget last year was $909,260.

Sands superintendent, M. B. Maxwell, said tentative approval of the Sands School budget will be June 21 with final approval planned for the latter part of July or early August.

He is expecting a slight hike because of salary increases. The budget last year was $310,310.

Howard County Junior College is well into its budgeting process for the 1973-74 school year. Virtually all department requests have reached Business Manager Ralph Smith, who soon will run his totals.

RESOURCES ESTIMATED

Against these he will put approximately $652,000 in state funds (488,463 support for academics and $183,518 for vocational-technical), plus the countywide district tax of 60 cents per $100 assessed value. What tuition and fees are estimated to generate. Add to this some small federal funds and this represents the resources.

If these do not equal the budget requests, then Smith and Dr. Thomas Salter, president,

Occupancy Tax Still On Stage

An ordinance establishing a hotel-motel occupancy tax will come up for consideration by the City Commission at its regular meeting at 5:15 p.m. Tuesday.

The room tax on motel occupancy has been a source of friction between local motel owners and members of the Chamber of Commerce. The chamber, particularly its tourist development panel, is pushing for adoption of the tax while some of the motel owners oppose it. Commissioners will also consider a request by the citizens of E. 16th and Sheppard Lane that a street light be installed within that two block area. A petition signed by 11 residents was turned in to City Hall, and Dwey Byers of the building inspection office, recommended that the light be installed.

Another citizen request, this one for extension of sewer service to a west side area, is expected to be brought before the city parents.

Also on the agenda is the awarding of contracts for the street paving program, a rotary mower, tractor and a police motorcycle.

Specific use permits of Gladys Brant, Joan Miller and Melba Lee McCarty will also be considered.

'YOU STAND AT ATTENTION' When In Movie With Crawford

Copy News Service

HOLLYWOOD — "Working with Joan Crawford isn't tough," Scott Brady said, "but as an alternative you could join the Marine Corps."

That's how he tells things, straight from the shoulder but with humor, the big Irishman who came to Hollywood from World War II to become a movie and television star working with some of the screen's most famous ladies.

"Joan's all right," he continued, "so long as you report for work on time, know your lines and always stand at attention."

"I guess my favorite leading lady was Barbara Stanwyck. She's my cup of tea. And, as an actress, I liked Ann Bancroft. I worked with her in a western before she made it big."

Brady, whose most recent picture is MGM's "Wicked, Wicked," was born a Tierney, son of Lawrence Tierney Sr., chief of New York's Board of Water Supply Aqueduct police forces. When he became an actor, he changed his name to Brady, to avoid confusion with brother Lawrence, who was already established in the calling.

'IT ESCAPED'

"My first picture wasn't released. It escaped," Brady laughed admitting that the joke wasn't original. "It was a little thing for Eagle-Lion called 'In This Corner' shot in nine days. "I was given star billing even though I hadn't been tested for the part."

"When I read my first line of my first scene, I blew it, and the director said, 'OK, kiddo, that's your screen test.' "When I got out of the Navy, I just drifted into this business because of my brother. I went to drama school, but I learned a lot — more I guess — hanging around the sets."

"I had access because of Lawrence."

"No, I've never seriously considered doing anything except acting. I'm hooked. Though, when I was younger, I did have a secret desire to be a football coach."

Brady appeared on Broadway in "Destry Rides Again" and has starred on the road in a number of vehicles.

"The stage is fun," he said, "but picture work is easier and a lot more lucrative. Broadway is a gas. But even if you get the work, who can afford it?"

SCOTT BRADY

"I remember I'd just opened in 'Destry Rides Again' when I ran into Errol Flynn, The Baron, in New York."

"I said, 'Baron, I'm in a new show which I hope you'll catch.' chg."

"He said, 'That will teach you to save your money, boy.'"

NO BIG SPENDER

"The Baron was right. Of course I was working for David Merrick who was not one of the last of the red-hot spenders."

Brady, an eligible bachelor for years, was married six years ago to Mary Elizabeth Tirony and is father of two sons, Timothy, five, and Terrence, two and a half.

"I went with my wife nine years before we married," he said. "We met at a big Notre Dame football party (Brady is an ardent fan of the Irish), and I put that girl through it."

"What finally brought me around? I think she studied hypnotism. No, it may have been her cooking. She kept feeding me stuffed cabbage rolls, the best in the world. Cabbage rolls and Polish sausage. After eating the sausage, I was too weak to fight."

FANS WRITE

While Brady refers to himself as "an ex-star," he says he still hears from devoted fans. Or did until quite recently.

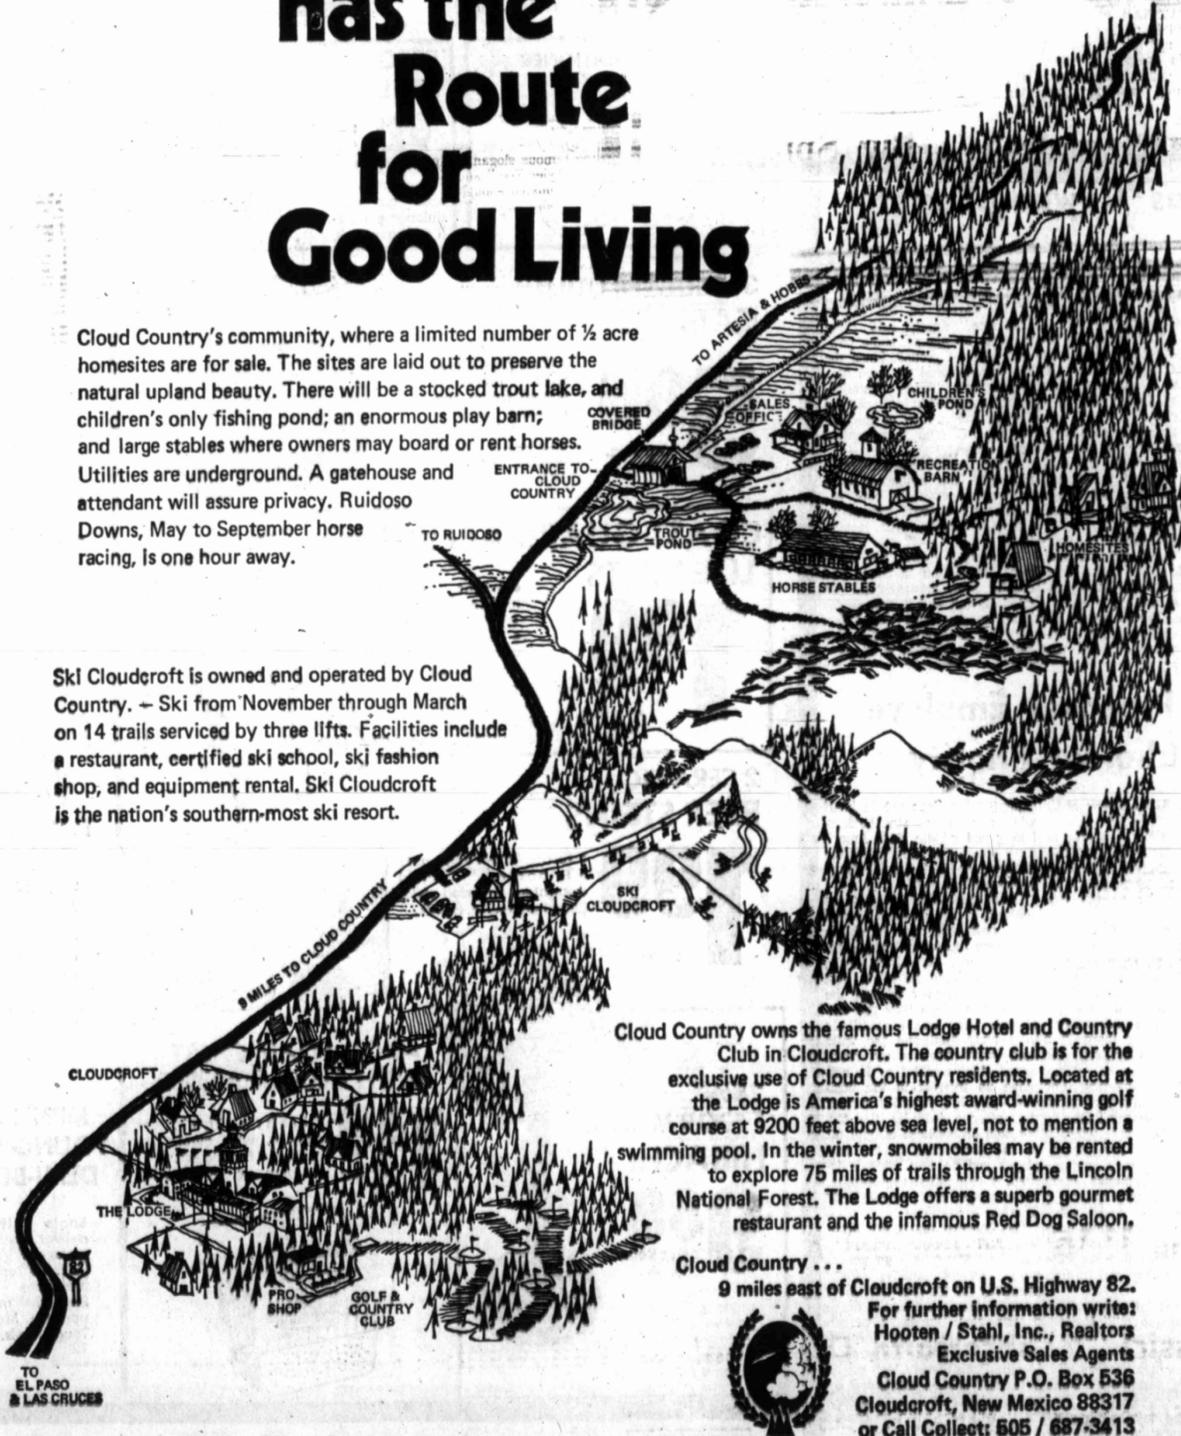

"The leader of the idiot pack called me," he related, and said, "I'm getting married and have a whole pile of this junk I have to get rid of, and I thought you might want it."

TEXAS CROP REPORT

South Plains Cotton Stands Generally Good

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Heavy rain and some hail on parts of Central and North Central Texas early in the week, damaged some crops, but the moisture was beneficial for pastures and ranges. Parts of West and South Texas still remain dry.

Some crops will have to be replanted due to weather damage, said Dr. John E. Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Many crops are already late in the year as bad weather delayed spring planting.

Cotton planting is almost complete in the South Plains but is lagging behind in the Rolling Plains. Moisture is needed for crops in the Southwest Texas (Uvalde) and in South Texas.

MAKING HAY

Small grain and hay harvesting is active; yields are generally good. Recent rains will delay hay making in some parts but the moisture should boost additional cuttings, Hutchison noted.

Early varieties of peaches are ripe and Watermelon harvesting is in full swing in South Texas. Cantaloupe harvesting should start next week.

Pastures and ranges are generally providing good grazing except in some western counties and in parts of South Texas where grass lacks moisture. Screwworm cases are becoming more numerous in southern and southwestern counties.

District Extension agents reported the following conditions:

South Plains: Cotton stands are generally good. Some cotton is being replanted due to sand and hail damage. Most of the irrigated grain sorghum and about half of the dryland acreage is planted, plus about half of the soybean acreage. Range and pasture conditions are good to excellent.

WHEAT HARVEST

Rolling Plains: The wheat harvest is up to 40 percent complete in some counties. Yields are good. Cotton and grain sorghum planting is active. Heavy rains and hail are causing some replanting. Some producers are spraying pecan trees for the casebearer. Range and livestock conditions are good.

North Central: About half the oat crop has been harvested, most for hay. Wheat harvesting will be in full swing soon. Some cotton is being replanted due to weather damage. Corn and grain sorghum are making good growth. About 20 percent of the peanut acreage has been planted.

Far West: Small grains and alfalfa are being harvested. Yields are good. Cotton and grain sorghum are making fair to good growth and could use rain. Ranges also need a general rain. Livestock are in good condition with sheep shearing about complete.

Central: Some cotton and grain sorghum will have to be replanted due to flooding. Some early grain sorghum is entering the boot stage. About 20 percent of the wheat crop and half of the oat crop has been harvested. Peanut planting is active in Erath, Comanche and Eastland Counties where fields are dry. Early peaches are ripening but a light crop is expected.

MELON HARVEST

Southwest: Corn and grain are up to good stands and peanuts are making good growth, but a general rain is needed. Small grain harvesting is about 75 percent complete. Yields are good. Hay harvesting is also in full swing. Some vegetables and peaches are being harvested and the cantaloupe harvest is expected to start next week. The pecan crop looks good.

South: The watermelon harvest is in full swing and some roasting ears are being shipped. Harvesting of cucumbers and squash continues active. Cotton is making good progress but grain sorghum needs rain.

The first cutting of hay has been completed and rain is needed for additional cuttings. Pastures are turning brown from lack of moisture.

Land Commissioner Raps Texas 'Cowboy Society'

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. The lack of need for land management in rural areas of Texas is a long-standing fallacy, Texas Land Commissioner Robert Armstrong said Friday.

Armstrong told more than 100 urban planners and land use management specialists at Texas A&M University that Texas can no longer live in a "cowboy society."

"We can no longer stop here, build a camp fire, sit a spell and then move on to the next campsite," he told the spring conference of the Gulf South-west Chapter of the American Institute of Planners.

"We must initiate a comprehensive land and resource inventory to help make decisions today that will have great effect on the future," he said.

State Rep. Fred Agnich, R-Dallas, joined Armstrong in expressing confidence that the once-defeated Texas Land Management bill, sponsored by Agnich, would be passed into law in the next legislative session.

"We started on the bill a little late," Agnich said, "and we were up against some powerful interest groups. Since the bill was defeated we have convinced the Texas Manufacturers Association and several agricultural groups of the importance of land management and planning."

Bill Proposes Employee Stockholder Priority

By OMAR BURLESON, M.C. 17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON — An interesting legislative proposal has been offered by three United States Senators, a bill considered to be on the conservative side.

The purpose is to expand the capital ownership in the United States economy, beginning with employees of corporations which account for over 80 percent of the goods and services produced in the private sector.

The authors say there is a vital need for revitalizing the free enterprise system. They point out these statistics: For instance, they claim that more people drawing money from the government for not working today than during the Depression; that absenteeism in many of the large companies costs more than $50 million annually; that workers have been known to often sabotage assembly lines on which they work; and that too many workers have no pride in the product they are turning out.

The proposed bill would allow for the expansion and development of corporate financing called "Employee Stock Ownership Plan," which incidentally is already in practice by some corporations.

It is pointed out that in most cases a corporation will borrow money to buy new productive machinery. When the loan is paid off it means usually that the book value of the outstanding stock has increased. This indirectly benefits old stockholders or the established capitalist but does not in itself add any new stockholders. Lower and middle-class Americans simply do not have the excess income to make large investments in stock.

Under this bill, the authors contend, corporations would have new incentives to obtain their new financing through employee trust. In other words, employees would be given first chance at helping finance the business in which they are employed. They would contribute to a trust fund and the trust fund would purchase new stock issues which would give the employee an interest in the business. The bill provides further that after a loan by the corporation or business is paid off to the trust fund of the employees and no new stock is issued, a committee representing the employees could invest funds in other businesses.

Armstrong called for additional legislation for water and coastal area management. He cited Hawaii and Wisconsin for total management legislation and said similar comprehensive legislation is needed in Texas.

The concern about the problems of worker alienation, which evidently is common in our society today, turns primarily on the fact that most work in America does not make a man rich. To be a person of means is to own income-producing capital. A person's income from merely high wages or a high salary, dissipated by the high cost of living and high taxes, will stop when he ceases to perform productive toil.

Nothing is going to happen soon on this legislation but it will be interesting to watch. To have support sufficient for enactment, it would have to catch on across the country and that will take time.

The C's Definitely Have It In Glasscock County

By MARJ CARPENTER

In Garden City, they have a saying. It is that the three C's are the backbone of the county. They are referring to the Curries, the Calverleys and the Coxes. Now the Calverleys have them outnumbered in the phone book which lists Denis Calverley, Harry Calverley, Mrs. J. B. Calverley, Mrs. Rose Calverley, Steve Calverley and Theora Calverley.

An awful lot of the Curries have moved into Big Spring and serve as civic leaders and businessmen here. Still in the Garden City Book are the Currie Cattle Co., S. C. Currie, and W. J. Currie.

Choc Cox is the only Cox left around, although there are two of the sisters, still in Garden City, Mrs. E. M. Teele and Mrs. J. C. Cunningham.

COX'S ARMY
The Coxes scattered all over West Texas, and the majority of them are ranchers. Some people refer to them as Coxes army. Jim Cox and Sam Cox, brothers who moved to Garden City in 1906 and 1907, left a combined 20 sons and daughters. They may be found in such places as Rotan, Tulla, Tarzan, Andrews, Dumas, Marfa, Fort Stockton and many spots in between.

Another Cox lives in Big Spring — one of the sisters, Mrs. John R. Chaney. She and her husband reside at 1910 S. Runnels.

ANOTHER 'C'
Chaney is another 'C' that might should be included in the history of Garden City. It was Chaney's father, W. E. Chaney, who laid out the plot for Garden City. He moved to the area in 1889 from Stockdale and obtained a half section where Garden City now stands. He decided to lay out a town and was going to call it New California.

A small settlement 1 1/2 miles east was called Garden City and the residents told Chaney that if he would call the new settlement Garden City, they would all move over there and they did.

LEFT GRAVES
They left behind a cemetery that has only a few graves. John Chaney, now 87, recalls that two of the men buried there got into a fight over a woman while sheering sheep and killed each other with sheep sheers.

The courthouse square was included in the plat laid out by Chaney and on the corner of it, they constructed a rock building, used as courthouse and jail. It is still used today as a jail.

The rocks for that first courthouse came off Chaney's land. The son recalls that "They would prize them up and then chisel them into shape. The rocks for the present courthouse built around 1909-10 with rocks from Sterling City. They were softer and were sawed into blocks."

RECALL STORE
Both John Chaney and another Big Spring resident who was an early-day Garden City resident recall a G. R. Everett who ran the Post Office and first mercantile store.

Mrs. Sallie Sanders, who lives in Big Spring and was the daughter of G. L. Bogard, one of the early judges in Glasscock County moved to Garden City in a covered wagon with her parents in 1899. They camped just south of the jail.

She recalls that the first courthouse and jail also served as a church. She said that she attended her first church services there in the jail, when four years. Her father, later the county judge, also built the first Baptist Church in Garden City. Mrs. Teele, who with her husband ran a mercantile store from 1928 into the 30s and who have lived in their same home in Garden City since 1928, recall that when they were both children in the Garden City area that the Cumberland Presbyterian Church and the Methodist Church were built of a Baptist church. The latter two were built in 1907 and 1908. All of the oldtimers left recall that at one time Garden City had a block full of stores and a hotel. They agree that the settlers who came in droves in the early 1900s had to leave after a three-year drought from 1916-19. "It was just too much for many landowners," they recall.

MANY REMAINED
But many of those first pioneers in Glasscock County remained and own many of the big ranches in that area today.

JAPANESE FALTERS

Three In Tie For Top Spot

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Local favorite Jane Blalock and veteran Kathy Whitworth charged from far back and moved into a tie with Japan's Chako Higuchi for the third round lead Saturday in the 19th Ladies PGA golf championship.

Miss Blalock, a former New England champion from Portsmouth, N.H., fired a sizzling four-under-par 69, the best round of the tournament, for a 54-hole score of 217 in the 72-hole test.

Runner-up to Kathy Aherm for the 1972 LPGA championship here, Miss Blalock calmly sank a 10-foot birdie putt on the last green to climax a round during which she made up six strokes for a share of the lead at the Pleasant Valley Country Club.

Miss Whitworth, starting four strokes back, pulled into a two-stroke lead, but then ran into trouble on the back nine and settled for a 71.

Miss Higuchi, a five-time Japanese champion still seeking her first victory in this country, put together a pair of 71s for the halfway lead of 142 but slipped to a 75 under third round pressure applied from the outset by Miss Whitworth.

Mary Mills, a former U.S. Open and LPGA champion who is back in form after undergoing wrist surgery last fall, had a 72 to move within one stroke of the leaders. Miss Mills was tied with Miss Whitworth at 146 after 36 holes.

Betty Burfeind had a third round 70 and Sandra Palmer a 71 to enter Sunday's final round two strokes back at 218.

Just three strokes back were former U.S. Open champions Donna Caponi Young and Susie Berning and Debbie Austin. Mrs. Young had a 73 and Miss Austin a 72 for scores of 220 at the three-quarter mark. Mrs. Berning had a 71.

Stan Smith Upset By Dutch Star

ROME (AP) — Dutch star Tom Okker upset top-ranked Stan Smith of Pasadena, Calif., 7-5, 6-3 Saturday and moved into the semifinals of the men's singles in the $135,000 Italian Tennis Open.

The defeat killed American chances of winning the tournament for the first time since 1970.

It was the second time in a week that Okker had beaten Smith, the top money winner in 1973 with over $150,000. He eliminated the American from the French Open in a five-set quarter-final match last week.

Chris Evert of Australardale, Fla., and Evonne Goolagong of Fort Lauderdale qualified for the final of the women's singles. Top-seeded Miss Evert had a tough time beating Helga Masthoff of West Germany 7-6, 6-4. Miss Goolagong, seeded second, trounced Vlasta Vipotnova of Czechoslovakia 6-2, 6-1.

Bobby Riggs Easy Winner Over Bunis

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Bobby Riggs lost a love game to open the first set Saturday then swept past Al Bunis of Cincinnati 6-1, 6-1 in an exhibition tennis match.

Riggs, 55, who last month defeated Margaret Court in the Battle of the Sexes, baffled Bunis with an assortment of junk shots.

Bunis, 49, is captain of the defending world champion U.S. Duhler Cup team. He was the nation's seventh-ranked seniors player in 1971.

U.S. Cagers Depart Country Wednesday

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The United States College All Star basketball team leaves for China Wednesday after "a good week" of practice at Memphis State University under coach Gene Bartow.

"We've had a good week," said Bartow. "The players are in much better shape now, and we have put in some offense and adjusted them to the international rules. We have accomplished a lot in the short time."

The squad will play eight exhibition games with the Chinese.

Buddy Travis, former HCJC coach, is a member of the United States entourage.

Astros Yield To Pirates

HOUSTON (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates took advantage of Don Wilson's fifth inning wildness to score four runs and defeat Houston 4-1 Saturday night.

After Wilson walked the bases loaded, Al Oliver drilled a single and Willie Stargel doubled home two more runs before Dave Roberts relieved Wilson.

Wilson, making his first start since May 28 after fracturing the little finger on his pitching hand, suffered his sixth defeat against four victories.

Longhorns Nudge Opponent, 6-3

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Ron Roznowski's sixth hit and freshman star Keith Moreland thrashed a three-run homer Saturday night as Texas survived its first-round test of a 6-3 victory over stubborn Georgia Southern.

The victory pushed the Longhorns into Sunday's evening game against the winner of Saturday night's late first-round windup between defending champion Southern California, 46-11, and Harvard, 35-3.

Phillies Triumph

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ken Brett helped his own cause with a home run Saturday night and hurried the Philadelphia Phillies to a 4-1 victory over the San Diego Padres.

SMITH WINS 4 FIRTS

MCCAMEY — Doug Smith, lone Big Spring entry in the annual McCamey Track and Field Meet, emerged as the high point man in the senior division by winning four firsts and a fourth place.

Doug, a senior-to-be in high school, copped the 100 in 10.1, the 200 in 23.0, the 400 in 55.0 and the long jump in 19.1.

In addition his 99.3 toss in the discus earned him a fourth place.

Secretariat Wraps Up Coveted Triple Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretariat poked his head in front entering the backstretch and went to a record-smashing victory in the Belmont Stakes Saturday to become thoroughbred racing's first Triple Crown winner in 25 years.

In becoming the ninth Triple Crown winner and first since Citation in 1948, Secretariat completely overwhelmed four other 3-year-olds as he ran the 1 1/4 miles of the Belmont in 2:24 flat, ripping 2 3/5 seconds off the record set by Gallant Fox in 1930.

Secretariat began opening up a lead over second-place Sham midway through the backstretch and drew away with ease to a 31-length victory over outsider Twice A Prince as Sham, runnerup to Secretariat in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, faded to fifth and last.

With Ron Turcotte sitting in the saddle as though he were out for a ride on a bridge path, Secretariat romped through the Belmont Park stretch as the crowd of 69,138 went wild.

Twice A Prince staggered home a half-length in front of My Gallant, who got the show by 1 1/2 lengths over Pvt. Smiles. E a c h starter carried 126 pounds.

It was an incredible climax to a Triple Crown championship that was filled with extraordinary performances. In joining the eight previous Triple Crown winners as one of the sport's immortals, Secretariat, the Meadow Stable son of Gold Ruler, ran the fastest Kentucky Derby in history, the second fastest Preakness ever and then this almost unbelievable Belmont. Sent off as a 1-10 favorite, Secretariat returned $2.20 to win and 20 cents more—$2.40—to place. Twice A Prince, owned by Max Gluck, paid $4.60. There was no show betting.

Since it was the eighth race, the Belmont was an exacta and the winning combination of Secretariat and Twice A Prince, Nos. 2-5 returned $35.20.

Secretariat broke fourth but got his head in front of Sham, owned by Sigmund Sommer and ridden by Laffit Pincay Jr., after the first quarter-mile. He still held a head lead over his arch-rival after a half-mile.

Then the rout began as horse racing's newest hero drew away with ground-gobbling strides that drew oohs and aahs from the crowd that turned out under sunny skies in 90-degree heat.

Secretariat, surpassing his 2-year-old season in which he was named Horse of the Year, looked to be worth much more than his record $6.08 million syndication value as he clocked fractions of 23 3/5 for the quarter, 46 1/5 for the half, 1:09 4/5 for three-quarters, 1:34 1/5 for the mile, 1:59 for 1 1/4 miles and 2:24 for the race.

His 1 1/4-mile time was 2-5 of a second off his record-smashing Derby clocking.

Secretariat is scheduled to end his racing career no later than Nov. 15 and go to stud under the syndication and, when he does, he will leave as one of the sport's superstars.

In bringing trainer Lucien Laurin, Turcotte and Mrs. John Tweedy, operator of Meadow Stable, a fantastic fifth victory in six Triple Crown races over two years, Secretariat put his name on the list of Triple Crown champions with Sir Barton, 1919; Gallant Fox, 1930; Omaha, 1935; War Admiral, 1937; Whirlaway, 1941; Count Fleet, 1943; Assault, 1946, and Citation.

In the Winner's Circle, Mrs. Tweedy accepted from the New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller the Belmont Stakes Trophy and also the Triple Crown Trophy which had been brought to the track on six previous occasions since 1948, only to see a Triple Crown candidate fail in the grueling race known as "the test of the champion."

For the Yankees, Arthur Olague had two doubles while Phil Woods and Rudy Hernandez each collected a safety.

The Yank pitchers stayed in trouble because they surrendered seven bases on balls between them. Battle issued only two Annie Oakleys.

Say Hey Kid Parks One

NEW YORK (AP) — Willie Mays celebrated Oldtimers Day with his first home run of the year and 655th of his career Saturday, helping the New York Mets to a 4-2 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Mays, 42, broke a 2-2 tie with a long homer in the third inning.

Weiskopf Charges Ahead At Philly

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Tom Weiskopf, playing with the solid authority that suddenly has made him the hottest competitor in golf, swept past the faltering, youthful pace-setters and into a commanding three-stroke lead Saturday in the third round of the $150,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic.

Lee Trevino, meanwhile, bo-yeyed the first four holes he played, took a horrendous 77, 'n the muggy, 90-degree heat, and withdrew. Trevino had a 218 total, two over par for three trips over the 6,706-yard Whitmarsh Valley Country Club course.

"Mentally, I wasn't here," Trevino said. "I wasn't playing good and there didn't seem to be any point in keeping on with it."

Weiskopf, who won twice and finished second in his three previous starts, charged from six strokes off the pace with a blazing, seven-under-par 65 and a 203 total.

Jim Barber, an obscure 2-year old tour sophomore who had led the lead through the first two rounds, fell victim to the growing pressure, blew to a four-over-par 76 and drifted back into the pack.

Hale Irwin, a former University of Colorado football star, moved into second place with a 70 for 206. Forrest Fezler, another second-year man on the tour, was another stroke back with a 72-207.

Jack Nicklaus—the only man to beat Weiskopf in the last month—was out of it. Nicklaus had to scramble for a 79 for 213, a distant 10 strokes back with one round to go in the chase for the $30,000 first prize.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Third round scores Saturday in the $150,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic on the 6,706 yard, par-72 Whitmarsh Valley country Club course: Tom Weiskopf 67-71-65-203; Hale Irwin 68-72-70-210; Forrest Fezler 68-67-72-207; Larry Ziegler 67-68-75-210; Jim Barber 74-65-69-208; David Bonner 69-67-73-209; John Schlee 69-67-73-209; Bob Hickey 70-66-72-212; J. Cervantez, first base; Jessie Olague, second base; Mike Gamboa, third base; Johnny Munoz, center field; Gilbert Pesina, left field; Billy Diaz, right field; and Mike Gonzalez, shortstop.

Dick Siderowf Grabs British Golf Crown

PORTRCAWL, Wales (AP) — Dick Siderowf of Easton, Conn., battled through the winds that suddenly invaded the British Amateur Golf Championship Saturday and won the title, 57-year history of the championship. Siderowf, one of 50 U.S. starters in the six-day match play tournament over Royal Porthcawl's rolling links, was the 16th American champion in the 57-year history of the championship. Until the final round, the 6,650-yard course was bathed in sunshine with only a gentle breeze. But on the last day, it unveiled a new face—windy, bleak and misty. Siderowf was four-up at the halfway stage after shooting a three-over-par 75. Moody, a 25-year-old schoolteacher, was way off form and returned no score after picking up his ball at the first hole, where Siderowf made a birdie three. The American pulled further ahead in the afternoon at the 21st, with his fantastic recovery from the ricochet off the rock. He made a par four there, and Moody was so unnerved that he fluffed his approach and finished with a bogey.

Corsairs Upend Stars, 13 To 0

Marquez blanked the Stars on four hits to lead the Pirates to a 13-0 American Little League victory here Friday evening. The Bucs crashed out 13 safeties. Marquez leading the way with three. Brad Martin, the losing pitcher, had three of his team's safeties.

The Corsairs banked seven runs in the first inning and had counted all their tallies by the end of the third round.

Angels, Vanquish Sparks, 12-8

The Angels boxed in the Sparks, 12-8, in National Peewee League play here Saturday.

Pete Carrillo, helped along by Tony Vasquez in the late innings, notched the mound win. Carrillo also smashed a home run and a single.

The Angels are 2-4 on the year while the Sparks have a 1-5 record.

Bulldogs Put Five Players On All-Stars

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — David Clyde of Houston Westchester, No. 1 pick in the baseball draft, headed the all-state team selections of the state tournament just concluded.

Joining the pitching phenomenon as unanimous choices from 4A teams were Clyde's teammate, Jim Lassiter, a third baseman and Midland outfielder Louis Perez.

Champion Midland placed five men, Westchester three, Galena Park two and San Antonio Lee one.

In Class 3A, champion La-Grange and runnerup Brenham each had four selections, while South Grand Prairie and Pecos each had one player.

Tournament sports writers made the selections.

The teams:

Class 4A: Pitchers, Clyde and Randy Blanscott, Midland; catcher, Bobby Williams, Westchester; first base, David Duce, Galena Park; second base, Brandon Merworth, Midland; third base, Lassiter; shortstop, Mike Hurst, Midland; outfield, Perez, Steve Chastain, Midland, and the Randy Marceau, San Antonio Lee, and Jimmy Cox, Galena Park.

Midland High Cops Title In Baseball

AUSTIN — Midland High took the State Class AAAA baseball championship back to West Texas with it when it edged Houston Westchester, 3-1, on the strength of a two-run outbreak in the fifth inning.

Randy Blanscott went the distance on the mound for Midland, surrendering only five hits. It was his tenth win of the year, compared to three losses. Blanscott thus wound up with a 27-9 record. Two of the Bulldogs' defeats came in 5-AAA competition — against Abilene High and Abilene Cooper.

Westchester, the tournament favorite, wound up the year's play with a 32-6 record.

Blanscott fanned five and walked four. No one in the Midland lineup collected more than one hit.

Mark Horner, Westchester's "other" pitcher, took the loss. The Westchester ace, David Clyde, had worked in Thursday's game and did not see action. Clyde was No. One in the recent major league baseball draft and was taken by the Texas (Arlington) Rangers.

Jim Lassister and Bobby Williams each had two hits for the Houston club.

Midland finished second in the 5-AAA baseball race and won titles in basketball and baseball. In basketball, the Bulldogs went all the way to the state finals.

In addition, District 5-AAAA supplied the state champion in football the past fall when Odessa Permian bruised to the championship.

In Midland's big fifth, Terry Copeland scored what proved to be the winning run on Steve Chastain's single. Following Chastain's blow, Luis Perez tripled to get the insurance run.

Copeland had been sent into the game to run for Alan Buonasera, a pinch hitter, who doubled to right.

In the Class AAA finals, La Grange turned back Brenham, 3-1.

PHILLY PAYS DEARLY Gabriel To Join Eagles In Fall

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Quarterback Roman Gabriel, his 11-year roller-coaster career with the Los Angeles Rams ending on a bitter note, is going to the Philadelphia Eagles as he wished in return for two players and three key draft choices.

The Rams got All-Pro wide receiver Harold Jackson and reserve running back Tony Baker along with the draft picks in the Friday trade that culminated one of the most publicly aired feuds ever in the National Football League.

Also, Los Angeles receives the Eagles' top draft choice next year and No. 1 and No. 3 in 1975—helping the Rams, whose draft stock was badly depleted by trades in previous years.

"We paid a heckuva price," admitted Eagles Coach Mike McCormick, who said he hopes to get two solid years from Gabriel, after which Philadelphia's top draft choice in 1972, quarterback John Reaves, might be ready to take over.

"I believe this will make Reaves a better quarterback and a better quarterback fast."

er," said McCormick. Gabriel, who will be 33 this summer, became disenchanted with the Rams and said he felt slighted when the team acquired quarterback John Hadl from San Diego without telling him.

Gabriel, the NFL's Most Valuable Player in 1969, suffered a collapsed lung then tendonitis in his throwing elbow through much of the Rams' 6-7-1 mark last season but said he was healthy at the end of the year. After the Hadl trade he demanded to be swapped, first to Washington and then Philadelphia.

In 11 years, he completed 1,705 of 3,313 passes for 22,223 yards and 154 touchdowns, all of them Ram records, with the NFL's lowest interception average ever—3.4.

The Eagles were 2-11-1 last year and haven't had a winning season since 1966.

Jackson was traded by the Rams to Philadelphia in 1968 and led the NFL in receiving with 62 last season. He bolsters a Ram receiving corps of Jack Snow, Dick Gordon and Lance Rentzel.

SPORT FANS! I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By JERRY METCALF

Here's an oddity about one of the greatest players in baseball history — Lou Gehrig. . . . Everything important that ever happened to Gehrig in his great baseball career — and in his life — strangely enough, happened in the month of June. . . . He was born June 19, 1903. . . . He started his famous streak of playing 2,130 consecutive games on June 1, 1925. . . . His biggest day at bat, when he tied the all-time record by hitting four homers in one game, came on June 3, 1932. . . . A crippling disease forced his retirement from baseball June 21, 1939. . . . And so it goes. . . . To top it off, Gehrig died, at the age of only 38, on — you guessed it — June 2, 1941.

How fast could you drive a car in the old days? . . . Well, the first auto race in the United States was held in Chicago on Thanksgiving Day, 1895. . . . It was a 50-mile race, and the winning car, driven by famous inventor Frank Duryea, traveled at the average speed of — believe it or not — 7 1/2 miles per hour!

I bet you didn't know . . . that we have radiator sales and service.

OLDER THAN ANY STADIUM NOW IN USE

Is Willie Mays About Through?

Copley News Service

Willie Mays sat in the locker room after a recent game, one sock on, a sullen look on his face, his hands hanging limply in front of him.

There he was: the real Willie Mays — at 42 the oldest man in the grand old game. He is older than any National League stadium now used to play baseball in, with the exception of Wrigley Field. He knows more way to beat another team than any three managers put together, a guy with a charming smile and a reputation for being sullen and aloof the day of a big game — a mystery, in other words, as well as one of the most respected players around.

Is Willie Mays, now a sometime pinch hitter, finished? Is he planning to quit baseball? Are the recurring pains in his right shoulder, which have kept him on the disabled list for weeks this year, going to force him out of baseball?

So you walk over to Willie Mays and say hi.

"Hi," says Willie Mays with a quickly fading grin. "What's up?"

THINKS ABOUT IT

So you throw the question to him, and he thinks about it a second with a frown on his face.

"I'm just another human being trying to play baseball," he says finally. "I want to give myself every chance to see if I can."

"If I can still cut it, I'll be back in centerfield."

And then Mays finishes getting dressed and leaves, quietly, not talking to other reporters.

"You've gotta understand," says one of his teammates. "Willie has been besieged by reporters, all of them asking when he's gonna quit. Nobody can take that too long."

But it's easy to understand why reporters keep giving him the same question. They all know the sad story about Willie Mays — that he has had knees, a sore shoulder and even his teeth are giving him trouble. They've heard the rumors about the Mets trying to find a diplomatic way to break the bad news to their high-priced fading superstar — and that Mays won't take the hint. Everybody's heard the rumors, all right.

It's hard to imagine baseball without Willie Mays. His grin, his wisecracks, his spectacular game-saving catches and hits are some of the few exciting things left in the game of professional baseball. When Willie Mays is scheduled to play, baseball stadiums — half empty on most game days these days — fill up.

LEADOFF MAN

Like the day last year when Yogi Berra, the Mets' manager, had Willie Mays lead off the batting lineup against the Montreal Expos, Mays, looking grim, stepped into the batter's box and faced the Montreal pitcher, 27-year-old Mike Torrez.

Torrez threw two fast balls, the first whizzing right by Mays' cap, the second fanning his chest. Mays watched the ball, lashed out at it the next time, coming up with a foul tip.

Finally Mays walked, and it was then that he proved that he still knows how to win games, even in a batting slump.

Ted Martinez was up next, and he hit a long drive to right center field. Mays looked at the two outfielders running to catch it and realized they'd miss it.

So he gunned his way around second and onto third — only midway between second and third he turned and looked at the outfielders, giving the impression that maybe they could catch him at home. Then he turned on the speed and barreled around third and slid into home, slamming into the Montreal catcher just as the ball arrived. The catcher missed the ball and it bounced into the Montreal dugout, and Martinez used the time saved to make it to third.

Then Mays leaped up to remind the umpire that anytime a ball bounces into the dugout, the runners automatically advance one base — and Martinez was waved home, and Mays, who hadn't gotten anything more that day than a foul tip, was responsible for two important runs.

KNOWS TRICKS

Even if Mays is only hitting .15 these days, he still knows enough tricks to win a game, sometimes in the oddest and most spectacular ways. And the New York fans, who idolize him, know this. That's why they come out by the thousands to see Mays play, and that's also why Mays is such a big crowd puller in other cities. Mays is worth every penny of the $100,000-plus he earns every year, according to his fans.

But even an institution like Mays has got to quit someday, though the institution may not like to talk about it much either. ("When I know for sure, so will everybody else," he says).

The New York fans don't like to talk about it much either, and when they do they're a little gum about the whole idea — those fans who not only have Mays' picture on the wall but have even saved and treasured all the old Willie Mays bubblegum cards, the ones which chronicle not only his fame but the changes in his face — the grim-looking 20-year-old just breaking in, the grinning, famous major leaguer, the tired aging man with the tired-looking smile, a graying face lined and seamed and full of character.

And when and if Willie Mays quits baseball (and leaves his records to the history books: records like stealing more bases than Rabbit Maraville, hitting for more bases than Ty Cobb or Babe Ruth, catching more fly balls than Tris Speaker, driving in more runs than Ted Williams) even then, the kids will be talking about Willie Mays, and trying to be like him.

Cincy Surges To Tip Cubs

CHICAGO (AP) — Tony Perez's three-run homer capped a wild seven-run ninth inning that carried the Cincinnati Reds to an 8-4 victory over the Chicago Cubs Saturday in a nationally televised baseball game.

Johnny Bench earlier delivered the go-ahead run with a single before Perez unloaded as the Reds stormed back from a 4-1 deficit going into the last inning.

Three Chicago relief pitchers couldn't keep the Reds down as Larry Stahl singled home one run and Pete Rose knocked in another with a bouncer before Bobby Tolan tied it with a single up the middle.

Bench then drove in the go-ahead run off Jack Aker, the Cubs' fourth pitcher of the inning. Perez then drilled his 11th homer of the year to give the Reds insurance.

Earlier, Ron Santo had knocked in three runs with a homer and single to help the Cubs take their three-run lead.

Bobby Allison Could Be Man To Watch In Alamo

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Buddy Baker and Richard Petty, the leading Dodge boys, will line up in the front row for Sunday's NASCAR sanctioned Alamo 500 at Texas World Speedway, but they will be keeping an eye on the fellow starting in the No. 21 position—Bobby Allison.

Baker of Charlotte, N.C., won the pole position Friday with a qualifying time of 169.248 m.p.h. and Petty of Randleman, N.C., was right behind at 167.594. Allison, meanwhile, failed to arrive at the track in time to get a shot at the pole position.

Petty and Baker both will drive Dodges in Sunday's $92,000 race which pays $13,000 to the winner.

Allison raised eyebrows Saturday when he turned in the third fastest qualifying time of the week at 166.416 over Texas World Speedway's two-mile oval.

If Allison had arrived in time for Friday's qualifying for the first 20 positions he would have been earned a second row spot next to Cal Yarborough of Timmonsville, S.C., who qualified at 166.140.

"We've got her steaming along pretty good now," Allison said after earning the 21st starting position, the highest available in Saturday's rain-delayed qualifying.

WHITE BASS SUCCESS - Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Marquis of Lubbock fished in deep water in Lake Spence last week and came in with this stringer of white bass.

Striped Bass Record Set

A new record for a striped bass taken from Lake E. V. Spence was reported last week. The YS Marina at the lake reported that a pair of fishermen from Wicket, identified only as Mr. Boxley and Mr. Mincey, brought in a 10 1/4-pound specimen. This edged by a quarter of a pound the stringer brought in by Roy Lee Ford, Robert Lee, in April, and Hilton Goff, Odessa, in December 1972. F. E. Quisenberry, Robert Lee, almost got in on the act with his 10 pound striped bass.

Elsewhere there was a good mixture of catches, although some sizeable yellow cats were showing on the reports. Included in the lists from YJ's Marine were from Odessa Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Coffin, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brinker, Midland, 25 white bass up to 2 1/2-lb., also Terry Scott, Terry Jr. and George Hullman a 2 1/4-lb. yellow cat, and four black bass to 4-lb., and C. Trippett six white bass to 2 1/2-lb. Others were Gary Palmer and Tommy Green, Austin, eight channel cat to 2 1/2-lb., 18 white bass and 10 blacks to 4-lb.; Ginger Hagan, Robert Lee, six white bass to 2 1/2-lb., a 2 1/2-lb. black bass; Oke Johnson, Midland, 13 white bass to 2 1/2-lb.; Don Teague and O. V. Lopez, Brownfield, five channel cat to 5-lb.; Frank Kubala, Roscoe, 14 channel cat to 6-lb.; and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pursler, Big Spring, a pair of 3 1/2-lb. striped bass.

Edith's Store reported J. E. Quisenberry with his 10-pound striped, and Lewis Godwin, Chilton Goff and party of Odessa with 40 channel cat to 5-lb., and one 17 1/2-lb. yellow cat. At Count's Bait the report showed Mr. and Mrs. Jess Thompson and Sandy Thompson, Kermit, 12 channel cat to 5-lb.; Bob Curnutte, San Angelo eight channel cat to 4-lb.; Jimmy Counts, Water Valley, 8-lb. yellow cat; Grady Huffman and Violet Huffman, Odessa, a 5-lb., striped bass each.

Tennis Booming As Never Before, Says Local Pro

Tennis is sweeping the country, according to Novice Niffen, Tennis Center professional-manager. He said tennis has become more popular because it is a family sport. He said it can be played outside in the sun and a good sweat can be worked up in just a short time. Niffen said that tennis is no longer a sport for the rich only. He said that since there have been many public courts built a tennis fan needs only to buy his racket and clothes. Television coverage has helped to improve the interest in tennis along with well-known tennis personalities promoting the game through advertisement, Niffen said. Apartment complexes have begun to build tennis courts to use as a drawing card to potential renters. Several sporting goods retailers say sales relating to

Futurity Winner Eyes Big Payoff

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N.M. - A winner's purse of $115,967 will be on the line today at Ruidoso Downs as the world's second richest race - the Kansas Quarter Horse Futurity - is decided at 3:50 yards. Gross purse of the Kansas Futurity is a whopping $353,250. The race will be beamed live from Ruidoso Downs to 45 TV stations throughout Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Iowa, Indiana, Kansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska and Oklahoma.

Time for the one-hour telecast is 3 p.m., Central Daylight Time. Due to the television schedule, first post Sunday has been moved up to the early starting time of 1 p.m.

Much of the attention is expected to be on the filly, Pass Over, who's been building a reputation as a kind of "super horse." The filly, trained by Jim Bertrand for Jack Delmar of Rosenberg, Texas, will go into the Kansas showdown with a sparkling record of 7-1-0 out of 9 starts. She's already earned $112,517.

Her record includes victories in the Triple Crown Futurity at Columbus, Texas, and the Hill Top Futurity at Hill Top Downs, Texas. The really big conquest, so far in her career, came at Sunland Park in April when she easily won a trial division for the rich Sun Country Futurity in 17.38 seconds.

In the process, she established a new track record of 17.38 for 350 yards. The fans launched the big-striding filly as a 1-2 favorite in the Sun Country finale, and she responded with an easy 1 1/2-length victory - again covering the 350-yard distance in 17.38 seconds.

MRS. MICHAEL LEE SPRADLING

Wedding Ceremony Performed At Church

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lev Spradling are on a tour of the eastern United States following their wedding Friday evening at First Presbyterian Church.

The bride is the former Cheryl Fletcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Fletcher, 1802 Benton. Spradling is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Spradling, 1709 State.

The Rev. R. Earl Price performed the nuptials as the couple stood before an archway entwined with boxwood foliage and flanked by branched candelabra which held boxwood and gypsophylla accented with satin bows.

Miss Janice Majors, organist, provided a background of traditional wedding music. Miss Verna Goswick was vocalist.

The bride wore a formal-length gown fashioned in white organza. The empire bodice was trimmed with lace, which also highlighted the front of the flounced A-line skirt. Matching lace was used on the train. Her finger-tip-length illusion veil fell from a white velvet band enhanced with seed pearls, and she carried a cascade of orchid roses, pink carnations and stephanotis.

Serving her sister as maid of honor was Miss Judy Fletcher. The bridegroom's sister, Miss Karen Spradling, was bridesmaid. The attendants wore empire-style gowns in sheer lilac floral print with Juliet sleeves. They wore white garden hats and carried baskets of long-stemmed pink roses, accented with pink and orchid satin bows and babies'-breath.

Capt. Robert Tilton was best man, and Bennett Fletcher, the bride's brother, was groomsmen. Ushers were Bruce Broughton and David Armstrong, who also lighted the altar lamps.

Kristie Grimes was flower girl, and Speight Grimes was ring bearer.

A reception was held for the newlyweds in the church parlor. The bridal attendants' flowers accented the bride's table which was laid with a white satin cloth. White linen covered the bridegroom's table, which held a single rose. Serving were Mrs. Lester Goswick, Mrs. D. C. Hedges, Mrs. Grace Kinney, Mrs. Olen Puckett and Mrs. Harold Dewlin Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Spradling graduated from Big Spring High School and Howard County Junior College. He attended the University of Texas at Austin, and received a bachelor of science degree in business management from East Texas State University. He is currently doing graduate work through Sul Ross University and is employed as an interviewer with the Texas Employment Commission.

Mrs. Spradling attended West Texas State University and plans to attend the University of Texas of the Permian Basin in the fall. The couple will reside at 2504 E. 24th.

Guests from out of town included Robert David Spradling, Fort Worth; and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ben Fleming, Paris.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I positively do not like to fry bacon!

I buy two or three pounds at a time and fry it all at once. Doesn't make any more mess than a few pieces. Just takes a little more time, which you'll save later.

When the fried bacon has been well-drained on paper towels, spread it out on cookie sheets and freeze so the pieces do not stick together. After freezing, the strips can be put in plastic bags or a container in the freezer.

A few pieces can be heated quickly in the oven or on a back burner while the eggs are cooking, or while preparing a bacon, lettuce and tomato sandwich. Fry a few pieces crisp so they can be crumbled directly on a salad or into soup. A. M. Christison

Dear Heloise:

I have a coat and a dress with fancy buttons that would be damaged from the tumbling action of dry cleaning. The dry cleaners always cut those buttons off.

Now that I use the dry cleaning machine at the nearby laundromat, I have devised an easier way than having to sew those buttons back on.

I now cover each button with a two-inch square of cloth. (My husband's old T-shirt is perfect for the material.) The cloth square is fastened by winding string around the cloth underneath the button and tying with a square knot.

This is much easier and only takes a few minutes. Now when I bring the coat and dress back home I just snip the string with scissors! A Busy Reader

Dear Heloise:

Regarding postage stamps, I used to laugh at people who told me I was smart. I told them I was so stupid it took me thirty years to learn to lick the envelope instead of the stamp! Anne Nomomeous

Dear Heloise:

I use an extra refrigerator shelf rack to cool my cakes and cookies.

I keep it between the stove and the wall. A lot of grease and dirt finds its way down there. Instead of washing the rack before each use, I now put it in a plastic bag from the dry cleaner.

This keeps the rack clean and ready for instant use when I'm in the baking mood.

Dear Heloise:

A substitute shoehorn that I find quite useful, and one that is always with me, is my belt.

It not only serves as a good shoehorn, but is extra handy for me whenever I have a backache, because it is long enough to reach my shoes without having to bend over! Roy Blackwood

Dear Heloise:

Here is a good tip when you make those cool drinks for the hot weather.

I use a flavored drink mix

NUPTIALS — Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Hunt, Ackerly, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Jill Anne to Horace Richie Tubb, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Tubb, Garden City Rt., Big Spring. The nuptials will be performed Aug. 4 in the Ackerly Church of Christ.

Bride-Elect Honored At Shower

Miss Betty McCann was honored Friday evening with a lingerie shower in the home of Mrs. Mary Dean, 802 Highland. Miss McCann is bride-elect of Terry Newman.

Attired in long blue palazzo pants with a yellow halter top, the honoree was presented a corsage of pink carnations. A similar corsage was given to her mother, Mrs. T. H. McCann.

The refreshment table was covered with a sheer white embroidered cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink and white roses in a crystal urn. Pink was used throughout the decorating scheme, and appointments were of crystal.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Clarence Peters, Mrs. Riley Falkner and Mrs. Jimmy Morehead. Miss McCann and Newman will be married July 14 at First Baptist Church.

She's Human, Too

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Even though, for the most part, the United States is "out" of Viet Nam, we still have thousands of men stationed in Southeast Asia as well as in other countries abroad, so I wonder if you would consider running the column you wrote several years ago, signed GI.

It made a tremendous impact on the servicemen when it ran in the Stars and Stripes. Many of them cut it out and sent it to their wives. And months later, I was asked for additional copies. Thanking you in advance.

U.S. ARMY CHAPLAIN DEAR CHAPLAIN: With pleasure. And here it is:

DEAR ABBY: My problem is one that bothers thousands of other GIs so I hope you will print your answer because it is needed badly. I am a happily married wife and two small children back in the States. I've been in Korea for four months. After living a normal life for three years, what is a young, healthy man supposed to do for his physical needs?

There are 12 women for every GI over here and the women practically throw themselves at our feet. Don't get me wrong, Abby. I love my wife and always will, but I have a long hitch over here and I am only human. This letter is sincere and I am not ashamed to sign my name, but if you use it, please sign me GI.

DEAR GI: Assume for a moment that I received the following letter.

DEAR ABBY: I am a happily married woman with a wonderful husband and two small children. My husband has been in Korea for four months. After living a normal married life for three years, what is a young, healthy woman supposed to do for her physical needs? There are plenty of men around and when they learn my husband is in Korea, they practically throw themselves at my feet.

Don't get me wrong, Abby. I love my husband and always will, but he's going to be gone a long time and I am only human.

GI's wife WELL, GI: I would tell that woman to keep busy as possible with her duties and as many wholesome activities as her time and energy permit. I'd suggest reading, exercising, physical exercise, and yes, even prayer! I'd tell her to stay sober and to avoid temptation and to write you every day! And that GI, is my answer to you and to all your buddies in the same

lonesome boat. . . . ABBY

DEAR ABBY: My 4-year-old daughter likes to "ride horse" on my foot occasionally. My wife charges that this is "seductive and obscene." What do you think? A MINISTER: "Obscenity" (like beauty) sometimes lies in the eye of the beholder.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell Ronny's mom not to worry about her son's being the youngest and smallest in his class. Ronny is a Capricorn — the most intellectual of all signs, and they reach intellectual maturity early. Besides, being short never stopped Napoleon.

I graduated first in my class, and I also was the youngest and smallest. ANOTHER CAPRICORN Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069.

Spring Cleaning?

Spring cleaning means washing the slipcovers. Those made of colorfast cotton and cotton blends may be washed in hot water for six to eight minutes.

Be careful not to overload the machine, and use enough soap or detergent. If slipcovers are heavily soiled, it is better to prewash or soak them first.

Miss Arnold Weds Robert S. Landreth

Miss Barbara Victoria Arnold and Airman 1.C. Robert Steven Landreth of Webb Air Force Base were united in marriage at 7 p.m., Saturday in the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Lorin McDowell III, Garden City Route.

Chaplain Clayton Hicks of the Veterans Administration Hospital performed the ceremony. An improvised altar was flanked by branched candelabra entwined with greenery and a large arrangement of yellow and white roses and daisies completed the setting.

Traditional nuptial music was by Miss Debbie Baker, pianist.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Richie Lee Arnold, Sterling City Route. Landreth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Landreth who have been residing in Seoul, Korea and are now en route to Uruguay, S.A.

The bride wore a formal gown of bridal satin overlaid with Chantilly lace. Long lace sleeves were tied at the wrist with satin ribbon to form a ruffle. The empire bodice was highlighted with a ruffle and satin ribbon at the neckline. Her tiered illusion veil fell from a caplet of lace, pearls and satin, and extended to form a floor-length train. She carried a bouquet of yellow and white roses and daisies, interspersed with babies' breath.

ATTENDANTS

The bride's sister, Mrs. Michael D. Tytanic, Oklahoma City, Okla., was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Donna Bedwell, Forsan; Miss Joy Landreth, sister of the bride; and Miss Sherry Howerton, Big Lake.

The bridal attendants wore floor-length yellow knit gowns fashioned with lace insertions at the empire bodice. Yellow satin ribbon accented the neckline and bodice.

S. Sgt. James D. Smith of Webb AFB was best man. Serving as groomsmen were Richard Arnold, brother of the bride; Doug Landreth, brother of the bride; and Doug Cook, Ushers were the bride's brother-in-law, Mike Tytanic of Oklahoma City, Okla., and David Henry.

Laurel Lea McDowell served as flower girl, wearing a floor-length yellow gown and carrying a basket of spring flowers. Ring bearer was Allen McDowell, and altar tapers were lighted by Mac McDowell.

The newlyweds are on a trip to Oklahoma and Missouri, after which they will reside at 710 Johnson. Mrs. Landreth attended Forsan High School and plans to study nursing at Howard County Junior College. Landreth graduated from high school in Seoul, Korea prior to entering the Air Force.

RECEPTION

A reception honored the couple in the McDowell home following the ceremony. The serving table was centered with a tiered cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. J. W. Holt, Aledo; Mrs. Eroy Cawthorn and Mrs. Joe Matthews, both of Lubbock; Mrs. Linda West, sister of the bride; Mrs. James Smith and Mrs. Lorin McDowell III. Quotable Women

Here are some quotable quotes from women during the week:

"We worked very hard on the show, but what it all boils down to is that we really had to trust the people who produced and directed it." Singer Roberta Flack, speaking about her first national TV special, "Roberta Flack . . . the First Time Ever."

"I'm deeply sympathetic with Women's Liberation. I see it as an issue that permeates every phase of our culture — the governmental, the economic, the political, the social." Edythe First, president of the Women's City Club of New York.

"The school is for children to learn to live together. Funny in this world people have to learn that." Entertainer Josephine Baker, speaking about an island that had been given to her by the Yugoslav government to use as a school for children from all over the world.

"In one way, Watergate has been good for the country. It's got people talking again, trying to communicate with one another." poet Nikki Giovanni, in an interview.

Unfortunate Elevation

President Nixon's latest moves to rebuild his shattered White House staff are a mixed bag. On the plus side is the decision of Melvin Laird to return to public life after a brief retirement. Laird will take over as domestic affairs counselor, replacing the deposed and discredited John D. Ehrlichman.

Laird knows Washington well. He was a competent and potent congressman. He served as secretary of defense as well as possible, considering the Vietnam war, which he tried to deescalate more rapidly than did the President. He also instituted more sound military procurement measures.

Further Laird is untainted by Watergate. He also speaks his mind. He should be a valuable advisor, if Mr. Nixon is prepared to listen.

Army Gen. Alexander Haig Jr. has given up a promising military career to become White House chief of staff, replacing H. R. Haldeman. The wisdom of the general's decision remains to be seen.

He's retired from the Army because the U.S. Code prohibits any active-duty officer from holding a civil office. A suit had been filed to force the issue. Perhaps his military career will aid him in running day-to-day operations. And he is repaying the man who jumped him from a colonel to four-star general in three years.

The President's third action is highly questionable. Ronald Ziegler, the press secretary, has been elevated to assistant to the President, while retaining his press role.

Ziegler is the man who straight-facedly denied repeatedly any White House involvement in Watergate. He did this for months, only to announce the previous denials were "inoperative" — that is, false.

He has continued evasion and refusal to answer legitimate questions raised by Mr. Nixon's own statements.

This is the sort of thing which has hurt the President most in his administration, a willingness to divest himself (and on the contrary rather to reward) those whose performance has involved deceit and duplicity. He would be better off without Ziegler.

Faint Truth In Excuse

There's no way to prove it or disprove it, but Mayor Sam Yorty's claim that Watergate contributed to his defeat in a bid for re-election does seem to be a bit thin.

Yorty was defeated by Thomas Bradley, who will become the first black mayor in the history of Los Angeles. Bradley attacked Yorty's campaign tactics as "racist" and questioned the mayor's acceptance of a $50,000 paid-up life insurance policy from political friends.

Much more believable is the conclusion that

Yorty had become a bit shop-worn. He had served three four-year terms as mayor. He had gained a reputation as a political maverick. He ran as a Democrat, but endorsed Richard M. Nixon last year. He traveled too much, and was away from his office far too much, his critics, as well as some of his supporters, agreed.

But there is an element of truth in Yorty's assertion that Watergate has "made it more difficult for incumbents" as many more may find.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

If God exists, why is there war, poverty and suffering? Some of my friends in a discussion group asked this, and no one could come up with an answer. What is your comment?

C.L. When God created man, He put him in the Garden of Eden to "dress it and to keep it." This indicates He gave man responsibility for His world. He also gave him the power of choice, to make decisions, right or wrong. The prevalence of wars, violence, crime, hatred, prejudice and sin indicates evidently that man has not been a good caretaker of His paradise. He has let it grow up with the weeds of lust, selfishness and rebellion. We better not then blame God for the predicament mankind has brought about.

Psychologists often talk about "transference." This involves the redirection of feelings and attitudes. Often it's not very serious, but it is when we transfer blame to God that ought to be carried on our shoulders.

I believe that God is omnipotent, that is, that He can do anything. Luke 18:27. He could arbitrarily eliminate the problem you mention, but it would constitute an overruling of our wills. This He has elected not to do, even though sickness, wars, crime, etc. grieve His holy heart more than ours.

How wonderful is the promise that one day when God will establish His righteous reign, all that you describe will be no more. Read the last chapter of the Bible for confirmation of that.

Inflation Brakes Studied

NEW YORK (AP) — The economic spotlight focused on the White House this past week against a background of rising interest rates and spiraling prices.

President Nixon met with congressional leaders and Cabinet officials on Thursday on the subject of economic uncertainties. Although no decision emerged immediately, sources said the President had put his anti-inflation program under an intensive review.

WHOLESALE INDEX UP — Earlier the Labor Department had reported that the wholesale price index jumped 2.1 per cent in May. The heaviest increase came in the prices of farm products, which were up 6.1 per cent over April.

Meanwhile, several major banks were posting 1/4 per cent increases in the prime rates to 7 1/2.

This brought the minimum lending charge for large corporate borrowers to its highest level since September 1970.

A further tightening of interest rates came with the 1/2 per cent boost by the Federal Reserve in its discount rate to 6 1/2 per cent effective Monday.

The discount rate is the fee charged to member banks for loans from their district reserve bank. Ten of the 12 Federal Reserve banks in the nation are affected by the hike.

The government has described the case as one of the largest stock frauds on record.

"BIGGEST" STOCK FRAUD — Jack L. Clark pleaded guilty to conspiring to inflate the company's stock price through false financial reports and false earnings projections.

In the Equity Funding Corp., of America scandal, the trustee of the company told a federal court hearing that he was reasonably confident the company's balance sheets will show assets sufficient to cover liabilities. However, Robert Loeffler's appraisal did not take into account liabilities from lawsuits seeking damages for alleged securities fraud.

The trustee said that at least 43 class action suits had been filed against Equity Funding as a result of disclosures that the firm may have manufactured as much as $2.2 billion in bogus life insurance.

In other news the past week, the former chairman and president of Four Seasons Nursing Centers of America Inc., pleaded guilty to conspiring to violate federal

My son, Kim, who keeps me informed on what's going on among the other 99.9 per cent, says the latest includes bizarre names for their offspring.

FOR EXAMPLE, rock music star Grace Slick named her son God.

Other begotten by other parents are called Chance, Chastity and Free. (I'd like to know the doctor for that last one.)

Susan St. James named her daughter Sunshine and says if she has another baby she's going to name it Starshine (presumably regardless of sex).

But Kim's favorite is Rock Star Dave Bowie, who named his son Zowie. I predict Zowie Bowie will grow up to regret that.

WIN SOME, lose some:

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States dubbed May 10, Thursday as "Thru-day" in an attempt to dramatize the amount of time the average taxpayer has to work to pay his federal, state and local taxes.

It's "thru-day" because he "thru" working to pay the various branches of government.

Since 130 days had passed, the average taxpayer worked 35.6 per cent of his time each year just to pay taxes. And that's gross, no matter how you look at it.

Friday, May 11 we started to work the rest of the year for our families.

AND NOW FOR THE BAD NEWS:

Robert Statham, taxation expert for the U.S. Chamber, says: "Over the past quarter of century there has been a drastic increase in all government spending — at the state and local level as well.

"If the trend isn't reversed, it won't be long before we're working half of our time just to pay taxes."

What he's saying is if we all set there doing nothing to get the trend reversed, we'll tax ourselves out of business.

CHARLIE MANOS reports in the Detroit News that Mack Worden, General Motors marketing vice-

Mack calls it TINSTAFL, which sounds a bit like the teachings of some remote German philosopher, but isn't.

Mack explained: "It is the fundamental economic law that there is no such thing as a free lunch — TINSTAFL."

I think it was my publisher who passed the following bits of data to me:

MY BANKING aunt on vacation, Leona Factor, says consider the number of "up" and "down" phrases of similar meaning. Like "shut up" and "pipe down." Or "upbraid" and "dress down." Or "give up the ghost" and "lay down one's life." Or "fold up" and "close down." Or "turn up one's nose at" and "look down one's nose at." Or "upset" and "down-cast." Or "eat it up" and "swill it down." That's just for starters.

Before Watergate

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — A group of us were sitting around the dining room table the other night when suddenly someone asked, "What did people talk about in this country before Watergate?"

THERE WAS shocked silence. It was hard for any of us to believe there was anything before Watergate.

"Didn't we talk about meat?" one of the men asked.

"I think we did," one of the ladies replied, "but I can't remember what we said about it."

"I believe it had to do with the price of it. Wasn't there something about a boycott?" someone added.

"THAT'S CORRECT," a man said. "We kept saying the price of steak was too high. But surely we talked about other things besides meat."

We all started wracking our brains. "Wait a minute!" a friend shouted. "Wasn't there something about amnesty?"

"You mean for people involved in Watergate?"

"No, stupid, we talked about amnesty before Watergate. It had to do with draft dodgers."

"IN OUR family we talked about how McGovern blew the election."

"Who's McGovern?" someone asked.

"He was the Democratic candidate who ran against Nixon in the election."

"What election?"

"The presidential election of 1972. If it hadn't been for the election we wouldn't have had a Watergate."

"Now it's coming back to me. McGovern ran with an Indian named Eaglefeather," a lady said.

"Eagleton," her husband corrected her. "And he wasn't an Indian. He was treated for shock."

"He was not treated for shock, he was treated with shock. That's why what's-his-name dropped him from the ticket."

"DIDN'T WE talk about what kind of FBI director Patrick Gray would make?"

"I thought the big argument was how much financial aid we should give to North Vietnam."

"They were great days," someone said nostalgically. "I wonder if we'll ever see the like again?"

"Do you think Watergate will be over before the football season starts?"

Nature Of Detente

William F. Buckley Jr.

THE SENATE, under the domination of Sen. Fulbright's Foreign Relations Committee, has voted to amputate a couple of limbs from the United States Information Agency and perhaps even the agency's heart. The $1-million dollar cut means drastic reduction of USIA activities and means that the great transmitter in the South Pacific scheduled to disseminate a breath of news and truth to mainland China is cancelled. Why? Because, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee's report advises us, the USIA is a "cold war anachronism."

WE ARE TO suppose then that it is an anachronism for the United States to make the effort to disseminate the news of the world in corners of the world that do not otherwise get much news. It is unclear how a cold war can end as the result of a unilateral resolution of one party to end it. The Soviet Union continues to jam the Voice of America, at a cost to the Soviet Union in excess of our own cost in transmitting. We have the testimony of refugees from the tyranny of the Soviet Union that they get such news as they have of the outside world from the Voice of America (and its ancillary network), and from the BBC. Out of a combination of fatigue and funk it is now proposed that we withdraw the only hand of friendship one is in a position to extend to a captive people.

SEN. HENRY Jackson, in a remarkable address at Yeshiva University, eloquently challenged the assumption that detente is what happens when the United States ceases to stand by the cause of human freedom, and to guard against possible attempts to export tyranny.

"The greatest mistake of the western world" during the thirties, said Jackson, "was the failure of Britain and France and America to heed the warnings of Winston Churchill and to stand, firm and early, for the defense of individual liberty." As a result of that failure we went on to "the holocaust" — which "is the central political experience of our time."

"we will have moved from the appearance to the reality of detente," Sen. Jackson said, "when East Europeans can freely visit the West, when Soviet students in significant numbers — not the 25 who are here now — can come to American universities, and when American students in significant numbers can study in Russia. When reading the Western press and listening to Western broadcasts is no longer an act of treason, when families can be reunited across national borders, when emigration is free — then we shall have a genuine detente between peoples and not a formula between governments for capitulation on the issue of human rights."

SEN. JACKSON was concrete on the nature of detente, U.S. style. He calls into question the general notion that President Nixon has ideally conducted our foreign policy by the use of "quiet diplomacy."

"We have seen that sort of 'quiet diplomacy' before. It got us a grain deal in which the Russians purchased cheap wheat subsidized to the tune of $900 million by the American taxpayer. It got us a strategic arms limitation agreement in which the Soviets obtained a three-to-two advantage in land and sea-based missiles. It got us a new wave of repression and trials following the Moscow summit. It got us the infamous education ransom. It brought about the appearance of detente and the reality of an even lower Soviet tolerance of individual liberty."

BUT LAST WEEK all that Sen. Fulbright could get excited about was — Greece; because Greece, a middle-class, middle-level, pastoral despotism got rid of an exiled king. On March 25, 1964, Sen. Fulbright advised the Senate that "insofar as a nation is content to practice its doctrines within its own frontiers, that nation, however repugnant its ideology, is one with which we have no proper quarrel."

I have heard that hypnotic therapy is successful in curing bad habits like smoking and alcoholism. Would this kind of treatment be helpful and where can I go for help? — J.C.

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

She's A Gambling Addict

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My wife is addicted to games of chance. She will leave everything to have a fling any time of the day or night. She enjoys gambling, win or lose; the money lost doesn't bother her in the least.

I have tried to show her that this gambling pastime is a destroyer of a happy family, but she ignores all scoldings, explanations, advice and pleading.

I have heard that hypnotic therapy is successful in curing bad habits like smoking and alcoholism. Would this kind of treatment be helpful and where can I go for help? — J.C.

I have an abiding mistrust of anything that purports to be an easy cure without any effort on the patient's part. That applies to hypnosis when offered in that light.

I'm not downgrading hypnosis; it is a useful tool when intelligently used. But capable practitioners of it agree that it is only a tool and does not whisk away the problem all by itself.

In other words, you've first got to get your wife to agree to treatment, and to cooperate and want to get over her compulsive gambling — which is, of course, just as much a home wrecker as compulsive alcoholism.

My suggestion would be to try a group known as Gamblers Anonymous, which operates in much the same sense as Alcoholics Anonymous. If you can persuade your wife to join that group, fine. If not, you yourself may find they can give you some pointers.

By now there are units in various cities, so look in your local telephone book. If you don't find a chapter, write to the national headquarters and ask where the closest one is. The address: G. A. National Service Office, P.O. Box 17173, Los Angeles, Calif. 90017.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Several times a month I get the most terrible pinching, pricking and burning pain in one of my toes, and sometimes the bottom of my foot and another toe. There is no swelling or inflammation that I can see.

I have had tests for gout, negative. My doctor told me, if it was not gout, it is a nerve condition for which he can do nothing but give me pain pills. I would like some help.—R.W.

With the clue of your doctor's remark, I would see a neurologist, since the pain could be a form of neuritis related to some toxic state in your system. Diabetes, for example, should be ruled out.

Faulty foot mechanics (arches or shoes) could be a factor. Another possibility is called Morton's toe. This is a tiny tumor in a nerve of the foot. It can be removed surgically.

Beauty And Legend

Marquis Childs

KWEILIN, Kwangsi Province, China — In a setting of fantastically shaped mountains springing up out of the rice paddies Kweilin and its beauty are a legend throughout China.

One high official after a visit here said he would rather live in Kweilin than go to heaven — if, he should have added as a good Communist, heaven does exist.

AS ONE OF five autonomous regions administered by the Central Government in Peking, Kwangsi Province has had virtually no foreign visitors up to the present. In Kwangsi are 13 minorities, with the Zhuong largest in number.

This is an object lesson in the ingathering of diverse peoples under a system of disciplined uniformity — in peoples with deep-rooted ethnic differences. The Han Chinese are in the majority in Kwangsi, as they are throughout the nation. And the problem here is apparently not as complex as in the autonomous regions of Tibet and Inner Mongolia where ancient cultural heritage is reported resistant to Communist discipline. The other two autonomous regions are Sinkiang, the northernmost province on the Soviet border, and Ningxia.

WE TALKED with two Zhuong, Mrs. Chin Tsai-lan, an assistant administrator, in the Kweilin school system, and Ching Yen, vice-chairman of the Revolutionary Committee in the Kweilin suburbs. The Zhuong language is retained in areas where they are concentrated, as in Ching's home county of Quei.

Compromise with the Chinese has not been difficult in matters of dress, customs, government, and speech. In short, no problems, although there are 7,000,000 Zhuong in a total provincial population of 21 million.

A Devotion For Today..

We love, because he first loved us. (1 John 4:19)
PRAYER: Dear Father we thank You for having loved us first. Forgive our sinful way of waiting to be liked, to be praised, to be apologized to, or to be benefited by others before loving them. Help us as we now determine to be persons who love first, in the name of Jesus Christ. Amen.

Roberta Flack To Have Her Own Special On TV

NEW YORK (AP) — The first time ever I saw Roberta Flack's face she was singing before a packed house at Mr. Henry's, a small night club a few blocks from Capitol Hill in Washington, D. C.

That was in 1968. Come June 19, she'll be singing to a national audience as the star of her own first TV special, a half-hour ABC show called "Roberta Flack... the First Time Ever."

It should be excellent, if her past performances are any guide.

I have to confess I've been a Roberta Flack cheerleader since her Mr. Henry's days. At that time, she had a small, enthusiastic army of fans that included both politicians and established performers.

She sang beautifully, played fine jazz piano and occasionally conducted the best sing-along any saloon probably will ever hear. It wasn't simple barber-shop quartet stuff, either.

She'd announce a song, then assign sections of the audience fairly hard contrapuntal harmony parts, the kind that weave around the main tune. It usually sounded great.

Talking Mule Is Coming Back, Says O'Connor

HOLLYWOOD — Francis, the Talking Mule, hasn't said his last word yet.

He'll be back on the screen with his sidekick, Donald O'Connor, as soon as plans O'Connor has in the works reach fruition.

The actor-singer-dancer who starred with the marvelous mule in a series of spectacularly successful pictures has acquired rights to the "Francis" format and hopes to produce and star in a film featuring his further adventures with gregarious quadruped.

"Francis will be completely mod," O'Connor says discussing his picture plans. "Originally, he was way ahead of his time, very anti-establishment if you remember."

Since his separation from Francis, who he sometimes resented but with whom he had "a great rapport," O'Connor has maintained a lively career in movies, television, on stage and in nightclubs.

DONALD O'CONNOR

"When I was born," he continues his story, "circus was just going out. So I was raised primarily in vaudeville."

"When we were working in a town, I used to meet the kids in the alley behind the theater and play with them. You might figure that the kids in the alley would be a bunch of roughnecks, but this was not so. I never got into mischief that way. In fact, I had a wonderful time."

"The only time I resented going to work was when we stayed any length of time in Los Angeles where I'd met a bunch of kids who, to this day, are my very good friends.

"The other kids never treated me as an oddity because I was in show business. After they saw me in the first couple of pictures I did their only reaction was to ask how to get into movies."

"I can never tell anybody how to get into the entertainment business, because I don't know. I was born into it."

DRAFTED

O'Connor was drafted for movies after a studio scout saw him in a Motion Picture Relief Fund benefit show at the Los Angeles Biltmore Theater.

"That was in 1938," he remembers. "They needed a boy for 'Sing, You Sinners, with Bing Crosby. I think they wanted Mickey Rooney, but he had another commitment or cost too much or something, so they settled for me."

After that he made 13 films in quick succession, all within a year, made by producers who wanted to take full advantage of his potential for "kid" roles before he reached the gangly stage.

Among these were "Beau Geste," "Men With Wings," "Death of a Champion" and "On Your Toes."

His movie work was interrupted by military service during World War II, but when he returned to making pictures including the talking mule series.

Record Industry Shudders Over Reports Of Payola

NEW YORK (AP) — The record industry is shuddering as reports surface of payola, drugs, an organized crime connection and misuse of funds.

A federal grand jury and offices of district attorneys in Manhattan and Los Angeles are looking into the music business. One recording industry figure has fallen, and people in the field see troubled days ahead.

"The reports say all record companies are being quietly investigated. I believe that is going to happen," said Herb Helman, head of public relations for RCA Records. "At this point, I think every company should take a very low profile."

The payola scandals of the late 1950s rocked the music world with public revelation that record company promotion men used money, liquor and free vacations to convince disc jockeys to play their records. Such exposure can increase sales.

The record companies and broadcasters insist such practices have ceased. But some reports indicate they persist with a new twist: cocaine and marijuana are sometimes the inducement now.

How widespread such activities are cannot be stated. But payola on a grander scale was reported this week by sources close to a federal grand jury meeting in Newark, N.J.

Those sources said David Wynshaw, until two months ago director of artist relations for Columbia Records, told members of a federal Organized Crime Strike Force that the company budgeted $250,000 a year for payoffs to promote Columbia's stable of black pop and rock singers.

Wynshaw said part of the money went to bribe the publishers of weekly tip sheets that supposedly keep radio stations informed of the latest "hot" records and part of it went to black disc jockeys, the sources said.

The Columbia Broadcasting System, owner of Columbia Records, issued a statement Wednesday saying it "had no evidence whatsoever of Davis' wrongdoing" and had appointed its law firm to conduct an inquiry.

CBS last week fired Columbia Records' President Clive J. Davis, a powerful and highly regarded industry figure, and announced it was suing him for $940,000 allegedly misappropriated from company funds.

Although CBS denied Davis' dismissal had anything to do with the grand jury's probe, evidence of Davis was Wynshaw's boss; and many industry insiders doubt he was fired exclusively for the reason stated.

FIRE AFTER SHE CUT HAIR

DALLAS (AP) — Men can get in trouble for letting their hair grow. Mrs. Dorothy Simpson may be out of a job because she cut hers.

One month ago, she had her long black hair trimmed to a medium-length shag, a fairly popular hairstyle in Dallas.

Now she has been fired as a teller at the Merchants State Bank. She thinks it's because the 32-year-old chairman, Willis Beavers, didn't go for her new style.

"He said I was pretty but he didn't like my hair, wasn't going to have it in the bank — and told me to tie it back," she said.

A few days later, a bank personnel employee told her, she said, that she "was going to get fired if I didn't tie my hair back."

She went to see Beavers. "You mean to tell me if I don't tie my hair back you'll fire me?"

"That's right," he replied.

She was fired the next morning and went straight to the Equal Opportunity Employment Office to file a complaint.

Consumer Education Is Topic

"Consumer Education" was discussed Thursday by Theron Lee, director of continuing education at Howard County Junior College, when he was guest speaker for Big Spring Credit Women at the Settles Hotel.

"The primary problem connected with getting an adult education class started is that people don't have time to attend classes," said Lee. He said the college offers a variety of adult education classes, and that if 10 or more people express interest in a subject, the college will try to obtain an instructor to teach the class.

Although the Texas Education Board has approved a textbook for use in credit courses, Lee said most schools have not adopted it for use. He feels people should learn more about consumer credit and money management, and said the education should begin at the high school level. People need to know how to shop for money as well as for goods. According to Lee, many consumers will shop around to find the best price for merchandise, but do not shop for the best rates when acquiring a loan for the merchandise. Lee has worked as a credit manager and has taught credit management for the Texas University Extension Service.

Mrs. D. J. Nobles was a guest at the meeting. The attendance prize was won by Mrs. Pearl Bradshaw.

You can keep packaged cake mixes as long as one year if they are stored in a cool dry place.

MRS. FREDERICK KYLE HECKLER

Church Scene Of Ceremony

St. Paul Lutheran Church was the setting Friday evening for the wedding of Miss Patty Elizabeth Lockhart and Frederick Kyle Heckler. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Lockhart, Sand Springs, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guss F. Heckler, Luther.

The Rev. Carroll Kohl officiated before an altar accented with an arch of greenery, an "eternal flame" and pink fern. Mrs. Frank Long, organist, accompanied the vocalist, Mrs. Johnny Bruce Bedell.

The bride was attired in a full-length gown of sheer nylon organza over taffeta with A-line skirt forming a chapel-length train. The gown featured an empire bodice, and re-embroidered lace was used extensively as trim for the dress and train. Her bouquet was formed of pink and white carnations and pink roses.

Miss Tonjua Sprinkle, San Angelo, was maid of honor, attired in a full-length gown of pink dotted Swiss styled with high-rise waistline and long, puffed sleeves. Danny Heckler served as best man for his brother, Mike Lockhart, brother of the bride, and Greg Birrell, Big Spring, were ushers.

Creature Comforts Help Outdoor Fun

American technology has advanced far enough to enable you to live as comfortably outdoors as indoors. For instance, the patio party is virtually assured of success with such conveniences as gaslights, patio heater, gas or electric cooking grills and electronic insect repellent. Of course heated swimming pools have been around for awhile. Such a heater may cost you about $300. Gas lights, depending on what you get, will cost about $30-60. The cooking grills, gas or electric, cost from $40 to $282. The array of creature comforts is greater no place than in the camping department. If you are uncomfortable on a camping trip nowadays it is only because you ran out of money. Take sleeping bags for example. They range from about $10 to $100. They may be filled with synthetic fiber or goose down. There are single bags and double bags. There are bags that zip together. Then there are air mattresses (some have built-in pumps) and there are camp cots. There are vinyl foam mattresses too. To cook on there are propane, charcoal and gasoline stoves unlimited. A charcoal grill may be $10. A portable natural gas grill may be about $90-$240. As far as outdoor housing goes, a turtle never had it better. No longer is the common pup tent adequate. Today there are tents to sleep in, tents to eat in and tents to lounge in. A tent may cost $6 and be small enough to fit in your shirt pocket. Other tents may cover 120 square feet and have floors. After you get set up, you'll probably head for the lake and lose mountain trout. Fishing poles range from 99 cents for a cane pole to perhaps a $15 fiberglass detachable pole.

Survey Crews To Launch Lake Work Near Here

First physical steps toward improving the quality of runoff on Beal's Creek will be taken Monday.

Survey crews will begin the ground work of staking a prospective pipeline route from Three-Mile Lake west of Big Spring a distance of some 32,000 feet westward to the Natural Dam Lake on the Wilkinson Ranch.

This will permit the district to draft plans for such approval as might be required by the Texas Water Development board.

What CRMWD hopes to do, O. H. Ivie, general manager, told the board, recently, is to pump back the highly mineralized surface water in Three-Mile and Four-Mile Lakes to the larger holding reservoir. Later, if the playa (shallow natural) lakes are dried, well pumps in the bed at the channel will continue to recover the underflow — which is even more highly mineralized than the surface content — and boost it back to the big lake.

If the lakes are left to fill, they overflow eventually into Beals Creek and thus Lake E. V. Spence.

The lake on the Wilkinson Ranch is so large that the pump-back volume will not materially affect its size. It is impounded by a natural dam which is fairly impervious. Ivie thinks that wells below it could recover all that percolates through the natural structure, but if this is not the case, then the underflow could be cut off by a relatively shallow core trench.

He is hopeful that over a reasonable period of time this maneuver will lower the chlorides in Lake E. V. Spence by at least 100 points. The district employs a similar procedure to intercept the low flow of the Colorado River just above Colorado River and remove the highly mineralized water.

Choral Group In Program

The Big Spring High School Meistersingers, a nationally known singing group, will appear in a benefit concert at the Base Theater, at 7 p.m., Thursday.

The proceeds from the concert, featuring tunes from many popular Broadway shows, will go toward the cost of the Europe trip.

The Meistersingers are only $4600 short of the amount needed to finance the trip.

The members of the well known choral group are selected from nearly 350 students who participate in vocal music programs at Big Spring High.

Since the origin of the Meistersingers about three years ago, they have sung all over this area as well as for state and national music teachers conventions. They are recognized as being one of the top vocal groups in the U.S.

Tickets selling for $1.25 for adults and 50 cents for kids under 14, will be available at the door of the theatre only.

The Meistersingers were invited to perform at Webb by Col. Stanley M. Umstead, wing commander, to help their fund raising efforts through the participation of the entire base. The public is invited to attend.

Commission Sets Monday Meeting

Discussions of job changes in the road and bridge departments and a discussion with representatives from dump bed companies regarding specifications and bids for truck dump beds may highlight the regular commissioners court meeting at 9 a.m. Monday.

The court will also open bids on a front-end loader; open bids on an ice machine and adding an ice machine for the justice of the peace office; discuss buying tires for a front-end loader; make a regular visit to the county jail; and confer with Marvin Hanson, road and bridge administrator and with Mel Murphree, tax appraiser. Commissioners will approve bills.

Postal Rates Are Going Up

The public will start paying higher rates for delivery of certain classes of mail starting July 6, when the second step of a rate-phasing schedule takes effect.

Second-class mail, controlled circulation mail, third-class for organizations, special fourth-class and library fourth-class rates are affected.

The Board of Governors of the U.S. Postal Service implemented, effective July 6, 1973, a schedule of postage rates recommended by the Postal Rate Commission in accordance with the provisions of the Postal Reorganization Act. The rate increases approved for certain categories of mail matter are required by the Postal Reorganization Act to be placed in effect in annual steps over phasing periods of 5 to 10 years.

Info-Mobile Is Due Here

Prospective students and other local people will have an easier opportunity Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday to become better acquainted with their newest school — University of Texas Permian Basin.

The UTPB Info-Mobile, a registration office on wheels, will roll into Big Spring for two days of service. During Monday and Tuesday mornings it will be at Howard County Junior College; Monday 1 p.m. to 8 p.m. it will be at Highland Shopping Center; Tuesday 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. it will be at College Park Shopping Center. Mayor Wade Choate and other dignitaries will greet the unit Monday on its arrival.

Dr. David Sloan, member of the UTPB faculty at Odessa, will be in charge of the mobile unit and will be assisted by two students.

They will be able to enroll students on the spot, or they may also check over transcripts and course studies to see how they will fit into the UTPB courses. They also will be able to explain the various offerings that the new upper level school will have.

UTPB will offer junior, senior and graduate level training.

The Info-Mobile is an effort to get acquainted with the constituency the school hopes to serve, also to make it more convenient for working people to obtain complete information.

Vets Of 11th AD Will Celebrate

Veterans of the famed 11th Airborne Division who, together with the 1st Cavalry Division, liberated Manila in 1945, will meet in Hot Springs, Ark., July 13-15 to celebrate the 30th anniversary of the activation of the 11th in 1943.

Anyone desiring information on the reunion may contact Wendell Young at 263-1686. Young is one of four local members of the 11th, nicknamed "The Angels."

After Luzon was secured, the 11th was the first American unit to land in Japan for the surrender. It occupied that country until 1950 when it moved to Fort Campbell, Ky.

Texas Near Top In Camp Sites

Woodall's Trailing Parks and Campgrounds guide lists Texas as the ninth leading state in the nation with 21,098 different campsites.

Ontario, Canada, leads all areas with 70,994 campsites located in 717 campgrounds, followed by Quebec with 52,705 campsites in 562 campgrounds.

In the United States, California leads all with 64,067 campsites in 1,388 campgrounds; Florida is second with 54,126 in 693 campgrounds, while Ohio is third with 47,295 in 358 campgrounds.

Sunglasses VS Funlasses.

A fair appraisal.

It isn't fair to compare quality prescription or non-prescription optical glass sunglasses against the inexpensive tinted glasses you can get practically anywhere. In practically any size, shape or color. But it's just as unfair to let you think these funlasses protect your eyes as real sunglasses will. Many funlasses reduce glare, some even filter out ultraviolet rays. But inferior plastic lenses can't stop infrared radiation. And you need protection against all three. Poor quality lenses scratch more easily, too.

They can distort light. In short, they can give you almost as many problems as you'd have without them. It's the same with the frames. Frames built to fit a variety of people can't give you the comfort that precision-made, professionally-fitted frames do. And while funlasses cost less, they don't last as long. There is a time and place for funlasses, but don't expect them to do what they can't. And when you want real sunglasses at reasonable prices, visit TSO.

ALL ABOARD — Beginning next Saturday, this superskunk locomotive will resume daily trips between Fort Bragg and Willits, hauling passengers through the gigantic redwoods of Northern California on the world's "crookedest railroad."

Railroad In Far West Proud Of Reputation

Copley News Service
FORT BRAGG, Calif. — Who'd ever call a railroad the Shunk Line... or refer to it as the crookedest railroad in the world... or give passenger trains priority over freights?

The people who run California Western Railroad through the redwood up in Northern California. That's who. The skunk nickname caught on in the 1920s when the self-propelled rail buses used evil-smelling gas for fuel. People said you could smell 'em before you could see 'em. They've since converted to diesel fuel. The "aroma" has disappeared, but the name lingers on.

The crookedest railroad designation refers to the tracks, not the people who run the railroad — 40 miles of snake loops, switchbacks, up and down slopes, climbing up and around the scenery seeking the best grades up the mountain from near sea level to the summit at 1,740 feet.

On one stretch of the trip between Fort Bragg and Willits, the trains travel eight miles to cover just one straight-line mile. Some people say they resemble a snake with a belly ache. At one point, passengers can see three levels of track below them.

32 BRIDGES — The twisting tracks follow Pudding Creek and the Noyo River most of the way, crossing 32 bridges and trestles and going through a couple of tunnels along the route. Top speed for the trip is about 20 miles an hour.

Passengers — 109,000 last year — are hauled in the daytime. Freight trains, hauling mostly timber products, are mostly run at night. Freight is still the principal source of revenue.

The railroad began in 1885, hauling redwood logs to Fort Bragg. It soon found itself hauling excursionists to the end of the line. When the rails reached Willits in 1911, regular passenger service was offered to accommodate excursionists, people at way stations, lumber camps and the few farms along the line.

The first stinking self-propelled rail bus came along in 1925 and steam power was sidetracked for nearly half a century.

The steam engine came back into the picture in 1965 when the CWRRL started service with a 1924 Baldwin Mikado 2-8-2 locomotive. Today, it's among the nation's top tourist trains, the only regularly scheduled, standard gauge steam passenger train service in the West, according to its operators.

And even though the "aroma" is gone, the rail buses are still called skunks, the steam engines, superskunks. One of the rail buses runs year around, but the steam train runs Saturday only in the winter and daily in the tourist season, making a round trip from Fort Bragg between 10 a.m. and 4:55 p.m. Additional rail-bus runs are scheduled during summer months. And they will be jammed.

STOP EVERYWHERE — The skunks stop anywhere along the line to pick up or discharge passengers and all trains make a 15-minute stop along the run. There's a quickie lunch counter there. The superskunk also carries a "peanut butter" or candy salesman.

Summer visitors are advised to make advance reservations for the train trip. Overnight accommodations are available at either terminus, but again, you'll need reservations. The busy season is in July and August.

Most tourists drive to Fort Bragg, about 160 miles north of San Francisco, and take the train from there. But you can take it from Willits at the other end.

From either end, you'll see the natural beauty of the area which the trains traverse — tall redwoods above you, wilderness all around you, and rushing, rolling streams below you.

And you're always right in the middle of the Redwood Empire, home of the world's tallest trees, rivers, back-to-nature solitude, and Bigfoot — a half-man, half-bear creature people claim to have seen there. It's the western version of the Abominable Snowman.

Paved roads for driving, nature trails for walking and bus tours for sight-seeing lace the nine-county wooded empire. Some 3,000 campsites are available, along with hotel-motel accommodations and restaurants.

Oily Mist Coats Neighborhood

EL SEGUNDO, Calif. (AP) — Residents of this Los Angeles suburb awakened to find an oily mist settling on their neighborhood, coating homes and automobiles and laying a slimy surface on swimming pools and streets.

A spokesman for Standard Oil of California said the oil was released when a high pressure relief valve popped open at their El Segundo refinery.

He said a sudden pressure surge apparently forced a valve on a crude oil installation to open for several minutes in a manner similar to a boiler letting off excess steam.

A major traffic tieup occurred in a major section of El Segundo when the oil made tire traction difficult. City crews covered the slippery street surfaces with sand to alleviate the problem.

He said insurance adjusters would go from door-to-door in the affected area to assess damage caused by the oil spray.

Senators Slated For Texas Event

FORT WORTH — Two United States senators will appear at the 91st annual meeting of the State Bar of Texas here July 4-6. Gov. Dolph Briscoe will address the general assembly July 6.

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen Jr., will address the State Junior Bar at a July 5 luncheon, and Sen. Fritz Hollings, South Carolina, will speak at a luncheon of the Texas Trial Lawyers Association at the same time.

The three-day meeting will attract some 4,000 persons. Most activities will be in the Convention Center.

Demand For Campsites Increases Every Year

More than 13,000,000 families go camping each year, using over 5,000,000 recreational vehicles and 4,000,000 tents, according to recent studies made by a private campground group.

During 1972, the study showed 5.1 per cent of the campers interviewed travel with recreational vehicles and are buying the more elaborate TV's. Nearly 19,000 campgrounds offering more than 1,100,000 campsites are now available to North American campers. Of these, approximately 60 per cent are privately owned campgrounds. The other 40 per cent are operated by federal and state governments on public lands.

With more pressing demands on tax dollars for such programs as welfare, schools and highways, government sources no longer plan to allocate funds for public campground expansion. Therefore, the ever-increasing demand for facilities must be provided by private developers which now offer 615 campgrounds and more than 63,000 campsites in the U.S., Canada and Mexico.

State Raises Fees For Most Licenses

AUSTIN — In ceremonies held at the State Capitol May 23, Gov. Dolph Briscoe signed legislation which raised fees charged for both hunting and fishing licenses.

Major changes which will affect most Texas sportsmen are increases in the resident hunting license charges from the previous $3.25 to $5.25 and the fishing fees from $2.15 to $4.25.

Something new for this year, a combination resident hunting and fishing license for $8.75, was also approved by the Texas Legislature.

Resident hunting licenses are required of every Texan who hunts outside the county of his residence or who hunts deer or turkey. Exceptions are persons under 17 or over 65 years of age and individuals hunting any species of game except deer or turkey on land where they reside. An exempt license is necessary to hunt deer and turkey because of required tags.

You are invited... to good times, good food

... in your own backyard with an outdoor gas grill and gas light. You can cook up a party at a moment's notice, because a gas grill is ready to cook in minutes. And it's so easy to cook on because you can control the heat. With a gas grill there's no charcoal mess, and you still get that delicious, outdoor char-broiled flavor that comes from the smoke of meat juices dripping on permanent ceramic briquets.

Besides the good times you'll have cooking out, you enjoy the convenience of having a gas grill. You'll probably find yourself cooking on it just because you wanted to get out of the kitchen or didn't want to mess up the broiler of your kitchen range.

All prices include normal post-type installation (up to 50 feet of line) and 5% sales tax.
*Budget terms are available at 12.75% annual interest on declining balance.

To Attend Dedication

Johnnie Walker, president of the Howard County Farm Bureau chapter, will participate in activities connected with dedication of the Texas Farm Bureau's new headquarters in Waco. Mrs. Walker will accompany him.

The new $2,700,000 home office is located at 7429 Fish Pond road and houses all the operations of the Farm Bureau in Texas.

TFB president J. T. (Red) Wood announced that William J. Kufuss, president of the 2.2-million-member American Farm Bureau Federation will be main speaker at a county FFB presidents' conference Tuesday.

Other dignitaries to participate in dedication day activities include Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz, Gov. Dolph Briscoe, chairman of the R. (Bob) Poage, chairman of the House agriculture committee and Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

Gov. Briscoe will be main speaker at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday. Open house for the ceremonies will be held until 6 p.m. Wednesday.

Public speaking that evening will be a huge barbecue dinner at a huge barbeque center, climaxing the day's activities in the Waco Convention Center.

The Governor had designated June 19-18 as "Farm Bureau Week" in Texas.

Two Of Eight Fems Drop Out

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Two of the first eight women admitted to the Navy's flight-training program have dropped out, Navy officials say.

Ensign Anne Hellman elected to quit after her marriage to Navy Lt. James Wilsey of Los Angeles, and Ensign Kathleen McNary of Plainfield, Ill., was dropped as physically unqualified for flying, officials at the Pensacola Naval Air Station said.

Another would-be female flyer, Ensign Rosemary Mertins of San Diego, Calif., married Ensign Douglas Conabauer, also a student in the flight school. But she remained in the program, officials said.
